Legion Delegate Returns To City

Glen Hess Back From Meet At Louisville; Annual Convention Is Praised By Lubbock Man

Glen Hess, delegate from the Allen Brothers American Legion, returned Sunday morning from Louisville, Ky., where he attended the national American Legion convention held in this city September 29 to October 3, inclusive.

"The convention was one of the largest of its kind ever held in the United States," said Mr. Hess. "There were 125,000 legionnaires present and a rip-roaring good time was had during every minute of our stay in Kentucky. Their hospitality was second only to that of Texas during 1928 when the national convention was held in San Antonio."

Mr. Hess joined a party of some 150 Texas delegates at Dallas and this group, headed by the Brownsville band, was to be seen or heard from at all times during the gathering in the blue-grass state.

The next national convention is to be held in Boston in 1930. "I want to urge every ex-service man in this section to join up with the Legion," stated Mr. Hess. "If for nothing more than to get the privilege of going to the big party, their time will be well spent. If you once attend one of those gatherings you will never forget it. I had a most enjoyable trip, an educational one as well and I certainly intend to point for the Boston journey next year."

While Mr. Hess would make no statement as to souvenirs, it is understood that he brought several back with him for the boys at home.

Youthful Dancer Is Subjected To Long Examination

Eunice Pringle On Stand Three Hours In Trial Of Alexander Pantages On Statutory Charges

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7. — Miss Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer and university student, was subjected to three hours of searching examination today in the trial of a statutory charge against Alexander Pantages, and was forced to parade before the jurors in the scarlet ensemble she wore at the time of an alleged attack in his private office.

The defense conducted a searching examination of the girl into the minutest details of her life since last March and up to August 9, the day on which she claims the theater magnate attacked her.

Throughout the morning she appeared in a modest blue dress but at the beginning of the afternoon session, Pantages' attorney forced her to don the scarlet ensemble she wore the day of the alleged attack.

The defense forced an admission from her that she attended several parties and remained at one until 1:30 a. m. on the night of the attack, from whom she bought the dance act she was attempting to sell to Pantages at the time of the alleged assault.

At one time she admitted Duane had driven her to a hotel following a party and that she had not gone home that night. She slipped.

Grilling In Pen Mutiny Continues

CANON CITY, Colo., Oct. 7.—Reconstruction work and the riotous behavior of prisoners in the Colorado state prison, continued today under the supervision of Deputy Warden Billy Green. Warden F. E. Crawford attended a prison board meeting with Governor W. H. Adams in Denver.

With two convicts, Charles Davis and Leo W. McGee, in solitary confinement, the names of two others, Thomas Coleman and Joe Chere, were mentioned in semi-official circles as possible suspects in the investigation of the riot which cost twelve lives. No official statement on the connection these men might have had with the riots was forthcoming. It was generally believed there would be others besides Davis and McGee in solitary confinement within the next 24 hours.

During the investigation today the possibility developed that perhaps twenty or thirty convicts might have been involved in the riot, although no official statement to this effect was made.

Efforts Made To Break Up Alleged Criminal Ring In City; Policeman And Deputy Sheriff Held

(By Associated Press) BORGER, Oct. 7.—Seven present or former city and county officers had been arrested tonight as Borger swung into its second week of clean-up under martial law. The arrests, it was understood, were made as a part of the campaign to break up the "entrenched criminal ring," which investigators have charged existed here.

Officials arrested today, all for possession of liquor, were: Deputy Sheriff Chas. Baird, Clint Millholton, a policeman and former policeman, D. T. Blasingame and J. D. Lee. All were arrested on orders from the military court which is investigating the alleged ring and seeking, at Governor Dan Moody's orders, to destroy it.

Mayor Glenn A. Pace, Justice of the Peace Walter Broomhall and Deputy Constable Sam Jones were arrested during the first week of martial law. Pace is at liberty on a $3,000 bond charged with having forced a witness in a murder trial to leave town. Broomhall resigned after being in jail a few hours and Jones is accused of extortion and accepting a bribe.

Four other people were charged with possession of liquor: Mr. and Mrs. Fred English, Lonnie Anderson and Charles Hale. Hale already under indictment for murder in connection with the death of Ray Martin at Rattlesnake Inn near here in 1923.

The city jail which held its prisoners at noon today had been filled to capacity tonight because of arrests made by representatives of the state highway department for failure to purchase automobile licenses.

Demos Eliminate G.O.P. Provision

Measure Of Proposed Tariff Bill Struck Out Monday With Aid Of Western Republicans In Senate

BY HAROLD OLIVER, Associated Press Staff Writer WASHINGTON, Oct. 7. (AP)—Aided by the western republicans, the democrats struck another republican provision from the tariff bill today which would have authorized customs appraisers in certain instances to adopt an estimated value in assessing ad valorem rates.

By a vote of forty-four to thirty-seven, the senate adopted a substitute proposal by Senator King, democrat, Utah, restoring existing law as it defines United States value which is an alternative rate basis now resorted to only when foreign or export values of imported merchandise are not ascertainable.

The provision eliminated from the bill was incorporated by the house and rewritten by the senate finance committee. It would have permitted, in cases in which the United States value was used, the setting of ad valorem rates on an estimated value if the imported freely offered for sale in an American market.

