VOLUME 38

CHILICOTHE, HARDEN COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, MARCH 7, 1935

NUMBER 32

CITY ELECTION CALLED TO NAME ALDERMEN

Did You Know--

That in last week's edition of The Valley News there were 97 local news items, not counting the number of editorials and other feature stories?
That few other weekly newspapers coming to The News exchange last week carried as many items?
That it takes work in building a newspaper where care is used in selection of reading material?
That The News is far superior to many publications in the field, population of towns considered?
That to keep up a progressive policy necessarily calls for both time and expense?
That the revenue of any newspaper is dependent, mainly, on the amount of advertising carried?
That a weekly newspaper is the mouth-piece of any community and when it fails to do its duty, the town suffers?
That keeping up the standard The News must have the whole-hearted support of its advertisers, and to the citizens in general?

QUANAH COURT TERM OPENED

FIRST SESSION OF YEAR IN HARDEN COUNTY STARTED MONDAY MORNING

With Judge W. N. Stokes on the bench, the first term of the District Court to be held this year, was begun Monday with the opening of the grand jury. Non-jury civil suits were heard.

A comparatively light docket has been looked for hearings. District Clerk Birdie Hood announced a docket of 79 cases. Criminal cases lead with 28. Sixteen divorce hearings will come up during the term.

Prospective grand jurors were Vestal Daugherty, J. S. Dearen, R. E. Swindell, Frank Thwing, and J. T. Hughes, of Quanah; J. E. Graham, Walter Martin, D. T. Wilson and J. P. Hellhecker, Chillicothe; Carl Morris, P. A. Reeves, A. B. Roberts, Ernest Brandon, W. L. McCullough, Hush Lightfoot, of Goodlett, and E. E. Jordan of Medicine Mound.

The petit jury for the March term will be empaneled next week. The term has been set for a three weeks run.

LOCAL HUNTERS TO BUY QUAIL

BIRDS WILL BE BOUGHT TO RESTOCK THIS PART OF HARDEN COUNTY

Cooperating with others, of the county, several Chillicothe sportsmen were soliciting donations this last week, the funds to be used for buying quail.

According to these hunters they will restock this section, and to have diminished alarmingly fast during the last year or so. They propose to take advantage of the offer made by the state fish, game and oyster commission which provided one free bird for each pair bought. This plan is also being accepted by the state in other parts of the state.

A total of 48 quail will be brought here, it was stated Tuesday by one of the hunters.

Condition Satisfactory
Condition of Joe Clint Graham a patient in a Vernon hospital, is said to be very satisfactory, although still considered serious.

FIFTEEN BILLED BY GRAND JURY; MET TUESDAY

Sixteen Indictments Returned; Eleven Involved Sale of Intoxicants

ORDER RECESS UNTIL MARCH 21

Four Chillicothe Named in Jurors Report to Judge W. N. Stokes

Sixteen indictments against fifteen individuals were returned Tuesday afternoon by the Hardeman County Grand Jury, in session for the March term of the 18th district court in Quanah. Eleven of the cases involved sale, transportation, or possession of intoxicating liquor.

The grand jury, after presenting its initial report to Judge W. N. Stokes, recessed until March 21. Investigations were directed by District Attorney Ed Gossett of Vernon.

Leon Dillon, pardoned several months ago from a conviction in a liquor case, was indicted in three whiskey cases by the grand jury, and other liquor cases were: C. B. Ross, Chillicothe, transportation; Roy Black, Chillicothe, possession and transportation; W. W. Guyton, possession; Paul Guyton, possession; Mrs. Ben Thurman, sale; N. J. Early, possession and transportation; Loy Milby, Chillicothe, sale; Luther Reokholt, Quanah, transportation.

BAPTIST PASTOR ENTERS ON SIXTH YEAR FOR CHURCH

GOOD SIZE AUDIENCE HEARD MINISTER PREACH SUN. DAY EVENT

Sunday, March 3, marked the beginning of the sixth year here for the Rev. Ira L. Parrack, pastor of the First Baptist Church. His message at the Sunday morning service had to do with his pastorate, and a goodly size audience was present.

Rev. Parrack came to Chillicothe from Merkel, where he had established a fine record. Since serving as pastor here the church has steadily made forward strides with more interest being shown. Moreover, he is still loved by the members of the church, and also outside of the church people look upon him as a citizen to be proud of.

It is hoped Rev. Parrack will find it advantageous to remain here for another five years.

U. S. GOVERNMENT OFFICE, QUANAH, IS ESTABLISHED

TO BE MAINTAINED THERE FOR INDEFINITE PERIOD; LOCATED IN CITY HALL

To be maintained for an indefinite time because of two major federal aid projects to be started soon, a United States Government employment office has been established in Quanah. It is located in the city hall building, and is in charge of Mel R. Sommer. The state of Texas is represented by W. J. Rogers of Fort Worth.

Applications will be received at the employment office for jobs on the new Hardeman county hospital building, to cost $80,000, and the Pease River bridge, a $40,000 project. Employment on numerous minor projects also will be handled by the office. It has been made known local labor will be given preference on all the county projects.

Attend Funeral
J. T. Ross and son, J. T., Jr., were in Tipton, Okla., Wednesday where they attended the funeral rites for G. T. Allowine.

When Ft. Worth Boosters Were Here

A large group of Fort Worth traveling in a large bus, advertising the fat stock show and rodeo, to be held in that city beginning Saturday, March 16.

RED CROSS FIELD REPRESENTATIVE VISITS IN CITY

Praises Accomplishments of Local Chapter for Welfare Work

Robert T. Bridges of St. Louis, field representative for West Texas of the Red Cross, was in the city Wednesday. He was in Quanah Tuesday where a meeting of the chapter executive committee was held to consider a program for the Hardeman county organization. A discussion of recent activities was held.

W. M. Gourley, chairman of the Chillicothe branch of the Red Cross, was in attendance at the Quanah meeting. The field director is well-pleased with the results achieved in the county, and the Chillicothe branch, especially. He asserted both chapters have done excellent work in meeting the needs that otherwise could not have been provided. The total membership of the local branch, 200, is very much higher than the average, he explained.

According to Bridges it is the policy of the Red Cross not to duplicate the work of other welfare organizations.

SERVICES OF FFA STUDENTS PROVES IN GREAT DEMAND

MORE WORK THAN ONE CAN BE ATTENDED TO SAYS W. M. GOURLEY, DIRECTOR

"The Future Farmers of America boys of the local chapter are being called upon to do more work than they can really get to, such as pruning jobs, laying garden tile, terracing and running terrace lines, cutting poultry. All these jobs are being requested from citizens of the community," declared the teacher, W. M. Gourley.

According to the instructor of the organization each member of the chapter has agreed to do at least one community service job, and since there are fifty members, a large program of work will be put over during the year.

ODD FELLOWS TO MEET IN QUANAH

DATE FOR HARDEN-FOARD COUNTY ASSOCIATION UNANNOUNCED

Harry I. Boothe, official of the Hardeman-Foard County Odd Fellows Association, stated Monday the next meeting of the group will be held in Quanah, but the date has not been announced as yet, although meetings are held monthly, and time for holding the get-together is left to the entertaining lodge.

Members of the Chillicothe lodge are urged to watch for the date and attend if possible.

Roy Blanchard Finds The News Is Good Paper

Didn't Want It at Start—Mrs. Roy Did—Now He Likes It

This is on Roy Blanchard—one of those young gentlemen who farms in that rich community—Farmers Valley. It has been named well. But, on with the story.

A little better than a year ago Mrs. Blanchard decided she wanted to read The Valley News, and suggested to Roy he subscribe. "Oh, I don't know. There isn't anything in it."

Well, the result was Roy did as other husbands do—compromise with the better half—and he subscribed.

The other day Mrs. Blanchard directed the remark to Roy: "You know, Roy, our time is out with The Valley News. But, if you don't want it we will try and get along without it."

"No, indeed, I like that paper; so don't let me forget to pay my subscription when we get to town Saturday."

He met a News representative on the street Saturday, and said: "I have a blank check I will pay you for my subscription."

The subscription has been paid and there is a moral to this as to most everything else: Once you realize the value of The Valley News—the number of local news items appearing weekly, and the fact it is offered for one year for only $1.50, you, too, can then intelligently understand why the subscription list of the Chillicothe paper is steadily growing.

Thanks, Roy, and thanks Mrs. Roy. It is hoped you will continue to appreciate The Valley News.

Methodist Pastors Meeting to Be Held in Paducah Tuesday

Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor of the First Methodist Church, announced this morning there would be a meeting in Paducah next Tuesday, beginning at 10 o'clock a. m., for all pastors of the Methodist Episcopal Church, Vernon District. There are about twenty charges included in the district, he said, as far east as Harrod, and west as far as Esteline, north to Childress, and south including Guthrie.

The local pastor plans to attend.

State President of Auxiliary to Be Here Saturday

Mrs. W. J. Danforth, Austin, state president of the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion will be in the city Saturday and plans to meet with the members of the Chillicothe auxiliary at 1 p. m. District officers will also be present.

All members, and others interested, are urged to attend.

NEW CHEVROLET MASTER DELUXE IS ON DISPLAY

Placed on Exhibit This Week By Glazener Chevrolet Company

Chillicothe public had the opportunity for the first time this week to see the master deluxe automobile produced by the Chevrolet Motor Company at the local dealer's showrooms.

The model placed on display is a beautiful sedan, and is one of the smartest looking automobiles ever brought to this city. Improvements and changes have been made to give the buyer greater value than ever before. It is a far different Chevrolet than the one first placed on the market several years ago, advanced in design over previous models, the 1935 car, as one remarked: "Is a hot number." The company has neglected nothing in this year's offering, and C. L. Glazener of the Glazener Chevrolet Company here, claims it is the best car he has ever offered for sale since coming to Chillicothe.

The manager has the support of employees as well. W. T. Wofford, salesman is well-sold on it and said, "We ought to be able to sell a lot of these cars. Likewise was Ernest Hutchins enthused and remarked, "Isn't she a dandy?"

What should please women are the many refinements found in this new car.

