Scelba Resigns As Italy's Chief

By CHARLES RIDLEY

ROME —UP— Italian Premier Mario Scelba and his pro-Western government resigned Wednesday.

The premier handed the resignation of his middle-of-the-road coalition to President Giovanni Gronchi, plunging Italy into a political crisis at a critical stage of world affairs.

Scelba was toppled by his own Christian Democratic Party on the grounds that coalition rule in Italy is dead. The Christian Democrats charged that Scelba's government, in its 16 months in power, had "done nothing" to cure the nation's numerous problems.

The powerful right-wing and left-wing rebels in the Christian Democratic party, who engineered Scelba's downfall, hoped to piece together a one-party government which would rely upon left-wing and right-wing parties for voting support in parliament. Five previous attempts at such a government since the June, 1953 general elections have failed.

Party rebels, including former Premier Giuseppe Pella, had been after Scelba's scalp since the start of the year. The axe finally fell Tuesday night when the party directorate ruled that Scelba's attempt to reshuffle his government was a failure.

The left-leaning Gronchi was expected to ask Scelba to remain in power as a caretaker until a new premier can be found. The new premier is expected to be another Christian Democrat.

Cabot Library Endowment Year Old Today

Today is the first anniversary of the "Godfrey L. Cabot Library Endowment" fund set up by Cabot for educational and charitable purposes. Thomas D. Cabot, announced the $60,000 donation on June 22, 1954.

According to Mrs. Lillian Snow, head librarian, a sum of $660 was received from the Foundation and has been partly used in the purchase of books for the Youth Department during the year.

Trustees of the Lovett Estate donated $5,000 to the Gray-Pampa Cabot Foundation Inc. about one month ago to be used for educational and charitable purposes.

The Lovett Memorial Library recently received a fund collected on the interest of the $60,000 endowment fund.

The trustee members are: Dr. W. Purviance, President; C. P. Buckler, Secretary; M. K. Brown; Hugh Burdett, Vice President and General Manager of Cabot Inc.; and J. E. Murfee, Jr. W. D. Waters is accountant for the group, and W. J. Smith is the Foundation Attorney.

The interest on the $60,000 will be used for the purchase of books, and magazines. Tom Cabot, son of the founder of the Cabot Companies, was here in June of last year to announce the setting up of the fund by his father. A luncheon announcing the fund was held at the Country Club attended by some 40 people.

PREDICTION WAS SO RIGHT

SAN ANTONIO —UP— Meteorologist Milton Rudd predicted thunderstorms for the San Antonio area Tuesday, then went atop the weather station. A bolt of lightning knocked him flat but he was unhurt.

Romulo Beats Molotov To 'Peace' Punch

By GEORGE COFFEY

SAN FRANCISCO —UP— A powerful little pro-Western diplomat from the Far East beat Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov to the punch Wednesday on opening a "peace offensive" in the United Nations.

Brig. Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines foiled Molotov because of the speaking arrangements for Wednesday's session of the 10th anniversary meeting of the world organization.

Romulo spoke first with Molotov following him to the rostrum.

Molotov indivated he would offer a propaganda-loaded "peace" resolution in his address to the delegates.

Eelco Van Kleffens of The Netherlands, who is presiding over the UN meetings, has warned the delegates he would tolerate no resolutions. He has stressed that this is purely a commemorative meeting.

Tuesday, for example, he lived up to his word by ruling Syrian Foreign Minister Khalid El Azem out of order for demanding the liberation of the North African part of the Arab homeland.

But Romulo indicated he would try to get around this "no resolutions" rule by offering a "San Francisco declaration" that could be adopted without a vote.

It had been previously suggested that Van Klefens offer to sum up the sentiments of the delegates in behalf of veace at the end of the meeting in a manner that would also avoid the rule.

But Molotov was believed to favor a formal resolution. He suggested such to the foreign ministers of the United States, France and Britain Monday night, but they turned it down.

Ike Names Ex-Michigan Governor, Brucker, To Post

WASHINGTON -- UP -- President Eisenhower Wednesday accepted the resignation of Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, and named former Gov. Wilber M. Brucker of Michigan to be his successor.

Stevens, storm center of the Army-McCarthy televised hearings last year, said he wanted to quit by the end of July.

Mr. Eisenhower accepted Stevens' resignation — which was for "personal reasons" — with "deep regret" he praised Stevens for his work in the Army post during the last 2½ years.

Brucker, 61, has been serving as general counsel of the Defense Department since April, 1954.

He served a two-year term as governor of Michigan in 1931-32.

Prior to that he had served as Michigan state attorney general, in 1930, and as prosecuting attorney, 1923-27, of Saginaw County, his birthplace.

End Comes Swiftly

Stevens is a wealthy 55-year-old textile manufacturer. He leaped to national televised prominence during Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigation of alleged subversion at the Army's signal corps' radar laboratories at Fort Monmouth, N.J.

The Stevens resignation, long anticipated, was acted on swiftly when it finally came.

It was transmitted to the White House by Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson Wednesday morning. Mr. Eisenhower accepted it, and named Brucker as successor, before leaving on a six-day speaking trip to New England.

Stevens leaves his Army post with the highest praise from Mr. Eisenhower. In their letters to each other, neither Mr. Eisenhower nor Stevens mentioned the dispute with McCarthy.

Farewells Exchanged

But the President said Stevens had contributed extensively to the reshaping of America's armed forces during his tenure. He said Stevens leaves with "my personal gratitude for your fine service along with every wish for your health and happiness in the years ahead."

Wilson, Stevens, and Brucker were invited to ride with Mr. Eisenhower from the White House to the airport for the New England tour takeoff.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Stevens had been discussing his resignation with President Eisenhower for some time.

In his letter of resignation, Stevens said he believed he can clean up his job "before the end of July."

Peron's Cabinet Resigns

Strong Man Being Stripped Of Power

By WILLIAM L. F. HORSEY

BUENOS AIRES —UP— All members of the Argentine cabinet submitted their resignation to President Juan D. Peron soon after he had conferred with two other military leaders, authoritative sources said Wednesday.

The state radio said Peron received Army Minister Gen. Franklin Lucero, chief of all military and security forces in Argentina, and Vice President Alberto Teisaire, a retired rear admiral, at the presidential office.

(Diplomatic reports in Montevideo, Uruguay, predicted formation of a three-man military junta in Argentina with Lucera as strong man, Peron as No. 2 and Teisaire as a possible third member. The sources said this may be part of a move to ease Peron out of power gradually.)

The government press secretary announced that all troops in Argentina would return to their barracks Wednesday and resume their regular tasks. It said this was a "clear and categorical demonstration that the most complete calm prevails in the whole country."

The press office also distributed for publication in morning newspapers, pictures taken of Peron Tuesday afternoon at his residence. They showed him smiling while receiving a delegation of students union from secondary schools (high schools).

Significantly, the state-owned radio resumed its mention Wednesday night of the late Eva Peron in its evening news bulletin, setting the 8:25 broadcast at the "time at which Eva Peron passed into immortality."

The radio omitted the slogan Monday night for the first time in three years and moved the bulletin back to 8:30 p.m.

El Paso First Major Texas City To End Segregation

EL PASO —UP— El Paso became the first major Texas city Wednesday to order segregation ended in public schools when school board members voted in favor of integration in time for fall classes.

Only one of the seven school board members voted against the move, as the Texas border city complied with the recent historic U.S. Supreme Court decisions ordering segregation abolished in public schools.

There were 712 Negro students in El Paso last school year. Only a single Negro school serves the El Paso metropolitan area, handling all grades from kindergarten through high school. It is Douglass school.

Negro leaders in El Paso have not filed any suits to force desegregation in the city's public schools. However, a suit is pending in federal district court seeking admittance of a Negro to the undergraduate division of Texas Western College at El Paso. It is a branch of the University of Texas.

The motion on desegregation came up during the first few minutes of the meeting. Board member Ted Andress, in making his motion, said the board had taken notice of the recent Supreme Court decision on compulsory segregation.

He said he thought it time that the El Paso board make "the prompt and reasonable start toward integration that should be made."

Andress then moved that the board comply with "all rulings of the Supreme court and that segregation on a compulsory or involuntary basis shall not be enforced in the El Paso public schools."

TULSA —UP— Negro pupils may attend public schools in Tulsa this fall. The city became the largest school system in Oklahoma to declare an end to public school segregation Tuesday.

Tulsa Superintendent Charles Mason said the board of education, after a year of work and study, also adopted a "voluntary" plan, whereby a Negro or white pupil may transfer to the nearest school predominantly of his own race.

But Mason said of the 63 schools in the Tulsa system, only about 16 will contain students — a total of about 150 among Tulsa's 53,000— who will be eligible to transfer under the voluntary plan.

Meanwhile, the Seminole school board voted to close its Negro high school but to retain a Negro grade school for the time being.

Superintendent O. D. Johns said the Seminole High School and junior college will accept Negro students begining in September, and the Negro elementary school will continue to accept pupils from the first to the eighth grades.

The Negro high school had an attendance last session of about 25, Johns said. He said the average enrollment at the elementary school was about 60 students.

Irving School On Probation For One Year

AUSTIN —UP— State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar Tuesday placed the Irving independent school district on probation for the 1955-1956 school year.

Edgar announced the probation will apply to state accreditation of the school district, and said that during the probationary period its accredited status "will be subject to immediate termination for failure to comply" with requirements set down by the state.

Edgar said a visiting team found on May 25 that "dissension is still prevalent in this school system." There was a strong feeling of unrest and tension evident in teachers and administrators. There was evidence of continued division of the staff into factions."

Dr. John L. Beard was ousted as superintendent of Irving schools last Feb. 16, and a hearing was held early in May before Edgar on Beard's appeal for reinstatement. Beard was later re-hired.

Irving citizens voted to abolish the district to get rid of the school board that fired Beard, then voted later to re-establish independent status under a new board.

Loss of accreditation would mean students could not transfer course credits to accredited schools, loss of certain Gilmer-Aikin minimum foundation benefits, and possibly graduates would be required to take examinations for entrance into state-supported colleges.

Edgar said the Irving district has been operated under "unusual conditions."

