ROCKPORT, ARANSAS COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, NOV. 2, 1961

No. 31

Along The Waterfront

Live Oak Lodges reports that Clyde W. Morgan, office manager of the Travelers' Insurance Company of Dallas, fishing from the pier, hauled in a bull red 30 1/2 inches long, weighing ten pounds.

Other Dallasites that have had excellent luck during their sixteenth winter visit to Rockport are:

Mrs. Mary Davis, of 6270 McOmmas, and her neighbor across the street, Mrs. Blanche Davis, have been putting their husbands Ed and Lee to shame. Their catch for the week has included a tubful of trout and rat reds, another 10-pound red; four 4-pound gaff-tops; two 3-pound flounders and 60 miscellaneous trout, including some that would weigh between two and three pounds each. They also caught a 4-pound flounder.

E. F. Schulze, of Enid, Okla., a regular winter visitor, came in a week ago and has been catching some beautiful strings of salt water trout. In one string, he had nine big ones, running from a pound to three pounds in weight. He has caught fish every day since he's been here.

Dr. Clark C. Collins and wife, of West Point, Neb., along with their small daughter and sons Craig, 12, and Robert, 10, have been visiting their parents and grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Collins, also of West Point, who are spending their nineteenth winter in Rockport. While here, the younger doctor and his sons caught several big strings of trout.

Mr. and Mrs. Ora Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Taylor, back for the winter from Osborne, Kans., brought some other folks with them—Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Garrison and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cady, to make fishermen out of them, and they've all been catching speckled trout since they've been here.

Other winter visitors who have been successful anglers this week are Mr. and Mrs. O. F. McNitt, of Cherokee, Okla., and Mrs. McNitt's brother and his wife, the Carl E. Hodgsons, of Wichita, Kans.

Reports from the Cove Bait Stand:

Floyd B. Kent, Jimmie Reid and C. C. Reid of Waco, caught 700 fish from Wednesday until Friday evening.

E. J. Hendrix, Wilson, Texas, 30 trout and reds.

George Bell, San Antonio, 5 pounds of trout and drum.

Theodore Bell, 8 trout; Autes Bell, 10 trout; Frank Bell, 6 trout; all of San Antonio.

Fishing has been real good lately. Lots of catches have been made each day that haven't been reported at the Bait Stand.

Lions Pay Tribute To Crippled Children's Camp This Month

Members of Lions Clubs of Rockport this month are pausing to pay recognition to their camp for crippled children which has given over 5,000 handicapped youngsters a new dimension of freedom since it was opened in 1953.

The camp, located at Kerrville in the Hill Country of Central Texas, is free to any crippled, blind, deaf or mute child between the ages of seven and 16. The 16 permanent buildings dotting the 504 hillside acres represent an investment of more than $600,000.

At the camp, these youngsters who have been denied a normal childhood through no fault of their own, learn to shed their shyness imposed by their handicaps. By mutual association with other handicapped children and by skillful and gentle counseling, these youngsters have found the freedom to grow, mentally and spiritually, into useful citizens of tomorrow.

While the Lions are paying tribute to their camp, we would like to pay tribute to the Lions and their friends who have supported this great venture of the heart. We know a man never stands so straight as when he stoops to help a crippled child.

Development Committee To Meet Thursday

The first meeting of the newly organized Area Development Committee will be held at 7 p.m. in the County Commissioners Court Room in Aransas County courthouse on Thursday.

James H. Sorenson, Jr., is chairman of the committee, with T. D. Picton, vice chairman, and Weldon Cabaniss, secretary. Other members of the group appointed last week by Aransas County Judge John D. Wendell are Emory M. Spencer, local oilman and real estate operator; Mayor Herman Johnson; L. E. Casterline; and Floyd Rouquette.

Appointed by the committee itself at its organizational meeting were two other members, Mrs. Everal West and Mrs. Roberts Johnson.

The purpose of the committee is to serve as an advisory board to the Aransas County Commissioners Court, and it will be responsible for suggesting different public works projects for consideration, as well as advising the commissioners on methods of financing the improvements suggested.

Among these are construction of adequate drainage works, provision for firm water supplies, both for immediate and long range needs; and planning for collection, treatment and disposal of sewage and like wastes.

The scope of the committee's work will be broad.

It will investigate and report on community needs and suggest other collateral improvements and projects in the public interest. And, as it broadens its functions, Judge Wendell said, it is intended that suitable committees will be appointed to direct their interest to individual projects.

The committee's genesis arose from problems arising out of the tremendous growth of the region and area.

Teachers and their chairmen are: Grade 1: Mrs. Erie Eller, Mrs. Emory Spencer; Mrs. Alma Jenkins, Mrs. Terry Moore; Mrs. Dan Snyder, Mrs. M. L. Honeycutt; Mrs. John Haynes, Mrs. Ross Demory; Miss Maria Vidaurri, Mrs. Vicente Corpus.

