Hospital project head named

In a jovial mood for the first time in months, Mitchell County Hospital Board members Tuesday night heard representatives of a San Antonio bonding company and hired a project manager for the construction of a new hospital, doctors' offices and nursing home.

After hearing Duane Westerman of SAMCO Capital Markets review bonding procedures, the board voted to hear a proposal from Southwest Securities of San Antonio at a called meeting next Tuesday or Wednesday night.

Westerman, who attended the meeting with SAMCO executive Michael Wadsworth of Dallas, said the company could sell the bonds within 45 to 60 days after a successful election and have the money to the district within another 30 days.

The project is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $10 million, but District Administrator Rick Rickard said Austin architect Bob Cox is deriving a precise figure.

Westerman told District Chief Financial Officer Brad Burnett that an interest rate for the bond issuance cannot be determined until after it is approved by the voters.

Rickard said Cox recommended two possible project managers, but only one had experience in building hospitals, Bob Wallace of Lockhart, near Victoria.

On board member Dale Geiger's motion, Rickard was authorized to hire Wallace immediately at a monthly fee of $3,500 so that he may start developing plans and be ready to start construction if the general obligation bonds are approved by Mitchell County's registered voters.

The election date has not been set.

Wallace is a 1972 health care planning graduate of St. Edward's University in Austin and a 1985 health care admi-

Appreciation dinner is set for Rep. Rob Junell

350 people attended the last Rob Junell Appreciation Dinner here in October 1998, and supporters of the one scheduled for 7 p.m. Tuesday, Feb. 29, hope it will be as successful.

The location is the same, the County Ag Barn off West Hwy. 80, and tickets are on sale for $5 at City National Bank and the First National Bank in Colorado City and First Bank of West Texas in Loraine.

In addition to addresses by State Rep. Junell and local leaders and a probable legislative update leading toward the January 2001 session in Austin, the tickets will also buy a full course barbecue dinner.

The meal will be prepared by local cooks Woody Anderson, Dell Toelkes, Mark Waldrip and others.

The Kiwaniannes of the Colorado City Kiwanis Club will fix the potato salad.

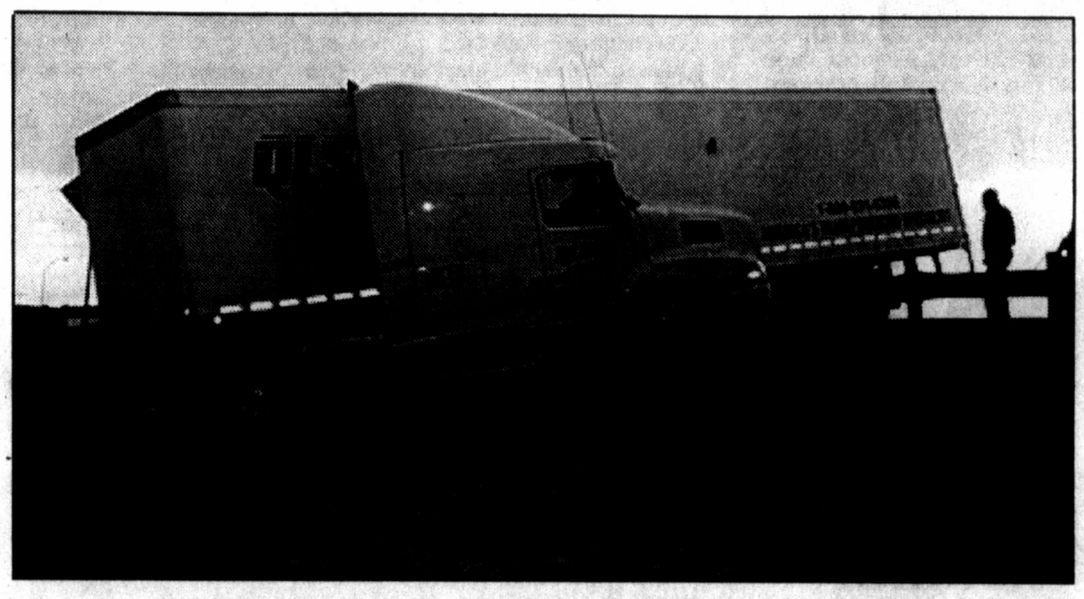
"Rob is just a real friendly, outgoing guy, just a West Texas guy like the rest of us," said Windi Fuller, director of the County Board of Economic Development.

"When he gets to Austin, he doesn't forget about us, and that's the key.

"I think most Mitchell Countians realize all he has done for this community, and this is just our way of saying thanks."

Rep. Junell is a San Angelo Democrat who has represented the 72nd Representative District, including Mitchell County, since 1989.

He practices law at the San Angelo law firm of Jackson & Walker when not occupied with his duties as chairman of the House Appropriations Committee.



AN EASTBOUND TRACTOR TRAILER RIG jackknifed at 2:27 p.m. Tuesday on the Rogers Road overpass on Interstate 20. Witnesses said a gust of wind appeared to turn the trailer during the rainstorm that fell here and cause the driver to lose control. No one was injured.

TxDOT promises city street resurfacings

Colorado City's main streets away from East Second and Hickory Streets will be smoothed and resurfaced by the Texas Department of Transportation (TxDOT) in a year and a half to two years.

Area TxDOT Engineer Art Barrow of Big Spring recently announced those projects and six Mitchell County farm to market road widenings that will cost at least $1.2 million.

A reconstruction of Hwy. 163 south to Sterling County is also planned.

The C-City work is projected to run $386,000, but City Manager Steve Shutt said that is a preliminary engineer's estimate and $500,000 might

Rain may return Thursday

A Midland weatherman said Tuesday that Mitchell County has a good chance to catch another shower like Tuesday's on Thursday.

Eddie Brite said southwest and southeast winds collided along the West Texas Dryline from Big Bend on the Mexican border to Wichita Falls and brought in enough moisture from the Gulf of Mexico to cause fast moving showers.

C-City caught .03 of an inch in a cable television company's rain gauge north of Interstate 20 and more in other parts of the county.

The storm hit fast and hard here and then moved east toward Abilene, Brite said.

He said the same thing could happen Thursday, when

Lake C-City now receiving water

TXU Electric & Gas Co. and the Colorado River Municipal Water District have begun a cooperative project to pipe water into Lake Colorado City and supply TXU's Morgan Creek Plant on the southeast side of the lake.

Officials of the CRMWD in Big Spring and TXU in Dallas late Tuesday afternoon issued a news release pertinent to the three year contract, whose initial supply to the lake is a million gallons a day.

They said the construction of a pumping station at Moss Creek Reservoir east of Big Spring and a new outlet will allow the flow to be increased to seven million gallons a day by mid-March.

