Travis Lackey, 49, of Boulder, Colorado, a member of one of Wellington's prominent pioneer families, was buried here Saturday afternoon, April 30, after grave-side services, at the Old Wellington cemetery.

Mr. Lackey died in a Boulder hospital Wednesday, April 27. He had undergone surgery for stomach ulcers, and a blood clot formed, causing his death, friends here were told.

The Rev. J. F. Michael, pastor of the Methodist Church, and a former pastor of Lackey's sister, officiated. Pall bearers were Lowell Wells, James Sullivan, Clark Anderson, Dick Sweat, John Ben Castleberry, and David Robinson.

Attending was an unusually large group of friends of his childhood and youth, and older friends of the family.

The Kelso Funeral Home was in charge of local arrangements.

George Travis Lackey was born in Wellington November 3, 1905, the son of Judge J. L. Lackey, now of Dallas, and the late Mrs. Lackey. His father was prominent in the building of Wellington of that period and also served as county judge from 1906 to 1908.

In 1916, the family moved to Donley County, then to Claude. Travis Lackey and his two brothers followed their father into the practice of law.

After completing his work at New Mexico Military Institute, Mr. Lackey attended Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tennessee.

Mr. Lackey later practiced law at Shamrock, then moved to Stinnett, residing there for a number of years. There he became interested in the sales of oil properties, as well as law.

He moved to Boulder a few years ago.

Mr. Lackey was married to Gwen Yount February 19, 1937, at Amarillo.

Surviving are his wife and three children, Sally and John, all of the family home, 2195 King Street, Boulder; and Mrs. Jack Akin of Albuquerque, N. M.; his father, Judge J. L. Lackey of Dallas; two brothers and a sister, O. T. Lackey of Grand Junction, Colo.; Glen Lackey of Denver, Colorado; and Mrs. G. D. Caldwell of Claude; and one grandchild.

"Present Rates Not Confiscatory"

Appellate Court Upholds City In Telephone Rate Case

The 7th District Court of Civil Appeals Monday, May 2, upheld a ruling of the 100th District Court against the General Telephone Company of the Southwest in the now almost-one-year-old Wellington telephone rate dispute.

The ruling handed down by Presiding Judge Luther Gribble on November 16, 1954, dissolved a temporary restraining order which the company asked against the City of Wellington and the City Council, and denied a temporary injunction.

The Telephone Company appealed this ruling, and it was upon this that the Appellate court acted Monday.

The temporary restraining order and temporary injunction asked referred to a penal ordinance and a rate setting ordinance passed by the City Council in September.

In asking these, the General Telephone Company filed a sworn petition asserting and affidavits supporting its contention that the rates set by the City of Wellington would result in confiscation of the Company's property devoted to rendering local exchange telephone service in the Wellington exchange, according to the appellant's brief.

Judge E. O. Northcutt, in his ruling, said:

"We are of the opinion, and so hold, that since this record shows a small net rate under the rate sought to be changed, that it was not shown to be confiscatory, and that a temporary injunction would not lie pending the final hearing."

City Attorney Paul Spillman, who represents the city in this action, explained that Judge Northcutt pointed out the wide latitude of sound judicial discretion left to a trial judge in such matters. It added that a rate which at one time might produce a small net return would not be confiscatory, but that at a later date might be confiscatory because of changed conditions; "but as this record stands, the trial court had to determine the validity or invalidity of the rate set by Ordinance 333 on the conditions as they existed at the time it was promulgated and as relied upon by the parties on the trial of this hearing and the evidence introduced. We do not think the trial court abused its (Continued on page 10)

Oleta Snell Tells of Mission Work in Chili

Wellington friends this week have learned of the missionary work of Miss Oleta Snell, who formerly lived here, in Santiago, Chili. Now home for one year, she is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Snell at Vernon.

Miss Snell teaches religious education courses in the Baptist Seminary in Santiago and works with churches, one in particular.

"We have 25 students in our seminary, but we also have a new building and now we can increase the enrollment to 50," she said.

A serene young woman, Miss Snell's face lights up when she speaks of her work.

The same type of courses are offered at the seminaries in the United States, but on a different level.

"Some of our young men and women have high school educations, but some do not. A boy remains five years if he has no high school education, three years if he has. We are working toward the day when all our students will come to us with high school educations," she said.

"There has been separation of state and church in Chili since 1925 so we have freedom to work. We just need more helpers," Miss Snell said at one point.

The church with which she works began as a congregation which met in the open air for four years. Then the men built a church of mud brick construction—many buildings are of this type. Soon it was outgrown, and now a brick auditorium is being built.

Friends often ask about the customs of Chili.

She smiled thoughtfully. "Well, most of our baptisms are (Continued on page 10)

Mr. Zeck had retired from farming only about five years ago, when he and Mrs. Zeck moved from their farm near here to town, and he continued to be active until about two years ago.

Funeral services were held at the Faith Baptist Church, of which he was a charter member, Monday afternoon, with the Rev. Bob Evans, pastor, officiating, assisted by Elder L. Stonecipher, pastor of the Friendship Baptist Church.

Rain Up to 4 Inches Falls; Wind Damage Reported

Rainfall ranging up to four inches fell over the county Sunday night, May 1, but high winds about 4:00 p. m. cut a swath of damage about 12 miles long, beginning near Rolla, extending northeast to the intersection of Highway 83 and 203, then going east.

Most of this damage was to outbuildings and trees, with some loss of chickens, but no livestock.