A free-will offering will be taken at the door as an admission fee. The festivities will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Over $3,000,000 In Construction Underway Here

A survey of builders and realtors in Aransas County this week showed that construction is booming and real estate sales are picking up—contrary to reports which said the town was wiped out by Hurricane Carla.

Homes, subdivisions, tourist courts, marinas and real estate development are either in the planning stage or underway, with a very small percentage of lumber yard sales going to repair work.

Waterfront property is bringing a premium, with none for purchase; sales of homes and lots in a Florida-type subdivision on Copano Bay are good, and real estate operators are optimistic. Many sales of lots and residential properties have been reported, and they say they're getting lots of inquiries.

At a conservative estimate, value of the developments planned or under construction will exceed $3,000,000.

Lumber yards throughout the county say that business is good. One reported a record month in September; a second said that sales have been climbing month by month since the first of the year; others, while not so specific, say that business is excellent, with lots of new construction going on.

Emory M. Spencer, local oil and real estate operator estimated that around 100 new homes have been built on Live Oak Peninsula since the first of the year, and lumber yards report between 25 and 30 homes under construction.

Biggest single job now building is the 21-unit motel at Lamar, being built by the Wynn interests of Dallas. In addition to the 21 units for the accommodation of guests, a masonry boat barn will be erected to handle outboards and trailers, and complete water supply system is being installed to take care of this first phase of a project that will expand later.

Homer C. Innis, head of Lockwood, Andrews and Newman, consulting engineers and architects on the project, said that plans also call for eventual construction of a modern marina, restaurant, swimming pool and additional guests units at a later date.

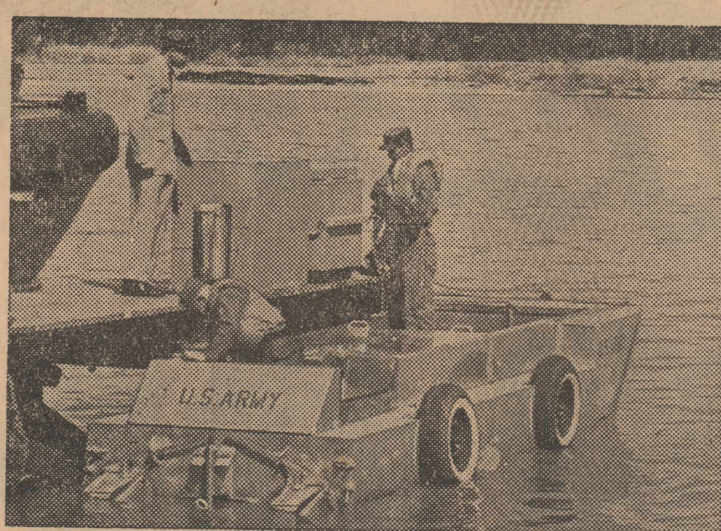

Next is the modern marina planned by Jack Sanders and son as an adjunct of their Sandollar Motel on the north shore of the peninsula. Plans on file at the U. S. Engineers' office in Galveston call for a forty-five-slip boat basin with an attendant fishing pier which will extend 1,000 feet offshore in Aransas Bay. An entrance and boat channel will be dredged, along with the boat basin, and dredged material will be placed on shore along the south side of the basin. Plans call for wharves, bulkheads, boat stalls and a launching ramp.

In addition to this, the Sanders' are planning enlargement of their motel by construction of a number of duplexes.

A third project, which will dwarf either of the others, is now in the negotiating stage, with Carl Kruger and Associates, of San Antonio, planning a 500-lot real estate development on Frandolig Island, if they are the successful bidders when bids are opened on the sale of the island Nov. 24, in the offices of the Aransas County Navigation District.

Kruger says that planning calls for development of the 237-acre island in stages.

THE SKYLARC, amphibian experimental vehicle, being prepared for its part in the demonstration before the Army Scientific Advisory Panel, held recently at Ft. Eustis, Va. SKYLARC is a research "test bed", embodying desirable features which are being studied for possible use in future Army amphibians. It was constructed by Ingersol-Kalamazoo Division of Borg-Warner Corporation.

Oklahoman Buys Aransas Pass Bank

A controlling interest in the First State Bank of Aransas Pass was sold this week for a "sizeable sum" to J. P. Lomax of Tulsa, Okla.

Lomax said Wednesday morning that he purchased G. E. Waller's interest in the bank after three months of study and discussion with Waller.

Lomax also purchased Waller's recently completed home at 132 S. Whitney.

No change of personnel is anticipated at the bank, Lomax said, except for the addition of one man.

