TOWNS INUNDATED

FLOOD DRIVES FAMILIES FROM HOMES—Several hundred families were driven from their homes at Morrow, O., by rising tides of the Little Miami river and Tod's run. Mrs. Charles Reese and her four-year-old son, Larry, are shown in this view after being forced from their home.

Lowlands Are Said Flooded In 5 States

Thousands Driven From Homes Over Affected Areas

(By The United Press)

CLEVELAND, April 22.—The flooded Ohio river covered lowlands in five states of its great valley today, drove thousands of persons from their homes and inundated a few villages, but the crest was expected to pass without any major disaster.

Although the water already had started to recede in some places, it was rising in the Cincinnati region at the rate of .1 foot every two hours and by the time a crest of 59 feet is reached Wednesday, it is expected that 6,200 persons on the Ohio side and 1,400 on the Kentucky side will have moved out of their threatened homes. River experts said the river would have to pass 62 feet to cause any great damage.

Villages Under Water

Already, in south central Ohio, water from other streams was 10 feet deep on the main street of Roseville, the village of Bremen was under water, 45 homes and stores were flooded at Crooksville and the town of Logan was isolated.

Approximately 100 roads in southern Ohio were flooded.

Private Money Lenders Will Get Challenge

Method To Reduce U. S. Farm Debt Being Studied

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Farm loan experts—split over a proposal designed to reduce the $7,000,000,000 debt on American farms—agreed today that it would challenge private money lenders.

Sponsors of the Jones-Wheeler farm loan bill said that private lending agencies probably would have to meet a reduced government interest rate of three per cent on farm mortgages or withdraw from the rural credit field.

Will Widen Sphere

Opponents declare that the measure would "widen the sphere" of government competition with private capital, and lead to "socialization" by giving the government a financial claim on more thousands of farms.

The legislation would permit the Farm Credit administration to take over privately-held mortgages, but only at valuations based on the "productive value" of the mortgaged land.

Banks, insurance companies and private lenders have joined congressmen and farm administrators in the fight over the Jones-Wheeler bill to authorize a cut in the interest charged borrowers of the Farm Credit administration. Where the debt appeared to be more than the farmer could pay off from his crops, the bill would allow a reduction in the amount owed.

Farms Are Burdened

Secretary Wallace, an advocate of the proposal, contends that many a farm is burdened by a debt greater than its actual value. Citing the fact that 25 per cent of the debts now are delinquent, he contends that the deflation of farm prices and land values after the World war has not been reflected fully in farm debts.

The Jones-Wheeler bill, pending before the House agriculture committee, would provide government guarantee of Farm Credit administration bonds, the source of loans to farmers. Such a guarantee, sponsors say, would cut the interest on the funds to 2 per cent, whereas

Former Naval Leader Urges Preparedness

Plan For Conquest In The Far East Told At Hearing

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Rear Admiral Joseph K. Taussig, former assistant chief of naval operations, told the Senate naval affairs committee today that he believed a war between Japan and the United States is inevitable.

He said he thought Japan is fomenting a desperate far eastern situation as a prelude to a program of conquest by which it hopes to impose its philosophy on much of the world.

Conquest Is Expected

Taussig, now commandant of the fifth naval district at Norfolk, Va., said he believed that Japan intends to try to conquer the Philippines, French Indo-China, the Netherlands Indies and other sections of the far east.

The Japanese program of world conquest, he said, was detailed in a memorial from Premier Tanako to the emperor of Japan on July 25, 1927. Taussig testified that he believed it without reservations, despite Japanese insistence that the purported program is fictitious.

Warranted In Using Force

"I cannot see," he said, "how we can ultimately prevent being drawn into war on account of the far eastern situation.

"We would be warranted in using economic and financial means and, if necessary force, to preserve the integrity of China."

Major George Fielding Eliot also was ready to testify before the committee considering the $650,000,000 naval tonnage bill.

In the Tankaro memorial was a notation, Admiral Taussig said, that Japan "must first crush the United States" before embarking on its career of world subjugation.

Taussig characterized Japan as a nation of "determined, war-like people" whose pledges are "worthless." He said Japan is convinced of the divinity of its origin and the need for imposing its culture on the world.

He said the United States' only hope is to build an invincible navy

Weather Sets Crazy Pattern Over Country

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The weather man sighed today and agreed that the weather for the last six months probably established an all-time record for being "cockeyed."

He has become slightly dizzy from trying to predict weather that proved unpredictable. Drouth in the great plains and freezes in the deep south have caused hundreds of millions of dollars loss to farmers from crop damage.

Heavy Rains Unwelcome

Heavy rains over the eastern states during the last week sent streams over their banks, while farmers wished for warm, dry weather. In the middlewest and southwest dry weather and dust storms have added to crop damage and human discomfort.

One of the driest and warmest falls was followed by a protracted winter "cold spell"—to put it mildly—that established records for low temperatures throughout the south. Damage to citrus fruits and vegetables from sub-freezing temperatures has been estimated at $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Wheat Prospects Cut

Crop board officials estimated that the fall drouth in the great plains reduced 1940 wheat prospects by at least 200,000,000 bushels. Weather bureau officials said that unless abnormally heavy spring rains make up the deficiency in sub-soil moisture, the loss may be much larger.

While Pacific coast states sweltered in a mid-summer heat wave last week, sub-freezing temperatures

Lubbock Students Victors In Typing

First and second places in typing were won by students of Senior High school at the regional meeting of the Interscholastic league in Canyon last week, it was announced this morning.

Marilee Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Irving Jones of 2101 Twenty-eighth street, was first place winner, Ophelia May Beall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Beall of 2627 Twenty-first street, second.

Raymond Swafford, winner of first place in a district meeting here recently, took second place in the region in composition, grammar and dictation in Spanish. The contest is not in Interscholastic league events, so there is no further competition in it.

Earlier, Lubbock's representatives had won first in boys debate, second in girls debate, it had been announced.

Miss Bella Altman is teacher-coach for the typists, who will compete May 3 and 4 at Austin. Miss Velma McCandless accompanied Swafford and Robert Smith, who also competed, for the Spanish contests.

Loot Small In Burglary Here

Higginbotham - Bartlett Lumber company, at 1408 Avenue H, was burgarlized Sunday night, but loot amounted only to a few pennies from a vending machine.

Officials found that screws had been removed from hinges of a safe, but no entry had been effected.

Bob Crawford service station and parking lot at Thirteenth street and Avenue J, reported three oil filters had been taken, either by thieves or burglars.

Two Boys Caught

Found in possession of a stolen bicycle, two boys admitted their activities earlier had been directed into rummaging about in cars near the First Baptist church, where a camero and a flashlight had been taken.

A drunk beat up his wife and hid out in the canyon, said officials, who captured him after an hour's search.

L. W. Utley of route 6 Lubbock said a tire, tube and wheel had been stolen from him, the whole amounting to approximately $20.

A Mexican was discovered with a gun in his shirt and taken to jail. A negro whaled the tar out of his wife and was to be booked for ag-

Stenographer Wins In Gambling Pool

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, April 22 (U.P.)—Clara Hansen, 21-year-old Civil Aeronautics authority stenographer, had her telephone disconnected to foil swarms of salesmen today and tried to act in a manner befitting the winner of the far north's annual gambling classic.

Miss Hansen won $90,000 in the Nenana ice pool by guessing within one minute the time the ice would break on the Tenanana river. She guessed 3:28 p. m. on April 20. The ice broke up a minute before the time she had guessed. It was the earliest in the 24 years of the pool.

"I'm just flabbergasted," she said. "I'll stay here and keep on with my job—at least until I get the money. Then I don't know what I'll do."

Heavy Damage Is Reported As British Bombers Raid German Air Bases In Two Countries

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 22.—The British air force is synchronizing raids on German bases in Norway and Denmark, attempting to choke off the nazi air ferry service which poured German troops into the invaded country.

Air ministry announcements said both Aalborg, in northern Denmark, and Stavanger, southern Norwegian port, had been raided during the night by British bombers repeating attacks that on the previous night also included Kristiansand, another southern port.

Planes Are Destroyed

The Stavanger airdome was "bombed and machine-gunned" destroying "a number of enemy aircraft," the ministry said. The Aalborg airdrome, which British believe is Germany's only large field in Denmark, was said to have suffered "extensive damage by high explosive and incendiary bombs."

Britain reported all raiders returned safely from the Stavanger attack and only one was missing after the Aalborg foray.

A well-informed source said that British and Norwegian troops had joined "at several places" and that

Negro Is Held After Slaying

(By The Associated Press)

RAYMONDVILLE, April 22 — A negro suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Viola Robertson, 33, of Lyford, was held in an undisclosed jail today while officers investigated details of the Saturday midnight shooting.

Justice of the Peace R. B. Sutton said death was due to gunshot wounds at the hands of a negro, who had picked up the woman, her 14-year-old daughter and two youths on the highway between here and Lyford as they were walking home from a movie in Raymondville.

Forced From Car

The boys, Paul Boyd, 16, and Daniel Hall, 14, were forced from the car on a side road at the point of a gun.

