YOUR CHAMBER SPEAKS THROUGH THE PRESIDENT

"Little progress can be made by merely attempting to express what is wrong; our goal is to develop what is right," seems to be the motto of all the communities of the Chamber of Commerce this year.

The planning and work done already by the various committees to help make Burk Burnett a better community is very inspiring.

Throughout the entire Chamber of Commerce membership there is a willingness to work together to build a bigger Burk Burnett by making it better, with this attitude how can we fail?

April Proclaimed Cancer Control Month, Connally

Governor Connally today proclaimed April as Cancer Control Month in Texas, saying "In a state as young and strong as our own, it is no false dream to expect a lifetime free from fear for each of our citizens."

Explaining the size of the cancer problem in Texas, Governor Connally stated that cancer not only eventually strikes one in every four persons, but each year kills more school-age children than does any other disease.

The American Cancer Society spends 33% of its funds raised on research; $761,257 went to Texas medical schools and hospitals in 1965 alone.

Burk Band Parents Club Met Monday March 21st

The Burk Burnett Band Parents Club met Monday, March 20th in the Junior High Band Hall, Mrs. E. W. Hobbs, vice-president, presided.

The club decided to buy a typewriter to be kept in the Junior High Band Hall. Mr. McClean was authorized to purchase it.

Officers for the coming year are as follows: Reavis Wooten, president; Mrs. Arnold Muller, vice-president; Mrs. R. M. Sims; Mrs. Reavis Wooten, treasurer.

The movie of the U.I.L. High School Marching Contest was shown, money making projects for the year have been the Community Birthday Calendars, the concession stand at the Lawton-Burk football game and the sale of household cleaners.

All proceeds from these projects go toward band equipment and expenses. There is a fee paid for each contest the band enters. Both Junior High and High School have participated in the U.I.L. Marching Contests winning a one and a two rating this year.

The Junior High band will journey to Castlebury this Saturday for a concert and sight reading contest. Also very soon they will enter another in Denton and the high school band will participate in a contest in Vernon.

Both band directors have just attended a music convention. Used instruments needed for practice are purchased each year. Also this year a repair fund has been set up for minor repairs — thus enabling the students to have their instruments each day instead of having to wait for them to be repaired in Wichita Falls each time.

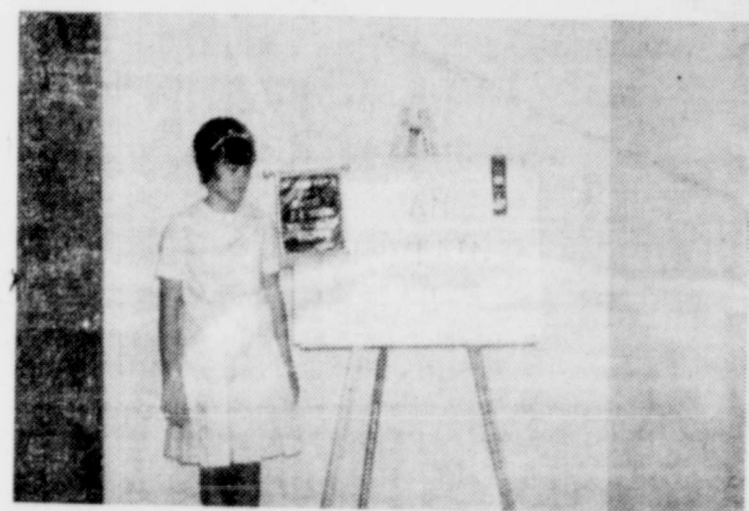

The band parents pay for the alterations and repair on the uniforms. They send the drum major to band camp at Canyon each summer and pay the tuition for four students to go to band camp at Midwestern.

Christmas parties were given to all band students from 7th grade through the 8th. A hayride and weiner roast was given for the Junior High Band. A sweetheart banquet honored the High School Band.

