ATE BROTHER'S BUGS—Tim Kendrick, 21-months-old, sits with his mother, Mrs. John Kendrick, after he ate his brother's collection of dried bugs which were to have been submitted as a school project. The collector, Clifton, had spent more than a month assembling the collection. The Milwaukee Public Museum is sending the elder Kendrick youth a new collection which he hopes he will get before his little brother lays his hands on it. Pirates Win Opener, 6-4

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates scored three runs on three hits in the first inning, added two more on Bill Mazeroski's homer in the fourth, and whipped the New York Yankees, 6-4 today in the opening game of the World Series.

Spectacular relief pitching by Elroy Face in the eighth inning and three double plays saved the victory for starter Vernon Law and the Pirates. The Yankes rallied for two runs in the ninth on Gil McDougald's single and pinch-hitter Elston Howard's homer but a double play started by Mazeroski ended the game. Mazeroski, a stickout at bat and in the field, figured in all three double plays.

A capacity crowd of 38,000 in Forbes Field saw the Pirates knock Yank starter Art Ditmar out of the game in the first inning on three hits, a walk, Yogi Berra's throwing error and two stolen bases for a 3-1 margin. Roger Maris had homered off Vernon Law with two out in the Yank half of the first.

A double by Dick Groat, the National League's top hitter, and singles by Bob Skinner and Roberto Clemente drove in the Pirates' first inning runs.

The Yanks tightened the game in the fourth, scoring a run on singles by Maris, a walk to Mickey Mantle and Bill Skowron's single.

Jim Coats, who had relieved Ditmar, was Mazeroski's victim in the fourth. Don Hoak walked and then came home on Mazeroski's blast over the scoreboard in left field, well past the 365-foot marker.

Session For Merchants Set Thursday

A meeting of Snyder retail merchants has been scheduled for Thursday morning to discuss proposals for several activities.

The session, which has been arranged by the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, will be held at 8 a.m. at the 66 Cafe.

Proposals on promotions, store hours and holidays will be presented for discussion.

A proposal that local stores remain open until 8 p.m. on Mondays, beginning with November Dollar Day (first Monday) will be submitted.

Also a holiday schedule for 1961 including New Years Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas, will be proposed.

For Dollar Days, a proposal will be advanced for merchants to offer specials in addition to "Regular specials" with prices to be good from 6 to 8 p.m. only.

Christmas activities, and 1961 promotions also will be discussed. Some proposals include a "13th Dollar Day" for the Monday after Christmas, an "Honest George Day," Easter promotions, back-to-school, and continuation of Dollar Day.

All retail merchants in the city have been urged to attend the session.

FIVE-WAY SCRAMBLE IS HIGHLIGHT OF CONTEST

A five-way muddle developed in the Snyder News Football Contest of the week just past, as a quintet of contestants missed four each to tie for the top spot.

The winners, each of whom will receive a one-fifth share of the combined first and second place prize money of $12.50, include Kemp McMillan, Box 494; Dan Cotton, 3774 Dalton Dr.; John D. Burnett, 1817 25th Street; and Luanne Presley and Nancy Johnson, both of 1910 Coleman.

The latter two entrants, both of whom teach in the Snyder School System, were alike on three of their misses — Odessa Ector's upset loss to Lake View, Sweetwater "B" in its loss to Snyder "B", and Ira's surprise licking at the hands of Highland—but differed on the other. Miss Presley erroneously picked Hardin-Simmons to down Tulsa and Miss Johnson figured Brownfield to get the nod over Lamesa, neither of which materialized.

All five contestants drew blanks on the Ira-Highland and Ector-Lake View contests. Ira, undefeated until the Friday past, fell by a 41-33 count, while Lake View rose up to eke out Ector by 24-18.

A near miscarriage of justice transpired last week when the announcement was made that the second place prize money would be carried over and applied on the following week's contest due to a two-way tie for second. We boo-booed. Since there were only two deadlocked for the spot—Miss Presley and Mrs. Jack Longbotham—the prize money was divided between them.

The contest for the upcoming week may be found elsewhere in today's edition.

Nehru Works For Summit

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Australia kicked off a blistering counterattack today against Premier Khrushchev, denouncing him as a hypocrite and appealing to newly independent nations to beware of becoming pawns in an international game.

The counterattack came in a speech prepared for the U. N. General Assembly's policy debate by Australian Prime Minister Gordon Menzies, as the Assembly pondered a neutralist drive pressing President Eisenhower and the Soviet leader to meet again face-to-face.

Prime Minister Nehru of India is attempting to apply all the persuasion of his powerful voice to rally Asian, African and other support behind the two-man summit proposal, despite the distaste for the idea expressed by both the U. S. President and the Soviet premier.

Britain's Prime Minister Macmillan, who had a 90-minute talk with Khrushchev Tuesday, is pictured as trying to prepare the way for a Big Four meeting in the spring, possibly in Geneva. Khrushchev is said to want one in January or February, after Eisenhower is out of office.

Menzies accused Khrushchev of attempting to inflame leaders of emerging independent African nations with worn-out slogans about imperialism and colonialism.

Menzies, who saw President Eisenhower over the weekend, pictured the President as intent upon baiking any Communist attempt to envelop the new African states in their own sphere of influence.

"He (the President) said in effect, and I most respectfully agree," said Menzies, "that we are not to look at our new colleagues as if they were voters to be collected or as pawns in a vast international game, but as independent, coequal and free."

The Soviet Union has appealed to former colonial areas with a proposal that the United Nations recommend immediate freedom to all dependent areas at once. Menzies commented tartly:

"I venture to say it is an act of complete hypocrisy for a Communist leader to denounce colonialism as if it were an evil characteristic of the Western powers, when the facts are that the greatest colonial power now existing is the Soviet Union itself."

Menzies said he was shocked at evidence that there were those at the United Nations who "appear to believe that by threats of aggression, by violent propaganda, by actual conquest, if necessary, they will extend the substance of their material wealth and the boundaries of their economic influence."

The Menzies attack was the strongest yet mounted against the Communists by any representative of the non-Communist world. It came in the midst of talk about new East-West approaches toward a climate for negotiation.

Debate on the neutralist resolution coincided with increasing discussion among delegates about another summit conference, possibly next spring. An Australian amendment urging a Big Four meeting—but without specifying the time—also is on the docket for the General Assembly today.

Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan discussed it with Khrushchev Tuesday in a private conference lasting 75 minutes.

The New York Herald Tribune reported that Macmillan and Khrushchev prepared the ground for a spring Big Four summit meeting, possibly in Geneva. Khrushchev reportedly wanted the meeting in January or February, immediately after Eisenhower's successor is inaugurated. But Macmillan argued that the new president should have more time to settle into his new office, the newspaper said.

A British spokesman confirmed that Khrushchev and Macmillan had touched on the possibility of a meeting between Khrushchev and the next American president next year, along with "disarmament and how to get on with it," the Berlin question and matters before the General Assembly.

Conviction Of Saunders Is Reversed

AUSTIN (AP)—The Court of Criminal Appeals in a split decision reversed today the perjury conviction of J. Byron Saunders, former chairman of the State Board of Insurance.

Judge W. A. Morrison wrote the majority opinion in which Judge Lloyd Davidson concurred. Judge K. K. Woodley dissented.

Saunders' conviction in Austin resulted from testimony the Tyler lawyer gave before a legislative committee investigating the state insurance scandals in the mid-1950s.

Saunders' lawyer, John Cofer, had challenged the authority of the legislative committee to investigate specific charges against an individual.

The opinion could have far-reaching effect on legislative investigations, such as the extensive hearings into the conduct of State Insurance Commission affairs after a series of spectacular company collapses.

Saunders, former chairman of the insurance commission, had been sentenced to two years for lying to an investigating committee which was probing insurance scandals, particularly the defunct ICT insurance complex of Ben Jack Cage.

Cofer's contention was that the legislature could set up committees to study the need for insurance reform but that a witness who took a voluntary oath could not be convicted of perjury on a specific question.

This is the first time a man has been convicted of perjury arising out of testimony before a legislative committee anywhere in the United States, Cofer told the court last June.

Saunders was convicted out of testimony March 15, 1957 to a House committee about an oil lease deal between Saunders and Cage. The state labeled him a man "caught with his hand in the cookie jar."

Saunders told the Legislators he got $7,000 in monthly payments in return for oil rights to 47 acres of Wood County land. State evidence showed the payment checks were marked "attorney's fees" or "retainer."

David McAngus, assistant district attorney, told the court in oral arguments that the Texas statutes providing for false swearing convictions closely parallel the federal law.

He said the committee was delegated its powers by a resolution passed by the House. McAngus said Committee Chairman Scott McDonald had proper authority to swear the witness.

"The legislature is all powerful. The Constitution only restricts the Legislature," McAngus said.

Search Continues For Crash Victims

BOSTON (AP) — Investigators probed the wreckage of a four-engine Eastern Airlines transport today as search continued for more victims of New England's worst air crash. Only 11 of the big airliner's 72 occupants survived.

The plane plunged into a narrow harbor bay between Logan Airport and the town of Winthrop just after takeoff last evening. The huge craft split in two and sank in comparatively shallow water. Most of the passengers were trapped in their seats.

Some of the dead floated to the surface like corks. There was a scene of horror in the setting sun as lifeless bodies strapped to seats drifted toward the muddy shore at low tide.

Lighters lifted the broken plane parts to the surface today, and skindivers resumed the search for possibly 10 more bodies.

There were 51 bodies in the Boston mortuary, 48 of which were identified. All eleven survivors, including the plane's two stewardesses, were in hospitals. Many were in critical condition.

A mysterious "secret document" reported as missing was found floating in debris in a portfolio. State police said it was carried by a representative of the Air Force. It was turned over to the Air Force Office of Special Investigation.

The Electra's plunge was the second crackup involving this type of plane within three weeks and brought demands for an investigation. It also was the first fatal crash of a commercial plane at the airport.

