Communists Stage Two Deadly Delta Attacks

MAJOR MURPHY

Former 331st Pilot Killed Overseas

One of the veterans of the Webb pilot training mission and the former 331st Fighter-Interceptor Squadron lost his life today in an aircraft accident overseas.

He was Maj. Joseph A. Murphy, who was killed while on a training mission, operating out of a base the identity of which was kept classified. He was flying an F-104 Starfighter. No other official information was available as to the cause of the mishap.

JOSEPH A. MURPHY

Maj. Murphy, 33, who had just received his last promotion here in January, was a member of the 4760th Combat Crew Training Squadron, the recent replacement for the 331st FIS. He took his pilot training at Webb, completing his course here in July, 1958. He later went to Perrin AFB, Texas, for fighter-interceptor training, had duty at Truax Field, Madison, Wis., at Thule, Greenland, before returning here to join the 331st in June, 1962.

Maj. Murphy is survived by his wife, Beverly A. Murphy, and three children: Mark Gregory, 9; Teresa Lynn, 7; and Michael Anthony, 2. The family resides at 90-A Ent Drive.

Memorial services will be held at the Webb Chapel at 10 a.m. Saturday, with all members of Maj. Murphy's squadron attending in dress uniform. Ten minutes before the service, there will be a fly-by of T-38 aircraft, in the traditional "missing plane" formation.

Arlington National Cemetery

A request has been made for interment in Arlington National Cemetery, but the time for this had not been determined.

Major Murphy was born and reared in Collingdale, Penn., and received his bachelor of science degree from Pennsylvania State in 1953. He was first commissioned as an Air Force officer upon completion of navigation training at James Connally AFB, Waco, in July, 1954.

Major Murphy was popularly known throughout the local military establishment, as well as in civilian circles in the city.

Deadly Freeze Strikes

The annually anticipated pre-Easter freeze, with its devastating impact on plants, shrubs and flowers hit Big Spring Tuesday night.

Grady Randel, weather observer at the U.S. Experiment Station, said that the cold wave which pushed summer out of town at 5:30 p.m. Tuesday brought steadily dropping temperatures which reached 30 degrees as early as 10 p.m. and held on, falling to a low of 20 degrees shortly after 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Blacken Budding Plants

The subfreezing weather held for eight or nine hours, Randel said, which in all probability will blacken the blossoming and budding plant life.

The abnormally warm weather of January and February had resulted in nearly all plants coming alive. Only the mesquite trees were still budless.

The high on Tuesday was a warm 70 degrees in early afternoon. There was a 50 degree drop between 3 p.m. Tuesday and 6 a.m. Wednesday.

Duster Moves Through

The front was ushered in with a transient, but sizable, duster which moved in from the north. Gusty winds, peaking at 35 to 40 miles, blew for a while and the windy weather prevailed well into the night.

Wednesday at 8 a.m. the temperature was still at a chilly 21 degrees and partly cloudy skies were retarding the warmup.

Downtown Trees Due

Trees have been ordered and are expected at any time for the Operation Sparkle project downtown, Johnny Johansen, city parks superintendent, said this morning. He said 20 live oak trees had been ordered, and there are 16 locations for them in the downtown area. Extras will be used in the event the initial plantings fail to survive. He said five-inch trees were ordered, on the advice of nurserymen.

A warming trend is forecast, following a high today of only 46 degrees. The high reading Thursday should be 63 degrees, after a low tonight of 32 degrees.

Lonely At 101

Mrs. Mattie Lou Smith, 101, pictured on her 100th birthday a year ago, is the object of a bill before the Texas Legislature. Mrs. Smith and two other Confederate widows were moved to a private nursing home when the Texas Confederate Widows Home was closed. Two have since died. The bill merely authorizes the state to pay for her care. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Confederate Widow Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — One bill — one little, old, feeble woman.

That's about the size of it.

And it shows that in the high-powered, high-finance world of state government, certain laws are still pointed to the individual, the lone, and in this case, lonely person.

This one, in particular, concerns Mrs. Mattie Lou Smith, a Confederate widow, and she's 101 years old.

Alert, talkative, a hunt-and-peck typist three years ago, Mrs. Smith now spends her days in bed at the Ville Siesta Retirement Village, missing the coffee hours she once would never have skipped, remembering this that happened 50 years ago better than what she ate the day before, unable to walk and totally cared for by nurses.

That care, at what the retirement village says is a special rate, costs $280 a month, paid by the state.

That $280 is almost $900 less than what it used to take to keep her, as one of three residents of the Texas Confederate Women's Home, a sprawling structure on Austin's west side.

MAKE IT LEGAL

So, three years ago, the state moved them to the retirement home and, after the other two widows died, has decided to make certain what was done is legal.

That is the purpose of the bill, requested by the Texas Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation and sponsorred by Sen. Bruce Reagan, Corpus Christi.

The bill authorizes the department to place in licensed nursing homes "those widows of confederate soldiers and sailors who are on the pension roles of this state and who make application to the department for care in the Texas Confederate Women's Home."

It has not been set for committee hearing, but no one is expected to oppose it.

Mrs. Smith, only out of bed to take a brief ride down the corridor of the retirement home in a wheelchair, doesn't even know about it.

Reagan Seeks Tax Increase

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) —Gov. Ronald Reagan proposed today a $946-million California tax increase with which he hopes to balance a record budget of over $5 billion.

The Republican chief executive wants to raise taxes on personal income, sales, liquor, cigarettes and other tobacco products, and banks and corporations.

The governor offered to return $120 million worth of benefits to residents of the nation's most populous state in the form of direct property tax reductions, in cuts averaging 6.5 per cent.

In addition, he called for $95 million more in aid to local government, intended to be a form of indirect property tax relief.

The reception the package will get in the Democratic-controlled legislature is unclear.

Meredith Says He'll Oppose Adam Powell

NEW YORK AP) — Negro leaders in Harlem and around the country reacted coolly today to James H. Meredith's plans to run as the Republicans' choice against Democrat Adam Clayton Powell in a special congressional election April 11.

They gave him little chance of winning, and some charged he was being used.

Meredith, in agreeing to oppose Powell Tuesday after being recommended by Republican leaders, said he was aware that in running he might lay himself open to "the fear and the scorn from fellow Negroes." He said that Powell, excluded from the House last week, had lost his influence and the people deserve more than what they're getting.

DUE NOMINATION

Meredith's name was suggested by an unidentified Harlem Republican leader last week.

Tuesday he was recommended by members of the Republican Executive Committee from the 18th District. His nomination is expected to be made at a meeting of the rank-and-file Harlem Republican County committeemen within a week.

Powell, who has won the 18th District of Harlem in 12 consecutive elections by wide margins, had little comment when he learned of the announcement.

'WE'LL WAIT'

"We'll wait and see," he said from his retreat in Bimini, the Bahamas. Powell is taking court action in efforts to regain his seat, but plans to run again should litigation fail to settle the matter by April 11.

Percy Sutton, Manhattan borough president whose home political district is in Harlem, said he would support Powell. Sutton, a Democrat like most Harlem leaders, said in a statement:

"While Mr. Meredith has certainly earned his credentials as a civil rights hero, I think the Republicans will find many in the Harlem community feel Mr. Meredith is an outsider, selected by the Republicans and outsiders to be imposed on the Harlem community."

SHOT LAST YEAR

Meredith, whose enrollment desegregated the University of Mississippi in 1962 and touched off bloody riots, is one of the most prominent Negro civil rights activists in the nation. He was shot last year on a civil rights march through Mississippi.

Meredith told a news conference that he is an "independent Democrat."

Now 33, he has been a student at the Columbia Law School here for two years.

'BRUTAL WESTERNERS'

He said that in the past he had faced "the most brutal Westerners — that is, Mississippians and Southern whites — how could I let fear of the displeasure of some Negroes deter me when in my heart I know my divine responsibiiity calls for me to run."

"The people deserve more than what they're getting," he said. "Whatever influence Adam Clayton Powell once had, he doesn't have any more. The future of the Negro will be affected by what happens in this election.

"I believe the people must have a chance to make a choice, about the issues and not go just on emotions."

Lady In Fur Coat Fleeces Repairman

NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Leto, a Brooklyn television repairman, was driving through Flatbush early today when a lady in a fur coat ran out and lay down in the street.

Leto, 32, got out to help her up.

"Give me your money," she said, backing her demand with a small revolver.

The startled Leto surrendered $58, and the lady in the fur coat ran off.

Winter Tightens Its Chilly Grip

By The Associated Press

Record cold chilled the nation's midsection today.

The mass of arctic air headed toward the East on the heels of up to four inches of rain and 20 inches of snow.

Flooding continued in Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky.

Low temperature marks were shattered along the cold front from Upper Michigan to northwestern Texas.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., recorded its lowest reading for so late in the winter, 21 below zero.

NEW LOWS

New lows for the date were posted in St. Joseph, Mo., with -5, Topeka, Kan., with -1, Tulsa, Okla., 6 above, Amarillo, Tex., 7 above, Oklahoma City 9 above.

Thermometers registered -26 in Hibbing, Minn., -8 in Green Bay, Wis., and -7 in Minneapolis-St. Paul.

The natural drain from much of the flood zone, the Ohio River, was expected to reach eight feet above flood stage by Saturday in the Cincinnati-northern Kentucky area. That would cause lowland flooding.

There was nine inches of snow on the ground when Gov. Edward T. Breathitt visited Providence, Ky., Tuesday, but the people still wanted to know what the state was going to do about salt marsh mosquitoes, the cause of a long standing complaint in western Kentucky.

20 SNOW INCHES

In some parts of New England there were 20 inches of snow on the ground from Tuesday's storm. After the storm blew out to sea temperatures plunged into the 20s.

Some snowplow operators in Maine found themselves unpopular because they plowed in driveways of residents. Melvin Roast of Portland, Maine, said one man threw a hammer at the cabin of his plow after he had dumped a pile of snow in the man's driveway.

Mortar Barrages Kill Six Yankees

SAIGON (AP) — Communist guerrillas made two attacks on U.S. forces in the Mekong Delta before dawn today, killing six Americans and wounding 25. One other American was missing, and two South Vietnamese platoons suffered heavy casualties.

A 15-minute mortar barrage of 80 rounds hit the first major American base established in the delta about 2 a.m. catching most of the soldiers asleep. The barrage killed two and wounded 23 at the 9th Infantry Division's Dong Tam camp some 40 miles south of Saigon.

It was the first shelling of the camp since 9th Division infantrymen moved into it in late January. The camp is about one mile square, on ground dredged from the Mekong River, and is surrounded by paddy land largely controlled by the Viet Cong at night.

BADLY BLOODIED

Another 9th Division post was hit by mortars and small-arms fire two hours later at Rach Kien, about a dozen miles from Saigon. The U.S. soldiers and two platoons of about 60 South Vietnamese soldiers were on outpost duty and were badly bloodied in the two-hour battle.

A U.S. spokesman said the Americans had four dead, two wounded and one missing. A Vietnamese spokesman said the two South Vietnamese platoons suffered "heavy casualties."

FADED INTO DARK

The Viet Cong faded into the darkness when reinforcements came up, and their losses were not known. But their force was raked by artillery fire and gunship helicopters.

U. S. naval forces operating off the North Vietnamese coast had one of their busiest days Tuesday since they started shelling coastal targets in the north on Feb. 26.

The U. S. Command said the cruiser Canberra and the destroyers Keppler and Ingersoll bombarded 17 targets some 40 miles south of the port of Vinh. The warships were credited with destroying a coastal battery and a river port facility and with setting off a large secondary explosion indicating hits on munitions or fuel.

PORT TARGETS

The targets included river port facilities, supply dumps, petroleum storage areas and transshipment points. The headquarters said a shore battery on Hon En Island, 41 miles south of Vinh, fired on the U. S. ships. It said the firing did no damage to the ships which silenced the battery and damaged a nearby radar station.

A 31-foot U. S. river patrol boat was cut in two by the 12,576-on British Tanker Denby Grange at 1 a.m. today on a Mekong Delta waterway. The four American sailors swam to safety. The bow of the boat stayed afloat but the after section with the engine sank.

68 SORTIES

U. S. and Vietnamese military authorities reported little significant ground fighting Tuesday, and bad weather limited U. S. air strikes against North Vietnam to 68 missions.

Fliers from the carriers Kitty Hawk and Ticonderoga smashed a series of targets at the mouth of the Red River, a U. S. spokesman said.

Missing Man Autopsy Due

BROWNSVILLE (AP)— Oklahoma authorities have agreed to pay the $250 needed to exhume an unidentified body found in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and perform an autopsy and dental check to determine if he was a University of Oklahoma official.

Justice of the Peace John Gavito said today the police chief at Norman, Okla., has agreed to pay the cost of the investigation in its quest for Jay Frank Elsea, assistant bursar of the University of Oklahoma, who vanished in this area Jan. 17.

Gavito said if the autopsy showed that the man was a victim of homicide, then the cost would be refunded to Oklahoma authorities.

NOT A DRIFTER

The Brownsville justice of the peace said Oklahoma authorities consider the dental check important because no check was made on the body before it was buried in a pauper's grave.

Cameron County officers said they believe the body was not a drifter because the fingernails had been carefully manicured.

Henslee said Elsea's mother verified that her son owned a pair of loafers and a shirt similar to those found on the body, but she said she was not aware that her son had undergone surgery recently.

SCAR ON BODY

Officers said the body had a scar on it, indicating the victim had undergone surgery recently.

The body was found east of Brownsville in a thicket Feb. 19. Investigating officers said they theorized that the body had been exposed to the elements for about four weeks before it was discovered.

CREDIT CARD USED

Norman Police Chief Bill Henslee traced Elsea to nearby Harlingen where he purchased gasoline with a credit card. He said the signature was valid, but added that someone had bought gasoline with the same card later in Arizona and California, but the signatures were not valid. Elsea bought the gasoline at Harlingen the same day he vanished, Henslee said.

