TDCJ savors event

More than 400 employees of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and their family members are expected to take part in the annual TDCJ Appreciation Day in the Park Saturday in Ruddick Park.

A new pavilion has been constructed east of the city swimming pool for the event, and 24 businesses are sponsoring it, with many to offer gift certificates and prizes.

Wallace Unit Warden Neal Webb said Monday that his employees like the appreciation day both for its variety of events for children and adults and because it runs all day, enabling all three shifts at the prison to participate.

"They really enjoy it and look forward to it," Warden Webb said. "Their families and children participate in it, and they get to talk to a lot of people that they don't get to see during the day."

"It's a good gathering for both units to get to know everybody and spend a little time together. We really appreciate the businesses and community for the support they give us and the time and effort to put on the day in the park for us."

He referred to the Wallace and Ware units, whose staffs do not ordinarily mix during a regular work day.

Warden Webb said the annual tug-of-war between the two units over Lone Wolf Creek "is a fun thing for both units, to compete against each other for the right to claim the winner."

The first few tuggers on the losing team are pulled into the creek.

Warden Webb said horseshoe pitching and the bingo and volleyball games are also favorites.

Umbrella bandit clues evaluated

LORAIN -- Law enforcement officers have begun a painstaking search for the "red umbrella bandit" who robbed the First Bank of West Texas here on Wednesday, July 15.

Sheriff Patrick Toombs said Monday that the man, a Hispanic five feet to 5 foot 2 inches tall, is believed to be from Loraine or Colorado City.

Sheriff Toombs said crime laboratory experts at the Abilene Police Department were still checking fingerprints taken from two parts of the scene and had not found any prints that could have been the suspect's.

"They are all partial prints, and we have sent them the fingerprints of 15 possible suspects," the sheriff said.

He said the only prints that had been identified by Monday were from a bank employee.

Partial prints were taken from the bank's back door and from two bank employees' vehicles that were in the parking garage just north of the Main Street and Pacific Avenue bank where the robber hid just prior to the holdup.

The two women who were held up just after they closed the bank at 3 p.m. that day went to their cars in the garage and were surprised when the man, wearing a trench coat or Army-type jacket and a black ski mask, stood up from behind one of the cars and pointed a silver semi-automatic pistol at them.

He told them to go with him back to the bank and forced them to let him in through the back door on the east side of the bank.

Once inside, he took about $9,000 from a cash drawer on a table and ordered them to lie down for 10 minutes before they moved.

One called the sheriff's office. See BANDIT, page 8

CISD absorbs valuation drop

General real estate values held up well in recent Mitchell County property tax appraisals, but declining oil, gas and utility values reduced overall valuations in Colorado City and Loraine.

Colorado Independent School District took the biggest hit, a $12-million reduction based on the devaluation of six gas turbines at TU Electric Co.'s Morgan Creek Plant south of here.

Kaye Nell Cornutt, chief appraiser of the Mitchell County Appraisal District, said oil properties on the western side of the county helped the City of Westbrook and its school district enjoy increases.

"Real estate pretty well held its own," Ms. Cornutt said. "The decline was in minerals and utilities."

The nine taxing entities under whose umbrella the appraisal district operates are all expected to set fiscal 1999 tax rates within the next month or two.

When property values decline, tax rates must be increased to produce the same revenues. However, a property owner's tax bill does not go up if rates and values are merely equalized.

Ms. Cornutt said the tax bill for a typical $30,000 house in Colorado City, with an owner under age 65 and claiming a homestead exemption when offered, would be $236 from the Colorado Independent School District, $205 from the city, $127 from the county, $36 from county road precincts and $115 from Mitchell County Hospital District -- a total of $719 under current rates and values.

Total appraised values have been reduced from 1997 to this year from $78.6 million to $77.3 million for the City of Colorado City; $323 million to $311 million for Colorado Independent School District; $527 million to $514.1 million for Mitchell County and the same amounts for Mitchell County roads and hospital district.

Hospital, county air EMS differences

Mitchell County Hospital Board members Tuesday night gave administrator Rick Rickard the authority to pursue an Internet hook-up with a dozen West Texas hospitals to share medical staff expertise and other benefits.

Rickard said the proposed West Texas Telemedicine Consortium would include hospitals in Sweetwater, Rotan, Anson, Abilene, Coleman and other cities.

For example, he said physicians in other hospitals could view and participate in procedures in dermatology, orthopedics and other specialties.

It is proposed by the Texas Hospital Association, and each hospital's board must approve it, Rickard said.

He said county commissioners had been discussing a possible reduction of their funding of Mitchell County EMS because the hospital's $141,000 share of state tobacco settlement proceeds in January might be applied to the EMS.

Rickard said the state money "is earmarked" for indigent health care at the hospital and See HOSPITAL, page 8

Mysterious gunshot investigated by SO

LORAIN -- A 62-year-old Los Angeles, Calif., man was shot through the forearm by an unknown assailant early last Friday at a roadside park east of here.

Mitchell County Sheriff Patrick Toombs said Walter Sims, a black man, was traveling with his family and had been sleeping in his car when he got out about 1:20 a.m.

"He heard a pop like a firecracker, felt the sting and looked down at his upper right forearm and saw the blood," Sheriff Toombs said.

The family drove to a truck-stop at Roscoe, asked directions to the nearest hospital and went to Rolling Plains Memorial Hospital in Sweetwater, where a hospital official called the Mitchell County Sheriff's Office.

Chief Deputy Mike Redwine then went to the roadside park, interviewed people in two vehicles, a woman with children and a man, and searched the vehicles.

Sheriff Toombs said the people reported hearing and seeing nothing and that there were no weapons in their vehicles.

Officers found what they believed to be a bullet fragment from a .22 or .25-caliber See SHOOTING, page 8

Rodeo queens in a new world now

TERRY ANN McADAMS of Colorado City was Miss Rodeo America in 1977, and she says the contest has become too money-oriented.

Terry Ann McAdams of Colorado City always watches rodeo queen contests with interest because back in the late 1970's, as a Texas Tech University student, she was Miss Rodeo Texas and then Miss Rodeo America.

"A lot of parents feel like if they throw a lot of money at something, it should just happen," she said. "But it doesn't matter if you have a $2,000 leather outfit on if you ride like a sack of potatoes."

"You really have to be able to ride because you don't get to ride your own horse. You draw two from the pool, and you never know what you're going to get."

Ms. McAdams, 43, has remained active in Miss Rodeo America circles, helping judge the competition twice since it was moved to Las Vegas, Nev., and once judging Miss Rodeo Texas in San Antonio.

She won the national title in 1977 when the National Finals Rodeo was still in Oklahoma City, and incredibly, her Tech roommate, Debbie Johnston, won two years later in Las Vegas.

Miss Johnston later married former Dallas Cowboys running back and well-known cowboy Walt Garrison.

Ms. McAdams was on the Tech rodeo team, only roping and goat-tying because she "didn't have the horse" to be a barrel racer, and was working in a Lubbock western clothing store when she was asked to enter the Miss Rodeo Texas Tech contest.

"I had never entered one of these things in my entire life, but I thought, why not?" she said.

She was runner-up at the College National Finals in Bozeman, Mont., but won the horsemanship contest and the Miss Rodeo Texas title in Stephenville that September.

Then she went to Oklahoma City that December and took the national title with its $30,000 crown of Black Hills gold, pearls and Alexandrite and the belt buckle with diamonds, rubies and sapphires.

The crown and buckle are passed on to the next queen, but Miss Rodeo Americas are given a golden trophy buckle stating the year they won to wear for the rest of their lives.

After she won, she called several former Miss Rodeo Americas who lived in Texas and then visited them to get advice about her upcoming year of travel.

"Had it not been for them, I would not have known how to prepare for it," Terry Ann said. "I would suggest that anybody that's going to try something like that go and try to learn from those who have been there."

"It doesn't matter if it was 20 years ago because it doesn't change that much."

"I was 22 and old enough to travel by myself. I can't imagine an 18-year-old girl sitting by herself in LaGuardia Airport in New York."

Ms. McAdams' title year was a variety of experiences, from waiting out overnight delays in airports and sometimes being forgotten by welcoming committees to being met by country singer Buck Owens and riding into Reno, Nev., on the trunk of a Cadillac convertible with steer horns on the front and six-guns for door handles.

