Protection On Dumped Grain Is Guaranteed

Proper Storage In 90 Days Required Under Agreement

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, June 14. Distress wheat loans for a wide Texas area were approved today by the state Production and Marketing administration committee. The approval carries out a decision by the U. S. Department of Agriculture last week.

Counties approved were Clay, Archer, Young, Throckmorton, Shackleford, Callahan, Coleman, Runnels, Nolan, Mitchell, Howard, Martin, Andrews "and all other counties west and north of these."

Storage Deadline Set

The loan areas were announced by state PMA Director B. F. Vance.

Loans are made at 75 per cent of the regular loan rate, which varies with counties. The distress loans are made on wheat piled on the ground or placed in temporary storage. But the producer is expected to build or acquire satisfactory storage within 90 days from the date of the distress loan.

Application for a distress loan must be made within 30 days after the harvest.

Grade Loss Covered

Under the distress loan arrangement the farmer is protected against any loss from deterioration in the quality of his wheat while it lies on the ground or in improvised storage. The grade and quality of the wheat are determined when the wheat is put under distress loan, the farmer is not responsible for any loss in either grade or quality.

Moreover, as soon as he puts the wheat in approved storage he can recover the remaining 25 per cent of the regular loan for a total of about $1.85 a bushel.

The distress loan program was announced in Washington June 7 by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan.

At the same time it was announced the CCC will lend up to 85 per cent of the cost of storage facilities which farmers build on their farms.

DISTRESS LOANS WILL AID PANHANDLE-PLAINS

Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock Agriculture Conservation association, said today that the proposed distress loans for wheat farmers will relieve a serious situation on the South Plains and Panhandle.

Baby Sitter Clubs To Death Teasing Six-Year-Old Boy

LANCASTER, Pa., June 14—Angered because her six-year-old charge shut off the current to a washing machine, a 14-year-old baby sitter beat the boy to death with a piece of wood, Sgt. Stiles Smith of the state police said.

Donald Glen Keller died in Lancaster General hospital yesterday, five hours after he had been beaten about the head with a piece of wood two inches thick and 16 inches long.

Jean Sonnen of Litiz, Pa., was ordered held in the Lancaster County Shelter Home For Girls by District Attorney John Milton Ranck.

Smith said the Sonnen girl had been employed by Mr. and Mrs. Paul Keller last Wednesday and was doing the family wash in the basement. Ronald kept pulling the washing machine's electric cord from the socket.

The girl became angry, the

Hospitals Are Jammed After Topeka Picnic

Plant Forced To Close; Employes Unable To Work

(By The United Press)

TOPEKA, Kans., June 14.—About 200 persons stricken with food poisoning at a company picnic jammed Topeka's three hospitals today.

So many employes of the Seymour Packing company became ill at the annual picnic yesterday that the firm was forced to shut down for an indefinite period. The firm is one of the nation's largest egg processors.

All of the stricken were out of danger this morning but county Coroner H. L. Clark emphasized that their illness was "painful and serious."

Picnic Becomes Bedlam

The picnic, attended by about 300 employes and their families, turned into a bedlam about 20 minutes after they had completed their supper of potato salad, fried chicken and baked beans.

It was a hot sultry day and Clark said he believed the potato salad may have caused the sickness. State officials were testing samples of the food today to track down the cause.

"It was awful," one woman picnicker said. "The sickness seemed to hit everybody at the same time.

"Kids who were playing baseball stopped in their tracks and began retching. My own youngster began crying and then turned sort of a green color as he began vomiting.

"By that time I was too sick myself to do anything to help him."

Victims Collapse

Some victims staggered to their cars but collapsed on the fenders, too ill to drive to hospitals. Others writhed in the grass as violent cramps racked their abdomens.

Among those stricken was J. G. Neville, president of the company.

Someone finally made his way to a telephone and called for help.

Ambulances, police cars, fire rescue squads and private cars rushed to the picnic grounds. Every doctor and nurse in town was alerted.

Roads were crowded for a few minutes as the vehicles raced back and forth, carrying the sick to hospitals. A few of the stricken managed to walk to their homes.

Clark said the food poisoning was of the enteritis type, "considerably less dangerous" than the deadly botulism type of poisoning.

Most patients, he said, will be sick for at least 24 to 48 hours.

Military Pay Bill Trimmed

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP) — The military pay raise bill, slimmed down by a little over $100,000,000, returned to the House floor today for another try.

Sponsors flatly predicted—and many opponents conceded—that it will pass, probably tomorrow.

The first pay bill, based on recommendations of a civilian commission, was defeated by the House last month. It would have cost about $406,000,000 a year.

Rep. Kilday (D-Tex), one of its authors, has estimated the new bill would cost about $358,000,000 for its first full year of operation, and would taper off after 1952 to an annual cost of approximately $304,000,000.

Almost All Get Raise

The new bill would give some more money to almost everybody in uniform—from the 30-year generals and admirals on down to the rookies and "boots" just entering military service. It would not give the high brass such high percentage raises that were in the rejected bill.

Top brass with over 30 years' service would draw base pay of $904 a month. The present scale is $733. Newly commissioned ensigns and second lieutenants would go into service at $213 a month, compared with $180 now.

The lowest enlisted rank, now drawing $75 a month, would continue at that rate for the first four months, and would then go up, reaching $95 after four years.

Wage Boost Refused To French Employes

PARIS, June 14. (U.P.) — The government today refused wage boosts for 1,000,000 civil service employes who were scheduled to strike at midnight and practically paralyze French administrative life for a day.

The cabinet countered the wage demands with a warning to leaders of the proposed strike that senior civil service employes would be liable to loss of their jobs if they took part in the walkout.

The strike threat promised to immobilize employes of government ministries, local prefects, radio stations, law courts, postoffices, telephone exchanges and customs posts.

Planes And Surface Craft Open Search

Navy Plane Is Missing Over Pacific With 7 Men Aboard

(By The Associated Press)

SANTA MONICA, Calif., June 14.—Planes and a surface craft searched today for a naval reserve training plane missing with a crew of seven since last night at 8:45 p.m. (PST).

The two-engine transport normally would have run out of fuel at 1:43 a.m. today, the Navy said. It said seven naval reservists from Memphis, Tenn., were aboard.

The search by Coast Guard planes and a Coast Guard cutter was concentrated along the Southern California coastal area.

Air-sea rescue planes from March Air Force base were ordered to stand by to join the search. Sky-scanning radar was alerted along the coast.

The Navy said shortly after 3 a. m. no word had been received from the transport since last night at about 8:30 p. m.

At that time it contacted Clover field, here as it prepared for a landing.

A 1,000-foot ceiling was over the field, and the plane turned back over the Pacific ocean, a Navy public information officer said. It has not been heard from since.

The plane is a two-engine R4D transport. It was one of a squadron of about ten which flew to Moffett field near here from Memphis a week ago. The squadron is engaged in its annual two-week training duty.

The Navy said the crew of the missing plane included three lieutenants, a lieutenant(jg) and three enlisted men. Their names were not available here.

The plane took off late yesterday afternoon from Moffett field.

SENATE APPROVES $1 VOTE FEE

Texas To Vote On Poll Tax Proposal

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, June 14—The Senate today completed legislative action on a proposed constitutional amendment to abolish the poll tax.

At the same time, it voted for a $1 annual fee to be written into the House-passed voter registration law.

The action assures submission of the poll tax abolition proposal to the voters on Sept. 24, but the House would have to concur in the $1 annual registration fee before registration would become law.

The vote was 25-4 on the poll tax and 16-13 on the fee.

Amendment Protested

Amendment of the House-passed voter registration bill to include the fee came over the protests of several senators.

"Whenever you charge more for the right to vote than is necessary to cover the costs of elections, you're confronted with the same argument that courts will hold you're still charging for the right to vote," R. A. Weinert of Seguin argued.

Searcy Bracewell of Houston proposed the $1 fee. Seventy-five cents of it would go to the available school fund and 25 cents to the county.

"Everyone knows we're in a pretty serious financial situation here now and I don't think we ought to let go of this thing without keeping a little of the money for the school fund," he argued.

The House had originally turned down efforts to write a fee into its registration bill before it was sent to the Senate.

The Senate also approved, 24-5, a Senate bill appropriating $400,000 for the Texas state university for negroes for the remainder of this fiscal year.

A resolution asking Congress to cut down the importation of foreign oil was approved by a voice vote.

Wind Blows Down Trees At Amarillo

AMARILLO, June 14 (U.P.) —A tornado warning system being set up by the U. S. Weather bureau in the Panhandle got a brief workout last night when an angry wind twisted through Amarillo, blowing down trees and utility lines during a thunderstorm.

However, little damage was reported outside the city itself.

The bureau's warning system will extend over an area within a 60-mile radius of Amarillo and is patterned after the Army system used in World War II to safeguard planes.

Designated citizens are observers, reporting to the Amarillo weather bureau, from where warnings will be relayed to the public through radio stations.

Observers appointed yesterday were G. W. Webb, Canyon; Clarence Kearn, Umbarger; David Rogers, Dawn; H. N. Reeves, Hereford, and R. D. Spears, Happy.

Price Increase On Canned Goods Seen

CHICAGO, June 14. (U.P.) — The prices of canned goods will rise this summer and next fall even if farmers give away certain of their fruits and vegetable crops, a grocery association official said today.

Arthur Lutz, president of the National-American Wholesale Grocers' association, said it is costing more to get the farmer's products into the cans.

Peaches, corn, peas and the ingredients for fruit cocktail, if obtained without charge from the farmer, will cost more in extra standard and standard size cans, he said.

Train Piles Into Washout; Tornado Seen, Breaks Up

(By The Associated Press)

Storms and flash floods took at least ten lives in Texas today. A child is missing.

Six of the dead were in Dallas county. Four drowned at Garland, northeast of Dallas, trapped by ramoaging Duck creek.

At Farmers Branch, in northwest Dallas county, a Frisco freight train piled into a washout. All crewmen were accounted for.

Three Everman, Texas, youths were killed at 9:25 a. m. when their automobile collided with a Missouri Pacific freight train during a blinding rainstorm at Everman, in Tarrant county.

The Texas Death Toll:

Drowned at Garland:

Mrs. Dorothy Cooper, 25. Her child was reported missing.

Auldon R. King, office manager at Garland for the Kraft Cheese Corp. He had formerly lived at Denison.

His wife, whose age was estimated at 45.

Wayne Taylor.

Joe Edward Clowers.

Ward A. Graves.

Mack Reilly, a 14-year-old Dallas boy, who drowned in Lake Dallas when his boat overturned during a storm.

During a brilliant electrical storm at Dallas, John Kenneth Martin, 48, was struck by an automobile and killed. The driver said he didn't see Martin in the rain.

Sallie Purnell, three months old, suffocated in her crib after lightning knocked out lights at her parents home.

Heavy, threatening clouds boiled over North Texas and at 10 a. m. an Air Force plane reported it had sighted a tornado 35 miles northeast of Fort Worth and moving east northeast.

Did Not Reach Ground

The plane said the tornado broke up in a few minutes without reaching the ground. The report put the tornado in Denton county, somewhere south of Denton.

One hundred persons were rescued by boats when swollen Duck creek flooded at Garland. Scores of others scrambled frantically from soaked homes to high ground.

Saturn Springs addition, on low ground at Garland, was isolated.

Mrs. Cooper and her husband were clinging to telephone poles. She was swept away. He was rescued by a boat and treated for shock at a hospital.

Damage Is Tremendous

Property and crop damage in the Garland area were tremendous. The flood invaded the Duck creek shopping village, Garland, battering stores and washing away stocks.

Crops were flattened.

In the Garland area, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowe and their two small children climbed telephone poles and clung to wires until boats rescued them.

Over all of northern Dallas county creeks and streams boiled threateningly.

The northern approaches to Dallas were cut off.

At Dallas, 15 or 20 automobiles, trucks and house trailers were washed into White Rock lake. The Dallas sailing club boathouse was several feet under water. Many vehicles were swept of the road on northwest highway, near Dallas.

Trinity Is Swelling

The Trinity river at Dallas swelled 11 feet during the night. The Weather bureau predicted the river would go to 38 feet, 10 feet above flood stage. Dallas is protected by a levee system, but warnings were issued to residents of the lowlands.

Traffic was stalled in many sections of northern Dallas county. It was backed up for two miles at Garland.

Power lines suffered greatly.

Another violent thunderstorm struck Dallas at 9:25 a. m. today. High winds, torrential rains and hail were predicted. Forty mile winds raked Dallas last night and today during the dazzling series of electrical storms.

Eighteen box cars piled up in the freight wreck at Farmers Branch. About 12 were demolished.

Creek On High Rampage

In southeast Dallas, White Rock creek was on a high rampage.

At Carrollton, in the northwest section of the county, debris was washed high up on railroad embankments.

The bodies of the unidentified woman and boy were at the Williams Funeral home, Garland, and efforts were being made to determine their identities.

Strong winds hit Dallas at 9:35 a. m. as the fresh thunderstorms developed.

MIDWEST VICTORY SEEN IN '50

Demo Ballot Hopes Rest On Farm Bill

(By The United Press)

DES MOINES, June 14. Democrats will stake their hopes for another midwestern farm belt victory in 1950 on the Truman administration's new farm plan. It promises cheaper food and farmer prosperity.

A 16-state Democratic midwest conference voted yesterday to support the controversial program advanced by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan and endorsed by President Truman.

The conference made this decision after hearing Brannan and other top-ranking administration leaders advance the proposal as a sure-fire measure for preventing a new farm depression and as a victory vehicle in next year's congressional elections.

AFBF Opposition Strong

This stand was taken in the face of sharp opposition to the plan by the powerful American Farm Bureau Federation. This farm organization has endorsed the long range Aiken (R-Vt) farm law passed by the Republican 80th Congress.

Farm belt Democrats said they were willing to let farmers choose between the administration's so-called Brannan plan and the Aiken law.

Republicans have declared their intention to try to pull the traditionally-GOP farm vote back into the party fold next year.

"We accept the challenge of the Republican leadership," said the conference resolution, "to make the farm programs offered by the two parties the major issue of the election campaign in the midwest."

More Money Promised

In brief, the Brannan plan would promise the farmers higher returns than the Aiken law. Likewise, it would permit somewhat lower consumer prices on surplus perishable products. It would depend more upon subsidies to support farm income than would the Aiken measure.

With chances of passage of the Brannan plan at this session of Congress very small, the Democratic leaders indicated they will ask the lawmakers to continue the present wartime price support system pending the outcome of next year's congressional elections.

'Might Be' Will Be Next One Up, Maybe

HOUSTON, June 14 (U.P.)—A couple of Houston policemen had stiff necks today, brought on by a series of "double takes."

It was all tied in with the Minifee brothers.

"Ought To Be" had two brothers, he confessed, named "Must Be" and "Might Be."

Last night "Must Be" ran afoul of the law and got a ticket from Officer J. J. Easter.

Said Rankin: "Could be 'Might Be' will be next."

Cotton Buying Slash Opposed

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Senators from the cotton country rallied today against any "drastic slash" in cotton purchases for the European recovery program.

Most of them want a cut in recovery spending—but they are standing firm against cotton being singled out for economy sacrifice by the Senate appropriations committee.

The committee called for further testimony today on the recovery program.

Southerners were quick to voice opposition to an economy plan offered by Senator McCarran (D-Nev). He proposed a reduction of $740,000,000 in ECA budget estimates, including a cut of $134,000,000 in Europe's cotton and wool purchases.

The effect of these cuts would be to reduce the volume of ECA purchases in the United States.

Senator Connally (D-Texas) said "I'm opposed to the proposal for radical reductions in wool and cotton exports to Europe. If Europe is to be rehabilitated, her textile industry must be permitted to secure raw material to give employment and maintain her position in world trade."

Senator McClellan (D-Ark) declared he would not "go along" with such a cut.

McClellan agreed with Connally that cotton should not be "pointed out" for a special cut. "Europe needs the textiles for export," McClellan said. "That's the way she is building up her economy."

High Price Of $2,528.20 Is Paid For First Texas Cotton

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, June 14—A new high price for a first bale of the season was paid at auction on the Houston cotton exchange this morning when Joe Acosta, of McAllen, received $2528.20 for his cotton. The bale was rushed here Monday night six hours ahead of a second bale, flown in.

The bale, which weighed 512 pounds and classed strict low middling inch and one-sixteenth staple, was bought by Jake Lambert for Anderson, Clayton & Co., on his high bid of $2.35 per pound. The bale thus brought $1,203.20, plus a purse of $1,325 contributed by members of the exchange.

No action was taken on the second bale, which was of lower quality.

Police Suspect New Racket In New Orleans

War Widow, Fiance Waiting For Results Of Voodoo Hex

(By The United Press)

NEW ORLEANS, June 14. A pretty war widow and the man she plans to marry waited uneasily today for the results of a weird voodoo hex they believe was designed to break up their romance.

But police were waiting for an extortion attempt. They suspected that the evil-looking "curse charm" found on Mrs. Edna Boudreaux' front porch was part of a new racket.

A neighbor found the ominous black cross, made of two candles studded with 43 pins and needles, stained with red and bearing the names of Mrs. Boudreaux and her fiance, Sunday night.

A cryptic warning was attached to the gris-gris, or charm. Officers said the next step in the voodoo hex would probably be an offer to remove the curse if Mrs. Boudreaux pays off.

They pointed out that the pretty 27-year-old widow received $10,000 in GI insurance when her husband was killed in the war. The "voodoo practitioner" is probably after

Berlin Railway Strikers Vote On Continuation Of Shutdown

BERLIN, June 14. (AP)—Berlin's rail strikers vote today whether to continue their 24-day-old shutdown or go back to work under terms put forth by the four occupation powers.

Representatives of the strikers Sunday overrode their own top leaders and turned down an American appeal for an immediate end to the crippling walkout.

Instead, the 600 union officials voted overwhelmingly to refer the settlement terms to a referendum. Seventy-five per cent of the membership must vote to continue the walkout, or it is automatically called off.

Strike Caused Two Deaths

Today's vote brings to a climax the strike, which has caused two deaths, blockaded rail delivery of supplies to Berlin and helped prevent an east-west accord on German trade.

The walkout also has halted all elevated train service in the three western sectors.

By causing a stoppage of freight trains in and out of the Berlin area, the strike has affected the lives of several million west Berliners who are thrown back on supplies the airlift can bring into the city.

Some 40 trains are stranded at the gates of Berlin and 2,000 cars are stuck in the marshalling yards. The strikers control the switches and man the signal towers. They have torn up strategic rails and cut telegraph wires.

West Currency Demanded

The west Berlin railway men, numbering about 14,000, walked out May 21 with demands that the Russian-controlled railway management pay them in west marks instead of the east marks used previously to pay wages. The east marks are worth about one-fourth the west variety.

The strikers also demanded that management recognize the anti-Communist UGO union as their bargaining agent and pledge job security. They rejected compromise offers for payment of part of their wages in west marks.

The terms the strikers were voting on today were worked out by the United States in consultation with Britain and France and agreed to by Russia. The western allies have been openly sympathetic to the strikers.

Compromise Offered

The proposal called for payment of 75 per cent of wages in west marks and no reprisals by the Soviet-controlled railway management against the anti-Red union leaders.

The management would pay 60 per cent of the wages in west marks and the west Berlin government would exchange an additional 15 per cent of the men's salaries in the more valuable currency.

The terms did not mention the union demand for recognition as official bargaining agent for the workers. The management recognizes only the Communist union in the eastern sector and has refused to deal with the independent anti-Communist union.

The Berlin railway system has been under Russian control since 1945, under the provisions of a four-power agreement.

Sylvio's Demurrer Raps Divorce Suit

LOS ANGELES, June 14 (AP) — Bandleader Don Sylvio has introduced a note of discord into the divorce suit of Margaret O'Brien's mother, Mrs. Gladys Sylvio.

Sylvio filed a demurrer yesterday, claiming the divorce complaint his wife filed last Wednesday does not contain sufficient facts for him to answer adequately. Mrs. Sylvio charged cruelty.

The couple married Feb. 22 in Palm Beach, Fla. After the ceremony the 12-year-old actress cried and refused to kiss her new stepfather. Then she and her mother went to Europe, sans Sylvio.

