Pampa Girl Carries Out Sixth Law; 'A Scout Is a Friend to Animals'

Nickie Lewter, 10-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Lewter, has well proved she understands the sixth Girl Scout law—"A Scout Is a Friend to Animals."

On Labor Day, Nickie and her parents went to Gainesville for a short visit. While there Nickie discovered two little motherless squirrels. They had not yet opened their eyes and Nickie went to their nest every day to see if their mother had come back. However, Mommy Squirrel never did come back.

Remembering a Girl Scout is a friend to all animals, Nickie adopted the little animals, named them Friskie and Pepsi and put them in a shoe box to bring them over the 350-mile stretch back to Pampa. She fed them milk from an eye dropper, hoping against hope they would survive the trip. Well, they did. Nickie now has two of the best pets any little girl ever had.

The Lewter girl is a member of Troop 19, the Woodrow Wilson School troop. Since she has brought up the little squirrels into grown - up squirrels, she plans to display them in their cage during Girl Scout Week, which starts Oct. 31.

Nickie is not just sure how her squirrels will fit into the tenth annual Girl Scout fund drive in Pampa, which starts Wednesday. However, she is a proud little girl to have two such fine looking adopted children.

U.S. Looks At Situation In Greece

ATHENS —(AP)— U.S. Ambassador Henry F. Grady said Saturday the Greek Army's operations against guerrillas have been unsatisfactory, but declined comment on a question whether the Greek government was holding back in an effort to get more American aid.

Grady also refused comment on whether there have been cases of mutiny in the Greek army.

Grady answered written questions submitted by American newsmen as Secretary of State Marshall arrived here for a first-hand appraisal of American aid to Greece under the Truman doctrine of action against communism.

The ambassador said more effective cooperation is needed between the Greek government and the American Aid Mission.

No official Greek comment on the Grady statements was available immediately.

Some Greek sources fear Guerrilla Chief Markos Vafiades may try to establish his separate Communist government in the Peloponnesus — the southernmost part of Greece. Guerrillas have stepped up their raids on towns and villages.

The guerrillas have more men in Greece now than when their operations started. The government has failed to give a go-ahead for an anticipated all-out offensive in the Vitsi sector of Northwest Greece, where considerable numbers of Vafiades' forces are concentrated.

The latest report on Greece sent to Congress Oct. 4 showed $165,470,983 actually spent as of June 30 out of the more than $300,000,000 allocated for the Greek aid program.

President Truman said in a report to Congress on Oct. 5 that the American aid program to block Communist expansion in Greece and Turkey has been a "conspicuous success." But Mr. Truman added that "a difficult struggle lies ahead" before Greek security is achieved.

Grady said the open border through which Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria aid the Communist guerrillas was a main factor behind their ability to continue organized military operations."

Deputy Sheriff Resigns Position

Deputy Sheriff Neal Gilson, with the Sheriff's Department for the last eight months, resigned effective yesterday from his post to go into "private business."

Gilson said he was quitting because he could not devote full time to his contracting business and also serve as a deputy sheriff, "since the latter is a full time job."

No permanent replacement was named by the Sheriff's Department last night, but Chief Deputy Sheriff Rufe Jordan reported that Constable-elect Bill Langley would be sworn in as a deputy sheriff and will serve until Jan. 1 when he goes into the constable's office.

Free Germany Chief Joins Red Forces

BERLIN —(AP)— The French-licensed newspaper Kurier reported Saturday that Gen. Walther von Seydlitz, a founder of the "Free Germany" Committee in Moscow, had returned to Berlin to take a key post in Soviet Zone Police.

An Allied intelligence source said of the report:

"Quite probably true. The return of Communist-indoctrinated Free Germany Committee leaders fits in with known developments in the Russian zone, especially in the building up of the 'People's Police' force there."

The informant referred to the police force which a Communist spokesman acknowledged recently has been greatly expanded and heavily armed.

Communists say this is necessary to protect the Soviet Zone against "alarming civil war preparations in Western Germany."

The 60-year-old Von Seydlitz was captured at Stalingrad. As chief of the "Free Germany" Committee he broadcast to German soldiers to revolt against Hitler.

The newspaper said Seydlitz returned from Russia with three other high German officers and reported immediately to offices of the Soviet Zone's Interior Ministry to take over the task of reorganizing its police headquarters.

Truman 'Prisoner of Military Clique' Says Poland Delegate

'Incompetence' Charge Slung By Stassen at Administration

By HENRY S. GORDON
Pampa News Staff

Firing a broadside of charges covering everything from "lack of leadership and vision" in foreign affairs to "incompetence" in national affairs, Harold E. Stassen, University of Pennsylvania prexy, and former Minnesota governor, heaped national GOP blessings on the candidacy of Jack Porter, Houston oil man, for the U. S. Senate and J. Evetts Haley, Canyon, Republican nominee for representative from the 18th U. S. Congressional District, before a crowd of 1,500 in Amarillo's Municipal Auditorium Friday night.

Republican optimism was as heavy as a London fog especially so over the outcome of the senatorial race in Texas.

Porter was more than sure of his election and said: "I will be elected to the Senate and I will be seated."

Elaboratinbg on his prophecy, Porter hastily added, "if, by some miracle, Lyndon Johnson is elected, I don't believe he would be seated."

Porter flayed what he and Haley described as "an election steal by stuffing the ballot boxes and counting out Coke Stevenson in Jim Wells, Duval and Webb Counties," and said:

"The Democrats in Washington are worried and they will be worried more so when a Republican who is a real Democrat sits down to serve with them."

Porter opened up with both barrels at Johnson and declared, "I come to you with clean hands, with what does Lyndon Johnson come?. . ."

The Houston oil man further charged Johnson had "consistently refused to vote against the Communists in Washington and had voted against lowering of taxes."

Stassen, who was introduced by Porter, lashed the foreign policy and peace attempts by the present administration saying that American troops and industry had won the war, and did "a wonderful

Pampa Has Twentieth Case Polio

During the past 78 days there have been 20 cases of poliomyelitis in and around Pampa. The twentieth case, five-month-old Anna Jameson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jameson, 825 E. Gordon, was admitted to the West Texas polio center Friday night.

At noon yesterday, the baby still had developed no paralysis, but was suffering from considerable respiratory infection. Attending physicians at Plainview said she was under oxygen and was receiving close observation. She had a high cell count and had been ill since last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jameson returned to Pampa late yesterday. They said physicians were not yet sure as to the seriousness of their daughter's case. They have one other child, Frank Kenneth, two years old.

The West Texas polio center personnel say the respiratory type of infantile paralysis is expected to become more frequent as incidence of common colds increase.

Pampa's nineteenth case was Karen Kay Denton, seven-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Denton of the Cabot-Kingsmill Camp northeast of Pampa. The girl was admitted to the polio center Oct. 7.

Ann Lou Davenport, sixteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Davenport of Dalhart, definitely has polio, physicians at the clinic decided Friday. She was admitted to the center Wednesday, but frequent cell counts, spinal taps and other examinations failed to show she definitely had polio until Friday night.

There were 26 patients in the center yesterday.

Bond Set in Auto Theft

Bond of $2,500 was set late Friday for Bill Loucks, Pampa after charges of burglary and car theft were filed by District Attorney Tom Braly.

Loucks, now under suspended sentence for forgery in Carson County, remained in County Jail in default of bond.

The charge of car theft arose after Loucks and his 14-year-old brother were apprehended by Constable John Cox in Shamrock, driving in a Plymouth car they had stolen earlier in Lefors. The two boys also made statement to officers admitting the burglary of two McLean service stations and garages where they got less than $15 in cash. Their short-lived crime spree occurred Thursday night and started with the theft of the car in Lefors belonging to Jim Thurmond.

City Patrolmen Select 33 Good Women Drivers During B-PW Week

Thirty-three good women drivers in Pampa and two good drivers from the outside are what the Business & Professional Women's Club and city patrolmen have decided exist in these parts.

Throughout the past week the local B & PW group has been working on the special project of safe driving, held in connection with the National Business Women's Week.

Mrs. George Neef, who was declared a winner Monday, yesterday was judged "the best woman driver" in Pampa and was presented with the grand prize of a pair of nylons. The other winners received passes to the LaNora Theater. The National Business Women's Week marked the 21st annual observance. The general theme this year has been "Use Your Vote in '48."

Candidates Take Rest Over Sunday

By the Associated Press

The Democratic and Republican presidential nominees took brief breathers today from their grinding campaign travels.

Voicing confidence of victory President Truman got back to the White House yesterday afternoon from a six-day 3,500-mile swing through the Middlewest in which he pounded away at the Republicans on virtually every issue.

Governor Dewey, the Republican nominee, arranged to rest today at his mother's home at Owosso, Mich., as he neared the end of a stumping loop that carried him farther west than his Democratic rival.

Both candidates resume their travels tomorrow.

PARIS —(AP)— A Soviet bloc delegate charged Saturday in the United Nations that a military clique stopped President Truman from sending a special peace envoy to Moscow.

Juliusz Katz-Suchy of Poland said President Truman was "a prisoner of a military clique." He apparently referred to Secretary of State Marshall's recommendation against the President's plan to send Chief Justice Vinson to the Kremlin for direct talks about the atomic control stalemate. President Truman cancelled the plans after conferring with Marshall, former Army chief of staff.

In his speech before the Assembly Disarmament Subcommittee, Katz-Suchy called for a halt to what he called Americans interfering in Europe.

The East-West war of hot words went on elsewhere in the U.N., too.

Alexei Pavlov of Russia shouted before the Assembly's Social Committee that Christopher Mayhew of Britain was a liar and a mouthpiece for fascism in the U.N. "He has started a cold war in the Social Committee," the bearded Russian said.

Pavlov was replying to Mayhew's attack Friday in which he accused the Soviet Union of holding its workers in "a monstrous slave system without parallel in world history."

The angry words came as the next move was awaited on the Berlin blockade. The six neutral nations on the Security Council met privately and their spokesman, Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia, planned to confer again with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky.

Bramuglia, acting council president, was reported hopeful that Vishinsky would state the Russian position on Berlin in writing when the council meets Tuesday.

Members of the Argentine delegation still were miffed by Vishinsky's attitude.

The United States, Britain and France planned to coordinate their replies to the queries for more information from the six neutrals —Argentina, Colombia, Syria, Belgium, Canada and China—over the weekend.

In his fiery speech, Katz-Suchy ignored two requests from the chair that he confine his remarks to disarmament. He asked about U.S. bases in Greenland, in North Africa and "the economic penetration in Europe."

Referring to American charges of Russian fifth columns, the Polish delegate said the United States had one, too. "Its radio foments unrest in all of Europe," he said.

"Can you explain the use of $5,000,000 in Italy . . . the intelligence service in Germany operating on the border of Czechoslovakia?" he asked.

China's T. F. Tsiang rejected Russia's demand for a one-third slash in the arms of the Big

Jews Said Nearing Capital of Arabs

TEL AVIV —(AP)— Reliable informants said last night an Israeli motorized column with air support was hammered to within a few miles of Gaza, principal Egyptian Army base in Palestine.

(In Cairo, Egyptian government officials said Egyptian troops had killed more than 500 Jews in repulsing an Israeli attack on their positions in Southern Palestine. The officials also said Egyptian planes had intercepted two Jewish fighter planes over the El Arish area and forced both of them down.

(Egyptian anti-tank guns set fire to all the attacking Jewish tanks, the officials said. They added that panic spread among the Israeli forces who escaped, leaving behind large quantities of weapons and ammunition and more than 500 dead.)

The report, lacking confirmation, was made as Israel rejected a United Nations cease-fire order and apparently pushed a coordinated land and air offensive aimed at smashing open a road to settlements in the Negev, southern desert area.

While observers speculated whether the truce had been wide open, an Israel army spokesman late last night said he believed fighting on the southern front had died down after about 36 yours of activity.

Besides being the principal Egyptian base, Gaza is the provisional capital of the new Arab government for Palestine sponsored by the Palestine Arab Higher Committee. It is on the coast only 20 miles from the Egyptian frontier.

Preliminary reports said the Jews attacked the Egyptians' supply line between Faluja and Magdal.

The only official statement on the attack from the Army said a motorized column staged a "punitive raid" on the Arab bastion of Iraq El Mashieh, 20 miles northeast of Gaza on the Magdal-Hebron Road.

This communique said the column pounded into the town, shot it up, killed a number of Egyptian soldiers, destroyed a dump and knocked out gun emplacements.

"We lost three light tanks, in the operation before we retired," a spokesman added.

The raid followed heavy shelling of the nearby Jewish colony of Gath by Egyptian artillery located at Iraq El Mashieh and

HST Orders New Program For Reserves

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman announced yesterday a $14,400 million military spending budget for next fiscal year—an increase of more than $2 billion over this year—and ordered a "vigorous" program to build up and train military reserve units.

But he emphasized that his moves were not caused by any worsening of the world situation. "In fact," he said, "world tension has eased slightly and there has been some improvement in the Russian attitude. He said the Russians are better about talking things over.

The President's remarks were made aboard his train returning to Washington from an election tour.

On the score of military spending, the President said defense officials had wanted around $23 billion for next year. But he said he had cut the requests back, because it would take a Croesus to spend like that.

(Whether he wins or loses the election, the President must prepare budget estimates for Congress convening next January.)

When firm foundations for world peace are laid, Mr. Truman said, military spending should drop to aroung $5 billion to $7 billion.

He said the general idea he has been working on since the war ended was to get a military program the country can pay for." Referring to his order about the reserves he said there are 800,000 or 900,000 officers who received training in World War II and at least half of them would like to keep up their training. He said reserves are paid during training periods.

Charles G. Ross, White House press secretary, said the reserve program did not stem from any deterioration in international relations but was due to the Navy and Marines getting ahead of the Army and Air Forces in organizing their reserves.

The President's program, he said, "is intended to obtain a better balance."

Mr. Truman's executive order apparently came as a surprise to Pentagon officials.

For hours, there was no word from the military establishment. Reporters were sent to Forrestal's office. Eventually that office issued an eight-line statement, saying there would be no comment because the order had not yet been received.

Mr. Truman's instructions to Forrestal included the order to assign "an active, capable, high-ranking officer" to head the re-

M. M. Mammerman, deputy regional Scout executive of Dallas, will arrive in Pampa tomorrow to spend four days touring Boy Scout districts, Paul Beisenherz, executive of the Adobe Walls Area Council, said yesterday.

He will attend the district committee meeting at Borger Thursday night.

The Budget Committee of the Adobe Walls Council will meet at the Boy Scout office in the City Hall at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, L. N. Atchison, chairman, said.

Members of the committee include: C. A. Huff, treasurer; A. W. Paris, Phillips; J. B. Langston, Guymon; William E. McClellan, Spearman; and Farris C. Oden, Pampa.

'GOOD NEIGHBOR'—Mrs. Emma LeFors, pioneer resident of the Panhandle, is shown above being interviewed by Carl Livingston, of KPDN's Good Neighbor program. 'Good Neighbor' Is Pioneer of the West; New Guessing Game Will Begin Wednesday

Mrs. Emma LeFors, one of the first white women to live in this part of the Texas Panhandle, was born at Rheinfelden, Switzerland near Basel, the capital. She and two sisters came to this country when she was 16. They lived for a while at Frankfort, Ky., and then moved to Dodge City, Kans., then one of the main settlements in the new West.

