Rumanian Easter Vigil Ends In Stampede As 150 Die In Blazing Church

FLAMES TRAP WORSHIPPERS AT PRAYERS

Lighted Tapers Fire Curtain As Hundreds Crowd Village Temple

TWO PRIESTS BURNED

Panic Stricken Throng Jams Only Exit in Desperate Flight From Fire

BUCHAREST, Rumania, April 18. (AP)—Dispatches from the village of Chcesti, near the town of Pitesti, 65 miles northwest of Bucharest, said tonight that at least 150 persons were burned to death or severely injured in a church that took fire during an Easter vigil service.

Several hundred persons were imprisoned in the flaming church. It was not known how many had escaped. Meager reports said fire brigades desperately were fighting the flames and endeavoring to break in the church doors, jammed by the pressure of the crowd within.

During the vigil service tonight, wind carried a curtain across the flames of lighted candles. The curtain caught fire and the flames were quickly communicated to the altar and the panellings.

In a panic that followed the fear-crazed congregation pressed against the doors, which opened inward, and thus cut off their own escape. Among the dead were two priests, a notary and the burgomaster of Choesti.

California Couple Present Library To School Here In Memory Of A. Zundelowitz

Another gift for Wichita Falls in the name and memory of A. Zundelowitz, pioneer Wichita Falls builder and philanthropist, was made known Friday when Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools, announced that Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cowen of Santa Monica, Calif., had endowed a $3,000 library at Zundelowitz Junior high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Cowen, nephew and niece of the late A. Zundelowitz, informed Dr. Cantwell of their plans for the school Thursday, and Friday Dr. Cantwell made the announcement a short time before Mr. Cowen left for Santa Monica after a brief visit here in connection with affairs of the Zundelowitz estate.

One of Finest

The gift to Zundelowitz Junior high school, which was named for the Wichita Falls pioneer and continued to be one of his greatest interests until his death, will give that school one of the finest libraries for Junior school students in the nation, Dr. Cantwell said. Hundreds of volumes, other than textbooks, which have not been available to public school students will now be placed in the Zundelowitz library. Few, if any, similar public schools in the nation will have a library to compare with that of the Zundelowitz school, it was pointed out. School officials here said they believed the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Cowen was one of the few endowments ever made for the benefit of a junior public school, most of such bequests going to private schools, colleges and universities.

"While we are not residents of Wichita Falls, our relations with residents of your city have been so pleasant and we have found so many fine friends here that we have come to look upon your town with the same deep affection that marked the life of Mr. Zundelowitz," Mr. Cowen told The Record News in connection with the gift.

Tribute to Pioneer

"We know of no better tribute we can make to his memory than to aid in some way the children of Wichita Falls, and to make their lives richer by providing some of the fine books which otherwise they might be denied. We are most happy to be able to make a gift to the Zundelowitz library. We feel that it is the type of gift which would especially please Mr Zundelowitz, whose affections were always so closely bound to Wichita Falls, and especially to the children of Wichita Falls."

Gratitude for the gift was expressed by Dr. Cantwell and H. A. Glass, principal of the Zundelowitz school, Dr. Cantwell declaring the endowment one of the "most gracious and generous" gifts to a public school that he had encountered in his long career as an educator.

School Heads Grateful

"In our modern system of schooling, the library is a fundamental part of our educational work," Dr. Cantwell said.

"Where the student formerly was assigned so many pages in a textbook, today his work is by subjects, a program that makes library facilities a vital part of our school equipment.

"We deeply appreciate the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Cowen. When it is considered that they are residents of a California city, such generosity is significant of their regard for Wichita Falls and Wichita Falls people.

"I feel that education is drawing closer to the people, and I have more and more faith in what the public schools can accomplish through the unselfish cooperation of our citizens."

In a statement to The Record News, Mr. Glass declared "the greatest present need of the school has been met."

"We appreciate most highly the very generous gift made by Mr. and Mrs. Cowen to the Zundelowitz school library fund," he said.

"The greatest present need of the school has been met and we may now go forward with a program of progressive education that has been somewhat hampered because of the lack of library facilities. Patrons, pupils, teachers and friends join me in expressing our sincere appreciation for the generous gift."

The gift of Mr. and Mrs. Cowen is the second made to the Zundelowitz library. The old Civic league contributed $1,000 to the school from its treasury to provide the first books for the use of students of the school. The Cowen gift will now make that school library one of the most complete of its kind, it was said.

FRENCH ACE, 3 OTHERS KILLED

Passenger Ship Plunges Into Power Wires

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 18. (US)—Four persons, among them Count Henri de la Vaulx, French flying ace, were killed this afternoon when a Canadian Colonial Airways plane, speeding through a dense fog, crashed into a high-tension wire and fell a flaming meteor to earth.

The plane, which left Montreal early today, was seeking to land at the Newark airport when the accident occurred.

Besides Count de la Vaulx, president of the International Aeronautical conference, the dead are:

Mrs. Marie E. Williams, Providence, R. I.; A. V. Conklin, New York City, and the pilot, John Salway. These were the tentative identifications announced by officials of the airways company tonight.

The plane, an eight passenger cabin model, had stopped at Albany early in the afternoon, before proceeding toward Newark. By the time it reached New Jersey a heavy fog accompanied by a drizzling rain had swept in from the Atlantic and visability was poor.

Salway, member of the Royal air force during the world war and a pilot with 2,000 flying hours to his credit, evidently turned the nose of the craft earthward in an attempt to find the landing field. In the dense fog he struck the electric wires.

Count de la Vaulx had been touring the United States in the interest of the federation. Last month he announced plans for a flight in May from Brazil to Africa. He recently made an air tour of South America.

SERVICES FOR ARCHER FIRE VICTIM SUNDAY

B. R. Senter Burned to Death as Flames Raze Store, Dad's Corner

WIFE IN HOSPITAL

Woman Injured Trying to Save Husband From Burning House

Funeral services for B. R. Senter, burned to death after his wife was overcome by burns and smoke fumes in her desperate efforts to rescue him from their blazing home at Dad's corner early Friday morning, will be held from the Lamar Avenue Baptist church at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Senter, herself badly burned and suffering from shock and grief, is under treatment at the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital. Their three small children, snatched from the flames just before Mr. Senter made his last trip into the burning building, are in the care of Mr. and Mrs. Park Senter at 309 North Austin street. The children are unhurt.

Finds House Aflame

Mr. Senter, a resident of the Wichita Falls section since the end of the world war, and proprietor of a general merchandise store at Dad's corner for the past eight years, awakened to find the home in flames about 3 o'clock Friday morning. He aroused Mrs. Senter and the two fled with the sleeping children as the blaze invaded their bedroom.

Mr. Senter who weighed about 210 pounds, started back into a storeroom of the house, presumably after money or valuable papers. He fell at the door, probably strangled by fallen electric wires. Mrs. Senter rushed to his rescue, finding him groaning and already half conscious on the floor.

Woman Rescued

Her desperate efforts to pull the heavy body from the flames were checked when the fire reached out to her and she fainted from inhailing smoke fumes. Fire fighters and neighbors of Dad's corner and Holliday, unaware that her husband was trapped within the room, took her from the building. When she regained consciousness her hysterical cries sent rescuers once more into the wreckage to find Mr. Senter's body burned beyond recognition.

Mr. Senter was born in Smith county. He made his home there and in Ellis and Johnson counties until he entered the government Indian service in Arizona as a young man. He served there until after the world war. A few years before he came to Wichita Falls at the close of the war he was married to Miss Myrtle Atwood, of Hillsboro, Texas, in Albuquerque, N. M.

Former Oil Man

Mr. Senter was a broker and oil operator during the first years of his stay in Wichita Falls, later entering the mercantile business at Dad's corner.

Besides his wife and three children, he is survived by six brothers. They are Park Senter, Wichita Falls; Hendricks Senter, who lives on the Iowa Park road; Carl Senter, Forney; J. M. Senter, Fort Worth; Melvin and Martin Senter, Albuquerque, N. M. The children are Helen Myrtle, 8, Kelly Joe, 7, and Roland Atwood, 18 months.

Rev. S. F. Martin of the Lamar Avenue Baptist church will conduct the services Sunday. Burial will be in Rosemont Burial park.

Capital Delegation to Accompany Lee's Body to Cisco for Services

Senate and House Adjourn After Death of Texas Solon; Hoover Sends Letter of Condolence

WASHINGTON, April 18. (AP)—The death today of Representative R. Q. Lee, 61, of Cisco, Texas, marked the passing of one of the prominent early settlers of the West Texas Plains country.

Stricken by paralysis five weeks ago, the Texan died this morning in a local hospital. His was the first death among the Texas delegation in a score of years.

Both the senate and house adopted a resolution of sorrow and adjourned out of respect to his memory. President Hoover sent a letter of condolence to Mrs. Lee and her five children.

Funeral Monday

A congressional delegation of 24 house members, including the Texas delegation and Senators Connally of Texas, and Bratton of New Mexico, Democrats, was designated to accompany the funeral party.

The funeral train, bearing the body left tonight for the journey to Cisco, Texas, where the funeral is to be held Monday. The party, including Mrs. Lee, her daughters and the guard of honor from house and senate is scheduled to reach Cisco Sunday afternoon but it will be too late to proceed with the funeral that day. At the last moment Senator Morris Sheppard found that he would be able to accompany the party.

Lee was born at Coldwater, Miss., in 1869, and moved to Texas in 1886. He engaged in the cattle ranching business and helped to build several small railroads, giving small Plains towns an outlet for their products.

Conservative in Business

During the spectacular oil boom period in his section following the world war, Lee gained the reputation of a conservative business man and with the subsequent collapse of the boom, he emerged as leader in West Texas. Later he was elected president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which sponsored the settling of millions untenanted Plains acres.

When former Representative Tom Blanton of Abilene, Texas, entered the Texas senatorial race in 1928, Lee was urged to run for the house seat from the 17th district. He won without opposition. He had announced his candidacy for re-election shortly after Blanton, who was defeated by Senator Connally, said he was a candidate.

Mrs. Lee, their daughters, Mrs. Leonard Simon of Cisco, and Mrs. Harold Ochler, of Dayton, Texas, their sons Edward, Robert Stein and R. Q. Lee Jr., are those surviving.

OIL HIKE NEAR, WRITER THINKS

Tulsa Correspondent Senses Another Raise Soon

By PAUL S. HEDRICK
Record News Correspondent

TULSA, Okla., April 18.—Another advance in Mid-Continent crude oil prices is not far off.

The increasing strength of refinery tank car and wholesale and retail gasoline prices, in every area of the province, coming at a time when consumption is starting on the annual maximum swing, convinces oil men that the next advance in crude prices will be soon.

