High School Seniors Of Area Throng HCJC Campus Today

More than 500 persons, about 400 of them seniors from this immediate area, were putting away a barbecue lunch at Howard County Junior College's Senior Day at noon Friday.

By 11 a.m. there had been 371 seniors register and more were expected. Auditorium of HCJC was packed while two score beauties from nearly a dozen schools paraded to the unrestrained delight of the guests. After a break in which the Colorado City Chorale, under direction of Curtis Baker, scored a hit with the crowd, the talent show got under way. Vocalists, instrumentalists and just plain novelty performers drew big hands from the crowd.

Earlier, while seniors from 12 schools arrived, registered and inspected the premises, the Webb AFB Band, directed by T-Sgt. Howard N. Ingalls, played a spirited concert in front of the auditorium. Again, during the lunch hour, the Webb AFB band furnished the music.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College, welcomed the visiting seniors to the campus. Dr. P. W. Malone, president of the HCJC board, affirmed the welcome and expressed the hope that young people in this area would, after an inspection of facilities, consider starting their college careers near at home.

George McAlester, who has been in charge of arrangements and who presided as master of ceremonies, recognized visiting superintendents and class sponsors. Beauty contestants were introduced by Mrs. Harold Davis while Mrs. C. H. Rainwater played soft organ background music. Amateur photographers were having a field day in getting shots of the attractive young ladies, who appeared in street clothes during the morning session. At 1:15 p.m. they were to appear again in formal attire.

Talent contestants, some 30 of them, were introduced by Harold Davis. A panel of judges, headed by Col. Fred M. Dean, commanding officer, came from Webb AFB to assist in the Senior Day affair.

Registration was handled so smoothly by faculty members that by program time every visitor had been duly listed and issued his badge and barbecue ticket.

In addition to HCJC, a dozen individuals and firms had made contributions to a scholarship fund. Scholarships, loving cups and gifts will be presented to contest winners during the afternoon. Forty-three firms have contributed prizes of one kind or another.

Dr. Hunt expressed keen satisfaction with response to the Senior Day. At 11 a.m. registration showed 82 seniors from Lamesa, 150 from Big Spring, 10 from Garden City, 25 from Stanton, 27 from Coahoma, 10 from Westbrook, 13 from Ackerly, 10 from Knott, nine from Gail, 12 from Forsan, 19 from Colorado City, and four from Courtney.

A-3C John D. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George D. Martin of 411 Rummels Street, died in the Webb Air Base hospital at 1:25 p.m. Thursday of injuries received in a freak accident.

Martin's wife, Betty, and father were present when he died. Late Thursday morning, Martin parked his automobile in front of the John H. Lee's Service Club on the base. Left on a slight incline, the vehicle started rolling toward the building. In a vain attempt to prevent it from striking the building, Martin was crushed between the car and the building.

Besides his wife and parents, Martin is survived by his son, John Douglas, age six months. The body was to be forwarded to Benton, Ill., a former home, from the Eberly-River Funeral Home here. Funeral arrangements were to be made in Benton.

Senators Pass Excise Tax Cut
By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A cut of about a billion dollars yearly on a wide range of federal excise or sales taxes seemed assured today with Senate passage of a $1,034,000,000 reduction bill.

The cuts will take effect next Thursday.

The Senate approved the bill last night 76-8 after two days of lively debate filled with political overtones in a congressional election year.

It was sent to a Senate-House conference, which cannot take place before next Monday afternoon, since both branches are in recess until then.

But Sen. Millikin (R-Colo.), head of the Senate negotiators, said in an interview today he is confident the conferees will act speedily and rush the measure to President Eisenhower. The deadline for the President's signature is next Wednesday midnight.

Both branches voted identical cuts on many items, so they are certain to be in the final compromise version.

They include fur, jewelry, handbags and luggage, cosmetics, sporting goods, train-bus-plane passenger fares, telephone bills, telegraph charges, mechanical pens and pencils, lighters and electric light bulbs.

There is at present a 30 per cent excise tax on fur, jewelry, handbags, luggage, cosmetics and electric light bulbs. The tax is 15 per cent on sporting goods, passenger fares, telegraph tolls, pens, pencils and lighters.

Telephone charges under 25 cents now draw a 15 per cent tax. From a quarter up, the levy is 25 per cent.

Millikin and other Republican leaders predicted the President will sign the bill, although the administration urged against the excise cuts.

The billion-dollar loss in revenue will add that much to the $2,900,000,000 deficit already forecast for the new financial year starting July 1.

The bill also extends for a year, to April 4, 1955, a series of 1951 increases in major excises. These

Engineer Here For Parley On New Road Plan

J. C. Roberts, Abilene, district highway engineer, and Clarence Rea, Colorado City, resident engineer, conferred with county commissioners today concerning technical problems involved in the acquisition of right-of-way for the Highway 80 expressway west of Big Spring.

The officials said the extra right-of-way—a 160-foot strip along the present Highway 80—apparently will be acquired by April 1. If so, contract for construction of the freeway from Webb Air Force Base to the Martin County line can be let in May.

The State Highway Commission has appropriated $700,000 for the project.

An additional condemnation suit was filed this morning so as to meet the April 1 deadline. R. H. Weaver, county judge, reported. The condemnation proceedings were initiated against property of Laura Anderson. The county must acquire a half-mile of right-of-way there.

Agreements still must be made with Charlie Creighton, the TLK Land Company and the owners of some lots at Morita, Weaver said.

First Street Paving Work Is Ordered

City commissioners Thursday instructed City Manager H. W. Whitney to get all paper work in order for the paving of a four block segment on 1st Street between Runnels and Austin.

A deed for a 10-foot strip on the north side of the present right-of-way was ordered sent to Texas and Pacific Railway Company in Fort Worth with a request that it be signed as soon as possible.

Commissioners told Whitney to point out in the request that the city will allow the railroad company continued use of 15 feet on the south side of the street for a spur track.

Whitney was also instructed to write letters to three companies having loading docks extending into the present 1st street right-of-way. The companies will be advised to be ready to move the docks for paving.

Commissioners, at the suggestion of Whitney, decided to have a conference with Fire Chief H. V. Crocker in the near future to explore the possibilities of naming a fire marshal for the city.

LEGISLATURE TAKES BREAK
Shivers' Tax Program Clears Hurdle Of House Committee

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers' program to tax beer, business franchises, and natural gas $25,000 more per year for the benefit of teachers and state employees cleared its first big hurdle as the second week of the special session ended.

By 16-4 vote the Revenue and Taxation Committee recommended Shivers' general tax plan to the House yesterday. It sidetracked a bill which would reduce most state taxes 10 per cent.

That double-barreled action was analyzed by Rep. Joe Kilgore, McAllen, as indicating "a determination on the part of the committee to support a revenue bill to raise the amount of revenue recommended by the governor."

Kilgore is carrying the ball for the governor's tax plan. He thinks the Legislature can complete its job within the 30-day special session limit if the House sends the three-point tax bill to the Senate by next Wednesday or Thursday.

Grand Jury Calls For Better Jail Operation

Full Text Of Grand Jury's Report On Jail

Text of the Grand Jury's report:

"Hon. Charlie Sullivan, District Judge

"We, your grand jury, wish to report to you the situation of the jail break and the operation and condition of our new jail as we find it.

"Firstly, we find that the light fixtures were inadequate because the prisoners were able to remove one from the ceiling and form a tool of it for the destruction of the jail.

"Secondly, we find that the top of the cell block walls were not completed leaving a space which paroled prisoners were able to use for further destruction.

"Thirdly, we find that this particular jail was designed to lock the prisoners in the sleeping cells at night and in the day rooms in the daytime. This procedure was not followed, but twelve prisoners were permitted to move freely throughout the cell blocks with all doors between standing open. This practice permitted an angle iron to be pried from the cell door facing to be used for further destruction.

"We find the following practices are in operation and should be corrected:

"Firstly, the prisoners are permitted to keep so much personal effects in the dayrooms and cells that contraband could be easily concealed. We observed also such objects as buckets and cans of food, food in glass jars, mops, brooms, excess of books, bones, empty cans and excess of trash and paper.

"Secondly, we find a 20-year-old colored boy acting as trusty upon whom we found, along with the accompanying list of articles, four keys that control all the doors of the jail. We feel that this is a very dangerous practice and should be discontinued.

"Thirdly, we find that sanitary conditions should be improved.

"Fourthly, we find that convicted prisoners are retained in this jail for unusually long periods of time. We feel that they should be

POLIO VACCINE DRAWS PRAISE

DALLAS (AP)—Dr. Karl Friedrich Meyer, Swiss-born scientist who is director of the Hooper Foundation for Medical Research in San Francisco, has wholeheartedly endorsed the Salk vaccine for polio.

Meyer was in Dallas last night to accept the Variety Clubs International humanitarian award for his polio research.

He said the vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Edward Salk is "a very important intermediate step" in the fight against polio.

Meyer received the Variety Clubs award for what retiring Chief Barker Jack Berens of Philadelphia, Pa., called "electrifying medical discoveries which hold forth much promise for immunization of polio."

Although the Salk vaccine is important, Meyer said, the need is for "a durable immunity." "It's devilishly practical," he added, "to go back every year for an immunization shot."

Operation of the new county jail and the fact that the top of cell block walls was not completed were criticized by the Howard County Grand Jury in a report to District Judge Charlie Sullivan last night.

The Grand Jury listed four practices which it said should be corrected in operation of the jail. The written report said that prisoners are permitted to keep so many personal effects, food, etc., in the jail that "contraband could be easily concealed." It said that sanitary conditions should be improved.

The Grand Jury criticized as "very dangerous" the practice of a 20-year-old trusty being permitted to carry keys that control all the doors of the jail. It said also that convicted prisoners should be transferred to the State Prison as soon after conviction as possible.

Light fixtures in the jail were inadequate because the prisoners were able to remove one from the ceiling and form a tool for the destruction of the jail, the Grand Jury said.

"It is our opinion that the situation could be improved by the hiring of a full time jailer," the report said.

County Judge R. H. Weaver said this morning that Southern Steel Company will be asked to correct the condition at the top of cell block walls according to a plan already worked out by the company and county commissioners. Southern Steel Company designed and constructed the jail.

Weaver said also that commissioners will confer with Sheriff Jess Slaughter about employment of a full-time jailer. The judge recommended that a jailer be secured following the jailbreak last week.

The Grand Jury report, made at 7 p.m. Thursday, came at the close of a three-day investigation into the escape of five prisoners from the jail early last week and a probe of felony charges which had been filed since the January meeting of the jury.

Twenty-six indictments, naming 22 individuals, also were returned by the jury.

Judge Sullivan called the Grand Jury back into session last Tuesday, telling jurors that "a lot of things have happened since you were here" (in January) and asking that they investigate the various felony charges and check into conditions surrounding the jail break.

The Grand Jury's report was signed by the foreman, Joe Pond, and the other nine members who participated in the investigations. The others were Binia White, Raymond Liles, Cecil Leatherwood, Charles Lee Merritt, Ellis Iden, J. Y. Robb Jr., K. H. McGibbon, Ed Fisher and Grady M. Duling.