Indictments Are Returned

The grand jury returned 15 indictments this morning in 132nd District Court including two for assault with intent to commit murder.

James Taylor, Jr. was indicted for "assault with intent" upon the person of Luther Tucker. Tucker was beaten in an altercation at Taylor's Cafe in the 3500 block of Avenue M in late August and Taylor was shot in the leg. Taylor is out on $1,000 bond.

Bill Ernest James of Snyder was indicted for burglary and if convicted will be sentenced as an habitual criminal having two previous convictions, both in 132nd District Court, one for robbery by assault in 1952 and one for forgery in 1958. James is in custody in county jail.

Also in custody in county jail is Jack DeWayne Carr of Lubbock indicted for second offense DWI.

Those with suspects not yet in custody include one assault with intent to murder, 11 charges of theft and one of swindling with a worthless check.

Absentee Vote Total Is 164

Absentee voting for the liquor election to be held Saturday closed Tuesday with County Clerk Dan Cotton reporting a "very good turnout for this time of year" with 164 ballots being cast. Only 127 absentee votes were cast in the county wide liquor election in May of 1954.

Johnny Joe Pitner, Billy Joe Brown and Jack Gorman were appointed absentee voting judges for the election by the Scurry County Commissioners Court.

With three judges of the four voting boxes which include the voters in the city limits of Snyder not being qualified voters in the election, by reason of having their residences outside the city, three judges for the election were appointed by the commissioners. Appointees were T. A. Faver for Box 1, Northeast Snyder; J. E. Lemood for Box 17, Northwest Snyder; and Simon Best for Box 20, Southeast Snyder. Judge for Box 18, Southwest Snyder, Bob Crowell, lives in Snyder.

Voters will cast their votes at the regular polling places in the courthouse, Northeast Snyder in the sheriff's office in the basement, Northwest Snyder in the county superintendent's office on the main floor, Southwest Snyder in the Commissioners Court room on the main floor, and Southeast Snyder in the office of the justice of the peace in the basement.

Ballot Order Determined

Political parties will be listed on the general election ballot in November exactly as they came from Austin, the election board announced today.

Places were drawn for Tuesday by the county clerk, the county judge and the sheriff with representatives from the Democrats and Republicans present.

First spot will go to the Democrats with Republican, Constitution, Prohibition, and Write-in following that order.

Frank Wilson, Scurry County Democratic Chairman, and Bob McAlister, representing the GOP in the county, were present for the drawing.

Regine Says Outlook Good

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration today held to its claim that the business outlook is good despite a sharp cutback in anticipated revenues.

The reduction, almost wholly in corporation income taxes, combined with a rise in government spending to slash from $4.2 billion to $1.1 billion the administration's estimate of the treasury surplus expected at the end of the current fiscal year.

Budget Director Maurice H. Stans announced the revised estimate Tuesday. The government usually reviews its budget figures after Congress adjourns, but this year its report plopped into the middle of a presidential election campaign in which the present and future of the nation's economy is an issue.

Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the Republican candidate, has insisted it is healthy and progressing. Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic contender, has repeatedly argued it's not growing fast enough.

Stans said the economy is now operating at a high level. He anticipated a perhaps better than usual pickup in business for the last three months of this year and said government and other economists are expressing no alarm about the first two quarters of next year.

That would round out the fiscal year, which ends next June 30.

"I might add," Stand said at a news conference, "that a continuation of this outlook depends on the right kind of public policy next year."

For the 1960-61 fiscal year, the Budget Bureau gave these new estimates:

Receipts, $81.5 billion, down $2.5 billion from the originally expected $84 billion; expenditures, $80.4 billion, up $600 million from the original $79.8 billion; new spending authority voted by Congress, $82 billion, up $2.6 billion from the original $79.4 billion.

President Eisenhower announced the previous estimates when he sent his budget recommendation to Congress last January. He suggested then that all the surplus be used to reduce the national debt, which now totals about $289 billion.

Stans said the democratic-controlled Congress boosted expenditures and reduced government income by about $2 billion. Part of this will be offset by trimming expenditures in some federal programs, he said.

In particular, Stans noted that Congress spurned an Eisenhower recommendation to raise postal rates and enacted a pay raise for federal workers over the President's veto.

A drop in corporation profits from the administration's rosy forecast of $51 billion in January accounted for 80 per cent of the downward revision in estimated revenue. The Treasury now puts the figure at $47 billion, same as last year's record.

HUGE PEP RALLY SLATED THURSDAY

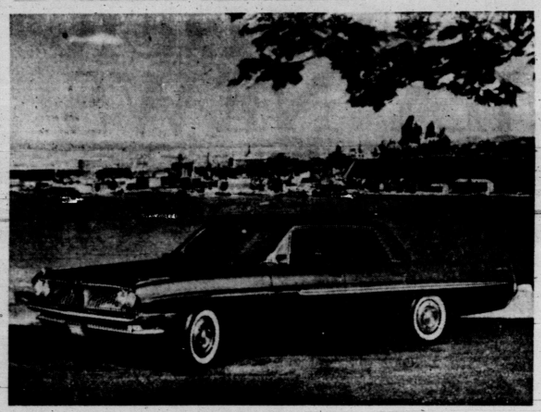

High school students and others interested in the school athletic program will attempt to spread "football fever" with a downtown pep rally Thursday afternoon, it was announced this morning.

T. D. Wiman Jr., high school principal, said the rally will be staged at 5:15 p.m. tomorrow on the courthouse square. The band, along with hundreds of students will be on hand, and all area residents are being urged to turn out, Wiman said.

On the following evening, the Snyder High School Tigers will meet the Breckenridge Buckaroos in Tiger Stadium.

MOST POPULAR PONTIAC BODY STYLE—The rakish four-door Vista hardtop is more beautiful than ever in the new 1961 Bonneville series. Curving windshield pillars, a slim line roof and crisply defined side windows create a new custom appeal.

'61 Pontiacs Will Be Shown By Dealer Here Tomorrow

The new Pontiac automobiles for 1961 will go on display here tomorrow at Pat Buick-Pontiac, located on the East Highway.

"Pontiac for 1961 has combined dynamic new styling concepts with significant engineering advances to present the most exciting new car in its 33-year history," said S. E. Knudsen, General Motors vice president and Pontiac Motor Division general manager, in announcing Pontiac's new line of automobiles.

"Fifteen new eye-appealing models in four versatile series are precision designed to set new standards in car beauty, reliability, performance, and motoring comfort," Knudsen declared. "With this new line we intend to strengthen our position of leadership in the medium price field."

The new Pontiac is as much as 9 inch lower, four inches shorter, and 2.5 inches narrower, Knudsen revealed yet important passenger compartment dimensions have been improved. Pontiac's famous wide track design, prevailing in each series, is also proportionately increased.

Knudsen also cited a new perimeter frame, new front and rear suspension systems, and a lighter weight, more efficient V-8 engine among the car's completely new engineering features.

Pontiac's dynamic new styling approach for 1961 conveys an overall impression of distinguished simplicity and unmistakable identity.

Accentuating the wide, low front end appearance is an expansive hood, channeled on either side of its centerline, which tapers forward with narrow fenders to meet a dominant twin grille of three dimensional design. Each grille houses dual headlamps and an impressive two bar type ground bumper add further prominence to the front end design.

Long sweeping sculptured lines highlight the side view. A central jet-like boom mounting a tasteful chrome moulding, gracefully spans the entire length of the car. A channeled surface on the boom centerline provides an ideal location for series designations.

A unique bumper design, attractively integrated with the body distinguishes a sharply profiled rear end. Sweeping abruptly upward to cap the rear fenders, the bumper frames a low, rearward slanting truck lid and a narrow panel containing tail lamps and Pontiac or series name. Bonnevilles and Star Chiefs feature three matching tail lamps of circular design while Catalinas and Venturas are equipped with an oval shaped, dual bulb lamp. Safari tail lamps are integral with the chrome rear fender caps.

Curving pillars framing a generous Vista-Panoramic windshield combine with the sharper lines of the side windows and rakish, slimline roof to create a new custom appeal. The new design eliminates the windshield corner extension on all models and the triangular rear side window on four-door sedans.

Enhancing the new car's exterior styling appeal is a dazzling array of Magic-Mirror finishes. The brilliant, highly durable acrylic lacquer is available in 15 solid colors and 57 two-tone combinations. Harmonizing with exterior colors are 88 interior trim combinations in beautiful Jeweltone Morrokide, nylon faced and wool pattern cloths, and genuine leather.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The city traffic department has established scientifically a fact which nearly every male driver will claim he has known for years. A man can park a car faster than a woman can.

The department's manager, S. S. Taylor, bravely announced Tuesday the results of stop-watch tests. The average man, he said, inches into a parking space in 28.7 seconds. The average woman in 37.4 seconds.

Sammy Boulmetis, 33-year-old jockey, has been riding at 100 pounds, including four and a half pounds of equipment.

THE SENSIBLE WAY FOR SNYDER

. . . Is Legal Sales And Local Control

We are most appreciative for the serious and favorable response to our recommendations to rid our community of what mistakenly has been called Prohibition with a system of Legal Sales and Local Control of alcoholic beverages.

Even the most prejudiced individuals must admit they know of no better enforcement program.

NEW, TOUGH, STATE LAW . . .

. . . gives the City of Snyder itself BROAD AUTHORITY to regulate and control off-premise sales. Our City can determine, through zoning restrictions, WHERE legal sales areas may be located and by ordinance regulate HOW they can operate.

These safeguards were NOT possible until recently. They ARE now.

Our choice under the age-old democratic rights of petition and referendum, was to ask for an election for the legal sale of licensed beverages for off-premis consumption only.

THIS MEANS you must carry your purchases with you; you CANNOT drink where you buy. There will be NO honky-tonks or taverns.