Man Hurt In Mishap

Two mishaps took place yesterday afternoon resulting in major vehicle damages and one minor injury. Jack Allen, 510 Magnolia, was treated for injuries in Highland General Hospital and released Tuesday evening.

The first collision occurred on E. Francis, 60 feet east of Rose, at 6 p.m. yesterday. Ronald H. Payne, in a '52 Ford, was in collision with a parked '55 Chevrolet, owned by Edgar Parker. Allen, in the Parker car, suffered minor injuries. Vehicle damages were estimated at $750 for Payne, $350 for Parker.

The second mishap at the intersection of Cuyler and Tyng occurred at 11:25 p.m. Tuesday. Joe M. Thompson of Lake View, in a '55 Ford, met with damages of approximately $35. George R. Loutton, 425 N. Cuyler, in a '50 Chevrolet encountered damages of $75.

Panel Discussion

Vaccine Probers Invite Experts

By MICHAEL J. O'NEILL

WASHINGTON —UP— A House Interstate Commerce subcommittee tried a novel approach Wednesday for the opening of its sweeping investigation of the Salk anti-polio vaccine.

The group invited a panel of 15 polio experts, including Dr. Jonas E. Salk, the vaccine's discoverer, to appear before it to discuss the scientific problems connected with the vaccine.

Committee sources said the panel, to be presided over by Dr. John R. Paul of Yale's medicine school, would discuss all phases of the vaccine's scientific status, including its effectiveness, methods of research, etc.

Subcommittee Chairman J. Perry Priest (D-Tenn.) told newsmen that committee members would participate in the discussion, interrupting to ask questions of the experts or to make pertinent observations.

The subcommittee is considering the administration's request for legislation to authorize the government to make grants totaling $35 million to the states to vaccinate children free.

The subcommittee's plan was to look first into the scientific problems raised by the vaccine and later into its social aspects.

The National Advisory committee on polio vaccine met in closed session, meanwhile, to discuss ways of getting the government's voluntary distribution program rolling when vaccine is available again.

County Court Jury Cases Set

Several jury cases are scheduled for County Court tomorrow, according to County Judge Bruce Parker.

The judge said that criminal cases will have precedence over civil cases and that at least six civil cases will be tried. The court is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m.

Woman Strips On City Bus To Celebrate Summer

OKLAHOMA CITY —UP— A 28-year-old Oklahoma City woman celebrated the first day of summer by shedding all her clothes—on a city bus.

The bus driver stopped in the middle of a busy downtown street and yelled to a policeman for help.

Police dispatcher Lee Brown radioed two scoutcar officers to the scene. But they were beaten on the call by the Navy shore patrol, three detective cruisers, a police lieutenant and newspaper reporter.

Traffic backed up as motorists volunteered to assist.

The bus driver said his Lady Godiva fare began her stripping act shortly after boarding. She laid her clothes on a seat but tossed her shoes out the window.

Then she calmly donned a new pair of shoes she carried in her handbag and sat down on the leather seat.

Despite officers' pleas, the woman refused to return to her clothing. Finally, she was marched to a police cruiser followed by Lt. T. J. Wilson, the ranking officer at the scene, carrying her clothes.

Scoutcar officers said their return to the station was marked by double-take stares from motorists whenever they stopped for a red light.

The woman was taken to the county jail where she finally consented to put on a hospital gown.

Worley Hospital Now Air-Cooled

Air conditioning units have been installed in all private rooms of the Worley Hospital, according to hospital officials.

The units, installed in all 32 private rooms, cost some $6,000. The equipment was bought from C and M Television, and was installed by Davis Electric Co. The hospital has 45 beds.

As part of their general remodeling program, repairs and painting will be carried out over the summer months.

To Quote The Bard, 'The Rest Is Silence.'

Shakespeare-Quoting Cop Quits Quiz With $16,000 Prize

By H. D. QUIGG

NEW YORK —UP— Patrolman Redmond L. O'Hanlon, $16,000 richer but nine pounds thinner, summed up his attitude toward television quiz shows Wednesday with a quote from his favorite author, Shakespeare.

"The rest is silence," he said, with a flourish.

Then he uttered some quotes of his own.

"If I were a single man, I would have gone ahead for the $32,000 and the $64,000 questions. I probably could have answered that next question for $32,000, and I would have been a cinch to get the final, $64,000 one, because the rules allowed me to bring in any expert to help me answer that one.

"But a man in my position, with five children, has to be a little conservative. We don't want to be rich. We just want to raise our kids in a competent fashion."

It was at 2 p. m. Tuesday, O'Hanlon said, that he finally made up his mind — "after wavering hot and cold all week long" — that he would go on the television show "The $64,000 question" Tuesday night and say he didn't want to try for any more questions: Just give him his $16,000.

Two weeks ago he won $8,000 answering questions about the category he had selected—Shakespeare. Last week he came back and answered one question correctly to win $16,000. His problem Tuesday night was whether to risk his winnings by taking a chance on doubling them. A wrong answer would get him nothing but a consolation prize — an expensive autombbile.

The 39-year-old New York policeman has been a student of Shakespeare for 16 years, putting in 6,000 hours on one phase of study — puns and other wordplay in Shakespeare's works.

Tuesday night on the show when master of ceremonies Hal March told him "the country is wating" to hear whether he would go on with the questions, O'Hanlon said he had been torn by a dilemma: "The egotism of the scholar and the conservatism of the father of five children."

Conservatism won. He got his $16,000 check. After the show he kissed it. Then he kissed his pretty, black-haired wife, Marquerite.

During the last two weeks of worry and study, O'Hanlon said, he lost nine pounds from his five-foot, 11-inch frame. "This program should be called The Reducing Show," he said.

With their money the O'Hanlons intend — besides buying a station wagon — to build another bedroom and a study onto their house. The study will be equipped with the latest Shakespearean research equipment, and in it O'Hanlon expects to finish his book on Shakespeare's wordplay in four more months. In 16 years, he has collected 3,600 instances of wordplay out of Shakespeare's 1,000,000 written words.

He felt so good when it was all over that he couldn't help indulging in his Shakespearean specialty — puns. He told a reporter he would have two typewriters in his new study, one with elite and one with pica. (pronounced "pike-uh") type. Then he said, happily:

"I was a pica before this, but I'm elite tonight."

Hansford County Fighting Worst Grasshopper Plague

SPEARMAN —(Special)— Hansford County is fighting the worst grasshopper infestation in 20 years, according to records reviewed by Bill Goldston, county agent.

The heaviest infested area, along the Palo Duro Creek, in the northwest part was largely confined to grazing land. At the onset of the hatching hoards, ranchers of the area consulted with Agent Goldston who took a long range view of the situation and called in specialists of entomology.

The program of control would be too expensive for individuals to handle. A County Range Grasshopper Control Committee was appointed with Johnnie Vennaman as chairman representing the Hitchland area; Erliss Pittman, Morse area; Robert Alexander, Gruver area and G. C. Brillhart Jr., and Ernest Wilmeth Spearman area. They worked out an emergency program with some government assistance, for a block of 90,000 acres representing Hansford, Ochiltree, Hemphill and border areas of two Oklahoma Counties.

Spraying with diesel oil and Aldrin, with a ratio of two ounces of Aldrin to a gallon of diesel, was started Friday at day light and continued until the wind reached 15 miles per hour or the temperature reached 80 degrees, by the Johnson Flying Service of Cheyenne, Wyo.; they use a B-18 and with weather conditions being favorable can spray 10,000 in the short period from daylight to about 8 a.m.

The landing strip, for refueling, is 14 miles north of Spearman, about in the center of the 70,000 acre block calling for the first spraying. One load of spray, 1100 gallons is adequate for 1100 acres.

Mrs. Gwenfred Lackey, ranch woman, says the grasshoppers are swarming like bees, not only along the lush growth of the creek but all over the pasture.

Johnnie Vennaman has been over the ranch infested area a number of times and says the situation is appallingly serious.

James Brillhart, rancher, says the hoppers are working like swarms of aunts, and while they are working on the pastures now, they are also working toward the field crops.

Agent Goldston called eight grasshopper meetings and had specialists from the field of entomology to instruct the ranchers and farmers in the imperative need of stopping the infestation before it reached the crop land. Large crowds attended the meetings.

The county commissioners sprayed all of the county roads. The biggest handicap of control comes from not having enough equipment to properly spray all fence rows and field crops.

Farmers are using all available ground equipment to spray out fence rows, water ways, irrigation ditches and wheat. At present the grasshoppers are doing some damage to the wheat stalks but will cause a great loss when wheat begins to ripen, by eating out the two green spots on either side of the last node on the stalk, causing the wheat head to fall.

Agent Goldston says many do not think grasshoppers lay their eggs until in the fall. Range hoppers begin to lay by July 1st and crop hoppers begin about July 15th; both species continue to lay all summer and until it freezes, in the fall. They deposit their eggs in the soil and with a warm, damp spring, like this one, they all hatch out.

Graham Opens German Stand

FRANKFURT, Germany — UP — American Evangelist Billy Graham said Tuesday he thinks he will find the same religious awakening in Germany as he found recently in Britain and Switzerland.

The North Carolina preacher opened his seven-meeting German tour here Tuesday night. He is expected to preach to 40,000 Germans at the first service of his second mission to this country.

Graham has scheduled four other public meetings and two for American servicemen. Last year, he held revival meetings in Duesseldorf and Berlin.

The 37-year-old Baptist said he hoped to repeat his successful tour of Switzerland here. On his last evening in Geneva, he converted more than 1,000 persons to Christ.

Graham told newsmen his current crusade is proving more successful than the trail-blazing gospel campaign he conducted through Europe in 1954.

"The attendances this year are larger, and the interest far greater," he said. "There is less skepticism."

Graham admitted there was still some criticism in Europe of his high-pressure salesmanship techniques, but he pointed out that all publicity for his meetings is handled by the local religious groups in each country which sponsor the meetings.

Add up the features, compare the prices! A short visit to our showroom plus some simple arithmetic will prove that Plymouth is your best buy of the low-price 3!

Drop by today for a demonstration drive in one of our big, beautiful Plymouths! Here's what you'll discover:

Biggest car of the low-price 3! Plymouth is 17 feet long—by far the largest car in its field, both inside and outside. That means you enjoy the smooth, steady ride only a truly big car, like Plymouth, can give you.