Full-Time Jailer Is Recommended

Operation of the new county jail and the fact that the top of cell block walls was not completed were criticized by the Howard County Grand Jury in a report to District Judge Charlie Sullivan last night.

The written report said that prisoners are permitted to keep so many personal effects, food, etc., in the jail that "contraband could be easily concealed." It said that sanitary conditions should be improved.

The investigation into the jail break disclosed, the report said, that the jail was designed for the locking of prisoners in the sleeping cells at night and in the day rooms in the daytime.

"This procedure was not followed, but twelve prisoners were permitted to move freely throughout the cell blocks with all doors between standing open. This practice permitted an angle iron to be pried from the cell door facing to be used for further destruction," said the Grand Jury after it pointed out that a piece of light fixture was used as a tool.

The report then listed the practices of operation it said should be corrected.

In addition to the prisoners' personal effects, the Grand Jury said it "observed such objects as buckets and cans of food, food in glass jars, mops, brooms, excess of books, boxes, empty cans and excess of trash and paper."

The Grand Jury reported finding in the possession of the trusty, a handcuff key, window crank, fountain pen, comb, matches, $1.35 in loose cash and $14 in a tobacco sack, a note saying "Jack Mince wants some tobacco," another key, and the four jail keys. It said the trusty claimed the handcuff key was found in the jail runaround.

City Budget Is Hiked, Hearing Set April 6

Tentative approval was granted the proposed 1954-55 city budget Thursday afternoon, but not before commissioners added a longevity pay scale increase for municipal employees.

Effecting the new pay scale means an increase of $5,350 to the estimated expenditures during the fiscal year, bringing the budget figure up to $1,196,456.25.

A public hearing for final approval of the budget was set by commissioners for Tuesday, April 6, at 5 p.m. The hearing will be in the commission meeting room at city hall.

The proposed budget shows $1,111,106 available for appropriation during the coming fiscal year, leaving estimated remaining balances at the end of the period of $115,108.75.

The salary adjustments will necessitate payment from the general fund, leaving that particular balance at only $6,071 at the end of the fiscal year. The estimated general fund balance was $11,331 before the change of the pay scale.

The total sum budgeted for salaries is $1,025,815. In addition to the expenditures during the year for longevity, several salary adjustments were made totaling $2,604.

The longevity pay scale varied by commissioners means an increase in an employee's pay of $1 per month for each year of service up to 25 years.

Also voted was a week's vacation for employees working on an hourly basis if they have been working less than five years. Two weeks was voted those who have been employed by the city more than five years.

Mexico Air Crash Dead Thought 18

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A Mexican airliner crashed about 15 miles north of Monterrey early today. All 18 persons aboard—15 passengers and three crewmen—were believed killed.

The passenger list included five persons with North American names. The plane, on the Torreon-Monterrey run in north central Mexico, had not been heard from since last night. It was operated by the Mexican-owned Aereo Naves Line.

The airline gave the names of the five passengers with North American names as George, Donald and James McCormick, Farmer Burton and James A. Johnson. (hometowns not given). The first four boarded the plane at the Pacific coast resort of Mazatlan. Johnson boarded it at Torreon.

The burned out wreckage was sighted from the air at daybreak in an isolated mountain area near the village of Puente de Morales. The mountains are in the Sierra de Salinas range, which lies athwart the approach to Monterrey airport.

The aerial observers said they could see no signs of life.

A bullfighter, Hecto Saycedo, was among the Mexicans listed as passengers. He boarded the plane at Nogales.

McCarthy Counsel Naming Hoped Soon

By G. MILTON KELLY
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigations subcommittee members said today they hoped to pick by tonight a special counsel for the proposed public investigation of a row involving Chairman McCarthy (R-N.Y.) and top Army officials.

Reported behind-the-scenes maneuvering to head off such a washing of linens, for which big-scale television and other coverage is planned, ran head on into opposition from a majority of the subcommittee's seven members.

Sen. Mundt (R-SD), named to preside at the televised public hearings, and three Democratic members of the group said in a separate interview the fight has gone too far to be dropped—that the bitter charges involved require a full public scrutiny to show where the truth lies.

At issue are:
1. An Army report alleging that McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn, the subcommittee's chief counsel exerted pressures on the Pentagon in efforts to get favored treatment for a drafted associate, Pvt. G. David Schine.
2. McCarthy's countercharge that Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, assistant Army counsel, used "blackmail" tactics in efforts to block the subcommittee's investigations of Reds in the Army. McCarthy said Adams considered Schine "a hostage."

McCarthy, Cohn, Stevens and Adams have all denied the charges against them.

There have been persistent reports of quiet maneuvering to test whether the resignation of Cohn and Adams, and perhaps of Stevens too—if these could be arranged—might be enough to head off the public hearings.

McCarthy, Cohn, Stevens and Adams all are among those expected to testify if the hearings are held.

It was learned through interviews the controversy was discussed by some senators in the presence of White House aides at a private luncheon yesterday in the office of Mark Trice, secretary of the Senate.

Sen. Malone (R-Nev) said he for one had discussed the case with others after McCarthy left the room, but has "no knowledge" of reports one senator suggested that resignation of Cohn and Adams might avert an investigation.

"I wouldn't think that any resignations would provide a satisfactory settlement which would make an investigation unnecessary," Mundt said.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), senior Democrat on the subcommittee, told reporters, "The resignation of any party or parties involved will not settle or resolve this controversy."

Senators Symington (D-Mo) and Jackson (D-Wash) said they agreed with McClellan that the Democratic members of the subcommittee would not acquiesce in will bring in $1,077,000,000 in added revenue. But the President had counted on this in figuring his next year's budget. Involved are automobiles and trucks, gasoline, tobacco, liquor and beer.

As the House passed the measure, it cut a variety of excises by $12 million dollars. The Senate eliminated a few House reductions, but made other big ones of its own.

The House voted reductions for admissions to horse and dog tracks and to night clubs and other cabarets, and for club dues, safety deposit boxes and pistols. The Senate rejected these. They will have to be thrashed out in conference.

The two biggest items in dispute will be a 100-million-dollar slash voted by the Senate on such household appliances as refrigerators, stoves and electric irons and a 65-million-dollar cut through wiping out of the admissions tax on movie tickets and other costing less than 60 cents. The House voted to cut the admissions levy from 20 to 10 per cent.

Some congressional sources indicated one likely compromise on this might be to eliminate the reduction on appliances but to accept the Senate provision on the lower priced tickets.

Senators Byrd (D-Va) and Williams (R-De) were a surprising amount of support in the Senate last night for a move to knock out all of the cuts in the bill except the 217 million on admissions.

They charged it was irresponsible to cut taxes heavily in the present perilous world situation and with the budget unbalanced this year and next.

Byrd argued that a highly secret Armed Services Committee briefing yesterday on the nation's defenses indicated the country may be facing heavier spending for its protection in a hydrogen-bomb, jet-plane age.

The Byrd-Williams amendment lost 54-36.

The Senate beat down by larger votes efforts of a group of Democratic senators to cut auto excises from 10 to 7 per cent, an aggregate of 275 million dollars, and to trim $80 million by cutting in half the 10 per cent levies on television and radio sets and phonographs.

The also proposed lost 63-35; the radio-TV one, 64-35.

Majority Leader Knowland (R-Calif) said he was sure the President would sign the bill and that to this extent he favored it. Sen. Saltonstall (R-Mass) said it was his understanding from White House meetings that the administration fought the cuts "just as hard as they could."

Bill Holden, Audrey Hepburn, 'Here To Eternity' Win Oscars

By JAMES BACON
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—William Holden, the movie's favorite average guy, and Audrey Hepburn, its favorite princess, won Hollywood's top acting Oscars last night.

The movie "From Here to Eternity," tying the all-time record of eight awards, was named the best picture of 1953 at the 26th annual Academy Awards presentation.

Holden, who played a semi-heel in the movie "Stalag 17," was both happy and upset about his first Oscar. He was happy, of course, for winning the top honor but said he was "very upset" for having to hurry his acceptance speech due to the television time commitments.

"They told me to say 'Thank you' and get off," he said. "I wanted to give credit to Billy Wilder (the director of 'Stalag 17') for having so much faith in me. I think they could have held off the cheering commercial just a little longer so that everyone could know how much Wilder was responsible."

Holden, a youthful 36, said he "was pretty leery" before the presentation of the award.

"I thought Burt Lancaster would get it."

He admitted that his role in

WILLIAM HOLDEN

"Stalag" was one that he wasn't particularly thrilled with during the making of the picture.

"But I see the light now. In fact, I'm holding it," he said, raising his golden Oscar.

Miss Hepburn, in stage makeup for her Broadway role of a water nymph in the play "Ondine," received her award in the New York portion of the show. Her first movie starring role was that of a princess on the loose in "Roman Holiday."

Visibly touched, the 24-year-old ex-ballerina said, "I am truly, truly grateful." She said it like she really meant it.

"It's too much," she said. "It's like being given something to wear that you have to grow into. Something to work toward."

Someone asked: What next?

"I still have the same goal," the excited actress replied, smiling. "Yes, to be a really good one."

The sex and violence-filled "Eternity," a story of the pre-Pearl Harbor regular Army, captured awards for sound recording, film editing, cinematography, screenplay, direction and supporting actress and supporting actor in addition to best picture. The eight Oscars tied the former record held by "Gone With the Wind."

Donna Reed, as the prostitute of the James Jones best seller, (changed to a painted hostess in the movie), won her first Oscar in the supporting category. The role was a drastic change from the goodie-goodie roles which the Denison, Iowa, native played for years in the movies. When her name was called, she ran all the way and her first words into the microphone were: "It was a long walk. I didn't know if I was going to make it."

Frank Sinatra, wartime crooning idol of the nation's bobby-soxers, climaxed a thrilling career comeback in winning an Oscar for the best supporting role.

One year ago the spindly crooner was considered washed up in Hollywood. He did not sing in "Eternity" but he disclosed that he would have been more than willing to sing on last night's show.

"But no one asked me," he said. The Oscar for the best song went to "Secret Love," sung by Doris Day in "Calamity Jane" and by Ann Blyth on last night's show.

Fred Zinnemann, the director of "Eternity," won the top direction Oscar. He was the favorite by a close margin over George Stevens of "Shane." Stevens, however, walked off with the coveted Irving Thalberg Award for distinguished production.

The night started out like a testimonial banquet for Walt Disney. His cartoons and documentary films won four of the first six awards. They brought his total number of Oscars to 22, housed in a special anteroom at his office.

Millions watched and listened to the nationally broadcast awards show, which went off without a hitch. The show, with the accent on entertainment, was the best in years.

DISAPPOINTMENT TO U. S.

French Put Off Action Toward Creating EDC

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has suffered a new disappointment in its hopes for early French action to create a European Defense Community as the capstone of Western defenses in Europe.

French parliamentary debate will begin at least a month later than American officials had expected following the conclusion of the Berlin Big Four conference last month. It will not get under way until after the April 26 opening of the Geneva conference on Asian problems—a fact which may cost far more time in the long run.

