Fire Causes Heavy Damage To Clark Home

A fire which started in the kitchen and swept into the upper stories of the home into which the Bill Clark family had just started to move last Thursday, did extensive damage.

The flames gutted the upper floor and caused considerable damage in the attic, while water, flooding down from above added to the destruction of the house's interior.

The fire broke out about 10 a.m. and when the first siren sounded, smoke was billowing in huge black clouds from the upper story.

However, the fire department was on the job almost immediately, and before after-church crowds could reach the spot, engines were in place and streams of water directed at the burning building.

The Clark family had started to move into the house last Thursday, and had been painting and clearing the building, which was formerly used as an antique shop by Mrs. Harry Traylor.

Part of the loss is covered by insurance.

Art Students Paint Mural For Home Show

Students of the Rockport School of Fine Arts have painted a mural depicting the Rockport waterfront that will be used as part of the decorations of a booth to be manned by local Chamber of Commerce members at the South Texas Home Show.

This starts next Saturday, March 24, and runs through April 1 at the Memorial Coliseum in Corpus Christi, with Wednesday, March 28 set aside as Rockport Day.

Local artists who engaged in the project, under Simon G. Michael school director, were Mrs. H. E. Elliot, Mrs. Travis Bailey, Mrs. Jerry Wendell, Mrs. James A. Jarboe, Mrs. Gene Bird, Mrs. Grace Lentz, and Mrs. Kit Dinger.

The mural will be used as the back drop for the booth, and other paintings made by students of the school, showing scenes around Rockport, will serve to graphically of this region's picturesque.

Adjacent to the Rockport booth will be another, that of Marine-land, where Homer Faber will display the latest in boats, motors, and marine equipment.

Manning the Chamber of Commerce booth at different times during the show, will be Delmar Hiller, Mrs. Mary Juergens, Mrs. Charles A. Roe, Mrs. Helen Johnson, Mrs. H. F. White, Mrs. Vernon Lambert, James Kautz, Mrs. Eugene Everett and Mrs. J. W. Pearce.

The South Texas Home Show this year will be bigger and better than ever, with some 114 exhibits, showing what's new in—what's ahead for you—in fashions, furniture, furnishings, home fittings, appliances, hardware, decorating autos, boats, sports equipment and the whole glittering pageant of the future.

In addition to the show exhibits, there are eight daily performances by nationally-famous stars like Colonel Seabright, who cavorts on a swaying pole, and such crowd-pleasers as the famous Lone Star Shetland pony hitch, which is a favorite everywhere.

School Bond Issue To Be Called Soon

Major Items Are New Junior High School And New Classroom Building At Rockport Elementary; Total Cost To Be $650,000

The Aransas County Independent School Board is laying plans to call an election, seeking approval of issuances of $650,000 in bonds to pay for badly-needed improvements to the school system.

Corpus Christi architect Lynn Evans has been given the go-ahead on more detailed drawings of the proposed improvements, and the School Board and the Aransas County Area Development Committee met this week and discussed a financing plan which will be included in the call for the bond issue.

Main items on the building program are a new junior high school plant, to cost in excess of $300,000 counting land acquisition and equipment, and a new elementary school at Rockport, supplementing facilities already on that campus and to cost in excess of $150,000.

Additional building plans call for two new classrooms at Fulton Elementary school, enlarging of the band room and library at the high school, which will continue to use its present plant including the space now occupied by the junior high school, and building of a room for mechanical drawing students on that campus, next to the present shop.

Preliminary drawings for the new junior high school call for 12 new classrooms, including a science laboratory; six rooms for offices and storage space; a cafeteria, kitchen and a health and physical fitness building to be built adjacent to the present high school.

Construction will be of masonry, brick, aluminum and glass, to conform to the architecture of the high school, and the classrooms will be arranged in two wings in each of which three classrooms will be built on either side of a wide hall. The administrative offices and cafeteria form a connecting link between the wings, and provision is made for future additions in case this should become necessary.

