Republican Seats In House To Be Won Or Lost; Long Rule May Be Broken; Dispute Now Worrying Democrats

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—The nation is awaiting tomorrow's "off year" elections to guage the drift of the 1932 presidential campaign and to learn whether the new house will be Democratic or Republican.

Democrats are making serious threats for two of three vacant Republican seats in the house. If they won these the 12-year old Republican rule of that branch of congress would be ended.

Of course, the national Republican administration has been a target of the Democratic attack. Tomorrow's results will inevitably be interpreted as an expression of the public attitude toward the president.

Dispute Worrying

Democracy has her worries in the dispute up in New York between two of her most outstanding leaders — Alfred E. Smith and Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt. They are at odds over a forestation amendment to the state constitution to be voted upon tomorrow.

National Democratic leaders are seriously pondering the effect of this vote on the Democratic presidential race of next year. Governor Roosevelt is riding a Democratic presidential boom. As the 1928 nominee, Mr. Smith is retaining his titular leadership of the party.

Ohio and Michigan are the battlegrounds which may determine the control of the house convening next month. Reports received at national headquarters of the parties

Apache Brave Is Confessed Killer

Mysterious Slaying Of University Student On Arizona Indian Reservation Is Bared

(By Associated Press)

WHITE RIVER INDIAN RESERVATION, Ariz., Nov. 2.—A department of justice agent, filling a role that might have daunted a Sherlock Holmes, has solved the Henrietta Schmerler murder case, a mystery that many believed had been carried to the grave.

The work of the agent, J. A. Street, described by his superiors as a job accomplished by "patience and perseverance under most trying circumstances," resulted in the arrest yesterday of an Apache brave, Goiney Seymour, after he had confessed to attacking and killing Miss Schmerler, brilliant Columbia university student.

Taken To Jail

Seymour was taken to jail at Globe, Ariz., last night and held incommunicado. The arrest was a surprise to officials of the Apache Indian reservation here who had regarded Seymour as one of the most orderly and quiet Indians of a once fearsome tribe.

The killing occurred last July. Miss Schmerler, whose relatives live in New York, had come to the reservation a month before on a fellowship from her university to study Indian lore. Disregarding warnings of reservation officials, she had lived in a brush shack, mingling freely among the Apaches and hoping to wrest from their secretive and clannish minds some of the unknown history of the race.

Borger Gropes In Dark When Power Is Cut

(By The Associated Press)

BORGER, Nov. 2. — Borger was in the dark tonight. For the first time in history of the white way system residents of Borger groped about in the dark. Oil lamps and coal oil stoves were pressed into service at the city hall.

The city government was without lights, gas or water.

The Panhandle Power and Light company, after serving notice, cut off the city because of its failure to pay utilities bills.

A lone light burned over the sergeant's desk at police headquarters. However, the fire siren, fire hydrants and sewage disposal remained connected.

Borger's bill, running from August, 1929 to September, 1931, was $16,689.43. The city recently issued a $7,500 warrant on the account.

City commissioners recently launched a three pointed attack on utilities rates, holding a gas rate hearing before representatives of the state railroad commission.

There was some traffic confusion along the dark streets.

Home Demonstration Club Council To Meet Saturday

Members of the Lubbock county home demonstration council will meet in the district courtroom here Saturday, Miss Ruth Stockton, home demonstration agent, said Monday.

Each of the 11 demonstration clubs in the county is urged to send three representatives and residents of communities in which there are no clubs are invited to be represented. New officers will be named. Mrs. R. L. Stewart of New Hope is chairman; Mrs. V. L. Cade, Union, is vice chairman, and Mrs. E. R. Slater of Union, secretary.

Friday Accident Injury Is Fatal

Ben F. Smith, 53, pioneer Crosbyton resident, died at 11:15 p. m. Monday at a local sanitarium of injuries suffered in an automobile accident six miles east of Crosbyton Friday night.

His chest was severely bruised when he was thrown against the steering wheel of the machine he was driving. Mr. Smith and a friend were enroute to Dallas when their automobile ran into a ditch. The other man was not seriously hurt.

Mr. Smith, who owned considerable Plains property, retired several years ago. He moved to Crosbyton about 25 years ago. Besides his widow, he is survived by six children, Clyde Smith of New York City; Clifford Smith of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Finis Vaughn of Plainview; Crockett, 15; Snooky, 8, and Wayne, 3.

Six More Governments Favor One Year Armament Holiday

GENEVA, Switzerland, Nov. 2.(AP) Six more governments accepted today the invitation of the League of Nations to take part in a one-year armament holiday beginning yesterday, but the league remained uncertain whether the holiday was in effect.

Reservations by almost all the larger states were the basis for the uncertainty. But in league quarters it was said the primary purpose of the suggested "gentlemen's agreement" had been to create a proper "psychology"—to show that the nations of the world were seriously inclined toward disarmament. This, it was asserted, has been accomplished.

Arkansas Mayor Files Suit Against Kansas City Firm

TEXARKANA, Ark., Nov. 2. (AP)—Charles Beasley, mayor of Garland City, Ark., today filed suit in the Miller county circuit court asking $150,000 damages from the Kansas City Bridge company.

Beasley charged agents of the company slandered him by asserting he was connected with the dynamiting of the Red river bridge at Garland City on Sept. 3, 1930.

"Too Much Monkey Work And I Am Tired Of It," Pollock Says; Troops Sent Out But Later Recalled

(By The Associated Press)

KANSAS CITY, Kas., Nov. 2.—An implied threat that federal troops might intercede in the Red river bridge war in Oklahoma was made here today by Federal District Judge John C. Pollock.

Taking cognizance of the use of national guardsmen by Gov. W. H. Murray who challenges the authority of what he terms "inferior federal courts," Judge Pollock said:

"The state militia is not bigger than the regular army."

Case Is Cited

"I know of a case in Oklahoma where the regular army was called out. It can be done again," the 74-year old jurist declared with emphasis.

The judge refused to act at this time on the request of the Red River Bridge company for an injunction to close the Oklahoma-Texas free bridge across the Red river near Durant, Okla., and to prevent interference by the state of Oklahoma with the company's toll span.

A detachment of troops which went to the martial law zone at the free bridge to keep it open was recalled by Governor Murray late today, since no action was taken by Judge Pollock to interfere with traffic. The soldiers were placed on duty early today in advance of the court hearing here.

Asks Settlement

Judge Pollock told attorneys for the bridge company and the states of Oklahoma and Texas to obtain a settlement in the state courts at Austin, Tex., of the company's

Varied Suspended Sentences Also Assessed Against Men In Abilene; Offices Were Maintained In City

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Nov. 2. — Fines and suspended sentences were assessed here today in federal district court by Judge James C. Wilson against five former officials of the Mid-West Birth association, all of whom entered pleas of guilty to an indictment charging in five counts use of the United States mail in promotion of a "lottery" scheme. The company formerly maintained offices at Abilene, Lubbock, Fort Worth, Wichita Falls and Oklahoma City.

Given $1,500 Fines

W. F. Hartzog, sr., and Wilburn F. Hartzog, charged as organizers of the association, were assessed fines of $500 each and six-months terms suspended for a period of two years.

Ben M. Geer, L. K. Elliott and D. E. Kelly, named in the blanket indictment as operators, were each assessed $100 fines and three months suspended for two years.

The indictment charged that contracts of the association were "mere wagering and gaming contracts issued in a scheme similar to lottery."

Armistice Day Observance In Ceremonies To Perpetuate Peace Of World Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2. — Proclamation calling upon citizens of the United States to observe November 11 as Armistice Day with ceremonies pledging an effort "to perpetuate the peace of the world" was issued today by President Hoover.

The proclamation said:

"Whereas the eleventh day of November, 1918, marked the termination of the World war and the cessation of its destruction and suffering; and

"Whereas it is appropriate that recurring anniversaries of this day should be commemorated by exercises honoring those who gave their lives in the service of their country and dedicating ourselves to the attainment of the ideals of justice, freedom, and peace for which they made a supreme sacrifice; and

"Whereas by concurrent resolution of the senate and the house of representatives, in 1926, the president was requested to issue a proclamation for the observance of Armistice Day;

"Now, therefore, I, Herbert Hoover, president of the United

Indictments Against Men Dismissed By County Attorney

(By The Associated Press)

GAINESVILLE, Nov. 2. — Indictments against ten Grayson county citizens accused of rioting and burning the Grayson county courthouse at Sherman, May 9, 1930, have been dismissed by order of County Attorney William C. Culp.

The men cleared by Culp's action were Horace Reynolds, Cleo Wolfe, Jim Arnold, C. E. Briggs, Leslie Cole, Jim May, Alvin Morgan, Bill Sofey, Roy Allen and Leonard O'Neal.

The courthouse was burned when a mob attempted to lynch George Hughes, a negro, who was about to be tried on a charge of attacking a white woman.

After the courthouse burned, the mob found the negro's body in a vault, where officers had placed him for protection. The mob took the body to the negro district of Sherman and burned it.

In asking for dismissal of the indictments, Culp stated that further investigation had caused him to decide evidence against the ten men was insufficient to assure convictions.

The evidence on which the indictments were based was provided by a military court of inquiry that investigated after the courthouse was burned. Sherman was placed under martial law until the agitation subsided.

Indictments against three other defendants in the case, Jeff Jones, Webb Purdom and Jess Roper, were not affected by Culp's action. Their cases were continued for trial at the January term of court.

CUP IS OFFERED

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. (AP)—Announcement of the offer of a loving cup to be known as the William J. Marsh award, was made today by the State Federation of Music clubs at a board meeting here. The cup will be competed for by junior choral clubs, glee clubs and choirs for the best rendition of "Texas, Our Texas," the state song, at the annual state convention of the federation early in 1932.