Changes in the Bonn constitution were approved after a week of wrangling in which initial French opposition was overcome. The Big Three high commissioners approved constitutional changes to permit West Germany to raise a 500,000-man army, while barring actual conscription until EDC is ratified by all six nations.

So far, only The Netherlands and Belgium have completed ratification.

The West German parliament has also approved ratification, but signature was withheld by President Theodor Heuss pending required approval of the constitutional changes by the occupying powers.

One facet about the continuing delays on EDC which is particularly worrisome to Washington officials is that in foreign aid appropriations bill to include funds for European arms aid goes to Congress early next month. Unless there is clear evidence of progress on EDC, officials fear that many congressmen will balk at voting any substantial additional sums.

Diplomats who think that Russia's primary motive in setting up the Geneva meeting was to stall off EDC believe that the Soviets will do all they can to stretch out the Geneva talks as a means of prolonging French hopes for an Indochina settlement.

American Nuclear Weaponners Plan To Go Ahead With Tests

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Editor

WASHINGTON (U)—American nuclear weaponners, whose predictions about the runaway H-bomb fired at Bikini missed the mark by millions of tons of force, propose to go ahead with their schedule for more and mightier blasts this spring.

For those tests of the spring series which are thermonuclear, or involving hydrogen bombs, they will rely on two things:

1. An enlarged danger area and improved warning system.
2. A better estimate of the force to be unleashed in subsequent H-bomb tests.

On the basis of comparisons made by atomic authorities in Congress, the March 1 thermonuclear explosion appears to have been upwards of 14 megatons—energy equivalent to that produced in the explosion of 14 million tons of TNT. (The old atomic bomb dropped on Hiroshima had an energy release of 20,000 tons, or 20 kilotons.)

Using information gained from the first, exploratory test of a hydrogen device in the fall of 1952 and adding to it new and intricate computations from laboratory studies, the weaponners made an initial forecast for the March 1 weapon which was substantially less than half the force eventually attained. This first estimate was revised upward before the test shot, it is understood. But even the revised estimate fell several million tons below the power scientists now believe was loosed in the explosion.

President Eisenhower, in an understatement, said Wednesday something must have happened that we never experienced before, and must have surprised and astonished the scientists.

What happened? Probably not even the nuclear scientists who devised the weapon and supervised its tests know many of the answers yet nor will they until careful analysis of such recordings as could be made of the explosion are worked out on robot computing machines. A multitude of data, including such things as study of the intensity and coloration of light in the explosion as measured against millisecond timing, must be scrutinized.

Then, too, it seems probable that the scientists will take another look at the fusible material used in the weapon and its triggering de-

Bill Barnard Named Dallas AP Manager

DALLAS (U)—William C. Barnard, veteran Associated Press reporter and editor, has been appointed chief of the AP Bureau at Dallas, with responsibility for operations in Texas.

Frank J. Starzel, general manager of the Associated Press, in announcing the appointment said Barnard's work in Tokyo and Korea led to his new assignment.

Frank H. King, AP General Executive for the Southern United States, and the Dallas bureau staff yesterday welcomed Barnard back to his native state.

Barnard was one of Texas' best-known newspapermen when he went to Far East in 1950 to report the Korean War for the AP. His stories as he followed the 8th Army in its retreat from Seoul in January, 1951, and with the 2nd Division in its stand against the Chinese and North Korean assaults at Wonju won him high acclaim.

Born in Corpus Christi, Barnard attended Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville. He was a reporter on the Corpus Christi Caller-Times and San Antonio Express before joining the Associated Press in 1942. When he transferred to the Far East AP staff, Barnard was state editor of the Texas Bureau.

An acid bomb tossed by rioting Tokyo Communists slightly injured Barnard while he was covering the disorders on Memorial Day, 1952.

Mexico Might Take Anti-Red Prisoners

MEXICO CITY (U)—Mexican Foreign Office sources have said there is no apparent reason why the country should not accept some or all of the Korean prisoners of war who may be sent to neutral countries.

United Nations officials have asked Mexico, and other neutrals, if they would be willing to receive the war prisoners. The note is under study here.

The foreign office sources said the chief matter under study is the political ideology of the prisoners offered.

NLRB Prober Urges Setting Dock Vote Aside

WASHINGTON (U)—A National Labor Relations Board examiner today recommended setting aside the bargaining rights election apparently won by the International Longshoremen's Assn. on the New York waterfront. He did so on the grounds that the independent union was responsible for voting day violence and intimidation.

The apparent loser in the election was the AFL-ILA, set up by the American Federation of Labor after the federation had thrown out the old union on a charge that it had failed to rid itself of gangster elements.

The union war growing out of the rivalry has lain in the background of a three-week port tie-up which has cost New York millions of dollars in shipping business.

A Taft-Hartley law injunction has been obtained by the federal government against the walkout by the old union, and contempt action against that union, eight of its locals and three local officials is pending in New York federal court.

The stoppage began as a purported "wildcat" action among the workers themselves in protest against the fact that the T-H injunction named only their union and did not take in the AFL-ILA. Top officials of the organization only this week gave their authorization to the walkout.

In the Dec. 22-23 election itself, the point of today's ruling by the NLRB examiner, the old ILA won over the AFL-ILA by 1,492 of the votes counted. More than 4,000 of the votes were challenged by the new union however, and that challenge was a main basis of the NLRB reconsideration.

NEW YORK (U)—The shipping industry has sought to get longshoremen back to work on the strike-crippled waterfront here by offering them a package increase of 10 cents an hour and about $1,720,000 in retroactive pay and welfare benefits.

The bid received a cool reception from both the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (ILA) and the rival AFL-ILA, many of whose members are working.

The employers gave the longshoremen until next Wednesday to accept the offer.

The strike—now in its 22nd day—took a graver turn late yesterday when ILA officials instructed the 4,000 Port of New York tugboat crewmen, who are ILA members, to respect picket lines of the union's pier strikers.

A tugboat tieup would make the docking and sailing of liners and freighters hazardous. Union leaders, however, indicated there would be no interference with harbor barges and tankers carrying fuel, food and other commodities vital to the metropolitan area.

Workers in other North Atlantic ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va., failed yesterday to strike in sympathy, as had been expected by ILA leaders here. Scores of incoming ships have been diverted from New York to other ports.

Parks Is Re-Elected Head Of TB Chapter

Wendal Parks was re-elected president of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association at the organization's annual meeting Thursday night.

Other officers who will serve during the coming year are George McLean, first vice president; Mrs. Dorothy Davis, second vice president; Mrs. C. E. Thomas Jr., recording secretary; Mrs. Joyce Harmon, treasurer; and Mrs. Wayland Yates, executive secretary.

Directors, in addition to the officers are Mrs. Moree Sawtelle, Wayland Yates, Mrs. L. I. Stewart, Lois O'Barr Smith, Ed Carpenter, Bryce Wigninton, Dr. J. M. Woodall, Mrs. Shirley Fryar, Mrs. Everett Lomax, Vic Alexander, Jewell Barton, Mrs. Ahon Underwood, Jack Cook, Truett Johnson, Mrs. Louise Horton, H. L. Miller, Cula Grishby, Mrs. W. A. Hunt and Mary Cantrell.

Dr. H. M. Anderson of San Angelo, a specialist in chest diseases who spoke briefly at the session in the RCJC auditorium, cited progress that has been made in the fight against tuberculosis.

"In 1900 tuberculosis was the top killer in the United States, but in 1951 it ranked sixth," he reported.

However, he said that much remains to be done, since 30,000 people died of tuberculosis in the United States last year. He emphasized the program of education which is carried on by the tuberculosis association.

"The best treatment and medicines are of no avail unless they are administered to the people who have contracted the disease," he reminded.

Mrs. Elsie Gayer, executive secretary of the San Angelo Tuberculosis Association, urged the local chapter to take an interest in the state tuberculosis hospitals and help work for improvements to the system.

Committee reports showed $2,422.75 received from Christmas Seal sales and $94 from bond sales; 5,115 chest X-rays given and 5,209 patch tests in the schools; eight tuberculosis patients under treatment at the city-county health unit, all of them waiting for admission to the McKnight Sanatorium near San Angelo; and disbursements totaling $2,268.98 for the program of work during the past year.

Parks said that committee assignments and a program of work for the coming year would be announced at the April meeting.

The Big Spring High School chorus, under direction of Harry Lee Plumbly, presented several numbers prior to the business session Thursday night.

Legally Dead Father, Girls Are Reunited

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (U)—Leonard Dickman, 74, was reunited last night with four daughters who had feared he died 24 years ago.

They learned he actually had left them and their mother in Cincinnati because he didn't want to be a burden on them.

He had suffered a nervous breakdown as a result of a rheumatic condition, he said.

Dickman, now an invalid, complained he has been living on an old-age pension in one room in a St. Louis tenement district.

Although several years have passed since he was declared legally dead and his insurance collected by his wife, one of his daughters found him Monday and arranged for last night's reunion.

It took place at the home of Mrs. Dolores Simmons, Mrs. Etta Charbonneau and Mrs. Ruth Ann Hornback, two other daughters, also live here. Mrs. Blanche McCoy, the other daughter, still lives in Cincinnati.

Dickman told the daughters he had made two trips to Cincinnati trying to find them. He learned on the last visit, he said, that he had been declared legally dead and that his wife, now dead, had remarried.

Not only did he find four daughters last night, but seven grandchildren and one great-grandchild. "I just can't get over it," he said.

Evacuation And Guided Missiles Are A-Defenses

WASHINGTON (U)—Informed senators said today that rapid mass evacuation of cities and improved aircraft killer missiles are key points in supersecret plans for defense against possible enemy atomic attacks.

Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass.) called members of the Senate Armed Services Committee back into closed-door session today for any questions about the latest plans for continental defense.

With extreme caution, he announced that top-secret details of the defenses had been outlined yesterday at a lengthy closed session by Robert C. Sprague, North Adams, Mass., engineer and electronics manufacturer.

His public statement said the senators got a picture of an "effective" defense which, however, could not guarantee "complete protection."

Other senators who listened to Sprague said rapid evacuation of urban and industrial populations was one of the protective measures advanced.

Another, they said, was expansion of the Nike installations now ringing 10 locations to about 30 or 35. Nikes are high-speed guided missiles designed to search out and destroy enemy aircraft.

Locations for Nike emplacements made public through approval of sites by congressional committees include Seattle, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Detroit, New York, Los Angeles, Boston, Chicago, Norfolk, Va., and Ft. Meade, Md., to protect both Washington and Baltimore.

Launched from a platform and able to travel 1,500 miles an hour—far faster than sound—the missiles are controlled by automatic electronic devices to seek out their targets.

Jesus Strengthens His Disciples

WHEN HE HAS GONE THE COMFORTER
WILL COME TO THEM

Scripture—John 16:16

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
IT IS PROBABLE that many of us, on hearing of a man condemned to death for a crime, have wondered what such a person thinks about during the last days of his life on earth. Does he repent his evil deed and pray that God will pardon him? Does he live in terror of death, spending his last moments eagerly hoping for a reprieve or pardon?