She appeared at a number of rodeos with western movie stars Slim Pickens and Ben Johnson.

"They were some really cool people," she said. "Slim Pickens was so funny. He was my good buddy."

"My mother and I made every stitch I wore except for the Wranglers," Terry Ann said.

"I have heard of families borrowing $30,000 and $40,000 in order to clothe these girls in leather and furs. It has gotten out of sight. I could not afford to do it now."

She grew up near Cross Plains, where her father, Hick Eddington, and mother Wilda grew wheat and cotton and raised cattle in Callahan and Coleman counties. Her mother, now 84, still looks after 60 cattle at the ranch. Her father died 17 years ago.

"He roped and harassed me," she said. "That was his job. He was real sweet and real proud of me."

"I'm a '54 colt." Ms. McAdams is in charge of grant management and project development at Mitchell County Hospital, where she also writes the monthly employees' newsletter and conducts in-service training

Her former husband Jim is assistant manager of the Ellwood and Renderbrook Spade Ranches. Their son Will is a junior at Colorado High School.

She has a sister, Sue Branch, who is married to a rancher and lives between Aspermont and Rotan.

She earned a bachelor's degree in human science at Texas Tech and a master's degree in consumer economics at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Terry Ann does not ride much anymore because she herded cattle from her early girlhood and she only associates horseback riding "with work."

"I don't look at it as pleasure," she said. "I'd rather go play golf or something."

She points out that rodeo queen contestants undergo a very different process from girls in traditional beauty pageants.

"Speaking ability is very important," she said. "Your speech is 10 percent of your score, horsemanship 30 percent, appearance 30 percent and personality 20 percent."

"I studied hard because they had veterinarians and American Quarter Horse Association board members as judges, and they asked a lot of very pointed questions."

"I learned a lot more equine anatomy and a little bit of common veterinary medicine."

Terry Ann said the most beneficial aspect of her title year was the $2,000 of stock she won in the Mary Kay cosmetics company.

"Four or five years later it had split three or four times and become worth quite a bit of money, so I unloaded it," she said.

The bad part was that December 1977 was very cold in Oklahoma City.

"I burned the toes off my boots standing in front of a heater and never even felt it," she said.

C-City-born artist shows talent

MANUEL GARCIA JR. of Abilene shows one of the wolf faces he painted on Colorado High School's three new travel buses. He also painted running wolf packs on the sides of each bus.

The Colorado Wolves' three new travel buses will be unique not only for their red and black colors and unusual mascot but also because the artwork was done by a Colorado City native.

Manuel Garcia Jr. of Abilene drew the wolf heads and wolf packs from patterns supplied by Colorado High School Principal Buddy Compton and a committee of students.

But the expression and fine details are all his own.

Garcia, a 1966 CHS graduate, painted one bus a couple of weeks ago and finished the last two last week at the school district's bus barn at 630 E. Third St.

The cheerful, wiry man would take a long lunch hour when the daytime heat peaked and then work into the night under the shade of a barn on the eastern side of the bus compound.

First he painted two-dimensional red and black "Colorado Wolves" lettering down both sides of the buses.

Then after sketching the basic outlines in pencil, he drew running wolf packs in prairie scenes on both sides of each bus and haunting, hungry-looking wolf faces on the backs of the buses in the middle of the lettering, "Relentless Pursuit -- of Excellence."

The paintings are basically the same, but there are discernable differences among the packs of five wolves, each and the close-up wolf faces, which have the same soulful expressions that are often noticed in real wolves.

Garcia began as a sign-painter and progressed into fine art while pursuing a sideline as a musician and singer during his Colorado City years.

He was in the Army in 1967 and '68 but was not sent to Vietnam.

He recalls the day when he was nursing a knee injury at Ft. Lewis, Wash., and was inspired to blurt, "Hey, you need some signs around here!"

After painting signs and demonstrating his artistic ability, he spent the rest of his military service in an engineers' company as a draftsman and artist.

He returned home to work for the San-Tex billboard company in San Angelo and sing in The Midnighters band with guitarists John Moreno and Pete and Juventino Salmeron, keyboardist-guitarist Luis Carrasco and bassist George Rivera.

The band later combined with Susano Landeros and the Royal Notes of Sweetwater, who featured a horn section, and played throughout West Texas.

"I'd like to get back in it, but it's hard to find musicians," he said.

Garcia completed an associate degree at Howard College in Big Spring and enrolled at the University of Texas in Austin, where he earned a bachelor's degree in history with an art minor in 1980.

He worked for an outdoor advertising company in Austin and moved to Abilene in 1984, working a number of years for Midwest Outdoor Co., a billboard company, before the company moved.

He continued his artistic progress by taking a course in portraiture from Dr. J. Robert Miller at McMurry University.

Garcia taught last year at Wharton Junior High School near Houston and will teach Spanish this school year in Cross Plains.

An art patron from Austin has agreed to finance a series of modern, surrealistic sculptures by Garcia that he finds "hard to explain."

The sculptures will be suitable to decorate homes and will be done in metal, plastic and other media.

"I wish I could do more fine art work," he said.

"That's a rarity among sign painters. I'm known for my portraits."

Garcia paints portraits for $225 for an oil painting and $150 for one in pastels on a 16-by-20-inch canvas. He may be reached at 915-673-8886 in Abilene.

Garcia's father lives in Abilene, as do two of his sisters, Lydia Fernandez and Linda Moreno, and a brother, Daniel.

His sister Yvonne Rodriguez is an education professor at the University of North Texas in Denton.

Daniel's twin brother David lives in Colorado City, and the fourth sister, Angie Mallon, is in Los Angeles, Calif. Their mother Angelina died in Abilene two years ago.

Like many painters, Garcia is placid and unassuming and lets his work speak for itself.

During Colorado School Board discussions about getting the buses decorated, Garcia's name came up relative to the murals he painted at Kelley Elementary School here two years ago.

Supt. Russell Merket said he thought Garcia might be available and board members were enthusiastic about the possibility.

Then Merket reported later that Garcia was willing to do the buses for the bargain price of $1,000 and the deal was struck.

The Kelley murals at 1435

Elm St. both depict familiar scenes, Ruddick Park and the surrounding countryside and a country lane with a church, a boy fishing in a pond and a big, dark-hued tree as the focal point in the middle.