C. A. Long, former vice president of the Admiralty State Bank in Tulsa, will be added as a new vice president.

"Long will join in the vice presidency here," Lomax said, "and he will bring with him long experience in banking."

Lomax described himself as a rancher.

But before he went into ranching, Lomax said, he was in the oil drilling and producing business in West Texas, and still maintains "extensive holdings" in that part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Lomax have two children, a 12-year-old boy and a married 23-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Lomax and the son will be moving here, he said, at the end of the current semester of school.

"I'm really sold on this area and on the people here," Lomax said this morning. "Mr. Long and I feel that we have a wonderful future here and we want to work to help make this a progressive city."

"We want to build a banking family here that will be a stand-out in the whole area," Aransas Pass Progress.

HIGHWAY FROM HERE TO ARANSAS PASS TO BE IMPROVED IN SUMMER

The Texas Highway Department has approved the expenditure of $8300 for highway safety and betterment in Aransas County, according to T. O. Foster, District Engineer and head of the Corpus Christi office.

Foster said that 9.4 miles of highway will be involved, with the work under direction of F. W. Walsmith, senior resident engineer in the Sinton office of the Highway Department.

This work is part of the 1962 State Highway Safety and Betterment Program just authorized by the Highway Department.

Purpose of the program is to continue improvement and modernization of U. S. and State Highways for increased safety and convenience of travel.

Under the program, the shoulders of Highway 35 between Rockport and Aransas Pass will be seal coated, Foster said. Much of the work will be accomplished during next spring and summer, he stated.

COASTAL STATES SETS CASING

Coastal States Gas Producing Co. and Tex-Star Oil & Gas Corp. No. 1 Aransas Bay State Tract 78, proposed 8,000-foot Aransas County wildcard 1 1/2 miles south of Lamar, has set 14 1/2 inch casing at 1,010 feet.

ADMINISTRATORS ATTEND MEETING AT ABILENE

Chester Barre, A. B. LeFevre and Tom Dannelly, of the Aransas County School System have been attending a meeting of secondary school administrators in Abilene this week.

Civil Defense Course To Be Given Here

Civil defense courses will get underway at Rockport Elementary School Thursday night, Nov. 9, at 7 o'clock, according to J. D. Gray, school superintendent.

Gray said that the course would take 12 hours to complete. The course will be taught by Carl Snyder and Albert Griffith, Jr., Gray said.

Twenty people have already signed up for the class, and other classes will be added as needed, the superintendent said.

"We had 85 that completed the course last year," Gray said, "and we hope that we'll have that many or more this year. The course is free to everyone."

Subjects to be covered include, "The Need for Civil Defense," "Planning for Emergencies," "The Effect of Modern Weapons," "Radioactive Fallout," and "Personal Survival Actions for Man-made or Natural Disasters."

"Despite the ominous sound of the titles, the course is not designed to scare people," Gray said. "It is aimed at replacing fear with common-sense protective measures."

CONVOCATIONAL RALLY TO BE HELD AT ST. PETER'S CHURCH

In connection with the Bishop's Annual Tour of the Diocese of West Texas, a Convocational Rally of members of the Episcopal Church will be held at the Church of the Good Shepherd, Corpus Christi, on Friday, Nov. 3.

Proceedings begin with a catered supper at 6:30 p.m. in Mund's Hall, to be followed by reports on the recent General Convention at Detroit to be given by Right Rev. Everett H. Jones, D.D. Bishop of the Diocese, and by Mrs. Christian Kell and Paul Mason, delegates.

Attending from St. Peter's Church, Rockport, will be Mr. and Mrs. Maurice W. Cochran, W. N. Meigs, Miss Iris Sorenson and Harry Carter, lay minister and Mrs. Crompton Sowerbutts.

WHITE ELEPHANT SALE BY P-TA ON NOVEMBER 4

Bazaar items have been added to the Aransas County High School P-TA White Elephant sale and bake sale, which is to be held on Nov. 4 from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in West's old store. Merchandise, including clothes, baked goods, bazaar items, and coat hangers, is still needed, according to Mrs. C. C. Crabb, sale chairman.

Goods may be left at the store any day from Oct. 29 through Nov. 3, from 2:30 to 4 p.m.

Proceeds of the sale will be used for P-TA projects, which include among others, the student health service program and a $100 scholarship for a graduating senior.

ARANSAS TRY LOGS, CORES

Cities Service Petroleum Co. No. 1 C. A. Brewer, Aransas County wildcard two miles north of Lamar in William Lewis Survey, A-96, was sidewall coring after logging to 12,018 feet.

Whiffen Estate Inc. of Dallas No. 1 State Tract 112, proposed 10,500-foot wildcard six miles northwest of Rockport in Copano Bay, was drilling below 9,480 feet after earlier spotting 7 inch casing at 9,324 feet.

