Barry Holton, coach at Trinity university, Waxahachie, for the past four years, was made athletic director of the high school and junior high schools of Wichita Falls for the coming school year at a meeting of the board of education Tuesday night. E. A. Baggett, present Junior college coach, was re-elected by the unanimous action of the board.

Mr. Holton will succeed Bud McCallum, high school coach here during the past five years, whose resignation was presented to the board several weeks ago. He was elected upon the recommendation of Dr. J. W. Cantwell, superintendent of schools, and Carter McGregor, board member, who were named a committee to fill the vacancy. Dr. Cantwell reported to the board that both he and Mr. McGregor had visited Trinity university and were very favorably impressed with a detailed report of Mr. Holton's four-year record there.

Miss Erma Nala Voss and Miss Jennie Roberson were re-elected supervisors of music and art in the schools for the coming year, the re-elections being accompanied with high praise from Mrs. W. W. Silk, board member, and from Dr. Cantwell.

Election of the coaches was the final official act of the board as it was constituted and organized before the election here on April 6. Immediately upon the retirement of W. B. Chauncey as president and board member, C. H. Clark, former vice president and one of the veteran members of the group, was unanimously made president. W. L. Robertson was chosen vice presi-

Surrender Of Juarez By Rebels Awaits Gil's Okeh

Revolutionary Force Evacuates Panic Stricken City to Make Last Stand in Sierra Mountains

JUAREZ, Mexico, April 9. (UP)—Surrender of Juarez, held by Mexican rebels since they captured the city in a bloody conflict of the revolution on March 7, was arranged tonight.

Actual delivery of the city to Mexican Consul General Liekens by Gen. Barcelino Murieta, rebel military commander, awaited approval of President Portes Gil. Liekens was attempting to reach the presidencia by telephone to receive authority to take over the important port of entry.

Unconditional Terms

Terms of the surrender were practically unconditional, but they were specified after about 2,000 rebel soldiers had been evacuated. So they provided for surrender of only 125 soldiers, the normal strength of the Juarez garrison.

The soldiers who were evacuated were taken on troop trains to Casas Grandes, where they intend to make their last stand against the federals in the high Sierra mountains.

Panic reigned in the city as the rebels moved out. All the prisoners in the city jail fled when police abandoned it. Fearing they were without police protection, merchants and saloon men boarded up their windows and stood guard in their business places with rifles, fearing that looting would start immediately. A whisky warehouse was entered by men who used the police patrol to remove a barrel of liquor.

Motley Cargo

At 8:30 p.m. Gen. Marcelo Caraveo's heavily loaded troop train started out of the Juarez yards on the northwestern line. There were nearly 30 cars loaded with soldiers, horses, women, children, ammunition, an airplane on a flat car, and several tank cars of gasoline. There was a locomotive at each end.

Al Coenen, American airplane mechanic, was a prisoner on the train. He was under guard and told newspapermen that rebels kidnaped him this afternoon in a Juarez cafe to work on their planes. Coenen was employed by the Standard air lines in El Paso. His home is in Los Angeles. Three American flyers, Capt. Robt. H. Polk, Phil Mohun, and Pete Stanley were aboard voluntarily.

Rebel soldiers were loaded into troop trains for the evacuation and rebel civilians fled to El Paso, laden with their luggage. They streamed across the international bridge in old automobiles, on street cars and afoot.

Battle "Forbidden"

The hurried exodus followed a flat order from United States army officers prohibiting a battle in Juarez, which would endanger American lives and property.

The order was promulgated by Maj. A. J. Surles, Fort Bliss intelligence officer, addressed to Gen. Marcelino Murrieta, commander of the rebel garrison in Juarez, and to Col. Manuel Prieto, federal commander approaching the city at the head of a strong column of federals.

Prieto was leading his soldiers on the city from Guadalupe, 40 miles east of Juarez. He rode in a battered old Ford automobile, and was accompanied by a cavalry company, which clashed with a small band of rebels four miles out of Guadalupe, just after the march started.

Juarez Excited

The cavalry quickly brushed aside the rebels and continued their advance. It soon became apparent that Prieto's force of about 900 men would not be stopped in its march, and the American army order against a battle in Juarez was issued immediately.

Panedmonium prevailed in Juarez when news of the federal advance reached the city. Several rebel soldiers from the Juarez garrison rushed across the Santa Fe street bridge with their rifles and pistols and surrendered themselves to United States authorities. They were interned at Fort Bliss.

American tourists in Juarez, caught unawares, hurried back to the safety of their native land. Saloons closed. Stores followed suit. Salvador Ateca, who has the city's slot machine concession, gathered up his machines, loaded them onto trucks and started them for El Paso.

GONCE REFUSED SECOND TRIAL

Electran Given Year in Pen On Liquor Charge

Judge Allan D. Montgomery Tuesday afternoon overruled a motion for a new trial for Roy Gonce, who Tuesday morning pleaded guilty to the sale of whisky to high school boys in Electra and was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary on each of two counts, the terms to run concurrently. Gonce is already under a three year sentence on a liquor charge assessed by a jury in Clay county, Sam Spence, district attorney, explained.

The defense attorneys were given 60 days in which to perfect an appeal, and Gonce was released on bond.

Cases against Al Stewart and George Bingham also indicted in connection with the investigation of an alleged schoolboy speakeasy in Electra, were dismissed when the witnesses failed to identify them Each of two boys, giving their ages as 17 years, testified in the 30th district court Tuesday morning that he had bought a pint of whisky from Gonce in January of this year.

LINDY OVERDUE AT FIELD ON TEXAS BORDER

Brownsville Officials See Possibility of Change In Flier's Course

FLYING TO NEW YORK

Colonel Takes Off From Mexico City at Noon Toward North

SAN ANTONIO, April 9. (AP)—A check late tonight of practically all airports along the Texas border failed to reveal any trace of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh.

EAGLE PASS, Texas, April 9. (AP)—Nothing had been seen here tonight of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who was reported to have flown in this direction after leaving Mexico City. Persons living near the landing field declared no plane had passed over or landed.

MEXICO CITY, April 9. (AP)—Chapultepec palace reported late tonight that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had crossed the Mexican border at Piedras Negras to Eagle Pass, Texas, at 7 p. m. (8 p. m., E. S. T.)

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, April 9. (AP)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, who left Mexico City at 1:20 p. m. Eastern Standard time today, had not reached here at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Local airport officials believed he might have turned westward and intended to land at San Antonio.

FLIGHT STARTED AT 11:20 P. M.

MEXICO CITY, April 9. (US)—Cheerful, but entirely uncommunicative about plans for his wedding to Miss Anne Spencer Morrow, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh climbed into his plane and hopped off for Brownsville, Texas, after a week's visit here. He started at 12:20 this noon (1:20 New York time).

Word was received from Val Buena field during the forenoon that Colonel Lindbergh' plane was "in readiness" at the American embassy, Colonel Lindbergh was asked:

"Where are you going?"

"New York," he answered.

A few minutes later he entered an automobile accompanied by Col. Alexander McNab, military attache at the embassy, and drove to the flying field. At the embassy he bade farewell to Miss Anne and the other members of the Morrow family.

Arriving at the flying field he wasted no time. He went directly to the area reserved for military fliers, which he alone of civilian fliers is permitted to use, entered his plane, taxied for about 200 yards, rose gracefully in a long, sloping ascent, circled the field, and headed off rapidly in the direction of Tampico.

The state contended in the petition that the franchise granted March 24, 1890, was for 25 years, and that it expired years ago.

Question of Sacrifices Now Faces Experts

PARIS, April 9. (AP)—The chief question now occupying the reparations experts' committee is which of the reparations creditors of Germany are going to make sacrifices in an effort to meet the offer of representatives of the reich.

The small creditors say it is impossible for them to scale down their reparations while the British are equally reluctant to abandon their share of reparations under the percentages worked out after the war.

Sinclair's Jail Vies With Capitol Dome As Attraction For Sightseers

WASHINGTON, April 9. (US)—The District of Columbia "jail house," brought into sudden prominence by a momentous supreme court decision, today shared honors with such points of interest in the national capital as the Washington monument and the national zoo.

For the drab and dreary pile near the banks of the historic Anacosta river, where Harry F. Sinclair seems doomed to spend three months, was put on the routes of sightseeing buses today.

"On your right, ladies and gentlemen, is the district jail, where Harry F. Sinclair, multimillionaire oil magnate, must spend 90 days for contempt of the United States senate," tourists were informed by leather-lunged "lecturers." At the same time little groups of tourists made pilgrimages "on their own" to the building.

Friday will be the first "visitors' day" at the jail since its newly-acquired prominence, and Maj. W. L. Peake, the jailor, is preparing for a record number of callers. The majority are expected to be persons merely seeking to satisfy their curiosity to see where Sinclair will be incarcerated.

Any hope that Sinclair will be able to escape the jail sentence had faded today. He has only two recourses—a rehearing by the U. S. supreme court or a presidential pardon. The supreme court grants a rehearing only upon the development of new angles in a case, so that avenue appears to be closed. While President Hoover has not commented, those close to him were certain that he will not interfere.

As a result, Major Peake expects to welcome his distinguished prisoner about the second week in May. The supreme court mandate will be given to the court of appeals on May 8, the latter court passing it on to the district supreme court probably the following day. Sinclair's arrest or surrender is then

MOODY LISTS NEEDED LAWS

Governor Issues Call For Special Session

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—Calling the 41st legislature to convene in special session on April 22 at noon, Governor Moody today in his proclamation set out three subjects of legislation for submission. He reserved the right to present other matters from time to time during the session.

Mentioning necessity for legislation centralizing the Texas prison system; carrying into effect the amendment to the constitution providing for a board of education, voted last November, and providing a merit system for the selection of subordinate employes of the state government, the governor did not touch on appropriations to pay expenses of the government during the next biennium.

It had been reported that he intended withholding the appropriations until after his penitentiary and civil service legislation had been disposed of. The regular session failed to enact legislation on either of these subjects, the civil service bill having been killed in the house and the governor's measure proposing concentration and relocation of the penitentiary system having been lost in the last-minute rush of the closing hours when the two houses disagreed on some of its provisions.

Merchant Forgot Court's Funds After Few Drinks, He Tells Judge

Former Olney Man Jailed for Contempt for Failure to Pay $2,000 in Bankruptcy Sale

Charged with failure to place $2,000 in the hands of a bankruptcy referee upon the orders of the court, Joe Liberman, former merchant at Olney, Tuesday morning was found in contempt of the United States district court and committed to the Wichita county jail until such time as the money shall be paid.

The defendant, cited for contempt upon the application of Walter Nelson, referee, told Judge W. H. Atwell that he was not in possession of the money and was unable to comply with the order. He declared that he did not remember what disposition had been made of the funds after he had taken several drinks. The money was alleged to have been collected through an auction sale conducted in the store against which bankruptcy proceedings were brought.

The order for the money was entered on Oct. 5, 1928, and made payable 30 days later, according to the records on file with Miss Jessie Cowan, deputy clerk of the court. The citation for contempt was sought by Mr. Nelson, referee, and Don T. Haynes, trustee.

ALDERMEN TO ASK MANAGER ABOUT CRIME

Specific Steps to Be Taken At Next Meeting Are Not Revealed

FAIRTRACE 'CALM'

Manager Says Situation Here No Worse Than In Other Cities

WICHITAN'S HOME LOOTED AS HE ATTENDS FUNERAL

One day after A. A. Spencer, manager of the Exchange Petroleum corporation here, was called to Rogers, Ark., by the death of his father, burglars made a profitable haul of jewelry, linens, and wearing apparel in a thorough ransacking of his residence at 1922 Victory avenue, it was learned Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer had not returned to Wichita Falls Tuesday night and a complete check of the amount or value of the property stolen could not be ascertained, although friends feared that it might reach several thousand dollars.

Mrs. M. A. Park, 1926 Victory, discovered the burglary nearly two weeks ago on the morning after it happened and reported it to police headquarters. The police investigated the case but did not disclose it or make note of it on their burglary report books.

The thieves, Mrs. Park said, entered the home by ripping off a screen and smashing through one of the rear windows.

Official action in the unchecked wave of burglaries and thefts here will be taken by the Wichita Falls city council at its next meeting, it was indicated Tuesday when several members of the city commission told The Record News that they would strongly recommend to City Manager George D. Fairtrace that the situation here has reached a climax.

Reports compiled by The Record News and published Tuesday morning showed 319 burglaries and thefts here in the last six months, with losses of more than $44,000 and recoveries by the police department of only $2,505.

"Crime to Be Stopped"

Members of the city commission declined to say if any specific steps would be suggested to Mr. Fairtrace, but expressed confidence that the "crime wave here can be and will be stopped." Mr. Fairtrace was apparently unimpressed by the situation Tuesday, although he held a conference at the police station with Chief of Police Frank Burns.

