Miss Lee Ann Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Moore, Spade Community, is one of the members of the high school homemaking classes who is working with the 1949 Study Club and the Federation Library on a reading and recreation program for local youngsters from 3 to 6 years old. The program is conducted each Thursday morning from 9:30 to 10:30 in the Community Center and all youngsters in this age bracket are welcome. The program will be in effect through July 26. Mrs. Billy Hudson is chairman of the program.

BEGINS FRIDAY THE 13TH!

14th Annual Golf Tourney Here

The 14th annual Colorado "jinx day" opening City Country Club invitational golf tournament will be Friday, July 13, through Sunday, according to Ray Mize, of the tournament committee. Mize said that 112 players Lamesa, Ted Triplett, of Abilene, and Charles Hopkins, of Post. Defending champion, Bill Craig, of Colorado City, will also attend. Starter for the tourney will be Gail Barnett, of San Antonio. He will make pairings, determine the order of play, and run the scoreboard, Mize said.

30 PLEDGES UNSIGNED

Interstate Sign Clean-up Tuesday

A clean-up campaign for the Chamber of Commerce's bypass sign project will be conducted Tuesday according to Jeff Taylor, chairman of the retail trade committee. Pledges and cash payments for the signs have already passed the $7,000 mark set by the committee as the minimum necessary, he indicated. However, more pledges are needed to cover any possible shortage caused by unexpected expenses, he added. There are about 30 pledge cards which have not been signed, he said — mostly due to the prospective pledges having been on vacation. These are the cards the committee hopes to get signed. Of the total of 130 cards sent out, 30 are unsigned and about 10 percent have been "noes," he indicated. The clean-up campaign committee members will meet in the chamber offices at 9 a. m. Tuesday, according to Joe Bell, chairman. Those who will conduct the clean-up are Dick Wustrand, Evelyn Kelly, Don Benson, Jeff Taylor, Bill Randle, Porter Richardson, Henry Berry, and the Rev. Darris Egger.

REGISTRATION DOUBLED

81 Enrolled in Library Program

Enrollment has almost doubled since last report on the number of persons participating in the library's summer reading program. Mrs. Boyd Dozier, head librarian, announced Saturday. After one week 44 persons had enrolled, and now by the end of the second week there are 81 registered. Mrs. Dozier noted, however, that relatively few are enrolled in the state program in comparison with those participating in the local. The reason for this, she explained, is that students do not like to read required books, but had rather read something of their own choosing. This reading program provided by the Federation Library enables students from the first grade through the 12th to receive a reading certificate after the completion of 12 books. The state program is designed for the older students, making certain requirements in reading subjects. The local program, on the other hand, enables the younger children to read whatever they choose, although it serves the purpose of encouraging them "to read more" in their leisure time. The local program was provided in 1960, at which time only 74. An increase of seven over this number has already been obtained for this year's program. Although only 14 are signed-up for the state program, Mrs. Dozier pointed out that an increase is shown here also. At the end of the first week, there were only seven participating in this program, and now there are 14.

Lorraine Hosts Big Holiday Celebration

BY MRS. ROY WELLS
Wendelyn Dawn Hallmark, 3, was crowned Miss Spark and Deborah Sue Oliver, 11, was crowned Miss Flame in the highlight event of the Lorraine July 4th celebration held Wednesday afternoon.

The queen pageant was staged in Lorraine by the Volunteer Fire Department and the Ladies Auxiliary. This, the second annual July 4th celebration and barbeque, is a program designed to encourage the people of Lorraine to stay off the highways during the July 4 holiday.

In the queen pageant, girls between the ages of three and six are entered in the Miss Spark contest, and girls from 11 to 14 can compete in the Miss Flame contest.

This year's Miss Spark is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Oliver. Runners-up in the contest were Cindy Galvan for Miss Spark, and Marsha Green for Miss Flame. Cindy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Galvan, and Marsha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Green Jr.

First place prize for each contest was a 11 by 14 inch tinted portrait from Hallmark's Studio in Lorraine. Runners-up received a black and white portrait.

Each winner also received a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemum flowers. Supervisor for the contest was Mrs. J. C. Hall Jr., president of the Women's Auxiliary. She was assisted by Sandra Cushing, The Auxiliary, which is made up of firemen's wives, also assisted with the food preparation. The Lorraine July 4th celebration, held on the grass-covered lots belonging to Luifers, began at 1:30 p. m. and continued until 9:30 p. m. Events included in the program were a boy's water fight, singing, hose hookups, various fire demonstrations and the queen contest.

