RAILROADS TO DROP CONTEST

Rumors Says Emergency Rate Will Stand

COMMISSION UNDECIDED

Declared That Roads Cannot Afford to Let the Case Come to Trial

Special to The Telegram.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26.—It transpired today that it is more than likely that the railroads will move to dismiss the injunction suit filed against the railroad commission enjoining its emergency rate on dry goods. This will come as a surprise after exhaustive petitions and allegations made by railroads in restraining the commission from enforcing its order.

It is contended that the railroads cannot afford to let it come to trial on its merits.

Members of the commission have repeatedly said that they want to fight the case. Judge Storey, chairman of the commission, said today that the matter is with the attorney general and he has not yet consulted him about the motion.

VARDAMAN REFUSES TO PAY PREMIUM

Writes Letter to New York Insurance Company Expressing Disapproval of Its Methods

JACKSON, Miss., Sept. 26.—Governor Vardaman has written a letter to the Memphis office of a New York insurance company refusing to pay a premium due on a policy. In his letter the governor said:

"I shall not pay this premium, but think I shall permit the policy to forfeit and become void. I do not care to contribute any more to the gayety of that crowd of robbers, thieves and marauders who seem to infest the company in New York. The policy is only a year old and I have but little to lose by surrendering it at this time.

"I think every southern man ought to cease patronizing these monster insurance trusts that are fattening every day off the millions drained out of the south. They are using this money we contribute in strengthening the clutches which they hold on the republican party and in maintaining their commercial supremacy of the east, which is pauperizing the labor classes of the country."

FIVE MEN KILLED IN PRIVATE CAR

Eastbound Pennsylvania Crashes Into Local Near Philadelphia—More Than Twenty Injured

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 26.—A rear-end collision yesterday between the eastbound New York limited express from St. Louis and a local passenger train, which was standing at the Paoli station of the Pennsylvania Railroad, nineteen miles west of this city, resulted in the death of five men and the injuring of more than twenty others. The dead:

FRANK A. BRASTOW, Haverford, general agent at Philadelphia of the Safety Car, Heating and Light Company.

GEORGE M. PENNYPACKER, foreman of car inspectors in the West Philadelphia yards.

S. S. WALTON, steam heat inspector at the Altoona shops of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

RICHARD Y. GARLAND, general foreman of the West Philadelphia shops of the Pennsylvania.

CAR DUNAUR, Philadelphia, a railroad employe.

Among the injured is D. E. Bolt, Dayton, Ohio, head cut.

All those who met death were in the private car of General Manager Atterbury, which was attached to the rear of the local train. Mr. Atterbury is on his vacation in Maine. He expected to return Oct. 1, and his car had been overhauled preparatory to sending it to Maine to bring him home. It was sent out in the forenoon for a test run and was attached to a later afternoon local train from Paoli for this city. In the car at the time of the collision were about a dozen men, who had been engaged in overhauling the car. Those who were not killed were injured.

TWENTY INJURED IN BUILDING COLLAPSE

Three Story Brick Being Constructed in Buffalo, N. Y., Buries Workmen in Ruins

BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 26.—With a crash that could be heard for blocks, a three-story brick building under course of construction on West Ferret street collapsed yesterday afternoon, carrying down with it thirty bricklayers and carpenters who were at work on the structure. A score of men were injured, several of them seriously.

Several of the injured men were taken to the hospitals and two were removed to their homes. Harry Craig, the most seriously injured, had his skull fractured and will die.

Three or four other workmen sustained cuts and bruises, but were able to go to their homes.

The men were working on the third story today when the west wall went down, carrying with it a portion of the building and a section of the rear wall. That there was not serious loss of life was due to the fact that there was no roof over the building and that most of the wreck fell outward toward the street.

NEW CLUE DISCOVERED IN SUIT CASE MURDER

Woman's Bloodstained Garments Found Near Where Body Was First Seen

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 26.—The latest feature of the situation of the Winthrop dress suit case mystery were the finding of a bundle containing a woman's garment and blood-stained clothes, and the apparent identification of the dress suit case in which was found the dismembered body of a woman near the float of the Winthrop Club.

The bundle was found lying on the shore of the Winthrop Peninsula, about a mile and a half from the point where the dress suit case was first seen. In the bundle, which was inclosed with strong Manila wrapping paper, were a woman's undervest, a towel, part of a shirt, some absorbent cotton and several pieces of cheesecloth, blood-stained. On the wrapping paper was a label with this address:

"R. O. Burnham, 2 Dalton street, city."

The label was that of a silk firm in Kingston street, Boston.

Inquiry at the silk store failed to assist the police, as the salesman was of the opinion that the goods sold to Burnham were delivered last Friday. This is one day later than the finding of the dress suit case and would tend to show that the bundle may have no connection with the mystery.

The report of Medical Examiner Harris is to the effect that the dismembering of the body and the operation performed on the woman were the work of a skilled surgeon, and the allegations of two witnesses, that the dress suit case was the property of a physician, having led the police to redouble their efforts to locate the missing doctor. The police know the man wanted, but have not divulged his name.

Girard has been missing since the discovery of the body.

AUSTRO-HUNGARIAN TURMOIL INCREASING

Opposition to Hungarian Diet Shows No Decrease—Emperor Loses Popularity

LONDON, Sept. 26.—Special dispatches from Buda Pest to this morning's London newspapers indicate that the excitement over the strained relations between the crown and the united opposition in the Hungarian diet is increasing and that while the leaders of the coalition parties are counseling the people to refrain from violation of the law, incendiary speeches are being made by prominent persons in various societies of the country and that probably for the first time the personal popularity of the king-emperor is being assailed.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the coalition party at Buda Pest yesterday, according to the dispatches, several sharp speeches were made and the opinion was expressed that a peaceful settlement was impossible, though there were no references to other than a legal fight over the differences between the two parts of the empire. It is stated that the coalition leaders proposed to Count Cziraky at the conference in Vienna Sunday a compromise of the difficulties arising from the question of the language to be used in the army in Hungary by the introduction of the Hungarian words of command for sixteen hussar regiments only.

It is understood that this proposition was carried to his majesty, whose failure to reply indicates that his ultimatum is unchanged.

DISCORD AMONG AUTOMOBILE RACERS

Substitution of Cars to Enter For Vanderbilt Cup Causes Ill Feeling of Rejected Owners

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Three automobiles which finished last in Saturday's elimination trials for the American team to compete for the Vanderbilt cup were thrown out yesterday by the commission in charge of the American racers. The cars were declared at the close of Saturday's trials to have qualified, but the commission decided to substitute machines of higher power and named three others to make up the team representing this country.

The cars thrown out were a 40-horsepower, owned by E. D. Sherman which finished third; the 50-horsepower belonging to Elwood Haynes, which came in fourth and the 60-horsepower owned by H. S. Houpe, which finished fifth.

The cars substituted in their places were the 120-horsepower of James L. Breese; 90-horsepower owned by Colonel A. A. Pope and a 40-horsepower owned by R. H. White.

The commission announced that this somewhat drastic action was taken to strengthen the American team by substituting for the touring cars racing machines of higher horsepower which would show to better advantage against the high power foreign cars.

This action was partially foreshadowed in the announcement before the trials that the commission reserved the right to name for the American team, five cars which, in its judgment, made the best showing.

The decision caused much dissatisfaction and ill feeling among the owners of the machines thrown out. They were emphatic in their protests and maintained that all the qualifying cars won places on the team and one of the machines now substituted having been the first to break down in Saturday's trials.

STANDARD OIL SEEKS CONTROL OF TRACTIONS

Reported to Be Forming $50,000,000 Syndicate to Absorb Ohio and Indiana Lines

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 26.—The Leader today says:

The Standard Oil group of New York financiers has obtained control of traction securities in Ohio and Indiana with a par value of $835,105,000 at a reported cash outlay of $50,000,000. Other similar transactions are known to be pending.

The positive statement was made yesterday by a prominent Cleveland financier and was supported by the statement of a Philadelphia banker, that the New York Standard Oil coteries is back of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia. This company is working in Ohio through agencies—the Elkins-Widener-Dolan syndicate and Randall Morgan, vice president of the gas company. The former syndicate bought the Cincinnati street railway properties and took over the Cincinnati, Dayton and Toledo, the McCullough lines in Indiana and several others. The latter has just bought the Tucker-Anthony properties, the Columbus, Buckeye Lake and Newark and the Columbus, Newark and Zanesville. It is also admitted by Philadelphia interests that control is sought of the Appleyard properties, known as the Columbus, London and Springfield, the South Market street line in Columbus and the Dayton, Springfield and Urbana.

The positive statement is made by several authorities that once these purchases have been made it is the intention of the United Gas Improvement company of Philadelphia representing Standard Oil interests to form a holding company with a capitalization of $50,000,000 to take over the securities of all the various companies controlled.

FEVER GERM STILL ELUDES SCIENTISTS

CITIZENS IN RIOT AT WATERWORKS

Attempt to Open River Intake Pipe at Manitowoc, Wis., Provokes a Pitched Battle

CHICAGO, Ill., Sept. 26.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Manitowoc, Wis., says:

An attempt of the Manitowoc water Works Company to open a river in-take pipe during a test of the plant yesterday precipitated a riot in which citizens offered armed resistance to the plan. Mayor Solze, who is charged with having been responsible indirectly for the move made by the water works company, and who insisted that the test continue after he had been informed it would be necessary to open the river pipe, was assaulted by bystanders and knocked down. City health officers had issued orders against the opening of the pipe, and in seeking to enforce the order, Health Officer Max Staehle was injured by being struck in the face by a heavy iron bar used for opening a shut-off. Alderman Lordengen was beaten also.

The riot is the culmination of a fight that started with the selection of Stolze as mayor on a platform of city ownership of the water plant. The test of the water works was directed by the council two weeks ago and the water company claimed that in order to meet the requirements of a test it would be necessary to open the river pipe, which would flood the entire system with river water and would endanger public health.

GIRL ADMITS WRITING BLACK HAND LETTERS

Says She Did it for Fun, but Her Father Was Badly Alarmed

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Nellie Nussbaum, aged 15, was yesterday accused by her father of writing him letters threatening death unless he paid her $50. The letters were signed "The Black Hand." The girl confessed to the police that she wrote such letters to her father, saying that she did it "just for fun." One of the letters to her father began:

"See here. We ain't going to fool with you no longer. If we don't get $50 on Sept. 30 at 11 p. m. we will kill you and your girl.

"I am president of the klick and can write plainer letters than the rest.

"THE BLACK HAND."

The close of another letter read:

"Bring $50 to the spot at First street and the river or we will steal your little beauty girl."

Nellie herself is supposed to have been the beauty girl meant.

