Early pullout: 'bad choice of words'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan, asserting his determination to keep Marines in Lebanon as long as they are needed, says he may have made a "bad choice of words" in suggesting a collapse of the Lebanese government could lead to an early withdrawal.

At a year-end news conference dominated by questions on Lebanon, Reagan said Tuesday night that halting American casualties in the divided Middle East country and a continuing economic recovery could make 1984 a better year for him.

But he declared that "we can't just turn away" from the Middle East.

The president was continuing his emphasis on the region today, meeting with Egyptian Foreign Minister Kamal Hassan Ali.

Calling the Middle East "a tinderbox ... the one place that could start a war that no one wanted," Reagan said U.S. Marines will be withdrawn "as quickly as it is possible ... in accomplishing our mission."

The president tempered a declaration made last week that a complete collapse of governmental authority in Lebanon might be reason to bring the troops home and said the remark was not intended to signal an imminent withdrawal.

Only "a complete change of course" in which the U.S. troops were no longer wanted — or achievement of the U.S. goal in Lebanon — would bring the troops out. The U.S. goal is an extension of governmental authority and a departure of all foreign forces — Palestinian, Israeli and Syrian — from Lebanon.

"Now, the stumbling block still seems to be Syria," he said.

Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., among the conservatives who have called for immediate withdrawal of the Marines, said after the news conference that he still disagrees with Reagan but "if he wants to move his troops where he has, that's up to him" as commander in chief.

At the same time, Goldwater said, "I really believe he's looking for a way to get the Marines out and I think he's found it and I think in a shorter time than we expected the troops will be home."

Goldwater did not elaborate.

Early morning blaze destroys local business

Five buildings in the 2100 Block of College Ave. sustained damage early Wednesday morning after fire broke out in the Dunnam Mattress Co. building, 2107 College.

The fire was reported around 2:54 a.m. by Daniel Martinez, who lives just south of the business site.

Fire Chief Terry McDowell said that the Martinez residence was already on fire and the two story mattress company building had already fallen in before firefighters arrived at the scene.

Also heavily damaged in the blaze were a garage at the Martinez residence and a small storage building to the west of the mattress company, both of which were destroyed by the flames.

A fifth small frame building just north of the mattress company also sustained lesser damage from the fire.

No injuries to either firemen or residents of the house were reported. McDowell praised the work of the firemen who battled not only the fire but a stiff northerly wind and chill factors well below zero.

According to McDowell, "we stopped the fire right where it was when we got there."

Firefighters remained on the scene throughout the morning to watch the smoldering structure. Reportedly, debris in the mattress company basement was still burning beneath the collapsed

Chamber buys phone system

Chamber of Commerce directors approved the purchase of a new telephone system Tuesday afternoon during the regular December meeting.

The new phone system will cost approximately $2,800 and is being purchased from Advanced Telephone System of Big Spring, the same company which is installing new phone systems for Western Texas College and the City of Snyder.

Maintenance will be provided by Permian Communications in Snyder which is a representative for the Big Spring company.

A few months ago, directors had tabled a deci-

Chamber roles change hands

Roy Baze, an independent oil and gas consultant here, was chosen as president-elect of the Snyder Chamber of Commerce Tuesday as John Jarrell, general manager of Ezell-Key, assumed the role of 1984 Chamber President.

At the end of Tuesday's December meeting, current president Ernie Armstrong "passed the gavel" to Jarrell.

Directors also approved the nominating committee's choices for new officers, to include Baze as president-elect. Other officers chosen were Troy Williamson, vice-president; and Wedge Turner, treasurer.

The board also bid farewell to director members going off the board.

Director David Hines, who is completing his term, called his tenure "a privilege." Retiring directors who attended the final meeting of this year were Hines, Morris Light, Armstrong and Phil Fortune who served the unexpired term of Brian Boswell. Fortune remains on the board since he has been elected to a full three-year term.

Armstrong, as the immediate past president, will continue to serve as an ex-officio member during the coming year.

With 1983 drawing to a close, Director David Thompson took the opportunity to commend Chamber Manager Mort Ewing's efforts also, citing several actions he termed "beyond the terms of his contract."

In-coming directors attending their first meeting were Jack Denman and Max von Roeder. Jerry Vestal was unable to attend.

Other directors present were Thompson, Williamson, Phil Guerry, Baze, Turner and Murray Anne Ray.

Mapping system decision pending

A two hour discussion session was the result Tuesday of a joint meeting between directors for the Scurry County Appraisal District and the Snyder City Council.

The topic of discussion was a proposed contract between the two entities for both the purchase and maintenance of a computer graphics mapping system.

If finally approved, such a system would serve as the primary source of maps for both Snyder proper and Scurry County.

Tuesday's meeting served only as a discussion opportunity between the two boards and representatives for both the city and district describe a final decision regarding the system as "still up in the air."

Tuesday's discussion centered around how costs would be shared for the initial purchase price, a proposed maintenance contract for a two-year perod and the salary for a fulltime employee required for the same two-year period.

It is estimated that the two-year time frame would be required to "input" the mapping information into the system. After two-years, it was projected that both the fulltime employee requirements and the maintenance contract could be cutback.

Bids to purchase the equipment have already been received and the "up-front" cost of the mapping system is estimated in the $68,000 range.

As proposed during earlier discussions, the system if purchased would likely be housed in the appraisal district office building.

A final decision regarding all elements discussed is not expected until a final contract proposal has been presented to both directors for the district and council members.

Attending Tuesday's meeting were Mayor Rod Waller and Councilmen

The SDN Column

by Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "The first sign of intelligence is to appreciate those those who don't agree with you."

We didn't have quanity, but the quality of ugly ties in the SDN Ugly Tie contest is unquestioned. Any one tie was so ugly it would make a freight train take a dirt road.