Forty-Year-Old Recluse, Shot To Death, Thought Victim Of Some Strange Creed Of Individualism

(By Associated Press) WALLER, Texas, Oct. 7. — Ed. Finch, 40, recluse was shot to death last night, victim, perhaps, of the workings of a strange creed of individualism he had set out to prove with a rifle, to keep unwelcome visitors away, and a typewriter his only companion.

Fred Burt, 36, who said Lee had threatened him, was charged with the slaying.

In Lee's little cabin 12 miles from here officers today found manuscripts he had slaved over at nights after his long day of drudgery on the farm was done.

Narrative Found. One, titled "The Backwoodsman," was a frank, unaffected and gripping narrative dealing with the author's hard struggle to write from the farm a living while he sought to prove

Body Of Murdered Convict Is Found Buried In Shallow Grave In Prison

Charges Of Murder Are Filed Against Two Prisoners.

(By Associated Press) HUNTSVILLE, Tex., Oct. 7.—Two Ferguson state prison farm convicts who confessed they crushed the head of a sleeping fellow trusty and placed the body in an already prepared grave were charged with murder today.

W. H. Mead, manager of the Texas penitentiary system, described their confession.

Body Exhumed. The body of the slain convict, Clarence Harwell, serving two years on a forged charge from Haskell county, was exhumed yesterday after an official investigation resulted in admissions by the youthful slayers who led officers to the crude grave.

The murder charges were filed at Madisonville against A. F. Breeding, serving two years for cattle theft from Wilbarger county, and J. D. Echols, sentenced to two years for burglary from Comanche county. Both are 19 years old.

Signs Statement. Mead quoted from the signed statement. He said a disagreement arose between Harwell, Breeding and Echols. The night of September 29, he declared, Breeding and Echols crept into the dormitory where Harwell was sleeping and slugged him with a heavy iron bar. Previously, Mead said, the men had prepared a grave behind the milking barn where all three convicts worked.

The body was taken to the grave, Mead said, and buried. As days passed and Harwell failed to appear, he was reported escaped by Captain W. R. Crane, in charge of the Ferguson farm. Captain Crane's suspicions were aroused, however, and he conducted a quiet inquiry.

He separated Breeding and Echols, placing one of the youths in solitary confinement. Saturday, Mead said, the youths told the farm manager of the slaying.

Mead said that one of the youths fell out with Harwell because of remarks the latter was alleged to have made about the boy's mother. Narcotics, he explained, were the basis of further dispute.

Jury Is Selected For Fall Hearing

Four Women, Eight Men, Jurors Will Decide Fate Of Former Secretary Of Interior In Bribery Case

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—The fate of Albert B. Fall, facing charges of bribery growing out of his administration of naval oil lands while secretary of the interior, will be decided by four women and eight men jurors who were chosen today and looked up inside the courtroom. It was a comparatively young jury that watched Fall walk feebly out of court after it had been sworn. The former cabinet officer, whose physician urged against his attempt to go on trial, overruled his medical advisory and was helped into court by members of his family.

Fall's condition was regarded by government prosecutors as one of their greatest obstacles. The picture presented to the jury showed the 68-year-old defendant as a feeble old man barely able to shuffle to his big, easy leather chair which was brought inside the witness railing for him. Once in the chair Fall slumped back and while watching every move seldom raised his head from its reclining position.

Condition Serious. Members of the family said they were alarmed by the defendant's condition and some of his counsel feared he would be unable to finish the trial. Sitting beside him was his physician, Dr. H. T. Safford, of El Paso, Texas, and a trained nurse.

Oil Outlook Seen As Much Brighter

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 7. (AP)—Beacons in the oil world, as created by its leaders at the sixth annual International Exposition and Congress here, point a much improved course for the industry which of late has been sailing more or less troubled waters.

Forecasts of general optimism for the future, tempered, however, with notes of conservatism, were given today by those at the helm of the industry. Several factors entered into the promising predictions, outstanding among them being the spirit of cooperation which has developed among oil companies in conservation and stabilization.

"Decidedly better" was the way E. B. Reeser, president of the American Petroleum Institute, characterized the industry's outlook.

"YOUTH IS INJURED" Lad Hurt As Hand Grenade Explodes During Play

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Avee Colon, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Colon, was injured here today when a hand grenade exploded while he and a companion were playing. The boy was taken to a hospital where three pieces of the grenade were removed from his leg. A fourth piece was removed by his mother. The companion found the grenade which was believed to have been an old French bomb brought to America by a returning soldier. The boy dropped the grenade and it was exploded by the fall to the pavement.

Maurine Osburn Succeeds Blanche Bean As Women's Editor; Lubbock Writer Enters Club Service Work

Former Austin and Sherman Newspaper Woman To Head Society Staff For Local Daily Newspapers

Miss Maurine Osburn, formerly of Austin and Sherman, today joins the staff of the Avalanche-Journal papers as women's editor. Miss Osburn succeeds Miss Blanche E. Bean, who has been in newspaper work in Lubbock for the past five years and whose resignation is to be effective on October 12.

In addition to her work in the women's department, Miss Osburn will write general news features and after becoming more acquainted with local conditions will write a daily women's column of comment. Her column "People and Parties," a daily feature of the Austin Statesman, was widely read and Miss Osburn expects to continue her work along that line here.

Miss Bean's connection with the Avalanche-Journal will come to an end Saturday night and she expects to leave this city on Sunday to take up her new duties. She was first connected with the Plains Journal here in 1924. Later she became women's editor of the Daily Journal and upon the consolidation of the papers here became head of the women's department of the combined papers. For a time she served in similar capacity with the Record-Chronicle at Denton.

