THIRTY-NINTH WEEK

PONY LEAGUE TO HAVE FIRST WORKOUT FRIDAY

Pony Leaguers will report for their first workout Friday night, July 8, at 6:15 at the Little League Park. At that time J. T. Ratliff, who has been instrumental in starting the organization, will have information on diamond dimensions and regulation equipment.

Ratliff said Thursday that 26 boys have signed up to participate in league play. Of these 26, 15 are 13-year-olds and a majority of them have had Little League experience. Together with the number of 14 and 15-year-olds who have indicated interest in Pony League, the future for such a league looks exceedingly bright.

Donald Fuqua and Billy Bob Ellington will work with the teams and coaches. Boys signing up for Pony League are: C. W. West, Allen Wall, Bobby Joe Smith, Jesus Ramos, Jr., Jesse Peitchinsky, Carlos Ortega, Johnny McClelland, Harold Moore, Jack Moore, John Moore, Joe Luttrell, Lee Gonzales, Leobardo Candary, Eugene Gatlin, Joe Friess, Manuel Esquivel, Roland Drennan, Federsio Delacorda, Rojelio Carranza, Edward Castro, Victor Castillo, Manuel Castillo, Ben Castillo, Jr., George Caldwell, and Oscar Bermea.

ODDS & ENDS

Fred T. Earwood received a letter from J. C. Miller, head of the Department of Animal Husbandry of Texas A. & M. this week. With Earwood's permission we quote the following paragraph from Dr. Miller's letter:

"I thoroughly enjoyed my brief stay in Sonora and the opportunity for having a real close-up look at your Wool and Mohair Show and Judging Contest. I can say without fear of contradiction that this is one of the most effective, educational tools I have seen anywhere. You and your associates are to be congratulated for the fine contribution you are making toward the educational program of bettering the sheep and goat industry Texas."

Rev. W. H. Marshall, currently vacationing on the Texas coast, called friends here Wednesday night to report catching a 65-pound tarpon Wednesday. Mr. Marshall spent a busy 18 minutes landing his catch and assures everyone that he has had plenty of picture made.

He was also worried about his tomato plants but after being assured that they were receiving the proper amount of water—no more and no less—said that he and Mrs. Marshall were on their way to Colorado to try out the mountain fishing.

From George H. James, Jr. of Ozona, emergency loan supervisor of the Farmers Home Administration come the following announcement:

Mr. Ben Cusenbary, Sonora, Texas, is the new member of the Sutton County Committee for the Farmers Home Administration. His appointment became effective July 1, 1955.

Mr. Cusenbary succeeds Mr. W. B. McMillan, whose term on the three-member committee expired this year.

Mr. Cusenbary ranches in Sutton County. The other two members of the committee are Frank P. Bond and A. Emil Prugel.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pepper spent the holidays at Ruidoso attending the races.

The Lions Roar

At their regular Tuesday meeting at the Methodist Church, Lions heard President George E. Smith report on his trip to the convention of Lions International in Atlantic City, New Jersey.

Smith and Lion O. C. Ogden left Sonora on June 15 and traveled by train to Washington, D.C., with a group of 65 Texas Lions. While in Washington they toured the Whitehouse, the Capitol, and the Senate Buildings. The Senate was in session with Senate Majority Leader Alben W. Barkley presiding. Senator Lehman of New York had the floor and was speaking on the Austrian Treaty while the Lions were in the visitors' gallery.

The Washington tour also included trips to Arlington Cemetery and the grave of the Unknown Soldier, and the Lincoln Memorial.

After a side trip to Mount Vernon, Smith and Ogden returned to Washington where they boarded ship for a trip down the Potomac River and Chesapeake Bay to Norfolk, Virginia. They visited Williamsburg and Jamestown, Virginia, meeting Second Lieutenant James T. Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Hunt of Sonora, who is stationed at Fort Eustis, Virginia.

From Virginia, Lions Ogden and Smith went by boat to New York City where they visited with Ogden's son, Wayne Ogden, formerly of Sonora. After sight-seeing tours of the city they went by bus to Atlantic City, New Jersey.

