Lions' District Meeting To be Held Here Friday

The Ballinger Lions Club is preparing to entertain a number of guests here tomorrow (Friday) evening when group 23 of district 2A, Lions International, meets in this city. The dinner and program will be held at the Ballinger Country Club and all local Lions are expected to be present.

J. A. Schnable, president, and J. A. Killough, secretary, have been preparing for the event for some time, and this week a number of committees have been arranging details for the banquet and program. The meeting will open with the barbecue dinner which will be followed by the program and a brief business session.

Delegations from Junction, Eldorado, Ozona, Sonora, Sterling City and San Angelo will meet with the Ballinger club for the conference. Plates are to be prepared for about 100 guests.

A few of the delegates are expected here before night and a committee has been appointed to arrange golfing, swimming and other entertainment for the early arrivals. It has been three years since the local club was host to a group meeting and being well located in the district good attendance is anticipated.

During the banquet an orchestra will play and a floor show will be presented, Mr. Schnable acting as master of ceremonies. The floor show will introduce some of Ballinger's most talented entertainers in songs and dances, and H. H. Carsey will conduct the orchestra. Tables on which the banquet is to be served will be grouped around the platform so that everyone can see.

Mayor E. M. Lynn will deliver the address of welcome and Dr. W. B. Everett, of Sterling City, will respond. The meeting will then be turned over to the group chairman, B. L. Smith, of Junction, for the business session.

FORMER BALLINGER CITIZENS NAMED IN $500,000 BALM SUIT

A $500,000 suit alleging alienation of affections has been filed at Dallas by Lillian Hayes Jones against Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Jones, of Abilene. Plaintiff states in her petition that she is the wife of Tom Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Jones, and that they were married at Breckenridge in 1934, going to Dallas to live. Plaintiff contends that the parents induced her husband to abandon her, for which she is seeking balm.

Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Jones formerly resided in Ballinger.

ONE OIL TEST BEING DRILLED IN COUNTY

Oil activities in the county were quiet this week only one test being drilled. Wolverton-Willingham No. 1, two miles southeast of Ballinger, was around 2,900 feet deep, and good progress is being made. The Serratt and McMillan sands have been passed and drillers are looking for a new structure at a greater depth.

Castor-Golden Petroleum Company has begun work on its location on the H. Giesecke ranch, 18 miles southeast of Ballinger, and will move machinery there soon to spud the well.

Jones Resigns as Representative; Candidates for Post Electioneer

A telegram received by The Ledger from Governor James V. Allred Wednesday afternoon stated that a special election would be held for the 92nd district August 24 to name a representative to succeed H. O. Jones, who resigned this week.

The election to be held in connection with the state election on the constitutional amendments will only affect Runnels, Concho and Coke counties.

H. O. Jones, of Winters, has tendered his resignation as representative for this district in the state legislature to Gov. James V. Allred and a successor will be elected to his place on August 24 when a number of constitutional amendments are voted on.

Mr. Jones is resigning at this time to become postmaster at Winters, his appointment having been approved by the postal department.

There are several candidates in the field already for the unexpired

Leaf Worms Infest Some Cotton Fields In This County

Farmers in town this week stated that crop conditions in the county were never better and very little insect damage of any kind had been heard of so far. The extension service is taking no chances, however, and is broadcasting ways of fighting leaf worms which have begun work in some parts of the state where excessive rainfall has been received.

County Agent Elmo V. Cook said he had received few calls for formulas for combatting insects of any kind. Marshall Lett, of Hatchel, stated Wednesday that he had carefully inspected crops in that vicinity and found them apparently free of insects. He further added that this was one of the biggest feed crops produced in Runnels county since he had been living here.

Extension service workers point out that should leaf worms become prevalent here they could easily be controlled. A spray of calcium arsenate is declared the most effective remedy. The formula is as follows: 3 pounds to 50 gallons of water and keep it stirred well while using as the poison will settle to the bottom. In case of a shortage of the above, Paris green may be substituted either for dusting or in spray. As a spray 3 parts of lime should be added to one part of Paris green and mixed so there will be 1 1/2 pounds of Paris green to 50 gallons of water.

Some poison has already been sold here to farmers who have discovered indications of leaf worm damage in their cotton.

Expert Diagnoses Milo Disease Here; Land to be Plowed

Samples of milo maize sent to experiment stations from Runnels and Tom Green counties have been carefully examined by experts and reports made to county agents in the two counties. Some disease affected a small acreage of milo several weeks ago which caused alarm among some of the producers. The reports stated the condition was caused by lesser corn stalk borers working on the plants roots.

Since the samples were sent in for examination there has been no spread of the disease. The treatment for the condition must be done in a general clean-up of the land during the winter, the experts advised. Sometimes the condition may be helped by plowing when top roots are exposed to air and sunshine.

Owners of farms affected by this blight will be instructed in what to do with the soil during the winter. F. L. Thomas, of College Station, reported on plants sent in from this county.

Golden Gate Bridge Closing Bay Gap

The San Francisco-Oakland bridge is rapidly assuming a definite shape and becoming a concrete example of great engineering achievement. The above view, taken from the air above Oakland, Calif., shows the eastern span reaching toward Yerba Buena Island, center anchorage of the bridge. Beyond the island may be seen the towers which will support the western span of this great bridge, joining the two shores of San Francisco Bay.

Winters Highway Work is Started; Detour is Opened

Construction on highway 4 between Winters and Hatchel was begun this week and all this portion of the right-of-way was blocked for traffic. A short detour in the town of Winters was in use last week while curbs and gutters were being poured.

Barriers were put up this week at the end of the concrete pavement north of Hatchel and a detour opened west of the highway which enters Winters from the south. The detour is 10 miles long and is about 4 miles farther than over the old highway. The dirt road, maintained by the state highway department, is plainly marked so that tourists and other motorists will have no trouble making the correct turns.

The section of the old asphalt road north of Hatchel will be the first removed, and grading equipment will be used to build the new and wider grade which will be provided for the macadam base and triple asphalt topping. Total mileage on this contract is a little over six, and when completed the last gap on highway 4 in this county will be closed.

L. E. Whitman Construction Company has the contract for this work.

COLEMAN MAN INJURED WHEN CAR OVERTURNS

Rev. R. B. Young, of Coleman, sustained several broken ribs and painful bruises Saturday afternoon when his car overturned near Maverick. His wife, who was also in the car with him, was not seriously injured, but was bruised slightly. The car was damaged considerably.

According to the driver the front wheels of the sedan evidently caught in deep ruts in the road and the car turned over twice. A Jennings Funeral Home ambulance drove to Maverick and brought the injured persons to the local hospital.

After treatment at the hospital, Rev. Young was taken to Coleman in the ambulance.

E. R. Griffith spent Sunday in San Angelo, qualifying for the invitation golf tournament which starts there tomorrow (Friday) morning. A number of Ballinger players will take part in this tournament.

Mrs. Bert King and children are attending the old settlers' reunion at Christoval.

More than 50 Runnels county men, women, boys and girls will leave Ballinger Sunday morning at 8 o'clock to spend the week at the farmers' short course at College Station. Most of these have registered with the county agent and home demonstration agent and paid the room charge to be assured of a place to stay.

The local delegation this year is about 10 or 15 less than last year's, but the county agents and home demonstration agent will decide to go at the last minute and swell the registrations.