Gordon Cone, of Lovington, N. M., spent the week-end in Lubbock visiting relatives and friends.

EDITOR'S NOTE

No newspapers appreciate the value of a well-rounded and complete women's department more than the Morning Avalanche and Daily Journal and it is with regret that the Lubbock papers announce the resignation of Miss Blanche E. Bean, as women's editor in Lubbock. Miss Bean has built a reputation in Texas newspaper circles for ability, energy and initiative.

The Avalanche-Journal publications accept Miss Bean's resignation with reluctance but congratulate her upon her new connection with its broad field for service. These newspapers believe Miss Osburn will prove a worthy successor to Miss Bean, that her work will be appreciated in the same spirit which marked Miss Bean's and that local club and society women will lend her the same assistance which they have always accorded Miss Bean.

That Brutal Overseer Roasts in Hades! AN ANCIENT PREJUDICE HAS BEEN REMOVED

Wise legislation has halted the ancient prejudice that dictated the exploitation of child labor for selfish gain. Guided by AMERICAN INTELLIGENCE it has routed greed. No longer are little children forced into slavery.

"toasting did it" —

Gone is that ancient prejudice against cigarettes—Progress has been made. We removed the prejudice against cigarettes when we removed harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from the tobaccos.

YEARS ago, when cigarettes were made without the aid of modern science, there originated that ancient prejudice against all cigarettes. That criticism is no longer justified. LUCKY STRIKE, the finest cigarette you ever smoked, made of the choicest tobacco, properly aged and skillfully blended—"It's Toasted."

"TOASTING," the most modern step in cigarette manufacture, removes from LUCKY STRIKE harmful irritants which are present in cigarettes manufactured in the old-fashioned way.

Everyone knows that heat purifies, and so "TOASTING"—LUCKY STRIKE'S extra secret process—removes harmful corrosive ACRIDS (pungent irritants) from LUCKIES which in the old-fashioned manufacture of cigarettes cause throat irritation and coughing. Thus "TOASTING" has destroyed that ancient prejudice against cigarette smoking by men and by women.

"It's toasted"

No Throat Irritation—No Cough.

"It's Toasted"—the phrase that describes the extra "toasting" process applied in the manufacture of Lucky Strike Cigarettes. The finest tobaccos—the Cream of the Crop—are scientifically subjected to penetrating heat at minimum, 260°—maximum, 300°, Fahrenheit. The exact, expert regulation of such high temperatures removes impurities. More than a slogan, "It's Toasted" is recognized by millions as the most modern step in cigarette manufacture.

Baseball's Greatest Classic Gets Under Way Today

Athletics And Cubs Come To Grips Again After A Lapse Of 19 Years; Root And Earnshaw Likely To Start

At Least 50,000 Due To Witness Opening Game Of World Series In Chicago Today; Fans Begin Filling In Stands Monday Afternoon

BY ALAN J. GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor
CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (A.P.)—To the accompaniment of all that goes with America's annual baseball carnival, the boys will go out on the firing line tomorrow to substitute fast balls and base-hits for oratory and argument in the battle for the 1929 championship of the world. The Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago Cubs, rivals again for the richest of the game's prizes after a lapse of 19 years, come to grips in the opening game, with fair weather and a spectacular fight expected from the onset between two fast, hard-hitting and aggressive ball clubs.

Root Will Pitch
Unless there is a last minute hitch, Charley Root, foremost pitcher of the National League, will pitch for the Cubs against Big George Earnshaw of the A's in a struggle between fast ball right handers.

Starting Lineup

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (A.P.)—The prospective lineups for the opening world's series game:
Athletics: Root, p; McClellan, 3b; English, 1b; Hornsby, 2b; Simmons, cf; Wilson, rf; Poux, 1b; Cuyler, lf; Miller, rf; Stephenson, cf; Dykes, 3b; Taylor, c; Grim, 1b; Earnshaw, p.
Cubs: Root, p; Earnshaw, 2b; English, 1b; Hornsby, 2b; Simmons, cf; Wilson, rf; Poux, 1b; Cuyler, lf; Miller, rf; Stephenson, cf; Dykes, 3b; Taylor, c; Grim, 1b.

Root was definitely selected today by Manager Joe McCarthy as the opening game choice over Pat Malone, another rugged right hander. Connie Mack, 67 year old chief of the A's, kept his twisting secrets to himself on arrival this afternoon with his team, but the experts considered Earnshaw the logical choice. There was, however, the prospect that Mack might switch to Robert Moses, his famous left-hander or so far across up the experts as to send either Old Jack Quinn or Howard Ehmke to the box.

Expect 50,000
The full-throated roar of 50,000 fans is expected to resound in Wrigley Field for the opening game of the series that furnishes the climax to the greatest baseball season Chicago has ever known.

Mustangs Back In Serious Training

DALLAS, Oct. 7. (A.P.)—Still stiff and sore from the pounding received in their acrobatic battle with Nebraska but without a serious injury in camp, the Southern Methodist Mustangs were put through a stiff practice drill by Coach Ray Morrison today. The Mustangs were informed his charges there would be no letup in the daily grind this week, despite the fact that Austin college is expected to prove a fairly easy victim here Friday.