Her first residence in Texas was at the Diamond F. Ranch, near Mobeetie. There, she later married the first man she had seen when she arrived at the ranch.

Mrs. LeFors wouldn't give dates when she was interviewed as the Good Neighbor subject. Nonetheless, she says she knew almost all the pioneers here, whose names many of Pampa's streets now perpetuate. In 1918, she went to Los Angeles where she lived for 10 years. She organized the Christian Scientist Church here in 1929.

Yesterday, Station KPDN announced that a new guessing game would begin this week, to be called "The Mystery Voice." The new contest is to be introduced during the Good Neighbor program from the stage of the LaNora Theatre on Wednesday. The program goes on the air at 10 a. m. This week, the "voice" will be heard both at the beginning and the end of the program, and members of the theater audience will be given a chance to guess whose voice it is. After this week, one person will be called on the telephone to be given a chance to guess the character.

Analyst Says Allies Ready To Aid German Recovery

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Back in the late war—the second world conflict started by Germany in a generation — the Allies swore a mighty oath they would so thoroughly smash the Reich that never again would it be able to wage aggression.

Naturally destruction of the German war potential involved the wiping out of all arsenals and factories capable of material contribution to armaments. Many of these factories were destroyed by bombing, and those which survived were slated by Allied agreement to be dismantled and removed as reparations.

It wasn't foreseen, of course, that the conflict was going to be followed by another struggle among the Allies themselves—the "cold war" which shortly grew out of Communist aggression. So in the flush of victory over Hitlerism the Allies made agreements which not only emasculated Germany's military potential but cut heavy into the ordinary industrial potential.

When the Bolshevist drive against Western Europe got into full swing it became apparent that defense depended on economic recovery of the war-stricken countries.

Along with this development has come a far more widespread realization that before the world war Germany was one of the keystones of European economy.

It is clear that general rehabilitation depends heavily on German recovery.

This is a very disturbing thought for countries like France, Britain and Belgium, which twice have stood the brunt of the Reich's initial onslaughts.

However, it appears that both France and Britain are prepared to halt the dismantling of important German plants pending a review of the part which the Reich can play in European economic recovery.

The mere fact that the Western Allies appear prepared to reconsider the whold German situation is in itself a momentous development.

It isn't going too far, I believe, to say that world peace will depend heavily on how this problem is handled. The Western democracies may find it possible to meet Moscow's threat by putting Germany on its feet—always, of course, with proper safeguards against the re-creation of a strong war potential in the Reich.

Driver Averts Serious Damage From Dynamite

TAMAQUA, Pa.—(AP) — A truck loaded with 10 tons of dynamite blew up on a highway near Tamaqua early yesterday and thanks to some daring rescue work by the truck's driver, no one was injured.

State Policeman Edward Zmijewski said this version of the mishap was given him by the driver, 31-year-old E. W. Petty of Little Rock, Ark.

Petty loaded his truck at nearby Reynolds, Pa., and then started for Raleigh, N. C.

He pulled the truck off the highway and went to sleep, awakening at 5 a. m. He had driven about one mile when he smelled smoke and then saw flames in the rear of the truck.

Petty leaped from the vehicle and raced along the highway flagging down cars. He started back for the truck but stopped when he heard a small explosion.

Then a series of terrific blasts knocked Petty from his feet.

Oklahoma U. Has Problem

MAN, Okla.—(AP)—Oklahoma nestled down to its racial segregation problem with a huge question mark on how it will work for the future.

G. W. McLaurin, 54-year-old Negro professor, attended his first class in sociology at the University of Oklahoma Friday.

At the same time, Mrs. Mauderie Hancock Wilson, an Oklahoma City Negro secretary, applied for entrance to the graduate school of social science.

She was refused entrance last March because of the state's segregation laws.

Dean J. E. Fellows said no immediate action could be taken.

McLaurin was enrolled for graduate work by the university's Board of Regents after a federal court ordered him admitted. The regents authorized his admittance on a "complete basis of segregation." The university changed the classroom of its sociology class in order to segregate the professor and still provide him with equal educational opportunities.

McLaurin was seated in a small anteroom just a couple of feet from the regular classroom in view of the instructor, Dr. F. A. Balyeat.

Commission Refuses Fish Sanctuary

AUSTIN—(AP)—The Game Commission's wide-open policy of letting the public fish if and when it can find something to fish for was re-affirmed here.

This action came when the commission rejected a petition by a group of citizens who asked for establishment of a fish sanctuary along a section of the Clear Fork of the Brazos River near Eliasville.

No fishing is permitted in such sanctuaries.

The commission was asked to ban fishing in the area where a stream barrier causes fish moving upstream from Possum Kingdom Lake to concentrate.

Anglers who favor bait-fishing in Possum Kingdom Lake also got a break from the commission.

It voted to relax the strict minnow-taking regulations to permit each angler to seine or trap 50 minnows there for his own use. It continued the present ban on commercial minnow-netting in the fishing paradise, but it agreed it was silly to torment anglers by forcing them to buy minnows at a nickel apiece, when all the bait they could use might be swimming in a net's reach of their boats.

Three members of the commission who were present agreed with Howard Dodgen, executive secretary, who said one of the agency's primary objectives was to make good fishing available to as many persons as possible, not to keep folks from catching fish.

The commission took under consideration a plan to establish a safe nesting ground for white wing doves, probably along the Rio Grande somewhere south of Laredo.

It's More Serious Than Eggs Were

Henry Wallace has had a lot of eggs thrown at him in the last few weeks. But it's no egg that Louis Budenz has thrown in an article called, "How the Reds Snatched Henry Wallace," in the current Collier's magazine. What Mr. Budenz has thrown looks more like a political haymaker.

The author is the former managing editor of the Communist Daily Worker. He tells his story from his experience as one of the Reds who, he says, hatched the Wallace boom on orders from Moscow.

Something happened during Mr. Wallace's wartime visit to Siberia, he writes, that caused the Kremlin to send urgent directives to its American agents to support the then vice president's political ambitions. The orders were issued at a meeting in June, 1944, which Mr. Budenz says he attended.

The article goes on to say that Communists all over the country —not identified as such, of course —flooded Democratic politicians with demands that Mr. Wallace be renominated for vice president in 1944. They conducted a similar campaign when his appointment as secretary of commerce was up for Senate confirmation.

Mr. Budenz recalls that he was at another Communist meeting in February, 1945, when a top boss named Trachtenberg told the National Board, "We have taken Wallace into custody." And in December, 1946, the Red periodical Political Affairs urged the creation of a third party and, says Mr. Budenz, "singled out Wallace as one who had 'contributed a great deal toward checking the GOP advance.'"

Mr. Wallace and his board of strategy may denounce the article as an election-year smear. But we don't think it can be ducked or brushed off that easily. It is, we repeat, no egg.

Any detailed answer that Mr. Wallace may make will be largely a matter of his words against his accuser's. But there are external factors that will handicap the third-party candidate in any attempt to explain away the charges. denies that he has the active and

No one, not even Henry Wallace, denies that he has the active and unanimous support of the American Communist Party. His campaign is being managed for the most part by persons with records of Communist sympathy and left-wing activity. He has never renounced the support of Communists as such, nor has he strayed from the general line of Soviet-Communist international policy.

Against such a background it will scarcely be enough for him to deny that he is playing the Communist game.

There is as little chance that Henry Wallace will be elected president in November as there is that the Communists will seize control of Washington tomorrow. But that is no reason to ignore the charges of Mr. Budenz.

If those charges are not disproved, then we must reflect that except for fate and conservative Democratic politicians, Henry Wallace would have been president for the last three years—a president in the custody of a hostile power's agents.

Many loyal Americans supported Mr. Wallace's renomination in 1944. A lot of them have changed their minds about him since then. But some of them are still gullible. The accusations of Louis Budenz, a former Communist insider, will give the gullible the rude awakening and the warning that they need—unless Mr. Wallace can show convincingly that those accusations are false.

Fair Enough -- by Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK — After Felix Frankfurter and his claque and clique of happy hot dogs had lobbied through his nomination for the Supreme Court where he could give direct force to his extraordinary deference to public opinion in Russia under Trotsky the butcher, he was "invited" down to Washington to tell the Senate Judiciary Committee about himself.

"I, of course, do not wish to testify in support of my own nomination," said the modest little fellow who was to push his man, Stimson, into the War Department and his man, Alger Hiss, into the State Department, which sent him to Yalta to sit with Roosevelt and Stalin when they turned out the light on Godly civilization.

Frankfurter thought it would be improper of a nominee to express personal views on controversial issues, having said which, he bashfully showered himself with newmown laurel. His own great virtue was a non-controversial topic, of course. He was an effective, and said he had "served under if not too subtle, name-dropper President (Theodore) Roosevelt and happened to enjoy as thousands of others did, his very kind and encouraging friendship. . . .I was devoted to him. He inspired a sense of civic service within me as he did within so many other young men."

By way of expression of his great trust in the honor and character of Frankfurter, T. R. had written him that his report to President Wilson on the Bisbee deportation was "as thoroughly misleading a document as could be written on the subject."

Frankfurter had told Wilson that this report was "a candid and just statement," but not once did it even mention the Industrial Workers of the World, a band of anarchists who created such terror in Bisbee that the deportation was violent insurrection.

Frankfurter taught administrative law, a special course, at Harvard Law School, from 1914 to 1939. He was succeeded by James M. Landis, another of the happy hot dogs, who promoted "unity" with Russian public opinion by deciding that Harry Bridges was not a Communist. Landis served from 1939 to 1946. During his term as member and chairman of the Securities Exchange Commission in Washington, 1934-37, Carol King, a she-lawyer, who has served Bridges and many others of his type and worse, as counsel, was appointed by the commission to serve as a lawyer and investigator. She has a record as the defender of accused Communists in the files of the Dies and Thomas committee as long as your arm. The associate of today not infrequently finds himself—or herself—pleading a case before an old friend tomorrow in the exciting life of New Deal lawyers in Washington.

Milton Katz is the present occupant of the Byrne chair at Harvard Law which was vacated by Frankfurter and Landis. He was originally an anthropologist but was graduated from Harvard Law in 1931. He is not on leave from Harvard Law to serve as general counsel of the European Recovery Administration. Landis and Katz were pupils and proteges of Frankfurter. Katz was picked to guarantee that neither unfairness, favoritism nor prejudice should sully the administration. The Frankfurter tradition would tend to fortify a man against those weaknesses. Good thing, too. Reassuring.

Kenneth C. Royall now secretary of the Army, was a Harvard Law graduate of 1917. Thus the great tradition is carried on even though the War Department, as such, has been abolished. First there was Stimson, who was 73 years old in 1940 when Felix wangled him in, three years above the age at which the Roosevelt clique during the court-packing fight would have superseded a Supreme Court justice on grounds of senile dilapidation. He was 78 when he got out. At that age if a Supreme Court justice didn't resign to make room for the fine integrity of a Frankfurter, a Murphy or an Alabama "barn-burner," they were fixing to take him down to the wood-lot and shoot him.

The next secretary of war was Frankfurter's old Harvard Law friend, Robert Patterson, a Republican who got a case of galloping ismatics during the war and in 1944 announced that he was going to support Roosevelt that is, vote Democratic. Not that he had to tell anyone. After he said that he only knew that the Lincoln Brigade in Spain were brave fighters against fascism and didn't know they were Communists, he didn't have to tell. It was alarming to some citizens to learn that a fellow who was in reality the effective or acting head of the War Department in the greatest war in history, and with the Army intelligence, the FBI and many other sources of information, didn't know that this Lincoln Brigade was a Communist army. It seemed on the strange side. However, they raise them that way at Harvard Law. And that way is smart. Clever. They don't know a Communist when they see one, which has been pretty nice for the Communists.

Now the War Department is gone, but the Department of the Army is the outfit that will have charge of the indoctrination of the young men who will be called up for the Roosevelt memorial war. As to whether Mr. Royall believes in the doctrine that was taught the troops under Stimson and Patterson we have still to learn. That doctrine was that anyone who hated Communists was a fascist and anyone who exposed and fought Roosevelt's criminal unioneers was an enemy of labor.

Mr. Royall made colonel in the second war, which is pretty high but still a grade under the rank of that dashing soldier from Harvard Law, another Frankfurter happy hot dog, Brig.-Gen. Telford Taylor, the great avenging sword of the civilized nations in the Nuremberg trials. He is now just 40 years old. A prodigy! The dashing general did his dashing in the corridors of the law departments.

Brig.-Gen. Telford Taylor is a military genius from Harvard Law and a warrior in the great tradition of Felix Frankfurter. He is an old Washington hand, young though he be. Served in the old AAA under Jerome Frank. Married a niece of Jim Landis. Federal Communications Commission. All that sort of thing. Nothing wrong with Telford Taylor, of Harvard Law.

Husband's 'Gifts' Grounds for Divorce

LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Cruelty was the charge made by Mrs. Solomon W. Laykin and she got the divorce from her husband, wealthy Beverly Hills jeweler.

Laykin liked to impress friends by giving her expensive jewelry or an occasional $1,000 check at dinner parties, she testifeied.

"What's cruel about that?" asked the court.

"As soon as our guests were gone," replied Mrs. Laykin, "My husband would take the jewelry back and destroy the checks."

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

Who Killed Belief in the Competitive System?

Since this column has had so much to say about education, and especially tax-supported education, I was very much interested in a pamphlet issued by the Small Business Economic Foundation under the heading of "Who Killed Horatio Alger?" This really means, of course, who is responsible for people believing less and less in the competitive, free enterprise system? This pamphlet says:

"A recent survey reveals the startling fact that this trend has proceeded to the point where 41 out of every 100 Americans would rather look to the Government for their jobs and security than to private employment."

"Today our educational system is the weakest link in our struggle to defend our American way of life.

"It is the weakest support of our free enterprise system.

"Yet it is supported almost exclusively by the proceeds of our wealth-producing economy run by businessmen.

"It is the common responsibility of every citizen and parent.

"It is something that practically every citizen, irrespective of his job or station in his community can do something about.

"It is something that businessmen in particular should do something about, and the time is long overdue."

Another statement issued by the authors of this booklet:

'Any objective person can quickly discover for himself that:

"1. Not only does the average school curriculum and its textbooks provide a completely inadequate description of how our free society produces, distributes and consumes its goods and services and rewards its various participants for their individual roles; but

"2. That a great many textbooks, and a goodly number of teachers too, are teaching ideas and theories about how we live and work together that are actually contrary to the principles and operations of our free democratic system."

This is all very well, but then the solution for this harmful condition as suggested by the authors of this Small Business Economic Foundation folder is that businessmen take a greater interest in public education.

The authors of this presentation have now about the same belief that I used to have — that it was possible to get tax-supported educational institutions to teach moral principles, to teach the principles on which this government was formed. At that time I did not realize that the whole structure of tax-supported education was incompatible with the principals on which this government was formed. I did not realize years ago that tax-supported education was based on might makes right or that the majority can do things that are wicked for the individual to do. I didnt' realize that tax-supported education is an attempt to serve two gods—two masters; that it is impossible for tax-supported schools to teach the exact opposite from what they ared oing—namely, that it is impossible for taxsupported schools to teach that all transactions should be voluntary, that the group or the state or a sub-division of the state has no right to do things that each and every individual didn't originally have a right to do.