Henslee and Police Sgt. James McBride spent several days in the Lower Rio Grande Valley circulating pictures of the missing official and a description of a red 1966 Ford Mustang Elsea was driving before he vanished.

A Port Isabel man reported seeing a car matching the car driven by Elsea, but could not give a description of the person driving it.

TO WOUNDED MARINE

'Kids Are Wonderful'

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — "Kids are the most wonderful things in the world," a young Marine wrote from Vietnam.

Pfc. John Morrow Jr., 20, first expressed his sentiments about youngsters in a letter home last fall. He wrote his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Morrow, that he was sickened at the sight of maimed children in Vietnam.

Enclosed in the letter was his monthly paycheck, endorsed. He asked that it be used to help handicapped youngsters.

'WE DO OUR BEST'

"We do our best," he said, "to get the enemy and not hurt civilians but sometimes their paths cross. That is where the trouble occurs."

Mr. and Mrs. Morrow sent the money to the Cerebral Palsy Association. Since then their son has made regular monthly contributions to the same cause.

Eventually, the young Marine started corresponding with the association.

At one point he wrote: "It is always a good feeling for one to know that he is helping handicapped children. Kids are the most wonderful things in the world."

RIGHT LEG LOST

Morrow related that at Christmas his company brought 200 youngsters into the battalion area and gave them cookies and ice cream.

"All of us felt better knowing we had done a good deed," he said. "Days like that are pretty rare. Most are pretty sickening."

Now kids are proving their qualities to the young Marine.

The young cerebral palsy victims and their friends are sending their good wishes to Morrow in the Naval Hospital at Oakland, Calif. Numerous cards have been sent and Morrow's mural-sized picture is on display at the association headquarters in Hollywood.

On Feb. 4 Pfc. Morrow lost his right leg when a Viet Cong mine blew up a tank he was riding into battle near Da Nang.

Mother Of Twins Enjoys Vacation

DANVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Mrs. Nathaniel Collier, who gave birth to her fourth set of twins Saturday, is resting comfortably in a hospital, "enjoying the longest vacation I've had in years."

"The doctor is in no hurry to send me home, and I'm in no hurry to get there," she said Tuesday from her bedside telephone at St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

The latest twins, Michelle and Michael, will go home this week to join their nine brothers and sisters.

Twins Anthony and Antoinette were born in October, 1949, Marvin and Marva were born in August, 1952, and Unita and Lorita were born in December, 1953.

Leftists Form Slate To Fight The Gaullists

PARIS (AP) — France's usually quarreling leftists completed a single slate Tuesday night in a concerted effort to wrest control of the National Assembly from President Charles de Gaulle's party in Sunday's runoff election.

The Communists were reported to have withdrawn at least 15 candidates who recieved more votes in their districts than other leftist candidates in the first round of voting last Sunday. The Red candidates stepped down in the belief that more moderate leftists would have a bigger appeal.

CONFIDENCE

The Gaullists, who received just over 37 per cent of the vote in the first round, expressed confidence they would retain a majority in the 487-seat Assembly and that voters would support De Gaulle's leadership.

Only 81 candidates — 66 of them Gaullists — polled a first-round majority, leaving 406 seats to be decided. Candidates in the runoff need only a plurality instead of a majority to be elected. Most of the races will pit Gaullists against the left.

WEAKENING DEMOS

The left-wing alliance, made up chiefly of the Socialists and the Communists, got about 40 per cent of the votes in the first round, 3 per cent more than the Gaullists. But there was no assurance that the leftists could retain and unify this vote in the second round.

Results of last Sunday's first round showed a weakening of the Center Democratic party, which attracted about 12 per cent of the popular vote. It is expected to run about 40 candidates Sunday.

Any candidate in the first round who received at least 10 per cent of the registered vote in his district is eligible to compete in the runoff, but leaders of the Communist and non-Communist left agreed Dec. 20 to unify their strength in the final battle and back one leftist candidate in each district.

Fire Damages Conroe Plant

CONROE (AP) — A grass fire swept into the United Creosoting Co. plant here late Tuesday and a residential blaze caused heavy damage early today.

Authorities said sparks from a freight train apparently started flames which burned along an eight-mile path into the creosoting plant. Damage to lumber there was estimated at $15,000.

Fire discovered at 3:40 a.m. today destroyed a two - story frame house and damaged a small hotel on one side and two frame dwellings on the other. There were no injuries.

TRIBUTE PAID TO YOUNG WARRIOR'S VALOR
Col. George E. Franks, Webb AFB, hands Mrs. Lois Davis the medal won by her son, Spec. 5 Richard A. Spangler

Mrs. Davis Receives Honor Won By Spec. 5 Spangler

Mrs. Walt Davis, mother of Spec. 5 Richard A. Spangler, U.S.A., received, in her dead son's name, the Bronze Star with the V device for valor in brief ceremonies at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Col. George E. Franks, group commander at Webb AFB, made the presentation. The exercises, in which the color guard of the base in dress uniform took part, were conducted at the War Memorial on the east side of the Howard County Courthouse.

Young Spangler, who was fatally wounded in action on Nov. 5, was awarded the Bronze Star for heroic action three months earlier — action in which he suffered injuries.

His mother and his stepfather, Walt Davis, of 3300 Drexel, had already been presented with the Purple Heart for wounds that caused the death of the young Army career-man.

First Lt. Roger Brown, U.S. Army Reserve, who served as adjutant for the ceremonies Tuesday, read the official citation concerning Spangler's deed of valor.

The text is:

"Spec. 5 Spangler distinguished himself by heroic actions on Aug. 2, 1966, in the Republic of Vietnam while serving as a medical aidman with Co. A, 2nd Bn, 27th Infantry.

"As elements of Company A advanced through dense underbrush near Ap Cu Lao Tre in search of the Viet Cong, they received intense automatic weapons fire from fortified enemy positions to their front.

"As the company advanced upon the Viet Cong, they sustained several casualties. One of these injured men had moved to within a few yards of the enemy's bunkers when he was seriously wounded by enemy fire.

"In answer to the soldier's plea for help, with complete disregard for his personal safety, Spec. Spangler immediately left his position and rushed through the barrage of enemy fire to the soldier's aid. Spec. Spangler was struck and wounded by a hostile grenade that exploded near his position.

"His outstanding display of aggressiveness, devotion to duty, and personal bravery is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit upon himself, his unit, the 25th Infantry Division, and the United States Army."

Ceremonies closed with the benediction by J. V. Davis, minister of the Church of Christ, Lubbock.

District Has Gain Of 60

Big Spring Independent School district picked up 60 scholastics in the 1967 school census, as compared with 1966.

Mrs. Helen Acuff, secretary to the county school superintendent, said that the records of the current year nose count of scholastics in the Big Spring district show a total of 8,309 as compared with 8,249 for 1966.

This year's rolls show there are 7,840 white and 469 Negro children in the district. In 1966, the figures were 7,785 white and 464 Negro.

The census rolls will now be checked for possible duplications and the final figures dispatched to the state capital.

Coahoma school district showed a gain this year, but the other school district in the county, Forsan, showed a slight decrease.

Officers Check On 4 Thefts

One burglary and four thefts were reported Tuesday.

Wilbern Davis, told police a cigarette machine in Wilson's Cafe, 314 NW 4th, had been entered and an undetermined amount of change had been taken. Entry was gained by forcing the lock and hasp off the door of a barber shop which adjoins the place.

Someone took 15 bags of fertilizer, 20 bags of peat moss, and six bags of nitrate from in front of TG&Y, in Highland Shopping Center.

Music lovers apparently walked into J & J Auto Sales, Tuesday, and slipped out with a $75 auto stereo, and other music lovers relieved Kirby Horton, 422 Hillside, of his auto stereo which was in his car, parked in front of his residence.

John Knox, 1313 Lexington reported the theft of a motor from a boat parked behind his shop at 608 E. 3rd.

Man Freed On Writ, Then Put In Another Jail

Samuel Frazier Searcy, 31, Tulsa, Okla., arrested here in connection with a car case and held as a fugitive in the city jail since March 2, was ordered released by Judge Ralph Caton, 118th District Court last night. The judge granted a petition for a writ of habeas corpus filed in Searcy's behalf.

However, the Oklahoman's liberty was only a technical victory — Sheriff A. N. Standard immediately took him into custody and placed him in the county jail to answer a charge of defrauding an innkeeper.

The writ of habeas corpus was issued because no fugitive warrant, the court held, existed to justify the man's detention by the city police.

Death Is Decreed For Texas Sniper

FORT WORTH AP)—A district court jury ruled Tuesday night Melvin Stuart Pittman, accused sniper slayer of three, must die for the September slaying of Kenneth Eugene Jones.

The seven-man, five-woman jury brought in the verdict after some four hours of deliberations.

SHOT SAILOR

Pittman, 19, was accused of gunning down the 35-year-old Jones as Jones sailed a boat on Lake Arlington. He was on trial for only that slaying, though he was charged in the shooting deaths of a middle-aged couple.

The prosecution demanded the death penalty. "This may not deter anyone else from murdering anyone but it will keep Melvin Stuart Pittman from going to some other sailor on Lake Arlington and hollering 'Hey!' and blowing half his head off," Asst. Dist. Atty. Charles Butts told the panel.

FAILED IN SCHOOL

Defense lawyer Charles Dickens had asked for leniency. "One senseless killing does not deserve nor does it justify another senseless killing," Dickens said. "Just because he is dumb, because he failed in school, is no reason to give Pittman the death penalty, even if he is guilty," Dickens said.

Pittman, a tall, blond former student at a technical high school, made a signed statement to police admitting he killed Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Victor Laird with a rfile purchased at a pawn shop. The Lairds were killed in early September, he said, Jones about three weeks later.

Murder Trial Is Under Way

PLAINVIEW (AP) — Testimony began today in the murder trial of Nick Fries, a German immigrant accused of killing his wife Erika, 36, here last Aug. 7.

Selection of the jury was completed Tuesday. The couple's three sons were among courtroom spectators.

The body of Mrs. Fries was found in a pasture a block from their Plainview home. She had been shot four times.

Blast Rips Six Britons

ADEN (AP) — Six Britons attending an outdoor dinner party in Aden Tuesday night were wounded when a terrorist lobbed a grenade into the gathering. Four were hurt seriously.

In a similar incident a week ago two Britsih women were killed and 11 other Britons were wounded in an explosion at a cocktail party. British officials suspect pro-Egyptian nationalists of the terrorism. The nationalists oppose the British-backed South Arabian Federation, which includes Aden.

Dear Abby

Husband, Not A Daddy

DEAR ABBY: I am an unwed mother, age 24. My daughter, Nancy, is nearly six years old and she is my problem. We live with my parents, and no matter who I bring home, Nancy doesn't like him.

When I ask her if she wouldn't like to have a "Daddy," she says she already has one. (She calls my father "Daddy," although she knows he is really her grandfather.) What am I going to do? I love my daughter, but I would like to marry again, and at this rate I don't have a chance. MIXED UP

DEAR MIXED UP: When you meet the man you want to marry, bring him home and introduce him to your daughter as YOUR "future husband." In other words, leave the word "Daddy" out of it. Nancy has known only one "Daddy" (your father) so she can't be blamed for rejecting every man who threatens to replace him.

If you appear more concerned with providing your daughter with a new "Daddy" than finding yourself a new husband, Nancy will get married before you do.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law gave me a beautiful hostess gown for my birthday. I thanked her for it and thought it was a lovely gift. Then she told me that she had originally bought it for herself a few months before, but she decided that she didn't like it well enough to wear, so she gave it to me.

That spoiled the gift for me, and now I can't enjoy wearing it, so it's still in the box.

What do you think of a sister-in-law who would say such a thing? And what should I do with the gift? HURT

DEAR HURT: Your sister-in-law is either, unbelievably thoughtless or just plain stupid. In any case, since you can't enjoy wearing it, give it to someone who doesn't know its history.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine—not a very close friend, but we are in the same circle—has a nasty little habit. She goes into other people's refrigerators on the pretense of "getting a glass of water." She says she doesn't like to bother the hostess so she helps herself.

I am a good housekeeper and keep things orderly, so it's not that I'm ashamed of what she might see, but I do not like to have strangers "casing" my refrigerator. How can I get this nosey person to cease this annoying practice? ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Make sure there is a pitcher of ice water and plenty of glasses handy when you know the "easer" is coming. If she invents another excuse to go into your refrigerator, put a padlock on it for her next visit. She'll get the message.

Draft-Dodgers Flee To Canada

TORONTO (AP) — Scott, as he wants to be known, was a 23-year-old film editor in the United States. Last fall, a week after he received his draft notice, he decided to evade military service by coming to Canada.

Now he is among the growing number of American draft-dodgers whose presence in Canada has sparked exchanges in Parliament. Canada has no draft.

Scott, unlike some draft-evaders in Canada, is not a pacifist.

"If Communist China attacked United States shores, I'd feel compelled to go back," he says.

But he adds that until his country can offer what he considers an adequate reason for the Vietnam war, he wants no part of it.

NO ONE KNOWS

No one knows how many American draft-dodgers are in Canada. They are reluctant to draw attention to themselves. Those interviewed talk only with the understanding they will not be fully identified.

Rich Paterak, 23, who directs from Toronto a program of assistance to draft-dodgers run by the Student Union for Peace Action, says he has heard estimates ranging from 50 to 2,000 but cannot vouch for their accuracy.

Former Prime Minister John Diefenbaker has cited in the House of Commons U.S. reports that between 1,500 and 3,000 Americans are in Canada to avoid the draft.

HELPING HAND

There are known to be draft-dodgers in Vancouver, Toronto's Bohemian Yorkville Village area harbors a number. David Depoe, a volunteer with a Canadian organization which runs a project in Yorkville, says there are usually up to a dozen draft-dodgers in the area.