Nellie's father was alarmed by these letters and put them in the hands of the police. All of them were written within the last two weeks. The police traced to Nellie's pen another "Black Hand" letter demanding money, which so alarmed another business man that detectives were put on his case, too.

MURDER RECALLS OLD LONDON TUNNEL CRIME

Body of Young Woman Found Near Rails in Underground Passageway

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Mertsham tunnel of the London and Southeastern railway where the brutal murder of Frederick I. Gold by Percy Lefroy, alias Mapleton, occurred June 27, 1881, has again been the scene of mysterious tragedy, the details of which so far as ascertained are markedly similar to those of a quarter of a century ago.

In the present case the victim is a young woman, Mary Money, whose body was horribly mutilated. A long veil was tightly wedged in her mouth and the police are confident the woman was murdered in a compartment of a train on which she was traveling and her body thrown from the car. The fact that none of the doors of the train on the arrival at Red Hill were open is considered to prove conclusively it was not a case of suicide.

Miss Money left her home Sunday evening saying she would not be gone long.

OBERLIN CARTER AGAIN IN COURTS

Civil Suit Begun For Recovery of Money Alleged to Have Been Embezzled

CHICAGO, Sept. 26.—Oberlin M. Carter, former captain in the United States army, who was released from the Leavenworth penitentiary some time ago, after having served a five years' sentence on a charge of having embezzled several hundred thousand dollars from the United States government through construction contracts, returned to Chicago today and was examined before Special Examiner Richard Wyman.

The former army officer has completed his sentence and is now spending his time and money in fighting the government in an effort to recover money and property alleged to have been embezzled by Carter while government engineer at Savannah, Ga.

The matter now in question is in connection with civil suits filed in the United States circuit court against Carter and some of his relatives for the recovery of the property. The entire case has been referred to Special Master Wyman to take testimony and report.

Carter withstood a rigid cross-examination in an apparently fearless manner.

During today's examination an effort was made to show that previous to the real conspiracy, Benjamin D. Greene and John F. Gaynor, the contractors alleged to have been implicated with Carter in defrauding the government, had loaned Carter money and placed him in a position so that when he was made engineer in charge and had the letting of contracts, they might have a claim upon him.

Carter declared that he never borrowed money from Greene or Gaynor, but that he had written them concerning his investments so that they could also invest.

The examination will be taken up again tomorrow.

Doctors Unable to Find Yellow Plague's Cause

FEW CASES REPORTED

Ten New Patients and Two Deaths Record for 24 Hours in New Orleans

FEVER RECORD TO NOON

New cases, 10.
Total to date, 2,878.
Deaths, 2.
To date, 372.

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 26.—With the fever appearing only sporadically in the upper districts the principal fight of the authorities is now being carried on in the lower sections of New Orleans, to which the new cases are chiefly confined. Reports for the last forty-eight hours, covering new cases, deaths and foci give an encouraging view of the situation. Dr. Chassaignac returned today from Tallulah, saying the worst is over there and praising highly the work of Dr. Esdorf of the marine hospital service and other doctors on duty there.

There has been a total of fourteen deaths at Tallulah. None occurred after Dr. Chassaignac took charge. Dr. Anderson, who recently was stricken with fever at Tallulah, is reported in a serious condition. The difficulty that has been found in stamping the disease out at Patterson is said to have been due to the unwillingness of doctors to report mild cases. Dr. Rudolf, however, wired the state board he has had a meeting of physicians and they pledged themselves hereafter to turn up everything. Although an explanation in the American Medical Journal of the character of the discoveries which have been made as the result of the investigations in an effort to discover the microbe of yellow fever, it is acknowledged by Dr. Pothier and the investigators who have been working independently that it is not yet possible to announce the discovery of the germ. Dr. Pothier found certain hitherto undiscovered cells in the blood taken from the patients during the first three days of illness, but until these cells are definitely located in the stegomyia during her period of infection it will not be possible to announce the success of the investigations.

Two sets of investigators have been at work, one headed by Dr. Pothier and the other by Dr. Archinard, who stands in the front rank of bacteriologists of the country. Dr. Archinard several weeks ago permitted an unofficial announcement of his discoveries, but has refused to discuss them pending the completion of the investigation. Bacteriologists representing the government said today so far as they knew the identity of the germ has not been established. The new public health association last night voted down the proposition to admit women to membership on the governing board, but subsequently reconsidered the matter and referred it to the executive committee.

JAPANESE EDITOR EXPECTS NEW CABINET

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 26.—Kentaro Kayahara, editor of the Yorudzu Choho, one of the leading papers published in Tokio, is in Seattle. Mr. Kayahara stated his personal observation led him to believe practically all of the people of Japan are dissatisfied with the peace treaty. "Baron Komura will not be received with funeral rites when he reaches Tokio nor received with shouts of glad acclaim," said Mr. Kayahara. "I believe the present ministry will be dissolved soon, because the people are clamoring for the resignation of the cabinet and the emperor is giving personal attention to the memorials to the throne. The people of Japan demand a new cabinet and I think they will win."

Mosquito Bites Cause MALARIA

Scientists have discovered after the most careful tests and experiments that mosquitos are actually the means of conveying Malaria and other summer fevers. These dangerous insects carry the disease germs from those already sick and when they bite, they inject the poison directly into the human blood. Then the only way to be safe from these diseases is to stop the mosquito from biting—you may say: "easier said than done," but it is an actual fact that

PALMA'S PARTY WINS IN CUBAN ELECTIONS

Re-election of President Next December Now Declared to Be Assured

HAVANA, Sept. 26.—Complete returns from the entire island, which have been delayed owing to the bad condition of the telegraphic service, show that in the elections Saturday last for members of election boards the supporters of the government were victorious in every province, not having lost one important place. The victory was so complete that it is now generally admitted to mean the re-election in December of President Palma and the election of the vice presidential candidate Mendez Capote, the leader of the moderate party.

Colonel Ferrera, secretary to General Gomez, the liberal candidate for the presidency, was arraigned today charged with seditious and revolutionary utterances. This makes the sixth charge now pending against him, the others including participation in the burning of the city hall at Vueltas.

Today's mail brought to the liberals the first report from their adherents in Cienfuegos of the riots there Friday last, which resulted in the killing of Congressman Villeundas and Chief of Police Illance. This report differs very little from former accounts, except that it lays on the moderates the blame for starting the disturbances.

Additional reports from Cienfuegos received by the government say that the c.... leaders in the alleged dynamite plot were two Italian anarchists named Bouve and Grau, who have been making seditious speeches here and elsewhere for some time. Order continues to prevail throughout the island.

Grove's

The-Highest-Quality Chill Tonic

It would be false economy to cheapen the cost of production by using ingredients of inferior quality, because the selling reputation of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic demands the maintenance of the highest obtainable quality. The makers use every year about ten (10) tons of Quinine alone, which is the largest amount used by any manufacturer in the world, and one-thirtieth (1-30) of the entire Quinine supply.

INDEPENDENTS WILL HAVE STATE OFFICE

Clearing House Organized for Facilitating Long Distance Telephoning

Following a meeting in the offices of the Fort Worth Telephone Company here Sept. 11 and 12, which was attended by Messrs. A. J. Brown and Cecil A. Simpson of Dallas, E. W. Dunaway of Paris, C. A. Shock of Sherman, J. N. Earle of Waco, G. R. Butler of Gainesville, J. E. Boynton of Waco and J. A. Murray of Fort Worth, the Texas Independent Telephone Clearing House Association has been organized at Dallas and application made to the secretary of state for a charter.

"The purpose of the organization," said J. A. Murray this morning, "is to facilitate the concentration of independent telephone business in Texas. This will be a mutual benefit to several scores of telephone companies operating over the state. This matter was fully decided upon after exhaustive discussion in the meeting held here and power was delegated to act in the premises."

The Fort Worth Telephone Company reports that its line into Dallas will be completed and ready for business on or about the first day of November.

Long distance connections have been recently completed from Fort Worth to Waxahachie, Waco, Houston, San Antonio and intervening points by this company.

GAINESVILLE FOOTBALL TEAMS

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Sept. 26.—Much interest is being shown among football players in the organization and practice of teams in this city. Three good teams have been organized, and the first game is scheduled for next Friday, to be played between the Business College and South Gainesville teams.

LAMAR HANDICAP SHOOT

PARIS, Texas, Sept. 26.—The four days' handicap shoot took place Monday at the grounds of the Lamar Gun Club and opened with a preliminary shoot to warm up for the live bird contest tomorrow.

There were five events at twenty blue rocks each. A number of professional shots are on hand, representing cartridge and powder factories, and a few well-known amateur sportsmen are on the grounds, but the number is expected to be considerably augmented this afternoon. Among those present are Frank Faurote and L. I. Wade of Dallas, Wallace Miller of Austin, Jas. Day of Fort Worth, J. M. Lednum of St. Louis, H. E. Sherman of Kansas City, Arthur Sausier of New Orleans and George Tucker, editor of the Brenham Evening Post.

NATIONAL COMMISSION SESSION

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—President August Herrman and Secretary John E. Bruce were re-elected Monday by the National baseball commission. After reaffirming the rules for the government of games by the two leagues last fall, the commission adopted a number of supplementary rules, of which those requiring that all players eligible to take part in the games must have been under contract not later than Aug. 31, the posting of a forfeit of $10,000 by the owners of the participating clubs for a faithful carrying out of the rules and provisions of the series and the fixing of salaries of the umpires at $400 each for the series formed the most important enactment.

Because of the fact that the championships in the National and American leagues are not yet definitely settled, the schedule for the world's series was not given out, nor were the umpires announced.

The national commission made public an announcement of additional rule regarding waiving claim of players. It provides that no waiver shall be asked by a major league club of a player purchased from a minor league previous to Feb. 1. After that the president of the major league containing such club must immediately notify the president of the other major league, which shall have twenty-four hours in which to file claim, if desired, for a club of his league. The rule is to avoid conflict.

POPE WILL GIVE ATHLETIC PRIZES

Pius X. Would Encourage Field Sports Among Youth Belonging to Catholic Societies

(Special Cable. Copyright, 1905, by Hearst News Service.)

ROME, Sept. 26.—The first meeting of the juvenile Catholic sporting associations in Italy met with great success in Turin last year. It has now been decided that the second meeting shall take place this year from the gardens of the vatican itself and under the august patronage of Pope Pius X. early in October. Not only has his holiness promised to give numerous prizes, but he will be present with his court at the finals of the various events, and will himself distribute the prizes. This meeting will include gymnastic, cycling and foot racing events, and is open only to members of the Catholic societies or those affiliated, the idea being to establish new bonds of union between his young people.

