

Softball Tourney Set Friday-Sunday

Wellington's annual three-day mens slow-pitch softball tournament opens Friday, July 8, and will continue almost around the clock through Sunday evening, July 10, Candy Reyes, president of Wellington Softball Association announced.

Games will be at Marian Airpark Ball Park.

Eighteen teams representing an area from Borger to Vernon will participate, including some of the most competitive teams in this part of the Panhandle.

Playing will start at 8 p.m. Friday and that session will continue until 2 a.m. Sunday. Six games will be played, with the Wellington Players coming up against the Hohenberg Brothers Cotton Co. team from Childress to open the tournament.

The Saturday session starts at 8 a.m., with Wellington Sims Ranch meeting Memphis Compress. Play will continue through the day and the last game of that session will start at 2 a.m. Sunday.

Play will resume at 10 a.m. Sunday and the championship game is due to begin at 6 p.m., Reyes said. The game to determine third place will start at 5 p.m. and the fourth place winner will be determined in a game starting at 4 p.m.

Approximately 250 players will be in action at Marian Airpark Ball Park, according to Reyes.

Many of those from out of town will bring their families, coming in travel trailers and campers. Part of these will stay at the ball park grounds. Others will be at Pioneer Park, and at least one team is scheduled to be at Panfork Baptist Encampment.

As families of the players are always supportive, this could bring anywhere up to a thousand visitors into town at one time or another during the weekend.

Big handsome trophies will be awarded to first, second, third and fourth places. Individual trophies will go to members of the champion and runner up teams.

Reyes urges Wellington area softball fans to attend as many of these games as they wish.

Admission is free, and just once a year is there so much sports action packed into a single weekend, Reyes emphasized. This is a family-oriented sports event, and slow-pitch softball remains, over the years, one of the area's most popular games.

Eighteen teams are entered:

Three come from Amarillo: 1st Baptist Blues, Bailey's Collision Service and Texaco.

Three will be from Borger: Comac, SipA's, and Hooks Brothers.

Others will be Cowan Construction, Pampa; Cross Roads Inn, Vernon; Universal Well Logging, Wheeler; Well Rock, Shamrock; also Memphis Compress and Jass, from Memphis; Bill Hart of Briscoe, and Hohenberg Brothers Cotton Co., of Childress.

Wellington teams will Youngsters enjoy the Marian Airpark Pool Tuesday afternoon. The municipal pool is open from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday.

Sunday Roping Event Slated for Rodeo

Wellington Rodeo Association members met Tuesday 5 to continue plans for the annual rodeo, which will be held Friday and Saturday, August 19 and 20. Members voted to hold a roping Sunday, August 21, an added attraction previously a part of the rodeo in recent years, said Candy Langford, association president.

A work night will be set as soon as plans are completed for shortening the VFW rodeo arena, Langford added. This should be by about one-third. There has been complaints for several years that the rodeo, which was opened many years ago, was longer than it needed to be.

An announcement of the work night will be made as soon as the date is set, and Langford urges that all association members come down and help with the project, as well as all others interested in promoting the rodeo as one of Collingsworth county's major summer sports activities.

A rodeo dance was approved after both the Friday night and Saturday night performances.

This will be in Bura Handley Community Building, with the Red River Band furnishing the music. The time will be 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Harvest Almost Over

It's all over but the shouting--about the 1983 bumper record wheat crop.

There are a few scattered fields to be cut, but for the most part these are in the north and west parts of the county.

Ray Hightower, manager of Farmers Co-op Enterprises at Dodson, said the Co-op received an estimated 330,000 bushels of wheat. Most of this wheat went in the government loan, and the 1983 rate should net to the co-op customers an estimated $1.1 million.

The Dodson elevator draws customers from Southeast Collingsworth, northeast Childress County, and the western part of Harmon County, Oklahoma. Some of the heaviest yields have been in this area.

Glenn Warrick of Warrick's reported that the crop in the Wellington area is "pretty well out now. But we are so balled up with government paper work, it will take at least another week to catch up on that."

Andy Bell at Singley Mill and Elevator reported that a few of its customers are not quite through cutting. He said that elevator is also several days behind on its books because of the PIK program.

Major changes required by the Federal Communications Commission will be made in Greenbelt TV Translator System in the immediate future, according to Marshall Peters, secretary.