Upon their return, Margaret still showed no signs of approving the marriage.

Tabor, minister of the College Ave. Church of Christ, has announced that services are being held at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. in a gospel meeting which will continue at that church through Sunday. Yater Tant, evangelist from Oklahoma City, is delivering the sermons. He has chosen "Can We See It Alike" for his topic tonight and he will speak on the "Work of the Holy Spirit" Wednesday night.

City firemen answered an 8:50 p. m. alarm Monday to 904 Ave. K, where an automobile was afire. A cigaret or cigar was believed to have started the fire, which was concentrated in the vehicle's front seat, fire department reports indicated. The owner of the vehicle was not known to firemen.

A father-son supper will feature the weekly meeting of the First Baptist Brotherhood, to be held at 6:45 o'clock tonight in the Sunday school annex of the church. LaVern Roach will be principal speaker at the meeting, it was announced Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pipkin are to present special music.

An earthquake of moderate intensity was recorded at 12:03 p.m. Sunday at the Texas Tech Seismological observatory, Dr. Leroy T. Patton reported Monday. Dr. Patton said records indicated that the center of the shock was about 3,100 miles to the south, which would place it off the west coast of South America. If apparently was about 300 kilometers below the earth's surface, he said.

Last rites for M. O. Pugh, 76, retired Jayton farmer who died Monday, were held this morning in Jayton Methodist church. Rev. George Bryant, pastor of Lorenzo Methodist church, officiated. The body was taken to Greenville for burial there at 10 a. m. Wednesday, Rix Funeral home of Lubbock reported.

Funeral services for Jo Ann Irwin, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Irwin of 3105 Walnut, were to be held at 3 p. m. today in St. John's Methodist church. Rev. Hubert Bratcher, pastor, was to officiate. Burial was to be in Tech Memorial park, under direction of Plains Funeral home.

Pawley, jr., 28, son of the wealthy ex-ambassador to Brazil, after they announced their engagement at the Pawley home in Miami Beach, Fla. They plan to marry early next year in California and live in Florida. The actress denied she ever was engaged to Lt. Glenn Davis, former Army football star.

Lewis And Northern Operators Reported Agreed On Coal Czar

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The New York Times said today that John L. Lewis and a vast segment of the northern coal industry are in agreement on creation of an industry "czar."

The duties of such a "czar," Louis Stark said in a dispatch from Washington to the Times, would be to aid in the "permanent stabilization" of the bituminous coal industry.

"He would be to coal what Albert B. (Happy) Chandler is to baseball," the dispatch said and added:

"The agreement has been shrouded in great secrecy, but it is known that it has split the industry down the middle.

"While operators representing close to an annual tonnage of 200,000,000 favor the scheme, the Southern Coal Producers association, speaking for those who mine 100,000,000 tons, is dead set against it. But this association may be forced into the plan against its will.

Opposing Arguments Given

"Opponents of the idea say it would mean 'creation of an industrial monopoly to match the labor monopoly' of the soft coal industry.

"They further maintain that if present plans go through it will mean domination of the coal industry by a handful of large northern operators and particularly by the United States Steel corporation."

The dispatch said this charge comes from the fact that the "secret negotiations, which are almost completed, indicate that the industry 'coordinator' would be Harry M. Moses, president of the H. C. Frick Coke company, a United States Steel corporation subsidiary."

The dispatch said Moses has been on friendly terms for many years with Lewis, head of the United Mine workers, and that he would resign from his present post to accept such an appointment.

"He would be paid a salary of from $75,000 to $100,000 a year. A financial arrangement would protect his interest in the company's retirement fund.

To Have Vast Powers

"If the plan now under discussion is finally adopted by the northern two-thirds of the coal industry, as seems likely, Moses will not only be set up as the permanent collective bargaining spokesman for the coal industry but more important, he will have vast powers to 'coordinate' and allocate production unless the anti-trust laws prevent this."

Consummation of the plan, the Times said, would mean that Lewis is "would 'let the industry off' this year with a comparatively 'reasonable' contract, perhaps by the addition of five or 10 cents a ton to the 20 cents now paid for every ton mined to the Miners' welfare fund."

The dispatch said that "never before in the long history of coal wage negotiations has there been any evidence of willingness among the coal operators to set up a permanent office to handle collective bargaining and 'stabilization' problems."

Mechanical Brain Stymied---No Nose

LONDON, June 14 (U.P.) — Three British scientists have produced a mechanical brain which they are teaching to play chess and which they hope some day might be able to learn to cook.

About the only stumbling block to teaching this brain to cook, said Manchester university Prof. A. M. Turing, is that it has no sense of smell.

"The possibilities of this machine are so great as to be almost impossible to judge at this early stage," Turing said.

Man Described In Theft Case

Officials this morning sought the occupants of an automobile, partial description of which was known to them, for questioning in connection with a missing watch valued at $100.

The watch disappeared from the men's rest room of Shorty's garage, where a garage employe had laid it down to wash his hands and then forgotten it.

A car in which were transients drove up. A man went into the restroom briefly. After he had driven away the watch was missed, police were told.

Other Property Taken

Several other thefs were reported early today:

Fender skirts, $10 value, from J. V. Gage of 1918 Fourteenth; a bike, value $50, from Ted Thompson of 221 Thirtieth; a .22 rifle from Ilanster Franklin of a new residential addition near the cemetery; flares valued at $5, from A. L. Evans of 1910 Ninth; and a bike from the Richardson residence at 2624 Edna.

Murder Attempt Charged

Jimmy Hawkins, 35-year-old Slaton negro, was charged Monday with assault with intent to murder another negro, Emory Morrell, and had posted $1,500 bond set by Justice of the Peace D. W. Robertson, it was announced this morning.

The alleged incident, said Slaton Chief of Police Ernest Ward and J. E. Morris, patrolman of the same department, happened early Monday in Slaton.

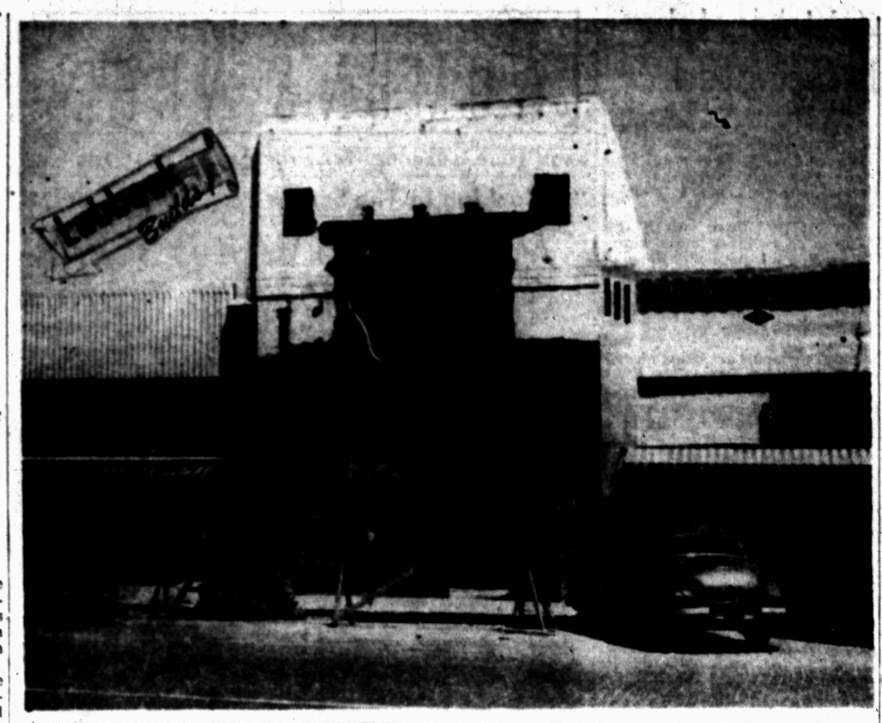

Hawkins, the officers said, fired a shotgun blast that missed Morrell's head by a scant two inches when it blasted out the windshield of his car. Hawkins was drunk at the time of the shooting, the officers said.

Negro Is Arraigned

Seab Lee, 45, a negro under murder indictment in connection with the recent knife slaying of his wife here, was arraigned Monday in 99th District court. He informed Judge G. V. Pardue that he had no counsel. The court appointed James G. Denton, Lubbock attorney, to represent him.

Ray Fowler, 44, charged with theft of a car, posted $1,000 bond set in binding him over to grand jury investigation.

OLD BROADWAY THEATER REMODELED—The building which for years housed the Broadway theater at 1116 Broadway is now being thoroughly altered for another ladies' ready-to-wear store. The alterations are being made by the lessee of the building, LaMode Shops of Greenville, and by Albert Skibell, one of the owners of the business. A unusual second-floor display window will be one of the features of the building. The building permit application showed an estimated cost of $15,000 several months ago. Robert E. Wife Man Never Saw Helps To Celebrate Golden Anniversary

WHITEWATER, Wis., June 14 (U.P.)—August H. Wagner, 74, and his wife Gertrude, 70, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here. But August never has seen his wife.

When Wagner was 21 he helped a neighbor smash rock with a sledge hammer. A chipped piece flew into one eye and destroyed the nerves in both.

He learned piano tuning and the Braille system at the state school for the blind at Janesville, Wisc., where he met his wife. She used to crack hickory nuts and leave them on his desk. He learned to recognize her in those early days of romance by her footstep.

Mrs. Wagner has 50 per cent vision in one eye and less in the other. Last summer she retired from janitor work at Whitewater State Teachers College after 26 years.

"Sees" For Husband

She has described hundreds of things for her husband — things which he never had seen when he had sight. "An airplane," he says, "is like a big bird sailing along with a propellor turning like a windmill!" Some things, like trees and birds, Wagner can recall.

His wife said she had always been willing to describe things to him—"everything but pretty girls."

They have three grown children. One son is principal of Norwich, Conn., Academy; the other son is assistant superintendent of schools at West Haven, Conn. Their daughter lives at Flint, Mich. The Wagners have three grandsons and three granddaughters.

Wagner and his wife revealed the secret of their long and happy marriage on their golden wedding anniversary day. Mrs. Wagner said, "Whatever he says, I say 'yes'."

Wagner, enjoying one of the early warm spring days, said, "Whenever we had an argument, I went for a walk."

"A-Rocking In The Saddle"

Mrs. English Writes Song Of Pioneer Days In Texas

MRS. ETHEL ENGLISH

"A-Rocking In The Saddle," a song of pioneer life in Texas and the lonesome cowboy, was composed by Mrs. Ethel English a few weeks ago, after she had read of the need for a new "Texas song of quality."

Mrs. English, whose home is at 3324 Thirty-fourth, writes under the name of Ethel Jeannette Mauldin. She is author of a number of books and songs.

"A-Rocking In The Saddle" has a touch of Texas cowboy pathos in both words and music. Those who have heard it agree that it is timely for adaption in both sheet music and recordings.

The song has been printed and copyrighted and is to be submitted to a large music house for publication, Mrs. English says. Copies will be on sale in Lubbock at the Adair Music store.

Has Been Recorded

After she had composed the music, the author submitted it to Ted Crager, Lubbock musician, for arrangement. Later she showed it to Dub Adams, orchestra leader who is spending the summer at Fowler dude ranch near Ruidoso, N. M. He was so elated he directed his orchestra in a recording.

"The person who likes to sing or to hear popular songs has no idea of the work that goes into the publication of a composition after one actually gets it on paper," Mrs. English said this morning. "I have written a number of songs, but I am more encouraged over the possibilities of "A-Rocking In The Saddle" than any of the others. Perhaps it's because it has 'rocking rhythm.' At any rate, advance listeners have been kind in their criticism."

The first verse and chorus follow:

The Spirit of the Alamo
Is strong in heart and brains.
The blood of Texas chivalry
Is flowing through our veins.
No matter where I wander
In countries far and strange,
My heart is still in Texas,
My home out on the range.

Chorus:
I'm just a roving cowboy
A-wearing boots and spurs
A-riding my cow pony,
A-roping Texas steers.
A-rocking in the saddle,
A-holding to the reins,
A-riding in the round-up,
Across the Texas plains.

Jester Asks Attorney General For Opinion On Decontrol Bill

AUSTIN, June 14. (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester today asked the attorney general to give his opinion whether the rent decontrol bill does what the legislature apparently wants it to do.

In a letter to Attorney General Price Daniel, Jester said he understood the legislature wanted the bill to accomplish two things. They were:

"1. To abolish federal rent control in the state of Texas.

"2. To provide for the imposition of local rent control by municipalities, by action of their governing bodies."

Withholds Comment

The governor said he would withhold comment on the rent decontrol bill until he has "received and studied" the attorney general's opinion.

Jester has until Saturday, June 25 to act on Rep. Carleton Moore's bill as passed by the legislature.

"I would be grateful for your opinion as to whether these two objectives are or may be accomplished under the terms of House bill 808, in the light of existing federal law and the Texas constitution and statutes," the governor's letter said.

Jester's announcement came in a written statement as a crowd of about 50 women from the Austin area filed into his office plugging for his signature on the measure which would lift rent ceilings throughout Texas.

Still Studying Bill

The women—some old and some young—accompanied two officials of the Austin area rent advisory board.

"We just talked to the governor and asked him to sign the bill," said Eldridge Moore of Austin, chairman of the board which operates in Williamson, Hays and Travis counties.

Moore and Harry D. Pruett of Austin, member of the board, said Jester told them he was still studying the bill.

"We told the governor that the general feeling through the area is for the decontrol of rents," Pruett said. "We represent the entire advisory board."

In Corsicana Sunday Jester said he had intended to sign the rent decontrol bill but might have to change his mind because of an amendment voted on the measure by the Senate. The amendment would allow cities to put controls back into effect after they are removed if local officials find there is a housing emergency.

Federal Housing Expediter Tighe E. Woods flew to Austin last week for a conference with Jester. At that time he told the governor that he believed the amendment would make the bill contrary to federal law.

Barbecue Is Tonight For Soldier Visitors

Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will be hosts at a Buffalo Lakes barbecue tonight for a delegation of 15 visiting soldiers from Barksdale Field, Shreveport, La. The event will climax their two-day visit here inspecting various facilities pertaining to reactivation of Lubbock Air Force Base.

The soldiers, all non-commissioned officers, will return to Shreveport Wednesday morning, shortly after arrival here of a group of Barksdale officers on a similar mission. Capt. Paul McGee, public information officer at Barksdale, who accompanied the group here Monday, will remain through the visit of the officers, which will terminate Friday.

The officers will be guests at a luncheon in Lubbock hotel Wednesday noon and at a barbecue at Buffalo Lakes Thursday night.

Election Suit To Be Halted

SAN ANTONIO, June 14 (AP)—The attorney for Coke Stevenson in his contest of Lyndon Johnson's right to a seat in the United States Senate says the contest will be dropped.

James F. Gardner made the announcement yesterday, declaring that the Senate election committee would pigeon-hole the plea before July 31. Johnson defeated Stevenson by a narrow margin in the election last year.

Result Of Trade

But Gardner added that he will attempt to upset these plans. He said the news came to him unofficially but he thinks it is correct. He said his informant stated that the drooping of the contest was the result of a bi-party trade. The name of Homer Ferguson, Michigan Republican, whose seat in the U. S. Senate is also under scrutiny, figures in the reported deal.

According to the report reaching Gardner, both the Ferguson and Johnson contests will be dropped by agreement to insure stability of both parties' strength in the Senate. Congress is due to adjourn about July 31, Gardner was advised, and both contests would be dropped on the eve of adjournment.

Evidence Concluded In Damages Action

The defense rested and both sides closed just before noon today in the damages action of M. G. Abernathy and wife against Decorator's studio and others. The plaintiff rested late Monday.

Judge G. V. Pardue ordered that the 99th court jury return at 3 p. m. for the court's charge, after which attorneys will sum up and the jury will consider its answers to special issues.

Counsel said the Abernathys seek $597.55, an amount they alleged in their petition would be necessary to restoration of two buildings, at 1302 Ave. N and 1509 Thirteenth, to the condition they were in when leased to Mrs. Fredda Hunt Carle and her husband James and Alma Lockhart Edwards and her husband Alton P. parties defendant.

The suit was filed Jan. 3, 1947. The law firm of Berry and Ball represent the Abernathys. Robert J. Allen, of the law firm of Boling, Smith and Allen, is counsel for the defense.

The jury is composed of Glenn Bates, M. B. Tudor, C. H. Scales, T. C. Scott, V. T. Brady, J. R. Caldwell, W. J. Culp, C. C. McQueen, Donovan L. Stafford, C. R. Givens, U. U. Clark, and F. F. Hendley.

Five invitations have been prepared, covering general contracting, heating, concrete runway construction, cathodic installation in a water tank, and air conditioning.

Kansas Prisoner Gets Parole After 18 Years Behind Bars

LANSING, Kans., June 14 (U.P.)—Dr. S. O. Netherton said today he will start his new life as a free man at the home of a friend who was only a child when he was convicted of murdering his wife 21 years ago.

Netherton, Kansas' most famous prisoner, was paroled yesterday after 18 years in prison. He is 62.

He said he wanted to live with Mrs. Dorothy Lane in Kansas City, Kans., until he gets his "bearings" because she always believed in his innocence.

Killer Claimed Known

Mrs. Lane lived near Netherton's Olathe, Kans., farm when she was young. She said he was always kind to her.

She corresponded with Netherton throughout the years he spent in prison and assisted him in his nine pleas for clemency. Gov. Frank Carlson reduced his term to a 30-45 year sentence last April.

After rehabilitating himself, Netherton said, he will go "down south" and spend the rest of his life gardening. Although a doctor, Netherton preferred work as a horticulturist.

Before leaving Lansing yesterday, Netherton told the United Press he knew who killed his wife in Olathe Feb. 24, 1928.

"He's here (in state prison)," he said.

Netherton replied "yes," when he was asked if he were talking about Vincent Williamson.

Confession Retracted

Warden Robert H. Hudspeth said Williamson admitted the slaying but later retracted his confession. Hudspeth said Williamson had admitted many "crimes" which he could not have committed.

Williamson now is serving a life term for slaying a Topeka, Kans., railroad officer and wrecking a train near Parsons, Kans.

Netherton said he left the prison without malice toward Williamson.

John Blake, Kansas City, Kans., attorney, met him at the gate.

Netherton always maintained that his 32-year-old wife had refused a handout to a tramp early on the morning she was killed. Her body was found at the foot of the basement stairs in their Olathe home.

She had been shot through the head twice with a .25 caliber pistol that was never found.

Netherton claimed that the tramp returned during his absence and killed her.

Doctor Booked For Abortions

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—A Manhattan physician, said by authorities to have made $200,000 a year on illegal abortions, was booked by police early today on a charge of performing a criminal operation.

The defendant, booked as Dr. Nathan Rappaport, was arrested yesterday in a police raid on a six-room suite at 330 West 72nd street, near Riverside drive.

A spokesman for District Attorney Frank S. Hogan said the suite had peepholes, double doors between rooms, and an interoffice communication system, so that anything said in the reception room could be heard in the inner offices.

Watched Two Months

Raiding detectives found one woman on an operating table and another in the waiting room, the spokesman said.

He said the doctor performed an average of two abortions a day, receiving from $300 to $600 for each. Rappaport had maintained the office suite for at least two years, the spokesman said, and had been watched by detectives for more than two months after a confidential tip to police.

The spokesman said most of the doctor's patients were New Yorkers, but some came from nearby states.

TWO BUREAUCRATIC SNAKES

BENTONG, Malaya, June 14. (AP)—Snakes have been found in a government office. Three were killed in ten days in the Bentong district office. Two were cobras, each seven and a half feet long.

Armed Mob Forces Non-Union Alabama Mine To Follow Order For UMW Shutdown

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., June 14. (AP)—An armed mob forced a small, non-union coal mine today to join in the strike decreed by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers.

The mine's two owners and two other persons were manhandled yesterday by the mob. William Hinz, 37, one of the owners, was seriously injured.

Union district headquarters here was quick to deny any knowledge of the attack. J. A. Terry, international representative of the UMW, said he knew nothing of the incident until reporters called him.