At the Rockport campus, the building once used as the high school will be torn down, and a new structure containing some fifteen classrooms will be built. Construction details will conform to the addition made to the Rockport school several years ago.

And, as removal of the present junior high school to the new building is effected, overcrowding in this part of the school system will be relieved. Hence, the only additions here will be the drawing room already mentioned, an extension of the band hall to approximately twice its present size, and remodeling of a portion of the old high school building to give more room to the library and homemaking departments.

These plans were drawn after a thorough survey of classroom needs was made by the staff of the school system, based on careful consideration of increases in scholastic population.

At Rockport Elementary, one new classroom will be needed next year, two in 1963-64; one in 1964-65; two in each of the following years 1965-66; and 1966-67; and one in 1967-68. Enrollment in this school has been increasing at the rate of 5.5% annually.

At Fulton Elementary, where the increase in students is 4% each year, projections of classroom needs call for only two during the period.

At the junior high school, where the increase of 7.8% annually is the greatest in the system, conditions are already greatly overcrowded, and needs there call for four new classrooms within the next five years, in addition to those already in use, and for new cafeteria and physical education facilities.

Enrollment in the senior high school, now increasing at the rate of 6% a year, calls for no new classrooms, plus the use of eight now used by the junior high school.

Two methods of financing have been worked out, one calling for bonds that will run for a period of ten years, the other calling for similar bonds to be paid off in twelve years.

No definite decision has yet been made on which will be included in the call, according to Dr. H. F. Elliot, president of the school board, nor, said he, has a definite date been set for the election. However, he stated, the election will probably be within the next 45 to 60 days.

Auto Inspection Deadline Near; No Extension

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, announced today there will be no extension of the April 15 deadline for inspection of all motor vehicles in Texas.

"The April 15 deadline this year falls on a Sunday, a day when most inspection stations are closed," Garrison noted. "We are not asking these stations to remain open on that day, under the law, there can be no extension of the deadline."

He said approximately 2,000,000 vehicles in the state remain to be inspected during the remaining 24 days of the 1962 inspection period. He urged motorists to get their inspection stickers early, pointing out that as the deadline approaches waiting lines will begin forming.

"We would like to point out that the purpose of motor vehicle inspection is to discover any defect that might become a link in a chain of events leading to an accident," the DPS director said.

"It is encouraging to note that since the inspection program began in 1951, vehicles having a defect that was a causative factor in fatal accidents decreased from 13 percent to three percent."

Under the law, persons operating vehicles without the 1962 inspection sticker on and after April 16 are subject to arrest. Authority to enforce the provisions of the Texas Motor Vehicles Inspection Act is vested in the patrolmen of the Department of Public Safety, sheriffs and their deputies, and city policemen.

DON'T FORGET YOUR W-2's

That W-2 tax form is a mighty important document! According to Robert H. Kintner, Administrative Officer of Internal Revenue Service, Corpus Christi, refunds cannot be paid without required W-2 withholding tax certificates; credit cannot be given for taxes withheld; and failure to include the certificate with your tax return will mean return of the incomplete form to the taxpayer. The IRS representative also reminded taxpayers that in a joint 1961 return, where both parties worked, W-2's for each must be attached. And when either or both parties to a return held more than one job during the year, all W-2's must be attached.

ARANSAS PASS

It happened 100 YEARS ago

The oldest incorporated trade association in the country, the United States Brewers Association, was organized in 1862... the same year that

IN TEXAS... near Galveston, Confederate General J. B. Magruder piled cotton bales on the decks of little river boats. These famous "cotton clads," manned by the 26th Texas Cavalry, trounced the Federal war fleet then holding Texas' largest port. As the war ships hastily departed, the event was toasted in good Texas-brewed beer.

For then, as now, beer was the traditional beverage of moderation — light, sparkling refreshment that adds a touch of Southwestern hospitality to any occasion. Texans have always enjoyed the good fellowship that goes with every glass.