HARDEMAN CLUBS FOURTH IN MEAT SHOW AT WICHITA

SPRING CREEK, GOODLETT, MARSHALL AND MEDICINE MOUND HAVE EXHIBITS

Spring Creek, Goodlett, Marshall and Medicine Mound home demonstration clubs sent exhibits to the Wichita Falls meat show March 1st and 2nd.

Mrs. W. A. Jenkins won first place on mince meat, Mrs. H. F. Easley won second on Swiss steak, Mrs. J. H. Haynes second on sausage, Mrs. Mack Harvey second on cooked soap, Mrs. Frank Harris fourth on pork roast, and Mrs. O. H. Brandon fourth on cold soap.

KING HIGH ROAD BEING IMPROVED

HARDSURFACE BEING LAID FROM HIGHWAY 5 TO RAILWAY TRACKS, NORTH

Work of hardsurfacing the road leading north from Highway 5 to as far as the railroad crossing, towards King High is underway, and when completed will be another good road for the county.

Fences are being moved back to allow greater width of the right-of-way. It is hoped to hardsurface the road to as far as King High, but will not be attempted at this time, it is said.

Church Study At Quanah Is Again Robbed

Thieves Active in County Seat; Three Robberies in One Night

Burglars have become active in Quanah once more, according to word of officers, three reported in a single night. The Quanah Steam Laundry reported the loss of several bundles of clothing; the office of the Quanah water company was entered and the safe ruined by thieves in a futile effort to break into it; and the study of the First Christian Church was rifled.

Rev. Charles Chastener reported loss of several dollars from a birthday offering jar. This was the fourth time the study has been burglarized.

MUST NOT ISSUE CASH WITH ORDERS

DIRECT RELIEF OR RURAL DISBURSEMENT ORDERS ARE AFFECTED

Adam R. Johnson, director of Texas relief, calls attention to all merchants of the rule regarding disbursement orders in that no cash is to be issued on any order, whether it be a disbursement or rural disbursement order.

Copy received from Director Johnson, reads:

"Our attention has been called to an erroneous impression which apparently is becoming prevalent with regard to the issuance of BRDO's. We refer to the practice of allowing the merchant to issue a part of the BRDO in cash.

"In order to eliminate misunderstanding, this is to advise all concerned that in no instance shall a client be permitted to accept cash upon an BRDO when it is filled by the Vendor. This is a policy of long standing on regular Disbursement orders and will prevail also on Rural Disbursement orders.

"Those issuing BRDO's should take every precaution to make the amount of the BRDO as nearly as possible equal to the cost of the goods itemized. Where such costs vary slightly from the merchant's total cost, the client shall be permitted to accept extra quantities of merchandise commodities itemized in the Disbursement Order to make up the difference, and these quantities should be indicated on the BRDO.

"We repeat, no cash is to be issued on any Disbursement Order, whether a regular direct relief order or a rural disbursement order."

FILES REPORT ON TRADE AT HOME CAMPAIGN

LIONS CLUB MEMBERS HEAR W. M. GOURLEY OF BETTERMENT COMMITTEE

President Roy Sutton was master of ceremonies at the regular meeting of the Lions Club Tuesday.

Lion W. M. Gourley, chairman of the community betterment committee, made a report on the trade at home campaign.

J. Luther Potts, commissioner of Precinct 3, gave a report of the highway and rural roads work.

The report of the finance committee for the purpose of sending a delegate to the National Convention in Mexico City this summer, was adopted by the club.

Next Tuesday the program will be in charge of the school affairs committee of which Supt. W. E. Hancock is chairman.

The current events will be given by Rev. R. T. Breedlove.

WILL BE HELD ON APRIL 2ND AT CITY HALL

Terms of Grimes, Wofford and McCaw Expire; Serve For Two Years

COMMITTEE TO DRAFT TICKET

Polls Open at 8 A. M., and to Close at 7 P. M.; Plummer Presiding Judge

An election for the naming of three aldermen will be held Tuesday, April 2.

Terms expiring include Ennis L. Grimes, L. B. Wofford, and J. A. McCaw. These three have not intimated as yet they will ask for re-election, although it is expected they will agree to their names being placed on the ballot. Candidates elected will serve for the next two years. A committee composed of C. R. Tubb, Grady Roberts, and C. E. Garlock, was appointed by the aldermen in their regular monthly meeting held last Monday afternoon to prepare the ticket.

P. T. Plummer has been named as presiding judge with J. W. Magee, Partis Lee Craig and Wilma Ledbetter, as assistants.

An election order provides that "None but qualified voters shall be permitted to vote at said election, and who having resided within the corporate limits of Chillicothe, Texas, six months preceding election."

Polls will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m.

Medicine Mound P.-T. A. Program Is Given Praise

One of the most interesting programs rendered over Station KGKO, Wichita Falls, was the one rendered by the Parent-Teacher's Association of Medicine Mound Friday morning from 11 to 11:30 o'clock.

All of the numbers on the program were handled wonderfully well, in spite of the fact it was the first time some of the people ever appeared before the microphone. The Mothers Singers, directed by Mrs. Harry A. Cole, a reading by Mrs. Overton Neal, and Wanda Lee Barnes singing, were features, as well as the talk by Supt. Rosser.

Is Brought Home

C. P. White, who underwent an operation in a Quanah hospital a few weeks ago, was brought to his home here during the first part of the week. C. P. had improved so much he threatened to visit the downtown section Wednesday, but hopes went astray because of the sandstorm.

Ill With Influenza

Wallace Waldrip is confined to his home this week with influenza, being attacked with influenza.

TAKES POSITION IN QUANAH OFFICE

MISS MARY MARGARET OLIVER TO BECOME COUNTY AGENT ASSISTANT

Miss Mary Margaret Oliver, who has been assistant secretary of the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce for the past two or three years, has accepted a position as assistant to the county agent in Quanah, and will probably begin her duties next Monday.

Miss Oliver has proven one of the most efficient employees ever had by the local chamber of commerce, and her many friends regret she is to leave here, yet are glad to know she will be given a promotion, so richly deserved.

OWNING PROPERTY

The cost of owning property is still too high to encourage investing real estate. Even at the present distress prices many who could well afford to make such investments find themselves dissuaded, because when the taxes which must be paid are added to the interest upon the money, even at the present low rates, the attractiveness of the investment is lost. Yet the property of home in question is obtainable at a price considerably below that which would be entailed in building at present prices.

WHISKEY AT THE HELM

Now that liquor has the field, flows freely everywhere, both bootleg and legal, men who employ labor must take measures to protect themselves and their customers. Before prohibition the railroads refused to employ men who drank and visiting saloons regularly cost jobs. Today we assume the same rules are in effect on the railroads, it could not safely be otherwise. We also assume that operators of street cars, commercial trucks and buses are under the same rule because men seeking public patronage would not for a moment overlook so obvious a precaution.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT'S NEW BATTLE

With the gold clause decision of the United States Supreme Court comes the realization of new responsibilities placed on the administration's shoulders. In affirming the power of congress to regulate all matters pertaining to United States currency, the supreme court has placed the fate of the American dollar in the hands of the legislative branch of the government.

The decision is almost certain to be followed by renewed activities on the part of those congressmen who believe in currency inflation. We now have what is known as a 59 cent dollar, as a result of gold devaluation. Something like a 36 cent dollar, with a corresponding increase in prices, would be more satisfactory to inflationists.

Upon President Roosevelt now devolves the increasingly difficult task of keeping these inflationists in check. Congress has had a taste of power. It can do with our currency what it will. And the legislative branch of our government has far more radical tendencies in money matters than does the executive department. President Roosevelt has a new battle on his hands.

WHAT IS YOUR DOLLAR WORTH?

Take a dollar out of your pocket. Its your dollar. You are going to spend it for commodities or service. But you are not going to get a dollar's worth of bread, beans, or bacon, or buttermilk, or anything else.

The reason for this is that 25 per cent of every dollar you spend goes to the government for taxes. You probably do not realize that this is so. But it is a fact. The dollar you spend for bread in reality only yields you 75 cents worth of bread. The other 25 cents goes to the government by indirect taxation.

The tax problem has become a very grave one in this country because millions of people fail to realize that such a problem exists at all. Under the indirect method of taxation so popular with our lawmakers, but few comprehend what is really being done to us.

Don't get the foolish idea that the rich pay most of the taxes in this country. There aren't enough large income people to make a dent in our huge cost of government. $12,000,000,000 a year.

The great bulk of taxes is taken from ordinary persons, and it is taken indirectly. We don't write checks to meet these tax bills. No we pay out the money unknowingly in the course of our daily living. Food, fuel, clothing, rents, gasoline, tobacco, everything bears its proportionate share of taxes. Every time we buy any of these things the government collects from us, indirectly.

Every one pays taxes, so don't be fooled. We are paying more and more each year. And there doesn't seem to be much hope for betterment until enough people realize what is really being done with our dollars. Then we may demand that government get along with less than 25 cents out of each of them.

You can't dodge the worst by sitting down and hoping for the best.

Defective eyesight will keep you out of military service, but will not interfere with you getting license to drive a car. Pedestrians are much easier to hit.

The reason why life begins at forty for some is because it is not until they reach that age that they really have sense enough to know what it is all about.

JUVENILE SAFETY EDUCATION

Although to threaten children with fines or imprisonment for violation of the traffic laws is too harsh, they must be taught care in crossing streets. Safety campaigns should be conducted in the schools as a part of the regular curriculum and responsible boys placed in charge of groups crossing streets. Police and schools have co-operated in this work in local communities and the pupils are being instructed in safety measures but the goal will not be reached until all children realize that their safety lies largely with themselves.

Any accident is lamentable, but it becomes tragic when an active child is robbed of vitality or killed by a moment of carelessness.

AN AMERICAN FARCE

With the fate of Bruno Hauptmann we need not be concerned. The jury which listened to the evidence in the famous Lindbergh kidnapping case pronounced him guilty of the crime. The sentence of death in the electric chair pronounced by Judge Trenchard is provided by New Jersey statutes for such findings. The jury decided according to its convictions, and the court acted according to law. Our American sense of justice can ask no more than this.