PORT SAID FEARS DYNAMITE DISCHARGE

Eighty Tons of Explosive Which Sunk in Suez Canal to Be Discharged

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Intense excitement prevails at Port Said, consequent on the decision to blow up the steamship Chatham which was sunk in the Suez canal some weeks ago, while on fire, says a Herald dispatch from Alexandria. There is eighty tons of dynamite in the Chatham's cargo.

That the town will be damaged to any extent is considered unlikely, the vessel being nearly twelve miles distant.

Batteries for the explosion are already fixed at Kantara, which is 14 miles distant from the ship.

Among the preparations made, the railway authorities have one thousand bags of sand ready for repairs and a large staff of workmen have been engaged, as the fresh water canal has been diverted 222 yards. Canal traffic ceases on Wednesday evening.

The dynamite on board the Chatham will be the greatest amount ever blown up at one explosion.

Thirty tons of dynamite were exploded in 1883 on board a ship in Cherida Santander, killing 300 people and injuring over 2,000.

Thursday's explosion will be far bigger, but the canal runs through the open desert at the point in question and all necessary precautions have been taken.

WILL DELAY TRAFFIC

PORT SAID, Sept. 26.—Serious stoppage of traffic on the Suez canal is threatened owing to the necessity of blowing up the steamer Chatham, which was sunk on Sept. 6, owing to the fact she was on fire and the flames threatened to reach a quantity of dynamite which formed part of her cargo. Since that time the wreck has obstructed the waterway. Divers tomorrow will place cases of blasting gelatin in the hold of the Chatham and these will be connected with an electric battery ashore and eighty tons of dynamite in the wrecking will be exploded Thursday morning. An expert who is conducting the operations says it is impossible to predict the amount of mischief which will ensue from the great upheaval or to what extent traffic will be impeded. He says there is no precedent to show the effect of the explosion of such an amount of dynamite. It may conceivably form a crater in the bed of the canal in which the wreckage may be buried, leaving the canal deeper than before.

The Suez canal company declares it impossible to estimate the length of time the canal will be blocked, but the company's experts are confident it will only be a matter of a few days.

EXPRESS BUSINESS SHOWS BIG GAIN

September Shipments Will Show Increase of 10 Per Cent Over Last Year

"The increase in the volume of arrivals in shipments, transfer business and shipping from Fort Worth usually begins during September," said T. B. Matthews, agent for the Pacific Express Company at the Texas and Pacific passenger station, today. "We estimate that the increase in business for September, 1905, over the corresponding period for 1904 will approximate 10 per cent, the greater part of the shipments being produce and merchandise. In the latter class of goods, the development of Fort Worth as a commercial center is shown in the amount of millinery, clothing and other kinds of merchandise that we are called upon to transport to out-of-town customers of Fort Worth merchants.

"Another class of shipments handled extensively by the company is the lime business. Look at that bunch of baskets," said he, pointing to 300 empty baskets piled in packages of thirty each on a nearby truck and consigned to T. A. Austin, Laredo, Texas. "Those will return in a few days filled with fresh limes. The company handles this character of fruit for the accommodation of dealers in cold drinks and receives a goodly quantity from time to time, which is easily disposed of to the trade in the city."

Fruit Growers Discouraged

WACO, Texas, Sept. 26.—The fruit and truck growers have not had a meeting in some time, as they were somewhat discouraged by the hard luck this year, incident to the wet spring. A few growers did very well with berries and potatoes but other things were a complete loss almost, including work and seed. It is stated, however, that this was the worst year ever experienced by the truck people and that probably its counterpart may not be encountered for twenty-five years. It is probable that as spring comes on again the growers will get together and lay their plans and try it again, realizing that they cannot have good luck all the time. In the past they have had very good luck, doing very well indeed some years.

LAND OFFICES TO BE CONSOLIDATED

Business at Magnum and El Reno, Okla., Probably Will Be Transferred to Lawton

LAWTON, Okla., Sept. 26.—Recent official communications from the interior department at Washington indicate that on July 1, 1906, the United States land offices at Mangum and El Reno, Okla., will be abolished and the business of these districts transacted from the Lawton offices. The majority of homesteads in these districts have been patented. There are yet six hundred acres of public lands to be disposed of in the Lawton district. There was talk of consolidating the Kingfisher offices with El Reno offices, but new rulings recommended the retention of Kingfisher offices.

CAN RAISE POTATOES MINUS VINES, HE SAYS

Montana Inventor Exhibits a Process for Producing Tubers in New Way

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Sept. 26.—At the county fair, which opened here yesterday, there is on exhibition what the inventor calls vineless potatoes. Some three months ago D. D. Darst, discoverer of the new process for producing potatoes, announced he could grow potatoes in from two to three months in a special preparation discovered by himself in layers on top of each other and without vines. His experiment has been conducted in a box eight feet square. In the bottom of this box a layer of Darst's preparation is placed to a depth of three inches and a number of potatoes planted therein. Another layer of three inches is scattered over these potatoes and more potatoes planted in the usual way, and so on until the frame is full. Darst claims the box may be built almost any height with layer after layer of potatoes without affecting the producing qualities of his composition and that he can have new potatoes for the market in any climate at any time of year.

CZAR'S ASSEMBLY PLAN ENDORSED AT MOSCOW

Representatives of zemstvos and Municipalities Support National Douma

MOSCOW, Sept. 26.—The congress of the representatives of the zemstvos and municipalities in the interior of Russia and of the Polish Russian provinces began yesterday at the residence of Prince Teherbatoff, under the presidency of Count Heyden, one of the marshals of the nobility who presented to the emperor the petition drawn up by the last all-Russian zemstvo congress. A representative of General Durnovo, governor general of Moscow, was present with instructions to stop the meeting of the rules under which the delegates are permitted to assemble were violated. These conditions provid that the sittings shall not be public; that the presiding officer shall not allow any departure from the subjects mentioned in the program, and that the speakers shall not be permitted to say anything that might cause racial excitement.

The congress discussed a resolution calling for the organization of a regular zemstvos bureau and declaring that the representatives of the zemstvos should participate in the gosudarstvennia (the lower house of the national assembly), organizing therein a united majority for the protection of their own interests and for the furtherance of their work in the cause of liberty. Only two speakers were in favor of boycotting the douma, the majority of the delegates declaring that it was necessary to participate in its proceedings in order to continue the struggle with the bureaucracy and to exact in the name of the people liberty and equality.

Several of the Polish Lithunian delegates made heated speeches.

They declared that if the Russian intellectual classes were not represented in the douma, the borderlands would be left to fight the struggle for liberty alone.

The Siberian delegates petitioned that the right of suffrage be extended to Siberia as soon as possible.

After a lengthy debate the following resolution was adopted:

"The zemstvo and municipal congress considers that the national douma will give national representation in true sense. Having in view, however, that the electoral assembly, in uniting a great part of the social forces of the empire, may serve as rallying points for the general movement looking to the attainment of political freedom, this congress recognizes the necessity for those Russians who are united on the political program formulated by the zemstvos congresses to seek to enter the douma in the largest numbers possible, for the purpose of forming there a united group with the object of obtaining guarantees of personal liberty and equality."

One hundred and thirteen zemstvos and sixty-six municipal delegates are attending the congress.

BRAKEMAN ROBBED ON TOP OF TRAIN

Cotton Belt Employe Forced to Give Up Sixty-one Dollars at Point of Revolver

SHERMAN, Texas, Sept. 26.—D. Ingram, freight brakeman on the Cotton Belt local, reported a startling experience to the police. He found two men on the train when near Whitewright and put them off. As he was passing over the train again, when near Luella, seven miles out of Sherman, two men, who, he says, were the ones he unloaded at Whitewright, crawled out from the cover of a pile of lumber and in answer to a question as to what they were doing back on the train, shoved pistols in his face and took his watch and $61 in money from his pockets. The watch they handed back to him and, leaving the train while in motion, shouted back to their victim, "We'll see you later."

When the train reached Sherman the yard inspectors found the air brake hose had been skillfully disconnected.

Ingram lives in Sherman. He has furnished the chief of police and the sheriff as accurate a description as he can of the personal appearance of his assailants.

FROM BIRTH TO OLD AGE

Life is a constant fight against the dangers of disease, and he holds his own the best who keeps his body and its functions in the best working trim.

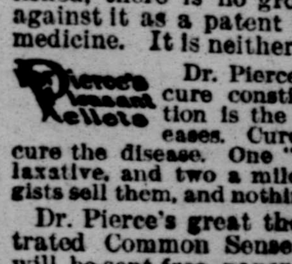
There are times in every life when Nature gratefully accepts a little aid. She does not want a whipping up for that is inevitably followed by depressing reaction. In most cases a tonic and alterative properly compounded will afford the required help by promoting digestion, assimilation and reconstruction of tissue and reducing waste of vital nerve forces.

It must not be an alcoholic stimulant—just a vegetable tonic. Meeting these needs and conditions Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has been in successful use these forty years and has accumulated a record of cures unequaled in the history of medicine. It is composed of non-alcoholic, glyceric extracts of Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherrybark, Bloodroot and Mandrake root, and by special processes perfected by Dr. Pierce, in his own laboratory, so combined in the most exact proportions, and their medicinal properties preserved without the use of alcohol as to render it a safe and effective remedy for use in the family without consulting a doctor. Young or old can take it freely as needed, and now that its composition is published, there is no ground for prejudice against it as a patent medicine or secret medicine. It is neither.

Pierce's Pleasant Pellets Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good."

Dr. Pierce's great thousand-page illustrated Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps.

A MISTAKE TO USE GLASSES WHEN NOT NEEDED.



There is no greater error than to place glasses before the eyes of young people unless they are positively needed. TO CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hyomei Guaranteed to Cure by R. A. Anderson or Money Refunded

The popularity and increase in the sales of Hyomei are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing cures have been made by this remedy that the proprietors have authorized R. A. Anderson to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will cure catarrh. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by R. A. Anderson.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and makes a permanent and complete cure of catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1.00 and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a lifetime, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle of Hyomei can be obtained for 50 cents. It is the most economical of all remedies advertised for the cure of catarrh and is the only one that follows Nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

Breathe through the inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and your catarrh is cured. That's all.

If not cured, R. A. Anderson will refund your money.

CATTLEMEN REPORT RAIN NEEDED BADLY

Ranges in Good Condition in Most Places—Car Shortage Is Noted

Consensus of opinion of the inspectors for the Texas Cattle Raisers' Association is that cattle conditions the past week were fair. However, rain is badly needed in some sections of the state. In other parts beneficial showers have fallen.

The movement of cattle was not as large as the previous week. Territory shippers complain of a shortage of cars.

There was a falling off of export cattle to Cuba from Galveston.

