The meeting begins at 2 p. m. The meeting will include ranchers from a five state area and the discussion will center around the current cattle prices and means of government aid. Dalhart ranchers who are promoting the organization advocate purchase of cattle directly from the producers rather than government buying of meat from the packers.

Instruments may be rented at reasonable rates. Former music training is not necessary. Those interested should be at the band room Monday to enroll. The time and days of classes will be decided by the group after enrollment. Both the junior and senior high bands will have practice during August in order to get ready for the annual North Plains Fair, Walker said. Rehearsal dates will be announced later.

First Carload of Emergency Feed Goes Out to Farmers and Ranchers of Area

Committee Is Named for Aid Program

A county committee for the administration of disaster feed for livestock has been appointed and the first carload of feed under the program has been distributed to Ochiltree county ranchers. Named to the county USDA Drouth Committee are Homer Gurley, PMA chairman; Art Turner, FHA supervisor; Delbert Timmons, county agent; Carl Ellis, First National Bank president; and Lawrence Elizey, rancher. This committee must approve all applications for feed to be furnished under the disaster aid program. This program, which furnishes corn, cottonseed meal, hay and oats to farmers and ranchers at reduced prices, will operate in much the same manner as the disaster hay program last winter. The feed is for foundation livestock only, and the program is designed to help the farmer and rancher keep his herd during the current period of rising costs and dropping prices. The price for corn is $1 per bushel; for oats it is 50 cents per bushel; cottonseed cake is $35 per ton; and hay is available but no price has been quoted, according to Elliott Lee, county PMA secretary. A 30-day supply of feed is all that is allowed at any one time. Orders are being received at the PMA office now and there have been over 50 applications during the first two days the office started taking requests for feed. Orders are sent in for carload lots only.

Local REA Cooperative Gets Approval of $215,000 Loan

Welcome news was received Monday by officials of the North Plains Electric Coop in the form of a telegram from A. Nelson, REA administrator, stating that REA has approved a loan application for $215,000 for the local cooperative. This was the loan that had been rejected once, but was put up for consideration after Earl Waide, REA manager, Ira Harbaur, vice president, and J. H. Kershaw, secretary, made a trip to Washington in May to confer with REA officials. Of the $215,000 loan, a total of $75,000 will be used for converting single phase lines to 3-phase and for the construction of a new substation, Waide said. The substation, a 1,000 KVA installation, will be located three miles east and two miles north of Briscoe, between Wheeler and Canadian. The remaining $140,000 will be used to construct taps and extensions for new members over the six county area. Much of this construction has already been done, Waide pointed out. This loan will finish all proposed construction plans for the cooperative, Waide said. The North Plains Electric Cooperative now serves 1,300 members on 1,625 miles of distribution lines. The cooperative has 66 miles of transmission lines. The cooperative serves members in Ochiltree, Hansford, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, and Hutchinson counties. A total of $2,310,000 has been borrowed from the government for construction of REA facilities. This is a loan bearing 2 percent interest and must be repaid within 35 years.

Trades Day Prize Is Set For Saturday

Third in the series of trades prizes will be awarded Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p. m. in front of the Ellis Automotive store, when Perryton and Ochiltree county merchants will give away a refrigerated air conditioner. Mrs. C. E. Harrington received the living room suite at the trade day presentation Monday afternoon. Nancy Reitz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Reitz, was selected to participate in the contest for the grand prize, a 1953 Chevrolet automobile. Other prizes to be given away include a radio console, Deepfreeze, electric stove, automatic washer, home freezer and television set. There are 53 merchants participating in the trades day promotion. Full information as to the program may be secured from any merchant who is participating in the program.

Bank Deposits Drop Again

Bank deposits in Perryton dropped another quarter-million dollars on June 30 from the previous bank call on April 30, the statements of the two local institutions reveal. Total deposits on April 30 were $9,046,912.07 and had dropped to $8,710,329.41 on June 30. This is a decline of $336,583 and is an indication of the effect the short wheat crop and drop in cattle prices is having on business conditions locally. The First National Bank had on deposit on June 30, $6,143,633.52 and the Perryton National Bank had on deposit $2,566,695.89. Loans and discounts of the two institutions rose from $3,276,534.43 on April 30 to $3,468,827.61 on June 30.

Crop Insurance Payments Total $600,000 Here

The total payments to farmers under the federal crop insurance program will be approximately $600,000 in Ochiltree county, reports county PMA secretary Elliott Lee. There were 189 farmers and 289 farms covered in the insurance program this year and thus far there have been 20 additional applications, Lee said. New applications must be in before the wheat is sowed, Lee added. Losses on wheat acreage must be reported within 15 days after harvest. Losses are reported by the farmer taking his weight tickets to the PMA office and filling out a loss form. Of the 289 farms covered by federal crop insurance in Ochiltree county, only two failed to collect insurance by harvesting more than 4 bushels per acre on all their seeded acreage, Lee said. One farmer made six bushels and the other seven bushels per acre. All other farmers either lost wheat through drought or blowing, or failed to harvest the required 4 bushel average.