The convention of Lions International was attended by 41,000 Lions representing 69 nations.

Lions Smith and Ogden returned to Sonora on June 28.

Miss Anne Palmer is with her brother, Homer Palmer, who was seriously injured when struck by a car in San Antonio two weeks ago. Palmer underwent major surgery at Nix Hospital and is recovering slowly.

MISS WOOL CONTEST TO CLOSE JULY 31

San Angelo, Texas—Beauty and talent will be the visa for some Texas girls' visit in 1955-56 to fame and the glamor centers of America.

It's the annual Miss Wool contest, sponsored jointly by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association and the San Angelo Chamber of Commerce Board of City Development. Girls between 18 and 25 are qualified to enter the contest.

"Miss Wool" will be selected queen of the U.S. wool industry during Wool Fiesta Week in San Angelo, August 31 to September 3. Coronation ceremonies will highlight this annual event sponsored by the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association.

Requests for contest entry blanks should be addressed to Miss Wool, Box 712, San Angelo, Texas, and all applications must be returned postmarked not later than midnight, July 31.

"Miss Wool" will be awarded a $4,000 all-wool wardrobe plus expensived tours of the style centers of America as goodwill ambassador of the wool industry. She will be spotlighted at conventions, on state and national radio and television shows will model at some of the nation's top fashion shows.

Contest officials point out that talent is equally important with beauty for a candidate to win. Finalists must each give a short talk on wool, its properties and advantages over other fibers and to answer general questions on wool. Data on the subject, however, will be furnished contestants before they are required to make the presentation.

In addition to age limitations, Miss Wool candidates must wear a size 12 garment and never have been married. She must be at least five feet, six inches tall, without shoes; and agree to model before an audience the garments, accessories and hats selected for use by the finalists.

Livestock News ON SECTION 708

Sutton County producers of wool and lambs have until August 19 to cast a ballot for or against putting Section 708 of the National Wool Act into effect. The Section provides for an agreement covering advertising promotion, and related activities on wool and lambs.

The agreement between the recently organized American Sheep Producers Council and the Secretary of Agriculture provides for deductions from wool incentive and lamb and yearling sheep payments made to producers under the Wool Act. These deductions will provide a means of financing the market development program. To put the agreement into effect, producers owning at least two-thirds of the sheep and lambs represented by votes in the referendum must cast favorable votes.

If agreement is approved, the deduction from payments for the 1955 incentive program, to be in the summer of 1956, will be one cent a pound from shorn wool payments, and five cents a hundred pounds of live weight from lamb and yearling payments. The funds will be used by the Council to promote the industry.

Any producer who has owned sheep or lambs for at least 30 days any time since January 1, 1955, is eligible to vote. Because deductions would be made from both shorn wool, and lamb and yearling payments, the volume of production for this referendum owned any one 30-day period since January 1. The number of sheep and lambs will be noted on the ballot by each producer and the ballot will be signed by him.

The extended voting period is being permitted to give every eligible sheep producer an opportunity to vote. Results of the referendum will not be known until early September.

A 50 percent reduction in livestock numbers has been noted in the Edwards Plateau and Trans-Pecos area of Texas since drought began in 1943. Many ranchmen who prior to 1950 did little supplemental feeding were averaging $25 annually for feed expenditures for each animal unit at the end of 1955.

The findings have grown out of a study by two agricultural economists at Texas A.M. college on the economic effects of drought on the resources of West Texas ranches. Most of the 162 ranch operations studied by C.A. Bomen and J.M. Ward were within 100 miles of San Angelo, the area hardest hit by the drought. At San Angelo, a 60-inch rainfall deficiency accumulated in the 11-year period, 1943-53.

Grass clipping studies at the Sonora Ranch Experiment Station yielded only 20 pounds an acre of air-dry forage in 1951 and none in '52 and '53.

