Southern Demos Set To Start Filibuster

GOP Leaders Reject HST's Program; Civil Rights Fight To Delay Action

By ED CREAGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 28—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) promised tonight that Congress will try to work out some cost-of-living curbs without resorting to "police state methods."

But he declared flatly: "Price control and rationing will not work in America in time of peace."

And he said Congress is going to go home in about two weeks. As a matter of fact, Taft said, "we would be fully justified in adjourning at once."

Taft and other GOP leaders went on the air to answer President Truman's address to Congress yesterday. Congress itself plunged into a civil rights battle that is bound to delay all legislation indefinitely.

Truman Program Assailed

Mr. Truman has asked for limited price controls, stand by rationing and wage control powers, and an excess profits tax to check rising prices. He also asked House action on a Senate-approved long-range housing bill.

But a southern Democratic filibuster against an anti-poll tax bill—scheduled to start tomorrow—will prevent any Senate action until the southerners stop talking. And that could be days or weeks.

Besides, the Republican high command underlined in tonight's radio speeches its determination to follow its own course, not the President's and to go home quickly. There's' campaigning to be done.

In Congress itself, civil rights grabbed the spotlight.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, acting Republican leader, announced he will bring up tomorrow an anti-poll tax bill—one of the key items in President Truman's party-splitting civil rights program.

Filibuster Plans Mapped

And southern Democrats declared they would debate the measure right down to the ground. One of them, Senator Hoey (D-SC) said flatly there was going to be a filibuster.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman of the GOP Policy committee, said the southerners probably would "debate" the poll tax bill all day tomorrow and Friday, with the daily sessions winding up about 4 p. m. (CST).

Taft said he didn't know what the Republicans would do if the Dixie forces still hold the floor next week. He conceded that it would be "very difficult" to beat a filibuster with 21 senators taking part in it.

Recalling President Truman's statement that the Republicans can pass an anti-poll tax bill if they want to, Taft told reporters: "We'll exhaust every parliamentary effort to do it."

Peace hopes, raised briefly when

GOP Leaders Flay Truman

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, July 28 — Republican congressional leaders charged tonight that President Truman called the special session as a campaign maneuver and declared the GOP "would be fully justified in adjourning at once."

Top ranking Republican chieftains paraded to microphones of three major networks to answer the 11-point legislative program submitted by Mr. Truman in an address to Congress Tuesday.

Their counterattack filled the airwaves with election-year oratory throughout the evening. It also raised prospects that a minimum of legislation will be enacted at the special session. The President called the session primarily to deal with high prices and housing.

Republican leaders have already decided to shorten the session to two or three weeks.

Sen. Taft, Ohio, declared Congress would be justified in quitting immediately. He accused the President of "demagoguery" and unfairly seeking to saddle the GOP with blame for high prices.

The Republican Senate policy leader declared only "a vote by the people at the November election" could settle the party differences in governmental philosophy.

Congress Recall Hit

Rep. Halleck, Ind., House majority leader, declared that the President's legislative demands "officially opened the New Deal-Democrat campaign at the taxpayers' expense and with the Congress furnishing the background." He said:

"I believe the people resent such tactics."

He contended that the Republican-controlled 80th Congress hung up an extraordinary record of achievement in the face of obstruction by the President.

He declared that it might have accomplished more if Mr. Truman had worked with it "instead of playing hookey and going across the country at the expense of the taxpayers on a political expedition."

Halleck referred to the President's western tour a few weeks ago in which he called the present Congress the "worst" since the reconstruction era.

Halleck predicted that the Price Increases Bring Protests

(By The Associated Press)

While Congress shelved inflation for civil rights, high prices made the news Wednesday in protests all the way from officialdom in Washington to housewives in Dallas.

Prices went up on a popular brand of cigarettes and two important metals, but meat prices went down in some spots because of increased buyers' resistance.

Senator Blasts Industry

In Washington, Attorney General Tom Clark announced he was expanding anti-trust offices and setting up new ones throughout the country for a survey of price-fixing on food, clothing and housing.

Also in Washington, Sen. McGrath (D-R.I.) issued a fiery statement on "greedy price boosts by industry" while his colleagues in the special congressional session prepared to postpone indefinitely action on the President's demands for anti-inflation measures.

Leading the day's price news was the announcement by producers of zinc and lead, used in many important manufactured products, that prices yesterday topped any previous figures.

In East St. Louis, zinc went up to 15 cents a pound, a 25 per cent increase. Lead was 11 cents higher —19½ cents a pound — in New York.

Steak Prices Cut

The zinc and lead advances followed price increases in steel, pig iron, steel scrap, platinum, nickel, copper and brass in the past two weeks.

In Chicago the A and P stores announced they had cut beef steak from $1.19 to 98 cents a pound and made big slashes on other meat cuts. Housewives' price resistance was responsible, officials of the chain said.

Dallas housewives continued a boycott against high priced meat. Although prices hadn't dropped appreciably, meat processors prac-

Price Of Newsprint Upped To $115.20 Per Ton Here

Newsprint—the paper on which newspapers are printed—has gone skyward in price again, Lubbock purchasers of the commodity were advised yesterday.

New price of Canadian manufactured newsprint, used by most Texas newspapers, is $115.20 per ton, which represents a raise of $4 per ton. Of the total price, $15.20 per ton is in freight and handling charges.

According to Canadian manufacturers, the price hike, latest of a series over recent years and the second increase for 1948 thus far, is "necessary, due to higher costs of production and labor."

Canadian newsprint used in Lubbock in 1934 cost $41 per ton, delivered here. Cost has been progressively higher ever since.

CIO Protests 'Police Brutality' At Dayton

(By The Associated Press)

DAYTON, O., July 28. — The Montgomery county CIO industrial union council—threatening a county-wide labor holiday against "police brutality"—threw its support behind strikers at Univis Lens Co.

The council ordered a mass picket line of leaders and available workers from the second and third work shifts of various Dayton industrial plants.

Representatives from 32 county CIO locals, representing 30,000 union members, attended the council meeting.

The council also called a mass meeting at the Univis plant for 6:30 a. m. Friday, said Secretary-Treasurer William Snoots, "to bring the issues to the people and explain them."

Snoots said the council adopted a motion stating,

"If the police brutality does not cease, this council will declare a labor holiday of all CIO units in Montgomery county to protest against their (police) brutality and to demand protection for their homes and communities away from the Univis plant."

Council action followed a violent skirmish between police and pickets earlier today. Police won the battle, the third in three days with a CIO union over the reopening of the lens company's strike-bound plant. Five pickets were injured.

Police Break Line

Witnesses said heavily reinforced squads of police swung clubs and cracked heads in again forcing a path through a picket line at the entrance to the plant.

Some 340 non-striking employes scurried through the corridor in a back-to-work movement that started Monday.

In a National Labor Relations board election last Friday the workers voted, 302 to 272, not to retain the union, local 768 of the CIO's United Electrical workers as bargaining agent.

Police Chief Rudolph Wurstner denied any brutality on part of police at the picket line. He said: "The police were merely doing their duty."

A common pleas court order banning mass picketing at the plant still is in effect.

Dewey Urged To Get Rid Of Mustache As Bid For More Votes

(By The Associated Press)

MOBILE, Ala., July 28— Presumably the Republicans' presidential nominee, Thomas E. Dewey, is now weighing his mustache against southern votes.

J. W. Lord, Mobile business man, said he wired Dewey he would carry the south if he shaved his mustache because southerners are partial to clean-shaven men.

Lord said today he received a letter from the candidate's secretary saying Dewey was giving the suggestion "careful consideration."

Cool Front Due From Rockies

It may be a "few degrees" cooler today, the weatherman said Wednesday night, but he refused to run out on a limb with a "for sure" statement. The hoped for cool spell is due to move in from the north, if it comes, where a weak front has been reported.

The mercury soared to 97 degrees Wednesday afternoon for the highest temperature marked up in the current "heat wave." Monday the thermometer hit 94, and Tuesday it swung up to 96 degrees. The increased readings had been forecast correctly by the weather station north of town.

Humidity High

Adding to the discomfort of the 97 reading was the continued high humidity over the Plains area. Wednesday the humidity ranged from 74 per cent in the morning to 30 per cent later in the afternoon. Both readings are higher than usual for the Lubbock area.

Some dust was whipped by the 26 mile an hour wind that blew from the south. The weatherman said a low pressure area hung over this section of the state and the wind was moving northward over most of Texas.

The forecast today is partly cloudy, cooler, with a few widely scattered thundershowers during

U.S. Officials Plan Strategy To Cope With Jap Rail Walkout

(By International News Service)

TOKYO, July 29 (Thursday)— General MacArthur's civil transportation officials held an emergency meeting in Tokyo today to determine strategy to cope with the "offensive" of government railroad workers.

The meeting was called after military railroad officials at Yokohama reported that an occupation train, the "Dixie Flyer," had been derailed early today south of Kure.

Lt. Col. Robert Mann, commander of the third military railroad service, reported the locomotive turned over and that two cars were derailed. None of the allied personnel was injured.

Mann also announced that he had ordered the arrest of strike leaders who delayed the movement of trains on Hokkaido and Kyushu.

Three thousand employes, including all conductors, walked out at Asahigawa, Hokkaido, Wednesday morning.

Bunju Kataoka, director general of the Japanese railroads, told the railroad workers today that they have no right to strike

New Allied Plan Ready

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28 — Secretary of State Marshall announced today that the U. S., Britain and France have agreed on their next move to break the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Diplomatic sources predicted the step would be a direct, possibly reports that the Western Allies' oral protest to Joseph Stalin.

Marshall knocked down recent next step would be personal representations by the American, French and British ambassadors to Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

Timing Not Disclosed

The State secretary told a news conference no decision had been reached as to timing disclosure of the move. His language indicated Russia would be given time to answer before the Western Powers' action is made public.

Further evidence that the Allies will move diplomatically to solve the Berlin impasse came with Marshall's statement that developments must be considered in light of a U. S. declaration of a week ago. At that time it was stated that this country's forces would not evacuate Berlin, but would avail itself of every diplomatic possibility to "avert the tragedy of war."

UN Study Urged

Meanwhile, Sen. Jenner (R-Ind), asked the Senate to record itself as favoring immediate submission of the Berlin dispute to the United Nations Security Council.

Jenner tried unsuccessfully to get immediate Senate action on his resolution to that effect. He declared "it's time right now to test the United Nations."

The U. S. is known to regard the UN as a last resort for the dispute. It feels that the move could only result in a Russian "victory" because the Soviets through use of the veto power could defeat any recommended solution they considered undesirable.

Conferences Held

It was believed the newest Allied offensive in the "cold war" would not be launched for at least 48 hours. Marshall pointed out that U. S. ambassador to Russia, W. Bedell Smith, will not leave Berlin enroute from London to return to his post until Thursday.

Berlin's Mayor Defies Soviets

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, July 28—A 61-year-old woman took on her frail shoulders tonight the giant East-West struggle for Berlin.

In a turbulent city where thousands jammed in front of banks attempting to exchange old marks for new Soviet-sponsored money, Mayor Frau Louise Schroeder defied a Russian order to dismiss the anti-Communist deputy police chief.

Backed by the three western commandants, the fighting Socialist mayor, known as the "mother" of Berlin, told the Russians that Berlin was under four-power rule—she couldn't obey a one-power command.

Abductions Charged

The struggle over control of the police pointed up the relentless Soviet drive to capture control of the blockaded city, regardless of prospects for new four-power talks on Berlin or all of Germany.

(In London a responsible British source said the Western Allies would ask Russia for a conference broadened to attempt settlement of all European issues.)

Frau Schroeder, who recently said "the disunity among the allies is being fought out on the back of the Berliners," was thrown into the heart of the struggle two days ago when the anti-Communist city government

Roy L. Bowles Seriously Hurt In Affray

Lubbock Man Shot; Woman Is Charged

By CHARLES STONE
Avalanche Staff Writer

ROY L. (RAY) BOWLES, 37, of Idalou highway, was shot and critically wounded about 7:30 p. m. Wednesday as he was allegedly attempting to force his way into the home of his divorced wife at 1312 Ave. C.

One shot from a .38 caliber revolver in the hands of his divorced wife struck him in the hollow of the neck, taking a downward path to lodge just under the skin in the back of the left shoulder. The slug was believed to have struck a vertabrae.

Bowles was rushed to St. Mary's hopsital in a Plains ambulance, where he remained in a critical condition early this morning.

Mrs. Nettie Bowles, 38, who had been divorced from Bowles "for about two months," said that the shooting was the outcome of a long series of quarrels and physical violence between the two during a little over a year of their married life and the two months since the divorce.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said late last night that a charge of assault with intent to murder had been filed against Mrs. Bowles in the Justice court of C. E. Lynn. Bond of $1,500 was set, binding the case over to investigation of the grand jury. Mrs. Bowles then posted bond at 12:15 a. m. today and was released.

According to Mrs. Bowles' story, given in a signed statement before Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr, the events preceding the fatal shooting were as follows:

She and Bowles were married in February of 1947 at Tahoka, and had had marital troubles from shortly after that time to about two months ago when she obtained

ON AROUND-THE-WORLD FLIGHT

Sixteen U.S. Fliers Killed As B-29 Crashes Into Sea

(By The Associated Press)

ADEN, July 28—One of three B-29 Superfortresses on an around-the-world flight crashed in the sea within sight of this port on the south coast of Arabia last night. At least 16 American crewmen were believed lost.

One man was rescued but it was not learned immediately the exact number of men aboard the giant American bomber. Authorities here imposed restrictions on outgoing dispatches concerning the crash.

Five bodies were recovered from the sea during the day and were buried with full military honors in a funeral attended by the crews of the two remaining B-29s.

Divers Working

The crash occurred at 7 p.m. local time (10 a.m. CST, Tuesday) shortly after the three planes took off for Ceylon.

Eyewitnesses said the plane was airborne when the motors suddenly became silent.

The other planes returned to Aden and are awaiting instructions.

Divers are working on the plane wreckage which is visible about a mile offshore at low tide.

The three planes carried a total of 53 men, according to an announcement when they left Tucson, Ariz., six days ago on the flight. Two of the globe-circling planes carried double crews while the third carried 17 men.

Fishermen Rescue One

The lone survivor, identified only as Sgt. Gustafason, was picked up by local fishermen. He was reported resting comfortably. (Capt. Percy H. Kramer, public information officer at Davis-Monthan field in Tucson, the ships' home base, issued a list of 18 men aboard the ship when it left Tucson which included M/Sgt. Sigyer R. Gustafason, 32, Norwood, Mass.)

The flight was intended to train B-29 crews in the techniques of long over-water flights and "to acclimate personnel with world-wide regional conditions," the air force said.

The Davis-Monthan Army air base announced the names of fellow crewmen of Gustafason at the time the bomber left there last Thursday. The public information office said it was possible there had been some interchange of crew among the three planes since departure and emphasized the list could not be considered a list of victims.

On Gustafason's plane when it left Tucson were:

Lt. Col. Charles C. Pulliam, Huntington, W. Va., commander; 1st Lt. Robert T. Weaver, Galesburg, Ill., pilot; Capt. Hugh E. Gommel, Indianapolis, Ind., co-pilot; 1st Lt. Stanley L. Fleming, Downey, Calif., navigator; 1st Lt. Arthur J. Holtz, Milwaukee, Wis., bombardier; M/Sgt. William M. Roberts, Fort Worth, Tex., radar operator; M/Sgt. Kenneth S. Sel-

Ban On Political Spending By Labor Unions Is Upheld

(By The Associated Press)

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 28—In a decision of major importance in this election year, a federal judge today upheld the Taft-Hartley act ban on political spending by labor unions.

Refusing to dismiss indictments against an AFL union local and its president, Judge Carroll C. Hincks, of the U. S. district court here, asserted:

"In the light of the legislative history of the act, in silhouette against the contemporary background, I hold first, that the act was well within the limits of federal legislative power and, second, that it was not invalidated by its incidental effect in restraint upon the freedoms protected by the first amendment."

6,200 Injured In Germany

By RICHARD O'REGAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany, (Thursday) July 29. — New blasts ripped the wrecked I. G. Farben chemical company here early today in the wake of yesterday's explosion which killed more than 300 and injured 6,200, according to U. S. Army estimate. German police said between 500 and 800 were killed.

The Army said there were 300 known dead, presumably from a count of bodies during rescue operations, and that an undetermined number of dead still remain in the blazing wreckage.

A U. S. Army statement said 2,700 persons were treated for injuries suffered in the plant when the first blast occurred yesterday. At least 3,500 others were injured by falling walls and flying glass and debris outside the plant, the Army said.

Area Evacuated

Hospitals reported that between 30 and 40 injured persons had died since the initial blast.

Because new explosions boomed through the night and flames raged through the wreckage, it was impossible for rescue squads to approach some sections of the factory in a search for bodies. Other estimates of casualties ranged up to 1,000 dead.

The entire area was evacuated late last night of all except firemen and rescue workers.

Six hnndred American troops were on the scene, laying hose and working in the glare of flames and searchlights. It was estimated that 1,000 doctors and nurses were giving aid to the burned and injured. They came from all sections of western Germany.

Rescue Efforts Continue

American, French and German rescue workers braved the minor blasts, flames and fumes early today, 10 hours after the first explosion, as they continued bringing survivors out of the inferno.

Frankfurt sent 10 ambulances to Ludwigshafen early today and Heidelberg dispatched 30. As hospitals near Ludwigshafen became filled and could take no more patients, the injured were taken to dozens of cities and towns farther away.

Eventually ambulance loads of wounded were being rushed to Kaiserlauten and Karlsruhe, 60 miles from Ludwigshafen. American forces set up field hospitals in the immediate vicinity.

The blast and resultant fire, which sent flames and smoke towering miles into the air, came

With 3,682 of 3,695 precincts counted, the former governor had 167,409 votes to 122,745 for Smith.

The total vote of 290,154 was a drop of nearly 100,000 from the first primary when there were 10 candidates in the Senate race.

Kerr will be opposed in the general election Nov. 2 by Rep. Ross Rizley of Guymon, who won the Republican nomination July 6 without a runoff. They seek the post being vacated by retiring Senator E. H. Moore (R).

SOVIET TRAINS MOVE OVER 'CLOSED' RAIL LINE

Huge Picture Of 'Uncle Joe Stalin' Helps British Pilots Bring Transport Planes To Berlin Field

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

ABOARD THE RAF "AIR LIFT" INTO BLOCKADED BERLIN, July 28 — RAF pilots defying the Soviet ground blockade of Berlin use a big picture of "Uncle Joe Stalin" as a landmark in dropping down to Gatow airport in the British sector.

The big picture of Premier Stalin is atop the tower of a Russian army camp close to Gatow.

This correspondent flew with the British today on one of the hundreds of flights carrying food, coal and now gasoline into Berlin.

The Russians said that "technical difficulties," were the reason for closing the western Allied Helmstedt railway. They said that repairs were needed.

