King Wildcat Completed For 145.44 Barrels

Shell Oil Co. has completed its No. 2-1 Burnett Estate, Southeast King County wildcat, as a discovery in Pennsylvanian lime from perforations above the plugback total depth of 5,607 feet.

On potential test it pumped 24 hours and made 145.44 barrels of 36.2-gravity oil through a 16-64th inch choke.

Gas - oil ratio was 433.1. Flowing tubing pressure was 50 to 400 pounds, and shutin casing pressure was 75 to 442.

It is 660 feet from south and 1,989 feet from west lines of section 1-TT, near the Crosby County line.

SHOWS ON CORE

Texaco No. 3 M. A. Fuller in the Fullerville Strawn field of North Scurry County has had streaks of shows on cores in the Permian.

It cored at 2,438-454 feet and had no shows in the section at 2,438-50 but had sand bleeding oil at 2,450-54. It then cored at 2,454-472 feet, having no shows in the first 12 feet but having sandy lime bleeding oil in the bottom eight feet. Taking a third core at 2,472-490 feet, it had sandy lime with an oil odor in the first three feet and shale and anhydrite with no shows in the remaining 15 feet.

It is now drilling at 2,688 feet in sand and shale.

THREE FAILURES

Richardson & Bass No. 1 Nail, stepout to the McCabe Pennsylvanian Sand field of Southeast Mitchell County, is preparing to plug and abandon after drilling to a total depth of 6,426 feet in black shale, where it had no shows.

It is 660 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of the southwest quarter of section 7-12-H&TC.

Lario No. 1-D T. L. Griffin, South east Borden wildcat, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 7,250 feet in reef lime, where it had water and no shows.

It was 467 feet from south and east lines of section 62-25-H&TC.

Sohio No. 1 Swinson in Northeast Garza County has been plugged and abandoned in dry Pennsylvanian lime and shale on total depth of 7,500 feet.

It was 1,869 feet from north and 860 feet from east lines of section 60-2-H&GN.

DRILLING REPORTS

Sun No. 1-A Chester Jones in the Coronet 2900 field of Northeast Howard County treated the section at 2,870-875 feet with 2,000 gallons acid and is now preparing to put on pump to test and complete.

In the same field, Sun No. 2-A Jones is moving in rotary rig.

Phillips Petroleum Corp. has located its No. 6 Boedecker in the Hobo field of Southeast Borden County 2,011 feet from north and 1,972 feet from east lines of section 38-25-H&TC, 20 miles southeast of Gail.

It will begin immediately with rotary tools to drill to 7,150 feet in Pennsylvanian lime.

Ponder No. 1 Lindsey, Dawson wildcat, is now shutin to empty storage so it can take potential test and complete.

It perforated casing at 8,566-571 feet in Pennsylvanian lime, pulled the swab eight times, and it kicked off and flowed through a 24-64th inch choke at the rate of 10 barrels of oil per hour with no water.

Louisiana Land & Exploration No. 1 Howell, East Scurry wildcat, spudded Tuesday and is now drilling at 975 feet in anhydrite.

Also in Scurry, Humble No. 1 Nachlinger is at 5,211 feet in lime and shale trying to regain lost circulation, Humble No. 5-B Sorrells is coring below 6,833 feet in lime, and Magnolia No. 2 Martin is now swabbing to clean out and test after perforating casing at 7,387-396 feet. No gauges have been reported.

Below Freezing In Night

The temperature last night hit a minimum of two degrees below freezing but had risen to 36 degrees by 7:30 o'clock this morning, according to Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, official weather observer. The maximum yesterday was 61 degrees, she said.

CORPORAL EXPLAINS HIMSELF

Cpl. Robert Von Kuznick, 25, who went AWOL from Fort Knox, Ky., to fight in Korea gets a kiss from his fiancee, Shirley Taylor, 18, after he arrived in South Gate, Calif. Shirley, who said the Corporal had a lot of explaining to do about his Korean trip, said they plan to be married as soon as possible. Von Kuznick was fined $10 for his escapade and returned to his adopted outfit, and then returned to the States on rotation. Shirley's and the Corporal's speedy reunion was brought about through the efforts of the Los Angeles Mirror.

Reuther Mad About Reviving Old Index

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Chairmen of the House and Senate Labor Committees predicted today the Eisenhower administration will revive a once-discarded cost-of-living index despite CIO opposition.

Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) and Rep. Samuel McConnell (R-Pa.) said they had every expectation that an order continuing the old index, dropped this month as obsolete, soon will be issued.

The automobile industry and the railroad unions, whose contracts are geared to the old-style index, have been exerting strong pressure both in Congress and on Labor Secretary Martin P. Durkin to have the old index resurrected.

CIO President Walter Reuther, who is also head of the big CIO Auto Workers Union, whose five-year contract is tied to the old index, sent telegrams to key congressmen last night, and to Durkin, voicing strenuous objections to the proposed plan.

McConnell said he went to the White House yesterday with Durkin and discussed the matter with Gabriel Hauge, President Eisenhower's top economic aide, and Joseph Dodge, head of the Budget Bureau.

The old index was discarded officially early this month and replaced with an up-to-date model which the Bureau of Labor Statistics says is a better gauge of modern American spending habits.

Reuther, acting on the basis that the old index is dead, has already notified the major auto companies he wants to take a look at the whole contract.

Battles Along Korean Front

SEOUL (AP)—Tank-led Allied raiders hit a Chinese position southwest of the Panmunjom truce conference site today and killed an estimated 27 Reds with bullets, grenades and flame throwers.

An Eighth Army spokesman said hit-and-run raiders struck in subzero weather at daybreak, after Allied warplanes and artillery blasted the hill and its 30 to 40 defenders.

On the Central Front, a platoon of Chinese Reds attacked an Allied forward position but was driven off after an hour and 15-minute skirmish. Another platoon-sized Red attack northwest of Yonchon was beaten off. Only patrol clashes were reported elsewhere.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force reported 50 fighter-bombers pounded a sprawling troop-billeting area north of Sinchon, near the West Coast. Pilots said they destroyed 55 buildings and damaged eight.

Farther north eight U. S. Sabre jets and five MIGs tangled in two dogfights. The Air Force made no damage claims.

B29 Superforts bombed two Communist storage centers near the Pyongyang during the night.

Slave Trading Revealed To UN Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Britain is looking into charges that her African protectorates are shipping at least 5,000 Negroes each month for sale in the slave markets of Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

The British don't think the charges are true, but their government has begun an investigation anyway. The inquiry is complicated by the fact that slave markets are legal in Saudi Arbia Yemen and neither country so far has revealed its sources of supply.

Both countries, the U. N.'s anti-slavery section said today, have ignored questionnaires sent them on slavery and forced labor.

Britain's U. N. delegation also revealed, in answer to a query from the U. N., that slavery still is legal in the oil-rich sheikdom of Kuwait, on the Northwest Coast of the Persian Gulf, but that actual buying and selling of slaves now is prohibited there. Kuwait is under Britain's protection and the British handle foreign relations for the Sheik.

The charges of large-scale slave traffic between Britain's African possessions and the Arabian kingdoms originated with Jacques Alain, who described himself in a communication to the U. N. Commission on Human Rights as a French explorer living in North Africa.

One Crash And 2 Planes Are Still Missing

SEATTLE (AP)—One plane was known today to have crashed and two others were missing and presumed down in the latest series of aviation disasters along the North Pacific rim.

Twenty-two persons aboard the three planes were missing, including Capt. Julian D. Greer, commander of Fleet Air Wing 6, stationed at the Alameda Naval Air Station, Calif.

A total of 298 persons are known dead or are missing in 10 previous military plane disasters around the North Pacific rim from Tokyo to Alaska to Montana since last Nov. 7.

The pilot of a Central British Columbia Airways plane which went down Tuesday was found alive on a windswept beach 400 miles north of Vancouver, B. C., last night. Also found was the drowned body of one of his passengers.

Parsons Jury Is Expected To Be Completed This Afternoon

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Weary lawyers settled down today to the tedium of choosing the last half of the jury to try Mary Jean Parsons on charges of murdering her husband.

They agreed on one man out of 11 questioned before noon and early hopes of choosing the five still needed today began to fade.

Two days of tense questioning of veniremen, marked by occasional displays of temper by rival lawyers, had resulted in six jurors being qualified. The lawyers were quieter and less argumentative today but the courtroom atmosphere remained tense.

Seventy-one prospective jurors were left to choose from at noon.

The seventh man selected was Norris Turpin, 30, state highway department auto mechanic.

The Tulsa, Okla., heiress, 22, blonde and blue-eyed, was charged with slaying her bridegroom, Army Lt. Richard O. Parsons, 24, last Feb. 16. Parsons, Pleasantville, N. Y., was shot in the head as he lay on a bed in their El Paso apartment.

SANE IN MAY

Mrs. Parsons was found sane in a hearing at El Paso, May 27. Defense attorneys indicated in their questioning of jurors they would seek to prove she was insane when the fatal shooting occurred.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burtner Fleeger, Tulsa, have kept her in a private mental hospital.

Defense lawyers also have served notice of an application for a suspended sentence if she is found guilty.

In two unsuccessful attempts to bring the case to trial here, Sept. 29 and Oct. 13, Dist. Atty. William Clayton of El Paso said he would not seek a sentence of death. This time no definite announcement has been made, and veniremen wre queried on their attitude toward the death penalty.

Operation Smack Draws Fire From Congressmen

Dismayed At Reaction Over Battle Plan

SEOUL, Jan. 29 (AP)—Some military men in Korea expressed surprise and dismay today at the angry reaction in the U. S. to Sunday's Allied attack on Spud Hill—an outpost on the Western Front.

Rep. Bray (R-Ind) asked the Defense Department for an explanation of what he called a "dress rehearsal" in which people got killed.

A spokesman for the division involved said:

"To call the operation a dress rehearsal is completely wrong.

"I think his criticism is unfair. There are no theatrical trappings. Not a single one. This is deadly serious business and every one over here knows it."