Greenbelt Translator serves all rural users in the Wellington area, along with a number of television owners in town.

For two periods of 24 to 48 hours during this time, the Greenbelt system will be off the air, Peters announced.

Because Greenbelt TV Translator receives its signals through Caprock TV Translator in Memphis, Greenbelt system will be off the air during the time the changes are made in the Caprock System.

Greenbelt will be off the air again at the time its own changes are made. Announcement of the date will be made as soon as it is known.

The FCC has ordered all translator systems to change to lower frequency 38-70 because the higher frequency channels, 70-83, are no longer allotted to TV translator stations.

What this means to many of the individual television owners is that they will have to buy new receiving antennas in order to receive the new frequency.

Television manufacturers are no longer putting channels 70-83 on television sets.

"We regret that we will have to do this, but it is because of orders of the FCC," Peters said.

"We knew when the frequencies were allotted to us some 20 years ago that it was on a temporary basis, and we hoped that we would never have to change them, but now this has happened."

The biggest change for the television owner using the translator is that he will change channels from 77, 80 and 83 to 38, 40, 42 by FCC order.

Under the new arrangement, KAMR Channel 4 of Amarillo will be on Channel 38, KFDA Channel 10 of Amarillo will be Channel 42 and KVII Channel 7 will be on Channel 40.

"We will have to spend a lot of money converting, which we estimate to be around $8,000," Peters said.

"We will have to spend a lot of money converting and we need for everyone with reception off the translator to pay their $36 annual fees, which are due September 1. No additional charge is made to consumers," Peters said.

According to information from Caprock TV translator system, which furnishes the Greenbelt signal, FCC notified them several years ago that FCC was dropping the higher channels from Translator TV use and giving these channels to mobile telephone systems, but as long as Caprock's signals were not interfering and FCC received no complaints, then Caprock could continue receiving Channels 77-80-83.

Within the past year, several companies in Oklahoma have begun using these channels and complaints of interference have been filed with FCC.

"We had no choice but to make the changes now while we could still get FCC approval to use Channels 38, 40, 42," said Arnold Cruze, Caprock engineer.

Anyone having questions about the change should contact Peters.

Carl Wischkaemper is president of Greenbelt TV Translator; L.A. Davis, of Rolla is vice-president; Peters, secretary-treasurer; and other board members

Little League in Area Playoff, Awards Planned

Area playoffs in Canadian and an awards program at home are on schedule for Wellington Little League Baseball.

The official Little League Baseball Tournament for District 1, Area 1, opens in Canadian Monday, July 11, with double elimination play continuing through the week, according to Bill Wilkerson, Little League Association president.

Wellington All-Stars will meet Childress All-Stars at 8 p.m.

There are two other teams in Area 1, and the first game Monday night will feature the Canadian and Memphis teams. This is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Other games will be played Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, also at 7 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Jimmy Black, who coached the Braves to the championship in scheduled play, is coaching the all-stars, assisted by the other three Little League coaches, Danny Gray, James Hale and Johnny Shaver.

Wilkerson said he has not yet received information on play beyond the District 1, Area 1 level, but the games next week set the Wellington Little Leaguers on the road that is going to take some team to the state and later the national championships.

Little League interest in Wellington has been higher than at any time in recent years. Under Wilkerson's leadership working with Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, coaches and other youth baseball leaders, Little League acquired an all-new baseball park, on the VFW post grounds. It is fenced and a section of bleachers were erected. There are a number of trees large enough to provide some shade for the late afternoon games.

Additionally, new uniforms were purchased for each of the four teams, Braves, Athletics, A's and Astros. There are also new uniforms for the district games.

Crowds have been larger than for most past years, Wilkerson said.

Awards will be presented to Little League, T-Ball and Senior League players Thursday, July 14, for their part in raising funds to help finance the program this summer.

The awards program will be held in Bura Handley community center club room at 7:30 p.m.

This year's sales program included sale of canisters of candy, nuts or snacks.

Cookies and pop will be served.

Boys to receive hardballs for selling 15 canisters, or units, are: Scooter Gully, Cody Phillips, Rex Henard, Ronnie Jenkins and K.K. Kerlee.

High, Hot Wind Damages Crops

Three days of high, hot wind that began Saturday, July 2, resulted in considerable damage to young crops, especially cotton, Extension Agent Don Reeves said.