We cannot know. Our lesson today tells us how Jesus Christ thought and talked when He knew that on the morrow He would suffer a terrible, painful death although He had done no wrong, but had lived to bring joy, healing and faith to the world. His thoughts were with those He left behind, and His words were such as to comfort and strengthen them for whatever they faced in the coming years when they were carrying on His work.

His words were uttered by the Lord immediately following the Last Supper, when He and His

"To are My friends," Jesus told His disciples. Each one of us has a friend—at least one, we hope. Ralph Waldo Emerson said, "The only way to have a friend is to be one."

We cannot be a friend such as Jesus was to His disciples and to us, but we can try to be, even to the point of laying down our life, if necessary, for a true friend, as the Lord did for His world and for ours.

This world too, opposes Jesus and His teaching as did His, and persecutes His followers in many countries. Christ warned His disciples that they, too, would be persecuted.

"If the world hate you, ye know that it hated Me before it hated you. If ye were of the world, the world would love you; but because ye are not of the world, therefore the world hateth you."

"They shall put you out of the synagogues; yea, the time cometh that whosoever killeth you will think that he doeth God service."

And now I go My way to Him that sent Me; and none of you asketh Me. Whither goest Thou? but because I have said these things unto you, sorrow hath filled your heart. Nevertheless I tell you the truth: It is expedient for you that I go away; for if I go not away, the Comforter will not come unto you; but if I depart, I will send Him unto you.

"When he, the Spirit of truth, is come, he will guide you into all truth."

"A little while, and ye shall not see Me; and again, a little while, and ye shall see Me, because I go to My Father."

The disciples were puzzled by these words and asked each other what Christ meant. Jesus read their thoughts and answered them: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, that the world shall rejoice; and ye shall be sorrowful, but your sorrow shall be turned into joy."

At the last, Jesus said: "I came forth from the Father, and am come into the world; again, I leave the world and go to the Father." The disciples said, "Now speakest Thou plainly and speakest no proverb." Jesus asked, "Do ye now believe?"

"Behold, the hour cometh, yea, is now come, that ye shall be scattered, every man to his own, and shall leave Me alone; and yet I am not alone, because the Father is with Me."

"These things I have spoken unto you, that in Me ye might have peace. In the world ye shall have tribulation; but be of good cheer; I have overcome the world."

MEMORY VERSE
"When he, the Spirit of truth is come, he will guide you into all truth."—John 16:13.

disciples were on their way to the Garden of Gethsemane, on the lower slopes of the Mount of Olives.

"I am the true vine, and My Father is the husbandman. Abide in Me, and I in you. As the branch cannot bear fruit of itself, except it abide in the vine; no more can ye, except ye abide in Me. I am the vine, ye are the branches: he that abideth in Me and I in him, the same bringeth forth much fruit; for without Me ye can do nothing."

This could be illustrated to the children by a drawing of a great vine, with its many branches. The branches that are separated from the vine wither and die. If they remain attached to the trunk, they bear leaves, then blossoms and, finally, fruit.

Attached to Christ we can do much; but if we allow ourselves to be cut off from the Savior, we can do nothing.

"This is My Commandment, that ye love one another, as I have loved you. Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are My friends, if ye do whatsoever I command you. Henceforth I call you not servants; for the servant knoweth not what his lord doeth; for all things that I have heard of My Father I have made known unto you."

"Ye have not chosen Me, but I have chosen you, and ordained you, that ye should go and bring forth fruit, and that your fruit should remain; that whatsoever ye shall ask of the Father in My name, He may give it unto you. These things I have spoken unto you, that ye love one another."

Almost Persuaded

A Gospel Singer Waits for a Train

One Sunday in the early 1870's a lone man stepped from a train in a small Eastern town. His name was Philip Bliss. After twenty years of impoverishment and heart-breaking work, he had risen to the front ranks of America's gospel singers and hymn composers.

Deeply religious, Bliss never missed an opportunity to attend church. He also had very practical reasons for his interest in sermons. It was from the pulpit that he drew ideas for most of his hymns. Dwight L. Moody had told the story of a shipwreck and Bliss had written "Let the Lower Lights Be Burning." He had heard Evangelist D. W. Whittle tell of a battle during the Civil War and he came up with his hymn, "Hold the Fort."

Waiting for his connecting train to Chicago, the composer slipped into a church. The preacher was reading from the Acts of the Apostles. . . . Then Agrippa said to Paul, Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian. During his sermon the Rev. Brundage stated, . . . "to be almost saved is to be entirely lost," and Philip Bliss had the theme for one of his greatest hymns.

A music teacher with an income of thirteen dollars a month at 26, Philip Bliss was earning a fortune from his hymn books at 38—and giving the fortune to charity. On December 29, 1876, he and his wife were riding a Chicago-bound express through Ohio. Near the town of Ashland the train crashed through a trestle and burned. The composer and his wife perished with a hundred other passengers. He would have been 33.

"Almost persuaded," now to believe
"Almost persuaded," Christ to receive,
Seems now some soul to say,
"Go, Spirit, go Thy way,
Some more convenient day,
On Thee I'll call."

"Almost persuaded," come, come today;
"Almost persuaded," turn not away;
Jesus invites you here,
Angels are hovering near,
Prayers rise from hearts so dear,
O . . . wondrous, come.

"Almost persuaded," harvest is past!
"Almost persuaded," doom comes at last!
"Almost" cannot avail;
"Almost" is but to fall;
Sad, sad, that bitter wait,
"Almost," but lost.

Accused Major's Spending Revealed
TOKYO (U)—The Far East Air Forces today said Maj. Thomas Pate, Los Angeles, spent more than $100,000 of "misused" military money for an apartment house, a poultry business, U.S. bonds, a Japanese house and a new Cadillac.

Pate, former finance officer at Tachikawa air base southwest of here, is held under house arrest at nearby Yokota air base pending charges. His wife and two small daughters, 3 and 7, are with him.

The Air Force announced Wednesday that Pate had admitted taking about $200,000 in worn-out military scrip marked for destruction but was cooperating with authorities in trying to recover the money.

DENVER (U)—Delegates to the University of Colorado Medical Center's postgraduate course were expressions of anticipation.

The speaker, Dr. Charles U. LeTourneau of Chicago, praised a medicinal ingredient called "TLC" as a valuable discovery in treatment of the skin.

"A new drug" a delegate finally asked.

"No," replied the doctor. "Just tender, loving care."

Reds Declare East Germany 'Sovereign,' To Retain Army

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

BERLIN (U)—Communist propaganda drums beat their loudest today to announce the Soviet Union had raised East Germany to the status of a fully sovereign state. The West promptly branded the Russian move a sham.

The Russians announced last night they hereafter would assume the same relations with the Communist East German government as "with other sovereign states," but would continue to keep their occupation army in the East zone to "safeguard security."

Western observers saw this as the latest in a long series of Soviet maneuvers to force official Western recognition of the East zone satellite—a campaign continually rejected by the Western Allies and the West German government on the grounds the Eastern regime does not represent the people.

But the U.S. State Department in Washington recalled the widespread worker revolts last June in East Germany and declared the "entire puppet regime would collapse under the weight of hatred and hostility of the populace" if Soviet troops were withdrawn. West Germany's Acting Chancellor Franz Blumberg, heading the Bonn government while Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is state-visiting in Turkey, reacted similarly. He termed the announcement "just a phase of the propaganda battle of the East against the West" and said it "will not change the enslavement of the East German population."

Poison Pistol Trick Fails In Death Try

HOLLISTER, Calif. (U)—A trucker tried to kill his estranged wife by squirting poison into her mouth with a water pistol yesterday and then took his own life by drinking some of the same poison, the sheriff's office reported.

Sheriff John Luchetti said the trucker, Charles Patterson, 56, of Gilroy had arranged a meeting with his estranged wife Rose, 42, and that when a reconciliation attempt failed, he shot the liquid into her mouth with a water pistol.

Mrs. Patterson spat out most of it and rushed for town to be treated for burns. Deputies found Patterson dead beside his automobile.

Long-Time Instructor Retires To Be Pupil

MARYVILLE, Mo. (U)—Arthur J. Caulfield retired in 1931 after teaching school for 61 years.

Now he's back in college—as a student.

Caulfield, who is 81 and has a master of arts degree, said: "I knew that I would deteriorate unless I put my mind to work."

He's attending Northwest Missouri State College, where he taught 37 years—and he's not taking any easy courses.

"What disturbs me most," he said, "is to miss some question which I have asked my own students time and again."

Farmer Fatally Hurt

PARIS, Tex. (U)—A 60-year-old Paris farmer, Diaz Coleman, was fatally wounded yesterday when a shotgun discharged as he was taking it out of his automobile.

Fish Feed On Hat In 'Cress Delahanty'

"You do not have to wipe the noses of your dreams," wrote 12-year-old Cress Delahanty in a poem during the stage of her life when she thought that someday "he" would come.

Cress was brought to life Thursday in a review of the book, "Cress Delahanty" given by Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan for the Thursday Review Club.

Citing the most hilarious parts of the best-seller by Jessamyn West, Mrs. Sullivan kept her audience laughing most of the time.

There was the incident of Edwin, the Kibler's also adolescent son, a number of whose teeth Cress was responsible for knocking out while defending him in a school game.

When the Kiblers called on the Delahantys to extract an apology from Cress and a dentist's bill from her parents, Cress makes an entrance, offering not only an apology but $12.73 "I've been saving for a bicycle."

For a while it looks as if Edwin is the "he" in Cress' young life especially when the "hat" episode comes up.

"Father, I think you probably have instinctive taste," Cress said when she had found a hat she wanted in town. Edwin would see her in a new light if she wore that hat.

The hat, according to Cress' mother was a dead ringer for the table decorations at a Chamber of Commerce banquet — horn of plenty spilling every grain, fruit and flower in Orange County. "An indescribable color" meant a violent flamingo red.

Wearing the hat, Cress felt just as she knew she would. She was at the beach with her parents and she was strolling on the boardwalk wearing the hat and hoping Edwin would appear. He did. A mad dog could have bitten her and she would not have died. She took the hat off to comb her hair and

Area Girl Scouts To Have Pool By June 1

Girl Scouts of this area will have a big swimming pool to splash in some June 1.

Board of directors of the West Texas Girl Scout council have announced approval of plans for a pool at Booths Oaks.

Kasch & Sons of Big Spring will begin construction this month, Larson Lloyd, Big Spring, member of the camp development committee, reported.

Funds from the Girl Scout cookie sale over the council will finance the construction. The sale completed on March 20 cleared an estimated $7,700, said Rigdon Edmond, council president. Girls in 13 counties took part in this venture.

The pool, explained Lloyd, will be 35x70 feet with 20 feet of length at three-foot depth, another 20 graduated to five feet, and maximum depth of nine feet at the diving board end. Surrounding the pool will be a six foot promenade. There will be a tile strip at the water line, and latest chlorination and filtration equipment will be employed.

Location of this structure will be across the draw from the mess hall. It is within 100 yards of two water supply lines to Sweetwater, a 24-inch and a 12-inch artery. The pool will be enclosed in a cyclone fence.