Five Injured In Car Accident at City Intersection

Five persons were injured and two cars damaged in a collision Monday afternoon at the intersection of 4th avenue and S. Drake street. Injured in the wreck were Wayne Gum and Patricia Carter in a Studebaker sedan; Mrs. Buddy Lowe, Mrs. J. J. Keim and Gary Keim in a Pontiac sedan; Mrs. Jack McCartney, a passenger in the Keim car was not injured. Investigating officer Roland Shearer said that the Gum car was traveling west on 4th avenue and the Keim car, with Mrs. Lowe driving, was traveling south on Drake street when the wreck occurred. The Studebaker careened to the left after striking the Pontiac and smashed into a large tree in the front yard of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ellis. Miss Carter, riding in the front seat, was thrown into the windshield and suffered severe cuts and bruises about the head. Gum, the driver, received minor cuts and bruises. Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Keim received numerous bruises as did Gary Keim, small son of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Keim, Jr. All five persons were taken to the Perryton Hospital for treatment. Damage to the two automobiles was estimated in excess of $1,000, Shearer reported.

Francis and O'Connor Score New Comedy Hit

"Francis Covers the Big Town," latest in the popular comedy series highlighting the exploits of Francis, the talking mule, will come to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday, July 14-16.

The comedy, starring Donald O'Connor, combines comedy, melodrama and romance.

Francis turns news tipster in this one, supplying cub reporter O'Connor with the hot "leads" which enable him to become a big-time newspaper man.

The story is jam-packed with laughs right up to the comedy's fadeout when young O'Connor is saved from the electric chair by his mule companion who busts in on a murder trial to prove that the reporter is innocent of a murder charge.

Donald O'Connor's whimsical brand of humor is especially effective for his role of the naive young reporter. And Francis, as usual, brings down the house with his humorous and sometimes stinging oratorical outbursts.

Broadway Star In New Musical

Ray Middleton, one of the outstanding singing stars of stage and screen, returns to films in one of the most brilliant offerings of the season, "I Dream of Jeannie With the Light Brown Hair, Borne Like A Vision on the Summer Air."

Middleton shares co-starring honors with Bill Shirley and Muriel Lawrence.

The picture is about Ray and Jeanie.

The story is about the wartime exploits of the 45th Division and the part they played in winning World War II.

Highlights and Sidelights FROM YOUR CAPITOL

From Washington came a long-range weather forecast that held out hope for the eastern part of the state, with "substantial" moisture from Central Texas eastward.

The outlook for West Texas was dry. There was more and more activity in the political field. Not any time recently has there been so much political maneuvering so early.

The elections are a year away, but three factions are already preparing for the struggle, and individual candidates are going through the usual routine of speechmaking and handshaking.

Paying a visit to the state was Stephen A. Mitchell, Democratic National Chairman, who said he would invite Adlai Stevenson to come here later.

Mitchell asked party members who supported Eisenhower to return to the Democratic fold, and predicted Democratic victories next year.

He forecast that "Sam Rayburn will return to the speakership of the House, and Lyndon Johnson will be majority leader, not minority leader."

But there was evidence that the rift between Eisenhower and Stevenson Democrats was still there.

When the Texas Federation of Labor convened at El Paso, delegates booed when a speaker charged that Governors Shivers of Texas, Thornton of Colorado, and Mechem of New Mexico were "state's righters last year when it was a matter of dough in the pocket, but this year, when it's a matter of drought relief, they're quite willing to be Americans and accept relief from the central government."

Shivers led the Democratic revolt that gave the state to Eisenhower last year. Labor leadership generally was for Stevenson.

Could Mitchell and the other party leaders pull Texas back into line? It was obvious that they were going to work hard to reach that goal.

FIRST DISASTER FEED—W. H. Lackey received the first load of cottonseed meal shipped into Perryton under the disaster aid program for farmers and ranchers. Dale Turner is shown with the load which was received Tuesday. Over 50 applications for the government feed were received Monday and Tuesday at the PMA office.

And it was equally clear that the Republicans were going to fight them every inch of the way. They hoped to make out-right party members of the Democrats who voted for Eisenhower, and they planned to put up candidates for every elective office.

It was easy to make one prediction: the Texas political battles of next year are going to be big and bitter.

If Governor Shivers had party politics on his mind he didn't say so in his speech to the state bar convention in Fort Worth.

His remarks concerned liberty on the national and international level.

Americans, he said, are the best in the world at selling soap and television sets, and we've got to sell liberty like we sell soap.

Shivers added: "We haven't sold liberty at home or abroad. We tried to buy it abroad, but this hasn't worked and it never will."

The political experts were bound to make their interpretations of the speech.

Did it mean that Shivers would run for a national office next year?

The governor has said that he might make the race for a third term as the state's chief executive.

But then, again, he might not. Your guess is as good as any: if Shivers has decided what he is going to do, he has confided in no one.

And if we can judge by past performance, he won't say a word about his intentions until the deadline gets here.

There was a bit of shuffling around as a result of one of the governor's appointments.

Weldon Hart, one of Shivers' executive assistants, is now chairman and executive director of the Texas Employment Commission, one of the state's biggest departments.

Hart, a former newspaperman of wide experience, served as secretary of the State Democratic Executive Committee. He had a prominent part in sending an uninstruced delegation to the national Democratic convention.

