Water Ski Show Set For June 20

One of the most spectacular events planned for the Aransas County-Rockport Centennial Celebration will be a water ski show in Little Bay Ski Basin on Saturday, June 20.

The widely known Doc Rail, who staged the highly successful performances at the 1969 Sea-Arama Water Ski Show at Galveston, will bring a number of skilled and fearless skiers here for what promises to be the most exciting water ski acts ever seen in the Rockport area.

The show will be presented in the form of a water comedy, with 13 acts to be staged in 26 minutes. The skiers will be given "stage" names and will perform the roles of various characters. The beach will be the stage, with the skiers swoshing from the water to their places on the stage.

An interesting aspect of the show is that most of the performers will be college and high school girls and boys who must have maintained A or B averages.

Also, the show will feature a clown skier and his famous unsinkable boat, a performance which is sure to give the audience a lot of laughs and thrills.

Following the water comedy, skiers will demonstrate deep water barefoot starts, kite flying and other daring maneuvers.

Shows will be presented at 1:30, 3:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Lutheran Service In New Church

HemisFair Posters Brought Here

With the June 13-21 Aransas County-Rockport Centennial celebration less than a month away, many local places of business are decorating their establishments in the motif of the "good old days."

One example is Gene's Barbecue Garden. Gene Clyne, the owner, obtained enough life-size Gay 90s posters to cover the walls of his place.

Formerly used at HemisFair in San Antonio, the posters feature paintings of shapely ladies, oldtime bicyclists, ring-a-dink piano players, can-can and hootchie-kootchie dancers and even Sweet Adeline barbershop quartets.

Promenades To Start At 6 P.M. Friday

Growing public interest in community promenades in costumes in preparation for the Aransas County - Rockport Centennial, June 13-21, was evident last Friday when approximately 200 men, women and children participated.

There were two groups of costumed strollers, the first at 5:30 p.m., involving more than 150, and a second smaller group which started from Centennial headquarters at 6 p.m.

The old-fashioned garbed promenaders strolled leisurely down Austin Street to Main Street where they turned west to go by the Bayview Nursing Home where residents were assembled at the windows and outside to watch.

J. H. von Pein, chairman of the promenade committee, announced that future promenades—every Friday evening until the celebration in June—will start at 6 p.m. to provide time for participants to change into Centennial costumes after work.

It was noted at last Friday's promenade that an increasing number of homemade costumes, many of very attractive and original design, were in evidence. However, a committee spokesman pointed out that a wide variety of ready-made costumes are available for sale at Centennial headquarters, 105 S. Austin.

The committee hopes more teenagers will participate in the remaining promenades. Organization of Teenage Centennial Belles last week is and Dwyane Heasley represented the Little League in making the request.

The challenge of being the only.
As any wise husband knows, no woman likes to be taken for granted. It's the little things that count, like remembering anniversaries, or bringing home flowers for no particular reason.
Like the wise husband we try not to take you, our customer, for granted. Being the only phone company in town, we make a special effort to be courteous, kind, considerate, and understanding.
The fact that we are the only phone company in town is a challenge. The challenge is "not to act like it."

Dove Habits Are Mysterious

Austin.—The mourning dove is almost as difficult to trace statistically as he is to hit on the wing with birdshot.

So the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's dove research project is gearing up again this year for another statewide banding effort to determine mortality, migration patterns and sub-populations.

To many hunters, the dove is not generally thought of as a migratory bird—at least not as are ducks and geese. Yet banding operations have shown the swift-flying birds sometimes spend the winter several thousand miles from their nesting grounds.

Ted Clark, the Department's project leader for the survey said many of the birds which nest in various parts of Texas spend their winters near Mexico's southern Pacific coastline.

Likewise, some doves killed by Texas hunters were hatchin Iowa, Minnesota and other northern states.

Unfortunately, mourning dove populations in Texas and elsewhere have declined slowly but steadily in the past few years, Clark said. There are now approximately one-third fewer doves in the United States, both for nesting and dove hunting, but the national decline has been felt in the state.

"I'm looking for adventure, excitement, beautiful women," cried the young man to his father as he prepared to leave home. "Don't try to stop me, I'm on my way."

"Who's trying to stop you?" shouted his father. "Take me along." — Louisville (Miss.) Winston County Journal.

Junior-Senior Prom A Huge Success

The Rockport-Fulton High School junior-senior prom and banquet was held May 2. The banquet was held in the Sandollar Colony Room and the prom at the Paws and Taws clubhouse.