Soviet Trains Move

Tonight it can be reported that these so-called technical difficulties have been overcome by the Russians—but the Berlin line is still closed to the western Allies.

This correspondent, and the RAF crewmen aboard the York transport plane, saw at least five Russian - operated freight trains moving on various sections of the railway between Berlin and Magdeburg.

RAF flight Lt. John Roberts, of Clackton - on - the-Sea, England, pointed at one train and remarked:

"For a line with 'technical difficulties' I would say this is in pretty good shape.

"We see trains moving the length of it every day."

This correspondent flew from Gatow airport to Wunsdorf in the British occupation zone and then back again through the 20-mile wide aerial corridor.

On leaving, the plane circled near the Soviet's Brandenburg air strip.

Flight Lt. Cyril Povey of London said:

"Four Yaks circled our plane on this morning's flight, but they let us alone.

"I guess 'Uncle Joe' knows he can close out this run anytime he wants to."

Midway between Brandenburg and Magdeburg in the Soviet occupation zone west of Berlin the lieutenant pointed to a cleared stretch about five miles wide and 40 miles long in the forrest.

"That's the Russian artillery range," said Pavey. "Look, bursts of white smoke, 'Uncle Joe' is keeping his shooting eye sharp."

Fighters Used Field

Wunsdorf, a 55-minute run from Berlin, was an RAF fighter field before it was taken over for "operations vittles" to feed Berlin.

It is now the home of 50 Yorks which flew today a record 120 sorties to Berlin with 960 tons. Seventy-five Dakota planes haul food and coal from another base at Fassberg.

Povey said his crew and most of the York crews were diverted to Germany from the London-Singapore run. He said:

"I wouldn't wonder if the Soviets didn't purposely keep us tied up here so as to aid the Communists in Malaya.

"Singapore is having to do without a lot of essential military cargo that this squadron used to ferry."

On the trip back from Wunsdorf the York crew carried a ton of German parcel post and eight tons of powdered potatoes.

The crew revealed that the normal six and one-half ton capacity of the York plane has been expanded by installing a special landing gear for the heavy load.

It. Povey said the daylight runs were usually quiet but that "at night the Soviets cut up by fingering us with their searchlights—trying to confuse us, I guess."

When nearing Gatow the crew called out:

"See Uncle Joe's picture on that tower? We use it to 'home on'."

The York plane then banked sharply to the left and nosed down to Gatow.

Young Mother Found Guilty Of Slaving Husband In Chicago

CHICAGO, July 28. (INS)—An 18-year-old mother branded by the state as a "graduate juvenile delinquent" was convicted tonight in Chicago of manslaughter in the death of her husband.

The charge carries a penalty of 1 to 14 years imprisonment.

Defendant in the trial was attractive Mrs. Jacqueline Wiser who killed her husband, Cyril, 24, with a knife after a tavern quarrel last April 19.

New Trial Sought

Mrs. Wiser's attorneys made a motion for a new trial. Judge Samuel B. Epstein, who heard the murder charge against Mrs. Wiser, will rule on the motion Aug. 15.

A jury of seven women and five men deliberated six hours before reaching a decision. Mrs. Wiser was tried on a murder indictment but a manslaughter charge was included.

The pretty brunette showed no emotion as the verdict was brought in. Later, she broke into sobs as she was being led back to the county jail.

Mrs. Wiser's four - month - old son, Danny, was in court through much of the trial but had been taken home before the verdict was reached.

Mrs. Wiser lived at Calumet City, before her arrest.

WAR RUBBLE USED BY ARMY—The U. S. Air Force, engaged in probably its greatest job since the war, is fighting to keep the citizens of Berlin supplied with food, fuel and medicine. Since the Russians clamped on their blockade, all such supplies must be flown in. The Army is rushing new air facilities, to relieve the city's overtaxed airfields. Cranes and bulldozers, top, load trucks with the rubble of buildings bombed and blasted during World War II. The debris is used as a base for a new strip at Tempelhof Field. The strip, bottom, is smoothed and leveled by Army equipment. (Photos by NEA-Acme).

Bird And Faith In Runoff For Hale County Commission Post

HALE CENTER, July 28 (Special)—Opponents in the August primary for the office of Hale county commissioner in precinct No. 3 will be Carroll Bird and Hubert Faith, both seeking the post vacated by J. L. Mann, sr., who did not seek re-election.

Bird and Faith won over T. A. Greenwood and Jess Minyard in Saturday's elections. Total votes received by the four candidates last Saturday were Bird, 330; Minyard, 50; Faith, 365; and Greenwood, 280.

Hale county precinct No. 3 embraces Hale Center, Abernathy, and Cotten Center areas.

Dawson Bond Issue Believed Defeated

LAMESA, July 28 (Special)—Complete but unofficial returns from 15 of the 17 boxes at Dawson county voting places indicated that voters of the county Tuesday rejected a proposed $250,000 road bond issue for the second time this summer.

The count stood at 713 for and 402 against the measure. Only boxes unreported were at Welch and Ackerly, and observers estimated that less than 100 votes were cast in both places.

The bond issue, which failed to muster the necessary two-thirds majority in a similar election held last month, would have been used for the construction of this county's segment of the proposed Broadway to Big Bend highway.

The proposal was defeated the first time by only 19 votes. Less than 500 votes were cast. The total vote this time was about twice as heavy with Lamesa voters approving the proposal and rural voters rejecting it as in the previous election.

U. S. PAYS OFF ON MULE KICK

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (U.P.) — It took 31 years for William Reese to get even with that mule. Reese was informed that President Truman has signed a bill which will give him $3,500 for injuries received when kicked by the mule. Reese and the mule were both serving in the U. S. Army when the kicking took place.

B-29s Returned To Duty By U.S.

TUCSON, Ariz., July 28. (INS)—Hundreds of B-29 Superfortresses which have been in storage at the Davis-Monthan air base at Tucson are being readied for active duty once again.

Colonel N. R. Laughinghouse, in charge of the aircraft storage depot at the huge air base, told Internation News Service tonight that the work of preparing hundreds of planes for duty again has been quietly going forward for several months.

He said that several planes a week are being withdrawn from the field, flown to modification centers for up-to-date improvements and then are sent wherever they are needed.

Berlin Move Speeds Work

The colonel said that the long wait for some of the Superfortresses ended when increased flight groups were ordered as part of the nation's new combined air force. Tension in Berlin in recent weeks spurred on the work.

Exact number of planes withdrawn from the field and total to be sent into active duty were not revealed by the officer.

He said, however, that many of the combat veterans are coated with plastic to protect them from the elements. These "cocooned" planes have not been ordered withdrawn from the field as yet.

Colonel Laughinghouse said that work of readying each of the $750,000 super bombers entails 1800 man hours or about one week. The field is not yet on a day-and-night schedule, but the officer anticipated that it would be operating around the clock soon.

HER UNLUCKY DAY

GREENBURG, Pa., July 28 (AP)—Mrs. Linda Caroline, 65, wasn't hurt tonight when an airplane hit her house. But she was hospitalized a few minutes later by injuries suffered when she tripped and fell while running outside to see what happened.

MacArthur's Labor Chief Quits As Jap Teachers Stage 'Strike'

TOKYO, July 29 (Thursday) (INS)—At least 2700 Japanese government school teachers staged a protest "strike" today as James Killen, Gen. MacArthur's labor division chief, announced his intention of resigning.

Both moves followed in the wake of the supreme commander's order forbidding Japanese government workers to strike in enforcement of their demands.

Protest Is Futile

The strike of college and higher school teachers in Kyushu and in two Honshu island prefectures was one of the most futile ever staged—all government schools are closed now for vacation.

Headquarters' education division chief Mark Orr said:

"These really aren't strikes, merely protest petitions, because the teachers don't have any work to do now anyway."

He added that he was unable to say how many were affected because it is impossible to say who was "striking" and who was vacationing.

The higher school teachers are demanding pay raises, claiming they are paid less than secondary school teachers.

Killen, international vice president of the AFL pulp, sulphite and paper mill workers, said he is leaving his post "because I cannot adjust myself to the new headquarters labor policy which denies government workers the right of collective bargaining."

Killen Opposes Policy

Killen, one of the AFL's youngest national leaders, added:

"The question of strikes in government service is not an issue. The problem has been successfully resolved in England and other countries to formalize procedures of collective negotiation and arbitration."

Killen refused to amplify his statement or indicate when the resignation would be submitted or become effective. Other sources said he is probably leaving in 60 days. Killen's action marked the first major internal difficulty within MacArthur's staff since the occupation began.

The Supreme Commander's letter to Premier Ashida last week ordering the Japanese government to forbid strikes or collective bargaining by its employes was formulated after sharp disagreement among his labor division executives. At least two other division officials are expected to tender their resignation.

Building Total Here Increased

Building records for Lubbock so far this year were boosted considerably when the permit for the recently authorized addition to Senior High school was issued Wednesday.

The permit, issued to L. C. Bateson Construction Co., contractor, added $482,777 to 1948 construction totals.

It increased the building total for the year to $8,492,325, or $1,572,211 more than the $6,920,114 to the same date last year—breaking all records to that time.

July Figure Boosted

It boosted the July figure to $1,977,745, the largest during any month since March, 1947, when permits were issued for $2,254,513 in construction. Included in that figure were permits for two junior high school buildings and the Texas Tech stdium, which accounted for approximately $1,600,000 of the month's total.

With more than five months still to go, the 1948 figure already is within $2,638,541 of the all-time record for any year, set at $11,130,866 in 1947.

The chief Senior High improvement will be an enlargement of the west wing of the building, including an extension to the Nineteenth street sidewalk.

Defense Talks Are Asked By Johnson

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—Defense Secretary James Forrestal was asked today by Rep. Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) for a conference on five major questions dealing with national defense.

The points, as outlined by Johnson in a statement are:

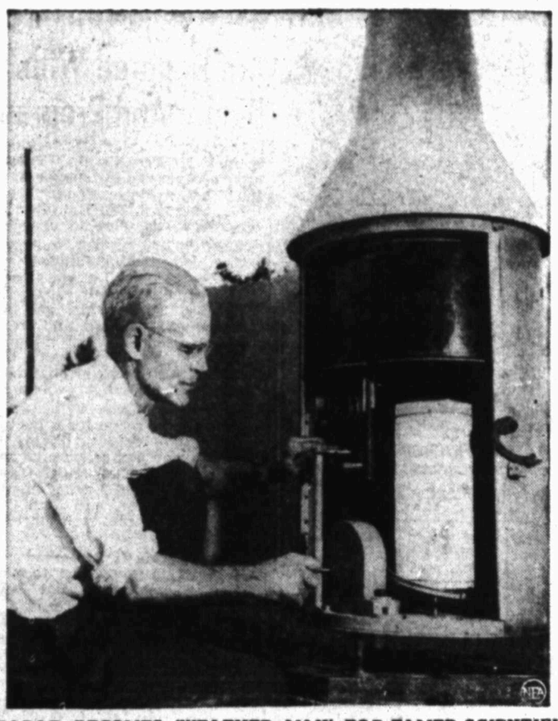

1. Can the changeover at the Fort Worth aircraft factories from the manufacture of B-36 bombers to B-49s be speeded?
2. How can legislation authorizing establishment of a West Point of the air at San Antonio be expedited?
3. What industrial plants might be successfully moved to Texas in keeping with the recommendation of the National Security Resources board which advised industry to scatter a defense against atomic warfare?
4. What steps should be taken to insure new fuel supplies to power the 70-group air force?
5. What has been done by the interdepartmental committee set up last November to make a thorough study of all reserves in all categories—Army, Navy and Air?

Johnson said he would ask Forrestal to discuss with President Truman the appointment of a national advisory committee on petroleum headed by Col. E. O Thompson of Texas, member of the Texas Railroad commission.

RADAR BECOMES 'WEATHER MAN' FOR FAMED SCIENTIFIC FARM—The famous Lester Pfister hybrid corn farm at El Paso, Ill., has turned war-born radar to peaceful use. Pfister has installed his own radar station to tell him when it will rain. Operating cost is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 a year, but Pfister figures it's worth it to protect his 5000 acres of hybrid seed corn. He'll know whether it's a good day to cut hay, spray his seed with DDT or use a spray in his clover and hay fields. Pfister, left, notes readings on one of the 12 recording rain gauges that cover a 324-square mile area. At right, he looks on as state employe Dick Price operates the radarscope.

Republicans Pick Colorado Slate

DENVER, July 28 (INS)—The high designation of the Republican state assembly went to Will F. Nicholson, for U. S. Senate, while David A. Hamil was nominated for governor today in Denver.

Nicholson received 830½ votes out of a possible 1,240 over ex-governor John C. Vivian with 377½. A third candidate, Arthur D. Quaintance who received a scattered 29 votes was eliminated from the senatorial nomination.

Unanimously Nominated

The Republican candidate for governor, state Representative Hamil of Atwood, was unanimously nominated by the assembly after a nomination speech by state Senator Arthur H. Laws who declared, "we need a governor to replace the political bell hop we now have.

Nicholson, who is from Denver, was nominated by William H. Hutchinson, of Pueblo, while Vivian's name was presented to the assembly by Emery O'Connell of Jefferson county.

Vivian had a majority of the delegation from 14 counties, most of them small. He received his largest block of votes from Denver which gave him 100 to 273 for Nicholson.

Primary Fight Assured

The results of the vote assured a primary fight for the senatorial nomination in both major parties of Colorado.

Following the announcement of vote, Vivian told newsmen, "I am going to make the most vigorous campaign I have ever made in my life. I ran for office four consecutive times and was elected four consecutive times, and expect this to be the fifth."

Nicholson predicted he would win the primary by a larger margin than he had today.

The state assembly gave Attorney General H. Lawrence Hinkley high designation for state supreme court with 1,082 votes.

Justice George Luxford, of Denver, running for re-election, had to be content with 720½, Allyn Cole, of Glenwood Springs drew 670½ votes.

The three candidates will appear on the ballot with two to be nominated.

$35,000,000 Oil Loan For Mexican Development Snagged

MEXICO CITY, July 28 (AP)—Pemex, the government oil monopoly, confirmed tonight that the Texas company $30,000,000 loan might not go through.

Rodrigo De Llano, director-general of the newspaper Excelsior, in a dispatch from New York published today, said Pemex's insistence upon changing contract terms had caused suspension of negotiations. De Llano, said, however, it might yet be possible to revive the plan and reach an agreement.

The plan was for the Texas company to finance specific oil projects such as refineries, a pipeline and purchase of a tanker. The loan was to be at three percent and to be repaid in oil.

Chicago Salesman Finally Arrested

Man 'Missing' 23 Years Now Faces $40,360 Alimony Bill

CHICAGO, July 28 (INS) — A salesman who disappeared from home 23 years ago was faced with a $40,360 alimony bill today after he was arrested on a warrant obtained by his ex-wife.

Mrs. Celestine Blum, 50, charged that Henry E. Blum, 52, deserted her in February, 1925, a month after superior court judge Joseph Sabath ordered him to pay her $40 a week alimony.

Adultery Is Claimed

She said he left her with three young children, Henry, jr., Dorothy and Jerry, to support.

At the time, Blum had a divorce suit pending in superior court charging Mrs. Blum with adultery. His wife had a cross bill for divorce pending, charging him with adultery, desertion and cruelty.

Mrs. Blum found employment for a time as a hot dog vendor and later went to work in a loop department store.

In 1945, she obtained a divorce on desertion grounds. Notice to Blum was given by publication, since his whereabouts still were unknown.

Last June 5, her son, Henry, received an anonymous telephone call from a woman who told him his father could be found on the southwest side.

Mrs. Blum had a law firm investigate. They learned that Blum had returned to Chicago about ten years ago from California. He had been using the aliases of Henry E. Burns and Donald Burns.

As a result of their investigation, a writ of ne exeat was obtained for Blum's arrest.

Blum explained that he left Chicago in 1925 because "I didn't like trouble."

He obtained his liberty by posting a $15,000 real estate bond.

Blum appeared shocked when informed of the amount asked by his wife in her alimony bill.

Mrs. Blum's attorneys said there was some possibility of a settlement.

Protects great...

Your engine, too, needs extra-protection from excessive summer heat . . .

And the best protection "under the sun" is to make a date to OIL-PLATE with Conoco Nth Motor Oil, today! A special, added ingredient in Nth Motor Oil (Patented) fastens an extra film of lubricant so closely to metal that your engine's working parts are actually OIL-PLATED!

. . . This extra OIL-PLATING stays up on cylinder walls . . . won't all drain down, even overnight! That means extra-protection . . . from high running-heat . . . from metal-eating combustion acids . . . from power-choking sludge and carbon due to wear.

Wise motorists save wear, save money, save worry when they make a date for . . .

...an OIL-PLATE!

REPORT FROM MEXICO

(Editor's Note: Ernestine Wheelock, assistant woman's editor, who is spending six weeks in Mexico City as a student in an advanced Spanish course sponsored by the foreign language department at Tech college, writes of first impressions.)

SATURDAY afternoon is a bad time to reach Mexico City, we found upon our arrival here July 24 after four days of travel.

Traffic in this city, which is entered by a road used by Cortez 400 years ago to beat a hasty retreat from Montezuma, is erratic and unorganized since signals are all but ignored and since Mexicans are more fond of the accelerator than the brake. A guide who will drive one to his destination in the city for 10 pesos probably will leave behind fewer fenders than would the tourist who is unfamiliar with traffic hazards here. The law seems to be "every hombre for himself."

A point of interest at Hotel Monte Carlo where the group of 13 Spanish students from Tech is staying, is the driveway into the hotel garage—it leads directly through the lobby. The hotel, a converted convent, is next door to the Biblioteca Nacional where the Tech students will study. To get practical experience in Spanish conversation, students are to speak only Spanish and, knowing this, hotel employes often refuse to speak English to the group.

At present in Mexico City, which has an altitude of 7500 feet, women are seen wearing furs and men don topcoats. Among interesting downtown sights in this Mexican Capital are the old ornate buildings with beautiful wooden or glass doors, the many new cars and a few old ones, the many people whose nationalities cannot be distinguished and the bouquets of flowers in many shops and even on city buses.

The peso-dollar exchange rate which was upset last week has not been stabilized as yet and at present one may get approximately six pesos for one dollar, rather than 4.85 pesos for one dollar, the exchange rate since 1940.

After luggage inspection across the Mexican border at Nuevo Laredo, and many miles of Mexican desert, the tourist sees many interesting sights including markers designating kilometers to Mexico City; President Aleman's name printed on all available objects; thousands of yellow butterflies; many horsedrawn carts; Mexicans taking siestas; the ever blooming Anacahuita shrub; green hills; ramshackle huts and cattle on the highway.

The first night on the trip was spent in San Antonio; the second night at Monterrey and the third night at Ciudad Valles. After leaving Hotel Valles in Cuidad Valles at 7:30 o'clock Saturday morning, we soon reached Tamazunchale, called "Thomas and Charley" by Americans. At this point, an all day's mountain drive to Mexico City begins; at 90 kilometers from the city, the highest point of the trip is passed, 8027 feet. Here a monument was erected by the American Colony of Mexico in 1936.