Later he was active in the Democrats for Eisenhower campaign.

In his new office, Hart succeeds Harry Bengtson, a former newspaperman who announced that he would go into the public relations business with Joe Hiltchcock and Hugh Williamson in Austin.

Hart's old job as executive assistant to the governor will be filled by Earl Braley, Austin public relations man who worked for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal.

Both the state and federal governments get a lot of money from taxes on alcoholic beverages.

Coke R. Stevenson Jr., administrator of the Texas Liquor Control Board, reported that a new high in receipts was registered for May of this year: $1,391,589.

The state's revenues from taxes on alcoholic beverages will run above $19 million for this calendar year.

And the federal government's excise taxes on alcoholic beverages are higher than the state's.

Old age assistance checks started going out on schedule, although it looked for a while as though there might be a delay.

The federal part of the fund was in doubt, but Congress quickly passed a resolution extending the old appropriation until a new one could be passed.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Flowers and son of Fort Worth are guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Flowers and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bowles of Gray, Oklahoma.

Mrs. Zeb Williams of Snyder, formerly of Perryton, visited friends in Perryton over the week end.

Persons interested in bidding for the construction job of building the center partition at the Veterans Memorial Building, Perryton, Texas, may secure plans and specifications at the Chamber of Commerce office, Perryton, Texas. A contract will be awarded on July 20.

The 400 Club Veterans Memorial Building Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ward and children Randy and Gay Nell of Ft. Worth were guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. Sam K. Hill, the past two weeks. Mrs. Ward returned home Friday. Randy and Gay Nell will spend the summer with their grandparents.

Public Relations Lesson

HOUSTON (AP)—Management and public relations men for industry are going to have "to tell the truth and tell it in time" if they want to bring their side before the public in labor disputes, a Texas editor declares. J. Q. Mahaffey, editor of the Texarkana Gazette, in addressing a public relations forum here, said that some of the poorest jobs of public relations on the part of American businesses are done in the field of labor relations.

Business can learn a lesson from labor in newspaper relations, Mahaffey told the forum.

"When labor trouble breaks, the pickets appear and the reporter inevitably bobs up. The head man for labor immediately calls in the press and gives them the story. He not only gives the story, he promises to keep the reporters advised of developments and sure enough he does."

"The editor wants to know where the management side of the story is and the reporter says he can't get it. Then the editor calls up the head of the company himself and tells him the story as he has it so far."

"The president of the company then wants to know why his old friend the editor wants to fall for a big lie like that and the editor says 'Well, what are the facts, what is the truth?' The company president says the editor better talk to the company lawyers. Well, you know the answer from the company lawyers: 'Batten down the hatches, boys, close all the windows, plug all the keyholes, because we don't try our cases in the news-

GOLF POINTERS—4 Save Strokes On Approach

SHORT PITCH SHOT

(This is the last of four articles on Golf Pointers as written by Tommy Armour, pro at Florida's famous Boca Raton course. Armour, who has won the US and British Opens, recently wrote "How to Play Your Best Golf All the Time"—Simon and Schuster.)

By TOMMY ARMOUR

Newsfeatures
Seldom will you see a high handicap player making good approach shots from off the fringe of the green to about 100 yards out. This area separates the men from the boys.

The player who recognizes that he must devote his head and hands to improving his short game sees the right route to lower scores. Most golfers want to hit the ball farther than across Texas, but they are reluctant to attend to the cultivation of skill in the department where they can offset previous poor shots.

Short Game Means Money
The pros master the short game because they want money. The elderly amateurs get the short game rather well polished because they have seen from years of experience that the sharp-shooter within the approaching range can more than counterbalance the attack of a longer-hitting opponent.

The short shot pitched over a bunker is the most important stroke-saving shot in the game, outside of the long putt. The pitch shot onto the green is usually played with a 9 iron or a flanged niblick, commonly called the wedge. The club is gripped lower down on the leather than you usually hold an iron.

No Body Action

The shot is played from an open stance with the feet close together. This stance makes it easier for you to stand still and play the shot with the hands. There is no body action in this shot.

The ball is played almost equidistant between the feet, but a little back towards the right foot.

In addressing and making this shot, remember to keep the hands well in front of the ball. Be sure to have your weight definitely on the left foot. Your weight must not shift from there during the shot.

Hit the short shots firmly, crisply.

If you hit down at the short pitch shot, the club will give you all the backspin you need.

This short pitch and all other precision shots are to be played without haste. The "One-Two-WAIT-Three" count on timing will help you to get rhythm in the approach shots.

The National Geographic Society estimates that 1,500 miles of dikes guard the Netherlands against invasion by the sea.

Belated Flood Report

HONG KONG UP—The Chinese Communist news agency belatedly announced recently that a storm on Sept. 24 hit the Central Yangtse area, flooding 40,000 acres, collapsing 28 dams and affecting 100,000 persons.

The report raised speculation here because this is the vulnerable mid-Yangtse-Tungting Lake region where the Chinese Reds claimed they had eliminated flood danger by an elaborate system of dikes, dams and impounding basins.

When the Reds announced completion of the project last spring, engineers here said the type of flood-control job described would require up to five years to complete. The Reds said they did it in three months, using "improved Russian methods."