Parents, I'm sure you are wondering what you can do to help your child and to promote the band. If you have a child taking band — this is the 5th grade through the 12th — you are automatically a member of the Band Parents. So come out to the meetings the fourth Monday of each month. We meet at 7:30 in the Junior High Band Hall. Come and help us with these projects and support the band directors and your child.

Notice

Southside Elementary PTA will hold a special meeting Monday, April 11, to discuss dues increases and baton twirling. All members are urged to be present, particularly the Room Chairman.

Library Meeting Representatives Explain Views

Different views of the Governor's Conference on Libraries but the same enthusiasm were brought back from Austin by Burk Burnett's three representatives at the Conference, Claude Adams, Mrs. Harold VanLoh, and Mrs. Philip Carpenter.

Mr. Adams, chairman of the Burk Burnett Library Board, found the Governor's keynote address the most interesting.

"The Governor stressed that the student needs a good library to expand his education, that the adult needs the library for self-education or for help in civic activities," Mr. Adams said.

"Governor Connally pointed out that citizens are seeking a different kind of knowledge from their libraries. There is less demand for the light and the mediocre. The collection of books cast off by citizens in a book drive will not satisfy the demands of men and women and children who want to try to understand the new age in which they are living," he continued.

Mrs. Van Loh, member of the Library Board, found the remarks of Robert Vosper, president, The American Library Association, to be very helpful.

"Dr. Vosper said that those who do not read are not much better off than those who can not read," she reports.

"Dr. Vosper showed us that the library is essential to the total educational efforts of the nation," she continued.

Mrs. Phillip Carpenter, member of the City Council attending the conference, found the remarks of Mrs. Weldon Lynch, past president, American Library Trustee Association, to be very stimulating.

In her address, Mrs. Lynch stated that "Libraries need citizen support but who are citizens?" Then she continued, "Citizens are professional people, school children, industrialists, business and just plain people. For retired people, the library is their most realistic link with the outside world; for the housewife, the library supplies information on all the complicated facets of being a mother and home-maker today; for students, the library must be current in both books and methods."

Bacon Switch Club Winners

Five members of the Bacon Switch Community 4-H Club were participants in the District Contest held recently.

Dana Rice, 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Rice will represent this District in the State Round-Up in June at College Station. Dana is a freshman at Hirsch High School and has been in 4-H Club work for five years.

Dana gave a demonstration in Foods and Nutrition Education entitled "An Inviting Table," in which she discusses proper table appointments.

In addition to her foods project, Dana has been active in Clothing and Poultry projects. In 1965 Dana was the winner of the Junior Division in both County and District Dress Review.

She is presently serving as president of the Bacon Switch Club and is secretary of the Wichita County Council.

Dana is a member of the Lincoln Street Church of Christ where she attends classes and worship services regularly.

Darrell Gray, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gray was winner of the Junior Division in Public Speaking. The title of his talk was "Survival or Not," in which the freedom and liberties of America were discussed.

Linda Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Johnson and Patricia Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gray teamed together to give a demonstration entitled, "A Finer Salad." The girls prepared a salad tray of fresh vegetables and by the use of posters pointed out the nutritional values in the daily diet. They placed second in the junior division.

Judy Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ward placed in the blue ribbon group on a Favorite Food entered in the Foods and Nutrition, Junior Division milk group. She made a dish of macaroni and cheese and displayed it on a table of yellow and brown.

Brenda Gray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Gray is the youngest member of the Bacon Switch Club. Brenda chose for her favorite food, Peanut Butter Cookies and entered in the Foods and Nutrition, Junior Division, bread group. She placed in the red ribbon group. Brenda's colors were brown and pink with a rag doll for the centerpiece.

Tacky Farewell Party

A tacky party for Mrs. Mildred Martin was given at the home of Mrs. Gloria Miller who attended with the ladies who worked at Hardin Elementary Cafeteria. Mrs. Martin is leaving soon for New Hampshire. Men had a good time laughing at themselves. You can see why from the picture shown. The women were also amused by games they played. A prize given for the best went to Mrs. Mildred Martin. After the cake, and ice cream were served. All in all, a hilarious evening.

