Ken Burnam, director of last year's Motorcycle Rodeo, has announced that this year's Rodeo for motorcycles will be held July 9.

Western Riding Club has agreed to let the Motorcycle Rodeo use their arena west of the city.

Mitchell County Boys' Club will sponsor the event this year also, as last year's was so successful and raised a lot of money for Club activities, said Burnam.

Tentative events will be Boot Scramble, Barrel Racing, Pole Bending, Wheelie Contest and Jumping Contest. Burnam said that other events will probably be added, such as last year's popular Hot Dog Contest, in which riders tried to take bites off weiners spread with mustard and tied to a string.

Swine Producers Meeting

Mitchell County Swine Producers are invited to attend a swine education meeting to be held at the Snyder Savings and Loan Community Room at 8 p.m., today, in Snyder according to county extension agent Bob Benson.

Representatives from the Athens Feeder Pig Sale Association and John Morrell and Company of Memphis, Tennessee will be on hand to explain the grade and yield slaughter hog program that they are conducting. day, July 8, following a public hearing on the budget.

The actual operating budget for the coming year is $67,675, 25 less than for the past school year, due to a cut in the number of teachers and general decreases in planned expenses in several departments.

Baseball News
By Joe Pharris

The end of another Little League baseball season is here. All that remains is the Farm League All Star game, practice games between the "A" All Stars in the Little League and the "B" All Stars. It seems to have been a rather short season but I suppose that is because the season began so much earlier this year than in the years past.

In Thursday action in Little League the Dodgers defeated the Rangers to take over sole position of first place. In that game Jimmy Shoemaker hit two

Farmers Advised Not To Destroy Crop Residue

"Don't plow it under."

These emphatic words of ASCS director Don Stewart are directed at farmers whose farm program crops have been destroyed or damaged by recent dry conditions or hail.

Producers who believe they may be entitled to disaster payments under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 should notify the Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office as soon as possible.

What they should not do, Stewart said, is plow under or otherwise destroy evidence of the crop damage until inspection can be made for appraisal of the acreage.

Stewart emphasized the point that if an appraisal is not made and the crop is plowed up, then the farmer cannot receive any program payments.

"If a farmer believes that natural disaster has caused a substantial loss in yield of his program crops, he should notify the ASCS office as soon as he can. He should not destroy the crop residue," Stewart said.

He added, "If a farmer's loss is partial and he harvests some or all of the crop, he should be ready to furnish evidence of the yield, such as warehouse receipts and ginning records."

Stewart pointed out that disaster payments are intended only to provide some relief to farmers whose cropland is so affected by natural disaster that they receive little or no income from production of the crop. The payments are not intended to compensate fully for the loss.

Also, coverage extends only to planted acreage up to the historical allotment on each farm, not to acreage planted in excess of allotment.

Dates farmers should keep in mind are:

--July 5, deadline for reporting feed grain acreage that was prevented from planting by June 20.

--July 15, deadline for certification of crops. Farmers who do not certify by this date, will receive no program benefits.

Stewart said that only about 15 per cent of the county's producers have certified their crops, and asks that they try to come in to the office before the last few days to prevent a traffic jam.

Tyler Trial Begins

Willie Landau, Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire, city policeman Roy Calhoun and former policeman Peat Upshaw are in Tyler to testify in the trial of three men who were arrested here last September 8.

Three men entered Landau's clothing store on 2nd Street that Saturday afternoon, chose about $250 worth of clothing and tried to charge the purchase to a credit card. Landau became suspicious when he asked for driver's license identification and they could not supply it.

Landau notified police and police kept the men under surveillance while Landau delayed them, explaining that alterations would take some time.

The three men apparently became suspicious of being delayed and began to leave town when city policemen Calhoun and Upshaw stopped them for a routine driver's license check. Under the seat of the car were 22 caliber pistols but the three made no attempt to resist arrest.