But America should stand ashamed of the three-ring circus it made of the trial. Newspapers, radio and the movies vied with each other in attempting to satisfy a morbid public appetite. The American people are strong for thrills. But there are legitimate ways in which this craving has to be met. It was scarcely a part of good manners of a man on trial for his life.

RENTS INDICATE STABILITY

Rental rates are rising and fewer concessions are being granted. This is especially true of the better grade apartments and homes. Rental rates for commercial and industrial properties are still low and irregular, but the last three months have brought about a stronger stand on the part of owners of these properties. They are willing to lease at low rates in many cases for a short time, but will not make long-term leases on present levels.

All of this change in rental conditions is, we believe, indicative of the new stability that is coming into the general real estate market. It is a fact that while real estate stood the depression for a time, when it did cave it dropped so far that it was, until recently, completely out of relation to other business factors, bad as they were. This tendency toward a revival of normal relations to other known business factors, is highly important and significant. The improvement in the rental situation, even though slight, is a good omen of sound recovery.

JUSTICE—HERE AND THERE

German citizens must prefer American justice to the variety meted out to them in Germany.

The alien carpenter, Bruno Richard Hauptmann, convicted of the blackest deed in America criminal annals and sentenced to forfeit his life, appealed and his case will be heard in a higher court. Hauptmann, of course, was tried by a jury. The proceedings were public and the case was given the widest possible publicity.

Meanwhile, in Germany, two German women citizens, convicted, in star chamber proceedings, of spying—revealing government secrets for a price—were sent to the block and had their heads chopped off. They had no trial by jury, according to our law and custom. They were granted no new trial. One man, Hitler, held their fate in his hand. He, a plebeian, decreed death instead of life sentence because it so happened the women were socially prominent and of noble birth.

THE DOOM OF THE DIRIGIBLE

Whatever may have been the cause of the disaster which befell the dirigible "Macon," the painful regularity with which he lose these expensive adjuncts to our system of defense may be expected to produce in congress stiff backed opposition to further production of these vessels. There has long been doubt about their sustained efficiency. They appear to do well for a given period and then they are lost. It is a strange coincidence that the "Macon" should have just about completed 7,000 hours of flying—the same period of service recorded by the sister ship "Akron" which on April 4th, 1933 was lost with a heavily casualty list off the New Jersey coast.

Most of the foreign powers have abandoned the dirigible. Germany continues to be notably successful and the Zeppelin is carrying out regular schedules with South America carrying mail and passengers, but generally speaking the dirigible as a unit of offense or defense has been discarded for every nation that has attempted their development has had the same harrowing experiences that we are having.

A man may be 80 percent efficient as a business man and offset it all by his 20 percent inefficiency.

After a man gets to be fifty years old he orders about the same food on the diner that he eats at home.

Just Between ...Us...

BY THE NEWS HOUND

Beautification of Highway 5 is being carried out, and should be found in good shape as scenic beauty for visitors to the Texas Centennial next year. This character of work is being done all over the state, and is furnishing employment to a great number of workmen.

Getting off to a slow start preparations for the Centennial are now going forward with interest is growing, and by the time 1936 rolls around things will be humming everywhere in the state with the main center of hub-dab in Dallas. However, folks in Chillicothe have not yet awakened to the importance of such an event, nor what it will mean to this city in the way of business. And it will mean more business with automobile service stations getting the bulk of the trade. Even so, other business firms will soon realize from this source and then all will be doing better. By the way, though, Chillicothe does not indicate in some way its appreciation for the Centennial and what it means here.

Kansas City market reports "Hog prices highest since October, 1930". That happens to be good news to hog raisers, but bad news for consumers. Things are all out of alignment. Groceries and other food stuff have skyrocketed and yet the little man, who does most of the buying, has yet to experience "better times". Unless the government—and it was caused by the Government for price-raising—takes a hand and places these things more on a level, we will continue to suffer from the effects of a depression.

Alice Jane McHenry, 10-year-old Omaha girl, operated on the other day because her stomach was upside down, was reported in a serious condition Tuesday. As she went into the operating room the little mite was singing. Perhaps she was so confident surgeons would correct one of nature's faults as a reason for her singing. Anyhow, it is sincerely hoped Alice will successfully come through and become normal.

Once again Amarillo paid its respects to the "mothers-in-laws". We just wonder if Amarillo is desirous of sincerely showing appreciation to the mothers-in-law or taking advantage of the opportunity to gain some advertising. It sounds more like a Wichita Falls stunt of a decade ago. But whatever the intention Amarillo deserves commending, because no other town in the United States has gone so far as to show its thankfulness for the one usually looked upon as a source of trouble for the son-in-law. Personally, we think mothers-in-law are fine and dandy. After all, they are mothers, you know, and it is but natural they want their daughters to be treated well by their daughter's selection of a husband. A man must be told of his faults at times, else he would become so unbearable no one could stand his presence. Mother-in-law's are the ones to find the main faults—and to inform him for consumption!

CONSTIPATION Can be Helped!

(Use what Doctors do)

Why do the bowels usually move regularly and thoroughly, long after a physician has given you treatment for constipation?

Because the doctor gives a liquid laxative that can always be taken in the right amount. You gradually reduce the dose. Reduced dosage is the secret of real and safe relief from constipation.

Ask your doctor about this. Ask your druggist how popular liquid laxatives have become. The right liquid laxative gives the right kind of help, and the right amount of help. When the dose is repeated, instead of more each time, you take less. Until the bowels are moving regularly and thoroughly without any help at all, the liquid laxative generally used is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It contains senna and cascara, and these are natural laxatives that form no habit—even in children. Your druggist has it; ask for—

They usually do, and thus has come the reason for their kind often referred to as "trouble-makers." They are not. You will admit that. We love them and may they continue to expose more man before the weaker side of the family.

Springtime apparently is a little advanced from the looks of the fruit trees. About the time we think we will make some fruit, that late freeze will come and its goodbye to peaches and cream.

We wonder if all these Chillicothe astrology-believers are still believers?

To be quite candid about it—we want rain.

For all the blame directed at Old Man Depression, he has had his good points. For instance: How many good hard surfaced roads would we have if it had not been for wanting to put men at work?

Women jurists in the Hauptmann trial returned after a decision had been reached for the penalty—crucifixion. It is, to say the least, a difficult job to fill—this sitting as a juror when a person's life is at stake. We cannot condemn them for allowing a case or two to fall. Although Hauptmann was found guilty—and is now awaiting execution—there were still points to consider upon which to send a man to his death. They realized it; yet, they also realized Hauptmann took a life and could do nothing else, but fall back on "life for a life."

"Charges Visitors Hinder Congress," says a headline. Well, now we had't realized what was keeping Congress from doing something. So that's it.

A business magazine tells of the enlightenment of a Negro insurance agent, arrested for doing business without a license. The magistrate, said: "Don't you know you can't sell life insurance with a license." The ducky replied: "Boss, you done said a mouthful; I knowed I couldn't sell any, but I didn't know why."

R. J. Harris is the "pied piper" of Houston, Texas. He has undertaken to rid the city market of rats for $40 a month.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—
Musical compositions, frequently dwelling on candle light, are but recollections of a luxury in bygone days?

That such spectacular illumination from candles would compare as only modest electric illumination today?

That one modern electric lamp (50-watt size) gives the same illumination as 48 candle light give?

That the wax candle will burn about 4 hours, necessitating 250 replacements to one replacement of the electric lamp?

That an average home today has the equivalent of approximately ten such electric lamps (50-watt size) in use, and with 24 months or 1,000 burning hours at their useful life, the two-year total lighting costs, including cost of lamps and cost of electric service, is only $27?

That a comparable illumination from wax candles (not considering the inferior light or the danger accompanying any flame, its fine soot floating or gaseous odors) would necessitate consumption of 120,000 wax candles over such a two-year period at a cost to you of more than $2,400, yet complete electric "lighting" service is supplied by this company and enjoyed by all members of your household for less daily costs than a cigar to one member of the household.

Further, that over half of all domestic service customers in West Texas pay less than 4c a day for all their residential electric service, including lighting.

DOE SPURNED, BRAVE MOTHER WINS TRIBUTE

'One of Greatest Alabama Women of 1934' Title Is Conferred

GREENVILLE, La., March 2.—In a little two-room and kitchen shanty on the Mobile highway six miles south of here, Mrs. Irene Davis, "one of Alabama's greatest women of 1934," goes about her daily tasks with a new song in her heart and new hope for the future.

To all outward appearances the woman who was awarded this title by the Greenville Advocate, county weekly, and the Greenville Lions Club, following her refusal to accept the government dole, is not disturbed by the volume of fan mail she has received from all sections of the United States. Nor has newswear and newspaper publicity swayed her purpose in pursuing the even tenor of her way to provide a living for herself and her three children.

She Pleads Against Dole

"But it has all been very wonderful," she said, "and naturally we are happy that such recognition has been given us, although we feel there are many others equally deserving of the honor."

There was no thought of recognition or hope of reward one year ago when she pleaded with a social service visitor for the privilege of earning her own living and declined to accept further direct relief grants. The visitor explained that, under regulations of the federal emergency relief administration, Mrs. Davis a widow with three dependents, should be classified as an unemployable. She expressed doubt that Mrs. Davis could qualify for the rehabilitation program by which all money advanced must be repaid.

Upon her insistence, however, Mrs. Davis was enrolled in the second category. She obtained eight acres of eroded land from a neighbor and arranged to hoe or do other work in her neighbor's field in exchange for the work of her neighbor's mule in her own field.

Three Children Help

Her 14-year-old son, Lawrence, did the plowing in the morning before the school bus arrived and in the afternoon after the bus returned. Her daughters, Frances, 10 years old, and Lois, 11 years old, also worked with Lawrence and in the neighbor's field.

For the purchase of seed, feed and fertilizer, and for groceries and clothing through the year, Mrs. Davis was advanced $110 by the Alabama relief administration. She repaid this in cash during the summer and early fall from wages received for supervising a large community canning plant in Greenville, where 40 women were employed.

"The day that I paid that debt," Mrs. Davis said, "was the happiest of my life."

