Opposition To Draft Revival Said Growing

GOP Leader Says People Back Home Are Against Plan

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21—Signs of a hot draft fight in Congress began to take shape today.

A second member of the House armed services committee came out flatly against any peacetime revival of selective service. He said still a third member, as yet unidentified, will vote "no" on the issue.

People Against It

"I'm against it, and the people back home are against it," Rep. Bishop (R-Ill) told a reporter. "I have found that out. Other members of the House will find it out, too."

As House opposition began to take voice, Rep. Engel (R-Mich) estimated that raising the armed forces to the sizes contemplated by draft bills now under consideration would cost the country at least $2,250,000,000 more a year.

Engel is chairman of the appropriations subcommittee in charge of military financing. The present budget for the year beginning July 1 already includes $14,000,000,000 for the armed forces, Engel said.

Leaders Are Accused

In his criticism of the administration's request for a draft to back up President Truman's newly proclaimed stop-Russia policy, Bishop accused military leaders of not making effective use of present reserves. Moreover, he said, the administration has not proved any real need for a mobilization.

Bishop thus joined Rep. Short (R-Mo), a fellow committee member, who made almost identical objections yesterday. Short, however, said he thinks Congress will pass a draft bill anyway. There are 36 members of the armed services committee now in the second week of hearings on the question of reviving selective service.

Details Are Studied

Bishop made his stand known as the armed services committee began studying details of a revised draft bill sponsored by Chairman Andrews (R-NY). Andrews formally introduced the measure yesterday after four days of testimony from draft opponents.

The Andrews bill would authorize the armed services to reach a total of 2,006,000 men by July 1, 1950. That would be 621,500 men above present strength, and 272,-

Union Protests Picket's Death

CHICAGO, April 21 (U.P.)—Officials of the striking CIO Packinghouse union charged today that a picket who was killed in a picket-line scuffle was the victim of "the greed of the meat trust and the strike-breaking police."

The striker, Santo Cicardo, 38, died late yesterday of a skull fracture and internal injuries suffered when he fell beneath the wheels of a truck which was trying to enter the struck Armour and company meat plant here.

First Fatality

It was believed to be the first fatality since the nationwide meat strike began last March 16.

A joint labor committee composed of officials of the packinghouse workers and other CIO unions planned to lodge a formal protest with Mayor Martin J. Kennelly.

The committee charged after a strategy meeting that police had told the driver of the truck, Steven Bruns, 36, Versailles, O., to "proceed full speed ahead regardless of who might be in the way."

Bruns was arrested yesterday, but told police he had not known anyone was injured until they seized him.

Stage Set For Bloody Battle As British Troops Quit Haifa

(By The United Press)

JERUSALEM, April 21—The British Army in a surprise move today ordered its troops out of all Haifa except for two strategic toeholds, setting the stage for a showdown battle between the Arabs and Jews for the great port city.

The British evacuation of Haifa was in full swing. The Army was holding positions only in the port area, Palestine's main gateway by sea, and at military headquarters atop Mt. Carmel overlooking the city.

Fight Signs Seen

As suddenly as the British acted to leave Haifa undefended, signs sprang up that the Arabs and Jews were ready to fight for the city. Some quarters predicted that the battle, the first big test in the war for Palestine, might start within a day or two.

The Jews outnumbered the Arabs by about four to one in Haifa, a city of some 150,000. The Jewish militia Haganah occupies heights overlooking the Arab sections. Casualties by the hundreds appeared likely in case of a fight to the finish.

Open Invitation

A British spokesman admitted that the withdrawal was "an open invitation" to the Jews and Arabs to have it out for possession of the city, a strategic citadel commanding the bulk of the sea traffic for Paletine and much of the northern part of the country.

The evacuation of Mt. Carmel, the port area, and a single road between them affected hundreds of British troops and dozens of posts and military installations, including tactical headquarters at the foot of Mt. Carmel. The headquarters will be moved to the top of the hill.

The British said they decided on the move because of the strained, unsafe atmosphere. This is the last city where the Army will hold a position in Palestine. Through the port the British Army and many civilians already are leaving Palestine.

Youth Confesses To Slaying Of Woman

BOSTON, April 21. (U.P.)—A 17-year-old trucker's helper confessed to police today that he slashed and stabbed a mother of two children to death with a pocket knife and stuffed her nude body into a wash boiler which he threw into Boston harbor.

The youth, Arthur McGilvary, was booked on suspicion of murder. Police said he admitted slaying Mrs. Dorothy (Conchita) Brennan, 32, a month ago after a drunken argument in an apartment he shared with another man.

Big Battleship Texas Becomes A State Shrine

Thousands Witness Colorful Ceremony At San Jacinto

HOUSTON, April 21. (U.P.)—The battleship Texas became a state shrine near the San Jacinto battleground today during a colorful ceremony in which the flag of the Lone Star state was unfurled aboard the huge ship.

The solemn and historic moment aboard the 34-year-old ship was witnessed by thousands who thronged the area surrounding the ship's permanent berth off the Houston ship channel.

Dedicated By Nimitz

The formal decommissioning of the Texas was held on the 112th anniversary of the battle for Texas independence.

Texas-born Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, wartime commander of Pacific Navy forces and retired chief of naval operations, dedicated the 27,000-ton ship as a memorial to all Texans who fought in the nation's two great foreign wars.

A new honor was bestowed upon Admiral Nimitz today when he became the ranking admiral in the Texas Navy.

The keynote of the day was sounded by assistant Secretary of the Navy Mark Edwin Andrews who made the presentation of the ship as a gift from the Navy department.

Proud Of Texans

"All of us can be proud of the reputation Texans have built for themselves in the United States Navy," Andrews said. "From seaman to fleet admiral they have performed their duties in keeping with the highest traditions of the service. That is why this ship is here today.

"The Navy is turning this ship over to the state of Texas in honor of all the men of Texas, who, like Admiral Nimitz, did so much to win the war. She is more than a ship. She is a living symbol of Texas courage, devotion to duty and fighting spirit.

Proved Herself Worthy

"In two World wars she blazed her way across the Atlantic and the Pacific and in every battle she fought she proved herself worthy of her name. It is a fitting tribute both to her and to all the fighting men of Texas that she should at last be brought home where she belongs, and that she should take her rightful place as a symbol of Texas glory," Andrews said.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester accepted the Texas on behalf of the people of Texas.

"May I, through you, Mr. Andrews, express for the people of Texas our very deep appreciation to the Congress of the United States for granting us the right to

Streamlined Group Now Has 234,970 Men

Powerful New National Guard Bristling With Guns, Planes

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21 — A new streamlined National Guard equipped with nearly 2,000 planes and bristling with anti-aircraft artillery, is steadily building into shape, Army officers said today.

The new Air National Guard program is three months ahead of schedule. So far 21,000 men have been organized into 355 air units operating 1,904 planes. The air guard will have 25,000 men by June 30 and 3,212 planes when fully equipped.

Texas Unit Complete

Four states have completed organization of all their anti-aircraft artillery units. They are Alabama, Maine, Rhode Island Texas.

About 440 out of 809 National Guard anti-aircraft units have been completely organized. They are either completely mobile or self-propelled. They use the latest-type guns including the 90 mm. gun used in World War II

When it reaches full strength, the anti-aircraft artillery section of the National Guard will have 80,000 men ready for instant action against attacking enemy planes.

Could Swing Into Action

They will be equipped with radar detecting and fire control devices. They could swing into action against enemy bombers that get through the protecting screen of Air National Guard and regular Air Force fighters.

National Guard strength now stands at 234,970 officers and

Floyd Man To Get New Trial

AUSTIN, April 21. (U.P.) — The Court of Criminal Appeals agreed today that the physical condition of a man's mother-in-law might be pertinent to a plaintiff's defense—particularly if he is charged with transporting whisky in a dry area.

In its action, the court reversed and remanded the case of Sarl Gordon, appealed from Floyd county.

Was Fined $300

Gordon, charged and convicted for unlawfully transporting whisky in a dry area, was fined $300.

However, he testified following his arrest on May 6, 1947, that of 15 bottles of whisky, three were intended for his mother-in-law.

The family doctor, he said, had prescribed a "strong toddy" to induce sleep and rest.

The other 12 bottles were for a friend whose mother-in-law also needed a strong toddy.

Testimony Withdrawn

Gordon's statement was corroborated by witnesses. However, on a motion by the state, the court ordered all testimony on the physical condition of the mother-in-law withdrawn from the jury.

This, the Court of Criminal Appeals said, was wrong.

When the trial court withdrew this testimony it stripped Gordon "of every vestige of defense."

"If the jury believed the testimony of the appellant and his wit-

Dallas, Amarillo Also Receive Awards

Lubbock Is Winner Of Safety Contest Second Straight Year

(By The United Press)

AUSTIN, April 21 — A listing of the safest cities in Texas in 1947 by the Texas Safety association today showed Dallas in the number one spot among the state's largest cities.

Dallas ranked 13th among cities of its size in the nation in the national traffic safety contest conducted each year by the National Safety council.

Amarillo topped cities in the 50,000 to 100,000 bracket. Lubbock, for the second straight year, won in the 25,000 to 50,000 population group; and University Park led among cities from 10,000 to 25,000 population.

The Texas Safety association said 14 Texas towns with population from 5,000 to 10,000 won in the honor roll section for having no traffic fatalities in 1947.

They were Bay City, Beeville, Bonham, Brady, Coleman, Cuero, Eagle Pass, Graham, Mexia, Mineral Wells, Nacogdoches, Seguin, Uvalde, and West University Place near Houston.

In the traffic safety contest cities were awarded which "came nearest to doing the most that could be done practicably for traf-

CIO Leader Target For Assassin's Gun

Walter P. Reuther Escapes Death In Ambush Shooting

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, April 21—The CIO's Walter P. Reuther escaped death at a gunman's hand last night.

A mysterious assailant, creeping to a lighted kitchen window of the auto unionist's home, fired a shotgun blast at Reuther, inflicting serious arm and chest wounds.

BIG REWARD OFFERED

DETROIT, April 21 (AP) — The CIO United Auto Workers today placed a $100,000 price on the head of the stealthy gunman who tried in vain to kill Walter P. Reuther. Their reward offer followed one for $10,000 by the city of Detroit, launched on a great manhunt for the assailant who fired a shotgun into Reuther's kitchen Tuesday night.

WALTER P. REUTHER

Follow Slim Clues

Early today, as doctors reported Reuther out of danger, a battery of Detroit's police and top detectives followed slim clues in a search for one or two men in the assault.

For a time it was feared that Reuther, fiery president of the CIO's United Auto Workers, might lose his right arm, shattered by several slugs.

Reuther himself, according to Prosecutor James N. McNally, blamed "management, Communists or a screwball." However, the prosecutor said Reuther "wasn't much help on what happened."

The 40-year-old red-haired, aggressive UAW leader has long been an avowed foe of Communism.

SOCIALISTS SEEK INDEPENDENCE

Italian Communist Party Is Weakened

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, April 21.—First signs of possible disintegration of the Communist-dominated Popular Front appeared today as Italian election returns strengthened the already dominant position of anti-Communist forces.

Giuseppe Romita, former minister of the interior, and until now an ally of the fellow-traveling Socialist parties, handed to newspapers copies of a letter he wrote party members inviting them to a meeting to take steps to "regain the independence" of the Socialist party.

Wrote Letter Monday

He said he wrote the letter Monday before returns started coming in. Five other Socialist leaders signed the letter with him. The Socialists split in Italy and part joined the Popular Front and part went along with Premier Alcide de Gasperi in his middle-of-the-road government.

Final returns from the Senate election Sunday and Monday, issued this morning by the interior ministry, showed the Christian Democrats had won 47.9 percent of the total vote in contests for 237 seats at stake. That compared with 35.2 percent they got in the last elections in 1946.

Vote Declines

The Popular Front got 31 percent, down from the 39.7 percent the Communist and pro-Communist Socialists got in 1946.

The senate totals announced by the ministry:

Christian Democrats 10,740,131, Popular Front 6,955,229, Independent Socialist Unity party 1,580,722 (7 percent), Rightist National bloc 1,364,741 (6.1 percent), Republicans 637,433 (2.9 percent), National Monarchists 436,597 (2 percent), Independent 278,351 (1.2 percent), Italian Social Movement 244,646 (1.1 percent).

Illinois Woman Is "Mother Of Year"

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 21. (U.P.)—A small, white shingle bungalow on the outskirts of town was as busy today as if the occupants had won the giant jackpot of all quiz shows.

For inside, a queenly woman of 61 was receiving congratulations from the nation, her husband, and her 10 children for having been named "American Mother of the Year" yesterday.

Mrs. Helen Gartside Hines, a runner-up for the honor in 1946, took the congratulation calmly, sandwiching the reporters, the newsreel men, her friends, and the "thousand-and-one" telephone calls into her regular duties as housewife and mother.

The newly-crowned "mother of the year" was chosen by the Golden Rule Foundation from 51 candidates.

Substitute For Radium Found

WASHINGTON, April 21. (U.P.)—Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission disclosed today the discovery of a new, virtually costless and plentiful radioactive substitute for radium in the treatment of cancer

Lilienthal reported on the new atomic process to President Truman.

The chairman made plain that the new substitute has not been tested medically, but he said that commission scientists and medical advisers are confident that it will work as well as radium.

Coblat Activated

Lilienthal said the new use of atomic energy in treating cancer is simple.

Coblat, an inexpensive metal, can be fashioned into rods, tubes, needles or any form desired for the cancer treatment. These cobalt instruments are then inserted in the atomic furnace at Oak Ridge, Tenn., for a short period.

Lilienthal told reporters that "in a relatively short time," the cobalt becomes radioactive so that it is as effective as radium.

He emphasized that radioactive coblat would "do as much as radium" in the treatment of cancer, "but no more."

Injunction To Halt Walkout Issued Today

New Pension Plan Is Challenged In Operators' Suit

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 21 — John L. Lewis' $100-a-month pension plan for his coal miners was challenged today in a court suit. A new court order also was issued barring a coal strike.

These developments came swiftly atop the $20,000 fine levied on Lewis and the $1,400,000 one on the United Mine Workers yesterday for contempt of a court's "stop-strike" order:

Injunction Is Issued

1. Justice T. Alan Goldsborough issued a Taft-Hartley law injunction forbidding continuance of resumption of a nation-wide coal strike. That law permits 80-day injunctions. Government attorneys took the stand that the 80 days won't begin until all striking is stopped.

2. Ezra Van Horn, trustee representing coal operators on the miners welfare fund, filed a suit questioning the pension agreement Lewis and Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) announced April 12. He asked a U. S. district court order against starting the pension system until the courts decide whether it is legal.

Plan Provides $100

The plan provides pensions of $100 a month to miners aged 62 with 20 years service. Lewis and Bridges got together on it after House Speaker Martin (R-Mass) interviewed in the coal dispute and got Bridges appointed as third, or neutral, trustee of the welfare fund. Van Horn opposed the plan.

One question Van Horn raised for the courts is whether it is legal for pensions to go to all members of the United Mine Workers who qualify as to age and service. The point is that the UMW has members working for mines which do not contribute to the welfare fund. Lewis got some mine operators to agree to this fund in 1947. These operators pay into the fund 10 cents a ton for each ton of coal the UMW mines.

Might Bankrupt Fund

Van Horn also declared the plan might bankrupt the fund.

Goldsborough's Taft-Hartley injunction replaces the temporary court order which Lewis was found guilty of violating. The violation was the "contempt" which led to his fines.

Lewis still faces the possibility of further fines, or even jail, on a contempt court and has telegraphed the miners his wish that they get back to work.

Goldsborough approved the injunction on the plea of a government attorney that "the public interest remains in peril" and a

U. S. May Ask Forced Truce

LAKE SUCCESS, April 21. (AP) The United States may present a demand today that the security council enforce a United Nations truce in Palestine.

Chief American Delegate Warren R. Austin was reported concerned over the refusal of Jews and Arabs to take steps toward carrying out the detailed ceasefire order voted last Saturday by the council.

Sources here said the British, who were handed the responsibility of bringing the two fighting groups together, merely had given copies of the council decision to them. Nothing further has been reported done in Palestine to stop the bloodshed.

No Enforcement Plans

No enforcement provisions were included in the truce plan. In the final debate before voting, a provision for a U. N. on-the-spot commission was stricken out in a disagreement over who should be members.

The United States now is weighing a proposal to revive the truce commision idea. Also being studied is a suggestion that the council furnish a limited number of police to assist in supervising the truce. There was no indication as to where these forces would come from.

HIS ULCERS ARE GETTING ULCERS

Woeful Gag Writer Says World Problems Make His Job Worse

BY ROBERT MUSEL
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 21 (U.P.) — Sidney Reznick, a lugubrious young man under any circumstances, folded the newspaper and gave himself up to woe.

"You wouldn't realize it," he said, "but the international situation is what makes my job so hard these days. How can I know what will make people laugh when the world is so upset?"

Reznick is a gag man and, typical of many in his ulcer-ridden craft, hasn't had a hearty laugh himself in years. His normal reaction to an uproarious joke is a dead-panned nod and the single word: "great."

"My ulcers are getting ulcers," he said, "trying to keep people laughing when every day brings them worse news in the international sphere. Probably you haven't noticed but we've had to switch many of our premises for humor.

What They Laugh At

"For example, we used to get howls with situation humor. That is where the laughs are built into a situation. Like this: husband leaves house and immediately boy friend enters. Husband unexpectedly returns so boy friend hides in closet. Husband forgot his brief case and is looking for it. Now practically every bit of dialogue can produce a laugh because of the fact the audience knows the boy friend is in the closet.

"You have a 'situation,' in other words. After squeezing all the laughs you can out of the situation you can get a final blast by having the husband kiss his wife goodbye a second time and then, as he passes the closet, knock on it and say: "goodbye, Sam'."

Reznick said the hair-trigger news from abroad was making people impatient with the "situation" gag and its long buildup.

"They want split-second jokes," he said. "And those are the toughest to write. Also there is a peculiar trend toward 'neurotic' humor — if that's the right word. Psychiatry has become a good subject for laughs which is sadly indicative of the times.

Pun Coming Back

"Take this one. Woman on vacation sends her psychiatrist a postcard: 'Having wonder time. Wish you were here to tell me why'."

This emphasis on the punchline, Reznick said, is effecting the renaissance of the pun.

"I know its supposed to be the lowest form of humor," he said, "but I'll bet 75 per cent of the jokes people laugh at are puns or near puns."

Since Reznick has written jokes for such stars as Milton Berle, Al Jolson, Jimmy Durante, Ed Wynn, Phil Silvers, etc., he is somewhat of an authority.

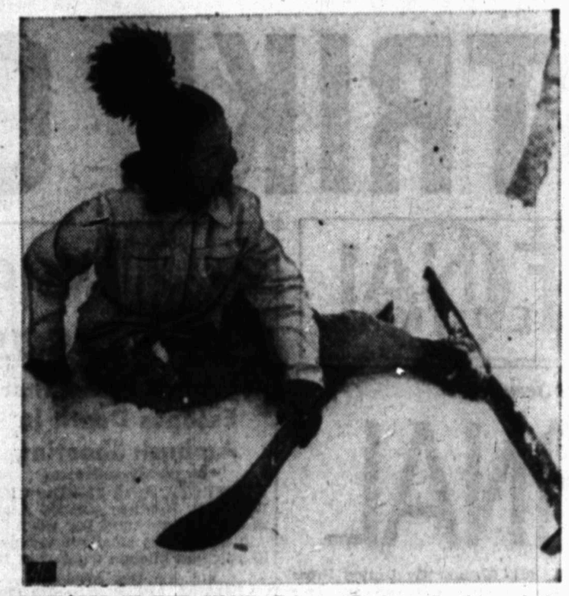

"I remember," he continued, "the first time Governor Jim Folsom of Alabama came to New Yord. I was with a joke writer and the first comment he made was 'you can Folsom of the people . . .'."

Teacher Association Reelects Officers

A quorum of the Lubbock Classroom Teachers association, meeting last night in the study hall at Senior High school, reelected the entire slate of officers for the coming year by acclamation, A. B. Reese, president of the association, announced.

Those reelected for another term of office are: Reese, president; Norman Heath, vice president; Mrs. Novelle Newsom, secretary; and Martha Mathis, treasurer.

The association voted to send Reese to the Cleveland meeting of the National Education association, starting July 5 and lasting about a week.

Superintendent R. W. Matthews spoke to the group on various teacher welfare measures. Reports were heard from the welfare committee, and the audit report was read. Approximately 125 members of the association were present.

Wait for the hum-m-m, chum!

It's important, Kids, that Hum-m-m. It's the dial tone. It means "Go ahead and dial."

Dollars to doughnuts the dial tone will be there by the time you get the receiver to your ear. If it isn't...you'd better wait—if you want your number, that is!

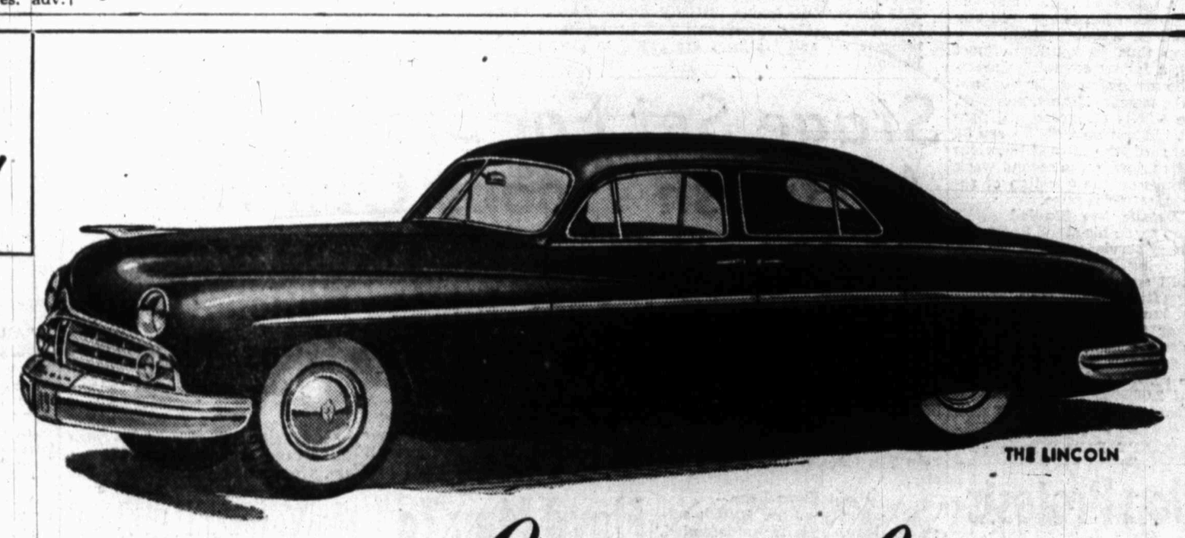

Dialing before you hear the dial tone will get you nowhere.