When they were taken to jail, information came through on the telephone that they were wanted in Tyler for kidnapping, robbery and assault to murder.

They were identified as Larry Fate Fortune, 20, Peter Gaston Kaiser, 19 and Wayne William Barfield, 21, all of Columbus, Georgia.

FBI agents questioned them while they were in jail here and Texas Rangers flew them to Tyler the Monday following their arrest to stand trial there for the abduction of a Columbus, Ga., man to Tyler, where he was shot seven times and dumped. The three also allegedly took his car, money and credit cards. Credit cards of the man left for dead near Tyler, James Hoover, were recovered on the three men arrested here. Hoover recovered in a Tyler hospital.

Freudenrich Dies In Dallas

Izzy Freudenrich, 53, of Dallas, owner of Colorado City Manufacturing Co., died early Wednesday in his Dallas home of an apparent heart attack.

Freudenrich was president of Jeanne Manufacturing since 1970 and had been in the dress manufacturing business in Dallas for some 20 years. In addition to plants he had in Dallas, he also headed seven other Texas plants.

Freudenrich located a plant in Colorado City in 1969, the first such industry lured here after local civic leaders launched a drive to locate industry in Colorado City.

The local plant has undergone three major expansions since it was first started.

Freudenrich was a member of Sherith Israel Congregation and the Jewish Welfare Federation.

He is survived by his wife, Irma, and two daughters, Anita and Tonika, both of Dallas.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. today (Thursday) in Sparkman-Hillcrest Funeral Home in Dallas.

"Mishaps" Win Game

Mavis Marsh won the trophy presented to Little League mothers for hitting the first home-run in the mother's game to raise funds for Little League Monday in the ballpark.

Mrs. Marsh hit a fly ball to left field which rolled to rest next to the fence and made the homerun. She played on the "Mishaps" team, who won the game, 16 to 13 over the defending "Chatty Chicks."

Pitching for the winners was Carol Dukau. Losing pitcher was Maynette Davis.

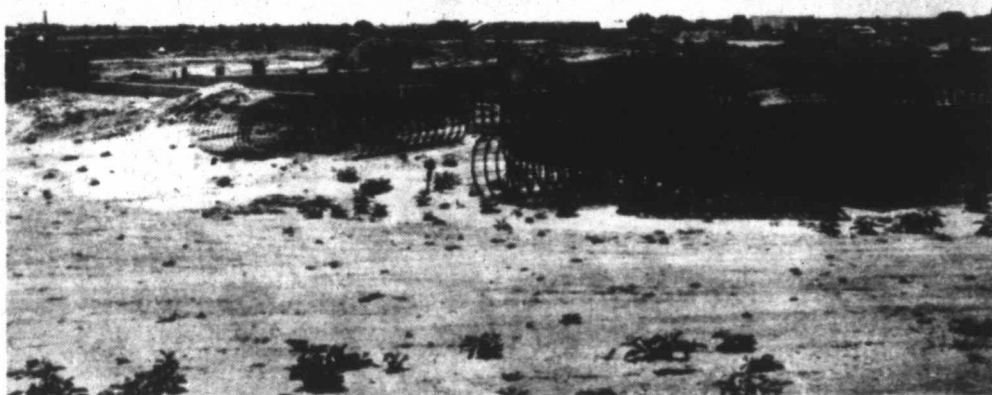

Rick Robinson coached the winning team while mentor of the losing team was Mac McKinnon. Sports announcer was Keith Neff and Cake Auctioneer was Travis Turner. Mothers raised about $80 for the Little League with their cake auction preceding the baseball game.

Dockrey also said that aerobatic pilots Rob Satterfield of Midland in his Beecher Jungmeister and Doug Warren of Big Spring, flying a clipped wing Taylorcraft, are among the tops in crowd-pleasing stunts.