Amerada Petroleum Corp. and Jake Hamon No. 1 State Tract 191, wildcard one-half mile east of Rockport in Aransas Bay, has been plugged and abandoned at 11,042 feet.

Bids Are Asked On Frandolig Island

Navigation District Advertises Frandolig For Sale, With $65,000 Set As Fair Market Value of Big Island Without Minerals

Frandolig Island, the last big privately-owned island on the Texas coast, is up for sale by the Aransas County Navigation District, with bids to be opened at the Navigation District office on Nov. 24.

The land to be sold consists of 237.17 acres more or less, and is located along the west shore of Aransas Bay, between Rockport and Fulton, and forms the eastern boundary of Little Bay.

Bids for the island must be in writing, and accompanied by a certificate check, cashier's check, or bidders' bond equal to the amount of the bid, to guarantee that the bidder will perform the terms of his bid, provided that the bid is accepted by the Navigation District.

The Navigation and Canal Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids and have set the reasonable market value of the island at $65,000, without minerals, which are owned elsewhere.

The only group that has signified any intention of bidding so far is from San Antonio, headed by Carl Kruger, who recently outlined plans for the island to the City Council.

If Kruger's bid is successful, he said, he and his associates had a program that calls for development of the island as a summer and retirement home subdivision that will eventually number some 500 homes.

The development would be handled in stages, with the first unit to consist of 100 homes.

At that time, Kruger stated that "we will either sell lots or build homes, whichever the customer wants."

Included in his planning for the island is an extensive marina and club.

Approximate time for completion of the development would be five years, Kruger said.

The island, which varies from almost sea level to eight or nine feet in elevation, would be raised to an overall height of between six and nine feet, with the necessary fill dredged from Little Bay, and the dredging would extend the present small boat basin (dredged by the Navigation District a couple of years ago) to the north.

Kruger said that he and his associates expect, if all goes well, to build streets and install utilities on the island. These utilities would be deeded to the city, which he hopes, will annex the island, adding, eventually, a little over $1,000,000 to the city's present valuation of $3,000,000 plus.

He estimated development costs as in excess of $1,000,000, and said that lots would probably sell at anywhere from $3500 to $6500, depending upon the location and desirability. Those on the waterfront and upon canals dredged into the island would be the most expensive, he pointed out, as they would be the choice lots.

Emergency Corps Barbecue To Be Given Tonight

The annual barbecue for the Aransas County Emergency Corps will be held at the Lions Pit, on the waterfront, Thursday evening, Nov. 2, if the weather is fine or, if the weather is bad, at the Lions Club Building in Fulton.

The barbecue is paid for from their own pockets by directors of the Rockport Chamber of Commerce as a token of appreciation for the work of the Corps, which consists of the Rockport and Fulton Fire Departments, who give unstintingly of their time and money as volunteers.

Guests will be not only the men of the two departments and their wives, but also the firemen from the 813th AC&W Squadron at Rockport Air Force Station and their wives, also.

In charge of arrangements are Charles LaBounty, chairman, and committee members Vernon Kleypas and Jack McCready.

CURTAIN CLUB TO GIVE SHOW

On Nov. 16-17, the Curtain Club will present its sixth annual Variety Show, "Calendar Girl," in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Admission for adults is 50c and students 25c.

The public is invited to attend.

BANK TO CLOSE ARMISTICE DAY

The First National Bank will be closed for the entire day on Nov. 11, Armistice Day.

Fire Department Auxiliary Raises $2,000 For Gear

The Fulton Fire Department Ladies' Auxiliary has been successful in raising more than $2,000 for new equipment in the last two months, according to Chief Buddy McLester, who expressed the thanks of the twenty-two volunteer firemen that make up the organization.

"You never know what sort of people you have in the community until you ask them for help," he said, "and the response to the Auxiliary's appeal has been heartwarming."

McLester said that the funds were sufficient to purchase helmets, bunker coats and boots for every man in the department, besides 600 feet of 1 1/2-inch and 200 feet of 2 1/2-inch soft hose that was badly needed.

The department was started three years ago, he said, when the Lions' Club of Fulton raised enough money for a firehall and for one pump.

"At that time," he said, "there were only about eight or ten men in the department, and we were woefully short of equipment. We had the one pumper and that was the crop. Since then we have acquired another pumper and a fully equipped emergency wagon."

The emergency wagon carries first aid supplies, stretchers, and a dual resuscitator, capable of handling two emergency cases at once, and also has a short wave radio.

There is another short wave radio in the fire hall, McLester said, and the department also has two portable ones that aid greatly in handling fires.