So keen was the enthusiasm that hundreds of fans were in line tonight outside the park, prepared for the all-night vigil before the bleachers set to go on sale around 8 a. m. tomorrow. Scores had begun to hold their seats more than 24 hours in advance. The Empire Bill Klem dean of the National League staff, cries "let's go," at 1:30 p. m.

Chicago Fan First
A Chicagoan occupied the first place in the bleacher line, with Pittsburgh and Montreal next represented and the first woman customer identified as a tourist from Rochester, N. Y.

Odds Are Shortened
Pre-game developments today, aside from the inpouring of fans, officials and notables, centered chiefly about the late arrival of the Athletics, the definite selection of Root to pitch for the Cubs and a tendency to shorten the odds which have favored the American League champions from the start.

Sidelights

By BRIAN BELL

CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (A.P.)—Connie Mack, with five world's series behind him and no telling how many in front, was as excited as a rookie over the arrival of the sixth, after fifteen years eating at the second table of baseball. Rushed to his hotel with a flare of trumpets from the motorcycle of a police escort, he smiled broadly as hotel attaches assured him he was welcome in Chicago even as an enemy. Courtesy as always, the manager of the A's turned aside long enough to assure a friend of Bevo LeBourveau that most assuredly his pal was with the club. A few handshakes and he was gone, still smiling and quite evidently very happy to be back in a world's series.

so formal?" she smiled when Eva entered the great high-ceilinged room in which there was a fire burning to take off the chill of the late summer night.

Eva glanced at Brent. "I thought you might be talking over something privately," she said. Brent nodded courteously but there was no welcome in his manner.

Eva went to sit beside Helen on the great divan before the fire. In her eyes there was a faint mist of tears.

"We were talking something over," Helen admitted, "but it isn't at all private. Leon wants me to leave Bramblewood and live in New York."

Eva's eyes sought Brent's. He did not look at her. "But somehow I've grown to love this place," Helen went on. "I think I shall remodel it and live here always."

Brent impatiently crushed out the cigaret he had been smoking. "But I've taken an apartment for you," he expostulated.

Helen smiled at him, seized suddenly with a desire to tease. "But you aren't my guardian any more, Leno dear," she said.

It had been very sweet — it was sweet now. Why hadn't it gone on? The thought was idle, but she turned away from the answer.

Bob did not drive fast on the return to Bramblewood. He expected Helen to leave him when they reached home, and he did not want to let her go.

How tangible she was there beside him! The dream-quality of the dinner table on the rose-bowered veranda was gone. He could feel her, without touch, and the thoughts her nearness engendered went to his head like wine.

He did not try to hold them back, believing they had no power except to make the world new to him. Later he saw that his indulgence of his fancies led him to what followed. Never was he sorry.

Time and the wheels of his amusing car moved on in spite of him and all too soon landed him and his dreams at the Cunningham mansion.

"Do come in," Helen invited. "It isn't late." Neither of them had looked at a timepiece but she made the statement in good faith. It didn't seem late.

The housekeeper had waited up and the lit of her eyebrows when she saw Bob walk into the drawing room might have warned Helen that the hour was nearer witching than otherwise.

Bob had made herself quite familiar with the domestic machinery at Bramblewood, she knew the kitchen and where to find what she wanted.

In no time she could have made the sandwiches and prepared the coffee. But when she went to the refrigerator and brought out a cold roast chicken, she asked Bob to carry over to a carving table, and he took the platter from her something occurred which doomed their supper together.

NOTICE—It is the intention of The Avalanche to meet with the character of anyone's knowledge, and it is through our articles that the management will appreciate having our attention called to same, and will gladly correct the same.

The Avalanche is an independent Democratic newspaper, supported by the liberal/admiration of the principles which it believes to be right and opposing those which it believes to be wrong, regardless of party politics; possessing the news fairly and impartially at all times.

ONE MINUTE PULPIT A wholesome tongue is a tree of life; but perverseness therein is a breach in the spirit.

A fool despiseth his father's instruction; but he that regardeth reproof is prudent.—Proverbs xv. 4, 5.

WELCOME DOCTORS LUBBOCK today is host to a splendid body of L. M. men—the members of the Panhandle District Medical Society. Every man and woman in Lubbock is gratified to have the medics in our midst—glad to play host, even in a small way.

The Morning Avalanche has a great respect for the medical profession. There is no other group more worthy of public admiration; certainly there is no other class or profession more essential to human happiness.

As has been said before in these columns, Lubbock and West Texas are fortunate in having so many fine, high class, physicians and surgeons. To have the Panhandle fraternity session in "West Texas" Health Center" is indeed gratifying.

IT'S A GREAT GAME A quarter of a million boys are playing football this fall. This somewhat definite figure helps in understanding of the universality of the game in this country.

The number includes players on the squads of 267 colleges and 10,000 high schools in the 48 states. Take, other than high school and college teams, take the thousands who try for their teams and fall, take scrub games on recreation fields and corner lots, how many participate? The grand total might well be a million.

As developed from the British rugby by changes of the rules during more than 40 years, the game has become well-nigh wholly an American one. It's widespread organization is distinctly American.

Deplorable casualties, including an occasional death, still occur; but have been minimized by the rules of recent years. The prominence of the games figures their mention and increased participation increases the chances of injury. There seems reason for believing that the casualties in the organized game now existing are less in number than would be true among such a vast number in unorganized competitions of all sorts which inevitably would result if this outlet for youth's instinctive love of physical contests did not exist.

