Wheat Harvest Nears Completion In Area

By LARRY HOLLIS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Most of the wheat harvesting in the Pampa vicinity is completed, with mainly irrigated wheat remaining to be cut.

Foster Whaley, County Agriculture Agent, said, "A good percentage of the dry-land wheat is already harvested."

"Much of the wheat on irrigated land is still being cut," he added. "It's usually harvested later than the dry land."

Whaley said a lot of the combines are leaving the area, which is a sign that much of the harvesting has been completed. The yield has been running from marginal to above average, with some fields having a high yield.

"The price is marginal," Whaley said. "There isn't much profit, since the farmers' costs have risen."

The price has been running around $1.25 per bushel. South of the city, Groom Wheat Growers, Inc., reported, two-thirds to three-fourths of the harvest is completed. The dry-land yield has been averaging between 10 and 20 bushels per acre.

A spokesman said the irrigated wheat has started coming in. All harvesting in the area should be finished within a week. Some irrigated land may be running from 40 to 50 bushels per acre, the spokesman reported.

At Laketon Wheat Growers, Inc., the harvest is "practically through—about 95 per cent in this vicinity."

The average yield for dry-land wheat has been around 20 bushels, running from 15 to 30 bushels. No report on the average for irrigated land was available. The moisture content has been "fairly low."

"All harvesting should be completed by Tuesday," a spokesman said.

Tubb Grain Co. at Kingsmill reported the harvest has been "pretty good. They're getting it out. Harvesting has been going on until midnight."

The dry-land wheat has been averaging 15 bushels or better, in the area with the irrigated land averaging 20 bu. or better. Moisture content has been about 13.40 per cent this week. It was running higher last week, a spokesman said.

All the wheat in the Kingsmill area should be harvested within 10 days, he said.

At Hoover the Wes-Tex Grain Co. reported the harvest is about three-fourths completed and should be "trailing off in three or four days."

A spokesman said, "They have hardly started (harvesting) south of the city."

The average for both dry-land and irrigated wheat has been about 6 to 18 bu. per acre. The moisture content "has gone up" (See WHEAT, Page 3)

New Officers Are Installed By Rotarians

By LARRY HOLLIS
Pampa News Staff Writer

Attorney Jimmy Thompson was installed as president of the Pampa Rotary Club at the organization's annual banquet last night in the Coronado Inn.

He succeeds David Tucker, who will serve as vice-president during the coming year.

Al Doucette was named secretary for 1968-69.

Curry, Rev. Sam Hulsey, Milo Carlson, Kay Fancher and Paul Payne, as well as Thompson and Tucker, Dr. Ed Williams was the installing officer.

Recognition was given to those Rotarians who had perfect attendance during the past year. Especially honored were Charles Burton, with 2 years of perfect attendance, and Jack Foster, with 25 years.

Milo Carlson was presented a desk set by the club for his (See ROTARY, Page 3)

The President announced today the nomination of Justice Abe Fortas to be chief justice of the United States, succeeding Earl Warren who is retiring from the Supreme Court post.

The 58-year-old Fortas will succeed Warren as soon as his appointment is approved by the Senate, the White House said.

The President also picked Judge Homer Thornberry of the U.S. Fifth Circuit Court to fill the vacancy created by Fortas' elevation.

The President read Warren's letter of resignation to reporters and a letter of reply he sent the chief justice dated today.

Johnson told Warren: "It is with my deepest regret that I learn of your desire to retire, knowing how much the nation has benefited from your services as chief justice."

Warren in a letter to the President dated June 13 said his sole reason for retiring was "the problem of age."

The 77-year-old chief justice said: "I want you to know that it is not because of reasons of health or on account of any personal or associational problems but solely because of age (that he is retiring)."

Warren told the president "my associations on the court have been cordial and satisfying in every respect, and I have enjoyed each day of the 15 years I have been there. The problem of age however is one that no man can combat and, therefore, eventually must bow to it."

Warren noted in his letter to the president that he had been interviewed on the program preceding the one the hippies disrupted, was still in the station. He looked on in astonishment.

"And they say there is violence on commercial television," he said later, with a wry smile.

Lee Hayes, producer of the disrupted program, said he will charge the intruders with criminal trespass. He said members of the group twisted his arm and knocked assistant director Greg Rusk to the floor.

REYKJAVIK, Iceland (UPI)—A North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) strategy session on Berlin broke up today with Secretary of State Dean Rusk carrying the alliance's pledge of united support to West Germany.

Chief Conner put special stress on the state law prohibiting the throwing of fireworks from motor vehicles onto the streets, into other motor vehicles, or from the street into passing cars.

"This type of violation can be taken into county court," Conner said, "and persons convicted of such throwing of fireworks can be fined up to $1,000 or sentenced to jail for one year or both."

The police chief said his department plans to bear down on the enforcement of both the city and state laws dealing with fireworks.

"We have already been getting complaints," Conner said, "and violators can expect to be arrested and prosecuted."

"Fireworks are dangerous and can cause the loss of sight, bodily injury and even contribute to the cause of death," Conner added.

Hippies Push Way Into TV Station

NEW YORK (UPI)—A score of loud-mouthed hippies, shaggy, bearded and screaming obscenities, tried to take over an educational television station Tuesday night while thousands of viewers watched in their living rooms.

The intruders burst into the basement studios of station WNDT-TV, across First Avenue from the U.N., during an "underground press" interview.

They knocked down a guard and punched their way past two members of the station staff, totally disrupting the program.

The hippies—four or five of whom were women—effectively took over the studio for about 20 minutes before police arrived. Six men and a woman were arrested, but the others escaped.

The entire incident, including the four-letter words screamed by the hippies, was picked up by the station's cameras and microphones and broadcast. Members of the staff were afraid the intruders might wreck the station if they were cut off the air.

Former astronaut John Glenn, who had been interviewed on the program preceding the one the hippies disrupted, was still in the station. He looked on in astonishment.

"And they say there is violence on commercial television," he said later, with a wry smile.

Lee Hayes, producer of the disrupted program, said he will charge the intruders with criminal trespass. He said members of the group twisted his arm and knocked assistant director Greg Rusk to the floor.

Terry Culley Resigns As Cage Coach

Head basketball coach Terry Culley has resigned his post to accept a job as head coach at Grand Prairie.

Culley submitted his resignation to the Pampa School Board last night and it was in turn given to McHenry Lane, acting school superintendent, by John Gikas, board president, this morning.

The resignation is effective Aug. 31. For details see story on the sports page of today's Pampa News.

Ho Said Determined To Get Military Win

By JACK WALSH
SAIGON (UPI)—U.S. military intelligence sources said today the Communists have ordered another full-scale attack on Saigon and are sending a force of 7,000 to 15,000 men against the city. The major attack is not expected for two weeks but "light, persistent contacts" already have begun in the outskirts.

The intelligence reports jibed with reports from Communist diplomats in London Tuesday that President Ho Chi Minh is determined to win a major victory before the Paris talks turn into any real peace negotiations.

These reports said he had turned to Moscow for immediate arms and economic supplies for North Vietnam and especially rockets and other arms for attacks against the cities of South Vietnam. Ho apparently was bypassing Red China, now reported wallowing in new chaos.

A captured Communist document made public today by U.S. government sources said Hanoi had sent one of its top leaders to the south to direct the overall offensive. He was identified as Pham Hung, first deputy premier and fifth ranking politburo member after Ho Chi Minh.

The United States was trying to counter the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong menace to Saigon with a series of B-52 raids against the Communist buildup, and especially against Viet Cong ammunition and supply dumps hidden in the jungles barely a dozen miles from Saigon. The Stratofortresses carried out an unusually high ten missions today.

The spokesmen said eight of the 25 Vietnamese men rescued had just been shot and wounded by the escaping Viet Cong. Two of the guerrillas were killed and one was captured in the fight Tuesday 75 miles southwest of Saigon.

U.S. Navy patrol boats carrying South Vietnamese troops pounced on the jungle jail in a lightning operation. The camp was hidden in the heavy brush near the mouth of the Bassac River.

The American sailors jammed their craft against the bank and sprayed covering fire for the government troops who stormed into the camp, one of more than a dozen seized by allied troops the past three years. The Viet Cong use such camps to hold defectors from their ranks, punish wayward guerrillas and hold local residents as hostages to guarantee aid from nearby civilian residents.

They claimed to have slight majorities for some of their proposals, but one of liberal Senators conceded the final version of the tax bill probably will be a general sales tax increase.

A conference committee can remove anything added to the tax bill by sales tax foes, and legislators in both houses will have to either accept the conference report in full or reject it, requiring another special session.

The House Tuesday passed another revenue-raising measure, a bill tripling tuition for out-of-state students at Texas colleges and universities. The rate would be raised from the present $200 a semester to $400 a semester hour — about $600 per semester for most students.

Reciprocity Feature
A reciprocity clause would reduce that figure to whatever the non-resident student's home state charges its out-of-state students.

Rep. Grant Jones of Abilene said there are 10,538 non-resident students in the state system, but not all of them would be affected because of exemptions for military personnel and because of the reciprocity clause.

Some legislators said the bill was another attempt by Frank C. Erwin Jr., chairman of the University of Texas regents, to reduce out-of-state enrollment at the UT law school at Austin, but Jones said his purpose was to relieve taxpayers of some of the burden of educating out of state students.

The House also passed and sent to the Senate bills extending the liquor curfew to 2 a.m. and authorizing breath tests for suspected drunk drivers.

Thieves, Vandals Active In Pampa

An estimated $16.84 worth of eggs, butter, milk and cottage cheese was burglarized from Hazlewood Dairy Products, 732 E. Frederic, sometime between 7 p.m. and 2:30 a.m. today, police report.

Indians Set Festival Here On Sunday

Billed as a "Heap Big Pow-Wow," the third annual Southwest Indian Organization barbecue and festival will get underway at 12:30 p.m. Sunday in Pampa's Hobart St. Park.

Approximately 1,000 persons are expected to attend, including tribal chiefs from the five civilized tribes of the organization.

Guests of honor will be U.S. Representative Bob Price of Pampa; Georgeann Robinson, vice president of the National Congress of American Indians; and Mrs. Mamie Echo Hawk, president of the American War Mothers.

Mayor Jim Nation will give the welcoming address and Gerald Sims will be master of ceremonies. Gifts will be presented to tribal chiefs by Marland Hays, chief of the Southwest Indian Organization.

Featured highlight of the festivities will be ceremonial dancing by the Kiowa-Apache-Blackfoot Society Dancers of Fort Cobb, Okla. The group consists of 40 dancers, ranging in ages from 5 to 70.

Another highlight of afternoon festivities will be the selection of an Indian Princess. She will be chosen from the five tribes in the organization and will represent it at all official functions.

Tickets may be purchased from Marland Hays, 334 Rider St. or Mrs. Lorene Wilkinson, 208 W. Browning. Admission for adults is $1.50 and 75 cents for children. A limited number of tickets will be available at the gate. No chairs are available at the park and those attending have been asked to bring their own if they wish to sit.

Boys Ranch Willied Portion Of Estate

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (UPI)—A Kansas City woman who died last May left a portion of her $380,000 estate to a boys ranch in Texas.

Mrs. Ida Gooch listed numerous beneficiaries in a 10-page will filed May 29 in the Jackson County probate court.

Included was Boys Ranch Inc. of Amarillo, Tex., which was to receive the "remainder" of her estate after complying with the other bequests. The boys ranch request was left in the memory of Mrs. Gooch's husband, Dr. Benjamin Gooch. Mrs. Gooch died May 26. She was 83.

Buried Under Basilica 'Convincing' Evidence On St. Peter Cited

By RAY MOSELEY
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI said today scholars have found "convincing" evidence that the bones under the main altar of St. Peter's Basilica are those of the Apostle St. Peter.

The Pope made his "happy announcement" to a crowd of several thousand persons attending his weekly general audience in St. Peter's Basilica.

Scholars as well as Roman Catholic and Protestant churchmen have long been divided over whether the bones found under the high altar actually were those of Peter, regarded by the Catholic Church as the first Pope. Some have even questioned whether St. Peter actually came to Rome, as Catholic tradition has long maintained.

The Pope said he felt "exultant" over the findings. The late Pope Pius XII began in 1939 a lengthy investigation into the matter.

"New investigations, very patient and very careful, were therefore executed with a result that we, comforted by the judgment of worthy, prudent and competent persons, believe to be positive," Pope Paul said.

"The relics of St. Peter have been identified in a way that we can regard as convincing."

According to tradition, St. Peter was crucified upside down in a Roman arena near the site of the present St. Peter's Basilica and then buried in a graveyard at the foot of the Vatican Hill.

Personal Income Continues To Set New Peaks In U.S.

By The Babson Staff

One of the most consistently strong aspects of the long up-trend in business has been the persistent climb in the rate of personal income. There have been brief slowdowns in the rise of this very important economic indicator — largely the result of strikes, although last April's declaration was due to riot-caused disruption of commercial and industrial activity. Even the mini-recession of early 1967 failed to stem the advance.