Petitioners Claim Defendants Have Refused To Pay Funds Ordered After ICC Had Held Rates Were Unjust

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Nov. 2—A suit for $300,000 was filed today in federal court against the Santa Fe and nine other railroads operating in the west and southwest.

The suit was filed by attorneys representing Higginbotham - Bartlett, Inc., of Dallas, and a number of other firms and individuals in Lubbock and other West Texas cities.

It seeks to force the carriers to pay $250,000 which the plaintiffs claim was awarded them by the interstate commerce commission as reparations on unjust freight rates on coal moved from New Mexico and Colorado into Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Attorneys fees amounting to $50,000 were asked in the suit.

Filed In 1927

The petition said the plaintiffs filed a complaint on these freight rates in October, 1927.

The commission held the rates unjust and ordered a certain proportion of the money collected under the rates restored as reparations. The petition claims that the carriers accepted the new scale of freight rates ordered by the commission, but that they have refus-

Wheat Prices Bring Dreams To Producers

Grain Regains Some Of Its Old Magic As Quotations Go Up 20 Cents Above Season's Low For Good Gains

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2—Wheat regained some of its old magic to conjure dreams of wealth today as prices closed 20 cents above the season's low for a gain of almost 50 per cent in less than 30 days.

In some quarters the golden grain was hailed as the "leader" that might carry commodities back to profitable levels.

The upturn is still too fresh to earmark its impelling force. It seems that professional traders suddenly stepped out on the bull side and found the public with them. Profit-taking was absorbed without a tremor and deferred futures sold 3 cents higher than the close on Saturday. They fell back 1 cent as trading stopped.

December Is Up

December wheat soared up to 63 1-4 compared with 44 5-8 on October 5, while May changed hands at 68—almost 20 cents more than at the low.

Old-timers don't like these spurts. They prefer a market that backs and fills with sustained upward trend. They've seen it soar too many times to swoop back with clipped wings.

The position of Soviet Russia in the world wheat market is expected to have a great effect upon future developments. A published report

Fate Of Boy Scout, Campfire Girls And Salvation Army Organizations Hinges Upon Financial Aid

Programs of the Boy Scouts and the Campfire Girls will be taken up at one mass meeting Tuesday night at the county courthouse while another group of citizens is mapping plans for the annual Salvation Army finance drive.

Persons interested in Scout and Campfire work are asked to assemble in the district criminal courtroom on the third floor at 7:30 o'clock to determine whether the two organizations will continue to function here. These organizations, according to R. D. Moxley, acting president of the executive committee of the South Plains Area Boy Scout council, are in danger of being forcer out of existence.

Cooperation Required

"In the past, the responsibilities of these two groups have been carried by relatively small groups of people, many of whom have not even had children in their homes," said Mr. Moxley. "The time has come when it will require the united effort of all those interested to maintain the Boy Scout and Campfire Girl organizations."

The Salvation Army meeting at 7 o'clock will start the finance campaign. The drive proper will be started Wednesday morning. The Army's board of directors, of which W. W. Campbell is chairman, will meet with Ben Kucera, chairman of the campaign, Tuesday night and the public is invited to attend. Saturday will be red-shield day in the Salvation Army campaign.

Gas Company Is Winner In First Round Of Rate Fight

ABILENE, Nov. 2. (AP)—Charging that the new rate ordinance was confiscatory and violative of company rights under the 14th amendment, the Community Natural Gas company today won a temporary order against the City of Eastland in federal court here ordering the city to show cause within ten days why a temporary restraining order should not be issued, and on final a permanent injunction, restraining enforcement of an ordinance reducing domestic gas rate from 67 1-2 cents per 1,000 cubic feet to 50 cents net.

Date for a hearing on the case was set by Judge James C. Wilson for November 10.

Special Panel Of 101 Men In Floydada Trial Is Exhausted

Six Men Are Chosen First Day To Serve In Murder Case Of Joe Hawkins; Present Trial Third For Defendant

(Special To The Avalanche)

FLOYDADA, Nov. 1.—With a special panel of 101 men called for jury service in the trial of the State of Texas vs. Joe Hawkins, Crosbyton, charged with the slaying of his father-in-law, two years ago, completely exhausted, Judge Kenneth Bain, District Attorney A. F. Folley and R. H. Templeton, defense counsel, tonight were discussing the calling of another special panel Tuesday. But 6 men were in the jury box when court closed at 5 o'clock today.

CASE TRANSFERRED

Case of Joe Hawkins, former Crosby county farmer charged with the death of his father-in-law, S. M. Hawkins, was transferred to Plainview late Monday, District Attorney Durwood Bradley of Lubbock informed the Morning Avalanche by long distance phone late last night.

Members of the jury selected were: G. Milton, D. P. Sweitzer, R. E. Fry, J. B. Jenkins, E. C. King and Marion Hessle.

Is Third Trial

This is the third trial for Hawkins. The first one, held in the 72nd district court at Crosbyton, resulted in a 50 year sentence, which was set aside when Hawkins appealed to the state court of criminal appeals. The higher court in reversing the findings, ordered the trial held in another county and it was sent to Floyd county. At the second trial the jury was unable to reach a decision. The second trial was in February of this year.

The slaying occurred October 29, 1929, at the home of Hawkins, about nine miles from Crosbyton. S. M. Walker, father of Mrs. Hawkins, was shot during an argument over a dog.

Two Men Are Returned Here To Face Charges Of Forgery

Two men giving their names as Chester Lafitt and Conway Jones, who were returned to Lubbock late Monday from Clovis by Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest, face grand jury indictments charging forgery and passing a forged instrument. The indictments were returned by a 99th district court grand jury Monday.

Lafitt and Jones were arrested in Clovis upon information furnished by the Lubbock county sheriff's department last week. A third man, giving his name as J. C. Jackson, was arrested here last week and was charged with forgery in a complaint filed before Justice H. K. Porter. Passing of five forged checks here for $57.75 Monday, October 26, resulted in the investigation leading to arrest of the trio. A check protector was alleged to have been taken with Lafitt and Jones at Clovis.

Achievement Day Program To Be Held Today At Wolfforth

Annual achievement day program of the Wolfforth home demonstration club will be held today, beginning at 2 p. m. Reports from committees, Mrs. M. T. Daniell, pantry demonstrator, and Mrs. W. M. Blair, yard demonstrator, will be given. Miss Ruth Stockton county agent, will attend the session slated at the Wolfforth school house.

Achievement programs also will be held within the next two weeks, as follows: Carlisle, November 10; City Line at Slaton, November 11; New Hope, November 12; and Hardy, November 13.

Two Men Are Believed Under Drug Influence; Found Here

Two unidentified men, believed under the influence of a drug, are being held in the county jail until they are able to care for themselves. The men, at first thought poisoned, were found late Saturday at the Burris elevator.

They were treated at the West Texas hospital. The attending physician reported the men were believed under the influence of amytol tablets, a heavy narcotic. They had not been able to give their names late Monday.

Slaton Man Hurt In Street Affray

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Nov. 2.—F. E. Jackson, about 50, former automobile dealer, is reported to be in a serious condition, the result of a brief affray in the business section here Monday afternoon. A Slaton trucker was arrested and taken to the Lubbock jail.

Jackson suffered a fractured skull when his head struck the pavement after, witnesses said, the trucker struck him in the face. Jackson was given first aid treatment downtown and is being treated at his home.

The altercation, it was reported, resulted over a note. Until about three months ago Jackson owned the Jackson Chevrolet company here. He had resided in Slaton six or seven years. No charges have been filed against the trucker, who, late Monday night, was being held in the Lubbock jail.

Arguments In $50,000 Suit Scheduled To Begin Today

Arguments of the $50,000 damage suit brought by Mr. and Mrs. John W. Woods against Mrs. Mittie B. Haefer and several others on the allegation they spread slanderous statements about the couple were scheduled to begin in district court here tomorrow.

Testimony was completed today. Judge W. M. Taylor overruled a defense motion for an instructed verdict.

Wichita Falls To Hold Gas Election; Date Set Dec. 5

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 2. (AP)—The Wichita Falls city council tonight ordered an election for Dec. 5 to decide whether the city shall enter the gas business.

The ordinance, passed as an emergency measure, stipulates that gas distribution properties shall be paid for from their own revenue. This action follows a long controversy over gas rates here.

THREE people were injured, one reported seriously, when two light automobiles crashed near the Fort Worth and Denver City crossing on Avenue H Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. H. Dobbins, Levelland, suffered a fractured spine and is in the Lubbock sanitarium. Her four-year-old son, Pike, was cut about his face and her mother, Mrs. W. L. Watts, 70, suffered a nose injury. Mrs. Watts was dismissed from the sanitarium late Monday.

Others Are Bruised

Occupants of the other automobile were bruised by the impact. Gene Brown, according to Patrolman Jack Reaves and Inspector J. C. Keller, who are investigating the accident, was driving the car, a roadster with a rumble seat, which collided with that of Mrs. Dobbins. Other occupants of the car Brown was driving were Bob Crawford and

Three R's Of Education Lost In New Three C's; Cocktails, Clothes And Competition Claim Co-Eds

BY JULIA BLANSHARD
NEA Service Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. — The traditional three R's of learning—reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic—seem hopelessly oldfashioned stacked up against news from the college front.

Three C's now take the place of the old three R's, in the conversation, if not the actual interest, of women collegiates.

These three C's of college talk are cocktails, clothes and competition—competition for social standing and dates!

This, among other interesting flashes from the front, comes from a "professional collegiate," the only one of her kind, Frances Lee. Miss Lee, herself only out of college a couple of years, is fashion and beauty editor of a national magazine and spends her time among girl students at different universities and colleges. She has visited 100 co-educational universities and women's colleges, to date.

"One question everybody asks me is whether there is more drinking at women's colleges or at co-educational universities," Miss Lee told me. "The middle-western co-ed never fails to ask, 'Do girls in the east drink very much? And the girl from a woman's college usually remarks, "Well, I'll bet those co-eds drink a lot!' Prohibition seems to affect colleges just as it does everything else."