TODAY, in its centennial year, the United States Brewers Association still works constantly to assure maintenance of high standards of quality and propriety wherever beer and ale are served.

AN OPEN LETTER TO TEXANS

There must indeed be something terribly wrong among us Texans if we feel we cannot spare one-third the price of a pack of cigarettes or of a single cup of coffee to keep open an institution dedicated to helping the physically handicapped people of our state. The Texas Rehabilitation Center of Gonzales, Texas, is a non-profit, non-sectarian, non-segregated facility offering a complete program of rehabilitation to victims of crippling accidents or diseases without restrictions as to race, creed, age, or the ability to pay.

One of the great rewards of life is that of a job well done. At Texas Rehabilitation Center we see patients enter on stretchers helpless physically, embittered, and emotionally disturbed. For some, their world crumbled in an instant; for others, their dreams were destroyed by the slow but relentless progress of disease. We watch the improvement of these patients—men, women, boys, and girls—from day to day. We see happiness return, we see determination grow with effort. School children become interested again in learning. Many of them overcome educational difficulties, others keep up with or get ahead of their schoolmates at home. The only schooling others get is obtained during their stay at TRC. Then comes a day when they leave the Center on crutches or in a wheel chair but with a new outlook on life and a new determination in their hearts. Can we—you and I—deny these people this blessing because of our selfishness?

The following letter from a former patient at the Center and appearing in a recent issue of the Austin American clearly puts the matter up to you and me:

"TO THE EDITOR:
"It is with a heavy heart that I have read of the imminent closing of the Texas Rehabilitation Center near Gonzales. A few years ago the Center was an invaluable help to me and I have loudly sung its praises ever since.

"There must be something very sick about a society that would allow so needed and splendid an institution to close its doors for lack of funds. Just 10 cents per capita in this state would pay off the Foundation's indebtedness. Most Texas families waste more than that each day.

"Inasmuch as ye did it not unto one of the least of these, ye did it not unto me."

Mel Worthington
403 West Oak Street
Austin, Texas

Have you done your part? "Inasmuch as ye did it not—"

Taxpayers Warned About Failure To Report Income

"Taxpayers who fail to report ALL taxable income for 1961 are liable to be called to account for it. In fact, they may be subject not only to the tax, but also to interest and penalties."

This warning came today from Robert H. Kintner, Administrative Officer of the Internal Revenue Service in Corpus Christi.

Numerous types of income besides salaries and wages must be included in the preparation of federal income tax returns if received.

"While the forms themselves and the accompanying instruction booklets detail several of the most common types of income which must be reported," the IRS representative said, "taxpayers are reminded that interest on savings accounts and Series 'E' U. S. Savings Bonds, tips, and most dividends and profits on sales of real or personal property, are taxable income."

Former Rockport Football Star To South America

Jim Weatherly, former Rockport student and football player on several Pirate teams, who is now attending Del Mar College, will also participate in the 1962 YMCA Work Camp, in Lima, Peru, this summer.

President of the Student Christian Association at Del Mar, Weatherly will assist in construction of the $419,000 central YMCA building in the South American city, according to Hubert Manire, YMCA secretary in Corpus Christi.

Lima has raised about half of the cost of the structure, with the remaining $204,000 received from the Y's "Building for Brotherhood" fund collected during a three-year period.

He was selected to represent the regional office of the 1961 National Student Council of YMCA's Buildings for Brotherhood Work Camp Project, comprising Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

After leaving Lima the group will visit Chile, Argentina, Uruguay, Brazil and Venezuela, before returning to New York about Aug. 25.

The work camp trip will cost about $1,000 for each participant. Recently the YWCA presented Weatherly with a check for $100 from the proceeds raised at the YWCA-YMCA youth carnival last fall.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. George Weatherly of Mission and formerly of Rockport, he graduated in 1960 from Aransas County High School, Rockport. At Del Mar he represents the Tech Club on the Student Council.