Thirty-six women and girls had registered for the course with Miss Myra Tankersley, county home demonstration agent, Wednesday morning, and nine club boys and two men were on the list of Elmo V. Cook, county agricultural agent.

The special Santa Fe train will leave here at 8 a. m. and arrive at College Station early in the afternoon, in time to get room assignments before dinner. The course will begin Monday morning and every minute will be filled with work and recreation until the delegates leave there the last of the week. The local group will arrive home Saturday, August 3.

PWA Office Okehs Application for New Athletic Field Loan

Supt. H. C. Lyon, Tom Caudle and Johnnie Becker, architect, returned Saturday from Fort Worth after presenting the application for a PWA loan to build bleachers and install lights at the high school football field to the state office. The loan was approved at Fort Worth in a few hours and forwarded to Washington the past week-end for approval by the head office.

Congressman C. L. South has been asked to help in securing quick approval of the loan application, if possible, so that the field can be seated and lighted for the opening of the football season in October. If this is done it will require approval and granting of the loan within the next ten days.

Blue prints for the project show seating capacity of 2,400. The stands will be of steel with cypress seats. The lighting equipment requires eight 60-foot poles with four floodlights on each pole. If the project is granted and completed, it will be one of the best lighted fields in West Texas. The seats will be 12 rows high extending along both side lines but there will be no seats in the end zones.

Grass has covered the field, providing a fine turf, and football practice will start there with the opening of the fall term of school.

Guards to Entrain For Camp Hulen Saturday, August 3

Captain Ross Murchison, commanding officer of company C, 142nd Infantry, received instructions this week for entraining for the annual national guard encampment. The schedule calls for the local unit to leave Ballinger at 12:01 a. m. Saturday, August 3, to arrive at Camp Hulen, Palacios, at 4:50 p. m. the same day.

Capt. Murchison said 64 men and three officers from here would probably attend the encampment. Equipment has been boxed and is ready to be loaded.

A new order this year makes it doubtful that the local guardmen will be transported in pullmans. It stated that sleepers would not be furnished units who would not be on the train more than 17 hours, and the schedule for the local command.

Federal Approval For Teachers' Pay Is Received Here

County Superintendent E. C. Grindstaff received information from the state relief commission Tuesday that the application for federal aid with which to pay teachers of Runnels county for extra work done last spring had been granted and that checks would be sent here soon.

Application for this aid was made several months ago when several schools of the county continued their terms after their regular funds were exhausted. The sixteen common districts of the county and one independent district continued their terms from 1 to 8 weeks on the information that aid could be obtained to pay teachers' salaries for this purpose.

The amount to be received here to pay the teachers totals $5,178. The original application was for more than $7,000 but this was to pay teachers their contracted salaries and the grant will allow relief salaries of $15 per week.

As soon as the checks are received by Mr. Grindstaff he will distribute them to teachers who are due the extra pay.

Every school in Runnels county completed a normal term of 8 months last year. Twenty-one common districts had sufficient funds to do this and 16 will be aided by the federal government.

NEW PRINCIPAL NAMED FOR WINTERS SCHOOL

The Winters school board last week elected R. V. Hardegree principal of the ward school to fill a vacancy caused by the resignation of Charles Damron as high school principal and the promotion of Ernest Caskey from the ward school to that position. Mr. Damron has been elected principal of the Childress high school.

Mr. Hardegree graduated from Abilene Christian College in 1935. F. D. Bedford, chairman of the board, stated that the election of Mr. Hardegree completed the faculty and everything was ready to start school on September 2.

Mrs. Jack Jobe visited in Abilene Sunday.

Dr. Rose Fraser To Hold Health Food School Here

A food health school will be opened at American Legion Hall August 5 to which all the women of Ballinger and surrounding territory are invited to attend. It will cost nothing to attend and for five days diet will be discussed in lecture and demonstrations made of the best foods for every disease.

Dr. Rose A. G. Fraser will conduct the school which is being sponsored by a number of Ballinger business interests. The courses will begin each afternoon at 2:30 and continue until 5 o'clock. During each program Dr. Fraser will demonstrate 16 foods and deliver her accompanying lecture.

On Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the school will be opened officially when Dr. Fraser will address an audience at one of the local churches. In this assembly she desires to contact as many housewives as possible as well as their husbands.

In San Angelo where she has just closed a school, Dr. Fraser met 790 women at the Sunday afternoon lecture and had an average daily attendance at the school of approximately 400. She offers her own recipes and takes up different diseases of the body, tells the kind of food it needs, and demonstrates ways of preparing the food.

On the closing day of the school, Thursday, Dr. Fraser will entertain the sponsoring business men and a number of invited friends with a dinner prepared during the afternoon course.

Equipment will be installed in American Legion Hall to provide the latest and most modern kitchen. It will include dish washers, washing machines, and other labor-saving devices, and merchandise will be demonstrated as the school progresses. Beautiful and valuable souvenirs will be given at the close of each session.

RETAIL STORE SALES
FOR JUNE ARE GOOD

AUSTIN, July 24.—Retail dollar sales in Texas during June showed a moderate increase over the like month last year and the decline from May to June was somewhat less than the average decline of the last eight years between these two months, according to the bureau of business research at the University of Texas.

"Reports from 93 department and specialty stores indicate an average increase in dollar sales during June of 4.4 per cent over June a year ago but a decline of 12.1 per cent from the previous month," the bureau's statement said. "The average decline is 14.5 per cent."

"Sales during the first six months of the year averaged 3.5 per cent above those of the corresponding period last year."

"The different types of stores varied considerably in relation to the two comparable periods. Men's clothing stores made the best showing followed in order by women's specialty shops, large department stores, small department stores and dry goods apparel stores."

"Cities in which sales for June and the first six months show more than the average increase over the corresponding period last year are: Austin, Dallas, El Paso, San Antonio, Temple and Tyler."

BUFORD BRIAN, WINTERS

BOYS BEAT FATHERS
RAISING CORN CROP

SAN SABA, Tex., July 24.—By using barn yard fertilizer on their land, Charles Lee and John H. Trawick, San Saba county 4-H club boys have both exceeded their fathers in the production on corn. Charles Lee planted his corn in three foot checks, manuring each hill. He will make seven or eight bushels more per acre than his father who planted his corn on unfertilized land.

John H. Trawick planted three-foot rows thick, which he thinned to a stand by cutting out the weaker stalks. He will average 10 bushels or more per acre in excess of the amount produced by his father. His father planted his corn on the same kind of land but planted less per acre to avoid thinning.

Aparists say a colony of bees always sends out "scouts" to reconnoiter before swarming over the countryside.

Ready to Bring Home the Baking

One thing about Quebec women: they don't have to complain about standing over a hot oven all day. At least, this particular maid doesn't. Outdoor ovens are familiar sights along the roads of eastern Canada, creating a mingled aroma of balsam and hot bread which delights the nostrils of passers-by.

Finishers Begin Work on Interior Of Junior School

Carpenters have about completed the roof on the junior high school building and electricians, plumbers and painters have started the interior work. The construction will be pushed in order to complete the building as early as possible in August so that furniture and equipment can be installed before the opening of school.