"The last two days were the ones that hurt, we need rain quick," he added.

Cotton is blown out in spots, but because the deadline for cotton planting has passed, any replanting will be to other crops, Reeves said.

All crops now blown out will be set back by the wind, although rain in the immediate future would offset most of the damaged.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 1--The Railroad Commission has proposed for public comment a new rule that requires a non-refundable $100 fee for new or materially amended permits to drill for oil and gas in the state.

The proposed new rule is the result of recent legislation enacted by the Texas Legislature. That legislation requires the $100 fee and authorized the Railroad Commission to deposit the money into a special fund for plugging abandoned wells. The funds can also be used for general enforcement of state pollution prevention laws involving oil and gas operations.

Comments on the proposed rule will be taken for 30 days after publication in the Texas Register, and then the proposed rule will be presented to the Commission for final consideration.

The new law will also require some procedural changes in the way drilling permits are handled at the RRC. For example, applicants must file a drilling permit application (RRC Form W-1) and the fee with the Commission's headquarters in Austin rather than with the respective RRC district office. However, applicants must still send a copy of the application to the district office.

The RRC will no longer authorize "verbal" drilling permits, but will allow an applicant to expedite processing of a permit application by "Walking" it through the review process in Austin.

By law, the fee requirement is effective Sept. 1, 1983.

The Commission has sent a full explanation of the drilling permit application changes to all oil and gas operators in the state.

To answer questions, the Commission has established a toll-free telephone number (1-800-772-0091) for calls placed in Texas. Out-of-state callers should dial 512-445-1314.

will be off the air for 24 to 48 hours in the near future because of changes in Caprock TV Translator in Memphis, Texas.

Federal Communications Commission has ordered all Translator Systems to change to lower frequency 38-70, because the higher frequency channels are no longer allotted to TV Translator Stations. Also television manufacturers are no longer putting channels 70-83 on the new sets. Since Greenbelt Translator receives its signals from Amarillo thru Caprock Translator in Memphis and Memphis is making this change this week, Greenbelt will be out of service while the Memphis change is being made.

Greenbelt Translator will be required to make this same change in the near future. At that time interruption in our reception will occur again.

Also, many customers will need to replace their receiving antennas with new antennas to receive the new frequency.

Notice will be given in advance before Greenbelt Translator makes this change.

Scoopin'

"30 days hath September, April, June and November." Jean Cudd brought in last week the letter we had sent notifying her that her subscription was about to expire. The only problem was that the expiration date on our notice was June 31. Jean said she thought that she ought to be able to wait until June 31 to pay, but fortunately for us she decided to go ahead and pay on the 30th.

We've spent the last year or so blaming subscription errors on our computer, but I'm afraid we're going to have to find another excuse soon. People may be about to figure out that the computer only prints out what we put in.

A U.S. Representative from Minnesota has introduced a bill in Congress to tax electricity consumers throughout the nation to pay for cleaning up 50 Midwestern and Southeastern power plants that scientists now believe are the worst sources of acid rain pollution in New England.

The broad view is that we all benefit from cleaner air across the nation. The narrow view is that we would be paying to clean up someone else's pollution.

It's the same sort of argument that forces us to pay for several hundred dollars worth of pollution control equipment on our automobiles, although I haven't noticed much of a smog problem in Collingsworth County.

The way the wind blew last weekend, though, whatever pollution we create around here is bound to have wound up in New England by Sunday night, so I guess we have to take some responsibility too.

(By the way, we spent Sunday afternoon at Lake Altus, and the wind-whipped surface was as rough as I've ever seen it. The waves weren't quite big enough for body surfing, but I've seen a lot smoother water at Galveston.)

Speaking of the environment, I've always thought that if the EPA would outlaw sandstorms, it would do more to improve the environment here than anything else.

Fourth of July fireworks were a little more fiery than planned: Volunteer Firemen answered three grassfire calls Monday night.

At least one Constitutional Amendment on this fall's ballot will be of interest to Collingsworth County voters. It would allow checkoff programs on corn, wheat, grain sorghum and other commodities. Checkoff money would be used to finance marketing and promotions of Texas grain. We'll be hearing pros and cons from farm organizations on this one as November approaches.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Texas lawmakers made quick work of the special session called by Gov. Mark White last week.