Most beautiful car of the low-price 3! Practically everyone rates Plymouth first for beauty. Charm, a leading fashion magazine, selected Plymouth "beauty buy of the year." Thousands picked Plymouth best-looking of "all 3" low-price cars in a nation-wide survey.

Most economical car of the low-price 3! When it comes to powerplants, there's really no match for either of Plymouth's 2 great engines. Try the 6-cylinder PowerFlow 117, the all-time champ for economy, reliability and performance. Or try the high-flying Hy-Fire V-8—with the highest standard horsepower of the low-price 3.

WHY PAY UP TO $500 MORE FOR A CAR SMALLER THAN PLYMOUTH?

Don't be fooled by the claims of medium-price cars that they cost practically the same as Plymouth. When you compare price tags, you'll find that, model for model, Plymouth sells for much less, and gives you more car for your money!

Plymouth named "America's Most Beautiful Car" by famous professional artists, the Society of Illustrators

Rodeo Plans Progressing

Arrangements for the Top o' Texas Rodeo today were continuing to take more definite form, 'Red' Wedgeworth, secretary, left this afternoon for Oklahoma City where he will purchase placards and set up the general outdoor advertising program for rodeo, Aug. 3-6.

The association this year will open downtown headquarters about July 20. Wedgeworth said the headquarters are being moved from the Chamber of Commerce offices so as to be more accessible and not interfere with the operations of the C of C office. Though the exact location has not been selected, some vacant store will be used in the downtown area.

Merchants complimentary tickets may be requisitioned by business and professional concerns that would like to send them to their clients. Wedgeworth said the tickets will cost nothing unless they are used by the recipients, commenting that the complimentary ducats have proven good will builders. In 1954, some 2,500 tickets were sent out.

Following the rodeo, all the tickets will be counted, and then firms will be billed for those used. The used tickets will be in the C of C office for those wishing to pick them up for their records.

Wedgeworth will contact as part of the advertising campaign, the Colorcraft Poster Co., and Benson Outdoor Advertising Co., both of Oklahoma City, for the purchase of placards, posters, and billboard space.

The concerted advertising and publicity campaign will begin July 6 when five cars will go out from Pampa, and "spread the word" within a radius of 150 miles as to the festivities of the rodeo. Cowgirls in full regalia will ride in the cars, will extend a Top o' Texas welcome to folks in the outlying area, and, in addition, will distribute posters.

Newspaper adds will be placed throughout the area, and news releases will be sent to all major papers in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Kansas. All papers will be sent releases weekly within a 250-mile radius.

Among the featured attractions at this year's rodeo will be Jimmy Wakely, recording star from Hollywood, The Henry's Dog Act, rodeo clown Jake Mitchell of Dalhart and the Amarillo Air Force Band.

Pampa Woman Sells Poem

Mrs. H. J. Pickett, west of town, sold her poem — "A Prayer" — to "Front Rank," a weekly paper of the Brotherhood of the Disciples of Christ two weeks ago. The poem, to be published sometime this summer, was written in observance of the World Day of Prayer held last February in the Church of the Brethren. Mrs. Pickett is Program Chairman of the Pampa Council of Church Women and Secretary of the Church Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church.

E. D. Parker Dies In Lefors

Edward Drew Parker, 74, died at 6:15 p.m. yesterday at his home in Lefors. Mr. Parker, who had been in ill health for several months, moved to Lefors about three years ago from Borger, where he had lived since 1926. He was born at Mulberry, Ark.

A retired oil field worker, Mr. Parker is a member of the Isom Lodge No. 1242 and of the First Christian Church in Borger.

He is survived by his wife, Gennie; one granddaughter, Sammie Coberly of Lefors; one grandson; and several brothers and sisters whose names were not available this morning.

Hereford Group Plans Ranch Tour

Plans will be made today for an area field day sometime this summer for a possible tour of area commercial ranches.

Representatives from the Top o' Texas Hereford Breeders Association met today in Canadian with a delegation from the Northeast Panhandle Feeders Association to work out a cooperative program this summer for a field day or educational program to stimulate interest in the Hereford Breeders Sale here in February.

Those who went to Canadian were Jake Hess, McLean; Paul Dauer, Panhandle; C. E. Vincent, Lefors, Wayne Maddox, Miami, and Red Wedgeworth, Pampa.

Texas Tech Speakers Available

Speakers from Texas Tech will be available here this fall for speaking engagements before interested groups, according to Mrs. Cameron Marsh, secretary of the Pampa Adult Education group.

Some 75 persons are available on as many topics, and Mrs. Marsh commented that those groups wishing a speaker or a team of speakers in the fall should contact the Adult Education Program, Texas Tech, Lubbock.

Since there are no funds available at the college for providing the speakers free, the speaking bureau recommends mileage, meals and hotel expenses be paid to the engaged staff member of the school. Specific arrangements for the fee involved may be worked out by consulting the director of the program, Dr. Per G. Stensland.

The innumerable topics offered range from "Technical Writing For Engineers" and "Let's Go To Mexico" to "Oral Interpretation of Literary Masterpieces."

Status Of Forces

What happens under the "Status of Forces" treaty that has been placed in effect between this country and France? Well, for one thing, there is a good chance that an American soldier will go to his death on the guillotine.

It came about when Jose Montijo, Jr., 25, was involved in a brawl with a 19-year-old French youth over a girl. Paul Hess of the Chicago Tribune European Bureau, reported that Montijo claims he was the victim in the affair and that he was attacked by the youth along with several other French civilians.

The upshot of the affair is that Montijo is held in a French jail and French authorities have complete control over the case because of the "Status of Forces" treaty.

This agreement, part of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization pact (NATO), provides for trial of United States military personnel in foreign courts for certain types of major offenses. Montijo will be entitled to an American legal observer, who cannot take any part in the trial.

Since there is no provision for bail under French law for persons suspected for murder, the American soldier can be held indefinitely before being brought to trial. Moreover, the approach to such crimes under the French court system is virtually just the opposite to that taken in American and English courts. Here we hold that a suspect is innocent until proven guilty. In France the law takes the viewpoint that the suspect must make a case for himself and that he probably would not be charged with a crime unless he had done it; that he is guilty until the court is shown that he is innocent.

All this, it ought to be understood, has nothing to do with the United Nations. It involves only the NATO agreement or "treaty" and as a treaty stands above any law that exists in the United States since it has been held that treaties are the supreme law of the land.

It is to halt precisely such treaties and agreements, secret or otherwise, made by the executive department of our government that the sponsors of the Bricker Amendment are working so valiantly for passage of the amendment. It is true that the Bricker Amendment would go a long way toward providing some protection for the American system of government against the encroachments of world domination through the United Nations. As such the Bricker Amendment is "against the UN." But in actual practice it ought to be noted that there are hundreds or even thousands of such treaties or agreements that would not be disturbed in the least were the UN to be tossed out tomorrow. The UN is the biggest and most public offender, to be sure, but it is not the only one — as the "Status of Forces" treaty shows.

The Bricker Amendment will not solve all of our difficulties, but it will start us on a path that may lead toward the preservation of the Constitution of the United States and the American system of government. We hope it will merit the continued and active support of all Gray County residents.

The Doctor Says

By EDGAR P. JORDAN, M. D.

With the arrival of warm weather and the increasing use of locker rooms, swimming pools and other athletic facilities used by great numbers of people — ringworm increases by leaps and bounds.

This is a disorder of the skin which is also known as athlete's foot, but its best medical names dermatophytosis. The various fungi (which are a variety of plant life responsible for dermatophytosis) grow best under conditions of moisture (hence their increase frequency in the summer months) and are spread from person to person from moist floors, towels, socks and the like.

The feet, between the toes, the hands, the groin, and the scalp, are favorite locations for this condition.

DERMATOPHYTOSIS may take various forms, such as blistering, scaling, cracking, lumps or callous-like lesions of the skin. Itching is frequent.

Many persons have only mild symptoms which they do not recognize, and allow to go on for a long time without treatment.

The Council of Pharmacy and Chemistry of the American Medical Association has made some recommendations on dermatophytosis which include the following: The feet should be kept clean and dry with special attention to places between the toes, the shoes and socks should be aired when not in use.

What shoes are selected should be chosen with a view to making them as light and well-aired as compatible with working conditions.

A DUSTING POWDER consisting of 10 per cent boric acid and powdered talcum should be put on the feet, in between the toes every night and morning.

The council suggested the following policy as to treatment: "Only the mild lesions that occur between the toes should be treated by the patient himself; that is, where the lesions exhibit only scaliness and perhaps mild redness and fissuring.

"Considerable redness, moisture postule formation or pain call for the attention of the physician and the physician only. The patient must err on the safe side.

NOTHING IS COMPLETELY safe as a local application except the boric acid foot powder mentioned. When improvement does not develop in two weeks, a physician should be consulted.

Self-treatment or overtreatment of these fungus infections frequently makes them much more difficult to cure, or leads to complications.

The particular fungus responsible can be identified only with the aid of the microscope. Proper treatment depends on the kind of infecting fungus found, its location, and how long it has been present.

There are, however, an increasing number of good chemicals which attack the fungi responsible for this annoying disorder.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Two Kinds Of Exchange

I take a magazine called "The Free Trader" printed in London, which claims to be the only magazine in the world devoted exclusively to promoting free trade.

The April issue published an article written by Leonard E. Read, President of the Foundation of Economic Education. It was such a splendid presentation I am reproducing it below:

Boiled down to its essence, the economic issue between the libertarians and the socialists is one of willing exchange versus unwilling exchange.

The libertarians stand for free trade or voluntary or willing exchange. The socialists stand for compulsory or unwilling exchange.

There are not many 100 per cent socialists. Even if they could, no more than a few would socialize or communize or collectivize all human activities. The meaning of the socialistic position becomes apparent to nearly everyone if socializing is carried to its ultimate and logical conclusion.

In the practical politics of our day, the socialist presses for socializing (sometimes called "nationalising") the more important means of production. He insists that all of us regardless of interest, must give of our substance to aid "classes" or "categories" of the citizenry—

THE METHOD: subsidies and controls.

THE RATIONABLE: society has a first lien on the fruits of everyone's labour.

