

Council May Halt Rate Hike

The Rockport City Council is expected to pass a resolution at its regular Sept. 13 meeting which will postpone the rate hike proposed by Central Power and Light until further study can be made of the request.

The rate hike would go into effect automatically on Sept. 27 if the council did not act. Should the council approve the increase, the new rates would go into effect on a mutually agreed upon date. CPL can implement the rates proposed immediately if it posts a bond set by the council to cover customer rebates should a lower rate be set by the newly-created Public Utilities Commission on appeal by another group or city. All cities must reach an agreement within 150 days or rates will go into effect, subject again to appeal to, or review by, the PUC.

Two meetings are currently being planned in advance of the council meeting, and should give city officials a better look at avenues of action and study which will be available to them should they decide to postpone the increase.

Texas Municipal League committee members Mayor William Carper and City Manager Walter Hill of Sinton and Corpus Christi Mayor Jason Luby and City Manager Marvin Townsend will meet R.W. Hardy, chairman of the board of CPL, Tuesday, Sept. 7 in Corpus Christi to discuss groundrules for the league's challenge of the rate hike.

Friday, Sept. 10, a TML action committee composed of Hill, Townsend, City Manager John Lee of Victoria and City Manager Walter Staudt of Beeville will meet with rate consultants who may be hired by the league group to study the rate increase.

As presented in a McAllen meeting attended by Rockport officials, the TML proposal would assess each participating city 10 cents per capita to finance the hiring of three rate consultants, one to study the fuel flow, one the rate base, and the other the rate of return.

The results of these meetings should be available to council members Sept. 13 when they make their decision.

To Hear Request

In other business, the Council will hear a request by the Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., for city funds to help operate an emergency ambulance service for the county and city. The group has estimated their yearly cost of operation at $18,000, and have received $9,000 from the county. The city has agreed to give the group 50 percent of the county grant, if population distribution between the city and county warrants, but the group, armed with new population figures which show a greater percentage of possible customers within the city, may ask for $6,000 instead.

The arrests were the result of an ongoing investigation by local police into recent burglaries of four Rockport businesses.

Sheriff Presses Investigation Of Possible Arson

Aransas County Sheriff Bob Hewes says his department, along with the State Fire Marshall's office, the Texas Rangers, the Southwest Cattle Raisers Association and Refugio County officers are still investigating the recent fires on the Tatton Ranch, better known as the Salt Creek Ranch.

Hewes said arson was indicated by evidence that has been correlated, and that several leads are currently being followed in the cases.

The fires did approximately $10,000 damage to the ranch fence line. Several thousand more dollars were spent in man hours and equipment to fight the fires.

Sheriff Hewes reaffirmed that the persons responsible for the fires will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law.

Bell's Rate Proposals Could Cost $35,-50,000

Southwestern Bell's $298 million rate increase, largest ever in Texas, will cost the customers who use Rockport's estimated 7400 telephones at least $27,000 in increases for ordinary local phone service.

Counting phone calls made under the proposed 20 cent coin phone charge and rising costs for installation and long distance calls, that cost figure could range from $35-50,000 or more, depending on use and changes in the phone population.

Under the proposed rate changes, Bell customers in Rockport will pay $7.40 for one party residence phone service, an increase of 40 cents. The two party residence service charge will rise 35 cents to $5.35. Suburban four party customers won't be paying any more than the present $5.90 charge, but rural eight party service will rise 35 cents to $5.15 per month.

Business customers will pay $17.50, an increase of $2.80, for one party lines. A four party business line will rise $1.65 to $14.25, and an eight party line will cost $12.50, an increase of $2.10.

The 10 cent pay phone call will go the way of the nickel cup of coffee and the 10 cent newspaper under the new rate proposals. Rockport has 137 coin phones, and two calls from each per day would create some $10,000 in new company revenue over the course of a year.

Bell also proposes a 20 cent charge for the fourth and succeeding calls for directory assistance each month. Division Manager Ron Maples says the charge would result in more payroll savings than revenue. Maples estimated Bell receives 4-500 calls per day from the Rockport area, and that the charge, which he claims would affect only seven per cent of Rockport customers, would cause a 70 percent reduction in local use of the service.

Long distance rates would also rise under the Bell proposals, although reductions would be made in some customer dialed calls. In keeping with recent company policy, operator assisted long distance calls would rise substantially.

A Rockport to Corpus Christi call, dialed by the customer during business hours would cost two cents less during the first minute, but four cents more for each succeeding minute, making a five minute call cost $1.10 rather than the current 96 cents.

Costs are generally down for customer dialed calls in the 5-11 p.m. evening rate hours, equal or slightly higher for night and weekend hours, and up, as stated, on most operator assisted calls.

Hikes are also recommended in charges for one time service connection, and would be standard throughout the state in all rate groups. The maximum charge for installing on residential phone would be $37, the business maximum for one line $57.

Customers will be charged for a maximum of four out of five services described by Bell, including a Service Order Charge ($11); an Order and Trip Charge ($18); a Central Office Access Charge ($11), for in office activation of existing lines; a Station Handling Charge ($3), for putting a new phone together; and an Inside Wiring Charge ($5), for extensions, etc.

Grand Jury Gets Case Reports

Assistant District Attorney Tom Bridges will report 15 cases to the Aransas County Grand Jury Tuesday, Sept. 7 in Rockport.

Included in the case reports are seven charges of burglary, five charges of thefts, a charge of involuntary manslaughter, one charge involving possession of a controlled substance (heroin), and one charge of aggravated assault.

The 12 member grand jury will be chosen at 9:30 a.m. from among 15-20 names presented by a panel of grand jury commissioners appointed by County Judge John Wendell.

Junior High Open House On Sept. 14

Parents and friends of Rockport-Fulton Junior High Students will have an opportunity to visit the school and meet the Junior High Faculty at an open house to be held Sept. 14 at 7:30 p.m.

The open house will begin with a general assembly of parents, friends, and teachers in the school cafeteria. Following the general assembly, where School Principal Pat E. Smith will give general information concerning the school and introduce the teachers, parents and friends of the students will be allowed to visit the classes which the students attend each day.

Following the room visitation there will be coffee served in the cafeteria. On Friday, Sept. 10, the Junior High Students will take home a copy of their daily schedule for parents to bring to the open house. These schedules will be used by the parents as they visit the student's classes.

Should the Commission fail to make a decision by Feb. 3, Bell's increases would go into effect Feb. 4, but any revenue realized would be held for 60 days and refunded should the commission set a lower rate during that time.

If the commission should allow the 60 day period to elapse without a decision, the rates would become effective permanently April 3.

Gardening Clinic Set In Rockport

A coordinated two-day series of clinics designed to totally inform county residents on the most effective fall vegetable gardening practices, has been scheduled for San Patricio and Aransas Counties this month.

Featuring three Texas Agricultural Extension Service specialists, they will be held Sept. 14-15 in Rockport and Mathis.

The schedule of clinics: Rockport - Fellowship Hall, First United Methodist Church, corner of Main and Live Oak Streets, 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each day.

Mathis Junior High Cafeteria, 401 East San Patricio Ave., 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. each day.

Meetings are being held in both San Patricio and Aransas Counties to accommodate the varied soil and water conditions of the areas, which often call for different production and cultural practices.

The speakers are all highly experienced in their areas of expertise and have, for the most part, been working in South Texas several years. They are: Dr. Jose Amador, Plant Pathologist, who will discuss "Vegetable Diseases, Nematodes, and their control"; Dr. James Robinson, Area Extension Entomologist, Corpus Christi, will discuss "Vegetable Insects common to our area and their control"; Dr. Samuel D. Cotner, Horticulturist, Texas A&M University, will discuss "Planning Your Vegetable Garden, Soil Management and Fertilization".

