County Asked To Assist Westbrook Waterflood

Roads Needed For $10 Million Oil Project

Commissioners Court is studying an all-weather road project to aid a nine million dollar waterflooding of Westbrook Field oil reservior.

Two representatives from American Petrofina Company of Texas this week asked Mitchell County for roads to serve the waterflooding facilities.

They were Robert F. Penner, Fina's project engineer, and Ray Ebling, both of Fina's Big Spring offices. Col-Tex Refinery here in Colorado City is operated by Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. a wholly owned subsidiary of American Petrofina.

Operators of oil and gas leases in Westbrook Field are planning the waterflooding for several hundred oil wells in more than 25 sections west and northwest of Westbrook.

Waterflooding, an improved method for recovering oil from under ground, is expected to prolong the life of this semi-depleted field for more than 20 additional years.

More than 40 million barrels additional of oil is anticipated to be recovered in the waterflooding process, Penner told Commissioners Court.

Operations will be carried out in three different areas with interests in each area unitized or combined under three different operators American Petrofina of Texas, Standerd Oil Company of Texas and Union Texas Petroleum.

Penner said Standard will operate the north portion of the field, American Petrofina the southwest portion of the field, and Union Texas the southwest portion.

Initial planning indicates the oil operators will be required to invest approximately nine million dollars to put the three projects into operation, Penner said.

This sum is ticketed for equipment, drilling of wells and construction of facilities

American Petrofina plans to construct its waterflooding plant on south side of Section 33, Block 28, T-1-N, on the Abrams lease less than 2 miles north of the new roadside park on Interstate 20 freeway.

Union Texas probably will install its plant, according to Penner, about 1.5 miles west of the Petrofina plant site on Morrison lease in Section 31, Block 28, T-1-N, T&P Survey.

Penner said operating personnel for the Westbrook Field have had "considerable difficulty in getting around the field during and after rainstorms."

"With installation of water injection systems," the engineer explained, "it will be even more imperative that access to the plants be available.

"For this reason American Petrofina Company of Texas respectively requests the court to consider the construction of some additional all-weather roads."

Proposed for all-weather construction would be a new road to be built north of Interstate 20 (west of Westbrook near the new roadside park) between Bird and Morrison acreage for about 1.5 miles to intersect with an east-west road already in existence.

This east-west road, which is proposed also for improvement to all-weather specification for about half mile east and one mile west of the intersection, will connect the two proposed waterflooding plants.

An alternative would be to make the east-west road all-weather construction for about 3.5 miles to a point where it intersects with an FM highway north of Westbrook.

Penner told Commissioners Court that the road improvements would "greatly aid development and operation of the planned facilities, would be of help to other operations in the area and would benefit landowners in the vicinity also."

He asked that the county construct one of the two all-weather roads within the next six months, indicating the waterflooding project is near.

Commissioners, who learned of the road proposal for the first time with Penner's appearance Monday, expressed keen interest in the project, which will be in Precinct 2.

They told Penner and Ebling they would begin an immediate study of the road requirements and would contact American Petrofina after a thorough check of the project.

Commissioners said county costs could be held down if county crews could be utilized entirely for the road construction.

In addition to the Mitchell County request, American Petrofina will be asking Texas Highway Department for permission to install a 12-inch plastic pipeline across the FM highway northwest of Westbrook.

The pipeline is planned to cross the highway under the bridge on Morgan Creek's North Branch about four miles northwest of Westbrook.

2 More In Custody To Face Indictments

LAW ENFORCEMENT officers have taken into custody two persons named in sealed indictments last Thursday by Mitchell County grand jury.

Chuck (Dad) Medlin was arrested in Houston on a warrant charging him with contributing to delinquency of a minor.

James Griffin of Loraine was taken into custody in Mitchell County to face two indictments — willful injury to another person's property and burglary of an automobile.

* * *

THE PAIR were among 12 persons named in 13 indictments returned by the grand jury in one of its busiest sessions in recent years.

Their names were not revealed, according to law, until after their apprehension. Three other persons indicted by the grand jury remain unamed publicly until after their arrest.

* * *

MEDLIN, WHO was in Colorado City for several months last fall and winter representing a sales firm specializing in store closeout sales, was being returned to Colorado City Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Roy Richard. Houston authorities notified the sheriff's office here that Medlin had been unable to post bond

His case, although based on indictment by the grand jury, has been transferred to County Court.

* * *

THE INDICTMENT accuses Medlin of contributing to deliquency of a minor Colorado City boy, under age 17, by "inviting, encouraging, inducing and causing" the boy "to drink an alcoholic beverage — beer, which said act tendered then and there to debase and injure the morals and welfare" of the boy.

In addition, the indictment further accuses Medlin "on or about Nov. 19, 1966, did unlawfully encourage" . . minor "to come into the private room and residence of said Chuck (Dad) Medlin in the Berman Hotel, Colorado City . . . a place where an intoxicating beverage — beer was kept, used and drunk . . an act thereby tending to injure and bebase the health, welfare and morals" of the minor boy.

