There will be a special open house Tuesday, when the public is invited to visit and eat in the cafeteria at 12:25 p.m., but those who expect to eat the noon luncheon are requested to call Fredda Gage at 998-4538 not later than Monday noon so the cafeteria force will know how many to prepare for.

That night, Tuesday, 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. open house will be held for patrons to view work in various rooms.

Special posters will be in down town store windows.

Thursday, there will be a special School Week program at the Rotary Club.

Public Is Urged To Visit Schools During Next Week

(By Harold Roberts, Publicity Chairman)

You can't take a sentimental journey back to the schoolroom because that little old school isn't there anymore! Times change and there's been a revolution in the schoolhouse. Here's your chance to find out all about it during the annual Texas Public Schools Week, March 6 through March 10.

You are invited to visit a Public School and see for yourself how new teaching methods and techniques are helping Johnny learn to read and think. It's open house throughout the week. Come and meet the teachers. Come and learn how education is adding up to a better life for all Americans, for all Texans. Make a date with your child, March 6-10 and visit in the schoolroom. Tahoka School District is one of the largest businesses in our community. In fact, it is one of the largest in Lynn County. There are 81 full-time personnel employees in the organization, with an average monthly payroll in excess of $36,548.00, and a yearly expenditure in excess of one-half million dollars. Of this one-half million dollar budget, the local district provides 42 percent of the funds and the state 58 percent.

The "per pupil cost" is $408.00 per year. This is for operating expenses and does not include debt retirement, etc.

The Tahoka School District also operates eight busses that drive an average of 579 miles daily. The enrollment range is from 1000 to 1150 students.

The foregoing information was presented in order to bring to mind the importance our school system plays in the economy of our community although the education of our boys and girls is the only justification. As stockholders in this large a business, come by for a visit during the week of March 6 through March 10, 1967.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bohannan of Tahoka and John E. Mason of Hermleigh were seriously injured Wednesday near Inadale where their cars collided at a crossover intersection with Highway 84. The Bohannans are in a Sweetwater hospital and Mr. Mason is in a Snyder hospital.

Mrs. Bohannan was said to be in "serious condition but not critical," and Mr. Bohannon's condition was described as "satisfactory." She suffered facial lacerations, concussions and a broken ankle.

A Highway Patrolman said the Bohannons were traveling north on US 84 and the Mason car came from a side road, but both were traveling slowly.

Large Crowd At C. of C. Banquet

Tahoka's annual Farmer-Businessman banquet Monday night was another enjoyable occasion as 240 people attended the event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Climaxing the program was the talk by Lee D. Herring, Grand Prairie banker-humorist. His opening statement was that he would speak in "LBJ-HHH, Let's Be Jolly, Ho! Ho! Ho!", and he proceeded to entertain the crowd for nearly an hour with humor.

"With all the trials and tribulations today, we don't take enough time for fun," he declared, and toward the end of his talk stated, "The things you are going to get out of life are what you give to your community, churches, friends, and family."

Garland Thornton introduced the speaker.

Warren Embree, local banker, was installed as the new C. of C. president by outgoing president, Wayne Waters, who presided as master of ceremonies. Embree introduced his board of directors, elected by members.

An outstanding feature of the serious part of the program was the presentations by Blake Lovelace of the Soil Conservation District.

Harold Sanders, 29, Wells farmer, was honored as the "conservation farmer of the year" and presented a plaque from the C. of C. by Lovelace, who told of Sanders' outstanding work. (See story on another page.)

Mr. Lovelace also presented checks from the Lynn County District to student essay contest winners on the subject, "Preserve Our Natural Resources."

Junior Livestock Show Will Get Underway Here Today

Lynn County's annual Livestock Show judging gets underway this Friday morning at 10 o'clock and continues through Saturday afternoon at the county livestock exhibition building near the City Park in South Tahoka.

County FFA boys and 4-H boys and girls are entering about 25 head of baby beef steers, 250 head of hogs, and 80 head of lambs, County Agent Bill Griffin estimated Thursday.

Cash prizes totaling about $750.00 and show expenses are furnished by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, including $100 help from the Rotary Club. In addition, a bonus fund, in lieu of a sale, is being raised by merchants and farmers so that each entry may receive a little extra. However, the fund this year will be much smaller than usual.

Showmanship awards are given by the Farm Bureau.

Judging of swine will occupy most of the day Friday, begins at 10:00 a.m., and Scotty Windom, vocational agriculture teacher at Lazbuddie, is the judge.

Lamb judging beginning at 10:00 a.m. Saturday will be by Sid Long, agriculture teacher at Gail.