Other games and contests included dominoes, horse shoe events, washers, and sack races. Approximately 500 persons attended the barbeque dinner, which was followed by a community prayer meeting with Archie D. Scarborough, as guest speaker. His topic was "Religious Freedom."

Rev. Frank Story, Methodist minister, gave the invocation and Paul Vasquez offered the benediction. The barbeque dinner was prepared by Stanton Hudgins, Alfred Hackfeld and Alton Robinson.

KVMC Radio furnished music and sound equipment for the entire event. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kisinger assisted with the singing. Butane for a special Christmas tree exhibition was furnished by Olen Mayes. The trailer platform for the queen contest was furnished by Rovee Mahon. Firemen provided free lemonade and coffee for the day's event.

Rev. H. M. Farrington, Baptist minister, presided at the microphone, announcing contests and events. J. C. Hall Jr., has been the Lorraine Fire Chief for 15 years. There are 20 members in the Volunteer Fire Department.

Equipment includes two fire trucks and an ambulance, donated by Doyle Kiker of Colorado City. Contestants entering in the Miss Spark contest were Evelyn Dandridge, Angela Chism, Susan Mahon, Deborah Compton, Nancy Kay Smith, Susan Cornutt and Renee Beights. Top five ranking contestants were as follows: Hallmark, Galvan, Chism, Mahon, and Cornutt.

Contestants in the Miss Flame contest, other than Miss Flame, were Betty and Judy Graham, Susan Compton, Becky Merket, Rhonda Gayle Oliver, Gwen Tartt, Jan Mearse, Jeanne Smith, Jenilyn McNaughton, and Greta Lou Little. Ranking in the top five were Oliver, Green, Tartt, Graham, and Little.

One Injured In Two-Car Accident

Mrs. Patricia A. Drubbe, of Colorado City, was admitted to Root Memorial Hospital Friday after a two-car accident in which she was injured.

Mrs. Drubbe was released Saturday morning after emergency treatment, according to hospital personnel. The 1960 model Falcon sedan Mrs. Drubbe was driving was in collision with a 1959 Chevrolet sedan driven by Mrs. Tommie Piller Verner, also of Colorado City.

The accident occurred when Mrs. Drubbe made a right hand turn from Hickory St. on to 20th St. and the right front fenders of the cars struck. Mrs. Verner was not injured. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $250 each, according to police.

AS LEGISLATIVE BODY

School Board Makes Policy

BY JANE DOBBS
Record Staff Writer
The three month interval between each school year is a time of work and policy making for the Colorado City School Board.

In making preparations for the beginning of a new school term, the seven-man elected body, not only makes changes in policy, but in the placement of personnel as well.

Each year there are approximately 15 such changes in personnel at the local schools, according to School Superintendent Frank Wilson. The Record with this article is attempting to better inform the public as to the purposes served by the Colorado City School Board each year at this time.

Flight Safety School Will be Held Here

John G. Uranga, flight safety instructor, will be holding a flight safety school here beginning July 11. The school will be in Civic House, he said. Classes will be on four successive Wednesday evenings from 8 to 10 p. m. Dates are July 11, 18, 25, and August 1, he said. Mainly a refresher course, the class will cover navigation, Civil Aeronautics regulations, meteorology, and theory of flight, Uranga said. Meteorological films will be included in the curriculum. The purpose of the school, Uranga stated, is to help prevent accidents.

"The commissioners (Texas Aeronautics Commission, sponsor of the program) think that over 99 percent of flying accidents are due to insufficient pilot background," he said. The school will be free of charge, and open to the general public.

CONVERSATION CORNER

By RUTH COFFEY

OLD MAXIMS, which used to be part of all oral heritage, just aint necessarily so. Now you take the old saw saying "Two can live as cheaply as one."

That one's not, never has been, and never will be true. Even so, we, personally, see no reason for a certain city in the state of Washington to get so downright rude about it.

LETTER to a Fort Worth paper from city officials of that Washington town takes pains to point out the benefit of being a bachelor when it comes to travel expense, certainly.

The letter exultated on the beauties of visiting a town praised as "Quiet, romantic, and only one hour by boat from the World's Fair in Seattle." Then the missive went on to take an unfair crack at any little woman planning to tag long and visit the Fair with her husband.