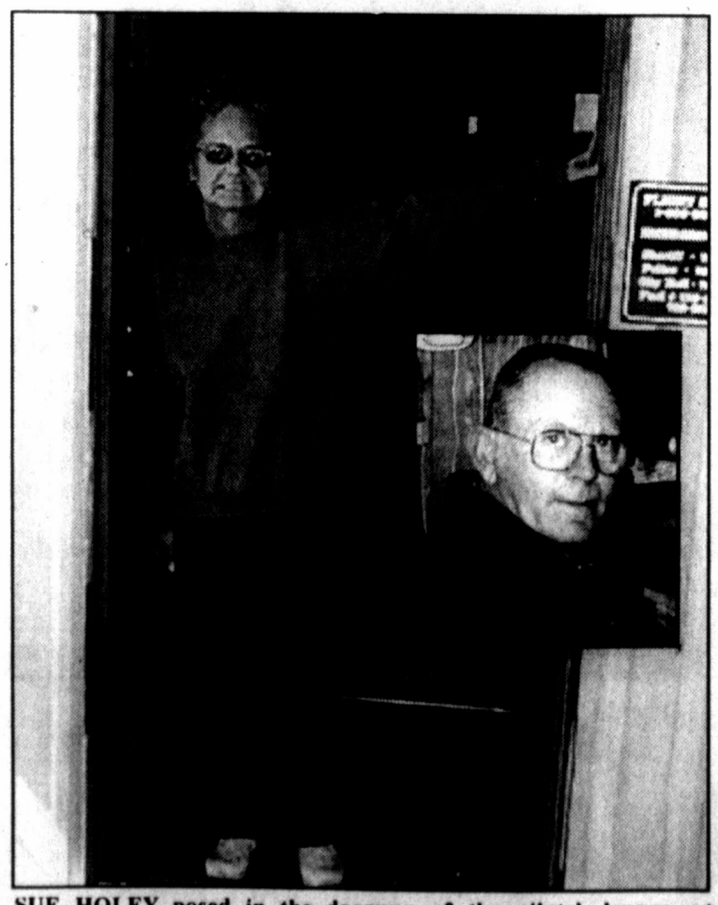
Cropduster George Holey memorialized



SUE HOLEY posed in the doorway of the pilots' lounge at Jetstrip Airport, where she had new carpet laid in memory of her husband George, who is shown in the inset. George Holey was a cropduster who died in a truck wreck near Lamesa.

The widow of cropduster George Holey has had the pilots' lounge at Jetstrip Airport recarpeted in appreciation of local citizens who made the shock of his death last Aug. 20 more bearable.

Holey was driving to Seminole to get an airplane guidance system repaired when his three quarter ton pickup collided with another three quarter ton truck near Lamesa.

He was 59 years old.

"I just really have had a hard time accepting it," said Mrs. Holey.

"I didn't do this for any recognition. I just wanted to let the people of Colorado City know how much we appreciate them for being so kind.

"The outpouring is unreal for someone that has been in a place for three years."

She and local pilot J. O. Dockrey Jr. have put a plaque memorializing Holey (pronounced Holly) on the west wall of the lounge.

Holey was a native of Minneapolis, Minn., whose father, also named George, was head of the Federal Aviation Administration there.

He got his pilot's license at 16 and later obtained an instructor's license and aviation mechanic's certification.

He began flying cropdusters as a teenager and met his wife, the former Sue Prescott of Portland, Ark., during 14 years at Delhi, La.

They have three children, Shane and Johnny, both of C-City, and Candy Huffmeyer of Roscoe, and five grandchildren.

Holey's mother Anne lives at Kristi Lee Manor nursing home.

He came here to work here with Monahans cropduster Clifford Kidd and eventually took over the business and renamed it Holey Enterprises.

With San Angelo pilot Dennis Vick, they flew eight cropdusting airplanes out of Jetstrip Airport eight miles north of town off FM 1808.

They worked extensively for the Texas Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation here, along with farmers in the Mitchell County area.

"George was a people person who never met a stranger," said Mrs. Holey.

She bought the light maroon carpet with blue threads and had it laid over the 36 by 27 foot room last December by Ramage Furniture, Appliance & TV.

Except for a telephone call five minutes earlier from her daughter Candy on the morning of the accident, she would have been riding with her husband.

She had just agreed to go with shopping in Snyder with Mrs. Huffmeyer and her two grandsons when George called her on his cellular phone and asked, "Sue, I've got to run to Seminole. Would you want to ride up there with me?

"If he had called me five minutes earlier. . ."

She offered to go with him anyway, "and he quickly said, 'No, no, no, Sue, you go on. I'm just going to go up there and right back.'"

He came by their home at 4738 N. Hwy. 208 on his way, and the last thing Mrs. Holey did for him was clean his eyeglasses.

"I had cleaned his glasses twice, and I was fixing to spray them a third time, and he said, 'Sue, don't do that. I've got to go.'

"And I said, 'You make it back,' but he didn't make it back.

"Even now, it seems like this door should open and he should walk in. He was a true gentleman in every way."

Asked what her husband's approach to cropdusting was,

Clay elected to CNB Board of Directors

Royce Clay

Royce D. Clay, President and Chief Executive Officer of The City National Bank of Colorado City, has been elected to the Board of Directors of The City National Bank and City National Bancshares. Mr. Clay, 40, assumed his duties as President and Chief Executive Officer of the bank in September, 1999.

Clay graduated from Muleshoe High School in 1978 and earned an Associate's Degree at Odessa College. He received a Bachelor's Degree in finance at Texas Tech University in 1982 and was employed at banks in Lubbock, Austin, and El Paso.

He was an officer with Bank One in Fort Worth and transferred with the same company to Houston for five years before coming to CNB as Vice President and Senior Credit Officer in May 1991.

Royce and his wife Linda have two children, Joni, a seventh grader at Colorado Middle School and J.D., a fourth grader at Hutchinson Elementary. Mrs. Clay is a special education teacher and band assistant at the middle school.

Raymond Fuller, Chairman of the Board said, "The Board feels that Mr. Clay will be an added asset to the Board of Directors. He is a valuable employee and his further involvement in the decision making process will be helpful. We are delighted to add his name to the Board."

City National Bank will be celebrating its 100th anniversary in April.

Construction begins on lake cottages

The foundations are being poured and walls are being erected for Lake Colorado City State Park's 11 new cottages in Dorn Creek Cove.

Working from the east end of the project in the north central area of the park, Wallace Unit trustees had laid six foundations and planned to put in three more this week.

The walls are up at three cottages, but no rooves have been built so far.

Texas Department of Criminal Justice Sgt. Johnny Rivera and Field Boss Leo Hernandez have been supervising 10 to 25 inmates a day, depending on what type of work was being done, Monday through Friday since Jan. 4.

They have worked as late at 9 p.m. when concrete was being poured and had to be finished, or smoothed out, before it was left.

Park Manager Mark Fambro said there have been "some snags and things" because the Texas Department of Parks & Wildlife is shipping in supplies and materials from throughout the state, "but I think that's to be expected.

"We're providing the materials, and the TDCJ is doing all the labor. There have been some unique situations arise that normally wouldn't arise if you just hired a contractor to do it."

He explained that the trustees stayed home once when it was too foggy for the correctional officers to watch all of them effectively.

They also do not work on state holidays like Presidents' Day on Monday.

The TDP&W is buying lumber from Houston and Higginbotham Bartlett in C-City, tile brick from Strawn and rock from Santo, near Mineral Wells in Palo Pinto County, tile brick from Thurber, near Stephenville in Erath County, and mortar sand from Big Spring.

"Everything is proceeding along about as well as could be expected," Fambro said.

