WLB Chief Resigns As Turmoil Spreads

Schwellenbach Outlines Policy To Meet Threat Of Widespread Trouble

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—Chairman George W. Taylor of the War Labor board turned in his resignation today and Labor Secretary Schwellenbach acted swiftly to head off further departures by granting the WLB complete autonomy.

Later the White House announced Taylor's resignation formally, making public correspondence in which President Truman accepted it "with regret" effective Oct. 15.

Anxious To Get Out

Taylor wrote that for some time he had been "anxious to reassume" his regular duties. He is an economics professor at the University of Pennsylvania. Taylor said he had asked to stay until board duties incident to the war program had been completed and "this assignment now has been carried out."

Mr. Truman expressed "heartfelt gratitude for the efficiency and fidelity" with which Taylor discharged his duties.

The Oct. 15 date was understood to have been arranged in order to give Schwellenbach time to work out with the retiring WLB chief the fitting of WLB into the Labor department.

Schwellenbach, depending on the board and a rejuvenated U. S. Conciliation service to help him meet the threat of widespread labor troubles in the conversion to peacetime production, set forth a declaration of policy which gives the board the same degree of independence of action it had as a war agency.

Puts Views In Writing

He put his views in writing, at the request of the board members, for consideration at an emergency session of the WLB late today.

The President had given Schwellenbach authority to formulate policies for the board, a feature wh[ich] some members frankly did not care for.

While that disagreement was snarling up the government's labor operations, a broad new legislative plan for voluntary settlement of worker disputes was offered in Cangress by four senators.

The legislation would center all efforts toward settlement in the department of labor under a three-step program:

1. Action by a division of mediation and conciliation within the department. It would be composed of highly paid experts from present agencies.

Board of Arbitration

2. Creation of a United States board of arbitration, an independent agency. It would act only when both parties agreed to arbitration but once they agreed its decisions could become judgments in federal courts.

3. Presidentially appointed boards of inquiry. These could step in even while strikes were under way to determine facts of public interest.

Closed Door Conferences

The Senate was told that the legislation resulted from a series of closed door conferences with "leading, government, labor and management officials." McMahon said these included former Secretary of Labor Perkins; President William Green of the American

Army Revamping Discharge System, With Point Plan Soon To Be Dropped Entirely

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—By October 1 seventy points will get a soldier out of the Army.

By Nov. 1 sixty points will do it.

Late in the winter the point discharge system will be dropped entirely and two years' service is all GI Joe will need to be eligible for civilian clothes.

General of the Army George C. Marshall, chief of staff, presented that speed-up demobilization program today to Congress, restive under insistent prodding from constituents who want their men back.

Rousing Applause

The lawmakers listened warily to an hour's explanation of the difficulties of boiling down an 8,000,000-man Army. Marshall didn't seem to be getting anything better than polite attention.

Then he announced the speed-up. That was something different. It got rousing applause.

Maj. Gen. S. G. Henry, chief of Army personnel, got in on the handclapping when he announced that by Oct. 1 officers will need only 75 points, enlisted WACs 36 and WAC officers 39. The score for enlisted WACs drops to 34 on Nov. 1.

The presently required scores are 80 for enlisted soldiers, 80 to 100 for male officers according to grade, 41 for enlisted WACs and 44 for WAC officers.

Medical department officers, as at present, will be released under a separate schedule.

Would Quiet Criticism

The conference was held in the auditorium of the Library of Congress. Marshall asked for it to still growing criticism of the speed—or lack of speed—in discharges.

The 64-year-old chief of staff in an aside from his staccato presentation of the Army's case, acknowledged that congressmen are snowed under with letters demanding release of this man or that. He added that his own letters "aren't light reading either."

General Henry urged the lawmakers to "resist this pressure" and stick by the War department's plan as "the American way of fair play to all men concerned."

Called Fine Explanation

Chairman May (D-Ky) of the House Military committee, said it was "a fine, satisfactory" explanation. But some other members, like Rep. Wilson (R-Ind), commented that the situation "still is as clear as mud."

The chief of staff at the outset assured the legislators that there's "no relation" between the rate of discharge and the eventual size of the Army. This was to answer critics who contend the generals are reluctant to pare it down. That just isn't so, Marshall said. It will be next spring before the rate of demobilization reaches such a point that the eventual fixed size of the Army is involved, he added.

Discharges now are at the rate of 17,000 a day. They'll hit 25,000 by Christmas.

Marshall also disclosed that MacArthur sent him just last night official confirmation of the report he needs only 200,000 men to police Japan. In that dispatch also was MacArthur's announcement that the 13th Airborne division can be released, leaving him only two Ar[my] divisions redeployed from Europe.

So many men were held in uniform after V-E day, Marshall said, because MacArthur wanted 17 divisions from Europe and there were 19 more held in readiness for shipment to the Pacific.

Marshall set July 1 of next year as "the target date" for shaking the Army down to possibly its postwar size. Meantime discharges will run 450 this month, 550,000 next, and from 700,000 to 800,000 a month thereafter.

Acheson Confirmation Blocked On MacArthur 'Insult' Charge

General's War Record Cited

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20—In a hot Senate debate two senators tonight delayed action on Dean Acheson's nomination to be undersecretary of state, on the ground that he had "insulted" General Douglas MacArthur.

Senators Wherry (R-Neb) and Chandler (D-Ky) acted as the result of disagreement between MacArthur and the State department over occupation policies in Japan.

Recently MacArthur forecast that the occupation forces could be cut down to 200,000 men in six months. Acheson shot back with a statement that occupation policy was being made in Washington, not in the field.

Name Said "Blighted"

Wherry told the Senate that Acheson, at present acting secretary of state, had "blighted the name" of MacArthur. Chandler said the general had been "insulted."

In a follow-up to Acheson's statement, it was learned today that MacArthur is being ordered to purge Japan of its ultra-nationalist leaders in both public and private positions of power.

During the Senate debate, Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) leaped to the defense of Acheson. He said it was "ridiculous" to say that the acting secretary had "blackened the name" of General MacArthur.

But Wherry insisted that action on the nomination go over until next week. Chandler backed him up.

Barkley Calls Recess

Barkley finally moved to recess the Senate until Monday without considering a long list of presidential appointments.

Wherry started the ruckus with an assertion that Acheson had displayed in his statement an attitude of "stubborn refusal to recognize changed conditions."

Chandler jumped to his feet to declare that the Senate had better reexamine Acheson's qualifications "if he undertakes to unbraid a fellow who had made a very fine record and who actually occupied Japan with little or no loss of life."

Barkley was on his feet then saying that he saw no reason "to create friction here with the State department."

It was Acheson's aim, Barkley added, "to make it plain that the policy of this country toward Japan, as well as the size of the occupation army, will be determined by the government of the United States and not by the Army or Navy or any officer of the Army or Navy."

Started By Acheson

If there was going to be any fight between the State department and the Army, Chandler retorted, Acheson had started it.

Senator Hatch (D-NM) arose to observe that the debate hadn't added anything to the stature of either MacArthur or Acheson.

Barkley brought the whole

Army Moves Against Inflation, Food Riots

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO, Friday, Sept. 21—The United States Army took control of Japan's economic destiny today, determined to see that the fallen nation feeds itself and develops an appetite for democracy.

The announced immediate objectives of General MacArthur's economists were to check inflation and oversee a fair food distribution to head off hunger riots and revolt against U. S. rule in the tough winter ahead.

New Policy Directive

A Washington report said a new policy directive recently had been sent MacArthur. It called for eliminating nearly all heavy industry, rigid control of the Bank of Japan, enactment of legislation for free speech and assembly and removal of all ultra-nationalists from positions of power—public or private.

(The same dispatch said a special and high-ranking emissary may soon be sent to confer with MacArthur, a step designed to eliminate apparent divergencies between the State department's tough peace policy and what the Allied command actually is doing in Japan.)

In another phase of economic control, the Japanese finance ministry at MacArthur's order froze all assets of Axis nations in Japan, Domei agency reported.

Most Japs Disarmed

The Japanese war ministry meanwhile notified MacArthur that three-fourths of its home army of more than 2,000,000 men had been disarmed and the rest were being demobilized at the rate of 50,000 a day.

At this pace, the once powerful home army will pass out of exis-

Ex-Inmate Describes Belsen Horror Camp

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

LUENBERG, Germany, Sept. 20.—A well-dressed Briton who saw or suffered all the horrors of the Belsen concentration camp told his grim story today to the British military court trying camp commander Joseph Kramer and 44 guards for mass murder.

He told of bodies of internees piled like jammed logs, guards who spoke only the "language of blows," guards who shot prisoners walking instead of running at their work, cannabalism, starvation, filth, and pestilence.

Jersey Schoolmaster

The witness was Harold Osmond Le Druillenec, schoolmaster of Jersey, arrested after the Nazis occupied the channel islands and confined in three other Nazi concentration camps before his delivery to Belsen April 9, 1945.

"I think I can fairly describe Belsen as the foulest and vilest spot that ever soiled the surface of the earth," he asserted.

Earlier the court saw 20 minutes of movies showing the appalling conditions at the camp and the mass burial of the thousands of dead found there, and British Major Adolphus Leonard Berry, military government officer, estimated that 46,000 died at Belsen despite large German food stores nearby.

Kramer, called the "Beast of Belsen," and his co-defendants sat frozen-faced as the 34-year-old teacher described the hell of Belsen.

He said beatings on the head were administered by guards with sticks about five feet long and several inches thick during morning roll call if the weakened, sickly inmates moved during the three or four hours they had to stand at attention.

"The first four days," the schoolmaster testified, "I had only one pint of soup and one mug of water."

On the fifth day, he was put to work—dragging the dead to burial pits. The grisly procession started each day at sunrise and lasted until 8 p. m., he said, adding:

"In the five days I spent on the burial job, no food or drop of water passed my lips."

Saw Cannibalism

It was while he was engaged in the burial work that he witnessed the cannibalism.

"During the dragging of these dead to the pits," the witness said, "I noticed strange wounds back of the thigh of many of them—they looked like gunshot wounds at close quarter, but a friend of mine said many prisoners were cutting hunks off these bodies to eat.

"On the next visit to the mortuary, I actually saw prisoners whip out a knife and cut flesh off the leg of a corpse and put it in their mouth."

Nomura Not Two-Timing With Peace Note, He Says, Citing Embarrassment, Worry

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
Associated Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Sept. 20. (AP) — Tokyo's last ambassador to Washington declared today military "fire eaters" struck Pearl Harbor without his knowledge and he was unaware the bombs already had fallen when he delivered Japan's not to Secretary of State Hull on that fateful Sunday.

"When I returned to the embassy I was informed of developments by staff members who got it from the American radio," Adm. Kichisaburo Nomura said in an interview.

"I was very embarrassed and worried, but it was beyond my power to prevent it. War is deplorable, but my conscience, may I say, is clear."

Had Urged Caution

The man who presented Japan's reply to the American note for continued peace in the Orient on that Dec. 7, 1941, asserted he had urged his nation's leaders to be cautious and had worked to avoid war.

(Hull angrily told Nomura and Japan's special envoy Saburo Kurushu that morning: "In all my 50 years of public service I have never seen a document that was more crowded with infamous falsehoods and distortions on a scale so huge that I never imagined until today that any government on this planet was capable of uttering them.")

"I didn't play any double play in dealing with Secretary Hull," said the graf-haired, tall retired Nomura in an exclusive interview at his bomb-refuge home near Enzan, 50 miles southwest of Tokyo.

"The war was against my wishes; I knew America's great industrial capacity and ability to produce, but it was decided in Tokyo."

Blames Militarists

The 67-year-old retired admiral, who often had served his country in the United States and speaks English, joined the ranks of prominent Japa..ese who, since the occupation, have blamed the militarists for the country's downfall and absolved Emperor Hirohito from all guilt.

Militarists must stay out of politics so as to prevent a "mistake" such as the war with the United States from happening again, Nomura declared.

The emperor is a peace-loving man who was forced into issuing the imperial rescript announcing the war, said Nomura as he munched American K ration cheese and biscuits over the tea table at his farm home.

The admiral said that the young "fire eaters" committed Japan to war against the wishes of the emperor and of the "responsible men" of the nation.

Nomura said that while the war tide was turned with the Japanese defeat at the battle of Midway June 2-3, 1942, and lost for Japan when the Americans took Saipan and started hitting the homeland with Superfort raids, it was American industrial and technical ingenuity which contributed heavily to his country's defeat.

Government Moves To Settle Disputes As Strikes Close More Texas Coast Plants

(By The Associated Press)

Fourteen thousand oil and rubber refinery workers in the Beaumont-Port Arthur area were idle Thursday night and thousands of others in the Houston area had cast strike votes as the federal government moved to settle a labor dispute which threatened to close refineries all along the Texas coast.

Seven plants closed as members of CIO's Oil Workers union pressed demands for 52 hours' pay for a 40-hour work week, the principal issue. No disorders were reported as picket lines formed. Maintenance crews were agreed to.

In Washington the U. S. Conciliation service took steps to bring into conference union and industry representatives.

O. A. Knight, international president with Fort Worth headquarters, expressed willingness to meet with government and industry representatives.

Industry Officials Silent

No comment was had from industry officials on the proposal, though two company officials termed the strike in violation of union contract.

As the strike spread, runs were made on filling stations. In Port Arthur nearly all stations had sold out. Beaumont and Houston also reported heavy gas sales.

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson said preliminary steps have been taken to assure delivery of perishable foods and other essential services.

Union officials at Port Arthur said food trucks and other public service vehicles would be permitted to pass through picket lines for gasoline reportedly stored inside refineries.

Seven Plants Closed

In the Port Arthur-Beaumont area the seven plants closed were: the Pure Oil company plant, 700 employes; the Texas Company refinery, 5,000 employes; the Gulf Refinery company plant, 5,000 employes; the Goodrich Rubber plant,

Break Seen In Detroit Tieups

DETROIT, Sept. 20. (AP) — A reinforced United States Conciliation service sought today to break the deadlock in Detroit's troubled labor situation that has kept scores of thousands idle in this vital spot of the nation's automotive industry.

As the conciliation service assigned three-man panels to each of a series of disputes, Walter P. Reuther, a vice president of the United Automobile Workers (CLO) disclosed there had been an exchange of letters with General Motors corporation over the union's demand of a 30 per cent wage increase.

Big Three Main Targets

The UAW-CIO has announced it intends to seek the increase throughout the industry or call strikes, "one at a time," in each of the "big three" car makers—Ford, Crysler and General Motors.

Reuther said a letter received yesterday from H. B. Con, General Motors labor relations director, offering to arrange meetings with the union, was "the first indication of management's willingness to discuss the 30 per cent demand."

There was no comment from General Motors.

Chrysler corporation, acknowledging the 30 per cent increase demand last week, offered to met with th UAW-CIO.