Primary factor in the sustained up-trend of personal income has been the strength in salaries and wages. This is by far the most important component of personal income. Earned incomes, of course, have been boosted by the protracted period of booming business, which has brought with it record employment and has kept the average length of factory work weeks above the forty-hours mark since January 1962. Of equal importance has been the steady round of new wage boosts.

The era of economic prosperity has also resulted in higher incomes for nonfarm proprietors, including unincorporated business and professional groups such as doctors, dentists and lawyers. Moreover, income from rentals have been creeping higher, and investment income from dividends has had an irregular but upward course. Percentage-wise, one of the most rapidly advancing components of the personal income figure has been interest income. This rise in interest rates generally, particularly in the past few years, has rendered investments in bonds more lucrative and has forced upward the rates of interest paid on savings accounts.

The rebound in business during the month of May, following the hiatus in April, resulted in a correspondingly good push for personal income. With business expected to hold up well over the months immediately ahead, personal income should make further headway, thus helping to sustain consumer optimism.

Chili 'Showdown' Is Television In Review

By KENNETH R. CLARK

BROWNSVILLE (UPI) — On July 20, some of the hottest chili-makers in the state of Texas will face each other across the soup line in Brownsville for a showdown which just had to happen sooner or later.

Contenders in the battle of the broth will be the famed Chili Appreciation Society of Dallas, which has accepted the challenge of the Brownsville City Commission. The commissioners are backed by the fledgling "Frijole, Tortilla, Menu-do, and Chili Con Carne Cultural and Drinking Society." It recently sprang to life in defense of such dishes after they came under attack by War on Poverty officials who accused border country residents of eating them to the point of malnutrition.

There may be no precedent for the "society," founded by bailiff Catarino Garza, but there are plenty of guidelines for a Texas chili fight.

The Dallas group recently took on humorist H. Allen Smith in a contest which ended in a tie when judges complained their tongues were rendered numb by the results to tell the difference.

In Brownsville, following the time-honored protocol for such cook-downs, each of the protagonists will heap insult and vituperation upon the other's chili pot. The Brownsville commissioners plan to refer to the Dallas group's product as a "ham-burger milkshake"—a slur calculated to drive them into a frenzy. Both sides then will get down to the business of proving that they alone know how to prepare chili con carne, and spectators will eat it until breath takes on the aspect of acetylene.

But a chili contest isn't the only event in the offing in Brownsville.

Increased by doubts cast upon the nutritional value of borderland cookery, the Cameron County commissioners have declared June 27-29 "Beans and Tortillas days," and the whole area was preparing this week for the fiesta.

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—A new and significant kind of involvement by television sponsors in urgent social issues was highlighted Monday night in the debut of CBS-TV's three part documentary series, "The Cities."

Rather than inserting the usual type of bland institutional commercials for such public affairs programs, the sponsor—the Institute of Life Insurance—issued "a call to action" aimed at businesses as well as individuals.

A frank and forthright spokesman for the institute noted that insurance companies have invested about $1 billion in housing and jobs projects—and, in a refreshingly direct way, indicated the interdependence of an enlightened business outlook and a healthy community.

No Interruptions—In addition, the program was not interrupted by commercials—with only opening and closing statements by the spokesman. The three programs in the series, about the urban crisis, are being presented in prime time on consecutive nights, so viewers will be able to see this unique sponsor approach tonight and Wednesday as well.

We have perhaps reached a rather admirable level of sponsor involvement. At first, there were just the self-interest commercials. Then came the institutional ones to perpetuate a nice image. Now we have the requirement of our times—the involvement in each other, the people-need-people philosophy on the business level.

Involvement, in fact, is what the series, "The Cities," is really all about. Tonight's program, for instance—"Dilemma in Black and White"—focuses sharply on racial matters in the cities. And the point is made that there is a need for a massive federal money commitment, but Vietnam puts the squeeze on this, so there is more urgency to rely on funds and help from business.

Required Viewing—"The Cities," in fact, should be required viewing for executives in major and minor businesses around the nation.

But of course it was made for all of us. And the first hour, "A City is to Live In," using Cleveland as the major example, served to summarize the many problems facing urban areas today—from pollution to schooling. And in addition to various experts on cities, the broadcast explored the views of businessmen.

WALTER F. DEAN

Walter F. Dean, 79, died at Worley Hospital at 12:10 a.m. today after a lengthy illness. A resident of 1818 Williston, he was born Sept. 30, 1888, at Claremont, Ill.

He was married to Lou McDonald Nov. 4, 1912, at Lawrenceville, Ill. They moved to Wichita Falls in 1919 where he started to work for Humble Oil and Refining Co. In 1934 they moved to Pampa where he was district superintendent of production for Humble. Mr. Dean retired in 1953.

He was a member of First Christian Church and a 30-year member of Pampa Kiwanis Club. He is survived by his wife, Lou, of the home; one half brother, Bert Lawson, Casper, Wyo.; a brother-in-law, Roy Hawley, also of Casper; two nephews and two nieces.

Funeral services are pending with Carmichael-Whitely Funeral Directors.

Grass Fire, Home Blaze Reported

A grass fire 3½ miles northwest of Pampa on the Stan Kretzmeier farm burned off an estimated 20 acres of wheat stubble last night. Two fire trucks were dispatched to the farm after the alarm sounded at 10:30, and firemen fought the blaze for about 50 minutes before bringing it under control.

Fire officials said no loss resulted from the fire, as the wheat had already been harvested and the stubble was of little or no value. Cause of the blaze, which attracted several hundred spectators, was undetermined.

One other fire was reported yesterday. The fire broke out at 3:37 p.m. at 1072 Varnon Drive and caused heavy damage to a divan and smoke damage to the rest of the house.

Claude Clay, owner of the house, reported to police that a vandal or vandals had apparently broken into the house and probably started the fire. Eggs were smashed throughout the house, including all over the divan; drawers had been pulled out and contents scattered about, and small change was missing. Total damage from the fire and vandalism was estimated at $250.

Rev. Duke Will Attend Kiwanis 53rd Convention

The Rev. J.W. Duke, minister of the First Christian Church, will be a delegate to the 53rd annual convention of Kiwanis International to be held June 30-July 3 in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Rev. Duke will represent the downtown Kiwanis Club. No delegates from the Top O' Texas as Kiwanis Club will be able to attend, according to Richard White, president.

Approximately 20,000 Kiwanians and their families will attend. They will represent more than 275,000 Kiwanis Club members in 5,600 clubs in the U.S., Canada, Mexico, the Caribbean, Western Europe, the Far East, and Central and South America. Convention sessions will be held in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

Dubbs Marker Is Due Soon At Mobeetie

MOBEETIE (Spl) — The Official Texas Historical Marker for Emanuel Dubbs, first county judge in the Texas Panhandle, will be erected soon in Old Mobeetie, it was announced today by Mrs. Grady Harris of Wheeler. Mrs. Harris is chairman of the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee.

The marker will be placed at the old jailhouse in Old Mobeetie. Dedication plans will be announced later by Mrs. Harris. The cast aluminum marker with Swedish steel effect measures 14x24 inches and is sponsored by the Wheeler County Historical Survey Committee. The inscription on the marker reads:

EMANUEL DUBBS

First County Judge in Texas as Panhandle and in Wheeler County. Dubbs was born in Ohio. Came to know Texas as a buffalo hunter, and was in famous Indian Battle of Adobe Walls, 1874. Gained wide respect when, as judge, he had a lawless U.S. marshal arrested. He served 1879-1880; 1885-1890.

The marking of local historic sites and landmarks is part of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee's 5-year RAMPs Program to Record, Appreciate, Mark, Preserve and Survey Texas history. More than 3,300 Official Texas Historical Markers have been awarded throughout Texas since the RAMPs Program was begun in 1964.

The Mobeetie marker and its location will appear in the next edition of the "Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers," in tourist guides and on maps to stimulate tourist interest in the area, to provide interest on historical tours, and to acquaint the people of the Panhandle and Wheeler County with their own unique historical past.

Thieves

"were scattered all over the street in front of the building." In other police news: —A Pampa man was taken to Highland General Hospital around midnight yesterday after he was reportedly attacked outside a local lounge.

He was treated for severe lacerations and bruises and released. The man reported that he and his girlfriend had been in an argument at the lounge and he left shortly thereafter. He told police that he was attacked outside and severely beaten.

According to police, the beating victim said he did not know the other man but that he had previously come over to the table where he and his girlfriend were sitting.

—Thieves with a penchant for ice cream took an estimated $4 worth from a Plains Creamery truck parked at 120 S. Houston, police said. Complainant Bill Smith said the youthful yeggs pried the lid off the ice cream box on the truck to get to the goodies.

—A thief or thieves took a newspaper rack from in front of Johnson's Cafe, 514 W. Foster, containing about $7. Police said the rack was later found nearby but that it was broken and bent.

Wheat

in the last couple of days." The wheat has been averaging 14 to 14½ per cent in moisture lately, though some of the wheat had been below 13 per cent last week.

"It's been an odd year," the spokesman said. He reported the harvesters have been working day and night.

Wheeler Grain Co. Inc., in Pampa said the harvest is "probably about three-fourths done." Dry-land yield has been averaging about 16 bu. per acre and higher on irrigated land.

"We've been cutting pretty late in the day," a spokesman said. The harvesting should be completed by July 4. "If the weather holds out," Moisture content has been fairly low. He reported that the average yield has been around 61 pounds per bushel.

Once you take a close look at this '68 Impala Custom Coupe, chances are you won't care what other people's 1969's are going to look like. But we'll tell you anyway.

This particular model—with its format "notchback" roof line—is the most popular one we build. Which means it's by far the most popular '68 anybody builds. Which means (and this is an open secret around Detroit these days) some other cars are going to look a lot like it in '69.

In fact, you'll probably see quite a few Chevrolet niceties on other people's "new" models. Things like disappearing windshield wipers and the protective vinyl insert that runs along the side molding of this year's Impala.

Frankly, we're kind of used to being borrowed from this way by now. Whether it's styling, riding comfort or just plain painstaking workmanship, we know that putting you first keeps us first. And we can't blame other carmakers for wanting to catch up.

But meantime the thing for you to do is drop down and have a talk with your Chevrolet dealer now. Great as our styling looks on this '68 Impala, we can't promise it's going to look so good on a '69 something else.

Happening now at your Chevrolet dealer's, a tremendous explosion of extra buying power. Only the leader could make it happen.

You've never seen savings like this on '68 Chevrolets and Chevies. Save on popular V8 engines, automatic transmissions, whitewall tires—and more. Just take a look at these five bonus savings plans. Then see your Chevrolet dealer.

Bonus Savings Plan 1 Any Chevrolet or Chevelle with 200-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Powerglide and whitewalls.

Bonus Savings Plan 2 Any Chevrolet or Chevelle with 250-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Powerglide and whitewalls.

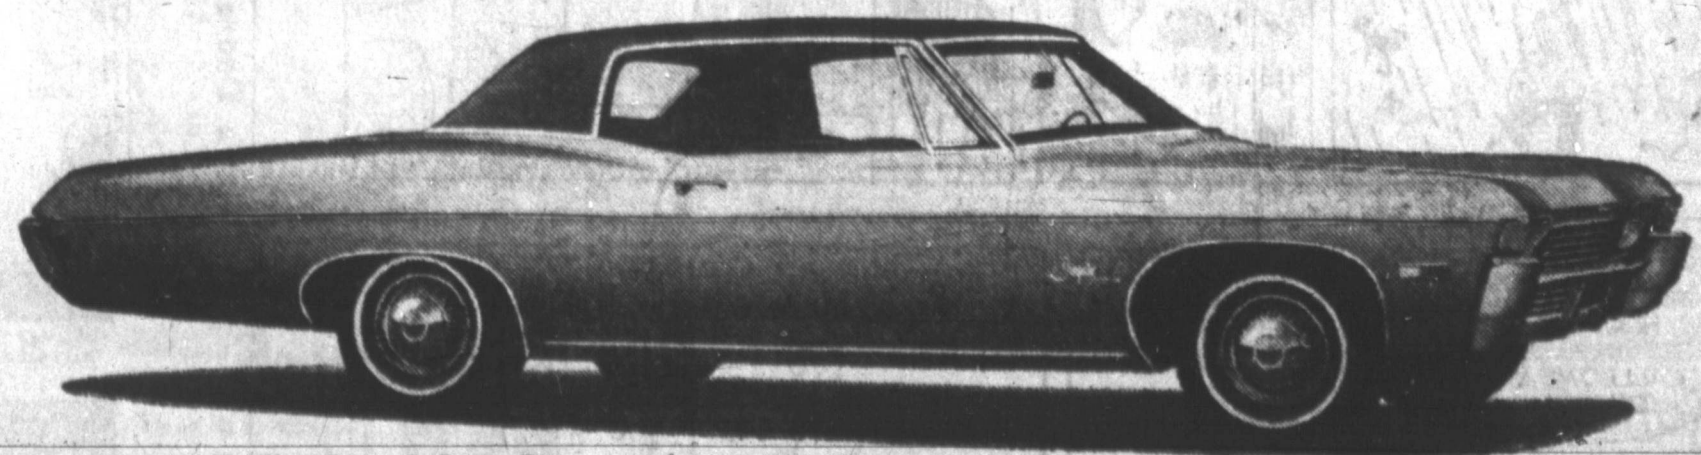

Bonus Savings Plan 3 Any big Chevrolet with 250-hp Turbo-Fire V8, Turbo Hydra-Matic and whitewalls.