GRIFFIN, WHO is 23, remained in County Jail Wednesday in lieu of bond on both of his indictments.

In one indictment, Griffin is charged with burglary of an automobile of Jerry Hardegree.

2 New City Controls

City Council Monday night passed two regulations aimed to keep the city better looking.

One deals with garbage can holders and the other points to junked automobiles.

Both are by ordinances — the junked car one by new ordinance and the garbage holder regulation by amendment to the garbage and trash ordinance approved in 1957.

The garbage and trash amendment provides that each person, partnership, corporation or other association required to maintain a garbage can or cans must erect and maintain a platform or rack for holding the garbage containers.

Original ordinance has specified that certain size and certain type garbage cans must be used. Now, the new amendment, requires that these can be in a rack or platform to keep them in place.

The junked car ordinance declares junked motor vehicles, under specified conditions, a public nusiance and thereby outlaws these nusiances.

It is provided in the ordinance for the Chief of Police to end such nusiances, and violations are subject to fine of not more than $200.

This junk regulation is designed to meet conditions which have brought increasing complaints.

Both new regulations become effective April 1.

The $2,000 allocation for Mitchell County can be used to purchase books, microfilm and for book binding.

City Starts Sewer Line Under I-20

Work has started on construction of a 12-inch sewer line that will extend under Interstate 20 freeway at the city's northern limits.

The project which City Council gave the green light last month after an agreement with Gulf Oil, will include 1,200 feet of sewer line extending from a point north of 22nd St. on Austin, east to Hickory (State Highway 208 to Snyder), then north on West side of the highway to north line of Jeff Taylor's Enco Service Station on north side of Interstate 20, then east across State Highway 208 to J. J. Gulf Service.

City will bore under Interstate 20 surface roads under Interstate 20 overpass, then bore under State 208 pavement.

Wolves Move Up At Crane

Relay Record Again

Colorado High Wolves moved up on the preferred list Saturday in West Texas track competition.

They set a new mile relay record in Crane Invitational Meet, secored a total of 98 points and ran second only to McCamey's 133.5 points.

Just the week before in their initial competition of the season, Coach Dell Riley's Wolves were third at McCamey, finishing behind McCamey and Crane.

They couldn't overcome the fast Badgers last Saturday again in Crane, but they added eight more points to their team total and moved ahead of Crane. This accomplishment despite a drouth in field events.

Infact, Colorado in team points outscored this line-up: Jal N.M., with 65 points; Crane, with 60; Rankin, with 55; Alpine, with 17; Stanton, 17; Coahoma, 8.5, and Big Lake, 5.

This weekend — Saturday again — the Wolves will travel to Eldorado Invitational. And McCamey, winner of three consecutive meets, will be running eleswhere, so the Wolves will be able to see if they are first place caliber with the Badgers away.

Larry Campbell was the big point maker for Colorado again in Crane for the second straight weekend.

He captured his specialty the 880 — and anchored the record-shattering mile relay.

Bobby Pineda, who was second to Campbell in the 880, started Colorado's mile relay, Robert Brown took over on the second lap, Donnie Higginbotham ran the third and Campbell raced the final. Time was 3:29.7 — about a second faster than the previous meet record of 3:30.6 set By Coahoma.

Trailing C-City's foursome were McCamey, 2; Jal, 3; Stanton, 4; Rankin and Alpine, tied for fifth.

Campbell's time in the 880 was 2:00.1. He and Pineda led a field that included Henry Anderson of McCamey, Donal Ivery of Rankin, R. Leopard of Coahoma and G. Valenzula of Alpine.

Dan Steakley scored for the Wolves in the 100, 220 in addition to taking a turn in the 440-yard relay. He was No. 2 in the 100, just behind McCamey's Warren Jeter, and second in the 220 behind McCamey's Johnny Harris, who traveled with a fast 21.6 time.

Bubba Grigsby of McCamey, with a time of 41.7, beat Colorado's Glenn Nix in the 330-yard immediary hurdles. Trailing behind Nix were McCamey's Toney Fuentes Rankin's Brown and McCamey's Carrasco.

Projects Build Area Wildlife

Conservation districts, the Soil Conservation Service and other agencies are joining with the National Wildlife Federation to observe National Wildlife Week, March 19-25, according to A. K. McCarley Jr., chairman, Mitchell Soil and Water Conservation District.

The theme, "This is Your Land," emphasizes the responsibility that all citizens have in protecting and improving the land and other natural resources, thus benefiting wildlife.

For years, the SCS has helped landowners through local conservation districts apply practices that benefit wildlife. These include stripcropping, grassed waterways field borders of grasses and shrubs, woodland management, range and pasture development, farm ponds, watershed protection and flood prevention.