BANDS OF SILENCE

Writing in Nation's Business, Alden H. Sypher, retired editor and life-long journalist, noted that "Government by fear is causing bands of silence to fall across the land."

"Noise, still rises from bearded builders of dissension
but in increasing numbers the more responsible, mature and highly qualified people are withdrawing from public discussion."

He goes on to say the inclination toward silence is "restricting the exchange of ideas that could result in honest consensus. It is the product of fear — the fear of a vastly increased central authority with tremendous power and little restraint in its use."

"The fear of farmers whose livelihood is largely controlled in Washington and whose product prices have been affected by stockpile manipulations."

"Of businessmen who have seen controls become effective not by law, nor uniform patterns, but by unbearable pressure of central power and authority."

"Of educators who have seen sudden withdrawal of federal funds for failure to conform — and just as sudden replacement of the funds through intervention not by educators, but by political figures."

"Of city leaders who see in the antipoverty war new political alignments that may be directed or at least greatly influenced by Washington."

"Of little people who rest uneasily under the benevolence of power they have seen unleashed, over which they have no control."

And says the Oregon Voter, "beyond the self-imposed silence and fear of economic repercussions, there lies the historically proven danger of becoming a subservient, obedient and abject people. Thus, the more we fear and the longer we stay silent, the greater are our chances of becoming weak, self-committed captives."

THE WORD IS "NONE"

The Colorado Supreme Court, by a 6-to-1 vote, has handed down a decision which may prove to be of national significance.

It holds that a $30 million steam electric plant, known as the Hayden plant, was built illegally by an REA encroachment on a private utility's territory. And the co-op cannot operate this facility. More than $22 million in federal funds went into the plant.

The reasoning behind the decision is what gives it widespread importance. The action against the co-op in the case was brought by the Public Service Company of Colorado and other plaintiffs in an effort to prevent REA encroachment on a private utility's territory. And the court, in effect, seems to have said that this was what would happen if the co-op was permitted to operate the plant. In his majority opinion, Justice Otto Moore stated: "It is apparent that the generating capabilities of existing electric supplier in the State of Colorado are more than adequate to supply increased electrical needs without the addition of the Hayden plant, which was to be constructed only for the purpose of providing service to substitute for that already being rendered."

What will ultimately come out of this remains to be seen. But the Colorado Court's judgment is certainly in the public interest. In all logic, what excuse can there be for using public tax funds to construct a publicly-owned power plant when heavily-taxed, investor-owned systems, financed entirely with private capital, are meeting all the wants and needs of consumers. A one word answer suffices, and that word is "None."

THE NEED FOR RESTRAINT

The government's "noninflationary" guideline for wage increases has been set at 3.2 per cent a year.

Just how accurate such a guideline can be is a matter of conjecture. But most economists think that the existing one is far better than nothing. And most of them are concerned by the fact that numbers of recent wage settlements have exceeded the 3.2 per cent level.

And that, it seems, may only be the start. National labor leaders have said that they have no intention of following the guideline. Whatever one may think of their arguments, this policy, if successful, cannot help but be strongly inflationary. And if a major wave of inflation really takes hold, all of us will be in for deep trouble.

For example, a spokesman for the Associated General Contractors has said that government controls are likely unless the Building Trades Unions lower their wage sights.

What is urgently, even desperately, needed now, is restraint — restraint on the part of business and labor and, of peak importance, the big spenders in the government.

ODDLY ENOUGH

ICE SKATING

The Scots did it Way back in 1572
they made the first skates with iron blades. Earlier skate blades were probably made from bone.
Wooden skate runners were first used in Holland during the 14th century. There, the network of canals provided highways over which skaters traveled during the winter.

For centuries ice skating could only be done out of doors.
Then, in 1873, an artificial ice rink was opened for the gay blades of New York City. But it wasn't until the 20th century
that economical butt-welded steel pipe made indoor and outdoor artificial skating rinks practical.