Wreck Kills One

A flaming one-car accident near Colorado City Monday afternoon took the life of Marion Carlton Brewer, 64, of El Paso. Brewer apparently lost control of the automobile, crashing over the guardrail of the Dorn overpass on Interstate 20 at the intersection of I-20 and Hwy. 1229, shortly after 5 p.m. Danny Bell, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Bell of Colorado City, who was on his way home from work with an oil well drilling crew near Westbrook, called police and ambulance to the scene of the accident.

Highway patrolman Tommy Parker said that when he arrived, he and several truck drivers who had stopped, tried to extinguish flames but were forced back by the heat and fire and the gas tank of the automobile exploded as they tried to put out the fire.

Colorado City Volunteer Fire Department extinguished the fire.

Identification was made through the car's license plate and members of Brewer's family were notified.

Brewer, a retired Southwestern Bell Telephone Company employee, was enroute from El Paso to Dallas, where he had formerly lived and where his wife was visiting. He is survived by his wife and two sons, Jim and Dan.

Little League Work Day

A work day has been set for Little League Park, starting at 8:30 a.m. Saturday.

Members of the All-Stars will be on hand and anyone else who will come, said Rick Robinson, to help get the field in shape for the All-Star game with Snyder, July 15.

VFW Sets Barbeque

Local VFW post, Wilson Wyatt Post #9178, is celebrating the 27th anniversary of establishment of the post with a barbeque supper at 6 p.m. Saturday at the VFW Post Home.

Chartered members and their wives get free plates, others are $1.50 each. Everyone is invited to attend and help the veterans celebrate the post's beginning.

World-wide, the veterans are celebrating their 75th anniversary.

Snakebite Treatment Changes

Alvin Geiger, who lives just north of Westbrook city limits, was bitten first in the above schedule pay at 7:20 p.m.; teams listed second play at 9:10.

Geiger said that he saw two snakes, threw rocks at the smaller one and thought he had killed it. As he went past it, trying to get to the larger one, the smaller one hooked him in the ankle with only one fang.

Geiger said that he went on into the house and slit the fang mark with a razor blade, drawing as much poison from the wound as possible and applied a tourniquet just below the knee, making sure that circulation was not impaired.

He explained that he had learned this method at Howard College in Big Spring a number of years ago.

He called Mitchell County Ambulance Service and was taken to Root Hospital. At the hospital, members of the staff told him about the latest method of treating snakebite.

Newer methods say to surround the bite area with ice and to stay as still as possible, in order to slow down circulation.

At any rate, Geiger is doing very well and is expecting to get out of the hospital in a few days.

In the second game the Astros could never get untracked and were downed by the Tigers who by the way played an excellent game defensively. The hitting could have been better.

On Friday the Pirates defeated the Dodgers 13 to 9. This gave the Pirates two wins in the second round. Otis Ruffin blasted a grand slam to aid his team's efforts. For the Giants Jeff Hammond, Bubba Proctor and Gary Rowe each scored twice.

In the second game the Yankees really wiped out the Indians to jump into tie for second place with the Rangers. The Indians were 10 to 0.

"Mishaps" Win Game

Mavis Marsh won the trophy presented to Little League mothers for hitting the first homerun in the mother's game to raise funds for Little League Monday in the ballpark.

Mrs. Marsh hit a fly ball to left field which rolled to rest next to the fence and made the homerun. She played on the "Mishaps" team, who won the game, 16 to 13 over the defending "Chatty Chicks."

Pitching for the winners was Carol Dakan. Losing pitcher was Maynette Davis.

Rick Robinson coached the winning team while mentor of the losing team was Mac McKinnon. Sports announcer was Keith Neff and Cake Auctioneer was Travis Turner. Mothers raised about $80 for the Little League with their cake auction preceding the baseball game.

Newer methods say to surround the bite area with ice and to stay as still as possible, in order to slow down circulation.

At any rate, Geiger is doing very well and is expecting to get out of the hospital in a few days.