In these days of heavy telephoning, dial equipment is so busy that the dial tone is sometimes delayed; but usually not for long. A few seconds wait, perhaps, and there it is—ready for your call.

North Carolina Land Baron Owns More Lakes, Creeks, Wildlife Than Anyone Else In U.S.

MANTEO, N. C., April 21 (NEA)—The fire warden discovered a new lake over on Fred Maloof's place on the mainland the other day.

Maloof, a cherubic man of Arab descent, was only mildly surprised. He owns more lakes, creeks, rivers, alligators, bears, deer, mink, muskrat, squirrels, geese, ducks, quail, skunks and opossum than any other man in America.

Lake Is There

He went over to the mainland, and there was an 80-acre inland lake which wasn't on the map, had never been reported by explorers, but which apparently had been there all along.

The wildlife may belong, technically, to the state. But it inhabits the 168,000-acre tract which belong, personally, to Maloof, and is probably the largest remnant of American wilderness remaining in the hands of one man.

Maloof's acres cover the greater part of Dare county, a vast peninsula bounded by a fresh water river and both fresh and salty sounds. The peninsula is occupied by forests and bogs (some yielding wild cranberries and grapes) and a few families who do farming and fishing.

The wildlife is such that

in the space of a day, a man can get a bag of almost everything which attracts a sportsman—from a 500-pound bear to a record striper. One deer party returning from a hunt got more deer by accidentally running them down than they got by gunning.

It is a tough territory. Forest fires start in the inner recesses of the forests and sometimes burn for weeks before they can be reached. The most reliable travel is by boats, which takes you up alligator-filled creeks, framed by moss-draped trees.

At one time there was a thriving community at Beechlands, up Milltail creek. Its 150 residents farmed a 5000-acre tract and cut shingles which were shipped to the West Indies. Slave labor dug a long canal to give the settlement access to Alligator River, and cattle roamed the 25,000-acre reed lands which surrounded the tract. The settlement disappeared before the Civil war, wiped out, some say, by a cholera epidemic. There is nothing there now but an old cemetery, a plank road, and some evidence of the canal.

Maloof acquired the property from W. A. Julian, treasurer of the United States, who in turn had acquired it from a big insurance company. Lumber operations have cut into its forests, but much gum, juniper and pine remain, and Maloof has some small lumbering operations on Milltail Creek. He thinks the tract's most immediate possibilty lies in its wilderness aspects, but little attempt has been made to exploit them. Guides, trappers and hunters come and go at will, but the area is pretty rugged for a tenderfoot.

There are billions of mosquitoes, too, although Maloof doesn't count them. He says they won't breed in juniper-stained water.

Tests To Be Given In Pre-Engineering

The second series of pre-engineering inventory tests for high school seniors who expect to enter college in the engineering division will be administered at Texas Technological college Saturday, April 24, O. V. Adams, dean of engineering, has announced.

Many schools, including Texas Tech, require that engineering freshmen take the tests before registration, although admission to the school is not based on the test score, Dean Adams stated. Registration for the tests must be completed three weeks prior to the examination date.

Fee Is Charged

A $5 fee is charged for administering the exam, and the test record may be forwarded to any school the student designates. This enables engineering faculty members at the school where the student intends to study to receive an advanced indication of his aptitude in the engineering field.

The examinations are administered at intervals of two or three months throughout the United States under sponsorship of the Engineering Council for Professional Development and the American Society for Engineering Education.

The next date for the tests has been set for July 10, and students wishing to take them at Texas Tech should mail their applications to Dean Adams.

Stiff Requirements For India Congress

NEW DELHI, India, April 21. (U.P.)—The future of the Indian National Congress in the new context of free India has been drastically overhauled in the new constitution adopted here by the All India Congress committee.

It makes India's 700,000 villages the starting point of all constructive work and lays down strict conditions for membership of the party.

The future congressman must be a complete teetotaller. He must abjure age-long untouchability and habitually wear homespun khaddar cloth. He must be a believer in inter-communial unity, in the equality of all religions and in equal opportunity of all communities and of both sexes.

Paint Job Increases Work Of Teachers

CHICAGO, April 21. (U.P.)—The Stolp school in suburban Wilmette is bright—and so, it seems, are the children.

The place has a new paint job. Walls are pale yellow, baby blue and other pastel hues. The blackboard is dark green and the chalk is yellow.

"There's an entirely different attitude now," says Gordon Walker, an instructor. "There's no late afternoon letdown. The kids stay awake and always are ready for something. Of course, that makes the teacher's job a little harder."

Election, Lectures Feature Study Club Hours Tuesday

Guest speakers were featured at social and program meetings of women's clubs Tuesday afternoon. Officers were elected in business sessions.

Eighty persons called at the annual officers' tea and fine arts program given by Lubbock Woman's club at Hilton hotel ballroom Tuesday afternoon.

The lace covered refreshment table featured a blue and yellow color scheme with yellow candles in silver candelabra and a yellow cake decorated in blue and yellow. Mrs. Porter Garrett, retiring president, and Mrs. R. O. Bennett, incoming president, served guests.

Ben Ames Williams' book, "House Divided," was reviewed by Mrs. H. J. McCabe. "Love Light" (Kahlman) was played by a trio composed of Ludonna Berry, violinist, Patsy Gibbs, pianist, and Ann Adams, pianist.

Of the house party were new and old elected and appointed officers, Mesdames C. E. Fike, Scott McGuire, Harry Sharp Berry George, E. V. Nickell, Roy Rosamond, Vernon Bell, Bert Douglas, A. H. Douglas, B. H. Moore and W. B. Sides.

The committee in charge of the party included Mesdames George Berry, Vernon Bell and E. V. Nickell.

STUDY CLUB HAS ELECTION

Officers of Lubbock Study club for 1948-49 who were elected Tuesday afternoon are as follows: Mrs. Charles Ross, president; Mrs. Clarence Whiteside, vice-president; Mrs. Ira Dunlap, secretary; Mrs. Clyde Owens, treasurer; and Mrs. K. S. Blackford, reporter.

Mrs. John E. Toles spoke on state federation at the meeting which was held in the home of Mrs. L. L. Kelso, 2706 Twenty-fourth. Sixteen persons attended.

The club will meet with Mrs. C. H. Hamilton May 4.

MRS. BYRD IS SPEAKER

A guest of Sunshine Study club, Mrs. O. L. Byrd, spoke on the subject, "How to Read the Bible." Mrs. J. E. Hartley was hostess at the business and program meeting in her home at 1518 Ave. O.

Mrs. Joe Cobb was another guest and members attending were: Mesdames Clay Anderson, C. W. Bartlett, Frank Bass, J. H. Brock, W. H. Chappell, G. E. Dawson, J. D. Gammill, Lewis Kittrell, J. T. Langford, E. B. McNeill, W. M. Ryan, J. C. Sanders, C. W. Tatum and O. A. Woody.

TABLE SETTINGS ARE DISCUSSED

Miss Anne Birkman illustrated her Garden Study club talk, "Table Settings and Decorations for Particular Occasions," with linens, pottery, china, silver and crystal. The meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Reginald Rushing at 2905 Twenty-first.

Guests were Mesdames W. C. Cole, A. E. Dietering, Ralph Walker, A. E. Gesell, R. D. McCrumb and Miss Peggy McClatchy who played accordion numbers during the tea hour.

Mrs. D. B. Pope is the member of the club who will be honored at "Every Woman's Tea" to be given by the City Federation Thursday afternoon at Hilton hotel.

Mrs. M. M. Ewing and Mrs. C. J. Hollingsworth were co-hostesses at the meeting and other members present were: Mesdames Alfred Crosby, R. H. Fulton, Jack Griggs, Roy Grimes, Howard Hampton, Culver Hill, T. C. Ingram, J. W. Mallory, Henrie Mast, W. I. Pittman, D. B. Pope, Preston Smith, M. D. Lakey, C. W. Ratliff and W. H. Melton.

Anniversary Open House To Be In Ropesville

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Phillips of Ropesville will celebrate their 63rd wedding anniversary Friday with open house to be held in their home during the afternoon.

The couple has seven children, 26 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren. Mr. Phillips will observe his 84th birthday Saturday; Mrs. Phillips will be 79 in October.

Their friends are invited to attend the Friday celebration.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Girl Six Years Old Threatening To Leave Home Is Causing Great Worry To Anxious Mother

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I have been happily married for 10 years and have two daughters, now six and four years of age.

We have never given them any reason to think we don't love them, yet Lisa, the older girl, is constantly accusing us of not loving her and whenever I take her to task pretty severely she says she hates me and threatens to leave home.

Since our children have learned to enjoy movies we nearly always take them with us when we go, if the fare is suitable for children; but the last two times it wasn't and we left them home with a girl, who later said they had been "pretty good," except she'd had to carry them back to bed several times.

The next morning, on questioning, they told me about it and they were worse than the girl had said. It seems she had to threaten them with a spanking, saying she had my permission if necessary, which finally settled them to sleep.

MOTHER RULES BY PUNISHING

I SCOLDED them soundly for breaking their promise to be good and told them I would never again take them to a show, even if it were for children; and I did this thinking perhaps they felt if they were naughty with the girl we would always take them with us.

When I finished, Lisa said that I don't love her, that I am "mean" to her, don't feed her, etc., and that she is going to leave home, a threat which worries me a bit, because an 11-year-old boy in our vicinity recently left home and his family hasn't found him yet.

Should I pass it over lightly or talk things over with her? She is sweet and can be good when she wants to, but her disposition is uneven and she finds it hard to forgive, even when we make the first overture.

Some of our friends tell me that their children have threatened to leave home occasionally and that the parents have even gone so far as to help them pack. Of course the children backed down, but probably because they had no place to go, and not from any change of heart. Can you help us?

Signed: E. D.

CHILD BELIEVES HERSELF OUTCAST

DEAR E. D.: You say you've never given Lisa any reason to think you don't love her, but obvisously she's had experience which causes her to feel rejected, for she is passionately reporting what she feels.

Reasoning capacity develops rather slowly in human growth, if indeed it develops at all. Some people go through life without ever attaining coherent use of that faculty, which lucidly exercised is a hallmark of maturity rather than an attribute of childhood. All too often, what people give out as "thought" is simply a verbalization of how they feel about this or that.

Lisa's charge that you don't feed her — which of course doesn't mean that you let her go hungry for lack of meals or food in the house — probably refers point-blank to the origin of her childish sense of dire grievance against you.

The origin, I daresay, has to do with her emotional reaction to the shock-experience of seeing endless mother-care (centered on feeding) given baby sister, when Lisa, after baby's birth, was then assigned to feed herself.

Any adult would see this as a sensible arrangement — a due step upwards in Lisa's growth, also a time-saver for you—but Lisa would be too young to fathom the "reasons" for change; and would only feel cast into outer darkness, as compared to baby who'd taken the spotlight with another, previously hers.

GESELL'S BOOKS AID TO PARENTS

IT'S a pretty safe bet that this is where your relationship with Lisa got out of joint, with the net result that you've been applying baffled punitive displeasure to her baffled resentment — in a widening circle of mutual misunderstanding —ever since.

The baby sitter's charitable judgment of the children and rugged patience finally capped with mild threat to spank is an example you might profitably copy. Witness she judged them "pretty good" whereas you scored them as culprits deserving cruel punishment (by their standards) for the same instance of childish assertiveness.

For guidance, study the following books: "Infant and Child in the Culture of Today" and "The Child From Five to Ten," written by Dr. Arnold Gesell, director, Yale Clinic on Child Development, in collaboration with Frances L. Ilg, associate professor in the field of child development at Yale. Both are published by Harper & Brothers.

Parties Honor Bride-Elect

A series of pre-bridal parties is being given in honor of Miss Sara Deane Davis, who is to marry John Carlton McLarty Saturday.

Tuesday morning Mrs. M. T. Taylor, 1722 Twenty-seventh, gave a coke party and miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Davis. Julia Hoover presented the gifts in a white wheelbarrow decorated in spring flowers and tulips were placed at vantage points about the rooms. The honoree was presented with a corsage.

Guests were Mesdames C. C. Caldwell, Don Furr, G. C. Turner, John Robert Moxley, Marvin McLarty, sr., W. S. Moss, Ben Harwit of Midland, Marvin McLarty, jr., Clarence E. Davis, mother of the honoree, and Misses Martha LaRoe, Martha Porter, Sue Boulter and Martha Enochs.

Tuesday afternoon Mesdames Guy L. McAfee, W. L. McAfee and Dan Young were luncheon hostesses.

Guests were Mesdames Moxley, Caldwell, Johnnie Reeves, Turner, Taylor, Furr, Marvin McLarty, sr., Marvin McLarty, jr., Misses Porter, Enochs, Boulter and Betty Ray Tolar.

Traditional Picnic For Ko Shari Club Is Set

The annual spring picnic for Ko Shari social club was planned by the club's patronesses at a pot luck luncheon held at the home of Mrs. John King on West Fourth Tuesday.

Mrs. Clifford B. Jones' home at 3501 Nineteenth will be scene of the entertainment Wednesday, May 5, at 6 p. m.

The meeting which was attended by 24 patronesses was presided over by Mrs. J. D. Hassell, president.

Tech Girls To Attend Journalism Meeting

Six Tech girls will attend the regional meeting of Theta Sigma Phi, national journalism fraternity, in Dallas Saturday and Sunday.

Five of the students recently were elected to office in the Tech chapter for the 1948-49 season. They are: Aline Whitby, president; Jayne Thompson, vice president; Mary Louise Clayton, secretary; Oleta Stewart, treasurer, and Anita Oliver, AWS representative. Ann Carruthers is the other delegate to the meeting.

Lois Marie Killian And Haskell Keeton To Wed

Mrs. W. T. Milam gave a dinner Tuesday night at the Chicken Village to announce the engagement of Lois Marie Killian to Haskell R. Keeton.

The table was decorated with spring flowers in orchid and yellow. Corsages carrying out the same color scheme were plate favors and miniature scrolls revealed the wedding date, May 27.

Places were laid for Misses Ann Jackson, Ida Matney, Ruth Garms, Mary Ruth McClellan, and Mesdames Randy Billingsley, Earl Yarbrough, Clifton Smith and Mary McElyea.

Pan-American Club Will Have Picnic Thursday

A picnic for Pan-American club members of Senior High school and their dates will be held Thursday at 6:30 p. m. at Mackenzie State park. Ann Edwards, social chairman, is in charge of arrangements and Johnnie Price will direct games.

Drinks will be furnished by the club but each couple is to bring a picnic lunch.

Officers Elected When DFD Patronesses Meet

At a business and luncheon meeting of DFD patronesses held Tuesday at Hilton hotel, Mrs. Paul Hardwick was elected chairman and Mrs. B. E. Hamilton was elected secretary-treasurer. The organization will not meet again until next fall.

Others attending were Mrs. Joe Arrington and Mrs. R. C. Pace, retiring president and secretary-treasurer respectively, and Mesdames J. Ray Dickey, W. E. Humphries, A. C. Jackson, E. E. Louthan, George Meiser, George Soash, George Turner, Sam Martin, Joe Haddon and Miss Esther Sorensen.

OES Memorial Is Conducted

A candlelight memorial service in tribute to members who died during the last year was conducted by Lubbock chapter 76 of Order of Eastern Star Tuesday night in Masonic hall. Those honored were Mesdames A. H. Maas, Emma Akers, Willie Brown, John Guy Terry and Mr. Ray Pelton.

Mrs. D. E. Sellers, worthy matron, presided. Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Reynolds sang "Beautiful Isle," accompanied by Mrs. Quincy Haney. The officers covered a cross with Easter lilies as the couple sang and Mrs. Syrian Marbut gave a prayer.

Seventy-five persons attended.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Cocanougher and Mrs. Victor Lindsey were hosts for a tea hour.

Charlotte Carter Wins In District At Show

Miss Charlotte Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carter, who is a student at Sul Ross college, Alpine, won first and second places in an eight district art show held in Pecos.

The paintings will be entered in the Texas State Art association show in Austin May 1.

Miss Carter's oils are "The Hills of Home" and "Valley in the Mountains."

Dr. Douglas Will Speak At Hunt P-TA Meeting

Dr. R. C. Douglas will speak on important phases of health at a meeting of George M. Hunt Parent-Teacher association at 3:30 p. m. Thursday at the school. Mrs. Lattie Rankin will direct a talent show and a report will be made on the recent convention of the 14th district, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Wilson To Attend Boys Club Meeting

John W. Wilson, director of Lubbock Boys club, Mrs. Wilson and their 11-year-old daughter Suzanne, a fifth grade student of Roscoe Wilson school, will leave their residence at 2712 Twenty-fourth Friday for New York City, where he will attend a May 2 to 6 convention of Boys Clubs of America.

They will return about May 6, after vacationing part of the time.

Lubbock Boys club has approximately 1,500 members and is exceeded in enrollment in Texas by only the Wichita Falls and San Antonio organizations, as of last comparisons.

The convention will be in the Commodore hotel. There are 300 Boys clubs affiliated with the national organization.

The Wilsons will visit friends in Greenville, N. C., and will spend two days in Washington, D. C., en route.

Atomic Commission Appointments Face Delay As Senators Demand Access To FBI Reports

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21—The off-again, on-again Atomic Energy commission renominations bumped into one certain delaying factor today.

Still others may keep the whole issue open until next year.

Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) served notice in an interview that he will fight any confirmation move until President Truman has acted on a pending bill to give Senators a look at FBI reports on commission appointees.

Passed Senate

Knowland is the author of that bill. It passed the Senate over sharp Democratic opposition earlier this month but still awaits action by the House.

The Californian also is a member of the Senate Atomic Energy committee which must pass on the renominations of Chairman David E. Lilienthal and his four commission colleagues before their names can be put into the Senate for a vote.

Mr. Truman sent the nominations to the Senate yesterday afternoon after the White House first had announced they were going up and then that they had been recalled.

Hickenlooper Silent

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) conferred with the President just before the appointments were reinstated. But he declined to discuss the reasons for the mixup. But he declined to discuss the reasons for the mixup He did say he would ask his committee to consider the names "at the earliest possible date."

Even if Knowland finally wins his point, there is no certainty that the Senate will get around to an early vote.

Senator McKellar (D-Tenn) is a long-time foe of Lilienthal's dating back from the early days of the Tennesse Valley authority, which Lilienthal headed before he drew the atomic assignment.

McKellar waged a long but unsuccessful fight against confirmation last year, aided by a number of Republicans, among them Senator Taft of Ohio.

No Plan Yet

As for his intentions now, McKellar told a reporter:

"I have not made any plans yet."

Aside from the question of revising the atomic energy law and the matter of personalities, political considerations also are involved.

Under provisions of the original act setting up the commission, all top appointments are due to expire August 1 of this year. Thereafter staggered terms were provided.

Republicans, claiming their prospects of winning the White House are better than they have been in 20 years, see a chance of making their own selections for the commission.

If the present nominations fail to come to a vote, the present commissioners simply will serve until new nominations are made and acted upon.

Might Boomerang

However, one GOP leader who asked not to be quoted by name, said some of his colleagues are worried lest such strategy might boomerang.

He said it would give the Democrats a chance to contend that uncertainty over the makeup of the commission might impede atomic development at a time of critical international tension.

This Republican said party policy probably will be to adopt a "watch and see" attitude, at least until the House has acted on Knowland's bill.

Knowland has insisted that a "loophole" in the present law exempts commission members from the requirements of the same FBI loyalty investigation that other government workers must undergo.

Asks Change

Without raising any question as to the loyalty of the present commissioners, the Californian insisted the law should be changed, with the added proviso that the Senate atomic commission should access to the FBI's findings.

Democrats, led by Senator McMahon (Conn), objected. They said such a law would usurp the rights and powers of the President.

The administration currently is opposing congressional efforts to gain access to other loyalty reports.

In submitting the nominations yesterday, Mr Truman proposed Lilienthal for a five-year term Other members and the new terms they would serve: Sumner T. Pike, four years; Lewis L. Strauss, three years; William W. Waymack, two years, and Robert F. Bacher, one year.

Dean Adams To Leave For Washington Meet

O. V. Adams, dean of engineering at Texas Technological college, will leave for Washington, D. C. Saturday to attend a meeting of the executive committee of the administration council of the American Society for Engineering Education to be held Monday.

Following the meeting which will be for the purpose of preparing for the society's next annual meeting, to take place at Texas University in June, Dean Adams will return by way of Austin where he will attend a meeting of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers.

He will return to Lubbock Saturday, May 1.

Educator Advises Against Homework

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—If kids could vote, William C. Reavis, a University of Chicago education professor, would be a serious contender for President.

Reavis today told 73 newly-assigned grade school principals to abolish home work in their schools.

At a "school" for the new principals, Reavis said:

"Let the kids leave their bookstraps home and their textbooks at school. The children are too tired to accomplish any real results with home work."

Aerial Meeting Is Planned By Legion

AUSTIN, April 21 (AP)—Roscoe Turner, one of the nation's air speed kings, will be the guest of honor when the Texas department of the American Legion holds its second annual aerial membership rounup here Sunday.

He will speak Sunday night at a dinner to be given by George Berry of Lubbock, department commander. Turner is national chairman of the Legion's aeronautics commission.

Miller Ainsworth of Luling, co-chairman of the Texas department's aeronautics committee, announced plans for the roundup. Legion members and post district and division commanders will arrive by plane Sunday, he said.

Among the visitors will be George Broome of Amarillo, member of the Legion's national aeronautics commission.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amased at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 809 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Starvation Said Threatened If Soil Is Not Given Better Care

By JAMES J. MURPHY
United Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 21 (U.P.) The chief of the United States government soil conservation service believes the United States—and the world—will begin literally to starve to death within 100 years unless human beings take better care of their soil.