Gal Collects From Fiance

SYDNEY, Australia (UP)—A year-old girl plans to marry a man from whom she won $600 damages for a road accident.

She was a passenger in the car when it overturned. Her legs were a fractured skull and scalp wound which caused loss of part of her left ear. She admitted under cross-examination that she became engaged after the accident.

Old Folks Homes Licensed Under New State Law

AUSTIN, Texas—The State Department of Health moved this week to make sure that all nursing and convalescent homes in Texas are looking after the health and safety of their elderly residents.

Acting under authority granted by the last legislature, the health department mailed licensing application forms to several hundred operators, all of whom must now conform to humane standards of operation or close their doors.

As state health officer, Dr. Geo. W. Cox is administrator of the new licensing law. These are its terms:

Any establishment which provides food and shelter to four or more persons unrelated to the proprietor, and which provides services which meet some need beyond basic provisions of food and shelter and laundry, must apply for an operation license from the State Department of Health.

Hospitals, hotels and similar institutions are not included. Nor are homes conducted by or for adherents of a religious order who depend exclusively on prayer or spiritual means for healing.

Application fees have been set by the legislature at $25 per year, plus $1 for each bed maintained by the home. Fees will be applied to paying administrative costs of the law.

The health agency has the authority to make inspections on homes and to revoke licenses for shoddy operation. Home operators can file grievance complaints in district court in any instance of unfair or arbitrary treatment by the administrators of the law.

Dr. Cox, outspokenly in favor of the licensing law as a method of insuring proper treatment of elderly people in nursing homes, says "some homes in this state are little more than fire traps."

"This is one condition we hope to eliminate. We will not tolerate unscrupulous persons in the nursing home profession, not when the health and safety of disabled old folks are at stake."

BIRTH OF A LAKE—The reservoir site constructed for Lake Stamford, near Stamford, Texas, welcomed its first supply of water from flooding tributaries after heavy rains overflowed the southeastern Haskell county area and sent the water gushing into the basin. The lake, bony dry until Tuesday, eventually will supply water to Stamford and Hamlin and to the new West Texas Utilities Co., generating plant. (AP)

LETTERS from READERS

Dear Editor:

I appreciate very much your recent editorial favoring price supports for farm products.

Certainly I favor price supports for all farm products and I know that with supports there must be allotments to keep down overproduction of the supported product.

Oil companies lobbied for "oil allowances" of so much per well so that they would not over produce. You never hear of stock piles of steel, which is considered the basis of our economy.

It isn't necessary that farmers always be the "scrapgoats" for governmental failures. If we awoke people to the fact that farming is the greatest gamble in the world at best and a tragedy when you produce and cannot sell at a fair price.

Since time began the "tillet of the soil" has been the most poverty stricken of all people. This would and is not necessary if the farmer can have laws protecting him that protect the railroads, the munitions manufacturer, the labor organizations, commercial air lines and almost all other industry.

In my opinion supports and allotments will do more to stabilize our economy and keep a depression from our doors than anything else.

Yours truly,
Marvin Montgomery

Attends Wheat Allotment Meet

Elliott Lee, county PMA secretary, is in Dumas today for an area meeting of PMA administrators where latest information on wheat allotments and marketing quotas will be revealed.

Marketing quotas and wheat allotments for the 1954 crop have been declared by Secretary of Agriculture Benson, but no date for the farmer election on marketing quotas has been set.

Under the present law, a wheat acreage reduction of about 30 percent must be made for 1954. Sen. Hope of Kansas has introduced a bill which will raise this to a 15 percent reduction.

The ballots and election supplies for the farmer election have been received at the local PMA office, but the date is still uncertain.

Commercial Exhibit Space at Fair Is Now Available

Applications are being received for commercial exhibit space at the North Plains Fair, according to secretary John Mayfield. Most of the exhibitors who had space last year have indicated that they would want to reserve space again.

Price of commercial exhibit space is $30 for small spaces and $50 for large spaces inside the Veterans Memorial Building. This price covers all three days and utilities are furnished by the association.

Machinery exhibit space outside the building may be secured for $30 per dealer, with a limit of four units of machinery to each space.

Mayfield said he expected several additional exhibits this year, especially in the irrigation business. Several out-of-town dealers have inquired as to space for exhibiting pumps, motors, pipe and other irrigation articles. Local dealers handling irrigation supplies are expected to be represented at the fair.

Commercial exhibit space may be reserved at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Water District Meeting Set At Spearman

A meeting of vital importance to farmers of this area will be held Tuesday night, June 14, in the county courtroom in Spearman.

The meeting, called to secure information about water districts, will feature Tom McFarlan, head of the South Plains Underground Water District, and Bill Broadhurst, engineer for the same district.

The agriculture committee of the Ochiltree County Chamber of Commerce has already done some study about water districts and has learned, among other things, that it is time for farmers of this area to set up their own water district or the state will set one up for them.

A water district has the power to allocate irrigation wells, checks the water tables, and acts as a control agent over irrigation pumping in an area.

The C. C. agriculture committee plans to attend the Spearman meeting Tuesday night. Any farmer or rancher of this area is invited to attend.