In the mountains between Cuidad Valles and Mexico City the traveler sees only very small Indian villages, consisting of thatched huts clinging precariously to the mountain sides and surrounded by cultivated plots on the steep slopes.

Along the Pan-American road small Indian boys sell crystal rocks to the tourists who will heed their calls and Indian women sell citrus fruits and bananas. The inhabitants of this territory appear to be very poor, dirty and unhappy and their presence on the narrow highways adds greatly to the danger of mountain travel.

While in Mexico City, the Tech Spanish students will see operas, plays, bull fights and will visit Amecameca and the volcanoes, the pyramids, Cholula, Puebla, Cuernavaca and Taxco.

LIGHTING TRICK—Fluorescent lights concealed in the top of the bookcase and in ceiling coving are used for decorative effect and for general illumination in this living-dining room of a model home.

Virginia Butler To Hold Nature Course

Virginia Butler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Butler, 2801 Twenty-first has just returned from a two weeks session of the Audubon Nature Camp of Texas near Kerrville.

Virginia, who was sent to the camp by the Lubbock Garden club in cooperation with the Girl Scouts, studied nature activities, birds, and plants while there. Field trips were held and lectures were given daily. This fall she plans to use the information obtained to teach a short course to the Girl Scout and Brownie leaders of Lubbock, and then to assist in the teaching of the various troops.

The Audubon Nature Camp is particularly interesting because it is one of the four in the United States, and this is the first year for one to be held in this part of the country. People from all over the United States were there, and Virginia said that if enough interest is shown, two more sessions will be held this summer.

Miss Rita McCauley Weds Elmer J. Reed Wednesday Night

Miss Rita Joyce McCauley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McCauley, North College, and Elmer Jefferson Reed, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs Elmer J. Reed, sr., 1917 Fifteenth, were married Wednesday night at 7 o'clock in St. John's Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson performing a double ring ceremony in a setting of pink and white gladioli, fern, palms and lighted tapers in candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a coco crepe dress fashioned with a square necklace and folds over the shoulders and buttoned down the back to the waistline with small self-covered buttons. Her shoes and bag were of town brown and her pale pink hat was complemented by pink gloves. A small white bouquet was carried on a prayer book, something borrowed, which belonged to the bridegroom's sister. Something old was her grandmother's ring, and something new was a gold bracelet.

Miss Carolyn Lockhart, maid of honor, wore a dress of wine crepe similar in design to that of the bride, and a small braided headband of the same material, and carried a bouquet of pink flowers. Candlelighters, Miss JoAnn Murfee of Lubbock and Helen Beys of El Paso, chose dresses of pale blue and cream with halos of shreaded pink carnations.

Bob Scoggin, organist, accompanied Miss Eugenia Luker as she sang "I Love Thee" and "Through the Years". Other musical selections were "The Sweetest Story Ever Told," "When Day is Done," "Indian Love Call," "The Rosary" and "The Waltz You Saved For Me" was heard during the ceremony.

Earl Lockhart served the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Bill Felty and Ben Low.

At a reception held in the Chimayo room of the Hilton hotel, the couple were assisted in receiving by the bride's mother, parents of the bridegroom, maid of honor and the candlelighters. On the refreshment table were a centerpiece of pink and white gladioli, candles, a punch service and a wedding ring cake decorated with confection lilies. Miss Lipha Jo Oates of Wichita Falls, assisted in serving.

Out of town guests were present from Seagraves, Wichita Falls, Crosbyton, Amarillo, Plainview and Abernathy.

The couple will be at home on August 8, at 2206 Tenth after a wedding trip to Colorado Springs and Denver, Colo. For traveling the bride chose a melon colored gabardine suit with brown accessories and a gglamelia corsage.

Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Lubbock High school, where the bride was a member of Las Cresas. She has completed her freshman year at Texas State College for Women in Denton, and Mr. Reed attended Texas Tech for two-and-a-half years where he was a member of Silver Key and Kappa Kappa Psi.

OPPOSED QUICK ADJOURNMENT

Dewey 'Satisfied' With Action Of Solons In Special Session

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
INS Staff Correspondent

PAWLING, N. Y., July 28—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey was reported tonight to be "satisfied" with the course being followed by Republican leaders with respect to the special session of Congress.

James C. Hagerty, executive assistant to the GOP presidential nominee, said however that Dewey did nok talk with anyone in Washington today and had no plans to do so. He talked yesterday with Sen. Robert A. Taft.

Dewey has taken the position that the Republican-controlled Congress should not adjourn until it has given careful consideration to the recommendations made by President Truman in his message. He did not commit himself or his party, however, to any of the specific Truman proposals.

The governor flatly opposed the suggestion by some Republicans that Congress quit within a week after scrapping the entire Truman program. His position, said to be agreeable to Taft and other GOP leaders, is that the Republicans should do something about inflation at the special session and that they should press for passage of the controversial civil Rights Bill.

Hagerty said Dewey would have no comment on specific legislation at the special session and that he would not discuss publicly what he thinks the Congress should do or when it should adjourn.

This does not mean, Hagerty explained, that the Republican nominee will not discuss those matters with party leaders over the telephone, as he already has done so.

Dewey will be in New York City Saturday for the dedication of the International airport at Idlewild. He and President Truman both will speak at the ceremonies.

Runoff Interest Lags In Dawson

LAMESA, July 28. (Spl)—With only one county-wide race to be decided, the forthcoming runoff in Dawson county is expected to be relatively dull.

Chief interest will center on the Stevenson-Johnson race for United States senator, and the Corbin-Parrish contest for the 30th district state senatorial post.

Record Vote Cast

A record-breaking vote of over 4,000 was cast in Saturday's primary.

County voters will have a second choice only in the sheriff's race, with Roy King, who led in number of votes in the Saturday primary, opposing Houston Glasson for the post being vacated by A. M. (Buck) Bennett.

Runoffs are also slated in the race for county commissioner in precinct No. 1, with E. G. Murphey opposing G. C. Hardesty; in the race for justice of the peace, with incumbent D. M. Campbell facing J. F. Cox; and for constable, with Roscoe H. Moore running against R. T. Hill.

Lamesa's Stansell Clement was supposedly elected district attorney of the 106th judicial district in one of the closest races ever recorded. Clement showed a margin variously reported at 10, 6, and 3 votes over H. B. Crawford of Terry county, despite the fact that the Lamesa attorney carried only two of the six counties in the district.

R. W. (Buster) Herndon defeated two other candidates for the office of county judge, succeeding Kilmer Corbin.

County attorney Vernon Adcock and District Clerk W. W. Petteway were returned to office, each defeating one rival candidate.

County Treasurer Roxie Gaines, Tax Assessor-Collector Louie C. White, and County Clerk Howard Humphrey were unopposed in their respective races.

The county will have a complete new set of county commissioners, including W. T. Snellgrove in precinct No. 2, Alton Addison in precinct No. 3, and Cecil O'Brien in precinct No. 4, all of whom were chosen for first terms in Saturday's election. The winner in precinct No. 1 runoff will succeed the late L. I. Dean.

SAN ANTONIO, July 28. (AP)—Texas vocational agriculture teachers were told today "the most probable thing" is that man will eliminate himself with the atomic bomb.

The warning came from Dr. R. H. Montgomery, professor of economics at the University of Texas, who addressed 650 delegates to the teachers' annual conference.

"This time we've got something that is a little bit bigger than the United States of America," Dr. Montgomery said. "We have to grow up to our responsibility and be adults about this matter.

Chicago Man Is Shot To Death

CHICAGO, July 28. (INS)—A 56-year-old Chicago fiber company head was shot and killed today by three gunmen who fired a shotgun blast into his automobile and sped away.

Victim of the daylight shooting was Nathan Gumbin. His son, Owen, 19, who was riding with him was not injured.

Several hours after the killing, Morris B. Sachs, Chicago clothier, was questioned at the stockyards police station about high-stake poker games in which he and Gumbin participated.

Shot At Traffic Stop

Gumbin was shot when he stopped his car for a traffic light. The gunmen's car, which was parked on the south side of the street, pulled along side. The occupants fired one blast, then sped away.

First reports said Gumbin and his son were returning from a meeting involving labor trouble at his plant when the shooting occurred.

Later Coroner A. L. Brodie said investigation showed there was no labor trouble at the firm.

A license number on the gunman's car was tracked to Fred J. Schrantz, 43, who told police one of his plates had been stolen in April. Police said they were convinced he had nothing to do with the shooting.

Gumbin's family was preparing to celebrate his 56th birthday anniversary tonight. He leaves his widow, Blossom; a brother, Herman, Rockford, Mich.; and a sister who lives in California, and his two sons, Owen, and Jack, 24.

Hubbers Edge Amarillo Gold Sox, 7-6

Larue Notches Second Victory

Chris Haskins, the old warhorse from Lamesa, came on in relief last night to check the Amarillo Gold Sox and protect Roy Larue's second victory of the year, as the Hubbers turned back the Amarillo nine 7-6.

Larue hurled a good game until the seventh inning, when he suddenly weakened, giving up a leadoff homer to Earl Harriman, a walk to Jerry Folkman and singles by Doug Lewis and Paul Halter. With the dangerous Bob Crues, held to three singles during the game, coming up, Manager Jackie Sullivan waved in Haskins.

The husky righthander pitched a one-run single to Crues, but forced Ted Clawitter to hit into a double play that scored a run and then fanned Dick Gentzkow. He gave up a harmless pinch hit homer to Manager Buck Fausett in the eighth and easily retired the side in the ninth.

Hubs Lead In First

The Hubbers did pretty well at Joe Budny's expense, four hits getting them off to a 2-0 lead in the first frame. In the third, Floyd Walker and Charley Scarborough hit bases-empty circuit clouts to run the lead to 4-1.

The Hubbers picked up another lone marker in the fourth on a single by Jackie Wilcox, another by Sullivan and Walker's deep fly to center, after Virgil Richardson had been passed. They added their sixth run in the sixth, when Budny became wild after fanning the first two batters. He walked Richardson, Walker, Moore and McAlexander in order, but Richardson scored on a wild pitch before McAlexander strolled.

Hub Lead Cut In 7th

Then came the big seventh for the Gold Sox, when they cut the Hubber lead from 6-1 to 6-5, only to have the local nine rally for the winning run in the seventh. Haskins walked, but was forced by Wilcox, who stole second without a throw by Clawitter. Gene Hixson grounded out, but Sullivan got his fourth hit of the night, a sharp single to left that sent Wilcox in.

It was a well played ball game, with Larue shutting the door in Amarillo's face most of the night. He looked good on the mound and succeeded in stifling Crues' hopes for additional home runs to add to his total of 53. And Haskins proved himself by continuing the good work.

Tonight the two teams conclude their series, Amarillo using Jack Schumacher on the mound against Bob Clodfelter for Lubbock.

City, Tech Netters Entered In Tourney

Five Lubbock and Texas Tech netters will journey to Wichita Falls today for the opening of the annual Northwest Texas Open tennis tourney, with all of the South Plains court aces scheduled to play first round matches late this afternoon.

Pairings for the initial round had not been announced late Wednesday night, but some of the top netters of the Southwest are entered in the meet and the local representatives are certain to face tough competition.

Lubbock or Tech entries include Jake Broyles, Glenn Ivy, Eddie Scudday, Joe Wheatley and David Hester. Broyles, Ivy, Scudday and Wheatley were Red Raider net team members this spring. Broyles and Ivy will team together in the doubles bracket, with Scudday and Hester combining for another doubles duo. All of the netters will also enter singles competition.

SANDERS MOTORS WINS

Leeman Branch hurled the Sanders Motors nine to an 8-6 victory over the American Legion in an Industrial league softball tilt Wednesday afternoon.

Lamesa Defeats Gassers, 7 To 5

LAMESA, July 28 (Special)—Dan Pinto's triple in the eighth inning pushed across the winning runs as the Lamesa Loboes took their second straight victory over the Borger Gassers, 7-5, here tonight.

The Gassers had gone ahead in the tilt with a three-run rally in the sixth stanza, but a single tally in the bottom of the seventh and Pinto's blast in the eighth clinched the win for the Lamesans.

Paul Cooke, who relieved starter Chet Zara in the seventh, gained credit for the mound victory—his sixth of the season. Clayton Fries, Borger hurling ace, was charged with the defeat.

Lubbock Legion 'A' Drops Clovis, 9-7

Hub Nine Beats Clovis In Seventh

CLOVIS, July 28 (Special) — Jack Cook's seventh-inning single scored Charles Galey and Dorrance Guy from second and third to give the Lubbock American Legion "A" nine a narrow 9-7 victory over the Clovis Legion team here tonight.

The Clovis boys, who will represent their district in the New Mexico state Legion tourney next week, shelled Lubbock starter Jack McCabe for five runs in the first frame, but the Texans bounced back to tally three runs in the second and two each in the third, fourth and seventh to clinch the triumph.

Lefty Jackie Martyn, who relieved McCabe on the mound at the start of the fourth stanza, was credited with the win as he allowed five hits and two tallies in three frames. James Foster, Clovis starter who gave up five hits and seven runs in four innings, was charged with the defeat.

Bob Brown, flashy Hub city shortstop, continued his heavy slugging at the plate to blast out a double and a single in three attempts. Garnett Reeves collected a triple in three trips to the plate, while other single safeties were banged out by Jesse Fullerton, Galey, Guy and Cook.

Jim Griggs, Clovis right fielder, topped the home nine with three safeties in four official times at bat.

The Clovis crew opened the exhibition tilt in impressive style. Billy Harrison led off with a single, Charles Dickens grounded out, then Griggs lined a double into center field to score Harrison. Orville Jacobs singled home Griggs and Cecil Davis cleaned the bases with a triple off McCabe. Davis then scored on a passed ball to give the home nine a 5-0 margin.

Lubbock pushed across three tallies in the top of the second, however, as Guy led off with a walk, Brown smashed a double that scored Guy, and Cook reached first on an error. After Jimmy Richards struck out, Reeves singled home Cook and Brown.

Two more Lubbock runs crossed the plate in the third stanza, as Galey and Guy reached first on errors and Brown singled them home. The Hub nine kept up the pace with another two-run offensive in the fourth, when Fullerton banged a double, Whitehead reached first on a miscue and both runners came home on passed balls.

Then Cook's timely single in the seventh broke the deadlock and chalked up another Lubbock victory.

The Dodgers jumped on Ken Johnson, recently recalled from Rochester of the International League, for two runs in the first inning and they were never headed.

Brooklyn sewed up the game in the fifth, scoring eight times after two were out against Ted Wilks and Red Munger. Gil Hodges' bases loaded triple was the big blow of the inning.

Spur Downs Hub City Legion B Team, 8-5

SPUR, July 28. (Special) — A four-run rally in the fourth inning, followed by another tally in the fifth and a two-run offensive in the sixth, gave the Spur American Legion junior baseball nine an 8-5 victory over the Lubbock Legion "B" team here this afternoon.

The Hub city boys pushed across a single run in the initial stanza to take an early lead in the exhibition tussle, then added another tally in the top of the fourth. But the home nine bounced back to score once in the third and exploded for four runs in the fourth to go out in front.

John Koonsman hurled five-hit ball for the Spur squad to gain credit for the mound win and was never in trouble except for the fifth frame, when Lubbock's Morris Turner slammed out a triple with two runners on the basepaths.

Losing pitcher was youthful Billy Presley, who gave up seven hits and four runs in the three and two-thirds innings that he twirled. Turner relieved Presley in the fourth and hurled creditably for the last two stanzas.

Joe Simpson paced the Spur nine at the plate with two home runs and a single, while Turner's triple was the big blow for Lubbock.

The Lubbock "B" team will invade Muleshoe Thursday afternoon for another tilt in the final series of district games.

DETROIT, July 28 (AP)—The Detroit Tigers put a violent end today to the 13-game winning streak of the Boston Red Sox, shelling three pitchers for 18 hits to submerge the American League leaders 13 to 0.

Paul (Dizzy) Trout stifled the Sox with six scattered singles—three of them by Dominic DiMaggio—as the Tigers pounded the Bostons to their worst lacing of the year.

The loss was the first for Joe McCarthy's gang since Detroit won a 3 to 1 decision in Boston July 17.

But even in defeat the Red Sox clung to first place by a narrow margin of four percentage points over the Philadelphia Athletics, who climbed back into second by beating Cleveland.

Weidner And Curtis Win Tag Team Bout

Boston Billy Weidner and George Curtis took advantage of confusion resulting from a wild third fall setto to defeat Frankie Murdoch and Al Getz in the Australian tag team feature Wednesday night at Sled Allen's arena.

Murdoch and Getz copped the first fall of the main event in 17 minutes, with Murdoch applying a series of knife lifts and a body smother to Weidner, then Curtis evened the count with a second fall reverse cradle on Murdoch.

The Murdoch-Getz team made a bid for a quick victory in the decisive third fall, as Getz pinned Curtis with an arm lock in just six minutes, and left the ring thinking that they had been awarded the fall by Referee George Lopez. But Lopez had just been trying to get Getz to release an illegal hold and announced that the bout would continue.

Murdoch and Getz did not return from the dressing room, however, and so Weidner and Curtis were awarded the triumph.

In the preliminary setto Gil Knutson of Davenport, Iowa, rebounded to cop the final two falls and defeat Gorilla Poggi. Poggi took the first fall with a toe hold, but Knutson used an airplane spin and body smothers to take the other clashes.

American Olympic Athletes Set For Mightiest Sports Carnival

Track Coach Likes Yank Team Spirit

LONDON, July 28 (INS)—America's Olympic forces, particularly the track and field contingent, optimistically announced tonight they are "ready" for tomorrow's gala opening of the 14th modern Olympiad.

The fine weather, spirited training sessions, high morale, and infrequency of even minor injuries have surpassed all expectations and kept intact America's unofficial status as solid olympic favorite.

Head track and field coach Dean Cromwell, whose "take it easy" training sessions have received much favorable comment, believes this is the best Olympic squad the U. S. ever has had.

Emil Von Elling, New York university track coach and Cromwell's first lieutenant, was lavish today in his praise of the American athletes. He said:

Morale Is High

"There is a fine team spirit all around and morale is high as we await the starting gun Friday. Injuries have been few and so minor as to cause little worry. We are ready!"

Emmett Brunson, assistant track coach from Houston, Tex., hinted an American success story when he ventured this comment:

"If only this fine weather holds out until Friday (first day of track and field competition) we will give our broad-jumpers, high jumpers, pole vaulters, and hurdlers a wonderful sendoff."

Meanwhile, U. S. team managers, coaches, and team captains engaged in a final rehearsal of tomorrow's impressive opening ceremonies. Other team members lined up outside the tailor shop getting compulsory numbers sewn on their running togs.