Dr. Hugh H. Bennett, soil conservation director, told a luncheon here that only about 4,000,000,000 acres of land in the world are available for farming right now.

The world population is now a little more than 2,000,000,000, providing an overall average of about two acres to feed every person.

But, Dr. Bennett pointed out, nutritionists have discovered it takes almost three acres to provide enough food for a "minimum nutritional diet." To add to the already unbalanced situation, he said, world population is increasing at about one per cent per year and available land is being constantly worn away by erosion, wasteful plowing methods, and inadequate care.

Erosion Chief Enemy

"It will do no harm at this critical period in our history," he declared, "to ask ourselves if the world could feed the 2,000,000,000 more people it will have in another 10 years at the present rate of increase."

Erosion, Bennett pointed out, already ranks among the top world causes of malnutrition, hunger and famine.

Japan, among other nations, is already in the dire straits the whole world might someday meet, he said. In Japan there is only about one-fourth of an acre per person to feed the population. China has only one-half acre, and Indian, one-third.

In 100 years, with the world's population doubled and granting that no more land is lost to erosion and other causes, there will be an average of only one acre per person in the world.

The United States is now in a comparatively enviable position, Bennett added, with a little more than three acres available for each of its 145,000,000 inhabitants.

U. S. Soil Suffers

But even here, he warned, the situation is growing worse each year. "In the last 150 years—especially in the last 100 years—half or more of our American farmlands has been damaged, chiefly by erosion," he said.

"Originally the topsoil in this country was nine inches deep. Now it is six inches deep," he added.

About 460,000,000 acres of cropland is left, almost all of it subject to erosion, flood, and windstorm. The population is expected to continue increasing, creating a demand for 8,000,000 new acres of land every year.

"If it is assumed the same rate of population increase continues even for the next few decades," he warned, "we may be even closer to the danger line than we think."

Bennett said the only possibility of the difficulty is immediate, comprehensive crop and soil conservation measures: contour cultivation, strip cropping, planting grass on sleep land, drainage of low lands, irrigation of dry lands, and all the other modern means of preventive conservation.

Japanese Try Making Clothes Out Of Hair

TOKYO, April 21 (AP)—The Japanese are going to try to make clothes out of the hair shed by horses and oxen.

Public officials at Niigata, on Japan's west coast, have asked school children and farmers to collect the hair.

They say a horse begins shedding about two and half pounds of hair late in the winter. Thirteen pounds of hair will make a suit.

Millionaire Is Death Victim

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP)—Peter A. B. Widener, 2d, millionaire fancier of show dogs and race horses, is dead at 52.

He died of a heart ailment yesterday in Lankenau hospital after a long illness. He had entered the hospital about three weeks ago after having undergone treatment in Maine and Florida.

The sportsman and philanthropist was the son of the late Joseph E. Widener, multimillionaire art collector and race track owner, and the grandson of P.A.B. Widener, financier and transit magnate.

Art In Gallery

The world famous Widener art collection, which has been valued up to $50,000,000 is now in the National Art gallery in Washington.

Widener took an early interest in dogs. He began with German police dogs, with his "Dolf" becoming a many times champion.

He later switched to horse racing—his father's favorite diversion. His father had been principal owner of both the Hialeah track in Miami and Belmont Park in New York.

In 1943, not long after his father's death, Widener bought "Elmendorf farm," in the Kentucky bluegrass country. It was there that the elder Widener had bred and trained a succession of race horse champions.

Widener is survived by his widow, a son, P. A. B. Widener, 3d, and a daughter, Ella Anne.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 4 p. m. from the Church of the Redeemer in Bryn Mawr. Burial will be private.

Rockefeller Foundation Finds People Everywhere Want Peace

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Worldwide studies by Rockefeller foundation representatives indicate that "people are dominated by a passionate hope for peace, security and better life."

This was disclosed in a report made public today by Raymond B. Fosdick, who will retire as foundation president next July 1. Fosdick said in his annual review for 1947 that representatives visited all nations except Russia and Bulgaria and found that:

Found Everywhere

"(People) seek a world in which men may grow in strength and dignity. They want no world in which war periodically tears to pieces the bright promise of the future.

"That is the pattern of thinking and planning everywhere. Men differ as to the means by which these ends are to be secured, but as to the goal itself there is little diversity of opinion."

Fosdick announced that the foundation's appropriations totalled $23,413,615 in 1947 — largest in its history.

He said that "the world of the future — if any world survives— will be a world of diversity, held together by a conception of common interests. It will be a world in which many political faiths and economic creeds are tolerated and widely differing points of view fertilize each other for the common good."

Ideas Starved

Terming the concentration of research in atomic physics in the United States "unfortunate," Fosdick said:

"Ideas are starved when they are fenced in behind frontiers and barricaded research in the long run can result in intellectual stagnation.

"This is why the heavy concentration in the United States of research in atomic physics is unfortunate. The grim necessities of security seem for the time being to make any other course impossible, but we must face the fact that from the standpoint of the growth of knowledge, it is an unhealthy arrangement.

"All knowledge is so interlocked that we cannot control research on the destructive aspects of atomic energy without at the same time interfering with worldwide research on its beneficent possibilities. . . .

"Equally unfortunate is the growing isolation of the scientists and scholars of eastern Europe. The Soviet union, for example, has long had distinguished mathematicians. Her work in biomedicine has been imaginative and stimulating.

"But how can these workers and scientists maintain the high level of their creative research if they are not allowed by their government to have direct and intimate relationship with what is being done in these same fields in other parts of the world?"

Two prerequisites to development of a democratic society in Germany, Fosdick said, "are restoration of communication between the Germans and the people of other countries" and "development of younger leaders who know the world outside Germany."

He announced that foundation appropriations were distributed approximately as follows in seven major categories last year: Public health, $2,250,000; medical sciences, $1,500,000; natural sciences, $1,700,000; social sciences, $3,000,000; humanities, $1,500,000; general education board, $1,500,000; China medical board, $10,000,000.

Of money appropriated last year 39 per cent was for work in the United States and 61 per cent for work in foreign countries.

Since 1913 the foundation has appropriated a total of $295,896,340 from income and $118,010,728 from capital. Transfer last year of $20,000,000 from the principal fund, although only part was appropriated, was the foundation's largest capital allocation in any one year.

South Quick To Accept Yankee's Apology For Quips About Kidnaping Its Industry

ATLANTA, April 21 (AP)—The case of the kidnaped yankee industry was been marked off the books—on a note of Southern chivalry.

It all began when Lt. Gov. Arthur W. Coolidge of Massachusetts accused the South of stealing—ah, beg yo' pardon, suh—of luring Northern industry to the land of the dulcet drawl, moonlight and honeysuckle, and cheaper labor.

South Indignant

The South responded by whisking the dust off its Confederate uniforms and asking the band to strike up "Dixie."

Then yesterday Coolidge apologized and Southerners were quick to accept his apology. Some seized the opportunity to get in a plug for Southern women and Southern weather, both of which they assured Coolidge were unsurpassed, but most were content to take the situation on its face value—a New England yankee begging the South's pardon.

"I regret the offense which my words have caused," Coolidge telegraphed U. S. Senator Olin Johnson of South Carolina. "I was stirred because the program to induce northern industries to migrate threatens the jobs of New England workers."

Appreciates Dixie

Then the gallant hearts-and-flowers phrase: "I trust that Southern chivalry will prompt in all those affronted an acceptance of my apology for I do appreciate the sterling merit of Dixie."

Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi immediately accepted the apology "in the spirit in which it is offered," and T. M. Forbes of the Cotton Manufacturers association of Georgia accepted it on behalf of all the textile mills he represents.

Others did the same, and almost before you could say the Confederates beat the Yankees at the battle of Bull Run, most Southerners were just about ready to sing a chorus or two of "Marching Through Georgia."

The purple finch is not at all purple. The male is of an old-rose color and the female has a general sparrow-like appearance.

Slavs Name 15 For Espionage

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 21 (AP) — Fifteen alleged former agents of the Nazi gestapo, including three who rose to power in Marshal Tito's government, were accused by Yugoslavia today of espionage.

The charges, which did not name the foreign power for which the defendants were accused of spying, were filed yesterday at Ljubljana, before a military court.

They all were said to have masqueraded as inmates of Nazi concentration camps in Germany while actually working for the Gestapo. Upon their return to Yugoslavia, the charges said, they successfully conlealed their past and came to be regarded as trustworthy Communist party members.

The defendants included:

Stane Oswald, former assistant minister for industry.

Oscar Juranich, former general secretary of the foreign affairs ministry.

Branko Dil, former chief inspector for the economic control commission of Slovenia.

Mix a can of condensed vegetable soup and a pound of cubed bologna, simmer 10 minutes with 4 cups of boiling water. Add browned cubed onion, green pepper and spices for a delectable dish.

Hubbers Play Clovis Here Tonight To Open Season; Alexander Is Given Nod

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Any doubt that the baseball season is here will be dispelled tonight at 8 at Rosenthal Field, where the Clovis Pioneers, revamped and rehabilitated, play a game of the National pastime with the Lubbock Hubbers, who hold some reputation as defending champions of the West Texas-Mexico League.

They won't be the same 1947 Hubbers who breezed through the 140-game grind to first place last year, but they will bear more than a little resemblance in some phases. The power hitting will be there, the double play combination is on hand and the tight defense of both infield and outfield will make itself known. Only in the departments pitching and catching can this Hubber team be called weak and the season hasn't begun yet.

A few doleful individuals have prophesied that this year's team is destined to struggle, struggle, struggle and end up with wheels spinning to finish in the second division. These same persons remember with joyful abandon the Hubber machine of late 1947, when they were sweeping the loop bunting into the front office, adding the playoffs with hardly a murmur and then capturing the Little Dixie series with but the loss of a single game.

My boss, The Plainsman, was playing baseball when I was foolishly attempting to count the slats in the cradle—and losing count. The frosty patches on his handsome hair are more filled with wisdom than the most abundant patch of rich brown on my pate. But he and I come to the parting of the baseball ways on this year's Hubber team. He sees gloom and misery everywhere, stormy weather. I see nothing but blue skies all day long. He sees a-feudin', a-fussin' and a-fightin', while I see every cloud must have a silver lining.

He probably is right in supposing that George Schepps' silky tongue has led me along the path of optimism. But those extra base knocks the Hubbers have been picking up is a powerful persuader also. We know it takes at least average hurling to take a team to a pennant, even with phenomenal hitting and we also know that off spring exhibitions, Hubber hurling isn't average yet. Two good, experience pitchers would make a world of difference in this year's team.

Despite the fact that the pitching right now isn't up to par, there's nothing which says those kids won't improve tremendously in a short time. And when they do, Hubber hurling will be equal to the rest of the league. Once they win a game or two, get more confidence, more knowledge, they will be tough to beat.

The catching also is weaker than last year, although you'd hardly expect another Mike Dooley or Clem Cola in the first three weeks of exhibition ball. Newt Secrest, Floyd Walker and Kermit Altizer all bear promise and, as with the pitchers, give them confidence and knowledge, they'll be tough.

Every club in the league has improved and, since we weren't around last year, we're not going to be so foolish as to finish sawing the limb on which we were out on, via The Plainsman, off. We'll have no hesitation in picking the Hubbers for the first division; we won't go so far as to say first place, although there is nothing we would rather see.

We hope there's a big crowd out tonight and that the Hubbers capture the attendance trophy for the third consecutive year. The late Sam Rosenthal wanted that almost more than he did another pennant. It shows civic pride, support of the ball team. The report is coming down from north of here that Amarillo is going all out to win the trophy this year, including the use of sound trucks, street hucksters and promises of support for worthy institutions. Shucks, half of Lubbock working part time and without ballyhoo can get a bigger crowd out than Amarillo. That being the case, let's get the job done tonight.

THE ROUNDUP: Al Smith, Chick Fowler tied with 12 hits for the most hits at home during spring training games. . . . Cotton Russell won the most games, 3. . . . Fowler had the most doubles, 4. . . . Smith had the most triples, 4. . . . Boothe had the most homers, 5. . . . Sullivan stole the most bases, 2. . . . Smith, Sullivan and Richardson had the most double plays, 3. . . . Royce Mills and Russell each walked the most men, 16 each, and struckout the most, 24 each. . . . Three pinch-hitters walked, singled, doubled. . . . And Boothe drove in the most runs, 19. . . . An apartment for the Alexanders and the Richardsons is worth a season pass to the Hubber games. . . . And good luck, at this point, in the 1948 season to the Lubbock Hubbers.

Good Morning! was your shave a Treet?

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL
SPORTS
PAGE EIGHT, LUBBOCK, TEX., WEDNESDAY, APRIL 21, 1948

It isn't long now until the umpires cry "Play Ball" and the 1948 Lubbock Hubbers, defending champions of the West Texas-New Mexico League, prance onto the the diamond at Sam Rosenthal Field to inaugurate their first defense of the buting won last year.

And their opponents at 8 o'clock tonight will be the improved and powerful Clovis Pioneers. The Pioneers smacked down the Hubbers last week in an exhibition game, 16-1, and the locals will be after revenge, as well as their initial triumph in league play.

Mayor To Toss First Ball

As is customary, Mayor W. H. Rodgers will draw back his arm and toss out the first ball, going out to the mound to perform his task. Behind the plate, ready to receive the peg, will be J. A. "Judge" Raley, one of Lubbock's greatest baseball fans.

Soon after the initial pitch by His Honor, Rookie Marvin Alexander will grab a new league ball from the umpire, catch the signal from Floyd Walker behind the mask and fire the first pitch against an enemy batsman.

Alexander, who stands six feet, two inches and who weighs 195 pounds, came to Lubbock from Dallas, after serving with the Chicago Cubs and Davenport, Ia., last year.

Kramer Or Smith

His opponent tonight is expected to be the stylish Mel Kramer, who won eight and lost 15 last year, or Harold Smith, who chalked up an 11 and 16 record in 1947.

Walker, the 18-year-old Texas A. and M. catcher replaces Mike Dooley and Clem Cola. His opposing catcher will be either Manager John Bottarini or Ray Sanders, both of whom were with Clovis last year.

Unless all tickets are sold out during the day at the Hub Clothiers, they will be available at the ball park at 6:30 p. m.

The Hubbers also have more than just an opening game victory and a good start toward retaining their 1947 league championship; they also are aiming at winning their third consecutive trophy for the largest crowd at an opening-day game in the league.

Reports from Amarillo indicate that the Gold Sox are going all out in an effort to take the trophy and honor away from Lubbock, where a large opening day crowd almost is taken for granted. Last year over 6,100 Lubbock fans supported the nine on opening day and the Hubbers are looking for an even larger crowd tonight.

Four Veterans Ready

Manager Sullivan has indicated that one over half of the starting nine tonight will be familiar to local ball fans, although only four of these players wore Hubber uniforms last season.

At first base will be the steady, reliable Virgil Richardson, a switch hitter and always a favorite here. Manager Sullivan himself will be at second and Lubbock fans need no introduction to his ability. Frank McAlexander, the capable, clever third baseman again will be at the hot corner. And the surprise of the spring season, Al Smith, will be at shortstop, where he has been covering the ground as if he planted and owned it.

The outfield will line up with two experienced men and one rookie, all of whom show signs of providing the best outfield protection in a long while to the Hubbers. Lubbock fans well remember Parr "Chick" Fowler, who last year patrolled center field for Lamesa, but who will be in left field for the Hubbers. Charles Scarborough, a Dallas rookie standing six feet, two inches and weighing 195 pounds, will be in center. Scarborough has been whacking the ball hard and in his first trip to the plate as a Hubber, hit the first pitch for a home run. In right field will be Frank Boothe, obtained from the Kitty league. Boothe has, along with the others, a strong throwing arm and has been belaboring the be-jeebers out of the ball.

Manager Sullivan fully expects his infield to live up to the classy standard established last year and around second base he has come up with a fast double play combination to back up his statement.

When he speaks of his outfield, he glows with pride, for he has three men with good arms, any one of whom is capable of breaking up a ball game with one long hit.

Regardless of the results tonight, tomorrow or in the days to come, the Hubbers are the champs and it is the champ you have to beat. The 1948 Hubbers open the season tonight filled with confidence, eagerness and anticipation.

The lineups, with numbers and positions:

CLOVIS	LUBBOCK

DAVIDSON HURLS AGAINST BUDNY IN ABILENE SETTO

ABILENE, April 21 (Special)—Young Bill Davidson, righthanded curve ball specialist on option from Fort Worth, will tie up with Amarillo's Joe Budny as the Abilene Blue Sox and Amarillo Gold Sox clash in the West Texas-New Mexico League opener here tonight.

An estimated 3,500 fans are expected to turn out in perfect baseball weather for the 1948 inaugural, which sends an eager Blue Sox club that finished in seventh place last year against the runner-up Amarilloans.

The game, based on exhibition performances, figures to be a toss-up. Both teams have picked up valuable talent during the winter months. Each nine possesses a powerful hitting attack Each have men capable of breaking up a game with one ball.

Budny, making his initial start this year, compiled a record of 12 games won and 11 lost in 1947.

Public School Play Day Program Set

Baseball And Track Prelims To Be Completed This Week

Preliminary competition in baseball and in 10 track and field events by students in 13 elementary schools of Lubbock will be completed this week, preparatory to a general Play day which will serve as grand finale of the extensive program April 30.

General Play days have been conducted in previous years, but this year marks the first time that the 13 elementary schools in the city have been divided into quadrants for preliminary Play days leading up to the general competition.

Divisions Are Listed

Quadrants are made up of the following schools:

No. 1, in southeast Lubbock, Chris Harwell, George M. Hunt and George R. Bean schools

No. 2, in northeast Lubbock, K. Carter, Guadalupe, Sanders and East Broadway.

No. 3, in southwest Lubbock, Dupre, Roscoe Wilson and Thirty-sixth street schools.

No. 4, in northwest Lubbock, McWhorter, Cottage and Central ward.

At 9:15 o'clock this morning at Dupre school, the Roscoe Wilson, Dupre and Thirty-sixth street sixth grade contestants were taking part in a Play day. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at Sanders school, the K. Carter, Guadalupe, Sanders and East Broadway sixth grade contestants will attend Play day. The No. 4 group, made up of McWhorter, Cottage and Central Ward, will have its sixth grade Play day at 9 o'clock Thursday morning at Central Ward school. The Chris Harwell, George M. Hunt and George R. Bean fifth grade contestants attended the final quadrant No. 1 preliminary Play day Monday.

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students are taking part in the Play day program, which is under direction of Marlin Hayhurst, coordinator of physical education. General purpose is to offer competition between the schools, promote citizenship, interest, school morale and all-around better relations, said Hayhurst.

Most of the schools have opened Play day events with some type of ceremony preceding the actual contests. At Dupre school this morning students will offer a flag ceremony and fourth, fifth and sixth grade students of the school will present a folk dancing exhibition prior to opening of contests.

Winners in the preliminary Play days will compete in the general Play day, which originally was scheduled for May 1. Date was changed Tuesday because of conflict with the second annual bicycle parade and races scheduled for May 1 and 2.

A double round robin in baseball, amounting to a total of 72 games, is being concluded.

Loboes, Dukes Play At 2:30

LAMESA, April 21. (Special)—The honor of playing the first scheduled tilt in the West Texas-New Mexico League goes this afternoon to the Lamesa Loboes and the Albuquerque Dukes, who will pry off the traditional lid at 2:30 p. m. at Lobo Field.

A crowd of 2,500 fans was expected to leave business cares behind and go trucking off to the ball park for the first game of the year under favorable skies. Most business houses will close for the afternoon, as King Baseball takes over.

V. Z. Rogers was scheduled to introduce the new season with a few brief remarks, after which Mayor Sam Richardson was picked to toss out the first ball. After that it will be merely a matter of playing ball.

Lobo righthander J. B. Garland will go after his second straight opening-day win over the Dukes. The little Paducah, Ky., youngster beat Albuquerque 4-1 last year on the local diamond. Butler will start on the mound for the Dukes and Herschel Martin, their new playing manager, will open in right field.

Laundry Takes Softball Lead

Golden Light Coffee team players couldn't fathom Jackie Neel's pitching last night as Bluebonnet-Sunbeam Laundries trounced the Coffee nine, 9-0, in the first half of a softball twin bill at Jumbo-Webster field.

The win gave the Sunbeamers undisputed possession of first place in the South Plains Softball league.

In the nightcap, Baldridge Bakery moved out of the cellar position with a 5-2 win over Cloverlake, despite the fact that Cloverlake outhit the Bakerymen, 9 to 6.

TILTS SET THURSDAY

First place in the South Plains Softball league will be at stake Thursday night when the league-leading Bluebonnet-Sunbeam team clashes with the second-place Thomas Jewelers nine in the opening half of a doubleheader. The cellar-dwelling Golden Light and Cloverlake crews clash in the nightcap. Games will be unreeled at Jumbo Webster field, with the first tilt starting at 8 o'clock.

The Sunbeamers had little difficulty with the Golden Light crew, as the score indicates. Sunbeam sluggers racked up thirteen hits off the offerings of Pitcher M. J. Crow, including circuit clouts by Leftfielder Roy Butler, Shortstop Ralph Earhar, and First Baseman Fowler.

Cloverlake's Third Baseman Ira Laymon led the hitting department for the evening, getting a triple and two singles in four trips.

Cloverlake miscues and inability to get runners into home accounted for the loss to Baldridge. "Whistle" Banks, who started on the mound for the Dairymen, hurled four innings, allowed five hits, struck out two and walked one. Cecil Hale relieved Banks, allowed only one hit in Baldridge's last time at bat. But three of Cloverlake's five errors came in that stanza and accounted for two runs.

Sunbeam's Jackie Neel had little trouble with Golden Light swatsmen. Pitching with his usual ease, but obviously not striving too much against a woefully weak opponent, the Sunbeam ace struck out 12 men, allowed only three scattered hits and issued one walk. Except for the sixth frame, when Golden Light got runners around to third and second, Golden Light was unable to move beyond the initial sack.

The completion of last night's bill put Bluebonnet in the league lead with three wins, no losses, Thomas Jewelers second with two wins, no losses, Baldridge third with two wins in three starts, and Cloverlake and Golden Light sharing cellar position with two losses each for zero percentages.