Farmers Advised Not To Destroy Crop Residue

"Don't plow it under."

These emphatic words of ASCS director Don Stewart are directed at farmers whose farm program crops have been destroyed or damaged by recent dry conditions or hail.

Producers who believe they may be entitled to disaster payments under the Agriculture and Consumer Protection Act of 1973 should notify the Mitchell County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service office as soon as possible.

What they should not do, Stewart said, is plow under or otherwise destroy evidence of the crop damage until inspection can be made for appraisal of the acreage.

Stewart emphasized the point that if an appraisal is not made and the crop is plowed under, then the farmer cannot receive any program payments.

"If a farmer believes that a natural disaster has caused a substantial loss in yield of his program crops, he should notify the ASCS office as soon as he can. He should not destroy the crop residue," Stewart said.

He added, "If a farmer's loss is partial and he harvests some or all of the crop, he should be ready to furnish evidence of the yield, such as warehouse receipts and ginning records."

Stewart pointed out that disaster payments are intended only to provide some relief to farmers whose cropland is so affected by natural disaster that they receive little or no income from production of the crop. The payments are not intended to compensate fully for the loss.

Also, coverage extends only to planted acreage up to the historical allotment on each farm, not to acreage planted in excess of allotment.

Dates farmers should keep in mind are:

--July 5, deadline for reporting feed grain acreage that was prevented from planting by June 20.

--July 15, deadline for certification of crops. Farmers who do not certify by this date, will receive no program benefits.

Stewart said that only about 15 per cent of the county's producers have certified their crops, and asks that they try to come in to the office before the last few days to prevent a traffic jam.

Tyler Trial Begins

Willie Landau, Mitchell County Sheriff Bill McGuire, city policeman Roy Calhoun and former policeman Peat Upshaw are in Tyler to testify in the trial of three men who were arrested there last September 8.

Three men entered Landau's clothing store on 2nd Street that Saturday afternoon, chose about $250 worth of clothing and tried to charge the purchase to a credit card. Landau became suspicious when he asked for driver's license identification and they could not supply it.

Landau notified police and police kept the men under surveillance while Landau delayed them, explaining that alterations would take some time.

The three men apparently became suspicious of being delayed and began to leave town when city policemen Calhoun and Upshaw stopped them for a routine driver's license check. Under the seat of the car were 22 caliber pistols but the three made no attempt to resist arrest.

When they were taken to jail, information came through on the telephone that they were wanted in Tyler for kidnapping, robbery and assault to murder.

They were identified as Larry Fate Fortune, 20, Peter Gaston Kaiser, 19 and Wayne William Barfield, 21, all of Columbus, Georgia.

FBI agents questioned them while they were in jail here and Texas Rangers flew them to Tyler the Monday following their arrest to stand trial there for the abduction of a Columbus, Ga., man to Tyler, where he was shot seven times and dumped. The three also allegedly took his car, money and credit cards. Credit cards of the man left for dead near Tyler, James Hoover, were recovered on the three men arrested here. Hoover recovered in a Tyler hospital.

Lorraine Couples Have Luau

Strains of Blue Hawaii filled the air in Lorraine, Wednesday, as several couples met for a Hawaiian Luau.

The dinner was served in a progressive style with the first course being at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linton Ray Webb. As each guest arrived they were greeted in the traditional Hawaiian manner and given rainbow hued leis by Mr. and Mrs. Webb.

The hors d'oeuvre table was covered in a gold linen cloth, from which a parsleyed cheese balls and salami and cream cheese rollups were served with assorted crackers. The centerpiece of the table was a silver ball loaded with Hawaiian fruits, cheeses and other delicacies.

From the Webb's home, the group journeyed to the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Martin, where Mrs. Ed Newton and Mrs. Martin were hostesses. The table, decorated in green ti leaves, gladioli and white carnations and white gladioli accented by a single hot pink candle to set the mood for the main course. Sweet and sour chicken, herb rice, polynesian squash and Hawaiian breadsticks were served in dishes brass and monkey pod wood from the South Seas.