Beef calf judging begins at 1:00 p.m. Saturday and will be handled by Sid Long, Garza County agent.

Home Demonstration Club ladies are operating the concession stand during the show.

Local Marine Is Wounded In War

Cpl. Mauricio Flores, 25, Tahoka man serving with the U. S. Marines has been wounded in action in Vietnam, has been awarded the Purple Heart medal, and currently is en route to San Francisco, where it is presumed he will be hospitalized.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Crescencio Florez, who live on the Albert Curry farm southeast of town received the Purple Heart and a letter from their son Saturday.

They do not know the extent of their son's injuries except that he was wounded in a leg, arm and hand. He had been in Vietnam with the 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines, for about two months.

Corporal Flores, who attended the Tahoka schools, is married and has one child. The wife and child live in Granbury. His parents have farmed for Mr. Curry 16 years.

No new candidates had filed when the deadline was reached early this week.

Those who have filed for two places on the board are: James F. Roberts, a present member; James Brookshire, Mrs. Harold Green, and Othell Meeks. Martin White did not choose to file for re-election.

Holdover members are: Roy Stephens, Clifton Hamilton, J. T. Miller, Edward Bartley, and Elmer Owens.

The only real cotton is 100 percent cotton.

JIM LITTLEFIELD

Jim Littlefield Is New Head Coach

Jim Littlefield, assistant coach here two years, is the new athletic director and head football coach, effective March 15, the Tahoka school board announced Monday following a special meeting.

He succeeds Don Smith, who has resigned effective that date to accept a similar position at Perryton, a AAA school. Smith had a 6-3-1 football record here in 1965 and an 8-2 record last fall.

Littlefield's selection evidently meets popular approval since he is well liked by players, parents, and fans.

He is a 1955 graduate of Ranger High School and a 1960 graduate of Texas A&M. He was a junior high coach two years in San Angelo and two years in Corpus Christi, and came here two years ago with Smith as his assistant.

Littlefield's wife, Kathy, teaches music in North Elementary School.

V. F. Jones Sells Elevator Business

V. F. Jones has recently sold his grain elevator and seed business to J. B. Greer and Morris McClendon after 23 years in business here.

The new owners will operate under the name G—M Grain and Seed Co. and will have an opening announcement later.

Mr. Greer was born and reared in the Grassland area, is married to the former Miss Hazel Phillips of Tahoka, and is a farmer.

Mr. McClendon attended high school here back in 1942, served as a pilot in the Airforce during World War II and the Korean War, and was a personnel officer 15 years before returning to the farm here two years ago. His wife is the former Miss Ruby Greer. McClendon attended Texas Tech and University of California also.

Mr. Jones opened the business in 1944, enlarged the elevator in 1949, and had made other improvements over the years. On being elected county judge, he decided to sell the firm.

The Wilson Merchantile Store will be put on the maps being made of the State of Texas, showing the location of the forth-coming Hemis-Fair at San Antonio. Next Sunday is "singing day" at Berry Flat Church, south of Draw in the edge of Borden county, and all who enjoy old time singing are invited to be present, from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m., states G. L. Autry.

New Home Pays Off Church Debt

New Home's $75,000 Baptist church building, erected in 1962, is completely free of debt as result of a campaign which, surprisingly, reached its goal last week, states Joe D. Unfred, chairman of the building committee.

In fact, funds had come in to pay off the debt before a story in The News last week reached readers. However, late contributions will be used for further church improvements.

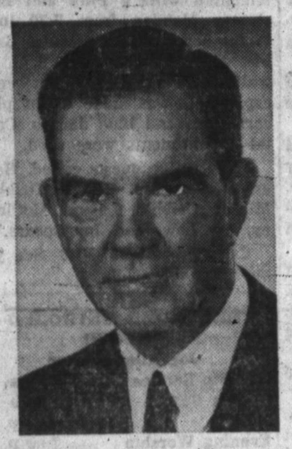

About $7,600 was contributed the past two weeks to pay off the debt.

Actually, a building fund was started by members a number of years ago, the fund grew during the ministry of Rev. Robert Clements, now at Telephone, and Rev. Hubert Austin, now chaplain at the Mexia State School. The new $21,000 parsonage was built during Rev. Austin's pastorate.

While Rev. Paul McClung, now at Salida, Colo., was pastor, the present beautiful new building was erected, and was dedicated on July 1, 1962. By opening of the current church year in October, 1966, the debt had been reduced to $7,800.

Rev. Royce Calhoun, the present pastor, was instrumental in leading the congregation to reaching the debt-free goal in spite of a poor crop year, Unfred says.