The line scores:

GOLDEN LIGHT	000 000—	0	3 3
BLUEBONNET	400 320—	9	13 0

M. J. Crow and Gilkerson; Neel and Willis James.

CLOVERLAKE	001 010 1—	2	9 5
BALDRIDGE	101 202 x—	6	6 0

Banks, Hale and Ray; Hubbard and Tillery.

Ralls High Plans Floydada Invasion

RALLS, April 21 (Special) — The baseball team of the Ralls High school today is preparing for its invasion of Floydada High school's home grounds Friday afternoon, after taking an 8-2 victory yesterday over the Lockney Longhorns here.

A home run in the first inning by Billy Woods, the Ralls leadoff batter, started the landslide and Lockney never could get into the game. The Jackrabbits got off to a four-run start in the first frame and, after Lockney had scored twice in the second, another Ralls tally crossed the plate in the third.

A final cluster of three runs in the sixth inning iced the game for Ralls and left no question in anyone's mind about the victor.

Dayne Norris went all the way on the mound for Ralls, striking out ten men and leading the Jackrabbit batting attack with three for four.

Ralls High school baseball team will play Floydada High school at Floydada Friday.

The line score:

LOCKNEY	020 000 0—	2	4 3
RALLS	401 003 x—	8	8 2

Lockney, Carthel and Huckaby; Ralls, Norris and Rowell.

Nearly Everything Happens In Openers

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

About the only thing missing in yesterday's and Monday's major league opening games was a no-hitter.

Practically everything else happened, to the delight of 331,783 fans who set a record for opening day attendance. As for the results themselves, Brooklyn snaked past the Giants 7-6 in New York; the Cards shut out Cincinnati 4-0 in St. Louis; Washington gained revenge for its one-sided defeat by the aYnkees Monday, thrashing the world champions 9-1; Detroit defeated the White Sox in Chicago 5-2 and the Indians sent a record inaugural crowd of 73,163 home happy with a 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Browns.

In other games, the Philadelphia Phillies had a successful home opener as they whipped the Boston Braves 3-1, and Pittsburgh did likewise with a 3-2 win over the Chicago Cubs. The Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics were idle.

Here are some of the opening day highlights:

Eighteen home runs were belted yesterday and Monday—not an unusual number, but look what some of them produced:

Stan Spence, Vern Stephens and Bobby Doerr hit theirs in succession in one inning—a record-tying feat—but the Red Sox lost anyway.

Smacks First Ball

George Vico, rookie first baseman of the Tigers, smacked one on the first pitch served him in his first major league game.

Tommy McBride of the Senators slammed one—with the bases loaded in the first inning.

Mike Tresh of the White Sox hit one—his first in 787 games. He had not hit a four bagger since 1940. Previously he had hit only one home run in 10 years in the majors.

Three rookies—Hank Sauer of the Reds, Romanus Basgall of the Pirates and Vico—hit homers.

Transfers Celebrated

In addition to Spence and Stephens, recent additions to the Red Sox, Eddie Miller and Billy Cox celebrated their transfers to new clubs with homers. Miller, the former Redleg, put the Phils ahead with his homer. Cox provided the winning margin with his two-run drive.

Bert Haas, traded by the Reds to the Phillies during the winter, and Lee Culberson, transferred by the Red Sox to the Senators, did not hit home runs, but each collected four hits in his new uniform.

Four teams started the season under new management — and each got licked the first day. The disappointed pilots were Joe McCarthy, Red Sox; Zack Taylor, Browns; Joe Kuhel, Senators and Billy Meyer, Pirates.

EAGLES WIN AGAIN

The Lubbock Eagles turned in their second consecutive victory over the Lubbock Rebels last night, winning a short game, 9-4, behind the effective hurling of Sam Hodge. Don Mitchell led the Eagle batting attack, while Dean Fausett and Cecil Thompson sparked the Rebels. Berry White pitched for the Rebels, with Thompson behind the plate and Charles Gallimore caught for the Eagles.

BOWLING RESUMED

DALLAS, April 21 (AP)—Firing was resumed in the woman's international bowling congress today with all convention business, including re-election of Mrs. Jeannette Knepprath of Milwaukee as president, taken care of. St. Paul was selected for the 1950 tournament.

Big State Play Starts Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

The Big State league opens its second annual campaign tonight with Greenville at Sherman-Denison, Waco at Austin, Gainesville at Wichita Falls and Paris at Texarkana.

This Class B loop, second highest classification in Texas, will be launching a 148-game schedule.

Crowds totaling better than 18,000 are expected.

Wichita, Austin Favored

Wichita Falls and Austin are rated the top teams with the former being the choice of the league baseball writers and Austin being selected by the club managers.

Familiar names are listed among the starting pitchers tonight. Tommy Finger gets the nod for Wichita Falls against Gainesville, with Bill Hair opposing him.

Jake Christie, 21-game winner last year with Greenville, will toe the hill for the Majors against Sherman-Denison. The home team will counter with Rafael Rivas, a left-hander who is an ewcomer from Cuba.

Jim Walkup, who took 20 decisions last season, gets the nod for Paris against Texarkana which will use Merle Coleman, veteran righthander.

Rosson Up At Austin

Carroll (Red) Dial will be Waco's choice against Austin's Eulis Rosson, who was a star flinger in the West Texas-New Mexico league last year.

Anticipated attendances tonight: Greenville at Sherman-Denison—6,000; Waco at Austin—4,000; Gainesville at Wichita Falls—3,000; Paris at Texarkana—3,500.

Bryan, Tyler Swamp Enemy

(By The Associated Press)

Bryan and Tyler had set themselves up today as the teams for everybody to gun for in the Lone Star league baseball race.

Henderson and Longview were the other two targets as a result of last night's season-opener victories, but their modest showings decisions made them less conspicuous.

Bryan swamped Lufkin, 14-0; Tyler pounded Gladewater, 11-2; Henderson came from behind to nip Kilgore, 8-4, and Longview edged Marshal, 5-4.

Lefty Gene Bauer hurled four-hit ball for Bryan as his bomber teammates clouted 13 hits, two of they good for extra bases.

Home Runs Are Scored

Rudy Jones homered in the second and Jim Hardin clouted a three-run roundtripper in the fifth for Tyler. Rudy Briner homered for Gladewater in the fourth.

Henderson earned its decision in the sixth by coming from behind a three-run deficit to score four runs on four hits, one of them a triple by Jack Selby. Henderson scored three runs in the eighth.

Shortstop Ghiglieri hit two singles and a triple in four times at bat to pace Longview. Gabby Lusk hit a triple for Marshall, and Manager Davis hit three singles and a double in five trips to the plate.

Pitching Is Main Gold Sox Problem

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of eight stories on the personnel and prospects of West Texas-New Mexico league clubs which will appear in The Morning Avalanche and The Evening Journal.)

By HARRY GILSTRAP
Amarillo Globe-News

AMARILLO, April 21 (Special)—President Bob Seeds and Manager Buck Fausett still aren't satisfied with their Amarillo Gold Sox of 1948.

With the opener against Abilene imminent, the two wise veterans who direct Amarillo destines, continue their efforts to strengthen the team which finished second to Lubbock last year, both in the regular season and in the Shaughnessy playoffs.

Only five players are back from that potent outfit, which topped the league on July 4 but stumbled and fell down the stretch.

One of them is Bob Crues, the circuit's all-star right fielder for the past two seasons and heir-apparent to Bill Serena's home-un monarchy. The mighty Crues hit 52 four-basers last year to break big Joe Bauman's previous record of 48—but Serena pounded 57. Crues, while swatting .380, topped all WT-NM batsmen in total bases, however, with 427.

Other returnees are Vince Liberto, 1947 third baseman, Don Eli , left fielder, and Joe Budny ans Jimmy Heller, righthanded pitchers.

Liberto and Elias, both rookies, last season, are expected to improve. The former was weak defensively, having two-frequent trouble with his throwing, but hit .300, including 32 home runs, 301 total bases and 128 runs batted in. This season he's playing second base, where his arm won't be so much of a burden, and looks all right.

Hurling Staff Experienced

Elias hit only .262 last year, but had 16 homers in 90 games and was coming along at the end. He now has been moved to center fielder.

Heller, a little fellow with a tricky delivery and a good curve, won 10, lost 4, in 1947, working frequently as a reliever, and likely will be a regular starter. Budny's record was an unsatisfactory 12-11, but he looked great at times and might come up to earlier promise this campaign.

Of the departed players, those missed most will be the mighty Bauman, a polished first baseman who hit .350, with 38 homers; Bobby Decker, veteran second baseman, a .324 sticker; brilliant Bill "Lefty" Lonergan, a 17-9 winning southpaw, and Steve Lagomarsino, young righthander who posted 18-7 in his rookie year.

Bauman's place is taken by Doug Lewis, optioned out the last two seasons in the Class D Evangeline League, where he was no sensation as a hitter, but was a great fielding first baseman.

"Hot Corner" Open

Liberto is likely to stay at second. Contesting for the shortstop and third base spots are three youngsters, Walter Ransom and Jerry Folkman, with El Centro of the Class C Sunset League last season, and Tom Sellito, rookie who was an all-state high school selection at Newark, N. J., last year. Ransom probably will stay at shortstop. The fact that Sellito is a rookie may win him the job at third.

Crues is anchored in right. There are three competitors for the other outposts: Elias, Mel McCulley and Chet Juckno. McCulley was in the Three-1 Leagle last year and is on option from Little Rock. Juckno, obtained late from Little Rock, was with Jersey City of the International League part of last year. He's a big fellow, a power hitter, and he and Elias may get the call.

There's a first-class catcher, Woody Salmon, who hit .347 in 1946 for Salem of the Western International League and might do that well again. If a second backstop is carried, he'll be 18-year-old Kenny White, rookie from Sulpher Springs.

No club in the league will have a better utility player, of course, than Fausett, who swatted .409 while managing and playing third base at Albuquerque last year.

Fausett, who recently turned 40 years old, no longer is willing to pay the physical toll which conditioning for 140 games of baseball exacts, but he'll be in there often, acting as a pinch hitter. He can play any position including catcher and pitcher and do it well.

While all of this sounds very favorable for Amarillo's 1948 chances, it brings us around to the bingo question—How about Amarillo's pitching?

Budny and Heller, of course, are considered certainties, but as yet there isn't a chunker of known quality (say of Lefty Lonergan's ability) anywhere on the horizon.

Ben Lorino, who trained with the Gold Sox last year and pastimed with El Centro of the Sunset League and Vernon of the Longhorn League, appears ready for a regular job here. The lightweight southpaw has been very polished in training appearances, and effective, too.

The balance of a six or seven-man mound crops must come from a group of six rookies, R. H. Templeton, Buck Pfeiffer, Billy Martin, Clyde DeWitt, Hillard Beeson and Southpaw Nick Mitchetti. Five of the six are right-handers.

Templeton is a big boy from Hollis, Okla., who can throw hard But he's green and needs a lot of schooling. Michetti, from Newark, N. J., trained with the Sox last year and didn't make it. His work this year hardly indicates that he will this time.

Pfeiffer, also from Newark, was a standout pitcher in New Jersey schoolboy circles. He has size and is fairly fast, though he pitched a disappointing stretch against the Clovis Pioneers in the only real test.

Beeson and DeWitt were optioned here from Salem, Ore., in the Class B Western International League. They were recommended highly and sent here to make the club. The Sox have had no chance to test them under fire since their arrival.

Martin, a 19-year-old Mississippi boy who looks younger than that might win a regular job. The Gold Sox pitched him up on the final day of the Little Rock camp at Greenville, Miss., when it was discovered that no other club had signed him.

He's a hard worker, has coolness and confidence, has learned fast. But best of all, Fausett likes his courage. Martin never seems to be awed, even when he's throwing to a No. 4 hitter with the bases loaded.

That's the crop, and not a Lefty Lonergan or Bill Evans anywhere. The Sox need one, and badly.

Only Two Hurlers In S'West Win Twice

DALLAS, April 21 (U.P.)—Fred Copeland of Baylor and Bobby Layne of Texas are the only southwest conference baseball pitchers who have won two games this season, statistics showed today.

Charles Gorin, sensational Texas southpaw, has won one and lost one — last Saturday's game with Baylor which resulted in Texas' dropping to second place in the standings.

Jim Busby of TCU is leading the individual hitters with a .578 average, collected for 11 hits in 19 trips to the plate. Robert Fretz of Texas A. and M. is second with 10 hits in 24 times up, good for a .416 average.

Texas leads in team batting with .306. A. and M. is next with .296 and Baylor is third with .286. Texas also leads in fielding honors with a .967 record. A. and M. and Baylor are second and third, respectively.

Sandies Take Lead In Baseball Race

BORGER, April 21 (Special)—Amarillo's potent Golden Sandstorm diamond squad held an early lead in the District 1-AA baseball race today, following a resounding 23-9 victory over the Borger Bulldogs here last night in the district opener.

The Amarilloans took a one-run margin in the first frame, then added another in the second stanza. Two more tallies in the third and five-run offensives in the sixth and seventh innings clinched the triumph.

Both nines used two hurlers during the three-hour game, with Sandie starter Bill Orr getting credit for the win.

The next conference tilt for the Borger team will be unreeled here Friday night when the Lubbock Westerners invade the Bulldog diamond.

The line score:

Amarillo	112 015 508--23	19 6
Borger	021 000 600-- 9	12 10

Orr, Farmer and Kenyon; Hawkins, Hill and Mashburn.

Favorites Lead In Houston Net Play

HOUSTON, April 21 (AP)—Eight top-seeded players breezed through second round matches Tuesday in the fourteenth annual River Oaks invitational tennis tournament.

Paced by Frankie Parker, Los Angeles veteran amateur who received the number one spot in the draw, the favorites played a combined total of sixteen sets and dropped only sixteen games.

Tuesday's results included:

ORTEGA WINS BY KO

AMARILLO, April 21 (U.P.) — Manny Ortega, 126, El Paso, knocked out Manuel Camarillo, 126, Chihuahua, Mexico, in the fifth round at municipal auditorium last night. Camarillo had gone down for an eight-count in the first round and was hurt twice in the second, but remained in the fight till he was KO'd.

Maybe Rebels Surprise Themselves

Dallas Moves Up Alongside Leader As Beaumont Loses

BY ROBERT H. JOHNSON, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The Dallas Rebels were berthed alongside the Beaumont Exporters at the top of the Texas league baseball standings today.

But even the Rebels might have been a little surprised to find themselves there. You wouldn't have guessed where they were heading by watching them at the plate last night. Once on base, however, the Rebels left no doubt they were after scores.

Winners Are Outhit

Fort Worth's Cats hit safely 11 times while Dallas was getting seven hits. But the score was the other way around, 4-1, in favor of Dallas.

Meanwhile, the San Antonio Missions hauled Beaumont up short to end a five-game winning streak. The score was the same as in the Dallas-Fort Worth tussle, 4-1.

In other games last night, Tulsa's Oilers, who have trouble deciding whether they're good or bad, beat Oklahoma City, 9-3, and Houston trimmed Shreveport, 3-1.

It was the Rebels' alertness on the base paths that brought them out in front.

Good Base Running

In the sixth, for example, Johnny Creel ran out a roller for a hit, stole second and advanced to third on a putout. He scored as Livington ran out an infield hit.

Six Beaumont errors helped San Antonio. Bud Kimball got the Missions started with a six-inning homer. In the seventh three runs that were largely due to a pair of Beaumont bobbles gave San Antonio the decision.

It was cellar-dwelling Tulsa's night to be good. After beating Dallas, 31-1 Sunday, then losing, 9-1, Monday, the Oilers picked off third-place Oklahoma without much trouble. Henry Perkowski went all the way for the Oilers, pitching six-hit ball for his first victory on the mound. Tulsa outfielder Russell Burns was hit on the head by a pitched ball, but Manager Al Vincent said his injuries were not believed serious.

Young Pitcher Wins

Cloyd Boyer, young righthander, did a six-hit job on the Shreveport Sports as Houston won. Solly Hemus led the winners at the plate with two doubles for three tries.

Tonight's schedule: Fort Worth at Dallas, Shreveport at Houston, San Antonio at Beaumont, and Tulsa at Oklahoma City.

There are more hoofed animals in America now than when the buffalo roamed.

Dual Meet Won By Westerners

A 67-21 point margin gave the Lubbock High Westerner trackmen an easy triumph over Wayland college of Plainview in a dual meet held Tuesday afternoon at the Texas Tech oval.

Since the Plainview squad did not have contestants in several events, however, the chief objective of the meet was to give the Lubbock speedsters a workout in preparation for the giant Region 1 meet here Saturday, and to give some of the Westerner squadmen a chance to complete their "point totals" in order to be eligible for a letter award.

Few good performances were turned in during the reduced program, although the Lubbock mile relay quartet of Charley Williams, Edward Strickland, Don Decker and Jim Johnson toured the four laps in a time of 3:37.1. Williams, running "unofficially," chalked up a creditable 22.9 seconds in the 220-yard dash and Earl Hutcherson copped the 100-yard dash win in 10.3 seconds.

The results:

120-yard high hurdles—D. Schmidt, Lubbock, first; B. Schmidt, Lubbock, second; Krebbs, Lubbock, third. Time: 16.5 seconds.

100-yard dash—Vernon, Lubbock, first; Hitt, Wayland, second; Scales, Lubbock, third; King, Lubbock, fourth. Time: 10.5 seconds.

440-yard dash—Cox, Wayland, first; Ware, Wayland, second; Young, Lubbock, third. Time: 54 seconds.

Mile run—Foster, Lubbock, first; R. Johnson, Lubbock, second; Baldwin, Wayland, third. Time: 5:21.

880-yard run—Knighton, Wayland, first; Rosa, Lubbock, second; Foster, Lubbock, third; R. Johnson, Wayland, fourth. Time: 2:15.

220-yard dash—Young, Lubbock, first; Scales, Lubbock, second; Ing, Lubbock, third; B. Schmidt, Lubbock, fourth. Time: 24.6 seconds.

Mile relay—Lubbock, (Williams, Strickland, Decker, Johnson), first; Wayland, second. Time: 3.37.1.

Pole vault—Scales, Lubbock, first; Blake, Lubbock, second; Davis, Lubbock, third. Height: 9'6".

Clements, Masked Marvel To Tangle

Borrowing some terminology from baseball, which opens its season locally today, it's already two strikes against Ray "Big Train" Clements, who tonight will attempt to throw the Masked Marvel at Sied Allen's arena.

Clements will be trying to do what others have failed to accomplish. The former Lubbockite is conceded a better than average chance and the match has a one-hour time limit with two out of three falls deciding.

O'Dowdy Meets Hickson

On the semi-windup, the rugged, rowdy Pat O'Dowdy tangles with Billy Hickson of Knoxville, Tenn. The report is out that this will be a grudge battle, with neither man holding the other in much esteem. O'Dowdy is a rough and ready antagonist, while Hickson also knows his way around in the ring.

Gorilla Poggi returns to the local emporium tonight for a 20-minute preliminary meeting with the popular Ace Abbott of Abilene. Both wrestlers know the ropes, have been around ring action for a long time and have no scruples about how they win.

Tickets will be on sale from 9 a. m. until 5 p. m. at Wylie's Drug store and the matches begin at 8:15 p. m.

Golf Play Moves Into Second Round

PINEHURST, N. C., April 21 (AP) The 32 survivors of the first round of match play in the North and South golf tournament teed off for second and third round competition today.

Defending champion C. B. Dudley of Greenville, S. C., and Pinehurst's Dick Chapman each went out in 32, four under par for the first nine 6,879-yard long No. 2 course. Both rode from there to 8 and 6 victories—Dudley over C. W. Birch of Stamford, Conn., and Chapman over Gene Coulter of Richmond, Ind.

Frank Stranahan, the 1946 winner, was two under and five up at the turn against Dr. M. D. Buccella, Bloomfield, N. J., breezing in 7 and 6 Veteran Chick Evans of Chicago, the 1911 winner, turned back E. V. Flynn, Fitchburg, Mass., 4 and 3.

JUST CHANGE EMBLEM

GREAT YARMOUTH, Eng., April 21 (AP) — Secretary Ronald Brett of the Great Yarmouth Swimming club has informed members that girls' bathing suits have become so scanty there no longer is room for the club emblem—a herring.

What, he wanted to know, should he do. The male members suggested the emblem be changed —to a sardine.

Danger Of Communism Not Over In Italy In Spite Of Voting

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Foreign Staff Writer

Anti-Communist forces appear to have won a smashing victory for freedom in the Italian national elections—a victory likely to have a far-reaching influence on the cold-war between Russia and the Democracies.

The returns aren't complete at this writing, but Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democrats and other right wing parties have sufficient lead so that Vice Premier Saragat has announced "the Communists will not be admitted into Italy's new government" If that proves to be true it will represent a sensational defeat for the numerically greatest Communist party outside Russia Saragat, head of the anti-Red Socialists, interpreted the upset thus:

Rebirth Of Democracy

"The Italian election means a rebirth of Democracy in Europe. The victory of Democratic forces is a great setback to Russia and Communist plans for expansion Italy is now a part of western Europe and not of the Balkans."

That's what we like to read but let's temper our exultation with a bit of caution. Even if final returns bear out the present estimate, we musn't overlook this:

Until Italy's first full-fledged post-war parliament meets next month and elects a new president there will be danger of a Bolshevist revolt Communist leader Togliatti has promised that the Reds won't use force—but observers aren't making any bets on such assurance. Saragat himself warns that "the election doesn't mean the final defeat of Communism in Italy," adding:

"This is more difficult because the Communists cannot be fought by police measures, but only through social measures. The Communist party will remain strong here as it is today in France."

However, if present returns bear out their promise, Bolshevism has been soundly thrashed in the first big show-down outside Russia's eastern European zone where the Reds have imposed their will by force. Communism has been thrust down unwilling throats in the Soviet domain, but Italy has had the strength to resist it despite the chaotic condition in which the war left her. As Premier de Gasperi said, the country just wouldn't "be bolshevized."

Eight Men On Jury Accepted

Efforts to complete a jury for trial of the Brewster E. Dillard murder case were being continued this afternoon in 99th district court, after the third morning of the proceeding had produced only one juror.