Between 1950 and 1953 the economists found a 37.5 percent decline in net worth among one group of 45 ranches. At the end of this period, short-term debts of the same ranches amounted to 103 percent of the value of their livestock. They had reduced their livestock numbers 20 percent, cash 50 percent, and total assets were down 20 percent, while liabilities, including a 10 percent rise in land mortgages, were up 38 percent and life insurance, 42 percent.

Another group of 92 ranches which received special livestock loans from the Farmers Home Administration owed in short-term debts 206 percent of the value of their livestock. This group represented the more extreme financial conditions among ranchmen.

Sharp changes in prices of livestock during the period complicated the drought problems for both ranchmen and credit agencies, Bomen and Ward reported. As prices rose, ranchmen were reluctant to reduce stocking rates, probably speculating on a break in the drought. This led to heavy use of high-priced feed in expectation of continued high prices, and expanded borrowing when the expected prices did not come about.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Alley and Derrel spent Friday night with their son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Gene Alley of Sterling City.

Mrs. Belle Steen left for San Antonio Tuesday on a business trip. She will visit Miss Anne Palmer while there and return Saturday.

Bingham To Face New Trial In Stockton July 18

At a hearing set for July 10 in Fort Stockton, District Judge Jim C. Langdon of the 12th District is expected to sign an order calling for a special venire to hear the second trial of Leonard L. Bingham, 24, charged with the murder of Mrs. Jo Ethel Lambert of Sonora.

Trial will be heard beginning July 18 in the district courtroom in Fort Stockton.

The case was sent to Fort Stockton from Kimble County district court in Junction, where it was heard on a charge of venue from Sutton County. Bingham was sentenced to death by a jury in Junction last April 17, but the conviction and death penalty were reversed by the Court of Criminal Appeals in Austin last January on grounds that an unpardoned ex-convict was a member of the jury.

Attorneys George Willie and W. A. Hadden, Sr., both of Fort Stockton and Marvin C. Blackburn, Jr., of Junction will represent Bingham. Blackburn was asked to be excused since his appointment as district attorney of the newly-created judicial district.

Assisting in the prosecution will be District Attorneys Connell Ashley of Fort Stockton and John R. Lee of the Kermit 109th District.

Soil Conservation District News

Prepared by Local SCS Personnel
News of Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District

"I'd like for you to come out now and I'll show you some grass" is getting to be a more common statement following the June 29 rains. Ranges which had enough cover to soak up most of the one to two and a half inch rains are making very rapid growth. Many grasses are beginning to produce seed and are making good progress in covering bare spots.

"Ranchmen in the Edwards Plateau SCD appreciate grass now more than ever before," said E. B. Keng, SCS technician. Five years of severe drought with low forage production and heavy feeding has shown the economic advantages of moderate stocking. Most ranchmen realize that old grass left on the ground is definitely not "wasted," as was once commonly believed, but is simply Nature's insurance that the spring rains will be used to grow a new and better crop of grass.

Many ranchmen are resting drought-weakened pastures now, to restore the maximum amount of ground cover and plant vigor.

DEHORNING IMPORTANT

Horns and choice beef carcasses do not go together. Feeders having horns, says U. D. Thompson, extension animal husbandman, do not feed out so well as dehorned cattle.

Badly bruised carcasses are usually found in shipments of horned animals. These bruises detract from the appearance of the carcasses and lower their sale value. Aside from the damage to the meat, the hide is frequently damaged as a result of cattle going one another.

In general, dehorned cattle usually command better prices in the market place than horned cattle of similar quality and condition, Thompson adds.

LOCAL RESERVE UNIT NEEDS OFFICER

The local reserves need an officer to supervise their unit. Any former army officer is eligible to take over this position which involves only one night's work each week. Failure to find the necessary officer may result in inactivation of the local unit.

Norman L. Davis, principal of Sonora High School, received the following letter pertaining to the situation:

Dear Norman: Just a few lines received word from the Army that unless I can get another officer assigned by 31 July, plans will be initiated to inactivate the unit.

Now here's where you fit in—do you know of any officers (Lieutenants) there in Sonora or Ozona who might be interested? If you do, I surely would appreciate your talking to them for me or sending me their names.

