Time Magazine Editor Identifies More U. S. 'Reds'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UP)—A former Communist today named three one-time leading New Dealers as members of a prewar Communist underground here whose aim was to get Reds on the federal payroll for espionage purposes.

Whittaker Chambers, now a senior editor of Time Magazine, told the House Un-American Activities Committee the underground's long-range goal was "overthrowing the government (at the opportune time) by any and all means."

Chambers, who said he quit the Communist Party in 1937 at the risk of his life, named among members of the underground:

Alger Hiss, former chief of the State Department's Office of Special Affairs. Hiss was secretary-general at the United Nations' founding conference in San Francisco in 1935. He attended the Roosevelt-Stalin-Churchill conference at Yalta.

Lee Pressman, former general counsel of the Works Progress Administration. He later was CIO general counsel until CIO President Philip Murray forced him out because of his left wing views. He helped to organize Henry A. Wallace's Progressive Party.

Nathan Witt, former executive secretary of the National Labor Relations Board. Witt left the NLRB in 1939 after nearly four years.

Chambers was summoned before the House committee to add details to the picture of Communist espionage here supplied last week by Miss Elizabeth T. Bentley.

Chambers said the underground when he first knew it here was composed of seven cells. The cells were headed by Pressman, Donald Hiss, Alger Hiss, Victor Perlo, Charles Kramer, John Abt, and Henry Collins, he said. The overall "apparatus," he added, was headed "at first" by Witt.

Committee counsel Robert Stripling identified the seven alleged cell leaders as officials or employes of New Deal government agencies at various periods during the 1930's.

Extra Old Timers' Stories Are Printed

The eighth group of stories which would have appeared in the huge 60th anniversary section had there been the room, appears inside today under the heading "Old Settlers Copy."

Persons wishing to keep their 60th edition of The Index will find that clipping and saving these frequent additions will provide them with even more information concerning local firms, organizations, indiduals and old time stories of Childress.

Other stories appeared in the editions of July 16, 18, 20, 21, 26, and August 1 and 2.

Lions Club Hears Memphis Pastor Speak Today

Rev. Clifton Tennison, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Memphis, and J. O. Strawther, his associate, presented the program at the Lions Club today.

Rev. Tennison selected as the subject of his address "The American Way" and based his remarks on an address by J. C. Penney before a service club.

"Mr. Penney prided himself in the heritage of his preacher-father," said the speaker, "and stated that his accomplishment in the field of merchandising was only possible because of American way of life."

Rev. Tennison gave examples of people in history who "sold out" their freedom for security and took a stand against a government which would deprive its citizens of complete freedom.

A vocal solo was sung by Rev. Strawther. He was accompanied on the piano by Joan Dakil.

Lion President Presley Wright, just back from Lions International in New York City, presided over the meeting.

Guests were Dr. R. L. Holmes, Boley Green, Beryl Clinton and Max Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Powell, who went to New York aboard a special Lions bus, will arrive with the bus at the drug store at 5 p. m. today. Wright asked all Lions to meet the bus when it arrived.

Mrs. Howard's immediate survivors are Riley Eudey, Robert Eudey and Mrs. Willie Weatherbee of Childress; Jim Eudey of Fort Worth; Leonard Eudey of Dallas; C. M. Eudey of McClain; and Joe Eudey of Ashland, Ore.

X-RAY UNIT TO BE HERE FOR FIVE DAYS

The mass chest X-ray unit will be here an additional day, Mrs. W. E. Davis, Christmas Seal Sales chairman here for several years, reported this morning.

Five days, beginning at 8 a. m. Tuesday, August 17, will be used to make X-rays, Mrs. Davis said.

The unit will be placed in the City Hall where pictures can be made each of the five days from 8 a. m.

A particular invitation is offered the school children above 15 and adults from outlying districts to come to Childress and take advantage of this service, Mrs. Davis emphasized.

"It is not a charity plan," she continued, "for it has been paid for by citizens through taxes and their purchase of Christmas seals."

It was through the efforts of Dr. J. H. Jernigan, city health officer, and the TB committee of the Woman's Department Club that the unit is being brought here. Upon completion of its work here, it will continue on to Wellington, Memphis and Clarendon, Mrs. Davis said.

The Texas Public Health Service of Austin and the Four-County Medical Association are putting the unit on its state tour.

There is no charge for taking the X-rays, Dr. Jernigan pointed out, and it is not necessary to disrobe.

Some Rain Hits In Panhandle

By United Press

The Panhandle and some other western Texas areas got needed rains today, but the rest of the state had to settle for partly cloudy skies and temeperatures not so torrid as they might be in mid-summer.

Only four weather stations reported 100 degree-or-better tops yesterday afternoon, and Victoria's 102 was the highest of these. At Marfa and Guadalupe Pass, the mercury never got beyond 87 yesterday.

Overnight, Pampa, in the Panhandle, cooled to a comfortable 60.

The weather bureau said the outlook for the next 24 hours was about the same.

A "line squall" hit in the Panhandle early today, bringing .95-inch of rain to Amarillo. Clarendon had a quarter-inch and Pampa had .20.

Rain also fell at El Paso, which had .66 inch, and Brownsville, which got. 14.

Holland Rites Are Set For Today

Final rites for James Daniel (Jim) Holland, 58, will be held at 5 this afternoon in the First Baptist Church with Rev. W. H. Colson and Ira Parrack officiating. Burial will be in the Childress Cemetery by the Newberry Funeral Home.

Nephews will be pallbearers and nieces will comprise the flower committee. Holland died here yesterday morning.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN TO MEET AT 8 TONIGHT

The Childress volunteer fire department will meet at 8 tonight in the fire house for a regular meeting, John Ballew, fire chief, said today.

There are approximately 8,000,000 acres of national forest land in New Mexico.

South's Filibuster Still Intact; GOP To Quit Saturday

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., O., conceded today that it would be "absolutely impossible" to break the southern anti-poll tax filibuster. But Republican Senate leaders shooting for Saturday adjournment of the special session, scheduled a Senate meeting tonight to dispose of other items.

Taft told reporters after a meeting of the GO policy committee that it would be impossibleP to smash the "Dixiecrats" talkathon without amending Senate rules. That would be impossible until next year, he said.

But the GOP leaders said the Senate will be held in session until 10 tonight in an effort to clear the decks for limited action on high prices and housing.

The Republican policy leaders called a conference of all GOP senators tomorrow to discuss their tentative plans to tighten up on credit inflation, pass a modified long-range housing bill and adjourn for the year on Saturday.

Taft indicated that serious consideration is being given to a temporary truce on civil rights with the southerners.

The conference tomorrow, he said, will consider action on a constitutional amendment outlawing the poll tax as a voting requisite in federal elections.

A constitutional amendment, requiring ratification by three-quarters of the states, would replace the current proposal to eliminate the poll tax by federal statute.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., leader of the Dixie filibuster, told a reporter there already has been considerable discussion of such a compromise in the poll tax fight. He said it would be acceptable to states' rights southerners.

Senate and House leaders all but buried President Truman's sweeping anti-inflation program at a meeting late yesterday.

Draft Boards May Register At Many Places

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (UP)—Full authority to set up as many registration points as they think necessary will be given local members of Texas selective service boards, Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, state director, said today.

The procedure in carrying out registration from August 30 through September 18 was contained in instructions sent to members of the state's 137 local boards.

General Berry added that the main consideration in establishing these points should be the public convenience.

This system, he said, is in contrast to the 1940 registration, when the process was geared to the election system and completed in one day. The 1948 registration will require 17 working days.

The first registration will begin with 25-year-olds on August 30 and end with the signing of 18-year-olds on September 17-18.

AMERICAN LEGION INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS TONIGHT

The American Legion and their Auxiliary will meet at the Veterans Building at 8 tonight to install officers, Alton Ryan, post commander said this morning.

Ice cream and cake will be served following the installation.

EAST-WEST SEE TROUBLE WITH BERLIN POLICE

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (UP)—East-West friction boiled up in Berlin's divided police department today when the chief of the western sectors accused his Communist adversary of arresting four non-Communist officers including one policewoman.