Justice Sutton said the negro, arrested here some hours after the slaying, admitted he attempted to assault the woman and shot her when she resisted. The daughter, Cora Belle, told Sutton that she fled from the negro's advances and hailed a passing motorist.

Mrs. Robertson was shot three times with a 32-caliber pistol.

War For Uncle Sam Predicted By Nazi Invasion Of Brazil

(By The United Press)

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 22—The United States will be drawn into war eventually by a "victorious" German invasion of South America, Dr. Albert Bushnell Hart, dean of American historians, predicted today in an interview.

The nazis already seem slight favorites in the struggle for European dominance to the bearded, 85-year-old Harvard professor-emeritus who accurately forecast the seizure of Czechoslovakia months in advance. He looked for the immediate future to bring:

1. The involvement of Sweden in the war, probably following German occupation of port cities in order to insure continued flow of ores into Germany.
2. German occupation of the Netherlands in a "blitzkrieg" of 24 hour duration.
3. The bombing of London and other British industrial centers with the possibility of the British Isles becoming the

Lubbock Hopes To Get Demo Session

Belief that Lubbock has "at least a 50-50 chance" of winning the 1941 convention of the Texas league of Young Democrats was expressed this morning by J. Doyle Settle following his return from the 1940 convention which closed in Beaumont Saturday.

He expressed the further belief that Lubbock's chances were improved by the fact that the selection of the convention city was delayed. Ordinarily, he explained, the next convention city is chosen immediately after each annual gathering. This year, the convention decided to delay the selection until a special meeting of the executive committee is called.

Probably In Waco

Settle, a member of the state executive board, said that meeting probably will be held in Waco at the time of the state Democratic convention late in May.

Bidding for the 1941 convention, he reported, are Lubbock, Corpus Christi and Fort Worth. Indication was given, however, that the Fort Worth invitation will not be pressed, leaving Lubbock and Corpus Christi the real contenders.

Assurance was given Settle and the local chapter of the league of fullest cooperation by the chamber of commerce and city officials in the effort to persuade directors to hold the 1941 meeting here.

A new automobile dealership joins "automobile row" in Lubbock today, with the formal opening of Fenner Tubbs, Inc., Chrysler and Plymouth dealers, in a new building recently constructed at Tenth and Avenue L. The formal opening will be conducted today and Tuesday with special entertainment features both days.

From 5 to 6 p. m. both days Burnie Howell, KFYO organist will entertain with organ melodies and at 6:30 and 9 p. m. Wiley Walker and Gene Sullivan, featured KFYO comedians, will broadcast two fifteen-minute programs. Refreshments will be served during the formal opening.

Tubbs, a native of Lubbock, was reared in the automobile business, his father, R. I. Tubbs being one of the pioneer automobile dealers of Lubbock. Fenner Tubbs has been sales manager for a Lubbock automobile concern the past seven years and has been connected with the automobile business in some way practically all of his life. He graduated from Lubbock High school and attended Texas Technological college.

The new business is housed in one of the most modern automobile business buildings in West Texas, the structure being designed expressly for the firm. Wide steel-framed windows extend from the ceiling to within a few feet of the floor on the east, north and west of the service department, making it one of the best-lighted shops in the state. The building was built especially with the service department facilities in mind as this will be one of the featured phases of the business. Reinforced steel ceiling reduces the number of supporting columns in the service department, providing plenty of space for movement of cars throughout the department. Wide overhead doors provide easy entry and exit to the department. The building is 75 by 125 feet. It was built by Dr. Sam G. Dunn, owner.

Showroom Is Spacious

Display windows of the showroom in the front of the building extend from the floor to the ceiling. The spacious showroom has space for display of eight cars at a time. It has a red cement floor with office space to the rear next to the parts department. The showroom is indirectly lighted.

FENNER TUBBS

Tubbs will personally direct the sales of his firm. Salesmen will be Bill Lamb and Roger Pierce. C. W. Babb is office manager. John C. Gegg, who will come to Lubbock from Denver where he has had twelve years experience with one of the leading Chrysler dealers of the Rocky Mountain area, is manager of the service department. Others in the department are: Ed Ruble, L. B. Jones and Neal Purdy. T. W. Ross has charge of lubrication.

Party And Shower Held For Mrs. R. L. Edwards

Mrs. R. L. Edwards, the former Miss Faye Treadwell, was honored with a party and shower given Saturday afternoon by Mrs. Paul Fisher at her home, 1517 Arnett. In the receiving line were Mrs. H. E. Coston of Shallowater, Mrs. Edwards and Mrs. J. T. Treadwell.

Miss Ethy Lou Edwards presided at the hand-painted bride's book in which were pictured scenes of the couple's courtship and marriage.

The honoree was presented with an express crate in which was a squash goose on whose feathers were placed clews to where the gifts were hidden.

A color scheme of pink and white was used in decorations. Bridal wreath and roses were arranged about the rooms.

CLUB TO MEET

The Jolly Working club will meet Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Marion Ham, 414 Fourth street. At the last meeting with Mrs. Edna Hamilton names were drawn and gifts exchanged. Attending were Mesdames Pauline Lake, Ham, Nova Ford, Pearl Hart, Nola Christian, Oddie McAteer and Lora Teague.

I know of no person who has a more distinct use for life insurance than the so-called "small business man."
The business owned by most such men usually stops within a short time after his death, and, unless he has provided for his family, they are left stranded and unable to carry on the business.
Perhaps, most of all, life insurance is highly necessary for the small business man who has a partner.

charge of Secretary Hull. There has been talk of a Hull-Farley ticket if Mr. Roosevelt adheres to the two-term tradition.

With the president and Dewey leading in pledged and semi-pledged convention delegates, the Democrats this week will select 80 additional delegates, including 72 in Pennsylvania's primary tomorrow and 8 at large in an Illinois convention Friday. They already have chosen 248 of their total of 1,094.

Republicans will pick 106 this week to add to their 336 already selected out of a total of 1,000. The 106 will consist of 3 to be chosen in Hawaii today, 72 in Pennsylvania tomorrow, 6 in Delaware Wednesday, 2 in the Philippines Thursday, and 8 at large in Illinois, 11 in Mississippi, and 4 at large in Missouri Friday.

President Roosevelt's name is the only one entered in the Pennsylvania preference balloting tomorrow. The vote, however, will not bind the delegates. While there is no name on the Republican presidential ballot, party leaders say that the delegates will support Gov. Arthur James as a favorite son.

Interest centered in the race for the Democratic senatorial nomination between Senator Joseph F. Guffey and Walter A. Jones, Pittsburgh oil man.

Championship Softball Campaign Gets Under Way Tonight; Three Games

"Play Ball!" To Be Cry In West Texas-New Mexico Loop Tuesd

Amarillo Cops 3-2 Hurlers' Duel Sunday

(Special To The Journal)

AMARILLO, April 22—It was July weather here Sunday and a quartet of pitchers took the hint sent down by a smiling sun to give an excellent preview of "things to come" during an approaching WT-NM league baseball campaign.

Two Lubbock hurlers and a pair of Amarillo pitchers gave a crowd of 1,500 fans a nifty mound duel with the Gold Sox tossers emerging victors in a thrill-packed 3 to 2 contest.

Wildness Proves Costly

John Hyma and Gene Stack toiled on the hill for Lubbock and Bus Dorman and Crider handled hurling chores for the Gold Sox. The final difference in the ball game was the Hubber hurlers' wildness at times, Stack giving up five bases on balls and hitting two batsmen, while Hyma hit one and walked one.

Stack, however, was especially effective, limiting the Sox to four hits and no runs through the first five frames. Crider issued the only free ticket the Hubbers got.

In the sixth inning, Duarte, first Gold Sox up, was walked by Hyma. Fullenwider singling through short, Duarte being held on second. Altenburg sacrificed the runners up a notch with a perfect bunt to the pitcher. Sanders hit a line drive into deep right field and when Bitex lost sight of the ball in the sun, it went for a trible and the game's first scoring, two tallying for Amarillo. Ratliff then singled sharply over third base to score Sanders.

In the eighth, Schappman led off for Lubbock by singling through third. Schlereth singled a hot grounded to right. Schoppman scoring easily when Roth, Gold Sox right fielder muffed the ball. Schlereth went clear to third and some wild throw in plays by the Sox as they tried to catch him off base resulted in his scoring on a wild throw at the plate.

Thereafter, the game reverted to its original thrillingly air-tight form with both sides going down, one, two, three.

Batters Breathe Easier When They Learn Feller Is Only Human; Blasted By Tigers

BY BILL WHITE
Associated Press Sports Writer

American league batsmen can breathe easier today. Bobby Feller's only human after all.

Rated off his performance in white washing the White Sox with a no-hitter opening day, plus the knowledge that his blinding speed is matched by newly acquired baseball cunning, the outlook was anything but bright for the hapless hitters. But he lasted only three innings yesterday as the Detroit Tigers rapped him solidly for six hits and an ultimate 12-2 victory.

Rowe In Fine Form

Schoolboy Rowe went the distance for the Tigers and allowed but five hits.

