NORTHCOTT TO DIE TODAY

CONVICTED SLAYER IS STILL SILENT ON DEATH DETAILS

(By The Associated Press)

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Oct. 2.—Gordon Stewart Northcott prepared to die on the gallows here today after having granted an eleventh-hour interview to the mothers of three boys whom he allegedly mistreated and murdered on his ranch near Riverside, Cal., two years ago.

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Oct. 2.—Gordon Stewart Northcott, 23, convicted of murdering three boys on his Wineville, Calif., chicken ranch, was hanged at state's prison here at 10:00 a. m. today.

Mrs. Christine Collins of Los Angeles and Mrs. Nelson Winslow of Pomona, mothers of the three youths named as Northcott's victims, visited him in the cell late last night in the hope of learning definitely whether their sons were killed on the Wineville "murder farm" two year ago.

Bones Are Found

Except for the finding of bones in shallow graves on the ranch, the deaths of Walter Collins and of Louis and Nelson Winslow, brothers, never were indisputably established.

After having written three letters—one each to his mother and father and one to his spiritual adviser, Northcott received the two women late last night. He still refused to admit slaying the youths but said his mother, Mrs. Sarah Louisa Nortcott, and his nephew, 15 year old Sanford Clark, knew all about the boys. He said, however, their bodies had been buried on the ranch Mrs. Northcott pleaded guilty to a charge of murdering the Collins boy and is serving a life sentence here.

RHEM OPPOSES EARNSHAW IN TILT TODAY

ANOTHER FULL CROWD PRESENT AS GAME IS STARTED

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Writer

SHIBE PARK, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2.—(AP)—The excitement, glamor and official dignity attached to the worlds' series opening battle were replaced today by the matter of fact prelude to just another ball game as the Athletics trotted out to warm up for their attempt to make it two straight over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The prospects were for a somewhat warmer and more comfortable day for another capacity crowd of nearly 33,000 and a right handed pitching duel between George Earnshaw, the former Swarthmore college flinger, and Charles Flint Rhem, the somewhat erratic but nevertheless brilliant speedball tosser of the Red Birds.

Rhem's Tale Recalled

Fans took a curious and special interest in the performance of Rhem, because he figured in a sensational story of being "kidnaped" and forced to imbibe intoxicating beverages the night before he was to have pitched against Brooklyn in a crucial series several weeks ago.

High spirited as a result of their first game triumph, the world's champion A's dashed out on the field under leadership of Captain Eddie Collins shortly after noon and began knocking the ball to all corners of the lot as well as outside the park.

Doubt as to Mack's pitching selection was apparently dissipated when Earnshaw took part in the batting practice and manifested every symptom of being about to take on the enemy. George Walberg, big left hander, also engaged in the workout but then shagged flies in the outfield as an indication that he was not a likely starter.

The Cardinals came out with plenty of pepper for practice, displaying no signs of being downhearted over their first set-back.

ABILENE, Oct. 2, (AP)—O. P. Harlan of Lubbock was sentenced to serve 14 months in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kans., after he pleaded guilty late yesterday to an indictment charging irregularities in his accounts as secretary-treasurer of the Stamford Farm Loan association. H. H. Boynton, assistant United States attorney, told federal Judge James C. Wilson, that Harlan's account showed a total shortage of $8,002.58 which the defendant had made up with the assistance of his brother and friends.

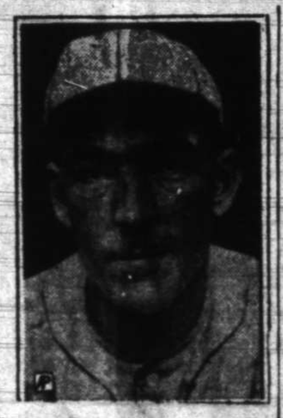
Flint Rhem, below left, was Manager Gabby Street's choice against the Champion Athletics today in the Cardinals' effort to stage a comeback from yesterday and even the count in the 1930 World's Series. He is being opposed by George Earnshaw, big righthander, of the A's.



NO NEW DEVELOPMENTS TAKE PLACE IN THEATER TROUBLE HERE; STENCH VILE POURED IN LOBBY WEDNESDAY

With no new moves in the campaign of activities against the Lindsey and Palace theaters reported today, authorities were marking time in their investigation of the several bomb and flare episodes.

The management said that nothing had happened yesterday or last night in the way of new stench bombs or flares. They are maintaining their vigilance in the hope of being able to catch some one connected with the mysterious events of the week.

Stench Vile Poured Out

Latest occurrence was the placing and pouring out of a stench vile in the lobby of the Lindsey theater on Main street early Wednesday morning. The bomb was placed, it was said, while a night watchman employed in the business area, was watching the actions of several persons who had been near the theater and who went back into the alley.

Besides the setting off of a sulphur bomb in the Lindsey theater, a phosphorus bomb of some kind was also set off, it was reported.

So far no one has been injured in the flares, they having occurred at a time when the houses were not well filled.

County authorities will continue their investigations. It is believed that the trouble has arisen over differences between the management of the houses and union employes of the projection room. Since August 30 the houses have had non-union projection operators.

Both houses are under the management of C. C. Lindsey who is also a part owner in the business.

FIVE KILLED IN FALL OF BUILDING

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—Five persons were killed, one or two reported missing and six others were injured today in the collapse of a four story tenement building at 15 Greenwich avenue in Greenwich village.

Police and fire department rescue squads removed the bodies of the victims and carried out the injured, three of whom were women, then continued their search of the ruins for the other two persons known to have been in the house.

BANKERS WILL HEAR HOOVER

PRESIDENT TO GIVE ADDRESS TONIGHT IN CLEVELAND

(By The Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 2.—President Hoover comes here today to receive the plaudits of Cleveland and brings the 56th annual convention of the American Bankers Association to a climatic close.

Arriving from Philadelphia, where he attended the opening game of the World's series yesterday, the president will speak at the concluding session of the bankers' convention tonight in the first of a series of three addresses in Cleveland, Boston and South Carolina.