Our panel of three experts for ugly were not unanimous, but the clear-cut winner for the first prize of $50 was Danny Bass who entered one of the most narrow ties in the contest. The label on the tie indicates it's an original--and we hope the only. It is said to have a patent number and locked-in construction. We doubt that anyone would steal it, but keep it locked in anyway. The color reminds us of an upchucked pepperoni pizza.

Second and third place will get $25 each. The runnerup tie went to Don Adams. One judge commented, "It was twice as wide as ties have ever been. I can't imagine it matching anything."

Third place was a beaut, entered by Mike Kerley. It's impossible to look at for extended periods, but the judges insure us the colors are blue, light blue, green and yellow.

All are worthy of honorable mention--like the pink and green lovely entered by Billy Don Martin. County Judge Preston Wilson entered his red, white and blue "Vote" tie, but the judges rejected it as a "period piece" as they did a Christmas tie, complete with blinking lights, entered by Charles Anderson.

One of the most unusual ties was entered by Charlie Bell. The hand-painted piece showed a mountain lake scene with ducks flying overhead. Bell said the tie belonged to his grandfather.

We had promised to display the jewels, but we can't blame anyone for rejecting that idea. It would sort of be like having your mother-in-law spend the weekend with you.

Fellows, when you open that gift Christmas morning and it's a new tie. Just smile and thank your wife's mother. You may not wear it, but you can cash in on it in some future contest.

In Brief

PUC to decide on request

AUSTIN (AP) — The Public Utility Commission faced its first major decision today in the Southwestern Bell case — a ruling on the company's request for an emergency rate hike on New Year's Day.

Bell says it needs $292 million more than the $653 million approved by PUC Administrative Law Judge Jacqueline Holmes. The money is needed to replace revenues that will be lost as a result of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. divestiture, according to company officials.

Ms. Holmes' recommendation would not mean an increase in local service rates. About $600 million would come from long distance companies and the rest would come from rate hikes for Southwestern Bell long distance calls.

The $653 million interim rate hike granted by Ms. Holmes was appealed to the full commission by Bell and Public Utility Counsel Jim Boyle. While Bell wants more, Boyle says the company is entitled to nothing. Boyle is the state lawyer who represents consumers at PUC hearings.

DC-9 strikes, kills sweeper

SIOUX FALLS, S.D. (AP) — An airport manager said it was a "major miracle" that only one person was killed when an Ozark Airlines jet slammed into snow-sweeping machine on landing.

The collision Tuesday killed the driver of the sweeper, ripped a wing from the DC-9, spun the plane around and flung it into a ditch.

There was a brief fire, but none of the 77 passengers or any of the five crew members was seriously injured. Three passengers with minor complaints were taken to hospitals for examination.

"It's a plain, major miracle that we have only one fatality," said John Orr, the manager of Joe Foss Field.

Douglas Stoner, 38, of Sioux Falls was killed.

Orr said there apparently was a breakdown in communications between the control tower and Stoner. Under normal routine, the tower notifies maintenance crews well in advance of a landing, Orr said.

Officer killed in hit, run

TEXHOMA, Texas (AP) — Officers in three states are searching today for the driver of a car that struck and killed a police officer in this town on the Texas-Oklahoma border.

Police said officer Donald Wayne Smiley, 52, was killed after he stopped to investigate an illegally parked pickup truck on the westbound lane on Highway 54 Tuesday night.

Witnesses said Smiley, of Texhoma, was then hit by a car, which kept driving.

He was pronounced dead at the scene at 10:30 p.m., said Department of Public Safety spokesman Larry Todd.

Police in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas were searching for the driver of the runaway car.

Dozen medals are accepted

MIAMI (AP) — Vietnam veteran Jacinto Acebal finally has collected a dozen combat medals he neglected for nearly 20 years because of the bad name given the war and those who fought it.

Acebal, who describes himself as a "closet Vietnam veteran," was honored Tuesday for "characteristic American courage" in 1964 and 1965 as a helicopter gunship gunner and crew chief.

"It takes some kind of courage to be here," said Acebal, now 42 and a mailman in Miami.

"I think this would be an honor for all the veterans and I hope they get recognized. We don't want no parades and we don't need them," he said.

CRIME STOPPERS Call 573-6700

Paul Harvey

The FBI was understaffed, overworked and in a hurry, took shortcuts. That is what paved the way to 20 months in hell.

When the FBI cleared Ray Donovan for the public office of Labor secretary, the bureau knew of allegations that he had made payoffs to corrupt union officials or worked for a company that did.

The Bureau had traced the allegations to their source, had found them to be unfounded — and so did not pass along those allegations to the Senate Labor Committee. That was a mistake, justified, as I say, only by the hate of the preconfirmation investigation.

Much later the senators who had confirmed Donovan were surprised and distressed to hear from clandestine sources of "mysterious lunches where envelopes traded hands, trips to the Super Bowl, double-dates with mobsters."

The allegations were raw meat for carnivorous media.

And thus began Ray Donovan's 20 months in hell.

Around Bergen, N.J., Ray Donovan had been known as a self-made millionaire in the construction business, political conservative, devout Roman Catholic, family man and highly effective fund-raiser for Reagan.

When suddenly three dozen people came forward with information that he was "a friend of gangsters," that his firm had "rigged bids for public projects" and other things...

The Bergen Record assigned its staff to start digging.

For five months, research reporters poured over thousands of pages of transcripts, interviewed the "dozens" who had come forward, backtracked on one after another of the juicy rumors ...

Had the witnesses lied? Was the FBI guilty of incompetence or coverup?

Donovan, legally cleared, remained under a shadow of doubt.