The White Sox victims of the Feller fireball last Tuesday, finally recovered enough to stage a batting spree for a 6-2 victory over the St. Louis Browns. It was the first time in three tries that the Sox have won.

In the only other game played in majors, the St. Louis Cards greeted their former hurler, Dizzy Dean warmly—too warmly, in fact, for the perennial pop-off, who was blasted off the mound in the fifth as the Cards won a 5-4 thriller from the Cubs.

Helpless Three Frames

The Redbirds were helpless in the first three frames, the great one's "nothing ball" offering nothing more substantial than a shadow to swing at. But trouble loomed just ahead and the Cards tied the count at 2-all, thanks to some bad Cub misplays, in the fourth. The fifth started with successive singles by Max Lanier, Stu Martin, Johnny Mize and Don Padgett. Dean, with nothing better to do, headed for the showers, Charley Root taking over in time to see the winning runs come in.

Cats Drop Double Bill To Houston

(By The Associated Press)

After chalking up a double victory over Fort Worth Panthers, 8-2 and 4-3, Houston tackles the Tulsa Oilers in a two-game Texas league series opening at Tulsa tomorrow.

Steve Wachol and Lawrence Kempe, both righthanders, choked off Fort Worth threats to give Houston the double victory and top spot in the standings.

Secondplace San Antonio had to be content with splitting a doubleheader with Oklahoma City. The Indians took the opener 5-3, but Bob Moncrief pitched the Missions to 8-0 victory in the seven-inning nightcap.

Dallas came back yesterday to cop two games, 6-2 and 10-5, from Beaumont after suffering a 10-1 defeat Saturday.

The Tulsa Oilers bunched their hits to take both games 8-1 from Shreveport in the Louisiana city yesterday.

All teams were traveling today.

Of the 2,000 known kinds of germs and bacteria, only about 100 are believed to be harmful. The other 1900 varieties are necessary to life in one manner or another.

Polo Tussles Held Sunday

A quartet of the section's classiest polo aggregations took advantage of near-perfect weather conditions Sunday afternoon to reel off a brace of the "hottest" games played in the circuit in some time.

For sheer interest and class the two games involving Lubbock, Plainview and two Lamesa clubs—were "tops."

And when all the fine riding, deft playing and scoring was over, Plainview and the Lamesa Whites had emerged decisive victors in their respective contests.

Norris Paces Winners

In the opener Plainview's fine organization came through with an 8 to 3 decision over the Lamesa Blacks, Blackie Norris leading the Hale county metropolis' scoring parade with 3 tallies. Marvin Shurbet and Jinks "Skinny" Wheeler being next in line for the winners with two scores each. Lloyd Phillips another Plainview player, came through with one goal.

For the Blacks, Walter Lawrence turned in the game's chief scoring spree, counting three times. Others playing for the losers were Bryan Fulkerson, Bill Boyd, and Elmo Smith. Hub Burrus of Pampa refereed the contest.

May Scores For Lubbock

In the finale, both games being witnessed by a large turnout, the Lubbocks succumbed to the steady play of the Whites from the Dawson county capitol, 2 to 6. Murphy May counting the locals' two scores. For the winners, Sol Cleveland garnered one goal, Errie Barron counted once. Spencer Barron came in with another and Gus White, the hotshot of the Whites, came in with the final three.

The game was a nip and tuck affair all the way through, both teams counting one each in the opening chukker, then the visitors taking one in the second and third and adding two more in the fourth after Lubbock had counted its second goal, the final score for the victors being registered in the sixth.

Also playing with the Whites others than those mentioned was A. C. Woodward. For Lubbock other than May, was Guy Smith, Bob Stewart, Kenneth Smith, Hub Burrus alternating with John Cooper, Bobby Wylie and J. H. Bentley. Bob Hester of Levelland refereed the match.

Other Battles Are Scheduled During Week

They lift the lid on championship softball play out at Fox Park tonight, with three classy games on schedule.

At 7 o'clock, Good Eats Bakery and Southwest Products face off at 8 o'clock Central Labor takes on Lubbock Poultry and Egg and an hour later, Sears plays Hub Laundry.

Labor, Eggers Play

Either Troy Howton or Fred Acree is scheduled to toss for the Bakers, against Billie Holder or Grady Shytles for Southwest. Howton and Shytles both pitched on the district champion Super Service team last year, while Holder tossed for the city champion Lubbock Poultry and Egg team. Acree, pitching for Good Eats last season, pitched the only no-hit no-run game of the year in league play.

The Central Labor-Poultry and Egg game is listed as a grudge battle. The two teams played Friday in a classification game, the Workers winning by 13 to 9. This increased the Eggers no end and they have sworn revenge. Lefty Mathis or Howard Kimble will throw for P&E, against Bill Amo for Central Labor.

Sears Makes Debut

The first two games are Class B games while the final pits Sears against Hub Laundry in a Class C contest. Sears will be making their first appearance of the year, while the Hubbers boast a 26 to 9 victory over Lubbock Sash and Door.

Three triple-headers are scheduled during the week, tonight, Wednesday and Friday nights.

Tomorrow evening's program will get under way at 7 o'clock, to be the regular starting time either for double or triple-headers until changed later on in the summer as demands might require. In the opener, Robinson Grocery will take on Corcorran's, followed by the Hemphill-Wells-Lubbock Sash and Door company engagement.

Three Games Wednesday

Wednesday night's trio of tussels find Home Lumber and Sherrod's tangling in the 7 o'clock feature, Citizen's National and Dalby mixing it up in the 8 o'clock tilt, and Southwest Products and Central Labor fighting it out in the finale.

Admittance to each night's performance will be 15 cents for adults, 10 cents for children.

Hammett Is Victor In Sweetwater Play

SWEETWATER, April 22 (AP)—West Texas' traveling golfers turned their attention today toward the Mineral Wells invitation tournament which will open next Thursday, after young J. T. Hammett had stowed away a championship in the Sweetwater invitation.

Hammett, a Breckenridge player, gave an impressive performance throughout the four days of shooting here. He topped it off Sunday with a 10 to 8 victory in the final match against Red Zost, Abilene coach. After the first nine holes, Hammett was never in trouble.

Many of the fine field of golfers who played here planned to go to Mineral Wells Thursday.

Death Defiers Seen By A Small Crowd

Presenting a varied program of car crashes, ski jumps, smashing burning walls and houses, and car jumping Ace Lillard and his troupe of "Death Defiers" offered their "circus of death" to a small audience of approximately 300 persons at Fox Recreation park Sunday afternoon.

A percentage of the gate receipts will go into the Jaycees' fund to organize a Lubbock Junior Baseball league this summer.

Possibly attracting as much attention as any of the other stunts which Lillard and his crew used in the two-hour show was that of hurdling two cars after skiing off a ramp.

Complete Roll Featured

Other feats included that of crashing of a burning wall by a member of the group, the "house" smashing stunt by Lillard's wife, Babe, complete rolling of a car after taking off into mid-air on one of the skis and a few exhibition jumps and ski work by Dave Childers, a local dare devil.

Also in the troup was Buddy Lillard, Ace's brother, and Wild Sid Earp.

Bobby Riggs Grabs Title

BY WILLIAM T. RIVES
Associated Press Sports Writer

HOUSTON, April 22—Presenting the case of the spectators versus Bobby Riggs, and vice versa:

For the spectator—

The little 22-year-old Chicagoan world amateur champion of tennis is possibly one of the most intensely-disliked players—by competitors as well as public—in the history of sport.

Want Him Beaten

Most galleries would love nothing more than to see Riggs beaten in love sets, beaten so badly no memory of his magnificent game remained.

Riggs is too great a player to let that happen. He generally is equal to the occasion. Yesterday, irked by deprecatory press notices, he blasted Bitsy Grant of Atlanta off the court in straight sets, 7-5, 6-3, 7-5, to win the River Oaks invitation tournament.

In the early matches of a tournament, Riggs slouches around, exerting himself just enough to win. He may drive his opponent to the point of exasperation by casually bouncing the ball as he saunters to the baseline. Or he may stop and chat with some bystander while his red-faced enemy is waiting.

Fellow Players Derisive

Fellow players, watching him clown around with some youngsters striving to make a showing remark derisively:

"There's our national champion, boys."

For Riggs—

Let his wife, a sparkling-eyed 21-year-old girl who knows Bobby better, possibly, than he does himself, speak:

"Bobby is not a strong-armed player. He's a little fellow, and if he drove himself all week when he didn't have to, he'd be washed out but the time he reached the finals. He builds himself to a peak.

"Bobby doesn't like to beat those poorer players loves sets. He pre-

Lubbock Will Meet Lamesa For Opener

Little less than 24 hours remain before the crack of willow against leather signals the grand opening of another sparkling baseball season for Lubbock and seven other members of the West Texas-New Mexico league.

And not since organization of the circuit two years ago has such a promising campaign loomed over the horizon.