The guests ate in traditional Hawaiian fashion, sitting cross-legged on the floor, while Hawaiian music was played throughout the evening.

Following the main course, a showing of a short on the filming of the movie "Hawaii" was enjoyed by the group at the Dona-Lin Drive-In.

Dessert was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Llam. The table was laid in a green linen cloth and featured a dessert fitting to climax a lovely evening. Fresh pineapple boats were filled with orange and lime sherbert and fresh pineapple chunks. Frosted rosette cookies were served from a crystal platter to the party goers.

"I have promises to keep."

Power lines of the rural electric cooperative are often lonely ones because, in Texas, they serve an average of only three meters per mile of line. Now, inflation, fuel shortages and rising costs make higher electric rates inevitable.

But the countless uses for electricity in remote rural areas is built on the promise of dependable power at its lowest possible price. Keeping that promise is a tradition with the member-owned Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative.

dians are in third place. The Indians played probably their worst game of the season as they could never get untracked. The Yankees on the other hand came out determined and played consistently throughout the game. Chuck Claxton pitched a good strong game for the Yankees. He was aided by Ken Baker's two homers and Steve Schawwecker's one.

The All Stars for the 1974 season have already been announced but I would like to take some space to talk about the coaches and the boys who make up that All-Star team. This year's team will be coached by Jimmy Shoemaker and J. L. Moore. Both of these men are the epitome of what in my opinion Little League coaches should be. First and foremost they are interested in the boys! It is the boys that come first as well they should.

Jimmy of course was the coach of the first place Dodgers. J. L. Moore is probably winding up his last year in the Little League and he will be sorely missed. J. L. is a likable and friendly person. His expertise with the boys is appreciated by parents (and umpires) and fans. The All Stars of 1974 are in good and competent hands.

Now for the Boys themselves. Steve Moore-a twelve year old who played for the Rangers this year. Steve is very knowledgeable of the game, an excellent base runner, and he also has an excellent batting average. He played pitcher, shortstop for the Rangers.

Bob McDonald-a twelve year old catcher for the Indians. Bob is easy going and a very good defensive catcher. Also he displays excellent sportsmanship. Jimmy Shoemaker-twelve year old catcher and pitcher for the Dodgers. Jimmy is the strongest player in the entire league. He came on slow this year, but when he came on it was with a bang. Jimmy is also an excellent base runner.

Tony Turner-a twelve year old utility player for the Yankees. Tony can play practically any position and play it well. He has played third base, pitcher, catcher and fielder for his team. A good cool player which is essential in district play.

Steve Norris-twelve year old first baseman for the Dodgers. Steve's strong point is his bat. He is an excellent hitter.

Charles Edwards-an eleven year old catcher for the Rangers. Charles has improved tremendously this year, and I don't mean just his playing ability. Charles' strong point is his base running and his bat.

Jim Bobo-twelve year old pitcher-first baseman for the Tigers. Jimmy really came on strong at the beginning of the season, especially with his bat. His bat will be important to the team.

Mark Carter-eleven year old third baseman, pitcher, shortstop for the Dodgers. Mark is an all around utility player. He can be put at any position that he is needed and he will give his best which is plenty.

Abel Alvarez-twelve year old pitcher, short stop for the Rangers. For a time during the middle of the season Abel was the hottest hitter in the League. His pitching will be important to the team.

Mike Williams-twelve year old third baseman for the Rangers. Mike is a real good guy with an excellent arm for the throw from third to first. Also he wields a very effective bat.

Jesse Silva-twelve year old pitcher and first baseman for the Astros. Jesse swings an effective bat and is a very good side arm right hander on the mound. His pitching will be important to the team.