Clothes play a much larger part in the life of the co-ed than the girl in a woman's college, in Miss Lee's opinion.

Prayer Week Is Observed By Mary Helm And WMS Members

Talks On Missions Are Made And Special Offering Is Taken To Go To Home For Children In Missouri

Over 100 women were in attendance throughout the day Monday at a special week of prayer service observed by members of the First Methodist Women's Missionary society and the Mary Helm auxiliary in the church.

The program opened at 9:30 o'clock with a prayer retreat followed by a devotional, "Love, the Law of Life." This was the first program, a second followed at 1:30 o'clock and the final gathering was at 3 o'clock.

"Saving Little Children" was the general theme and an offering was taken for the new home for children of Spofford, an institution in Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. C. A. Burrus talked on "Kagawa, the Apostle of Love, in Action" following the morning devotional as the final number of the program.

Mrs. Potts Is Reader

Mrs. J. Frank Potts was leader for the second program and discussed "Jesus' Challenge, 'Rise Up and Follow Me'." A talk was made on the life and work of Belle H. Bennett by Miss Mary De Bardeleben.

Mrs. J. O. Haymes was leader for the final meeting. She told of the needs of home and foreign missions and of special offerings which will protect children in the Methodist church.

After this talk, a group from the W. M. S. gave a dialogue, "Mending Cracked Walls," which depicted the needs of repairing three buildings in the foreign field.

Mrs. A. N. Gamble discussed "A New Home for Children of Spofford" and Mrs. O. B. Trinkle sang a solo.

tions of which Lubbock is proud, A Fan. We are more loyal as citizens than you have yet learned, but our affections are divided and justly so. We haven't forgotten the youngsters who live here—the boys who live across the street and around the corner, whose fathers and mothers are our personal friends and coworkers—the business men haven't forgotten that they have sons and daughters, simply because you came to college this year, A Fan. We want you to be loyal to your college, we want you to like our town, we have an affection for you, but we have other affections, also.

Sore Throat?

Not if he gargles when he gets home, with Bayer Aspirin! Three tablets crushed in a little water, one good gargle, and the soreness is gone; the danger of infection reduced. If your throat ever tickles after you've been out in the cold or damp, gargle as soon as you can find some Bayer Aspirin. Take it for any cold; two tablets at the first sniffle. For headaches, neuralgia, neuritis; or rheumatism. Instant relief from all such pain. Perfectly harmless, if it's genuine aspirin; the tablet stamped Bayer will not depress the heart. All druggists.

MONDAY WAS ANOTHER
RECORD DAY
SINCE WE LAUNCHED OUR GREAT
QUITTING BUSINESS
SALE

Dear Folks, we served yo uas best we could yesterday. We were very much handicapped in rendering our usual service, due to the fact that our store was packed to capacity as it has been many days since we began LUBBOCK'S BIGGEST SALE. We found it necessary, and in justice to the vast crowds already packed in the store, to again close the doors part of the day, only allowing others to enter as customers would leave after making purchases. If you failed to get served yesterday we invite you to come tomorrow or any day until we finally close our doors. We are clearing stocks as rapidly as possible; some lines being completely sold out and others considerably sold down. We still have plenty of good high grade dependable merchandise and the prices we featured yesterday are still the same and will continue to be until the merchandise is completely sold out.

A BARGAIN FEAST

You have accepted our invitation to attend our Great Bargain Feast and we thank you. You have bought freely and generously. We believed you would realize that only good goods would be found here and that all merchandise would be found exactly as advertised. By your actions, you have not disappointed us. Come tomorrow—come every day. We have lots of rare bargains in things to wear for every member of the family.

"Bugs" Morris Brings TIAA Leaders Here

Game To Be Played In Afternoon On Friday Matadors Begin Series Of Grinding Workouts Yesterday

Aside from half a dozen or so skinned noses and blackened eyes, not to speak of several body bruises and sore necks, the Texas Tech Matadors were in fair physical condition when they lined up for practice yesterday afternoon, the first since their defeat Saturday at the hands of the Baylor University Bears.

The work out was more or less a series of limbering up exercises following the hard game at Waco and the long ride by bus to the home port. The trip from Waco was made between suns Sunday. More than two days were consumed in the trip to Central Texas.

Coaches Cawthon and Smith were loud in their comments yesterday addressed to their charges, but it cannot be truthfully said that the comment was featured by boquets. The Matadors heard most of the Baylor game over again and were told afresh that they were not the best college team in the nation.

What resembled a return of spirit was visible on the practice field yesterday. A certain other game played last weekend and its results gave the Matadors and their coaches cause for considerable worry. The Abilene Christian college Wildcats went into the lead for the western division of the TIAA by dealing out a 41 to 0 defeat to the Canyon Buffs. Tech defeated the Buffs 21 to 0, here earlier in the season and thought they had turned quite a trick. A. C. C.'s victory has spread considerable alarm and gloom over the campus because it so happens that the Matadors are hosts to the Wildcats here Friday afternoon.

Coach Cawthon announced yesterday that Friday's game, the next to be played in Lubbock and the first one in two weeks will start at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. A night game was voted down, due, perhaps, to the increasing coldness of the weather.

The Tech-A. C. C. game will be dedicated to the memory of Knute Rockne, late wizard of Notre Dame, and a part of the net proceeds will go into the fund to "Rock." It is part of a nationwide movement, this building of an athletic field house.

Field Goals Play Part In Saturday Gridiron Battles

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP) — The fine art of booting the pigskin through uprights, pretty well submerged for the first month of the 1931 season, has been revived by a sudden epidemic of field goals.

October's last Saturday of college football resulted in at least three important victories being gained by field goals in addition to which they played a big part in Dartmouth's rioutous 33-33 tie with Yale.

In the closing minutes of play, needing three points to tie, Bill Morton, Dartmouth back, retreated to Yale's 18-yard line and placekicked the points. Earlier in the game he had booted another placement from Yale's 23-yard line.

Henry Cronkite, Kansas State captain, doubled up during the afternoon against West Virginia, setting the record for the season, a 45-yard boot, as well as making a 30-yard placement. To Bud Smith of Pennsylvania, Charles Barksdale, of Centre, and Bernard Masterson, of Nebraska, went the glory of winning games by way of the boot.

Second honors for the day as far as distance was concerned went to Ray Slack, one of the half-back twins in New Hampshire State's backfield, who place-kicked 40 yards to score in a 9-0 victory over Tufts. His twin brother, Jimmy, who missed one earlier in the day, held the ball while Ray took his turn and scored.

Although the field goal itself came back as a scoring weapon, the old art of drop-kicking for points was lost again. All of the important goals were place kicked.

Boswell, Frog Tackle, May Be Out Remainder Of Season

FORT WORTH, Nov. 2. (AP) — Learning this afternoon that Ben Boswell probably would be out the remainder of the season, Coach Francis Schmidt began making shifts that he feels will offset the loss of the Frogs' all-conference tackle. Only a few changes were needed, however, as Foster Howell again resumed practice and two of T. C. U.'s reserve tackles, Oy Perkins and Jack Shackelford have played such stellar games during the absence of the regulars that the loss of Boswell will not be greatly felt.

X-ray pictures showed today that Boswell's injured knee was even more serious than first thought. In addition to the torn ligaments, there is a broken bone and he isn't likely to get back into the game this season. If he should, it will not be until the final game of the season when the S. M. U. Mustangs come here.

The University of Washington had 19 lettermen available for the start of the 1931 football season.

Long Live The Forward Pass

St. Louis Browns Reported To Have Option On Waco Ball Park; Writer Believes Spudder Franchise Coming

(By The Associated Press)

WACO, Nov. 2 — Jinx Tucker, News-Tribune sports editor, in a signed story tonight says L. C. McEvoy, St. Louis Brown representative, has obtained an option on Katy ball park here, the former home of the Waco Cubs.

Tucker says, in his personal opinion, that action signified Waco would return to the Texas League.

"It is an odd wager that Waco will get the franchise Wichita Falls has lost which means that the team here will be operated by the St. Louis Browns," Tucker says.

Ask Guarantee

"The St. Louis Browns have asked the Waco Chamber of Commerce if it would guarantee 50,000 paid admissions for the season if St. Louis would put a team here. The organization answered it would back the project in every way, but the attendance depended on the kind of team St. Louis put here.'"

Tucker adds no official word was received from the St. Louis management, and President Gardner declined to "make a statement officially but does infer that it is probable."

Huff Knows Nothing Of A "Lost Franchise"

WICHITA FALLS, Nov. 2. (AP) — President William E. Huff of the Wichita Falls Spudders is busy these days keeping track of his ball club, which first one sports editor and then another asserts is to be moved to first one Texas town and then another.

The latest dope is from Jinx Tucker, Waco sports scribe who announced L. C. McEvoy of the Browns has obtained an option on the Waco ball park, and that "it is an odd wager Waco will get the franchise Wichita Falls has lost."

"The fact that McEvoy has an option on the Waco park means nothing," said Mr. Huff tonight. "Mr. Tucker could have obtained the option if he had wanted to. To my knowledge there has been no definite action taken relative to moving the Spudder club. Wichita Falls has not 'lost' its franchise, as Mr. Tucker states. In fact, we feel sure that the franchise will stay right here, and the citizenship is making plans now to boost attendance next year in Wichita Falls, where the Browns already have a ball park, and where options are not necessary."

The Dallas News recently announced it was virtually certain the Spudders would operate next year in El Paso.

Fight Magnate Denies Report Of Schmeling-Dempsey Scrap

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—Reports from Berlin that Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, was signed for a bout with Jack Dempsey in this country were vigorously denied today by Jimmy Johnston, vice president of Madison Square Garden.