"There will be no changes in the police department for the immediate present," the city manager declared.

"The situation here is no worse than several other southwestern cities."

Chief Burns Busy

He declined to make any other comment, but admitted that he had received one application from a well known Wichita Falls peace officer for a post as police chief. Chief of Police Frank Burns, busy with an investigation of the $1,000

Stimson Plays Old Army Game Handling Mrs. Gann's Case

Secretary of State Passes Buck to Sir Esme to Decide Who's Who

WASHINGTON, April 9. (UP)—Secretary of State Stimson has passed the buck on the perplexing problem of the social status of Mrs. Edward E. Gann, sister and hostess for Vice President Curtis, back to the diplomatic corps.

Sir Esme Howard informed the United Press he would call a meeting of the diplomatic corps at the British embassy for noon tomorrow to discuss and settle the question of Mrs. Gann's precedence so far as diplomatic functions may be concerned.

Ambassador Carlos Davila, whose dinner party at the Pan American union Thursday night will be the first test of the new situation, talked with Sir Esme by telephone tonight but the United Press was informed he postponed further discussion of the situation until the meeting tomorrow noon.

Stimson informed the diplomatic corps that it must settle the problem itself in a letter to Sir Esme Howard, British ambassador and dean of the corps, who sent out the original notice that wives of diplomats would have precedence over the sister of the vice president.

In sending out the notice, Howard merely was transmitting to the diplomatic corps a decision by the state department.

Emphasis placed by Stimson upon the fact any courtesy shown the vice president of Mrs. Gann would be "most agreeable" to him was interpreted as a step toward granting Curtis' request for a reversal of former Secretary of State Kellogg's previous ruling, giving diplomats precedence over Mrs. Gann.

The announcement of Stimson's action tonight followed an hour's conference at the state department between him and the British ambassador.

SINCLAIR'S JAIL DRAWS CROWD

Sightseeing Buses Include Prison on Routes

expected to follow within a day or two.

"We shall make no distinction between Mr. Sinclair and any other of our guests," said Major Peake today. "He will get fair treatment, but no favors."

Incidentally, the major is an official with certain well defined ideas of prison discipline. There have been reports that certain prisoners received preferential treatment from past administrations, but under Major Peake the prison routine has been applied to all alike. That's what a prison is for, the major insists.

So, when Mr. Sinclair "checks in" he will follow the same routine, from beginning to end, to which all others are made to adhere.

First, he will be taken to the receiving room where he will be fingerprinted and docketed—questioned as to name, age, birthplace, etc. Then he will be assigned to a cell. As the jail is usually crowded, he probably will be forced to share his cell with one or two other prisoners.

From then on, Sinclair will experience the hardships he left behind in his youth to become a ruler of oil fields. Here is the routine.

5:30 a. m.—Reveille.- Clean up cell.

6:30 a. m.—Breakfast of cereal with milk (not cream) and coffee which old timers say is far from unsurpassed.

7 a. m.—Until noon—non-working prisoners occupy themselves as best they can within their cells or cell blocks.

Noon—the "big meal" of the day—roast beef, potatoes and gravy, or corned beef and cabbage as the piece de resistance.

1 p. m. to 6 p. m.—Same as forenoon.

6 p. m.—Supper—usually stew and cooked fruit.

7 to 9 p. m.—Read or exercise within limitations.

9 p. m.—Lights out.

Mr. Sinclair will be given his choice of working or "idling." Usually, prisoners prefer to be employed, for they "get about" more. Besides, working prisoners are allowed a daily bath, while the "idlers" are allowed only one bath a week. Thus Sinclair will have to "work for his baths."

As for work, there is plenty to be done, if one is suited to the nature of employment available. The jail has a laundry, carpenter shop, paint shop and plumbing shop. It is hardly probable that the distinguished prisoner would fit in with any of these activities, but there is also considerable clerical work to be done, for which he may qualify.

Despite his millions, Sinclair will have to be content with the regular prison fare. It is one of Major Peake's hard and fast rules that no meals are "brought in."

The only advantage he will have over a penniless prisoner is that he will be able to patronize the jail store. But the prisoner with, say, $5 or $10, will be as rich as Mr. Sinclair in this instance. For the store dispenses only pie, cheap candy, and tobacco.

On visiting days, the prisoner will receive his callers on one bench, while he sits on another. Between the two benches will be a screen of heavy wire.

And such, for 90 days and 90 nights, will be the life of the man who defied the senate.

PSYCHOLOGIST GIVES TALKS

Dr. Van Houtte to Open Series Tonight

A series of lectures on "Health and Success," to be given by Dr. Albert Leon Van Houtte, representing the American College of Psychoanalysis, New York, will open Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the ballroom of the Kemp hotel.

The lectures will continue through April 15, according to Dr. Van Houtte, and will be free to the public. They will be followed by a course of study here, it was stated, in which courses in elementary and applied psychology, psychoanalysis and other allied subjects will be offered.

The visiting lecturer is credited with extensive study in this country and Europe, and with the authorship of many treaties concerned with human nature. One of the subjects on which he will lay stress in his lectures, it was said, will be the failure of modern education to prepare the student for a definite achievement in life.

Dr. Van Houtte lectured before the employes of Saul's store Tuesday at 6 p. m. on the subject, "The Super-Value of Personality in Salesmanship." Courtesy, tolerance and a sense of humor were described as essentials to successful retail selling.

The subject announced for the first lecture Wednesday night is "How to Outwit by Using the Seven Doctors of Nature."

Farrell Warns Against Misuse of City Dump

The depositing of decayed matter on the city dump absolutely will not be allowed, J. M. Farrell, chief city sanitary inspector, asserted Tuesday after a local trash hauler had received a $20 fine in the corporation court for placing a mule head on the dump.

All trash haulers have been instructed to take decayed matter to the city incinerator and have it burned and strict adherence to the law must be followed, Dr. Farrell said.

The mule head, it was brought out in the trial, was taken from behind the Hamilton building where it had been placed after examination by a local physician for rabies.

400 Defendants Named In $1,560 Tax Judgment

More than 400 defendants, scattered through every section of the United States, are named in a $1,560 judgment for delinquent county taxes entered Tuesday afternoon by Judge W. W. Cook in the 78th district court. Wayne Somerville, county attorney, had entered suit for the taxes for 1922-1927, inclusive.

The land involved includes 60 acres about four miles out from Electra cut up into 20 foot lots and sold to oil speculators during the boom, Mr. Somerville said.

HONOR IDEAS 'NEED REVISION'

Temperance Leader Favors Barrel Blistering

WASHINGTON, April 9. (INS)—Prohibitionists and reform leaders of Washington today were scandalized at reports the University of Virginia chapter of Delta Tau Delta fraternity had refused to cooperate with officials in efforts to eradicate college drinking.

Deets Pickett, secretary of the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, denounced the action of the chapter, and recommended revocation of its charter by the national organization and breaking up of the chapter as an organization by school authorities if it does not "swing in line."

He characterized as "nonsense and poppycock" the contention of the chapter president, C. E. Cuddy, that dry efforts bred hypocrisy and created an "unhealthy atmosphere for the honor system."

"Their conception of honor needs revision," Pickett said. "These young boys come unexperienced to school, and should be taught to realize a responsibility to their country. Obedience to the law is part of honor."

The Methodist official, however, blamed the trouble not so much on the students themselves as on "drinking professors." Declaring a prominent Virginia political leader told him "some of the professors use liquor," Pickett said:

"If what I hear is true, then these professors should be taken out, turned over a barrel and blistered."

He recommended that the school institute a wholesale dismissal policy for drinking students. In a statement given International News Service he said:

"Any boy who brings liquor on school property or drinks there, should be disciplined, and if this does no good he should be sent home.

"Not all the boys, by any means, nor the majority by any means who attend the university are ruined by drink. But there is something wrong, and the state of Virginia ought to find out what it is, and change conditions if the clean-up means splitting the university wide open."

The Anti-Saloon league, through D. G. Christgau, assistant to the general superintendent, F. Scott McBride, issued an appeal to the chapter to comply with the prohibition law for the sake of "sportsmanship."

Indicted 'Dry' Solon Unconcerned Over Rumor of Fight Against Him

WASHINGTON, April 9. (INS)—M. Alfred Michaelson, Illinois dry congressman, appeared in the capital today preparatory to taking his seat in congress Monday for the special session.

Asked about rumors challenging his right to take the oath of office while an indictment charging him with smuggling liquor into the country pends against him in Key West, Fla., he said:

"I do not think there's anything to that. I am here for the session and if anyone wants to challenge me I can't help it."

His trial is scheduled to start in Key West May 6. Questions concerning whether he will ask a postponement were answered that his attorney was handling the case.

Michaelson's indictment lay unacted upon for six months. Last week its presence was learned. At that time New York customs inspectors charged William M. Morgan, another dry congressman from Ohio, had brought in four bottles of liquor from a congressional junket to Panama.

Critics Attack South Sea Yarn

NEW YORK, April 9. (UP)—An inquiry to establish the authenticity of "Cradle of the Deep' by Joan Lowell, the last issue of the book-of-the-month-club, has been started by the editorial board of that organization and the results probably will be known in a few days, according to Robert Haas, president of the club.

This book of tall tales in the South Seas relating the adventures of Miss Lowell, who sailed on her father's windjammers from the time she was 11 months old until she was 17 years of age, has been the subject of much controversy since its publication.

Several critics have charged it is not a true autobiography, but an exciting yarn built up of certain experiences of the author which most readily lent themselves to making a readable story.

More Planes Join Hunt For Southern Cross

SYDNEY, N. S. W., April 9. (UP) —An attempt to coordinate the search by airplane and runners for the missing airplane, Southern Cross, and its four occupants was made tonight after the pilot of one searching plane, which was forced down and disabled, reported that the missing craft passed over Port George Mission, 250 miles west of Wyndham, its destination. The search area was reduced to a 250-mile radius from Wyndham and more planes secured to join the hunt tomorrow.

Rumors of Royal Romance Are Denied

STOCKHOLM, April 9. (UP)—Persistent rumors of the coming engagement of the Danish crown prince, Frederick, and Princess Ingrid, daughter of the crown prince of Sweden, were denied by well informed sources today. River Search Yields No Clue in Slaying

LOS ANGELES, April 9. (UP)—Dragging of the Los Angeles river bottom near Compton, where the torso of a young woman was found, failed to disclose anything that might add to the clues already at hand. Police were attempting to trace a light green slipper, found within 100 yards of the spot where the headless and limbless body was first seen by a Mexican laborer Thursday night.

Advance Ticket Sale for Concert Of Royal Belgian Guards Opens Today

The advance sale of seats for the night performance of the Symphonic band of the Royal Belgian Guards here on April 20 will open at Renfro's drug store, corner Eighth and Scott, Wednesday morning. Seats for the matinee performance will be unreserved and will be sold in the schools and at the box office on the day of the performance.

Mail orders for seats for the night performance are now being received. Orders should be addressed to the chamber of commerce with checks accompanying.

The band on its first American tour is playing in a few of the larger cities of Texas including Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Wichita Falls and El Paso. It is being brought to Wichita Falls under a large guarantee made by a group of citizens with the thought, not of profit, but of bringing an entertainment of such merit to Wichita Falls.

During the early days of the Regiment des Guides, the musical unit consisted only of trumpets. Slowly this group grew into a regimental band, which was known for many years as the Musique des Guides. The first words of praise bestowed on the organization by the press of a foreign country came in 1862 when the Musique des Guides was invited to London for the international exposition. All the newspapers of the metropolis spoke in flattering terms of the artistic ability of the band.

In 1866, Adolphe Adam, composer of "Si J'etais Roi," who heard the band play in Lille, declared: "The fame of the Musique des Guides spreads over all Europe. The Belgian musicians are superior in phrasing to the Pomeranian Fusiliers, also in singing tone and in dramatic accent. The Belgian Guides have clarinets, flutes, oboes, bassoons and horns that are far better in tone and timber than those of the Prussian band, which is not able to produce such desirable effects."

During recent years, while the Symphonic band has been firmly establishing its unique reputation on annual European tours, many masters of contemporary music have published encomia upon the organization—among them Vincent d'Indy, Alfredo Casella, Igor Stravinsky, Gabriel Pierne, Guy Ropartz, Alexandre Georges, Eugene Ysaye, Paul Gilson and Joseph Jongen.

Congress in 1820, formed the first committee on agriculture.

You are Paying for a Packard Why not Own One?

SEVENTY per cent of those who buy the Packard Standard Eight give up other makes of cars—thousands in the ten to fifteen hundred dollar class. These new owners quickly learn—

That it costs no more to operate and maintain a Packard than their old cars —cars costing even a thousand dollars less.

And that it costs no more to own a Packard because Packard owners keep their cars nearly twice as long and drive them nearly twice as far as the lower-priced cars they trade in.