There are dangers: Lack of organization and proper direction at the bottom, hence helter-skelter struggles, mere fights; and overemphasis of the game in crack schools and universities, with commercialism a sinister factor. Still, we should say that the side of our football game is to be taken as a sign of healthy, vigorous, sturdy manhood to come. It should breed discipline, cooperative action, skill and courage, a brave spirit and readiness of body and mind.

LOWER PRICES A financial expert predicts a long downward slide in commodity prices and interest rates during the next 20 years. He concludes that the drop will not be uninterrupted and does not venture an estimate on the extent of the drop. This expert belongs to one school, but there exists another well defined school which prophesies gradually rising prices and interest rates during the ensuing two decades.

The belief that prices will drop is based primarily upon post-war history. After the Civil war the cost of living and interest rates gradually declined. As soon as the nation returned to the plow and machine the commodity supply began to approximate the demand and prices took a tumble. When capital was diverted from the munitioning of armies to the financing of farms, homes, industries and railroads, which during the Civil war had been obtainable only at "extortionate" interest, became cheap.

The foretellers of still higher living costs and money rates doubt the fact of a growing and expanding country like the United States can enjoy the felicities of cheap money and food. And yet the nations probably grew more rapidly during the twenty years following the Civil war than it will grow during the twenty years following the World war.

On the basis of Civil war statistics the public can look forward with some degree of assurance to lower living costs and interest rates during the next two decades, although few believe a return to pre-war levels is possible.

JEWELS AND FINE RAIMENT At the recent exposition of women's arts and industries in New York, there was concluded a clothing budget competition in which 336 business girls were entered. There were classes for girls earning from $15 to $19 a week, from $20 to $24, from $25 to $29 and from $30 to $35.

The grand prize winner had, the judges believed, everything she needed for a total of $79.09, of course, presupposes carefulness and shrewd buying. "Everything she needed." And, of course, she may still look forward to getting "everything she wants."

In the smallest wage class the winner spent $190 on clothes. It is interesting to note that this sum included $3.30 for cosmetics and 20 cents for jewelry. One can read a little paths into that budget. One sincerely hopes that her 20 cents' worth of jewelry gave her at least $30 worth of satisfaction.

THE WORLD'S SERIES Another "world's series" is with us. Once more the national game is staging its seasonal exit in a spectacular climax—a climax that has been a building since this year's opening game. Again the champions of the major leagues have met to settle their claims to supremacy. The two contesting teams are not of one city, and that adds to the series national interest. The contenders represent the season's best in the game and all lovers of baseball will follow their final struggle with keen interest.

The series is only beginning. The contesting teams have just begun to fight. But they are putting all they have into the game. Such sports, illustrating the lightning-like traits of American nature, are worthy of their great popularity.

Some nations appear to be trying to get better to get worse.

On the Firing Line at the Nation's Capital

ARGENTINA TAKES SIGNIFICANT STEP IN MOVING TRAFFIC TO RIGHT SIDE

BY CHARLES P. STEWART Central Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 7.—"For safety's sake," once remarked the Automobile Age, of London—than which publication John Bull himself is no more typically British. "English motorists who plan tours abroad will do well to remember that traffic keeps to the wrong side of the road in practically all countries outside our own island, New Zealand and the Argentine Republic."

Doubtless it will come as a severe shock to the Automobile Age's editor to learn that now Argentine traffic also has flopped to the "wrong side"—that is to say, to the right, likemost of the rest of us.

Senator Tasker L. Oddie, of Nevada, who, just back from the Pan-American roads convention at Rio de Janeiro, brings the news of Argentina's revolutionary departure from age-old precedent, speaks of it as a highly significant development in the relationship among the Americas—from the standpoint of communications, at any rate.

Moreover, the senator is absolutely correct about it. A country's decision to switch its traffic from the left to the right side of all its highways may not seem, at first thought, to be a matter of much international consequence.

The truth is that it involves considerable trouble; and the fact that Argentina is willing to make the best of it bespeaks a desire to acquiesce in majority custom, which perhaps means more than the republic's indorsement of some political treaty of plenty of recognized importance.

It is a long time now since North American interests have been concerning themselves in Latin American road building.

I myself can recall a number of missions from the United States which tried to stir up enthusiasm in the subject during several years' residence of my own in that part of the world.

Their reason was pretty obvious. The missionaries generally either had road machinery to sell or they were manufacturers of vehicles which needed roads to travel on, before a market could be created for them—and the southern continent was almost roadless in those days; is yet, indeed, except in a few localities.

The Latin Americans are polite folk. They always received the missionaries with open arms and promised them wonderful things—but they never did anything. The missionaries invariably went home full of bright hopes—and that was the end of it.

My thought was that this latest convention at Rio simply would prove to be a repetition of the old, old story.

In querying Senator Oddie for details of the gathering I was sure the usual glittering generalities would be forthcoming—and at first that was exactly what I supposed I was listening to, when the senator began to describe the affair to me.

Then all at once, out came the item concerning Argentina's left-to-right change in her traffic regulations.

This was information of the first order. Argentina's next door neighbors are Uruguay, Paraguay, Bolivia and Chile. All of them keep to the right; Argentina alone to the left, hitherto. Plainly traffic crossing her frontiers would be badly disorganized upon entering her territory, from no matter what direction. In a five-to-one minority she yielded.

