Red Police Catholics, Stage Melee

By GENE KRAMER

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — About 1,000 hymn-singing Polish Catholics clashed with club-swinging police Sunday night in two attempts to march on Communist party headquarters in Warsaw.

At the height of the outbreak, helmeted police charged into a chanting crowd of youthful supporters of Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Polish primate, and began swinging their truncheons. Newsmen saw at least two persons struck by clubs and reported several arrested.

The violence erupted 10 years to the month after the bloody 1956 riot of Polish workers in Poznan which set off a shock wave felt throughout the Communist world. The trouble in Poznan was a forerunner of the Hungarian revolution.

The Catholic hierarchy and Poland's Communist regime have been at odds for months over a proposal by Polish bishops for Polish-German reconciliation.

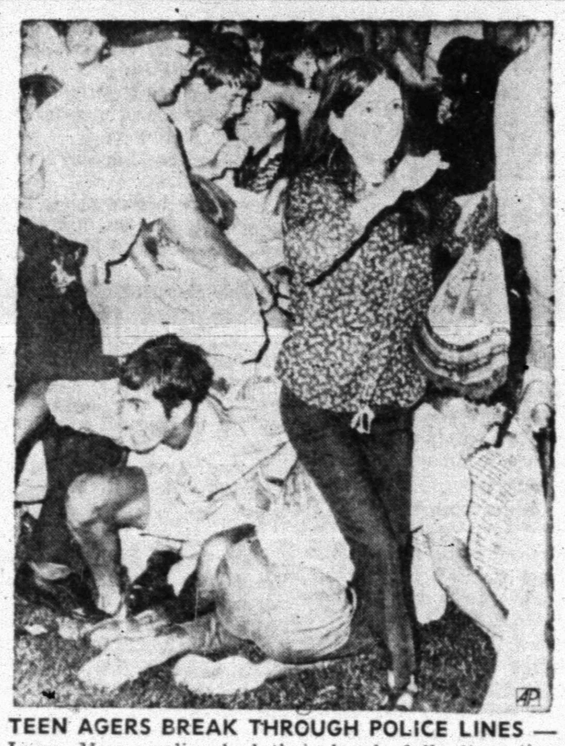
As a result of the controversy the government rejected a proposed visit to Poland by Pope Paul VI, barred Cardinal Wyszynski from traveling abroad and closed Polish borders to foreign pilgrims during the celebration this year of the millennium of Christianity in Poland.

On May 29 several hundred demonstrators tore down and burned a big government signboard in Gdansk — Danzig — after an ovation for the cardinal. Police broke up the crowd and arrested more than a dozen.

A confrontation between police and at least 1,000 Catholics nearly erupted in violence Friday night. Shouting demonstrators refused to let motorcycle police clear the street in front of the primate's palace and the policemen finally rode off.

Sunday night's demonstrations started after more than 50,000 Catholics jammed St. John's Cathedral and nearby streets for services including a week-long celebration of the millennium in Warsaw.

Hundreds of Communist party workers blocked street intersections to try to keep Catholic crowds from surging into the center of the city.



TEEN AGERS BREAK THROUGH POLICE LINES — Lynn, Mass., police had their hands full attempting to control crowd of teen agers who went wild during rock and roll concert at Manning Bowl. Tear gas was used, four persons injured and hospitalized and five were arrested when the crowd stormed the stage where a British mop-haired group, "The Rolling Stones," were giving the first of a series of concerts on a two-month tour of the United States. Three Snyder Men Injured In Accident

Three Snyder men were injured in an oilfield accident this morning on the Fuller lease about 13 miles north of town off the Clairemont Highway.

Taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell-Seale ambulance were George Kirkpatrick, Jerry Sharp and Arnold Lee. All are in their 30's.

Kirkpatrick suffered a fracture of the left leg and a possible fractured pelvis plus lacerations and bruises. Lee sustained possible internal injuries and lacerations of the right arm. Sharp had minor injuries, and was admitted for observation.

Hospital authorities described the condition of Kirkpatrick and Lee as being fair. Sharp is in good condition.

Lee is an employe of Yale Key Oil Well Service Co., and the other two men are employes of Musslewhite Trucking Co.

The mishap occurred on a pumping unit when the men were struck by a counterweight as it swung down, according to a spokesman for the Musslewhite firm.

RFK Would Admit China

NEW YORK (AP)—Sen. Robert (Bobby) Kennedy proposes the United States drop its opposition to the admission of Red China to the United Nations, on the condition Nationalist China keep its seat.

The New York Democrat said Sunday the United States should take "some initiatives" toward getting Red China into the United Nations and said he favored "making a greater effort to determine whether any trade could take place with Communist China."

Kennedy said the Johnson administration would suffer politically this fall as a result of the Viet Nam War—depending on what the Republicans do.

"It's an unpopular war and the Democrats are in power," Kennedy said.

He opposed extension of bombing attacks to strategic targets in Viet Nam.

Kennedy was asked whether he would be interested in seeking the presidency if for some reason President Johnson did not stand for re-election in 1968.

"I'm in the Senate," Kennedy replied, "and I enjoy being in the Senate, and I don't know where I'll wind up."

Lynda Rests In Laredo

LAREDO, Spain (AP)—Northern Spain turned on its best weather today for Lynda Bird Johnson as the U.S. President's daughter rested in a private home facing the beach at this beautiful coastal town.

Officials said Lynda expressed a desire to spend the night in the area after a visit to the famed Altamira caves. Friends of U.S. Ambassador Angier Biddle Duke arranged for her stay in the beach home of a Laredo doctor.

An embassy spokesman indicated he would be unable to give any further information on Lynda's future moves in Spain because of her desire for privacy.

Alpinists Killed

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP)—Two young Yugoslav alpinists fell to their deaths in the Slovenian Alps Sunday. Drago Rosak, 23, and Cene Grcar, 22, fell off a 1,800-foot cliff.

Dodd Would Oust Bennett

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd's lawyer asked today that Sen. Wallace F. Bennett, R-Utah, be disqualified in the Senate Ethics Committee's probe of misconduct charges against the Connecticut Democrat.

"It seems clear that Sen. Bennett is not unbiased and impartial and that he has made a prejudgment before hearing the most vital evidence—the testimony of Sen.Dodd himself," said John F. Sonnett, Dodd's lawyer.

Sonnett's surprise motion to disqualify Bennett, the vice chairman of the bipartisan committee, was made at the opening of the fourth—and climactic day—of public hearing.

Dodd and his wife, Grace, were expected to be the chief witnesses at today's hearing to answer charges that the senator had acted as an 'errand boy" for Chicago public relations man Julius Klein, a registered agent for West German interests.

Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., said the committee had no control over its members and added he was disposed just to lay the request on the table.

The committee was expected to ask Dodd where he got three Oriental rugs in his home.

It wants to find out from the petite Mrs. Dodd whether the rugs were gifts from public relations man Julius Klein, the controversial lobbyist for West German business firms.

Allegations against Dodd include charges by columnists Drew Pearson and Jack Anderson that Dodd received expensive gifts in return for praising Klein to West German officials and clients.