THE DEVICE: the agency of organized force — government.

There are not many 100 per cent libertarians. Few persons, even if they could, would go so far as to relegate government's part in the market to the suppression of fraud, misrepresentation, predatory practices, and violence — to the use of repellent or defensive, as distinguished from initiated or coercive, force. In short, there are few persons who believe that government can properly have no rights not possesed by individuals. The person who really believes that others can control their creative activities better than he can control them is rare indeed.

In the practical politics of our day, the 100 per cent libertarian presses toward desocialization. He looks to conditions and the time when government will grant no special privileges; when government will defend the life and livelihood of all citizens equally; when anyone can do precisey as he pleases as long as he does no injury to others; when the fruit of one's labour is one's own to use, to give away, or to exchange.

Socialists — believers in organised force as a means of directing creative activities of citizens — are believers in unwilling exchange. As examples: Regardless of my unwillingness, they believe that I should be forced to exchange some of my earnings for the "prosperity" of Tennessee Valley residents; or for a government promise of benefit payments in my old age; or for the rehabilitation of alcoholics in Washington, D.C.; or for "free" wheat to India and Pakistan; or for the public ownership of butter, in order that the dairymen's price may be sustained; or for — the list is beyond comprehension. These unwilling exchanges run into the hundreds of millions annually. Their number could be tabulated only if all government "benefits" and "services" were put on a shelf, so to speak, as in a grocery store, and then a count made of the ones not bought. What an inventory there would be!

Two persons are involved in every exchange. If it is to be willing exchange, obviously each party to the exchange must be a willing participant. This is the kind of exchange libertarians favour.

The socialist seems to look upon government as an end in itself, while the libertarian looks upon government merely as the means to counteract the evil of anyone's practising violence, fraud, and so forth. The socialist tends to look upon government as the major source of "the common good." The libertarian distrusts government and watches it closely at all times to make sure that it does not itself become predatory under the guise of defending the life, liberty and property of the citizens.

The socialist puts his trust in the force of government. The libertarian puts his trust in himself and other free men who meet in a market place where no person has the power to force any other person to conform to his viewpoint or desires in any respect except "Don't aggress against me."

Socialists believe that if services and goods were exchanged only if and when mutual willingness prevailed, society would suffer; that people, by and large would not attend to their own interests; that they would not make the "right" decisions. Socialists are fallible folks, even as you and I. But in spite of that obvious fact, socialists believe that society is improved when their wills are imposed on the rest of us; that society is menaced if you and I and others go without controls over our affairs. They believe they can direct my life in ever so many areas "better" than I can direct little faith in what free men can and would accomplish.

Libertarian beliefs are quite the opposite. They have faith in the potential accomplishments and the moral rightness of willing exchange. Indeed, a libertarian cannot be an authoritarian. He limits his own belief in force to repellent or defensive force against those who aggress against him. And he believes in a government limited to the use of this same force, administered equally and justly for all. The libertarian leaves all else to private initiative and to willing exchange.

Bonn Government May Not License Radio Free Europe

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Radio Free Europe, which was established in Berlin and other West German cities to broadcast American propaganda into "Iron Curtain" countries, may not receive a license from the new and sovereign Bonn Government, unless it is housecleaned and reorganized. Adenauer members of the West German Parliament declare that pro-communists have sneaked into the organization.

Radio Free Europe is not the United States agency, although it was sponsored by a highly respected group of well-intentioned Americans. The board chairman of the National Committee for a Free Europe is Joseph C. Grew, former Undersecretary of State and former Ambassador to Japan. The Chairman of the Executive Committee is Allen W. Dulles, brother of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Other distinguished committee members are President Eisenhower, James A. Farley, General Lucious D. Clay, General William J. Donovan, Senator Herbert H. Lehman of New York, A. A. Berle Jr., former Assistant Secretary of State, and Clark M. Clifford, White House legal adviser during the Truman regime.

Like so many "honorary" committees, however, this group apparently has not had the time to police or check up on Radio Free Europe's organization or operations.

Unknowingly, according to pro-American Germans and exiles from satellite states now living in Washington, New York, Chicago and overseas, the organization is suspected of supporting a Communist propaganda cell instead of a "liberation" outpost.

Ferdinand Peroutka, for instance, heads the broadcast desk for Czechoslovakia in Radio Free Europe. Here are a few excerpts from a book which Peroutka, a Czech Socialist, published in Prague in 1947:

"Capitalism means anarchy in production and consumption. The legitimate place of the intelligentsia is on the side of the Economic Plan.

"Neither democracy nor intelligentsia must link their fate with capitalism . . . For too long a time has the intelligentsia been serving capitalism, whose characteristic feature is that it is not intelligent."

As if that were not enough to show the philosophy of our supposed spokesman to satellite slaves, read this quotation from the book written by Czechoslovakia's "liberator":

"Never in history was Russia so strong. Never before were the forces of socialism so gigantically extended.

"Nevertheless, there are still some people who think in an old-fashioned way. They have not succeeded yet in explaining to all the necessity for the fall of capitalism . . . The revolution in Russia was unavoidable, historical, logical and honorable, and future generations will live from its results with satisfaction."

Peroutka winds up with a cry for similar "revolutions" throughout the world. So, it is obvious why Chancellor Konrad Adenauer informed Washington officials on his recent visit that Radio Free Europe will have to clean up or close up.

General Douglas MacArthur is not the only old soldier who is "fading away."

In a recent House address, Representative Barratt O'Hara of Chicago revealed that there are only three veterans of the 1898-99 Spanish-American War still in Congress.

Besides himself, the other two are Senator Carl Hayden of Arizona and Senator Edward Martin of Pennsylvania. Another survivor, Guy M. Gillette of Iowa, was defeated last year, and Martin will probably retire at the end of his present term.

Baby-Sitter — While you were gone, Ma'am, the baby swallowed a bug.
Mother—Great heavens! What did you do?
Baby-Sitter (proudly) —Oh, I took care of him. I made him swallow some insect powder.

The weaker the argument the stronger the words.
—C—

The CRACKER BARREL

Since the end of World War II the Communists have started unprovoked wars against three legally established governments in Asia —Nationalist China, the Republic of Korea and Indo-China. They helped seize Vietnam and enslaved millions of unwilling human beings. Now they threaten a fourth war and we know that this will not be the last. They violated the Korean cease fire agreement and, in violation of their pledged word, still hold about 500 Americans in their prison compounds. They hold thousands of other freedom loving people in their prisons. If we sit down at the council table with them, we accept as equals thieves and liars and murderers. For the Communist war criminals are no less guilty than the German and Japanese war criminals whom we punished with the hangman's noose and long prison sentences. There is no double standard of international morality. Those who try to establish one are not peace makers. They are criminal accessories.

Pegler Offers To Guard Judge Who Sent Up Finns

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

I am going to volunteer as bodyguard for Edward P. Murphy, the federal judge from San Francisco, who sentenced the flying Finn twins, George and Charles, to a year in prison where they could be "taught a trade and receive psychiatric treatment." The judge may not be scared, for he wrote bravely that "threats against life, abuse, vituperation, all of which have been heaped upon me largely by the cowardly who write anonymously," did not cause him "to deviate one iota" from his duty. I think I could dig up one of those psychiatrists who are now on call to pronounce people crazy for rejecting the deity of F. D. Roosevelt, to say that whoever carries on like that over "threats against life, abuse and vituperation" shows an exaggerated sense of persecution.

However, even if some board of psychiatrists should say that Murphy's concern meant something more than cheap self-pity, I would still insist that that is all it means. I have been getting that kind of mash-notes and phone calls for years and I wish to calm the judge, if need be. Whoever really means to do him dirt will neither write nor phone him a warning. Anyway, I will be right there by his side. I won't let anyone hurt you, Murphy.

This fellow is an interesting and, I insist on my opinion, slightly superior specimen of the federal judiciary. We accumulated a raffish roster of lame - ducks, loafers, courthouse hustlers and miscellaneous bums in this jurisprudence during the foul regime, and the scant aristocracy of mediocrities seem solonian by comparison. Even Murphy himself, viewed from the other side of a door, has some of the features of solon.

While I am at my self-inflicted task of standing between his honor and harm, I will teach him something about the English language. In an official copy of an order which he wrote in the Finn case, mailed out from the department of justice, he used "flaunt" where I would strongly recommend "flout." These words have nothing in common except four letters.

Murphy wrote first that the Finns had "flagrantly flaunted the laws of the United States." Having struck one foot in the base-drum, he couldn't resist the temptation to repeat the spectacle so he wrote that their conduct led to "wanton flaunting of the law."

Judge, listen to teacher. The word "flaunt" means to wave, to flutter, to move ostentatiously or display obtrusively.

You don't mean that these twins waved, fluttered, moved ostentatiously and-or displayed obtrusively the laws of the United States do you, Murphy? There would be nothing deplorable in that.

But the verb to flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and-or sneer at. Is that what you mean, solon?

Suppose you sit down and write "dear teacher: Flaunt means wave, flutter, move ostentatiously and-or display obtrusively. Flout means to mock, insult, treat with contempt and-or sneer at. (signed) Eddie Murphy." Write it 50 times, and you will never use "flaunt" in that context again, but God only knows what else you will come up with.

Murphy sent the Finn twins to a disgusting dump where the prison bureau segregates the foulest sexual degenerates. He sent them there for slapping handcuffs on a federal attorney in a smelly political conspiracy whereby the Department of Justice snatched back a C-46 which they had bought with $21,000 of their own money to run a private flying service. Their right to the plane was confirmed by other judges and there is no doubt about their title, but the Department of Justice swiped it from them so they pinched the U.S.D.A. under absolutely valid laws. This fellow was not even booked, still less tried, and the fact remains that the plane is the Finns' rightful property. Murphy doesn't do things by halves when he sets out to show himself up. His own education was no more than minimal for an habitual bureaucrat.

The Finn twins, who by his direction were to be taught a trade and given psychiatric treatment, both have degrees in psychology and George had three and one-half years and Charles two years of medicine. George served eight years as an air force flight instructor, experimental engineer in aviation and specialist in the development of the ejection seat for high-speed pilots which has saved many lives of little less value to the country, at a hazard, than Murphy's. Charles flew 68 combat missions as a bomber pilot and won a lot of decorations. After the war both flew in the Berlin air lift.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

The costly Ford strike has been averted, and Walter Reuther has won his demand for a guaranteed-annual-wage-with modifications. This is a major and momentous event, and many thoughtful persons deem it a major mistake.