They are confident that it may be given the oil industry before May 1, in spite of the bearish view that the committee of economics of the federal oil conservation board, revealed in its analysis of the oil situation for 1930. The committee of five recommended a curtailment of crude production, allocating the allowable output to certain states. It also suggested that refiners keep their cracking stills idle for most of 1930 and lower stocks of gasoline and products.

Refiners were never as optimistic as today and they report that U. S. motor grade of gasoline is strong at 7 to 7½ cents a gallon, with most of the sales at the maximum level. Another quarter of a cent advance in the spot price would tend to force crude oil quotations to be boosted and sales managers say such a condition is inevitable.

Producers report stocks being drawn upon to the extent of 60,000

WIRT FRANKLIN CARRIES FIGHT OVER PARNELL

Wichita Senator Proposes Retention of Dues for Fight in Texas

CONSTITUTION SHOWN

California Operators Talk On Public Lands and Foreign Menace

FORT WORTH, April 18. (AP)—Independent oil men today urged the major operators to "clean their own house" before seeking their aid in a program of curtailing production.

Directors of the Independent Petroleum Association of America voted unanimously to postpone action on a legislative program which would effect further proration until after the amount of oil imported had been reduced to its 1926 level or until a tariff of $1 a barrel on crude and 50 per cent ad valorem on refined products had been made effective.

Franklin in Charge

Wirt Franklin of Ardmore, Okla., president of the independents, explained the measures proposed to be enacted into law in the various oil producing states which would give regulatory bodies additional power to limit production. The proposed laws were drawn by a special minerals committee of the American Bar association and independents said that they were favored by the large companies.

The meeting of the national directors of the affiliated state organizations was held in preparation for the first annual convention of the association tomorrow. Delegates were present from every state west of the Mississippi. Special trains were expected to be run from Oklahoma City and Tulsa for the convention tomorrow and large delegations were anticipated from all over Texas.

Constitution Drawn

Russell Brown of Ardmore, chairman of the constitution committee, submitted the committee's draft of a proposed permanent constitution and the directors discussed it in detail and recommended changes. Other members of the committee were L. C. Thurman of Fort Worth, Pat Malloy of Tulsa, Earl Calloway of Amarillo, Scott Haywood of Jennings, La., Dr. W. Green of Denver, Colo., and Roland Richwooley of Bakersfield, Calif.

The most pronounced difference of the session occurred while the directors were amending the committee's draft of a proposed permanent constitution and resulted in a threat by Franklin to resign.

Franklin Supported

Texas Independents took exception to that portion of the proposed constitution providing 50 per cent of the dues be turned over to the national organization. They said they faced a fight of such magnitude in this state that they needed more than half the money.

When former State Senator J. D. Parnell of Wichita Falls offered a resolution permitting Texas to retain three-fourths of the dues from the membership in this state, Franklin threatened to quit. If such a condition were allowed to exist, he declared, and if the major battle of pushing a tariff bill through congress was eclipsed by sectional battles, the national organization would be killed and rather than see it die a slow death, he would prefer to see it disband now, the presiding officer said.

After Franklin's statement, Texas operators retreated from their position.

Parnell said he believed production should be prorated in all fields alike. He asserted his experience at proration hearings in Texas had shown him that companies contending most strongly for proration in the West Texas fields were the largest developers in East Texas and on the gulf coast.

The Wichita Falls man criticised those candidates for governor in this state who were demanding additional taxes on mineral resources, which he said consisted principally of oil. "The oil industry now is paying more than one-half the cost of state government," he asserted.

INDEPENDENTS URGE TARIFF

Majors Told to 'Put Their House in Order'

been spent in propaganda trying to convince the American people that the big companies should control the field in the interest of conservation," Parnell stated.

"Your fight today is to convince the people that the oil business is not a 'fly by night' industry but that it is just as big as the cotton business or the shoe business."

State Representative D. D. Richardson of Van Zandt county recalled with pride that he had made the closing speech in favor of the common purchaser law favored by the independents at the last session of the legislature and then emphasized that the governor had filed it without his signature and had stricken the appropriation for its enforcement.

Policy Scored

R. L. Gilmore, of Bakersfield, Calif., criticised the federal government's policy of withdrawing public domain in 11 western states from oil development and portrayed its asserted injustices to the states. Franklin explained that the independents had previously gone on record in opposition to the government's policy.

Speaking of the curtailment laws proposed Franklin said, "If the powers that be want reduction let them put their own house in order by curtailing imports. Until this is done the measures would be burdensome and onerous."

After Gilmore had concluded, Joe Danciger of Amarillo stated that the Californian had made it clear that the "Standard Oil has the California independents in a death grip."

Gilmore said that Soviet officials had informed him that Russia exported 100,000,000 barrels of oil last year and that it expected to export 250,000,000 barrels annually by 1933. Many of the speakers stressed the large amount of oil that was being imported, especially from Venezuela. Franklin said 860,000,000 barrels of crude had been imported within the past 10 years.

Franklin was warmly praised for his work in support of an oil tariff which failed by only one vote in the senate, and the directors expressed confidence the movement would not fail the next time.

James H. Gardner of Tulsa said he favored a tariff on oil because he had faith in the "almost unlimited oil resources of this country." He pointed out that a recent estimate had placed the potentiality of the gulf coast alone at 20,000,000,000 barrels.

City Purchases Loud Speakers And Microphone for Use in Parks Here

The first public address system to be used in Wichita Falls on connection with public parks will be installed for use in the Easter program being presented at Scotland park on Easter Sunday afternoon, according to information given out Friday by C. C. Bunnenberg, park superintendent.

The apparatus consists of three loud speakers, a microphone, a microphone panel and an amplifying panel purchased at an approximate cost of $500. The equipment may be transferred from one park to another upon short notice, Mr. Bunnenberg said. By placing the amplifying panel in the park or place where the entertainment is to take place, a program may be transmitted almost any place in the city by the use of telephone wire, Mr. Bunnenberg pointed out.

The major part of the program Sunday afternoon will be given by the Playground band under the direction of Paul Seeds and the remainder will be music provided by the turn table or portable phonograph used with the loud speakers. The program will begin at 2 o'clock and last until 5 o'clock.

Oil Price Raise Believed Coming

barrels a day in Oklahoma and Kansas, and in Texas areas this withdrawal amounts to almost 100,000 barrels a day, indicating that the situation is righting itself rapidly.

Purchasers of crude oil are willing to put the prices up, it is learned, but are fearful that such an action, so soon after the last advance of April 10, might weaken the proration programs.

The last advance did not wholly overcome the cut that occurred in early January, and the next price change will probably still leave a little margin under the old schedule.

Many of the major purchasers are still seeking more oil, and the Texas-Empire Pipe Line company is now constructing loops to its Mid-Continent-Great Lakes line and increasing the capacity of the pump stations so it can handle 75,000 barrels of oil a day. The present capacity is about 50,000 barrels a day.

Rumors persist that the Oklahoma City field may get a new pipeline, but it cannot be determined which line will build into the area. The Tidal Pipe Line company is reported as planning to build its own line, but so far no official statement is to be gotten from Tidal officials. The Tidal is using the Magnolia Pipe Line company's lines in handling its purchases there.

Bringing in of a big gusher near Graham in Young county, Texas, has attracted much attention here but fears of an over-production situation there are minimized by the fact development has been going on gradually in Young county for years and it is believed the field can be kept under control.

NEW REGULATIONS AT OKLAHOMA CITY

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 18. (AP)—The city council today unanimously adopted a motion instructing E. M. Fry, city manager, to call a conference of oil operators, insurance men, the state fire marshal and city fire chief to discuss regulation of oil well drilling within the city limits.

"There is no good reason for wild wells," said C. T. Lockwood, councilman, who made the motion. "Danger of wild wells is reduced to a minimum if surface casing and master gates are set long before the well is drilled to the producing sands. At the present rate, we are apt to burn the whole town."

Malcolm McKenzie, municipal counselor, was instructed to consult leading local attorneys as to regulations in California and other states.

ward for killing them. Alsup, employed by the bank as a guard, killed the men. Boyt has confessed to accompanying them to the bank.

Mrs. P. J. Burton testified that she pleaded with Alsup not to kill the bandits. She said he shot Tate in the back as he was running and then pumped several shots into the black's body after he had fallen.

Miss Francis Whiteside, a student at Texas Women's college, said that she was standing across the street from the Polytechnic Methodist church and saw Alsup kill the fleeing negro. Mrs. Mary Conder, who picked up Alsup on the running board of her car to follow Terrell, said that she begged for mercy for the fleeing negro but that the special bank guard shot him twice before he fell.

The Rev. C. C. Henson, minister of the Poly church, corroborated the women's testimony.

The first defense witness was Chief of Police W. H. Lee who testified that W. L. Zent, San Angelo chief of police and former Fort Worth prohibition agent, had told him that the Polytechnic bank was to be robbed. Chief Lee said Alsup asked him for permission to help guard the bank.

The hearing adjourned until Saturday morning.

The case has brought protest and support to the Bankers' association reward.

BIBLE CLASS SEEKS RECORD

Special Easter Service to Draw Crowd

Efforts to set a new attendance record for the Kay Bible class at its special Easter service Sunday morning include the most comprehensive plan of bringing the purpose of the meeting before the public that has ever been used, leaders of the class announced Friday. The program for the service will be announced over station KGKO Saturday night. Hundreds of windshield stickers, printed cards and plans for announcements in the theaters Saturday give promise of a large attendance.

The program includes violin numbers and vocal solos by Mr. and Mrs. Stanley M. Raub, accompanied by Mrs. J. W. Akin Jr., at the organ. Paul F. Rutledge will lead the congregational singing. Rev. J. Daniel Barron will speak on the subject "Immortality."

Plans are being made by leaders of the class for another large attendance on Mothers' day, May 11. It was on that day years ago that the class set its present record of attendance with more than 800 present, it was said. Plans are also being made for a picnic or other social event in the near future and for the annual banquet in May.

Question Is Raised, When Was Today?

Theory Dislocates Old Idea of Time

NEW YORK, April 18. (INS)—A new theory of time confronted the world today. Before an audience of scientists at a dinner of the society of arts and sciences here a paper by Dr. Gilbert N. Lewis, physicist of the University of California, was read, rejecting the idea that yesterday precedes today in the absolute sense and revealing the possibility that events now occurring effect past events in history.

The new theory revolutionizes the hoary idea of cause and effect and questions also the theory of the fourth dimension.

Dr. Lewis presented time as symmetrical, flowing in two directions and picturing the present as not only "pushed into existence by the past" but also "pulled into existence by the future." The Californian said so far he has found proof for his theory only in the field of physics.