From one and one-fourth to one and a half inches was measured in rain gauges in Wellington. It was heavier in the north part of the county. Milt Williams just south of the County Line, measured 3.4 inches.

Fred Squyres, who was over part of the Elm Creek watershed Monday, said that around three inches fell throughout that area.

Mrs. Alex Coleman, Wellington correspondent at Dozier, reported two and a half inches there, with some hail, but with no damage reported. She added that four inches was reported north of Samnorwood on the Donald Coleman and Red Ledbetter farms. Bridges on Lake Creek were washed out. Everett Fain measured 1.9 inches a mile north of Lutie.

There was considerable variation in the Quail area.

Neeley station at Quail measured one and a half inches, but Monty Mitchell, northeast of Quail, had two and a fourth inches and Ben Farmer of Marella, got three inches of rain. Lewis Morris measured 3.38. Cecil Price, northwest of Quail, got 1.6 inches.

Jack Davis measured one and three-fourths inches at the intersection of Highway 203 and the old Quail highway. Charley Amerson, 5 miles northwest, received 2.2 inches.

Toward Dodson, Elbert Warren, 10 miles southeast, measured only .8, but Truitt Holland, a little farther on, received 1.15. Most of the Dodson area received from an inch and a quarter.

The rainfall was lighter south of town.

G. T. Austin at Loco reported .8; Bess Owen reported that he received a half inch at his farm two miles south of Dodson; while R. R. Crawley also got half an inch, but farther south, on the ranch of Dr. J. Frank Johnson, no rain fell.

Car Lost in Buck Creek During Rise Sun. Night

The six-month old 1954 Plymouth four-door sedan owned by S. I. Beattie of the Rolla community and driven by his son, Robert Beattie, was caught in Buck Creek Sunday May 1, about midnight, after the rising water had washed out the sandy crossing.

The accident occurred where the section line road between the Willie Smith and Claude Savage farms fords Buck Creek, approximately five miles south and one and a quarter west of Wellington. Beattie was returning home from town.

Only about a foot of water was in the creek when Beattie drove into the creek, but he could not see that water had washed out the sandy crossing. Buck Creek was rising rapidly, and eventually the car stood in four feet of water, and the force was sufficient to turn the vehicle around.

Approximately 45 minutes was required for a Cudd Brothers vench truck to pull the car out Monday morning.

Price Escapes As Car Overturns

The 1948 Ford, driven by Hubert Price, went out of control and overturned west of the old Crossroads School Sunday evening, May 1.

The accident occurred while it was raining, and the youth apparently lost control of his vehicle after meeting another car, according to his father, Cecil Price.

The youth was not injured, although he was taken to the Memphis hospital to be checked and treated for minor bruises. He was able to return to School Monday.

School Transfer Deadline Set

June 1 is the deadline for transferring children from one school district to another, Miss Mary Lou Wilson of the county superintendent's office said this week.

Any child who next year attends a school not in his home school district must be transferred.

These transfers may be made in the county superintendent's office.

Teachers Picnic Monday Evening

The final event of the year for the Collingsworth County Teachers Association will be the annual picnic Monday evening, May 9, at the Baptist encampment northeast of Wellington, Homa Yarbrough of Dodson, president, has announced.

The teachers will bring their own food for themselves and their families, except for the drinks and ice cream, which will be furnished by the association.

Mr. Yarbrough urged all teachers to be present.

The Teachers Association has 100 per cent membership in both the county and state organizations.

Every Child in School Every Day till the Term Ends

City School May Lose Three Teachers If Attendance Drops

The Wellington schools may lose as many as three teachers next year unless parents keep their children in classes every day for the remainder of the school year," Supt. Bennett Goodloe revealed this week, as he explained to the school patrons the method by which the number of instructors is determined.

This is determined by the "average daily attendance", of ADA, as it is usually called, of the schools. The following statement was made by Mr. Goodloe this week regarding the ADA situation in the schools, which now is on the border line.

"This is to certify that the average daily attendance for the first five six-weeks, in the Wellington white schools is as follows: Wellington elementary-344.29 ADA Junior High - - - - 238.10 ADA High School - - - - 203.82 ADA

Total 776.21 ADA

"The above figures for the average daily attendance represents the reports from the principals for five six-weeks periods. The last six weeks report for the school year will be made at the end of school on May 27, and the last six weeks report might cause a slight change in the above totals. The Texas Education Agency allows the Wellington Independent School District 25 pupils per teacher, which is calculated on the average daily attendance.

"Average daily attendance of 776.21 divided by 25 will give 30.64 white teachers, or a total of 31 teachers (the state allows the district to count the major fraction thereof as one whole unit). The above figures show that our school will qualify for 31 teachers in the White schools for the 1955-56 school year, providing the ADA is not less than the above figures.

"By all the children coming to school every day this month we will be eligible for one more teacher, a total of 32. On the other hand, if attendance decreases, we will lose three teachers, giving only 28 next year.

"We believe that every parent is interested in the Wellington schools having as many teachers as possible, and we urgently ask your co-operation in this matter", Goodloe declared.

There are 39 teachers in the Wellington schools this year. The schools have 33 teachers "earned" or approved by the Texas Education Agency. This does not include Supt. Goodloe, the high school principal, librarian, vocational agriculture and homemaking teachers, which are approved under another setup, and classed as special teachers.

In addition to this, Mr. Goodloe hired one additional teacher in place of the secretary, to which he was entitled.