On arrival draft-evaders can find a helping hand from the Student Union for Peace Action. Some individual members of the Society of Friends—Quakers—and the pacifist fellowship of reconciliation also help although the Quakers and the fellowship do not run aid programs.

The student union, an organization with interests in social as well as peace-related fields, helps the Americans find jobs and places to stay.

'A BIT LONELY'

The Americans say they encounter little hostility in Canada. Scott, who feels "a bit lonely, a bit out of place" after three months in Canada, thinks he can feel at home as he builds friendships.

A clampdown on draft-dodgers entering Canada, for the present at least, seems unlikely. Manpower Minister Jean Marchand said in answer to a Commons question recently that the government plans no amendments to immigration laws to bar entry of U.S. citizens avoiding the draft.

Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson said in reply to another question that he knows of no official correspondence from the American government on the subject.

U.S. authorities, in fact, seem little concerned. Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, director of the U.S. Selective Service System, reflected this in a London, Ont., interview last year.

"I've got over 31 million men registered," he said. "I'm not going to get excited about a few hundred."

Farm Meet At Stanton

Paul E. Gross, county farm agent, joined by Delbert Davidson, FHA; Gerald Miller of the Soil Conservation Service; Catherine Crawford, home demonstration agent; and Gabe Hammack, with the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, is urging all Howard County farmers and others to attend a meeting in Stanton Friday at 1:30 p.m.

The meeting is one of a series of gatherings to discuss the findings of the South Plains Economic Study and the information, Gross thinks, will be of much importance to Howard County and Big Spring residents.

John Seibert, area specialist in Texas Agricultural Extension Service, will be the speaker. He has information, Gross says, which can mean an improved financial future for this county.

The meeting is to be in the Caprock Electric Cooperative building, on the west edge of Stanton.

Offers Of Rides Make It Rough

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — Republican Gov. David F. Cargo, 38, started walking two miles from the mansion to his office last week as part of a physical exercise program coupled with a drive to save government transportation dollars.

He's still at it but told Tuesday of an unexpected obstacle.

"It's very discouraging to get so many offers of rides," he said.

A Devotional For The Day

Come, see a man which told me all things that ever I did: is not this the Christ? (John 4:29)

PRAYER: Our loving heavenly Father, may we be channels of blessings to those about us, and especially to those who have not been following Thy way of life. Lead them to experience the transforming power of Thy redeeming love. May Thy blessing rest upon all Christians who are endeavoring to live, to teach, and to preach Christ. In His name we ask. Amen.

One-Sided Action Not Realistic

From various quarters come repeated suggestions that the bombing of North Vietnam be halted as a means of getting Hanoi to the conference table. Among those carrying this torch is Sen. Robert Kennedy, who said that Hanoi has dropped its previous four points as a condition of talks, hence we could afford the concession of halted bombing.

He and others make an erroneous assumption, namely that Hanoi has indicated it will halt the movement of supplies and infiltration when we cease the bombing. At no time has Hanoi said this, and indeed its statements indicate the contrary. Certainly the record during brief respites shows the opposite, if Defense Department intelligence is to be credited. According to that source, great volumes of men and supplies moved down over unharassed supply lines when we held off during the lunar new year holiday.

All of that volume of desperately needed reinforcements for the North Vietnamese simply means more trouble for our forces in the field. Most sources agree that the Viet Cong supply pipeline has been about drained and that the flow from the north has been drastically reduced. In short, the Viet Cong is hurting badly and promises to be hurt worse.

Thus, we cannot see where the proposals of Sen. Kennedy and others to provide the North Vietnamese with sanctuary for troop and supply movement will help unless there is some enforceable agreement to halt this in return for a halt in the bombing. If this de-escalation concession can be obtained bilaterally, then there may be a realistic basis for sitting down and talking. The chances of something coming out of the talks would be infinitely greater, too.

Process Of Adjustment

A fascinating study has been provided by Australian rabbits. Just 16 years ago a virus, myxomatosis, imported from South America, was introduced in the rabbit population of Australia. A year later 99 per cent of the rabbits infected by the virus died. Only two or three per thousand survived, but those that did subsequently became immune to the disease.

"It took about 10 years for rabbit and myxomatosis virus to reach an equilibrium that, as it were, satisfied both," Sir McFarlane Burnett, Nobel prize winner in the field of medicine and physiology, noted.

A similar situation is going on in the insect world in the continuing race between insecticides and insects. Control of the corn borer in the Midwest, for instance, now requires concentrations of endrin 100 times more powerful than when the insecticide was first used. New chemicals or more massive dosages are continually being required to overcome the build-up tolerance and immunity.

This makes us wonder what will happen in time in the screwworm eradication program by irradiation of male flies to insure sterility.

Adjustment seems to be a constant process of nature, and it has been observed that perhaps this holds hope for man eventually fitting into his environment of poisoned air and water —or even to radioactivity from fallout.

How High The Price For Peace?

WASHINGTON — It now seems beyond question that the Vietnam War is moving toward a new climax. With massed artillery, with submersible river-mines, with Navy gunfire, with tactical pincher-movements that herd the enemy ground forces into slaughterpens, we are moving to the kill.

There is not much left organizationally of the guerrilla bands that once infested South Vietnam, and we are now thumping North Vietnam at a rising tempo. The President is using weapons, particularly at sea, that he withheld lest the enemy retaliate — specifically, by resorting to submarine warfare in which both Russia and Red China are well-armed.

THE PRESIDENT is escalating (and a pity he doesn't honestly say so) at the risk of an enlarged conflict with the Communist powers and of wholesale desertion by such friends as we have in Europe. But the risk is less today than it was before the overthrow of Sukarno in Indonesia and the upheaval against Mao in Red China.

BUT THIS is only one page of the ledger. It appears that we shall soon know the cost of the Vietnam War. We can measure it statistically in casualties and material costs, as well as in still more awesome results. If wholly successful, this limited war will produce a communism-balking bastion in Southeast Asia, much as we erected in South Korea, Formosa and West Berlin. If wholly unsuccessful in its purposes, this limited war will not have "stopped" communism but will have aroused it to fight at a much higher pitch in the skies and on the oceans. It would be a failure of policy, something not intended, if victory or near-victory in Vietnam brings on such results.

BUT THE Moving Finger is also writing another page of the ledger. The President has been busy at peacemaking, and this requires some other cost-accounting. The phrase "another Yalta" or a "super-Yalta" is heard around town. First Sen. Dirksen, and then Barry Goldwater, have reconsidered their opposition to the consular treaty with Russia. The rail-bird opinion in the press galleries is that the consular exchange is part of a package deal to obtain or retain the Kremlin's help at peace-making in Vietnam and at the avoidance of an enlarged war.

A DEMOCRATIC senator of the innermost administration councils told this reporter, "I've been opposing the consular treaty, but I could change my mind. I feel we wouldn't be giving up very much." He meant that peace in Vietnam would be cheap at the price of a couple of Russian consulates in American cities.

Practically everybody would agree. But who says that it's a full payment, and not just an installment payment? The same senator, talking confidentially, was adamant against reduction of American forces in Europe. "That would encourage the Communists everywhere," he said.

IS REDUCTION of NATO forces a part of the package deal? Is the next down payment an extension of the partial ban on nuclear testing? Is a liberalization of East-West trade another item? Does it all add up into the "super-Yalta" that is gaining currency in discussions?

It would be the worst bargain we ever struck to buy peace in Vietnam at these indicated prices—a disguised pullback in West Europe, a disguised form of disarmament, a disguised subsidy to the Soviet bloc economy in East Europe.

Billy Graham

If people cannot belong to one church because they have't been immersed, to another because they have been divorced, to another because they have been in the military service, and to another because they haven't experienced a certain type of sanctification, what are they to do? R. F.

These are your reasons for not belonging to a church and serving Christ. Others may manufacture other excuses, but still the question comes, "What must I do with Jesus which is called Christ?" You may have excuses for not belonging to certain denominations such as you have mentioned, but none of us have any for rejecting Jesus Christ. He forgave the immoral woman, hardly mentioned baptism, said little about military service, and plainly said, "Him that cometh unto me I will in no wise cast out."

Most of the excuses people offer for not being Christian are based upon the imperfections of men. They say, "There are too many hypocrites in the church; church people do not practice what they preach; the church is always talking about money; or church people are always fighting. The real issue is: "Will I reject or accept Jesus Christ, the Savior of the World?" If you will face up to this problem, the others will take care of themselves. You asked what you could do. This is it! Turn your life over to Jesus Christ, and many of the answers will be given to your questions.

Johnson Plays It Straight

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, going through three phases in his public relations since taking over the White House in 1963, has hit on a cool, middle-ground where he is likely to stay.

He was fiercely driving and ebullient at first, so obviously anxious to be liked he looked awkward; then he became so reticent he almost disappeared from view; now he plays it straight and dead-pan.

THIS THIRD role has helped him. That's why he will probably maintain it until the end of his presidency, whether it's in 1969 or 1973.

Johnson was a man of lunging energy, an arm-around-the-shoulders and let's-reason-together kind of man, who tried to get things done amicably in his six years as Democratic leader in the Senate.

That he was politically ambitious then, with his eyes on the White House, became plain when he tried for it in 1960.

HE DIDN'T SAY much on the Senate floor in his leadership days there, which was contrary to his nature. In private he talked a torrent. But he did his talking and persuading with the temperamental senators behind the scenes.

He wanted to get along, to be liked. It was one of the best ways to get things done in the Senate where his achievements were later to be the foundation for his bid for the presidency.

In the process he became the best Senate leader in his century, perhaps in American history. For a while after President John F. Kennedy's death, Johnson was rather muted.

But when he got adjusted to his new job, he became his old Senate self, although there was a difference in the two jobs.

THE WHITE HOUSE job required public appearances and pronouncements and, by way of television, direct relations with the whole country. In that situation there was no place for the arm-around-the-shoulders system.

He was awkward, particularly on television where his gestures, his facial expressions and even his rhetoric looked and sounded like pleas to be liked.

'Tommytoes' Corsages?

CHARLES-GENE McDANIEL

CHICAGO (AP) — With snow on the ground and thermometer readings in the teens, not many folk hereabouts are thinking about tomato plants.

In fact, not many people in this asphalted prairie ever think about them. For all they know, tomatoes grow in those plastic packages in which they're sold at the store.

But I'm thinking about tomato plants and searching the seed catalogs for just the right ones to go on my back porch. Those luscious-looking Ponderosas and Red Globe don't really tempt me, nor do the cherry and plum tomatoes — which in my Arkansas childhood were called "Tommytoes."

AS A matter of fact, I don't really care what kind of fruit is supposed to come off the vine. All I care about is how many blossoms the plant will produce. Yep. Blossoms.

On the basis of my experience last year as an apartment-dwelling gardener, I've decided that I'm an expert at growing tomato blossoms. I'm planning to capitalize on it this year.

If my plan succeeds, tomato blossom corsages are going to be all the go next summer among the really "in" set of high fashion. I envision little bunches of yellow blossoms and the dull green foliage of the tomato plant tied with ribbon to go with madam's costume.

THIS PLAN was born of last year's failure. What I had in mind then was red, ripe, juicy tomatoes. What I got was little yellow blossoms — lots of them.

Remembrances of my agrarian youth welled up one fine spring day as I rode my bicycle through the neighboring shopping center where a civic group was having a plant sale.

I stopped and bought some petunia plants — red ones and purple ones. About to leave, I noticed some flats of tomato plants — visions of tasty red tomatoes danced through my head.

APPROACHING a man selling plants, I asked if he thought tomatoes would grow in pots on my back porch.

"Sure, if you've got plenty of sun," he replied. In fact, said he, he grew tomatoes in pots on his own back porch. I bought two plants.

The plants grew taller and taller and blossomed profusely. But nary a green tomato appeared, and therefore nary a red one. As the summer wore on and the foliage started to fade, so did my pucker. And by the time frost did in the plants for good, I had long since come to know that I'd have to rely on those ersatz tasteless red tomatoes in plastic packages like many another city dweller.

When Nerves Are Cut Or Damaged

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: In general, is there any treatment for an injured nerve? — H.E.B.

Dear Doctor: Two weeks ago I cut my index finger. Since then I have not regained full use of this finger, and I need it for typing. Although the finger is not sore, it has a "dead" feeling at the tip near the cut. Could there have been some damage to the nerve? — J. H.

These questions can be answered only in general fashion. Nerve injuries are so different in their complexities that readers must not take the following as hard - and - fast gospel for every type of injury.

First of all, a severed nerve, like other kinds of tissue, can repair itself — heal, in other words — if given time.

For the nerve to heal, however, the severed ends must remain in appropriate positions, just as a broken bone must be set if it is to knit correctly. with a simple, clean knife wound, the surrounding tissues ordinarily will fall back into normal position, and so will the nerve.

In extensive injuries, this may not be so. In the case of large nerves, surgical repair is possible, and the ends can be rejoined, or placed in proper position so that they will grow together again.

This can, at times, be done even if a portion of the nerve has been torn away entirely. Nerve trunks can grow, albeit very slowly, and it can take months for them to extend only a few centimeters.

Small nerves cannot be so treated. They are too tiny, and little can be done except to restore the other tissues to as normal position as possible, and trust that the small nerves can restore themselves. Some degree of numbness, loss of sensation or faulty function may persist.

It does not follow that a nerve injury (in a finger, for example) means that all nerve action will be lost. A sensory nerve may be damaged without a motor nerve being harmed.

In the central nerves of the spinal column, paralysis of parts of the body can result from serious injury. It remains beyond the scope of surgical techniques to deal directly with these intricate areas, even though it can be possible at times to relieve pressures, provided the nerves are still intact.

As I warned in the beginning, this may give a general notion of treatment of nerve injuries, but if I never suffer a nerve injury, I'll do just what anyone else would: Call for a neurosurgeon and leave it all up to him.