SCS biologists, conservationists and other specialists assist farmers and ranchers to make decisions in the proper use of their land. Measures to improve wildlife cover were applied on nearly 200,000 acres of Texas lands last year.

Some farmers have found that land unsuited to producing row crops or pastures can be used profitably for farm ponds and to provide food and habitat for small game fish and wildlife, providing many Texas farmers extra income, A. V. Sheppard of the SCS said.

Nationally, almost three million acres of land have been converted to wildlife and recreation from land and other uses since 62.

Ruth Coffey's CONVERSATION CORNER

SIGNS of the season are everywhere . . . with baby leaves uncurling their tiny fists . . . the redbud and the plum and the peach in bloom and ready to change their flowery silk prints for the green shift.

The cardinals have come back! All day, Saturday and Sunday, they made merry in the treetops whistling their high, sweet adoration of the world and world's warmer weather.

Sparrows, less musical, cheep their approval, too, and chase each other from bough to telephone wire.

* * *

OTHER signs are all around. Store windows are full of spring pastels, the straw bag, the bright "play" clothes.

Shorts are in for shopping. Sweaters are out. Iced tea is in for lunch, coffee is out.

Picnic time approaches . . . picnic and cookout and swim suit and ice cream.

First day of spring, officially on the calendar, is next Tuesday, March 21.

But spring is impatient this year. It's as if she's in a hurry and wants to be "double promoted," skipping a grade as smart children used to be permitted to do, sometimes in school.

* * *

IT'S EASY to see why some people don't like winter. 'Cause it's too cold. And the wind goes "Woo-oo."

It's equally plain why other people don't like summer. 'Cause it's too hot. And the sun stays on fire.

But when spring comes in dancing, stars in her eyes and blossoms in her windswept hair, how can people be unhappy with the season?

Spring is for song. If you don't know a song . . . try whistling! Unless, of course, you happen to have been born a rattlesnake — in which case it's best to go hide if you can.

* * *

TIME was when spring was synonomous with housecleaning. Remember the days when rugs were hung on the line for beating by men and boys?

When all the windows got washed at once, curtains were laundered, stoves taken down and stored, blankets washed and put away . . . all in one exhausting day?

Who remembers the long-handled ceiling broom everybody in the neighborhood borrowed?

Those were the good old days — and you're welcome to them. Things have changed.

In West Texas, these days, spring has come to mean outdoor cleaning up . . . the rattlesnake hunt.

It's likely that all rattlers everywhere have come to dread the season now almost as much as the little women used to.

* * *

Spring is when the birds awake
And men go hunting rattlesnake.
When bulbs come up and stuff like that
And women hunt for that new hat.

* * *

TASTIN' TEA hosted by Garden Club members in Community Center, Friday, brought out an array of familiar faces.

Saw Philip and Minna Berman . . . Billy and Louise Wilkinson . . . M. A. Smith Jr. and his wife Cleo.

Also Naomi Rhode (Mrs. Bill) and Ann Randle Davis . . . Lottie Slagel (Mrs. Cap) of the L.T.N.S. (long time no see) department . . . Ida Kirschbaum . . . Ruth Dozier . . . and Gwen Wistrand.

Emily Bridgford (Mrs. David) was at the ticket table . . . Montie Foster (Mrs. G. D.) . . . Mrs. H. L. Lockhart . . . Mrs. John Brown . . . Mrs. W. S. Edge . . . Emma Taylor (Mrs. L. J.) Nell Palmer (Mrs. Sims) Zelman Owen (Mrs. Ed) and Mrs. A. A. Herrington were dishing up bite-size goodies to taste, along with other club members.

* * *

STOP THE WORLD first night audience included Gillian McEntire and Katherine Dorn (Mrs. Landon) . . . Mona Scott and Luna (Mrs. Henry) Billberry.

Also Shug Bynum (Mrs. Howard) and Margaret Rothwell (Mrs. Ed) mothers of Dale Bynum, cornet player, and Larry Rothwell, trombonist in the orchestra for the show.

Saw Lucille Trulock (Mrs. Oren) . . . Lela Price, Irene Robertson . . . Mrs. J. Ed Richardson, Mrs. W. W. Rhode . . . Mrs. Porter Richardson . . . Dr. H. Jene Steakley . . . Charles Walker . . . Carolyn Baumann . . . Bill and Josie Randle and daughter Ann Davis . . . Joe Earnest . . . Tandy Curlee . . . Charlene Birdwell mother of pretty little Cindy Birdwell and wife of Rev. Harland.

* * *

SEEN LATELYS, other places were Virginia (Puddy) and Rush Neff . . . Don Laing, pastor of Calvary Baptist . . . Porter Richardson practicing his spring walk.

Mrs. O. L. Simpson was an office visitor. She and Mrs. Jasper Wood, by the way, got home Saturday from visits in Houston, Baytown and Pasadena (Texas.)