Those who buy on the payment plan find—

That they keep their cars several times as long as it takes to pay for them —a relief to those who have made monthly payments every other year on other cars.

And that on the average, the value of their used cars equals or exceeds the down payment on the new car—leaving each small monthly payment the largest cash outlay in the having of a Packard.

Ninety-four out of every hundred who buy Packard cars never leave the Packard family but continue to buy Packard cars—proof that "Ask The Man Who Owns One" means just what it says.

Now $160 Less

All models of the Packard Standard Eight were reduced $160 on March 4th. The new prices, at the factory, range from $2275 for the Five-Passenger Sedan to $2675 for the Seven-Passenger Sedan-Limousine.

When may we examine your used car and tell you how easily you may have a luxurious new Packard Eight? You will be under no obligation in giving us an opportunity to serve you.

Her Seven-Year-Old Boy Wouldn't Play Like the Other Children

"My Son Suffered From Kidney Trouble and Was Pale and Yellow, But Orgatone Has Built Him Up and His Cheeks Are Fat and Rosy," Says Wichita Mother.

"I never saw any child pick up so fast as my little 7-year-old son, Edward, has since he started taking Orgatone," said Mrs. Ella W. Evans, of 1009 Mississippi, wife of an employe at Bolton's Furniture Co., Wichita Falls, Texas, while in Allison's Drug store, talking with the Orgatone representative, recently.

"He suffered awfully from kidney trouble and a general run down condition," continued Mrs. Evans. "His kidneys gave him a great deal of trouble and he kept going downhill all the time. We took him to doctors but they didn't seem to help his condition any, and he was losing in weight and was so pale and yellow in color, we worried about him continually.

"While other children were out playing, he sat around in the house, and complained of how badly he felt. Everything he ate he would vomit it up, and couldn't eat hardly anything. He was very restless at night, and didn't get the proper amount of sleep a child of his age should. He had headaches, and was just getting worse every day, and was a constant worry to all of us.

"Since taking one half of a bottle of Orgatone, he has certainly improved. Now, instead of just moping around, he gets out and plays like other children, and his little cheeks are rosy and fat now. He eats anything now and doesn't complain of being sick as he did. He has a hearty appetite and just wants to eat all the time. He sleeps fine every night, and his kidneys don't bother him at all. We never hear him say anything about his head hurting him, and he is gaining in weight and his complexion is perfect. I am sure proud of what Orgatone has done for my little son, and our entire family will say a good word for it, for they know how he suffered. Orgatone has proven to be a wonderful medicine in our home, and I am grateful for it."

Genuine Orgatone is not a so-called patent or secret remedy but a new scientific treatment containing no alcohol or other false stimulating drugs and is sold in Wichita Falls exclusively by Allison's Drug store, under the personal direction of a special Orgatone representative. Also in Burkburnett by the City Drug store; in Electra by the Tarleton Drug Co., and in Vernon by the Vernon Drug store.—Adv.

Country Club To Open Series Of Informal Dinners

A plan designed to afford members of the Wichita Falls Golf and County club more frequent opportunity to enjoy the conveniences of the clubhouse has been adopted by the board of directors, according to the announcement made Tuesday.

Informal club dinners at 75 cents per plate are to be held on the second Saturday of each month, beginning next Saturday, April 13, for families and guests of club members. An orchestra will furnish music after the dinner hour for dancing while appointments for bridge and 42 are to be provided in other rooms. Other amusements are being planned, it was stated.

Members of the board of directors stated that this plan of Saturday group dinners and social evenings has proved very popular in other country clubs, and has made the clubhouse of much greater service to the membership.

NEW YORK, April 9. (US)—What is now known as "Beauticians" announce that women spent in 1928, for beautifying themselves, $1,245,013,813. And Uncle Sam paid only $1,617,000 for gun powder.

That's $1,617,000 too much gun powder to face.

The more that's spent for face powder the more gun powder that will be needed for defense—self defense.

The queen of England will hold four courts this year and it is announced that women being presented must wear trains 18 inches long. Arms must be covered. Feathers worn in the hair, two long and two short, just the same as last year and the year before and all the other years.

Imagine always knowing exactly what you are going to see! There aren't any treats for queens. But I imagine after queening it for ages, it's ever so much easier just to order "the same."

A woman in New York, found to be harboring 42 cats in her apartment, said she "loved their grand qualities."

But it was their quantities that the neighbors didn't like.

I discovered a woman the other day whose husband had been ill. The maid left and she had to go across the street and get a neighbor to come over and poach an egg for the sick man. She had no idea how to do it.

A candidate for president of the society of something-or-other.

The lady claims she tried to make tea once and burned it. Now there's a trick!

O-o-o-o-o! I got such a mad letter from a lady in St. Louis who was extremely annoyed because I mentioned a woman who bought a green hat which fought with her red dress, and still had her husband crazy about her. The lady said:

"Any artist, or for that matter, any person who has studied color harmony, will tell you that red and green being complementary colors always harmonize when placed together. As a matter of fact do you really know what complementary colors are?"

(I know what complimentary means. I know she isn't).

"You better consult an encyclopedia," said the complimentary lady, "and find out what they are and then ascertain (I couldn't just find out could I?) What the complementary colors of these primary colors are, and you will never make another break like this one."

Dear, dear! I still wish she could have seen that hat! Maybe the green and red were both primary. I'll bet that was it.

Scour the pots!
Scour the pans!
but they won't come clean

Why? The water is hard. And instead of nice, sudsy water, there's a greasy ring around the basin. The soap has mixed with the hard water to form scum. And the scum goes on the wash cloth, and smears the pans.

Water softened with Melo is different. It will clean. Scour the pots! Scour the pans! But do it with soft water. Get a can of Melo today at your grocer's.

AN EVIL TO BE DREADED

Banish Constipation With Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Constipation is a widespread evil. Many have it but do not realize it. In spite of pills and laxatives it does its deadly work — sending poisons through the body—undermining health and happiness.

The first signs of constipation are headaches, tired feeling, spots before the eyes, sallow complexions. Don't neglect these symptoms. Start eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. It brings sure relief and prevents constipation.

Thousands have regained their health with Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Doctors recommend it. Because it is 100% bran it brings 100% results. Part-bran products are only "part" effective.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is guaranteed. Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily—chronic cases, with every meal. You'll like its crispness and flavor.

Ready-to-eat with milk or cream. Delicious with fruits or honey added. Use it in cooking. Recipes are on the package for muffins and breads. Sold by all grocers. Served by hotels, restaurants and dining-cars. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Climbing

First, Ziegfeld picked her for his "Follies." Next, she was chosen for "Rio Rita" and now Warner Brothers will present her in the movies. Dainty Agnes Franey is climbing; helped by her clever dancing and seldom equaled in beauty.

Miss Franey says: "I don't believe in overlooking anything which helps add to your attractiveness. I am most particular about my hair and so many friends compliment me on its softness and lustre that I am sure my method of caring for it is right. Nearly all the girls I know here in New York are using it, now. It is so easy. All we do is put a little Danderine on our brushes each time we dress our hair. It makes my hair easy to dress and holds it in place wonderfully. It has gotten rid of my dandruff. It keeps my hair and scalp so comfortable, that I don't shampoo half as often as I did before. And best of all, it gives my hair a softer, more silky and lustrous appearance than anything I've ever found."

Danderine quickly removes that oily film from your hair; brings out its natural color, makes it fairly sparkle! Dandruff usually disappears when you use Danderine. Waves, "set" with it, stay in longer. It's delicately fragranced; isn't oily; doesn't show. It's economical. The 35c bottles will last several weeks. All drug stores recommend and guarantee it.—Adv.

GIRLS OF OLD DAYS VANISHED

Their Lure Now Is Not Sense but Warmth

Perhaps Woman's Sacred Influence Was Not the Potent Force It was Thought to Be in Former Times, But It Served to Steady a Man and Gave Him an Ideal Toward Which to Strive.

Has the modern woman cynically decided that it is a waste of time and effort to try to rouse the better side of man, and so has concentrated all of her appeal on his lower nature?

It certainly looks that way. How else can you explain the present nudity in fashion except on that ground, when every woman sheers off her skirts to her knees and rolls her stockings and makes a wisp of chiffon serve to cover her body?

Formerly girls were taught accomplishments so that they might be attractive to men, but no girl would ever dream nowadays of trying to lure a man into her parlor by playing the piano for him or singing to him. Nor, no matter how well educated and intelligent she might be, would a girl expect to make herself attractive to men by entertaining them with her conversation. She would keep her music and her knowledge and her wit for her own private delectation and for talk with other women and she would bank her chances for dates solely on her looks and her skill at dancing the Charleston and her warmth as a petter.

The very technique of courtship has changed. Even in our mother's time the enraptured youth looked up with reverence to the girl with whom he was in love as something higher, purer, more spiritual than he was. In moments of ecstasy he even went so far as to call her an angel. And the girl felt that she could do no less than hold that exalted pose and try to lift the man up to her higher plane. One of the pretty little byplays of courtship was that the girl was always reforming the young man and making him promise never to swear again or use naughty words and never, never, never to touch intoxicating drinks or to smoke a wicked cigar.

Nowadays a girl would feel herself highly insulted if a man called her an angel. She would think that he might as well call her a flat tire and be done with it and she would never expect to see him again except at a distance. She considers it a disparagement even to be thought good.

She esteems being called a good sport the highest compliment a man can pay her. She wants to be his pal and not his savior, and so far from trying to reform him she goes on wild parties with him and can outdrink him and outcurse him and pinches his last cigaret.

Do you realize, when you stop to think of it, how long it has been since we have heard anything about "women's sacred influence?" Why, the phrase has come to have an absolutely mid-Victorian flavor. It is as passe as bustles or tilters or trails or ostrich feather plumes, and women have as completely cast aside one as they have the other.

Yet there was a time, and not so long ago, either, when women believed implicity that they had within themselves something divine that worked miracles. They believed it was something occult that appealed to the best in men and drew men to them, even men whose own lives were rotten.

They believed it was something that would bring the wandering husband back to his faithful wife at last. They believed it was something that would hold a home together and be a light in the window to guide the feet of the children when they went forth about the business of life. They believed that it would somehow regenerate the world.

Perhaps woman's sacred influence had never the power we ascribed to it. Perhaps women found out that it wasn't the magic to conjure with that they thought it was. Perhaps the sex appeal is more potent than the appeal to a man's soul and is rewarded by more cakes and ale. Perhaps it is easier and gayer to go down the toboggan slide with a man than it is to cajole him into walking the straight and narrow path. Perhaps woman's new way of dealing with men is more effective than the old woman's antiquated methods.

But I doubt it, and I often wonder if the reason there is so much marital unhappiness, so many unfaithful husbands and so many divorces, so many marriages that started out so prosperously and with such good prospects that go on the rocks, is not that women have ceased to appeal to the best in men and now cater to the lowest.

For, after all is said and done, the spiritual force is the strongest thing in a man's life. It is what he believes that holds him. It is his ideals that determine his conduct. Take away from him all reverence for womanhood, all faith in its purity and he has nothing left to cling to. Put the relationship between men and women on a purely physical basis and there is nothing to it but the desire of the eyes, and it is no wonder that when the wife loses her beauty the husband passes on to some younger and fairer woman.

It is true that woman's sacred influence was not as all-powerful as she once thought it to be, but for all that it did awaken many a man's slumbering conscience and it did set many a man's stumbling feet on the right road. Many a man was given the strength to do right because he knew the woman he loved was praying for him. Many a boy kept himself clean because of his mother's teaching and because she expected it of him.

How can the women who demand nothing of men, who expect nothing of men, except to give them wild times, be any influence for good in men's lives? How can the woman who drinks too much with a man complain of his being a drunkard after they are married? How can the girl who has had petting parties in a parked automobile with a man before marriage reproach him for philandering with other petters after he is married? Admittedly the man of the past did not live up to the high ideal that women set for him, but now when they ask little they will get less.

So I think women have made a great mistake in substituting sex appeal for the appeal to what is highest and best in man. It does not make them more desirable to men as wives. It does not make marriage more stable. Nor is it for the good of the child and the home. And it destroys man's reverence for women, and that is a very great loss indeed.

Kissing Delays Trolleys, Say Grouchy Bachelors

BRONXVILLE, N. Y., April 9. (UP)—Because newly-wedded commuters took too much time to kiss their wives goodbye at the train in the morning, Bronxville bachelors and older married men protested. Now the railroad company will assign extra police to the station to speed up the farewell process.

Circus Stunts Have No Place In Church Advertising, Pastor Tells Club

Rev. Patrick D. Moreland, pastor of the Grant Street Methodist church, told members of the Ad club Tuesday noon that the highest-powered advertising a church can receive is that given by one of its members who is thoroughly sold on the Christian religion.