Hinz and Carr McCormack, jr., 33, the other owner, said members of the mob, which they estimated at 300 or more, left with the threat they would "keep this mine down."

Hinz said he was struck on the head, knocked to his knees and then kicked in the left eye. McCormack said he was hit once on the head.

They listed other victims of violence at the mine as a negro miner and a 15-year-old boy.

The mine normally produces about 25 tons of coal daily. It is operated by the Cahaba Coal Mining Co., and is in Shelby county, in central Alabama.

The two owners said they had no immediate plans for re-opening.

Alabama's union mines, employing more than 18,000 men, closed without incident yesterday as a part of a nationwide UMW walkout.

Pennsylvania Council Agrees To Loss, Finds Water Supply

HAZLETON, Pa., June 14. (AP)—The 3,600 residents of the borough of Beavers Meadows are happy again. They have been assured of a water supply.

The water shortage was solved at least temporarily yesterday when the borough council agreed to assume liability for water bills. The water will be supplied on an emergency basis by the Hazleton city water authority.

Previously, the Hazleton authority refused to service the Independent Water company—which had been supplying the borough—because of unpaid bills for water supplied on previous occasions.

The Hazleton authority claimed the Independent company's reservoir ran dry Saturday. Health officer Thomas Williams of Beaver Meadows blamed mine cave-ins. He said they caused a change of rock strata and shifted underground water channels.

The citizens of Beaver Meadows are considering an appeal to the public utility commission for a permanent solution of their water supply problem.

Actress' Marriage Held 'Emancipation'

LOS ANGELES, June 14. (AP)—Actress Wanda Hendrix was "emancipated" when she married war hero Audie Murphy. As a result, she is $11,200 richer today.

The 20-year-old brunette received 112 $100 government bonds yesterday, which under a movie contract were to have been held for her 21st birthday next Nov. 3.

However, in the language of attorneys, her marriage to Murphy, now also a screen actor, last Jan. 8 "emancipated" her.

Money Borrowing Pays Off For Dane

COPENHAGEN, June 14. (AP)—Ingvard Futtrup, 40-year-old farmer of Rakkeby on the Danish island of Mors, has been awarded $200 for owing a lot of people money but being in high spirits all the same.

When Niels Ovesen, a lawyer of the island's main town of Nykoebing, died a few years ago, it was disclosed that in his last will he had set an amount of money aside for a foundation, the interest of which should be paid to "a smallholder of Mors in considerable debt but who has not lost his good humor."

The first amount of the foundation money has been paid to Mr. Futtrup. He commented. "Now you see that good humor is more valuable than money."

Hollywood Far Too Costly For Actors, Says Gene Tierney

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Movie Writer

HOLLYWOOD, June 14. (AP)—Why does a Hollywood star make her home in New York?

This question was put to Gene Tierney, who has chosen to live in the east and remain here only to make movies. The answer:

"My husband's business is in the east. (He's designer Oleg Cassini.) But there's another reason—that's the discrimination against movie stars in Hollywood.

"Everybody from the butcher to the hairdresser tries to get his share of a star's earnings. Hollywood is the worst place in the world for this. It's a carry-over from the lush days when stars were able to keep the salaries they made.

"But today, by the time the tax collector gets through with the salary, there's little left for the mass of people who expect double or triple the price from a star."

Baby Cost A New Ford

At that moment Miss Tierney's maid appeared at her dressing-room door on the "Whirlpool" set. She bore a bill for $115 from a nearby gas station. What's more, the station wanted cash, because "movie stars don't pay their bills."

"That's what I mean," the actress said. "They are taking unfair advantage, because the minute you squawk, your names becomes mud.

"I believe in the policy of many doctors who charge according to financial status. That way they can afford to treat the needy for nothing. Why, I paid the price of a Ford for my last baby. And of course, she's worth it.

"But it isn't fair to be drained from every source. It isn't fair to be asked to pay three times the price for a roast. We just can't afford it."

RUHR METAL FOR U. S.

ANTWERP, June 14 (AP)—Five thousand tons of scrap metal from the Ruhr left Antwerp recently for Baltimore. The metal comes mainly from German locomotives which have been broken up. According to Antwerp dock officials mare cargoes of scrap will follow at regular intervals.

In 1883, on a hunting trip to the Badlands of North Dakota, Theodore Roosevelt helped trail, capture and transport to jail three thieves.

Locations Set For Two Semi-Wildcat Wells In Seminole, Riley Fields In Gaines County

Sunray Oil Corporation No. 3 Brown, one location stepout to the east from production from the North Snyder field, in north-central Scurry county entered the reef approximately 100 feet high to the same point in the closest well, the same company's No. 1 Brown.

Sunray No. 3 Brown picked the top of the reef at 6,400 feet. Elevation is 2,464 feet. It is located 467 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of tract 8, section 20, J. P. Smith survey, and five and oneh-alf miles north of Snyder.

It is now bottomed at 6,416 feet and operator is preparing to cement casing at approximately 6,395 feet, and complete the well.

No Tests Taken

Bransdall Oil Company No. 1 Wren, one location west of the Sunray No. 1 Brown, on the south side of the North Snyder field, and 660 feet from north and east lines of tract 9, block 20, J. P. Smith survey No. 1, is bottomed at 6,900 feet in the Canyon reef, and is taking a gamma ray survey.

It has previously run a Schlumberger survey. It is to follow the gamma ray by taking a drillstem test on the bottom 45 fgeet of hole.

This venture entered the reef at 6,522 feet, which made it 13 feet high to Sunray No. 1 Brown. It has not run any drillstem tests since getting the pay zone, but it has shown by samples that it will make an oil well.

Sinclair Well Swabbed

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company No. 1 Williams, northwest Borden county discovery for what appears to be a commercial oil well from the zones between 9830 feet and 10,000 feet, is swabbing on perforated section at 9,915-45 feet.

Most of the fluid being swabbed out at last report was drilling mud. It was carrying a slight cut of oil and gas. There was considerable more drilling fluid in the casing to be swabbed out.

The interval between 9,830 feet and 9,928 feet showed several thousand feet of free oil in drillstem tests and the horizon at 9,940-10,000 feet flowed 2075 barrels of clean oil in 30 minutes, and then recovered 1,300 feet of salt water in the bottom joints of the drill pipe.

No Oil Indicated

The section at 9,945-10,000 feet, and the zone at 10,000-035 feet, both showed salt water and no indications of oil.

There is a string of 7-inch casing cemented on bottom in this prospective new field opener.

An extended period of testing likely will be required to fully determine the full producing ability of this wildcat.

It is 11 miles northwest of Gail and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 45, block 32, EL&RR survey, T-6-N.

Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 18-B Cowden, wildcat discovery in southwest Andrews county, two miles east and a little south of the Dollarhide field, flowed 162 barrels of oil, 22 barrels of drilling mud, and five barrels of salt water in eight-and-one-half hours from section at 11,000-26 feet in the top of the Fusselman zone of the Silurian. The flow was through a one-half inch tubing choke.

Well Is Acidised

That interval has been treated with a total of 19,000 gallons of acid. Origin of the salt water shown on the last test has not been determined.

The section at 11,056-82 feet in the lower Fusselman had flowed around seven barrels of oil per hour when it was tested about two weeks ago. Operator is now preparing to set a retainer between the two perforated intervals and test the lower section again.

No. 18-B Cowden is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 12, block A-55, psl survey.

After the Fusselman is tested thoroughly, operator will go up the hole and investigate the Devonian, which showed for good flowing production when drillstem tested.

Locations were made for two semi-wildcats in west-central Gaines county, one flanking the West Seminole field and the other, the North Riley field.

Well Starts Wednesday

Ralph Lowe No. 1 Northrup-Lindsey is to be a 7,000-foot, rotary tool exploration adjacent to the North Riley field. It is to start by June 15.

The drillsite is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 393, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Cities Service is starting at once on a stepout to production from the West Seminole pool as its No. 1-B Proctor.

It will be 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 370, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Projected depth is 5,200 feet with rotary tools

Cities Service has staked a third outpost to the North Snyder field of north-central Scurry county.

It will be the concern's No. 3 Jolly, spotted 1,980 feet from east and 467 feet from north lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey.

Starting by June 15 with rotary tools, the venture is to make 6,900 feet of hole to attempt production from the Canyon lime of the Pennsylvanian.

Tests Are Run

An unidentified lime formation made water for Barnsdall Oil Company No. 1 Williams, central Lynn county wildcat, four and one-half miles southwest of Tahoka.

A one-hour drillstem test was run at 7,540-85 feet, recovering 1,080-foot water blanket, 270 feet of rat hole mud and 2,020 feet of salt water.

The prospector was shutdown for further orders.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, EL&RR survey.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company was plugging to abandon its No. 15 American Warehouse deep wildcat in the Cedar Lake area of northeast Gaines county.

The venture drilled to 13,186 feet, finding the Ellenburger barren, plugged-back to the Devonian and developed water, then tested the Pennsylvanian and recovered water. It was left following the Pennsylvanian examination.

The dry hole is -,650 feet from south and east lines of section 5, block H, D&W survey.

Patrolman Almost Throws Arm Away

DETROIT, June 14. (AP)—At the advanced age of 32, patrolman Stanley Kaminski is not the ball player he used to be.

As the kids cheered, Kaminski left his scout car, picked up a ball, and hurled it mightily back onto a playground.

Then his partner took him—fast—to a hospital. He'd thrown his shoulder out of joint.

Man Breaks Ties With Cruel Wife

HOUSTON, June 14. (AP)—Jose M. Munoz was free of his marital ties today, feeling a little more secure.

Munoz complained before district Judge Roy Campbell that his wife threatened to kill him and "burn down the house."

Munoz wanted a divorce and the judge concurred that the grounds were ample.

Employers Approve Stevedores' Offer To Unload Hawaii Ships

HONOLULU, June 14. (AP)—Conditional employer acceptance of a CIO stevedore offer to unload food and feed from strikebound ships marked Hawaii's 45-day waterfront tieup today.

To a proposal made Saturday by the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union (ILWU) the negotiating committee of waterfront employers replied:

"We accept your offer to unload all food and feed already declared essential by the governor's emergency food committee from all ships now in Hawaii harbors, provided you mean to unload the ships without 'ifs' and 'buts' involving non-stevedoring matters over we have no control."

At the same time the employers rejected an ILWU proposal which would have permitted the Matson line's luxury liner Lurline to sail from Honolulu. She has been tied up here since shortly after the strike began May 1.

Another Trip Proposed

The union had offered to let the Lurline return immediately to the west coast and make another round trip as a tourist and food relief ship. Future sailings, the union said, should be a matter for arbitration.

The employers' reply:

"If you mean you want the stevedoring wages and working conditions in connection with the Lurline submitted to arbitration, we can only repeat our previous refusal to submit new contract terms to arbitration."

"The strike is not against the shipping companies," the employers added.

The employer committee declared its readiness to meet with the ILWU "at any time" for collective bargaining on stevedore wages.

The union struck for $1.72 an hour, a boost of 32 cents. The employers offered 12. The union offered to unload food and feed from the strikebound ships at the old rate of $1.40 an hour.

New York state, especially Suffolk county, on Long Island, is the largest producer of ducks in the United States.

Lubbock And Amarillo Will Open Series In City Tonight

Hubbers Lick Abilene, 3-1

(By The Associated Press)

The tightly-packed field in the West Texas-New Mexico league race may be broken up during the next three nights. Some potent matches are lined up.

Amarillo's Gold Sox and Lubbock's Hubbers meet to play off their tie for fourth place. Third place Borger meets sixth place Lamesa. Clovis, fighting its way up from the bottom rung, meets Abilene's Blue Sox, who have been marking time in second place for the last week. And league-leading Albuquerque takes on eighth place Pampa.

Five Teams Bunched

Five teams are bunched within five games behind the Dukes. Albuquerque has lost nine of its last 12 games and still holds first place. Abilene has lost eight of its last 11 games and still is second.

Last night Clovis at Amarillo was rained out. Albuquerque defeated Borger 13-5. Lamesa defeated Pampa 8-5 and Lubbock dropped Abilene 3-1.

Lamesa's Loboes took their fifth straight at Pampa's expense, with rookie righthander Joel Locke giving up six hits and one run in four and two-thirds innings. He replaced starter Leon Hayes. Lamesa scored three runs in the third on four hits to take the lead.

Win Third Straight

Lubbock won its third straight over Abilene. Righthander Ray Reichelt had a five-hit shutout until the ninth, when Rene Vega pinchhit a single, moved up on a single and error and scored on a force out.

At Borger, Albuquerque hammered three Gasser pitchers for 17 hits and gave Frank Shone a seven-hit victory. It was his fourth win of the season and his third in the last four Duke wins. Rain fell most of the game.

Tonight Albuquerque goes to Pampa, Clovis to Abilene, Amarillo to Lubbock and Borger to Lamesa.

Denver City Keeps Lead Over Oil Belt

Denver City remained atop the Oil Belt Baseball league standings following games the past week-end and gained half a game on Seagraves although both teams won Sunday. The additional boost came from a make-up game.

Denver City dropped Sundown, 9-4, while Seagraves defeated Slaton, 11-9.

Power at the plate aided the Denver City team in its drubbing of Sundown, and 16 hits were collected off the offerings of Sundown's Wright while his teammates were able to hit safely only seven times.

First baseman Toten had three for four, and Hicks hit two for three for the losers. Pacing Denver City with three hits was Guy and Woodfin, and Davidson, Jones, Keel, and Lewis had two hits each.

Stops Slaton Rally

Seagraves scored early and staved off a desperate Slaton bid for victory in the last four innings to take their game. Seagraves tallied five runs in the second and three in the third and fourth, and Slaton scored one in the fourth and sixth innings, twice in the seventh, four in the eighth, and one in the ninth.

Leading Slaton with four hits, one a homer, was Tillery, and Weaver hit safely three times. French, McCoy, and Gray each collected two hits. Gentry, Faulkner, Ragland, Willingham, and Galey had two hits each for Seagraves. Faulkner received credit for the victory and Banks was charged with the loss.

In the third game of the day, Tahoka lost to Post, 5-9, after leading early in the tilt. Tahoka went ahead in the fifth, 5-3, but Post came back to score five runs in its half of the inning and added one in the eighth to conclude the scoring.

Hester, Holland Lead

Dale Hester and W. B. Holland led the winner, Hester getting three safe blows while Holland collected two. Barnett was the winning pitcher, and Holcomb was the loser.

In a game played several weeks ago, Denver City defeated Slaton, 9-8, to add to their lead in the standings. Results of the game between Levelland and Brownfield the past Sunday have not been received.

Los Angeles Gets Charley Reynolds

LOS ANGELES, June 14 (U.P.)—The name of Charley Reynolds, speedy Texas Tech halfback, today was on the roster of the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football league.

The signing of Reynolds was another move in Coach Clark Shaughnessy's efforts to field a speedier team next fall.

Last year Reynolds averaged eight yards per carry from scrimmage, 48 yards per kickoff return, and 37 yards for each punt return.

A former Denver City, Tex., high school performer, Reynolds was graduated from Tech earlier this month. He is married and the father of a young daughter.

Mixed Foursomes To Feature Women's Golf Play

Qualifying To Be Wednesday

The Women's West Texas Golf association tournament is scheduled to get underway at 1 p. m. today with mixed foursomes at Lubbock Country club.

Nine- and 18 hole handicap flights will take to the fairways too during the tournament and give the lesser known and experienced golfers a chance to compete in tournament play.

Previous tournament winners this year will be ready to tee off for the West Texas crown, and among these are Mrs. Bonnie Autry, Odessa, who won the Midland Invitational; Mrs. Herschel Ezell, runner-up at Midland; Mrs. Ted Huestis, runner-up in West Texas tourney in the past; and Mrs. E. A. Dietz, champion at Colonial Country club in Fort Worth.

Sports Show No Mercy On Loop-Leading Dallas Eagles; Nick Three Hurlers For 16-4 Victory

(By The United Press)

The Shreveport Sports were lossening the Dallas Eagles' strangle-hold on first place in the Texas league today.

Sowing no respect for the Burnet Bombers, the Sports touched the offerings of three Dallas flingers for 17 hits last night to humiliate the Eagles, 16 to 4, before a parkful of yewling Shreveport fans.

Play Again Tonight

The Shreveport victory cut the Eafgles lead to a bare one-and-one-half games. The two teams play again tonight.

Dallas enjoyed an early lead on a three-run second inning rally and a homer by Ben Guintini in the third. But that wa sall. Hank Wyse tightened up and held the Eagles scoreless during the remaining six innings. He wa shelped along by homers from the bats of Pete Lewis and Al Muzar.

The Fort Worth Cats and the San Antonio Missions strengthened their position in the first division by beating Beaumont and Oklahoma City respectively.

Stage Pitchers Duel

San Antonio eased out the Indians from the Sooner country, 2 to 1, to give Al Gerheauser the nod over Jack Hallett in a pitcher's duel. An eighth inning homer by Bill Martin with one man on was San Antonio's payoff hit.

Chris Van Cuyk was steady in the pinches in pitching Fort Worth to a 7-3 edge over Beaumont.

Tulsa pushed Houston farther into the cellar by defeating the Buffs, 7 to 6. Eight pitchers saw service, with Jim Blackburn taking credit for the win and Octavio Rubert suffering the loss.

New Pitcher Signed By Lamesa Loboes

LAMESA, June 14. (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes have signed a new limited service pitcher, Dempsey Sterling, on a five-day look.

Sterling, a little left-hander who was a free agent, hurled for Bristol, Tenn., last year in the Appalachian league.

He won three and lost seven for the sixth-place club. He worked in 13 games, pitched 71 innings, issued 53 walks and struck out 40. His earned run average was 5.70.

Fujiyama, the famous Japanese volcanic mountain, is 12,393 feet high.

Rumors Of Wholesale Shifts In Major Loop Teams Heard

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Initial indications at the Lubbock Country club yesterday were that the 12th Annual Women's West Texas Golf tournament would be the biggest and best tournament of them all. Women were pouring into Lubbock in a steady stream—and losing no time in finding their way out on the Plainview Highway to the links. Once at the club, they unwrapped their woods and irons and headed for the fairways. All this even though the qualifying round doesn't start until Wednesday and first round play until Thursday.

But it was only natural that these outstanding West Texas women would want to go over the course on which they will play this week. It's all right to hit a course cold in some cases, but generally, the golfer finishing with the better score is the one who knows all the crooks, turns, dead spots and what have you on the course. The more familiar a golfer is with a course, the better game he probably will shoot. For that reason, it isn't surprising that these visiting golfers, some of whom have played here before, wasted no time in getting out on the courre again.

This will be a great tournament, with some fine shooting. It's the type of tournament that should attract large galleries at every match. Some of the outstanding women golfers in Texas will be here for this tournament, probably the top one of its kind in the state, let alone West Texas. For instance, Mrs. Frank Goldthwaite, winner of the first WWTGA tournament ever held, will be here to try and gain back her laurels. She will have to battle Mrs. Sam O'Neal of Odessa, defending champion, and a host of others. Mrs. O'Neal still is in her prime as a golfer and will be the favorite to repeat. She won't be here until Wednesday or Thursday, since she does not, as defending champion, have to qualify.

Mrs. Goldthwaite showed that she will be hard to beat when she toured the difficult course in 77, despite taking an eight on No. 5. The chances of Mrs. Goldthwaite going over par that much during the tourney is slim. Mrs. O'Neal toured the course on a recent Sunday in a 39-43—82. That was primarily to gain familiarization with the course and is far from indicative of the game she will shoot in the tourney.

A whole host of fine golfers will be on the club links the next few days and one of the better women golfers will be Mrs. Bonnie Autry of Odessa, who recently won the Midland Invitational tournament. Mrs Gloria Ezell of Midland, runner-up in that tournament, also will be here and will be hard to beat. So will Mrs. Ed Dietz of Fort Worth, Colonial Country club champion there. Mrs. Ted Huestis of Odessa, three years in a row runner-up in the WWTGA tourney, will be here striving to make this her first victory. Mrs. D. D. Smith of El Paso heads a delegation from that city.