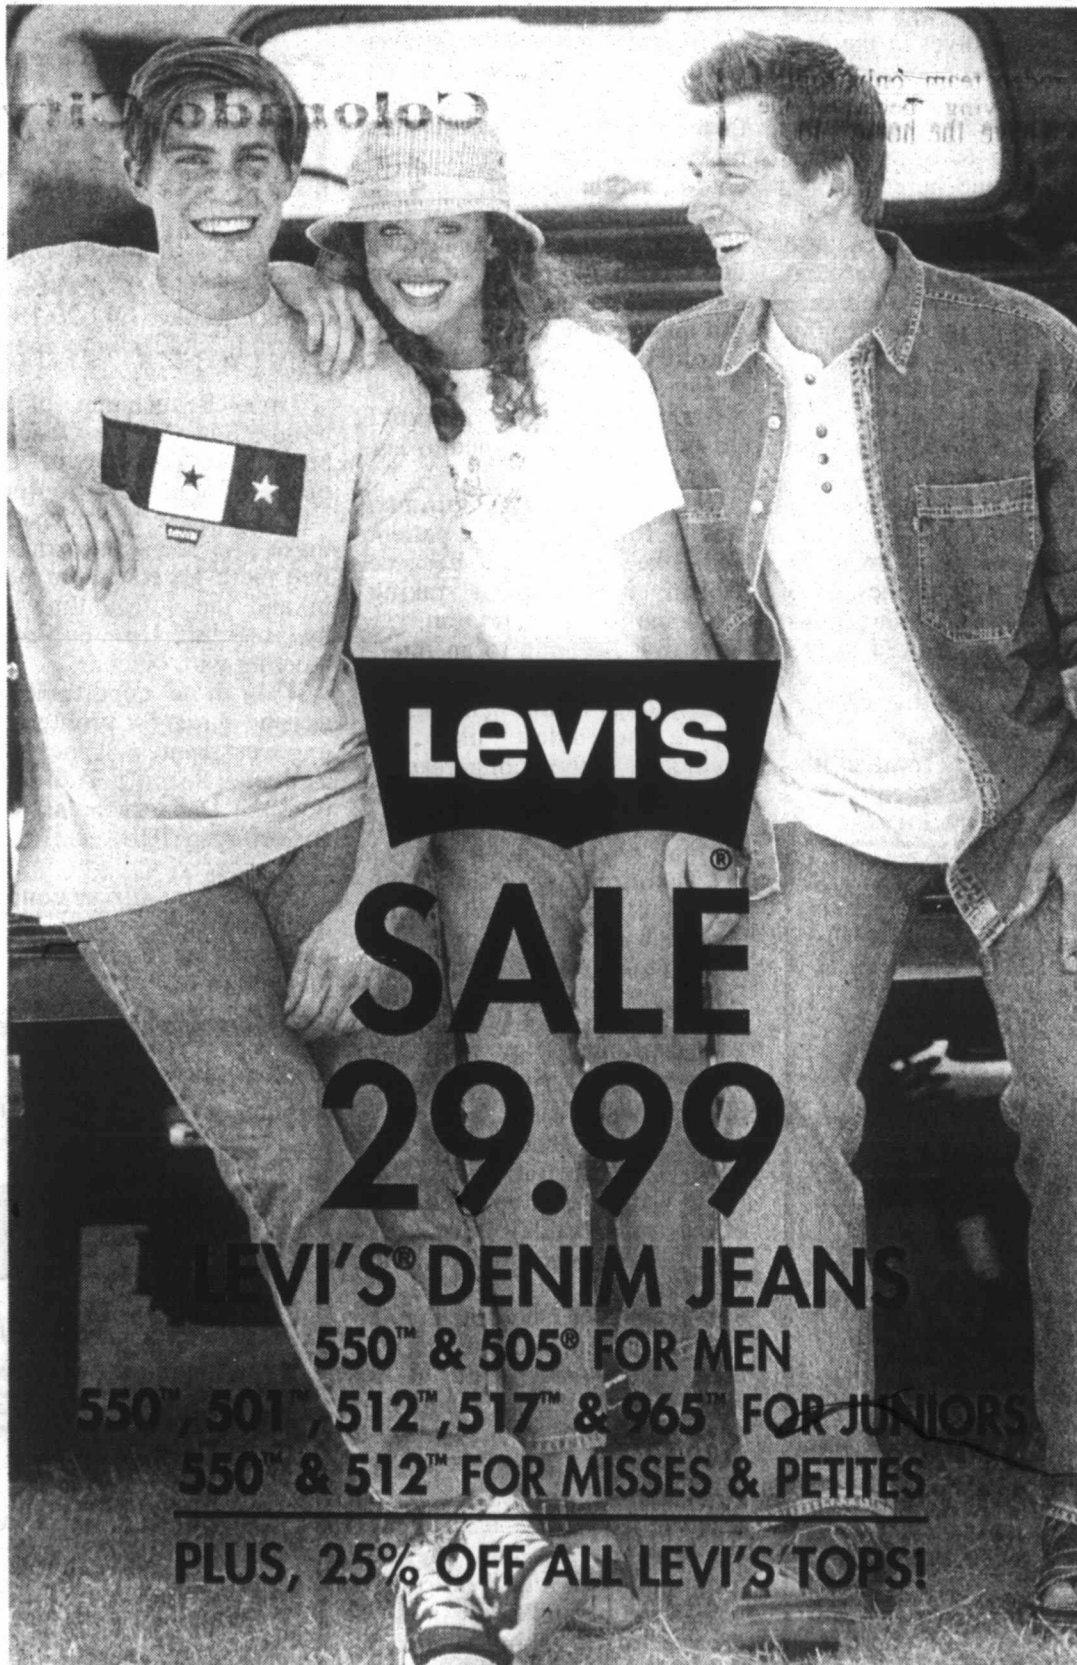

Garcia's Ruddick Park mural runs from the floor to the eight-foot ceiling and 100 feet along the southwest wall near the southwestern corner of the building.

It shows the park entrance, city swimming pool, baseball field, people picnicking, children swinging, a farmer plowing on a red tractor, geese flying and lots of blue skies and clouds.

The other mural, 35 feet wide and reaching to the 15-foot-high ceiling, is just south of the larger one, facing north, with more clouds, the country lane giving an impression of great depth, the barefoot boy reading while he fishes, a horse grazing, a squirrel beside the tree, a turtle crossing the road and the church in the background.

August registration set for commodities

United States Department of Agriculture has released guidelines for commodity distribution in Mitchell County.

Commodities will once again be distributed in the county at 300 East 3rd Street.

You may register anytime during the month of August at the above address. For more information, call 728-5067.

After registering, commodities may be picked up anytime during the month to avoid the long lines associated with commodity distribution in the past.

Eligibility guidelines limits the income of households applying to participate in the Texas Commodity Assistance Program (TEXCAP). The income limits are at 185% of federal poverty levels.

The first column lists households by size. The next three columns provide maximum allowable income limits in annual, monthly and weekly amounts.

An applicant household is NOT eligible for TEXCAP if the household's gross income exceeds:

Household size	Annual	Monthly	Weekly
1	$14,893	$1,242	$287
2	$20,073	$1,673	$387
3	$25,253	$2,105	$486
4	$30,433	$2,537	$586
5	$35,613	$2,968	$685
6	$40,793	$3,400	$785
7	$45,973	$3,832	$885
8	$51,153	$4,263	$984
For each additional person, add	$5,180	$432	$100

NOTE: Use gross income to determine eligibility.

EXCEPTIONS: Farmers and self-employed households qualify based on net income (total income minus expenses). A household with unexpected and unavoidable expenses of a household crisis may qualify for temporary, emergency food assistance without regard to the household's gross or net income.

Gunman misses Charlie Stenholm

WASHINGTON -- U. S. Rep. Charles "Charlie" Stenholm of Stamford had just left the Capitol when crazed gunman Russell Weston shot and killed two policemen last Friday afternoon at the office of Republican Majority Leader Tom DeLay.

Rep. Stenholm, who represents Mitchell County in the 17th Congressional District, said Monday that Congress had just adjourned and Weston did not have to go inside the Capitol to shoot a congressman.

"I had just left," said Stenholm. "I was on my way back to the house. It had been a tough week."

Referring to his wife, he said, "Cindy and I were just discussing, if he had wanted to, he could have sat outside on the steps and pulled out his gun and started shooting members of Congress as we came out."

"The bodies of the two policemen, Jacob Chestnut and John Gibson, will lie in state in the Capitol tomorrow, and it's only fitting that these two be honored in that way because they gave their lives in the performance of their jobs to protect members and staffs and tourists."

"It's going to be a somber two days around here."

Stenholm said he was surprised but not shocked because the Capitol is purposely kept open to visitors and there are many unstable people around it every day.

"You see all kinds around the Capitol," he said. "Almost every day as you walk over to vote, you see someone who's not playing with a full deck."

"But they have a right to be there, and as long as they have not been judged to be a serious threat, they are allowed to be there."

"We won't see that change any time soon."

Rep. Stenholm recalled the afternoon in 1983 when he was visiting U. S. Sen. Lloyd Bentsen and a bomb exploded behind a couch in the Senate cloak room that night.

"I had been within 10 feet of that couch, and we don't know if the bomb was already there or not," he said. "It makes you fully realize what could have happened."

"But you don't worry about it. I just have to believe that God is in control of these things. You do the best you can and try not to do anything stupid."

He said Capitol security is already heavy and it functioned as it was designed to last Friday.

Stenholm said the gunman was a former mental patient and, like many who become violent, had stopped taking medicine for his condition.

"I was listening to an interview with his mother and grandfather this morning, saying he didn't like this medicine," the congressman said. "It made him feel good, but it didn't make him feel normal."

"Therefore, he didn't take his medicine as often as he should have."

Stenholm's office is in the Longworth Building, just south of the Capitol, and he has only a quarter-mile walk from his office to his seat in the House of Representatives.

He said he had never noticed Weston before.

He walked by Rep. DeLay's office on Monday, and the front door was draped with black cloth.

Weston shot Chestnut in the head as he entered the building, chased and shot at a woman and then exchanged shots with Gibson inside DeLay's office.