Reports indicate that cooler weather is prevailing in West Texas and the Panhandle and also in the territory country.

A synopsis of the cattle reports show the following results:

Galveston—Three boat loads of cattle were shipped to Cuba from East Texas points. The report indicates cooler weather with rains over much of the treritory. Cattle are in good condition.

Odessa—Condition of ranges, cattle and weather good. Thirty-nine cars of cattle were shipped to Fort Worth.

Carlsbad—Range good, weather warm and clear most of the week.

Liberal—Conditions generally good, the weather fair. Seven cars of cattle were shipped to Kansas.

Clarendon—Condition of cattle and range good. Weather fair. Thirty-two cars of cattle were shipped to Kansas City and St. Joseph.

Chickasha—The past week has been dry and cool. The bulk of cattle has been shipped. What is left will be fed or roughed through the winter. There are yet a few shipments of cows to be made from this section. The weather is favorable. Seven cars of cattle were shipped to Kansas City.

Dalhart—Conditions are fine.

Alice—Rain is needed in this part of the state. There have been local showers, however. General conditions are fair. Two cars of cattle were shipped to New Orleans.

Beeville—Conditions good. Four cars of cattle were shipped to Fort Worth.

Hebronville—Light rains and cooler weather have prevailed the past week. Thirty-six cars of cattle were shipped to Fort Worth, Galveston, Corpus Christi and St. Louis.

Miami—Weather is cool and pleasant, cattle doing well, grass growing. The inspector, R. C. Snowder, reports no shipping being done from Miami because of the fact that there is no government inspector at that point.

Lawton—Conditions good. Shipments light.

Oklahoma City—Stock cars are reported scarce and cannot be had on Oklahoma branch of the Santa Fe. Persons are driving their cattle across to the Katy. Conditions are good, cattle doing well, but ticks are bad. Range in good shape, weather cool. Thirty-four cars of cattle were shipped to Kansas City.

San Angelo—Rain badly needed in some parts of the country, although light showers have fallen lately. Twenty-seven cars of cattle have been shipped to Fort Worth and St. Louis.

Ashland—Cattle range and weather good. Thirty-two cars of cattle were shipped to Kansas City.

RAILROAD RUMBLING

President Frank Trimbull of Colorado and Souhern board and General Manager Mike Sweeney, who were here Saturday last, are in Galveston today, having spent Monday at Houston looking into the conditions that surround the construction of the Trinity and Brazos Valley road from Mexia into Houston and Galveston. While in Houston instructions were given by these officials to hasten the construction of the line and as fast as additional laborers can be secured they will be put to work. There is already a force of 500 or 600 men working on the grade between Mexia and Houston.

The same report of their movements was given out in south Texas as was announced in Fort Worth, but the fact remains that Messrs. Trumbull and Sweeney are looking after the matter of rushing construction of the Brazos Valley into Houston and Galveston, and also to push work from the north end of the route out of Fort Worth.

While in Galveston President Trumbull made the statement that within a year the system would be in active operation through from Denver to Galveston via the Fort Worth and Denver City and the Trinity and Brazos Valley.

Messrs. Trumbull and Sweeney return to Houston today and probably will reach Fort Worth Wednesday, where another conference likely will be held before the former departs for Denver.

It is believed that as a result of Mr. Trumbull's visit to Texas the construction of the Trinity and Brazos Valley will be pushed from this date on.

It has been stated by officials of the company that the trip of Mr. Trumbull has been for the purpose of inspection, but those who are conversant with the situation maintain that his visit has more of importance in it than merely an inspection of the work now under way.

CONSTRUCTION CONTRACT LET

Northern Pacific Begins Building New Road in Washington

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 26.—Third Vice President Levy of the Northern Pacific says the work of constructing the new road along the Columbia river from Kenneweck to Vancouver, Wash., has already been started in a small way and that the contract for grading has been awarded to a St. Paul firm.

At Cape Horn there will be required the building of a tunnel 2,000 feet long and much of the grading will involve much rock work.

To complete these extensions, two large bridges will have to be built. One probably will be built across the Columbia at Vancouver and another to enter Portland across the Williamette.

The road probably will be completed in about fifteen months.

HOME SEEKERS' RATES

Passenger Association Authorizes Low Round Trips

Homeseekers' excursions have been authorized by the Western Passenger Association to the southwest on the first and third Tuesdays in October, November and December to all points in Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Oklahoma, Indian Territory, Arkansas and parts of Kansas and Nebraska. These excursion rates are granted in an effort to promote colonization in the southwest.

The minimum selling rate from Chicago will be $16.50 for the round trip. To accommodate those who may wish to go to these points and remain, colonist rates—75 per cent of the one-way rate—will be in effect for the first and third Tuesdays in January and February.

FAST SERVICE ORDERED

Mexico Limited Will Cut Thirty Hours Off Schedule

The Gould system, in connection with the National Railroad of Mexico, is to establish a fast passenger service between St. Louis and the City of Mexico, a distance of 1,900 miles, beginning Dec. 15. It will be a semi-weekly service in each direction. Pullman equipment will be used from engine to observation car. First-class transportation only will be honored on these trains. This service is for the purpose of developing winter tourist travel to the republic of Mexico. There will not be more than six cars in the train, which will be "limited."

The trains will leave St. Louis Tuesday and Saturday mornings at 9:30 o'clock and arrive in the City of Mexico the second afternoon at 4:18. On the return trip the train will leave the City of Mexico at 10:30 a. m., Tuesday and Saturday, reaching St. Louis the second afternoon at 6 o'clock.

Between the terminals there will be but fifteen stops in the 1,900 miles. These trains will reduce the running time from St. Louis to Mexico City from eighty-two hours to fifty-four hours.

BONUS RAISED

Del Rio in Lead Now for Orient Border Town

The probability is that the Kansas City, Mexico and Orient railroad will cross the state border into Mexico at Del Rio. Vice President R. L. McCaulley has offered to build to that place provided the citizens will give a bonus of $75,000. At a mass meeting of citizens held at Del Rio a few days ago some $45,000 of the required amount was subscribed before the meeting adjourned. The town of Bracket is a competitor of Del Rio for the road.

It has been a question for some time with the Orient as to what town on the border would secure the road as it crosses into Mexico. Laredo also wants it, but as yet no specific effort has been made in that direction. It is pretty well assured that Del Rio will secure the road.

While here a few days ago Mr. McCaulley said that construction on the road in Texas is to be pushed from now on and that the line is to be built as rapidly as it is possible to do the work with the limited number of laborers it is possible to secure.

NORTH FORT WORTH and ROSEN HEIGHTS

Air compressors for the North Fort Worth water works system were ordered at a meeting of the water works committee of the city council, held Monday night, contract being let to the McQuatters Plumbing and Machine Company, which has installed the system. Cost of the compressor is not to exceed $1,500.

Other work on the system has been completed and with the installation of the machinery ordered, supply of water will be ready.

Services conducted by Rev. Sid Williams were well attended Monday night and this morning. Night service was short, two additions being made to the church. "What think Ye of Jesus Christ? Is He God, Man or Imposter?" was the topic.

Mrs. Scott H. Mack and children of Blanket, Texas, are visiting Mrs. I. T. Valentine.

ELKS CONSIDER BUILDING PLANS

Association to Be Formed and Stock Issued to Pay For $40,000 Building

Further plans for the erection of a building were considered by the Elks at a meeting held Monday night. Report of the building committee showing the purchase of a lot at Sixth and Rusk streets was received.

Under the arrangements, an Elks building association will be incorporated and stock will be issued to pay for the lot and a building to cost not less than $40,000.

Subscriptions sufficient to pay almost all of the purchase price of the lot have been made.

L. J. Polk, Thomas Stewart and A. S. Goetz were appointed a special committee to work in conjunction with the committee already in existence. Much enthusiasm is being shown regarding the new building.

Mid-Week Bargains

Mid-week bargain announcements will be a feature of Wednesday's Telegram, the policy of leading merchants in offering special reductions to induce mid-week trading being continued. Special price reductions for Thursday will appear in The Telegram of the night before.

NEEDLE PARALYSIS

A CURIOUS TROUBLE TO WHICH ALL WHO SEW ARE LIABLE.

Mrs. Blacksten Tells How She was Crippled and How Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Cured Her.

The steady use of a particular set of muscles tends to chronic fatigue, which produces faulty or difficult motion, trembling, cramps and even paralysis. Writers, telegraphers, tailors and seamstresses are among the classes most threatened in this way with the loss of their power to earn a living. The only safeguard is to keep up the supply of of nerve force through the blood, which carries to the nerves the food that support their strength. The following instance shows that nerve power may be recovered after it seems entirely lost, if the right means are taken. Mrs. O. S. Blacksten, of No. 584 North Bowman street, Mansfield, Ohio, says:

"For years my hands would become so numb at times that I would drop anything I attempted to lift. Later they became so bad that I could not sew any longer, and at last I could scarcely do anything at all with my hands. At night the pricking sensations would come on worse than ever, and my hands and arms would pain so that I dreaded to go to bed. My family doctor gave me some nerve tablets. They helped me a little, but only for a short time after I had taken them and if I happened to be without them for a day or two I would be as bad as ever or even worse. Finally I got a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began to take them.

"The result was surprising. By the time I had taken the last pill in my first box I could see a gain. Few know how much it meant for me not to be able to sew, and when I first found I could not feel the needle between my fingers I was alarmed. Thanks to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, I am now all right. I can sleep undisturbed by pain, and for two years I have been as well as I ever was in my life."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills feed the nerves by making new, rich blood and in this way have cured nervous diseases of every description from simple restlessness to paralysis. They have banished the tortures of neuralgia, the weakness of nervous prostration, the disability and awful pain of locomotor ataxia. They are sold by all druggists or direct by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

WATTERSON'S FAREWELL ADDRESS

Colonel William J. Bryan, the great democratic leader and idol of the masses of the American people, has departed from America for a sojourn of about one year abroad, where he will study social and economic conditions for the purpose of comparison with conditions existing in this country. Editor Henry Watterson of the Louisville Courier-Journal has not been a very ardent admirer of the great Nebraskan, deeming him too radical, and not a safe party leader. But on the eve of Bryan's departure abroad, the great Kentucky editor publishes the following farewell address, inscribed to Colonel Bryan:

Wherever he goes he will surely find prerogative sitting in the rocker. He will find the classes lording it over the masses without any saving clause, such as our more elastic system gives us. He will find conditions so totally different from any that assail us as to make it certain that the remedies proposed there can have no rational application here. He will also find social philosophers as lovely as angels and as simple as children to urge him on the way of rainbow chasing. But he will find nothing to clear up the mysteries of the tariff, to elucidate the application of the trusts, or to show him, or us, how to make government better or purer.