Johannes Stumm, newly appointed non-Communist chief, demanded the release at once of the four officers who he said were seized by the Communist-controlled police department based in the Soviet sector.

Stumm telegraphed his demand to Paul Markgraf, Moscow-trained chief whose refusal to accept his dismissal by the city council split the police department between the Soviet and western sectors.

Stumm charged that the Soviet-controlled police, on Markgraf's orders, arrested the four when they visited the old headquarters to seek some administrative records. Stumm has established his headquarters in the U. S. sector.

Stumm said the case would be turned over to the state's attorney.

Markgraf's headquarters, claiming to be the only legal police agency for Berlin, published paid advertisements in Soviet-licensed newspapers detailing procedure for getting inter-zonal passes for German travel between Berlin and western Germany.

The regulations were such as to make it virtually impossible for any German to get a pass. At the same time the procedure would give the Russians a complete file on the applicant.

German civilians rebelled against the Communist-dominated police who tried to make arrests in the Soviet sector, and one officer was injured.

Boycott Forces Wholesale Meat Prices Downward

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (UP)— A consumer's boycott reduced wholesale meat sales to the lowest level in months at New York today and hog prices in the Midwest receded from yesterday's all-time highs.

Despite the buyers' strike and slump in sales, prices generally remained unchanged, Department of Agriculture officials at Chicago reported. Traders said stiffening consumer resistance had halted yesterday's slight price rally.

Hogs sold 50 cents a hundred pounds lower at the leading midwestern markets today. But they hit a a top of $31 a hundredweight at Chicago, only 10 cents below yesterday's all-time high, and stayed at record or near record levels at Indianapolis and St. Louis.

Some housewives said if retailers raised prices even more, as predicted, they would buy even less meat.

At New York, Mayor William O'Dwyer urged the nation's mayors to "demand immediate action by Congress on the urgent problems of high prices and housing."

At Washington, Chairman Jesse P. Wolcott, R., Mich., said he would introduce a bill requiring all banks, whether members of the federal reserve system or not, to keep more money on hand. The bill is designed to tighten credits, and cut purchasing power.

IOOF TO GO TO SHAMROCK

Members of the local chapter of the IOOF will go to Shamrock Monday night to give degrees, J. C. Roper said this morning.

Roper requested the members to meet at the hall at 6:30 to make the trip by chartered bus.

Tanks, Bayonets Used To Quell Ohio Strikers

DAYTON, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—National guards used a Sherman tank, armored cars, bayonets and tear gas today to break a crowd that surged up to the gates of the strike-bound Univis Lens Co. plant as some employes began going back to work.

A crowd estimated at some 400 men and women who had been booing the non-strikers, broke through a line of Ohio guardsmen and pushed to the gate of the plant.

The strike was called by the United Electrical Workers Union (CIO) on May 5 when the company and union were unable to reach agreement on a demand for a 13-cent hourly wage increase. The company then refused a union demand that 11 workers, discharged for "illegal picketing," be rehired.

On July 23 the United Electrical Workers lost a National Labor Relations Board election and were thrown out as bargaining agent for the employes. Three days later the company announced it had granted an 11-cents an hour wage boost to all workers.

The UE, however, maintained its picket lines and claimed it still was bargaining agent pending official notice of decertification from the NLRB. The union also charged that the company had "intimidated" workers during the election and demanded that another election be held.

Three Killed In Highway Collision Near Goodlett

Three persons were instanly killed and one injured in a highway accident at about 11 this morning, two miles west of Goodlett.

Robert Knowles, Quanah funeral director, identified the dead as Mr. and Mrs. Buel Cunningham, and their invalid son, about 35 years old, of Waurika, Okla. The son's name was not known.

The Cunninghams were traveling west when their 1937 Ford swerved into the side of a three-ton produce truck driven by M. E. Shelby of Wichita Falls, Shelby reported after the accident.

The car burned after the bodies were removed, and was totally demolished. The produce truck was unloaded at the time of the collision, and carried only a few empty produce crates.

Shelby received treatment for a cut heel tendon at the Quanah hospital. Hospital attendants believed he would be released from the hospital after treatment this afternoon.

Fort-Worth-Made Jet Bomber Due In 1950

FORT WORTH, Aug. 3 (UP)—The first B-49 jet-propelled flying wing bomber made in Fort Worth is expected to be in the air over the city by January of 1950, it was disclosed today.

Warren G. Knieriem, Northrop project engineer from Hawthorne, Calif., gave that assurance as he and other Northrop officials arrived here for conferences with Consolidated Vultee officials in the Fort Worth plant, where the B-49 will be constructed.

The huge B-36 bombers already are in production at Consolidated.

FISH WILL BE SEINED FROM CITY'S LAKE

The carp will be seined from Lake Childress, canned and given to Boy's Ranch, it was announced today.

The seining will be under the direction of the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission and the canning will be handled by the Childress County Game Conservation Club.

Arrangements to seine the lake and can the food will be under the direction of G. P. "Slim" Davis, game warden, and R. L. Pearcy, president of the game club.

"We hope to use the facilities of the high school for the canning," Pearcy said.

"Carp when canned has more food value than most fish and is wanted by Boy's Ranch," Davis said.

The City Council has authorized Davis to seine the carp from the lake and other fish if water gets low.

"We are going to need donations of cash as well as labor to can the fish," Pearcy said. "Anyone interested is asked to contact me."

The cash donated will be used to buy cans.

It is hoped to get at least 500 cans of fish from the lake.

Hotelkeeper Will Dispose of Devil In Ten Minutes

SHADYSIDE, Md., Aug. 3 (UP)—Alexander Andrews will dispose of the devil in ten minutes, he says.

Andrews is a Shadyside hotelkeeper who thinks preachers ought to stop frightening their flocks with tales of the devil in hell.

Both are fiction he says. Furthermore, he adds, he can prove it in ten minutes.

And to prove that, he has arranged a radio debate over a station at Annapolis Friday night. Three ministers have accepted his challenge.

The Rev. Robert Smoot and the Rev. James Smiley of Baltimore and the Rev. B. H. Atkinson of Sunbury, Pa., will endeavor to persuade listeners, and maybe Andrews, that satan is all some people say he is.

The debate was arranged after Andrews ran an advertisement in an Annapolis paper offering to prove there's no devil, no hell, no fire and brimstone.

The three ministers took him up. Andrews is so confident he can win the argument that he'll 'ake only ten minutes of the allotted hour. The ministers, he says, can have the other 50 minutes.

He figures he'll just have to shake hands if he loses.

"I don't believe there's any hell I can consign my opponents to."

Wainwright Would Accept Office As DAV Commander

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 3 (UP)—Retired Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, the old hero of Bataan and Corregidor, agreed today to become a candidate for national commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

His name will be placed in nomination at the DAV's 27th convention, to be held in New York City the week of August 15-22.

"I will accept if I'm elected," Wainwright told John L. Golob, the present DAV national commander, and other officials of the organization who called on him at his home, "Fiddlers Green."

Among the callers besides Golob, of Hebbing, Minn., was Warren Wright of New York, with whom Wainwright was associated in this summer's abortive "MacArthur for President" movement.

Kansas Town Reported Under Flood Waters

MARYSVILLE, Kan., Aug. 3 (UP)—The Union Pacific Railroad reported by radio today to the Marysville Advocate that the town of Frankfort, Kan., about 18 miles southwest of here, was completely under flood water. No loss of life was determined in an early survey.

Mrs. Glenna Galloway, news editor of the Advocate, said flood waters swept into the town of 1259 population before dawn after an unofficial nine-inch downpour some 15 miles to the north.

The U. P. railroad reported that water was 18 to 24 inches deep in business houses and some residences and at places covered automobiles, Mrs. Galloway said.

Second Meeting With Stalin Is Seen In Future

MOSCOW, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Another meeting of western envoys with Premier Josef Stalin or at least with Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was regarded as almost certain today after the renewal of high level talks between the East and the West.