Officer Gibson had reportedly pushed the woman to safety and was hit before turning his pistol on Weston.

The gunman was shot a number of times and was in a coma.

"People get to believing it can't or won't happen again, but we know that it can," Stenholm said. "I don't think anybody would question that now."

Stenholm, 59, a Democrat, has served in Congress since 1979.

The others were on June 14 in a house in the 500 block of West 13th Street and a June 21 grass fire at Eighth and Cherry Street.

Other police business in what was generally a slow week for officers included a 2:14 p.m. Thursday report by Chris Myers of 245 Hickory St. that some of his property had been tampered with at the Colorado City Playhouse at 337 Walnut St.

Myers said $90 was stolen from his wallet.

Texas Department of Public Safety troopers reported a 5 p.m. Friday accident on Interstate 20 at Narrell Road near

Loraine in which two teenagers and two children were injured.

A 15-year-old Abilene boy and 9, 12 and 16-year-old boys from Abilene were in a 1994 Chevrolet Suburban that hit a guardrail, skidded sideways and turned over four times.

All four were taken by ambulance to Mitchell County Hospital, where they were treated for bruises and abrasions and released.

A 34-year-old Odessa man

Gore bucks obnoxious Republicans

By Bob Campbell

Vice President Al Gore recently spoke out in favor of enacting the Kyoto Treaty to combat global warming, which was met with a chorus of Republican boos.

I guess if the GOP was willing to play cynical politics with the economy, sending us into a 12-year recession, they'll do the same with global warming.

The trouble is, there is not enough latitude to play politics with either issue. The measures required to deal effectively with them are specific and urgent.

If you have lived in Texas for the past two or three years, you would have to be impervious to 110-degree heat not to know that this is a different type of heat than we have ever experienced.

And you don't have to be much smarter than the typical Republican voter to foresee the sun's continuing to get hotter until it sets the earth on fire.

Republican-sponsored scientists were saying no, El Niño caused the heat, but I thought El Niño was a product of global warming, or ocean-warming.

I'm all for the oil business, but we were talking about converting from gasoline to alcohol for motor vehicles way back in the mid-1970's. It was a good idea then and it still is.

It's ignorant to keep running gasoline-powered engines just because the refineries are here and a gasoline engine is peppier than an alcohol-driven one.

Gasoline engines have always been too convenient.

Apparently, no one ever thought from one step to the next, that if the fumes are toxic enough to kill you, it is bad for the atmosphere to run millions of motor vehicles a day all over the world and we would one day find ourselves very messed up.

I have an idea that what the Kyoto Treaty proposes is too little, too late, even if the United States does enact it and the foot-draggers like Brazil finally cooperate.

Like the Republican economy before the Democrats took over, the world environment is just headed in the wrong direction and it would take some very dynamic actions to reverse the trend.

It might be too late even if we shut off all fossil fuel emissions today and started planting trees everywhere we could plant them.

But one thing is certain: if we don't act quickly and decisively, an unpleasant situation might very well become a nightmare.

President Clinton is not a good example as a man, but he does have qualities that the nation needs in a president -- intellect, articulacy, perceptiveness and tenacity.

I have wondered if Vice President Gore, although he is a better man than Clinton, would be a good successor because of a possible lack of the intangibles of political leadership -- talent, if you will.

I am ready to support him because I don't ever want another Republican economy, and the Kyoto statement has given me hope that he is a real political leader.

We need to put some emission controls on the Republicans' mouths because we have too much hot air already.

The Origin of Bevo

By Tumbleweed Smith

Bevo is the mascot for the University of Texas. It is a huge longhorn steer that is paraded around during football games and other events. Bevo lives on the Sunrise Ranch at Liberty Hill and is owned by John Baker.

"We think of him always associated with football," says John, "but this last school year he went to the annual sports banquet and before that he went to graduation. He goes to several elementary and middle schools every year, a few golf tournaments and other social occasions for Texas Exes."

This is the thirteenth Bevo and University of Texas has used as a mascot. The name came from a football score.

"Back in 1916," says John, "there was a game between Texas University and A&M. The aggies won 13-0. The next year, some Aggies came and captured the longhorn steer used as a mascot and branded the score, 13-0 on his side. I have a picture of that steer with a huge 13-0 branded on its side. I think the engineers at the University of Texas couldn't be outdone by the agrarian gentlemen from A&M, so the engineers figured if they could make the 13 look like a "B" and make the dash mark into a "V" and insert a "V" just before the zero they could cover up the score and have a new name for the mascot."

This Bevo was born in 1984 and has been used as the UT mascot for eleven years. His horns measure nearly six feet from tip to tip. "I guess the selection committee likes his disposition, his color and spots," says John. "His proper name, by the way, is Sunrise Express. That's the way he's registered."

John Baker has worked with longhorns for thirty years. "When someone sees a longhorn steer, they just start thinking Texas."

His first longhorn was a cow owned by his father, who asked John to keep it for a while. John bred it to a longhorn bull and the resulting offspring was bred to commercial cattle. John liked the outcome. Pretty soon, though, he let his commercial cattle go and concentrated on the Longhorn breed.

A group called "The Silver Spurs" selects a steer to become Bevo and hauls him to about 40 appearances a year. John does not rely on any income from the loan of his steer. He just enjoys working with the youngsters in the Silver Spurs.

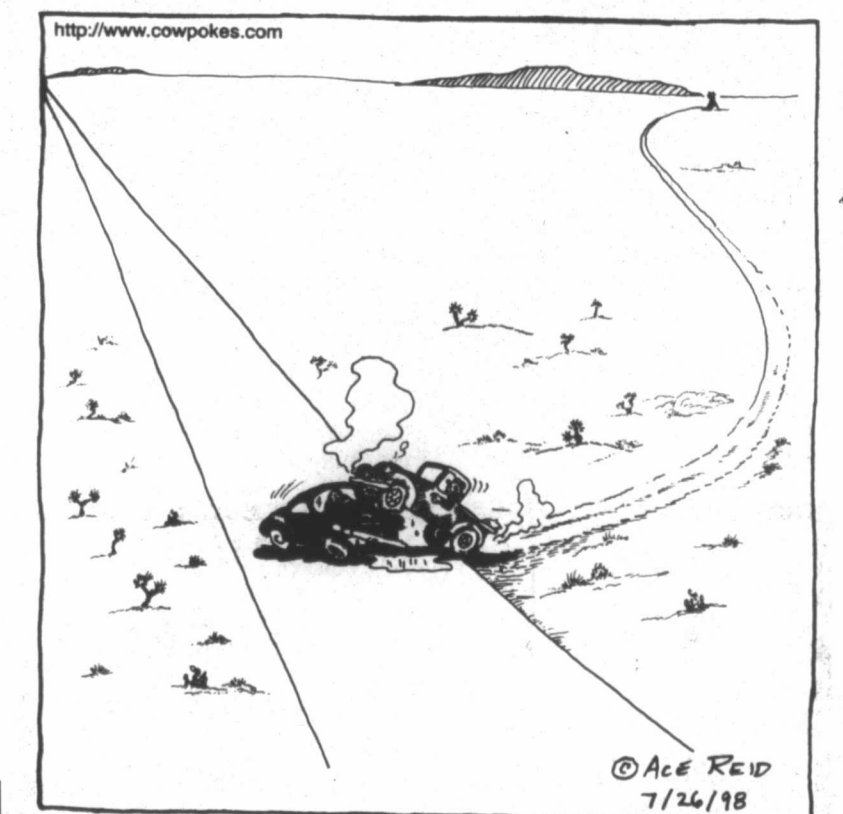

John says representatives of the group had been to several places before getting to his ranch at Liberty Hill. "I saw some of the photos they had made of other places," John says. "Some of those photos were made about 150 yards from the animal. They told me that in one location, every time they took two steps toward the steer, the steer would back up about six steps. So the gap between the steer and the camera was getting wider and wider."

John sympathized with the students. "I went out to the pasture and put a halter on my steer. This was unbelievable to them because they hadn't been very close to any of the candidate so far. But this one was gentle, haler broken and had been around people. The current Bevo was chosen right there."