Runners Carry Torch

Other runners—none of them Olympic competitors — concerned themselves with another most important feature of these vast games—relaying of the Olympic torch to Wembley stadium.

The torch, carried by relay runners from Mt. Olympus, Greece, through all of western Europe, reached Dover from Calais aboard a British destroyer. At Dover, while the flame was being brought ashore, it went out but quickly was rekindled.

In a brief ceremony, a message from Siegfried Edstro, president of the International Olympic Committee, was read to a cheering throng of some 50,000.

Then, the mayor of Dover handed the torch to the first of a series of British runners who will carry it through the night.

The last runner—a so far anonymous "typical British athlete"—will carry it into Wembley stadium at exactly seven minutes past four. The Olympic torch will then be placed in prominent position and the games will get underway.

PITCHER HAS RECORD OF EIGHT WINS

Hubs Acquire Lamesa Hurler Chris Haskins In Cash Deal

Chris G. Haskins, outfielder-pitcher with the Lamesa Loboes, yesterday was bought by the Lubbock Hubbers for an unannounced cash sum and was in uniform with the local nine last night.

Dale McIlroy, president of the Lamesa Baseball club, completed the transaction in the Hubber office with Mrs. Sam Rosenthal, owner, and Larry Larsen, general manager.

The 27-year-old hurler has won eight and lost the same number this season while appearing in eight complete games. He was, next to Stan Grzywacz, the leading hurler on the Lobo staff and had appeared in more games than any other Lobo pitcher.

In 26 games, Haskins pitched 124 innings, facing 526 batters and giving up 170 hits good for 108 runs, of which only 89 were earned. His earned run average is 6.45 per game with an eighth place team.

Fanned 98, Walked 88

Haskins has fanned 98 batters while walking 88, has hit five men and given up nine sacrifice hits. He has had only six wild pitches.

The new Hubber also is a better than average hitter, with a current average of .220 on 31 hits in 141 times at bat. He has scored 20 runs and made his hits good for a total of 56 bases, including four doubles and seven home runs. He has batted in 21 runs, walked 17 times, fanned 55 times and stolen one base.

Winning Star Pitcher

Haskins, who is no youngster to organized ball, was the winning pitcher in this year's West Texas-New Mexico League's All-Star game. He hurled one inning without allowing a hit and took credit for the victory on Chick Fowler's home run.

The former Lamesa player also has played with Clovis and Amarillo of the WT-NM loop, as well as a stint in the Big State League. He is counted on to help the Hubbers in the stretch drive, with 41 games left on the schedule.

San Angelo's De Berry Leading In Third Round Western Play

SOUTH BEND, Ind., July 28 (AP)—Ray De Berry of San Angelo, Tex., and Gerry Thomas of Chevy Chase, Md., defeated Harry Laser and Mel Sinto of Chicago 10-8, 6-4, in the third round of junior doubles in the Western Junior and Boys' Tennis tournament today.

In boys doubles, second round, Edward Dailey, Harristown, Pa., and Charles Reiger, Germantown, Pa., defeated John Green and Charles Platt, El Paso, Texas, 6-4, 6-3.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

It's too bad that the average American sports fan doesn't have four eyes and the ability to be in two places at the same time, because with the conflict in baseball and football schedules during the next three months such extra physical equipment will almost be a necessity. Strange as it seems, schoolboy football teams start fall drills in less than three weeks and many play their first games in just six weeks. College gridders will take to the practice fields in a little more than a month and the season will be well underway within eight weeks.

An examination of the baseball schedules, when compared with football slates, shows the real extent of the clash. The regular season of the West Texas-New Mexico league ends Sept. 6, then just four days later the Lubbock Westerners battle the Odessa Broncos in the opening grid tussle at Jones stadium. There is a definite possibility that the Hubbers will be engaged in the Shaughnessy playoffs during that first game, as well as the following weekend—Sept. 17—when the Westerners play host to the San Angelo Bobcats.

Texas Tech's Red Raiders open gridiron warfare here Sept. 18 against West Texas State Teachers college, also at a time when either the Shaughnessy or the "little World Series" between the WT-NM winner and the Lone Star loop will be in progress. As if that isn't enough to make the fans dizzy, the major baseball circuits will not complete their regular seasons until Oct. 3 and, of course, the World Series will follow still later. It is clear, then, that many college football teams will have played half of their schedule at the time of the World Series and will already be nearing the traditional late season classics.

Frankly, we think it will be baseball that will be hurt the most by the conflict in schedules. It is true that there are many rabid diamond fans who would wade through three feet of snow to see a playoff game, but it is also true that there are just about as many dyed-in-the-wool grid fans who would rather see a good football game than the final tilt in the World Series. There will also be a natural decline in interest in a sport which has been in the spotlight every day since early in March, with a corresponding rise in football interest that comes with the opening of any new sports season.

There will be many charges and counter-charges when the situation arrives, but, from a survey of the facts, bulk of the "blame" is bound to fall on the baseball moguls. From almost any standpoint the middle of October does not seem to be the proper time for the baseball classic, regardless of "late" or "early" schedules. Oh well, maybe we can keep up with the score in the final game of the Series with portable radios at the Westerner-Golden Sandie clash.

Just in case some of the Lubbock football fans are feeling pretty good about the prospects for Westerners this season, here's what Dub King, veteran scribe of schoolboy athletics, has to say about a gridder who will tangle with the Lubbock boys in the first tussle of the season.

"Three sons of prominent Texas football coaches and officials are likely to give someone quite a tussle for berths on the 1948 all-state high school football team. Two of them are centers and the third is a hard-hitting fullback. That would be Jarrin' Jim Patterson, of the Odessa Bronchos.

A two years letterman, Jim is the son of A. V. Patterson, one of Odessa's line coaches. He's even better than Byron Townsend in some respects. For instance, he is more powerful than Townsend.

"Where Byron made his touchdowns by running around and away from would-be tacklers, Jim simply lowers his shoulders, churns his knees a little harder and knocks over anyone who gets in the way of his 188-pound frame.

EXPENSIVE—Johnny Antonelli signed with the Boston Braves for a reported $55,000, after eight clubs had sought his services. The 17-year old Rochester, N. Y., southpaw hurled a no-hit, no-run exhibition game arranged for scouts.

Dixie Demos Set For Filibuster

a compromise poll tax proposal was made in the Senate, faded just 24 hours after President told the lawmakers he had called them back to cope with inflation, the housing shortage and 17 other problems.

While Congress argued, the Justice department set up three new anti-trust units and expanded eight others. One purpose: To prosecute any groups found getting together to raise food, clothing and housing prices.

"The continuing high prices, and the growth of private economic power, compel an anti-trust survey throughout the country," Attorney General Tom Clark said.

New offices were set up in Philadelphia, Kansas City and Jacksonville, Fla. Offices will be enlarged in New York, Boston, Cleveland, Chicago, Denver, Los Angeles, San Francisco and Seattle.

Compromise Offered

A civil rights peace plan was put forward today by Senator Hayden (D-Ariz). He said: Why not try a constitutional amendment to outlaw the poll tax requirement for voting in federal elections, since the southern Democrats are so strongly opposed to doing it by act of Congress?

Fine, said the Dixie lawmakers. One of them, Senator Russell (D-Ga), got together with Hayden and Wherry. But apparently nothing came of the meeting. When it broke up, Wherry said he would call up the bill debate as GOP senators agreed earlier in the day.

The anti-poll tax bill already has passed the House.

During today's Senate debate, Russell said the South has no objection to a constitutional amendment which would wipe out the poll tax. What southerners do object to, he said, is Congress making rules for state and local elections.

Federal control at the voting booth, Russell declared, would enable "the Henry Wallace crowd" to keep themselves in power indefinitely if they ever got in power.

GOP Cool To Plan

"It is ironical," he said, "to have this bill proposed under the guise of civil rights at a time when emissaries of the Kremlin seem to have seized a political party in this country."

A number of Republicans were cool to Hayden's proposal. But Senator Morse (R-Ore), temporarily acting as majority leader, said GOP leaders "will take under advisement any formal offer you have to make."

Morse added, however, there would have to be a "gentlemen's agreement" that the Dixiecrats wouldn't filibuster if a constitutional amendment, instead of a straight bill, is proposed. An amendment, if voted by Congress, would have to be ratified by 36 states before it could become effective.

Committee Action Seen

Meantime, as Democrats mulled over the proposed "gentlemen's agreement," the war was still on.

One southerner, Senator McClellan (D-Ark), begged the GOP to give up the anti-poll tax bill. Otherwise, he said, the session may develop into "a political dogfight that will be a disgrace to the Congress."

Another Dixie legislator, Senator Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), introduced a resolution calling on Congress to quit for the year next Saturday.

But the Republicans, running the show, had plans of their own. Some of them were announced by Senator Millikin (R-Colo), chairman at a meeting of GOP senators.

He said Mr. Truman's recommendations to Congress yesterday would be taken up by the proper committees and that action would follow on anything "of an emergency character and of national importance."

(GOP leaders of both houses made it plain in a statement last night that they didn't consider any of the President's requests urgent).

of Mississippi; Leander Perez of Louisiana; Arch Rowan of Texas; Frank Upchurch of Florida, and R. M. Figg of South Carolina.

The appointments were made, the statement asserted, by the executive committee of the States' Rights Democrats. Governor Laney is chairman. Other members are:

Other Members Named

Dixon and R. T. Goodwyn of Alabama; J. O. Emmerich and Everett Truly of Mississippi; Upchurch and C. E. Shepard of Florida; Rowan and Palmer Bradley of Texas; John Daggett and C. E. Parker of Arkansas, W. P. Baskin and George Warren of South Carolina; Perez and Frank J. Looney of Louisiana.

In addition to the national headquarters in Jackson, liaison offices will be opened in Columbia, S. C., and in Washington.

"As other states are fully organized, additional members will be added to the executive committee," the statement asserted.

It said Thurmond and Wright "promised a speaking schedule in early August that would take them into many states."

It added that they "feel confident the states' rights electoral vote strength will force this year's presidential election into the national House of Representatives."

"If the Republicans should run away with the election outside the South, Governor Thurmond predicted that he and Governor Wright would receive more electoral votes than Truman and that such an event would make States' Rights Democrats the minority party in the 81st Congress," the statement said.

Earlier today Wright had told a news conference he does not think he will be able to attend the Houston meeting because of plans he had made for a state business trip to New York at a conflicting time.

MRS. NETTIE BOWLES
Charged In Shooting

Lubbock Man Shot

a divorce.

In the divorce settlement, she said that she had turned over to him a cafe at 1710 Ave. H, keeping the Steak House at 1214 Ave. C for herself. The latter place of business is adjacent to her residence, the scene of last night's shooting.

Claims Threats Made

Since the divorce, she said, he had "bothered her almost every day," attempting to persuade her to remarry him. "Just last Thursday," she said in her statement, "he told me that if I would marry him again or give him a thousand dollars, he would quit bothering me." She said she refused his terms. He then threatened to kill her, she said.

Late Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. Bowles had gone with Letha Cox and a man to St. Mary's hospital, where the latter person was to be admitted for treatment.

Her ex-husband allegedly came to the hospital, located her car and reportedly proceeded to smash all the glasses in it. He then allegedly entered the hospital where he found Mrs. Bowles in the hospital room which had been assigned to the sick man.

There, she stated, he struck her twice, once near the right eye and again under the left ear. Catching her by the hair, he allegedly "dragged" her from the room and part way down the hall of the hospital.

Two Men Intervene

Just outside the hospital, the statement said, he knocked her down. Two unidentified men then intervened. Mrs. Bowles then took a cab to the sheriff's office, where she made a complaint against him. A warrant, charging assault, was issued, and Mrs. Bowles had indicated that she would file charges of aggravated assault this morning.

Shortly after 7 o'clock, she reached home, where her daughter, Mrs. D. D. Bennett who lived in another part of the house with her husband, invited her to join them for the evening meal. It was about that time when Bowles drove up near the house and got out of his car, leaving the motor running. As Bowles was approaching the front yard gate, the daughter picked up the phone and called the city police department. Mrs. Bowles stepped to the front door warning Bowles that he had better go back and that she "had had enough for one day." He allegedly continued through the gate toward the front door, saying, "So you're trying to scare me, are you."

Fired One Shot

She said that she fired once just as Bowles opened the screen door of the house. Most of the action apparently happened in the short space of time while Mrs. Bennett was talking to police on the phone.

"I tried to shoot for the shoulder," Mrs. Bennett told Pharr. She said that she bought the gun, a .38 caliber Colt revolver on a .41 caliber frame, about a year ago, after surprising a prowler in the back of her cafe.

Her daughter, in a statement to Pharr, told substantially the same story of the affair in relation to the major details.

M. W. Overfelt, of 1920 Twenty-eighth street, a night watchman at the nearby Lubbock Auction commission, was an eye witness to the shooting. He said that he could not hear the words exchanged between the two. He stated that she had shut the screen door as Bowles approached, but that he opened it just before the shot struck him.

Croslin found several witnesses at the hosital who verified Mrs. Bowles account of what had happened at the hospital earlier in the day.

Mrs. Bowles signed the statement made to Pharr after receiving the customary warning that it might be used against her.

Reported Burglary Of Lubbock Residence Under Investigation

The sheriff's department late Wednesday night was investigating a report by Joe Stewart that the Jack Saylor home, 2626 Thirtieth, had been entered. Investigating officers could find no property missing.

Elmer Payne reported that a boy's blue and red bicycle was stolen from in front of the Chief theater Wednesday night.

A report was filed on a minor accident at Avenue Q and Broadway by city police officers. R. C. Ray Day, Arch route, Baileyboro, Texas, was charged with operating a vehicle with an expired operators license and George Marion Eubank, 2904 Avenue F, was charged with negligent collision as a result of the accident.

The report said both cars were going north on Ave. Q when Day attempted to make a left turn into Broadway and Eubank's car plowed into the left side of the Day automobile. Neither man was injured.

U. S. Ambassador To Argentina Recalled For Important Talks

BUENOS AIRES, July 28 (INS)—James Bruce, U. S. ambassador to Argentina, tonight was recalled to Washington amid a tense situation in Argentine-United States relations.

Bruce, who will leave Aug. 2, ostensibly was recalled to confer on the world wheat situation.

But observers predicted his report to Secretary of State Marshall will include the growing schism in relations with Argentina, and this situation:

1. Growing dissatisfaction among U. S. businessmen regarding Argentina's economic policies which rapidly are moving toward ousting U. S. business from the country.

2. The virulent campaign in the government-controlled press against the United States which echoes the Communist press charges of "Yankee imperialism."

3. Argentina's lack of desire to collaborate in the European recovery prograb by abiding with the U. S. demand that Argentine prices compete against other markets.

Relations have been strained since then as President Juan Peron, and his economic lieutenant, Miguel Miranda, had hoped for a considerable influx of dollars to bolster the nation's wobbly financial situation.

Tigers, Exchange Win In Kid Games

Charles Moore hurled the Tigers to a slim 19 to 18 victory over the Red Sox in a Pee Wee league tilt Wednesday, and the Exchange club nine came from behind to nose out the Lions club in a Junior League tussle, 4 to 2.

Moore batted out a single, double and two triples in five times up and allowed the Red Sox only three hits to pace the Tiger attack. He was aided by Bobby Sinclair, who had a single, double and a homer in four. Gary Pruitt smashed out the three Sox hits to pace the losers.

In the Junior Loop game, Exchange Club hurler, Duane Ramphy allowed two bases on balls, and the winners ended up with only one error. Billy Breedlove batted in two singles in two times up for the Exchange.

The Lion attack was paced by Bobby Craig, who had two singles in three. James Solly got across a single for the Lion's only hit. Ramphy struck out 16 men for the Exchange club, while Charles Hodges struck out nine men for the losing Lions club.

Thursday, the White Sox will meet the Yankees in the Pee Wee League and the Methodist Men will tangle with the Exchange club in the Junior League.

FT. WORTH WOMAN REFUSES TO BELIEVE SON KILLED

FORT WORTH, July 28. (AP)—Mrs. M. E. Roberts of Fort Worth refused today to believe that her son had died in a B-29 crash in Arabia "until I know positively."

Her son, Master Sgt. William M. Roberts, 32, was listed as a member of the crew of a B-29 which crashed Tuesday near Aden, Arabia. It was reported possible that Roberts may have switched to a crew of one of the other bombers on a world-girdling flight which left Tucson, Ariz., Thursday.

New Allied Plan

Lewis Douglas, State Department Russian affairs expert Charles Bohlen, and French and British officials have been conferring for several days in the British capital on the nature of the next step.

There was no doubt that the London conferees had begun their work on the understanding that there would be no negotiation of Russia—until the blockade was German problems — desired by lifted and the two and one-half million isolated Berliners were receiving ample supplies by rail and road.

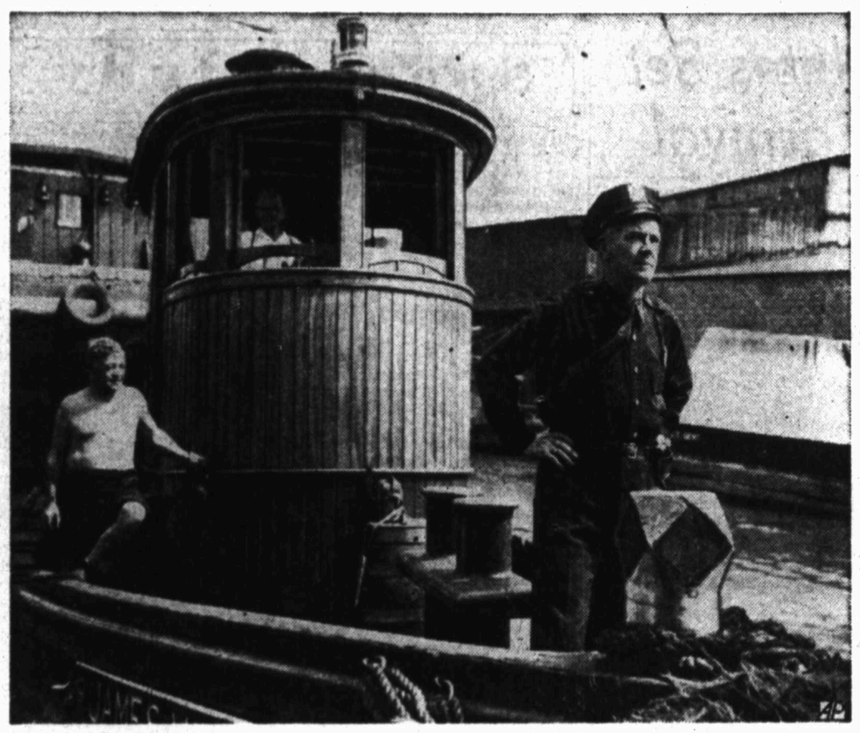

Considered most likely was a note or oral notification to Stalin that the three Western powers would sit down with Russia at a conference table only when the "siege" is ended.

