East Texas' 1,800 Gushers To Resume Production Today Under Revised Order

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

A letter in the "Voice of the People" column suggests that students in the junior college be allowed to pay their tuition with notes arguing that a great many more of your people thus would be enabled to continue their studies and at the same time be removed from the ranks of those seeking employment.

We may wish, first, that free tuition could be given in Wichita Falls Junior college, and, second, since that cannot be done that students be allowed to pay their tuition with notes, but this cannot be done either. The junior college is a part of the Wichita Falls Independent school district system. At the very beginning of the school year the district finds itself in need of every dollar that can be raised. There is approximately $235,000 of 1930 taxes unpaid, and $180,000 in taxes back of 1930. The 1930 taxes will become delinquent on October 15, when penalties will accrue. Now is the time for all who can to come to the aid of our schools by paying their school tax at once.

In a nationwide poll of Democratic newspapers Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York is picked to receive the Democratic nomination for president. While Roosevelt is picked as the man most likely to receive the nomination, it appears that Newton D. Baker of Cleveland is the preference of a majority of those picking Roosevelt to receive the nomination. The majority of Texas Democratic newspapers polled are reporte not only as prefering Baker but picking him to win the nomination.

Roosevelt is out in the lead as we approach the campaign year but Baker is showing surprising strength in all the expressions of choice that have been made.

Monday is Labor Day when, in normal times, laboring men take a holiday to celebrate the progress of the laboring man. If you want to give a laboring man something to celebrate this Labor Day, give him employment.

Twenty years ago this week Wichita Falls was planning a celebration of the anniversary of the town lot sale on Sept. 27, 1882. It is too late to make any elaborate plans for the celebration of the 49th anniversary this year, but next year occurs the 50th anniversary which affords an excellent occasion for a big celebration. It isn't too early to begin planning for this celebration which ought to enlist every organization and every individual in Wichita Falls.

Every issue The Pathfinder contains "Name O'Howls." Here are some from the current issue of that publication:

Adam Damn, was recently urged to run for the Cleveland city council.

A clerk in the Louisville, Ky., postoffice is Will B. Goodnight.

Add marriages: Ruth E. Bull and Jack W. Slaughter at Kansas City; Amy K. Darkes and Russell P. Light at Mt. Zion, Pa., and Anna M. Burns and Wayne Wood at Fresno, Calif.

A Chinese laundry at Milwaukee is run by Bong, Gong Song & Co.

Dora Dubson lives at Mount Dora, Fla. On the Fordham road, Long Island, N. Y., resides Noah Count.

Dr. Charles J. Fish of Buffalo has been picked by the United States and Canadian governments to make a joint fisheries survey of Passamaquoddy bay.

A real trade day is to be held at Burkburnett today. From far and wide farmers are expected to bring in articles and commodities and livestock which they will offer to trade for things they need. The "day" is being sponsored by the Burkburnett Star and is expected to result in much bartering. There is scarcely a farmer in the Red river valley who hasn't some product of which he has a surplus or which he does not need. Another farmer needs what the first farmer has and the first farmer needs something the second farmer has. When the two bring their products together there is a very fair chance they can make a satisfactory trade.

Today is "kids" day at Lake Wichita park when a nickel and coupon from The Times or Record News will be the fee for any attraction on the grounds. Boys and girls have been saving their nickels and clipping the coupons for a week. We wish them all full enjoyment of the day.

WELL OWNERS OPEN VALVES AT SEVEN A. M.

General Wolters Posts New Rules for Military District

STORED OIL DECLINES

New Order Allows Field To Flow 400,000 Barrels Daily

By WILLIAM S. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

KILGORE, Texas, Sept. 4.—The East Texas oil field, the nation's mightiest petroleum producing area, will be reopened at 7 a. m. tomorrow. Its great gushers have been shut down under martial law since Aug. 17.

More than 1,800 wells in this erstwhile recalcitrant giant of the industry, under official estimate, will be ready to flow when their valves are turned open again under a state railroad commission proration order, to be made effective by military forces occupying the vast area since the shutdown.

Prices Higher

Prices will be better than they were when Gov. Ross S. Sterling sent troops here to check all production, pending establishment of new regulations for the field by the railroad commission under a conservation statute enacted at the recent special session of the Texas legislature. Crude now is posted at 68 cents per barrel. It had been as low as five cents a barrel.

Some oil operators were fearful that the new proration order would result in an orgy of well drilling which again would overburden the market with oil.

Murray Disapproves

Gov. W. H. Murray of Oklahoma was quoted as shouting "that won't do," when told of provisions in the new Texas proration order permitting a flow of 225 barrels daily from the more than 1,800 wells in the East Texas field. He threatened to build state-owned refineries paid for from a tax on oil men's incomes.

Brig. Gen. Jacob F. Wolters, commandant in the oil field martial law area, estimated the new order would result in a total daily production total in excess of 400,000 barrels. Immediately prior to the military shutdown, production was estimated between 750,000 and 1,400,000 barrels daily.

Storage Shrinks

Unofficial estimates last week set oil withdrawals from storage in the field at more than 1,500,000 barrels, during the week ending Aug. 26. Reports assembled at military headquarters showed that 184 operators in the field had only 335,000 barrels of crude remaining in storage as of last Wednesday.

When martial law would be lifted, General Wolters did not know. He announced late today, after a conference with his staff, that a partial evacuation probably would begin Monday and that he planned

Souvenir Adict Nabs Hoover's Office Plates

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (US)—The White House secret service was amazed today to discover that a souvenir addict had taken the brass plates off the entrance to the executive offices.

Some one handy with a screwdriver removed them.

It was the first incident of its kind since a souvenir hunter walked off with a door mat when Woodrow Wilson was president.

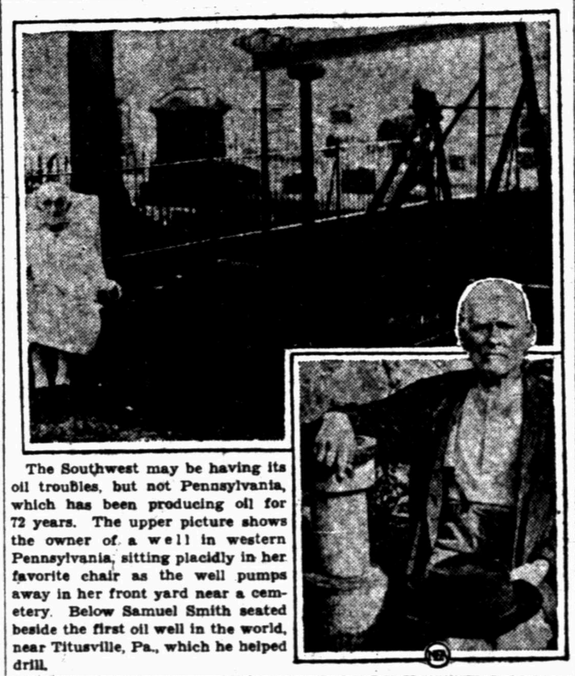

Barcelona Strikers Yield After Disorders

MADRID, Sept. 4. (US)—Barcelona's bloody 48-hour general strike was called off tonight with the dead unofficially estimated at 10 and the wounded at 40.

The strikers capitulated after the governor of Barcelona had threatened an artillery bombardment of their headquarters.

The committee representing 300,000 striking trades unionists at noon ordered resumption of work two hours later.

No Oil Troubles Here

The Southwest may be having its oil troubles, but not Pennsylvania, which has been producing oil for 72 years. The upper picture shows the owner of a well in western Pennsylvania, sitting placidly in her favorite chair as the well pumps away in her front yard near a cemetery. Below Samuel Smith seated beside the first oil well in the world, near Titusville, Pa., which he helped drill.

No More Drinks for Dry Sleuths Seeking Evidence, Rules Woodcock

Director Issues Arid Order to Check Scandals From Agents' 'Official' Testing of Speakeasy Goods

By EDWARD L. RODDAN
Universal Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Federal dry agents may no longer drink intoxicants in gathering evidence except by special permission under new regulations made public at the office of Prohibition Commissioner Amos W. W. Woodcock today.

In issuing this drastic order, Woodcock expressed the view that it should be possible to enforce the dry law without any drinking on the part of enforcement officers at all. He added, however, that where the "older method" is still necessary, the agent may ask the administration "in advance" for the necessary permission to drink.

The order on drinking was contained in a letter written by Woodcock to all administrators and their assistants outlining methods to be pursued in "eliminating the speakeasy."

Combats Scandals

In many ways the new instructions marked a radical departure from the old methods used in dry law enforcement work. Woodcock was believed to have acted because of a desire to check the many scandals growing out of drinking by federal agents while on duty. This week an agent in the Buffalo district was dismissed for this reason.

Woodcock said the best method in gathering evidence against a speakeasy is for an agent to make the purchase and follow this with an immediate arrest, thus making it unnecessary to "drink" the evidence. Woodcock reminded the administrators that a careful record would be kept of all cases in which agents requested authority to consume some of the evidence.

Aims at Supply

In outlining ways of proceeding against the speakeasy, Woodcock warned his administrators that the best method is to cut off the supply of intoxicants, adding that when ever possible the local authorities should be encouraged to proceed against the retail sellers.

Where it becomes necessary for the federal authorities to take action against the speakeasy, Woodcock said the injunction method should be used as frequently as possible.

Woodcock left by boat today for Florida where he will start a survey of enforcement conditions in Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Alabama.

MAJ. DOOLITTLE SETS RECORD

Flier Crosses Continent in Less Than 12 Hours

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 4. (AP)—Maj. Jimmie Doolittle came home tonight after winning the Bendix trophy in the national air races, establishing a new transcontinental airplane record, and enriching his purse by $10,000—all within a day. He landed at Lambert-St. Louis field at 10:22 p. m. (central standard time).

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 4. (US)—Clipping one hour and 10 minutes from Capt. Frank M. Hawks' transcontinental speed record, Maj. James G. Doolittle landed his speedy monoplane at Newark at 4:51:10 (eastern daylight time) this afternoon.

Doolittle started the flight from Burbank, Calif., covering the 2,451 miles in 11 hours and 15 minutes flying time. Hawks' former record, established Aug. 13, 1930, on a flight from Los Angeles to Valley Stream, L. I., was 12 hours and 25 minutes.

Four Stops

Today's record flight was made with stops at Albuquerque, N. M.; Wichita, Kansas City and Cleveland. Doolittle arrived at the Ohio city in 9 hours and 10 minutes, winning the Bendix transcontinental derby from seven other competitors, and continued East after an 11-minute stopover.

Immediately upon his arrival here, Doolittle said:

"Now, what I want is a drink of water first of all—then some fuel for the plane and I'm starting right back to Cleveland, fast. I can't stay for supper, thanks."

Comments Tersely

Pressed for details of his record-breaking flight, he commented:

"Wonderful trip. Good weather, except a few thunder storms, and

Hundreds of Youngsters to Frolic At Lake Wichita Carnival of Fun

Kids' Day has arrived! Today is the big day for which Wichita Falls youngsters have been waiting, and with their accumulated coupons and spare nickels they will take their final big fling at Lakeside park before the opening of school.

The little squares of paper from The Record News and Daily Times have been clipped by the thousands since last Monday. Boys and girls also have shown a new faculty for turning little errands and odd jobs into nickels to be saved for the festival of fun at the amusement park.

Through the cooperation of the local daily papers and the Wichita Traction company with the management of Lakeside park, Saturday will offer any of the attractions at the park at a bargain price of five cents,—with the coupon. Rides will not be cut short, nor will the sandwich be made thin for the special bargain-day offered the children. The usual values will be given at one nickel each, provided the five-cent piece is accompanied by the coupon.

Five cents (with the coupon) also will be good for a streetcar ride to or from the park. The gates will be opened at 1 p. m., and will remain open to midnight. Wichita Falls youngsters are expected to throng the park throughout the evening.

TWO CHARGED WITH MURDER IN GANG WAR

Probe of Three Texas Killings Bring Indictments In Houston

RELATIVE TALKS

Victim's Brother Provides Clue to Bank Bandits Quarrel

HOUSTON, Sept. 4. (UP)—Joint charges of murder were preferred against two men here late today for the murder of John Cherris, ex-convict and indicted bank robber, whose body, bullet-riddled and weighted with wagon hubs, was found in the Brazos river near here two days ago.

Names of the men charged were not divulged immediately. The charge, filed in Justice Overstreet's court, came after A. J. Jones, brother of the late C. A. (Keggy) Jones, another gangster victim this week, had appeared before the Harris county grand jury.

Jones went into the grand jury room with Police Chief Heard, several other peace officers and Sam Lewis, assistant district attorney, presumably to tell what he knew about the slaying of his brother and his brother's wife, Monday in their apartment here.

Arrest Expected

Shortly afterward, Lewis and an officer rushed from the grand jury room and eluded pursuers. The charges were filed and it was believed Lewis and the officer had gone to arrest the men named in them.

Jones was one of four persons assembled here today from three South Texas cities for questioning by the grand jury for light on the three gangland killings here, one at Dallas and one at Galveston, all in recent weeks.

The killings are believed to have had their inspiration in internecine strife of an organized gang of bank robbers.

"Keggy" Jones, ex-convict who became a partner in his father-in-law's oil company, was shot down, with his wife, as they sat at breakfast in their apartment Monday. Two days later, a boating party at West Columbia, an hour's drive from here, fished up the bloated body of Cherris from the Brazos river.

Suspects in Hiding

Cherris had been shot twice, once through the head, and wagon hubs wired to his body to weight it. He was one of four men sought by officers for questioning about the Jones killings. Another sought has been eliminated, and officers now want to talk only to W. S. (Shilo) Scrivnor and Del McCabe.

They are believed to be hiding in Mexico. Both are under indictment for participation in the Memphis bank robbery, and Scrivnor is under 99-year sentence for a Texas bank robbery. Scrivnor was a state witness, after participation in the Jackson street postoffice robbery in Dallas in 1921, and escaped trial himself.

Lindberghs to Hop for China on September 10

TOKYO, Sept. 4. (US)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will bid farewell to Japan Sept. 10 and take off for Nanking, China, on a continuation of their vacation flight, the colonel announced today.

He and his wife spent their last day today as guests of U. S. Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes at his mountain residence at Karuizawa, 40 miles from the capital. Tomorrow they plan to fly back to Tokyo, where the colonel plans to spend several days checking and rechecking the plane that has already carried them more than 6,000 miles from Washington to Tokyo.

Four-Minute Bank Holdup Outwits 25 Customers

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 4. (UP)—Within the brief space of 4 minutes, two bandits entered the suburban Park National bank here late today, robbed the cashier of $2,500 and escaped.

The cashier, Carl Clausen, was the only one of 25 persons in the bank to know a robbery was in progress. The bandits stood in the depositors' line in front of Clausen's cage.

When their turn came to approach the window, they drew revolvers and forced Clausen to place his money in a sack and hand it to them.

They escaped before the startled cashier could sound an alarm.

MILL CREEK, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—The First National bank here was robbed of $859 today by three bandits. The trio escaped.

Incendiarism Suspected In Schoolhouse Fire

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 4.—Fire which destroyed Burrows High school building 25 miles northeast of here last night was of incendiary origin, officers believed after investigation. The four-room frame building erected three years ago cost $16,000. It was totally destroyed.

Officers said union graded rural district has been embroiled in a bitter factional fight.

South's Demands For Cotton Session Grow As Sterling Delays

AUSTIN, Sept. 4. (AP)—Pressure of demands from the entire South increased tonight, insistent that Gov. Ross Shaw Sterling of Texas take immediately action to bring legislative relief for a crisis in the cotton industry.