Dear Dr. Molner: Can a person who has a cataract on one eye have it operated on, or is it necessary to wait until it is on both eyes, and why? — MRS. F.S.D.

No, there is no necessity to wait. It is possible for a cataract to appear only in one eye, an injury being the probable explanation. Usually, however, if one eye is affected, the other will be, too. As a rule the two cataracts do not develop at the same time and rate.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: How can I get rid of a gum boil? I've had it for three weeks. — MRS. F. H.

The likely explanation is an abcessed tooth or other focal infection and I would go posthaste to the dentist. Anything you can do yourself would not get at the real trouble.

Around The Rim

A Couple Of Sidelights

Waggoner Carr, who was Texas attorney general at the time and during the investigation of the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, has detailed meticulously the chronology of his participation in this historic event.

IN HIS summation to the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association during the weekend, he told of having been with the presidential party the day before and at the breakfast just hours before the tragedy. He had a prior commitment to fly to Dumas for an address and expressed his regrets to the President that he could not go on to Dallas. The President replied that he had been having a wonderful time on his Texas visit, appreciated the hospitality and would look forward to seeing him (Carr) in Austin that same evening for a great rally that had been scheduled.

HE THEN recalled his sense of shock on learning of the assassination, how he flew back to Austin, and then subsequently to Washington where he was to be one of Texas' official representatives at the funeral. The rest of his story — designed to refute statements by William Manchester's book, "Death of a President" — was contained in the AP account on wires Sunday evening and Monday.

There are two interesting sidelights. Shortly after Mr. Carr's address, the APME went back into session to hear a panel of distinguished Austin correspondents. One of them wryly observed that had "Mr. Carr made such interesting talks like that last autumn (before the general election), he might be Senator Carr now."

CARR HIMSELF told the other sidebar. Finally, after great tribulation, the format of the assassination investigation was laid out, and the commission headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren went to work. In the course of this Dallas District Attorney Henry Wade and his assistant, Bill Alexander, chief of the criminal investigation division, were asked to come to Washington.

In time, Chief Justice Warren turned to Bill Alexander, a big, friendly, homespun individual.

"Mr. Alexander," the chief justice said. "You probably know more about this matter than anyone else. I want you to tell us everything you know. Don't leave out anything."

IN THE course of the account, Alexander came to Jack Ruby (who killed the accused assassin, Lee Harvey Oswald). The chief justice interrupted: "Please tell us exactly what Mr. Ruby did the evening and night of the assassination."

Alexander, in a minute detail, told how Ruby had been at his club, seemed emotionally upset, went to his place, and back to a night spot, and restless, got in his car and drove down a freeway. At one point he stopped his car, dismounted and with a small camera, took a picture of a billboard, got back in his car and drove on to town.

"JUST A minute, Mr. Alexander," interrupted Justice Warren. "I want you to tell us everything. What was on the sign?"

There was a deep silence, and Alexander cleared his throat.

"Well," asked the chief justice with a trace of impatience.

Alexander leaned forward. "Mr. Chief Justice," he said hesitantly, "it said 'Impeach Earl Warren.'"

THE CHIEF justice flushed, turned a deeper red. Alexander recovered quickly. "Mr. Chief Justice," he volunteered, "gesturing with his hands. "It was just a little bitty sign."

The chief justice leaned back in his chair and roared with laughter, and so did all others present. When laughter died off to chuckles, Justice Warren smiled: "Mr. Alexander, all those signs look big to me."

May Limit Appellate Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON — Public opinion in large part evidently deplores the erratic decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States which recently has turned loose confessed murderers and rapists. For if the American people were not aroused, a special committee of the United States Senate would not be undertaking, as has just been announced, a formal investigation of the impact of those Supreme Court decisions "which have unduly restricted legitimate law enforcement practices."

THIS DEVELOPMENT in the Senate will come as a surprise to many people who may have assumed that the Supreme Court of the United States has the last word and that the oligarchy of justices is not subject to discipline or limitation by Congress.

Fortunately the founding fathers foresaw the possible abuse of judicial power by five out of the nine justices who constitute a majority and carefully inserted certain limitations in Article Three of the Constitution. It says in part:

"The judicial power of the United States shall be vested in one Supreme Court, and in such inferior courts as Congress may from time to time ordain and establish . . .

"IN ALL CASES affecting ambassadors, other public ministers, and consuls, and those in which a state shall be party, the Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction. In all the other cases before mentioned the Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction both as to law and fact, with such exceptions and under such regulations as the Congress shall make."

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.), chairman of the Senate's subcommittee on criminals and judicial procedures, said last Saturday in a significant speech to the Senate:

"WE MUST STOP, and stop now, the release upon society of self-confessed, vicious criminals because of the trivial technicalities invoked in recent decisions by five of our Supreme Court justices—decisions which were vigorously denounced by the other four justices as unsound and harmful to the administration of justice. I am persuaded that the vast majority of our judges, both state and federal, also feel that these recent 5-to-4 decisions are unsound, and that they are most reluctantly having to follow them.

"THESE CLOSELY divided decisions should be reversed; nullified by a constitutional amendment; modified by statute; or, as a final resort to get relief from them, the jurisdiction of appellate courts must be limited and restricted." As Sen. McClellan points out, "The single most effective deterrent to crime is the certainty of apprehension and punishment of criminals." He adds:

"JUST AS a sample of what is happening in our trial courts, I call attention again to the case in which a man in New York had confessed to having murdered his wife and five children . . . The prosecuting attorney and the trial judge had to dismiss the indictment, not because the confession was coerced, but simply because the unreasonable and unjustified requirements of the recent 'Miranda' decision had not in every respect been complied with. This vicious and dangerous criminal was unquestionably guilty of the murders. Nevertheless, our Supreme Court, by its 5-to-4 decisions made it mandatory that he be turned loose upon society."

Congress has the legislative power to nullify certain rulings of the Supreme Court's majority by removing such questions altogether from its jurisdiction. For the American people now are beginning to demand appropriate action to eliminate barriers in the war against crime within the United States.

Big Savings Bond Sales Anticipated

NEW YORK (AP)—The relatively low ebb of consumer enthusiasm, reflected most dramatically in the slackest automobile sales in years, has also become a spur to the purchase of government savings bonds.

Treasury officials recently reported that bond sales in February reached a seven-year high for the month. Retail merchants at the same time reported that sales, though bright, weren't sparkling the way they had hoped.

THROUGHOUT the latter part of 1966 consumers began putting more money than before into savings of one sort or another. And the increase was in rough proportion to their waning interest in buying goods, as measured by several surveys.

At one point recently about six per cent of disposable income was being saved compared to less than five per cent at midyear 1966. Bonds are a beneficiary of this trend.

OTHER FACTORS are at work also. Some interest rates have fallen as the demand for credit recedes a bit, but the interest rate on bonds has been raised to 4.15 per cent from 3.75 per cent. They are a better buy now.

The patriotic motive also cannot be ignored. More Americans are finding themselves involved personally in the Vietnam war, thus creating an emotional climate for purchases.

GOVERNMENT promotional efforts have helped too. And so has the lifting of purchase limits. Less than a year ago the Treasury raised the limit on the amount of bonds an individual can purchase in one year. On Series E the figure was doubled to $20,000. On Series H it rose to $30,000, from $20,000.

All these may be factors, but even in total they cannot dispel the evidence that a lessening of consumer confidence is involved. The consumer always puts his money where his confidence is.

AS HE FINDS his disposable income melted away, the reality of inflation is brought home. Purchasing becomes less attractive. A car or a home or an appliance is made to do for another year. The money goes into savings.

Now a new bond, Freedom Shares, will go on the market May 1 at a higher rate of interest and quicker maturity. Already industry and government officials are being instructed in sales of these shares through payroll deduction plans. A big promotional campaign is expected.

THE NEW NOTES can be obtained only by purchasers of Series E bonds on a one-for-one basis, but since more than eight million persons now belong to payroll deduction plans a big sale is anticipated.

The Freedom Shares carry an annual interest rate of 4.74 per cent if held to maturity 4½ years later. Cashed in before that time they pay less.

D&D Speaker Names Industry Necessities

C. C. (Mitch) Michel, public relations and safety director for the Midland Region of Byron Jackson Inc., was guest speaker for the Desk and Derrick meeting Monday at 7 p.m. in the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas Company. He was introduced by Mrs. Adrian Randle and chose the topic "Five P's in a Pod."

C. C. MICHEL

Michel, a native of Kendrick, Okla., and graduate of Oklahoma State University, became a West Texan in 1938. He serves the oil industry as secretary of the Southwestern District of American Petroleum Institute and as a director of the Permian Basin Oil Show. Civic affairs claim a share of his time, and his zest for gardening and landscaping has led him to serve currently as the president of the Southwestern Region of Men's Garden Clubs of America.

Michel likened the oil industry to the "pod" and its needs to the "P's" and selected five as of primary importance.

"PEOPLE are first" he said, especially young and well trained people. The industry must attract and hold them.

"PROGRESS is essential. Great progress has been made since the first well was drilled and must continue to develop the vast resources stored underground for the use of man.

"PROFITS are much less than a survey of high school students recently revealed them to be. They are nearer seven per cent than the fifty per cent many supposed the industry to reap.

"POLITICS is important to every individual as well as to the effectiveness of the industry. Not the old philosophy of "it doesn't matter how you vote," but to become well informed on both sides of every issue—then get out and vote.

"PRIDE of the right kind is so essential that the other four P's in the pod might have a hard time surviving without this one."

Michel especially noted that the women in the oil industry had a great pride in it and the activities of the Desk and Derrick Clubs of North America were evidence of this pride.

Mrs. Paul Van Sheedy presided and introduced three new members, Mrs. Bill Thompson, Mrs. Arthur Perkins and Mrs. John W. Rains. Eighteen attended.

The next meeting will be April 3.

Game Night To Be Held

Mrs. Albert Medlin, president, announced that game night with husbands as guests will be held April 3 in the Forsan library, during the Monday evening meeting of the Conoco Wives' Club. Mrs. D. W. Roberson entertained the group in her home, 4300 Connally, and Mrs. Kenneth Campbell gave the invocation.

The refreshment table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a large arrangement of Easter lilies, surrounded by colored Easter eggs and greenery.

Eleven attended and one guest, Mrs: Sam Rust, was introduced.

Guest Describes German Salons

Mrs. D. E. Bippus, a guest speaker, described beauty shops in Germany during the Monday evening meeting of the Texas Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association, Affiliate No. 24.

Mrs. Bippus told of differences in operation of salons in Germany and the United States, noting that several operators may work on the same coiffure in shops there. She said, however, that the service is fast and inexpensive.

Gary Don Carey presided and urged members to attend a meeting in San Angelo Sunday to plan the district show. Membership Day was slated April 2.

Avoid Remover For Rug Stains

Never use nail polish remover to take off nail polish spills from rugs and carpets, remind Pennsylvania State University home economics extension specialists.

The remover may dissolve the fibers leaving holes in the rug. Use a safe and simple solvent.

End Series On Poverty

The last in a series of four mission studies on "Affluence and Poverty" by the Wesleyan Service Guild of the First Methodist Church was held Monday evening in the church parlor with Mrs. Thel Watts, study leader, presiding. Miss Edith Gay and Mrs. W. R. Yates were co-leaders.

Mrs. Ara Cunningham presented a monologue, "One Womans World," which depicted the stereotyped ideas many people have regarding the poor. The woman was representative of many women of affluence who live without becoming involved or interested in those less fortunate except in a condescending manner.

Following the program, tape recordings were heard from interviews by Eric Robinson, "The Man with the Mike." They were case histories from the book, "Keepers of the Poor," by Dr. J. Edward Caruthers.

A study offering of $40 was contributed for use in world missions activities.

The next regular meeting of the guild will be Monday at 7:30 p.m. for a program on "The Christian and World Economy."

A LOVELIER YOU

Plan Wardrobe To Take You Anywhere

How often do you buy a dress for a special occasion? And how often does the dress become a skelton in your closet?

An outfit selected in haste with one event in mind almost always proves of little use. It is either out of key with the rest of one's wardrooe or it is too high-keyed for one's customary way of life.

Admittedly there are a few rare events, such as your senior prom or your wedding, when a special purchase is called for. But, if a lass or a lady wishes to have an attractive, appropriate thing to wear at the drop of an invitaion, she must become a clothes collector with a wily plan.