If other teams in the Texas Softball League aren't convinced yet, we imagine that the Lubbock Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers will have to go ahead with plans to win the pennant. The Hub City club already has secured the western division's first half title with 11 victories in 12 starts. Now they are faced with six more Saturday night doubleheaders to clinch the crown. But even if their record is as good in the second half, and we see no reason why it shouldn't be, they don't have the crown won. They have to go through a Shaughnessy playoff and if they win that, then they indeed have become champions.

Moreover, if they win the TSL title, they are eligible to go both to the American Softball Association national tournament and the National Softball Congress national tournament. They may elect to go to only one. All of which is eating eggs before they are hatched—and we hope the Sunbeamers don't lay eggs! Actually, this year's team is as strong in every respect as was last year's nine, except that Jackie Neel still was a better pitcher than either Stringbean Pope or G. W. Warden, which takes nothing away from either of them They have been doing a fine job and Pope only had one bad game. It's the type of team that will go far in any tournament.

THE ROUNDUP: Both the WWTGA and the Hubbers are praying that the rains hold off the next few days . . . Rosenthal Field should be packed for the four-game series against Amarillo . . . Arizona university's athletic teams compiled 91 victories and 47 defeat during the 1948-1949 season. The freshmen basketball team led the way with 19 victories in 20 games . . . Bids will be taken this month on a $10,000 addition to the Wildcat press box. That is going to be money well spent on a badly needed project . . . Jim Dugas, junior guard, was the only Texar Aggie varsity football player to remain on the campus for summer school . . . James Johnson of Muleshoe and Parker Stuart of Lubbock have won track numerals at Northwestern university.

Two New Clubs Voted Into Valley League

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 14 (AP)—The Rio Grande Valley league, which already has shifted one franchise this year, is looking forward optimistically to next season nevertheless.

Two new clubs already have been voted in for 1950. They are Harlingen, owned by Earle Halstead, and Alice, to be operated by Guy Airey and Chick Autry. Airey owns the Beaumont franchise in the Texas league and Autry is manager.

Club owners meeting here yesterday prevailed on William R. Byrd of San Antonio to remain as president of the league and Kelly Nimicek to continue as secretary. They had announced they would resign because of lack of co-operation from the clubs but the clubs pledged the desired co-operation if they would continue.

McAllen will remain in the league and will have a lighted field. Halstead had announced plans to move the franchise because of lack of lights but a committee headed by Mayor C. W. Davis raised sufficient funds to install lights.

The league now is made up of McAllen, Robstown, Corpus Christi, Brownsville, Del Rio and Laredo. Robstown recently replaced Donna.

PARDON OUR MISTAKE

The Avalanche-Journal Sunday erroneously printed the name of Mrs. C. W. Nance beneath the picture of Mrs. Tom Gilbert, 2520 Twenty-seventh Street, showing Mrs. Gilbert putting at Meadowbrook Publinx in preparation for the Women's West Texas Golf tournament.

Player Deals Are Reported

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—Five major league baseball players swapped uniforms today amid rumors that maybe a half dozen more would change clubs before the trading deadline at midnight tomorrow.

The Boston Red Sox sent lefty Mickey Harris and outfielder Sam Mele to the Washington Senators yesterday for righthander Walt Masterson. The New York Giants shipped catcher Walker Cooper to the Cincinnati Reds for backstop Ray Mueller.

The grapevine has the Giants planning a wholesale shift in their personnel.

Want Second Baseman

Outfielder Willard Marshall and first baseman Johnny Mize are reported on the block. The Giants are looking for an established second baseman and according to the boys in the know they have their sights trained on either Ed Stanky or Sibby Sisti of the Boston Braves with Marshall as the pawn. The Braves are seeking an outfielder of Marshall's class.

Mize, despite his ten home runs, has not been hitting and his slowness afoot does not fit in with Manager Leo Durocher's style of play.

The rumor mart also was working in the American league.

Will Take Chance

New York is pining for an outfielder and it is understood that Manager Casey Stengel will take a chance on Detroit's problem child, Dick Wakefield. The Yanks also would welcome Dick Kokos of St. Louis. The Browns are said to be willing to trade second baseman Gerry Priddy if they can land a suitable replacement.

Yankee second baseman George Stirnweiss is the lad the Yanks are rumored as dangling in front of St. Louis and Detroit. The Browns might trade Priddy to Detroit for Wakefield and cash or a pitcher and then ship Wakefield or Kokos to New York for Stirnweiss.

San Angelo, Roswell Nosing Up In League

(By The Associated Press)

The fourth-place San Angelo Colts and the fifth-place Roswell Rockets are edging up on the first division in the Longhorn baseball league.

Roswell defeated first-place Big Spring last night, 8-6. Sweetwater downed second-place Vernon, 12-11. San Angelo nosed third-place Midland, 7-6. And Ballinger beat Odessa, 5-2.

San Angelo is now only half a game out of fourth place, while Roswell trails San Angelo by a game and a half.

The Sweetwater-Vernon contest produced 29 base hits and ten errors.

Dodgers And Cards Face Vital Series

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those two old antagonists, the league-leading Brooklyn Dodgers and the runner-up St. Louis Cardinals, battle each other tonight in the first game of a vital three game series in St. Louis.

Brooklyn, clicking on all cylinders, leads the Cards and the third place Boston Braves by two games, and is sporting a seven game winning streak.

With the exception of a three game excursion across the river to the Polo grounds, Brooklyn has completed a home stand that brought 11 victories in 15 attempts.

Cards Also Are Hot

The Cards also are pretty hot. Stan Musial and company staged a triumphant swing through the east that netted them 10 victories in 13 starts.

Howie Pollet, stylish lefthander who has won five straight games in brilliant fashion, has been selected to oppose Lefty Preacher Roe in the series opener. Roe, whose chief fault is a home run ball, beat Pollet, 2-0, the last time the pair met in St. Louis, May 19. That was the last time Pollet was beaten.

Ralph Branca (8-1) and Don Newcombe (3-0) or Rex Barney (2-4) are expected to work the remaining games for Brooklyn against Al Brazle (6-3) and either Red Munger (4-2) or Harry Brecheen (5-3).

The Braves, meanwhile, open a three game set with the last place Pirates in Pittsburgh. Rookie Bob Hall is slated to go against the Pirates' Bob Chesnes tonight.

Giants Are Stumbling

New York's stumbling Giants launch their second tour of the west in Cicinnati and the up and coming Philadelphia Phillies take on the Cubs in Chicago in the major's lone day game.

The American league's front-running New York Yankees return home after a road trip that saw them win only eight of 15 games. The Yanks left the stadium on May 30 in first place by four and a half games.

Casey Stengel's crew now leads the Detroit Tigers by three games. The Tigers, in fifth place, six games off the pace before Memorial day games, have captured 11 of their last 15 starts.

Vic Raschi, (9-1), the league's top righthander, will open the Yanks' home stay against the Chicago White Sox tonight. Former Yankee Bill Wight will toss for the Sox who are in for four games.

After the White Sox, the Cleveland Indians come in for three games followed by the St. Louis Browns. The Tigers arrive after the Browns for an important five game series.

Bengals Open Jaunt

The Bengals begin their second jaunt through the east in Philadelphia taking on the Athletics for three games. Righthander Virgil Trucks (8-3) goes against the third place A's Dick Fowler (4-3) tonight. The Tigers then move to Washington for four games and to Boston for three before clashing with the Yanks.

Boston, tied with Washington for fourth place, entertains the Indians in the first of a three game set tonight while the Senators play host to the Browns in the first of three.

No games were scheduled in either league yesterday but four teams were busy on the trading market. The deadline for trades, other than by the waiver route, is midnight Wednesday.

The Red Sox shipped lefthander Mickey Harris and outfielder Sam Mele to Washington for righthander Walt Masterson. The Senators also received Outfielder Al Evans.

Golfer Pays Price Of Being Amateur

FORT WORTH, June 14 (AP) What price glory for Bob French, youthful Odessa golfer who won the men's West Texas golf tournament.

French has declined to accept a $250 wrist watch that was offered as first prize, he told the Star-Telegram last night.

United States Golf association headquarters informed H. T. Hornbuckle, Odessa professional, that the limit for amateurs was $100. Thus a $95.00 wrist watch will be given to French.

Cerdan Predicted As 7-5 Favorite

DETROIT, June 14 (U.P.)—Detroit bookies predicted today that middleweight champion Marcel Cerdan would be a 7-to-5 favorite when he defends his title against Jake Lamotta of New York tomorrow night at Briggs stadium.

Meanwhile, booming ticket sales indicated the gate would hit $350,000 and the attendance would exceed 40,000.

Both fighters scheduled only limbering-up exercises for today and each expected to make the 160-pound limit without difficulty.

College Teams In NCAA Play

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—One of the four finalists for the National Collegiate Athletic association baseball tournament had been determined today and the other three will qualify by this weekend.

St. John's university of Brooklyn won the right to represent the East by taking two straight games from Boston college yesterday. The scores were 10-5 and 7-2.

The double elimination finals will be played June 22-25 at Wichita, Kans.

How Field Shapes Up

This is the way the rest of the field shapes up:

Notre Dame won the district four (Midwest) playoff yesterday by defeating Western Michigan, 9-1. The Irish now will entertain Wake Forest in a best of three series starting at South Bend, Ind., Friday. Wake Forest won the district three (Southern) title at Charlotte, N. C., last weekend.

Colorado State opens a best of three series at Los Angeles tomorrow against Southern California for the right to represent the West.

Oklahoma A. and M., which whipped Kansas in a Missouri Valley playoff, tangles with the University of Texas, class of the Southwest, at Austin, Thursday and Friday with the winner getting the fourth final berth.

Austin Pioneers Get Skids In Big State; Texarkana Leading

(By The Associated Press)

The Austin Pioneers, who rode atop the Big State league standings for a few days last week, have skidded into third place.

The fourth-place Gainesville Owls swept a double-header from Austin last night, 7-0 and 6-2. Wichita Falls downed Temple, 11-5 to move into second place.

The league-leading Texarkana Bears took it on the chin at the hands of Greenville, 4-2. Waco's game at Sherman was rained out.

Wichita Falls is now only half a game behind Texarkana. Austin trails the Snudders by half a game.

Gainesville's Max Molberg was within one out of a no-hitter against Austin in the first game. Bingles by Eddie Rzendzian and Al Lawrence gave him a two-hit shutout.

Lon Goldstein hit a two-run homer in the first frame of the nightcap. Then the Owls counted four more tallies in the sixth.

Wichita Falls scored seven runs in the third to defeat Temple.

Greenville scored four runs in the first inning to knock over Texarkana.

Marshall, Longview Are One Game Apart

The league-leading Marshall Browns and the second-place Longview Texans spill along a game apart at the top of the East Texas league standings today.

Marshall downed the Bryan Bombers last night, 11-5. Longview came from behind to edge fourth-place Kilgore, 6-5.

Third-place Gladewater defeated Henderson, 11-7. And Tyler beat Paris, 4-1.

Marshall tallied four runs in the fourth inning. The Browns stole nine bases and took advantage of five Bryan errors.

Longview counted five runs in the seventh to defeat Kilgore.

Gladewater tallied six runs in the second inning in beating Henderson. Bob Cullins and L. D. Meyer homered for the Bears.

Tyler's new manager, Mel Hicks, doubled in the sixth to score Ron Harrison with the run that beat Paris.

Hank Behrman's poor start with the Giants is reminiscent of his 1947 failure with the Pirates. As a result, Pittsburgh returned him to Brooklyn.

Texas Cattle Dollars

Texas cattle mean bread as well as meat for hundreds of thousands of Texans, for Texas cattle dollars help bring prosperity to every county of the state. Southwestern Life Insurance Company, operating in Texas exclusively, has played a part in the development of the cattle business. This strong company, during forty-six years of service, has loaned $123,365,140 on real estate and a substantial portion of these loans has been on Texas farms and ranches.

To policy owners of Southwestern Life insurance, sound loans such as these bring added assurance of sound protection for themselves and their families.

MINISTERS STILL CAN'T AGREE

Decision On Trade Sought For Berlin

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 14.—The foreign ministers council, reported nearing the end of its Paris session, sought a conclusive decision today on east-west trade in Germany and an Austrian independence treaty.

Economic experts of the four occupying powers in Berlin yesterday handed over to the foreign ministers the east-west deadlock in the German capital. A western expert said the report to Paris showed about 90 percent agreement on small matters and 100 percent disagreement on the important issues.

Agreement Reported

The foreign ministers themselves were reported in partial agreement on a truce in the Berlin difficulties. This appeared to have grown out of secret Big Four negotiations.

Yet, the foreign ministers faced a showdown in their efforts to write a more complete economic agreement for Berlin and an independence treaty for Austria.

The foreign ministers council reconvened to take up two items discussed in a secret session Sunday night. According to well-informed circles, these items were:

1. Limited commercial accord for Germany which would promote east-west trade, fix an exchange rate for the west mark and the Soviet zone mark, and assure western powers of transportation access to the city.

Treaty Means Evacuation

2. A treaty for Austria which would mean evacuation of occupation troops in the near future.

Under the projected German accord there would be no attempt to reunite Berlin politically at this time. Rather it would be a "live and let live" agreement—a sustained truce in the cold war.

Well informed sources said the Soviets virtually were agreed on an Austrian settlement whereby they will obtain $150,000,000 in former German property from Austria. This would be marked as part of Russia's reparations from Germany.

Wheat Loans

much wheat this year and will not be directly affected," Wells said, "but our neighboring counties were becoming alarmed over the lack of storage space."

Was Not Eligible

The lack of storage, Wells explained, meant that farmers would either have to sell at the prevailing low market price or dump their wheat on the ground. Until the emergency measure was approved by the state and federal agencies, wheat stored on the ground was not eligible for a loan. Under the new plan a loan of 75 per cent of the support price will be allowed for 90 days. If the wheat is then moved to proper storage by the end of that time the balance, or 25 per cent of the loan value, will be granted to the farmer.

"In this way the farmer who saw the possible loss of his entire crop can now get immediate cash for his needs," Wells said.

"In addition to that, the CCC is granting five-year, four per cent loans to build farm granaries for storage," Wells added.

"A number of farmers and wheat growers have called on me for advice on ground storage. Because of the excessive dampness this year I have argued against this method," Wells said. "With the loans available the farmer can easily provide a large part of his own storage now."

"Then too," Wells continued, "the difference between the market price at this time and the government loan value is enough to pay for the average type and size granary in one year."

"If nothing else a big load has been taken off the farmer's mind by the recent revision in the CCC charter to permit these loans," Wells concluded.

Voodoo Hex

as much of the money as he can get, they said.

But Mrs. Boudreaux and her prospective husband, 27-year-old longshoreman Ulysis Duplessis, were noticeably unnerved by the eerie symbol.

They were drinking coffee in Mrs. Boudreaux' house when the charm was found. In the center of the black cross was a tuft of cotton stained red. A piece of string with nine knots was stuck to the top of the cross with melted wax.

On the arms of the cross, divided by the red-stained cotton, were scratched their names—"Edna" and "Ulysis." Fastened below was a piece of paper bearing this Biblical verse:

"As in the curse of Babel, so thou art divided and all of the people shall say 'amen'."

The cross bristled with stuck-in pins and needles.

Police said that was where the "voodoo practitioner," made his mistake. In the heyday of voodooism in New Orleans, a person who wished to do away with an enemy stuck pins in a doll-like image labelled with the enemy's name. Then he pulled out a pin a day, and when the last pin was pulled, the enemy was supposed to die.

Police said no true believer in black arts would have left the charm with his intended victim, trusting her to do the pin-pulling.

"I'm a religious woman and I don't believe in voodoo," Mrs. Boudreaux said as she handed the curse charm over to police. "But I do wish people wouldn't do things like this. They're liable to hurt somebody."

Daily Market Report

Stock Market

SLIGHT GAINS MADE

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The stock market closed a little higher today although an early rally failed to develop any real driving power.

Gains running to around a point were in a majority. Numerous key stocks, though, could not make the grade and many merely see-sawed.

At the opening it appeared likely yesterday's sharp decline, one of the severest of the year, would continue in full force.

Selling soon let up and prices started moving ahead.

Leaning ahead most of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, Union Carbide, International Paper, American Woolen, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Richfield, and United Air Lines.

Holding back were Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, American Can, Dow Chemical, General Electric, J. C. Penney, Union Pacific, and Mission Corp.

WHEAT BELT CRISIS—This huge pile of wheat was dumped on the ground in Vernon, Tex., by farmers faced with a severe shortage of storage space. Wheat growers in the area are rushing to complete makeshift granaries to store the precious grain in hopes prices on this year's bumper crop of winter wheat will not drop any further.

Houston's Swank Cork Club In Shamrock Hotel Reported As Scene Of Rousing Battle Of Fists

HOUSTON, June 14. (U.P.)—The soft tones of the ultra swank Shamrock hotel's Cork club failed today to quiet rumors of a rousing fisticuff display between millionaire owner Glenn H. McCarthy and a 26-year-old Hollywood television producer.

Details were still hazy, but William Kent said the episode was definitely more than the "little foray" that McCarthy's friends told reporters about.

Had To Retreat

Kent said he sparred with the fabulously wealthy oilman, and then had to retreat, leaving his date behind, when four Cork club waiters came to rescue their boss.

Before the shower of manpower, Kent said he had seated himself on McCarthy's chest, "trying to reason things out with him."

Kent's version (McCarthy had no comment) was that the oil man accused him of "casting aspersions" on the Shamrock hotel and the Cork club.

"Then he called me a bad name and hit me on the head with his fist," Kent recalled.

Threw Him To Floor

Kent, somewhat athletic, then grabbed McCarthy's arm and threw him to the thick-carpeted floor, he said.

"I sat on his chest and tried to reason with him. I told him he was a nice guy, that I liked his hotel and didn't want to fight."

It was then, Kent charged, that two waiters grabbed his arms while two more slugged him.

"I jerked loose and ran. They chased me around the club room. We circled it twice before I found the door. Somehow I got out and found my car and drove away, in a hurry—without my girl friend," Kent said.

Kent then drove to a hospital for X-rays. Hospital records showed he was treated for bruises and released.

Young Kent came here from the west coast 10 days ago as the house guest of J. Robert (Bob) Neal, jr., Houston millionaire playboy who was once engaged to movie Star Diana Lynn.

Two Hurt In Car Accident

Two Colorado women were injured, one critically, Monday in a freakish car accident in which their vehicle was unscratched.

Mrs. Della Manuel, 67, and Miss Rachel Miller, 30, both of Colorado Springs, were victims of the mishap, which occurred at 7 p. m., four miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway.

The two women were thrown from opposite doors of their 1946 Mercury sedan as it spun on the highway after Miss Miller, the driver, lost control in attempting to pass an auto driven by Virgil L. Renfro, 28, Dallas salesman for a storage battery company.

In Critical Condition

Mrs. Manuel today was reported to be in critical condition in West Texas hospital. She was semi-conscious. Full extent of her injuries had not been determined, as her condition was too grave to permit the taking of x-rays.

Miss Miller, who suffered only minor bruises and abrasions, was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

Renfro said he was driving on the inside lane of the four-lane divided highway when the car driven by Miss Miller approached from the rear and honked the horn. Following his first impulse, Renfro said, he started to swing to the right lane but resumed his initial course when he saw in the rear - view mirror that the car following him was apparently ready to pass in the right lane.

Auto Is Undamaged

Miss Miller said she had started to swing to the left when she saw the front wheels of Renfro's car begin to turn, but apparently switched abruptly back to the right when she saw his car was remaining in the left lane.

In the clockwise spin which followed, both doors of Miss Miller's car came open, throwing the women from opposite sides of the auto. The car continued backward into a ditch, without so much, as scratching the paint.

A Rix ambulance carried Mrs. Manuel to West Texas hospital.

The two women were traveling from Colorado Springs to San Antonio to visit a son of the older woman and a girl friend of Miss Miller, investigating highway patrolmen were told.

Renfro was enroute to Lubbock, where he planned to stay several days.

west of McAllen.