Governor Sterling, at his home in Houston, still would not indicate whether he would summon the Texas legislature in special assembly.

His answer to the criticism of Gov. Huey P. Long of Louisiana for his delay was only, "Governor Long is not running Texas. He may be able to demand that his legislature vote whatever he wants, but we're a little more Democratic in Texas. It is, of course, my constitutional right to call the legislature but I feel I am better judge of when to call it than my friends, the governors of other southern states."

Chorus of Protest

Governors and farmers of cotton growing states had joined in a chorus of protest at his delay in convening the Texas legislature in special assembly to consider the multitude of demands from Texas cotton farmers for a legislative limitation of cotton acreage.

J. E. McDonald, Texas commissioner of agriculture, said the people of Texas were becoming "impatient" but he expected the governor to issue a call within a few days for the special session.

"I cannot conceive of our governor refusing to call a special session as per promise," McDonald said in a statement. "While many deplore the delay and recite that each day's postponement costs the cotton farmers and their creditors millions of dollars and places Texas in bad grace with other cotton states, I am not ready to impugn the governor's motives."

Great Response

He said the governor had received "the greatest response ever accorded a public question" in Texas and that between 70,000 and 80,000 persons had replied to a newspaper questionnaire the governor sent out asking for expressions of opinion on calling a special legislative session.

The commissioner said 18 state senators had agreed to ask or had

'Red' Attacks Italian Minister in Paris

PARIS, Sept. 4. (UP)—Gen. Emilio de Bono, Italian minister of colonies, was attacked today while on the way to visit the French colonial exposition.

The assassin, Cavalini Edidio, an Italian Communist, was arrested when he leaped onto the motor car in which De Bono was riding to the station, accompanied by the Italian ambassador and the French minister of colonies, Paul Reynaud.

De Bono was former governor of Tripoli. He is staying at the Italian embassy here.

Firemen Capture Bank Bandits in Cincinnati

CINCINNATI, Ohio, Sept. 4. (UP)—Two bandits who robbed the Hyde Park Savings and Loan bank of $9,500 today were captured by city firemen.

Fire apparatus was driven to both ends of the square on which the bank is located, cutting off the robbers' escape.

The money was found inside the shirts of the men.

The bandits said they were Carl Frost, 34, Toledo, and Robert Hobson, 29, Indianapolis.

Graham Bank Cashier Critically Ill in Dallas

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Sept. 4.—Jack White, assistant cashier of the First National bank of Graham, underwent a serious operation today at Baptist sanitarium in Dallas, according to word received by friends here. His condition was reported to be critical, and but scant hope of his recovery was held. Mr. White has many friends in Graham and is well known here.

Wall Street Closes For Triple Holiday

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. (AP)—Wall street, with the exception of banks, closed up shop today for a triple holiday over Labor day. The New York stock and curb exchanges and practically all of the commodity exchanges will be closed until Tuesday morning.

Policemen Indicted For Brutal Inquisition

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (US)—As result of an investigation ordered by President Hoover, five policemen here were today indicted for brutal "third degree" methods against four prisoners.

The indictments accuse the officers of beating men in their custody with a rubber hose, clubs and their fists. The assaults all were said to have been made recently.

Affidavits attributing black eyes, torn clothing, wound stripes on the body and other injuries due to police brutality were presented by the prisoners, backed by testimony of witnesses.

Oklahoma Youth Killed By Bolt of Lightning

HAMMON, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—Loyal Smallwood, 17, was killed today by lightning during a severe wind and rain storm.

John Horst, 25, standing beside Smallwood, was knocked unconscious by the bolt and two other youths were dazed.

The four were standing beside a house in the north side of town watching the storm.

Horst was taken to a hospital at Butler. Considerable damage was done by the wind to power lines.

Hammon is in Roger Mills county.

Foreign Wars Soldiers Cheer Pro-Liquor Resolution

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 4. (UP)—Repeal of the federal prohibition laws and modification of the Volstead act were demanded today by more than 1,000 cheering veterans of foreign wars, meeting in the final business session of their 32nd annual encampment.

The ex-soldiers cheered wildly as the pro-liquor resolution, asserting "American homes are being invaded by a federal army of snoopers and spies," was passed without a dissenting vote. The convention thus reiterated its stand taken last year at Baltimore.

Sacramento, Calif., was selected as the veterans' 1932 meeting place. Harold D. Decoe, Sacramento, was named commander-in-chief.

WACO DEALER FOUND SLAIN

Police Seek Identity of Second Victim

WACO, Texas, Sept. 4. (AP)—Police and county officers were without many clues tonight as they investigated the slayings of O. L. Jones, Waco automobile salesman.

Jones' body was found shortly after noon today dumped into a ditch near the Dallas highway, six miles north of Waco. Three-tenths of a mile away officers found his abandoned, blood smeared automobile. One bullet from a pistol found near his body entered his head. Skin discolorations indicated to investigators Jones also was beaten with a heavy instrument.

Jones was driving a car which he bought in Dallas last night. He left Dallas alone at 8 p. m. An interurban motorman told officers of seeing a man slumped down in the interurban right-of-way at 12:06 today.

Friends and relatives of Jones said he was known to carry considerable money with him when he made trips. When his body was found his hip pocket was turned wrong side out.

His face was powder burned. Officers said the fact the bullet did not go through his head indicated it was fired at close range.

Officers worked tonight to learn the identity of the second bullet victim found here today. The unidentified man's body was found on the east bank of the Brazos river, between Waco and East Waco. A revolver with one shell discharged was found at his feet. The man, apparently about 28 years old, wore a Waco high school ring. His clothing had a "Cooper" laundry mark and the initials C. M. P. were on his collar.

Former Texas Editor Dies in Missouri Home

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo., Sept. 4. (AP)—T. L. Nicewater, 69, at one time editor of the Daily Gates City, published at Denison, Texas, died at his home here today. During recent years he was a baggageman for the Missouri Pacific and an officer in the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen lodge. He was a charter member of the Texarkana, Ark., lodge.

Fort Sill Sergeant Found Shot to Death

FORT SILL, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—Sergt. Ed Brown of the 88th army squadron was found shot to death today. His home is at Petersburg, Fla. Officers unofficially said was due to self-inflicted wounds.

Olney Football Player Succumbs To Meningitis in Hospital Here

Marcus Ewing, 17, promising backfield prospect of the Olney High school football team, died at a hospital here shortly before 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. He entered the hospital here at 10:30 a. m., and was then in a very critical condition with meningitis. He had been ill only two days.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Ewing, the boy removed with his parents from Wichita Falls to Olney two years ago. He had spent the greater part of his life here.

Young Ewing was making an excellent bid for a permanent berth on Olney's football team when he was taken ill. He was in the spring training camp of 1930, but was making his first effort for the regular team this year, according to Coach Albert Acker. In the current pre-season workouts he demonstrated exceptional ability both at the ends and in the backfield positions. His prowess as a runner had been counted on to net Olney many yards in the coming fall games. He was entering his junior year at the Olney High school.

A brother, B. D. Ewing, was well known as a football star several years ago when he played with the Coyotes and on the Wichita Falls Junior college team.

Funeral services will be held here Sunday or Monday. Definite arrangements had not been made Friday, but were expected to be completed Saturday morning.

In addition to his parents and B. D. Ewing, survivors are three brothers, Lionel, Jack and Robert Ewing, and a sister, Ines Ewing.

BODIES BURNED WHEN FLAMES SWEEP DEBRIS

Young Highway Workers Die Instantly as Cars Meet

DUSTY ROAD BLAMED

Tennis Star Among Trio Slain in Head-On Smashup

Special to The Record News.

QUANAH, Texas, Sept. 4.—Three men were instantly killed and their bodies burned to charred bits near here Friday afternoon when two highway trucks met headon and burst into flames.

The dead:

J. B. Moore, 20.

Clyde Moore, his brother, 25.

Arthur Calloway, tennis star and Baylor university student, 20.

The two trucks, both employed in hauling gravel from the Pease river bed for highway construction, crashed with terrific force on highway 51, just south of Quanah.

Machines Locked

The force of the impact locked the machines together and flames at once enveloped the whole. Passersby, attracted by the fire watched helplessly as the bodies were cremated and the vehicles reduced to charred metal and ashes.

When the flames died away the bodies of the three ivctims were removed in small pieces.

Although the accident was without eyewitnesses investigators believed the Moore brothers, driving a loaded truck, had chosen the left hand side of the road for its greater smoothness. Calloway was taking an empty truck back to the gravel pits. It was thought both drivers were blinded by dust.

Victims Well Known

The Moore boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wylie Moore, living two miles west of Quanah.

Young Calloway, widely known through Northwest Texas as a star amateur tennis player and a student at Baylor university last year, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Calloway, Quanah.

All three victims were sons of pioneer Hardeman county families and were well known here. Parents were prostrated Friday evening and no funeral arrangements had been made.

Chicago School Board Employe Put on 'Spot'

CHICAGO, Sept. 4. (US)—Slain in typical gangland fashion, the body of Mortimer P. Enright, superintendent of mechanical and electrical work for the board of education, was found in a ditch today by the side of the York Golf club in Hinsdale, Ill.

He had been shot five times through the head and once through the right thigh. He also had been clubbed over the head.

Investigators were mystified because Enright had been a well-liked employe of the board of education for the last 20 years and was not known to have any enemies.

Thieves Loot Armories Of National Guard Arms

OLYMPIA, Wash., Sept. 4. (US)—Wholesale thefts of army automatic pistols in raids on state armories were revealed today by Brig. Gen. Maurice Thompson, adjutant-general of the Washington national guard.

In a circular sent to all officers of the state guard, General Thompson called the situation "alarming."

Either organized gangsters or "radicals trying to build up an arsenal" may have been responsible for the raids, General Thompson believes.

FAIR CATALOGS MADE PUBLIC

Iowa Park Leaders Study Rodeo Proposition

Special to The Record News.

IOWA PARK, Texas, Sept. 4.—Catalogs for the Wichita County Free fair are being distributed by the publicity committee. They may also be obtained by calling at the Iowa Park Herald office and at the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce office. Sam Williams, of the publicity committee, is visiting near-by towns and communities distributing advertising matter.

The proposition of a free rodeo to be held each day during the fair is under advisement, and the committee felt almost sure that the rodeo features, sponsored for the past two years by Will Burnett and "Boss" Smith of Iowa Park, would be taken over by the general fair management and added to the numerous attractions offered by the fair.

Of the 46 original entrants in the live-at-home contest, sponsored by the chamber, all remain. This exhibit will be placed in the agricultural exhibits, and will add a new feature to the displays.

J. C. Searl, secretary of the Iowa Park Chamber of Commerce states that as the time for the fair draws nearer the interest is increasing. Mr. Searl stated that the cooperation of the club women insured success for their department, and that the favorable seasons during the summer had added much to the availabl e exhibits in agricultural and canned lines.

A meat canning school, planned for Sept. 24, will be held in Iowa Park under the direction of Miss Ethel Luise Webb and members of the Home Demonstration club, and will increase the displays of canned meat products.

Burglar Takes Shirts But Leaves Valuables

Overlooking a number of valuables, a burglar entered the home of F. C. Dickens, 1601 Garfield Friday night and escaped with several shirts and a hat.

Motorcycle officers who answered the call after the occupants of the place called police when they returned to find the house ransacked said that the burglar intentionally apparently, left a watch, purse and other valuables which were laying on a table in plain view.

Entrance was gained through a rear window, according to Officers Herbert Pogue and Homer Bentley.

Gotham Police Method Upheld in Test Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. (US)—Police Commissioner Mulrooney's dragnet received approval from the supreme court in a test case decided today. Justice Julius Miller sustained the arrest, conviction and sentence imposed on a pair of professional criminals rounded up by Mulrooney's men although no specific crime was charged to them.

Reduction of Arms? Not for Them!

This picture will give you a "little" idea of Russia's five-year plan. Physical culture is an imporant part of the Soviet's training of Russian youths, and here you see a group of children, clad in scanty "health" costumes, as they went through callisthenic exercises.

LONG ASSAILS GOV. STERLING

Louisianan Issues Warm Reply by Radio

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 4. (AP)—Angered by Gov. Ross Sterling's quoted remarks that he was "not running Texas" Gov. Huey Long tonight by radio vigorously denounced the Texas chief executive for what he termed "the most uncalled for attack and the most unfair statement he had seen in some time."

Governor Long at the beginning of his third radio address in support of his cotton prohibition plan, read a dispatch quoting Governor Sterling as saying that "Governor Long is not running Texas," and that while the Louisiana governor might push his cotton holiday bill through the legislature in record time, they "were more democratic in Texas."

Governor Long concentrated on the Texas governor the fire that in his radio addresses the past two nights was directed first at southern legislators in general who failed to act on the no-crop proposal, and then the members of the Texas senate.

"Governor Sterling says I'm not running Texas," he said. "No, I'm not, but I wish he was. If he does not run other things any better than he's running Texas, he can't run anything.

"His comment about me is the most uncalled for attack and the most unfair statement I have seen in some time.

"So you are more democratic in Texas! Yes, you are more democratic! You have $35,000,000 while 2,000,000 farmers are on the verge of starvation. Oh, yes, you are democratic, with money up to your eyes and every luxury, and deaf to the cries of the children of the destitue farmers.

"You had no call to pick on me, Governor Sterling!"

Governor Long said he "didn't see what Governor Sterling wanted."

"I don't see why he made that unfair attack on me unless he had his back to the wall," he asserted.

Chilean Naval Revolt Reported Settled

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 4. (UP)—Messages from Coquimbo tonight reported a definite agreement had been reached for termination of the Chilean naval mutiny and that the war fleet, the most modern in South America, would be handed over to authorities tomorrow.

LUCKY FARM BOYS

Students From Farms Trade Grain They Raised for Tuition

FERGUS FALLS, Minn., Sept. 4. (AP)—Luther college students who farmed during the summer are in luck.

The college has decided to accept the grain they raised as tuition, at more than prevailing market prices.

The only stipulation is that the grain must come from the farm on which the student worked.

Number one and number two northern wheat, selling here at 51 cents a bushel, will be accepted at 60 cents.

ALTUS EXTENDS TAX LIMITS

Delinquency Date Set for Sept. 16

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Sept. 4.—Altus taxpayers will be given an additional 15 days in which to pay taxes, Miss Jessie McKinley, city clerk, announced.

Although paving taxes became delinquent Sept. 1, they may be paid at the city hall the first 15 days of this month without a penalty being added. Delinquent taxes will be turned over to the county treasurer on the morning of Sept. 16 and a penalty of 12 per cent figures from Sept. 1 will be added after that date.

Paving tax collections made to date total $6,862.42 which is only a small per cent of the amount due.

Floydada to Set Gas And Power Rates Tuesday

FLOYDADA, Texas, Sept. 4.—Mayor W. C. Hanna of Floydada this week sent out notices to the Texas Utilities company and to the West Texas Gas company that the city council would set rates to be charged for electric service and for gas service to consumers in Floydada at their next regular meeting on Tuesday night, Sept. 8.

U. S. Accuses Doctor After State Drops Case

TEXARKANA, Ark., Sept. 4. (AP)—Dr. W. S. Embry of Garland City, Ark., who was arrested in a liquor raid yesterday, was dismissed on state charges today and rearrested by federal officers, who charged him with possession of liquor.

The state claimed that Dr. Embry possessed one gallon of liquor, but lacked evidence to prove he had it for the purpose of sale.