REDSKINS LEAVE FOR CAMP

WASHINGTON, July 28 (INS)—The vanguard of the Washington Redskins entrained today for their Pacific coast training camp at Occidental college in Los Angeles. In the group were 13 players, four coaches, club officials, newsmen and photographers. They will be joined by six players at Chicago, two at Kansas City, Mo., six at Newton, Kan., and two at Amarillo, Texas.

GUESSERS OUTGUESSED

MOUNT WASHINGTON, N. H. (U.P.)—The amateur weather forecasters of America held a meeting atop this mile-high peak in a forecasting contest. The prize was a barometer. While they were busy outdoors trying to second-guess the weather, a rain storm blew up and drove them indoors.

CANAL TRAFFIC COP—Michael Harrigan of New York's harbor precinct stands on tug on Brooklyn's Gowanus canal, on which he controls traffic. The busy, 2-mile-long waterway carries most of building material and fuel consumed in the borough.

Badge Is Helpful Only To Degree, Constable Decides

HOUSTON, July 28 (U.P.)—Those deputy constable badges—they're fine things to have. But they act as a bulwark against trouble only to a degree, so one holder learned today.

Constable J. W. Lambert said he would act with haste to relieve the man of his special deputy constable badge after he was charged with:

1. Reckless driving
2. Speeding
3. Running a red light
4. Using a siren illegally.

GOP Leaders

Dewey-Warren ticket would be elected in November and said "then we shall move to the complete accomplishment of our program."

He said this program would seek to strip the government of regimentation and bureaucracy, and to re-establish constitutional principles. Taft and Halleck spoke over NBC and MBS.

Truman Said "Desperate"

Sen. Wherry, Nebr., acting majority leader, declared the President's action calling the special session disclosed that "he is floundering in the quicksands of a ruined political fortune."

He said it was "obvious that candidate Truman" did not consult Sen. Barkley, Kentucky, his running mate, before issuing the call.

Wherry said the President "offered no new program" in his address to Congress, thereby emphasizing "that the administration is devoid of any new thinking."

He accused the President of making an emotional appeal and said he revealed what can be expected "of a political candidate who in desperation apparently will consider any means to win."

GOP Claimed Housewife's 'Friend'

The Nebraskan insisted that the Republican - controlled Congress has befriended the housewife by attempting to lower living costs. These costs he contended have been caused by "huge government spending," burning up of resources, increase in the national debt due to the war, and huge exports of scarce goods for foreign aid.

He declared Mr. Truman "has lost faith in the free enterprise system and the ability of the American people to produce and distribute their goods."

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), declared that Mr. Truman's anti-inflation program is "like trying to put out a fire by throwing gasoline on it." He scored the President's housing proposals, and added:

"In one breath, he directed attention to the dangers of inflation, and in the next he recommended more expenditures and more credit."

Wherry and Dirksen spoke over CBS.

Holt Clinches Position In Arkansas Governor's Runoff

LITTLE ROCK, July 28 (AP)—Jack Holt apparently clinched tonight a runoff berth in the Arkansas Democratic gubernatorial primary Aug. 10 with youthful Sid McMath of Hot Springs.

Holt, 45, former state attorney general, trailed McMath, a prosecuting attorney, by 27,483 votes on the basis of virtually complete returns compiled from yesterday's preferential primary. He led third place James (Uncle Mac) Mackrell, Little Rock radio entertainer, by 3,420 votes.

Two incumbent congressmen were renominated by clear majorities. They are Rep. Oren Harris of El Dorado, seventh district, and Rep. E. C. (Took) Gathings of West Memphis, first district.

A runoff was indicated in the Fourth district between Boyd Tackett of Nashville and Ray Blair of Paris. The incumbent, Rep. Fadjo Cravens, did not seek reelection. No other congressional races were voted on yesterday.

Democratic nomination in Arkansas is tantamount to election.

WHISTLES JUST "NUDGE"

HOUSTON, Tex. (U.P.)—Southern Pacific Railroad officials announced here that whistles on their diesel-powered trains had been toned down and now can be classified as a "nudge." The railroad line had received many complaints from South Houston residents that the shrill blasts had almost knocked them out of bed.

Henrietta Officer Is Elected Sheriff In Late Vote Count

HENRIETTA, July 28 (AP)—C. M. Peden, Henrietta City marshal, was elected sheriff of Clay county in last Saturday's Democratic primary but he didn't know it until today.

Until the county Democratic committee canvassed the votes today, the race between Peden and R. W. Bray had been assumed a tie on the basis of unofficial returns.

The official count today was Peden 1,688; Bray 1,684. Unofficial tabulations gave both candidates 1,684 votes.

Texans Take Lions Session By Storm In Demonstration

NEW YORK, July 28. (AP)—Texas took the 31st annual convention of Lions International by storm today when its "favorite son" was placed in nomination for second vice president.

H. C. Petry, of Carrizo Springs was unopposed for the office and the presentation of his name touched off a demonstration reminiscent of the national political conventions.

Tevans and other Petry enthusiasts paraded around the convention floor, emitting rebel yells, firing revolvers, giving away souvenirs and singing to conflicting tunes.

Instrumental accompaniment was furnished by the Hardin-Simmons university Cowboy band, Abilene; White Oaks high school band of Gregg county; Alvin high school band of Alvin; Gladewater high school band and the Lions orchestra, Midland.

All instruments and voices combined, however, in giving "The Eyes of Texas Are Upon You."

U. S. Officials Confer

in view of the letter written by General MacArthur regarding the duty of government rail workers.

Meantime, Major Albert Chabot of the military railroad service has left Tokyo for Kure to investigate reports that sabotage caused the wreck of the "Dixie Flyer." Authorities estimate it will take 30 hours to repair the track damage caused by the wreck.

Reports from the transportation ministry in Tokyo said that labor disputes had forced many rail suspensions throughout Japan. The ministry said 150 freight train schedules had been cancelled in Hokkaido and that eleven other freight trains and six passenger trains failed to move in other parts of the nation.

As the activities of the railroad workers mounted, there were indications that the Japanese Communists are attempting to develop a major offensive against the occupation of Japan.

Bulletins have been posted in every "workshop cell" which call for an all-out offensive against MacArthur's order forbidding two and a half million government workers to strike or bargain collectively.

Reds Attack U. S.

The bulletin directly attacked the occupation by saying "undoubtedly the next move will be the suppression of all the working class headed by the railroad employes and electrical industry workers." Then the bulletins issued a call addressed to "dear workers." It said:

"We must be united into one now. We Communists promise you to start an opposition movement together with you. This is the time for all workers to rise up for the prevention of enslavement and the colonization of the race and for the protection of life of the workers."

The bulletins also charged the MacArthur order pertaining to government workers violates the Potsdam agreement and the Far East commission's 16-point labor directive.

Observers in Japan say that a Communist plan for a violent revolution in Japan, despite the occupation, dates back to Feb. 1, 1947. It was at that time that General MacArthur prevented a Communist - inspired general strike.

Intelligence officers learned the Communists hoped to use the general strike as a springboard to a full scale revolution. They were reported to have been so confident of success that they appointed a full cabinet of Communists to serve as an "interim government" to take power under the revolt.

tically quit buying while the expensive cuts piled up on counters.

In New York the American Tobacco company put a 35 cent increase per thousand on its wholesale price for Lucky Strike cigarettes—a jump of about seven-tenths of a cent a package.

Chemical Firm Blast

just 15 minutes before the workers would have gone home for the day. The plant employs 22,000 workers.

Clocks for miles around were stopped by the concussion at 3:45 p. m. (7:45 A. M., Central Standard Time).

The disaster, probably the greatest in Europe since the end of the war, was described by Lord Mayor Valentin Hauer as worse than the explosion in a Farben plant in suburban Oppau in 1921 which took 565 lives. The last serious explosion in the Ludwigshafen plant occurred July 29, 1943, when 73 were killed.

U. S. Offers Planes

Although the explosion occurred in the French occupation zone, Americans played a major role in fire fighting and rescue work. American military police, aided by U. S. soldiers from the Mannheim ordnance depot, laid down 39,000 feet of hose and supplied surgeons, ambulances, food and Protestant and Catholic chaplains.

Lt. Gen. Curtis E. Lemay, commander of the U. S. Air Force in Britain, said all available U. S planes were ready to aid. His offer came as planes under his command were flying huge quantities of food and supplies into Berlin to fight the Russian blockade.

The explosion is believed to have occurred in a six-story building known as the "nitrate building."

Gas Masks Used

The plant had been producing industrial chemicals, drugs and dyes. However, unconfirmed reports in recent months said the French also were using it to make high explosive propulsion fluids for experiments with V-1 and V-2 rockets.

Strong fumes from burning chemicals sent survivors reeling about the streets like blind men last night.

Others — even in Manheim, American zone city across the Rhine— were injured and dazed by falling brick walls and shattered glass.

American soldiers sped across the rickety wooden bridge connecting Manheim and Ludwigshafen and undertook heroic rescue work. Some wearing gas masks plunged through smoke and fumes to disconnect railway cars containing highly explosive chemicals and move them out of range of the fire.

"Thousands" Reported Dead

Others operated bulldozers and tractors to open paths through wreckage.

An estimate of "thousands" dead was posted in the U. S. Army information room at Heidelberg tonight, but the Army said the bulletin was "unofficial."

Police on the scene gave their estimate of 500 to 800 dead after being told of the posted bulletin.

The police said 1,000 persons were hospitalized in Ludwigshafen, 300 in Heidelberg and 300 in Manheim. Others were taken to hospitals in Karlsruhe and Speyer.

Rivals Texas City Blast

U. S. Army officials said they understood the blast originated in a lacquer plant and destroyed a six-story building and several other structures in the immediate vicinity. Fire spread like a gust of wind until an estimated 18 buildings had been destroyed or damaged. One source said the plant, largest in the French zone, was about 80 per cent destroyed.

The casualty toll even included rescuers. Two persons were killed in a collision of two vehicles rushing to the disaster scene.

The terrific blast was comparable to the disaster in April of last year at Texas City, Tex. An estimated 650 persons were killed and 3,000 injured when a French ship loaded with nitrates blew up in the Texas harbor.

Scene Like Inferno

The plant, a branch of the I. G Farbenindustrie before the giant industrial combine was split up by four-power order, is the main factory in Ludwigshafen. It covers several acres.

Special efforts were made last night to prevent the flames from reaching underground storage tanks, reported to contain highly volatile chemicals.

War-time bombing raids of the giant industrial works caused nothing like the damage of Wednesday's explosion and fire.

Last night it presented the scene of an inferno, with intermittent explosions toppling what little was left standing of the red brick buildings.

Helmeted French troops carrying rifles held back crowds of weeping relatives who tried to inch their way nearer the flaming wreckage.

The origin of the blast and fire was not determined. Officials could not get close enough to the probable spot of the blast to begin an investigation.

United Air Lines Plane Lands After Fire Warning Signal

NEW YORK, July 28 (INS)—United Air Lines announced tonight that a New York to San Francisco airliner with 34 persons aboard made a forced landing at Harrisburg, Pa., following a fire warning signal.

No one was reported injured and the passengers left for their destination by train and a plane ordered to the scene by United Air Lines.

The Air Line said that the plane, a DC-6, was flying at 14,000 feet when the pilot feathered the No. 4 engine following the dashboard signal which indicated "smoke" somewhere in the plane.

An airline spokesman said a full investigation was now underway.

Woman Defies Reds

which she heads fired police chief Paul Markgraf. Markgraf, a Moscow-trained German war hero, was accused of abducting Berliners and purging the police force of anti-Reds.

German Claims Red Backing

The Russians refused to recognize the order, saying it needed approval of the four-power Kommandatura from which they walked out a month ago and said had ceased to exist. Markgraf sat tight in his office in the Russian sector.

He said he had Red army backing and would carry out Soviet orders to fire Johannes Stumm, Socialist deputy chief, who had been appointed by the city government as Markgraf's successor.

Stumm set up headquarters in the American sector and issued a statement to Berlin police saying that only his orders were binding.

In the Soviet sector Markgraf did the same thing. His broadcast to police said: "You must stand with us."

Stumm's statement followed a meeting of the city government which confirmed him in office. Markgraf's proclamation said Stumm acted with tri-power connivance to set up a separate police force.

The battle over the police overshadowed for the moment the larger issues of the blockade crisis.

The U. S. ambassador to Moscow, W. Bedell Smith, was closeted today with U. S. military governor Gen. Lucius D. Clay for talks before Smith returns to Russia tomorrow.

Air Lift Boosted

Continued sunny skies gave the U. S. Air Force its biggest day yet in the supply line over the Soviet ground barriers. In a 24-hour period, 294 two and four-engined transports landed at Templehof airport with 571 tons of food and 993 of coal.

Police in the American sector raided a printing plant and seized large quantities of anti-American propaganda posters. One of the posters bore a photograph of an American jeep, equipped with machineguns, in custody of a Russian patrol. "Here's what happens to your protectors," the caption said.

Stampedes Quelled

The city's currency snarl sparked disorder in the Soviet sector. Firemen quelled several stampedes with hoses when disturbances broke out among crowds waiting to change old Russian-sponsored money for the new issue before tonight's deadline. The exchange was reported going along more smoothly later today when the Russians opened 500 additional exchange offices.

Western sector newspapers alleged the Russians purposely had established an inadequate number of exchange places "in order to cheat the people out of their money and thus effect a second currency reform through a reduction of notes in circulation."

Frau Schroeder, who has been governing the city of 3,250,000 Germans for more than 14 months, defied an order from Soviet commandant Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov to fire her deputy police chief and said she could not accept that Markgraf still was in office.

Temperatures in the state Wednesday ranged from the middle 90's to 105 at Laredo. Other 100-degree or better weather was reported in San Antonio 101, Waco 100, Crystal City 103, Wink 101, Wichita Falls 101 and Alice 102.

No rain fell in the state.

TO KEEP JOBS FOR OWN PARTY

GOPs Refuse To Take Action On Demos' Federal Appointments

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 28. — Republicans pasted a "reserved for GOP" label today on some 900 federal jobs.

"The Senate does not intend to consider nominations," the party's congressional leaders said last night in outlining their program for the special session.

That means hundreds of postmasters, federal judges and others whose appointments have not been confirmed face a short-lived job expectancy—if the Republicans succeed in putting Gov Thomas E. Dewey in the White House next year.

Chairman Given 'Word'

The decision not to take up now any nominations passed over during the regular session is an extension of an informal agreement by the GOP high command last May. At that time they reportedly passed the word on to key committee chairmen not to approve any further major appointments by President Truman.

However, Mr. Truman can keep his selections in office until next year under interim appointments.

Among the major federal posts possibly at stake is that of Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy Commission, whose regular appointment expires August 1. The Senate extended the terms of the AEC commissioners until June 30, 1950, but it did not specifically name Lilienthal or his four colleagues.

If Dewey is elected in November he thus could replace Lilienthal and the others with men of his own choosing.

Other Nominations Involved

Among the nominations set aside during the regular session are those of Thomas C. Buchanan of Pennsylvania to the Federal Power Commission, Roy W. Harper of Missouri, to be a federal judge in Mr. Truman's home state, Frieda B. Hennock of New York, to the Federal Communications Commission, and James Boyd of Colorado, as director of the Bureau of Mines.

Boyd was first appointed last August and has received several interim appointments since then but he still has about six months' back pay due on his $10,000-a-year salary which he can't collect until Congress passes a special appropriation.

In serving notice that they intend to reserve these federal jobs for party members, the GOP leaders are following a custom made famous in American history—by a Democrat named Andrew Jackson.

Because "Old Hickory's" political housecleaning was on such a major scale he often is credited with the remark "to the victors belong the spoils."

Actually he didn't say it at all. It was Senator William Learned Marcy, a Jacksonian Democrat from New York, who applied it to Jackson's political rivals.

Man Agrees To Take Down 'Electrified' Fence After Protests

A Lubbock man who sought to protect his lawn and hedge and give stray dogs the "hot foot" by installing electrified wiring around his yard, Wednesday felt the heated tempers of neighbors regarding the situation and brought to a not-so-slow boil the preparation of a city ordinance prohibiting such installations.

However, the storm apparently had blown over Wednesday afternoon, following a talk between City Attorney Vaughn Wilson and R. H. (Bob) Currey, at whose 2323 Second street residence the wiring was installed. Currey agreed to remove the electrified wiring from his property to avoid any further dissension.

Complaint Is Made

But the agreement did not come before the irate neighbors had talked of presenting their case at a special meeting of the city commission.

He said he had strung the wires, attached to a six-volt auto battery, to protect his yard from dogs, adding that barbed wire guarded the electrified wiring from contact by humans.

Several indignant parents in the neighborhood complained to the city attorney and others. "We're afraid to allow our children out into the yard to play," declared one irate mother.

City inspectors immediately examined the wiring, and City Attorney Vaughn Wilson prepared the proposed ordinance, since no existing ordinance forbids such installations.

Inspectors reported that they believed the current to be too weak to hurt anyone. Other electricians disagreed, saying that such a current, under certain conditions, might cause serious injury or death.

Currey insisted that he wanted "to do what is right," and offered to do whatever city officials told him about the installation. "But I think my lawn and hedge should be protected," he added. "I keep my dogs up. Why can't other people keep theirs up too?"

City officials turned their reports of the incident in to the city manager, to whom the ordinance prepared by Wilson was also submitted. The talk and Currey's action agreeing to remove the fence followed.

Minnesota Minister Dies In Fishing Trip Accident

ST. PAUL, July 28. (INS)—Death of a St. Paul minister in Rainy Lake near International Salls was reported today by his two companions on an ill-fated fishing trip.

The victim was the Rev. D. C. Trapp, superintendent of the Minnesota conference of the Evangelical United Brethren church.

His companions, Rev. S. A. Spong, Minneapolis, and N. S. Wunderlich, St. Paul, said the three were thrown into the water Monday when a sudden storm overturned their canoe.

Trapp was the only one of the three wearing a life preserver. He stayed afloat but died of shock and exposure in the chill water.

Spong and Wunderlich clung to the craft and drifted nearly a mile to the shore of an island.

Oklahoma Whispering Attacks Fail

E. W. Floyd, Brother Of Former Public Enemy, Elected Sheriff

SALLISAW, Okla., July 28 (U.P.)—E. W. Floyd, brother of one-time public enemy No. 1 Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, won a bitterly fought election for county sheriff today.

Floyd, 40, a $30 a week grocery clerk, was making his first bid for political office.

Feeling Runs High

"I kind of want to show the people that I can do a good job of law enforcement, even though my brother was on the other side," he said.

Partial election returns last night showed Floyd was leading Henry Jones, the incumbent Sequoyah county sheriff, by 1,100 votes.

Feeling has run high in Sallisaw ever since Pretty Boy's brother announced his candidacy. A whispering campaign was waged against him, attacking him because of the notorious record of Pretty Boy, who was killed by the FBI in East Liverpool, O., in 1934.