Acosta arrived with the bale wearing a smile a yard wide. The truck was driven by L. A. Boyd, 33, of Neville, Farley and Williams Gin company at McAllen. The bale was ginned by the concern.

The bale arriving by airplane was grown by John R. Campbell, who grew the cotton on land owned by T. W. Lee of Gladewater. Lee owns some 75,000 acres near Raymondville.

Both Campbell and Lee are in hospitals, Campbell is in the Harlingen hospital and Lee in Gladewater hospital.

Campbell was represented by Jack Dameron of Rayville and Lee was represented by J. L. Simmons of Gladewater. Simmons is an employe of Lee.

The truck left the McAllen gin at 7:25 p. m. Monday and arrived at the Cotton Exchange building at 1:50 a. m. and was met by the exchange night watchman.

The airplane bale left Harlingen at 5:30 a. m. and arrived at the municipal airport one hour and 45 minutes later, and was brought to the cotton exchange at about 7:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The airplane bale was ginned at 4:15 a. m. today. The truck bale was ginned at 6:20 p. m. yesterday.

The plane pilot was Charles Blackwell of Harlingen.

Both bales were produced in Hidalgo county.

The winning bale this year, Acosta said, is the Stonville 2-B variety. He began picking it June 10 and fearing that he didn't have enough to make a 500 lb. bale, picked some more Monday to make certain.

War On Polio Is Intensified

(By The Associated Press)

The battle against one of Texas' worst polio epidemics will be intensified at San Angelo today by the first team sent anywhere in the nation this year by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Aid from the foundation was requested by San Angelo authorities.

The team arrived in San Angelo last night, after polio killed its eighth victim in the area yesterday afternoon. The victim was Tommy Yarbrough, 5.

The team is headed by Dr. William Northway, assistant dean of the Stanford university medical school.

Meeting Scheduled

It includes Dr. Robert Neville, associate director of medical care for the National Foundation.

The group immediately scheduled a staff meeting at a San Angelo hospital for tonight. They will confer with local doctors on the epidemic that has stricken at least 147 persons in the San Angelo district since Jan. 1. Sixty-five cases are under treatment at San Angelo hospitals, including four new ones admitted Sunday.

Meanwhile, four new cases of polio were confirmed at Brooke General hospital at San Antonio. Two were from San Angelo.

At Houston, a three-year-old girl yesterday became the city's eleventh polio victim of the year. There has been one death in Houston this year from the disease.

Perennial Candidate Has Money Solution

WACO, June 14 (U.P.) — Caso March, ex-Baylor law professor and avowed candidate for governor in 1950, had his own solution for the state's financial trouble today while legislators worked overtime to make monetary ends meet.

The young war veteran who already has two unsuccessful gubernatorial campaigns behind him declared yesterday that the financial crisis was a direct result of Gov. Beauford Jester's "no-new-tax" policy.

March, who says he will be a perennial candidate for governor until he wins, spoke at the 19th annual convention of Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of Texas.

He declared that "a tax on natural gas and refining of gasoline would raise over $200,000,000 a year for the state."

Test Showing How Anemia Drug Works

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14. (AP)—A new test shows how and why certain drugs work against pernicious anemia in humans.

The test promises to aid in better treatment of the disease. It is reported by Dr. Oliver P. Jones, assistant dean of the University of Buffalo Medical School, and Adolph Smith of the department of anatomy.

Anemia is due to the body's failure to make enough red blood cells in its bone marrow factories. The cells that form there don't divide and grow in the normal way. The failure comes from lack of a chemical usually supplied by the liver.

Drugs like liver extract, folic acid, and the new vitamin B-12 usually overcome the trouble. Just how they do their work hasn't been clear. It's hard to get the bone marrow in humans to see what is happening. So Dr. Jones turned to primitive blood cells in unborn rats, when these embryos are only 11 days old. These blood cells had formed before the embryo livers had developed or started to work. The rat cells at this time resemble the cells in the bone marrow of humans with pernicious anemia.

By feeding anti-anemia drugs to the mother rats, he can see what effect the drug has on the blood cells themselves. The test also can show whether there is anything in a new drug that would work against anemia.

Part Of Prehistoric Mammoth On Display

NEW YORK, June 14 (U.P.)—The head, trunk and foreleg of a prehistoric mammoth, which may be 250,000 years old was displayed today at the American Museum of Natural History in an eight-cubic-foot home freezer.

The perfectly preserved mammoth specimen was receovered from the frozen Alaskan tundra by the Fairbanks Exploration company. It was packed in dry ice and flown to New York for exhibit.

Camp Hood Troops Quarters Patched Up

NORTH CAMP HOOD, June 14 (U.P.)—National Guardsmen of the Texas 36th Infantry division were settling back to normal today after a minor upset in living facilities.

A rain and wind storm Sunday leveled tents and flooded a portion of the camp area. Some 25 tents were replaced because of snapped ridgepoles.

10 Claimed In Texas Storms

Dallas was measured by the weather bureau at 2.48 inches at Love field, but was estimated much more in other sections of the city.

High Winds Strike

Meanwhile, 3.74 inches of rain fell in the Paris area of East Texas and in the same area high winds struck the Sam Moore farm in the Brookston community, blowing over sheds and outbuildings.

Marshall had 1.35 inches of rain during a 45-minute thunderstorm.

Marshall had 1.35 inches of rain during a 45-minute thunderstorm.

Lighter rains fell at Clarendon, Childress, Mineral Wells, Lufkin and Wichita Falls.

At 9:45 a. m. the U. S. Weather bureau at Dallas issued a flood warning for the upper Trinity river.

The bureau predicted the Trinity would rise to 38 feet, 10 feet above flood stage at Dallas.

To Cause Rapid Rise

"Unusually heavy thunder storms over the Denton creek, Elm Fork, White Rock and East Fork of the Trinity will cause a rapid rise in the rivers in the Dallas section today and tonight," the weather bureau said. "Farmers are advised to remove livestock from lowlands immediately."

A. M. Hamrick, chief of the Dallas weather bureau, said the warning did not take into account rains from a fresh thunderstorm which lashed into the Dallas area shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Garland, Vickery, Carrollton and Farmers Branch, all in Dallas county, all were under water for a time early today as creeks boiled over. The floodwaters had receded by midmorning.

In one section of Garland, the Duck creek shopping village, water climbed to a height of five feet.

Family Is Rescued

In the same area, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowe and their two small children were rescued from their perch on a telephone line.

The flood didn't reach the heart of Garland, but at the Duck creek shopping village stores were badly battered and stocks were washed away.

Just before 9 a. m. the U. S. weather bureau issued a special storm warning for the Dallas area. It said a thunderstorm with high winds, heavy rain and possibly hail would reach the Dallas area shortly. The weather bureau asked all radio stations to broadcast the special bulletin.

Forty-mile winds raked Dallas last night during a brilliant series of thunderstorms.

The Trinity river rose 11 feet during the night to 26.2 feet, two feet below flood stage.

PARTLY CLOUDY SKIES FORECAST FOR AREA

Partly cloudy skies were in prospect for the South Plains through today, with indication that cloudy conditions and showers may prevail again Wednesday, the Weather bureau station north of the city said.

Only a trace of moisture was recorded here during the night. It fell shortly before midnight.

At Plainview, a light shower fell at 7:15 o'clock this morning.

Matador and the surrounding area received .35 inch of moisture in a heavy downpour between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, and then a light shower at 8 o'clock this morning, observers reported.

Whiteflat community received a heavy rain Sunday night. Part of a highway near Whiteflat was flooded until Monday morning. Whiteflat is eight miles north of Matador.

Woman Claims Australian Men Are Better Bets As Husbands

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 14 (U.P.)—A graduate of Hunter College in New York who married a New Zealander but has lived in Australia since 1941, says Australian men are "better bets—as bachelors or husbands" than American men.

She is Mrs. Violet Colbert, who was born at "and always moved back to" New Rochelle, N. Y.

She said American girls "go" for Australian men.

Mrs. Colbert wrote "In Defense of the Australian Male" under the name of Carol Coleman in the Melbourne national fortnightly, Woman's Day.

The wife of a corset and brassiere factory manager in Melbourne, she said in an interview that she formed her opinion of the United States male in four years spent in getting her B.A. degree from Hunter College. She met her husband aboard the Matson liner Monterey coming to Australia, worked as a dietician in the Melbourne Alfred Hospital for six months, then married.

How They React

"The Australian male," she wrote, "is often surprised, pleased and flattered by his success abroad. When he gets back home, he is full of his glory and fond of telling the lass next door that she doesn't appreciate him the way American girls did.

"Why do American girls 'go' for Australian men? Why does the local product look so good away from home? Let me go right on the record, please, and maintain that it looks all right on its own home ground.

"You Australian girls who are fed on dazzling Hollywood versions of American manhood, and who recently were awed and blinded by American uniforms and wealth, lend an ear to one who speaks straight from the heart. You always take an Australian male any time or place, always.

"Why? Because he has no 'line'; because he's not messed up and hedged in by fraternities. Because he doesn't suffer from a surfeit of sophistication.

Think They're Wolves

"Every American male is convinced that his lines is unique, devastating and sure-fire, and that it effectively disguises the inner wolf.

"This bespeaks an attitude of conceit in the American male, and that is why Australian men are better bets—as bachelors or husbands. The American man expects to hunt, or to be hunted, while there is less self-consciousness between the sexes in Australia, and more genuine friendliness.

"I attribute this to three causes: the early age at which boys and girls go out on dates in America; the early age at which American boys are allowed to own or to drive cars, and the accessibility; and fraternities.

Sophisticated Early

"My first 'date' was when I was the ripe age of 14, and my escort a seasoned 16. He had his car, and a junior license. In Australia boys and girls go to parties and dances in groups.

"Girls of 15 in New York talk about their 'steadies,' and refer to other children of similar age as 'going steady.' Of course, the 'steadies' change monthly, sometimes weekly, but it all makes for early sophistication and a subsequent blase attitude.

"The pastimes of high school youth in Australia are more healthy mentally and phisically. Tennis and swimming are universal here, whereas in New York, where tennis fees are high and bathing beaches fantastically overcrowded, these sports are limited to the wealthier classes. American high school youth titillates itself with more "grown up" pastimes. The cult of sorority and fraternity would not survive the sunlight of Australia."

100,000 DP's Will Go To Australia

SYDNEY, June 14. (AP)—One hundred thousand displaced persons will move from Europe to Australia in the next 18 months.

They will come here under two-year contracts to the Australian government to take jobs the government directs. After that they will be free to select their own employment.

The Australian government has issued a booklet to prospective employers of this migrant labor. They will be placed only where they can be accommodated. They can live in hotels and boarding houses in Sydney, Newcastle and Port Kembla if their work helps to provide more houses. They can be housed elsewhere if they do not displace a member of the Australian public.

Employers who can provide living room for an entire family of migrants will get first priority on their labor. Domestics may be assigned to doctors or to families where there are two or more children.

Displaced men work in the production of iron, bricks, tiles, cement, building materials, food processing, and rural work.

They are paid ruling rates for Australians.

Siam Military Men Are Warned Of War

BANGKOK, June 14. (AP)—Military leaders of Thailand (Siam) have been told by Defense Minister Lt. Gen. Luang Chart Nakrob they must not meddle in internal politics because it is their duty to prepare themselves for "the war that lies ahead."

"At present, the struggle is now merely a verbal one between those supporting opposing political doctrines," the minister told 23 lieutenant colonels just graduated from the Army Staff College.

"Each day this verbal struggle can be seen developing into what in the near future will be a real struggle of force. Once the struggle has begun, there can be little question that Siam will be involved. Therefore, we must prepare. We must be on the alert.

"In preparing for this struggle, we must be careful not to meddle in internal politics or allow ourselves to be instruments of politicians.

"Our ideal must be that as soldiers we are not to meddle in politics and to see that politics does not meddle with the armed forces."

MINISTERS STILL CAN'T AGREE

Decision On Trade Sought For Berlin

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, June 14.—The foreign ministers council, reported nearing the end of its Paris session, sought a conclusive decision today on east-west trade in Germany and an Austrian independence treaty.

Economic experts of the four occupying powers in Berlin yesterday handed over to the foreign ministers the east-west deadlock in the German capital. A western expert said the report to Paris showed about 90 percent agreement on small matters and 100 percent disagreement on the important issues.

Agreement Reported

The foreign ministers themselves were reported in partial agreement on a truce in the Berlin difficulties. This appeared to have grown out of secret Big Four negotiations.

Yet, the foreign ministers faced a showdown in their efforts to write a more complete economic agreement for Berlin and an independence treaty for Austria.

The foreign ministers council reconvened to take up two items discussed in a secret session Sunday night. According to well-informed circles, these items were:

1. Limited commercial accord for Germany which would promote east-west trade, fix an exchange rate for the west mark and the Soviet zone mark, and assure western powers of transportation access to the city.

Treaty Means Evacuation

2. A treaty for Austria which would mean evacuation of occupation troops in the near future.

Under the projected German accord there would be no attempt to reunite Berlin politically at this time. Rather it would be a "live and let live" agreement—a sustained truce in the cold war.

Well informed sources said the Soviets virtually were agreed on an Austrian settlement whereby they will obtain $150,000,000 in former German property from Austria. This would be marked as part of Russia's reparations from Germany.

Wheat Loans

much wheat this year and will not be directly affected," Wells said, "but our neighboring counties were becoming alarmed over the lack of storage space."

Was Not Eligible

The lack of storage, Wells explained, meant that farmers would either have to sell at the prevailing low market price or dump their wheat on the ground. Until the emergency measure was approved by the state and federal agencies, wheat stored on the ground was not eligible for a loan. Under the new plan a loan of 75 per cent of the support price will be allowed for 90 days. If the wheat is then moved to proper storage by the end of that time the balance, or 25 per cent of the loan value, will be granted to the farmer.

"In this way the farmer who saw the possible loss of his entire crop can now get immediate cash for his needs," Wells said.

"In addition to that, the CCC is granting five-year, four per cent loans to build farm granaries for storage," Wells added.

"A number of farmers and wheat growers have called on me for advice on ground storage. Because of the excessive dampness this year I have argued against this method," Wells said. "With the loans available the farmer can easily provide a large part of his own storage now."

"Then too," Wells continued, "the difference between the market price at this time and the government loan value is enough to pay for the average type and size granary in one year."

"If nothing else a big load has been taken off the farmer's mind by the recent revision in the CCC charter to permit these loans," Wells concluded.

Voodoo Hex

as much of the money as he can get, they said.

But Mrs. Boudreaux and her prospective husband, 27-year-old longshoreman Ulysis Duplessis, were noticeably unnerved by the eerie symbol.

They were drinking coffee in Mrs. Boudreaux' house when the charm was found. In the center of the black cross was a tuft of cotton stained red. A piece of string with nine knots was stuck to the top of the cross with melted wax.

On the arms of the cross, divided by the red-stained cotton, were scratched their names—"Edna" and "Ulysis." Fastened below was a piece of paper bearing this Biblical verse:

"As in the curse of Babel, so thou art divided and all of the people shall say 'amen'."

The cross bristled with stuck-in pins and needles.

Police said that was where the "voodoo practitioner," made his mistake. In the heyday of voodooism in New Orleans, a person who wished to do away with an enemy stuck pins in a doll-like image labelled with the enemy's name. Then he pulled out a pin a day, and when the last pin was pulled, the enemy was supposed to die.

Police said no true believer in black arts would have left the charm with his intended victim, trusting her to do the pin-pulling.

"I'm a religious woman and I don't believe in voodoo," Mrs. Boudreaux said as she handed the curse charm over to police. "But I do wish people wouldn't do things like this. They're liable to hurt somebody."

Daily MARKETS

Stock Market

SLIGHT GAINS MADE

NEW YORK, June 14. (AP)—The stock market closed a little higher today although an early rally failed to develop any real driving power.

Gains running to around a point were in a majority. Numerous key stocks, though, could not make the grade and many merely see-sawed.

At the opening it appeared likely yesterday's sharp decline, one of the severest of the year, would continue in full force.

Selling soon let up and prices started moving ahead.

Leaning ahead most of the day were Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott Copper, American Smelting, Union Carbide, International Paper, American Woolen, Southern Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), Gulf Oil, Richfield, and United Air Lines.

Holding back were Goodyear, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, American Can, Dow Chemical, General Electric, J. C. Penney, Union Pacific, and Mission Corp.

WHEAT BELT CRISIS—This huge pile of wheat was dumped on the ground in Vernon, Tex., by farmers faced with a severe shortage of storage space. Wheat growers in the area are rushing to complete makeshift granaries to store the precious grain in hopes prices on this year's bumper crop of winter wheat will not drop any further.

Houston's Swank Cork Club In Shamrock Hotel Reported As Scene Of Rousing Battle Of Fists

HOUSTON, June 14. (UP)—The soft tones of the ultra swank Shamrock hotel's Cork club failed today to quiet rumors of a rousing fisticuff display between millionaire owner Glenn H. McCarthy and a 26-year-old Hollywood television producer.

Details were still hazy but William Kent said the episode was definitely more than the "little foray" that McCarthy's friends told reporters about.

Had To Retreat

Kent said he sparred with the fabulously wealthy oilman, and then had to retreat, leaving his date behind, when four Cork club waiters came to rescue their boss.

Before the shower of manpower, Kent said he had seated himself on McCarthy's chest, "trying to reason things out with him."

Kent's version (McCarthy had no comment) was that the oil man accused him of "casting aspersions" on the Shamrock hotel and the Cork club.

"Then he called me a bad name and hit me on the head with his fist," Kent recalled.

Threw Him To Floor

Kent, somewhat athletic, then grabbed McCarthy's arm and threw him to the thick-carpeted floor, he said.

"I sat on his chest and tried to reason with him. I told him he was a nice guy, that I liked his hotel and didn't want to fight."

It was then, Kent charged, that two waiters grabbed his arms while two more slugged him.

"I jerked loose and ran. They chased me around the club room. We circled it twice before I found the door. Somehow I got out and found my car and drove away, in a hurry—without my girl friend," Kent said.

Kent then drove to a hospital for X-rays. Hospital records showed he was treated for bruises and released.

Young Kent came here from the west coast 10 days ago as the house guest of J. Robert (Bob) Neal, jr., Houston millionaire playboy who was once engaged to movie Star Diana Lynn.

Two Hurt In Car Accident

Two Colorado women were injured, one critically, Monday in a freakish car accident in which their vehicle was unscratched.

Mrs. Della Manuel, 67, and Miss Rachel Miller, 30, both of Colorado Springs, were victims of the mishap, which occurred at 7 p. m., four miles north of Lubbock on the Plainview highway.

The two women were thrown from opposite doors of their 1946 Mercury sedan as it spun on the highway after Miss Miller, the driver, lost control in attempting to pass an auto driven by Virgil L. Renfro, 28, Dallas salesman for a storage battery company.

In Critical Condition

Mrs. Manuel today was reported to be in critical condition in West Texas hospital. She was semi-conscious. Full extent of her injuries had not been determined, as her condition was too grave to permit the taking of x-rays.

Miss Miller, who suffered only minor bruises and abrasions, was released from the hospital after emergency treatment.

Renfro said he was driving on the inside lane of the four-lane divided highway when the car driven by Miss Miller approached from the rear and honked the horn. Following his first impulse, Renfro said, he started to swing to the right lane but resumed his initial course when he saw in the rear-view mirror that the car following him was apparently ready to pass in the right lane.

Auto Is Undamaged

Miss Miller said she had started to swing to the left when she saw the front wheels of Renfro's car begin to turn, but apparently switched abruptly back to the right when she saw his car was remaining in the left lane.

In the clockwise spin which followed, both doors of Miss Miller's car came open, throwing the women from opposite sides of the auto. The car continued backward into a ditch, without so much as scratching the paint.

A Rix ambulance carried Mrs. Manuel to West Texas hospital.

The two women were traveling from Colorado Springs to San Antonio to visit a son of the older woman and a girl friend of Miss Miller, investigating highway patrolmen were told.

Renfro was enroute to Lubbock, where he planned to stay several days.

Acosta arrived with the bale wearing a smile a yard wide. The truck was driven by L. A. Boyd, 33, of Neville, Farley and Williams Gin company at McAllen. The bale was ginned by the concern.