He, Jim Gentry of Slaton route 1, was sworn at 11:30 a. m., as the eighth man accepted this week.

One hundred talesmen and two members of the special venire that, except for them, was exhausted at 3:30 p. m. Tuesday appeared at 10 a. m.

Others Are Examined

Gentry was accepted after the two veniremen and two talesmen had been examined.

The defendant, 36, is accused of murder with malice in connection with the Nov. 1 slaying of Garlon Douglas Weaver, at a Texas Ave. service station.

Through his counsel, he made a motion to quash the list of talesmen, and renewed a Monday motion to quash the special venire.

Judge G. V. Pardue, presiding, overruled both motions. The defense excepted.

The motion to quash the talesmen list was filed by Burton S. Burks and J. E. Vickers, defense counsel. It declared that the court, in ordering such talesmen to be summoned, called Sheriff Grady Harrist Tuesday afternoon and, after administering an oath to him verbally and in open court, instructed him "not to go out and get just anybody; you go out and get some of these merchants around here; you know what I mean."

Motion Is Quoted

The motion, asking that the cause be postponed until a "legally selected jury can be obtained" and that a mistrial be declared, continued that, "although the court afterward administered the oath to the sheriff and four of his deputies and attempted at suggestion of one of the special prosecutors to 'withdraw' the instructions (to the sheriff), . . . the sheriff, as an officer of the court, was bound to have known therefrom the desires of the court . . . and to withdraw the instructions would not properly protect the defendant's rights."

Other jurors, six of them accepted Tuesday and one Monday, are: Lin Lincecum of near Idalou, W. T Dickson of Lubbock route 2, N. W. Ray of Lubbock route 6, M. L. Morris of 2307 Seventh, Earl L. Norris of Slaton, J. S. Warlick of Lubbock general delivery, and L. B. Copehaven of Lubbock.

Public Housing Bill Hot Issue

WASHINGTON, April 21 (AP) — Senate backers and foes of public housing squared away today for a showdown on that hot issue.

The Senate battle centers around an amendment by Senator Cain (R-Wash) which would strike from the Taft-Ellender-Wagner long range housing bill a section authorizing 500,000 government-owned and operated public housing units.

Disputed Provision

That is the most hotly disputed provision of T-E-W measure, which is aimed at encouraging the building of 15,000,000 new homes during the next 10 years. Private industry would handle most of the job, aided by federal loans and subsidies.

The bill also would extend the government's home loan insurance program, provide special incentives for rental housing construction, and authorize a vast slum clearance program.

The Senate put in four hours of slam-bang debate on the Cain amendent yesterday without reaching a vote.

Final Vote In Doubt

There was some doubt whether there could be a final ballot today. The Senate was scheduled to put the bill aside during the afternoon for a memorial service honoring eight senators who died during the last three years.

The Senate yesterday adopted two public housing proposals sponsored by Senator McCarthy (R-Wis), who has been feuding with Sen. Taft over that section for a week.

McCarthy's amendments would:

1. Give lowest income families a priority on occupancy of public housing and permit no discrimination against welfare or relief families.

2. Let the government oust tenants earning more than the top salary specified as a condition of occupancy. The salary ceiling varies with housing projects.

Daily Markets

Stock Market

FEW FAVORITES ACTIVE

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Demand for a few favorites gave an upward push to an otherwise sluggish stock market today.

A scattering of oils jand rails scored wide gains to reach new highs for the year or longer. Although a wide list of losers persisted to the close, many stocks shifted to the upside in the final hour. Among the soft spots were selected rubbers, aircraft and farm implements. Transactions for the day were in the neighborhood of 1,600,000 shares.

Finishing in lower ground were Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Lockheed, Goodrich, Firestone, and American Smelting.

Reaching new 1948 highs, some with jumps of several points, were Nickel Plate, Plymouth Oil, Atlantic Refining (on favorable earnings), Pacific Western, Missouri Corp., and Superior Oil of California. Others ahead included Gulf Oil, American Can, and International Telephone.

Continuing effects of the loss of coal output, and wage negotiation deadlocks in several industries inspired caution among customers. A moderate amount of profit-taking was absorbed. Brokers said the market was inclined to rest after the long-waited Italian election and end of the coal shutdown.

Bonds were narrow.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in active dealings today. Old crop deliveries advanced into new seasonal high ground on trade buying and short covering. New crop deliveries lagged, influenced by better weather conditions in the cotton belt and expectations of a large cotton acreage this season.

Covering was induced partly by Washington news that 748,000 bales of cotton will be shipped to Europe in the next 90 days under foreign aid. It was also hinter that an agreement on the private cotton credit program for Japan is imminent.

Cotton closed strong.

Secrets Said Sent To U. S.

LONDON, April 21 (AP) — A Tass dispatch said today the Hungarian interior ministry has announced the arrest of 12 persons accused of sending abroad Hungarian military inventions. It said some of the information had been sent to the United States.

The ministry communique said the alleged head of "a large criminal group" involved was Letses Vilmos, director general of Hungary's Ferrotechnika engineering firm. Vilmos has fled the country, the communique added.

The statement said the accused bought up blue prints and a description of the manufacturing process for a new light machine gun and sent them to the United States.

Country Not Identified

The communique added that the gun and a number of other inventions were offered to the president of a Central American nation. It did not identify the country.

"The criminals intended to remove from Hungary the designs of some other inventions and were preparing illegal immigration of a number of engineers and skilled workers," the communique declared. "They intended to obtain necessary visas from the American legation in Budapest and some of these visas already have been issued."

establish the gallant fighting ship Texas as a permanent shrine, to take its place alongside the San Jacinto monument as an everlasting memorial to men who fought for freedom—and won," Governor Jester said.

Tribute Paid Nimitz

The governor paid high tribute to Admiral Nimitz.

"The name of Chester W. Nimitz will live through the ages—it will be honored and remembered as long as sea-faring men speak in reverence of great naval heroes—of Jones, Dewey, Decatur and others who have made our Navy the first line of defense."

Hundreds of sailors stepped from their positions at quarters and faced "outboard" toward the towering shaft of the San Jacinto monument.

The great moment in the solemn ceremony was marked by a change of flags.

At 10 a. m. the national ensign, the Union Jack and the Texas commission pennant were flying at 10 a. m, when orders were read, placing Capt. Charles A. Baker, USN, the wartime skipper of the Texas, again in command.

Banner Is Hoisted

When Fleet Admiral Nimitz came aboard, his blue and white five star banner was hoisted to the top main mast, replacing the commission pennant.

The three Navy flags were hauled down when Secretary Andrews made the presentation to Governor Jester.

The red, white and blue of the Lone Star flag fluttered alone in the breeze when the other flags were hauled down.

men, greater by far than its average strength between World Wars I and II. The Army is aiming at a National Guard strength of 682,000.

The Army lacks men for the anti-aircraft defenses of the country. It has turned the job over to the National Guard.

The guard plan calls for 84 anti-aircraft battalions organized into brigades manning 3056 guns. These would be concentrated along the east and west coasts and around heavy industrial centers of the middle east.

All Radar Controlled

Seven brigades will be located on the east coast, three on the west coast, and two in the Great Lakes region.

These units will man everything from 40 mm. up to 90 mm. and 120 mm. guns. All batteries will be radar controlled. Searchlights are being abandoned.

Another streamlined innovation of the new National Guard is the armored division and regimental combat teams.

A regimental combat team includes an infantry regiment, a field artillery battalion and an anti-aircraft battery. Assembled quickly from units within a given area, it could go quickly into combat against sudden airborne invasion, when organization is complete.

Crash Injuries Are Fatal For Negro

John Franklin, 47, negro of 1323 East Thirty-first died at 9:25 a. m., today in Chatman hospital without regaining consciousness after he was seriously injured early Tuesday morning in an automobile-bicycle collision on the old Slaton highway.

An attending physician reported that Franklin had received three fractured ribs, a punctured lung, concussion of the brain, and a stroke of parlysis.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Dr. Wallace Speaks Before Rotarians

Calling San Jacinto day "one of the most significant dates in history," because of the influence Texas has exerted on the world, Dr. Ernest Wallace, assistant dean of the Arts and Science division and professor of history at Texas Tech college, reviewed events leading to the day, in an address before the Rotary club luncheon today at the Hilton hotel.

Dr. Wallace recounted Spain's conquests, the beginning of her loss of power in 1810 due to the Napoleonic wars, the independence of Mexico in 1821, the rising conflict between Mexico and Anglo-Americans who had come into what was then a Mexican state, later to become Texas, and the battle at San Jacinto in which Sam Houston's army surprised and slaughtered or took prisoner most of Santa Anna's Mexican army.

The speaker was introduced by Homer Grant, program chairman. Club President Rex Webster was in the chair, with invocation by Rev. C. Y. Dossey, who is here in a revival meeting at First Baptist church.

Visiting Rotarians included W. B. Ditmore of Las Vegas, N. M., Bill Killian of Ralls, Rufus Alexander of Clovis, C. B. Fisher of Spur, Fred McGinty and Ross Smith of Tahoka, and R. T. Ward of Smithville.

Henderson Fight Is Slated For Tonight

Bill Henderson, Lubbock boxer only recently turned professional, will fight Joe Agosta of Long Island in a four-round bout tonight at Bridgeport, Conn., the Associated Press advised The Evening Journal this afternoon from New Haven.

J. D. Kirkpatrick, another Lubbock boxer who turned pro at the same time and who belongs to the same stable of fighters as Henderson, will not fight tonight because of a hand injury suffered several days ago in training, it was learned.

The Journal this morning received numerous calls from Lubbock sports fans asking for results of the fight, under impression the men were to have been on a Tuesday night card.

Strike Injunction

strike still exists.

Lewis' lawyers fought against it with the argument there is now no strike and that the injunction, issued under the Taft-Hartley law, was unconstitutional.

The Justice department presented coal association officials who testified that many thousands of miners were idle as late as yesterday.

Lewis appealed to the miners today to hurry back to the pits.

The result was an avalanche of orders from the 27 United Mine Workers district presidents directing the 400,000 soft coal diggers to be back on the job in force by Monday at the latest.

The air cleared at once, and the pension strike which began March 15 seemed definitely over.

No Code Or Wink

There was no "code or wink or nod" in the message Lewis sent to his top union lieutenants. He said flatly he wished they would go back to work immediately.

Justice T. Alan Goldsborough, who yesterday fined Lewis $20,000 and the UMW $1,400,000 for criminal contempt in not obeying a court order sooner, had said Lewis used a "code" in the four-week strike over pensions.

Draft Fight

000 more than the number asked by Secretary of Defense Forrestal in the administration's combined draft-UMT bill.

The new measure would not grant "GI Bill of Rights" benefits to peacetime draftees. It would, however, give them the protection of insurance premium guarantees under the soldiers' and sailors' civil relief act of 1940.

Begin In 90 Days

Drafts would begin automatically 90 days after the bill became law.

The National Guard and all reserve units would, in effect, be frozen on the date the law went into effect. Men of draft age, from 19 through 25, would not be given a draft exemption for joining the guard or reserves after that time, but youths of 18 could escape the draft by joining and remaining in the guard or reserves as long as the draft continued in effect.

Air Force Is Making Direct Assignments

Enlistments in certain specialized jobs for direct assignment to Bergstrom Air Force bast at Austin, Biggs Air Force base in El Paso and Kirtland Air Force base at Albuquerque, N. M., are being accepted by Maj. Harold Fulghum, commanding officer of the U. S. Army and U. S. Air Force recruiting station in room 203 of the postoffice building.

To be eligible, applicants must have had previous service in one of the armed forces and possess a specialty needed at the particular base. Grades up to technical sergeant are being offered qualified men, based on rank they previously held in the armed forces and previous training and experience.

Positions open include those of carpenters, clerks, mechanics, medical technicians and food service personnel, at Bergstrom base; plumbers, construction equipment operators, clerks, mechanics, and supply personnel, Biggs base, and military policemen, clerks, mechanics and supply technicians, Kirtland base. Further details are available in the recruiting office.

Section Of Santa Fe Train Is Derailed

LOS ANGELES, April 21. (AP)—All nine cars of the second section of the Santa Fe railroad's westbound Grand Canyon Limited were derailed today at Hector, Calif., 35 miles east of Barstow.

No one was seriously injured, the company announced, adding that an investigation is under way to determine cause of the accident. All cars remained upright.

A special relief train was assembled to pick up passengers, and is due in Los Angeles this afternoon. There was no delay to traffic, the company said.

Churchill Calls On People Of Europe To Unite For Freedom

LONDON, April 21. (U.P.)—Winston Churchill called on the peoples of Europe today to unite to preserve their freedom.

"There will never be a settled peace in Europe while Asiatic imperialists and Communist domination rule over the whole of central and eastern Europe," Churchill said.

Churchill spoke at a conservative party women's rally.

Churchill hailed the Communist defeat in Italy as an "historic event." Speaking at the annual rally of conservative women in Albert hall, he said:

"Italy, liberated by the Allies from the Fascist dictatorship of Mussolini, saved himself for the time being from the Bolshevik dictatorship of Stalin."

"Italy now regains her place in the ranks of the principal powers of Europe instead of being, like so many unhappy countries, made to live in a cage with a bear," Churchill continued.

"I rejoice to see Italy resume her full contacts with Britain and the United States."

Quislings Blamed

He deplored the Communist coup in Czechoslovakia, and blamed it to "Quislings."

"We have all been deeply shocked and grieved at the fate of Czechoslovakia," he said. "Their lot has indeed been hard. No sooner were they free from the tyranny of Hitler's gualeiters than, like Poland, they were dragged down into the subjugation of Soviet Quislings."

Negro Opposes Civil Disobedience Plan

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 21 (AP)—A negro church leader announced today his group is undertaking a South-wide campaign in opposition to announced plans of civil disobedience against "any Jim Crow draft for universal military training law."

E. J. Cain, bishop of the negro Church of God district embracing Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas, said the purpose of his group's movement is to "educate the negro against this type of propaganda."

He said he was referring to plans disclosed before a House committee in Washington by President A. Philip Randolph of the Pullman Porters' union and Grant Reynolds, New York.

Cancer Death Rates Listed

NEW YORK, April 21 (U.P.) — The cancer death rate among women is showing a slight decrease, but is still rising among men, Dr. E. Cuyler Hammond, of the American Cancer society, reported today.

Dr. Hammond, director of the statistical research department of the society, disclosed that the decreased death rate among women was based on statistics for which corrections had been made for the fact that the United States population is aging.

Crude Rate Grows

"Among men, however, the rate is still rising even after the corrections have been made," he said.

The crude cancer death rate, which corrects for the increase in the size of the population, increased from 112.4 to 131.0 per 100,000 females in the period of 1933 to 194.5, an increase of 16.5 per cent, according to Dr. Hammond.

However, when the female death date from cancer is adjusted for the aging of the population, it drops from 124.7 in 1933 to 123.0 in 1945, a drop of 1.4 per cent, Dr. Hammond said.

1936 Peak Year

"This is more striking," he said, "when one realizes that 1936 represents the peak year in female cancer deaths since the inception of national mortality statistics, with an adjusted rate of 127.5 per 100,000. In comparison, the 1945 figure is 3.5 per cent lower."

Dr. Hammond believes that the downward trend is continuing, despite the fact that improved diagnostic techniques are discovering more cancer in women. As in men, cancer strikes more often in the older groups.

Powerful Farm Co-Ops Seeking Surplus In Government Funds

By JAMES DANIEL
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 21. — Powerful farm co-operative groups are organizing a raid to carry off a $40 million surplus in government owned funds.

The surplus is the profit accumulated on loans advanced to co-operatives by the 13 banks for co-operatives set up under the Farm Credit administration.

Established In 1933

The banks were established in 1933 to lend federal funds to farm groups. The government advanced the capital, charging no interest. The government has put up 178 million which represent 96.5 per cent of the outstanding stock. Co-ops themselves hold the other 3.5.

In lending the money to co-operatives, the banks have realized a profit of $40 million.

The present plan is for the farm co-operatives to buy out the government's stock in the banks over the next 30 years, so that eventually they will own the banks, and with them the $40 million surplus plus any additional surplus accumulated in the meantime. If the next 30 years are as profitable as the past 15, this surplus would grow to $120 million by the time the government's stock was retired.

Bill Up In House

A bill to effect the transfer is before the House agriculture committee. I. W. Dugan, governor of the Farm Credit administration, supports it. He said seven farm organizations and farm co-operative associations had participated in preparing it.

Under the bill, co-operatives borrowing from the banks would be required to purchase small amounts of stock. This money would then be used to retire government-owned stock. The money repaid to the government would not go back to the Treasury, but would be set aside in a revolving fund on which co-ops again could draw if need arose.

Uncle Sam would never get a smell of that $40 million surplus. If it were distributed now, he would be entitled to 96.5 per cent of it. Under the bill, his share of it diminishes as his stock is retired. Eventually, the banks and the surplus would belong to the co-operative borrowers, who would be entitled to dividends on one type of their stock and patronage refunds on another.

Explanation Is Given

A government official, analyzing this plan, said it could be understood this way:

Suppose you and I start a business. You borrow the money for it, with interest, and then lend it to us, without interest. We go along for 15 years, making a $40 million profit.

I decide that I would like to buy out your shares. So we work out a plan whereby I will do this gradually, still without paying you any interests.

"In the end, I own the business and the profit. In case you are wondering what you got out of the deal, you have the satisfaction of knowing that you set me up in a good business."

The seven organizations behind the plan were named today as the National Council of Farmers Co-Operatives, the Farmers Educational and Co-Operative Union of America, the National Grange, the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Federation of Grain Co-Operatives the Missouri Farmers Ass'n., Inc., and the National Co-Operative Milk Producers Federation.

Mr. Dugan, governor of farm credit, testified that transfer of the banks to private ownership would be in the public interest, because it would remove the opportunity for political influence.

Police Seek Pranksters Who Took Flares From Streets, Set Them On Home Porches

Police this morning sought to learn identity of persons who removed flares Tuesday night from street consrtuction mounds and holes in southwest Lubbock and placed them, still burning, on the porches of residents of that vicinity.

They coupled a warning against subjecting motorists to peril by such practices with a statement that they had a partial description of an automobile believed to have been occupied by those responsible.

Woman Wears Pants

The sheriff's department and police received a tip that may be as effective as it was novel, in connection with their investigation into burglary of premises of Eugene Thomas, a negro.

Thomas said he had found a negro woman living in 400-block East Twentieth wearing a pair of his trousers.

He said he "made the girl go home and pull them off. They had his name in them."

He said that while he was at the place he 'looked around" and found a sports coat and overcoat that had been removed from his quarters the night of March 31. A suit valued at $60, the sports coat, valued at $37.50 and the trousers, valued at $17.95, were taken, he charged.

The name of a negro man was "who hangs around her house" given to officers as a suspect.

Window Broken

Jack Trammel, operator of J&K grocery, at 218 Eighteenth, informed police that someone tossed a piece of iron through a plate glass window of the store, knocking a hole 6-by-18 inches, but that the store had not been entered.

State rangers informed that marble machines were commencing with "free games," as well as "other gambling," allowed, filed a charge against the operator of a cafe here, and C. E. Lynn assessed a fine of $50 and court costs, it was announced. Total assessment was $63.15. It was paid. Other such charges may be filed, it was indicated, unless the alleged practice is stopped.

Theft of an $82 radio from the automobile of Miss Dorothy Lomax of $105 Twenty-first, when her car was parked adjacent to a church, was announced Tuesday night.

Funeral services for J. W. Betts of Waxahachie, father of Mrs. Ross Ayers of 1813 Ave. O, are to be conducted at 10 o'clock Thursday morning at Rudolph Funeral home in Waxahachie, friends here learned.

Mr. Betts, who formerly lived in Lubbock, died about noon Tuesday in Waxahachie.

Survivors include his wife; two daughters, Miss Flora May Betts, teacher in Highland Park school in Dallas, and Mrs. Ayers, and one grandson, Joe Ayers.

Mrs. Ayers had been at her father's bedside several weeks.

Royal Newlyweds Share Anniversary

LONDON, April 21 (AP) — Princess Elizabeth rose early today to share a special 22nd birthday breakfast with her handsome husband, Prince Philip.

Rumors persist that the heir to the British throne will be a mother soon. Court circles have dampened the rumors, noting that she is still keeping up her schedule of official engagements.

Breakfast with Philip opened a day of quiet observation of the anniversary.

Most State Offices Are Closed Today

AUSTIN, April 21 (AP)—Most state offices closed today, San Jacinto day, and their employees enjoyed a statutory holiday but the three state courts in Austin held regular sessions.

The three courts are the Texas supreme court, court of criminal appeals and the third court of civil appeals.

Interurban Is Losing Money

DALLAS, April 21 (AP) — The Texas Electric Railway rompany is ready to quit running the last rail interurban line in this part of the country—it doesn't pay.

Over one of its routes, however, the rompany wants to substitute motor buses.

Stockholders and directors voted yesterday to ask the Interstate Commerce commission to let it abandon its rail lines between Dallas and Waco and Dallas and Denison.

Has Lost Money

Directors said the company has lost $1,645,870.73 since Jan. 1, 1936.

"We are eating ourselves up," said President James P. Griffin.

The Texas Electric Bus lines, a subsidiary owned entirely the railway company, has asked the Texas Railroad commission for permission to operate passenger motor buses between Dallas and Waco. A hearing will be held May 25 in Hillsboro.

However, Griffin said it may be the end of the year before rail service is stopped. He said the ICC probably will take several months to rule on the application for abandoning rail service. Until a ruling is made, he said, the company does not plan any changes in rail service.

Begun In 1908

Operation of an interurban line from Dallas to Sherman was begun by the Texas Traction company July 1, 1908, and on April 16, 1911, that company purchased from the Denison and Sherman Railway company the line from Sherman to Denison.

In October, 1913, the Southern Traction company constructed and put into operation its interurban line from Dallas to Waco and Dallas to Corsicana. The Southern Traction company and the Texas Traction company merged into the Texas Electric Railway company as of Jan. 1, 1917.

The company went into receivership Jan. 1, 1931 and operated in receivership until 1935 when it was reorganized.

The line from Dallas to Corsicana was abandoned in February, 1941.