The officer and the division cannot be identified for security reasons.

CALLED ROUTINE ORDER

To criticism that a "program" or "score card" had been distributed to generals and newspapermen watching the operation from a bunker, the officer said:

"Every operation has an operation order and all we had was a complete operation order. An operation order is a time table. It says that certain things will happen in a certain sequence. The only difference between this one and any other operation order was that this one had a little fancier cover. And it was a home-made cover at that."

Another officer of the same division said the purpose was to test and demonstrate the effectiveness of close air-ground support. He said that explained the presence of Air Force generals and other military observers.

Asks Decrease In Workers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Sen. Olin D. Johnson (D-SC) urged a sweeping overhaul today of the government's activities abroad, saying at least 100,000 employes overseas could be discharged.

He recommended not only an immediate reduction in "the variety, scope and size of our foreign programs and activities" but major changes in the organization and management of government operations around the world.

His proposals were set out in a report submitted to Vice President Nixon, the Senate president. They were based on a survey Johnston made last fall, as chairman of the Senate Civil Service Committee, of federal pay and personnel practices in the Near East, Africa and Europe.

Johnston said:

"While great progress has been made in the execution of our many tremendous projects abroad . . . . the very foundation of our foreign policy is being damaged by an undertow that is steadily increasing its pressure.

"This undertow derives its strength from streams of indecision, overlapping authority, duplication of effort, wasteful practices, overstaffing and irresponsible and unco-ordinated supervision and direction."

Johnston also said "we are losing the respect and good will" of the peoples in Western Europe despite the help they have received from this country in rebuilding economies since the war.

Senate Fight Due On Three Defense Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts of the Eisenhower administration to install three business leaders as secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Force neared a climax today.

Two sudden developments late yesterday indicated that the new administration is willing to face up to a probable Senate fight over confirmation of two of them.

The first move came from Charles E. Wilson, confirmed by the Senate as new secretary of defense after he agreed to sell his 2½ million dollars worth of General Motors stock.

Wilson issued an order that might allow the designated secretaries and other defense subordinates to retain stock holdings and still serve as officials.

The second move came from Chairman Saltonstall (R-Mass) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, announcing a public hearing today on the three men Wilson selected to serve under him:

Robert T. B. Stevens, Connecticut textile industry head, designated as secretary of Army; Robert B. Anderson, Texas oil and land man, secretary of Navy; and Harold E. Talbott, New York industrialist, secretary of air.

An aide said Saltonstall decided to start hearings after being assured President Eisenhower would send up the nominations by noon today.

Prior to these moves, Senate leaders had predicted that neither Stevens nor Talbott could be confirmed unless, like Wilson, they disposed of their stock and other interests in corporations doing defense business.

Anderson previously testified he holds no stock or interests in corporations or firms with defense contracts.

Wilson's new directive orders any defense official to withdraw from consideration of any contract with a company in which the official has an interest.

Jim Wells County Grand Jury To Go Before State Supreme Court Feb. 4

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—The State Supreme Court today agreed to hear the plea of a Jim Wells County grand jury for an order to make Dist. Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin rescind his action dismissing the grand jury.

The high court notified Judge Laughlin so he might be prepared to argue against the grand jury's request. Hearing will be conducted by the court at 2 p.m. Feb. 4.

Laughlin ordered the grand jury dismissed the day he took office, Jan. 1. The panel had indicted him previously on charges of swindling Jim Wells County by selling it his law books prior to taking office.

The charge was dismissed when Laughlin returned the money and took back his books.

Invited Guests At Battle Asked About

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Rep. Hoffman (R-Mich) today asked the House to demand a full explanation from Defense Secretary Wilson for an American combat raid staged in Korea last Monday before invited guests.

The attack, known as "Operation Smack," stalled under heavy fire near the top of Spud Hill, north of Seoul. It was witnessed by Army and Air Force generals and war correspondents who were provided with advance timetables.

Hoffman introduced a resolution asking the defense secretary to explain "whether this raid was actually for justifiable military purposes or whether it was a show staged for some as yet unknown purpose."

The resolution probably will be referred to a House committee which may summon Wilson for an explanation.

PENTAGON IN DARK

Pentagon officials said they have requested a full report from the field. They said they had no information on "Operation Smack."

Another Republican House member, Bray of Indiana, said yesterday he had demanded an explanation from the Defense Department. Bray, an Army reserve colonel with four years' service in the Pacific, said he was "mad as hell" and "never heard anything like it."

In a statement, Hoffman said: "I am sure our people want to know whether these invited guests were witnessing a spectacle similar to that where gladiators performed for the entertainment of invited guests in the time of the Roman emperors."

STOPPED NEAR CREST

Hoffman's statement also said: "It is bad enough to fight a purposeless, unending war where the men who are doing the fighting are sacrificing their lives, but it is wicked to use them as expendable cannon fodder for propaganda purposes."

The attack, planned since Jan. 19, moved along on schedule—planes, artillery, tanks—until the infantry ran into deadly Communist ground fire and hand grenades within 15 yards of Spud Hill's crest.

The soldiers finally pulled back to their own lines.

The spectators watched from a forward observation bunker. They were provided with mimeographed seven-page time-tables, bound in cardboard with a three-color decoration on the cover.

EIGHT QUESTIONS

Hoffman's resolution listed eight detailed questions for the secretary to answer, including the purpose of the attack and the American and other Allied casualties resulting from it.

News stories describing the assault and editorials commenting on them, the resolution said, "cause resentment among our people and interfere with the support which should be given the armed services."

It asked the secretary to confirm reports that timetables were issued, and if so, to explain why. It also requested information on those attending and why they were invited.

The resolution further asked whether motion pictures were taken and, if so, why.

Bray said he wrote the Defense Department because he received mail and telephone calls from constituents demanding an explanation.

"It's a wonder to me why more hell hasn't been raised about it," he said.

Cadet Put On Good Act In Lubbock Death

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Walter H. Whitaker kissed the mother of his missing girl friend goodby three days after Joyce Fern White, 18, was slain, the family said.

Whitaker, 20-year-old pre-flight student at Lackland Air Force Base in San Antonio, is charged with murder in the high school senior's death.

Members of her family told reporters the Hartford, Conn., youth spent with them much of the three days following Joyce Fern's disappearance.

Whitaker led officers on a grisly dawn trip onto the prairie west of here yesterday and pointed to the shallow grave where the attractive girl's nude body was buried. Clothes she wore when she disappeared from her Lubbock home the night of Jan. 8 were buried 100 yards away.

The day after the girl disappeared, her family told officers yesterday, "Whit" visited her home, ate dinner and helped with the dishes. Two days after the killing he spent the night with Joyce Fern's brother in Olton. And three days after she was brutally strangled with a Venetian blind cord, he came by the family residence and kissed Mrs. Lena B. White, the girl's mother, goodby as he was leaving for San Antonio.

Whitaker, member of a well-to-do family, led officers, including Texas Rangers, to the grave 9¾ miles west of here after a day and night of questioning. He took a spade from an officer and uncovered the body himself.

He was placed in the Bexar County Jail at San Antonio last night while arrangements were being made to transfer him from military custody to civilian control.

Sheriff Grady Harrist and Ranger Raymond Waters said Whitaker made an oral statement in which he told them the attractive girl was strangled after a quarrel over another girl.

"There was another girl involved whom I loved more than Joyce," Whitaker was quoted as saying.

The officers said the "other girl" was a Swiss exchange student who lived for a while in the Whitaker home at Wethersfield, Hartford suburb. Harrist said the youth told them she had returned to Switzerland. They did not know her name.

Dist. Atty. Travis Shelton said an autopsy showed the girl had died of strangulation. He said she had not been raped.

Harrist said the boy told him he got the girl from her home the night of Jan. 8 on the pretense of driving to New Mexico to get married.

Committees Work Over Bills Coming Before State Houses

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—Two more "we wants" that will cost money came to the Legislature today: another deaf school building and a legislators' pay raise.

A committee from the House skipped lunch and went out to the State School for the Deaf in South Austin yesterday. They said they didn't find conditions as "deplorable" as the Legislature had been told, but repairs were needed and a new building was "worthy of consideration."

Legislators argued in a House committee whether they ought to ask the people of Texas to raise the pay of legislators to $25 a day for the first 120 days of a session and $5 a day thereafter. The committe finally approved by a 12-3 vote a measure doing that and sent it to the floor.

DEADWOOD GOING OUT

Another committee of the House approved 15 bills abolishing obsolete state agencies such as the Naval Board and the Board for the Volunteer Army of the Spanish American War and sent those bills to the House. "Getting rid of deadwood," said Rep. Horace Houston, chairman of the House State Affairs Committee.

Still another House committee set to work on a congressional redistricting measure by naming four subcommittees to work on a regional basis. Texas was entitled to its 22nd congressman because of population growth shown in the 1950 census. But the Legislature didn't get around to re-apportioning congressmen in 1951, kept the old districts and let the state elect a congressman-at-large. Martin Dies of Jasper won the job last summer.

WILL INSPECT PRISON

The House Committee on Penitentiaries decided to make a three-day inspection visit to the Huntsville Prison, starting Feb. 12.

Both the House and Senate met only in the morning and adjourned for the day to let the committees get to work. Meetings went on on the floor of the House and in the conference rooms off the gallery.

Eight members of the House Committee on State Hospitals and Special Schools went out, unannounced, to the School for the Deaf after a plea on the floor for a special committee was sidetracked.

"It's a serious situation if it's as we've heard," said Rep. Will Smith, Beaumont. "Their blood would be on our hands if something happens to one or 100 of these children."

The committee tramped through bleak dormitories where iron beds stood in neat rows, 30 to a room, where old wooden floors squeaked in the classrooms, where three single bare light bulbs hung from the ceiling for 60 boys in a study room.

"WELL HEATED"

"We find the buildings are well supplied with fire escapes and reasonably well heated and ventilated," the committee said in its report. It added that the walls, foundations and floors were in good condition but the buildings needed paint, ceilings and roofs needed repairing, more toilets and showers were needed.