John attended Corpus Christi University, now a branch of A&M.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Growing old

Dear Editor,
This is how to know when you're growing old --
You sit in a rocking chair and can't get it going.
You turn out the light for economic rather than romantic reasons.
Everything hurts, and what doesn't hurt doesn't work.
Your little black book contains only names ending in "M. D."
You get winded playing checkers.
You're still chasing women but can't remember why.
Your knees buckle, but your belt won't.
Dialing long distance wears you out.
Your back goes out more than you do.
You look forward to a dull evening.
Truly yours,
Marvin Leverett

Great parade!

Dear Editor,
I just wanted to take time to let the people of Colorado City know what a truly well organized and successful parade was put on recently.
I had the pleasure of riding in same, and was impressed with not only the parade itself but also with the organization of the parade and its entrants.

It was my first time to be a participant, and I wanted to thank all those for not only their kind assistance, but also for allowing me to play a small part in the parade itself.
Those that were in-charge of the parade were some of the nicest folks I have ever had the pleasure of dealing with.
Though the temperature was high, the tempers were not, and the turnout for the parade was great.
Your community should be proud not only of the parade, but also of the people who worked so hard to make it a complete success.
Oftentimes, gratitude is not expressed. I wish to express my gratitude for being allowed to be just a small part in the parade, and I was treated like a celebrity.
The people of Mitchell County should be proud to have such hospitable folks working on such a successful project.

With Kindest Regards, I remain
Very Truly Yours,
Randy Wilson
Attorney - Abilene, Tx

We are nice!

Dear Editor,
Here we go again! The lady from Alaska states the business people are so rude. Oh hum. This is ridiculous. When you are busy you do not have time to hug everyone. Again, I think this town is one of the friendliest I have ever lived in. "Alaska: we really are nice people."

SPADE REUNION participants gathered Saturday morning in the First Baptist Church Activity Building, where the 100th anniversary of the Spade Community Cemetery south of Colorado City was observed.

HICKORY STREET repaving from Interstate 20 to East Second Street was temporarily suspended by Price Construction Co. of Big Spring, but plans are for the final coat to start being laid on Monday. The project should be finished in three to five days, a highway department official said.

face in Colorado City at 3:10 p.m., and the hunt was on.

Sheriff Toombs said a witness saw the man, who was also carrying a red and black umbrella, walking toward the bank area about 15 minutes before 3 and other witnesses saw him walking away, carrying the black trash bag into which he had put the money.

"We don't know if he walked to a vehicle or someone was waiting for him or he went to a house, a friend's or his own, and waited," the sheriff said.

"I hope it doesn't go on real long. He's not going to be able to keep it quiet. He'll have to say something to somebody, and it will kind of spread from there.

"It may be a month or so," Texas Ranger Sgt. Johnny Billings of Snyder and Abilene FBI Agent Gary MacNoll are also working in the investigation.

Sheriff Toombs and State District Attorney Mark Edwards of Sweetwater have agreed to have the case prosecuted in federal court so that the robber will have to serve a longer prison term.

The federal criminal justice system does not have parole.

Toombs said his office had received a number of calls at 728-5261 and to its Crime Stoppers' 728-TIPS line and investigated several tips, but none had panned out.

He said the Loraine bank "is a hard one to watch" because the eastern Mitchell County town is sparsely populated and there are usually not many potential witnesses during the day in the downtown area.

It presents a problem somewhat like the First National Bank in Colorado City because it is close to an interstate highway, he said, but the bank here is an easier target because "there is no one around it" in most instances.

CISD

School District showed a slight decrease in total appraised value, from $159 million to $156.8 million, but an increase in total taxable value, which takes homestead and age exemptions in account -- $128.8 million to $129.8 million.

The City of Westbrook rose from $2.9 million to $3 million in total appraised value, and the City of Loraine grew from $7.9 million to $8 million.

Loraine Independent School District fell from $49.6 million to $49 million.

Current tax rates are 42 cents per $100 in valuation for Mitchell County, 13 cents for county roads, 38 cents for the hospital district, $1.57 for CISD, $1.50 for LISD, $1.40 for WISD, 68 cents for Colorado City, $1.03 for Loraine and 38 cents for Westbrook, with totals rounded to the nearest penny.

Dale Heiskell of Pritchard & Abbott minerals and utilities appraisal company of Fort Worth, which has handled those aspects of Mitchell County's appraisals for many years, said Monday that TU spokesmen made a persuasive case during a recent hearing before the tax appraisal review board.

Heiskell said the company was able to claim "economic obsolescence" in Morgan Creek's six gas turbines because the turbines were installed in 1990 and only run two to three percent of the time.

He said they use a tremendous amount of water and cannot be run at partial capacity, having to be operated all-out or not at all.

The plant has two steam turbines that can be run at varying capacities, he said.

Adults play dominoes all day, and there will be an ice cream making contest judged at 11:30 a.m. by County Judge Ray Mayo and the mayors of Colorado City, Westbrook and Loraine.

TDCJ employees and their families swim for free at the swimming pool.

Webb said the pavilion will be especially appreciated because a tent has had to be rented in past years to house the bingo and domino games and other activities.

"It sure does help out a lot," he said.

Staff members of the New Discovery Child Care Center will set up an outdoor area for young children and supervise them while their parents are having fun.

weapon in the door of Sims' car.

The sheriff said neither Sims, his wife, daughter, son or the son's friend who was traveling with them had been quarreling and that Sims did not notice anyone driving by when the shot was fired.

"You hate to think somebody would be driving down the interstate and shoot at somebody like that," Sheriff Toombs said.

The roadside park is off the eastbound lanes of I-20 about a mile due east of Loraine, and the sheriff said the shot might have been fired from a westbound vehicle on the other side of the interstate highway.

The Simses were en route to Houma, La., and went on their way after Sims was treated for the bullet wound, which went through his arm without hitting bone.

Court views tax rate

Mitchell County commissioners Tuesday approved the hiring of part-time clerks in peace justice and county sheriff's offices and set Monday, Aug. 10, to give tentative approval to the new 1999 budget.

Pct. 2 Justice of the Peace Kay Richmond and Sheriff Patrick Toombs appeared at the 9 a.m. meeting to say they have both had part-time clerks recently resign.

Judge Richmond said her clerk only works 15 hours a week, and Sheriff Toombs said his clerk will work half-time in the jail and office.

A request was approved from General Telephone Co. to bore under County Road 442 north of Loraine, in Pct. 4 Commissioner Bill Preston's precinct.

The court also moved to consider final adoption of the budget and set the new property tax rate on Aug. 25.

There was a discussion about reducing the county's funding of local ambulance service because of a $141,000 windfall to Mitchell County Hospital from Texas' settlement with the tobacco industry.

No action was taken.

Other business included approval of a new health insurance plan for the county's 75 employees through the insurance agency that has been carrying the policy, Ted L. Parker & Associates of Lubbock.

The meeting ended at 11 a.m. with all court members present.

Civic center roof okayed

City councilmen Tuesday night approved an $18,500 contract with a Midland company to re-roof the Civic Center building in the 100 block of West Second Street downtown.

Moreno Roofing Co. was approved to begin the work in mid-August.

City Manager Steve Shutt noted that a new $4,800 air conditioning system has just been installed in the building by local contractor Junior Walker.

Shutt said the building has not had a new roof "in 20-plus years."

The one-item meeting lasted 15 minutes.

county jail and could not be used for ambulances.

He said the EMS contract among the city, county and hospital district would be abrogated if the county withdrew, and he said he would contact commissioners about the issue.

Other business in the 6 p.m. meeting included an agreement to invite Chief Appraiser Kaye Nell Cornutt of the county tax appraisal district to the board's late August meeting to discuss the new tax rate.

In light of this year's county-wide property valuation reduction from $527 million to $514.1 million, board president Tom Carlock noted, the district's tax rate would have to be increased from 38 cents to 39.6 cents to produce the same amount of revenues.

Buddy Hertenberger of Colorado City appeared to say that his wife stayed overnight in the hospital earlier this summer and that the rooms are too small.

"Being in it is a whole lot different from looking in it and going on," Hertenberger said.

Carlock and other board members responded that building a new hospital is one of their long-term goals.

The American Heart Association has provided us with some recipes which we thought would be good to pass along to our readers. The recipes are good for everyone, not just those with heart disease. Prevention is the key when planning a healthy diet.