Billboard, newspaper, and radio advertising must be used by the churches, the speaker said, in order to compete with shows, golfing, and motoring for first place on the Sabbath.

"Church advertisements should be confined strictly to the truth," Rev. Moreland stated, "but some of them read like patent medicine ads, promising a cure for everything.

"The church should be advertised on a higher plane than that of eloquent speaking, excellent musical programs, and stunts smacking of the unusual. The promise of happiness based on peace with all men, comfort in the knowledge of being right with God, and the constant offer of a new chance in life is the theme which should feature church advertising."

A short talk was given by Johnny Jones, of the KGKO radio advertising department. Don Ross, first vice president of the club, presided at the meeting.

Airmen—and a New Era

ONE OF the peculiar things about human nature is that it will accept almost any kind of change if the change comes unannounced. For instance: if a group of energetic, restless young men should come on the scene and announce that they were about to remake the whole nation, so that countless old customs and habits would be wiped out and all the cities and towns would be moved closer together, we probably would resent it very firmly.

But when they simply go ahead and do it, without saying anything about it, we don't mind—indeed, we rather like it. Instead of defying the young men who are pushing us bodily into a new kind of society, we applaud them.

The aviators are doing just exactly that. When they get through with us the United States, in common with the rest of the world, will be very different from its old self. The change, probably, will be for the better; but we won't even realize that there is a change until after it is accomplished.

Read this little news dispatch from a recent paper:

"Edmonton, Alberta.—When 'Pinch' Dickens, Edmonton flier, brought his monoplane to a landing on the Edmonton flying field the other evening he completed a notable flight of 1,600 miles from Fort Good Hope on the rim of the arctic circle. The plane carried a valuable consignment of furs from the northern parts."

In those two sentences there is compressed a volume about the new order that the aviators are bringing.

The outlying fur posts in the Canadian northwest have been, for centuries, among the isolated, unattainable sections of the world. Each man was separated from his neighbor by long days of hard travel. To get to civilization was a task that took weeks; long canoe trips on lonely rivers, endless hikes across desolate waste lands, night after night of solitary camping in trackless forests and limitless plains.

Now young Mr. Dickins, gifted with the flip nickname "Pinch," soars off in his monoplane—and puts the arctic circle within 24 hours' time of the city of Edmonton. Without saying anything about it, he has simply taken the map of northwestern Canada and made it shrink. The era of isolation and great distances is at an end, forever.

That is what all the airplanes are doing, though we don't often realize it. The fliers are bringing us closer together. Our present form of society was drawn up to fit a country of long journeys and widely separated cities; the airplanes are in a fair way to make it as compact as Holland.

If the airmen declared themselves in advance we might resent it; at the very least we'd probably ask them to wait while we figured things out. But they don't. They are pulling all of us into closer contact with each other, wiping out old distances, killing isolation; and all we can do about it is recognize the fact and adjust ourselves to a changed era.

The Motorist Pays Enough

THE MOTORISTS of this nation are surely paying their share of the taxes. In 1928, according to estimates of the United States bureau of public roads, various state gasoline taxes netted over $300,000,000. Increases voted in nearly every part of the country will boost the figure this year to the neighborhood of $450,000,000.

Obviously, the motorist ought to help pay for the good roads that his activities make necessary; and so long as the money is used for that purpose alone the situation isn't so bad. But some states are beginning to divert part of this revenue to other purposes; and, in addition, many legislatures seem to have the idea that no gas tax can be too high. The motorist right now is paying just about all that can in justice be demanded of him.

Turning Officers Into Cooks

THE OLD MAXIM that an army travels—or is it "fights"?—on its stomach is given added confirmation in new tactics just adopted by the U. S. war department.

Army officers, under these new orders, have to learn how to cook. At Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for instance, there is a class of 13 commissioned officers studying the mechanics of preparing army rations. They are learning how to get meals—everything from beef stew to salad and pumpkin pie. The theory, no doubt, is that officers with such knowledge will be able to oversee the work of the company cooks much better, and thus will be able to make sure that their men are getting the proper kind of food.

The war department, to our notion, is showing excellent judgment. The soldier is a great one to grumble over his lot; but the grumbling is never really serious unless it concerns the food he is getting. If he is fed properly, he doesn't so much mind his other troubles; and if he isn't, his dissatisfaction rapidly becomes acute.

A Good Law to Copy

THE STATE of Michigan has passed a law prohibiting the sale or use of fireworks—except, of course, at regular municipal or state displays—and a lot of other states would do well to copy that law on their own books.

The Fourth of July, to be sure, is a long way off; but right now isn't too early to start preparing to make it safe and sane.

Despite the abundance of proof that fireworks, in the hands of children, are extremely dangerous playthings, each Fourth of July brings a long list of casualties—deaths, ruined eyes, burns, scars and the like. Cities that pass ordinances prohibiting the sale of fireworks are unable to protect their citizens because suburban towns, easily accessible by auto, have them on sale.

Statewide laws are the only measures that will stamp fireworks out. Michigan's example is an excellent one for other states to copy.

The Day Book of a New Yorker

Broadway Chatter by Grant Dixon

NEW YORK, April 9.—That request of William A. Brady the other day for an agreement among producers to provide Sunday shows is nothing new. Broadway has talked about it for a long time, but has done nothing.

For some strange reason, it seems to be assumed that people would not attend shows on Sunday and that they would be failures. This in spite of the fact that Sunday is about the busiest day for the movie palaces. But there is more proof of its practicability. The Selwyns opened their theater on Sunday for special performances and netted more returns than they had, sometimes, for an entire week. At other theaters special entertainments are given on Sunday. But thus far, Broadway has had some unnamed fear (and I don't think it has anything to do with the moral observance of the Sabbath) of Sunday shows.

Brady thinks that unless the producers go in for Sunday shows the legitimate stage will face a catastrophe within three years, chiefly because of the inroads made by the talkies into the amusement field. Some theatrical men think that if the stage is going to compete with the movies it should adopt the cinematic idea of more than two performances a day. The legitimate producers use their theaters comparatively few hours a week in comparison to the continuous programs of the film houses. One actor has advocated that managers present two and three companies of a play a number of times daily. But I am not so sure that a majority of the actors would like this.

Broadway has a special school for actors from which they graduate, get diplomas and everything. It is the American Academy of Dramatic Arts, and the other night 30 of them were given their sheepskin, ribbon and all, and then turned into the cold world, at a time when there are quite a few actors and actresses trudging the bright but bleak way.

As a matter of fact, it has come to a point nowadays where actors do not enter their chosen profession by accident or luck. As Alexander Woolcott puts it, one must either go to an actors' school or else be born the son or daughter of an actor. The producers want something more than a handsome face and form divine. Acting demands as much preparation, sometimes, as any other profession.

Stage folk are as superstitious as sailors. One actress, who would condescend to accept an increase in salary with lofty disdain and frigid smile, became suddenly elated when she saw a black cat soberly walk on the stage during the rehearsal. That was supposed to be lucky, for some reason or another. It is considered unlucky, when in a dressing room, to open an umbrella.

Bad luck is alleged to ensue if peacock's feathers are worn. In some theaters in London and a few in New York, peacock feathers are never allowed to be worn. Another profound superstition connected with the stage is the extraordinary antipathy of many producers to plays dealing with theatrical life. All plays dealing with members of the theatrical profession are regarded with suspicion.

Another unusual form of superstition is aversion to the word "gold." It is remarkable that for over half a century there have not been many plays produced with the pernicious word, although the phrase "Thar's gold in them hills" occurs frequently in "Desire Under the Elms," the Eugene O'Neill play which was a success. And Mr. John Golden, the producer, certainly is not unlucky. But, on the whole, the stage looks askance upon the use of the word.

Another superstition is the foredoomed failure and ill luck that is predicted for any production of the Shakespearean "Macbeth." The faith that actors and managers have in this superstition is uncanny and amazing. Whether it is the gloomy atmosphere of the sublime tragedy that accounts for its unpopularity is a debatable point, but it is certainly argued that to produce "Macbeth" is to court disaster. And yet, the recent production of the play in New York was successful, although the critics panned it unmercifully.

The Once Over

THE REBEL'S FLIGHT

"Many Mexican soldiers, found with the rebels, say they did not know they were opposing federal troops."—News item.

I'm a willing, intrepid young soldier—
I care not how hot is the fray;
I love shot and shell,
But I wish I could tell
Which side I'll wind up with today.

Undaunted, I rush into battle
With Mexican "Hip, hip, hooray!"
But I am in doubt
Till the papers come out
Which army I fought with all day.

I give all I have to the colors—
I fight till my rifle is hot;
But after each fight
I cannot tell quite
My colors from those which are not.

I lead a smart charge up a hillside—
And then turn around and charge back;
I never quite know
When striking a blow
Which army I ought to attack.

I capture a town at one-thirty
And hand it back prompt at three;
I take it once more
At quarter to four—
It's all most confusing to me.

I rush into action unheeding
The bullets about me that spray,
But often I find
By looking behind
I fought the wrong army that day.

I follow my general gladly;
Devotion I loyally show—
Except when he goes
By night to our foes—
Without even letting me know!

It really is sad and confusing
To rush into battle and die.
When feeling that you're
Not certain or sure
Which army you're with, and just why.

Wichita Firm Given Charter
Growth of North Texas Furniture Company Told

The incorporation of the North Texas Furniture company, announced recently from the office of the secretary of state at Austin, with a capital stock of $100,000, marked the reorganization of one of the oldest and best known business establishments in the city of Wichita Falls.

Following the death of its founder, John W. Bradley, last November, ownership of the firm passed into the hands of his wife; a son, Dr. John W. Bradley Jr., and a daughter, Miss Harriett M. Bradley, while the active direction of the business was assumed by one of its oldest employes in point of service, John E. Butts.

Officers Elected

At a recent meeting of the stockholders, Mrs. Bradley was elected president, Dr. John W. Bradley Jr., vice president; John E. Butts, vice president, treasurer and general manager, and T. E. Durrett, secretary. The board of directors consists of all the officers named, and J. T. Butts.

Organized in 1907 under the name of the North Texas Furniture and Coffin company, the business has fulfilled in its development the slogan later adopted, "forward with Wichita Falls since 1907." Mr. Bradley came to this city from Fort Worth, where he had for several years been connected with the Fakes Furniture company. The first location of the store was at 808 Indiana avenue, which at that time was near the outskirts of the business district. In 1914, the undertaking branch of the business was sold, and the firm assumed the name under which it has since been known. One year later the North Texas Furniture company moved to a new building on the northwest corner of Tenth and Indiana, where it remained until 1919, when the business took over the present location on the southeast corner of Ninth street and Scott avenue.

Rapid Growth

At the time of its organization here, the company boasted an employed personnel of four persons, and a delivery system consisting of one horse and wagon. The present business demands the services of 26 persons, while five motor trucks are used in its delivery service. In its present home, the store uses a total of 175 running feet of plate glass show windows, 26,750 square feet of display floor, and 8,650 square feet of trackage warehouse space. Alterations recently made provided a large room on the first floor for an elaborate drapery department.

According to the new officers of the North Texas Furniture company, the firm will continue to operate under the same policies built into the business by its founder, endeavoring to afford the people of this community a display of the latest creations of furniture and other home furnishings.

ELECTRA C.-C. FORMS BUREAUS
Method Holds Interest of Its Members

STAMFORD, Texas, April 9.—The Electra Chamber of Commerce has a unique method of keeping its 175 members interested, according to a communication from Secretary Robert P. Hall, to Manager Homer D. Wade of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Each member is put on one or more bureaus, either civic, road, industrial, agricultural or mercantile. The mercantile bureau is composed of every retail merchant in the city and these men are also placed on the other bureaus, dividing them among the four. The first meeting of the mercantile bureau was held Thursday night of last week, and the first meeting of the civic bureau Monday night.

Group Sponsors Trip

The agricultural committee of the Electra Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of G. C. McGown, county agent of Wichita county, sponsored a two-day trip with a group of farmers to the fat stock show at Fort Worth, stopping at Decatur on the way back and visiting five farms and herds of cattle in the vicinity. The county agent, and Mr. Cates, manager of the Decatur Chamber of Commerce, with others, served as guides for the trip.

The forming of a bull circle was the direct result of this trip. This is the first and only active bull circle to be formed between Fort Worth and Amarillo on the Fort Worth and Denver railroad. Five males will be bought and placed in different parts of the trade area, all of one strain, and preferably jerseys. Those present when this circle was formed were R. E. Scheurer, chairman of the agricultural committee; Robert P. Hall, G. C. McGown, H. J. Flusche, C. E. Taylor, H. C. Obenhaus, Nick Urban, P. W. Detner and W. E. Palmer.

Calf Club Formed

A calf club was also formed by this committee at an expense of about $500. This club will be in conjunction with the 4H idea and the boys will be the owners of five acres of cotton which they will mortgage in order to pay for their calves.

