Grand Jury Called Back Into Session

Howard County Grand Jury was convened at 1:30 p.m. today on a sudden recall order out of 118th District Court.

The grand jurors were said to have been asked to meet to hear witnesses dealing with alleged actions of two former city police officers who were discharged earlier this week by Jay Banks, police chief. No charges have been filed against anyone in connection with the case.

The incident, which allegedly is to be checked out by the grand jurors, grew out of a burglary last weekend of a liquor store on the Snyder highway. The break-in, outside the city limits, was reportedly discovered by two city patrolmen. They in turn called the sheriff's office which made the official investigation.

As an aftermath of the investigation, about 13 bottles of whisky were recovered. Chief Banks dismissed two patrolmen Tuesday and demoted a sergeant to a patrolman.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said that evidence in the case will be laid before the grand jurors. The body was called into session Thursday because Burns said he felt it might take more than one day to complete the hearing.

Two men who were dismissed were said to be out of town, but Burns said they had been advised of the grand jury session.

Gold Price Climbs

LONDON (AP)—The price of gold in Europe's bullion markets rose to new highs today despite indications from Washington that Congress is preparing action to reduce the U.S. foreign payments deficit.

In the London market, the price was fixed at $39.25, up five cents on Wednesday night's close. This was the highest level since the reopening of the London market April 1.

The rise has been steady for 10 days since Federal Reserve Chairman William McChesney Martin's warning of the danger of another financial crisis.

On the London foreign exchange market, the pound dropped 13 points on the news from Washington with its implications of tougher selling conditions for British exporters in the United States. The pound opened at $2.3963, down from $2.2975, then eased another point to $2.3962.

Dealers in the London gold market said turnover was very brisk but they believed much of the demand was coming from industrial users, especially American, rather than speculators.

Commitment Urged

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Vice President Hubert Humphrey called today for "a new and complete national commitment to human rights" to meet the problems created by "the indecent denial of human equality in this country."

His speech was prepared for the 38th quadrennial session of the African Methodist Episcopal Churches here.

Humphrey, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, outlined these steps to achieve progress in human rights:

—"Meeting the problems of hard-core unemployment—of rats and roaches and rotten houses—and disease—and ignorance—in America's urban and rural slums."

—"Listening closely, as I have this week through the offices of the government, to the demands of the Poor People's marchers in Washington — for theirs is an authentic voice of the America which has been left out."

—"Dealing squarely and effectively with those who defeat their own cause by violence and riots and civil disorders—for they undermine the determined efforts of those of us who are trying hardest to make equal rights into equal results."

Divided The World

OTTAWA (AP)—Former Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson says U.S. involvement in Vietnam has divided the world into pro- and anti-American camps, and "on this particular issue there are not too many pro-Americans in the world."

The retiring statesman made the comment in an interview with the Canadian Press.

As a result, Pearson said, the United States, "the most powerful country in the world is now having its moral power and prestige weakened by the way it has become bogged down, in fighting, indecisively, a small Asian country."

"I don't know anything like this in history," he said, "where you have a state, with greater material power than any other ever possessed, but which is unable to impose its will on 19 million Indochinese."

CONSIDERABLE INCREASE IN SOME AREAS

Absentee Ballots Indicate Record Vote

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

Texas voters may turn out in record numbers for the Saturday primary if the number of absentee ballots is an indication.

A spot check of key cities by the Associated Press Wednesday showed a considerable increase in many places in absentee balloting which ended Tuesday.

The jump in registration appears to have resulted from elimination of the poll tax as a requirement for voting.

About four million Texans registered to vote this year, about one million above the previous high.

The rule of thumb in predicting the number of participants in the first primary each two years is to divide the number registered in half. Record vote for a primary is 1.6 million, set in 1964.

It is difficult to predict, however, how many of the newly registered voters will exercise their rights to ballot.

The absentee voting pattern showed that totals in some counties shot up, some remained about the same, and a few declined.

Harris County (Houston), with the heaviest vote in the state, showed 4,135 absentee votes this year. In the 1964 primary 4,917 persons voted by absentee ballot. A number of ballots still in the mail may enlarge the Harris County total this year.

Showing small declines in absentee balloting were Bexar County (San Antonio), Howard County (Big Spring), Cameron County (Brownsville), and Cooke County (Gainesville).

But other counties showed considerable gains. Hale County (Plainview) more than doubled in absentee voting, jumping from 75 in 1964 to 168 for the coming primary. Potter County (Amarillo) went to 699 from 475 and adjoining Randall County went to 442 from 304.

Tarrant County (Fort Worth) also gained strongly from 895 in 1964 to 1,344 this year in Democratic ballots. Comparable Republican totals were not available for Tarrant County.

Another vote-strong county, Nueces (Corpus Christi), rose to 1,263 from 915.

Savage Fighting Enters Fourth Day

SAIGON (AP) — The Vietnam's war's heaviest sustained fighting since the Communist command's Tet offensive in February raged through a fourth day today in the northeast corner of South Vietnam. Allied forces reported 1,139 enemy killed in continuing battles near Hue and Dong Ha.

In savage fighting two miles northeast of Dong Ha, a North Vietnamese counterattack today repulsed Leathernecks assaulting an enemy bunker complex.

HEAVY FIRE

U.S. headquarters said the North Vietnamese hit the advancing Marine column with heavy artillery and mortar fire.

"The enemy launched a strong counterattack causing the friendly units to lose ground," headquarters said. At last report, more air strikes were being called in on the enemy positions.

Dong Ha is headquarters of the 3rd Marine Division and anchors the allied outposts along the eastern flank of the demilitarized zone that separates the two Vietnams.

Marines from the 3rd and 4th regiments have been locked in bitter bunker-to-bunker fighting since Tuesday with North Vietnamese troops menacing Dong Ha.

U.S. and South Vietnamese forces reported that in the fighting around Dong Ha and Hue since Monday, 93 of their men were killed and 449 wounded.

If the casualty figures are accurate, they indicate allied forces are killing 12 enemy soldiers for every American and South Vietnamese killed in the recent heavy fighting.

U.S. commanders in the northern sector also reported that the 15,000-man allied force sweeping the A Shau Valley southwest of Hue had cut one of the enemy's main supply and infiltration routes from North Vietnam. But "there are still a lot of nooks and crannies we have not looked into," said Marine Lt. Gen. Robert E. Cushman, commander of U.S. forces in the northern provinces.

In the fighting outside Hue, the enemy dead included a North Vietnamese battalion commander, a battalion executive officer and three company commanders. U.S. paratroopers also reported the surrender of 97 North Vietnamese troops, including five women nurses.

BIGGEST BAG

It was believed to be the war's biggest bag of prisoners. The captives said their battalion was to become the occupation force for Hue after another enemy offensive they said was planned. The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong captured most of Hue in February and held it for weeks.

Hard fighting and artillery duels continued again today on both sides of Dong Ha, headquarters of the U.S. 3rd Marine Division 11 miles south of the demilitarized zone.

The biggest battle was going on two miles northeast of Dong Ha, where the Marines have been locked in combat with North Vietnamese troops since Tuesday.

WARSAW FAVORED

Hanoi Rejects Talks On Ship

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A spokesman for the North Vietnamese Embassy in Vientiane today rejected the proposal to hold preliminary peace talks with the United States aboard an Indonesian cruiser in the Gulf of Tonkin. The United States had accepted the proposal, but North Vietnamese rejection was expected in Washington.

Terming the ship board talks "unacceptable" to the Hanoi government the North Vietnamese spokesman said the proposal by the Indonesian government "does not meet a single one of President Johnson's own conditions for preliminary contacts.

"It shows that the four conditions set by Johnson are merely a pretext for avoiding preliminary contacts," he asserted. "The United States is looking for one pretext after another because it wants to continue the war."

Recalling Johnson's demand for a neutral site for the talks, the spokesman said "Indonesia is not neutral," an indication that Hanoi considers the Jakarta government pro-Western since President Sukarno's ouster.

"Furthermore, contacts held on a ship would exclude representatives of other countries and of the press and would not permit what President Johnson called 'adequate communications'—conditions set by Johnson himself," the spokesman added.

He said Hanoi still insists the talks be held either in Phnom Penh, Cambodia, or Warsaw, Poland, both of which the U.S. government has rejected.

In Washington, a number of U.S. senators were urging the Johnson administration to accept Warsaw.

Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated he and other committee members told Undersecretary of State Nicholas Katzenbach that the United States should lift its objections to the Polish capital as a site for talks.

Another committee member who asked not to be named said he's convinced the United States rejected Warsaw because of objections raised by the South Vietnamese.

Fulbright, asked if South Vietnamese objections are holding up talks, replied: "They are a major reason why we don't—both South Vietnam and South Korea—but especially South Vietnam."

New Clash At Columbia

Police and students clash at Columbia University in New York for the second straight day yesterday. The university called off classes today after the new fighting between police and some rebellious students. Several policemen and students were injured in the clash as police tried to clear students from an area near an entrance to the university.

Israelis Go Ahead With Parade Plans

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel celebrated 20 years of nationhood today with a parade of its military hardware—bought from the West and captured from the Arabs—that enraged the Arab world. It ran straight through the captured Arab section of Jerusalem.

Protest demonstrations were under way in several Arab capitals. In Lebanon, some 10,000 persons demonstrated against Israel's defiance of a U.N. Security Council resolution calling for cancellation of the parade because it would hurt chances for a Middle East peace.

SKIRTS CITY

The parade route skirted the old walled city, starting in a newer Arab quarter and passing into a Jewish sector.

Moving with clock-like precision, every unit of the Israeli land, sea and air force quickstepped along the route.

Huge clouds of dust covered the area near the main reviewing stand at the start of the parade when tanks and armored vehicles clanged by.

Much of the materiel consisted of Soviet-made armor, artillery and missile-bearing equipment captured from the Arabs. There were also a number of American built 155mm artillery pieces.

The 75-minute-long parade concluded exactly on schedule, and apparently without a hitch.

Arabs who had shuttered their apartments at first, later opened their windows and crowded on to balconies in the newer section to watch the marchers and aerial show.

Braving sweltering heat, thousands of joyous Israelis and foreign visitors lined every foot of the five-mile parade route through the once-divided city.

Soldiers and police stood guard all along the route, keeping a watchful lookout for trouble from clandestine Arab groups that ordered a boycott of the parade. Visitors were checked at roadblocks on all roads leading into the city.

Along with an impressive show of their own weaponry the Israelis paraded Soviet tanks, self-propelled artillery, surface-to-air missiles, and other equipment captured from the Arabs in the six-day war last June.

SALUTED

Male and female soldiers marched past the reviewing stand and saluted Prime Minister Levi Eshkol, President Zalman Shazar and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan.

It all commemorated the 20 turbulent years since bushy-haired David Ben-Gurion, as head of the provisional government, stood up in Tel Aviv's Museum of Modern Art and proclaimed Israel an independent state.

Trustees Agree To Study Changes

NEW YORK (AP) — Columbia University's board of trustees, meeting in special session on the campus crisis, agreed today to study basic changes in the university structure and to consult with community leaders on the fate of a controversial gymnasium in nearby Morningside Park.

The board took the action after conferring with a 12-member executive committee of the faculty named Tuesday and charged in a general faculty resolution with restoring order to the strife-torn Ivy League campus.

The action by the trustees, aimed at two key demands of the protesting students who have disrupted academic life for nine days, was coupled with a request that "all students and faculty resume their scholarly activities so that the presence of the police can be ended."

There was no immediate comment from leaders of the protest.

Columbia had called off classes in most of its branches again today after new fighting flared Wednesday between police and protesting students.

At least 11 persons, including five policemen, were injured when about 30 police charged a chanting, hostile crowd attending a rally by the university gate at Amsterdam Avenue and 116th Street. One student was arrested.

The clash marked the ninth day of disorders in the emotion-charged protest that has virtually paralyzed the university—a day which the administration had set aside for "reason and reflection" by all concerned.

Stanford Team Begins Second Heart Transplant

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A heart transplant is under way at Stanford University Medical Center, a spokesman said today.

He said no details could be revealed immediately either as to patient or donor "pending certain clearances from the families."

This is the second heart transplant at Stanford. Dr. Norman E. Shumway and a team of surgeons performed the first on Jan. 6. The recipient, first adult in the nation to receive a human heart from another, was retired steelworker Mike Kasperak, 54. He died of internal hemorrhage and other complications 15 days after the operation.

Kasperak's transplant was the fourth ever to be performed. It was done by the man credited with doing most to develop the procedures and techniques during almost 10 years of work with laboratory dogs. Shumway said after Kasperak's death that he would attempt another transplant when the right patient and donor were on hand at the right time.

MARKER DEDICATED AT SITE OF KING'S DEATH

Hundreds Start March To Washington

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Hundreds of Negroes are starting the Poor People's March on Washington, envisioned by Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as a means of dramatizing the plight of the poor of all races.

As a final preliminary before departure of a bus caravan to Marks, Miss., today, a marble stone bearing a cross and a star is being dedicated here in memory of the slain civil rights leader.

King's widow and the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, the man who succeeded King as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, take part in dedication of the stone, to be placed on the second floor balcony of the Lorraine Motel where King was standing when killed by a sniper April 4.

Then Abernathy leads the first contingent of the Poor People's Campaign on a twisting two-mile route through some of Memphis' worst slums to buses chartered for the trip to Marks.

Both Mrs. King and Abernathy addressed a kickoff rally of about 8,000 Wednesday night and pleaded for a large turnout for both the dedication and the trip to Marks, the town termed by King as the nation's worst rural poverty area.

A brief outbreak of violence flared in Marks Wednesday when about 20 Mississippi highway patrolmen used rifle butts to break up a demonstration by Negro high school pupils outside the Quitman County jail.

Deputy Jack Harrison said about 350 students had started a sit-in to protest the arrest of Willie Bolden, an advance organizer for SCLC.

By the time the trouble had subsided, seven of the SCLC organizers were in jail.

The memorial stone, a 4-foot-by-44-inch slab of white marble weighing 250 pounds, is on a pedestal for the ceremony.

Below a star and cross were King's name, birth date, date of death and his title in SCLC. Then was engraved this inscription from the 37th chapter of Genesis:

"They said one to another, behold, here cometh the dreamer. "Let us slay him. We shall see what becomes of his dream."

King came to Memphis to plan another march in support of striking city sanitation workers when he was killed. He led a previous march which erupted into a flurry of window breaking and looting and had been scheduled a mass meeting the night he was slain.

Abernathy said poor white people from Appalachia, Indians, Mexican-Americans and Puerto Ricans would join Negroes in the campaign.

Businessmen Favor Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top businessmen overwhelmingly favor Richard M. Nixon for president—and a number bitterly oppose Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, according to a copyright Washington Post survey.

The newspaper said Nixon was favored by 91 of 160 leading executives surveyed. New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was second with 38 votes and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey third with 24.

Kennedy was the choice of three executives, California Gov. Ronald Reagan of two and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and third party candidate George C. Wallace, one each.

LAST CHOICE

The Post said a number of executives' comments showed "an edge of bitterness toward Kennedy"—saying the Democratic candidate was their last choice or they thought him least qualified.

Nearly three-fourths of the executives identified themselves as Republicans, the newspaper said. It said questionnaires were sent to 298 executives, including the entire membership of the prestigious Business Council, which has worked closely with President Johnson, and 180 responded.