It said the school wishes to place children in three separate groups according to abilities and to do so would mean perhaps a new building.

One bill introduced in the House would abolish a tax, the two cents levied on each $100 valuation of property to pay Confederate pensions. The author, Rep. D. H. Buchanan, Longview, said the Confederate pension fund now had some four million dollars in it—more than enough to pay the claims of the two Confederate veterans and more Confederate widows now living in Texas as long as needed.

THEY TRIED

Two UN soldiers, wounded in the futile assault on Spud Hill, a spur of T-Bone hill in Korea, are assisted toward a first aid station at the base of the hill. The U.N. attack was turned back in a withering Communist cross fire as they reached a point only 15 yards from the crest.

Only Two Of 40 Marines Lived Through Attack Of Red Chinese

With U. S. First Marine Division, Korea, Jan. 29 (AP)—Only two marines came back. The other 40 died in the savage onslaught of 250 Chinese Reds.

It happened last October. But, because the number of marine casualties could not be disclosed at the time, the story wasn't told.

Pfc. Curtis (Chick) Bowlan, 19, was wounded and hospitalized but recovered to fight again with the leathernecks. Now he is about to return to his Huntington, W. Va., home on rotation.

The only other survivor, Pfc. Charles D. Rogers, Arkadelphia, Ark., was evacuated to the U. S. with serious wounds.

Bowlan today told how the Reds swarmed out of the night in a vicious attack on a Marine outpost on a hill near Panmunjom on the Western Front.

FALL BACK

The marines couldn't hold them. The Communists swarmed through the position with bayonets and grenades.

Bowlan and five others fell back to a high point. On the way up, Bowlan fired his machine gun from the hip. From the top, the six men held off the Communist attackers six hours. Then they ran out of ammunition.

Communist artillery killed one.

"We knocked out a lot of them, but there were just too many for us," Bowlan said. "All of us were wounded bad and hardly had a chance to bandage each other up. All I had left was a .45."

Three groups of Reds assaulted the little knoll where the marines held out. The leathernecks knocked them back.

ARM BLOWN OFF

The section leader was a husky sergeant. His arm was almost blown off. Bowlan made a tourniquet with the sergeant's belt and a bayonet. Bowlan was hit in the back with a grenade and was bleeding.

The men tried to get back to their base. They didn't know the Communists had overrun that particular part of the main line.

Bowlan, a slightly built, 140 pounder, tried to help the sergeant along. They became separated from the other four.

"I never saw them again," Bowlan said.

Bowlan carried the 190-pound sergeant 200 or 300 yards. Then he dragged him by the feet through a trench toward their line.

FINDS ROGERS

"The sergeant told me to leave him. I finally had to. I couldn't carry him any more," Bowlan recalled.

Bowlan walked almost to the main line—only to find the Communists barring his way. He hid under some bushes until daylight.

Then he found Rogers, staggering in no man's land with two bullet wounds in the neck.

Together they tried to get back to their outfit. Once they thought they saw other marines on a ridgeline. They hurried toward them and were fired on by Chinese. They doubled back, dodging Red mortar fire.

Finally they made it—two lone survivors of a bitter battle for a small knob in Western Korea.

GAS WELLS BURN ON

This is an aerial view of the two flaming gas wells in the Gulf of Mexico, 36 miles south of Morgan City, La. A team of anti-tank experts from nearby Camp Polk were flown to the wells with a 75mm recoiless rifle in efforts to puncture the superstructure of the wells, so that the flames presently shooting horizontally to the water would turn skyward. That would relieve danger to other wells and permit more standard fire fighting efforts. These efforts were futile and preparations are now being made to lower a funnel over the burning gas. This picture was made by the Coast Guard.

President, Barely In Office, Already In Tiff With Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—In office only 10 days, President Eisenhower already has had a bumpy time of it with Congress, where his own party is in control.

He has not had a break with the lawmakers. He has not suffered any major defeats or reverses at their hands yet. But they have refused to rubber-stamp his suggestions.

Most of his trouble has been over men he picked for high office. But the groundwork was laid this week to make it easier for Congress to block any Eisenhower attempts at reorganizing or streamling the government.

His first bump was the nomination of Charles E. Willson, former president of General Motors, as secretary of defense. When Wilson told the senators he saw no reason to sell his G. M. stock, the senators said "Whoa."

They pointed out he might have to pass on government contracts with G. M. if he was secretary. He said he could do it impartially. That wasn't the point, they said.

They reminded him: There's a law forbidding a government official to do government business with a firm in which he has money interest. They made it clear he couldn't be secretary unless he sold his stock.

After thinking this over he said he'd sell it. They approved him. But among men he had picked to be his top assistants were two in exactly the same fix as himself.

They were Robert T. B. Stevens for Army secretary and Harold E. Talbott for secretary of the Air Force. Both have financial interests in firms doing business with the government.

Wilson seems to think he has a plan to keep them from dealing with their old firms, let them keep their holdings, and still get Senate approval. But unless they sell, they may not get that approval.

Eisenhower reportedly had wanted to make Val Peterson, former Republican governor of Nebraska, U. S. ambassador to India. But Nebraska's two Republican senators, Hugh Butler and Dwight Griswold, are said to have told Eisenhower "Nothing doing."

They could prevent Senate approval of Peterson simply by telling the other senators he was "obnoxious" to them. Butler was re-elected last year but Peterson had tried to beat him for the job.

Eisenhower finally made Peterson one of his administrative assistants at $15,000 a year, a job which didn't need Senate approval.

Eisenhower picked Dr. James B. Conant, outgoing president of Harvard, to be U. S. high commissioner in Germany. There may be a Senate fight over him too.

Some Roman Catholics are critical of Conant because they say he attacked the parochial school system in a speech last year. Conant's friends claim his remarks were misinterpreted.

Eisenhower's fellow Republican, Sen. McCarthy, a Wisconsin Catholic who said he had received a "tremendous number" of complaints about Conant, may argue against Senate approval.

Another Republican, Sen. Mundt, a South Dakota Methodist, drew a bead on Conant from an unexpected direction. "Too bookish" to be high commissioner, Mundt said.

When President Truman wanted to reorganize a government agency he sent his plan to Congress. Unless either House disapproved, the plan went through. House or Senate could block it by a specified vote.

The same situation faces Eisenhower. But all 15 Republicans on a House committee voted to make it easier—by lowering the required vote—for the House to block Eisenhower than it was to block Truman in such cases. All 14 Democrats on the committee voted on Eisenhower's side.

In the Senate a committee approved a bill—with Republicans and Democrats voting for it—to do what the House committee wants. Sen. McCarthy and Sen. McClellan, Arkansas Democrat, pushed this idea.

Since in each case it was only a committee acting, nothing is final until the full membership of both houses vote on the proposal.

Odessa Man Is Sentenced

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29 (AP)—An Odessa resident, Ben Sadovnick, was under a probated two-year penitentiary sentence today and had been fined $10,000 after pleading no contest to income tax evasion charges.

Sadovnick was indicted in four counts by a special federal grand jury which convened here last spring.

The indictment charged him with two counts of evasion each in the years 1946 and 1945, but the charges later were dismissed in the 1945 cases.

U. S. Atty. Frank Potter yesterday told the federal court here that Sadovnick's tax shortages for 1946 amounted to about $5,000. The amount will be paid, Sadovnick's attorney said, as soon as Internal Revenue Bureau agents arrive at a definite figure.

Judge T. W. Davidson said he probated Sadovnick's sentence because it was the West Texan's first offense and because of his ill health.

Bert Dennis Is Put On Board

Bert Dennis of Gail has been named an associate director of the Texas Production Credit Association.

Dennis was named to the office Monday at the annual meeting of the 350 stockholders of the association in San Angelo. Also named associate director was Ford Boulware of Christoval. They replace Aubrey DeLong of Mertzon and J. J. Marley, Jr., of Ozona.

William B. Wilson of San Angelo was elected to the board to replace R. C. Leffel of San Angelo.

Speakers said the association is still in strong financial condition despite the drouth. Phil H. Lane, secretary - treasurer, reported the association had a net worth of $109,014.72 and that loans of $5,266,000 were made by the association in 1952.

The association did not pay a dividend on stock in 1952. J. S. Farmer of Junction, vice-president, said that everyone would have to practice economy, promising that the association could hold out as long as its membership remained strong.

Other speakers included W. J. McAnnelly, president of the Federal Intermediate Credit Bank and C. H. Matthews of Eagle Lake, Texas representative of the National Production Credit Committee.

All officers were re-elected at the board meeting. They are Jack R. Canning of Eden, president; Farmer, vice-president; Lane, secretary - treasurer; and Otis C. Grisham and Lila U. Simpson, assistants to the secretary-treasurer.

Local Negro Anxiously Looks For High Court Mandate Against Him

Pete Davis, Snyder Negro whose county court conviction on a bootlegging charge has recently been upheld by the court of criminal appeals in Austin, made his second inquiry of the county clerk's office today concerning the mandate to be issued by the high court.

Davis asked Edgar Taylor, county judge, whether the appellate court had yet sent the county court its mandate in the case, ordering the sentence be put into effect. Judge Taylor said the high court did not always send the judge the mandate, although it sometimes sent a copy, but that the mandate was always sent the county clerk's office.

Davis then asked the clerk's office about it, but the office had not yet received it. "I just want to be available when it is received," he said, "so the officers won't have to be looking for me." He said he would report to the court again Monday.

Davis was sentenced about a year ago to 30 days in jail and assessed a fine of $500 plus cost of $28.50. It is the only case against him. A brother, Anderson Davis, Jr., is serving a four-year sentence for bootlegging.

Polio Funds Raised Through Theatres Here

Officials of Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation expressed appreciation this week to Snyder movie patrons who contributed to the organization through the Snyder Theatres, Inc.

V. F. Nichols, owner of the theatres here, said about $400 was raised when special collections were made Aug. 31-Sept. 6 to contribute to Gonzales.