As sensible, fair-minded voters, don't be misled by professional "Dry" propaganda tactics. Stick with the facts.

Let's Vote For A Sensible . . . Workable Plan — a BETTER plan.

LEGAL SALES AND LOCAL CONTROL . . .

For off-premise consumption only in the City of Snyder.

Fairy Godmother Enables Children Fulltime Theater

BY LEIF ERICKSON

PALO ALTO, Calif. (AP)—There is a bit of ham in every child.

And because a generous widow delighted in playing fairy godmother, youngsters here can act to their heart's content — in a real theater, with lights, settings and costumes.

Twenty-four years ago Mr. Lucie Alto Stern gave the kids of Palo Alto their own theater building, a handsome and professionally equipped structure that now would cost between $200,000 and $300,000 to replace.

Today it is the country's only tax-supported children's theater, running 12 months a year in its own building, a 208-seat house scaled to young dimensions.

The broad program of juvenile theater arts has become so much a part of youngsters' lives that people here seem to take for granted a children's theater enterprise that is unique in the nation.

City Helps Out

The theater's budget runs about $25,000 a year. Class registration fees of $1 or less and the box office (at 30 cents for children and 50 cents for adults) produce about $5,000.

The city appropriates the rest for the theater's functioning as a division of the recreation department.

Most of the $25,000 budget goes for salaries for three fulltime staff members—the director, assistant director, and technical director. The payroll also includes on virtually fulltime status a wardrobe mistress and a office secretary who doubles as box office boss.

Youngsters Work

The staff is filled out by the kids themselves. They do everything from ushering to set-building. They shift scenes and props, handle lights, and help direct rehearsals. The tenn-age verterans showing the greatest flair and reliability can work into a few spots as paid part-time assistants, starting at $1 an hour.

The repertory, built up in large part by Mrs. Hazel Glaister Robertson, the founding director, includes such classics as "Alice in Wonderland," "Cinderella," "Marco Polo," "Aladdin," "Snow White," "Little Women" and Hans Christian Andersen stories.

Mrs. Robertson, who organized the child players as a small volunteer effort in 1932, induced a nervous city council to take over full support responsibility in 1936, after Mrs. Stern's gift building was completed on a city park site.

Children Start Young

Palo Alto then was a town of 15,000 and some council members worried that Mrs. Robertson was raiding the treasury for a boondoggle beyond the city's means.

But she solidly installed the theater in the municipal budget. Now the population is 52,000 and the over-all attendance participation of Children's Theater activities runs to more than 75,000 a year.

Moppets begin their acquaintance with the theater at preschool age in rhythem-teaching toy symphony classes and story hours. Second grade girls start mastering needle and thread in puppet sewing.

When Mrs. Robertson followed her husband, an oil man, to Middle East oil fields in 1953, she was succeeded by Miss Regine Bertling, her assistant since 1944.

Some of the set creations excite the parent playgoers more than the plays. One of the recent best was the ship deck and dock set designed for "Marco Polo" by John Patterson, technical director since 1956.

Over the years, the wardrobe room has accumulated enough carefully kept and richly colored costumes to dress more than a thousand youngsters at one time, says Mrs. Peg Bejma. Mrs. Bejma, one of the Mrs. Robertson's original child actors back in 1932, returned after marriage and widowhood to become the theater's assistant director and costume designer.

How It Began

The theater got its start in the mid thirties. Wealthy Mrs. Stern, regular community player productions in an old War I canteen building close by railroad tracks, was as annoyed as everyone when dramatic climaxes were destroyed by the roar of passing trains. She decided something ought to be done.

Mrs. Stern proposed to the city council that she provide money for materials for a new theater building on a city owned site. The city could pay the construction laber costs with federal Work Progress Administration funds.

The scheme worked so well with a $44,000 gift for the adult theater that Mrs. Stern followed through with additional gifs of $77,000 for a recreation department administration wing and another wing housing the Children's Theater.

The completed group of red tile roofed Spanish-style building around a patio garden became a showcase community center in one of the best bargain deals a city ever made.

Jimmy Walthall, recently named a grid assistant at West Virginia University, gave one of the great individual performances in WVU football history in 1944. He almost singlehandedly led the Mountaineers to a 28-27 victory over Penn State.

OLDSMOBILE'S all-new and distinctive styling motif for 1961 is exemplified by this Super 88 Holiday Sedan, a four-door hardtop. New body lines give the car a long, sleek look, but overall length of the 88's has been reduced three inches.

'61 Oldsmobile Showing Is Scheduled Here Thursday

The Oldsmobile for 1961 will be presented to the public in Snyder tomorrow by Eiland Motor Co., 312 East Highway.

The 1961 Oldsmobile Dynamic 88's, Super 88's and 98's in eighteen different models incorporate the greatest changes in styling and design to be introduced by the division in many years, said Jack F. Wolfram, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Oldsmobile. The new line of cars will be introduced to the public at Oldsmobile dealer showrooms across the nation on October 6.

"In addition to their completely new, fresh and distinctive look, many design changes for passenger comfort have been made to make the 88's and 98's more attractive than ever before," Wolfram said. "Headroom is increased, the cars are much easier to get in and out of, and seating comfort is greatly improved.

"This, together with many mechanical advancements, makes the 88's and 98's the most alert, best performing, most comfortable and smoothest riding and handling cars in the division's history," he declared.

"Oldsmobile's market has been widened—we are no longer fenced in by price class," Wolfram said. "Our new Dynamic 88's, Super 88's and 98's will please the many many people who need, want and are accustomed to the beauty, comfort, utility and prestige of a full-size Oldsmobile.

"The smaller F-85, Oldsmobile's entry in the low-price field," he continued, "will attract the many, many people who have always wanted an Oldsmobile but never, thought they could afford one — up until now."

Highlighting the styling motif, the sculptured sides of the Dynamic 88, Supper 88 and 98 sweep back from the distinctive, alert-looking front end, with the profile tapering at the rear — styling that is unmistakably Oldsmobile. Excluding convertibles, a total of eight different roof designs is featured on the various models within the three series.

"In 1961," he added, "we have taken a most important forward step toward more spectacular and glamorous interiors.

"Oldsmobile's Dynamic 88's, Super 88's and 98's will feature interior fashions of sensational decor utilizing brighter, newer, more modern fabrics, color-harmonized with exterior finishes and patterned for utility, glamor and elegance.

"Even in the economical Dynamic 88, the new interiors compare with those available only on high price class cars a few years back," Wolfram stated. "Interior trims for the Super 88 are even more smartly fashioned while the 98 interiors are the most elegant of all.

"The bodies for the Dynamic 88 and the Supper 88 have been completely redesigned," he continued.

"And the new body for the Classic 98 has distinctively different styling characteristics which give it strong series identification. Distinctive roof line, grille, side moulding and rear end treatment establish the 98 as the top of the line," he added.

Atomic Ship Is Near Completion

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—A $42.5-million experiment in ocean-going nuclear propulsion is slowly nearing completion in a shipyard here.

Workers at the New York Shipbuilding Corp. are getting out the N. S. Savannah. It will be the first nonmilitary ship to have an atomic engine. The keel was put down May 22, 1958, and the hull was launched July 21, 1959.

Taxpayers are footing the design and construction cost, and probably the ship never will repay that cost in dollars. But some observers feel the United States will be amply repaid in prestige and the good will it should produce.

After it is commissioned, early next year, the Savannah will make a world cruise. The cruise will demonstrate how the atom can be used peacefully. It also will provide valuable knowledge needed for construction of future nuclear-powered ships.

The Savannah is named for the first steamship to cross the Atlantic.

The new Savannah is 595 feet long and will be powered by a nuclear reactor using U235 as fuel. The reactor, built by Babcock and Wilcox, has been installed. The reaction will be used to heat water and steam to 320 degrees Fahrenheit. This will drive turbines capable of producing 22,000 horsepower.

Waste from the reactors will be brought back to shore and buried. International law does not now permit their random disposal at sea.

If the ship ever should sink, an unlikely occurrence, special doors will seal off the reactor to keep it from contaminating the ocean.

When the idea of using atomic power in a ship of peaceful intent first gained acceptance, some government officials favored putting a Nautilus-type submarine reactor in a conventional surface ship and claiming a quick atomic first.

However Congress decided to spend $42.5 million and have the vessel designed from the keel up. Final plans were approved by President Eisenhower on Oct. 15, 1956.

Master of the Savannah will be G. R. DeGroote 55, Huntington, N.Y.

Savage Blast In Plant Kills 11 Persons

By ED MILLER

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP) — A savage blast—which claimed 11 lives and left at least 60 others injured ripped through a sprawling chemical plant here Tuesday and rocked this upper East Tennessee city of 26,000 people.

Today officials of the Tennessee Eastman Corp. began probing smouldering rubble of the smashed section of the 400-acre plant in an effort to determine the cause.

The explosion occurred in the acid division of the analine processing section where dyes are made. Officials said the building is operated by remote control and normally no workmen are inside.

Downtown Kingsport—a mile and a half from the plant—was shaken and shattered glass from store windows littered the streets. The blast was heard 20 miles away in Johnson City.

"It happened just like that, no warning, didn't know what was happening," said Earl Whetsel, an Eastman pipefitter, "the blast, then glass and stuff flying around."

Fire touched off by the explosion raged for about three hours before it was brought under control.

An unidentified guard at a nearby ordnance plant said he was driving along in his truck when the blast occurred. "It sent my truck through the air for about 100 yards," he said.

Two-Party System Lauded By Alger

HOUSTON (AP) — Rep. Bruce Alger, lone Republican congressman from Texas, said Tuesday that "two parties are the only means by which we can implement the Constitution and our form of government."

Speaking to 400 persons at two meetings, Alger said the issue is self determination or socialism.

"I have seen the enemy in Washington, the radical, left-wing, socialistic thinkers who are no different from those across the water," he said.

