Two Councilmen To Be Named In City Balloting April 5

Colorado voters will be called upon to register their preference for only two public officials when going to the polls in annual municipal election Tuesday, April 5th. Successors for two members of the city council, W. W. Whipkey and A. L. Spalding, are to be named.

Both of these officials have seen several years service in the municipal government. No statement has been made for publication by either as to whether or not they will consent for their names to be placed on the ballot.

Municipal elections in Colorado every other year are generally accepted with little concern by the public. This is when the two councilmen are to be chosen. During the other years, however, when candidates for mayor, [illegible] secretary and three members of the council are to be voted on, a larger quota of electors is attracted to the polls.

FORMAL OPENING OF NEW MODEL SHOP IS ATTENDED BY THRONGS OF VISITORS

Reception Given From 7:30 To 10 o'Clock P. M. On Tuesday This Week

[illegible] of Colorado's most popular and attractive shops, The Model Shop, made formal bow to the public in its new home Tuesday evening from 7:30 to 10 o'clock, as hundreds of friends and customers accepted invitation of the management to visit the store on the occasion of its opening in its new home, corner of Walnut and East Second streets.

[illegible] Summers, manager, and his corps of assistants cordially welcomed the visitors who were shown through the attractively arranged store. Punch was served by Mmes. [illegible] and Vetta Bush. Several [illegible] of the management sent beautiful flowers for the occasion. Music was furnished by [illegible] Creek orchestra.

In the new location this shop is adding a new and distinct department, that of ladies' ready to wear. Mrs. Artie Mooney, late of Dallas, assisted by Mrs. [illegible] of Colorado, [illegible] in charge. Vesta Rountree, in charge of the shoe department. Mr. Summers of the gents' furnishing [illegible], W. F. Benton of the alteration department, will continue with the shop here.

The Model Shop is in its fifth year in Colorado. The store, under management of Summers, has enjoyed a liberal patronage from the start. A few months ago, while many were talking of depression and the necessity of retrenching in business, Summers faced the [illegible] necessity of expanding his store in order to care for trade demands. Result is the attractive store at Walnut and East Second.

Summers has obtained a five year lease on the building, known as the old Colorado National building. It has been remade into one of West Texas' most attractive shops, with new entrance and interior decoration throughout.

DEMONSTRATION TO SHOW IMPROVED METHODS USED IN BUTCHERING IS GIVEN

89 Attend Meeting Monday, Tuesday at Farm Near Longfellow

Improved methods for handling beef and pork, as developed by Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist of A. & M. college, were shown in practical demonstrations given Monday afternoon and Tuesday morning by Mr. Snyder at the E. S. Miles farm, near Longfellow. A total of 89 citizens attended the meeting.

Three pigs and one baby beef were slaughtered and after the carcasses had been properly dressed and treated in cold storage the pigs were canned or placed in sugar cure. The beef, owned by E. H. Winn, was placed in cold storage here until later when it is to be canned. The porkers were killed without shooting or stunning. Snyder explained this method, together with the advantages of cold storage, was the only secure way of handling pork during this season of the year.

Tuesday morning, as the pigs were cut up, the specialist demonstrated new ideas in taking the various cuts. He discredited the old established custom of taking the backbone out. In the first place such had been found impracticable and then, too, some of the most tender meat found its way into the sausage allowance. The tougher cuts, Snyder explained, should be the ones to be ground into sausage.

Misses Abbie Sevier and Vada Floyd, home demonstration agents of Mitchell and Nolan counties respectively, directed ladies of the home and community in proper procedure for preparing and canning the pork that was not placed in the sugar cure.

The pigs slaughtered were five months of age and weighed 214, 212 and 187 pounds, respectively. They had been conditioned through use of a self-feeder containing threshed maize and commercial feed.

Mr. Snyder was accompanied to Colorado by T. B. Wood of College Station, district farm agent representing the extension service. Farm agents from Howard, Nolan and Taylor counties were also present for the demonstration. Farmers and their wives from several communities, along with interested citizens from Colorado and Loraine, attended.

WOMAN HURT AND TWO MACHINES WRECKED IN EAST 2ND ST. CRASH

Mrs. Mary Morgan, 68, of Washington, Penn., was seriously injured and two machines, a light coupe and a truck, badly disabled in a wreck on East Second street Monday. After being given emergency treatment by Dr. T. J. Ratliff, Mrs. Morgan was taken to a local hospital where she is reported doing well.

Accompanied by her grandson, Mrs. Morgan was enroute home from a visit in California when her motor car collided with a truck owned by James Nesbit of Tucson, Ariz. Nesbit, on his way to attend the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show, had stopped here to water and feed a valued show horse and trained arena performing mule. Fact that the animals were not in the truck accounts for them not having been injured.

SANTA FE FARM, HOME SPECIAL TO STOP AT SWEETWATER MAR. 11

The farm and home special train, demonstrating many practical ideas in farm progress and home conveniences, will be in Sweetwater Friday, March 11, from 9 to 11:30 A. M. Specialists from A. & M. College are accompanying the train now touring Texas on visit to 117 farm centers.

Special emphasis is being placed on the important part to be played by electricity on the farm. Modern appliances for many home purposes and their operation explained in detail included.

Livestock, too, is not overlooked in the demonstration given. The diversified farmer will find there many interesting features

Another Booster Program Be Given Over WBAP Soon

Presentation of the Coloradoans in thirty minutes broadcast program from studios of WBAP, Fort Worth, Friday night of last week proved so satisfactory that management of the studio has requested the local entertainers to put on another broadcast Friday night, March 18, it was announced from the chamber of commerce Wednesday afternoon.

"We have received communications from citizens in six states outside of Texas commending our Fort Worth broadcast program last Friday night," Jim Greene, chamber secretary, declared. "So well was our entertainment bill received that management of the studio has extended urge that we come again."

Greene stated that the Coloradoans would be given an hour in the next broadcast. Last Friday night they were on the air only thirty minutes.

FEDERAL GOVERNMENT TO AID FARMERS IN BUYING PURE BRED COTTON SEED

Member Loan Committee Was Speaker At Meeting In Colorado Saturday

The Federal government, through its farmer loan appropriation of fifty million dollars, stands ready to extend every practical aid to farmers of this territory in the purchase of pure bred cotton seed, C. H. Wulfjen, member of the Mitchell county loan committee, told farmers attending a meeting at the district court room here Saturday.