There is no mistake about it, this means business. Argentina is South America's second country in point of size, maybe it's first in point of importance. Here recognition of the desirability of traffic uniformity with her neighbors was no mere trifle, as it would have been in the case of one of the pesee republics north of Panama. Argentina is not only big and rich; she is mighty set in her way ordinarily. She wants roads, or she never would have made such a concession.

The engagement, however, failed in its chief object, in that before the battle was hardly under way news came of the successful invasion of Cyprus by the Turks.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK L. R. Gamble, manager of the Federal Tire company branch office in Amarillo, and who lives in Lubbock, leaves this morning for a trip to New York headquarters of the company.

Mr. Gamble, while in New York, will visit the factory and inspect the manufacture proceedings of his product.

Last year debates were held all over the United States by several eminent debaters on the question as to whether or not man is a machine. The question is answered as well as it can be answered by our modern knowledge of science by Professor C. Judson Herrick in his new book called "Man—The Thinking Machine."

Of course, a human being is not a machine like a loom or a rotary press. If a belt or a cog wheel breaks on any power apparatus, the machine is likely to stop until somebody repairs the damage. The human being is the most complex machine that can possibly be imagined. It has tremendous automatic powers of regulation and repair.

The human machine is a part of the great system of life. There is order and system in nature which may be called evolution or which may be credited to some higher power. There is no scientific support for the fatalistic conception of life nor for the belief that everything that is or has been in life was predetermined.

Many things develop as a result of natural agencies. Professor Herrick wisely points out that a mechanistic conception of life demands first of all a recognition of the meaning of mechanism. The chief function of any mechanism is to control the agency which are a part of its business.

The human being has the greatest capacity for self-regulation of any mechanism on earth. It can control the disappearance or the appearance of its followers by scientific genetics.

At the same time the human being must respond inevitably to natural processes in its environment. This the human does with his mind, whereas lower species and material objects respond only as the physical changes influence them. Mental acts, Professor Herrick points out, are natural because we are natural bodies and they are therefore the real determiners of conduct and character. They are part of the biologic machinery regulating and controlling life.

Self-control by voluntary effort is an activity of the human body. Self-control can be strengthened and cultivated by training, just as muscular training in riding a bicycle can be cultivated. Man is a machine, but distinctly and apparently the only thinking machine.

A telephone company official predicts that before many months it will be possible for a man to telephone to himself right around the world. Office-seekers have long been getting calls to the public service in this ingenious fashion.

A friend is one who can forgive you for everything except climbing above his level.

It's Their Turn Next!

Anniversary Notes

BATTLE OF LEPANTO On October 7, 1571, a desperate naval battle was fought between the combined fleets of Spain, Venice and the Papal States and a powerful Turkish armada.

The battle, which was fought near the Cretan Islands, at the western entrance to the Gulf of Patras, was brought about by the determination of Sultan Selim II to wrest Cyprus from Venice.

The fleet of the states united in the Holy League consisted of about 200 sail, of which nearly 300 were great galleys. The allied fleet was commanded by Don John of Austria, the natural brother of the king of Spain, the Ottoman fleet, under Ali Pasha, was of equal numerical strength.

The battle resulted in victory for the Christian fleet. About 8,000 Christians were killed while the Turks lost 20,000 in killed, wounded and prisoners.

More than 100 galleys were taken, besides a large number sunk. Some 12,000 Christian galley slaves were liberated by this victory.

The engagement, however, failed in its chief object, in that before the battle was hardly under way news came of the successful invasion of Cyprus by the Turks.

LEAVES FOR NEW YORK L. R. Gamble, manager of the Federal Tire company branch office in Amarillo, and who lives in Lubbock, leaves this morning for a trip to New York headquarters of the company.

Today's Poem

TO HELEN Helen thy beauty is to me Like those Naxos barks of yore, That gently, over a perfumed sea, The weary, way-worn wanderer bore To his own native shore.

On desperate sea long voyaged, Thy hyacinth hair, thy classic face, Thy Naiad airs, have brought me home To the glory that was Greece And the grandeur that was Rome.

Lo! in yon brilliant window-niche How statue-like I see thee stand, The statue lamp within thy hand! Ah, Psyche, from the regions which Are Holy Land!

—Edgar Allan Poe

Cunningham about one week ago, has been reduced by the commission to $400,000 or less, eliminating the amount necessary to build a new city hall and two fire stations, the $50,000 paving amount being cut to $40,000. The issue will call for $115,000 waterworks improvements, $125,000 sewer disposal plant and collection system, $40,000 paving and $30,000 viaduct, $70,000 more or less to retire outstanding warrants.

The Innocent Cheat

by Ruth Dewey Groves AUTHOR OF "RICH GIRL—POOR GIRL," ETC.

THIS HAS HAPPENED HELEN PAGE falls in love with her handsome guardian, LEONARD BRENT. A clever meeting with a dying beggar, CHARLES NELLIN, causes Brent to change his plans for Helen's future. Shortly afterward he tells the girl that in accordance with a promise given her parents, he is now to reveal her identity and she is the only grandchild of a millionaire, CYRIL C. CUNNINGHAM. Brent takes her to Cunningham and offers as proof a locket containing a picture which had been taken from the dying Nellin. Pending investigation, Helen remains with Cunningham who gives her a new car. She drives everywhere until she accidentally hits EVA ENNIS, who has to be taken to the hospital. Helen meets Eva's brother ROBERT, who falls in love with her.