More than 10 million Americans enjoy ice skating today. And about 200 indoor ice skating rinks cater to them. Artificial refrigeration combined with sturdy steel pipe has made ice skating a practically year-round sport.

TANGLING WITH TROUT

While bass fishermen reportedly outnumber anglers who seek trout, the cold water products of mountain streams and lakes are a main reason for the annual summer migration to northern areas.

And, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, this is the time of year to lay plans for the season's outings and to learn something about the fish that almost always plays an important role in a northern or western vacation.

In general, most families will find either cutthroats, browns, rainbows or brook trout filling their creels.

These trout follow similar patterns in their habits and are accessible to everyone in the family. They frequent undercut banks, root tangles, shaded pools and feed on rocky bottoms that harbor aquatic insects. Trout less than one-half pound prefer flies, worms, small minnows and small crustaceans while larger fish add crayfish, mollusks,
frogs and small fish to their diet.

Water temperature is of vital concern. When surface water is between 32 and 50 degrees, they lie in the depths. Spring holes will usually be warmer than surrounding water during the early season and cooler during the warm days of August — always good spots to look for trout.
When the water warms above 50 degrees, fish become more active and aquatic insects start hatching, the clue to use artificial wet flies. Temperatures between 55 and 68 degrees are best for dry flies — fish in shallow riffles and around cover.
Above this temperature most trout get uncomfortable, stay deep and feed at night on natural baits.

The authorities at Mercury say these are only tips; when you deal with fish, no one can guarantee results!

$10,000 Expansion
For Burk Youth
Center Proposed

By Marjorie Kauer

Expansion of the Burkburnett
Youth Center and appointment of a nominating committee
prior to election of new officers highlighted the Monday night
meeting of the Burkburnett
Community Service Council.

Extension plans were presented by John Strayhorn, member of the Youth Center Board.

The proposed plans called for a new wing and an enclosed patio on the south side of the present building at an estimated cost of $10,000. The present hollow-tile building was erected in 1951 as a meeting place for youth organizations. The Optimist Club sponsors junior high activity nights each Friday during the school term.

The Youth Center has been financed entirely by donations
in the past, but maintenance of the building will be included in the proposed budget of the Burkburnett Parks and Recreation Board, according to Ken Blankenship, chairman.

Members of the Youth Center Board are John Larsen, chairman, Mrs. Joe Viavatore, Mrs.
James E. Frye, Clyde Slusher,
Strayhorn and Joe Ray McCluskey.

Claude Adams, chairman of the

If ever you've driven so long you feel restricted—an arm gets numb or a foot starts tingling—it definitely is time to get out of your seat belt—and out of the car. No matter how professional your seat belt is or how well it's mounted, it can keep you safe only when you take other precautions, too: relaxing your muscles and resting your eyes regularly on trips never driving when you're tired, driving defensively (anticipating what other drivers and even pedestrians will do), and always having your car in top running condition.

Prefinished Wall Panels Save Time

If you like to do home improvement jobs, but hate the extensive "finishing" involved in some projects, take advantage of new building materials that require little or no finishing.

Prefinished paneling, for example, can eliminate several steps and many hours of work in remodeling a basement, attic or room. Sanding, filling, staining and varnishing a 4-by-8-foot wall panel is quite a job in itself, but when the job has to be repeated all around the room, it can become a major project.

Even if you prefer to do the finish work yourself, your choice of materials can reduce the amount of work involved.

Unfinished hardboard panels, for instance, require no sanding before stain, paint, varnish or shellac is applied. Hardboard panels are also available factory-finished in a wide variety of finishes and textures, together with moldings, nails and putty to match.

CARPETS—Then and Now

In the far-away mysterious past—as long as 6,000 years ago—carpets were hung on walls more often than they were used as floor coverings. This was particularly true in the Orient, where the carpets were exquisitely patterned and richly colored. It's not known when the first wool carpet was made, but it's claimed that beautiful carpets were being woven by the Babylonians as early as 4000 B.C.