First Aid Class Is Taught By Whitmire

Five state highway patrolmen and four nurses are enrolled in the Red Cross class in advanced first aid being taught in Lubbock Memorial hospital classrooms by J. R. Whitmire, patrolman.

The class met for the first time last week and will meet the next three Friday afternoons.

Those enrolled are Misses Vada Page, Audrey Decker, Margaret Brock and Reba Thornley, all graduate nurses on the staff of the hospital, and L. W. Wilhite, Sam Fort, T. D Whitehorn, John H. Strother and T. A. Rowland, patrolmen.

Four Governors Of Big Republican States May Hold Fate Of GOP Candidate

WASHINGTON, April 21. (U.P.)— Four governors of big Republican states may make the final decision who is to be the party's presidential nominee.

They are James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, Earl Warren of California, Alfred E. Driscoll of New Jersey and Dwight H. Green of Illinois.

Those four states will cast 217 votes in the Republican national convention. This is little more than 100 votes short of the bare majority sufficient to nominate a candidate. The four state delegations apparently will be comparatively free when the convention meets to they may desire. They will be the convention's big fence sitters.

Pledged To Warren

California casts 53 convention votes, Illinois 56, New Jersey 35 and Pennsylvania 73.

California's delegation, of course, will be pledged to Warren, the favorite son candidate. The delegation will stick by Warren so long as he has a chance of nomination. If Warren failed to develop general strength, California would become one of several great prizes to be won by some other candidate. In a similar democratic party free-for-all convention contest 16 years ago it was the break of California and Texas to Franklin D. Roosevelt that compelled his first nomination for president.

In the Republican party the last wide-open convention was in 1940 when Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Sen. Robert A. Taft and the late Wendell L. Willkie were the principal contestants. Pennsylvania let slip its 1940 chance to be a major factor in the nomination of a Republican candidate for president. Arthur H. James, then Pennsylvania's governor, was the state's favorite son candidate. Although his chances of winning was slim the state delegation clung to him far beyond the crucial ballot when a shift to some other candidate would have won a band wagon seat.

Pennsylvania politicians do not intend to make that mistake again this year, nor do the men who control other uncommitted delegations. Big Pennsylvania will go to the convention pledged to Sen. Edward Martin. Chance of his nominatin is remote. Unlike former Governor James who was able to hold the delegation in 1940 far beyond reason, Martin will have to let go when Gov. Duff and other state leaders decide the right time has come.

In Same Relationship

Illinois and New Jersey are in somewhat similar relationship to the avowed candidates. Illinois' early ballots probably will go to Gov. Green. Gov. Driscoll will get New Jersey's early votes.

Among these four states there is a mixture of sentiment for Dewey, Taft, Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg, Harold E. Stassen and Speaker Joseph W. Martin, jr., If any of those candidates has a toe-hold on any of those states it is not yet evident. Dewey has made direct and eager efforts to get some kind of a secondary committment from Pennsylvania leaders, so far no sale.

If Dewey could pair Pennsylvania's 73 votes with New York's 90 he would be well on the way to nomination for president. Opposing him in Pennsylvania is considerable support for Vandenberg and for Speaker Martin as well as a natural political instinct to get a measure of Dewey's basic convention strength before plumping for his nomination.

Move Has Majority

The surest bet in politics now is that no candidate for the Republican nomination will have a majority sufficient to nominate on the first ballot. More likely is a series of ballots in which weaker candidates will be shaken out. Afthe time will come for the fence sitters to make a break one way or the other.

If California, Illinois, Pennsylvania and New Jersey broke together toward the same candidate, he would be in.

Whole Church Faces Communist Question

LONDON, April 21 (AP)—It is up to the whole Christian church to decide whether condemnation of Communism is a duty of all Christians, the Angelican Bishop of Chichester believes.

The bishop, the Rt. Rev George K. A. Bell, said the question would be the most important one facing a conference of 300 Anglican bishops from all over the world to be held here in July and August.

Writing in his diocesan leaflet, Bishop Bell declared the church must make up its mind whether to follow Pope Pius XII in answering:

Humans Or Just Other Dogs Can Make Dogs Need Psychiatrists, Animal Expert Says

ATLANTA, April 21 (AP) — Sometimes, says Dr. L. C. Moss of Fort Collins, Colo., dogs become mentally ill from associating with people.

Hence, says Dr. Moss, psychiatry is going to the dogs.

Dr. Moss in an address prepared for the national convention of the American Animal Hospital association here today explained he had reached his conclusions after studying human beings.

Pets Influenced

Then he added: "Exploration of human behavior has led to the inevitable conclusion that mental states and environmental influences play a major role in shaping the lives of pets and other domestic animals."

Abuse or pampering by humans can produce psychotic dogs, Dr. Moss continued, though people are not altogether to blame.

The association of dogs with other dogs, he declared, can produce mental illnesses, too.

The member of the veterinary faculty at Colorado A. & M. college said dogs are influenced by fear, pain, jealousy, suspicion, frustration and dominance of stronger members.

In brief, what people call a dog's life has considerable foundation in fact. And even the dogs don't like it.

Whisky From Wood Talked By Chemist

CHICAGO, April 21. (AP) — Whisky "made from wood, aged in wood" was urged today by a chemistry professor.

The stuff would be just as good as whisky from grain, and cheaper, Dr. Robert S. Aries of the Polythechnic Institute of Brooklyn told the American Chemical society.

Good whisky could be made from wastes, too, Aries said. He thinks the customer probably couldn't tell the difference.

A plant already has been built that could "supply us with 10,000,000 gallons of ethyl alcohol from sawdust a year, or enough for 25,000,000 gallons of whisky."

Dr. Aries estimated that a ton of sawdust would yield 50 gallons of alcohol, and that 10,000,000 tons of sawdust are wasted annually. The alcohol would cost about one-third of that made from grain, he said.

Passing the alcohol through wood shavings would speed the aging considerably, he added.

"All these new processes have been thoroughly tested and could come in handy in the critical, for food, year of 1948. The drawbacks are only due to government regulations or possible lack of public acceptance. It may be hard to convince the purchaser that 'sawdust neutral spirits' or 'petroleum neutral spirits' are identical to 'grain neutral spirits,' even though they will be cheaper and just as good."

New Look Has Gone Too Far For Dior

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP)— The man who created the "new look" for women says other dress designers are carrying the thing "too far."

Christian Dior, the Paris designer credited with starting the "new look" fashion, said on his arrival from France yesterday he was not in favor of dresses that hang to the ground "for general wear."

A reporter asked Dior if short skirts would make a comeback. He threw up his hands and said:

"I hope not, ever!"

Texas Demos Take Sides In Fight For And Against Truman

Issue Of Party Bolt Is Fading

By DAVE CHEAVENS and MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writers

Texas Democrats today took sides in a fight for and against the renomination of President Truman. The issue of a party bolt by the state organization faded in the wake of rival barbecues at Fort Worth and at Mother Neff state park near Waco.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester disposed of the bolt question at the Fort Worth anti-Truman feed by advising Texas and southern Democrats to stick with the party no matter how angry they are with the President.

Saboage Is Charged

Woodville Rogers of San Antonio, chairman of the Texas-for-Truman faction told the Waco crowd that the leaders of the Democratic organization in Texas are attempting "sabotage of the only candidate the Democratic party has."

There were about 1,000 persons at the organization's feed at Will Rogers Memorial near downtown Fort Worth. Out in the woods for Truman 30 miles from Waco there were about 300.

Jester hurled one coldly-bitter phrase after another at the President and was applauded frequently. The South, he said, has been deprived of fair representation in party affairs, "but the most unexpected and cruelest wound has come from the dagger blow of a trusted friend. The South has been stunned by President Truman's attack upon our sovereignty and social institutions."

Support Is Pledged

The Truman crowd signed pledges of support to the nominees of the party and decorated themselves with Truman badges. Rogers linked those who want to send an uninstructed Texas delegation to the national convention with the Texas Regulars who bolted the party in 1944 in opposition to President Roosevelt.

"In 1948, since we have but one candidate, they would accomplish their purpose by pulling the rug from under that candidate. Rogers told the enthusiastic barbecuers. "They carry on their campaign of divide and conquer by sabotaging the only candidate the Democratic party has."

The organization Democrats at Fort Worth heard no hint of truce from Jester, their titular leader, on the federal civil rights and tidelands issue. He said civil rights and suffrage were the states' business not the federal government's. Jester asked that the Texas delegation to the national convention be instructed in favor of a platform plank urging legislation to

Smallpox Vaccinations Given Guadalupe Students In City

Smallpox vaccinations were administered to 105 children at Guadalupe school Tuesday, through cooperation of two public health nurses in Lubbock, several volunteers and state purchase of serum.

Mrs. Tom Cannon, visiting nurse of the First Methodist church, and Mrs. Roy Sanford, visiting nurse of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, gave the vaccinations with aid of Miss Doris Gates, registered nurse and nursing instructor at West Texas hospital, and Miss Colleen Gillmouthe and Mrs. Irene Ausburn, student nurses.

Students Registered

R. W. Swofford, principal of Guadalupe school, registered students receiving vaccinations.

Dr. W. L. Baugh, county health officer, made arrangements for the serum, which was provided by the state.

The 105 children vaccinated Tuesday increased to 312 the number of Mexican children immunized against smallpox since last fal. A total of 207 was vaccinated in September. Since that time, some Mexican families with children of school age have returned from work elsewhere and others have moved into the city.

Free To Students

The vaccinations are free to the students.

The visiting nurse of the First Methodist church undertook the project and was joined in the work by Mrs. Sanford. The two nurses cooperate in various projects. Mrs. Cannon aids in tuberculosis patch testing and other projects of the tuberculosis association.

SAFEGUARD AGAINST SMALLPOX — It doesn't hurt much and it is a safeguard against smallpox. Mrs. Roy Sanford, left, registered nurse of Lubbock County Tuberculosis association, and Mrs. Tom Cannon, right, visiting nurse of the First Methodist church, are vaccinating Augustino Alvarado and Maria Moreno at Guadalupe school. Miss Doris Gates, another registered nurse who cooperated in the project, is behind Mrs. Sanford.—(Staff Photo.)

Priest Will Sit In Argentine Congress

BUENOS AIRES, April 21 (AP)—For the first time in modern Argentine history a Catholic priest will sit in congress. The Rev. Virgilio M. Filippon, personal friend and ecclesiastical aide to President Peron, was swept into office in the recent election.

Father Filippo is probably the only priest in a Latin American parliament. Priests were prominent figures in Argentina's fight for independence from Spain. Clergymen also have served in provincial legislatures.

MAJ. GEN. BRUCE TO BE SPEAKER

Tech Memorial Circle To Be Dedicated In Service May 2

Major Gen. Andrew Davis Bruce, deputy commander of the Fourth Army, will deliver the principal address at the dedication of Memorial Circle at Texas Technological college May 2, Gene Nowlin, commander of the Tech War Veterans association which is sponsoring the ceremony, has announced.

Subject of Gen. Bruce's talk will be "The Importance of the College in a Community."

Veteran Of Both Wars

The TWVA requested the naming of the circle late in the fall of 1947 and it was officially approved by the board of directors in January of this year. It was decided to wait until an appropriate holiday and until a memorial stone could be secured to have the dedication ceremony. It is therefore being held in conjunction with Parents' day on the campus.

A graduate of Texas A&M, Gen. Bruce is a veteran of both World Wars. He was graduated from Texas A&M in 1916 with a bachelor of science degree and commissioned a second Lieutenant of infantry on June 16 of that year. He served wth distinction in the AEF, taking part in many major cam-

Court Hearing Opens Friday

A delegation of Lubbock citizens will go to Austin Thursday to attend the first court hearing on the injunction suit filed against the so-called College Building Amendment scheduled in the court of Judge Roy C. Archer of the 126th district.

The hearing has been scheduled eight months to the day after the amendment was voted on last Aug. 23 by the close favorable vote of 102,531 to 97,318.

Injunction Is Filed

The injunction against invoking provisions of the amendment, which alumni and ex-students of Texas Technological college declare will virtually "stagnate growth of Texas Tech" if put into effect, was filed by R. Guy Carter, Dallas attorney and Tech graduate, in behalf of a group of friends of the college including Clarence Whiteside, Spencer Wells, Homer Maxey, all of Lubbock, and H. E. Speer, of Dallas.

The contestants claim election irregularities in Bexar, El Paso, Galveston, Hill, Moore and Taylor counties, where they said 16,015 illegal votes were cast for the amendment and 9,657 against. They claimed in the irregularities that there was no legal advertisement in these six counties.

First Court Test

Friday's hearing will be the first court test for the case, which is expected to go all the way to the Supreme Court of Texas before the issues are decided.

Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal; Wells, president of Hemphill-Wells company; W. B. Rushing, book store owner; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; State Rep. Preston E. Smith and several other Lubbock men plan to be present for the hearing along with ex-students of the college from other Texas points.

Decision to send the delegation came Tuesday in a meeting of the Tech legislative committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Traffic Signals Are Observed By Horse

DETROIT, April 21 (AP)—Joy, a policeman's horse, is a creature of habits, both good and bad.

She has a bad habit of running away without Patrolman Vernard Foster. She did it today for the second time this spring.

She also has a good habit of observing traffic signals. She stopped for a red light on Grand River avenue and Foster recaptured her.

Close Races For Some Offices Are Reported By Officials

Results In Run-Off Election At Tech Tuesday Revealed; More Than 2,000 Ballots Are Cast

Results in the run-off election at Texas Technological college yesterday to choose candidates who failed to gain enough of a majority to be elected outright in last week's election were announced today by Bill Nugent, president of the student council which supervised the election.

In a close race, Margaret Clark was elected secretary of the student association by a vote of 1,068 over Anita Oliver who polled 996.

Orlin Brewer, who trailed Ray Cooke by a cosiderable margin in last week's election, came from behind to beat Cooke by a vote of 1,216 to 864 for the editorship of the Toreador, school newspaper.

Lila Hedrick received 1,216 votes for head girl cheerleader to nose out the leading contender, Mary Jane Hinchey, who polled 842 votes.

In a hotly contested contest for a third place on the student council from the business administration division, Edgar Self polled 185 votes to 167 for David Hester. Two candidates were elected in last week's polling.

Four of the six arts & sciences representatives to the council were selected in yesterday's runoff. The winners with the number of votes received were: Glenn Lewis, 413; Winston Churchill, 394; Mary Hartgraves, 384; and Ted Forsythe, 343. Losing out in the balloting were Ralph Bucy, Barbara Scott, Jerry Sides and Oleta Stewart, with 331, 330, 316 and 291 votes respectively.

From the home economics division, Elizabeth Craig, with 125 votes, and Martha Lewis, with 112, were elected to the student council. The other two contenders from the division, Barbara Baumgardner and Marrion Woods received 92 and 80 votes respectively.

Slightly more than 2,000 votes were cast in the run-off balloting, indicating that about one-third of the student body voted in the election.

Teams From 60 High Schools To Compete In City Saturday

Teams from over 60 high schools are expected to be on hand when the twenty-fourth annual Vocational Agriculture judging contests sponsored by Texas Technological college begin at 8 a. m. Saturday.

There were 117 teams from 40 schools entered a 4 p. m. yesterday and college officials expected a great deal more entries before Saturday. The contests are sponsored by the college with no area limit to the schools desiring to participate. So far entries have come from as far away as El Paso, Alpine, Ballinger and various towns in New Mexico.

Numerous Teams Entered

R. L. Chappelle, professor and head of the agriculture education department will be general superintendent of all the contests. The various divisional superintendents will include R. C. Mowery, livestock judging; N. C. Fine, dairy cattle judging; L. G. Harmon, dairy products judging; Cecil Ayers, crop judging; D. L. Devin, poultry judging; and Judd Morrow, cotton judging.

The livestock contest will consist of the judging of beef cattle, hogs, sheep and market classes, with questions being asked on approximately half of the classes. The dairy cattle contest will consist of the judging of Holstein and Jersey cattle. Production judging, market classes and egg grading will constitute the poultry contest, dairy products will consist of the judging of milk and cream, cotton, grading and stapling, and the crops contest will be made up of seed identification, crop judging and grain grading.

Each school may enter teams in as many of the six divisions as it desires. Up to Tuesday afternoon there had been 30 teams entered in the dairy cattle judging division, 34 in livestock, 21 in poultry, 15 in crops, 11 in dairy products and 6 in cotton. A team consists of three boys and awards are given both to individuals and to teams placing high in each division.

Awards To Be Given

Blue ribbons with gold lettering will be awarded the five boys attaining the highest score in each division, a blue and gold banner will go to the three teams placing the highest in each division and gold medals will be received by the three boys making the highest score in the entire contest. The high school which makes the highest score in the entire contest will be given a sweepstakes banner and its coach will be the recipient of a gold medal award.

The contests will officially close with the announcement of results and the awarding of prizes at about 6 p. m. Saturday in the livestock pavilion.

Distinguished visitors to be present include Robert A. Manire, state director of vocational agriculture, Austin; R. Lano Varron, state Future Farmers of America advisor; Wilbur Ray Dunk, first vice-president of the national student organization of FFA, Junction; and W. E. Williams, supervisor of vocational agriculture, Alpine.

The Texas Tech chapter of the FFA will prepare sack lunches for all contestants and the Lubbock Cooperative Oil Mill will serve them a free picnic dinner during the evening in Aggie Grove.

Mother Has Tragic Choice In Flames

MANCHESTER, Me., April 21 (AP) — A mother had to choose between two of her children and as a result one perished in a fire that razed their home yesterday.

Mrs. John L. Childs told firemen she reentered the burning house twice in an effort ot reach her baby, Sadie Jean. Her son, Joseph, three toddled after her.

Mrs. Childs was forced to turn back from smoke-filled stairs each time ot carry Joseph to safety. The third time the boy stayed outside. By then the stairs were cut off.

The blaze was so intense firemen were unable to enter a second floor window. The baby's body was found in the ruins. A medical examiner said she was asphyxiated.

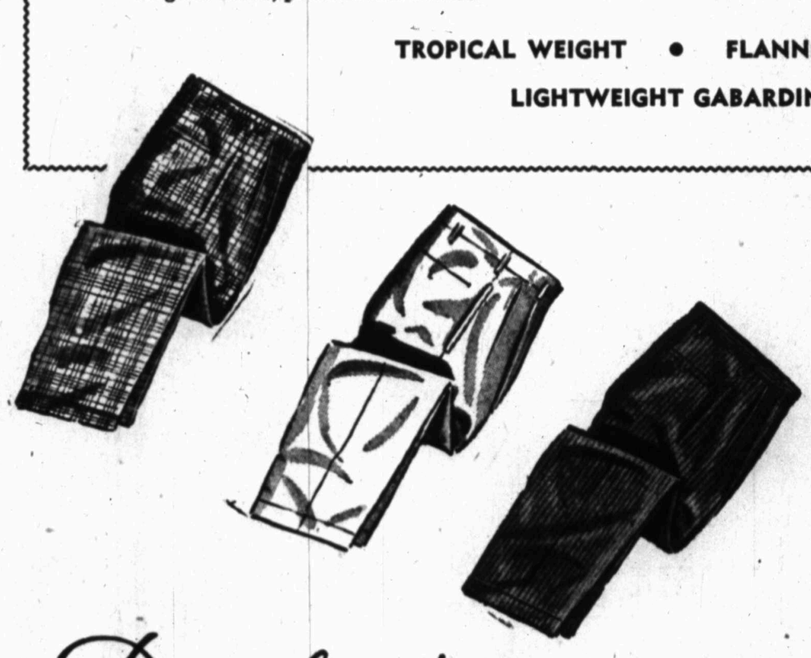

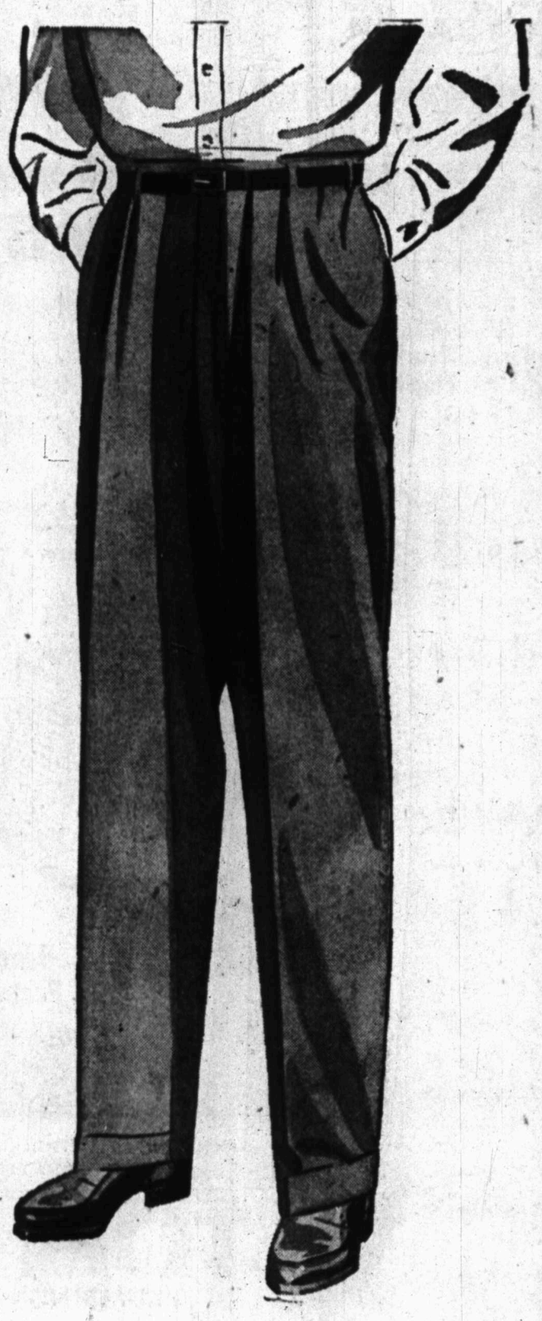

Foreign Names Not Approved By Reds

MOSCOW, April 21 (AP)—Trud, the trade-union newspaper, recently published an article criticizing the Riga Circus organization. One administrator, the paper says, was willing to hire a performer only on condition that he change from a Russian name, "Zherebtsov" to a foreign-sounding appelation.