General repairing of the senior high school building will be commenced in a few days. Windows will be repainted and made proof against hard blowing rains. Water has been leaking in around the panes and running down the walls. The exterior of the building will be painted next month and other minor improvements made.

During the summer some work has been done at all the buildings and when the fall term begins here in September they will be in excellent condition.

A schedule of work has been mapped out for the first, second and part of the third grade rooms at the central primary building, the fourth and fifth at central elementary, the sixth, seventh and eighth at junior high and the other grades at the senior high school building.

9,251 Bales Cotton Held in Warehouse Of Local Compress

The Texas Compress Company still has on hand 9,251 bales of uncompressed cotton at Ballinger, according to W. B. Woody, manager of this cotton being held in the warehouse here 8,708 bales have been granted government loans and this is being held subject to orders from the federal government. The remaining 543 bales belong to individuals who are holding for a better market.

Mr. Woody would not make an estimate of the county's cotton production for the current year. He stated that it was too early, that rainy weather was ideal for insect trouble and that some had already been reported. He added, however, that general conditions were excellent in this section and he believed more cotton would be produced with too much rain than with too little.

Every section of Runnels county received good rains during the past ten days and farmers want sunshine and dry weather at this time. It is declared moisture is sufficient to make the feed crop now maturing.

Willard Schuhmann returned Monday from Bloomburg, where he accompanied his wife for a few months' visit with her parents. Mr. Schuhmann stated that crops looked unusually good all the way. He also said it rained on him all the way there and back. Crops looked best around Greenville and Cross Plains, he asserted, but fields in other parts of the state were in fine condition.

Dr. Frederick Douglass Patterson, recently elected president of Tuskegee institute for negroes at Tuskegee, Ala., is 34 years of age.

TOMATO CROP BRINGS FARMERS MUCH MONEY

KOUNTZ, Tex., July 24.—Tomato growers in the Votaw community in Hardin county realized more than $30,000 from the 1935 crop which amounted to 44 cars, according to W. P. Barrett, county agricultural agent. Due to the late freeze, growers were forced to market this season in direct competition with the Valley and north Florida crops.

The shipments this year were the largest number of cars ever shipped in one season. The next largest season was the 1934 crop which amounted to 34 cars. Although only 10 more cars were shipped in 1935, the 1935 crop returned to the growers three times as much actual cash, Barrett said.

Mrs. C. R. Stone and son are visiting Mrs. Stone's mother in Sherwood. They will be there two weeks.

Constitutional Amendments Explained by State Secretary

(Editor's note—Below are brief the August 24th election would summaries of amendments Nos. 3 revise the constitution to permit and 4 as they will appear on the submission of amendments at ballot for the election on August special sessions. It is pointed out 24. Readers of The Ledger are that in emergency cases, particularly invited to read the summaries ularly on relief matters, that it and make up their minds how to might be necessary for Texas vote on these important proposed changes to the constitution.)

Proposed Amendment No. 3, Repeal of Liquor Prohibition

Probably chief interest in the August 24th election on the seven proposed constitutional amendments will center on proposition No. 3 on the ballot—the repeal of prohibition, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann.

The constitution, at present, prohibits the sale, manufacture and transportation of alcoholic liquors (except 3.2 beer). This prohibition would be stricken out by adoption of the repeal amendment.

The proposed amendment specifically prohibits the return of the open saloon—and it would be up to the legislature to define the term "open saloon."

No machinery is set up for the sale of liquor. The legislature would have the authority to determine just who and just how liquor is to be sold. This could be done by state monopoly or through private channels. The legislature would have the authority to pass laws regulating local option elections.

If the amendment is adopted all counties, cities and precincts that were dry in 1919 when state-wide prohibition was adopted would be dry now—at least until local option elections were held to determine otherwise.

It is well to remember, Secretary Mann points out, that there will be an election next year in November to determine whether the state shall sell liquor through a state monopoly system. If the repeal amendment is adopted in August the state may establish a state control and monopoly system. If the repeal amendment is defeated in August, it will in effect be submitted again in November, 1936, in the state monopoly amendment which says the state shall have a liquor monopoly. To retain the present dry status both the August 24th amendment and the November, 1936, amendment must be defeated. Passage of either will repeal the present prohibition section of the constitution.

Proposed Amendment No. 4, Submission of Amendments at Session of Legislature

At present the legislature can submit proposed changes in the constitution only at regular sessions—held every 2 years.

Proposal No. 4 on the ballot for

The original purpose of the provision which makes submission possible only at regular sessions was to make the fundamental law hard to amend and change. Two schools of thought are at variance here. One believes that the constitution should be easy to change—particularly in emergency cases, and the other that every safeguard should be placed around it to make it difficult to change.

If the proposed amendment is adopted the legislature in any special session can submit proposed amendments to the voters—provided such amendments are submitted by the governor for the legislature's consideration. If the amendment is rejected the present system will obtain; that is, constitutional amendments can be submitted to the people only at the regular sessions of the legislature.

The 44th legislature submitted thirteen amendments to the voters—seven in August of this year and six in November of 1936. These were all submitted during the regular session. Under the proposed change the 44th might yet submit additional amendments for the voters' consideration.

VISITING BISHOP PRAISES CHURCH PROPERTY HIGHLY

Presiding Bishop H. A. Boaz was a guest in the home of Rev. W. H. Vanderpool Sunday afternoon. While here Bishop Boaz spoke of the Methodist church property in very complimentary terms. This was his first trip to Ballinger and he stated that the town as a whole looked most pleasing.

Rev. and Mrs. Vanderpool accompanied the bishop to Greenwood Sunday night for the prohibition address which he made there at that time.

Probe Follows Strato Bag Explosion

Plans to make a careful inspection of the ill-fated strato-bag, Explorer II, which recently burst during inflation while preparations were being made for the long-awaited ascent, were postponed temporarily until the dew-soaked bag became entirely dry. The mammoth gas bag is shown at right, filled to only one-tenth of its 3,700,000 cubic feet capacity, just before the top fabric ripped with a series of popping sounds and the huge balloon slowly crumpled and sank to the floor of the natural bowl in South Dakota's Black Hills. The deflated balloon is shown above, ensnared in the gondola which it was to carry into the rarefied upper air. Another attempt may be made this year.

H. H. WILLIAMSON NAMED DIRECTOR OF EXTENSION SERVICE TO FILL VACANCY

COLLEGE STATION, July 24.—H. H. Williamson, former vice-director and state agent for the men, was officially appointed director of the Texas extension service Saturday, July 6. The action was taken by the college board of directors following the death of O. B. Martin.

Williamson is a native of Grimes county. He graduated from A. & M. College in 1911 and became associated with extension work the same fall. He has had an unbroken record since that time. In 1921, he was appointed state agent. In 1927, along with the position of state agent, he was appointed vice director.

At the same time of Williamson's appointment, Miss Mildred Horton, state agent for the women, was named vice-director of the research of The University of extension service.

Mildred Horton is a native of Dallas county, a graduate of C. I. A. She was the first woman to win a whole beef. At the beginning of the federal relief canning drive last year, Miss Horton was called to Washington to help plan the entire canning program for the whole country. Later representatives were sent to Texas to train before the canning program got under way.

In 1924, when Mildred Horton became state agent for the extension service for the women, there were only 22 home demonstration agents in Texas. Now there are 154.