The media has more scalps on its belt than feathers in its hat.

But the exhaustive months of review of the record by The Record finds all those who volunteered allegations against Donovan have since recanted or been discredited.

One after another each and all of the allegations of wrongdoing proved without foundation.

But nobody can run the gauntlet of malicious slander for 20 months and emerge unscarred.

My own profession, overeager to parrot the worst, has been exonerated only somewhat — by the Bergen, N.J., Record, which sorted fact from fiction and concluded that Secretary Donovan, his family and his friends were subjected to a cruel public keelhauling which they did not deserve.

But in the degree to which an experience like this deters honorable people from public office, we are all losers.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Being overly desirous of the approval of friends today could cause you to reject your good ideas and go along with their weaker ones.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Difficulties at work today can be resolved by using your ingenuity, instead of merely elbow grease. Let mind prevail over muscle.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're pretty good at stirring up beneficial prospects today, but yo might fail to capitalize on your gains. Your early efforts could count for nil.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Let unselfish impulses motivate you today. Instead of trying to grind out a deal that might be unfair to another, do what's right.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) If you spend too much time today waiting for others to assist you, you are likely to accomplish only a portion of what you hope to do.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you let your spending get out of hand today, this could put you in a position where you may not be able to get some things you want later.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Domestic duties will be more difficult to attend today if you schedule them after your more desirable activities. Reverse your agenda.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Any limitations you feel today will be caused by being to self-centered. Dwell on helping others and the bonds will quickly be broken.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) You'll only have yourself to blame if you allow friends to pressure you into spending more than your budget can bear: Resist their proddings.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Do not try to oversteer financial situations presently working in your favor. Instead of deriving more benefits, you could end up with less.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Even though your better judgment will direct you to do otherwise, there's a possibility you might — regrettably — repeat a past mistake today.

Family's Christmas no fun anymore

IRVING, Texas (AP) — For the fourth time in recent years, a vehicle has invaded Eleanor Goolsby's house, this time taking out a wall and smashing the Christmas tree and the family's gifts.

Mrs. Goolsby says it will not be a nice Christmas.

Last year, Eleanor Reese, Mrs. Goolsby's 89-year-old mother, was hospitalized at Christmas. The year before that, Mrs. Goolsby was laid off by Braniff.

"This was going to be a dual Christmas," said Mrs. Goolsby, who lives with her mother and two daughters, Zina and Sissey. "We were going to celebrate my mother's health and my return to Braniff."

But Mrs. Reese suffered a heart attack hours after the latest vehicle crashed into the house. She's at home in stable condition, but her doctor says she might have to be hospitalized again before Christmas.

Zina Goolsby said the family has told out-of-town kinfolks to cancel their plans to visit over the holiday.

"Christmas is going to be bleak. We are not going to have a nice Christmas. We can't have a nice Christmas. We had to tell them (relatives) to forget it. I'm afraid to have overnight company," she said.

"We can't guarantee their safety."

The house sits on the corner of a four-way stop, and the family fears it will be hit again.

On Dec. 13, a pickup truck crashed through the house and into the den. The impact opened a floor-to-ceiling hole in the corner of the brick house.

The hole has been boarded up, and a gas fireplace now heats the den, which is used as a guest room, but it's still too cold to sleep in, Miss Goolsby said.

Three years ago, shrubbery was destroyed by a vehicle that plowed into the Goolsby yard. The next time, a vehicle rammed into a tree and careened into the edge of the residence, breaking a window and damaging a wall. Then a car bounded out of control, smashed into the left side of the house and destroyed a patio, a gas meter, shrubbery and a wall.

Each time, the Goolsbys' insurance has paid for the damage because the drivers haven't had liability insurance, Miss Goolsby said.

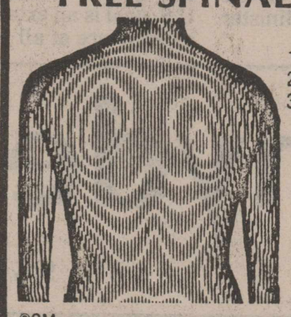

Irving police arrested the driver who drove into the Goolsby house on Dec. 13. Charges of public intoxication and driving without proof of liability insurance were brought.

Sgt. J.L. Richards said police will post extra patrols at the intersection in an effort to prevent drivers from running the stop sign. But Miss Goolsby remains unconvinced.

"We're beginning to look like the Indianapolis Roadway," she said. "Any screeching sound scares me now."

A commercial airliner crashed in the mountains near Juneau, Alaska, in 1971, and 111 persons were killed.

Redskins boast seven on NFL All-Pro Team

NEW YORK (AP) - The Washington Redskins, the defending Super Bowl champions and owners of the National Football League's best record this year, placed seven players on the 1983 All-Pro team announced today by The Associated Press.

The seven, all on the first team, are quarterback Joe Theismann, running back John Riggins, offensive guard Russ Grimm, offensive tackle Joe Jacoby, defensive tackle Dave Butz, free safety Mark Murphy and kick-returner Mike Nelms.

Theismann threw 29 touchdown passes and only 11 interceptions. Riggins finished fifth in rushing with 1,347 yards and a league-leading 24 rushing touchdowns, a record.

A year ago, when the Redskins posted the National Conference's best record (8-1 in the strike-shortened season) en route to Super Bowl XVII, they placed only one player on the All-Pro first team - place-kicker Mark Moseley. This year, Moseley was beaten out by rookie Ali Haji-Sheikh of the New York Giants, the first-team selection, and second-team choice Gary Anderson of the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The only other rookie on the All-Pro first team is the NFL's rushing champion, Eric Dickerson of the Los Angeles Rams, who gained a rookie-record 1,808 yards and scored 20 touchdowns, 18 rushing. Two other rookies were second-team selections - quarterback Dan Marino of the Miami Dolphins and running back Curt Warner of the Seattle Seahawks. Marino had 20 TD passes and six interceptions and Warner rushed for 1,449 yards and 13 TDs.