In four days, the Legislature re-enacted the Texas Employment Commission, passed brucellosis control legislation needed to avoid a federal quarantine of Texas cattle, created a human rights commission, mandated the installation of smoke detectors in all hotels and motels and appropriated funds totalling more than $15 million for several purposes.

However, the biggest surprise of the special session may have been the successful power play pulled off by black and hispanic legislators.

The minority lawmakers succeeded in getting White to add creation of a human rights commission and workers compensation for farm workers to the call of the special session in exchange for their votes on the brucellosis and TEC bills.

The minorities did not have enough votes to block passage of either bill, but they did have the votes to prevent those measures from going into immediate effect.

According to Austin Rep. Gonzalo Barrientos, chairman of the Mexican-American Legislative Caucus, putting the brucellosis and TEC legislation into immediate effect was important enough to the governor and others to make the trade off possible.

Unfortunately for the minorities, the farm workers bill ran into immediate problems when a compromise worked out by Sens. Hector Uribe of Brownsville, Bill Sarpalius of Amarillo and others fell apart because of technical problems.

Those problems could not be overcome, but minorities expressed confidence the bill can be corrected in time for a special session expected later this year on the subject of teachers salaries.

Meanwhile, the minority lawmakers did win the victory they had hoped for on the human rights commission.

The new agency will investigate job discrimination complaints.

Currently, such investigations are the responsibility of the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission, but some black and hispanic lawmakers feel the EEOC has no teeth.

Credit Cards

Interest rates on bank credit cards will be going down in July under new legislation that becomes effective July 1.

The new law, passed during the regular legislative session, will make Texas interest rates among the lowest in the nation for bank credit cards.

"If you hold a Texas-based card, your rates should drop from as high as 21 percent in June to 16.69 percent after July 1," said Mesquite Sen. Ted Lyon, one of the sponsors of the credit card bill.

The lower rates will take effect on the first new billing date after July 1. That means if your next billing date is July 15, the lower rates will become effective starting July 16.

Phone Rates

While interest rates are going to be coming down, telephone rates apparently are about to see a massive hike.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. has requested a $1.7 billion rate hike from the Public Utility Commission, which will more than triple most basic monthly local phone rates.

The proposed rate hike began drawing criticism almost from the moment it was filed.

Carol Barger of the Consumers Union called the proposed increase outrageous, exorbitant and extravagant.

Texas Municipal League attorney Don Butler added that there is no doubt the rate hike proposal is designed to prod the PUC in the direction of approving local measured service.

Local measured service—which means telephone customers would pay for local calls on the same basis they now pay for long distance calls—is a concept Southwestern Bell has been pushing for several years.

Bell has complained in the past that local rates have not come anywhere near paying the actual cost of providing local service, while long distance rates subsidized local service.

Now that federal courts have forced Southwestern Bell's parent company, American Telephone & Telegraph, to divest itself of all its local telephone subsidiaries, Southwestern Bell will no longer have long distance revenues to rely on, the company's officials contend.

AT&T will keep all long distance service after the divestiture becomes effective Jan. 1, 1984.

Southwestern Bell has not requested local measured service in the present rate case, but they are quick to point out that it is the only alternative to basic monthly rates of between $30 and $40 just to have a phone in your home, whether you use it or not.

However, TML and the consumer groups are not the only ones who are not convinced the Bell rate request is justified.

PUC chairman Al Erwin already has put Bell on notice that it will have to justify every penny of its request. There will be no assumption that any part of the request is needed, Erwin said.

Mattox Probe

Texas Attorney General Jimi Mattox has joined the list of state officials in the dog house over campaign or financial disclosure violations.

Travis County District Attorney Ronnie Earle is investigating loans Mattox made to his attorney general's campaign in 1982.

Earlier this year, House Speaker Gih Lewis paid an $800 fine for failure to disclose all of his financial holdings, and Earle filed charges against himself for failing to file disclosure forms.

Your Congressman's Votes Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON - Here's how members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes June 23-29.

HOUSE
PROBE The House voted, 256 for and 161 against, for a secret rather than open probe of widespread, anti-GOP distortions in the editing of hearing transcripts.

Members voting yes favored a closed-door probe of the misconduct by Democratic staffers.

Voting yes: Jack Hightower, D-13, Kika de la Garza, D-15, Charles Stenholm, D-17 and Kent Hance, D-19.