Mr. Wulfjen, for many years active in programs to advance farming in this area, called the meeting to order and presided over the session. Doyle Williams, director of the vocational agriculture department in the high school, and Miss Abbie Sevier, home demonstration agent, spoke of the advantages to result from living at home. These speakers urged those present to grow gardens and otherwise produce the necessities of life on the farm.

Jim Greene, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was another speaker. He discussed benefits that were expected to follow when farmers had obtained the best seed obtainable for planting their cotton acreage. Conditions to be met by farmer borrowers who would apply for federal loans were explained by Greene and other speakers.

MERCHANT CHARGED WITH ATTEMPT TO BURN STORE INDICTED BY GRAND JURY

Total of Fourteen Felonies Reported As Jury Makes Report to Court

H. Rotner, Colorado merchant, was indicted on the charge of attempted arson in report filed by the grand jury to District Judge James T. Brooks late Wednesday. The offense implicating Rotner occurred on the night of Wednesday, December 23, when an attempt is alleged to have been made to burn his store located on Oak street.

Rotner was placed under arrest shortly after night police had discovered a fire inside the building occupied by him. His bond, originally set at $5,000 by Peace Justice Stoneham, was later reduced to $2,000. He was released under bond in the latter amount December 29.

Two felony indictments were returned against George Barber, the youthful bandit, who on the night of January 19, this year, created a sensation in Colorado by engaging a local officer and a Sweetwater taxi driver in a gun battle two miles west of Colorado. Barber was wounded and later appeared at the home of Dr. R. E. Lee, demanding that he be given medical attention. The man was captured a few days later by Sheriff Dick Gregory in an Abilene tourist camp, where he had been taken by an accomplice.

One of the indictments charges Barber with assault with intent to murder, when he answered Night Chief Homer Key's demand to surrender with a volley of pistol shots, and the other has to do with the charge that a short time before engaging the officer he robbed two Sweetwater citizens of an automobile and personal belongings. The latter is alleged to have been staged near eastern city limits of Colorado.

A total of fourteen felony bills were reported by the grand jury in its report. Identity of several defendants were not disclosed by court attaches, due to fact service on them had not been completed by the sheriff's department.

The grand jury, empaneled Monday morning by Judge Brooks of Special 32nd district court, was composed of W. L. Ardian, Van Boston, D. P. Smith, J. M. Bruce, B. B. Byrne, J. S. Bond, G. R. Leach, E. B. Rinehardt, J. A. Sadler, Tom Terry and I. K. Galey. Mr. Sadler was appointed foreman by the court.

The criminal docket has been set for the week of March 14. During this week the court has been hearing non-jury cases.

Dunn Baptists Will Entertain Workers' Meeting March 15

The Dunn Baptist church is to be host to meeting of Mitchell-Scurry Baptist associational workers' conference on Tuesday, March 15. "Salvation," is the general theme about which discussions are to be built.

The conference is to be called to order at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, with opening devotional conducted by Rev. A. C. Hardin of Loraine. The host congregation will serve a basket lunch at noon.

Several Colorado, Westbrook and Loraine Baptists plan attending the meeting. The conference is to be concluded at 4 o'clock in the afternoon.

THOMPSON TO ADDRESS DISTRICT LIONS MEET AT LUBBOCK MAY 11TH

Methodist Zone Meeting

The west zone of the Sweetwater district met Thursday in Colorado, with the zone leader, Mrs. E. Clyde Smith, presiding, with Mrs. Ely of the north zone as a guest.

The morning devotional was given by Mrs. J. I. Kelley. Her topic was, "Courage." She used Joshua 1-1:9 and several other scriptures.

Mrs. J. W. Shepperd acted as secretary.

Ackerley, Big Spring Adult Birdie Bailey, Wesley Memorial, Colorado Adults and Juniors, Loraine, Stanton, Sparenberg and Westbrook answered to roll call. Each gave reports on their work. All had begun the new year with a determination to study, work and pray—paying all they could, using the new financial plan. Mrs. J. G. Merritt, Conference secretary, talked on Missions and Peace. At the conclusion of this plea for holding the lines in every department of work and strengthen the weak places with more missionaries, the group voted to observe nine o'clock each morning as the hour of prayer for Peace.

Mrs. Woodward of Stanton gave a talk "Women and Lawlessness," taken from an article in the Voice by Mrs. Ames. The Juniors of Colorado, through their [illegible], Emma Lou Merrill, gave a report; one of the little girls sang a solo; a boy and a girls gave a [illegible] at [illegible] little play George Washington cutting down a cherry tree was given.

The afternoon devotional on "Service," was brought by Mrs. Martin of Big Spring. Then a training school for officers was conducted; each officer and superintendent was instructed in the things they should do. Miss Nelda Garrett read a splendid paper on Church literature. Mrs. Ray Lee of Westbrook, talked on the value of Mission study and discussed the year's study.

Mrs. W. H. Garrett told of the importance of work with the children and the great need of beginning the training for Christian service in baby-hood.

At the noon hour a delicious luncheon was served in the church basement to about sixty.

A refreshment plate of graham crackers, pie and coffee was served.

Self Culture Club Presents Operetta

Friday evening, at the high school, the Self Culture Club gave their Washington bicentennial program to a large audience. This was "Washington's Birthday," a beautiful juvenile operetta in two acts. The stage was prettily arranged with ferns and flowers to represent a garden.

The opening chorus, a group of old time songs, was given by the club members. After which, Amonia Rogers gave a Colonial dance. She was in a pretty Colonial costume and the dance was very clever. The club's children were shown in the first act of the play in Washington's garden at the close of school celebrating his birthday. Ernest Burdine was George Washington. James, his pal, was John Saunders Gordon. A group of boy and girls scholomates; his negro mammy, Miss Aline Richards; his father, Reynolds Brown, made up the cast. The costuming and singing was splendid throughout.

Miss Richards with her Southern songs, was also very good.