Despite the presence of the seven Redskins, the National Conference wound up with only a 14-12 edge over the American Conference on the All-Pro first team. New York and Dallas were the only other teams with more than one player on the first team - outside linebacker Lawrence Taylor of the Giants joining Haji-Sheikh and defensive tackle Randy White and cornerback Everson Walls the two Cowboys.

Three AFC teams placed two players each on the first team - the Cincinnati Bengals (offensive tackle Anthony Munoz and cornerback Ken Riley), the Miami Dolphins (defensive end Doug Betters and nose tackle Bob Baumhower) and the Pittsburgh Steelers (center Mike Webster and middle linebacker Jack Lambert).

Also on the first team are wide receivers Mike Quick of the Philadelphia Eagles and Roy Green of the St. Louis Cardinals, tight end Todd Christensen of the Los Angeles Raiders, guard John Hannah of the New England Patriots, defensive end Mark Gastineau of the New York Jets, outside linebacker Chip Banks of the Cleveland Browns, strong safety Kenny Easley of the Seattle Seahawks and punter Rohn Stark of the Baltimore Colts.

Theismann voted NFL Most Valuable Player

WASHINGTON (AP) - Joe Theismann, honored as the Associated Press National Football League Player of the Year was more suprised by the award than his Washington Redskin teammates.

"There's no way you could pick anybody else after the year he has had," said linebacker Rich Milot.

"If he didn't win it they should pack up the award and put it away because it wouldn't mean a thing. Nobody has meant more to a team than Joe to us," center Jeff Bostic said of the award announced Tuesday.

"I'd hoped for it - but since 1979, I've never counted anything until I had it in hand," said Theismann, remembering the hurt from being left off the Pro Bowl team despite leading the National Conference in passing.

Theismann, the triggerman of the most potent offense in National Football League history, completed 276 of 459 passes, 29 for touchdowns, for 3,714 yards this season. He was intercepted just 11 times. Rushing, he averaged 6.3 yards an attempt, gaining 234 yards on 37 carries.

Last week's 31-22 victory over the Giants, which clinched the division title for the Redskins saw Theismann run for one score and throw for a second as the Redskins overcame a 19-7 deficit.

Starting each game, Theismann piloted the defending Super Bowl champions to a 14-2 record this season, tops in the league. The Redskins' 541 points scored is a new league standard, wiping out the previous mark of 513 set by Houston in 1961.

The overwhelming choice of a nationwide panel of sports writers and sports broadcasters voting for MVP, Theismann received 58 of the 84 votes cast. Eric Dickerson, the Los Angeles Rams' rookie running back and NFL rushing champion, was a distant second with 18 votes.

Miami Dolphins' rookie quarterback Dan Marino received three votes. Two went to Redskins running back John Riggins while quarterbacks Joe Montana of the San Francisco 49ers and Lynn Dickey of the Green Bay Packers and defensive tackle Randy White of the Dallas Cowboys received one vote apiece.

Pecos hands Snyder girls second loop loss

PECOS -- Snyder's girls are finding it hard to live with success. So hard, in fact, that sometimes they can't do it at all.

The Tigers jumped out to a 13-7 lead here Tuesday but gave it up to a Pecos Eagles team that controlled the rest of the way and won, 54-46. It was Snyder's second District 2-4A loss in a row and gives the girls a 4-6 season record. Pecos is 1-1 in loop play.

Snyder's varsity girls will resume play Dec. 29 in the Jayton Tournament as they take on Crosbyton at 10 a.m.

"We had them down 13-7 and we just kind of let up and they led us the rest of the game," said a weary Coach Ken Housden. "We didn't play very well. I don't think that three hour bus trip helped either."

Snyder trailed by a point after the first quarter but dropped back 27-21 by halftime. Pecos took the third and fourth periods by a single point to grab the win.

Snyder was led by Karlene Thompson's 19 points and 12 rebounds. Carie Housden notched 12 points and Carmen Rios had 8.

Tracy Bowlers had 14 for the Eagles, who also got 10 each from Patty Acosta, Regina Walker and Lilly Talamantez.

Tuesday's outing was also frustrating for Snyder's junior varsity girls, who lost a game in the final few seconds for the second straight time. The Cats, playing the final four minutes with only four girls on the court, made up a seven point deficit. Stacy Dunk tied the game when she hit the front end of a bonus freethrow situation with three seconds left. She missed her second shot and Snyder fouled on the rebound, sending Karen Richmond to the line for Pecos. Richmond aced the winning freethrow with no time showing on the clock, 43-42.

Hope Hernandez, Pam Casias and Stephanie McKnight fouled out of the game. McKnight led Snyder with 17 points. Hernandez had 9.

Tigers fall behind early, lose to Midland, 71-62

By BILL McCLELLAN
SDN Sports Editor

Coach Larry Scott's Tigers earned a victory here Tuesday night. No, it wasn't on the scoreboard. It read Midland 71, Snyder 62.

This was a moral victory, and while some fans don't believe there is such a thing, they'd have to agree that the Tigers gained some respect.

It didn't start out that way. Snyder came onto the floor with all the finese of a cold front, missing its first 10 field goal attempts until Sunny Cobb finally hit one with 4:02 to play in the first quarter. By that time, Midland had scored 12 and was on its way to a 22-10 first quarter lead.