BURK HOLDS TRADE FETE

Farmers Day and Rodeo Slated for Today

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Sept. 4. The good-will tour of local business men for the purpose of advertising and extending an invitation in neighboring towns and communities to the farmer's trades day and rodeo to be held here Saturday, Sept. 5 was successfully completed by more than a dozen automobiles and trucks.

The cars were decorated with signs and posters bearing the names of their sponsors and invitations to attend the coming event. The train passed through Iowa Park, Electra, Harrold, Davidson, Grandfield, Devol and Randlett. The procession was headed by a truck bearing a section of the Burkburnett band.

Gasoline Blast Burns Fatal to Texas Woman

CUERO, Texas, Sept. 4. (UP)—Mrs. Sarah Carson, 43, died here today of burns because she mistook gasoline for kerosene. She was refilling an incubator lamp last night and the gasoline exploded. Mrs. Carson was the wife of Keyes Carson, prominent ranchman.

Carson and a sister, Mrs. J. F. Elder, were seriously burned attempting to extinguish the flames which enveloped Mrs. Carson.

Acid-Throwing Husband Gets Ten Year Sentence

YATES CENTER, Kan., Sept. 4. (UP)—Ralph Sumner, who threw acid on his estranged wife while she was sleeping at the home of her father Aug. 17, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor in the penitentiary.

Lester Morgan, 20, charged as Sumner's accessory, also pleaded guilty and was sentenced to the Hutchinson reformatory for five years.

MURRAY TILTS WITH GAS CO.

Price War Becomes Battle Of Words

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 4. (AP)—Governor Murray and the Lone Star Gas interests voiced their views in positive phrases today about the ouster litigation the Oklahoma executive has started.

Murray forecast an attempt to "dodge into the twilight zone" by action to transfer the action from state to federal court, urged this be clocked and said, "if need be I shall call out the national guard" to protect the state court.

The statement was in his "weekly message to the people," through his newspaper, the Blue Valley Farmer, and referred to the suit against the Lone Star Gas corporation and four other companies, filed yesterday at Waurika, seeking to forfeit of rights, privileges, charters and licenses, judgment for more than $365,000 and a receiver.

L. B. Denning, Dallas, president of the Lone Star Gas company, one of the defendants, said the Lone Star expected to continue Oklahoma service "despite the political attacks to which it has been subjected" and denied the company intended to remove any of its property or discontinue service. The suit, he said, was "merely one of a series of harassments."

Eugene Rice, district judge who named a temporary receiver and issued an order to prevent possible removal of Lone Star properties and assets from Oklahoma, declined today to comment on the Murray "message."

Winner of Trombone Pens Letter of Thanks

Asserting in a carefully written letter that "he always had wanted very much to own a musical instrument and to learn to play it well," but that the family's financial conditions had precluded such a possibility, Roy Westfall Jr., member of the Klean Kids Klub, Friday won a trombone and one-year's lessons offered by Paul Seeds for the best letter asking for the award.

W. R. Hyer, W. B. Taylor, and Mr. Seeds were the judges who selected young Westfall's letter from a large number submitted. The contest was conducted by the city park department. Mr. Seeds is director of the Los Caballeros band, and a teacher of wind instruments.

Oversupply of Gold In U. S. Offers Problem

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (AP)—The accumulation of gold in the United States, now totalling nearly $5,000,000,000 is regarded by the administration as a problem to be dealt with by other than governmental action.

The accumulation, it was said, was the result of the flight of capital to the United States from many parts of the world and not of a trade balance.

At least $2,000,000,000 of the surplus, it was estimated, was sent here because of a lack of confidence of other peoples in their financial institutions.

Duncan Children, 2 to 13 Attend School In Garage

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—The old theory that children dislike attending school has been blasted here this summer by a group of eight who have organized their own school in a garage.

The teacher is Mary Cillessen, 14. Her pupils range in age from 2 to 13.

The school has been in session two months and report cards are due before regular classes start in September.

Meeting from 9 o'clock to noon, the class does its studying with all the seriousness of real school. The youthful teacher says not one of her students has played "hooky" this summer.

C-C GROUPS TO CONFER TODAY

Two chamber of commerce committees will meet Saturday morning to lay plans for their individual programs of activities during the fall months, it was announced Friday by John Boswell, manager of the chamber.

The program committee of the business council will meet at 11 o'clock to form a program for the business council luncheon to be held next Friday.

The traffic committee will hold its initial meeting at 10:30 a. m. J. S. Hargett is chairman.

Borger Launches Utilities Battle

BORGER, Texas, Sept. 4. (AP)—Borger city attorneys tonight planned their campaign against Borger's utilities rates.

A hearing was opened before representatives of the railroad commission here today with representatives of the Panhandle Power and Light company protesting against a proposed 30-cent rate. Today's hearing time was taken up by the power company attorneys.

Another full day's hearing loomed as city attorneys had not presented their case.

The power company contended a 50-cent rate was a fair one when its investment was considered. The city contended both gas and electric rates were too high in Borger.

CHINA WHEAT DEAL CLOSED

New Farm Board Proposal Is Accepted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (US)—Fifteen million bushels of American wheat, half of which will be ground into flour before shipment, has been sold by the federal farm board to the Chinese government, it was announced by President Hoover today.

The terms were not revealed but it is understood that long term credit was arranged since the wheat is to be used for the relief of flood and famine victims in the Yangtze valley.

Under the agreement, China will be entitled to increase its purchases at the same terms. The Chinese government will make all transportation arrangements and will give American ships an opportunity to handle the grain.

China made an offer to buy the grain two weeks ago. The offer was rejected by the farm board which made a counter proposal. It was this which has been accepted.

This 15,000,000 bushels added to the 25,000,000 bushels which the farm board recently sold to Brazil has reduced the boards holdings 15 to 20 per cent. Last spring the board was reputed to be holding 250,000,000 bushels. It later sold 20,000,000 in small lots to foreign countries. The holdings are now believed to be below the 200,000,000 bushel mark.

Suspect in Girl's Death Caught After Long Quest

DENVER, Sept. 4. (INS)—A three-year search for Angelo Morreale, asserted New York gangster and slayer of 16-year-old Angelina Spitale in Rochester, N. Y., on Nov. 16, 1928, had ended here today.

Morreale, alias Tony Voto, admitted his identity, police say, after he was recognized by detectives while in the "Shadow Box" at police headquarters. He was arrested in a raid on a still, in which Mike Malone, Denver boxer, was shot and seriously wounded.

"B-C" Will Stop Any Headache In 3 Minutes

You Need Have No More Fear Of Coffee!

2,571 Physicians* Say:

This Unique Coffee from Central America Can be Drunk Without Anxiety By Any Normal Person

*Signed statements to this effect, from 2,571 physicians who have actually tested Folger's Coffee, are on file in our offices.

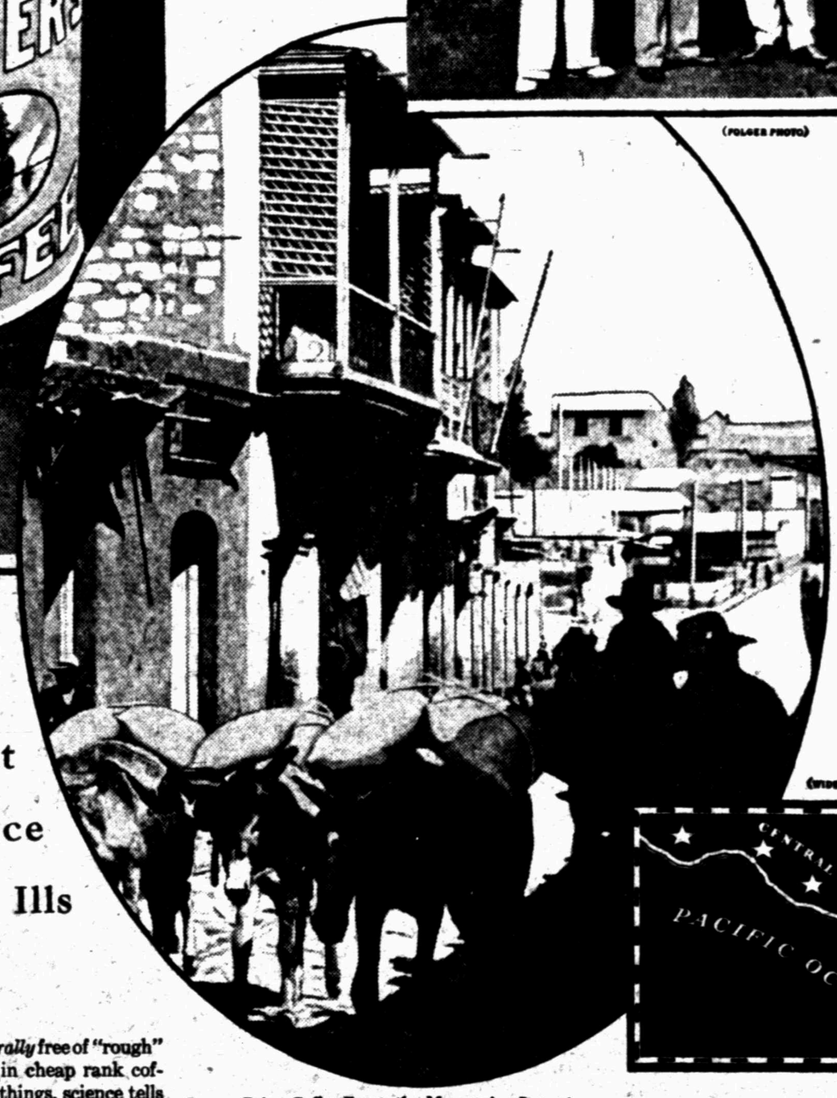

(FOLGER PHOTO)

Señor Manuel Ariza, Proprietor of the Bella Vista Plantation in the Antigua district entertains Mr. Joseph S. Atha of the Folger Coffee Company on his trip to inspect the new crop of this famous coffee. Senor Ariza is the third from the left and to the right of Mr. Atha.

(EWING GALLOWAY)

Ripe Mountain Coffee Berries—In Central America they are always picked by hand—never allowed to fall on the ground, as that would give an "earthy" flavor.

Burros Bring Coffee From the Mountains Into the City of Antigua, Guatemala. From this region comes one of the rare Central American varieties used by Folger. Peculiar conditions of soil, climate and altitude give this coffee twice the richness and flavor—and leaves out the rough offensive oils that are common to cheap coffees.

The Amazing Story of Rare Coffees... In Which Nature Herself Leaves Out Rank, Noxious Oils That Science Now Blames For Ordinary Coffee Ills

THOUSANDS who now find coffee upsetting to nerves and digestion will welcome the latest findings of scientists and physicians on this subject. For they now announce that the finest coffee, the richest and most invigorating coffee that men know, is not only harmless, but actually beneficial to any normal person.

You may drink this coffee without anxiety. Without fear of the so-called coffee ills of indigestion, nervousness and headache. Because Nature herself leaves out certain noxious, offensive oils.

Mountain Coffee From Central America

We procure this coffee from tiny mountain districts in Central America. A region where nature produces probably the choicest coffees known today. Mellow mountain coffees with a rich rare flavor not duplicated, experts concede, anywhere else in the world.

These rare coffees grow naturally free of "rough" offensive oils that abound in cheap rank coffees, and they are the only things, science tells us, you need fear in coffee. It is Nature's own gift that you can enjoy the finest coffee with all of its "kick"—and without a "kick-back."

Endorsed by Doctors

2,571 doctors* recently tested actual samples of Folger's Central American mountain coffee. They report that, in their opinion, it can be drunk without anxiety by any normal person. And that its mild stimulation is actually beneficial to the average normal person.

Insist on Folger's

Folger's is not just another brand of coffee. It is a different kind. There are thousands of brands of coffee in the market. But most all come from practically the same place and are about the same grade.

Remember this and insist on Folger's by name. Then you'll be sure of getting Central American high-grown coffee, which experts and doctors agree, is free from the so-called coffee ills.

Just try Folger's for a week. Note its finer flavor. Note its wonderful invigoration. Note its after-effect. You'll understand then why it is replacing cheap, doubtful coffees in thousands of homes.

FOLGER COFFEE COMPANY
Kansas City, San Francisco, Dallas

Folger protects you against stale coffee by packing this coffee in the latest improved, key-opening vacuum tins.

Every pound of Folger's is guaranteed to reach you as fresh as it was 30 minutes after it left the roaster.

Remember this: No matter when or where you buy it, this coffee is FRESH.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas oil wells yield nearly one-fourth of all petroleum in the world total. In 1928 Texas produced 28 per cent of the United States total, but in 1931 it is producing so far this year more than 30 per cent of the American output.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

Purchase by the Texas & Pacific of 2,500 tons of rails and 500 tons of tie-plates and fastenings indicates that it expects favorable action by the Interstate Commerce commission on one or more of its expansion projects. Extension of the Abilene & Southern into San Angelo is one of its applications for I. C. C. permit; extension from Big Spring northward into the Panhandle is another. . . . Completion in 10 months or in time to handle next year's crops, is the hope of the Fort Worth & Denver Northern, Burlington subsidiary, in starting actual construction of its 114-mile extension from Pampa to Childress at an estimated cost of $4,000,000. . . . Formal opening of the new T. & P. passenger station at Sweetwater (cost $35,000) is another bit of railroad development news.

A number of Texas counties and cities are reducing their tax drains on citizens. Hayes county cuts assessments 11 per cent and leaves its tax rate of $1 unchanged. Val Verde reduces its rates from 90 cents to 80 cents, but Tyler county, because it omitted a levy last year to provide for amortizing its bonds, had to increase its rate to $3.60, while Wilbarger, with valuation of renditions decreasing by one-third, had to increase its rate proportionately, from 92 cents to $1.25. Gainesville, in spite of $215,000 worth of improvement bonds voted during the year, leaves its tax rate unchanged at $1.85.

"Impossible!" interposed Jones. "I'm sure you look quite as young as he does."—Tit-Bits.

Gandhi's Personality

MEN ARE still stronger than measures. Machinery, gigantic though it has become, yields before the power of personality. Mahatma Gandhi, nationalist leader of India, illustrates this. Small, thin, brown, wizened by his steadfast adherence to an ideal, he has kept the whole world watching him, waiting for his moves, wondering what an effect they will have on world relationships.

For months all nations have been wondering if he would go to England to attend the second round table conference. These nations haven't been much concerned over the absence or presence of other leaders. Their mission, apparently, could have been delegated to others with little inconvenience. But every man has wanted Mahatma Gandhi there, for the movement he leads is bone of his bone, breath of his breath. He lives it continually.

Personal attraction, richness of natural talents are not the cause of his tremendous influence. It may be summed up in fewer words. A far-sighted, deep-sighted loyalty to a conviction. Now that Gandhi has far-sighted, deep-seated loyalty to a conviction. Now that Gandhi has of the world, who wanted him to be there, are rejoicing. The sheer magnetism of his personality, built on his unfaltering devotion to what he believes is right and wise, will undoubtedly have its influence.

It is rather worth noting that no man can build up this type of personality, or gain such a wide influence, if he sets out to do it for his own personal increase. He can't make up his mind that he is going to do something significant enough to stay on the front page. He has to forget himself entirely by losing himself in some great principle, some mighty conquest.

Whether Gandhi's position is the wisest one is not the point. It is his self-annihilation for the purpose of promoting right as he sees it that astonishes the world.

Whenever a people have needed a leader, one has always appeared, ever since the days when Moses led the children of Israel through the wilderness. A good many of them have had to gird themselves with sack cloths and ashes, in one way or another, which is almost the style that India's chieftain has adopted. But it is a fairly safe prediction that none of the old leaders has exerted as much personal magnetism as the unassuming little old man from the East.