Kiwanians Hold Mothers Night Banquet Friday

The Wellington Kiwanis Club is holding its annual Mothers Night Banquet Friday evening, May 6, at 7:30 p. m. in the community building.

This is the event each year in which these business and professional men honor their wives, mothers, mothers-in-law, sweethearts and other guests, Mack Saied Jr., president, announced. This year's program will be entirely musical, featuring local talent.

The Melody Men high school boys trio, composed of Joe Thompson, Gary Phillips and David McCaskill, will sing, as will a duet of Janice Davis and LaVena Murdock. Instrumental selections will be given by Melvin Greenwood, high school band director, accompanied by Miss Nancy Elliott.

A large turnout is expected, Saied said.

VFW Sponsors Dance at Armory

The first dance in the new National Guard Armory is scheduled for Friday night, May 6, when the Veterans of Foreign Wars is sponsoring Billy Wells, the Texas Drummer Boy, and his Western Swing Band.

Wells, who currently hails from Clayton, New Mexico, is the young fellow who broke the record playing drums recently in Amarillo, then collapsed as he ended his marathon and had to be taken to the hospital, according to Durant McInnis, V F W entertainment chairman.

Wells features an 8-piece orchestra playing western style music, with a girl vocalist.

He is now on a swing through the Panhandle, and Wellington will be his only stop in a radius of about 100 miles.

The VFW dance starts at 9:00 p. m., and is the first dance held here in several months.

Over 1,000 Passengers Expected

Hollis Kiddies to Arrive Here By Train Thursday

Last year 831 kiddies made the trip and this year school officials at nearby Dodson have indicated that they will join in the fun. The tour is for lower grade school students in all surrounding schools.

Railroad officials estimated that between 12 and 15 passenger cars would be needed to take care of the expected crowd of youngsters, many of whom will find their mothers at their sides.

As matters stood this week, all was in readiness with the prospect of a train ride and a short holiday from school just about all anyone could ask for.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — All eyes are on the clock now as Legislators vie for position at the Speaker's post, to "run" with their favorite bills.

Time is swiftly bringing the Legislative "race" to a close. Hundreds of bills will die on the calendar and never reach the finish line.

But, hundreds have passed. House members took a quick look at a long, uncontested bills calendar, then passed 164 measures on to the Senate in two days.

Senators are now considering these bills and scrambling to get the House-passed tax bill under the wire before adjournment on or about May 10.

Subject to Senate approval is a two-cent gasoline tax increase, a one-cent-per-pack increase in cigarette taxes, plus a tax on cigars, snuff and packaged tobacco. Also in the omnibus tax bill is a levy on trading stamps and uranium ore. A hike in beer dealers' license fees is imminent. Contemplated too is freezing of the present natural gas production tax at 8 per cent—originally due to drop to 7 per cent in 1956.

It is estimated that the tax bill, as written, will produce $25,000,000 a year in additional revenue for the general fund. That is $5,000,000 short of the appropriation bill. So, there will have to be more levies, or the appropriation bill cut.

Veterans Land Bill
Both houses voted to submit a constitutional amendment to the people, in November of 1956, calling for an additional $100,000,000 for the veterans land program. Replacement of the Governor and Attorney General as members of the Veterans Land Board, by two appointed members, is specified in the bill.

Governor Allan Shivers and Attorney General John Ben Sheppard repudiated the minutes of the board as compiled by Bascom Giles, former Land Commissioner, and the Board ordered the minutes corrected.

Senator Jimmy Phillips, member of the Senate investigating committee, immediately seized, for photostating, all the old minute books. Phillips said he did this, under committee subpoena, "to make certain that there is a permanent record of the minutes as they were originally entered".

Labor Legislation
Three bills by Sen. George Parkhouse, all fought by organized labor, moved ahead in the House.

The "Ford Motor Bill" was softened, then passed, subject to Senate concurrence. It prohibits unemployment compensation benefits to workmen idled by a strike in other plants owned by their employer. It exempts the workman who makes a good faith offer to return to his job.

Modified by the House labor committee, and reported favorably, was Parkhouse's bill to eliminate "Port Arthur" strike situations. It would stop unions from picketing plants where the majority of the workers were non-union.

Another Parkhouse bill authorizes suits for injunctions and damages.

Workmen's Benefits
Benefits for workmen are designed to improve.

Passed by the House was a bill by Rep. Garth Bates, increasing the workmen's compensation rate from $25 to $35 a week.

A Senate bill by Parkhouse increases benefits under unemployment compensation from $20 to $25 a week, while restricting those who may receive jobless pay.

Governor Crawford Martin
You can call him Governor Martin now.

Sen Crawford C. Martin of Hillsboro became governor for a day. As President-Pro-Tem of the Senate, he became Governor when Governor Shivers went to Washington and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey conveniently absented himself across the Sabine River for a day.

Friends of the Hillsboro Senator organized a "junior inaugural" in his honor.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The good May rains have started. Three or four more like the one on May 1, and people can take heart again. Frankly I never saw them so deep in the dumps as they have been since the last rain in January—not even in the thirties. They are smiling and hopeful now. We are on our way.

Alex Coleman of Dozier has some good irrigation wells. He reports that he had to shut them down; for his furrows were so full of water that they could not take anymore. However he is irrigating again this Wednesday and that is the way the irrigation experts say to do it. If you are going in for irrigation farming with all its expense don't look at the sky—just irrigate.