Here are some tips from the American Heart Association for planning your daily menu.

- Choose fish, shellfish, skinned chicken, Cornish hen and turkey, and trimmed lean meats, no more than six ounces, cooked per day.
- Choose at least five serving of fruits and vegetables.
- Select meat substitutes such as dried beans, peas, lentils, tofu or peanut butter, in entrees, salads or soups.

We encourage you to include these recipes in your healthful eating plan.

Summertime Soup

1 small ripe cantaloupe, peeled,

seeded and cubed
2 large ripe mangoes, peeled, pitted and cubed
2 medium peaches, peeled, pitted and cubed
3 cups fresh or frozen unsweetened strawberries (about 16 ounces)
1/2 cup plain nonfat or low-fat yogurt
1/3 cup frozen orange juice concentrate
1/3 cup port
2 tablespoons orange liqueur
1 tablespoon fresh lime juice
1 1/2 teaspoons raspberry vinegar
1/2 cup plain nonfat or low-fat yogurt, well chilled

Place all ingredients except 1/2 cup yogurt in a food processor. Process until thick and creamy. Pour into a serving bowl and freeze for about 20 minutes. Spoon into individual bowls and top each serving with a heaping teaspoon of yogurt. Serve immediately. Serves 7.

Mesquite-Grilled Red Snapper

SALSA:
vegetable oil spray
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup chopped carrot
1 to 2 jalapeno peppers, chopped
2 tablespoons peeled and finely chopped gingerroot

FISH:
2 to 3 cloves garlic, minced, or 1 to 1 1/2 teaspoons bottled minced garlic
1 15-ounce can black beans, rinsed and drained, reserving 3 tablespoons liquid
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 medium tomato, seeded and chopped
1 pound red snapper fillets (about 1/2 inch thick)

At least 1 hour before cooking, soak 4 to 6 mesquite wood chunks in enough water to cover. Lightly spray grill rack with vegetable oil spray. Set aside. Prepare grill. For salsa, spray a medium saucepan with vegetable oil spray. Cook onion, carrot, jalapeno peppers, gingerroot and garlic over medium-low heat for about 5 minutes, or until onion is tender.

Stir black beans, reserved bean liquid, and salt into onion mixture. Cook over medium-low heat about 1 to 2 minutes, or until heated through. Stir in tomato.

Meanwhile, drian wood chunks. Place wood chunks directly on medium-hot coals. Rinse fish and pat dry with paper towels. Place fish on prepared rack. Grill on an uncovered grill directly over medium-hot coals for 5 minutes. Turn and grill for 5 to 7 minutes, or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Place fish on serving plates. Serve with salsa. Serves 4.

Priestly order began in 1826

By Greg Vidal

A young French idealist's vision in the early 19th Century led to 50 years of service by Oblate priests in Mitchell County.

Recognizing the often heroic order known as "The Cavalry of Christ," the parishioners of St. Ann's Catholic Church in Colorado City and St. Joseph's Mission in Loraine gathered on Sunday to thank them for their dedication.

The Jubilee Celebration began with a reception from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Heart of West Texas Museum in Colorado City and concluded with a Jubilee Mass and a reception at 5:30 in St. Ann's Parish Hall at 2005 Walnut St.

The Oblate Fathers first came to Colorado City on June 29, 1948, with the appointment of Father James Riley to Colorado City and Loraine.

Since Father Riley's arrival, 11 other Oblate priests have followed -- the Revs. Thomas Quinlivan, Joseph P. Buckley, Arthur N. Kaler, Peter V. Rogers, Francis F. Arbet and Joseph D. Kennelly, all of whom are now deceased.

Others are the Revs. Carlos Kruzewinski, who is presently in Mexico City; James Foelker of St. Martin's Church in Kingsville, John Busch, who is retired in San Antonio; James Riley, retired in San Fernando, Calif., and the current pastor, the Rev. Ray Wilhelm.

The Missionary Oblates of Mary Immaculate were founded on Feb. 17, 1826, by a young French idealist named Charles Joseph Eugene de Mazenod.

As a young priest, Eugene de Mazenod was moved with compassion for the suffering of the poor people of the rural areas of Provence in his native France.

In the wake of the French Revolution, faced with an overwhelming task, he gathered a few priests around him, men who shared his impassioned zeal for the most abandoned.

Their creed was stated, "Live together as brothers, strive to imitate the virtues and examples of our Savior Jesus Christ, principally through preaching the word of God to the poor."

Pope Leo XII extended official church recognition to the congregation known as the Oblates of Mary Immaculate in February 1926.

In 1841, De Mazenod's new order became international in character, responding to the invitation of the bishop of Montreal to send volunteers to minister among Native Americans in the remote areas of Canada.

Their first establishment in the United States dates from Sept. 5, 1947, with the arrival of four French Oblates at Wallowa, Ore.

Oblate ministry from the beginning sought to help recent immigrants and Native Americans.

Other establishments quickly followed -- Buffalo, N. Y., in 1848, Texas in 1849, Plattsburgh, N. Y., in 1853 and Lowell, Mass., in 1868.

At the time of De Mazenod's death in 1861, there were more than 400 Missionary Oblates ministering in 10 countries. Today, almost 600 Oblates are active in the United States, immersed in the lives of the people they serve.

Inspired by De Mazenod's zeal and love for God's people, the Oblates developed into a worldwide religious congregation of men eager to minister in the most difficult and often dangerous places on earth.

Known as "The Cavalry of Christ," the Oblates in South Texas traveled up and down the banks of the Rio Grande River, preaching and teaching to the poor along the Texas-Mexico border.

Today, the Oblates in America minister in parishes in rural and inner-city areas, at retreat centers and as chaplains in prisons and hospitals.

Despite the fact that there are fewer priests, the Oblates continue to fill the spiritual and sacramental needs of Mitchell County's Catholics.

Sheets wins local goat show

Colorado High School student Mark Sheets' lightweight crossbred Boer Goat won the grand championship banner in Saturday's Meat Goat Show at the county ag barn southwest of town on Hwy. 80.

Sheets, 16, led Mitchell County efforts in the show, which was affiliated with the Boer Goat Cookoff in Ruddick Park and sponsored by the Junior Meat Goat Show Circuit Association.

The show, judged by Preston Farris of Sonora, featured 89 goats, most of them Boer Goat crossbreds.

There were no high finishers from Mitchell County in the Sunday show, judged by Lee Burch of Newcastle, near Graham.

Young Sheets' goats were reserve grand champion at the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show in 1997 and grand champion here last January.

His '97 goat was named grand champion of the Houston Livestock Show that February.

He is the son of Dale and Sandy Sheets of the Plainview Community, three miles south of Colorado City on Hwy. 208.

The goat he showed Saturday is a half-brother of the one that won the top prize in Houston, his father said.

New coaches arrive

Gerald James

The 1998 season brings new faces, challenges to the Colorado City Wolves. Incoming Head Coach Gerald James is excited about the face for the District 3-3A championship and has a mostly revamped coaching staff chomping at the bit to get started.

Todd Pollard, who spent the last three seasons in Levelland, will be coaching the defensive secondary.

Coaching the Wolves receivers will be Brandon Collins, joining the Pack after a successful tenure in Coahoma.

Idalou, outside of Lubbock, lost Coach Barry Kimball to Colorado City. Coach Kimball will work with the defensive tackles and will be the new Wolves head basketball coach.

Frank Johnson will take over the reigns as defensive coordinator. Coach Johnson comes from Plainview along with new running backs coach Dan Gainey. Gainey, who's been at Plainview for nine years, is the son of former football great Hollis Gainey.

Returning assistant Larry Hartwick will coach the offensive line. Colorado Middle School Head Coach Jerold Epperson and assistant Brian Taggart will also help Coach James with the big boys.

Years of experience and loads of talent permeate the staff which faces a true test to repeat as district champions.

Spirit high on volleyball team

Some think the Lady Wolves Volleyball team won't compete in re-aligned district 4-3A, especially after losing four starters.

But Coach Karen Trent says not to count these ladies out yet.

"This year's team may be getting sold short as a district underdog, but you can't count anybody out," she said.

The strength of the Lady Wolves squad is that "they are team players...not a lot of finesse," she said.

"The girls are tough, scrappy players with a lot of heart."