Gary Gray, junior, was master of ceremonies. Par Brat, senior, native of Sweden, gave the invocation in Swedish. Richard Schendel, president of the junior class, gave a warm welcome to the seniors and expressed the wish that everyone enjoy the prom and banquet. Al Johnson, president of the senior class, then gave the response.

The entertainment was provided by Gracie Jacobs and Annie Kleypas, both seniors, singing their class song, "Sounds of Silence." This was followed by Laurie Vargas and Marilyn Sanford, seniors, singing the junior class song, "He Ain't Heavy, He's My Brother." Nancy Carraway, playing the piano, Andy Crawford and Chuck Kleypas on the guitars, and Scott Washko on the drums accompanied the girls. During the entertainment everyone enjoyed roast beef dinners with peach cobbler as dessert.

At 7:30 p.m. Mike Meek gave the benediction and Gary Gray invited everyone to the Paws building for the prom.

The "Old South" was presented in gaily colored flowers and greenery. As the centerpiece an old fashioned gazebo was set with flowed columns and white garden furniture. Magnolia trees in full bloom were scattered about, creating the illusion of a garden. The entrance was a beautiful tunnel of flowers extending the full length of the hallway. A wishing well was the setting for the refreshment center. Chips and dips and punch were served by the room mothers.

"The Shaydes" a popular band from Houston, furnished the music which helped to set an atmosphere of excitement and fun. Everyone enjoyed dancing and listening to the music which was the main focus of attention.

The faculty members also seemed to enjoy the music. Many, such as Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Brooks were seen tapping their feet to the music. All in all, the prom was a beautiful and smooth success, but it couldn't have been done without hard work, planning and cooperation.

Jr. Class reporter.

Texas Draft For May Is 834

Austin. — The May draft call for Texas is 834, and no man will be selected and ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 145, Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state selective Service director, and Friday.

The May quota is down from 940 in April, which has been filled with men having random sequence numbers no higher than 115.

The state quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations in May is 5,828, down from 8,442 in April. Men sent for these examinations will be limited to those with random sequence numbers 1 through 215.

Deferred or exempt men, such as teachers, college students, and vocational or trade school students, with random sequence numbers 1 through 215, may be forwarded for these examinations if they are likely to lose their deferred or exempt status during the next six months, Colonel Schwartz said.

No men with random sequence numbers above 215 will be forwarded for examination until further notice. Men born in 1951, who have no random sequence numbers, also will not be called now for this purpose. A drawing probably will be held in July to establish the numbers for the 1951 group.

All volunteers at the draft boards must be inducted ahead of the non-volunteers selected and ordered to report for induction by random sequence.

The Texas induction quota of 834 for May is the state's share of a national call for 15,000 men, all for the Army.

The Kinsey Report

A nice looking couple came into the Pilot office this week. I hadn't seen them for 30 years but I knew immediately they were Larry and Gert Lawrence from Peoria, Illinois.

Larry is a writer for the Peoria Journal-Star and has been since about 1931 when I went to work there as a cub reporter. The Lawrences visited here two days and we had some pleasant chats about the old days on the paper.

Among other things, we remembered my first news assignment. The city editor told me, "When you get up tomorrow morning, don't shave. Put on some old clothes and go down to that little park facing the Illinois River. Sit down on a bench and strike up a conversation with some of the disgruntled men who are out of work. Find out what they think about the depression."

I did as instructed. As best I can remember, most of the shabby looking men didn't even seem to realize there was a depression. One or two grunted something like, "Them that's got gets more and we can't do anything about it."

After spending a couple of hours trying to get enough material for an interesting story, I returned to the newspaper office and went to work. I wrote and rewrote several times and finally produced what I thought was quite an article.

When I handed it to the city editor, I said, "If there is anything you want to change, please feel free to so so."

He looked at me with one of the most pained expressions I ever saw and replied, "Mr. Kinsey, we city editors not only change reporters' stories; we sometimes tear them up, we often shout and we've even been known to swear."

In later years I worked for the late Clem Lane a great city editor on the Chicago Daily News. He had snow white hair and piercing eyes and he could scare the devil out of even seasoned reporters.

Once he thundered at me, "Kinsey, you stupid (censored), how could the accident have happened at the intersection of State and Michigan Avenue? They run parallel."

SWEDISH STUDENT TALKS TO ROTARY

Par Bratt, exchange student from Sweden who has been living with the Robert Hill family during the past school yqar, gave his impressions of America at a luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club Wednesday at Corky's Restaurant.

Par will be graduated from High School this month and plans two more years of pre-college schooling in Sweden. When asked to compare the difficulty of high school courses in Sweden and here, he said language difficulties made his work here somewhat more difficult, adding that in Sweden he probably would be taking more subjects, possibly as many as 11. He plans to specialize in science at college.