Adventure Turns Pro

PEOPLE who say that adventure died when the gold rush ended and the telephone and wireless started to make national hook-up have a dwarfed idea what constitutes a striking enterprise.

The dim, dead past never pinned its hopes on an Anne and Lindy who went flying gaily around the world. The Colonel and his lady have combined adventure and romance in a way that shows what novices the Round Table Knights really were. No other age ever had an intrepid explorer like Sir George Hubert Wilkins who insisted on finding a new passage under the polar ice. Never before has a gigantic piece of aircraft like the Akron been set for the sky as ships in the old brave tales got ready for the gale of the sea.

After all, Robin Hood never did anything but rob the rich to feed the poor. Richard the Lion Hearted's biggest feat was riding a horse to Jerusalem and having a battle or two on the way. Adventure had an amateur touch yesterday. Today it has turned professional.

Chivalry in Enforcement

IN SPITE of the fact that it is a brave man who gives a woman his seat on a street car today, there is a hangover of chivalry left in the world in the old-fashioned sense of the word at that.

Amos W. W. Woodcock, prohibition director, has announced that women are not to be employed in collecting evidence of law violations. In other terms, it is a man's business to attend to this warfare and women are being given a certain deference when they are removed from the liquor battle lines. There is something wholesome and refreshing in the realization that gallantry still takes a hand in the game now and then.

Walking the Channel

KARL NAUMESTNIK, an Austrian schoolmaster, astonished the world the other day when he walked across the English channel as nonchalantly as most people walk across the street. He was wearing water skiis, shaped like canoes. For eight hours he trod on the waves, with all the assurance that Peter had in his first few steps on a Galilean sea.

This invention is interesting because it is in such direct antithesis to the modern trend. Most inventions tend to do away with physical exercise. People are riding instead of walking. But the water skiis demand exercise. For this reason maybe they won't be very popular. A canoe is so much more comfortable.

Anguish?

Oh, you are out tonight with some tall lad,
His silver lies are beating in your brain—
And little time you're given to be sad
For madness that will not return again;
I see you now—your dark enchanting lure,
I hear your laugh—a bell gone gay in spring;
But love is sweet—and I am very sure
You've little time to be remembering.

You'll dance a bit—he'll hold you very close
And whisper words that seem so strange and new;
From club to club you'll journey, I suppose,
And think each tune is played for just you two;

You're out tonight—and love lies cold and dead—
And as for me—I think I'll go to bed!

Newspaper Man Stuff

Fanned by the desire to have the United Press staff men well-grounded in literature—that would assist them in their work, the news editor recently asked those of the higher-ups to submit a list of authors whose works they would especially recommend.

The consensus was taken and the list placed on the bulletin board—Dickens, Chekhov, Stevenson and many others being included. But the U. P. boys, in their desire to aid reporters in reporting, omitted the greatest of them all—O. Henry.

And they belt overcoats!

Merciless Truth

One of the better newspaper fables deals with the fed-up managing editor who stormed into the office and wanted to know why his staff always called a gunman a bandit.

"Because," interrupted a copy-reader, "a re-write man never can remember whether the "e" or the "i" comes first in 'thief'!"

Love

As found by Burton Rascoe: It is like the devil because it torments us; like heaven because it wraps the soul in bliss; like salt because it is relishing; like pepper because it often sets one on fire; like sugar because it is sweet; like a rope because it is often the death of man; like a prison because it makes one miserable; like wine because it makes us happy; like a man because it is here today and gone tomorrow; like a woman because there is no getting rid of it; like a beacon because it guides us to the wished-for port; like a will o' the wisp because it often leads one into a bog; like the bite of a mad dog or the kiss of a pretty woman because they both make a man mad; like a goose because it is silly; in a word, it is like a ghost because it is like everything and like nothing—often talked about, never seen, touched or understood!

Anything for a Laugh

One of A. Woollcott's better anecdotes is the one about Harpo Marx and Heifetz, the renowned fiddler. The boys were reminiscing over their childhood days.

Heifetz was most sentimental about them. "When I was 7," he said, "I gave my first recital. And I have been a self-supporting citizen ever since!"

"You don't say," said Harpo, "and before that I suppose you were just a bum."

O, Mr. Wilstach!

Love Is a Terrible Thing

It was after curfew time in one of the speakeasies. One of the sirens with lovely eyes from the Zeiegfeld menagerie was trading white lies with a newly-made boy friend.

"I hope you won't think me rude," he ga-ga'd, "but do your eyes bother you?"

"Nh-nh," she nh-nh'd.

"They bother me," he sighed.

And they chop suey.

A Bit of a Critic!

The good fortune of Jack Diamond, who manages to keep Missable, brings the story of the mountaineer whose feuding neighbors had tried to kill him for 30 years. They fired at least a thousand bullets at him.

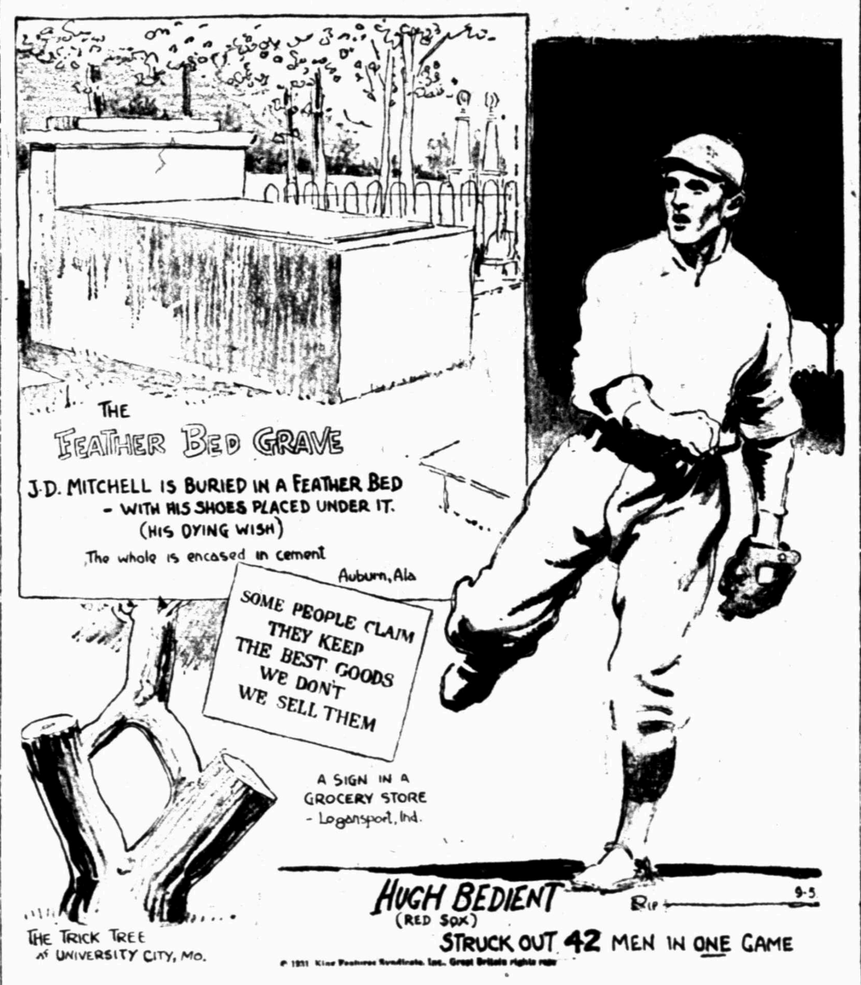

The other day the Diamond of the Hills committed suicide. Before doing so he left a farewell note. It read:

"To whom it may concern: I'd rather die than live in a community with such terrible marksmen!"

Hehehah

It is J. H. Pollock's suggestion that if Coolidge resumes his daily essays, he accept these epigrams. The future may be better or worse . . . When a child is born it is either a boy or a girl . . . People are dead or alive . . . Everything is the same or different.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

IVAN THE TERRIBLE—Ivan IV "The Terrible," the first of the Russian czars and the most bloodthirsty ruler to be inflicted on any nation, entered the city of Novgorod on Jan. 6, 1570 at the head of 6,000 gangsters (opryczniki). From then until Feb. 11, 1570 he raged over the unfortunate inhabitants "with unbridled fury and unchecked cruelty." On a trumped-up charge of treason he caused them to be arraigned before him in groups of 100 and after a mock trial invariably sentenced them to be roasted alive over a slow fire and drowned. 70,000 Novgrodzians including women, children and infants, were tortured to death before the eyes of the tyrant within the five weeks, or at the rate of 2,000 daily. "The Artist in Crime" as history dubbed him, was a victim of insanity, but he could exercise remarkable ingenuity in the invention of tortures for his subjects.

"MARY FAITH"
by Beatrice Burton

COPYRIGHT, 1931, BY KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, INC.

Mary Faith, comely, young orphan, is secretary to Mark Nesbit, wealthy business man. She gives up her position to marry Kimberly Farrell, shiftless, young lawyer. Mary Faith believes that loving a man hard enough will make everything come out all right in the end. It was this confidence that enabled her to marry Kim after he had once broken their engagement. She realizes he has an eye for every girl, but hopes that married life will sober him and make him successful in his profession. Instead, Kim is annoyed at Mary Faith's "Puritanism," and his jazzy friends, Clair and Jack Maidon, find her a dull companion. Learning that she is to become a mother, Mary Faith, for the first time, visits Kim's office. Kim is furious when Mary Faith finds him flirting with his blond secretary. That night, he informs his mother and Mary Faith that he is leaving. Mary Faith, heartbroken at this turn of affairs, decides not to tell Kim of her coming motherhood. She and Mrs. Farrell decide to struggle to keep the home for the coming baby. Mary Faith obtaining a position as typist. She refuses to accede to Kim's request for a divorce and asks him to wait six months before carrying out his desire.

As the bells are ringing in the New Year, Mary Faith's son is born. Kim, informed of this event, returns home and becomes, for a time, a proud and happy father.

Kim is restored to his old position which he had lost due to money irregularities. When his salary is increased, Mary Faith tells him to buy new clothes.

Mary Faith sees Kim walking with a girl from the neighborhood library. She accuses him of being a fast worker.

Clair Maidon tells Mary Faith that she should step out and be gay if she wants to hold Kim's affections. Kim again begins his visits to the Maidon flat.

Kim returns late one night, wet and ill. Mary Faith realizes he has been on a wild party.

CHAPTER XLII

November came in, colder than October and just as rainy. The baby could not go out for his daily airing, and Elsie reported every night that he had been restless and cross all day long.

"If he were at home he could take his naps on the little screened porch," thought Mary Faith, "and he could have the run of five or six rooms instead of being cooped up in one room almost all day.

She had come to hate the top-floor room with its windows that looked out toward the bare treetops of Haltnorth park, and she longed for the Wilton street flat every hour of the day. She knew that all of the furniture had been moved out of it, and in all probability someone else was living in it now; and yet she felt that it must still be there with its flowers blooming on the window sills and its rubber plant standing in the corner of the dining room and Kim's coat hanging on the golden-oak coat-tree in the hall.

The first snow came early that year, on the first Friday in November. It began to fall early in the afternoon and by 4 o'clock Mary Faith's little room was filled with cold white snow-light that made it seem a different place altogether from the one it had been that morning.

She was standing at the window, looking down into the transformed courtyard below, when the door of Mark Nesbit's office opened and he came and stood beside her.

"Almost three years since you and I were out in a snowstorm like this, isn't it?" he asked. "Remember?"

She did remember. It had been the night he asked her to marry him. She remembered it because it had been the night Kim came back to her after his first long desertion of her. They had sat in his little car outside Mrs. Puckett's house and planned their future—and she had been so happy that it had seemed as though all the stars fell down and shattered in River street that night.

"Of course, I remember it, Mr. Nesbit," she said, and then she added quickly, nervously:

"I do love this kind of day, don't you? It seems so absolutely clean, doesn't it?, Cleaner even than summer days when the sun comes out after a hard rain."

"Do you remember that I asked you to marry me that night?"

"Of course, I do." Her lips stiffened suddenly so that she could hardly speak and she could feel a flush going over her face.

"It was a long time ago, wasn't it, Mary Faith?" One of his hands slid along the window sill and covered one of hers.

"Three years, you said." She drew her hands from under his and began to back away from the window. She wished, just as she had wished it three years before, that Mark Nesbit would stay in his lofty place as president of the Nesbit Mercantile company and forget that she was anything but his secretary. She thought that he had forgotten it. For seven months he had been so business-like, so matter-of-fact with her at all times that sometimes she wondered if he had ever been really in love with her.

"Do you remember what I told you that night three years ago?" he was asking her now in a quiet heavy voice. She had sunk down on her chair behind her desk, and he was leaning over her.

She shook her head. All she remembered clearly of their conversation that night was that he had asked her to marry him and she had refused him. And through her confusion she reflected that if it were Kim asking her that question she could have told him every word he had said. She never forgot a syllable of Kim's.

"No, I don't remember, Mr. Nesbit. It's so long ago, isn't it?" She threw out her hands, that were usually so capable and sure, in a helpless uncertain little movement.

"Well, I told you I'd probably feel about you all the rest of my life as I felt then," he said, "and I do. I knew it all the time you were away from this place—and, as soon as I heard from Miss Bartlett that you'd left your husband, I made up my mind to let you know just how things were with me." He spoke in that same stilted heavy way as if he had thought out what he wanted to say and was trying to remember just how he had planned to say it.

"If you hadn't come down here to work, I had made up my mind to find you and tell you all this. Not just at first, of course. I thought I'd wait for a few months—and those few months have passed. When you are free, I'm going to ask you again if you'll marry me."

He stopped and seemed to be waiting for her to make some kind of an answer. But Mary Faith only stared at him, her eyes wide and dark in her face that had gone dead white.

"And I think I ought to add," he went on, "that I'd be glad to adopt your boy and help you bring him up." He had thought of everything, evidently.

"I should never have let this happen," said Mary Faith to herself. "I should have seen it coming—and gone away long ago."

She should never have come back to Nesbit's at all. She saw that now. . . . Well, she'd have to go as soon as she could. It would be impossible to face Mark Nesbit after this afternoon. That was certain. It was hard enough to face him now.

She stood up to do it, her blue eyes level with his dark ones.

"If I'd dreamed that you were still thinking about me like this, Mr. Nesbit, I'd never have come back here. But it all seemed so business-like and ordinary at the time. Jean Bartlett was leaving and you needed someone to take her place—and I needed the place and the salary so badly—Did you think I was getting a divorce?"

She stopped abruptly as the telephone on her desk rang.

"Just a second, Mr. Nesbit," she said and lifted the receiver to her ear. "Mr. Nesbit's secretary speaking."

"Mary Faith? This you?" It was Kim's mother's voice, and at the sound of it Mary Faith started violently. She had not heard from her in several months.

"Yes, Mother Farrell." She forgot, in her surprise, that Kim's mother was no longer Mother Farrell but "Mrs. Thatcher," as she called herself.

"Doctor and I wondered whether you could stop in here when you leave your office tonight," she was saying. "We wanted to talk to you about Kimberley. He's here with us. He's been very ill, you know."

"No, I didn't know it." Mary Faith sat down in her chair. "What's been wrong with him?"

"Pneumonia."

"Pneumonia! And they had never let her know!

"He's much better now, of course," the smooth soft voice at the other end of the wire ran on, and Mary Faith seemed to be listening to it with very fiber of her body. "Much better. And Doctor and I don't like to bother you at this time. But certain things have come up in the last day or two, and we feel that we can't settle them without your help."