The air conditioned, heated cottages will be on 16 by 30 foot foundations with porches and picnic tables outside.

With 16 by 17 foot interiors, they will be made mostly of stone but will have cedar ceilings.

Each cottage will have three bunk beds, a closet, shelving and a table.

A daily rental fee has not been determined but is expected to be the range of $20 to $25.

Fambro said he is already getting calls from people who want to make advance reservations, but it is still too early because the cottages will not be completed until the late summer or fall.

Restrooms and showers will be available at a nearby park building.

These will be the first cottages in the statewide park system, and they are an important modernization of Lake C-City because Dorn Creek Cove previously had only 16 non-electrical campsites and was used only a few times a year, usually during periods of peak occupancy in the park.

Its completion will give the park 78 electrical and 34 non-electrical sites, and it should make the park more competitive against the state parks at Lake Brownwood and Possum Kingdom Lake near Graham.

Cabins, which have indoor plumbing and small kitchens, are rented at Cooper Lake north of Fort Worth, Indian Lodge at the Davis Mountains in far West Texas and Lake Bastrop southeast of Austin.

New cabins are being constructed at Caddo Lake, near Marshall in East Texas.

be more accurate.

"It certainly is some movement in the direction we've been waiting on for some time now," he said.

Work is planned for Chestnut, Oak, Austin, 17th and 10th Streets, although not over their full lengths.

The north and south running Chestnut and Oak will be resurfaced from 17th to East and West Second downtown.

Shutt did not yet know exactly what will be done to Austin, but he said it will probably be rebuilt south to Westpoint from where it intersects Hickory at 20th Street.

The east and west running 17th and 10th Streets will be resurfaced from Rogers Road, or FM 3525 east of the Wallace and Ware Units, to Hickory and Austin Streets, respectively.

The schedule Barrow gave to Mitchell County commissioners shows the city work will start in September 2002, but Shutt said he has been told it will be no later than early 2002 and possibly sooner than that.

He noted that the state's fiscal year begins in October, indicating that the projects might be inaugurated in the fall of 2001.

He said the state's rationale is that the streets connect facilities like the county hospital, schools and the prisons.

Shutt said that with the water and sewer line replacements the city began in 1994-95 and now has mostly completed, the street resurfacings will bring the city close to its desired level of modernization.

The state classifies them as "major connector streets."

Barrow also announced that Hwy. 163 will be widened this year from FM 2836, the Lake Colorado City road southwest of here, eight miles south to Hwy. 670.

The contract will be awarded in April, and the department will open bids in December to widen 163 south 12 miles from 670 to Sterling County.

County TxDOT Manager Steve Graham said Monday that both sections of 163 will be torn up and completely rebuilt.

Mitchell County commissioners are being given 24,000 to 30,000 yards of "millings," or old ground up asphalt, from TxDOT stockpiles along I-20 in the Loraine area.

They said the millings will be used on county dirt roads to stabilize road bases and reduce dust.

TxDOT's first priority among the farm to market road widenings is 10.6 miles of FM 644 about eight miles south southwest of Loraine.

The $530,000 project will run from FM 2319 to South Hwy. 208, which Barrow said might be divided into two 5.3 mile contracts.

That one is expected to begin this summer.

Graham said a complete reconstruction like the one on 163 is planned over about 15 miles of 644 south from the Scurry County line to 2319.

There are three "Priority 2" projects and two with a "3" priority.

The second tier of jobs includes three sections of FM 670 -- 8.5 miles from Hwy. 163 to Interstate 20, south of Westbrook, $1.04 million; three miles from I-20 to FM 1308, north of Westbrook, $1.22 million; and 3.8 miles from 1308 to FM 1229, north northeast of Westbrook, $1.45 million.

Priority 3 projects are two sections of FM 1982 -- eight miles from Hwy. 208 to FM 644, northwest and north of Loraine, $2.73 million; and 3.7 miles from 644 to the Nolan County line, north of Loraine, $2.84 million.

The second two groups of projects are expected to begin within two to three three years.

Acuna delivery nears

Poor people in the colonias outside Ciudad Acuna, across the border from Del Rio, are going to be a lot better dressed in about six weeks.

That's when the Noon Lions Club of Colorado City will complete its long delayed distribution of five tons of flood relief supplies, which include more than 300 big cardboard boxes of clothes for men, women, children and babies.

A prominent Acuna businessman lent his support to getting the supplies over the border in late December, and the project's fruition has been awaiting the completion of a home expansion by drive leaders Weldon and June McMillan.

Ms. McMillan said then that the home expansion could not be dropped because the couple would have trouble reassembling the crew upon returning to Colorado City.

Weldon McMillan broke his ankle in an accident before New Year's and has just had the cast removed, and his wife said he will probably be off crutches by the time the work is finished and be ready to accompany her to Acuna in late March.

Fernando Gonzalez, owner of a chain of automobile parts stores and president of the Acuna Chamber of Commerce, has agreed to get the supplies over the border without payment of Mexico's 22.8 percent border crossing sanitation tax.

In two late December telephone conservations with Ms. McMillan, he said he would also supply trucks, a warehouse with a nightwatchman and, if necessary, workers to load and unload the supplies.

His support was obtained through the assistance of Del Rio News Herald border beat reporter Norma Flores Moreno, who is a native of Acuna.

The McMillans and their friends from Santa Marta, one of the colonias, will handle the distribution.

Ms. Moreno compiled the names of the eight poorest colonias now that Santa Marta has received electricity and plumbing in the aftermath of an August 1998 flood that devastated the colonias and left many people homeless.

The population of Acuna mushroomed by tenfold, from 20,000 to more than 200,000, after the NAFTA agreement was signed between the United States and Mexico and numerous factories were built along the Rio Grande.

Ms. McMillan said Monday that she might use the same method she employed to distribute groceries to Santa Marta in '99 -- visiting the colonias in advance and giving tickets to people who are truly needy.

Then they would come to Gonzalez' warehouse, present their tickets and, with the McMillans' and volunteers' assistance, "go shopping."

"The boxes all have the sizes and who the clothes are for written on them, so we can go through them till they find something to wear," she said.

Canned food, furniture, mattresses, medical supplies, shoes and other goods will also be given away over two or three weeks.

The ticket method will satisfy Gonzalez' and the McMillans' concern that the supplies will not be given to fraudulent profiteers who will turn around and sell them on the street.

Gonzalez, a close friend of the recently named chief of the Acuna customs office, at first proposed only to see that the goods are allowed over the border after more than a year of bureaucratic snags.

Ms. McMillan then prevailed on him to provide a warehouse with a nightwatchman, trucks and workers, and he agreed to give the warehouse, watchman and trucks.

He asked Ms. McMillan to supply the workers, if possible, but finally said he will hire those, too, if necessary to deliver the goods to the poor people, who Ms. Flores said have been one of his lifelong concerns.

Gonzalez is a member of one of the opposition parties in Mexico, and he ran for a regional office last year.

"He thought at first that I was asking too much, but I told him that me and my husband are not work ready," Ms. McMillan said. "He kept telling me, 'I don't want to distribute this stuff.'

"He finally said if we couldn't get volunteers to load and unload it, he could pay somebody to work. I told him that was all I needed.