At the dinner Dr. James McKeen Cattle, New York psychologist, was presented one of the two 1930 gold medals of the society, the other being presented by proxy to Dr. Lewis.

Henrietta Woman Flies to Coast To Join Family of Dead Lumberman

Mrs. Carl Worsham Takes Plane Today for Los Angeles and Will Be on Funeral Train to St. Paul

The first woman to fly over the new Western Air Express route from Wichita Falls to Los Angeles will board the scheduled airliner at the Municipal airport Saturday morning, arriving in Los Angeles about 8 o'clock Saturday night. She will be Mrs. Carl Worsham, wife of a Henrietta banker and ranchman and a member of a family in which three generations have been actively interested in the progress of aviation.

At Los Angeles Mrs. Worsham will meet Mrs. Charles Weyerhaeuser and children, who are accompanying the body of Mr. Weyerhaeuser on the steamship Columbia en route from the Orient to the United States. Weyerhaeuser, who was head of the lumber company bearing his name and owner of the largest standing timber lands in the world, died on board ship as he and his wife were arriving in the harbor of Bombay, India, last Feb. 15. The body was not removed from the ship.

The children of the dead capitalist went by motor from St. Paul, Minn., to Seattle, Wash., from there by airplane to Victoria, B. C., and then by steamship to Manila, Philippine Islands, where they joined their mother to accompany the body back to America for burial. Mrs. Worsham will join the party at Los Angeles, where the body will be placed on a special train for the return to St. Paul. The funeral and interment will be in that city. Mr. Worsham, who will remain in Henrietta until completion of arrangements at Los Angeles, will meet the party at St. Paul. The two families have been life-long friends.

Mrs. Worsham's flight to Los Angeles will not be her first, she having made several trips by plane to and from the coast. Her mother, Mrs. C. W. Easley, 70 years old, flew Thursday to Oklahoma City. The aged woman said at that time she preferred air travel to any other means of transportation. Carla Worsham, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Worsham, has been traveling about the country with her mother in airplanes since the age of 5. She has accompanied her mother on several flights to the West Coast and on all short trips from her home goes by plane. She recently came home for the spring vacation from Hockaday school in Dallas, where she is a student, on the Safeway line and returned last Sunday over the same route.

MRS. OVERALL'S WILL IS SETTLED

Coleman County Estate Goes to Nieces

COLEMAN, Texas, April 18. (AP)—Mrs. Martha Tyler Overall intended to convey by her will the residue of the vast Overall estate to three nieces, Judge E. J. Miller decided in district court here today.

The ruling was on request of J. P. McCord, administrator, for a construction of the will, which is being contested.

The three nieces of Mrs. Overall are Mrs. Agillia M. Franzell of Wheeling, W. Va.; Mrs. Mary M. McCully of Britton, Okla., and Mrs. Lucy Van Cleve of Macon, Mo., the latter dead. The court ruled that one-third of the residue should go to Mrs. Cleve's two children, instead of being apportioned according to the law of descent and distribution.

Mrs. Van Cleve died prior to Mrs. Overall's death and no alteration was made in the will, which bequeathed moneys remaining after all bequests approximating $175,000 had been made, to the three nieces. moneys remaining amounted to about $2,500, but land notes and oil royalties amounted to more than $300,000.

Attorneys for heirs seeking to have the residue divided equally among all relatives of Mrs. Overall filed a motion for a new trial. If this is denied an appeal will be taken.

Numerous bequests of Mrs. Overall to Texas colleges and other states and to individuals were not affected by today's judgment.

'Garret Man' Near Paramour in Jail

LOS ANGELES, April 18. (AP)—Otto Sanhuber, who imprisoned himself in garrets for 10 years in order to be near Mrs. Walburga Oesterreich, the woman he loved, today again was close to his enchantress, but both occupied cells in the county jails.

The pair was indicted jointly yesterday by the grand jury for the murder of the woman's husband, Fred Oesterreich, retired Milwaukee, Wis., garment manufacturer, Aug. 22, 1922.

Sanhuber confessed that he lived like a bat in attics of the Oesterreich homes here and in Milwaukee from 1911, when he first met Mrs. Oesterreich, until more than a year after he had slain her husband.

JURY INDICTS MAJ. SHEPARD

Officer Billed for Giving Wife Poison

TOPEKA, Kan., April 18. (INS)—An indictment charging Maj. Charles A. Shepard with first degree murder in connection with the death of his wife at Fort Riley, Kan., last June was returned by a federal grand jury here today.

Shepard is held in jail at Denver charged with the mysterious poisoning of his wife. His bond on the charge today was fixed at $20,000 by the court. His trial probably will come up at the December term of federal court at Kansas City, Kan.

Among the witnesses, who appeared before the grand jury were Miss Grace Brandon, 23, stenographer of San Antonio, Texas, with whom Shepard is said to have been friendly. The indicted army major is said by government authorities to have lavished gifts upon Miss Brandon and to have proposed marriage to her shortly after the death of his wife.

RECIPES

Grapefruit With Mint

Cut grapefruit in halves, remove the seeds and membrane and fringe the edge. Sprinkle the pulp of each half of grapefruit with one cream peppermint broken in pieces and chill. Serve on green glass plates, if possible, and garnish with mint leaves.

Egg Hors d'Oeuvres

Cut hard-cooked eggs in halves; remove yolks and cut a thin slice from the bottom of the whites, making cups that will stand upright. Mash yolks and moisten with a bit of mayonnaise. Fill cups with tiny cubes of cucumber which has been mixed with one-half as much chopped sweet pickle and salad dressing. On the top of each egg put the yolk mixture, forcing it through a pastry bag and a rose tube. Garnish with tiny diamonds of pickle. Serve each egg on a small piece of toast which has been spread with butter and the yolk mixture. Garnish around the edge with finely chopped parsley. Insert a handle in each egg, made from a very narrow strip of green pepper.

Fried Chicken

Wash and dry the pieces of chicken and roll each piece in seasoned flour—flour to which salt and pepper have been added—entirely coating the surface, or dip in cracker crumbs, then in beaten egg to which a little water has been added and again in crumbs. Melt fat, oil or butter in a frying pan. When hot place in it the pieces of floured chicken and sprinkle with salt and pepper; brown one side, then the other. Reduce the heat, tightly cover the frying pan and continue to saute slowly until the meat is tender—about 25 or 30 minutes. If the chicken is not tender at the end of this time, add a small quantity of hot water, cover and simmer until tender. If fried chicken has to stand, pack it in a hot crock, arranging in layers, as soon as it is removed from the frying pan; dot each layer with butter. Cover the crock and put in a warm place. Make the cream gravy with four tablespoons of the fat that is left in the pan; add four tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper. Stir until slightly browned and add two cups of milk; cook until it is as thick as desired.

Bird's Egg Salad

Mash cream or cottage cheese; mix with chopped nut meats and moisten with French or mayonnaise salad dressing; shape like robin's eggs, using one teaspoon of the cheese mixture for each egg. Dry parsley in the warming oven and rub between the fingers until very fine. Sprinkle the eggs with the parsley; arrange in nests of lettuce leaves and garnish with radish flowers.

Lady Fingers

Whites of three eggs.
One-third cup powdered sugar.
Two egg yolks.
One-third cup flour.
One-eighth teaspoon salt.
One-fourth teaspoon vanilla.

Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and dry, add the sugar gradually, and continue beating. Then add yolks of eggs beaten until thick and lemon-colored, and flavoring. Cut and fold in flour mixed and sifted with salt. Shape 4½ inches long and one inch wide on a tin sheet covered with unbuttered paper, using a paper bag and tube. Sprinkle powdered sugar and bake eight minutes in a moderate oven. Remove from the paper with a knife. Put together in pairs. Lady fingers are used to line moulds that are to be filled with whipped cream mixtures. They are often served with frozen desserts and are sometimes put together with whipped cream mixtures.

Stuffed Celery

Separate the stalks, scrub and leave the leaves on the tender inside pieces. Place in cold water until crisp. Moisten American cheese with mayonnaise and add a few chopped olives. Season with salt and paprika and place in groove of celery. The larger stalks may be used by cutting them in pieces three or four inches in length. Curl one end by cutting in the finest possible slices lengthwise, about one inch deep, and placing in cold water.

Orange Pekoe Mousse

One cup milk.
Two cloves.
One-half tablespoon gelatin.
One and one-half tablespoons orange pekoe tea.
Two eggs.
One-third cup sugar.
Few grains salt.
Grated rind one orange.
One-half pint cream.

Scald milk with cloves and add gelatin, which has been soaked in a tablespoon of cold water. When gelatin is dissolved add orange pekoe tea, using the dry leaves, then add gradually to egg yolks mixed with sugar, salt and orange rind, using yellow part only. Return to the double boiler and stir until thickened. Strain and cool. Beat egg whites until stiff and beat in the first mixture. Stir occasionally until cold and beginning to set. Beat cream until it begins to thicken and beat in mixture gradually and turn into mold and pack in ice and salt, using two parts of ice to one of salt. This mixture may be placed in a mechanical refrigerator pan and frozen.

Spring Styles in Eggs

The modern homemaker is interested in food values. She gives time and thought to the selection of foods that are important to the welfare of her family. Then she makes these foods attractive and interesting by the use of new and tempting recipes. In April, when eggs are at their best and are very cheap, she should consider their importance among the body-building materials. The chart given below shows their many good points.

Henrietta Woman To Speak At National Red Cross Meet

Outstanding work done by the Red Cross nutrition officers in Clay county in a three-months programs in the years of 1928 and 1929 has brought signal honor to Mrs. St. Andrew Myers of Henrietta, who is county chairman in the work. Mrs. Myers has been asked to address the National Red Cross conference convening in Washington May 5-8, on the subject of "Nutrition Service in Rural Communities." She will talk to members of the national conference on the morning of May 5, the same day on which President Hoover will address the assembly.

Mrs. Myers gives credit for the nutrition program in Clay county to the assistance she received in the work. Mrs. Olan Ridings of Byers, Mesdames Fred Posey and J. H. Tinsley of Petrolia and Mesdames Sherrill and George Wright of Bellevue were chairmen in their respective towns, with Mrs. Louis Ikard in Henrietta.

The work of Miss Florence McKinney, Red Cross nutritionist, was particularly stressed as was that of Mrs. Maude Goodman, chairman of juniors in Clay county. Mrs. Myers also named Miss Papechia Jerafonites, chairman of Junior Red Cross in Petrolia; C. A. Jolly, chairman of Junior Red Cross in Bellevue; Mrs. Glenn Younger, chairman of the pre-school nutrition class of Henrietta, which numbered 22 members; Mrs. C. G. Bock, chairman of the pre-school nutrition class in Petrolia and W. C. Parrish, county superintendent of schools and of nutrition for rural schools, as ardent workers in the annual three-months program.