Diplomats of the United States, Great Britain and France talked for two hours with Stalin at the Kremlin last night in the first contact at such a level since Secretary of State George C. Marshall was here a year ago last spring.

The more optimistic observers saw a possibility of some quick solution of the deadlock in Germany, or at least an early solution of the Berlin crisis.

Experts of the western diplomatic missions were conferring again today and matching notes on the Kremlin conference, which Molotov also attended.

Responsible quarters doubted that anything more would happen here for probably another 36 hours. The long reports of the three envoys on their talk with the Soviet Generalissimo still were being coded and transmitted from the embassies as dawn broke over Moscow.

By the time they are decoded and studied by Washington, London and Paris, separately and then together through diplomatic channels, at least another full day will have elapsed.

Quarters close to the embassies considered it impossible for another step to be taken here until that full process is completed.

The envoys were reported impressed with the Russian desire to dispense with formalities and get directly to the point.

Sam Houston College Funds Not In Good Condition

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—The general operating funds for Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville were found today by State Auditor C. H. Cavness to be in "not a very healthy condition."

The state auditor's remarks were ccntained in an audit of the college's books for the fiscal year which ended August 31, 1947.

Cavness said he found that in the general operating funds on that date the assets were 7514 above the liabilities.

But, he added, of the assets $38,185 was supplies inventory, and "actually the payables exceeded the cash and receivable by $30,671, not a very healthy condition."

The auditor also disclosed he has asked Attorney General Price Daniel for an opinion on the legality of payment of a member of the Legislature who is a member of the college's faculty.

Truman Returns To White House

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3 (UP)—President Truman returned to the Capital at 1:20 p. m., EDT., today and went immediately to the White House to receive a report on the Allied diplomats' conversation with Stalin.

The President's plane, the Independence, arrived here from Kansas City 11 minutes late. The President went to his home in Independence, to vote in today's Democratic primary.

The President was greeted at the airport by Clark Clifford, his legal adviser, and White House Secretary William Hassett.

It was regarded certain that a transcript of Ambassador Walter B. Smith's report on his talk with the Soviet Premier will be on Mr. Truman's desk today.

State Department press officer Michael J. McDermott told his news conference today that the four powers—the U. S., Britain, France and Russia—have agreed not to make public any details of the Kremlin conference now.

MISS HOLLAND ENTERS RODEO AT PAMPA

Miss DeLois Holland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duke Holland, will leave tomorrow to represent Childress at the Top-O-Texas Rodeo to be held at Pampa August, 4, 5, 6 and 7.

PETTICOAT REBELLION MAKES INROADS ON HIGH MEAT PRICES

oOo

DALLAS, Aug. 3 (UP)—The Dallas "petticoat rebellion" against high meat prices spread today to at least four other towns in Texas, the state that prides itself as the seat of the cattle industry.

The rebellion was started by Mrs. R. D. Vaughn, a gray-haired 71-year-old grandmother who "hated to be robbed" in Dallas markets.

For the second straight day, she sat at her telephone master-minding a chain telephone campaign to enlist women in a one-week meat boycott. By tonight, she expected to have enough women volunteers to call all 320 pages in the local directory.

In making their calls, the women asked other housewives to "please refrain from buying any fresh meat" during the week beginning Monday.

"We think this strike is the only way to find out what is causing these outrageous prices," Mrs. Vaughn said. "If the butcher squeals, it will be his fault. If the packer and farmer squeals, then the blame should be on them."

Mrs. Vaughn, who stands just one inch over five feet, is president of the Dallas Women's Chamber of Commerce. Formerly she sold insurance.

Her rebellion started when Dallas women praised her for a newspaper interview in which she first advocated a buyer's strike.

Today the strike spread to Orange, Austin, Waco and Corpus Christi.

Lloyd King, manager of three large Orange stores, told the women that if they mean business "we'll close our markets; we're not making any profit on meats anyway."

Mrs. Vaughn slipped into a market yesterday to watch her campaign in action.

"A dozen women came up but only one bought beefsteak," she said. "Another bought cold cuts and the rest bought mostly salt pork and bacon."

One Dallas butcher learned about the campaign first hand.

A woman shopper marcred up to the counter, thrust her shopping list before his eyes and said:

TEEN TOPICS

By Mary Lou Watts

The town has gone western again, and, of course, the teen-agers are right in the middle of it all. Those who participated in the rodeo are too numerous to name, but they all did a swell job.

The Cowgirl Sponsors who include Peggy Powell, Bev McConnell, Ann Richards, Punkin Moore, Wanda Hill, Katie "Miss Childress" Williamson, DeLois Holland, Billye Bess Purcell, Mary Black, Billie Jean Hassell, Nancy Gail Eddy, Madge M. Toft, Rosemary Tucker, Pat Hudson, Lucille Bottoms, Ida Ruth Taylor, Irene Williams, Texie Marvetta Halon and Marlene Halon were among the most colorful performers in the rodeo.

They were active outside the performing grounds too. Sponsored by Della Layton and Annie Ruth Farmer, they had a theater party Saturday afternoon and a slumber party on Thursday and Friday nights after the rodeo. Mrs. Layton was hostess for the slumber party Friday night, and Warty Holland entertained the group Thursday night.

Ann Adams of Lubbock attended the rodeo over the week end too.

Pat and Shirley Nobles got into a western mood at Dalhart at the XIT celebrations before ours even began.

Ann Richards of Wellington visited DeLois Holland during the rodeo, and Punkin Moore visited Donna Broughton.

Although he is spending the summer in Raton, Freddie Cordell managed to make it down here to see the rodeo—but it is rumored there was more than a rodeo that Freddie was lonesome for.

Most of that large group finally got off to Red River, and Ted Lundgren, Wayne Webb, Joe Powell, and Doris "Baby" Collins are those among them from the new sophomore class— they have some big plans too. Wayne said there would be plenty of time for baby sitting, but when he was reminded of Doris' nick-name, he explained that he would probably have to take care of his little sister quite a bit--!

Patsy and Betty Jo Campbell just recently returned from a vacation in Florida, Tennessee, and Louisiana, and Patsy went out to the Buckle L Ranch last week to visit Beth Hull and rest up a little.

Beth spent the week end with me—as did Dorothy Calloway who is still here from Lubbock. They found our little town rather exciting during the rodeo too. Some of those fine quarterhorses that belong to Beth's dad were in the show.

Dorman Williamson returned Thursday night from that "short 'n' sweet" trip to New Orleans.

Some more vacationers who have just returned home are Jarvis Michie, Herbert Reavis and Jewett Scarbrough who came in Friday from Philmont Boy Scout Camp, Red River and Carlsbad. They had some good times, but I think they were glad to get home—and with good reason! They had to cook—and eat—their own biscuits. Do you plan to sign up for a home economics cooking class next year, boys?

Another group of Scouts left late Saturday night for Florida where they plan "really to get around." Vernon Harper, Gene Spivey, James Paul Ord, C. J. Lyons, Harry Trout, Charles Villyard, Jack Temple, "Red" Roberts and leader, Edwin Cato, went in Cato's car and a trailer. Kinda' crowded, ?

Vernon and Dick Preston carried off the honors for the Childress Scouts at the Area Water Meet at Memphis last Thursday by winning most of the swimming and diving contests. Vernon never fails to get hurt a little bit though. He left for Florida with a sprained arm.

Gene Spivey was still rather scratched up when he left too. He fell off a telephone pole while working as a linesman.

Jack Temple made a quick trip to Dallas to visit his brother, Curtis, then returned to go with the Scouts on that trip. He is still a rather new Eagle Scout, you know. He turned down a trip to California with his folks so he could go with the Scouts.

For the present, that is enough about those boys. Here is something for girls only—though some of the boys may be interested enough to want to voice their opinions on the matter.

We have heard some criticism on the long straight hair-dos that so many of the teen-age girls are wearing. Here are a few arguments the girls are handing back:

For quite a long time there were numerous magazine articles, classroom lectures and so on in which the girls were told that simple hair styles were best for school, or any time, and now they don't like having ideas changed as soon as they begin to think along that line.