Stiffening Opposition To Reds Was Observed Three Years Ago

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 21.—An Associated Press story said:

"The United States delegation gave every indication of standing toughly against any further concessions to Russia on major controversies of the United Nations.

"Apparently backed to the hilt by President Truman, some of the U. S. delegates let it be known in public and off-the-record conversations that they believe this country has gone far enough in attempting to satisfy the Soviets."

Back In 1945

Sound familiar? Sounds like something that was written today, or yesterday or last week. But it wasn't.

It was written in San Francisco April 25, 1945, the day the allies opened their first meeting there to create the United Nations to keep peace.

The argument that day was over Russia's demand for three votes in the U. N. general assembly, whenever it was formed.

This country has made some concessions to Russia since that day in 1945. But what was written that day by an AP reporter in San Francisco has now become the foreign policy of this country.

No Morale Concessions

The policy is: No more concessions to Russia. It's a policy backed by President Truman and Congress.

Next Sunday, April 25, is the third anniversary of the opening of the San Francisco conference to create U. N.

Now, after three years of a very unhappy life, how is U. N. doing? Poorly, indeed. So poorly that the United States is getting armed—just in case.

And in those three years some of this country's most important decisions have been made outside the U. N. For example:

Sending arms to Greece and Turkey to stop Communism and setting up the European Recovery program (ERP) to stop it.

In the past month two things which happened show pretty plainly U. N.'s dilapidated condition although it still is chugging along.

Forrestal Claim

Secretary of Defense Forrestal told Congress:

We must have strong military reserves—trained men—until U. N. itself is able to keep peace.

How long will we need to keep men trained? For at least 50 years, Forrestal indicated.

When you put Forrestal's words together they add up to one thing: He doesn't expect U. N. to be able to keep peace for years to come.

And in Congress there are a number of suggestions for revising the U. N. set up to try to make it work better.

In the House seven Republicans and seven Democrats got together on a suggestion. It's this:

Revise UN

And 16 Senators — Democrats and Republicans — offered their idea which, in effect, is the same as that of the House: Revise the U. N.

Senator Ferguson, Michigan Republican, introduced the 16-man idea in the Senate and he said bluntly how he feels:

If the Russians don't want to go along on a change in U. N. then the other nations should make a defense pact.

That would mean an alliance of the U. N. powers without Russia. Russia certainly would look upon that as an alliance against her.

All this is only in the talking stage, really. Congress may not take any steps toward a change in U. N.

But the talk makes it clear that, after three years, many Congress members think U. N. has had miserable success in its most important field: keeping peace.

Porcupines have been known to nibble on dynamite for the small amount of salt it contains.

Baby Selling Ring Broken

LOS ANGELES, April 21 (INS) A Hollywood baby selling ring in which infants of unwed mothers brought from $800 an $1200 was believed smashed today when the district attorney's office raided a home in the film city and took Mrs. Marie Chaplin into technical custody.

District Attorney William E. Simpson said that the ring had bought and sold at least eight or ten babies since January 1.

Authorities also reported that a Glendale couple also had been arrested and that additional arrests may be made during the day.

Brains Of Ring

Simpson revealed that Mrs. Chaplin, described as the "brains of the ring," would offer an expectant unwed mother $200 to give birth to the child in a place known to Mrs. Chaplin.

The baby then would be sold to a couple anxious to obtain a child without the legal formality of adoption.

Simpson reported that twins recently were sold by Mrs. Chaplin for $1200.

The Glendale couple, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Martin, said that they had acquired a baby from Mrs. Chaplin last Thursday.

The district attorney said that investigators had been working on the case since January when an unwed mother complained that she had been asked to repay $200 when her infant was born dead.

HELMETS COME HIS WAY

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (U.P.)—While lightning may or may not hit the same place twice, firemen's helmets do, says F. X. Schott. Schott operates a furniture store. Twice in three days, as fire trucks spun around the corner, helmets spun through the air and landed at Schott's front door.

Taxi Talk Is Put Into New Contract

PITTSBURGH, April 21 (AP)—The 1,100 AFL drivers of the Yellow Cab Co. have a new contract in cabbies' language. Legal wording is translated into "taximan's talk."

For example there's "lost calls" persons who phone for a cab and then fail to show up. "Gas line" means the line of cabs waiting to have gas tanks refilled. "Hit the boxes" means that cabbies stop and call their stations.

"It's just plain taximan's talk," a cab official said. "We wanted all the drivers to be able to understand their new agreement."

80-Year-Old Representative Is Victor In New Jersey Election

BY HUBERT G. HOLRAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEWARK, N. J., April 21 — Rep. Charles A. Eaton (R-NJ), 80-year-old chairman of the House foreign affairs committee, won a three-way fight for renomination in New Jersey's fifth congressional district yesterday.

U. N. Delegate

A veteran of 24 years in congress, Eaton was a delegate to the first U. N. conference and steered the Marshall plan through the House.

New Jersey Republicans also elected 35 delegates to the GOP national convention pledged to Gov. Alfred E. Driscoll as a favorite son. Driscoll has denied presidential aspirations.

The Driscoll slate was opposed by three candidates pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur, whose name did not appear on the ballot. They ran under the slogan "Conqueror of Japan for President."

Nine To One

In the 10th congressional district, Republicans nominated Anthony Giuliano as candidate for the seat being vacated by Rep. Fred A. Hartley, co-author of the Taft-Hartley labor act.

State treasurer Robert C. Hendrickson, 49-year-old attorney and veteran of both world wars, easily defeated Harry C. Harper, state labor commissioner and former big league pitcher, for the GOP nomination for U. S. Senate. Harper and Sen. Albert W. Hawkes (R-NJ), who declined re-election, made Driscoll's leadership the issue in the campaign.

Archibald Stevens Alexander, a Wall Street attorney, was unopposed for the Democratic nomination.

Theodore Meskers, 32-year-old florist, who was shot at and beaten during the campaign, won the Republican Freeholder nomination in Atlantic county. Told of his victory at a hospital where he was under heavy police guard, he said:

Freeholders supervise county governments in New Jersey.

"Starvation Diet" Planned For Week

PHILADELPHIA, April 21 (AP) — Fourteen Philadelphia school children and five teachers are going to live on a "starvation diet" for one week, starting Saturday, to learn at first hand how it feels to eat as many European children now do.

The experiment was planned to dramatize the fund-raising campaign of Philadelphia's Crusade for Children, campaign officials said yesterday.

During the week the children and teachers will live at a hotel under medical supervision. All volunteers, they will be given this diet daily:

Bean soup, black bread, powdered milk and a spoonful of cod liver oil for dessert.

At the end of the week the children and teachers will be guests of honor at a special banquet with all the trimmings. Others attending the banquet, however, will eat bean soup and black bread.

Songs Of Taylor Newspaper Publisher Are Sung By His Williamson County Glee Club

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

George B. Peeler writes his songs not for the world, the nation, or even Texas—but for Williamson county.

The handsome, grey-haired publisher of the Taylor, Tex., Press is a composer by hobby and in his county his songs are very popular. Outside Williamson county they are little known, for he makes no attempt to have them published.

No Time Or Desire

"I haven't the time or the inclination," he says.

Peeler, a thoroughly amiable fellow, is director and member of Taylor's Glee club, an organization of eight men who sing at the drop of a request. They appear at church, luncheons, minstrel shows, schools and even kindergartens. When Peeler writes a new number, the Glee club introduces it. Glee club practice is held regularly in the living room of the publisher's big, comfortable home.

Peeler has written two operettas, both of which have been performed in Williamson county. He writes love songs and novelty tunes. In doing one of his songs you sing a few bars and whistle a few bars, and so on. He renders it with gestures. Some of his titles include: "I'm Waiting for Springtime," "Dreaming," and "I Never Knew." All have catchy words and tunes.

Born In Austin

One of the favorites in Taylor is "Taylor Town," theme song of the Glee club and the town.

Peeler, 57, was born in Austin and played left end on the University of Texas football team. He was a student at the university from 1909 to 1914.

"I was a member of a quartet at the university," the publisher smiles, "The other members were former Rep. Richard Kleberg of Corpus Christi, Dr. Arthur Scott of Temple, and Gov. Beauford Jester. A fellow named John Boles claims now he was a member of that quartet but he didn't have enough voice to make it."

Peeler has blue eyes, weighs 190 pounds, is five feet 10 and one-half inches tall, plays the piano and the guitar. He likes hunting, fishing and people. . . . He knows hundreds of persons by name and is friendly as a basket of puppies. Somehow, Peeler always appears to be bursting with cheerfulness.

Composes Any Time

"Look at the bright side," he says. "There's no use being unnecessarily miserable."

He composes most any time. Once, driving from Taylor to Dallas, he pulled his car off the road and finished writing out a tune that was drumming through his head.

Peeler tells this story on his grandfather who was a well-educated, purposeful, Methodist circuit rider in Milam and Williamson counties. The grandfather, the Rev. James Peeler was warned when he entered a Williamson county community that a bunch of toughs planned to break up his meeting.

Prayer Changed

That night, grandfather Peeler, a Winchester across his pulpit, said the Lord's Prayer thus:

"Our Father, which are in heaven,
"I see you hog stealers on the back row.
"Hallowed be Thy name, Thy kingdom come,

Classroom Location Should Decide Color

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 21 (AP)—The direction from which a classroom receives its natural light should be a prime factor in selecting the color it should be painted, the Southeastern School Lighting institute here was told

Russell Shephard of Cleveland, Ohio, made the following recommendations:

For southern exposures, where there is plenty of warm, yellow sunshine—the "cool color" blue.

Louisiana General Election Is Held

NEW ORLEANS, April 21. (AP)—Louisiana voters went through the formality yesterday of electing Earl K. Long as their governor in a statewide general election.

There was no opposition for the younger brother of the late Senator Huey P. Long, and the vote was light. The fight for the governorship was staged in the democratic primaries in January and February.

In the primaries, Long defeated former Gov. Sam Jones, who campaigned on a "reform government" platform. Yesterday's vote gave formal ratification to the primary choices. It was nothing like the 656,499 votes cast in the February 24 run-off primary between Long and Jones.

Together with Long, eight other state officials, members of the legislature, and local officials were voted into office yesterday.

Stag Hunt Takes 30 Gallons Of Gasoline

LONDON, April 21 (AP)—Horses eat oats and dogs eat meat—but it still takes thirty gallons of gasoline a month to operate the famed Quantock stag hunt in Somerset.

One use is collection of the deer that the hounds run down. The other: "noting any damage which may have been caused by the hunt in passing so that it may be repaired."

New Tough Synthetic Rubber Is Demonstrated At Science Meet

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

CHICAGO, April 21 (AP)—Jumping rubber, made in a flash so fast that it jumps, promises better automobile tires.

The rubber is a new synthetic kind, and extremely tough. It was announced and demonstrated today to the American Chemical society by Prof. Avery A. Morton of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dr. Morton had a bottle of butadiene, an oil refinery gas used in making two main kinds of synthetic rubber.

Forms Violently

He added a few drops of a chemical to the bottle, stoppered it, then shook it. Suddenly a long snake-like piece of rubber formed, so violently that the stopper was blown out.

The new rubber was born. The secret of its formation lay in the few drops of chemical, which are a catalyst or chemical stimulant. The catalyst is by far the most active and fastest yet found for making rubber, Dr. Morton said. Even though it works so quickly, the process can be controlled easily, he declared.

The new rubber, named alfin, eventually may replace all natural and government-synthetic rubbers in automobile tire treads, he said, due to its great strength.

Large Molecules

The alfin has extremely large molecules, two to three times heavier than the molecules of the best natural and synthetic rubbers now used for auto tires, Dr. Morton said. The strength of rubber depends upon the size of its molecules.

One drawback to its use, he said, is that it is so tough that it's difficult to mill or mix with oher ingredients used in making tire treads. But Dr. Morton said it was expected that further research would find a way to mill alfin easily.

The rubber gets its name from its two constituents, derived from an alcohol and a chemical called olefin. The speedy catalyst is a combination of two chemicals, allylsodium and sodium isopropoxide.

Tech Students Plan Ranch Inspections

Approximately 40 senior students at Texas Technological college, majoring in animal husbandry and range management, will travel to the Pitchfork ranch near Guthrie Thursday for the purpose of studying ranching methods.

Many modern and accepted practices are being used at the ranch, which is managed by D. Burns, R. C. Mowery, head of the animal husbandry department, stated.

In its entirety the ranch, owned by Williams Brothers of St. Louis, constitutes approximately 175,000 acres, Mowery said.

While there, the students will observe the spring roundup which is now in progress. They will be accompanied by W. L. Stangel, dean of agriculture, and Coleman O'Brien, assistant professor of animal husbandry.

Sonja Henie, Who Doesn't Need The Money, Makes Another Film

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, April 21—Little Miss Moneybags herself — Sonja Henie—is back on the Hollywood rink, making another picture after a four-year absence.

Sonja, the girl who found a goldmine in the ice, is skating through "The Countess of Monte Cristo," her first film since the hapless "It's a Pleasure" in 1944. It's a pleasure to see her fresh Norwegian smile back before a camera, although it's hard to see why she undertakes the heavy duties of an ice film. She needs the dough like I need another ear, as the current Hollywood saying goes.

More Difficult

"Skating for pictures is much more difficult than other kinds of skating," she admits. "You have to do the routines over and over again until they photograph right. And you have to be careful to watch your marks so you won't skate out of camera range."

Sonja comes close to being a one-woman industry. Her ice show alone reportedly grossed $2,500,000 in a quarter-year. Added to that is the profitable show at New York's Center theater, her rinks in Indianapolis, Chicago, Detroit and Los Angeles and her chunk of Madison Square garden.

"I have able people to handle those things for me," she smiles modestly. "I just do the skating."

To Share In Profits

I found Sonja skimming before the cameras at the Sonja Henie Ice Palace, which she rents to the production for $10,000. She also shares in the picture's profits. She explained her absence from the screen.

"First the strike interfered with this picture, then we waited to try for a color commitment," she said. "Then it conflicted with my tours." She assured that she will be making one film a year in the future.

"The Lady from Shanghai" (Col) is another provacative film from the one-man industry, Orson Welles. This time he exploits the talents of his onetime mate, Rita Hayworth, in a long-distance chase. Defects: A confused plot and labored attempts at action. But these are offset by the marvelous things Welles does with a camera.

This country is estimated to have 400,000 miles of service and residential gas pipe.

Rivalry Over Young Woman Is Bitter

ATLANTA, April 21 (AP) — Love's old sweet song came up with a sour note, the way assistant Solicitor J. Everett Thrift told it in Fulton county criminal court.

Thrift said two youths wanted to escort a young woman home but were beaten to it by a third youth whom they chased up a dead-end street and beat into unconsciousness. The two, Thrift added, then propped their rival's head up and "practiced kicking it like a football" while the young woman looked on.

Thrift made the statement yesterday at the trial of J. T. Hickey and A. R. Rice. Judge Jesse M. Wood gave the two ten months on the public works on a charge of beating Johnny Smith.

The young woman, the prosecutor added, ended up with a date with a fourth youth, who sat in a motor car with her while Smith was being beaten.

Republican Fight In Texas Is Growing To Match Demo Feuds

By O. B. LLODY, Jr.
United Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 21.—Texas Republicans have drawn neck-and-neck with the Lone Star Democrats in matching them feud-for feud and fight-for-fight.

While the main contenders are arraigned behind the banners of Taft and Dewey, attempts are being made to bring all factions of the Republican camp into the fracas.

Thus, far the Stassen supporters have steered clear of the battle. They have been quietly building up support while other factions nursed their wounds.

Alignment Is Sought

But George C. Hopkins of Dallas, chairman of the Republican state executive committee, has attempted to align the Stassen, MacArthur and Dewey forces against the backers of Senator Taft.

Hopkins, leveling a barrage of opposition at the Taft faction, has charged that Col. R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman, is using "intimidating" and "threatening" tactics to line up support.

The state chairman predicts that supporters of Dewey, Stassen and MacArthur will be "ruthlessly trampled" by the Creagor forces at the state convention in Corpus Christi on May 25.

Sentiment Is Smashed

Hopkins says that three months ago at least 80 per cent of the Texas Republican sentiment favored Dewey. Since then, he says, that sentiment has been smashed by threats of Taft leaders to withhold patronage "if you don't get along."

"The issue in Texas between Republicans," he said, "is whether we will elect delegates to the national convention according to the method used for 24 years or whether that will be thrown out and an arbitrary method used to elect all Taft delegates."

From their standpoint, the Wisconsin election eliminated MacArthur from the running, and Nebraska "eliminated Taft."

That strength, they say, will go somewhere. And they hopefully believe that it will go to Dewey.

Taft stalwarts, meantime, discount the apparently growing strength of Stassen.

Mrs. Lena Gay Moore of Brownville, Republican national committee-woman and a Taft stalwart, termed the Stassen boom an "uproar that will have no effect on Taft's popularity."

"Those for Taft will be right on for him," she said.

However, this view was far from unanimous among ranking state Republicans.

Mrs. Carl G. Stearns of Houston, a vice-chairman of the state executive committee, sees Stassen's popularity spreading from its first hold in West Texas over the state.

C. Bascom Slemp of Amarillo, the leader of the Stassen forces, took a page from the Taft book to predict a majority of delegate votes would be for the candidate from Minnesota.

Of the delegation's 33 votes at the national convention, 25 to 27, he said, would go for Stassen.

Taft leaders, meantime, appeared complacently confident with their own tally of less than a month ago. The score: 28 for Taft, five split between Stassen and Dewey.

Symphony Season Is Ended With Concert

With Frances DeMond, mezzo-soprano of Dallas, as guest artist, and playing a program of satisfying proportions, Lubbock Symphony orchestra ended its second season Tuesday night in a concert presented at Senior High school auditorium.

With absolute purity of tone, perfect pitch in high notes, and dramatic coloration in low ones, Miss DeMond pointed up an extensive and widely varied program with all the artistry at her command—which is considerable. She has a natural talent and a smooth technique and the combination produced some of the most beautiful singing heard here in many a day.

Supported By Crutches

The singer, a victim of poliomyelitis since childhood, stood supported by crutches, which were almost hidden by the flowing folds of her fuchsia gown. Her first numbers, "My Heart At Thy Sweet Voice" (Saint-Saens) and "Open Your Heart" (Bizet) were to orchestral accompaniment and after intermission she returned to sing three numbers on the program, "If Thou Lov'st Me" (Pergolesi), "L'Amour Tourjour L'Amour" (Friml) and The Lord's Prayer (Malotte) and five encores: "I Love Life," "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord?" "Grandma," "I'll See You Again" and "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life."

Miss DeMond sang the religious numbers with eloquent feeling and the musical comedy numbers were given with appeal and tonal tenderness. She announced her selections in a gracious manner. The efficient accompaniment was provided by Mrs. Ted Crager.

Surprise Number Presented

A surprise feature of the evening was a violin solo played by William A. Harrod, a composition dedicated to him by Mrs. Carl Scoggin, to which her son, Bob Scoggin, played piano accompaniment. The number which has a hymn-like quality and an appealing theme, brought emphatic applause when the talented conductor concluded and he called for the house lights and asked Mrs. Scoggin to take a bow.

The orchestra received most prolonged applause for "Hungarian Dance No. 6 (Brahms) "Ave Verum," a quiet number by Mozart which showed the singing violins off and the tuneful selections from "Oklahoma!" which brought the program to a close.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Caughey, who played with the Dallas Symphony orchestra, were guests of the orchestra last night. He is a cellist and she plays the viola.

Just before intermission, Charles E. Maedgen, jr., chairman of the board of directors, expressed appreciation for the noteworthy work of the musicians and their director during the last year. Cards, which gave the audience an opportunity to check favorite types of music and to sign applications for membership for next season, were distributed.

The first fall program will feature Lauritz Melchoir, heroic tenor of the Metropolitan opera.

Go To Sunday School And Get Pony Ride

KEOKUK, Ia., April 21 (AP) — The Church of Nazarene here reports a recently inaugurated plan is paying dividends in Sunday school attendance.

The church purchased a pony. All children attending Sunday school receive a ticket good for rides on the pony—on weekdays. The Rev. Warren Burd, pastor of the church, proposed the plan.

Arabian King Has Melons, Now Wants American Chickens

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, April 21. — King Ibn Saud of Arabia has become an American watermelon fan.

"He really goes for them," said Texas-born Kenneth J. Edwards, director of the Saudi Arabian agriculture program.

"All he ever had before were native watermelons, which look more like gourds than watermelons.

"Now he's anxious to get some big American chickens and big eggs, too."

Recruits Farm Experts

Chances are he'll get them soon. Edwards has just recruited 22 Texas farm experts to organize a long term program to develop Arabia's agricultural resources.

The program, financed by royalties from the Arabian American Oil company, was decided upon by the king after Edwards and five other Texas farm men successfully developed a 3,000-acre project at Al Kharj, where Ibn Saud has a summer palace.

"We introduced American varieties of watermelon, tomatoes, eggplant, carrots, onions, pumpkins and squash," Edward said. "They'd never seen anything like them over there.

Edwards hopes that eventually Arabia, which now has to import 75 per cent of its food, will become almost entirely self-sustaining.

"It's a big country—four times bigger than Texas itself," he said with a note of awe that anything could be that large. "But only about five percent of its 1,200,000 square miles is tillable.

"These people have had a long contest with nature even to exist," said Edwards. "That explains some of their characteristics.

"It's like Biblical times. Why it makes your hair stand on end to see the opportunities that are there to help people. And those old Arab farmers are really grateful."

Wants Good Will

Edwards believes the "good will approach through agriculture" will make more friends for America in the Middle East than "silk hat functions."

The 68-year-old king, sold on American watermelons and looking forward to Texas-size chickens, told him:

"My people take to modern ways. Five years ago they wouldn't ride on anything but a camel. Now they all want to ride airplanes."

Newsprint Shortage Is Reported Better

NEW YORK, April 21 (AP) — Members of the American Newspaper Publishers association received a piece of good news today—the newsprint shortage has eased up a bit.

Cranston Williams, ANPA general manager, reported at the first day's sessions of the organization's 62nd annual convention that the newsprint picture has improved in the past 12 months.

However, most papers "still are in a straitjacket" with respect to newsprint, Williams told newsprint, Williams told newsmen after the closed session. "It's just loosened up a little."