The events were planned and organized by the San Patricio and Aransas County Advisory committee

Hospital Volunteers Receive $9,000 Boost

The Commissioners' Court approved the first million dollar budget expenditure in the history of Aransas County Wednesday morning in regular session.

The total expenditure figure for 1977 as released by County Auditor Gussie Deane is $1,074,955.19, an increase of $153,615.75 over the 1976 budget total.

The budget increase reflects a variety of inflationary pressures, according to County Judge John Wendell, including a 12 percent, across the board cost of living salary increase for county employees, their first in three years. Wendell also noted increases in utility rates, gasoline prices, and the cost of food for county jail prisoners as contributing to the rise in county spending.

In other actions, Commissioners

--Awarded $9,000 on a one year trial basis to the Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., a non-profit, privately run corporation, for operational expenses for an emergency ambulance service. The award ended months of enthusiastic lobbying before commissioners by the organization, composed of citizens in Fulton, Rockport, Key Allegro and surrounding towns. The group recently received a $45,000 pledge from the Carl B. King Foundation for purchase of an advanced mobile life saving unit (ambulance). The group still has to receive city funds, obtain a back-up ambulance, and hire a trained technician/driver to operate the service with volunteer help.

--Transferred the commissioners' $150 a month expense payment to salary, raising their effective salaries to $11,606.25 per year. Commissioners will retain the use of all county road and bridge equipment, including a pickup, every fourth week. They will still use personal vehicles for county business during off weeks when a ride in the county's pickup is not available.

--Decided to seek renegotiation of a 10 year operational lease awarded by Aransas County Airport Manager Linwood Bland, with the commissioners' permission, to Aransas Aviation, Inc. The terms of the lease make the county responsible for all utility bills, and commissioners will use recent rate hikes as the premise for renegotiation. Utility bills currently run from $5-600 a month, and will rise in the winter months when longer nights will require more runway lighting.

--Decided to meet with the Board of Equalization and a representative of county consulting firm Pritchard and Abbott to formulate a reply to a letter by Central Power and Light threatening legal action over what it termed "grossly excessive and unfair" valuations of company property.

--Approved payment on bills totalling $13,151.76.

Fertilization Can Improve Grass Qualityby D.P. Pawlik
County Extension Agent (AG)
San Patricio & Aransas Co.

Late August or early September fertilization of summer grasses can improve their quality and extend the grazing period. This can result in a substantial reduction in the amount of hay and winter pasture needed.

What nutrients to include in the fertilizer depend on current soil levels and management planned for 1977. Phosphorus and potassium for next year along with some nitrogen can be applied this fall, especially if gulf ryegrass and a legume are to be planted. Research data show that best results are obtained when phosphorus is applied prior to planting in a summer perennial grass.

Among the advantages of fall fertilization of summer grasses are these:

1. An increase in the amount of quality of fall grazing.
 2. Avoids the spring rush to fertilize.
 3. Allows the time of applying nitrogen in the spring to be based on temperature.
 4. Added benefits where overseeding a cool season forage is concerned.
- Extending the fall grazing period through adequate fertilization can also pay numerous dividends.
- With plenty of time left to make top quality hay, producers

729-0257OTS Study Explodes 'Safe Myth'

Is the slow driver a safe driver? Not necessarily, according to a landmark study recently conducted for the Texas Office of Traffic Safety (OTS).

According to Ken Nevil, OTS administrator, the study on the causes of fatal traffic accidents reveals that while lives can be saved by controlling the average speed of motorists, an even more effective way of reducing fatalities may be to control the "speed differential."

"In basic terms," Nevil said, "speed differential is the difference in speeds between two vehicles traveling in the same direction on the same highway. According to the study, when one vehicle catches or passes another traveling at a slower rate of speed, the chance of an accident rises as the difference in the speeds of the two vehicles increase. And the higher the speed at the time of an accident, the greater the probability of serious injury or death. This result, of course, could be reduced by proper use of safety belts."

"The study explodes the myth that you can play it safe on the highway by traveling slowly," Nevil emphasized.

It is safer, according to Nevil, to move with the flow of traffic at the speed limit rather than forcing other drivers to pass because of a low rate of speed.

Three factors influencing the rate of traffic fatalities were recognized in the study: the average speed, variation in speed, and vehicle miles driven each year in Texas.

Researchers concluded that of the three factors only the average speed driven by Texans and the variation in speed of vehicles on the highway offered any possible alternative programs for control.

"The figures in the study show that small reductions in either the average speed or the speed differential will produce reasonably large reductions in fatalities."

For example, a one mile per hour reduction in either of these factors can be expected to save 40 to 50 lives annually in Texas. But of the two, variation in speed has the greater impact," he said.

While the cost and effectiveness of controlling variations in speed have not been determined, public awareness of the facts could have significant results.

"We've got to get our message across to the slow-poke holding up the normal flow of traffic that he may be the most dangerous person on the road," Nevil warned.

MR. AND MRS. JESSE W. SCHUMACHER

Yard of Month Award Given For September

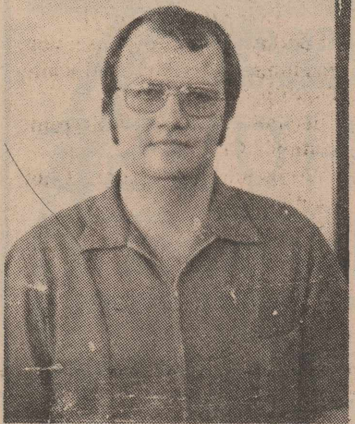

The Yard of the Month Award for September was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Jesse W. Schumacher, of 12 Edgewater on Key Allegro. The Schumachers moved here in 1971 from Nigeria after Mr. Schumacher retired from Mobil Oil International.

The yard is planted with Bermuda grass for easy maintenance. In the front yard there is a rock area planted with West Texas ocatillo and a variety of cactus. Natal plum is used as a border around part of the house. Planted on one side of the garage is a shrimp plant and a pyracantha. Along the driveway are mock roses and periwinkles.

Also in the front yard there is Indian hawthorn, peppermint, lace crape myrtle, gardenias, daisies, Texas laurel, an olive tree and a windmill palm.

Along the fence in the back yard are honeysuckle, oleanders, a wild fig tree, yellow roses, wild grape vines, trum-

Cyclists Share Safety Burden

Area residents and "chauffeur" parents are continually being warned to watch for school children during peak traffic hours in school zones and adjacent walkways.

Students who ride bicycles or walk to and from school also have a responsibility to obey traffic laws and stay aware of safety rules and regulations.

Crosswalks are marked and supervision is frequently provided for pedestrians in school zones, but bike riders follow the same traffic codes as automobile drivers and should follow the same practices recommended here by San Patricio Assistant County Extension Agent W.T. Paul:

--Obey all stop signs and traffic signals.

--Ride only on the right hand side of the road as near the curb as possible, or follow designated bicycle paths. Do not ride on sidewalks.

--Ride single file on narrow or busy streets. Avoid riding two abreast and never more than two.

--Don't carry another person on your bicycle. Use carriers only for books or packages.

--Never "stunt" or race in traffic.

--Walk your bicycle across busy streets.

--Don't weave in and out of traffic. Use hand signals to indicate your intention to turn or stop.

--Be alert for cars which may turn or stop ahead of you, and for suddenly opened doors when passing parked cars.

--Be certain your bicycle has the required headlight and rear light or reflector if you ride at night. Light colored clothing offers added protection for night riders.

--Keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition and properly adjusted for safe operation.

It was like an instant replay. Rockport quarterback Darryl Green would take the snap and make the option pitch to tailback Jeff Dietze. Dietze would skirt the ends and follow crushing blocks into the endzone almost untouched.

And all Aransas Pass could do was sit and watch, and watch, and watch...as Dietze scored four times on runs of 19, 7, 16 and 31 yards to lead the Pirates to a 28-7 win over arch rival Aransas Pass.

There were problems early, however. Just two plays into the game, the Pirates fumbled the ball away, giving the Panthers all the break they needed to jump in front 7-0. The Pirate defense made a goal line stand for three downs, but Aransas Pass went into the end-zone on fourth and two, and the kick after was good.

Rockport tried to move on two other occasions, but the result was the same, a turnover. Not until the Pirate defense made its first big play did the Pirate offense begin to generate. Safety Charlie Edler stepped in front of an Aransas Pass aerial and returned the interception to midfield to put the Pirates in business. At that point Darryl Green shifted into high gear and broke for 33 yards to the 20 yardline of the Panthers. Two plays later from the 19, Dietze took the pitch and followed a crushing block by tight end Ronnie Ormand to score for the Pirates. The point after was kicked through the uprights by Ormand, tying the score at 7-7. That score stood for the remainder of the first half.

Aransas Pass used the slashing running of tailback Caleb Brown to deal the Pirate defenders much misery, but after halftime the Pirates solved the Panther offense and snuffed off any other Panther threats. Brown finished the night with 90 yards in 30 carries, but what is not seen in those stats are the 30 yards Brown lost when thrown for losses by the Pirate defense.

In the second half Aransas Pass took the kickoff but got nowhere and was forced to punt. The punt was only three yards, and the Pirates were on the way to scoring again. Dietze carried three times for 22 yards, going in from 7 yards to cap off the drive.

As the Pirates set themselves for the point after attempt, a bad snap, looking much like a bowling ball, wobbled back to Green who picked up the ball and scampered around the left end for 2 points and a 15-7 Pirate lead.

In the fourth period the Pirates set up two Dietze scores with tough defense. The first time AP was forced to punt. The kick was fielded by Pirate cornerback Keith Barrett, who returned it to the Panther 18 yardline. Two plays later Dietze went in from 16 yards out behind another crunching block by Ormand. The PAT was no good, but the Pirates led by 21-7.

Aransas stormed back after the kickoff, but Barrett was again the man in the right place, snagging a Panther pass that gave the Pirates the ball on the Panther 31. It took only one play for Dietze to take Green's pitch and zip into the endzone. Ormand added the kick for the final point of the evening.

The Panthers made one final desperate attempt to score as time ran out, but Pirate line-backer Joe Brooks came up with a loose football and the Pirates had "iced" the victory.

After the game, Coach Volle Williams was happy but cautious: "We looked a lot better, but we still have a lot to do." Coach Roy Chapa cited center Gary Heasley and guards Bruce Barre and Bill Adams, along with Ormand, for fine blocking on offense.

Linebacker John Picton led all Pirates on defense with 10 individual tackles and 10 assists. Noseman Eugene Garcia contributed 14 tackles, Brooks added 11, and Ruben Carpenter, Dietze, along with Jeff Crosby all were in on 10 tackles.

The Pirates have Sept. 10 off before entertaining Class AA Refugio at Pirate Stadium on Sept. 17 in their home opener.

HE MADE IT. Rockport's Jeff Dietze eluded this Aransas Pass defender to score one of his four touchdowns Friday night.

The Pirates sailed through the Pass to a 28-7 opening win, avenging a 42-26 loss in 1975. (Pilot Staff Photo by Perry Carter)

JVs Tie Aransas; Frosh Lose Opener

The Rockport-Fulton Junior Varsity struck early in the game and then had to hold on to secure an 8-8 tie with Aransas Pass Thursday night at Pirate Stadium in the season opener. Tailback Mark McCabe did all the Pirate scoring, romping 50 yards for a touchdown, and carrying for the following two point conversion.

After McCabe's heroics, Aransas Pass came back quickly to tie the score, moving in from just 30 yards out after a Pirate fumble.

The JV Panthers also made good on a two point conversion try, and the score evened up at 8-8.

Defense was the name of the game after the early burst of scoring, and neither team threatened in a second half marred by interceptions and fumbles.

McCabe was the offensive star for the Pirates, racking up 102 yards on 19 carries behind tough blocking from the line.

Brent Glover was the defensive headhunter, with 16 tackles including seven on his own. Defensive tackle Raymond Baue had 11 tackles and a fumble recovery for the Pirates.

Other Panther fumbles went to McCabe, Paul Harris and Jimmy Cruser. Scott Casterline and McCabe made interceptions for the JVs in the home and season opener.

The JVs, open this week, will go after their first win Sept. 16 at Refugio.

Rockport-Fulton's Freshman Pirates fought Aransas Pass all the way but lost 12-0 on a pair of second half touchdowns set up by a fumble and a pass interception.

The game was the home and season opener for James Moore and Jim Rainey's Freshmen. They have an open date this week to prepare for a Sept. 15 date with Refugio in Refugio.

Against Aransas Pass, the offense was shut out but one defense played very soundly despite the two Panther TDs. Defenders David Weiss, Jerry Canchola, Esequiel Hernandez and Hector Saucedo were all standouts with at least nine tackles each. Canchola and Ronald Allen also gathered in Aransas Pass fumbles.

Tagged Redfish Reports Vital To Biologists

Only a handful of tagged redfish released in April 1976 in Matagorda Bay have been caught and reported to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department coastal fisheries personnel.

In late April, some 6,000 redfish, tagged through the mouth with metal plates, were released in the bay. Biologists hope to gather important data, such as migration patterns, mortality rates, and adaptability to bay environment from these tagged fish.

"The fish were six inches long when released. They should be approaching catchable size (14 inches) by now," said Jim Stevens, P&WD fin-fish program director.

The fish were pond-reared at the National Marine Fisheries Station and released near Well Point in Matagorda Bay. Thus far, only three of the fish, which have silver tags attached to their mouths, have been reported caught by anglers.

"We need the fisherman's cooperation in this project. It is vital that any tagged redfish be reported to the nearest Parks and Wildlife Department office," Stevens stressed.

Date and location of the catch, as well as the size of the fish and the tag number are needed for the study.

Dupre, Lawrence Tourney Winners

Twelve women participated in the special Ladies Day 18 hole golf tournament held last Wednesday at Live Oak Country Club.

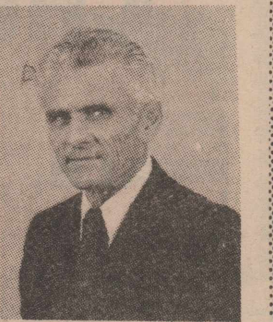

Helen Dupre won low gross score honors with a 95.

Patsy Lawrence took low net honors with a 68.

Ollie Rogero was on top in green play with a low putt total of 33.

Outdoors 'n Things

BY L. D. NUCKLES

In talking to our Parks and Wildlife coastal fishery biologists I'm told that nothing new is going on -- just routine work. Further discussion, however, brought out the information that the program of marking the reefs all along the coast is progressing well.

This is an attempt to mark major bay reefs so sport fishermen who are not too well acquainted with the waters will be able to locate specific areas. It is felt the commercial fishermen know the waters well enough to not need this help, but it is just possible some of them may also derive some benefit from the program.