This irrigation business is growing so fast in the Wellington area that it is hard to keep track of all the new wells. Looking over the files of the paper, I note that this time two years ago I was writing about the two wells that had been drilled at that time. The more we learn about irrigation the faster this development will get along. R. N. McAlister has a free flowing well that is just across the road from the old Bob Goodnight place with which he plans to irrigate forty acres.

The rains have revived my interest in my yard and I am starting to work on grass and flowers. But there is one thing that I am not going to try to do and that is raise vegetables. For the last five dry years, I have spent ten times as much on city water as I ever got out of vegetables. There is a difference in spending money in order to create beauty from wasting money on something you can buy cheaper at the grocery store. The growing of flowers is a luxury for the soul. Trying to grow vegetables under the shade of and over the roots of trees is just plain darn foolishness.

Mildred Starr of Amarillo and formerly of Wellington was very proud of the shrubs in her back yard. One night she glanced out the window and saw a man digging them up. She called the police and they arrived shortly and caught the plant lover going over the fence with the last of her bushes. It seems he was in the business of digging up other people's shrubs and selling them.

The City Council is again reminding the owners of dogs that it is time to have them vaccinated against rabies. I like dogs as everybody knows, but I like children more. As mayor in the thirties I started the most wholesale slaughter of unvaccinated dogs that there has ever been in Wellington. Some of the complaints I received from women ring in my ears to this day. Be it so. The City has ordered Bill McCarver to kill all dogs that do not have a CURRENT vaccination tag on their collar. If your dog has not been vaccinated and has a collar and tag to show it, get him vaccinated now.

Louise went over to Childress to pick up some engravings of pictures from the Childress Index and there she met a most pleasant young lady who was complaining about Wellington receiving rain and Childress receiving none. That brings up a discussion. For years Morris Higley of the Index and Anton Kock of the Quannah Tribune have been talking about the Greenbelt. They have a Greenbelt thing of a ma dodger in Childress and they used to have the Greenbelt Golf Association tourney in Quannah.

But the plain facts were and are: Childress and Quannah were never in the Greenbelt and they never will be until the geology of our country and its weather changes. This is historical writing. The Greenbelt was named by the Indians. It has to do with a strip below the caprock of the great plains. It includes such towns as Turkey, Memphis, (perhaps Clarendon) and definitely Wellington. When the Indians moved across the high plains southeastward they came off the level plains and descended into the caprock and there they found a broad band of green awaiting them. The Indians had another name for that tract of land in which Childress and Quannah are located. They called it the white belt because it was so dry that the color of the grass was white. Both Morris and Anton should study up on the geology and history of our region before either one of them claims that their town is in the Greenbelt. The plain facts are that there was never any economic need of establishing Childress or Quannah in the first place. The people could have traded at Wellington or in Vernon.

New Patrick Station Open On Highway 83

The new Patrick Station on highway 83 was opened this week by R. C. Patrick and Robert Patrick, who have been associated with service stations here for a number of years.

The new modern building, built by the brothers, is of concrete block construction, with a white exterior finish. It is 30 by 70 feet in size, with a wide concrete apron leading to the pump area.

The station is handling Bell gasoline, along with all brands of motor oil, tires and other accessories. Washing and greasing will be featured.

The Patrick brothers have working with them Bill Black.

"We invite all our friends to visit us in our new location, which is just a block north of the station we operated for several years. We feel we are in a better position to serve you than we have ever been. At the same time, we promise you the same courteous, efficient service you have known at our stations through the years", they said.

Legion Team Works on Hitting At Sunday Practice

Four Hedley boys came over Sunday to try out with the American Legion Baseball team, manager Jack Ford reported.

Standouts in the practice session were Hubert Price in the catching department, Darryl Morris, Gano Wilson, Jerry Elbert, Joel Young, Wes Savage, Dick Reeves, and Bill Beaver of Hedley looked good at fielding.

"The pitching staff looked real fine, with Duggie Jameson, Gano Wilson, Denzil Patchell and Billy Bratten showing up on their speed and control", Ford continued.

Morris, Jameson, Elbert, Wilson, Price, Young and Savage are coming to the front with their hitting, with Morris, Jameson and Elbert hitting a fine long ball for extra bases.

In a scrimmage game with the Wellington colored boys, the Junior Legionnaires won 5 to 2 in a four-inning game. Jameson, pitching the first three innings, allowed no runs and one hit. In one inning, Patchell allowed two runs on two hits. Then Wilson finished with no hits or runs.

Dodson Children Have Picnic

by Ruth Hightower

The third and fourth grades of the Dodson school enjoyed an all day picnic at the Childress Park Thursday, April 28. This is an annual school event at Dodson. A picnic lunch was served at noon. Baseball and games were played by the students, parents, and teachers. Science entered into the day's events when frogs, bugs, horned toads, plants, and rocks were studied by the pupils. Some of these were brought home and are now being used in the regular science classes in the third and fourth grade room.

Attending the picnic were the third and fourth grade pupils, Mr. and Mrs. Sammy Motesenbaker and Randy, Mrs. U. N. Davis, Mrs. Howard Hunt, Mrs. Buck Watson, Mrs. Thurman Crowover, and the teacher of the group, Miss Wilma Hightower.

When the boys and girls reached home, they said "That was a good dinner, and I had the best time that I have ever had in all of my life".