Bonus Savings Plan 4 Now, for the first time ever, big savings on power disc brakes and power steering when you buy any Chevrolet or Chevelle with V8 engine.

Bonus Savings Plan 5 Buy any Chevrolet or Chevelle V8 two- or four-door hardtop model—save on vinyl top, electric clock, wheel covers and appearance guard items.

If you want to know what other people's 1969's are going to look like... take a look at the best liked '68.

WASHINGTON—Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., chairman of the House Rules Committee, saying he has decided to "go slow" on a measure which would ban mail-order firearms sales.

The President's message (calling for national registration of all weapons) got me to thinking I ought to look into this thing further. I think we ought to see how far the Judiciary Committee may want to go now. Maybe instead of two bites at the cherry they will want to take one.

'Low Tar' Cigarettes May Be Most Harmful

By PAUL R. JESCHKE

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Cigarettes lowest in tar and nicotine may be the most harmful to human lungs, a tobacco researcher told the American Medical Association today.

"While there is no doubt that tar and nicotine are injurious to other portions of the body," said Dr. Gareth M. Greene, "I can find no relationship between these components and lung tissue."

action."

Greene said a widely advertised brand of cigarettes that claims to be lowest in tar and nicotine actually resulted in more lung damage than 10 other filter brands tested.

"I don't want to name the brands," Greene said, "because that is really beside the point. What we're getting at is that there is apparently some other, unknown factor that damages lung tissue."

Greene, a professor at Harvard Medical School, conducted his research at Boston City Hospital. He said the study did not indicate which of the more than 700 components in cigarette smoke caused the damage.

The unknown agents in the smoke destroy lung cells by slowing down the process by which the lungs cleanse themselves of foreign particles, Greene reported.

A Swedish study presented to the tobacco group said that while heart disease research indicates a "strong possibility of a casual connection with smoking," heredity appeared to be an equally important factor.

The Swedish scientists studied 4500 sets of twins and in each case, one smoked and the other did not. No cause-and effect relationship could be uncovered between smoking and heart disease, the report said.

The studies were contained in a 61-page booklet, "The Project for Research on Tobacco and Health," part of a four-year study by the AMA on the smoking problem.

The medical group's research committee said investigation so far has failed to pin the blame on cigarettes for cancer, lung disease and heart ailments, but it emphasized that studies would continue for several more years.

The committee's research is partially funded by a $20 million grant from the cigarette industry.

Ballet Instructor Tough At First But Now His Students Love Him

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Simon Semenoff turned from heartless beast to respected teacher, in the eyes of a group of Texas youngsters. The catalyst was the ballet.

Semenoff, former soloist with the famed Bolshoi Ballet, traveled to San Antonio to interview, and then train, some 100 children aged 9-13 for dancing in the "ballet school" number the Bolshoi included in its World's Fair series of presentations the past week.

Semenoff concluded ballet is not taken seriously enough in America, although many talented children want instruction.

"The children are very wonderful and very talented," he said, "But there are not enough good schools or teachers."

Semenoff and Bolshoi ballet-master Asaf Mestferer carried the instruction chores, guiding wide-eyed little girls in tights through the intricacies of ballet steps.

Semenoff chose children from Dallas, Houston, Beaumont, San Antonio, Freeport and Elton in Texas, and Tulsa and Duncan, Okla.

"Some mothers from out of town are spending more than $200 for this," said Mrs. Warren Haggard of San Antonio, "for rooms, meals and transportation."

"It's been a great trial for everyone," she said, "but it's worth it." Her daughter was selected as one of the 27.

Semenoff began instructing the children six days before opening night. At first, he was strict.

"The children were in tears the first night," said Mrs. Haggard. "My daughter said she thought Mr. Semenoff was the meanest man in the world."

"They were a little bit afraid at first," said Semenoff. "Here, they don't take ballet as seriously as in Russia."

Semenoff worked the children 10 hours a day.

"In Russia, the schools teach ballet every day, as they should," he said. "Once or twice a week is not enough."

"Someday when I retire, I hope to open a ballet school somewhere in America and teach ballet as it should be taught," he said.

Several mothers said Semenoff changed in the children's eyes from a cruel tyrant to a wonderful, if demanding, teacher.

"The kids love him now," said Mrs. Haggard. "I'm sure he has inspired all of us to work harder for the perfection of the art of ballet."

LONG SHOT

COLORADO SPRINGS (UPI)—A lot of golfers jokingly talk about hitting the ball a mile. Art Lynsky of Dayton, Ohio, can boast that he did it.

Lynsky teed his ball up on the top of 14,100-foot Pikes Peak Sunday and hit his drive. It sailed about 200 yards out—and then dropped into the timber a mile below.

County In Michigan Hard Hit By Vietnam War Losses

ONTONAGON, Mich. (UPI)—Ontonagon County, 10,500 residents, sits on the south shore of Lake Superior in a mining and wood-producing area of Michigan's Upper Peninsula. Everybody knows everybody else.

When one person has a reason to be happy, his neighbors are happy for him. When one person grieves, his neighbors grieve with him.

Last Friday, Ontonagon County residents buried the seventh of their sons to die in the Vietnam War.

Residents claim that in proportion to its population, Ontonagon County has lost more boys in Vietnam than any other county in the United States. And now they want the Defense Department to stop sending their sons to Vietnam.

"In a community as small as ours, we all know each other. When one of our boys goes off to war, we all know about it," said William C. Stenson of Greenland, the county Republican chairman who has appealed to the Defense Department.

Five of the dead youths were from Ontonagon, a community of 2,500 on the Lake Superior shore. Two were from Bruce Crossing, a handful of homes deep in the northern pine country.

"These boys all knew each other. Several of them went to school together and some of them died together," Stenson said.

"On the basis of a 200 million U.S. population, the Ontonagon losses are the equivalent of 140,000 U.S. casualties, nationwide," Rep. Philip E. Rupp, R-Mich., said in Washington. Defense Department figures show that 24,744 U.S. servicemen have lost their lives in the Southeast Asian nation from Jan. 1, 1961, through June 8, 1968.

"We're not being unrealistic,"

Stenson said. "We're asking that any more boys drafted from the county not be sent to Vietnam or any other combat zone."

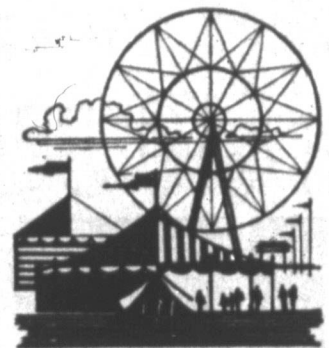

Stenson said the county would have had the highest Vietnam death rate in proportion to its size if only three boys had been killed.

DIPLOMATIC CONTACTS

TOKYO (UPI)—A leading official of the Foreign ministry said today he had made "indirect" contacts with Red Chinese diplomats in an effort to bring about improvement in relations between China and Japan.

In 1665 Thomas Willett became the first mayor of New York City.

Washington Report

From Congress
BOB PRICE WIRE SERVICE, TEXAS
300 JOHNSON DRIVE, WASHINGTON, D.C. 20540

Last Wednesday the U.S. House of Representatives approved the President's proposed tax increase along with the Senate-added provision for a $8 billion cut in Federal Spending. I was one of the 150 Members voting against the bill most of which had actually never been considered by the House Ways and Means Committee.

The Constitution of the United States placed the power of taxation, of raising revenue, in the House of Representatives closest to the people. This bill as it was first passed by the House was an excise tax bill, and had nothing to do with income taxes. The Senate added the amendments for the surtax, social security changes, and expenditure control. I opposed the bill on final passage not only because of that question, but because I believe our problem is as it has been for the last 8 years, Government overspending, not undertaxing.

There is no real assurance in the bill that there will actually be a spending reduction. In fact, the Director of the Budget nor the President has ever said where the $8 billion in spending cuts would be made. If past budget reductions are any indication, the cuts will be directed at such programs as school lunches, soil conservation, and other programs where the President knows Congress will not tolerate cuts rather than in the many areas such as foreign aid where substantial cuts could be made. There is now some $12 billion in Foreign Aid Funds unspent from previous years. The Administration in January said it would spend $186 billion in fiscal 1969, but has increased that figure to $189 billion. While Congress was talking about making cuts, the Administration was increasing the actual expenditure figure by $3 billion. The budget includes $28 billion for various welfare programs.

So we were asked to give the President $10 billion of the purchasing power of the private sector by increasing taxes, and if the government sector spends it, we have done nothing to slow down inflation. Since fiscal 1960, the Democratic Congresses, at the direction of Democratic Presidents, have had annual deficits without exception, each year which now total $60 billion for this eight year period.

Where and when will those reductions in spending occur? In 1965 the Administration said it would reduce federal employment by 25,000 jobs. Since that time, 190,325 have been added. The 1961 budget of the National Science Foundation was $152 million. Their "austerity" spending this year is $495 million. A week before the tax-spending bill was passed, the House increased the Peace Corps to $112.8 million, $3.3 million over this year although the number of volunteers will be reduced by over 600.

The Senate has passed and the House Banking and Currency Committee has approved an Omnibus Housing Bill that will cost over $6 billion. The leaders of the so-called "Poor People's Campaign" have now embarked on the civil disobedience phase of their demands for new welfare and spending programs and a guaranteed annual income. No one knows where their demands will stop or what they will cost if Congress concedes. We are no longer discussing cutting expenditures for fiscal year 1968 but for fiscal year 1969, only 6 months of which are under the Johnson Administration. Six months of fiscal year 1969 will be under the new Administration and without some commitments from President Johnson, he could keep spending at an unreduced level for his 6 months and leave all the cuts for the last 6 months to his successor. This would aggravate, not help correct inflation.

So where is the fiscal responsibility to stop the endless government spending and halt inflation? I have voted and will continue to vote for spending cuts, but I could not see my way clear to take another $10 billion away from people already overtaxed and run the risk of that amount being added to needless government spending that is the real use of inflation.

Bob Price
Member of Congress

Traveler's Clearing House for Questions

By STEVIE BRONSAYAGE
Newspaper Enterprise Assoc.
DEAR STEVIE: Should we take organized sightseeing tours while abroad or strike out on our own?

—A Reader
Those in favor often point out that tours insure seeing the main points of interest, save energy, time and tempers and provide an opportunity to sample spots to return to later for further appreciation.

Those opposed to tours mention the costs, rushed feeling no time to examine in depth and lack of freedom and excitement of being on one's own in a new environment.

How about it, veterans?

DEAR STEVIE: My sister and I live alone. She is confined to a wheelchair but handles it sufficiently well to cover her daily needs, and I drive a car. We have always wanted to travel but wonder if it would be foolhardy to try it. I'd like the Guide for Handicapped Tourists you mentioned and any advice you can offer.

—Anna M.
DEAR ANNA: In the foreword of the Guide being sent you our President says: "The only limitation to the enjoyment of our scenic beauty is that dictated by the CAPACITY OF OUR SPIRIT. Persons with physical handicaps have demonstrated the almost limitless capacity of their spirit. I urge them . . . to discover the inspiring saga of our historic past . . . and to experience the remarkable beauty of our national parks. . . . Perhaps that answers the foolhardy part. You are also being sent information about a booklet written by a paraplegic who has traveled extensively for 15 years. It brings together under one cover myriad tips specifically for the travel enjoyment of handicapped travelers.

If wheelchair gadabouts wish to share travel secrets with you and your sister, TCH has space reserved.

DEAR STEVIE: The other evening at a cocktail party some new acquaintances were comparing travel notes and one said she had a Delhi Belly in India. Another said she practiced the Aztec Two-Step in Mexico — then they both howled. The humor escaped me but I joined in anyway. Now I am wondering — especially about the Delhi Belly.

Senior Center Corner

Several attended the Senior Center meeting Thursday.

House guests over the weekend for Mrs. Mollie Hethcock was her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bell, and their daughter, Mable Thompson, and grandson Gordon Goff and Kim Goff of Ephrata, Wash.

We missed Mrs. C.L. Adams who was reported ill, and who she can be with us Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Moseley attended a family reunion at Mangum, Okla., June 16.

Mrs. Lena Chandley Fowler has not been with us lately. She had eye surgery last week and was in Worley Hospital, but has been released to go home to Lefors.

Mrs. Lillian Wade of Schnelder visited her mother, Mrs. Pearl Erwin last week.

Mrs. Ruby Stowell spent the weekend in Elk City, Okla., with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Gertie Shaw visited her son and his family in East Wauke, Wash., recently.

Mrs. May Flavin has returned from a three-weeks visit in Farmington, N. M. with her brother, W. L. Smith and his family and also with relatives in Colorado.