Par said that before coming to this country he thought of almost all Americans as captalists with an unfavorable connotation on the word. Now he finds that Americans are not very different from the people of Sweden.

Hill commented on the pleasant and profitable relationship developed between members of his family and Par.

Grads Honored

Misses Robbie Segler, Debra Cruser and Ann Kleypas were honored with a luncheon given by Becky Baldwin and Mrs. Philip D. Baldwin Saturday. The girls are 1970 graduates of Rockport-Fulton High School. The luncheon was held at the Sandoller Studio Club. The table centerpiece was a wise old owl and the graduates' theme was carried out in the napkins and place holders. Other guests were Jeannie Kleypas, Mrs. Vernon Kley-Mrs. Dave Segler and Mrs. Jim Cruser.

Uncle Sam's Selective Service

Editor's Note: Below are questions now being asked at draft boards. The answers are by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, State Selective Service Director, 209 W. Ninth Street, Austin, Texas 78701. He will welcome your questions.

Q—I have been informed that my appeal for an occupational deferment was denied. Is this final, or can I take other action to get the deferment?

A—Check the card you got, called a Notice of Classification (SSS Form 110). If the vote on your classification was not unanimous by the special appeal board members, you have a right to appeal to the President. You take this action by filing a written request with your draft board within 30 days after the Form 110 was mailed to you.

Q—My classification is now I-A, and I want to appeal. I want to see the appeal agent, but I work at night. I'd like his phone number and address so I can get in touch with him. What should I do?

A—See, write, or phone the executive secretary of your draft board and request an interview with the government appeal agent. She will arrange a meeting. The name of your government appeal agent is posted at your board.

Q—I am a college student with a class II-S deferment for my activity in study. I have a chance to enlist in the Army Reserve. If I should do this, will I keep my student deferment?

A—No. You will be deferred on the basis of your activity as a member of a reserve component of the Army when your board receives evidence from you or the reserve unit that you have enlisted. This evidence is normally furnished on Department of Defense Form 44. You will be placed in class I-D.

Q—I'm a farmer who's been ordered for induction. I'll suffer a big financial loss, as it's harvest time, and no labor's available. Can somebody give me time to gather the crops?

A—Yes. Your draft board can postpone your induction 60 days for this emergency, and if more time is needed, has authority to grant a second 60 days. The State Director of Selective Service, if he considers the situation a good cause, may postpone any man for such time as he may deem advisable.

Q—I have an appeal pending. Can I be ordered for induction during this time?

A—No. The draft board must not issue an induction order (1) during the period afforded you to take an appeal, or (2) during the period an appeal is pending.

Q—I have a physical defect which has handicapped me most of my life. Am I physically fit for induction into the armed forces?

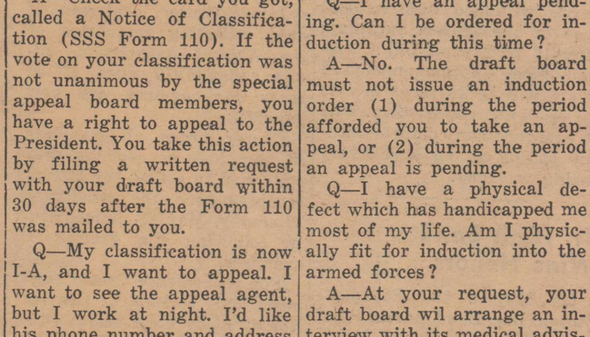

A—At your request, your draft board wil arrange an interview with its medical advisor. If your handicap is on the Surgeon General's list as disqualifying, you will be classified as disqualified, provided the defect is confirmed to the board's satisfaction. Regulations allow unexamined men the right to one preinduction physical examination within 60 days of submitting a written request. Boards must order such men for examination, giving at least 15 days notice.

MARRIAGE AND SOCIAL SECURITY

As the month of June approaches, young couples traditionally begin to think of matrimony and . . . social security?

H. M. Cleveland, manager of the Corpus Christi social security office, feels that this is an opportune season to remind brides-to-be to get new social security cards showing their married name. Applications can be obtained at any post office or social security office. After your social security number is issued, it is yours for life. But keep the records straight, the Social Security Administration needs to know your new name. This will assure that you get credit for all past and future security earnings.

DPL Merril W. Gitlin of Data Processing Department at U. S. Air Station, visits the hospital each Saturday morning where he spends two hours drawing cartoons and caricatures for the bedridden and handicapped children.