Crossroads Report

Dear Editor:

I see where a prominent magazine editor is upset by a book. One which a Professor Stouffer wrote claiming that the more education a man has got, the more tolerant-like he looks at fresh new ideas such as co-existing under Red heels.

This editorialist inquires, maybe because he wants to know, or maybe just because it's a good question, to-wit: "Does Education Create Tolerance Toward Reds?"

Well, not around this fork of the creek it don't. Lots of our local citizens have been pretty near drowned in education but it hasn't made a one of them stupid who wasn't that way to begin with.

TEACHINGS FOR AMERICANS

What would you think about this statement: "Socialism means the use of government to bring about equality of opportunity among citizens". Sounds like a good role for government, doesn't it? Equality of opportunity is one of the cardinal objectives of our American political and economic system. We have come nearer this goal than any other nation in history. But our system is not "Socialism". It is the opposite to Socialism; it is capitalism. To say that "Socialism means the use of government to bring about equality of opportunity among citizens" is, at best, a half truth or a slanted statement.

Yet the statement appeared in the 1946 edition of Magruder's American Government high school textbook. It was one of many statements in the widely used text which provoked criticism by many parents and a number of teachers. The book's publishers, Allyn and Bacon, Inc., fair-mindedly considered all criticisms and over a period of 10 years the book has been rewritten. The 1955 edition, while it has a few defects, is a splendid textbook proudly proclaiming the advantages of our political and economic system.

Identifies Socialism-Communism

The 1955 Magruder text says this about Socialism: "Socialism is often identified with communism, primarily because followers of Karl Marx often refer to themselves as socialists. But socialism is really much older than Marxism. While the socialists believe and preach many of the things that the Marxists do, most of them today reject revolution. . . . The evolutionary socialists believe they can bring about socialism peacefully. . . . By working within the established country".

The 1946 Magruder text, discussing the principle of personal liberty vs. economic security, said, "Old personal liberty permitted you to keep all you make for 'us four and no more.'" but the "new civil liberty will free you from unemployment and the pangs of want" — through the assessment of higher income, inheritance and luxury taxes. This material does not appear in the 1955 edition. Change of Spirit

The most wholesome change has been wrought in the understanding spirit of the 1955 textbook. The 1946 text, with its orientation toward world government and its failure to adequately emphasize the advantages of the private enterprise economic system, would hardly engender patriotism or inspire enthusiasm for our basic economic principles. On the other hand the 1955 edition breathes a spirit of heart-warming love of country and appreciation of our great economic system.

Here, from the opening chapter of the 1955 Magruder's American Government, is the kind of textbook writing which most of America's teachers have been searching for, and for which the parents of America can be grateful:

Proudly We Hail

"Our's is a nation with the highest standard of living ever known to man. Look about you; it is easy to see the material things that make it so: automobiles, skyscrapers, radios, busy factories, airplanes, mighty dams, electric lights, and fertile farms; the list is endless. But these things are only the material evidences of America's greatness.

"We are a great nation and a great people today because we have carried forward the spirit of the Declaration of Independence; we have maintained what is truly 'a government of the people, by the people, for the people.' . . . In the United States, we have indirect or representative democracy — a democracy in a republic."

Dr. Jonas E. Salk, who developed the polio vaccine named in his honor, poses with wife, Donna, and their three sons. Among first to receive inoculations during the test run in 1954 the boys are, from left: Jonathan, 5, Peter, 11, and Darrel, 8.

"Liberty conceives that the mind and the spirit of men can be free only if the individual is free to choose his own calling, to develop his talents, to win and to keep a home sacred from intrusion, to rear children in an orderly society. It holds that man must be free to earn, to spend, to save, and to accumulate property that may give protection and security to himself and to his loved ones".

"Patriotism can be aroused by patriotic teachers, editors, radio news interpreters, film producers, and Government propaganda; but patriotism whose roots grow deepest comes from a just government that fosters equal opportunities for all. . . . Such a government is our own. . . . Thus it is our privilege as well as our duty to love our country, support its Constitution, obey its laws, respect its flag, and defend it against all enemies".

Dental Diseases On Increase

AUSTIN, — There are some 300 million dental cavities in United States children, and the backlog is increasing at the rate of about 40 million a year. The toll of dental disease is a particular tragedy because the knowledge to reduce the high incidence of tooth decay is at hand, according to Dr. Henry A. Holle, State Health Officer.

One of the chief reasons for the decay toll is the heavy consumption of sweets, he said. Sweets are readily fermentable and offer a good nutrient for bacteria offer fruit or popcorn or cheese to children instead of jams and pasteries for between-meal snacks.

The ritual of toothbrushing is still one of the most effective methods of preventing decay, Dr. Holle said. However, he added, the brushing should be done immediately after eating rather than on arising in the morning and on retiring at night.

"In addition to the toothbrush, fluoridation of water promises to help reduce substantially throughout a lifetime the dental crippling that now plagues the adult generation," Dr. Holle said.

"As part of the preventive program, children should be taken to the dentist as soon as their first teeth are in", said Dr. Holle.

The dentist and the young patient can thus become acquainted under favorable circumstances, free of any discomfort. This type of introduction is much better, happier and more productive than one in which the child is suffering from a toothache caused by dental neglect, he added.