Personal Honor Declined

Donald Comer, Birmingham industrialist and chairman of the Alabama Rural Rehabilitation Corp., ment, and in an address before the Montgomery Rotary club, declared she was "one of the real heroines of the depression."

A few days later, J. D. and Webb Stanley, editors of the Greenville Advocate, arranged with the Greenville Lions Club to honor Mrs. Davis as one of the state's greatest women.

At a club luncheon in her honor last week, Mrs. Davis modestly declined to accept a cup for herself and children alone, "but in behalf of thousands of others in the state, who, like myself, have known hardships and suffering through circumstances beyond their control."

Aid for Larger Farm Promised

The cup was presented by Thad Holt, director of the Alabama relief administration, who announced that the administration was prepared to finance the purchase of 40 acres of land and "decent home" for Mrs. Davis as soon as a suitable place could be found.

It is the prospect of earning for herself a home and farm of her own that has given her new hope, Mrs. Davis said.

A high school graduate, with two years of training in a business school, and a former school teacher, Mrs. Davis is 41 years old, about five feet tall, and weighs only 108. She is the grand daughter of pioneer Alabamians who became prosperous planters and slave owners. The separation from her husband 11 years ago and the loss of savings in a bank failure three years ago and the subsequent death of her parents left

GIVES INSIDE PICTURE OF PRESS CONFERENCES WITH 'FIRST LADY'

Martelle Wickliffe Trager, Former Chillicothe Resident, One of Group Attending Press Interviews With Mrs. Roosevelt

Mrs. Roosevelt announced at her last press conference that she would not comment on pending legislation hereafter. She was asked to express her opinion on a bill recently introduced in Congress regarding labor conditions in the District of Columbia. The President recently told newspaper men that he would make no public statement on legislation before either branch of Congress. Evidently the First Lady took her cue from him to remain silent.

The curtain was dropped on the official season at the White House Thursday evening, February 28, when the President and Mrs. Roosevelt entertained the officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and their wives. The reception rivaled the Diplomatic one in brilliancy and color. Officers were attired in uniforms of their respective branches brightened by gold braid and decorations. The Military and Naval Attaches of the Diplomatic Corps were there in the uniforms of their countries with all of the trimmings.

There is always an air of camaraderie at the Army and Navy receptions for one meets friends who have returned to Washington from all parts of the world. Many new faces are seen each year because the people in these branches of service are constantly on the move. Army and Navy officers cannot stay at any one post more than three years.

In the profusion of blossoms decorating the White House for this occasion, red, white and blue were the predominant colors. Blossoms of yellow, gold and brown hues, matching the braid

Mrs. Davis with a few simple household furnishings and three children. Her husband, she said, he believed to be dead.

4-H club boys and girls, 94 of them, of Wharton county went to the woods in January and brought back 147 native shrubs which they used with 32 other shrubs to beautify the Wharton county fair grounds. A landscape plan was used to guide the planting.

Home grown grain, plenty of skim milk and green feed helped Orville Laabs, 15, Cameron county 4-H club poultry demonstrator, to keep his feed cost down to 53 cents per hen for 10 1/2 months.

An average gain of 542 pounds for the 27 4-H club calves being fed out in Menard county sets a record for the 209 day feeding period reports Frank Newsom, agricultural agent, who thinks his boys are smart to have defied the drought so successfully. The ration, changed from time to time, was largely corn, barley oats, sweet feed and cotton seed cake.

In Goliad county nine boys are cooperating in a demonstration in which 23 pigs have been put on feed in a splendid location with access to plenty of green pasture. They will have self-feeders, constructed by the A. and M. way, and shelled corn combined with protein supplement will be the ration. Local bankers have set up a revolving fund to help the boys finance the venture and the Goliad rotary club has underwritten it for them.

4-H club girls in Gregg county have taken up yard improvement work with enthusiasm. Each club has a demonstrator who will beautify her whole yard while all other girls are cooperators and have as their goals cleaning their yards of all rubbish, starting a cutting bed to grow shrubs for later planting around the house and making a flower bed of annuals.

MAPLE TREE TAPPER SURPRISED AS WHISKEY FLOWS OUT OF SPOUT

Perry, N. Y.—Imagine Elmer Sweetdew's perplexity Monday when a thin trickle of whiskey ran from a spout inserted in a maple tree to draw sap.

Hardly trusting his senses, he went around to the other side and found his drill had bored through a cork in a jug placed in a deep cavity in the trunk. Then he remembered a hired man discharged for drunkenness several years ago who habitually took a jug of liquor into the woodlot to lighten his labors.

CUBS TO STACK UP STRONG FOR LEAGUE CHASE

Grandstand May Be Erected On Field, for Comfort of Team's Followers

With Ben and Pete Francis, as well as several of the others who starred on the Cubs team last year, J. Hatton Meltee, manager, feels rather optimistic as the season nears. He has hopes of a couple of local men, not able to perform last year, to be in good shape for the 1935 flag chase in the Red River Valley Baseball League. One of the men in question is Bruce Taylor, the youthful southpaw. Whether his injury has healed sufficiently to enable him to take his regular turn in the box is something the manager is going to find out before long.

All in all the Cubs shape up just about as strong as last year, and perhaps they will be stronger. Should Taylor round into condition he will solve part of Meltee's worries about pitching—a source of trouble to the local ball team for these several years past.

According to the Cubs leader he hopes to have a grandstand built for the comfort of fans this year, something that has been long wanted. As for erecting a couple of wing fences he doubts this will be done—at least during the first part of the campaign.

Lewen Davis, one of the best ball hawks in this part of the country, is expected to show an improvement in hitting this year. Davis played in hard luck with the old bludgeon in 1934, in

2,013,972 Head Of Texas Cattle Sold By AAA Plan

COLLEGE STATION, TEXAS, March 6.—The government has purchased 2,013,972 cattle from 159,295 drouth-stricken cattle-men and livestock men from 232 counties in Texas in the last 7 months, spending an average of $12.14 per head, according to the final report issued by George W. Barnes, assistant drouth director at College Station.

More than $24,000,000 was appropriated and used in Texas buying these cattle. An average of 13 head was purchased from 159,000 livestock men needing immediate relief.

The Texas Relief Commission, operating 22 canning plants, was assigned a sufficient number to can 50,000,000 cans of meat for relief clients of Texas.

"There is no doubt in my mind" O. B. Martin, director of the Texas Extension Service, announced today, "but that the AAA program saved the cattlemen of Texas from a terrific disaster and at the same time was instrumental in bettering the herds of the State by culling."

With so many government inspectors snooping about, it is rather easy for impostors to pull their stuff. In Nashville a bandit armed with a fake search warrant gained admission to two homes and robbed them of several hundred dollars.

SPECIALIST ON NUTRITION GOES TO PUERTO RICO

LOLA BLAIR, WELL KNOWN BY TEXAS FARM WOMEN, TO BE THERE 4 MONTHS

College Station, Texas, March 6.—Lola Blair, nutrition specialist with the Extension Service at College Station, left here Monday March 4 to take the same month in Puerto Rico for four months where she will be located at Rio Piedras at the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts of the University of Puerto Rico.

Miss Blair is known to every farm woman in the State of Texas for her extensive food program and for developing the demonstration known as the 4-H pantry. She also wrote the canning recipes used in the Federal meat canning plants where cattle purchased as drouth relief was conserved to feed the hungry.

County Judge H. W. Fillmore of Wichita Falls will respond to the welcome address at the 13th district convention to be held in Quanaah Saturday and Sunday.

The program for the two-day convention has been completed for sometime with the exception of some of the minor details and it is said everything is just about in readiness for entertaining the large number of visiting Legionnaires of this district. Chillicothe is expected to attend nearly 100 per cent, one of the local Legion members stated this week, and he believes Quanaah will be crowded with representatives from the many legion posts in the state, as well as a group from Southwest Oklahoma. Eight hundred are expected for the Sunday night banquet.

L. W. (Bill) Morris is commander of the Quanaah post.

Texas Textile Industry Still Asserted Slow

AUSTIN, March 6.—The cotton textile industry of Texas is still in the doldrums although in a few cases the January statistics were better than the month before, according to Dr. A. B. Cox, director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Cotton consumed totaled 3,125 bales, an increase of 35 per cent over the previous month but 44 per cent below January, 1934; Cloth produced, 3,758,000 yards, was up 4 per cent from the previous month but 34 per cent under January a year ago; unfilled orders on January 31, 6,612,000 yards, were down 23 per cent from December and 57 per cent from a year ago. Active spindles, totaling 121,818, were down 2 per cent and 26 per cent respectively from the previous month and from January a year ago; while spindle hours were slightly above December but sharply below January last year.

Just how Deputy Sheriff Powell of Oklahoma learned to drive with one hand is not pertinent to this story. But his ability to do so came handy not long ago. Driving with one hand and shooting with the other, he pursued two bank robbers, killing one and wounding the second, besides recovering the $3,750 they had stolen.

THE EASIEST Contest YOU EVER ENTERED

"SEE-THE-FEATURES"

All you have to do to win one of these prizes is to identify twelve (12) features on two or more 1935 model gas ranges, now being shown at Dealers' stores and Gas Company offices, and then write in 100 words or less what you like best about cooking with Gas. Simple, isn't it?

There is nothing to buy. The only requirement is that you must be a resident along the gas distribution lines of the United Gas System. You can secure an entry blank from any dealer in Gas Ranges or from the nearest Gas Company office. By inspecting new 1935 Gas Ranges at any two stores near your home, it will be easy to identify 12 features from the list given on the entry blank.

Start today to "See-the-Features." Read the simple rules and see how easy it is to win one of these prizes.

YOU MAY WIN ONE OF THESE HANDSOME PRIZES

For this contest, the United Gas System property has been divided into four zones, with a first and second prize being awarded in each zone, making a total of eight prizes for the contest as a whole. You are competing only with persons living in your zone, thus increasing your chances of winning a prize.

WOMEN CONVICTS—FLIGHT IS FAILURE WHEN HOPE BREAKS

McAlester, Okla.—An attempted prison break by two women at the State penitentiary Tuesday was frustrated when a rope made of blankets broke.