Yours truly,
Joe Andrews
Capt. U. S. Army
Commanding Officer
San Marcos, Texas.

Any persons interested in helping the local unit maintain its active status please contact Norman Davis.

Personal Notes

Mrs. Lamar Fuqua, Steve and Linda spent the weekend in Ballinger visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fuqua and Kenneth.

Dr. and Mrs. Leo Merrill are spending their vacation in Arizona. Dr. Merrill, who is chairman of the National Membership committee and the Texas Program committee, will attend a meeting of America's Society of Ranch Management, in Springfield, Arizona.

Dr. W. T. Hardy and son, Tyree, left Thursday morning for Bluebonnet Farm at McGregor, where they will attend a meeting at which co-operative work of livestock was discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cauthorn and Mrs. Lee Labenske went to Buchanan Lake during the holidays.

Mrs. Pearl Crites returned Monday from a month's visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Lt. Com. and Mrs. Jack O. Crites, in Albuquerque, N. M.

Miss Ethel Alley of El Campo spent the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Alley.

Even short rest periods of four to eight weeks allow remarkable improvement following rains. Most ranches are moderately stocked now, and livestock—particularly sheep and goats—are "doubled up" in some pastures for short periods, while other pastures rest. Following the rest period, and if possible, after another rain, livestock are all moved into rested pastures, and the grazed pastures are given an opportunity to produce seed.

This system of "in-and-out" use has given very good results in the Edwards Plateau Soil Conservation District. George Brockman, Edwin Sawyer, Harold Friess, Rip Ward, Bobby Martin, Lee Fawcett and many others have found it a successful method of livestock and range management. The concentration of livestock at a "double rate" causes little damage to ranges for short periods, according to Keng. The doubled-up stocking simply means that livestock will take off the less desirable vegetation along with the choice feed. When the pasture rested, following the short periods of heavy use, the choice grasses can recover and will gradually crowd out the less desirable plants.

Rest periods of three to six months are best, of course, and are badly needed on much range land. From a practical and economic standpoint, however, it often seems impossible for a ranchman to allow a large proportion of his ranch to rest five months or longer. It is possible on every ranch to take advantage of the shorter periods of rest with "in-and-out" grazing.

More interest is being shown in pitting bare flats in the District. Alvis Johnson and Herbert Fields bought a pitting plow this week. Mrs. Thomas Esby is pitting several hundred acres.

Following the June 29 rain of 1.80 inches, new pits on the Ben Cusenbary ranch stored water, under pits, to a depth of 26 and a half inches. (Sounds unbelievable but Keng dug the hole, and Ben used the ruler.) Unpitted bare flats and a creas between pits were wet only four inches deep.

Mrs. Tom Driskell and Mrs. Vernon Hamilton left Wednesday for Big Lake and Big Spring. They will visit their brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Rees in Big Lake and Mrs. C. T. Driskell and children, in Big Spring.

APPETITE CLUE TO HEALTH

When a flock of sheep is suffering from a dietary deficiency one of the first symptoms is the eating of materials other than their normal food. The chewing of fences, eating of dirt or even wool are all characteristic of an abnormal appetite.

Lambs will eat dirt when they are heavily infested with internal parasites and it has been found that insufficient quantities of salt, calcium, cobalt, copper, phosphorus, carotene and even roughage in the ration may be causes of "pica," the official name for a depraved appetite.

Careful examination of the animals may reveal different symptoms which may be tied to a shortage of a specific element in the diet. Corrective treatment may be administered if the condition has not advanced too far, and losses may be avoided.

LOW-COST FEED FOR BREEDING EWES

A low-cost feed for breeding ewes that may result in both savings and heavier lambs is being tried out by Southwest Foundation for Research and Education and early research findings look favorable.

Development of the new feed is based on a principle in animal nutrition that the rumen (first stomach of an animal with multiple stomachs) can break down and use nutrition from feeds of rather low quality if certain conditions are right.