Free transportation was furnished three months for nutrition service by W. J. Glasgow of Henrietta. Superintendents of the Petrolia, Byers, Bellevue and Henrietta schools gave all the assistance possible in the work.

There were 286 women enrolled in the Clay county adult nutrition class, Mrs. Myers stated, and a large percentage attended the meetings. She attributes the success of the work to her co-workers, but it is known that Mrs. Myers has been an ardent health worker both in P.-T. A. and in federated club circles. She offered a prize in the district federation, Texas State Federation of Women's clubs, which has just closed its conference in Stephenville, for the best health poster made by a school child in the district, and the fact that the prize was won by Clara Russell, a small girl attending rural school near Henrietta, shows the interest aroused in health questions in that county.

Mrs. Myers will preside at the "health breakfast" to be given Wednesday morning, April 23, at the 13th district P.-T. A. conference to be held in Electra April 21, 22 and 23.

Local Artists' Spring Exhibit Opens April 24

An art exhibit that became an established annual affair after the enthusiasm shown in the spring of 1929, will start Thursday, April 24, at the Woman's Forum clubhouse, when new work of local artists will be shown.

Committees in charge of the exhibit are requested to bring their work ready to be hung, so that all preparations may be made on Tuesday and Wednesday and the exhibit will be open to the public Thursday morning.

This local exhibit, which has been shown for several years, was declared an annual in the spring of 1929 under the chairmanship of Mrs. Luther Hoffman. Mrs. W. W. Silk, who is chairman of the art department this year, is planning a showing that will be of as much real interest to the general public as the exhibits of famous artists that have hung in the clubhouse.

Any artist may take work that has been done since the last exhibit. The exhibit will last for a week.

Healthiest!

"My little daughter is about the healthiest girl I know," says Mrs. Wm. L. Pieper, 1043 Drexel Ave., San Antonio. "And I want to give credit where it is due.

"Elaine was constipated several years ago and I gave her California Fig Syrup. It helps her so wonderfully that I have used it ever since for all her upsets or colds. It has kept her strong, energetic, rugged."

Children suffer when bowels are not regular. Breath becomes fetid; tongue coated; eyes dull. When these symptoms are neglected, biliousness, feverishness, lack of appetite invariably follow.

The first dose of California Fig Syrup relieves these symptoms and activates sluggish bowels. Successive doses help tone and strengthen weak bowels; improve appetite; encourage digestion and assimilation. Try it with a bilious, headachy, constipated child and see how it helps!

The pure vegetable product, endorsed by doctors for 50 years, always bears the name California. So look for it when buying.—Adv.

Little Theater Announces Cast For Next Play

Rehearsals for the play "Sun-Up" by Lula Vollmer, the next production of the Wichita Falls Little Theater, to be given May 5-8, have been under way for some time but the final cast has just been announced by Ernest Robertson, assistant director, who is in charge of rehearsals while F. C. McClung, the director, is occupied with "The Enemy" to be presented at the Little Theater tournament.

"Sun-Up" is a dramatic play showing a phase of war in its relation to ignorant, back-woods people. According to the director, it offers something exceptional in character portrayal and emotional contrasts of pathos and humor. The cast announced is as follows:

Widow Cagle, Marguerite Tanner.
Pap Todd, F. C. McClung.
Emmy, Jenny Louise Hindman.
Bud, Bryan Lovelace.
Sheriff Weeks, Arnold Cureton.
Rufe Cagle, Ernest Robertson.
Preacher, Walter Friberg.
Stranger, Raymond Strong.

Miss Tanner, who assumes the leading role, is a teacher of expression at the Knickerbocker Fine Arts school. Miss Hindman, Mr. Cureton and Mr. Strong have had previous dramatic experience in the Little Theater here. Mr. Robertson has been a member of the Rice Dramatic club and of the Bess Whitcomb players, Portland, Ore., as well as the Little Theater here.

Mr. Lovelace and Mr. Friberg are appearing in a dramatic production for the first time. Because of the difficult role of Pap Todd, the casting committee decided on Mr. McClung. He is not only director of the Little Theater but has formerly been on the producing staff of Egan's Little Theater, Los Angeles, and a teacher of expression at the Arts Society of St. Louis.

Longman's play catalogue states, "Sun-Up" has been a success from its first professional production in New York to its hundreds of amateur performances throughout the country. It will never die for it is composed of stuff which lasts. It is one of the few great American plays.

Wichitan Fined $15 On Trash Dumping Charge

The assessing of a fine amounting to $15 in the county court at law Friday on a plea of guilty to a charge of dumping trash on a county highway prompted L. V. Abernathy, assistant county attorney, to call the attention of residents here to the fact that dumping of trash of any kind on a highway or at the sides of a road was a violation of the law.

"Many persons either do not know the existence of that law or fail to understand its meaning," Mr. Abernathy said.

ROUGHAGE IS ESSENTIAL IN REDUCING DIETS

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN Is Ideal Roughage

If you are following a reducing diet, it is doubly important that you take a regular amount of roughage into the system daily. Most reducing diets do not contain a sufficient amount of roughage. The result is constipation—thief of both health and beauty.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is recommended by many doctors and dietitians because it contains the bulk necessary to insure proper elimination.

Also, because it contains the iron needed to help prevent anemia—another danger in reducing diets.

ALL-BRAN is not fattening. Its bulk sweeps the system clean of poisonous wastes—helping to promote glorious health and beauty.

A popular way to eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is soaked in fruit juice. Try it! It is delicious with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over cereals, salads and soups. It adds flavor to cooked foods and is equally effective. Your grocer has Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It is served in restaurants, hotels and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Easter Theme Found in Sunday Menus

dried fruits, potatoes, dried peas and beans.

Calcium—Milk, cheese and leafy vegetables.

Phosphorus—Whole cereals, milk, cheese, meat, fish, poultry, eggs, dried peas and beans and nuts.

Iron—Leaves, whole cereals, eggs, meat, poultry, dried fruits, dried peas and beans.

Iodine—Sea foods are the best sources of iodine. Cod liver oil has an especially high iodine content.

Vitamine A—Butter, whole milk, cream, eggs and cod liver oil.

Vitamine B—Tomatoes, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, vegetables in general, dried peas and beans, whole cereals and milk.

Vitamine C.—Tomatoes, oranges, lemons, grapefruit, leaves and potatoes.

Vitamine D—Cod liver oil and egg-yolk.

Eggs may be served in a number of different ways, depending upon the occasion and the place that they are to take in the menu. Many of the egg novelties are especially attractive for Sunday night suppers. The most particular hostess should not hesitate to serve a really fine egg arrangement as the main course for an informal luncheon.

The foundations for most of the fancifully named dishes are the good, dependable everyday eggs cooked in regular ways but dressed up in elegant epicurean fashion. For instance, an egg mollet is a soft-cooked egg which is served with a delicious sauce. Eggs aurora are eggs mollet served in a well seasoned tomato sauce.

Eggs—Hard and Soft

An egg becomes firm and hard at a temperature below the boiling point. Very few people have learned to be as fussy about the temperature for cooking eggs as for candy making. If a thermometer is used in the pan of water in which eggs are cooked, it will be found that eggs become firm at 180 degrees F. and that, although it takes longer for them to cook, they will be more delicate in texture and much more easily digested than those that are cooked in boiling water. Without a thermometer a safe way to cook soft and hard boil eggs is to put them in the top of a double boiler which contains rapidly boiling water; place over boiling water, cover and remove from the heat. Soft cooked eggs will be ready to serve in six, seven or eight minutes, depending on the taste of the person that is to be served. Hard cooked eggs may be left for 25 minutes, bringing the water in the bottom of the boiler to the boiling point at the end of each 10 minutes. If eggs are cooked in this manner, the yolks will be dry and mealy and the whites tender.

RECIPES

Eggs Lucullus

Soft cook six fresh eggs; place in cold water and remove shells with care. Toast six crustless slices of bread and butter. Arrange thin slices of ham on the toast; set an egg on the meat and pour over all hot mushroom sauce; put a small saute'd mushroom cap on top of each egg. Garnish with finely chopped parsley and serve as soon as possible.

Brown Mushroom Sauce

One-half pound mushrooms.
One-third cup butter.
Four tablespoons flour.
One cup brown soup stock.
Salt and pepper.

Remove stems from mushrooms and scrape them; add skins from mushroom caps, cover with cold water and cook slowly until the liquid is reduced to one-half cup. Reserve one mushroom cap for each egg and cut remainder in slices. Saute mushrooms in frying pan in three tablespoons butter for three minutes. Remove mushrooms and to the fat in the pan add two tablespoons butter and stir until well browned. Add flour and stir until flour is brown. Then add soup stock and mushroom liquor and stir until the boiling point is reached. Add the mushrooms, salt and pepper. Note, one-half cup of mushrooms, either fresh or canned may be added to a cup of rich white sauce and used in eggs lucullus instead of the brown mushroom sauce. The mushrooms should be saute'd in butter before they are combined with the sauce. This makes a tempting Eastertime luncheon dish.

Eggs Mollet au Gratin

Place soft-cooked eggs in a baking dish; cover with mushroom sauce; sprinkle with fine soft bread crumbs and grated cheese; dot with butter and paprika and brown in a very hot oven—500 degrees F. The browning must be quickly done or the eggs will be hard cooked.

Fried Stuffed Eggs

Hard-cook six eggs; cut in halves lengthwise and remove yolks and mash well. To the yolks add three tablespoons of fine bread crumbs, a tablespoon of melted butter, one-half teaspoon of salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, and one teaspoon each of grated onion and chopped parsley; blend with a raw egg yolk and refill the whites, pressing the stuffing in well; put the halves together and fasten with a tooth-pick. Roll in fine bread crumbs, in the beaten egg white to which a tablespoon of water has been added, then again in the bread crumbs. Fry in deep fat heated to 390 degrees F. as you would croquettes. Serve hot, garnished with sprigs of parsley. Pass tomato sauce with the croquettes. This is a nunusual and a most delicious dish.

Arrange small rounds of hot buttered toast on a serving platter; on each place carefully a neatly poached egg. Garnish with little bundles of three-inch long asparagus tips which have been dressed with melted butter, and with curls of crisp bacon or thin shavings of ham. Pour mushroom sauce liberally around the eggs. (A cheese or hot Hollandaise sauce may be substituted for the mushroom sauce). Garnish with a few sprigs of parsley. This is a delectable combination, suitable for a main course at a company luncheon.