"We also intend to buy a couple of tanks," the fire chief said, "to help in extinguishing small blazes, with the money that we have left over from that collected by the ladies."

McLester invited everyone in the community to stop by the fire hall at any time and look over the equipment.

Ladies of the Auxiliary are Mrs. George Kreiger, Mrs. Landfair, Mrs. Orville Haynes, Mrs. Harry Wilson, Mrs. Harvey Blount, Mrs. D. M. Fincher, Mrs. Clyde Weber, Mrs. A. L. Wofford, Mrs. Annie Cox, Mrs. Katherine McLester, Mrs. Bertie Reed.

ART CLASSES WORK ON FIRE PREVENTION POSTER PROJECT

The art classes of the Junior High School have had a project on Fire Prevention. This project was done during Fire Prevention Week, which comes on the week in which the ninth of the month falls, as this was the date of the great Chicago fire, when the cow kicked over the lantern and burned a great portion of that city.

The art classes made posters which depict many hazards of fire, as well as many ways to prevent fires at home, on the highway, in the forests, and fires caused by spontaneous combustion.

There will be a display of these posters next week and by student vote, three posters receiving the most votes, will be awarded first, second and third place, respectively.

These posters have not been judged before as they were completed at the time of the first six weeks examinations, and for this reason, they have not been judged.

IMPORTANCE OF SOCIAL SECURITY CARD CITED

"Your social security card is like an insurance policy. It should be properly cared for and properly used," states Tom Wilson, Field Representative of the Corpus Christi Social Security Office.

Wilson reports that some workers are still losing social security wage credits by failing to show their social security card to each employer for whom they work.
Both employee and employer should make sure the employer's records show the name and account number exactly as they are shown on the card. Incorrect or incomplete name and number information on employer's reports may cause delays or reductions in future benefit payments.

A worker who loses his card should get in touch with the social security office immediately to obtain a duplicate card. Those who change their names must file change-of-name requests and obtain duplicate cards in their new names. Applications for both purposes may be obtained from area post offices or from the social security office, Wilson said.

Every worker should check his account about every three years, by filling out and mailing a post card wage statement request card.
These cards may be obtained from the Social Security office, 530 South Water Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

SANDRA GARDNER ENROLLED AT MARY-HARDIN BAYLOR

Miss Sandra Gardner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gardner, has enrolled at Mary Hardin-Baylor in Belton this fall.

A 1961 graduate of Aransas
County High School, Miss Gardner is a freshman at Mary Hardin-Baylor, where the enrollment for the fall semester has increased almost a third over that for the same period last year.

While the previous year saw an enrollment of 378, this year's total stands at 496, showing an increase of 118 students. These figures represent only those students attending classes on Belton campus and do not include enrollment figures for the Temple Studios and the Fort Hood branch.

CPL Sponsors Atomic Research

If scientists are able to harness the might of the hydrogen bomb reaction, it will provide mankind with an almost limitless supply of fuel for the generation of electric power, Valley science students were told at McAllen by one of the nation's leading atomic scientists.

Dr. Donald W. Kerst, director of fusion research for the General
Atomic Division of General Dynamics Corporation, made the report at an atomic energy symposium sponsored by Central Power and Light Company in cooperation with Valley schools.

The hydrogen bomb is the product of a nuclear fusion reaction, Dr. Kerst explained to more than 800 science students and faculty members assembled in the McAllen Civic Center. He explained that deuterium, which could be used as a fuel supply for a fusion power plant, is found in sea water and is, therefore, available in virtually unlimited amounts.

In his discussion of research in controlled nuclear fusion reactions, Dr. Kerst pointed out that the possibilities of ever achieving the extremely high temperatures required for a fusion reaction were at first considered remote by most scientists because the temperatures required to sustain the reaction—hundreds of millions of degrees—are many thousand times higher than any known material can withstand without vaporizing.

The development of the atomic bomb from the uranium fission reaction, however, represented the achievement for the first time on earth of the extreme pressures and temperatures required. Scientists were quick to realize that there might be a possibility of a controlled fusion reaction on earth,
Dr. Kerst explained.

He pointed out that it is possible to control the uranium fission reaction and to utilize the heat produced. Developments in the use of nuclear fission as a means of producing power have proceeded at an accelerated pace since the end of World War II and several fission power plants are now in operation generating electricity.
No such control has been developed for the fusion reaction, Dr.
Kerst went on.

Experiments at the General
Atomic laboratories in controlled fusion have centered about the problem of discovering how to hold a material together while it is heated to a temperature several times that of the center of the sun and to continue to hold it while it reacts.

The problem is being attacked in many laboratories in the United States and abroad, with a priority having been assigned to fusion reaction in Russia.

"Our understanding is, said Dr.
Kerst, "that fusion research is ahead of even space exploration in Russian scientific priorities.