"Schmeling has a contract with us to fight an opponent of our choosing the next time he enters the ring in this country," he said. "We are not going to discuss it with him until he returns to this side. Then we will have an announcement to make, but until that time any reports that the champion has been signed to fight anyone are strictly the bunk."

Regulars Rest After Warm-Up At Fair Field

Change In Plans Brings Bobcats Here Saturday After Game Thought To Be Cancelled; Contract Is Binding

Coach Chapman turned his Lubbock High school Westerners loose yesterday afternoon following a brief warming-up exercise and told 'em to rest. He said they'd earned it after Saturday's game at Pampa, won by the Westerners to the tune of 32 to 6.

Coach Huffman and Coach Swede McMurray stayed on the field with a few of the regulars who chose to continue the workout and mixed in a scrimmage between members of the Cowhand and reserve squads. It was a lively workout.

It was announced yesterday from the office of M. H. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock schools, that the Westerners would meet the Childress Bobcats on Tech Field Saturday afternoon. The game was scheduled last year before the Texas Interscholastic league was divided into sixteen districts to replace the original eight, and was to be played as a regular District 1 championship game.

Game Thought Cancelled

Following the division of the district, it was verbally agreed between Childress and Lubbock High school authorities that the game would be cancelled. It seems that the signed contract was held at Childress, however, and Childress decided suddenly that it wanted to play Lubbock. The verbal agreement was remembered by Lubbock officials who reminded Childress, but the written contract held precedence and Lubbock said "come on over, anyway."

The game will start at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and should be as good or better than any practice game played here this season. Childress is a Class A contender for the District 2 title, though hopes for the title this year have been wrecked practically beyond recognition.

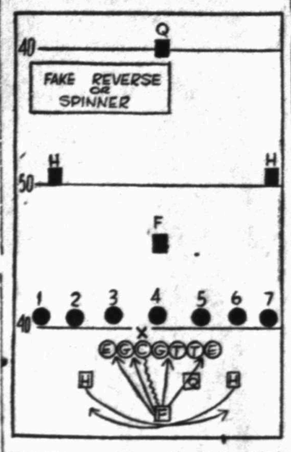

The Westerners meet Plainview here next Wednesday in the annual Armistice Day game. The contest, if won by Lubbock, will place the Westerners in further leadership of the district race, marking the third victory against no defeats.

Marion Talley (Masculine gender) is a sophomore fullback prospect at Alabama Poly this year.

Football ABC's

A capable line plunger is essential in the success of a football team schooled in the Warner offensive system. He may be any one of four backs, but he is more than likely to be the fullback because he is a plunger, or the quarterback, because he handles the ball.

Within the last few years a dozen or more athletes have won national recognition through their execution of the spinner,which is a fake reverse. Among them were Biff Hoffman and Herb Fleishhacker, Stanford giants; Russ Bergherm and Reb Russell of Northwestern; Pug Parkinson of Pittsburgh and John (Spinner) Campbell of Alabama.

The spinner starts the same as the reverse, as the accompanying diagram shows. That lends to its effectiveness because the defending team doesn't know whether it is to be a reverse of a spinner.

One or both wingbacks may swing around behind the fullback, who receives the ball from center on a direct pass. To make the play more deceptive, the fullback spins around with his back to the opposing forward wall and fakes a pass to the wingback who swings by closest to him. He then spins back of completes the circle and quickly drives into the forward wall at one of four points—between 2 and 3; between 3 and 4; between 4 and 5; or between 5 and 6.

To make the deception complete, the wingback to whom the pass is faked by the fullback should bend low with an imaginary ball cuddled in his arms and plunge off tackle or around end.

The team that boasts fast wing backs and a dependable plunger can keep an opposing line in hot water all afternoon. If the opposing line contracts to stop the spinner, it can be easily skirted by the fast wingbacks. If it spreads to halt the flank attack, the spinner will riddle it.

TOMORROW: Notre Dame Shift.

Billy Holmes Of Shamrock Wins Tech Student Golf Title For Second Time

Billy Holmes of Shamrock is still the king of Texas Tech golfers. He won the championship of the second annual Texas Tech golf tournament Sunday by defeating Mendall Hughett of Lubbock, 5 and 4, in their 36-hole final match over the Meadowbrook Golf club course. Hughett, for the second time, was accorded the honors bestowed upon the runner-up.

Walter Pendleton, also of Shamrock, defeated A. W. Norton, 3 and 1, for first consolation prize.

Eight In Tournament

Only eight students participated in the tournament, which started last Wednesday with the qualifying rounds. Cold weather, a decided lack of interest, other athletic activities here and abroad were thought to be reasons for the small turn out of golfers.

In the first round matches Friday, Lyle Holmes defeated Norton, 7 and 6. Hughett downed Winfred Massey, 5 and 4. Doyle Clark of Lubbock defeated Charles Moore, 2 and 1, and Billy Holmes beat Walter Pendleton, 5 and 4.

Second round matches Saturday saw Hughett down Lyle Holmes, 1 up. Billy Holmes defeated Clark, 3 and 1. All preliminary matches were played over 18 holes.

In the championship round Sunday, Hughett had Billy Holmes one down after the morning round. Holmes came back in the afternoon to shoot three birdies on the first four holes and take the lead. He increased it on the next five with two more birdies and finished the contest at the 14th hole with a score of five under par for the 14 cups.

Tulane And Sewanee To Play Post-Season Game For Charity

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 2. (AP) — The unemployed of New Orleans will be benefitted by the football game here Nov. 21 between Tulane and Sewanee.

Dr. Wilbur C. Smith, athletic director, announced last night that the Green Wave's net profit from the game will be donated to the unemployment committee here.

Rip Radcliffe, the Texas league's leading 1931 batter, will play for Dallas next season instead of Shreveport.

Ropes And Lubbock To Play Semi-Pro Loop Game Tonight

The game will start at 8 o'clock. A nominal price will be charged for admission.

Ground Breaking Starts On Women's State Headquarters

DALLAS, Nov. 2. (AP) — H. C. Knight, Dallas architect, announced that ground breaking started today at Austin for erection of the new state headquarters building of the Texas Federation of Women's clubs.

Mrs. W. C. Martin of Dallas, active in federation work, said the contract was signed several weeks ago with Eckert-Burton Construction company of Dallas for the project, with sub-contracts to the Fox-Schmidt company of Austin for electrical work and with the A. H. Shafer company of San Antonio for heating.

Frank Yama, five-foot, five-inch Japanese of Wenatchee, Wash., is making a strong bid for an end position on the University of Washington football team. He weighs 164 pounds.

... Emerges As A Hero

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Staff Writer

Lincoln Memorial

...ASHINGTON, Nov. 3—Senator William E. Borah's statement to the French newspapermen who accompanied Premier Pierre Laval on his American trip is generally regarded in Washington as having been the outstanding incident of the Gallic tourists' stay here.

It is a tribute to the Idaho senator's consequence that there was no preventing his reaction to the visit from assuming so much importance.

Not necessarily that any attempt was made to keep the Boise City solon muffled during the negotiations between President Hoover and M. Laval—though it is a fact that he was not invited to dine with the latter at the White house until after the Washington correspondents had investigated and ascertained that he had NOT been invited; then he WAS invited. But doubtless, as the senator remarked, it was by mere oversight that the White House was so slow about it.

ANYWAY, it would have made no difference had the Idahoan been left off the White House list entirely, since it was not there that he made his statement, but at his own office in the Capitol building, when the French scribes called on him.

From the standpoint of discreet statesmanship, the trouble with what he said was its plainness and the publicity which was given to it.

No well-informed person had expected that Mr. Hoover and M. Laval would make any real progress toward a Franco-American agreement on an international policy. But certainly it was expected that the conference would pass off pleasantly enough to justify an uninterrupted series of announcements calculated to convince ordinary folk that something or other had been accomplished in the direction of better world relationships and consequently better business conditions everywhere.

Instead, the senator's disconcerting (though, for him, customary) frankness barely missed precipitating a genuine rumpus.

TO BE QUITE candid, Premier Laval did not turn out to be much of a diplomat, either.

The last thing a true diplomat should do is to lose his temper.

It is being denied now, to be sure, that M. Laval actually was on his ear when, on having Senator Borah's utterances relayed to him, he tartly replied that the Idahoan, after all, simply is "one senator, whose speeches reflect only himself."

Maybe, indeed, he was not hot under the collar in saying this, but Paris unquestionably thought he was, for it was not many minutes after the French reporters' dispatches, quoting him, had reached their various editorial desks on the opposite side of the Atlantic, before the cables were hot with urgent messages from the Quai d'Orsay, urging him to unsay it instanter—and, above everything, not to let it get into the American newspapers.

Too late! It was in every one of them already.

IT IS ASTONISHING with what regularity Senator Borah gets the "breaks" in publicity matters of this sort.

His success is largely due, of course, to his faculty for recognizing what is the right thing to say and when to say it, and to his courage or good judgment or both in going ahead and saying it, instead of letting the opportunity pass, through timidity, as certain other statesmen do.

Still, there seems to be an element of luck about it also.

The Borah comment on Premier Laval's visit, for example, would have been no more than a timely, popular, well-expressed statement, but for the premier's indiscretion in flying into a temper over it. It was that that lent piquancy to the affair and gave it its first class value.

The senator could not possibly have foreseen it.

Nevertheless, its effect has been to make him the hero of the French prime minister's visit.

Mr. Hoover, in comparison, fades quite into the background.

As to the light in which M. Laval is presented, the less said the better.

STRANGE to say, despite his out-and-out genius for turning situation after situation to his advantage, somehow the Idaho senator never turns the final trick necessary to profit by the accumulation of them.

One would say that the White House should be easily within his reach if he would make the effort to attain it.

Doesn't he care for the presidency?

Or is he lacking in just the requisite last ounce of energy?