Eggs Bonne Saveur

Twelve small buttered onions.
Six rounds of toast.
One-half pound sausage meat
One cup cream.
Six poached eggs.
Salt, pepper, paprika.

Fry sausage meat crisply in thin rounds; then remove from the fat and keep hot. To three tablespoons of the fat add the cream; season to taste. Place the sausage on the toast, then the poached egg and on top two onions. Pour a portion of the rich sauce around the base and decorate with paprika.

'Bad Luck Generally Bad Management' Poultry Expert Tells Raisers Here

"Simple but reliable" guides to success in poultry raising were outlined before members of the Wichita Falls Poultry association Friday night at the courthouse by E. N. Holmgreen, poultry expert of the extension department of A. & M. college.

The importance of intense study of poultry raising, Mr. Holmgreen said, is revealed by the fact that chickens, eggs, etc., bring about $50,000,000 annually to Texas growers. The industry occasions a turnover of approximately $1,500,000,000 annually in the United States, he said, and ranks fifth in the agriculture industries of the country in volume.

Approximately 80 per cent of the poultry products of this country are drawn from farmers who follow the industry merely as a sideline to other major pursuits.

"Bad luck is generally bad management," Mr. Holmgreen said. "If you are scrupulously careful to have clean chicks, clean houses, clean range space, clean feed, clean vessels for food and water, your chances of success are high. One of the most important things to remember is that sanitation is far more practical and profitable than medication; chicks can not be successfully raised on drug store products."

The meeting closed with a round-table discussion, in which Mr. Holmgreen and local agricultural leaders discussed subjects introduced by members of the association. C. C. McGown, county farm agent, John L. Mizell, county dairy supervisor, and Miss Ethel Louise Webb, county home demonstration agent, assisted Mr. Holmgreen in the meeting.

Frederick Buys Site For Water Supply Wells

FREDERICK, Okla., April 18.—At a special meeting of the city council it was decided to purchase 20 acres at $200 an acre on the E. E. New Trial Asked In $1,800 Award to Youth

A motion for a new trial was filed Friday in behalf of James Sopher, 5, who was awarded damages amounting to $1,800 by a jury in the 78th district court Wednesday after trial of his suit against Dr. W. B. Adams on a claim to $5,000 damages as a result of injuries alleged to have been suffered by him in an automobile accident, according to information given in the office of Mrs. A. B. Eichelberger, district clerk.

The motion asked that the award be set aside and a new trial granted naming several allegations as as grounds for the petition, the first of which was that the award was inadequate.

The motion claimed the verdict Wednesday was made as a result of misconduct on the part of the jury and of improper arguments on the part of counsel for the defense, which is alleged to have influenced the jury.

Why the Churches of This City Have a Right to the Support of All Intelligent Citizens

Easter Sunday approaches, and you think of your church again with warmer feelings. If you are a regular attendant at your church, you look forward to Easter as the day of a great religious festival. If you are not a regular churchgoer, then Easter to you is the day that brings you closer to your church, and all that it has ever meant to you.

You realize, at this time of the year, that your church and all churches will go on—regardless, perhaps, of any immediate personal support that you may or may not have given during the past years. The churches will go on living and doing and serving because people demand that they shall.

Go to Church Easter Sunday

The news of the day is full of reports of attempts to abolish the church by the Soviet authorities. The news of the day is likewise full of reports of the Limitation of Armaments Conference at London. You cannot think of one without remembering the other. For though the Russian civil authorities may succeed, temporarily, in abolishing the outward forms of worship and religion—the church structures and ornaments—no one seriously believes that they can abolish the spirit of worship and the essence of belief in the church. And though the armament conference may or may not result in immediate improvement in the lot of mankind, no one will deny that the will to peace on earth—which the churches have been sponsoring for close on to 2,000 years—has never been more unmistakably expressed.

The churches of this city and of the world will go on living and doing if for no other reason than that man is born with an instinct to faith and a belief in something higher than himself. And the church is the expression of that belief. So long as you have that belief, you will have the expression of it. So long as there is faith in the world, there are certain to be churches that express men's faith. It would require an inconceivably powerful force—something more powerful than government itself—to abolish churches.

The churches, your church, will go on, then. It is not a question of whether they will continue. It is a question, rather, of how well they will continue to serve. For a church which is a living church, obviously, must not alone answer the spiritual needs of its members, but must be of real service to them and to others. It is a question, then, of the service your church can render to the people of your city, to their well-being.

It is right here that the churches of this city must win your support. It is plain that they will serve in proportion to the support that you give them—support that is financial, support that is moral, support that is real.

When you attend your church Easter Sunday morning, will you bear in mind that your church is asking your all-year support . . . if it is to serve your city well.

THE INTENTS OF DEMOCRACY

Daily Editorial

THE continental congress was a lynching bee for royal authority. It swung the British crown on the yard-arm of a newly launched government. It canceled dynastic rights to our futures. But it did not abolish human nature.

It decreed that no class should ever be vested with paramount priveleges. And upon that foundation, the first outright republic in history was founded—a republic without patricians and plebeians without social grades and orders—without caste bonuses or mass limitation. In plain, emphatic and immortal terms, all men were designated free and equal; which means entitled to work, think and worship as they please.

The declaration of independence established their peerage before justice and opportunity, and then tore their fingers from its apron strings. In other words, the continental congress realized that it could not reverse the operations of nature, or upset the laws of gravity and merit.

No unfit or sub-normal can be lifted to parity with physical superiors by mortal decree. In 1776 as in 1930, it was self-evident that folk would always vary in quality, capacity and sturdiness, then, as now, legislation might only guarantee fair fields and unhampered demonstrations of ability.

The declaration of independence was not, and did not pretend to achieve a miracle. It simply unlocked the fetters on individualism—pledged each citizen that he should stand as high before judgment as his neighbor, and proclaimed that no barriers should ever persist for the undeserved profit of the few and to the detriment of the many. But revolution is not a substitute for evolution, which plainly intends strength to surmount weakness—insists that the best types shall survive, that the hardy outlast the delicate, and vitality dominate weakness.

INDUSTRY will invariably reach farther than negligence; application is forever destined to reap the harvests vacillation neglects, and determination deservedly succeeds where sloth scores failure.

No document can standardize vision, or enterprise alter cowardice into courage, or vest an ass with the character of a lion.

No two beings are born to be alike or think identically. There is a trace of the past in all strains.

Each generation produces its due percentage of culls and primes, ripens according to the soundness of seed, and exhibits in its fruitage the varying consequences of inherited blood streams.

The very family unit displays such uncontrollable vagaries of breed. The declaration of independence, the constitution and the bill of rights are nothing but licenses to show goods and invoke provided statutes for their protection. They purpose that you shall exercise option in the selection of your leaders; they distribute pass-keys to the citadels of common defense and issue irrevocable titles to the conquests of imagination and the preemptions of the pioneer. But they do not insure higher wages than labor and talent are entitled to earn or validate positions which performance cannot retain.

Whoever asks more than this from the state, is looking for crutches or demanding marked cards.

School Bond Issue Voted at Big Spring

Special to The Record News

BIG SPRING, Texas, April 18.—Voters of the Big Spring independent school district went to the polls Thursday and passed a $125,000 school bond issue by majority of 381 to 24.

Money derived from the sale of bonds will be used in construction of two new buildings, improvements to buildings now in use and for the purpose of purchasing and improving school grounds.

SNOW IN EUROPE

VIENNA, April 18. (AP)—Winter conditions have returned generally throughout southern Europe. There were snow storms today throughout Rumania, Bulgaria and the Tyrol. Traffic was blocked by the drifts.

Ferguson Throws Down the Gauntlet

ON THE DAY in the not remote past that the senate high court of impeachment returned a verdict of ouster and disfranchisement against James E. Ferguson, former Senator William A. Hanger, his chief counsel, remarked to a Texas newspaper writer, "This is crucifixion as well as forfeiture of high office and confiscation of citizenship rights. Fergusonism will be an issue in the politics of Texas until James E. Ferguson finds a home in the cemetery."

Those who have read the record made throughout the years will look upon the prophecy of Hanger 15 years ago as the prediction of a real political prophet. Now, in a remarkable address to the people, strictly Ferugsonian in wording and style, the former governor has declared "the existence of a conspiracy to bar his name from the primary ballot by the state committee on the eve of the primary election."

Hence, he has applied to the supreme court of Texas for a mandamus to compel the state committee to place his name on the ballot as a candidate for nomination for governor. This will force the issue at an early date. Now it is for the supreme court to pass on the verdict of the high court of impeachment as well as an amnesty act of the legislature which was voted by lawmakers and signed by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson while governor of the state.

It will be a review, no doubt, of Ferguson from his ouster from office until the present day. If he fails to win a high court decision, he makes bold to say that the name of Mrs. Ferguson will go on the official ballot as a candidate for governor and thus, for a second time, she will make the sacrifice for the vindication of Farmer Jim.

His statement is an interesting contribution to the political literature of the year. It covers his organization and leadership of the American party which was born one year and died the next; his candidacy for the United States senate against Earle B. Mayfield; his surprising declaration that he did not bolt the nomination of Mayfield in that year after the supreme court had ordered the name of Mayfield placed on the official ballot. He did not bolt, but he frankly admits that he did not cast a ballot for or against Mayfield on general election day.

Stimson Saving His Face

SPEAKING from London, Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state in the cabinet of President Hoover and the head of the American delegation, told a world-wide radio audience "we have reached the lowest level that I have ever heard seriously discussed before."

Secretary Stimson is a clever politician. He is saving the face of the administration and the American delegation. There is a three power pact. Great Britain and Japan and the United States made the pact. France and Italy refused to join the alliance. Delegates from France stood by their guns. Delegates from the Roman empire of Mussolini fought the battle to a finish with their backs to the wall.

It is well for an individual to save his face. It is well for a nation to save its face. Now the three power alliance pact will be submitted to the American senate, and submission will lead to more talk. President Hoover says it will result in a saving of a billion dollars. How will that be possible? His billion dollars haven't been spent; it hasn't been placed in the American treasury. Is it in the pockets of the people? If it is, it will be removed from their pockets and spent elsewhere or for another purpose.

France's Declining Birth Rate

OFFICIAL French government figures show that France's death rate last year exceeded her birth rate. The death rate is slowly rising, while the birth rate continues to go downward at an amazing rate.

Considering that fact, one is led to wonder; just how many decades is France going to be able to maintain her position as the chief continental power in Europe? Across the Rhine lies Germany—disarmed and impotent, for the moment, to be sure, but possessed already of a much larger population than France, and displaying a high birth rate that continues to swell its population each year.

How long can a shrinking population maintain its dominance over a rapidly increasing one? Ask yourself that question, if you think the present international setup in Europe is to last indefinitely.