So far as has been disclosed by union or management, the Ford Motor Co. has not offered to meet with UAW-CIO representatives on a similar demand forwarded a fortnight ago.

First Attention To Hudson

Given first attention by the conciliators in the Detroit area were the strikes at the Hudson Motor Car Co. plants, where demotion of a foreman was followed by a

Increase In Shoe Production Allowed

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—The War Production board announced today that it has approved a 25 per cent increase in shoe production by types and price lines for existing manufacturers.

It said it also will permit new manufacturers to produce a limited number of shoes in any price range and allow present manufacturers to introduce a limited number of shoes in new price lines.

WPB already has announced a program allowing manufacturers to produce medium and lower priced range of leather shoes in unlimited quantities.

In all instances of production of a new price line, the OPA must approve the price before WPB gives manufacturers authority to begin production.

Storm Disrupts Utilities Over Area, Bringing Some Moisture

POWER and light and telephone services were disrupted over the South Plains Thursday night by an electrical storm which was accompanied in Lubbock by a downpour of an hour's duration.

Approximately 100 calls reporting electrical current off were received by the city light plant and Southwestern Public Service company. At midnight, officials of both firms said service with few exceptions had been restored.

Slaton, Tahoka and Littlefield were among other towns experiencing similar difficulties.

One of Southwestern's five circuits between Lubbock and its generating plant at Tuco was put out of order.

Two live wires were reported down in the city, one in the vicinity of Ave. N and Thirteenth, but watchmen were immediately put on duty in the affected areas, and no mishaps resulted.

High water stalled cars on the Lubbock-Tahoka highway near Woodrow, reports said. Hail also was reported inthat area. Heavy rain was reported from Lubbock to the Lynn county line.

Slaton was said without lights for an hour and a half. At 10:30 o'clock, no rain had fallen there. At 10:15, Littlefield reported a sprinkle, Levelland a substantial rain, and Tahoka, Ralls, Plainview and Lamesa no rain.

Electrical disturbances throughout the area were indicated.

Local telephone service was impaired in some cases. Circuits to Morton, Matador, Brownfield, Ralls, Levelland and Morton were put out of service.

Immediately west of Lubbock rainfall was reported light.

Senate Passes Aid To Jobless

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20.—The Senate passed the first big reconversion bill today — a mauled but recognizable measure for more financial help to the unemployed.

Legislators got assurances straight from Gen. George C. Marshall that the Army will drop its discharge point system this winter and then let out two-year veterans.

Those were the high spots of the congressional day.

Their Accomplishments

Congress applauded Marshall and went back to work, with these results:

1. The jobless pay measure cleared the Senate by a voice vote. It omits the $25 a week maximum President Truman wanted. But it keeps a provision to string out payments to the unemployed.

2. The Senate whisked to the White House a bill to end daylight saving time at 2 a. m., Sept. 30.

3. The House passed a bill to give states title to a lot of wet but valuable lands — covered by tides or navigable water.

4. The Senate Banking committee okayed a "full employment" bill.

5. Senators Wherry (R-Neb) and Chandler (D-Ky) held up Senate confirmation of the appointment of Dean G. Acheson as undersecretary of state. They said he had "insulted" and "blighted the name" of General Douglas MacArthur.

Tax Cut Proposals

6. New proposals for income tax cuts bobbed up in the House.

It's up to the House now to act on pay for the jobless.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Rationing of lower grades of beef will end October 1, Clinton F. Anderson, secretary of agriculture, said today at an interview during a brief stop-over here.

Anderson said it is feasible to abandon the rationing program in view of the present demand for meat, and the fact that the cattle-growing and meat-packing industry now is "on a pay-as-you-go" basis.

He said, however, he was not in a position to disclose what cuts of beef would be taken off the ration list Oct. 1. He said those details would "have to come from Washington."

Dealey, Just Home From Japan, Agrees With MacArthur's View

By TED DEALEY
President Dallas Morning News

DALLAS, Sept. 20.—One would have a great deal of temerity, after having spent only a week in Japan, to set himself up as an authority on the problems of how best to handle that conquered country.

But this writer cannot refrain, nevertheless, from siding wholeheartedly with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in his belief that only 200,000 American troops will be needed in Nippon for the army of occupation and against Dean Acheson of the State department, who has quite different ideas and who has not hesitated to express them.

In the first place, it might be asked with all propriety, what does Mr. Acheson know about Japan or the Japanese that General MacArthur is ignorant of?

If 200,000 men are not enough for a functioning army of occupation then Japan and the Japanese people are a much tougher outfit than appears to a casual visitor in that country.

After all, the Jap home islands, taken as a whole are much smaller in area than is the state of Texas. Speaking in round figures, there are fewer than 150,000 square miles in extent.

Doesn't it seem reasonable that 200,000 Texas Rangers could preserve order in this state, tough as we think we are?

Several publishers had lunch with General MacArthur in Yokohama as recently as the fourth of this month and on that occasion

British Much Firmer Than Yanks; Nips Made To Realize Utter Defeat

(EDITOR'S NOTE: United Press staff correspondent James F. McGlincy, who covered the war in both Europe and the Pacific, has just arrived in Hong Kong after watching the American occupation of Japan and Korea. In the following dispatch, he contrasts the American and British methods of handling the Japanese).

By JAMES F. McGLINCY
United Press Staff Writer

HONG KONG, Sept. 19 (Delayed)—British forces in this crown colony are treating the Japanese far more firmly than American occupation authorities have been handling the enemy in his homeland and in Korea.

Here the Japanese know they have lost the war—and no nonsense about it.

When British officers tell the Japanese to jump, they jump—and jump high.

All Japanese troops and sailors in the colony were rounded up in the first few days of the occupation, disarmed, and put into concentration camps.

Scattered rations were given them. When they complained, the British told them:

"This is just what you fed Allied prisoners. If it was good enough for them, it's bloody well good enough for you!"

The only time the Japanese come out of their concentration camps is to repair roads, put the local airstrip back into shape and clean up camp areas.

In Korea, American occupation authorities kept Japanese officers in power temporarily, but the British in Hong Kong ousted enemy authorities immediately.

British soldiers took over and in a few hours had a power plant operating and trains running on limited schedule. One train was chugging along a track from Kowloon on the mainland toward the interior of China.

In Japan, American officers argued that a soft approach was necessary until sufficient occupation troops were landed.

Here, a couple of thousand members of an RAF regiment took control of Kowloon from 8,000 Japanese. They did not ask the Japanese to turn in their arms. The British made them strip naked, then made sure that all guns and ar—unition were confiscated.

Marines Use Same Method

British Marines followed the same pattern in occupying Hong Kong itself.

A practical example of the British attitude was the conduct of a press intervied with Japanese Vice - Admiral Ruiparo Fumita.

He didn't have much of importance to say, apart from revealing that Japan's South Pacific fleet for the first few months of war consisted only of a minor torpedo boat and three seaplanes.

But it was enlightening to watch the British public relations officer tell a Japanese guard:

"Tell the admiral to come here. I want to see the admiral right now."

Fumita's hands shook throughout the interview. He answered questions readily. Unlike military and Navy leaders with whom I talked in Japan, he did not say he quit fighting only because the emperor ordered him to do so. He said Japan was forced to surrender.

As a final treat, the British have abolished censorship here because the war is over. This is the first dispatch I've forwarded from abroad without fear of repercussion since 1941.

My only concern is that some American censor might intercept it en route.

(The dispatch was forwarded to the United Press by the War department in Washington, apparently after passing through American military channels.)

GOP To Move Into Driver's Seat Next Year, Pheiffer Says

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—The Republican party is tired of the backseat in the nation's political wagon and will move into the driver's seat next year, a prominent Republican party official predicted today during his visit in Dallas.

Optimist William T. Pheiffer, assistant chairman of the Republican National Executive committee, told the United Press that his party has an excellent chance of winning next year's congressional elections with the issue narrowed down to "big government versus moderate govrenment."

Pheiffer, former New York Congressman, pointed out that President Truman recently urged passage of bills embodied in seven out of eight CIO Legislative program demands. "That is an example of what I mean by big government," he said.

Joe Braves Job, But Can't Locate Electroencephalographic Specialist

By KENNETH DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONOLULU—It seems impossible to believe, but now it can be told. Somehow, America won the war out here without the help of an electroencephalographic specialist.

It must be important, because for a long time this electro whatchamayacallit expert had been listed as one of the six most critically needed specialists in the Army.

Kenneth Dixon

According to the official lists sent around to the GI's he's so important he couldn't get out of the Army for at least six months even if he had a thousand points.

That's what got Sgt. Joe Fisher interested. To the sergeant, a reporter for Stars and Stripes, goes the credit for revealing this hitherto top-secret situation.

It makes him shudder yet to think what might have happened if the Japanese ever found out we didn't have one of those (you know what I mean).

Lately Joe has been interviewing lots of people going home, liberated prisoners, high-pointers, conquering generals and suchlike, and all the time he's been worrying about this poor punk who can't go home.

So he decided to go interview him, give him a pat on the back and say: "Nice work old boy. Don't know how we woulda won the war if it hadn't been for guys like you."

Hospital Gets It

He went over to an Army general hospital and let 'em have it.

"What's an electroencephalographic specialist?" he asked the pretty receptionist. She blinked, gulped and called a lieutenant. Joe repeated the question.

"Huh!" snorted the lieutenant. Then he recovered. "You come with me," he said gently.

However, a few minutes later he decided Joe was all right so he waved whitecoated attendants away and called the captain.

Attendants with straitjackets arised their eyebrows and moved in again but the captain was not one to take such an easy way out. He waved them back with the nonchalant gesture of a company commander telling his men to take cover while he cleans out a machinegun nest ahead.

They Hit Pay Dirt

"Follow me," he told Joe bravely. "We will ask the major."

But they struck paydirt in a major. He smiled confidently and said "why certainly. An electroence- an electroncepha- well its one of those contraptions that—," He paused and pointed at his head with both hands. "It goes up here and measures psychoses—or something. I think it makes marks on a graph. Shows your mind is working."

He paused momentarily, pondered intensely, then concluded lamely "anyway, it runs by electricity."

But One Not Found

Boldened by success, Joe immediately requested permission to interview the hospital's electroencephalographis specialist. Once again everybody looked stymied. Suddenly an administration officer grabbed the telephone and called the supply depot. "Say corporal" he said, "do we have a machine called an electroencephalo something or other down there? We don't? Good."

He hung up triumphantly, turned to Joe and assured him they would be glad to let him interview their whatchamayacallit specialist only they didn't have one. In fact there wasn't one anywhere around here.

World To Come To An End Today, Says California Preacher

PASADENA, Calif., Sept. 20 (U.P.) Tomorrow the world is going to explode into vapor—if it sticks to the schedule of Rev. Charles G. Long—and all human bodies will vanish, but the souls will live on and wander through the universe.

Meanwhile Pasadena school officials and businessmen issued special orders to students and employes not to skip school or work date with doom.

Long, 72-year-old founder and leader of the remnant Church of God, predicts the atomic end will come at 9:30 a. m. (cwt), in the "twinkling of an eyelash" and no person on earth will feel the explosion.

He figures at least 2,169,868,000 souls will be pushing each other around until judgment day when they will find new bodies.

Long and his 32-year-old son, Richard, entered what they believe to be the last 24 hours of the earth's existence with utter calm.

"The soul has no atoms," he said. "It is derived from the spirit of God. But the body is made up of atoms only. And when the world ends tomorrow, it will simply vaporize with the explosive force of an atomic bomb—and our bodies with it."

Bond Of Crosbyton Man Set At $10,000

An agreed order was entered Thursday afternoon in chambers by 72nd Judge Dan Blair admitting to bail R. W. Griffin, charged with murder with malice of Lonnie Hillin of Crosbyton, and fixing the bond at $10,000.

Chas C. Crenshaw of the firm of Crenshaw, Dupree & Milam said the bond would be presented probably today to Sheriff Roy E. Hillin of Crosby county for approval. The firm has been employed as defense counsel.

It was Sheriff and Mrs. Hillin's son Griffin, 30, is accused of having slain. Witnesses had said Griffin struck the former serviceman with a whisky bottle.

Habeas corpus writ had been indicated if Griffin were not admitted to bail, it earlier had been announced.

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

DID you know the younger generation calls those who have a fondness for sodas "fizz kids?"

IT'S HISTORY MAKING

ACCORDING to those in the know, the tag "swoon crooner" no longer applies to Frank Sinatra, sometimes referred to as "The Voice" in some households other than ours which uses that word only in referring to Der Bingle. Well, it may be history-making for the cold fact remains that the bobby soxers no longer are swooning or fainting in the radio studios when "Frankie" sends those dulect tones over the airlanes. Well, if the ladies who "just love Frankie" don't holler or scream any more on seeing their thin-faced, skinny, idol, that must mean the end of an era.

Wednesday night we were listening to Mr. S. for two or three reasons; one being that we admire him because he is No. 1 of our current example that a soda skeet can make a million dollars, get radio contracts and succeed as a crooner if he 1) has the bulldog determination to do so coupled with several Crosby records to play for ideas; 2) a persuasive speaking voice and 3) a wholesome and sensible attitude where the teen-agers are concerned.

* * *

ANYWAY, during the broadcast Frankie made a little pep talk on tolerance and spoke to the audience, which seemed to be made up mainly of young people, on their responsibilities in the world today. It was so quiet you could have heard a pin drop. Now you may think the younger generation is one of our greatest problems but fellows like Sinatra seem to think those kids are the hope of the future. If they have been prejudiced, it's because of the attitudes of their families and he and others know that with the right appeal they become generous, tolerant and discipline does not present such a problem.

Knowing there were hundreds of bobby-soxed admirers in the audience Wednesday night, we were amazed to hear only applause, a few whistles, but no sign of hysterical yells and we, suppose hary a swoon.

* * *

It seems it came about, according to Hollywood, not through lack of Frankie's popularity, because Sinatra simply asked them to restrain themselves. Before the first broadcast in the new season which opened recently, he spoke to the teen-agers very earnestly, something like this:

"Now look here, kids, I want to ask you a favor. On this program we don't want any applesauce unless we signal for it. We don't want any yelling or screaming, so please do me a favor and keep quiet."

* * *

If that message has been put over for keeps, my friends, history has been made and an era is definitely over and the smelling salts may be put back on the shelf until another craze comes forth.

* * *

HE'S COMING HOME

AS George Hicks said in his weekly radio news letter the other night the war is really over for you when the ones in service from your household come home. And that's how it is with us because brother Floyd, the first one to go and recently in the ETO is already in the states, after nearly 4½ years of service, and were brushing up the "Welcome Home" mat, planning some "he man" meals and have the silly grins.