The major reefs in all the bays are being marked with Styrofoam buoys or, in some instances, with six-inch, semi-flexible, PVC pipe jetted into the bay bottom. The buoys will be anchored with large concrete anchors and stainless steel cable. All markers will have a Parks and Wildlife decal and the name of the reef on them. It is a violation of the law to tie a boat to the markers or to tamper with them in any way.

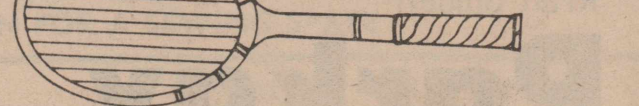

The reefs along the Upper Coast have all been marked with the exception of two in San Antonio Bay and one in Espiritu Santos which will receive buoys, and there is still one pipe to be installed in East Matagorda.

The work in the Coastal Bend and Baffin Bay areas has been held up a little bit. The man doing the work has a broken ankle and has been hobbling around on a walking cast. He has, however, got all the buoys out except three in Aransas Bay and five in Baffin. The Aransas buoys should be in place by the time this is printed and the five in Baffin are waiting for the permits from the Corps of Engineers to come through.

Eighteen of the PVC pipes still remain to be installed in this area. The work on jetties them in will begin very soon.

When all the markers are in place work begins on drawing, reproducing, and distributing charts to show all the marked reefs. These charts will be available at all coastal offices of the Parks and Wildlife Department, but probably not until after the first of the year.

80 Attend Rockport 'Workshop on Aging'

Approximately 80 Rockport citizens attended the Workshop on Aging held Aug. 29 in the VFW Hall.

A.A.R.P. local President John Leslie presided over the program, which included discussions and reports on the various benefits and services offered to the aging in Aransas and surrounding counties.

Leonard Redding, Director of the Area Agency on Aging, a function of the Coastal Bend Council of Governments, opened the meeting with a report on the concepts and opportunities for older Americans set out in the Older Americans Act.

Local Council on Aging Director Neil Gage followed with a discussion of his organization's activities, the services it is rendering to the aging in Aransas County, and its connections to the Rockport Chapter of A.A.R.P.

Public Health Nurse Sandra Garrett, R.N., closed the first half of the agenda with a report on the many county services sponsored by the Commissioners' Court.

Schlessinger Foundation representative Helen Fritz opened the second portion of the workshop with a discussion of services available locally through the Foundation. She noted the services are covered by Medicare if requested by a doctor and performed by nurses in the home.

Mr. Tom Toporowski of the Department of Public Welfare followed with a report on the many home care services available.

County Commissioner Raymond Owens then reported that Commissioners' Court had agreed earlier in the day to contribute $9,000 on a one year trial basis toward the operation of an emergency ambulance service for Aransas County.

John Schultz, Director of the Elderly Nutrition Program of San Patricio County, explained how his organization was supplying at least 140 meals daily to various communities.

The audience then participated in a question and answer session moderated by Joel Espurova, Program Coordinator for the Area Agency on Aging.

Janet Cron, Planner for the Area Agency on Aging, closed the Workshop by passing out questionnaires which permitted the audience to grade various existing services, and to give their opinions on priorities for services not yet available.

Cookbook Proceeds To Aid Volunteers

Recipes are being requested for Community Cookbook to be published, with the proceeds going to the Aransas County Hospital Fund.

According to Johnnie Vermillion, Cookbook Chairman of the Aransas County Hospital Volunteers, Inc., there will be sections for "My Mother's Favorites," "Recipes for Male Cooks," etc. Everyone is asked to send their favorite recipe, in any category, for food preparation.

Mail recipes to "Cookbook", P.O. Box 338, Fulton, Texas 78358, or leave them at the Hospital Volunteer Workshop, Encina Plaza between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. every Tuesday and Wednesday.

Please get all recipes in as soon as possible; the books will go to press on or about Sept. 20.

GI Bill Records Peak Enrollment

A record 2,821,514 persons training under the GI Bill during fiscal year 1976 represented the peak enrollment in the ten-year educational assistance program, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Richard L. Roudebush said today.

The enrollments represented a 4.8 per cent increase over the previous year when the rate of increase over FY 1974 was 14.1 per cent.

Trainees under all VA educational programs in FY 1976 totaled 2,950,279. Training was provided 80,659 eligible sons and daughters and 19,092 spouses, widows and widowers under the dependents' educational program. A total of 29,014 disabled veterans received rehabilitation training.

More than 6.5 million veterans and service personnel have received some form of training under the current GI Bill since June 1, 1966, including 5.1 million Vietnam era veterans. During the 12-year life of the World War II GI Bill, 7.8 million persons received training. The Korean Conflict bill attracted 2.4 million participants during its 12 1/2 year history.

Participation rates of all those eligible under the current program have exceeded those of its two predecessors. Particularly impressive has been the 63.4 per cent participation by Vietnam-era veterans, Roudebush said. The participation rate was 43.4 per cent among Korean War veterans and 50.5 by World War II veterans.

Enrollment in college training by Vietnam-era veterans (36.0 per cent) has far surpassed ed trainees from World War II (14.4) and the Korean War (22.0).

New trainees in FY 1976 totaled 736,000, down from last year's 890,000.

Veterans have eligibility for educational training for 10 years after release from active duty. For farm cooperative, apprentice or on-the-job training and flight training, eligibility ceases 10 years from date of last separation from military service after Jan. 31, 1955, or August 30, 1977, whichever is later.