Many of them say the new feather bobs are just more or less a fad anyway, and don't look well on many girls.

Hair styles should be chosen for the person so that they will look more appropriate, and anyway, say the girls, everyone has a right to choose his own so why are the others interfering?

That is enough of that too.

There are still teen-agers with new jobs to be found, and among them is Charles Cawthon, who has recently become employed in Amarillo

Joe Ward, Jr., reached Norman, Okla., Thursday following his job with the telephone company.

George Edwin Pyles is in the wheat harvest in Wyoming—and away from his home for the first time.

Bruce Fyfe has returned from Amarillo wrehe he is employed.

Someone who has a job that might be enjoyable is Elven Watkins, Jr., who flew to Amarillo last Tuesday on business for his dad, to Wichita Falls Wednesday, and Sunday he and his mother flew down to Dallas to attend the markets. (His mother was the only pretty girl he had with him this time, too.)

Billy Ray Long, John Malcomb Walker, and Durwood Henry are all going to do something different now. They just recently were discharged from the marines.

Ruth Smith has gone back to an old routine too—in Raton. I believe she said most of her time up there was spent playing tennis and swimming. It is different.

Jackie Fields has returned to California after visiting Frank Weddington.

Home again for the week end from Hardin-Simmons was Duck Dakil.

Buster Richardson was here again this week end too—from Lubbock, of course. A certain blonde jewelry saleswoman was mighty glad to see him too.

Elizabeth Shirley of Sapulpa, Okla., is visiting in the home of her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Shirley—and cousin, Joe.

Dutch Carpenter of Seminole, Okla., is going to visit the remainder of the summer with her sister.

The lucky Clarence Darter, Jr., returned last week from a Naval Reserve cruise to Puerto Rico. Really getting around!

Nancy Price and Virginia Bush attended a sorority reunion at Canyon last week after which Nancy visited in Amarillo.

Ted and Gene Lundgren have given us another "shock," as Ted says, by moving to Amarillo. He expressed it perfectly.

Edna Earl Yarbrough's most strenuous exercise recently has been learning to play tennis. It is a tiring game when you stay with it so long.

There has been some news reported that many of you know more about than I do, but anyway, I'm supposed to know that Wayne Murray is planning to marry a rich widow. When, Wayne?

Loretta Gibson and Lenora Fowler both have some new and becoming hair-dos, but you may not get to see Lenora's for awhile since she has just left on a vacation to San Antonio, Dallas, Corpus Christi, and numerous other points in the state.

Mary Lee Weddington is a visitor to San Angelo this week.

Frances Ratliff, who is spending the summer with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Driskill, visited in Paducah Friday night.

Ex-coach of CHS, Bo Graham, may finally be playing favorites, but it is doubtful even though our track star of the last three years, Tom Rogers, was a week-end guest in the Graham home in Amarillo.

Helen Sears, who has been visiting her dad and friends here this summer, returned home to Houston Sunday.

Mack Barron is visiting relatives in Carlsbad.

Jeanne Milner is home again, and this time she will surely be here a week at least, because Floy and Bonita Glover of Sterley returned home with her for a week's visit. There are rumors, however, that she is going to Denver next week. Oh, that girl!

Dickey Reeves is home from the wheat harvest now, and even though he didn't grow as much as reported this summer, he really is taller.

The best story this week concerns Patsy Atkinson of Kirkland. She came to town yesterday and intended to ride home with her dad when he got off work. She went down and sat in their car for an hour and a half waiting on him, only to find out that he had already gone home in the truck. She finally got home okay, but was her face red!

Wellington Pair Is Married Here

Bonnie Rose McLaughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. S. McLaughlin of Wellington, became the bride of Richard Morton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Morton, in a quiet ceremony read recently in the home of the officiating pastor, Rev. George W. Palmer, of Childress.

Miss Maurine Divers, cousin of the bride, and Norman Scarbrough of Mineral Wells were the only attendants.

The bride recently moved to Wellington from Fort Worth, and the groom graduated from Wellington High School in 1946. He is now associated with his father in the Morton Motor Company in Wellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Morton have established residence in Wellington.

Grain Storage Space May Hurt Farmers, Claim

WACO, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—The president of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation charged today that many farmers may be deprived of protection in the government's grain support price program because they are denied storage space.

J. Walter Hammond, TFBF chief, asked Texas congressman W. R. Poage, member of the House Committee on Agriculture, to call a meeting of the state delegation in Washington to consider the problem.

Hammond said that elevator operators and the grain trade either were in collusion or the administration was derelict in the handling of the program.

At any rate, farmers are unable to secure storage space required to be eligible for participation in the support program, Hammond said. He reported that some are being "forced" to sell grain sorghums for as much as 50 cents per hundredweight under the parity price guaranteed by support legislation.

"It was not my understanding that it would be the responsibility of the farmers to provide storage, but if that is the case we want to be informed so a movement can be started to build cooperative elevators to safeguard the farmers' interests," his telegram to Poage said.

Hammond asserted that storage space was available in commercial elevators. Some which report to the farmer that they are full, he said, turn face to buy his grain at sub-parity prices.

"See—no meat."

AUSTIN, Aug. 3 (UP)—Housewives of Austin were banding together today in what appeared to be a growing protest against the high price of meat.

Mrs. Lili J. Markham said she and other volunteers had talked with an estimated 2000 women. Each housewife was asked to pledge that she would buy no meat in the week of August 9-16.

So far, Mrs. Markham said she had one turndown.

"That was a woman that said she couldn't make the pledge," Mrs. Markham explained. "She asked her husband first and then said she was sorry but she could not promise."

"Everybody else we've talked with has promised to go along with us."

"Calls are coming in almost every minute. The 'phone has been ringing constantly," she added.

She said that individual housewives as well as womens' organizations were volunteering their help in organizing the buyer strike.

Mrs. Markham said that if it takes a surplus to bring the price of meat down, she was sure "we'll have a surplus of meat in Austin by the end of the week."

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Smith of Fort Worth visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. M. F. Bridges before going on to Amarillo to visit her son.

LOVE'S LABOR LOST

NEW YORK (UP)—A burglar spent six hours carefully cutting a hole in the ceiling of a jewelry shop to get in without setting off the burglar alarm. Once inside he collected jewelry valued at $10,000. On the way out he accidently set off the alarm and was captured by police.

There are from 30,000,000 to 40,000,000 eggs in the average shad.

SILVER-TONGUED ORATOR TEMPLE HOUSTON WAS WELL KNOWN TO CHILDRESS PIONEERS

Temple Houston, he of the famous name, the magnetic personality, and the silver tongue, was a figure well known to pioneers of Childress County as well as to other parts of the Panhandle. He was senator for the Wichita Falls district, which then included all the Panhandle and South Plains counties, in the late eighties.

Son of Gen. Sam Houston, he was a brilliant young man who was admitted to the bar at the age of 19 after a special order removing his disabilities as a minor. He lived at Mobeetie during his term as senator, but he practiced in practically all courts in the Panhandle and headed the defense counsel in the first murder trial in Childress. The trial was that of a man named Clements. Houston moved later to Woodward, Okla.

A compelling orator, he seldom lost a case. But once he was defending at Vernon a minister charged with the murder of his wife. Judge A. J. Fires of Childress who as a young lawyer was a contemporary of Houston in the Panhandle, recalls the outcome of that case.

Fires was on the train, returning from Fort Worth, when Houston boarded the train at Vernon after the trial ended. He knew circumstances of the case, as it had attracted wide attention.

"How did your client come out?" he inquired.

"By gad, they hung him!" said Houston.

"Why you should have done better than that. Any of the rest of us could have done as well," Fires told him jokingly.

"Yes," said the noted son of the Raven, "But by gad he can say on the scaffold that an eminent lawyer defended him!"

Houston died several years ago at his home in Oklahoma.