The bale arriving by airplane was grown by John R. Campbell, who grew the cotton on land owned by T. W. Lee of Gladewater. Lee owns some 75,000 acres near Raymondville.

Both Campbell and Lee are in hospitals, Campbell is in the Harlingen hospital and Lee in Gladewater hospital.

Campbell was represented by Jack Dameron of Rayville and Lee was represented by J. L. Simmons of Gladewater. Simmons is an employe of Lee.

The truck left the McAllen gin at 7:25 p. m. Monday and arrived at the Cotton Exchange building at 1:50 a. m. and was met by the exchange night watchman.

The airplane bale left Harlingen at 5:30 a. m. and arrived at the municipal airport one hour and 45 minutes later, and was brought to the cotton exchange at about 7:30 a. m. Tuesday.

The airplane bale was ginned at 4:15 a. m. today. The truck bale was ginned at 6:20 p. m. yesterday.

Both bales were produced in Hidalgo county.

The winning bale this year, Acosta said, is the Stonville 2-B variety. He began picking it June 10 and fearing that he didn't have enough to make a 500 lb. bale, picked some more Monday to make certain.

Perennial Candidate Has Money Solution

WACO, June 14 (UP) — Caso March, ex-Baylor law professor and avowed candidate for governor in 1950, had his own solution for the state's financial trouble today while legislators worked overtime to make monetary ends meet.

The young war veteran who already has two unsuccessful gubernatorial campaigns behind him declared yesterday that the financial crisis was a direct result of Gov. Beauford Jester's "no-new-tax" policy.

March, who says he will be a perennial candidate for governor until he wins, spoke at the 19th annual convention of Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of Texas.

He declared that "a tax on natural gas and refining of gasoline would raise over $200,000,000 a year for the state."

War On Polio Is Intensified

(By The Associated Press)

The battle against one of Texas' worst polio epidemics will be intensified at San Angelo today by the first team sent anywhere in the nation this year by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Aid from the foundation was requested by San Angelo authorities.

The team arrived in San Angelo last night, after polio killed its eighth victim in the area yesterday afternoon. The victim was Tommy Yarbrough, 5.

The team is headed by Dr. William Northway, assistant dean of the Stanford university medical school.

Meeting Scheduled

It includes Dr. Robert Neville, associate director of medical care for the National Foundation.

The group immediately scheduled a staff meeting at a San Angelo hospital for tonight. They will confer with local doctors on the epidemic that has stricken at least 147 persons in the San Angelo district since Jan. 1. Sixty-five cases are under treatment at San Angelo hospitals, including four new ones admitted Sunday.

Meanwhile, four new cases of polio were confirmed at Brooke General hospital at San Antonio. Two were from San Angelo.

At Houston, a three-year-old girl yesterday became the city's eleventh polio victim of the year. There has been one death in Houston this year from the disease.

The perfectly preserved mammoth specimen was receovered from the frozen Alaskan tundra by the Fairbanks Exploration company. It was packed in dry ice and flown to New York for exhibit.

Camp Hood Troops Quarters Patched Up

NORTH CAMP HOOD, June 14 (UP)—National Guardsmen of the Texas 36th Infantry division were settling back to normal today after a minor upset in living facilities.

A rain and wind storm Sunday leveled tents and flooded a portion of the camp area. Some 25 tents were replaced because of snapped ridgepoles.

Dallas was measured by the weather bureau at 2.48 inches at Love field, but was estimated much more in other sections of the city.

High Winds Strike

Meanwhile, 3.74 inches of rain fell in the Paris area of East Texas and in the same area high winds struck the Sam Moore farm in the Brookston community, blowing over sheds and cutbuildings.

Marshall nad 1.33 inches of rain during a 45-minute thunderstorm.

At 9:45 a. m. the U. S. Weather bureau at Dallas issued a flood warning for the upper Trinity river.

The bureau predicted the Trinity would rise to 38 feet, 10 feet above flood stage at Dallas.

To Cause Rapid Rise

"Unusually heavy thunder storms over the Denton creek, Elm Fork, White Rock and East Fork of the Trinity will cause a rapid rise in the rivers in the Dallas section today and tonight," the weather bureau said "Farmers are advised to remove livestock from lowlands immediately."

A. M. Hamrick, chief of the Dallas weather bureau, said the warning did not take into account rains from a fresh thunderstorm which lashed into the Dallas area shortly after 9 a. m. today.

Garland, Vickery, Carrollton and Farmers Branch, all in Dallas county, all were under water for a time early today as creeks boiled over. The floodwaters had receded by midmorning.

In one section of Garland, the Duck creek shopping village, water climbed to a height of five feet.

Family Is Rescued

In the same area, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lowe and their two small children were rescued from their perch on a telephone line.

The flood didn't reach the heart of Garland, but at the Duck creek shopping village stores were badly battered and stocks were washed away.

Just before 9 a. m. the U. S. weather bureau issued a special storm warning for the Dallas area. It said a thunderstorm with high winds, heavy rain and possibly hail would reach the Dallas area shortly. The weather bureau asked all radio stations to broadcast the special bulletin.

PARTLY CLOUDY SKIES FORECAST FOR AREA

Partly cloudy skies were in prospect for the South Plains through today, with indication that cloudy conditions and showers may prevail again Wednesday, the Weather bureau station north of the city said.

At Plainview, a light shower fell at 7:15 o'clock this morning.

Matador and the surrounding area received .35 inch of moisture in a heavy downpour between 4 and 5 o'clock this morning, and then a light shower at 8 o'clock this morning, observers reported.

Whiteflat community received a heavy rain Sunday night. Part of a highway near Whiteflat was flooded until Monday morning. Whiteflat is eight miles north of Matador.

Test Showing How Anemia Drug Works

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 14. (AP)—A new test shows how and why certain drugs work against pernicious anemia in humans.

The test promises to aid in better treatment of the disease. It is reported by Dr. Oliver P. Jones, assistant dean of the University of Buffalo Medical School, and Adolph Smith of the department of anatomy.

Anemia is due to the body's failure to make enough red blood cells in its bone marrow factories. The cells that form there don't divide and grow in the normal way. The failure comes from lack of a chemical usually supplied by the liver.

Drugs like liver extract, folic acid, and the new vitamin B-12 usually overcome the trouble. Just how they do their work hasn't been clear. It's hard to get the bone marrow in humans to see what is happening. So Dr. Jones turned to primitive blood cells in unborn rats, when these embryos are only 11 days old. These blood cells had formed before the embryo livers had developed or started to work. The rat cells at this time resemble the cells in the bone marrow of humans with pernicious anemia.

By feeding anti-anemia drugs to the mother rats, he can see what effect the drug has on the blood cells themselves. The test also can show whether there is anything in a new drug that would work against anemia.

Woman Claims Australian Men Are Better Bets As Husbands

MELBOURNE, Australia, June 14 (UP)—A graduate of Hunter College in New York who married a New Zealander but has lived in Australia since 1941, says Australian men are "better bets—as bachelors or husbands" than American men.

She is Mrs. Violet Colbert, who was born at "and always moved back to" New Rochelle, N. Y.

She said American girls "go" for Australian men.

Mrs. Colbert wrote "In Defense of the Australian Male" under the name of Carol Coleman in the Melbourne national fortnightly, Woman's Day.

The wife of a corset and brassiere factory manager in Melbourne, she said in an interview that she formed her opinion of the United States male in four years spent in getting her B.A. degree from Hunter College. She met her husband aboard the Matson liner Monterey coming to Australia, worked as a dietician in the Melbourne Alfred Hospital for six months, then married.

How They React

"The Australian male," she wrote, "is often surprised, pleased and flattered by his success abroad. When he gets back home, he is full of his glory and fond of telling the lass next door that she doesn't appreciate him the way American girls did.

"Why do American girls 'go' for Australian men? Why does the local product look so good away from home? Let me go right on the record, please, and maintain that it looks all right on its own home ground.

"You Australian girls who are fed on dazzling Hollywood versions of American manhood, and who recently were awed and blinded by American uniforms and wealth, lend an ear to one who speaks straight from the heart. You always take an Australian male any time or place, always.

"Why? Because he has no 'line'; because he's not messed up and hedged in by fraternities. Because he doesn't suffer from a surfeit of sophistication.

Think They're Wolves

"Every American male is convinced that his lines is unique, devastating and sure-fire, and that it effectively disguises the inner wolf.

"This bespeaks an attitude of conceit in the American male, and that is why Australian men are better bets—as bachelors or husbands. The American man expects to hunt, or to be hunted, while there is less self-consciousness between the sexes in Australia, and more genuine friendliness.

"I attribute this to three causes: the early age at which boys and girls go out on dates in America; the early age at which American boys are allowed to own or to drive cars, and the accessibility; and fraternities.

Sophisticated Early

"My first 'date' was when I was the ripe age of 14, and my escort a seasoned 16. He had his car, and a junior license. In Australia boys and girls go to parties and dances in groups.

"Girls of 15 in New York talk about their 'steadies,' and refer to other children of similar age as 'going steady.' Of course, the 'steadies' change monthly, sometimes weekly, but it all makes for early sophistication and a subsequent blase attitude.

"The pastimes of high school youth in Australia are more healthy mentally and phisically. Tennis and swimming are universal here, whereas in New York, where tennis fees are high and bathing beaches fantastically overcrowded, these sports are limited to the wealthier classes. American high school youth titillates itself with more "grown up" pastimes. The cult of sorority and fraternity would not survive the sunlight of Australia."

100,000 DP's Will Go To Australia

SYDNEY, June 14. (AP)—One hundred thousand displaced persons will move from Europe to Australia in the next 18 months.

They will come here under two-year contracts to the Australian government to take jobs the government directs. After that they will be free to select their own employment.

The Australian government has issued a booklet to prospective employers of this migrant labor. They will be placed only where they can be accommodated. They can live in hotels and boarding houses in Sydney, Newcastle and Port Kembla if their work helps to provide more houses. They can be housed elsewhere if they do not displace a member of the Australian public.

Employers who can provide living room for an entire family of migrants will get first priority on their labor. Domestics may be assigned to doctors or to families where there are two or more children.

Displaced men work in the production of iron, bricks, tiles, cement, building materials, food processing, and rural work.

Siam Military Men Are Warned Of War

BANGKOK, June 14. (AP)—Military leaders of Thailand (Siam) have been told by Defense Minister Lt. Gen. Luang Chart Nakrob they must not meddle in internal politics because it is their duty to prepare themselves for "the war that lies ahead."

"At present, the struggle is now merely a verbal one between those supporting opposing political doctrines," the minister told 23 lieutenant colonels just graduated from the Army Staff College.

"Each day this verbal struggle can be seen developing into what in the near future will be a real struggle of force. Once the struggle has begun, there can be little question that Siam will be involved. Therefore, we must prepare. We must be on the alert.

"In preparing for this struggle, we must be careful not to meddle in internal politics or allow ourselves to be instruments of politicians.

"Our ideal must be that as soldiers we are not to meddle in politics and to see that politics does not meddle with the armed forces."

"Well," welled the mother, "she IS rather tall. We just couldn't stop her from growing. But we have kept her MIND back!"

Human, Too

Whenever writers get together over a short beer, the talk turns to the Big Bad Hollywood studios—taking all, giving nothing. Sometimes they are right, sometimes not. Listen to Story Agent H. N. Swanson:

"One day writer Wilson Collison walked into our office and said: 'M-G-M just made a book of mine called 'Maisie.' I hear it turned out well and they plan to make more pictures about the character. They own all rights, but it would be kind of nice,' he added wistfully, 'if I could get something whenever they use the character.'

"We went to see Floyd Hendrickson who for 25 years has been father confessor to the Metro lot in addition to being head of the legal department.

"We explained that this was no hardship case (actually Collison was loaded) but we were putting it entirely on a basis of fairness. He listened gravely. 'You realize, of course, the author sold out lock, stock and barrel. We don't owe him anything—but I'll see what can be done.' The studio finally agreed to pay Collison half of the original purchase price for each picture made.

"Collison died soon after, but to date his widow has collected on a dozen sequels. You may call this a pretty little Hollywood Fable, but we feel it is just another time when we heard a corporation's heartbeat."

Ex-Albanian Leader Reported Executed

LONDON, June 14 (AP) — The Tirana radio announced today that former Albanian Vice-Premier Koci Xoxe was executed by a firing squad Saturday.

Xoxe was once secretary of Albania's Communist party. He formed and headed the Albanian secret police which later arrested him.

The Albanian telegraph agency reported Saturday that the high court sentenced three other persons to prison for terms of up to 20 years on similar charges.

Connally Says Arms Program Not To Be Talked This Session

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—There is "little chance" the $1,130,000,000 arms-for-Europe program will come before Congress in this session, Senator Connally (D-Tex) said today.

But the veteran lawmaker added he is ready to lead the fight for Senate ratification of the North Atlantic treaty.

As chairman of the Senate Foreign relations committee, Connally may be called on to pilot both the treaty and the arms plan through the Senate. It may be, however, that the arms plan assignment will eventually go to the Armed services committee, headed by Senator Tydings (D-Md).

The treaty is due to be called up for debate after the Senate has disposed of labor legislation.

Two-Thirds Vote Required

It would bind the United States, Canada and 10 western European nations to an alliance which would regard an attack on one as an attack on all the members.

A two-thirds vote of the Senate is necessary to ratify the treaty and make it binding on the United States.

President Truman is expected to send the arms program to Congress after the pact is approved. Last Saturday in a speech at Little Rock, Ark., he called for approval of the arms program after the treaty is ratified.

Senate leaders nevertheless have not yet indicated they will take up the arms plan at this session.

Sundown Board Talks Over Bond Proposals

SUNDOWN, June 14. (Special)—The city commission met here Monday night to discuss a proposal to call a $430,000 bond election for water, sewer, gas, and paving facilities but recessed until next Tuesday before any decision was made, Mayor Lester Dudley said. Petitions for the election were recently circulated here.

The bond proposal calls for the purchase and improvement of the present privately owned gas and water systems or the construction of new systems.

The proposal asks $180,000 for the water system, $100,000 for the sewer system, $100,000 for the gas system, and $50,000 for street paving.

The expansion of this Hockley county oil town will necessitate an additional 600 meters to service it correctly, the engineering firm estimates.

Other members of the commission are: Geo. D. Denton, and Jack A. Williams. E. A. Edwards is city clerk.

Proctor, Vt., calls itself the marble capital of the United States; about 70 per cent of the nation's supply comes from Proctor quarries.

Soviets Reject Allied Protest

MOSCOW, June 14 (AP)—Russia has rejected British and American proposals for three-power conferences on alleged peace treaty violations by Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary.

Russia's answer to the proposals, reported by the Soviet news agency Tass, charged that Britain and the United States were attempting to interfere in the internal affairs of the three countries and influence their foreign policies.

Tass said Russia's rejection was contained in notes handed to the United States State department and the British Foreign office over the weekend by A. S. Panyushkin, Soviet ambassador in Washington, and V. Y. Yerofeyov, Soviet charge d'affaires in London.

The United States and Britain had requested three-power talks in notes delivered to Russia on May 31.

Human Rights Violation

They charged the three eastern European countries particularly with violation of human rights provided in their peace treaties.

The British and American charges were the outgrowth of the prosecution of religious and opposition leaders in the three nations.

The Russian reply said the three already had answered the accusations, and added:

"It is seen from these replies that the governments of Bulgaria, Hungary and Romania are fulfilling the obligations they undertook under the peace treaties, including also the obligations which treat of guaranteeing human rights and basic rights."

(United States Secretary of State Dean Acheson has termed as "clearly not valid" the objections by the three satellite countries that an attempt was being made to "interfere in their affairs.")

Women Win Argument With City Officials Over Terrific Odors From Garbage Plant

UNIONTOWN, Pa., June 14. (AP)—City officials wanted no part of arguing with 100 angry women so the three-day battle of the incinerator plant ended in a female victory.

Irate housewives had formed a picket line at the entrance to the city's garbage disposal plant, blocking deliveries since Friday.

They were showing their displeasure over an "odoriferous smoke" which they claimed emanated from burning garbage outside the plant.

The city fathers threw up a white flag and after a battle scene consultation agreed to level the dump with a bulldozer, refrain from dumping garbage there in the future and to conduct a rat extermination campaign in the vicinity.

Charles Keighley, jr., representing the protesting women, accepted the proposals presented by Councilman A. E. Francis, head of the department of health and safety.

The pickets then dispersed and the first garbage truck since Friday was able to move into the plant area.

Klansmen Face Second Charge

SOPERTON, Ga., June 14. (AP)—Three Ku Klux Klansmen, unmasked and brought to trial by Mayor James Peterson, have been cleared of disorderly conduct charges. But two other legal actions still threaten them.

The disorderly charges were dismissed yesterday in recorder's court for lack of evidence.

The hooded order thus won the first round of a legal battle with this small southeast Georgia town's mayor, James Peterson. The mayor personally jerked the masks off the three members of the Klan, had them jailed and brought to trial.

The trio's innocence or guilt on a charge of loitering is in the hands of Mayor Pro Tem James Waller, who acted as judge and jury.

Second Charge Prepared

And Police Chief M. D. Ware said he will bring still another charge—carrying concealed weapons — against the Klansmen in city court.

Mayor Peterson, who started out to try the men himself, stepped down after defense attorneys objected and served notice of intent to sue him for false arrest and violation of civil rights.

One of the defendants, a farm and woolen mill worker, told how the mayor dashed up to him and the other hooded figures while they were directing traffic "to our meeting place."

"The mayor," testified Joe Greene, "said what the hell are you doing here. Mr. Peterson then attacked and jerked off my hood."

Mayor Peterson, praised by President Truman for his anti-Klan action, did not testify at the hearing.

Only Greene was tried, but the decision in his case will stand for the other two defendants—Malcolm Braddy, a mechanic, and John Edge, night watchman for the state highway department.

Hungry Firemen Dash Off To Blaze, Find Happy Drunk, No Chicken On Return

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Mix firemen, fried chicken, an alarm and a drunk and you get a little story like this:

The men of No. 2 truck company were sitting down to a fried chicken dinner when the fire alarm sounded. They dashed off to answer the call of duty.

It was just a small fence blaze and they were back in 30 minutes, hungrier than ever. But all that was left of the chicken dinner was a neat pile of bones.

A block away a drunk was weaving his way happily—until the firemen caught him and noticed grease on his face and hands.

He pleaded guilty to intoxication in municipal court yesterday, and Judge Myers suspended his sentence, as he does with most drunk suspects who come before him for the first time.

"I don't suppose there is anything I can do about the chicken," the judge said sadly.

French Girl Says Dating Is Informal

SAN ANTONIO, June 14 (INS)—A French girl visiting Texas has been surprised by the "informality" of American dating.

Miss Francoise Sechet has had very little trouble with economics, in which she will have a BA degree from Southwest Texas State College soon.

But she said she is having difficulty adjusting to the absence of many formalities in the dating process to which she became accustomed in France.

Defense Counsel In Espionage Trial May Call On Film Stars

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The defense opens its case today in the often stormy Judith Coplon espionage trial. A motion to throw out the charges against her was high on the defense order of business.

If that failed, counsel Archibald Palmer told newsmen, he has hopes of calling a long list of witnesses—including Hollywood stars and Dr. and Mrs. Edward U. Condon.

Condon—director of the national bureau of standards who called on FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover for an apology after Mrs. Condon was mentioned in an FBI report read at the trial—is scheduled to make his appearance on the stand Wednesday.

Government Rests

Palmer has even issued subpoenas for the government prosecutors in the case: John M. Kelley, jr., and Raymond P. Whearty.

Before taking up the motion to dismiss the charges—a customary action in criminal trials—Palmer recalled Miss Coplon's former boss in the Justice department for further cross-examination.

Federal Judge Albert L. Reeves allowed Palmer to call back William E. Foley, chief of the foreign agents registration and internal security sections, over the objection of the prosecutors.

After Palmer had finished questioning FBI Agent Robert J. Lamphere in mid-afternoon yesterday, Kelley stood up and said to Judge Reeves:

"Your honor, the government rests."