CHURCH OF GOD NEWS

In the present day unsettled International situation, an exhibition of depth of character and faith are called for. Rev. E. J. Gooden, of Corpus Christi, declared in his sermon Sunday night at the Rockport Church of God, that Jesus was coming back, for those who are ready to meet him.

Rev. C. H. Walls gave the invocation. Altar call was by Pastor V. V. Lister. A number of visitors were present at both morning and night services.

Rev. V. V. Lister will be guest speaker for Rev. Preston Ervin, Powell Point Church of God, Kendleton, Texas, Sunday, Nov. 5, at 11 a.m. worship. There will be evening worship only at the Rockport Church of God, beginning at 8 p.m.

Local Man Could Stock Art Museum

During the fifteen years since he first opened the Rockport School of Fine Arts, Simon G. Michael has accumulated enough sculptures, paintings, ships models, wood carvings and other objects d'art to stock a small museum.

His artist's eye has seen beauty in many things that grace his studio and grounds today, and most of these things have been used as models by the hundreds of students he has taught. Some of them are almost as well-traveled as he is, for he takes them from class to class along the coast.

In his studio, a big square-rigged ship jostles a Spanish galleon; tall Grecian urns decorate the room with their graceful lines. Primitive African wood carvings vie with more modern pieces.

Two statues in opposite corners of the studio are companion pieces of bronze. One depicts a despairing figure about to be overwhelmed by waves, the other shows a coast guardsmen casting a line to save.

A white marble cupid stands at one side of the room. Before one wall panel is a bronze statuette of Peter Paul Rubens, famous Dutch artist; before another stands Judith, who slew Nebuchadnezzar's general Holofernes and this saved the Israelites.

In the grounds around the school buildings are other bits of statuary; a fountain; strange and unusual rocks form the retaining wall for a cactus garden; and all the birds in the world seem to inhabit the gnarled old oak trees.

The man who collected these things for use in teaching art is as interesting as they are.

Michael was born in Pennsylvania, and before he was 18 had his first one-man exhibition. Since then he has studied and painted extensively in this country and in Europe where, at 24, he held a one-man show in Paris, where he also taught for a number of years. He came to Texas in World War II and was stationed at Camp Walters, Texas. While there, he painted many canvases for the various camp clubs in his off hours, and designed and supervised the construction of German and Japanese villages used for training purposes, a service which the Army recognized with a special award.

And, while at Camp Walters, he designed and executed "The Saluting Soldier." This bronze statue was located near the entrance to the camp and came to be known the world over by more than half a million men who passed through Camp Walters' gates.

After the war he came to Rockport, and has been here ever since, teaching art from Corpus Christi to Freeport, traveling the highways and byways of Texas from one class to another.

And during the fifteen years that he has done this and conducted summer classes at the school, he has turned out hundreds of competent artists, some of whom have schools of their own today. And the canvases turned out by his students are familiar sights at the art shows of Texas, where they are frequent winners.

HINTS ON HUNTING AND DECOYS FOR NOW LEGAL CRANES

Austin.—Sandhill cranes will be on the legal list of game in Texas this year for the first time in nearly half a century. According to T. D. Carroll, I & E coordinator for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, hunters will need to know something about the big birds if they intend to have a successful hunt. And, they probably will want to make up some decoys.

Here is a rundown on the crane season, the area in which they can be hunted, some hunting trips, and information on the use of decoys.

Hunting will be permitted in that portion of the state lying west of a line from the International Toll Bridge at Del Rio, Val Verde County; thence northward following U. S. Highway 277 to its junction with U. S. Highway 87 at San Angelo, Tom Green County; thence northwesterly along U. S. Highway 87 to the point of its intersection with the Texas-New Mexico boundary line in Dallas County. Open season dates are from Nov. 4 to Dec. 3, both days inclusive. Cranes may be taken by shotguns no larger than 10 gauge and capable of holding no more than 3 shells in the magazine and chamber combined, at any one time. The daily bag limit is two cranes, with no more than two cranes in possession. Shooting hours will be from sunrise to sunset. A state resident or non-resident hunting license, as the case may be, is required. A duck stamp is not needed for sandhills.

Silhouette decoys made from cardboard and painted a dull gray are a big asset to crane hunters. They should be set near flyways, and within shotgun range of well concealed hunters. Sandhills seldom return to a set of decoys that resulted in the death of some of their members. Therefore, it is wise to move decoys to a new location after each successful coup.

Pass shooting is successful when windy weather causes the cranes to fly close to the ground. Hunters should be in blinds between feeding and roosting grounds, so they can have shooting during morning and evening flights. During calm, fair weather, hunters should not waste their time pass shooting. Sandhills may appear to be slow and ambling in flight, but they have been clocked in normal flight at 60 mph.