We can thank Queen Elizabeth I for one of the most significant milestones in the history of the carpet. One cold and snowy winter, the proud and regal Queen demanded that a wool carpet be placed over the rushes on the floor of her Grand Presence chamber. This set the fashion for wool carpets on the floor, and it soon swept the world.

Today, some of the world's most beautiful carpets are once again hung on walls as unique decorations. And wool is still the yarn chosen for the best carpets, for both floor and wall. What's more, wool continues to be the fiber most often selected for carpets and carpeting in American homes all over the nation.

ALL ABOUT FENCES

Fencing Protects Children, And Adds Beauty, Value To Home

New York—(HK)—Have you ever had to retrieve your toddlers from a neighbor's yard? Had your favorite plants trampled by a pack of playful pups? Or maybe wanted a little more privacy? If so, then perhaps a backyard fence is your answer.

Many homeowners are installing fences to eliminate these worries and to improve the appearance and increase the value of their property.

In selecting a fence, you should consider several factors, including its placement in relation to the sun and the direction of prevailing winds. A solid fence may cast a shadow right where you envisioned a row of flowers. A small yard enclosed in solid fencing may produce ventilating problems, particularly noticeable during hot, muggy weather.

OPTIMUM SECURITY

Recent innovations in fencing include two new applications of steel. One design has added color to the well-known galvanized chain-link type of fence by coating the wire with a special vinyl compound. Though available in many colors, the manufacturer has found homeowners prefer green or a combination of green and white. One college purchased the fencing in its school colors.

THREE BASIC RULES

Another manufacturer has created a vinyl coated fence from square tubing made of galvanized steel sheet. This fence has the dignity of the traditional picket fence but costs 50 percent less. These fences, like other steel fences, are sturdy, long-lasting and require little maintenance. They afford optimum security as well as providing an attractive framework for vines, roses and other plants.

The best way to avoid legal snags when building a fence is to get in touch with the town officials—the board of adjustment, building inspector, planning board, or whatever agency is involved. Then you can learn what restrictions regarding fences are on your community's books and install your fence accordingly.

These three basic rules cover most requirements dealing with installation of fences:

1. Design your fence so that it looks like an architectural embellishment, not a barrier. Have it designed and installed by professionals.
2. Don't put a fence right on the property line, unless your neighbor agrees—in writing.
3. Consult your neighbor to see if he objects to the material, color or finishes you plan to use.

Carefully selected, a fence can satisfy your needs, provide peace of mind and constitute a valuable and decorative addition to your home.

Texas Tech Students Travel To Dallas For Conference

More than 20 Texas Tech students will travel to Dallas today for the combined annual national conferences of the Arnold Air Society and Angel Flight from Saturday through next Thursday.

The Tech chapters boast three national officers who will participate in the Dallas conference. They are Don Kennedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee C. Kennedy, 507 Oak, Burkburnett, Texas, national publications officer, and Winston King, national archives officer. Glanda Straw, Tech coed from Dallas, serves as national publications officer for Angel Flight.

The Arnold Air Society is an organization of more than 6,500 Air Force ROTC cadets who are preparing to be commissioned Air Force officers. The organization's purpose is to promote the traditions and goals of the Air Force, to foster ideals of American citizenship and to create a bond of professionalism and brotherhood among future officers.

Angel Flight members, although not enrolled in Air Force ROTC, support the goals of Arnold Air Society and participate in numerous civic service projects. Angel Flights are located at 115 colleges and universities which sponsor Air Force ROTC units.

Comedian Bob Hope will serve as master of ceremonies for the awards banquet.

Ornamental Filigree Adds Light, Airy Look to Room

Decorative touches of filigree or open grill design are a sure way to give a room instant elegance.