Dodd's former office manager and personal bookkeeper, Michael O'Hare, 30, testified Thursday he saw the Oriental rugs in the senator's home in Washington's Georgetown section, but didn't know who paid for them.

O'Hare, one of the group of former Dodd employes who turned office files over to Pearson and Anderson, said under usual circumstances he would have taken care of the bills if Dodd had purchased the rugs.

Also scheduled to make a reappearance in the committee's fourth day of open hearings was former Dodd staffer Gerard Zeiller, now employed by Sen. Norris Cotton, R-N.H.

'Jimmied Budget' Charges Renewed

WASHINGTON (AP) House Republicans are renewing their charge that President Johnson's administration is trying to "jimmy the federal budget."

GOP spokesmen cited, as new evidence, a proposal to increase by $2 billion the Federal National Mortgage Association's (FNMA) borrowing power.

Republicans have been accusing the administration of deceiving the public by devising ways to channel money borrowed from the public, or obtained by selling assets, directly to government agencies. Since such transactions avoid the necessity of going to Congress for appropriations, they do not show up on the spending side of the budget.

The biggest fight was made—unsuccessfully, for the opposition—against legislation to facilitate the sale of $4.2 billion participation interests in pools of government-held loans.

The latest GOP attack came in the minority report on a bill approved by the House Banking Committee to increase the borrowing authority of FNMA.

This unique agency, known as "Fannie Mae," operates on part-government and part - private capital, plus funds borrowed from private investors. Its main job is to buy mortgages when regular lending agencies, like banks and savings and loan associations, want to convert some of their assets into cash or permit more lending.

Market Moves Up In Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices moved slightly ahead in moderate trading early this afternoon.

The background included a rise in steel orders and year-to-year improvement in new orders for machine tools and in construction.

Steels put on a good showing with Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin gaining nearly a point. The averages were bolstered by advances of about 1½ by American Telephone and 2 by Du Pont.

Air Cavalrymen Boost Search, Destroy Move

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Thousands of U.S. air cavalrymen joined the pursuit today for three North Vietnamese battalions swarming the coastal hills of South Viet Nam's central plateau.

In North Viet Nam, U.S. Navy bombers left a large fuel dump in raging flames which sent up billows of smoke visible from as far off as their carrier 150 miles away, an American spokesman reported.

The reinforcements of sky-troopers turned Operation Nathan Hale into a giant search-and-destroy sweep involving at least 6,000 U.S. combat troops. The prime target were the battered survivors of a stubborn North Vietnamese battalion hit repeatedly in eight days of fighting.

U.S. intelligence sources reported that two other battalions of North Viet Nam's 18B army regiment were in the same area 240 miles northeast of Saigon. Together the three battalions total about 1,500 men, the sources said.

So far 395 Communists have been reported killed as the allied force, in small units, painstakingly went after the camouflaged North Vietnamese, making sporadic contact with them. Nineteen Reds were reported captured and 141 weapons were seized.

The new spearhead brought bulk of the U.S. 1st Cavalry Airmobile Division into action with elements of the 101st Airborne Division, U.S. Marines and several South Vietnamese Battalions in the expanding Operation Nathan Hale and put the air cavalry's commander, Maj. Gen. John Norton, in overall charge.

Eight Army helicopter crewmen were killed today when two choppers collided near Tuy Hoa.

To the North, U.S. Marines and Vietnamese troops went after the remnants of another battalion of North Vietnamese regulars and hardcore guerillas in tunnels and bunkers northwest of Hue, 400 miles northeast of Saigon. The Leathernecks counted 66 enemy bodies, took four North Vietnamese regulars prisoner and captured 37 weapons, a spokesman reported in Saigon.

Marine officers at the battle estimated that relentless U.S. air and artillery fire may have cost the lives of 300 Communists, or about half the enemy force. U.S. 7th Fleet ships offshore joined in the barrage.

The air raid against the North Vietnamese oil installation left an inferno that glowed late into the night.

Heavy Rain Drenches El Paso Area

By The Associated Press

Torrential rainfall drenched El Paso Sunday, causing some minor flooding and disruption of power and telephone service.

More than three inches of rain fell between 8 p.m. Saturday and 4 p.m. Sunday. Some streets in the low-lying sections of the Southwest Texas city remained under water late Sunday.

It was the heaviest rainfall in El Paso in quite some time, Dr. P. J. Lyerly, director of the agriculture experiment station in El Paso, said. Dr. Lyerly said one area received 3.07 inches of rain.

Only .57 inches was recorded at El Paso International Airport. No serious injuries or deaths were reported.

Warm, moist air engulfed the rest of Texas, with only widely scattered showers reported in the Panhandle, South Texas and the Wichita Falls area.

Wichita Falls recorded the state's highest temperature at 97. El Paso had the lowest maximum with 72.

Some light showers and thundershowers were reported early today in West Texas. Skies over the state were mostly clear to partly cloudy early today and forecasts indicated most of the state would bask under clear to partly cloudy skies.

Temperatures were expected to remain quite warm.

Some widely scattered thundershowers and thunderstorms were expected today and Tuesday in Northwest Texas and in the country west of the Pecos.

Temperatures early today ranged from 65 at El Paso to 77 at Galveston and Beaumont.

Weathermen Eye Potential Trouble

MIAMI (AP)—A strong easterly wave has developed in the Caribbean, the Weather Bureau said today.

Small craft along the Cayman Islands, the south coast of Cuba and westward through the Yucatan Channel were advised to remain in protected waters.

Easterly waves sometimes develop into tropical storms.

The Weather Bureau predicted winds would reach 35 knots in showers and scattered squalls through Tuesday. The easterly wave was forecast to drift slowly toward the west.

March Ends At Capitol

By JOHN S. LANG

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The long and turbulent Mississippi march has ended with James H. Meredith — who started it as a "journey against fear" — saying the "governor and every other person is going to pay attention to the Negro."

"The system of white supremacy will reign no longer," Meredith told a heavily guarded rally behind the imposing State Capitol Building Sunday.

Some 16,000 persons, most of them Negroes, flowed through Jackson streets to jam into a portion of the Capitol grounds and adjacent areas.

The final leg of the march — from Tougaloo College on the outskirts of Jackson to the Capitol — and the rally were marked by a subdued atmosphere.

Meredith, 33-year-old Air Force veteran, led the procession with a number of national civil rights leaders, including Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Meredith drew the greatest response from the crowd, which couldn't hear half of what was said from the flatbed truck which served as a speaker's platform.

Meredith said his father, now dead, told him most white persons "are pretty decent. It's true that we got some mean white folks in Mississippi, but these people can be decent.

"There is only one thing that is holding them back. And that thing is the system of white supremacy.

"The purpose of the march that I started three weeks ago was to point up and to challenge that thing at the base of the system of white supremacy. That thing is fear — a fear that grips the Negro in America to his very bones, not only in Mississippi, but in every section of this country, because every inch of the country is controlled by the system of white supremacy."

Erhard Ready To Meet With Reds

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

BONN, Germany (AP) — Chancellor Ludwig Erhard says he is ready to meet with Soviet leaders at any time here or in Moscow for talks on German problems.