Governor Proclaims Sept. 25 Hunting, Fishing Day

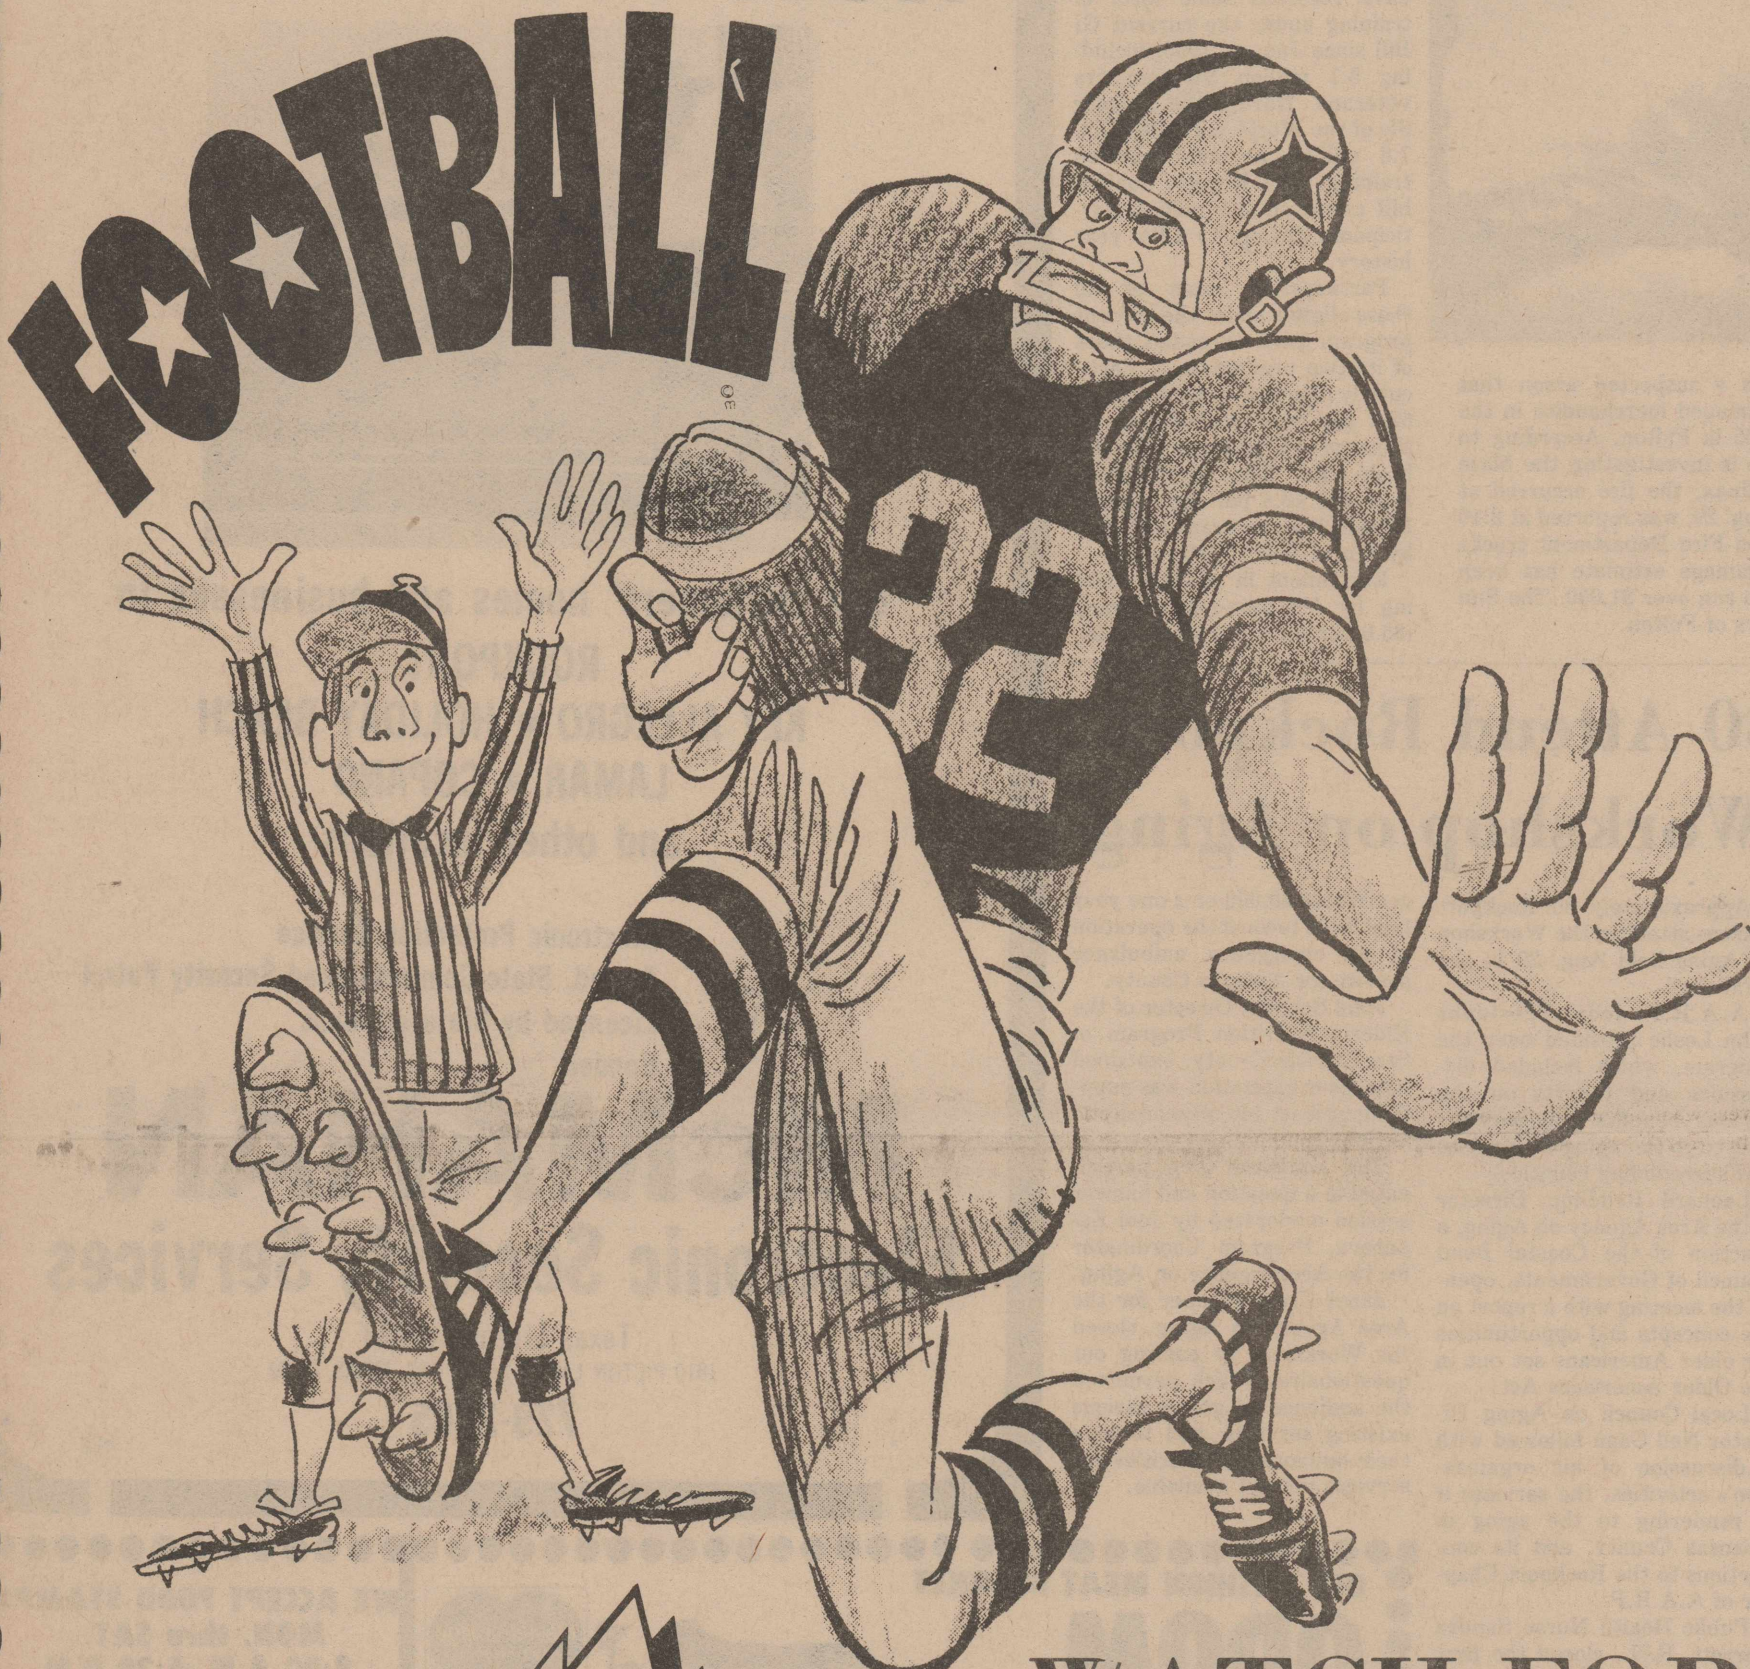

Sept. 25 has been set aside by Gov. Dolph Briscoe as "Texas Hunting and Fishing Day" in recognition of the contributions state outdoorsmen make to conservation.

In his proclamation, Gov. Briscoe cited Texas hunters and fishermen for their support of game restoration and law enforcement through the purchase of hunting and fishing licenses. "...game animals such as deer, quail and turkeys now exist in greater numbers than ever during this century and...millions of acres of freshwater lakes now contain great populations of both native as well as introduced varieties of fishes," stated the Governor's proclamation.