The pig and chicken clubs already in operation are being conducted along the usual lines. The pigs are given to the boys and out of the first litter of pigs, one sow pig is given to another boy. At the same time that the pigs are given out, the girls have a drawing, and 50 baby chicks are given to four girls during the evening, thus forming four chicken clubs at each meeting of the pig club.

A terracing school on Feb. 27 at which M. R. Bentley, and A. K. Short participated with local cooperation, 150 farmers were taught the use of the farm level and how to lay out a terrace. General information necessary for the technical side of the work was given. Several thousands of acres of land which have never before been terraced have been laid out this year, as the benefit in conservation of moisture and soil fertility is realized.

A farm level has been purchased in Electra to be loaned to all farmers who desire to use it, and practical help is given in every way to the farmers by the agricultural committee.

Senator Heflin Welcomes 'Prodigal Son' Back Home
'Dry' Alabama Solon Embraces 'Junior' After Hilarious Escapade in New York

WASHINGTON, April 9. (UP)—Thomas Heflin Jr., was clasped to the broad bosom of his father, Senator Heflin of Alabama, when he alighted from a New York train here tonight despite his recent revolt against paternal authority.

Crestfallen and bearing the marks of his encounter last night with New York police, young Heflin arrived on an early evening train accompanied by J. L. Thornton, the senator's secretary.

He was met at the train gate by the big senator, enfolded for a moment in a fatherly embrace and then hurried past a row of camera men to a waiting cab, which was ordered to Heflin's hotel.

Saved From Police

The wisdom of dispatching Thornton to the scene of Heflin's return to American shores from a congressional trip to Panama was emphasized last night when the secretary extricated him from difficulties with the New York police force with no harm done except a black eye.

"Certainly I shall welcome him home," Heflin told the United Press. He needs me more now than he ever has before. I shall stand by him to the last. He is all I have left in the world."

Heflin said he had thought his son was "through with the stuff," indicating his belief that the strange views expressed by Thomas Jr., in New York were products of artifical stimulation.

Publicity Resented

"Someone must have placed temptation in his way," Heflin continued. "But I am not seeking to defend him. He had no right to fail and I regret very much that he did.

"What I resent is the way the incident has been exploited. I am told there is someone tipsy and hilarious on almost every ship from Panama and that nothing is ever said about it.

"One of my friends told me today he did not believe a line would have been printed had the same thing happened to the son of a Catholic senator.

"But when Senator Heflin's son falls, there are revolting pictures and detailed accounts of the affair."

Heflin hinted he believed his son's apparent intoxication might have been the result of a plot by his enemies and said he was certain his enemies would make full use of the incident in their future fights against him.

Stop Rheumatic Pain With Prescription A-2851

Local druggists who are dispensing Prescription A-2851 are all loud in their praise of what it will do. It doesn't seem to matter whether the condition is of long standing and the pain constant, or whether only occasional twinges are felt—Prescription A-2851 seems to go right to the seat of the trouble and knock out the pain.

While this particular prescription was compounded especially for rheumatic conditions—it has also proven successful in many forms of gout, neuritis and sciatic nerve pain.

Tear out this announcement and hand it to your druggist, or be sure to remember the name—Prescription A-2851. In liquid or pill form. There is nothing else so good to drive out rheumatism.

A Message to Underweight Men and Women

The one supremely good health building tonic that is also the one great weight producer known to modern science the country over is McCoy's Tablets.

They build flesh where flesh is needed — sunken cheeks, neck and chest—and many a man and woman, skinny and scrawny have thanked McCoy's after a few weeks treatment for the decided improvement in looks and figure.

Many times the increase in weight is astonishing—one exceedingly thin woman gained 10 pounds in 22 days.

McCoy takes all the risk—Read this ironclad guarantee. If after taking four 60-cent boxes of McCoy's Tablets or two $1 boxes any thin, underweight man or woman doesn't gain at least five pounds and feel completely satisfied with the marked improvement in health —your druggist is authorized to return your money.

Ask at Renfro Drug Co. or any drug store for McCoy's Tablets. Marketed by McCoy's Laboratories. Also distributors of McCoy's Cod Liver Oil.—Adv.

Questionnaire Reveals College Boy Is Not So 'Hot' as Comics Paint Him

WASHINGTON, April 9. (INS)—The American college student, for years maligned as a hard-drinking, garterless, fur-coat wearing and irresponsible playboy, has at last been vindicated—and by no less than 300 college presidents and deans.

This young man has been abused, it is apparent from answers received by Henry Gratton Doyle, dean of men at George Washington university, to questions propounded by him to deans and presidents of 300 colleges, including Yale, Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth, Pennsylvania, Wisconsin, Iowa, Michigan, Stanford and Notre Dame.

The earnest young student is pictured in magazines, movies and comic strips as going about all day long, drinking, necking and singing "boola, boola." He is libeously represented as sloppy or eccentric in appearance, addicted to strange neckties and knowing naught, nor caring, for the services of the pressing shop or shine parlor.

As a matter of fact, the college officials hotly contend, he is is neat and conservative in appearance, seldm wears coonskin, is temperate in habit, does not neck promiscously, as a rule studies diligently and does not cheat on his exams.

The collegiate type is rare at college, they say, but is often encountered elsewhere. When such a type does enter the quiet cloisters of a real college, he does not get the respect of his fellow students, who are busy as bees preparing for a useful life and getting cultured, and usually becomes an outsider in college affairs. Such idle fellows are characterized as a "frivolous minority."

Mrs. Grace Griffin and her five small children were rescued in a rowboat from their flooded house after overflow of the Des Peres.

FIRE MURDER IDENTITY MADE

Slain Woman Wife of 'Doctor' Campbell

GREENVILLE, Pa., April 9. (AP)—The identity of a woman whose burned body was found near Cranford, N. J., last Feb. 23 was believed established today by Greenville police.

Friends of Mrs. Richard M. Campbell, formerly Mrs. Mildred Mowry, of Greenville, widow of Benjamin F. Mowry, said the description of the murdered woman fitted that of Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Mowry left Greenville Feb. 1, 1929. On August 28, 1928, she married Richard M. Campbell, of Baltimore and New York, known as a "doctor" and later as a building contractor.

The victim of the New Jersey killing had been drenched with gasoline and set on fire after she had been shot in the top of the head and the head crushed with a heavy instrument.

Relief from Gas Stomach Pains Dizziness

If you suffer from gas, pains in the stomach or bowels, dizziness, nausea, constipation, or torpid liver; if you have no appetite, can't sleep and are nervous and all run down, you need Tanlac. It is good, pure medicine, made of roots, herbs and barks. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Money back if it doesn't help you.

Born of a Great PRIDE

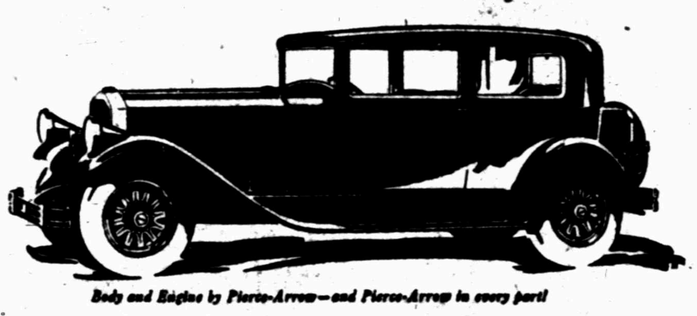

MOST of today's automobiles are made for the many. Pierce-Arrows are created for the few. That has always been so—always will be so. And the reason is that Pierce-Arrow fineness results from the very antithesis of mass production.

Another quality that sets Pierce-Arrow apart is that of pride. The men concerned with Pierce-Arrow manufacture have a regard for the name which borders almost on reverence.

And so with Pierce-Arrow ownership. If great pride did not enter here—and if it were not somehow shared by America at large—there would be no such triumph as that of today's Pierce-Arrow.

When this new car was conceived by an expanding organization, it was determined that it should be big and powerful, yet slender and graceful—and that it should, first and last, be Pierce-Arrow at its finest.

The resulting new Straight Eight—the fairest, fleetest Pierce-Arrow that ever bore the name—arrived at the psychological moment. It is making fine car history hourly today.

SPUDDER SQUAD OF 25 TO BE RETAINED FIRST MONTH OF PLAY

FIRST SACKER IS PURCHASED

Bud Stapleton Bought From Montreal Internationals

By LARRY DAILEY
Record News Sports Editor

The Spudder squad has been reduced to 25 and no further pruning of the roster is planned by Skipper Galloway for some time. Clubs in the Texas league may employ 25 athletes for the first month of the championship race and must reduce their personnels to 18 on May 17. As the foreman still has to make up his mind regarding the disposition of several athletes, probably all now in camp will be retained until the last day of cutting down. The Spudder roster includes:

Pitchers—Milt Steengrafe, George Payne, Harold Wiltse, Cy Smith, Fred Stiely, Ed Taber, Chick Galeria, Ed Ellis and Russell Cromer.

Catchers—Pete Lapan, Bob Snyder, Jack Crouch.

Infielders—Bud Stapleton and Dallas Clements, first base; Pete Turgeon, second base; Wally Swenson and Milton Gordon, third base; Rabbit Benton, Debs Garms and George Spires, shortstops.

Outfielders—Red Bennett, Howard Fitzgerald, Brick Eldred, Dick Sullivan and Garland Orr.

Bud Arrives This Week

The outright purchase of Stapleton from the Montreal club in the International league was announced yesterday by Prexy J. Alvin Gardner of the Wichita Falls club. Stapleton is a lefthanded batter and thrower and an experienced player, one who will add balance to the Spud infield, the club owner says.

Stapleton played in 135 games for Montreal last season and compiled a batting average of .271. With Bridgeport of the Eastern league in 1927, the new acquisition batted .337. The Eastern league, like the Texas loop, is class A.

Bud's home is at Bridgeport and he is slated to leave there today for Wichita Falls, arriving this week-end. He probably will see service in the games Saturday and Sunday with the Fort Worth Cats.

Two New Casualties

Numerous injuries have beset the Spudders this spring. None has been serious, but they have kept several athletes out of uniform, which was not conducive to the best conditioning. The latest casualty is Fred Stiely, southpaw pitcher, who yesterday acquired a sudden and painful kink in his back that sent him to the hospital.

A misplaced rib was discovered floating around Bob Snyder's anatomy. It is believed that this has been the cause of Bob's difficulty in throwing freely and is being remedied.

Howard Fitzgerald's injured ankle continues to improve and there is a possibility he will be able to play in the opener Wednesday at Shreveport.

Debs Garms' injured leg shows slow improvement and it will be several days before Flash can play. Jack Crouch, another victim of a twisted leg, will be in shape to don the big mitt and windpad soon.

Spudders to Entertain

Spudder musicians are practicing for several "personal appearances" to be made within a few days. Tomorrow at noon all the athletes are to be guests of the Rotary club at luncheon; Saturday night they are to broadcast a "jamboree" over KGKO, and Monday they will be guests at the Kiwanis club luncheon.

Ed Ellis and Red Anderson perform at the piano, Rabbit Benton and Dallas Clements provide sweet vocal harmony, and Benton and Garms are experts with guitar and harmonica.

Anderson is to join the Abilene club at Abilene Sunday.

Welters Feature Tonight's Boxing

Interesting Card Offered at Palace Theater

Pug Humphries and Fred Whittington, crack Oklahoma welterweights, will meet in the feature 10-round bout tonight of the weekly boxing show at the Palace theater. This will be their third scrap and their two previous mills, at Tulsa and Seminole, Okla., were corking bouts, as tonights' affair promises to be.

Jimmy Wilson, popular Oklahoma City boxer, returns to the ring to meet Tommy Scott of Electra in the eight-round semi-windup. They also are welterweights and their bout should be a corker as both boys always have provided interesting mills here.

Rudy Hodge of Houston and Kid Lyon of Burkburnett will step in a six-round bout, and two four-round matches complete a card that looms up one of unusual merit. Martin Gregg faces Jack Betts and Henry Adams meets Virgil Stewart in the four-rounders.

A battle royal opens the show at 8:15 o'clock.

STRIB SOUGHT BY EUROPEANS

But Willie Probably Will Stay in States

NEW YORK, April 9.—German promoters are dickering for a match between William L. "Young" Stribling and Max Schmeling, it was learned with the arrival here today of the famous Georgia heavyweight and his equally famous father-manager, "Pa" Stribling.

The Striblings arrived here simultaneously with the noted Spanish heavyweight contender, Paulino Uzcudun, who pulled in from a tour of Porto Rico and San Domingo.

Offers Not Considered

Offers for Stribling's services have been received from Herr Picard of Berlin and Harry Jacobs of London, "Pa" revealed. The German promoter wants the Georgian to meet Schmeling late in June, and Jacobs wants to sign him for a tilt with Phil Scott.