Yet, let him go, and God be with him. While he is away the Courier-Journal will hold the fort. Faithful among the faithless, it will preach democracy, unterrified and undefiled, as he has just preached it at Chicago; though with some omissions suggested by recent experience, some restorations out of bygone history—home rule, revenue reform and the regulation of the corporations in the foreground—and, when he comes back, why he and we, and Ollie and Tarvin, will get together and make it all right for nineteen-eight and after.

"Marse Henry" voices the sentiments of the great mass of democracy in his few happy remarks. Colonel Bryan carries with him abroad the best wishes of his people from one end of the union to the other, and while he is engaged in studying foreign conditions, we will all be engaged in the study of state and national questions here at home. We will ferret out some method of bringing the great democratic party all together in the next national campaign, under the banner of our matchless leader, and by the time he returns he will find a solid democratic phalanx extending from Maine to California, all eager and anxious to be led to the impending great national victory by the one man now in the democratic party who seems capable of leadership.

And Bryan and a reunited democracy will win in 1908. Events are already shaping themselves in that direction. The people are standing aghast with the evidence of republican political corruption that is coming to the surface almost daily, and a fixed resolution is already forming in the minds of the masses. There is going to be no more temporizing with the situation, and gold contributed by the trust magnates of Wall street as a political slush fund will lose its potency. The will of the people and not that of the trust bosses will prevail in the next election, and when the will of the people prevails it always means the triumph of the great democratic party—the only party in existence that is of the people, by the people and for the people.

RESPONSE OF A PATRIOT

"If the people of McLennan county shall elect you to the lower house of the Texas legislature next year, will you obey the call and serve?" is a question that was submitted to Judge George Clark in Waco a few days ago.

And note his reply:

"I am not seeking such duty, but if my fellow citizens want me to serve them in that way and elect me I shall certainly serve. A good citizen could not decline. I would take the duty if to do so involved a great financial sacrifice."

Commenting on this question and its patriotic response, the Waco Tribune says:

That was a patriotic response and the last sentence is distinctively modest, for many of us know it would cost Judge Clark a large sacrifice of money to leave his law office three or four months, serving in the legislature. But if he is willing to accept such duty what an advantage to Texas; what an honor to McLennan county his service would be. Judge Clark's reputation as a jurist and publicist is national. For years he has practiced in the supreme court of the United States at Washington. No man has more intense love and devotion for his people than George Clark. His experience in and study of public affairs has matured and ripened his judgment. Men have held views opposed to his on public questions, but his integrity has never been questioned and we doubt if even a tithe of the men here in his home county who have been at variance with him would oppose him in this instance. On the contrary there would be gratification if the services of such men can be had as a legislator. For, fellow citizens, we need strong men in the legislature, and that you all know. Judge Clark has been on the supreme bench of Texas. He has been a power in politics and is now taking life quietly, earning all the money he wants or needs, nor seeking any political preferment. But he could afford, on the call of his home people, to serve them where his services can be helpful. Patrick Henry, after he declined a place in the supreme court of the United States, after he had declined the post of ambassador to France—served the people of the Old Dominion in their legislature. So did Thomas Jefferson, after he had been president of the United States. Texas needs her ablest men in the legislature. If George Clark is willing to go there his home people will send him.

The Telegram is gratified at the attitude of Judge Clark in this matter, for it shows that while his business engagements are of the most pressing nature, he still realizes the duty he owes to his state and his people. He is willing to lay aside the lucrative professional business in which he is engaged to go down to the Capital City next year for a season and take part in the enactment of such legislation as he believes will be of benefit to the masses, and his example is to be commended.

Judge Clark is a man of more than state-wide reputation, and is generally conceded to be one of the brainiest men in Texas. It is true that in his political career he has made some mistakes, but this is only evidence of his humanity. For several years now he has been battling in the ranks of the democratic party, and has said repeatedly that he was ready and willing to get out on the firing line and do valiant service for the party. There are some people in the state who would keep alive the rancors of the past, and they will adversely criticise the movement to send George Clark to the state legislature, but it should not affect the determination of the people of McLennan county. George Clark can and will serve the people of all Texas in the state legislature, and McLennan county owes it to the state to send him. But McLennan county has only done half its work. Waller Baker should be sent to Austin as Judge Clark's colleague.

The willingness of Judge Clark to serve and his published announcement that he will accept the nomination as a member of the next state legislature makes the work undertaken by The Telegram and a few other Texas papers much easier. The grand central idea embodied in this work is for the people of every legislative district in the state to call out and elect as members of the next state legislature the very best material in the district. The fact that Judge Clark has consented to become one of the representatives from McLennan county will stimulate other patriots all over the state to respond to the demands of the people, and the result will be that Texas will have the best legislature next term that ever assembled in the city of Austin.

It is a most gratifying incident, this willingness of Judge Clark to serve in the next legislature, and The Telegram congratulates the people of Texas, the citizens of McLennan county and Judge Clark upon his determination. Now, let the other representative districts of the entire state get busy along the same line.

Fort Worth will have no meeting of the Cattle Raisers' Association next spring in an official capacity, but will have a Fat Stock Show of such magnitude as will bring all the stockmen in the southwest to this city if the affair is properly managed. Fort Worth should get busy on that next Fat Stock Show.

Senator Platt of New York denies that he is growing feeble and is preparing to retire from political life. When we come to think about it, the grave and reverend senator does move about rather spry in spite of his 73 years, when Miss May Wood happens to be anywhere in his vicinity.

President Roosevelt is now at work on his message to congress, and his party is wondering just how many bad breaks he will make in the document. The president is a man who does his own thinking, and that is not always in accord with republican party bosses.

Ellis county, Texas, which is the banner cotton county of the United States usually, will produce but a bale to five acres this year, on an average, it is stated. Similar reports of a short crop come from all over the state.

The young man who is trying to make his way through life on hard luck stories is making a great mistake. No man who needs assistance in his business is looking out for a Jonah.

Will Tarrant county's best legislative material follow the example of that of McLennan county, and express its willingness to respond to a call from the people?

Bricks and other building material are steadily rising in Fort Worth—going up daily in new buildings.

JANET'S NARRATIVE CONTINUED

CHAPTER XXIV.

Sir Gideon's Bargain

When the footman had departed with his master's orders to fetch "Mr. Roger," the old man turned to me with a suave courtesy that somehow struck the first real note of failure in the task I had undertaken. If he had thrown something at me, or abused me, for bringing an accusation of murder against his son, I should have felt more comfortable than under his polite:

Do, pray, sit down. You must be fatigued after the experience you have gone through."

There was no satire or incredulity in his tone now, but there was an undefined something in it that frightened me into obeying his behest. I was not, however, so frightened that I was unable to see the very careful preparations he was making to receive "Mr. Roger." He rearranged a reading lamp on his table, so that the light was shaded from his own hawk-like face, but fell full on the door, and he slightly wheeled his chair in the same direction.

It was not long before a quick step sounded outside, and my fear of the old man was momentarily effaced by an all-consuming curiosity as to how the young one would behave in such trying circumstances.

The door opened, and surely enough it was Roger Marske who entered. "How are you, sir?" he began, without seeing me. "I have been in London all day on business, so I thought I would run down and sleep here. Great God in heaven! What is that?"

The exclamation followed swift on his sudden recognition of me, and the wild words, emphasized by his backing toward the door, were tantamount to a confession—to a confirmation of what I had been impressing on Sir Gideon. How would Sir Gideon take it?

Just for a moment he bowed his head and held his thin hand before his eyes, as though overcome by emotion; then, with a quick gesture of self-mastery he pointed sternly to the door.

"Go into the dining-room. I shall follow you directly," he said, adding, as Roger turned to go, "Stop."

My wretched persecutor halted and faced his father. "Do not attempt to leave the house," he latter snarled. "If you do I shall turn the men out to scour the country-side within five minutes."

The younger Marske shot a furious glance at the elder, who returned it with a stony stare, as it seemed to me. But Roger must have read something in his father's countenance to expedite his departure, and also to inspire a calmer mood. For, as he swung round on his heel to the door, I thought I detected the gleam of another expression of his cruel eyes. What it was I could not exactly define, but it seemed to me that fierceness had been replaced by a blend of cunning and curiosity.

As soon as the door had closed on him, Sir Gideon rose from his chair and approached me, all the fire and vehemence gone from his demeanor.

"I need hardly say what a blow this is to me, Miss Chilmark," he faltered, in a broken voice. "I fill a high station in the service of the state; my ambition for my son was boundless. Your news tonight has shattered all that, and much more besides. I shall never hold up my head again. For my son's behavior on entering the room leaves me no option but to accept unreservedly your account of his treatment of you today—whatever may be his guilt in that other affair."

"I am sorry for you," was all the answer I could muster.

"That is kind, and—er—encouraging, because we are entirely in your hands, and I have a favor to ask. I should wish to hear my son's version from his own lips, alone and uninterrupted. Have I your permission to join him for that purpose? I will give you my word of honor that he shall not leave the house."

The pathos of the request, made to a helpless girl by a great statesman amid the splendor of his own mansion, was not to be denied. I bowed a silent assent.

"I thank you, and I will not keep you waiting long," said Sid Gideon, and he quitted the room.

A footman soon entered bearing a tray on which were wine, biscuits and fruit.

"With Sir Gideon's compliments, miss," said he, placing the much-needed refreshments to my hand.

My hunger overcome the natural repugnance I felt at accepting the hospitality of anyone of the name of Marske, and I fell to on the contents of the tray with zest. I had hardly finished when Sir Gideon returned. Treading heavily, and with bowed head, he advanced to his chair and sat down.

"I must think of you first; you must be in great suspense," he began. "It is all too true—this charge you bring. My unhappy son did commit the crime of which Capt. Rivington was convicted. Nay, hear me out," he broke off, as I leaped to my feet jubilant. "Rivington can—and I hope will—be cleared, and Roger must bear his load of shame and misery. But oh, Miss Chilmark, I come to you as a suppliant."

"For what?" I asked.

"For my son's life, or, to speak more correctly, for the barest chance for it," replied Sir Gideon, eyeing me askance. "I have kept my word with you; he has not left the house, and will not do so—unless you give me permission to tell him that he may try to make good his escape, in return for your clemency I will engage to furnish you with certain proofs which my son has indicated to me for the establishment of Rivington's innocence, and, alas! his own guilt. The disgrace I must bear as best I can; it is just for his life, if he can save it by flight, that I plead."

All my instincts were up in arms at that. "You mean," I said hotly, "that if I do not consent to your terms, the proofs you mention will not be forthcoming?"