It is no more possible to get tax-supported education to teach and explain free enterprise than it would be to get a highway robber to teach people to respect private property and human initiative. People cannot teach exactly the opposite from what they are doing.

And that is the reason no superintendent of schools, no teacher in tax-supported education for $500 will attempt to harmonize without evasion tax-supported schools with the Ten Commandments or the Declaration of Independence. That is the reason Robert Sproul, president of the University of California, would not for $1,000 attempt to harmonize tax-supported schools with these great moral principals on which this government was formed.

I am glad, however, to see that the Small Business Economic Foundation is beginning to realize there is something radically wrong with our educational institutions. I am glad to know that the members of this group realize that our educational system is the "weakest link in our struggle to defend our American way of life."

It is really irrational to think that we can have good state and national governments as long as people believe in tax-supported educational institutions. We are reaping nationally and internationally, and in our state and county governments exactly what we are sowing in our public educational institutions in every community. We are reaping state socialism. That is exactly what tax-supported educational institutions are.

Tricks Or Treats

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER

BOSTON — The six small states of New England, which normally parallel the nation-wide pattern of voting in presidential years, will cast their ballots for the Dewey-Warren ticket with the possible exception of Rhode Island, which has only four electoral votes. And there is a bare possibility that Democratic National Chairman J. Howard McGrath's bailiwick may fall into the Republican column.

Franklin D. Roosevelt destroyed the Republican-inspired myth that "as Maine goes, so goes the nation." One of the classics of modern political wisecracking was James A. Farley's comment, after the Landon debacle in 1936, that "as Maine goes, so goes Vermont.

But the historical fact is that New England, whose sturdy sons and daughters streamed across the country to settle cities and organize states beyond the Mississippi River and the Rockies, still provides the voting pattern for the United States.

Yankeeland has almost the same proportion of manufacturing and farming as the nation has. It is blessed with the same percentage of immigrant children who, landing at Boston or Ellis Island, trod westward.

New England, in short, is a most excellent laboratory test in any presidential election.

REMARKS — With the exception of Maine, where the Alf Landon political syrup still flows from the maple trees, New England swore by Franklin D. Roosevelt. His all-things-to-all-men sermons won him every important voting element from Bangor to Boston. He even helped to elect a congressman from Maine in the early New Deal years.

But the Democrats' political shine has worn thin. The great Roman Catholic vote—the Irish, the French-Canadians and the Poles—has been shocked by Truman's pro-Stalin deals at Potsdam and by FDR's concessions to Moscow at Yalta.

Two offhand and ill-considered remarks by President Truman will cost him thousands of votes in this country—enough to lose all New England, with its sizeable electoral total.

The presidential statements hurting him up here are his off-the-cuff remark at the editors' dinner last spring that "I like Uncle Joe." The other press conference offgiving that will lose him votes is his characterization of the Congressional committee's investigation of governmental Communists as a "red-herring."

Mr. Truman may win Rhode Island's four electoral votes. Not, however, because of his popularity in "Little Rhody." Only because Mr. McGrath and Senator Green, a multi-millionaire, will spend big money to maintain their national prestige.

EFFICIENT— As related in an earlier column from Albany, the Democrats have no funds, are not ringing doorbells and are concentrating on their local rather than on the Truman-Barkley ticket.

But at Albany and Boston the writer ran into the most efficient public and political relations organizations, on the Republican side, he has seen in almost thirty years of doing national politics.

At Albany the Dewey gathering of stories or material approximates a newspaperman's dream. At the New York Capital or on tour, speeches and biographical stuff are prepared at least one day ahead. A newspaper reporter (and they are the most important men on a campaign train), a columnist, a radio commentator or a magazine writer gets his material far ahead of his deadline.

SOUR — FDR had this same deadly efficiency, politically and journalistically, in 1932, 1936, 1940 and 1944. It was a pleasure to travel with him, even for newspapermen and politicians who did not agree or sympathize with him.

But here is the comment about the Truman train and the White House atmosphere delivered by one of the writer's fellow-columnists who crossed the country with President Truman:

"We never got Truman's speeches on time to make our early editions. After we got them, they were revised, and we had to rewrite our earlier stories. We also got sick of his everyday and everynight ranting against somebody.

"Dewey and Warren are not much better. They are talking sweetness and light, and there are no headlines in that stuff, against the World Series and the Saturday football games. From a newspaper standpoint, this a sour campaign.

LABOR — The writer's automobile, questionnaire tour through one of the most industrialized sections of the United States—from Maryland to Maine, including New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York—suggest that the Hartley-Taft Act will not be an important issue in the presidential campaign, although President Truman hopes to capitalize on his veto of the measure.

I have discussed this Taft-Hartley question with labor leaders, with Democratic and Republican politicians and with non-political people whom any traveller meets on such a trip as I have taken. They seem to like it because it has broken the grip of a few top labor dictators on the workers down below.

The workers who once placed all their trust in the big bosses—William Green, Phil Murray and John L. Lewis—realize that their leaders fight the T-H Act, and the congressmen who voted for it, only to save their political face.

FACE — Anyway, regardless of the labor leaders' attempt to save their face and prestige in next November's presidential election, Governor Dewey expects to win at least 40 percent of the nation's labor vote.

These are Albany estimates, but I subscribe to them on the basis of my canvass of labor sentiment throughout the country. In view of the fact that President Roosevelt captured at least 90 percent of the labor vote, a Dewey corraling of even 30 percent, although it might total 40 percent, would insure a Truman defeat.

Far more important than the outcome of the presidential election, "President" Dewey plans to call a conference of management, labor and government experts in an attempt to perfect the Taft-Hartley Act so that it will satisfy management, labor, investors and consumers.

If he can do that, Tom Dewey will be a political miracle-maker!

KOCH WHITEWASHING . . . . . by Peter Edson

WASHINGTON (NEA)- Senate War Investigating Committee will hold public hearings on the Army's cut in sentence from life imprisonment to four years for Frau Ilse Koch, "belle" of the Nazis' Buchenwald prison camp. Date of the hearings will be set just as soon as Sen. Homer Ferguson of Michigan, chairman of the committee, can recover from a chest cold and get back to Washington.

Principal aim of the Senate's investigation into the Koch case will be to find some formula to get the Army off the hook and get Frau Koch's sentence stepped up again.

Reduction of the Koch sentence, has, however, aroused a storm of protest in the United States. Frau Koch was the wife of one of the commanders of Buchenwald. She was accused of beating prisoners and of instigating their torture. In her apartment it was said there were lamp shades made from the skin of human victims.

EIGHT-JUDGE COURT

In all, there were 31 Nazis accused of horrors at Buchenwald. They were tried before an eight-judge military court, headed by Brig.-Gen. Emil Kiel, now stationed at Scott Air Base, Belleville, Ill. This eight-judge court, after hearing evidence from April to August, 1947, found all 31 defendants guilty. Death sentences were given to 22, life imprisonment to five others, 10-to-20-year imprisonment for the other four.

Prosecutor at the Buchenwald trial was Maj. William D. Denson of Birmingham, Ala., now an attorney for Atomic Energy Commission in Washington. Defense counsel was Maj. Carl Whitney, now stationed at the Pentagon, Washington.

After sentences were handed down by the court, Major Whitney went through the routine legal move of filing petition for review and clemency. In all, 13 sentences were reduced as a result. Several of the death sentences were cut to life imprisonment. Frau Koch was given life imprisonment instead of the death penalty because she became pregnant before her trial began and her child had not been born when she was sentenced.

Record of the whole case was sent to review officer, Lt.-Col. Clio E. Straight, deputy judge advocate general for military government in Germany. This is normal procedure under military justice.

In civilian criminal practice, an appeals court reviewing a lower court decision does not go into the reliability of witnesses, nor on what part of the evidence is ture or false. Colonel Straight, however, arbitrarily decided that part of the testimony against Ilse Koch was false or insufficient evidence. He did this solely on reading the Buchenwald trial record of over 1000 pages. He did not see nor re-examine any of the witnesses. He then recommended that Frau Koch's sentence be reduced from life to four years. This was confirmed last June by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. military governor in Germany. No announcement was made at the time.

Lieutenant-Colonel Straight is now stationed at the Pentagon. He will be called as a witness before the Ferguson committee. So will William Denson, the prosecutor, and Major Whitney, the defense counsel.

IMPORTANT WITNESS

Another witness who may get a chance to defend the Army's position on the Koch case is Leon B. Poullada, now in the Foreign Service Institute, Department of State. Poullada was defense counsel for the Nordhausen concentration camp war criminals. Nordhausen was a branch of Buchenwald, but its staff was tired separately.

Poullado has made public a long written statement on the Buchenwald and other war crimes trials. He admits that "Frau Koch was a morally depraved woman not fit for the company of decent people anywhere." But he claims that much of the evidence cited against her was rumor and hearsay, and that the court was swayed by emotional prejudices. And he says that the Army had to take every precaution that there was no miscarriage of justice, so that the German people would be impressed by American fairness.

What bothers the Senate Investigating Committee is that cutting of the Koch sentence will make the German people believe that the atrocity stories were not true in the first place. Whitewashing one of the principal Buchenwald defendants by letting her off with a minor sentence, it is feared, will play into the hands of Nazis who were reluctant to believe that anything unusual had happened in a camp where 50,000 human beings were ruthlessly exterminated, and another 20,000 starved.

INCENTIVE TO BUY STOCK
(The Wall Street Journal)

When Gwilym A. Price, president of the Westinghouse Electric Corp., told the American Bankers Association in Detroit that present federal tax laws were largely responsible for a serious dearth of venture capital, he said what others have correctly said. He went further and supported his thesis with the record of industrial and service financing in 1947. That record fairly raises the question whether a private enterprise economy can last long with the owners of private capital so unwilling to subject it to the risks of commercial venturing.

Last year, according to Mr. Price's figures, industry invested roughly $26.5 billion in plant expansion and improvement and additional working capital. But only $1.3 billion was obtained from the sale of stock and only half of this was common stock. A little more than $15 billion was provided by current an accumulated profits—corporate treasury assets—while no less than $10 billion was borrowed money.

It is probably safe to assume that corporations in general have not enough liquid assets left to draw upon them for fixed investment at the same rate much longer. It is still more evident that industry cannot continue to encumber itself with debt and the entailed fixed charges on the scale here shown. Too much debt in proportion to owners' capital is perhaps the No. 1 cause of trouble for individual enterprises; aggregate figures such as these can and probably do veil a number of cases of capital structure topheavy with debt.

Mr. Price protests, as others have, against the double taxation which results when dividends in the hands of the stockholder are taxed, though the company earnings out of which they are paid have already been heavily taxed to the corporation. He further urges that federal revenue laws should set a limit on the maximum taxation of an individual's income, suggesting that it should not exceed half. Existing tax provisions not only discourage stock investment; they drain off a great part of the stream of new capital and divert it to the mostly unproductive uses of Government.

There are such other factors holding back potential venture capital from employment, such as the disquieting international tension. But oppressive taxation is unquestionably a factor and it is one about which the incoming Congress could do something in short order. As for budget balance, the custodians of the national purse need to realize more clearly, than they yet have, that our Government is still spending its money according to the habits bred by an all-out war.

GOOD BYE, MR. STEVENSON
(From Daily Oklahoman)

Unless the character of Texas politics has been completely revolutionized, the action of Coke Stevenson in bolting the Democratic senatorial ticket is the outstanding case of political suicide seen by the present generation.

Down in Texas the defeated primary candidate takes his medicine no matter how bitter that medicine may be. He may have had the nomination he sought bought from under his feet or he may have seen the nomination stolen from him outright. He may have been defeated by downright trickery or by undisguised slander. But no matter how his defeat may have been brought about, he must accept the verdict if he hopes to remain alive politically. Hell hath no fury greater than the hatred of the average Texas Democrat for one he considers a poor loser. And no doubt Coke Stevenson understood this fully when he decided to oppose the senatorial candidate who defeated him.

But in palliation of Stevenson's suicidal course it must be admitted that few defeated candidates ever had a sounder grievance. Not in a generation perhaps has a more tainted certificate of nomination been awarded to any candidate than the certificate now carried by Stevenson's primary opponent. Evidence that is nearly overwhelming indicates that the senatorial nominee of the Texas democracy is the recipient of stolen goods. Perhaps the open suicide of Coke Stevenson will not have been entirely valueless if it only helps to stir among decent Texans a righteous determination to end government by barter and sale and election thievery imposed upon a proud and imperial commonwealth by the bloc voting ballot jugglers along the lower Rio Grande.

SO THEY SAY

Practically all members of Congress, Democrat and Republican alike, will campaign actively against (President Truman). That's the difference between being put on the payroll by Mr. Truman and being elected by the people. —Hugh D. Scott, Jr., chairman of the Republican National Committee, commenting on Democratic reports that all cabinet members but Secretary of State Marshall would campaign for Mr. Truman.

Mankind can only gain protection against . . . annihilation if a supra-national organization has alone the authority to possess (the latest scientific) weapons. It is unthinkabble, however, that nations would hand over such an authority to a supra-national organization unless the organization would have the legal right and duty to solve all the conflicts which in the past have led to war.

—Dr. Albert Einstein.

Gracie Reports

Well, the Los Angeles County Fair —the world's biggest, of course— is now open. And if our local actors and comedians will forgive the expression, we're going to show the world we have the best corn, develop the best ham and lay bigger eggs than any other region of the kind anywhere.

This may surprise Hollywood, but there are a lot of people at the fair who think that a blue ribbon heifer is more beautiful than Gregory Peck, and that a lovely Guernsey has as much sex appeal as Lana Turner. And there may be even a few 4-H kids without enough time to listen to Frankie Boy, who swoon in ecstasy every time a prize Hereford steer clears its throat.

Oh yes, both President Truman and Goveronr Dewey will be in town during the fair. As I understand it, they're competing for a certain first prize, too.

REUNION IN CHINA—Charles Snow, son of Mrs. Lillian Snow, and Brice Lively, playmates and fellow students in grade and high school since they were both three years old, were separated last year when Charles enlisted in the Marine Corps last February. Brice followed him into the Navy early this year, and they met again in August when both were stationed at Tsingtao, China. Charles, left, is a private first class in the 3rd Marine Division, Fleet Marine Force, and Brice, right, son of Mrs. Thelma Lively, is a seaman first class aboard the USS Estes.

No GOP Plot, Just Blown Fuse Delays Barkley

ENID, Okla.—(AP)—It wasn't a Republican plot after all—just a blown fuse in the elevator.

The Youngblood Hotel told all in letters of apology to Sen. Alben W. Barkley and his party.

Thursday night the Democratic vice presidential nominee, Gov. Roy J. Turner of Oklahoma, and six others spent eight minutes in a dark elevator between two floors.

"An elevator failure such as you experienced could have happened anywhere," the letters read. "We deeply regret that you were discommoded by a blown fuse at a most inopportune time."

"Under separate cover we are sending you a spare fuse should a similar emergency occur in your future travels."