The feed under test is made from cotton gin waste dried to the proper stage, ground, and mixed with molasses and a mineral mixture of trace and other chemical elements. This product, made into pellets, is substituted for part of the standard feed ration of the ewes.

A standard ration made of corn, bran-shorts, cottonseed meal, salt and mineral mixture was used as a check. In the test ration, half of the corn (12.5 pounds per hundred) was replaced with the cotton gin waste feed, which resulted in savings of three dollars per ton.

The experiment lasted 82 days and the ewes were divided and equalized on the pastures in proportion to acreage and condition of the grass.

Wool clip from ewes on the test ration average 0.1 pound per head more than those on the standard ration. Average weight of lambs on the test ration was 2.5 pounds greater than those on standard rations. Feed consumption of the test ration was slightly greater, so the difference in feed costs was four cents per ewe cheaper on the test ration.

The experiment will run for three years before the results are fully evaluated and the ewes will be rotated through three different pastures to overcome any effect of a different quality of the pastures.

One Thing Men Agree Upon !

It is in the nature of things for men to hold opinions and to argue and dispute.

Football, baseball, politics—guns, golf clubs, breeds in dogs . . . name a best, and you have an argument.

And so it goes through boats and trains—and horses and tennis and makes of planes.

But when the discussion turns to motor cars, you'll seldom get an argument if you name CADILLAC as the car of cars.

That's about as close as men come to universal agreement. And with good reason.

Who could look about him at the various styles in motor cars—and not give the nod to Cadillac for its great dignified silhouette?

Who could take the wheel of this dynamic performer—and not crown it the king of the highway?

Who could relax in its luxurious comfort for a mile or five hundred—and fail to recognize it as the finest riding car on the world's highways?

And who could look back over its illustrious past—or look about him at the people who own it and drive it today—and not acclaim it as the most distinguished car in the whole automotive world?

We feel assured that you, yourself, are aware that Cadillac is the car of cars. But that is but part of the wonderful Cadillac story.

There are economy—and value—and dependability. And there are all the other sound, practical reasons for owning a Cadillac.

Come in and see us. Thirty minutes at the wheel . . . and you'll understand why there's no argument about a Cadillac!

The other two got away although he had a fair shot at them.

Twin Pipes that play sweet music!

Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8" with 180 hp.

Some like it hot . . . and the hottest of the lot is Chevrolet's "Super Turbo-Fire V8."

You can spot this one by the twin tailpipes. They're easy to see because the back view is just about the only glimpse you get of this astounding performer! No matter what you drive, you're going to have to get used to the idea of seeing twin-exhaust Chevrolets pulling away—in traffic, on the toughest hills, on the long straightaways.

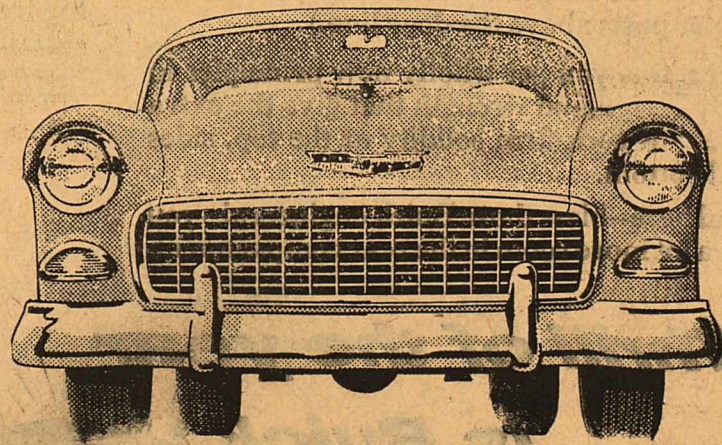

Unless you have a "Super Turbo-Fire V8" of your own. And then you'll know what it's like to pilot the car that sets the pace for everything else—and doesn't pause to read the price tags!

What makes the Super scat? Chevrolet's superb valve-in-head V8, with the shortest stroke in the industry, the most power per pound, and the only 12-volt electrical system in its field—all this plus a four-barrel carburetor and free-breathing twin exhausts.