The Striblings are not disposed to consider the Schmeling offer seriously, as both are convinced the young German will return here in June to meet Paulino. "Pa" talked to W. F. Carey today, and offered to let his boy box anyone Carey suggested on the milk fund show of June 26. He has been offered a series of three matches against opponents like Jim Maloney, Otto Von Prat and Napoleon Dorval by Jack Dempsey.

Another important conference in which "Pa" Stribling will take part is probably the real reason for their visit here. He is scheduled to meet James J. Johnston and will probably arrange to take Johnston into partnership as the manager of his son.

Paulino Hero of Latins

Uzcudun was full of fight, also. He engaged in two titanic struggles during his trip, winning both of them with one punch. Both opponents were the rankest sort of setups.

However, the Latins in the countries he visited took his bouts quite seriously. The president of San Domingo actually wired his regrets that he was unable to appear at Paulino's bout in his country. Paulino exhibited the message with great pride.

John Dawson Medalist In North-South Amateur

PINEHURST, N. C., April 8. (UP)—John W. Dawson of Chicago, member of Glen Oak Country club, today won the medalist honor in the 29th annual men's North and South Amateur Golf tournament when he finished the 36-hole qualifying round with a total of 143 strokes.

George Voigt of New York, the defending champion, was second with 144. Phillip Finlay of Belmont, Mass., who led the large field yesterday with a card of 70, today took an 80 to finish seventh.

Longhorns Again Trim Mustang Nine by 10-4

AUSTIN, April 9. (AP)—A home run by Bassett, Texas outfielder, with two on base turned a pitchers' battle into a 10-4 victory for the Longhorns here today in the last of a two-game series with Southern Methodist university.

Golfers and Golf Courses

From time to time, queries drift in, asking for information concerning the number of golfers and the number of golf courses the United States may happen to have.

Even estimates upon these two points are bound to be blind shots into a fog of doubt. As far as recent checking goes there are something like 4,200 golf courses now in the country, but undoubtedly many in the smaller localities have been overlooked, including an increasing number of private courses.

In 1920, at the last census, there were 1,600 towns and cities in the country with populations above 5,000. That number in the last nine years has increased to some mark between 2,000 and 2,500. Most of these places have golf courses of one sort or another. I know of a number of towns with populations less than 2,000 that have golf courses. New York, Chicago and Los Angeles alone have close to 500 golf courses within an hour's motoring distance. And new courses are getting under way every week or so.

Then there are the public courses, where in the larger cities the amount of play is staggering through the spring and summer.

No one can estimate the number of golfers, because there are too many varieties. Those who actually belong to clubs are in the neighborhood of a million. But there are untold thousands who only play occasionally and there are many more who can't afford golf as a steady diet, but who play now and then as opportunity offers.

Added to this list are thousands upon thousands of youngsters who are not enrolled as club members, but who take occasional lessons from club pros, or bat around some course once or twice a week. Sixteen years ago Bobby Jones was not a club member at East Lake, but he shot the course in 70 strokes that year.

There is also a vast army of caddies who play golf between rounds or upon off days, and for whom more and more tournaments are being held. They may not get to play the main courses often, but you'd be surprised to see how many of these can break 90 for all of that, with a flock of them good enough to crack 80.

No Way of Checking

There is no way of checking the total list—club members, public course players, stray and straggling golfers, kids and the rest of the large ensemble who play the game much or little through the year.

But reports from different tourists say that almost every golf course from Bermuda, in the Atlantic, to Catalina island, in the Pacific, were pretty well crowded at the height of the winter season. For one thing it must be remembered that golf's range is from 10 to 90 years, including both sexes. And once a golfer, always a golfer, for the serum, or rather the bacillus, seems to carry eternal qualities.

If golf was not so expensive and there was room for all to play, the number would soon pass 10,000,000.

Even as it is the golf caddies of the United States draw down more money each year than all the professional ball players, from Babe Ruth down. Some statistician has figured that the caddie army collects about $6,000,000 a year, where the annual payroll of the two major leagues is under $3,000,000. The minors won't make up the difference. Judging from the way golf is growing and the spread of the game through all the smaller cities and towns, as well as the continued growth in larger cities, it is difficult to estimate what the next 10 years will bring about.

Record Worth Recording

Dear Sir: I read your column every day and I notice that you give write-ups to coaches and athletes all over the country. One coach who deserves a big write-up is one William J. Disch, of the University of Texas (baseball coach). He has won 17 championships in 18 years, against very good teams. In 1923, Ted Lyons, pitching for Baylor, beat the Texas team in an extra inning game, which brought the championship to Baylor.

Bib Falk is one of Mr. Disch's former pupils. Disch has sent more men to the majors than any other coach in the United States. I might state that the city of Austin, Texas, has more men in professional baseball than any other city of the same population. Such stars as Bib Falk, Rip Collins, Frank Gibson, Rogers Hornsby, Chester Falk are from Austin. Horace Kibbie, Ray Moore, Fred Thompson, Leslie Cox are a few other former major leaguers from Austin. Watch Disch win another championship this year.

—TEXAS JOE.

It is to be hoped that during the lull in the fight game most of the headliners won't be using the intervening time to think up other ways of stalling, loafing, tugging, wrestling and dancing, in place of swinging a few wallops. A few might even think it over and decide to take a chance now and then, even if it costs a slightly bruised eye or chin.

BRUINS AGAIN DEFEAT BUFFS

Wilson's Homer Helps Cubs Score 5-2 Victory

HOUSTON, Texas, April 9. (UP)—The Cubs continued to romp on the Houston Texas leaguers, winning today's ball game, 5 to 2. However, they did not hit as heavily as they usually do, making only seven safeties off Lindsey and Shellberg.

Hack Wilson hit a homer directly over the distant centerfield fence in the second inning. He played six innings and scored three runs. He had a single and a pass in addition to the homer which was the longest hit ever made on the local lot.

The Cubs conclude here tomorrow and start home via. Kansas City.

SEVEN EXPORTER ROOKIES RELEASED

BEAUMONT, Texas, April 9. (AP)—Four Exporter rookies were released outright today and three others were sent to San Angelo of the West Texas league. Another was to be sent to an East Texas league team tomorrow.

Percy Welch and Aubrey Hendrix, catchers, and Bill Traub and Bill Gooch, outfielders, were released as free agents.

Sam Coleman, third baseman; John Yancik, infielder, and Jack Randle, outfielder, were sent to San Angelo. Tommy Marshall, first sacker, was to know his fate tomorrow.

Joe Bressler, outfielder, and Ed Blackwell, southpaw hurler, were sent to San Angelo yesterday.

CATS AND CUBS PLAY TWO TILTS

FORT WORTH, Texas, April 9. (AP)—Fort Worth Panthers will get another taste of Texas league competition Wednesday and Thursday when they meet the Waco Cubs at Waco in their second exhibition series with league rivals.

After the Waco trip, the Cats return home for a day, then go to Wichita Falls for games Saturday and Sunday, their last practice tilts before the season opens.

Frogs Hand Baylor First Defeat of Season, 3-2

WACO, Texas, April 9. (AP)—Although Stearns limited T. C. U. to three hits, the visitors scored a 3 to 2 victory over Baylor here this afternoon to secure an even break in their two-game Southwestern conference series. The defeat was the first suffered by the Bruins this season.

MANUEL BEATS DUNDEE

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 9. (AP)—Joey Manuel, Rochester, decisively outpointed Johnny Dundee, former featherweight champion in a 10-round bout here tonight.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE

San Francisco, 9; Sacramento, 3.
Portland, 4; Hollywood, 3.
Oakland, 6; Los Angeles, 1.
Seattle, 5; Missions, 4.

ALEX Ross offers a boxing bout tonight that should be a corking mill. It will be the third meeting of Pug Humphries and Fred Whittington, Oklahoma welterweights. Their previous two engagements were fought on even terms; both scraps were slashing affairs, and tonight's war is one of those "naturals' that delight promoters and draw the fans.

I saw one of the Whittington-Humphries scraps—at Tulsa about two years ago. It was a great battle, replete with action, and a huge crowd gave the boys a tremendous ovation at the conclusion of the bristling go.

With the baseball season on I'm usually too busy to get over to the boxing shows, and send an understudy to cover them. But I'm going to see this go between Fred and Pug. Remembering their great scrap in Tulsa I wouldn't miss this one tonight.

BRAVES TRIM PROFS

NORFOLK, Va., April 9. (UP)—The Boston Braves fell on two New Haven pitchers for 17 hits and a 13 to 3 victory here this afternoon. The Braves started with five runs in the first inning and never were in danger. Brandt pitched the whole game for Boston, keeping 10 hits fairly well scattered.

RED SOX WIN AGAIN

RICHMOND, Va., April 9. (UP)—The Boston Red Sox defeated the Reading Internationals in an exhibition game here today, 8 to 1. Ruffing started the game for Boston and held Reading scoreless for six innings.

Young Mr. Smith Faces Handicaps

Altered Playing Conditions Make Odds Against Him

By ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Regardless of sensational performances at home, the odds will be against Horton Smith in the British open golf championship at Muirfield early in May. The Joplin links man, even should he overcome the handicap of altered playing conditions, will be against the jinx that has thrown American contenders for repeated losses in their first attempts to gain British honors.

Smith will have a full battalion of competitors to help make him feel at home. At the same time they can give him the full details on how difficult it is to get a foothold on British links the first time out.

Walter Hagen barely qualified the first time he entered the British open in 1920 and finally wound up in 55th position. But he worked his way up to a tie for sixth in 1921 and from there he went on to win the classic three times, in 1922, 1924 and 1928, besides finishing second and third on two others occasions.

This year's British invasion by American stars is the most formidable in numbers since 1926. With Jones setting the pace, the Yankee mass attack that year yielded seven out of the first 10 places in the final standing. The 1929 invasion, in addition to the full strength of the Ryder cup squad, also has Von Elm, Barnes, Mac Smith, Mehlhorn, Bobby Cruickshank and Tommy Armour.

Burk Prep Volley Ball Team Receives Sweaters

Special to The Record News

BURKBURNETT, Texas, April 9.—Six members of this year's volley ball team received sweaters Monday morning in the regular Monday morning assembly exercises. Everett James, volley ball coach, presented the sweaters. Those who were presented with sweaters are the following:

Captain Thelma Mitchell, next year's captain; Ina Fae Norvil, Louise Wood, Ana Mae Beasley, Mabel Duke and Lucille Dilbeck.

ROBINS BAT HARD

ATLANTA, Ga., April 9. (UP)—The Brooklyn Robins went on a batting spree this afternoon in defeating the Atlanta Crackers 16 to 4 in an exhibition game. The Robins clouted out 19 hits, including home runs by Gooch, Flowers, Herman and Cullop.

YANKS STOP TRAVELERS

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., April 9. (UP)—The New York Yankees won an exhibition victory over Little Rock here this afternoon, 3 to 1. The Little Rock offense proved effective only in the second inning when one run was scored off Gordon Rhodes.

NATS AGAIN NIP GIANTS

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 9. (UP)—The Washington Senators made it two straight over the New York Giants here today, winning an exhibition game, 7 to 3. Goose Goslin lifted a home run over the right field fence in the second inning, in which the Senators got to Fitzsimmons for six runs on as many hits.

BROWNS TRIM O. C.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 9. (UP)—The air-tight pitching of John Ogden paved the way for St. Louis' 3 to 1 victory over the Oklahoma City Indians here today. Ogden allowed the Indians only four safe blows and while the Browns were able to total only seven themselves, they made them count. The Browns meet the Tulsa Oilers at Tulsa tomorrow.

REDS AT INDIANAPOLIS

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 9. (UP)—The Cincinnati Reds arrived here tonight for games Wednesday and Thursday with the Indianapolis club of the American association.

Manager Jack Hendricks indicated that he was considering benching Horace Ford, shortstop, and one of the members of the Reds' double play combination which broke the league record last season, because of light hitting. If he does, Clarke Pittenger, who has been playing third this spring, will be tried at short and Charley Dresson at third.

RAIN HALTS CARDS

EVANSVILLE, Ind., April 9. (UP)—Rain again halted the scheduled exhibition game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Evansville Three-Eye league nine. The Cardinals tonight announced the release of Paul Folliard and Clarence Heise, pitchers, to the Danville, Ill., club of the Three-Eye league and Dominic Ryba, pitcher, to Fort Wayne of the Central league. Both teams are St. Louis farms.

STAGG DEFENDS CAGE TOURNEY

Meet to Be Continued Despite Opposition

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP)—Despite opposition from certain state athletic associations, the University of Chicago will continue to sponsor and hold its annual national interscholastic basket ball championship tournament, Amos Alonzo Stagg said tonight.

Stagg, who conceived the tournament 11 years ago, said the 1929 event, won by Athens, Texas, was so successful that discontinuance would be a "tragedy."