Demands Upheld

Palmer objected. He demanded the right to read additional notes taken by FBI agents who followed Miss Coplon and Valentine A. Gubitchev, a Russian, in New York before their arrest. He also insisted on further questioning of Foley. Judge Reeves upheld both demands, but said he would limit Palmer's cross-examination of Foley.

When Foley appeared as a government witness early in the trial—it began April 25—he testified concerning an FBI "decoy" memorandum dated March 3 from which notes were found in Miss Coplon's purse when she was arrested.

Palmer said he wanted to question Foley concerning that "decoy" and another.

FBI Agent Lamphere, who wrote them both, was on the stand most of yesterday. Both "decoys" discussed, an FBI investigation of AMTORG, Soviet trading organization ,and said two high-placed AMTORG officials had become FBI informers.

Defendant To Testify

One purpose he had in mind when he wrote them, Lamphere said, was to "decieve the Soviet intelligence service if it got the information," and "to see whether Miss Coplon would take the information."

Palmer told newsmen he had not decided on his first defense witness.

"I can always fall back on Whearty and Kelley," he commented.

Palmer also has obtained subpoenas for the appearance of former secretary of interior Harold L. Ickes and many others as defense witnesses. Whether they will ever take the stand remains unsettled.

The prosecutors contend none of those subpoenaed can testify to anything material in the case. They have asked Judge Reeves to quash the subpoenas. The judge has not ruled.

Palmer also told reporters that he intends to invite testimony from many of the persons mentioned in secret FBI reports made public in the trial. These include actor Fredric March and others.

Miss Coplon, 28, a five-foot brunette will be her own star witness. Palmer said he expects her to take the stand this week. She has repeatedly denied any wrongdoing.

Miss Coplon is charged with taking government secrets with intent to injure this country and aid a foreign power, Russia. She and Gubitchev also are under indictment in New York on espionage conspiracy charges.

TONS OF SUGAR—James Taylor, an employe of West Texas Warehouse company, employs a fork-lift truck to handle some of the 30,000,000 pounds of sugar now on hand at a three-blocks long warehouse of the company. California and Hawaii Sugar company has made Lubbock a focal shipping point from which all kinds of sugar are dispatched to the Middlewest during the height of the canning and iced-tea drinking season. $2,700,000 REPRESENTED IN THIS "SWEET STORY"

Sugar, 30 Million Pounds Of It, Stacked High In Lubbock

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

Here's a sweet little story. It's all about sugar—30 million pounds of it.

That much sugar is currently on hand in a three-blocks long warehouse of West Texas Compress and Warehouse company near Twenty-third street and Ave. F.

At nine cents a pound, it represents a value of $2,700,000.

Central Storage Point

Stacked in huge, neat stockpiles are cartons, bags and boxes of sugar. There is dessert sugar, lump sugar, cubes, cubelets, confectioner's sugar in 100-pound bags. There are bales of 12 five-pound bags, boxes of six 10-pound cartons. There is coarse-grain sugar, fine-grain sugar, powdered sugar and brown sugar.

It reaches to the ceiling of the huge warehouse in many areas. And behind it is an interesting story of merchandising problems and how they are overcome.

Ralph Gray, general manager of the warehouse, explained that Lubbock has become a central storage point for the famed California and Hawaii Sugar company, manufacturers of C and H sugar.

The warehouse has handled 560 carloads of sugar since the first of the year, and 400 more carloads are scheduled to go out this season.

Here's the reasoning behind the stockpiling of sugar in Lubbock: The sugar is stored here in the off-season, and then, when the peak comes in the summer time, when canning and iced tea drinking reach their zenith, C and H is within easy reach of the vast mid-western market, and fully able to compete in shipping distance and time with the Texas and Gulf coasts.

C and H tried it here last year with good results. They also had warehouse space near Wichita, Kas., last year, but it was too wet up there—the granulated sugar blocked up.

Revenue In Off-Season

In spite of the weather to date this year, little trouble has been experienced, Gray said.

It's an ideal arrangement for West Texas Warehouse, too. It gives them revenue on the huge, expensive warehouse, with its concrete slab floors, during off months. Then, as July and August take the excess sugar off the floors, cotton bales are ready to replace it.

Approximately 170,000 square feet of floor space is used to accommodate the sugar.

At present, 25 carloads a week are leaving Lubbock. As the peak of the season approaches, 75 to 100 carloads a week will be sent out.

Precaution Taken

The sugar has to be "coddled." For one thing, strictest precautions must be taken to prevent rats and mice from gaining access to the buildings. The warehouse employs Guy Brown, owner of an exterminating service, to make frequent checks and take preventative measures.

In addition, waterproof paper is laid on the floor before the containers of sugar are stacked. On top of the stack are placed two layers of waterproof paper which serves two purposes; first, to prevent containers from fading; and second, to prevent damage by birds which may find a way to enter the warehouse.

The sugar is handled by fork-lift trucks which stack it to heights of 15 feet or more.

The capillary tubes of the human body, placed end to end, would span the Atlantic.

County Workers' Pay Hike Okayed

Adion Slated On Courthouse

The Lubbock County Commissioners' court Monday approved salary increases for all county officers, deputies and clerks. The increase was granted under authority of the recently enacted Texas Senate bill Number 92.

The commissioners also announced there will be a special extra session of the court Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. At that time sealed bids on the construction of the new courthouse will be opened.

The legislation authorizing the increase in salaries of county employes took into consideration the increased cost of living and the fact that official salaries have not kept pace with financial opportunities in private life.

Fee Basis Abolished

Section three of the bill also provides that all officers now on a fee basis will be transferred over to an annual salary to be paid in 12 equal installments.

As the Senate bill reads, county officials can receive an increase not exceeding 25 per cent of the amount allowed for that officer under the laws existing in 1948. In the case of deputies, assistants and clerks the law allows an increase of 35 per cent.

The provisions of the act do not mean that the increase is 25 or 35 per cent of what the person is now receiving. For example, if the law of 1948 allows a salary of $3,000, a man, or woman, can receive up to $750 more. That person may only receive $2,000 at the present time but the increase of $750 could be applicable.

The commissioners in discussing approval of the increases pointed out that many deputies with large families are receiving only $187 per month. These men are on call 24 hours a day and seven days a week.

A similar condition exists in the office of the county attorney. Here attorneys who are assistants to the county attorney receive $187 and $218.

"It is almost impossible to keep educated and qualified men at these salaries," Waggoner Carr, county attorney, told the commissioners court. "They can get more than that in any law office in Lubbock."

The commissioners were in agreement with Carr's plea and that of Sheriff Grady Harrist who wanted to see his men properly compensated.

One provision of the Senate bill states that in no case could the commissioners raise their own salaries without raising all other county officers at the same rate. It does not state that the commissioners have to raise their own salaries or raise any salary the full extent of the law.

The motion made and passed by

Senators Okay U. S. In Wheat Agreement

WASHINGTON, June 13. (AP)—The Senate has voted for United States membership in an international wheat agreement that includes all big wheat exporters except Russia and Argentina.

The new agreement will become effective July 1 if enough other countries ratify it at that time. It was worked out by the United States and four other net exporters of wheat along with 36 wheat importers.

The five exporting nations are to ship 456,000,000 bushels annually to the importing countries. Sponsors said that would mean an export market of 168,000,000 bushels of American wheat each year for the next four years.

Importing countries would pay a maximum price of $1.80 a bushel; the minimum would scale down from $1.50 this year to $1.20 in 1952-53.

At least it is that way for people who have always worked."

RUSSELL WIMBERLEY, 2001 teacher of special studies and coach in O. L. Slaton Junior High school: "I surely do. It takes care of leisure time. Annexation Of Suburb Asked

Property owners in a large section of suburban southwest Lubbock, who currently are seeking to have their section brought within the city limits, Monday night apparently were one step nearer their goal as a result of a meeting held in the M. C. Overton school.

Some 45 residents of the suburban area and those who own property there met at the elementary school in an attempt to work out obstacles which thus far have prevented that section of Lubbock from being brought into the city.

Street Widths Problem

Bottlenecks in that area include lack of alleys and sufficient street widths in several blocks, particularly in the 3400 and 3500-blocks of Ellwood street, and the block of Tyler avenue between Ellwood and Twenty-fourth.

Since it is the policy of the City of Lubbock to take in relatively large tracts of outlying areas at a time, these "bugs" have thus far prevented annexation of the entire area to the city.

At last night's meeting, Dr. J. C. Anderson, chairman and spokesman for the group, presided. The City of Lubbock was presented by R. L. Oldham, director of public works.

Additional Meetings Set

It was decided that further meetings would be held among residents and property owners in the various blocks in the area, so that each block could virtually, settle its own problems as they stand in relation to other blocks in that section of town.

At a meeting of the group held several weeks previously, property owners agreed to contribute $3 for each lot which they might own in the area to establish a fund to be used to cover costs of dedication deeds, surveying if such were needed, and similar expenses. It was agreed by most of the residents that additional money would be put up if the first sum was insufficient.

W. M. Peticolas met with the group at last night's meeting. He showed a number of maps of blocks in the area as they should be for annexation to the city, explaining the obstacles which now are holding extension of the city's boundaries in that part of town.

As an example, it was said last night that one house in that section is so situated that if an alley were laid through the block, part of the back of the structure would have to be removed, while extension and widening of the street would bring the street to the front door.

Bud Johnson is assisting Dr. Anderson as representative of the residents of the area.

Hickenlooper Plans Attack On Expensive Atom Plant Project

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) is setting out next to attack the Atomic Energy commission's spending of the taxpayer's money.

The Iowa senator, pressing his charges of "incredible mismanagement" against commission chairman David E. Lilienthal, picked for his first target at tomorrow's hearing a secret atomic installation at the Hanford, Wash., plutonium plant.

The cost of the Hanford project already has stirred up considerable congressional interest. Described as the "capstone" to the whole Hanford operation, the facility originally was expected to cost $6,255,000. The commission now estimates it will cost $24,950,000.

Investigation Started

Senator McMahon (D-Conn), chairman of the House-Senate atomic committee, told reporters yesterday that he had started an investigation into the project as soon as he had heard early this year about the greatly increased cost.

The Senate appropriations subcommittee on independent offices, to which the AEC must turn for money, also has had it under discussion.

Hickenlooper was told to go ahead on his new line of inquiry at a closed-door meeting of the joint committee yesterday.

And, after consulting with the five atomic commissioners, the committee decided that the matter could be discussed in public without "damage to security."

Details of the facility, for which the General Electric Co. is contractor, still are shrouded in secrecy.

High Cost Defended

Carleton Shugg, the commission's deputy general manager, told the appropriations group last week that the product is one for which you need a better word than "deadly poison." It was he who called it the "capstone" of the whole costly Hanford operation.

Shugg and other commission officials have defended the increased cost. They say that (1) many improvements have been made in the original project—for which there was no previous blueprint—and (2) there have been difficulties which were not anticipated.

Another aspect of Hickenlooper's case against the commission—its loyalty review program—will be aired behind closed doors at some later date.

Full Hearing Favored

None of the committee members, McMahon said, favors a full open hearing on Hickenlooper's contention that key AEC employees have been given access to secret material despite "derogatory" information in their loyalty files.

McMahon and two other committee members met with Attorney General Clark last night, presumably to discuss whether an open hearing on any such case would disclose secret FBI information.

At Hickenlooper's request, the joint group yesterday voted to ask Secretary of Defense Johnson for "comment on any breach of security" involved in (A) the publication of pictures in the commission's last public report and (B) a Fortune magazine article in January.

The pictures, particularly those taken from the air, have been criticized by members as revealing too much atom information to a potential enemy. Lilienthal said the pictures had been published before.

Rover Scouts from all nations will attend the Fourth World Rover Meet to be held next August at Bismoen, Skajak, in the Norwegian mountains.

At the end of that time, if no legitimate claimant appears, the money will be theirs. (AP Wirephoto).

Commission

the commissioners yesterday will leave the matter of increases in individual cases up to the discretion of the department heads.

"It would not be wise to make a blanket increase," Commissioner Ottis Isom stated. "We can leave that to such men as Sheriff Harrist to determine which of the men are deserving and how much the increase should be."

The motion does allow the department head to make the maximum increase if he feels it is deserved. However, before any increases can be granted, notice that such increases will be made have to be advertised for three consecutive weeks. Such increases as will be granted cannot become effective before July 1 or shortly thereafter.

More than 30-odd bids have been received to date for general construction, plumbing and heating work on the proposed new courthouse. These bids will be opened at a public meeting Wednesday afternoon in the court room on the second floor of the courthouse.

After determining the basic cost of construction the commissioners plan to meet again with the architects, Haynes & Kirby, to draw up specifications for furniture and fixtures that will be needed in the new building.

Club House Plans Tabled

The Commissioners court tabled any action on a request to construct a $50,000 community club house in precinct one.

A delegation from the precinct, the southwest section of the county, presented plans and sketches to the commissioners showing the design, floor-plan and construction details of the desired club house.

All members of the court were present, County Judge Walter Davies, and commissioners R. O. Short, G. G. Green, Ottis Isom, Pat Corley and county clerk Louie Moore.

Field Being Reduced In Men's Singles

HOUSTON, June 14 (AP) — Defending champion Fred Kovaleski of William and Mary college moves into competition today in the Texas sectional tennis tournament.

Also playing first matches as the field in men's singles is reduced to 16 will be Art Larson of San Francisco and Gardner Larned of Rollins college, other top-rated entries.

The field already has lost one seeded player. He was Herbert Behrens of Rollins, who was forced to default yesterday when he suffered a cut wrist. Behrens had been seeded third.

Twenty-five matches were played yesterday with Jason Morton of Houston, Charles Harris of Corpus Christi and Bobby Goldfarb of El Paso, seeded sixth, seventh and eighth respectively, winning their matches.

Church-State Peace Sought

PRAGUE, June 14. (AP)—President Klement Gottwald said last night his Communist regime seeks "positive cooperation" with the Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia.

But, added Gottwald, peace between the church and state is "up to the church."

Gottwald's statement was in reply to messages of loyalty from a week-old organization which calls itself Action Catholica.

The new group which claims to represent several hundred priests as well as laymen, has whitewashed the government stand in the controversy with Archbishop Josef Beran and the bishops of the constituted Roman Catholic church in Czechoslovakia.

Willing To Agree

Action Catholica also received a message from Premier Antonin Zatopocky, who promised that "the state is willing to make concessions to justified demands of the church in the firm belief that the church will be willing to negotiate."

The new organization seeks to assume the secular functions of the church.

Beran predicted recently that the government would make such a move in a "step by step" program to cut down the Catholic church here. He warned that the group would be outside the pale for faithful Roman Catholic believers.

The archbishop also warned in private letters that there was a campaign from high government quarters to set up a new church.

The press and radio, presenting only the government viewpoint, has been carrying letters and telegrams "demanding" that the church authorities "negotiate" with the government.

Radioactive Metals Stolen From School

PRINCETON, N. J., June 14 (AP) —The theft of 12 or 15 lead bars, one of them containing dangerously radioactive cobalt, puzzled Princeton university authorities today.

The theft came on top of the disappearance over the weekend of three valuable paintings, worth $11,800, from Princeton's art museum. They are original etchings and drawings by Rembrandt and Degas.

Frederick Osborne of the university public relations staff reported last night that the small lead bars—weighing about 600 pounds all told—were taken from two classrooms in the Palmer physics laboratory.

The lead and radioactive cobalt are valued at only about $150, but Osborne warned that the material is dangerous to anyone within a radius of five feet.

The radioactive cobalt was attached to a brass rod and the rod was inserted into a lead bar.

Osborne said the university had a tip that the bars might have been taken to a junk yard to be sold for salvage.

Police were notified and are investigating the theft of both the lead bars and the pictures.

Shooting Fatal For Two Men

CLEBURNE, June 14 (U.P.)—Robert Clemens, 21, was found shot to death at his grandparents home last night following the slaying of his father-in-law, and Justice of the Peace R. L. Derryberry ruled today he had taken his own life.

Clemens' body was found in a room at the house, about six miles south of here near Parker, after police had closed in on him.

Charlie Avery, 62, was shot to death earlier last night at his farm near Itasca, in Hill county.

Police said that Clemens locked himself up in the room, shot himself in the arm, and told them he was coming out "as soon as I finish drinking my coffee."

Incident Described

He then shot himself in the head twice.

Albert Avery, son of the slain man, said he and his father were sitting on the front porch at their farm home when they heard the family car start at the rear of the house.

They went to investigate, and the man in the car opened fire with a revolver, shooting the elder Avery in the chest and inflicting a minor wound on the younger man.

Ira Beard, who lives on an adjoining farm, said he heard the shots and saw a man fleeing in Avery's car.

Clemens was separated from his wife, Sybil Avery's daughter. Mrs. Clemens was in a Fort Worth hospital at the time of the shooting.

Gun May Determine Course Of Events In Babich Murder Case

MILWAUKEE, June 14, (AP) — The gun from which two bullets were fired into the head of pretty Patricia Birmingham, 16, may play a major role in Milton Babich's first degree murder trial today.

The prosecution plans to call to the stand Prof. J. H. Mathews of the University of Wisconsin, who made tests of the weapon after it was recovered from the Milwaukee river by a magnet.

The weapon was found near the spot where Patricia's weighted body was lifted from the river March 20. It was identified through its serial number as the one Babich says he purchased last January and produced on Feb. 10 to frighten Patricia so she wouldn't reveal that her sister, Kathleen, was pregnant.

Innocence Pleaded

In his opening statement to the jury, Deputy Dist. Atty. Joseph Tierney repeatedly emphasized that the gun and the bullets it contained were not touched or disturbed by anyone from the time it was recovered until it was delivered to Mathews for tests.

He said the chamber of the .22 calibre target revolver had been marked to show the exact position it was in when the gun was found. He did not, however, explain why the position of the chamber was considered important.

The 19-year-old defendant, who eloped with Kathleen three days before Patricia's body was found, March 20, has pleaded innocent to the murder charge. He contends that Patricia picked up the gun and that it went off twice when he grabbed for it.

Five statements by Babich were read into evidence at the trial yesterday, four of them detailing the shooting. In them, Babich asserted he found a concrete building block at a construction site near the shooting scene and fastened it to Patricia's feet with wire and rags from the trunk of his car.

Victim's Mother Called

But Frank Czaplewski, a contractor, said no concrete blocks were used in constructing 25 houses under his supervision near the shooting site. Only cinder blocks were used, he said.

Superintendent Charles Wilson of the state crime laboratory testified he linked one of four pieces of wire found in the Babich home with the wire wrapped around the victim's leg.

Mrs. Albert T. Birmingham, 38, mother of Patricia and Kathleen, was on the stand briefly before court was adjourned until today. She said she was called home from her night job Feb. 10, when Patricia did not return from school.

She said Babich was at her home when she got there, but that "Milton didn't have much to say that night at all." He spent most of the evening sitting on a davenport with Kathleen, Mrs. Birmingham added.

She was composed while she testified, but after she left the stand, she walked to the prosecution table, slumped into a chair and wept.

First postoffice in what is now the United States was organized under a royal patent granted to Thomas Neale, in 1691.

All In A Lifetime — Recollections

Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., Will Receive Oath As Congressman

WASHINGTON, June 14. (AP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt, jr., (D-NY), receives his oath of office today as a member of the House of Representatives.

The third son of the late president, to whom he has been compared in political charm, came here from New York to be sworn in by Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas).

Young Roosevelt staged a whirlwind campaign to defeat three other opponents May 17 for the seat left vacant by the death of Rep. Sol Bloom (D-NY). Since the special election, in New York City's 20th district, he has been abroad, mainly in Israel.

Roosevelt failed to win the Democratic nomination for the special election and ran as the nominee of a "splinter party." He won by a substantial margin over the regular (Tammany) Democratic choice, a Republican and the nominee of the American Labor party.

Welcomed By Demos

Despite this, however, he will sit as a Democrat and House leaders of the party have let it be known that he is welcome addition to their ranks.

His father never served in the House in his unequaled political career. However, there already is some talk of the possibility that political fortunes may lead the son, in time, to the governorship of New York. It was from this post that FDR, sr., went to the White House.