Humphrey, the Democratic presidential candidate who fared best in the poll, told a U.S. Chamber of Commerce luncheon Wednesday that some businessmen have even "out-liberaled Hubert Humphrey" and said their help is needed to solve slum problems.

In other political developments:

—Republican candidate Rockefeller takes a swing through Iowa today after calling his Massachusetts primary victory a surprise to him and urging de-Americanization of the Vietnam war.

—Kennedy, pressing his campaign in Indiana's May 7 presidential primary, said the administration should be more flexible on a site for tentative Vietnam peace talks. "We need not worry about whether we will lose face by agreeing to a site we have not suggested," he said in Lafayette.

'MOB PRIMARIES'

—McCarthy, whose Democratic presidential campaign began as a protest to Vietnam policy, said in Louisville the issue should not be lost sight of. "This whole question hasn't been put to the people since New Hampshire," he said. "It ought to be again."

—California Gov. Ronald Reagan said in a position paper civil rights must be attained by "time, skill and resourcefulness and capital from all sectors," not "by shrill exaggerations or false promises and it will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club."

ELECTION SUPPLIES READY FOR SATURDAY
Stacks of ballot boxes await arrival of precinct judges

Ballot Boxes Are Ready For Saturday Election

All ballot boxes for the 21 Democratic and nine Republican voting precincts to see action Saturday are prepared and ready for the precinct judges, Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk, said today.

Most of the voting places will require four different boxes. Ballots, tally sheets, pencils, report forms—everything needed for the conduct of the election — is in the boxes.

The Republican County chairman, Dr. Akin Simpson, said that his party would send a pickup truck and deliver the boxes and supplies to the nine voting places the party will operate in the first primary.

Judges from the 21 Democratic voting boxes will begin picking up their boxes today and Friday.

The polls swing into action at 7 a.m. Saturday. They will remain open until 7 p.m.

Voters will decide the two high men they want to compete in the June 1 run-off primary in the several races in which there are more than two candidates.

Immediately after the polls close Saturday, the all - important precinct party conventions will be held at the voting places. At these caucuses the delegates to the county party conventions will be selected. All party members who have voted in the primary of that date are eligible to take part in the precinct conventions.

Local interest in the election Saturday in centered on the two county commissioner post contests. Other than for these two races, there are no other contested county contests. One justice of the peace race, with two contenders, and one constable race, with two candidates, make up the balance of the local ticket.

The Republican voters have only one contested race and it is on the state level. They will have to decide their favorites in the governor's race.

The Democrats will have a number of state contests in which competition exists. Both parties will also voice their approval or disapproval of three proposals dealing with pari mutuel betting, sale of intoxicants by the drink and the creation of a state dairy commission.

This year's primary will be open to the largest number of registered voters ever to be qualified in this county. Supplies have been prepared for more than 14,000 votes, but no one anticipates any such turnout at the polls.

The absentee vote was less this year than in 1964, the last presidential election year. That year, nearly 3,000 fewer qualified voters were on the poll rolls of the county.

Tips To Texas' Truckers Listed

AUSTIN — Truckers today were urged to use designated rest areas or to park off frontage roads when taking rest stops along controlled access highways.

The Texas Highway Department recently has received reports of large trucks making rest stops along the main travel lanes of freeways and expressways, creating driving hazards.

State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall said one person was killed and another injured in an early-morning crash when a car slammed into the rear of a truck-trailer combination parked on an acceleration ramp on a Texas Interstate highway.

Fog had restricted visibility. When a second car stopped to render aid, it was hit by a third vehicle. In all, 13 people were involved in the accidents.

Gov. Reagan Calls For Equal Rights

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan plans to spell out his position on major issues this political year in a series of papers going to "opinion molders" throughout the nation.

In his first such paper, a 22-page illustrated booklet, he called Wednesday for united public and private enterprise to "guarantee equal rights for all."

"It will not be achieved through mob action or by the torch or the club," Reagan asserted.

POSITION PAPERS

Aides said the position papers will be followed by others dealing with law and order, public assistance, economic growth, job opportunities, education and the quality of life in America.

The position papers will be mailed to governors, national and state leaders, businessmen, newsmen and "other opinion molders in the independent sector," the aides said, and will "point the direction the Reagan administration will take in the days and months ahead."

Reagan, who describes himself only as a favorite son candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, spent last weekend speaking in Idaho and Colorado. In two weeks he leaves on a five-day tour of the South and Midwest.

Meanwhile, Reagan's role on the national political scene is straining his relations with the Democratic-controlled legislature, in which his legislative program is bottled up.

Democratic Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh said Wednesday that the governor "just doesn't know what's going on in this state even with his own program."

"The governor has clearly indicated that he would like to be on the national ticket," Unruh declared. He said Reagan is being used by New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to prevent former Vice President Richard M. Nixon from going to Miami Beach with the nomination secured.

"I'm not collaborating with anyone," Reagan shot back.

Tiny School Torn By More Demands

SIERRA BLANCA, Tex. (AP) —An extended list of demands was presented the Sierra Blanca school board Wednesday by a group leading a student boycott that started April 24.

The boycott has continued with about half the 165 pupils attending the school.

Three original demands by the group of parents, calling themselves the Committee for Justice and exclusively Latin Americans, were increased Wednesday with copies of the demands sent to the Texas Education Agency (TEA) and the State Board of Education.

Following a Wednesday mass meeting, these proposals were presented:

—Dismissal of Billy Joe Brown from the faculty.

—Appointment of Mrs. Pilar West to a school board vacancy.

NO REPRISALS

—A guarantee of no reprisals against students taking part in the boycott.

—The hiring of two Mexican-American teachers and a Mexican-American athletic coach for the coming year.

—The hiring of a Mexican-American principal.

—Opening of board meetings to the public except for executive sessions.

—P-TA members be permitted to attend and take part in board meetings.

Joe Abb Neeley, board president, issued a statement saying the board acted April 9 on teacher contracts after considering applicants best suited for employment in the coming year.

At a special meeting two weeks later, Neeley said it was agreed there would be no further spankings in the school without having at least one parent or guardian present. With no further contact from the group, Neeley said the boycott started April 24 and nothing further was heard until an inquiry was received tw days later from the State Board of Education.

Neeley said the board has been notified flatly that the boycott will continue until all demands are met. There was no indication Wednesday of any return to classes.

LOCKE RAPS YARBOROUGH'S 'PIE-IN-THE-SKY' PROGRAM

Campaign Spending Draws Fire

By The Associated Press

Six of the 10 Democrats running for governor in Saturday's primary election became targets for verbal fire from their opponents in the waning campaign.

Sharing interest with these broadsides was a televised appeal Wednesday night by Gov. John Connally for voters to "consider carefully what kind of man should be elected" to succeed him as the state's chief excutive.

STRANGLEHOLD

At the same time backers claimed one of three Republicans in the governor's race, John Trice, is favored overwhelmingly by their party's state executive committee. It added that his success "hinges on our effort to break the state chairman's stranglehold on Dallas."

Connally urged in his address also that Democrats at their precinct conventions Saturday evening defeat backers of various contenders for the presidential nomination and send him to their national convention as a favorite son candidate.

Without endorsing any of those bidding for the governor's office, Connally urged that his party nominate one who possesses vision, character, integrity, capacity, stature and courage.

The next governor should be an individual "who rises above the petty political dealing which can take over the political scene," Connally said. "... He should be a broad, progressive, reasonable man who can work with all segments of our society.

Campaign spending generated much of the steam in what several of the Democratic candidates had to say about some of their rivals.

LOBBY CONTROL?

Edward Whittenburg asserted at Abilene that five of his opponents — Don Yarborough, Dolph Briscoe, John Hill, Eugene Locke and Lt. Gov. Preston Smith — failed to give names or addresses for many contributors in filing expense reports, required by the Texas election code. He said Waggoner Carr's account came closest to avoiding these deficiencies.

"I am the only man complying with the law and saying who is supporting me," Whittenburg said.

In another gibe at the lieutenant governor, Whittenburg called Smith a phantom candidate because he refused invitations to appear with opponents in Houston, Galveston and Dallas, adding, "Smith moves so fast in the lobby control circles I wonder how many people would see him if he were elected."

Carr, stumping the Fort Worth area, said Locke and Briscoe each reported campaign expenditures exceeding half a million dollars. He mentioned Smith and Yarborough as other heavy spenders.

"I demand in behalf of the people of Texas that these candidates who are spending a half million dollars each tell the people what they had to promise to get the money," Carr said.

NO WAY

Carr told a Fort Worth Jaycees audience the No. 1 concern of Texas voters is respect for law and order. Calling for removal of Dr. Larry Caroline as a University of Texas professor, he asked, "Isn't it odd that a man on your payroll can advocate bloody revolution and nothing can be done about it?"

Locke aimed part of his utterances at Yarborough.

"His program is nothing but pie-in-the-sky," Locke said of Yarborough. "There is no way you can increase state services, decrease taxes and wipe out poverty all at the same time."

Speaking in San Antonio, Locke promised to seek public kindergarten pilot programs in areas where Spanish-speaking residents are concentrated. He said he can work better with business than any of his opponents on training unemployed workers.

Briscoe confidently predicted he will poll more votes than anyone else in the governor's race and perhaps win without a runoff.

"If we had one more week to work," Briscoe told workers at an Amarillo reception, "I don't think there would be any doubt that a runoff would be unnecessary, and we don't rule out the possibility that there may be no runoff this year.

FAIR GUARANTEE

"We have been weighing and assessing hundreds of reports from all parts of the state and we can reach no other conclusion."

John Hill, in Dallas, said he felt certain of at least going into a June 1 runoff for the governor's nomination.

Hill said, "People see that I honor my commitments, and those commitments are not based on political expediency because problems don't shift with the political winds. My candidacy is right for the times and people are responding to it."

Some groups want more than their share of representation in government and "I won't allow that," Hill said. "I will guarantee them fair representation but nothing more."

Lt. Gov. Smith talked about vocational education as he campaigned in Dallas and said a poll of Dallas precinct chairmen indicated more than half of them would vote for him.

Disclosing that he has approved a Senate committee's proposal that some of the lawmakers join business leaders, educators and others in a conference on job training, Smith said, "Currently we see the demand for skilled technicians, a field in which Texas lags behind, is increasing at a much faster rate than any occupation group."

The lieutenant governor said the poll of precinct chairmen in Dallas gave him 89 votes, leaving 42 for others in his race plus 26 undecided.

Yarborough said at a news conference in Fort Worth that many business men "have been suckered into listening to lables instead of facts."

TIGHT CLIQUE

"Texas government is entrenched by "that tight little clique that's picking the fathers from both labor and management," Yarborough went on. The group of pied pipers has created the mythical battle between labor and management, and is taking advantage of both.

"I'm not in anybody's picket. Favoritism is out the window with me. I refuse to exploit or to be exploited."

Aides of Republican candidate Trice said a poll of the GOP state executive committee by one of its members, Thornton Chambers of Galveston, disclosed strong favor for Trice among the committeemen.

'SHOPWORN'

Trice accused state Republican chairman Peter O'Donnell of trying to leave a false impression that California Gov. Ronald Reagan is not a contender for president and referring to former Vice President Richard Nixon as "shopworn."

Adding that the state chairmen's "handpicked candidate," not named, publicly supports New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for the nomination, Trice said in Dallas, "support John Trice if you are for a (Sen.) John Tower favorite son delegation to the national convention that will work for Nixon or Reagan alternatives."

Paul Eggers, another Republican running for governor, spoke out for the idea of single-member legislative and congressional districts for urban lawmakers. Most of them presently run at large in their respective counties.

Eggers said, "This system is ineffective, since most people never have a chance to know their representatives or how they stand on the issues. These city representatives have more constituents than congressmen or state senators."

Anderson Praises Title 1 Program

Supt. Sam Anderson of the Big Spring Independent School District has injected an optimistic note into the Title I program of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act in operation in Big Spring.

Anderson said this morning that he felt the programs here were functioning well and had accomplished much, in reference to an Associated Press story carried Wednesday by The Herald which left the impression that most Title I programs were not working out.

"This may be true in some cities, where there are severe ghetto problems, but I feel that the programs here have been most helpful," he said.

NEED FUNDS

Anderson pointed out that allocations here for the program are based upon the 1960 census, which showed 663 children in the district from families of income of less than $2,000. "This is 1968," he added, "and we need more funds and more long-range planning."

As it currently stands, $161.50 has been alloted for each of the 663 children, which roughly comes to $107,074. The federal funds come here based on approved application to the Texas Education Agency which distributes federal funds for the state.

Areas served here include Cedar Crest, Bauer and Lakeview Elementary Schools, and a sprinkling of Runnels Junior High School students.

"We have children in our other schools that need help and that could be helped if funds were available," Anderson said.

The Title I program here is geared toward remedial programs in math and reading and goes toward meeting nutritional and medical needs of some students. Hot lunches are provided for those students where the need is determined and a certain amount of acute medical needs is alloted for. There have been remedial reading and library programs and aides have been provided for teachers so there will be more time for individual instruction with children who need help, Anderson said. The summer program is expected to begin as soon as school is out, although the school district is waiting for final approval of funds.

PROBLEMS

"We have problems, to be sure," Anderson said. "For one thing, we are never certain of the amount of funds we are going to get and usually approval is given late. We don't have the benefits of long-range planning.

"Another problem is getting adequate personnel to staff our programs. This is due to the shortage of trained teaching personnel everywhere, and, to the indefiniteness of the program. We can't say this program is going to run for two or three years."

Anderson pointed out that the local school system has been able to use Head Start funds from the Office of Economic Opportunity for pre-school youngsters and then supplement the school programs with Title I funds.

Key To The City

Reds Put Brakes On Laos Attacks

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Western diplomats in Vientiane say the Communists have put the brakes on their drive against the U.S.-backed Royal Laotian forces.

Casualtie from Communist probes and mortar attacks now number in the twos and threes daily, instead of in the hundreds as they did during a big enemy push from Jan. 1 into April.

SOVIET PRESSURE

A Royal Army spokesman conjectured that the Communists might be regrouping for a new offensive. But several Western diplomats believe that the restraint is due to pressure from the Soviet Union, which possibly is anxious to block any Communist military action that could erect new barriers to peace in Vietnam.

Western diplomats say the Communists do not seem likely to overrun the fertile Mekong River plain facing Thailand.

"They could come down to the Mekong any day they wanted to," one Western military source said. "The really significant thing is that they are not exploiting their obvious military advantage."

The 75,000 Royal Laotian troops, beset by squabbles and a lack of fighting spirit, have been a poor match for about 40,000 Pathet Lao and an equal number of North Vietnamese.

From mid-January to the end of March the government lost substantial ground in the north and northeast sectors. A division-strength government force fled in disarray on Jan. 15 from the Nam Bac Valley 60 miles north of Luang Prabang, the royal capital. The army reportedly lost 5,000 men in the battle and retreat.

U.S. AID

The United States observes the 1962 Geneva agreement provision that no foreign troops be quartered in Laos, but U.S. bombers support Laotian troops by regular bombing missions against Communist forces. And the government army is supported by more than $10 million in U.S. aid each year.