Kiwanis clubs of the area have raised money for fencing the entire 40-acre tract given by Mr. and Mrs. Walter Booths of Sweetwater for the camp. The girls have camping rights to another 480. The clubs also will construct a nice entrance to the camp.

Medical associations in the council area are underwriting the construction of an infirmary for the camp.

Midland Women To Open Club Next Week

MIDLAND (Sp.) — Formal opening for the Midland Women's Club's new clubhouse will be on March 29 from 7 to 10 p.m. and all club women and their husbands and other interested persons of Big Spring are invited to be present.

The clubhouse is located across from the Ranchland Hills Country Club in Hogan Park in North Midland.

Lemon Chiffon Pie About To Be Sliced

Mrs. Sue Newman, right, Howard County Home Demonstration Agent, looks on admiringly (and probably hungrily) as Frances Reasonover gets ready to slice the lemon chiffon pie she whipped up today during the Foods and Nutrition school held here for District 2 HD agents. Miss Reasonover is a foods and nutrition specialist from Texas A&M.

Food Expert Stresses Nonfat Milk Solids

Two mouth-watering, but low calorie, desserts were featured of the day during the Foods and Nutrition school concluded here today by Frances Reasonover, Texas A&M Foods Specialist.

To achieve the low calorie content Miss Reasonover used nonfat dry milk solids in a lemon chiffon pie and a Spanish cream dessert. The recipes are as follows:

LEMON CHIFFON PIE

Ingredients:

- 1 1/2 teaspoons gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold water
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1-3 cup lemon juice
- 1 egg slightly beaten
- 1 teaspoon lemon rind
- 1/4 cup nonfat dry milk solids

SPANISH CREAM

Ingredients:

- 1 tablespoon gelatin
- 1/4 cup cold milk or water
- 3 eggs separated
- 1-3 cup sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups scalded milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Method:

Add gelatin to cold milk and let soften. Add sugar, salt and softened gelatin to scalded milk in top of double boiler and stir until dissolved. Beat egg yolks slightly. Add hot milk mixture to egg yolks slowly, stirring constantly. Return to top of double boiler and cook over hot water until slightly thickened. Cool. When mixture begins to thicken, add vanilla and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into one large mold or into individual molds and chill until firm. Serve with chocolate sauce or fresh, frozen or canned fruits.

Other demonstrations by Miss Reasonover included apple crumble, whipped topping, orange hard sauce, frozen desserts and pack and carry lunches.

Twenty-one home demonstration agents from District 2 attended, including Mrs. Sue Newman, Howard County agent.

Girl Scouts Plan Court Of Honor

Plans were made for a Girl Scout Court of Honor, Wednesday, when 15 members, representing 8 troops, met in the Girl Scout Little House. The date and time will be announced later.

A box supper will be held preceding the court. Boxes will not be auctioned, but they will be displayed before the supper. Troop leaders may show any troop work at this time.

LMS Sews For Missions

Sewing for missionary needs was the occupation of the morning when the LMS of the First Church of God met for an all-day session in the home of Mrs. J. D. Jenkins.

Mrs. Jenkins supervised the sewing, and lunch was served by Mrs. John Black and Mrs. Rex Caudle. The afternoon meeting was opened with a prayer by Mrs. A. L. Holley.

This was followed by a memory course, directed by Mrs. Ethel Hickson, in which members repeated Scripture verses. From the book, "Wherever the Sun," Mrs. Jenkins gave a review of the chapter, "Christ, the Answer."

The next meeting will be an evening installation service for the new officers and will be held in the home of Mrs. Truett Thomas. Ten members were present.

Directors are: Mrs. Claude Miller, Mrs. J. W. Johnson, and Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan. The club held a sing-song, followed by the repetition of the Club Collect.

Mrs. Johnson gave the opening prayer. The report on a recent board meeting was given by Mrs. S. M. Winham. A duet, "Sweet and Low," was sung by Mrs. Sullivan and Mrs. Ruby Billings, with Mrs. Griese at the piano.

Keys, representing the qualities of an Altrusan, were presented to each of the following in an initiation ritual: Mrs. Bob Utley, Mrs. Norman Reed, Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, Mrs. Milton Knowles and Mrs. E. L. LeFevre. Corns were pinned on the five after the ceremony.

New Methods Make Sewing Drapes Easy

AP Wirephotos Without

Afrail to tackle a home drapery project?

Think nothing of it. New methods make the sewing task a breeze and one devised by Martha Beha, stylist for a fabric house (Waverly) seems simpler than that.

Miss Beha believes that armed with a few quick know-hows, any smart homemaker can turn out professional looking draperies quickly and inexpensively on her home sewing machine. What's more the wrong side, are easy to remember. Here's how:

1. If more than one width of drapery fabric is used, seam widths together. (Cut each strip the same, laying them on top of each other so that pattern repeat will appear in the same place on each strip.)
2. Turn a 3 inch double hem at bottom and stitch by hand or machine.
3. Sew a 3 inch washable crinoline to top edge of drapery fabric on the wrong side, extending the crinoline upwards. Turn back crinoline so that raw edge is concealed and stitch at either edge.
4. Pleat as per following directions. The pleating should hold the crinoline in place and eliminate an unattractive stitching line. (Method only works on 36 inch fabric.)
1. Measure 5 in. from outside edge and pin in a 2 in. box for the pleat. Repeat on both sides of the panel.
2. Divide remaining fabric in half, measure back 3 1/2 in. on each side of center. This is the center of the pleat box for the two remaining pleats.
3. Stitch pleats the width of the crinoline, fold each pleat into three equal parts and tack at the bottom.

Play Snyder Again Today

The Big Spring Steers (above) seek their second straight win over Snyder in a practice baseball tilt at Steer Park today. The game starts at 4 p.m. Big Spring won in a game played earlier this week, 13-5. Left to right, standing, they are Lloyd Hampton, David Westfall, Don Reynolds, Johnny Hickson, Eugene Paul, Brick Johnson, Joe Liberty, Calvin Daniels, Frosty Robinson, Edwin Fabian, Charles

ODESSA HERE SATURDAY

Jayhawk Hill Corps Not In Top Shape

The Howard County Junior College Jayhawks are coming up to their Saturday double-header with Odessa JC here with the pitching staff in bad shape. Coach Harold Davis announced this morning that Tommy Randolph and Jim Knotts, his top hurlers, would have to be used sparingly due to injuries.

That means most of the mound work may fall to Charles Rose and Oakie Hagood.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Gene Wolf, who toiled on the mound for Carlbad of the Longhorn League last year, has had his contract purchased by Yakima of the Western International League.

Florida is a real bee-hive of baseball activity this spring. In addition to the major and minor league clubs training in the state, 25 Class A and B teams are already undergoing or will shortly begin workouts there.

Harold V. Ratliff of the Associated Press says there are 18 more schools playing baseball in the Texas Intercollegiate League than in 1953. The number should be amended. Lamesa first planned to field a team, then decided against it. Two schools in the Lamesa area—Dawson and Klondike—have baseball teams, however.

This week's edition of The Sporting News says a plan for the sale of baseball tickets is being tried in Norfolk and Binghampton which could revolutionize the gate problems in the lower minors.

The baseball periodical says the season duceats are selling for $10 each. If enough of the tickets were sold, it would enable many a team to finish in the black.

Rev. Gage Lloyd of Our Town has suggested to Pepper Martin that the sale of score cards at Steer Park would pick up this summer if Martin got the names and numbers of each player and include them in the booklet.

Martin, always open to ideas, says he'll probably give the suggestion a try. No effort has been made here in the past to enlighten the fans as to which player might be playing.

The management has taken it for granted that the fans know most of the participants, which is rarely the case.

A team can finish in fourth place in the Hickory League this year and be in the cellar.

Last year, the circuit opened with ten teams. Six of those teams threw in the towel before the campaign had ended, however.

Doc Weaver, the trainer of the St. Louis Cardinals, says that the speed with which Ted Williams' broken collar bone mends depends upon the calcium in his system.

The Midland baseball club has given Scooter Hughes a job, selling space on the Indian score card. He obviously will work on a commission. Hughes balked at first, when told he was going to have to play ball for less money than he got last year.

Billie Clyburn's high school girls' tennis team has more than held its own in competition with other schools this year.

The Steerettes are due to be better next year. All the girls now playing will be eligible again.

Scholtz-Andrews Skirmish To Be Televised In Color

NEW YORK (AP)—The middleweight bout tonight between Germany's Gustav (Bub) Scholtz and Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., will be the first sports event ever telecast in color over a network.

But that won't affect reception as usual on your black-and-white set. The Madison Square Garden bout will be carried nationally by NBC. It will also be broadcast by ABC.

It starts at 10 p.m., EST. The unbeaten 23-year-old German middleweight, making his U.S. debut, is a 3½-1 favorite.

The odds are surprisingly big on a fighter who is making his first appearance, even though his record shows 49 wins, no losses, 3 draws and 28 knockouts. He has won 9 in a row, 8 by kayo.

In his gym workouts, the 5-6½, 150-pound Scholtz indicated he knew his way around a ring. The southpaw is a fast puncher, shifty, and hits hard with his right as well as with his left.

Andrews, 33, making his Garden debut, doesn't figure to be a soft touch. He won 12 of his last 13 fights. He has a 20-5-1 record with 3 KOs.

He also punches fast and has plenty of experience fighting left-

Snyder Triumphs Over Rotan, 5-3

SNYDER (SC) — Snyder's Tigers won their first baseball decision in two starts by downing Rotan, 5-3, here Thursday afternoon. Paul Hayes hurled for Speedy Moffett's schoolboys.

The Bengals scored four of their runs in the first three innings.

Lamesa Clinches Tie For Crown

LAMESA (SC) — The Lamesa High School girls' volleyball team clinched a tie for first place in Midland, 28-23, here Thursday evening.

The Tornado Queens have only to defeat Big Spring in Big Spring a week from tonight to clinch their second straight conference crown.

Butler May Go In Game Today

Sidney Butler will probably get the starting mound assignment when the Big Spring Steers take the field against Snyder in the first home baseball game for the local team here this afternoon. Starting time is 4 p.m.

The Longhorns humbled the Tigers, 13-5, earlier this week in Snyder.

This is the second of four exhibition games the Steers will play with Snyder. The two teams will meet again next Tuesday here and on April 6 in Snyder.

Baird sent his team through a long scrimmage Thursday against the HJC Jayhawks and the Steers looked fairly potent with the bat.

In such boys as Tommy McAdams, Jimmy Hollis, Robert Broughton and Ronnie Wooten, the Steers have some of the best swat-smiths in this area.

Butler probably will not go the route today. Coach Roy Baird will call upon Garland Harrison, Frosty Robinson, Frank Long and Charley Saunders.

District Junior Meet Is Carded

GARDEN CITY — The annual district junior track and field meet will be conducted here Saturday, starting at 9 a.m.

Participating schools will be Stanton, Knott, Sterling City, Fortson, Coahoma and Garden City. Students of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades are eligible to compete.