He is interested in drafting technology, in public relations, social work and architecture. He plans to get his technical degree from Del Mar Technical Institute and take enough academic credits to transfer to the University of Texas to complete a bachelor of arts and science.

At present he is taking structural drawing, building codes and employer-employee relations at Del Mar Tech and general psychology on the main campus.

He is vice president of the Older Youth department at South Bluff Methodist Church and was active in Methodist Youth Fellowship at Rockport Methodist Church.

Weatherly is a member of the YMCA Regional Frontiers and Race Relations Committee.

EASTER SEAL APPEAL MARCH 15 THROUGH APRIL 22

The 1962 Easter Seal Appeal in Texas and the nation will be conducted March 15 through Easter Sunday, April 22.

Mrs. Thomas S. West, San Antonio, President of the Texas Society for Crippled Children and Adults, which sponsors the annual appeal to win public support for crippled children and adults in Texas, said that more than a million and half homes will be reached in this year's mailing.

"It will be the most extensive, and if we are to meet our state's growing needs, it must be the most successful appeal in our history," she said.

Contributions received in response to the Easter Seal Parades and sheets of Easter Seals sent through the mails will be used to maintain and expand a variety of direct service for the thousands of crippled children and adults in Texas.

The 1962 Appeal, conducted simultaneously by the 1400 affiliates of the National Society for Crippled Children and Adults in the 50 states, District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, will mark 41 years of service to the crippled by the Easter Seal sponsored organizations.

Contributions in 1961 resulted in aid for 8,647 persons of all ages in Texas.

Story of How Local Girl Won Two Ribbons At Fair Is Interesting

The story of how Lynn Sweeney Dimmick, local sixth grader, won two blue ribbons at the science fair is interesting, and is contained in the written explanation that accompanied the exhibit on plankton which she prepared, and which won first in her division, and first for the entire show in her class.

Wondering how fishes like sea-horses and pipefish in her aquarium could be fed, she learned from her parents that their food was composed of plankton.

"We fed them some microscopic fresh water plankton called daphnia, and some newly-hatched brine shrimp. Sure enough," she said, "the seahorse curled his tail around the seaweed and whenever the tiny animals swam near, the seahorse or the pipefish would go 'Zot.' and they vanished."

Lynn got a microscope for Christmas that year, and, after a while, the book "The Sea Around Us", and learned how, through a biologist friend to see the plankton.

"Now," she says in her explanation, "all I lacked was plankton and I had to get my own to begin my science project."

This science project was sponsored by her teacher, Mrs. Albert Griffith, Jr., who teaches the sixth grade at Fulton Elementary.

"I used a plankton net," Lynn said, "which is shaped kind of like an air filter sock... made of thin net or very fine material... On my first throw... I caught some comb jellies, shrimp and a stony crab... At a landing back of the Riquette and Wendell Fish House... I caught lots of plankton."

Lynn caught plankton many other places, also, and found all sorts of other things, and used these for specimens on two of the portions of her exhibit.

She learned to make microscope slides also, and these slides formed another portion of her exhibit.

"I think I learned a lot about plankton in all its forms," she said.

"I studied diatoms, the smallest sea plants that are too small to be seen with the naked eye... they are round and brilliant crystal blue. I could never pick one up on a needle point, they are so small, and they were hard, covered with a hard shell made of the same material as sand. When diatoms bloom in the spring they can be so dense as to turn the water yellow, green or brown. The Red Sea gets its name from the diatoms that make its water seem red."

Lynn also learned about coral, comb jellies, other jellyfish, various types of mollusks, sand dollars, starfish and urchins.

But research has its drawbacks, especially when the material is kept in the kitchen. Once Lynn's mother reached for seasoning and came up with a jar of pickled squid, instead.

But the slides, the mounted specimens of coral and sea fans, and the bottled specimens which included a tiny octopus were prepared and mounted, and the exhibit was among the best at the El Campo science fair.