Young Roosevelt—he's 34—will be the third Roosevelt to sit in the House. He was preceded by Robert Barnwell's uncle, James I. Roosevelt (1841-43).

Robert Barnwell Roosevelt was an uncle of Republican President Theodore Roosevelt.

FDR, jr., will be seated on the opposite side of the House from his cousin, Rep. Katharine St. George (R-NY). The mothers of Mrs. St. George and President Roosevelt—her first cousin—were sisters.

Photographer Begins 18-Months Sentence

AMARILLO, June 14. (AP) — Lynn A. Boykin, 29, commercial photographer, began an 18-months term in federal prison today.

Boykin pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery yesterday before U. S. District Judge Joe B. Dooley. The photographer was connected with a forged bank draft of some $190,000, drawn on a cattle company through a Los Angeles bank.

Trieste Votes Against Tito

TRIESTE, Free Territory, June 14 (AP)—Official returns today gave the parties favoring Triest's return to Italy a decisive victory in the free city's first free election in 27 years.

Tabulation of Sunday's voting gave the pro-Italian candidates 40 of the 60 city council seats The six pro-talian parties rolled up 106,973 votes to 61,136 for parties wanting to keep Trieste independent or place it under Yugosalvia.

People Pro-Italian

The Christian Democrats led the pro-Italian parties with 65,627 votes. The pro-Cominform Communist party, which favors an independent Trieste, polled 35,548, while the Italo-Slav popular front, supporting Premier Marshal Tito and favoring a Yugoslav-controlled Trieste, won only 3,957.

The population of Trieste is mainly Italian and the pro-Italian vote was expected. The free territory was created by the Italian peace treaty. It is under United Nations supervision.

The 60-man city council will pick a mayor and executive committee.

Trieste now is occupied by British and American forces.

Efforts in the U. N. security council to name a governor have failed and the U. S., Britain and France now favor giving Trieste to Italy.

Jumping Bail Can Prove Very Expensive In A Lot Of Cases

By CLARK BEACH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, June 14—Jumping bail can be pretty expensive, as in the Gerhart Eisler case, for the people who put up the bail. But the people who furnished Eisler's bail aren't in so bad a hole as they would have been once upon a time.

Eisler's bailers, the Civil Rights Congress, put up $23,500, which the government is now in the process of seizing. Under old English law, bailers were personally responsible if the defendant was not on hand when the court demanded his presence. The bailers were jailed and were given whatever punishment would have been meted out to the defendant.

Money Or A Bond

Now the only bail that is required is money or a bond. But the obligations and rights of bailers are still regarded very seriously by the courts. The bailer becomes, in effect, the jailer of the person for whom he has furnished a bail bond.

He can personally take him into custody any time he deems it necessary to assure the defendant's presence in court. If he thinks the man is preparing to flee he can put handcuffs on him and turn him over to the police. If the defendant has already fled the bailer can go after him and arrest him just like a policeman.

Most bailers are professional bondsmen — persons who make their living furnishing bail to defendants in criminal cases. A lot of them get into trouble with the authorities from time to time for various abuses, such as loitering around courhouses and working in cahoots with shyster lawyers and corrupt policemen.

But many are respectable businessmen. And in almost all jurisdictions they have to be approved by the court before they can set up in business. The court must be satisfied not only that they are financially able to furnish bond but also that they are law-abiding, reputable citizens.

Has Few Alternatives

In any case they frequently offer the only hope of a prisoner's being released from jail pending his trial or appeal from conviction. If the judge won't release a prisoner on his own recognizance (meaning he doesn't have to furnish bail), he has few alternatives. If the court has said it will free him provided he furnishes a certain amount of bail (it is usually a matter for the court's discretion), he can do one of four things:

1. Deposit his own cash with the court or give the court a lien on any real estate he owns.
2. Get a friend or a friendly organization, such as the one Eisler used, to post cash or a bond.
3. Engage a professional bondsman.
4. Get a surety company to furnish bail.

But surety companies very rarely provide bail in criminal cases. When they do, the defendant usually is a man with substantial means and of high reputation. He posts collateral with the company, and the company furnishes the court with a bond which will be forfeited if he skips.

In Nature Of Loan

As the surety companies work it, the transaction is in the nature of a loan, and it isn't a very profitable business, as the maximum amount the company can charge in most jurisdictions is two per cent.

Professional bondsmen sometimes charge up to 15 per cent of the amount of the bond. Many jurisdictions set the maximum charge at five per cent.

When you want to get a professional bondsman to bail you out of jail, he'll often check on your record, see if you've ever been arrested before, see if you are holding a steady job, learn something about your general reputation and find out what property you own.

Many times, however, the bondsman is satisfied in the course of a half-hour interview. He is used to working with persons in the toils of the law and can size them up with uncanny accuracy.

If the bond isn't more than $500 or $1,000, and if the prisoner is an average citizen, he knows it is unlikely that the man will try to abscond. Even if the prisoner is an underworld character, the bondsman often knows all about him and his associates. He knows what the man is likely to do, whether he will be a good risk, and if he jumps bail he knows where he can find him.

Bail jumping doesn't happen frequently. If it did, professional bondsmen could not stay in business. And many of them have flourished for years.

Cajun is a corruption of Acadien, settlers of Louisiana. Present day Cajuns are persons reputed to be of Acadian French descent.

SMALL World Dept.: Recently, a Latvian family, long in a Displaced Persons camp in Germany, arrived in Tulsa to make their new home. The head of the family, a Lutheran pastor who speaks perfect English, was shown, by a mutual friend, a scrapbook of articles we wrote as a result of a visit, in late 1947, to the Occupied Zones of Germany, Austria and Italy—which included an inspection of DP camps.

The Lutheran minister immediately recognized parts of the articles and the other day we received from him a letter, reading, in part:

"I learned your name while I was a DP in Latvian DP Camp, Fulda, Germany. Thousands and thousands of my compatriots read and appreciated your information about the Baltic states and the Baltic DPs. The articles you wrote about your trip through Europe were published in part in our DP newspapers. You were one of the first who told the truth about the tragedy of the Baltic people . . . "

How our articles ever got to the Baltic DP camps, your guess is as good as anyone's.

Probably it was through the American Military government in Germany, which must have received photostats of our articles from the Department of the Army, which received a full file of them following publication in The Avalanche-Journal.

YOU'VE seen in the papers that President Truman has asked Congress to give him $4,000,000,000 in extra taxes this year.

Probably you didn't think much about it. Maybe you think you don't care whether the "tax and tax and tax, spend and spend and spend" philosophy of the administration is continued, or not.

But if you are the head of an AVERAGE American family, Mr. Truman's $4,000,000,000 extra taxes would cost you $100.80.

Now do you care?

IF IT'S news when a man bites a dog, it's bigger news when both wets and drys in any community begin doing a little logical, middle-of-the-road thinking in the matter of alcoholic beverages, their use and their sale.

But, believe it or not, quite a few thinking people in both camps of the tiresome prohibition war have been doing some sane thinking here in recent weeks. The fact that beer and liquor raids have been staged daily, yet the supply of beer and whisky remains ever available to those who want either, has made a lot of people wonder if, after all, there there isn't some better plan available for trial by both wets and drys.

As a result, the more intelligent of the drys are realizing that prohibition as we know it is a farce; the more intelligent of the wets are coming to the conclusion that there may be some other way of handling the problem of alcoholic beverages other than the "wide-open" route.

There never will be a perfectly satisfactory solution of the problem surrounding the use and sale of alcoholic beverages.

There always will be extremists on both sides of the fence willing to abuse each other, if not even themselves, in order to force their personal desires on others.

But a slight change in the laws governing sale of beer in Texas would improve present conditions no end—in the so-called "dry" areas of the state and even in some of those areas now legally "wet."

AS THE law governing sale of beer and light wines reads in Texas now, a county, or a precinct having legal beer and wines has them all over the place.

The beverages, if legally sold at all, are legally sold by the drink.

BY DREW PEARSON: CHINESE COMMUNISTS ARE ROWING WITH RUSSIAN COMMUNISTS

Vice President's Son-In-Law Running Big Lobby

WASHINGTON. — Biggest news from the Orient has only been reported so far in the diplomatic cables. It is that the Communist government of Russia and the new Communist government of China are already at each other's throats. Mao Tse-Tung, conquering leader of the Chinese Communists, has become bitterly anti-Russian.

PEARSON

Here is the inside story of what happened:

Under the Big Four peace agreement, the key Manchurian city of Dairen was divided between Russia and China. Developed by the Japanese, Dairen stands at the tip-end of the Lao-Tung peninsula, also at the terminus of the south Manchurian railroad, is one of the best seaports in north China.

But when the Nationalist Chinese moved out of their part of Dairen, the Russians promptly moved in. And now that the Communists control all north and central China, Gen. Mao Tse-Tung sent word to Russia that he wanted to take over the Chinese half of Dairen.

Whereupon the Russians said no. They said it emphatically and they have refused to budge since.

As a result Mao Tse-Tung and Chinese Communist leaders are boiling mad. They have come to believe that under the much-vaunted Russian-Communist system, China may not even have as much land as she did under the old-fashioned capitalists.

Barkley's Son-In-Law

Washington's sanctimonious newsmen say it shouldn't be written about, merely be buzed about at Washington dinner tables. However, one of the political misfortunes of Washington is the manner in which the vice president's son-in-law, Max Truitt, is cashing in on Alben Barkley's fine name.

Truitt is an able, likable law partner of ex-attorney general Homer Cummings. Both get plenty of law practice on their own. However, since his father-in-law became vice president of the United States, Truitt's law business has expanded so the clients almost jostle each other getting inside the door.

In addition, young Truitt is not too selective. On his list are the three chief dictators of the Latin world—Franco of Spain, Trujillo of the Dominican Republic, and indirectly, through the largest Argentine shipping company, Peron of Argentina.

In fairness to the vice president, it should be noted that he is frequently on the opposite side of the fence from his son-in-law. When Truitt was retained by the tidelands oil lobby, Barkley fought on the Senate floor to kill the tidelands oil bill. Also, when Truitt registered as the paid agent of Dictator Franco and lobbied for his full recognition, Barkley was known privately to oppose such recognition.

MEANWHILE, Truitt gets in on some of the most inner circle parties in Washington—thanks to the fact that his wife is official hostess for the vice president. The White House dinner for Winston Churchill was one of the most exclusive ever thrown by the Trumans. Not even Senators Tom Connally and Arthur Vandenberg, on whom the President must depend for his bipartisan foreign policy, were invited.

But lawyer-lobbyist Max Truitt was.

Ignoring Stars And Stripes

Latest of Max's operations has been to demand that the Maritime commission permit Standard Oil of New Jersey to transfer six modern oil tankers to the Panamanian flag.

The Maritime commission had refused to do this for Standard Oil, so Standard then hired the versatile Max. The commission's refusal was based on the fact that oil is getting scarce in this country and, in time of war, the nation's entire economy will depend on having enough tankers to bring in foreign oil. If the tankers are under a foreign flag, however, the United States loses control.

But since operation under the Panamanian flag means less taxes and lower wages, Max Truitt went to bat for Standard Oil. He proposed that Standard Oil register under the Panamanian flag six modern tankers built since 1942; and threatened that if this was not accepted by the Maritime commission, four tankers now building would not be registered under the stars and stripes.

"The Standard Oil company," wrote Truitt, "will have (four) tankers which it desires to place under American flag and registry, to be manned with citizen personnel, provided it is permitted to transfer to Panamanian flag and registry . . . the equivalent carrying capacity of used tankers . . .

"The company therefore suggests," continued Truitt, "that the commission reconsider its action . . . by which it declined to approve the application to transfer to foreign flag and registry the vessels named above, and desires to point out that . . . (otherwise) this will result in the loss of the newer tankers to the American merchant marine and the national defense program."

The vice president's son-in-law used to be general sounsel of the Maritime commission, later was a full-fledged commissioner. Nevertheless, his former colleagues did not relish Max's squeeze play regarding oil tankers.

THOSE interested in higher pensions and more social security benefits can figure that it's a safe prediction Congress will split 50-50 with President Truman on his plea to put 20,000,000 more people on social security rolls. In other words, Congress will cut the figure to 10,000,000.

The 10,000,000 new social security beneficiaries will include self-employed workers (salesmen numbering almost 7,000,000), permanent domestic servants and other smaller employee groups.

On the other hand, Truman's request for inclusion of all types of farm employes, members of the armed services and casual domestic servants will be rejected.

The pension retirement age will be kept at 65 years for men, but dropped to 60 for women.

Hottest controversy when the Ways and Means committee starts voting behind closed doors on Truman's social security reforms will be over his request that minimum pensions for retired workers with dependents be raised from $10 a month to $25 and that maximum pensions be raised from $82.50 to $150.

Insiders believe the minimum $25 pension will be voted, but that the new maximum pension will be closer to $100 than $150.

To help finance these benefits, the present aggregate payroll tax of 2 per cent on employer and employe will be raised to 3 per cent (that is, ½ per cent additional on both employer and employe)—effective January 1, 1950.

This set-up encourages the honky-tonk, which, in turn, encourages rowdiness and often serious crime.

So why not set up a new schedule in the state's liquor laws which (1) will eliminate the honky-tonk and other bad angles to beer-by-the-drink; (2) will eliminate the bootlegger and his attendant evils; and (3) will make beer legally available to people who want it and who believe it's their own business whether or not they drink it?

In short, the state's prohibition statutes should give voters more of a choice than they have today. Texans need a middle-of-the-road choice which will permit a county, a precinct or a city to have legal beer and light wines sold only by the case, or the half-case, by grocery stores which may wish to handle them, for consumption off the sale premises.

This would go a long way to eliminate the bootlegger. It would go a long way to put a stop to people being pushed around by Liquor board and other officers. It would eliminate a great deal of the cost of attempting to enforce unenforcable prohibition laws. And it would produc. tax revenues altogether lost so long as sale of beer is illegal.

FOR A half-century, or more, Lubbock has been legally "dry," but, in actuality, it is and has been as wet as the Atlantic.

Despite raids, arrests, sermons, lectures, grand jury reports and everything else, Lubbock is and has been knee deep in whisky and neck deep in beer. There's no logical reason to expect any improvement. As a matter of fact, as the city grows larger, there is every reason to expect efforts at complete prohibition to become more and more ineffective.

Availability of beer and light wines only by the case, or half-case—if the law would so permit—would certainly not worsen current conditions and, in some respects, at least, would help them.

Since Lubbock is only one of numerous cities having trouble as a result of conflicting public opinion on prohibition, it seems to us that Texas may well do some experimenting in an effort to find a practical, workable solution to the problem.

He Coaxed It In, What's He Crabbin' About?

Home Economics Course For Men Has Dastardly Portent

COLUMBUS, O., June 10—They have started a home economics course for men at Baldwin-Wallace college, in Cleveland, in which the stupider sex is taught to cook, sew, midwife the faulty plumbing and bake a cake that would make a bum of mother's best effort.

RUARK

I wish to come out against the whole dastardly device, shaped for further enslavement of the male—and aimed at the creation of a new generation of bores.

As a man who has successfully dodged most of the drudgery around the bower by pleading ignorance of temperament fuse boxes and flatly refusing to learn to make beds, I can warn that nothing but trouble rides the wind if the boys get too handy in the house. The step from dilettante chef to kitchen slave is a pathetically short one. Nor do I believe that the qualifications of a desirable husband should include his ability to sew a fine seam.

Chiefly, however, the danger rests in the potential burgeoning of the bore. God knows men can be boring enough—boring about their hobbies, such as stamp collecting, boresome about business, booze and blonde-coursing, but the most tireless ear-bender of them all is the male housekeeper.

Pinch Of Arsenic

I have encountered several specimens of this breed, and have always found them impossible. You can put up with a talkative horseplayer or a Dodger fan, but the fellow who pins you in the corner in order to brag of his fried chicken or his knack with gravy is discouragable only by gunshot.

Recently I endured a weekend in which several of these amateur Cordon Bleus were congregated, and I was never so weary of the swapped recipe in all my born days. You take a pinch of arsenic, see, and you garnish it well with ground glass and breathe a little efflorescence of cyanide over the top, see, and that is precisely what I would love to feed 'em all when they come to taste and sneer at my cooking.

Women take no pride in cooking, because to a dame a kitchen is just the penalty box for a life of subsidized bliss. When a woman fries an egg she fries it fast and curls it at you like a shuffleboard missile. To her a chop is a chop and not an art form. She understands that she is merely dealing off the arm, and the aim is to circumvent starvation.

THIS is not so of he-cooks. A he-cook cannot lay out a serving of beans and bacon. Pride forces him to put on a chef's cap, swaddle himself in an apron, and plunge his arms to the pit in herbs. He broils his steak in honey and thyme, with a dash of bay leaf and a pinch of rosemary. Cooking grease to him is plover fat and melted gold. He is never happy unless he sets the house afire while burning his barbecue.

A he-salad-chef is an abomination before the Lord. I have noticed that they generally keep a bottle of neat gin sitting on the ice chest, and by the time the he-salad is mixed it's got everything in it but the vacuum cleaner's contents. Come to think of it, the last big, fancy he-salad I sampled did have the vacuum cleaner's contents in it, and the he-chef was passed out on the terrace.

Buzzard Affronted

I knew a man once who prided himself on his spaghetti sauce—which, he said, needed three days to break down the molecules and free the flavor of a nauseous mess that would have affronted a buzzard. At the time of serving, this man's kitchen resembled a direct bomb-hit on a crowded dugout. Unidentifiable things were stuck to the wall, splattered into the sink, and the floor was fetlock deep in debris.

I will not deal here with the amateur decorators, the hunters of auctions, the knitters, the needle-pointers, the furniture-sanders, and the color-scheme kids, all of whom talk more vociferously of their hobby than the he-cooks. They constitute a separate problem, and the only point I was trying to make is that housewifery is chiefly for women. On a male it just looks silly, like a ruffled apron.

Two. Can remember names as well as faces, and can connect the two.

Three. Knows how to make introductions easily and graciously.

Four. Knows how to listen as well as talk and can talk about something beside herself.

ESSENTIAL TO SUCCESS

AT 18 a girl is ready to step into a woman's world. And all of these accomplishments are necessary to being a success as a woman. They are necessary to a woman whether she marries and has a family or settles for a career.

For those are the seemingly small, but actually important attributes of the woman who makes friends easily and is happy and at ease with others.

They are nothing more or less than basic good manners, yet it is surprising how many girls reach womanhood without mastering them, and how often they fail to see that the poise they admire in someone else has its foundation in just such simple rules of pleasing behavior.

"PITCHERS" AND "CATCHERS"

Persons acquainted with the backgrounds and personalities of both Sen. Kenneth McKellar and Economic Co-operation Administrator Paul Hoffman had no trouble in deciding which man to side with after McKellar's attack on Hoffman in the Senate the other day.

McKellar, who succeeded to Harold Ickes' title as Washington's most disliked official, shouted to Hoffman, whose Marsall Plan administration has been outstanding: "The sooner you resign, the better it will be for the United States." A great many people, in and out of Washington and in Mr. McKellar's home state of Tennessee, would like to say the same thing to the crabbed octagenarian senator.

McKellar and Hoffman stand at the opposite poles.

The former, by persuasive bombastism, has made his living all his life off taxes paid by men like Hoffman, and by men who make their living because of smart business men like Hoffman. The latter, a great industrialist, has been a producer, the former has lived off the production of other men.

McKellar's latest, ill advised outbreak serves to publicly draw the line between the "catchers" and the "pitchers" on the American scene. Perhaps that makes it at least a little worthwhile, which is more than can be said of most of the McKellar diatribes.

"WANTED TO RENT" AD

When a "For Sale" sign is posted on a piece of property, the market possibilities are limited by the number of passersby. The quiet street that makes a residence attractive is not apt to attract lots of traffic or a very large number of prospective buyers.

. . . But a well worded want ad placed in The Avalanche-Journal Want Ad Section will reach thousands of people who are eager to buy a home . . . for Avalanche-Journal Want Ads are the largest market place for Real Estate in this territory. Insert your add today where it will produce maximum results at a minimum cost.