Although he made many brilliant addresses during his life, and was engaged in numerous cases of colorful character, he probably gained most notoriety in the defense at Woodward, Okla., of a woman who was charged with plying her profession and operating a bawdy-house.

Of comparative unimportance in the usual run of trials, the case gained widespread attention when Houston undertook to defend the woman. The trial was held in the district court at Woodward, Friday, May 5, 1889.

Following is a script of the attorney's plea and the comment of one who attended the hearing:

Last Friday there was tried in the district court of Woodward, Okla., before Judge Buford, one of the most remarkable cases, in certain respects, ever disposed of in the territory.

Minnie Stacey was prosecuted for plying her vocation and running a bawdy-house. Something about the case aroused the indignation of Temple Houston, who instantly undertook her defense. Exposure had impaired his voice, and he only addressed the court and jury in a calm conversational tone. After discussing the evidence, he bent over toward the jury so he could almost have laid his hand on the shoulders of each, and in a clear low voice his address with these words:

Gentlemen, you heard with what cold cruelty the prosecution referred to the sins of this woman, as if her condition were of her own preference. The evidence has painted a picture of her life and surroundings. Do you think that they were of her own choosing? Do you think she willingly embraced a life so revolting and horrible? Ah, no! Gentlemen, one of our sex was the author of the ruin, more to blame than she; then let us judge her gently. What could be more pathetic than the spectacle she presents? An immortal soul in ruin—where the star of purity once glittered on her girlish brow, burning shame has set its seal forever; and only a moment ago they reproved her for the depths to which she had sunk, and company she has kept, the life she had led. Now what else is left for her? Where can she go and her sin not pursue her?

Gentlemen, the very promises of God are denied her. He said: "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden," but if at this instant she were to kneel down before all and confess her Redeemer and bespeech His tender mercies, where is the church that would receive her? And even if they accepted her, when she passes the portals to worship and claim her rest, scorn and mockery would greet her and those she met would gather around them their skirts more closely, to avoid the pollution of her touch. Would you tell me a single employment where she can realize?

"Give us this day our daily bread." Our sex wrecked her once pure life—her own sex shrunk from her as they would the pestilence. Society has reared its relentless walls against her, and only in the friendly shelter of the grave can her betrayed and broken heart ever find the Redeemer's promised rest. They told you of her assumed names, as fleeting as the shadows on the walls, of her sins, her habits, but they never told you of her sorrows, and who shall tell what her heart, sinful though it may be now, feels.

When the remembered voices of mothe and sisters, whom she must see no more on this earth, fall like music on her erring soul and she prays God that she could only return, and must not—no, not in this life, for the seducer has destroyed her soul. You know the story of the prodigal son, but he was a son. He was one of us, like her destroyer; but for the prodigal daughter there is no return. Were she with her wasted form and bleeding feet, to drag herself back to home, she, the fallen and the lost, what would be her welcome?

Oh, consider this when you come to decide her guilt, for she is before us and we must judge her. They sneer and scoff at her. One should respect her grief, and I tell you there reigns over her penitent and chastened spirit a desolation now that none, no none, but the Searcher of all hearts can ever know.

None of us are utterly evil, and I remember that when the Saffron scourge swept over the city of Memphis in 1878, a courtesan there opened wide the doors of her gilded palace of sin to admit the sufferers; and when the scythe of the reaper swung fast and pitless she was angelic in her ministering. Death called her in the midst of her mercies to join those she had tried to save. She, like those the Lord forgave, was a sinner, and yet I believe that in the day of reckoning her judgment will be lighter than those who prosecute and seek to drive off the earth such poor unfortunates as she whom you are to judge.

They wish to fine this woman and make her leave. They wish to wring from her the wages of her shame the price of this mediated injustice; to take from her the little money she might have; and God knows, gentlemen, it came hard enough. The old Jewish law told you that the price of a dog nor the hire of such as she should not come in the house of the Lord.

And I say unto you that our justice fitly symbolized by a woman's form, does not ask that you add ought to the woes of this unhappy one, who only asks at your hands the privilege of being left alone.

The Master while on earth, while He spoke the wrath and rebuke to the kings and rulers never reproached one of these. One He forgave, another He accepted. You remember both, and now looking upon this friendless outcast, if any of us can say unto her, "I am holier than thou," in the respect with which she is charged with sinning, who is he? The Jews who brought the woman before the Savior have been held up to the execration of the world for 2000 years. I always respect them. A man who will yield to the reproaches of his own conscience as they did has the elements of good in him but the modern hypocrite has no such compunctions in him. If the prosecutors of this woman whom you are trying had but brought her before the Savior they should have accepted His challenge and each one gathered a rock and stoned her in the twinkling of an eye.

No, gentlemen, do as your Master did twice under the very circumstances that surround you. Tell her to go in peace."

The jury acquitted her as soon as they reached their room.

Hardin Grocery Building Is Old City Landmark

The building which houses the Hardin Grocery and Market at 101 Main Street is one of Childress' landmarks and will soon be redecorated from top to bottom, according to Mrs. Wilson Hardin, owner.

The building was first occupied by the Cottle Exchange Saloon, owned and operated by Mose Aston.

In 1898 W. L. Underwood purchased the building from Aston. At the same time Underwood owned a part interest in the Childress Grocery Company which he purchased and then formed a partnership with the late J. W. Mitchell.

For a number of years Underwood and Mitchell was a leading grocery store here and sold out to Smith and Gordon who later sold to G. S. Layton and son, Rufus.

The Laytons went into the theater business and the White Rose Cafe opened in the location. It was operated by two Greeks and they sold out to Fred Nelson. From then on it was operated by several cafe men and a few years ago Bob Albritton had a grocery store, Arch Hays a barber shop and Ira Dalton a cafe all in the same building.

On July 18, 1944, Wilson Hardin and Carrie U. Hardin bought the J. C. Webb stock and moved "home."

Since that time they have operated a grocery store and market in the location.

H. H. Low Says His Firm Is A Family Concern

The Low and Sons Memorial company, 706 Third Street, Northeast is truly a family affair.

H. H. Low, founder of the firm, says it is the only business in Childress to have a father, two sons and son-in-law connected with it.

Low has been engaged in the business since 1936, and has operated his own concern here since 1938.

Born in Hunt County, Low moved to Childress in 1907. For a number of years he was a barber here and later taught music throughout West Texas.

He was employed by the Taylor Memorial company at Vernon for two years before opening his business here.

The firm is now fully equipped with tools and machinery to finish any size or kind of monument.

His two sons, Aubrey and Bobby, and his son-in-law, A. J. Clements, are associated in the business with him.

A review of the world's motor laws shows that 101 nations require driving on the right side of the street, while 85 enforce a left-hand rule.

Oil Mill Began Operations Here Early In 1925

The Childress Cotton Oil Mill was organized in early 1925 and the plant was finished in the latter part of that year. Crushing of cottonseed was begun that fall.

Organizers were C. C. Littleton of Gainesville and Frank Kell and Reece S. Allen of Wichita Falls.

Among the local stockholders were J. M. Crews, H. S. Black, Will P. Jones and other local citizens.

Controlling interest in the property was purchased by the J. W. Simmons Cotton Oil Mills of Quanah and Dallas. Many of the local stockholders retained their interests.

When the change in ownership was made, J. W. Simmons of Dallas was elected president and still acts in that capacity.

A. Power has been manager since 1931. Philip Love has been cashier since 1946.

Employment is given to 50 to 75 persons during the busy season of a good crop year. This number is necessarily reduced during the off season.

The organization has in force a group life insurance and hospitalization setup which is open to all employees who qualify. The cost is nominal and is a saving to the employees.

John Hamilton Switched From Pop To Peanuts

After selling Dr. Pepper for eight years, John Hamilton decided to sell peanuts instead of pop and started working for Tom's Toasted Peanut Company three years ago.

Residing in Childress, Hamilton takes his familiar silver truck to Wellington, Paducah and other communities.