Auto Industry Sets New Post-War High

The previous high mark for a post-war week was 117,258 units built during the week ended Feb. 28, this year.

Radar Aids Weather Men to Look High In the Air to Map Route of Hurricane

By WILBUR JENNINGS

MIAMI, Fla. —(AP)— Meteorologists now look high in the air to map the probable route of a hurricane.

A simple rule developed by Chief Forecaster Grady Norton of the Miami Weather Bureau which involves the use of radar, permits storm forecasting to be done on a 24-hour basis.

As late as 1945, six-hour notice of an approaching hurricane was considered "perfect" warning.

Through long study of tropical air, Norton has found that the disturbances are carried along by the main air stream, sometimes far above the earth.

His rule, which is so simple that some meteorologists still refuse to believe it, has worked every time it has been applied.

Longer than 24-hour forecasts might be made, but Norton says that is ample time, "and there's always a chance of some break of nature upsetting the apple cart."

The rule calls for an exploration of the upper air with a pilot balloon until the "steering" level is found, "then we can tell which way the storm is heading and the path it will follow."

When the recent October storm was in the Florida Straits, Norton said the storm would "continue to head north for awhile and then turn to a northeastward direction." It did just that.

Radar plays a vital role. Before the war, pilot balloons used for probing the winds were good only as far as they could be seen with the aid of a telescope. Once they passed through a cloudbank, the meteorologist was through.

Today, a small metallic box attached to the bottom of a balloon records on radar just about as high as the balloon will go before bursting.

The "steering" level of a hurricane is found, Norton says, when the balloon reaches the top of the storm and is in normal air again.

The upper air stream, the forecaster says, has a broad flowing pattern like a river. Once the balloon reaches the stream, it goes along with it.

Some hurricanes extend 60,000 feet into the air but normally they find their level at about 10,000 feet. Norton calls the latter a "pretty good steering level."

The balloon also tells how fast the storm is traveling. Norton says it has been figured that it moves approximately 75 percent of the velocity of the air stream.

City of Berlin Has Become World's No. 1 Headache

EDITOR'S NOTE: (The Western powers say the Berlin blockade is a threat to peace. Soviet Russia says there is no blockade, and it's all a matter for the foreign ministers council to settle. This is a look into the background of the Berlin situation while the United Nations Security Council, over Russian protests, seeks a solution. Later stories will tell how Berliners are living and describe the ideological warfare in Berlin).

By WES GALLAGHER

BERLIN — (AP) — This rubble heap city of three million has become the world's No. 1 headache through too much goodwill in 1944 and too little in 1948.

The United States and Britain had too much goodwill and trust in future international relations in 1944.

The Soviet Union's lack of goodwill in carrying out international agreements brings a crisis over Berlin in 1948.

It began around a conference table in London in 1944. At the table was the European Advisory Commission set up by Russia, the United States and Great Britain. Victory was in the air. Soviet armies were advancing on Germany from the East. The Western powers had smashed into France and stood on the German borders. Allied air bombs shook the Reich from end to end. Berlin was not the least of the targets.

Russia, the United States and Britain were united with a common aim—to smash Germany. The watchword was co-operation.

The men around the table set up lines for the occupation in Germany without too much trouble.

Then it became a question of which city should be the seat of government for the victorious powers. The Russians wanted Berlin—which was deep in their assigned zone.

The American were opposed. First, they felt centering of German activity around the traditional capital would revive German nationalism. Second, they felt a border city which required no special corridors would be better.

The Russians insisted on their choice. It seemed not too important at the time, when all stress was on co-operation. So, the West gave in.

Berlin was set as the Allied capital.

U. S. State Department realists said specific and iron-clad agreements should be drawn up, providing means of getting in and out of the city through the Soviet-occupied zone.

The American representative, Ambassador John Winant, demurred. He said it was more important to show goodwill to the Soviets than to haggle over specific agreements.

The right of the Western powers to be in Berlin as occupying powers was clearly established by the London agreements. The getting in and out was left to the goodwill of the Russians.

Meanwhile, however, the era of goodwill was running out. The Allies were at odds on what kind of a post-war Germany should be created. Other East-West conflicts cropped up around the world.

Meanwhile, divided Western Germany was falling to pieces. Inflation killed the incentive to work.

The Soviets immediately (in June) closed the rail line with the excuse of "technical difficulties." The barge line developed "technical difficulties." The highway was shut by new controls, on the excuse the Western powers would use it to smuggle marks into the Soviet Zone.

With the land routes closed the Western powers resorted to the arm that won them the war—air power. Vast fleets of air transports—mostly American — roared over Berlin. This time they brought food, medicine and coal to more than two million Western Berliners.

The Russians have protested the airlift. Their pilots have buzzed the Western transports. Their flak guns have created nuisances in the corridors. But the lift has gone on.

In the air the Russians are at the same disadvantage as the West was on the ground. They may commit the overt act which might bring war. On the ground the West would have to push its armed convoys across the Soviet border. In the air, the Russians must shoot a British or American plane down to stop it. There is no other way.

But Berlin has become such an international issue it is believed the Soviets would risk war in the event force was tried. The stakes have become too great for a retreat without some face-saving compromise.

Tears of Joy Turn to Bitter Sobs of Grief

DETROIT —(AP)— In one brief moment, Sam Bovi's tears of joy turned to bitter sobs of grief.

Sam, now 45, went to the Springfield, Mo., federal prison from Detroit nine years ago for drug peddling. He was sentenced to three consecutive terms that totalled 16 years.

A good prisoner, he became interested in law books in the library. For years he studied them until he felt that he was ready to test his knowledge. Carefully, he pecked out on the typewriter an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Friday Federal Judge Theodore Levin ruled in Sam's favor that the sentencing judge, now retired, had no right to make the prison terms consecutive.

"I'm going to reduce your sentence to 10 years," Judge Levin told the breathless prisoner before him. "In view of your nine years of good behavior in prison, that will make you eligible for parole in two days."

The deep sadness in Sam's eyes vanished in a smile of joy. Tears of happiness filled his eyes as he left for the marshal's office, just two days away from freedom after nine years behind bars.

But as he reached the detention room, an immigration inspector stopped Sam.

The inspector was patient and didn't act like he relished his task. He explained that Sam had not paid taxes on the narcotics he sold back in 1939. He was an alien, who came from Italy at the age of five. An alien who fails to pay taxes he owes is subject to deportation, the inspector told Sam, although he is entitled to a hearing.

"When you get out two days from now you'll have to come with me," the inspector told him. "I have a deportation warrant for your arrest."

Governor Picks Girl To Represent State

AUSTIN —(AP)— Gov. Beauford H. Jester named Miss Bonnie Bland of Orange, University of Texas Senior art major who was Miss Texas of 1948, to represent Texas at the annual Christmas carnival in Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 24-28.

Gov. Jester said he was asked to select "the Texas princess" by authorities of the carnival.

COMMUNIST STRIKE CHARGED

HAMBURG, Germany —(AP)— German Communists are plotting to force a strike of Ruhr miners, Dr. Conrad Adenauer, chairman of the Western German Christian Democrat Party, charged. He said he had "clear evidence of a Communist plot" to bring about a strike next month.

Pirates Upset Irish in District 2-A

Fred Newsom Sparks Lefors To Stunning 12-7 Victory

SHAMROCK —(Special)— A potent band of Lefors Pirates staged one of the major Class A gridiron upsets here Friday night when it overpowered Coach Scott McCall's Shamrock Irishmen, 12 to 7

The Irishmen, rated second in state Class A competition, were bewildered by the unheralded show of Lefors strength. The Pirates, who were beaten, 6-0, by Panhandle last week, looked very impressive in racking up the win, their first in district play.

Coach Love's charges piled up 11 first downs, holding the Irishmen to six, and rushed for 245 yards. The Irish gained 99 yards from scrimmage, but passed for 55 yards while the Lefors skyway was held in check for two out of ten tries for only seven yards.

Big gun in the Lefors attack was Left Halfback Freddie Newsom, brilliant power runner, who scored the first Pirate tally and kept the Irishmen in hot water most of the times with his bruising runs.

Early in the first quarter, Newsom took a Shamrock punt on the Irish 40 and returned it to the 31. After a series of short gains, he then shot around left end for 20 yards and the first score. His kick was wide and the Pirates had to be content with a 6-0 lead—for the time being.

The second quarter consisted of short gains, neither team threatening seriously as the half ended with the score standing: Lefors, 6; Shamrock, 0.

A Shamrock fumble set the stage for the second Pirate counter in the third period when Center Bill Clemmons pounced on the loose ball on the Shamrock 41. A sustained drive carried to the two where Halfback Joe Combs knifed across for the score. Newsom's conversion was again no good.

The Irishmen attempted to retaliate late in the fourth quarter when Quarterback Jimmy Green set his sights and started hitting Ends Wayne Martin and Troy Pool with short passes. Green hit Martin with an aerial from the Lefors 35 to the 15 and Martin strode across for the initial Shamrock tally. Oliver McLemore kicked the extra point and the Lefors margin was narrowed to 12-7.

Early in the fourth quarter, a backfield in motion penalty cost the Irishmen a tally when Halfback Bryan Close passed 30 yards to Martin from his own 47, and Martin scored standing up, only to have the play nullified.

The tussle was a District 2-A game, initiating 1948 conference play. The Pirates must lose to some other District foe, and then the Irishmen must defeat the same aggregation, if the Irish are to get back into the fight.

Newsom was literally the "whole show" for the Pirates. He carried the ball 14 times in the first half and gained a total of 86 yards for an average of 6.2 per try.

Joe Combs and Friday Todd also turned in some nice ground gaining for the Pirates and Quarterback Ray Dickerson added confusion to the Irishmen with his deceptive handoffs.

Borger Downs Westerners in District Tilt

LUBBOCK —(Special)— A fast and furious fourth quarter that saw both teams score 14 points, highlighted a District 1-AA gridiron battle in Jones Stadium here Friday night as the Borger Bulldogs upset the Lubbock Westerners, 20-14.

The marginal Bulldog tally was set up with only 16 seconds left in the first half when R. C. Dalton hit End Gus Hampton with a 20-yard pass to the Lubbock four-yard line. Dalton then crashed over for the marker on the first play. Fullback Jerry Glass converted.

Neither team was able to shove across a counter in the third quarter and the Bulldogs maintained a 7-0 lead going into the final period.

R. C. Dalton intercepted a Westerner aerial to start things off in the fourth and on a beautiful return, eluded the Hub City eleven and sped from the midfield stripe to the Lubbock seven. Jerry Glass then flipped a five-yard aerial to Dalton for the tally. Glass' conversion was no good.

Borger Center Kenneth Hall broke into the scoring column a few plays later when he grabbed another Westerner pass on the Lubbock 35 and raced all the way to score standing up. The conversion try was no good.

Trailing 20-0, the Westerners attempted to get back into the game when Right Halfback Donald Decker raced right end for 33 yards and the first Lubbock score. Jimmy Richards kicked the extra point.

On the identical play as before, Decker again scored, this time on a spectacular 65-yard jaunt to pay dirt. Richards again kicked the extra point.

In statistics, the two clubs were pretty well even. Borger picked up seven first downs, Lubbock four. Borger passed for 70 yards while Lubbock managed only 13 yards via the airways. On the ground, Lubbock rushed for 135 yards, holding the Bulldogs to 103.

The modern design for '49 new Hudson

Come in and see the new Hudson—the lowest-built car on the highway, with beauty, riding qualities, comfort and safety only possible because of a new "step-down" design, offered by no other automobile!

Only once in a blue moon does a car step so far ahead that it is a protected investment in motor-car value! You are invited to see just such a car—the New Hudson with "The modern design for '49"—and for years to come!

Here is truly streamlined beauty—a stunning combination of free-flowing, low-built lines that develop naturally out of a recessed floor which is the key to a basically new and exclusive design principle. The New Hudson is the only car you step down into.

The development of a "step-down" zone in an exclusive, all steel Monobilt body-and-frame* permits Hudson to build the lowest car on the highway—only five feet from ground to top—while maintaining more interior head room than in any mass-produced car built today!

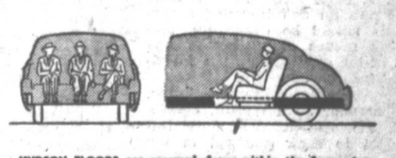

But streamlined beauty isn't the whole story of Hudson's modern design.

Hudson has a hug-the-road way of going on every conceivable kind of highway. The way in which this car takes even the sharpest curves makes it a "stand-out" for roadability in any year!

These remarkable riding qualities are largely due to the fact that the New Hudson provides the lowest center of gravity in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample! It is a widely recognized fact that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the more stability it will have and the safer it will be.

Such a delightful conformity to the road, coupled with the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, gives to everyone who rides in a New Hudson a grand feeling of safe well-being! This feeling is further enhanced by the ease with which this car is operated, and by the restful quiet with which Hudson glides along—thanks to the superb sound control engineered into this advanced automobile.

See "The modern design for '49" today! Come in and let us show you the many advantages of Hudson's fabulous "step-down" design principle.

HUDSON FLOORS are recessed down within the frame (as shown above), full-height seats are lowered, so you get ample head room in this car with the new, lower center of gravity.

YOU RIDE down within a base frame (as shown above), and rear seats are positioned ahead of the rear wheels so that full body width becomes available for wonderfully roomy seats. Box-section steel girders completely encircle and protect the passenger compartment.

TRY AUTOMATIC gear shifting in forward speeds as provided by Hudson's Drive-Master transmission—by far the easiest of all ways to drive. You can accelerate as long and as fast as you like in pickup gear, then lift your toe momentarily, and you're in high. The shift into high comes only when you are ready! Button control on the instrument panel provides instant change to conventional driving if ever desired. Drive-Master transmission is optional on all New Hudsons at small extra cost.

*Trade-mark and patents pending.

The only car you step down into NEW Hudson

Clay, Pyle Star for Steers; Clyde Scott Scores for Hogs

AUSTIN — (AP) — Hard-hitting Texas overpowered stubborn Arkansas, 14 to 6, here Saturday to grab its Southwest Conference opener before 46,000 football fans.

The big, fast Longhorn line kept Clyde (Smackover) Scott, the Arkansas left half, bottled up except for one brief moment. Scott took advantage of that single lapse of a pass interception but that mighty surge with ten minutes to go was the real payoff.

Scott's tally came on the opening play of the second quarter and brought Arkansas back into definite contention. Texas had smashed swiftly to a 7-0 lead in four plays in the first six minutes of the initial quarter, and it appeared the Longhorns would roll over Arkansas with ease.

Randall Clay and Billy Pyle stood out in the Longhorn backfield. Pyle set up the first tally when he slipped through left tackle for 36 yards to the Arkansas 15. Clay then pulled a reverse, smacked over right tackle and went to the 2. He then pounded through center for the tally, and then kicked the extra point, his first of two.

The second Longhorn touchdown came as the result of a poor Razorback kick, the ball going out on the Arkansas 37. Texas marched to the 4, was set back to the 9 on a penalty, reached the five again and with the Razorback line pulled in tight for fourth down, substitute left-half Perry Samuels sprinted wide around right end to score.