Earlier in the negotiations, the Ford Company offered a proposal which it called: a "Partnership in Prosperity Plan," which Mr. Reuther turned down both instantly and angrily, yet, as the Detroit Free Press said: "It was a good, free enterprise, worker-capitalist package." That must have been its trouble. Mr. Reuther has never been much of a lover of American free enterprise. From his earliest beginnings, he has always been smitten with socialistic, cradle-to-grave, regimented guarantees.

In Mr. Reuther's dream-world, there is no such thing as a self-respecting, independent worker, building his own present and future security. He sees workers only "en masse," collectivized and homogenized under his powerful leadership, for whom he must battle and browbeat a "selfish management" in order to obtain their means of livelihood. Consumers, stockholders, the separate and unequal merits of individual workers, —these do not concern him. The fact that nobody can ever guarantee peace, or prosperity, or profits, or sales,—these he dismisses as irrelevant. In his one-track mind, his union workers are entitled, as a kind of "natural right", to guaranteed employment and security, regardless of anyone or anything else. As a long-time observer commented wryly: "Reuther has officially left Socialism,—but Socialism has never left Reuther!"

Now the Ford Company has capitulated on the general principle of the guaranteed-annual wage, and the repercussions of this will be widespread. Whatever Ford concedes, General Motors will be compelled to concede also,—and then the pressure on the smaller auto companies will begin. Some people are asking what would have happened if Chrysler Corporation had been saddled with GAW only a short while ago, when it was in serious trouble. Just how would it have managed to have stayed in business if it had been obliged to keep on paying 130,000 non-working employees? From hindsight, it looks as if Chrysler would have gone under, or been absorbed by one of the larger outfits. It appears, therefore, that if Reuther's GAW demand is pushed far enough, it can only lead to bigger and bigger mergers, and more and more business monopolies,—despite Reuther's fondness for deploring such a trend. It may also lead to a drop in employment, and a slowdown in risky and unproved new ideas, for how can companies afford to take big chances when they must pay workers whether there are sales or not?

Ford's original offer was an "individual incentive" proposal, in the American free-enterprise tradition. Other companies which have followed this road have built up loyal, prosperous, happy workers, and eliminated labor-management friction. That is why Mr. Reuther wants no part of such a plan. His stock in trade is to convince his workers that they must look to the labor-union and only to the labor-union, for their security. This is the only way he can continue to increase his own power, and the only way he can further his socialistic, guaranteed welfare ideas. He wants to reduce — not encourage —each worker's independence, and ability to stand on his own feet, for the more independent and self-reliant a worker becomes, the less compelled he feels to let his union leaders do all his thinking and bargaining for him.

Unfortunately, Mr. Reuther is winning,—partly because Ford and General Motors are such competitive rivals that they let Mr. Reuther get away with his favorite game of playing one against the other. Instead of standing solidly together for their mutual benefit, and behind their belief in individual incentive,—one or the other likes to pull the rug out from under his business rival with an advance concession,—and the other is compelled to grant the same terms.

Thus — the guaranteed-annual-wage has its nose under the tent in the auto industry. What this will do to other companies, other industries, to prices, to consumers, to stockholders, to American free-enterprise in general,—is beyond prediction, and also beyond Mr. Reuther's interest. He is already sharpening up his next demand for a 30 hour work week at the same guaranteed pay,—and after that,—who knows what comes next. Mr. Reuther does not have to worry about guaranteed sales, or guaranteed profits or guaranteed dividends. If these are not forthcoming,—that is the fault of "stupid management"!

COLORS IN BERRIES act as dyes and should be removed as soon as possible, warn technicians of the American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center of the laundry industry. Attack the berry stain as soon as it is discovered with water and soap. Dab, don't rub, the stained area so it won't spread. After this a mild bleach may be used to remove the colored stain, but for best results bring the stain to the attention of your laundry routeman.

BE CAREFUL WHERE the family puts its clothes after using. Rust can discolor and harm most fabrics and cannot be bleached out without danger of damage. Clothes hung on nails, thrown into metal lockers or otherwise coming into contact with iron or steel if moisture is present. Rust can be removed by using oxalic acid and commercial preparations before they are sent to the laundry, but the directions on rust removing preparations should be followed carefully and the garment should be thoroughly rinsed several times in clean water.

Summer is the most dangerous time for mildew to damage clothing made of natural fibers, but the modern homemaker can effectively combat the vicious fungus. The homemaker should make sure her soiled clothes are dry before putting them in the laundry basket or bag. This is particularly true, the Institute says, of towels, washcloths and underwear.

The best time to remove paint from clothing is as soon as it is splattered or rubbed on. The local laundry can remove paint on clothing but it is best to dab the spotted area with turpentine before it is sent. Be careful with the turpentine, however. It may harm the fabric. To see whether it does, apply the solven tto some hidden area, like a hem, shirttail or inner cuff before going after the unwanted paint spots.

Cotton, linen and rayon, an important part of the feminine summer wardrobe, are especially susceptible to acid damage. Not only can perspiration harm the fabrics, but the wrong deodorant can do just as much damage. Some deodrants are acid in nature and deteriorate the fabric in underarm areas. Some deodorants have been tested in the Institute's laboratories to determine whether they will harm fabric. Only those which are proven harmless to the fabric are given the A.I.L. Seal of Approval.

TWO MEN SEPERATED by space and time have collaborated to produce a rare and limited collection of Texiana.

Josiah Wedgwood, potter of the Eighteenth Century, of Mow Cop, Burslem, Staffordshire, England, and Benjamin Eisner, merchant of the Twentieth Century, of Neiman-Marcus, Dallas, Texas, USA, through a common interest in fine pottery with a use and meaning beyond its utilitarian value brought into existence The Wedgwood Texas Series.

More than two years ago, Eisner, who is director of the Gift Shops for the internationally known Texas specialty store, began reviewing and photographing items of historical interest and value in the State. This material went to the Wedgwood artists who developed a unique, limited edition of six Lincoln-shaped service or dinner plates.

The plates are centered with different historical scenes of Texas and bordered by the six flags that have ruled the area. In a rich sepia-brown, the scenes and flags have been reproduced from antique etchings from both public and private collections. The plates have been designed exclusively for Neiman-Marcus and were produced at the famous Barlaston Hall Estate of the Wedgewood factory, a few miles south of Stoke-on-Trent.

The series of six includes "Alamo," "On the Trail," "San Antonio," "Old Brownsville," "El Paso" and "Mission of Conception."

Shirtwaist dress again, only this time it's brief. The collar is a tiny, high Peter Pan, the sleeves short and somewhat puffed with cuffs. The tab-front has buttons with a touch of sparkle. The look is striped and casual.

Mrs. Quarles Given Party And Reunion

Mrs. Mattie Elizabeth Quarles, a former Pampan, was honored with a family reunion recently in Elwood Park, Amarillo, on her 92nd birthday. Mrs. Quarles lives in Hereford with a daughter.

Eight of her 11 children were present. They were A. L. Quarles of Liberty, Mo.; G. H. Quarles of San Antonio; L. R. Quarles of Vernon; L. L. Quarles of Mobeetie; Mrs. L. H. Hooper of Marton; Mrs. Willard Blevens and Mrs. Eunise Hunt, both of Hereford; and Mrs. Bert Luginbyhl of Borger.

Attending were 56 relatives, including grandchildren and great grandchildren. They were Joyce Wood of Liberty, Mo.; Sonny Childress of San Lorenzo, Calif.; Willard Blevins and Sandra Cunningham of Marton; Mr. and Mrs. Vane Martin and children of Denver City; Robert Hooper of Plains; Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Quarles and children and Mrs. L. L. Quarles, all of Mobeetie; Mr. and Mrs. Cohen Gallegby and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard and boys, Frankie Dee Quarles, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Simpson and son, all of Pampa.

And Mr. Walter Sargent and De Anne, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mann and children, all of McLean; Mrs. Forrest Hupp and son of Kellerville; Mackie Quarles, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnson and children, all of Vernon; and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Reed and children of Canyon.

Mrs. Quarles stated that she owes her long life to "not worrying and having some ambition in life." Two of her sons had not seen each other in 40 years and one of her daughters had not seen her brother for 30 years.

Self-Improvement Classes Organized

Members of the Ladies Golf Association began a self-improvement course this week, taught by Mrs. Terry Cully.

The course of six lessons will include posture, make-up, hair-styling, clothing, dieting, techniques of sitting, walking, descending stairs, getting in and out of a car and putting on a coat.

Approximately 30 women are enrolled. The course includes one lesson a week, with one class meeting from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Mondays and the other from 1:30 to 3 p.m. Wednesdays. The course costs $2 per lesson, or a total of $12.

Shortcuts Given To Worthwhile Club

Shortcuts in kitchen work were told by Mrs. W. G. Kinzer at the recent meeting of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Dewey Lunsford.

Mrs. Kinzer told the women to avoid using too many utensils in preparing food. She demonstrated this by making a vegetable salad, rinsing the carrots, cabbage, peppers and onion in the same bowl. She grated all the vegetables in the same bowl and folded them into lemon jello when it began to congeal.

Mrs. Roy Tinsley demonstrated short cuts in ironing shirts. She showed how the shirts are folded as they are being sprinkled and put into plastic bags for two hours or overnight. She pointed out that clothes will iron dry faster if the ironing board is covered with foil and then covered with a cloth.

In ironing the shirt, she told the women to start with the right shirt sleeve, with the placket up, beginning at the middle of the sleeve and ironing toward the shoulder. The iron is shifted to the left hand to iron the lower part of the sleeve and cuff. Cross hands and turn the shirt to iron the other sleeve, Mrs. Tinsley advised. She also pointed out that each part of the shirt should be ironed as it unfolds.

Next meeting will be July 1, in the home of Mrs. R. E. Engle, on the Borger highway.