Between the first and second acts, the minuet was danced by Phyllis Berman, Sue Landers, Elsie Ann Smith and Mildred Watson, in pretty organdy frocks in pastel shades.

The second act showed the children the day after the party on their way to school. It is at this time that George, with his new hatchet, cuts down the cherry tree and is forgiven by his father because he does not tell a lie.

The entire program was a very pretty one and much enjoyed by the audience.

The Drama Club

Mrs. Robert [illegible] hostess to the Drama Club, entertained with an Irish party, last Friday.

Miss Mary Wade read the interesting play "Street Scene."

Attending as guests were Mrs. L. Lamb, Mrs. John Houston Lupton, Mrs. H. L. Hutchinson, Jr., Mrs. H. Vaught, Mrs. G. V. Harrison, Miss Hazel Costin and Miss Emily Dulaney.

The Irish motif was carried out in the decorations. The rooms were lighted by lamps and green tapers, vases and bowls of clover, violets, and fern were attractively placed. The table centerpiece represented an Irish wishing-well surrounded with green and white paddy hats, holding candies. These were given as favors. The guests drew their fortunes and their drama questions from a little cedar bucket, hung over the well.

The Irish menu at refreshment hour consisted of green ring salad, stuffed potatoes, green sandwiches, Shamrock cookies, green mints and green tea.

The next meeting of the Drama Club will be with Mrs. John Summers. Mrs. Roy Hester will read.

Standard Club

The Standard Club met Friday with Mrs. Y. D. McMurry. A very interesting roll call, "Mythological Characters," was answered to by all members.

A report on the year book was given by the committee, Mrs. Smoot and Mrs. Hardison. The lesson on the first part of the Grecian Drama "Alcestis" was heard by Mrs. Buchanan.

At the social hour a two-course luncheon was served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Hardison.

The meeting this week is with Mrs. George W. Smith.

Please report all society news for the next two weeks to Mrs. Jewell Barrett, as I will be out of town. She is having a telephone installed.
MRS. MERRITT.

B. A. U. Meeting

A very interesting program has been planned for Sunday evening under the leadership of Mrs. Pelfrey. The subject of the discussion will be: "The Church." Mrs. Meskimen will give the scripture reading. "The Material Assets of the Church," will be given by Mr. Pelfrey. "The Spiritual Assets," by Mr. Morgan. "Liabilities Within the Church," Howard Lindley. "Liabilities Without the Church," Miss Wanda Miller; and Mrs. Rice will conclude the program by telling how to transform liabilities into assets.

As this discussion brings out the outstanding values of church life and results it is asked that as many as can, be at the Baptist church at 6:30 next Sunday evening.

Young Matrons Missionary Society

The Young Matrons Missionary Society of the Christian church met Tuesday evening with Mrs. J. B. Pritchett in regular monthly session with Mrs. Scott as leader. The regular business was transacted and plans made for observing the month of March as self-denial for the work.

A program from the "World Call" on Easter and self-denial was given. Those giving topics were Mrs. Lee, Mrs. Vaught, Mrs. Fee, Mrs. Paul Miller and Mrs. Harrison.

At the social hour the hostess served a salad plate with mints.

—o—

Young People's Institute

The Methodist young people of Sweetwater district are holding a training Institute this week at Westbrook. The subjects that are being taught are Social Service, Missionary and Worship. Those attending from Colorado are Misses Nelda Garrett, Ruthell McKinney, [illegible] Adele Hutchinson, Lois Key, Lillie Bean and Inez Kelly. Social Service is being taught by Mrs. W. H. Garrett.

—o—

Pastime Bridge Club

The Pastime Bridge Club met Tuesday with Mrs. W. M. Gordon. Her house was gay with spring flowers and the tallies carried out the springtime idea, being butterflies.

Mrs. Coffee of Big Spring, a former member of the club, was an enjoyed guest. High score prize, a pair of bath towels went to Mrs. Pelfrey and low score prize, bath soap, to Mrs. Elliott. Salted peanuts were served during the game and at the conclusion of the game a moulded salad, with rolled sandwiches, coffee and cake was passed.

McClure-Gross Nuptials

W. D. McClure, chief clerk at the offices of the Shell Pipe Line Company, and Miss Eula Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gross of Horn's Chapel, were married Thursday night of last week in Lawton, Oklahoma, the Lawton justice of the peace officiating.

After a brief visit in Fort Worth Mr. and Mrs. McClure returned to Colorado Saturday afternoon and are at home to their friends in the [illegible] block on Cedar street.

Both are most popular in Colorado. Mr. McClure has been associated with the Shell district offices here for some time and his bride has spent her life in this county.

Birthdays Celebrated

Thursday was Mr. Lee Jones' and Mr. Jesse Pidgeon's birthdays and Mrs. Jones entertained for them with a most enjoyable 42 party. She invited the group, that for fifteen years, have met to play the ever popular game of 42 and to have good times together. This occasion was certainly one of the good times.

At the refreshment hour, red and white angel cake and jello, fruit salad, with whipped cream was served.

D. A. R. Meeting

The D. A. R. Chapter met Wednesday at the home of the regent, Mrs. Jas. T. Johnson.

After the opening exercises, the minutes were read and officers reported. The treasurer reported $22.54 on hand.

A letter from the State regent, Mrs. McFadden of Beaumant, stated that she would visit the Chapter sometime in the Spring. A seated tea was planned for this occasion.

Miss Ruby McGill was accepted as a new member.

At the social hour apricot Marlow and tutti-frutti cake was served.

The next meeting is with Mrs. W. M. Elliott.

Texas Exes Banquet

Following the custom of the Texas University students all over the world, Colorado Texas Exes banqueted March 2nd. The meeting this year was larger than usual, as graduates from other Universities were invited to unite with them in their celebration. About fifty were seated at the attractive "T" shaped tables at the high school. The place cards were attractive pen and ink cap and gown figures. The programs and menus were very clever. The progarms bore a Texas Longhorn and the menus a Lone Star.

The president, R. H. Ratliff, presided, and J. M. Harris of Snyder gave the principal address.

A very delicious three course dinner was prepared and served by the Home Economics department of the high school.