The Tigers kept within 15 points until the final minute and a half of the second quarter. Jerry Comstock came off the bench to bucket two points, 33-20. The senior ballplayer planned to get Snyder within 11 on the next trip up the floor. He drove the middle and put the ball through the hoop but was called for charging. Officials ruled the basket was after the foul and therefore no good.

Midland responded as Todd Shiplet, Darrell Davis and Chris Rooker combined for seven of the last nine points in the period and a 41-22 halftime lead.

"We spotted them 12 points, and still, up until about two minutes left in the first half we were just 13 behind," said Scott. "You've got to credit the kids. They started the game shooting bad and they could have quit. Our shot selection was fine, it just wasn't going in the hole."

Snyder hit only seven of 28 field goal attempts in the first half; 25 percent.

The advantage reached its peak in the third period when Rooker - an all tournament selection at the Canyon Reef Tournament here two weeks ago - popped a 15-footer to give the Bulldogs a 45-23 lead.

Snyder didn't quit. Aided by an all-around good game from Chad Peterson and some bench help from Fred Fleming, the Tigers outscored the visitors 39-26 over the remaining 14 minutes of the contest.

Snyder used a trapping defense in the second half and it worked. Paul Tate, Marcus McGlouthin, Fleming and Richard Wesley teamed to outscore the Bulldogs 11-2 over a two-minute span. Still, late baskets by Rooker and 6-3 Kenneth Johnson gave the 'Dogs a 55-38 lead going into the final stanza.

Snyder wouldn't lay down. The Tigers reloaded to outpoint the visitors 10-2 early in the fourth quarter and trail by 11, 59-48. The margin was 10 when Tate put down two freethrows, then eight on a layup by Peterson with 31 ticks remaining. But it was simply the age-old adage: Too little, too late.

"We changed defense and that made a difference," said Scott, who wouldn't take credit for the comeback. "The change didn't have that much affect, it was the kids. They really gutted it out."

Peterson led the Tigers in scoring with 18 points. Tate had 13 and Fleming notched 10. Greathouse pulled down nine rebounds while Tate and Fleming had eight apiece.

Snyder hit 22 of 60 field goals for the game and was 16 of 30 from the freethrow line. The Tigers also missed the front end of six would-be bonus shots.

Midland was led by Rooker's 20 points. Johnson had 15 while Davis, Willis Ratliff and Fred Franklin bagged 10 apiece.

Earlier, Chris Garrett had scored 14 points and Jackie Anderson 13 as Snyder junior varsity defeated Midland's underclassmen, 52-45. Wade Forga also put up 10 points and Mike McWilliams had 7 - all in the second half.

Snyder is scheduled for one more game before the Christmas holidays. The Tigers will entertain Big Spring beginning at 6:15 Thursday in the coliseum.

Akers leaves door open

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Longhorn football coach Fred Akers would not deny that he would be interested in the head coaching vacancy at Arkansas but said the "only thing on my mind is preparing my football team for the Cotton Bowl game against Georgia."

Akers' name has been mentioned as a possible successor to Lou Holtz, who resigned Sunday after years as coach.

"I'd never refuse to talk to anyone ... just out of respect to the individuals. I can understand (the talk). It's a natural thing because I went to school there. But the only thing I'm interested in is my football team," Akers said Tuesday.

Trucker tied to tree survives hours of sub-zero temperatures

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — A trucker tied to a tree in minus-8 degree cold after his rig was hijacked felt his limbs grow numb and his energy being drained away while he awaited rescue until finally, he says, he "wasn't caring too much." After at least four hours of struggling helplessly against his bonds Tuesday morning, Raymond Curbow was freed by Rick Cornine, who glimpsed Curbow from the road but drove on, then turned back.

Curbow, of Nixa, Mo., was recovering from exposure and possible frostbite today at Cox Medical Center in Springfield, while authorities were searching for his rig.

"I was just about to give up," Curbow said Tuesday night, recounting the ordeal. "I got to the point where I wasn't caring too much. There were so many (cars) that went by I just thought nobody was going to stop."

He lost track of time as he stomped his feet and moved his body to stay warm.

"In the cold weather it seemed like eternity," he said in a telephone interview from his hospital room.

Curbow, 47, was hauling a truckful of hogs when he pulled into a rest stop on Interstate 70 at about 5 p.m. Monday near Concordia, about 25 miles northwest of the central Missouri town of Sedalia.

At the time, Curbow was confronted by two men and a woman, one of whom had a knife, who took control of the rig.

Curbow said he was robbed and then driven around in the rig for hours. Sometime during the night he was tied with rope to the tree along U.S. 65, about 10 miles north of Sedalia.

The tree was several feet off the highway and down a 15-foot embankment, which made it difficult for motorists to see him, Curbow said. Meanwhile, the temperature fell to 8 below zero, according to the National Weather Service.

Around 8 a.m., Cornine was driving to work. The 30-year-old man glanced out his window and saw what appeared to be a hunter checking his traps. He continued driving.

"I don't know. Something just didn't seem right to me," Cornine said Tuesday night. "I decided to turn around and go back."

The Line County Sheriff's department received a call early Tuesday from someone who gave a location in Pettis County where a man could be found tied to a tree. Authorities believe the call was made from a truck stop on I-70 at the U.S. 65 interchange, 20 miles north of Sedalia. Curbow was found before officers arrived.

Authorities were searching for the stolen rig, which was bound from Fort Scott, Kan., to the Wilson Foods packing plant in Marshall, a Missouri town about 30 miles north of Sedalia.

Nuclear 'Doomsday Clock' creeps closer to midnight

CHICAGO (AP) — Heightened U.S.-Soviet tensions have moved the world nearer to nuclear war than at any time since 1953, says a scientists' magazine which is advancing its symbolic "doomsday clock" one minute closer to midnight.

The Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists on Thursday will move the hands on the "doomsday clock" on its cover from 4 minutes before midnight to 3 minutes, the first change on the symbolic timepiece in nearly three years, said Ruth Adams, the megazine's editor.

The time on the clock, published in the magazine since 1948, changes when the scientists who oversee the publication agree the threat of nuclear war has increased.

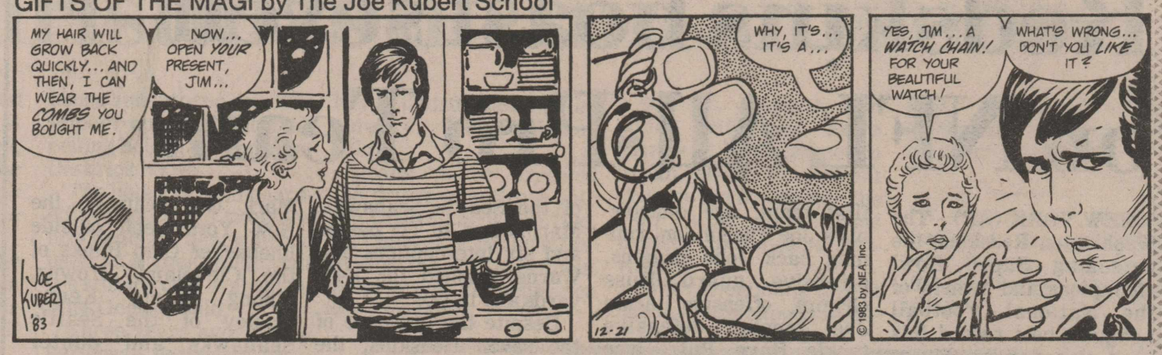

Thursday's change marks the closest the clock has moved to "nuclear doomsday" since it was at 2 minutes to midnight when the Soviet Union exploded its first hydrogen bomb in 1953.

Ms. Adams said Tuesday that the movement on the "doomsday clock" shows both the "failure of cutbacks or control of nuclear weapons ' and the breakdown in communications between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"The world has become increasingly militaristic," she added. "We pursue security by means of weapons and strategy ..."

Exxon accused of ruining deal

AUSTIN (AP) — Attorney General Jim Mattox has made up with Mobil Oil Corp. but now he's mad at Exxon.

Mattox blames Exxon for blocking an out-of-court settlement of a $1.7 billion dispute between Mobil and South Texas rancher Clinton Manges in which Texas would have gotten a large share of the money.

Lawyers had assembled Tuesday in Laredo, where the suit was filed, to formalize the deal when, to their surprise, attorneys for Exxon showed up and filed a cross-claim and a counter-claim, demanding an unspecified amount of the settlement.

Mattox said Exxon owns about 30 percent of the mineral rights on the Duval County Ranch Co. land that was the subject of the lawsuit, in which Manges challenged the legality of Mobil's oil and gas drilling leases. But Mattox said Exxon had refused repeatedly to join Manges' action against Mobil.

"It's really outrageous when they take this action in the 11th hour and 59th minute," Mattox complained. "We didn't like the idea for them to let us do all the work (on the agreement) and then come in at the last minute and try to grab some of the proceeds."

The entire case was set for a hearing in Laredo Jan. 4, and in the meantime, the out-of-court settlement must wait.

"Because of an assortment of tax considerations, I will probably not be able to put this deal back together again," Mattox said. "Exxon's actions will probably cost the schoolchildren of Texas a substantial amount of money."

Mobil, the state and Manges had reached agreement late last week after marathon negotiations in New York and Houston. Manges had filed the suit against Mobil, contending the oil company violated the terms of mineral leases on his Duval County ranch. The state joined the lawsuit, seeking recovery of royalties it claimed under leases on part of the land.

Fashion sense

Singer/actress Cher recently told Beauty Digest magazine her own personal fashion shopping strategy. "I love to go out with a friend and snoop out new boutiques," she said. "But most of the time I get my clothes from the same few stores — when something comes that my regular salesperson knows I'll like, she sends it directly to my house — especially shoes. I'm crazy about shoes."

West attacked with the king of clubs. Any other lead would have given South an easy road to at least nine tricks, but, as usual, the defense refused to help declarer.

As South you duck for two reasons. Sometimes the leader will shift to another suit. Maybe West started with K-Q-J-x and when he continues with the queen, he will drop his partner's 10.

Nothing good happens. The queen of clubs is led and East shows out. Offhand, it looks as if you will have to guess between a spade and a heart finesse, but there is a fairly simple way to avoid any guess at all.

You take your ace of clubs and start on diamonds. Three diamond leads are necessary to get rid of West's diamonds and you now have him on the toasting fork.

Just throw him in with a club. He can and does take three club tricks. You chuck a spade and a heart from dummy and the six of spades from your own hand.

Then you can show West your hand since either a heart or spade lead will give you the rest of the tricks.

sion regarding the phone system in anticipation of a bid AT&T might submit after the first of the year.

However, recent information from the telephone company's representatives indicate that AT&T isn't sure what kind of bids they will be able to offer or when they will be able to submit them.

In addition, the Board of County Development has offered to pay part of the purchase cost of the new system. This prompted directors to take action now as the BCD funds would only be available through the end of the year. If the funds allocated had not been used this year, another request would have to be made to the BCD for the year 1984.

Routine reports given indicate that the $3,000 secured from the Motel/Hotel Tax Fund in order to promote "shopping at home" is "money well spent" and that the Leadership II class — after two meetings — is progressing very well.

Lawyers seek alternative

DALLAS (AP) — Attorneys representing Lenell Geter have asked prosecutors to let their client be given "truth serum" instead of a polygraph test in a bargain that could free him from a controversial robbery charge.