Renewed interest in the possibility of such talks has developed as a result of declining East-West tensions in Europe, currently dramatized by French President Charles de Gaulle's visit to the Soviet Union.

Erhard told The Associated Press in the course of an informal discussion of defense and foreign policy problems that Soviet leaders have a standing invitation to visit West Germany.

Asked whether he would be willing to go to Moscow instead, he replied: "I would also be ready to go to Moscow."

On other major issues covered during the discussion in Erhard's office at the Palais Schamburg, the chancellor made these points:

1. He opposes any major withdrawals of U.S. troops from West Germany on the ground that heavy cutbacks could increase the danger of nuclear war and undermine the sense of security of the German people.

2. He wants modification of the agreement under which West Germany buys arms in the United States to offset American dollar expenditures for maintaining six divisions in West Germany. The agreement should be changed, Erhard said, to allow West Germany to buy peaceful space equipment as well as arms for this purpose.

3. Some transitional arrangement will have to be made to cover French troops remaining in West Germany after they are formally separated from the North Atlantic Treaty Organization July 1. Erhard said he wants the French troops to stay but a new military mission and new legal basis justifying their presence has not been negotiated with France.

4. Reunification of Germany is essential to secure peace and stability in Europe but this cannot be obtained through the efforts of Germans alone. It is also a responsibility of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union. Only the Soviet Union has refused reunification, Erhard said, so the key to achieving it lies in Moscow.

Report Shows South Viets See It As American War

By FRED S. HOFFMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — A limited survey of popular attitudes in government-controlled areas of South Viet Nam indicates people there tend to regard the war as an American war, officials report.

U.S. experts who conducted the survey say there also is a tendency to rely chiefly on the Americans to bring back peace and find answers to South Viet Nam's economic and other problems.

There seems to be a downswing in popular confidence in the ability of the Saigon government to handle effectively the various problems facing South Viet Nam, the survey indicated.

The sampling of Vietnamese views was understood to have been small and was taken in connection with a study of trends in the morale of the Communist Viet Cong.

After interrogating some 200 people, mostly Viet Cong defectors and prisoners, U.S. analysts said they detected what seemed to be a growing feeling of hopelessness among some elements of the Viet Cong.

The analysts reported evidence that Viet Cong morale has become fragile. They said there were signs that the combat effectiveness of some Communist units had declined.

In other weekend developments related to Viet Nam:

—Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield expressed hope in an interview that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant may be able to interest Soviet leaders in Viet Nam peace talks during his planned trip to Moscow. Mansfield also said French President Charles de Gaulle's current visit to the Soviet Union might result in a move toward neutralization of Southeast Asia — a move he said the United States should welcome.

—Undersecretary of State George W. Ball, appearing on the NBC television-radio program "Meet the Press," denied that the United States has decided to bomb oil storage depots near the North Vietnamese cities of Hanoi and Haiphong. But he refused to shut the door on this possibility in the future.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: You have had the good grace to admit that there IS a problem which even you can't solve. I refer to the letter from "STYMIED," who asks how provident parents can guard against orphaning their children and leaving them to the care of strangers. No. I have not solved the problem, but I have considered it.

May I suggest an organization to be known as "PARENTS SYNONYMOUS"? Here's the idea: Thru you, or an organization you inspire, parents of similar backgrounds and means are teamed up. Each agrees to adopt the children of the other family in the event of the death of both parents of that other family. For example: your organization (using computers?) would possibly match the "STYMIED" family with MY family. My three children, too, have had their educations provided for thru the age of 21. The same system as some adoption agencies use in matching color, race, and religion could be applied here.

Death of parents is a traumatic experience, and the orphaned children will be most likely to "recover" in an environment to which they are accustomed — one which disrupts their lives the least. Sincerely,

"VISIONARY" IN MPLS.

DEAR ABBY: Why should anybody be stymied about making provisions for their children in case of death? There are church and fraternal organizations galore that specialize in caring for orphaned children. The Loyal Order of Moose, Masons, The Veterans of Foreign Wars, Independent Order of Foresters, and Odd Fellows to name a few. Even insurance companies have fine protective programs to cover such eventualities. I thought everyone knew that.

NOT STYMIED.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: "STYMIED" states that her only living blood relative is incapable of rearing healthy, normal, well-adjusted children. Yet she herself goes on to say that she is afraid to even get into an automobile with her husband for fear they will both be killed and their children orphaned. I wonder if SHE thinks SHE'S 'normal and is well-adjusted?"

CONFUSED

DEAR ABBY: We were a family of nine when our parents died and do you think for one minute that when death took our mother, father, a sister and a brother all within three months we disbanded? We did not! We stayed together and took care of each other and we made out just fine.

And so will other families who are taught to love and look after one another. That's what our parents instilled in us when we were kids, and even after they died, they "lived" in all of us. Trust in God. His eye is on the sparrow.

FULL OF FAITH

DEAR ABBY: It is a good idea for parents to make a will and make their desires known with regard to whom should assume the guardianship of their minor children in case both parents should suddenly go. This of course is a job for a competent lawyer.

The main thing is to get it down in black and white and place it in the hands of a trustee, attorney, or someone who can put the provisions into effect immediately. A will which has been hidden in a coffee can and buried out in the back yard seldom does anybody any good.

BEATRICE

DEAR ABBY: Somebody ought to tell STYMIED that the odds against her getting killed in a car with her husband are extremely high. I read recently that even with the present high death rate on highways, the average man who does an average amount of driving would have to drive for 800 years before he would become a statistic.

And I assume the chances for his wife being killed with him would be doubly remote. Life is a risk. All that is assured us on this earth is the love of God.

Interest Rate War Said In Making

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — An interest rate war is brewing. On both coasts banks and savings and loan associations are announcing that they'll pay more on some forms of savings accounts effective July 1. Any one lucky enough to have some spare cash may be in a position to play coy and be wooed.

Congress has been talking of regulating this battle for savers. Some congressmen dislike high interest rates, period. Others are alarmed at the form the battle is taking: the luring of customers from one kind of financial institution to another.

But Thursday the House Banking Committee threw up its hands and tossed the complicated question of putting limits on how much interest can be paid on what form of account over to the Federal Reserve Board with a plea for action.

The Fed has been active in talking quietly to commercial bankers about what it considers an allied but perhaps more pressing danger, and one more squarely in its province: the granting of loans for projects that could be considered more speculative than productive.

And the spurt of interest rate increases over recent weeks works both ways: for savers or for borrowers.

—Savers are getting more for their money, whether they put it in U.S. Savings Bonds, deposit it in some types of commercial bank accounts, invest it with mutual savings banks, or deal with savings and loan associations.

— Borrowers are likely to be paying more interest on loans from banks, mortgages, or monthly installment payments for cars or appliances.

Commercial banks are allowed by legal regulation to pay no more than 4 per cent for regular savings accounts with withdrawal privileges. But the biggest banks in many parts of the nation are paying 5 per cent or more on large amounts that can't be withdrawn over a specified period. The largest banks in New York City pay 5 per cent for accounts that must be $2,500 or more and held for nine months.