He called the American form of socialism a socialization of income.

Alger said the Democratic party has left the people of Texas and also has left the Jeffersonian Democrats.

Wage Rates For Harvest Are Set

Standard wage for cotton harvest workers in Scurry County, effective Oct. 4, was $1.50 per hundred for first pulling of both irrigated and dry land crops, the Texas Employment Commission announced this morning.

However, the TEC reminded that rates less than $1.55 per hundred are not applicable to Mexican contract workers.

Man Nabbed With Bomb

NEW YORK (AP)—A man who said he "wanted to get" Soviet Premier Khrushchev with a "Molotov cocktail" type fire bomb was arrested early today near the United Nations headquarters.

The man was nabbed by city police as he climbed a wall from the East River Drive into a parking lot just north of the U. N. headquarters.

He carried a homemade bomb, a soda bottle containing a gasoline saturated rag.

Police identified him as Richard Hogan, 22, of Queens, New York City.

He told police he had been recently interviewed by psychiatrists at Bellevue Hospital, where he had been taken by his parents.

Detectives said Hogan admitted that he had been trying to reach the U.N. building with his homemade bomb because he "wanted to get Khrushchev."

Police described how the bomb works: the rag is ignited and the bottle thrown. When it breaks the burning gasoline spreads the fire.

This type fire bomb was known as a "Molotov cocktail" during World War II and was used extensively in anti-tank warfare.

Hogan was unaware that Khrushchev was not at the U.N. building, but at the Soviet headquarters, more than a mile away.

Newlyweds Go Back To Their Jail Cells

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The newlyweds kissed and then were returned to their separate cells in the Pulaski County Jail.

Clyde L. Long, 38, and Nancy L. Arendt, 20, were married by Justice of the Peace Sam Miller before witnesses.

Long said, "We courted through a small hole in the wall between the men's and women's quarters."

Miss Arendt wore a blue maternity outfit. She is an expectant mother.

Long recently was serving a year for grand larceny and also is held for parole violation from a previous forgery charge. The bride was under a 30-day sentence on a bad check charge and is yet to be tried on another.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Bootlegging pep pills is a multimillion dollar business today, says a Federal Food and Drug Administration official.

Maurice P. Kerr, FFDA director for the San Francisco district, told the Consumer Concerns Clinic Tuesday enough of the so-called stay-awake pills are manufactured annually to keep every man woman and child awake for a week or more.

Krush Thinks Successor To Ike Will Talk

By JOHN SCALI

NEW YORK (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev appears to believe the next United States president will swiftly agree to meet with him at a brand new Big Four summit conference on world problems.

This Khrushchev view apparently explains why the Soviet leader appeared happy with the results of his cold war talk with Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan Tuesday, in sharp contrast with the British.

A British spokesman said afterward "there has been virtually no change" in the rival Khrushchev-Macmillan views about how to crack the East-West disarmament deadlock.

But Khrushchev surprisingly termed the results "very productive." Tuesday night, at a gala reception he gave for 400 top diplomatic guests, he repeated this view.

The Soviet leader, chatting with newsmen, pointed to an oil painting on the wall which showed an ice-choked river melting under a warm springtime sun.

Macmillan told him, he said, that the painting represents Britain's views about the future of Western-Soviet relations.

Khrushchev, as well as Macmillan, may be due for a surprise in the attitude of the next American president toward a summit parley. Neither Vice President Richard M. Nixon or Sen. John F. Kennedy—in campaign talk—has given any sign he would rush to a summit meeting.

Khrushchev's bitter anti-Western offensive at the United Nations might make them even more reluctant to sit down with Khrushchev without advance signs that such talks would be productive.

Drys Hold 3-1 Edge

AUSTIN (AP)—Local option election results are running about 3 to 1 against legalizing liquor, the Texas Liquor Control Board reported today.

In 21 elections this year on the question of legalizing alcoholic beverages, 16 areas remained dry while five voted wet, the board's monthly report said. One area where the sale of beer was legal voted to allow the sale of all alcoholic beverages.

During August the Hockley County community of Sundown remained dry by a 230-147 vote, Precinct 5 of Coryell County remained dry by a 340-246 margin, and Forest Hill, Tarrant County, remained dry by a 310-235 vote.

During the month Liquor Control Board inspectors seized six illicit stills, four in Harrison County, one in San Jacinto and one in Tarrant.

In six years at West Virginia Tech, Basketball Coach Neal Bass has compiled a record of 143 victories and 31 defeats.

'Instant' Medical Service May Be Next On 'New' Menu

BY INEZ ROBB

For the past 15 years I have been moaning low, constantly and piteously, that a nation so advanced technologically that it can produce an A-bomb ought to be able to cure the common cold.

But in that interim, medical science in re the common cold has advanced from bed rest, aspirin and fruit juice to fruit juice, aspirin and bed rest. (And that tired, ancient joke—to the effect that with medical care a cold disappears in 14 days and without a doctor's help it takes two weeks—still stands, an imperishable monument to the wisdom of the common man vs. the common cold.)

The above is by way of introduction to Dr. Austin Smith, who is president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturer's Association. He was up from Washington, D.C., headquarters the other day and feeling rather chesty about the fact that speakers at a recent association meeting "expect" major drug advances—no cures, mind you, but advances—by 1962 in the treatment of cancer, heart disease, mental illness, arthritis and the common cold.

May the good Lord bless the boys in the white coats in the pharmaceutical laboratories and speed the day. Because if something isn't done for the common cold by 1962 (let's see, that's 15 months to go), I certainly won't be around by 200 A.D. to enjoy the marvels that Dr. Smith and his confreres foresee.

It is conceivable that those who reach the turn of the century will, according to Dr. Smith, eat, sleep, work and play with a tiny gadget taped to their respective chests. This gizmo will transmit vital body data to the family physician whose office will contain a computing center into which all this inside stuff will be automatically transmitted.

In other words, the individual will be bugged for his own good. Because, armed with this data constantly flowing into his computing center, the doctor, equipped with an electronic impluse device, circa 2000 A. D., will be able to prescribed and release a measured prescription into the patient' blood stream no matter where he is. That is, no matter where the patient is, whether on golf course or in executive meeting.

With such a prescription, the doctor might be able to avert a "silent stroke" or "concealed coronary". Who am I to question? If instant coffee, why not instant medicine? And, in addition, it is mighty impressive to know, as Dr. Smith explained, that 40 percent of the medical prescriptions handed out by doctors today could not have been written five years ago.

That is certainly a dramatic statistic on the speed with which new drugs, miracle and otherwise, are perfected today. Yet, said Dr. Smith, of 115,000 different chemical substances that pharmaceutical laboratories will work with in a given year, only 1,000 show enough promise for clinical testing as potential medicines. Of this number less than 40 will ever reach the status of prescription drugs.

Yet that many new drugs a year represent such a tremendous advance in medicine that it would have astounded doctors even 40 years ago, Dr. Smith said. And this despite the odds that research on a new drug will produce a useful and successful result are 2,865 to 1, or only slightly less than those on the Irish sweeps.

Dr. Smith is pretty certain that by the turn of the century, yet-to-be developed drugs will be able to determine the sex of an unborn child. And he foresees the eventual perfection of vaccines of the multi-purpose, one-shot variety.

I should live so long! In the meantime, please pass the aspirin and the paper hankies.

Knocks Both Platforms

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Pittsburgh industrialist says both "young fellows" running for president have platforms stolen from many-time Socialist presidential candidate Norman Thomas.

"Poor old Norman can't run anymore—he hasn't got a platform," said Col. Willard F. Rockwell, board chairman of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

Rockwell, a business executive for 50 years, summed up the two platforms' differences thusly:

"The Republicans promise everything any pressure group wants provided the government can pay for it without raising taxes, while the Democrats promise everything without regard to costs."

He spoke Tuesday before the Associated Industries of Kentucky.

Forest In House Is Big Problem

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—I don't know about your house, but in our house we are having trouble with our indoor forest.

Perhaps where you live you don't try to raise the outdoors indoors. You grow inside and let the trees grow outside.

This is the approach to nature I was brought up to believe was natural.

Well, in the big city they don't always do things that way.

My daughter Tracy, 7, is in the second grade now, and she keeps coming home from school with a tree in her hand. Well, anyway, an embryo tree, a seedling in a can.

"What is this?" I ask.

"What do you mean your homework?"

"I bring it home and watch it work—I mean grow. Then I bring it to class and show it, then I bring it back home and let it grow some more, then I bring it to class again, and then I——"

Well, she doesn't have to go any further. I get the general idea. Instead of having a child go out and look at a forest, they have her plant one in her father's living room.

This is progressive education. It saves the child from walking. She can sit down in her own home and water her wilderness and watch it grow.

It doesn't work out that way in our house, however. The first time Tracy brought her own tree home from school I was afraid. I feared that in time, on some future lazy weekend, I would be lifted from my usual armchair lethargy and thrust atop a twining limb of greenery to the astonishment of our neighbors.

Well, thanks to our cat, Lady Dottie, I am in no danger of being tree-borne immediately.

I am not sure whether the tree in the can my daughter brought home hopefully the other day is the third or the fourth effort on the part of her and her teacher to make our house a wilderness.

In any case, Tracy waters it with loving care and croons little love songs to it, and it grows during the sun of the day. But at night Lady Dottie creeps up on little fog feet and eats all its leaves away. It seems cats kept indoors have a pent appetite for green and growing things.

I'm not sure how long this can go on, or whether it is fair for a man to let a cat cause his daughter to flunk nature study in the second grade.

I intercepted the following brooding letter from Tracy to herself: "A tree that loses its leaves in winter is deciduous. My maple tree will have bare branches."

There was also this further unexpected fruit of her horticultural learning. Susie, her little friend down the hall, observed during one of those aimless generalities so pleasing to children, "My daddy is fatter than your daddy."

"Yes, he is," Tracy agreed but added proudly: "My daddy is more deciduous than your daddy."