Rousing Welcome

Although Mr. Hoover came primarily to address the bankers and assumed the Lion's share of their program, a rousing public greeting was arranged. He was due to arrive at the Euclid and East 55th street station shortly before noon and be escorted down Euclid Avenue, the city's main thoroughfare, by police and mounted military units.

The bankers' morning session was moved up so that they would finish in time to witness the president's arrival, and thousands of Clevelanders were expected to crowd the gaily decorated avenue to watch the cavalcade. Mr. Hoover was to be taken to the Hotel Cleveland for a luncheon attended by 250 prominent bankers and citizens. He was given the afternoon to rest and prepare for his address in the evening. Drinks Bill High For American People

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—(AP)—American drinkers, on the estimate of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, are spending $2,848,000,000 a year for their intoxicants under prohibition.

This figure, the association said, while not claimed to be infallible was based on an 18 months study of production of materials used in manufacturing spirits, wines and beer, deducting the estimated amount used in legitimate industry. It calculated average retail prices of 50 cents a gallon for beer, $2.80 for wine and $11 for spirits.

MALE COMPANION BOUND AND GAGGED BY BLACK; OFFICERS ON LOOKOUT FOR KIDNAPER

T. H. HUTSON, YOUNG WOMAN'S ESCORT, MAKES WAY TO TOWN AFTER BEING FORCED TO GIVE IN TO NEGRO; GIRL'S SAFETY IS FEARED

(By Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 2.—A young woman about 22, kidnaped by a negro after he had bound and gagged her companion last night on the north side, was being sought by police today. Fears were entertained for her safety.

T. H. Hutson, 25, the young woman's companion, told Chief of Detectives Jackson about her abduction.

Hutson said he was driving to work early last night when he saw the young woman walking on Paddock viaduct. He offered to give her a lift home and she got into his car, he explained.

Hutson said he did not get the woman's name, but that she was about 22 years old, was employed at a candy company.

Negro Jumped on Car

When he neared a remote section on the north side, Hutson slowed down to let the woman out of his car. As he did so, a negro leaped on the running board of the car, he said.

"Drive like I tell you or it'll be too bad and don't make any noise," Hutson said the negro commanded him, as he jammed a pistol into Hutson's side and slid into the car next to the woman.

Hutson said the negro then made him drive until they reached the sparsely settled prairie section.

Rifled His Pockets

The negro commanded Hutson to get out of the car and the girl to remain in her seat. Hutson's pockets were rifled of 35 cents by the negro.

Hutson said the negro then tied his hands and feet with a wire and gagged him with a handkerchief. The victim was left lying in a ravine.

After warning Hutson not to attempt to escape too soon, the negro drove away with the woman, Hutson declared.

By twisting his legs, Hutson managed to kick one shoe off and free both his legs. Still gagged and with his hands tied with the wire, Hutson with only one shoe made his way to town.

Neither the negro nor Hutson's car had been located this morning.

LEVELLAND HAS CO-OP GAIN

OVER 100 NEW PAPERS SIGNED; 90 PER CENT IN UNIT

Ninety per cent of the cotton being received at gins in Levelland is going through the Texas Cotton Cooperative association, N. H. Payne, field representative for the association, said today on his return from a trip to Hockley county.

"I got that information from bankers and business men and from Ral Taylor, our man out there," Mr. Payne said. "Business men of the town went around with Mr. Taylor and others and helped sign contracts. I never saw such splendid cooperation on the part of business men and farmers."

Over 100 New Contracts

Mr. Payne reported over 100 new contracts for the cooperative association had been signed since Ral Taylor had opened up his office in Levelland.

Receivers have been named at the following towns in Hockley county district: Morton, Whiteface, Cobleland, Whiteharrel, Clauene, Ropesville and Levelland.

Hockley county this year will produce a large amount of cotton. Crop conditions are reported to be excellent and prospects are good for a large feed crop as well as a large cotton crop.

MORE TICKETS NEEDED FOR SPECIAL

ROYAL RECEPTION IS PLANNED FOR LOCALS IN WICHITA FALLS

Fifty or seventy-five more tickets must be sold in Lubbock before the special train for Wichita Falls, where the Lubbock High school Westerners meet the Wichita Falls Coyotes in an important grid game Saturday, can be chartered, it was learned from school and railroad officials this morning. The Fort Worth and Denver company is holding the ticket sales open today for the benefit of students and townspeople who wish to make the trip. Special rates of $4.95 for the round trip on the special train are offered local fans.

The train will leave Lubbock at 5:30 Saturday morning, arriving in Wichita Falls at 1:30. The return trip will be made Saturday night.

Royal Reception Planned

According to press reports, Wichita Falls is planning to receive the Lubbock team and rooters in royal fashion. "Lubock fans are coming to Wichita Falls Saturday in a special train to see their Westerners battle the Coyotes. The loss of the Westerners last week has failed to par the Lubbock supporters, and it is wonderful to note such spirit as that displayed by the Westerner fans in following their team several hundred miles after a disappointing defeat. And just because of it, for one, we are going to pull like thunder for Lubbock to win the district championship if the Coyotes can't. That sort of spirit is worth pulling for," says Al Parker, sports editor of the Wichita Daily Times.

"Whatever hospitalities Wichita Falls can show the visitors while they are here should not and will not e neglected. The Wichita Falls fans who journeyed to the plains metropolis for that game last year will never forget the great treatment they received from the Lubbock folks. Lubbock didn't merely let the matter drop by sending a chamber of commerce committee of the mayor to the station to officially greet the special train. They took Wichita Falls fans in charge and saw to it that their every desire was catered to. That's what Wichita Falls plans to do for Lubbock," the Times continues.

Lubbock high school students have responded in a spirited way to the ticket sales, and more than 100 will make the trip if enough Lubbock citizens purchase tickets to make the chartering of the special train possible. M. N. Duncan, superintendent of Lubbock public schools, appeals to the citizenship of Lubbock to follow their Westerners and see them repeat last year's performance in defeating the Wichita Falls Coyotes.

PRESIDENT PAUL VON HINDENBURG OF GERMANY IS EIGHTY-THREE YEARS OLD TODAY; SURVIVES EXECUTIVE REGIME

* * * * * * * * * * * *

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 2—President Paul von Hindenburg is 83 years old today. Hale and hearty, he attends to his numerous duties with military precision, leads a regular life, and disposes of his time in such a manner that enough leisure moments are left over for his family, relatives and friends.