For weeks now the respective clubs have been quietly or otherwise building their forces for the long four and one-half months drive—and now comes time for the big battle, a pennant chase to unseat Lubbock twice-in-a-row champions for seven clubs, a strenuous drive every inch of the way for the local lads in defense of that coveted crown.

Lobos Seek Trophy

Occupying attention of all eight cities where opening day ceremonies of one sort or another will be observed Tuesday and Thursday will be that of capturing the opening day attendance trophy taken by Lamesa last year. The home of the Lobos, the smallest town in the league, is out for the honor again, everybody from the mayor on down planning to close house Thursday and turn out en masse for the Lamesa-Lubbock game.

Plans to grab the title for the city which seemingly should hold it are under way here. And a throng of more than 2,000 is expected for inauguration of the new peanut popping season for Lubbock and the South Plains.

Parade Planned

Beginning at one o'clock, the gala ceremonies will get under way with a colorful parade of Lubbock and Lamesa ball clubs from the Commercial hotel to the Lubbock hotel, the Lubbock High school Westerner band leading the affair.

The teams then will proceed to the "Home of the Hubbers" on College avenue and Fourth street for a long warm-up and additional ceremonies there.

Mayor To Pitch

"Hizzoner" the Mayor, Carl Slaton, will toss the bomb that explodes the lid off the new campaign, City Manager Bill Rodgers will be behind the plate, the Hubbers and Lobos will furnish the opposition, the fans the color and the occasion itself the thrill.

Actual game time is 3 o'clock.

And to climax the entire event, it is only proper that the last season's—and likely this year's also—most rabid fans and most bitter team enemies should clash in the opener that should be tops for the league.

While the gala occasion is being reeled off for the diamond faithful of Lubbock and surrounding territory, similar ceremonies will be under way on three other fronts—at Pampa, where Borger will be ready to open up with a triumph; at Amarillo, where the favored Gold Sox will entertain the "Darkhorse" Clovis Pioneers, and at Big Spring, where Midland's Cowboys will cavort in the day's only night opening.

The teams will play Tuesday and Wednesday in those sites, then swap diamonds for a two-game series, ending Friday.

Opening day ducats at 40 cents per throw may be obtained at Hub Clothiers, Jarrett-West Drug, and Mark Halsey No. 2.

Let's Win That Trop

By Jay Harris

With the nervous anticipation of a college co-ed primping for her first formal, we, along with thousands of other rabid and lukewarm diamond faithful of West Texas and New Mexico, today await tomorrow's arrival. After all, a baseball season "arrives" just once a year and both always seem to roll around just as scheduled for so long in advance—but we get goosepimples thinking about it, anyway.

Yes sir! The international "situation" along with all the domestic squabbles is going to take a back seat for this section come one o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The big parade starts then and the ceremonies continue at full blast downtown and at the "Home of the Hubbers" until Mayor Carl Slaton whiffs one across to City Manager Bill Rodgers at 3 o'clock, thus opening officially the WT-NM circuit campaign.

While on the subject of opening days — the likes of which will be reeled off in Amarillo, Pampa and Big Spring tomorrow, in the other four cities Thursday — it behooves this fair community to pick itself up in self defense in the matter of attendance. It seems that there is an opening day attendance trophy awarded for the club which packs 'em in the tightest, and the interest in this angle of the game in most other cities over the league is as keen as "who won and how much."

Lamesa — one of the smallest cities in the circuit setup — copped the honor last season and the title "the biggest little city in baseball." But they "ain't" had enough. Stock Market

LEADERS FACE DIFFICULTIES

NEW YORK, April 22 (AP) — Stock market buying mainly was in specialties today, most leaders encountering difficulties in extending Saturday's rally.

Aircrafts and steels stepped out in the forenoon. They found the going a bit rough and the majority eventually subsided. Early selling was absorbed fairly well, however, and gains of fractions to more than a point predominated after midday. The pace slowed appreciably in the latter part of the proceedings and prices were no better than steady at the close. Transfers approximated 900,000 shares.

Traders were unable to arrive at any conclusion regarding the shifting war currents in Europe, or just how this country may be effected, no matter which side wins. Consequently most showed an inclination to step carefully.

At that, business news was viewed as more constructive than otherwise, although a more than estimated drop in this week's steel mill loperations tended to restrain bullishness.

Touching new highs for the year — some eventually backed down — were Allied Mills, Celanese, Armour, Wilson & Co., International Paper preferred, American Bosch and Bush Terminal.

Resistance was shown by United Aircraft, Curtiss-Wright, Dupont, Allied Chemical, General Motors, Great Northern, American Car & Foundry, Radio Corp., Studebaker and Eastman Kodak.

Sluggish were American Airlines, Lockheed, Sears Roebuck, Chrysler, Anaconda, International Mercantile Marine and American-Hawaiian Steamship.

Bonds were mixed, as were commodities.

CHICAGO, April 22 (AP) — Wheat prices were more than a cent higher at one time today, establishing the best quotations posted here since 1937, but the market reacted sharply later and contracts representing the 1940 crop closed fractionally lower.

Nervous and rather wide price fluctuations reflected buying based on the war which was offset by selling due to favorable crop conditions over the grain belt.

Wheat closed ¾ cent lower to ⅝ higher compared with yesterday's finish. May 1.11⅝-½, July 1.09⅜-¼; corn unchanged to ⅜ higher, May 65, July 65⅞-66; oats ¼-⅝ lower.

British Raids

joint action in eastern Norway near Lake Mjosen had been "extremely successful."

Showdown Believed Due

Strong Allied forces were deployed along potential battle lines spotting Norway's snow-packed mountains and valleys and signs pointed toward impending showdown battles with the Germans.

This informant said answers could be expected in a few weeks to the much-debated military questions: Can a force be maintained in a hostile count by air communications alone? Can troops be landed if the enemy has temporary and local air superiority?

So far, he said, the answer to the second question has been satisfactory from the British viewpoint.

This source said there had been "practically no losses" so far in British landings in Norway but that "we can't expect that happy state to continue forever."

One Virtually Isolated

Germans on the whole Atlantic seaboard around "the nose" from the Skagerrak, he said, virtually have been isolated from all except air communications.

On the home front, the ministry of home security "urgently" warned Britons against raising shades to watch night air battles from lighted windows.

The Allied high command still veiled its troop movements to keep the Germans guessing where their expeditionary force would strike.

Frontier dispatches revealed, however, that the Germans were trying to get reinforcements by air to stave off impending attacks on two fronts —the Trondheim region on the west central coast and the Oslo district.

Are Encircling Trondheim

A Norwegian communique said British troops, appearing in eastern Norway 160 miles from their point of landing, had helped repulse the German advance north of Oslo while other Allied forces were said to be encircling Trondheim after making landings north and south of that strategic city.

British claimed their transport of troops to Norway had been carried out without any losses due to repeated German bomb attacks. The admiralty and an officer, in a joint communique, said Namsos, 100 miles north of Trondheim, was bombed severely by nazi planes damaging the town but failing to cause casualties among Allied troops there. The British trawler Rutlandshire was sunk but her crew was saved.

Underdogs Of East Texas Finally Win

(By The Associated Press)

Henderson and Jacksonville, underdogs in the East Texas league, came through with their first victories of the season yesterday.

Jacksonville, with rallies in the sixth and seventh innings, overcame the Marshall Tigers 4-3.

Longview bowed to Henderson, 9-1, as southpaw Hugh Sparks tightened in the pinches.

The Palestine Pals continued their winning ways with a 5-2 victory over the Tyler Trojans.

Kilgore, sharing an unblemished season with Palestine, defeated Texarkana 11-10 in 11 innings.

Man Is Killed In An Effort To Save Wife

KANSAS CITY, April 22. (AP)—Austin Tucker, 55, WPA truck driver, dashed into his burning home last night to save his wife, who he believed was inside.

He was burned to death.

His wife was visiting a daughter.

Little Saving Now Expected

WASHINGTON, April 22. (AP)—Influential lawmakers predicted today that Congress would appropriate about $7,870,000,000 at this session, resulting in little if any savings under President Roosevelt's budget estimates.

Although the president told reporters last week that it seemed likely Congress might cut about $200,000,000 off the 1941 expenditures which he proposed last January, some senators said this now appeared impossible.

To Wipe Out Savings

As an illustration, they pointed to the likelihood the army and navy would ask supplemental funds of $100,000,000 or more for defense needs which were not considered in the original budget. An expenditure of this nature virtually would wipe out the tentative reductions of $118,051,334 which have been made in appropriations bills considered so far.

Chairman Harrison (D-Miss) of the senate finance committee commented:

"If we get through with this session and stay within the president's original budget estimates, Congress will have done a fine job."

Could Stay Within Limit

The president's budget estimates were so drawn that, if Congress stayed within them and raised $460,000,000 in new taxes the treasury could remain within the $45,000,000,000 statutory debt limit in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1941.

Developments since then, however, have indicated that there will be no tax bill in this pre-election session. Congressional leaders pointed out that if a $50,000,000 cut were made in the president's budget, a $350,000,000 increase in revenues would clear the slate without additional imposts.

Still to be considered are the $975,000,000 relief bill and last-minute appropriations which may be put into a final deficiency bill.