The United States also operates radar stations in Laos, manning them with American civilians, to guide American bombers and reconnaissance planes to North Vietnam and to targets in Laos. Eight of the 12 American technicians at one station were killed March 11 when the North Vietnamese overran the post, which was in Sam Neua province 15 miles from the North Vietnamese border.

County Nurse Leaving Post

Mrs. Ray H. (Betsy) Puckett, RN, who has served as Howard County Health Nurse for the past 2½ years, is resigning from her post effective June 1. She has been with the City-County Health Unit here since mid-1966.

Mrs. Puckett, who lives with her husband, Ray H. Puckett, field superintendent for Humble, at 2604 Apache, said that she is leaving her post for two reasons. The first is that she will have to enter a hospital soon for foot surgery which will keep her from work for a least six weeks. The second reason is that it is probable the Pucketts may have to move to another town. Her husband's field of operations has been widened and the change has moved the center far from Big Spring.

She said that the first thing that she and Mr. Puckett plan to do is to leave for Long Beach, Calif., where they will visit one of their three sons, Lt. (jg) Don Puckett, USN. Lt. Puckett is soon to be sent to Japan for a two year hitch, and it is the desire of his parents to visit him before he leaves.

Mrs. Puckett said she has notified the Howard County Commissioners Court of her resignation. Her successor will be appointed, she hopes, before June 1.

Accuses Supreme Court Of Coddling Criminals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, pushing for Senate passage of a crime control bill that would supersede several controversial Supreme Court decisions, has accused the high court of coddling criminals.

The Arkansas Democrat said a majority of the court has taken it on itself to amend the Constitution and:

"We have to decide if we have the courage to do something about these self-confessed murderers and rapists that the Supreme Court is disposed to turn loose."

McClellan, in opening debate on the omnibus bill Wednesday, laid heavy emphasis on the section that would make confessions admissible as evidence in criminal trials if voluntarily given.

CRIME CONTROL

He called this a vital part of the legislation, but opponents hope to muster the votes to strike it from the bill.

In a 284-page Senate Judiciary Committee report on the bill, seven of the 16 members joined in a statement protesting efforts to undo Supreme Court restrictions on the use of confessions or other self-incriminating statements.

They challenged the constitutionality of this part of the bill, saying "simplistic answers do us no service in the struggle to find solutions for the complicated problems we face in the war against crime."

McClellan, floor manager for the bill, argued the Supreme Court has imperiled public safety while providing greatly increased protection for criminals.

He referred particularly to the 1966 Miranda decision which barred use of confessions unless a suspect is given the right to have a lawyer with him while being questioned by police.

Crash Hurts Two Youths

Two youths were treated and released at Webb AFB Hospital late Wednesday night after being involved in an accident at 4020 Vicky.

Steven G. Correira, 360; Calvin, driver, and his passenger, John Bookout, were in collision with the parked car of James J. Malone, 4020 Vicky. They were taken to the hospital by the Webb AFB ambulance. The incident occurred at 10:23 p.m.

In other accidents Wednesday, a car driven by Donna Williams, 406 Owens, was involved in a mishap with the parked car of Rogell Crawford, 2902, at the Malone-Hogan Clinic parking lot; and at 1703 Aylford, Pamela Kay Dyer, 1703 Aylford, collided with the parked car of E. J. Cobb, 123-A Barksdale.

Tuberculosis Cases Listed

Audrey Elmore, school testing nurse, told 14 board members of the Howard County Tuberculosis Association Wednesday that 101 positive reactors had been found in 3,553 public and private school tuberculosis tests.

Miss Elmore told the luncheon meeting at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center that the reactors are being given follow-up X-rays. Seven clinics for the families involved have been conducted, she said.

Mrs. Ray Puckett, county health nurse, reported two cases of tuberculosis from this area at the McKnight Sanitarium, which is now serving as Region 11 headquarters. X-ray follow-ups will now be given every three months the first year to patients and every six months the second year, she said, and will be paid for by the local TB association.

Ed Fisher presided and announced that Dr. Nell Sanders and Mrs. H. O. Hudgins, executive secretary, will be delegates to the state tuberculosis association convention in Houston May 19-22. Fisher also appointed committees for the year.

Nunez Takes Bus To State Prison

Raymond Puga Nunez, 19, under three year sentence for auto burglary, became the 34th passenger to board the Texas State Prison bus Thursday morning. Nunez was taken in custody by the state prison officers on the bus. The bus is on its last leg home after a swing around West Texas picking up prisoners who are to be admitted to the state penitentiary.

Several other prisoners are in the county jail here under prison sentences, but Sheriff A. N. Standard said that the only one ready for transfer at this time was Nunez.

Rusk Says U.S. Can Afford To Help Build Safer World

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk received a gloomy forecast today of congressional slashes in the controversial foreign aid program.

Rusk, appearing before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, maintained a U.S. moratorium on foreign aid would be a shock to the world.

Rusk urged the committee to approve the administration's $2.9 billion authorization request for the year beginning July 1. He also appealed for foreign aid to be spared two rounds of cuts if there is an agreement on an increase in taxes and decrease in appropriations.

'GLOOM DOOM'

But Rep. Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., said there is an apparent effort to curtail further the program from which Congress cut almost $1 billion last year. He warned Rusk about prospects of deep slashes.

Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen, R-N.J., said "the gossip is defeatist." Rep. William S. Mailliard, R-Calif., reported a "gloom and doom" atmosphere and said, "I wish we had more salesmen on the job."

Chairman Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., told Rusk some committee members contend the money in the foreign aid pipeline—unexpended appropriated funds—could carry the program over this year.

"This money is not free," Rusk said. "It is connected with previously made commitments."

Rusk told the committee the United States can afford to spend less than one per cent of its wealth to help build a safer, more prosperous world.

Rusk told the House Foreign Affairs Committee aid must be continued for South Vietnam and other Southeast Asia nations, as well as for the countries of Latin America and Africa.

FREEDOM

His testimony was prepared for delivery today.

"Some say we should postpone or eliminate foreign aid because of the cost of our efforts to help defend freedom in Southeast Asia," Rusk said. "But the freedom and progress of hundreds of millions of other Asians, of 250 million people in Latin America and of 260 million in Africa also engage our concern and are directly related to our own security and well-being."

302 Americans Killed, 2,458 Wounded In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. casualties in the Vietnam war increased last week, while those reported for the enemy and for South Vietnamese forces were less than the week before.

The U.S. Command in its weekly summary said 302 Americans were killed and 2,458 wounded last week, compared with 287 killed and 1,458 wounded the week before. Of the wounded last week, 1,363 required hospitalization.

South Vietnamese headquarters said government casualties were 253 killed, 785 wounded and seven missing. The week before the figures were 380 killed, 973 wounded and 30 missing.

Both the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reported 1,729 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, compared with a revised total for the week before of 2,397. South Vietnamese headquarters said another 143 of the enemy were captured last week.

The report raised to 22,006 the number of Americans killed in action in the war since Jan. 1, 1961, and increased the number of wounded to 137,668. Of the wounded, 72,141 were hospitalized.

It also reported 1,107 Americans missing, or captured, 18 more than last week.

The U.S. Command also reported the number of enemy killed by allied forces since January, 1961, now totals 332,032.

Pornography Publisher Offers Trading Stamps

COPENHAGEN (AP) — Order up some pornography in Denmark and get trading stamps thrown in.

"Business is business," said one Danish publisher of pornographic material that leaves little to the imagination. "We give trading stamps to our mail-order customers."

RULES RELAXED

Pornography is now a $50 million-a-year business in Denmark and it is expected to zoom even higher in June when a law goes into effect easing what once were strict regulations on written pornography.

The porno-producers are aiming for expansion in the export market. Their products already are being printed in many languages.

The man who gives trading stamps has 15,000 mail order customers.

Ninety per cent of these customers are from Germany and 99 per cent of them all are male customers," he said.

He supplies customers with a catalogue from which they can choose a wide variety of magazines, photographs, 8mm movies in black and white or color, slides and books. He also turns out an international circular in which his customers can advertise their secret desires. Women advertise free and the average response is 400 letters per ad.

HUGE PROFITS

"If we can sell it, it must be because there is a market for it," said another porno-producer.

Profits in the business are handsome. A magazine that costs the equivalent of 13 cents to produce brings a return of 15 times that much.

Denmark's photographic pornography leaves little to the imagination and garishly outrivals the stuff peddled by back street vendors of former times.

Production is already in full swing. It is not difficult to hire "actors" who are paid about $100 for making a sex film.

EASY MONEY

"I don't mind the work," said one 19-year-old male model. "It is easy money—and the work is not boring."

"It all started with Eve," said a 21-year-old Copenhagen girl who has starred in several porno movies. "We are just a little more technical." Mornings, she studies languages at Copenhagen University.

"Very few of the girls are dumb," said an old hand at sex movie producing. "Most of them do it for money and a few just for kicks, or because they are exhibitionists."

WILD MOVIES

The home market is slowing down. But private film clubs have appeared. One Copenhagen club carries on the facade a flashing title in neon lights: "Star Movie Club." In order to conform with the law governing private clubs, each show is called a membership meeting—there are up to five a day. Membership dues are the equivalent of $5—with a $2 fee per meeting. In return for this, the members solemnly are presented with such movies as "Unexpected Guests," "Teen-age Petting," and "Father and Daughter."

But patrons are not entirely pleased.

Said one member after a late night show: "I'd like to have more plot in the films." Another echoed: "Boy, it gets repetitious." A third: "You've got to leave your imagination at home—you don't need it here."

Danish police keep raiding the producers, the distributors and the film clubs. The next day they reopen.

In spite of the fact that the foreign market appears to be a wide open field, Danes appear to be getting bored.

Said one producer: "I feel that we have reached the limit with the hard line. Pretty soon people will want to go back to the point where the seventh veil isn't dropped."

Pornography Confiscated

Birgef Wilcke, chief of the Copenhagen pornographic squad, looks through pornographic material that has been confiscated. Pornography is now a $50 million-a-year business in Denmark and it is expected to zoom even higher in June when a law goes into effect easing what once were strict regulations on written pornography.

Starr Candidates Face Libel Counts

By GARY GARRISON

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Two candidates in Saturday's primary election and a Pan American College senior were arrested Wednesday here on charges of criminal libel as the investigation of a "counterfeit newspaper" continues.

Arrested by Texas Ranger Sgt. John Wood when they came to Starr County Courthouse were Constable Blas Aguilar, 65, of Precinct 4 at San Isidro, Eduardo Pena, 38, a candidate for constable in Precinct 1, and Clayton Mulvaney, 42, a political science and history major who said he was to graduate from the Edinburg school later this month.

PRINTED ATTACKS

The arrests resulted from an investigation by the Texas Department of Public Safety and Starr County officials of the printing and distribution of a two-page newspaper recently circulated in the border county.

The newspaper, published under the simulated masthead of La Verdad, a Spanish-English weekly newspaper published at Corpus Christi, contained printed attacks against numerous political figures and county officials.

Pena and Mulvaney, were named in three misdemeanor complaints each and were ordered held in the Starr County jail in lieu of $3,000 bond each following their arraignment by Justice of the Peace B. S. Lopez.

The bidding:

Opening lead: King of ♣

The six-heart contract reached by North and South was a soundly-conceived enterprise. South's hand is worth 19 points counting high cards and distribution and is well worth a jump rebid to three hearts. North has an opening bid himself including a fit for partner and a slam try is clearly indicated. Since he has no ace to show, his invitation must take the form of a jump raise beyond game to five hearts; South has the necessary controls to proceed to slam.

West opened the king of clubs taken by declarer's ace. Trumps were drawn in two rounds and, since the fate of the hand appeared to hinge on the spade finesse, South hastened to lead the deuce of that suit from his hand. West followed with the four and the jack was played from dummy. East produced the queen of spades and a club return settled declarer's hash.

While we cannot criticize South for failing to drop a doubleton queen, we do feel that his spade finesse was a trifle premature. At the risk of losing an overtrick worth a mere 30 points, South can better protect his slam investment by conducting a preliminary investigation of his opponents' distribution.

It is suggested that he concede his club loser after the trumps are drawn. Suppose that West now shifts to a spade. The ace is played from dummy and a third round of clubs is led and ruffed. If the queen of clubs happens to fall on this trick, North's ten would become established and eliminate the need to take a spade finesse.

East shows out on the third club and South ruffs. Since West must hold on to his queen of clubs to protect against North's ten, declarer safely postpones his spade play until the very end. He cashes the two high diamonds and then runs down his remaining three trumps, on which West discards the six of clubs and two spades. The ten of clubs is thrown from dummy after West's last discard.

At trick 12, a spade is led and West follows with the ten. Since his remaining card is known to be the queen of clubs, declarer can put up dummy's king of spades with complete assurance of dropping the queen.

Showers Dot Big Bend Area

By The Associated Press

Occasional showers dotted the western third of Texas Wednesday and a few more were expected by late today.

Weather Bureau observers said there appeared little prospect, however, for enough rain to dent temperatures approaching early summer levels.

A low pressure trough moving slowly along a line from Wink to Childress in early morning was expected to set off the limited thundershowers activity again late in the day.

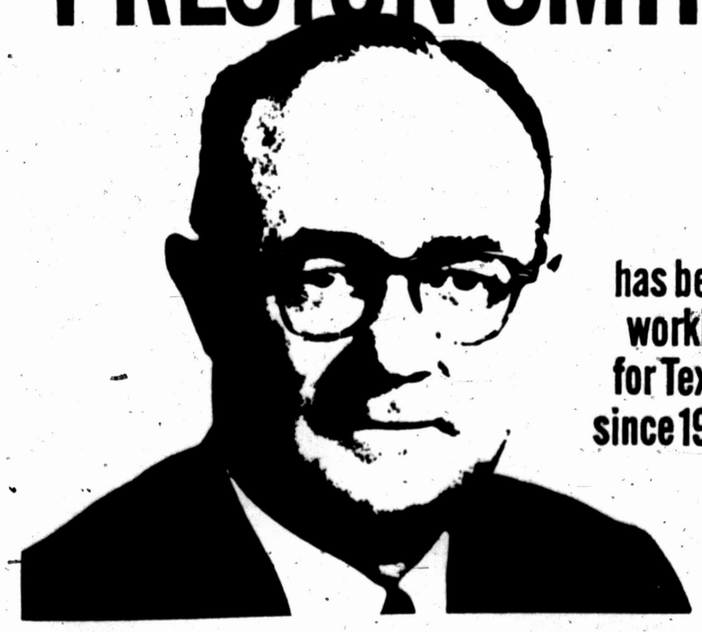

Although half a dozen areas received a little moisture Wednesday, the only measurable amount reported was .05 inch at Presidio in the Big Bend country.

There was enough fog near daylight to limit visibility a bit in some areas near the coast.

Top temperatures Wednesday ran as high as 94 degrees at Presidio. Wink recorded 91 and Childress and San Angelo both 90. Galveston was the coolest point with a top mark of 75.

Predawn readings today ranged from 50 at Dalhart, 55 at Amarillo and 56 at Texarkana up to 70 at Del Rio, Galveston, Houston and Laredo and 72 at Brownsville.

McDOWELL FANS 16 ATHLETICS

Flame Thrower Is Back For Indians

By The Associated Press

Suddenly, the flame was back.