FRITZ SMITH HONORED AT MEMORIAL BANQUET GIVEN BY CLUB IN SWEETWATER

Late 32nd District Judge Is Eulogized By Members of West Texas Bar

West Texans prominent in the judiciary and commercial life of the area, paid tribute to the memory of Fritz R. Smith, late judge of the 32nd district court, in banquet memorial held Thursday night at Sweetwater. One hundred and twenty-five men registering from Colorado, Big Spring, Roscoe, Sweetwater, Eastland and Snyder were present.

The Sweetwater Club was host to the impressive gathering. Jimmie Beal, president of the Sweetwater bar, presided as master of ceremonies. Speakers addressing the gathering extolled Judge Smith as a man of unusual greatness, due largely to his simplicity, love for his fellowman and his never faltering policy that justice must prevail.

Some of those attorneys—men who have seen years of grueling experience before the bar with never showing emotion—spoke in broken voice and with tears welling into their eyes as noble characteristics of the late jurist were briefed.

Among those attending from Colorado were George Mahon, Charlie Thompson, L. W. Sandusky, Dell Barber, Thos. R. Smith and W. H. Garrett, members of the Coloralo bar. A member of The Record staff attended upon invitation of the bar.

J. M. Harris, Snyder attorney, eulogized Judge Smith as a former partner; George Mahon, Colorado, district attorney, spoke to the memory of his presiding judge; Jas. T. Brooks, Big Spring, judge of the special 32nd district court, voiced his apprecation of Judge Smith as a co-worker; and Judge A. S. Mauzey of Sweetwater, recently appointed to succeed Judge Smith, spoke of the heritage of 32nd district court as upheld by Judge Smith and the judges who preceded him, concluding his address in expression of the hope that he, too, should leave such a record when he passed the mantle of Judge Smith to another.

All three members of the 11th court of civil appeals at Eastland, Justices J. E. Hickman, W. P. Leslie, and O. C. Funderburk, were others to deliver addresses before the memorial assembly. Tracy Smith, son of the deceased jurist, was the last speaker to be presented and spoke with feeling as he briefly responded to the eulogies given his father.

Judge Smith was eulogised in an address delivered Friday at the Lions Club by a member of the service organization. The speaker recalled that the late jurist had often visited the club while holding court in Colorado and had been an active member of the Lions Club of his home city.

BAPTIST MEN ATTEND 'CHILI FEED' GIVEN IN CHURCH BASEMENT

Some seventy-five men attended social gathering of the Young Business Men's Bible class of First Baptist church Sunday school, given Tuesday night in the church basement. C. L. Gray was master of ceremonies and the principal address was delivered by Rev. A. C. Hardin, pastor of the Loraine Baptist church.

The evening program was opened by a general handshaking in which every man present was made to smile and enter into the strong fellowship that dominated everyone throughout the evening. Chili, cake, pie and coffee was served.

Rev. Mr. Hardin recalled activities of some of the great leaders in Christian thought during Bible times and coming down to the present era challenged the men present that it was up to them to carry on religious work now the same as it was the duty of those patriarchs of old.

Officers of the Sunday school and the men's Bible class were next presented for brief addresses. It was noticed that each expressed keen interest in activities of the class and all other departments of the Baptist church.

Among those speakers were Joe H. Smott, class president; G. B. Slaton, Sunday school superintendent; Edwin Moeser, superintendent of the social department; W. A. Rose, adult department superintendent; Jim Greene, assistant Sunday school superintendent; W. R. Morgan, class teacher and Dell Barber. J. C. Hall, of Loraine, and L. C. McCreight of Horn's Chapel were among the visitors to make brief addresses.

Music was furnished by a string trio composed of N. T. Smith, Arthur King and Dick Gray. A quartet composed of Pete Pickens, Elmer Pickens, L. C. McCreight and A. D. Bruton and W. W. Cagle as the magician were other entertainment features very much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pritchett visited in Abilene Tuesday.

ON WITH THE DRIVE

Announcement has been made by the county farm agent that farmers meeting requirements for receiving federal loans may designate a part of the funds thus obtained to purchase pure bred cotton seed. This is another step toward the goal of bringing Mitchell county staple cotton back to its former place in the sun—a place wherein it was generally recognized as among the best produced in the West Texas cotton area.

On with the drive to improve agriculture in this section of Texas. Quantity production is not near so important in this modern era as quality. An ordinary cur may be capable of barking just as long and loud as one of Dr. Coleman's registered wolf hounds, but he fails to make much of an impression when rated for either his financial or hunting qualities. The same may be said of cotton. The ordinary kind will require just as much labor and investment to produce a crop as the best, but what of the selling possibilities? The best of anything generally demands more attention than its inferiors.

See the county agent if interested in building up the quality of Mitchell county cotton staple. This county may, if its farmers so decree, compete with the world in production of advanced quality agriculture products.

WORRIED ABOUT FRUIT

Farmers and orchardists the county over are expressing concern as to safety of the fruit crop this year. Trees are profuse with blossoms and many are sensing danger ahead, as possibilities of another freeze or killing frost are considered. There is considerable consolation, however, in prophesy of a certain West Texan, who breaks into the news to herald the information that we are to have no more winter. He acclaims that Spring is here in real earnest.

This observer, according to stories carried in the newspapers, claimed to have found cocklebures coming up about his farm. "I have been an observer of the cocklebur for forty years," he said, "and take it from me they never venture out until all danger of a killing frost or freeze has passed."

We are hoping this prophet has the correct information. Mitchell county stands to produce an abundant fruit crop—unless something happens.

MOTOR THIEVES AGAIN

The motor car thief bobbed up in Colorado again this week, and in at least one instance only missed getting himself within the clutches of the law by a slip. These thugs are going to be run aground sooner or later, if they continue their brazen program here. Special effort should be taken to bring them to justice.

MEN YOU CAN'T KEEP DOWN

I'll do it all right," said a boy who was badly beaten in a foot race with a larger boy. "Next year this time I'll beat him hands down."

A woman who saw the contest and heard the boy's explanation was about to give up a task she had undertaken, but after that she said to herself, "It is up to me to show what I can do." So she went back to her task and won out.

The man who is made of winning material, though he fails, is all the more determined to win out. He is not afraid of defeat. He turns failure to discipline. He makes a stepping stone out of a stumbling block. Rebuffs only stimulate him.