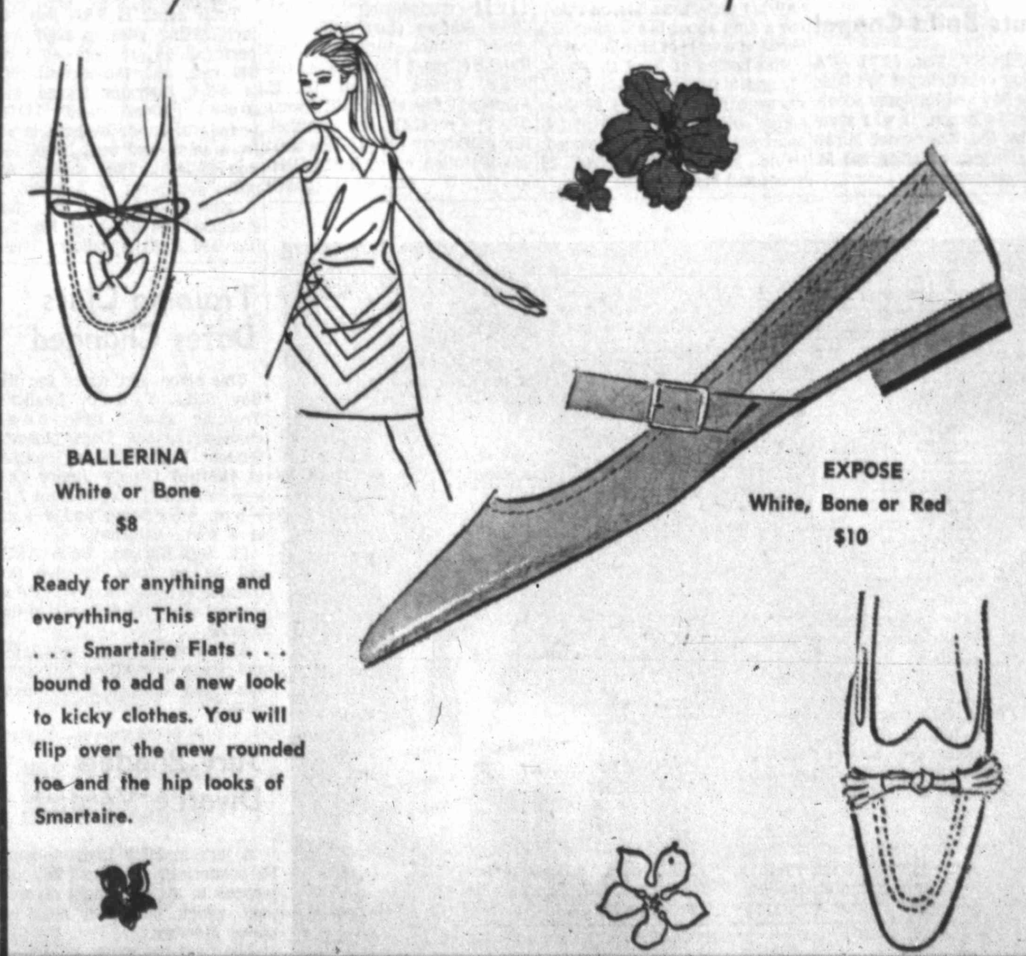

Her aim is to assemble the minimum basics — one complete costume for casual, daytime and evening occasions. In terms of the coming spring, that could mean a tweedy costume with skirt, jacket and pullover in a neutral shade; a bright silky print dress and color-coordinate wool coat; a jacketed late-day costume in a solid pale or deep color.

Although few, those clothes take you anywhere on the social scene in best-dressed fashion. If desirable, purchases can be spread out. You might buy a coat and dress this spring and the casuals next year. Rotating large purchases is a smart idea. Coats and suits in particular give long service. Acquired on a rotation basis, new ones become additions instead of replacements.

FLATTERING COLORS

In fashion, nothing makes you lovelier than color. It can enhance your skin, hair, eyes and figure; it can express your individuality and style. Great powers, those! To learn how to put them to work for you, read our leaflet, "Your Most Flattering Colors." To obtain a copy, send your request to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Rehab Center To Hold Open House

In conjunction with the Easter Seal Drive, the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, Third and Lancaster, will conduct an open house Sunday from 2 p.m. til 5:30 p.m., and all next week from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The high school German Band will furnish entertainment Sunday in the conference room, while volunteers show visitors through the center.

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center was founded by the Easter Seal Society, and although they are separate organizations, the Society helps the center financially.

The center is a local voluntary health organization whose primary purpose is to help the physically handicapped of Big Spring and the surrounding area to become more self-sustaining and independent members of society. It is a non-profit organization, and not tax-supported. Services of the center are available to all of the physically handicapped, regardless of age, race, creed, or financial circumstances, who can benefit by treatment.

It is directed and staffed by professional therapists who are assisted by volunteer lay workers, with Mrs. Roy Granbery, in charge of the volunteer auxiliary of the center. The operations of the center are financed by contributions of individuals, support of civic groups, various agencies, and memorial gifts.

Donations and contributions help buy crutches, braces, wheelchairs, and the salary for a swimming instructor so mentally retarded and physically handicapped children may learn how to swim.

Services are offered by the center to any patient with a prescription for treatment from a doctor.

Services offered include speech and physical therapy, and treatments for disabilities such as cerebral palsy, birth defects, arthritis, accidents, polio, and strokes.

Student Government Program Set Friday

Over 50 high school youngsters will get an inside look at city, county and district offices Friday, during the Seventh Annual Student Government Day program sponsored by the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

R. H. Weaver will emcee the program starting at 7:30 a.m. with breakfast in the Settles Hotel. Dr. Lee O. Rogers, president of the chamber, will welcome the students; Don Crockett, school business manager, will respond; and Weaver will introduce the guest speaker, Gil Jones. Debbie Douglas will give the invocation.

Weaver will introduce the various city, county, and district officials and each will outline the activities of his job. Following the initial session, each official will take his student counterpart back to his office for an on-the-job survey of the work.

Several highlights are planned for the day. The city commissioners will stage a "mock" commission meeting, with the students deciding several issues. The county commissioners will no doubt hold a similar meeting, and "mock" trials will probably be held either in the district or county courts.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Schools Today Are Modern, Complex Educational Arm

(This is another in a series of articles in connection with Texas Public School week, and the third about the high school.—Ed)

The three R's, a slate and a hickory stick have long since faded from the educational scene. In their place today is a modern educational instrument so complex that a bread and butter program in academics and job-training requires vast back-up services, particularly in the high school.

The library is a good starting point. Today the library at BSHS has 6,500 volumes, but the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools the accrediting agency) recommends that by 1970 schools have eight volumes per pupil, which means the library will have to be trebled. The recommendation is for 10 books per pupil by 1975, or four times the present ratio. It also is recommended that high schools have a minimum new book budget of $2,250 for the first 1,000 students, plus $1 per student (making around $3,500 for our four-grade high school).

LIBRARY AIMS

Nor is this all, for the audio-visual and other instructional aids will be an extension of the library. Two films owned jointly with HCJC and other schools can be used either for supplemental instruction or used for complete instruction in chemistry and physics. The language laboratory is another facet of library service, so that the library becomes almost the heart of the system. Naturally, this will call for more staff.

Take the matter of counseling or guidance. There may have been a time when this was considered a high-falutin' frill, but now educators rate it such a necessity that they believe there should be enough personnel to permit a personal confrontation between each pupil and a counselor at least once a year. Guidance is not merely a matter of testing (although tests are indispensible as indicators and required by most colleges and universities at regular, stated times) but rather a chance to help guide students in the right career directions. The service also helps line up class schedules (which, unfortunately, too many young people or parents try to switch). It helps to gain some small insight into the emotional and behavioral stresses upon some young lives.

HEALTH AND HOME

Health services are part of the picture. Two days each week the health nurse is in the high school administering tests on seeing, hearing, and teeth, giving TB tests, giving lectures and demonstrations upon request of PE and other teachers. They administer first aid if students show foresight enough to get hurt on the proper days.

The home-bound teacher is available to any child in the system who, for reasons of illness or disability, cannot attend school for a period of four weeks. The teacher will begin going to that home from the first day if a physician certifies the need for that projected period. A recent valedictorian "attended" school that way. Similarly, but in a slightly different way, is the service of the visiting teacher who is dispatched to visit with parents of pupils who cannot be contacted in any other way.

Food service at high school will involve (when new facilities are soon completed) a large kitchen and staff capable of serving up to 2,500 daily (about 700 at a time in the dining room), and operating a snack bar.

TRANSPORTATION

Transportation service reaches out to bring and return over 350 high school students eligible to ride the bus each day. This is comparable to moving seven bus loads to and from the school.

Right now the school is operating a program for a blind lad who hopes to advance to the point of qualifying for the state school. A special teacher comes in periodically to give the pupil instruction.

The myriad of athletic or interscholastic league contests is a broad service that touches hundreds of participants in football, basketball, track, baseball, golf for boys, or tennis and swimming for boys and girls, or volleyball for girls. It also deals with various other activities such as debate, drama, choral and band contests.

CHALLENGING PROGRAMS

Among other special services are the accelerated programs available to gifted students (and to some at the other end of the spectrum). These include the TEMAC series for self-pacing and challenging the mind; or advanced placement programs which lets those capable of college level work have the adventure of learning in certain fields. There are provisions for developing frontiers of study such as astronomy and space (the new high school plant has a building ready for a planetarium when there is a demand).

And finally there is the special service of records. Uncertainty of getting into a favored college has led most graduates to request not one but two or three transcripts of credits. Not a few start asking for transcripts in the junior year. A new trend from industry is increasing the record volume, too. Businesses can tell quickly about ability by simple tests, but they want more and more records on attitudes, activities, etc. to forecast potential.

CHANGING SCENE

The list of services is almost limitless, but consider one which may be developing as a product of an affluent society. It is that of parking. This is not a jesting matter, as you might think, but a real and growing one. Space for 400 cars has been provided, but it hardly seems adequate. Already there has been talk of a closed campus to try to effect a semblance of control. Problems are so many and varied in this area that some day there conceivably could be a demand for a director of parking. This simply points up that none can safely predict what the needs of a comprehensive high school of tomorrow will actually be.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Those fortunate folk who enjoyed the hospitality of the International Wives Club at their sixth anniversary celebration party last night may find just ordinary food a little lacklustre for a while.

When it comes to being colorful and good hostesses this group is hard to beat. MRS. AL VALDEZ keeps things jumping with her enthusiasm; MRS. DANNY VALDEZ, pretty and charming not only danced but provided some delicious homemade finger food, a recipe from her native Cuba. From Denmark was the torte decorated with yellow icing and shaved chocolate from the kitchen of MRS. ELSE SINNOTT, and from Spain, tho' the name of the charming lady I missed, were some delicious empanadoes . . . that may not be the way the Spanish spell it, but anyway it is spelled, the finished product, made by making layers and layers of thinly rolled pie crust, filled with a meat mixture then fashioned as miniature fried pies, then baked, is a tasty treat. Many others furnished dishes from their native lands but only a few were able to partake of them all . . . though most of us tried.

From Coahoma came MRS. PHIL WYNN, MRS. HELEN BEARD, and MRS. BILL READ, all of whom were hostesses to the wives group at Christmas time when the international women provided a program for them.

All of us hope the best for this organization and wish them many more happy years.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Put Liquid Shampoo On 'Sticking' Doors

Dear Heloise:

Do you know what to do when a door sticks, or won't open as easily as it should? Take a squeeze bottle of shampoo and apply a little along the edge that rubs; wait a few seconds and it is "open sesame"!

I also learned that undiluted liquid dishwashing detergent works well, too. . . . Linda Randolph

* * *

Dear Linda:

This is a great idea for unsticking doors.

HELOISE

I also had two wooden kitchen drawers that wouldn't slide very well.

I pulled them out, dumped the contents on a newspaper and squirted a thin line of shampoo along the runners, let it dry a bit, put the drawers back in their places, and pulled them out several times. They now slide "slick as a whistle."

By dumping the stuff in the drawers on a newspaper, naturally it messed them up and required a straightening out before they could be replaced.

Sorting the contents didn't take long and was a good way to get the drawers cleaned at the same time.

Try it, gals . . . why not kill two birds with one stone? If you mess it up good you'll have to clean it. . . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I discovered a new way to utilize coffee cans with the plastic lids.

When preparing chicken for frying, I place the flour and other seasonings in the can, put in a few pieces of chicken at a time, put the lid back on and give it a vigorous shaking.

The flour is much more evenly distributed than when I use others methods. And did you ever have the bottom of a paper bag break while shaking chicken pieces? Oh . . . Brother!

Any leftover flour may be stored in the can until needed again. Just replace the plastic lid. . . .B. L. C.

Dear Heloise:

I cut nylon net into strips and wind up around two or three wire coat changers that are the same shape.

My garments do not slip off these hangers. . . . Tresa Crawford

* * *

Yes, you are exactly right. And these wrapped nylon coat hangers are wonderful for drying drip-dries, too.

No crease on the shoulder and no rust! . . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

I took a small batch of address labels, licked only the bottom one, and stuck the entire stack on top of my stationery box.

Now, no more scrambling for that little old stack of labels. Add I do is tear off the top one each time. Molly Manning

Dear Heloise:

When I make mashed potatoes I always add a pinch of baking powder as I pour in my milk.

I find this makes them far lighter and fluffier. . . . Rose

* * *

True, they also do this in restaurants.

I actually saw one cook add some to instant potatoes before adding the liquid. . . . Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When my son was small and wore one-piece snowsuits, I bought inexpensive ones each year and converted them into sleeping bags.

I sewed the cuffs on each leg closed (so his feet would stay warm), and used this as a sleeping garment on top of his pajamas.

There was never a worry about blankets falling off or getting over his face . . . Mrs. Vera Taneri

Pearls Require Care To Maintain Luster

Debutantes and brides nearly always wear pearls — usually the single strand version but in varied lengths.

Women who own natural or cultured pearls might be interested to know that they should be worn as often as possible because pearls that aren't worn get dull looking. Pearls set in rings, pins and accessories can gain the same glow necklaces have if you'll rub the pearls briskly over the palm of your hand for a few seconds.

More advice on TLC for for pearls: Put perfume on before you put your pearls on. Alcoholic content in perfume in a liquid state is harmful to pearl surfaces . . . don't lock pearls without air for long periods of time . . . if you must put them away, even for a short time, wrap each piece separately in tissue or soft cloth . . . occasionally, wipe pearls gently with a soft damp cloth but don't immerse them in water or chemical solutions of any kind. . . .

Necklaces and bracelets that are worn regularly should be restrung at least once a year to prevent loss through string failure . . . keep pearls from open flame or glowing coals or logs but don't be afraid to sit in the sun with them . . . these tips will help your pearls to be beautiful for years and years.

Clothes Washing Takes Walking

Every thoughtful husband will be interested to learn that the homemaker who dries her wash on the clothesline lugs an average of two tons of wet wash a year, walks 40 miles and spends 300 hours in this toil.

An automatic gas clothes dryer will both save this unnecessary labor and improve drying results.

Singing Sisters Fight Booze Bill

AUSTIN (AP) — Three hymn-singing sisters in maroon mod blouses and ties joined forces with a mustached undertaker Tuesday night to fight an avowed ex-gambler's bill to liberalize drinking curfews.