Cunningham gives a party and announces that Helen is his dead daughter's heiress. Helen is shocked. Brent finds a locket which exactly matches the one he had taken from Nellin. To avoid discovery he asks Helen not to wear her locket in public. A few days later Eva and Helen overturn a canoe on the lake and Robert rescues them. While changing clothes, Eva tells Helen that she had lost an old-fashioned locket the night of her party.

Fearing Robert's attentions to Helen and annoyed by the demands on him for money by CARMEL SEGRD, Brent plots to secure the girl and her inheritance for himself. The doctor has found that a shock would kill the old man and so Brent carries out a plan to make Cunningham believe that Helen has been killed.

The plan worked and when the attendant returns he is dead. Then Brent appears as the friend and guardian of Helen and takes charge of arrangements. One painful duty is to break an affair with Eva without making Helen suspicious.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXVI Brent's car was parked before the door at Bramblewood. Bob recognized it, and a strong feeling of repugnance brought a quick decision not to enter the house.

Eva saw it too, and her own heart went pit-pit-pep with happy expectancy. She had not meant—not alone—since the night of Mr. Cunningham's sudden death and she had found the situation very difficult to bear.

Perhaps tonight she thought they would be able to manage a little talk in private. Bob's presence might afford them the opportunity. His words shattered her hope immediately.

"Miss Nellin has company," he said. "Nothing doing, sis. You'd better come on home with me now."

"Oh, Bob, don't be so mean," Eva protested. "It's only Mr. Brent. I don't like him." Bob said coldly.

"But he's Helen's guardian—in a sense. Of course Mr. Greaves is really, but..."

"Never mind gabbing about it, honey. That's one hombra I have no use for."

"They'll just have to drive back for me," Eva flared.

"All right," Bob consented. "Call STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF OCTOBER 3, 1917, ENFORCED BY EXECUTIVE ORDER OF AUGUST 14, 1929. Cotton Trading Slow; Stocks Rebound

Moderate Trading Develops In Mart Awaiting Reports

Official Government Crop Report On Cotton Is To Be Made Today; Prices Trend Downward
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 7. (AP)—Only moderate trading developed in cotton market today due to the reluctance of operators to enter upon new commitments in the face of tomorrow's official crop report. Prices, tending downward, fluctuated narrowly. December contracts traded up to 7 7/8 and closed one point below that figure for a net gain of 7 points. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 7 to 12 points.
Although Liverpool cables were comparatively firm the local market opened rather disappointing with December contracts off 2 points as New York opened higher. Later positions here showed advances of 1 to 2 points on the call.
Prices Improved
Prices improved after the start. December trading to 18.70, January 18.80 and March 18.90 or 5 to 6 points above Saturday's close. The market then ruled steady and fluctuated near the highs.

Strong Tendency Is Missing In Cotton

NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—With the monthly government report on the cotton crop due at 11 o'clock on Tuesday, the local market failed to develop any strong tendency either way today, prices moving within a range of 2 to 10 points throughout the session. The undertone was steady and at no time were values as low as those at the close on Saturday, December selling 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 down, and late in the day at 18.90 while the general market closed steady with net advances of 5 to 11 points.
The opening was steady at 1 to 5 points advance, in response to steady cables from Liverpool and quite active buying by houses with foreign connections as well as more or less local buying. The day's volume was quite large.

Estimates Vary

Three private crop estimates ranged from 14,494,000 bales to 15,025,000, two of the reports being slightly larger than the estimates by the same authorities last month while one was smaller. The average of 13 private estimates pointed to an increased crop of 14,725,000 bales, which compares with last month's government estimate of 14,825,000.

Curtailed Cattle Receipts Fail To Stimulate Demand In Livestock Mart

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 7. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Curtailed receipts of cattle around the 11 market circuit failed to stimulate demand to any appreciable extent. Supply Increase In Wheat Causes Sudden Declines

Market Staggers Under New Stiff Boost Of Visible Supply In United States In Late Trading
BY JOHN F. BOUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
CHICAGO, Oct. 7. (AP)—Staggered by a new stiff increase of the United States wheat visible supply, wheat values underwent a sudden drop in the late dealings today. The price downturn came after advances that accompanied big export buying of North American wheat, as well as after a fresh jump in wheat quotations at Liverpool. Mainly, however, the European wheat purchases today were of wheat grown in Canada.
Chicago closing prices for wheat were unsettled, 1-8c to 5-8c a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1-4c to 1 1/2-c down, oats 7-8c to 1 1/4-c off, and provisions varying from 1/8c setback to a rise of 20c.
Today's enlargement of the domestic stock of wheat in eight amounts to 966,000 bushels, and brought the total up to the huge aggregate of 191,542,000 bushels, which compares with only 116,377,000 bushels a year ago. Traders, friendly to higher prices for wheat were much disappointed also because of failure of the market to show more than a moderate response here to estimate that new export business in North American wheat today aggregated 1,800,000 bushels.