Gene Carter-twelve year old pitcher-shortstop for the Dodgers. Gene could probably play any position on the field and play it as well as any one. An excellent glove man, he is more than adequate with his bat. His knowledge of the game is outstanding.

That is the 1974 Little League All-Star team. Congratulations, fellows, and lots of luck in the coming playoff games with Snyder on July 15.

The Farm League games came to an end on Saturday, with the announcing of that League's All Stars. In the first game, the Colts stayed in first place by defeating the Lions 24 to 9. In the second game the Blue Sox remained in second place by defeating the Steers 9 to 8. And in the third game the Cubs won out over the Mets 16 to 11.

The final League standings are--the Colts in first place, the Blue Sox are in second, there was a tie for third between the Cubs and Steers, in fifth place were the Mets and in last were the Lions.

The Gold All Star team will be made up of the Colts, Steers, and the Mets. The White All Star team will be composed of the Blue Sox, Cubs, and the Lions. The Gold Team will be coached by Bobby Nobles and Frank Marsh. Their team will be as follows. From the Colts: Dennis Rivera, Tom Rees, Jeff Shamburger, Tony Nobles and Ronnie Padillo. From the Steers: Yardy Powell, Jardy Powell, Reed Griffith, Chris Norris and Mike Griffith. From the Mets: Jesse Hodge, Sonny Reyna, Marvin Jackson, John Ballard and James Myers.

The White All Stars will be coached by Jesse Bodine and Cecil Crow. That team will be composed as follows: From the Blue Sox: Jesse Bodine, Cary Bradbury, Henry Garcia, David Salazar and Bodie Lindsey. From the Cubs: Mark Lewis, Paul Wood, Chris McKenney, Dwayne Jackson and Keith Rudnick. From the Lions: Fred Dakan, Tip Chaney, Bennie Arcoha, John Johnson and Alfred Diaz.

Again my congratulations go out to all these boys and I wish them success in the All Star game that will be played in two weeks. The exact day and time will be announced at a later date.

Change filters regularly. It takes very little energy on your part.

Replacing disposable filters or cleaning permanent type filters as required, is one of the easiest ways to help your cooling system do its job more efficiently and economically.

Clogged filters restrict the air flow your air conditioning unit needs, making the unit work harder and longer — which uses more electricity.

Here are some additional ways to help your air conditioning keep its cool:

Don't put lamps or other heat-producing appliances in the immediate vicinity of the thermostat.

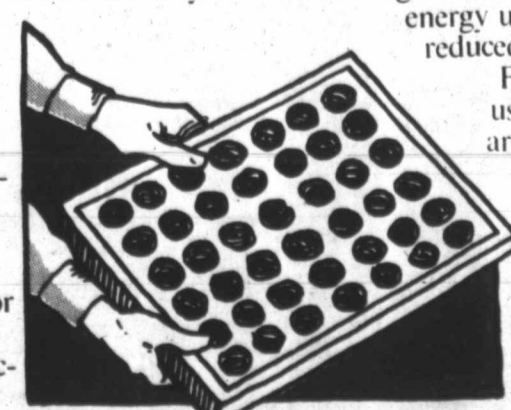

Keep the outdoor unit free of shrubbery or other obstructions that might prevent proper air circulation.

Insulation can pay for itself by lowering your cooling (and heating) costs. You can save as much as 20% or more on energy consumption if your home is insulated to meet FHA standards.

For comfort and economy, set the thermostat at 78-80 degrees. For each degree above 75 degrees, the energy used for cooling is reduced by 5%.

For more ideas on using energy wisely around your home, come by Texas Electric or request our free efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill.

Change filters regularly. It takes very little energy on your part.

Replacing disposable filters or cleaning permanent type filters as required, is one of the easiest ways to help your cooling system do its job more efficiently and economically.

Clogged filters restrict the air flow your air conditioning unit needs, making the unit work harder and longer — which uses more electricity.