Sam McDowell's fastball and his pace against the Oakland Athletics convinced some people he was going to a fire.

McDowell struck out 16 batters—two short of the nine inning major league record—and pitched Cleveland to a 3-1 victory over the Athletics Wednesday night.

And he did it with only 119 pitches in two hours, 11 minutes—near record time for McDowell, who usually throws a lot more pitches and takes a lot longer doing it.

"Gentlemen," he marvelled afterwards, "you have just seen the eighth wonder of the world. Only 119 pitches in two hours, 11 minutes. I never thought I'd see the day."

In other American League action Wednesday night, Tommy John struck out 12 and pitched Chicago to a 4-1 victory over Washington; California downed Boston 5-3, Detroit shaded Minnesota 3-2 and Baltimore belted New York 6-1.

McDowell, who has had arm trouble in the past, had no trouble with the Athletics, who managed just three hits. He retired 20 men in a row after yielding an unearned run in the third inning.

Jim "Blue Moon" Odom was doing a pretty fair job of pitching for the A's. He retired the first 15 Cleveland batters but Chico Salmon's sixth inning single broke that spell and McDowell's single drove in the Indians' first run.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

SAM McDOWELL

Tony Horton and Duke Sims singled in the seventh and Horton scored the tie-breaking run on a passed ball. Then Salmon's second hit brought Sims in.

The White Sox won their third game and John captured his second with a strong effort against the Senators. He shut Washington out on three hits over the first eight innings before yielding a run with two out in the ninth.

By then, Chicago was in control with a 4-0 edge—half of it provided by Luis Aparicio's first home run of the season. Frank Bertaina was the loser.

Dave Johnson drove in three runs and Boog Powell two as the Orioles whipped the Yankees on rookie Dave Leonhard's five hitter. Curt Blefary and Brooks Robinson twice keyed Stottlemyre was tagged with the loss.

Roger Repoz delivered two runs with a ninth-inning single giving the Angels their victory over the Red Sox, who dropped their fourth straight. A double steal by Bobby Knoop and Paul Schal preceded Repoz' hit.

Reliever Jack Hamilton, making his first appearance in Fenway Park since beaning Boston's Tony Conigliaro last August 18, was greeted with a chorus of boos and tagged for a first pitch single by Ken Harrelson that drove in two runs and tied the game in the eighth. He was the winning pitcher though.

Willie Horton's eighth inning sacrifice fly delivered Dick McAuliffe with Detroit's winning run against Minnesota. McAuliffe had smacked a one-out triple before Horton's fly ball.

Jim Northrup socked a two-run homer for the Tigers and Rich Reese and Harmon Killebrew had bases empty shots for the Twins.

ROBERT WINN

Winn Signed By Panhandle

Robert Winn of Cohoma, has signed a football letter of intent with Panhandle State College of Oklahoma. Winn is 6-1 and weighs 190 pounds. He made All - District guard for Coahoma and also was selected to the All West Texas Academic Team.

Winn is a "B" student who will major in veterinary medicine. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Winn of Coahoma.

Bernie Hagins is head coach at Coahoma and Phillips Parker, former Aggie tackle, is line coach.

Both Hagins and Parker think that Robert is an excellent prospect as an offensive lineman.

Plum Finds It Hard To Figure Out Deal

DETROIT (AP) — "Four for one is pretty hard to believe," said Milt Plum, Detroit's on-again, off-again, sometimes quarterback who became Los Angeles Rams' property Wednesday.

That was his assessment of the deal that sent him, halfback Tommy Watkins, flanker Pat Studstill and 1969 first-round draft rights from Detroit to Los Angeles.

In exchange, the Lions got the Rams' 1969 third-round draft rights and quarterback Bill Munson, who hasn't been able to bump Roman Gabriel out of the starting job at LA but is expected to help straighten out Detroit's signal-calling shortcomings.

Munson reportedly received a long-term contract with an estimated $365,000 over the period.

The bundle, plus the players and draft rights involved, was a high price, acknowledged Detroit Coach Joe Schmidt, "but I definitely felt that we needed a new quarterback and in my book Munson was the best one available."

Plum, in an interview, suggested Detroit's quarterbacking problems were compounded by Schmidt's system of alternating his quarterbacks from week to week with little advance word on which would start each game.

"If you're going to go with a quarterback, go with him," Plum, 33, advised. "This business of waiting until Sunday before deciding who will start is bad, not just for the quarterbacks, but for the whole team.

"Pick your man and let him play," Plum said, recalling last season, when he and Karl Sweetan, 25, took turns starting for the Lions.

Munson, 26, played out his option and became a free agent Wednesday.

Studstill, 29, says his knee is sound and there is no reason he can't go all-out.

Studstill, 29, has been hampered by leg injuries. Watkins, 31, gained 361 yards on 106 rushes last season.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

After you get past Randy Matson, where will you go to find Texans on the 1968 U.S. Olympic track and field team?

Dave Morton, the University of Texas quartermiler, could make it but he faces an uphill fight because of a lack of experience. UTEP was prepared to project broad jumper Bob Beamon but he was dismissed from the Miner squad because the action at Brigham Young wasn't his cup of tea.

Jim Napier, the former Howard County JC discus thrower, has cleared 164-11 in that event for TCU this spring.

USC Coach John McKay had to give his OK before football star O. J. Simpson was allowed to run on the Trojan track team.

At USC, football comes first just as it does at any college in the country.

John Billizon, a 6-3½, 235-pound Negro from Houma, La., may enroll at Howard County JC this fall on a basketball scholarship.

He's been at Webb AFB here.

One of the greatest flops in baseball history was Clint Hartung, who tried it with the New York Giants back in the late 40's.

Hartung went up from Hondo, Tex., with tremendous promise. Some observers insisted he could hit the ball the proverbial country mile and throw a marshmallow through a brick wall.

Those who know say that Hartung was sadly misused, however. The Giant management insisted on converting him into a catcher and that was one job for which he was not cut out.

Big Spring High School pitching should be stronger than ever next spring, with Lefty James Newman and Thomas Ham both returning.

Coach Oakey Hagood regrets not having used Ham more than he has to date. The young man is very cagey out on the pitching rubber and can throw his zinger as rapidly as any hurler around.

The Houston Astros operate one of the most extensive radio networks in existence outside the borders of the United States.

It's the 65-station Astro Spanish Language Network, which covers a tremendous range of some 2,400 miles across the Western Hemisphere.

Two Latin-Americans, Rene Cardenas and Orlando Sanchez Diago, do the play-by-play on the network. The network has affiliated stations in Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvadore, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, Colombia, Aruba, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Venezuela and Ecuador.

The broadcasts take place on Sundays only.

Sanchez did the first live broadcast of a major league game to Cuba more than three decades ago. Cardenas previously worked on Los Angeles Dodger broadcasts.

Joe Hamilton, star of the recent Region V basketball tournament, could have already signed with the University of Houston and no one would know about it.

Coach Guy Lewis of the Cougars doesn't announce his signees until the fall registration. Nothing like being super-safe.

Hamilton reportedly is wavering between Houston, Texas A&M and the University of Louisville.

Richards Has Best Chance

Hurdler Claude (Snake) Tucker, Big Spring; Ike Lewis, Sands sprinter; Maxie Fly, Flower Grove half miler; Davis Corley, Bronte high jumper; John Scott, Loraine hurdler; Brian Richards, Bronte shot putter; and Dough McCutchen, Bronte, broad jumper, are among the area athletes who will be active this weekend in the State Track and Field meet at Austin.

Tucker, who will compete in the 330-yard intermediate hurdles, left with his coach, Gerald Loyd; and other members of the Steer coaching staff today.

Of the area entries, Richards has the best chance to claim a first place in Austin, based off the records.

Richards delivered the shot put a record 54-11 in the Regional meet here a couple of weeks ago. No one else in the state did as well in regional competition, although Harry Willie of Riesel delivered the big ball 54-9.

Hockey Loses Dedicated Man In J. Adams

By DAVE DILES
Sports Director WXYZ Radio-TX

DETROIT (AP) — There is a sign in the dressing quarters of the Detroit Red Wings' hockey team and on it are these words in bold, red letters: "We Supply Everything But Guts."

Jack Adams put it there.

The man they called "Mister Hockey" died Wednesday in Detroit. Even that flattering term is an understatement. If it can ever be said that one man built a sport in a city, then it can be said that Jack Adams established hockey as a major league sport in Detroit.

He came here in 1927 when the sport was one year old. The team performed before thousands of empty seats. By the time he left the club in 1962 after 35 years as coach and general manager they were hanging from the rafters.

And all of Adams' teams had guts, and class.

The writer's introduction to Jack Adams came in March 1956. The assignment as Michigan sports editor of AP came just a few weeks before the opening of the Stanley Cup series and I had never seen a hockey game.

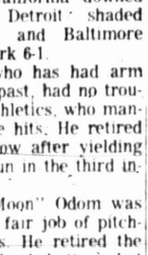

Rather than try and bluff my way through it, I decided to take my problem to Adams.

Adams growled, "We have three or four home games before the series begins. You sit with me and I'll explain the game to you. It's a pretty simple game and if you're like all the other writers and broadcasters you'll be an expert in no time."

Leo Durocher Dummies Up Following Defeat

By The Associated Press

Leo Durocher's Chicago Cubs were the only losers in the National League Wednesday night who failed to carry the fight at least into the ninth inning and you can imagine how Leo felt about it.

DUROCHER

You'll have to imagine, in fact, because Leo isn't talking.

After Pittsburgh beat the Cubs 4-0, Durocher barred reporters from the dressing room for the second straight night, waited until the players had dressed and then marched everybody out past the waiting reporters en masse without so much as a "no comment."

He couldn't have had much to say about Pirate pitcher Al McBean, anyway. The right-hander escaped some early-inning problems to shut out the Cubs on just six hits, getting good support from Donn Clendenon and Manny Mota.

Clendenon singled in a run in the first and homered in the seventh. Mota added a couple of runs with a two-run double in the eighth.

McBean gave up five hits and walked two batters in the first three innings, then kept the Cubs hitless until the ninth. Rich Nye prevented the Pirates from scoring after the first inning until Clendenon's homer in the seventh.

Things were considerably tighter in the rest of the league. The New York Mets carried Philadelphia into the 11th inning before bowing 7-2. And Houston battled St. Louis for 12 innings until beaten 3-1.

Both West Coast games went into the ninth inning before they were decided. Cincinnati beating San Francisco 6-5 and Atlanta dispatching Los Angeles 7-3.

Though Durocher wouldn't talk to the writers, he did have a thing or two to say to the umpires. He protested the game, saying Pirate Manager Larry Shepard visited McBean twice in the eighth inning, which is against league rules.

Umpire Shag Crawford said that when catcher Jerry May was slightly injured, Shepard asked for, and received, permission to make the trips to the mound and that it is within an umpire's jurisdiction to allow them.

Tony Taylor's fourth hit of the evening, a bases-loaded triple, brought the Phillies their victory over the Mets as Larry Jackson won his 20th career game over the New Yorkers. Only Don Drysdale, with 21 triumphs, has beaten the Mets more often.

It was another triple, this one by Julian Javier, that broke up the Cardinals-Astros game. Javier's hit drove in Johnny Edwards, who had singled, and gave St. Louis its eighth victory in nine games. Houston has now lost 10 of 12.

Willie Mays hit two home runs for the 57th time in his major-league career, but it was not enough to beat the Reds. Right fielder Dave Marshall dropped Leo Cardenas' fly in the ninth inning and Cardenas went all the way to third. He scored moments later on Mack Jones' sacrifice fly.

Tito Francona drove in the tie-breaking run and Clete Boyer doubled in two more in the ninth inning for the Braves' victory. The Dodgers tied the score 3-3 in the eighth. Willie Davis tripling in a run. Davis also homered.

FOR TWO YEARS

Wichita Placed On Probation

DENVER (AP) — Wichita, Kan., State University of the Missouri Valley Conference has been placed on probation by the National Collegiate Athletic Association for two years ending April 30, 1970.

This was the chief action taken by the NCAA's policy-making council during a three-day meeting ending Wednesday.

The council also certified 16 postseason college football games for next season and cautioned coaches who present regular television programs that a rule against having high school athletes as guests will be rigidly enforced.

The NCAA move against Wichita State came three weeks after the Missouri Valley Conference ruled the university out of postseason grid competition next season and in 1969.

The conference also banned Wichita State from playing in televised NCAA games, with accompanying revenue, for three seasons, starting in 1968.

Earlier, university officials had fired the director of athletics the head football coach and two assistant coaches for what the NCAA council termed "improper inducements to approximately 25 prospective student-athletes."

An assistant executive director of the NCAA, Arthur J. Bergstrom, said at a news conference the Wichita State case "was one of the most widespread and wilful violations ever to come before the council."

He said the organization's penalty would have been much, much more severe" if it had not been for the "drastic, immediate and effective" action of the university and the conference.

The postseason contests include 12 bowl and four all-star games.

One of these, the Peach Bowl at Atlanta, for which no date has been set, is a new addition to the line-up of year-end attractions. Bergstrom said the sponsor, the Georgia Lighthouse Foundation, is hoping to bring together two major universities.

Dickens Pitches Colts To Win

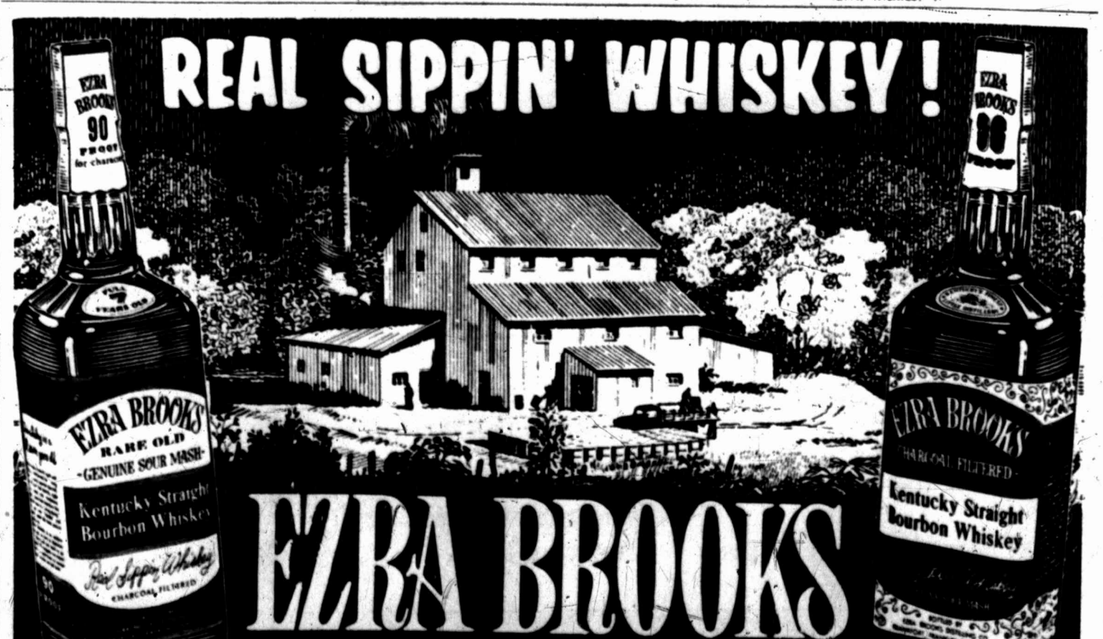

Wayne Dickens pitched the Colts to their second straight American Little League victory here Wednesday evening, a 5-0 success achieved at the expense of the Stars.