Oh, what did the woman mean? Why didn't she say plainly and clearly what was wrong instead of talking about certain things that had come up. . . . Mary Faith couldn't imagine what those certain things could be.

"I'll be right out," she said and hung up the receiver for a second. Then she took it down again and began to rattle the hook up and down to attract Miss Gilday's attention in the outer office.

"Will you please call a taxi for me right away, Miss Kelly?" she asked when Miss Kelly answered her.

Then she looked up at Mark Nesbit once more.

"My husband has been sick—terribly sick—with pneumonia," she said to him in a voice that was a wailing cry. "And they've never let me know—his people! Not until just now."

She began to put the papers and pencils on her desk into a drawer and to pull the dust cover over her typewriter, while Mark Nesbit stood and watched her, his hands stuck in his pockets and his lips pursed up as if he were trying to whistle.

"I'm going out to him. Do you mind?" she asked, slamming the drawer and turning the key in its lock.

"Of course not. I'll go downstairs with you and wait until the cab comes," Mark Nesbit said quietly. He held the door open while she took down her wraps from the coat-tree in the corner and put them on.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J HASKIN

Many readers send in questions signed only with initials, asking that the answers appear in the newspaper. The space is limited and would not accommodate a fraction of such requests. The answers published are ones that may interest many readers, rather than the one who asks the question only. All questions should be accompanied by the writer's name and address and two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send your question to The Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—What do the letters p. q. mean when used as an abbreviation folowing a lawyer's name in a legal notice?—S. M. W.

A.—The letters mean pro querente—for the plaintiff.

Q.—How can desert travelers tell whether they see a mirage or a lake of real water?—C. E.

A.—There are three differences which may be observed. A mirage usually quivers and changes in shape; a real lake does not have this appearance at a distance. A real lake usually has a dark band of vegetation around it, and birds fly near it and above it.

Q.—Is a radio head phone the same as a telephone receiver?—S. D.

A.—Not in principle. In both, an electric vibration is converted into sound, but the detailed designs are different, and they are not interchangeable.

Q.—At what time will autumn begin this year?—E. T.

A.—The sun wil cross the equator going south at 7:24 p. m., Sept. 23. At this time, day and night will be of equal length over all the world.

Q.—Where was money first loaned at interest?—E. S.

A.—It is believed that it was first done in Babylonia.

Q.—How old was Robert M. La Follette Sr., when he entered congress for the first time?—N. S.

A.—He was elected to the house of representatives at 30 years of age. His son, Robert M. La Follette Jr., was elected to the senate at the same age.

Q.—How is it possible to tell what kind of disaster caused a city to be buried?—M. O.

A.—The soil that covers a buried city sometimes indicates the manner in which it was buried—for instance, if the city is buried in sand, it is reasonable to believe that some terrific sandstorm enveloped it. On the other hand, if the overlaying earth is volcanic in character, it is indicated that some eruption caused the loss of the city. For many cases historical records are available telling of the nature of the catastrophe.

Q.—How old a city is Pisa, Italy?—D. F.

A.—The city was probably of Etruscan origin. It became subject to Rome in 180 B. C. At the height of its greatness in the 12th century it is thought to have had a population of 150,000. In the sixteenth century its population had dwindled to about 8,500. It is now in a thriving condition with a population in the commune of about 70,000.

Q.—In writing a thank-you note to a married couple, to whom should it be addressed?—L. K.

A.—It is correct to address the wife and to include thanks which are offered to the husband.

Q.—How much money is spent each year for sports such as baseball and football?—E. L. M.

A.—The two big leagues last season played to 12,000,000 people who paid in more than $12,000,000 in admissions. Including the minor leagues, admissions run to at least $30,000,000. Last fall thirty million people paid out at least $75,000,000 for football tickets, a large number of these being for big games. The national football bill, college and prep school, is around $150,000,000.

Q.—How many members of the lower house of congress have died since the first of the year?—F. C.

A.—Nine, up to Aug. 8.

Q.—What does G. R. stand for on Canadian mail wagons?—J. J.

A.—The Canadian legation says it stands for Georgius Rex.

Q. — How many screens, both wood and metal, are made and sold in the United States in a year?—D. E. S.

A.—The Hardware Age says that such data are not available, but government figures covering the year 1929 indicate that the total sales of window screens, both wood and metal, amounted to $24,295,000. Assuming that a screen averaged approximately $1.50 in value, a rough estimate would indicate that 18,000,000 window screens were sold during this year. Of course, 1929 was a peak year for most industries and the average is probably at least 10 per cent lower.

BURK POWER SURVEY DUE

City to Study Possibilities Of Municipal Plans

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Sept. 4.—Engineers of the Fairbanks, Morse & Co. will arrive in Burkburnett next week to make a survey of the city and determine the cost of installing an electric light and power plant for the city.

City Manager R. P. Reagan entered into negotiations with the Fairbanks, Morse & Co. several weeks ago under instructions from the city commissioners. A representative of the company was sent to Burkburnett to discuss the proposition of having a modern electric plant installed to be owned and operated by the city. At that time it was decided to have the company engineers come to Burkburnett and make a survey of the city in order that a more accurate estimate of the cost of installing the plant could be made.

After the survey is complete, it is the intention of Mayor J. C. Adams to call a meeting of the representative business men to determine if they are in favor of installing a municipally owned electric plant.

Post Graduate Work Offered at Duncan

Special to The Record News.

DUNCAN, Okla., Sept. 4.—High school graduates here who do not have jobs and are not going to college will have an opportunity to continue their education this winter by taking post-graduate work at Duncan High school.

Supt. C. P. Davis has invited all graduates back to school to enroll in any of the courses offered. Fees will not be charged unless the number of graduates returning overcrowd classrooms. No age limit is set.

Davis expects the commercial course and home economics department to prove attractive to those who are not employed. College credit will not be offered by the high school but the Central State Teachers college will organize an extension class here this winter to offer full college credit to students.

Lions at Electra Hear School Talk

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 4.—A school program was presented at the Lions club luncheon Thursday at the Armilda hotel. C. P. Engelking, local attorney made a talk on "The Electra Public Schools." Mr. Engelking gave a report of the financial conditions of the schools and mentioned the high standard of work done in the largest school systems in Texas. He urged prompt payment of school taxes and also paid tribute to the school board and faculty members.

E. V. Haltom, member of the school board, thanked Mr. Engelking for his remarks and urged cooperation to make this a successful school year. Visitors introduced were Clifford Dodson, manager of Saul's store which is being reopened in Electra; Mr. Engelking, Electra, and H. P. Cooper of Childress, guest of E. V. Haltom. Dr. R. R. Ramey, club president, presided at the meeting and was selected to be chairman of the entertainment features for next Thursday.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Sept. 4.—Public school began at Nickleville, four miles south of Sunset, Monday, Aug. 31, with Misses Hettie Hudgeons and Ellen Moiser as teachers. Nickleville is a rural school with an enrollment of about 40 pupils. The trustees and patrons expect nine months of the 1931-32 term. The trustees are John Kerr, Josh Whitaker and Albert Swaim.

Members of the home demonstration club at Union Hill, five miles southeast of Sunset, have planned to give a free supper one evening in the near future. The supper will consist of home grown canned products which the members have raised and prepared. A number of business people as well as farmers will be invited to attend the supper. Members of the Union Hill club have done a great deal this year toward preparing a good supply of home grown products to keep for winter use.

Rev. C. D. Droomgole of Waurika, Okla., has been called to the pastorate of Lake Valley Baptist church, five miles east of here. Rev. Droomgole was converted and baptized into the membership of this church several years ago. He was also ordained to the ministry by this church and served as pastor for several years before he moved to Oklahoma.

Several Sunset women met at the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Abbett recently and quilted a bed quilt for Mrs. Abbott, who has been in ill health for a long time. Cake and lemonade were served to all present. Rev. and Mrs. Abbott expect to move from here to San Angelo within the next few days.

Recently a change was made in the Sunset school faculty and one teached was added to the faculty. The teachers are O. W. Myers, superintendent; C. B. Blakney, principal; Miss Nellie Bryan, economics teacher; Paul Johnson, Miss Lottie Sheets and Mrs. Walter Bankston, primary teachers. The 1931-32 term will begin Monday, Sept. 14.

PRYOR DEATH HEARING SET

Shamrock Murder Trial Opens Sept. 12

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Sept. 4.—The grand jury of the 31st district court reconvened Thursday, Sept. 3, at which time several indictments are expected.

The trial of Clarence Pryor, charged with the shooting to death of his father-in-law at a local filling station the night of July 12, is set for Monday, Sept. 12, after being postponed from the original date of Aug. 20 when the defense counsel pleaded not ready for the trial. It is expected that the entire week will be required for the trial.

Civil cases have filled the docket this week and have been very light, officials announced. Court was dismissed Wednesday.

Fasting Clears the Mind

It is unknown at just what period in man's progress there originated the idea of fasting for spiritual and mental clarity. It is, however, known through records that fasting was quite common among philosophers and religious teachers 6,150 years ago, about the time the pyramids of Egypt were built. I believe that it will be conceded by all students of history that practically all of the sages and philosophers up to modern times have undergone periods of fasting just prior to their greatest life work. Possibly some of these men understood the physiological benefits which resulted from an abstinence of food for a time, but I am convinced that their principal object was either to learn to control the physical appetites or because of their belief that a great mental and spiritual change would take place because of this practice.

From biblical history we learn that Moses fasted for 40 days before he was inspired to write the Ten Commandments. Christ's 40-day fast was taken at about 30 years of age, apparently to prepare Him for His great ministry when He was returning to His own people to teach the precepts which have gone ringing down the pages of history and have had such an important influence in the lives of mankind. Almost all of the early Christian prophets, such as Daniel, Elijah and St. Paul, practiced fasting.

In other religions we find Buddha, Mohammed, Zoroaster and other great teachers, who exercised vast influence upon their followers, had received their visions and inspirations after a period of fasting.

My principal reason for advocating fasts of various kinds among my patients is to produce a physical benefit, but I have been constantly surprised by the great mental changes which have taken place with those who often did not have the slightest interest in spiritual or mental phenomena. After the members of a family have commented to me on the changes in the mental state of a patient who has just finished a fast, during which a disposition which was grouchy, irritable and unlovely became changed into a kind and generous personality. I have frequently observed spoiled and pouting children undergo a change in personality within a few days, becoming more wholesome and playful with an entirely new vewpoint on life.

There is no doubt that in these cases the fasting has produced some physical benefit which indirectly relieves mental strain, but I feel sure that there is also some definite mental change which takes place at the same time. Perhaps the body by getting rid of its physical impurities is able to devote a greater amount of energy to the mental processes. Whether the one who is fasting appreciates such a mental change or not, there seems to be some improvement, but this is undoubtedly greater when one anticipates an improvement in the mental as well as the physical condition.

The next time you are fretful, pessimistic, or feel that the world is an unpleasant place to live in, try a few days' fast from regular food, drinking only a large quantity of plain water and cleansing the body both inside and out with plenty of internal and external bathing. Fix your mind on thoughts of health and encourage pleasing visions of a vigorous, clean, efficient mind and body. You may be astonished at the change which takes place in your temperament. The mental irritations will disappear as the mists before the rising sun, and where life before seemed dreary and useless you will have a feeling of well-being and an increased desire to be of service to mankind.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Discharging Ear

Question—Jean writes: "My ear has been draining pus for about four months since I had my ear drum lanced because of a bad ear ache. I tried a six-day orange juice fast but the drainage has not stopped."

Answer—You should not be discouraged as it often takes some time to stop the drainage, and it may even be necessary to repeat the fast two or three times. I would suggest that you take an orange juice or tomato juice fast for at least 10 days, then be careful to adhere to a non-starchy alkaline forming diet. Local ultra-violet light treatments applied to the ear often bring about surprising cures because of the sterilizing effect of the rays.

Healthy Baby Cries

Question—A mother says: "My baby cries frequently although he seems to be in good health. Isn't these some danger of his injuring his lungs crying so much?"

Answer—If the baby appears to be in good health and the diet is properly balanced, there is no particular need to worry about the baby's crying, as it seems natural for all babies to cry to some extent and this develops their lungs. The baby should, however, be carefully watched to see that the crying is not caused by discomfort.

Jackson Clubs Map Fall Course

Special to The Record News.

ALTUS, Okla., Sept. 4.—School lunches and fall gardens are to be studied during the month of September by the large number of members of the Federation of Home Demonstration clubs in Jackson county. This group includes approximately 800 women of the county.

Each member will be expected to answer roll call by naming a vegetable that can be grown successfully in a fall garden.

Subjects which have been listed for discussion are the value of fall gardens, kind of vegetables best adapted for fall gardens, varieties to plant, cultivation, growing the so-called "frost proof" plants and the value of fall manuring and plowing of gardens.

Miss Lemna Maloney, county home demonstration agent, will give a demonstration of school lunches before each of the groups of these farm women. This demonstration will be of particular interest to the women due to the close connection with the present school year and the beginning of practically all terms which makes the preparation of school lunches necessary.

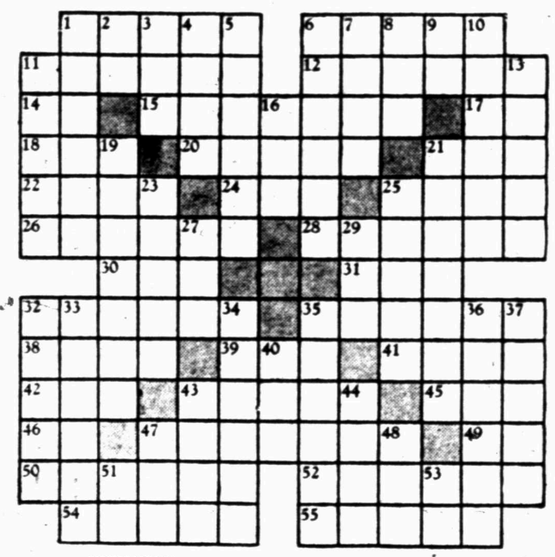

Points at which each of these meetings are to be held include Harmony, Victory, Elmer, Humphreys, Lincoln, Hess, Headrick, Stony Point, Prairie Hill, Warren, Martha, Ozark, Olustee, Friendship and Eldorado.

First Bale of Cotton Ginned at Electra

Special to The Record News

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 4.—Electra's first bale of cotton for the 1931 season was ginned Wednesday. Oscar Klinkerman of the Barwise community was the owner of the bale which was ginned at the Mt. Carmel gin. It was 1,800 pounds of pulled cotton and made a 488-pound bale. The first bale last year was brought in by J. A. Brackeen who had brought in the first bale for three years in succession.

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The prairie chicken season ended yesterday, and most of the hunters from this section who journeyed to Seminole and other points in Gaines and nearby counties have returned with tales of one of the best chicken seasons in years.

Not a hunter that we have talked to failed to get his limit within a remarkably short time after arriving at the hunting grounds, and many returned after the first or second day of shooting after having taken the toll allowed by law.

To hear the nimrods tell it, the sky was dark with the fowl, and not much effort was expended by the hunters, many of whom did their shooting from their automobiles as they rode along the country road. Others, however, took to the field to get more of an atmosphere. Those with bird dogs found that the dogs on the whole were more useful in recovering the dead game than in pointing, as the excessive heat deadened the dogs' powers of scent.

Claude Thornton was in a group that reported a whale of a good time in the happy hunting grounds. The members of the party came back with photographs of their kill which attested to the abundance of the game. A. C. Ansley got his limit in a hurry, and was back in Wichita Falls two days after the season opened last Tuesday.