A total of 649 Texas theatres participated in the drive and reached a total of $262,883.23.

A special film was shown each night during the drive, in which Joan Crawford, movie actress, made an appeal for funds.

County Court Charge Of Threatening To Take Life Of Another

A county court charge was filed yesterday afternoon against Raul Pena, Snyder Latin - American, accused of threatening to take the life of Clark Light, about 50, of Snyder.

Pena was released on recognizance without bond yesterday when he entered a plea of innocence.

The charge was filed on written affidavit of Light who pleaded guilty yesterday morning to a charge of carrying metal knucks and a blackjack, which he told the court he entered a plea of innocence.

Pena. Listed on the court docket as witnesses in the case against Pena were Light, a white man, and Will Clay, Snyder Negro. Light paid a fine of $123.50, including court cost.

Two Arrested Here Are Taken To Abilene

Walter Suttle, police chief, said two youths believed to have burglarized a house in Trent, Taylor County, were arrested here yesterday.

One of the two men, has a record of five arrests, and is now under $1,000 bond on a charge of automobile theft, Suttle stated. He is 20 years old.

The other man, who is 19 years old, has no previous police record, he added.

Members of the Taylor County sheriff's department came to Snyder last night and took the men to Abilene.

They were arrested here after a short automobile chase which began at Twenty-eighth Street and Avenue M, Suttle stated.

Sweetwater Acts On Water Shortage

SWEETWATER — City commissions authorized Mayor E. B. Ellis to secure water rights to several old water wells to be used in case rains are delayed and the city's water supply falls to the danger level.

The wells, owned by persons living in Odessa and Monahans, could be placed in use with very little expense. A pipeline a mile and a half in length will be needed to connect with lines now in operation from other wells in the same section of the county.

Tentative Plea Entered In County Court Today

James M. Barber, 40, Colorado City, tentatively entered a plea of guilty this morning to a county court charge of swindling by worthless check. Sentence has not definitely been assessed, however. Barber said he would plead guilty as soon as he obtained money for payment of a fine and redemption of a check.

The charge alleges he passed a worthless check in October to Dr. John Blum, optometrist, for $20. Barber is in the county jail here.

Tax Payments Due On Or Before Saturday

There are only two days left in which to pay city taxes without being penalized for late payment. J. D. Scott, assessor - collector, said today.

Deadline for non-penalty payment is Jan. 31.

Scott stated that more than 80 per cent of all city taxes assessed have already been paid, and that payments have been coming in at a steady rate through January.

Tax Man Will Be In Snyder February 17

An internal revenue agent will be in Snyder Feb. 17-18 to aid taxpayers in preparing their income tax returns.

E. D. Priest, the agent, said he will be in the courthouse on those dates to give free service to those who need assistance in preparing their forms.

This is a picture of the British Canberra jet bomber of the same type which set a new official England-to-Australia flight record. The British plane, already holder of Atlantic speed records, landed at the north Australian port of Darwin, just 22 hours and one minute after leaving London. The Canberra shown above was being tested over the Maryland countryside during a U.S. visit when this flight view was made last year.

MORE TESTS COME

Polio Preventative Thought To Be Reality By Doctors

NEW YORK (AP)—Scientists now have a vaccine which they have good reason to believe will protect humans against polio, ending the dread scourge of a crippling and killing virus.

The proof of the pudding will come through tests on many children, probably to be run this year.

This is the main substance of a report last night by Dr. Harry M. Weaver, research director of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

This vaccine is one payoff of 18 million dollars devoted to research by the March of Dimes funds since 1938. It looks like the best practical answer yet to the challenge of polio.

It has stimulated a few humans, and many monkeys and chimpanzees, to make their own antibodies of disease-fighters against all three types of polio virus. The monkeys, in fact, went scot-free even when given lethal doses of polio virus after the vaccination.

The acid test for this vaccine still lies ahead—the tests on thousands of children. Even if it works, the vaccine will not be generally accepted.

In appointing the strategy board, Eisenhower implemented one part available this year, not until some questions are answered about how good and how long its protective effect lasts.

But it is certain that this vaccine is safe, that it can't cause polio in children or adults who get the shots. For it is made out of viruses killed by chemical treatment, with formalin or formaldehyde, so that the viruses cannot damage human nerves.

And it is certain that the vaccine could protect against all three types of viruses that can cause human polio. It took three solid years of work, costing $1,370,000, to learn that there are only three such viruses — named the Brunhilde, Lansing and Leon strains—which are dangerous. This vaccine contains all three types.

Medical research also has learned how to make these viruses in practically unlimited quantities, Dr. Weaver reported.

It's done by growing viruses in glass test tubes on bits of animal or human tissues. The tissues can be of several kinds, not including nerve tissue. For it's feared that virus grown on nerve tissue might contain contaminants which could damage the brains of persons getting vaccines made with that kind of virus. This vaccine has no such danger.

Viruses in this vaccine, although killed by chemicals, still keep the power to make a human produce antibodies against polio viruses. Antibodies are natural defense agents which can disarm any invading viruses.

And, said Dr. Weaver, the antibody-producing ability of this vaccine apparently can be stepped up by combining it with certain mineral oils.

"I would like to be able to announce this evening that field tests with such a vaccine will be undertaken during 1953," Dr. Weaver said.

Farewell From Gen. Van Fleet

SEOUL (AP)—Gen. James A. Van Fleet bade 50,000 cheering Koreans a tearful farewell today and promised to return one day to visit the war-ravaged peninsula.

Van Fleet will surrender command of the U. S. Eighth Army to Lt. Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor early next month and leave for the U. S. and retirement. He has led the multi-nation Allied army in defense of South Korea since April, 1951.

Thousands of South Koreans paraded through Seoul in near-zero weather from early morning until the official ceremonies started late in the afternoon.

They carried banners which urged the 60-year-old genefal "please come back to Korea and stay with us."

President Syngman Rhee also urged the general and his wife to return. Mrs. Van Fleet recently returned to the U. S.

In an emotion-choked voice, Van Fleet replied, "I thank you for the invitation. I shall come back."

It was clear Van Fleet meant his return would be in a private role. He has said he wants to visit both Greece, where he also led the fight against communism, and Korea after his retirement.

The South Koreans showered Van Fleet with farewell presents, and he told them he was overwhelmed by "this tremendous show of good will."

Engineers Of Many Years' Experience Still Learning

TULSA, Jan. 24 (AP)—You might have been surprised to learn the shirt-sleeved men bent over scratch pads and whirring calculating machines were petroleum engineers, not a class in business administration.

And it's quite likely you would have been amazed at the adventures some of them had experienced in their oil hunting roles

All 31 "students" were employes of the Standard Oil Co. (N. J.) or its world-wide affiliates. The majority attending the Petroleum Reservoir School organized by the Carter Oil Co., also associated with Standard, were from South America, Saudi Arabia, Sumatra and Canada.

BACK FROM ROUGHING IT

Although their total time in the oil business added up to scores of years, the engineers were boning up on new method of determining the behavior of oil in the ground, production techniques, ways of evaluating gas reservoirs and water-flooding principles.

They worked in a plush hotel room with every convenience at their fingertips. Yet only a few weeks previous, many were roughing it in countries inhabited by uncivilized peoples and dangerous beasts.

J. A. Van Leeuwen and H. Quaadgras, both of Standard Vacuum Oil Co., Sumatra, were two of the veterans whose adventures in the search for oil read like fiction.

Quaadgras, middle - aged and wiry, gave a thumbnail sketch of his years as an oil engineer in Sumatra.

CAPTURED BY JAPS

Before World War II, he said, he got a taste of what he could expect in the jungles of southern Sumatra. One day, he related, as he wormed his pickup truck over a jungle path, a Kubus tribesman leaped in front of his vehicle.

"To make it short," Quaadgras explained, "the native wanted to give up for murdering a fellow tribesman. Well, I accommodated him and carried him nearly 200 miles to the nearest police station."

During the Japanese invasion, Quaadgras was forced to work in a Japanese mainland coal mine, digging ore and loading cars.

Like Quaadgras, Van Leeuwen was a prisoner of the Japanese, but he was sent to Burma to work on a railroad.

Before the war, the younger Van Leeuwen said, the company's biggest problem in Sumatra was elephants which uprooted gas and oil lines.

"It was against the law to shoot the beasts," he explained.

Basement Not Necessary In Modern Home

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—The basementless house and automatic laundry equipment have streamlined modern living.

This is the opinion of Rudard A. Jones, director of the space study laboratory of the Small Homes Council of the University of Illinois. Jones is experimenting to find the ideal house plan and how best to use space in a small house.

The space laboratory, a flexible dwelling erected a year ago on the campus, is used to study family living habits. Flexibility of room arrangement in the experimental house is possible by movable interior and exterior walls.

So far, eight floor plans have been studied under controlled conditions. Two families have lived in the house. Traffic through the various house plans is clocked automatically by electronic eye. Occupants of the house also commented on the plans.

It generally was concluded that location of a first-floor laundry in a utility area off the kitchen was most satisfactory. Although the basement was useful for storage, it is believed not necessary to comfortable living.

Laundry schedules were three to five times a week. These, said Jones, required only about five minutes of the housewife's time for each cycle of laundry. This compares to the seven manual operations required for a single cycle by older washing methods.

To overcome the shortage of storage space in basementless houses, closet storage space was widened—at least four to five feet for each person. Each person also was assigned a chest of drawers. A larger than average garage is found a necessity for storing tools, odds and ends.

The ultimate goal of the study is to make the small home more livable. Most folks, it seems, eat in the kitchen. The "L" and "U" shaped cabinet and counter arrangements in the kitchen were found easier to live with.

A playroom for children is necessary in the basementless house. This was located in an extra bed room that could double as a guest room.

At the present rate of consumption, the United States would use about 50 billion tons of coal in the next 100 years.

Angle Cock On Train Is Key To Last Wreck

WASHINGTON (AP) — A small piece of equipment — only a few inches wide and less than a foot long—continues to be the star in the mystery of Washington's runaway train wreck.