"OUR TOWN," those town officials boast, "offers reasonable hotel and motel facilities. Average rates here are: Room per day (if single) $5. Room per day (double) $8.50 with 'bat'."

It was not quite clear whether the old bat goes with the room—or just comes with the married gentleman. Either way it puts a cash premium on togetherness.

THERE USED TO BE an old saying, however, made popular by a song forever ago. The refrain kept repeating "Oh, to think how times have changed since Grandma was a girl."

How true! What happens to holidays after people grow up—no to mention older? And just who took the bang out of the Fourth of July?

TIME WAS, a not so long forever ago, when the Fourth meant a picnic, political speeches at the park, red soda pop, and lots of fireworks.

And now? Our own Fourth was just like a quiet, backsliding Sabbath minus church and the funny papers. Ate picnic food all right—in the air-conditioned dining room while watching "Pass Word." Heard The President address Philadelphia—via TV—drank instant tea. And read (finally) John Bainbridge's "Super-Americans."

THERE JUST weren't any fireworks at our house on Chestnut St.—unless you care to get technical about flipping the coin to see who'd wash up the dishes. No fireworks, no ants, no sand, no grass burrs, no bugs, no flies, no heat, no blistered complexion.

"Oh, to think how times . . ." Well, there's this to be said for shifting into second gear at middle age. It may not be so gay, so daring, so romantic as the high speed of youth. It is, by cracky, a danged sight more comfortable.

WHICH PROVES, maybe, that there's more truth than poetry to yet another jingle, 'specially dedicated herewith to all the recent Fourth's stay-at-home-and-just-relax patriots. It goes:

The silliest words of pen or tongue
Too often begin "Now when we were young—"

DEANN ALLEN, young enough to celebrate her second birthday last month, has picked up a fairly new saying to add to her Now-Lay-Me time.

"I appreciate it, and good night!" she recently decided to announce a la Andy Griffith just before the amen. Deann is the blue-eyed and dimpled darling of Doris Ann Allen of the Record's advertising department. Her grandmother is Mrs. M. F. Stevens, 420 West 9th, and her big brothers are John Richard and Harvey.

COMING AND GOING—Saw Ruth Echols (Mrs. Carl) and son, Carl Jr. headed for Lake Colorado City where with Carl Sr. and Barbara they spent the Fourth at the Echols cabin. The family lives in Midland now.

Gillian McEntire, in yellow tissue gingham and white kid thongs, was dashing about getting ready to spend the holiday in Lubbock with daughter Gillian Kenyon, her husband Howard, sons Bill, Bob, and John, and little daughter Carla.

"Big Gillian" is busy as the proverbial cranberry merchant these days readying a garage apartment at her home, 541 Locust, before she goes to Dallas as an SMU fraternity house mother. She expects, she was saying, to rent her big house and switch her own base to the newly refurbished garage apartment.

LOCAL SEEN LATELYS—Spied Joe Earnest watering his tall trees late in the evening . . . Mrs. Ed Strain working with her lawn, corner of East 5th and Hickory . . . Thelma McSpadden (Mrs. A. L.) and Mabel Kelley (Mrs. Frank H.) celebrating with a ride and a cup of coffee just after sprinkling water, water, everywhere, about recess time in the morning.

Dick Kendall, our Chamber of Commerce manager, was Record officing and sporting a summer haircut . . . Caught Jane Dobbs, of Record's editorial staff, plus little Peggy Belvin, society editor, philosophizing and cola collaborating . . . And there were look-alikes, Addie V. Payne and daughter Aria Jo, spouse and daughter of Jimmie Payne.

Banking familiar faces were J. W. Rice . . . Roy Davis Coles . . . and Farris Lipps.

Shopping scene "Hi's" came from both the Adolph Woods . . . Bonnie Hunter (Mrs. Earl) and Mrs. Swann Taylor who looks plumb cute in jeans.

Just now met, for one reason or another, nice Bill Holbert of Kirschbaum's Store.

BOB RELLY must have an honest—if misguided—heart along with his poetic tendencies. He admitted right out loud that he couldn't remember who wrote "Blessings on thee, little man; barefoot boy with cheeks of tan," and that he credited it to James Whitcomb Riley, during a conversation with an M. D. named Bill Rhode. (Author is John Greenleaf Whittier.)

And as if that one "honest confession is good for the soul" was not sufficient unto the day thereof, Relly climaxed the confession session by saying right where people could hear it that he, himself, is a Republican.