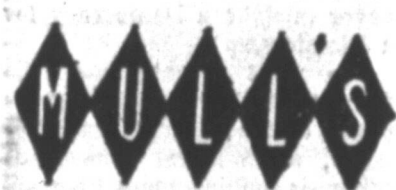

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Collum celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary Sunday. Their children attended the reunion and visited during the weekend.

T. W. McMillan is back in Pampa for the summer. He has been visiting his brother in Williams, Ariz.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kendricks, and his brother, and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kendricks of Coolidge, Ariz., toured Grand Canyon and the petrifed forest recently.

Miss Cindy Duenkel was a guest at the center last week. There will be one more meeting before July 4, which falls on a Thursday. A meeting is also set for July 11, as usual.

Hostesses at the last meeting were the Jaycee-Ettes who served refreshments in costumes. Mrs. Carol Williamson, president, was assisted by Mrs. Wanda Winton and Mrs. Sue Hinds.

Astrological Forecast

By CARROLL RIGHTER

(FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 21)
GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is no day or evening to try to rectify difficult matters from the past. But you would certainly be wise to seek new methods, new inventions, new appliances by which to get everything in perfect working order. Well-rounded courses of action that require much thought and planning is expected for the week ahead.
ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Listen to clever advice that can give you. Stop trying to tell others what to do or they will resent it. Start eliminating what is no longer useful. Why keep your closets so cluttered when others can be helped by what you throw away?
TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) If you simply give a word of praise to those who honor at your elbow, you find that the whole morale improves. Stop insisting about the inevitable — merely make different arrangements. Show that you have wisdom.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of grumbling, show gratitude to kin for the assistance given you. Listen to their keen ideas. That gossip friend if best given the cold shoulder now. Time is valuable so why waste it in meaningless talk.
CANCER (June 22 to July 21) Be on the lookout for higher-ups who have an axe to grind. Do your work efficiently and all's fine. Forget all that expensive fun later. Drop in on friends or relatives who like you. You'll have a better time.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) A little different system is needed if you want to be successful where your personal ambitions are concerned. Some business tie could give you a rough time if you argue over that money matter. Plan first, then handle business matters with determination.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have a powerful friend who understands your needs and is willing to help you. Show how much you appreciate such assistance. Avoid those cold, calculating persons who make you feel like a fool. Don't be sad.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Why are you thinking of giving that idea of yours to one who can use it immediately for own good instead of your going ahead with it? You could really advance as a result of it now. Be smart — keep your mouth shut.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have to use more modern thinking and methods if you expect any real growth in whatever your career may be. Do so. Being more aware of what is best for you to do in an emotional way, is necessary.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Tap your subconscious early in the day and you get the answers to problems that are plaguing you now. Then get many affairs nicely straightened out. Coming to real point of understanding with make-a-possible tonight.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19) Be sure to get those arrangements completed with others on which you have been working for the past two paydays. Don't jeopardize fine possibilities now. This could be an alliance that could change your whole life.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18) With all those chores to be done you had better plan your time early so you're sure to get all confused later in the day. Get more cooperation from co-workers. You have plenty of ability — use it!
PISCES (Feb. 19 to Mar. 20) Make those plans for a trip soon that will gain you your finest aims. Then sit down to some hobby that relaxes you. Why not look up training of there can be trouble when it's neglected? A few laughs will do you a world of good.
IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY, he, or she, will be one of those highly romantic young people, so give the right training or there can be trouble when it comes time to think on a practical and positive plane. Dealing with the general public where commodities are concerned is best left out here. Religious and ethical training should come early.

WINDOW THRIFT

Shades or blinds make good insulators and help keep heat in or out according to the season. In the summer, rooms can be kept cool by drawing the shades early in the day to seal out the sun's heat. In the winter, reverse the process to keep the heat in when the sun is down. You will also protect your draperies by keeping out the sun's hottest rays.

Garden Club Plans '68 Placement Show

Pampa Garden Club members will sponsor the annual placement show from 1 to 6 p.m. Thursday in Mrs. J. M. Sweeney's home, 916 Christine. Mrs. Myron Dorman is flower show chairman.

Six judges from Pampa, Amarillo and Booker will award blue, red and yellow ribbons in each class and give honorable mention awards. An award of merit is planned for five horticulture classes, and a sweepstakes award to the exhibitor having the largest number of blue ribbons, Mrs. Sweeney said.

A best of show award will be given for the best arrangement in all classes; a judges' trophy will also be presented. The club has five members who qualify as national judges.

"A placement show is a little more difficult for the exhibitors for they must make arrangements suitable for their place in the house. About 40 points are given for appropriateness to the place," Mrs. Sweeney said.

The 13 committee chairmen this year are Mmes. Lee Moore, schedule; Carlos Grissom staging; V. N. Osborne, horticulture classification; Thelma Bray, horticulture entries; Frank Hall, advanced and artistic entries; E. W. Hogan, placements; Joe Curtis, publicity; Holly Gray, judges; Bert Robinson, hospitality; Floyd Watson, awards and W. E. Hinton, clerks.

The judges who will review club members' arrangements of fresh plant material in the "Joyous Pursuits" theme, are all nationally accredited flower show judges.

DEAR ABBY: I never thought I'd be writing to you but no one else will listen.

Abby, my mother is a first class A-1 square. I am nearly 13 years old, and she treats me like I was four. She won't let me wear the kind of clothes I want. She won't let me use ANY make-up, and SHE tells me how I should fix my hair. I look like a creep. It is a wonder a boy will even look at me. I asked her if I could have boys come over and she said "No, you are too young!"

She showed me something from your column about when a girl could be her own boss. You said when a girl can pay for her own education, buy her own clothes, pay for her room and board, dentist, doctor, and all that crud, she could be her own boss. Believe me, you didn't make any points with me.

NOWHERE GIRL
DEAR NOWHERE: Simmer down! I think your mother is right. Send me her name and address and I'll nominate her for MOTHER OF THE YEAR.

DEAR ABBY: There is a "swinger" who moved into our apartment building recently. She lives on our floor, and ever since she has moved in, my husband wants to empty the trash all the time.

She's big, blonde, and buxom, and I've never seen her in anything but a Japanese kimono.

I used to BEG my husband to take out the trash, now he goes around the house looking for waste paper baskets to take to the incinerator room.

When he happens to see this lady in the hall, he stands around talking to her and getting his eyes full for 15 or 10 minutes. Should I worry?

THE WIFE
DEAR WIFE: Not as long as he's in the hall.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

The Gun Law Furore

We are not quite certain what the American individual is supposed to do now, about his gun.

According to some extremists, he is supposed to turn it in to the officials, and cleanse his soul of violence.

And in a way, we quite agree. We have for many years tried to encourage the development of a moral society wherein there would be no violence. If individuals live a moral life, respecting the rights of their neighbors, there is no need for guns, no need for violence, and incidentally, no need for politicians to try to tell us what is right and what is wrong. By the time we reach that nonviolent stage of development, we will all know right from wrong.

In the meantime, the folks who seem to think that all we need is another federal or state law expect us to believe that our society is sick with violence and that the cure for this evil will come about when we turn everything over to Washington.

Well, the American people may be sick to some degree, but they are not all stupid. Cold logic has a way of cooling off the heat of emotion when a man quietly considers the protection of his individual home and family.

And this logic shows quite unmistakably that our nation is well supplied with laws. We have many laws designed to eliminate the possession, use and sale of narcotics — but we have no narcotic law violations that we have homicides. We have many laws to control automobile traffic, but violations keep an army busy citing, arresting and prosecuting.

We once had laws prohibiting the use and sale of alcoholic beverages in this nation, and that monumental failure is well documented.

And while we're discussing laws and guns, it might be well to remember that the gun which Sirhan B. Sirhan is alleged to have used to kill Sen. Robert Kennedy was registered. In addition, it is illegal in California to have in possession a loaded gun in a public place in a city such as where the shooting occurred, and further, it is illegal for an alien to possess a concealable firearm at all. Yet, the man did have the gun, from all reports in violation of those laws. Would another registration law or another prohibition have stopped an individual intent on murder?

What does all this prove? Nothing, perhaps, but it is rather convincing evidence that political laws will not solve the social ills of a nation.

Philosophically, this is a basic debate between the adherents of Statism and the Individualists. But when you get down to the core, most people do not give a hang about the philosophy. What they do seem to care about is their own life and property, and it is becoming increasingly clear that while 97 per cent of Americans are peaceful law-abiding citizens, more and more of them are beginning to prefer to have just a little extra measure of self-protection.

Congress can pass all the gun laws it may choose to pass, but Americans concerned with their own safety will not give up their defense. About all the laws will be able to accomplish will be to make law breakers out of individuals concerned only with self protection, and to open up a new and lucrative enterprise for the underworld.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

California Gun Law Failed To Deter Kennedy Assassin

By PAUL HARVEY
Now some judge in Milwaukee wants all guns turned in or confiscated, placed in guarded armories, to be withdrawn by hunters or sportsmen when needed as one withdraws books from a public library. What nonsense!

Each time some of us are prepared to concede that federal registration of firearms might be a useful and standardization of the several state and local laws already on the books, somebody like His Honor shows how far some antigun people would go if we'd let them—and so we become reluctant to give the first inch.

Guns don't kill people. People kill people.

Since the killing of Sen. Robert Kennedy, Congress has been deluged anew with a highly emotional torrent of agitation for tougher gun laws.

Let the record read that California had a gun law which was quite adequate to disarm Sirhan Sirhan — except that he was the sort who ignored the law.

That's the fact which the gun-law proponents refuse to consider: gun laws disarm only people who obey laws.

California law, for example, specifically states that "any alien" is forbidden possession of any firearm. Further, Sirhan Sirhan violated a whole bunch of other state laws—against carrying a concealed firearm, against carrying a loaded firearm in a public place and against possession of an unregistered firearm.

So there is no law now in existence and none presently proposed—including the absurd one suggested by the Milwaukee jurist—which would have prevented the assassination of Sen. Kennedy.

As I write these words, Congress is considering even tougher gun control than any proposed by the President. Admittedly, ly, this renewed effort drives from the most recent assassination—so the Congress is reacting emotionally, totally oblivious to the just-mentioned fact that a law would have made no difference whatever.

Three national magazines have launched a concerted effort to increase the pressure on Congress for a "campaign against violence, including less violence on the screen, a boycott on toy guns—and tougher gun laws.

"Let the Congress feel the weight of millions of letters," said the editor of one of those magazines.

Well, if the gun critics knew more about guns, they'd realize that if you use a cannon on a mouse you're likely to blow up the house.

Violence on the screen is nothing new; wild western and gangster movies dominated movie screens in the Twenties to a greater degree than they dominate TV screens presently.

Nor is there anything new about guns—real ones or toy ones. They've been readily available to us all for a long, long time.

So guns don't kill people. It's people who—under lax laws and overly compassionate Courts and hamstringed police—it is explosive people who have been getting away with murder.

As the Wall Street Journal said it: "So long as some men or nations be violent, let's not expect the others to disarm themselves."

CAPITOL EYE

Rocky Has An Uphill Struggle

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON — There is a very special reason why Gov. Nelson Rockefeller reaped so little benefit from the expected endorsement he gained here from Pennsylvania's Gov. Raymond Shafer.

Rockefeller cannot hope to pull down Richard Nixon's commanding lead simply by consolidating support that is supposed to have been his all along.

The most careful and responsible projections of Republican national convention delegate strength have assigned the New Yorker immense potential in his own state, in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, part of New England, Maryland, Michigan, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, and here and there in the West.

Notwithstanding this potential, Nixon is widely conceded, in scrupulous delegate counts compounded of fact and reasonable conjecture, to have more than the necessary 667 votes necessary to nominate at Miami Beach in August.

So no palpitations were felt among the 20 GOP governors who gathered here for a very dull semiannual meeting. There is no more momentum for Rocky in Shafer's announcement than there would be for Nixon if South Carolina's Sen. Strom Thurmond suddenly declared he was going to campaign seven days a week for the former vice president.

Rockefeller will not begin to shake Nixon seriously until there is evidence that some of the latter's huge vote potential in the Midwest and beyond to the Pacific is breaking toward the governor.

For months, all checks of delegate strength have indicated that important portions of the Nixon backlog were soft and, conceivably, could be moved to Rockefeller or some other. But wavering delegates have to have a reason to move—and so far Rockefeller has not given it to them.

His aides assembled in Tulsa talked hopefully of other governors endorsing him soon. They wishfully eye Gov. George Romney of Michigan, whom they backed for so long. They try to keep Maryland's Gov. Spiro Agnew, once their staunch bell-ringer, from leaping the other way.

But here again, even if somehow they won the open support of these men, it would just represent the spelling out of the expected. A candidate hardly gets a jet-assist from that.

Actually, Rockefeller's problem is even more acute than this view of it suggests. Last fall and winter, it was possible to run up a count of 12 to 16 governors, conservatively, who might well swing behind his candidacy. Nixon was having trouble finding more than a handful.