The Seminole and Brownfield areas abound not only in prairie chickens but blue quail as well. As was to be expected, large numbers of "wolf hunters" were in the army of nimrods, and not a few took to killing the blue quail out of season after their limit of chickens had been reached.

Not many of the quail killers got by with it, however, to hear Ansley tell it.

One of them, Ansley said, bagged a number of quail and iced them down in two large thermos jugs. But this hunter apparently was not well acquainted with the efficiency of some 45 game wardens who were stationed in and near Seminole alone. The game wardens subjected each and every hunter to a thorough "shake-down" before they left Seminole.

This particular violator was discovered. The game wardens were not deceived by the innocent thermos jugs. They confiscated not only the quail, but the hunter's kill of prairie chickens. And on top of that he was hailed into court and fined $250.

Numerous other violations were discovered, and each was followed by swift prosecution. Hunters of this city who abide by the spirit and letter of the law had much praise for the game wardens stationed in the hunting grounds by the state game, fish and oyster commission. The commission highly deserves such praise.

Gardner for President

J. Alvin Gardner, who built great baseball teams for Wichita Falls in years past, and who more recently has piloted the Texas league for two stormy years, has received the call to still a higher position in the game to which he has devoted his energy with outstanding success.

When Ted W. Robinson, president of the Fort Worth club, recently announced that he would fight for Gardner's nomination as president of all the minor leagues, we feel sure Robinson was the spokesman for every club president in the league.

Robinson's contention was that the minor leagues need a strong leader to guide them through the troublous times. He pointed out that Gardner has been a steady beacon to frustrate Texas league clubs, and that he can provide the guiding light for all the minors as well.

Gardner is the most popular and energetic president that ever piloted the Texas league. His energy is boundless, and he knows baseball thoroughly. We feel sure that if his ability is known throughout the minors as it is in the Texas league, his election to the higher job will be a certainty.

Steep Climb to Glory

Billy Finger of Wichita Falls is winning fame in the Mid West climbing hills on a motorcycle, according to newspaper items filtering from Omaha, Neb.

Finger recently won top honors in the climb of Goat hill, a near-perpendicular hill on the outskirts of Omaha that has been conquered only once by motorcycle riders. Finger climbed 135 feet and three inches on a one-cylinder machine, which in derision was called the "pea shooter."

Finger "looped the loop" during the climb, both rider and machine falling half way down the hill, but Finger came out of it unscathed, the reports said.

Taxman Refiners Down Posters, 7 to 2

The Taxman Refinery defeated the Wichita Poster Advertiser club 7 to 2 Friday afternoon on the Jalonic street diamond when Rhyne let the Advertisers down with only four bingles. Bailey and Sissle were touched for eight bingles while Rhyne gave up only four hits.

Score:	R.	H.	E.
Taxman	7	8	2
Wichita Poster	2	4	4

Rhyne and Gossett; Bailey, Sissle and Harvey.

Northsiders Defeat Northwest Motors, 4-3

The Northsiders won a 4 to 3 decision over the Northwest Motors Thursday afternoon on the Jalonic street diamond by the score of 4 to 3. Prince allowed only seven scattered hits while Waldrip allowed only five bingles while six errors kept Prince in hot water all of the way.

Allendale Team Beats Bartosh Nine, 7 to 1

The Allendale baseball team, behind the two-hit pitching of Warren, defeated the Bartosh Filling station nine Friday afternoon on the Bartosh field, 7 to 1. Warren was opposed by Ray of the Bartosh nine. Mundy and Taylor of Allendale led their team's attack with two hits each.

VETERAN BEATS 'BOY WONDER'

Finalists Clash Today in Title Match

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

BEVERLY COUNTRY CLUB, Chicago, Sept. 4.—Sharpshooting his way back toward the peak he has failed to reach since his triumph of 17 years ago, the veteran Francis Ouimit today turned back the "Boy Wonder" of Virginia, Billy Howell, 19, and will play the home town favorite, Jack Westland, tomorrow for the amateur golf championship of the United States.

With a finishing flash of inspired golf reminiscent of the pre-war days when he was first open and then amateur champion of the nation, Ouimet outlasted Howell to win by 2 and 1. The Richmond youth battled gamely right down to the last shot. Ouimet dealt the finishing blow by sinking a 20-foot putt on the 35th green for a birdie deuce after Billy had come within a few inches of holing out from a trap.

McCarthy's Rally Fails

A gallery of 3,000 spectators cheered this brilliant finale shortly after Westland checked the last-ditch rally of Maurice J. McCarthy Jr. to eliminate New York's favorite 3 and 2, on the 34th hole. McCarthy started out a 2 to 1 choice but he never was a match for the cool and skilful Chicago star until it was too late. Six down and six to go, McCarthy put on a typical rally, capturing three straight holes, but missed a three-footer to lose the 34th and passed out of the picture.

The 36-hole final over the battle ground of Beverly will start at 9 a. m. (C. S. T.) tomorrow.

Howell, playing with a coolness that belied his youth and competitive inexperience, looked like a winner as he outsteadied, outdrove and outputted the veteran Ouimet in the morning round. Billy was only one up at lunch, with a medal score of 79 to Ouimet's 80, but he had led most of the way and was playing sounder golf.

Howell Cracks

Starting the final round, a third straight stymie at the 19th put Howell 2 up, whereupon for no apparent reason his control "cracked." The youngster dropped four of the next five holes as he wandered into all sorts of trouble. With par golf on four straight holes, Ouimet was 2 up and looked to have the situation well in hand until Billy put on the first of two courageous comebacks.

Sandlot Titular Series Open Today

(By The Associated Press)

Four Texas amateur baseball clubs—survivors of state amateur federation sanctioned district play—will meet during the week-end to settle the state's two sectional championships.

The schedule:

At San Antonio—South Texas championship.

Admiration Coffee company of Houston vs. the Fraternal Order of Eagles of San Antonio.

At Dallas—North Texas championship.

Community Gas company of Waco vs. Surebest Bakers of Dallas.

The schedule calls for single games tomorrow and twin engagements Sunday.

The Houston team moved into sectional play last week-end by winning its three games with the Dr. Pepper nine of Galveston. Waco swept its three game series with the Sproles Transfer nine of Fort Worth. The Eagles team triumphed over the Austin gassers of Austin while the Surebest team was winning two of its three games at Wichita Falls.

BUC HURLERS POUNDED HARD

Home Boys Rap 17 Hits Off Thurman and Pipkin

GALVESTON, Sept. 4. (AP)—The Wichita Falls Spudders pounced on Thurman and Pipkin for 17 hits here tonight to defeat the Galveston Pirates as the latter team opened the last home stand of the season. The score was 10 to 4. Pressnell was hit hard, yielding 11 hits.

Gerken's home run after two were out, with Allday aboard on a fielder's choice gave the Spudders two runs in the first. Hungling's strike-out ended the eye-opener. For Galveston, Ballew socked the first pitch for a double and went to third as Speer rolled out, second to first. Cox struck out. Bell walked and with Ballew worked a double steal, which scored Ballew. McGhee tripled on a peculiar ball to left, scoring Bell and tying the score. Molesworth flied out to left.

In the second, Wichita Falls got four more on four hits, including Allday's triple. Three of the hits were off Thurman, who was shelved after two were out, and the fourth was off Pipkin, who relieved. Galveston collected another on Wilson's single and Ballew's single. Ballew went to third when Badgro muffed it, Wilson scoring. Speer's fly-out ended the inning.

A single by Fuss in the third after one was out died when Scharein hit into a double play. Cox tripled to start the Buc's half and scored on Bell's infield out. McGhee and Molesworth took infield outs to retire the side.

Garms' double after two were out in the fourth availed nothing when Allday lined out to Speer. Wilson's single was all for Galveston. The fifth found Hungling with a hit but nothing else for the Spudders. The Bucs went down in order.

In the sixth the Spudders were out on speedy parade. The Bucs threatened to score on April's hit and stolen base after two were out and Wilson's third single, which put April on third. But Pipkin fanned to end things.

Garm's single and Allday's double started the seventh. After Badgro's infield out, Gerken's single scored Garms and Allday. Gerken was caught stealing at third, and Hungling went out, Molesworth to McGhee.

In the ninth after Garms had drawn an infield out, four straight hits, one of them Badgro's triple, scored two more Spudder runs. Outs retired the side.

Reagan and Zundy Junior High Elevens Start Practice Monday

Burkburnett, Electra, Bowie and Breckenridge Added to Junior High Conference

Competition in a larger, stronger Northwest Texas Junior High school conference will face Coach A. D. Beck's Reagan Junior High school squad and the city champion Zundelowitz eleven piloted by Roy Golden as the two scrappy aggregations break the ice of the 1931 gridiron campaign by opening training camps next Monday.

The original conference, which functioned for the first time with success last year, included Vernon and Denton in addition to the local junior institutions. Sponsored by coaches and officials of the two local schools, the number of teams in the conference has already doubled since last season, with the possibility that one or more additional schools will be added. Four newcomers to the conference this year will be Burkburnett, Electra, Bowie and Breckenridge, and conference officials hope that Graham soon will be included.

Denton won the conference title last year.

A tentative schedule for the conference has been arranged, but is being withheld pending the definite formation of the circuit.

Reagan and Zundy this year will start out on practically even terms, with both teams having three veterans of last year's elevens returning. Both have fine prospects for a winning team.

One of the heaviest forward walls in years is expected on the Reagan team. Coach Beck has at his call a line that averages 155 pounds to the man, an exceptionally high average when compared to the usual junior high line. Heading the list are David Ashcraft and Howard Clark, both 170-pounders, who are out for tackle positions. Don Yeakley, guard candidate, weighs 160 pounds, and R. D. Atkins, also a guard, weighs 145. Richard and Robert Vietz, 160-pound twins, also are line candidates.

The regulars from last year are J. L. Creecy and Allen Robertson, ends, and Ray West, guard. The big problem facing the team is the absence of experienced backfield men.

Coach Golden has Corbett Hunn and B. D. Tollett, linemen, and Frank Rusk, veteran backfield man, around whom to build the 1931 Zundy eleven. Prospects developed in last year's spring training camp are expected to fill the vacancies.

The Zundy team will practice on the field south of the school, while the Reagan Redbirds will practice on Culbertson field at Eleventh and Harrison streets. Both coaches expect squads of 25 or 30 to report Monday.

175-POUND GUARD JOINS COYOTES

Coyote prospects received a boost Friday when Dean Washman, 175 pounder from Pampa, reported to Coach Barry Holton to try out for the position of tackle. Washman received experience under Coach Otis Mitchell of Pampa High school last season, and earned a reserve letter because of his showing on the "Gorillas," the reserve squad.

Washman is eligible as far as the school officials can determine, but he will not be officially announced eligible until his credits arrive from Pampa.

Although Washman has had experience as a tackle, he will probably be shifted to guard to help fill in the shortage of candidates for this position. To earn a berth in this position he will have to beat out Loyd Smith, Robert Souther and Bill Reynolds, the leading candidates for the position.

Although Washman was not on the regular squad at Pampa last season, he participated in all of the home games and played in most of the road games. He played in the game against the Coyotes last season, after the regulars had cinched the game with a fusillade of touchdowns.

J. R. Holton, versatile youth that has seen service at fullback, halfback, and end positions, has again been shifted. Coach Holton is trying out Holton at the center position in an endeavor to find an heir to this position left vacant by the graduation of C. L. King.

Coach Holton announced that he will work Holton and Jack Gentry, center on B squad last season, at this position for the present.

One of Coach Holton's proteges at Trinity university, Hermen Kozelski, was on the scene Friday to help Holton in conditioning the boys for their first game. Kozelski is coaching at West, Texas, and is getting in shape to take over this position. He has just returned from Columbia university where he has been working on his M. A. degree. This is Kozelski's second year at assisting Holton for he helped the Wichita coach for a few days at the opening of last season.

PIRATES BEAT CARDS AGAIN

Misjudged Fly and Pass Bring 3-1 Victory

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 4. (AP)—A misjudged fly and a base on balls enabled Pittsburgh to make it two straight over St. Louis today, 3 to 1. With the score tied at 1-1 in the eighth, Martin, St. Louis center fielder, failed to gather in Traynor's fly and the hit went for a single, enabling Lloyd Waner to score. The locals added a second tally in the same frame when Bill Hallahan passed Piet to force Jensen across the plate. Score:

LEFTY GROVE WINS NO. 27

Champions Give Boston Double Beating

BOSTON, Sept. 4. (AP)—Jimmy Foxx's 25th homer after Moore had doubled gave Lefty Grove his 27th pitching victory of the season today as Connie Mack's world champions took a double-header from the Red Sox. The scores were 2 to 0 and 6 to 1.

Foxx's homer was a long drive over the left field fence. Grove allowed but three hits in the opener and not a Bostonian reached third. Scores:

Giddings, Jarboe In Women's Finals

By BILL JENKINS

Miss Winnie Mae Giddings, "dark horse" of the tournament, continued her march toward the feminine golf crown by defeating Mrs. W. W. Haney, medalist, 6 and 4 in a semi-final match of the all-city woman's golf tournament on the Weeks park course Friday. In the other semi-final match, Mrs. J. R. Jarboe defeated Mrs. C. O. Davis, heavy favorite, 3 and 2 to enter the finals.

Both Miss Giddings and Mrs. Haney shot 52's on the first nine, but Miss Giddings' ability to deliver in the pinches put her two up at the turn. She won the next three holes to go 5 up with 5 to go. They halved the 13th and Miss Giddings won the 14th to end the match on the 14th green.

Miss Giddings was not conceded a chance at the crown at the opening of the tournament, but her two sensational victories over Mrs. Jane McKanna and Mrs. Haney, places her on an even plane with Mrs. Jarboe, the winner in the lower half of the bracket.

The finalists, Miss Giddings and Mrs. Jarboe will play this morning at 8:30 a. m. to determine the queen of feminine golf in Wichita Falls. The match will go only 18 holes.

Wellington Farmers Hear Cotton Problems

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Sept. 4.—Although acreage reduction is necessary to relieve the immediate situation confronting the cotton industry, permanent solutions of various farm problems will come only through organization, speakers of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association declared at a meeting of farmers held in Wellington. A large number of farmers were in attendance at the meeting which included many farmers who are not members of the association.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. (AP)—A slight early decline in cotton was followed by rallies of 5 or 10 points on trade buying and covering today but prices eased again in the late trading.

December contracts, after selling up from 6.94 to 7.00, broke to 6.87, or 10 points net lower and within 8 points of the season's low record. They closed at that figure, with the general market closing barely steady at net declines of 9 to 11 points.

The opening was steady from 6.71 to 6.79 and March from 7.22 to 7.29 making net gains of about 3 or 4 points during the middle of the day, but the demand then seemed to have been supplied, and prices eased during the afternoon under liquidation. October broke to 6.64 and March to 7.16, and closing prices were the lowest of the day.

Three more private crop reports were issued. One made the condition 63.7 and the indicated yield 14,439,000 bales. Another placed the condition at 66.6 while the third report made the condition 65.7 and the indicated yield 15,503,000 bales.

Liverpool cables said hedging and liquidation had been taken by trade calling and covering in that market. Exports today 30,563 making 285,753 so far this season. Port receipts 56,959. U. S. port stocks 2,741,739.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4. (AP)—Pre-holiday and pre-bureau influences dominated the cotton market today and trading was restricted largely to evening up of commitments. Prices fluctuated rather narrowly and without developing any special trend, closing 5 to 9 points down. The weekly statistics were about as expected and mill takings were rather favorable.

The market will be closed Saturday and Monday, Labor day holidays.

Liverpool cables came in one point better to one worse than due. Private cables said there had been hedge selling met by trade calling. Manchester cabled there was a poor demand for cloth from India and China.