Present were Mmes. Bob Barrett, N. B. Cude, J. L. Carlton, Maymie Brown, R. E. Engle, ewey Johnson, W. G. Kinzer, Dewey Lunsford, Nat Lunsford, Marion Roberts, Ethel Robinson, P. G. Turner, Roy Tinsley, Ora Wagner; and Misses Pat and Mary Estelle Lunsford.

Miss Betty Williams Honored At Party

Miss Betty Williams, who is leaving for Europe in a few days, was complimented with a going away party recently by Mrs. James Gallemore, in the home of Mrs. Gallemore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke McClelland, 1814 Charles.

The event was in the form of a dessert bridge party. The tables were decorated with maps and favors were miniature suitcases filled with nuts. Other decorations included arrangements of blue and white daisies.

Each guest presented Miss Williams with a going-away gift.

Attending were Misses Phoebe Carter, Ann Outhler and Greta Miller, all of Pampa; Miss Ann Griffin of Dallas; Miss Kay Hendricks of Littlefield; Mrs. Gallemore, Mrs. McClelland and Miss Williams.

Shower Presented For Miss Merchant

A kitchen shower was presented recently for Miss Jackie Merchant in the home of Mrs. Luke McClelland, 1814 Charles. Co-hostess with Mrs. McClelland was her daughter, Mrs. James Gallemore.

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. Jack Merchant, and the mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Paul Crossman Sr., were presented corsages of blue and white daisies.

The serving table was covered with a blue and white striped chambray cloth, centered with an arrangement of blue and white daisies in a wrought iron bowl. Appointments were wrought iron and copper.

Refreshments of rolls, fruit in miniature measuring cups and coffee were served. Miss Betty Williams served the coffee.

Pill Rollers, Jeffries, Tom Rose Open Second Half Of Play With Wins

Second half of play got underway in the Pampa Pony League and two Little Leagues yesterday with the Pill Rollers, Jeffries Trucking and Tom Rose Ford chalking up opening day victories.

The Pill Rollers snapped a "jinx" that had been hampering them all season by turning back the first half Pony League champions, First National Bank, 3-2.

Yesterday's game was the third 3-2 ball game between the Bankers and Pill Rollers this season with the Bankers being on the winning side the first two times. The two clubs have met one other time this season and it ended in a 1-1 stalemate in an 11-inning affair.

Gary Meyers bested Terry Joe Haralson in yesterday's Pony League contest. Meyers allowed four hits and struck out 11 Bankers.

Haralson gave up seven hits and struck out six.

First National threatened seriously to catch up in the seventh when they got two of their four hits. Gindorf opened with a single but was picked off first. Then Ronnie Eckroat doubled and pilfered third.

But Meyers rose to the occasion by striking out the final two Bankers to end the contest and preserve the one run Pill Roller lead.

Mike Conway and Larry Ingram, each with a double and single, led the Pill Rollers at the plate. Young also had two hits for the Pill Rollers, both singles.

The Pill Rollers broke a 2-2 tie in the fifth with a single tally coming on a double by Ingram and a single by Young.

In the Eastern Little League, Tom Rose Ford outslugged Sportsman Store, 15-10, in the second half lid lifter. The Fordsmen overcame a 4-1 deficit in the third inning with a nine-run rally and they were never headed.

Tom Rose collected 19 hits during the afternoon with four players hitting safely three times. Johnny Ironmonger got two doubles and a single; Bobby McCain and Kenny Powell each getting three singles.

Sportsman Store garnered eight safeties off Bill Cooper of Tom Rose including game's only homerun, Lucky Dunham of the Sportsman's Store team homered in the fifth with two mates aboard.

In the Western Little League, Jeffries Trucking broke a 7-7 tie with five runs in the sixth inning for a 12-7 win over Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners.

After Jeffries had snapped the 7-7 deadlock, Your Laundry put the first two batsmen up in its portion of the sixth on base via walks. Ernest Mathis then came on and struck out the next three to snuff out the big threat.

Keith Dodd and Mathis led the 12-hit Jeffries attack, each with four hits. Dodd got two doubles and two singles while Mathis pounded out three singles and a double.

Dale Cox, Dickie Wills and Gerral Owens got two hits apiece to lead your Laundry's seven-hit performance.

The line scores:

First National	010 100 0—2	4 2
Pill Rollers	100 110 x—3	7 1

Haralson and Eckroat; Meyers and Boyd.

Jeffries	312 105—12	12 1

Dial, Pollet Named As Oiler Starters

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

The league-leading Pampa Oilers come back home tonight to contest the Abilene Blue Sox in a doubleheader at Oiler Park.

The Oilers and Blue Sox have just completed a four-game series at Abilene and will continue their series here with another four-game set, making it an eight-game series in all.

Abilene won the final game in the series at Abilene last night with a 5-1 victory to gain an even break in the games in their home park.

Red Dial, 7-7, and Tom Pollet, 9-2, will handle the mound chores for the Oilers in tonight's twinbill.

The first game will be for seven innings, the nightcap for nine.

First game will start at 7 p.m.

Mo Owen pitched the Blue Sox to victory last night. Owen, in winning his fifth game of the year against three losses, gave up only three hits to the heavy-hitting Oilers, the lowest the Oilers have been held to in a single game this season.

Paul Halter's single in the first, Rach Slider's one baser in the third and another single by Joe Fortin in the seventh accounted for all of the Oiler hits for the night.

Halter's base rap came in the first inning and drove in the lone Oiler run. Curtis Hardaway, who had hit into a fielder's choice, had swiped second just prior to Halter's run-producing single.

The Blue Sox came back in the second inning to score two runs and for all practical purposes that was all Owen needed. Owen, aiding his own cause, drove in both runs in the Blue Sox second with a single. Charlie Goza, who had walked, and Scooter Hughes, who had singled, scored on Owen's rap.

The Sox then added single runs in the fifth and sixth innings to complete the night's scoring. The sixth inning run came on a lead-off homer by Chester Morgan.

John Coddington went the distance for the Oilers and pitched creditable ball. He allowed only six hits, struck out six and walked three.

Ponies Gain With 17-11 Win Off Hubs

By UNITED PRESS

The Plainview Ponies moved to within three percentage points of first-place Pampa in the Longhorn League Tuesday night as Abilene upset the Oilers 5 to 1, while Plainview outslugged Lubbock 17 to 11.

In other games, Amarillo beat Albuquerque 8 to 5 and El Paso edged Clovis 11 to 10.

Wednesday night, Abilene plays at Pampa, Lubbock at Amarillo, Plainview at El Paso and Clovis at Albuquerque.

Maurice Owen threw a three-hitter as Abilene beat Pampa. The Blue Sox pulled off a triple play in the seventh. Catcher Newt Secrest hit a liner to Owen, who threw to first baseman Bob Pascal, who tossed to third baseman Curtis Tate. The losing pitcher was John Coddington, who hurled a six-hitter. Chet Morgan rapped a homer for Abilene.

Jim Baldacci drove in the winning El Paso run with a double in the ninth to beat Clovis. El Paso trailed the Pioneers going into the last frame. The Texans got five runs on five hits and four walks in the eighth. Jim Waugh got the Pioneer loss.

Plainview and Lubbock got 35 hits and 28 runs in a wild-swinging spree. The Ponies finally won with an eight-run fifth-inning outburst. Dale Perry hit two doubles and drove in three runs in the big frame. The winning pitcher was Jim Lemons. The loser was Fred Uhlman.

In spite of all the hits and runs, Perry hit the game's only home run, a one-on blast.

Amarillo's Gold Sox moved into fifth place by beating Albuquerque. The Gold Sox used three-run homers by Tommy Lind and Pat Wright to down the Dukes. David Schleich picked up his second win for the Sox, with Ernie Bartolomei getting tagged with the loss. For the Dukes, Eddie Bockman and Ernie Choukalos hit homers.

Newk Hitting At A .426 Pace

CHICAGO —UP— The Dodgers haven't yet given serious consideration to converting their best pitcher to an outfielder so he can blast for big hits every day, but any time now they may start calling the guy "Babe" Newcombe.

Big Newk, hottest pitcher in the majors with a 12-1 mark, also is the hottest hitter. Tuesday when he beat the Cubs 7-2 in 11 innings on a six-hitter, Newbombe also blasted two doubles and drew the only walk issued by Chicago pitcher Warren Hacker. His double in the five-run 11th accounted for two tallies. He now has a batting average of .426, tops in the majors.

As for his pitching, he struck out nine batters and retired 14 of the last 15 to face him and ran his lifetime mark over the Cubs to 23-3.

Campanella Slightly Hurt

CHICAGO —UP— Catcher Roy Campanella was expected to be in his customary place at the plate when the Brooklyn Dodgers play the Chicago Cubs Wednesday in the second game of their three-game series. Campanella suffered a slight bruise on his left knee in the 11th inning of Brooklyn's 7-2 victory Tuesday and was removed for a pinch runner.

Boyle Blanks C. R. Hoover For Tankers

League leading Atlas Tank blanked C. R. Hoover Oil Co. yesterday with a 6-0 victory in Pampa Teen Age League play.

Harlan Boyle hurled the shutout for the Tankers, allowing the Oilers only two hits.

Gene Brown and Paul James were the only Hoover batsmen to hit safely off Boyle.

Boyle struck out 12 and walked three. Jerold Clark went the distance for Hoover, giving up 11 hits, striking out six and walking two.

Atlas Tank held only a scant 1-0 lead through four innings of play and then pushed across two runs in the fifth and three more in the seventh to win going away.

Pampa News and Atlas Tank meet in today's game.

Lemon Half-Way To 20-Win Season

By UNITED PRESS

Bob Lemon, Cleveland's pitching star, was half-way toward his seventh 20-victory season Wednesday, a goal which would make him baseball's most consistent big winner since the heyday of ol' Robert Moses Grove — 20 years ago.

No other pitcher has had that many 20-victory seasons since Grove, the great Philadelphia lefty, did it for the eighth time in 1935. And if Lemon makes it he will be in the select group of immortals headed by Christy Mathewson with 13, Walter Johnson 12, Pete Alexander 9, Eddie Plank 8, and iron man Joe McGinity 7. Of all pitchers in the modern era of baseball since 1900, those are the only ones who surpass Lemon now.