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

A grid rivalry which has been renewed each and every year since its inception in 1933 will unfold here Friday night at Tiger Stadium when Snyder's tigers on Breckenridge. It will be something of an unusual meeting, in that each is experiencing a "lean" year so far, neither having been successful in posting a victory to date.

It should have its usual share of fireworks, however, and is worthy of the support of the townspeople—win, lose, or draw. The Tigers, with practically as many boys on the injured list as off it, will undoubtedly have their hands full when they face the Bucks. A good crowd on hand for the game and an encouraging slap on the back during the week could do wonders for them, though, and the hope is that they may be afforded both.

Last year's game saw Snyder playing its most inspired game of the entire season, as they played the heavily favored Greenies to a standstill before losing a 22-20 heartbreaker. The breaking up of a conversion pass late in the game prevented the Tigers from pulling into a tie, which is just as well. For there was little to much prestige gained in losing by such a slim margin as there would have been had a tie game developed. As one coach whose team was involved in a deadlocked contest noted just this past week, "When you tie somebody like that, it's sort of like dating your sister."

And as Texas coach Darrell Royal brought out not long ago when queried as to why he had his team go for two points instead of one so as to take a chance on winning a game rather than tieing—"What's to be gained from a tie? We already had that before the game started."

Ties should be outlawed, just like cattle rustling. Or at least some provision made for the playing off of such unwanted grid stepchildren.

Black And Gold Vs. Green

THE TIGERS will have to overcome tradition and a series deficit (two wins as against five losses) in order to come out on top Friday night. Luckily, they shouldn't be over-awed by the moss-colored jerseys which have become symbolic of Buckaroo football supremacy through the years, although a number of Breck's district foes in the past have supposedly fallen completely apart on the mere sight of the things. Instead, the Tigers should react much like Danny (We -Don't-Scare-Easy) Murtaugh and his Pittsburgh Pirates on that count and accept the green at its face value of nilch. That's a prediction. Any degree of "whipping down" which the Bucks might possibly obtain will have to be on the field of play rather than on the sidelines before the game even starts.

A concerted effort on the part of the Tigers could very well bring them victory, and that is the hope that will be riding with the team when they take the field. The Bucks have had a rough early-season baptismal, and will be just as hungry for victory as will Snyder, though. Traditionally, they have prided themselves in taking on the biggest dogs in the neighborhood, in their own backyards if necessary. This year is no exception.

They opened with Sweetwater, which downed them by 22-12, then lost to Wichita Falls (47-6), Phillips (6-0), and Abilene (46-0). A glance at the ratings reveals that Sweetwater and Phillips are rated second and fourth, respectively, in the state in Class 2A, while Wichita Falls and Abilene are running second and third behind only Baytown in Class 4A. No "breathers" among that batch, it is conceded.

The tigers, too, have had a tough slate of foes to contend with so far, though. Borger, Big Spring, and Odessa Permian are all double-tough 4-A outfits, while Andrews is a ranking eleven in Class 3A.

Injuries Continue To Throttle Efforts

Snyder is in sad shape, with key personnel missing from almost every position. News of the loss of linebacker David Wiman earlier in the week tended to add to the woebegone picture, as he and Joe Fowler, another guard who has been sidelined following a concussion in the Big Spring game, had formed much of the defensive backbone of the club.

The varsity may soon become bolstered by some influx of players from the "B" squad. It's an outside possibility, anyway, as studies of the game film of the Saturday night "B" game against Sweetwater are now in the study mill. Nothing concrete on it as yet, though.

A full-scale rallying to the team's support would help immensely, and the Breckenridge game would serve as a prime time for such a rally. It could be the booster shot in the arm which could pull a dismal season out of the fire for the local eleven.

DYER, CALLAWAY RETURN

Conley Terms Boost In Spirit Essential

"Our biggest problem this week is in getting both the coaches and boys 'up' for the game," Tiger Coach John Conley informed the Quarterback Club members here last night. "We looked 'dead' yesterday (Monday) and again today, and we're definitely going to have to improve a whole lot before game time or we'll be in pretty bad shape."

The upcoming game to which he made reference, of course, is the Breckenridge game which is to be played here in Tiger Stadium Friday. The announcement was also made of plans calling for a downtown pep rally Thursday evening at 8:15 p.m., and all students and townspeople are urged to turn out for the function in order to help boost the team on the eve of the annual grid clash.

The injury situation had its good and bad points, which Conley went further to itemize. "We have two boys who started to work out again this week who've been out for a long time—Spencer Dyer and Bax Callaway. Callaway broke his wrist before the season started, and Dyer was out for the first week of practice but had to limp through it. Having him back should help to improve our defensive secondary," he continued. Both boys are listed as halfbacks, a "trouble spot" as far as injuries are concerned throughout the early stages of the season.

He also made mention of the fact that guards David Wiman and Joe Fowler will be unable to play. Wiman having received a cracked knee in Friday's Permian game and Fowler a concussion in the Big Spring clash of a week prior. "Joe will be out of this one (Breckenridge) and the next one," he itemized. "In the place of Wiman we'll run either Jack McDonald or Billy Andrews in there."

"Bill Weaver will be back for this one, though," he continued. "He'll be at about 75 per cent efficiency, though, as he's still troubled with an ankle injury." Weaver, a guard, was used sparingly in the Permian game.

Hale, Wylie Shine

He went on to laud the play of two boys in particular who saw considerable line action in the game just past. "Mokey (Hale) hustled real well and was in on a lot of tackles," he began. "This was the first time he'd played any to speak of and turned in an extra good job there at tackle, we thought. Also, George Wylie turned in his best game of the year at defensive end."

He was asked how Permian stacked up as against past Tiger opponents played to date this season. "I believe they're the best team we've played so far," he answered. "Yes, I think they're a better ball club than Borger. I won't go so far as to say that they'll win their district, though, because against a team the caliber of Abilene they may not have the guns to win. One thing was evident, though. They didn't give them any competition."

In last week's report on the Quarterback Club meeting, he was erroneously reported as having tabbed Big Spring as "The best ball club we've played so far." Instead it should have read "the best Big Spring club we've played in the past five years."

Following his sketch on the team as it now stands, he turned the program over to coaches J. P. Ward and Dutch Stehley, who gave a scouting report on Breckenridge.

Ward brought out the fact that they run a wing-T, with the wingback staggered both to the left and right side on occasion. He made note of the fact that the "belly series" to the left side is the running play with which they had the most success with against Abilene. The Bucks were "in the game" during the early stages, but soon gave way to superior Abilene manpower and dropped the game by a 46-0 count.)

Sport A Southpaw QB

"They'll throw the ball a lot, too, although they didn't have too much success with their aerial game," he mentioned. "They sent up 23 passes against Abilene. Pretty versatile in that area, though, as they have three backs who can—and will—throw the ball. They've got a left handed quarterback who alternates in and can be depended on to roll out to the left and pass on occasion. Also, they pitch back to the fullback quite a bit, who has a pretty good throwing arm himself."

Stehley went further in analyzing the Breck defensive strength. "Their main defense is one with six-man line," he noted, "and they throw in a heavier bunch of boys on defense than they use on offense."

"They've got some good boys, and a pretty salty ball club," he went further to warn. "They'll really 'put the leather' to you. In fact, after the first three minutes of the game in which they stopped Abilene cold, I thought they were going to beat them, but Abilene just wore them down even before the half was over."

He was queried as to how many boys made up the squad, traditionally lean in numbers. "They had 18 boys suited up, and all of them played," he answered. "Two of them got kicked out of the game in the second half, which left only 16. Abilene was 'three deep' or more at every position, and those alternating units they kept running in were just too much to cope with."

"It was the first time I ever saw those green shirts when they looked like they wanted to quit," he concluded. "But by the time the game was over they looked like they were ready for it to be, without a doubt."

The meeting was capped off by the showing of the Snyder-Permian game film as narrated by Coach Conley.

Pitt 'Has To Win First One' Says Traynor

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The first game is the crucial one for the Pirates in the 57th World Series, says oldtimer Harold (Pie) Traynor.

"Pittsburgh has to take the first one," the gray-haired Hall of Fame star said today. "It's necessary for the Pirates' morale. It's necessary to slow down the Yankees' momentum.

"The Yankees go into the series on a 15-game winning streak. Momentum is a big thing. The Pirates have to break this drive immediately, or they are in trouble."

Traynor, 60 but still trim, was a member of the Pittsburgh team which lost four straight to the Yankees in 1927—the last time the Pirates made the World Series.

"It was quite a different case then," said the famous infielder, now a Pittsburgh radio commentator. "We were completely burned out when we reached the series and the Yankees were relaxed after winning the pennant by 19 games.

"We had to fight all the way. We never were more than a game or so ahead. We never could relax or catch a deep breath. So when we got into the Series it wasn't a case of panic, it was sheer exhaustion."

Even so, Traynor added, the Pirates had their opportunities because the Yankees—even with the great Babe Ruth, Lou Gehrig, Bob Meusel and Earle Combs—didn't play their best ball.

"They had had it pretty easy and so they were a little stale," he said. "I remember we were leading in the first game but finally blew it 5-4. Then in the fourth game Johnny Miljus had a wild pitch with the bases loaded and let in the winning run in a 4-3 game.

"Actually, the Pirates never led in the first game of the 1927 world Series. The Yankees scored in their first time at bat and the best the Pirates did was to tie 1-1 in the bottom of the first. The Yankees took a 4-1 lead in the top of the third and stayed in front.)

"Still it was a great Yankee team. I recall Babe Ruth hit a couple of homers, I think it was one of the three greatest teams I ever saw. The others were the 1919 White Sox, with Shoeless Joe Jackson, Eddie Collins and Ray Schalk, and the 1929 Athletics, with Mickey Cochrane, Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove and Al Simmons.