Today it is easy to find 14 or more for Nixon. Rockefeller has Shafer, his brother Winthrop Rockefeller of Arkansas, Govs. John Chafee of Rhode Island and Harold LeVander of Minnesota. Sympathetic but undeclared are Gov. John Love of Colorado, Nils Boe of South Dakota, David Cargle of New Mexico, Daniel Evans of Washington.

Wavering Nixon supporters, both leadership and rank-and-file types, are not impressed that Rocky has had so much trouble getting the people that are supposed to be his.

Indeed, Rocky's intensive new campaign via television, advertising and street rally to go over the heads of the politicians to the people is evidently as necessary to get or hold what he is already supposed to have among the moderates as it is to take away decisive chunks of Nixon's commanding delegate potential.

From talks both with Rockefeller aides, and with many governors, it is this reporter's judgment that the New Yorker's failure to consolidate this very promising moderate base is a consequence partly of his own numerous mistakes in 1968 and partly of the incredible timidity and ineptitude of his would-be supporters. Each side failed the other in important ways worth discussing in a later report.

Expense Of Nine-week FBI Hunt for James Earl Ray, Alleged Martin Luther King slayer, over $5 million

PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — Agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation went through one very tense period and spent more than $5 million during their brilliantly conducted two-continent man hunt for James Earl Ray, the accused killer of Dr. Martin Luther King.

After successfully tracking and locating Ray in London early in May, the G-men temporarily lost his trail when he slipped through their surveillance network and flew to Portugal.

While Ray's disappearance almost caused a near panic among top Justice Department officials here, cooler-headed FBI agents directing the search kept the search from collapsing by immediately setting up a new dragnet.

With only the lead that Ray, alias Raymond George Sneyd, had apparently fled to Europe, the FBI agents reasoned that because of his temperament and the foreign language barrier he would soon return to an English-speaking country.

Special watches for Ray were then carefully organized at all ports of entry in Great Britain, Canada, and the U.S., on the belief that the suspect would try to return to one of those nations.

Before any heads within the agency could roll, the swift chain of events that followed proved the effectiveness of the FBI strategy.

Eleven days after his second disappearance, Ray alias Sneyd, flew back to London from Lisbon. With the help of British authorities, the FBI again picked up his trail.

Ray was then kept under close surveillance until he suddenly prepared again to depart Great Britain for Europe — this time for Brussels. He was arrested at London Airport before he could board his plane.

WIDENING THE PROBE — Despite Ray's capture, the FBI investigation of King's assassination is far from being closed.

An agent involved in the inquiry says privately that "the arrest of Ray is only the beginning of this inquiry." He points out that "Ray is the key to determining the others involved in the assassination plot."

For instance, FBI and Canadian authorities are still investigating how Ray was able to exploit legal loopholes like a pro in obtaining his Canadian passport.

Several dozen agents are probing Ray's alleged contacts with U.S.-based American South African Council which he wrote on Dec. 30, 1967, to ask about emigrating to Rhodesia. Also, being carefully checked is Ray's contact with a person, whom the FBI photographed with King at a major U.S. airport.

One of the ironies of the successful FBI investigation is that just two months before the King assassination, the Bureau was obliged to cut in half the number of agents in Europe, including those in London as a result of President Johnson's order slashing overseas personnel of all government security and intelligence agencies.

When Ray's trail led to London, however, many of these agents were sent back overseas with instructions to forget about the economy move until the suspected assassin was picked up.

In their intensive search for King's killer, the FBI spent more than $5 million in the first nine weeks of its investigation. At times, upward to 3,000 agents were assigned to the case.

Half that number of agents are still involved in the continuing investigation. In addition to running down new leads, they are rechecking Ray's travels to and from Memphis, the scene of the assassination.

LIFTING THE LID — One of the most important decisions President Johnson will make before leaving office next January concerns possible publication of sealed documents from the Warren Commission inquiry of the assassination of President Kennedy.

At least 20 per cent of the commission's files remain locked in the National Archives, where the full record of the Kennedy assassination probe is filed.

A list of more than 250 of the sealed documents was prepared recently by attorneys of the Justice Department for further re-examination to determine if their publication should be recommended to the President.

Most intriguing are reports of the Central Intelligence Agency dealing with the private reaction of high Cuban officials to the assassination.

Another deals with a top secret CIA memorandum from Richard Helms (now CIA director) to J. Lee Rankin, chief counsel of the Warren Commission. It is listed under the heading: "Report of conversations between Cuban President and Cuban Ambassador."

Also still under seal is a CIA memorandum from Helms to the Commission which carries the following notation: "Discussions between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Drew Pearson re Lee Harvey Oswald." Neither Helms nor Pearson ever commented publicly on this memorandum or its content.

THE FBI REPORTS — Still unpublished among the many FBI reports in the Archives is the agency's interview with Yuri Nosenko, a high-ranking member of the KGB, the Soviet Secret police, who defected to the U.S. 10 weeks after the assassination of President Kennedy.

The 36-year-old defector, had been questioned at length about the KGB's handling of Oswald during the time the ex-marine lived in Russia.

Before his defection to the West, Nosenko worked in a sector of the KGB which handled U.S. defectors, including Oswald's case.

Another of the FBI investigative reports still sealed in the Archives, is titled:

Cannal At Bay

By Ward Cannal

People: Shape Up or Ship Out! NEW YORK (NEA) As we understand it, the argument against strong gun control legislation goes something like this: "Guns don't kill people. People kill people."

And after considerable thought we are forced to agree that it appears to be a reasonable argument.

Consequently, we are also forced to agree that cars don't kill people. Drivers kill people. And as for the defense of pornography we must admit that words and pictures aren't dirty. It's people who have nasty minds.

So, any way you look at it, people are simply too chaotic and will either have to shape up or ship out. (The way we look at it, things are in terrible disrepair when the auto industry, the National Rifle Association and Fanny Hill are all on the same side.)

That agreed, only one small problem remains—namely, who is going to shape up people and make order out of the chaos that is human nature?

Naturally, the job cannot be left to politics. Politicians, being people, are just as chaotic as anybody else. President Johnson, for example, has left the field completely rather than further the disorder. And Gen. De Gaulle has not only left but has also returned.

In that regard, there is no sense in calling on professional standards to guide human behavior toward order. If our understanding of the argument is correct, illness isn't expensive, doctors are expensive. And crime doesn't pay—unless you get very rich clients.

In older, simpler times, this problem would have been handed to the universities to ponder and solve. But pondering appears to be somewhat disorganized these days. Philosophical speculation never hurt anybody, of course. But students and policemen do.

So, as we said, human nature may be in disrepair. But just who is going to put it back in working order is hard to figure out.

Sooner or later, of course, the problem will be turned over to science to handle, the theory being that laboratory research has largely resolved the confusion of the world by getting to the true facts.

But we do not hold out much hope for that method, either. To our way of thinking, science may be awfully good at making bombs and ointments with its facts, but it hasn't done much for making order out of chaos.

Not that we begrudge science its conquests. On the contrary, we have a great respect for facts and know quite a few of them.

But we cannot see the profit in knowing how to calculate the area of a circle, the speed of light or the average life expectancy of a child born in 1968. Not when you don't know what you want, where you're going or who you are.

Search for Cause Of Severe Headaches

Q—I have stabbing pains in my left temple. Is there such a thing as arthritis in the head or could the pain be from sinus trouble?

A—Arthritis is an inflammation of the movable joints. Although there are several joints in your cranium, they are not the movable type. Chronic low-grade infection in the sinuses is a cause of headache, especially if the sinuses are blocked and can't drain freely. There are, however, many causes of headache. If yours are severe and recur frequently, your doctor should make a thorough search for the cause.

Q—About a week before each menstrual period I get a headache. I have tried pain killers, hormones and nerve pills but nothing helps. What would you suggest?

A—Your headaches are a part of premenstrual tension. A combination of sedatives and diuretics (water pills) should relieve them.

Q—I get a feeling of pressure or a tight band around my head. The doctors all tell me this is caused by nervous tension. Do you know of anything that will help me?

A—Anxiety and emotional stress causes an increased blood flow in your brain and painful pressure on your brain's lining membrane (the meninges). In some persons with tension headaches, the correction of faulty posture brings relief. In all, however, a careful examination of the victim's way of life by a sympathetic physician coupled with a short course of a tranquilizer, is beneficial. Some patients have been helped by electrical stimulation of the muscles of the head and neck.

Q—I had a concussion five years ago and have had headaches ever since. Is there any cure for this?

A—Many persons have persistent headaches after a concussion. Recent studies indicate that these are not caused by the injury but are a form of tension headache.

Q—What is Horton's headache? What can be done to relieve it?

A—This is a histamine headache. It is characterized by a severe throbbing with each heart beat. It often awakens the victim during the night. The attacks, which may occur every night, are limited, lasting 15 to 45 minutes. Cafergot tablets or the inhalation of oxygen will give relief but no reliable preventive measures are known.

AWAKE, THOU THAT SLEEPST (Ephesians 5:14)

In 1918 a Communist, Ho Chi-Minh in name, president of the People's Republic in North Vietnam, wrote an incendiary article of the plot of an American Revolution and the American Negro in Harlem was the tool. Needless to say, they have obtained the tool. With this tool in their possession, they have instigated and instilled every phase of chaos and confusion—making people think that it is a BLACK VS. WHITE ordeal. Not really the truth of the matter, LEFT VS. RIGHT or WRONG VS. RIGHT, and in that order. The named colors, Black and White are not the real color in essence. RED is the predominant, and I do not refer to the American Indian, either. As a result of Communist infiltration, many freedoms, God given, have been lost. Others, alarmingly stipulated. And, Fellow Americans if we do not arouse others that slumber to the current issue, we are all going to awaken one day, under Communist rule. We must never mistake a Democracy for a Dictatorship!

The most recent issue, the Gun Control Bill, one more phase of the Disarmament Program, a unilateral (one-sided) affair, is nothing more than another seizure of one more freedom. Thusly, to the advantage of the Communist. We may, one day, be defenseless, stand in our own flesh and body to defend those and that which we love. Why not USE the Freedom that has been so badly abused, to alert this Nation with all its greatness, to this just cause? How can we do this? By reviving Americanism and Patriotism! By exercising our Freedom of Prayer and Worship, seeking the aid of Him who is able to still the tempest that rages in the hearts and lives of Fellow Americans.

Awake, thou that sleepest! May this revival of Americanism, Patriotism, and Christendom start in and through me and you!

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

It has long been a legend that Mt. Ararat, in central eastern Turkey, was the resting place of Noah's ark after the flood subsided, says The World Almanac. Scholars have noted that the Hebrew text of Genesis 8:4 reads that the ark rested "upon the mountains of Ararat," indicating a country or region and not necessarily the 16,946-foot Mt. Ararat.

Forest Fires Major Problem In Colorado

DENVER (UPI) — With summer comes an influx of tourists reported to the Rocky Mountain regional office of the forest service occurred Monday near Rollinsville. A train crew found a fire on the railroad right of way and put it out. For this year, until May 31, 16 fires had been reported on national forest lands in Colorado. Eight of these were man-caused, and all of the fires burned only 25 acres, Kip Hinton, public information specialist for the regional office, said. Hinton said most of the fires which occur in Colorado are "little fires." He said Colorado "averages about a 50-50 split between man-caused and lightning caused fires." Hinton said last year, there were 648 fires in Colorado's national forests. Of these, 549 were man-caused. Over a five-year period, Colorado has averaged 330 fires per year in national forest.

Foreign News Commentary

By Phil Newson

Bushy-haired and saw-toothed Joao Ribeiro de Moraes, a Brazilian university student, applauded the burning of the American flag but carefully explained later that he meant it as no insult against the American people.

It was, he said, a protest against Brazilian police.

His reasoning ran thus: The American ambassador had presented to Ribeiro de Moraes's university a gift of 4,000 books. The presentation touched off an anti-American demonstration among the students. Police then used their clubs on the demonstrators.

And so the students burned the American flag.

Student demonstrations usually take an anti-American turn in Brazil for reasons running all the way from Vietnam to charges that the United States is exploiting unreplaceable Brazilian wealth in minerals and oil. Some seem as far-fetched as the reasoning that led to the flag-burning. Some are sparked by professional agitators.

And so it was a few days ago when a student demonstration against government educational policies turned against the U.S. Embassy in Rio de Janeiro and police fired into their ranks with tragic results. At least three persons died, including a policeman.

Wills Leads Pirates Over Cards; Grand Slam Paces Giant's Win

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Veteran Maury Wills was happy to stay in Pittsburgh and rookie Bobby Bonds was even happier to leave Phoenix.

The result Tuesday night was a close victory for the Pirates and an easy one for the San Francisco Giants.

Wills, who flatly denies the rumors that he was on the verge of being traded by the Pirates after he refused to play on the day of national mourning for Robert F. Kennedy, stretched his hitting streak to 23 games and scored the winning run as the Pirates nipped the Cardinals 3-2.

Bonds, called up from Phoenix Monday, is supposed to eventually replace Willie Mays in centerfield. He looked like he can handle the assignment as he became the first player in modern major league history to hit a grand slam homer in his first game as the Giants routed Los Angeles 9-0. The only other time the feat has accomplished was in 1898.