Only good duck load is adequate for cranes. Their fragile body construction makes almost any hit a disastrous one for the crane. A wounded sandhill should be approached with care because of their rapier-like bill. The meat is extremely palatable, being compared to goose or turkey. One reason for this is the fact that, unlike many so-called cranes, the sandhill feeds on grain and green forage, instead of fish and mollusk.

Alice Man Has Many Cacti In Collection

One of the most complete collections of cacti in the Golden Crescent of Texas belongs to Dr. Richard O. Albert, 1313 Roosevelt Boulevard, Alice.

Starting five years ago when he began the practice of medicine in Alice, the collection now has over a thousand individual plants representing approximately 400 different species.

To obtain them, Dr. Albert has traveled through much of Texas and New Mexico, even ranging as far afield as South Dakota, Wyoming, Colorado and other states to get some particularly prized specimen that doesn't grow in this area.

One of which he is especially proud is the giant saguaro that towers twice the height and more of a tall man in his front yard. He found this one growing along the San Pedro River in Cichise County, Arizons, several years ago.

Thirteen feet tall when he got it, and weighing more than one thousand thorny pounds, it presented a whole series of problems before it was finally excavated, loaded on a truck and hauled to Alice, where it decorates one of the cactus beds on Albert's front lawn.

The saguaro and several other varieties of cacti brought back from Arizona at the same time showed no ill effects from their long journey and are flourishing today.

"In fact," Dr. Albert said, "that saguaro never stopped growing. It started putting out flower buds and bloomed on the way back to Texas."

Another, somewhat smaller, was brought back for Dr. Albert's friend, Ted L. Austin, another Alice cacti fancier, and is also doing nicely. And, so far, the heavy rains of last fall and this spring haven't bothered the plants a bit.

"Many cacti require extremely dry climates," he said, "while other species vary greatly in the kind of soil and amount of moisture they need."

Other species thriving in Dr. Albert's thorny garden are the silver cholla, a native of southwestern Arizona and California; barrel cactus, some of which have become cristate or crested; snake cactus, a night-blooming cereus which produces extremely large flowers; several "old man" cactus, which sell commercially for a dollar an inch; cholla from West Texas, New Mexico and Arizona; Ocotillo and lechuguilla; century plants; Peruvian tree cactus; and varieties of bishop's cap from that country; totem-pole cactus, abnormal because it has no thorns; and many other species.

Dr. Albert keeps a card index on all the cacti in his gardens, on which he records the facts about that particular plant.

Besides collecting rare and exotic cacti, Dr. Albert has been experimenting on grafting one sort upon another. Using prickly pear, he grafts pieces of many other kinds upon it, and most of them grow. As a result, he has cactus around that started out to be prickly pear and wound up as something entirely different.

He and Austin plan to go to Mexico soon, to the area around the volcano of El Paricutin, to gather more cacti, and to study the changes in the region, from desert to more normal country.

Besides his practice as a general surgeon, Dr. Albert is Jim Wells County Medical officer, and active in boy scout work. He is also an active member of the Alice Sky Divers, an active exhibition parachute jumping group of about 25 members.

He organized the local Audubon Club, and sponsors the annual screen tours in the Alice area. He has also held a number of offices in the Brooks, Duval, Jim Wells County Medical Society.

Dr. Albert also collects entomological specimens for a number of college professors, as well as birds and cacti for others. He is married and has two sons, Tommy (Buckshot) 12, and David (Shotgun) eight.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas
A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

Royal Juries

In his first speech in 1801 as President, Jefferson listed the essentials of our government:

Equal and exact justice to all men of whatsoever state or persuasion, religious or political; freedom of religion; freedom of the press; freedom of person under the protection of the habeas corpus; and trial by juries impartially selected.

Impartially selected juries were a long time coming.

Before England adopted trial by jury, she had three ways of deciding a case.

1. Trial by ordeal: If you pleaded innocent, your hand might be thrust into boiling water, then wrapped up. If in three days it was "clean" or uninfected, it showed you were not lying. Otherwise you were guilty.

2. Trial by battle in civil cases. You or "your champion" could fight it out with your opponent. The winner won the lawsuit.

3. "Oath-helpers": A party's friends would recite an oath that he was in the right. An oath helper's mistake in the recital was taken as divinely inspired to show his party was in the wrong.

After the Norman conquest in 1066, the English kings sent out officers to get information. Subjects testified from personal knowledge about what took place in the locality.

Henry II in the Twelfth Century used these same people to find facts in the law cases before them, which was the beginning of our jury system today.