Stocky Ex-Convict Is Jailed In Labor Extortion Racket

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, April 22—George Scalise, 43, a stocky ex-convict, undertaker and powerful subchieftain of the American Federation of Labor, today answered criminal charges that he had collected $100,000 in a labor extortion racket with a statement that he was a "victim of political aspirations."

Detectives seized the $25,000-a-year president of the Building Service Employes International union in a pre-dawn raid Sunday in a $9-a-day room at a midtown hotel.

They acted on instructions telephoned from San Francisco by District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey, who is campaigning for the Republican presidential nomination.

The union leader of 70,000 scrubwomen, chambermaids, elevator operators, porters and window cleaners was hustled to a police station and booked on charges of extorting $100,000 in the last three years from 20 New York hotels and 11 window cleaning firms.

Scalise, who served 4 1-2 years in Atlanta federal prison for white slavery in 1914, was released in $40,000 bail posted by his union after spending the day in Tombs prison. His secretary, Ann Kay, arrested as a material witness, was freed in $20,000 bail.

"The union is for Scalise what a jimmy is for a burglar," Gurfein told Judge Schurman. "He ruled by fear and force."

Gurfein named as co-conspirators with Scalise two other union officials — Izzy Schwartz, eastern representative of the building service union, and his brother, Louis Schwartz, president of local 32J.

The Schwartz brothers, indicted Feb. 28 on charges of conspiracy to commit extortion, are free in $6,000 bail each.

again caused extensive damage as far south as the Gulf of Mexico. Fruits and early vegetables suffered heavy losses in Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Alabama and the Carolinas.

Planting Is Delayed

Cold and wet weather during recent weeks eastward from the Ohio valley and south to the gulf delayed spring plowing and planting. In middlewestern states the ground remained too dry for planting.

Precipitation—snow and rain—from the Canadian border south to the gulf between the Rocky mountains and the Mississippi river has been about two-thirds of normal since last August. Many areas have had less than half normal precipitation.

Eleven Persons Die In Highway Crash

SLAYTON, Minn., April 22. (U.P.)—Highway police said today they believed that excessive speed "up to 80 miles per hour" had caused the deaths of 11 young persons in a head-on collision of two automobiles.

Sheriff George Nelson said that the crash early Sunday was the worst highway accident in the history of the state. He believed that one of the cars had been unable to hold the road while rounding the curve where the cars collided.

Four boys and two girls who were returning to their homes in one car after a party were killed. Five of the seven young persons in the other car were killed.

Students Of District Win Regional Honors

Several students from this district of the Interscholastic league won honors at the regional meet in Canyon Saturday, in addition to Lubbock winners.

Thelma Hale of Spur won second place in senior girls' high school declamation. Dorothy Ann Dooley of Sandhill, Floyd county, won second place in senior girls' rural school declamation and Billy Marley of Leatherwood, Crosby county, won second in junior boys' rural school declamation. Bonnie Faye Goodrich of Plainview won second in Class A ready writers and Dorothy Dell Oats of Southland won first in Class B ready writers. Jimmie Little of Lamesa won second in junior boys' ward school declamation.

Mexicans Picked Up

Two Mexicans were picked up for indecent exposure, and one was found in possession of a purse belonging to a student of Texas Technological college.

The drunks played quite a part in the weekend's reports. One went to the residence of a woman, got in her bed and was off for what he thought would be a long, uninterrupted sleep. Another got in a cab and wouldn't climb out—or so he thought. A "regular herd" of them were booked.

Week Of Festivities On In San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, April 22. (U.P.)—A week of frivolous festivities, broken only by a solemn pilgrimage to the Alamo, began today with the opening of the Fiesta de San Jacinto.

King Antonio XXII arrives by train late today and his identity will not be revealed until he leads a parade.

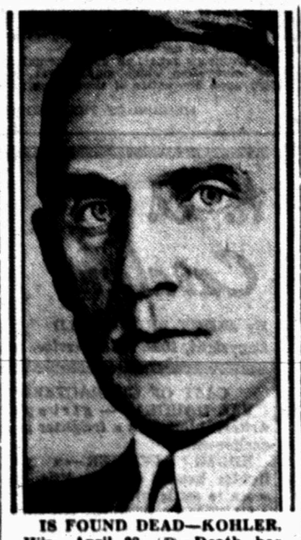

The pilgrimage tonight will have 5,000 members of patriotic societies and school groups participating. Wreaths will be placed before the Alamo.

Daughters of trail drivers and the state association of pioneers opened their conventions today in conjunction with the fiesta.

Social high spot of the week is the Thursday night coronation of the fiesta queen, a San Antonio debutante whose name is yet to be disclosed.

The son of an Austrian immigrant who founded an enamelware and farm equipment plant, he started as a $1.25-a-day laborer in his father's shop and rose to the position of millionaire plumbing manufacturer and a term as governor of Wisconsin. He was found dead yesterday in his room at his country estate.

Bankers Meet

predicted a better future awaited bankers of this area.

Lang E. Holt, manager of Lubbock office of the Social Security board, gave a back ground of the act and cited changes made by amendments adopted by Congress. He told how it affected bankers and bank employes and added the act is not yet complete.

In a well prepared address which he read, interspersed with dry humorous comments, John E. Owens, vice president of the Republic National bank of Dallas, pointed out the need of change for the better in all human relations. The changing order, he said, applied to banks as well as to business.

"Men must change their minds," he declared, "the old banking system as it existed in the early days of this nation was economically unsound. The great change came in 1863 when Congress passed the first national bank act. Do you know that banks of New York City kept national banks from becoming members of the clearing house association for two years after the act was passed?" Referring to the Glass-Owens act which established the present federal reserve system, he declared it to be "the bedrock of the American banking system. I think our banking system is the best banking system on earth."

Tariff System Traced

Owens traced the beginning of the tariff system from the days of Alexander Hamilton, secretary of the treasury. After the Civil war came "immense financial movements, the greatest in the world." With them came the menace of trusts and the need of regulation of large corporations that went outside the law. He referred to President Theodore Roosevelt and his so-called "trust-busting" program. Roosevelt, he said, believed in good trusts and admitted there were such, but felt they ought to be controlled.

Bitter criticism of the hoarding of gold in the United States by the federal government was given, the speaker pointing out the change in status of this nation from a debtor nation to a creditor nation following the world war.

Wage-Hour Law Discussed

T. C. Root, of the department of economics and business administration of Texas Technological college, discussed the wage and hour law as it affects banks.

During the afternoon a dance was given in the hotel. Golf minded bankers were guests at the country club.

A number of out of the district bankers were here. Among them were Warren P. Andrews, vice president Mercantile National bank, Dallas; Henry James, Farmers and Merchants National bank, Abilene; A. D. Lidia and John Wheatley, vice presidents, First National bank, Amarillo; F. M. Butler and Arthur Ware, vice presidents Amarillo National bank; Howard Paul, president, and Grady Oldham, vice president, American National bank, Amarillo; Champ Clark, vice president, First National bank, Fort Worth; R. H. Collier, chief federal bank examiner, Dallas; W. L. Pier, vice president, Fort Worth National bank; John Olson, vice president First National bank, Fort Worth and W. O. Stevens, jr., former Lubbock man and a vice president of Republic National bank, Dallas.

State Officials In City Today

Representatives of the Texas State Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, who are making a series of visits to accredited engineering schools, are in Lubbock today.

F. E. Rightor, of Austin and San Antonio, secretary of the board, and A. F. Mitchell of Corsicana, a member, are here. Carl Svensen of Lubbock also is a member of the six-member board.

To Speak At Tech

They will speak to the senior engineering class and engineering faculty members of Texas Technological college at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the engineering auditorium, said O. V. Adams, dean of engineering.

Practice of visiting colleges accredited by the Engineering Council for Professional Development was begun this year. Purpose is to explain to seniors the preparation for registration with the state board, said Svensen. A minimum of four years of progressive experience after graduation from college is necessary.

Accredited engineering schools in the state are those at the University of Texas, Texas A. and M., Rice institute, Southern Methodist university and Texas Tech. Representatives of the board visited A. and M. college recently.

The meeting tonight will not be closed, should anyone other than seniors and faculty members wish to attend, said Dean Adams.

U. S. Farm Debt

present funds cost 4 per cent.

Thus, instead of the present 5.8 per cent interest on government loans, a 3 per cent rate could be extended the farmer without cost to the government, except on outstanding bonds to be retired by 1946.

Operation Is Explained

Refinancing of FCA mortgages would operate as follows:

If a farmer-borrower felt that his mortgage was excessive, he could ask for an appraisal by a designated county committee of farmers.

If this committee found the mortgage in excess of the "productive value" of the farm, or found the periodic payments due on the mortgage exceeded "the normal farm income available for such payments," the FCA would take title to the land, cancel the mortgage and lease the farm back to the borrower for a "trial" period of not more than five years.

At the end of the lease period, the FCA would convey the farm to the tenant at a price based on the productive value under a loan payable within 40 years.