Teenagers Linda, Patty and Sandi Logsdon of San Antonio told a Senate committee that some school kids already come to class drunk and Sen. V. E. Berry's curfew bill would just make things worse.

Berry, a member of the Committee on Counties, Cities and Towns, looked bored. He stared at the ceiling while the girls and undertaker Roy Akers, also of San Antonio, started their testimony by singing "How Great Thou Art."

2 A. M. CURFEW

The bill would extend the curfew for taverns and private clubs from midnight to 2 a.m. on week days and from 1 a.m. to 3 a.m. on Saturday nights on a local option basis.

Taverns would have to pay $360 a year and private clubs about $1 per member for the privilege of staying open longer.

Akers, who said he buries more people every year than any other Texas mortician, said Berry's bill "would cause more drunkenness and auto accidents ... and would desecrate the Lord's day."

SLOW EMPLOYES

Also, said the mustached, bald funeral director, later drinking hours would keep employes off the job or at least slow them down.

"It takes 10 hours to clear the human mind—to sober up—after that last drink," he said.

But the Logsdon sisters were the hit of the hearing.

"I'm 13 years old," said Sandi, "and I don't like to see kids coming to school drunk. They don't do their work as good. I think if there's not as much drinking time there won't be as much drinking going on."

DRUNK KIDS

"I've seen so many kids come to school ... drunk. They're absolutely drunk. They can't do their work half as well with a drunken stupor on them," said Patty, 16.

Linda, 19, said college students are imbibing quite a bit, too, and it would be "very determinal to young people if you extend the time they can get liquor. For people who can't control themselves and go home when they should, it is up to you legislators to look after them."

The bill was sent to a subcommittee with instructions to report back March 21.

Police Seize Raw Hong Kong Opium

HONG KONG (AP) — Police have seized more than a ton of raw opium and 200 pounds of raw morphine in two waterfront raids, the Hong Kong Narcotics Bureau announced today.

The haul was valued at about $2 million on the Hong Kong black market, but narcotics agents said after refining it would have been worth more than $30 million to illegal drug dealers in Europe and the United States.

No arrests were announced.

Radio Dean Expires

TORONTO (AP) — Walter F. Bowles, 78, dean of Canada's radio broadcasters, died Tuesday. Bowles was an early morning CBC broadcaster for more than 30 years.

Congressional Reshape Bill Passage Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chief House sponsor of the Senate - approved congressional reorganization bill predicted today the measure would clear his branch before the end of March.

Rep. Ray J. Madden, D-Ind., told a reporter "there is no doubt" the House will accept the legislation, although he predicted fights over some of the 100 provisions.

The Senate passed the bulky bill — the first general reorganization of Congress to be considered in 21 years — by a 75-9 vote Tuesday.

Madden, No. 2-ranking Democrat on the House Rules Committee, said he was confident that panel would clear the bill soon for House floor action.

The bill, as cleared by the Senate, would require disclosure of more information about the operations of Congress, give members additional expert help to deal with the budget and other legislative business, establish a committee "bill of rights" under which a majority could act on a measure despite the opposition of the chairman, provide for an annual August recess and tighten the present law requiring disclosure of information by lobbyists.

It would also provide free guided Capitol tours eliminating the present 25-cent charge.

Explosion In Athens Injures Six Persons

ATHENS, Greece A P)— An explosion in central Athens during the noon rush hour today injured six persons. Two were hospitalized.

Sophocles Tzannetis, minister of public order, said an eyewitness reported the explosion had been caused by a homemade bomb thrown from a building.

Security police said the bomb had gone off about 100 feet from the right-wing newspaper Eleftheros Cosmos (Free World.) They had no clue as to who threw the bomb. An official of the newspaper said he did not think the bomb was intended for them.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, MARCH 8, 1967 SEC. B

PUBLIC INVITED SUNDAY

Publicized LBJ Portrait Will Be Shown In Snyder

SNYDER — What is probably the best - known contemporary portrait in the world will be in Snyder for a one-day showing on Sunday, March 12.

It is announced that Peter Hurd's portrait of President Lyndon Baines Johnson, which was rejected by the President, will be on exhibit here on that date at the Diamond M Museum.

The showing in Snyder will be the last before the painting is taken to the Smithsonian Institution, where it will be on permanent display.

Artist Peter Hurd, who is particularly well - known in the Snyder area, chiefly through his association with C. T. McLaughlin, founder of the Diamond M Museum, was commissioned to paint the portrait of the President, but confided that he was allowed only two 20-minute sittings with President Johnson.

The portrait has been a subject of controversy since it was rejected by the President and in recent weeks it has drawn crowds at exhibits as citizens rushed to see whether they personally agreed with the President, or approved the portrait.

The public has been invited to see the portrait between the hours of 2 p.m. and 6 p.m. during its Snyder showing.

Also to be exhibited to the public will be works in sculpture by Lonnie Edwards, a Texan who is gaining wide recognition. He will display 15 or more of his works at the Diamond Museum, and will be present during the showing.

Edwards is a native of Plainview. He graduated from high school there and then earned a degree in fine arts at Texas Tech. He spent several years doing metal designs for architects and subsequently turned his efforts to the field of designing and sculptoring animals, such as longhorn steers, antelope, etc., which he casts in bronze from his wax and clay models.

Edwards' work has been shown in Los Angeles, Denver, Santa Fe, Dallas, Lubbock and Fort Worth. In 1966 he was given an outstanding award for his metal sculptoring by the Allied Arts of America at the Gallery of the National Academy. His work is being shown in many prominent museums over the country, and he has a longhorn steer which occupies a place of prominence in the White House.

Texas' Thermometers Dive To Record Lows

By The Associated Press

Zero cold numbed parts of the Texas Panhandle and arctic air shoved the freeze line deep into the state early today.

Many points posted new record lows for March 8 temperatures as the latest cold front kept edging slowly toward the southeast. By daylight its forward edge stretched from around Houston to Laredo.

Thermometers hit the skids from the upper Panhandle to the state's midsection, but it was generally a bit warmer near the east and west edges of Texas. Winds marking the front's passage Tuesday calmed in most areas and dust settled from the sky over West Texas.

ZERO BEFORE DAWN

Perryton in the northeast edge of the Panhandle saw the mercury plunge to zero before dawn, and Dalhart's mark was four degrees above zero.

New local records for the date included seven at Amarillo, 12 at Lubbock and 24 at Fort Worth, while a 24 at Dallas matched the previous low.

The mercury dropped to 11 at Plainview, 12 at Childress, 17 at Wichita Falls, 20 at Abilene, 21 at Midland, 22 at Van Horn, 24 at San Angelo, 27 at Waco, 29 at Tyler, 30 at El Paso and 32 at Austin and Texarkana.

NO MOISTURE

Weather Bureau observers reported the freeze ranged southward to about a line linking Tyler, Austin, Kerrville and Alpine.

Presidio, which registered the state's high of 77 Tuesday, cooled to 45 overnight.

Lows at other points included Lufkin 33, Longview 34, Beaumont and San Antonio 39, Del Rio 40, Conroe 41, Victoria 44, Houston 45, Brownsville 50, Galveston, Laredo and McAllen 51 and Corpus Christi 60.

Forecasts promised another chilly night with marks down to 18 in the northwest part of the state, 20 in the southwest, three in the north central and northeast sections and 25 in the south central and southeast portions.

Skies were expected to stay clear to partly cloudy and there was no prediction for moisture.

Pink Bollworm Enemy Found

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Scientists report they have finally found a natural enemy of the pink bollworm.

This enemy, they said, is a Peruvian wasp. They plan to release it in fields infested with the pink bollworm, the pest that destroyed up to 80 per cent of some cotton crops in Southern California last year.

The wasp, about 1-30th inch long, is now keeping certain bollworm types at bay in Peru and Colombia. Experts at the University of California's Riverside campus hope it can prevent the bollworm's spread throughout California's $280 million cotton industry.

Called trichogramma brasiliensis, the little wasp lays eggs inside the eggs of cotton worms. After a wasp egg hatches inside the pest egg, the wasp larva kills the pest egg by eating it.

Millions of the wasps are being raised for release in California cotton fields.

The search for a natural bollworm enemy covered insects from India, Korea, Egypt and Hawaii. They were tested in the United States and Mexico, but the Peruvian wasps had never been imported into the states.

Management Wins MGM Proxy Fight

NEW YORK (AP) —Management of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, Inc., won a bitter proxy fight today and retained control of the big movie-making company.

The management slate of directors was elected by a margin of about 700,000 votes out of the 4,485,489 shares represented.

The result meant that Robert H. O'Brien, who has been president since 1963, will continue to head the film company now 43 years old.

He turned back the effort of Philip J. Levin, New Jersey land developer, to wrest control of the company.

The 12 directors representing management received approximately 2,572,000 votes each.

Two Texas Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development announced Tuesday $147,045 in loans to Texas projects.

Rankin got $135,045 for construction of 10 low-rent homes, Diboll received $12,000 for preliminary planning of 80 low-rent homes.

Texan Found Dead

TEXANS AT WAR

This Christmas Goes To Vietnam

By The Associated Press

When Christmas came to Vietnam, it was in the uniform of the U.S. Army.

This Christmas is Spec. 6 Leonard Christmas, a Texan at war from Neches.

"The big thing in Vietnam is the children. If you get out in the civilian population there, and you're a soldier, they'll get all around you.

NOT AFRAID

"They're not a bit afraid of the American soldier," says Christmas, 36, who also has served the Army in Germany and Korea.

"A lot of countries, I guess, keep their children afraid of the uniform. I didn't see any of this while I was in Vietnam."

"Quite often the Vietnamese children just wanted to do something for you. Of course, sometimes they wanted gum and candy like any other children," says Christmas, who has three children of his own.

'NICE PEOPLE'

Much of the warmth between soldier and child, he says, results from the success of the United States civic action program.

"We had good relations there," says Christmas, who was stationed at Camp Radcliff in Ahn Khe from August, 1965, until July, 1966.

"We built a school, contributed money and supported an orphanage. The Vietnamese were pretty nice people.

With more than 18 years' service, Christmas is now stationed at Ft. Wolters, near Mineral Wells, awaiting retirement.

Three Texans Viet Victims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three more Texas servicemen were listed by the Defense Department Tuesday as victims of hostile action in the Vietnam War.

They were Marine Sgt. Refugio J. Cantu, husband of Mrs. Refugio J. Cantu, 218 Fridall St., San Antonio; Army Pfc. Dewey H. Brown Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey H. Brown,. 13618 Ann Louise Road, Houston; and Air Force Maj. Frank D. Wiley, father of Ellenor A. and Frank D. Wiley, 3200 Fry St., Tyler.

Impassioned Plea Gains Probation

DALLAS (AP) — Archie Dickson Stuart made such an impassioned plea that U.S. Judge Sarah Hughes placed him on probation.

"Send me anywhere in the United States, Russia or anywhere else except El Reno, Okla.," said Stuart. Asked why, he said, "I'm 30 years old and most of the people in the reformatory there are 16 or 17." He said he was angered by the way they talked. He was confined there during a pre-sentence investigation after he pleaded guilty to interstate transportation of a stolen vehicle.

BEAUMONT (AP) — A $10,000 grant to Tyrrell Public Library has been made by the Texas State Library, City Manager A. K. Steinheimer and Library Director Maurine Gran announced.

1,000 Enemies Of Mao Jailed

HONG KONG (AP) — More than 1,000 opponents of Mao Tse-tung, most of them factory workers, were arrested by Communist army troops in the South China city of Canton Monday night, Hong Kong newspapers reported today.

Quoting travelers arriving from Canton, the papers said many of those arrested were members of the "August 1st Unit," known as opponents of Mao's purge.

They said the troops surrounded the headquarters of the anti-Mao "Provincial Revolutionary Alliance." One paper said those arrested were banished from the city, but it was not known where they were sent.

After the mass arrests, the papers said, pro-Mao Red Guards pasted up wall posters urging workers and peasants to return to their jobs. The posters also said that Chen Yu, governor of Kwangtung Province in which Canton is located, was arrested in Peking.

The Hong Kong Chinese language newspaper Hung Look Daily News reported Tuesday that anti-Maoists were active in Canton and Kwangtung Province "inciting workers and peasants" to slow down production.

Moscow radio claimed today that "opposition to Mao is very large" and anti-Maoists are active in a number of provinces, including Hupeh, Kwangtung, Kiangsi, Tsinghai, Szechwan and Tibet.

It accused Peking of using force in putting down the opposition and charged "the army is resorting to cruelties." Some anti-Maoists have been sentenced to death and others imprisoned, it said.

13 Gluesniffing Children Charged

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Police charged 13 children—ranging in age from 11 to 16—Tuesday with the misdemeanor crime of gluesniffing.

Juvenile division detective Al Johnson said the group would steal airplane glue, then meet at an abandoned house for gluesniffing parties. The tubes of airplane glue can cause intoxication, but can do irreparable damage to lungs, nasal passages and the brain.

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡
Pass	2 NT	Pass	3 NT
Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♡

An accurate tally of his opponent's distribution provided South, the declarer, at three no trump, with the key clew required to wage a successful campaign.

Altho the opposition had bid both of his suits, West decided to lead from his better holding and he opened the four of hearts. The deuce was played from dummy and East won the trick with the king. On the return, West covered declarer's ten with the jack and North put up the ace.

A spade was led from dummy and South played the jack. West followed suit with the three and ducked the queen on the next lead, in order to deprive declarer of access to dummy's long spade. South continued with the nine and West was in with the ace. He cashed the queen of hearts on which declarer discarded a club.

West was obliged to shift his attack and inasmuch as a diamond play did not appear attractive, he returned the four of clubs. East covered dummy's five with the eight to dislodge South's queen.

Declarer cashed the ace and king of diamonds, however, when East followed to the second round with the nine, South paused to consider the situation before continuing. West was known to have started with three spades and presumably four hearts. From the fall of the spots in diamonds, it appeared likely that he also had length in that suit.