Few people believed that the grand old man could live through five years of a burdensome presidential term, and give every hope of completing the seven years prescribed by the constitution.

"A few months at the executive palace will finish him," was a phrase heard on every side after his election in the spring of 1925.

But President von Hindenburg has fooled them all. He has proved a statesman of outstanding qualities. He has traveled more than his predecessor, Friedrich Ebert, ever dared to travel during the uncertain post revolution period, when all energies had to be concentrated on stabilizing the republic.

New Styles Are Shown By Leaders In Society

BY MME. LISBETH

GARBED SMARTLY in the latest in riding apparel, Miss Emily Frelinghuysen watched the Far Hills fair and horse show which was recently given for the benefit of the visiting nurses of Somerset Hills, N. J.

Miss Frelinghuysen's engagement to H. Edward Bilkey of New York, son of Mrs. Charles Bilkey of Wisconsin was announced recently by her parents, former Senator and Mrs. Joseph S. Frelinghuysen of Far Hills, N. J.

On her father's side Miss Frelinghuysen is a direct descendant of the first Dutch settlers of New Jersey. She was a member of the '31 class of Vassar, and is a leader of the younger social set and a prominent Junior League member.

Mrs. Harry Saylor, the former Dorothy M. Johnson, right, is pictured wearing a brown fur coat of recent design as she played the part of a mannikin at the recent Philadelphia fashion exposition held at one of the city's leading hotels. The coat has straight lines, with the sleeves finished with flaring bell cuffs. It is belted with the fur.

Military lines with flaring skirt were used on a black caracul coat shown recently. Other novelties in fur coat stylings noted were an elaborate evening wrap featuring a sable upper section combined with an ermine skirt, and an evening ensemble in black velvet with ermine jacket and skirt flounce, the jacket having elbow-length sleeves.

Pictured at the center is a striking pajama ensemble modeled by Miss Jeanne Blackburn, Philadelphia society girl, for the same charity fashion show. Very wide trousers in a solid color are combined with a tailored and brilliantly printed three-quarter coat.

The scope of the negligee today is wide indeed. From the most formal hostess gowns with long skirts ending in trains, to the strictly tailored pajama and man-tailored robe.

Millikin President Resigns His Place

DECATUR, Ill., Oct. 2—(AP)—Dr. Mark E. Penney, fifth president of James Millikin University to resign in the past 17 years, declared in a report made public that the institution needs a clerk rather than a president as its chief executive.

His report covering the academic year 1929-30, has just been submitted to the university's board of trustees.

"The authorities concerned in running the college really do not need a president for the institution but a clerk who will do their bidding, take no credit for any achievement and quietly and meekly assume responsibility for everything that goes wrong," Dr. Penney wrote.

INCREASE IS NOTED IN CRIME

MURDER TO THEFT FOR 772 CITIES LISTED IN HOOVER SURVEY

(Special To The Journal)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An upward climb in the volume of crime, from murder to petty theft, was shown in the first bulletin of a crime survey covering 772 cities in 44 states, supervised by J. Edgar Hoover, chief of the department of justice bureau of investigation.

The bulletin covers in statistical form all "offenses known to police" from January to August, and showed an upward trend in almost every type of crime.

Less Than 10 Per Cent

The increase of criminal activity for August was listed by the Hoover bulletin as "slightly less than ten per cent" over July figures previously tabulated by the international association of chiefs of police.

No returns for New York City and only partial returns for Chicago were listed in August report. With these cities eliminated Detroit was shown to lead in the volume of crime, with 2,280 reported offenses. Los Angeles was next with 2,183; Cleveland third with 1,645; San Francisco fourth with 1,503; St. Louis fifth with 1,323; Philadelphia sixth with 1,243; and Newark seventh with 1,117.

Chicago Has 39 Murders

The partial figures for Chicago showed 39 murders had been reported there last month, or three times as many as were known to have occurred in any other of the major cities. A total of 13 murders was reported for Philadelphia, with Detroit and Cincinnati having 11 each. Cleveland was shown to have had 10 murders during August; Jacksonville and New Orleans nine each; Chattanooga and San Antonio eight each and Baltimore seven.

Analysis of the types of offenses disclosed petty larceny accounted for 43.6 per cent of the total; automobile theft 25 per cent; Burglary 19.9 per cent; larceny of sums over $50 slightly over 9.0 per cent; robbery 5.3; aggravated assault 4.6; murder and non-negligent manslaughter .8; rape .5; and manslaughter by negligence .4.

Figures for the police protection afforded various cities showed the average to run about two policemen to every 1,000 civilians. Palm Beach was shown to be the best policed city, with 18 policemen to every 1,000 persons. The little city of Kinsley, Kansas, came at the bottom of the list, with one policeman for 4,946 residents.

One reason which may account for Sir Thomas Lipton's losing streak is that he has his mind too much on his business. You know—a trifle tea-sick.

How Old Are You?

Am I Fat?—Not Me

Yes! A year ago I had twenty-two more pounds of fat than I needed—I was fat—and very sensitive about it—but now I say it is foolish for anyone to be overweight.

What did I do? Nothing very hard. I can assure you—I cut out pies—candy and all sweets — ate moderately and every morning before breakfast I took one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water—Never missed a morning.

I lost fat — gained in energy—vigor—charm — and vivaciousness and have a shapely figure I am proud of—anyone can do the same.

A North Carolina woman lost 47 pounds in 3 months — a Montana woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks—Wisconsin woman 11 pounds in 6 weeks.

WAYS AND MEANS OF STAYING ALIVE DISCUSSED IN CONGRESS FOR SAFETY

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 2.—Ways and means of staying alive in this era of industrial expansion and fast moving life were emphasized at the National Safety Congress and exposition.

Chief executives of two nations praised 7,000 safety workers assembled here for their efforts to reduce the country's accidental death toll of 97,000 lives and the economic loss which it represents.