"I talked to him twice, and he seemed the same both times. He said we'd get it done as soon as we got ready to do it. He said it wasn't a problem about us finishing our house."

She plans to call him about a week before she and her husband come to Acuna.

A dozen Wallace Unit trustees worked all day one Friday in November '98 to load the 53 foot trailer of volunteer C-City trucker Darrell Bonner after perhaps the biggest such drive in Mitchell County history.

Region 14 board races are set

School board members in Mitchell and Scurry Counties have a contested race to decide for the Place 1 seat on the Texas Education Agency Region 14 Service Center Board of Directors in Abilene.

Colorado City Policeman Pete Torres is running against incumbent Francine Allen-Noah of Snyder.

Ms. Allen-Noah is a retired Snyder special education teacher.

Torres last week appeared before the Colorado School Board to ask its support.

The 28 year old Torres has been a law enforcement officer for five years.

He is a Mason, a Lions Club member and a director of the local Pee Wee Football program.

Forty two board members at C-City, Loraine, Westbrook, Snyder, Hermleigh and Ira will mail in ballots that will be canvassed on April 20.

A June 14 meeting will be held in Abilene to install new members.

Places 1, 3 and 5 are up for re-election this spring, and Place 5 Director Jerry Adams of Tuscola is opposed by Andrew Harris of Abilene.

Filings were reported Tuesday by the office of Region 14 Executive Director Terry Harlow.

Adams, a retired Jim Ned High School principal, represents Callahan and Taylor Counties, excluding Abilene Independent School District.

Harris is a retired state employee who has worked as a school psychologist and counselor and as a community college teacher.

He lives in the Abilene Wylie School District.

The Place 3 director, Dr. Gene Shelhamer of Stamford, is unopposed. The dentist represents Haskell, Jones and Shackelford Counties.

The 30 day filing period for candidates opened in January and ended on Sunday, Feb. 20.

Candidates were allowed to file either by certified mail or in person at Dr. Harlow's office at the 1850 Hwy. 351 Service Center in Abilene.

Dr. Harlow was in C-City last spring to assist Colorado School Board members in their selection of a new superintendent.

I'm Zollie C. Steakley. As a practicing attorney in the 32nd Judicial District, I have known Judge Glen Harrison for over fifteen years. In his private practice he was fair, able, and his word was his bond. As a member of the District Attorney's office, he was a no-nonsense prosecutor who was tough on crime. What is most important to this race, however, is his record while he has been our County Court at Law Judge. He has been hard working, knowledgeable, fair and most importantly, completely impartial. If we elect him our District Judge, his name will be synonymous with truth, fairness and the efficient administration of judicial affairs. I hope you will join my family in supporting Judge Glen Harrison for District Judge. Thank you.

★ Mark Merrell, Principal, CMS - "Glen is a friend of education. He'll make a great District Judge."

★ Mark Hargrove, Attorney - "Glen has years of experience as a lawyer and a judge, and his rulings stand on firm footing. I have seen how he handles his courtroom and his docket-order and efficiency are the norm. He is a fine choice for District Judge."

★ Dobie Williams, Businessman - "A man of integrity, high moral standards and rock solid Christian values. Someone we can trust. Glen Harrison - the choice is simple."

★ Mike Maloney, Pharmacist - "I've known many people that have high standards for their professional and family values, their honesty, integrity and leadership abilities. I truly believe that Glen heads the list."

★ Sharon Hammond - "Glen Harrison for 32nd Judicial District Judge ... a wise choice."

★ Tom Ritchey, Retired Educator and Coach - "The main reason I support Glen is because of his character. He is a man of fairness, honesty & integrity ... everyone I have talked to is in total agreement with this evaluation."

★ Charles Bowen, Retired Educator - " Mary Rose and I know Glen. He is honest, hardworking and experienced. He is the best man for our new District Judge."

I have worked with Judge Harrison for 10 years in the County Court at Law and as an assigned judge in the District Court. I know this man well, and I just can't say enough about his fairness and integrity. He is at all times totally unbiased. His ten years experience as a judge and the many trials he has sat for will enable him to "hit the ground running" as our new District Judge (needing no additional training).

Glen is a fine Christian man, a young healthy man and could serve our district well for many years.

Kidd files for place on City Council

A longtime Colorado City civic leader filed Tuesday morning for District 3 seat on the City Council.

Bertie Kidd, who has been a leader in the Christmas in April homes reconstruction project and was named "Citizen of the Year" at the annual Chamber of Commerce Banquet two years ago, filed to run against incumbent Councilman Gary Redwine for a two year term.

Councilman Redwine told City Manager Steve Shutt recently that he plans to run for another term.

District 3 covers the west central and northwestern sections of town.

No other candidates had filed Tuesday, the first day of the 30 day filing period, for city council, school board or hospital board seats in C-City, Loraine or Westbrook.

However, veteran Colorado School Board member Rosanne Jameson told the Record that she will not seek another three year term.

Place 4 school board member Lisa Hernandez has indicated her intention to run but had not filed.

Ms. Jameson, who represents Place 6 east of Hwy. 208 and southern Mitchell County, said she has enjoyed her service but decided "that it's somebody else's turn.

"I'm proud of what we've done," she said. "We have had a good board and worked well together. A lot of things have happened.

"There's no animosity or anything. I just think it's time to get off the board."

She noted that her son, Joe Ross, graduated from Colorado High School two years ago and her daughter, Margaret Ann, is about to.

She was on the board for six years.

C-Court buys city lots

Mitchell County commissioners Tuesday voted to purchase three lots on the south side of the Pct. 4 county barn in Loraine.

Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston said he had been offered the 50 by 150 foot lots for $300 by Sebastian and Virginia Rangel.

Pct. 3 Commissioner Wendy Inman of the Spade Community said he supported the purchase because it would give Commissioner Preston more space to work in.

With all members present at the 9 a.m. called meeting, the proposal was unanimously approved.

Other business in the seven minute meeting included a report by Pct. 2 Commissioner Carl Guelker of Cuthbert that he had hired Floyd Rice of Westbrook to fill a vacancy in his road and bridge crew.

Rice, who is in his late 50's, was hired to replace Larry Miller, who left the crew last fall.

Commissioner Guelker said Rice has been working as a "rover" employee for Pct. 1 Commissioner Ed Roach and him for the past 1 1/2 years.

The meeting began with a prayer by Commissioner Inman, who asked God "to make this a paradise for farmers and ranchers and fill our lakes with water."

she said he enjoyed working on airplanes as well as flying them and that his enthusiasm for his profession never flagged.

"George Holey loved aviation," she said. "He was the most motivated man when it came to that.

"If you talked to George for just a few minutes, somehow he would let you know that cropdusting and airplanes were his life.

"He had a romance with airplanes and aviation all these years. I kept thinking he might get tired of it or whatever, but his love for aviation never waned."

Mrs. Holey said Cherry Wright and others at the Boll Weevil Eradication Foundation, Dockrey, Robert Hoback at Colorado Feed & Seed and Vick, who finished the season's work last year, are among the people and businesses who showed hospitality prior to and since the accident.

Others are the Rev. Bentley Gwynn of Oak Street Baptist Church, cropdusters' timekeeper Dee Stubblefield and Kiker Seale Funeral Home.