Yes sir, old Floyd is coming back to bring some action into a household that had grown alarmingly feminine since the three men left. He's coming home with (we hope) his incomparable wisecracks, his funny moods which sometimes are not so funny, his love of teasing and his dictates, one of which always has been "Don't ever put me in that column of yours!"

He's coming home and before the year ends we hope to welcome Collis from Galapagos and Frank from Calcutta, India, and we'll be busy with fatted calves and rings and the latter will be in the nature of wishing rings that those brothers and others like them will never, nev have to go to wa again. And we'll take down the service flag that is faded from the hot sun's rays and down will come the war maps and back will come the talk of baseball and football and Old Senator Whoozis and much laughing will again be in vogue.

Yes, since this morning, peace has come to the Turner house.

* * *

HOW TO TALK

YOU have heard students complain of English because they dislike the "tired, rasping voice of the teacher." Now the North Carolina English Teachers' association has decided to do something about that tired, rasping voice and is encouraging teachers to take special courses in speech.

Further more, the Carolina Dramatic association at the University of North Carolina is cooperating in the movement to correct unpleasant speech qualities among teachers.

Perhaps they will all sound like Prof. Kyser of the "Musical College."

Dr. Ludwig G. Browman, Montana State University zoologist, for the first time in the annals of science, successfully developed nine generations of blind rats with no eyes.

Historic Scrap Flares At Austin Over Lieut. Governor Portraits

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—An historic row is on in the state Capitol.

The question is whether or not two early lieutenant governors, who served as governor in the absence from the state of the duly-elected governors, should now be regarded as "acting" or "actual" governors.

Central figures in the contest are Mrs. John Lee Smith, wife of the present lieutenant governor, who holds they were "actual," and L. W. Kemp, president of the State Historical association, who holds they were "acting."

Kemp Enters Protest

Kemp has entered a formal protest with Gov. Coke Stevenson and the board of control against placing the portraits in governor's row in the rotunda. Although he concedes they should be placed in the Capitol and due recognition given.

The gentlemen over whom the controversy is raised are Col. A. C. Horton, the state's first lieutenant governor who took over the duties of governor when J. Pinckney Henderson went off to the Mexican war, and Fletcher S. Stockdale, who assumed the duties of Gov. Pendleton Murrah, when Murrah departed hastily for Mexico after the collapse of the Confederacy.

Board Asks For Bids

The legislature, acting on the findings of Mrs. Smith, ordered restitution made "for the omission of these two patriots from the roster of those who actually served as Governor of Texas."

The board of control accordingly asked for portrait bids, and yesterday tabulated the offers of 12 Texas artists, while Mrs. Smith and Kemp squared off in the state library as to which had the soundest set of historical facts.

Offers Photostatic Copy

Mrs. Smith offered as prima facie evidence photostatic copy of a letter Henderson wrote Horton prior to leaving for the war. It reads:

"I shall this day leave the seat of government to take command of the Texian forces raised under the requisition of Gen. Taylor, and shall move beyond the Rio Grande into Mexico. Under these circumstances, you are required by the constitution to act as governor of the state by virtue of your office of lieutenant governor."

Kemp says this letter proves Horton was never actually governor since Henderson "plainly says" Horton was to "act as governor" not that he was "to be" governor.

Wasn't Re-Inaugurated

Kemp says furthermore Henderson returned seven months later and resumed his office without being re-inaugurated.

Mrs. Smith says Horton must have been a real governor because all documents he signed during this seven-month period are over the title of "governor" not "acting governor."

Kemp says this doesn't prove anything because the title of governor is generally printed on gubernatorial forms.

Mrs. Smith says state warrants show Horton drew the governor's salary for these seven months.

Kemp had gone home and was not available to answer.

Constitution Is Cited

The Texas Constitution provides that "in the case of the death, resignation, removal from office, inability or refusal of the governor to serve, or of his impeachment or absence from the state, the lieutenant governor shall exercise the powers and authority appertaining to the office of governor until another be chosen at the periodical election. . . ."

Mrs. Smith says Gov. Murrah's exodus from Texas put the gubernatorial reins directly in Stockdale's hands and he held them until supplanted by the federally-designated governor, A. J. Hamilton.

Never Actually Resigned

Kemp says although Murrah may have reneged as governor he never actually resigned, and that while it is true Stockdale served ably during a time of great stress and trouble, he still served as "acting" governor.

Miss Harriet Smither, archivist of the state library, said there was much to support either side, but that after close consideration she felt Kemp's construction was probably nearer strict historical fact.

The artists who bid to paint the portraits are:

Marie Brunes Haines of College Station, Seymour M. Stone of Dallas; Edna Collins, Harry L. McKee, Charles Berkley Normann and Peter B. Searcy, all of Austin; Marjorie Caldwell, Lonnie Rees and Julius Woeltz of San Antonio; Emil Hermann of Wichita Falls and J. M. Ferguson of Fort Worth.

Occupation Of Korea May Last 15 Years

SEOUL, Korea, Sept. 15. (U.P.)—Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold, military governor of Korea, said today that the American occupation of Korea may last anywhere from one to 15 years.

"We will give Korea back to the Koreans when they are qualified to govern the country," he said in an interview. "I've told Koreans that might be in one year, 10 years or 15 years."

Arnold, a husky former all-American football player who led the Seventh division from Attu to Okinawa, said the Americans were having a hard time finding Koreans with integrity and efficiency to take over government jobs from the Japanese.

An American who formerly lived in Korea is selecting Korean officeholders, he said.

Arnold said that freedom of speech, press and religion established by his forces in the American zone of Korea applies to Japanese as well as to Koreans.

"So long as there are no disturbances harmful to our efforts to govern this country," he said, "the Japanese will enjoy all freedom without restraint or discrimination."

Two Are Replaced On Good Neighbor Board

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson today named two new members to the Good Neighbor commission, replacing two original members of the body who no longer qualify.

The new members are Jack Blackwell, of Rockport, editor of the Rockport Pilot, and Col. Lloyd Benson of Mission.

They will replace Oscar Dancy of Brownsville and Horace Guerra of Roma. Dancy is county judge of Cameron county and Guerra is a Starr county commissioner. Since the Good Neighbor commission now has statutory status, they could not serve both as county and state officials.

CHILEAN CABINET RESIGNS

SANTIAGO, Chile, Sept. 20 (AP)—The Chilean cabinet resigned today to permit President Rios freedom to choose a government which will function while he is abroad in the United States and other American republics. The president plans to leave in October.

Banker Warns Of Inflation Ills

Elmer East, a vice president of Lubbock National bank, told Kiwanians in their weekly luncheon Thursday in the Lubbock hotel that a "nation that has proved its superiority in war can assure its population of an era of prosperity only by guarding against factors that, is misused, would contribute toward inflation or deflation."

Admittedly those who analyze the cross section of today's economy are not prepared to prophesy what definitely will happen within the next few months—too many factors, East said, could modify the picture. But the banker points out, the great danger lies in the unparallaled backlog of liquid assets held by a population that never before needed such a volume of consumer durable goods. Net less than 189 billions of dollars in currency outside banks, adjusted demands deposits, time deposits and war bonds are in the hands of the public of this nation.

New Houses Needed

If those who hold that wealth turn it loose with abandon, before production has had a chance for reconversion, then inflation is almost certain, East said bankers believe. At the same time, he recognized the apparent need for 1,200,000 new houses a year to fit the American public back into the American way, new machinery and tools, merchandise to fill depleted shelves, a vast amount of consumer durable goods. It is the adjustment of the tremendous wealth to the great demand that will require a stability of control, whether governmental or not, that must be relied on to save the nation's economy, he suggested.

East suggested that the victory loan drive soon to be announced would offer the public a chance for investment of superfluous funds, and at the same time prevent the government from deficit financing through banks.

Loan Regulation Favored

Foreign purchases, the banker further said, could further snarl the picture. He said there was growing belief the government should regulate foreign loans and credits. That would further restrict competitive buying at this stage of uncertainty.

He said inflation was more to be guarded against than deflation, at least for the moment, but analyzed the dangers of unemployment (the prediction is 8,000,000 in the next eight months), reduced payrolls, less "take home" wages, a natural decline in purchasing power, labor strikes and lockouts, and the necessity for government to step in and assure a "more equitable relationship of the problems of management and labor."

Threading his entire address, however, was a conviction that economy can be reestablished so that confidence can be inspired among all and, as a result, prosperity attained throughout the entire reconversion period.

Guests were Maj. Richard Gibbons, commanding officer of West Texas recruiting office; W. M Plemons of Dalhart; former Capt. Trent C. Root of Texas Tech; Tom Dacus, Kiwanian of Amarillo, and Maj. Jack Davis of Moore field.

Invocation was offered by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church. W C. Wood, president, presided.

Peckenpaugh Observes 55 Years On The Job

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—Fifty-five years of railroading, begun as night telegraph operator, when a boy of 12, were ceremoniously observed today by C. D. Peckenpaugh, vice-president and general manager of the Fort Worth and Denver railway company, by—working as usual.

He is still an adept telegraph operator and claims that even now "no operator can send too fast for me." "Young fellows with ambition and some background today have as much of an opportunity as at any time in the past," Peckenpaugh said.

'Hold Up' Was Only A Yell At Counter Girl

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—"Hold up," yelled a man to the candy-counter girl in the lobby of a local theater.

A bystander hurried to a telephone and tipped police to the "holdup."

When several police cars arrived the frightened man in the lobby explained that he had had an argument with the counter girl and she had threatened to call police if he didn't go on, and he had yelled at her to "hold up" when she reached for the phone.

Cries Of Anguish Echo As Japs Name Doihara Army Commander

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associaid Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 20. — Cries of American anguish are audible as the Japanese make General Kenji Doihara the commander of the "First Japanese General Army."

One newspaper today wonders editorially whether Doihara's Army may be used to help police Japan along with the reduced American forces which General MacArthur has announced he anticipates. The paper says it has been under the impression that the Japanese Army was to be eliminated.

WHITE

Doihara's career doesn't suggest him as much of a threat today.

He was mayor of the Japanese section of Mukden in 1931, and helped plan and stage the faked incident which gave Japan her excuse to grab Manchuria.

Buildup Not Justified

His later career, however, failed to justify the tremendous buildup which foreign newspapermen had given him as "the Lawrence of Asia," and it is doubtful if the Japanese themselves ever thought he was such a hot number, even when he kidnaped Henry Pu-Yi and took him to "Manchukuo" and set him up as "emperor."

After the Manchurian grab, Doihara concentrated on North China. Provincial Chinese governors listened—because they could not help themselves—to his talk of an autonomous regime for North China.

Doihara was his own enthusiastic press agent and let it be known that North China would split off from the Central Chinese government. At the right moment, the northern Chinese governors declared their loyalty to Chiang Kai-Shek in Nanking, and the thud with which Doihara was let down resounded throughout Asia.

Shelved In Tokyo

He didn't get into the news again until shortly before Pearl Harbor, when he was made inspector-general of military aviation in Tokyo, a job which tied him safely to routine desk work.

While it may be desirable that General MacArthur clarify whether Japan is going to be left an Army, the purely Japanese choice of Doihara to supervise the mustering out of Japanese troops now probably is a reflection of the way the Japanese themselves regard him.

To them, he is a military extremist—and a not too successful one.

Selecting him for a symbol of the liquidation of Japanese armed might fits in neatly with the general tendency in Tokyo which this column has noted before this—the tendency to shift all of Japan's war guilt to the army's hotheads of the past.

Many Veterans Will Be Given Jobs With Airlines, Report Says

The 22 domestic and international airlines of the United States have announced that they expect to fill a high proportion of new jobs from the ranks of returning veterans of World War II, according to information received here by Lubbock County Selective Service Board No. 1.

The most pressing need at present is for mechanics. A veteran who has had experience in installation, maintenance, overhaul, or operation of mechanical devices or mechanical equipment such as aircraft engines, aircraft instruments, radio, radar and automobile equipment can probably qualify for a position as mechanic, junior mechanic or apprentice.

Vacancies also exist among station forces, including passenger agents, reservation agents, ticket agents and similar jobs. Applicants should be high school graduates with preference being given to persons with two years of business experience or two years of college.

The demand for co-pilots will provide opportunities for Army Air Forces dischargees with 1000 flight hours, instrument cards and multi-engine experience. Navigators, flight engineers and flight radio operators are also needed in small numbers.

Ground radio operators are especially needed at this time. Qualifications are high school diplomas, second-class radio-telephone license, and typing speed of 40 words per minute.

Veterans interested in airplane jobs should write to the Air Transport Association of America, 1515 Massachusetts Ave., N. W., Washington, D. C., for director of any airline, giving specific information as to position desired and experience.

W. M. Dean Liberated From Japanese Camp

A letter to his father, Rev. G. O. Dean, 2013 Seventh, was the first direct word that had been received from W. M. Dean in the 41 months he had been a prisoner of the Japanese. The letter was written Sept. 2, after Dean's liberation.

Taken prisoner in the fall of Bataan, Dean was first imprisoned in the Philippines and later was moved to Mukden, Manchuria, from where he was liberated Aug. 26. He had been in the regular army 18 months when he was captured in the spring of 1942.

His letter said that he had not received any letters, cards or any other communication from home since December, 1941, and was relieved to find that his father was all right when he got his letter delivered by the Red Cross. The letter reached him after his liberation.

"It will take more than three and a half years of torture by a lousy bunch of Japs to rub the red American blood an dthe name of Dean out of me," he says. "I am coming home to rest a while, get the rust off, and fatten up a little, then I don't know but what I'll stay in the Army. I'm not nuts, either, and I feel like I've done a man sized job so far. I'm proud of it, whether anyone else is or not."

PATTERSON TO HOUSTON

FORT WORTH, Sept. 20. (U.P.)— Effective Jan. 1, 1946, J. B. Patterson, division commercial superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company in Fort Worth, will fill the same position at Houston.

Third Fleet Leaves Tokyo Bay On First Leg Victory Voyage Home

By FRANK TREMAINE
United Press Staff Writer

TOKYO, Sept. 20—Six American battleships led a substantial portion of the mighty Third fleet out of Tokyo bay today on the first leg of a victory voyage home to the United States.

The armada's departure, coupled with an announcement that three quarters of Japan's home army of 2,253,000 men has been demobilized, clearly indicated that the American occupation of Japan was well beyond the danger point.

Decree Becomes Effective

Japan herself took another step to insure speedy compliance with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation orders. Her privy councilors, conferring in the presence of Emperor Hirohito, approved an extraordinary imperial decree automatically legalizing all government orders issued at direction of MacArthur.

The decree became effective immediately. It empowered the government to enforce the orders with penal regulations if necessary.

Ships of the Third Fleet pulled anchor and steamed out of Tokyo bay early this afternoon, leaving occupation of Japanese home waters to Admiral Raymond A. Spruance's Fifth fleet.