In Houston they accompanied Mrs. Vance Phenix, former C-Citian, on a drive down the azalea trail . . .

In Baytown they visited the Luthur Parrishes, former residents of Fairview Community, and in Pasadena they were guests of Sherman and Addie Mae (Wood) Hart who moved there from Abilene.

* * *

BRIEF ENCOUNTERS included a chat with Jay Craddock . . . another with Selma Landau, wife of Willie . . . Joe Earnest . . . Ellon Burson, wife of Guy . . . "Aunt Lutie" Wilson getting beautiful . . . and her niece Billie Wyatt Martin, wife of County Judge Elmer Martin.

Saw Clorene Stewart (Mrs. A. B.) in the library . . . Newby Pratt working in his yard — which reminds me that Evelyn and Perry Bowles moved into their beautiful new home, corner of Marshall and Dallas, last week.

Hear tell that Pvt. James T. Anderson is to leave Fort Polk, La. for Fort Sill, Lawton, Okla., soon.

FRIDAY-SATURDAY

Stop The World Last Two Nights

Two final performances for "Stop The World, I Want To Get Off," will be staged Friday night and Saturday night in Colorado High School auditorium at 8 p.m.

The show was seen by two audiences Friday and Saturday night of last week. Saturday night's crowd, observers say, exceeded the first night crowd in both numbers and enthusiastic response to the musical.

Star of the show is Al Lewis, Loraine High School band director, with Coleen Palmer as co-star. Also in the cast are Debbe Baker, Cindy Birdwell, and Jimbo Morgan.

Curtis Baker directs both the musical and the orchestra which backs the production. Mrs. Baker is pianist.

George Womack, assistant director, directs the stage action. Stage design is by Porter Richardson with T. J. Goss II and Tandy Curlee at lights and spot lights.

Shirley DeLaney is costume supervisor. Womack, Shana Bassinger and Mrs. DeLaney are the makeup artists for "Stop The World."

In the orchestra are Linda Martin, at clarinet, Martha Kinard, clarinet, Bobbie Schroeder, clarinet; Larry Rothwell and Joe Stockton, trombone; Patty Adams flute, Dale Bynum, cornet, Bob Newman, trumpet, David Helm, percussion, Addie V. Mr. & Mrs. Linton Webb Return From Honeymoon

Mr. and Mrs. Linton Ray Webb have returned from their honeymoon in New Mexico and are at home south of Loraine.

The newlyweds were married Sunday, March 5, in the sanctuary of First Methodist Church, Sweetwater, with the Rev. Darris Egger, pastor, hearing their double ring vows.

Before her wedding the bride was Miss Almaz Ruby Nayfa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Nayfa of Sweetwater. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Webb of Loraine are parents of the bridegroom.

Wedding music was played by Dr. Macon Summerlin of Abilene who accompanied Mrs. Jim Nafa of Dallas, aunt of the bride, who sang "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer." The soloist also read "How Do I Love Thee?" sonnet by Elizabeth Barrett Browning.

Church altar was marked by a fan-shaped arrangement of white snapdragons, carnations and mums, flanked by candelabra holding white candles. Palms formed the background and pews were decorated with white satin bows and tapers.

Entering with her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza over silk peau de soie fashioned in empire lines with a bodice of imported Alenfon lace, sprinkled with seed pearls. Sleeves were long, the skirt A-line with detachable train. The bride's bouffant veil of illusion was caught to an organza rose. Her bouquet was gardenias and stephanotis on a lace-covered Bible.

Miss Betty Jean Nayfa was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Maurine Daily of Denton, Miss Nadine Nayfa, Miss Mary Ruth Cohlmia, Miss Alonkia Kizes of Wichita Falls, and Miss Jane Hardin of San Antonio. Attendants wore yellow crepe formal gowns and carried topiary bouquets of white pompom chrysanthemums.

Candy Nix, niece of the groom, was flower girl. Michael Daily, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer.

Thomas Vest of Midfaul was best man and groomsmen were Maylon Beatty, Colorado City, Marion Beatty, San Angelo, Elias Nayfa, brother of the bride, Glenn Nix, the groom's nephew, and Keith Hackfeld of Loraine. Ushers were Jackie Norrell, Donnie Phillips, Eddie T. Smith and Jack Cohlmia. Candles were lighted by Randy Nix and Stanley Hackfeld.

* * *

Reception was hosted by the bride's paternal grandmother at Sweetwater Country Club. The bride's table, laid in net over satin, held the tiered white cake and silver appointments. Table for the groom featured the double ring chocolate cake and appointments in copper.

The bride is a graduate of Sweetwater High School and McMurry College. She has taught in Borger and is currently employed at KTXS-TV Station.

Graduate of Loraine High School, the groom attended Sul Ross College for three years. The couple will attend college this year.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons overall an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those microscopic, worm-like soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits.

FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to ½ bale an acre. Many High Plains farmers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow farm chemicals supplier about it.

1,200 Bills Proposed

State Agricultural Board Suggested, Too

By VEEN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

Now that virtually all the bill-introducing has been done, Texas Legislators can get down to the business of thrashing out laws.

Under the State Constitution and the rules of each house, a four-fifths vote must be obtained for a bill to be introduced in either house after the first 60 days of the session. That deadline came at the end of last week.

As the 60-day deadline approached, the House had about 1,200 bills on file. Senate had another 500 bills. In addition to these, each house has a number of resolutions to consider.

Subject matter ranges from minor local measures to proposals for sweeping overall changes in the constitution and state agencies.

That 60-day deadline is a magic number in the Senate for another reason, too. A four-fifths vote in the upper chamber is necessary in order to bring up a bill for final action before the first 60 days have elapsed.

Actually, the House is similarly restricted, but the members voted to suspend that rule early in the session.

* * *

NEW BOARD — In order to mobilize Texas' vast agricultural resources, another board is proposed. It would be known as the Texas Agricultural Development Board.

Noting that Texas is falling behind in the relative growth of one of its key industries, the interim House Committee suggests that a 15-member board representative of all areas of the state be appointed by the governor.

Its duties would be to inventory agricultural assets and needs, establish goals for the industry, prepare an agricultural market program, develop new ways of converting raw agricultural products into marketable items and perform other similar activities designed to boost agriculture in the state.

* * *

TAX HEARINGS — Major portions of the Governor's $187,300,000 tax program came under heavy fire at initial House revenue and tax committee hearings. Industry spokesmen suggested a general sales tax hike as preferable.

Gas industry representatives opposed the proposal to increase the natural gas production tax from seven to eight per cent.

Breweries objected to beer being placed under the general sales tax.

Surprisingly, corporations did not speak out against the recommended increase in the corporate franchise tax rate (from $2.25 to $3 per $1,000 on capital and surplus with a gradually decreasing levy on debt.)

Opposition to boosting the gasoline tax from five to six cents a gallon will come at a second hearing set for March 14.

Another big date will be March 21 when the controversial liquor-by-the-drink bill comes up for tax committee review.

A tipoff to opposition strategy was given by William H. Abington of Texas Mid-continent Oil and Gas Association when he suggested the Legislature might find its revenue-raising job easier by adjusting the sales tax.

Lt. Gov. Preston Smith says he favors the sales tax approach if new money must be found. He still insists that the budget can be balanced without any new taxation.

Smith indicated that the optional one per cent city sales tax bill already passed by the House will be okayed by the Senate.

* * *

REDISTRICTING — Redistricting is going to be a bigger headache this year than in 1965. So predicts House Speaker Ben Barnes after studying legislative and congressional reapportionment problems.

Some Texas congressmen reportedly are upset. Rep. Gus Mutscher, Brenham, chairman of House district committee, Sen. J. P. Word of Meridian, his Senate counterpart, and Sen. Ralph Hall of Rockwall visited Washington over the weekend to talk with congressmen and swap ideas.

Numerous relistricting bills are in the hopper.

* * *

NEW GOVERNOR — Texas will have a "new" governor on March 28. On that date Sen. William Patman of Ganado takes his turn as acting chief executive.

Patman is president pro tempore of the Senate. Each holder of that office traditionally serves as "Governor For-A-Day" while both the governor and lieutenant governor are out of the state.

Citizens from Patman's 14 county 18th district will be honor guests for the occasion. They will attend an all-day reception in the governor's office and take special tours of the governor's mansion and capitol complex. Patman will sign proclamations, honorary appointments and biils.

An exhibit by artists from Patman's district will be displayed in the capitol on that date.

Recalling that the first seat of Texas government was at Washington-on-the-Brazos (in Patman's ristrict) a special display of historical items from the area also will be set up. These will be in the State Library and Archives Building.

* * *

SCHOOL TESTING — This spring approximately 80,000 seniors in 296 high schools in 128 school districts will be given an opportunity by the state to analyze critically and constructively their schools and their teachers.

Public School Education Committee is sponsoring the unique questionnaires. Purpose is to measure what the students have learned and how well they can use their knowledge.

Results of the study will be related to a missive data-gathering project to give a full picture of the state's public school education system.

MANSION GROUNDS — Mrs. John Connally has unveiled a model representing detailed plans for landscaping and beautifying the grounds of the Governor's Mansion.

She used the unveiling to launch a statewide fund-raising project, in coordination with the new Texas Fine Arts Commission and the Texas Garden Clubs. Project is to be financed completely by donations.

Plans for the habilitation of the grouds were drawn up by Joe Lambert of Dallas. Specifications are being drafted by the State Building Commission. Construction is to begin this summer.