Big Bill Thompson of Chicago

MAYOR BIG BILL THOMPSON is in high fettle. He dragged himself out of the grave by attaching himself to the skirt of Ruth Hanna McCormick. Chicago gave Ruth Hanna McCormick 125,000 plurality over Senator Chas. S. Deneen. This swept into power all the names on the Big Bill Thompson slate, and he hopes to be the Mussolini of Chicago in 1931 and '32.

Newton Jenkins ran third in the senatorial primary. He received 190,000 votes.

It was a great day for Big Bill. Now he will be punching the British lion in the ribs as in days of yore and pointing to the proud state of Illinois as an American commonwealth "dead agin" the League of Nations, the world court and ever for the mightiest navy that it is possible to float on the seven seas.

Blood Pressure Plays No Favorites

FEDERAL JUDGE WAYNE G. BORAH is holding federal court in Dallas as a sub for Federal Judge William H. Atwell. Septine Hargis, an offender against the prohibition law, asked for mercy because he had high blood pressure when he sold the illicit stuff. His plea did not touch the heart of Judge Borah. He said a person afflicted with high blood pressure should have refrained from selling poisonous stuff to innocent purchasers, and he sentenced Septine to pay a fine of $200 and serve seven months in jail. A bootlegger who will sell poison as a beverage should be given the limit. A prison term may cure this high blood pressure malady.

The Girl With The Red Hair by Rob Eden

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Gay Terris has agreed to marry her wealthy employer, Frank Patterson, whom she does not love, in payment for a loan of $5,000 to send her sick mother to Arizona. Since making her contract, she has fallen in love with Patterson's nephew, Mark Loring. Loring and Gay ask Patterson for her release but he definitely refuses. In order to earn $200 for luxuries for her mother, Gay agrees to represent Fania Crandall, a crook posing as a society woman, at a masquerade. At the ball, a valuable necklace is stolen and Gay learns through Paul Ladishaw, Fania's accomplice, that Fania is the thief. Mark disappears and Gay concludes Fania is responsible. This is too much for her, so she goes to a friend, Andy Grant, who is a newspaper reporter—and tells him the whole story. Andy takes her to Captain Bennett, detective, but when Fania appears and smoothly denies Gay's accusations, Bennett is impressed. He believes Gay insane, and sends her to a psychopathic ward. Andy calls at the ward and tells Gay that Ladishaw, too, denied her story but promises her he will get in touch with Ladishaw and perhaps he can obtain a confession from him.

CHAPTER XXXIX

The same evening about 8 o'clock Gay was told there were visitors for her. The attendant who came with the message spoke disapprovingly. It was against the rules for the patients to have visitors at night.

"Visitors?" Gay asked. "Or a visitor?"

"Visitors, I was told."

She was rather puzzled as she followed the attendant, who ambled slowly ahead, muttering to herself. Andy had been here once today. He probably wouldn't come again—

But there he was in the visitor's room, and behind him—was Mark! With a cry of joy, Gay threw herself into his arms.

Andy, and the attendant were the only other persons in the room. Andy turned his back as they greeted one another. The attendant looked frankly on, her mouth wide open.

Gay had to feel Mark's lips, his hair, his coat. She could not believe that it was he—and that he was holding her close, kissing her passionately.

All these days she had worried so, and now he was with her, close to her.

She wanted to ask him a thousand questions, and she began when they seated themselves on the hard cane couch. Andy strolled up, and drew a chair in front.

"You found him for me, Andy?" She smiled at the awkward reporter. The first time she had felt like smiling for so long . . .

"No, he came back of his own accord—"

"Then?"

"You didn't send me these, did you?" Mark asked pulling a note, and two telegrams from his pocket.

"No—" she shook her head, and pressed the hand she was holding. Mark's hand. She couldn't bear to let it go—for fear somehow that he would be gone again.

"I thought not. Grant and I talked them over coming here. He said you couldn't possibly have sent them. But I thought you had—until I met him."

"What are they?" Gay took the note which Mark had opened and held out to her.

"This was the first. It came to my hotel rooms by special messenger the night you and I talked to Frank Patterson. It was delivered after I had been at the hotel a couple of hours. I was almost crazy that night, worried about you, furious at Patterson. Of course I did as the note suggested."

The girl read the note hastily. "Dear Mark," it read. "It's going to be hard for me to get away from the farm, but I'll manage some way. Please leave it to me. The plan I have is this—as soon as you get this, take the train to Buffalo, go to the Statler hotel and wait there for me. I'll send you word when I am coming, and I'll come as soon as I can. Tell no one at your hotel where you are going, because of course we don't want Mr. Patterson to know. I'm all right here, so don't worry about me, and I'll get away as soon as I can. It may be today or tomorrow—I can't tell. They've locked me in my room tonight— Remember, the Statler hotel, and I'll come there. Don't write or wire me. Love, Gay."

"I didn't write this!" she exclaimed. "Why, it isn't even my handwriting!"

"I never had a note from you, dear," Mark said quietly, "so I didn't know. The plan sounded very reasonable to me. The secrecy, for Patterson was very ugly that night, you remember, and I knew it would be hard for you to get away."

"You went?"

"Of course, as soon as I had the note. I packed a few things, just necessities, in a small bag, and slipped out of the Knickerbocker. I'm sure no one saw me. Then I hit right for Buffalo, to wait for you."

"You're a dear, Mark—"

"I reached there in the morning, and registered at the Statler—and waited, meeting every train that came in. I was positive you'd come. I read the note a thousand times that day. I was so happy. I bought a ring, too, a wedding ring—I was all ready. For of course, I thought we'd be married immediately. You didn't come that day, but I didn't despair. I thought you couldn't get away. The note said to wait until you got there.

"The next day I met all the trains, too, but I was getting discouraged. I couldn't imagine what was the matter. I decided to wait another day, and then wire you to see what had happened. The note said not to wire, but I decided to risk it— That night I got a wire from you—at least I imagined it was from you." He held up a yellow telegram. "It said that you were all right, but you had been delayed. You would be in Buffalo the following evening. I was happy as a lark after that. Another day here, and you would be with me!

"That day was the longest I ever spent. I was an hour early for the train, and when it came I couldn't believe you weren't on it. I didn't know what to do. I decided to wait until morning to see if there was some word from you. There was, another telegram, telling me to wait another day. I was impatient by this time. I couldn't think why you were constantly delayed. But I obeyed that message, and today decided I'd come into see for myself what the difficulty was. I went around to the farm as soon as I got in—talked to some maid there at the back door. I didn't want to risk my uncle at the front—

"The maid told me that you had been gone for quite a few days, that she didn't know where you were. I was worried, then, and frantic because I had left Buffalo. For all I knew you might be there, waiting for me at the hotel—

"I had just gotten into the Knickerbocker, when Grant met me. He had been inquiring for me. That's all . . ."

Gay and Andy exchanged glances. "Fania Crandall?" she breathed. "Could she have sent the note and the telegrams?"

"How could she know that you were locked in your room that night—as the note suggests? It looks—"

Gay took up his sentence quickly. "It looks more like Mr. Patterson!"

Andy nodded. "Although there's a slim chance that she just guessed at that locked door, and put it in for effect."

"I phoned Mr. Patterson, though," the girl continued, "and he knew nothing about Mark. Didn't know where he was, he said. Anyway, I've got Mark. That's enough." She hugged him again, as the attendant approached.

"Time's up."

"Only a minute more!" Gay begged.

"Only a minute."

"And now about this," Mark said, "this." His hand indicated the room. "Grant told me coming over. It'll be all right, Gay. We'll fix it somehow. Grant tells me the only thing to do is to wait for the hearing. After it's over and you're free, we'll get married—"

She smiled bravely, and kissed him again. She loved him so—good to have him back, with her, know he loved her, too. Believed in her. His eyes had told her that.

The people in her ward didn't bother her as much, when she came back to go to bed—for the interview with Mark and Andy had taken almost an hour and the patients were preparing for bed when she came back from the recreation room. She even held Mrs. Mathews' doll, much to the woman's delight, for a few minutes. Humored her by saying that her baby was certainly growing up.

When the lights were out, and the ward grew silent, she closed her eyes, but could not sleep, Mark, Mark, she could think of nothing else. Mark waiting up in Buffalo for her, lured by a false note, Fania? Frank Patterson?

She doubted whether Patterson had sent it, and the telegrams. It wasn't like him. Fania had had her watched. Possibly she knew of her interview in the garden with Mark, and her spy had seen Mark come out of the house the next night, and had guessed the outcome.

She wasn't free yet. Six days more. She was sane! But what would she do, if at the hearing she was judged insane? Now that she had Mark—everything.

She caught the blanket and pressed it to her mouth to keep from crying out.

"What's the matter?", Rose whispered across the beds. She had heard a low moan from Gay's corner.

"Nothing—" she murmured, "nothing—oh, I didn't mean that. Everything!"

Monday—Fania wins.

A.—The department of commerce says that there are now about 10,000 theaters wired for sound pictures, out of a total of 22,624 theaters. It has been estimated that 70 per cent of the total revenue received has been from motion picture theaters that have been wired.

Q.—When was Trinity church, New York City, built?—E. B.

Q.—How badly was the White House damaged when it was burned by the British in 1814?—K. W. C.

A.—The fire gutted the interior of the building and badly damaged the exterior walls. All preparatory work and repairs to masonry were done in 1815 and early in 1816. Contracts were let for the cutting and delivery of timbers from nearby Virginia and Maryland, and the erection of the roof was commenced in October, 1816, and completed in December of the same year. By September, 1817, the work had progressed sufficiently to permit President Monroe to spend a few days in the building, and in December of that year he took up his residence there.

Q.—What is Gresham's Law?—J. P.

A.—Gresham's Law is a principle in finance and political economy, formulated about the middle of the 16th century by Sir Thomas Gresham, founder of the London Royal Exchange. The principle is: "Bad money drives out good money from circulation. The good coin (full weight and standard in purity) will be hoarded and the worn and thin, or light coins, will be used. Good money will also be used for export to other countries where it will obtain more in exchange, while the light coins will be used at home, thus depreciating the national currency."

Q.—Please trace the English alphabet to its origin.—I. N. H.

A.—The English alphabet came directly from the Latin. The Romans borrowed it from the Greeks; the Greeks from the Phoenicians. It is not known where the Phoenicians obtained their alphabet. It has been suggested that the 22 characters were adopted from the hieroglyphics of Egypt, the cuneiform characters of Babylon, or the symbols used by the Hittites or Cretans. A theory widely accepted today is that the Phoenicians being great traders and therefore familiar with the various systems of writing, used by the nations dwelling around the Mediterranean, chose from them such symbols as they needed and thus compiled their own alphabet.