Here are some additional ways to help your air conditioning keep its cool:

Don't put lamps or other heat-producing appliances in the immediate vicinity of the thermostat.

Keep the outdoor unit free of shrubbery or other obstructions that might prevent proper air circulation.

Insulation can pay for itself by lowering your cooling (and heating) costs. You can save as much as 20% or more on energy consumption if your home is insulated to meet FHA standards.

For comfort and economy, set the thermostat at 78-80 degrees. For each degree above 75 degrees, the energy used for cooling is reduced by 5%.

For more ideas on using energy wisely around your home, come by Texas Electric or request our free efficiency tips booklet on the comment portion of your electric service bill.

Entrance Marker

Sad Story Told By Historical Marker

Colorado City's Ruddick Park contains two historical markers: a stone marker erected by the state of Texas, 1936, and a metal marker at the park entrance erected by the Texas State Historical Survey Commission in 1970.

The stone marker, a type of grey granite, tells a sad story of times long gone. The inscription reads:

--In this vicinity
--On a bank of the Colorado
--October 24, 1840
--A Comanche Indian Village
--Was completely destroyed and much

--Stolen property recovered
--Including 500 horses
--128 Indians were killed
--34 were captured
--The expedition commanded by Colonel John Henry Moore
--Consisted of 90 citizen volunteers.

--Mostly residents of Fayette County
--Seventeen friendly Lipan
Indians
--Under Chiefs Castro and Flaco
--Served as guides
--No Texans were killed
--And but two wounded
Erected by the State of Texas 1936

The marker is located between the park entrance and the swimming pool.

A more recent marker at the entrance explains how the park itself came into being, giving the more recent story of the land. Its inscription reads:

--Ruddick Park
Given to city 1929 in memory of pioneer William Penn Ruddick, farmer and dairyman, and Mrs. Ruddick.

History was made here even before Ruddick arrived, however. In 1840 Colonel John Heary Moore and 90 Indian fighters wiped out a Comanche village on the Colorado nearby. The creek that runs through the park was named for Chief Lone Wolf of the Kiowa Indians, who camped along the creek banks. In 1888 Company B of the Frontier

Battalion, under Captain Sam McMurry, was ordered here to combat Indian attacks.

With the coming of the Texas and Pacific Railroad in 1881, immigrants began to flood the area. W. P. Ruddick (1851-1914) and his wife Sarah (Hutchens) moved from Oregon and set up housekeeping in a half-dugout until lumber could be shipped from Fort Worth.

Ruddick, a Quaker, was one of the first in Mitchell County to raise cotton. He also planted an orchard and operated a dairy, for which he transported the first registered Jersey and Hereford cattle into the county. He ranch and drilled water wells for his neighbors as well as himself.

Soon after the donation of the original 20-acre park by Ruddick heirs, an amphitheatre and stage were built here. The park now contains 138 acres.

WTC To Open Office Here

Supt. Lloyd McKee reports that response to the community survey, conducted by Western Texas College of Snyder to determine interest in courses offered by extension here in Colorado City, has been great.

McKee said that according to the survey, city and county residents are interested in taking a minimum of 24 classes for college credit, starting this fall.

"An office will be set up during the month of August in Kelley Elementary, staffed by representatives of WTC, to answer questions anyone might have about the extension courses," said McKee.

The telephone number to call,
after August 1, is 728-3330, McKee added.

He also suggested phoning the college directly, 573-6927, if more immediate information is needed.

Courses will be taught by accredited personnel of the college and tuition is the standard state junior college rate of $4 per semester hour, with a minimum charge of $25 plus lab costs and fees. Two 3-hour courses would cost $42.

The plan for beginning extension courses here was approved by the Region VII council which governs the junior college, the local school board and the college's co-ordinating board.

According to Dr. Robert Clinton, president of Western Texas College, 92 students from Colorado City attended classes on the campus during Fall, 1973 by commuting, and 65 were registered from the city for Spring, 1974.