Delicate and ornamental filigree can be put to graceful advantage in a variety of ways in any room in the house. Its resurging popularity is due in part to the fact that filigree is now available in inexpensive, durable hardboard.

Folding screens of filigree hardboard, for example, make elegant corner accents, room dividers or privacy screens. The panels are lightweight, but extremely tough, and can be handled with ordinary woodworking tools.

Standard-sized filigree panels in lacy cloverleaf, diamond-shaped designs make dramatic corner accents between living and dining rooms or bedrooms and dressing areas. They can be installed as full or partial room dividers, or as panels anywhere from doors to bedrooms, and add distinction as shutters, inset doors and even radiator covers.

The delicate beauty of filigree hardboard panels can be highlighted with a pattern of your choice. If you use shellac or clear varnish to enhance the natural color of the material.

Attractive Laundry Room Can Brighten Wash Day

Is your laundry room dreary or cheery?

A room that looks like a dungeon or, at best, like a grim reminder of an unpleasant task still undone can make laundry chores more dismal than they need be.

It is a simple matter to convert a part of the basement, an unused pantry or some other convenient spot into a bright and well-organized workshop for processing the family wash.

Good lighting, cheerful surroundings, adequate wiring, ample storage space for laundry aids, plenty of work surface for clothes sorting, and easy-to-clean floors and walls all help make laundering a more pleasant task.

The difference between an attractive laundry room and a dreary one is often a "finished" appearance. Masonry walls or concrete studs or joists only suggest a makeshift sphere.

When paneling walls, sure to use a material that is easy to clean and is not bothered by high humidity conditions, such as painted hardboard. Some ceiling materials are not suitable for laundry areas because they are easily affected by dampness.

In addition to being moisture-resistant, plastic hardboard can be wiped of accidental spills with damp cloth or sponge. It is available in wood-grain and numerous other attractive finishes. Some types also perforated to provide convenient storage.

Panels Are Ideal as Utility Doors

A sliding door wall of tough hardboard panels, prefinished or painted in contrasting colors, is an attractive way to hide pipes, furnace, basement storage and equipment. The panels are easy to handle and can be cut with ordinary woodcutting tools.

Mrs. G. C. Gresham
Poet Laureate Of Santa Rosa District

"Of all the poets in the world
There'll never be another
To match the Poet Laureate
I offer you, my mother."
With a poem ending with these lines, Joy Gresham Hagstrom, Poet Laureate of The Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, introduced Mrs. G. C.
Gresham of Burkburnett as Poet Laureate of Santa Rosa
District of TFWC for 1966-67.
Mrs. Gresham was nominated for Poet Laureate by the Current Literature Club, of which she is a member. She has only been writing poetry for three years and is an active member of the Wichita Falls Poetry Society and a member of the Poetry Society of the Poetry Society of Texas.

She has won the Critics Award, Couplet Contest, and the Popular Prize in the Poetry Society of Texas. Last year she won second place in the annual contest of contest points in the Wichita Falls Society.
Mrs. Gresham is the wife of Clark Gresham, County Commissioner for Precinct 2 of Wichita County. They have two children, Ronnie of Wichita Falls, known and loved by children of the area as Kauzmo
the Clown, and Mrs. Cliff Hagstrom of Burkburnett.

Mrs. Gresham is an active member of the Church of Christ
here.
Mrs. Lloyd Jones of Seymour, was chairman of the Poet Laureate Contest Committee.

With the sweet smell of Spring comes a new raft of knits—youthsnappy and rib-clingy. For this season, the Go-Go crowd is discovering Durene cotton in mad
scads of Poor Boy sweaters.

The fashion eye focuses here on a pale pow of a knit top by Mr.
Blouse for Tops n' Blouses. With a new slant on the Poor Boy, he reveals here a horizontally ribbed top that is sleeveless and cow-necked. It's a perfect companion to loose-legged Harlow slacks. And it's made of 100% Durene cotton yarn for looks,
comfort and extra long wear.
Because Durene cotton is a mercerized yarn, it adds lustrous beauty to knitted fashions. For this reason Durene is finding enormous appeal with the young of all ages. It is also more durable and comfortable than ordinary cotton, and its high dye affinity affords glorious colors. Look for these swiny sweater tops in leading stores around the country.