Ms. Wright has since moved to Dallas and has been replaced by Willis Hughes.

Fishing was a close second to flying in Holey's life, and he and Sue often fished for bass or white perch at Lake C-City and Champion Creek Reservoir.

They belonged to the local Bass Club and had also fished in North Louisiana in the Delhi area.

Although she has been well treated here, Mrs. Holey is considering returning to Louisiana.

"I may go back to Louisiana," she said. "I spent 14 years there."

"Make a Difference Day" plans set by KCCB for March 25th

March 25th is first clean-up activity scheduled for the year. The success of the October "Make a Difference Day" encourages the participation of the citizens and business owners within the city of Colorado City.

The Colorado City Landfill will be open on Fri., Mar. 24 and Sat., Mar. 25 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Both days are free to residents of Colorado City. State law requires that the load be covered to prevent blowing debris.

Citizens are encouraged to clean up their property, mow, remove limbs and branches, remove trash, remove and deliver unwanted appliances to Buford Salvage, which is located at 5450 N. Hwy. 208.

Anyone unable to deliver items to the landfill, you may request assistance by calling the Colorado City Chamber at 728-3403. KCCB volunteers will assist in the pick up and delivery of tree limbs, lumber, appliances and additional trash items that can be manually lifted into dump trucks that are being provided by the city and county.

Limbs and branches should be cut into pieces that can be easily handled by one person, and should not exceed a diameter of 12 inches. Items should be placed next to the curb, driveway or alley, leaving access for traffic.

Tires, batteries, oil and other contaminants will not be picked up. KCCB volunteers will not be allowed to go into the property or into any structure to retrieve objects.

Requests for pick up may be made until Wed., Mar. 22. KCCB volunteers will qualify the load for pick up on Thurs., Mar. 23 and pick up will occur on Fri., Mar. 24 and Sat., Mar. 25. These services are for individuals, and not to be used by the business community.

McAdams re-elected director

A leading Texas cattleman will serve a second term as Southwest Region director of Cattle-Fax, a Denver-based market information and analysis service.

Jim McAdams, Lubbock, was re-elected to the Cattle-Fax board, representing southwest producers and feeders, during Cattle-Fax's recent annual membership meeting. The meeting took place during the National Cattlemen's Beef Association's (NCBA) 2000 convention in Phoenix.

McAdams is assistant general manager of Spade Ranches, which operates six ranches in west Texas and eastern New Mexico. He has been with Spade Ranches since 1992. McAdams, a fourth-generation rancher, also is a partner in a family business, McAdams Cattle Co., Huntsville, Texas.

McAdams has a B.S. degree in agricultural economics from Texas A&M University. He is a member of the boards of the National Cattlemen's Beef Association and the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, and he has served as chairman and vice chairman of NCBA and TSCRA committees.

In 1990, he was honored with the Bill Clements Memorial Award for Outstanding Service to Agriculture; and, in 1991, he was named Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

McAdams has a son, Will, of Colorado City.

Tax rebates drop

West Central Texas towns were generally down in February state sales tax rebates.

Colorado City is off by 27 percent, $47,504 to last year's $64,878, and Westbrook by 76 percent, $186 to $764.

Loraine is one of the few area winners in State Comptroller Carole K. Rylander's report, improving by 27 percent, from $1,129 last year to $1,429 this month.

Mitchell County is down by 17 percent, $19,897 to $24,-060, but is .16 of a percent ahead of 1999 for the year to date, $32,994 to $32,940.

Reporting $317 million in rebates to 1,105 cities and 119 counties, Comptroller Rylander said in Austin,"The New Year is off to a good start as Texas' steady economic growth generates new jobs, high consumer confidence and strong retail sales."

The figure is a .4 of a percent decrease from last February, but Comptroller Rylander said rebates are still up by 6.6 statewide for the year to date.

C-City is only down by 6.4 percent following a strong January report.

Sweetwater is off by 8.9 percent, Roscoe by 7.7, Blackwell by 20, Big Spring by 19, Coahoma by 33, Forsan by 37, Snyder by .11 of a percent, Miles by seven and Winters by 21.

Ballinger gained by six percent.

For the past few years, the push has been to get more population here. Nothing has worked. We are losing population, so I think we had better start helping the folks we have, by cutting property taxes, so they can survive here. So, let's get together and stop this spending on these bad projects, and cut property taxes!

The CCR Column

Magazine's ratings hooey

By Bob Campbell

What should we think about Texas Monthly and its lists of the "best" and "worst" state legislators?

They have named State Rep. Rob Junell as one of the best several times now, but then you don't have to be perceptive to state the obvious.

What offends me is the criticism they leveled at State Sen. Troy Fraser last year.

They did their best to make him a laughingstock by saying he took credit for bills he didn't have much to do with and giving him a low rating.

This was based on updates he had sent to his 24th Senatorial District constituents in Mitchell County and elsewhere, which may have been in broad generalities at times in the heat of the 1999 legislative session.

However, Sen. Fraser had a very successful session, sponsoring the elimination of the state franchise tax on small businesses with less than $150,000 in gross annual income and sending an extra $4 million to the four campuses of Texas State Technical College, among other achievements.

No one in any of his 21 counties thought they could beat the Marble Falls Republican this year, so he is unopposed for a second four year term.

Lt. Gov. Rick Perry apparently doesn't take Texas Monthly (TM) any more seriously than I do because late last year he appointed Sen. Fraser chairman of a committee to continue workers' compensation reform, an issue he already has an extensive background in.

Lt. Gov. Perry also just appointed Fraser co-chairman of the Senate Redistricting Committee for 2001, a task of labyrinthine complexity and one for which you only want legislators of the highest integrity.

I read TM a lot when it first came out in the 1970's and some in the '80's, when I realized that its political writing should not be taken seriously.

The only thing I read in it anymore, the once or twice a year when I'm in the dentist's office and don't have anything better to do, is its crime writing.

Political writing entails a certain amount of prognostication, but TM must think it only requires divination, clairvoyance or consulting a Gypsy with tarot cards.

In fact, it's merely research, talking to so many people and listening to so much political talk that the outcome is clear ahead of time.

They do have the disadvantage of having to work further in advance to meet magazine deadlines, but that's on things like not seeing ahead to the rude awakening that staff complacency led Gov. George W. Bush to in New Hampshire.

There is no excuse for trashing able, honest men like Sen. Fraser.

I guess the magazine staff would have liked them better if they were getting drunk, chasing prostitutes and taking money under the table like so many of their colleagues.

Men who just want to get elected to the State Legislature so they can "go wild in Austin" with all the other hedonistic loons down there have passed being common knowledge and become a tiresome cliche.

HOSPITAL

nistration graduate of Trinity University in San Antonio.

Since forming his own company in 1989, he has worked on numerous hospitals, rehabilitation centers and surgical center projects in Hawaii, South Carolina, Louisiana, Utah, Florida, Texas, California, Virginia and other states.

Rickard said Wallace's lump sum fee for the Mitchell County project would be $100,000, but he recommended hiring him on a monthly basis.