DR. HALLEY SPONSORS CHARITY DANCE JULY 30

Dr. W. B. Halley is sponsoring an old time party at his home beginning at 8 o'clock Tuesday evening, July 30. The affair will be colorful in every detail. A platform for old time square dancing will be erected on the lawn where Prof. Dick Wilson and his stringed orchestra will provide music for this portion of the entertainment.

Dr. Halley is sparing no effort to provide a unique attraction and those who attend are promised their money's worth. A fee of 35 cents will go to the local Masonic Lodge to be used for charity.

For those who do not care to dance there will be seats where they may watch the dancers and refreshments will be served to everyone. Assisting the host in this function will be other members of the Ballinger lodge and some of the best square dance leaders in this part of the state.

The public is invited to attend the entertainment.

State Fire School Enrollment is 503; Chief Cherry Talks

Chester Cherry, chief of the Ballinger fire department, returned Saturday from College Station, where he attended the state fire school. He said the attendance this year broke all records, 503 firemen from 202 towns in the state registering.

Some of the most prominent fire fighters in the United States appeared on the program. In addition to the regular drills, which required 8 hours a day, considerable additional work was done.

The local chief stated that more time was devoted to fire prevention this year than ever before and fire chiefs from some of the largest cities as well as specialists from colleges were heard on this subject.

One of the most interesting and instructive items on the program was a new feature. A question box was installed and four hours a day were devoted to answering the queries and round table discussions. Mr. Cherry's question on "What About Bank Night Traffic?" took considerable time and was never satisfactorily answered. The local chief stated that other towns were having the same trouble with traffic congestion and that it was even worse in the larger cities.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM ON FEED CONSERVATION AND UTILIZATION IS UNDER WAY

COLLEGE STATION, July 24.—In direct contrast with last year's food and feed shortage, a record feed crop will be harvested this season throughout Texas that will give an eighteen months' supply if conserved. H. H. Williamson, director of the Texas extension service, predicted last week.

A cleansing laxative—purely vegetable Black-Draught—is the first thought of thousands of men and women who have found that by restoring the downward movement of the bowels many disagreeable symptoms of constipation promptly can be relieved. Mr. J. P. Mahaffey, of Clinton, S. C., writes: "I have found that Black-Draught is very effective in the cleansing of the system. When affected by the dull headache, the drowsiness and lassitude caused by constipation, I take Black-Draught."

In view of unusual food and feed crops this year, Williamson announced a ninety-day statewide educational program to emphasize to Texas farmers the importance and methods of harvesting, storing and utilizing this season's food and feed crop.

In announcing the eight point feed conservation and utilization program, Williamson said that, along with the extension forces, the Texas experiment stations, the A. & M. College teaching staff, various farm and commercial organizations, newspapers and farm magazines will all cooperate in this movement to prevent waste of the extra food and feed crops.

The eight points as outlined by the extension directory are as follows: to dig trench silos or build up ground silos for storage of feed; to repair barns, bins and storage places for the harvest grains, orchards and field crops for home consumption; to use the best practical means of protecting stored grain and field crops from weevils and rat damage; to stack hay in the best known methods to prevent deterioration; to increase the number of milk cows, hogs and poultry for home use; to offer for slaughter only well fed and finished animals; to finish all Texas cattle and other livestock for market on Texas grown feed; and to feed work stock and breeding animals well during the winter months.

MRS. SCHERMERHORN WILL RETURN HOME AUGUST 8

Mrs. L. Schermerhorn, who has been spending the summer in California, will return home August 8 and begin organizing classes in piano and pipe organ. She left Ballinger soon after the public school term closed to spend the summer with her sister.

Mrs. J. T. Jobe, of Abilene, visited her son, Jack Jobe, and wife, here Friday. She returned to her home Saturday.

Requirements of WPA Outlined by Northington

Mr. and Mrs. K. V. Northington came in Saturday after spending a week in Austin. Mr. Northington attended a meeting of the finance officials of Texas Tuesday and Wednesday. At the concluding business session he was elected third vice-president of the organization, and automatically will be promoted to the presidency.

On Thursday and Friday Mr. Northington attended the annual meeting of the League of Texas Municipalities and heard a number of talks on the new relief order under the WPA which will become effective soon. The city secretary stated that both meetings were very interesting and profitable and that he received information on what type of work projects will be accepted by the new WPA boards next winter.

Mr. Northington received recognition at the meeting for publicity given the city of Ballinger by The Ledger on weekly meetings and for monthly financial statements. He was praised for keeping this information before the public.

Following is an outline prepared by Mr. Northington which summarizes the address by E. A. Baugh, first assistant to the state director, before the League of Texas Municipalities convention:

1. Purpose—To provide salaried employment for unemployed in worthwhile work projects of a permanent nature.

2. Scope—Any governmental subdivision sponsored construction of permanent improvements, such as: for counties—lateral roads, bridges, etc.; for school districts—buildings, grounds, athletic fields, etc.; for cities—pavement, sidewalks, nataratoriums, parks, etc. No project to amount to over $25,000.

3. Who will be eligible for jobs—All those who were on the relief rolls of the county in May, 1933, these to be certified by the local social welfare case supervisor after reexamination. Mr. Baugh urged that those qualified and deserving be certified at the earliest possible time.

4. Cost to Governmental Jurisdiction—Projects will be based on the $600 man-year. For example, if a project is figured on a four-month basis in Runnels county requiring 60 men, 10 of whom are semi-skilled or skilled and 50 are common labor then the entire cost of labor on the present wage scale, would be $6,940, which deducted from 60 man-years of $600 each for four months or $9,600 leaves a remainder of $2,660, which may be used for materials, truck hire or supervision, all foremen or supervision to be charged to the project. Additional materials will be supplemented by sponsor.

5. Authority in Handling Labor—Will be vested in the WPA county superintendent, with recommendation privileges given sponsoring government.

6. Relief Set-up—Present indications are that the Texas relief board will go out completely by January 1, there being no funds for relief purposes beyond that date and unless there is provision made for funds by a special session of the state legislature the present unworkable direct relief client will fall back on his own resources or the responsible local government in January, 1933.

7. District WPA Headquarters—Districts were formed to cut administration costs. Where there was a relief unit for each county, there will be a district WPA office for each 12 or 15 counties organized in some respects similar to the state highway department.

8. General—Each certified WPA worker has a permanent job, if projects are provided, and this is the responsibility of the local governments; to see that they are provided in sufficient number to provide work for its unemployed. Each worker is covered by compensation insurance by the WPA. In case of bad weather the worker is not docked. If a worker is offered another job he is expected to take it and when his work is completed on the job offered he may report back to the WPA project and proceed where he left off. Ten per cent of the personnel of any project may be hired outside the certified WPA list. These are to be paid on the same basis as the WPA rate in the vicinity, however. This provision is made so that in case certain types of skilled labor are not available from the rolls they may be obtained from other sources.