Scott collected 47 yards on nine carries, attempted three passes and completed none. An expert at quick kicking, he rocked Texas back once with a 67-yard boot that traveled to the Longhorn 11.

The victory was Texas' tenth straight over Arkansas and virtually eliminated the Razorbacks from this year's conference title chase. Arkansas bowed last week to Baylor.

COLLEGE STATION —(AP)— Texas Christian's embattled Horned Frogs roared back for two touchdowns in the last quarter today and rode Lindy Berry's sure shot passing and jack rabbit running to a spine-tingling 27-14 victory over Texas A and M.

The desperate Frogs, outplayed for most of three quarters, gathered themselves for one of the grandest finishes a Southwest Conference football game ever recorded. Berry unlimbered his passing arm, shackled until that time by the running and kicking of Bobby Goff and Bob Goode, who had TCU hemmed up in its own territory much too often.

Morris Bailey, six-foot-five inch wingman, started catching the ball from all angles. Dave Bloxom, a blocking back, blossomed into a terrific runner. Big Pete Stout started pulverizing the Aggie line. There just wasn't anything could stop the fighting Frogs as they rolled 81 magnificent yards in 13 plays for the touchdown that broke A and M's back.

They scored again as the result

Reapers Blow Lid; Defeat Borger 34-19

The Pampa Junior High School Reapers blew the lid off the previously low scoring Junior High Conference Thursday afternoon in Harvester Park when they blasted the Borger Poodles, 34-19.

Quarterback DeWey Cudney's accurate passing eye, and Fullback Charles Ely's bruising gains were the chief items featuring the Pampa triumph.

Ely scored two touchdowns on long runs, one on a 60-yard kickoff return. Cudney passed for the other three tallies, alternating between Ends Jimmy Cook and Alvin Ward as receivers.

Charles Murphy featured the Poodle attack and scored the final Borger counter with a 50-yard run in the final quarter.

The Reapers are still undefeated but have been tied twice. They have won two games.

Mustangs Lose to Wildcats, 13 to 6

CANADIAN —(Special)— The Canadian Wildcats broke into the win column for the first time this season here Friday night when they outscored the Claude Mustangs, 13-6, in a District 1-B tussle.

On three occasions the Wildcats held the Mustangs on their one-yard stripe as Fullback John Fransworth and Halfback Bill Gray accounted for the Canadian tallies, in respective order.

Fullback Rutherford scored the Mustang tally and was the big gun in their offensive attack.

BALTIMORE —(AP)— Two touchdown passes in the last two minutes saved Navy from complete humiliation yesterday as Missouri's Tigers clawed their way to a 35 to 14 victory before about 22,000 fans in Babe Ruth Stadium.

The Tigers scored once in each of the first three periods and added two touchdowns in the final for a 35-0 lead before Quarterback Bobby Horne came to life to pilot Navy's scores.

KNOXVILLE —(AP)— Tennessee thrilled a record-breaking homecoming crowd of 48,000 persons Saturday by coming out of the doldrums and smashing Alabama 21 to 6.

The largest crowd ever to see a football game in Tennessee saw the inspired Vols unleash a slashing running attack that ripped the huge Crimson Tide forewall to smithereens.

With their ace passer J. B. Proctor side-lined by an injury, Tennessee elected to battle it out on the ground with Alabama—and won going away.

* * *

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. —(AP)— Rebounding for a touchdown in each of the last two periods, unbeaten North Carolina defeated North Carilona State, 14-0, Saturday before a sellout 44,000 crowd.

The Tar Heels did not look like the team that was rated No. 1 in the nation in this week's Associated Press poll as twice in the first half they had to throw back the underdog Wolf pack at the one-yard line and then again at the 13.

* * *

LINCOLN, Neb. —(AP)— Notre Dame got off to a fast start Saturday against Nebraska and crashed the Huskers, 44 to 13. The Irish stormed 80 yards from the opening kickoff for a touchdown and led 25 to 7 at the half.

* * *

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— The hard-running Oklahoma Aggies pushed over a tie-breaking touchdown in the last five minutes yesterday for a 27 to 20 victory over the University of San Francisco. A crowd of 20,000 in Kezar Stadium saw the game.

U.S., Eire Plan New 'Friendship Treaty'

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The United States and Eire are writing a new "treaty of friendship, commerce and navigation" to replace the present 123-year old ducument, the oldest U. S. treaty still in effect. The State Department said final negotiations will be held in Dublin with the aim of completing the agreement "in the near future."

Tigers Succumb to Skyrockets; Johnny Haynes Injured in Tilt

McLEAN —(Special)—A gallant band of McLean Tigers, playing without the services of Quarterback Johnny Haynes, succumbed to a powerful Wellington Skyrocket aggregation in Wellington Friday night, 13 to 7.

Haynes, stellar field general and swivel-hipped runner, was kicked in the head in the opening minutes of the game and was immediately taken to the Wellington hospital. His condition as reported yesterday is "fairly good."

The Skyrockets took the opening kickoff and marched to the Tiger 10-yard stripe where Quarterback McCutcheon tossed to Halfback Williams for the score, only to have the play called back and nullified through a penalty for illegal use of the hands.

The Tigers held and took over on downs on their own seven-yard stripe, but after three short gains, kicked to the McLean 33. McCutcheon then heaved another pass, this time to Halfback Strickland and Strickland went over standing up. The attempted conversion failed.

As the second half opened, McLean received the Wellington kickoff and returned to its own 46, but there fumbled and the Skyrockets recovered. It was again McCutcheon, this time flinging to Williams, who raced across for the second Wellington tally. The extra point was good and the Skyrocket lead was stretched to 13-0.

With only four minutes remaining in the ball game, McLean drove to the Wellington four-yard stripe on a sustained drive. Fullback Johnny Griffith then twirled around end, but fumbled in the process and Right End Bobby Sam Bruner picked up the ball and went over for the McLean marker. His conversion was good as all scoring was completed.

The fracas was the first district contest for the two teams.

SHELL PLANT GETS SAFETY FLAG

In an impressive ceremony conducted on Tuesday afternoon in the plant yard of Shell's Gasoline Plant No. 15, six miles south of Pampa, a large safety flag presented by the National Saftey Council was raised by plant employes commemorating the establishment of a 22 months no-lost-time accident safety record

Including among the 19 Shell men present were the following visitors from other plants and departments: J. W. Swygart, production superintendent for Pampa headquarters; Harry L. Dulaney, production chief clerk; E. A. Thoes, superintendent and Allen Say, chief engineer at Bryan Gasoline Plants No. 2 and 17, Skellytown, and G. M. Walker, clerk chemist in the Gasoline Department office in Pampa

The afternoon's activities were conducted by J. C. Nichols, superintendent at Plant No. 15, who commended the plant employes for achieving their enviable safety record. He also delivered a congratulatory message from V E Middlebrook, Tulsa area department manager in the Gas-Gasoline Department, who was unable to be present for the occasion

Each employe was called on to give a short talk outlining what he thought was required of a worker to create and maintain safe working conditions

A talk given by Swygart in which he related a personal accident experience was received with interest by his listeners.

Several pictures were taken by a local photographer during the afternoon, one of which appears on this page showing employes holding the flag awarded for safety achievement

Prisoner Gives Loudest Applause

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Consider Willie Bowen, sentenced to jail here in the theft and pawning for $5 of a violin he later learned was the $10,000 Stradivarius of Sigmund Beels, former concertmaster of the London Symphony.

"Could I have one last request, Your Honor?" he asked Judge Eustace Cullinan. "I'd like to hear Mr. Beels play on that fine violin."

Beels obliged with a concert from the witness stand. The loudest applause came from Willie, as he was led off to jail.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

Just so you can follow a running log on the wildcats in the area—here is the latest reports of the various wells. . . . In Roberts County the Phillips Carruth well is now at 11,254 feet. . . .still going down but nothing of interest happening. . . Also in Roberts County, the Sinclair-Lipps is now down to 4,520. In Castro County the Sun Oil Harberer No. 1 is at a depth of 8,182, still drilling. . .The Hartley County well, the Lankford Pure Oil test, is now at 5,725 and has again lost circulation. . .Last week this column reported the well had lost circulation at 5,615. .That circulation was regained and the well deepened to its present depth. . finis was written to the Sunray Oil test, the Kimbrough No. 1, when it was reported dry and abandoned in granite at 9,432 feet.

There has been a lot of activity this week on the Carruth Lease in spite of the fact that the well is not looking too good, according to unofficial reports. Three seismograph crews have been busy "shooting" in the area. This, connected with the report that reaches us by our best homing-pigeon rumors that Phillips will drill next on the Campbell land, not far from the original deep test well, the Jenkie, would indicate that, altho both wells were disappointing in some respects, they must have provided the company with enough evidence to warrant their further exploration. It is the consensus of several oil men that the information gained by their previous tests, combined with information now being gleaned from the Sinclair-Lipps well, will give a direction outline of the sought-after pool that should result in a real discovery in their third try. Of course there is also a good rumor afloat that the next Phillips test will be in Sherman County. It shouldn't be too long now before we know the answer.

Ye editor was fortunate enough last Thursday to have been able to hear Fletcher Kennedy, of Stanolind Oil, and Max Harbison, of Kewanee Oil, explain in detail to the local Lions Club what repressuring is meaning to the Panhandle. Fred Neslage, local authority on this project, was on hand to lend an ear to the report. The layman or merchant in this area should strive to learn what repressuring means to all of us since it is this method that not only is helping in new development but is increasing the production of old wells as well. Most of the major oil companies are cooperating in this project and the results that are being obtained are even above expectations. . . .

Notes found on my scratch pad . . . .V. E. Middlebrook, department manager of Shell Oil Gas-Gasoline Department of the Tulsa office, arrived in Pampa last Wednesday on business and to inspect the plants. He remained until Friday. . . .Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Knox of Cities Service received notice the sixth of this month of the death of Mr Knox's brother, C. M. Knox, in Monrovia, Calif. They left immediately for Monrovia. Phil Harvey, Humble Oil, is vacationing in Missouri. He will be gone one more week. . . .J. M. Cochran, division automotive mechanic for Shell Oil, arrived in this area from the Wichita Falls office this week to check over automotive equipment for the company here. . .Jimmy McCune, Cabot Carbon Company public relations executive, was in Oklahoma City this week attending the "Made in Oklahoma Manufacturers Exposition" and exhibiting the Cabot electric train which is used to run between the Carbon Black and Rubber Plants. . . .Incidentally the Cabot employees are very happy about their seven cents an hour overall increase. . . .Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Edgerton, Cities Service, are making plans now to go to Stillwater, Okla., next weekend to visit with their daughter, Nadeen, during the homecoming festivities there. Nadeen is a Junior in the college there. . . . W. E. Brogdin of Shell is the proud possessor of a new Bettis steamer which the company purchased this week.

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News

By MAX B SKELTON

FORT WORTH —(AP)—Two university presidents have given strong words of support to the oil industry's fight against governmental controls

Dr. M. E. Sadler of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, and Dr. Rupert N. Richardson of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, commended the industry for its efforts to maintain free enterprise and individual initiative.

Dr. Sadler said "individual initiative, private enterprise, freedom of life will be no more" if the present trend of government expansion continues another quarter of a century

"Hardin-Simmons has much in common with the oil industry" Dr. Richardson said. "The men and women who founded it like those who have through the years fostered and sustained it believed in free enterprise and individual initiative—in the profit motive if you please."

Dr. Sadler spoke before the 29th annual convention of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association while Dr Richardson spoke at the dedication of a university dormitory given to the school by the oil industry in memory of the late Judge J C Hunter, Sr., West Texas oilman.

The Texas Christian president said private colleges and the oil industry face the same grave problem: absolute statism — the domination and control of all life by the government

He said the President's Commission on Education has proposed that the federal government by 1960 spend $2,586,000,000 for expansion of plant facilities for tax-supported institutions

"When the federal government controls education," he warned, "the foundation for complete statism will be laid."

Dr. Richardson said "it is safe to say that no industry has given so much to education as the oil

State Department Studies Closing Island Consulate

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Because of military objections, the State Department is giving new thought to its recently announced decision to close the U. S. consulate in Martinique, strongly Communist French island in the Caribbean.

Department officials said Martinique's listing in the September announcement was premature. The department said then that six posts, among them Martinique, were being closed.

"No final decision has been made in regard to Martinique," one official said.

He added that further meetings will be held to consider protests against padlocking the consulate on what military authorities are known to regard as a weak link in the Caribbean defenses. These guard U. S. shipping lanes and the Panama Canal.

This reporter, vacationing in Puerto Rico at the time, later flew to Fort de France, Martinique's picturesque capital.

Talks with French prefect, Pierre Albert Trouille; the U. S. consul, Frederick Hunt of Washington, D. C., and his wife, Eleanor, formerly of Laredo, Tex., and others disclosed that anti-Communist factions are deeply concerned over the proposed move.

Martinique was a headache to the State Department and the military command even before Pearl Harbor.

When France fell in 1940, fears were widespread that the French possessions in the Western hemisphere might pass to Hitler's Reich.

Finally, in the summer of 1943, Adm. Georges Roberts, French high commissioner in Martinique and a stubborn Vichyite, surrendered his command under United States pressure to an appointee named by the French committee of national liberation.

Until then, U. S. warships and planes kept close watch over the island to make sure it didn't become an Axis stronghold from which Nazi submarines might strike at Allied shipping.

Later, with the switch to the Free French cause, came an upsurge against the whites in the colonial government—many of whom had been pro-Vichy—and a protest against "exploitation." The Communists took full advantage of this situation and made deep inroads among the dark-skinned natives who make up about 95 percent of the island's 260,000 inhabitants.

The Loves of Carmen

By SOPHIE KERR

Copyright, 1948, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Serialization of screenplay from a novel by Prosper Merimee

THE STORY: Don Jose, young officer in a fashionable Spanish regiment, has just come to Seville from the countryside of Navarre. On his first day in the city, a gorgeous gypsy girl flirts with him, then disappears. Some days later he is on duty in the square with his friend, Andres, when girls from the nearby cigaret factory swarm out at closing time. Among them is the gypsy; Andres greets her warmly as Carmen, but her glances are all for Jose. Even so she makes a date with Andres. Shortly after she leaves them, Jose hears a commotion down the street. Carmen has gotten into a brawl with another woman and knifes her. Jose is ordered to take her prisoner. He does so but she prevails upon him to let her escape, promising to meet him later. As a result, Jose gets extra guard duty and is confined to barracks for 30 days.

ON the last night of his extra duty, Don Jose was placed outside the tall wrought-iron gates of the colonel's house. He had been told to wear his best uniform and plumed helmet. Every time he passed the gates, from the corner of his eye he could see the portion of a flower-decked patio where whirling couples danced to the accompaniment of a Viennese waltz. Carriage after carriage pulled up, bringing guests for whom the gate was opened by a liveried lackey.

Late at night a carriage pulled to a stop directly before him and four gypsies emerged, arrayed in the most elaborate finery. One man carried an accordion while one of the women had a guitar and another a tambourine. Don Jose stared astounded as Carmen stepped out, the last of the group.

She was done up like a gay Christmas tree, wearing blue shoes with spangles, a spangled dress, a lace mantilla, flowers, imitation jewels and a handsome cloak. When she saw Jose she threw him an oblique, knowing little smile and continued on through the gate, switching her skirts brazenly as she walked.