Denies Trouble

Wills, denying there is any friction between him and the Pirates, said, "things are fine. There hasn't been any problem between Pittsburgh and Maury Wills. I say that emphatically. The rumors were started by a Pittsburgh newsman on his own hunch. It was unqualified speculation."

The trading deadline passed on June 15 and Wills now looks like a fixture in the Pirate lineup. He tripled and scored the deciding run in the eighth inning on Gene Alley's single.

Bonds, a 22-year-old 9.5 dashman in the 100 who passed up football and track college scholarships to sign a baseball contract after graduating from high school four years ago, connected for the slam off John Purdin in the sixth in his third time at bat in his first game. Bonds was hitting .367 and leading the Pacific Coast League when he was called up. Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta topped Philadelphia 6-1, New York blanked Cincinnati 4-0 and Houston edged Chicago 4-2.

Tigers Win Another

In the American League, Detroit topped New York 8-5, Baltimore blanked Boston 6-0, Cleveland topped Washington 6-1 and California nipped Oakland 7-6 and the Minnesota-Chicago game was rained out.

Tom Seaver pitched a five-hitter and Cleon Jones homered as the Mets topped the Reds, 11-was Seaver's fourth straight win, boosting his record to 6-5. Towering Ron Reed pitched a four-hitter to boost his record to 8-3 and lead the Braves past the Phillies. Reed struck out 10 and walked none. He lost his shutout in the seventh on Tony Taylor's homer. Joe Torre collected three hits and knocked in two runs for the Braves.

Mike Cuellar tossed a five-hitter as the Astros handed the Cubs their ninth loss in 11 games in the Astrodome. Cuellar is now 5-3 after being sidelined early with arm trouble. The Astros won the game with a three-run rally in the sixth inning.

Houston Fast Becoming Boxing Capital Of Southwest Area

HOUSTON (UPI) — When the cream of boxing comes to the top in the Southwest, it comes to Houston.

The Gulf coast city has emerged as the boxing capital of the Southwest in recent years and ranks among the top boxing cities in the world. It was the scene of three world heavyweight championship fights in less than nine months in 1966-67 and may be the scene of a fight this winter between Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier, the two current champions.

Some of the men who have brought it to the top and kept it there are Joe Brown, Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, Manuel Gonzalez, Dave Xyglewicz, Karl Zurheide, Earl Gilliam and Lou Viscusi. Brown the former light-weight champion, came from Baton Rouge, La., and Williams, a former heavyweight challenger, came from Georgia, both migrating to Houston in the late 1950s because they could get regular paydays on the frequent boxing cards.

An Odessa Product

Gonzalez, currently the world's fifth-ranked welterweight, came from Odessa, Tex., in the early 1960s and Xyglewicz, the state heavyweight champion, came from Watervliet, N. Y., and Karl Zurheide, the state light heavyweight champion, came from Fond du Lac, Wis.

Lou Viscusi, former manager of Brown and Williams, came from Tampa, Fla., to help promote fights in Houston in the late 1950s and Earl Gilliam, the current matchmaker came from Tyler, by way of Dallas in 1960. Even Cassius Clay listed Houston as his legal address in 1967 when he was the heavyweight champion.

Some Local Names

Houston also has had some homegrown help to keep the sport thriving - including former heavyweight challenger Roy Harris of nearby Cut 'n' Shoot, Tex., former state heavyweight champion Tod Herring, former featherweight standout Paul Jorgensen and Mark Tesson, currently the world's eighth-ranked light heavyweight. All three rose through the ranks of the city's ambitious Golden Gloves competition.

The fight game hit its peak in Houston in 1966 when Ernie Terrell defeated Doug Jones for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight championship June 28 and when Cassius Clay knocked out Williams for the other version of the title Nov. 14 in the Astrodome.

KILLY TURNS PRO

WEST SIGNS

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings signed Charlie West, their second-round draft choice, to a contract Tuesday. West, a defensive back from Texas at El Paso, played briefly with a Cincinnati Reds' farm team this year before electing to play professional football.

Yastrzemski, Freehan Top American All-Stars

By JOE CARNICELLI
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Yastrzemski, who led Boston's miracle Red Sox to a pennant last season, and Bill Freehan, a leader in the assault to end a 23-year pennant drought in Detroit this year, head the American League All Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Yastrzemski, the Boston left fielder who won the American League's Most Valuable Player award last season after winning the Triple Crown, received 246 of a possible 252 votes and Freehan, the Tiger catcher, polled 248 of 251 possible votes to lead in the balloting of AL players, managers and coaches. Three holdovers from last year's starting team join Yastrzemski and Freehan on the 1968 squad which will attempt to snap a record five-year National League winning streak when the teams meet July 9 at the Houston Astrodome.

Killebrew, Carew Repeat

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, who nipped Baltimore's Boog Powell by 10 votes in the closest balloting for any position, will be at first base again while teammate Rod Carew, rookie of the year last season, repeats as second baseman. Baltimore's Brooks Robinson, having one of his worst seasons at the plate, still managed to outpoll Cleveland's Max Alvis to repeat as third baseman.

Jim Fregosi of California, who played the last 11 innings of last year's 15-inning, 2-1 National League victory, was an easy victory over Chicago's Luis Aparicio to complete the infield.

Homer Hitters Chosen

Frank Howard of Washington and Detroit's Willie Horton, the league's two leading home run producers with 24 and 18, join Yastrzemski in the outfield. Ironically, all are left fielders but were able to be chosen since all outfielders are grouped together in the voting.

Dick Williams, the Boston manager who will handle the American league stars this year, will select his pitchers and the remaining players to fill out the 25-man roster later this week.

Yastrzemski, the AL's leading hitter, is the only .300 plus batter on the eight-man team with a .32 average and one of only two in the entire league in games played through Monday night. Yastrzemski, who slumped early in the season before regaining his 1967 form, has 11 home runs, fourth in the league, and 29 runs batted in.

Pampa Mentor Took Over Reins In 1960

By WES DUMONT
Daily News Sports Editor

Terry Culley, veteran basketball coach in Pampa, submitted his resignation to John Gikas, board of education president, late Tuesday night, it was announced today by acting School Superintendent McHenry Lane.

Gikas said the school board would consider the resignation at its regular meeting the second Thursday of July. Gikas added, "That no resignation has been turned down by the board in the past."

In his letter of resignation, Culley recommended that assistant coach Bill Brown be named as his successor.

Brown, contacted today, said he planned to apply for the vacated position.

Culley, head cage coach of the Pampa team since the 1960-61 season, has compiled one of the winningest records in the sport in the Panhandle in his eight years here.

He has had a winning record every year including four years when his team won over 20 games—1962-63, 1964-65, 1965-66 and 1966-67.

His top year in the win-loss column was his third year in 1962-63 when he compiled a 29-1 record including a string of 24 straight victories.

His cage squad was upset that year by Haltom City, 77-74, in a bi-district playoff game to snap the long victory string.

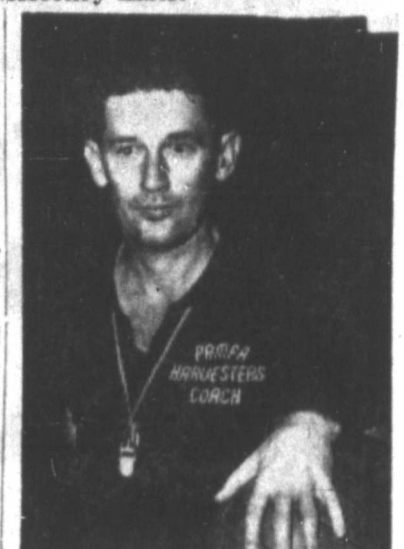

Included among many outstanding players he has coached at Pampa were Keith Swanson, Wayne Kreis, Charles Price, George Bailey, Steve Williams, Bo Lang, Pat Carter, Beau Bond and Ricky Stewart.

Also playing basketball under him were two players who went on to the big time in sports other than basketball.

They were Randy Matson and Kenny Hebert. Matson later became the world record holder in the shot put and has had pro basketball offers.

Hebert, who also has received pro basketball offers, signed a football contract after playing in the backfield for Houston's football team.

In December, 1966, Culley's basketball team captured its 12th straight Top of Texas cage tournament here in Pampa, an event that is staged here each year.

Culley was also active in first organizing the recreational summer program for both boys and girls in Pampa. The program is now under the direction of assistant basketball coach, Bill Brown.

Culley joined the Pampa high school staff 16 years ago in 1952 after coaching basketball at Comanche, Texas. He was assistant basketball coach under Clifton McNeely for eight years.

Culley has accepted a position at Grand Prairie, Tex., for the coming year as head basketball coach.

In addition to his basketball duties at Pampa High School, Culley coached tennis at the high school from 1952 through 1960.

He was graduated from North Texas State in 1950 where he played guard for the basketball team.

He was on the Tyler Junior College basketball team in 1948 when the Junior College won the

Granatelli Protests Ban By Auto Club

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—The United States Auto Club Board of Directors Tuesday refused to black-flag turbine-powered cars from its championship circuit, but a ban on four-wheel drive and another possible engine size reduction brought protests from turbocar owner Andy Granatelli.

The USAC board rejected a recommendation from its rules committee to ban turbines, and instead organized a special committee to study equivalency formulas for 1969.

The controversy all began when Granatelli introduced his first turbine to the Indianapolis "500" in 1967 and nearly came away a winner. Parnelli Jones was leading the field when minor mechanical woes sidelined the machine short of victory lane. The same thing happened this year, but with Joe Leonard behind the wheel of a Granatelli turbine.

The USAC board also resolved that after Jan. 1, 1970, all USAC cars will be limited to two driving wheels and that turbines eligible for championship races be of "automotive type."

"KILLER" COOLS IT
The talk in the American League centers on the comeback of Carl Yastrzemski, Boston Red Sox outfielder and the increased home run production this year of Frank Howard, Washington Senator first baseman.

Yastrzemski currently leads the American League in hitting with .320 although he has hit only 11 home runs so far this season.

Earlier this season, "Yaz" was way below his average and hit under .300 earlier in the season. Howard, of course, has hardly any chance of overtaking Babe Ruth's long standing home run record for a single season of 64.

Howard now has 24 home runs and the Senators have played a total of 66 games. The Senator giant can hardly be expected to continue booming over home runs at the rate he has done in early season action.

Lost in the talk on Howard and Yastrzemski is the fall of Harmon "The Killer" Killebrew, the former Washington Senator player now with the Minnesota Twins.

The mild mannered "Killer" has only 12 home runs so far this season and more than one-third of the season is finished.

At best, Killebrew, unless he gets very hot, will not hit more than 36 home runs, below his total of 44 in 1967.

Killebrew, also, is not listed among the five top leaders in the American League in RBI's. He had 113 last year but has under 39 this year so, again, he will have to have an outstanding late season.

Williams, showing much of his old style, decked the Canadian three times with left hooks before the fight was called in 2:35 of the first round.

Williams, who claims to be 36, recorded his third straight first-round knockout of his comeback career.

He was rated the Number 1 heavyweight contender before he suffered a brutal beating two years ago at the hands of deposed champion Cassius Clay.

Williams, who weighed in at 213 now has a record of 68 wins, six losses and a draw.

In his letter of resignation, Culley said, "My wife (a teacher in the Pampa school system, also) and I would like to submit resignations to the Pampa School Board effective Aug. 31.

"I would like to recommend my assistant, Bill B. Brown, who is a Pampa boy and has worked for me the past two years, to be the new head basketball coach. He is a good student of the game and knows the program here.

"He would do a good job as your new head coach."

Swede Lee, athletic director at Pampa high school, said after learning of Culley's resignation, "We are sorry to lose a proven coach like Culley. We're proud to see a coach improve himself and advance in his profession, however."

Princeton Man Makes History In England

By JIM RAMSAY

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Herb FitzGibbon, 25-year-old graduate of Princeton and the 16th-ranked amateur tennis player in the United States, stood front and center today in the 82nd Wimbledon championships.

FitzGibbon, Garden City, N.Y., earned a match on Wimbledon's famed center court against Britain's Mark Cox when he made tournament history Tuesday by becoming the first amateur to defeat a professional.

Wimbledon, which opened its doors to both amateurs and professionals for the first time this year, saws first play-for-play competitor godown to defeat when FitzGibbon dined 16th-seeded nikki Pile of Yugoslavia, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

FitzGibbon's match against Cox was slated to be followed on the center court by a pairing pitting top-ranked American player Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico and against second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Rain, which interrupted play the first two days, has caused a drastic revision of the draw for today's competition.

Aside from Rosewall, seven other seeded players in the men's division were on call for today's matches, including 13th-seeded Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., who went up against Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador.

Veteran pro Pancho Gonzalez, Los Angeles, who easily whipped Rathman Krishnan of India Tuesday on his first return to Wimbledon since 1949, took on Bob Maud of South Africa.

Junior Golf Tournament Begins

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) Danton, Tex., Kirk Smith of Lubbock, Tex., Tommy Gilbert of Jacksboro, Tex., and Tom Kite of Austin, Tex.