The equipment is an air valve, known among railroaders as an angle cock. There's one at each end of every railroad car.

There were 32 angle cocks on the 16-car train that plunged off the end of the rails and into Washington's Union Station Jan. 15. But only one has come in for much attention at a hearing, now in its fourth day, held by the Interstate Commerce Commission (ICC).

That's the one at the rear end of the third car of the train.

Testimony has shown that the brakes on the electric locomotive and the first three cars were okay. On the last 13 cars they apparently didn't work at all.

All fingers of suspicion have pointed to the angle cock, and it's fairly well established now that it was the guilty mechanism.

But how did this supposedly foolproof gadget become closed?

William J. Patterson, ICC commissioner, has been interested in the possibility that the train equipment itself may have bumped the handle of the angle cock, causing it to close.

He had planned to wind up the hearing yesterday, but a discussion of this possibility extended the hearing to today.

John F. Swafford, assistant master mechanic for the Washington Terminal Company, testified yesterday he had applied pressure to a coupler carrier.

This, pushed against an angle cock handle which was not locked, had moved the handle 30 degress, Swafford said.

Closing the angle cock 30 degrees would not shut off the flow of compressed air that works the train's brakes. It takes a 90-degree turn to close the cock completely.

But Patterson said he wanted to study the situation further.

Could you suggest recipes using canned salmon? L.

A sandwich idea using the canned salmon is for Salmon Bohemian. The following ingredients are needed:
1 half-pound can salmon
½ teaspoon salt
Pepper to taste
1 tablespoon worcestershire sauce
¼ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup mayonnaise
1 loaf French bread
Butter

Combine salmon with salt, pepper, worcestershire sauce and green pepper. Moisten with mayonnaise and blend. Cut the French bread length-wise and spread butter on upper and lower layers. Spread salmon filling on the lower half and press bread together as for a sandwich. Cut into six or seven servings. For an accompaniment, serve with a tossed green salad.

Salmon Cutlets may be made in advance of the meal and stored in the refrigerator until time to prepare dinner. Use the following ingredients:
1 pound can salmon
2 cups thick white sauce, using liquid from can of salmon
1 tablespoon grated onion
¼ teaspoon celery salt
2 teaspoons worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Prepare white sauce, using ¼ cup cooking fat, 6 tablespoons flour and 2 cups liquid from salmon plus milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, few grains black pepper. Add onion, celery salt, worcestershire sauce and lemon juice. Mix well. Flake salmon and add to sauce. Chill well. Form into six cutlets; roll in fine dry bread crumbs; place on greased pan. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) for 20 minutes. Serve with lemon sections or parsley sauce. Serves 6.

I can never remember the proportions to use in making sour milk or cream from sweet milk. I think I used to added 1 teaspoon of lemon juice to each cup of milk. Mrs. E. R., Jr.

Usually the proportions are 1 tablespoon of lemon juice or vinegar to 1 cup milk or cream.

It's fun to experiment with new shades of cosmetics. But first, cleanse face, removing all cream with a handy quilted cotton square.

This Is For Those Thinking About Trying On New Face

By The Associated Press

It's a good idea to try on a "new face," occasionally. A brand new makeup can perk up a woman's spirits like a new chapeau.

A new makeup is especially stimulating if you've got that "all gone" feeling. It will give your appearance a grand lift. By experimenting with various shades of cosmetics, you'll no doubt discover different makeup glamor effects.

Before you start your makeup-rejuvenation program, be sure to cleanse your face, neck and throat. Use a generous amount of cleansing cream, wiping it off gently. New soft, quilted cotton squares remove makeup effectively and are soothing pads for tender skins.

Brush your hair back, pinning a towel tightly around the hair to avoid getting powder flecks and cream smudges in your hair.

When choosing a new foundation and face powder, do not select shades that are a drastic change from those you've been using. The color should blend with your natural skin tone, but a slight variation might be becoming. Try a light foundation and a dark powder. If your skin is on the pale side, a powder and foundation with pink tones will give you a healthy glow. If the skin is an olive hue, try the deep-tan makeups in preference to the light shades.

Some women get a big lift by altering the color and application of lipstick. Good judgment must be used to avoid extremes, however. Brilliant, dark lipsticks make the mouth appear larger. Less vivid shades can be employed by minimize too-full lips. If complexion has pink undertones, orange lipstick shades should be avoided. If skin is slightly yellow, shy away from bluish tones. True red can be worm by most women.

Rouge should be the same color range as your lipstick. Some girls like to use a dot of lipstick to paint their cheeks. Rouge can do a lot for a girl with a shallow skin. Apply it different ways to find how it can flatter you. Try it higher up on your cheekbone or in a wider spread of color than usual. You'll be amazed how you can give the illusion of a broader cheek-bone area, thinner or rounder face by using rouge with a deft hand. If you like dry rouge, try this method of application: Roll a handy little quilted square into a tube shape Use one end to dab rouge on, the other to blend in the outlines.

Eye makeup is fun to use. Try several different shades of eye shadow — blue, green and perhaps an orchid. An eye liner used along the edge of your upper lid, and from the center of the lower lid to a little beyond the outer eye corner can put magic in your eyes.

If you decide to tweeze your eyebrows, take it easy. That's one job that needs professional advice. But you can do this much — clean out the eyebrow area above the nose and under the natural eyebrow line. Don't destroy the pretty arch of your eyebrow. If you want to use an eyebrow pencil, use it in short hair like strokes, do not press on the pencil, pulling it across the brows leaving a harsh line.

Before and after plucking the eyebrows, saturate your little cotton square with alcohol or other antiseptic and cleanse the eyebrow area. It's a good idea to dip tweezers in antiseptic before you use them.

How To Take A Bath And Enjoy It Is The Word Here

By The Associated Press

If you are living up to that bath-a-day resolution, the relaxation, stimulation and wonderful sense of luxury that comes as a result of it should convince you that bath-time is a pleasant task.

But if you still need to be convinced that bathing is not a chore, try these baths:

FOR SHEER LUXURY

Allow 20 minutes for this tub bath. Use a fragrant bath softener so the water will be extra soft, giving sort of a silky feel when you swish your hands through it. The softener should be put in a dry tub beneath the faucet, warm water should be turned on full force so that the softener can be completely dissolved whether it is in the form of salts, oil or bubbles.

Relax in the tub for about ten minutes, just soaking. Then cleanse your skin with a fragrant soap. The softened water will make the soap lather profusely. Rinse. After drying yourself briskly with a large soft towel, smooth on cologne or toilet water from tip to toe to form a wonderful foundation of fragrance. Fluff silky bath powder all over your body so your skin feels smooth.

The luxury bath is particularly wonderful after a day of outdoor sports. It helps kick the kinks out of muscles and relax you for the evening.

STIMULATING BATH

This is a quick-dip bath which takes only five minutes. It is particularly exhilarating when you've planned to take a nap before a date, and find that you do not have time. Pop into the tub, take a bath brush and rub a soapy lather over the body in quick movements. Pop out of the tub and dry yourself vigorously with a large, soft bath towel. Slather on toilet water or cologne. Dust on bath powwder for a "finished" feeling and to help your girdle go on quickly. All weariness should have disappeared after this bath, and you are ready for an evening of fun.

BEDTIME RELAXER

The before-bedtime bath can be done in a leisurely manner. Tie your hair up on top. A colorful strip of silk or net tied with a bow on top is feminine and pretty and will keep your hair out of the bathwater. In this tepid or lukewarm bath, lie down with soapy water up to your chin, having soaped yourself carefully before hand. Rest your head on the tub. Lie back with eyes closed. Rinse and dry yourself gently, not too speedily, which is likely to increase your energy instead of helping you to relax.

If you cream your face at night and pin-curl your hair, it is a good idea to do so before you get into the tub. This relaxing bath should make you pleasantly drowsy, so you'll probably hop into bed immediately and fall fast asleep.

A bath softener will give you more bubbles and will insure a fragrant bath.

DON'T STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT

Here is an inexpensive home recipe to take off ungainly weight and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from any druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour into pint bottle and add grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle for your money back.

LOST 20 POUNDS

"I have lost 20 pounds taking Barcentrate," writes Lucele Campbell, Route 1, Grandview, Texas. "I feel so much better and am losing weight right along. No more bloating and puffed up feeling, since taking Barcentrate."

And Vira Belcher, Route 3, Box 167, Bowie, Texas, writes to say:

"I am well pleased with Barcentrate. It not only took off 15 pounds around my hips and abdomen, but it has made me feel so much better."

BIG BIBLE RALLY

"Campaigning For An Uncorrupted Bible"

Friday Night at 7:30 in the Calvary Baptist Church

Speaker: T. Gerald Cates Subject: "Is The New Bible For You"

WE ARE AGAINST THE BURNINGS OF THE NEW BIBLE HOWEVER

WE ARE FOR TURNING THE LIGHT ON IT AND INFORMING THE CHRISTIAN PUBLIC AS TO:—

1. Who "authorized" this translation. What does the U. S. Navy Intelligence Department say about this council (See Congressional Record, Vol. 79, part 12, p. 13503). This will be read Friday night.
2. What do some of the translators believe about the doctrines of historic Christianity.
3. What is the attitude of this new translation to the virgin birth and deity of Jesus Christ our Lord.
4. Who recommends and praises this translation to the sky and what do they believe.
5. Who stands against this new Bible—

(It has been rumored only fanatics and the illiterate are against the new Bible. Consider the following). DR. OSWALD T. ALLIS, who for years was a member of the faculty of Princeton Theological Seminary in the Department of Semitic Philology and who later was professor of Old Testament in Westminister Theological Seminary—received his A.B. degree at the University of Penn., his A. M. at Princeton Theological Seminary and his Ph. D. at the University of Berlin, has written several articles against the New Bible which have been printed in United Evangelical Action and many other leading religious periodicals. Dr. Allis said concerning this new translation: "It is definitely Unitarian or Unitarianizing in its tendency and implications." This is just one quote from one great Bible-believing scholar. Many scholars could be quoted.