Could Ask Refinancing

Farmers indebted to private lenders also could apply to the FCA for refinancing. In such cases, the FCA would offer the mortgage holder its bonds or cash not to exceed the productive value of the farm.

In event private lenders rejected an FCA offer, sponsors of the measure said, the farmer could ask the mortgage-holder to foreclose. The farmer then would be in a position to repurchase the farm ostensibly at its "actual value" with the aid of a FCA loan.

New England flood peril was believed reduced by low temperatures and the cessation of rain that had fallen for two days. Cities along many of the swift rivers reported slight rises but all were below flood stage.

Vermont experienced the full force of the blizzard and 10 inches of snow was reported near the Canadian border.

That Girl on Broadway says it takes all kinds of people to make a world but only a few of the wrong kind unmake it.

We've reached the point where we believe anything can happen these days.

In fact, we'll bet you it will.

SEVERAL weeks ago, as was duly chronicled in the columns of The Avalanche-Journal, the widely circulated Christian Science Monitor, published in Boston, came out with an editorial headed "What's The Fare To Lubbock?" The Monitor set out in the editorial a number of the better points of our thriving community—points both real and imaginary—and gave us a grand send-off which is certainly to be appreciated.

Ever since the Monitor carrying the editorial was delivered, The Plainsman has been receiving tear-sheets—tear-sheets not only from the Monitor, itself, but from various and sundry papers all over the country which clipped the piece and, giving credit to the Monitor, republished it.

We've had 'em from New York, from Florida, from Mississippi, from other cities in Texas, from Montana, Minnesota, New Mexico—in fact, from about half the states in the Union. And on Saturday we received from Mrs. Robert Travis Canon a tear-sheet from a newspaper published in California, carrying the editorial "What's The Fare To Lubbock?" Mrs. Canon got the piece from a friend living in the far-western state.

Mrs. Canon lives right across the alley from The Plainsman and there is a good deal of scurrying back and forth by members of the two families. Therefore, Mrs. Canon, as well as her good husband, is fully aware that the business of writing a column is very serious indeed, so in addition to the "What's The Fare To Lubbock?" clipping, she also sent in a couple more, thinking—and rightly so—that they might help us over the hump.

One of the clippings, from a Fairbanks, Alaska, paper, chronicled in high glee the fact that it was colder in Texas on April 8 than it was in Alaska, and the other gave the method of establishing the date of Easter Sunday—always a puzzle to The Plainsman and a lot of other people.

READERS up around Muleshoe, including the Muleshoe Journal's erudite Editor Jess Mitchell, will be proud to learn that Muleshoe broke into Alaskan print in the story about the weather. That article pointed out that while Muleshoe was experiencing 28-degree weather, Fairbanks was baking under a 72-degree sun on the same day. It was on the Fairbanks front page, too, by golly, headed "Cold In Texas, Warm In Alaska."

As for the information concerning Easter, you might like to clip it out for future reference.

Contributed by one Eric Tatom, of Nashville, Tenn., method of setting the Easter date is thus explained:

"As Easter is celebrated on the Sunday following the first full moon after the vernal equinox, it may fall on any one of the 35 days beginning with March 22 and ending with April 25. Since 1 A. D., the festival has occurred 76 times on April 16 and a minimum number of 15 times on April 25. The 1940 date, March 24, has not occurred since 1799 and will not occur again until 2391."

We thought you might like to know.

Before getting off the subjects of Mrs. Robert Travis Canon and Alaska, we simply must tell you of another item of interest, similarly connected.

Just across the room from the desk where The Plainsman daily slaves is a bookcase and on the bookcase is a heavy, bone-like article which attracts the attention of every visitor.

To be definite about it, this bone-like article is a portion of a tusk of a now extinct mastodon which a million or so years ago used to romp around what is now Alaska in large droves.

About 14 inches long and two-and-a-half inches in circumference, this piece of tusk weighs about two pounds and looks singularly like ivory. It came from under an Alaskan glacier, where it laid for an eon or two and was sent to Mrs. Canon by the same kinfolks who sent her the Fairbanks weather story clipping.

Since she had heard us remark that our office is a combination museum, chamber of commerce, political club and loafing place for all and sundry with nothing to do, Mrs. Canon gave us the tusk.

We appreciated it, too, even if its age does make us feel more than a trifle insignificant.

SPEAKING of the age of that tusk which Dean William Curry Holden tells us might be a million years old, reminds The Plainsman that everything in life is temporary.

If you're happy today, remember you won't always be happy.

If, on the other hand, you are bent double with trouble, remember, too, that the sun will shine for you again—and before long.

Since everything is temporary in this life, nothing is very important except the way we prepare for the life to come.

So why worry about anything else?

Don't bother to answer the telephone when it rings while you're in the bathtub. Cleanliness is ever so much more important than conversation.

That Man on Avenue Q says "intuition" is a woman's ability to read between a man's lyings.

A New York paper reports that a Texan, "with two revolvers, a knife, brass knuckles and a pair of dark glasses," has been arrested in the Big Town.

Sounds to us that he might be an optimist taking a sorely needed vacation.

A PLEASANT visitor the other day was Walter Ruffner, one-time secretary to Ray Hinchey over at the gas company; onetime consular attache in the Orient, but at present the big boss of census-taking in 80 Northwest Texas counties, including the Panhandle-Plains region.

As we conversed on this, that and the other thing in connection with the nose-counting, Mr. Ruffner pointed out that the 1940 census is more important to the individual than any ever taken before. The reason: Social security.

Since the last federal census, taken in 1930, both national and state governments have committed themselves to finnancially aiding aged citizens. Since those receiving that aid must establish official testimony concerning their birth dates, the census report covering each individual is accepted by the government as evidence of the age of the individual. Thus, the man or woman enumerated this year may need the record to prove his or her age at the time he or she begins to receiving old age benefits.

Mr. Ruffner says the Census Bureaus knows full well that in past censuses many men—and a lot more women—have falsified their ages, but there's nothing they can do about that now. But those who are counted this year should be sure to tell the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth about how old they are.

Further than that, everyone who lives in the glorious U.S.A. at the present time should make sure he is counted, and that his age thus goes down in the official figures.

He may think he'll never want, need or accept old age payments but he'll never really know until he reaches the age where the payments are dished out.

Therefore, he'd better get himself counted—and tell the truth!

"The best way to hold a job," counsels a psychologist, "is to cultivate a pleasing personality."

Maybe so. But there are still thousands of oldfashioned employers who entertain the quaint notion that doing a little work now and then is of prime importance.

HERE AND THERE: Note to Avalanche-Journal reporters, as well as to the section's journalism students and writers on other papers who may peruse this column: The reader isn't interested in how many big words you know . . . If you're planning to vacation in Mexico, as many are, be sure you get your family doctor to vaccinate you against smallpox and also give you typhoid shots . . . The projected paved highway from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Buenos Aires, Argentine, is declared by sponsors to be more than half complete . . . It will be, if and when finished, more than 14,000 miles in length, extending through Mexico, Central America and along the western coast of South America into Bolivia and Chili, thence toward its terminal . . . Tremendous interest and considerable work on the project is claimed in South America . . . Lubbock, incidentally, is a logical location on the portion of the highway in the United States . . . Despite popular opinion to the contrary, the American Indian is the most fun-loving, laughing and practical-joking of the races; this is the assertion of Dr. George T. Hunt, professor of history in Cleveland college and himself a member of the Sioux tribe . . . One of the more famous golf courses in England, that at Portadown, has been plowed up for the growing of flax.

YESTERDAY: Captain Steve Hansen welcomes Val Douglas aboard the Northern Belle. Val is shipping on her uncle's freighter to find atmosphere for a new novel. Hansen remembers her as a little girl, is amazed to find her a beautiful young woman. She tells him of her feud with Eddie "K. O." Cavalier, a promising fighter. Val insists that Cavalier's fight in San Francisco had nothing to do with her vacation trip.

CHAPTER II

Steve Hansen laughed. "I ain't hinting you followed him out here, you little devil. I was just making mention of the fact that he was here. We'll be getting back from Prince Ruppert to see him fight, though, if you're interested."

"Not interested. No busman's holiday for me. I'm vacationing, you know."

"What about that book you're writing?"

"Oh, that? I'm just going to soak up loads and loads of atmosphere. I'll do the actual writing later on. Which reminds me . . . it's been years and years since I've been aboard the 'Belle.' Don't you think you'd better take me on a little tour of inspection and introduce me to the crew?"

"Okay, Matey, let's shove off. Don't suppose you've gone to sea much since you left Frisco."

"You're wrong there, Captain Hansen. I've spent my last four summer vacations sailing and yachting up around Maine. I'm not the landlubber you think I am."

He rubbed his chin. "Betcha my spare peg leg you had a lot of classy, blue-blood shipmates up that way, though. The hands aboard the 'Northern Belle' have a different cut to their jib, as you'll probably find out. Rough, tough, cussin', sea-farin' men. Think you can handle th' situation?" he inquired humorously.

She stopped short, feet spread and hands on hips. "I can handle any situation, anytime, Steve Hansen, and don't you think differently for one minute."