VETO By a vote of 238 for and 137 against, the House passed a bill (HR 2668) that keeps the Consumer Product Safety Commission in existence but with a smaller budget and less power than its most ardent backers wanted.

Many members voting no disliked the hasty attempt to replace the congressional veto or thought the bill too harsh on product safety.

Voting yes: Hightower, Stenholm and Hance.

Voting no: De la Garza.

ARTS The House rejected, 150 for and 271 against, an attempt to freeze fiscal 1984 spending for arts and humanities programs at 1983 levels.

Members voting yes wanted to freeze arts and humanities subsidies.

Voting yes: Stenholm and Hance.

Voting no: Hightower and De la Garza.

SENATE

INCOME By a vote of 34 for and 58 against, the Senate rejected an amendment requiring senators to place in trust any "unearned" income exceeding 30 percent of their government salary.

Lloyd Bentsen, D, voted no. John Tower, R, voted yes.

ABORTION By a vote of 49 for and 50 against, the Senate rejected a proposed constitutional amendment enabling federal and state legislatures to outlaw abortions. A two-thirds majority, 67 votes, was needed for passage.

Bentsen voted no. Tower voted no.

TAX CAP The Senate refused, 45 for 55 against, to cap the personal income tax cut that took effect July 1.

Senators voting yes wanted the July 1 tax cut to be less beneficial to the wealthiest taxpayers.

Bentsen voted yes. Tower voted no.

Water Hearing Set July 12

AUSTIN -- Individuals, organizations and groups in the High Plains and Trans Pecos Region will have an opportunity to comment on the draft planning report prepared by the Texas Department of Water Resources which is to be used in amending the 1968 Texas Water Plan. A public hearing will be conducted by the Department of Water Resources at 7 p.m., on July 12, in Lubbock, at the Lubbock Civic Center.

Executive Director Charles E. Nemir has encouraged individuals, organizations, and local officials to participate in the hearing to address water needs set out in the draft report, "Water for Texas: Planning for the Future." Water quality protection, water conservation, public education, environmental protection, water supply development, flood protection, water management, and State participation in water financing are among the water issues addressed in the report.

Nemir pointed out that the "statewide water plan" package of legislation considered recently by the Texas Legislature is NOT the Texas Water Plan or amendments thereto to be discussed at the hearing.

He also said that he is concerned about participation in the hearing process. In many instances it takes a drought or other emergency situation to get people to pay attention to water. Most people are unaware or unconcerned about water problems as long as they can go to the kitchen and turn on the faucet or go to the shower, turn it on, and out comes water. They're satisfied and they don't think about needing to plan and act now in order to have adequate water in the future.

Nemir added that some cities in Texas have been preparing and implementing water conservation plans, some including water rationing, in order to just meet peaking summer demands. These plans are needed primarily because of inadequate water treatment

The hearing in Lubbock is the fourth of eight regional hearings being held in Texas during June and July. Additional hearings will be held in Abilene on July 14, El Paso on July 19, Austin on July 21, and in Baytown on July 26. Hearings have already been held in Longview, Dallas, and McAllen.

Fifty-six counties are included in the High Plains and Trans Pecos Region of the State. River basins included in this region are the Canadian, Upper Red, Upper Brazos and the Pecos River.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective August 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Texas Public Utility Commission (PUC) at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

As a result of the settlement of a lawsuit brought by the U.S. Department of Justice against AT&T, Southwestern Bell, on January 1, 1984, (or as otherwise ordered by the United States District Court) will no longer be a part of the Bell System, but will be owned by public shareholders. Under the terms of the settlement, Southwestern Bell has identified 15 areas in the state within which it may provide service, and the federal court with jurisdiction of the settlement has tentatively approved these areas, called LATAs (Local Access and Transport Area). On or about January 1, 1984, Southwestern Bell can not provide service between these LATAs, and in addition, must transfer to AT&T customer premises equipment that it leases to customers.