1934 COTTON CROP BRINGS FARMERS LARGE REVENUE

COLLEGE STATION, July 24—The cotton income of Texas farmers in 1934, one of the poorest crop years in history, was almost half again larger than in 1932 before the adjustment program started, according to complete official state and county three-year cotton figures just received by Texas

Boulder Lake Rapidly 'Growing Up'

Vacationists are finding the swiftly rising man-made Boulder Lake a delightful place to spend these hot summer days. How the lake behind Boulder Dam is steadily mounting the canyon walls, is graphically revealed in the pictures above. Note how the water in the top picture has nearly reached the shoulder of the canyon wall on the right just below the crest. Compare it with the picture below, taken three months ago. The water has reached its limit, the lake will extend over 112 miles in length. At present it is about 85 miles long as compared to the 20-mile length when the lower picture was taken.

A. M. College extension service from the agricultural adjustment administration.

Farm values of Texas cotton last year, not including benefit payments, was more than 32 million dollars larger than in 1932. Benefit payments designed to bring cotton prices more nearly into line with industrial prices in normal year acted as farmers' crop insurance last year by adding $34,132,325.09 to the cotton income. This does not include about nine million dollars' worth of unsold Bankhead certificates in farmers' hands.

Total farm values of Texas cotton was $158,343,000 for 1933, $297,064,166.67 for 1933-34, and $224,772,307.61 for 1934-35, exclusive of unsold Bankhead certificates. The farm value of lint seed for 1933 and 1934, exclusive of benefit payments, was $235,508,000 and $190,646,982.52 respectively compared with $158,343,000 in 1932.

Averaging the increased income to farmers since the beginning of the adjustment program, Texas has received an average of slightly over 100 million dollars more per year for its cotton under the new order than was received in 1932. The increase was almost equally between increased market price, due partly to the adjustment pro-

Chicago Girl's Long Stupor is Believed Caused by Accident

NEW YORK, July 24—A complete medical report of the case of Patricia Maguire, the Chicago stenographer who has been asleep ever since February, 1932, has been made to the American Medical Association by Dr. Eugene F. Traut, of Oak Park, Illinois.

On February 5, 1932, Miss Maguire consulted Dr. Traut because of excessive sleepiness. Nothing was found to be wrong except that she reported a slight cold four days previously. By February 15 the sleepiness was so bad that she was put to bed. Since February 17 she has never awakened. At first she was fed artificially, but since April, 1932, she has been able to swallow liquid foods placed in her mouth. In efforts to wake her special vaccines made from bacteria found in her blood have been injected, as well as injections of her own blood, transfusions of new blood from a relative and injected blood fluids from persons who had recovered from sleeping sickness.

On the theory that fever might aid the damaged brain tissues as it does some cases of insanity, artificial fevers were caused by injections of typhoid vaccine and of drugs and by heat from electric lamps. No treatment has had any influence on the sleeper, although Dr. Traut believes that Miss Maguire slowly is coming to recognize persons and to know something of what is going on around her. In spite of the time that she has been asleep, medical authorities do not consider Miss Maguire's case unique or especially mysterious.

She is believed to be a victim of the kind of sleeping sickness called encephalitis lethargica, which probably began with the slight cold and in which, for some accidental reason, the period of stupor common in this disease has been much longer than usual.

LIFE IN WILDWOOD

YOKOHAMA, Japan, July 24—With nearly $150,000 in the bank after the sale of a gold mine which he discovered in Hokkaido, Naosuma Ono, ex-hermit, thinks his ten years in the woods were well spent.

Ever since he left the navy torpedo school ten years ago, Ono has been roaming the woods near Bisho, Hokkaido. Armed only with a wooden spear, he lived on what he could catch and kill. Bears held no terror—he chased them with his spear.

An then, quite accidentally, he found a gold vein. He staked a claim and eventually sold the mine for nearly $150,000 to the mining department of the Nakajima Shoji Kaisha. Since then, he has become engaged to Miss Yakeo Yamaguchi, daughter of the former president of the Shinano Bank. He is to be married shortly, but will first take one last trip into the woods.

Fires Damage Three Establishments Here During Week-End

The J. L. Hardin Tailor Shop and the Elite Cafe were both badly damaged by fire which originated in the tailor shop about 8.30 Saturday evening. W. S. Wood, employee of the shop, went to cut off the fire from under a boiler when something went wrong with the burner and a flare quickly spread to every part of the building which houses the two concerns. The building, owned by I. O. Wooden, was also considerably damaged.

Mr. Hardin's loss is estimated at about $1,000 and only a small amount of insurance was carried. Patrons' clothing in the shop at the time was removed to safety. J. T. ("Shorty") Payne, manager of the Elite Cafe, estimated his loss at more than half of an approximately $2,000 investment. All the stock was lost, serious damage was done to the refrigeration system, and some of the fixtures were destroyed.

Higginbotham Brothers & Company's department store, which adjoins the restaurant, sustained some smoke and heat damage. A full estimate of the amount of the damage has not been made.

The local fire department experienced much trouble in getting water to the fire. A pin in the drive shaft of the big pumper fell into the transmission, locking the machine. The old pumper was then dispatched to the scene and operated nicely, but gave the firemen only two streams of water to fight the flames. Added to their other troubles traffic was dense at this hour and firemen could not do their work effectively. New parts for the big pumper were received and attached Monday.

Another alarm Sunday evening at 9 o'clock called local firemen to Smith's Red & White store. A motor in the refrigeration unit was ruined and slight smoke damage was done to some of the stock.

'35 Rainfall to Date Totals 27.63 Inches

Rainfall here for the month of July to date totals 3.75 inches, the greatest for the month since 1928. This brings the total rainfall for 1935 to 27.63 inches, more than two inches above the annual average in Runnels county and nearly 12 inches more than fell either in 1933 or 1934.

Showers began falling last Friday and the gauge at the home of E. M. Eubank, government recorder, shows a total of 2.55 inches. Some points in the county have received more than the amount registered at Ballinger and some less, but the county has had a general "soaking" and farmers and ranchmen declare 30 days' dry weather is needed at this time to prevent insect damage and to mature feed.

An interesting fact is uncovered in the rainfall record of Runnels county. Each July which had good rains also was accompanied by bumper cotton production. In 1928 the county received 4.45 inches in July and 60,260 bales of cotton were produced that year. In 1925 good rains fell in June and August and the banner crop of 71,291 bales was ginned. In 1919 more than 47,000 bales were gathered following July precipitation of 4.85 inches, and the next year with heavy summer rains ginnings totalled 57,878 bales.

Rains for several days recently brought an average total of nearly two inches practically all over Runnels county. Farmers in all sections of the county declare the moisture sufficient to mature feed and to practically assure a large cotton crop.

The rain began Friday and most of the county was covered with showers. Precipitation Sunday afternoon was sufficient to make small streams flow and fill surface tanks. Both the Colorado River and Elm Creek at Ballinger were up Monday.

Some hail fell north of Ballinger but only a small area was affected. Wind and hail struck a small section about 8 miles northwest of town Sunday afternoon. The hail lasted for only about a minute but fell hard. Several out-houses and barns were blown down by the gale. No serious damage to crops has been reported.

George Holliday was in town Monday morning and reported the loss of an outhouse on his place and said some hail accompanied the wind and rain.

The city reservoir was filled and water was running over the spillway here Monday morning.

LONGEST RAILWAY BRIDGE COMPLETED IN RUSSIA

MOSCOW, July 24.—Europe's longest railway bridge, which spans the Volga at Saratov, has been completed, and railroad traffic will shortly begin to cross it. The structure, which is 5,220 feet long, takes rank among the world's longest. The Brooklyn and new Washington Memorial bridges in New York being respectively 6,016 feet with approaches and 4,760 feet between anchorages.