In addition, there will be five games of girls' volleyball in the morning and four of boys' volleyball in the afternoon.

The Garden City Sophomore class will operate a concessions stand during the meet.

A&M Linksters Suffer Defeat

HOUSTON (AP)—The University of Houston golf team held a 6-0 victory today over the Texas A&M College linksters.

Bobby Moncrief fired a four-under-par 68 at Pine Forest Country Club here yesterday to lead the Cougars to the win.

Aggie freshmen golfers, however, defeated Cougar first-year men 4-2.

Ozona Meet Saturday

OZONA (AP)—A dozen schools will compete in the Ozona Invitation Track Meet Saturday with Junction and Sonora favored to fight it out for the title. Other schools in the meet are Eldorado, McCamey, Menard, Iraan, Big Lake, Llano, Eden, Rankin, Melvin and Ozona.

Trainer Fumes But Gavilan Enjoys Self

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—Ah, for the life of a world champion.

Welterweight king Kid Gavilan, his leathery face creased in smiles, arrived in Chicago last night to begin his final week of drills before trying to dislodge Carl (Bobo) Olson's middleweight crown in Chicago Stadium next Friday.

Gavilan was bundled in a heavy overcoat as he stepped from a New York plane into blasts of cold wind. Reporters whisked him away to a nearby cafe and there the fun began.

Gavilan is one of the few sports big shots who is agreeable for anything. He'll pose for a picture standing on his head and wiggling his toes if asked.

In the cafe, he wandered back to the kitchen and donned a chef's white headpiece and coat. Then he pretended he was carving up a big roast from the oven. Meanwhile, waitresses and kitchen help grouped around him, handing him dollar bills to autograph.

"These people—what won't they think of next for Gavilan," fumed Mundito Medina, the champion's cagey little trainer and a character in his own right.

Medina looked around the kitchen. "Look at Gavilan. They could give him a blank check to autograph and he wouldn't know the difference. Here he is in all this heat signing stuff and posing for pictures. He should be in bed resting."

While all this was going on, the confusion was completed by loud barks and growls from an iron-barred door leading to the office of the cafe's manager.

There inside was a great Dane. Someone was patting the huge dog and whispering in his ear.

"He won't hurt no one," this fellow said. "He just makes a lot of noise. Hey, Gavilan, how about this guy—he weighs 160 pounds."

That set off the photographers. They wanted Gavilan to get inside the office with the beast and make like he was going to punch him.

Gavilan peered through the iron grating and the great Dane—called "Chief"—stuck his nose through. Gavilan stroked it. The dog looked up at him.

"Okay," said Gavilan. "I go in—you take picture. This dog just another middleweight to Gavilan."

At this point, Medina was fit to be tied.

"No dogs!" he yelled. "No dogs! How stupid can you people get. One bite and Gavilan lose his arm to elbow and world will be without man who become next middleweight champion. No dogs!"

And with that, the group moved on to a hotel where Gavilan went to bed.

Wayland Is Pitted Against KC Dons

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP)—A longshot and the second-seeded team meet tonight for the Women's National AAU Basketball championship.

The tournament finale at 8:30 p.m. (CST) pits the Kansas City Dons against Wayland College of Plainview, Texas.

The two have in common victories over Hanes Hosley of Winston-Salem, N. C., winner of the tournament for the past three years.

The unheralded Dons, paced by 6-3, 165-pound Barbara Sipes, licked the heavily-favored Carolinians 44-41 last night to gain their berth in the finals.

Wayland, runner-up last year and in 1951, defeated Hanes, 45-38, in Des Arc, Ark., Feb. 26, putting an end to a 102-game winning streak. The Texans also beat Hanes in Searcy, Ark., the following night, 54-49.

Wayland gained its finals berth by whipping Denver Viner Chevrolet, 45-29.

Two losers' bracket games will be played before tonight's championship contest.

The Atlanta (Ga.) Tomboys play the Topeka (Kan.) Santa Fe Streamliners at 6:30 p.m. (CST) for the consolation crown, and Hanes takes on Viner Chevrolet at 8 p.m. for third place.

Zaharias To Seek Beaumont Crown

BEAUMONT (AP)—The second annual Babe Zaharias Open Golf Tournament will be held here April 15-18 with the Babe playing in it again.

Mrs. Zaharias, in whose honor the tournament was created here in her home town, won the title last year, then entered a Beaumont hospital and underwent an operation for cancer. There were fears she would never play golf again.

But she returned to the game in less than four months and this winter has won two tournaments on the ladies PGA tour.

All of the top women professionals will play in the tournament again and invitations are going out to the nation's leading women amateurs, including Joyce Ziske, winner of the recent Women's North-South Amateur.

Prize money will total $3,500.

TCU Tennis Coach Seeking Players

FORT WORTH (AP)—Speaking of tough luck, consider C. A. Burch's tennis team at Texas Christian University.

Bernie Ferguson of Temple, the No. 1 player for two years, withdrew from school recently.

Kenneth Martin, junior ace, suffered a shoulder bruise in intramural sports.

Sophomore Charles Gordon of San Juan suffered a fractured cheek bone and severe eye cut in a fall in a shower. He had been playing No. 1 singles.

So far, Coach Burch, who spent 20 years in China as a missionary, is keeping his philosophical outlook—but he's wondering where he'll get players.

Steer Medley-Mile Team

Illinois Hurler Signed To Big Spring Contract

Frank A. Maren, a limited-service hurler, has been signed to a contract by the Big Spring Broncs.

Maren, who lives in Joliet, Ill., is a 185-pounder who hasn't been in professional baseball since 1947, when he won four and lost three games for Wisconsin Rapids of the Wisconsin State League.

Since that time, he has played semi-pro ball in North Carolina, where he won 14 and lost six decisions, served a stint with the House of David team and performed with a Service team in Germany for two seasons.

While wearing Army khaki, he won 34 decisions against only 11 losses.

He could prove of special value to the local baseball club not only because of his experience outside of professional baseball but because he is not eligible for the draft, having seen Army duty.

Maren weighs 185 pounds and is the second limited service player signed by Manager Pepper Martin. The other is Floyd Martin, second sacker.

Several of the Cubans signed by Martin were due to reach Big Spring some time today.

Formal spring drills are due to get under way here Wednesday, March 31. Several of the players may start conditioning before that time, however.

Workers of the Texas Electric Service Company spent much of yesterday getting the lights at Steer Park ready for night play.

Gopher Pitch Dogs Branca

By RIF WATSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The dreaded home-run ball, which added Ralph Branca's name to the list of baseball's greatest "goats" in 1951, still is dogging the handsome right-hander.

Branca yielded three home runs—good for a total of six runs—in five innings yesterday against Cincinnati. The Redlegs went on to beat the Detroit Tigers, 13-11. Wally Post, a .242 hitter with Cincinnati last year, hit the first with the bases empty, and pitcher Harry Perkowski added to Branca's embarrassment with a similar homer.

Then Hobie Landrith, 240 last year, slugged one out of the park with the bases loaded.

It was Bobby Thomson, then with the New York Giants, who victimized Branca with a home run in the final game of the 1951 National League playoff against Brooklyn. The historic blow cost the Dodgers a pennant and just about wrecked what had started out as a promising career for Branca with the Brooklyn club.

At the age of 21, Branca won 21 and lost 12 in leading the Brooklyn team to a pennant. He never reached that figure again, although he was one of Brooklyn's better pitchers until Thomson unloaded against him. He pitched in only 16 games in 1952, winning four and losing two, and was sold to the Detroit Tigers last year after yielding 12 runs in 11 innings of pitching. Ironically, Brooklyn asked waivers on Branca shortly after he had been shelled again by the Giants. No National League club wanted him.

Branca wasn't the only pitcher to get his lumps yesterday, however.

The Philadelphia Phillies and Milwaukee wound up with a "tool ball" score, 16-13 for the Phils, after a wild ninth inning in which the winners scored nine times and losers six. Del Ennis belted two home runs and Stan Lopata one for the Phils, and Sibby Sisti, Jim Pendleton and Hank Aaron homered for the Braves.

Rudy Regalado, Cleveland's rookie sensation, slugged his sixth and seventh home runs of the training season as the Indians whipped the Chicago Cubs, 6-3. The 23-year-old phenom also singled twice and now has a .447 batting average and 17 runs batted in.

Pittsburgh took over first place—that's right, first place—in the National League spring standings by choking off a desperate Philadelphia Athletics rally to squeeze out an 8-7 victory. The A's had scored twice and had two men on base when Ed McGhee filed out to end the game.

The Washington Senators slugged Billy Pierce, the Chicago White Sox' top lefty, for six runs in the second and chased him in the fourth while running up a 9-2 score.

Golf And Net Teams Compete

Big Spring High School is well represented at the West Texas Relays in Odessa, which started this morning and continues through Saturday.

Fourteen members of the Big Spring track and field team are competing in the Relays itself.

In addition, the Steers send a boys' golf team and a boys' tennis team to the tournaments, which are held in conjunction with the Relays.

Billie Clyburn is in charge of the girls' net team, which was to have consisted of seven players.

Dan Lewis took the golf team over. James Lee Underwood, Wilbur Cunningham, Bobby Blum and Eddie Harris were to represent the Steers on the links.

Big Spring's best bet in girls' tennis appear to be Betty Anderson and Dixie Faulkner. Though only a freshman, the latter has yet to suffer defeat this year.

Steerettes Win Over S'Water

Arah Phillips and her Big Spring High School girls go to Plainview today to open play in the annual Plainview Volley Ball Tournament.

Only one game is on tap tonight and the Steerettes see action in that one, meeting the host team at 8 o'clock.

A win there would send the Big Springers in action against the winner of the Lamesa-Herford contest at 2 p.m. Saturday. Lamesa is heavily favored to topple the Herford team. Those two teams play at 10:15 a.m. Saturday.

Lamesa and Big Spring have already played three times this year and the Steerettes have won two of those.

Only eight teams are entered at Plainview. Lower bracket pairings find Phillips opposing Littlefield at 8:45 a.m. and Pampa squaring off with Spade at 11:45 a.m. Saturday.

The other semifinal game is down for 4:15 p.m. Saturday. Consolation finals are scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday while the title game goes on at 8:45 p.m.

The local B team will be taken along to participate in a separate tournament, held exclusively for B squads.

In that bracket, Big Spring goes against Lamesa at 12:30 p.m. Saturday.

In other first round games, Plainview opposes Littlefield at 8 a.m., Phillips faces Spade at 9:30 a.m.

Big West Texas Relays Open

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

ODESSA, Tex. (U)—The big, bustling West Texas Relays open today with a splurge of record-breaking indicated before the onslaught of the greatest field to ever show in this track and field carnival.

The university division, with Texas a high favorite, and the college class, in which North Texas State, winner of two major meets already this season, is expected to make its debut with a title, won't see action until tomorrow.

Athletes from 35 high schools hit the cinders this afternoon with Amarillo's defending champions again the choice to romp in with the crown but facing stout opposition from five West Texas powers—Andrews, Lubbock, Odessa, Pampa and Fort Stockton.