This is in cooperation with the American Council of Christian Churches which has called for 3000 protest rallies to the new Bible on Friday night, Jan. 30th.

HAWIIAN ROLLS ARE RICH IN FOOD VALUE
. . . serve fragantly warm for any occasion

Prepare Speedy Hot Breads For Added Mealtime Variety

If winter meals have settled down to a dull sameness, a pleasant surprise to brighten the menus would be the addition of a hot or quick bread. Any menu, whether for breakfast, lunch or dinner, takes on special aspects if home-made quick bread, muffins or rolls are served.

The inclusion of hot bread on the menu need not overburden the cook. Simplify the preparation as much as possible, first of all by assembling all utensils and ingredients before beginning and at the same time preheating the oven so it will be the desired temperature when the bread is ready to be baked.

For hot breads for breakfast, prepare the pans and the mixing of the dry ingredients the previous evening. Or if you bake rolls or the muffins for dinner in advance of the time of serving, tip them in the pan to prevent steaming and place the pans in the warming oven or other warm place.

One of the nicest parts of baking hot breads at home is having some left for another meal. Left over rolls, muffins or biscuits are much tastier served warm. For re-heating, the simplest way is to place them in a tightly covered pan and put in moderate oven for about 10 minutes. Wrapping in a paper bag has been found successful, too. A sparing sprinkling of water may be used if the rolls are dry.

Here are a variety of breads to fit different tastes and menu needs.

Hot and golden-crusted Salty Cornmeal Buns have a delightful flavor. Served with meat loaf, salmon loaf, hash or ham, they make a meal seem special. Since these must be given time to raise, plan ahead to allow enough time.

To make the rolls light and golden, the cornmeal is scalded by pouring the hot milk over it. If preferred, use a cupful of boiling water instead of scalded milk and then add three tablespoons dry milk solids to the dough with the flour. The rolls can be made with water only, but the milk adds important food values and helps give the crust a pleasing delicate texture.

SALTY CORNMEAL BUNS

1 cup milk
1 cup yellow corn meal
1½ teaspoons salt
4 tablespoons margarine
3 tablespoons sugar
1 package or 1 tablespoon dry yeast
¼ cup warm water
1 egg
3½ cups sifted flour (about)

Scald milk. Into large mixing bowl measure cornmeal, salt, margarine and sugar. Pour hot milk over cornmeal mixture, stirring until smooth and margarine is melted. Let cool to lukewarm. Soften yeast in lukewarm water. Stir into cornmeal mixture. Add 1 cup flour and beat well. Add egg, beating thoroughly. Add enough more flour to make a medium stiff dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth and knead until smooth and satiny (about 5 to 8 minutes.) Round up dough into ball and place into lightly greased bowl. Cover with waxed paper and clean towel and set in warm place to rise until doubled (about 1½ hours). Punch down and let rest 10 minutes. Shape into small round rolls about 1½ inches in diameter. Let rise in greased pans or on greased baking sheets until doubled. Brush tops lightly with melted margarine, sprinkle with cornmeal topping. Bake in moderately hot oven (400 degreesF.) 15 to 20 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

For cornmeal topping, mix ¼ cup cornmeal with 1 teaspoon salt.

Honey, pecans and orange rind add extra goodness to the rich flavor of bran muffins, making Honey Bran Muffins tasty enough for a party. They can be served with fruit salad as a dessert or with coffee or hot cocoa.

HONEY BRAN MUFFINS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ cup pecans chopped
cup peans chopped
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup honey
1¼ cups milk
1 tablespoon cooking oil or melted fat.

Sift together flour, baking powder and salt; stir in bran, nuts and orange rind. Combine egg, honey, milk and oil or melted fat and add to first mixture. Stir only enough to moisten dry ingredients. Batter should not be smooth. Fill greased muffin pans 2-3 full and bake in hot oven (400 degrees or 425 degrees F.) 25 to 35 minutes. Makes 16 large muffins.

Another hot bread which requires no yeast and no rising time is the recipe for Royal Hawaiian Rolls, which get their name from the fruity pineapple filling. Drizzled with just a bit of confectioners' sugar icing these rolls are equally as appropriate on the bridge lunch eon table as they are for Sunday night supper or any breakfast.

ROYAL HAWAIIAN ROLLS

2 cups sifted flour
2½ teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1-3 cup margarine
1 egg, beaten
½ cup milk

Prepare two 8 by 8-inch pans as follows: put 1 tablespoon margarine in the bottom of each pan and set in oven to melt as oven heats. As soon as margarine is melted, spread over entire bottom of pan and sprinkle with 1 tablespoon sugar. This puts an attractive glaze on bottom of rolls.

Sift together into bowl flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Cut or rub in margarine until mixture is as fine as cornmeal. Combine beaten egg and milk and add to flour mixture. Stir only until well-moistened. Turn out on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Knead lightly 30 seconds. Roll out into long narrow sheet about 8 inches wide and 18 inches long. Spread cooled pineapple filling evenly over dough.

Roll up like cinnamon rolls. Cut into 1-inch slices. Put each slice cut side down and a half inch apart into prepared pans. Bake in moderate hot oven (425 degrees F.) 18 to 20 minutes. Turn out of pan at once. If desired, drizzle thin confectioners' sugar icing over tops. Separate rolls with fork and serve hot with margarine.

PINEAPPLE FILLING

¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 cup (one 8-ounce can) crushed pineapple
1 tablespoon margarine
1 tablespoon lemon juice, if desired

Mix sugar and cornstarch in small saucepan. Stir in pineapple and juice. Cook over moderate heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add margarine and lemon juice, mixing well. Cool. This filling may be kept in refrigerator for several days, if desired.

A quick hot bread sure to please is Raisin Bran Bread. A cup of nuts adds crunch to the bread and the raisins add a touch of extra sweetness.

RAISIN BRAN BREAD

1 egg, well beaten
1½ cup milk
1-3 cup light molasses
1½ cups whole bran
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
½ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
3 tablespoons baking powder
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup coarsely chopped walnuts
1 cup seedless raisins

Combine egg, milk, molasses and bran. Sift together flour, sugar, salt, baking powder and soda; add nuts and raisins. Add to bran mixture and stir only until just blended. Turn into greased and floured 9 by 5 3-inch loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degree to 375 degree F.) about 1 hour or until done. Makes one loaf.

Another quick nut bread takes its flavor from dried apricots. The fruit flavor is extended by using the apricot liquid in the bread also. The apricot bread is particularly good served spread with cream cheese. For added attractiveness the top of the loaf may be dressed up with extra apricot halves and nuts placed just before baking. Like most quick bread, the loaf will slice easier the second day.

APRICOT NUT BREAD

½ cup sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 egg, beaten
1 cup sour milk
2 tablespoons apricot juice
1 cup whole bran
½ cup chopped nuts
1 cup chopped cooked apricots
2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon salt

Cream together sugar and butter or margarine. Combine egg, milk and apricot juice; add to creamed mixture. Add whole bran, nuts and apricots. Beat mixture well. Sift together dry ingredients, add and mix well. Put in greased 9 by 5 by 3 inch loaf pan and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. Makes one loaf.

Power Of Classified Ad Learned By Church

WAMPSVILLE, N. Y. (AP)—Elders of the Presbyterian church say they didn't insert that attendance-pulling advertisement in a newspaper last week—but they'd like to thank whoever did.

The plea, appearing in the classified section of the Oneida Daily Dispatch, said:

"Wanted, men, women and children to sit in slightly used pews, Sunday morning; Wampsville Presbyterian Church."

A spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, said attendance jumped from 12 two weeks ago to 36 last Sunday.

Screening Of UN Employes

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United Nations lined up its American employes today for fingerprinting as the first step of a screening process to weed from its staff American Communists or those deemed loyalty risks to the United States.

The fingerprinting began with a few women secretaries late yesterday, shortly after U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. arranged with U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie for the screening machinery. Today the process was to extend to the rest of the 1,681 American citizens on the U. N. payroll.

Members of the U. N. security force conducted the printing under supervision of a U. S. Civil Service Commission agent. The U. N. refused to permit news photographs of the process.

Next each American will fill out a four-page questionnaire which asks flatly, among other questions, "Are you now or have you ever been a member of the Communist party or any Communist or Fascist organization?"

Employes considered suspicious by the Civil Service Commission will be investigated by the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Because they are top-ranking U. N. employes, 345, or so Americans will get the FBI's full field investigation process from the start.

Some 1,100 Americans working for six U. N. specialized agencies here and abroad will get similar treatment.

For the whole investigation, a one million dollar budget was requested of Congress.

If adverse findings are made, the employe can appeal to a U. S. regional loyalty board here and carry it to a loyalty board in Washington on appeal, if necessary.

The findings will be given to Lie to act on.

Saigh Says Tax Evasion Term Is Too Rough, Judge Has Word

ST. LOUIS (AP) — A meteoric, sometimes turbulent rise to baseball success appeared at an end today for Fred Saigh, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, who was sentenced to 15 months imprisonment and fined $15,000 for federal income tax evasion.

Pronouncement of the sentence came in Federal Court here yesterday as Saigh pleaded no defense in a five-count indictment returned against him last spring, and threw himself on the mercy of the court.

The government at the same time agreed to withdraw three of the five counts against the shortdapper 48-year-old Saigh.

A few hours later Federal Judge Roy W. Harper sentenced him to 15 months in prison on each count, the sentence to run concurrently. He also fined him $10,000 on one count and $5,000 on the second.

Maximum penalty on each count of a maximum fine of $10,000 or both.

Saigh, who had broken into tears when informed of the indictment last spring, had to control his voice as he rose to address the court.

"This means, of course, I will have to dispose of the Cardinals," he said. "There is no way I can stay in baseball."

Saigh, himself a lawyer, commented he had seen men receive lesser sentences for income tax evasion.

"I think that you have been too tough with me," said he.