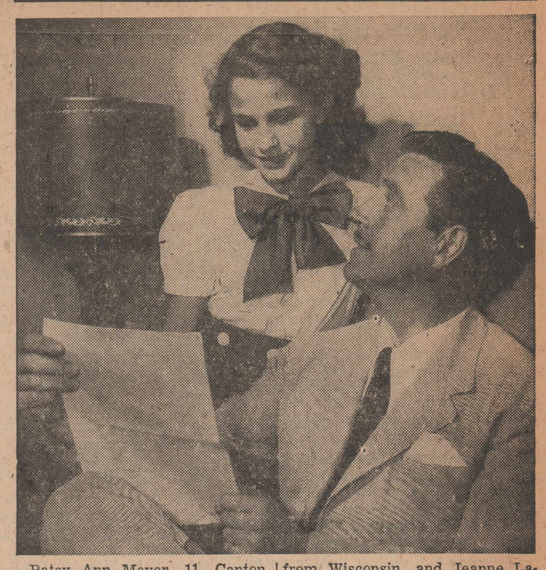

Gerald Carter of Vernon is the distributor for this area. He has been with Tom's for ten years and has the franchise for eight counties. He operates three trucks, two out of Vernon and one out of Childress.

The Tom Huston Peanut Company started 23 years ago and has grown until today it operates 1092 trucks in 34 states.

Oklahoma 4-H Girl Gets Screen Test

Patsy Ann Meyer, 11, Canton, Oklahoma, 4-H Club girl, is Hollywood bound for a screen test.

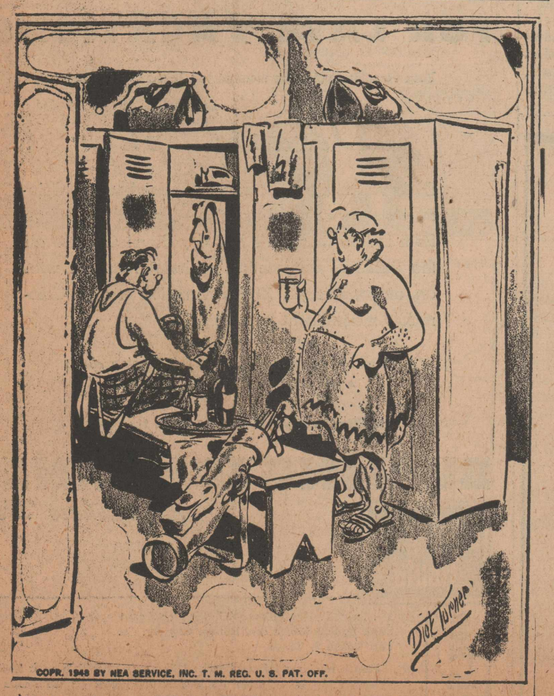

Patsy Ann was selected as one of four girls, out of more than 8,000 entered, to try for a part in "The Green Promise," film story to be produced in Hollywood. She is shown above as she was interviewed recently in Oklahoma City by Robert Paige, co-producer of the film, who will play the role of a county agent.

Mrs. Pete Meyer, Patsy Ann's mother, and Miss Maudie Thompson, home demonstration leader from Wautonga, Oklahoma, will accompany the 4-H girl to Hollywood. She will vie with Judy Stewart and Marian Freed, both from Wisconsin, and Jeanne LaDuke from Indiana, for the part in the film.

"The Green Promise" relates the story of a farm family which by adopting measures recommended by the county agent and through examples set by 4-H Club members, is able to raise itself to higher living standards. It will be produced by McCarthy Productions, independent film company formed by Glenn McCarthy, Houston businessman, Paige and Monty Collins, well-known screen writer. Paige and Collins are co-producers and Collins wrote the original screen story.

Production of the film is scheduled to start in mid-August.

Dodgers Helpless Against Attacks By Cub Schmitz

BY CARL LUNDQUIST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Boss Branch Rickey, who flies all over trying to help his Dodgers, might try dive-bombing Johnny Schmitz of the Cubs on his next trip—it could be his most effective mission.

Rickey, who personally tries to keep the sun from setting on his Brooklyn empire, brings pitchers, catchers, infielders and outfielders to Ebbets Field from the far-flung farm clubs, but none of them can do anything about Schmitz.

The crafty left-hander beat the Dodgers for the fifth straight time this season yesterday, winning 4 to 2 in 11 innings when third baseman Tommy Brown set up the deciding run with a fumble on an easy grounder by Roy Smalley. A single by Hank Schenz and a double by Eddie Waitkus produced the big tally and a long fly by Andy Pafko gave the Cubs an insurance run.

Schmitz, who has an 11-9 mark for the season, has given up only seven runs in 47 innings in his five triumphs against the Brooks.

The honeymoon ended for Giant manager Leo Durocher at the Polo Grounds when the Cardinals bopped and re-bopped the New Yorkers in a 21 to 5 carnage that included 20 hits, 12 for extra bases. It was the biggest run production for any team in the majors this season, Stan Musial, Whitey Kurowski, Marty Marion, and Erv Dusak hitting homers. The Cards also got eight doubles, two each by Enos Slaughter and Nippy Jones. Third string catcher Del Wilber, who had gotten only one previous hit all season, batted in five runs to set the pace with two singles, a double and an infield out. Scotty Thomson, Whitey Lockman, and Bill Rigney hit Giant homers as Murry Dickson coasted to his eighth victory.

The Cincinnati Reds came out of a six-game losing streak to whip the league-leading Boston Braves, 3 to 1, in a night game. The loss, which kept the Braves from gaining on the Giants, left them still five games in front.

In the American League night game, the only action in that loop, the St. Louis Browns handed pitcher Sid Hudson of the Washington Senators his 11th defeat of the year, 7 to 5. Bill Kennedy pitched five innings for St. Louis and Joe Ostrowski four with Kennedy the winning pitcher.

Pittsburgh and Philadelphia were not scheduled in the National League.

Coats Hands G&B Second Defeat Of Season, 16 To 10

Coats Grocers handed Griffin and Butler their second defeat of the softball season—first defeat in the second-half series—by a 16-10 score last night on the local diamond.

In the nightcap, the Future Farmers tromped Robbins Electric in a five-inning contest, 13-3.

Clarence Darter, Jr., worked the mound for Coats in the evening's opener. He allowed seven hits and six walks, and struck out three.

Darter contributed to his own victory with three singles in four times at the plate to lead the Coats sluggers.

Doss hit a double and a single for the winners. Other hits for the Coats Grocers were singles by Loter, Ticer, Trammell and Mills.

Doyle Mooney, hurling for Griffin and Butler, gave up ten hits, while his mates were committing 12 errors. Mooney whiffed one Coats batter.

Extra base hits for G&B were a triple by Robinson and doubles by Grayson and Lobban.

All the extra base hits came in G&B's big sixth inning, when they scored six runs on six hits.

In the second game, Bill Stephens held the Robbins Electric batsmen to two singles and a triple as FFA coasted to a win, 13-3.

Two of the losers' runs came in the fourth inning when Bob Custer singled, scored on an error, and Loyd Garvin took the bases, one at a time, on a series of errors.

Garvin flinging for Robbins, was touched for nine hits and allowed six walks.

Tonight, Coats will meet Army Store, and Griffin and Butler will play Kirkland. Tomorrow night, FFA will meet Army Store and Robbins will meet Bank in delayed games.

Negro Receives Setback In Fight To Enter U of O

NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher's battle to obtain entrance to the "whites-only" University of Oklahoma law school today received another setback.

District Judge Justin Hinshaw ruled that the state's new Negro law school offers training equal to that at the University of Oklahoma. He upheld the university regents in denying two other Negro women, Mrs. Mauderie Hancock and Miss Maxine Holmes, admittance to other graduate schools on the Norman campus.

Mrs. Fisher had filed a mandamus suit demanding entrance to the state university on the grounds that training at the Langston Negro law school was inferior.

Hinshaw declared that freshman law training opportunities at Langston compared favorably with those at the white schools.

He declined to discuss his reasons for the ruling affecting Mrs. Wilson and Miss Holmes, however.