The market developed considerable 11th hour liquidation in advance of the bureau in the afternoon and prices eased off making new lows for the day right at the end with October at 6.67 and December at 6.90 down 10 to 11 points from the highs. The close was at the bottom with October showing net losses for the day of 8 points and December 6 points.

Port receipts 56,585; for week 127,186; for season 299,572; last season 828,521. Exports 30,679; for week 130,247; for season 279,254; last season 425,694. Port stock 2,737,642; last year 1,968,285. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 34,368. Last year 74,753. Spot sales at southern markets 19,664; last year 37,406.

Liquidation Slows Down but Prices Drop in Face of Holiday

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. (US)—Volume of liquidation on the stock exchange today slowed down considerably compared with Thursday's sudden outbreak, but the price tone nevertheless was heavy throughout the session. Price declines, on the average, were limited, but there was still a feeling of apprehension in speculative and investment quarters. The selling which occurred today was a mixture of renewed speculative operations for the decline and continuation of liquidation by frightened, disgusted, or weak holders.

There was evidence of only moderate support and this in very few issues. The railroad stocks were again in supply and with this group displaying signs of continued free offerings it was difficult to encourage any active buying even of speculative mature. Short covering provided the principal means of support in many stocks. Less than a million shares changed hands.

Facing a three-day holiday, many traders were little inclined to take on heavy commitments on either side. External news was of the same character as during the preceding days, with vague, unconfirmed reports of heavy selling for foreigners, and of additional difficulties abroad, in Switzerland particularly.

There is little effort being made currently to picture the situation with unduly bright coloring. As a matter of fact the tendency to accept facts as they actually exist evidences the lack of artificiality in the market. The railroad stocks are the outstanding example of this fact. The industry is facing difficult times unless drastic economics or alternate expansion of gross revenue can be attained. Under the circumstances, with the interplay of politics, prejudice, etc., investors are unwilling to purchase railroad stocks until they are assured that the systems will be enabled to earn incomes sufficient, at the very minimum, to cover fixed charges. Many railroads are running certain sections of their lines at the lowest gross returns in decades. Railroads stocks as a group, of course, are selling at the lowest quotations for the present century.

The weight of the heaviness of railroad shares has its influence throughout the stock market. With many dividends among the rails threatened, with reduction for most and omission for others, there is no basis yet for evaluating the rail issues, and comparisons with other parts of the list, such as industrials and utilities, are thus impossible.

There is no question but that the railroad issues have definitely passed out of the class of prime securities, and that another group, probably the utilities, now possess this distinction. Many competent observers have long claimed that when the market finally turns upward again, the utilities will be found in the leadership, despite possible adverse legislative activity. At least there is a reasonable degree of stability, thus far, to public utility company earnings, although continued depression generally will undoubtedly find reflection in this industry as well as others. Some of the weaker units already have been uncovered.

Bearish activity was very noticeable yesterday, not only from the concentrated pressure against certain issues, but also because of the many disturbing rumors broadcast. International Telephone slumped more than a point net on renewed concern over its dividend. American Foreign Power seemed to be under pressure from bear quarters, although considerable outright selling was reported. Foreign power preferred issues broke sharply.

The pool in Alaska Juneau, which seems to win new recruits every time the market suffers a bad break, carried their pet up another fraction, and short covering helped General Motors. American Telephone was heavily sold and lost two points net.

In the greater part of the list, the day's committments were of evening-up nature preparatory to the holiday. Sentiment at the week's close was decidedly bearish.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Sept. 4. (AP)—Good demand was reported on the cash grain market today, corn being the only commodity hard to sell. Exporters were bidding 44½@45½c for wheat delivered Texas gulf ports.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered gulf export or group three points.

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 49¼@50¾c; No. 1 hard 14 per cent protein 50¾@51¾c; 15 per cent protein 52¾@54¼c; 16 per cent 53¾@55¼c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 46@48c; No. 2 white 47@49c; No. 2 yellow 56@58c.

Barley—No. 2, 33@35c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds 82@85c; No. 2 kaffir 83@85c.

The cash grain market here will be closed both Saturday and Monday.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 4. (AP)—Wheat prices showed a slightly firmer tone today, largely on short covering stimulated by unfavorable reports from Russia on grain collections and rumors of political friction between China and Japan. With a triple holiday ahead, traders were not disposed to get far from shore and price sheld within narrow limits. Wheat had a range of around a cent and corn of ¾ cent. Sales for shipment of 215,000 bushels of cash corn had some effect on trade.

Wheat closed firm, unchanged to ¾-cent higher than yesterday's finish, corn stronger, unchanged to ¾ cent up, oats uneven, ¼c down to ¼c advanced, and provisions uneven, ranging from two cents decline to three cents higher.

Trading was mainly of local character with some evening up by operators who were unwilling to hold commitments over the holidays. Liverpool prices were unchanged to ⅜-cent up at the close, reflecting a little better general demand and less pressure of Russian wheat. Reports from some sources in Russia indicated that estimates of spring wheat seeding had been padded and that the crop would really be far short of expectations.

Australian government inspectors estimated that wheat acreage in Victoria and New South Wales, the two largest wheat producing states, would show a 40 per cent reduction. Rumors of a farm board deal with China for 15,000,000 bushels of wheat were ignored, wet weather was reported prevailing in England.

Corn averaged slightly higher with sales of 215,000 bushels of cash corn for shipment having some influence. Sales for the last two days were 650,000 bushels, the largest total in several months. Crop reports were spotted, rains falling in the Middle West, but with western sections of the belt reporting severe damage from drouth which is only now becoming apparent.

Oats and rye prices showed little change. Provisions were generally dull and steady.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—Sept. 45⅝c, 47⅞@47⅛c; Dec. 48⅝c, 50@50⅛c; May 53@53⅛c, 54⅝c. Corn—Sept. 43⅝c, 46⅛c, Dec. 38⅞@38⅞c, 40⅛c; May 43½c, 44⅝@44⅝c.

State Deaths

MRS. L. F. HUTCHINS

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 4.—Mrs. Lydia Forister Hutchins, pioneer woman of Wilbarger county, died at the family home north of Harrold Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock. Mrs. Hutchins had been in declining health for a number of years and her death was not unexpected.

She was born Nov. 11, 1843, in Mississippi, where she lived until 1881, when she moved with her husband to Tarrant county, Texas, and settled near the town of Crowley.

Mr. Hutchins died in 1900. The widow later moved to the Waggoner colony in 1905 where she has since made her home. Mrs. Hutchins became a member of the Primitive Baptist church in her early life and was an active member of that organization until in her declining years. She is survived by three sons, Tom Hutchins of Elliott, Harvey Hutchins of Abilene, and Judge Hutchins of Harrold, with whom she made her home. She is also survived by six grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist church of Elliott, with Rev. Hughes, pastor of the Primitive Baptist church in Vernon, in charge of the services. Burial followed at the East View cemetery in Vernon with Frost and Ramsey Funeral home in charge.

Active pallbearers were Joe Reck, J. Roberts, Charlie Schuman, Bee Williams, L. D. Langford and Sam Kelly.

FIRE DAMAGES HOME

Slight damage was caused by fire Friday morning to the home of E. H. Dayvault, 1906 Speedway, according to fire officials.

MRS. FEARS OF MANGUM DIES

Oklahoma Pioneer Woman Buried at Altus

Special to The Record News.

MANGUM, Okla., Sept. 4.—Final rites for Mrs. T. E. Fears, former Mangum resident and widely known Southwestern Oklahoma pioneer who succumbed in a local hospital here last night, were held at the Baptist church at Altus at 4 o'clock Friday.

Many Mangum relatives and friends of Mrs. Fears joined in paying their last tribute today.

Mrs. Fears had been in ill health for a number of months and was admitted to the Border McGregor hospital here in a crtiical condition several weeks ago. She underwent an operation, Wednesday of last week, a blood transfusion, in which her 19-year-old son, Edgar, gave a pint of his blood, failed to restore her to consciousness.

Mrs. Fears came to Mangum in 1899, where she taught several years in the local schools. She was married in 1904 to T. E. Fears of Altus. The late Mr. Fears, who died three years ago, was district manager of the William Cameron Lumber company for a number of years before his death.

In addition to her father, R. P. Miller, and son, Edgar, of Mangum and daughter, Mrs. Ferman Phillips, of Atoka, she is survived by her brother, Henry D. Miller, and sister, Mrs. Bobbie Zinn, both of Mangum.

Wheeler Road Work Starts

Special to The Record News.

SHAMROCK, Texas, Sept. 4.—Work began in earnest this week on the paving of highways through the county when the old detour to Wheeler was opened at a point about two miles north of Shamrock and the detour south to the Collingsworth line was opened at the city limits.

Preliminary work is now going forward rapidly on this road and is expected to be ready for fall hauling in Wheeler county this fall.

Contract for the overpass at the intersection of highway 66 and Rock Island railways east of Shamrock will probably be let at the September meeting of the highway commission as it was not let at the August meeting as was expected.

Quail Farm Planned At El Reno, Okla.

EL RENO, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—A 20-acre quail farm is being planned here by the Izaak Walton league.

About 50 to 100 pairs of quail, their wings clipped, will be put in the 20-acre tract to propogate. A close meshed wire fence six feet high will surround the area. As the young become old enough to fly they will leave the incubating grounds. Two or three acres will be planted in kaffir corn for feed.

ARCHER COUNTY WILDCAT

Paul Trahan and associates are reaming down to set pipe and test out a good looking sand topped at 2208 feet in No. 1 Coleman in southeast quarter of section 74, A. T. N. C. L. survey, Archer county. The well is located about three miles northeast of the Chalk Hill production and in the event of a well will be the means of adding many acres of undrilled to tracts to the producing area of the 2200-foot pay.

WILBARGER DEEP TEST

Waggoner Refining company No. S-1 Guy Waggoner, located in the southwest quarter of southeast quarter of section 9, block 1, H. & T. C. R. R. survey, southwest of the city of Vernon, a deep test, has been abandoned as a dry hole at a total depth of 4940 feet.

RANGER BEND LIME

Deep Oil Development-Lindsay No. A-5 L. F. Wilson, located in section 75, A. T. N. C. L. survey, in the heart of Chalk Hill pool of Archer county, has encountered the Ranger lime at a depth of 4915 feet. The test, which is the deepest in North Texas, drilled 15 feet into the formation when a oil show was encountered. The finding of this lime goes on record as the third oil formation uncovered in the drilling of this test, and the outcome is watched with more than the usual interest.

ARCHER COUNTY FAILURE

Frank Hutchinson and others No. 1 H. K. Dycus, located in the south 93 acres of the Dycus farm in section 143, Harris subdivision north of Archer City in Archer county, is abandoned as a dry hole at a depth of 1410 feet.

NORTHEAST ARCHER COUNTY

P. R. Flake and others No. 2 Frerich, located in section 70, block 3, Clark & Plumb survey in northeast Archer county, is drilling at 1445 feet.

ARCHER COUNTY LOCATION

B. W. Omohundro and associates No. C-1 J. H. Turbeville, is a location 150 feet from south and east lines of block 22, Harris subdivision in Archer county.

YOUNG COUNTY COMPLETION

C. E. Beavers and others No. 8 Belknap Coal company, located in section 22, T. E. & L. survey, Newcastle area of Young county, is abandoned as a dry hole at 742 feet.

30 Missing After Blast Injures Japan Battleship

YOKOHAMA, Japan, Sept. 5. (Saturday) (UP)—Explosion of a gasoline tank of the battleship Nogoro today caused extensive damage and 30 members of the crew are missing or injured.

Authorities said it was feared six missing sailors had been drowned.

The blast shook the ship at 5:10 o'clock.

STAFF NAMED IN HENRIETTA

School Term to Be Opened On Sept. 14

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Sept. 4.—According to an official announcement, the Henrietta public schools will open for the 1931-32 term Monday, Sept. 14. Members of the faculty include: First grade, Miss Lulu Johnson, Miss Lavonia Heath; second grade, Miss Ruby Moore, Miss Letitia Ramsey; third and fourth grades, Misses Rachel Brown, Viola White and Bonnie Thompson; junior high, Mrs. S. Karsteter, English; Mrs. Maud Goodman, mathematics and geography; Frank Selvidge, principal, history; senior high, Frank Selvide, civics; N. J. Guillet, coach, commercial law, Latin and civics; Miss Bessie Terry, English; Mrs. Sine Royer, mathematics; E. N. Smith, principal, music and public speaking; Miss Ruth Hopkins, Spanish and English; Miss Lillian Robinson, commercial; Mrs. Mable Pope, history; Miss Jasmine Rudd, home economics; C. R. Roberts, superintendent.

More than one-half the entire faculty has taken special training at various colleges the past summer. Only one new instructor has been added to the list for the coming term. Mrs. S. Karsteter is filling a position made vacant by a resignation at the close of the spring term. Both Mr. Selvidge and Mr. Guillet have arrived to prepare for the opening of school, and the entire faculty is expected within a few days.

Superintendent Roberts has spent the past summer session doing special work toward his Ph. D. degree at the University of Colorado, where he received his M. A. degree several years ago. While in school this year, Mr. Roberts served as assistant to Dr. Davis, educational professor of the university. Some of his time was spent doing research work in Denver, Greely and Boulder. Mr. Roberts attended the world's educational conference which convened in Denver July 29 until Aug. 4.

The program marking the formal opening of school will take place in the high school auditorium on the morning of Sept. 14, after which registration will begin.

Woman Band Director Takes Wellington Post

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Sept. 4.—Miss Margaret Thompson of Hereford arrived in Wellington Monday to assume duties in this city as director of the Wellington Municipal band, succeeding G. Ward Moody who resigned to become director of the band at Perryton. Miss Thompson was director of the Abernathy band last year, and is a graduate of Simmons university where she studied with D. O. Wiley, director of Simmons' famous Cowboy band. She will also be in charge of the Wellington High school band and orchestra, teaching a course in band music in the local schools.

OIL WELLS TO REOPEN TODAY

Wolters Issues Order for New Rules

to keep only about 60 men and an undetermined number of officers here as a "skeleton" force.

Evidence concerning any violation of the production order, he said, would be turned over to the railroad commission and the attorney general in Austin, for possible civil prosecution. Under the law such an offense could result in a penalty as high as a $1,000 fine for each day of the violation.

Order to Resume

The military order, permitting resumption of production and adopting the railroad commission's proration schedule in full, was issued this morning by General Wolters shortly after a conference with State Adjutant General W. W. Sterling, who came here as personal messenger from Governor Sterling to give the commandant the governor's complete instructions for reopening the field.

The procedure as directed today by General Wolters, incidentally, followed his plan of yesterday, which he announced after a telephone conversation with the executive from Austin and which was revoked last night after a second such conversation.

Twenty or more supervisors, gaugers and clerks of the railroad commission were directed to help and accept orders from the commanding general in making the production resumption effective.

Patrol Planned

Cavalrymen will have to ride out again in the 600 square mile producing area, as they did when the shutdown was ordered.

General Wolters called all available oil men to meet him at brigade headquarters here at 4 p. m. today for explanation of his plans for "lifting the lid." Many of course did not come, due to the difficulty of expeditiously spreading the news in the large area. They were being notified as quickly as possible.

General Wolters' military order, in addition to incorporating the proration schedule of the railroad commission as a component part, required producers, effective Sunday to furnish each day a statement of the amount of oil produced on the previous day. It directed all purchasers, users and transporters of crude to make a similar report as to the amount of oil stored, transported, purchased, received or loaded.