* * *

SNIPER DRUGS — University of Texas sniper Charles J. Whitman "ate" amphetamine drugs "like popcorn," and found a seemingly endless supply through illegal sources. A legislative committee was given this information by C. Dean Davis, general cousel for the Texas State Board of Pharmacy.

His comments concerning the killer of 16, in that murderous rampage last August 1, overshadowed hearings on bills to place LSD, amphetamines, barbiturates and a variety of hallucinagens on the dangerous drug list.

Bills went to sub-committee after length hearings.

* * *

SHORT SNORTS — Senators sent the four-year-term constitutional amendment bill back to committee for reconsideration after it was approved 5-4.

Voting on the feed lot licensing and regulating bill has been postponed in the House until March 21.

House passed a bill to authorize the Parks and Wildlife Commission to restore and maintain historic forts, missions and other important sites.

House voted to substitute Memorial Day (May 30) for Columbus Day (October 12) as an official state holiday.

Hearings on the $1.25 an hour minimum wage bill have been set for March 15-16 by Senate and House committees.

Application for a new state bank at Hurst, in Tarrant County, has been filed with the State Banking Department.

Legislature voted final authority for Bexar County commissioners to raise tax assessments to finance a teaching hospital for the new University of Texas medical school at San Antonio.

Texas Board of Mental Health and Mental Retardation has announced the appointment of Dr. John Kinross-Wright as commissioner, succeeding Dr. Shervert Frazier who resigned to return to full-time academic work at Baylor University Medical School.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says that intangible Tex as property belonging to a non-resident citizen is subject to the inheritance tax, since a provision of the law which would exempt them is unconstitutional.

Job Corps For Seniors

Senator's Idea to Utilize Elders

By RALPH YARBOROUGH
United States Senator

In the past several reports I have been talking with you about the situation facing our older Americans.

We have discussed the administration bill that I have introduced into the Senate that would prohibit discrimination in employment due to the age of a person.

I have also talked with you about the Adult Basic Education program which would help some of the 24 million adults in the United States who have an imperfect knowledge of reading and writing to learn to read and write and thus improve their earnings and their lives.

This week I want to discuss with you a program that will help many retired persons to find new purpose and meaning for their lives. This is the bill dealing with the Senior Service Corps. I am co-author of Senate bill 876 with Senator Williams of New Jersey and others to provide for a National Community Senior Service Corps.

Many of our citizens who retire find themselves at loose ends with the ability to do things, but they have nothing to do. Others are forced to retire at some arbitrary age limit when they are still very physically and mentally able. These senior citizens have the knowledge and the experience, but their talents are not being used, and there are vast groups in our community who need their talents and their help.

While these people who are able and willing to give of themselves are finding their abilities untapped, there are many other individuals with great needs that are unmet.

These are children without parents who need attention, teaching, and love. These are invalids in hospitals who have no one to care about them or visit them. These are homebound elderly people, shut in cases, who are alone without friends or family.

The skills of the senior citizen should be matched with the needs of at least a portion of the millions of individuals who are in sad and downcast situations.

The Senior Service Corps fills this need. It utilizes the abilities of the elderly who are retired but are vigorous to help needful persons. The Senior Service Corps will help those elderly persons as they help others, and it will pay these retired senior citizens $125 a month for that assistance they render to others in the community.

This has already been tried and proven in such projects as the foster grandparent plan. Elderly citizens visit and assist young children who are in hospitals. As a foster grandparent, these men and women over 55 are helping not only the young child without parents, but are also assisting an overworked hospital staff.

Another program that has been successful and has involved the elderly retired persons is Project Green Thumb. It uses the skills and technical knowledge of retired farmers in highway or park beautification projects in their local areas.

Still another example of the effective use of senior citizens was during their handling of Operation Medicare Alert. During the early part of 1966 elderly participants informed 3.8 million persons of their eligibility for medicare.

Both the necessity for encouraging our able elderly to continue to be productive, alert, and contributing citizens and the needs of our society for their help combine to cry out for this Senior Service Corps and support the appropriations for its continued operation. That is why I am working so vigorously to support it.

Preserving Law And Order

Enforcement For Crime Not To Pay

By OMAR BURLESON
U. S. Congressman
17th District

This space has been dedicated to a discussion of law enforcement on a great many occasions. This appears an appropriate time for another.

The preservation of law and order is a first and fundamental function of govern ment at any level. Every citizen has a right to expect and is entitled to expect, his government to protect his person and property.

Laws from city ordinances to the Federal Government are made for this purpose, but laws not enforced, not respected and the criminal not punished for violations, are no laws at all.

* * *

SINCE 1790, Congress has authorized the revision of criminal statutes on three occasions. The first revision began shortly after the Civil War, in 1866, when the criminal laws were scattered through 14 volumes of Statutes at Large.

President Andrew Jackson, with the Congress assenting, impowered a commission to examine criminal provisions to eliminate obsolete provisions and to collect the statutes for republication in a body.