Governor Lord Somer of Sidney, Australia, opened the congress with an address broadcast by short wave radio from Sidney and later a message from President Hoover was read. Addresses by Miller McClintock, Harvard university, and Major Harry Steere-Clark, Vancouver, B. C., urging that the safety program be made international were broadcast to Australia by the short wave station of KDKA, in Pittsburgh.

The Chicago air races of the past summer were declared by John Temple Graves, II, publisher of the Age-Herald, Birmingham, Ala., to have advertised the dangers of flying. He said the aviation industry was supported by "safety and propaganda," and advised the industry to abandon stunt flying if it did not want aviation news to contain long list of air accidents.

Baltimore, Md., was awarded the "safest City" emblem.

Hoover Not To Cut In On Ball Program

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—(AP)—President Hoover, himself a baseball fan, will not interrupt the broadcasting of next Monday's world series game with his speech in Boston.

The chief executive has asked William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, to read the speech he will make before the labor organization to the radio listeners after the game.

Green's rendition of the President's speech will be broadcast by the National Broadcasting company.

ANOTHER ROMAN CITY IS DISCOVERED IN RUINS; RIVALS TIMGAD IN BEAUTY AND IMPORTANCE; MOSAICS ARE FOUND

(By The Associated Press)

ALGIERS, Algeria, Oct. 2.—Another Roman city rivalling in importance and in beauty, Timgad, the African Pompeii discovered in 1875, is being uncovered in the department of Constantine at Lambese, a short distance from Batna.

The ruins cover 123 acres and have a forum which spreads out over 21,500 square feet. The Timgad ruins cover but 99 acres. The Lambese city, founded by veterans of Augustus' third legion who were stationed in the region, contains two triumphal arches well preserved and two large necropolises with ornamental monuments for the dead.

The forum has been completely uncovered. There are but a dozen stones missing in the pavement. Numerous mosaics have been dug up as well as inscriptions with dedications to various gods, emperors and benefactors of the city.

Lambese was situated in the center of a fertile region when Augustus quartered his soldiers there, but since then the territory became marshy and natives avoided it. New life has come over the old place now that scientists are using their shovels here. Lambese is not distant from Timgad.

Important Issues Up In Convention

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 2. (AP)—Repeal of the 18th amendment and the Rhode Island "Baby Volstead law," support of the old age pensions and liberalization of the caucus laws, were features in the platform presented at the Democratic state convention which convened today.

Bustles to be worn in airplanes or low automobiles are being devised in Paris.

VALUATIONS INCREASE

DALLAS, Oct. 2. (AP)—A valuation of $310,282,100 has been placed on Dallas county property for tax purposes by the county assessor. This is an increase of $5,542,815 over last year's total.

Thought For Today

All the kings of the earth sought the presence of Solomon, to hear his wisdom.—II Chronicles 9:23.

* * *

By wisdom wealth is won; but riches purchased wisdom yet for none.—Bayard Taylor.

Safer

Because of the stunt flying that is part of the routine for army and navy flyers, the common supposiiton is that these aviators run much greater risks than commercial flyers. However, figures recently made public by the Travelers Insurance Co. show that just the reverse is true. The army and navy flyers enjoy a lower death rate from accidents than do the commercial transport pilots.

The death rate last year among pilots holding Department of Commerce transport license and having at least 400 hours in the air was 20 per thousand. On the other hand, the death rate of commissioned pilots in the army last year was only eight per thousand, and in the navy was just 10 per thousand.

What the reason might be is not quite clear. Certainly the average transport pilot knows his job as well as anyone could ask. Perhaps the strict regulations and discipline under which service pilots operate tend to make their jobs a little more safe.

Picturesque

The death in Dannemora prison of Oliver Curtis Perry, one-time train robber, recalls a career that was both violent and dangerous, but that at least had the merit of being picturesque.

Perry's last exploit took place in 1892, when he boarded the baggage car of a train at Lyons, N. Y., overpowered the train crew and took command of the engine. He put on speed and tried to escape, but the police got another engine chased him and finally overtook him.

Then, taken to court, he was sentenced to prison for "as long as he could see." This unusual sentence apparently stuck in his wind; five years after being imprisoned he tried to pick his eyes out with a needle, hoping thereby to gain freedom. The only result, however, was that he was adjudged insane and put in solitary confinement.

Now it's all over. Perry was never a useful citizen, but he had, at any rate, a picturesque history.

Blease Retired

The state of South Carolina seems to have taken advantage of the recent primary election to do not only itself but the rest of the nation a good turn.

Cole Blease was never exactly an ornament to the U. S. Senate. As a defender of lynching, a scoffer at the constitution and a drinking dry he was often rather hard to put up with.

Now South Carolina has retired him. James F. Byrnes will replace him, and it is hardly stretching things to say that both South Carolina and the U. S. Senate will be better off. Blease represented the noisy, blatant type of "statesmanship" that the country can very well do without. The voters of South Carolina are to be congratulated.

Profits Ahead

Although the commercial air transport companies are still, for the most part, operating "in the red", that is no sign that they will not ultimately make a great deal of money.

An article by Earl Reeves in the current issue of World's Work points out that any new form of transportation has to operate at a loss at the beginning. The railroads in this country, he says, started in 1828, but they were a full quarter of a century old before they were making profits.

Aviation probably will not have to wait that long. Last year the commercial transport lines carried 180,000 passengers on regular schedules. Some lines already are making money; and as new economies come into use there is little doubt that the aerial passenger plane will prove a real money-maker.

THE PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says flattery is like peroxide. It almost always turns a woman's head.

* * *

A THIRD disagreeable incident has been reported in connection with the local picture shows and this time bursting of a 'stink bomb' has been added to the setting off of sulphur flares in both the Palace and Lindsey auditoriums.

* * *

Officers and theatre attaches are prone to check the disturbances up to union operators, with whom the theatres have been at odds for the past month or so. The Plainsman, however, is still loath to follow that theory because, in the final analysis, it is not logical to believe that the operators would try to ruin the slight hold union labor has in Lubbock by such unfair and despicable action.