To Participate in Navy Day

The Third Fleet world's greatest naval flotilla, will participate in Navy day ceremonies in the United States Oct. 27. (An MBS broadcast said part of the fleet will anchor at a West coast port Oct. 15 and another part will proceed to the East coast in time for the Oct. 27 ceremonies.)

Every ship was crammed to capacity with Army and Navy officers and men eligible for discharge. Additional troops and sailors will be picked up at Okinawa and Pearl Harbor.

New Ships In Vanguard

Brilliant sunshine and a soft breeze favored the mlotilla as it left. In the vanguard were four new battleships, Iowa, Wisconsin, South Dakota and Alabama, and two older battlewagons, Colorado and West Virginia.

Also in line were the carrier Ticonderoga, the light cruisers Amsterdam, Vicksburg and Tucson, and the destroyers Manfield, Lyman K. Swenson, Maddox, Blue, Samuel N. Moore, Collett, Tuasig and Brush.

Others To Join Fleet

The old battleships Texas, Arkansas and Nevada and other units will join the fleet at Okinawa and other battleships, carriers and cruisers will fall in line at Pearl Harbor.

Admiral William F. Halsey, the fleet's famed commander, will rejoin his ships at Pearl Harbor for the last leg of the ourney home. He flew to Pearl Harbor from Tokyo.

Rear Admiral John F. Shafroth, commander of battleship squadron 2, will command the armada as far as Pearl Harbor. His flag is flying from the Alabama.

Was Off Japan

The fleet was off Japan in the midst of its greatest air and sea bombardment of the enemy homeland when the war ended.

Units of the Third fleet left behind, along with some units of the north Pacific fleet, will join Spruance's Fifth fleet in patrolling Japanese waters. Spruance already has taken over command of Naval forces off Japan from Halsey.

Commanders in addition to Shafroth returning with the fleet included Rear Admiral O. C. Badger, commander of battleship division Seven, who was aboard the Iowa; Rear Admiral I. C. Sowell, commander of battleship division four; Rear Admiral O. M. Read, commander of battleship division five; Rear Admiral C. A. F. Sprague, commander of carrier division six; Rear Admiral L. J. Tiltse, commander of cruiser divisoin 10; Commodore J. P. Womble, commander of task flotilla two; and Capt. T. H. Hederman, commander of destroyer squadron 61.

Whiteface School Is Approved By WPB

DALLAS, Sept. 20. (AP)—Construction permits for nine projects in its area have been approved by the district War Production board.

The list totaling $1,225,640 includes:

Bethania hospital, Wichita Falls, addition, $157,000.

Midland Independent school district, two elementary school buildings and addition to cafeteria, $325,000.

Shannon West Texas Memorial hospital, San Angelo, addition to hospital plant consisting of power house, incinerator, laundry and installations of boilers, hot water generators and condensate storage tank, $111,640.

Frank Demopulos, Texarkana, one story building theater, grocery, cafe and pressing shop, $35,000.

White face independent school district, addition, $300,000.

North Texas State Teachers' college, Denton, new dormitory, $200,000.

Australian Paper Says 200,000 Troops Insufficient For Japs

MELBOURNE, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—The Melbourne Sun said flatly today that it doubted if 200,000 American troops were sufficient to police Japan, and sharply rebuked the Australian government for not officially stating its position in the matter.

"Admittedly this is primarily a matter for American decision but no country is more vitally concerned with eliminating Japan's potentiality for future aggression, or better entitled to do its tactful best to influence America regarding this matter," the newspaper said in an editorial.

"Gen. Douglas MacArthur's opinion that 200,000 troops will suffice for the occupation will be enthusiastically endorsed by bored and homesick American soldiers and it is inevitable that political pressure will be exerted by the families of the occupation troops eager for return of their homefolk. But such undrstandable and sentimental considerations should not over-ride hard realities," the editorial added.

The Sun questioned the ability of 200,000 soldiers to deal adequately with postwar Japan which will be flooded with discharged soldiers and disgruntled unemployed. It urged an early government statement presenting Australia's views in the matter.

Juries For 72nd Court Drawn By Commission

MORTON, Sept. 20. (Special.)—A jury commission of J. C. Casey, T. J. Williams, G. W. Thompson, Earl Cadenhead and Joe Gipson has drawn grand and petit juries for the term of 72nd district court to be opened Sept. 8 by Judge Dan Blair.

The grand jury will be impaneled then, Judge Blair said.

The court heard non-contested civil cases here Wednesday, several at Levelland en route back to Lubbock.

Gallup Finds Opinion Is 2-To-1 For Plan

Public Sentiment Favors Welfare Post In Cabinet

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J.—The American people with opinions on the subject vote two to one in favor of creating a new cabinet post in the federal government—the Department of Public Welfare, according to a survey made by the Institute

GALLUP

The great extention of federal activity in the field of welfare and social insurance and the increasing emphasis in recent years upon federal participation in education, health, and recreation have suggested the need for a new department headed by a secretary of cabinet rank.

Establishment of an inclusive federal department of education, health, recreation, welfare and social insurance — headed by a secretary of cabinet rank— was proposed in a report made public this week by the Committee on Reorganization of Community Service, which made its study for The Women's Foundation, Inc.

In measuring public sentiment throughout the United States on the problem, the Institute asked the following question of a scientically selected cross-section of voters, representing opinion in all 48 states.

"Do you think another cabinet office, called the Department of Public Welfare and headed by a Secretary, should be set up in washington to include such things as Social Security, Public Health and Education?"

The replies of those with opinions:

| | |
|---|---|
| FAVOR ANONTHER CABINET OFFICE | 47% |
| OPPOSE | 22 |
| NO OPINION | 31 |

The fact that three in every ten questioned on the issue said they have no opinion is some measure of the task which lies ahead for groups who want to stir public interest in their project.

Analysis of the findings in this survey indicate that opinion favoring a Department of Public Welfare is to be found in higher proportions among the people who have attended college and among business and professional people, rather than among those in lower educational groups and among manuel workers.

However, among thase with opinions, this proposition is favored most strongly by those most greatly in need of such services. These are the manual workers and people with the least amount of education. Relatively speaking, opposition to the idea is strongest among farmers.

These facts are shown in the following tables:

BY EDUCATION

| | Favor | Oppose | Don't Know |
|---|---|---|---|
| Those who have attended college | 53% | 32% | 15% |
| Those who have attended high school | 50 | 25 | 25 |
| Those who have attended elemeniary school or less | 45 | 17 | 38 |

BY OCCUPATION

| | Favor | Oppose | Don't Know |
|---|---|---|---|
| Professional and business people | 53% | 27% | 20% |
| White collar workers | 54 | 22 | 24 |
| Farmers | 35 | 31 | 34 |
| MANUAL WORKERS | 47 | 15 | 38 |

The Landing Ship Dock (LSD) is slightly more than 457 feet long, and has a beam of 72 feet.

Delivery Of Livestock By Plane Is Predicted

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—Senator Robertson (R., Wyo.) foresees the day when cowboys will deliver livestock in flying boxcars.

The Senator in a statement today predicted wide use of private airplanes.

"I imagine the day is not too distant before ranchers will inspect their ranges regularly by air, and some of our choice livestock will move by air freight."

TO ABANDON PLANT

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—Power for Georgetown will be supplied by Lower Colorado River authority under a contract announced today. The city will abandon its municipal power plant.

Westerners Invade Bobcats Lair For Second Big Test

A squad of 26 Lubbock Westerners leave this morning for the lair of the San Angelo Bobcats, where they tangle with Coach Jewell Wallace's eleven tonight in the second test of the year against powerful District 3-AA opposition.

The Westerners took only a light, limbering up drill Thursday afternoon, and brushed up on plays to be used against the Bobcats.

Bobcats Are Favored

The Westerners will enter the game as a decided underdog, and without the advantage of having "scout dope" on the Bobcats. Efforts to get the Bobcats scouted last week failed.

But the fact that San Angelo upset a highly favored Denison club, 6-0, while the Westerners were being pushed around by Odessa, 26-7, indicates that the Bobcats may have another great team in the Concho area.

But the Westerners feel confident they will be able to make a much better showing against the Bobcats than comparative scores would indicate.

Indications are that the Westerners will have a slight weight advantage from tackle to tackle, will be outweighed on the ends, and about even in the backfield.

Lineup Is Shifted

Three changes have been named in the probable starting lineup for the Westerners, two of these in the line and one in the backfield. The changes will add more experience to the club.

The major change will be the return of Stoney Wall to the starting left guard post in place of Paul Waters, and should greatly bolster the center of the Lubbock line.

Robert Collier will take over at left end. Kenneth Cawthron came up late in the week with a pair of "shiners' and his work has been handicapped, but he will see action at San Angelo.

In the backfield, two boys have turned the right halfback position upside down, and are waging such a merry battle for the starting nod that Coach Dixie White won't give the now until game time tonight.

Austin, Sikes Shine

Don "Speck" Austin, the little speedster who scored the Westerner touchdown last week at Odessa, has bounded into the limelight during the week, and is rated on the starting lineup.

Noel Sikes, the Mighty Mite of twinkletoe fame, is staging a great battle to get the starting nod. Either Austin or Sikes will get the nod tonight, but the other one is sure to be in the ball game plenty.

Touch Football Has Two Close Battles

Grade school touch football duels Thursday afternoon were close affairs, and with very little scoring done against air tight defenses as the Sanders Bulldoggers won over McWhorter Mustangs, 6 to 2. The K. Carter Coyotes and Bean Bronchos battled to a 0 to 0 tie.

Cecil Gilbert scored the touchdown for Sanders, while Chester Madding tallied the safety for McWhorter's score.

Area Grid Tilts Offer Big Card

For the second straight week, West Texas will be well dotted with top notch football battles, with the Lubbock area claiming a full share of them.

Again all but one of the District 1-AA will swing into action with the spot light on Amarillo and Plainview. All five of the teams in action this week play Class AA foes with District 3-AA furnishing most of the fireworks.

Eagle, Sandies Feature

One of the top battles of the state pair two teams that many believe might meet again long abo the quarter-final round of state play, as Jake Bentley takes his Abilene Eagles up to Butler field at Amarillo to engage Coach Howard "Bull" Lynch's always favored Golden Sandies.

One direct comparison of District 1-AA strength will be afforded at Plainview tonight when the Childress Bobcats, beaten 6-12 last week by the Sandies, play Coach C. O. Harris' potent Bulldogs.

The Lubbock San Angelo battle rates near the top of the list, and should provide some interesting fireworks.

Two more teams that take on District 3-AA foes this week will be the Brownfield Cubs and Pampa Harvesters. Brownfield looked impressive last week in rolling over Slaton, 44-0, and will take on Lamesa tonight for perhaps a much better test.

Pampa stamped itself as a team to be watched by beating a highly rated Electra club, 14-7, and will move into Midland, where the season will just be opening.

Conference Play Starts

Three conference battles in District 6-A and one in District 5-A will take the spotlight in Class A football over the South Plains. All nine teams in District 6-A will be in action this week, with one playing last night.

The conference war will find Post playing at Tahoka, Slaton at Seagraves and Sundown at O'Donnell. Both the latter clubs are opening the season tonight, while the other four clubs lost openers last week.

Mulshoe will move into Morton tonight to open the conference schedule in District 5-A for the only other conference battle on schedule.

Non-League Features

Non-conference games offer perhaps the more colorful battles, however, and games at Denver City and Littlefield will perhaps claim the spotlight for the day.

Denver City is host to Coach Gano Tubb's Levelland Lobos, while the Wildcats at Littlefield expect tougher sledding tonight from a strong Floydada team, District 4-A powerhouse.

Andrews, the remaining District 6-A club, will be at home to entertain Grandfalls in the remaining game on the slate. Andrews played Ft. Stockton last week, but the results is unknown. Olton, the remaining team in 5-A, will open the season with Springlake.

Other Class A games will find Lockney testing out the newly lighted field at Petersburg tonight, while Memphis moves into Paducah for another promising battle.

New Deal school from Monroe moves into Wolfforth to play Frenship this afternoon in the Class B feature battle of the area. Lubbock Cowhands Black play at Ropesville this afternoon at 2:30, and Abernathy, Class B power, moves onto Chapman field to battle the Cowhand Golds at 4 o'clock.

Brecheen Blanks Chicubs, 2 To 0

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 20 (AP)—Harry (The Cat) Brecheen revived the fading St. Louis pennant hopes tonight with a brilliant six-hitter that squelched Chicago 2-0, and slashed the Cubs' National League lead over the runner-up Cardinals to two games with eight games left to play for each contender.

Seminole Wins 12-0 Over Westerner B

SEAGRAVES, Sept. 20 (Special) Striking once from afar, and again on a sustained drive, the veteran packed Seminole Indians opened the season here tonight, winning 12 to 0 over a stubbornly fighting Lubbock Westerner B team.

Constant Hood, veteran fullback, broke away in the second quarter for a 70-yard touchdown journey to break the Westerner defense for the first time.

This long range score was the only one until late in the final period when Valjoe Walker smashed off tackle for 5 yards to score again, and iced away the game.

The Westerners staged a great battle, and drew wide praise from the fans and Coach John Burns of the Indians, but the Lubbock lads were never able to muster a scoring punch.

Walker turned in another 35-yard gallop to pay dirt in the third period, but the run was nullified by a clipping penalty.

Fred Blair, 200-pound center of the Indians, was an outstanding player of the night, while wingmen Loyd Lunceford and Donald Patton, along with Tackle Logan Cook and Guard Howard Medcalfe came in for their share of the glory.

Tigers And Solons Both Lose, 6 To 1

NEW YORK, Sept. 20 (AP)—The wobbly Washington Senators, who are rapidly running out of games to play, had another nail hammered into the coffin containing their fast-failing American League pennant hopes today.

The Nats' old headaches, the Yankees, did the hammering this time with a 6-to-1 decision that left Washington still trailing the pace-setting Detroit Tigers by one full game—two on the vital losing side—with only four games still to go on the Senators' season schedule.

Given a "life" by the defeat of the Detroits in Cleveland, the Nats just couldn't stand prosperity. They went down before Lefty Joe Page's seven-hit hurling, but it was as much their own dismal doings afield and on the bases in the early frames as it was the slim southpaw's stuff that whipped Washington.

All of which brings this tight pennant parade down to the point where any combination of five Detroit wins and/or Senator setbacks would give the Tigers the flag. Even if the Nats grab their four remaining starts, they would have to keep rubbing their collective rabbit's foot in the hope the Bengals would blow more than one of their six tilts.

Southwestern Heads For Lubbock Friday

GEORGETOWN, Sept. 20 (Spcl) The Southwestern Pirates turned out for their final practice this afternoon, and prepared to depart for Lubbock, where they engage the Texas Tech Red Raiders Saturday night in their second engagement of the year.