In order to clarify the distributional pattern, South discontinued diamonds temporarily and cashed the ace of clubs. West showed out, discarding a heart, and declarer had a complete picture of his opponent's hand. West had been dealt five diamonds originally and his last three cards were now revealed to be the J-8-5 of diamonds. South exited with the seven putting West in and forcing a return into the queen-ten for the fulfilling trick.

In all, declarer took two spades, one heart, two clubs, and four diamonds.

Jasper, Tighe HC's Best Bets At Laredo

Coach L. L. (Red) Lewis and the HCJC track and field team leave Thursday for Laredo, where the Jayhawks will be competing against athletes from Blinn, Odessa, Victoria and Lubbock Christian College in the juco division of the Border Olympics.

The Jayhawks finished second to the TCU freshmen at Fort Worth last week by a single point. HC apparently had the sprint relay won when Dee Fletcher pulled up with a leg cramp. The Hawks proceeded to finish fourth in that event.

HCJC's best bets for first places appear to be Jimmy Jasper in the sprints and Joe Tighe in the pole vault.

Tighe appears likely to shatter the Laredo record of 14-2½ in the vault. He has cleared 15 feet and last week set a new record in the Southwestern Recreational Meet at Fort Worth by clearing 14-3¼.

Richard Weir of Victoria will be back to contest Jasper in the 100 yard dash. Jasper, clocked in a record tying 9.6 last week at Fort Worth, has done 9.5 in the event. The century record at Laredo is 9.7.

Richard Farris, a Victoria freshman, has bettered the 6-4 record in the high jump and Ken Coffee of Lubbock Christian has matched that height although he won here last year at 6-2½. Harry Weatherspoon of Odessa also is considered a threat.

Jasper may also threaten his own 21.3 record in the furlong dash where Weir and Victoria frosh Joe Gallegher are top contenders.

The high school division is expected to be highlighted by the mile run where Falfurrias' Robert Gonzalez returns to try and beat his fast 4:14.4 of last year. He later was clocked in 4:08, second best high school time in the nation.

The junior colleges will hold preliminaries Friday morning, the high schools that afternoon. College and university preliminaries will be held Saturday morning and finals Saturday night. Junior college and high school finals will be Saturday afternoon.

Bearkats Open At Grandfalls

GARDEN CITY — Coach Jack Woodley will take his Garden City Bearkats to three track and field meets prior to the conference meet at San Angelo April 14.

The Kats will compete at Grandfalls March 18, in the Borden County meet at Gail April 1 and at Imperial April 8.

This is due to be a rebuilding year for Garden City. The Kats best bet may be Larry Schaefer in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles. Schaefer was a competitor in the regional meet last year.

Jacob Counts 2,005 Points

GARDEN CITY — Brenda Jacob, star forward of the Garden City Bearkats, scored the amazing total of 2,005 points for a 19.4 average in four years as a varsity player.

Brenda, who stands 5-9 and who has been offered a scholarship by Howard County Junior College, hit 47.2 per cent of her shots from the field her senior year. She wound up with 778 points for the year.

Miss Jacob has been recommended for a spot in the High School Girls' All-Star game, which is played each August at Duncanville.

Brenda plays the post position and is deadly with both the hook shot and the jumper.

As a freshman, Miss Jacob counted 448 points in 31 games for a 14.4 average, 412 in 23 contests for a 17.9 average as a sophomore, and 367 points in 20 games for an 18.3 average her junior year.

She is one of several sisters who have played for Garden City High School.

Other teams and their records in the tournament include:

High Island, 29-4; Brock (Weatherford), 30-7; Celina, 31-5; and Brookshire Royal, 34-5.

Elements Stop Steer Contest

ANDREWS — Weather caused cancellation of the Big Spring-Andrews baseball game here Tuesday afternoon.

Andrews led, 7-3, in the fourth inning when the cold front moved in and chased the teams to cover. Big Spring had just mounted a three-run rally after loading the bases.

The resident Mustangs started off with a five-run first inning at the expense of Johnny McCullough.

Big Spring, 1-1 on the season, goes to Lubbock Friday for a contest with Lubbock High. Game time is 4 o'clock.

West Receipts For 30 Points, Broken Nose

By The Associated Press

It was old hat to Jerry West — a 30-plus performance and a broken nose.

The star backcourt man of the Los Angeles Lakers scored 33 points Tuesday night in leading the Lakers past the New York Knickerbockers 131-119, and broke his nose in the process.

Plus 30-point performances are commonpleace for West, and broken noses aren't too unusual either. The latter has occurred six times.

In the only other National Basketball Association game, Chicago snapped Boston's winning streak at nine games by downing the Celtics 117-114 in Chicago.

"I'm sure it's broken," said West, who was injured when he collided with New York's Willis Reed in the third quarter.

But West, who returned to action in the fourth period, said he was sure he would be able to play tonight against St. Louis in Los Angeles.

The winner of that game will take over undisputed second place in the Western Division. The second-place club will play either Chicago or Detroit in the first round of the playoff instead of division-winning San Francisco.

Chicago's victory moved the Bulls a half-game ahead of Detroit in the battle for the fourth and last playoff spot.

West got scoring help against the Knicks from Gail Goodrich, 24 points, rookie Archie Clark, 23, and Mel Counts, 20. Reed and Walt Bellamy led New York with 25 and 24, respectively.

Chicago scored 15 straight points in the third quarter to turn a 73-66 deficit into an 81-73 lead, and then held off a late Celtic rally.

Guy Rodgers scored 22 for Chicago and Bob Boozer added 21. Larry Siegfried threw in 24, Bailey Howell 21 and John Havlicek 20 for the Celtics.

Highlands Back Signs Contract

CALGARY (AP) — The Calgary Stampeders of the Canadien Football League announced today the signing of John Williams, 26, a defensive halfback and quarterback.

Williams was the most valuable player at New Mexico Highlands University in 1964 and 1965 and set several school passing records. The Stampeders plan to use him primarily as a defensive back.

Williams was a late cut from the Atlanta Falcons of the NFL last year.

Frazier Heads Spangled Five

NEW YORK (AP) — Walt Frazier, a 6-foot-3 junior who led Southern Illinois to 15 straight victories and a berth in the National Invitation Tournament, topped the 1967 college basketball Little All-America selected by The Associated Press today.

Earl Monroe, of the Winston-Salem N.C. State Rams, Sam Smith of Kentucky Wesleyan, Phil Jackson of North Dakota and Mel Cox of Central Washington were picked as Frazier's teammates on the first team. Monroe, Smith, Jackson and Cox are seniors.

Don Carlos of Otterbein, Al Tucker of Oklahoma Baptist, C. A. Core of Southeastern Louisiana, John Dickson of Arkansas State and Elburt Miller of Nevada Southern were named to the second team in the voting by 103 sportswirters and broadcasters.

Wayne Proffitt of Lynchburg, Willie Scott of Alabama State, Rod McDonald of Whitworth, Henry Logan of Western Carolina and Glynn Saulters of Northeast Louisiana rounded out the squad as a third team.

Each member of the three teams will receive a certificate from The Associated Press.

Jack Theeler of South Dakota, Dan Bolden of Southwest Missouri, Al Skelecky of San Diego State, Dan Smith of Howard Payne and Butch Wade of Indiana State were among the leaders on the honorable mention list.

Frazier, a native of Atlanta, was one of the prime reasons Southern Illinois compiled a 20-2 regular season mark. The Salukis from Carbondale, Ill. became known as the giant-killers by beating such major teams as Louisville, Texas Western, Wichita and St. Louis.

Beaten only by Louisville in overtime and by Southern Methodist, the Southwest Conference champs, the Salukis passed up the NCAA small college championship tourney to accept a bid to the NIT. They play St. Peters of New Jersey in the first round of the NIT Thursday night.

Monroe, 6-3 of Philadelphia, averaged 44.3 points per game in leading Winston-Salem to 25 straight victories before the Rams were upset by the North Carolina A&T Aggies last Friday 105-82. Monroe got 20 points in that game before fouling out.

Smith, at 6-7, and Jackson, at 6-8, the tallest players on the first team, were strong scorers and rebounders for Kentucky Wesleyan and North Dakota. Jackson is a repeater from the 1966 first team.

Cox, 6-5, was a whiz for Central Washington in the Pacific Northwest where he became known as Marvelous Mel. He beat out Don Carlos of Otterbein in the voting for the first team. Carlos, a star in the Ohio Conference, was on the first team Little A-A last year.

San Jacinto Is Regional Winner

HOUSTON (AP)—San Jacinto of Houston beat Tyler 101-79 Tuesday night to win the Region 14 championship and earn a trip to Hutchinson, Kan., for the national junior college basketball tournament March 14-18.

Ollie Taylor and Richard Vasquez each scored 24 points to pace San Jacinto to its triumph, although Tyler had the high man of the game in James Brooks, who counted 31 points. Harry Bostic aided him with 29.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS:

Section 1. A drive-in restaurant, within the meaning of this ordinance, shall be deemed to be any restaurant where meals, sandwiches, cold drinks, beverages, ice cream or other food, is served directly to or is permitted to be consumed by patrons in automobiles, motorcycles, or other vehicles parked on the premises.

For the purpose of preserving public peace, health and safety, the entire premises occupied by a drive-in restaurant, together with all means of ingress and egress, are declared to be a public place.

Section 2. The owner, lessee or operator of any drive-in restaurant shall maintain quiet and good order upon the premises and shall not permit disorderly or immoral conduct or loitering thereon, nor shall he cause or permit any noise or nuisance on the parking area of the drive-in restaurant whereby the quiet and good order of the neighborhood are disturbed.

Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any person under the age of twenty-one (21) years to bring on the premises of any drive-in restaurant any alcoholic beverage and attempt to consume or consume same, with or without the purchase of any food on the premises of such drive-in restaurant.

Section 6. The following acts or conduct of any person or persons entering any drive-in restaurant premises are hereby declared to be unlawful and any person found guilty of any such act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be fined as provided by this ordinance:

A. To enter the premises of any drive-in restaurant in a motor vehicle of any description and park said vehicle and leave the premises without getting the consent of the owner or operator of said restaurant. Any vehicle parked upon the premises of any drive-in restaurant unattended and unoccupied for a period of one hour or more shall be presumed to have been parked without permission of the owner or operator of said drive-in restaurant; in which event said vehicle may be impounded by any police officer of the City of Big Spring, Texas, subject to the usual impounding charges.

B. To enter said premises in a motor vehicle of any kind and using said premises for cruising without permission of the owner or operator of said premises, racing, as a short-cut to another street or to annoy or endanger any person or persons or other vehicle or vehicles lawfully on said premises;

C. For three (3) or more persons to congregate on the premises and linger or loiter at any location on the premises of any drive-in restaurant other than in the restaurant building or in a legally parked motor vehicle.

Section 7. It is hereby declared to be a duty of the owner or operator of a drive-in restaurant to provide not less than two (2) receptacles for the receipt of trash litter, paper, napkins, cups and remnants of food at each exit, available to the patrons as they leave the premises. Failure of the owner or operator of a drive-in restaurant to provide such receptacles shall constitute a misdemeanor, and any person upon conviction thereof shall be fined as provided in this ordinance.

Section 8. It shall be unlawful for any patron of a drive-in restaurant to throw or deposit any of the litter mentioned in the preceding section anywhere on the grounds or on the streets of the City of Big Spring save and except in the receptacles provided therefor. Any person violating this provision of this ordinance shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction shall be fined as provided for in this ordinance.

Section 9. Any person while on the premises of any drive-in restaurant who shall in the presence or hearing of another curse or abuse such person or use any violently abusive language to such person concerning him or any of his female relatives under circumstances reasonably calculated to provoke a breach of the peace, shall be fined not more than One Hundred Dollars ($100).

Section 10. Any person, who while on the premises of any drive-in restaurant shall use loud and vociferous, or obscene, vulgar or indecent language or swear or curse or yell or shriek in a manner calculated to disturb the person or persons present at such place, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be punished by a fine not exceeding Two Hundred ($200) Dollars.

Section 11. It is declared to be the intention and purpose of this ordinance not to repeal any other ordinance or ordinances now in effect applicable to premises such as drive-in restaurants, and it is hereby declared that the purpose of this ordinance is to make this ordinance cumulative with all other such applicable ordinances; provided, however, that any conflict in language between this ordinance and any other ordinances applicable to drive-in restaurants, the language of this ordinance shall prevail.

Section 12. It shall be the duty of the restaurant operator to post on the premises in a conspicuous location one or more signs bearing the following legend:

"Cruising in, without the permission of the owner, or congregating or loitering outside of a motor vehicle is unlawful. No unoccupied vehicles may be left on these premises without the consent of the restaurant operator. Any vehicle left on these premises unoccupied for one hour or more will be impounded."

Section 13. That if any section, subsection, paragraph or provision of this ordinance shall be held invalid for any reason whatsoever, such invalidity shall not affect the remaining portions of this ordinance, which shall remain in full force and effect, and to this end the provisions of this ordinance are declared to be severable.

Section 14. The owner or operator of a drive-in restaurant shall not permit trash, litter, paper, napkins, cups, or remnants of food which have originated at his premises or place of business to remain on the round or pavement of his premises; nor shall such owner or operator permit trash or litter to remain on the ground for a sufficient time to be blown by the wind onto property other than the premises operated as a drive-in restaurant. Failure of such owner or operator to dispose of, or properly control the trash, litter and garbage originating from his place of business shall constitute a misdemeanor and upon conviction, such owner or operator shall be fined as provided for in this ordinance.

Section 15. Any person found guilty of violating any of the provisions of this ordinance shall be fined a sum not to exceed Two Hundred ($200) Dollars; provided, however, that if any section or subsection of this ordinance provides for a specific penalty for a particular violation, such penalty shall apply to such particular violation.