Dallas County District Attorney Henry Wade agreed last week to seek a new trial for Geter and also agreed to drop charges if Geter passed a lie detector test.

But Geter's attorneys say he is a "nervous kind of guy" who does not do well on polygraph tests. Prosecutors said a polygraph test Geter took in May showed "deception."

Geter's attorneys called the results "inconclusive at best."

The 26-year-old engineer was sentenced to life in prison last year in the robbery of a fast-food restaurant in Balch Springs, a suburb of Dallas. He has maintained his innocence and says he became a suspect in the robbery because he is black.

At the time of the robbery, Geter was employed at E-Systems Inc. of Greenville, about 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

Geter was released on bond last week and went to South Carolina to spend Christmas with his family.

Wade said he agreed to reopen Geter's case because of public pressure. The week before Wade's announcement, Geter's case was featured on the CBS news show "60 Minutes."

Juvenile in custody

Tuesday, police report clearing a misdemeanor criminal mischief incident reported Monday.

Officers say a 13-year-old girl was taken into custody around 1 p.m. and charged in connection with the vandalism of the Jeanette Brown residence 506 ½ 27th St. The girl was later turned over to county juvenile authorities for further action.

Economic signs hopeful

WASHINGTON (AP) — The economy will finish out the year on a more moderate note, with an annual growth rate of 4 percent in the fourth quarter, a government report said today. And consumer prices, restrained by the sharpest drop in gasoline costs since the spring, rose a modest 0.3 percent in November.

The Commerce Department said third-quarter growth was 7.6 percent. Growth for the quarter had previously been reported as high as 7.9 percent.

In a separate report on the Consumer Price Index, the department said so far this year, retail prices have risen just 3.8 percent.

Wih one month left, analysts predict the inflation rate for the full year may well better the 1982 pace of 3.9 percent and turn in the best performance since the 3.4 percent ,f1971 and 1972.

Prices soared 124 percentin 1980 and 8.9 percent in 1981.

In its "flash estimate" for growth in the stillunfinished fourth quarter, the department said growth is coming from sales and investment in inventories by business firms.

If the estimate is correct, it would mean 6.1 percent growth from the fourth quarter of 1982 to the fourth quarter of 1983. Growth for the calendar year would be 3.3 percent, compared with the 1.9 percent downturn for all of 1982.

Economists said in advance of the report that they expected it to show the expansion is moving along at a quick, though slower, pace and should remain on solid footing well into next year.

And President Reagan, at a news conference Tuesday night, called 1983 "a banner year for the American economy."

Although the fourth quarter estimate is considered solid, many economists had expected the showing to be much stronger — in the range of 5.5 percent to 7.3 percent.

Today's report on the inflation-adjusted gross national product covers the whole economy by attempting to estimate the nation's entire output of goods and services during the fourth quarter and compare it to the third quarter.

It also said after-tax corporate profits rose 13.3 percenl in the third quarter after rising 17.6 percent in the second.

Before-tax profnts rose 12.7 percent in the July-September period after rising 19.8 percent.

Dear Abby

Program Aids Recovery For Women with Cancer

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1983 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I want to tell you about a fantastic group I recently joined. It's "Encore," a YWCA program specifically designed to meet the needs of a woman following her mastectomy. Encore offers a combination of group discussion and exercise. The discussions provide a supportive atmosphere for women to meet and share common concerns with others who have lost a breast from cancer surgery. (I lost both of mine.)

The exercise session combines gentle floor and pool exercises (to music) to tone, strengthen and develop flexibility in those muscles affected after surgery. If you can't swim, no problem. You don't even have to get your hair wet. I go twice a week for an hour and a half.

You need not be a member of the YWCA, and the class fee is $2.25 per session. Advance registration is not necessary.

Abby, it's so easy for women to participate. I cannot overstate the peace of mind and support Encore has given me in just a few months. Please, please let others know about this wonderful group. It is in about 90 cities in the United States.

MINNEAPOLIS MRS.

DEAR MRS.: Thank you for making it possible for me to spread the word. In checking out Encore, I learned that in order to join, a woman must be at least three weeks post-operative, and her doctor's written permission is required. Also, a woman may join anytime—whether her surgery was performed recently or several years ago. Interested parties should contact their local YWCA.

DEAR ABBY: You recently published the names of congressmen who have bills pending to correct the Social Security "notch" problem. I noticed that they were all Democrats. Are there no Republicans who are for a bill to correct this injustice to our senior citizens?

BORN IN 1919 IN PENNSYLVANIA

DEAR BORN: Yes. Of the 34 members of Congress who have co-sponsored H.R. 4093 (Edward Roybal's bill), six are Republicans. They are: Matthew J. Rinaldo, New Jersey; Christopher H. Smith, New Jersey; George C. Wortley, New York; Edwin B. Forsythe, New Jersey; George W. Gekas, Pennsylvania; E. Clay Shaw Jr., Florida.

DEAR ABBY: After being awakened by another phone call in the middle of the night, I feel compelled to write this letter. As a doctor's wife I am continually amazed by the number of people who call their physicians at home for the most trivial reasons.

We are often awakened between 5 a.m. and 6 a.m. by people who say, "I wanted to catch you before you left home; can I get in to see you today?" Abby, how many doctors bring their appointment books home with them? Don't get me wrong—we don't mind phone calls from patients who are legitimately sick, but most of these calls are not emergencies.

The worst ones are from "friends" who call me on my husband's day off and say, "I know your husband is off today and you hardly ever get to see him, but I've had this problem for two weeks ..."

Doctors are people, too, and they need their rest. I wish people would stop and ask themselves two questions before they call a doctor at his home: 1. Is this phone call really necessary? 2. Can it wait until morning?