The chief difference between our juries and the early ones:

1. The early juries told the judge what the local law or custom was. Today it is the judge who instructs the jury.

2. The early juries knew the facts before they met; today they should hear the facts for the first time in court.

3. The early juries had already taken sides before they were served. Today's are supposed to be open-minded.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Draft Quota Calls For 923

The state draft quota for November calls for 923 men, 12 more than for October, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Friday.

The November quota of 923 is the state's share of a national call of 20,000, all for the Army. The October national quota was 20,000, which also was for the Army.

Col. Schwartz also announced that 6,071 men would be given preinduction examinations in November were mailed by state Selective Service headquarters Wednesday.

The November quota will be filled with men who are at least 22 year old on Nov. 1, with the exception of volunteers, or those whom the law terms delinquent, who may be younger.

Monthly draft calls in Texas this year ranged from 292 down to zero prior to August. Monthly examination quotas prior to August ranged from none to 2,255.

NO HUNTING ON AREA BECAUSE OF DAMAGE TO WATERFOWL COVER

Austin.—The Big Hill Bayou Wildlife Management Area near Port Arthur will be closed to hunting this season. The decision to close the area was made after an inventory of damage to the area following the recent hurricane on the Gulf Coast. Wildlife coordinator for the Texas Game and Fish Commission, A. J. Springs, reported that approximately seven feet of water covered the 8,000-acre marsh during the storm.

Vegetation and waterfowl foods on the area were hard hit by salt-water, and most of the low marshlands on the upper end of the coast were damaged by the tidal water. Ducks moving into the coastal areas from northern states probably find pickings scarce. For this reason, the Big Hill Bayou Area will be closed to form a sanctuary for waterfowl.

"Much of the cover has been damaged. Consequently, waterfowl will not have the food and cover they had in the past," said Springs. "With the Big Hill area closed, there will be at least one place where the waterfowl can go and find protection."

Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Hicks were in Dallas and Grand Prairie last week, visiting their children and grandchildren.

WOMEN TO CELEBRATE
WORLD COMMUNITY DAY

The United Church Women of this community will celebrate World Community Day with a program at St. Peter's Episcopal Church at 3:30 p.m. Friday, Nov. 3. Mrs. W. N. Blevins will present the devotional and the program "Freedom to Know." This year emphasis is on the education of women and children in Latin America—especially Chile, Peru and Brazil.

Each woman attending is asked to bring an offering of money (which will go toward training workers among the women in these countries) or material to make school clothes for children ages 5 to 8. If you wish to make the dresses, etc., leave out the hems. Used clothing (such as sweaters, coats and school clothes) also are acceptable. The women also will collect school supplies, such as pencils, crayons, pads of paper and blunt-pointed scissors for school bags for these children.

Preceding the meeting, the president of the council, Mrs. Hugh Morrison, will conduct a short business meeting at which time the officers for the new year will be elected. These will be installed at the December 4 meeting. Following the meeting there will be a social. Visitors are cordially invited to attend.

with utilities and streets will consist of a hundred lots at the north end of the island, and this will be extended as rapidly as circumstances warrant. The island, which varies from almost sea level to eight or nine feet in elevation, will be raised to an overall height of close to ten feet in five stages, with necessary fill dredged from Little Bay, where the Navigation District dredged an extensive small boat basin a couple of years ago. Kruger's dredging would extend this basin to the north.

South of town, one home has been built at Palm Harbor since September, and Brashear and Irwin, owners, say they're getting inquiries on this Florida-type subdivision constantly.

West Terrace, opened two or three years ago, has started booming, along with Copano Ridge, another Florida-type subdivision on the shores of Copano Bay. Burl P. Wagley, local lumberman and builder, has constructed many houses in West Terrace this year, and has four under construction there at present. Two new streets have been paved recently. At Copano Ridge, the H&W Construction Company has been building and selling homes rapidly.

Bracht Lumber Company, Picton Lumber Company, Rockport Lumber, and Fulton Lumber Company also have homes and business construction under way.

Mathis Wins
Tie Ball Game

The homecoming Mathis Pirates tied Aransas County's Pirates 6-6, Friday night in a District 31A football game.

Mathis beat Aransas County on penetrations, 4-2.
Fullback Bill Adams scored the lone Mathis touchdown in the first quarter on a six-yard plunge through tackle, climaxing a 60-yard drive that was inspired by a 45-yard run by halfback Dickie Greenwood.

In the second quarter, halfback Manuel Galindo of Aransas County took a pitchout from quarterback Jimmy Jackson and scored a touchdown from the 10 yard line. This completed a drive from midfield.
In the failing minutes of the game, Aransas County moved to the Mathis five yard line, but the clock ran out before they could negotiate a touchdown.

End James Lehrmann of Mathis was outstanding on defense. Halfback Gerald Williams of Rockport and Halfback W. A. Henderson of Mathis were also good offensive players.