Most mutual savings banks were paying dividends at the rate of 4¼ per cent on regular savings — ones readily withdrawable — until January. Then most went to 4½ per cent. But now one of the largest in New York City says it will pay a 5 per cent dividend on regular accounts. Another big one says it will pay 5 per cent on accounts that must be held for specified terms.

As the interest war spreads, two of the largest savings and loan associations in California announce they'll go up from the 5 per cent with which they've been rewarding savers. They'll start paying 5¼ per cent on passbook accounts and 5¾ per cent on accounts held for a long period.

US Reds Reelect Hall

NEW YORK (AP)—The Communist party of the U.S.A. has elected longtime party leader Gus Hall as general secretary and Henry Winston as national chairman at the close of its 18th national convention.

Hall, a member of the party for 39 years, said Sunday that the election was "by acclamation."

The election marked the first time in seven years that the party openly announced a national election. The party had gone underground to avoid federal prosecution for failure to register as Soviet-dominated.

Hall said the convention and party election represented a challenge to the "democratic process" to see that the party operates freely without political restrictions. He also said national membership was "up to 12,000."

Hall, 55, was elected general secretary at a convention in 1959, but had been described recently as the party's "leading spokesman."

Winston, 53, a Negro, was born in Hattiesburg, Miss. He said his election was "a symbol of real equality in the Communist party."

"WINNIE THE POOH"

Courageous Mom Saves Baby's Life

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — "Her courage and initiative saved our baby's life," says the husband of a young mother who managed to keep her 2-month-old baby and herself alive for two days in a plane wreckage on a cold, snowy mountain.

Loren Little, 24-year-old University of Washington medical student, spoke with pride as he told of the ordeal his wife, Karla, 25, underwent to save herself and their daughter, Laurie.

Mrs. Little's father and stepmother died in the crash on the snow-covered side of 9,671-foot Mt. St. Helens.

Mrs. Little suffered a broken back, broken ribs, a collapsed lung and frostbitten feet. Doctors reported she was resting comfortably in a hospital today. Her daughter has only a bruised forehead.

Little said his wife, who was rescued Saturday, recalled the ordeal clearly.

It began when Mrs. Little and her daughter were picked up in a rented plane by her father, Grant Erickson, 49, an executive of a radio supply company in Sioux Falls, S.D., and his wife.

They planned to fly to Norwalk, Calif., for the golden wedding anniversary of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Erickson.

"I was supposed to go with them," Little said. "At the last minute I changed my mind."

Flying south toward Portland, Ore., Thursday the four ran into heavy weather. Mrs. Little thinks a wingtip struck the rocky side of the mountain.

Erickson crash-landed the craft on a ledge at the 5,500-foot level. He and his wife were killed.

Little, describing his father-in-law as a "very cautious pilot, a sensible flier," noted that the last reports from the plane had its altitude as 8,500 feet. He believes Erickson fought to bring the crippled craft to its crash landing at a much lower altitude, "probably saving the life of my wife and child."

The young husband flew with the search planes, refusing to abandon hope through a long Friday and into Saturday afternoon.

Inside the broken plane, Little's wife, paralyzed below the waist, cuddled and nursed her baby.

Vainly through the long hours she tried to reach a bag containing supplemental food. She did manage to reach two baby blankets, wrap Laurie in one and stuff the other in a broken window to keep out windblown snow.

Rocks kept falling from above, bouncing and clattering on the wreckage.

Thursday she could hear the search planes. Friday she saw them but had no way, or strength to signal. Finally, Saturday afternoon, a helicopter spotted the broken plane.

She asked the first rescuer, a paramedic, to "get the food and feed the baby."

Mother and infant were evacuated by helicopter to a hospital in Longview, Wash. There Little was reunited with his daughter and his wife, who was groggy from pain and exhaustion and had forgotten Loren had not been aboard the plane.

"She opened her eyes and looked at me for about 15 seconds," said Little. "Then she said, 'I though you were dead.'"

Youths Hurt In Mishap

Three Snyder youths were injured in a one-car accident at Twenty-sixth Street and Avenue U at 12:28 a.m. Sunday.

They were taken to Cogdell Memorial Hospital by Bell-Seale ambulance.

Driver of the car was Joe Bass of Bassridge Drive. He was treated for a fractured wrist. Passengers included Craig Alexander, 2903 Thirty-fourth Street, and Dewey Grinslade, 3201 Avenue V. STRICTLY 'NEW-HAT' EVERY DAY!

There's nothing brighter, fresher, newsier and more welcome than your daily paper. It keeps you current on world affairs, stimulates your mind, tickles your sense of humor, puts facts at your fingertips.

It's short-lived — but it grows old gracefully. Today's paper won't be dead tomorrow or even the day after that. So much that's in it is timeless as well as timely. Things like expert financial and medical advice, recipes, do-it-yourself hints, special features and stories, pictures — these are just a few of the ageless extras your daily paper gives you.

In this era of mass communications, your newspaper stands out as a tangible document. It's yours to read, put down, pick up and read again, clip and save.

ABWA Hears Rev. Parkey

The American Business Women's Association met on June 23rd at the Americana Restaurant for their regular monthly dinner and business meeting. Rev. Bill Parkey, minister of the First Christian Church, spoke to the group on the topic "A Christian Defends Capitalism".

Rev. Mr. Parkey was born and reared in Fort Worth, Texas, where he received his degree in divinity from the Bright Divinity School at Texas Christian University. He served quite some time as Chaplain in the geriatrics division of the United States Public Health Hospital in Fort Worth, working with alcoholics and narcotic addicts.

During his talk the speaker pointed out that capitalism, as we refer to the economic system we have in the U. S. today, is not evil or wrong in any sense, but that it is the basis for the initiative we have as individuals for self improvement and for the improvement of the society in which we live. It gives us a means of providing good hospitals for the care of the sick, schools for the training we need in order to earn an independent livelihood for ourselves, churches functioning properly, shoes on the feet of children and food in their mouths.

Among the social ills Brother Parkey pointed out is the lack of patriotism and community spirit among the younger generation, placing the blame on the parents for failure to instill patriotic attitudes and set the proper example of concern for their fellowmen. He stated that so many young people today are not as much interested in what they can contribute to society as they are in fisnishing college as quickly as possible, getting a good position and retiring at forty. Many job applicants seem more interested in the kind of pension plan available than in the job itself.

The speaker commented that it is his opinion that the problem of racial strife we face today will not go away just by being ignored, but that it is our responsibility as individuals to face up to the problem and do all in our power to provide dignity and equal opportunity for all mankind. He stated that the solution to the problem does not lie in giving every person a minimum annual wage or taking money from a majority group and giving it to a minority group, but it could lie in a simple application of the Biblical admonition: "As you would that others do unto you, even so do you also unto them.

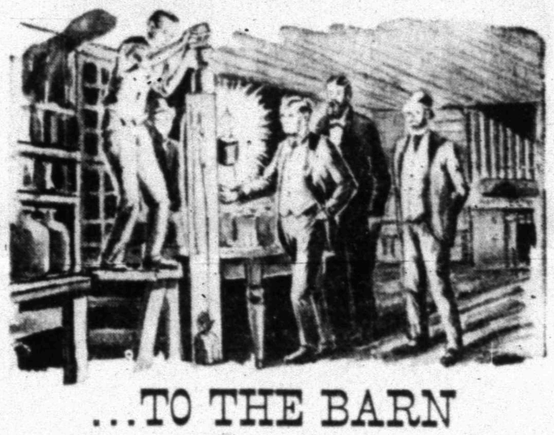
58 YEARS FROM THE BENCH...