"The kids would keep the drawings I did for them," Gitlin said, "and then they figured out that they could color in between my markings."

When Gitlin realized the potential of this pastime he contacted the NAS Public Office to find a source of crayons for the children.

Money from the Commanding Officer's Ada Wilson Fund enabled the Public Affairs office to buy 100 boxes of crayons for the children.

Larry P. Powell, NAS Red Cross Field Directors, then became aware of the need for crayons and negotiated with the Aransas County Red Cross Youth Organization.

An additional 94 boxes of crayons were purchased through a contribution from the Youth Fund.

"The Red Cross is again to be able to help the community and indirectly to support the interest of the Navy."

The Bonnet Carre spillway, built to keep New Orleans from being flooded when the Mississippi River overflows, has been used only three tmes, in 1937, 1945 and 1910.

* * *

Marine Sergeant Charles D. Barganski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard F. Barganski and husband of the former D'Ann Huffmeyer, was promoted to his present rank in ceremonies with Marine Air Reserve Training Detachment at the Naval Air Station, Los Alamitos, Calif.

THANK YOU

The Junior Class of Rockport-Fulton High School wishes to express thanks to the many businesses and individuals, especially Larry Buckalew and Garland Daws, for their generous time, materials and effort in order to make the 1970 Junior-Senior Prom a success. An undertaking of this sort takes a tremendous amount of outside help, and the class is appreciative of the many who showed an active interest in making this year's Prom one which will stand tall in the memories of high school days.

RECOVERING

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Owens and their four children, Kathy Matthew, Theresa and Clarissa, are reported recovering from injuries sustained in an auto crash May 7 in Aransas Pass. Also injured in the head-on crash was Manual Aleman of Aransas Pass who was described as in fair condition.

Mrs. Ethel Eggers and daughter, Peggy, and Rex Littleton, Jr., of Houston spent Mother's day with Mr. and Mrs. Rex Littleton and family in Fulton.

Woodworking Class Renovates C of C Float

RENOVATE C OF C FLOAT—Standing on the old Chamber of Commerce float which they renovated and repainted are members of the 9th grade woodworking class at Rockport-Fulton High School and Philip D. Baldwin, industrial arts director.

The Chamber of Commerce float built some years ago for the Sea-o-rama Pageant had been gathering dust in a boat stall provided through the courtesy of Jackson Channel and Dock Company — until about a month ago.

At that time the Chamber was invited to enter a float in a parade to be held during the Aransas County-Rockport Centennial Celebration, June 13-21.

Supt. of Schools J. D. Gray was asked if it would be alright to contact Philip D. Baldwin, industrial arts director, to see if he and his 9th grade woodworking class at Rockport-Fulton High School would be interested in renovating the float as a class project.

Gray said yes and Baldwin said yes, and the float was towed to the industrial arts building. Baldwin and 11 boys went to work. They put in about two hours a day for 10 days. They cleaned the entire float, scraped, sanded and repainted it, and cut out new "waves" from plywood, installed these strips and painted them. They removed the old "fish with the top hat" insigna that depicts the "Toast of the Coast" slogan because the old fish had had it and was unrepairable.

The float now looks like new. The Chamber of Commerce thanks Baldwin, the young men in the woodworking class, Gray and Chester Barre, high school principal.

The total cost: $27.42 for paint, brushes and plywood, provided at cost by a member of the Chamber.

Chamber Happenings

Dear Mr. Kinsey:

Here we are back home in Maine—with Spring beginning. The forsythia is in bloom and the tulips are starting some two months later than at Rockport!

Below is the write-up in the column widely read by both men and women. Frankly I was a little disappointed that it did not give more of a story on your interesting city.

Both Helen and I want to thank you for your cordial hospitality. We enjoyed the Rockport area tremendously. Incidentally, she is just now beginning to recover from a sprained ankle

Cordially,
Owen M. Smith
(Maine's Minister to Texas)

Maine Couple Saluted

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Smith, 15 Bay Road, South Portland, were named Tourists of the Week recently by the Rockport, Texas, Chamber of Commerce.

It's obvious that Smith, a retired insurance agency owner, should be named Maine's minister to Texas. A reliable source tells us that the South Portlander lauded the Texans for their warm hospitality, the beauty of the area and excellent seafood.

And then he added: "Our sincere hope is that a lot of you Rockport, Texas, folk can come up to Rockport, Maine, this summer or fall and enjoy our steamed clams and famed Maine lobsters."

* * *

The Sea Shell Shoppe provided refreshments for the Chamber of Commerce hospitality program for visitors this week.

An additional contribution to the C of C building renovation project is Emory M. Spencer.