Mahon Says Freeman Plans Cut In Short Staple Cotton Loan Rate

CON. GEORGE MAHON

Washington, D. C.—Representative George Mahon reports that officials of the Department of Agriculture may soon announce an arbitrary reduction in the loan rate on short staple cotton. Officials complain that there is a heavy accumulation of short staple cotton in the loan and that unless better staple and quality is grown the accumulation of hard-to-sell government stocks will continue to rise.

Mahon has cautioned Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman that an arbitrary reduction in support rates would be unfair and unacceptable. He asserts that he believes that the differentials reflected by the spot markets provide a sufficient spread between cotton qualities to encourage the production of better cotton.

"I have been encouraged," Mahon said, "by reports which have come to me indicating that West Texas farmers are aware of the threat to their economic welfare and are planning to make a major effort to improve staple length and quality."

Mahon said indications are that unless something dramatic is done within the next three years to improve the quality and uniformity of Texas cotton, the industry would sharply deteriorate and the economy of many producing areas would suffer great loss.

In a statement on the subject of cotton quality Mahon said, "My discussions with farmers lead me to believe that many producers are quite uncertain as to what particular strain of cotton seed should be selected for planting. Farmers need more information and clarification as to what the best varieties actually are. Another question relates to the availability of adequate seed supplies. Nevertheless there seems to be much expectation that significant progress will be made this year. It would be difficult to exaggerate the importance of better quality and more uniformity."

The USDA announced last November that a major effort would be made this year to discourage the production of low quality cotton and slow down the rise in government stocks of such cotton.

The Department has appointed a Committee, known as the Underhill Committee, which is preparing a recommendation on the subject of cotton loan differentials for submission to the Secretary of Agriculture. An early report is expected.

Mahon said that he realizes the urgent need for improvement in cotton quality and uniformity but he would continue to protest any threat of action which might be arbitrary and punitive.

Large Crowd At C. of C. Banquet

Tahoka's annual Farmer-Businessman banquet Monday night was another enjoyable occasion as 240 people attended the event, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

Climaxing the program was the talk by Lee D. Herring, Grand Prairie banker-humorist. His opening statement was that he would speak in "LBJ-HHH, Let's Be Jolly, Ho! Ho! Ho!", and he proceeded to entertain the crowd for nearly an hour with humor.

"With all the trials and tribulations today, we don't take enough time for fun," he declared, and toward the end of his talk stated, "The things you are going to get out of life are what you give to your community, churches, friends, and family."

Garland Thornton introduced the speaker.

Warren Embree, local banker, was installed as the new C. of C president by outgoing president, Wayne Waters, who presided as master of ceremonies. Embree introduced his board of directors, elected by members.

An outstanding feature of the serious part of the program was the presentations by Blake Lovelace of the Soil Conservation District.

Harold Sanders, 29, Wells farmer, was honored as the "conservation farmer of the year" and presented a plaque from the C. of C. by Lovelace, who told of Sanders' outstanding work. (See story on another page.)

Mr. Lovelace also presented checks from the Lynn County District to student essay contest winners on the subject, "Preserve Our Natural Resources."

JIM LITTLEFIELD

Jim Littlefield Is New Head Coach

Jim Littlefield, assistant coach here two years, is the new athletic director and head football coach, effective March 15, the Tahoka school board announced Monday following a special meeting.

He succeeds Don Smith, who has resigned effective that date to accept a similar position at Perryton, a AAA school. Smith had a 6-3-1 football record here in 1965 and an 8-2 record last fall.

Littlefield's selection evidently meets popular approval since he is well liked by players, parents, and fans.

He is a 1955 graduate of Ranger High School and a 1960 graduate of Texas A&M. He was a junior high coach two years in San Angelo and two years in Corpus Christi, and came here two years ago with Smith as his assistant.

Littlefield's wife, Kathy, teaches music in North Elementary School.

V. F. Jones Sells Elevator Business

V. F. Jones has recently sold his grain elevator and seed business to J. B. Greer and Morris McClendon after 23 years in business here.

The new owners will operate under the name G—M Grain and Seed Co., and will have an opening announcement later.

Mr. Greer was born and reared in the Grassland area, is married to the former Miss Hazel Phillips of Tahoka, and is a farmer.

Mr. McClendon attended high school here back in 1942, served as a pilot in the Airforce during World War II and the Korean War, and was a personnel officer 15 years before returning to the farm here two years ago. His wife is the former Miss Ruby Greer. McClendon attended Texas Tech and University of California also.