"The University of Chicago has not profited financially in the conduct of these events because funds gained from the basket ball tournament have been more than used for the conduct of its annual national interscholastic track meets," Stagg said. "The teams of the University of Chicago have not profited unfairly by reason of holding the events, either. Of the 3,000 boys, who have competed in the national basket ball tournament only two have later played on University of Chicago basket ball teams."

He also said the tournament had maintained the strictest rules and cooperated with state interscholastic associations at all times.

Suzanne Failed To Appear at Court

AMSTERDAM, April 9. (UP)—Reports that Helen Wills, American tennis champion, would be unable to play in Holland because her scheduled appearance here conflicts with the date she is to be presented at Buckingham palace court, aroused considerable discussion in sporting circles tonight.

It was recalled that another famous tennis star, Suzanne Lenglen, the French champion, once had a gown made for presentation at the Buckingham palace court but, at the last moment, failed to appear. It was reported that she was "indisposed," after being temperamentally late in keeping an engagement at the Wimbledon courts where Queen Mary was a spectator.

GROVE GETS DECISION

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Izzy Grove, East Side welterweight, pounded out a 10-round decision over Vince Dundee of Baltimore tonight. Grove weighed 150½; Dundee 151¼.

The Causes of Appendicitis

Appendicitis never develops suddenly in a mysterious manner. It must be preceded by a chronic inflammation of the appendix, or a sluggish caecum for a long time before one can develop an acute attack. Such foods as starches, when eaten in too large a quantity and improperly digested, accumulate in the ascending colon and, if they remain too long, ferment and produce large quantities of gas and cause a dilation of the color in the area of the appendix. When this backing up and sluggishness has continued for months, or even years, it is easy to understand that this part of the alimentary canal can become irritated and inflamed. Colitis is the inevitable result and this spreads to the appendix, or a particle of fecal matter may actually be forced into the appendix. When the appendix is not inflamed, it usually succeeds in forcing these feeal particles back into the colon.

The condition of chronic appendicitis and sluggish colon need not exist, providing the simplest hygienic rules are followed. Constipation must be entirely overcome and colitis prevented. This can easily be accomplished by following five simple rules:

First, have regular times for evacuating the bowels every day, and do not wait for them to notify you that they are full.

Second, once or twice daily take a system of setting up exercises, and especially use the ones while lying on your back on the floor such as raising the legs and the trunk, and in this way strengthen your abdominal muscles.

Third, eat a large quantity of green and non-starchy vegetables both in the cooked and raw forms.

Fourth, walk three to five miles daily.

Fifth, whenever you feel a discomfort in the intestines, it is a good plan to use no food but some acid fruit for a few days. Do not use too many sugars and starches, and avoid any combination of food which will produce flatulence.

If you will follow these rules it will be practically impossible for you to develop colitis and will, therefore, be impossible for you to develop appendicitis.

Until constipation and bowel fermentation have been overcome entirely, it is a good plan to take at least one enema daily to keep your bowels as clean as possible.

Out of thousands of cases of chronic and acute appendicitis which I have handled in the past 20 years, I have never yet had to sign a single death certificate, and the treatment used has been essentially the same in all cases as that described in yesterday's article. In some cases it was apparent that the pus sac had formed and was already broken before the treatment was started, but this pus was absorbed and eliminated during the fasting treatment. I have carried some patients through several days of delirium while the pus was being reabsorbed, but in every case the patient got well.

Do not delay in following out these instructions when you feel the first symptoms of appendicitis, because by beginning the treatment early enough you can save yourself much time and avoid much discomfort. If you have not had an attack of acute appendicitis, but feel a discomfort in the lower right section of your abdomen, it is a good plan to undergo a corrective diet so that you will not develop appendicitis.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Baby Perspires

Question: Mrs. O. J. O. writes: "Our baby boy near four months old is in the best of health, but perspires so much about the head. When he wakes up his pillow will be soaked, and when he nurses (he is breast fed) the sweat just pours off his head. I have been told it is the sign of rickets. Is this so? Also, he is very constipated and I give him milk of magnesia every day."

Answer: The cause of the baby perspiring heavily is probably due to the fact that you have too many clothes on him, or that he is wrapped too warmly when nursing. It is not necessary to have a great deal of covering on babies, and this is a great mistake that so many mothers make. Of course, I cannot tell you whether or not the case of this condition in your baby is rickets without having the opportunity of making an examination, but will gladly send you an article on this subject if your doctor believes this to be responsible.

Meat Substitutes

Question: Mrs. B. H. writes: "I have been a vegetarian for a number of years but notice that you advocate mean in your menus frequently. What would I use as a substitute?

Answer: A vegetarian is somewhat limited as to the protein in the diet. A lacto-vegetarian may use cheese, milk and eggs to supply protein. The vegetarian who insists on no aniregal products would necessarily be limited to the nuts and legumes for the foods which are rich in proteins. Of course, other foods contain quite a percentage of protein as well—even cereals and potatoes. I advocate meat in the menus because I have found it is more readily digested and assimilated than the other protein foods.

WORST OF TWO EVILS

CLEVELAND.— Joseph Failkowski, and his sweetheart, Frances Kortelewski, 19, were facing Judge Joseps Sawicki in police court. Joseph was charged with carrying a concealed weapon with which, it was charged, he intended ending his life because of a quarrel the couple had. "Which do you want," Judge Sawicki asked, "go to the pen or get married?" Joseph decided to get married.

Two Black Crows

MORAN AND MACK

MORAN: Here's a letter from yo' wife.

MACK: What does it say?

MORAN: Can't yo' read?

MACK: Why bring that up?

MORAN: It starts, "Friend Husband—"

MACK: The second word is right, but the first word is wrong—

MORAN: She wishes yo' was home.

MACK: Th' rent must be due.

MORAN: She sez she is sorry she smacked yo' with that flatiron.

MACK: My skull is got six more lumps than it kin afford.

MORAN: She wants yo' to leave that Mexican war and come home.

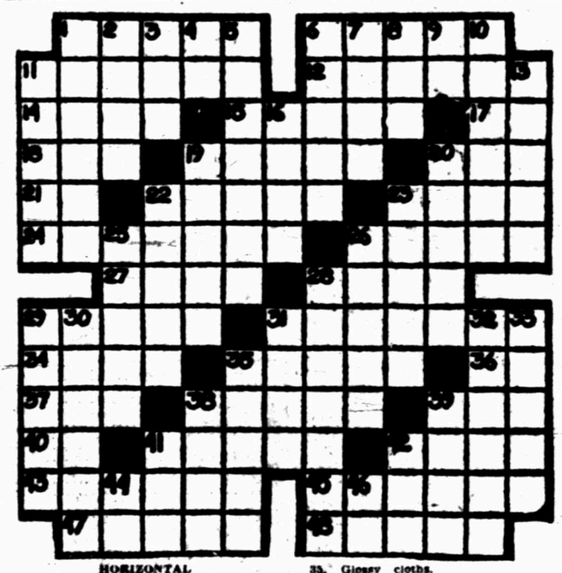

MACK: I'm safer here.

MORAN: She sez yo' mother-in-law is feelin' better.

MACK: That's all I wanted to know.

Just before the battle, mother, Big Boy gets a letter from his wife. He made 16 Mexicans prisoners. They chased him into a swamp and couldn't get out again.

TEXAS COMPANY OIL PERMITS IN NEW MEXICO ARE CANCELLED

GROUP PROJECT TO BE HALTED

Secretary Rules on Permits Granted by U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur ruled today that 58 of 78 oil and gas prospecting permits under which the Texas company has been conducting a group development in Southwestern New Mexico would be cancelled. The remaining permits will stay in force and five leases will be granted.

The Texas company ruling was expected to set a precedent under which other rulings concerning group development will come. The company recently asked and was granted a hearing on the work which it already had done.

Secretary Wilbur said that the Texas company and the qualified permittees for whom drilling was done were entitled to five leases under permits on which discoveries of oil and gas have been made. They are allowed 90 days within which to perfect their applications.

The secretary also found that 15 permits were in good standing either because the statutory time for drilling had not elapsed or equities occasioned by drilling or mining operations on the land justified extension. These 15 permits, he said, are continued in full force and effect subject to future compliance with the law.

Under the present policy, he said, the leases will be granted for only one quarter of the area included in each permit, which amount is mandatorily required by the leasing act upon discovery of oil or gas.

FOUR COMPANIES CALLED TO MEET

WASHINGTON, April 9. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur said today that under authority granted the secretary of the interior to work out adjustments in any single oil field he had called upon four companies operating in the Kettleman field to arrange a drilling program to conserve oil in the ground.

The Kettleman oil field is located at Kettleman Hill, Calif., and is one of the most productive ever discovered. At present it has two wells on government land, one of which brings in about 2,000 barrels a day and yields about 60,000,000 feet of gas a day. The two wells are six miles apart and in the opinion of geologists the entire geological structure is full of oil.

Secretary Wilbur said the field was "an astonishing one and it would be a calamity to develop it now."

MODIFICATION OF POLICY UNLIKELY

CHEYENNE, Wyo., April 9. (AP)—No hope for modification of the administration's oil conservation policy is carried in a statement from the department of interior, replying to a request for amplification of orders relating to issuance of oil and gas prospecting permits, is was announced today by J. C. O'Mahoney, Cheyenne attorney.

Amplification was asked on the orders pertaining to blanket rejection of applications for permits, exclusion of natural gas production from restrictive orders, extension of time on permits embraced within group development or contribution projects, leasing rights of permittees in cases of discovery and relief from drilling additional wells after discovery, in the interest of conservation.

In response to the committee's statement that applications for permits filed prior to March 12, 1929 should not be rejected by a blanket order without right of appeal, the department said:

"The president's policy clearly contemplates the disallowance of unapproved permits. This relates to unapproved applications for oil and gas prospecting permits. The law continues that "presumptively no application has spent money for development, or if he did so, it was without departmental permission or knowledge."

The interior department in reply to the committee's suggestions that true conservation should neither encourage or demand the drilling of wells on individual permits or leases except in response to market requirements, agreed in substance, but on the four other points made no concessions, Mr. O'Mahoney said.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 9. (AP)—Less favorable weather reports and relatively steady Liverpool cables were reflected by advances in the cotton market today. After selling up to 20.16 for July, or 25 points net higher, the market eased off about 10 points but steadied again toward the close with July closing at 20.09. The general market closed steady at net advances of 13 to 18 points.

The opening was steady at an advance of 3 to 8 points on the cable and weather news. The initial advance met considerable realizing but it was readily absorbed, and the market worked about 19 to 24 points net higher during the morning on covering together with some trade buying and moderate commission house demand.

May advanced to 20.70 and December to 20.14, with the active months showing net gains of about 20 to 25 points in early afternoon. There seemed to be apprehension that the rains reported in the eastern belt would work eastward, and that the south might have another spell of wet weather. Some traders, however, thought the rains in the southwest were more beneficial than otherwise, and that showers in the eastern belt would not be unfavorable.

This view, together with an advance in the call money rate and a feeling that probable bullish standard cloth statistics for March had been discounted, seemed to promote realizing. There was enough of this to cause reactions of 10 to 12 points from the best during the middle of the afternoon but the market steadied up again in the last hour of renewed covering.

The disposition to take profits on the midday advance to 20.70 for May and 20.14 for December might have been promoted by rumors that labor disputes in the Carolina mills were spreading.

Exports today 19,661 bales making 7,021,170 so far this season. Port receipts today 15,011. U. S. port stocks 1,604,724.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, April 9. (AP)—The cotton market worked slightly higher today under a demand stimulated by the unfavorable weather in the belt and expectations of a bullish textile report. Realizing was encountered, however, and the demand was not fully maintained. July contracts which had sold up to 20.06, eased off and closed at 19.96, or 7 points net up. The general market closed steady at net advances of 7 to 13 points.

The market opened steady in response to higher Liverpool cables. First trades were 6 to 8 points up and active positions soon showed advances of 12 to 13 points over the previous close due to buying on reports of rain in the belt overnight which traders construed as unfavorable. At these levels May sold at 19.94, July 20.01 and October 19.82.

Realizing was encountered on the scale down and prices eased off 6 to 8 points but offerings appeared well absorbed at the setback and prices immediately started upward under buying said to emanate from Wall street and on some local shorts covering. May traded up to 20.00, July 20.06 and October 19.88, or 17 to 19 points net up.

In final trading there was a renewal of realizing and some liquidation of the May position which proved sufficient to carry the month to a new low at 19.85. Final prices were 3 to 6 points above the lows with October showing the maximum gain of 14 points for the day, closing at 19.79.