A DOCTOR'S WIFE

Help for aphasia

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — In one of your columns you mentioned a machine that would speak phrases when buttons were pressed. I am wondering where one can purchase these. My husband, age 62, suffered a stroke last July and suffers from aphasia. He can speak some words, but not more than three words at a time.

He had speech therapy for two months, but because of the long distance to the hospital it had to be discontinued.

He is very intelligent. He has a loss of speech and the right side is paralyzed, but I feel that he could learn to use such a machine.

DEAR READER — If at all possible, you should continue with the speech therapy. In fact, therapy should begin immediately after the stroke. That means within days, or as soon as it is safe for the patient to participate. With any speech disorders, the sooner the speech therapy has begun, the better the outlook is improved.

A good speech therapist can direct you to several different devices that might be available to aid in communication. Since the basic problem is regaining communication, a speech therapist also may help a stroke victim discover other means of communication if speech cannot be restored. Don't overlook learning to write with the left hand if the right hand is paralyzed.

The Handi-Voice is manufactured by Phonic Ear Inc., 250 Camino Alto, Mill Valley, CA 94941. However, your speech therapist might decide that some other device would be more suitable in your husband's case.

To give you more information on rehabilitation after a stroke, I am sending you The Health Letter 16-6, What You Need to Know About Strokes. Other readers who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10091.

DEAR DR. LAMB —. My husband likes to eat dinner between 8:30 and 9 p.m. and says that you recommend eating at a late hour so as not to gain weight. I am hoping this recent study I've enclosed about eating and exercise will modify your position.

DEAR READER — The item you sent me was interesting, but what it really shows is the value of exercise in controlling calories, not that calorie values change with the time of day you eat. A calorie is a calorie, in the morning, in the evening and in the night.

The study you sent supports the idea that a person who does some mild exercise after eating increases the effects the exercise has on using calories. On the basis of the study, it doesn't matter whether you eat at midnight and exercise after eating or eat in the morning and exercise after eating. A good walk after eating any time of the day or night is a good idea.

Note that if you overeat one day and exercise the next day, the exercise will use far more calories than if you had eaten regular meals. This again points out the value of exercise, not the time of eating, in helping to control obesity.

So the study does prompt me to emphasize again that it is good to have some form of moderate exercise after each meal to help the body eliminate excess calories.

Christmas metamorphosis...

'I become Santa Claus'

DENVER (AP) — It's the spirit, says the man in the red suit. It's the spirit that stops traffic, causes 18-wheelers to blow their horns in salute, prompts old women on welfare to shed a tear.

Santa Claus is a state of mind that engulfs even the most hardened Scrooge as the shopping days tick by until Christmas. That's what Francis Benkofske believes.

He's studied the phenomenon for the nine years he's donned his white curly beard, sweated under his red velvet, and pasted on his eyebrows.

"Becoming Santa Claus is my gift to myself," says Benkofske, who is careful not to say he is "playing" or 'impersonating" the man from the North Pole.

"I psych myself up. Each season I try to improve on it. Santa Claus is in the eye of the beholder. If you believe I'm real, then I am. By Dec. 24, I've changed my identity. I feel like Santa Claus, therefore I become Santa Claus."

Eleven months out of the year Benkofske is a 25-year-old Denver carpet salesman whose December persona hangs in a garment bag at the back of his closet. But when Thanksgiving leftovers are gone, he begins his transformation. In 1982 he worked at a shopping mall. This year he signed up as one of 40 volunteers working the Mile High Child Care Association's inaugural season as Rent-A-Santas.

The non-profit United Way agency hit on the project as a fundraiser for its nine day-care centers, which are hard-pressed because of funding cutbacks.

"The response was immediate and gratifying," said Vance George Reed, the service coordinator. "We were deluged with people who wanted to be Santa. There's a complete ethnic mix — black Santas, Chicano Santas, young and old Santas, several women. We finally had to turn people away."

The Rent-A-Santa service is averaging 15 to 20 appearances daily at nursing homes, day care centers, office parties and shopping malls. The cost is $45 for the first hour, graduating downward to $8.75 per hour for a full day of Ho-Ho-Ho-ing.

They even make house calls.

It troubles Benkofske a little that he takes money — $10 for an hour's work, $5.25 for each hour additional — to make people happy. "But I have to live like anybody else," he says.

Every year it inevitably comes to an end. There is always a final party, a last "Merry Christmas."

"And every year, when it's all over, I cry. There's an emotional letdown on Christmas morning," said Benkofske. "But by New Year's, I'm always cheerful again because I remember that there's another Christmas on the way. And Santa lives forever."

Martin Luther was the most prolific religious figure in history, according to National Geographic. It says that from 1516 to 1546 he wrote, on the average, a treatise every two weeks.

Dramatic pastor has flair on the pulpit

LAREDO, Texas (AP) — The Christmas story has been told many times, but few versions could be as vivid as the story told by a shepherd who was there.

Last Sunday, members of the Grace Bible Church heard a man dressed in shepherd's robes vividly recreate the Palestine of 2,000 years ago and a miraculous night in a stable.

The shepherd was actually pastor Bob Rowley and it was not the first time he had spiced up his ministry with drama.

Nearly four times a year, the Laredo pastor delivers a "dramatic sermon." He said he learned the technique as a student at the Dallas Theological Seminary and he takes the theatrics quite seriously.

"The purpose of dramatic sermon is not to entertain, but to creatively communicate the truth of the Word of God," he explained.

Nevertheless, his sermons do entertain and are laced with costume, performance and vivid historic detail. The shepherd, for example, began by providing detail on the place where he worked, the fields surrounding Bethlehem.

"It was just another way to be creative in the pulpit," Rowley said, "and make the scripture come alive."