Briscoe urged all citizens to "join with hunters-anglers-conservationists in renewing our appreciation for and dedication to proper use of natural resources now and for future generations."

UNEMPLOYMENT PRESENTS MAJOR MENTAL HEALTH PROBLEM

Prolonged unemployment can be more than a pain in the pocketbook. It can cause depression, anger and even sexual impotence in some people, according to the Texas Medical Association.

Some social psychologists say unemployment is one of the nation's major mental health problems. About 283,400 Texans are unemployed, according to the most recent Texas Employment Commission statistics.

A recent study outlined in "Today's Health" magazine shows that people often rely on their jobs for a sense of identity and self-worth. A job even gives people a sense of time since they must function on some type of set schedule.

Work can give people status, a sense of independence and a means of contact with society. "Lack of work, especially for a male, puts him in a psychological no-man's land," says the study's author, Hannah Levin, Ph.D., a New York psychology professor.

Sometimes people, attempting to relieve their feelings, strike out in anger at the nearest object. Some turn to alcohol or other drugs. Others flee to schools, hospitals or other institutionalized settings.

Obviously the best cure for the ills of unemployment is getting a job. But it is equally obvious this can be very difficult.

One psychiatrist suggests people work off their anger by participating in sports and other physical activities. Expanding anger in physical activity can keep stress from being internally disabling or exploding destructively.

Walter Reifslager, M.D., president-elect of the Texas District Branch of the American Psychiatric Association, also suggests people keep working toward their long-range goals even if short-term aims such as quickly finding a job are frustrated. He says any kind of self-improvement effort will help keep a person from feeling powerless, apathetic, and hopeful.

PUBLIC NOTICE

SUMMARY OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS GENERAL ELECTION NOV. 2, 1976

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (S.J.R. 49)

Repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution, S.J.R. 49 amends Section 49-c of Article III of the Texas Constitution to provide for and authorize an additional $400 million in Texas water development bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the members of each house of the Legislature for such water development purposes as the Legislature may prescribe.

The amendment contains a specific prohibition against the use of state funds for the development of water resources from the Mississippi River and also requires that before any single water development project may be undertaken requiring the expenditure of more than $35 million in bond proceeds, it must be approved by resolution of the Legislature.

The amendment removes the constitutional requirement that certain revenues must be used to retire water development and water quality enhancement bonds and removes the constitutional interest rate limit on such bonds.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing an increase of $400 million in the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued on approval of two-thirds of the legislature; amending and consolidating provisions of Sections 49-c, 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution; and repealing Sections 49-d and 49-d-1 of Article III of the Texas Constitution."

NUMBER TWO ON THE BALLOT (H.J.R. 99)

H.J.R. 99 proposes an amendment to the Texas Constitution to increase from $100 million to $200 million the aggregate principle amount of Texas water development bonds which may be issued and outstanding by the Texas Water Development Board to provide grants and loans for water quality enhancement purposes as established by the Legislature.

The wording of the proposed amendment as it will appear on the ballot is as follows:

"A constitutional amendment to increase from $100 million to $200 million the amount of Texas Water Development Bonds that may be issued for water quality enhancement purposes." c27

SS Administration Explains Supplements

In January, 1974, the Social Security Administration instituted the Supplemental Security Income Program. This is an income maintenance program for persons 65 or older, or those blind or disabled who have limited income and resources. Anyone who feels he may be eligible to receive Supplemental Security Income checks is encouraged to apply at the Social Security office.

A.L. Finck, Jr., social security district manager in Corpus Christi, says that Supplemental Security Income claims can usually be processed quickly provided the applicant brings certain items with him when he files for benefits. Bringing the necessary documents may also make it unnecessary to return to the Social Security office in many cases, Finck said.

What to bring to file a claim depends on the type of Supplemental Security Income claim. For example, a person 65 or older will need to prove his age, so his birth or baptismal certificate will be necessary. On the other hand, a person applying on the basis of disability or blindness should bring the names, addresses, and phone numbers of all doctors, hospitals, and other medical facilities that have treated them for disability. Some items (for example, proof of age) may not be required from persons who are presently drawing Social Security Benefits, Finck said.

Since Supplemental Security Income eligibility also depends on having limited income and resources, a person will need evidence of things he owns and proof of recent earnings and unearned income. Proofs will include for example, W-2 forms, a copy of the most recent tax return, check books, savings account books, stocks and bonds, life insurance policies, auto registration cards, and the most recent real estate tax statements. Also award letters showing the amount of VA pensions, civil service annuities, social security, or other similar benefits will be helpful in processing a Supplemental Security Income claim. Applicants who are married should also bring documents showing their husband's or wife's income and resources, Finck added.

Since every recipient must be a citizen of the United States or an alien lawfully admitted for residence, a voter's registration card or alien registration card will be necessary. A birth certificate, passport or certification of naturalization will also be sufficient to establish citizenship.

Finck reminds anyone applying for Supplemental Security Income benefits to be sure and bring their Social Security number and their husband's or wife's number to the office when they plan to file for benefits. Anyone who is interested in filing may call the Social Security office at 992-1201 for any information regarding their eligibility for the program.

WORK HAS BEGUN on a major expansion of the HEB Family Center located at 301 N. Austin Street in Rockport. Neither local manager Gary James or the HEB Corpus Christi office was able to make an estimate on the date of completion for the project. HEB has already acquired land north of the store to provide parking facilities in anticipation of the expansion.

GI Insurance Premiums To Be Reduced For Some

An estimated 180,000 veterans, holding $1.2 billion worth of National Service Life Insurance (NSLI) will have their premiums reduced Oct. 1, the Veterans Administration reported today.

Affected are policyholders who have service-connected disabilities, and whose NSLI insurance policy numbers are prefixed with the letters "J" or "JR."

A VA spokesman explained that excess interest income accrued on those policies prompted the premium decreases.

Reductions for some 154,000 insureds with "J" policies will amount to about $32 per year. Another 26,000 veterans with "JR" coverage will have their premiums decreased by about $81 annually.

Amounts of the new premiums will vary with age, plan and premium classification, a VA spokesman said.

Congress provided for a one-year reopening of the NSLI program in 1965 for disabled veterans because of difficulties in obtaining coverage from commercial sources. The new law required that premiums be calculated on a non-dividend basis and that the VA evaluate premium rates periodically.

This will be the first premium reduction for "JR" policyholders. Premiums on "J" policies were decreased in 1970.

Area Workers Raise $715 For Telethon

Volunteers manning telephones at the Shoe and Sandal Shop in Rockport collected $715 for the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon to aid in the fight against muscular dystrophy.

Money from the Rockport area was passed on to Corpus Christi and from there to the national headquarters in Las Vegas and added to the more than $21,000,000 collected nationwide.

Rockport coordinator Sharon Hicks directed 14 volunteers in the local effort, including Kathy Hicks, Becky Hale, Pam Bateman, Beverly Barnard, Jan Johnson, Mary Watson, Kathy Heffernan, Laura Samora, and Jeannie Pena.

Also, Teresa Milks, Elizabeth Evans, Judy Thomas, Bill Barrow and Elizabeth Garcia.

Local facilities for the Telethon were donated by Mrs. Gloria Wells, of Shoe and Sandal Shop, and the local office of Southwestern Bell.

The $715 collected brought to $1465 the collective total of contributions from Rockport. The Nike Club had collected $750 in a drive held earlier, and presented that amount to the Corpus Christi coordinators on KDET-TV Saturday.