Rena McCollum was in the prison hospital suffering from a broken leg as the result of the fall from the second story. Her cries aroused guards, who found the woman's cellmate, Fay Satterfield, in outside clothing, apparently ready to follow the McCollum woman. The cell bars had been sawed.

The women are serving eighteen-month terms from Okmulgee County for grand larceny.

JUST THINGS GOSSIPY

My friend, C. M. Moore, is not altogether sold on the processing tax imposed by the Federal Government. I can hardly blame him. He tells me that this last month he sent a check for over $400 to the government as the mill's portion of the tax. It is fine and dandy for the government, but not for the small mills.

I am also wondering how the Federal Government can see fit to do good business to cut acreage on agriculture as a means of reducing a surplus, and then turn right around and import foodstuffs. Would you operate your business that way?

Luke Hadiman was patrolling the streets Saturday morning hurriedly. "It makes people think you are working whether you are or not." It's not a bad idea—and think, also, of the amount of exercise to be gained by doing so.

Everett Allen, that demon knife trader, sums up conditions like this: "When it gets to the point where you cannot trade a knife, then times are hard."

Personally, I wish that cold night last month had gone elsewhere. I wish it more strongly after looking at the gas bill.

Don't burn the bridges behind you is a well-taken moral.

At least E. A. Nayfa thinks so. If Seymour is not what it should be—that is "seeing more" and of course Nayfa means "dough" then he is coming back to Chillicothe. He has the right idea—don't burn the bridges behind you. It will be well for others contemplating leaving here to think it over, as well.

Tommy Whiteley—it was the first day of the month when most everyone is grouchy—asserted emphatically that unless it rained he was going to Shamrock. Tommy evidently looked out across the bald prairie around Shamrock, saw a few Shamrocks growing, and decided if they could grow, so would his business. I reminded Tommy, however, that it will be to stay in a good town; that rocks were most shams anyhow. Tommy—after the first of the month—is reconciled.

Eli Davis remarks that having a cast of influenza is not so very funny after all. "At first I thought I would get to stay in bed and have a good time. I went to bed alright, and then I got to feeling a little bad. As time went on aches became more aggravating—until I really was sick."

Riley Francis, assistant to Ed Gee—he holds the implement while Ed does the blacksmithing—questioned me as to what I thought of the baseball team prospects. That just proved he didn't have his mind on business, but instead, had never run as high as 105 degrees for baseball. As the time approaches for the season to begin he will have a higher temperature. I feel sure of that.

Personally, I could see no reason to be in such a hurry to buy the new 1935 automobile plates. The 1934's still are in good shape.

My friend C. W. Underwood showed more sympathy this last month for the faithful of this community. He reveals a total rainfall for the month of February to be 1.06 inches. That isn't bad. Now if he will just not lose any time this month, I am prone to believe folks will feel much better in these parts.

If the state keeps up its beautification program on the main highways Chillicothe will be turned into a real pretty place. Trees being planted ought to be made to live and what could be more pleasant than driving along in your car with beautiful trees banked on each side.

That's enough of that. Luther Potts can tell you the balance.

Total Loss by Fire
Fire completely destroyed the home of Roy Meyers last night, located on the Hayhurst place north of Chillicothe. Cause of the fire was not stated.

Mrs. Joe Cardelliae and Miss Joyce Heath departed Saturday for New Orleans, La., to attend the Mardi Gras. They are expected to return home during the first part of next week.

Training School For Reporters Is Held At Quannah

Twelve home demonstration club reporters and visitors met March 2 in the court house for a reporter's training school with Misses Katherine Bailey, council reporter, and Bell Evans, club reporter as directors.

The aim of the training school was to improve the club reports and carry to non-club members who cannot attend club meetings, more valuable information.

What the editor expects of a club reporter was brought to the group by Mr. Harry Koch, editor of the Quannah Tribune-Chief.

The Reporters' Association will meet on the 4th Saturday of April at 1:45 o'clock. At this time all reporters are to bring copies of their reports to this meeting for discussion.

Those attending the meeting were: Mrs. P. G. Turner, Chillicothe; Mrs. A. A. Hare, Spring Creek; Mrs. P. R. Ratliff, Goodlett; Mrs. J. E. Hines, Acme; Mrs. H. F. Barnard, Acme; Mrs. M. O. ## GETTING MOTORS TUNED FOR TRIP URGED BY FIRMS

SPRINGTIME NEAR, MANY PLAN TO ANSWER CALL OF ROAD

As springtime is nearing and thoughts of Chillicothe people will be to travel to different sections of the country, local automobile firms are calling attention this week to the advantages to be had by preparing for the trip, and should be given careful consideration by those who plan to go some where.

Perhaps the old motor has been missing at times, something wrong somewhere, but still the owner does not know what is causing the trouble. To make a trip with a troublesome motor means just that—more trouble. Touchstone Motor Company calls attention to the fine equipped garage and the experienced mechanics employed there, who will remedy the trouble at a very small cost.

Dick Erwin, at Conoco Station No. 1, and Solon Haynes, Station No. 2, both offering Conoco products service, as well as travel information to help the traveller. They retail Conoco gasoline and oils.

Lawson Service Station on West Worsham offers what he terms a "One-Step Station," and means the motorist can get practically anything he wants. He offers Sinclair gasoline and oils.

For the motorist who wants to buy parts and accessories, yet not expend the price for new, can find nearly anything wanted at the Chillicothe Wrecking Company, J. B. Nicholas, owner, declares.

Charley Arledge at the Arledge Service Station, retailing Phillips 66 gasoline and oils, is another able to offer travel guides. Charley claims a service second to none.

Dock Sills, at the Magnolia Service Station, East Worsham, is still another able to provide motorists with a guide on the best improved highways and choice service places.

Below's Garage, West Worsham calls attention to his garage service, saying the prices charged are very reasonable. He is able to furnish glass for automobiles, as well, he stated.

These firms are ready to give

BIRTHDAY DINNER GIVEN SUNDAY

D. P. Adrian has found birthday celebrations to be very delightful, especially the last one—given Sunday, March 3, when his children remembered him with beautiful gifts, and of course Mrs. Adrian with a delicious cake. Yes, he has reached the 7th milestone but that isn't odd for anyone who does not wish to get old, and this last one was just as happy to Mr. Adrian as when he reached the age of 21.

All the children could not be present, but Mr. and Mrs. Paul McGinnis and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jenkins and family, the latter of Oklahoma City, were in attendance.

"It was a great day, and what a gift the smoking stand is," sums up just about what the honoree said in reference to the event.

BRIDGE BUILDERS HOLD MEETING

The Bridge Builders met at the home of Mrs. E. O. Allred at 3:30 p. m., March 1, with Fern Adams as hostess. As was predicted this game called bridge was taken more seriously at this meeting than at the last.

All of the members were present last Friday, the absent being at the first meeting being Mrs. Mary C. Barlow, who is hostess to the club next Friday, March 8.

ALATHAN CLASS MEMBERS MEET

Members of the Alathan Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday night at the home of Mrs. Frank Henry in a monthly business session. Those retiring were Mrs. Charlie Timmins, Mrs. Doug Golden, Mrs. Jack Waiser, and Mrs. E. O. Allred. Those elected to succeed were Mrs. E. E. McClesky, Mrs. Frank Henry, Mrs. Harry Norwood, and Mrs. Ernie Varnell.

WEDDING OCCURS AT HOLLIS, OKLA.

Mrs. Mary McGee Chaney, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Ira L. Parrock, became the bride of Harry M. Anderson, who has been connected with Miller's Cash Grocery in a wedding solemnized at the Methodist parsonage in Hollis, Okla., Sunday afternoon, February 24. The ceremony was read by Rev. T. M. Moore, who with Mrs. Moore were the witnesses.

Immediately following the nuptials the couple returned to this city. However, Mr. Anderson departed soon afterwards for Granite, Okla., where he has accepted employment. Mrs. Anderson remained here to continue with her teaching at the King High school, and will join him later.

Mr. Anderson is the son of Sheriff and Mrs. S. D. Anderson of Hollis. He had resided in Chillicothe for about one year and a half.

HOSTESS TO LOVELY RECEPTION

Mrs. H. A. Blevins was hostess at a lovely reception tea Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Marvin L. Sharp 2519 Paradise street, honoring her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph A. Blevins. Mrs. Blevins was formerly Miss Mary Elizabeth Holt, a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Oran C. Holt of San Antonio. Her marriage to Joe Blevins of Chillicothe took place Dec. 31 at Benjamine, Texas, was announced last week.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. A. B. Garland, who directed them to a receiving line composed of Mrs. H. A. Blevins and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Joseph A. Blevins, Miss Louise Morgan of Olney, Miss Opelia Hundt and Mrs. Dan T. Wilson of Chillicothe, and Mrs. M. L. Sharp. Mrs. J. K. Campbell directed the guests into the dining room, where Mrs. B. D. Bourland and Miss Carolyn Hendrix presided at the tea table. The table centerpiece of pink roses was arranged over a reflector, and the beauty of silver appointments over a Normandy lace cloth was enhanced by the use of candleabras holding pale pink candles. The buffet was decorated with sweetpeas and acacia with tall pink candles in silver holders at either end. Spring flowers were also used in decorating other rooms of the home.

Misses Virginia Harroun, Margaret Goodwine, Maurine Thompson, Mrs. Clay Brite, Mrs. Pricie Denny, Mrs. Hugh Bourland and Mrs. A. P. Morris assisted in serving. Little Miss Sara Ann Bourland held the card tray.

A delightful program was given during the afternoon consisting of the following numbers: vocal selections, "I Love You Truly," "Bond, and 'If I Were a Rose," Hesselberg, by Mrs. P. W. Hendrix; two readings, "The First Quarter" and "The First Call to the Butcher," by Miss Virginia Ellen McCabe; a piano solo, "Spinning Song," Ellenrich, by Mary Virginia Sharp; two novelty numbers, "Ear Mill of Mistle" and "Never Slept a Wink Last Night" by Robert Thompson; piano solo, "Saiterelle," Lack, by Geraldine Sharp; and two readings by David Bourland. Piano numbers were also given by Mrs. Pricie Denny at intervals during the afternoon.