Mounting work, which was completed late in March, required the greatest skill of the engineers. With the assistance of commanders and men of the Red army, they worked under very difficult winter conditions in order to complete the bridge before ice drifts began to flow down the Volga.

'The Glass Key' Soon at Palace

Combining the qualities of the once well regarded political drama and a modern mystery murder melodrama, "The Glass Key," to be shown at the Palace Theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, is unusually strong and meaty entertainment. As a result of concentration upon those two elements, the strength of which is abetted by a more suggested than actual love interest contrast, the picture is of the type that has a more than ordinary appeal.

Modernly premised, it features a sinister suspense that engenders and holds interest. Convincingly told, with its hero, George Raft, returning to that type of he-man role through which he first won popularity, intelligent direction takes full showmanship advantage of the story, cast and production values.

Raft is the high and mighty political boss in the story and his run-ins with the underworld leaders puts plenty of action of the modern type into this great story by Dashiell Hammett, author of the now famous "Thin Man." Throughout the story Claire Dodd and Rosalind Keith mix up frequently in their efforts to gain the favor of Raft.

How the murder of a senator's son and other crimes laid to the hands of the political ring are eventually cleared up has the audience on the ends of their seats until the final scenes.

Paramount is unusually proud of the picture and believes that a new star has been found in Rosalind Keith. Although Miss Keith looks very much like Bette Davis, her acting and personality is of an entirely different type.

MONK'S FAST ON AIRPORT WINS CASH FOR TEMPLE

PEIPING, China, July 24.—By fasting twenty-one days in the Nanyuan flying field, a monk from Jehol won a pledge of $3,000 to repair a tottering Buddhist temple.

The 70-year-old man went from Jehol to Nanyuan and sat down in the center of the flying field. Those in charge of the aerodrome tried to drive him away, but he refused, saying that he would not leave nor would he take anything until he had secured sufficient funds to repair his temple.

The news reached Gen. Wang Shuchang, garrison commandant of the Peiping and Tientsin area, and Gen. Pao Yulin, a member of the Peiping branch military council, who visited him at Nanyuan, promised him to raise $3,000 for his temple and asked him to end his fast. The monk agreed, but was so weak he had to be carried to an inn nearby.

School at Norton is Opened; Three Others to Start Soon

The Norton independent school will open next Monday morning for a six weeks' term and on the following Monday, August 5, the Wingate independent school and the Blanton and Dry Ridge common schools will open for short terms.

The above four schools will be open for approximately six weeks and then students will be dismissed while the heavy part of the cotton picking season is on. Several schools in the county have used this plan in the past and found it satisfactory. It enables the older children to assist in the fields and does not demoralize school attendance. When most of the cotton has been gathered the terms will be resumed and continue until next spring.

O. L. Conger, superintendent of the Norton school, directs a faculty of eight. At Wingate E. J. Creswell is superintendent and the faculty is composed of eight teachers. Blanton is a three-teacher school with W. C. Bryan as principal, and Dry Ridge is a two-teacher school with C. H. Robertson as principal.

These are the only schools in the county that have announced early opening to allow pupils time later in helping with the harvest. The four schools have a possible enrollment of approximately 600.

LAKE IS DISCOVERED UNDERNEATH DESERT

MOSUL, Iraq, July 24.—Existence of a vast fresh-water lake under the Syrian desert was revealed while men were boring for water during establishment of quarters for employees of the Iraq pipeline. At many spots good water was found at a depth of from 600 to 800 feet, and when water was struck at 800 feet in two wells the liquid rose at once by one hundred feet.

There are nine oil pumping stations in the desert and so profitable is the supply of water from the wells that each station has a supply of 4,000 gallons a day for its gardens. Fruit trees will soon be planted in these little oases.

New York Death Rate is Lowest Since '32 Epidemic

NEW YORK, July 24.—Health records of 122 years in the city of New York show the city comparatively healthy from 1800 until 1832, extremely unhealthy between 1832 and 1854, and progressively more healthy since that date, especially since 1891, according to data just published by the city's department of health.

Three major health catastrophes are recorded since 1800; the three great cholera epidemics of 1832, 1849 and 1854. In the first and worst of these years almost five per cent of the city's population died. In addition to actual deaths, the city lost many thousands of people who moved away in efforts to escape the cholera, the cause of which then was unknown. The second cholera epidemic, in 1849, was somewhat less severe. The third one, in 1854, was still milder, although this was accompanied by a smallpox epidemic which again raised the year's total death rate to nearly five per cent of the population. New York's last cholera epidemic was a still milder one in 1896, after which smallpox took first place among the city's fatal epidemics. Serious epidemics of this disease happened in 1865, 1872 and 1881, since then smallpox also has been almost wiped out by the introduction of compulsory vaccination. The last serious epidemic of diphtheria was in 1877 and the last one of measles in 1891. Since 1891 New York has experienced only one severe epidemic of any kind, the influenza epidemic of 1918.

Under the new postal laws newspapers and periodicals must pay postage due for notices of any change in addresses furnished by the postoffice. The statewide election on constitutional amendments August 24 will have additional interest in Runnels, Concho and Coke counties because of the fact that a representative to finish the unexpired term of H. O. Jones will be selected on that date. Seven important amendments will be submitted and every citizen should read these amendments, discuss them with persons who are well informed, and be prepared to cast an intelligent vote. Selection of a representative for this district should also be given much consideration by voters in the three counties.

Runnels county has splendid prospects for harvesting the largest feed crop in several years and agricultural leaders are urging farmers to make every effort to take care of the feed which is estimated by some to be a three year's supply. County agents are offering assistance in planning trench silo construction, new methods of stacking and making ricks, important types of feeding and other ways of saving the large surplus. Most of the grain sorghums are about matured and will soon be ready for harvesting. Rains during the past week-end insure maturity so far as moisture is concerned.

As soon as the new relief set-up, the WPA, begins to function, several new projects are to be listed in applications from here. One of the favored pieces of work will probably be the building of a modern swimming pool in city park. By using natural stone, most of the expense would be for labor and the actual material cost to the city would be insignificant. Plans for a pool with field-stone banks, flag-stone walks and open air lounging verandas have already been drawn and if completed it will be one of the most attractive pools in this section of the state. Many local citizens are interested in the construction of an amphitheatre on the bluff overlooking the park. The natural oval contour is already there, stone for the seats and steps is available within a few hundred yards and the open air coliseum would be excellent for public gatherings, band concerts and union religious meetings on summer nights.

WEST TEXAS NEWS
NOTES

District Judge E. J. Miller has ordered a new trial for Stanley Wood, convicted recently of the murder of Fred Brown, Talpa ranchman, and assessed 10 years in the penitentiary. The defendant was willing to accept the verdict and serve his sentence, but the state's attorneys excepted and gave notice of appeal at the close of the trial. Judge Miller stated that the case probably would be called November 18, with a special venire summoned for jury service.

Little Queenie, a filly, has gained attention all over West Texas in recent months. This unusual horse can do more tricks than the average circus pony. She shoots a gun, takes off the hat of her trainer, takes handkerchiefs out of his pocket, does the "End of the Trail" on a small platform 2 feet high and 14 inches square, and performs a number of other stunts. She will be put on exhibition next year in numerous places. The 21-month-old mare was trained by Virgil McMullan, Menard barber.