Q.—How many people have been killed in the enforcement of the prohibition laws?—A. S. W.

A.—The treasury department on April 5, 1929 gave out an official report which showed that since the Eighteenth amendment became effective in 1920, 190 persons have been killed in the enforcement of the prohibition laws. Q.—Please tell something about the author of David Harum.—L. L.

A.—Edward Noyes Westcott was born Sept. 27, 1847, in Syracuse, N. Y., and spent most of his life there. He was a banker and broker until ill health caused his retirement. He wrote a number of songs, both words and music. He is known as the author of David Harum, a story of American life. He spent the winter of 1895-96 in Italy and in the latter year completed the novel. He died March 31, 1898, and David Harum was published six months later. Although it had been rejected by several publishers, 400,000 copies were sold in about one year, a record which had been equaled in the United States only twice before.

WILTSE TWIRLS SPUDDERS TO SECOND VICTORY OVER STEERS

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED D. THOMPSON

The Dallas Steers, as this contribution to beautiful letters is being writ, do not seem to be in danger of dashing all of a sudden into the leadership of the league, but they certainly have a rating of .1000 per cent in the matter of argumentation. Indeed, with Jakie Atz and his controversial grass feds on the platform, Oxford debaters would not have a chance.

The argument with Umpire Steve Basil down at the lot Thursday seemed quite hot to the uninitiated, but the row was, in fact, very tame. It was just the Steers' off day. Now in the opening game of the season down at Fort Worth Jakie Atz and everybody on his team was in good shape and able to stage an argument with an umpire worth seeing and hearing. If you doubt it, we refer you to the movies. For Jakie's colossal tilt with the ump and Frank Snyder, manager of the Cats, was immortalized by cameramen.

Jakie was telling about it Thursday afternoon before the game started. All about how he was standing there arguing with the umpire when Frank came out to put in his side of the question. "Now what are you doing out here, this isn't your decision," Jakie quoted himself as saying, and back and forth it went, world without end. Meanwhile the camera was getting it all, and the boys didn't know it. Arms flew in all directions, and voices were uplifted. "Boy," said Jakie, "I'm glad that wasn't a talking movie!"

Jakie is a great talker and he wandered from this to that as he chatted with us boys, but he always came back to the one theme that seems to be reverberating in his mind even as theme songs pollute the minds of lesser men. Said theme being the ban on broadcasting of games. In Wichita Falls there has been relatively no argument about the matter. Now and then an irate fan writes to the sports editors here, his protests are published, and that's about all that's heard of it. But take it from Jake, down in Dallas the ball club is in a fair way of being ruined. "It's terrible," said Jakie. "There are 35,000 signatures on a petition asking for the re-establishment of the baseball broadcast, and the fans no longer fill the park to see the games."

And he added: "In this matter of banning the broadcast, we're beaten, and I'll admit we're beaten. It's time something was done about it."

The willow-swinging Bettencourt, otherwise Larry, has got a new name. After he clouted his great home run Thursday in the game with the Steers, one of the veterans of the press box dubbed him Battencourt.

Hear ye, friends of Spudderland, it's Larry Battencourt from now on, or forever hold thine peace.

Earl Caldwell got a lucky break. A new arrival in camp, he was sent against the Shreveport Sports last week and was jerked in the first inning after the Sports started strolling one after another. Then came the road trip and he lost a game to the Cats. The Spudders returned home and on the home lot, where he showed up not so well on his first attempt, completely vindicated himself by scattering the Steers' 12 hits Thursday and winning the game.

In addition, Caldwell showed the sputter and steam at bat that marked him as a favorite with the crowd at Thursday's game. "Our slugging pitcher," he was called. Indeed, Caldwell, by driving in a run with a hot single past third—just at a time when runs were precious—got a great hand and made himself the fans' friend for life.

A pitcher doesn't have to be a great hitter, but he's got to make a brave and noble effort to hit the ball ere he is welcomed into the hearts of his patrons.

Sprinter Scorns Starting Blocks

NEW YORK, April 18. (UP)—Starting blocks do not aid a sprinter in getting away from the mark George Simpson, Ohio State flier, said yesterday and will attempt to prove his statement by competing without them in spring meets.

Simpson said starting blocks merely prevented a sprinter from going through the laborious process of digging starting holes with his spikes.

"Starting blocks are not an artificial aid to a sprinter," said Simpson, "and I am going to prove it by not using them in the spring meets."

Simpson will compete in a dual meet against the University of Pittsburgh Saturday without starting blocks and will defend his 100-yard dash championship in the Penn relays April 25-26 without them.

Sixty-one sprinters, including Wildermuth of Georgetown, Bowen of Pittsburgh, Farmer of North Carolina, East of Chicago, and Hutson of Dennison college, will compete against Simpson who has won the 100-yard dash at the Penn relays the past two years.

Hector Dyer, Stanford sprinter, partially supported Simpson's theory when he beat Frank Wykoff, Southern California and Olympic star, in a dual meet last week at Los Angeles.

Dyer, without using blocks, beat Wykoff, who favors them, in the century, tying the world's record of 9.5 seconds. They tied in the 220-yard dash.

Five of seven of the leading sprinters use starting blocks. Simpson ran his 9.4 century with the aid of starting blocks. Claude Bracey of Rice, Cy Leland of Texas Christian university and Jack Elder of Notre Dame, in addition to Wykoff use them.

Leland used them recently when he defeated Bracey in the Texas and S. M. U. relays and both sprinters plan to use them in the Kansas relays.

Ray Barbuti, Olympic 400-meter champion, has an interesting comment to make on Elder's use of the starting blocks.

"It's just like jumping off a springboard when Elder uses the blocks," says Barbuti, "because he arches his back so high."

WICHITA NOW LEADS LEAGUE

Hal Holds Herd to Five Hits

By FRED D. THOMPSON
The Record News Staff

Hal Wiltse, who southpawed the first and so far the only shut-out in the Texas league last week against the Fort Worth Cats, came near repeating his performance on the home lot Friday afternoon when he held the Dallas Steers to five hits while the slugging Spudders were making life uneasy for two grass fed pitchers. As a result of which Dallas dropped the second consecutive game here, 9 to 1. Meanwhile Beaumont, tied with the Spudders for the league leadership, was given a drubbing by the Indians at San Antonio, leaving Carl Williams' crew in undisputed possession of first place in the standings.

Homer Scores Three

The Spudders pushed over a run in the last half of the fourth as a drizzling rain careened out of a darkened sky. Towards the sixth the skies brightened up. Probably Euller's home run with two on the bases had something to do with the sun's reappearance in that inning. At any rate, Spudderland's hopefuls were ablaze with mirth, and proved as much by driving in four more runs in the seventh after Jakie Atz had given his venerable head a grim scratch or two and decided to replace Grimm by sending Homer Blankenship into the pitcher's box.

Wiltse kept his lariat drawn taught over the Steers' horns, and only twice did they make bold threats in the direction of the home plate. The first great menace was in the second inning, when Shirley, who forced Brown at second, went to second on Windle's single to center, and both advanced a base on Wiltse's wild pitch. Wiltse gave a tug or two and struck Robertson out to close the inning, leaving the bovine base runners stranded. The second threat brought better results, the Steers collecting their only run. It was in the eighth. Blankenship flied out to right. Morse fouled to first. Swanson was safe on a nice bunt up the third base line. Borrell singled past third, advancing Swanson to second. Blackerby singled to right, scoring Swanson and sending Borrell to third. Further hostilities were forevermore postponed, as far as that period was concerned, when Brown flied out to Fitzgerald.

Four errors, three of them coming from Hap Morse at the third base corner, figured glaringly in the defeat of the Steers.

Storti Starts It

As the skies grew menacing in the fourth inning, the Spudders put over their first run. Storti started the scuffle with a double to right field. Fitzgerald struck out. Storti went to third when Morse dropped Swanson's throw from second after Robertson had heaved the ball from the plate to the keystone position. Kloza singled to right, scoring Storti. Burns strolled and Kloza took second. Bettencourt grounded out to third and the base runners advanced a notch. Euller grounded out, pitcher to first, closing the period.

The fifth inning began, and the half over with Dallas still scoreless, Spudderland prayed for more rain that the home towners might have the dripping victory when the game was called. The rain came, indeed, but not enough of it and the pastime continued. The Spudders were likewise held scoreless in the fifth. The Dallas half of the sixth passed. Then came the Spudder scoring bee.

Fitzgerald got to first on Shortstop Windle's error. Kloza strolled and Fitzgerald advanced. Burns bounced a bunt up the third base line which couldn't have been more perfect, and the bases were packed. Bettencourt sacrificed to center, scoring Fitzgerald. Euller then connected for his home run over the left field palings, scoring Kloza and Burns ahead of himself. Crouch grounded out, second to first. Wiltse, who had reached first on the third baseman's error in the preceding inning, got there by the same means in this period. Levey singled past third, advancing Wiltse to second, Storti struck out and the inning was over.

Four More Tallies

Great slugging was responsible for the four tallies in the seventh. Fitzgerald started it with a single to right. Kloza duplicated the hit and Fitzgerald took third. Burns singled past first, the ball bouncing over Shirley's head. Fitzgerald scored and Kloza went to second. Grimm at this juncture was jerked, and Blankenship took the mound. This didn't daze Bettencourt at all. He lifted a mighty one to center for a single, scoring Kloza and advancing Burns to third. Euller singled to right, scoring Burns, and advancing Bettencourt to third. Crouch popped to the infield, Robertson making the catch. Wiltse lifted to the pitcher, forcing Euller out at second, Bettencourt scoring. Levey forced Wiltse at second, closing the inning.

In all the Spudders belabored Atz' twirlers for 12 hits.

The Shreveport Sports will provide Williams with the next opposition, games being scheduled here today and Sunday.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Question: A. F. writes—"The doctor told me I was suffering from uric acid poisoning. I would appreciate it if you would give the symptoms, and the diet to follow for correcting same."

Answer—Your doctor no doubt arrived at this conclusion from finding your urine contained too many uric acid crystals, or perhaps because you are suffering from rheumatism or gout. Uric acid in excess really appears in the blood and urine of those suffering from many different kinds of disorders. Such a condition is caused from faulty elimination of waste products and an improper balance of nuclein metabolism. A temporary cure would come through increasing elimination of poisons from the body. This must be accomplished through the functions of the body, kidneys, skin and lungs. A permanent cure will depend upon the properly balanced diet, exercising, deep breathing, skin bathing, etc.

A Cleansing Diet

Question: A Reader writes: "I benefit a lot from your menus and would like to know why you do not mention peas or cauliflower in your "Cleansing Diet Course."