He waved a deprecating hand. "Not quite that," he said smoothly. "But you will understand, being a young lady of so keen an intelligence, that if you demanded my son's arrest tonight here in my house, you could not expect the same facilities that a more yielding attitude would entitle you to. I should, naturally, after my son's arrest, be deeply concerned in moving heaven and earth in his defense."

I understood, or thought I did, not only that, but a good deal more besides. I understood that my conversation with this astute old gentleman had been entirely without witnesses, and that he intended to repudiate everything that had passed if I did not accede to his demand. I had no reason but a woman's reason for thinking that he would be so wicked, but, to put it plainly, I did not "like his looks." That dislike influenced the course I took—that and my eagerness to obtain proofs of Arthur's innocence without a day's delay.

"What do you propose?" I asked.

"That I may tell Roger that he may make his escape—with at least fifteen hours' start it will be, if he goes at once," replied Sir Gideon, leaning toward me. "Then, tomorrow, I will myself take you to where you can verify the confession he made to me just now. If you will do me the honor to be my guest tonight, my housekeeper—I am a widower, and there are no ladies in the family—shall attend to your comfort, and in the morning I will drive you to the place where the proofs are to be obtained."

"Very well," was my answer. "I must avail myself of your offer."

"It will enable us to start early tomorrow," said Sir Gideon. "I will send the housekeeper to you at once.'

CHAPTER XXV.

The Face at the Gangway.

Breakfast was brought up to me by a resourceful maid, who helped me to remove from my clothes the traces of my scramble at the burning Mill House.

"Is Mr. Roger Marske staying here?" I asked her.

"Oh, no, miss," was the prompt reply. "He arrived last night, but he didn't stop more than an hour. One of the grooms drove him to Brentwood, but as it was too late for the last train he must have stayed there."

At 10 o'clock the girl returned to say that the carriage was at the door, and that Sir Gideon was waiting for me. I found my host in the great oak-paneled hall. His face looked drawn and haggard, but his manner was firmer and more assured than during the momentous interview of the previous evening.

"I trust that my people have made you comfortable," he said. "Ah, that is well. Then, if you are ready, we will start, for we have a long drive before us."

Under the portico a barouche, having the hood closed and drawn by a fine pair of bays, was waiting, with a powdered coachman on the box and a powdered footman with his hand on the door knob. I could not help thinking gayly that my vindication of Arthur bade fair to be a triumphal progress, but I was recalled to more sober reflections when Sir Gideon followed me in, taking the opposite seat, as far from me as possible. He preserved a rigid silence till we were clear of the lodge gates, and then leaned suddenly forward and said:

"Beyond the immediate purpose in view, you and I have nothing in common between us. You will not expect me to do violence to my feelings by keeping up the pretenses of polite conversation. The subject that is most in our minds I decline to discuss."

"I should prefer not to talk, but I think that you owe it to me to tell me where we are going," I replied.

'I have not the least objection to that," he made answer, his lips twitching strangely. "It seems from what my son told me last night that he was secretly married to Captain Rivington's sister. They spent some time together on a yacht, which is now lying in the Victoria docks. We are going there to see the captain of the vessel, who is in a position to prove the connection—also, that my son parted from his wife after a serious quarrel."

I have been informed since that it is very doubtful, if I had succeeded in obtaining Sir Gideon's glibly promised "proof," whether it would have been strong enough of itself to convict Roger Marske of the two murders, or even to snatch Arthur from the executioner. But in my ignorant vanity I thought that I had achieved so much that I had as good as achieved all, and I sat back, content.

During the eighteen-mile drive we exchanged no further words, but I had plenty of food for thought in Sir Gideon's disclosure. Roger Marske's courtship of Lady Muriel shed a lurid light on his reason for killing Clara, and Mrs. Rivington, too, if the latter were aware of the secret marriage. I could see it all so clearly, and so, no doubt, would the jury before whom Roger Marske would be tried. It was the old story of a clandestine marriage, of speedy repentance on the part of the husband, and of a lapse into crime when more material advantage offered in a better match.

AMONG EXCHANGES

The Waco Times-Herald takes the correct view of the beef trust fines. As a matter of fact the paltry fines that were paid by the packers of the Sulzberger concern are about as valuable in the suppression of that crime as a drop of water on a duck's back would be in drowning the duck. A few penitentiary sentences, and forfeiture of charter with the property of the packers turned over to a board of state or Federal control would cure the evils of the beef trust, and nothing short of that will cure those evils.—Sherman Register.

The fining of the Shwartzschild & Sulzberger people the sum of $25,000 was the result of four of the twenty-one indictments found against the big packers. The result is encouraging from the fact that it is evident the Federal indictments can be made to stick.

Governor Hogg's many friends in Texas are glad to know that his health has been completely restored. There may be a few who have tried to stand in the big ex-governor's way who will not rejoice at the announcement, but they are few, indeed, and will disturb Governor Hogg no more in the future than they have in the past.—Corsicana Sun.

Governor Hogg has returned to his home in Houston and says he is in fine shape physically. One joint in his neck was dislocated in a jar received in a railway car some time ago, and that is still giving him some trouble.

One of his home papers says that Uncle Trav. Henderson is trimming his sails and getting ready to enter the race for comptroller. With the large number of clerks in the comptroller's office thoroughly organized into a political machine, and fighting him to a cold finish on the highways, the by-ways and at the crossings of the roads, Uncle Trav. would find himself up against a tough proposition, and yet who knows what the result might be?—Austin State Topics.

The department clerks in the comptroller's office at Austin do not constitute the people of Texas, and Uncle Trav. knows that fact full well.

Cotton in this section is nearly all out of the field, with slight prospect for a later top crop, wherefore an impression that an unexpectedly small yield will cause an unexpectedly high price. The Texas cotton crop is going to be much shorter than was generally expected, but 15-cent cotton will hardly materialize this season.

In a lengthy opinion recently rendered by Attorney General R. V. Davidson, he holds that stamps are not stationery in the true meaning of the term, and that county commissioners are not warranted in such allowances for county officers. He says, however, that the implied power may exist for the court to pay for postage or express charges in the transaction of business as a court. The reason for the ruling is that in some western counties officers have been charging postage and the commissioners have allowed the accounts.—Gilmer Echo.

In the appropriations for the various departments of the state government at Austin postage is always enumerated as one of the specific items, but it seems there is no law under which county officers can claim free postage at the expense of the county.

Verses That Ring

AFTER KIPLING

A youth there was with money to burn,
Even as you and I;
And he burned it up—he never could learn—
Even as you and I;
His friends got wise and they smelled the smoke,
They whispered and called him "an easy bloke,"
But they left him the day that he went broke—
Even as you and I.

O the coin we waste and the friends we waste,
And how little we come to know
That the coin we spend and the coin we lend
Count small in this world of woe!

He plunged in the wild, death dealing race,
Even as you and I;
And won what he thought was an enviable place,
Even as you and I;
Ere long his money and "friends" had waned,
(The "friends" his money alone had gained)
And he slunk from the tinsel and gilt, ashamed,
Even as you and I.

O the mad, mad race and the killing pace,
That sear like a white hot brand,
Leave their scars too late, but as sure as Fate,
When they come you will understand

ALONE IN THE PEW

I.

One day into a city church there blew a gentleman,
His coat was black, his hair was gray, and pearl gray were his pants,
He seemed a stranger wandering without a settled plan,
And all decided that he was a visitor by chance;
So the ushers gently took his arm, and ushered him to a seat,
They handed him a book of hymns, and there they let him stay,
And wondered at the absence of the one they'd hoped to greet,
The wealthy pillar of the church whom something kept away.

CHORUS

Alone in the pew; lost, like a clew;
John D. Rockefeller no one knew.
None cared a fig, none chanced to twig
John D. Rockefeller disguised in a wig.

II.

The stranger sat and stroked his head, his noble suit of hair,
And patted it as if to say, "What do you think of that?"
He fondled it as if to be quite sure it still was there
But they didn't notice him at all, except to pass the hat.
The services continued, and in fact went on apace,
And in his quiet corner sat the unknown looking on,
And presently a smile was seen to break out on his face
As though his thought was, "At this rate I might as well be gone."

CHORUS

He might have been led to believe himself dead,
For at John D. Rockefeller none turned a head.
None cared a fig, none chanced to twig
John D. Rockefeller disguised in a wig.

PENNANT AWARD CLOSES SEASON

Denver Team, Winner in the City League, Received Telegram Trophy

The 1905 pennant offered by The Telegram to the champion club of the City league for this season was awarded to the Denvers at a meeting in the parlors of the Worth hotel Monday night. Denvers and Kellers were present with a party of their friends, who are interested in amateur baseball and representatives of The Telegram.

President Ray McKinley, on behalf of the league, stated the object of the meeting and introduced W. H. Calkins of The Telegram, who said:

"Mr. President and Gentlemen: I feel honored at being called upon to make a few remarks to you this evening and, to make myself better acquainted with the members of the team to which the most of my remarks are to be directed, I can but say that I feel you are old friends. I feel this because a fan who has seen ball players perform in uniform must—if he be a real live one—feel a kind of proprietary interest in each member of the club. In the case of the City league it is, of course, an interest which we all feel in home affairs and which centers in the Denvers, who have proved themselves the champion team of the league for the season 1905.

"And I think I voice the sentiment of every lover of baseball in Fort Worth when I say that the winning club has the sincere congratulations of the city on its success in the struggle for supremacy which ended on the Haines' Park diamond Sunday afternoon.

"A word to the members of the team which came such a close second in the race. The fact that you had the stickability to play from the beginning of the season with the object ever in mind to win the championship makes for you a record of which you have good reason to be proud, and it must be said that it took the most persistent and painstaking efforts on the part of the opponents to wrest first place from you. The pennant to be awarded will be within your reach next season and I feel sure you will use every effort to bring it into your camp in 1906."

Mr. Calkins unfolded the pennant, which is in the form of a triangular flag with blue field and strips of red and white narrowing to a point, bound in white silk braid, caught together with the usual gold rope and tassels, the whole being mounted on a staff ten feet in length.

To Oscar Hamilton, manager, and Crit Lewis, captain of the Denvers, Mr. Calkins said:

"On behalf of the management of The Telegram I hereby award to the Denver team of the City league this pennant as a token of the interest that the paper feels in your organization as a Fort Worth institution, again congratulating you upon the victory which you have obtained and assuring you of the hearty good-will of The Telegram not to yourselves only, but to the entire field of amateur baseball in Fort Worth, considering Fort Worth City league the best amateur baseball aggregation in Texas and the Denver club the best in the state. Gentlemen, I thank you."

Acceptance for Team.