Members of the Holiness churches of West Texas are taking up collections to raise funds for the return of Ernest Baker, "wandering evangelist," who is being held in a detention camp in Russia. Baker was found after a long search by his brother in Moscow, where he had been kept for some time. It was stated that about $100 would be needed to pay Baker's passage to New York from Moscow.

At a free health clinic held at Brady last week over 50 children were examined. All kinds of cases were handled—crippled limbs, infantile paralysis, glandular ailments, and natal injuries. Children came from McCulloch, Tom Green, Menard, Concho, Runnels, Schleicher, Mason and San Saba counties. Services are free to all under 21 years of age, and if the parents are unable to buy supplies, braces, etc., for them, the society does it for them. About $4,000 will be spent beginning September 1 for operations and appliances for the children.

Within the past 10 days a warehouse owner at Eden reports that he has sold 251,000 pounds of wool at prices ranging from 22 to 24 cents. This leaves only about 400,000 pounds in storage at this time. Apparently buyers are taking only wool for spot orders, the speculative market still being closed. No general buying campaign for wool has been started, but the occasional sales have been fair to date.

Although considered one of the hottest counties in West Texas, Sutton county had a cold "spell" last week. Sunday morning in the home of J. H. Brasher, the thermostat controlling the furnace clicked and on went the heat. The owner heard the motor start and went down and cut it off. The temperature that morning must have been fairly low as the thermostat is set for 72 degrees.

Last week marked the end of the 45th year of continuous publication for the Robert Lee Observer, newspaper published at the Coke county capital. The plant has been in operation for 45 years and has failed to publish a paper only three times. The present editor, Felix W. Puett, has been connected with the plant for 32 years.

Six hundred bottles of "home brew," a 10-gallon crock and a 20-gallon crock of mash were taken in a raid on a residence at Coleman last week. The man arrested in the raid made bond of $1,000.

Approximately 70 per cent of the 1934 Coleman school taxes have been collected. This amount, approximately $30,000, is considerably more than was collected altogether last year. The collector also pointed out that more delinquent taxes had been paid this year than in most previous years. However, over $59,000 in delinquent taxes remain on the rolls.

H. O. Schulze, of Menard county, raises some large pumpkins on his farm. He left one on display at a Menard bank that weighed 52 pounds. Mr. Schulze says he probably will have some pumpkins even larger which he is saving for exhibition at the local fair next fall.

The Fort Stockton independent school district is pushing an application to the works progress administration for a grant of about $5,400 to supplement funds available for construction of a bandhouse and installation of an adequate heating unit in the grammar school building. Total cost of the two projects is estimated at $12,000.

Work is progressing nicely on highway 9 in McCulloch county and contractors are working on the new right-of-way north of Melvin. Huddleston & Work have the contract for building 15.7 miles of hard surfaced road between Brady and the Concho county line. The bid was for $103,594.53. The ELDORADO—"By using four feed sacks which were given to me and a card of bias tape for which I paid two cents, I made a two-piece dress for myself," says Mrs. F. M. Bradley, wardrobe demonstrator for the Eldorado home demonstration club in Schleicher county. Mrs. Bradley made the dress by her foundation pattern. The dress was trimmed by adding a tie of brown material already on hand and a brown buckle which was taken off an old dress. "This dress cost me about five cents, including the cost of the thread with which it was sewed," Mrs. Bradley said.

RICHMOND—From the sale of eggs laid by her 12 hens, Clara Logemann, 12-year-old president of the Lamar 4-H club in Fort Bend county, paid all of her expenses for club work and has come out with a total of $23.60 for this year, according to Miss Loris J. Welhausen, home demonstration agent.

Twenty-five cents of her money went for seed to plant her garden. An incomplete report of this demonstration shows that she has used fresh 73 pounds and canned 31 quarts of vegetables and 7 gallons of berries valued at $16.35. In addition she has made five dresses, two slips and two cup towels. These are valued at $10.15 but cost only $3.05. Clara remodelled two clothes closets, but she spent no money on that work.

PALO PINTO—Seven pounds of new cotton plus one worn out mattress equals one good mattress for a child's bed in the home of Mrs. A. C. Newberry of the Village Bend home demonstration club in Palo Pinto county, according to Miss Pauline Lokey, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Newberry took the old mattress which was filled with shoddy, short cotton, added seven pounds of new long staple after the old was well aired, beaten and fluffed; and then washed the tick and remade it. There was no cost to the renovation.

Farmers' short course at A. & M. all next week is the attraction which will cause about 5,000 bags to be packed this week-end.

"The Changing Country Life" is the theme around which all the short course program and demonstrations have been built. Ox-cart ideas do not keep up with the procession in an automobile age whether in town or country. So it is well to recognize that country life is changing.

Science has made a great range of information valuable to rural citizens in making more profitable use of the raw materials grown by them.

Wood or wool, cotton or corn, hides and what not have possibilities for home use to add to the comfort and conveniences of life in these days of small electrically equipped shops and reviving interest in skills.

Also science has revealed the fact that homemakers aren't just "lucky with the canning" so much as they follow sound methods of preservation.

The farmers' short course undertakes by demonstration to make the riches of science available to all who come.

Fun Crams Will Rogers' New Comedy, 'Life Begins at 40'

Picture-lovers who find Will Rogers' brand of humor irresistible—and this includes the entire screen public—are delighted with the news that his latest picture, "Life Begins at 40," coming to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday next, is crammed with fun.

Advance reports label this Fox film, suggested by the Walter B. Pitkin book hit, a bang-up laugh riot. Critics say it easily eclipses previous Rogers' favorites, "Judge Priest," "David Harum," and "The County Chairman."

Rogers portrays a double-fisted, tender-hearted country editor who proves that the years after forty are the best and goes in quest of the fun-tain of youth. He launches a series of situations that smash the funny bone to smithereens.

"Life Begins at 40" relates the romance of a young school teacher and a youth "railroaded" to prison. The shrewd editor brings to light facts that clear the boy, and stirs up a hornet's nest of fun in the process.

Among the high spots in the picture are Will's efforts at hock-calling, and his pistol duel which he wins through wisecracking.

America's ace humorist uncorks a brand new vintage of laughs, from reliable accounts.

The supporting cast includes Rochelle Hudson and Richard Cromwell in the romantic leads, George Barbier, Jane Darwell, Slim Summerville, Sterling Holloway, Thomas Beck, Roger Imhof, Charles Sellen, John Bradford, and Ruth Gillette.

"Casino Murder Case," Van Dine's Latest Story, Sends Chills up the Spine

In "The Casino Murder Case," which opens at the Palace Theatre tomorrow (Friday) for a two-day run, a new and entirely different Philo Vance has been presented to the screen to thrill the theatre public in S. S. Van Dine's gripping murder mystery.

The scientific gentleman who solves a most puzzling crime in the current picture is our good friend, Paul Lukas, who is always dependable for an excellent characterization.

Remembered for his admirable work in "Little Women" and "The Fountain," Lukas has added another film performance to his record.

Deviating from the usual murder mystery, Director Edwin Marin has contributed a picture that is suggestive of that other perfect mystery picture, "The Thin Man," a fast-moving plot with sparkling dialogue, no lagging scenes and a fair sprinkling of wholesome humor.