Answer—In the Cleansing Diet Course I select what I consider the best of the non-starchy vegetables. Small green peas may be added to the list and cauliflower may also be used by anyone who is not troubled with flatulence.

High Heels Lead American Girls To 'Damnation'

LONDON, April 18. (INS)—"American girls are walking to physical damnation on the soles of their feet. If they continue to wear high heels they will soon have hoofs instead of feet."

So says Dr. H. R. Bynum, foot osteopathic technician of Memphis, Tenn., who has come over here to save the "soles" of Europe's women.

High heels are not only distorting women's feet, dislocating the bones and ruining the elasticity of their bodies, but they are seriously affecting the birthrate, according to Dr. Bynum, in an exclusive interview with International News Service.

"Girls who continually wear high heels are walking through life on a tight-rope," added Dr. Bynum. "The mere act of standing on the heel requires the use of 200 muscles and ligaments. In high heels the support of the body is thrown forward on the toes and gives the same effect as that of balancing on a tight rope."

Bynum does not advocate shoes without heels, but believes that the present height of high heels should be cut in half.

"No woman should wear a heel higher than the width of her bare heel," he says. "short heels do not make women awkard. No foot is as beautiful as the normal foot and the manner in which a woman carries herself has nothing to do with heels.

IOWA PARK, Texas, April 18.—Thursday evening at the annual banquet of the Retail Merchants association the following directors were elected for the ensuing year: R. L. Redin, A. C. Golden, B. L. Bradford, T. M. Clark and C. C. Hudson. Speakers for the evening were W. R. Martin, secretary of the Electra Retail Merchants association, who discussed "hot checks," and W. H. Army Flier Lands in Disabled Attack Ship

TRACY, Calif., April 18. (INS)—His plane surrounded by smudgy black smoke when an oil line connection broke, Lieut. L. O. Peterson, army aviator of the 13th attack squadron from Fort Crockett, Galveston, Texas, made a perilous forced landing here today.

Neither Peterson nor a civilian passenger named Pickett was injured.

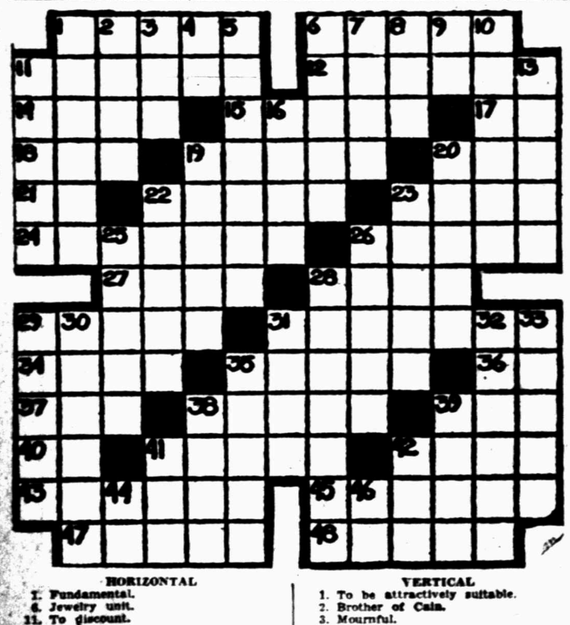

The aviator at the time was flying with a group of nine other planes en route to make a simulated attack on the airport at San Jose as part of aerial war maneuvers.

C. C. Julian Fined $100 After Oil Field Row

ARTESIA, Calif., April 18. (UP)—An argument over a Santa Fe oil field lease during which C. C. Julian, Los Angeles, and Oklahoma oil promoter, assertedly came to blows with J. A. Smith, also an oil man, costing the former head of the defunct Julian Petroleum corporation $100 today.

Julian came into justice of the peace court shortly after and pleaded guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

MID-WESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 18. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle supplies around the 11-market circuits were insufficient to make a test of market conditions today. Shippers in Chicago competed for the few of good to choice strong weight steers offered were strong to higher, with $14.50 paid for a load of 1194-pound weights. Trade this week has been marked by weak to unevenly lower prices on most all killing classes with weighty steers and low grade cows the only offering to find a dependable outlet. Especially sharp declines were in force on light steers and yearlings.

Receipts 7,900 or 1,000 less than a week ago and 4,000 short of the corresponding day last year.

The hog top of $10.60 was realized at Chicago and St. Louis. Offerings 58,300 against 66,402 last Friday, and 72,524 the same day a year ago.

Arrivals of sheep 38,100, a decrease of 11,000 from a week ago and 15,500 less than a year ago. Fat lambs were in demand. Firm to 25c higher prices was the most advance shown at Chicago. Bulk desirable 85-95-pound fed wooled lambs in Chicago brought $9.25@9.50 with the top at $9.75.

DRYGOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, April 18. (AP)—Cotton goods are being sold in moderate lots at very low prices for unfinished lines. Wash goods competition is increasing and selling agents are again stressing the necessity for drastic curtailment of production. Raw silk and silk goods showed little change. Burlaps are firmer, and prices are being stiffened by strikes at Calcutta and reports of a return of mills to 54-hour-week production. Wool goods were quiet.

CROPS NEED RAIN BADLY

Two or Three Inches Would Revive Prospects

Opinions freely expressed by farmers and other students of agriculture in the territory surrounding Wichita Falls indicate that on the basis of present conditions, the weather is adequately enforcing a policy of crop curtailment, regardless of acreage nominally devoted to the various products.

On both sides of Red river, both southeast and northwest of this city, there is a drouth amounting to one of the most severe spring dry spells encountered here in many years, according to current opinions. In Cotton and Tillman counties, Oklahoma, much land planted to wheat in the fall is being plowed up, the owners having despaired of the crop attaining any growth. Tractors and teams in the fields Thursday were surrounded by clouds of dust as they moved across the fields, preparing the soil for reception of seed. Pastures resemble those of August more than April pastures. Near the river, on the Texas side, between Burkburnett and Vernon, the land seems to have retained slightly more moisture than in other parts of this territory.

Two or three inches of rain during the next two weeks would be welcomed with enthusiasm throughout this area by both rural and urban districts, and would be regarded as the making of a 1930 crop to a large extent, it was said.

391 ENROLL IN JUNIOR C.-C.

Membership Percentage Here Highest in Nation

Announcement that the Wichita Falls Junior chamber of Commerce now has the largest membership, in proportion to population, of all organizations of this kind in the United States featured the bi-weekly luncheon program of that body at the Kemp hotel Friday noon.

This statement was made by Gus Hecht after reporting the results of a recent membership campaign which brought 82 new enrollments to the Junior chamber of commerce for a total membership of 391. The membership was divided into "The Rabble" and the "Common People" for the membership contest.

Emphasis upon the importance of facilities for athletic recreation, and the need for their additional provision in this city, was voiced by J. Alvin Gardner, president of the Texas league, in the principal talk given at the luncheon. Referring to the movement now being sponsored by the Junior chamber of commerce to effect the erection of an athletic building in this city, Mr. Gardner said:

Gardner Gives Talk

"Second only to the influence of the churches, I think that of proper physical direction for our youth is the most important accomplishment upon which we may launch our efforts fo rthis community.

"This is an athletically-minded city. We have shown that by our record in baseball, in high school and Junior college athletics, and in our maintenance of other outdoor sports. Our next need is for indoor space and equipment which will provide all-wather recreation for all classes of men here.

Removal of the steel grandstand from Call field to some down-town athletic field was recommended by Mr. Gardner. He referred to a site near Spudder park as being suitable and available for a city athletic field, on information said to have been given by William Huff, Spudder president.

Sale of all stock in the demonstration farm of the Junior chamber of commerce was reported by Jimmy Randel, chairman of the agricultural committee. Permanent organization will be effected at a meeting of all stockholders to be held soon, he said. It was also stated by Mr. Randel that numerous farm journals already have requested articles descriptive of the model farm project, and that the movement promises to give this city considerable nation-wide publicity during the coming year.

Good Will Tour

Members of the Junior chamber of commerce were asked to assist more actively during the coming three days in the sale of tickets for the Little Theater's performance of "The Enemy" at the Memorial auditorium next Tuesday night, April 22, by Overton Abernathy, chairman of the ticket-selling committee. Proceeds of the play will be given to the Family Relief association and Salvation Army here after providing the comparatively small amount needed to place the play in state competition at Fort Worth on April 25.

Plans of the manufacturers and jobbers division of the chamber of commerce for a good will tour to Altus, Okla., next Wednesday were discussed by Dudley P. Foy, assistant manager, and members of the Junior organization were invited to join the party.

Further assistance in assuring a complete census of this city by the end of this week was asked by John Boswell, general manager of the chamber of commerce.

Music for Friday's meeting was furnished by Frank Bird and his Bluebirds, stafforchestra of radio station KGKO.

Solemn Rites Mark Observance Of Good Friday in Wichita Churches

Beautiful Musical Program Features Union Services; Other Denominations Hold Annual Worship

Observance of Good Friday was commemorated by Protestant churches of the city in a three-hour passion service at the First Christian church from 12 to 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Separate services were held by members of the Catholic, Episcopal and Lutheran churches.

The passion service was opened with a chime concert from the First Methodist church at 11:45 and continued at the First Christian church with Mrs. J. V. C. T. Christensen giving the organ prelude and Dr. Gaines B. Hall reading the devotional. The devotional address, "The Cross of Christ" was given by Dr. H. T. Wood and was followed by a few moments of silent prayer and meditation.

The second part of the program was opened with a Scripture reading and prayer by Rev. T. J. Furniss after which Miss Harriet Bradley gave a vocal solo and Dr. Gaines B. Hall discussed "The Mission of Christ." Music by the choir and silent prayer ended this session.

Union Services

Rev. W. B. Walker read the Scripture and gave the prayer for the third part of the program and Rev. Patrick Henry talked on "The Compassion of Christ." Special music was enjoyed after which Rev. F. Doege opened the fourth part of the service with scripture and prayer. Mrs. J. E. Hall gave a violin solo and Rev. J. D. Barron gave the devotional address on "The Gentleness of Christ." Silent prayer and meditation closed this part of the program. Rev. Woody W. Smith gave the Scripture and prayer for the opening of the fifth part of the service and also the devotional address on "The Despair of Christ." Mrs Paul Rutledge sang "My God Why Hast Thou Forgotten Me?" and the meditation hymn was "I Need Thee Every Hour."

For the last part of the service, Dr. S. S. McKenney discussed "The Triumph of Christ" after Rev. Henry had given the Scripture and prayer. The meeting was closed with "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name."

At various intervals during the program, members of the choir which were selected from the best musical talent Wichita Falls affords gave splendid vocal numbers, under the direction of E. F. Bohmfalk.