HOSTESS TO DELPHIAN CLUB MEMBERS

Mrs. S. H. Williams was hostess to the Delphian Club Wednesday afternoon.

Three visitors, Mrs. Lucy McConnell of Colorado, Mrs. Robt. Reed of Canyon, and Mrs. W. Cole, were welcomed by the Club. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Roy Sutton, at 2:30 o'clock. The collect was said in union by Mrs. S. H. Williams, Mrs. Hardin Cole, Mrs. Roy Sutton, Mrs. Hattie Beadle, Mrs. C. E. Carlock, Mrs. W. E. Williams, Mrs. J. B. Forbes, Mrs. J. M. Rutherford, Mrs. Jesse T. Muse, Mrs. J. Roy Quinn, Mrs. O. L. Boston, Mrs. Edith Guidroz, and Mrs. Clara Cole.

During the session the members complimented Mrs. Hardin Cole with a trip to the Seventh District Federation meeting to be held at Plainview on March 26 in appreciation of her worth as an instructor to the club.

DORCAS CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

Dorcas Class of the First Baptist Church elected new officers for the next term, at their regular Sunday morning school, with the following being elected:

Mrs. L. J. Nuckles, president; Mrs. Barney Young, first vice-president; Mrs. Walter Stevens, second vice-president; Mrs. W. T. Wofford, third vice-president; Mrs. W. Sims, teacher; Mrs. J. B. Oliver, assistant teacher. All old members, as well as new ones, are urged to attend this class every Sunday.

SHRUB SHOWER GIVEN FOR MRS. MARTIN

Names of some who were unable to attend the shrub shower given by Mrs. J. B. Dodson and Mrs. L. L. Rutledge for Mrs. J. S. Martin, but sent a nice assortment of shrubs, pot plants and flower seed, are as follows: Mesdames A. S. Kero, J. P. Plummer, E. W. Geese, J. H. Mosley, J. C. Flynt, H. J. Tabor, Ira Plummer, J. P. McPherson, W. M. Sager, W. W. Cole, the Misses Estelle Plummer and Clara Cole. Mrs. Martin stated she expects to have the most beautiful spot in Chillicothe when her flowers begin to bloom.

CLUB MEETING AT MEDICINE MOUND

Members of the Medicine Mound Home Demonstration Club met February 23 at the home of Mrs. J. A. Barnes. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. W. Armstrong. The hostess led by prayer, followed by a song, led by Mrs. W. A. Jenkins.

Mrs. E. R. Emby, leader for the program, gave a very interesting talk on "America Must Choose," by Henry Wallace. A club quilt was presented to Mrs. P. E. Waldrip.

Members present were the Mesdames M. J. Bellamy, J. V. Armstrong, J. M. Emby, B. W. Vaughn, J. C. Hendrix, J. H. Ferguson, W. M. Tombs, W. A. Jenkins, W. A. Johnson, E. R. Emby, J. A. Gilliland, H. Harris, E. M. Bellamy, E. B. Waiser and the hostess, Mrs. J. A. Barnes.

28,000 Farmers Sign Corn-Hog 1935 Contracts

COLLEGE STATION, Texas, March 6.—Twenty-eight thousand Texas farmers have signed the new 1935 corn-hog adjustment contract, it was announced here today by E. M. Regenbret, Extension Swine Specialist.

This is an increase of more than 25 per cent of signers over last year.

"The progress of the 1935 sign up is gratifying," Regenbret declared. "Much of the increase, in signing the contracts, is due to the new liberal regulations of the contract. The increase is particularly noticeable in the 'Black Lands.' Corn-hog farmers may now receive payment from the government by retiring a part of their corn crops and at the same time plant an unlimited amount of other feed crops such as sorghum and other feed grains.

"Also," he added, "this year the government has raised the rate on payment. Thirty-five cents a bushel will be paid for the corn, an increase of five cents a bushel over last year."

Each county is allowed to set its own deadline on the signing of the contracts. Reports show that the majority of the counties have closed the signing by March 1 and March 15.

A report from Dr. A. G. Black, chief of the administration's corn-hog section at Washington, D. C., states that more than 450,000 farmers of the Corn Belt and other states throughout the nation have signed applications for the 1935 contracts.

Preaching by the pastor, 11 a. m., and 7:30 p. m.

Morning subject: "A Good Man Who Went to Hell."

Evening subject: "A Bad Man Who Went to Heaven."

Some one may think these subjects twisted but they are based on what Jesus said.

The morning subject does not do the evening discussion set a premium on evil doers or criminals.

Training service at 6:45 p. m. You are cordially invited to come and work and worship in any of these services.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH

Rev. R. T. Broadlove, Pastor

An unusually warm and spiritual feeling pervaded the congregation on Sunday morning, many of the people seemed lifted to a higher plane by the Holy Spirit. It was an hour of high experience. Let the congregation pray for another of those hours of spiritual high tides when we meet again next Sunday morning.

The evening service begins promptly at seven-fifteen. A half hour of music and other splendid features of worship will be given.

Negroes to Sing

At the beginning of the evening hour the colored people will give several spiritual songs and hymns for us. You will not want to miss the contribution brought by the pastor of the O. M. E. Church and his helpers. There will follow a short sermon on some appropriate and evangelical theme.

Church School

A great many people are somehow missing the blessing that can be had through attending the different Bible schools conducted in the city each Sunday morning. They also are missing the good that they could do through these agencies of God.

Let us pray and work for a city of church-going, Bible studying people and see if God will not bless our community in a great way.

The evening services for the Young People will be announced in their Division Sunday morning.

Five Reforms Needed for Good Citizenship Says Ed L. Gossett

Ed Gossett, local district attorney, speaking before members of the Key Bible Class in Wichita Falls Sunday morning, cited the need for a reformed citizenship.

The district attorney launched into his address first by giving dictionary and constitutional definitions of his subject. Thereafter, he drove into the five problems of citizenship reform and listed them as indifference, indulgence, dependent and predatory classes, power and wealth and foreign politics.

In defining citizenship, the speaker quoted from the 14th amendment and from Webster. "In approaching the subject of citizenship," Gossett asserted, "and particularly the subject without restriction, one must have a feeling of fidelity. The relationship embraces almost the entire field of social and political science and philosophy. It encompasses the entire human family within its folds. Concluding a speech on this subject, one must feel as though he had tossed a pebble into the middle of the Atlantic ocean.

"The greatest fault of indifference," Gossett continued, "two must remember it has caused more heartaches than infidelity, and that a good citizen will endeavor to make an intelligent choice of all public officials. A good citizen cannot occur responsibility from the smallest local to the largest national election.

"Unrestrained liberties which we have enjoyed and which the rising generation is enjoying to an even greater degree, is the cause for this growing problem of indulgence. Law discipline in the home and school was blamed for lax discipline in the community and state. Every good citizen must realize only one good citizen in each community could enjoy absolute freedom; that every citizen must have less liberty in order that all may have more liberty; that the philosophy of every fellow for himself and devil take the hindmost, is a philosophy of barbarism. Denial breeds while indulgence destroys character," he remarked.

"In dealing with the problems of dependent, diseased, insane and criminal classes, civilization has perhaps made its least progress, and the speaker stated that the problem of this phase is an intelligent understanding of causes and an intelligent effort to eliminate the effect by removing the cause, and he illustrated his remarks with a brief account of the Duke family. "We know that the incubators of crime and disease can be destroyed."

"Again, the good citizenship will always concern himself with the problem of good government. Since the war and particularly during the Harding administration, our government has been disgraced by crimes and dishonesty in office. Too many of us in our prosperity and in our contentment have only shrugged our shoulders when we should have cried out in loud protest against abuses and insults to good government."

Power and wealth were described as one of the problems facing good citizenship.

"Within the last half century, according to Mr. Gossett, our population has increased two-fold while our wealth has increased ten fold. We have progressed at a dizzy pace. We have graduated quickly from the baby carriage to the kiddie car, from the kiddie car to the bicycle, from the bicycle to the automobile, from the automobile to the airplane."

The speaker warned that wealth, like poverty, will destroy ideals and said "There is dynamite in power."

"Again the problem of good citizenship must include that of the problem of world peace. In our act of tossing pebbles into the deep, we must remind the good citizen he cannot occur responsibility as a member of the human family. Time and space have been so reduced we are now neighbors with the Hindu and the Chinese," Gossett pointed out, and stated the position of the United States is very similar to that of the wealthy man in the small community. "Even though we live circumspectly, he will be known as a shylock. Tact and fair dealing are more imperative on him than on others. Our position as creditor nation of the world is no easy one.

"Again science continued to complicate our problems of peace. A new poison recently was discovered in a Transvaal bulb, which is more deadly than any yet imagine. One drop can destroy 10,000 persons without leaving a mark on their bodies."

In conclusion Gossett stated, "We must begin or continue with our youth to rear generation after generation of citizens, citizens who feel a personal responsibility for the righteousness and well-being of their communities, their states, their nations and their world."

TEXAS

Series of Articles Taken From the Bexar Archives at the University of Texas and Pertaining to History of State.

BY LORENE DRUMMOND

Series II, No. 5
 AUSTIN, March 6.—No more fitting description of the times in the Austin colony a hundred and more years ago could be afforded than that given in the letters written by members of that group of pioneers to their loved ones "back home." In the Old South in the still older settled regions of New England and the East Coast Files or correspondence which are included in the family archives collections of the University of Texas library show that these letters were not merely personal greetings from one member of a family to another, but they were lengthy and in many cases detailed reports, tinged with the personal and human element of the climate, agricultural, social and political conditions in the newly colonized country.

A particularly full description of the problems facing Austin's colony during the years immediately preceding the Texas war with Mexico, is given in the letters which Ira Ingram, one of the colonists, wrote to his uncle, Roswell Ingram, at Fort Conington, New York. The infrequency of these letters and the eagerness with which the colonist received any small scrap of news from his friends and relatives is testimony to the inaccessibility of the new settlement, and to the inadequacy of the existing methods of communication. His first letter, dated May 12, 1830, is in reply to one from his uncle written on February 12, exactly three months earlier, which had just come to his hand.