The schoolboys hold preliminaries and a smattering of finals then move into semi-finals tomorrow morning along with the college and university trials. The climax comes tomorrow afternoon as the three-division meet roars through its finals.

There also is golf and tennis for the high schools with 15 teams entered in the links show and 32 tennis teams. Golf and tennis also starts today with Amarillo a mild favorite in the 36-hole golf meet and the tennis tournament listing Amarillo, San Angelo, Abilene and Pyote as favorites.

Record-smashing should start with a flourish this afternoon as Gene Ellis of Andrews aims at the 15-second high hurdles mark. Jerry Dean of Lubbock levels on the pole vault standard of 12 feet and Crane's Clarence Miller likely to crack the 6-foot 1 1/2-inch high jump record. Ellis has done 14.5 this season, Dean has vaulted 12 feet 4 inches and Miller has eclipsed the high jump standard.

Texas' great sprint brigade is due to take down a flock of records and University of Houston can also figure in some shattering efforts. They wouldn't be surprised if the 9.5 record in the 100-yard dash should be equalled or bettered under the flying spikes of Charles Thomas and Dean Smith of Texas. And the Texas sprint relay team could carve up the record of 41.3 while Southern Methodist and Texas might trim the mile relay record of 3:17.7 below size. Jerry House of Texas is a strong threat to the broad jump record of 23 feet 10 inches.

Charles Holding of East Texas State, who has leaped 6 feet 3 1/2 inches in his illustrious career, should better the record of 6 feet 3 1/2 inches in the high jump. Les Vanover of Abilene Christian may do the same. He has soared 6 feet 6 inches in this campaign.

Contesting in the university class are Texas, Houston, Baylor, Rice, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Texas Tech.

There are 11 colleges entered—North Texas State, East Texas State, Sul Ross, Howard Payne, McMurry, Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian, Texas Western, University of Corpus Christi, West Texas State and New Mexico Military Institute.

Konno To Bid For New Mark

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (U)—Ford Konno, the swift Olympian from Ohio State via Honolulu, will make an assault on his own 250-yard record tonight in the NCAA Swimming Championships in the speed-up Syracuse University pool.

He already has applied for recognition of his world record of 2:04.7 and Syracuse swimming Coach Ted Webster said it wouldn't pay anyone to bet against him.

Webster pointed out that the 25-meter pool is one of the fastest rigged for collegiate competition. It has been rebuilt with special overflow pipes to carry off any waves that might hamper the swimmers.

Konno certainly has found the pool to his liking. In last night's 1,500-meter freestyle, he smashed his own NCAA record of 18:15.3 by splashing over the distance in 18:14.4. It was the first event of the 31st annual championships and Konno left no doubt as to his superiority over the rest of the field.

The second-place man, Bill York of Springfield, was clocked in 18:57, the only other man in the four-hour field to get home under 19 minutes.

Dan Osborne of Stanford was third in 19:16, George Breen of Cortland fourth in 19:17.4 and Pete Duncan of Oklahoma fifth in 19:20.

There are 11 colleges entered—North Texas State, East Texas State, Sul Ross, Howard Payne, McMurry, Hardin-Simmons, Abilene Christian, Texas Western, University of Corpus Christi, West Texas State and New Mexico Military Institute.

Wilmington, N. C., Hosts Links Stars In 3-Day Meet

WILMINGTON, N.C. (U)—The $10,000 Azalea Open Golf Tournament, boasting a record field of about 150, opened its three-day stand here today without a red hot favorite.

Play along golf's winter circuit this year has been wide open, with nine different players winning the nine major tournaments. Five of them are here—Dutch Harrison, Johnny Palmer, Bobby Toski, Chandler Harper and Fred Wampler.

In addition, 16 of the top 20 money winners on the most recent PGA listing were in the field which will be cut tomorrow night to low 60 and ties for Sunday's two rounds over the 6,000-yard, par-72 Cape Fear Country Club course.

Cary Middlecoff, the Memphis dentist, who hasn't won a tournament this year, may be ready to crash through this week. Middlecoff has been well up here in the four previous tournaments, although never winning.

Last year Cary tied for fifth. The year before he was all alone in fifth. In 1950 he tied for third and in '49 he tied for 2nd. In those four years he's never been worse than fifth and picked up almost $3,200 in Wilmington money. In his last eight tournament rounds over the sandy Cape Fear course Cary has posted four 68s, two 70s, a 69 and a 73.

Long-Lived Pet Doe Dies At Ranch Home At Artesia

By DAVE RODWELL
Artesia Advocate Editor
ARTESIA, N. M. (U)—A pet doe which lived twice the life expectancy of a deer and gave birth to 22 fawns has died on a ranch near Artesia.

Although a mother of note, she had a peculiar hatred for women wearing skirts.

"Fanny," the 15-year-old doe was found in the Sacramento Mountains west of Artesia in 1910. The State Game Department said the normal life of a deer is seven or eight years.

Never tied or fenced in, she remained a pet. She gave birth to three sets of triplets and one of her first fawns, now 12, still is alive.

Fanny was reared on a bottle by Cecil Smith, Artesia grocery store operator. Early in her long life, she frolicked with children, tagging after them like a dog and answering to her name.

Then, one day she disappeared. A few weeks later she turned up again and led Van Welch, on whose ranch she lived, to a barn where her first fawns, twins, were bedded.

Soon after, she developed a mental twist—a deep dislike for skirts. A woman visited the Welch ranch, and the doe galloped down from a hillside in answer to Welch's call. The deer attacked the woman, ripping the back of her jacket and blackening her eyes with her hooves.

But another woman visitor wearing slacks didn't draw the doe's ire.

The game department said her actions "bears out our contention that a wild animal in captivity cannot be trusted. We definitely discourage anyone from making a pet of a wild animal because they so often have some kind of quirk which may make them attack at any time."

But Fanny always was gentle with children, although she disliked little girls—unless they were clad in blue jeans.

Maybe Student Was Just 'Horsing' Around

HOBBS, N. M. (U)—Mrs. Loyse Ann Hicks, teacher of the third grade here, stirred up a classroom discussion on regular attendance. Said one feminine Westerner, aged 8, "I never missed a day from school until I had broncho pneumonia."

THE GRUB LINE

With Franklin Reynolds

Today it is the pleasure of the Grub Line to present a guest columnist.

He is Melvin Daniels, a junior in the Big Spring High School; a third year Vocational Agriculture student, and vice president of the Big Spring Chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

Today's columnist is regarded by his teachers and fellow members of the FFA as one of Big Spring's outstanding lamb breeders. He was high individual at the FFA district lamb judging contest at Stanton, and a member of the Big Spring Chapter's livestock judging team that participated in the contests at Texas Technological College at Lubbock. He is also a member of the chapter conducting team, skilled in parliamentary law and procedure. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Daniels.

It is a real pleasure to have Melvin with us today.

His column follows:
By MELVIN DANIELS
Vocational Agriculture is a course offered in Big Spring High School to all boys interested in farming and ranching. The first year in Vocational Agriculture is the study of the history of the Future Farmers of America, the identification and use of all livestock, the study of poultry, and the different soils, and what crops can be grown on these soils.

The second year in Vocational Agriculture the students study the identification of seeds. This includes weed seeds, and they are classified as to whether they are harmful, semi-harmful or common. Other seeds are graded and judged. Parliamentary procedure is usually studied the first six weeks of school. This helps the boys in leadership activities. There are also teams to compete in contests.

Balancing rations and studying the feeding of livestock is also a part of the course. After this a student balances his own rations and feeds what he thinks best to his projects. Livestock judging is also studied in second year Vocational Agriculture. Teams are picked and entered in different livestock judging contests. Tractor maintenance is explained and studied, also.

The class has one hour in shop every other day and the boys can build anything they want to. Feed troughs and equipment for their projects are usually built in the shop. We have a very modern shop at Big Spring High School.

The third year of Vocational Agriculture is the last year. There is less book work and more actual experience. Welding metal work is also a part of third year Agriculture. The different classes of livestock are studied as to marketing purposes. The classes are set up by the United States Department of Agriculture. Much of our studies of marketing classes are made by visits to the local sale and by viewing films. The study of the trends of the livestock market is taken from the Fort Worth market report and local sale.

When taking Vocational Agriculture you must have a project that is approved and supervised by the Vocational Agriculture instructor. To be a member of the Future Farmers of America you must be regularly enrolled in a class of Vocational Agriculture and have satisfactory plans or an active project.

In the Big Spring Chapter, feeding lambs for the show has been the most popular project. Lambs tend to be the most popular project because they are easy to take care of, and there isn't too much money invested. When feeding lambs for livestock shows, they are started about the first of August. It is best to get a good type of lamb to put on feed. When the lambs are brought in to a certain place, they are drawn for by boys wanting lambs. The boys pick their own lambs when they are bought near home. The lambs are castrated, docked (tails cut off), and dehorned. They are drenched with phenothiazine for stomach worms. For over-eating disease the lambs are vaccinated under the fore flank with 10 cc of Clostridium Perfringens type D. This usually leaves the lambs sick for the first two weeks.

A ration is fed to the lambs that does not have very much crude protein at the start. Then as the lambs are eating better the amount of protein is increased by putting more grain or cottonseed meal in the ration. The lambs must always have plenty of clean water, and the pen should be cleaned three times a week.

Before the lambs are shown they are trimmed and blocked, the wool is carded until all the fibers are straight out and then it is clipped off smooth. This makes the lambs look wider and shorter. The lambs are then shown. Ribbons and prize money are received for the best lambs. The lambs are sold for a premium price so the boys usually make money.

Malaria Drugs May Aid Cancer Disease Battle

BOSTON (U)—The quest for drugs to fight malaria may have turned up some new foes for cancer, a Boston scientist said today.

Dr. Sidney Farber of the Children's Cancer Research Foundation said that five experimental compounds originally produced with the idea of combatting malaria have yielded temporary benefits when given to some people suffering from "acute leukemia and scattered other tumors."

Leukemia is a cancer of the blood.

Farber said that while the benefits derived from the drugs were of short duration, they were sufficiently strong to warrant further investigation of compounds of this general type.

The doctor told about it during a news conference with science writers looking into a number of research projects being sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

He said these particular drugs are, in a sense, bad news to certain vitamins and other materials necessary for the growth of living cells. Therefore, since cancer is considered to be a wild growth of cells, anything that might interfere with such wild growth would be of great importance.

The doctor also told of promising—although still temporary—treatment of leukemia and certain other forms of cancer with other chemical materials.

He told of one boy, a victim of leukemia which once was invariably fatal in a matter of months, who now has been kept alive for almost five years, thanks to a leukemia-fighting drug.

He still has the disease, and his improvement is considered only "temporary," but, as Dr. Farber said:

"Life is being prolonged, and there is always that possibility that someone may come up with an answer in time to save such people."

Tyler Hotel Gets Ready For Royalty

TYLER, Tex. (U)—The Blackstone Hotel here is redecorating its governor's suite with straw and saw dust, Texas style, for a royal visitor.