Gained Votes

But some political observers believed the attacks gained E. W. votes in the hill country areas, where Pretty Boy is still a sort of Robin Hood hero.

E. W. also got sympathy and votes when voters learned that his wife is a patient in a tuberculosis sanitarium at Talihina, Okla. The sheriff's job, paying $45 a week, will make it easier for E. W. to support her and the family's four children.

Despite the bank-robbing exploits of Pretty Boy, the new sheriff has a clean record, himself. He ran on the campaign slogan, "He ain't perfect, but he's honest."

ANOTHER FLOYD — E. W. Floyd, above, brother of late Charles (Pretty Boy) Floyd, won Democratic nomination for sheriff of Sequoyah County, in Oklahoma's run-off primary. He defeated incumbent by good margin. His election seems assured since county is traditionally Democratic. (AP Wirephoto).

More Recognition For West Is Urged By Gov. Warren

DENVER, July 28 (INS)—Greater recognition of the West was urged by California's Gov. Earl Warren at the Colorado State Republican assembly in Denver today.

The Republican candidate for Vice President spoke briefly at the GOP meeting while on his "non-political" visit to the Rocky Mountain region.

He declared, "we must convince the people of our country that everything done for this great west is for the good of the nation itself."

"This is an empire," Warren said. "We are the youngest civilization of any place on earth. There is more energy here. The west has more to contribute to the Republican party, to our nation as a whole, and to the world, than any other portion of the earth."

The California governor received an enthusiastic ovation as he mached to the platform with four of his children. He told the delegates he was in Colorado "on a fishing trip" and had not planned to attend any political gatherings.

The GOP candidate forecast a complete Republican victory in the fall and asserted, "this is our year."

Vets Reminded Of Insurance Deadline

Veterans administration offices in the West Texas region will remain open Saturday to offer World War II veterans their last opportunity to reinstate lapsed National Service Life insurance on a comparative health basis, Robert W. Sisson, VA manager announced.

Before August 1, veterans need only fill out a simple application form, in which they certify that their health is as good as when the policy lapsed, and pay premiums for two months to reinstate their NSLI policies.

After Saturday, veterans whose insurance has been lapsed more than three months must take physical examinations to qualify as insurance risks.

Eligible veterans may reinstate any amount of term insurance—from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500—regardless of the length of time it has been lapsed under present liberal regulations if they apply today or tomorrow.

Blount Adds To Lead In Race For State Legislative Post

SAN ANGELO, July 28 (AP)—R. E. (Peppy) Blount, University of Texas football player, today added to his lead in seeking re-election to the state legislature.

Scientists To Probe Secrets Of Lightning Atop Empire Building

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 28—A new expedition began today—this one 1,250 feet up in the air atop the Empire State building.

Goal of the scientists is to learn about lightning, why it strikes, when and how hard. From such knowledge, many may be able some day to control the effects of lightning.

Heading the expedition was Julius H. Hagenguth, engineer in charge of the General Electric high-voltage laboratory, Pittsfield, Mass. He was assisted by John Alger, 20-year-old student at Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Work in lightning study began atop the Empire State building in 1935, and since then it has been proved many times that lightning does strike twice in the same place. In fact, the building was struck as many as 12 times during one storm, and as many as 48 times during one summer.

Numerous pieces of equipment, including an "electronic watchman," were taken to the top of the building. The "watchman" will be on duty all the time. An electronic device, it automatically will turn on all recording equipment as storms approach the city or as storm fields form around the building.

Thus, the scientists will not have to be on hand for the research to start.

In addition to the equipment at Empire State building, specially-built cameras are being installed on nearby buildings. These, too, will go into action as the "watchman" turns on the controls.

Two of the cameras, located on a building at 521 Fifth avenue, will take up to 20 photographs with a single loading of film. A third camera, located on a hotel, will take movies of lightning in action as it strikes the top of Empire State.

Such photographs will be used to study the physical characteristics of lightning. Unlike Benjamin Franklin who used a key and a kite string, these 20th century scientists have no worry about being struck.

Errol Flynn May Return To Hollywood For New Film; Columnist's Work Is Praised

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 28—Today's whisper around Hollywood is that Errol Flynn returns August 1 for "Flaming Road." Well, he will be in Hollywood on that date, but not for the Joan Crawford picture.

Errol is shelving all plans—including entering Mayo brothers clinic for a complete checkup—to make "Montana," the Ernest Haycox new outdoor story for Warners.

After this, I think Flynn will ask for a leave of absence either to make that long guessed about "outside" picture for MGM or to spend the time recuperating and getting his strength back. He feels much better since his long holiday in Jamaica.

Texas Farmers Get 'Balanced' Weather

AUSTIN, July 28. (U.P.)—Texas farmers are enjoying a "fairly good' balance between the need of rain for growing crops and open weather necessary for harvesting, the United States Department of agriculture reported today.

The USDA, in a weekly crop and weather bulletin, reported that the cotton harvest was in full swing in southern and coastal bend counties. Hot, dry weather was favoring rapid maturity, and gins in the lower valley were operating, the report said, at near capacity.

Feed Prospects Good

Feed crop prospects in northwestern Texas continued "generally good," but lack of moisture was retarding growth in some localized areas in that part of the state.

In the southern part of the state, harvesting of grain sorghums was nearing completion and some corn was being harvested in a few counties.

Grass was beginning to cure in most areas, and cattle and sheep were gaining on the improving and curing grass, the USDA said. Marketing of cattle and calves was about normal. The volume of sheep and lamb marketing was light, but goat marketing, the report said, was unusually heavy.

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Johnson Makes Bid For Backing From Peddy Voters In Runoff

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 28 — Rep. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), made a bid today for the votes that went to George Peddy of Houston in Texas' first Democratic senatorial primary election last Saturday.

Johnson faces former Texas Governor Coke Stevenson in a runoff primary Aug. 28.

Johnson issued a formal statement expressing confidence he would be able to capture a large portion of the support which went to the Houston oilman in the first contest.

Backed Up By Facts

"I simply want you to know that I have some concrete facts to back up these general remarks I am making in my formal statement," he told reporters. "I don't feel privileged at this time to mention names.

The names to which he referred were those of individuals who led Peddy's campaign.

Excerpts from Johnson's formal statement follow—

"Careful study of the election returns and numerous pledges from former supporters of George Peddy, leads irresistably to the conclusion that we'll have a great victory Aug. 28. . .

"Since Saturday night when the election trend was established I've had a steady stream of telephone calls, telegrams and letters from Peddy supporters. . .

"Mr. Peddy proposed a strong and humane international policy, quite comparable with mine. The policy he advocated, and the policy I advocated, was in sharp contrast with my opponent who did not want us to 'cast our pearl before swine' and suggested that the way to treat our friends in Europe was to give the tramp an axe and show him the woodpile'. . .

"Like myself, Mr. Peddy refused to make any deal with a few labor leaders. Like myself, Mr. Peddy stated his position clearly and with candor on every domestic issue, and his position coincided in most particulars with mine."

Johnson plans to deliver a transcribed radio broadcast at 6:45 am (CST) tomorrow over a network of Texas stations.

Jester Renews Pledge To Party

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, July 28.—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today called on the Democratic executive committee to block the Dixiecrats' proposal for a Truman-Thurmond referendum on the Aug. 28 primary ballot.

Jester advised the committee of his desires by letter after Dixiecrat leaders yesterday asked for the governor's help in getting the referendum on the ballot.

The governor told the committee the referendum would extend "aid and comfort to the enemy". To turn the party machinery over to the rival party, he said, would be "a break of trust."

Hits New Party Moves

"The forthright and fair thing for those who support the Thurmond party, is for them to have that party listed on the general election ballot which will provide the only true, legal and conclusive referendum," Jester wrote.

"Although we were defeated in the Democratic national convention, the South still has a large body of friends in the Democratic party as a whole . . . It is doubtful that any new party can gain any influence in Washington in the immediate future.

"We still have powerful and influential friends in the Democratic party and in Congress. At the moment our destiny is in their hands. The next few weeks and months are going to be critical insofar as tidelands, civil rights, and states rights are concerned. We can only worsen our position by conniving with the rival parties and with the would-be bolters of our own party.

"We are angry and bitter over the wrongs and injustices which we have received at the hands of our own party, but we must not let our rage be the cause of our self-destruction," the governor wrote.

Palmer Bradley of Houston and Arch Rowan of Fort Worth put the referendum proposition before the governor on a personal visit here yesterday.

DALLAS, July 28. (AP)—R. B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman for Texas, would like to see dissatisfied southern Democrats join the GOP this year "and make your vote count."

For instance, he said, the GOP state convention at Waco Aug. 10 is likely to adopt a platform plank strongly opposing Truman's civil

Woman Accused Of $1,560 Theft

Theft of $1,560 early Wednesday morning from an elderly Artesia, N. M., oil driller resulted in the issuance of a warrant yesterday afternoon from the court of Justice of the Peace C. E Lynn for the arrest of Mrs. Robert Ware

Officials investigating the incident were told that the woman and the New Mexican took a few drinks together at a downtown hotel a few minutes after midnight.

Those investigating the case include District Attorney Lloyd Croslin, Chief Deputy Sheriff George Eubank, Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton and Ranger Raymond Waters.

"Probably Was Doped"

The officials were told that the complainant "probably was doped."

When he awakened, all his money—which he had obtained for payment of a hospital bill here—was gone.

The woman, investigators were told, skipped town about 4 a. m., probably by train.

She was accompanied by a man, officials believed.

The woman was described as from 23 to 25 years old, about 5 feet 4 inches tall, 115 to 120 pounds in weight, having upper front teeth rather widely spaced, and as having dark, possibly, dyed, hair.

Description Of Man

The man was described as being 28 to 30 years old, about 5 feet 9 inches tall, weight approximately 160 pounds, and wearing gray sports shirt and gray trousers.

A bellboy introduced the woman to the victim, investigators were informed. He will be questioned further into the case, it was promised.

Juvenile officials were investigating the case of two 9-year-old negro boys who were apprehended as they left a fruit stand at 1218 Ave. F, where they had taken small quantities of candy, gum and cigarettes and two chisels.

A "crawler" type lawn sprinkler, valued at $35, was reported stolen from L. M. Wartes of 3202 Twenty-first street.

Larry Johnson of 3401 South Ave. H said a pistol had been stolen from him.

The sheriff's department was in-

Flight Training Restrictions Scored

Air School Operators Assured Of VA Help

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Operators of flight training schools in this area were assured by a representative of the regional office of the Veterans administration here yesterday that the VA is not opposing such training, and that it is believed by officials that the new law governing the training will prove to be a boon rather than a detriment.

The message was given yesterday afternoon at Hotel Lubbock to 50 or more operators from all parts of West Texas served by the Lubbock regional VA office, by Eldon Fuller, chief of the division of vocational education and rehabilitation of the VA office.

Vet Must Prove Need

Observing that the VA wants the veteran to get all the law provides, Fuller warned, however, that the law is not intended to provide a bonus or gift, and that the veteran must prove that he intends to use the course for vocational (business) purposes and not avocational (recreational).

The flight training school operators had gathered here in a session in the nature of a protest of restrictions imposed under an amended Servicemen's Readjustment act, asserting that provisions of the act as amended by the recent session of congress is working to virtually nullify the flight training program among veterans.

Answering a question from the floor following his explanation of the VA attitude toward the act, Fuller said the agency has not approved any flight training applications since July 1, effective date of the new regulations, due to instructions that applications were to be held up pending a conference on the matter that was held a few days ago.

Applications To Be Studied

He added that the agency now will begin to clear the applications, and expected this would start in the next few days.

Regarding the term "justification" used by the VA concerning requirements to be met by the training applicant, Fuller said frankly he is not yet sure of its exact definition.

In that connection Fuller said the applicant must submit in writing reasonable proof of his intentions, whether the course is intended as vocational, and must convince the VA of his sincerity. Under the law, he said, the burden of proof of this is on the applicant, and each case is handled on an individual basis.

The VA division chief told the operators that there will be some cases denied, possibly for some cause shown only in the veteran's file in the regional office which cannot be divulged. He said the files belong to the individual veteran, and while available to VA officials in decisions of that kind, the information can be divulged only to the veteran involved. This, he said, might be some type of disability, or other reason the veteran should not take up flying.

Says Advisors Qualified

Fuller said responsibility for administering the revised act is squarely up to regional office officials, and that only broad instructions have been given by Congress in the law, and by VA superiors.

He reviewed briefly the course of an application, citing specifically the advisement and guidance section of the VA division which is available to veterans. He urged that they use this phase of the service.

Answering a protest from the floor that some in the department are not qualified as advisors, Fuller traced the route an employe must take to gain civil service appointment to the posts, and said he believes the staff is well qualified.

Another matter of apparent wide interest among operators was the student transfer question. Fuller told the group that transfers would be allowed, but he urged operators to get the information to the VA as quickly as is practical for quicker and better results.

He told the group that the VA does not like to tell a veteran he Woman Charged As 'Tokyo Rose' To Face Treason Trial In U.S.

WASHINGTON, July 28 (INS)—Attorney General Clark asserted today that Mrs. Iva Toguri D'Aquino will be brought to the United States from Japan to face charges that she broadcast during the war as "Tokyo Rose."

Clark aanounced that two Justice department lawyers have been appointed to prosecute the case. The Attorney General said:

"Upon her return to the United States, they will present such evidence as they have gathered to a grand jury."

Native Of Los Angeles

The Attorney General said that a grand jury will hear evidence against the prisoner in the district into which she is first brought in the U. S.

Thomas E. DeWolfe and John B. Hogan, of the Justice department's criminal division, were designated by Clark to handle the case.

DeWolfe presented the government's case against Robert H. Best, who was convicted on treason charges and got life imprisonment for broadcasting for the Nazis.

Hogan made an investigation for Clark in Tokyo for the purpose of gathering information in the Tokyo Rose case.

Records give Mrs. D'Aquino's birthplace as Los Angeles, and the date as July 4, 1916. She is recorded as a graduate of the University of California.

Married To Portuguese

Mrs. D'Aquino left the U. S. before the war to visit relatives in Japan. The Justice department reported that from 1943 until 1945 she broadcast to American troops in the Pacific area over Radio Tokyo.

Shortly before V-J day she married a Portuguese citizen named Philip D'Aquino.

Her father, brother, and two sisters operate a combined grocery and fish market in Chicago. Her mother died in a Nisei relocation center before the family was released as loyal in 1943.

"Tokyo Rose" was a name applied indiscriminately by GI's in the Pacific to any one of at least six English-speaking women who broadcast Japanese propaganda from Tokyo.

BOARD IS NAMED

AUSTIN, July 28 (AP)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester today recommended to Pres. Truman the appointment of five men to the board of appeals for Texas' Selective Service system. They are Dr. Albert L. Deveny, Horace H. Shelton, T. J. Butler, Dr. D. T. Gilliland, all of Austin, and J. H. Johnson of Del Valle.

New 5,300-Foot Wildcat Well Is Planned In Gaines County

Luce and Ice, of Monahans, No. 1 Margie Webb is to be a 5,300-foot wildcat to explore into the San Andres-Permian, in west-central Gaines county, two and three quarter miles southeast of the Cities Service Oil company and The Atlantic Refining company No. 1 Proctor, recently completed discovery from the San Andres.

The new venture will be about eight miles south and west of Seminole, and at the center of the northeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 332, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey.

Operations are to start immediately. The project is on acreage farmed out to Luce and Ice by Cities Service Oil company. That concern retained an interest in the tract.

New Well To Be Started

Lario Oil & Gas company No. 1-B Hayden Miles is a semi-wildcat in west-central Andrews county, to test into the San Andres.

It is located at the center of the southwest quarter of section 12, block A-46, psl survey. That makes it approximately six miles west of the town of Andrews.

It is near the Deeprock field, but outside the proven limits of that pool. Lario's No. 1 Hayden Miles, a small producer from the San Andres, is at the center of the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 12, block A-46, psl survey.

Drilling at No. 1-B Miles is to begin at once.

Drill Permit Requested

Honolulu Oil Corporation has filed an application with the Railroad Commission, requesting a permit to drill its No. 11-B Dean, as a 5,000-foot prospector in south-central Cochran county, to test the San Andres.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of the west 441.75 acres in the east three-quarters of league 89, Lipscomb county school land, and 18 miles west of Sundown, which is in southwest Hockley county.

Drilling on this project, which is classed as a wildcat is to start immediately. It is about two miles west of the nearest San Andres production.

Drillstem Test Run

Seaboard Oil Company of Delaware No.1 E. M. Hinson, northeast Terry county discovery from a Pennsylvanian lime, ran a third drillstem test in that pay section, at 9,439-55 feet.

The tool was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in six minutes. There was a steady blow of gas for one hour and 30 minutes, and gas by heads for the last 30 minutes of the period.

No fluid flowed out at the top. However, some observers think that if the tester had been left open for another 30 minutes, that the section would have flowed.

Recovery was 8,200 feet of clean oil, and 450 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud. No formation water developed.

Open flowing bottom hole pressure was 1,300 pounds at the end of the two-hour test. After a 15-minute shutin it registered 2,000 pounds. Gravity of the oil was 41.3 degrees.

Operator has run a Schlumberger survey and the project is now waiting on orders as to whether to run pipe and complete, or drill deeper.

The new field opener is 10 miles northeast of Brownfield, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey. It topped the pay at 9,405 feet, and logged 50 feet of saturated zone, and has not found any water.

Philadelphia Man Gets 'Texas Hat' Made In His Home Town

PHILADELPHIA, July 28 (AP)—During the recent Democratic national convention in Philadelphia, restauranteur Charles Taxin admired the 10-gallon hat being worn by a delegate from Texas.

The delegate promised to send Taxin one just like it as soon as he returned to his home state.

Yesterday, Taxin received a large package containing a 10-gallon hat. The parcel bore a Texas postmark but the hat carried the label of a Philadelphia hat maker.

South African Problems Seen As New Worry For UN Officials

By J. M. ROBERTS, Jr.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The atmosphere in the U. N. trusteeship council was not particularly unreal, unless you knew.

Representatives of seven nations took the floor to criticize South Africa's administration of the former German colony of Southwest Africa. They wanted improvement of native conditions.

Several months ago South Africa refused to accept U. N. suggestions for trusteeship and changes in methods, and determined to continue under the ghost-like League of Nations mandate for the 90 percent black area.

Take Over Government

Since then, a group of anti-negro, anti-British nationalists have taken over the South African government. The Southwest African question has passed beyond the field of trusteeships, mandates and civil rights for the natives. It is now, unless something happens, a question of what form outright annexation will take.

Reports indicate that nationalist Premier Malan is moving rapidly to increase his hold on Parliament, where he now has only a small majority, by such annexation. The Germans of Southwest Africa, already in sympathy with the Malan program, are reported ready to send an all-nationalist delegation to Parliament.

Southwest Africa's non-whites would, of course, have nothing to say about it. One of the prime Malan objectives is to end native participation in South African legislative proceedings, too.