"Ours was a fine club, too. We just didn't have anything left. In the series, Lloyd Waner was down to 127 pounds and Paul Waner was 134. I weighed 154. We all were some 20 pounds below our usual weight."

How does he predict the series?

"The Pirates in seven. If they played 12 games, I'd pick 'em in 12. If they played 154, I'd say they'd win on the 154th. It's that kind of a ball club," Traynor said.

Holub Among Lineman Of Week Hopeful

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Greg Mather, Navy end who booted the winning field goal in the Middies' upset 15-14 victory over Washington, was named the lineman of the week today by The Associated Press.

Washington led 14-12 when Mather, a rugged 223-pounder from Woodland Hills, Calif., booted a 31-yard field goal in the last 14 seconds to turn defeat into victory.

His kicking ability, in addition to his all-around play, gained Mather the nod in the weekly AP poll by sportswriters and broadcasters.

Other linemen who drew attention included Navy guard John Hewitt; Roy McKasson, Washington center; Danny Larose, Missouri end; Dean Garrett, Arkansas guard; Arvie Martin, Texas Christian center; Herby Atkins, Baylor guard; E. J. Holub, Texas Tech center; Ken Rice, Auburn tackle; Tom Goode, Mississippi State center; Vic Miranda, Florida guard; Johnny Brewer, Mississippi end; and Ken Frost, Tennessee tackle.

Boudreau Out; Cubs Looking For 'Winner'

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Cubs were again on the managerial merry-go-round today hoping to pluck off a gold ring — a manager that can win.

The Cubs have had several field managers in 11 years. Their latest boss, Lou Boudreau, quit Tuesday after asking — but not receiving — a long-term contract. He's going back to the job he had before joining the Cubs: baseball color announcer for Chicago radio station WGN.

Boudreau left the broadcasting booth for the baselines May 4, replacing Charlie Grimm as Cub pilot.

Guesswork placed Phil Cavarretta, former Cub star, and manager, high on the list of replacements for Boudreau. Other names tossed around included those of Al Dark, a utility player with Milwaukee; Bob Scheffing, another former Cub manager; and Bill Rigney, ex-manager of the San Francisco Giants.

The Cubs, this season finished in seventh place with one of their worst records in years, 60-94.

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The brand new crystal ball, complete with radar and other electronics devices, could correctly forecast Iowa's upset of Northwestern last week and could perceive other trouble spots for the favorites, but it was far from perfect.

The weekend's record was 36 correct selections on the college football card and 16 wrong ones for a .694 average. The season's total now is 106-35 for .752.

This week's picks:

Syracuse over Holy Cross: If Harvard could defeat Holy Cross what do you think Ernie Davis and his playmates will do to the Crusaders?

Mississippi over Vanderbilt: The Rebels are getting used to these night games, and are after a strong conference showing to make up for the Memphis State scare.

Michigan State over Iowa: The Hawkeye sophomores have speed, but Michigan State has too many other resources.

Illinois over Ohio State: The Buckeyes haven't been scored on this season but that record goes into the discard. Joe Rutgens sticks out in that Illini line.

Navy over Southern Methodist: They meet in the first bowl game of the season—the Oyster Bowl at Norfolk, Va., Joe Bellino, Navy ace, will serve the Mustangs on the half-shell.

Purdue over Wisconsin: The Boilermakers won't let their runaway victory over Notre Dame spoil them but this time they win by the margin of a single touchdown.

Elsewhere: Arkansas over Baylor; Kansas over Iowa State; Air Force over Missouri; Washington over Stanford; Minnesota over Northwestern; Texas over Oklahoma; Army over Penn State; Florida over Rice.

Detroit over Cincinnati, Southern California over Georgia; Virginia Military over George Washington, Utah over Brigham Young.

Saturday

EAST: Boston University over Ohio University, Dartmouth over Brown, Bucknell over Buffalo, Cornell over Harvard, Delaware over Lafayette, Princeton over Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh over Miami, Rutgers over Colgate, Villanova over College of Pacific, Yale over Columbia, Temple over Muhlenberg.

MIDWEST: Washington (St. Louis) over Bradley, Indiana over Oregon State, Boston College over Marquette, Michigan over Duke, Nebraska over Kansas State.

SOUTH: Florida State over The Citadel, William & Mary over Furman, Georgia Tech over Louisiana State, Kentucky over Marshall, Notre Dame over North Carolina, Tennessee over Tampa, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest, West Virginia over Richmond, Auburn over Chattanooga, North Carolina State over Maryland.

SOUTHWEST: Houston over Texas A&M, Texas Tech over Texas Christian, Oklahoma State over Tulsa, Arizona State over Hardin-Simmons.

FAR WEST: California over Washington State, Colorado over Arizona, Utah State over Idaho, Oregon over San Jose State, Wyoming over Denver.

Voss Ranking Among Pass Snagging Elite

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Washington State is the passing est team in major college football at this stage of the season and Hugh Campbell is the reason.

Campbell, a 6-1, 183-pound sophomore end, didn't get into the first game at all. But in two games since then, he has hauled in 21 passes for 336 yards and five touchdowns.

Bill Voss of Hardin-Simmons also has caught 21 passes in three games, but has gained only 195 yards and scored once.

Never before since the NCAA Service Bureau has been compiling statistics have two players had as many as 42 catches between them at this stage.

Dave Hoppman of Iowa State continued to lead in total offense and rushing. In three games, Hoppman has gained 551 yards total to 549 for Jim Wright of Memphis State, and has picked up 431 yards on the ground, 40 more than Bob Gaiters of New Mexico State.

Only seven southpaws pitched complete games in 48 efforts against the 1959 pennant winning Chicago White Sox.

World Still Left Guessing Why Krush Came To Session

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — It was just as if the trees bent under a big wind and then shook the dust out of their hair and stood straight again as the wind passed.

Nikita Khrushchev, after two weeks of rocking and shocking the United Nations with his demands and threats, still leaves the world guessing as it did before he arrived: Why did he come here?

He has accomplished nothing visible. If he wanted to win over the neutrals, there is no sign he did. If he wanted a meeting with President Eisenhower, he did his best to prevent it.

Possibly he did want a meeting with Eisenhower. He didn't say so. He didn't say he didn't. By not slamming the door tight, he left it a little open. Yet, he didn't quite do that, either.

He said he would meet with the President but only on terms he knew Eisenhower wouldn't and couldn't accept. He wanted the President first to apologize for the flight of the American U2 spy plane over Russia.

Then Eisenhower made a summit meeting impossible any time soon by saying nothing doing until American and Russian representative first met to make sure Khrushchev meant business.

Khrushchev tried to save face then by saying what he had said before—that he would not meet with Eisenhower, either, until the President apologized for the U2. This was neither shrewd nor clever. It was an almost childish piece of tit-for-tat.

If not a summit meeting, then what did the Russian want?

In his very first speech to the United Nations he said he wanted disarmament, and in the same speech said he wanted the United Nations to get rid of its one-man secretary-general and set up three secretaries.

One would represent the West, one the neutrals, and one the Communist bloc. But this was a wrecking expedition since, under Khrushchev's plan, any one of the three secretaries could veto what the other two wanted to do.

When he realized he had received a cool reception on this—even among the neutrals to whom he was bidding hardest—Khrushchev then threatened. He said there could be no disarmament unless the United Nations was revised to suit him.

This didn't get anywhere either but it was a piece of outright bullying which could not escape even the most retarded among the neutrals.

Khrushchev demanded that Red China be admitted to the United Nations—a move the United States opposed—and prospects are that Red China will not be admitted.

It has become almost common practice in American journalism now to accept as a fact a reported ideological split between Khrushchev and Red China on the grounds that Khrushchev insists war with the West is not inevitable while the Red Chinese communists insist it is.

It is possible this is part of a plan agreed to between Khrushchev and his Chinese allies for this purpose: to soften the West into thinking Khrushchev is a man with whom peaceful and satisfactory settlements can be worked out. If the West buys this idea, it may then be inclined to slacken its defenses and will to resist Red advances.

That would be a great and cheap victory for communism. But Khrushchev's performance at the United Nations, instead of demonstrating how reasonable he is to do business with, has been all to the contrary.

Royal Couple In 'Big D'

DALLAS (AP)—Belgium's handsome young royal couple, Prince Albert and Princess Paola, arrived Tuesday night as head of a 26-member economic mission which will spend two days in Dallas.

The group, which flew here from San Francisco, is on the third stop of a seven-city tour of the United States.

Several hundred Dallas residents were on hand to greet the mission.

"I hope to learn something of the business world and do what I can to help my country," the 26-year-old prince told newsmen.

The prince's main task is to meet American businessmen. Discussions will be carried out by spokesmen for Belgian industry and finance as well as government officials in charge of industrial expansion.

About 100 Dallas leaders will bank today at a reception. Later another group will meet them at another banking house. A formal meet the Belgians at a Dallas bank today at a reception. Later another group will meet them at another banking house. A formal dinner is planned tonight.

The visitors will tour the State Fair of Texas grounds Thursday, the Dallas Trade Mart, and plants of Texas Instruments.

The prince and princess are to meet with President Eisenhower in Washington later this week while other members of the group tour New Orleans industries. The group heads for Mexico following their United States visit.

Night Club Owner In Smuggling Trial

LAREDO (AP) — A New Orleans night club owner went on trial in Federal court Tuesday charged with smuggling marijuana from Mexico to the United States.

John Vaccaro, 53, was arrested Aug. 7, a customs agent, Frederick Rody Jr., said.

Officials testified that only a small amount of marijuana was found in Vaccaro's car but agents found a suitcase full of the weed which they claim Vaccaro pitched out during the chase.

Big Spring Man Dies In Collision

QUESTION: What is a catapult?