He watched her go across the patio to the colonel, standing in full dress uniform.

Don Jose grasped the lackey's arm roughly and demanded to know what the gypsies were doing here. Before the man could reply there was a burst of gypsy music and the sound of Carmen's castanets could be heard. The lackey turned to watch, and Don Jose followed his gaze, but he could only see Carmen's face and her raised hands holding the castanets as she danced by.

"That girl's in hiding from the police. How can she dance at the colonel's party?"

The lackey shrugged as though this explained everything. "That is Carmen, and the colonel is a man like any other man, I suppose."

• • •

DON JOSE patrolled the gate, back and forth, carrying pack and gun, but all the time he kept watch on the patio. Carmen finished her dance and came out, leaned against the iron work, and clacked her castanets as though speaking to him with them. But he stood stiff-necked, refusing to notice her. Another little flurry of the castanets spoke to him. Don Jose tried to stay where he was but it was physically impossible. Her lovely face looked innocently up at him through the grille.

"What are you doing here?" he demanded.

She rattled the castanets for reply.

"Have you been free to come and go and make eyes at every man you see, while I have been walking sentry duty like a common soldier because of you? Have you?"

Carmen rattled the castanets again, admitting by her laughing face that this had indeed been the fact.

The frustration, humiliation and jealousy of the past month engulfed Don Jose like a red wave. He took hold of the grille with both hands savagely and his voice was harsh and low. "Tell me how you worked it or as heaven is my witness, I'll— Tell me how you worked it!"

Her eyes widened in growing fascinated amazement. Her voice was almost soft. "Well now, Man, this is the first time I have heard you really talk. Anger is very becoming to you. You make me think of a fighting bull."

"Answer me!"

Carmen only shrugged and smiled. "It is very simple. The good kind colonel pardoned me because I was innocent."

"Innocent!"

"Wasn't that why you let me run away? Because I was innocent?"

• • •

"I'VE walked in the heat and in the sun. I have taken more than a man can take—"

"And all the time you were walking I was waiting for you."

He shook the grillework. "Why was I walking? Answer me that! Because I was punished for letting you escape."

Carmen shook her head wonderingly and smiled at him, caressing the grillework but being careful not to touch his hand. "All that for me? Think of that! I owe you a great deal, it seems." She paused as if considering something. "How much longer must you stand here?"

"Of what importance is that to you?" he answered sullenly.

She rattled the castanets in his face and turned to walk away, and his words came out in a pleading rush.

"Another hour," he said. "Just one more hour and then I can leave here. I am confined to the barracks, but I'll get away somehow. I swear it."

She looked at him briefly and then leaned back against the gate, her eyes on the patio floor, her tone absent. "I am beginning to be tired of this party, come to think of it. I believe I will run away from it and go to Lillas Pastia's." She smiled at him provocatively over her shoulder as she left. "In about an hour."

LOOKS LIKE HIS JOB IS FOR KEEPS

GRANITEVILLE, S. C. —(NEA)—James Wesley Reardon is 87, and he's in a rut. He's been working for the same company for 76 years now, and he can't shake loose.

"When you have worked for 76 years," he says, "you have sort of gotten the habit."

Most other people switch around a bit in their jobs, or get itchy feet and move someplace else. And then they retire. Not Wes Reardon. The Graniteville cotton mill can't get him to stop, and they've dubbed him the "grand old man of Horse Creek Valley" because they're convinced he's set some kind of record.

Wes doesn't agree with them. It's just that he'd "feel lost without something to do," he says.

He started as a "tack boy" in the mill founded by William Gregg, who is called the father of the textile industry in the South. Since then he's had a variety of responsible jobs, including plant supervisor. For many years he was paymaster for the company and worked in the shipping department at the same time.

Wes started from as near scratch as any man.

"Sure," he says, "I went to school to learn reading, writing and 'rithmetic. A fellow can learn anything after he learns to read and write, but he needs a little help on 'rithmetic."

After he decided his job with the mill looked permanent, Wes Reardon thought he'd better do something about his Sundays. He became a Sunday School teacher at St. John's Methodist Church and joined the choir. That was sort of recent—only 70 years ago. Wes Reardon's portrait hangs in the office of the mill company president, along with the protraits of the six former presidents of the company, including William Gregg.

All the others are dead or retired. Except Reardon. He got the habit of working, and he can't stop.

'Number 1' Missing From Auto Track

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Ted Horn's "Number 1" will be missing from automobile race tracks next year.

The American Automobile Association said the number, assigned annually to the country's leading driver, will not be issued in 1949.

The 38-year-old Horn, killed last Sunday in a 100-mile race at Du Quoin, Ill., held the number for the last two years as AAA racing champion.

Better Gas Is Forecast

LINDEN, N. J. —(AP)— Better gasolines to give automobiles more miles per gallon are forecast by E. V. Murphree, president of the Standard Oil Development Co.

Speaking at the opening of a new Esso Research Center here, Murphree explained that such gasolines will be needed for improved engines—with higher compression ratio—now being planned by automobile makers. They could average about 30 percent more miles per gallon than present models using present gasolines.

The higher compression engines, he continued, probably will need 97 or higher octane gasoline compared with the present 84 octane regular gasoline.

"Petroleum research has developed the basic processes for producing gasoline of such a high octane number in large volume," said Murphree.

But he said that time and great expense would be required to equip the industry to change its automobile gasoline output to the higher octane type. And there's also the problem of holding down the cost so the saving from increased mileage isn't offset by higher price.

"It's marvelous! Doesn't even show!"

What Do You Think About National Referendums on Big Questions?

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Do you think the people ought to vote—in a national referendum—on big questions?

For example: suppose we had reached a point where there was widespread, serious thought on joining a world government.

Instead of Congress voting right away, all the people would vote yes or no. It wouldn't mean, if they voted "yes," that we'd join.

It would only be a means of letting Congress, before it made up its mind, know what the people wanted. Then Congress could be guided by that.

The idea of a national referendum on big problems affecting the people is offered this week in a book called "A Little Democracy is A Dangerous Thing."

It's by Charles W. Ferguson, a senior editor of the Reader's Digest.

Ferguson says:

"Under our present republican form of government, whatever may be said for it when it is compared with dictatorial government, there exists no effective way of letting the voice of the people be heard.

"Opinion must be registered indirectly, obliquely, through layers of resistance.

"The result is that members of both the administrative and legislative branches of the government must conduct their affairs in a state of uncertainty if not ignorance about what the mass of the electorate thinks."

Ferguson takes note of two remedies that have been set up to let Congress know what the public thinks:

1. The lobby. He hasn't much use for this as a means of expressing public opinion because too often, he says, a lobby is a selfish pressure group trying to get Congress to do something for that one group's benefit.

2. The public opinion polls. He thinks the polls have been "astonishingly" accurate but "at best the polls are a sampling, an inspection carried on by experts, a survey of views expressed on demand and in response to calculated questions."

Ferguson sees that a critic of his idea may say this:

This is a free country, a man can write his congressman or send a letter to the editor, stand up on a street corner or in a public meeting and say whatever he pleases.

To which Ferguson says:

"The fact remains that with all their privileges the people are still crying in the wilderness; there is no system of direct communications between them and the major decisions of their national government. . . we are content to let the people talk and call the result democracy."

In short, Ferguson argues: we have given over authority to a comparatively few people—such as Congress and government heads—to let them make for us important decisions in which we should have a direct voice.

Pretty Wife Shuns Money for Husband

NEW YORK —(AP)— Pretty, blonde Mrs. Danise Weiskopf Reid would rather lose her third share of her father's $2,500,000 estate than divorce her husband, her attorney said.

The attorney, Samson Selig, said that "under no circumstances" would Mrs. Reid meet the provision of her father's will that she divorce Robert H. Reid to be eligible for an annual income estimated at $30,000.

The will of Daniel K. Weiskopf, a distillery executive who died last March 22 at the age of 74, directed that she be cut off with only $2,500 a year unless she divorce her husband.

Telephone Wage Raise Accepted

NEW YORK—(AP)—A wage offer giving 25,000 long lines telephone operators a 9.3 cent average hourly wage raise was accepted tentatively Friday by union negotiators. John J. Moran, head of the CIO American Union of Telephone Workers, said the offer was subject to approval by the union's Executive Board which will meet on Monday.

The offer gives average hourly wage hikes to plant workers, nine cents to traffic operators and eight cents to clerical employes, according to a spokesman for the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

'Mr. X' Is Really Mr. X

Witnesses of the murder of politician William Granata in Chicago gave descriptions of a man, sought for questioning, to artist-detective Adolph Valanis, who recreated him in a sketch. The city was alerted to find the "Mr. X" of the sketch. When found, he not only looked like his portrait, above, but his name was William N. Xanthas.

Cotton Hand Is Held in Knifing

J. C. Walker, a cotton harvest hand from Louisiana, was being held in City Jail over the weekend in connection with a knifing fracas Friday night, when another cotton harvest hand, Welton H. Hampton, no exact address given, was cut across the back of both hands.

The two men were passing through town on their way to Arkansas, police said.

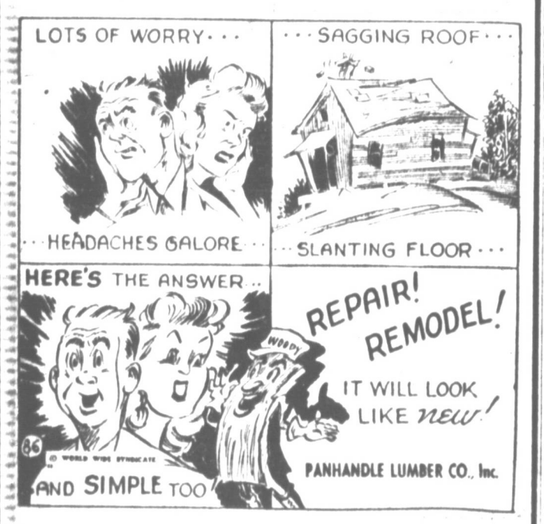

Hampton, it was reported, suffered the cuts in the fracas by Walker, who was said to have been protecting himself.

Walker charged Hampton had ordered him to carry his (Hampton's) bag "just like I was his boy or sumthin." Hampton countered with an unprintable charge against Walker.

Charges of aggravated assault were to be filed against Walker yesterday in County Court, but both County Attorney Bruce Parker and Judge Sherman White were out of town. Formal charges against Walker are expected to be filed tomorrow. In the meantime Walker remained behind bars while Hampton was given his freedom—his left hand bandaged from a wound that required 14 stitches to close.

job." "And now, three years after that war has ended," he added, "we have to stand with our hats in our hands in Moscow to get supplies to our troops stationed on land that we won," Stassen said.

Stassen said that "more and more Democrats are lining up with us to elect Tom Dewey president of the United States. They want to see a change in the White House and in Congress as well."

The former Minnesota governor decried President Truman's actions at the Potsdam Conference saying he went there without any experienced advisors on foreign policy and had made "agreements that no lawyer would let a client make."

"I urge both Republicans and Democrats alike to vote for the man instead of the party label and send Jack Porter to the Senate," Stassen said in winding up his 30-minute address.

Earlier in a press conference at the Herring Hotel Stassen said that he believed Dewey, John Foster Dulles and Sen. Vandenburg would make up the Republican administration's foreign affairs team.

Asked by newsmen if he would accept a post in the Dewey cabinet, Stassen countered, "Now you are being speculative. I intend to follow through as president of the University of Pennsylvania and continue to work for progressive principles in the Republican Party."

Stassen said it was "important that Texas send a Republican to Washington so that the state would have representation in national Republican councils at Washington and have a part in forming national policy.

Commenting on the Stevenson announcement of support for Porter, Stassen told reporters it was a boost to the GOP slate and "could signify a trend" on growing Republican strength in the state.

Stassen arrived by air from Oklahoma and was entertained at the home of Atty. Frank T. O'Brien for a John Snider barbeque prior to the public rally. A group of over 300 attended the feed—complete with a band playing from a "Dewey-Warren band wagon" parked in the rear of the O'Brien home.

J. Evetts Haley, who opened the meeting in the auditorium, still clung to his declaration that he was the party's nominee for Congress, but was not a candidate and would not campaign for the office. His name appears on the general election ballot for representative in the Republican column in opposition to Eugene Worley, Democratic nominee.

Alvin Lane, Dallas Republican candidate for governor, spoke briefly aiming his remarks chiefly at Governor Beauford H. Jester using much the same attack line as did Roger Q. Evans and Caso March in the first primary—that Jester's statement of a bonus for veterans was "un-Texan." Lane also fired away at the Johnson-Stevenson vote fraud battle charging Jester and the Democrats didn't make any attempt" to do anything about it."

Porter spoke in El Paso at noon Friday before coming to Amarillo by air. Stassen was slated to invade New Mexico yesterday to campaign in behalf of Republican senatorial nominee Pat Hurley who is opposed there by former Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson.

Those now directing reserve corps for the three departments are:

Brigadier Gen. Wendell Westover, Army; Brig. Gen. John P. McConnell, Air; Rear Admiral Ralph S. Riggs, Navy.

Some of the first Congressional reaction to Mr. Truman's announcement was unfavorable. Chairman Gurney (R-S. Dak), Senate Armed Services Committee said Congress would have to appropriate funds to implement any such order, then added that "I can't see any good coming out of the order."

Seven schools sending students to the afternoon concert were: Phillips, Borger, Perryton, Wellington, Shamrock, McLean and Lefors.

Besides playing the High School concert numbers, "La Gazza Ladra Overture," by Rossini and the first movement to Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," the band delighted students with their novelty numbers.

"The Three Jacks," by Walters was presented as a trumpet trio and pleased the audience. Members playing the number were Francis Stevens, Harold Wendt and Thomas Floyd. Railroad Fantasy "Casey Jones," also a novelty number, went over well with the audience of students.

The American Legion and residents who helped with various phases of the concert entertained the Navy Band with a barbecue-chicken dinner just preceding the evening performance.

The Pampa High School band met the Navy Band at the Junior High School at 12:30 p. m. yesterday as they were arriving in Pampa. The High School band marched around several city blocks ahead of the Navy Band.

MUNICH, Germany —(AP)— The Bavarian minister of justice said there is "no doubt" that Ilse Koch, the "witch of Buchenwald," will be tried before a German court.

United Nations officials in Haifa said the U.N. cease-fire order was issued to both Jews and Egyptians.

Israel informed the U.N. that it could not order a halt to its military activities "until it obtains full guarantees from the U.N. staff chief that traffic to and from the Negev will be allowed and that further Egyptian attacks against Jewish settlements and communications will cease."

Reliable sources here said the Israeli decision to reopen fighting in an attempt to win control of the Negev road had been made after lengthy cabinet debate behind closed doors.

Unofficial information was that the government is divided over the advisability of risking accusations of truce violations and opening wide new Holy Land warfare.

Man Injured In Car Wreck

Lynn Thompson, age unknown, was seriously injured at 7:45 p.m. yesterday when his car and a truck-trailer collided about two and one-half miles north of Skellytown.