Mr. Jones opened the business in 1944, enlarged the elevator in 1949, and had made other improvements over the years. On being elected county judge, he decided to sell the firm.

Tickets For Jaycee Banquet On Sale

Tahoka Jaycees will hold their installation banquet on Friday, March 10, at 7:30 p.m., in Tahoka Community Center, when State Director Gary Stacy will install new officers. Leonard Dunn will be the new president.

Tickets for the banquet are now on sale at $1.50 each, and the public is not only invited but everyone interested is urged to attend, as well as Jaycees and their wives.

Cotton can be constructed to give warmth without weight.

Lynn County's annual Livestock Show judging gets underway this Friday morning at 10 o'clock and continues through Saturday afternoon at the county livestock exhibition building near the City Park in South Tahoka.

County FFA boys and 4-H boys and girls are entering about 25 head of baby beef steers, 250 head of hogs, and 80 head of lambs, County Agent Bill Griffin estimated Thursday.

Cash prizes totaling about $750.00 and show expenses are furnished by Tahoka Chamber of Commerce, including $100 help from the Rotary Club. In addition, a bonus fund, in lieu of a sale, is being raised by merchants and farmers so that each entry may receive a little extra. However, the fund this year will be much smaller than usual.

Showmanship awards are given by the Farm Bureau.

Judging of swine will occupy most of the day Friday, begins at 10:00 a.m., and Scotty Windom, vocational agriculture teacher at Lazbuddie, is the judge.

Lamb judging beginning at 10:00 a.m. Saturday will be by Sid Long, agriculture teacher at Gail.

Beef calf judging begins at 1:00 p.m. Saturday and will be handled by Sid Long, Garza County agent.

Home Demonstration Club ladies are operating the concession stand during the show.

Store At Wilson Gets Recognition

The Wilson Merchantile Store will be put on the maps being made of the State of Texas, showing the location of the forth-coming Hemis-Fair at San Antonio. These maps will show routes that can be taken, to include the country store being made famous by Mrs. Miriam Green of Lubbock. The store, established in 1917, was renovated three years ago.

Plans are being made to place historical markers on the highways.

SINGING AT BERRY FLAT

Next Sunday is "singing day" at Berry Flat Church, south of Draw in the edge of Borden county, and all who enjoy old time singing are invited to be present from 2:30 to 4:00 p.m., states G. L. Autry.

New Home Pays Off Church Debt

New Home's $75,000 Baptist church building, erected in 1962, is completely free of debt as result of a campaign which, surprisingly, reached its goal last week, states Joe D. Unfred, chairman of the building committee.

In fact, funds had come in to pay off the debt before a story in The News last week reached readers. However, late contributions will be used for further church improvements.

About $7,600 was contributed the past two weeks to pay off the debt.

Actually, a building fund was started by members a number of years ago, the fund grew during the ministry of Rev. Robert Clements, now at Telephone, and Rev. Hubert Austin, now chaplain at the Mexia State School. The new $21,000 parsonage was built during Rev. Austin's pastorate.

While Rev. Paul McClung, now at Salida, Colo., was pastor, the present beautiful new building was erected, and was dedicated on July 1, 1962. By opening of the current church year in October, 1966, the debt had been reduced to $7,800.

Rev. Royce Calhoun, the present pastor, was instrumental in leading the congregation to reaching the debt-free goal in spite of a poor crop year, Unfred says.

Rotary Observes Anniversary 62

Rotary Club of Tahoka last Thursday observed the 62nd anniversary of the founding of Rotary, the oldest of service clubs, in Chicago, Ill., on Febuary 23, 1905, when Dr. Emil Prohl was the speaker.

In announcing the observance, President Harold Roberts sad the Tahoka Club was organized in 1936, now has 43 members, and is linked with more than 12,600 other Rotary Clubs in 134 nations around the world.

Rotary meetings marking this anniversary were held in many languages, including Arabic, Danish, Finnish, French, Spanish, Portuguese, Japanese, and Persian.

Richard L. Evans of Salt Lake City, Utah, a radio broadcaster, is the current president of Rotary International, has a ten-point program of service being carried out this year world-wide.

Among major activities of the Tahoka Club in addition to weekly fellowship luncheons, are sponsoring Boy Scouts, visits of a foreign student to Tahoka each year, help to the Livestock Show, a Rotary-teacher banquet, and many other activities.

In his talk to the culb, Dr. Prohl said Rotary started the service club idea 62 years ago when a young lawyer, Paul Harris, lonesome in a big city and several other men met in rotation at each other's office for the purpose of fellowship and to devise means of being of service to their own community and to fellow-man., helping each other, and developing loyalty to their town. From this group of Protestant, Catholic, Jew; American, Swede, German, grew with one purpose only—service—into 11 clubs by 1910, and finally spread around the free world.