We all thrill to a...

FAMILIAR TUNE

It is so soothing, comforting, and pleasing to listen to our favorite tunes when played by capable artists. These tunes can make our minds wander back to pleasant memories of days gone by, and also awake us to new joys. Each Sunday we have the opportunity to be thrilled by the preaching of God's word, and the story of God's great love for us. Attend church Sunday and enjoy worshipping God with others.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

DIAL-A-SANDWICH OFFERS IDEAS FOR TEEN AGE SNACKS, SANDWICHES

Dear Cece: Next month my mother is planning to spend several weeks visiting my married sister and her family. I will be in charge of the house while she is gone, and I've told my brother I would pack school lunches for him while mother is away. Naturally I'd like to fix some sandwiches he'll really go for. Do you have any suggestions?

Dear Connie: You're just the kind of girl we've prepared our Sandwich Dial for. It's filled with ideas for lunches and snacks. You'll want to send for a free Sandwich Dial right away, but until it arrives, here's a selection of winning sandwiches to get you started on those lunches:

PIZZA HERO: Split club rolls. Spread with oregano-flavored butter. Fill with layered slices of salami, cheese and anchovy. Spread with chili sauce.

LONG BOYS: Fill hollowed French rolls with ham or tuna salad. Slice and reassemble for easy handling.

BAGGED BOLOGNA ROLLS: Roll slices of bologna around sweet gherkins. Seal two rolls in a buttered bun.

To save time, you can prepare these sandwiches the night before and keep them fresh in the refrigerator, sealed in a Cut-Rite Plastic Sandwich Bag.

Dear Cece: I'm planning to have my date and another couple back to my house after the prom. It's not a dinner dance so everyone will be hungry and will want more than coffee or hot chocolate. My Questions and comments should be addressed to Mrs. Cecelia Allison, Room 1440, 420 Lexington Ave., New York 17, N. Y.

Medical School At Sheppard To Begin On April 6

Sheppard AFB—The Medical Services School will begin its mission at Sheppard Air Force Base April 6, with the enrollment of 13 students in the AZR 62271. Diet Supervisor Course. This heralds the beginning of the move of the school to Sheppard from Gunter AFB, Ala., which was announced in late December, 1965.

This course is for individuals who supervise hospital food service operations, either under an assigned dietitian of a larger hospital, or under a medical administrative office in a smaller facility.

The Medical Services School is transferring 15 officer, 14 supervisor or technician, 13 apprentice and one helper level for a total of 43 courses. The student input for this fiscal year will be over 10,000 with an average airman student strength at any one time of about 1,200.

The officer courses range from one-week symposia to 24-week courses. This provides training to all six corps of the medical services including medical, dental, nurse, veterinarian, medical services and biomedical sciences.

This school was established in 1950 as a branch of the School of Aviation Medicine under the command jurisdiction of Air University. Its establishment was prompted by a need for increased training of flight nurses and medical technicians resulting from the Korean Conflict, and a need for medical training in other fields. It was transferred to the direct control of Air Training Command in 1959.

The advanced party for the school arrived at Sheppard Feb. 23, 1966, with Lt. Col. Frank K. Smith as chief, and the move will be completed March 31, 1967, with the move of the final course to Sheppard.

The second one to be phased in at Sheppard is the Medical Administration Supervisor Course for non-commissioned officers April 13.

The services for Holy Week were announced at the Sunday Eucharist by Reverend Walter A. Gerth, vicar of St. John the Divine Episcopal Church in Burk Burnett.

The Wednesday Holy Communion at 7:00 p.m. followed by the Forum Discussion Group will proceed as usual.

On Maundy Thursday, April 7th at 9:00 P.M. Holy Communion will be celebrated with the