Acceptance of the flag was made by Oscar Hamilton, who expressed the thanks of his team as manager and complimented The Telegram in specific terms, saying in part: "Not only the Denvers as winners of this pennant, but every player who has participated in any of the games played this season as well as their friends in the city, feel toward The Telegram the most heartfelt gratitude and loyalty for the treatment we have received from that paper during the season just ended. Were it not for the encouragement which we have received through this medium, I doubt very much if the season would have been finished at all and that it was finished successfully I believe and do not hesitate to say is due in no small measure to the kindly attitude shown by the paper which has provided such a beautiful memento of the season."

Crit Lewis, captain of the pennant winners, said: "Gentlemen, the Denvers feel proud of the fact that they have such friends in Fort Worth as The Telegram, and I think the entire City league appreciates the pennant, not in such measure as we of the Denvers do, but in the fact that it is a trophy to be played for from year to year. I assure you all that, while this flag may adorn the headquarters of each team in the City league in as many years, the Denvers will do all in their power to keep it safe from the rest. I wish to reiterate the thanks expressed by Mr. Hamilton and to express my personal thanks to each member of the Denvers for his efforts, through which we were enabled to receive the coveted 1905 pennant. The team that wants it next year will have to work hard to climb the Denver flagstaff."

League Prospects.

Mr. McKinley again spoke of the history of the organization in the past, assuring the assembly that the future depended on the individual actions and support of each member of each club to compose the league in 1906. He announced that action will be continued through the coming and intervening months, which are likely to result in better amateur baseball for next season. His remarks were received with marked enthusiasm by all present.

A. G. Gunn, captain of the Kellers, the team which was in the lead up until the last game and the last part of that one, expressed himself on behalf of his team in congratulations to the winners, informing them that it would be necessary to look sharp during next year, if they wished to retain the flag won on such a close margin. "You fellows thought that the Kellers were the kid team of the league, but I am sure you are now willing to admit that they were the warmest kid proposition you ever went against," said Mr. Gunn.

Crit Lewis, captain of the pennant winners, presided over an after-meeting, which was in its nature an executive session, the proceedings of which were not given out for publication, but at which joy was unrestrained and mirth prevailed.

Contest Bulletin

Participants in The Telegram Liner misspelled word contest are beginning to count up their lists of errors in preparation for the close which takes place with the issue of Sept. 30. As announced, answers must be kept in order for each day and must be received at The Telegram office not later than noon, Oct. 2.

WEATHER REPORT SHOWS LITTLE RAIN

Small Fall at El Paso Only One Noted By Observers—Warm Weather in the State

More than half the state of Texas had a maximum temperature of above 90 degrees for the 24 hours ending at 8 a. m. today. The temperature here ranged from 60 to 90 degrees, the wind velocity being four miles an hour this morning. Stations reporting maximums of less than 90 degrees were: Abilene, Ballinger, Corpus Christi, Longview, Tyler and Wharton.

Texas has been practically free from rainfall for several days, with the exception of El Paso, which registered another rain, .22 inch.

Official statement of weather conditions prevailing is as follows:

"High pressure continues to dominate the region east of the Rockies, the center being over New York state. Clear, cool autumn like weather prevails throughout the 'high,' light frost occurring at Buffalo this morning. The extreme northwest is coming under low pressure conditions, cloudiness being quite general in the oncoming 'low.'

"Rainfall has been of no importance in any portion of the country. Morhead reports a thunder storm.

"Temperatures have changed but little since last report.

"The cotton belt is practically rainless, clear and temperatures about normal."

Forecast until 7 p. m. Thursday for Texas east of the one-hundredth meridian, issued at New Orleans, is:

"East Texas (north)—Tonight, fair; warmer in west portion. Wednesday, partly cloudy weather; probably showers in west portion.

"East Texas (south)—Tonight and Wednesday, generally fair."

ACTION TAKEN HERE IN ADVANCE OF STATE

Regulation of Cotton Seed Price as Made Subject of Resolution Causes Much Comment

Meeting of the farmers held in this city last Saturday is considered the most important of all county meetings held upon that day, the action in regard to the price of cotton seed as suggested here being a step in advance of that at other places. Full account of the proceedings appears in The Telegram of Sunday.

It is probable the suggestion of holding for $14 as discussed in this city and made the subject of resolution will be laid before the executive committee during the early part of the week, following which it is expected to take the form of a circular sent throughout the state with the sanction of the state officers.

A prominent member of the organization in discussing the matter today declared it just as logical to take action regarding the cotton seed as regarding the staple itsel fand expressed a belief that the action would be met favorably by the farmers throughoutt the state with every possibility of an extension into a national movement.

"The meeting held here," he said, "was the most important ever held by members of the organization."

STOCKS

Special to The Telegram.

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Rather unexpectedly London houses were good buyers of stocks during the first half hour. Their largest purchases were in the Steel stocks and Union Pacific. This gave the market for a while the appearance of strength, but later when this buying ceased, prices developed a reactionary tendency. The one exception was Brooklyn Rapid Transit, the day being one of extremely good character for this issue. It is rumored on the street that certain powerful Philadelphia interests are acquiring a large line of Brooklyn Rapid Transit. The money market is practically unchanged, almost all loans so far being made at 4¼. The supply of money at 4½ per cent is large. Sales to noon, 314,800 shares.

GRAIN

Cables were ¼ off on wheat, the local market ruling rather dull. The December option closed ⅛ lower. The weather is very favorable throughout the belt. Cars were about as estimated. Local receipts 92, of which 26 were contract. Kansas City received 375 cars. The official estimate of the Russian crop is 472,800,000, against 664,669,000 last year.

Corn ruled a little weaker on lower calls. The close was ¼c to ⅛c lower. Receipts 440 cars. Kansas City 40 cars.

Oats were steady and closed ⅛c lower, at 28½c for the December option. Receipts 382 cars. Kansas City received 27 cars.

Provisions were quiet and comparatively unchanged.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow: Chicago, wheat 72 cars, corn 247, oats 267; Kansas City, wheat 125, corn 30, oats 15.

The government report on grain, issued today, reads as follows:

"Threshing of spring wheat in the Dakotas and Minnesota was interrupted by rains during the first half of the week, but shock threshing and stacking are nearly finished. In the Dakotas the yield and the quality is variable and generally disappointing, except in limited portions of the Missouri river valley. Corn has experienced a week of conditions highly favorable, maturing the crop, from 75 to 90 per cent of which is safe from frost. The remainder will require only about a week of favorable weather. In Nebraska considerable corn has been blown down by high winds, but this will only make harvesting more difficult, without reducing the yield. Some corn in shock in Missouri and Kansas has been damaged by moisture, due largely to rains of the previous week."

STEAMSHIP EMPLOYE DIES FROM FEVER

Arrived at New York from Colon Last Sunday—Body Will Be Incinerated

NEW YORK, Sept. 26.—Joseph Macira, a coal passer, died of yellow fever today at Swinburne Island, New York, quarantine detention hospital. He was removed from the steamer Havana from Colon last Sunday, but yellow fever did not develop sufficiently to be diagnosed until late yesterday. The body will be incinerated.

NEGRO DROPS DEAD WHILE PAVING STREET

Starts for City Hall Lawn, But Expires as he Reaches the Sidewalk

Charles I. Thomas, a negro, aged about 37 years, dropped dead at 2 o'clock this afternoon on Throckmorton street, directly in front of the city hall. The dead man was in the employ of W. W. Harris, who has charge of the paving of the street. It is the opinion of the physician who examined the body that the man strangled to death by a chew of tobacco or had heart failure.

Mr. Harris noticed the man breathing heavily and stated that he knew from experience that inhaling the finely powdered cement used in the work sometimes got the best of workmen, especially when they use tobacco, and he told the negro to go and lie down in the shade of the city hall lawn. The man started and dropped as he reached the pavement. Death was almost instantaneous.

The negro was born in Mississippi and formerly lived at Dallas. He had been in the employ of Mr. Harris for about fourteen months.

It's Your Kidneys

Don't Mistake the Cause of Your Troubles —A Fort Worth Citizen Shows How to Cure Them

Many people never suspect their kidneys. If suffering from a lame, weak or aching back they think that it is only a muscular weakness; when urinary trouble sets in they think it will soon correct itself. And so it is with all the other symptoms of kidney disorders. That is just where the danger lies. You must cure these troubles or they lead to diabetes or Bright's Disease. The best remedy to use is Doan's Kidney Pills. It cures all ills which are caused by weak or diseased kidneys. Fort Worth people testify to permanent cures.

T. T. Hughes of 310 Belknap street, who is very well known to many of our readers, says: "I suffered all last year from lumbago. I had terrible pains in my back and could not stoop or bend over without intense suffering. It was also impossible for me to rest in bed with any comfort. I never seemed to be able to get any rest. The kidney secretions were highly colored and emitted a strong odor. I know that I was in a bad condition. I tried several remedies which failed to bring the hoped for relief, and finally a friend of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. She spoke so strongly in their favor that I went to Weaver's Pharmacy, on Main street, and got a box. They proved to be exactly what I needed. The pain in my back soon disappeared and the kidney secretions were rendered normal. I cannot tell how much I appreciate this wonderful remedy."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TUESDAY'S REVIEW AND SALES

NORTH FORT WORTH, Sept. 26.—Receipts of cattle today up to noon had reached 3,000 with others reported enough to bring the total up to 3,300, about the same as yesterday, making the total for the first two days of the week 6563.

Steers

To vary the monotony of the prime steer trade that has languished for the past four weeks, a bunch of hard fed cattle was driven in from a country feed lot. These found quick sale at $4.10, a price considered steady, considering that they were not strictly prime. Another bunch out of the same feed lot sold at $3.65. This about ended the choice steer trade. Good steers were scarce, while feeders were numerous, the best of them selling at $2.50. Representative sales:

Cows and Heifers

The cow trade exhibited a trifle more animation than on Monday. The general quality seemed to be better and packers were taking hold more readily. Local butchers were also looking over the pens and dipping in here and there. The trade ran along without friction, best cows selling at $2.40. Representative sales:

Sheep

A part of a load of stocker sheep came on the market, and like those of yesterday, remained unsold, they being unsuited to the packer trade.

TRADE NOTES

In some branches of sheep farming the lambs are the most profitable part of the flock.

When wethers constitute a good portion of the flock they should be kept separate from the ewes.

The feed lot is not a good place to keep the brood sow while in farrow.

Buttermilk poured over the backs of scurvy swine said to be a sure cure.

Sprained tendons and joints are often the effect of long grown hoofs continually tramping on solid floors.

The actual cost to keep added to the service fee of the sire, represents the amount at which horses you raise stand you.

A. E. Mitchell, ranching in Uvalde and Zavalia counties, reports cattle doing well in those sections and the prospects are that they will winter in good shape. Some good rains, however, would be the proper thing right now, he says.