Section 16. The fact that the present ordinances do not provide for adequate regulation of traffic and good order in and around drive-in restaurant premises, and in order to protect the public health, safety and general welfare it is necessary that this ordinance be enacted to provide such regulations, creates an urgency and an emergency in the immediate preservation of the public health, safety, comfort, peace and general welfare and requires that this ordinance shall take effect immediately from and after its passage, and it is accordingly so ordained, as the Charter Rule requiring that ordinances be read at three separate meetings of the City Commission is suspended, and said rule is hereby suspended.

Don Drysdale Hints He May Quit Game

By The Associated Press

Don Drysdale left the problem-plagued Los Angeles Dodgers wondering today how far he and Sandy Koufax can carry the idea of togetherness.

The two pitched the Dodgers to pennants and World Series victories together, held out together, and now Drysdale is talking about following Koufax into retirement.

"I'm pitching on a year to year basis," said the 30-year-old right-hander, who has been bothered by a sore arm this spring. "This could be my last year, or I might play five more.

"I've reached the point where I have to think of my family and security. At the end of 1967, I'll weigh a number of factors, including the year I've had, the year the team has had and whatever offers outside of baseball come my way."

Drysdale, who was acting with Koufax at this time last year during their celebrated salary holdout that cost Drysdale most of spring training and subsequently led to a 13-16 record, signed for about $100,000 this year and reported to camp in the best shape in several years. But the sore arm apparently is bothering him.

"I'm sure it's nothing serious," said the 1962 Cy Young Award winner, "but my arm has never stayed sore this long."

With Los Angeles' 1967 pennant hopes all but dashed by Koufax' dramatic retirement in December because of his arthritic elbow, similar action by Drysdale would make the situation even worse next year.

Meanwhile, San Francisco also received more bad news from Juan Marichal, another of baseball's top pitchers.

The Giants found another unsigned contract in their mail from the Dominican right-hander, who is holding out for a reported $125,000 after a 25-6 season in 1966 when he got $75,000. Marichal said a week ago he was returning the Giants' $90,000 offer.

"For awhile," Giant Vice President Chub Feeney said, "I thought he put it in a bottle and tossed it out to sea."

Feeney added that he would try to contact Marichal by telephone.

One signature was obtained Monday when Rocky Colavito took pen in hand and ended his hold out with the Cleveland Indians. He will get a reported $55,000, a $10,000 cut over last year. General Manager Gabe Paul reportedly had been asking the 33-year-old outfielder to take the maximum 25 per cent cut after hitting 30 home runs with only a .238 batting average.

In training camp news, Washington's John Orsino, bothered by a sore elbow, celebrated an attempted switch from catcher to first baseman by driving in seven runs in a squad game.

Left-hander Dennis Bennett, bothered by arm trouble the past two years, was named by Boston Manager Dick Williams to start the Red Sox exhibition season.

The Kansas City Athletics and Baltimore Orioles joined the Chicago White Sox in a pinch-hitting experiment that allows one designated pinch hitter to be used twice in one game.

All This And Money Too

Queen Sunland, Kathy Baker, admires the beautiful silverware to be given to winning owners, trainers and jockeys of ten stake races remaining to be run during the Sunland Park spring racing season. In addition to the handsome trophies, nearly a half million dollars in purse money will be disbursed during the remaining 28 days of the meeting which concludes Sunday, May 14.

Sunland's Best Race Nearing

EL PASO — Approximately a half million dollars in purse money will be distributed to horsemen during the remaining 28 days of Sunland Park's 10th racing season which concludes Sunday, May 14.

With the spring portion of the meeting now in full swing, some of the season's major races are on tab.

The Quarter Horse Championship goes on the line Sunday when the southland's ace shortliners clash at the classic quarter horse distance of 440 yards. The championship carries a guaranteed purse of $3,000.

The following week Sunland's premiere race of the season, the $10,000 Sunland Park Handicap will have its eighth renewal. The one mile and one sixteenth event is the major test of the year for older horses.

The cream of the three-year-old division will use the $3,000 Inspiracion Handicap on April 9 as a major prep for the Sunland Derby to be run April 23.

And, the first marathon stakes race in the track's history will be up for decision April 16 when the Fortuna Corporation presents the $2,000 Butterfield Stakes over 12 furlongs.

The final mixed stakes race of the season between thoroughbreds and quarter horses will be offered April 30 with the fifth running of the Camino Real Handicap at 870 yards.

The richly endowed $40,000 Spring Quarter Horse Futurity on May 7 will bring out the best of the two-year-old short runners and the season will climax on Sunday, May 14, with the third renewal of the $30,000 Riley Allison Thoroughbred Futurity.

The Allison honors the memory of Sunland's beloved founder and late president and annually decides the two-year-old championship of the spring season.

In addition to the lush purse money, 18 asorted trophies and pieces of silver will be awarded winners of the 10 stakes races remaining to be run during the next 28 racing days.

There'll be plenty of golf activity at the Big Spring Country Club this weekend.

Saturday will be "Webb Day" at the course, with all golfers from the military base eligible to take part in 18 holes of play. No fee will be exacted against the visiting delegation.

The year's second Partnership Handicap tournament will be staged at the course Sunday. Entry fee will be $2.50 per player in that one.

Anyone in the area is eligible to take part and foursomes can arrange their own players and starting time, so long as they conform to tournament rules.

Those rules dictate that a golfer with a handicap of ten strokes and under must team with a player having a handicap of 11 strokes and above.

No person will be allowed a handicap of more than 18 strokes, however, it has been emphasized.

A similar tournament staged by the Country Club drew 76 players.

Merchandise awards will go to winning teams.

Giants Figure They Have Star In Fran

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants have come up with their answer to the rival Jets' Joe Namath — scrambling, colorful Fran Tarkenton, late of the Minnesota Vikings.

"We had to have a personality," a spokesman for the 42-year-old National Football League club, said today. "It's important that we start winning again. It's more important that we win back the fans who have been going to the other league.

"In Tarkenton, we have that man."

The Giants acquired the 26-year-old former University of Georgia passing and running star from the Vikings Tuesday but had to pay dearly. In the deal, they gave up their top two draft choices for 1967, their first pick for 1968 and a player to be mutually agreed upon at a later date.

Allie Sherman, the Giants' coach, said it was worth it.

"This is the first and best step we could take in our bid to comeback," said Sherman, whose team won only one game in 1966 and finished in the Eastern Division cellar. "Tarkenton is a fine pro quarterback whose ability, leadership and experience will be a great asset to our young team."

Tarkenton, a mild-mannered, pleasant young man, may not match Namath's lineage in the gossip columns, but he should give the exciting ex-Alabama ace a run for the hurrahs on the playing field.

A six-year NFL veteran, Tarkenton has gained acclaim as a scrambling quarterback. Unlike most of the protected passers, who operate from a pocket, he is apt to break away at any moment and pick his way through tacklers like a nimble-footed halfback.

At Minnesota, he averaged 53.9 per cent on his completions, throwing for 113 touchdowns, and he was always dangerous on the ground. He rolled up 1,803 yards rushing, averaged 6.5 yards a carry and scored 15 TDs.

Sherman insisted that he had no plans of changing Tarkenton's method of operation.

The new Giant signal-caller, who plans to continue to make his home in Atlanta, said he was happy to be in New York but denied reports that his break with the Vikings — he asked last month to be traded — was due to a personality clash with the former Viking coach, Norman Van Brocklin.

"Van Brocklin is a tremendous coach," he said. "I am indebted to him. He taught me a lot. I wanted to leave Minneapolis for personal reasons."

Solons Hear Appeal For Sales Tax Hike

AUSTIN (AP) — Tax bill writers studying the administration's new revenue plans found themselves today with recommendations that a general state sales tax hike would be better in the long run.

"We ask you not to return to the piece-meal, catch-as-catch-can system of former years," said a prominent oil and gas industry spokesman at a House Revenue and Taxation Committee hearing Tuesday afternoon.

The committee sent to subcommittee a $74.7 million bundle of revenue raisers offered by Gov. John Connally to help pay for 1968-69 spending.

BIG PACKAGE

The package would raise $26 million the next two years by putting beer and liquor sales under the present state sales tax, by increasing the corporate franchise tax to the tune of $30.9 million and increasing the natural gas production tax for another $17.8 million.

Another important element of Connally's tax bite, increasing the state gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon, will be heard next Tuesday and the controversial liquor - by - the-drink bill is scheduled March 21.

BROAD-BASED LEVY

"If there is a need for revenues in excess of the $219 million expected to accrue during the next biennium due to the growth of our state and the needs of the total population, then we ask you to stick with the principle of financing through a broad-based levy that will grow with the needs," said William H. Abington, Dallas, general counsel for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

Abington said the oil and gas industry "thought the era of selective taxation had ended "with the passage of the sales tax in 1961.

BEER DEPRESSER

Homer Leonard, general counsel for the Texas Brewers' Institute, said retail beer sales would be depressed by putting beer and liquor under the present state sales tax, as the governor recommended. Alcoholic beverages are taxed now under special state excise levies.

"If it should develop that the legislature in the end should go to an increase in the sales tax, abandoning some of the other tax proposals, we certainly wish and would expect to retain the present tax exemption," Leonard said. "... Unless some others who enjoy the same tax exemption for the same reason, that is, because of the high excise tax which we all pay, are included in the new sales tax bill."

NO OPPOSITION

There was no opposition to testimony to the franchise tax boost, which would increase the levy from $2.25 to $3 per $1,000 of capital, surplus and undivided profits, with gradual elimination of debt from the tax formula.

Will Ehrle, representing Lone Star Gas Co., said the natural gas increase from seven to eight per cent of value at the wellhead would hit industrial users and gas utilities hardest. "Folks outside of Texas simply are not going to be paying this tax," he said, because of federal procedures in adding it to the price of gas.

B. M. Britain, Amarillo, said the natural gas tax would remove the profit margin from about 47 per cent of the gas well operations in the Panhandle, where 25 per cent of the state's gas is produced.

Netum A. Steed, speaking for five producers' associations, said the increase would hit small operations the hardest at a time when more exploration and development activity is needed.

Students Call Rally To Drum March Support

ORANGEBURG, S.C. (AP) — South Carolina State College students called a campus rally for today to drum up support for their planned 42-mile weekend march to Columbia to talk with Gov. Robert McNair.

But Gov. McNair said Tuesday night, "I have no intention to meet with any group of students who refuse to attend classes."

The governor said the students "fail to recognize the necessity for settling grievances with the authorities who are legally responsible for the operation of the college they attend."

All but about 200 of the 1,700 students at the predominantly Negro state-supported school have been boycotting classes since Thursday. They are demanding changes in school regulations and the reinstatement of three dismissed students.

The three were suspended after leading demonstrations sparked by the college's refusal to request the return of two white professors who had taught there on one-year Woodrow Wilson fellowships.

More than 800 students have signed up to make the Orangeburg-to-Columbia march which is scheduled to start early Saturday and end at 10 a.m. Monday at the governor's office.

IN GARDEN CITY

Odessans Caught Robbing A Store

GARDEN CITY — Two Odessa oil field workers, trapped inside the building which houses the Garden City post office shortly before midnight Friday, have been unable to post bond, according to Sheriff Royce Pruit. Bond was set for the two men at $2,500 each by W. E. Underwood, justice of the peace.

The men are identified as Ernest Earl Swanson, 25, and Joe Brunce, 53.

Pruit said post office inspectors have not decided if the federal government will intervene in the case. The sheriff said he had talked with postal officials.

The pair is being held in Sheriff Pruit's newly remodelled county jail after being captured at 11:50 a.m. last Friday.

Pruit and his deputy, Glen Kingston, were cruising along the highway and saw a strange car parked at the rear of a grocery, which is next door to the Gill Drug Store. The Garden City Post Office is in the drug store and V. M. Gill, the proprietor, is also postmaster.

The two officers were approaching the scene when two men emerged from the rear of the drug store with their arms loaded with cigarettes and other merchandise.

After the pair had been arrested, Pruit and Kingston entered the drug store and, in the post office section, discovered the safe had been hammered with a sledge. The knob was beaten off and an effort had been made to punch out the tumbler. The door had refused to yield. The tools, which Pruit said the men brought with them, were on the floor beside the battered safe.

The pair had taken one load of merchandise to their car before the officers arrived.

Charges of burglary have been filed.

Pruit said the men were not armed and gave him and his deputy no difficulty in making the arrest.

Cancer Group Meets Tuesday

Educational and campaign plans were discussed at the meeting of the Howard County chapter of the American Cancer Society Tuesday at the Officers Club at Webb AFB.

John Burgess told of educational efforts for the small business group and of pamphlets on the relation of cancer Mrs. Neil Norred, educational chairman, said there was a need for a movie projector to be available at all times for educational programs.

The chapter was briefed by Mrs. Sylvia Thompson, service chairman, on aid given to cancer patients during the past two months. There also was discussion of possibility of a telephone for the chapter as a means of constant contact with the public.

Excluding the memorial fund, the chapter has $1,948 in finances, said Mrs. Lee Rogers, treasurer. This is expected to be increased in April when Mrs. Ralph W. Caton and her volunteers stage the city wide fund appeal. There will be a training session April 4 for workers. Mrs. Donald Van Meter, chapter president, was in charge of the meeting.

8,123 Persons Favor Wage Law

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Rev. Clifton Byrd, sponsor of a petition calling for a city minimum wage, said Tuesday he has more than enough signatures to force city council action. The Rev. Mr. Byrd said 8,123 persons have signed a petition favoring a city minimum wage law.

Threat Of Bomb Sparks Concert

DALLAS (AP) — Lake Highlands High School students and band members suspected but nobody was sure why they were sent to the gymnasium for an unscheduled concert Tuesday.

After the 90-minute concert, ending at 2:20 p.m., they were told an anonymous caller had advised there was a bomb in the main building, which is about 200 yards from the gym. It was supposed to go off at 2:15.

Police helped search the school. They said the threat was a hoax.