In Mexico, Beware Montezuma's Revenge

People headed for Mexico need to be wary of Montezuma's revenge, Delhi belly, border blues, the tourists, Casablanca crud, Mexico two-step, just a few of the slang names for what is politely called traveler's diarrhea.

The Texas Medical Association points out that there are several precautions to take to avoid the problem. Unfortunately none of them are absolutely guaranteed to keep travelers from having a lengthy tour of Mexican restrooms. Studies show between one-third and one-fourth of visitors to Mexico get the tourists.

Organisms in tap water, ice, uncooked shellfish and salads, raw vegetables and inadequately cooked foods often waylay travelers. Germs love lukewarm temperatures so eating only very cold or hot foods that are well-cooked may cut down danger some-although it is no absolute guarantee of safety.

Raw fruits peeled by the traveler generally are safe. Bottled carbonated beverages and alcoholic beverages also usually are considered usable. Drinking water can be boiled and even very hot tap water may be used for brushing teeth. Make sure the seal is unbroken on purified bottled water, "agua purificado."

One of the few things definitely known about traveler's diarrhea is the symptoms. Usually within 10 days of arrival, the unlucky tourist is stricken with diarrhea and possibly cramps, nausea, vomiting, chills and fever. Lucky travelers recover within about a day. For others the misery can last for a week or more.

Some doctors recommend letting traveler's diarrhea run its course with little or no medication. Most turista attacks, about 55 percent, are relatively mild, consisting of only one episode lasting one to three days. However, even a mild case can ruin a holiday so many people resort to the many pills, liquids and suppositories available. A quick call to a physician before leaving may provide some helpful hints on medication.

One of the biggest problems with traveler's diarrhea is loss of body fluids and chemicals. Canned fruit juice, bottled carbonated drinks, bouillon, purified water, etc. can help.

The only people who face any really dangerous problems with traveler's diarrhea are the very old and very young, people with muscle and kidney diseases and people who have had stomach surgery. Their bodies can have trouble coping with fluid and chemical loss. Some may not have necessary stomach acids and organisms to combat disease well. A patient's physician can best advise about safety of Mexican travel in these instances.

Minor Operation

Jim: "You don't seem to think much of him."
Joe: "If he had his conscience taken out, it would be a minor operation."

Blow Out

"When he got up this morning, doctor, he took an aspirin, vitamins, iron pills, pills for his ulcer, cough medicine and drugs for a cold. When he lit a cigarette there was some kind of explosion."

Any Better Answer

"I've never heard a man talk so fast in my life."
"Why shouldn't he? His father was a tobacco auctioneer and his mother was a woman."

One on the Button

Mr. Grouch--"Woman is nothing but a rag, a bone, and a hank of hair."
Mrs. Grouch--"Man is nothing but a brag, a groan and a tank of air."

Etiquette

Mother (to small boy who is going to a party)--"Now, dear, what are you going to do when you've had enough to eat?"
Little Tommy--"Come home."

Sounds Good

I felt his breath on my cheek
And the gentle touch of his hand;
His very presence near me,
Like a breeze on a desert sand;
Hedefly, sought my lips,
And my head did gently hold;
Then he broke the silence with
"Shall the filling be silver or gold?"

THIS BELEAGUERED ROCKPORT resident was caught rubbernecking the parade of Labor Day weekend skiers who roared past on Saturday and Sunday. Monday was a traveling day for most visitors and the ski basin was relatively calm. They'll be back soon, however, for the Oct. 9-10 SeaFair, and this little sad sack will have to find a safer place to roost.

Importing Plants Takes Time; Plan Ahead And Obtain Permit

Importers or travelers who wish to bring foreign plants, soil and plant products (fruits or vegetables) into the United States must plan ahead. About six weeks may be required to process an import permit, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Under federal quarantine regulations, USDA permits must be obtained when importing most plant materials. These regulations are designed to protect America's plant life from destructive foreign insects and diseases that often "hitchhike" here with imported plants.

"Issuing permits (which are free of charge) is not an automatic process," explained Jack Lipes, head of the Permit Unit of USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service (APHIS). "Certain facts must be established to make sure imports will pose no threat of spreading foreign plant insects and diseases to the United States. This often involves an exchange of letters with the person requesting the permit."

When making application for permits, include the following: (1) country of plant origin (if Canada, give city and province; if Mexico, give state); (2) quantity and name of plants; (3) whether import will be plants, cuttings, seeds, fruits, or other plant parts; (4) purpose of import (for planting, consumption, etc.); (5) U.S. port of arrival; (6) means of importation (mail, air freight, personal baggage, etc.); and (7) date of traveler's intended departure or date of order.

For information or permit applications, write to: Permit Unit; USDA, APHIS: Federal Building, Room 638; Hyattsville, Md. 20782.

"To avoid disappointment, allow sufficient time," advises Mr. Lipes. "You should plan ahead for permits as you would for vaccinations, passports, and reservations."

Construction Permits Sought From Engineers

Three Rockport-Fulton area projects have been received by the U.S. Corps of Engineers office for review and certification.

The Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, based in Chicago, Illinois, proposes to place a six-inch natural gas pipeline which would extend from an Exxon platform one and a half miles east from Rockport to a point two and a half miles north from Fulton. The pipeline would be placed by jetting in the bay area, and by barge mounted dragline or backhoe near the shore approximately 1,500 feet bayward. The pipeline would be placed parallel to (150') the applicant's 10-inch pipeline, and would replace it when in service.

The Hunt Oil Company of Dallas proposes to erect and maintain and perform work for drilling a single well producing oil and gas on State Tract 84 in Aransas Bay approximately one mile south of Fulton. If the well is productive, a two and a half inch pipeline would be placed from the well and 9,950 feet southwesterly across the bay to shore facilities.

Fulton's D & T Seafood proposes to construct a bulkhead 410 feet long to connect an existing bulkhead and retain approximately 1,000 cubic yards of future dredged material.

Mr. Billy Joe Herwald of Refugio plans to construct a bulkhead with returns in Copano Bay on Egery Island near Black Point approximately one and a half miles southeast from Bayside, Texas.

Foreign Journalists Plan Visit

Texas' alligators, Virginia whitetail deer, wild turkeys and pigs will star as ten journalists from six nations visit the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Corpus Christi, Sept. 9-13 to hunt wildlife with camera and pen.

Three wildlife areas will be visited by the foreign journalists as part of the "Wildlands, USA" familiarization tour sponsored by the United States Travel Service (USTS), the U.S. Department of Commerce agency that is the national government tourism office.

Prior to arriving in Texas the participants will visit the J. Clark Salyer National Wildlife Refuge in Minot, N. Dak., and Glacier National Park near Kalispell, Mont.

The Corpus Christi area portion of the thirteen day tour is being conducted in cooperation with the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge and the Corpus Christi Area Convention and Tourist Bureau.

Participating journalists are Maria Eugenia Declementi, general program coordinator, and Ignacio Lozano, cameraman, Channel 13 TV, Mexico; Osao Otsuka, senior journalist, and Susumu Saegusa, senior photographer, Ryoko Yomiuri magazine, Tokyo; Wolfgang Stiens, journalist, and Amos Schliack, photographer, Geo Magazine, West Germany; Ted Gorsline, freelance writer for Out-of-Doors magazine, Toronto; Lise Hue, reporter for La Vie des Betes magazine, Paris; Nigel Sitwell editor, Wildlife Magazine, and Michael Freeman, freelance photographer, London.

Larry Gaffney, USTS's manager of news media tours is escorting the group.