The senator is like a fighter, clever enough to outpoint anything on two legs and absolutely unhittable, but without a knockout punch in his system.

EXPLANATION OF SATURDAY'S CARTOON

October 31st Is Not Hallowe'en:

Hallowe'en, or All Hallow E'en, is the Eve of All Saints' Day. All Saints' Day is a festival established by Pope Boniface IV in the year 609 to commemorate the conversion of the heathen Pantheon in Rome into a Christian Church by leave from the Emperor Phocas. This official consecration took place May 13th, 609, and the Pope directed that the anniversary of the day be celebrated henceforth as All Saints' Day.

The proper date of All Saints' Eve (Hallowe'en) is therefore May 12th, and Hallowe'en was celebrated on that date for many centuries.

November 1st was one of the great festivals of the heathen nations of the north. It is assumed that the date of Hallowe'en and of All Saints' Day were later shifted in accordance with the policy of the Roman Church to supplant heathen by Christian observation.

NEA FICTION

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Pretty NORMA KENT, 20-year-old secretary, marries MARK TRAVERS, millionaire's son, in spite of the opposition of Mark's father.

The story opens in Marlboro, middle-western metropolis. After an extravagant honeymoon the couple return to Marlboro. Soon they face poverty. Mark secures a job, loses it, and then becomes a floorwalker in a department store. The young couple are just beginning to master their problems when Mark's father sends for him and offers him a place in his own business organization if the son will prove he can make good. Mark's first assignment involves a business trip to France. Norma must remain at home.

Norma, rudely treated at her father-in-law's home, slips away, leaving no trace of her whereabouts Chris Saunders, Norma's former roommate, helps her find a job.

Mark's father employes detectives to trail the girl. They unearth records showing that Norma three years before was convicted on a vice charge. In spite of the evidence that the charge was framed Travers sends his lawyer to Paris to engineer a divorce. Weeks later Norma receives a letter telling her the decree has been granted.

In August Norma's son is born. When the baby is six months old Norma returns to her former job. Mark's mother sees her with the baby. A few days later a public welfare agent comes to the apartment while Norma is away and takes him away. Norma, half hysterical, is told a complaint has been made that the baby is neglected. She can not see him until the charge has been investigated. Norma appeals to BOB FARRELL, young lawyer, to help her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XLIV

Above the sound of the car Norma heard her own voice and did not recognize it. "How could they take Mark from me?" she demanded. "How could they?"

Farrell glanced at her and her pallor startled him. "Say, you're all in!" he said sharply. "I'd better turn around and take you home."

"Don't Bob! I'm all right. Tell me—how could they take Mark? How could anybody take him away from me? He's mine! Oh, they can't do it! I won't let them!"

Farrell had stopped the car before a side street restaurant. We're going in here," he said, swinging the door of the coupe open. "You're chilled through. I'll tell you everything I heard as soon as we're inside. Maybe I'm wrong about it any how. It's only that I wanted to warn you because there may be a fight."

"I'll fight anyone who tries to take Mark!" the girl cried. "Why don't you tell me what you were going to? Is it something about Mark? Is he sick? Why don't you answer me, Bob?"

He tried to reassure her, helped her from the car and into the restaurant. It was a small place with a row of stools at the counter and half a dozen enamel-topped tables. There were no other customers and Farrell led the way to one of the rear tables.

"I can't eat," Norma said impatiently. "What did we come in here for?"

A lank youth wearing a waiter's apron approached, sparing Farrell the necessity of replying. "Coffee for two," Bob told the waiter, "and be sure it's hot. Bring some rolls too."

He added as the youth turned away, "I'm not trying to keep anything from you, Norma. I'm going to tell you everything I heard and let you draw your own conclusions. It's a lot better to be in here where it's warm while we're talking than out in the cold."

The waiter returned bearing two heavy white mugs of coffee on a tray. The cups were steaming as he set them on the table with the plate of rolls.

"That'll be all," Bob said shortly, and the youth shambled back to his seat near the front window.

Norma had not lifted her eyes. Their wide, agonized gaze clung to Farrell's.

"It's like this," the young man began, leaning forward. "It didn't take long to find out Travers is back of this thing. His secretary's name is signed to the complaint. It was filed yesterday morning. Oh, of course that isn't public information but a friend of mine looked it up. Now if it were an ordinary case it would be four or five days anyhow before there would be any action. The sudden rush is another proof someone with influence — such as Travers—is interested."

"Do you know where Mark is?" Norma's voice was a half-whisper.

Hysteria in the trembling accents. Farrell hesitated. "Yes," he said. "At the Friendship Home."

Norma half-rose. "Then let's go there! Let's go right away—!"

Bob put a hand out and touched her arm. "You can't do it that way," he said. "It wouldn't do you any good to go, Norma. They wouldn't let you see him. They wouldn't even admit he's there. You see you'd

November Seventh Named As Homecoming Day For WTSTC

CANYON, Nov. 2 — November seventh has been designated as home coming day for the West Texas State Teachers college and plans are being made on the campus for the entertainment of a large number of visitors. Mrs. Tommie Montfort and L. N. George are in charge of local arrangements and Willard Vinyard of Amarillo, president of the Ex-student Association, will be present to welcome the old grads, their wives, husbands and children.

Three special features of the day will be a great convocation in the newly decorated auditorium of the college, the football game between New Mexico Military Institute and the Canyon Buffaloes in the afternoon, followed immediately by a program tea.

Approximately 5,000 Bales Handled At Ralls Compress

RALLS, Nov. 2. Approximately 5,000 bales of cotton had been handled up to the first part of this week at the local compress according to E. A. Henry, manager.

Mr. Henry states that his company has reduced the storage charge on compressed cotton to one half a cent a day and that many of the farmers who are storing cotton there on their government loan obligation are taking advantage of the new low rate.

It is estimated that cotton can be held in this way for approximately three dollars a bale a year.

PICKLED WHALES

LONDON.—Percy Stammwitz had a big job ahead of him. He had to pickle two whales, each 45 feet long and weighing 22 tons. He has just finished them for the British Museum of Natural History. Each whale was packed with 30 tons of salt and into each were injected 65 gallons of formalin preserving fluid. They are to kept for two years of examination and for the purpose of having a plaster cast made of one of them.

BEWARE THE COUGH OR COLD THAT HANGS ON

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

have to have a court order."

"Then how can I get it?"

"That's what I'm trying to tell you," Farrell said patiently. "It's going to take time. And it's going to mean a fight, too. Travers evidently wants the baby—or else he's doing all this for spite work. I don't know which. If courts were always honest and decisions were just you wouldn't have a thing in the world to worry over. As it is—well, you know what money can do."

"But you said there is a way—?"

"Yes, I'm getting at that. You asked how anyone could take Mark from you. Well, the legal machinery is simple. If the welfare department says Mark's being neglected—that's what the complaint was—there'll be a court hearing. It would be for the judge to decide then. That's what I'm afraid is going to happen. Of course Mark isn't neglected! You have the hospital records—you could have the doctor's testimony—you have everything on your side! But you have P. M. Travers against you!"

Before she could interrupt Farrell went on, "I thought at first we could beat them easily. Even with Travers' influence I thought we could do it—and then I remembered." For an instant the young man hesitated. "There's the testimony in the divorce case," he went on slowly. "They might introduce that. It would beat us!"

The color drained from the girl's face.

"Oh!" The exclamation was tortured. "Oh, Bob—!"

"Maybe I'm all wrong about all this," Farrell hurried on to say. "It's a lawyer's business to try to anticipate his opponent's moves. That's why I've studied the black side. If I'm wrong then we've nothing to worry about. I'll be glad to go ahead with it and do all I can."

Apparently Norma had not heard. "You mean they could take Mark away from me?" the girl gasped. "Take him—to keep?" Her voice that had been a whisper rose hysterically. "I won't let them do it! I won't let them! Do you hear me—I won't let them do it!"

Farrell took both of her hands and held them. "Norma!" he said sharply, "you've got to control yourself! Do you want everyone to hear you?"

The words were useless. "I won't let them do it!" Norma declared fiercely. "There must be some way! I'll—I'll kidnap him, that's what I'll do! You've got to help me—!"

"I'm trying to help you!" There was authority, a commanding quality in Farrell's voice. "I told you there's a way you can fight back at Travers and fight him with his own weapons. I don't like to suggest it to you but it's only way I know."

"Tell me, Bob! I'll do anything you say!"

"Wait until you hear about it before you decide. I want you to talk to a friend of mine, Lafe Flynn, the district attorney. I believe he can help you."

"What can he do?"

Farrell's voice lowered. "Flynn's out to get Travers and the crowd he stands in with at the next election," he said. "I've known him ever since I was in law school. Took a couple of classes under him. We hear a lot of politics in our office. It's a common knowledge Flynn would like to be governor. He's been collecting evidence to use in this fight ever since he's been in office."

"But what has that to do with me?"

"Everything. If you'll tell Lafe Flynn how you were framed on that charge three years ago, how you were convicted without a shred of evidence and sent to Mount Florence for two months it would be the best campaign material in the world. Exactly what he needs to expose what's been going on for years. Every lawyer knows about the framing and fee-splitting but nobody's been able to prove it. Flynn's a holy terror when he gets started. He can make noise enough so they won't dare bring up those old charges against you. He'll know the quickest way to get Mark back."

"When can we see him? Can we go tonight?"

"Wait a minute, Norma. You've got to remember all this isn't going to be pleasant. There'll be publicity—your name in the newspapers and all that. You ought to think about it—"

"But I don't need to think. How can I see Mr. Flynn? Will you go with me?"

"Of course—if you decide it's the thing to do. You'd better talk to Chris about it. I'll drive you out to the apartment now if you're ready."

Norma arose. "All right," she said. "We'll talk to Chris."

It was 10 o'clock the next morning. Norma sat clutching either arm of the high-backed chair. She looked very small and child-like. Bob Farrell was at her left.