He looked at her and mentally agreed.

She bubbled on excitedly as they made the rounds. Finally in a more serious vein: "What's going up this trip, Stevie, and what're we bringing back?"

A slight frown flitted over his face. "Except for some pretty valuable mining machinery, we're going up rather light."

"Mining machinery?" she echoed. "Consigned to whom?"

"Outfit called Halliday Resources. They control more mines and lumber than is good for one company to have. They need this machinery in a big hurry. On th' trip back we're going to load up with a hold full of spruce and fir. They've just about promised your Uncle Hank that they'll give him a year's contract on all their shipping if they like our service."

"Swell! Great! It's in the bag, Steve."

"Hope so, honey. Your uncle needs that contract. It'll help us recondition a couple of the older ships in the line. If we don't get 'em in shape soon we're liable to have trouble with the gov'ment."

"But Steve, there's no reason why we can't give 'em as good service as they can get on the coast. Or is there?" she asked slowly, noticing the look on his face.

"No—there isn't. It's just that this is so goldarned important and so much can happen before we get to Prince Rupert and back again. We—we've been havin' a lot of tough luck lately."

"What kind of tough luck, Steve?"

"Oh, nothin' that you ought to be worryin' about. You just think o' havin' a good time and enjoyin' yourself for the next couple weeks. Although, frankly, I can't see how a gal like you is going to have much fun on a dirty old tub like this. There won't be any fancy salads at mess, an' you won't have any perfumed bath salts. You'll have a salt bath, instead."

She was indignant. "Captain Hansen, I'm surprised at you. In the first place I'm not going to let you call the 'Northern Belle' a tub, and it isn't dirty, either. You know darned well it's spotless from stem to stern and—and inside out, or whatever it is they call a ship from top to bottom."

He chuckled heartily and put a huge arm around her waist. "Speaking of salads, you've seen just about everything but the galley. C'mon, you've got to meet Wong Lee."

"Steve, I've been thinking," she said slowly as they crossed the afterdeck. "In view of the fact that this voyage is a little more important than the others let's forget about me being first mate. It . . . well,

STRANGE DOINGS, INDEED

Strange at times are the workings of the boards of various types which make investigations of one kind or another in colleges or universities.

A case in point was a recent investigation of somewhat vague nature by a board of three representing the North Central Association of Colleges into conditions in New Mexico State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts in Las Cruces.

The investigation must have been most thoroughgoing, academically speaking. The report of it required 18,000 words. Its detail was such that it called attention to a minor grammatical error contained in a letter which had been written by the president of the school. It expressed great "respect" and "deep sympathy" for practically every element entering into the operation of the New Mexico college—including the president, faculty, curriculum, program of instruction, the library and the major portion of the physical plant.

The examiners then proceeded to recommend that the college be dropped from the association's accredited list. The recommendation is analogous to a doctor who would "treat" an injured patient with a sledge-hammer.

However, perhaps the college was fortunate that the examiners were filled with the spirit of respect and sympathy. Otherwise they might have decided to put dynamite under the school and finish the job right there.

THIS one made the rounds about 200 years ago. Frederick William of Prussia got Adolfunny ideas and cast covetous eyes at the lowlands. One day, at a military function (to which he invited representatives of the foreign nations) he decided to shock the assemblage by parading his special guard of superbly trained men. All were skyscrapers, measuring 6½ feet high.

He stood next to the Dutch ambassador, who kept muttering: "Not tall enough, not tall enough."

"You're nuts!" said Germany's Fred'k William, "these troops are the tallest in the world—all are 6½ feet and many are 7 feet!"

The Netherlands official smiled and said: "You don't understand. You see, your Majesty, we can flood our country to a depth of eight feet."

"Don't let that bother you," consoled the officer, "the ground in France is very uneven!" . . . Then there's the one from London about the British Major who just returned from the Maginot line on furlough. He was in his veddy exclusive kleb.

"Majah," he was asked, "how do you like the war?"

"Dreadful," was the bored reply, "such noise! And—such people!"

DOUGLAS WILLIAMS, who is at GHQ in France for the London Telegraph, writes us that in the last war the British soldiers sealed their letters home with the initials S. W. A. K. (Sealed with a kiss). In this war, SWAK has become BOLTOP—the abbreviation for "Better on Lips Than on Paper." . . . The prison guard looked at Hitler out of the corner of his eye and watched the Ratzi leader rub his chained wrists. "Well, Adolf," said the guard, "this was unexpected, yah?"

"Ach, yah," said Hitler, "but vait. Stalin vill rescue me."

"Maybe," reminded the guard, "but it's gonna be a heluva swim from St. Helena!"

A guy went up to the $50 window at Tropical Park and bought ten of them for $500. As he was looking them over a $2 bettor came up and asked him: "Where's the $2 window, buddy?"

"Well," replied the $2 bettor, "just hang around this window, brother, and you'll find out!"

MONTE PROSER, the Beachcomber boss, tells about the railroad official who decided to mingle with the workers. When he came to the switch system he was puzzled. "What would you do," he asked a track man, "if an eastbound express were to come through?"

"I'd throw the switch this way," he explained.

"And if a westbound?"

"Then, I'd switch it that way!"

"Suppose," said the official, "the switches got stuck — what then?"

"I'd flag the trains."

"S'pose they didn't see you?"

"Oh, then I'd phone my girl."

"Why would you phone her?"

"To tell her to hurry down—if she wanted to see the damndest wreck she ever saw!"

Agriculture Department Worried Over War And Our Export

So Cotton Stamp Plan Is The Direct Result

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Real story back of the extension of the stamp plan to cotton goods is that the Agriculture department is plenty worried about what the war may do to our export trade.

Plan starts in Memphis May 3, and will be started in two or three other cities within the following fortnight. There are no plans for expansion beyond that. It's strictly an experiment, and the war is the chief reason for it.

Catton

Secretary Wallace figures it like this:

War has already hit our agricultural exports; it'll probably hit them worse as time goes on, and may stop some of them—like cotton—entirely. If that happens, we have to "live at home" and consume things that we used to sell abroad. Hence, it's smart to find out whether the stamp plan would be a workable means of solving that problem. The department already knows what the plan's possibilities are in the case of foods; now it wants to know about cotton.

Grower Will Get Small Share

Cotton is a different sort of problem. Most of the money spent on the food stamp scheme found its way to the farmer. With cotton, not more than about 20 cents out of every dollar will go to the grower; the rest will go to labor, to distribution and to the retailer. It's the first time the stamp plan has offered a cut to non-agricultural labor, which will get the biggest slice of all.

Plan will be the same as for food stamps, in that the same people—reliefers—will participate, and will get free stamps, good in any store, along with the stamps they pay cash for. Stamps will be good for purchases of cotton goods. The plan will be different in that stamps will be distributed quarterly instead of twice a month; also the outlets will be mostly department stores instead of grocery stores.

Nobody knows yet, of course, whether it will be as popular. Nobody knows what sort of cotton goods the stamp recipients will want—mattresses, shirts, underwear, sheets, or what-not. Nobody is even sure that the plan is administratively feasible. That's why it'll start slowly.

Stamp Plan Expands

Meanwhile, the food stamp plan gives every sign of being destined to go on getting bigger instead of smaller. It's expanding fast now; is operating in 50 cities, will start presently in 20 more, will probably be in 100 by July 1 and 125 shortly thereafter.

Which means costs are going up. By March 1 of this year, $5,500,000 had been spent on it; to maintain it through the next fiscal year, which begins in July, at the rate it will be going when July comes, will take anywhere from $75,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Even that doesn't tap the plan's possibilities. Operating in 125 cities, the plan will reach only 3,000,000 people—and there are 20,000,000 eligible in the U. S. To let them all in on it would take around $360,000,000 a year.

Don't be too sure Congress won't eventually vote that. The plan builds up oodles of back-home pressure. This spring, when the Senate was asked to tack $85,000,000 in stamp funds onto the farm bill, the vote in favor was 79 to 0.

The thing may easily keep on growing until it approaches the maximum.

Germans Claim Victories On All Fighting Fro

Allied Losses Are Reported

BY RICHARD C. HOTTELET
United Press Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, April 22—The high command said today that two more Allied submarines and two Allied merchant ships had been destroyed and a British destroyer had been bombed.

The newspaper Swoelf Uhr Blatt claimed that in the first 12 days of the Scandinavian campaign, up to last night, Great Britain had lost 29 airplanes and 61 warships as follows: Four battleships, two battle cruisers, one airplane carrier, four heavy cruisers, 10 other cruisers, 12 destroyers, 13 submarines and 15 transport ships.

Successes Are Claimed

The high command said that German fliers "again successfully attacked British troops attempting to land at Namsos and Andalsnes," that German troops had reached new "important points" in the vicinity of Trondheim; that German troops at Oslo and Stavanger had established contact by way of Kristiansand and that other German forces had captured the towns of Lillehammer, 78 miles north of Oslo, and Gjoevik, 12 miles northwest of Hamar, and the heights of Lundehaedge, "inflicting heavy losses on the enemy."