Men of the Grant type, the Lincoln type, the Marshall Field or the George Truett type, laugh at defeat. It only goads them to more successful efforts. If everything he possessed in the world was swept away, such a man as Henry Ford would start out tomorrow morning with just as much determination to win as ever before. A man who lacks that resolute determined purpose, which knows no defeat, is never a success. The man who is victory organized will get up even more determination after every knock-down. The harder the fall, the greater the rebound.

Remember this, when Abraham Lincoln was a young man, he ran for the Legislature in Illinois and was badly swamped. He next entered business, failed and spent seventeen years of his life paying up the debts of a worthless partner. He was in love with a beautiful young woman, to whom he became engaged—then she died. Later he married a woman who was a constant burden to him. He then tried to get an appointment to the U. S. land office, but failed. Entering politics again, he ran for Congress, and was badly defeated. He became a candidate for the U. S. Senate, and was badly defeated. In 1856 he became a candidate for the vice-presidency and was again defeated. In 1858 he was defeated by Douglas. One failure after another.—bad failures—great set-backs. In face of all this he eventually became one of the country's great men, if not the greatest. He was made of winning material. When you think of a series of set-backs like this, doesn't it make you feel small to become discouraged just because you think you are having a hard time in life?

So much is being said about Washington it is but appropriate for the column to say historians say "He was first in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."

The first we hear of George he was hacking his father's cherry tree in the family garden, but he was one of those lucky kids who knew how to escape a licking by telling the truth. All boys who lived since George have been forced into the unpleasant practice of escaping thrashings by downright lying. Washington is next mentioned as a soldier. Possibly he might have been overlooked on this particular line of fame had he not fallen in with a lot of fool soldiers fresh from England, who exhibited characteristic English bigotry and ignorance of New World affairs. These Englishmen knew no more about fighting Indians than the average Englishman of today knows about the fine points of a Texas badger fight. The English soldiers, commanded by a foppish fellow named Braddock, insisted that the proper way to fight Indians was to form V's and squares out in the open and kill the redskins before they could jerk arrows from quivvers. Washington frowned upon this plan and recommended that except his right eye and trigger finexcept his right eye and trgger finger behind a tree, but Braddock would have none of it. That afternoon there was a shower of English blood in the Virginia forest, and Braddock, instead of living to lead an American heiress to Hymen's holy altar, was taken into headquarters on a stretcher, his body as full of perforations as a sifter.

George was now about 23 and began to look about a bit. He spent much of his time shaving, blacking his boots, and adjusting his necktie. Try as he would to get away from the thought, the villianous idea that he ought to get married pursued him. There were plenty of pretty girls in the neighborhood, and there wes also one widow, and , unluckily for those marriageable maidens, Samuel Weller's admonition to "beware of the vidders," hadn't been written at that time. This widow owned the most of Virginia, which added materially to her charms and enabled George to leave her a fine home when he died. George was not with Teddy Roosevelt on the anti-race suicide issue, and if he had not had a lot of kinsfolks the family name would have died with him.

Last week we wrote a sarcastic political polemic, in which we introduced our good friend Lowrey's Shirttail and Buttermilk planks in the Democratic platform to all of which State Press, of the Dallas News, criticises us and him, and says:

"Should we not inveigle this gentleman into running for President?" asks a Tyler patron who incloses a clipping from the pen of the Hon. J. H. Lowry of Honey Grove. Examination of the inclosure reveals Mr. Lowrey in the guise of a marplot. He is endeavoring to disturb the serenity of the Democratic party by injecting buttermilk into the campaign as the paramount issue. As things are now set, the party of the great common people has an open road to rulership at Washington, but if Mr. Lowrey should have his way he would divide the North and the South by inserting between them a platform plank which only one State could stand on. Mr. Lowrey certainly knows that the North wants beer and the South wants soda pop, only Tennessee being disposed to rally around the buttermilk banner. Being a Tennessean by nativity, Mr. Lowrey has never outgrown his passion for churn juice, and, like many others whose political principles are governed by their appetite, Mr. Lowrey is willing to sacrifice the Democratic party in order to propagandise his dissolute tipple. The habit forming drug called buttermilk, which would put a she wolf to sleep in the midst of a howling pack, has never been outlawed in this country on account of our statesmen's fear of the farm vote. It has for long been assumed that the farmers are devoted to buttermilk, which is so erroneous as to be ridiculous. Farmers do not drink buttermilk. They feed it to the pigs, not because they wish harm to the pigs, but because the cows and horses won't touch it. Pigs are undiscriminating in their tastes, being as latitudinous in their dietry range as they are incorrigible in their manners. A few years ago somebody came back from Bulgaria and reported having observed great numbers of old men there who contributed their longevity to buttermilk. Immediately the buttermilk fad was started in this country. It is even alleged that Methuselah was a Bulgarian and if the buttermilk had held out Methuselah would be methuseling yet. How ridiculous! Bulgarians live lengthily, not because they drink buttermilk, but because they are so redolent of garlic Father Time avoids and forgets them."

COUNTY LIBRARY BEGUN SEVEN YEARS AGO, HAS ENJOYED STEADY GROWTH

Institution Begun, Sponsored By Federated Woman's Clubs

At the beginning of its eighth year this month, the Mitchell County Library, opened in 1925 under the sponsorship of the Mitchell County Federation of Women's Clubs, looks back on a period of steady growth, both in membership and size.

New books placed on the shelves of the library in the past few weeks swell the total number of volumes of fiction to eight hundred and sixty-two, in addition to a number of reference books, volumes of poetry and complete magazine files.

The library, which is located upstairs in the City Hall, has a membership of eighty. Membership fee is only $1.00 per year, and members are able to take two books each week on one membership, one each Tuesday and Saturday, the library being open from 3 o'clock until 5:30 on those days. In the summer months there is a "vacation" rate for school children. Mrs. Fred Dozier is the librarian.

Fiction in the library includes every type—love stories, western stories, children's books, and a number of books especially for the growing boy. All popular authors are represented, and many of the books are among present best-sellers.

Among the newer additions to the library are the following for those who like a good love story.