UP AT THE HUMPHREYS house, 1620 Locust, where NTSU student Tommy Humphreys is spending summer vacation with parents Pete and Bilsie, there's a NTSU co-ed named Holly Ann Glause visiting. Holly Ann's home is Central City, Nebraska. Among other Texas customs she encountered was a feast of blackeyed peas. Something, would you believe it, the pretty Nebraska miss had never eaten before!

She liked them, too! Or said she did. 'Course it could be a case of living up to that old adage. Now, let's see, how does that one go?

"When in Rome, one should shoot some Roman candles!"

37 Members And Guests Attend Meet

Thirty-seven members and guests were present when the Westbrook Golden Age Club met in regular session Tuesday evening in the Ocotillo Cactus Building in Westbrook. Recreation for the evening was games of 42 and dominoes.

Moore Family Visits Relatives

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor, 1543 Waco St., this week were Mrs. Taylor's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Moore, Joe and Brenda, of Aneth, Utah. The family also visited in the home of Mrs. Moore's mother, Mrs. M. J. Dawson, 1005 Chestnut St.

Mrs. Dawson and the Moore family visited the Six Flags Over Texas Park near Dallas while they were here.

Mrs. Moore is the former Dorothy Jean Dawson, a former resident and graduate of Colorado City High School.

BERRY STAINS - Berry picking can be fun, but watch out for those stains! Most berry stains are difficult to remove and require professional attention.

If the spot is not too bad, stretch the affected area over a bowl and pour boiling water through. (Before you do this, be sure the fabric is washable and color-fast!)

VENETIAN BLIND CLEANER - For soiled Venetian blind tapes and cords, try cleaning with white liquid shoe polish. A discarded white woolen sock makes a good applicator (put your hand inside). Wash it out as soil accumulates.

Talk

By PEGGY BELVIN

WHAT HAPPENED THIS JULY 4TH to this writer is a classic example of a woman's stupidity when it comes to automobiles . . .

A friend and I decided to attend the TEXAS COWBOYS REUNION IN STAMFORD, and after what we believed to be a careful study of the map, we decided it would be closer to travel the route that passed through ABILENE.

SO . . . OFF TO ABILENE. But . . . approximately 1/2 of the way there, the motor of my trusty but slightly-worn Chevy began to act up. There was a peculiar knocking sound issuing from beneath the hood, and, from past experience, we were sure it had something to do with the rods. So . . . at the first service station, we put in 2 quarts of motor oil.

It was at this point in the journey that we discovered that once the motor was turned off, a persuasive push from behind was all that would start it again. So, after seen a push from the station proprietor, we were again on our way. After only a few miles, however, we discovered we were leaving a smokescreen behind us, and we were sure this meant that the poor car needed more oil.

So, from that point on, at each station along the way, without turning off the ignition, we poured more oil into the seemingly bottomless pit of the crankcase. When we reached Abilene, we had put 10 quarts of oil in, plus the 5 it already had.

AND . . . the knock was still there. Finally, in desperation and almost in tears, we stopped at still another station, and asked the dumfounded proprietor if he could tell us how much further we could go until the engine blew up.

After he assured us he would push us off, the motor was killed, and, with some caution, the hood was raised. The kindly man diagnosed our trouble as a stuck valve-lifter and an acute overdose of motor oil. He assured us that the engine would not explode, a rod would not fall out and we had enough oil in the car, on the car and under the car to last 6 months. He predicted that we should reach our destination with no further ado, if we would drive slowly and use no more motor oil.

So . . . with enlightened minds and a motor drowned in oil, we started the final lap of our journey, from Abilene to Stamford, a distance we believed to be approximately 15 miles away. With our hair in rollers, we kept our heads put away out the windows to help it dry.

After what seemed to be at least 60 miles, we decided we must almost be there, so we topped each hill and rounded each curve expecting to see the lights of the city and hear the whoops and hollers of cowboys. Finally we reached . . . a sign . . . which read . . . STAMFORD . . . 28 miles.

At least this gave us more time to dry our hair . . . So on through the holiday traffic we went. Other motorists were afraid to pass us, with our heads covered with monstrous rollers and hanging out the window and the car belching a stream of black, oily smoke.

BUT . . . WE MADE IT . . . and made it back home, too . . .

Which only goes to show that someone up there watches over children and women drivers . . .

Every year more people buy . . .

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

BY VERN SANFORD

Hot news season stays hot. But talk about the .22 Calliber Winchester Magnum Rim Cartridge has not cooled off yet. Main reason the new cartridge remains so newsworthy is that it affects more people than do the ordinary new developments in firearms and ammunition.