ANSWER: The catapult is an ancient weapon. It was used in the Middle Ages during seiges against castles and walled cities. It works like a sling shot, or a bow and arrow. Huge catapults were used to hurl rocks across moats and over castle walls. In our picture is a catapult that was used to shoot several arrows at one time with greater force than the strongest archer. Though the catapult is an ancient weapon, it is still used in some forms in modern warfare. During World War I, simple catapults were used to throw grenades and gas bombs into the enemy trenches. Catapults are used on some aircraft carriers to launch planes.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: See if you can make some sort of catapult, using rubber bands for a spring.

NEW CHRYSLER NEWPORT—For 1961 Chrysler introduces a Newport series to go with its Windsor and New Yorker models. The Newport, shown here in a two-door hardtop, is powered by a 265-horsepower engine which operates on regular grade fuel, thus giving more miles per dollar. A full-size car with a 122-inch wheelbase, the Newport will compete in a lower price range than previous Chryslers, according to factory officials.

Chrysler Introducing New Line; Showing On Thursday

The Chrysler automobiles for 1961, featuring a new line of full-sized cars in a lower-price range, will be introduced here tomorow at Pollard Motor Co., 2101 Twenty-fifth Street.

The Newport series has been designed as a companion to Chrysler's Windsor and New Yorker models according to L. E. Briggs, vice president and general manager of the Chrysler and Imperial Division.

The Newport will be powered by a 265-horsepower Firebolt V-8 engine of 361 cubic inches and 9-to-1 compression ratio. Designed to operate on regular grade fuel, the transmission in its first economy run registered 510 miles on a single tankful of fuel—21.7 miles per gallon. It was driven by a 17-year-old Detroit student.

A floor-shift three speed manual transmission is standard equipment in the Newport and Winds or series.

"The new Chrysler Newport will bring true economy of operation into the full-sized luxury car field," said Briggs. Regular fuel means an immediate saving of more than 16 per cent over premium fuel.

"We have not succumbed to the temptation to dilute our name-plate or endanger our quality by introducing a junior Chrysler. We are offering a full-sized line of cars."

The new Chrysler models feature canted head lamps, a new ribbed roof for four-door hardtops single-curvature-windshields and lower, more functional tail lamps.

Alternators replace generators in 1961 models, providing up to eight amperes of electrical power, when at idle. The alternator assures adequate electrical generating capacity always - even in the most severe winter traffic stalls. Motorists in smog areas will benefit from Chrysler's new smog-reducing crankcase breather. Push-button windshield washers and a safer foot-operated parking brake are new features.

In addition to the new 265-horsepower Newport engine, Chrysler offers a 305-horsepower V-8 engine of 383 cubic inch displacement and 10.1-to-one compression ratio in Windsor series models. Chrysler New Yorker models are powered by a 350-horsepower V-8 engine of 413 cubic inch displacement and 10.1-to-one compression ratio.

The 1961 Chrysler line comprises fifteen different models in four series, the Newport, Windsor, New Yorker and 300G. The Newport and New Yorker series have five body styles: 4-door sedan, 4-door hardtop, 2-door hardtop, convertible coupe and 4-door hardtop station wagon. The Windsor series has three body styles: 4-door sedan, 4-door hardtop, and 2-door hardtop. The 300G will be offered in two-door hardtop and convertible body styles.

Twelve solid colors and twenty eight two-tone combinations are obtainable in all Newport, Windsor and New Yorker models. Three of these — black, white and silver metallic, are the same as used in 1960, and all the rest are new.

Top Executives Get Clean Bill

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT, (AP) — Two law firms say the 36 top executives of Chrysler Corp. have no outside interests which conflict with their duties to the company.

These men, the lawyers reported Tuesday after three months of investigation, are free of the taint of bribes, kickbacks or secret commissions.

The corporation's most vociferous critic, Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann, called the reports a whitewash. He vowed to pursue "even more vigorously" his pending lawsuits against the corporation and many of the men who were the subjects of the reports.

The legal opinions were issued by Chrysler's general counsel — Kelley, Drye, Newhall & Maginnes of New York—and by special counsel—Dewey, Balantine, Bushby, Palmer & Wood. The Dewey in this firm is former New York Governor Thomas E. Dewey.

The investigation as outlined by the attorneys consisted of four parts and began June 30. That was the day William C. Newberg was ousted as president of Chrysler because he was found to own half interests in two companies which had supplied small parts for Chrysler cars.

On that date the board of directors told the Kelley firm to find out what the interests were, if any, of Chrysler personnel in any transactions with the corporation and to take steps to recover any sums which Chrysler might be entitled to as a result of such interests.

Four weeks later the board announced Newberg had agreed to pay Chrysler $450,000 from his profits in the two supplier firms.

In mid-August four board members not associated with management took charge of the investigation and hired Dewey's firm to check on the adequacy and scope of the probe.

Sept. 8 the remaining five non-management directors joined this committee.

Only last Friday Chrysler discharged Jack Minor, director of marketing for Plymouth-De Soto-Valiant division. It said he had failed to disclose $10,000 in commissions from an outside advertising firm in which he was a partner.

Earlier a $750-a-month buyer was fired because of conflicting outside interests.

Quadros Is Holding Lead

RIO deJANEIRO, Brazil (AP) —Janio Quadros, a conservative who promised to clean up government corruption and bolster Brazil's shaky economy with a business-like administration, forged steadily ahead today in the counting of votes from the presidential election.

Quadros' lead mounted over President Juscelino Kubitschek's candidate, former War Minister Henrique Teixeira Lott, and over leftist Adhemar de Barros.

Lott had the unsolicited support of the Communists and the anti-U. S. ultranationalists, but the swing to Quadros could not be considered an outright repudiation of either the Communists or the ultra-nationalists. In the vice presidential race, for example, Lott's running mate, Joao (Jango) Goulart, leftist boss of the Brazilian Labor party and Kubitschek's vice president, was leading in his bid for re-election.

It appeared rather that the voters thought Quadros' record as governor of Sao Paulo, Brazil's booming industrial state, promised a vigorous national development program and effective measures against the galloping inflation threatening Latin America's largest nation.

West Seems To Anticipate Kremlin Aims

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —An important factor in Nikita Khrushchev's setbacks at the United Nations seems to have been a growing Western awareness of what makes the Kremlin tick.

There is general agreement among most informed Westerners that the Soviet Premier demanded far more than he expected to get in his major offensive against Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold and the world organization's structure. It is now becoming apparent that he overplayed his hand.

Having lost a cold war round the Russians if they run true to form—probably now will lay down a heavy verbal artillery barrage to cover a tactical retreat.

Khrushchev's angry words and actions in the General Assembly aroused fears the Russians were prepared to wreck the U.N. if they found they could not run it to suit themselves.

But there are grave risks at this moment in trying to destroy the world peace organization. The chances are that Khrushchev, weighing those risks, will attempt to salvage what he can and present what is left to his people at home as a victory for Soviet policy. In some respects, in fact, Khrushchev may consider he has won something important.

Khrushchev, a man with a peasant background, seems to view world politics as something like plain, old-fashioned horse trading.

Horse trader Khrushchev sought to eliminate obstacles the U.N. had placed in the Soviet path in Africa's Congo. He demanded the top price—Hammarskjold's resignation and a new U.N. command setup that would give Moscow a veto over its actions.

It is doubtful Khrushchev expected to get this. But he may think he can make things so hot for Hammarskjold that the U.N. chief will resign, and for all practical purposes the U.N.'s peace-making machinery will be paralyzed for a long time by inability of the West and the Russians to agree on a successor.

South Africa Voting Today

By HENRI JONKERS

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Long lines of South Africans voted today on the nationalist government's plan to make this member of the British Commonwealth a republic.

The plan—opposed by British-descended whites—could result in South Africa's being turned out of Britain's multiracial family of nations.

The radio of the white-supremacist government proclaimed: "This is the most crucial vote in the history of our country."

Both sides agreed it probably would be a record poll of 90 per cent of the eligible voters.

The opposition worked hard to get out a big vote. Prime Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd's Dutch-descended nationalists acknowledged a massive vote might go against a republic, but they were favored to win. Afrikaners outnumber voters of British descent by a ratio of 55 to 45.

More than 1,800,000 whites in South Africa and the neighboring mandate of Southwest Africa were eligible to vote. The nearly 12 million non-whites had no vote.

First results were expected to be known by tonight.

CHRYSLER '61: NEWPORT * WINDSOR * NEW YORKER * 300/G

POLLARD MOTOR COMPANY
Snyder, Texas 2103 25th Street

MERCURY FOR 1961 offers a completely new line of cars, with two series that are priced squarely into competition in the low-priced field. The new Mercurys are 4½ inches shorter and 1½ inches narrower, yet they retain Mercury's reputation for interior comfort, riding qualities and distinctive styling.

New Mercury Cars For '61 Will Be Shown Thursday

Wilson Motors, located on the East Highway, will introduce the 1961 line of Mercury automobiles in Snyder tomorrow.

Mercury for 1961 substantially increases its coverage of the low-price field by introducing two all new lines — the Meteor 600 and the Meteor 800.

"The dramatically lower price of the new Mercury Meteor places it squarely into competition in the low-price field," it was announced by Ben D. Mills, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division.

"We have completely re-styled and engineered our products to compete in the low-price volume market," Mr. Mills said. We have shortened our cars by 4½ inches and made them 1½ inches narrower, yet we have retained Mercury's interior comfort, riding qualities and luxury styling."

The move down into the low-price field marks a wide departure from Mercury's traditional competition in the medium-price market. The Mercury line for 1961, which consists of 14 models, is identified as the Meteor 600 series, which is priced with the middle series in the low-price field; the Meteor 800 series, priced with the top series of the low-price field; and the Monterey series, priced with the top series of the low-price field; and the Monterey series, at the top of the line. In addition, there are four Commuter and Colony Park station wagons.

For the first time in its history, Mercury will include a six-cylinder engine.

The trim, clean lines of its 1961 models testify to Mercury's continued success in attaining distinctive design. The front end features a sturdy grille and dual headlights which give the appearance of being suspended in the grille.