Would Cut British Ties

The nationalists are talking softly now about their long-standing desire to cut the commonwealth's ties with Britain. But the squeeze is beginning. The South Africa broadcasting corporation is being taken over by men who will, as the nationalists say, "preserve national Afrikanderdom." The government which has abolished native units in the army, is now considering turning it into a militia, operating in rural areas to complement the police. While this bears some suggestion of Hitler's SS system, it probably is intended primarily to attract recruits among the rural Afrikanders and eventually squeeze out the English-background soldier who has less taste for the veldt.

An Afrikander is a native white of Dutch descent and speaks Afrikaans, (a language derived from Dutch.)

Mr. Malan has announced that he will not attend future conferences of the empire prime ministers, where General Smuts was always an important figure. The Afrikaans press is attacking remaining Smuts regime ministers abroad, and observers, are predicting replacement of those in London, the Hague and Washington. Eventually, if the nationalists become sufficiently entrenched, they are expected to launch a full independence movement.

Small but growing world pressure for improvement of the native status finally brought the Southwest Africa question to the United Nations. More complicated now than ever, it is expected to prove one of the most embarrassing questions on the General Assembly agenda at Paris in September.

Level land, clean ditches and good irrigation structures combine to make better use of water, save labor, and increase crop yield.

4-H Judging Contests Set At Tech Today

W. N. Williamson, district 2 agent; J. A. Scofield, district 3 agent and Knox Parr, district 1 agent, will direct the contests, which will start at 8 a. m.

Winning teams from each district will compete in state contests at Texas A. and M. college.

Battleship Nevada Still Afloat After Battering By U.S. Navy

By FRANCIS LEE
INS Staff Correspondent

PEARL HARBOR, July 28—The proud old battleship Nevada, which survived the Japanese attack at Pearl Harbor and the Bikini atom bomb tests, did it again today.

She went through three days of merciless bombardment with the Navy's newest secret weapons during tests 35 miles off Oahu, Hawaii's main island, with nothing worse than a slight settling aft.

Damage Not Heavy

Vice-Adm. Harold B. Salada, director of the tests, said that the 35-year-old battlewagon sustained only superficial damage and was still afloat. During the three days the Navy, Air Force and Marine aircraft hit the decommissioned ship with an array of secret weapons, possibly including the Navy's new bat bombs.

The Navy has refused to state whether the bat bombs, radar guided missiles that steer themselves to the target after being launched from the wing of a distant plane were included. Speculation in Hawaii was that they were to be used in the tests.

To Use Big Guns

The Nevada's lease on life is only a temporary one, however. The big battleship Iowa is scheduled to unlimber her guns to administer the coup de grace Friday. If necessary, the cruisers Astoria, Pasadena and Springfield will join to send the garish red painted hulk of the old Nevada to the bottom.

The Nevada, when she finally dies, will leave behind her a proud record. She was the only capital ship that got underway during the Pearl Harbor attack. She was damaged but her captain beached her and she was repaired.

In 1943 she took part in the American recapture of the Aleutian islands from the Japs and in 1944 hammered the German-held beach positions in southern France, battering the German 15-inchers with her own 14-inch rifles.

She went in close to batter Japanese shore batteries at Iwo Jima and Okinawa.

She took five shots from the Japanese shore batteries, and a Kamikaze plane hit her off Okinawa but she kept in action. She fired her last shots against Japanese shore batteries in June, 1945.

The Nevada was designated as "bull's eye" for the atomic bomb at Bikini but the bomb missed her. She took a terrific jolt and the subsequent radioactivity doomed her.

But the old lady seems determined to die at her own time and in her own way—stubborn to the last.

Flood Waters From New Dam To Cover Zapata In 'Few Years'

EL PASO, July 28. (U.P.)—The Lower Rio Grande valley town of Zapata, population 1000, will not be flooded out by the new Falcon dam and reservoir for "several years," L. M. Lawsan, American member of the International Boundary commission, said today.

Lawson and aides discussed progress on plans for the international Falcon dam, 40 miles downstream from Zapata, with A. L. Cramer of Elsa, president of the Lower Valley Water Conservation Assn., and Raymond Smith, general manager.

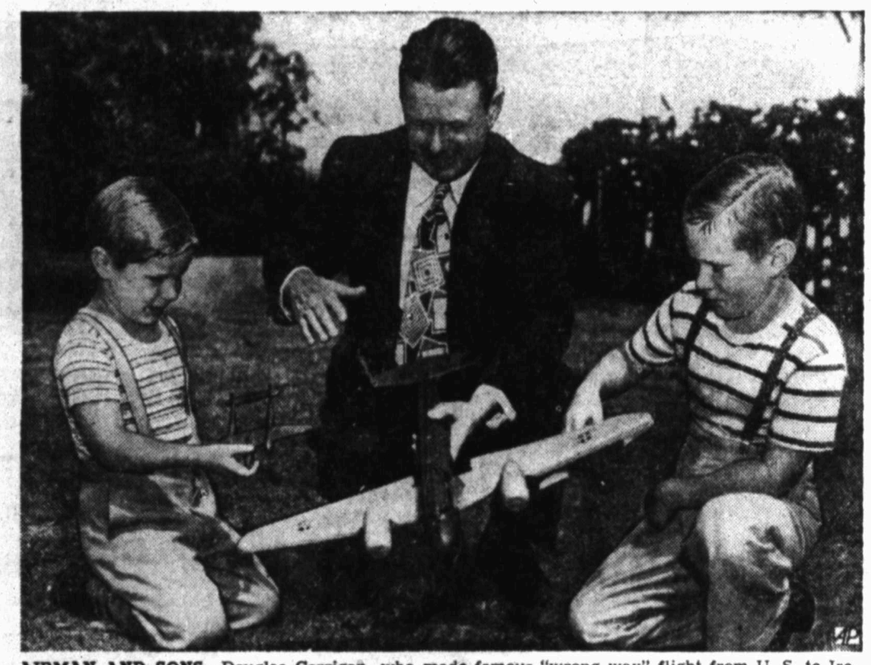

Lawson said it will be several years before high water backs up to the town of Zapata.

The date for start of actual construction of Falcon dam is uncertain, but Lawson said the commission is pushing acquisition of some 50,000 acres of right of way on the American side.

The $36,000,000 dam, with a capacity of 3,800,000 feet of water, will be constructed by the U. S. and Mexican governments.

J. L. Lytel, IBWC project engineer, also attended today's conference.

COLLEEN WANTED

Rancher Says U. S. Girls Are 'Chasers'

SAN FERNANDO, Cal., July 28 (INS) — Bert Stone, "past 40," is convinced that American girls are "chasers and high steppers" and he will have none of them.

Today he wrote to the mayor of Dublin and asked him if he knew of any nice Irish colleens who would be interested in matrimonial overtures.

Stone said that he has had the jitters ever since he wrote the Irish mayor.

"I expect women will run me ragged, and I might curse the day I started this."

Stone declared that he had a nice ranch in the San Fernando valley, money in the bank, a car and a score of hound dogs and a flock of chickens.

Two Annexes To Be Added To Hale County Co-Op Hospital

HALE CENTER, July 28 (Special)—Two annexes are to be moved here from Amarillo Army air field to adjoin the Hale County Co-operative hospital here. One, a 30 by 60 foot Army surplus hospital ward, is to be converted into clinic offices for the hospital clinic branch, and another Army surplus hospital structure, will be added to the hospital building to increase the hospital's bed capacity.

The hospital, opened a year ago, has served 14,000 clinic calls, and more than 600 hospital cases, J. L. Monroe, manager, has reported. The present hospital structure has 16 patient rooms and is designed to take care of as many as 25 emergency cases.

Group To Decide If Subversives Are Entering U. S. Through UN

WASHINGTON, July 28 (AP)—A citizens committee was appointed today by Secretary of State Marshall to determine if any foreigners coming here under United Nations auspices have jeopardized American security.

The committee of three citizens also was asked to make recommendations for government action if they find security has been endangered.

Marshall named Benjamin M. McKelway, editor of the Washington, D. C., Evening Star; James H. Rowe, jr., former assistant attorney general and Marcellus C. Shield, former clerk of the House Appropriations committee, now retired, as committee members.

Laws To Be Studied

Marshall asked them to say whether existing American and United Nations basic laws and regulations are adequate to keep out individuals dangerous to U. S. security. They will not be concerned with the activities of specific individuals.

Marshall acted after a Senate Judiciary subcommittee heard charges and denials that several hundred foreign agents were using the UN as a front for subversive activities in this country.

At Lake Success, Arkady A. Sobolev, acting secretary general, said the United Nations has nothing to hide and "welcomes any public discussion of the matter."

But he pointed out that officials of the international organization may not legally be investigated by the United States or any national government, nor may an inquiry be carried out on UN property.

Marshall stressed that the inquiry would be concerned with laws and procedures rather than with persons. He expressed hope that the inquiry would start within a few days and be completed promptly.

Committee To Meet

Marshall announced his inquiry after being told at a news conference that Senator Revercomb (R-W. Va) has called his judiciary subcommittee to meet again this week to consider the "very serious situation" resulting from subversives.

At the same time, Marshall again denied testimony of two of his subordinates that hundreds of agents from behind the Soviet iron curtain may have entered the United States behind the shield of UN immunity to stir up trouble.

A check within the State department of visa and other records has brought to light no such evidence, he said, adding that he has access to the same information as Robert U. Alexander, assistant chief of the department's visa section, one of those who testified last week that numerous subversives were protected by the UN.

The new investigation, officials said, will cover all classes of persons who have any connection with the United Nations. These include the nearly 3,000 members of the UN secretariat, who are almost evenly divided between Americans and aliens; the staffs of UN members; press, radio, photo, and other such representatives; members of such specialized agencies as UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organizations); and people who come to the UN for special business.

Upper Trinity Valley Was Meeting Place For Indians

DALLAS, July 28 (AP)—An archeologist reported today the upper Trinity river valley was a meeting place for half a dozen different Indian cultures hundreds to thousands of years ago.

The report came from Robert L. Stephenson of the Smithsonian institution, who has completed an investigation where the Grapevine dam will be built. Later he will continue investigations at the Lewisville and Lavon damsites.

"We find influence of the Mississippi valley culture, the great plains, the Pueblos of New Mexico, the desert dwellers of Mexico, the Arkansas tribes and the nomadic tribes of Central Texas," he said.

So far he has found eight camp or village sites at Grapevine, 15 at Lewisville and 17 at Lavon.

Western Montana Mountain Area Receives Snow, More Forecast

HELENA, Mont., July 28 (AP) — You warm?

Western Montana mountains got snow last night and will get more tonight, federal forecasters reported today.

The temperature above the 6,000-foot level was near freezing.

In eastern Montana the temperature was in the 90s yesterday. Readings were 55-65 today and will drop to 35-40 tonight, the weather bureau said.

Alaska Travel Movie Shown Rotary Club

Members of the Rotary club meeting for luncheon Wednesday at the Hilton hotel witnessed a colored sound movie of Alaska, produced and sponsored by Alaska Airlines in the interest of colonization of a territory "that will do this nation proud when it becomes the 49th state."

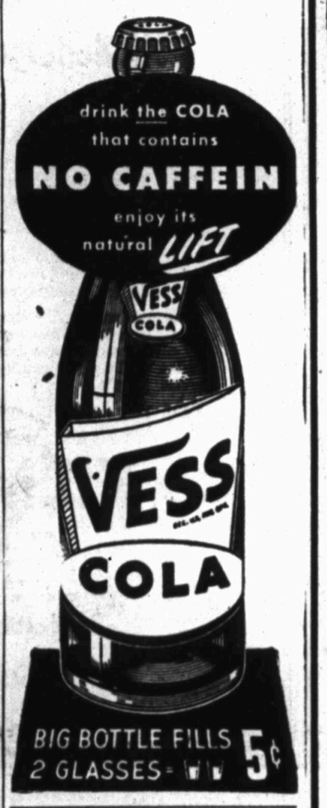

The film, presented by Ben Edwards and W. R. Lynn, southwestern representatives of the Alaska Airlines, belies what it refers to as the general idea that all Alaskans live in igloos. Principal cities, including Anchorage and Fairbanks, are as modern as anything in the states, and travel facilities are making rapid progress.

Program Introduced

J. B. Cardwell introduced the program. James Malone, junior Rotarian from Texas Tech college for July, expressed his appreciation for the privilege of attending the luncheons.

Visiting Rotarians included Tom Johnston of Spur, Bill Blakney of Abilene, Rev. James Abernathy of Ralls, Walter Craig of Amarillo, O. C. Thomas of Ralls, L. D. Williams and Fred Reynolds of Bryan, Boyd Henderson and J. W. Porter of Dallas, Paul Brannon of Seminole, R. E. Willis of Lovington, and Sam Hord of Fort Worth.

Club President Irving Jones was in the chair, with invocation by Dr. H. I. Robinson.

Slavs Ask UN To Block Moves To Restore Trieste To Italy

By PIERRE J. HUSS
INS Staff Correspondent

LAKE SUCCES, N. Y., July 28.—Yugoslavia unexpectedly revived the explosive Trieste issue in the United Nations today. In a request that the Security Council halt Anglo-American efforts to restore the free territory to Italy.

Marshal Tito's representative at UN, Dr. Joza Vilfan, presented the body a lengthy document listing various postal, currency and trade agreements reached between the Italian government and the American and British occupation authorities of Trieste. These were described as designed to destroy the free territory.

Treaty Claimed Violated

In the document, each such agreement is specifically branded a violation of provisions of the Italian peace treaty, to which Yugoslavia is a signatory. The charge also is made that "a situation is created likely to endanger the maintenance of international peace and security."

Dr. Vilfan, who gave the memorandum to Council chairman Dimitri Manuilsky, pointed out that the Security Council accepted responsibility for the free territory of Trieste Jan. 10, 1947.

The big five powers were charged by the council of foreign ministers with selecting a governor for Trieste, but failed in more than a year of consultations to agree on a suitable candidate.

Russia In Tight Spot

Three days before the Italian elections last April, the United States, Britain and France jointly issued a note announcing their intention to return Trieste to Italy—an action requiring Security Council approval. Russia promptly objected, foreshadowing use of the veto to block the move.

It remains to be seen now how far Russia will champion the Yugoslavian case in view of Tito's rupture with Moscow over the Cominform dispute.

Another curious aspect of the Yugoslavian step is that it has all the elements of a surprise maneuver, the more so since it comes on the heels of a recent conciliatory gesture made to Tito in returning to him the $47,000,000 in Yugoslav gold held by the American government.

Charges Documented

After carefully documenting the alleged Anglo-American violations of the Italian peace treaty, the Yugoslav memorandum says "Yugoslavia cannot help but associate these violations . . . with the widely-known proposal of the free powers to incorporate the free territory of Trieste into Italy."

The Yugoslav memorandum further says "it perceives" a plan "to impose on the Security Council, as well as on the states which signed the peace treaty with Italy, the 'fait accompli' of the incorporation of the Anglo-American zone of the free territory of Trieste into Italy."

The Yugoslav note then formally asks the 11-nation body to declare the Anglo-American agreements over Trieste currency and trade with Italy violations of the Italian peace treaty. It also asks the Council "to undertake the measures it considers necessary and sufficient for nullifying the respective agreements" and "to assure the respect" by the U.S. and Britain "of their international obligations."

Eastern Plane Plant Is Moving To Texas

STRATFORD, Conn., July 28. (U.P.)—Officials in charge of what they describe as the "biggest industrial migration in modern times," the moving of 60,000,000 pounds of machinery of the Chance Vought division of United Aircraft Corp., said today that production will not be halted, despite the 1,700-mile trip to Dallas, Texas.

The plant here began the transfer last May, but still is producing Corsair shipboard fighter planes (F4U-5). Meanwhile some 260 already are working at the new Dallas plant, turning out parts of a jet fighter (F6U-1).

72 Families Move

Seventy-two families have moved to Dallas, the first of 1,500 to make the trip. The workers being transferred are skilled ones not easily replaced. More than 5,000 others will be thrown out of jobs. But United Aircraft hopes to place many of them in its other divisions in this state.

The transfer, which isn't scheduled to be completed until next July, is being made for several reasons. The Dallas plant is only a few years old, boasting air-conditioning and a stream-line production setup, in contrast to the smaller and out-of-date shop here.

The 7,000-foot runways at Dallas are needed for the speedier jets; here they're only 4,500 feet. Conditions in Texas are much more suitable for test flying. And finally, the government is insisting upon dispersal of plane plants.

The move will cost an estimated $6,000,000.

THANKS, FOLKS!
For the nice vote you gave me in the first primary in my race for...
STATE SENATOR
30th Senatorial District

I assure you that I am humbly grateful for the confidence expressed by your vote . . . and I will deeply appreciate your continued support in the second primary.
I want to also solicit the support of those who voted for Dudley Brummett and Ralph Brock in the first primary. They are good men and deserved the support of their friends. However, under our Democratic form of government they were eliminated, and I will appreciate your consideration of my candidacy in the Second Primary August 28.
I ran a clean campaign in the first primary and expect to do so in the run-off. I can only present my qualifications to the voters and feel that it is then up to them to decide for themselves whether or not they want me to represent them at Austin.
I believe my best recommendation to the voters was expressed by the people of Dawson county (my home county) in which I received 3188 votes to 690 received by all three of the other candidates combined. Having served three terms as county judge of Dawson county, I am extremely proud of this vote of confidence by my home people.
Your vote and influence will be sincerely appreciated on August 28th.

EAST AND WEST:

A Reassuring Vote

RESULTS of two of the Texas congressional contests in last Saturday's Democratic primary are likely to be regarded with particular reassurance by most thinking Texans. These were victories of J. Frank Wilson of the Fifth (Dallas) district and Kenneth M. Regan of the Sixteenth (El Paso) district.

The two contests presented many similarities. Mr. Wilson was seeking his second term. Mr. Regan was seeking his first full term, having been chosen in a special election last August to fill the unexpired term of Robert Ewing Thomason, who resigned to accept an appointment in the federal judiciary.

Mr. Wilson and Mr. Regan are progressive but sound. Each was opposed by one candidate who professed liberalism bordered upon radicalism. Each of the opponents had as his more vocal and active supporters those elements who are engaged in an acknowledged campaign to "purge" from Congress all members who refused a pledge to do all they could in behalf of the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law.

Mr. Wilson won by a margin of approximately 2 to 1. Mr. Regan gained a victory almost as decisive.

The results, considered together, probably supply a good cross-section of the attitude of most Texans when they are invited to choose between a progressive on the one hand and an extremist on the other.

Killing The Goose?

THE increase of airmail postage from 5 to 6 cents an ounce, which goes into effect next Jan. 1, looks like business short-sightedness on the part of the Postoffice department, which recommended it, and by Congress, which approved it.

The rate was lowered from 6 cents to 5 cents nearly two years ago in an effort to stimulate airmail business. It did that. Airmail is more nearly self sustaining than it ever has been before. The convenience of the nickel postage has been given an important share of the credit for that achievement.