Progress Is Made On Top Of Hearty Rallies Saturday

Bulls Take Complete Control Of Market Session By Mid-Afternoon After Wavering Start
By CLAUDE A. JAGGER
Associated Press Financial Writer
NEW YORK, Oct. 7. (AP)—The stock market was still on the rebound today and made substantial progress on top of Saturday's brilliant rally. Forward operations did not find entire smooth sailing. Considerable stock, evidently bought for support purposes in the severe decline last week, was unloaded. The market wavered nervously for a time but by mid-afternoon bulls were in complete control of the situation.
With few exceptions, leading stocks closed from 2 to 10 points higher, and a few high priced issues gained 10 to 30 points. Trading was in good volume, but slackened up considerably from the hectic pace of late week. The days turnover aggregated 4,261,900 shares.
Ralls Take Lead
For the first time since early last summer, ralls assumed leadership of the advance, while oil, several chemicals, office appliance shares and industrial specialties were in urgent demand.
Easier money conditions tended to improve market sentiment. Call money again renewed at 6 1/2 per cent and sagged to 6, and time money sagged to 8 3/4 to 9 per cent. The lowest rates since mid-September. New York banks are said to be almost out of debt at the federal reserve.

The defense, however, drew admission from her that such a costume had been "suggested" for her court appearance.
"You played the lead in the 'Prince in Hollywood,' did you not?" The defense asked, referring to her act.

"A long Spanish dress."

Robberies Sweep South Plains In Numerous Places

Floydada Suffers Fifth Of Series Of Burglaries As Other Towns Are Looted; Few Clues Are Found

(Special To The Avalanche)
FLOYDADA, Oct. 7.—Floydada this week suffered its fifth loss from robberies as other South Plains towns continue to be molested. Previous to the robbery of the Floydada Drug company here on Tuesday night there had been three filling stations and a garage looted several weeks ago. About same time losses were sustained by firms at Roaring Springs, Crosbyton, Petersburg and Littlefield.

Watches to the value of approximately $150 were stolen from the Floydada Drug company last week. An attempt to open a safe proved fruitless and the burglars left quietly, leaving no clues for the officers to work on. Evidence showed that the robbers entered through a skylight in the rear of the building and left the same way.

Officers have failed to report any arrests made in any of the towns.

Fair Heads Will Report On Funds

A complete and detailed report of the funds taken in by the Panhandle South Plains fair will be made within the next ten days, according to an announcement yesterday by officials of the fair association.

Officials are anxious that all bills against the organization be turned in at once in order that an audit can be made.

Clean up work is now going forward at the fair grounds following the annual exposition which closed Saturday night. The grounds, all last week scene of thousands of pleasure seekers, now is deserted while debris and remains of exhibits liken it to a tornado-struck community.

T. R. Lawson Declares Orgatone Has Proven To Be Correct Thing

"I have used two bottles of Orgatone and it has convinced me of the fact that it is the right medicine for troubles like I had, and I am more than glad to let other people know of the benefits I have derived from it." This statement was made by T. R. Lawson, a well known contractor residing at 700 N. Jackson St., Amarillo, Texas, recently.

"For five years," Mr. Lawson continued, "I suffered from stomach trouble, constipation and bloating spells. I had a fair appetite but never could enjoy anything I would eat. I was sluggish and tired most all the time and had a shortness of breathe caused from gas that would make me feel very uncomfortable. I suffered from constipation and would get all tired out and couldn't throw off this worn out feeling at all."

"I felt that something had to be done and finally I resorted to Orgatone and just let me say I have found it the proper thing for me. It started my troubles on the retreat in just a few days and now I am able to eat anything and enjoy it. I have overcome that indigestion and bloating and my nerves are as strong as anybody's and my vitality is splendid. I sleep fine all night and get up in the mornings feeling rested and fit for my work. I feel stronger and have more vim and energy than I have in years. I cheerfully recommend Orgatone to anyone needing a general all-around straightening out and building up."

Genuine Orgatone may be bought in Lubbock at Bowens Drug Store. Adv.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

The doctors tell us that 90 per cent of all sickness is due to stomach and bowel troubles. You can't be well if your digestion is bad; you are likely to get sick unless you relish food and digest it properly.

Tanlac has a wonderful record as a relief from digestive troubles, even those of years' standing.

Mr. James F. Campbell, of 1014 W. Fifth St., Little Rock, Ark., says: "I had bloating after eating. My rheumatism was so bad I could hardly raise my arms. Now I can eat anything and do a good day's work."

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep, you are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Terry County 4-H Club Boy Realizes Profit Of $55.39 Four Months Time

A profit of $55.39 from a club pig in four months time was realized by a nine-year-old Terry county 4-H club boy, Boyce Verner, with the sale here Saturday to the McDonald Packing company of a 332.4 pound barrow.

The price paid by the McDonald packing company was $12.50 per 100 pounds, which was $3.75 per 100 pounds over the top price offered on the Lubbock market, $2.75 per 100 over the Fort Worth market and $2 over the Chicago market.

The barrow was exhibited at the Panhandle-South Plains fair, winning the champion club fat barrow, and with the premium won here and at the Terry county fair netted the Verner boy $37.50 for premiums. The pig was put on feed on June 1, at the age of two months, at that time weighing 45 pounds. At the time it was sold, the pig weighed 332.4 pounds, making a gain of 287.5 pounds in 125 days time.

Feed consumed by the pig while the Verner boy had it consisted of 103 pounds of 33 per cent protein supplement, obtained from a commercial feed house, and 710 pounds of home grown milo, crushed. Total value of feed was $16.17, which, added to the $7.50 paid for the pig originally, made the total cost of the pig $23.67, with $41.56 purchase price and $37.50 premiums totalling $79.06 received for it, or a profit of $55.39.