Want to sample this silk-lined cyclone? Just give us a call, any day this week, and we'll be proud to show you just how hot a V8 can be.

*Optional at extra cost.
†Station wagon models have single exhaust pipes.

Personal Notes

Dr. and Mrs. Joe B. Logan, Rick and Sharon were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Kelley on the ranch near McKavitt last weekend.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Cahill during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jernigan, Lee Mawrey and Jay York of Wichita Falls.

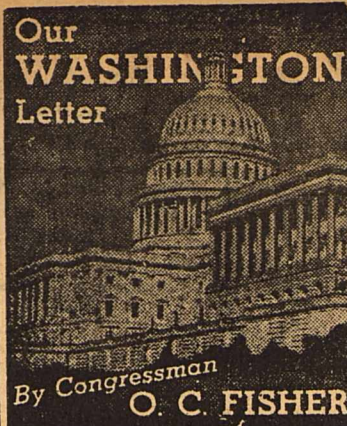

Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Anthony and daughter Margaret Ann, of Lake Charles, La., spent the holdays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Anthony.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Anthony went to Uvalde last weekend to visit Mrs. Anthony's aunt, Mrs. Bertha Johnson. Nancy Anthony, who had been with her aunt for the past week, accompanied them home.

Mrs. Dorothy Dulnig had as guests for the weekend her sister, Mrs. Ruth Buchanan and Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Bryan of San Antonio.

Wear more wool - Eat more lamb

By Congressman O. C. FISHER

THE HOUSE passed a Reserve training bill and a foreign aid measure last week before recessing for the July 4 weekend. The reserve bill had been bogged down because of an amendment offered several weeks ago to the original bill. The amendment offered by the negro Congressman from Harlem, which would have forced desegregation of National Guard units, was tentatively adopted and that forced the bill to be pigeon-holed. In the meantime the President appealed to the colored member not to persist in his move; but the latter, flushed with initial victory, said Eisenhower had had advice and didn't know what he was talking about. The President had insisted that a civil rights amendment to the bill was "extraneous", and was the wrong time and place for that issue to be fought out. He said the move jeopardized national security.

Anyhow, the new attempt to wreck the National Guard, which except in time of national emergencies is under control of the respective Governors, failed when the Harlem member's new attempt was voted down this time by a two-to-one margin.

THE $3½ BILLION FOREIGN AID bill also sailed through the House after lengthy debate. While I strongly favor some portions of the program, such as further military supplies for Pakistan,

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Gsanger had as their guest over the weekend, Mrs. Mabel Cannon of San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Joe Granger spent last weekend at Kingsville, with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Arthur.

Mrs. Hi Eastland has returned from a visit with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Newby of Del Rio. Her grandson, Hi Eastland Newby, who is a student at Baylor Medical School in Houston, is doing extern work in Del Rio this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seale and son, Jim Bob, spent the holidays with Seale's mother, Mrs. Grace Seale, in Waurika, Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Lovelace had as weekend guests their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McGara and children of McCamey and their son, Robert Lovelace, of San Angelo.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wade, Vera Beth and John Richard and Mrs. Myrtle Sellman were in Eldorado during the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ovid Wade, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Lum Burk.

Mrs. Bill Fields and daughter Francine, returned Tuesday from a visit to relatives in Dallas.

Turkey and others known to be in need and worthy of our help, I voted against the package bill because of a number of aid items which I felt was unjustified. For example, the $70 million hand-out earmarked for India. And the aid to Yugoslavia, I feel, should be reexamined in view of Tito's lovey-dovey attitude toward the Kremlin of late. Should we send more jets to Tito until and unless we have more definite assurance of which side he is actually on? Maybe he will stand firm against capitulating to Moscow, but his recent behavior calls for an explanation and certain assurances that have not been forthcoming.

188-hp Buick SPECIAL 6-Passenger, 4-Door RIVIERA, Model 43

This 4-Door Beauty
is the Newest Hit in Hardtops

YOU certainly ought to come in and see for yourself why this new kind of hardtop is headed for the best-seller list.