Perhaps patrons will continue to send their mail by air despite the increase. But many of those in close touch with the situation doubt it seriously. They predict total revenues will drop despite the higher rates. Their pessimism lends color to the uneasiness that the increase may put the brakes on a source of income which has given promise of becoming highly profitable to the federal government. In a small way, it suggests the analogy of the goose and golden eggs.

Get Busy, Now!

FROM a source no less official than the U. S. Department of State comes the news that "an alarming number of subversive foreign agents" have entered this country by way of the United Nations organization.

If, so, the rathole in the United Nations structure should be plugged, immediately.

And if the State department knows the agents are here, the President should order the FBI to round them up and ship them back to where they came from—RIGHT NOW!

Bitter Reprieve

(THE STORY: Playboy Marcus Sterling owes Harry Bindle a gambling debt of $10,000 he cannot pay. His wealthy wife, Miriam, has refused him the money. He comes home late after dodging Bindle all day. Miriam is out. Bindle phones that he will be over at 11 to collect. Marcus is desperate. Miriam comes in, wearing her fabulous diamond necklace. In order to get her out of the library before Bindle arrives, Marcus gives her a doped drink. Keyed up, he speaks cruelly. Miriam, wounded, takes her drink to her room. At 11 on the dot, Bindle shows up. He demands the money under threat. Marcus cornered, gets an idea. He tells Bindle he's going up to see his wife.)

UPSTAIRS, Sterling went directly to his own room, closing the door before flicking on the lights. From a dresser drawer he took a pair of fabric gloves and slipped his hands into them. He carefully wiped the keys he had handled, then slipped the ring again over one finger. He paused at his desk long enough to take a small pencil flashlight from a drawer. He turned off the light, opened the door quietly, and closed it after stepping into the hall.

He stood a moment at the door of his wife's room, listening. He could hear nothing. He turned the knob stealthily, pushed the door back a bare crack. The room was dark, silent. He widened the opening, stepped through noiselessly, pushed back the door to shut out the stray light from the hall. Erect, rigid, Sterling waited. After a moment he was able just barely to detect the sound of regular breathing from across the room. He moved, cautiously until he stood beside the bed.

Windows at the end of the room, their shades raised, admitted grayish night light to which his eyes were becoming accustomed. He could make out just vaguely his wife's form beneath the coverlet. One bare arm lay exposed. He saw her face in shadowy profile against the pillow. He satisfied himself that she was asleep . . .

He moved around the foot of the bed, treading lightly on his toes. He swept the beam of his small flashlight quickly across the top of the dressing table. He saw the drink Miriam had brought up with her. Fully two-thirds of it was still in the glass. The discovery unnerved him momentarily . . . Miriam might not be safely asleep. Then he made another discovery that was frightening. Beside the glass was the small bottle with the ominous red label. He had left it far back among other bottles. That meant Miriam had handled it after coming up.

IT meant . . . Sterling's pulse stopped at the thought . . . that Miriam had added more of the deadening drops to her drink. The full six, probably. Perhaps the first few swallows of the now heavily doped liquid had knocked her off. That could account for her drinking barely a third of it.

Sterling moved on to the dresser, played his light across it. Cautiously he pulled out the top drawer several inches, searched inside with the small beam of light. The trinkets, items of costume jewelry it revealed were of no interest to him.

He found the bag Miriam had been carrying on a chair. He opened it and carefully emptied its contents. He had no thought here of finding anything of interest. He was doing what he thought a burglar would do, if the burglar were looking for keys. His brief survey of the dressing table and dresser had convinced him that his earlier reasoning had been correct: Miriam had needed her keys to lock up her necklace . . . that was why she had not left her car key with him before coming upstairs.

Sterling stood again beside the bed, near the head. He was steeling himself for a final preliminary . . . one that might make unnecessary the more hazardous part of his prowling venture. He bent over and waited until his vision could define the outline of that exposed arm, the shoulder bare except for the flimsy strap of the sheer gown. Bending closer, Sterling steadied himself with the pencil flashlight pointed at the shoulder, a bare six inches distant. He flicked on the light, let the tiny luminous circle follow the curve of a breast to the V of the gown, let it tarry just briefly on the slender throat, then shut it off. There had been no answering flash of light.

STERLING straightened, trembling from the strain of that brief ordeal.

He turned toward the wall beside the head of the bed. He remembered a small teakwood table that stood there, the tall heavy candlestick on it. He reached over that impediment carefully to push aside a framed watercolor, held it aside while he used the flashlight to locate the thin keyhole in the circular embedded safe-door. He slipped in the long flat key on Miriam's key-ring, turned it until he heard a click, then pulled out the compact little door.

Pausing only to glance quickly at the bed, Sterling played his flashlight into the round cavity, to be startled by an answering deluge of dazzling flashes. His wife's necklace lay just inside the opening. Evidently she had put it in the safe hurriedly, not even taking time to put it in its box. Sterling transferred it to a side pocket, still intent upon the inside of the small safe. Also toward the front lay a flat packet, envelope size. Bonds, perhaps, he thought, or possibly currency. He decided that a burglar would take it. He slipped the packet into an inside coat pocket. As an afterthought, he brushed some papers from the safe to the floor.

A sound reached him from the bed . . . a break in that faint, regular breathing . . . a choked, incoherent word.

Sterling hugged back against the wall, beyond the small table with its tall candlestick, listening, waiting breathlessly.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

SOME very scientific experiments with mental telepathy are being made at Duke University, and while most of them are concerned with cards and dice, they will have a most important bearing on the general question whether there really is such a thing as mental telepathy.

BRANDEIS

Well, the weather is very hot these days and scientific experiments, when the temperature is somewhere around 100 are not very conducive to cooling off a scentist's temperature.

So, being a great authority on practically every subject under the sun, let me make this irrefutable statement:

There is such a thing as telepathy.

Now I'll prove it to you—and every husband will confirm my scientific findings.

It was about two in the morning.

It was sultry and I couldn't sleep.

I was hungry and thirsty.

But my wife, in the next bed (yes, we do have twin beds, in case you must know), was sound asleep. I could tell by her regular breathing and that tiny little snore.

Very quietly I got out of bed, put on my slippers and started to sneak downstairs.

Suddenly a voice spoke:

"Now don't you go and eat a lot in the middle of the night. And you know what the doctor told you about drinking a lot of iced-cold stuff."

"Yes, dear," I replied meekly. "I'll be very careful."

Mental telepathy?

What was that, if you please, but mental telepathy?

Does anybody who has been married for any length of time need any proof from Duke or Yale or Harvard that there is such a thing as mental telepathy?

HAVE you ever gone to a night-club with your wife?

Have you ever, as the crossword puzzles call it, ogled or leered at those luscious chorines.

Do you think for a moment that your wife didn't read every one of those meandering thoughts of yours?

It doesn't need a hair on the shoulders of your coat or a lipstick mark on your shirt collar.

Your wife knows! That is mental telepathy applied to everyday life, and Professor Rhine of Duke and his colleagues can save themselves a lot of work by just consulting their wives. They'll tell 'em about mental telepathy.

By the way, here is a birthday poem a fellow in New York put in an advertisement in one of the newspapers.

It hasn't a thing to do with telepathy, but it kind of struck me.

"Princess:
"In public print on this day
"I'll wish you happy birthday.
"May you sail along life's waterways
"Forever basking in the sun's rays."

You will agree with me that this is one of the worst pieces of poetry ever written by man or beast.

And one of the sweetest.

LOSES POLITICAL BID

Douglas 'Bows Out'

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Associate Justice William Orville Douglas has eliminated himself as a Democratic presidential possibility for all time, despite the fact that he was the favorite of President Truman and the Roosevelt bloc for second spot at the recent Philadelphia convention. He has also been mentioned as a 1952 white hope for the Democrats if Mr. Truman should lose next November.

TUCKER

The inside story of the youngish, red-haired jurist's self-manipulated unpopularity with all factions of the party has been obtained in post-mortem conversations with friends of Franklin D. Roosevelt, President Truman and the ADA group who proposed him as a Truman substitute after General "Ike" Eisenhower failed them.

It is a rare story of how a brilliant young man with understandable ambitions for political advancement can overreach himself.

MARKED: When the late Senator Frank Maloney of Connecticut brought M. Douglas to Washington from Yale university in the early New Deal days, F.D.R. immediately sized him up as a man after his own heart. He marked Douglas for promotion, and it was not long before the latter became head of the Securities & Exchange commission, and then a member of the Roosevelt Supreme Court. That was in 1939.

When this country entered the war, Mr. Roosevelt wanted Justice Douglas to quit the high tribunal, as James F. Byrnes subsequently did, and take an important post in one of the war agencies.

Although President Roosevelt never defined the duties, he felt the need of a personal, confidential representative who would keep in touch with all the emergency groups and make periodical reports to the White House.

Mr. Douglas was to have been an Assistant Vice-President, as Mr. Byrnes became later.

DEAL: The jurist, however, tried to make a deal with the wartime President, according to the latter's confidants. Although Mr. Douglas did not voice his demands in blunt terms, he intimated that he would step down off the bench only if he were assured that he would be F.D.R.'s running-mate in 1944, or, if the latter did not run, that he would have White House support for the presidential nomination.

Anyway, the deal fell through. Even so, Mr. Douglas remained F.D.R.'s favorite for V.P. when he learned that the convention would not accept Henry Wallace. But had it not been for the Douglas refusal to accede to the earlier request, his would have been the only name that Roosevelt presented to the convention.

Instead, he permitted the bosses—Flynn, Hague, Kelly, Hannegan—to persuade him to bracket Truman's name with that of Douglas, and the rest is history.

SACRIFICE: Justice Douglas was Mr. Truman's choice for the vice-presidential nomination at the recent convention, and the President tried again and again to get the Washington man to run with him. He begged him to take second place at White House interviews, and on the phone after the jurist had left the Capital for his mountain retreat in the Northwest.

But Douglas refused and refused and refused. According to the belief of the Truman people, he would have accepted if it were not for his doubt that the Democrats had any chance of victory this year.

Naturally, they think that he should have made a sacrifice for the organization in view of the many favors which the party has showered upon him.

APPEALS: For similar reasons he turned down the bid of the Roosevelt-Henderson ADA. Despite appeals to his spirit of liberalism, and the argument that the times required him instead of Truman at the head of the ticket, he would not listen to their pleadings.

All these factions are especially resentful because loss of his judicial job would not entail any financial loss to Mr. Douglas. As one of the nation's most brilliant legal experts on finances, corporations and allied questions, he could earn $150,000 a year with any New York law firm.

So, it looks as if the boyish, likable Bill will wear a black grosgrain gown the rest of his life, unless he wearies of the high bench and benchers.

PROBLEMS: Governor Thomas E. Dewey has many state organization problems and controversies which he must solve before he can organize a snappy, enthusiastic and smooth-running campaign setup. How he meets these difficulties will show what kind of an executive he will be if and when he reaches the White House.

As a result of the convention battle, there are rivalries and dissensions in almost every section of the country. The Duff and Martin forces in Pennsylvania, for instance, have not yet entered into a full reconciliation. Governor Dwight Green of Illinois, who owes his advancement to the anti-Dewey McCormick press, has not yet been brought into camp. Unless Senator Taft throws himself into the fight whole-heartedly, Ohio will be leaderless.

Speaker Martin of Massachusetts and House Majority Leader Halleck of Indiana, who were snubbed at Philadelphia, must be brought around. In fact, almost half the GOP majority in the House backed candidates other than the winner.

Most of these men, naturally, have pledged support to the Dewey-Warren ticket and promised to work for it. That was to be expected. But whipping or inspiring them to take off their coats and ties and hustle, and to gadfly the ward workers into action between now and Election Day is another thing again, and only Governor Dewey can do that.

Worst political pun of the campaign year: "Don't sit on the grass next November. It might be Dewey."

"There is no way of determining the age of the earth with exactitude," asserts a geologist. Of course not; all that anyone knows for sure that for a long time the earth has been present and unaccounted for.

Whatever became of the actress who was starred in "The Outlaw"—the girl with the extraordinarily high center of gravity?

The public is almost 100 per cent in favor of the government paying old age pensions. It seems that nearly every person in the country is either old or expects to be some day.

Yes, there is such a thing as being too conservative. We once knew a man who slept on the floor to avoid the risk of falling out of bed.

An excellent way to start money to circulating when the next depression comes along would be to subsidize the fools with plenty of spending money.

It would be well for you to bear this in mind. When you get all up in the air about something, you invariably come down out of control.

Believe It Or Not-By Robert Ripley

PARTY CANDIDATES ON SPOT

GOP Split Shown In Session

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—One thing that is being exposed by the special session of Congress, much to the chargin of Republicans, is the split within their own ranks between what might be termed moderate progressives and strict conservatives.

Though not as deep and serious as the widely advertised rift in the Democratic party, it nevertheless exists. The consciousness of it accounts partly for the reluctance of party leaders toward the special session. They did not want this division bared to public gaze at the outset of the campaign.

STOKES

It is particularly embarrassing because it involves their candidates for President, Governor Dewey and Governor Warren, who are in the moderate progressive tradition of the East and Far West as contrasted within the staunch conservatism, almost stand-pattism, of some leaders of the party in Congress, especially the clique that rules the House with an iron hand which is dominated by skillful and veteran legislators from the Midwest. It was from party leaders in that area that chief opposition came to Governor Dewey's nomination. When they failed to prevent his selection they tried to get one of their own in second place. They failed. This has not been forgotten and is a factor recognized privately, though not discussed openly.

Charges Are Made

Republicans have sought to cover up their differences by shouting "politics" at President Truman for calling the special session and by referring constantly to the division in his own party which they expect to capitalize during the special session to divert attention from their own internal difficulties.

Their dilemma has been magnified by the way President Truman spelled out the issues in his message to Congress. It was clearly shown in the indecision and confusion among party leaders when the President announced the special session at the Democratic convention, by Governor Dewey's own complete silence, and by the stone-faced, sitting-on-hands reception Republicans gave the President during reading of his message.

The split within the Republican party, as regards domestic policy, is over what are known generally as social welfare measures. The difference of viewpoint were fairly well concealed during the first session of the 80th Congress and a large part of the second when emphasis and attention were on matters on which there was general agreement. When the Republican social welfare program was finally pushed forward in the latter part of the second session in the Senate, which was according to plan to enact them before the campaign, the conservative House leadership stonped them cold and so Congress adjourned without final action on them.

This dereliction, it was honed, would be forgotten. But President Truman seized upon it on his western tour. Then the Republicans gave him the opportunity no one would miss when at its national convention the party went on record in its platform for measures that they had abandoned only a few days before.

Housing Bill Blocked

The best example, and the President put it second on his list for the special session, is the Taft - Ellender - Wagner housing bill which has passed the Senate, has been favorably reported by the House Banking committee, but was locked up in the House Rules committee by mandate of the Republican house leadership.

This failure to act on such a pressing public issue was the more glaring because of its sponsorship by an important party leader and a recognized conservative, Senator Taft of Ohio. The education bill is another example. It has passed the Senate and is slumbering in a House committee.

On these measures, as in several others in that category which the President specified, the argument is in his favor. For all the others have had committee consideration, as he pointed out, and if nothing is done about them now they must start all over again in the next Congress, as he also pointed out. And as for inflation, which the President properly put in number one position, if Congress does nothing about that then the Republican party, despite its obviously fine chance to win the election, might find itself in a bad position strategically in the campaign.

Governor Dewey, likewise, is in a delicate situation. For, while he is party leader, he does not yet have the certification by the electorate that bestows power and influence, and leaders in Congress are very jealous of their rights and prerogatives and inclined to be resentful of outside interference. Nor does he apparently want to risk a showdown there now, especially with those who are not too close to his way of thinking and so powerful in Congress.

Air School Operators

cannot have a certain thing he feels he wants, but said that many times the veteran himself changes his mind, and wants to do something else after he is granted what he at first thought he wanted.

Fuller assured the group of every possible cooperation, and told them applications will be handled as expeditiously as is humanly possible.

At a morning session of school operators, mutual problems were aired and various questions were posed for the afternoon meeting with VA officials.

An organization of operators, to be known as Airport Operators Protective association, was approved at the morning session, but election of officers was deferred.

Operators were here from Amarillo, Albany, Stamford, Pecos, El Paso, and intervening territory.

In the afternoon and evening sessions of the meeting, Eldon Fuller, VA division chief, detailed the instructions as handed down to his division, and virtually agreed to everything as described by the flight operators group.

The group immediately formed a protective association, to be known as West Texas Aviation Trades association, and have already affiliated with the national group by the same name.

Telegrams received by the group following the meeting were in part as follows: ". . . Evidence of intention for flight training courses forwarded by air mail . . "—Senator C. Wayland Brooks. Also ". . . Have talked to Senator Brooks to obtain definite information and am also sending airmail instructions. Please advise if I may be of further assistance . . . "—Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson.

The group named members to an executive committee, including George L. Stanfield of Seminole, L. D. "Andy" Anderson of Lubbock, nd Pete Harris of Brownfield. Miss Jean Franklin was appointed temporary secretary of the group.

Tile stoves, popular throughout northern Europe, were in use in Germany as early as the 14th century.

Attention is called to the provisions of the Acts of the 43rd Legislature of the State of Texas, Article No. 5159A Civil Statutes 1925, covering the wage scale and payment of prevailing rates of wages as established by the Owner. Said scale of prevailing rates of wages is set forth in the specifications.

Information for bidders, proposal forms, specifications, contract documents and location drawings are on file at the office of John P. Buhmann, City Engineer, in the City Hall, Lubbock, Texas.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, July 28 (AP) Buyers wanted cash corn here today and they bid up prices for it. One result was an early strengthening in prices for corn futures. But a large part of the gain in both corn and other grains was lost in late dealings.

Wheat closed ¼ lower to ¾ higher. September $2.28¾-1⅞, corn was 1⅛ lower to 2 cents higher, September $1.74½-¾, oats were ⅜ to 1 cent higher, September 75¼-⅜.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, July 28 (AP) — Cotton futures were quiet today as light mill buying in nearby October and December met only limited hedge offerings. Some buying was attracted to deferred deliveries, influenced by expectations of a higher mid-July cotton parity and a government loan on the next cotton crop of around 31 cents a pound for 15-16 inch middling.

Private advices indicated producers were inclined to withhold new crop supplies until the loan is fixed on the next crop.

Cotton futures closed at lows of the day on local New Orleans selling.

Futures closed 25 to 60 cents a bale lower than the previous close.

Creager said there is a "strong possibility" Texas, North Carolina and Florida may vote Republican in November. He added, "I'm agraid, however, that a majority of the southern states will just fall in line with the Democratic party."

He predicted his force will control the state executive committee meeting at Waco Aug. 9 by "two to one" and that he will have 80 per cent of the convention votes Aug. 10. The state convention, besides electing a new state chairman and executive committee, will select GOP nominees for the November ballot.