Dr. Prohl told of his attendance at International conventions, particularly the one in Tokyo, Japan, where there were 23,000 delegates from 77 countries; how his Rotary pin had won friends around the globe, and the meaning of the pin to him.

Dr. Skiles Thomas was in charge of the program.

Marilyn McMillan Is Winner Conservation Essay Contest

Miss Marilyn McMillan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McMillan and a senior in O'Donnell High School, was winner of the 1967 essay contest sponsored by Lynn County Soil Conservation District. She was announced as the winner at Monday night's farmer-businessman banquet of Tahoka Chamber of Commerce.

Following is her essay:

• • •

WHICH GAME WILL YOU PLAY?

Marilyn McMillan

In the childhood game of "Button, button, who's got the button?" we had to guess which hand contained the sought after button and keeping guessing until we were lucky enough to find the elusive button. In our society today our problems are often like this child's game in that they are merely guessed at and have no basis for their true beginning.

The problem of conserving soil and water began long before any of the present day generation was born. It had its true beginning when the first settlers came to our native Texas. They planted corn and other crops on a piece of land and when it no longer produced good quality crops they cleared away another area. Also when a stream dried up they moved on. After all, why should they worry about running out of fertile soil? Expeditions in the interior had already proven there were almost endless land areas covered with many large rivers, creeks, and lakes.

No one could call Texas a "Paradise" now. I've heard old timers say when they first moved to this part of the country it looked like a rolling sea of grass. "The most fertile land I've seen in all my born days.", a settler would often say.

Only after the people noticed the wild game disappearing, filth in rivers and lakes, and that soil no longer produced as high yields, did anyone ask why these things were occuring. Only then did they begin to shout "Conserve, conserve."

No matter how Texans try to elude all those facts they are always there. Society has only itself to blame for the missuses of our precious soil and water. There isn't anything we could possibly do to erase what has already been done. Our generation must stop playing our little child's guessing game and start playing a new one. An adult game the rules of which are based on hard cold facts.

The children of Texas must face the future with an open mind and be turned loose to create realistic answers to society's problem of how to conserve our soil and water.

There is no better time than right now for each individual Texan to start his own campaign.

Plastra-tone

Plastra-Tone is so easy to use, that even if you never touched a paint brush before, you can get professional looking results with very little effort. Considering the results, Plastra-Tone is the most economical coating on the market. This expensive looking texture finish is over 1/16 of an inch thick and would cost $100 to $150 to have done professionally. Having this done professionally would necessitate an additional purchase of paint to color the surface. Plastra-Tone eliminates these expensive and time consuming steps at a fraction of the cost.

While you re-surface you re-color in any one of 10 popular fashionable tones, in the same operation. Use on: wallboard, cement, stucco, plywood, wallpaper, plaster, brick, wood, metal and concrete.

Harold Sanders Carries Out Farm Conservation Program

(By Blake Lovelace)

Harold Sanders, a young man who lives 1½ miles west of Wells, has been selected as the Outstanding Conservation Farmer of 1966, by the Lynn County Soil and Water Conservation District Supervisors, announces Harold Payne, Chairman of the board.

Sanders is a Texas Tech graduate with a degree in agronomy and range management, and has been farming since 1962. He is 29 years old and believed to be the youngest man to receive this award from the District.

Selection was based on the outstanding Conservation Program he carries out on the 800 acres he farms, his progressive farming methods and his service in the community.

He and his wife Patsy and daughters, Katrina and Debra, are members of the Wells Baptist Church where Harold is Sunday School President.

They both are active locally and on an area and state basis in the Young Farmer and Young Homemaker organizations. Harold is currently President of the O'Donnell Young Farmers.

His conservation program is designed to protect his land as well as to improve its production ability. He says the land in this area is capable of producing more than it presently does. He thinks the addition of organic materials and fertilization are two of the main ways to build up the land for increased production.

Grain Sorghum is planted in a skip row pattern of 2 in and 2 out with Chinese Red Cowpeas planted in the blanks. He says the grain sorghum produces as much as solid planting plus he contracts the peas to seed dealers for additional income.

This rotation when used on land that would not normally head out maize, had the land making good maize production in a few years.

Diverted acres are planted to a forage sorghum for protection and soil improvement. Also, cover crops are planted on irrigated land, and cotton burs are mulched on both irrigated and dryland to protect and improve the soil. When heavy amounts or residues are returned to the soil, Sanders applies about 10 lbs. nitrogen per ton to help in decomposition.