A GOOD, FAST FIGHT, THAT'S THE THING

Boxing at the National Guard Armory has brought out some fast action in all weights, Judge R. L. Templeton reports. Proceeds from these fights will go to help finance Babe Ruth Baseball during the summer. Golden Glovers might not do it like Pat Templeton and J. C. Saunders, left, who prefer the stiff-arm method, but it was a good fight with Templeton winning the decision. In the next picture, 103-pound Johnny Lee and 115 pound Mike Rainey put all they've got in the fight. Lee won the decision. In an earlier fight, shown at far right, David McCaskill and Bobby Langford, in the 140 pound class, gave fans some of the best boxing seen in the armory. McCaskill won. Colored boys have been giving fans some of the fastest bouts, since they are fresh from high school boxing. Carter Hunnicutt, left, is getting in the punches in the lower picture, but Harry. Ingram won the decision. They are 95 pounders. —Graves Photos

Three World's Records!

Research often reduces chances for record performance. Even with this handicap the Purina Research Farm at Gray Summit, Missouri, is credited with at least 3 world records.

One is for pork production. The farm for four years sent to market an average of 17 1/2 hogs per year per each sow and gilt kept on the premises. For 3 consecutive years the Farm has marketed a fraction over 99 percent of all ducks put down, another record. The Farm also has the best record for egg production and number of poulets per hen ever reported on turkeys.

Range Management Tips

Giving chicks a good start during the first few weeks is important. Pullet development and management during the growing period are also important. Here are some helpful hints.

1. Move pullets to range when 6 to 8 weeks old, weather permitting.
2. Provide at least one acre of good pasture for each 100 pullets.
3. Provide one 10x12 foot range shelter per 100 pullets.
4. Provide 5 to 8 inches of roost space for each pullet, depending on breed.
5. Provide 3 inches of feeder space per pullet.
6. Provide two 3-5 gal. founts per 100 pullets.
7. Range shelters, feed hoppers, water founts should be moved often enough to prevent concentration of droppings, which kill range grasses and may cause disease spread.
8. Clean and disinfect range shelters before use each year with Purina Insect Oil to control lice, mites and disease germs.

Mr. J. P. Guthrie was by the store last week to get some Purina Pig Startena for his pigs. He is going to wean some mighty fine pigs. It takes about 30 pounds of Startena per pig to make them weigh around 50 pounds or more at weaning time. Pig Startena now sells for $5.90 per hundred pounds and at this price 15 or more extra pound of pig will cost about $1.77.

Bob Jones was telling me that his pullets have started laying. Bob told me he got his first egg when they were seventeen weeks old.

Last week I saw some mighty fine chicks while visiting at the homes of Mr. Chas. Graham, Melvin Kiker, Wister Harrison and Mrs. Ray Clubb. These folks are doing a mighty fine job raising their chicks on the Purina Program. Mrs. Clubb told me that she hasn't lost a chick yet. All those that are following the Purina Program are getting the same results.

Health Hint

If you see bloody droppings, it's a good indication your chickens have Cecal Coccidiosis. If so, start treatment immediately with Purina Sulfa-Nox. Ask for complete treatment instructions. It's a good idea to get a supply of Sulfa-Nox before your birds get sick, because quick treatment is your best assurance of success in controlling the disease.

When birds go off feed... due to Air Sac colds, use Purina Chek-R-Aid, a highly fortified formula with vitamins and antibiotics. This complete feed is wonderful in reducing mortality from Air Sac disease. Stimulates appetite, too. Ask about it.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

Builder of Communities

Chamber of Commerce have been described in many terms through the years. Some descriptions have been most complimentary; others have not been so complimentary.

Probably the best of the phrases used in describing the Chamber of Commerce is "Builder of Communities". It is all inclusive, and descriptive of the job a Chamber of Commerce seeks to do.

What so many people overlook in considering the place the Chamber of Commerce occupies in the community is the fact that it is the community.

Your Chamber of Commerce is not merely a secretary or a general manager. It is fifty or one hundred or one thousand business and professional leaders, depending upon the size of the community it serves.

These men and the businesses they represent pay dues to support the Chamber of Commerce, and then they roll up their sleeves and go to work to make their money more effective in the building of their community.

The paid staff coordinates their various activities, but they furnish the manpower.

Check any community in the State of Texas today that has made progress in the past decade and you will find in that community a well-supported, active Chamber of Commerce. In communities where progress has been lacking you will find a Chamber of Commerce that has neither the financial nor the physical support of the citizenship.

As a slogan for the observance of Chamber of Commerce Week, May 1-7, in this community, we suggest: "Together, through out Chamber of Commerce, we build!"

HANDWRITTEN CORRECTIONS OF WILL NOT BE RECOGNIZED IN COURT

Changing and revoking wills has involved many an estate in litigation because the proper legal methods were not used and the statutes were not followed.

Take the case of Mr. S. Some time ago he went into his lawyers office and laid in front of his attorney a will which had been prepared for him about a year previously. He said that he had made a few changes in it and wanted to know whether his attorney thought the changes were all right.

Mr. S. was attempting to change two items of his will by drawing lines through certain words in these items and interlining, in his own handwriting, the changes he wanted. He was not attempting to revoke his entire will but merely trying to change these two items.

If Mr. S. were to die with his will in that condition, the probate court would not recognize the changes that he had made, but would probably probate the will as it was originally written. Mr. S. was surprised to learn this and immediately requested that a new will be prepared.

After the will has been once executed, changes cannot be made legally by crossing out parts of a will and interlining corrections or additions. To change a will, an entirely new will must be written and properly executed or an addition by way of a codicil should be executed.