Ira Ingram and his brother Seth took an active part in the development of their chosen country, and cast their fortunes willingly with those of the new settlement. Seth became the official surveyor of Austin's colony between the Brazos and the Colorado, and laid out the town of San Felipe, as well as surveying much of the land on the old Caney and Peach creeks and on the lower Colorado. He was more politically minded, and was the first alcalde, or mayor, of the town of Matagorda. He served in the Congress of 1836, and was speaker of the House of Representatives. He died in 1839. Seth died in 1857.

In his first letter to his uncle, Ira Ingram outlines the activities of himself and his brother for the past several years, and indicates briefly his philosophy with regard to the future:

"... You ask me for information respecting myself and Brother. To be concise, and yet comply with your request; my Brother moved from Tennessee, where he had spent two years in acquiring a mathematical education, to this country, in the spring of 1822. When Col. Austin commenced colonizing, he embarked in the business which he had in view when he left the United States of the north. He is still in the same employment, that of surveyor of public land; He is the first of the profession who stretched a chain in conformity with law, between the Grand and Sabine rivers; is now in the vicinity of the Bay of Galveston, with his company and company is making money very fast; was in good health when his last messenger to me left him, and is still unmarried.

"As to myself, I am wifeless and childless. I married in the city of New Orleans, in March 1823 and in April 1824 lost my first child; in the October following I buried my wife. She fell, one of the last victims of the yellow fever, for the year 1824.

"My wife was my idol—She was young, beautiful, and accomplished. Her name when married to me, was Emily B. Holt.—In her grave, were buried my hopes, and my prospects of happiness. An uncommon buoyancy of spirits, however, enabled me to recover from the blow in part, by removing to, and establishing myself in Texas. As to my property, it is difficult to say what it is worth. I have a large tract of very valuable land, excellently situated, and superlatively rich.

"As to property, I have a plenty, and have to, the knowledge of an industry in business, to acquire more.

"I am actively employed, and intend to be, while I live. . . .

"If life and health are spared for ten years—I shall then be prepared to commence the downhill life, with ample means to pave the passage with every comfort, and every luxury, that the epicure or the man of refined taste could wish. As to my prospects—His property and prospects are the same as my own; we participate in each other's business and speculations so as to make our gains in the country equal."

Series I, Number 6 will be published next week. Watch for the next installment.

FAVORITES COP OPENING ROUND CAGE TOURNEY

QUANAH BEATS KING HIGH BOYS AND WILLIAMS WINS OVER MEDICINE MOUND

QUANAH, March 2.—Favorites forged through the opening round of the Hardeman county senior girls' and junior boys' basketball tournament here Friday. As only four teams were entered in each division, Friday's survivors will clash in the finals Saturday night.

Pairings for the title clashes follow:

Senior girls—Quanah vs. Goodlett.

Junior boys—Quanah vs. Williams.

The Quanah and King High school junior fives opened the tournament, the local club continuing its undefeated march for the season by taking an early lead and holding it to win by the score of 37 to 13. Epps, Quanah forward, paced the scorers with 15 points. Quanah's girl team eliminated Williams by 28 to 24.

The Williams-Medicine Mound junior boys' game was close down to the finish, with Williams High eking out a narrow victory. The score was 23 to 21. The most exciting game of the day was the closing contest between Goodlett and Kings. After the lead had changed sides seven times in the third quarter, Goodlett forged ahead to win by 33 to 28.

Quanah swept the joint Hardeman county senior girls' and junior boys' basketball tournament by emerging victor in both divisions in the final Saturday night on the high school court in Quanah. The Quanah five's victory carried with it permanent possession of the county championship trophy.

It was the third time a Joe Forester-coached team had captured the title.

The juniors had an easy time after the first half in turning back the Williams High team. The score was 30 to 19. Pace, who led the scorers, and Epps, both forwards, starred for Quanah.

It remained for the final game of the girls' division to produce the tourney's most thrilling contest. Two three-minute periods were required before Quanah could eke out an 18 to 17 victory over a scrapping Goodlett sexte. Score at the end of the fourth quarter was 15 to 15. Each side produced two points in the first extra period. Ike Stinson brought the clinched victory with a free toss as the whistle sounded. Coach Virgil McClure's team was not awarded the girls' trophy because of a protest by King High school. Marshall Goodlett guard, is the player under protest.

HER BOY HAD ALWAYS BEEN WEAK AND PUNY

"My four year old boy had been weak and puny since birth, and had constipation and indigestion. Nothing did him any good until we tried MILKS EMULSION. Since using it, he can't get enough to eat and has outgrown his childhood trouble. He plays out with the children now, and he was never able to do that before."

—Wm. Heart, 424 Bundy Ave., New Castle, Ind.

Weak, ailing children usually start eating and getting stronger from the very first bottle of MILKS EMULSION.

MILKS EMULSION restores healthy, natural bowel action. MILKS EMULSION is strongly recommended to those whose sickness has weakened. This is the only solid emulsion made, and so palatable that it is eaten with a spoon like ice cream.

You are urged to try MILKS EMULSION. Take six bottles home with you, use it according to directions and if not satisfied with the results, your money will be promptly refunded. Price five and $1.20 per bottle. The MILKS EMULSION Co., Terre Haute, Ind. Sold by druggists everywhere.

CONSERVATION OF TEXAS SOIL IS PROGRAMMED

IS BEING FORMULATED BY RURAL DEPARTMENT OF TEXAS RELIEF COM.

AUSTIN, March 6.—A soil conservation program designed to save the agricultural resources of the state is being formulated by the rural department of the Texas Relief Commission. It has been announced by V. R. Smith, manager of the rural department.

The plan will make it possible for farmers to preserve their lands and for rehabilitation clients to work on self-liquidating projects which will afford them cash wages to apply on their obligations to the rural corporation.

Under W. M. Burkes, formerly county agent in Upland county, the conservation service section of the rural department was established last week. Mr. Burkes was named to the place by mutual agreement or rural department, officials and officials of the Extension Service at A. and M. College, which will cooperate in the program.

"Terracing alone will not save the soil in Texas," Mr. Burkes declared. "We believe it good practice to take land with an eight to ten per cent slope out of cultivation and convert it to pasture or timber land."

The conservation program will consist of erosion control, running terraces or contour lines, building terraces or contours, terrace outlets, spillways, gully controls, dams; planting legumes, grasses, trees or other cover and soil improving crops; water conservation in the form of wells, dams and ponds; building of trench sills and storage houses for crops and livestock; forestry, where work will assist in conserving the soil.

County agents have been asked to help start the program by offering the service to farmers in the various counties. Where requests for running terrace lines as much as 4,000 acres are forwarded to Austin, a conservation assistant, upon approval of the request, will be sent to the county to supervise work there. From one to four squads of four men each, to be supplied from rehabilitation or relief rolls, will be needed in the work, it has been estimated.

Equipment will be furnished locally. The service will be paid for by the owner of the property at its appraised value on a job, unit, or time basis, the rate to be determined by the extension agriculture engineer, the county terrace committee, and the representative of the rural department, and agreed to by the owner.

After terrace lines have been run, the conservation assistant will remain in the county to supervise actual construction of terraces. No part of the construction costs, however, will be borne by the rural department.

"Need for this work is being described," Mr. Burkes said, "by the fact that not more than one-tenth of the land in the state need ing conservation work has received it, and in most instances where this work has been carried on, it has been incompetently done."

Dr. Freeman of Yale reports, after an exhaustive survey, that the man who "takes it easy" while he works is likely to get the most done. This is encouraging to those who like to take things easy—and that applies, we imagine to most of us.

FORT WORTHIANS IN CITY MONDAY TO BOOST SHOW

Forty Members of Round-Up Club In Interest of Fat Stock Show to be Held

Chillicothe was host to a delegation of Fort Worth business men Monday when 40 members of the Round-Up Club visited here in the interest of the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show which will be held in Fort Worth March 16 to 24. The boosters also reminded this community of the Arlington Downs races which will be held March 28 to April 29.

The Round-Up Club is an organization of Fort Worth business men who give their time and services to boosting the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, annual Livestock Exposition which is operated without individual profit. Bob Cullen, Tad Lucas and Cleone Halcott, World Championship Rodeo performers, were with the boosters and added color to the delegation. They will compete in the Fort Worth Rodeo, more than 65 new bucking horses are included in the list of 129 rodeo horses which will be used in this year's rodeo. New free acts will appear on the midway.

The Fort Worth delegation traveled in a chartered bus and was piloted by a white car which is furnished for booster trips by the Bltmore Garage of Fort Worth. A fiddle band was with the group and music was broadcast from the bus over a public address system.

The delegation also invited this community to attend Arlington Downs races which will be held at Arlington Downs, March 28 to April 29. The Texas Derby with a purse of $15,000 added will be the feature of the meet on April 29. A total of $175,000.00 in purses is offered during the meeting. Races are held each day except Sunday.

Mr. Charles G. Cotten, of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, and W. O. Gatton were in charge of the delegation.

Husband Made Insane

How a wife can make her husband insane is a simple matter. If he has a favorite tool around the home and the wife misplaces it somewhere, and after months of worrying where it is, the husband even dreaming of that special tool, and then the wife very prominently remembers where she put that tool—insanity most assured.

Harry B. Thayer, retired telephone magnate, made this sage observation at the end of his long business career: "It is easy to fool yourself; more difficult to fool those you work for; still more difficult to fool those you work with, and almost impossible to fool those who work under your direction."

VACANCIES IN MARINE CORPS ARE ANNOUNCED

NEED FEW YOUNG MEN OVER 18 YEARS OF AGE; 66 TO 74 INCHES IN HEIGHT

Capt. George B. Rowan, officer in charge of Replacement activities at Marine Corps District Headquarters, New Orleans, La., announces vacancies for a few young men over 18 years of age, from 66 to 74 inches in height, of good moral character and in sound physical condition.

Applicants to fill vacancies in the Marines receive their preliminary examinations in their home localities and those selected receive their final examinations at U. S. Marine Corps Headquarters, 535 St. Charles Street, New Orleans. Complete information and application blanks will be mailed on request.