That Girl on Broadway says a woman's intuition springs mainly through her ability to read between the lies of men!

We've had a lot of hard luck in our time, but nobody has ever died and left us a farm.

QUITE fortunately, all men do not like the same woman, or, even, the same type of woman.

However, it occurs to us that any young gentleman looking for a wife would do well to try to find one like the former Edith Palmer, 20, of West Garland, Maine.

Before her recent marriage to Raymond L. Stone, Miss Palmer, Maine's only girl beaver trapper, went out and trapped herself 27 beavers whose skins brought her more than $1,000. She took the $1,000 and bought herself a trousseau.

Now the fact that Miss Palmer made the money for her own trousseau — as commendable as that was—isn't the most important thing involved. What really is important is that her husband will never have to worry about digging up the dough to buy his wife a fur coat.

Anytime Mrs. Stone needs a fur coat, she can go out and collect her one—which, it seems to us, would be a soothing thought for any modern husband!

"I was married by a justice of the peace," snarled the Office Grouch the other day, "and I've never had any justice, or any peace, since!"

AMONG the more amusing of recent political didoes were two featuring that Man on the Flying Trapeze, J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island.

Bouncing, bustling J. Howard, who currently is doubling in brass as a member of the U. S. Senate and also as chairman of the Democratic National committee, first got his picture in the Washington papers by striking a Napoleonic pose and pointing at a large portrait of the late Franklin Roosevelt. This he did to off-set, if possible, Southern opposition to the party's so-called "Civil Rights program." As the picture was taken, J. Howard said, in sepulchral tones, that "Harry Truman hasn't suggested anything not approved by that man there."

A few days later, J. Howard's picture bobbed up again. This time it was taken in Portland, Ore., where he made a speech tucking Henry Wallace just where he should be tucked: in bed with the Communists.

Funny part about the whole business is that the man who made the New Deal possible, the late Mr. Roosevelt, also is the man who made Henry Wallace possible. But Senator McGrath didn't go into that. He couldn't, very well, because Henry the Squirrel and his curious crew are now more dangerous to Democratic hopes next November than Bob Taft and all the arch Republicans put together.

When the late Mr. R. was putting his New Deal together he picked up Henry Wallace and started him on the pathway to notoriety. Nobody else did. Mr. R. did.

When the New Deal was being formed, Henry had nothing to recommend him for high honor and important work aside from a failure in the business of publishing a farm journal; a trusting belief in weird Oriental mysticism; the fact that his father had been Secretary of Agriculture in a Republican administration; Henry's own membership in the Republican party, and his ability to throw boomerangs and do amateur gymnastics.

It was the Patron Saint of all New Dealers who first made Henry a cabinet member, later Vice President and then a cabinet member again.

ALL this business causes Mr. McGrath to have to do a neat, if plainly discernible, lot of fence-straddling.

He has to burn incense to the memory of the New Deal, yet at the same time wallop the noggin of the Last of the New Deal Mohicans, Mr. Wallace, every time Mr. Wallace sticks his noggin up.

He can't even begin to admit that whatever Wallace support there is today also was the most fanatical of the Roosevelt support. Nor can he say, despite its truth, that the Roosevelt Charlie McCarthy of earlier days has become a Frankenstein as far as the Democratic party is concerned.

It's hard lines for poor J. Howard, and for Senator Pepper and the few who are left among the onetime merry men of the nationwide Tammany Hall called the Deal.

But it's mighty funny to watch 'em trying to walk a tightrope with all the grace and surety of a drunken man, with St. Vitus dance, walking a similar tightrope over Niagara Falls during a hurricane!

CORRECTION: The other day a man called and asked what the letters "USSR" stand for. We told him "United Soviet States of Russia."

After we hung up, without giving a name, we got to thinking. Finally we decided we had given the wrong answer, so looked the matter up.

Our answer was wrong. "USSR" is an abbreviation of "Union of Socialist Soviet Republics."

IF they were acquainted with both the character and professional stature of the man, West Texans in general would be joining with a majority of their doctor neighbors in hoping for the election next week of Dr. G. V. Brindley, of Temple, as president of the Texas State Medical association.

A brilliant surgeon and recipient of many professional honors, Doctor Brindley has all the characteristics, too, of the medical man we all like to call "the old family doctor." Kindly, understanding and sympathetic, Doctor Brindley, through a long and honorable career, has lived fully up to the responsibilities of his calling.

As president of the Texas State Medical association, he may be expected not only to look after the best interests of his profession in this state, but also to the best interests of the people—who make the practice of medicine possible, as they make all else possible. He will recognize the needs of the public for more doctors, just as he will recognize the needs of the doctors, themselves.

Doctor Brindley long has been a friend of his profession in Texas and, especially, in this area of West Texas. He has come out here many times, always at financial sacrifice, to take part in medical convention programs and to impart to his colleagues in this great medical center the knowledge and the techniques which have become his over many years in the operating theater and the consultation room.

The Texas State Medical association will be in good hands under Dr. G. V. Brindley, which means, too, that the medical needs of the public will attract his interest and his aid.

BY DREW PEARSON: FORRESTAL DID HIS BEST TO SABOTAGE SYMINGTON'S STORY

Georgia's Rep. Vinson Engineered 70-Group Vote

WASHINGTON — No legislative battle in recent years has witnessed so much backstage wire-pulling and so much crimson on one cabinet member's face as the row over whether the USA should be defended by 70 air groups.

PEARSON

Ironically, the man who finally engineered the overwhelming 342-to-3 House vote for a big Air Force was the Navy's best friend in Congress — hard-as-nails Rep. Carl Vinson of Georgia.

The veteran Democrat not only browbeat the measure through the House, but outfoxed Secretary of Defense Jim Forrestal every step of the way. Finally, Vinson even performed the miracle of winning penny-pinching John Taber, chairman of the appropriations committee, over to a 70-group Air Force.

Here is the amazing, behind-the-scenes story:

For years as chairman of the House naval affairs committee, Vinson has gone down the line for the Navy. He was their best friend in congress. But three weeks ago Vinson deserted the Navy, insisted upon hearing the Air Force's story simultaneous with arguments for the draft and universal training.

Afterward, Georgia Democrat Vinson huddled with Texas Democrat Lyndon Johnson, another Navy man now an air advocate, and the two scrawled a resolution on the back of an office memo, calling for a 70-group Air Force. Next day they hammered this resolution through the armed services committee by a 23-to-0 vote.

Muzzling Symington

However, when Secretary for Air Stuart Symington appeared before the committee, Chairman Walter Andrews, New York Republican, warned him not to mention 70 groups. He must only testify regarding the draft and UMT, Andrews instructed. Andrews was elected to Congress by the people of Buffalo, N. Y., next door to the congressional district of Symington's father-in-law, GOP Jim Wadsworth of Geneseo, N. Y. Nevertheless Andrews did not want Symington to talk.

"Wait a minute," snorted Vinson. "We don't want any censorship."

The Secretary for Air, he claimed, had a right to say what he wished. Finally Andrews gave in. As a result, Symington was able to deliver his sensational warning that Russia is building planes 12 times faster than the USA.

This enraged Symington's boss, Secretary of Defense Forrestal. Actually Forrestal had taken sides with the admirals and did his best to sabotage Symington's testimony.

First he sent an appeal to Vinson, urging him to come over to his office in the Pentagon building at once. They had been close allies in fighting for a powerful, two-ocean navy, and Forrestal hoped to appeal to Vinson's old navy loyalty.

But the leathery Georgian was in no mood to back down. He went ot see Forrestal, but he brought along two close friends—Congressman Lyndon Johnson and Paul Kilday, both Texas Democrats. Johnson had served in the Navy during the war and helped to straighten out Army-Navy rivalries.

Forrestal was cordial but insistent. Referring to the congressmen as "air seamen," he complained that they had gone back on him, urged that they delay their proposal for a 70-group Air Force until he got a report from the joint chiefs of staff.

"We have been getting reports on this for three years," snapped Vinson. He reminded Forrestal that 18 months ago, General Eisenhower had testified that the Air Force should not be allowed to fall below 70 groups.

"Eisenhower," said Vinson bluntly, "is enough chief of staff for me."

AFTER failing with Vinson, Forrestal next tried to soft-soap nickle-nursing appropriations chairman Taber who usually can't see beyond a dollar sign. Forrestal's arithmetic easily convinced Taber that 70 air groups would cost money, and he promptly started to prune down the Air Force appropriations bill. The $922,000,000 necessary for the 70-group program was omitted.

Scarcely had Taber reported the bill out of committee, however, than Vinson called in Johnson and Kilday.

"Forrestal has pulled the rug out from under the Air Force," he announced. "Now we'll have to pull the rug out from under Forrestal. We've got the votes but Forrestal has Taber. All we have to do is get Taber.

That same afternoon Vinson buttonholed Taber. If Taber would support a 70-group Air Force, Vinson said that he would back an economy measure to trim the procurement costs by $100,000,000. This could be done by reinvoking the wartime clause which gave the Air Force authority to renegotiate profits. In other words, if a manufacturer was able to produce a cheaper plane than estimated, the Air Force could re-examine the contract and cut excess profits.

Taber called in Symington, asked whether he could get along on $822,000,000 for 70 groups. The youthful Air secretary, however, said that $922,000,000 was the rock-bottom figure. Next morning Vinson himself called Symington, described the plan to renegotiate profits. Symington then agreed to do his utmost to keep within the $822,000,000 figure.

So an amendment was offered, raising the plane procurement fund by $822,000,000 for a 70-group Air Force.

NOTE—While the House was passing the 70-group Air Force by a 343-to-3 vote, President Truman publicly rebuked Symington for upping the Administration's 55-group program. Ironically, Truman climbed into the same political bed with Henry Wallacites' Vito Marcantonio, Leo Isacson, and Adam Clayton Powell, the only congressmen who opposed the large Air Force. Apparently Truman forgot his March 17 speech in which he declared he wasn't going to buy any part of Henry Wallace.

Stassen's Early Victories To Add Sting To GOP Campaigns

WASHINGTON—From here on out, the race for the Republican presidential nomination is bound to grow more personal and more bitter. The target for attack from within the GOP will be Harold Stassen, who has proved in Nebraska, as he did in Wisconsin, that he is becoming the party's foremost vote-getter.

CHILDS

Up to this point the race has been a cozy affair, with the candidates running against President Truman. That, incidentally, is one of the reasons for the toboggan slide in Mr. Truman's prestige and popularity. With the returns from the Nebraska primary, any resemblance to a friendly family contest is out of the window.

Stassen is the winner. Nothing succeeds like success.

Yet at the same time a personal equation must be taken into account, since it has a direct bearing on whether or not Stassen will eventually get the nomination. He is heartily disliked and resented by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Sen. Robert A. Taft, who were respectively No. 2 and No. 3 at the Nebraska finish line. Both men feel that Stassen has gone out of his way to affront them.

Taft was angered when Stassen announced he would enter the Ohio presidential primary, which is on May 4. This was a violation of the professional code, which says that a candidate is not to be challenged in his own home state.

The feeling was increased when Stassen let it be known that Taft had personally challenged his right to come into Ohio. The account of how Taft angrily chided his rival at a private meeting in Washington did not add to the Taft sense of dignity.

May Win Delegates

Moreover, it seems likely that Stassen will win some delegates in Ohio. He has carefully chosen the districts in which he is contesting with an eye to labor and liberal support from those who would like to see Taft humiliated on his own doorstep. If Stassen should get 5 or 6 Ohio delegates, he would look even stronger than he looks today. And Taft would have even more cause to be resentful.

Dewey's close friends say that he can never forgive Stassen for what he regards as gratuitous attacks. Several times in recent months, Stassen has belittled the New York governor for not discussing the issues. Like the invasion of Ohio, this is taken as a violation of the professional code of bahavior.

These resentments might be written off as trivial by-products of an election year if it were not for the fact that they have a direct bearing on the Republican choice at Philadelphia. No matter what happens in the primaries, both Dewey and Taft will come to Philadelphia with a pocket full of delegates. Short of a first or second-ballot stampede to Stassen, it is highly unlikely they will release those delegates to the Minnesota giant-killer.

While a Taft-Dewey deal to make either one the nominee appears doubtful, they could throw their weight behind a third man who would not be Stassen. It is just here that the personal equation comes in.

CONCEIVABLY the third man might be Sen. Arthur H. Vandenberg. His strong fourth-place showing in Nebraska is impressive in view of the fact that he has repeatedly said he does not want to be a candidate and did nothing to advance himself in the Nebraska contest. By the same token, Taft's poor showing is all the more striking since he had the backing of Sen. Hugh Butler and Butler's organization in Nebraska.

From here on out, Stassen will have to combat the professionals—the national committee-men and committee-women, many of whom distrust him. He is not one of their kind. He is far too independent.

They have ticked off against him such examples of independence as that he was willing to serve on a committee to help the families of strikers in the prolonged United Auto Workers strike against General Motors. For many of these oldtimers, who have footed the bills and kept the party alive in the lean years, Stassen is far too much of an internationist.

But they cannot ignore the fact that he is a vote-getter. Nor can they ignore the fact that he is almost the only candidate to offer the American people something positive and constructive. The Tafts and the Martins talk about what they're against. Stassen talks about a strong, free America that can remain strong and free and thereby avoid the calamity of war. The American people like that.

The Feminine Viewpoint

HOW not to greet your husband when he returns home in the evening:

With a note on the piano saying you'll be home at such-and-such a time.

MILLETT

With a complaining story which includes everything that was wrong with your day.

Curled up on the sofa reading a book or magazine, and no dinner preparations under way.

With a demand that he do something in the repair line immediately—before he even sits down to relax.

With a tale of Junior's latest scrape and a demand that he punish "his" son.

In an old pair of slacks or the same housedress you were wearing when he left in the morning.

BRIDGE INTERFERENCE

WITH the house in a mess because it was your bridge day and you played later than you counted on and didn't have time to straighten things up before he came home.

With a definite coolness in your manner because you've brooded all day over your husband's grouchiness at breakfast.

CUROSITY KILLS CAT

"Try And Stop Me"

EDITH WHARTON'S place in American literature is secure by reason of her "Ethan Frome," "The Age of Innocence" and "The House of Mirth," but her very social relatives took a very dim view of her activities. Why, they demanded, should a fine young girl, in whose veins flowed the blue blood of Rhinelanders and Schermerhorns, be eccentric enough to spend her time scribbling books?

One family elder, narrates Lloyd Morris in his delightful "Postscript to Yesterday," hazarded the guess that Edith would turn out to be more of a burden than a distant cousin, immensely wealthy, who insisted upon sitting on a marble shelf, in the happy illusion that he was a bust of Napoleon.

Today's Journal Editorial

WHY TRY IT?

A great many of our pious business men have courageously intonated of late: "You can't do business with Russia."

But it was left to a newcomer in the ranks of our industrial bigwigs to go even farther. Henry Ford, II, who seems to have some of the talents of his late, great grandsire, spoke right up the other day and said this:

"We (meaning the Ford company) don't want to do business with Russian-dominated countries."

Now it's quite one thing to speak in generalities about doing business, and quite another thing to name names and stand flat-footed on the subject. This young Mr. Ford apparently has done.

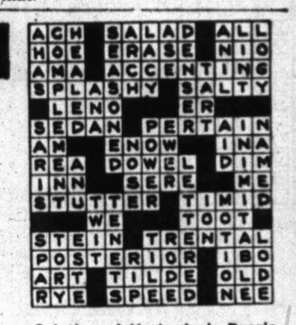

It will occur to many Americans that one of the best ways of putting Russia in her place—and keeping her there—would be to cut off from her all the products, all the materials and all the knowledge of the non-communist world. Certainly, Mr. Ford's remark gives rise to that thought.

Why not try it?

Our own and other countries give much lip-service to the program of halting the Red grabs. Why not actually try to stop those grabs by isolating Russia in a business way?

It very possibly might happen

LEGAL NOTICE
of
Proposed Amendments to Zoning Ordinance of the City of Lubbock, Texas.

NOTICE is hereby given that the Planning and Zoning Commission has recommended to the City Commission that Zoning Ordinance No. 661 be amended so that: Garland Subdivision of Block 2, Roberts & McWhorter Addition be changed from a "C" District to an "H" District.

The City Commission will hold a public hearing on May 13, 1948, at 2:30 o'clock P. M., in the City Commission room on the second floor of the City Hall in Lubbock, to consider the recommendations of the Zoning and Planning Commission to determine the advisability of adopting its proposal, and at which time and place all interested persons will be given an opportunity to protest against the proposed amendment or make recommendations in support thereof.

After said hearing the City Commission will determine whether the Zoning Ordinance will be amended in accordance with such recommendation.

W. H. RODGERS,
Mayor of the City of Lubbock, Texas.
Attest:
LAVENIA WILLIAMS,
City Secretary.

paigns and rose to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel by May 5, 1919. During his duty with the AEF he received the Distinguished Service Cross, the Purple Heart along with the French Legion of Honor, three French Croix-de-Guerres, and Individual Fouragere.

Commanded Infantry

During World War II, following service as a commanding officer at Fort Meade, Maryland, and Camp Hood, Texas, he commanded the 77th Infantry division in the South Pacific theatre. The division distinguished itself in the Guam, Philippines, Ryukyus, Ie Shima and Okinawa campaigns. During World War II Gen. Bruce won the Legion of Merit, the Distinguished Service medal, the Navy distinguished Service medal, an Oak Leaf cluster to the Distinguished Service medal, the Bronze Star, the Air Medal and the Army Commedation ribbon.

In 1946 he was awarded an honorary Doctor of Laws regree at Texas A&M.

Granite Stone Acquired

The memorial stone acquired by the TWVA is of solid Carnelin granite, 42 inches high and with a 36 inch square base. It will be set near the center of the circle, facing east, and with the following inscription carved on its face: "Dedicated 1948 by Tech War Veterans association to all whose service has brought honor to college and country." Arrangements for the monument are being made through the South Plains Monument company of Lubbock.

The dedication ceremony will start at 2 p. m. with the national anthem by the Tech Matador band followed by the invocation by Roy Grimes, TWVA chaplain. Other events will be in the following order: The all-male chorus will sing several selections, T. C. Root, TWVA sponsor and assistant to the Tech president, will introduce the speaker, following Gen. Bruce's speech Gene Nowlin will give a dedicatory address with the response being made by Pres. W. M. Whyburn. The program will close with the college song.

This dedication not only will be to war veterans of the past but also to anyone in the student body or the faculty who has made a valuable contribution to the honor of the school and to his country in the past or who shall do so in the future, Nowlin stated.

Texas Demos

give the states title to their idelands.

Must Not Be Rash

Jester said no matter how "bitter we are in the knowledge of our grievances, we must not retaliate blindly and rashly." He said the changes must be fought for within the party structure.

Jester urged that the Texas delegation be instructed only as to principles and that it be uninstructed as to candidates to keep itself "free to work for the nomination of a vice-presidential candidate acceptable to the South." Neither should the delegation's hands be tied in voting for a presidential candidate, he advised.

Joe Dibrell of Coleman charged at the Truman meeting that Jester is the "spokesman" for the big oil companies. Because of oil interest opposition to Truman on the tidelands question, Dibrell continued, they want to sacrifice the only party nominee with a chance of being eledted.

"Go to your precinct and county conventions and send delegates to Brownwood who will vote with us," Dibrell asked.

Fight To Be Staged

Approximately 20 leaders of the Truman movement unanimously resolved to take the fight to Brownwood and beyond. This was done at a business meeting prior to the barbecue, on motion of Harry Seay, a leader of the pro-Roosevelt forces in 1944, after Rogers put this question:

"Do you want to trust those Texas Regulars to send delegates to the national convention or do you want to send real Democrats who will represent the Democratic party?"

Elected state officials and candidates for office were hard to find at either gathering. U. S. Senatorial candidate George Peddy of Houston appeared at both. There was a thin sprinkling of members of the legislature.

The pro-Truman conclave was free but a collection was taken up to rub out a $492 deficit in the campaign treasury. Executive Committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert said it would probably be several days before the Fort Worth take could be figured. Many persons sent contributions who did not partake of the $5 a plate barbecue and beans.

Taft, Stassen Going All Out

COLUMBUS, O., April 21 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft and former Gov. Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota squared off in Ohio today in their battle to win Buckeye delegates for the Republican presidential nomination.

For Stassen, who was to arrive at Dayton by plane this morning, the next four days will be geared to the whirlwind campaign pace he followed in sweeping to primary victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska earlier this month. Ohio's primary is May 4.

Taft, on the other hand, takes official cognizance of the stiff battle he expects the Minnesotan to wage for 23 of Ohio's 53 delegates by starting a steady campaign in 11 districts where Stassen opposes him.

Six Talks Slated

Stassen seeks delegates in Ohio's industrial regions, and Taft opens an ambitious speech-making, personal appearance tour with six talks in the key northeastern Ohio sector today.

The favorite-son candidate is scheduled today at Ashtabula, Jefferson, Niles, Youngstown and Warren, with two appearances in the latter city.

Stassen will use a chartered plane to carry newsmen with him from Dayton to Toledo tomorrow. Friday he will fly to Akron, spending the day campaigning in the 14th and the 16th (Canton) districts. Saturday, he'll be at Cleveland where six delegates are at stake in the three districts there. His supporters now say they are sorry they did not enter a full slate of 53 delegates against the Taft-pledged slate.

Yesterday, Taft canceled his planned weekend return to Washington to devote his entire time until May 4 to campaigning.

Except for the day before the balloting, Taft will contend in Stassen-candidates territory, with occasional sorties into unopposed areas. May 3 will be devoted to appearances in his home town, Cincinnati.

British Air, Navy Forces To Maneuver

LONDON, April 21. (AP)—British air, sea and submarine forces will maneuver in the North sea between the Orkneys and Norway May 13 and 14, the Admiralty announced today.

The exercises will involve two battleships, a carrier, a cruiser, 11 destroyers, four frigates, 10 submarines and about 135 planes.

Liquor Board Finds Six Illicit Stills

AUSTIN, April 21. (AP)—Texas seized six illicit stills last month.

They made two arrests, captured 705 gallons of mash, and destroyed 35 and three-fourths gallons of moonshine liquor.

Red River county yielded two of the stills. The others were in Harrison, Freestone, Titus and Bowie counties.