Both decisions will be appealed to the State Supreme Court and possibly to the U. S. Supreme Court, attorney Amos Hall said today.

Langston law school was organized last January after the U. S. Supreme Court ruled that Mrs. Fisher had been denied her rights by previous rulings of the district court here and of the Oklahoma Supreme Court.

NEW OLYMPIC RECORD

Mal Whitfield (136) of Ohio State University, sets new Olympic record of one minute, 49.2 seconds as he wins the 800 meter run at Empire Stadium in London. By winning, Mal gave the United States its sixth Gold Medal of the current Olympics. Following in order across the finish line are Arthur Wint (122), Jamaica, second; Marcel Hansenne 151) France, third; Herb Barten (172), Michigan, fourth; I. Bengtsson, behind Hansenne, Sweden, fifth, and Bob Chambers (173), Southern California, sixth. (NEA Radio Telephoto.)

COMMUNISTS ARE FIFTH COLUMN

Louis Budenz, ex-Communist leader, charged before a Senate investigating committee in Washington, that Communist Party of America is a "Fifth Column of Soviet Russia." U. S. Sweeps All Places In Diving At The Olympics

LONDON, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Little, black-haired Vicki Manalo Draves of Los Angeles came from behind on the final dive today to win the Olympic women's springboard diving championship as the United States swept the first three places.

The U. S. basketball team, which was expected to sweep aside all opposition with little difficulty, had an unexpected close shave and was forced to come from behind in the last half to defeat Argentina, 59 to 57.

It was the third straight victory for the undefeated Americans. Argentina led 32 to 26 at halftime.

Arthur Cook of Washington, D. C., became America's 11th gold medal winner when he captured the free rifle small bore 50-meter shooting championship with a total score of 599.

J. F. Mikaelsson of Sweden won the first heat of the 10,000-meter walk and set a new Olympic record. He was clocked in 45 minutes and three second, more than a minute faster than the old mark of 46:28.4 set by G. H. Goulding of Canada in the 1912 games at Stockholm.

America's two representatives in the heat, Fred Sharaga and Ernest Weber, both of New York, were disqualified because their heels failed to touch the ground between strides.

Wilbur Thompson of Los Angeles set a new Olympic record for the shotput minutes after his teammate, James Fuchs of Yale, had broken the old record. Thompson's distance was 54 feet one-half inch. Fuchs had tossed the shot 53 feet 8½ inches, bettering the old mark of 53 feet 1¾ inches set in 1936 by Hans Woelke of Germany.

Bill Albens of Elizabeth, N. J., was the only American to qualify in the hop, step and jump trials with a triple jump of 47 feet 8¾ inches. Bob Beckus of Los Angeles, who could no no better than 46 feet, 1 inch, and Erik Koutonen of Fitchburg, Mass., with an effort of 47 feet, failed to make the grade.

The best jump of the qualifying round was made by Gordon Avery of Australia, who did 50 feet, 3¾ inches.

Unofficial point score of the 14th Olympic games at the completion of 17 events:

U. S. A. 178, Sweden 67, Turkey 50, France 46, Hungary 36, Australia 28, Italy 26, Switzerland 26, Denmark 25, Holland 23, Finland 23, Great Britain 17, Austria 16, Belgium 15, Czechoslovakia 15, Norway 13, Peru 10, Canada 6, Jamaica 6, Ceylon 5, Yugoslavia 5, Panama 4, Mexico 3, Poland 3, Spain 1.

Wellington High School Gets New Head Coach

L. D. Bash, head coach of Dewey, (Okla.) High School, has been elected to fill a similar position at Wellington, E. L. Pritchett, superintendent of Wellington schools, has announced.

Bash will fill the vacancy made by the resignation of Al Duncan, who is going to McLean.

Bash is one of the two coaches selected to guide the Oklahoma All-Star team when they play the Texas All-Stars at Wichita Falls in the annual Shriners Oil Bowl game, August 27.

In his time at Dewey, his teams have won three district and three bi-district crowns, two regional, one area and one state championship. His teams have won 86, lost 23 and tied one game in his ten years of coaching.

Other members of the coaching staff are John Lee and Robert Percival.

Houston Moves Into Second Spot In Texas League

By United Press

Three teams continued their upward march last night in the Texas League.

Fort Worth, accustomed to being the No. 1 squad in the pennant race, in a home-game eased by Beaumont, 2 to 0.

Houston, visiting at Oklahoma City, nosed by the Indians, 4 to 3, to move into the No. 2 spot in the standings.

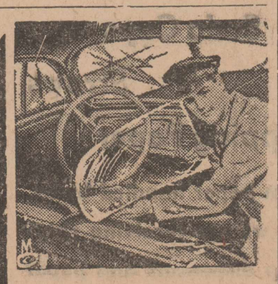

And in Dallas, the rejuvenated Rebels blasted Shreveport by a 13 to 3 count, to put themselves only a half-game behind the Sports, No. 5 team in the loop.

The loop leaders gained their victory behind the three-hit pitching of Eddie Chandler, who marked up his eighth victory of the year and his third shut-out.

In Oklahoma City, the Buffs delivered the unkindest cut of all by beating Preacher Dorsett, pitcher for the Indians who was honored in ceremonies before the game. Dorsett gave up eight hits. The Indians rallied in the last of the ninth, scoring a run that put them only one behind, but couldn't tie the game.

The Rebels, a team which apparently has received just the players the squad needed, swept to victory on 17 bingles. They now stand four games out of the first division.

In a double-header at Tulsa, the Oilers and the San Antonio Missions split. San Antonio took the abbreviated first game, 2 to 1, and Tulsa won the second, 7 to 3. By splitting, Tulsa dropped to third place in the league standings.

Huffhines Team Plays Childress All-Stars Friday

The hard - hitting Huffhines Sports of Wichita Falls will play the Childress All-Stars on the local softball diamond Friday night.

A game between the two teams has been in the offing but was not definitely scheduled until yesterday, Walter Price, softball league manager, said.

The Sports have one of the most impressive records of any softball team in North Texas for this year.

They have won 35 while dropping only two contests this season.

Myron Ramey, star Huffhines hurler, has racked up a record of 23 wins against two defeats for the season.

The Sports recently captured the District 9 softball flag by beating the Warren Oilers of Holliday and took the Byers tournament without suffering a defeat.

Admission to Friday's game will be 25 cents, Price announced.

Manuel Finally Gets His Proper Navy Discharge

CHICAGO, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—Manuel Castelano wanted to be a good man in the U. S. navy but he had two things against him.

He couldn't read English and he believed too many people.

Castelano joined the navy at San Antonio four years ago when he was only 20. While in training in Virginia, his mates told him he could never become a full-fledged navy man because he couldn't speak English.

"Just wait," they said, "the navy will catch up with you."

A few days later, he received a ten-day leave—written in English. Castelano thought that was the discharge his friends told him about. He packed up and went to Mexico with his family.

Two years later he moved to Silvis, Ill., where the navy found him and arrested him for desertion.

In prison, his cellmates told him he probably would be hanged. Once more, Castelano believed what he heard. He lost 30 pounds worrying about his fate.

But at the court-martial, he got his first break. The presiding officer spoke Spanish and Castelano told him the whole story.

He was found innocent on the ground he had done no deliberate wrong.

Today Castelano was awaiting his real discharge papers, complete with Spanish translation.

DEARTH OF MANAGERSHIP TALENT HITS BIG LEAGUES

BY OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK, Aug. 2 (U.P.)—Three major league managers have been replaced this season and the count probably would have been doubled by today except for the fact that baseball finds itself stymied by a self-imposed dearth of capable managerial talent.

"The trouble is," explained one owner who is thinking of a shift in pilots, "that for years we have asked our players only whether they could run, throw and hit. We never asked if they could think."

The result is a machine-made ball player, a mechanical product without personality or the spark of intellectual leadership.