The board was serious while hearing Hospital Compliance Officer Linda Mize review all aspects of the district's operation and then report on allegations by Kristi Lee Manor and Loraine Manor nursing homes co-owner Clark Moody.

Although Moody has widely alleged that the district's Valley Fair Lodge nursing home is being illegally supplied with residents by district employees, Ms. Mize said, the county hospital has released 240 patients to Moody's homes in the past three years and only 94 to Valley Fair Lodge.

A more lighthearted segment of the two hour and 15 minute meeting, which started at 6 p.m. with all members present, was a lengthy discussion with Dr. Alfred Vardeman, a local veterinarian who said he had only received second hand information about the hospital.

Dr. Vardeman said many large landowners in the county do not live here, and he suggested that they be polled on whether or not a new hospital should be built.

He said it is unfair that registered voters who do not own property will have a say in deciding the issue.

He suggested not having an election, and board member Lee Roy Miller Jr. said, "The reason for the election is to get the monkey off our backs."

Board member Kenneth Beasley said he invited Vardeman to the meeting after a similar discussion at his veterinary clinic, and Board President Kent Boyd quipped that when the board makes a final decision, "We'll send Kenneth over to explain it to you."

Board member Kenneth Rogers said while some landowners from outside the county will help pay for the new hospital, they receive similar support from landowners in the counties where they live.

Rickard observed after the meeting ended that the board's mood has lightened considerably now that "there is a plan" and it has decided to propose general obligation bonds and let the voters make the final decision.

The board voted to set Saturday, May 6, for the election of new members with Geiger, Larry DeBusk and Beasley facing re-election.

On the recommendation of Board Secretary Karen Holman, Brenda Kelly of Colorado City was appointed C-City election judge and early ballot board judge.

Christine Britton was named Loraine election judge and Leslie Moody the Westbrook judge.

Early voting will be from April 19 to May 4.

Rickard reported that Valley Fair Lodge made a net profit of $141,811 in 1998-99.

Miller asked Valley Fair Lodge Administrator Marsha Rickard if the money went into the district's general fund.

Ms. Rickard said it was put into the lodge's building fund for possible future use, which has reached a total of $200,000 from that and previous profits.

"We've not only made it," she said. "We've managed to save it."

began flowing south from a CRMWD pipeline near Barber Lake northwest of Colorado City down Morgan Creek into Lake C-City.

It is being piped from E. V. Spence Reservoir west of Robert Lee in Coke County south of here to Moss Creek Reservoir and on to Mitchell County.

There has been speculation that the Morgan Creek Plant will not be operated past this summer, and the CCR has asked TXU to address that issue in an amended statement later this week.

A company official said the measure to counteract the deleterious effects of the two year long drought on the lake's water level will not refill it but will only allow the company to maintain a sufficient level to cool the plant.

"Most of the facilities were already in place to deliver water to TXU Electric," said CRMWD General Manager John Grant.

"The unique agreement provides that, should the drought continue, TXU Electric's quantity of water could be reduced or stopped altogether in order for the district to continue to meet its municipal water use requirements and current contractual obligations with others."

Thurber's Back Road

By Tumbleweed Smith

The Thurber smokestack is a landmark. It's located along Interstate 20 about halfway between Fort Worth and Abilene and stands as a monument to the coal industry which was active around Thurber a hundred years ago.

Thurber coal made possible the expansion of rail lines through the southwest. Thurber brick paved miles and miles of Texas highways and streets as Americans discovered the pleasures of automobile travel.

In its heyday Thurber was a bustling city of 10,000 and was considered the most modern city in Texas. Every house had electricity and indoor plumbing at a time when such amenities were rare. Residents enjoyed the recreational facilities, bands, celebrations, baseball teams and an opera house which attracted some of the greatest singing stars of the era to its stage. Bocci tournaments were big events.

Thurber's 2500 coal miners were predominately Eastern European immigrants, mostly Italian and Poles. They provided a cheap labor force that made Thurber one of the world's leading coal producers.

In 1921 Texas oil replaced coal for railroad fuel and Thurber became a ghost town. The once vibreant city has been reduced to a few derelict buildings and blackened earth mounds which mark the locations of old mines.

The cemetery at Thurber is hard to find. Unless you've got somebody showing you around, you're liable to miss it. I had the best: Leo Belinski, a man who grew up around Thurber, left to earn a Ph.D. and follow scholarly pursuits, then returned home to work on restoring some Thurber buildings and chronicle the town's history. He has written a book, "Back Road to Thurber."

The cemetery has three sections: Afro-American, Catholic and White Protestant. Each section has its own entrance. An eight foot weather-worn wooden cross marks the grave of Anthony Bascilli. This man dug his own grave, lined it with bricks and marked it with the cross. To ensure that those shoveling dirt in his grave would be careful, he hid pints of whiskey in the dirt he dug out.

A new suit and new shoes were placed in the foot of his casket. Apparently Bascilli wanted to be presentable on resurrection day.

More than half of the 1,000 graves in the Thurber cemetery are children less than two years old. Little babies were sometimes buried in shoe boxes. There were several instances when one family buried three children in one year. One burial plot has graves for three children who all died within a few days of each other. Diptheria, scarlet fever, whooping cough and malaria were common diseases back then.

Because of rocks in the cemetery, digging was hard and sometimes dynamite was used to blast out graves. When one heard an explosion from the direction of the cemetery, the question "Who died?" was asked around town.

Some years back, cemetery gates were opened to permit cattle to graze in the cemetery. The resulting damage is now being corrected.

Fightin' Wolves musicians headed to state contest

Twenty seven members of the Colorado High School Fightin' Wolves Band qualified for state level solo and ensemble competition Saturday at Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene.

Soloists Megan Merrell on flute, accompanied by pianist Jami Thackerson, and trumpeter Tyrell Jones advanced to the state contest May 27-29 at Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos.

Also qualifying for the big competition were a clarinet trio, two flute trios, a clarinet choir, two low brass quartets and a percussion quartet.

Forty band members took part in the Region 2 University Interscholastic League Solo and Ensemble Contest.

"To earn this high honor, the students must perform a solo or ensemble off a required list of music that is categorized under the Class 1 heading," said Band Co-Director Jeremy Ross. "A Class 1 selection is the most difficult on the entire list.

"An addition, a Class 1 solo must be performed completely by memory.

The students who advanced, winning bronze medals with blue ribbons in the process, are as follows:

-- Clarinet trio, Shawna Wilking, Becky Luera and Tiffany Overby.

-- Flute trio, Megan Merrell, Chesna Riley and Bridget Calloway.

-- Flute trio, Conny Schindler, Paige Campbell and Ali McNeal.

-- Clarinet choir, Jaki Davila, Shawna Wilking, Becky Luera, Candi Garrett, Tiffany Overby and Shawna McGuire.

-- Low brass quartet, Simon Moreno, Vickie Williams, Bo Williamson and Richard Baum.

-- Low brass quartet, Adam Luera, Ryan Noblett, Jessica Chaney and Ricky Upham.

-- Percussion quartet, Archie Goodman, Luke Fambro, Danny Torrez and Justin Gross.

Others who took part were Kim Sanford, Zach Wylie, Heather Wadley, Brad Lowrance, Johnny Morales, Matthew Arrellano, John Deloera, Roger Crawford, Justan Crawford, Rose Ann Mills, Kassie Merket and Tammi Turnbow.