He was taken to Worley Hospital in a semi-conscious condition suffering from a possible fractured skull and cuts around the head. Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance attendants said Thompson lived about a quarter mile from where the accident occurred, and said they presumed he was headed home because his car was facing toward his home. Further details of the collision were not available at press time.

Three Recent Pampa Weddings Take Spotlight

Palaver de Pampa

NOTE ON THE SEASON — Leaves are being ripped from the limbs of our trees, and the little reminders of the fertility of nature go marching off in little bunches as the wind whips up ... Fall is that time of year when the plant life of The Almighty is divested of its raiment—reminding us, perhaps, that life on earth is short-lived ... But there is a greater fact: then comes the spring, and the foliage of nature is brought forth in new and greater splendor—reminding us of that immortality which is the Creator's ... We are in the round-up season, and it is time to lay in food for the winter that lies just ahead.

GRANDMAMA—That figure of the declining years—of the fall, for she is ripe in knowledge and experience—is grandmama ... Have you ever tried to figure out why she is such a good story teller? If you aren't one of those fortunates who has gone to grandma on a rainy day and had her whisk you away to a land of make-believe, you've missed one of the treasures of life. In this day and time, good yarn-tellers are scarce—in fact, they're rapidly growing extinct. Do you know why? It's because there's nothing left to the imagination. Your children and mine have at their fingertips the realities that our grandparents had to dream up. They, to pass their lonely hours as children, had to reach deep into the wells of their imaginations to conjure up their make-believe characters and incidents. The nearest neighbor was twenty miles away and little boys and girls had to whisper "play like" to themselves. As a result, each one to this day has a complete library of exciting episodes to unfold just for the asking. If you are under the impression that grandma is just an antiquated personality to be tolerated about the house, get rid of that notion right away. Go to her and start popping the questions ... and then sit back and listen. She'll entertain you with far more interesting stories than you can find in a dime comic magazine. You'll find that out of the wilderness of the past come our best stories.

PALAVERING—Always a fan, Mrs. DeLea Vicars, who is touring Boston and Eastern states, got to see some of the World Series while there. She will continue her tour through Canada ... rumor has it the viewsome twosome Pat Miller and Vincent Kersey, are humming Mendelssohn's most popular song these days ... Bill Dixon, an affable guy, is always ready with a smile ... Mrs. H. H. Hahn and Mrs. Miles Morgan have set high goals for the Twentieth Century Club—all programs are to be given sans notes—it's hoped.

NOTES ON THE MARGIN—Happening too late last week to give you info on was the first affair of the season at ye ole CC. The membership roll could have been called 'cause just everyone was there. ... Among the group were several couples of newscomers, I believe: the Lewis Chamberlains, the Tom Lindseys and others ... The Jack Sullivans did a remarkable rhumba ... It wouldn't be fair to remark about the gorgeous gowns, since someone's would be left out ... My favorite doctor's wife, Sandy Williams, looked exceptional; and she and Doc seemed to be having a very wonderful time. An admirer of hers was heard to say she looked even more attractive with her bangs ... One fine guy that drops in ever so often from Boston is Wm. A. (Bill) Bloch, the chief accountant for Godfrey L. Cabot, Inc. He has learned to adapt himself to Texas ways ... nice to have him here for the dance ... The remodeling at the Country Club more than met with the approval of the membership ... Mrs. Mickey Prigmore's mother of Pawhuska, Okla., won the hearts of a dance-bound group—the Bakers, Cashes, Prigmores, Matthews, and Bill Bloch.

PERIPATETIC REPORTING—Heard many comments on Jeanne Duket's clever emceeing at a recent BGK rush party ... seems several had underestimated her ability ... Pat and Jerry Thomas are now honeymooning in Colorado. Pat looked especially smart in her going-away ensemble, a suit of navy blue pin-stripe—seen leaving after the reception Monday night ... Were fishermen Red Weatherred's and Fred Thompson's faces red when wives made the biggest catch on a trip to Possum Kingdom lately? ... Dr. W. L. Campbell is North Dakota-bound—just a nature boy ... Rev. Bill Alexander made his usual good speech at Borger the other night, for a Rotary affair ... Rotarians Dan Gribbon and wife and Steve Matthews attended the meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Duncan were also guests.

HEAR—Cabot is really stretching out her arms—if this is true. Seems the George Cashes and Louie Cabots are preparing to leave for the Liverpool area of England, in Cabot's interests ... Due to the shortage of clothes in England, the ladies, we understand, are shopping for a two-year supply.

Hazel Marie Nice, Jack Fowlkes Exchange Vows at Central Baptist

Candelabra, flanked by palms and baskets of rose gladioli, decorated the Pampa Central Baptist Church when Miss Hazel Marie Nice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Nice, west of Pampa, exchanged nuptial vows with Jack Fowlkes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowlkes of Borger, in a recent candlelight ceremony.

The Rev. Hal Upchurch officiated at the double-ring service.

Miss Wilma Haney, Borger, played a 15-minute prelude of music and Patsy Lewis, Borger, sang "I Love You Truly" and "Always."

Her finger-tip veil was edged in lace. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, tied with yellow and white satin streamers, atop a white Bible.

Attractive arrangements of bachelor buttons and yellow and bronze crysanthemums, carrying out the club's colors of purple and gold, decorated the "T" shaped table. Each guest was presented with an individual corsage of yellow pompons. Mrs. John Phelps with Mesdames Ralph Hamilton, Guy LeMond, N. L. Nicholl, Roberts Brown, and Miss VaRue Dyson were in charge of decorations for the occasion. Miss Peggy Stephens headed all committees in connection with this affair.

The Country Club was the scene of an unusual presentation Wednesday evening when new and old members of Beta Gamma Kappa Club were shown the latest coiffure and hat styles by local beauticians and merchants. Honored guests were Mesdames Joe Black, Charles Hickman, Jerry Thomas, J. W. Anderson, David Price and Stanley Johnson, new club members.

Mrs. Bob Duket served as Mistress of Ceremonies for the evening, commenting on each style as it was presented, and Mrs. Oran J. Payne served as pianist.

Models were Mrs. Raymond Reid, whose coiffure was styled by Jane Fountain; Mrs. Melvin Watkins and Mrs. Larry McMurtry, showing clever hairdos by Totsie Chappell; Misses Colleen Chisholm and Jean Chisholm and Mrs. Guy LeMond, modeling hair creations by Lena Hood; Mrs. Parks Brumley, presenting a hair style by Mildred Fulfer; and Mrs. Todd Cone, showing a 4-way hair cut by Mr. Warner Phillips.

Club members modeling the latest fashions in hats were: Mrs. Erwin Thompson, for Gilbert's; Mrs. Ralph Hamilton for Penney's and Levine's; Mrs. Jean Haw for Behrman's; Mrs. Maynard Johnson for Anthony's; Miss Peggy Stephens for Murfee's; and Mrs. Jack Benton for Ellis Hat Shop.

A large "hat box" covered with black and creating a quilted effect, sitting atop another black and white striped hat box was used in presenting the styles. A cut-out in the upper box, surrounded by a ruffle of white crepe paper, into which had been placed cut flowers, formed a frame around each model as she was revealed inside the lighted box in the darkened room.

B&PW Tea Today Honors Dr. Minnie L. Maffett

A silver tea, honoring Dr. Minnie L. Maffett, practicing physician of Dallas, is being held today by the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club as one of the wind-up activities of National Business Women's Week.

All business women in Pampa are invited to be guests at the tea to be held from 3-5 p. m. in the City Club Room.

Miss Charlotte Allston, pianist, will give the musical background for the tea and Miss Thelma Hensley, dramatics teacher, will give a history of music.

Funds received at the silver tea will be forwarded to the Maffett Fellowship Fund. Committee chairmen for the tea are Mrs. Mildred Lafferty, Miss Leona Parker and Mrs. Lillian Whitten.

Dr. Maffett was one of the first women doctors in this area to become successful at a time when medicine was a pioneer profession for women. She won the professional respect of her colleagues and has held important offices in professional organizations and a professorship of gynecology when Baylor Medical School was in Dallas. She organized the health service for women at Southern Methodist University and is still head of that department.

She was one of the early members of the Dallas B&PW Club and became the first president when the Texas Federation of B&PW Clubs was organized. She served the National Federation of B&PW Clubs as health chairman and vice president, and for five years during the war as the National Federation president.

In 1944 she was the recipient of the Zonta Award in recognition of her services in "signally furthering the advancement of women in the city, state and nation."

Her interest in the advancement of women to opportunities of service of which they are capable, prompted the Texas Federation of B&PW Clubs to establish in 1946 the Minnie L. Maffett Fellowship Fund to aid some Texas women doctors to take graduate medical work. The goal for this fiscal year is $25,000. Approximately half this amount has been contributed by clubs, individual members, and others who are admirers of Dr. Maffett or interested in giving deserving women doctors an opportunity for exceptional training.

Mann P-TA Has Program on Girl Scout Work, Elects Delegate

Horace Mann P-TA had a program on Girl Scout work at its regular meeting Thursday and in the business meeting elected Mrs. L. J. Zachry as delegate to the State Convention of P-TA in El Paso, Nov. 14-19.

A panel on Girl Scout work was conducted by Mrs. Carlton Nance and Mrs. H. H. Butler. They stressed the need for cooperation with the Girl Scout movement. They also explained the type work the Scouts do. Beginning the last week of October is "Girl Scout Week," they said. The week will start with the Scouts attending church. They will be clad in full uniform and will be wearing their new uniforms which conform to the "new look." The girls will wear their uniforms at all meetings during the week. Juliet Gordon Lowe, founder of the Girl Scouts organization, will be honored during the week.

Mrs. H. H. Butler, clothing chairman of the Girl Scout Council, said that the Scouts of the U. S. are sending one million Friendship Kits of clothing to children overseas. In each of these kits is clothing enough for one child. They range from layettes to clothing for any size child. She said anyone wishing to contribute clothing should feel free to do so.

They said there are now 478 registered scouts in Pampa, but several troops are not yet registered, so the number should exceed 500.

In the business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Zachry, it was voted to have the first study course lesson in the home of Mrs. Zachry, Oct. 21 from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Each person is to bring a covered dish. Mrs. H. L. Jordan will be the leader for the day.

The procedure course will begin with a two hour study Nov. 2. Mrs. H. M. Stokes will lead the new course.

Mrs. Zachry was elected delegate to represent Horace Mann at the State Convention of P-TA in El Paso, Nov. 14-19.

Rooms having the highest percentage of parents present were: fifth grade, Miss Frances McCue, first place; third grade, Mrs. C. E. Willingham, second place; and first grade, Mrs. Helen Angle, second place.

Group singing was led by the third grade teacher, Mrs. C. E. Willingham, accompanied at the piano by the music teacher, Miss June Brower. Mrs. H. R. Van Sickle gave the devotional, and used the text about the man who gave his sons a talent to see how they used them. Mrs. Van Sickle said, "We all have some talents and we should use them to the best of our ability." She concluded her devotional with a prayer.

Mrs. May Foreman Carr presented a piano solo, "To Spring."

TEEN TALK

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures

Kids in New York got all steamed up about their county fair—there hadn't been one in fifty years. And then P-f-f-f-f-t "it proved to be a dud," says one kid echoing the sentiments of lots of others.

All he saw at the fair that looked like anything he'd ever read about fairs was a handful of potatoes (in a glass case), a few ears of corn stuck around at strategic spots and a small chicken hatchery. It was the chicken hatchery that captivated most of the youngsters. They were fascinated by the process by which a chicken leaves an egg, digging his way out with his bill, and most of them stood for hours watching this routine.

Aside from that there was an Indian selling beaded rings, bracelets and bows and arrows; a man showing how to braid a rug and a light station wagon. There were a few other things, but the kids didn't care, they were too disappointed.

If you're interested in science get set to enter the annual science talent search right now. It is open to high school seniors throughout the country and you may be lucky enough to win a scholarship to college.

The Boys Athletic League in cooperation with 102 children's social and welfare agencies in 25 states made a "likes and dislikes" survey of boys and girls from ten to sixteen and found out the following:

Here's their ideal dinner: Steak, with carrots and string beans, ice cream and an apple. The boys like ham and eggs for breakfast, the girls'll take breakfast cereal.

The widest difference of opinion between boys and girls was in choosing movie stars. Roy Rogers is tops among the boys, but down at the end of the girls' lists. Alan Ladd is the girls' movie hero and he just noses out Margaret O'Brien who has second place in their affections.

Betty Grable is third choice for the boys.

Bing Crosby is their number two choice for radio, with Jack Benny coming in first.

The kids also enjoy reading books. Both boys and girls agreed they like the company of their own sex. They chose sports, stamp collecting, arts and crafts, swimming as their favorite hobbies.

Have some fun at your next party by making the kids fill out a questionnaire on likes and dislikes. It will be interesting to see how much alike the kids are who pal around together. Sometimes lively discussions can be started when Mary says "I read——— newspaper or——— magazine" and there is lively opposition to either. Sometimes Mary can have fun explaining her reasons and might even be persuaded that her choices are not too good. On the other hand, she might sell the rest of the group her ideas.

Facial Manners Advertise Lines

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Facial mannerisms advertise age lines which otherwise might escape notice.

The only way for a woman to know whether or not she is given to these posturings is to study the behavior of her face in a mirror.

To find out if you grimace, squint, compress your lips, narrow your lids or wrinkle your nose, talk to your mirror just as you would to your next-door neighbor. Have an animated chat with yourself. If your mirror reveals any habitual mannerisms, begin now to get rid of them.

You start correcting these habits by learning to be a poker face. While practising absolute immobility, talk to your mirror. If you'll practice expressionless speech for a few days, you'll be able to discipline your face as firmly when you talk to others. That is the only way to drop the axe on mannerisms which you want to wipe off your face.

Once you are rid of these, let your eyes take over the job of animating your face. Eyes are capable of doing this. They can express gaiety, sympathy, excitement, and expectancy with almost no help from the other muscles of your face. When eyes are entrusted to the job, you need have no further worry about facial poise.

★ WE, THE WOMEN

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

A woman reader of this column who lives in a small two-bedroom home with her husband and four children confesses: "It is only recently that I have outgrown bursting into tears when some super-duper housekeeper leaves, having discovered our house in a cluttered mess."

The reader's choice of the word "outgrown" is a good one.

For a woman isn't fully mature until she realizes that her job in life is to do the best she can for her family, putting what seems most important to her family first, and then refusing to compare herself with other women and what they consider important.

SHOULDN'T TRY

Obviously, the mother of small children—especially if they are crowded together in a small house—can't be a perfect housekeeper.

She shouldn't even try to be—because that isn't what is most important to her family.

Knowing that, why should she care what another woman—who happens to be a perfect housekeeper—thinks of the way she runs her home?

It is always well for a woman to remember that she can't be everything.

Obviously, she has to let down somewhere. And since that is inevitable, she shouldn't allow the "letting down" to make her feel like a failure.

Nobody is a failure who puts first things first, and lets the less important things slide.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

City Government In Berlin Said To Be Splitting

BERLIN — (AP) — A Communist spokesman predicted Berlin's central goevrnment, last link between the Eastern and Western sectors of the divided city, would fall to pieces soon.

The spokesman, Karl Maron, made this prediction a few hours after a clash between Communists and nonCommunists of the city's Magistrat (executive department).