Those three changes already made this season emphasize the seriousness of the situation. The Phillies dusted off Ben Chapman and had to go to unknown Eddie Sawyer, never a ball of fire at Toronto. The Giants swapped Mel Ott, a New York legend, for Leo Durocher, a shift akin to sacrilege. Brooklyn came back with ancient Burt Shotton, who purportedly didn't want to manage last year when he was only 62.

Two other managers definitely are on the way out—Eddie Dyer of the Cardinals and Johnny Neun of the Cincinnati Reds. The axe hangs high for four others—Lou Boudreau, Joe Kuhel, Zack Taylor and Steve O'Neill.

Dyer is the victim of a ball club which came apart at the seams. Nuen has heard the wolf call all season because the club looked great in spring training and then folded. Boudreau almost has to win the pennant which he mistakenly claimed a week or so ago. Kuhel and Taylor never had a chance and O'Neill's post is shaky due to temperament and hard luck.

The question is, who is there to replace them? the answer is, almost nobody.

Take that from one owner who surveyed the field thoroughly in one of the recent shifts.

Big league managerial timber is very scarce. Lefty O'Doul of the San Francisco Seals, a great prospect, isn't interested. Larry Gilbert, part owner of Nashville, isn't either. Casey Stengel at Oakland is a nice guy but when he had his chances he made a career of second division clubs.

Among the minor league managers that leaves for graduation only Paul Richards of Buffalo, Kiki Cuyler of Atlanta and Bruno Betzel of eJrsey City, according to this one owner.

Consider the coaches and it is the same story. Bill McKechnie of the Indians, only man to win major league pennants in three cities, doesn't want the headaches. Muddy Ruel of the Indians was found too easy going. Rick Ferrell of the Senators was by-passed for Kuhel. The rest either aren't interested or don't measure up.

Among the players a few outside possibilities are Frankie Crosetti of the Yanks, Bucky Walters of the Reds, Dixie Walker of the Pirates or Eddie Stanky of the Braves. But it is as difficult for a manager as it is for a player to jump into the majors without minor league seasoning.

Another outside possibility is Hank Greenberg, now warming a front office chair for the Indians. You can bet Hank is willing.

But over all the prospects aren't bright for the harried club owners seeking forceful, intelligent and understanding managers who can get the utmost out of the material and hand. And the problem gets keener all the time because baseball has spurned the thinker for the man of muscles—even in cases where players have them between their ears, too.

GI's Expect Cash Dividend From NSLI Policies

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Every World War II veteran who has had a GI insurance policy in force for at least three months—whether the policy is in force today or not—will receive a cash dividend from the government.

This is the first time that the three-month qualifying period for a dividend on National Service Life Insurance has ever been officially announced. It was revealed exclusively to NEA Service by a top VA insurance official.

More than 14 million veterans are expected to benefit. The size of the government's insurance surplus kitty which will be divided among them has been estimated at between $1.5 and $2 billions.

The average veteran will receive approximately $100, depending upon how long he has kept his policy in force, his age and several other factors.

This announcement will soon be followed by the start of the biggest accounting job ever attempted in insurance history. Some of the experts even claim that figuring GI insurance dividends is the biggest single accounting job ever tackled by the U. S. Government.

The start of this staggering bookkeeping task was delayed until now to await a Supreme Court decision on a case which could have wiped out the surplus. The recent decision was in favor of the VA, however, which makes it possible to start on the project of handing out the dividends.

There are several explanations for the huge surplus. Outdated mortality tables were used to figure rates when NSLI was created at the start of the war. And, although GI life insurance is the cheapest in the country, vets still paid too much for it.

Another reason given is that an unexpectedly large number of veterans let their policies lapse. They paid millions of dollars worth of premiums, never got any benefits, and now the government doesn't have to keep any money set aside for the event of their death.

On top of everything, all the extra premium money which collected in the fund has been drawing three per cent interest in the U. S. Treasury.

Since GI insurance was created at the start of the war, more than 20 million policies have been taken out by close to 17 million servicemen. A man can have more than one policy as long as the total of his insurance is not more than $10,000.

This means that 20 million different policies will have to be carefully audited to determine just who is eligible for dividends.

There are more than 30 possible different official actions which could have been taken on each policy, including such things as waiving premiums while a man is sick.

Each action of this sort will have to be carefully checked. They may determine whether a policy qualifies for a dividend or not, or they may determine just how big the dividend will be.

In addition,a preliminary check has revealed hundreds of errors which can exist on the accounting record of each lapsed policy. Some of the errors were made by the service when the premiums were being deducted from a man's service pay. Some have since been made by the VA. Settling the questions which arise from these errors also is necessary before the exact size of the dividend on a policy can be fixed.

That audit is only the preliminary step in finally figuring the divided each vetran will get. The exact size of the surplus which will be divided into the dividends isn't known. The total NSLI fund is $6.73 billions. How much the VA has to keep aside for the payment of claims and other items has to be computed and deducted from that.

The final job, after every policy is audited and brought up-to-date and the size of the surplus is determined, is to figure up just exactly how much each veteran should receive. That job alone is expected to take 2700-man-years of work—the equivalent of 2700 persons working one year.

According to the best estimate of VA officials, if they get money from Congress to do the job and there are no unexpected snags, the first checks should be mailed to veterans during the summer of 1949.

GI'S SIGN UP FOR GOVERNMENT INSURANCE

Reminiscent of the war-time signing up of veterans for inexpensive government life insurance is the above scene. Every World War II vet who has had a policy for at least three months is expected to receive a dividend.

Top Nominees To Hold Dixiecrat Campaign Meet

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (UP) — "Dixiecrat" nominees for the nation's two top executive positions will be here August 11 officially to open their campaign, it was announced today.

Gov. Fielding L. Wright of Mississippi, the vice-presidential candidate, sent word to E. E. Townes, invitation committee chairman for the states' rights rally, that he would be here for the statewide "Dixiecrat" gathering.

The states' rights presidential nominee, South Carolina governor J. Strom Thurmond, had already indicated he would fly here to accept the nomination.

Chemist Shatters Gold Rush Hopes At Elmendorf

By United Press

The Shakespearean adage that "all that glisters is not gold" has been proved in the small South Texas town of Elmendorf.

A few weeks ago, S. H. Sumner, a 39-year-old carpenter started to dig a well because he was tired of paying 15 cents a barrel for water.

What the father of seven children found left the town of 500 persons agog. It was a shiny metal that very much resembled gold.

The word spread rapidly, and while Sumner was awaiting assay reports, the news was carried over the entire state.

Adding to the suspense was a delay in the assay reports. One assay office in El Paso hadn't replied at all.

But just the other day, William Poster, head of a metal company in San Antonio, became "slightly infected" with the gold fever that had swept the South Texas area.

He loaded his testing equipment in his car and went to examine the metal which Sumner had unearthed from 32 feet below the earth's surface.

As Sumner looked on, Pastor poured acid on a gold ring. No reaction. Then he tested the mysterious metal with the same acid. The particles disappeared.

He concluded the metal from the well was iron or some other non-precious metal.

The Sumner yard had been filled with people for the last several weeks. And yet none of them had been able to tell the particles were not gold.

The little town of Elmendorf can settle back to normal now, satisfied that it will not become the scene of a mad gold rush. The neighbors who already have wells don't have to worry about digging.

And Sumner will dig a little deeper in hopes of striking something that will really be useful to him—water.

Retrial Ordered In Houston Suit Against Milk Firm

HOUSTON, Aug. 3 (U.P.)—District Judge Ben F. Wilson today ordered a new trial of a damage suit which brought a Houston man $1500 on a charge that he had swallowed glass in a bottle of milk.

Wilson ordered the retrial on grounds that the jury which returned the original verdict on June 18 was guilty of misconduct because it was influenced by articles defining "swallowing."

Wesley Wilson, the plaintiff, said he was ill for several months from effects of glass he swallowed in a bottle of milk sold by the Sanitary Farm Dairies, Inc.

When storing fresh eggs, it is best to make sure no water reaches them. Water removes their protective coating and may cause a strong odor.

Now is the time to have your quilts and blankets cleaned and the place is Hargrave's.