Sentenced On Assault Charge

W. Q. Thomas was sentenced to 90 days in jail and assessed a $100 fine in county court Tuesday morning by county judge Howard Slaughter after pleading guilty to a charge of aggravated assault.

Thomas was arrested at his home Friday night by deputy sheriff John Edwards who had been summoned by Mrs. Thomas. She told Edwards that Thomas had beaten her.

Investigation uncovered a stowaway litter of baby fox. Cafe proprietor Jack Collins adopted the animals.

THE DROUGHT SITUATION:

The members of the Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico Delegations in Congress have been working almost 24 hours a day trying to bring about effective relief for the drought stricken areas. Several of the Congressional districts in Texas have not been stricken, but the members from these districts have worked right along side those of us whose districts are in this disaster area.

We are all deeply grateful for this fine work and for the recognition and action taken by the President and members of his official family in moving forward to combat this tragedy. I expressed our grateful appreciation in a short speech to the Congress on Tuesday, June 30th. I expressed to the President and members of his official family our appreciation for the fine spirit in which this tremendous task has been undertaken.

I was requested to make a short recording to be broadcast to the nations overseas on this subject. In doing so, I pointed out the fine cooperation that has always prevailed among the people of our country when disaster strikes, in giving priority to bringing relief to the stricken areas. I closed the statement by telling the people that we all thanked God that we lived in the United States and under our form of government.

When the disaster situation began to reach such tremendous proportions, it became very obvious that there were some who wanted to play politics with the misery of these stricken people. It is my firm belief that these nefarious schemes were nipped in the bud by President Eisenhower.

Although it is difficult to see how good can come out of such a thing as a devastating drought, there seems to be a general sentiment among the Members of Congress that some program should be worked out on a permanent basis to avoid, or at least soften, the terrific blow that is struck by such an occurrence. The chances are that some permanent legislation will be adopted with which to fight these problems in the future.

NEW HIGH SALARIED GOVERNMENT POSITIONS: During the past several months there has been created in the government one new secretaryship at a yearly salary of $22,500, two new under-secretaries at $17,000 a year, one new managing director at $17,500, and one new deputy director at $16,000 per year. The House on June 30th approved a new assistant secretary for the Post Office Department at a salary of $15,000.

Bills are presently pending to create four new assistant secretaries of Defense. The salaries for these jobs would be approximately $15,000 to $17,500 per year.

An interesting colloquy took place on the floor of the House during the debate on the new assistant to the Post Office Department, Congressman Dowdy, of East Texas, had the floor and was asked by Congressman Bender, of Ohio, the following question: "Is the gentleman aware of the fact that in the Defense Department alone, as a result of the creation of these new secretaries, over 60,000 people have been fired, which is pretty much the case in all the other departments of Government?"

Congressman Dowdy's reply was as follows: "According to the reports I have, in many number of people employed decreased by 20,000. Yet salaries that month increased million dollars, although no people were fired."

FEPC: It was announced one Member of Congress for this letter was written the White House intends to set up an FEPC for the purpose screening employees in organizations holding defense or government contracts to see that no discrimination is practiced. This Congressman stated that such a commission would put a stop to what he called a discriminatory practice on the part of the Department of the Navy.

New Dental Filling Developed

NEW YORK (AP)—A new dental filling material that does not need heat to harden, does not dissolve or waste away, and is said to be the biggest advance in dentistry in half a century. These plastic materials, as self-curing or hardening resins, are still in the experimental stage. Dr. George C. Paffenbarger, chief of the American Dental Association research at the National Bureau of Standards, says that "not since cements were introduced years ago has any material such an impact on dentistry."

One defect of the new material is that at present it does not have the decay-preventing property of the silicate filling, Dr. Paffenbarger says. Research is underway to correct this deficiency.

New processes have been developed to use lignite, a grade coal, for cheap generation of electricity.

Our Terrible Thirst

If your town doesn't have to worry about its water supply, you're lucky. A lot of towns do.

Trouble is, some communities never dreamed that they might double and triple in size, that new industries would come to town, that citizens would use more water than ever before. We've reached the point where we use about 1100 gallons per person a day in the United States.

Yet why should water be short when 25 times our needs falls from the skies every year?

Unhappily, it doesn't always fall when and where we need it most. Many reservoirs were built with no idea that towns would grow so fast. And 75% of our communities rely on water from lakes and streams. Today many of these are polluted and require treatment before use.

When faced with a shortage, cities suddenly discover to their sorrow that new water sources take time to complete.

For years General Electric has contributed toward development of better and more efficient water-works equipment. This is not so unusual, since motors and other electric equipment are important in water systems, large or small.

Some of the things we've learned about water supply, and the related problem of water pollution, have been put together in motion pictures and booklets, prepared in cooperation with the U. S. Public Health Service. Any town fathers who are interested in what's available can write to General Electric, Room 123-2, Schenectady 5, N. Y.

The only convertible that outsells Ford!