Next up for the band -- and a possible sweepstakes award -- is the UIL Concert and Sight Reading Contest on April 19 at Cooper High School in Abilene.

The band won a superior rating at last fall's marching contest in Abilene and will win its first sweepstakes title for overall excellence since 1997 if it earns similar ratings in concert and sight reading.

"All of these students are to be congratulated," said Ross Tuesday.

"This contest is one that requires individual work and a lot of outside time. The payoff for the entire band is a good one because these kids are strengthening themselves as individual players. That makes the whole band better."

Cap Rock announces purchase

Cap Rock Electric, an electric utility headquartered in Midland, Texas, announced recently that it has agreed to buy all the electric utility properties of Citizens Utilities (NYSE:CZN) in the states of Arizona and Vermont. The transactions are expected to close within the next twelve months following regulatory approvals.

Cap Rock has served electric consumers in Texas since 1939, and now distributes electricity in 28 counties. Acquiring Citizens' Vermont electric division will add approximately 21,000 meters to Cap Rock's existing customer base. Citizens' Arizona utilities are in two separate areas of the state.

The Santa Cruz County service area has approximately 12,500 meters in the Nogales area. The Mohave County Service area has approximately 58,000 customers in and around Lake Havasu City, Kingman and Bullhead City.

Cap Rock is in the process of converting from a cooperative to an investor-owned publicly held utility. When this conversion is completed, Cap Rock Electric Cooperative will become Cap Rock Energy Corporation.

Completion of the conversion is expected to coincide with closing of the purchase of the Citizens Utilities properties. Cap Rock's electric properties, including those in Arizona and Vermont, will be operated as separate divisions in each state.

"Our vision of Cap Rock's future," said David Pruitt, Cap Rock's CEO/President, "is to build a nationwide company that is focused on local customer service and community involvement. And we intend to raise as much of our equity capital as possible from our customer service that we established under our cooperative form."

"We believe that our new structure will provide increased ownership flexibility that is simply not available under the cooperative form of business."

Cap Rock has more mergers to its credit than any other electric cooperative in the country, having completed three in Texas, with another pending.

"These additional acquisitions are an important strategic step in our plans to build a company that is locally focused in each community it serves, and yet has a nationwide presence," Pruitt said.

Kristi Lee Manor & Loraine Manor

Here is some information on monopolies and antitrust practices which I would like the Board of the Mitchell County Hospital District as well as the voters to consider. First, a definition of monopoly by old Noah Webster in his dictionary: "Exclusive control of a commodity or service in a given market, or control that makes possible the fixing of prices and the virtual elimination of free competition."

Next, a definition of monopoly contained in Black's Law Dictionary, and quoting an old North Carolina case: "A monopoly consists in the ownership or control of so large a part of the market supply or output of a given commodity as to stifle competition, restrict the freedom of commerce, and give the monopolist control over prices."

Now as to the possible antitrust litigation. This is litigation which the government can take against a corporation or individual who is guilty of antitrust practices. There can be both criminal and civil liability. There are criminal sanctions against price fixing, division of markets, allocation of customers, boycotts, blacklists, price discrimination, allowances, rebates, kickbacks, and the like, etc. The government has its choice as to criminal or civil liability. It usually favors criminal proceeding because of the deterrent value of stiff fines, and/or imprisonment. You can be guilty even when acting in what you believe to be the best interests of the corporation. If you knowingly participate in, authorize, or order the illegal practices, or failed to take action to stop such practices when they come to your attention and which you had the authority and opportunity to prevent or stop then you are vulnerable to liability.

The government can elect to proceed on the civil side. A finding in a criminal action that antitrust laws have been violated is admissible as prima facie evidence in a civil suit, and can involve punitive damages as well as provable losses.

I know that is a lot of legal talk to try to understand. However, we feel as though these laws apply to our situation between the Mitchell County Hospital District and Kristi Lee and Loraine Manor. It is important to understand that not all of the criteria need apply for the monopoly or antitrust violations to exist. Any single issue may be sufficient to constitute a violation. The administration has controlled nursing home referrals in their favor, and have improperly influenced potential residents as well as existing residents of Kristi Lee Manor and Loraine Manor. It is our goal to stop the illegal referrals inside of the Mitchell County Hospital District, referrals which I have complained to the administrators about on many occasions and nothing has been done.

We want to make our position clear. We are not trying to threaten or give ultimatums. We told the board that should they decide to leave the hospital complex as a package which includes the nursing home we will be forced to take whatever actions we can to try to stop them. We want all of the voters and taxpayers to know that we will be forced to take this matter to court if the board refuses to work with us on these issues. Should a new nursing home actually be built and then we prevail in court. Mitchell County will be faced with a new facility that they may not be able to operate at their projected levels, if at all. This could then become a large tax burden to the residents of Mitchell County. It has been our goal all along to get the hospital board to remove the nursing home from the ballot, and then we can work with the board on the other issues. I have been told by some that since the full details of the election have not been set the board could reverse their decision and remove the nursing home from the ballot. They could give alternatives on the ballot, giving the voters a choice of the hospital alone and then give choices of other individual facilities to chose from. Thus far they have refused to change their position.

Lioness blood drive to be held Feb. 29

A new millennium means time for the Tumbleweed Lioness Club's first blood drive of 2000.

There is a shortage of blood not only in our part of the country but all over the United States. Having plenty of blood on hand is vital. There are many things that warrant the use of blood, such as accidents and surgery.

It is very important that everyone come out and donate. There is no better way to start off a new year than to donate "the gift of life".

The drive will be held Tues., Feb. 29 at the Civic Center from 2:30 to 6:30 p.m. Some type of identification, such as driver's license, UBS donor card or some type of photo identification is required.

CHS Baseball season begins

While high school coaches nearly always have to face the departure of seniors and are in a constant state of rebuilding, Colorado Wolf baseball coach Brandon Collins has more question marks entering the 2000 campaign than he would like.

With only Chase Phariss, Andrew Spear, and Tino Silva back from a 1999 playoff squad, the new-look Wolves will begin the season with a 4:30 start at Greenwood Thursday. They will then travel to Sweetwater for a Saturday doubleheader beginning at 1 p.m.

Although there are only three returning, Collins says they are three good ones. "All three of those guys did an exceptional job for us last year, and I really expect them to pick up their game this year," he said.

Collins will be looking for some of last year's junior varsity players to elevate their game and make major contributions. Left-handed pitcher Danny Torres as well as fellow underclassmen Kevin Wright and Aaron Waldrip are anticipated to be strong players for 2000.

Senior pitcher C. J. Hurst will also be a factor. "C.J. played on JV as a junior last year," Collins said, "But he's gotten a lot better. He went to some camps and improved a little bit -- that's going to help us out."

In addition, newcomer Jed Anderson has impressed his coach in practice thus far. "He's another left-handed bat in the lineup, so he's going to be another good addition for us," Collins said.

Batting is the area of greatest concern for Collins, who lost some excellent hitters to graduation. "Our defense will be solid, and I think we can throw strikes and get people out," he said, "But I'm really worried about our offense - we've got so many guys moving up from JV and this is a step up in the caliber of competition that you're facing, so I really think that is our biggest challenge coming into the season, how we will produce runs."