The man at the desk before them smiled encouragingly. He was a handsome man, apparently in the middle forties. He was well dressed, almost dapper in appearance. His hair was grayed over the temples but his cheeks had the warm color of a school boy's. Lafayette Flynn either in his private office or at a dinner party had a remarkable faculty for making his neighbors feel at ease.

"Bob sketched the affair to me roughly," Flynn said to Norma. "And they desecrate the word by daring to call these courts of justice! My dear child, you have my utmost sympathy. You say this happened three years ago?"

"It's almost four now", Norma said. She gave the date. "I was 17 and I'd been in Marlboro two months going to business school. There was another girl in school I was going to meet that night and we were going to a movie.

"We'd met before on a street corner near my rooming house. I went there and waited half an hour but she didn't come. I was just ready to leave when a man came up to me and spoke as though he thought I was someone he knew. He was nice looking and very polite. I told him he'd made a mistake. He begged my pardon. It was the line any masher would use only I didn't know that them. He talked about being lonesome and not knowing anyone in the city and I said I felt the same way. Then he asked me to go have a sundae. I knew I shouldn't but I was lonesome and disappointed because Alice hadn't come. Well—I went with him. As soon as we were in the place I thought there was something queer. Before I could think of any excuse to get away a policeman came and said I was arrested! I hadn't any idea where I was or what had happened until they took me to that terrible jail. The matron told me. Oh—it was horrible! I'll never forget that night or the next morning!"

Norma hid her face. I was several moments before she could continue.

"I—I was sitting waiting my turn before the judge and crying when Mr. Stone saw me. He wanted to know what was the matter and I tried to tell him. Then he said he'd be my lawyer and try to help me. He got the case delayed. I didn't have any money and I had to stay in that horrible jail cell. When the trial came a week later I found out that the man who had seemed so polite and nice was a stool pigeon Mr. Stone had my landlady and some people from the business school as witnesses but it didn't do any good. It was—"

"Just a minute!" Flynn interrupted. "Do you suppose you would recognize that man's face if you saw a picture of him—the one who invited you to have the sundae?"

"I can see him now!" the girl said.

Flynn opened his desk drawer and drew out three photographs. He handed them to Norma.

"One of those?" he asked.

With a little cry the girl nodded.

Elections

indicate close contests.

Concentrate Attack

The first Ohio district, comprising Cincinnati, was represented for years by the late Speaker Longworth. Democrats have concentrated their attack on this seat and the one left vacant in Michigan by the late Rep. Vincent.

A battle is reported from the Michigan district where a prohibition modificationist, Michael J. Hart, is the Democratic candidate against the dry-supported Republican, Foss O. Eldred.

Prohibition has popped up as an issue in the New Jersey gubernatorial contest, together with the economic situation. Both Happy Moore, the Democratic candidate, and David Baird, Republican nominee, have declared for repeal of the prohibition amendment, but a third candidate, Edmund R. Halsey, with Anti-Saloon League support, has intervened.

Three Injured

Misses Mary Louise Leaverton and Marie Hardberger, Patrolman Reaves said. Crawford was not hurt.

Mrs. Dobbins, it was said, was driving south on Avenue H. She was driving around an automobile which was stopped before turning to the left or east from the street when the accident occurred. Tracks at the accident scene indicate the roadster, going north, was turned to the west side of the street, to pass the stopped car and collided with the Dobbins machine.

Mrs. Dobbins, Mrs. Watts and the Dobbins twins, Pete and Pike, were enroute to Abilene to visit Mrs. Dobbins' sister, Mrs. Guy Griffin. Mr. Dobbins, bookkeeper at a Levelland motor firm, came to Lubbock soon after the accident.

Efforts Are Made To Reach Father

Efforts were being made late Monday to reach H. H. Harris of Broncho to inform him of the death of his mother-in-law, Mrs. F. R. Bivins, 57, and the burning of his son, H. W., 20, in a fire at their home near Broncho early Sunday morning.

Harris is believed enroute from San Antonio, where he went to buy a truck-load of apples.

The younger Harris, treated at the Lubbock sanitarium for burns not believed serious, was reported to be resting well Monday night. He was injured while rescuing his grandmother, Mrs. Bivins, and a child of the family from the blazing home. Mrs. Bivens, died at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Services Are Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Harris were held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at Murphy's Chapel, nine miles southwest of Broncho.

The blaze was started when Mrs. Harris poured gasoline into a teakettle, believing the liquid was water. Mrs. Harris was burned on the hands and face, but the injuries were not believed serious.

The home and furnishings were destroyed, the family saving only the clothing its members were wearing when the fatal explosion occurred. Younger children are two girls, Quimby, 15, and Vietta, 7, and son, DeArmond, 9. They were uninjured.

HELD FOR SLAYING

ALAMAGORDO, N. Mex., Nov. 2. (AP)—Seth Tidwell, 25, of Pinon, New Mexico, charged with killing Lee Orndorff, jr., of El Paso, Oct. 21, while hunting on the O. M. Lee ranch, was bound over to the county grand jury today under $4,000 bond.

Stock Market Unable To Hold Early Gains And Slips Back Closing Lower

BY JOHN L. COOLEY

Associated Press Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 2. (AP)—The stock market was unable to hold early gains today, slipping back most of the afternoon to close irregularly lower. Bonds and grains forged ahead and in the foreign exchange market it was a big day for the dollar.

Wheat was again influenced by Russian reports to the effect that the Soviet would export no more wheat this year and none next. Final quotations at Chicago were 1 1-2 to 3 cents high. Cotton showed nominal losses.

Gains in United States government obligations and in investment bonds of other descriptions suggested that important buyers were not looking for firmer money. Because of the virtual cessation of gold exports and the decrease in circulation another increase in the federal reserve discount rate is hardly looked for in the immediate future. Furthermore, the demand for speculative credit probably will be light over the balance of the year, bankers believe.

Bridge War

$165,000 damage suit against Texas for alleged breach of contract, and then report back to him.

Governor Murray, who opened the free bridge last summer under martial law, made a characteristic defiant reply to Judge Pollock's statement. He has contended throughout the bridge controversy that "inferior federal courts" do not have authority to enforce orders when state martial law prevails.

"Yes," Murray said at Oklahoma City, "I admit the Oklahoma national guard is but a part of the United States army and, therefore, a part is less than the whole. But until the president of the United Sates gives the command, the national guard is under the direct and sole command of the chief executive of the state."

"Luckily, we have a congress with power to impeach for violating the plain provision of the United States constitution."

Judge Pollock added several caustic remarks about the manner in which the bridge war had been waged. "There is a lot of foolishness about this case," he said, "and I am getting tired of it. In the end, what is fair will have to be paid. I want this matter of what the Oklahoma or Texas highway commissions, or both, owe the bridge company, settled in court."

"There has been too much monkey work about it," the judge added. He explained after the hearing that federal troops had been used at Oklahoma City several years ago during a street car strike.

Proclamation

States of America, pursuant to said resolution, do hereby order that the flag of the United States be displayed on all government buildings on November 11, 1931, and do invite the people of the United States to observe the day in their churches and schools and other suitable places, with appropriate ceremonies, giving expression to our gratitude that peace exists and pledging ourselves to the effort to perpetuate the peace of the world and to cultivate relations of friendship and amity with all nations.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused to be affixed the seal of the United States.

"Done at the City of Washington this second day of November, in the year of our Lord, 1931, and of the independence of the United States of America the 156th.

"(Signed) Herbert Hoover."

MIDDLEWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 2. (AP) — Lamb values opened the week on a steady to 25 higher level with several loads of choice natives and fed westerns in Chicago at 6.50@6.75. Other markets reported best fed lambs within a range of 6.00@6.40. Range feeding lambs held generally steady with a spread of 4.00@4.75 taking the bulk. Receipts totalled 183,000 as compared with 191,007 last Monday.

Better grades of fed steers and yearlings carried a strong to 25 higher trend while others were generally steady. Three loads of fed steers in Chicago yealing 1243-1468 lbs. scored the day's top at 11.65. Best fed offerings elsewhere earned 10.00@11.25. Most of the better grade short fed steers at river markets made 7.00@8.50 with plain westerns down to 7.50. Stockers and feeders were steady to 25 higher at most markets with several centers reporting large receipts of stock calves. Most replacement steers brought 4.00@6.00, best grade yearling stockers at 6.00@7.00 and stock steer calves at 6.00@7.25. Around 304,700 cattle were reported at eleven markets against 132,575 last Monday.

Negro Is Sought In Fatal Affray

A negro known as General Jackson was being sought Monday night in connection with the fatal shooting of another negro identified as Louis Robinson near Acuff early Sunday morning.

Robinson's body was found about 3 a. m. Sunday in a road three miles northeast of Acuff and about a quarter of a mile from a shack in which Robinson and Jackson were reported to have had some trouble over money, which possibly had been stolen, early in the night. Robinson was shot at close range in the back of the neck, just left of the spine. Powder burns were found on the collar of the dead man's jumper-suit, County Attorney Vaughn E. Wilson said.

Witnesses told Wilson, Deputy Sheriff Will Earnest and Justice H. K. Porter, who investigated the shooting, that a white man apparently had dispelled ill feeling between Robinson and Jackson over money. Robinson was said to have left the shack after the dispute seemed settled. Jackson left about 11 p. m., purportedly for a dance. Four hours later the negroes heard three shots. A short time later, they said, Jackson returned, gathered his belongings and left. Investigating the shooting, the body was found.

criminal attack, was found in a gulley. She was dressed in the gay, native costume of an Apache girl, made for her by one of the squaws. She was believed to have been enroute to a tribal dance. Scores of Apaches were questioned. Many of them were shocked at the crime.

The confession killed a belief that Miss Schmerler might have paid with her life for curiosity over the secrets of the tribe, long notorious for the outrages practiced against those who aroused the ill feeling of the race.