"In the vicinity of Bergen, more modern artillery and other material were captured," the high command said.

The official news agency said Germans had confiscated 380,000 pairs of military boots at Bergen Saturday. The boots were destined for Britain, the agency said.

Narvik Bombarded

The high command said Allied naval forces had bombarded Narvik again yesterday without attempting to land troops.

The Swoelf Uhr Blatt considered the Norwegian campaign now virtually ended. It said that "for reasons of prestige, Churchill (Winston, first lord of the British admiralty) continues to carry out clumsy landing maneuvers here and there, but the selection of troops he sends into fire—Canadian and French soldiers—shows all too clearly that he recognizes the uselessness of further undertakings."

German sources, meanwhile claimed victories on every front in Norway during the week-end.

schools; pointing out that in my opinion the present methods are not fair to many of the children whose parents cannot afford many extra-curricular activities. When I said "I wonder," I certainly did use a poor phrase. As a matter of fact, I do not "wonder" how it is to get along on a small income, I know. I was brought up in a family characterized so smugly by many as "poor, but honest," and we never had money to kick into the street—which, incidently, I do not have now. Further than that, I came to Lubbock from a $37.50 per week job to a $20 per week job because I thought the future was better here than where I was. Earlier than that I had a job on a small paper where I earned $15 a week and got my room and laundry thrown in. I am a long, long way from being an "economic royalist," my friend. I am sure, however, that you have exaggerated local school conditions. There are a couple of hundred or so teachers in the Lubbock school system and, since they are human beings, come of them perhaps are at times both thoughtless and unfair. But I don't believe very many are. Certainly the contacts I have had with the teachers have taught me that the rank and file are uniformly kind, earnest—and generous. No one knows how many times per year Lubbock teachers contribute of their outside time and of their slender finances to help youngsters along the way but I, for one, know these is a lot of that sort of fine thing going on. The great majority of our teachers are swell. Never-the-less, basically your letter interests me. I think it discusses a vital problem which is national as well as local in its scope. Therefore, when you're coming downtown sometime, won't you call in advance on the phone—so I will be sure to be in the office—and discuss this matter with me personally? One more thing, please. Your memory plays you false in my "staunch defense of social clubs." I did not defend the clubs as a part of school, which they are not. I defended the right of the parent to decide whether or not a child should belong to a club which meets after school hours and away from school property, instead of permitting school authorities to make such decisions. I still hold to that opinion, believing that school authorities should administer to school affairs, parents to outside affairs. Thanks very much for your letter. Sincerely and respectfully, The Plainsman.)

games every night at the park, always two, sometimes more.

Seasons are hard to determine from type of sports alone now. Over at Chapman Field and at Tech Stadium, it might well be mid-fall. At the former place, there's Coaches "Goober" Keyes, Walker Nichols, and Cy LaMaster putting a record number of state championship hopefuls through their paces. Coach "Nick" Nichols lets out a persuasive little call for his guards to step up and dish it out. They do — a line of six hefties that would do justice to a college eleven. Ends step forward —six of 'em. Tackles — the same thing happens. And so on down the line to the centers, a trio taking their places.

Coach Keyes is going through the same procedure with the prospective leather luggers. That's right, there's three complete teams cavorting for the Westerners—three elevens that quicken the pulse and acuses one to start toward home with the idea of breaking that penny bank to place a few early "cinches."

We asked Coach Keyes some few days before spring training started just what he had in the way of material. "Come out and see for yourself," was the answer. Well, we crawled out on more than one limb last season and they all held, so mark this down on the old cuff: If there's anyone around capable of holding a light to Messrs. Robert McKinnon, Leete Jackson, Max Walthall, Billy Wright, Dale Odom, and company with that "hell bent for leather" line tearing up things, then we haven't heard of 'em. Furthermore, we don't believe we will twixt now and pumpkin-plucking time either.

And though we are not quite as optimistic for the Raiders, they're short odds on anybody's spring books.

SHORT AND TO THE POINT —Hizzoner T. T. Hall of Glassgow, Mo., has added his name to the Avalanche-Journal subscriber list . . . To keep up with Hubber prospect Second Baseman and Pitcher Thomas Meyer Hall's doings . . . Have heard nothing but complimentary remarks on new Tech Co-Captains Lonnie McCurry and Tyrus Bain . . . Some smarty Lamesa pulled in acquiring Malcolm Stevens, slugging mainstay with '38-'39 Hubbers . . . He's in for plenty good-natured razzing when the season opens tomorrow . . . Those Hubber names, easy after a few efforts, are going to give the league's sports writers plenty troub, however . . . If Manager Charley Engle, already a big hit with local fandom, so desired, he could — with his original list — put practically a team of S's on the field: Sandretto, Schlereth, Schoppman, Schweda, Sitek, Stack and Stine . . . Speaking of nicknames for the boys, they would start calling Roy Finocchiaro, ace hurler, "Pinnocchio!"

There's to be a clipping process in the Hubber ranks, possibly today, another one in the next ten days . . . And the sad part is that several of the best players must be released because their original salaries are so high they could not be retained under the league's salary limit . . . And charges and counter charges along this line toward Lubbock last year can be nipped in the bud now . . . The Chisox aren't holding out on anyone . . . And that's that . . . Ace Lillard, the dare devil who performed at Fox Recreation park Sunday, has suffered only 47 broken bones in the decade he has been "defying death" . . . That's what one calls getting the "breaks" of the game . . .

Congratulations are in order for Coaches Mule Davis, Loric Liston and Gordon Thompson for the fine junior track and field meet they conducted at Tech Saturday . . . "Watch those youngsters; they'll be state champions soon — if they stick together," Mule warns confidentally . . . And that's not rash, considering that nine of last year's Westerner "iron" team had come up from Cowboy ranks shoulder to shoulder . . . If and when he gets the chance he deserves, watch Marshall Brown make his name in baseball . . . The tall Tech athlete has perfect form . . . gained through hours of practice while a youngster . . . So, don't be surprised if he is wearing a Hubber uniform for good ere long.

Need Laxative? Take All-Vegetable One

Don't let impatience lead you to harsh measures for the relief of constipation!

There's no use, for a little spicy, all-vegetable BLACK-DRAUGHT taken by simple directions, will gently persuade your bowels.

Taken at bedtime, it generally allows time for a good night's rest. Morning usually brings punctual, satisfying relief from constipation and its symptoms such as headaches, biliousness, sour stomach, no appetite or energy.

BLACK-DRAUGHT'S main ingredient is an "intestinal tonic-laxative" which helps tone intestinal muscles. 25 to 40 doses, only 25c. Adv.

it was just sort of a gag, anyway, and I'd just be in the way. Tell you what—I'll sign on as a purser and give you a hand with business affairs.

"Here I had Barney MacGregor all smoothed over for nothing . . . And you up and resign before we even sail."

"Incidentally, Stevie, when do we lift anchor?"

"Two bells, prompt. That's 9 o'clock to you. We're just about loaded now."

They entered the galley and Hansen beckoned to a grinning Oriental. "Val, this is Wong Lee. He puts out the best mulligan stew on the coast. Trouble is, we told him we like it. That was our mistake. Now we get it every night."

"Claptain Hansen tell me you come, Missy. He make me biuy new cookbook to make fancy once in while. Yes?" He grinned still wider and Val had a faint suspicion that she was being the recipient of a gentle jibe. A look at Hansen's face convinced her.

"Thanks, Wong," she said; "but we won't be any fancier the next two weeks than we have been. But if you DO want a good Dutch Apple pie some time, just let me know, and I'll show you how it's done."

"Me call."

It was shortly before dinner that Val, hearing a commotion outside her cabin, opened the door to hear Hansen swearing softly.

"What's up Steve?" she asked quickly.

"Plenty," he snapped. "Three of the crew jumped ship. We were short-handed as it was, too. Can't sail tonight without replacements and we can't sign on anyone until morning."

"But Steve, we've got to sail tonight. We can't afford to wait until morning and you know it. What—what'll we do, Steve?"

"In th' old days," he growled, "we'd shanghai 'em. But these ain't th' old days. They make the laws stick today."

Her eyes glistened. "Steve . . . . let's!"

"Let's what?"

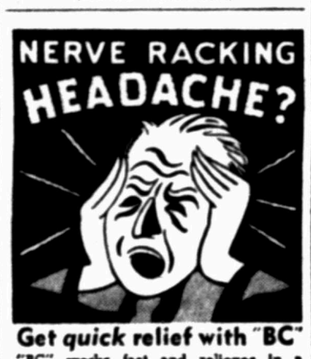

"Shanghai 'em! Oh, don't be a fussy old softie. You'll probably be doing three loafers a big favor, anyway. Make men of 'em."

"Hey . . . . hey! Wait a minute," he said hastily, noticing her expression. "You can't do that anymore. That's . . . . that's piracy. They'd hang us from the yardarm!"

"Oh, Steve . . . . c'mon. Just for me. Don't you want me to have some fun?"

He looked at her again. And then came the idea. "Okay, Matey. It's your party."