Judge Harper replied sharply:

"You plead that you are guilty to those essential elements and if you were not guilty you should have stood upon a plea of not guilty. Don't come in and plead before me and then ask me to say you are wrong."

Specifically, the counts Saigh faced charged evasion of $19,299 in taxes. One claimed evasion of $14,551 in 1947 and the other evasion of $4,748 in 1949. The original indictment charged evasion of $49-620 in taxes from 1946 through 1949.

By his own statement Saigh is through in baseball. Free on $2,000 bond, he has until May 4, when the sentence will be enacted, to clear up business matters.

The prime portion of that business concerns his ball club, a four-million-dollar-plus enterprise to which Saigh holds 90 per cent claim. He originally purchased the club from the late Sam Breadon in 1947 together with the late Bob Hannegan.

By what Saigh termed a "gimmick" in the tax law, he and Hannegan were able to buy the club and its widespread minor league holdings for a cash outlay of only $60,800. The deal also included a 2½ million dollar fund Breadon had set aside for construction of a new ball park.

A year earlier Saigh had broken into St. Louis business circles with purchase of the Railway Exchange Building in downtown St. Louis, started him on his way to becoming a multi-million-dollar real estate promoter and baseball power.

But while success came fast, sporadic outbursts of trouble flashed into Saigh's baseball venture as well. Many say it was Saigh who was instrumental in the removal of A. B. (Happy) Chandler as commissioner of baseball. Their run-ins were many, including Chandler's refusal to allow the Cardinals to play night ball games on Sundays.

Yet baseball on the whole has remained silent on Saigh's sentencing. "No comment" was the rule rather than the exception. Ford Frick, baseball commissioner, said there "are too many legal angles in this situation" to comment immediately.

Walter O'Malley, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers, said: I'm sorry as I liked the little guy."

Saigh's attorney, R. H. McRoberts, pictured him as a self-taught lawyer who had no formal education in tax law. The government contended examination of the case showed him to be well versed in tax matters.

Ted A. Bollinger, Jr., assistant U. S. district attorney, said Saigh had been unco-operative with government agents during an inquiry into his taxes. He added Saigh had mentioned the possibility of a $15,000 a year position in the Cardinal office to one investigating agent. McRoberts denied Saigh ever had done so.

Seton Hall Rolling Along

By The Associated Press

Seton Hall, the nation's only undefeated major college basketball team, warmed up for its crucial Saturday meeting with Villanova by drubbing Albright Wednesday night, 8-52.

However, the No. 1 team in the Associated Press poll, had to share the spotlight with Houston's 71-70 surprise victory over St. Louis in the Missouri Valley Conference.

It was the first home court defeat for St. Louis in 15 games.

The victory for the supposed conference door mats over the defending league champions was assured with a free throw by Jack McNutt in the last 40 seconds.

The Oklahoma Aggies took a tighter hold on first place in the Missouri Valley by whipping Wichita, 73-59.

Big Walter Dukes flipped in 20 points for Seton Hall, but the Pirates of South Orange, N. J. got a hint of trouble ahead when Villanova rallied in the second half to beat North Carolina State, 89-81. Villanova won on the accurate set shots of Larry Hennessey and Bob Schafer who got 21 and 20 points, repectively.

In other leading games Navy swamped Muhlenberg, 107-72; Army walloped St. Michaels (Vt.) 95-58; Siena took Georgetown (DC) 72-57; Wyoming beat Colorado State, 56-46; and Washington edged the Honolulu Plymouths, 66-63.

Speedy Bobby Thompson Isn't Base Stealer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—Bobby Thomson, one of the fastest men in baseball, will try for more stolen bases this season with the blessing of Manager Leo Durocher.

For years, Thomson's speed has blinded the National League. They talked of a match race with Sam Jethroe. Durocher was willing to pit Bobby against anybody in the league. Still is. But he never stole bases.

In 900 games with the New York Giants, Thomson has stolen a total of only 26 bases. Last year he pilfered only five. Even in '51 when his playoff homer won the "miracle" pennant, he stole only five. In 1950 the total was three.

"He just doesn't seem to get that extra step," said Durocher at the Giants office after Thompson signed his contract for a reported $35,000. "Sometimes he's there with plenty to spare. Other times he's thrown out when a man like Al Dark would have made it."

Thomson sat quietly listening while the manager made apologies for his failure to steal bases.

"If you want to hear my reaction," he said. "I might as well get in on the discussion, too. I just don't run enough. You only learn to steal bases by practice.

"I always thought I could be in the same class with Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson in stealing bases. But I don't run enough."

Durocher seemed interested.

"Maybe Id' better take a hint," he said. "And cut him loose more often. One reason we don't have him steal so much is this: When he's on first he's sure to score on a long single to the outfield. He's almost as well off on first."

Thomson figured he could steal bases by surprising the other clubs.

They never expect me to go," he said.

Junior High To Angelo Meet

The junior high cage squad will leave tomorrow morning for San Angelo, where they will participate in the San Angelo tourney for freshmen teams.

Coach Jimmy Williams is taking only junior high boys to the tournament, while the matches are scheduled for freshmen teams. Freshmen will remain in Snyder to participate in B squad matches with Vernon Friday night and Big Spring Saturday night.

Williams' squad will meet Midland at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning in the first round of the tourney. If his team wins, it will play the winner of the Sweetwater - Edison (San Angelo) game at 7 o'clock tomorrow night, and if it loses it will meet the loser of that game at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

The junior high squad has not been defeated in any games this season. Its victories were 41 - 31 over Fluvanna, 31 - 25 and 50 - 32 over Colorado City, 48 - 41 over Big Spring, and 47-12 over Sweetwater.

High scorers on the team are Milton Ham with 52 points, Richard Dickerson with 38, David Gist with 33, Powell Berry with 25, Floyd Blackwell with 20, and John Partain with 10.

Other teams entered in the tournament are North Abilene, Lake View, Crocket of Odessa, Coleman, South Abilene, Ballinger, Bowie of Odessa, Brownwood, Cowden of Midland, Winters, Lee of San Angelo, and Plainview.

Semi-finals will be played Saturday afternoon in both championship and consolation brackets, while the consolation finals will be held at 8:15 o'clock Saturday night and championship finals at 9:30 o'clock.

Negro Players Gain In South

ATLANTA (AP) — In professional baseball as in other things, race-conscious Dixie is beginning to lower the barriers which have kept Negroes on the outside looking in.

Clubs fielding mixed teams of Negro and white players won't be the general practice in the South this year; neither will they be glaring exceptions to the general rule.

It didn't take a law suit or a Supreme Court order to start the transition in baseball as it did in the fields of higher education and public transportation in the South. Negro players are being used or given tryouts because club owners want them.

Generally, a survey by the Associated Press showed, Negroes are being hired for one or two reasons: (1) a belief that Negro stars in the lineup will boost attendance, or (2) some particular Negro is a better ballplayer than the best available white man.

It also is a general rule that a Negro playing on a team in the South must be outstanding, not merely an ordinary performer.

Teams scattered from the Carolinas to Texas plan to use Negroes in the 1953 season, and some have been using them for several years. There are areas, however, which still are closed to mixed baseball teams.

Birmingham, Ala., for example, has a city ordinance which bans nonsegregated performances. And in other localities deep-rooted prejudices have become unwritten laws which effectively bar mixed sports events.

Such areas of discontent and legal barriers probably will keep the Class AA Southern Association an all-white circuit for the immediate future, at least.

The survey showed that Negro players will be used or given tryouts this season in the Texas League and the other six organized loops in the Lone Star State, in the South Atlantic League, the Tri-State Gulf Coast, Florida International and possibly other leagues.

In some loops, like the Class B Florida International, it's an old story; in others, like the Class A South Atlantic, it's something new.

Sale Of Cardinals Poses Big Problem To Major Loop Owners

NEW YORK (AP)—What had promised to be a quiet meeting of baseball officials this week end in New York now figures to be a turbulent affair with the possible sale of the St. Louis Cardinals high on the agenda of the National League owners.

There is nothing in the books that say Fred Saigh, convicted in St. Louis yesterday of federal tax evasion, must sell the club. But the little Cardinals' president said after being sentenced to 15 months in prison and fined $15,000:

"I will have to dispose of the Cardinals. There is no way I can stay in baseball."

Baseball officials for the most part, including Commissioner Ford Frick and League President Warren Giles, declined to comment on the conviction. A source high in the sport, however, pointed out there are two possible steps that can be taken:

1. The commissioner can invoke the rule that gives him power to bar anybody from baseball on the grounds detrimental to baseball.

2. The National League executives can use a clause in their constitution to keep a person from owning a club.

The same high baseball authority said a Houston, Tex., group had made inquiries about buying the Cardinals. The Texas group was understood to have asked whether it should try to negotiate a deal directly with Saigh or talk business with the National League.

The source also said it would be practically impossible to move the franchise in 1953, if the club was sold to an outside group.

Saigh, in St. Louis, flatly stated he had made no plans as yet to dispose of his stock. He also said there are no deals pending.

But in Houston, George W. Starke, multimillionaire oilman, said he might still be interested "if it is a good business deal."

"I was definitely interested in the purchase of the Cardinals prior to their sale by Sam Breadon to Bob Hannegan and Fred Saigh," Starke said. "I have had no reason to keep up with the financial side of the Cardinals since. Nor do I know what their present assets or liabilities are.

"I would be interested in them, too, as a civic institution because I believe baseball is of vital public interest."

The sale of the club—including its minor league holdings—probably would be a four million dollar deal. Saigh and Hannehan, former postmaster general bought the Cards in 1947 for $4, 060,800 without using a cent of their own money. In a statement last July 6, Saigh said their only cash outlay was $60,800 borrowed from a St. Louis bank.

While most of the available baseball officials were reserving comment, owner Phil Wrigley of the Chicago Cubs pointed out the late K. M. Landis "ran a lot of men out of baseball for a lot less." He also said he didn't see how Saigh could do anything else than get out of baseball as the result of the action.