"Wild Wind," by Temple Bailey; "The Party Dress," Joseph Hergesheimer; "Found Treasure," Grace L. Hill; "Bridge of Desire," Warwick Deeping; "Make-up," Alma Sioux Scarbeery; "Skyscraper," by Faith Baldwin; "Red-Headed Woman," Katherine Brush; "Four Duck on a Pond," Ruth Sawyer; "Hilltop," Evolyn Miler Pierce; "For Ginger's Sake," Ethel Hueston; "The Prodigal Girl," Grace L. Hill; "Peggy by Request," Ethel M. Dell; "Cindy," Rose W. Lane; "Silver Ribbons," Christine W. Parmenter; "Eagles Fly High," E. B. Dewing; "Heartache," Ruth Dewey Groves; "Lighted Windows," Emilie Loring; "Pure Gold," O. E. Rolvaag; "Dancing Dollars," Ruth Wright; "Sophie," Frances R. Sterling; "Among Those Present," Arthur Somers Roche; "The Prophetic Marriage," Warwick Deeping; "Waters Under the Earth," Martha Ostenso.

The new westerns are: "Sunset Pass," Zane Grey; "Destiny Rides Again," Max Brand; "Fool's Gold," B. M. Bower; "The Silver Star," Jackson Gregory; "Green Timber," James Oliver Curwood; "Son of the Forest," James Oliver Curwood; "The Roped Wolf," Robt. Ames Bennett.

PIONEER WOMAN OF CHINA GROVE COMMUNITY BURIED LAST SUNDAY AFTERNOON

Rites For Mrs. J. A. Seale At Dunn M. E. Church Largely Attended

Rites for Mrs. J. A. Seale, 79, pioneer of the China Grove community, were conducted Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Dunn Methodist church, with her former pastor, Rev. J. B. Farmer of Roaring Springs, officiating. Rev. Mr. Farmer was assisted by Rev. Earnest Brown of Buford, and Rev. J. E. McDermett of Dunn. The Rev. J. P. McGee, pastor of the Dunn Methodist church, was unable to attend the rites due to illness. Burial was in the Dunn cemetery.

Deceased was the mother of Chas. Seale of Colorado. Several friends of the family attended the services from here. Her former pastor spoke of the pioneer mother as having been one of the most inspirational Christian characters it had ever been his privilege to know.

The church auditorium was crowded to capacity by relatives and friends who came from several West Texas communities to pay tribute to Mrs. Seale. Her husband, though in poor health for ten years and now blind and partially paralyzed, refused to permit those handicaps to deny him paying respect to his life companion in those last rites. He was brought to the church and seated in an easy chair near the casket.

Mrs. Seale was born in Calhoun county, Mississippi, May 17, 1853, but had lived in Texas many years of her life. She was married to J. A. Seale on January 30, 1873. The family came to this section twenty-seven years ago from Greenville, Texas, and established a farm home near China Grove. They had lived there since.

In addition to her husband and son of Colorado, one son, Louis Seale and two daughters, Mrs. Hugh Coles and Mrs. L. S. Coles, all of China Grove, survive. Sixteen grandchildren and fourteen great-grandchildren also survive.

Pall bearers were Jim Merket, Tom Webb, Anton White, Frank Wilson, Roy Allen and Carl Hairston. Flower girls were selected from among her granddaughters.

The Jones, Russell Company of Colorado had charge of funeral plans.

CALENDAR WANTED IN DISTRICT COURT ROOM WHO WILL SUPPLY IT?

WANTED—One 1932 model calendar for the 32nd district court room.

Monday morning as Judge Jim Brooks put himself to the duty of setting trial dates for several cases docketed in his court, he was put out somewhat when he found there was no 1932 calendar in the court room. He finally, after some calculation, however, figured out the dates for certain days of the ensuing weeks.

A calendar of 1930 vintage hung from the wall near the bench. There was not another calendar to be found on third floor of the court house building.

The court, we are sure, would appreciate gift of a modern calendar for the court room. But do not overdo the thing, gentlemen. Too many calendars from the walls might serve to mar the plaster.

Westbrook Methodist Church Notes

We are glad to report a good attendance in our Sunday school last Sunday. A number of visitors and several new members were reported. The pastor preached a fine sermon at both the morning and evening hour. Those present were surely blessed.

We had three additions to the church by letter and one reconsecrated their life to the service of the Master.

The ladies of the Missionary Society met on Monday afternoon at the parsonage. The Mission study superintendent was absent, so the 112th psalm was used as a scripture lesson. Mrs. Lee led in prayer. We studied the 6th chapter of "Korea, Land of the Dawn." Then had a business meeting. We voted to send a box of food supplies to the V. K. Johnson home in Dallas; also voted to send flowers to a sick member. Other business was attended to. Then Mrs. Gressett dismissed with prayer.

Come to prayer meeting each Wednesday at 7:30.

Baptist Church Notes—

"Perishing Under the Shadow of Redemption," was the text of Rev. Allen's wonderful message Sunday morning to a large and appreciative audience. One member was added to our church and a member renewed their pledge to God. At the evening service five more lined up to work with us.

Paul Revere made a famous ride at the Intermediate Girls' and Boys' Sunday school social over at the church Saturday night and the Pilgrims landed in the Mayflower, too. About thirty-five enjoyed this party, and many laughable games and contests of a Colonial nature were entered in by all. Apples and suckers were passed, after which weiners and marshmallows were roasted over a bonfire in the church yard. Mr. Chester Anderson is teacher of the boys class and Miss Gussie Bledsoe of the "Pure Gold" girls class. A number of parents were with us. We invite you to visit in our classes and attend all of our classes.

There were 131 in Sunday school and much enthusiasm in all departments. The teachers meeting was attended Friday night, and we urge all teachers and officers to meet at 7:30 Friday night at the church.

Mrs. Allen was the recipient of many lovely and practical gifts which was showered upon her Friday afternoon by a host of friends in the home of Mrs. Jim Oliver. Several delightful games and contests were enjoyed, after which cocoa and cake was served.

A soul found Christ at the prayer service last Wednesday night.

W. M. U. Met Monday in regular business meeting. Plans have been made to have a bake sale Saturday.

Mrs. Hall Entertains—

Saturday evening, Mrs. W. L. Hall entertained six tables of bridge players, with a golf-bridge party.