...TO THE BARN

It took 58 years for Thomas Edison's marvelous incandescent lamp to find it's way from laboratory to the rural areas of Texas.

Big cities were electrified quickly. But the job of rural electrification in this area wasn't even started until a few years ago when rural people organized MIDWEST ELECTRIC CO-OPERATIVE and built their own electric system.

Today, this first-class electric utility has transformed rural life. So versatile are the uses of electric power, it is doubtful even the "Wizard of Menlo Park" could have forseen its great demand.

And as the demand continues to increase, the member-owned MIDWEST ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE is planning ahead for improved facilities to deliver the power that is Helping Texas Grow.

First Half Of '66 Leaves World Still Groping Blindly

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The war in Viet Nam is like a blind puppy. It scampers, skips, butts its head, barks in pain. With this year almost half over, the end is still no more in sight than at the start of 1966.

There was chaos in Viet Nam, criticism at home, confusion elsewhere among Communists and non-Communists in the first half of 1966. In Indonesia the Reds suffered disaster without any war at all.

Near the end of 1965 the United States stopped bombing North Viet Nam while President Johnson sent his emissaries scooting around overseas, talking peace, seeking signs of it. There were none. Hanoi stood firm.

So did Johnson. The bombing was resumed. The ground fighting continued. More deaths on both sides, more U.S. troops to Viet Nam. At home the critics of the war teamed up on Johnson, in and out of Congress.

Johnson ordered a restrained war, wary of the critics, concerned about the dangers, perhaps with Red China, if he stepped it up too much. And as the routine war continued chaos engulfed South Viet Nam.

Public opinion polls showed dwindling confidence in Johnson's handling of the fighting. In America youths paraded, performed and protested against the war. This was a mixed picture, too.

While some of the protesters must be credited with earnest convictions thoughtfully arrived at, for others the motivations probably ranged from a simple desire to assert themselves to discontent with things in general.

But they made noise. So did the Buddhists in Viet Nam. Right in the midst of the murky war they gyrated through the streets of Da Nang, Hue, Saigon, demanding civilian government.

Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and his government of generals agreed to oblige, set in motion the machinery for civilian government. Rendered ridiculous by success, the Buddhists then demanded a quick exit by the generals.

Looking back on it, their whole performance looked irresponsible for they never made clear how they would run a government of even that they could. But they performed.

Buddhists, men and women, burned themselves to death, spread altars in the streets, multiplied anarchy. Ky suppressed them. Their futile leader, Tri Quang, took refuge in a hunger strike.

Ky grabbed him, empty stomach and all, put him in custody. The Buddhist revolt collapsed. But all this involved months, slowed the war, made many Americans wonder whether this country should be mixed up in it at all.

And even if Ky emerged looking like a strong man, this may not last in a land so unpredictable. But it was a slow six months mostly everywhere, and just as murky as Viet Nam.

In Europe, French President Charles de Gaulle, with reports indicating he never even discussed the momentous step with his Cabinet, decided to do a wrecking job on the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

He decided to pull his troops out of NATO. It was a shattering thing. It could have been a disaster for the Western alliance. Sometime it may prove to have been just that.

But the other 14 NATO allies patched the pieces together and De Gaulle made a trip to the Soviet Union, although nobody seems to know why, perhaps not even De Gaulle. Years from now he may seem to have been as irresponsible as Tri Quang.

Tensions, however, were off the United States if only because tensions between the Soviet Union and Red China increased. While they fussed and fumbled communism encountered a disaster where unexpected and without battle.

The pro-Red Indonesian government of President Sukarno was taken over by the military, Indonesian Communists by the thousands were reported slaughtered, and the country now will probably turn pro-West.

These Things Boyle Learns Through Mail

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

The color of pants you wear is a tipoff to your personality, according to Emanuel G. Rosenblatt, slacks manufacturer. "For example, athletic people like red, egotists like yellow, convivial folks prefer orange, and cultural people go for purple."

Most moonlighters don't work by moonlight. The average moonlighter is a family man between 25 and 44, and the 13 hours a week he works extra are usually put in on weekends or after finishing his regular job.

At the age of 4 a child's brain has reached 90 per cent of its full weight. Scientists are still puzzling over studies that show a woman's brains begin to shrink in weight after 30, a man's not until he's 40.

Ever think your scotch drink had a faint whiff of bourbon in it? Chances are it may have. By law, oak barrels in which bourbon is aged can be used in this country only once. So thrifty Scots buy up a million of the used barrels each year and used them to age their whisky.

Educators fret because half the students in college freshman classes drop out before winning a degree. But eventually seven out of 10 do finally graduate within a 10-year period.

If you like to shoot crows, one way to lure them is to put up a stuffed owl in a tree. Crows hate and fear owls, but in daylight will attack them.

America now has 22 million teen-agers—of whom not more than 20 million are usually using the phone at the same time.

That boy of yours having trouble making up his mind about a career? The airlines are crying for new pilots now. After 10 or 12 years, pilot captains earn up to $33,000 annually.

Junior Editors Quiz on SAND

QUESTION: How does the sand get on the seashores?

ANSWER: There are many small man-made beaches which have been made by hauling in sand by the truckload. But Jane, in our picture, is completely wrong in imagining that the enormous amount of sand on an ocean beach could have been brought in by trucks. It got there in another manner. It was brought by nature.

Most sand is made of loose particles of solid rock broken up and reduced to tiny pieces less than one twelfth of an inch across. After the solid rocks were originally formed, many forces attacked them, tending to break them up. Finally, the fierce ocean waves (top) broke off pieces of rock and rolled them around, grinding them smaller. Gradually much sand accumulated on the ocean floor, carried by currents. In times of storm, such sand was washed up by waves and deposited on the beaches. Fierce winds pushed and blew the sand further inland.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: When you get to an ocean beach, spill out 25 grains of sand in your cupped hand. They're easy to count. Then pick up a pinch of about the same size without counting. Now you have 50. Estimate how much you need for a thousand, then see if you can estimate the grains in a handful. 6-27

Perry Twirls 2-Hit Shutout For Leaders

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry is running like Juan Marichal and winning like him too.

Perry continued his sprint toward teammate Marichal and Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax Sunday, pitching a two-hitter as the National League-leading San Francisco Giants stopped Cincinnati's eight-game winning streak 10-0.

The victory was the 10th against one defeat for Perry, giving him a .909 percentage, the best among the league's top pitchers. Marichal, at 13-2, has an .867 mark while Koufax, who posted his 14th triumph against two defeats Sunday, is at .875.

In rambling toward the best season of his five-year major league career, Perry has picked up one of Marichal's habits. Instead of plodding slowly to the mound each inning as virtually all pitchers do, Marichal runs.

Perry did it Sunday, except for the last couple of innings, despite 94-degree weather and a weak left ankle.

"I want to work extra hard to stay in rotation," Perry explained. "I want to try and impress Herman Franks."