After an hour blackboard session, Coaches R. M. Medley and Dewey Mayhew drilled their charges on pass defense, briefing for Saturday's battle.

The Pirates will be minus the services of Swede Ruthstrom, whose broken thumb, suffered in Monday's scrimmage, promises to keep him on the bench the remainder of the season. Medley will likely give the nod to young Chuck Williams to replace Ruthstrom at left half.

The Pirates will leave here Friday afternoon by bus, spending the night at Abilene, where the team will have a workout late Friday.

Wildcats Knock Off North Dallas, 13-12

DALLAS, Sept. 20—The "triple W" boys, Woodrow Wilson Wildcats, took the brief honor of being the first double winner in Texas Interscholastic League football here tonight, nosing out a 13-12 win over North Dallas.

The defeat knocked the North Dallas club from the state's list of undefeated, untied elevens. Both won opening games last week over Oak Cliff clubs by identical 19-0 scores.

The Dirigo, launched in 1894, and designed by the Waddingtons of Liverpool was the first all-steel sailing ship.

Several Feature Tilts This Week

(By The Associated Press)

The Texas schoolboy football season spreads from top to bottom this week-end with most of the heralded powers getting severe tests. Fewer than half the teams opened the drive last week but by Saturday night all except one school will have swung into action.

This second week of the campaign finds these top battles: Abilene at Amarillo; Paschal (Fort Worth) at Wichita Falls; Lubbock at San Angelo; El Paso High at Odessa; Waxahachie at Highland Park (Dallas); Sherman at North Side (Fort Worth); Poly (Fort Worth) at Brownwood; Lufkin at Bryan; Port Arthur at Longview; Lake Charles, La., at Lamara (Houston); Austin (Houston) at Galveston; Temple at Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio); Greenville at Corpus Christi.

All of these games except the Poly-Brownwood affair are set for Friday night with the Port Arthur-Longview contest as the feature. Port Arthur, 1944 state champion, will be unveiling a brand new team and in so doing will be facing one of the top-ranking East Texas elevens.

The Abilene-Amarillo tilt carries great interest. It will be a major test for Abilene, which has been enjoying the favorite's rating in the West Texas district where San Angelo has been ruling with an iron hand. Amarillo was none too impressive last week in its 12-6 win over low-rated Childress but should Abilene win over the Sandies it would add immeasurably to the Eagles' stature.

Odessa, which some critics think is the real power of Abilene's district, takes on a well-ranked El Paso High eleven. Last week Odessa trimmed Lubbock 26-7.

Brownwood, whch may be the team to break Breckenridge's tight-fisted rule over the old Oil Belt district, will know pretty well what it has after meeting tough Poly.

Greenville is something of a mystery team this year but will be unveiled to everyone's satisfaction when it plays a good Corpus Christi outfit on the latter's home field.

There are more than 60 games on the week's card with six of them intersectional. Probably the top game between a team from Texas and a team from another state is the Lamar (Houston) tussle with Lake Charles, La. Lamar is one of the top clubs of the Houston district.

Athletes Reorganize Lubbock High L Club

The Lubbock High school "L" club was organized Thursday afternoon in a meeting held at the Senior High school building, and officers and sponsors of the club were named.

George Brewer was named president, Charles Presley named vice president, and Harold "Stoney" Wall was named secretary-treasurer. Coach Dixie White and E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey were named sponsors of the club.

Other charter members present at the meeting yesterday were John Paul Jones, Noel Sikes, Robert Collier, Gerald Davis, Verdell Turner, G. W. Hensley, O. C. Foster, George Etz and Jimmy Allen.

The club is open to men who have won letters on the Westerners in football, basketball or track, and organized to promote better team spirit and cooperation among lettermen, and promote making of better grades among athletes.

The old club constitution and by-laws has been lost, and a new set will be drawn up by club members soon.

Acheson Meets Senate Rebuke

...re-up to a close with an admonition to his colleagues to keep their heads.

The instructions to MacArthur to get rid of the people who are regarded here as potential creators of a new Japanese imperialism were reported prepared by the State, War and Navy departments.

The general purpose of the instructions is to carry out the industrial disarmament program laid down in the Potsdam communique which defined the terms of unconditional surrender for Japan.

Other Provisions

Other provisions include curtailment of enemy industries down to the level of basic peacetime requirements, promotion of labor union organization, removal of barriers to free speech, and rigid control of Japanese financing procedures through control of the powerful Bank of Japan.

Other developments on the Japanese occupation included:

1. Top Washington officials were disclosed to be considering sending a special emissary to Tokyo to talk things over with General MacArthur.

2. Acting Secretary of State Acheson announced the appointment of John Carter Vincent, 45-year-old expert on Korea and particularly on China, to be director of the Office of Far Eastern affairs.

3. From Tokyo came word that MacArthur personally had "no comment" on Acheson's criticism of the general's estimate that it would require only 200,000 men to occupy Japan six months from now.

Landon's Comment

4. The Acheson criticism, voiced at a news conference yesterday, brought a sharp response from former Governor Alfred Landon of Kansas, one-time Republican presidential nominee. Landon contended that Acheson lacked the courage to "bell the cat" in his comments on MacArthur. Evidently he meant that Acheson had not made his complaints specific.

5. Lt. Gen. Barney M. Giles, deputy commander of Strategic Air forces in the Pacific, expressed the opinion Japan could be occupied for about "a hundred years." If we pull out soon, he said at a news conference here, there'll be trouble from 3,000,000 trained Japanese soldiers who never got into combat during the war.

walkout of 500 others and subsequent idleness for 6,000 production workers and at the Murray corporation plants, where 3,200 workers walked out in a dispute over working conditions.

Area Conciliation Director John Q. Jennings said he had not been instructed to take any action in the four-weeks-old Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company strike involving 4,500 workers. He said this instance was governed by a War Labor board directive.

Today the Kelsey-Hayes management wired UAW President Thomas cancelling "all written and verbal agreements between the company and UAW-CIO Local 174."

No Formal Agreement

A union spokesman said there had been no formal agreement between the company and the union.

The strike in the oil industry closed more gasoline and motor oil suppliers today.

"Sold out" signs appeared at scores of filling stations, and a dealers organization reported that only 12 days supplies remained in the city.

The strikers, members of the Oil Workers union (CIO), are demanding a 30 per cent wage increase. They have promised that public services will not be cut off from supplies.

Navy Holds Islands Pending Disposition

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—The Navy disclosed today its intention not to give up any Pacific island bases until a final decision on their disposition is made.

The disclosure was made to the House Naval committee by Admiral F. J. Horne, vice chief of naval operations.

The Navy has orders, Admiral Horne told the committee, not to abandon any of the bases but to keep them, at least in caretake status, until a final determination is made with respect to what islands the United States shall control permanently.

Admiral Horne and Read Admiral W. L. Burrough submitted to the committee a list of major and secondary bases the Navy expects to retain permanently after the war. Admiral Burrough emphasized that the list was drawn for "planning" purposes only and was tentative until final arrangements for control of the islands are made.

Admiral Horne told the committee berthing areas for the post-war fleet reserve have been selected at Boston, New London, Bayonne, N. J., Philadelphia, Hampton Roads-Norfolk area, Charleston, S. C.; St. John's River, Fla.; Orange, Tex.; vicinity of Bremeterton, Wash.; Tacoma, Wash.; Tongue Point, Ore.; Mare Island, and San Diego.

600 employes ;the Firestone Rubber plant, 600 employes; the Neches Butane Products Co. 1,000 employes; the Texas Company asphalt roofing refinery, 70 employes.

The Pure Oil plant was completely shutdown and the gradual process of closing down at the Texas and Gulf refineries were expected to be completed late tomorrow. The rubber plants closed at 4 p. m. Thursday.

Workers at the Atlantic refinery in Port Arthur were voting Thursday. A conference to discuss union demands made on the Magnolia Petroleum company was held at Beaumont.

Houston Votes Tabulated

In Houston strike votes were tabulated at the Sinclair Refinery; Sinclair Rubber, Inc.; General American Terminal; Sinclair Bulk plant; Crown Central Petroleum Corp.; Houston Pipe Line Co.

Arthur Hajecate, member of a local policy committee, said the voting was almost 100 per cent to strike.

Voters from workers of the Sinclair Pipe Line company were being received in Houston by mail.

At Texas City a strike ballot was held at the Pan American Oil Refinery Co., the American Liberty Oil Co., and the Republic Oil Refinery Co.

Workers of the Pan American Pipe Line Co. voted Tuesday to support the union demands.

At Ingleside, near Corpus Christi, negotiations continued between the union and the Humble refinery.

Wants Missionaries

Premier Higashi-Kuni in a statement urged Christian missionaries to stay in Japan to help raise morals and uproot hatreds, pledging that "I will see to it the Japanese people thoroughly understand the reality of defeat."

Eichelberger declared that the occupation so far had proceeded with a "minimum of friction with the Japanese authorities and with the Japanese people."

Troops will pour into Japan through September, October, November and December until about 400,000 have arrived. Staff officers predicted the reduction would begin after the winter's food and shelter crisis passes.

Congress Action

Give states enough federal money to pay their unemployed for 26 weeks at present varying rates. Most states now pay for shorter periods. Their jobless will get the money even if their governors don't "acept" the idea.

Grant eligibility for jobless pay to 400,000 maritime workers and 2,900,000 federal employes — such as those in Navy yards and arsenals.

Provide $200 apiece to get stranded war workers home.

Put the U. S. Employment service back under state control, as before the war. The President wanted to keep it under federal management for a while.

Taxes, Submerged Lands

On taxes, House Republican Leader Martin (Mass) urged a 20 per cent slash in levies on the 1946 incomes of individuals and business.

The submerged lands bill went from House to Senate. It involves oil deposits along the California, Texas and Louisiana coasts, and docks and waterfront warehouses, worth hundreds of millions.

Under it, the federal government would give up all claim to tidal lands and beds of navigable streams.

News Briefs

Two Lubbock men, brothers, were expected to be returned to Lubbock today by Capt. Maney Gault and Norvell Redwine of the Texas Rangers for questioning in connection with the Morton bank robbery. The pair was arrested Wednesday night near Waco in possession of a car stolen Sept. 6 at Grapeland. One is reported to have jumped bond at Plainview in a burglary case.

Cork oak from the Mediterranean is being planted in Texas.

Tests On Universal Blood Type Said Highly Successful

CANON CITY, Colo., Sept. 20. (AP)—Army doctors who used convicts as volunteer guinea pigs reported "highly successful" results today at the conclusion of tests to develop a universal blood type suitable for all transfusions.

One hundred thirty-four inmates, some of them life-terms, answered the call for volunteers, said Maj. L. H. Tisdall of Brooklyn, N. Y., who was in charge. Forty-nine were chosen for the 35-day tests.

Each received transfusions of about a pint of blood. The first day they lay on cots in the prison hospital while the doctors observed them closely. Then they resumed their prison duties, returning daily for a week for checkups.

Dealey's Views

we asked the general how long the army of occupation would have to stay in Japan. This was the reply:

"Six months if we handle the Japs right and by that I mean if we are not too ruthless and cruel —indefinitely if we do not handle them right."

This rather floored us because, up until that time, we had no idea that General MacArthur even remotely entertained the idea that all American troops could be removed from the Japanese home islands within a half year.

So the next question was a natural corollary. We inquired: "Well, if we do move out of Japan within the next six months, what is to prevent the Japanese from starting to build up for another war twenty-five years from now?"

"I'm going to fix things," replied General MacArthur, "so that the Japs will have a hard enough time eating for the next twenty-five years, much less having the leisure and materials to build up for another war. The Rising Sun is a setting sun. Japan is through forever as a military power."

WORKER DROPS DEAD

LAREDO, Sept. 20 (AP)—Claude Dunn, 50, a dairy worker, dropped dead here today while rounding up stray dairy cows. Justice of the Peace Elo Villegas returned a verdict of death from natural causes.

Speedier Method For Judges Impeachment Is Sought By Sumners

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (UP)—Chairman Hatton W. Sumners, D., Tex., of the House Judiciary committee said today he may press for House action on his bill to establish a speedier method than impeachment for removing undesirable federal judges from office.

"The present impeachment system is inadequate and unfair," he said in an interview.

Under the present system the House impeaches public officials whose action it believes warrant removal from office. The Senate, acting as judge and jury, then tries the accused official. A two-thirds vote of the Senate is needed for conviction.

Under Sumners' bill, introduced last January, a special court of three circuit justices instead of the Senate would try a judge whose official conduct has been questioned. The court would be appointed by the chief justice of Supreme court whenever the House decided after preliminary investigation the judge's conduct warranted the action.

Formal impeachment trials would be reserved for Supreme court justices and other judges of national importance.

Sumners' chief complaint about the present system is that it takes too much time from the work of congress—that Congressmen are unable to give the time necessary.

Typhoon Leaves Heavy Jap Damage But No American Lives Are Lost

TOKYO, Sept. 20. (AP)—American soldiers stationed in areas hit by Japan's latest heavy typhoon escaped serious injury, a check disclosed today but the Japanese home ministry said incomplete early reports showed at least 48 Japanese killed.

The 100-miles-an-hour winds wrecked numerous American airplanes and barracks on the home island of Kyushu, in the center of the storm which also lashed at Shikoku and Honshu islands in its two-day rampage. Communications with Kyushu and Shikoku still were cut today.

Many Homes Wrecked

The home ministry also reported that more than 2,000 homes were destroyed and uncounted thousands more were damaged by the storm. Crops were reported badly damaged.

In Tokyo, outside the principal damage zone, winds were strong enough to blow down tents at headquarters of the First Cavalry division.

Capt. John Stallings of Corpus Christi, Texas, who was at Kanoya when the storm hit the afternoon of Sept. 17, said that for three hours the Americans sat within a relatively sturdy former Japanese Navy barracks while the winds turned airplanes on their backs, tossed four-pound pieces of tiling in the air, and rolled balls of sheet metal like tumbleweeds across the airfield.

Three Barracks Smashed

Stallings said three former Japanese barracks and a messhall, taken over by American occupation forces, were demolished.

The airfield revetments, he said, were filled with wreckage of Japanse planes, which had been left out on the open field.

"American soldiers tried to moor the planes by tying them to trucks," said Stallings.

"I saw one big transport flipped over on its back and the truck to which it was tied flipped over with it, landing in the plane's middle. One pilot told me he tried to keep a transport headed into the wind by gunning the motor. His wind indicator reached 156 miles per hour then the pilot saw he couldn't win against the wind and jumped out.

Plane Lifted From Ground

"Another pilot was in a plane when it was lifted three feet off the ground."

Stallings said field officers told him that only about two of the wrecked planes were repairable.