For an uneasy moment Tuesday night when he became the first American League pitcher to win 10 games with a 3-1 job over Baltimore, it looked as if Lemon's chances were in jeopardy because he injured his left thigh baserunning in the seventh. Pitcher Ray Karleski replaced him and held the Orioles scoreless. Later, it developed that Lemon's injury was slight and he will miss no action. Al Smith provided Lemon with his margin of triumph with a two-run homer.

486-Foot Homer

Mickey Mantle hit one of his longest homers yet, 486-feet to dead center in a 6-2 Yankee triumph over the Athletics. Runner-up Chicago kept pace with a 6-1 victory at Washington, sixth in a row for Virgil Trucks. Boston came from behind to defeat Detroit 5-4 on Ted Williams' three-run homer.

In the National League, Richie Ashburn hit two homers for the first time in his career, the second with a man on in the ninth to give the Phillies a 10-8 victory at St. Louis. Cincinnati sent the world champ Giants down to their sixth straight loss 10-1. Milwaukee made it five victories in a row by beating Pittsburgh 6-4 and Brooklyn's "win-it-by-August" wrecking crew toppled the Cubs 7-2, and a four-run rally that featured a two-run triple by Gil McDougald enabled Tommy Byrne to win his second route job in a row a six-hitter with only one walk.

Trucks missed his third shutout in a row when Roy Sievers socked a seventh inning homer at Washington but what had been a tight duel with Bob Porterfield fell into a bush-league operation when the Nats made four errors, two by third baseman Ed Yost in a three-run eighth.

Newcombe Big Gun

Dazzler Don Newcombe was leading man again for the Dodgers, holding the Cubs to six hits, striking out nine, smacking two doubles to boost his average to .426, winning his 12th game against one loss and making it 23-3 lifetime against the Cubs. His double in the 11th drove in two runs in the five run game-breaking rally.

Bob Buhl held Pittsburgh to six hits while Joe Adcock and Ed Mathews supplied homers in Milwaukee's triumph. Mathews' homer, with a man on was his 15th and he drove in a third run with a sacrifice fly.

Willie Mays was back in the Giant lineup but was the only man who went hitless.

Tuesday's Star

Richie Ashburn of the Phils who hit two homers in a game for the first time in his career in a 10-8 triumph over the Cards.

Pirates Option Outfielder

PITTSBURGH —UP— Felipe Montemayor, 25-year-old Mexican outfielder who was hitting only .211, was optioned by the Pittsburgh Pirates Wednesday to the Charleston Senators of the American Association.

St. Paul Slits Twinbill In Senior Church Softball Pay

By RAUL (RABBIT) RAMIREZ

Three games were unreeled in the Church Softball League last night with St. Paul Methodist involved in two of the games.

St. Paul split a doubleheader in the Senior Boys League, losing the first game to First Baptist, 15-9, and then coming back in the second game to down First Methodist, 26-3.

In the other game played last night, First Baptist downed First Methodist, 17-5, in the Junior Boys League.

In the opening Senior League game, First Baptist had to come from behind to down St. Paul. The Baptists took a 2-0 lead in the first inning on singles by Ronnie James, Benny Cartwright and Bill Culpepper.

But St. Paul rallied to go ahead with six runs in the second to take a 6-2 lead. The Methodists got only one hit during the big inning but seven bases on balls issued by Baptist pitcher Benny Cartwright did most of the damage.

St. Paul still held a 9-4 margin until the Baptists came to bat in bottom of the fifth. Then the bottom fell out for the Methodists as First Baptist poured across 11 runs to complete the night's scoring and giving the Baptist nine a 15-9 win.

Cartwright and Culpepper each had three hits to lead First Baptist at the plate.

St. Paul came back in the second game of the evening with a 26-3 win over First Methodist. St. Paul had two big innings in the nightcap, scoring 10 runs in the third and 15 in the fifth.

Francis Scott got a three-run homer for St. Paul in the third. Bill Simpson was the winning pitcher.

In the Junior Boys League game, First Baptist scored six runs in the first inning and then went on to a 17-5 win over First Methodist.

Bill Halpain and Butch Dunham pounded triples for the longest hits for the Baptists.

Jerry Kirbie and Larry Gidden of First Baptist and Bill Byrerly of First Methodist all got three hits apiece.

Archie Moore 12-5 Favorite Over Bobo

By JACK CUDDY

NEW YORK — UP — Thirty-eight-year-old Archie Moore, a "good big man," is favored at 12-5 to defend successfully his light heavyweight crown Wednesday night against middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, a "good little man."

An impressive victory by either champion in their nationally televised and broadcast 15-rounder at the Polo Grounds might clinch a September shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title. That's what promoter Jim Norris said.

The Weather Bureau's forecast of a fine night — "fair and slightly cooler" — strengthened the promoter's hopes for more than 25,000 fans and $250,000. An additional $100,000 will be received for the TV-radio presentation over ABC networks at 9 p. m. (cst).

Moore, a well-traveled Negro who now lists his home at San Diego, should earn about $90,000. Hawaiian-born Olson of San Francisco should receive about $82,500. Those purses would be the largest of their careers.

Recognized Top Contender

Despite Moore's age, the king of the 175-pound division is generally considered one of the most formidable men in the ring today. He is recognized as top contender for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight crown by the international "committee of world professional boxing championships."

Were it not for the suspicions that he may have weakened himself in paring down to the 175-pound limit from the 196 pounds he registered on May 2, he would be a prohibitive favorite at 8-1 middleweight champion.

However, 26-year-old Olson's youth, speed and aggressiveness seem to give him a chance to become the second man in ring history to win the middleweight and light-heavy crowns. Only the late Bob Fitzsimmons achieved the feat back in 1903. Fitzsimmons also won the heavyweight title.

Olson, an adroit bob-weaver, apparently will carry the fight to ancient Archie, who prefers now to stand flat-footed in a semi-crouch and let the opponent come into him. Training for this fight, Moore concentrated on a "lifting" counter-attack of uppercuts and shovel-hooks to straighten up the close-quarter specialist from San Francisco. In addition, Moore has a dangerous straight "sneaker" right to the head, and a withering two-fisted body attack.

A Torrent of Leather

Prematurely balding Olson indicated in training he will ply the nearly stationary Moore with a persistent torrent of leather and meanwhile try to avoid Archie's fists by slipping, weaving and bobbing. He and manager Sid Flaherty believe veteran Archie will tire under the pace and become nearly helpless in the late going.

Bobo is a comparatively light puncher, but he hit hard enough in his last fight April 13 to floor ex-light heavyweight champion Joey Maxim twice while easily out-pointing him. That 10-rounder was Bobo's 21st straight victory. He has knocked out 30 of his 69 opponents.

You Can't Do That!

That is what nearly everybody says on hearing about our wonderful and exclusive President's Protective Investment Plan. They don't see how it is possible to pay the full face amount of the contract plus return of all premium deposits in event of death during the depositing period.

If you are interested in the most modern and attractive contract on the market today, we will be very happy to give you a full explanation. No obligation.

Reds Plan Atom Parley

LONDON —UP— The Soviet Union announced Tuesday it will hold a conference on peaceful uses of atomic energy, in competition with a similar conference arranged by the West. Russia disclosed plans for a 41-nation conference in Moscow July 1-5.

Teen Topics

By MARLENE KOLB

Trips, trips and more trips! The Rainbow girls have taken off this time — and in case you missed it in last night's Women's Page, the teen girls who left last night for Grand Assembly in El Paso were Carolyn Ford, Rhona Finkelstein, Dixie Rhoades, and Wanda Cook.

And congratulations are in order for the Theta Rho girls and the Jr. Oddfellows who won honors last week at their convention in Ft. Worth.

Special congratulations go to Lloyd Brummett who was elected Grand Chief Ruler of the Jr. IOOF Grand Lodge of Texas — same thing as president, the state office of Grand Recorder went to Benny Hollis.

And speaking of Lloyd, he has a graduation gift waiting for all Pampa High '55 graduates out at the Playtime Miniature Golf Course which he is operating for the VFW this summer — two free golf games if you go out before July 4. It's about a mile outside the city limits on the Borger Highway.

Three different sizes of the thermo nuclear bomb — small, medium size, and "where is everybody!"

Welcome to visitor Ruth Cole from down around Houston. She is the guest of the Bryant Caraways and may be here 'til the last of June. Judy Ellis, Ruth Robinson and Vicki Whatley have "taken Ruth under their wing" during her visit.

Vicki, by the way, returned not long ago from two weeks in Corpus Christi. And Pat Reynolds is home, too, from Arkansas.

RUSH SEASON? That's what it's called and that's what it is literally. Las Cresas Club held a Slumber Party last Friday night that saw members and rushees running around in matador pants and shorty pajamas — doing everything from playing croquet and roasting wieners to what girls do most at these "anybody who goes to sleep is a sissy and a dirty dog" shindigs — gossiping. Sounds like fun. Sub Debs are planning one pretty soon, and their annual Traveling Dinner, too.

Las Cresas have a Watermelon Party up their sleeve next.

Tomorrow night the Kit Kats are going to frolic at a "St. Patricks Day" (following a Holidays theme, you know) party at their sponsor's home, Mrs. Fred Thompson. Believe they've got a swimming-slumber party lined up for their "Fourth of July" one.

Busy, busy, busy!

NOT ALL Pampa's young people are just "partying" this summer, however. David Cartwright, '53 grad, is serving as Youth Director at the First Baptist Church, Skellytown. David is one of Pampa's many young people who plans a Christian service career.

That Youth Revival at the Central Baptist Church, by the way, will run through next Sunday. Tom Landers is the preacher, starting time is 8 p.m.

Was speaking of miniature golf a minute oga, and here it comes up again. Saw Carol Foster and Jerry Sloan "doing the links" the other night; Paul Coronis and Shirley Keel; Ruth Robinson and Judy Ellis and their dates; Jimmy Wagoner; Ed Dudley and Barbara Matthews and Dale Largent, who were both wearing Bermuda shorts and long yellow socks. Mmmmmm cute!

Heard that Dale and John Darby were going to model the shorts at the Ladies Golf Association "deal" Friday.

Coach McNeely and wife shot a round of "Miniature" too, and it looked like the twins were having a great time in the sand box!