The youngsters play 18 holes today at Sheppard Air Force Base. Thursday, the field moves to Wichita Falls country Club for another 18 holes before playing the final 36 holes Friday at Weeks park.

Joey Dills, a 16-year-old Muskogee, Okla. ace was the only golfer Tuesday to break par. He took medalist honors in the championship flight qualifying round with six birdies over the 35-35 par 71 Weeks course.

Chancellor Warren of Sulphur Springs, Tex., shot an even par and five other golfers were in at one-over-par 72.

At 72 were Gene Anders of Abilene, Tex., Jim Wilkenson of the washout.

GOLF POSTPONED

WALTON HEATH, England (UPI)—Rain postponed the opening qualifying round of the British Women's golf championship Tuesday.

Officials decided to allow 64 players to compete in match play beginning Thursday, instead of the usual 32, because of the washout.

Wills Leads Pirates Over Cards; Grand Slam Paces Giant's Win

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Veteran Maury Wills was happy to stay in Pittsburgh and rookie Bobby Bonds was even happier to leave Phoenix.

The result Tuesday night was a close victory for the Pirates and an easy one for the San Francisco Giants.

Wills, who flatly denies the rumors that he was on the verge of being traded by the Pirates after he refused to play on the day of national mourning for Robert F. Kennedy, stretched his hitting streak to 23 games and scored the winning run as the Pirates nipped the Cardinals 3-2.

Bonds, called up from Phoenix Monday, is supposed to eventually replace Willie Mays in centerfield. He looked like he can handle the assignment as he became the first player in modern major league history to hit a grand slam homer in his first game as the Giants routed Los Angeles 9-0. The only other time the feat has accomplished was in 1896.

Denies Trouble

Wills, denying there is any friction between him and the Pirates, said, "things are fine. There hasn't been any problem between Pittsburgh and Maury Wills. I say that emphatically. The rumors were started by a Pittsburgh newsman on his own hunch. It was unqualified speculation."

The trading deadline passed on June 15 and Wills now looks like a fixture in the Pirates lineup. He tripled and scored the deciding run in the eighth inning on Gene Allen's single.

Bonds, a 22-year-old 9.5 dashman in the 100 who passed up football and track college scholarships to sign a baseball contract after graduating from high school four years ago, connected for the slam off John Purdin in the sixth in his third time at bat in his first game. Bonds was hitting .367 and leading the Pacific Coast League when he was called up.

Elsewhere in the National League, Atlanta topped Philadelphia 6-1, New York blanked Cincinnati 4-0 and Houston edged Chicago 4-2.

Tigers Win Another

In the American League, Detroit topped New York 8-5, Baltimore blanked Boston 6-0, Cleveland topped Washington 6-1 and California nipped Oakland 7-6 and the Minnesota-Chicago game was rained out.

Tom Seaver pitched a five-hitter and Cleon Jones homered as the Mets topped the Reds, 11-6, in the sixth inning.

was Seaver's fourth straight win, boosting his record to 6-5. Towering Ron Reed pitched a four-hitter to boost his record to 8-3 and lead the Braves past the Phillies. Reed struck out 10 and walked none. He lost his shutout in the seventh on Tony Taylor's homer. Joe Torre collected three hits and knocked in two runs for the Braves.

Mike Cuellar tossed a five-hitter as the Astros handed the Cubs their ninth loss in 11 games in the Astrodome. Cuellar is now 5-3 after being sidelined early with arm trouble. The Astros won the game with a three-run rally in the sixth inning.

Houston Fast Becoming Boxing Capital Of Southwest Area

HOUSTON (UPI) — When the cream of boxing comes to the town in the Southwest, it comes to Houston.

The Gulf coast city has emerged as the boxing capital of the Southwest in recent years and ranks among the top boxing cities in the world. It was the scene of three world heavyweight championship fights in less than nine months in 1966-67 and may be the scene of a fight this winter between Jimmy Ellis and Joe Frazier, the two current champions.

Some of the men who have brought it to the top and kept it there are Joe Brown, Cleveland (Big Cat) Williams, Manuel Gonzalez, Dave Xyglewicz, Karl Zurheide, Earl Gilliam and Lou Viscusi. Brown the former light-weight champion, came from Baton Rouge, La., and Williams, a former heavyweight challenger, came from Georgia, both migrating to Houston in the late 1950s because they could get regular paydays on the frequent boxing cards.

An Odessa Product

Gonzalez, currently the world's fifth-ranked welterweight, came from Odessa, Tex., in the early 1960s and Xyglewicz, the state heavyweight champion, came from Watervliet, N. Y., and Karl Zurheide, the state light heavyweight champion, came from Fond du Lac, Wis.

Lou Viscusi, former manager of Brown and Williams, came from Tampa, Fla., to help promote fights in Houston in the late 1950s and Earl Gilliam, the current matchmaker came from Tyler, by way of Dallas in 1960.

Even Cassius Clay listed Houston as his legal address in 1967

when he was the heavyweight champion.

Some Local Names

Houston also has had some home-grown help to keep the sport thriving - including former heavyweight challenger Roy Harris of nearby Cut 'n' Shoot, Tex., former state heavyweight champion Tod Herring, former featherweight standout Paul Jorgensen and Mark Tesson, currently the world's eighth-ranked light heavyweight. All three rose through the ranks of the city's ambitious Golden Gloves competition.

The fight game hit its peak in Houston in 1966 when Ernie Terrell defeated Doug Jones for the World Boxing Association version of the heavyweight championship June 28 and when Cassius Clay knocked out Williams for the other version of the title Nov. 14 in the Astrodome.

KILLY TURNS PRO

NEW YORK (UPI)—Jean-Claude Killy of France indicated Tuesday he would turn professional by signing a contract with Chevrolet. The 1968 Olympic triple gold medalist was expected to reach agreement today on a three-year contract for an estimated $30,000.

WEST SIGNS

ST. PAUL - MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings signed Charlie West, their second-round draft choice, to a contract Tuesday. West, a defensive back from Texas at El Paso, played briefly with a Cincinnati Reds' farm team this year before electing to play professional football.

OFF THE NICKEL, but making a comeback population-wise, the American buffalo, whose numbers were reduced from 50 million to 541 in 1889, is no longer threatened with extinction. Buffalo population now is about 25,000. This bison cow and calf at the St. Louis (Mo.) Zoo seem to resent intrusion by the photographer.

Yastrzemski, Freehan Top American All-Stars

By JOE CARNICELLI

UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK (UPI)—Carl Yastrzemski, who led Boston's miracle Red Sox to a pennant last season, and Bill Freehan, a leader in the assault to end a 23-year pennant drought in Detroit this year, head the American League All Star team announced today by Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert.

Yastrzemski, the Boston left fielder who won the American League's Most Valuable player award last season after winning the Triple Crown, received 246 of a possible 252 votes and Freehan, the Tiger catcher, polled 248 of 251 possible votes to lead in the balloting of AL player, managers and coaches.

Three holdovers from last year's starting team join Yastrzemski and Freehan on the 1968 squad which will attempt to snap a record five-year National League winning streak when the teams meet July 9 at the Houston Astrodome.

Killebrew, Carew Repeat

Harmon Killebrew of Minnesota, who nipped Baltimore's Boog Powell by 10 votes in the closest balloting for any position, will be at first base again while teammate Rod Carew, rookie of the year last season, repeats as second baseman.

Baltimore's Brooks Robinson, having one of his worst seasons at the plate, still managed to outpace Cleveland's Max Alvis to repeat as third baseman.

Jim Fregosi of California, who played the last 11 innings of last year's 15-inning, 2-1 National League victory, was an easy victory over Chicago's Luis Aparicio to complete the infield.

Homer Hitters Chosen

Frank Howard of Washington and Detroit's Willie Horton, the league's two leading home run producers with 24 and 18, join Yastrzemski in the outfield. Ironically, all are left fielders but were able to be chosen since all outfielders are grouped together in the voting.

Dick Williams, the Boston manager who will handle the American league stars this year, will select his pitchers and the remaining players to fill out the 25-man roster later this week.

Yastrzemski, the AL's leading hitter, is the only .300 plus batter on the eight-man team with a .32 average and one of only two in the entire league in games played through Monday night. Yastrzemski who slumped early in the season before regaining his 1967 form, has 11 home runs, fourth in the league, and 29 runs batted in.

Pampa Mentor Took Over Reins In 1960

By WES DUMONT
Daily News Sports Editor

Terry Culley, veteran basketball coach in Pampa, submitted his resignation to John Gikas, board of education president, late Tuesday night, it was announced today by acting School Superintendent McHenry Lane.

Gikas said the school board would consider the resignation at its regular meeting the second Thursday of July. Gikas added, "That no resignation has been turned down by the board in the past."

In his letter of resignation, Culley recommended that assistant coach Bill Brown be named as his successor.

Brown, contacted today, said he planned to apply for the vacated position.

Culley, head cage coach of the Pampa team since the 1960-61 season, has compiled one of the winningest records in the sport in the Panhandle in his eight years here.

He has had a winning record every year including four years when his team won over 20 games—1962-63, 1964-65, 1965-66 and 1966-67.

His top year in the win-loss column was his third year in 1962-63 when he compiled a 29-1 record including a string of 24 straight victories.

His cage squad was upset that year by Haltom City, 77-74, in a bi-district playoff game to snap the long victory string. Included among many outstanding players he has coached at Pampa were Keith Swanson, Wayne Kreis, Charles Price, George Bailey, Steve Williams, Bo Lang, Pat Carter, Beau Bond and Ricky Stewart.

Also playing basketball under him were two players who went on to the big time in sports other than basketball.

They were Randy Matson and Kenny Hebert. Matson later became the world record holder in the shot put and has had pro basketball offers.

Hebert, who also has received pro basketball offers, signed a football contract after playing in the backfield for Houston's football team.

In December, 1966, Culley's basketball team captured its 12th straight Top of Texas cage tournament here in Pampa, an event that is staged here each year.

Culley was also active in first organizing the recreational summer program for both boys and girls in Pampa. The program is now under the direction of assistant basketball coach, Bill Brown.

Culley joined the Pampa high school staff 16 years ago in 1952 after coaching basketball at Comanche, Texas. He was assistant basketball coach under Clifton McNeely for eight years.

Culley has accepted a position at Grand Prairie, Tex., for the coming year as head basketball coach.

In addition to his basketball duties at Pampa High School, Culley coached tennis at the high school from 1952 through 1960.

He was graduated from North Texas State in 1950 where he played guard for the basketball team.

Granatelli Protests Ban By Auto Club

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) —The United States Auto Club Board of Directors Tuesday refused to black-flag turbine-powered cars from its championship circuit, but a ban on four-wheel drive and another possible engine size reduction brought protests from turbocar owner Andy Granatelli.

The USAC board rejected a recommendation from its rules committee to ban turbines, and instead organized a special committee to study equivalency formulas for 1969.

The controversy all began when Granatelli introduced his first turbine to the Indianapolis "500" in 1967 and nearly came away a winner. Parnelli Jones was leading the field when minor mechanical woes sidelined the machine short of victory lane. The same thing happened this year, but with Joe Leonard behind the wheel of a Granatelli turbine.

The USAC board also resolved that after Jan. 1, 1970, all USAC cars will be limited to two driving wheels and that turbines eligible for championship races be of "automotive type."

"KILLER" COOLS IT

The talk in the American League centers on the comeback of Carl Yastrzemski, Boston Red Sox outfielder and the increased home run production this year of Frank Howard, Washington Senator first baseman.

Yastrzemski currently leads the American League in hitting with .320 although he has hit only 11 home runs so far this season.

Earlier this season, "Yaz" was way below his average and hit under .300 earlier in the season.

Howard, of course, has hardly any chance of overtaking Babe Ruth's long standing home run record for a single season of 64.

Howard now has 24 home runs and the Senators have played a total of 66 games. The Senator giant can hardly be expected to continue booming out home runs at the rate he has done in early season activity.

Lost in the talk on Howard and Yastrzemski is the fall of Harmon "The Killer" Killebrew, the former Washington Senator player now with the Minnesota Twins.

The mild mannered "Killer" has only 12 home runs so far this season and more than one-third of the season is finished. At best, Killebrew, unless he gets very hot, will not hit more than 36 home runs, below his total of 44 in 1967.

Killebrew, also, is not listed among the five top leaders in the American League in RBI's. He had 113 last year but has under 39 this year, so again, he will have to have an outstanding late season.

Williams Wins
TKO In First Round Action

HOUSTON (UPI) — A first-round technical knockout over Leslie Borden Tuesday night moved aging heavyweight Cleveland Williams one step closer to his goal of again becoming a serious challenger for the crown.

Williams, showing much of his old style, decked the Canadian three times with left hooks before the fight was called in 2:35 of the first round.

Williams, who claims to be 36, recorded his third straight first-round knockout of his comeback career.

He was rated the Number 1 heavyweight contender before he suffered a brutal beating two years ago at the hands of deposed champion Cassius Clay.

Williams, who weighed in at 213 now has a record of 68 wins, six losses and a draw.