When word of the arrest of Seymour spread among the Indians, many trekked to the jail at Globe. They displayed nothing but curiosity and officers said the gathering was friendly.

Whether Seymour would attempt to fight a charge of murder was not known.

Delegates Gather To Open Eastern Star Convention

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 2. (AP)—More than 3,000 delegates gathered here today for the triennial convention of the general grand chapter, Order of Eastern Star. A luncheon for general grand chapter officers past most worthy grand matrons and patrons was planned at noon.

As delegates registered during the morning, convention ceremonies and rituals were being rehearsed in municipal auditorium. Mrs. Emma P. Chadwick of Seattle, Wash, was in charge.

The grand chapter of Texas sponsored the noon luncheon. Miss Cora Posey, general secretary of Texas, was guest of honor at another luncheon by the grand chapter of Texas for the grand secretaries attending the convention.

Grand officers will be introduced to the delegates at tonight's meeting in municipal auditorium. Dr. Alfred C. McDaniel, past most worthy grand patron, will introduce the officers.

Man Drinks Poison After An Attempt To Commit Robbery

HEADRICK, Okla., Nov. 2. (AP)—Facing capture after he had robbed the Citizens State bank here today of $50, Sam Tinney, 45, Jackson county farmer, drank poison in a suicide attempt. At the county jail at Altus, where he was taken following arrest he was reported in a dangerous condition.

Tinney told officers he had planned the robbery in order to get money with which to pay his debts. His wife and children have been picking cotton, he said.

Basis carloads delivered Texas group three: Oats, No. 2 red 25@26.

NEWS BRIEFS

October fire loss in Lubbock was slight, with only eight blazes during the month, fire department records show. One fire was of incendiary origin and an explosion preceded another blaze in which a man was burned fatally. Other conflagrations were in two automobiles, a mill, a gin, a candy kitchen, a church annex, a vacant house and a small cabinet shop.

A. F. Woods, Lubbock optometrist, convicted in corporation court and fined $100 for erecting and maintaining a swinging sign-board on the Cotton Exchange building, Monday appealed the conviction to county court. The Cotton Exchange building is located at Texas avenue and Thirteenth street.

Approximately 10,000 bales of cotton changed hands on the Lubbock market last week-end, reports indicate. Staple of cotton placed on the market here is showing a marked improvement, buyers say. Much of the lint measures 7-8 or better. Reports indicate that all sections of the South Plains and Lubbock territory ginned record amounts of cotton last week.

United States court, Lubbock division of the Northern District of Texas, will be opened here December 14, according to Mrs. Oliver Fluke, U. S., deputy clerk. Judge W. H. Atwell of Dallas will be in charge.

Members of the Knights of Pythias lodge, No. 486, are entertaining Tuesday night with a dance for their wives and friends. The dance begins at 8 o'clock at the Knights of Pythias hall 1320 1-2 Texas ave. Green brothers' orchestra will play. In charge of arrangements are Riley F. Huie, J. B. Morrisett, D. G. Ridge.

J. M. Hogg, 40, of Lorenzo injured Saturday night when struck by an automobile as he was repairing a flat, remained in a critical condition late Monday at the Lubbock sanitarium, attendants said. He suffered a fractured pelvis.

Railway Suit

ed to date to pay the reparations.

Under the terms of the commission's order, the reparations were to have been paid by Oct. 26 1931. The suit will come up for hearing at the January term of court.

Fifty Per Cent Is Asked In This Area

Fully 50 per cent of the $300,000 sought in a petition filed against the Santa Fe and nine other railroads at Dallas Monday is asked by South Plains coal dealers, it was estimated here Monday night.

The fight, which brought ordered reductions in the coal rates from four coal-producing areas in Colorado and New Mexico, was taken to the Interstate Commerce Commission after the move was initiated by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in 1925.

Effective In June

The new rates went into effect June, 1930, and have saved thousands of dollars to coal dealers and users in the South Plains since that time. On lump coal shipped to Lubbock, the ICC ordered reductions as follows: From group 1, the Trinidad district, and group 2, the Raton-Dawson district, from $5.35 to $4; from group 3, the Walsenburg district, and group 4, the Canon City area, from $5.60 to $4.25. Reductions were made also on other coals.

Fully 82 per cent of the coal shipped into the section comes from the Walsenburg district, it is estimated.

Ruling Retroactive

The ICC ruling was retroactive in that coal dealers in the original complaint were given reparations from the railroads for coal shipped since October 11, 1925. Lubbock dealers joining in the original complaint were Higginbotham-Bartlett, Economy Mills, Jackson Bros., Peoples Ice Co., Lubbock Grain and Coal Co., and Thomas Grain Co. The last named two firms are not in buisness now.

Others Included

The benefits, however, were to include other coal dealers in the areas. Consignees receiving coal from the territory of origin and destined to points involved in the complaint were eligible to a refund of charges paid by filing a formal complaint in their own name, the retroactive period to date back to two years preceding the filing of the individual's complaint.

The decision was given April 25, 1930, following a hearing April 23, 1928, at Plainview. It affected a territory roughly estimated at 47,000 square miles. Albert L. Reed of the firm Callaway and Reed represented the coal shippers.

Dried fruit shipments by sea from San Francisco and Los Angeles harbors nearly doubled this fall as compared to a year ago.

Student Dies After Mishap

Nine Other Boys And Girls In Small Car Receive Various Hurts As Machine Overturns At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Nov. 2. (AP) — Overturning of a two passenger car on highway No. 1 one mile east of here yesterday resulted fatally for A. B. Chambers, jr., 14-year-old high school boy, and bruises for nine other boys and girls who were riding inside or clinging to the outside of the car.

Eight of the ten children were members of the "Worry Wart" social club of Sweetwater, and were taking a drive in the hour between Sunday school and church. The car was owned by Mrs. Sam Goldman, San Angelo, and driven by her daughter, Jimmie Lou, who was visiting her grandparents in Sweetwater. In the front seat with her were Mary Jane Dulaney, Billie Wilkinson and Martha Jane Majors of Colorado. On the outside were A. B. Chambers, jr., N. B. Hall, jr., David Bryant, Carl McCall, Otto Carter, jr., and John Henson.

The car skidded on soft earth while attempting a turn, and turned over three times. The children, even those inside the machine, were thrown clear and a motorist who was following in his car said "it seemed to be raining children." Young Chambers was able to walk away without assistance, but soon sank into unconsciousness, dying in a hospital here at one p. m. today.

Prominence of the children's parents and circumstances of the Sabbath morning rendezvous cast a pall over Sweetwater Sunday.

Three R's

"There is an entirely different idea in mind when the co-ed plans her wardrobe from that that the eastern woman's college girl has," she asserted.

"At co-educational colleges girls dress for the men all the time and use make-up all the time. They go with more or less the same group of people all the time and are seen in more or less the same setting. So their idea is to get as many changes of costume as possible for the money they have, so they can look 'different.'

"Girls in women's colleges wear just any old tweed skirt and sweater blouse around the campus, week days and then put all their money into one or two knock-'em-dead outfits for week-ends when they go to football games and house parties. They use no make-up during the week, but week-ends make up for lost time! They go to Yale one week, Harvard the next, Princeton the next, and so they can wear that one perfect week-end wardrobe over and over again and gain a reputation for being tremendously chic and well-dressed.

"There is a further difference in the attitude in the two types of colleges," Miss Lee continued. "In co-educational places there is a strong competition for clothes that eastern women's colleges lack entirely. Fur coats and diamond rings talk in the mid-western universities. At the women's colleges, even the richest girls are not distinguishable from those attending on scholarships. For millionaire daughters leave their jewels in the family vault when they go to college and would never dream of taking their ermine coats to the college campus. There really is much more genuine democracy, it seems to me, in the exclusive women's colleges in the effete east than in the mid-western universities."

This same holds true of social competition, Miss Lee believes. "I think the sororities are responsible for many a broken heart," she told me. "A girl's entire college life is greatly affected by whether or not she makes a sorority, and the one she wants to make. In a woman's college, a girl has more chance to stand on her own personality, without being classified as a member of this or that group."

However co-education has many advantages, in Miss Lee's opinion.

"Co-educational universities certainly are more normal in the way they bring men and girls together on the campus daily. When the men are around all the time, week-end parties do not loom so important as they do to the girl who has no mixed social life except when she gets away from the college. Moreover, I think that a much larger percentage of girls in the universities have a chance to go socially than girls in a woman's college. Co-education gives girls a much better balanced existence."

Wheat Prices

that Russia would export no more wheat this year nor next was denied through Berlin.

Behind the advance in prices lies a cognizance of the world trend toward reduced acreage, semi-failure of the American and Canadian spring wheat crops, reduced export stocks in Argentina and Australia, unsatisfactory crops in continental Europe and a reduction of 16,000,000 bushels in the world's visible supply.

Much comment was heard that the farm board may have reduced its holding more rapidly than generally believed. Recent pickup in North American exports and simultaneous declines in shipments from Russia and the Danubian countries were emphasized.

Holiday Revelers And Detectives In Chase; Big Black Bear Very Elusive

HOUSTON, Nov. 2. (AP)—A shouting band of post holiday revelers and a squad of city detectives pursued a big black bear over much of Houston's south end yesterday and finally killed the animal.

The bear had been on display in a suburban filling station. The droll idea of loosing him occurred to some one at about 3 a. m. yesterday.

Several hours the detectives, joined by an enthusiastic and ever-growing group of volunteers, chased the bear over fences, atop roofs and even into trees.

Somewhat handicapped by having, periodically, to reassure or otherwise attend some of their helpers, the detectives had a long fight of it, one of them, Henry Bradshaw, being severely bitten before th animal was dispatched.

One celebrant went alone onto a roof after the bear and lassoed him with a bit of wire. The bear jumped down but fortunately the wire broke.