Since a will does not take effect until the death of the person making it, the provisions of the will should be reviewed by the maker at least once a year to be sure that changing conditions and circumstances have not been such as to require a modification of the will. It is very easy to postpone doing a thing of this kind, but failure to do so may result in the intentions of the maker of the will being thwarted to a certain extent.

There are many changing circumstances which would be brought to his attention if a person would review his will at least once a year in the light of circumstances at the time.

Such things as deaths among the legatees or devisees named in his will, births, marriages or divorces in the family, accidents or sickness among the close relatives which make it desirable to increase or decrease the amount given certain ones, substantial increase or decrease in the value of the estate of the person making the will, death of all witnesses to the will and many other factors, may cause a person to want to execute a new will or add a codicil to his old one.

A free pamphlet containing useful information on wills and related matters may be obtained by sending your name and address on a postcard to State Bar of Texas, Colorado at Fifteenth, Austin 1, Texas.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Dodson Church to Honor Mother of the Year

by Ruth Hightower
As has been the custom for the last five years at the Dodson Church of the Nazarene, the Mother of the Year will be honored with a special service on Mother's Day. The program will be given by all departments of the church on Sunday evening, May 8, at 7:30.

At the close of the program, the life history of the Mother of the Year will be read. She will then be presented a bouquet of flowers. The audience will not know who the Mother of the Year will be until her life story is read. The young people of the church will select one of the older mothers to be the honored guest.

The theme of the entire program will be "My Mother's Scrapbook". The young people will illustrate the various pages with readings, scriptures and songs.

Mrs. Bynum Hightower is in general charge of the program.

Court—

The Wellington telephone rate problem began in May 1954, when the General Telephone Company asked a rate raise for local users. This was refused and two other rate schedules were submitted. The telephone company then placed in effect a higher rate schedule without the authority of the city council and billed customers accordingly. The City retaliated by passing a penal ordinance, making it a violation for any public utility to charge rate other than that prescribed by city ordinance. Each violation was punishable by $200 fine, each day a separate violation and each bill a separate violation. The City Council then passed an ordinance raising rates from those then existing to the rate schedule now in effect.

The General Telephone Company then filed suit against the city requesting a temporary restraining order and a temporary injunction and permanent injunction.

Upon the ruling in the District Court November 16, the appeal was filed.

The telephone company has not yet issued a statement on the Appellate ruling, but two courses are open to them. The case may be appealed to the State Supreme Court, or the company may come back to the trial court and begin its action over again.

him in death in 1950.

ship Church at Buck Creek, reported two inches, and that the rain fell in sheets.

John Trew reported three-fourths inch at Rolla farm.

Reporting storm damage in the Rolla Area were Ray Clubb, who lost a chicken house and chickens; and Ed Crawford. Others reporting damage were Guy Bell, Henry Gray, who had some of rock veneer knocked off his house; Mrs. Nettie Hill, Mrs. Rebbe M. Snider; while a barn and chicken house were destroyed on the Morris Wells farm northeast of town, with loss of chickens for David Armstrong, who works the place.

Many trees are down in the area northeast of town.

Oleta Snell—

on Christmas Day. That's usually the warmest day of the year, for the seasons are just opposite to here. Most of the baptisms take place in nearby streams," Miss Snell explained.

Santiagoans have four meals a day, with a breakfast of bread and coffee, a substantial noon meal, tea between 4:30 and 5:30, and dinner anywhere to ten o'clock.

"If ice cream is served, it is eaten first, then your other courses. There is the idea that you shouldn't eat anything cold and go outside. It isn't good for the health.

"Most of the houses in Santiago are not heated, but when one is, you will see people back away from the fire to cool off before they go outside."

Santiago, and the entire country of Chili, is a land of contrasts—of great wealth and much poverty, with a small emerging middle class. It is a cosmopolitan city, with a large population of German and Italian descent.

Refugee Emigration is unrestricted and this has brought numbers of Eastern Europeans. Some of these are members of Baptist Churches in their home lands, and they find a church home in Chili.

Like many cities of the United States, Santiago is having a building boom, and the utilities, state owned, cannot keep pace.

"Electricity is rationed. The city is divided into districts, and the electricity is off in each of these one day a week. Gas was rationed last year, too, and it happened that in our school, both were off the same day," Miss Snell remembers.

Miss Snell spoke at the First Baptist Church Sunday night and showed slides of Chili and Santiago at the meeting of the WMU Monday.

She will come to Wellington at least once more before she returns to Chili, where she has served 12 years. That will be at the Ex-students Reunion in August, when she will greet classmates who graduated with her here in 1932.

Legislation Introduced

WTCC SEEKS MORE ACREAGE FOR AREAS OF GENERAL CROP FAILURE

ABILENE — The West Texas Chamber of Commerce announced Thursday that it is supporting legislation introduced in Congress by Representatives Omar Burlison of Anson and W. R. Poage of Waco which would provide additional acreage for the six basic crops in areas of general crop failure, to be effective for 1955 and subsequent years.

The bill provides for temporary additional acreage in areas where the Secretary of Agriculture finds that a natural disaster has reduced the average yield for the immediately preceding two years to less than 50 per cent of the highest average yield for such areas for any three consecutive years of the preceding ten years.

WTCC spokesmen said that yields per acre in cotton and wheat production in West Texas were drastically reduced in 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1953 because of drought.