The tables, score pads and tallies carrying out the golf idea. High score for ladies was made by Mrs. J V Harris and Mr Harris was high for men.

At the refreshment hour cherry pie a la mode and coffe was served.

LONE STAR TWINKLINGS

By ETTA LEE MARTIN

Singing was well attended Sunday afternoon. Several visitors were present and fine singing was reported.

Don't forget that next Sunday, March 6th, will be the day in which the Sunday school will have a Rally Day. Lunch will be spread at noon. A program will be rendered both morning and evening. The program will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and everyone cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Richardson entertained the young people with a singing Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs Robert Horton spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Swafford.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hall, Etta Lee Martin and Tennie Mae Charles, were visitors in Colorado Monday.

Several young people of this community attended a party at Miss Ethel Hazelwood's Saturday night. Dello Mae Murphy spent Saturday nigth with Ethel Martin.

Mr. and Mrs. Gray Taylor were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Allbright.

Miss Lurlene Britton was able to be back in the school room after a week of illness. Miss Birdie Robertson substituted in her place.

The high school finished mid-term examinations last week.

Bauman Bulletin

The president of our singing class, T. J. Riden, accompanied by quite a few, attended the singing at Pleasant Valley Sunday afternoon. They reported a real good singing.

Mrs. V. H. Lick of Sweetwater, visited her home folks, the C. A. Land family, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. J. C Carter of Eastland, and R C Hardin of Carbon, visited their parents Sunday. "Daddy" Hardin, who has been ill, is reported better.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Richard visited in Sweetwater Thursday.

Miss Lorene Land of Big Spring, came home Sunday night to visit home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barnes visited Mr. and Mrs. Smitherman of Colorado Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Thomas, were called to Loraine Sunday afternoon to the bedside of Mr. Thomas' father, S. W. Thomas, who is seriously ill.

Mrs. Henry Riden and daughters, Waline and Vida Mae, have the flu this week.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Wilson of Loraine, visited their daughter and sister, Mrs. Dan Butler Sunday.

Carl and Boyd House have the flu this week.

Mrs. J. C. Lee and little daughter, Jestine, visited her father, Mr. Marshall of Clyde, last week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee McCollum entertained the singers of this community Friday night with a singing.

Mrs. Marion Daughtrey is on the sick list this week.

The pupils of the seventh, eighth and ninth grades, enjoyed a party at the school house Friday night.

The school children are putting out some trees around the school yard this week. It is being sponsored by the P. T. A.

Friday night is our regular P. T. A. meeting time. A good program is being prepared. Come and be with us March 4, at 7:30.

Rogers Ramblings

The Rogers P. T. A. was entertained by a program by the school last Friday night in honor of the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington. It was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The P. T. A. has started practice on the annual play to be presented in the near future. Watch for the date, because it is a first class play, entitled "Lighthouse Nan," by Sheldon Palmer. A list of characters will be given soon.

Jack Carpenter was operated on for appendicitis at the C. L. Root hospital last week and he is improving nicely. We shall be glad to have him enter school in the near future.

Mr. Barrier came to school Tuesday morning with a smile on his face due to the arrival of little Herbert Bertram, Jr., at his home on February 29th. All are doing nicely. Mr. and Mrs. Barrier will have four years in which to select birthday gifts for the youngster, due to his arrival on February 29.

School is making good progress after having successfully survived the mid-term examinations of last week, however, a few students were "weighed in the balance and found wanting" in knowledge to place them on the coveted honor roll. All the students in the higher grades did fairly well, considering the fact that high priced "King Cotton" deprived them of about two months of school work. They all intend to do better this term. Those on the "A" honor roll are: Frank Carpenter and Jack Wood. Those on the "B" honor roll are: Jewel Bassinger, Elbert Sweatt and John Wood.

Most all the pupils intend to enter some event in the county meet this year with a determination to win and derive some benefit from same.

Friendship—

Friendships are webs woven of the strongest threads, not of dainty, breakable threads, but of firm eternal ones. One who has friends has everything trustworthy, sincere and beautiful.

Ralph Waldo Emerson treats friendships in a very realistic manner. He relates two elements of friendship: one is Truth; the other, Tenderness. He teaches one to consider a bond between men as a goal of fortune.

"Friendship," says Emerson, "is for aid and comfort through all the relations and passages of life and death. It is fit for serene days and graceful gifts and country rambles, but also for rough roads and hard fare, shipwreck, poverty, and persecution."

To make friends, be a friend and the rest will care for itself.

Home Economics News—

Eleven Home Economics girls, accompanied by Miss Jennings, observed classes in the School of Home Economics in Texas Tech.

Friday evening the guests enjoyed a social in the home of Mrs. Friend. Saturday morning they observed an 8:00 o'clock clothing class and then went through the Textile building, where they saw each step in the making of cloth. They saw demonstrations of Batique and Block Printing in the design classes and observed a class in charcoal work. In the afternoon the Lubbock high school was visited and also the Tech Home Practice House. The girls returned Sunday afternoon.

The V. H. E. Club is sponsoring an evening's entertainment April 2, when Mr. John A. Lomax will sing negro spirituals and cowboy songs.

A faculty play will be presented March 18, the proceeds to go to the V. H. E. Club.

Miss Whitmore: Give me a sentence with a direct object.

Bill L.: You are good-looking.

Miss Whitmore: What's the object?

Bill L.: An "A".

Mrs. Cantrill: Give Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Margaret W.: He never lived there.

Methodist Church Notes—

A large congregation was in attendance at Sunday school and church last Sunday. McMurry Choral and Glee Club rendered a fine program Sunday morning. Mrs. Wylie, head of the Fine Arts Department, McMurry College, had charge and directed the program, which was greatly enjoyed by all. We trust they will come our way again. They rendered a program at Roscoe Sunday night.

Rev. Harrell preached to a large crowd Sunday night. He will preach next Sunday morning and night. Let's make Sunday a great day. Go to church and Sunday school Sunday.

A study course in "Methodism and World Needs," is being conducted on Monday night. Every member of the church should study this book, and attend these sessions. Come Thursday night. The pastor is teaching the course and would appreciate your presence. Visitors welcome.