Irrigation systems are layed out to make the most efficient use of irrigation water and natural rainfall. Underground pipelines deliver the water through the fields.

This winter one 160 acre irrigated field was terraced with parallel terraces. The intervals have been leveled for irrigation. This method will make the most efficient use of irrigation water and rainfall in crop production. Dryland fields have also been parallel terraced.

Other examples of his progressive type farming is his use of chemicals for weed control on both irrigated and dryland cotton and is trying weed control on sorghums in both rows and drilled patterns.

Also work with bed planting is proving successful on both irrigated and dryland.

Advantages he finds in bed planting are faster cultivation, less compaction, less loss of soil moisture, easier furrow irrigation, easier harvest, and cleaner cotton.

Crop Production Guidelines Set

Crop production guidelines related specifically to the conditions here in Lynn County and covering cotton and grain sorghum, have been mailed to every local farmer this week.

This is the first time such guidelines have ever been prepared on a county basis, according to county agent Bill Griffin.

He believes that farmers who will take time to study the recommendations will find helpful tips for producing optimum yields and lowering production costs.

A combined total of 890 guidelines were mailed to local farmers. Printing costs were covered by the commissioners court.

"These guidelines are the best combinations of thoroughness that those of us in the Texas Agriculturla Extension Service could prepare," the agent said.

In the Lynn County guidelines, particular emphasis is placed on water conservation with each crop. The guides tell when to water the crops to get maximum yields from each irrigation whether the crop is to be irrigated once, twice or more.

The cotton guidelines also stress some of the keys to producing a crop with better fiber qualities.

They explain irrigation timing and other cultural practices that can enhance the inherent quality potential of a cotton variety.

"I believe it will pay to read the guides then file them for future reference," the agent said.

The localized guidelines are part of a state-wide Extension Service project to get the best known production information in the hands of farmers.

"It's an effort to combine all of the modern practices recommended for this county into one source so that a farmer doesn't have to search through a number of publications to get the material," the agent said.

A few extra sets of the guidelines are available at the County Agent's office for individuals who did not receive a set or for those who would like additional copies.

Once nematodes get at your cotton, yields go down and so do profits. But with FUMAZONE® 86 soil fumigant applied at only 1 to 2 gallons overall an acre, you can take care of root-knot, sting, meadow and other nematodes—those microscopic, worm-like soil pests that attack plant roots, suck away profits.

FUMAZONE 86 soil fumigant increases yields up to ½ bale an acre. Many High Plains farmers just like yourself tell us that's exactly what happened to their yields after their soils were treated with FUMAZONE 86. It can be applied right from the drum. No mixing, no diluting, no nozzles clogged with foreign material. You can use the chisel method, the plowsole method or inject FUMAZONE 86 into your irrigation water. Could you ask for greater flexibility? Sure you could. So here it is. Apply FUMAZONE 86 before planting, at planting or after planting. It's the only type of soil fumigant that can be used on living plants. Ask your Dow farm chemicals supplier about it.

A lot of congressmen, city people and even some folks close to farming have a serious misconception about the amount of tax money being paid farmers on price support, diversion payments, etc.

L. A. Forsythe calls our attention to a bill before Congress called the "Fair Farm Budget Act" which would require USDA to break down its budget so the people may know exactly how much goes to farmers and how much to other programs.

* * *

Only 34 cents of every dollar in the U.S. Dept of Agriculture budget goes to farmers for price support, while 66 cents goes to consumers, business, and the public in general. But the public gets the impression $7. billion goes to farmers for subsidies.

Such things as inspection of meat, poultry and dairy products, school lunch programs, foreign food relief, rural roads, forestry maintenance, and hundreds of other such items are included in the USDA budget.

* * *

We're getting a little tired of hearing the "Chamberlains" and "Quislings" complain about the civilians who get in the way of American bombs aimed at enemy targets in North Vietnam. We have yet to hear Sen. Bobby Kennedy or Senator Fulbright complain about the torture and rape and murder of South Vietnamese people, the ambush of American boys fighting for freedom, or the bombing of an American embassy occupied by civilians. We were taught as a schoolboy that impeding the war effort of our nation was traitorous. But, we guess loyalty to country is old-fogie.

* * *

On its war against "poverty" we were promised by the Great Society that 40,000 graduates would be turned out annually as useful income-earning citizens. But, the program is a dismal failure, if a number of writers, investigators and Congressmen are correct. It sez here that from 112 training centers, 7,341 people were placed in jobs, 934 returned to school, and best of all, 1,491 entered the Armed Forces, for a total of 9,766. Total cost to us taxpayers was $522,302,378, or $53,502 per individual. Wouldn't it be better to just hand out $53,502 of our tax money to each individual and lift him out of poverty all in one stroke?