City League Game Tonight

A second practice game before the beginning of the city basketball league will be played at 8 o'clock tonight between two of the league entries.

The two will be the top teams from last year's league, Chuck Wagon and Wade Pipkin Motors. Last year, Chuck Wagon took the league championship by defeating Pipkin 70-49 in the finals.

Last week, C& S Sporting Goods, another league entry, licked Chuck Wagon 58-56 in a game that was tight all the way, and league officials are predicting the same for tonight's game.

Glenn Snyder, league chairman of the Quarterback Club, said regular league play will probably not get underway until Feb. 14. The fourth team entered in the league is National Guard.

Snyder said the teams will play a double round robin then go into the championship tournament. The games before the tourney will count only as practice games.

Admission to the game will be 25 and 10 cents.

Joe Burney, manager of the Chuck Wagon five, listed eight men on his roster for tonight's play. They are Skeeter Lawrence, 6-6; Burney, 5-11; Jack Medford, 5-11; Norman Carter, 5-6; Larry Hooker, 5-8; Jack Dillon, 6-3; Bob Blake, 5-11; and Henry Pyle, 6-1.

On the roster of the Pipkin squad, Pinkie Ferguson named Ned Butler, 6-1; Eddie Hight, 6-1; Ferguson, 5-10; Bill Zimmerman, 6-1; Jim Towle, 5-11; Bill Hanks, 5-8; Paul Munden, 6-0; Glenn Cox, 5-7; Bob Boswell, 5-11; and Bill Ballentine, 5-10;.

Stupid Scheme To Pick New Crown Holder

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The chances are good that there will not be another undisputed world middleweight champion for years. It might even be that Sugar Ray Robinson, who retired recently to become a song and dance man, will go down in the record books as the last of the 160-pound kings.

You think this unlikely? Then you haven't studied with any care the joint hare-brained plan of the National Boxing Association and the New York State Athletic Commission to find a successor to the Sugar Boy. It required a lot of joint thought, or what passes for same in boxing circles, to come up with a scheme so completely unrealistic, unsound and, shall we say, plumb silly.

All the boys have done as their first major contribution toward chaos is to name 11 of our middle weights—good, bad and indifferent—as "contenders" for the vacated title, and then invite them to begin fighting one another. At least half the group—that's 5½ of them—cannot by any stretch of the imagination qualify as real top flighters.

No effort has been made to match them. No distinction has been made between Bobo Olson, who is by any reasoning this country's leading aspirant for the crown, as millions of televiewers will attest, and the No. 11 entry on the list, who probably is laid up with bursitis.

No recognition is given the fact that Randy Turpin of England, who defeated Robinson once and came very near doing it the second time, has a more valid claim to recognition than any of this country's fighters. The new joint board, in fact, went out of its way to proclaim that it wouldn't look with great favor upon a meeting between Turpin and Olson.

Increase In Murders Causes Marylanders To Seek Action

BALTIMORE (AP) — A wave of murders and robberies in the country's sixth largest city has touched off an angry reaction that spread today from the homes of wrathful citizens to the Executive Mansion and through the halls of the State Legislature.

The granddaughter of an early Maryland governor and her 65-year-old companion died under pitiless bludgeoning of an axe burglar.

A gentle, widely admired librarian was senselessly slashed to death in a 75-cent robbery.

These recent crimes and dozens of other burglaries, robberies and knife assaults have alarmed the city's law officers and citizens.

"Send half of the criminals to the pen for 20 years and hang the other half," wrote one indignant Marylander to a member of the state lawmaking body.

Baltimore women going out these evenings to solicit contributions for the Mothers March on Polio are accompanied by police officers, firemen and volunteers from the civil defense minute men.

Yesterday, five civic leaders of Baltimore called upon Gov. Theodore McKeldin to demand an anti-crime program. Even before their visit, the governor had promised "the full facilities of the state" in a drive on crime.

His visitors complained that magistratest sometimes fail to provide sufficiently severe sentences and of a need for more police.

A special Maryland Senate Committee has scheduled a meeting for next Friday in an attempt to find a solution to the burgeoning crime problem.

Attending will be ranking police officials, state's attorneys and judges from Baltimore city and from Anne Arundel and Baltimore Counties.

Meanwhile, state lawmakers at Annapolis report an unprecedented volume in mail, telegrams and telephone calls demanding more severe criminal laws.

Two bills were proposed on the floor of the General Assembly yesterday. One would make the carrying of a penknife with a blade as long as three inches as much of a crime as the packing of a loaded gun. The other would require police licensing of the purchase of pistols and revolvers.

Another bill slated to be introduced today would make a sentence of at least one year mandatory in unprovoked knife assaults.

Only four U. S. Presidents before Eisenhower have been able to drive their own cars—Harding, Collidge, Roosevelt and Truman.

St. Lawrence Seaway Scale Is Being Built To Help Engineers

TORONTO (AP)—Experiments with scale models starting at the University of Toronto will play an important part in the construction of the St. Lawrence seaway.

The experiments are under supervision of Prof. G. Rose Lord of the mechanical engineering department. In the big laboratory of the university's modernistic Engineering Building, miniature scale models of the St. Lawrence River and the proposed seaway will be built of wood, plastic and tin.

The models actually are from 10 to 50 feet in length. By building them true to the originals, engineers can determine how their theories and plans will work in actuality: Stress and strain, water currents and pressures can be tested accurately before the actual job is started.

Prof. Lord, a professional engineer, says scale models are not new. The first miniatures of modern types were made in Europe around 1900, but were not introduced to Canada until the 1930s. Large-scale experiments have been carried out at the University of Toronto. Similar but smaller projects are undertaken at the National Research Council's laboratory in Ottawa and the Ecole Polytechnique in Montreal.

Miniatures of several giant projects already are spread around the huge laboratory. Two of them are replicas of two sections of a new water tunnel being built under the city of Niagara Falls, Ont. The Ontario Hydro Commission knows before the tunnel is finished how successful their project will be in supplying more electricity.

Another river model is set up to duplicate a section of the Manicquacan River in Quebec. There a large pulp and paper company wants to know what type of log boom it can build. At present several problems now are under study in the miniature in Toronto.

The boom is made of narrow blocks of wood. The "logs" are tiny colored birthday candles bobbing on the "river" about four feet wide and 10 feet long. Tiny scales attached to the boom measure the strain when a current is started and the candles surge against it.

Race Tracks Help Support Florida School

GAINESVILLE, Fla., Jan. 29 (AP)—Florida folks are tired of hearing that race-track money is buying them a winning football team.

Sure, some money from dog and horse racing goes into athletic scholarships. But it is just as legal, they will tell you, to operate dog and horse racing in Florida as making soft drinks in Georgia, automobiles in Michigan, or shoes in New England.

If money from those industries goes to support university athletic programs, why all the fuss about Florida doing the same with money from a by-product of its big industry—tourism?

The race tracks are permitted—not forced—to hold an extra day of racing to provide scholarships to the three state colleges. There is nothing in the state law which says the money should go to athletes, but it is taken for granted the legislators' purpose was to improve Florida football fortunes.

The fund supplied $133,922.73 to the University of Florida this year. The State Board of Control—a group of citizens appointed by the governor to administer state colleges—gave lesser amounts to Florida State University and Florida A&M College for Negroes.

At Florida it provided full or partial scholarships to 122 athletes and 80 non-athletes.

Percy Beard, athletic general manager, said the race track funds were supplemented by money from the University Athletic Assn. to cover the athletic program.

A full scholarship at Florida costs $1,440 a year. That includes room, board, fees, books and $15 a month for laundry and dry cleaning—maximum aid permitted athletes in the Southeastern Conference.

The SEC also says member schools may have no more than 140 athletic scholarships.

Chicago uses 2,000 tons of coal a day just for the generation of electricity.

Demos Get Kick Out Of GOP Fight Over Reductions In Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some Democrats were laughing up their sleeves today at an open squabble among Republicans over a bill to cut individual income tax rates 11 per cent starting June 30.

One GOP camp was led by Rep. Reed (R-NY), oldest Republican in continuous service in the House and chairman of the ways and means committee, the committee that must start all tax bills through Congress.

Reed emerged from a closed committee session yesterday with a flat statement that the group bill at a meeting planned for Feb. 16. Further, he told reporters, the House would pass it right away—any delay would be "over my dead body."

House Speaker Joseph Martin (R-Mass) then took a different view. The speaker told a reporter "we've got to do some budget cutting" before the House should consider tax reductions. He said it would take several months to see how the budget shapes up.

Rep. Halleck of Indiana, GOP floor leader, has expressed a similar stand.

The difference between the committee chairman and the House speaker left Republican committee members scrambling for cover.

Several members, declining to be quoted by name, backed Martin. As one veteran Republican put it, he not only favors waiting to see what happens to the budget, but the committee should "at leat show the Eisenhower administration the courtesy of hearing its views."

Some other Republicans lined up with Reed. For example, Rep. Martin (R-Ia) noted that the bill sponsored by Reed would merely advance by six months the date already set by present laws for an 11 per cent rate reduction. The effect thus would be to cut income tax liability this year by 5½ per cent.

One veteran Republican, asking not to be named, said he personally might have preferred to wait, but he would go along with Reed. "Popular support for this bill may be so strong the House leaders will have to get out of its way and let it pass or take the consequences," he added.

Several committee Democrats said the Republican split may be even more embarrassing to the GOP if President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message to Congress next Monday, stresses budget balancing ahead of tax cuts.

They predicted Reed probably would pick up support from Democrats who favor a tax cut for individuals on June 3, the same date the excess profits tax on business is scheduled to die under present laws.

They added that the Republican split over the bill wouldn't lessen their desire to send it to the House floor. Some Democrats figure the Republicans may be caught in a crossfire between their pledges to cut taxes and balance the budget at the same time.

Former President Truman forecast a 10 billion dollar deficit for the fiscal year starting July 1, under present laws.

Republicans who want to delay action on the Reed bill could try to hold it up in the ways and means committee. Failing that, they could try to keep it off the House floor after the committee approves it.