Don't put off buying a boar to mate with your sows until you are ready to use him, and then write to half a dozen breeders and take what you can find left. The male to be used on your sows should certainly be bought six or eight months in advance, not only that he may become properly acquainted with his quarters, but that you can rightly study the weak points both in him and your sows, in order that you may make the proper mating.

BABY ELEPHANTS

Careful search among all existing records discloses the surprising fact that but three elephants were ever born in captivity, and a still more surprising truth remains, that the entire three first saw the light of day under the canvas pavilion of the Barnum & Bailey show. The first event of this kind kown in history occurred in Philadelphia in the year 1872, the baby pachyderm being named "Columbia," and it subsequently proved the curious cause of the consolidation of the show owned at that time by J. A. Bailey and the one owned by the late P. T. Barnum. The second event took place after the shows had become united in the winter quarters in Bridgeport, Conn., in the year 1881, and was the subject of much scientific interest, as the occasion became a memorable one, owing to the presence of most of the distinguished savants of the country who were there several days in advance of the event for the purpose of making scientific data. The second little newcomer was named "Bridgeport," in honor of the city of its birth. It is alive and well today and one of the three herds of performing elephants now with the show. The third baby elephant made its entree into this world of pleasure while the show was on its recent tour of the continent of Europe, and is, so far as can be learned, the only one ever born in captivity in the eastern hemisphere. And that completes the total of all ever born while the mothers were in bondage. It has been frequently stated that among the English government elephants in India an elephant was born, but there are no records to prove it and so the story cannot be credited. The birth of one of these creatures while its parents are in a state of captivity is, as stated, a very rare event and attended with much interst. It was ascertained at the birth of the first elephant in Philadelphia that the little one suckled with its mouth and not with its trunk, as was generaly imagined, and this important fact was fully determined by the birth of the second in Bridgeport, as well as the period of gestation, which is now well known to be twenty months. Visitors to the Barnum & Bailey show, when it comes here on Oct. 11, can now see a real baby elephant with its mother, and may see with what tender and affectionate care the bigger beast watches every movement of her little one, gently pulling it back toward her with her trunk when the little fellow is inclined to wander too far away from her.

LITTLE GIRL'S AWFUL ECZEMA

Sleepless Nights for Mother and Terrible Suffering of Child—Had Given Up All Hope of Ever Making Any Cure—As Last Resort

TRIED CUTICURA AND CURE WAS SPEEDY

Mrs. I. B. Jones, Addington, Ind. T., writes: "My little girl had been suffering for two years from eczema, and during that time I could not get a night's sleep, as her ailment was very severe. I had tried so many remedies and spent so much money, deriving no benefit, I had given up all hope of making any cure. As a last resort I was persuaded to try Cuticura, and to my great delight a marked change was manifested from the first application. I gave the child a bath with Cuticura Soap, using a soft piece of muslin cloth. This I did twice a day, each time following with Cuticura Ointment, and at the same time gave the Resolvent, according to directions. One box of Ointment and two bottles of the Resolvent, together with the Soap, effected a permanent cure. I submit this for publication, hoping it will assist other sufferers in curing themselves."

COMPLETE TREATMENT

Consisting of Cuticura Soap Ointment and Pills, $1.

The first step in the treatment of chronic eczema is to remove the scales and crusts and soften the skin, by warm baths with Cuticura Soap. Dry carefully and apply Cuticura Ointment, lightly at first, and where advisable spread it on pieces of soft cloth and bind in place. Take the Resolvent Pills, or liquid, in medium doses. Do not use cold water in bathing, and avoid cold, raw winds.

Sold throughout the world. Cuticura Resolvent, 50c. (in form of Chocolate Coated Pills, 25c. per vial of 60), Ointment, 50c., Soap, 25c. Potter Drug and Chem. Corp., 135 Columbus Ave., Boston, Sole Props.

PRESBYTERY FAVORS SMALLER FIELDS

Division of Fort Worth District Goes to Synod—Caldwell Answers Filed

Fort Worth Presbytery, which has been in session several days at Colorado City, adjourned Monday afternoon and representatives from this part of the state returned this morning, en route to their respective homes.

Dr. William Caldwell of the First church, Dr. J. B. French, pastor of the Broadway church; M. C. Billings of Fort Worth, Dr. Morris of Atlanta, Ga., secretary of the assembly's committee on home missions, and a number of others were in the party.

The meeting is said by Mr. Billings to have been one of the most interesting fall gatherings of the presbytery and a large amount of business was transacted. Usually the spring meeting is the business meeting of presbytery, but despite this fact the Colorado City meeting resulted in much work being done, and the reports of work done by various churches submitted indicate thrift in many directions.

The question of division of presbytery came up and was considered at considerable length, the censensus of opinion being that the territory now embraced in presbytery was entirely too large and a division of it would be of benefit to the work of the different churches. The matter was referred, or will be, to the Houston meeting of the synod of Texas, which convenes Oct. 11.

Mr. Billings expressed himself this morning to the effect that the division will be ordered by the synod. He says that the territory to be included in the new presbytery, which is to be known as the El Paso Presbytery, will be all that west from Cisco, the division being about midway between Fort Worth to El Paso.

With reference to the matter of Dr. Caldwell's admission into this presbytery, action was taken that will result in the controversy being acted upon finally by the synod of Texas at the Houston meeting.

Dr. Caldwell's answers to the questions propounded by those who oppose him because of alleged differing beliefs on theology, were submitted and were ordered sent up to the synod. It is believed by members of the congregation that the end of this matter is near at hand and that the whole affair will be thrown out of church court when the facts are made known to the synod.

Enthusiastic meetings in the interest of home and foreign missions were held during the presbytery, and as a result about $125 was collected.

Before adjournment Mineral Wells was chosen as the next meeting place of presbytery, and the date fixed as April 11.

Rev. McAdie of Mineral Wells will preach at the First Presbyterian church in this city Friday night, at which preparatory services are to be held incident to communion service the following Sunday.

SCHOOL BEGUN WITH MASONIC CEREMONY

Corner Stone of North Fort Worth's $30,000 Structure Placed by Grand Master

A banner day in the history of North Fort Worth was celebrated Tuesday, the cornerstone of the new $30,000 school building being laid with impressive ceremonies. The exercises have been equaled in that city but one, upon the occasion of the cornerstone laying at the packing houses.

Large crowds of citizens filled the school yard and the street adjoining while piles of building material were used as points of vantage from which to witness the proceedings conducted by city officials and prominent members of the Masonic order. School children in the adjoining buildings were dismissed early and added to the throng.

A. W. Campbell, grand master of Texas, placed the stone in position.

Exercises commenced promptly at 3 o'clock, Mayor L. G. Pritchard introducing Prof. M. H. Moore, superintendent of the North Fort Worth schools.

New Era Begun.

Prof. Moore treated the building of the modern school as a new era in the history of the city. He said in part:

"This country has passed through many trials. There was a time when it took great feats of patriotism to lay the foundation for the great country we have today. There was a time when it took pilgrims to sail across the great Atlantic. These pilgrims made sacrifices that the foundation of this great country might be laid. There was a time in the history of this nation when it took a Washington to lead her armies to independence. Cities have their same eras. Many of you who are here today can look back just a few years and remember that where the great little city of North Fort Worth stands was nothing more than a howling wilderness. A few years ago but a few children were taught in the schools over here. But those days have gone by and we are assembled here today to inaugurate the work of the greatest institution on earth, the greatest institution that we possess, our public school. We can remember how proud we were of the old stock yards and old packing houses. We remember the fact that Smith & Terry deeded this piece of ground to the county upon which we have built this school. We can think of the time when the new packing houses were built, the packing houses that enable so many to earn their bread in our little city. But these events are eclipsed by the movement we are starting here today. This movement and step of progress is greater than any of the ones that has gone before it. This is a pebble cast into the ocean of time that will cause waves to roll on until they break into the throne of God Himself."

I. T. Valentine, city attorney, was next introduced by Mayor Pritchard and paid a high tribute to the power of education and the duty of a city and country to see that the young are given proper advantages. A timely lesson was drawn from the history of Japan and her successes, attributed directly to her policy of education.

"I consider this the greatest event that has ever transpired in North Fort Worth," said Mr. Valentine. "This institution will teach the children a broader spirit, as well as the rules of arithmetic. It will teach them that man upon man depends. The destinies of our boys and girls will be framed in this building."

Masonic Exercises.

Impressive Masonic rites attended the placing of the stone by the grand master following which Dr. C. P. Brewer delivered the address on behalf of that organization.

He touched upon the pleasure given them as an organization to participate in the exercises, declaring the order stood for the high ideals sought through the education and training of youth.

Dr. Alonzo Monk closed the exercises with a prayer, calling for Divine guidance of the work typified in the exercises of the day.

The corner stone was laid at the southeast corner of the building. The east side of the stone bore the inscription: "M. L. Waller, architect; J. W. McPherson, contractor," and on the south side the following was carved in the stone: "North Fort Worth Public School; erected A. D. 1905. Board of trustees—J. G. Capps, president; J. H. Dryden, secretary; J. B. Collier, treasurer; J. J. Lydon, F. P. Hopkins, James D. Farmer, J. W. Moore."

The following officers of the Masonic order were present and participated in the ceremony: A. W. Campbell, grand master of Texas, Dallas; I. M. Bradley, grand deputy master of Texas, Denton; Judge J. Y. Hogsett, acting grand senior warden; Ray Hunter, grand junior warden; B. F. Dwiggins, marshal; John Barden, senior deacon; A. H. Hartshorn, junior deacon; Phil Becker, senior steward; Fred Ropke, junior steward; Dr. Brewer, acting grand orator.

School Building.

North Fort Worth's new school building being erected at the junction of the four wards of the city will be the finest public school building in any city of equal size in the state.

It will be a two-story brick and concrete structure modern in every particular. There will be in it twelve class rooms, principal's room and an auditorium with seating capacity for 800 people. The basement will be fitted for play rooms in bad weather. Work is being pushed rapidly and the building is expected to be ready for use by January.

RAILROADS AFTER CONSTRUCTION MEN

Agents of Santa Fe and Central Instructed to Secure All Laborers Possible at Once

T. P. Fenelon, city passenger agent of the Santa Fe, and Ed Pennington, city passenger agent for the Houston and Texas Central, have both been instructed to secure as many laborers as possible for railroad work. The former will furnish transportation for 100 men to go to work on the Belen cut-off in New Mexico, while the latter wants men to work on the extension from Navasota south.

Some forty-five foreigners, who have been at work for the Frisco, will likely be sent to Navasota during the day.

The Central is pushing its extension in opposition to the Trinity and Brazos Valley road. Both roads are racing to reach certain South Texas territory first, causing the demand for large numbers of laborers.