"About the only way our producers can recover the financial losses they have suffered will be to have the opportunity to increase their acreage, and unless some special legislation can be enacted they will be unable to do this under the acreage control program", Loyal H. Walker, WTCC agriculture department manager, pointed out.

In the case of cotton, wheat and corn the Secretary shall allot to each eligible farm such additional acreage as may be requested by county agricultural stabilization and conservation committees.

In the case of peanuts, rice and tobacco, he shall allot to each eligible farm an allotment equal to the greater of 150 percent of the established allotment equal to the greater of 150 percent of the established allotment for the farm for the current crop year or 100 percent of the highest acreage planted to such crop in the preceding five crop years.

It is provided that no acreage shall be allotted which would result in a total acreage allotment of all crops on any farm in excess of 75 percent of the cropland on such farm.

RED CROSS NEEDS RECREATIONAL WORKERS FOR FOREIGN PROGRAM

ST. LOUIS, MO., — Opportunities for immediate placement as recreation workers in the American Red Cross Overseas Club Program are now open to qualified young women between the ages of 23 and 30, it was announced today by Leslie This, Director of Personnel, Red Cross Midwestern Area Office.

In all, a total of 80 young women are needed to provide leisure-time programs for U. S. troops presently serving in remote areas in Korea, Europe, and North Africa.

The Red Cross Overseas Club Program is part of its traditional responsibility of service to the armed forces and supplements the Army Special Services Program.

Mr. This stated that most of the young women are needed to replace recreation workers now returning from Korea, where they drive club-motors to isolated areas to encourage and plan soldier participation in recreational activities.

In Europe and North Africa, the recreation workers operate Red Cross centers with the assistance of local civilian and U. S. dependent volunteers. The centers help provide servicemen with the opportunity to become better acquainted with local community resources and to participate in recreation activities.

To be eligible, women must have college training with a special aptitude for group recreation, music, dramatics and art. Physical fitness is also essential, and applicants must be willing to accept assignment wherever needed in the world.

For all recreation workers assign-ned overseas, the Red Cross pays maintenance, travel expenses, and provides an initial uniform allowance. The salary scale will be determined according to background and experience.

Women interested in receiving further information on these openings should write to the Director of Personnel Service, Midwestern Area Office, American National Red Cross, 4050 Lindell Boulevard, St. Louis 8, Mo., or contact their nearest Red Cross chapter.

Dear Deck,
Please accept my apologies for renewing my subscription to the Wellington Leader at this late date. My family and I look forward to receiving the Leader although it is four to six weeks getting here after each publication, through no fault of yours.

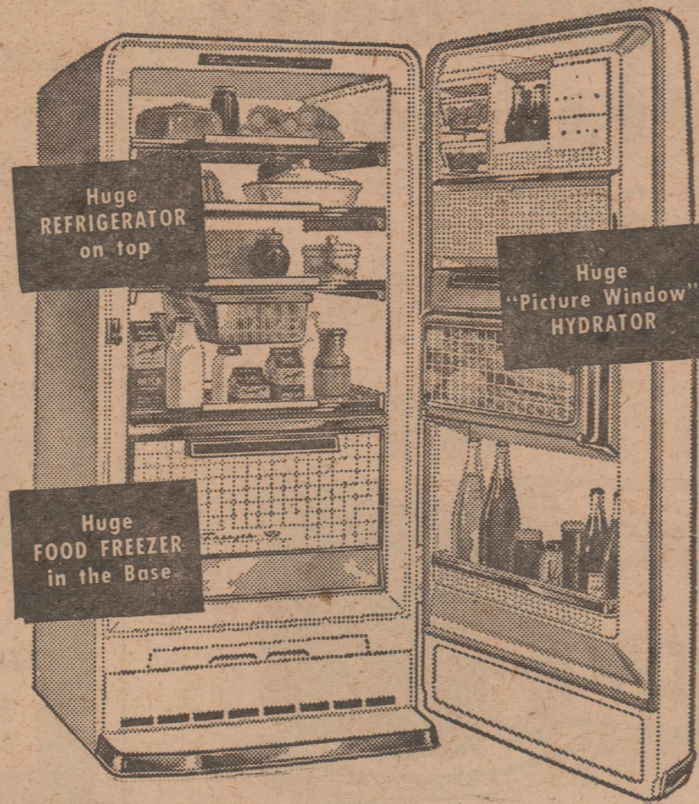

Please change my address to 1111 El Paso Street, Wellington, Texas, as we hope to be home the first part of June and any issues sent to our address here in England will not reach us before our departure.

We are due to leave by ship the latter part of May and I might add we are certainly getting Gang-plank fever.

Best regards, will be looking forward to seeing you in June.

New Dodge Custom Royal Lancer . . . glamorous "hardtop."

What's all this talk about "Price Class!"

It gets to be a little confusing—this talk about what "price class" a car is in. This new Dodge is making a clean sweep in every price field!

Owners who are used to paying a thousand dollars more for a car find that money can't buy more luxury, more exciting features and beauty than in the dashing Custom Royal Lancer shown above. It's up to 9 inches longer than competitive models costing more!

And owners of so-called "low-priced cars" are finding that a new Dodge, with all its dashing length and flashing style, can be theirs for only a few dollars a month more than any of the small cars—up to 19 inches shorter and far less exciting!

In fact, the Dodge Coronet 4-door shown below actually costs less than some models in the lowest price class. So let yourself go. Travel first class in the car that's knocking "price class" into a cocked hat.