A Communist official who was fired by the city government last week attended a session in the meeting hall. The hall is in the Soviet sector. When the official, Waldemar Schmidt, chief of the city Labor Department, refused to leave, the nonCommunist members walked out and resumed their meeting in a British sector building. Schmidt and the two other Communist Magistrate members remained in the Soviet sector hall.

Later, Maron asserted: "The complete slipup of the Berlin city government will in all probability follow."

The city's Assembly, or Legislative Council, already has split up. The antiCommunist members now meet in the British sector, where the Communist members refuse to join them.

Griffith Suit In Air Again

OKLAHOMA CITY— (AP) — The federal district attorney's office asked that Theater Enterprises, Inc., of Dallas, Texas, be made a defendant in an anti-trust suit against the Griffith Amusement Co.

The suit has been pending in federal courts since 1939.

Robert E. Shelton, district attorney, filed the request with Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaught.

The attorney asked the action on the grounds that the Dallas firm has become the owner of all the interests of the late R. E. Griffith and the Westex Theaters, Inc., interests.

Judge Vaught set Oct. 25 to hear the motion.

The suit was started in April, 1939, and was tried May 7, 1945. Judge Vaught dismissed it but the United States Supreme Court reversed the decision and sent it back.

The specific charge is that the Griffith Amusement Co. and its other interests violated anti-trust regulations in their ownership and operation of theaters in Oklahoma and Texas.

'Old Mag' Dies At Age of 110

WHITEFORD, Md. —(AP)— "Old Mag" Frisby, who said that her daily gallon and a half of water was the secret of her longevity, is dead. As close as can be figured, the Negress was 110.

She had lived on Michael's Beginning—a 159-acre farm belonging to the Whiteford family—since Michael Whiteford, grandfather of the present owner, brought her there in the mid-1850's from the Harford County almhouse. He said she was 16 at the time.

Eisenhower Painting Sells for $2,600

NEW YORK —(AP)— A painting by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was sold for $2,600 at a benefit auction.

The picture, which Eisenhower did for the Urban League, a group to aid Negroes, brought by far the highest price as paintings by 100 celebrities went under the hammer.

Eisenhower's painting is of an Indian, and on the reverse side is a landscape, the general's first attempt at painting for fun.

Hit in Face by Baseball, Lady Proud of It

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich —(AP)— Mrs. Katharine Cruse was hit in the face by a batted baseball—and liked it.

The incident occurred, she relates, in the early 1920s when Babe Ruth visited Iron Mountain and gave one of his slugging exhibitions at the stadium here.

"I was standing in the outfield," Mrs. Cruse recalls, "and had just turned to speak to another woman when the lights went out. When I came to at General Hospital I learned I'd been hit by one of the Babe's drives.

"I carried a fine old shiner for some time after that, but I finally came to be proud of it—and I still am."

Most of the soldiers are 18- and 19-year-olds who enlisted for a year, They wanted a quick trip home during the ten days they have before their advanced training starts at Camp Hood.

So they made a deal with the airline: $150 round trip or $7,400 for 50 passengers. They got the 50.

Soil Resources Must Be Saved Says Expert

FORT WORTH —(AP)— America must maintain its soil resources if "we are to keep a democratic form of government," B. F. Vance, state director of Production and Marketing Administration of the Department of Agriculture of College Station, said.

Speaking at a 14-county district meeting of PMA county administrators and committeemen, Vance said that if the farmers of America lose their buying power, industry will decline.

Vance recently returned from Greece where he was a member of the American mission for aid to Greece. He told the group that the food the American farmers produced and sent to Greece has kept the Communists from taking over the Greek nation.

Supreme Court Gives New Interpretation of Wage Law

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON —(AP)— This is an ABC on a new interpretation —by the U.S. Supreme Court— of the wage-hour law.

The government begins enforcing it Monday.

The new interpretation comes in on something that is called "premium" or "differential" pay. That's when a boss pays a worker a little more than the regular rate of pay for working inconvenient hours, like nights, Saturdays or Sunday.

This works in several ways. Take them separately:

Example No. 1—

Jones gets $40 for a regular 40-hour week. But in that plant the boss pays the man going to work at 5 p. m., a flat $4 extra for the week—premium pay for the unusual working hours.

If that night man works more than 40 hours a week, his time-and-one-half pay for overtime is based on the total $44 he received, not on the regular $40.

Example No. 2—

Some unions have put this into their contract with employers: Any man who has to work more than eight hours in any one day must get premium or extra, pay for doing it.

The contract says the boss has to pay 25 cents an hour extra for any hour over eight hours worked in any one day.

Suppose Smith—getting $40 for a five-day, 40-hour week—works nine hours Tuesday but winds up the week working only 40 hours because Wednesday he worked only seven.

Thus his total pay for the week is $40.25. That's because he gets the 25 cents premium pay for that one hour he worked Tuesday over his regular eight.

Suppose it happened that, by working one hour extra one day, he winds up the week with 41 hours. Then his total pay for the week is $41.50. How come?

His regular pay is $1 an hour. Time-and-one-half for overtime at that rate means 50 cents an hour more, or $1.50 for every overtime hour.

But he's already received 25 cents in premium pay for that one hour extra he worked. So he has only 25 cents more due him to round out the overtime.

Example No. 3—

Some bosses pay workers premium pay for work on Saturday and Sunday. But if a man works overtime by working Saturday and Sunday, he must be paid at overtime, not a lower premium, rate.

If a worker is only rounding out his 40-hour week by working Saturday and Sunday, the boss doesn't have to pay any more than the regular pay for other days, unless he's agreed to give premium pay for those two days.

But suppose a boss has agreed to that and one of his employes starts his week on Thursday, Then he gets regular pay for Thursday and Friday, premium pay for Saturday and Sunday, regular pay for Monday, thus making 40 hours.

But say he has to work overtime in that week of his by working Tuesday and Wednesday, or 16 hours over his regular 40 hours.

Then the total money the worker received in the preceding 40 hours, including Saturday and Sunday premium days—is added together to first figure his average pay, then work out his overtime pay.

Betty Grable Says 'Dance'

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD —(AP)— The gal with the most famous figure in the world tells how to save yours: dance!

"I've found the best way to take off weight is to dance," said Betty Grable, "The Beautiful Blonde From Bashful Bend." No catch phrase that, but the name of her current film; Preston Sturges ran it up.

"About 10 years ago, I started putting on a little weight in places because I hadn't been dancing. So I took a few acrobatic lessons and the poundage came off in no time."

Betty assured that you don't have to throw yourself around the living room if you're not the adagio type. Any kind of dancing will help.

"It's important to start dancing when you're young," she added. "I began taking four lessons a week when I was five. It helps you in more ways than just your figure. Dancing gives you grace. Because I started it early, I never went through the awkward age." Hmmm, it's hard to imagine Grable in the awkward age, anyway.

As for dieting, Betty said she doesn't do much.

"If I get a bit heavy, I can stop eating for two days and the weight goes down immediately."

However, if the Grable figure ever got out of hand, she'd just let it. "I'd just nave to get fat, because I'm too lazy to do exercises," she said. "And if dieting made me unnappy or irritable, I'd say to heck with it."

There's no danger of such a catastrophe at this point. Her 112 pounds is spread admirably upon her 5 feet 3 1-2 inch frame. Here's how it all adds up, at latest count:

Bust—36 in.; waist—23 in.; hips—35 in.; thigh—19 1-2 in.; calf—13 in.; ankle—7 in.; shoe—4B.

Much Shapelier Than Flour

The Baptist University head further stated that Hardin-Simmons' founders "believed that if business they must take risks and people are to make profits in that if they take risks they must not be denied the opportunity of making profits if their enterprise is successful

More than 600 oilmen stood and cheered when Dr Sadler said "there was a time when our people believed and I still believe, that the best possible government is the least possible government."

He said "we must reanze anew that we are an integral part of the total private enterprise system and conduct our work accordingly."

This work, he said, should be concentrated on sending out a constant stream of young men and women who "thoroughly understand, wholeheartedly believe in and are fully committed to the maintenance, the enrichment and the expansion of the democratic way of life."

Crude prices: Southwest independent operators are organizing against major company resistance to the Sept 28 Phillips Petroleum Company 35-cent per barrel boost in purchase prices for crude oil

The East Texas Oil Association has announced an "indignation" meeting will be held at Kilgore within a week or 10 days

As yet no major company has met Phillips' hike now accepted by only a small number of operators in the affected areas of Texas, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas

Phillips President K S Adams on Friday spiked earlier reports the company in view of the resistance would withdraw the posting

"We have no intention of backtracking," Adams said. "The higher posting is as fundamentally sound today as the day it was announced. We are being offered new well connections and we're taking new connections"

Spokesmen for several major companies admitted loss of crude purchase connections but denied the situation was serious

One major purchaser offered to buy 20,000 barrels daily at the new price provided connections were bound with one-year contracts

Meanwhile Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles announced he will demand that all companies pay "the highest posted price" when purchasing oils from lands involving royalty or other interests of state public schools and the University of Texas

Giles said all leases on public school and university lands call for such payments

Seventy-Year-Old Ex-Students Meet

DALLAS —(AP)— More than 50 ex-students of Mary Nash College gathered here for a reunion.

All members of the ex-students club are at least 70 years old.

The school was founded at Sherman, Tex., in 1877, but was discontinued in 1902.

A project of the group is a $2,500 scholarship fund from which loands are made at no interest charges to students who want to go to school. Mrs. James R. Bass of Caddo Mills, president, said only one person has failed to pay back a loan since the club was organized in 1914.

The group will meet next year in Sherman.

No Cut Likely in Men's Clothing

NEW YORK —(AP)—Men's clothing sources said there is no indication that other firms plan to follow the lead of Crawford Clothes, Inc., in cutting prices of its men's and boys' clothing.

Crawford announced a 20 percent cut in the prices of its entire stock of new fall suits, coats and sportswear. The firm manufactures clothing and operates 61 stores in the East.

Industry sources said effects of the Crawford move would "bear watching" and one maker said it reflects "a general weakening in sales."

But, in general, prices are still creeping upwards in the clothing industry.

Retailers said clothing sales have improved considerably in the past several days after lagging for some weeks.

The American nickel is usually 75 percent copper and 25 percent nickel.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your druggist and ask for 4 ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds

"When I commenced to take Barcentrate I weighed 212 pounds. I now weigh 165. I lost 25 pounds on the first two bottles. I feel so much better after losing that weight I think it is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barcentrate."—Mrs. George Gregg, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin Texas.

Lost 20 Pounds

"I lost 20 pounds taking four bottles of Barcentrate and I feel fine."—H. M. Gates 912 25th Street, Corpus Christi, Texas.

GOPsters Are Confident of House Victory

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Republicans say both openly and privately they are as confident of keeping control of the House in the November election as they are of carrying the presidency.

Democrats, speaking for the record, claim they can carry the House with a few breaks. But those close to the campaign, talking on the understanding they won't be named, confine themselves to a prediction that the Democrats will show a gain, without re-capturing control.

They say the administration's handling of the Palestine problem has hurt them in many Congressional districts, particularly in New York. Incidentally, they say this is part of the reason for the registration drop in New York City's Democratic stronghold.

The Democrats start off over the nation with 49 House candidates free of opposition and another seven going before the voters with both major party nominations.

Partially offsetting this, five Republicans have no Democratic opposition and another nine—all in California—have both major party nominations under the cross-filing system.

In addition, the Republicans regard many of their candidates in the North and Midwest just as good as elected even though they have Democratic rivals. They are running in districts which have gone Republican almost as regularly as Southern districts have gone Democratic.

The Republicans gained 54 House seats in the election two years ago. They now have 246 members (218 in a majority), the Democrats 187, and American Labor two. The Republican figure includes three vacancies; the Democratic, two.

To win control of the House, the Democrats would have to show a net gain of 31 for a clear majority, or 30 to organize the House with a working plurality of one over the Republicans.

Since their low strength of 89 members after the 1936 election (lowest since 1893), the Republicans jumped to 169 in 1938, dropped to 162 in 1940, went up to 212 in 1942, fell back to 190 in 1944, and up again to 245 after the 1946 election.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

FALL RIVER, Mass. —(AP)— Here is where the old New England Yankee is being dunked in his own melting pot.

Along the mill-lined banks of the Quequechan River a new pattern is emerging—a pattern typical of the new New England. It could be called the second revolution in New England—a long, slow, quiet revolution resulting in the mixing of the blood of many nationalities instead of the violent shedding of a few.

It is the change that has taken place in the stern and rocky New England character as a result of successive heavy waves of immigration for over a century.

This tidal flood of new faces and new languages has washed over the old Yankees irresistibly. Those who haven't mingled and been absorbed are, in some ways, almost strangers in their own land—that is the land they took from the Indians.

The story goes back a century. Shrewd Yankee traders put their shipping and farm wealth into cotton mills. Then they brought over Englishmen from Lancashire to work in the mills.

Then the Irish came over, the French came down from Canada, the Portuguese from the Azores. A generation ago large-scale immigration dropped off.

For a long time the lines between the old Yankees and the newcomers were sharply drawn. The immigrants complained they put out all the sweat and the Yankees—the grandsons of the men who whipped the British—took in all the money.

But in three generations the melting pot did a lot of melting, and it's melting faster every day. The old lines have crumbled, and the new child in America's old cradle of liberty is a vigorous offspring of both the old and new.

"We used to be regarded as just another ragged cotton mill town," said one Yankee descendant. "But we like to think we have created here a new culture, where people of varying backgrounds mix and bring forth new talent.

"Our nationalities mingle and get along with no friction. They are intermarrying steadily.

"I think we live pretty happily in pretty fair circumstances."

1—Card of Thanks

The Lord is my Shepherd
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures.
He leadeth me beside the still waters
He restoreth my soul
He leadeth me in the paths of righteousness, for His name's sake.
Yea, tho' I walk through the valley of the shadow of death
I will fear no evil, for Thou art with me.
Thy rod and Thy staff they comfort me.
Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemes, Thou anointmenest my head with oil, my cup runeth over.
Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life and I will dwell in the house of the Lord forever.—Psalms: 23.

CARL WILSON

We take this means to express our sincere appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the many deeds of kindness, messages of love, floral offerings and for the meals served in our home.

We wish to acknowledge the comforting messages and beautiful tributes of Rev. C. H. Smith of First Methodist Church and Rev. Edgar Henshaw of St. Matthews Episcopal Church. Also those who furnished music. We are mindful of the honor paid our loved one by the local Druggists who closed their stores for the hour of service and those who acted as pall bearers.

Our sincere thanks to the staff at Pampa Hospital who so untiringly did all that was humanly possible during the illness and to Duenkel-Carmichael for the beautiful last service for our loved one.

The Carl Wilson Family.

Dog Bites Rescuer; Refuses to Come Out

NEW HAVEN, Conn. —(AP)—The New Haven Fire Department says Celia can get out of that cellar by herself.

Celia, a small dog, taking a midnight walk with her mistress, ran down a plank into the cellar excavation of a new building. She couldn't, or wouldn't, come out.

At six minutes before midnight the fire department was summoned. Three firemen descended. When they ascended it at 1 a.m. Celia remained in the cellar.