Dickens set the Stars down with three scattered hits, fanning 12 in the six - inning struggle. In addition, he had one of his team's five hits.

Mitt Rogers collected two of the losers' blows. Kit Grice got the other one.

Get Ready For Summer

By E. R. MOREN

Mr. Randle Jones, owner of Windy's Camera Center has made arrangements to have one of our 24,000 BTU (2-ton) Wizard refrigeration units installed on his trailer home. These Wizard Imperial Air Conditioners are powerful enough to cool an entire home yet fit into ordinary windows. Page 68 of your Spring and Summer Western Auto Catalogue details the specifications of the "Wizard Refrigeration Units."

One of my pet customers, Mrs. Ruth Miller, old time T&P railroad employee just called and ordered a vacuum cleaner I didn't have in stock. I hope that most of my customers understand that the reason that a lot of the items requested have to be ordered is caused by lack of investment capital on my part. We really do appreciate your business and items not in stock can be procured in some instances as quick as the next day.

The time is here for me to go to Western Auto's Spring Merchandise Show in Dallas this weekend and make arrangements for our Fall merchandise and Christmas toys. Sounds early doesn't it, but merchants, like everyone else, have to plan for the future.

Coming Up, A 'Near Miss'

Mrs. Betty Mintz of the U.S. Naval Observatory, peers through a glass plate featuring a diagram of a "near miss" from the maverick asteroid Icarus next month. The earth, under Mrs. Mintz' chin, and its path is shown with Icarus and its path on June 15 after the "near miss." The flower-like decoration above Mrs. Mintz left eye is a drawing of the sun.

Pip-Squeak Planet Plunges Earthward

WASHINGTON (AP) — The maverick asteroid Icarus, a pip-squeak planet about a half-mile in diameter, starts hurtling earthward today at 20,000 miles per hour.

Navy astronomers say it will come within four million miles of earth on June 14, its closest approach since it's discovery in 1949. It won't be visible to the naked eye.

NO DANGER

The Navy assured there is "no danger of a collision" with earth.

There have been similar reassuring words in recent years from the high echelons of astronomy—all aimed at counteracting reports that rocky Icarus just might be on a collision course with the earth. Such a catastrophe would be equivalent to dropping 100 hydrogen bombs at one time.

But one American astronomer, Dr. Robert S. Richardson, while conceding there's no apparent chance of a collision during Icarus' upcoming visit, has said this might not always hold true as the asteroid keeps returning every 19 years.

Richardson, of Altadena, Calif., has theorized Icarus might eventually be pulled off course by the combined gravity influences of the planets Earth and Mercury, with which it also has relatively close brushes.

He has suggested a possible defense if danger ever appears imminent—blasting Icarus out of the heavens with a nuclear-armed space vehicle.

CLOSE APPROACH

It has been known since at least 1957 that Icarus was due to make a close approach to the earth June 14 or 15 of this year.

This forecast has been based on a computation of its strongly elliptical orbit around the sun—ranging from 18 million miles at its closest point to the sun, and 183 million at its farthest. Icarus wheels around the sun once every 409 days.

Icarus is named for the adventurous youth of Greek mythology who flew too close to the sun on wings of wax and feathers, then fell into the sea when the wax melted.

It is one of more than 1,500 known asteroids wheeling around the solar system.

Connally Pushing Favorite Son Bid

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally made a statewide appeal Wednesday night for Democrats to back his effort to lead Texas' delegation to the party's national convention as a favorite son presidential candidate.

He said they should attend their precinct conventions and do battle with "militantly organized" backers of various presidential hopefuls who intend to thwart Connally's plans.

The governor also said precinct conventions should adopt unit rule resolutions, which ultimately would bind Texas' 104 national convention votes into a bloc in favor of the majority viewpoint within the delegation.

Refraining from giving his endorsement to a gubernatorial candidate, Connally listed some of the qualities he thought Texas' chief executive should possess.

"There is every possibility that the Democratic national convention may be deadlocked," he said.

"Faced with such a sitbation, it is imperative and common sense, it seems to me, that Texas keep her powder dry. That's the reason that I agreed to become a favorite son candidate for the presidency.

"Of one thing you can be assured. If I am chosen favorite son leader by you, the Texas delegation will go to Chicago with one purpose — to speak for Texas in the most effective manner we know how and with all the energy we can muster. Our interest will not be in behalf of any one candidate, or against any one candidate, but for this state and the United States."

Some political figures have presidential possibility, but Connally has stated he is not seeking that nomination. He did say recently, however, it would be hard to turn it down.

Connally said that to win the favorite son designation, "we must win at the precincts Saturday. And forces not representing the views of most Texans are hard at work, militantly organized, in an attempt to grab Texas' votes at the convention."

Who these "forces" might represent, he didn't say. But backers of U. S. Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn., have an active statewide organization. Supporters of U. S. Sen. Robert Kennedy, D-N.Y., have a small organization but apparently are not making a big effort to capture the precincts. Organized labor favors Vice President Hubert Humphrey, the man Connally also is believed to want in the White House.

Connally said he did not think Texans want to decide yet among the potential candidates. "I don't believe you want to be rushed off your feet committing (SIC) to anybody."

Under the unit rule, which he said "opposition forces" are trying to block, Connally contended all of Texas' convention votes "can be used for maximum influence in our best interest not today . . . but in the situation, whatever it may be, that exists in Chicago in August."

The next governor of Texas, Connally said, "must be big enough to take on the awesome new challenge of providing an effective persuasive voice for Texas in the councils of national leadership."

Telephone Wage Hikes, Benefits Announced

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tentative contract agreement providing an increase of 6.5 per cent a year in wages and fringe benefits was announced today in the nationwide strike of some 200,000 telephone workers.

The three-year contract, a pattern for all 600,000 Bell Telephone System Workers, totals 19.58 per cent in higher wages and other benefits over the life of the contract.

It will cost the Bell System more than $2 billion, said President Joseph A. Beirne of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America.

Beirne said the strike, the first nationwide telephone walkout in 21 years, could end early next week after ratification by the strikers.

Union and company negotiating teams in 17 cities worked through Wednesday night in hopes of ironing out final differences.

"We would like to wrap it up," said a spokesman for union President Joseph A. Beirne.

One hopeful note appeared when a Wednesday midnight deadline for nearly 10,000 Virginia telephone workers to join the strike was postponed on a day-to-day basis for up to three days.

Federal officials had privately expressed concern over the possible effects of a Virginia strike on crucial Defense Department telephone links at the Pentagon in suburban Arlington, Va.

Key strike negotiations in New York cover 23,000 telephone installers on strike in some 40 states. The installers, employed by the Bell Subsidiary Western Electric Co., traditionally lead the way in setting new contract patterns.

Founder's Tea Participants

Mrs. Jackie Touchstone, left, president of Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, discusses plans for Sunday's Founder's Day program and tea with the co-chairmen, Mrs. D. M. Moore and Mrs. N. R. Holcombe.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Slates Founder's Tea

Big Spring's Alpha Chi and Mu Kappa chapters of Epsilon Sigma Alpha will observe Founder's Day here Sunday afternoon with a special program in the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club.

Mrs. Larson Lloyd will be guest speaker for the program which will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. Mrs. Lloyd will present a review of the book, "Wit's End."

Mrs. Jackie Touchstone, president of the Alpha Chi chapter, explained why the International Women's Service organization observes Founder's Day and May 1-7 as ESA Week.

"Epsilon Sigma Alpha is one of the oldest and largest sororities of its kind in the world," she said. "It was founded in 1929 by 10 women teachers, writers and a Supreme Court judge who believed that college education should not be the end of a woman's education.

"Young women of today must fit into the economic and social structure of this fast - paced modern world. They must understand their roles and responsibilities and become leaders in their town and communities."

The local president said the sorority developed into an international organization soon after E. Robert Palmer assumed leadership in 1941. During ESA Week, all three aims of the sorority are emphasized, and this includes the educational, philanthropic and social aspects. However, during this week, the 1,570 chapters, and more than 40,000 members place a special recognition on philanthropic projects.

Here in Big Spring, for example, the two local chapters have aided the Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring State Hospital, West Side Recreation Center, Halfway House and Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Also, they have worked on area projects such as the West Texas Children's Home at Pyote, Permian Rehabilitation Center in Odessa, McKnight Sanitarium, Hi-Sky Girls Ranch, and when it was in operation, Otto's Boys Ranch.

Sorority Sisters

Mrs. Robert Pritz, president of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, will be participating in Sunday's tea along with Mrs. J. W. Dickens, the incoming president.

Fellowship Day Slated On Friday

May Fellowship Day will be observed Friday with a special program and salad luncheon at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. Coffee will be served at 10:30 a.m. and guests are invited to study the display materials from the different denominations. Mrs. Jack Burnett is in charge of arrangements for the host church.

At 11 a.m. a panel of members from the various churches will explore questions under the leadership of Mrs. C. R. Robinson who is program chairman. The luncheon will be served at 12 noon.

Church Women United met in the chapel of the Salvation Army Monday to transact business and complete plans for the observance. Miss Helen Ewing was appointed secretary, and Mrs. Norman Krisle was introduced as the church World Service chairman. It was announced that the West Side Recreation Center will have a rummage sale to raise money to buy new games, and women wishing to help may take items to the center at 1308 West 5th. It was decided to establish a board of trustees to handle the operation of the center.

Details for organization of a Planned Parenthood Association were explained and representatives were asked to discuss this in their churches and report back to a special meeting to be held May 17 at 10 a.m. in the parlor of First Methodist Church. Mrs. J. J. Redfern of Midland, who helped organize the PPA there, will be present to answer questions. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting.

MRS. JERRY DUDLEY

Homemaker Believes In Relaxed Living

By RHODA LEMONS

"Relax and enjoy yourself" is the credo by which Mrs. Jerry Dudley lives. She believes that much of what people do will wait until later, and that more people should enjoy their families, their work or just do whatever they wish to do at the moment.

Mrs. Dudley lives with her husband at 2510 Lynn. They have one daughter, Julie Elizabeth, 2.

She believes in keeping her house in order at all times, but not in making a production of it. Mrs. Dudley does heavy cleaning when the mood strikes or she thinks the house needs it, but she does not adhere to any rigid schedules.

She does all her work and has recently refinished some furnishings handed down in her family. One chest and dresser belonged to her husband's grandparents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Dudley of Rockwall. She has also antiqued two matching rockers and made colorful cushions and backs for them. The chest was handsomely done in antique green, as was the dresser.

The attractive homemaker does her menu planning at the grocery store. She watches the advertisements for good meat buys, and then she buys her vegetables, salads and desserts around her meat purchases. She has no set amount in the budget for food, but she does stick rather close to the same expenditure each month unless there is an undue amount of company.

Mrs. Dudley said that she doesn't have all the appliances she wants, but her favorite and most-used one is the mixer. She uses it almost daily.

She cooks one large meal a day in the evening as her husband does not come home for lunch. He is head of the physical education department at Howard County Junior College and is golf coach.

Mrs. Dudley teaches a basic English class at the college, and she is acquiring six hours of credit which requires 360 clock hours in a "practicum" on work towards her master's degree. She and her husband will attend East Texas College at Commerce during the summer. He will be working on his Ph.D and she will lack at the end of summer one course towards her second degree.

In the future when her daughter is older, Mrs. Dudley plans to teach or work in a guidance office, but right now, she spends as much time as possible with her. The Dudleys married just after high school and their first years of marriage were spent as college students. They have lived in many apartments, and Mrs. Dudley describes a number of them as "something else." This is their first home, the first they have owned, and the first house they have lived in during their 10 years of marriage.

Mrs. Dudley's favorite hobby is reading, and she reads from 10 to 15 books each month. Right now, she is reading all available material on persons rumored to possess supernatural powers or have extra-sensory perception. She said that she has been unable to fully believe all she reads about this, but she has been fascinated with it.

She collects owls for a reason she is unable to define. She has numerous forms, shapes, prints and ceramic owls, and her husband helps her in the collection. Each owl has a distinctive personality to her, and she said simply that they give her pleasure.

Mrs. Dudley is a member of the American Association of University Women and of the Faculty Ma'ams. Her favorite pastime is playing bridge, and she is a member of two clubs.

One-third cup heavy cream, whipped

Wash, drain and hull strawberries. Work cream cheese with a fork until softened. Spread cream cheese over bottom of cooled pastry shell. Select half of the choicest whole berries; press firmly into cream cheese with the tips up. Mash remaining berries and strain. Measure juice and, if necessary, add enough water to make 1½ cups liquid. Mix sugar and cornstarch together in a saucepan. Gradually stir in the strawberry and lemon juices. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear, about five or six minutes. Stir in a few drops of red food coloring. Remove from heat and cool about 10 minutes. Pour around berries in pastry shell. Chill about three hours, or until firm. Decorate with cream. Serves six.

CARROTS FLAMBE'

2 bunches carrots
2 tsps. butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
3 tbsps. orange juice
1 tsp. grated orange rind
½ tsp. lemon juice
¼ tsp. ginger
2 tbsps. orange-flavored brandy, if desired

Pare carrots. Steam in small amount of salted water just until tender; drain. (Do not overcook.) Melt butter in a skillet or chafing dish. Stir in sugar, orange juice, orange rind, lemon juice and ginger. Add carrots; simmer until carrots are glazed. If desired, heat brandy in large ladle; ignite; spread over carrots and serve immediately. Serves six.

EASY CHICKEN CASSEROLE

1 cup uncooked rice
1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 pkg. dry onion soup mix
1½ soup cans milk
1 3-to-3½ lb. broiler-fryer chicken, cut up
Salt and pepper

Mix together rice, soups and milk; pour into a 3-quart casserole. Place chicken pieces, skin side down, over rice; sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper. Heat oven to 250 degrees and bake casserole, uncovered, for three hours. Turn chicken after about 1½ hours of cooking. Serves four.

BROWNIE DROPS

2 bars German sweet chocolate
1 tbsp. butter or margarine
2 eggs
¾ cup sugar
¼ cup unsifted all-purpose flour
¼ tsp. baking powder
¼ tsp. cinnamon
Dash of salt
½ tsp. vanilla
¾ cup finely chopped pecans

Melt chocolate and butter over hot water. Stir. Cool. Beat eggs until foamy, then add sugar, two tablespoons at a time; beat until thickened (five minutes on electric mixer). Blend in chocolate. Add flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon; blend. Stir in vanilla and nuts.

Drop by teaspoons onto greased baking sheet. Bake in moderate (350 degree) oven until cookies feel "set" when very lightly touched—eight to 10 minutes.

POTATOES ANNA

½ cup butter or margarine
2 lbs. potatoes, pared and thinly sliced
1 tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Preheat oven to 425 degrees. With three tablespoons butter, grease an eight-inch skillet with heat-resistant handle and tight-fitting cover. Gently toss potatoes with salt and pepper. Layer a third of potato slices circular fashion around bottom of skillet. Dot with butter. Repeat twice.