Nearly everyone who has his own private arsenal, whether of one gun or 100, has a .22 caliber rifle or pistol. The marvelous .22's are versatile and are the least expensive to shoot.

Development of the .22 W. M. R., announced last year, is the first significant development in .22 Rim Fire Cartridges in 60 years.

This cartridge is not a modification of any of the present cartridges, but is an entirely new cartridge. It was designed to fill the void between the conventional rim fires and the .22 Hornet, which is a center fire cartridge.

The bullet is a 40 grain jacketed hollow point expanding bullet. Fired from a 24-inch barrel, the bullet is driven at a muzzle velocity of 2,000 feet per second.

Ideal for Predator Shooting

This cartridge should be ideal for predator control and mid-range varmint shooting. Game of small and medium size are beginning to feel the effect of these bullets, and the hunter is paying only about half as much for his shells as he formerly did before the appearance of this little powerhouse.

Oddly enough, when Winchester announced this shell, they didn't even have a gun that could fire it. However, Savage didn't take long to alter their popular Model 24 over-and-under by boring the rifle barrel to fit the .22 W. M. R. Mossberg produced a bolt-action in a single shot and 5-shot clip-fed repeater. Marlin announced a lever-action model.

In rapid fire time Ruger, High-Standard and Colt all announced their versions of the peacemaker six-guns designed for the .22 W. M. R.

Now Winchester has a rifle for their fabulous new cartridge. Winchester modified the well-known Model 61 slide-action repeater as their .22 magnum entry on the market. Don't be sending in your old Winchester 61 for modification, however, for it can't be done.

Winchester simply capitalized on the popularity and well-proven features of their Model 61. As the .22 W. M. R. is both larger in diameter and more powerful than the standard .22 Rim Fire, the receiver had to be strengthened to withstand the greater thrust.

Also modifications had to be made on the action, barrel and the magazine to allow for the increase in size of the shell.

Offhand, I'd say that a lot of our frisky Texas Jackrabbits will be heading for here heaven when more of these .22 magnums hit the fields.

Beware of Tularemia

Speaking of rabbits, let's not forget that summertime caution about the rabbit fever, Tularemia.

When that hare takes off in his scared run, take an extra look and see if he's running as a hare should run. If he's loping off in sort of a strained, dopey run, just leave him be.

Be extra careful when you're cleaning your rabbits too. Use rubber gloves and don't touch the meat with your bare hands. If you do, then wash your hands quickly and thoroughly with alcohol.

Tularemia is transmitted to humans primarily by absorption, through cuts or punctures in the skin, while handling the raw meat of rabbits. The meat is safe to eat, after it has been thoroughly cooked so the danger lies in preparing for the feast.

If you're a wise hunter you know to play it safe in the field with your weapon. So, play it just a hair safer when handling that hare.

FOR ROTC TRAINING
J. C. Merritt Attends Camp

Joseph C. Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merritt of 405 Chestnut St., Colorado City has begun his second week of intensive Infantry training at the 1962 GMS ROTC Summer Camp being held at the U. S. Army Artillery and Missile Center, Fort Sill, Oklahoma. He is a student at A & M College.

The ROTC program produces approximately 14,000 officers annually and is the primary source of officers for the Active Army and its Reserve and National Guard Components. More than half of all the officers commissioned in the Regular Army come from the ROTC program. The program is designed to permit progressive evaluation of college students and insure selection of only the best qualified for commissions.

Last week some 1500 ROTC cadets from 35 colleges and universities throughout the Fourth Army Area, received training in Rifle Marksmanship, Trainfire and Target Detection, 81mm mortar, Bayonet and Communications systems used in army units.

The instruction is dominated by unit training with particular emphasis placed on teamwork. The units are assisted in their training by the the General Subjects, Crew Served Weapons, Individual Weapons, and Tactics Training Sections. At the close of the first week the cadets participated in Saturday morning Maintenance of Equipment and Inspections. They also witnessed a demonstration of a mechanized rifle company in the attack, conducted by Artillery and Missile School personnel.

Although the training schedule is heavy, the cadets are able to take advantage of the many athletic and recreational facilities at Fort Sill. The Fort Sill Officers Club, golf course, and swimming pools are available to the cadets.