Perry undoubtedly has impressed Manager Franks — and all of the other managers in the league.

The 27-year-old right-hander has accomplished half a 20-game season even though he missed nearly three weeks after hurting his left ankle sliding into second base May 24.

In other NL games, Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1, Pittsburgh trimmed Philadelphia 2-0, Houston topped St. Louis 6-3 in 11 innings and Chicago whipped New York 7-0 before losing 8-2.

In the American League, Baltimore outslugged California 12-7, Minnesota swept Detroit 7-5 and 7-1, Cleveland bombed Kansas City 14-3 after bowing 4-2, New York swept Chicago 7-2 and 2-0 and Washington downed Boston 9-3 after losing 13-7.

While Perry stymied the Reds, the Giants exploded with five home runs — two by Tom Haller and one each by Jim Davenport, Don Landrum and Jim Hart. Jim Maloney suffered his third defeat. He has won nine.

Koufax became the winningest pitcher in the majors, scattering seven hits and striking out 11. The Braves tied the game 1-1 in the fifth on Hank Aaron's run-scoring single, but the Dodgers pulled it out in the ninth on Denis Menke's two-base error and Willie Davis' two-base hit.

Woody Fryman shut out Philadelphia on three hits while Roberto Clemente and Willie Stargell, who walked, scored the Pirate runs. Jose Pagan singled home Clemente in the fourth inning, and Donn Clendenon brought Stargell home in the eighth with a triple.

Jim Wynn's three-run homer off Joe Hoerner in the 11th inning boosted Houston past St. Louis. The Astros, blanked on five hits by Al Jackson through eight innings, erupted for three runs and a 3-3 tie in the ninth. Wynn drove in the tying run with a sacrifice fly.

Curt Simmons pitched a five-hitter for the Cubs in the opener of the doubleheader and was supported by Ernie Banks, who drove in three runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Cardinals Sock Braves, 13 To 4

The Cards socked the Braves, 13-4, in a National Little League slugfest Saturday night. It was a "make-up" game of one that had been postponed earlier.

The Cards fashioned their victory behind the fine 4-hit pitching of Tim Holder and the batting of Jim Waters, Fred Liner and Randy Rodgers.

Randy cracked a grandslam home run in the opening stanza. Waters collected 3 for 3 and Liner contributed two safeties in the Cards 9-hit attack.

Holder was in frequent trouble, but managed to quell each Brave uprising. The Braves couldn't come through with the big hit and left 15 men stranded. Billy Weaver cracked two hits to pace Brave batsmen.

The loss was charged against Mark Hargrove.

Chip Shot Margin Of Tourney Win

Bernard Rains of Big Spring came from no-where land Sunday by taking advantage of faultering Bill Wood and Jerry Davis to win the Snyder Invitational Golf Tournament on a sudden death playoff.

Rains won his first invitational tournament on the 28th hole of the scheduled 27-hole medal play when he pushed in a birdie chip shot to defeat Davis of Big Lake.

Davis and Rains finished the first 27 holes at a 112, seven over par.

Bill Wood, outstanding amateur from the Colonial Country Club in Ft. Worth, took the lead from Davis in the last nine holes and appeared to have the win sewed up. Wood then had a triple-bogey on the 26th hole putting Davis and Rains tied for the lead. Davis and Rains parred the 27th hole while Wood missed a 22 foot birdie putt that would have qualified him for the playoffs.

Wood finished third with a 113 total followed by John Boren of Snyder with a 117. Following them were defending champion R. J. Kidd, Snyder, 118; Ray Mize, Colorado City, 119; John Pickering, Snyder, 121; and Doc Weaver, Snyder, 131.

Darrell Haney of Snyder won consolation honors by the same route as Rains. Haney defeated Travis Horton of Stamford in a sudden death playoff. Both players finished the regular play with identical 112's.

In Saturday's 18-hole match play, Kidd defeated Haney, 2 and 1, to keep alive his hopes for a repeat of the championship. Kidd, however, ran into some putting difficulties Sunday when on the back nine, he reached the green in one, but five putted. The mistake took him out of contention when he finished with a 45 that round and 118 for Sunday's play.

Friday's medalist Cloyce Talbott, who finished the Pro-Am with a two over par 72, was beat by John Boren 1-up in Saturday's match play. Talbott could only manage a feeble 77 which put him in the consolation bracket for Sunday's play. He finished with a 118 Sunday.

Harold Preston of Loraine turned in a credible performance to win the first flight with a 114 total while Harold Lacik of Snyder took consolation honors in the first flight with a 113 score.

Max Manley of Lubbock won the second flight with a 113 and other winners were Howard Crenshaw, Snyder, third flight, 116; Freddie Kizer, Snyder, fourth flight, 126; and Les Francis, Snyder, fifth flight, 132.

Consolation winners starting with the second flight down were Joe Burchard, Snyder, 116; Richard Waters, Snyder, 121; M. D. Ramsey, Snyder, 129; and Durwood Hopper, Snyder, 148.

Charles Bruce, Snyder Country Club golf pro and Friday's pro winner of the Pro-Am, said that this was certainly the most exciting tournament ever at the country club. Over 100 golfers participated in the three day affair.

Ben Hogan irons were given to the flight winners while woods were given to the runners-up. Consolation winners received Hogan golf bags.

Kidd and Talbott were tournament co-chairmen.

Casper Wins Western, Grabs Money Lead

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — Billy Casper, in command of himself and his game, won the Western Open Sunday by letting a corps of youngsters flounder in his wake and took another stride past faltering Arnold Palmer.

The 35-year-old Casper shot a steady one-under-par 35-35—70 for a 283 total, the only score to better Medinah No. 3's par of 284 for 72 holes. He picked up the top prize of $20,000 to wrest the PGA money-winning lead from Palmer, whom he defeated in a playoff for the National Open crown last week.

Casper took dead aim at less experienced youngsters such as 24-year-old Kermit Zarley, 28-year-old Homero Blancas and 29-year-old Tommy Aaron. Aaron went into the final round with a one-stroke lead over the field, but Casper went in front on the third hole with a 12-foot birdie putt and dared the others to catch him.

Gay Brewer, with a 34-37—71, finished second with a 286, three strokes behind the winner, and took down second money of $12,000. Aaron blew to a 75 and Zarley shot a 74, as the youngsters settled for 287 totals good for a third-place tie and $6,250 each.

Indians Win Over White Sox

The Indians trounced the White Sox 21-7 in a make-up Farm League game Saturday night.

The Indians scored 13 runs in the first inning to easily coast by the White Sox. Jimmy Nail got three hits and scored four times in leading the Tribe to the victory.

The Indians scored two runs in the second and six in the third to round out the scoring effort. The White Sox mounted a four run inning in the third, but never seriously threatened the Indians.

Some Counties Still Too Dry

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Spotty rains last week satisfied some Texas farmers and ranchers but taunted others. Thunderstorms and hail again hit the High Plains and South Plains, but rain was welcome in most cases.

Over-all, livestock and grazing conditions were adequate to good, the grain harvest continued and row crops progressed, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said in its weekly crop and livestock report.