Over high heat, cook potatoes three minutes. Bake, covered, 30 minutes. Remove cover; bake five minutes longer. Invert on serving platter. Serves six.

QUICK MEAT LOAF

1 tbsp. vegetable oil
1½ lbs. ground chuck
¾ cup commercial sour cream
1 pkg. dry onion soup mix
2 eggs, slightly beaten
¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs

Heat oven to 450 degrees. Heat oil in a skillet; add meat and brown lightly over moderate heat, stirring frequently. Combine sour cream, onion soup mix and eggs. Let stand for a few minutes. Combine the lightly browned meat, sour cream mixture and the bread crumbs. Pack into a loaf pan. Bake 20 minutes. Remove from oven and cool slightly before serving. Serves six.

CRUMB-TOPPED ASPARAGUS

1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
4 tbsps. butter or margarine
2 No. 2 cans whole green asparagus spears
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper

Saute bread crumbs in four tablespoons butter. Heat asparagus. Drain and season with two tablespoons butter, salt and pepper. Arrange asparagus in baking dish. Top with sauted crumbs. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) 15 minutes. Serves eight.

Plentiful Foods Are Revealed

The month of May means lots of eggs this year. Egg production is expected to be near the record levels of a year ago and prices about the same.

That's why eggs are featured among plentiful foods this month, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Other plentifuls include turkeys, potatoes, milk and such dairy products as cheese, cream, butter and yogurt.

Although turkeys took the featured spot during April, supplies are still large. Turkey can give extra pleasure to May meals. Try cooking one of the smaller birds on your rotisseries.

Look for lots of potatoes. In addition to heavy storage supplies, shipments of the early spring crop from Florida are expected to peak this month, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Also, marketing should be active in the late-spring producing areas.

Milk production will be reaching its seasonal peak in May, accounting for the plentiful supply, says USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service.

Either store-bought or homemade ice cream is a real treat for evening-meal dessert.

Keep these plentiful foods in mind when you do your May food shopping.

Try A Custard Of Garnished Corn

The pimiento comes to the top of this pudding and garnishes it.

CORN PUDDING

2 eggs
2 cups well-drained canned whole-kernel corn
1 drained canned pimiento, diced
White Sauce (See Note)

In a medium bowl, beat eggs slightly; stir in corn and pimiento; gradually mix in the hot White Sauce. Turn into a buttered oblong heatproof 1½-quart glass baking dish (10 by 6 by 1¾ inches). Place in a small roasting pan (13 by 9 by 2 inches); add enough hot tap water (about one quart) to come up even with corn mixture. Bake in a 325-degree oven until a cake tester inserted in center comes out clean — about 40 minutes. Allow to stand five minutes before serving. Makes six servings.

Note: For the White Sauce, use one tablespoon each butter and flour, one teaspoon salt, ⅛ teaspoon white pepper and 1½ cups milk, cooking until thickened and bubbly.

Buy Gelatin In Handy Packages

For more than 75 years, unflavored gelatin has been a reliable product with a high standard of quality. Formerly gelatin was made at home from beef bones, a long, laborious process. Then unflavored gelatin arrived on the market in sheets which required long soaking before dissolving. Today's granules in handy premeasured envelopes are a true convenience product.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Add some chopped parsley to your next batch of baking powder biscuit dough. It will add color and flavor.

• • •

The secret of a good salad is the way you prepare the greens. Wash them well, but dry them carefully before you break them into bite-sized pieces. Keep the salad cold, and add the dressing at serving time.

• • •

To help eliminate cooking odors when you are cooking cabbage, put a slice of bread on top of the cabbage when it is cooking. Throw the bread out.

• • •

Cream butter with parsley and tarragon and use as a spread for French or Italian bread. Slice the bread, but not all the way through; then spread both sides of each slice with some of the herbed butter. Place on foil or wrap in foil and heat in a moderate or hot over before serving.

• • •

For a delicious chilled beverage team cold coffee and a cold cocoa drink; serve over ice cubes.

• • •

For a good summer dessert, serve cantaloupe halves filled with vanilla ice cream. Some melba sauce dribbled over the top will add color and flavor.

• • •

Combine cream of mushroom soup with a can of drained peas and a can of drained onions for an unusual vegetable dish. Season with paprika and sprinkle bread crumbs over the top.

CREATE FESTIVE MOOD
Celebrate first warm days of spring

Observe Cinco De Mayo With A Teen Party

The first warm sunny days in May create their own festive mood. It's especially a time for teenagers who are looking to the end of the school year, planning graduation parties, letting off steam, and getting together before the crowd scatters for the summer.

May is also a time for festivity in Mexico. Cinco de Mayo (the fifth of May) is the highlight of springtime, as parades and pageantry commemorate the victory of Mexican forces over the French in 1862, ending the era of European colonization in the land.

While the couples work up an appetite to the tune of the Tiajuana Brass or their own guitars, set the table with a variety of snacks.

Start with frozen Nachos, toasted corn chips, topped with cheese and jalapeno peppers. Serve some just as they come, hot from the oven, and some with these added ingredients:

BEAN NACHOS

Spoon about ½ teaspoon of canned jalapeno bean dip on each nacho before heating.

OLIVE NACHOS

Top each nacho with a slice of stuffed green olive before heating.

Tacos, Mexican "sandwiches," the miniature tortilla folded over spicy beef filling is a favorite with everyone. For new twists to an old favorite, thaw tacos before heating and prepare as follows:

TACOS CON QUESO

(Tacos with cheese) — Sprinkle shredded sharp cheddar cheese over meat filling.

TACOS CON AVOCADO

(Tacos with avocado) — Slice peeled avocado into thin wedges, about two inches long. Open taco just enough to insert avocado. Heat and serve immediately.

CHILE TACOS

(Pepper Tacos) — Place a dab of canned red taco sauce and a sliver of bell pepper on meat filling before heating.

TAMALITOS

(Little Tamales) — Prepare frozen tamales as directed on the package. Remove from wrapping, reserving sauce. Slice tamales crosswise into four pieces. Place in chafing dish, pour over reserved sauce and sprinkle with grated cheddar cheese. Heat until steaming. Serve with toothpicks. Makes 10-12 servings.

MELON BASKET

Select a large watermelon. Slice in half, lengthwise. With a sharp paring-knife, cut edge in pointed scallops. Scoop out fruit and cut into bite-size pieces. Pile watermelon, cantaloups and honey dew melon balls, and fresh strawberries into watermelon shell. Tuck in a few springs of mint for color and flavor.

Try These Bite-Sized Tasty Chips

You don't have to be Mexican to go for these new chip dips in a big way. There's lots of hot excitement and heat eating in these delicious dips.

CHILI CONQUESO DIP

¼ cup green pepper, diced
1 small clove garlic, crushed
1 small onion, chopped
1 tbsp. butter
2 medium size tomatoes, diced
1 small can chopped green chilies or hot peppers
1 lb. processed American cheese.

Saute in butter the green pepper, garlic and onion. Add diced ripe tomatoes and chilies (or hot peppers) and mix thoroughly. While this mixture is cooking slowly, grate the cheese and melt in top of double boiler. When melted add the other ingredients to the cheese and blend well. Serve at once hot in a chafing dish or pre-heated bowl with crisp potato cips for dipping.

AVOCADO FIESTA DIP

Pile high the potato chips for dipping into this South of the Border delicacy.

2 large ripe avocados
1 tbsp. fresh lemon juice
¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. chili powder
1 tbsp. grated fresh onion
2 tbsp. finely chopped ripe tomatoes
3 large ripe olives, finely chopped

Peel and mash avocados smooth. Beat in lemon juice, salt, chili powder, onion. Fold in tomatoes and olives. Chill well.

Dear Abby

Case Of The Sagging Bed

DEAR ABBY: All went fine with my marriage, until my loving spouse got so heavy from Manhattans, beer, pizza, candy, etc., that the bed sagged on her side. Although the sagging caused me to roll down near her, I must confess this nearness created no romantic interest whatsoever. My partner angrily declared me "impotent," and took to her own bed in another room.

I was determined to prove to myself that I was not impotent. The details are only incidental, but let us just say that it didn't take me very long to prove it. My question: Should I share this happy discovery with my wife? SWINGER

DEAR SWINGER: Go ahead. She'll never believe you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I am an average 19-year-old college student (male) living on campus in a college town. My home is 200 miles away. My mother has an old friend living near campus, so she wrote and asked this friend of hers to look me up. What for, I'll never know because I'm not lonesome and this woman is a 65-year-old widow and we don't have one thing in common.

Well, this old lady invited me to her house for Sunday supper, so I went. She was very nice to me. Too nice. There were just the two of us there and she made me feel very uncomfortable. She kept wanting to hug me and touch me, and she made all sorts of remarks about how she "had a crush" on me.

A few days later she called me up and invited me over for dinner again. I told her I had to study. (I did.) The she sent me a silly "I could go for you" card with a $10 bill inside. Today I got a box of cookies with a note, "Honey, when am I going to see you again?"

Abby, she keeps calling me, and I tell my roommate to tell her I'm at the library. I want to see this old lady again like I want to go to Vietnam. I hate to insult her, but I sure don't want to see her again. How should I handle this?

SOPHOMORE

DEAR SOPHOMORE: First, return her money with a "thank-you" note, and thank her for the cookies, but ask her not to send any more. Then continue to be "out" when she calls. In time she will be sufficiently discouraged to forget you.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Several months ago my mother passed away. She and my father had been married nearly 50 years, and seemingly had a good life together.

To me, it seemed disrespectful to my mother's memory, but ONE WEEK after my mother's burial my father (a minister) began seeing other women. Less than three months later he remarried. This marriage lasted four months; they got a quick divorce, and within 30 days my father remarried again!

Now my father insists that his grandchildren call his new wife "Grandma." My children all remember their real grandmother and it doesn't seem natural to them. (Nor to me.) Should I insist they call this woman "Grandma" just because their grandfather demands it? Or am I within my rights to tell them they don't have to? So far they call her "Mrs. ———."

DAUGHTER

DEAR DAUGHTER: Tell the children to call the lady whatever comes naturally.

Lions Kick Off Light Bulb Sale

Downtown Lions rallied Wednesday for the kick-off of the annual light bulb sale, an event which finances their sight conservation and blind work and crippled children's camp.

Members hope to knock on every door in Big Spring within the next three days to try and sell more than 2,000 packets of the assortment of incandescent bulbs. These sell for $2.

Jim Hatler and Jimmy Parks are division leaders for the sales campaign, and Clyde McMahon Jr. is general chairman.

May 10 has been set as the time for the next Ladies Night dinner, said Jimmy Ray Smith, president. The Downtown Club will be joined by others in the area including the Coahoma and Stanton units.

Robert R. Boland, who has served as co-chairman of the Crippled Children's camp committee, is moving to Del Rio where he will be in the education department of Laughlin AFB, Smith announced.

Renewed emphasis is to be placed on membership recruitment in May, Smith said. District 2A-1 has a chance to become the first district in history of Lionism to rate the Melvin Jones membership award for three successive years if it can meet its goal of new members this month.

Entertainment Wednesday was furnished by the quartet composed of Lynn Hise, Dan Conley, Paul Petterson and Bill Gipson.

Adults Urged To Cast Votes

To the editor:

It is tragic but true that few of the eligible voters in Big Spring exercise their rights to select the men they want to elect to their public offices. Percentages of the Republicans and Democrats of this county who vote in their respective primaries are generally low, ranging from 50 per cent to even lower.

Men selected for the major parties' slates are the ones who will be on the general election ballot in November, so the voters can only lose if they do not go to the polls in May. This year's primaries offer the voter a good chance to express themselves, due to the large number of candidates for the office of governor.

This year, the primaries will fall on May 4, and Howard County Young Republicans urge all adults to fulfill their democratic duties by voting on either of the two parties' ballots.

There are 25,000 men on the roster who have not been contacted since the end of the war. This year the 22nd annual reunion will be staged in Philadelphia, Pa., during August. Former members are urged to contact the national secretary, Larry Redmond, 132 Rockwood Drive, Havertown, Pa. 19083.

Beautiful Girls Bait Cong Traps

By T. JEFF WILLIAMS

DA NANG, South Vietnam (AP) — That beautiful Vietnamese girl, her silken black hair swirling about her fragile body as she bathes in the stream, can be an angel of death.

Viet Cong terrorists around this big Marine base are now using "seduce and destroy" squads of girls, in attempts to entice Leathernecks to their deaths.

Marine sources said three Marines were missing and one was killed by the female assassination teams in three months.

A captured Viet Cong confirmed that attractive girls were being recruited and trained in English and intelligence work for the assassination teams.

In one recent incident, three Marines on patrol near their camp spotted three girls swimming nude in a stream. A few minutes later, one Marine lay dead, face down in the water. The other two are still missing.

"It is considered probable that the females were used as lures," the sources said.

The first inkling of the death-dealing decoys came in January when Marine counterintelligence units uncovered what they called a "Viet Cong suicide platoon, composed of approximately 30 females." The girls were already operating near this sprawling Marine complex.

The girls, many believed to be fresh-faced teenagers like many Marines, work in the time-honored tradition: strike up a conversation, get the Marine talking about himself, make an appointment for a quiet rendezvous, then arrange the kill.

Marine sources are concerned enough to warn the lower ranked men. The 8 p.m. curfew in the city of Da Nang is strict.

Much of the city is completely off limits to the Leathernecks. Houses of prostitution, vermin-infested, tin-roofed shacks stand less than 100 yards from the main gates of some camps. Officials are not too concerned with these. They cannot be eradicated but can be better patrolled when nearby.

200 Sun Bathers Escape Flames

CORONA, Calif. (AP) — A fire in Temescal Canyon spread so close to a nudist camp that many of the 200 sun bathers fled its path.

Several male nudists took up stations beside the fire-fighting crews numbering 300 or more.

"Some of those guys were helping fight the fire in their shoes, and nothing else," a spokesman for the state Division of Forestry said.

GOT TIRED OF WAITING

Justice Of Peace Builds Courtroom

(Editor's Note: Justice of Peace Jess McGee tired of waiting for Brazos County to furnish him a courtroom. A "do it yourself" man, McGee brought his hammers, saws and sanders to the courthouse and did the job himself.)

BRYAN, Tex. (AP) — Justice of Peace Jess McGee, 71, is one of those do it yourself, hammer and saw type guys. He has just had his finest hour. McGee built his own courtroom.

McGee and another justice of peace, B. H. Dewey, had been trying to get their own courtroom for three years. Brazos County was taking its time providing one.

QUICK CLAIM

A room adjacent to Dewey's office in the courthouse was vacated recently. The judges put in a quick claim. But it was up to them to make it into a courtroom.

McGee started the project on his own time. He toted in lumber, saws, hammers, and sanders.

"I built a judge's bench, a table, repaired a judge's chair, reupholstered other chairs, constructed a platform and a sidewall to it," McGee said. "I also fixed a place for the witnesses. You might say I just built a courtroom."

McGee said the courtroom is necessary because "it just isn't very impressive to issue a statutory warning in an office with phones ringing and people coming and going."

He said a place of dignity was needed for the two judges' functions.

REAL PROUD

McGee had the project wrapped up in short order and said "right now we are using the court about six to eight times per day."

Dewey said "I'm real proud of Mr. Jess for working it out."