* * *

Regardless of whether the union operators are behind the attacks upon the shows, they're getting credit for it in many circles and, if union labor in Lubbock is 'on its toes,' it will check up on the proposition. Unionists, if they wish to protect the reputation of their organizations, will do well to lend assistance to officers in uncovering the miscreants, whether or not they happen to be affiliated with union labor.

* * *

THE ALLEGATION that unionists were responsible for the flare which endangered lives in the Lindsey last Monday night and that disgruntled operators are responsible for the bursting of the 'stink bomb' at the Lindsey yesterday afternoon, is not only hurting the union operators but is reacting to disfavor of all other trade unions. It's hurting union carpenters, union printers, painters, paper-hangers and everything else.

* * *

There is no permanent central labor body in Lubbock at the present time but in The Plainsman's opinion now is the time for unionists to get busy if they would improve their own position. If union operators are responsible as the theatre people and officers seem to believe, a central labor body should set them right on their tactics. If they are not responsible a central labor council might do a lot toward clearing them of the charges and bringing the true miscreants to light.

That Man on Avenue Q says everybody loves a good loser—especially the one who wins what you lose.

Once upon a time a girl married a millionaire and referred to it as her golden wedding.

* * *

J. S. HUFSTEDLER, 1417 8th street, was in to see The Plainsman yesterday with a novel idea toward the promotion of a new kind of endurance contest. Mr. Hufstedler, nearly 73 years of age, would throw down the gauntlet to the users of whiskey, tobacco and coffee to show the world that such stimulants are detrimental, rather than of aid to the human system.

* * *

He proposes that three men, all to be over 70 years of age and total abstainers from alcoholics, nicotine and caffine, pit their physiques against three other men, also past the 70 year mark, who have been in the habit of using any of the three types of stimulant. Mr. Hufstedler is of the opinion that the non-stimulant users could 'show up' their fellows and prove, once and for all, that it is better for the human being to forego artificial stimulation. Further, he offers to be one of the six men in the contest.

* * *

Mr. Hufstedler's idea is this: the six men would start out walking together to see which could go the greater distance. None of the six would be permitted to take any food but the stimulant users would be permitted to use their stimulants as much as they desire. The non-stimulant users would be permitted to drink water, but that's all. Mr. Hufstedler believes his side—the non-stimulant users—would emerge victorious and would show to Lubbock youngsters as well as oldsters, that it's better to let nature, rather than artificial support, take its course.

* * *

MR. HUFSTEDLER has asked The Plainsman to put his proposition before the septuagenarians of Lubbock and the South Plains to see if a contest can be arranged and this column will be glad to receive the names of the men interested in the proposal. Any man over 70 years of age is eligible to enter Mr. Hufstedler's contest and those interested may send their names and addresses to The Plainsman at their earliest convenience.

* * *

It would be very interesting to see the proposal tried out but The Plainsman doubts the wisdom of 70-year-old men running a chance of exhausting themselves in accordance with the contest. However, this column will be glad to be a clearing house for entrants and will turn the names and addresses received over to Mr. Hufstedler who will arange the endurance test to suit himself and other entrants.

Anti-Saloon League Faces Real Reduction Of Its Ranks In Congress As Wets Wage Battle, Rodney Dutcher Says

By RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—This is not exactly one of the Anti-Saloon League's best years. Without waiting for the November elections, it can already be said now that the primaries are over that the drys have not made any appreciable political gains and have suffered considerable loss.

The league still will hold large majorities in Congress after the election but apparently there is going to be a real reduction of those majorities for the first time since Congress enacted prohibition. Increasing aggressiveness of the wets is reflecting itself both in the attitude of candidates for office and in the actions of the voters.

All this synchronizes with realization in Washington that the league has lost much of its political might in dealing with the federal government. The administration is going ahead under its own steam in the attempt to enforce prohibition, rather than under the league's lash.

And the wets claim to find encouragement in the way things have gone in Illinois, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ney York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Montana, California, Washington, Alabama, Michigan and Nebraska. Which is a fine assortment of states, whether or not all the glee is justified.

Wets Gain in G. O. P.

The worst thing the drys have to worry about is that they find themselves on the outside looking in more frequently than they like. With the increase of wet strength in the Republican party, instances have begun to appear in some states where both parties and their candidates are wet and the drys have no chance to back a winner.

The next Illinois senator is sure to be no friend of the drys because the league has turned against Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick since she agreed to heed the state referendum result and is supporting the third candidate who has no chance of victory. The best the drys hope to get out of the situation is the defeat of Mrs. McCormick, who has always been dry, by James Hamilton Lewis, the Democrat, who is wringing wet.

New Jersey likewise has two wet senatorial candidates opposing each other—Dwight Morrow and Alexander Simpson, Republican and Democrat. The dry candidate in the Republican primaries, Franklin Fort, was badly licked.

The Republican party in Massachusetts, through nominating William A. Butler as its senatorial candidate, has remained dry only by the barest margin. The chances are that Marcus Coolidge, the wet Democratic nominee, will defeat the dry Mr. Butler in November.

All Eyes on New York

All eyes at this writing are on New York. As in Illinois and New Jersey, there are many Republicans there who don't believe they can elect governors and senators as long as they continue to be the dry party. The resignation of U. S. District Attorney Tuttle of New York with a declaration for repeal put the issue squarely up to the G. O. P. and if it nominates Tuttle and goes wet the drys will have taken one more hard sock.

The drys held their own in New York's Republican congressional primaries except for the defeat of Congressman Wallace Dempsey by a wet.

In Nebraska the league must choose between Senator George W. Norris, whom it opposed in the Republican primary because he stood for Smith in 1928, and Gilbert M. Hitchcock, the Democratic nominee, who favors modification. In Washington the two state conventions went wet and Senator Wesley Jones, staunch dry, preceded Mrs. McCormick in her waywardness by promising to heed referendum results. So did very dry Senator Tom Walsh of Montana, opposed this year by a wet republican and requiring many wet Democratic votes for re-election.

Wet Wins In West

California is going to have a wet governor, as Mayor Rolph of San Francisco will succeed a dry after being nominated against strong dry opposition. Democrats in Ohio have nominated a wet, Robert J. Bulkley, for the senate and think they can elect him although his election probably would be more of an administration defeat than a dry defeat. The Republican party stayed dry, despite National Committeeman Maurice Maschke's publicly announced jump into the wet camp.