* * *

Now LBJ wants a whole lot more money to combat crime. Wouldn't it be better to just enforce some of the laws we now have—or had before the Supreme Court took over protection of criminals? Before the Administration began encouraging civil strife? Before the Attorney General started looking the other way? If we're going to stop crime, we've got to start getting tough on criminals.

James Hollars brought us the following story he got from a house organ, Tom's Peanut Toaster:

How To Create A Depression

A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs. He was hard of hearing so he had no radio. He had trouble with his eyes so he read no newspapers. But he sold good hot dogs. He put up signs on the highway telling how good they were. He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister." And people bought. He increased his meat and bun orders. He brought his son home from college to help him.

But then something happened... His son said, "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio? There's a depression on. The European situation is bad. The Asian situation is terrible. The domestic situation is worse."

Whereupon the father thought, "Well, my son's been to College, he reads the papers and he listens to the radio, and he ought to know."

So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders, took down his advertising signs, and no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs. And his hot dog sales fell off almost overnight.

"You're right son," the father said to the boy. "We certainly are in the middle of a terrible depression."

* * *

Maurice Small says: "Trying to get a word in edgewise with some people is like trying to thread a sewing machine needle with the motor running." Now, of all people to be making a statement like that! But, Maurice ought to know.

* * *

Al Lehman prompted us to ask his cute little granddaughter, Brenda, age four, "Are you jealous?" And Brenda indignantly answered, "No, Jewish!"

* * *

An Austrailian was trying to impress a visiting Texan with the wonders of Australia, but with little success. Just then a kangaroo jumped by.

"Ah'll grant you one thing," the Texan said. "Your grasshoppers are bigger'n ours."

* * *

Some people are terrible at counting calories — and there are figures to prove it.

* * *

You see some strange pets around these days. The other day a woman was walking down the street with a big greyhound dog. It had a bus painted on its side.

* * *

Fashion note: There will be little change in men's pockets this season.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

These days there is a great deal of discussion about the presumed lower moral climate of the younger generation.

* * *

This is quite a debatable subject inasmuch as with the complex of modern mass communications, more publicity can now be given to the "odd balls" than was possible in post-eelcronic days.

* * *

C. W. Harder

However, if there has been any substantial breakdown in the moral outlook of the youth, perhaps then some consideration should be given to the examples set before them.

* * *

A recent incident is quite illustrative of this point. Back in the days of President Calvin Coolidge, there was a Secretary of the Interior Albert Fall, who was involved in the Teapot Dome scandal, wherein U. S. Navy oil reserve lands were turned over to private parties.

* * *

There was no hesitation in prosecuting this matter, once it came to light. As one of the results, the Secretary of Interior was convicted of taking a bribe of $100,000 and he went to prison.

* * *

While it is customary in all government offices to hang the portraits of past heads of the department on the walls, for years since this crime, the portrait of Fall was not to be seen.

* * *

But the other day, Interior Secretary Stewart Udall ordered that the long hidden portrait be found and it is now hanging in a position of honor in the Interior Department offices in Washington.

* * *

Of course, while liberals like to scoff at President Coolidge for being an old "fuddy-duddy" conservative, Silent Cal as he was known, was not a man given to mouthy orations on honesty in government. He contented himself with enforcing honesty in government, with no excuses accepted for evil.

* * *

But this little matter of a portrait hanging probably indicates better than anything else how far drifts American Republic from rock-ribbed integrity.

* * *

So far, and it is highly unlikely this will ever happen, West Point has not placed a statue of Benedict Arnold in honored view. It does display the boot that was lost when Arnold was serving his country faithfully and before he turned traitor.

* * *

Of course, times change in this era of billions of dollars flowing into Washington and perhaps a $100,000 bribe does not amount to much by today's standards.

* * *

But no doubt, youth observes, and ponders.

Former New Home Teachers Write The News

Dear Sirs:

We are very happy in our retirement. Our advice to anyone is to retire while you are able to get into another vocation.

Homer works all day long every day in all kinds of weather. He feeds cows, horses and pigs. He cuts wood for our fireplace. He uses a tractor in many ways.

I sew, work in the yard, read, watch TV, work in Eastern Star, and have charge of the young people in BTU.

We are hopefully watching for spring as we have had six months of cold weather. We have plenty of moisture, and green grass is showing up.