In 1879, Congress again authorized a commission to revise and codify penal laws of the United States. These were updated in 1909, and 39 years passed before another study was made to modernize the Criminal Code.

* * *

AT THE PRESENT time the President is appointing another commission to revise clarify and codify.

Many of our laws have been complicated by Federal Courts which render decisions in some 30,000 cases a year. Loopholes need to be closed as an excuse for some of the "do-gooder" opinions which have recently been decided. In many instances the Courts have in effect rewritten sections of our criminal laws and have acted more like a legislative body than a judicial body.

The public is becoming more and more aware of these actions and certainly police and other law enforcement officials are more so. They are finding their tasks and responsibilities to be exceedingly difficult.

* * *

IT IS WELL that the President of the United States is calling for revision in our criminal statutes but what we need immediately is to stop coddling criminals and give greater regard for the victim of crime. There are advocates of the idea that the victim of crime should be compensated from public funds but the real need is the enforcement of law to make "crime not pay."

Law abiding people have a right to expect protection from criminals. Good intentions are worthless.

It is encouraging that community and civic authorities, educators, religious leaders and people from all walks of life are speaking out, demanding justice.

Law enforcement will be effective if they are permitted to do the job they are capable of doing. The detecting and apprehending of criminals is not the whole answer.

The criminal must know that his destiny includes prompt prosecution and substantial punishment. He must know that the Courts are for the protection of people against criminal acts and not alone furnishing technical procedures behind which the violator can hide.

SENATOR'S REPORT

Tower, LBJ In Step For Draft

By JOHN TOWER
United States Senator

We have been reading and hearing a good deal in recent days about the draft law — the Selective Service system by which we choose the men needed to maintain our nation's defense forces.

There have been suggestions that our draft law is not as fair as it might be. There has been considerable hue and cry that it is not "equal." It is said to impose too much uncertainty and anxiety upon our youth, their parents, their schools and their employers or prospective employers.

I think there is room for improvement in draft regulations and procedures. But I hope Texans will not lose sight of one important thing

* * *

WHAT WE must remember is why we have a Selective Service system at all.

And, the reason we have one, is a matter of national defense. We select men today — as we have for years — so that our nation always will have the very best possible defense forces in time of need.

It is not the responsibility of the draft to improve youthful morality, to increase education, to upgrade physical capabilities, or to see that everybody has equal service. On the contrary, it is the responsibility of the draft to select, in orderly fashion, the best young men available when their country needs them.

* * *

IN THE CASE of the draft there never can be equality of risk among all young Americans because: first, there are more young men today than our military forces need; and second, some of them are not mentally or physically able to do the jobs our defense requires.

Each year our weapons, vehicles and communications become more complex and more sophisticated, needing more technical operation. Thus, our defense forces today must be ever more carefully selected for mental capacity, maturity and aptitude.

And, because of the recurring, unexpected, unpredictable crises forced on us by aggressive Communism, we must have great flexibility to expand our defense forces on short notice. Much of the uncertainty associated with the draft is uncertainty caused by the international moves of the Communists.

In addition, today's draft operates — as it has traditionally — to preserve and to reinforce the American concept of the citizen-soldier who accepts an obligation to serve in the defense of freedom and national security when needed. Americans have long understood that sometimes military service must be borne by a few free men so the freedom of all can be safeguarded.

SO, WHILE there are some technical tinkerings we can undertake to improve the draft, we must constantly keep in mind this fact: the Selective Service system has passed the most important test of all — the test of battle. The Selective Service system has provided our nation today in Vietnam the very best soldiers this world has ever known.

This draft system is not new, it has been evolved through years of trial and error in war and peace. It is basically sound and must be preserved so long as tyranny threatens in this world, but we can decrease some of the uncertainties about who will serve and when.

I believe we can improve our deferment provisions as the President has suggested maintaining undergraduate college deferments but ending graduate deferments with those deferred liable for draft vulnerability later upon their graduation.

And, I tend to support the President's call for primary draft vulnerability at ages 19 and 20, rather, than throughout the period from 19 to 26. With fewer years of prime vulnerability, our young men will be better able to plan for the future — much of their current uncertainty will be alleviated.

THERE HAS been a lot of talk, too, about some sort of lottery selection system. I think much of this so-called dispute is semantic. It would not make sense to substitute total chance for rational selection of these key defense personnel. But, I do not think anybody really envisions that kind of national lottery.

I expect that after Armed Services Committee hearings next month we will find the President and Congress agreeing on minor revisions in deferment and age but within the framework of the existing, locally-responsive draft board system whereby state quotas equitably distribute the responsibility and a fair system of random selection — by date of birth or by numerical lottery — chooses from the 1-A eligibility group.

THE DRAFT should not be subverted for civilian social goals. We should not draft men less able to meet military demands. We should continue to allow education deferments so our services can choose highly-trained men when they are needed.