Two different roof styles are used for sedan models. The Meteor 600 series has a sloping rear glass. All other Mercury sedans and hardtops have a crisply-styled formal type roof with flat rear glass. Both roof designs incorporate a new moderate wrap-around windshield that eliminates the dogleg protrusion into the front door opening, allowing more entrance room.

While the Mercury is shorter and narrower than 1960 models, there is more head room, shoulder room and hip room in the rear seats, plus additional trunk space.

Styling of the rear quarter panel features a tubular sheet metal section which contributes to the car's straight lines.

Interior trim combinations offer a colorful variety of fabrics and vinyls. The instrument panel has a broad-face speedometer dial, and all controls and instruments are within easy reach and view of the driver.

Scoring a 'first' in the auto industry, Mercury chassis engineers developed a new type of suspension system that gives an unusually smooth ride. This new system, named "cushion-link" by the engineers who developed it, incorporates an entirely new mechanical linkage in both front and rear suspensions. Road bumps and vibrations are absorbed more completely within this suspension, because the wheels are allowed to move slightly rearward as well as upward.

Achievements In Space Age Are Shared

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Dawn of Year 4 of the space age finds:

The United States leading in bread-and-butter space science. The Soviet Union ahead in spectacular desserts.

U.S. satellites have pioneered the way to use space for better weather forecasts, global communications, precise ship navigation.

They have gleaned vast basic knowledge—more than the Soviets have disclosed from their probings at least—about radiations, meteoritic space dust, and other conditions in space.

The Soviet Union has hit the moon, photographed the back side of the moon, and bids to be first with a man into space.

The U.S.S.R. stunned the world three years ago Tuesday with Sputnik I. Her earlier development of powerful rockets gave her, and still gives her, the means of proud achievements.

A month later came Sputnik II, carrying the dog Laika, the first real public notice of serious and painstaking Soviet desire to send man beyond the shackles of gravity into space, to the moon or planets.

To date, the Soviet Union has put six satellites orbiting around the earth, one into the moon, another into orbit around the sun. She has recovered one satellite with a menagerie of animals to test safe human travel.

But 25 U.S. satellites have gone swinging around the earth—counting the new Courier 1B—and two others have become tiny planets of the sun. Two capsules have been recovered from space.

Speculations are that the Soviet Union is just around the corner from sending the first man into space. The United States still appears a year or more from this goal.

Menace Of Sharks Ends At Sydney

By GORDON TAIT

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Sydney has virtually ended the menace of the man-eating shark on this city's great surfing beaches.

Tens of thousands of people are now diving through the Pacific rollers as the Southern Hemisphere summer approaches. In December and January 100,000 or more will be on Sydney's ocean beaches every non-working day.

The chances are not one person will be attacked by a shark. Yet this is real shark water where sportsmen can count on catching a couple of monsters, 12 or even 15 feet long, in a day's fishing a mile or so off the beaches.

How has Sydney solved the problem?

Meshing is the answer, according to the experts.

There has not been a recoded shark attack on a Sydney surfing beach since 1936. That is when the New South Wales government first let a contract for the meshing of the beaches.

Great nylon mesh nets, 500 feet long and 20 feet deep, are set off the surfing beaches. They do not enclose a shark-proof area but are anchored outside the breakers in the probable path of sharks.

The nets are fixed close to the bottom, where sharks usually move and feed. Every day or two they are lifted and moved to another position.

Sharks become entangled in the mesh and often drown. Those that are still alive are killed, and the carcasses towed out to sea and dumped.

But the contractor's job is not to catch sharks, but to protect the beaches. He is not permitted to set baits to attract sharks into the nets, nor is he paid according to the number of sharks caught.

In the early postwar years of netting, it was not uncommon to catch a dozen potential man-eaters overnight in a single net. Today the nets often are empty.

Governor's Dog May Be Republican

COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP)—Gov. Ernest F. Hollings, a Democrat, said this note was left at the executive mansion:

"Dear Governor Hollings:

"I am sorry that I can't put your paper on your porch; but I believe yours dog thinks I am a Republican! Every day I come to the yard he chases me out. If you want me to put the paper on the porch, please keep your dog tied.

"Thank you, Your Paper Boy."

Hollings said something would be done about the dog, a German Shepherd called "Chief."

Good Health Not Widespread

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A look at medicine finds good health not so widespread as it might be and ribs used to help repair deformed faces.

Cotton Plan To Be Told

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government is expected to announce within a few days its farm production program for next year's cotton.

Farm law requires the Agriculture Department to announce the cotton program by Oct. 15. This program will include acreage planting allotments and marketing quotas based on the allotments. The quotas will require approval by at least two-thirds of the growers voting in a referendum which probably will be held early in December.

It is expected the cotton program will increase planting allotments around 10 per cent.

Corpus Christi Girl Is Aggie Sweetheart

DENTON (AP)—A junior nursing student at Texas Woman's University, Louise Kuehn of Corpus Christi, was named Aggie Sweetheart Tuesday by Texas A&M judges.

Miss Kuehn was one of 13 university sweetheart finalists who were hostesses to the judges last weekend.

The Aggie sweetheart will be presented at the halftime ceremonies of the A&M-SMU football game Nov. 5 in Dallas.

Sicker Than We Think

Americans apparently are not so healthy as generally thought. There are more minor illnesses and days of being below par, than has been suspected.

This is indicated, at least, by 10 scientists who kept careful records upon themselves for nine months, beginning in the fall.

On average, they were free of some symptoms of minor ills only 45 per cent of all that time. The 10 suffered 45 bouts of upper respiratory ailments.

But they averaged only 1½ days absence from their jobs. This suggests absenteeism records don't accurately reflect the extent of minor illnesses, at least among persons who like their work, says the report in the American Review of respiratory Diseases.

Wine As Medicine

Drinking a dry, white wine helped patients overcome one after-effect of surgery in which part of the stomach is removed because of ulcers or cancer. These persons no longer could absorb fats from their food normally, and this caused pain, indigestion, and sometimes far more serious complications. The wine boosted ability to utilize essential food fats, reports Dr. Theodore L. Althausen University of California Medical School.

Ribs for Repair

The 4-year-old boy was so ashamed of his deformed face that he hid in a closet rather than face other youngsters in a hospital ward.

He's one of a number of children whose faces since have been rebuilt by using ribs taken from the youngsters' own chest cages. If care is taken not to damage the membrane surrounding the rib, the rib grows back again, and can even be used repeatedly in step-by-step plastic surgery to repair defects. Drs. J. J. Longacre, G. A. deStéfano and Kaj Holmstrand of Cincinnati report.

Skin Spoiler

Carbon paper is not uncommon as a cause of allergic skin rashes, particularly among secretaries and stenographers, a medical journal says. Patch-tests easily can show if carbon paper is causing the trouble.

Tooth Grinders

Is bruxism one of your bad habits? That means habitual grinding, clenching or clicking of the teeth, even when you're not aware of it, or during sleep. Most people do this to some extent, and it's a cause of abnormal wear and erosion of teeth, and recessing bleeding or inflammation of gums, says Dr. amuel C. Nadler, Forest Hills, N. Y., dentist in the Journal of the American Dental Assn. He urges dentists to help patients detect and overcome bruxism.

Sales Tax Advocated

GALVESTON (AP)—Mayor Roy Sanderford, former state senator and now mayor of Belton, Tuesday advocated a 2 per cent general sales tax as a solution to Texas' fiscal problems.

He spoke to the Texas Municipal League. Sanderford said that a sales tax would have been accepted by the State Democratic Convention in Dallas recently if it had been "fairly debated" before the convention and submitted to a roll call vote.

The Bell County mayor claimed that the general sales tax, with only "take home groceries and medicine to be considered as exempt items," would raise over $120 million on Texas retail sales averaging $13 billion annually.

With the adoption of the 2 per cent general sales tax, the state ad valorem tax on all property could be abolished, and the present 50 million deficit could be quickly absorbed and another $50 million turned back to towns and cities, Sanderford said.

Insurance Firms Back In Business

LUBBOCK (AP)—Two Lubbock insurance firms, in the hands of receivers for 10 months, will be returned to control of the companies, state officials said Tuesday.

State liquidator C. H. Langdeau said an investigation showed Investors Security Life Insurance Co. and Mutual Old Line Life Insurance Co. were solvent and had surplus stock.

You're looking at the newest car in the low-price field—the Mercury Meteor. But the resemblance to other low-price cars ends with the price.

COSTS LESS TO DRIVE! You save on upkeep. Your Mercury dealer is extending his warranty on all 1961 Mercurys to one full year or 12,000 miles, whichever comes first. See him for full information. He will be glad to show you a copy of his new warranty.

You save on gas. Mercury's new, wider choice of engines and transmissions lets you tailor your new Meteor to your kind of driving. Choose super economy, super power, or any combination in between. And just think of these 7 other savings:

A new pre-lubricated chassis lets you drive 30,000 miles before it needs another lubrication. A new-type oil filter lets you drive 4,000 miles between oil changes. Mufflers are aluminized for more than double the life. Brakes are self-adjusting. New zinc-coated body panels protect your car from rust two or three times as long. Spark plugs are self-cleaning, save gas. A special Super-Enamel finish never needs waxing.

LOOKS BETTER—AND IS! The styling and size are completely new. Trimmer, easier to garage, far more agile. You get a de luxe interior in every model at no extra cost.

FEELS LIKE MORE! Here's the first low-price car to provide a true "fine-car feel." Not just shock absorbers and springs for your riding comfort, but a unique new system of rubber cushioning called Cushion-Link suspension. It is exclusive on all Meteor 800's, Montereys, and Mercury station wagons. No more bumps from tar strips and other road-surface irregularities.

Don't miss the first showing! See your Mercury dealer now. Here, without question, is the newest and smartest buy in the low-price field.