It's a Buick Riviera, of course.

Which means the low and rakish look of a Convertible — a solid steel roof overhead — and no center posts in the side window areas to obstruct your view.

But that's only the beginning.

Here you get two extra doors. They open to the rear compartment. So no one in the front has to move when someone gets into or out of the rear.

Here you get massive half-pillars on either side on which the front doors latch and the rear doors hinge. (That's why you see no center posts above the door line.)

Here, too, you get wholly new principles in body design and strength that give the extra safety of rock-firm solidity at the top, sides and bottom.

And here—bless those Buick engineers!—you get a lot more room in the rear compartment.

For the 4-Door Riviera gives you over 9 inches more hiproom and 5 inches more legroom — yet with no increase in wheelbase or over-all car length.

So we repeat—you certainly ought to come in and see this stunning new kind of hardtop.

It's the very last word in beauty, comfort, convenience. It's available in Buick's two lowest-priced Series — the SPECIAL and the CENTURY. And it's all Buick — with Buick power, Buick ride, Buick handling — and the spectacular performance of Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo.*

Drop in today—tomorrow at the latest—and learn what Buick's all time record sales year can mean to you in the way of a whopping big trade-in deal.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.

SMARTER CHILDREN

Do Junior's questions about everything under the sun-and in the outer space, too-baffle you? Have you, secretly of course, asked the question, "Are the kids today smarter than in my day?"

There is some evidence that all those vitamins we take are increasing the intelligence of the younger generation, and making life tougher for parents. Recent experiments seem to show that extra vitamins taken by mothers during pregnancy and nursing may increase the I.Q. of their children. Some 2,400 expectant mothers took part in a test conducted by Teachers College, Columbia University. Some of the mothers got extra vitamin C, some got B vitamins, and others were given placebos or "duds" containing no vitamins.

At the age of four the children were tested by psychologists and all the "vitaminized" children surpassed the placebo group by an average of 5.2 in intelligence quotient. The best response to vitamins was in city tenement families where the regular diet may have been below normal. So, the test doesn't prove conclusively that mothers who regularly get in their diets the recommended amount of vitamins can improve their children's I.Q. by taking extra vitamins. But it certainly shows how important a proper diet is to the expectant mother. Maybe a mother can't guarantee a great brain for her child by getting plenty of vitamins during pregnancy and nursing. But there is much she can do to give him the best possible chance for a healthy, vigorous body and mind. The diet should include

DRIVE TO ARRIVE

"Drive to arrive alive!" There's a lot of good common sense packed into that short, catchy slogan the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are using for their vacation driving program this month.

After all, when a driver starts out on a motor trip his goal is to get where he's going and to get there healthy and happy so that he can have some fun. It would certainly defeat his purpose if careless driving necessitated a detour to the hospital or worse!

What kind of driving, then, should he adopt to get him to his destination alive and in good health and spirits? To begin with it should be courteous driving. The courteous driver is pleasantly relaxed, gives other drivers a break and is always prepared to yield the right of way to prevent accidents. His behavior is in sharp contrast to that of the selfish Hurry Bug who drives along the road with no

BULLETIN ON BITTERWEED

Bitterweed is among range plants most common and poisonous to livestock in Texas. It is among the 69 listed as poisonous grazing to livestock in "Texas Range Plants Poisonous to Livestock", a new joint publication of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Extension Service.

A complete description of bitterweed (Hymenoxys odorata), a list of animals commonly affected, and the management and control of bitterweed as well as the other 68 poisonous plants is given in the bulletin.

Overgrazing and periodical droughts, says the publication, mainly are responsible for the decrease of more desirable plants and consequent increase of toxic and less desirable brush and weeds.

Copies of the informative 48-page bulletin are available at County Agent D. C. Langford's office.

Mrs. R. G. Nance is in McCamey this week visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moss.

Mrs. A. E. Newton and daughter, Sandra, returned to Hamilton with her mother, Mrs. J. F. Riley. Mrs. Newton and Sandra will remain in Hamilton for a visit.