Blood Bank Supplies 18 Hospitals

By Juliet K. Wenger
Coastal Bend
Council of Governments
An alarm sounding in the office of a security agency usually warns of a possible burglary. In certain instances, it can signal a malfunction in a refrigerator or deep freeze. This precaution is taken to maintain temperature control to protect a precious substance, blood. The blood is stored in the Community Blood Bank which serves the Coastal Bend. The bank supplies 18 hospitals in the region.

Bill Henderson, who administers the bank, is an active member of the COG's Health Planning Council and is on the board of the new Health Systems Agency for South Texas. He says the blood bank is as sophisticated as any in the most populous areas of the nation.

Blood is now made available in many different ways for specific needs. Whole blood, which must be used within 21 days, provides both cells and the volume needed in, say, burn cases. Red cells, which can be frozen and stored for three years, are the only necessity in most cases. Plasma, which is the fluid the cells float in, is removed before the freezing. Removal of plasma gets rid of antibodies which are sometimes a cause of reaction when blood is infused. Left is a pure product which is a perfect vehicle for carrying oxygen through the system, which is what the red cells do. The plasma alone has many uses. One is in cosmetics. A chicken pox plasma can go to a child with leukemia to provide antibodies and avoid chicken pox, which would be a serious disease for that child.

This blood comes from men and women throughout the region who give it without remuneration. Some give to replace blood used by friends or relatives who have had need for it. Some give as members of a Donor's Club. In such clubs, 50 or more people band together, from an industry, a church or any congregation, and "donate" one pint of blood each every year. This covers all costs of as much blood as that person or his or her dependents may need during the year. Others give blood in a Family Plan. One member of the family donates a pint of blood a year, which pays the replacement fee for blood for all family members.

Blood is expensive, if you have not looked ahead and provided family protection. The hospital pays a $15 replacement fee and $30 service fee for each pint of blood, and charges the patient that, plus the cost of infusing. Henderson says a family may be ruined financially by the heavy cost of blood if an accident or illness results in a requirement for quantities of it.

Most people are a little squeamish the first time they prepare to give blood. But Henderson said the prick of a finger to draw blood for testing is the most pain involved. You receive a mini-physical so that you know there is no problem with the condition of your health. And the after effects are good, not bad. Henderson explains that the spleen is the blood reservoir, replacing blood in the circulatory system. A couple of glasses of water or any liquid replaces the volume of the plasma within 30 to 40 minutes. The bone marrow manufactures red cells and replaces them in about two weeks. The marrow has the capacity to work six times harder than it normally does. Six days after the giving of blood, you feel a spurt of energy because of the new oxygen the cells have delivered to your system.

Paid donors are high risk, as they are often less than honest in answer to health questions and many are addicts, increasing the danger of hepatitis. But there are no paid donors at the Community Blood Bank, which is a non-profit organization and self-supporting. Blood is drawn into a bag with a coagulant in it. Otherwise it would clot and be useless. Then it is extensively tested before it is stored whole or in its component parts. Blood donations may be made at the Bank, which is at 1620 So. Brownlee in Corpus Christi, or a mobile unit, which travels to all cities of the region.

You may consider it paying a premium on an insurance policy. Or you may think of it as a most personal gift to your fellow man.

Driving Course Cuts Insurance Rate Hike

Automobile insurance rates will go up an average of 7.1 percent statewide on Oct. 1.

Local drivers can obtain a 10 percent discount on those rising rates, however, by completing the Defensive Driving Course sponsored by the National Safety Association and conducted through the Texas Safety Association in Texas.

"I am convinced," says Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie, "that if an individual is truly concerned about what he or she will pay for insurance and cares enough about life and limb and accident prevention, the DDC course is the most logical step a driver can take."

Mr. Ron Jones, Corpus Christi Safety Director, will conduct two classes of this course in Corpus Christi during September.

The first class will be held at St. Luke's Methodist Church, 3151 Reid Drive. Class will run a total of eight hours on three consecutive Tuesdays, Sept. 14, 21 and 28.

The second class will be held at Del Mar Junior College on Sept. 15, 22 and 29.

A limited number of senior citizens discounts are available at the second class only. The total cost of the classes is nine dollars per person. For further discount information and class starting times, contact the city safety division at 1-512-884-3011. Enrollment is limited.

About all a football pool does for us is to sink our spending money.

$29.5 Million Saved By Earned Income Credit

Figures released by the Internal Revenue Service district office here indicate that the special earned income credit for 1975 brought $29.5 million in spendable money to southern Texas households this year.

Robert M. McKeever, district director, said that 144,000 families in the southern half of the state claimed the 1975 credit and received checks averaging $204 per family. Included in the number is 8,500 families who did not pay tax but qualified for the special tax credit.

McKeever pointed out that the special ten per cent credit is still available to those who qualify and have not claimed it. He explained that "generally, it is a simple matter to find out if you qualify." Just ask yourself these two questions:

(1) Did I earn less than $8,000 in 1975?
(2) Did I pay more than half the cost of maintaining a home in the U.S. for myself and one dependent child for the entire year?

If the answer to both questions is "yes", you likely qualify and should contact IRS even though you did not file a tax return for 1975. Tax information telephone numbers are listed in the telephone directories.

County Extension Agent (AG)
San Patricio & Aransas Co.

A lot of discussion has taken place during the last month on the effect of the wet weather on the yield and grade of our grain sorghum crop. A comparison was made on a 28 variety grain sorghum demonstration which was harvested on the Bill Ordner farm in Nueces County before and after the prolonged rainy period. Extension Agents from San Patricio County assisted in harvesting, threshing and collecting data from the Ordner farm demonstration after the rainy spell.

The average of all the 28 hybrids before the rain was 6,226 pounds per acre as compared to 3,661 pounds per acre after the rain. The reduction in yield was 2,565 pounds or 41 per cent loss per acre.

Only one of the four grain variety demonstration plots in San Patricio County was harvested before the rains in early July. The rest of the crop was also harvested before the rains making it impossible to get before and after the rain data.

The average bushel weight of all 28 varieties before the rain was 54 as compared to average of 47 after the rain. The highest bushel weight before the rain was 60 with the lowest being 49.

After the rain, the bushel weight ranged from 55 down to 39. Total damaged kernels on the weathered grain ranged from 9 to 90 per cent on the hybrids.

In addition to this information, a complete feed analysis was made on 12 of the hybrids to compare the feeding value before and after the wet weather. The complete feed analysis showed practically no difference as to the feeding value of samples submitted of the same hybrid before and after rain. The cost for running the 24 samples was paid for by South Texas Cotton and Grain Association.

Plant height, disease readings, threshability and other weathering data is in the process of being compiled on this demonstration.

Similar weathering data was collected on the 67 hybrids planted on the Jack Schmalstieg farm south of Sinton. The kernel damage ranged from 7.4 to over 96 per cent. The bushel weight ranged from 27.5 to 53.0. The total weathering on the hybrids on the Schmalstieg farm was more severe than those same hybrids on the Ordner farm in Nueces County. This information has been worked up and is available in the County Extension office, Courthouse, Sinton.

Postal Subsidy, Rate Freeze Seen

Senator Lloyd Bentsen Thursday said he is hopeful that a postal subsidy bill which prohibits the closing of post offices and freezes postal rates at their current level, will be signed into law early this month.

The Senate has already approved the compromise measure and the House of Representatives is expected to follow suit next Wednesday.

"Proposals to shut down 3rd and 4th class post offices threaten more than 600 post offices in rural areas and smaller cities in Texas," Bentsen stated. "Many, in fact, have already been closed. (Rockport's 1st class and Fulton's 2nd class offices have never been threatened.)"

"Plans to further reduce postal services, by such things as eliminating mail deliveries on Saturdays, threaten everyone in our state," Bentsen added.