National defense is the keystone. When we need draftees we need them quickly; we need them badly; and we need the best.

It will never be equal for one man to die while another lives. But America lives today because, throughout our history, men — called to service by their peers — have fought for freedom, and have saved it.

My, How They've Grown

Those Girl Scouts -- 55 Years Old

Once upon a time, they had to know how to catch a runaway horse. Today, they're more likely to be catching a jet to an international meeting.

Once, they had to know the names of the governor of their state and the mayor of their city. Today, they may have just been received by the president.

Once, they only had to know how to make an invalid's bed. Today, they also teach handicapped children how to swim.

"They" are the Girl Scouts. And "once upon a time" was 55 years ago when Juliette Gordon Low founded Girl Scouts of the U.S.A. — with a troop of 12.

As Girl Scouts throughout the country celebrate their 55th anniversary this week, there may be a temptation to look at the past with a tolerant smile.

But if anyone on those days had known the word, the Girl Scouts of 1912 would have been called a pretty "swinging" group. They went on camping trips and hikes, learned how to handle tools and tie knots, how to ride a horse or a bicycle, how to swim and play basketball — activities not generally included in the upbringing of young ladies of their time.

Of course, the early Girl Scouts learned to perform the traditional domestic duties too. A girl was required to know how to cook one simple dish, such as a potato or a quarter of a pound of meat.

Girl Scouting has come a long way since then. This year, following up a national conference last summer, Girl Scouts all over the country will hold regional conferences to discuss with experts proper nutrition, home equipment, money management — and the role of women in the world outside the kitchen.

In 1912, Girl Scouts had to know how to "distinguish and name three trees, three wild flowers, three wild birds." Today, they carry out conservation and natural beauty projects as a follow-up to a nationwide coed conference of youth groups which opened on the White House Lawn.

But right from the start, being a Girl Scout was the "in" thing to do. In a few short years, the original membership of 12 had grown to 12,000. Fifty-five years and a whole new world later, Girl Scouts are still going strong — more than three million strong.

The excitement and forward movement of Girl Scouting is captured in the organization's new poster, which will appear in store windows and other public places in honor of Girl Scout Week, March 12-18. Representing the more than three million girl members in the U.S.A., the poster shows the four age levels of Girl Scouts: Brownies (ages 7 and 8); Juniors (ages 9, 10 and 11); Cadettes (ages 12, 13 and 14); and Seniors (ages 15, 16 and 17).

Sermon Of The Week

"... True Bible Repentance,"

By L. B. EDWARDS
Pastor
Westbrook Baptist Church

Jesus plainly states in Matthew 12:41 that the people of Nineveh repented at the preaching of Jonah the prophet. Therefore, to know what true Bible repentance consists of we only have to turn to the third chapter of the book of Jonah and read how the people responded to the message of Judgement which Jonah proclaimed.

"So the people of Nineveh believed God, and proclaimed a fast, and put on sackcloth, from the greatest of them even to the least of them," Jonah 3:5.

So the first step in repentance is to believe in God's message of judgment against our personal sin and to experience a deep personal conviction of sin.

The second evidence of the repentance of the people of Nineveh is their deep sorrow for sin which is evidenced by their humility of spirit and willingness to fast, wear sackcloth and sit in ashes.

Humility of heart and a feeling of unworthiness are very essential elements in true repentance as we see from Jonah 3:6-7.

The third manifestation of their repentance is in their willingness to turn from their evil way. Jonah 3:10. they had enough Godly sorrow for their sins to revolt against evil and to forsake it altogether.

And fourthly, they cried unto God for mercy and forgiveness, Jonah 3:8. God saw that in their hearts they were sincerely repenting and He spared them of the judgment He had proclaimed aginst them, 3:10.

We see from these scriptures that True Bible Repentance is not an act on the part of man, or the doing of penance by the punishment of ourselves: but it is an attitude of heart which is brought about by the Grace of God working faith,humility, conviction and confession of sin in the heart of man.

Neither is repentance reformation or the turning over of a new leaf and then joining the church. For in reformation a man only repudiates the act or deed of sin and in self-righteousness attempts to overcome the acts of sin.

In true Scriptural repentance a man repudiates his own sinful nature as the only source of his sin. He will then be willing to call on God for mercy, forgiveness and a new nature.

God does not just advise us to repent, but in Acts 17:30b we are commanded to repent. Jesus said in Luke 13:5 "Except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish."

Paul preached that men should repent toward God and have faith in the Lord Jesus, Acts 20:21.

The Grace of God works repentance and faith in our hearts which is absolutely essential to man's salvation. But our faith must not rest in a doctorine alone but in the person of Jesus as Paul stated in 2 Tim. 1:12b, "I know whom (not what) I have believed, and am persuaded He is able to keep that which I have committed unto Him against that day."