Returning seniors include three-year lettermen Kendra Anderson and Jamie Mason as well as two-year lettermen Edwina Ceballos, Staci Turnbow and Liz Rivera.

Kendra was voted last year's Outstanding Hitter and to first team all-district. Jamie was voted outstanding Defensive Specialist and to the first team as well.

Edwina Ceballos received All-District Honorable Mention for her efforts.

Because of the rotation of players, "Last year's team actually had nine 'starters,' so we are a lot deeper team than people may realize," said Trent.

Colorado City's toughest foes in the district will likely be Lamesa and Seminole.

Lamesa has an All-State setter returning to their squad and Seminole has a large number of returning lettermen with district honors.

There has been one significant rule change this season - you can no longer 'block' the serve.

The apparent reason for the change is an effort to allow the service to be played and increase the flow of the game -- in short, create longer rallies.

Last year was Coach Trent's first at the helm in C-City and her team went (19-8) overall and (4-2) in District 4-3A, losing a close match to Alpine (15-13) (15-13) to end the season.

Consider the spirit of the Lady Wolves and "you can't count anybody out," she said.

Coach plans to revive program

Jerry Miller

By Carl Graham

One may think that after 32 years of coaching six-man football that you would be ready for the life of leisure and retirement.

Not so for new Loraine head coach Jerry Miller. Miller has coached on the six-man level his entire career after a successful high school and college playing career.

"I played six-man ball at Guthrie, Texas and then played 11-man football for the first time while attending Howard Payne University at Brownwood," said the quite spoken Miller. "I had a brief stint with the Denver Broncos but a knee injury cut my pro career short," he continued.

The decision to begin a career in coaching was an easy one for Miller. "Football has always been a part of my life so I knew I wanted to coach if I couldn't play," Miller said. I would imagine a lot of Texas six-man coaches wish he would have chosen another career after going down in defeat to one of his teams.

Coach Miller is looking forward to his new challenge of turning around a football program that last year finished the season at 1-9, one of the worst records Loraine has had since dropping down from 11-man football.

"We will be young again this year with only three seniors indicating they will play," said Coach Miller. Fifteen individuals took their physicals last week and several others have indicated they will come out later. Coach Miller does not anticipate fielding a JV team at this time because of the low turnout.

Although Loraine is not in the same district as Westbrook for the first time since the Wildcats began playing football, they will however get a look at them when they face off in a pre-season scrimmage at Westbrook on August 21.

"We only have three pre-district games on the nine-game schedule this year and I believe by the second game of the season (against Lueders Avoca) we will have an idea of what we have," the coach stated.

Miller, who with 215 wins to his credit, is the winningest coach in six-man football.

"We are really excited about our upcoming season and eager to get the show on the road. All the folks I have met here in Loraine have been so friendly and Mr. Kendall and his staff are all just fantastic. I really appreciate their support," he continued.

If past seasons under Coach Miller are any indications of things to come at Loraine it will soon be time to "Unchain Those Dogs".

8	51,153	4,263	984
For each add'l member
add.....	+5,180	+432	+100

Children from families whose income falls within the level shown on the above scale are eligible for either free or reduced price meals. The reduced price for lunch is 30 cents and for breakfast is 20 cents.

Every household will be furnished with an application, which must be completed to apply for free or reduced price meals. To complete, please answer all questions on the form. An application which does not contain the following information is not complete and cannot be processed by the school: 1) Names of all household members; 2) Amount of income received by each household member such as wages, welfare, alimony, etc., or your Food Stamp or AFDC/TANF number if you receive these benefits; 3) Signature of an adult household member; 4) Social Security number of the adult who signs the form or the word "none" if that person has none.

Within 10 days of the receipt of the application, the school will notify you whether or not your child is eligible. The school or other officials may check the information on the application at any time during the school year.

If you child is approved for meal benefits, you must notify the school when your income increases by $50.00 per month / $600.00 per year, or when your household size decreases. If at anytime your child is receiving meal benefits due to food stamps or TANF and you no longer get TANF or food stamps for your child, you must notify the school. In certain cases, foster children are eligible for these benefits. If you have foster children living with you and wish to apply for free or reduced price benefits, please tell the school and they will help you complete the application. You may apply for benefits at any time during the school year. If you are not eligible now, but have a decrease in household income, become unemployed, or have an increase in family size, fill out an application at that time.

Children who receive free or reduced price meal benefits are treated the same as children who pay for their meals. In the operation of child feeding programs, no child is discriminated against because of race, sex, color, age, handicap, national origin, political belief, or religion. If you believe you have been discriminated against, write immediately to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. If you do not agree with the school's decision on your application or the result of verification, you may wish to discuss it with the school. You also have the right to a fair hearing. This can be done by calling or writing to Mr. Tommy Hancock, Superintendent of schools, P.O. Box 99, Westbrook, Texas 79565, or call 644-2311.

Loraine tourney held

The Loraine PTO sponsored the First Annual Outsiders Basketball Tournament on July 24 and July 25 at the Loraine Gym.

Coming away with first place in the round-robin tournament was a team called the "Untouchables" and apparently they were running through the tournament undefeated. The team was comprised of Cory Wooddell, Alvin Crawford, Kyle Moore, Lance Dockery, Tommy Pinkerton, Steve Guterrez, Jeremy Gamboa, Eddie Martinez, and Freddie Olivarez. For their efforts they came away with first place t-shirts and several bumps and bruises.

Taking second place was the "Bluebirds". This crew was made up of Tony Williams, Josh Williams, Mickey Williams, Pat Ridge, Anthony Williams, Mark Monroe, Barron Wesley, and "Little" Ryan Lucas. They also won t-shirts.

The "Dogpound" finished in third place. The team was comprised of "Bubba" Williams, Anthony Aguilar, T.J. Aguilar, Edward Carrington, Roman Martinez, Dane Robinson, Josh Wooddell, and Johnny Lopez.

The PTO appreciates each and everyone who helped put the tournament on and they are making plans on making next year's tournament a three-on-three instead of 5-on-5 in hopes of attracting more teams.

W'brook coach declines to 'sing the blues'

By Carl Graham

Last year at this time Coach Jim Hill of Westbrook was concerned how he would be able to replace his all-district quarterback Justin Hill and outstanding kicker/receiver Randy Byington, who both transferred over the summer to Colorado City.

Vincent Soliz stepped up to take over at quarterback and also added the kicking chores to his resume.

In fact, Soliz went on to pass for over 3,500 yards and 51 touchdown passes while leading the Wildcats to a regional battle with the Sands Mustangs.

After leading the game most of the way, the Wildcats eventually lost to the Mustangs 52-44 and ended their season at 8-4.

This year the veteran coach is again concerned about who will step in to replace the all-district Soliz who is carrying his talents to Cisco Junior College.

The leading candidate at this time is the feisty Chris Chamberlain. Soliz heir apparent Leroy Mills transferred to Snyder over the summer leaving Coach Hill once again searching for a replacement.

Should Chamberlain fill the void left when Soliz graduated, the next item on the agenda will be finding a replacement for all-state receiver Davy Daniel.

Daniel was no slouch, either, as he added 80 pass receptions to his credit. He took 26 of those receptions all the way for touchdowns.

Both Soliz and Daniel played in the Texas six-man all star contest in Breckenridge last Saturday.

Although it may seem Coach Hill is singing the blues, he wasn't exactly left with an empty cupboard.

Among his returning veterans will be senior Thadd Rich. Rich is big and strong and will be called upon to open holes from his center position.

Because of the unstable quarterback position, Coach Hill expects to run primarily out of the tight formation.

Getting most of the work out of the backfield will be the Matos brothers, James and Roland. Roland came on strong last season to finish with 14 touchdowns.

Four of those touchdowns came in a bi-district clash with Ropes.

Senior receiver Brad Hale should step up to replace the departed Daniel.

Though Hale is small, he proved to be a valuable asset last season hauling in clutch receptions in the district run.

Other top returnees Hill is counting on are Joe Rich and Ulalo Guterrez.

Two-a-days will begin on Wednesday, August 5, and Coach Hill is expecting 18-20 prospective ballplayers.

The first test for Wildcats will be cross-county rival Loraine who they will scrimmage on August 21 in Westbrook at 6 p.m.