Southwestern Bell has filed a proposed revised rate schedule with the PUC reflecting these changes. These rates would become effective August 1, 1983, if they are not suspended by the PUC; however, it is expected that they will be suspended and that the rates ultimately set by the PUC will become effective on or about January 1, 1984. If the rates were to become effective as filed, they would produce a 48.2% increase in Southwestern Bell's unadjusted test year revenues (or a 76.36% increase in Southwestern Bell's test year revenues adjusted to reflect the effect of Southwestern Bell's divestiture from AT&T). Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in rates for intralATA interexchange toll services, any change in those rates could also affect customers of other telephone companies. Southwestern Bell is proposing changes in the structure of the present private line and foreign exchange services. Changes in these rates may affect customers of other telephone companies. Any change in the rates for any interLATA services offered by AT&T or a subsidiary after January 1, 1984, could affect customers of other telephone companies.

EVEN WHEN YOU'RE AWAY...YOUR HOME KEEPS RUNNING

You may naturally expect your home to use less electricity while you're away for a week or more. The reduction may not be as great as you think, however. That's because there are many factors that can affect your usage: weather conditions, billing periods and even vacation preparation.

1. Very hot weather before you leave and after you return means increased use of air conditioning. This makes it difficult to compare your bill with a previous month of milder weather.

2. Hot weather causes your refrigerator/freezer to run longer, particularly if your home air conditioning is turned off while you are away.

3. If the time you're away falls within two billing periods, the reduction you expect will be split between two bills.

4. If you didn't turn off your electric hot water heater before you left, it continued to keep your water hot 24 hours a day, even though you weren't there.

5. And don't forget... when getting ready for a vacation, you often use more electricity than usual for cleaning, washing, drying, ironing, cooking and general preparations. The same is true about your return.

Check your meter.

If you learn to read your own meter, you can find out just how much electricity was used while you were gone. And, you'll see just how much energy you're using during the summer, the heaviest electricity consuming season, with your air conditioning operating most of the time.

Mr. Jones was a retired farmer and rancher, and as a young man was a cowboy on the Matador Ranch.

He retired only two years ago.

His interests lay in his home and the people around him, and he took pride in his years as a cowboy. He had hoped to attend this year's reunion of Matador Cowboys, for he was in line to receive the coveted silver spurs, awarded each year to the oldest Matador cowboy present.

Southwest Airlines Gives Book

Southwest Airlines Company, based in Dallas, recently made a unique contribution to the Official Texas Heritage Resource Center located in the Wellington High School Library.

Southwest donated a copy of Gumrappers and Goggles, a children's book about the formation of their airline. It is creatively written and illustrated by noted children's author Quinifred Barnum Newman. It captures the "Love" spirit through characterizations of the little plane who knew he could fly and Amelia, the Good Air Fairy. It imparts the message of the free enterprise system in an enjoyable and understandable manner.

Texas Heritage Resource Centers have been established in 200 libraries throughout the state and are sponsored by the Texas Heritage Project of the Texas Historical Foundation. To qualify, libraries must assemble required resource material on Texas history. There is at least one history of a successful Texas company in each Center, because free enterprise is such an important part of our state's legacy. The

New Hours Set for Bloodmobile Visit

Local Red Cross Blood Services chairman, Billye Owens, has reminded that the Red River Regional Red Cross Bloodmobile will be observing new hours on its Thursday, July 28 visit between the hours of 2:30 and 6 p.m. in Bura Handley Community Center. Eighty units of blood are needed.

"If you are between the ages of 17 and 66, and are generally in good health, you are needed to donate blood on this date. Questions concerning eligibility may be answered on site by staff nurses at the Bloodmobile," she said.

In order to assure a safe, healthy and plentiful blood supply, it is important that new donors be recruited for each mobile operation. Regular donors are being encouraged to bring a "first-timer."

Donating blood is not something to "fear." It takes approximately 45 minutes to go through the entire process. Those persons who need to have a special appointment time may do so, by contacting Mrs. Owens or any member of Collingsworth General Hospital Auxiliary, the sponsor.

Red River Regional Red Cross Blood Services, which supplies processed blood products for Collingsworth General hospital, works closely with area volunteers to assure that daily needs are met.

"One hundred per cent participation at all scheduled Bloodmobiles will provide the blood which is so vitally needed by hospital patients," stated Mrs. Owens.

Last summer, there were nationwide blood shortages which were heavily attributed to economical stresses and industrial layoffs. In Red River Region, positive attitudes toward a plentiful blood supply were the key to meeting the demands of our area.

All residents of Collingsworth County are encouraged to donate blood at the upcoming Bloodmobile visit.