Another, climbing a tree after the bear, fell and detectives had to pursue him several blocks to assure him the bear really did not have him.

Homicide Case Heard In City

Trial Of Hotel Manager Opens Monday; Jury Is Completed And State Witness Appears At First Session

Trial of C. A. Sheffield, local hotel manager, charged with negligent homicide in connection with the death of Palima Kelly here April 25, this year, was begun in county court Monday afternoon. Miss Kelly, 16, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile driven by Sheffield, the accident occurring at the north end of the Avenue H underpass.

The jury was completed and one state witness heard before Judge E. L. Pitts adjourned court Monday. Mrs. Bessie Bessent, the witness, testified she saw the accident. She said she and her husband took the injured girl in another person's car to the Lubbock sanitarium where physicians pronounced Miss Kelly dead.

Floyd Ward, 23, was injured seriously in the accident. Sheffield shortly after the accident said he was forced to swerve to the left to avoid striking a parked truck with a trailer and that Ward and Miss Kelly stepped into the path of the automobile. He stopped and rendered aid.

Jurors are: J. J. Garland, F. Henry, George Moritz, W. V. Brown, J. T. Lee, and C. A. Bennett.

Fierro Acclaimed As New Governor

EL PASO, Nov. 2. (AP)—The El Paso Times was advised yesterday that Col. Roberto Fierro, Mexican flying idol arrived in Chihuahua City, Chihuahua, and was acclaimed by thousands as the new governor of the state.

Reports Saturday night said Governor Andres Ortiz resigned because of political pressure and his resignation was accepted by President Ortiz Rubio.

Col. Fierro flew to Chihuahua City from Mexico City in his plane, the Anahuac, in which he made a non-stop flight from New York City to Mexico City. He sought to address the masses but his voice was not heard above the cheering and pealing of bells.

Farmer-Labor Group Talked

Candidate For Governor Next Year Visits Lubbock; Seeks To Organize Branch Of His Party In Area

Farmer-Labor candidate for governor of Texas in 1932, J. M. Barron of Waco is in Lubbock to organize a local branch of his party. He arrived Friday and expects to remain here through this week.

Organization of Texas farmers into cooperative groups and of workers into labor unions is a major object of the Farmer-Labor party in this state, Barron said.

Echoing the sentiments of William ("Alfalfa Bill") Murray, governor of Oklahoma, the Farmer-Labor gubernatorial candidate declares in colored circulars that a Texas governor "can use the militia in the interests of the working class as well as the wealthy" and adds that "none has ever had the nerve to do so."

Wounded three times and gassed twice, Barron has served in the United States navy and the Canadian and United States armies, and has received seven war medals, according to Farmer-Labor reports.

Groups to support him have been organized at Houston, Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth, Corpus Christi, and Brownsville, and some work has been done in Amarillo and Plainview, Barron said.

The high school building at Tahoka, Tex., is outside the city limits on what was once part of the famous T-Bar ranch.

ORGANIZE NEW SOCIETY

Members of the Tech chapter of Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national geology fraternity, are planning the organization of a geology society which their group will sponsor.

Rules of the new club will not be very strict and anyone interested in geology will be eligible for membership. Organization will probably be completed within the next two weeks, Morgan Gist, president of the fraternity, announces.

MILLAY PROGRAM THEME

The works of Edna St. Vincent Millay are to be the feature of the program presented at the meeting of the Sock and Buskin club tonight. Expression students will be in charge.

New pledges of the dramatic club are to wear masks while on the campus today and are requested to bring their initiation and membership fees with them to the meeting tonight, at 7:30.

TO HAVE HIKE, PICNIC

Tech students who are members of the First Presbyterian Sunday school and young people's group are to have a hike this afternoon, directed by Mary Evelyn Gordon's group.

Those going are asked to meet at the church at 5:30 and anyone not wishing to hike will be given a ride. The affair will be over in time to get home to study, Miss Virginia McLean, educational director, said.

Miss Gordon and Ruth Reed are in charge of refreshment plans.

RESUMES TEACHING

Elmer Moore has returned to Olton to resume teaching after a recess for cotton picking.

LATIN CLUB MEETS

Dr. A. L. Carter, head of the English department, will speak to the Latin club tonight on the relation of Latin to English and on the Roman alphabet.

Old and new members and visitors are invited to hear Dr. Carter. The meeting is to begin at 7:30 and there will be a social and business hour, presided over by Agnes Klein, S. P. Q. R. president.

TEACHER IS BETTER

Carl Lars Svenson, who has been quite ill since an operation more than a week ago, continues to improve, it is reported.

LEWIS TO TALK

Prof. Ralph E. Lewis will speak at a meeting of A. S. M. E. tonight on the subect of "Fatigue of Metals."

Freshmen and sophomore mechanical and textile engineering students are especially urged to be present. The meeting begins at 7 o'clock. Refreshments will be served.

GIVE MID-TERM

Mid-term examinations are being given this week in order to have reports on students' work into the registrar's office by November 10.

Mid-term reports will be ready November 16, showing whether a student's work is satisfactory, unsatisfactory, or failing. Copies of these will be available to students and will also be mailed to parents and guardians from the office of E. L. Dohoney, registrar.

STUDY NURSING

Two girls who were freshmen last year are now enrolled in the Lubbock Sanitarium's training school for nurses. They are Louise Cornwell of Ralls and Jewell Smith of Slaton.

STUDY AGE OF LAKES

The class in structural geology is conducting a series of experiments to determine the age of lake basins in the surrounding territory. The tests are made by taking cores of soil and studying the various formations, much as a botanist studies the annual rings on a tree trunk to estimate the paint's age.

One field trip has been made by the class to Double Lakes, near Tahoka. The experiment will be completed in approximately a month.

VISIT AT HOME

Jewell Laney, a senior chemistry major, spent the past week end visiting her parents in Hereford. Rebecca Goodloe, freshman, went to her home in Lamesa.

TEACHES

Delmar Criswell, '29, visited here during the week end. He is now teaching at Moran and also studying the geology of that region. Porter Pierce, Clarendon, was another former student who visited friends here. He is working in Canyon.

GEOLOGISTS MEET

Sigma Gamma Epsilon is to hold a regular meeting tonight and members are urged to attend. Plans will be discussed for a smoker to be given soon in honor of pledges to the fraternity.

GOES HOME

Max Jackson of Carbon, who registered for freshman work in the liberal arts school, has withdrawn and returned home.

VISITS DORMITORY

Mrs. J. C. Douglas and son, J. C., Jr., of Big Spring were week end guests at College Inn, visiting Frances Douglas. Miss Ethel Vandergriff, who teaches in Big Spring high school, also came to visit her sister, Dorothy, and her mother, who is dietician at the dormitory.

Mrs. A. M. Brownfield of Brownfield was the guest of her daughter, Lenore, Monday.

Glamour Of Old Sewanee Is Endangered; Drouth Now Is Affecting Georgia Stream

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 2. (AP)—The glamour of the Sewanee river is endangered.

B. M. Lufburrow, Georgia state forester, says drouth has affected its flow and it is gradually drying up.

Further than that, the beauty of the surroundings of the stream, lauded in song and story, is imperilled by forest fires sweeping across extreme Southern Georgia.

The forrester said numerous creeks and wells in South Georgia already had gone dry as a result of the lack of rainfall.

AUSTIN, Nov. 2. (AP) — Marvin Moore, 17, of Waco, died last night of injuries received when he fell from a truck on the highway near Elgin. He was a son of M. C. Moore of Waco.

Completion Of Slab Work On Highway Nine Expected Today

But 1,600 feet of slab remained to be poured at 10 o'clock Monday morning, Guy R. Johnston, division construction engineer, said in announcing the near completion of slab work on No. 9 between Lubbock and the Lynn county line.

"Barring an unexpected delay, we should finish the slab by Tuesday noon," he said. "I think that the entire highway will be open for traffic by Monday, November 16."

The slab is now open as far north as Woodrow. Three additional miles has had the earth top removed, but traffic has not been turned into this.

Merchants Report Big Monday Sales

Lubbock business men last night were rejoicing over the success of the monthly "Dollar Day," Monday and also the business on Saturday.

Stores reported the largest crowds and sales in many months. All day yesterday the stores were filled with buyers and in the later afternoon the crowds taxed the abilities of the clerical forces to handle them.

Parking space was at a premium during the day as people from out of town came in large numbers.

Merchants said that the crowds were apparently out to buy. Sales were good and the attractions of the special offers of Dollar day, as announced Sunday in the Avalanche-Journal, drew many people.

Actual steam is not visible.

Local Officials Attend Meeting

Tom Garrard, attorney and member of the state board of education and G. E. Lockhart, member of the state legislature and partner of Mr. Garrard, expect to go to San Antonio the first of next week for a meeting of the state board and the state P.-T. A. with Secretary Ray Lyman Wilbur of the federal department of the interior.

The meetings will be held November 11 and 12 and besides the two groups, the state committee on illiteracy is to meet. Mr. Garrard is a member of the committee on illiteracy.

"The secretary of the interior is to meet with the committee on illiteracy," Mr. Garrard said. "The State P.-T. A. is meeting in San Antonio and they have asked the state board to meet with them.

"Secretary Wilbur is to be the guest at a banquet Wednesday night."

Three mighty good reasons!

"MILDER"—smoke as many as you like! That's what every Chesterfield smoker knows...and it's not hard to prove, either. Just try this blend of milder, riper tobaccos!

"TASTE BETTER"—you'll like as many as you smoke! That's what more smokers are learning every day. Not over-sweetened, but just sweet enough for constant enjoyment. The mild, rich flavor of the finest Turkish and Domestic tobaccos.

"THEY SATISFY"—in every way! The tobacco, the paper, the package...everything about Chesterfield is the best that money can buy or that science knows about!

GOOD...they've got to be good!