Princeton Man Makes History In England

By JIM RAMSAY

WIMBLEDON, England (UPI)—Herb FitzGibbon, 25-year-old graduate of Princeton and the 16th-ranked amateur tennis player in the United States, stood front and center today in the 82nd Wimbledon championships.

FitzGibbon, Garden City, N.Y., earned a match on Wimbledon's famed center court against Britain's Mark Cox when he made tournament history Tuesday by becoming the first amateur to defeat a professional.

Wimbledon, which opened its doors to both amateurs and professionals for the first time this year, saws first play-for-play competitor godown to defeat when FitzGibbon dined 16th-seeded nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia, 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, 6-2.

FitzGibbon's match against Cox was slated to be followed on the center court by a pairing pitting top-ranked American player Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico and against second-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia.

Rain, which interrupted play the first two days, has caused a drastic revision of the draw for today's competition.

Aside from Rosewall, seven other seeded players in the men's division were on call for today's matches, including 13th-seeded Arthur Ashe, Richmond, Va., who went up against Eduardo Zuleta of Ecuador.

Veteran pro Pancho Gonzalez, Los Angeles, who easily whipped Rathman Krishnan of India Tuesday on his first return to Wimbledon since 1949, took on Bob Maud of South Africa.

Junior Golf Tournament Begins

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) —Qualifiers in the 12th annual Texas-Oklahoma Junior Golf Tournament today begin the first round of the 72-hole stroke play competition.

The youngsters play 18 holes today at Sheppard Air Force Base. Thursday, the field moves to Wichita Falls country Club for another 18 holes before playing the final 36 holes Friday at Weeks park.

Joey Dills, a 16-year-old Muskogee, Okla. ace was the only golfer Tuesday to break par. He took medalist honors in the championship flight qualifying round with six birdies over the 35-35 par 71 Weeks course.

Chancellor Warren of Sulphur Springs, Tex., shot an even par and five other golfers were in at one-over-par 72.

At 72 were Gene Anders of Abilene, Tex., Jim Wilkenson of Denton, Tex., Kirk Smith of Lubbock, Tex., Tommy Gilbert of Jacksboro, Tex., and Tom Kite of Austin, Tex.

Kite was runner up last year to the tournament's only two-time winner, Mark Hayes of Stillwater, Okla., Hayes was not eligible for the this year's tournament because the golfers must not reach the age of 19 before Sept. 1.

GOLF POSTPONED
WALTON HEATH, England (UPI) — Rain postponed the opening qualifying round of the British Women's golf championship Tuesday.

Officials decided to allow 64 players to compete in match play beginning Thursday, instead of the usual 32, because of the washout.

NEW RESIDENCE
VATICAN CITY (UPI)—Pope Paul VI will visit next Saturday a newly-constructed house for American priests who work in the Roman curia. The new residence is named for the late Samuel Cardinal Stritch, a native of Nashville, Tenn. and the first American named to the Curia in 1958.

U.S. GIFT

MADRID (UPI)—The village of Palomares, near where four U.S. nuclear bombs accidentally fell in 1966, will be offered a water desalting plant as a gift of the United States, the U.S. Embassy said Tuesday.

FOUNDATION CRACKED

VENICE, Italy (UPI)—Cracks appeared in the foundation of the 1,000-year-old belltower of St. Mark's but city officials said Tuesday it is in no immediate danger of collapsing. The famed landmark was reconstructed in 1902 when builders apparently made a mistake by widening the platform on which its foundation rested. "Restoration of the foundation may be useful but is not urgent," said the St. Mark's overseer.

Troop 23 Scouts Attend Camp Near Mobeetie

Four members of Boy Scout Troop 23, sponsored by St. Mark Methodist Church, participated in a week of activities at the Adobe Walls Council Boy Scout Camp near Mobeetie.

Troop Scoutmaster James L. Hunnicutt said, "I want to express my appreciation for the time and effort expended by The Golden Charity Breakfast Club, Carver P.T.A., Edward Cash and George Fudgens. These people made it possible for four members of the troop to attend summer camp for a week."

GAO Questions Requisitions

WASHINGTON (UPI)—What puzzled auditors was why the housing authorities at U.S. Army headquarters in South Vietnam needed 720 crystal liquor glasses in such a hurry.

Or, for that matter, why the rush for an organ for the 34th General Support Group.

And then there were the saltshakers and staples, paper clips and pencils, dictionaries and davenport.

These and other items, the General Accounting Office (GAO) reported today, were requisitioned by the Army in Vietnam on a costly top priority basis that required special shipping, sometimes by air.

In 70 per cent of the cases where supplies were requisitioned on a rush basis, top priority handling was "not justified" by the importance of the item, the GAO said.

The auditing group, which keeps tabs on government spending for Congress, said this was one factor contributing to a total Army supply system for Vietnam that is still "costly and inefficient," although somewhat improved since the last GAO report in November.

So far as combat supplies go, the Army's fighting force has been "adequately supported" despite shortcomings, the GAO said.

Shortcomings like still ordering parts from the United States for the UH-1 helicopter, phased out several years earlier.

hard to keep us going and has contributed largely to whatever measure of success we have attained."

The four Scouts who attended the camp are Robert Young, Leo Samuels, Don Proctor and Avery Young.

Washington Window

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Congress' confession it lacks the ability or guts to cut federal spending has now been enrolled, engrossed, signed, sealed and delivered to President Johnson.

This is one confession the Supreme Court will never throw out, although before Johnson lets them hear the last of it our lawmakers almost surely will be claiming duress, ignorance, pressure, coercion, dirty pool and everything but unreasonable search and seizure.

None of these protests will hold up in court, and to the extent the electorate buys them it deserves to have its franchise revoked.

The fact is that Congress is now in the position of demanding a $6 billion cut in Johnson's budget (as its price for supporting his tax boost) after failing repeatedly to agree to what ought to be cut. It passed the economy axe to Johnson, and now is flexing its tonsils to scream no matter how he applies it.

Wants Economy

Over the past year Congress has demonstrated in every way possible it wants economy, but not at the expense of saving any specific big money.

Appropriations almost always are cut, sometimes in ways that will actually mean a reduction in spending. But on money bills for next year handled so far the most optimistic projection is for a saving of about $1.9 billion.

As a matter of fact, the members in recent months have devoted much of their economy talk to telling Johnson where they did not want any application of the frugality they were demanding.

Areas about which significant numbers of lawmakers have said, "We are for cutting government spending, but this isn't the place," included the following:

Vietnam—Naturally, nothing is too good for our boys.

Time Post Office Department—Save those Saturday deliveries, Mr. president; and as for the mailman, isn't it time this hardworking fellow, who calls on so many voters, was allowed another pay raise?

Highway construction—Do not be ridiculous; these roads are in congressmen's districts.

Farm price supports—These really save money; without them, there would be overproduction, then farm disaster, then national depression etc.

Rivers and harbors projects—Any effort to cut here would be solid evidence of presidential spit against congressmen who voted for the $6 billion cut; anyway, all these bopdog... —uh, water resources projects—should be viewed as investments and must not be confused with spending.

Supersonic transport—Maybe we don't need it, and nobody wants it except Boeing and the airlines, but if we don't build a plane to get the customers from Miami to Los Angeles on a single martini the British and French or even the Russians will do it.

So what's left in the way of places to save?

Well, there's always foreign aid, which has no voting constituency. And of course there is waste.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Wiesenberger Investment Report says that while the market continues to demonstrate strength, various factors indicate it is entering a new phase demanding an exceptional degree of selectivity in extending commitments. It advises investors to continue to hold on to defensive issues and liquid reserves as well as well-situated common stocks.

Spear and Staff Inc. says it foresees a low-volume decline in high-multiple glamor issues. Such a situation would be part of a process whereby investment funds are attempting to keep some cash available for purchase of "less lofty" issues, the company says.

Thomson & McKinnon says it would be premature to construe the current "pause for breath" speculative phase. The company says there is evidence, partly from a study of certain indexes, that the uptrend has not been reversed.

Negro Veterans Have Mixed Emotions On Return From War

The Negro Veteran Comes Home

First of Three
By THOMAS CORPORA
NEW YORK (UPI)—In May of 1966, in the jungle war zones northwest of Saigon, Joe Williams, 19, a high school dropout, braved heavy machinegun and mortar fire to aid his buddies caught in an ambush.

Williams, a medic with a rifle platoon of the First Infantry Division, crawled from man to man, plugging gaping shrapnel wounds with thick dressings, shooting morphine into another whose arm had been shattered and telling another he would be okay, although the lower portion of his body was blown away.

Joe was hit three times by bullets—in the back, in the legs and in one foot. For his heroism, the Army awarded Spec. 4 Donn (Joey) Williams of Memphis Tenn., the Bronze Star medal with a "V" for valor. On April 4, 1968, near Maine and Beale Streets in downtown Memphis, Joe Williams, then 21 and unemployed, looted stores, burned shops and fought the police and National Guard.

School Dropout
Six months after Joey won his decoration, on Nov. 6, 1966, Burry Warwick, 22, a high school dropout and a rifleman, distinguished himself in combat during a battle in the central lowland of Vietnam.

Warwick ignored heavy enemy mortar fire and dragged a wounded buddy 120 yards to safety. For his heroism, the 196th Light Infantry Brigade awarded Sgt. James (Buddy) Warwick, Providence, R.I., the Army Commendation Medal with a "V" and the Vietnamese government decorated him with its Silver Star for valor.

On Aug. 1, 1967, Buddy Warwick, also unemployed, went into the riot-torn streets of South Providence in a personally dangerous effort to persuade Negroes to top looting and burning and go home.

Williams and Warwick are Negroes and the thing that sent Joey into the streets to riot and Buddy into the streets to stop a riot was the different feelings each had about the United States.

Williams felt that after having served in Vietnam, his country had failed to deliver on its promise of democracy and equal opportunity for everyone.

Warwick believed that the delivery was slow, that it was coming and he would get his. In the Army both men saw democracy in action—in equal opportunities for advancement, in full integration. In Vietnam, both learned there was only one color—olive drab—and only one concern—battle performance.

The battle record of Joey, Buddy and thousands of their Negroes make up not quite 10 per cent of the total number of men in uniform, according to the Defense Department, but more than 17 per cent of the men assigned to combat "occupations" are black. In some elite airborne brigades, Negro soldiers number between 25 and 45 per cent of the troops.

Almost one in four, 24.2 per cent, of the noncommissioned battle leaders in Vietnam, from squad leader to field first sergeants, are black and Negro officers, though only 5 per cent of the Army's officer corps, command everything from platoons to battalions. Others hold important staff jobs at every headquarter.

The Negro soldier has won more than his share of decorations in Vietnam, including, twice, the nation's highest award for devotion to duty, the Medal of Honor. One of the winners was Pfc. Milton Olive, 19, who threw himself on a live hand grenade and gave his life to save four others, both blacks and whites.

On another occasion, Westmoreland said he had "an intuitive feeling that the Negro servicemen have a better understanding than the whites of what the war is about."

He referred to the involvement of so many black soldiers, perhaps through a feeling of empathy, in what the military likes to call "the battle for the hearts and minds" of the Vietnamese peasant.

Typical Negro GI
Spec. 4 Michael Baker of Chicago, 21, a medic in the First Cavalry Division, is typical of that kind of Negro soldier. He has taught himself a few words of Vietnamese and on search operations in villages he seeks out the elders and tries to explain what the troops are doing and why. He also offers to treat sick villagers.

Often, Baker ends up being invited to drink tea with these village leaders and when his unit pulls out, he has left behind Vietnamese who may not be friends of the United States but at least better understand the GI.

The most eloquent record of the black soldier in combat is that written in his own blood. Between 1961 and the end of 1967, 14.1 per cent of all battle deaths were Negroes, although Negroes during those years averaged less than 10 per cent of the total troops in Vietnam.

Neither Joey Williams nor Buddy Warwick was prepared to return to the status quo.

"I was going to get mine, you know," said Joey. "I was going to go anywhere and do anything I wanted."

Agency Used Deception To Collect Bills

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—The U. S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals Monday ordered the enforcement of a Federal Trade Commission decision against a Texas bill collection agency, for operating under deception.

S. Dean Slough, head of the "State Credit Control Board," had appealed the FTC order because it would, among other things, put him out of business. The court found Slough guilty of supplying businessmen with forms aimed at "implanting in the debtor's minds the notion that an official governmental agency is pressing them for payment."

Slough's plan, the circuit court said, "is designed to collect without the necessity of legal action," and "therein lies the deception."

MULTIMOUSE is studied by Mrs. Chris Rowland, lab technician at North Carolina State University. Mrs. Rowland mated two pairs of mice; removed, surgically, a fertile egg from each female; fused the two eggs and implanted them into another female. Multimouse, which inherited traits from both sets of parents, was born 19 days later.

New Bill Requires Cameras In Banks

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The House has given final congressional approval to legislation which would require banks to install cameras and take other measures to guard against robberies.

The bill, passed Monday and sent to President Johnson, would require federal bank regulatory agencies to set minimum protective standards for federally insured banks and savings and loan associations.