In the Panhandle, hit-and-miss showers damaged some crops, but otherwise helped. Several counties were still too dry. The wheat harvest will be resumed when fields dry out. Range conditions in northwest counties were fair to poor, and cattle were in fair to good shape.

The Lubbock region received good rains. A few areas had surplus moisture and a few still dry. Cotton was generally in good condition and mostly unaffected by spotted hail. There was some replanting of cotton and soybeans. Ranges and livestock were in top condition.

In North Central Texas moisture was about adequate in half the counties. The grain harvest was complete with wheat yields averaging 14 to 15 bushels per acre. Cotton planting was almost complete.

In the Dallas-Fort Worth area, cotton was making good growth despite insects. Clay and Montague counties were dry but others were in fair to good shape.

The blackberry harvest was almost finished in Northeast Texas. Tomatoes were maturing but the harvest will be light. Moisture was needed throughout the area. Cotton insects were building up.

General rains were needed in far West Texas. Irrigated crops were in fine condition. Onions and grain harvesting were in final stages, livestock was in generally good condition, early lambs were moving to market and shearing was about complete.

In the San Angelo District, crops and pastures need rain. Grain harvesting was nearing completion, and yields were so low in some cases that fields were baled for hay or grazed off. Cotton and grain sorghums were up to a good stand but could use a rain. Light insect infestations were reported in Coke, Runnels and Taylor counties. Ranges were deteriorating, and needle grass was a problem to sheep and goats. Livestock generally was holding up well, although hot, dry weather has caused lambs and calves to lose their bloom.

Moisture was short over most of the Stephenville District. Grain harvesting was near completion, peanut planting was about half complete, early peaches and plums were excellent, but the pecan set was poor.

Rains have been spotty in East Texas. Pastures were average and above and providing good grazing. Pecan and peach crops showed promise. Hay cutting was progressing.

Showers in South Central Texas were ideal for corn, sorghum, peanuts and pastures. Cotton was making a good showing. Harvesting was underway on tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes and onions.

Recent rains have helped the upper Gulf Coast area, but high winds downed sorghum, corn and some rice in Jackson County. Insect activity was high. Rains damaged some cut hay over a wide area. Pastures were in average condition and livestock were in good shape.

Park Scene Of Clash

CORDELE, Ga. (AP)—Bands of Negroes, splintering off from a large crowd milling in downtown Cordele, threw rocks, bottles and bricks at cars Sunday after a clash with whites at a nearby park. Two persons were injured at the park.

Police Chief T. J. McMurrain said no injuries were reported in Cordele, but at least two car windows were smashed before the violence subsided.

Earlier, authorities said two persons were injured, none seriously, when a bottle-throwing melee between Negroes and whites erupted at a swimming pool at Georgia Veterans State Park about nine miles southeast of this town of about 11,500 which has a slight Negro majority.

Church Joins Labor Rift In Valley

By WALTER GRAY

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — A farm labor dispute in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, which some call a Mexican-American civil rights protest movement, gained Sunday the support of a labor group and at least implied support from the areas Roman Catholic diocese.

The protest began June 1 as an independent union's strike against melon growers in Rio Grande City. Leaders say the protest is as much a civil rights drive as it is a strike for higher wages because most of the farm workers involved are of Mexican-American descent.

The major organized labor group in the valley—local 173 of the Meat Cutters and Butchers, AFL-CIO, voted without dissent Sunday to support the movement. About 500 were present at the meeting.

A representative of a new Roman Catholic bishop for the area's diocese gave evidence that the bishop, Humberto Medeiros, will back it.

Franklin Garcia of Corpus Christi, Tex., international representative for the meat cutters and butchers, made the main speech before a vote was taken.

"Vote for it, if you vote for it, knowing you're in for a hell of a fight," he said. "We'll do anything to try to avoid a fight, but if we get into one, well, we ain't got any scars in our backs—they're all in front."

The strike broke out in Starr County—which is in the Brownsville, Tex., Diocese—and there had been some speculation about what role Roman Catholic priets would play in it after Bishop Medeiros assumed his post.

Bishop Medeiros arrived in Brownsville Sunday and will be installed Wednesday. He succeeds Bishop Adolph Marx, who died last fall.

Priests from outside the diocese have taken part in the strike-movement and, for the first time Sunday a priest from the Brownsville Diocese publicly supported the drive.

He was the Rev. Phillip Byron, rector of the Diocese Cathedral in Brownsville.

"The bishop wanted me to come here today," he said. "He will give sympathy to your problems and bless your efforts."

Other union officials who spoke included Roy Evans, secretary-treasurer of the Texas AFL-CIO, and Harold Shapiro of Detroit, Mich., international representative for the meat cutters and butchers union.

Local 173 has about 1,800 workers in 10 plants in the valley.

Graham Cancels Debate With Publisher

LONDON (AP) Evangelist Billy Graham has canceled a television debate on sex with Playboy Magazine Publisher Hugh Heffner, pleading the heavy demands of his London Crusade.

"Dr. Graham's commitments are so heavy that he has found it impossible to fit in the program," said Cliff Morgan, producer of the current affairs program "This Week."

Graham prepared a number of extra speeches today as his London Crusade entered its final week.

Mrs. Gandhi Seeking To Soothe Soviet Misgivings

By CONRAD FINK

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Prime Minister Indira Gandhi is trying to reassure the Soviet Union that India is not wandering into the American economic camp.

The Soviet attitude has created so much concern here that Mrs. Gandhi is going to Moscow next month despite an earlier determination to stay at home until India's general election next February.

Soviet doubts about India's economic policies first surfaced six months ago with Sachin Chaudhuri's appointment as finance minister. The Soviets noted he previously was legal adviser for American and British businessmen in Calcutta.

Mrs. Gandhi later offered inducements to foreign private investors, accepted in principle an American-financed educational foundation, and devalued the Indian rupee — a step many Western economists had recommended.

Indian Communists began reporting back from Moscow that the Soviets were concerned over "U. S. penetration in India," as one leftist newspaper put it, and that Soviet newspapers were warning of capitalist growth in India at the expense of government-run industries.

The Soviets, in their aid program and propaganda, go to great lengths to build up Socialist sectors in the Indian economy.

Last week the pro-Soviet Communist party's official newspaper in India, New Age, published a front page demand that the government resign. This was the first time Mrs. Gandhi had been attacked by name in New Age, which for years has followed Moscow's line faithfully. Her government was accused of giving in to United States pressure especially on the devaluation issue.

Mrs. Gandhi recently has been sprinkling her speeches with references to India's "goal of socialism" and its "nonaligned" foreign policy.

Rather than go to Moscow herself, Mrs. Gandhi at first wanted to send Planning Minister Asoka Mehta or Food Minister Chidambaram Subramaniam. Indian officials reported that Moscow stalled on arrangements for these visits, indicating the Soviets wanted to speak to Mrs. Gandhi.

Aside from a strong desire to maintain a "nonaligned" stance, Mrs. Gandhi's trip will be aimed at keeping open the door to further aid Moscow has committed about $1 billion in economic aid and now is shipping in considerable military hardware.

36th Arrives For Training

NORTH FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — Six-thousand national guardsmen moved into North Ft. Hood Sunday for the 19th summer encampment of the 36th Infantry Division since the end of World War II.