WHAT IS IT that makes Ford's Sunliner America's best seller? Is it its high-compression V-8 power? (No other convertible in Ford's field has this kind of engine.) Is it the fine craftsmanship of its Crestmark Body? (No body in its field can match Ford's choice of exterior and interior color combinations.) Is it its new spring and shock absorber action which makes even roughest roads feel smooth? (The Sunliner's springs are tailored to its weight.) Is it the choice of Fordomatic, Overdrive or Conventional you get? (You won't find such a choice in any other car in Ford's field.) No, it's not just any one of these things that make Ford America's largest-selling convertible. It's all 41 of Ford's "Worth More" features... features which folks know make Ford worth more when they buy it, worth more when they sell it.

How Does Your Town Rate?

Several times previously this column has run a list of what towns must have if they are to attract industry and people. Now comes the Missouri Department of Resources and Development, listing forty musts to attract industry.

These community items, this newspaper believes, can be adopted universally and not only prove beneficial to the "show me" state. The Missouri agency suggests a town should be able to score "yes" on at least three-fourths of these before it is ready to seek new industrial concerns.

- Here they are:
- Most high school graduates remain in town.
- Getting a loan on a sound business venture is easy.
- The local paper constantly pushes civic improvements.
- There's a chamber of commerce with a livewire manager.
- Local speeders pay the same fines as out-of-towners.
- There's a place to swim within easy reach.
- Young couple have little trouble finding a place to live.
- The head of your government is a "get-things-done" man.
- The town entrances are free from junk, shacks and billboards.
- Teachers' salaries are better than the state average.
- There's at least one doctor per 800 people in your county.
- There's a library with a good collection of recent books.
- Newcomers quickly feel they're part of the town.
- Schools have plenty of room for students.
- Fire insurance rates are low for your type of town.
- Service, veterans' and women's club team up on projects.
- There is an active well-organized Boy Scout troop.
- A modern hospital is within your trading area.
- All streets are paved and sidewalks are in good shape.
- Well-stocked stores keep shoppers in town.
- There's a hotel or motel you'd enjoy if you were a visitor.
- It's easy to find parking space in the business section.
- At least one restaurant serves outstanding meals.
- The sewer extension program keeps pace with new housing.
- It's easy to get volunteers for any worthwhile project.
- Public toilets are provided for farm folk shopping in town.
- Prompt, reasonably-priced ambulance service is available.
- Good zoning keeps factories away from residential areas.
- There's an annual Clean-up. Paint-up. Fix-up week.
- Streets throughout the community are well-lighted.
- More than half the church congregations are under 40 years old.
- Shade trees line nearly all the streets.
- There's an ample supply of drinking water.
- There's a recreation center where young people can dance.
- The business section has a modern, prosperous look.
- There's as much interest in local as national elections.
- The tax rate is attractive to industry.
- There's a community council to guide progress.
- There is an active Parent-Teacher Assn.
- Firemen take regular training courses.
- How does your town rate on the basis of these factors?

Veteran Investment

A recapitulation by the Veterans Administration shows that on the whole, the investment in the veterans of World War II through the Bill of Rights, has been worthwhile.

This bill extended educational and training grants and loan privileges to men with the idea of offsetting loss incident to military duty in war.

While only a percentage of the veterans took advantage of the bill, there were 7.8 million men who used some education and training privileges and 3 million have obtained GI home loans. The total cost has been $18.2 billion during the past nine years.

GI aid has enabled many veterans to secure education and training which otherwise would have been denied.

Veteran loans have totaled about $20.3 billion. More than 500,000 loans have been paid in full, and the government has suffered loss in only eight-tenths of 1 per cent of the total number.

That record should explode the pacifist contention that military duty is demoralizing the youth of the nation.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

While spending the July 4 week-end with our parents in Amarillo, we saw our first 3-D motion picture Saturday, a little jewel called "The Charge at Powder River," at the Paramount Theatre. This was the kind of picture where they soak you a buck and throw in a pair of cardboard colored glasses which make the screen take on the third dimension, depth.

Frankly, our opinion is that the movie industry had better cast about for some other gimmick to battle the television threat which seems to have Hollywood in such a panic. We enjoyed the movie, it was a right high class shoot-em-up, and the scenery was beautiful. The hero was a clean liver, fearless and brave and all the Indians were rascals, as they should be. But the 3-D part of the picture was little different from the flat kind except for the novelty.

When the characters started throwing things, and the director arranged it so they did quite often, the audience ducked because the knife or arrow seemed to come right off the screen into space, headed your way. The first time or so, this was thrilling, but the novelty soon wore off.

From what we had been reading lately, we supposed that this 3-D thing was the answer to television in cities where they have TV. But there was plenty of space in the Paramount theatre in Amarillo last Saturday—no trouble at all to buy a ticket and walk right in for the first showing of the picture. We suspect that most folks were home looking at television.

Read an ad in the Guyton News-Herald last week which keeps bothering us. This "Furr Food advertisement had "Perryton Fryers" listed for 48 cents a pound. Now, what in the world are Perryton Fryers? Do we have some special kind of chicken around here for which Perryton is famous? If so, we don't know about it! So, let's capitalize on it more. Who can enlighten us on this?