MID-WESTERN REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, April 9. (AP)—(U. S. D. A.)—Although cattle receipts around the 11-market circuit were again liberal and trade on killing classes slow, no heavy price declines were enforced. Fed steers and yearlings having sufficient quality to find a shipping outlet held fully steady, while other offerings ruled steady to 25c lower. Light mixed yearlings and fed heifers were weak to 25c lower with prices at some points 25@50c under last week. Chicago scored $14.60 on choice medium weight steers, and secured $14.50 for heavy steers and mixed yearlings. Stocker and feeder classes were in light to moderate supply with demand sufficient to maintain steady values. Aggregate receipts estimated at 37,500, an increase of 10,000 over last Tuesday, but 2,000 short of a year ago.

Comparatively liberal receipts and a light shipping demand resulted in 10@40c lower prices on hogs. Packers on the close at most markets enforcing declines of 25@40c. The day's extreme top of $11.60 was paid at St. Louis. Total offerings were around 95,900, as compared with 81,762 a week ago and 86,129 the corresponding day last year.

Fat lamb trade was somewhat uneven, with most markets on a steady to slightly lower basis. Kansas City reported a 15@25c advance on fed shorn arrivals. Chicago received $17.50 for fed wooled lambs, and obtained $16.40 for clippers. Arizona springers at Kansas City cleared at $18.25. The supply approximated 52,600, a decrease of 10,000 from a week ago but 13,000 heavier than a year ago.

New York Stock Market Surges Lower as Banks Crack Money Whip

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, April 9. (US)—Banks cracked the money whip and put the stock market lower again today. It was an uninspiring, apathetic exhibition, with total trading holding to the 3,500,000 share level and the list as a whole sagging throughout.

The call rate was rushed up from renewal of seven to 10 per cent as the banks called more loans and the effect of professional bear pressure was enhanced by further quiet liquidation. Radio dropped 3⅜, Can 2¼, Kolster 5⅜, Steel two points and General Motors closed a point lower.

Coppers rallied after early weakness while the Oils displayed the firmest tone they have shown since the unfavorable statement on curtailment of production from the attorney general last week. Indian Refining climbed steadily higher while other Oils held to fractional price range. Railroad shares were quiet and generally lower.

"Business conditions are too good for the market to break much" was the only consolation the bulls could find in the picture of the moment. And while they one and all were making this statement the banks were calling $40,000,000 loans and the call rate was rising. There was but one reason for the banks to call in accommodations. That was the desire to make a good showing in the bi-weekly adjustment with the reserve at the close of business. It was a reflection of the undercover pressure being applied by the reserve and showed the banks are cooperating through fear or other reason. Those who were "whistling in the dark" the tune of business being too good for stocks to break much betrayed their ignorance of the fact that the stock market makes business today as much as business conditions make the market. Stock market developments of the last few weeks alone have caused some cancellations of automobile orders and have not done any good to the retail and chain store trades.

Indian Refining's outstanding strength was accompanied by further reports of banking plans for merging the property with one of the largest independent organizations. Inquiry indicates that much of the recent good buying of Standard of New Jersey is based on expectation of favorable developments in addition to the prospects of a higher dividend. It is maintained that Deterding's visit to this country was not alone in connection with plans of Standard of New Jersey for more active operations abroad. In this connection recent accumulation of its subsidiary, International Petroleum, is declared to be significant.

Anaconda and other Coppers were helped for a while by advice broadcast by one of the most active Broadway firms that copper metal would be stabilized around current level. Cable reports from London and oother European centers did not give reason for such hope, however, so that the recovery met resistance from the bears. There is contained quiet accumulation of Underwood Elliott Fisher due to expectation of further improvement in earnings. Forthcoming income statement will reflect the best first quarter in the company's history. Heavy selling of Bethlehem was experienced in the face of expectation that directors would increase the dividend at meeting two weeks from tomorrow. Bethlehem, like Republic and several other Steel companies will show record earnings for the first quarter in reports to be issued over the next fortnight.

The Traction crowd in the street have not recovered yet from the shock of the supreme court's decision in the higher fare case. Many interesting tales are told of the aftermath and some indicate that politicians make up part of the "big public participation" in the market that one hears about. In fact, it seems that the supreme court has made involuntary investors out of some politicians and they are likely to remain part owners of local traction properties by reason of being caught with the stocks, until after next election at any rate. The politico-brokerage crowd in the street now expects the local traction situation will drag along until after November and then—they hope—unification of properties will be hastened.

CHICAGO GRAIN REVIEW

CHICAGO, April 9. (AP)—Notwithstanding a sudden transient setback caused by bearish reports about farm relief plans, wheat from North America did much to rally the market. Government crop figures turned out to be practically identical with recent estimates made by unofficial authorities.

Closing quotations on wheat were nervous at ⅛c to ⅝c net advance. Corn finished unchanged to ⅝c higher, oats ⅛c off to ⅛c up, and provisions 5c to 45c down.

Export business in North America wheat for the last two days was asserted to have reached a total of 4,000,000 bushels under such circumstances, the effects of a scare concerning alleged changes in farm relief plans were largely overcome at the last, and the market finished about midway between the top and the bottom prices of the day.

Helping early and late upturns today in wheat values here was the fact that Liverpool wheat quotations were higher than looked for. In this connection, advices were current that wheat crops in Europe give promise of only a moderate yield this season.

For the most part, corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Wet weather unfavorable for field work prevailed over good sized sections of corn and oats territory.

Provisions followed hog values down grade.

Jack County Gusher Settles to 30 Per Hour After 1,440-Barrel Start

With an estimated production in the first 24 hours flowing 1440 barrels, the L. S. Harper No. 1 Mrs. M. Leffel located in the Isaac Hughson survey, abstract 256, two and a half miles northwest of Bryson was completed Monday. The well, which is probably the record producer for the county, topped the sand at 3068 feet and drilled to 3098 feet when the hole filled rapidly and in a few minutes began flowing. Latest reports from the well show it settled down and flowing 30 barrels per hour.

The completion of the well has created considerable interest in this portion of the pool and in addition to its importance as a gusher it will be the means of giving a small extension to the field, it being located some distance northwest of the Prairie company well on the Mary Bryson land, and one quarter of a mile east of the Panhandle and the Texas holdings in the J. M. Daugherty farm in the same survey.

To the south of the well on the Mrs. Leffel land, the F. H. E. Oil company is nearing the interesting depth being down 2380 feet. Offsetting the F. H. E. test to the south the Shaw Oil company No. 1 J. M. & W. E. Box in northeast corner in Isaac Hughson survey is drilling a cable tool test and down 500 feet.

Late Oklahoma Field Reports

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 9. (AP)—After testing an estimated 30,000,000 feet of gas today in its No. 1 Lowery, in NW SW NW 12-11-3w, Oklahoma City field, the Wirt Franklin Petroleum corporation announced the well would be completed. The Tonkawa sand was cored at 3,997 to 4,010 feet, with total depth at 4,013 feet. A nine-inch casing will be cemented at 3,995 feet, delaying completion of the well about ten days. The well is about two and one-half miles north of the discovery well.

TULSA.—Figures gathered today showed the Sunday shutdown of 12 major operations in the Greater Seminole area kept something like 55,000 barrels of oil off the market this week. Properties of the dozen operators produced a total of 105,852 barrels Saturday but dropped to 50,016 barrels Sunday with most wells closed in. Today the entire area gauged a production of 365,013 barrels, a gain of 57,546 barrels, which practically offset a loss of 64,404 barrels over Sunday.

COUNCIL ASKS CURB ON CRIME

Aldermen to Stress Need Of Enforcement

robbery of the Bus Union station in front of the police station, had little comment to make, although he declared "we are doing our best."

Comment from council members given The Record News was on the whole for immediate steps to remedy the situation. Commissioners said:

J. H. Patton: "It seems like the situation is growing worse every day. We must do something about it, and think the council will take some action at the next meeting in an attempt to check the crime wave and protect property owners."

Mayor Confident

R. O. Harvey: "I feel sure that both the city council and the city manager will give immediate attention to the burglaries and thefts here. The matter probably will be taken up at the next meeting of the council."

Mayor J. W. Akin: "The situation here is no more severe than in any other city. I feel sure that if any action is necessary the city manager will take care of it."

J. M. Spoonts: "Something should be done immediately to curb the wave of burglaries and thefts here. I think in view of the agitation which these outrages have caused in the public mind, the council will be compelled to take official notice of the situation, probably at its next meeting. While I am only newly elected, I personally should be glad to do everything possible to remedy conditions to insure better property protection in Wichita Falls."

Crisis Reached

C. E. McCutchen: " Since I have only recently been elected, I should not care to comment at the present time."

J. W. Hunt: "I have previously said in council meeting that in my opinion conditions here have reached a crisis. I feel sure that something will be done soon. The situation can be remedied and we must wake up and handle it."

Open Forum Features Address Of Dr. Goldstein on Family Problems

Sociologist Scores Divorce Evil in Lecture Here; 1,500 Attend Speaking at Auditorium

An open forum, in which numerous members of the audience actively participated, was the feature of a lecture given at the Memorial auditorium Tuesday night by Dr. David Goldstein, sociologist, on "What Is Wrong With the Family?" before a crowd estimated at more than 1,500 persons.

During the main portion of Dr. Goldstein's lecture, which was devoted to a vigorous attack on modern sociological tendencies, he was given a very attentive hearing by the large audience. That many held opinions at variance with those of the speaker on certain questions raised in the lecture became evident during the discussion which developed gradually, at the close of his speech, from Dr. Goldstein's answers to questions propounded by his hearers.

She Wanted to Know

Conspicuous among the subjects on which opinions were exchanged were those of the Catholic attitude toward Protestant marriages, the probable effect of uniform divorce laws on the divorce rate in the United States, and the regulation of the birthrate among morally and physically unfit. Dr. Goldstein flatly refused to advance an opinion in response to a written query from a woman in the audience, which read: "What is wrong with MY family?"

The teachings of Bertrand Russell of England, Ben Lindsey of Denver, and other modern proponents of an amended basis for the family, were characterized by the speaker as the present generation's legacy from socialistic Russia, Karl Marx, Voltaire and other "radical doctrinnaires." Their proposals, he said, are based upon a neopagan conception of marriage.

Hits Divorces

Declaring that the United States has the highest divorce rate of all the countries of the world except Russia, Dr. Goldstein voiced an eulogy to the Catholic church and the Knights of Columbus as "institutions which stand like a rock of Gibraltar against ruthlessly breaking the bonds that God hath joined together."

With the restraint of the church withdrawn from Mexico by state edict, the speaker stated, lawyers in that country now specialize in divorce procedure, and "offer divorce by wire to citizens of the United States for fees smaller than those which would be charged in Nevada."

"Successful, lasting marriages must be based upon a spiritual standard," Dr. Goldstein declared. "The wrong now lies in irreligion, in marriages that take place upon the basis of mere sex fondness, in animalistic standards that disgrace family life, cause the increase in the number of disrupted homes, and weaken the moral fibre of America."

The speaker appeared here under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus, and was introduced by C. K. Walsh.

dent. W. W. Brown will continue to serve as secretary of the board, it was announced, Mr. Clark announced that he would appoint standing committees at the next regular meeting.

J. T. Harrell, elected a member of the board last Friday when 358 voters wrote his name on the ballot, took the oath of office and was formally received as a member of the board Tuesday night. Paul Scott, the other new member of the body, was not present. He had been called out of town on business, it was explained.

Chauncey Praises Cantwell

When the meeting opened, W. B. Chauncey, member of the board for nine years and president during the last five terms, who announced his resignation and retirement as a candidate about one week before the election, took the chair to complete unfinished business and to administer the oath to the incoming member.

After the canvass of the returns in which the re-election of C. H. Clark and Carter McGregor and the election of Mr. Harrell and Mr. Scott were affirmed, Mr. Chauncey addressed the board in farewell, expressing his appreciation of their support and paying especial tribute to Dr. Cantwell.

"I have been the only obstreperous member of the board," he declared.

"There have been times when I disagreed with our superintendent and on those times the board promptly sat upon me. Texas has no better school man and no school has a better business manager. It is a rare combination. Any fight that is ever waged on Dr. Cantwell will be a fight against the welfare of our city, our schools and our children.

"I am retiring from the school board, but I want it known that I am not retiring from school affairs nor from my interest in the interest of the schools. I have been criticised, but when a man has done what he thought was right and knows he has given his best, criticism means nothing."

Each member of the board present, Dr. Cantwell and Mr. Brown, secretary, severally offered words of appreciation to the retiring president. Upon the motion of Carter McGregor, Mr. Clark appointed a committee to draft a letter of esteem addressed to Mr. Chauncey and to Mrs. T. B. Smith, retiring members of the board.

The board as it stood organized Tuesday night included C. H. Clark, president; W. L. Robertson, vice president; J. N. Prothro, Mrs. W. W. Silk, Carter McGregor and J. T. Harrell. Mr. Scott is yet to be formally received.