The guest, due in Saturday from Madison, Kan., is Prince TT 105, Aberdeen-Angus, the bull for which Texas paid $115,000 for a half interest recently.

Hotel manager Ralph Hitz Jr. said yesterday two or three calves sired by the $230,000 animal would also be exhibited in the suite.

Tyler oilman B. G. Byars and rancher Bedford Wynne of Kaufman, Tex., bought half interest in the bull from Simon Brothers of Madison on March 1.

Joe Friday's Aide Flunks Auto Test

HOLLYWOOD (U)—The housekeeper for Sgt. Joe Friday of the TV program "Dragnet" didn't do so well in her test for an automobile operator's license.

Mrs. Bertha Crigler, who works for Jack Webb, producer and star of the crime thriller series, sailed through the written examination and eye test yesterday.

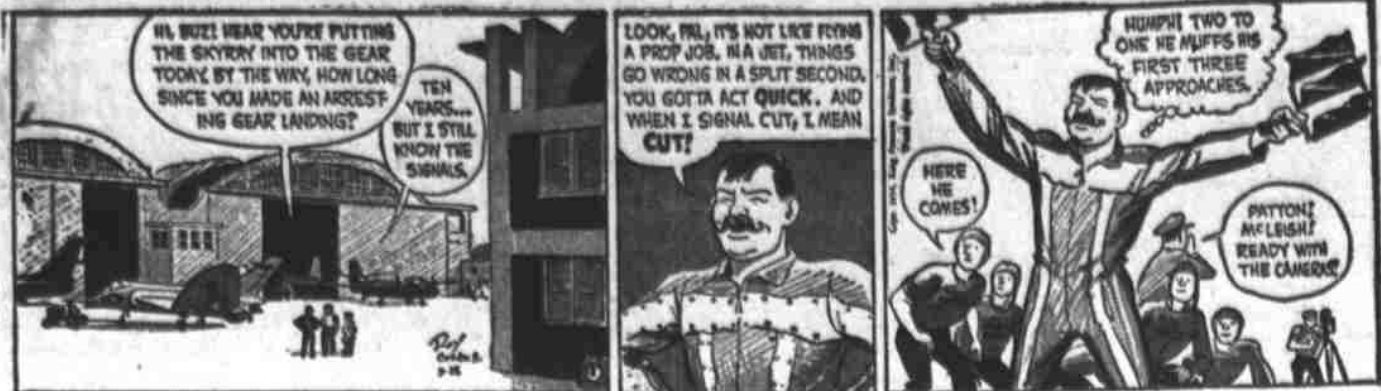

But when she completed the driving examination and returned to the office of the Department of Motor Vehicles, she used the accelerator instead of the brake pedal. The auto knocked down a 30-foot palm tree and wrapped itself around a steel pole.

No one was hurt. She flunked the test.

OAKY DOAKS

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Before we close our series about Easter Island let us take up several questions about the objects found there.

Q. What about the "mystery writing" of Easter Island?

A. Strange markings have been found on wooden tablets, and some scholars believe that the markings can be called writing. Several have guessed that the writing tells about wars and religion, but we are without good proof of this. At best it seems that the markings can be nothing more than picture-word writing.

Q. How heavy are the stone statues?

A. Most of them weigh more than five tons, and some are estimated to weigh from 35 to 50 tons.

Q. How tall are the statues?

A. A few are only three or four feet tall, but others have a height of more than 30 feet.

Q. Which statue is tallest of all?

A. The tallest — or longest — statue is one which seems never to have been placed in an upright position. It was found in the quarry where it was carved. The length is 66 feet. Very likely it was too heavy to be handled by the people of Easter Island.

Q. How were those people able to move other statues weighing many tons apiece?

A. Since they were without logs to use as rollers, the natives probably rolled the statues on round stones. A hundred or more men may have hauled a single statue to the place where it was to be set in upright position.

Q. How was a heavy statue made to stand upright?

A. It is believed that this was done by rolling the statue up, the side of a mound of earth prepared for the purpose. After the figure was upright, the soil could be dug away, to expose the statue to view.

Snobbery No Help On Popularity Road

Dear Miss Brandon:

Many of my friends have told me that I am conceited. I can't understand it, as I go out of my way to help others and to be friendly with them. I have nice clothes, a sophisticated hair-do which might account for it.

Please help me with this problem, as I wish to be a real down-to-earth girl instead of a snob.

The unalterable law of human nature says that friendly persons just can't help having friends. Therefore we must assume that somehow in the realm of personal relationships you "goofed."

Where? It could be any of a dozen or more places. If you had included a return address with your letter, I would have sent you my free booklet, "Prescription for Popularity" which covers every phase of the subject in detail.

Briefly, however, your problem could stem from shyness which your friends misunderstand as aloofness, or perhaps a little conceit which you are not even aware of.

You couldn't possibly be VERY conceited because such people don't worry about the impression they make on others. If it is shyness that makes you avoid people or not look them straight in the eyes, a course in modeling undoubtedly would help you; also you must force yourself out of the shadows no matter how much it hurts.

What sort of people do you like best? The people who make you feel important, attractive and capable receives your undying affection. He makes you feel good; he makes you feel worthwhile. The more he helps you to respect yourself, the more you love him.

Okay, it works the other way, too. Suppose his clothes, his grades, and his extra curricular achievements surpass yours. That's fine as long as he still makes you feel that you have your place in the sun, too. But if he rambles on and on about his success, commenting on the high price of his clothes and repeating all the compliments he got on his performance in the school play, pretty soon you'll hate him even though he hasn't done a thing to you.

—Or hasn't he? He's taken away your self-respect and made you feel like two cents. Because the comparison is unfavorable to you, he should not have dwelt on it.

If he hadn't turned all the lime-light on himself, but had shared it with you by mentioning your assets also, he'd still seem like a big wheel.

Could this be the case with you? If you really are prettier, more sophisticated, or talented than your friends, you can't help being proud. However, if you want to be admired you must let your good points speak for themselves and spend your time discussing the good qualities in your friends.

Pitch in and act like one of the bunch "He who would be a leader must be servant of all."

All Because Mrs. Didn't Inform Mr. About Car License

OMAHA, Neb. (U) — James P. Davies of Omaha went on a trip last December and while he was gone Mrs. Davies paid the personal taxes on the family car. But she forgot to tell hubby.

Came March and Mrs. Davies went on a trip. Then Mr. Davies realized license plate deadline time was near. So he hustled to the courthouse and paid the tax.

A little later husband wife happened to be comparing notes — and lo!

Off to the courthouse went Mr. Davies, seeking a refund. The license bureau suggested he talk to the county treasurer; the treasurer suggested he talk to the county assessor; the assessor suggested he talk to the County Board — which Davies now seeks to do. The stake is $17.

Vance Air Base Is No-KP Trial Site

ENID Okla. (U) — Tough old mess sergeants and KP, scourge of rookie servicemen, are on their way out at the Vance Air Force Base.

The Air Force announced it was using Vance for an experiment, putting the mess halls under the jurisdiction of paid civilian personnel.

The civilians will be responsible for catering, serving, and best of all, policing the mess halls.

The Air Force said it feels the new routine should save money and at the same time provide better meals. It said rookie morale should improve with the elimination of KP.

Novel Excuse Given For Speeding Offense

TOLEDO, Ohio (U) — Municipal Judge Geraldine MacElwane says the excuse offered yesterday by Paul A. Kroyer, 19, for running a red traffic light was the most original ever heard in her court.

Just as he was about to stop for the red light, the youth related, his 6-month-old pet wildcat, sitting on the seat beside him, toppled off and landed beneath the brake pedal.

"I didn't dare push down the brake pedal on him," Kroyer said. Fine: $5 and costs.

The other firms are Standard Oil Co. of Ohio, El Paso Natural Gas Co. and People Production Co. subsidiary of the Peoples Gas, Light and Coke Co. of Chicago.

WIND PROVES STRIP-TEASER

CHICAGO (AP)—In the Windy City, this happened yesterday: A black taffeta skirt sailed down Michigan Avenue and was fielded by a Conrad Hilton hotel doorman. Its owner was nowhere in sight.

Gusts of 84 miles an hour were recorded at Midway airport and steady winds of 43 miles an hour.

Alabama Town Has Mixed Emotions Toward Banker

By REX THOMAS

CLIO, Ala. (AP)—Clio shook off the worst of its economic hangover today with curiously mixed feelings of anger and sympathy toward the money handler whose recent disappearance disclosed a $75,000 shortage in depositors' funds.

Some of the townspeople who at first were shocked and bitter at Royall Reynolds adopted a new attitude of forgiveness after he returned home and offered to sell everything he owns to help make up the deficit.

With the money Reynolds hopes to raise, and the financial sacrifices of his almost blind father and other kinsmen, a spokesman said yesterday that the nearly 200 other depositors in the now-defunct Clio Merchants Exchange probably will get back 85 to 90 cents on the dollar.

Reynolds has been receiving treatment for a nervous condition at a hospital at Eufaula, Ala. When he leaves the hospital he will be returned to jail at Clayton. He had been at liberty in bond of $7,500 after being charged with embezzlement, but went to jail voluntarily Monday, just before his records were audited.

A mass meeting has been called for 7:30 tonight to see whether depositors will agree to take a 10 or 15 per cent cut.

The family spokesman, J. S. Jackson Sr., estimated that with the help of relatives, Reynolds should be able to raise all but about $9,000 of the $164,000 on deposit in the privately operated Merchants Exchange.

Depositors outside the family will get the biggest pro rata share, Jackson said. Relatives who had money in the exchange, including an aunt, Mrs. Vela Mae Reynolds, will take a smaller proportionate share.

Meanwhile, townspeople in this southeast Alabama peanut and cotton farming community of 900 population voiced their reaction with only one restraint—they wouldn't be quoted by name. Only Jackson would talk on the record.

"Royall came back voluntarily and is doing everything he can to see that these people get their money back," the well-to-do landholder and County Board of Revenue member argued.

A merchant nearby echoed that feeling in these words:

"We feel sort of like if a fellow comes back and humbles himself like Royall has done, there must be something there."

Both Jackson and the neighboring merchants were heavy depositors in the exchange.

But another smaller depositor was outspokenly bitter. "The people I talk to are mad as hell," he declared.

Still another storekeeper said: "Most of the people around here are hard-working folks and it leaves a bad taste in their mouths."

Most of the depositors, Jackson explained, kept only a small part of their holdings in the uncharted, uninsured Merchants Exchange. It was a convenience to those who wanted to have checking accounts in Clio rather than in regularly operated banks elsewhere.

Heirloom Ring Comes Back After 12 Years

CENTRAL CITY, Neb. (AP)—Twelve years ago Mrs. Roy Gwartney missed her diamond ring. The three-carat diamond was a family heirloom given her by her mother and she searched long and hard before giving it up as lost forever.

Now it has come back to her in the mail. A note told how the mailer took the ring, and added, "I had it reset. But you may have it all. Please forgive me."

Annoyed by signs on many ancient Connecticut houses proclaiming "Washington slept here," one citizen posted a sign: "Washington Would Have Stopped Here If He Had Come This Way."