One of the years' biggest surprises in Washington was the defeat of two such conspicuous drys as Congressmen Hudson and Cramton in Michigan. (There's a recount on in Cramton's case.) Defeats by wets of Sears in Nebraska and Dempsey in New York were among similar instances.

Nobody knows how far this swing toward the wets is going to go, but plenty of politicians are worried. The drys say they aren't worried at all, but the wets have certainly been getting much more this year than they expected and the drys have ben getting considerably less.

Diet and Health

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D., Author of "THE HUMAN BODY"

DO EXERCISE MODERATELY IF TOO THIN

CONSIDERING ALL the factors which we discussed in this column yesterday as contributing to the constitutional type of the thin person, the following daily routine is suggested for the treatment of the condition.

Dr. Clendening

On arising always a cold bath or shower rather than a hot one. The cold water tones your muscles and starts the day with more of a feeling of vigor.

Before dressing, take exercises for the abdominal muscles. These muscles are particularly likely to be flabby in this type of person.

1. Lie flat on your back. Sit up and touch your toes with your hands twenty times.

2. Lie flat on your back. Raise your head from the floor as if nodding. Do this twenty to fifty times slowly. This is the best exercise for the abdominal muscles.

Breakfast. A fruit. If constipated a fruit with a good deal of roughage, such as grape fruit or apple. Toast with plenty of butter. Coffee won't hurt you. Use plenty of cream. If you don't drink coffee drink some cream anyway.

Right after breakfast, if at all possible, lie down (don't just sit down) on your right side for five, ten, or twenty minutes. Take as many of these rest periods during the day as you can.

At ten-thirty a glass of half milk and half cream.

Luncheon. Very little water or fluids. Bread, potatoes, a green vegetable, some meat. Plenty of butter. A dessert if you wish. Don't eat a big meal, but a substantial one.

Lie down again for a period of from ten minutes to half an hour on your right side.

At 3:30 another little snack of lunch. An orange some grapes, a banana, or regulation English tea if you like.

In the afternoon at least three times a week, some form of exercise. Never continue it to the point of fatigue. That is where many of your kind make a mistake. They think exercise in any amount is good for them. Remember, your muscles are not constitutionally as strong as in the short, stocky type.

Always get a short rest, lying down at full length after your afternoon exercise. Always rest, whether you have had exercise or not, before dinner.

Dinner. Your diet is not a rigid one. You may eat anything you like. Everyone needs variety in his food. Remember the cardinal principals of your diet are to avoid too much fluid at mealtime, use a good deal of fat and starch, chew your food well, and do not eat too much at any one meal. You are eating six meals a day, instead of three, so you don't have to overeat at any time.

After dinner lie down on your right side for half an hour.

In New York

With Swan

NEW YORK, Oct. 2—Manhattan has a Main Street, too, although few New Yorkers are aware of the fact.

And it's the shortest Main street in the world. It's only three blocks long and is tucked away in an out-of-the way part of town.

* * *

Also, if you were to ask the average Manhattanite, you'd get the impression that "theater alley" is somewhere around 44th street. There is, to be sure, a Shubert alley thereabouts, where you'll see actors, chorines and hangers-on gathering.

But New York's real theater alley is way down town in the Bowery belt. It dates from revolutionary days and was a theatrical rendezvous in those far-away days when Edwin Booth was trouping the boards.

* * *

And speaking of Booth reminds me that, of all the youngsters and oldsters now engaged in writing pieces about the theater, the gent with the greatest collection of anecdotes in captivity is Kelcey Allen, who pens for Women's Wear, the trade periodical.

For one reason or another, considerale importance is attached to the deanship of drama writing. Percy Hammond, I believe, is given such transient laurels as now belong to that field, although Allen has been attached to the theater for a greater period of time than several of the others put together.

In the first-night lobbies and about the lunch table he is among the kings of wisecrackery and gagdom. The boys and girls who turn out jestful paragraphs listen closely for his latest outburst of humor and he never fails them. I've seen him stop a dozen times in a dozen places, lean over some shoulder and with an infallible cherubic grin, spring one of the newest stories. He is credited with but a small percentage of his contributions to the gags that circulate over the nation.

Recalling all the small towns in which I have worked, Kelcey has often seemed to me the ideal small town editor. He has almost a genius for being liked and making friends.

* * *

At any rate, in the days of the old New York Clipper, one of the most famous of the old Broadway periodicals, Allen was an office boy, and he recalls taking mail to the great Booth.

Not that the postal department wasn't on the job then as now.

But the Clipper maintained a department which attended to all mail of troupers on the road. Allens' first meeting with Booth was a bit stormy. It seems that Booth had engaged to play the leading role in a drama titled "Major Andre," and the revolutionary day figure was to be played by him.

Booth had not read the script. And he did not know that the play brought out all the traitorous characteristics attached to Andre. The letter delivered by young Allen acquainted him with some of the facts. He all but threw the trembling office boy out of the place.

"A traitor—a traitor—Booth is asked to play a traitor," stormed the great actor.

And Allen fled.

* * *

He tells about the late Oscar Hammerstein, who brought opera to this land before the Metropolitan was organized. Later the Metropolitan bought him out. But it appears that Hammerstein was always complaining of being hard up.

Once, recites Allen, Hammerstein took a grand opera troupe to London.

"And what are you opening with?" he was asked.

"With debts, as usual," was the reply.

If Sir Thomas Lipton looked a bit swanky in his yachting costume, observes the wise-cracking office boy, it should be remembered that in Scotland they usually dress to kilt.

There is no feeling of satisfaction which can quite compare with that shown by the young author as he tossed in the wastebasket the subscription blank of the magazine which had just rejected a manuscript.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

At last the boat pulled to the dock. 'Twas just at noon time by the clock. The Tinymites, excited, promptly ran off to the shore. Wee Clowny cried, "To be on land once more, to me, is simply grand. Let's start in looking 'round. What are we waiting for?"