Baptist Notes—

Last Sunday was an ideal day. We had a fine Sunday school. There were ten visitors and one or two new pupils. Several have promised to take their cars and bring those who have no way to come to Sunday school. So, let's all line up with some good Bible school and make Loraine a 100 per cent church and Sunday school town.

Rev. Hardin will teach a Sunday school course at the church, beginning Monday night. He and Mr. Ferguson, our Sunday school superintendent, are anxious that every teacher and officer and all our members that will, take part in this course of study.

Rev. Hardin preached at both the morning and evening hours. How he stirs our hearts with his spiritual sermons.

W. M. S. met at the church for their regular monthly business meeting Monday afternoon. They are going to observe the week of prayer for Missions, beginning Monday, March 7th.

Bruce's Bible Class—

On account of the weather being so bad last Sunday week there were but few out at Sunday school. So we decided Sunday to invite Bro. Bennett and his class to meet with us again the first Sunday they can come over. I understand they have given us an invitation to meet with them the First Sunday in April, so let's remember and be there.

We had a good attendance Sunday. There were 34 members present, some having been absent from some time. We are indeed glad to have them back. Let's all try to be present next Sunday for we are going to decide when we will have our barbecue and, of course, you don't want to miss an opportunity to have a voice in this event.

We are still urging everyone in this community to come out to Sunday school. We will not keep you over an hour or so. Any of us can afford to spend that much time once a week in worshiping God.

Be sure and make an effort to meet with us next Sunday, you will never regret it.

Expression Class Program—

The program at the high school auditorium last Friday evening, given by Mrs. W. W. Rowland's expression class, and assisted by Mrs. K. L. Taylor and several of her piano pupils, is to be remembered for sometime. In keeping with the month of February and also with the bicentennial of Washington's birthday, two short plays were given showing the contrast between conditions today and those in Washington's time.

Monologues, readings and songs; piano solos and duets were well received by the audience, as well as several costume Valentine selections, which added to the festive air of the occasion.

Our children are fortunate in having these opportunities for self-expression and it seems that the parents in our town are outstanding in their attitude toward the development of this trait.

FORMER PASTOR HERE URGES LIONS TO GIVE EMPHASIS TO SERVICE

It is not the spectacular nor unusual feat that attains for greatness, as the lives of men are to be measured, but rather in the devotion of service to their fellowmen, Rev. M. C. Bishop of Post, former pastor of the Colorado First Baptist church, told members of the Lions club Friday.

The visiting minister referred to the life of Washington. There have lived financiers who attained more wealth than Washington and America has produced generals who wrougth with more glory on the battle field than did Washington, he said. "None of these, however, have ever attained the greatness of Washington because they were lacking in the finer characteristics of life."

Other vsitors introduced were Chas. A. Kyle of the Colorado Feed Milling Company and Burn Lane, superintendent of the Sterling City schools.

The Mayor is authorized and directed to have notice of said election published as required by law.

Passed and approved this 2nd day of March, A. D. 1932.

H. L. HUTCHINSON,
Mayor City Colorado, Texas.
Attest: J. LEE JONES,
City Secretary.

GOODYEAR RADIO PROGRAMS

Connell & Beal, Goodyear dealers Second street, invite local radio fans to tune in on the new Goodyear radio program every Wednesday evening at 7:30 and every Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. The program is on the NBC system. Colorado radio owners can pick them up over WAOI or KOA for the best reception.

Headlining the programs are: John Philip Sousa, Arthur Pryor and their bands, the Goodyear quartet, James Melton, Lewis James, Phi Dewey and Wilfred Glenn, and a full concert dance orchestra, according to Allen Connell. There will be 54 stations broadcasting the program through the NBC network on a coast to coast hook-up.

Of special interest to listeners is the fact that Goodyear gives away weekly prizes. Call at the local store and get entry blanks for the contest each week.

HEEL FLY TIME HERE, SAY LOCAL RANCHERS

When you happen to see old bossie suddenly break away from serenely grazing in some grassy spot to stage an evident endurance race ending in a disappearance act over some hill, she is not overcome with a strange mental derangement, local ranchers would advise. She is merely running to place distance between her and a heel fly.

And, heel flies are numerous this Spring, the cattlemen find. Insect life is normally more plentiful during a wet season such as this one, and certainly the heel fly plan seeing to it that other pests are not to exceed him in numbers.

REV. ELLIOTT TO HOLD CAMPAIGN AT ODESSA

Rev. W. M. Elliott is to leave Monday for Odessa, where he will conduct a ten-day revival campaign. He will be assisted in the services by Rev. J. W. Byrd, pastor of the Odessa Presbyterian church.

The Colorado pastor states there will be no preaching services at First Presbyterian church Sunday, March 12. Sunday school and other departments, however, will meet as usual.

RUN-DOWN and WEAK

"I began taking Cardui when in a weakened, run-down condition," writes Mrs. F. S. Perrit, of Wesson, Miss. "I took one bottle, and I seemed to improve so much that I sent for six bottles. After I had taken the six bottles, I seemed entirely well.

"Before I took Cardui, I was nervous, restless, blue and out of heart. I felt depressed all the time. After I took Cardui, all this disappeared.

"I gave my daughter Cardui and it helped to relieve irregular . . ."

COLD STORAGE PLANT OF AID TO FARMERS

The cold storage plant of the Texas Public Utilities Corporation here should be considered of material aid to farmers and others when butchering pork or beef during warm weather. The company has a special vault with capacity of ten carcasses, in which the slaughtered animals may be chilled at nominal expense.

The three pigs and one baby beef, slaughtered Monday in demonstration at the E. S. Miles farm, were brought to the storage vault that night. Monday morning they were returned to the farm and the demonstration concluded.

THEFT OF NEWSPAPER COSTS THIS MAN $7.50

An Abilene man, charged with the theft of a copy of the Abilene Morning News from the lawn of a neighbor, was hailed into corporation court, convicted and assessed a fine of $7.50.

This happened Monday. The paper was alleged to have been stolen Sunday morning before its rightful owner had awakened from his peaceful slumbers and sent one of the children into the front yard to get the paper.