McGee said "We have needed this for a long time. Judge Dewey and I have to perform a duty willed on us by the state legislature: hearings on the suspension of driver's licenses. This matter is important to the people it concerns; it is important to me. It's impossible to consider a case with constant interruptions."

McGee, who described himself as an "old fella who becomes bored if he isn't doing something," said he has been getting a lot of compliments about the courtroom.

"I bet the county is happy too," McGee said. "I figure that courtroom I built would have cost them about $300."

TOMORROW

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon all sorts of obstacles and delays can be in effect so you feel you are getting nowhere — but fast. However, the afternoon and evening bring you all kinds of opportunities to forge ahead in the shopping or the merchandizing that you wish to do as well as get your romantic life improved.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Being irksome with kin in a.m. could lead to rather disastrous results, otherwise by evening all can be improved within the realm of your home. Put those established plans in operation quickly. Show others you are most capable.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Morning is not a good time to contact others, so wait until afternoon to get the right results. After lunch you can cover a good deal of territory. Keep appointments on time, shop, visit, etc.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Although you may feel your financial position is not good in a.m., don't get frustrated, since later in the day you get fine ideas for improving same. There are many fascinating facets for you to look into. Be clever.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Affairs may seem depressing in a.m. but later all changes and you can do much both socially and in business. Do something sensible about your health. Out to group meetings that are most worthwhile, interesting in p.m.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) During morning you seem hardly able to gain the favors from others you desire, but later all goes as you want it. Confer with experts. Take time to help one in distress during a.m., also.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get busy with your work in the morning when it is impossible to go out for fun you want, but in the evening you can be most happy with congenials. Be entertaining at group affairs. Show that you have wit and humor.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) It would be best to handle that vital public matter after lunch when you are at your best with influentials. Show higher-ups that you will support their projects. Gain prestige, improve reputation.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Some new system can now be put in operation that seems feasible to you, but make preparations in a.m. and then full speed ahead after lunch. Plan some trip tonight. See that wardrobe is just right.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Put recreation aside and get into all that work that's before you. Tonight you have time for the romantic. Make sure that you make payments that are due. Don't dash out for fun and forget all about it.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go into the detail of hobbie during a.m. so that they work just fine tonight. Getting all those chores completed is fine before you get into the pleasurable. Show that you are a neat, efficient person.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) With all those duties ahead of you, you had better plan your time and activities early, then full speed ahead. Impress co-workers that you will do more than your share. This brings added good will.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have to have a sunny disposition in a.m. if you want to get those outlets on the road successfully. Plan your evening pleasure early and be sure to telephone friends on time. Then have a wonderful time.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow he or she will be one of those young people who early in life find the sledding rather hard, but as time goes on all improves naturally and reaularly, and will be able to stand on own two feet easily. Be encouraging, eliminate self-pity. Any work connected with the public in general is fine here, especially if combined with romance.

$53,900 Asked

A suit asking $53,900 damages as result of a motor car mishap of Jan. 5, 1968, has been filed in 118th District Court by Robert L. Parker against Roger Floyd Dixon and others. The alleged collision, which is basis for the suit, occurred at Johnson Street intersection with East 15th.

A Devotional For The Day

What partnership have righteousness and iniquity? Or what fellowship has light with darkness? (II Corinthians 6:14, RSV)

PRAYER: We need Thee, O God, to help us where we live and to strengthen us in doing Thy will in the world. We pray for the church, that she may be a worthy witness of Thy truth and love. In the spirit of the redeeming Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Sterner Course Warranted

Administrators and faculty members of venerable Columbia University in New York City are faced with a crucial decision—whether to bow to demands of striking students or to ignore the threat and order a resumption of classes.

It will be a decision which will have its effects far beyond the borders of Columbia.

Based on the principle of educational responsibility, we hope that officials stand firm and order the school reopened for all who wish to pursue the serious business of learning.

University administrators, with the backing of trustees, finally were obliged to order sit-in demonstrators to be forcibly ejected from the campus and its buildings. These individuals had bodily disrupted and paralyzed the educational processes of the university. Police arrested some 720, as they had every right and responsibility to do, when they ousted the trespassers. Because of this, student leaders called a student strike, being supported by a fraction of the faculty.

Most administrators and faculty members seek to avoid an authoritarian approach in running colleges and universities, seeking to preserve a spirit of free inquiry so far as possible. But in forgetting the purpose of a university and forgetting to whom the institutions belong and who supports and makes them possible, the students have invited a sterner discipline.

Viet Cong Unmasked

One of the great tragedies of the Vietnamese war is that civilians have frequently been caught up in the holocaust and suffer deprivation, injury and death. One sizable block out of the body which opposes United States military involvement there seeks to lay this all or most all at our door. Charges tend to make the Viet Cong appear as a white knight alongside of us.

Perhaps a recent dispatch from Vietnam should help bring this back into perspective. Drawing from allied sources, and the Vietnamese police, the report told of discovery of 19 mass graves with an estimated 1,000 bodies. Grant a reasonable margin for error, this is still an atrocious thing, especially the evidence that many were shot while bound hand and foot and that perhaps not a few were clubbed unconscious and buried alive.

Some may seek to brush this off as propaganda, but the report lends credence to those (including some missionaries) who have said all along that an allied retreat from Vietnam would open the flood gates to a blood bath the likes of which the world has seldom if ever seen.

There also is some indication to the character of the enemy. While those we have killed by bombardment, bombing and other action have been in the line of fire, and therefore accidental casualties, those uncovered this week were killed with calculated deliberateness.

Ruthless Hubert Humphrey

WASHINGTON — Vice President Hubert Humphrey's surprise announcement that he was a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination caught newspapermen in Washington flatfooted.

For waiting less than a month after President Johnson announced he would not run, Humphrey has been accused of being opportunistic and ruthless by backers of Sens. Eugene McCarthy and Robert Kennedy.

A McCARTHY manager, when informed of the news, said, "It's typical of Hubert Humphrey to disregard all the amenities of politics and try to steal the nomination away from Eugene McCarthy. But I believe the American people will see through this attempted power grab. At least Robert Kennedy had the decency to send his brother Teddy to see Sen. McCarthy at 3 o'clock in the morning before he announced. But Humphrey wouldn't even send his sister."

I asked the manager if I might get a statement from McCarthy.

The reply was, "The senator will soon have a poem which he will release to the press."

OVER AT Kennedy headquarters things were even grimmer. "The vice president is dividing the Democratic Party," a spokesman said. "Even more than Eugene McCarthy. If Bobby had any hint of what Hubert Humphrey had planned to do, he would have reassessed his position."

Another Kennedy worker added, "The vice president hopes to cash in on the Humphrey name, but he's going to discover that people will resent it. And if he thinks he can buy this election with Muriel's millions he's sadly mistaken."

I ASKED the Kennedy backers if they thought Vice President Hubert Humphrey would be able to change his ruthless image by convention time.

"They'll do anything over there to make Hubert look like a good guy. But it won't work. Don't forget Hubert Humphrey was in the Senate when all the wiretapping was going on in Washington, and he can't say he didn't know it was going on."

A third Kennedy backer said, "Hubert may have the college kids and they can tear his clothes off and muss up his hair, but I would like to know how they translate that into votes."

ONE OF THE Kennedy volunteers blamed Humphrey's entry into the race on fatigue.

He said, "If we all hadn't been so tired in 1960 we would never have chosen Lyndon Johnson as vice president, and then he would never have chosen Hubert Humphrey as his vice president in 1964."

The White House was silent on Hubert Humphrey's announcement. A spokesman said, "We intend to remain neutral and work for peace."

"THEN WHY are you painting that sign 'Humphrey for President' on the porch?" I asked.

"It's only temporary until the neon one arrives from New York."

"Will the President make a statement concerning his preference for a nominee before the convention?"

"If you were President Johnson and you knew how each of the candidates had served you, how could you possibly make a choice?"

Billy Graham

"Jesus said to His disciples: 'And greater works than these shall you do, because I go to the Father.' Now, Dr. Graham, we know that God's people today are not doing 'greater works' than our Lord. So, what is wrong?" C.F.

I will admit that most of us are not measuring up to our spiritual potential.

But, I believe when Jesus said, "Because I go to the Father," He meant that when He ascended into heaven, that He would send the Holy Spirit, and that He, (not being limited by time and space) would help Christ's disciples, corporately, to do works which would exceed Christ's. This happened on the day of Pentecost when 3,000 were added to the church in one 24-hour period. Such an influx into the church never occurred during Christ's ministry.

I believe also that God gave the world modern electronics to enable us to reach more people with the Gospel. For example, in England last year I was able to speak to audiences in 25 different cities with attendances of upwards of 120,000 nightly.

If we seized every opportunity to witness for Christ, with the power of God's Spirit, and with modern media, we could evangelize the world in our generation. Truly, "greater works" than Christ did upon earth could be done. But such a task requires vision and dedication. May God give them to us.

Unequal Division

NEW DELHI (AP)—Food Minister Jagjivan Ram says 90 per cent of the jobs in India are monopolized by people drawn from a segment of 10 per cent of the people.

Ram, a leader of India's 60 million untouchables, said only 20 per cent of this nation's 510 million people can read and write. Of them, less than half, belonging to higher castes, are qualified to hold good jobs.

"Democracy cannot have any meaning unless opportunities for employment are open to the entire community," he told a conference.

Litterbug Fined

BABYLON, N.Y. (AP)—A Long Island motorist, Herbert M. Fishman of Lindenhurst, learned that freedom of the press does not include throwing a newspaper in the face of the law.

Fisherman was fined $10 in Nassau District Court for littering. The court was told that the newspaper Fishman threw out his car window landed on the windshield of Patrolman Richard Russell's patrol car.

Tinkering With Nominations

WASHINGTON (AP) — It would be hard to design a more haphazard, inefficient system than that by which the United States nominates its presidential candidates. It would also be hard to find one better suited to the national temper in this election year.

At a time of national uncertainty, a hovering between war and peace, a groping for answers to racial, urban and economic problems, the system is keeping the political situation fluid.

IT PERMITS Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York to become a full-fledged candidate for the Republican nomination and score at least a psychologically important victory in Massachusetts little more than a month after he declared himself out of the race.

It permits Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to go from noncandidate to strong contender in the Democratic contest without having faced a rival in a single primary.

It permits Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., to turn a quixotic one-man crusade into a full-fledged campaign, and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., to avoid casting the first stone and then come into the fray swinging.

EVER SINCE George Washington became unavailable for another presidential term, the nation has experimented with a variety of methods for nominating presidential candidates.

Having settled in 1832 on the national party convention as the best way to make the final choice, it has been tinkering ever since with the method of choosing delegates to the conventions and giving the voters a large role in the nominating process.

The reform movement in the early 20th Century that replaced boss-dominated state nominating conventions with direct primaries appeared for a time to be leading toward a universal system—perhaps even the direct national primary which Woodrow Wilson, among others, advocated. By 1916, 24 states were holding presidential primaries, but that was the high-water mark. In 1964 only 16 states let the voters help pick the candidates. This year it's down to 13.

MOST STATES still use conventions, some use both conventions and primaries. It is hard to find even two states that follow identical procedures. In addition, the states act over a time span beginning in March and extending right up to the national conventions.

This, then, is the American way of political life for a candidate and it is bound to impose its peculiar logic on him.

Certainly, it was the opportunity offered by the New Hampshire and Wisconsin primaries to get at least a tentative reading on voter attitudes toward the Vietnam war and President Johnson that led McCarthy to act.

McCarthy's success brought in Kennedy and forced Johnson to declare a hand he may well have preferred to conceal for a while. And the fact that not enough states hold presidential primaries to give any candidate a lock on the nomination let Humphrey and Rockefeller make their belated moves.

Like a Rube Goldberg contraption, it works. But you can be sure the tinkering is not over.

Missionaries Live It Up

KARAWA, the Congo (AP) — For many, a missionary is a lonely pauper in funny clothes with a grave look, spouting Bible verse while slapping mosquitoes and dodging spears.

No more . . . now mostly just the Bible and the mosquitoes are left. And the Bible is, increasingly, taking second place to a blackboard or a stethoscope.

THERE'S GRACE Nelson, for example. Hovering around middle age, she jounces around Karawa Mission Station on a motorbike, holding onto her nurse's cap with a free hand. The missionaries at Karawa eat food shipped from Denmark and the United States and one of their chief complaints is the perfidy of the community's generator. The children, with their own school, say they'd prefer to stay put though they miss apples and peaches once in a while.

And there's Sam Vinton. He spends half the year in a luxurious villa in Bukavu which he figures he's earned after 40 years of building a school-dispensary-workshop complex in the bush. At 60, he still hasn't carried out his threat of retiring and anyway his son plans to take over the mission.

There are 1,450 Protestants and 5,800 Catholic missionaries in the Congo, doing everything from running a Catholic news service to seeking substitutes for fertilizer. They subsidize more than half of the Congo's teachers and make up one-eighth of the doctors.

OBJECTIVE observers close to the missions say long years in a single post tend to bring out extremes, making a missionary either very effective or very damaging.

"What are needed now," says Bryon Ediger, whose mission hostel in Kinshasa fills 11,700 beds a year, "are more well trained young people to spend a few years at a specific job and leave. It's the perfect chance to teach by Christian example and do some good."

Ediger, 24, is a Mennonite conscientious objector from Buhler, Kan., here with his wife in lieu of military service.

MANY OLD-TIMERS, like Vinton, say the trick is finding missionaries who will work. "When we first came here," he recalls, "there were plenty ready to do the preaching. We needed people to work."

Missionaries serve for three years and go home, coming back if they want. Their houses, looking mostly mid-western ranch style, are comfortable and well staffed. Most stations have air strips.

Ann Berg of Oakland, Calif., in the Congo since 1945, runs the women's program.

"I try to get out as much as possible," she says, "always staying with village families. Once I had trouble sleeping because the rats kept walking over a wire that was strung inside (as a clothesline) and falling onto my mosquito netting. Every few minutes I had to wake up and kick them off."

What The P.K.U. Test Reveals

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: My grandson has to go to Children's Hospital for tests — I have already taken him twice for a P.K.U. test, urine test, and blood test, but they want another test before he is six months old.

His doctor says he is not mentally retarded, yet they have done the P.K.U. over twice. Doesn't the P.K.U. tell whether a child is retarded?

He is on a diet of milk, cereal, fruit and juices, no meat or eggs. Could you tell me whether he has a blood disease or suffered brain damage during birth? — Mrs. W. B.

I don't have enough clues to try to figure out what the little fellow's trouble is — and from the continued testing, evidently it isn't easy to be certain. In such puzzling cases, Children's Hospital is the place to have the studying done.

As to the P.K.U. matter, I can be more specific. No, the P.K.U. test does not tell whether a child is retarded. P.K.U. (meaning phenylketonuria) is a difficulty involving absorption of certain foods.

If a child with this condition is fed an ordinary diet, he may become retarded, although he is not retarded to start with.

But we know that by feeding a special diet for a number of years, the retardation can be prevented — one of the few types of retardation over which we have effective control.

It is necessary to test some 10,000 to 20,000 babies to find one P.K.U. baby, but unless the condition is discovered early in life, the damage will be done before preventive steps can be taken.