"Well, first of all, we'd better eat," the Travel Man said. "Down the street I'm sure we'll find a restaurant where things will taste real good. We'll find a very classy place. Now take your time, boys. Do not race. Then, when we sit down, try and act the way you know you should."

They shortly found a fine cafe and someone shouted, "Right this way." It was a man who stood right by the doorway of the place. "I'll gladly seat you all," said he. "Please take your time and follow me." The thought of eating spread a smile on every Tiny's face.

They sat down to a wondrous meal and my, it shortly made them feel just fine. Boon Scouty said, "I'm sleepy as can be. I'd like to find a spreading lawn. To slumberland I'd soon be gone. Since I have eaten I'm so sleepy I can hardly see."

"Well, well," replied the Travel Man. "If we try hard I'm sure we can find just the place you're thinking of. Is everybody finished?"

"You bet we are," the whole bunch cried. And then they promptly went outside. They found a lawn and took a nap. 'Twas just the thing to do.

When about an hour had drifted by the Travel Man let out a cry, "Get up! Wake up! We're going to walk right down the street a block. I want you Tinymites to see a sight that quite appeals to me." They walked and soon were gazing at a lighthouse on a dock.

(The Tinymites meet a maid with her pet cat in the next story.)

HANDBOOKS OF PARTIES ARE PUBLISHED

POLITICAL GROUPS OUT WITH BOOKS ON EACH OTHER'S WORK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The political campaign reached the handbook stage today at Washington with both the Republican and Democratic national committees issuing textbooks for 1930.

The Republican national committee published two pamphlets, one by Senator Hebert of Rhode Island, entitled "Democrats Deliberately Obstruct Relief Plans," and the other by Senator Hatfield of West Virginia, headed "Prices Decrease Under Republican Tariff."

Gives Campaign History

The Democratic national committee handbook was of 60 pages, entitled "'Democratic Summary of Campaign Issues, 1930." It declared in the opening sentence: "The dominant issue in the congressional campaign of 1930 is the failure of the Republican administration now well on in its second year, to fulfil the promises on which it based its claim for election in 1928."

Senator's Hebert's article charged "the Democratic high command undertook five definite maneuvers to keep pessimism alive and prevent full recovery of the nation before the national elections."

Lists "Maneuvers"

He listed the "maneuvers" as follows:

1—Delay of the enactment of the tariff;

2—Systematic propaganda to make it appear that the government was helpless;

3—Holding up legislation to assist in relief program;

4—Instilling fear into minds of the people as to the unemployment extent and

5—Claims that foreign trade would be destroyed and factories closed."

The Democratic handbook asserted in one of its subtitles that "Democratic federal reserve act ends Republican panics" and it added that "prosperity was the watchword of the Republican campaign."

The Republicans offered to give their pamphlets to party workers, but the Democrats impose a charge of 25 cents each for theirs.

Nurse Is Admitted As U. S. Citizen

LIMA, O., Oct. 2.—(AP)—A woman who refused to take oath to kill in defense of the United States was a citizen today after a court battle lasting a year and a half.

Twice Mrs. Carl Landis of Philadelphia, "the nurse without a country," declined to swear that she would bear arms for the nation and was denied citizenship by Allen county courts.

Yesterday she took the oath of allegiance, still reserving her opposition to bearing arms, but swearing that she would serve as a nurse and shed her blood if necessary in time of war.

Konjola Did More For Me Than All Else

New Medicine Proves Real Boon To San Antonio Housewife—Earns Eager Praise

MRS. T. G. MOORE

"Three years ago I began having trouble with my lives", said Mrs. T. G. Moore, 314 Mission street, San Antonio. "I was sluggish, my complexion was bad and I had dark blotches on my face. I was troubled with constipation and forced to use laxatives and purges almost daily. These conditions made me very nervous and I did not sleep well. I felt thoroughly down and out.

"My husband and I decided to give Konjola a trial. After trying this medicine out for a few days I found it different than anything I had ever tried before. Now, after taking Konjola for a month, I am feeling better than I have for a long time and am more than pleased with the results it has brought. It has done more for me than all else I tried and I am glad to endorse it."

Although Konjola does work quickly, it is best to take this medicine over a six to eight week period in the average case. Its record has made Konjola a household word in thousands upon thousands of American Homes.

Konjola is sold in Lubbock, Texas at Bowen's Drug Store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section. Adv.

● Many old houses have become too old-fashioned for comfort and too shabby to rent or sell. Yet they are too valuable to let go to ruin. Such houses can easily be made convenient and attractive. Improving the entrance, adding a pergola, redesigning windows, finishing the exterior with a light-tinted stucco, converting unused attic space into sunny rooms and putting in a sanitary concrete basement have turned the old house shown above into a pleasing modern home.

● If you're interested in turning an old residence or business building into an asset, ask your building material dealer, architect or contractor for suggestions on remodeling. You'll be surprised at how economically you can have the work done this year.

TAHOKA CO-OP OFFICE IS VERY BUSY

AVERAGE OF 90 BALES A DAY RECEIVED BY OFFICE PAST WEEK

TAHOKA, Oct. 2. (Special)—Five hundred and thirty-seven bales, an average of 90 a day, were marketed through the Tahoka sub-office of the Texas Cotton Cooperative association last week, the first week of operation and the first week that 1930 cotton has been picked in any quantity in Lynn county. Approximately 100 new marketing contracts were signed during the week.

S. L. Leathers, Normangee, Leon county, arrived Saturday to take over the managership of the office, relieving W. H. Clark, utility man, who opened the office. W. A. Pincher, Lubbock, is assistant manager. Permanent offices have been located in the Bovell building, the rear of the First National bank having been used the first week.

The Federal Farm Board's marketing plan is meeting with hearty accord locally, and it is estimated that from 30 to 50 per cent of Lynn county's cotton will go through the cooperative. From 8c to 12c is being advanced on cotton through the local office.

Receiving agents for the local office has been appointed as follows: F. R. Crews, Wilson; E. A. Thomas, Grassland; W. P. Thomas, Draw; Jack Link, New Home, and L. P. Jeffreys, Newmoore.