Joan Prouty Is Said Greatly Improved

Joan Prouty, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Parker F. Prouty, who is receiving treatment for poliomyelitis in the Kenney institute in Minneapolis, Minn., is reported by her parents to be considerably improved.

Mr. and Mrs. Prouty, of 3019 Twentyfirst street, are currently visiting their daughter, who has been undergoing treatment since last June.

Joan's right arm and left leg, principally affected by the disease, are both slowly regaining strength with especial improvement being shown in the arm, of which she now has considerable control and use. Her parents have written friends here that while considerable time must still elapse before their daughter can return home, they feel she eventually will entirely recover from the effects of the disease.

Authorities and patients of Kenny Institute now are publishing a small newspaper of their own. Volume I, No. I features an article by Joan and carries her picture. She was flown to Minneapolis after contracting the ailment, making the trip in an Army Air Forces B-17.

Organization Started To Promote Constitutional Education In Texas

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. — A group of Texans has set up a temporary organization looking toward the promotion of constitutional education among the children of the state, and flatly denied that they would permit politics to encroach on their plans.

A committee was named to work out a statement of purposes to be incorporated in its proposed charter, and to report back on a definite plan of organization at a future meeting. President M. E. Sadler of Texas Christian university, temporary chairman of the meeting, named E. E. Townes of Houston, Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo, Joe Zappa of Tyler, E. B. Pickett of Liberty and James Shaw of Austin as members.

Professor Speaks

Assistant Attorney General Robert Long of Austin, named by the callers of the meeting who included former Governors W. P. Hobby and Ross Sterling of Houston, as temporary executive secretary, opened the meeting by introducing Dr. C. P. Patterson, professor of government at the University of Texas.

Dr. Patterson gave what he characterized as a discussion of constitutional government "adapted to sophomores in college" in which he emphasized that there has always been a struggle between authority and liberty in the establishment of governments, with a tendency "in political systems to become executive in character."

"I regret to say, as I see it, the major tendency of our system has been for power to drift into the hands of the excutive," he asserted.

Liberalism Trends

"We have a great band of people today calling themselves liberals who are actually authoritarians. Traditional liberalism was always on the side of individual man — these people pose as great humanitarians when they are really out to make checkers of men, to be moved about on the checkerboard. If that is liberalism, then Hitler, Mussolini, Hirohito and Stalin are liberals to the Nth degree.

"There can be no democracy where legislative bodies disappear or become slot machines."

There was no direct metion of politics until Townes told the group that "we must not permit this proposed organization to be dragged into politics, nor must we allow anyone within it to drag it into politics. It is purely educational and can not succeed unless it is conducted on that basis."

Emphasize Education

Sadler emphasized that the proposal to emphasize education in government, the constitution and the benefits of democracy could not be placed on a "partisanship basis." Long then declared that "if politics gets in, then I get out."

Mrs. Alice Taylor, educational director for the present state democratic organization said: "I am here just as an observer."

Invitations went out to the meeting to discuss an organization "to promote a more thorough study of American history and our constitution by the school children of this state." In addition to Hobby and Sterling, the call went out over the names of Long, Ray L. Dudley of Houston, Eugene McElvaney of Dallas, Pickett, Sadler, Dr. Umphrey Lee, president of Southern Methodist university, H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio, and Coleman Gay of Austin.

Of these, only Sadler, Pickett and Long were present at the preliminary session.

Woods Cites Laws

Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, said he attended to "orientate myself on the purposes of the organization." He said that there were now several state laws requiring the study of government, including the constitution, in the public schools and colleges, and that the department was doing all in its power to enforce them.

Former State Senator T. H. McGregor of Austin urged that the organization not only educate in the letter of the state and national constitutions, but "it should point out the milestones of its violations."

Jones Resigns C. Of C. Post At Nacogdoches

NACOGDOCHES, Sept. 20 (U.P.)— W. L. Jones, manager of the Nacogdoches Chamber of Commerce, has accepted a position as manager of the farm and ranch division of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, he said today.

Jones' resignation from the Nacogdoches civic body job takes effect Oct. 1. He is a graduate of Texas A. and M. college and holds a master's degree in agriculture.

No successor has been named for the position Jones vacated.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills. Adv.

Florida Youth Back Home Disappointed At Lack Of Cowboys

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 20 (AP) — Tired and disillusioned, Edward Keith Malcer, 15, returned home by plane today after a 5,000-mile quest for a real-life "Gary Cooper" role in what he imagined was still the wild and wooly west.

"I guess I saw too many cowboy movies," said the quiet, serious-spoken youth as he was welcomed back by his family.

"I went through Texas, Utah and Nevada, clear out to the California border, and I only saw a couple of boys who looked like maybe they were cowboys. Anyhow, they were on horses, but they didn't have on chaps, five-gallon Stetsons, six-shooters or anything like you see in the movies."

Edward left home nearly three weeks ago with $80 in his pockets and a Navy hammock slung over his frail shoulders.

Edward said his biggest thrill came on the plane ride home from San Antonio, Tex., where he was picked up by juvenile authorities.

Chili Sauce Cooked In Oven Five Hours

Mrs. Ed Vaughn gives this recipe for making chili sauce which is cooked for five hours in an oven of 350 degrees, Fahrenheit. She says to stir the ingredients occasionally and then pack in clean, hot jars and seal.

One peck ripe tomatoes, 6 medium sized onions, preferably sweet, 4 bell peppers, 1 bunch celery, 1 quart vinegar, 3 cups light brown sugar, 1 tablespoon each of allspice, cloves and cinnamon, 3 level tablespoons salt. Place ground tomatoes, onions, peppers and celery in large kettle, then add spices tied in cheesecloth bag, vinegar and sugar and cook on top range until it reaches the boiling point. Continue cooking in the ven for five hours.

Fudge Squares Using Sugar Saving Recipes

Rich, chocolate fudge squares—remember? Well, you can have them now with this postwar sugar saving recipe:

1 package (7 oz.) chocolate bits
2 tablespoons shortening
2 eggs, beaten
½ cup corn syrup
½ teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cake flour, sifted
½ teaspoon baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup nuts, chopped

Melt chocolate and shortening over hot water. Beat eggs thoroughly, add corn syrup and vanilla, and beat until light and fluffy. Stir in melted chocolate and shortening, which have been slightly cooled. Mix and sift flour, baking powder and salt. Add to chocolate mixture. Stir in nuts. Grease cookie sheets with extra care when syrup is used. Pour into greased 8-inch square pan. Bake in moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes. Makes 16 two-inch squares.

Let Schoolgirl Aid In Cooking

Teen-age girls gain a feeling of self-reliance when they learn how to cook simple foods. With patience, modern equipment and reliable recipes, any mother can teach her young daughter how to plan meals and prepare foods.

Flavored gelatin desserts, prepared chocolate and other flavor puddings, ready-to-use prepared cake and biscuit mixes, dehydrated soup mixes—all these are easy and produce palatable dishes. So include them in your teen-age cooking lessons.

This recipe is suggested by Lucy Maltby, author of "It's Fun to Cook" — a guide for teen-age cooks.

Baked Custard
(Serves 6)

Six eggs, ½ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon nutmeg, 1 quart milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla extract.

Beat eggs slightly. Add sugar, salt, nutmeg, milk and vanilla to the eggs and mix all the ingredients together only until blended. Pour into 6 large custard cups which have been well-greased or into a well-greased 1½-quart baking dish. Set the baking dish or the custard cups in a pan of hot water; allow water to come up on the outside of the baking dish almost as high as the custard itself. Avoid too much water or the cups may overturn. Bake. To test for sufficient cooking, thrust a silver knife in the center of the custard; if the knife comes out clean, the custard is done. Overcooking causes curdling of the custard. Serve custard hot or chilled as desired. Baker custard should never be cut until immediately before serving or it will separate. If you bake the custard in individual cups, allow about 45 minutes in a slow over (325 degrees F.). If baked in the baking dish, allow about 1 hour in a slow oven (325 degrees F.).

Welcome 'Em Home With These Cookies

When your children come home from school, have a batch of cookies waiting for them. Yes, even in these sugar scant days.

Use molasses as a sweetener. It is rich in iron, and children relish the taste.

Gingerbread
(Yield—16 Portions)

One-half cup melted shortening, 1¼ cups molasses, 1 egg, beaten, 2½ cups sifted flour, 1½ teaspoons soda, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon ginger, ½ teaspoon cloves, ½ teaspoon salt, ¾ cup hot water.

Combine shortening and molasses and add egg. Stir until well blended. Mix and sift dry ingredients and add alternately with the hot water. Bake in a well-greased 9x9x2 pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes.

New Orleans Drop Cookies
(Makes 4-5 dozen cookies)

Three-quarters cup melted shortening, 1 cup molasses, 2 eggs, beaten, 2¼ cups sifted flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, ½ teaspoon ginger, ½ cup milk, ½ teaspoon soda, ½ teaspoon lemon extract, 1 cup raisins, chopped.

Mix shortening and molasses. Add eggs and stir until blended. Sift together dry ingredients, and add to first mixture alternately with the milk, in which the soda has been dissolved. Add lemon extract and raisins. Drop by teaspoons on greased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 8 to 10 minutes.

Baked Eggs On Spaghetti

1½ cups spaghetti, uncooked
2 quarts boiling salted water
2 tablespoons cooking fat
4 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup evaporated milk
1 cup cold water
2 ounces grated American cheese
Fine, soft bread crumbs
4 eggs

Cook spaghetti in the two quarts of boiling salted water until tender. Drain. Melt cooking fat, add flour, salt and blend. Combine milk and cold water; add gradually to the flour mixture, blending well. Cook until smooth and thick, stirring constantly. Add ½ the cheese. Mix with spaghetti and top with buttered crumbs. Place eggs in spaghetti. Sprinkle with remaining cheese. Bake in a slow oven (300° F.) about 20 minutes or until eggs are cooked. Yield: 4 generous servings.

War-weary vacuum cleaners should not be forced to inhale string, pins, hairpins, tacks, or other stray bits of metal.

To prevent steel wool from rusting, dry it out on the radiator after using.

At least three eggs should be eaten every week as eggs are a good source of iron, protein and vitamins.

To avoid curdled custards, tough frizzled fried eggs and shrunken omelets, always cook eggs at a low temperature.

Pudgy British Admiral Knows Way Around, Is Idolized By His Men

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABOARD BATTLESHIP DUKE OF YORK, En Route to Hong Kong, Sept. 13 (Delayed) — The TP British seadog in the Pacific is a 57-year-old Scottish bachelor who knows his way around with a Russian balalaika as well as on His Majesty's battleships.

He is Adm. Sir Bruce Fraser, whose present assignment as commander-in-chief of the first British Pacific fleet in history, with some 400 ships of all types under his command, crowns 42 years of service in the Royal Navy.

He began as a 15-year-old "snotty," British Navy slang for midshipman, and may well wind up as Britain's first sea lord, the peak of any regular Navy man's career.

Friendly, Easygoing

"Tubby," as fellow admirals call the stocky, five foot eight inch Scot, looks like anything but a ruling English seadog.

He is an easygoing, friendly, approachable man with gray hair and light blue eyes that really smile. Perhaps because he has never been married and has no children of his own, he is especially kind to junior officers, who normally lead lives in the British Navy which at best can be compared with that of a plebe at West Point. They idolize him.

When he isn't at sea, this genial pipe-smoking admiral lives with his aged invalided mother in their modest family home near Hampton Palace by the Thames.

Ties between mother and son are exceedingly close and the first thing the British admiralty did after Fraser had finished sinking the German Battleship Scharnhorst was to send word of the son's victory to his mother, now in her eighties.

The hour of the battle, Dec. 23, 1943, off North Cape Norway, in the midst of Arctic darkness, Sir Bruce sent the admiralty a two-word message. It said: "Scharnhorst sunk."

Similarly, when his ship steamed into Sagami bay at the war's end, he messaged cryptically, "he fleet is anchored in Japanese waters."

I asked one young lieutenant commander to tell me frankly what he thought of Sir Bruce and he said:

"I would give my life gladly anytime to save him, and I mean it. I wouldn't say that about any other admiral. I like my own life."

Lubbock Sailor Aboard Ship Into Shanghai

Aboard the USS Minneapolis when it steamed into Shanghai recently Joe B. Brock, 22, seaman first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Brock of 304 Ave. L, was among 63 Texans to receive awards in ceremonies aboard the ship recently, a letter to his parents has disclosed.

Wire service dispatches carried his name as "Joe B. Brack" previously, which was an error.

Seaman Brock had 12 campaign stars on his ribbons when he was home on leave last June. He returned to the Pacific after visiting his parents here.

Three Incurable Brothers Calmly Wait For Death

SALISBURY, N. C., Sept. 20. (AP)—The three Pinion brothers, the eldest 19, wait with patience and fortitude for the death they know will not be long in coming.

The brothers are victims of muscular dystrophy, a rare disease nearly always fatal. Doctors have pronounced their cases hopeless.

David, the oldest, has suffered with the disease the longest—for 11 years. Billy is 15, Lloyd 12. None has been able to walk since he was 10 years old.

Physicians do not expect David to live more than a year longer.

The youths spend most of their time in a small room in the home of their widowed mother, Mrs. D. E. Pinion. They like to read comic books and listen to their radio. Lloyd plays with his pet cat Smoky.

The family's only income is from funds provided by welfare and charitable organizations, welfare workers say.

The mother speaks openly of her sons' illness. They have known for a long time that all will soon die.

Several Of Freed Former Prisoners Now Fight Disease

KUNMING, China (Delayed) (AP)—Twenty-one men who lived through the surrender of Bataan and Corregidor and the subsequent hell of 44 months in Japanese prison camps are coming back to life here.

Each is suffering from active or arrested tuberculosis, said Col. Furman H. Tyner of Port Arthur, Tex., commander of the Kunming General hospital. The men were rescued from a prison camp at Mukden, Manchuria.

"One of these 21 men has beriberi heart, a condition brought on by malnutrition," Tyner said. "Others are suffering from pleurisy and rheumatism, as a result of exposure. They are, all of them, sick men."

Most were interned first at Camps O'Donnell and Cabanatuan in the Philippines before being transferred to Manchuria. Several were in the "Death March" on Bataan in which many American soldiers were beaten or bayoneted to death by the Japs.

Staff Sgt. Earl W. Guye, Houston, a survivor of the Death March, said the worst part of life at Mukden was the lack of warm clothing. Temperatures range to 40 degrees below zero between October and March.

Other men in this first group included: Pfc. Lonnie M. Johnson, jr., Dallas, captured Bataan April 9, 1942; Pvt. James N. Bowen, Weinert, Tex.; Pvt. Herman R. Ross, Houston; Pvt. Mervin H. Suttle, 502 N. Russell St., Pampa, Tex., captured at Corregidor May 6, 1942.