The Marine Corps offers land, air and sea duty. Many young men on completion of initial training are selected for aviation, radio, music, clerical, mechanics and other schools for specialist training. Others go abroad some on battle-ship, cruiser or to some foreign station where the United States is interested. Marines serve afloat or on foreign shores, travel thousands of miles and visit many strange places.

DUEL WITH SABERS MAY COST LIFE OF COLLEGE STUDENT

Dayton, Ohio.—Robert Zolk, 24, lay near death Saturday evening, wounded in a saber duel with a friend.

Physicians said it was improbable he would live. His lungs were punctured by the thrust of a saber wielded by Larry Lieback, a medical student at the University of Cincinnati.

Cocaptains of the University of Dayton fencing team in 1927, they found themselves matched. Almost equal in skill, they battled furiously for points that would decide the match. The blades blunted according to regulations, Lieback said, but his hard thrust at his friend glanced off Zolk's shoulder and sheared into his body.

MEAT JUDGING CONTEST HELD

CHILlicothe FFA TEAM WINS AND WILL BE AWARDED SILVER LOVING CUP

Chillicothe Future Farmers of America meat judging team carried off first honors in the contest held at Vernon Saturday, capturing the laurels easily over three competitors.

A beautiful silver loving cup will be presented by a committee from the Vernon Chamber of Commerce just as soon as the cup arrives, and a group of the C-C officials are expected to visit here and award the cup at a chapel period in the Chillicothe high school.

Competing against the Chillicothe team and how they were placed, found Harrold, second, Westover, third, Childress, fourth, Burk Burnett was not represented due to the lack of training on the part of the team. However, Burk Burnett will be an entrant in the state contest to be held in Fort Worth, and Chillicothe will have a chance against the Wichita county team at that time.

This is the second district contest won by Chillicothe Future Farmers of America chapter this year, and sets up a new record of achievement.

Members of the team include: John Simmons, Harvey Williams,

John Rob Lance, L. D. Worley, Doyle Hicks, and W. H. Laney.

DAY OF FASTING AND PRAYER SET

Austin, Tex.—Gov. James V. Allred Friday designated March 8 as a day of prayer and fasting and asks the people "to keep the spirit of this proclamation that we may know the sovereignty will of God for us during the reconstruction days ahead and prepare ourselves to the last degree possible to the day of His voice."

"The keeping of a day of prayer and fasting should be interpreted to mean that there is a spiritual element in the recovery program of our Nation and State as fundamental and important as that of the material," the Governor said. "I confidently believe that every citizen of our State will receive such a proclamation in the genuine spirit of gratitude to God and good will toward men."

"HAVEN'T HAD A GOLD IN FIVE YEARS"

In the old days I used to dread the coming of winter. I was always feeling cold—feeling about half alive—trying to work with my body aching and every nerve on edge.

Then a friend told me about McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets with their marvelous vitamins A and D. I started to take them five years ago and I haven't had a cold since that time.

McCoy's labors put me into full; build up resistance so anyone can laugh at cold germs. They make weak, skinny people strong, steady, nerve and vigorous. They're wonderful!

Get the genuine McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Tablets from your druggist today. Don't waste money on imitations. Ask for McCoy's.

CHILlicothe STAGS CLUB

Due to the fact President Boaz has been "rheumatizing" for the past few days, and no other desired to fill the chair in his absence, meetings of the Stags Club were cancelled until this last week when the Prexy returned to town and told the boys, "Get to the meeting. You have neglected matters too long."

A fair attendance of the membership rendered. One of the most important matters confronting the club at the meeting was why R. L. Barlow had not paid his dues. Wallace W. Braag reported he had made many attempts to collect, but each time Barlow exclaimed something like this: "How can I pay when the boss won't pay me?"

"What can a fellow do in that case," inquired Braag of President Boaz. "Well, since matters stand like that, I suppose you cannot be blamed," the high moggil replied.

Just how the club may collect the dues owed by Barlow is yet unresolved. Perhaps it may become necessary for a committee to call upon his "boss," being C. E. Carlock, who, by the way, is a club member, and show reason why he should come to Barlow's aid.

Roy Sutton, president of the Chillicothe Lions Club, was an invited guest. After seeing what husbands do when their wives are not present, he did not hesitate a moment in asking that he be accepted as a member. The club, knowing his past, accepted him with much glee, and Lee Glanzer read the "trial act," meaning rules. There will be plenty doing from time to time, Glanzer told Sutton, but what we do is kept secret from our wives. They would not approve. Therefore, we see no earthly reason why they should be told. We are all strong, able-bodied HE-men! fear nothing but our wives.

"That's fine. I too am a believer in man being ruler of things around him—even his home—he can get away with it," Sutton asserted.

Another subject before the club was, "Bankers Loaning Each Other Money When They Positive ly Refuse Outsiders." The reason, it is learned, why the matter was brought before the club Jack Nuckles made a loan to Dewey Marsh the other day—and asked for no security! When that was announced before club members all reached for something resting on a table, downed it hurriedly for fear they would die of something—maybe heart failure. President Boaz called Nuckles onto the carpet and questioned him thusly: "Mr. Nuckles, I am told you loaned Dewey Marsh some money. You did not ask for security. Why did you show favoritism? Why refuse, for instance, myself? You know I tried to borrow some money from you the other day to buy a span of mules for my good farm across Red River, but you told me the kind of security I must put up—if you agreed to make the loan—would be plenty. And now you oblige Marsh without causing him anguish?"

"I don't know how the report got out. There must be a spy somewhere around my bank. Since somebody let the cat out of the bag, though, I confess, I am yet unable to explain why I did

Through the influence of R. H. Jeter, manager of the Palace Theatre, arrangements were made recently to have the elaborate Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer traveling motion picture studio visit this city on its extensive goodwill exhibition tour of the world. The lavishly equipped studio on wheels, constructed by the great motion picture company at a staggering cost of $150,000, is scheduled to arrive here next Wednesday, March 13, and according to present plans will be open for public inspection from 1:00 until 2:00 p. m. in front of the Palace Theatre. The studio, which has traveled across the continent from the famous M-G-M studios at Culver City, California, has aboard it more than $50,000 worth of costly and intricate sound motion picture recording and projection equipment. It is a completely equipped Hollywood studio on wheels.

it. The way it was Dewey and I were conversing. Soon Dewey asked me to take a sip of something. Being unacquainted with strong liquids I cannot say just what the drink was. I have my ideas, however. Anyway, I sipped. It tasted good. I sipped again. It tasted better. I sipped once more which proved to be quite a large sip. Directly I became confused—my head was going in a whirl. Dewey then prompted me to loan him some money as he was desirous of making a deal. What is the deal, I inquired. He said he wanted to buy two black cats. Why do you want black cats? He came, Dewey said, to keep the mice away. If you have ever had trouble with mice, Mr. President, you know the bother they bring to you. I became sympathetic. I loaned him the money. He bought the black cats.

Just as Nuckles finished his account of the Nuckles-Marsh episode, he walked Clarence Carlock in. "What's the reason for being so late," President Boaz, questioned. "Mr. President, and fellow members, I am lucky to be here tonight. The truth of the whole matter is I had to slip away from home. I was asked to remain away, but knowing what would take place here tonight I had to come. Here I am, and lucky, I tell you."

Hurace Turner and John Heilhecker both arose at the same time, blurred out: "If that's a HE-man, well we are mistaken in the sex." "Oh, yeah," fired back Carlock. "I find I am no worse than you two. Didn't I see Hurace the other day up at the house washing white cloths, familiar to everybody? Didn't I also see John begging for mercy from a person close to his heart after he had done something he should not have done? Oh, yeah, you two are sure HE-men," and he sat down—so did Turner and so did Heilhecker.

Well, it being late after all the arguments, President Boaz declared, it was time to go home or else there would be more begging for mercy, and being forced to wash white cloths, as referred to by Clarence E. Carlock.

DEMONSTRATION ON TILE LAYING GIVEN TUESDAY

WORK CARRIED OUT AT HOME OF VAN HILL FOR GARDEN SCHOOL MEMBERS

Members of the garden school together with the second year students of vocational agriculture in the high school, met at the Van B. Hill home Tuesday afternoon where a demonstration in making and laying tile was given. A demonstration was also given in preparing poison bait to control cut worms.

A few of the members on the relief rolls were working that day and were unable to attend. Another demonstration in mixing poison bait for cut worms will be given next Tuesday night as well as taking up the matter of contest rules for garden members who plan to enter the garden contest, sponsored by the Chillicothe Chamber of Commerce. Everyone interested in having a good garden should be at the meeting, which is to begin at 7:30 o'clock and will last for one hour. A question box will be opened which will call for a round table discussion. Those wanting to profit by the experience of some of the more successful gardeners are missing something by not attending the school; that is if you have not already done so.

Be Seen at Fat Stock Show and Rodeo

Bob Calen, champion bronco rider, who will be seen during the rodeo at the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show, beginning March 16, mounted on top of some of the best out-law horses.

Castro County News: Information from the office of Glenn Hickman, county clerk, indicates that things haven't been going so well in the rabbit underworld and that some 4500 of these crop killing hoodlums have been kilted since the price of 2 cents per scalp has been placed upon their heads. This report is up to Wednesday morning and still gives the scalp hunters two full days in which to practice their target shooting before the bounty, allowed by the Commissioners Court of Castro County, expires.

This total of scalps, by a bit of common arithmetic, has cost the county $130.00, but has saved many times this amount in the young crops of the county.

Happ Herald: Measuring wheat land will start in Swisher county Monday. Supervisors in charge of this work whose appointments have just been received from the Extension Service at College Station, by the Swisher County Wheat Production Association are J. T. Corder, C. L. Cooper, W. A. Graham, Bob Franey, Howard Martin and Henry Hayes.

Producers will be required to stake contracted acreage before supervisors will be permitted to measure the land. Where contract signers have seeded more than the maximum, they will be required to plow up such excess before compliance can be sent in for payment.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jenkins and family of Oklahoma City, Okla., were here for over the week-end for a visit with relatives.