Mrs. Porter Installs Officers

Mrs. Lena Porter and Mrs. Annie Mary Morgan recently attended the installation of the B&PW Club in San Angelo. Mrs. Porter was installing officer for the meeting. She also was installing officer for meetings of the Sweetwater B&PW Club recently.

AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

Crusader Graham's New Film Here

"Shadow of the Boomerang," evangelist Billy Graham's newest feature-length film, will be shown at the First Baptist Church here July 10, at 7:30 p. m.

The picture seeks to underline the Godly reaction to human crises and conflicts.

The film stars Georgia Lee and Dick Jones (television's Buffalo Bill, Jr.) It is an outdoor action picture set "down under" in Australia's "Outback," the vast interior region of the sub-continent. This is where some of the world's largest cattle stations are located.

Lee and Jones play brother and sister roles in a story of homestead life. As Americans who go to Australia to manage some family holdings, they meet situations which are hard to handle. The brother is immature and impetuous, and slow to accept Australian ways.

The sister is more democratic, and is readily accepted by her new friends with whom she joins in an attempt to instill understanding and tolerance in her brother.

Spokesman for the Christian position in conflict situations is Billy Graham — seen in film footage taken at the site of his crusades in Melbourne and Sydney.

A "landline relay meeting" is used as a dramatic device in the story's climax.

The film was produced and directed by Dick Ross, president of World Wide Pictures.

THURSDAY BY REV. ELMER ISHAM

Stockton, Petty Vows Read In Home Ceremony

3:30 Ital Stockton, Petty, wedding vows read in the home of the bride's parents Thursday night united Miss Mary Belle Stockton of Abilene and Jimmie Don Petty of Abilene in marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Stockton, 1944 Locust St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Petty of San Angelo.

Double-ring rites were performed by Rev. Elmer Isham of Commanche before an altar flanked with 2 baskets of white gladiolas with blue carnations.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a short wedding gown of white organza and chantilly lace. The bodice was fashioned of lace and featured a portrait neckline. Long fitted sleeves tapered to point over her wrists. The full skirt was fashioned of white organza and featured panels of chantilly lace. The back of the skirt cascaded in a bouffant.

Her veil was of silk illusion edged with chantilly lace and topped by a crown of lace, lined with pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible. She wore a blue garter, carried a white handkerchief of her grandmothers, wore a penny in her shoe and a triple strand of pearls that belonged to her aunt.

Wedding music was by Sharon Petty, sister of the groom. She sang "Oh Promise Me", accompanied by Judy Allard, cousin of the bride. Both Misses Petty and Allard are of San Angelo.

Mrs. Billy Underwood of Big Spring, served as matron of honor. She wore a street-length gown of blue voile with light blue embroidery. The bodice was fashioned with a square neckline. She wore a white feather hat, white shoes and gloves and a white carnation corsage.

Jerry Petty, brother of the groom, of San Angelo, served as best man.

Usher was Joe Stockton of Colorado City, brother of the bride.

A reception was conducted following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with an Ecru lace cloth over blue. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white and blue carnations in a white container. A 3-tiered wedding cake was placed atop a mirror on the serving table. A miniature bride and groom accented the cake. Appointments were of crystal and silver and the napkins were engraved with the couple's names.

Members of the houseparty were Fern Smith of Colorado City and Karen Clements of Abilene.

For a honeymoon trip to Buchanan Lake, the bride chose an ensemble of hi-shen blue imported cotton. The bodice was accented with schiffli embroidery. It was styled with a V neckline and puffed sleeves. Self-material bows and ruffles of embroidery were featured. The full skirt was banded with rows of embroidery. She wore white accessories. Her corsage was taken from her bridal bouquet.

Out-of-town guests were from Big Spring, San Angelo, Abilene, Brownsville, Forsan, Commanche, Jackson, Mich. and Corlerain, N. C.

The couple will be at home in Abilene, where the groom is serving with the United States Air Force at Dyess AFB.

CROWN BOWL TIPS

By Lonnie Bounds

Avoid Sidarming
It is only natural to swing your ball to the right in order to avoid having it strike the right front leg on its way into the backswing. At the top of the backswing, however, your ball is too far out to the right and, in coming forward in delivery, it retraces the same path.

This is called "sidarming" and results in extremely poor delivery direction.

Since the ball travels in the direction you throw it, if you start too far to the right, in most cases the ball will go over to the left side of the lane.

(ADV.)

Discussion Is 14th Chapter Of St. John

Closing prayer was said by Mrs. Stewart.