The Wolves will try to counter the missing bats with quickness and aggressive base-running. "We're going to try to do some things we haven't done in the past as far as base running to hopefully produce a few more runs," Collins said. "It may be a little more exciting to watch than last year. Last year we relied on some of those guys to hit the ball and produce runs that way, but this year we're going to try to run and do some things that way to help scratch out a few more runs."

Collins labels Seminole and Lamesa as favorites for the 2000 season, but has high hopes for his team.

"Everybody's coming out and working hard so far," he said. "I think we've got a really good chance of making the playoffs if we get after it and win some key ball games at different times," he added. "I don't think Seminole and Lamesa are unbeatable, but I think those two teams, just with their kids they've got returning, would be the favorites for the district."

Tennis team scratches out 4th place

Despite the absence of several players who were otherwise occupied in band solo and ensemble competition, the Colorado High School tennis team managed to scratch out a fourth-place finish in the Colorado Team Tournament last weekend.

Tennis coach Carolyn Walker was pleased with the effort. "Due to the conflict with band, we did not have a full team, nor did we have our regular singles players in the boys' division," she said. "But the people who played in their places gave it their best and I am proud of them."

The doubles team of Oscar Rodriquez and Jeremy Raymond continued their strong play, following up a second-place finish at the San Angelo Tournament with another second on their home court. Their only loss was in the finals to the team of Reyes and Sosa from Reagan County, last year's Class 3A state champions. Rodriquez and Raymond gave the state champs all they could handle, losing the first set in a tiebreaker.

The other boys' doubles team of Greg Heipler and Michael Hembree took 6th place with two wins and two losses.

In girls' doubles, the team of Tasha Wyrosdick and Cristy Hull took consolation honors after losing their first match to the eventual first-place team from Greenwood. The other girls' doubles team of Samantha Maberry and Andrea Hoback finished 11th with a pair of victories to go with two defeats.

Manuel Molina captured the consolation trophy in boys' singles with three straight wins after a close opening-round defeat while Rick Taylor picked up 7th place.

In girls' singles, Jennifer Wilking won two and lost two for an 11th place finish.

Sweetwater took home the first-place trophy with 101 points, followed by Reagan County's No. 1 team with 92 and Greenwood with 61. Colorado City was only two back with 59 points.

Individual winners were Ambra Gage of Sweetwater in girls' singles, Andrew Pennington of Sweetwater in boys' singles.

C-City was without the services of top singles player Justin Gross, who took second the week before at the San Angelo Tournament, knocking off four opponents before falling to Strong of Lubbock Estacado.

Simon Moreno, the consolation winner from the Angelo match, was also at band competition.

A person who may be affected by the emission of air pollutants from the site is entitled to request a notice and comment hearing. The TNRCC may grant a notice and comment hearing on this application if a written hearing request is filed within 30 calendar days after publication of this notice. If a notice and comment hearing is granted, all individuals that submitted written comments or a hearing request will receive written notice of the hearing. loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings from Loraine.

Brace yourself, March winds are coming. We won't be able to tell though. We have them all year long.

Maybe El Nino and La Nina will cause rain. We can plan on it. Wouldn't it be wonderful to have green lawns and pretty flowers for spring?

If you can see it, and expect it, maybe it will happen.

Billie Schroeder visited with her aunt and uncle in Abilene last Friday. They are Mr. and Mrs. D.D. Daniel.

Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Chandler and daughter Monica visited in the home of Irene Kidd Saturday afternoon.

The family group enjoyed having a meal together in Sweetwater.

John Lee of Brisco, Texas spent last Thursday and Friday night with his dad, George Lee. He returend home Friday night.

Mike Gage bought a co-op gin in Haskell and it is now an independent. Mike plans to keep the Loraine Gin open also.

Clovis and Jean Hale of Lubbock spent last Tuesday evening and night with Irene Kidd.

The Hales were enroute to Austin as they are in the process of moving there. They have a home on Lake Travis.

While Oscar Singleton was enroute to Portales, New Mexico to keep a two day work schedule, when he stopped by covenant hospital in Lubbock to visit his sister-in-law, Doris Hall.

Edna and Joe Parker were in Loraine Friday. I met them at the Center where they visited and had lunch.

Edna will be offering a tanning service in Nan's Beauty Salon beginning Feb. 23 in Colorado.

Vickie Caldwell of Arlington recently was in Loraine to spend the night with Ida Baird and her aunt Ida returned home with her.

After visiting there with family members Dale and Olga Ann Baird, living not far away, had Ida go home with them and stay a week.

Dale brought his mother home this past week.

We extend our condolences to the family or Ardell Griffin and her host of friends.

Our condelocenes also go out to the family of Dorothy Johnson as her daughter Beverly Johnson passed away over the weekend.

Veida Gage was in Loraine Monday. She had lunch with Mike while here. Earlier she visited at the Center with old friends and former neighbors.

A birthday dinner was held Sunday in the home of Doris and Tharon Henderson honoring Doris' mother Pauline Smiley on her 93rd birthday.

Guests were Brad, Penny, Ashley and Morgan Hnderson of Midland, Jay Henderson of San Angelo, Wright and Suda Hock, Susan and Larry Farr, all of Colorado City, also Sug Bynum of Colorado City.

Frank and Frankie Ketchem of Seguin, Texas visited with Gus and Iva Armstrong Saturday.

Iva said she and Frankie are cousins and hadn't seen each other since they were small and played together.

Senior Center

As always we enjoyed the music of the Wilson Western Band of Snyder. Charles Dunn joined them to play electric bass. They were great.

Friday, Big Spring Line Dancers came down and kept everyone tapping and moving.

I'm not sure who enjoyed the event more, the dancers or the attendants. We had a huge crowd and a nice day. Everyone seems to love green enchiladas.

Dancers were: Mary Ann Fincher, Francis Loften, Rufus Fowler, Jimerce Pennentor, Carol Earles, Dorothy Holland, Earl Contes, Shirley Bodin, Socarro Carrea, Dorothy Kennemur, B.D. Mason and Anna Lee Bradberry.

My Get-Away

Do you sometimes feel that you're in a rut need a change of scenery?

I had that feeling so I began to chart a new course. Finding a map, I closed my eyes and let my finger do the walking. Where ever it fell on the map, I would make that my destination.

While my eyes were closed I felt renewed energy just thinking of my get-away. You'll never guess where my finger landed.

Yep, you guessed it, right on top of Roscoe. And I had every intention of going there until I learned that gasoline costs $1.38 a gallon.

My plans were altered so I drove out east of town to the rest stop, drank a Big Red and came back home.

I feel so much better.

Loraine Manor

While Minnie was calling Bingo for the residents Jan Woodell reported that they welcomed a new resident on Monday. Her name is Molly Creswell and she is from Abilene.

The Snyder Kitchen Band played at the Manor last Tuesday and everyone loved it.

The residents are looking forward to a Taste of Disneyland Thursday.

The usual games are played with the addition of waahoo!

Elena Martinez is still in the hospital at this time. Our well wishes go out to him.

Take care and see you at the Center.