Lukas is assisted in his detective work by a new leading lady for the screen—Rosalind Russell, a prominent recruit from the Broadway stage who has only been in pictures for a short time.

The baffling plot deals with the eccentric Llewellyn family. One member is murdered, another dies mysteriously and two others are strangely poisoned although they recover. It befalls Lukas, as Philo Vance, to discover the guilty poisoner and, naturally, to cast suspicion on every one.

Unusual in itself, one of science's latest discoveries, "heavy water," figures prominently in the plot. Alison Skipworth is seen in one of her finest roles as the eccentric Mrs. Llewellyn; Isabell Jewell, Louise Henry, Donald Cook, Arthur Byron, Leslie Fenton, Ted Healy and Louise Fazenda contribute to the humorous and dramatic sequences.

Boles' Orphan Home Quartet Will Appear In Concert Friday

A mixed quartet from the Boles' Orphan Home, Greenville, will appear in concert at the Eighth Street Church of Christ Friday night at 8:30.

The quartet comes here highly praised by those who have heard it in concert this year and it is proclaimed even better than in previous seasons. Each year the home sends out either a large group of singers or a quartet for appearances in various parts of the state. Last year the ensemble which visited Ballinger was well received by a large audience and plans are being made to accommodate larger attendance tomorrow night.

The program will be composed chiefly of sacred music by the quartet, but will include some solos and duets. The quartet has broadcast many times over Texas radio stations and is well known all over the state. All of the members are less than 20 years old, but according to those who have heard them they show much talent for singers so young.

Boles' Orphan Home is supported largely by the Church of Christ and the city of Greenville.

The public is cordially invited to attend the concert here tomorrow evening.

Sportsmen Discuss Forming Skeet Club

Sportsmen and sports enthusiasts are discussing the organization of a skeet club in Ballinger. Plans are underway for building two trap houses and a regular layout for the shooting. It is planned to hold about two shoots a month for all the club members, and those who desire may shoot often.

The main point stressed by Frank Cameron, A. McGregor and Willard Schuhmann, the chief promoters, is the curbing of costs to the members. The land will be secured at an early date and the building of the trap houses will start soon. No definite location has been chosen, but several sites are under consideration.

Many local sportsmen have already expressed interest in this club and others who want to join should contact some member of the committee immediately. As soon as a sufficient number of members are enlisted a double trap shooting device will be ordered and installed and contests will begin.

You may be cool enough but your motor is hotter than Death Valley!

Protect your motor with Germ Processed Oil!

2 to 4 times greater film strength than plain mineral oil—even at motor heats of 225 to 425 degrees

BREEZES may cool you off as you drive, but your motor runs at terrific heats—from 225° in the crankcase to 425° in the cylinders.

To protect your motor, your oil must have extra film strength and maintain it at these high temperatures. Otherwise, the lubricating film ruptures and the bearings and cylinders suffer damaging wear.

Plain mineral oils have little film strength and oils over-refined by the new cleansing methods have even less. Moreover, these oils rapidly lose film strength as motor heat goes up.

You can protect your motor far better with Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil, for tests on the Timken Machine prove that at high motor temperatures it has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than any plain mineral oil!

More proof—supervised road tests were made in identical cars fitted with the new alloy metal bearings used in many 1935 cars. The bearings lubricated with a high-quality plain mineral oil showed 45% more wear than those lubricated with Conoco Germ Processed, the first alloyed oil.

Say "O. K.—Drain"—fill with Germ Processed Oil. Drive far—drive fast—without a worry!

Sunnels County--

It is probable that a great rodeo program will be offered. Demands for such an entertainment have been received by fair association directors and it is thought that a two-hour program will be arranged for each afternoon and evening.
Several carnivals are seeking a booking here for the week, hippodrome acts are trying to obtain engagements and many concessionaires will take space on the grounds for the various kinds of stands. The carnival will be assigned to the regular location, where an illuminated midway will be set up. A bridge connects the carnival lot with the fair grounds proper.
The poultry exhibit will remain in the same location but will be improved during the summer to make it more attractive.
A meeting of the executive board will be held this week at which time other unassigned committees will be appointed. All the committees will be invited to a breakfast some morning next week and the proposed program further discussed.

New Potato Can Stand Extreme Cold Temperature

MOSCOW, July 24.—Successes of Russian experts in plant breeding, including a cross between wheat and rye and a new kind of potato plant able to stand temperatures down to 15 or 20 degrees above zero so that it promises to provide an important food crop for Arctic Siberia, were described in a recent address to the Dzerzhinski Club in Moscow by Prof. N. I. Vavilov, head of the Lenin Academy of Agricultural Sciences.

Large numbers of individual crosses between wheat and rye plants were possible in the summer of 1917, when very hot weather caused both kinds of grain to flower and ripen almost simultaneously. The Russian scientists seized this opportunity, obtained seeds of a large number of the crosses and now are sorting these out by further breeding to establish the best variety of a wheat-rye cross expected to provide a new grain of considerable importance to world agriculture.

Search for a potato which would resist cold took a Soviet scientific expedition to the Andes of South America, where the potato plant is believed to have originated and where scores of varieties of potatoes hitherto unknown to science have been discovered in remote villages and sent back to Russia. By cross-breeding these native potatoes with each other and with the usual cultivated varieties, Prof. Vavilov and his associates have produced a new potato said to have excellent flavor and food value and able to stand temperature 15 degrees below freezing.

MUSIC FAILS TO CHARM

MELBOURNE, Australia, July 24.—Music has no charm for snakes, declares Heber Longman, director of the Queensland Museum after a series of experiments. All kinds of musical instruments were tried, but not one snake turned as much as a scale. Museum authorities deduced that Australia snakes are not music lovers.

GORHAM, N. H., July 24.—A new use for photo-electric cells, to watch all night beside weather instruments in the intense cold and wind on top of Mount Washington, New Hampshire, so that frost and rime do not stop the instruments and spoil the records, is described in a recent report of the first winter's observations on this mountain top submitted to the United States weather bureau by the chief observer, Salvatore Pagliuca.

One record which it is important to keep unbroken is that of wind speed. Not only have wind speeds up to 164 miles an hour been recorded, enough to blow away all ordinary types of wind-speed recorders, but the temperature of 30 or 40 degrees below zero freeze up many types of instruments. In addition, clouds or cold fogs blow across the mountain top at frequent intervals, depositing long "feathers" of ice, called rime, on every exposed object.

Some of these have been observed as much as five feet long, extending directly into the wind. To avoid the necessity of someone staying up all night to keep this time from stopping the instruments, the observing staff installed a photo-electric cell or "electric eye," arranged to "look" steadily at the light from a pocket flashlight reflected in a small mirror like that of a girl's vanity case.

If the dangerous rime begins to form, this mirror ceases to be reflecting, the light entering the "electric eye" winks out, the "eye" rings an electric bell in the dormitory and one of the observers gets up and starts an electric heater which warms the wind-speed recorder artificially so that the dangerous rime will not stick to it.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Stone and son and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Tigner returned the past week-end from Corpus Christi and San Antonio, where they spent a ten days' vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. T. M. O'Steen, of Vernon, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. O'Steen.