AWARDS ARE PRESENTED

BERLIN, Sept. 20 (AP)—Legion of Merit awards and Bronze Stars, which mean five points toward going home were presented to ten officers today. A Bronze Star went to Capt. Del S. Perkins, Brownsville, Texas.

Change Of Regime In Spain Is Confirmed

SAN SEBASTIAN, Spain, Sept. 20 (U.P.)—Generalissimo Francisco Franco has confirmed for the first time that he plans to retire to make way for a change of government, but intends that he alone shall decide when and how the change will be made.

Franco significantly made the disclosure yesterday in responding to a toast at a gathering of 260 high Spanish military officers, many of whom had studied, campaigned in Morocco and fought in the civil war with him.

It generally was believed that Franco was planning a restoration of the monarchy in some form. Negotiations have been going on between representatives of Franco and Don Juan, pretender to the throne now in exile in Switzerland, for some time.

TEXANS HELD ON CHECKS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 20 (U.P.) Fred A. Nichols, 33, and his wife, Ona, 27, Dallas, Tex., were held today pending hearing on a charge of cashing fraudulent checks. Police said they cashed two checks for $45 and one for $35 in three central city stores. Nichols was said to have used blank checks stolen from his Philadelphia employer.

GIUSTINO LOYAL HEADS BAREBACK TROUPE—Thrills galore are offered circus fans when the Giustino Loyal troupe of bareback riding champions come here next Wednesday as featured stars of Cole Bros. This internationally famous group of riders, in number, are but one of many of the many features offered in the circus.

Silver Star Medal Is Awarded Lubbock Marine In Hawaii

HAWAII, T. H. (Delayed) — Marine Pfc. Thomas Cecil Windsor, who voluntarily walked through a minefield and deadly hail of mortar shells to guide his amphibian tractor, laden with ammunition, barbed wire and water, to frontline troops on Iwo Jima, was one of three Texas farmboys singled out when the Marine Corps decorated its amphibian tractor men who landed on Iwo.

Windsor, 23, of route 4, Lubbock, received the Silver Star medal. The Bronze Star was awarded Pvt. Lonnie Eugene Hughes, 20, of route 4, Mount Pleasant, and the Purple Heart was pinned on Pvt. Garland M. Hall, 24, of route 3, Sherman.

Windsor alighted from the "water buffalo" on which he was acting crew chief, and probed the mined area with his bayonet, while dodging enemy fire and signaling the vehicle on.

A shell sent fragments through the tractor. Jap machine gunners got the range of the chugging target. But the Marines dispatched their vital cargo, then picked up casualties and took them to a hospital ship.

Before the run, Windsor said he was sleepy. He had spent a nightmarish evening in his amphibian off shore, unable to find his supply ship.

When bomb craters stalled another buffalo, Hughes helped carry ammunition 150 yards by hand.

Hall's crew, using its amphibian tank to draw fire and locate machine-gun nests in enemy territory, silenced its last objective after he was hit by fragments in both hands.

On D-Day night, his tank miraculously outmaneuvered the marksmanship of a Jap motar section.

Flares lit up the night like day," Hall related. Mortar projectiles were falling first behind, then in front of our tank, so close that the volcanic ash would sting our faces. As we changed position, a shell set off an ammunition dump beside us."

A veteran of Guam, Windsor was graduated from Klondike High school, Lamesa, Texas, before enlisting in November, 1942. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gass M. Windsor, Lubbock.

Paper Recounts Bitter Fight At Palace Over Surrender By Japs

TOKYO, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—The Tokyo newspaper Mainichi said today that a group of young officers took over control of the imperial palace Aug. 15 in an attempt to prevent Emperor Hirohito from announcing Japan's surrender.

Mainichi said the officers killed Lt. Gen. Mori, commander of the imperial guards, imprisoned Gen. Shigeru Hasunuma, chief aide de camp to the emperor, and severed telephone communications from the palace before they were dissuaded by Lt. Gen Shizuichi Tanaka, commander of Eastern Army headquarters.

Followed Acceptance

(Mainichi's account of the asserted revolt was not immediately confirmed. The uprising was said to have begun at 1 a. m., Aug. 15—Tokyo time—more than 10 hours after the officially controlled Tokyo radio said that the emperor would accept the Allied terms.

(It assertedly ended at 7 a. m., about three hours after the Japanese reply to the Allies' note outlining the emperor's role in the Allied occupation had been delivered to the Swiss government.)

Mainichi said that "history might have seen different developments and the emperor's desire for reconstruction of a peaceful Japan might have been nullified, but for (Tanaka's) strong sense of responsibility and bold decision between Aug. 14 and the morning of Aug. 15."

Tanaka, who committed suicide Aug. 24, restored order to the imperial compound after talking to leaders of the uprising for more than three hours, the newspaper said.

General Staff Officers

Participants in the revolt were described as several general staff officers above the rank of major "who had heard the imperial rescript of acceptance of the Potsdam declaration would be issued and had intended to take some steps necessary to have the emperor reconsider so they could continue fighting to the bitter end."

At 1 a. m. Aug. 15 they attacked headquarters of the imperial guards and killed Mori after he had refused to collaborate with them, Mainichi said.

The guard officer in charge was then imprisoned, and the plotters issued forged orders which included disarming the guards at the emperor's personal headquarters, the account continued.

Surrounded Palace

When the entire palace had been surrounded the insurgents "swooped down upon" Hasunuma and imprisoned him.

Mainichi said that when Tanaka "heard about developments in the palace from the chief of staff of imperial guards" he shouted:

"I'm going over there right away and kill all of them."

Then after "meditating" Tanaka "grabbed his revolver and with his adjutant (a Major Tsukamoto) accompanying him sped his car at top speed to the palace," the account said.

"Stop, I'm the commander in chief," Tanaka was said to have shouted to the insurgent guards, who let him pass through the palace gate.

Seeks Keeper of Seal

Meanwhile, the insurgents were scouring the palace for Koicho Kido, lord keeper of the privy seal. He had moved his room that night, however, and the searchers were unsuccessful, Mainichi said.

"Tanaka then lectured to the young officers for three hours that they must not commit outrages once the emperor had reached a decision," the account said.

Four of the "young officers" committed suicide on the spot. The others were taken to the guard hourse.

The revolt, if confirmed, might provide a possible explanation for a delay of some 24 hours betwen the Tokyo radio announcement at 2:49 p. m. Aug. 14 (12:49 a. m. Aug. 13 CWT) that the imperial rescript would be forthcoming "soon" and its actual delivery by the emperor over the radio.

We Can Cut Our Traffic Toll

IN 1944, a total of 855 Texas children of school age were killed and 3,000 injured in accidents. Motor accidents caused 274 of the fatalities.

Not only every parent, but every citizen of the state should read those figures with concern. They point clearly to the need of greater safety education and more rigid control of licensing.

Yet the major cause of automobile accidents in Texas, as elsewhere, is not ignorance of the rules of safe driving but a slip-shod indifference to the need of carefulness and the rights of others.

Not a day passes but what one can observe flagrant violations of safety regulations in downtown Lubbock. Some drivers continue to show an arrogant disregard for the rights of pedestrians. And there are pedestrians who add to the hazard by ambling along at a snail's pace in crossing.

Then there is the driver, who suddenly swerves out from a parking place at the curb without a warning signal of any kind, and the equally bad one who, driving in the center of the street, sees a place to park and turns quickly in front of cars traveling in the lane nearest the curb. Entirely too many drivers fail to make signals as prescribed by state regulations. Some even make right-hand turn signals before making left-hand turns.

Bad as this is, just a little courtesy on the part of the man or woman at the wheel of the car would often go a long way toward preventing accidents. And this suggests one of the strange things about human nature. A person, who is the acme of politeness in his office or home, may be a selfish and domineering personality at the steering wheel of his car. Is it because of an inferiority complex that is mysteriously reinforced by the sense of power that comes to him as he steps on the gas? That is a question for the psychologists. The question of greater concern to most of us is what can be done to induce more drivers to obey safety regulations. We all want "the other fellow" to be more careful.

The Lubbock Jaycees are working on this problem and planning a safety campaign at this time. This is commendable and should have the support of all other civic groups.

It is also encouraging to see that the Texas Safety Association, Inc., and others are working to get safety education made a part of the state's school program.

What may prove to be one of the most important steps toward attaining this goal of concerted safety action was taken this summer when a safety laboratory workshop was established at the University of Texas. From all over the state came forty teachers to engage in a cooperative effort of making two handbooks which are to serve as guides to teachers in giving safety training. Copies of these handbooks are to be sent to teachers throughout the state.

All of these moves are praiseworthy starts in the right direction, but accidents will continue to claim their frightful toll of school children until more drivers become safety-conscious.

Just commonsense caution and road courtesy will help a lot.

Tax Cut Must Be Small!

"DON'T expect too much."

That is the warning that almost every member of Congress is broadcasting to his constituents, who are inquiring about the possibility that Congress may reduce taxes for next year.

With large pressure groups demanding increased unemployment benefits and other forms of government subsidy, federal expenditures threaten to remain large even if the war is ended. For while the fighting is over, it still must be paid for, and the interest charge alone on the public debt is now almost $3 billion a year.

That is almost as much as it cost to run the entire government before the New Deal came along. And the aftermath of the war also must be paid for, including an Army and Navy of two and one half million men, pensions and other expenses incidental to veterans' care.

Altogether, the cost of running the government next year is estimated at around $25 billion, and even if we kept all of our present taxes these would bring in only about $32 billion.

There is nothing in the present picture to justify the hope that our taxes will soon again be as low as they were before A. Hitler invaded unfortunate Poland, Sept. 1, 1939.

While the United States did enjoy tax reductions in the decade following World War I, the rates were never again as low as at the outbreak of that war. The only reduction in the personal income tax immediately after World War I was in the normal tax. The surtax rate remained the same. It was three years before another reduction came along; this time the normal rates were kept the same and the surtaxes were reduced slightly.

Tax relief may become a major issue in the next three years and may play an important role in the next presidential campaign. But for the present, the taxpayer will have to take it on the chin and bear it. There is no large or quick relief in sight.

LEANA PLANS POWER

VII

THE STORY: Destruction caused by the explosion is widespread. Carolyn finds Robert at the laboratory, unable to explain the blast.

• • •

In Bob Hale's office the telephone rang. Carolyn, as his secretary, arose to answer it, but plainly Bob was not used to having a secretary yet. He reached for the handpiece himself.

"Hale talking," said he.

"This is Ken Palmer, Dr. Hale," came the voice. "Uh, would it be all right if I inquired about Miss Tyler? Carolyn? Fact is, I'd like to talk to her, if it won't be too much trouble."

"She's right here." He motioned to Carolyn. "It's Mr. Palmer."

Ken, it developed, wanted mainly to know where she had been keeping herself, and did she go out to the explosion yesterday, and was she trying to dodge him, and could he have a date tonight.

"Ken, you're an old darling," she said, with some fervor. "The truth is, I have been quite busy. This is a new job, you know. And Ken—I—I think I'd better not"—she glanced at her employer, who was feigning no interest—"better not set any dates for this week, because I'm expecting a lot of night work for a while. Dr. Hale's secretarial work had been rather neglected."

Dr. Hale, who technically hadn't been listening, interrupted, "Oh, please go right ahead, Miss Tyler!"

She stuck her ground. She and Ken talked a bit more and she bade him goodby perhaps a little more sweetly than necessary.

• • •

In studied manner, too, Bob Hale resumed their conversation where it had left off. "And so we cannot admit having caused the explosion, Carolyn, or admit having produced the X-999 at all, because if we do the news will bring all manner of cranks, foreign agents, and such."

"Of course, Bob."

"And yet it is my fault. I ought to tell the police."

"There is no 'fault,' as you call it. I keep repeating that. This thing is new! Untried. That explosion was an accident pure and simple. You say you have already arranged to pay money secretly to the bereaved families, which is well, if you can avoid being traced. Their tragedy can't be helped. And industry can absorb its own losses. Can't it? For so important a thing as you have, Bob? And when you do announce your discovery, you can make payment in full. The men financing your work insist that it be kept secret now."

He nodded at her, slowly, appreciatively.

"I have an idea," she went on. "You are distressed to death, Bob, about what to do with the remaining X-999, now that you have actually produced a quantity of it. You say you don't dare experiment on it here because of the danger, and yet a tragedy occurred when you tried to move a part of it. Now look—wouldn't it be feasible to—"

The telephone range again and this time it was long distance wanting Bob himself. She waited. But the conversation turned out to be a long one, not concerning the matter at hand.

Presently, she retired to the small anteroom of his office, which was now her own private office.

• • •

Carolyn was scanning her shorthand notes, waiting for him to finish, when she heard an outer door open and she knew, by some strange subtlety of sound and intuition, that Leana Sormi had come to Bob. Even then the telephone conversation was ended.

"Leana," Bob greeted her. "Sit down."

"Robert, I have been thinking." She plunged right in. "I do not believe you fully appreciate the magnitude of what we have here."

"But, Leana—"

"You have power in your grasp, Robert! That explosion merely proves it."

"Leana, you don't mean that. Not that way."

Leana's tone suddenly softened, grew more intimate an dinsinuating. "Don't you understand? Robert Hale, you can become the greatest man alive!"

He did not answer.

"You can have no end of achievement and greatness. Every power over mankind is yours. Think of it! Barely a teaspoonful, and whole factories wiped out! Who would dare cross you if your discovery became known?

"Only two people know of this, Robert. You and I. Together we can be man and woman of the ages!"

She said it so dramatically that she cast a veritable spell. Carolyn, overhearing, was herself impressed.

"You and I know that what we have here will render all other power sources obsolete. Within a few years at most, all of America's electric plants, all steam and diesel and gasoline engines, every phase of industry must be revolutionized, as you and I direct! Have you forgotten that?

"Don't you see, Robert, dear, how far-reaching it is? Almost at once, we can control a continent. And then—and then—oh, Robert!"

In her little room Carolyn could almost hear her own heart pounding. As usual, when one eavesdrops, intentionally or otherwise, the things she heard here were exceedingly disturbing.

INJUNCTION SUIT CONTINUED

PECOS, Sept. 20 (AP)—An injunction suit in federal court here against Mayor A. J. Burks of Odessa filed by Chester Bowles, OPA administrator, has been continued until the next term of court because of the illness of the defendant. Mayor Burks became critically ill last Friday.

TEXAS U. HAS 600 VETS

AUSTIN, Sept. 20 (U.P.) — Six hundred veterans of World war two are now enrolled in the University of Texas, Dr. Roger A. Burgess, training officer for the veterans' administration, said here today.

To provide facilities for the busy 578 miles of New York's waterfront, 722 piers are required.