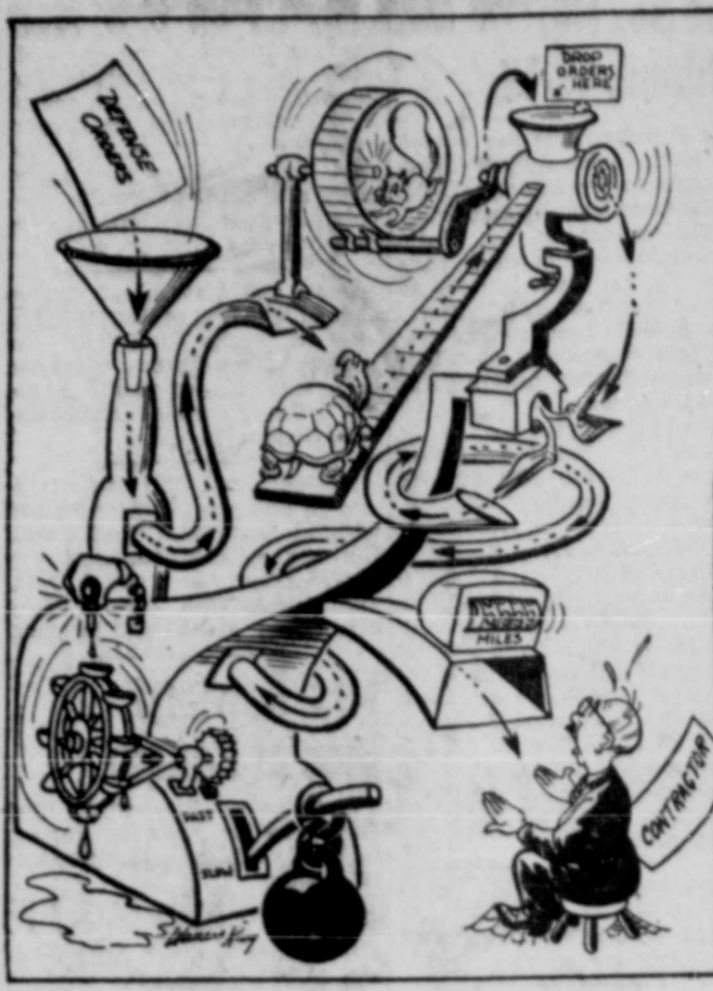

A girl is something a girl wears to hold in the wrong places when she's going to the right places.

Letters—we never finished reading department: "If you've never stared into the ruby red eyes of a woman-eating crocodile at midnight in the Darien Jungle, you've really never lived," from the publicity department of Braniff Airways.

During the past few months we have returned several advertising orders to unknown firms or individuals, due to the fact such advertising did not measure up to our requirements. Most were along the same line, "Earn money in spare time addressing envelopes," etc. An inquiry to one of the ads brought the information that for the small sum of one dollar we would be told how to get started in business, selling a practically worthless item through direct mail solicitation.

That's where the "addressing envelopes" part of the promotion fits into the scheme. The Herald tries to protect its readers by refusing all advertising of a suspicious nature. We have turned many dubious advertising orders over to the Texas Press Association, with headquarters at Austin, and have learned through our state association of various "grafts" and "gyps" that are currently touring the state.

We had always supposed that a prison would-be a pretty easy place to quit drinking, but apparently the problems of alcoholics goes deeper than we think. In "The Echo," official newspaper of the Texas Prison System at Huntsville, there are two regular Alcoholics Anonymous columns, both appearing every week with help for the alcoholics.

When a girl strokes a man's forehead, you can bet she's after his scalp.

We received an interesting item in the mail the other day from some kind of health outfit regarding driving habits. Said one good way to relieve pains in the legs or back, caused by long hours of driving a car, is to get out of the car and walk around pigeon-toed. Keep knees stiff and back straight. The pigeon-toed walk produces a pull across the lowest part of the back, and this pull does the trick in bringing relief. We tried it, and it seems to work, too.

Proving that there is no end to the variety of miscellaneous knowledge a person can soak up in the newspaper business. We're the target for a truck load of various missiles that come through the mail and we just have to open every piece of mail for fear that by some strange chance, there might be a check which we may overlook. In the process of reading such assorted communications, some of it has to stick with you.

An optimist says times are ripe; a pessimist says times are rotten.

Words Don't Affect Any Depression

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher seems to be dealing in words this week, of which he has an inexhaustible supply.)

Dear editor:
I do not like to talk about hard times, there is a school of thought in this country which says mention of the word depression should be banned from public discussion, that it's sort of like yellin fire in a crowded theatre, but I am not a member of that school.

In the first place, I do not consider times hard now, except where it's dry or two cattlemen are gathered together and I figure it's pretty difficult to have a depression when things keep goin higher and higher, with the exception of course of cattle, and in the second place, I do not believe anybody can talk this country into a depression any more than he can talk it out of one in case one shows up. This country is not so shaky that a few idle words can move it in any direction and neither am I, and on top of that I know I have never had to consult anybody to find out for myself whether times were good or bad. A man who don't know whether times are good or bad, he's in pretty bad shape to start with.

Therefore, I was considerably amused the other day when I picked up a copy of a newspaper which somebody had used to lie on while he put a jack under his car to fix a flat, I was aimin to get down there and help him change it but when I woke up after a short nap under a shade tree he was gone, and read where a big city real estate man was hoppin mad because a farmer in East Texas had predicted a depression worse than the one we had before was on the way.