Hooray! The swimming pool has started that boon to working people again this year — as of last night — it's open nights! Hooray!

AND SPEAKING of the swimming pool, Tommye MacDonald really got it yesterday. Lynn Don Garner tossed her, clothes and all, into that cold water!

Lake McClellan was host to some Pampa young people Sunday, including the News' own Joel Combs. Merle Estes was there, and Donna Conley and Gene Green, Jr. Mr. Nichols and Mr. Morgan and families seemed to be making the most of the warm day and the water which was up pretty high.

There was a "whistle bird" there that, according to Donna Conley, is an ego booster with his loud wolf (the human male kind) whistles.

Have heard just enough about "The Blackboard Jungle" to recommend — don't miss it!

Taking advantage of these wonderfully hot days? That's good. Do so 'till next week this time? See you then.

JayCees Hear Weatherman

Dan True, the KGNC-TV weather forecaster on channel 4, presented an illustrated program before the Junior Chamber of Commerce Tuesday noon.

Demonstrating on the blackboard, True described thunder cloud formations and explained the condensation of moisture in the air. Explaining weather conditions produced by warm and cold air currents, he also pointed out the three conditions prevalent before a tornado.

Announcements were made regarding the JayCee-Optimist Donkey baseball game Saturday at 8 p.m. in Oiler Park. The starting "line-up", is made up of 23 volunteer members representing the JayCees.

Bank Thieves Believed In Naples, Italy

NAPLES, Italy —UP— The international police agency Interpol claimed Tuesday to have traced to this port the bandits who staged the largest all-cash bank robbery in American history.

Interpol and the Italian police said they believe the four gunmen and their Canadian gun moll are bottled up here after a chase across half a dozen international frontiers. Arrests may be made shortly, they said.

MISS GOP

Mae Allen, 20, student teacher from Epping, N. H., poses aboard a cruise ship after being crowned "Miss Young Republican" as The National Young Republicans, meeting at Detroit, Mich., enjoyed a moonlight ride during the convention.

US Requests Texas Repay Hay Funds

AUSTIN —UP— The U.S. Department of Ariculture requested in a letter adressed to Gov. Allan Shivers the state repay $162,670.93 it said Texas overspent in federal funds in the 1953 emergency hay program.

Shivers said he was advised by federal authorities that Agriculture Commissioner John C. White overspent the money in administering the program that year.

White was not immediately available for comment but his office said he was expected to make a statement later in the day.

Shivers said he received a letter from True D. Morse, undersecretary of agriculture in Washington, requesting the state repay the money it claims Texas overspent.

The governor said he had asked White to confer with State Auditor C. H. Cavness and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, and to furnish Shivers with "all necessary facts."

Doesn't Expect Wonders

SAN FRANCISCO —UP— Krishna Menon, India's roving ambassador, warned the world Tuesday night not to expect too much from the forthcoming "summit conference" in Geneva. He said in a speech it would be a mistake to think the Big Four could solve everything in a few days."

SMILE NOT EVERYTHING -- These 'Smiling Cover Boys' decorating a Soviet youth magazine are members of the 'Pio neer Troops' embracing youngsters 6 to 12. But the smiles do not tell story of youth in revolt.

Youth Trouble In Red Paradise

All Not Smiles For Young Reds

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK -- (NEA) -- It has taken the Soviet leaders 38 years to learn that fear can break man's spirit but will not change his nature.

Belatedly, they have discovered that young Ivan, born and reared under communism, retains many traits of "capitalist" Johnny; that the dreams and hopes of Red-bred Tamara are, after all not so different from those of her sisters in the "decadent" West.

What happened to Lenin's "new" Soviet man? After almost four decades of communism he is still nowhere in sight.

Even members of the Komsomol Russia's "gilded Communist youth" -- seem to be rediscovering forbidden capitalist traits. Many have returned to the church for solace and hope -- obviously in revolt against the emptiness of their regimented life.

Others, even as in the "plutocratic" U.S., drift into juvenile delinquency. Divorces, alcoholism and what the Communists call a "cynical search for an easy life," are on the increase.

Take the case of young and pretty Tamara Volkova described by the authoritative Literary Gazette as typical:

"Volkova had grown tired of honest family life, and embarked on an unfaithful life of wanton adventures. Her marriage dissolved by the county court, Volkova departed light-heartedly, leaving her husband with two small daughters on his hands."

For a whole year the father looked after the girls "lovingly." At the end of the year, after having roamed around enough, Volkova returned home.

"For the sake of the children?" asks the Literary Gazette.

Not at all: "She came back for her alimony!"

The Soviet newspaper comments indignantly: cases like Volkova's have become the rule rather than the exception in the Red "paradise."

Russia's press and radio have also been campaigning furiously in recent months against:

1. The alarming number of teenagers begging in the streets.

2. The appearance of Red-style zoot-suiters who had taken over Cocktail Hall, Moscow's elaborate drinking establishment.

In Moscow's version a zoot-suiter is called a "stilyag" (stylist) because he tries to ape what he thinks is the fasion in "degenerate" America: garish colors, long hair and, of course, a fondness of hot jazz.

Concern with the problem led Moscow's humorous weekly Krokodil to commission the popular composer, Lev Oshanin, to write a song parodying the stilyag. It has since become number one on Moscow's hit parade.

Who are the Red zoot-suiters? Many are frustrated members of the Komsomol, Russia's Young Communist Organization. The newspaper Soviet Culture recently named several of the long-haired youths and identified their fathers as prominent members of the ruling Red "aristocracy."

There are also girl stilyags, Soviet Culture said, wearing "dresses which reveal her figure to the point of indecency" and with "hair done in the manner of 'fashionable' American movie stars."

Actually, the zoot-suiters are an insignificant minority behind the Iron Curtain and are not much of a problem -- though ardent Communists are worried by this strange demonstration of what they regard as "bourgeois degeneracy."

However, even Russia's ordinary and normal youngsters, who are certainly not zoot-suiters, seem to show increasing sings of resistance to the regimented life of the Red dictatorship.

By western standards, the future of youth behind the Iron Curtain offers little that is brilliant or exciting. Young Ivan or young Tamara have none of the freedom of choice in education, work, or play considered in the free West as essential to a happy childhood and youth.

The young boys or girls, unless their father is a Red big-shot, are given no choice but to serve and obey the state. They must conform rigidly to the Communist Party's harsh disciplinary measures.

Students or workers, they must leave home and family and go where the Party orders them -- whether it is to plant corn in the arid East or drive tractors in the Siberian wastes. Younger children, from six to 14, are enrolled in "Pioneer Troops," older ones in the Komosomol. These are tools of the Communist Party and directly controlled by it.

The Communist Party, with its vast chain of tightly-controlled "youth" magazines and newspapers, knows the "correct thing to do." It sets the rules on love, romance and sports. It teaches big and little Ivan alike how to manipulate fork and knife, use a napkin and eat soup without splashing.

And what is the Party's "line" on romance and love?

The Polish magazine Nove Polske which takes its cue from Moscow recently attempted to explain in a poem which included these lines:

"This morning she mixed cement at the building site;
Tonight she attracts the interest of every boy."

However, even a dictatorship cannot change human nature. The Russian girl, like her sister in the West, would rather be admired as a woman than as a "mixer of cement."

That is where the Red rulers and youth behind the Iron Curtain come into a head-on collision. Their failure to capture the mind of youth seems to have become the Kremlin's chief worry.

Perhaps it is not as urgent a problem as the agricultural crisis or the shortage of coal and steel for Russia's war industries. But the Communists know that, in the long run, their battle for world supremacy will be lost or won behind the foreheads of the rising generation.

Next: Child beggars belie "new Soviet man."

Americans Told To Leave Indo

SAIGON, Indo - China --UP-- The Communist underground Tuesday warned Americans to get out of free South Viet Nam or face terrorist grenade attacks.

The underground issued its warning in anti-American pamphlets headed "U. S. go home" which were found in most mailboxes in the European quarter Tuesday.

Informed sources said Viet Namese security officers feared the Reds would step up terrorism against Americans after July 20, the first aniversary of the Geneva truce.

That truce provided for talks beginning in July to arrange showdown elections next year to decide whether South Viet Nam is to remain allied with the free world or join the Communist north. The Reds have accused the Americans of trying to influence South Viet Nam against the Geneva agreements.

Oil Firms Lose Suit

SEATTLE, Wash. -- UP-- George Moore, former Seattle service station operator, has been awarded $240,000 in his suit against seven major oil firms.

A federal court jury deliberated three days before determining Monday night Moore had been damaged to the extent of $80,000 and awarded him treble damages.

Moore had asked treble damages of $285,000. He charged the companies ruined his business in 1952 by agreeing to refuse to sell him gasoline because he cut prices.

An attorney spokesman for the firms said there would be an appeal.

New Gulf No-Nox gives you not just the highest octane but...
full working octane

Remember this picture? This is Gulf's famous burner demonstration—proof of what a difference Gulf super-refining makes. Notice that Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline... instead of fighting it, inside your engine, with so-called "miracle additives." That's why new, clean-burning Gulf NO-NOX can promise you not just highest octane, but full working octane.

because it's super-refined to burn clean

No gasoline, no matter how high the octane, can keep on giving you full power from your engine unless it burns clean.

That's why New Gulf NO-NOX is your best gasoline buy. In making new NO-NOX, Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in today's high-compression engines.

As a result, you get a clean-burning gasoline that gives you:

- More complete engine protection than you get with so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines
- Extra gasoline mileage in the kind of short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most
- Freedom from vapor lock, stalling and stumbling in hot-weather driving
- No knock, no surface pre-ignition — even in today's high-compression engines

Now! For the ultimate in working octane performance, always use Gulf's super-refined gas-oil team... New Gulf NoNox Gasoline and
New Gulfpride H.D. Select Motor Oil

The only motor oil in the world that's super-refined by the Alchlor Process for modern high-compression engines.
- Controls carbon—cause of knock, pre-ignition, valve failure.
- Combats corrosive acids, rust and deposits on engine parts.
- Assures lower oil consumption than "all-season" oils.
- Provides the toughest protective film ever developed.

Available in 3 grades—SAE 10W, SAE 20/20W, SAE 30—for each season.