Looking At Life ------ By Erich Brandeis

CAREY Padgett Hodson, 50-year-old Yale freshman, died a few days ago after a heart attack in his classroom.

He was the oldest freshman in the university's history and had enrolled to keep a promise which he made to his stepson, Pfs. Henry Carey, a Yale senior, who was killed in action in Germany.

Young Carey was proud of being a Yale man. He made his stepfather pledge himself to be a Yale man, too, in the event that he did not return.

Education has come in for much criticism in the last few years, although the fault is not nearly so much with education itself as with the educators.

BRANDEIS

I don't know whether young Carey's pride in his college and his education originated by virtue of his teachers or his parents or as an inborn trait of character.

But I do know that one of the things that have been sadly neglected is the creation of a desire for education in the average student.

To most youngsters education is something like cod-liver oil or combing your hair. It's something that has to be done, so you may as well do it and have it over with.

But how many children are made to understand what vistas education opens up to them, what adventure there is in knowledge and how essential it is to success in later life?

• • •

Only last evening I had dinner with a well-to-do man and his wife. He had worked his way up from proverty to success and married her when both were very young — and still very poor.

Today they have just about everything the human heart desires — all except education.

Both had to leave school early to make their own living, and, in spite of diamonds and automobiles and a beautiful home, they show that lack of education in lack of poise and of that self-assurance which only education and culture can give.

"But I shall see to it," he said to me, "that my children will have the best possible education. A million dollars cannot give you what four years in college can."

• • •

I AGREED. But I called his attention to the word "can."

Education can give you poise and success. But it can do it only if the educators themselves make education not just a chore for themselves and a drudge for their students, but a thrilling adventure and a fascinating journey into the realm of unlimited possibilities.

Education, to be successful, must be exploration.

Hillman Opens Campaign

CIO-er Seeks To Control Nation

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

SIDNEY HILLMAN has jockeyed himself into the position of the potentially most powerful dictator in the United States today through his influence as boss of the Congress of Industrial Organigations. As the politicos prepare for the 1946 and 1948 struggles for control of the government, they recognize that he may determine the fate of the two major parties, and may even form a third organization among his millions of followers.

Provided that he and his associates can proselyte the workers as successfully as they did in the 1944 contest, the CIO will enjoy a definite advantage over the regular Democratic or Republican machines in the postwar period. For the next few years, as industry undergoes far-reaching changes, there will be a migration of employes in mass production fields on a vast and nation-wide scale. Millions of the working population will be in a fluid state.

TUCKER

Moving from city to city, they will not be susceptible to the approaches or arguments of the ordinary city bosses and ward heelers. Doorbell ringing has become a lost science to the lazy, old-time politicians.

Thus, this type of voter will tend to disappear from the clutches of the Kelly, Hague and Tammany machines. Moreover, these people became suspicious of the cigar-smoking back-room ruler in depression days. The chiefs could not put them on the public pay roll.

Hillman, however, can keep track of them through his union records. If they want jobs on moving to strange place, they will have to join his local. They will have to pay dues, list the members of their familes and vote for his candidates. It is obvious that the range of his control over these millions is not bound by any geographical limitations.

Although the politicians have sensed the elastic extent of the Hillman domain only lately, he recognized it long ago. Seeking to insure elction of a friendly Congress and President in 1946 and 1948, his aides have been on the road for weeks. They have established a seemingly unbeatable system for checking the movements and political behavior of CIO members.

• • •

INFLUENCE: Hillman has another asset which is denied to his rivals — or to his freinds — in either of the two major parties. He has the tightest, the most homogeneous and concentrated political machine that the United States has ever seen, again assuming that the workers in the mass industries enlist under his guerrilla banner.

By rolling up majorities for his favorite Presidential nominee in only 15 great industrial centers, the garments workers' czar can dominate 13 states which have a majority of ballots in the Electoral College. If he supports a Democrat for whom the South votes solidly, his candidate will have a walkaway, as did FDR on four occasions.

But should the CIO switch to a Republican standard-bearer — an unlikely happening — the GOP-er would be an almost sure winner. The addition of Hillman-controlled areas to those which both Willkie and Dewey carried would provide far more than the necessary 266 ballots in the most famous college in the world.

The same sort of localized influence makes the CIO a powerful factor on Capitol Hill, especially in the House. Approximately 75 members, Democratic, Republican and Progressive, are usually returned from cities in which the workingman's vote is decisive.

Anticipating a possible postwar reaction against organized labor in the legislative chambers during the next few years. Hillman has set out to elect men who know — or fear — that he butters their political bread.

• • •

RESTLESS: Politicians in both camps do not discount the possibility, albeit remote, that the Hillmanites may organize a third party under certain circumstances. Sidney keeps his own counsel about it; that is shrewd politics at the moment—but it could happen.

The CIO-ers have grown a bit restless since President Truman succeeded their champion. HST has adopted their legislative program with all the trimings, but they are waiting to see whether he will battle for it as FDR was wont to do.

Mr. Roosevelt did not mind Congressional hostility, so long as he got the CIO votes. As an alumnus, Mr. Truman is more considerate of his former colleagues. But the CIO crowd fear that his consideration may become the equivalent of weakness in the face of legislative recalcitrancy.

Hillman himself is personally miffed. He has not been a regular White House caller since April 12. His advice has not been asked. He can no longer dismiss scheduled conferences with the explanation, "I have just received a telephone from the President, and I must run, gentlemen." That was one of his favorite tricks for impressing minor leaders of the CIO with his political importance.

• • •

OPPOSITION: Meanwhile, the Republicans want no truck with the CIO. They have definitely forsworn an alliance with this particular labor group, even if such a mismating were a practical possibility. The fact is that the GOP thinks that support of the CIO will be a drag in 1946 and 1948.

The minority honestly believe that their opposition to the Hillmanite program will profit them, now that the war and high wages are ended. They look for a revolt against alleged labor domination of the government. They anticipate resentment on the part of other workingmen's groups (the AFL) and the UMW) the white-collar class whose pay has not been increased proportionately, the millions of returning soldiers and small businessmen.

Although the minority pray that Hillman will split the Democratic strength by forming a third party, they may be kidding themselves on the effect. It might insure a Democratic victory, strange as that may seen. As Alf Landon noted in a pointed but unpublicized speech before the Kiwanis club of Topeka recently, a three-way Presidential battle might resemble the 1924 election in reverse.

In that year there was a third party headed by the late Sen. Robert Marion Lo Follette and Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana. The GOP won Democratic votes for Calvin Coolidge by warning that the presence of the independent organization might throw the recision into the Electoral College. They resorted to "scare tactics." Similarly, Mr. Truman may use the same warning to corral the support of frightened Republicans.

• • •

PACKERS: Three federal prosecuting agencies — The Department of Justice, the Office of Price Administration and the Treasury — have adopted new tactics in their cleanup campaigns against packers and distributors alleged to have engaged in black marketing, tie-in sales and other practices which caused severe shortages or boosted the price of meat during the war. They have quit sniping at corner markets and concentrated on the major offenders on a nation-wide scale.

The OPA recently obtained an indictment in Philadelphia against a major Chicago packer, 19 salesmen and the managers of five branch offices on the ground that they violated regulations by forcing butchers to purchase unsalable by-products as a prerequisit to getting desirable meat. It is the first of many true bills to be sought in such cities as Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore and Washington as well as in most of the larger centers throughout the country.

• • •

PURPOSE: Federal investigators get their information by "putting the squeeze" on the wholesalers and the retailers. From these sources, the government collected evidenced with which it seeks to prove that illegal payments were made in a sub rosa manner much as football stars were hired by colleges in the rough-and-ready years of collegiate athletics. Uncle Sam's men are forcing many to talk under threat of prosecution.

The Old Grouch says that a woman understands another woman for the same reason that a thief can catch a thief.

"The Time To Start Checking Is Now"

Study Of Politics Is Advised

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—It is an obvious conclusion to this discussion of the last few days about the re-opening of politics, its meaning and importance, to suggest that people take a greater interest in politics, become active themseles, and be on hand to vote.

But the conclusion still seems a sound one, especially in these times, whether you follow along with President Truman for a continuation of the New Deal which he has espoused, or whether you think that course is inevitably bad for the country; whether you approve his foreign policy, or whether you think it unwise.

STOKES

The citizen has much at stake now in government, more than ever before, nationally and internationally. The course is set for much of that right here in Washington. And it is something that goes on day-by-day, that is built up gradually. What happens in Congress today and tomorrow and next week is part of the record on which the voters must pass many months from now. So is what President Truman and his administration do day-by-day.

Reading a pretty colored folder with a handsome photograph or listening to a few speeches in the closing days of a campaign months hence is hardly enough on which to base intelligent and responsible judgment. It's hard to get the full truth that way. The issues on which you will vote next year are being made now.

• • •

There's Lots of Omission

It is no disparagement of the average politician to point out that you may not get the whole story of his record in Congress by listening to what he says in his campaign speeches. After all he is in the role of salesman in his campaign. He wants to hold on to his job. Everything he tells you may be the truth, but he may not tell you everything. Nobody may ask him the right questions.

There is no better proof of this than the experience of a Washington political reporter who watches the administration and Congress day after day and then goes out and listens to campaign speeches of members up for re-election. The contrast is something almost amazing. You wouldn't know it was the same fellow. A lot can be done with emphasis and omission. And most politicians are good actors and know how to read their lines.

• • •

TOO OFTEN they are not properly put on the spot and are not made to talk to the point. The only way this can be done is for the people in their districts to know something about their records, so the speakers can't talk through their hats and get away with it. This takes political education, and not once a year, but all through the year while the record is being made in Congress.

How a little prompting can make a member of Congress running for re-election talk to the point was illustrated a few years back in President Roosevelt's "purge" campaign, his attempt to defeat certain Conservative democrats in the primaries.

Among these were Senators George (Ga.) and Smith (S. C.). He put those two gentlemen on the defensive. They spent much more time perhaps than they otherwise would in explaining their records in the Senate. It was the first time many of their constitutents had known much about what they had done in Washington.

• • •

Both were re-elected. But President Roosevelt stirred up a debate in both those states that left its influence. It was true also in other states where he tried to eliminate incumbent Democratic senators.

Ordinarily a Conservative Democratic member of Congress running for re-election in the South would go back home and beat his breast and swing his arms around and tell how he was supporting "our great President in the White House." Thus he would cover up with his sweeping oratorical generality, appropriately accompanied by a flaming light in the eyes, all the occasions when he had voted against the President's program.

It was an old trick in those days, made necessary by President Roosevelt's popularity among rank-and-file Southern voters.

A continuous careful check on what members do here, day by day, will eliminate a lot of that.

The time to start checking is now, not next year.

Memcrial Concerts To Replace Birthday Balls

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20. (AP)—President Truman will carry on the Franklin D. Roosevelt tradition of broadcasting an appeal January 30 for funds to fight polio. That is the late President's birthday.

Basil O'Connor, president of the National Infantile Paralysis foundation, disclosed this today and said the drive next year will include memorial concerts in the various cities instead of the customary "birthday balls."

RADIO CHARTER ISSUED

AUSTIN, Sept. 20. (U.P.)—Texas charters issued by the secretary of state's office today included one to El Paso Broadcasting Co., with its home office at Santa Fe, N. M. Joseph G. Bennis, El Paso, was listed as Texas agent.

Exchange Of Statements Between Capital, MacArthur Clears Air

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press Staff Writer

The exchange of statements between Washington and Gen. Douglas MacArthur regarding control of Japan has cleared the air a little.

The United States, says Washington, is determined that the present economic and social system in Japan shall be changed.

That is what the country has been waiting to hear. The size of the occupation forces, duration of occupation, and methods of enforcing American rule are important details, but a lot of confusion can be avoided if the ultimate Allied goal is plainly set forth.

Acheson Declaration Broad

Dean Acheson, acting secretary of state, has done so in a broad declaration of policy evidently provoked by MacArthur's estimate of the small occupation force which will be necessary to carry out the task assigned to him by the Allied nations.

MacArthur raised by implication the question of how far his responsibility extends toward the ultimate political disposition of Japan, after his preliminary military and interim government measures have been carried out.

Acheson replied by accepting the responsibility on behalf of Washington. He said in effect that the broad policy of Japan's future will be laid down in Washington and not by the commander in the field. More important he gave in a key sentence the skeleton aim of that policy. It was a statement which may cause a public clamor for amplification, but since Acheson permitted himself to be quoted directly, it presumably will be permitted to stand as a declaration of intent, as far as it goes.

The first part of the Acheson statement may be brushed aside as almost too obvious to need stating — else the United States may as well have surrendered at the time of Pearl Harbor. That part said the surrender of Japan will be carried out and Japan will be put in a position where it cannot renew aggressive warfare.

Acheson then proceeded to say that American policy toward Japan is and has been:

"That the present economic and social system in Japan, which makes for a will to war, will be changed so that the will to war will not continue, and that whatever it takes to carry this out will be used to carry it out."

Political Change Implicit

There was no reference to a change in the political system, but that is almost implicit if the economic and social order of Japan is to be altered.

What matters is that Washington has taken up the challenge and accepted eventual responsibility for the MacArthur procedure in taking over Japan without substantial change in its present governmental structure.

Japan's former military and economic overlords perhaps have been heartened by the apparent lack of co-ordination between Washington and the American field command. They may be disillusioned by further clarification of policy from Washington.

It is not that MacArthur has been soft. He has been firm while observing forms of politeness which the Japanese understand.

Acheson at the same time is a new force in the State department whose ideas are less tolerant toward Japan than those of Joseph C. Grew and Eugene Dooman, laterly retired.

A few cracks of the whip from Acheson and his superior, Secretary James F. Byrnes, may dampen the ambitions of the royal premier, Prince Higashi-Kuni, and the militarists he has been permitted to keep around him.

Kerr Discusses Water, Power Development

WASHINGTON, Sept. 20 (U.P.)—Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma today discussed the Army engineers program for the water and power development along the watershed of the Arkansas river with President Truman.

Kerr said the program would result in flood control and reclamation benefits for Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

Mr. Truman also introduced Kerr to Budget Director Harold D. Smith so they could discuss the financial aspects of the program.

Try Hot Water Plus After Meals For Acid Indigestion

If the thousands of unfortunate people, people who suffer from so-called dyspepsia, acid indigestion, food fermentation, sour stomach, flatulence, gas or other stomach distress brought on by excess acid would just try drinking slowly after each upsetting meal half a glass of real hot water containing one spoonful of Neutracid they can usually get amazingly quick relief in a very few minutes. Neutracid is not a laxative — it is soothing and comforting to the mucous membranes and very agreeable to take. Neutracid — a physician's formula can now be obtained at Jark Halsey Drug Co.; O'Donnell Acts.: Corner Drug Store or any first class drug store. Adv.