"We were extremely proud of the accomplishments of last year and all the hard work the kids put in to be successful," said Coach Hill.

"We anticipate having another successful run this year if the kids again work hard and strive to put out that extra effort it takes to be a champion."

Emergency loans offered

Applications for emergency farm loans for losses caused by the drought are being accepted at the Farm Service Agency (FSA) office located in Sweetwater, TX, Dennis V. Cumbie said recently.

Texas was recently named, by Secretary of Agriculture Dan Glickman, eligible for loans to cover part of actual production losses resulting from the drought.

Dennis V. Cumbie, Farm Loan Manager, said farmers may be eligible for loans of up to 80 percent of their actual losses or the operating loan needed to continue in business, whichever is less. For farmers unable to obtain credit from private commercial lenders, the interest is 3.75 percent.

"As a general rule, a farmer must have suffered at least a 30 percent loss of production to be eligible for an FSA emergency loan," Mr. Cumbie said. Farmers participating in the Federal Crop Insurance program will have to figure in proceeds from those programs in determining their loss.

"Applications for loans under this emergency designation will be accepted until 3/2/99 but farmers should apply as soon as possible. Delays in applying could create backlogs in processing and possibly over into the new farming season," Mr. Cumbie said.

FSA is a credit agency of the U.S. Department of Agriculture. It is authorized to provide disaster emergency loans to recognized farmers who work at the rely on farming for a substantial part of their living. Eligibility is extended to individual farmers who are U.S. citizens and to farming partnerships, corporations, or cooperatives in which U.S. citizens hold a majority interest.

The FSA office in Sweetwater is open from 8:00 to 5:00, Monday through Friday.

Computer confab set

An organizational meeting for the Mitchell/Scurry Computer Club will be held on Saturday, August 1 at 7:00 p.m. in the Dunn Community Center.

All persons interested in computers are invited to come. The meeting is very important in that the direction of the club will be decided at this meeting.

Officers, to lead the club for the balance of the year, will be appointed. Meeting time, dates, and agenda will also be set at this meeting.

Ownership of a computer is not required. One of the goals of the club is to educate interested parties who have an interest in computers, so they may make an intelligent decision in purchasing one.

Those parties, who already own one, will have an opportunity to learn more about them and share information from the novice of the expert.

Among other aims, is to organize swap meets for computers and parts. Come join us. For more information 573-1663.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS

loraine news

By Bessie Ann Vaughn

Greetings to all! I have just received two Christmas catalogs through the mail. Ordinarily, I would fuss about them being so early and toss them away, but since it is so hot and uncomfortable I may just start Christmas shopping in July and dream of a white Christmas. Let it snow! Let it snow! Let it snow!

Carolyn Garrett with grandchildren Randy and Lindsay, also Sherlyn Selz and son Reason, all of Dallas, visited with Chrystene Hall and Iris Preston last week. Carolyn and Sherlyn are the Loraine ladies nieces.

Jean and Troy Keagans were in town Saturday and Sunday. While they were here they visited Jean's mom Syble Walker and other relatives as well.

Green's Lil Souper has some really neat Loraine Bulldog t-shirts for sale. "We're unchained," the t-shirts say. The shirts sell for $10 each.

We send our condolences to the family and friends of old time Lorainian, Mrs. L.J. (Emma) Taylor. Mrs. Taylor passed away just recently and graveside services were held for her last Friday morning. Mrs. B.D. Smith and her daughter and other relatives also attended the service.

Virgil and Geraldine Parnell celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary July 27th. Congratulations and best wishes to the Loraine couple.

Mable Graham was surprised on her birthday this past Saturday, July 25th. Her two sisters and their husbands, Lois and Jesse Hefferman of Rotan and T.J. and Theta Stovall of Mesquite unexpectedly dropped in on her with a prepared lunch of ham and all the trimmings and a beautiful decorated birthday cake.

Also joining in on the fun of visiting, taking pictures and eating was her husband, Elwood Graham, Carl and Brent Graham of Loraine and James and Dorothy Graham of Sweetwater. She also received numerous calls throughout the day to wish her well.

Pearl Prentice of San Angelo spent this week with her sister, Eva Wells. Joining them Thursday and Friday was their brother, Bob Smith of Waco and sister, Lessie Coker of Abilene. On Sunday, Eva's daughter and husband Katrina and Cecil Robinson of Abilene and their granddaughter Bailey Robinson of Calsbad, Texas had lunch with Eva.

Over last weekend, Pat and Pat Sadler and Brittany from Anadorka, Oklahoma, visited with J.A. and Yvonne Sadler, and Burt and John Colsen in Sweetwater. Brittany will stay a few days longer with her grandparents.

We have concerns for Tiger Armstrong, a family pet, almost a little person. Veterinarian Vardeman did surgery on Tiger recently and we hope he gets better. Gus and Iva are very worried about Tiger! Richard and Barbara Blair from N. Richland Hills and Billy Dale and wife, Wyonna Blair from Umbarger, Tx. spent the past weekend with their mother, Ruth Richburg.

Loraine Church of Christ held a reception last Sunday for a retiring minister of 29 years, Brother Joe Marshall. Rev. Joe Marshall of Abilene, his wife Wilma and their three children and grandchildren were present for the occasion. It sounds like quite a love story, keeping a pastor in the same house of worship for so many years. Bro. Marshall and his wife Wilma both taught school at A.C.U. for several years. After a traditional, (every two months) lunch at church, the reception began with refreshments from 2 until 3:00. A nice crowd attended from Loraine, Dolorado City, Lubbock, Roscoe, Maryneal, Stanton, Illinois, Kerrville, and the metroplex area. The church members will now have visiting ministers for an unspecified time. Congratulations to Bro. Marshall on his retirement.

Canada Tour
Taking the Bilgrey Tour to Canada recently from Loraine was Billie Schrader. I may not be speaking to her any time soon because she kept talking about Lake Louise, 60 and 70 degree weather in the daytime and in the 40's at night. In Calgary, a Chuckwagon spectacular was attended with entertainment, including a rodeo. On to Alberta and Banff where the tourists rode Gondolas up the mountains to sightsee and to a restaurant for a nice meal. While in that area, they toured the Columbia Ice Fields which was reported to be a grand site. Riding trams up mountains to 1300 feet to do more sight seeing before going on to Edmonton where they stayed in a motel adjoining the largest mall in the world, eight blocks long and three blocks wide.

Before returning home, the Capital of Alberta was visited. A cool comfortable trip! Billie came, to 103 degree heat.

Senior Center News

Last week at the Senior Center the local Thespians had a lot of fun acting out their presentation of "Horse Lost Papa's Will." The local reviews were good and thank you's are in order for the great attendance.

The cast of "Horse Lost Papas Will" has already had an invitation to take the show on the road! Maybe when the weather is cooler, we might consider it. "Actors" taking parts J.A. Sadler, Tommy Wright, Oscar Singleton, Charles Dunn, Juanice Butler, Billie Schroeder, Wanza Graham, Yvonne Sadler, Joan Long and Bessie Ann Vaughn.

We are looking forward to having Lance Dockrey Monday and to Ken Northcutt Wednesday on Birthday Party Day.

P.S. Lance did a great job of singing. We enjoyed his songs.

"You Can't Stop The Clock"
Last Wednesday, before I even got out of bed it dawned on me that time had done another number on me.

The older I become the faster the numbers roll around.
A little voice said, "Well get up and fight back," "Nothing comes from Nothing". Don't ask me who the little voice belongs to because I don't know. I talk to him often though.

To make me look and feel better about myself, I bought a dark hair dye, a man's product. I thought it might be stronger. I like the green highlights it caused. Next, I bought some eye cream which was rich in earthworm paste and Vitamin P. Squirrels are beginning to like me. My new face cream is wonderful, it contains bee pollen, cucumbers, and ground up catfish bait. The cats and flies just love it. I chose Redder Rouge to wear, being careful and applying it only to my cheeks and behind my ears. Lastly, the eye liner looked good on the young pictured model. Why wouldn't it be good for me? Right away, I could not see well enough to apply it correctly and wound up with a big dark line across the bridge of my nose. Now the mud swallows don't know me and they fuss and screech when I go out doors. My family and friends seem happy that I had another birthday. Well yeah, think of the alternative! I'm happy, I'm happy that I'm older.