Troop convoys from the divisions various units traveled 1.1 million man-miles without accident to arrive at the Central Texas training ground.

They came from every corner of Texas, and included 2,000 new recruits, who will undergo basic combat training during the 15-day encampment.

Maj. Gen. William A. Harris, deputy commander of the U.S. Fourth Army from Ft. Sam Houston, will visit the division and inspect the basic training program today.

The division is commanded by Maj. Gen. Seldon Simpson of Amarillo. Gov. John Connally is to review the troops Saturday.

Seeing-Eye Dog Can See Again

DETROIT (AP) — Hesitancy at the end of the leash told Jack McAdams, 23, something was wrong.

It turned out, the blind was leading the blind.

McAdams' dog, Dell, was guiding him through downtown Detroit streets on a rainy April day when he sensed indecision on the dog's part.

A veterinarian discovered that Dell, a 7-year-old Doberman Pinscher, was as blind as her master and had been leading him "on instinct and guts alone."

Dell had cataracts, a malady common to both humans and dogs. The lenses of her eyes were so fogged she barely could distinguish light from darkness.

Fortunately dogs have a second set of lenses, though an operation to remove the defective set costs $350. And no one could promise McAdams what the results of the operation would be.

McAdams had trained Dell since she was a puppy. He felt he just couldn't let her down. A short-wave radio operator, McAdams told other hams about his and Dell's plight. The operation money rolled in and there was transportation to take Dell to a clinic.

Two weeks ago Dr. William Magrane of Mishawaka, Ind., removed Dell's clouded lenses. Thursday the stitches inside her eyelids were removed.

Dell had trouble shaking off effects of the anesthetic, because she is a canine diabetic. It was discovered three years ago the dog was a diabetic, but she takes her insulin quite obligingly.

"I shout, 'Here Dell, time for your shot,' and she comes trotting up," McAdams said. 'My mother gives her the needle. We have never had any trouble."

But after the eye operation, "she lay there for hours, like she was dead," said Oneite Robinson, McAdams' mother and a nurse at Doctors Hospital, who made Dell her special patient through the dog's ordeal.

Mrs. Robinson says Dell is starting to look better. "Her coat is coming back and she is beginning to scamper around the house again."

McAdams knows Dell can see again, even without a veterinarian's assurance. He can feel a more confident tug on the leash.

"Right after the vet took out her stitches, she placed her paw in my hand for a handshake. She must be able to see again. She put her paw in the right place."

The Weather Bureau said Typhoon Kit may hit the central coast Tuesday afternoon or evening if it stays on its present course.

PALMA DE MALLORCA, Spain (AP) — Fighter pilots of the Flying Tiger squadron who battled the Japanese air force as volunteers in China — gathered here today for their first reunion in Europe.

About 165 of the former pilots and their wives flew here from New York on a plane of the Flying Tigers Line, an airline established by former members of the squadron.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

SAN JUAN DEL RIO, Mexico — This is the stopover town for tourist trinkets.

It lies two hours from Mexico City on the highway to Queretaro and has a remarkable selection of everything.

There are blocks of shops beneath the arcades along the broad main drag where the highway goes through town.

Everything from Bongo drums to hammocks. From hand-made furniture to hand-made jackets and guitars. The arcades are an orderly clutter of items the tourist goes wild over.

San Juan also has built a reputation for its cheese and Spanish style sausage. Likewise for sale at a collection of small restaurants beneath the arcades.

When you go off the main drag you hit the antique little town with its antique cobblestone streets. Three blocks in from the highway is a neatly barbered little plaza faced by a mustard colored church.

The church, while somewhat startling to visitors, is prime material for color photographs.

There also are a number of stores where you can buy heavy woolen jackets and shawls at bargain prices. The best thing is to park your car and walk up one street and then down the next.

Most of the year it is a quiet little town. A sleepy place where everyone minds his business. But comes the Day of San Juan in June and things liven up.

A huge religious celebration is held for several days. People swarm in from outlying villages and small ranches in the hills. There is music and considerable celebration. Fireworks blast into the sky and parades go on all over town.

For some years, San Juan del Rio has been struggling to get established as a gem-cutting center. There are a number of opal mines in the surrounding territory and several shops in town stay busy chopping out stones for the local and tourist trade.

The most outstanding of these is operated by Mr. Pancho Cabrera who owns a couple of mines and runs a combination cutting and jewelry making establishment a block off the highway.

Don Pancho divides his time between blasting opals out of his mines and designing his jewelry pieces. Mama Cabrera entertains the clients with coffee or soft drinks (take your pick) while they sit at tables in the patio of the shop and browse through trays of gem stones.

You can walk in the front room-factory and watch the metal smiths and stone cutters at work. Take your time trying on the merchandise and finger through loose stones.

Nobody pushes you to buy. Don Pancho's theory is that if a client comes to buy he will buy. If they come to look, they will only look and welcome they are to do so.

He is an avid rock hound and would like to see U.S. rock hounds come to Mexico on stone-hunting expeditions.

"I take lots of people to my mines when we are blasting," he said. "They can look around the loose rock and pick up material if they like. Take it home and cut their own stones."

A promotion minded gentleman who is bent on getting rock hound expeditions started in Mexico. And the chances are he'll put San Juan on the gem map one day.

Automation For Farms Detailed

AMHERST, Mass. (AP)—New developments in automatic farming were detailed today to the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

Holding its 39th annual convention at the University of Massachusetts, the society learned of advances in equipment to apply insecticides to the roots of plants, and a control device for automatic lettuce pickers. Also discussed was a small gothic greenhouse.

The insecticide equipment is designed to apply the poison to the stem and roots of plants. It then moves through the entire plant to kill feeding insects.

The apparatus developed by four Texas scientists uses twin rotary nylon brushes connected to a tractor. B. G. Reeves, cotton ginning specialist, and L. H. Wilkes, associate professor of agricultural engineering at Texas A&M, worked on the device with R. L. Ridgway and D. A. Lingquist of the entomology research division of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at College Station, Tex.

The new machine is said to be 74 per cent more effective than conventional application of insecticides to roots and stems. Thus far it has been tested only on cotton.

Emphysema Traced To Cigarettes

CHICAGO (AP) — Emphysema, a lung disease with a death rate increasing faster in the United States than that of any other single disease, has been produced experimentally in cigarette-smoking dogs, a medical research team reported today.

At two smoking sessions daily, for more than a year, the dogs inhaled cigarette smoke through hollow plastic tubes inserted in their windpipes.

In a report to the general scientific session of the annual meeting of the American Medical Association, the researchers said:

"The inhalation of smoke directly from cigarettes by dogs causes destruction of lung tissue indistinguishable pathologically from that found in human emphysema."

The U.S. Public Health Service has reported that the death rate for emphysema increased six-fold between 1953 and 1963.

The Tobacco Institute Inc., in commenting on the study, said the smoking method used "is not at all comparable to human smoking conditions. The method was highly artificial and stressful, and the exposure to smoke was enormously exaggerated. Therefore, the results cannot be interpreted as having any relation to the possible effects of human smoking.