"What does that farmer know about such things?" he demanded, claimin the farmer ought to be silenced, and since nobody in his audience apparently answered him, I will.

That farmer doesn't know a thing about such matters.

But I would like to hasten to add, I don't mind hastenin as long as it's just to add something and you can do it without leavin the shade, that that farmer however is not by himself. There's a lot of real estate men in the same boat, along with a lot of other people.

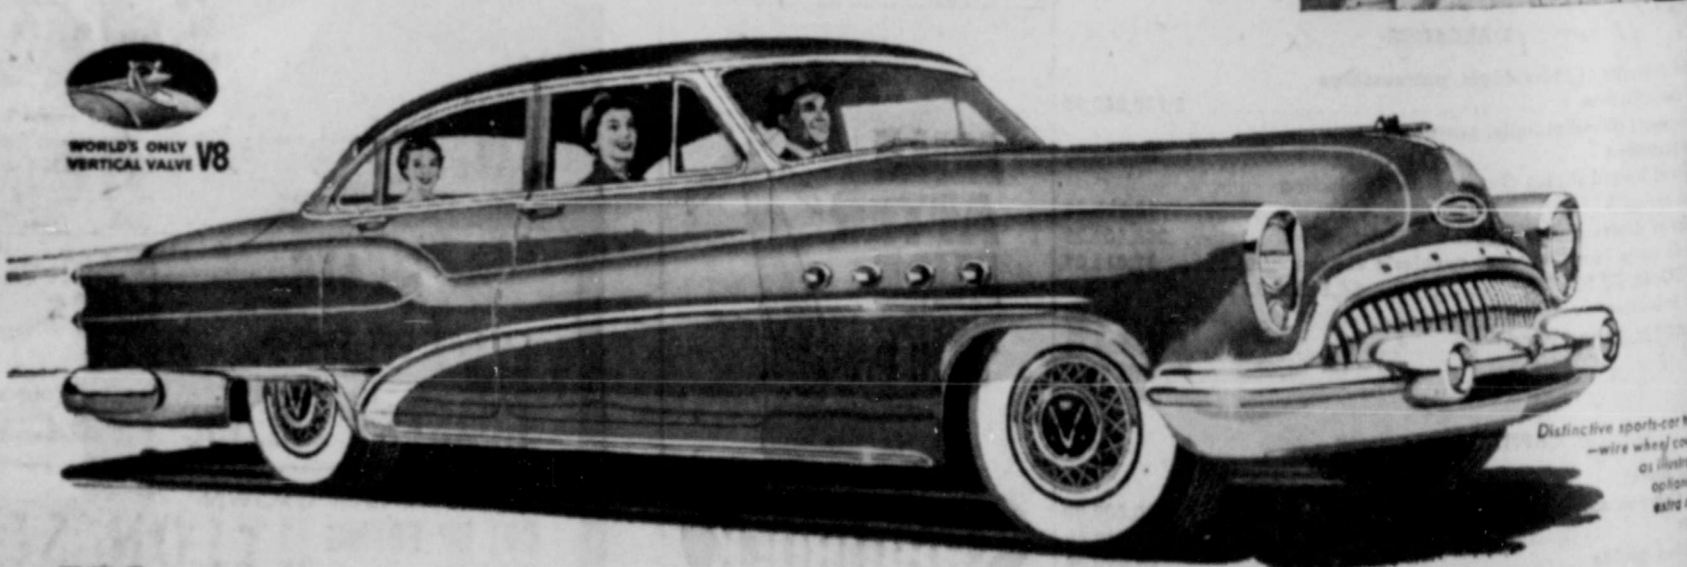

The way I see it, there ain't hardly anybody who knows what times are gonna be like next year or the year after. We got lots of experts who can tell pretty satisfactorily what happened last year or the year before or ten years ago, but when it comes to knowin how business is gonna be twelve months from now, most experts, when you corner em, are busy doin something else.

Personally, I'm in favor of discussion. The man who around tellin himself he's gonna be good forever is the same as the man in prison who goes around sayin he's gonna be here for life. Regardless of how it seems, women ain't gonna talk to stay dry forever, but in places and with some women gettin close to it.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Sumpter Named Bond Chairman In Ochiltree County

F. B. Sumpter of The Sumpter Insurance Agency, Perryton, Texas has been appointed Ochiltree County Savings Bonds Chairman, it was announced today. He succeeds the late Van W. Stewart. The appointment was made by Nathan Adams of Dallas, State Savings Bonds Chairman. Sumpter will be in charge of all phases of promotion for U. S. Savings Bonds in the county. As county chairman, he joins a statewide volunteer organization whose efforts are a contribution to public service. In accepting the appointment, he said that U.

S. Savings Bonds give every son who buys them an opportunity to help both himself and country during this period of grave national crisis. "This nation again is engaged upon a program of progress and defense, and the continued sale of U. S. Savings Bonds is a vital part of the defense program," he said. "The sale of Savings Bonds provides money to feed and equip our armed forces and also helps curb inflation. At the same time, people who buy and hold Savings Bonds now will build themselves a reserve of money that will come in mighty aid in future years."

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Miller, and Mike of Lubbock, guests of her parents, Mrs. J. D. Johnson, from the day of last week until Saturday.