Mr. Hill, we look for more news from dear ole New Home. Can't you get a reporter from there?

Mrs. Homer L. Miller, Bennington, Oklahoma. 74723.

Dear Mr. Hill:

I would like to tell you how much I enjoy the Lynn County News. On Fridays I can hardly wait for the mail.

I read with interest your comments on life in the small town compared to a big city. Living in Dallas has some advantages, but at the moment I can't think of them. I would love to be in Tahoka going on the paper route with Daddy and seeing all the friendly people of Tahoka.

Agani I would like to say thank you for The News.

Sincerely,

Mrs. B. H. (Shirley) Burkhalter, 1711 Pleasant Run, Carrollton, Texas 75006.

Land Diversion Warning Given

Farmers who participate in the 1967 upland cotton and feed grain programs are being cautioned about the kind of land they intend to divert under such programs.

According to Wayman Smith, chairman of Lynn County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, payments for a farm will be reduced where the county committee determines that the cropland set aside for diverted acres under the program is substantially less productive than the average cropland normally used to produce the crop.

In such a case, the farm operator will first be given an opportunity and urged to designate other land of at least average productivity for diversion under the program. If this is not done, program payments will be reduced in proportion to the lower yields which could reasonably be expected from the acreage diverted.

Any reduction indicated in the payment otherwise earned by the farmer would be subtracted, as applicable, from the farm diversion, the price-support, and the certificate payments—in that order. (Diversion payments are available for upland cotton and feed grains; and certificate payments are available in connection with wheat.)

Growers are reminded that the signup for cotton and feed grain programs will close March 17, 1967. Signing up is a necessary first step in qualifying for any price support or other program benefits.

Pleasant Grove Pastor Resigns

Rev. M. P. Swisher, pastor of Pleasant Grove Baptist Church the past two years, has resigned and he and his wife have gone to Ganado, Ariz., where they are now teachers in Nazline Boarding School. Mrs. Swisher is the former Ella Sayles.

The church has been carrying out extensive improvements under his pastorage, The News is informed.

Some months ago, the church bought the old Dunbar School building for $750, and recently bought the New Lynn Baptist Church building for $750.00 and moved the 32 x 40-ft. frame structure to the lots adjacent to the old school on the south. First Baptist Church contributed about $300 for foundation for the building and other improvements.

The frame building will be connected to the old school by a breezeway, there will be a pastor's study and a secretary's office, and in the school building one large room is being converte to a fellowship hall and the rest of the building will be used as Sunday School rooms.

First Baptist Church has been helping the congregation on the project, and has gotten for them a loan of $1,700.00 from the Home Mission Board of the Baptist General Convention to complete the plant.

Rev. Jim Turner, First Baptist pastor, says new pews and pulpit furniture will also be installed in the church.

Rev. Sidney Pistone Is Now Improving

Rev. Sidney Pistone, 34, pastor of Getsemani Mision Bautista, who was critically injured in a car wreck two weeks ago, is now showing improvement in Methodist Hospital, where he is a patient.

Rev. Jmimy Turner, First Baptist pastor, visited Rev. Pistone Wednesday and says the doctors have given the family much encouragement and believe he will recover but will be in the hospital for some time. Test made Wednesday showed he did not have a blood clot. As soon as he is recovered sufficient, surgery will be done on his face.

Rev. Pistone was injured Wednesday, Feb. 15, on US Highway 87 at intersection of FM 1585, three miles south of Lubock, when three men in a pickup from the side road drove in front of him. One man, Thomas E. Timmons, 23, was killed, and two others, J. C. Davis, 24, and Ralph Deatherage, 36, were injured.

"The Best of Everything"

Dear Editor:

I did not say "WE DO ALL THE GOOD JOBS". I mearly said, "WE DO ALL OUR JOBS GOOD." I had thought of serving donuts and coffee on Feb. 15, to celebrate the beginning of my 40th year of pumping gas. But I'm not much of a salesman; besides the CUSTOMER is more interested in GOOD SERVICE than in free coffee and donuts; don't you think?

You may tell the public, for me, that I do not want ALL THE BUSINESS. I couldn't take care of that much business and I realize that my competitors could not feed their families if I got it all. We dont want that to happen, now do we? We only want to let the public know that we CAN and WILL DO A GOOD JOB of servicing your car. YOU may come in and have YOUR car serviced, dear Editor, right now, while it is fresh on your mind.

See you at the pumps.

This is to announce that I have sold my Grain and Seed business to J. B. Greer and M. M. McClendon who operate the business as the G - M Grain & Seed Co.