Close Check Possible

By that method and with the use of cavalrymen and the railroad commission force, the general expected to be able to keep a close check to prevent any violation or evasion of the production schedule.

The most important provision in the document, other than the production figure, was one restricting drilling any test closer than 660 feet from a producing well or closer than 330 feet to a neighboring property line. Formerly, the rule was 300 and 150 feet respectively.

Although the rule was expected to restrict drilling somewhat, independent producers who had protested the proration schedule itself contended it would operate with unfair advantage for major companies financially able to enter extensive drilling campaigns, in which small operators could not compete.

Governor Sterling himself originally announced his opposition to the railroad commission's plan.

Farish Gives View

W. S. Farish of Houston, president of the Humble Oil and Refining company, was quoted as saying his impression of the order was that it provided for production of too much oil.

"The order apparently puts a premium on unnecessary development," he said, "and benefits those concerns or individuals who can finance their development on a long term basis rather than a quick turnover. There is apparently no limit to the number of wells or the amount of oil that the field might produce under the order."

Production of the field, if it reached the figure General Wolters estimated, would be about 130,000 barrels a day greater than the total allowable provided by the commission's order for July, which proposed a total of approximately 270,000 barrels per day. That order was widely violated.

Asserted flagrant disregard for its provisions was one of Governor Sterling's considerations in declaring that a "state of insurrection" existed in the field.

The martial law occupation of the field is unique in the history of the Texas national guard in that it has had a greater area to control than in any previous martial law operations. Four entire East Texas counties—Smith, Upshur, Rusk and Gregg—are under martial law. However, only those sections where there is oil production have been patrolled.

W. D. Cline Names Executive Staff To Direct 1931 Community Chest

C. E. Basham, president of the community chest, A. E. Kelly, J. F. O'Donohoe and B. D. Donnell were named Friday by Walter D. Cline, general chairman, as the executive committee to direct the 1931 chest drive.

All of the four men named by Mr. Cline are veterans in the work of the community chest, each having been a leader in various phases of the five campaigns thus far staged in this city.

Plans for preparation of window displays designed to aid the campaign were made at a meeting of chest agency executives with Jack Barnard Friday morning. These windows will be on display during the week of Sept. 21. Assisting Mr. Barnard in this work will be Harry Walker, Marion Smith, T. A. Bradley and W. C. Smith.

Bargain Price Presidential Drives Seen as Parties File Statements

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (INS)—Unless there is a miraculous return of prosperity, or other unlooked for developments in the next 10 months, it is likely that the presidential campaign of 1932 will be the most economically conducted—from a money standpoint—since the turn of the century.

The reason for it is simple: Both the Republican and Democratic organizations are broke. And even the most optimistic raiser of campaign funds can see but little chance of getting "real money" from contributors next year, business conditions being what they are, and the country in the economic doldrums.

The Democrats, in fact, are worse than broke. Their financial statement, filed with the clerk of the house today, showed the total party indebtedness to be approximately $761,000, of which nearly half is owed to John J. Rascob, the national chairman, in the form of personal loans. Considering the fact that most of the other indebtedness consists of loans at banks which Raskob and some of his friends have indorsed, it is readily apparent that the genial Smith chairman stands out as the greatest political "angel" in the history of American politics.

VOTE UNITES TWO SCHOOLS

Friberg-Thornberry Districts Consolidate

Consolidating so that pupils of both districts may be eligible to attend high school in Wichita Falls, the Friberg and Thornberry districts voted 36 to 0 Thursday to unite, according to J. A. Hood, county school superintendent.

The Friberg district in Wichita county gave 11 votes, and the Thornberry district, located in Clay county, gave 25 votes to the issue.

Nine Misdemeanor Complaints Filed

Nine complaints charging misdemeanors were filed with County Attorney L. V. Abernathy Friday. Theft of clothing, sale of an automobile without licenses for 1931, aggravated assault, use of abusive language, swindling by check, contributing to the delinquency of a juvenile, and juvenile delinquency comprised the catalog of alleged offenses reported to Mr. Abernathy.

Reports from Juvenile Officer James A. McDonald indicated that a total of 10 juveniles have been jailed during the first four days of September. The month of August set a new record for the department with 35 complaints.

Oil Company Wins $23,880 Settlement

Orphans Home to Be Moved From Chickasha

CHICKASHA, Okla., Sept. 4. (UP)—Plans to move the Baptist Orphans home from this city to a 160-acre tract of land near Fort Cobb, were announced by the board of directors.

The property here was traded for the farm. A new six-room bungalow, barns and other buildings will be constructed on the new grounds by Jan. 1, date set for moving. G. W. Whitfield, manager for the past year, will continue in his capacity.

SOUTH AWAITS TEXAS' ACTION

Sterling Bides Time as Demands Increase

asked the governor to call the session, assuring him they would vote for a cotton acreage reduction bill. In the house, 110 members were pledged to an acreage reduction program. McDonald said yesterday the governor promised to call the special session when 17 members of the senate were on record "in black and white" as favorable to the reduction.

Robinson Has Plan

Dispatches from Little Rock said United States Senator Joe T. Robinson of Arkansas proposed that the United States department of agriculture and the federal farm board cooperate in setting up organizations which would enter into agreements with farmers to cut cotton acreage 50 per cent each year through 1936.

Governor Parnell of Arkansas was quoted as saying he was "convinced 75 per cent of Arkansas farmers are in favor of the Louisiana prohibition bill of Gov. Huey P. Long but that he was awaiting action of Governor Sterling before summoning the Arkansas legislature.

Long Is Impatient

Governor Long of Louisiana issued a statement declaring if the cotton relief movement was to do any good, it should not be much longer delayed.

He urged that "if the governor of Texas won't leap, let the other states do it and try to awaken Texas in the meantime."

Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma called a meeting of representatives of cotton and wheat growing counties of his state for Sept. 16 in Oklahoma City, to discuss proposed initiative legislation to authorize acreage reduction. He asked that crops be held until after the meeting. He announced his proposed law would authorize him, by executive order, to reduce wheat or cotton acreage on advice of a control group, in event a majority of other agricultural states joined.

How Senators Stand

The list of senators issued by McDonald showed the following committed to cotton relief legislation: Nat Patton of Crockett; Miss Margie Neal of Carthage; J. J. Loy of Sherman; Pink L. Parrish of Lubbock; John Hornsby of Austin; Clint C. Small of Wellington; Archie Parr of Benavides; Julian P. Greer of Athens; Charles S. Gainer of Bryan; Oliver C. Cunningham of Abilene; Grady Woodruff of Decatur; Will Martin of Hillsboro; Ben G. Oneal of Wichita Falls; Gus Russek of Schulenburg; W. R. Poage of Waco; J. W. Stevenson of Victoria; Tomas Pollard of Tyler; J. W. E. H. Beck of De-Kalb and Walter Woodward of Coleman.

Placed in the list of doubtful, were Senators Joe Moore of Greenville and Carl Hardin, of Stephenville.

Senator Tom DeBerry of Bogata probably will vote for an acreage reduction bill, McDonald said.

Three senators have not stated their attitude. They are W. A. Williamson of San Antonio; Frank Rawlings of Fort Worth and W. E. Thomason of Nacogdoches.

Listed against the session were Senators Benjamin F. Berkeley of Alpine; W. K. Hopkins of Gonzales; W. R. Cousins of Beaumont; Walter Woodul of Houston and T. J. Holbrook of Galveston and George Purl of Dallas.

Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt was reported to be drafting a bill so it would be ready on the opening day of a session in the event one was called.

Floyd County School Assumes Indebtedness

Special to The Record News.

FLOYDADA, Texas, Sept. 4.—Taxpayers of Sterley school district formerly assumed an indebtedness of $9,100 in bonds as an inheritance from the school districts of Prairie Chapel, Roseland and Lone Star out of which the Sterley school district was carved last year by the county school board. At the same time a tax rate of $1 on the $100 valuation was given approval for school purposes.

Major Doolittle Flies to Record

bad weather from Cleveland to here. Motor beautiful. I ought to get back to Cleveland in two hours. Then I'm going to change planes and fly to St. Louis tonight."

DOOLITTLE GIVEN CHEERS AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4. (AP)—Jimmy Doolittle, new conqueror of the transcontinental speed record, sped back to Cleveland tonight to receive the acclaim of the national air races and to prepare for a greater triumph.

Major Doolittle led the eight fliers who streaked across the country from Burbank, Calif., to Cleveland, but was the only one who continued on to New York. Five of the seven others reached Cleveland safely, one crashed and another was forced down en route.

$15,000 Prize

The eight fliers were competing in the Vincent Bendix $15,000 derby, the highlight of the seventh day of the 1931 national air races.

No sooner had Doolittle dropped on to the airport at Newark, N. J., than Mattie Laird, builder of the Laird solution plane piloted by Doolittle, announced the ship would be refitted with a new motor to enable him to increase his speed to 300 miles an hour.

Enters Main Race

Doolittle will fly the plane in the Thompson trophy race Monday, the climax of the air races. He will be trying to break the world's record for land planes of 276 miles an hour made by the late Adjutant Bonnet of France.

Harold S. Johnson, Chicago, finished second in the 2,046-mile Burbank-Cleveland race. Beeler Blevins, Atlanta, came in third. Capt. Ira Eaker, Washington, was fourth and Art Goebel, who won the dole race to Hawaii, was fifth. James Hall, New York, was the last to finish.

Walter S. Hunter, Sparta, Ill., crashed near Terre Haute, Ind., his plane was burned but he escaped injury. Another contestant, Lou Reichers, Arlington, N. Y., ran out of gas and was forced to land at Beatrice, Neb.

COTTON MEET NEXT FRIDAY

Cooperative Sponsors Parley for Acreage Cut

The Texas Cotton Cooperative association will hold a meeting for cotton farmers and business men of this section here Friday night, Sept. 11, in an effort to bring about a solution to the South's cotton problem, according to a special dispatch from Dallas to The Record News.

B. S. Burgess, organization director of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, will be among several prominent speakers to address the gathering.

The association announced that the gathering would be a "cotton acreage reduction" meeting. Although the meeting is primarily for those residing or holding interests in Wichita county, large delegations are expected from other counties in this district of the association, which include Clay, Montague and Wise counties, in addition to Wichita.

The meeting is expected to be the biggest of its kind held here, according to John C. Mackey, manager of the association's buying branch here. The session will be held in the 78th district court room at the courthouse, and will be called to order at 7:30 p. m.

Electra C-C Meets Banking Needs

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Sept. 4.—For the past several days a chamber of commerce committee composed of E. R. Brown, president, R. E. Scheurer, and G. R. Davidson has been working on a method of exchange by which company checks may be cashed without the oil workers having to go out of town to cash them. Since the closing of the First State bank which was Electra's only bank two weeks ago, it has been inconvenient to a number of citizens who have had to go elsewhere to have their checks cashed.

The committee raised a sum of money through contributions of local business men and this money will be used between the fourth and ninth of each month to cash these checks. The money will be paid out at the office of W. J. Sheldon in the building occupied by the Electra News. W. C. Martin who was connected with the state bank will serve as teller.

For rent, reasonable rates, excellent homes, furnished and unfurnished; choice locations. Mytinger & Walker Realty Co. Phone 6900.—Adv.

ONEAL URGES FARMER UNITY

Senator Ready to Fight for Needed Law

A definite agreement between farmers on one relief plan is necessary for a solution to the cotton problem, Ben G. Oneal, state senator, told members of the Junior chamber of commerce at the organization luncheon Friday noon at the Wichita club.

Senator Oneal cited as an example of his point the agreement of oil operators on certain demands for relief oil legislation. By agreeing, the oil men were able to put their total strength into their fight, and although the measures enacted were not entirely satisfactory to all, each derived benefits that would otherwise not have been received, the speaker explained.

Ready for Fight

In declaring outright, that he, himself, did not know what the solution to the cotton problem is, Senator Oneal urged that if cotton farmers would agree on a definite plan of action, he would represent their views in the state senate.

"If I knew what plan the farmers of the district favor," he continued, "I would feel duty bound to go to Austin and fight for that plan."

Both Senator Oneal and Joe P. Hatchitt, state representative who also spoke at the luncheon, announced themselves in favor of a special session of the legislature to try to bring about a betterment in the cotton situation.

Hatchitt for Long Plan

Representative Hatchitt declared that he decidedly favored the Long cotton holiday plan as the only practical measure of relief. Production is a year in advance of consumption, he asserted, and the only way to bring about normal cotton prices is to allow the two extremes to reach a level.

Senator Oneal said that he anticipated a fight against any proposed cotton legislation. "I do not underestimate the effect of acreage reduction or a cotton holiday upon the gins, the seed mills, the compresses, railroads and similar businesses," he declared. "But I do believe that all of those businesses will be better off in the long run if we can do something to restore to the farmer his buying power."

The luncheon Friday was the first of the fall, and marked the reentrance of the Junior chamber of commerce into active work. All meetings during the summer months were suspended.

Resume Industrial Tours

It was voted to resume the industrial tours, sponsored by the industrial committee, headed by Ralph Pond, after each luncheon. A tour of some manufacturing plant is to be made following the next luncheon, Sept. 18.

The Roughnecks, inner organization of the junior chamber, provided a brief program of entertainment at the expense of two of their members, Ralph Pond, who celebrated his birthday Friday, and Bill McKemie, whose coming marriage was anounced.

Musical numbers were furnished by Hal Hopper of the KGKO staff and Miss Pauline Fulcher. Several announcements were made.

TIRES STOLEN

Several automobile tires were taken at the Everybody's Used Car Exchange, 810 Sixth street, when burglars broke into the place Thursday night. Several automobile rims also were lost, police were told.

WATER LEAKS TO COST USERS

City Discontinues Cuts for Plumbing Defects

No revision of water bills because of plumbing leaks will be made by the city water department in the future, it was annonunced Friday by Dr. A. H. Douglas, superintendent. The action was taken as an economy measure.

With the change in temperature soon to take place, Dr. Douglas said, the water connections of many residences probably will contract and cause small leaks.

ASSAULT FINE

Pleading guilty before Judge Irvin J. Vogel Friday in the county court at law to a charge of assault and battery, a local man was fined $5 and costs. A second man was fined $1 and costs on his plea of guilty to a charge of vagrancy.

A man's breeding and position can be judged by the taste of his apparel. Consciously or unconsciously, men, and women, judge you by the refinement you show in the choice of clothes.

Kellogg's
WHOLE WHEAT BISCUIT . . . are new and different

See how nicely two fit in the bowl!
They're toasted on both sides. Crisper!

WONDERFUL new flavor too! You ought to just taste Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit. Made of toasted whole-wheat shreds that are simply delicious.
These improved biscuits are also certified for food value by the Medical Arts Laboratory. Two biscuits, with milk or cream, supply more than a third of your daily mineral requirements — including 10 mineral salts and 6 vitamins.
Serve these tempting biscuits for breakfast, lunch, children's suppers. 15 to the package. And remember—they are Kellogg's WHOLE WHEAT Biscuit—made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

A&P ESTABLISHED 1859 "WHERE ECONOMY RULES"
Announcing New Low Price Reductions This Week
It is with pleasure that we pass on to our many customers this week new lower prices on popular foods, therefore increasing the buying power of their money at A&P Stores. As the cost of food declines, A&P loses no time in passing the equivalent savings to their customers.

(Personal)
When producers charge us less for food, we lower our prices to you at once, and if we can find a less expensive way of shipping or storekeeping or a less expensive way of doing anything that adds to the price you pay, we shrink our prices accordingly.
In other words our prices are pre-shrunk. By starting way back at the beginning and planning ahead we can sell the best grade of food at surprisingly low prices.