This youngster is in good hands, and I would not be unduly alarmed just because tests are being continued. It rather sounds to me as though your doctor and the hospital doctors are following the rule that it's better to be careful and safe than to take things for granted and perhaps be sorry.

Dear Dr. Molner: When a person has cataracts and the lenses of the eyes are removed, does that mean the person will be totally blind? — Mrs. J.C.B.

Certainly not! "Cataract" means the lens is cloudy, and hence light cannot get into the inner eye — or cannot get through the lens clearly enough.

When the lens is removed, light again can enter the eye. However, the light is not focussed sharply. The patient can detect light and darkness, but everything appears as a blur. Therefore glasses are worn (either regular spectacles or contact lenses) to focus the light and create clear vision again.

Around The Rim

The Same Guy

Every year, you see and talk to this guy.

He's the one who used to grouse because he had "to pay" to vote. He was the first in every crowd to find fault with paying a poll tax, and used this as his excuse for not voting.

THE POLL TAX was eliminated, and a few of these guys finally came around and became qualified to vote. Far more, I confess, than I believed would be the case when all the hullabaloo was raised to eliminate that tax.

Now, it is voting time again. Sad to say, this same guy is usually the one with the loudest voice about what's wrong with things. At least one I know of — has already announced that he will not vote as he will be up at the lake fishing, and it's too far back to town and the polls.

"BUT BY GOLLY, if I was here I sure would vote and get things straightened out."

This fellow, who has so much to say, rarely says it — where it counts, in the voting box. His fault-finding goes hand - in - hand with his excuses for failing to vote.

"WELL, IT WOULDN'T have made any difference anyway," he says after the election. We know better, for we have had many close elections here, where a handful of ballots might have spelled the difference in the outcome.

We all know this fellow, for he is so common. Because of him, the pollsters and election prognosticators can pretty well peg that only about half the qualified voters will show up to mark a ballot. His habits are so well known, that a 75 per cent turnout of voters would easily be the biggest news event of the year.

WE REGULARLY hear this fellow out, chide him gently, then laugh it off into forgetfulness. We can't be too hard on him. Perhaps he's too close to home. — V. GLENN COOTES

Sanctity Of A Contract, By Will

WASHINGTON — Nikita Khrushchev's prophecy that our grandchildren will live under "socialism" gets a real test in the latest return engagement of the Girard College case before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Everybody must know by now about the assaults by law suits and mobology against the will of Philadelphia merchant Stephen Girard (1750-1831) who endowed a school for "poor white male orphans."

FIRST THE heirs, represented by Daniel Webster, and since 1952 the NAACP, the Federal courts, the Philadelphia City Hall, demonstrators howling in the streets while the students were taking final exams — these, and sundry camp-followers, have been trying to break the contract between the dead man and the school which he founded.

At stake, of course, is a private citizen's right to name the beneficiaries of his estate, and to exclude all other persons from sharing in it. If this right is struck down by the U.S. Supreme Court in its current session, or in October when it returns, Khrushchev's timetable is advanced by a generation. Our children, not our grandchildren, will live under "socialism."

AS MATTERS stand today the Trustees and the Alumni Association of Girard College have petitioned the Supreme Court to set aside what amounts to an integration order issued by the U.S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals. To uphold the Court of Appeals the Supreme Court would have to demolish what the Constitution calls "Obligation of Contracts."

MANY THOUSANDS of words have been written, covering a dozen sensitive points, in the long history of litigation concerning the Girard College case. Webster, in the pay of a greedy brother and niece of Girard, attacked the will at the point where Girard had excluded clergy from the school. Girard did this, not because he was anti-religion, but "to keep the tender minds of the orphans free from the excitements (of) clashing doctrines and sectarian controversy." Webster argued that this provision made the will "unblessed in design and unwise in purpose," but Mr. Justice Story ruled that Girard "had a right (to) his own notions of religious instructions."

MORE RECENTLY, last month, the Circuit Court's unanimous opinion made scathing reference to attempts to "maintain Girard's discriminatory status." This viewpoint seems as specious as Webster's was. Back in 1958 Chief Justice Stern of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court wrote: ". . . It must be remembered that in this country a man's prejudices are a part of his liberty . . . he is entitled to the control of his property while living and by will to direct its use after his death . . ."

A SPOKESMAN for the Girard Trustees and Alumni tells me that their lawyers (if allowed by the Supreme Court to make arguments) will say that a ruling against them would stretch the "equal protection" of the Fourteenth Amendment to mean: "The Federal Government can lift any boy off the streets and order any private citizen to take him home and educate him."

We shall soon see whether the craze for education and equality surpasses all understanding of our other American privileges. And whether the sanctity of contracts is a deadletter of the Constitution.

Vice-Presidential Experience

WASHINGTON — Small wonder that former Vice President Nixon, Republican, greeted with favor the entry of Vice President Humphrey into the Democratic party's contest for the presidential nomination. In the first place, it now complicates somewhat the Democratic race and increases the amount of disunity. But, most of all, it has furnished Mr. Nixon with an opportunity to emphasize pointedly that "service as vice president is an excellent preparation for the presidency."

THIS IS NOT an immodest way of boosting Mr. Nixon's own qualifications. For he served eight years as the number two man and, after all, that's double Mr. Humphrey's tenure.

Mr. Nixon, however, didn't confine himself to a discussion of the vice presidency as a means of preparation for the White House. He said frankly that he considers Mr. Humphrey "a man of great ability" and looks forward "to his constructive participation in the nation's processes of choice and decision this year."

THERE MAY BE a bit of subtlety in this compliment. For Mr. Humphrey enters the Democratic battle for the presidential nomination at a time when both Sens. McCarthy and Kennedy are trying to accumulate delegates through the state primaries. Anything, therefore, that boosts Mr. Humphrey presumably subtracts from the strength of the other two contenders. If the vice president should get the nomination, Mr. Nixon doubtless feels there will be time enough to delineate the differences in viewpoint between the Republican and Democratic presidential nominees.

FOR THE present anyway, a feeling of satisfaction prevails in the Nixon camp that Mr. Humphrey has decided to get into the race. The contrast in experience is pointed up between a vice president and a senator from Minnesota who hasn't had the opportunity to learn firsthand how a chief executive has to work.

As for Bobby Kennedy's intimacy with White House affairs when his brother was President, this will be a subject of much debate in the campaign if the New York senator gets the nomination. For his services both as attorney general and adviser to the President have aroused considerable controversy.

THERE ARE some on the Nixon side who think that the Democratic party would be sharply divided if Sen. Kennedy wins the nomination, and that the Republican nominee would pick up a large number of votes in November among citizens who regularly vote the Democratic ticket.

IF MESSRS. NIXON and Humphrey — two vice presidents — are the opposing candidates, attention will naturally be focused on the kind of experience each has gained. Under President Eisenhower, Mr. Nixon was in very close touch with the White House and sat in on many of the important conferences involving international and national policies. Mr. Eisenhower felt that, in the public interest, the vice president should be on the inside of everything so that he could take over in an emergency. Mr. Humphrey has also been consulted often by President Johnson.

A VICE president, however, doesn't necessarily learn how to deal with the administrative phases of a President's job. In the few instances where a President died in office, there usually has been a period of uncertainty when the vice president took over. It is not unlike that which confronts a new President in the period before his inauguration and in his first few months in the White House. A vice president nowadays can nevertheless in four years obtain a lot of background which could help him considerably if he ever becomes the chief executive.

MEMPHIS (AP) — The final class bells were still echoing when wedding bells rang for Betsey Buchanan.

Miss Buchanan and Richard Short were married immediately after they were graduated from Memphis State University at the winter commencement exercises.

She had a precedent for the arrangement. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan of Memphis, had wed immediately after their graduation from the school 25 years earlier.

OVER INDIANA'S DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY

Nixon, HHH Casting Shadows

By THOMAS J. BYGARD
Associated Press Writer

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The names on the ballot are Branigin, Kennedy and McCarthy.

But two other names—Nixon and Humphrey—are casting shadows over Indiana's Democratiac presidential primary May 7.

Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey publicly proclaimed himself a candidate too late to enter the primary.

STAND IN?

But less than two days later he was talking about Indiana Gov. Roger D. Branigin, who's running as a favorite son. Humphrey commented in a nationwide television interview: "If anything I can say will be helpful to him, I want to do that."

Is Branigin a stand-in for Humphrey?

Branigin and Humphrey say no.

But the fact remains that Branigin alone is in a position to knock off Humphrey's two major opponents for the nomination—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy of New York, making his first bid in a major primary, and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, trying to keep the momentum of victories in New Hampshire and Wisconsin.

Richard M. Nixon is all by himself on another ballot—the Republican presidential primary—but he's got a fight on his hands holding Republicans' interest in his uncontested race and putting down the Republicans' temptation to record their votes in the white-hot Democratic battle.

COURTS CROSSOVER

Both Branigin and McCarthy have openly courted Republican crossover votes. Technically, a crossover is illegal in Indiana. But, as a practical matter, the enforcement lies in the challenge at the polls, and the challenges have been minimal in the past.

With write-in votes forbidden, Nixon faces no greater threat in Indiana than the possibility of a low vote total resulting from either crossovers or apathy.

His backers figure the entry of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller as an announced candidate may serve to keep Republicans in their own primary.

As for Nixon, he's aimed his campaign guns elsewhere so far. The former vice president's appearances in Indiana today and Friday will be the first since February.

On the Democratic side, the three-way battle is gathering a head of steam the likes of which Indiana voters have not seen since the legislature inaugurated a presidential primary in 1953.

LAME-DUCK

Branigin motorcades from town to town, shaking hands and asking for votes "in the best interests of Indiana," with the full backing of the regular state Democratic organization. Kennedy is barnstorming the state by jet, train and car, and McCarthy is speaking as much as eight times a day on a schedule running from early morning to late at night.

Branigin, a lame-duck governor barred by law from re-election, got into the race as an announced stand-in for President Johnson. When Johnson withdrew, Branigin became a favorite son candidate.

He argued that a Hoosier, not "a foreigner, an outlander, a tourist," should have control of Indiana's 63 votes in the Democratic National Convention.

Indiana law binds delegates to the primary winner on the first ballot. They can make their own course after the first ballot.

MONEY FLOWS

Branigin and his backers have hammered hard at the blitzkrieg aspects of the Kennedy and McCarthy campaigns, saying the senators are trying to buy the presidency.

How much is really being poured out of the coffers?

Gordon St. Angelo, state Democratic chairman, said Kennedy and McCarthy each would spend $2 million in their bid to sew up Indiana.

McCarthy replied that if he spent one-fourth that amount he would consider the campaign well-financed.

The Kennedy people ignored the St. Angelo statement.

Texas Lawmakers Disagree On HHH-Connally Ticket

WASHINGTON (AP) — The consensus of Texas congressmen today is that Vice President Hubert Humphrey is the only candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination who could win the state's 25 electoral votes.

But a survey of the congressmen indicates they disagree on whether the selection of Gov. John Connally as Humphrey's running mate would hurt or help the vice president's chances in Texas in November.

Even the congressmen who personally like New York Sen Robert (Bobby) Kennedy say they believe few back home share their sentiments.

WATCH THE ACTION

Few say they heard much talk one way or another for Sen. Eugene McCarthy, D-Minn. but some said support for former Gov. George Wallace of Alabama was growing.

"If you want to see an instant two-party state, just wait until the Democrats nominate and watch the action," predicted Rep. George Bush, Houston Republican.

"A Humphrey-Connally ticket would be strong in Texas, but if Kennedy or McCarthy are nominated I would say it would be very doubtful the party could carry the areas of Texas I'm familiar with," said Rep. John Young, Corpus Christi Democrat. "I think that's putting it mildly."

"West Texans won't tolerate Kennedy," said Rep. Richard White, El Paso Democrat. "They could tolerate Humphrey and they sure would if Connally were on the ticket."

RFK DANGER

Reps. Bob Eckhardt of Houston, Jack Brooks of Beaumont and Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio said Connally on the ticket might hurt Humphrey in their areas.

"Humphrey is the only Democrat except Lyndon Johnson who could carry Texas," said Brooks, counties if Connally were vice "but he might not carry Jefferson, Chambers and Galveston presidential candidate. I don't hear any talk for Connally as a nominee."

Gonzalez, a supporter of Humphrey, said he saw little sentiment for Kennedy in San Antonio despite the great popularity of the late President John Kennedy.

"I have had several loyal Democrats tell me to my face that if Kennedy is the nominee they'll vote for Nixon," Gonzalez said.

"I think Connally would weaken the Humphrey ticket."

Negro Hopeful Virtually Assures Runoff In N. C.

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — The Negro candidate in a three-way race for North Carolina's Democratic nomination for governor needs a heavy Negro vote and considerable white votes to survive Saturday's primary election.

Yet, the candidacy of Dr. Reginald Hawkins of Charlotte, a dentist and minister, has virtually assured a runoff even if he places last in the voting.

Neither of Hawkins's opponents, Lt. Gov. Bob Scott and Mel Broughton of Raleigh, is expected to get a majority of the votes and outright nomination.

On the Republican side, U.S. Rep. Jim Gardner, D-N.C., opposes Jack Stickley, a Charlotte businessman, for the gubernatorial nomination.

INTEREST LAGS

There will be no presidential ballot for the North Carolina voter Saturday and the campaign for governor has aroused little interest. Surveys have reported numerous undecided or apathetic voters.

State election officials predict about 800,000 Democrats and 250,000 Republicans will vote in the primary. The 1964 total vote included 769,090 Democrats and 63,815 Republicans.

The larger turnout is expected this year because of the increased number of candidates, particularly for legislative seats and district judgeships.

In his quest for support among white voters, Hawkins has advocated a tax on cigarettes and liberalization of the state's liquor laws. North Carolina is the only state that does not tax tobacco products and liquor-by-the-drink sales are prohibited.

Neither of his two opponents have courted the Negro vote and have made serious plays for the conservative vote. Both have strong "law and order" planks in their platform and have sought support of former associates of the segregationist and conservative wing of the state Democratic party.

Panel Prescribes Spending Formula

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee has prescribed a formula to inject new life into President Johnson's $10 billion tax-hike bill—a spending cut proposal which the administration labeled good medicine.

Breaking a weeks-long deadlock, the committee proposed Wednesday that any tax hike be accompanied by a $4 billion cut in actual spending for the fiscal year beginning July 1 plus a $14 billion slash in spending already authorized or appropriated for future years.

The committee's action removed a big roadblock in the tax proposal's progress through Congress, where it has been since last August.

But Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican on a House-Senate conference committee trying to work out a compromise, said the Senate will not pass a tax-spending package that doesn't contain a $6 billion spending cut for next year—a proposal already endorsed by the Senate but opposed by the administration.

LOGJAM BROKEN

Secretary of the Treasury Henry H. Fowler, commenting on the Appropriations Committee's recommendations—including a $4 billion spending cut—said they "meet every reasonable demand for expenditure control."

Rep. Melvin R. Laird, R-Wis., said: "The real logjam has been broken here today. This opens the way for the conferees to go ahead."

Laird predicted an eventual compromise which would include a $5 billion spending cut.

The full House continued its budget-cutting drive, passing a bill to appropriate $5.523 billion for the Agriculture Department, $1.4 billion less than the President requested.