BIRD REFUGES TO BE ESTABLISHED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—The biological survey announces that since all five families of migratory game birds for which refuges are to be established by the federal government are almost wholly marsh and aquatic species, the refuges will be established on bodies of water and marsh and swamp lands.

The survey said there was a misapprehension regarding the types of areas to be purchased for the refuges, many landowners having sought to sell upland regions for this purpose. These would be unsuitable for waterfowl, cranes, rails, shorebirds and wild pigeons, which are protected by the migratory bird treaty between the United States and Great Britain, the survey added.

The migratory bird refuge act passed at the last session was designed to give further effect to this treaty. The bureau said so far as practicable preference will be given tracts of 20,000 acres or more for refuges, although especially desirable smaller tracts will be considered.

British Woman Is Forced To Stop Swim

DOVER, Eng., Oct. 1—(AP)—Miss Mercedes Gleitze, British woman swimmer, has failed in a new attempt to swim the English channel.

Entering the water at 8:45 p. m. last night she stayed in only about four hours, abandoning her efforts because of the intense cold.

In 1927 she claimed to have made the swim, but there was some question as to conditions of her feat and the channel swimming association decided not to recognize it. Previouly she had attempted the swim seven times and had failed.

She formerly was a London stenographer. Her husband, Patrick Carey, went along with her in a boat during last night's effort.

"HIGHER CIVILIZATION" IS NEEDED TO MAKE GERMANY "EITHER A WORLD POWER OR NOTHING," HITLER SAYS

(By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Sept. 2—Such concepts as a "super race," a "higher civilization" or "kultur" and the necessity for Germany to become "either a world power or nothing," are part of the philosophy of Adolph Hitler, German fascist leader, as explained in his book "My Fight."

While the immediate intentions of Hitler have been occupying much attention of late, the ultimate aims of his German fascist movement are little known even in this country. They are explained at great length, however, in the book which, he says in the preface, was written "not for strangers but for those adherents of the movement who belong to it heart and soul."

Impaired by Tragic War

The reason Germany lost the war, asserts the fascist leader, was the fact that the nation's racial homogeneity had been impaired by the tragic Thirty Years' war after which the nation had not grasped the necessity of restoring racial purity. The result was that the Germans crumpled under the strain of conflict.

German fascism, as explained by its leader, is more than a political party, more than a national movement—it is a new philosophy of life. Hitler sees the national socialist mission as nothing less than working for the building up of a superior human race—"a master race" capable of accomplishing at present far beyond the mental capacity of man.

Can Be Developed

Such a superior race can be developed, according to Hitler, only by determined furthering of the best racial elements, likewise liberal encouragement of the fittest individuals and the ruthless limitation of "inferiors." Eventually some superior race will inherit the earth, he reasons, and if the Germans do not awaken, it is likely to be some non-Germanic race, probably the Jewish.

The pathway to the development of a superior race, explains Hitler, "demands above all that the state shall not leave the settlement of newly won lands to chance, but shall regulate it with definite standards.

To Grant Permits

"Specially formed race commissions," he says, "will have authority to grant the individual his settler's permit. This permit must, however, be contingent upon a definite standard of racial purity.

"Thus gradually border colonies could be established, the inhabitants of which would consist exclusively of representatives of the highest racial purity and therefore the highest racial efficiency. Thus they will be a precious national treasure of people as a whole; their growth must fill every fellow countryman with pride and happy anticipation, for in them lies the seed of final great future development of his own people—yes, of humanity as a whole."

As to the winning of new lands, the fascists must make up their minds that expansion is to be achieved principally by the sword.

"No nation on this earth occupies even a square yard by request from above or according to a higher right," he says. "National boundaries are made by humans and altered by humans. The right to land and territory can become a duty when a great nation faces downfall through lack of opportunity to expand. Germany will become either a world power or nothing, and for a world power it must have size suiting modern importance and giving its people the possibility to exist."

SOVIET ACTION NOT TO LAST, LEGGE SAYS

FARM BOARD CHAIRMAN DECLARES TRADING CAUSES DECLINE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Chairman Legge of the Farm Board says Russian dumping of wheat at European ports could not continue for a great while longer if it was kept up at the present rate.

He described the hurried marketing of the Russian crop as the most disturbing factor on the grain exchanges today and blamed it for the recent downward movement.

Ships Chartered

The latter was caused by tremendous Russian shipments and the Soviet's plans for the immediate future, he said, as revealed in its chartering of ships for the movement of its grain.

He said he could not understand Russia's reasons for dumping its wheat at once and added that if it had been marketed a little at a time, in an orderly manner, the Soviet's financial return would have been greater.

Asked his opinion by the British conservative party's plan for wheat purchases on a quota basis of 25 per cent home grown, 66 per cent imported from the dominion and 9 per cent from all other countries, Legge said it was a logical proposal.

REVIVAL CLOSES ON SUNDAY NIGHT

Sunday night will mark the close of the series of revival meetings which Dr. Arthur Long, of Fort Worth, has been holding at the First Christian church here, it was announced yesterday by the pastor, Rev. Walter P. Jennings. Twenty nine conversions have been reported.

H. A. Shaw, of Amarillo, well known evangelistic singer, has been assisting in the work. He is assistant pastor of the First church there.

Tonight's sermon topic is "The Prayer of Christ." There will be special music by the choir.

Friday night couples married 50 years or over, will be special guests of the church. Also other elderly people are invited to attend. The general theme of the service will be "The Eternal Home."

Sermon subjects for the remainder of the revival, as announced by Dr. Long, follow:

Friday night—"Heaven and Hell."

Saturday night—"Modern Prodigals Traveling Down An Ancient Highway."

Sunday morning—"The Every Member Church Practicing the A. B. C's of Christianity."

Sunday afternoon—"Shall Legalized Liquor Return?"

Sunday night—"Three Aces and Christ Call Your Hand."

Ideas of heaven and hell, of what will be in each, of whether persons will recognize each other in heaven and whether hell is actual fire, will be presented in the Friday night sermon.

Sunday morning service will begin at 11 o'clock and the afternoon service at 3 o'clock.

Mr. Shaw is directing music for the revival and is supported by a choir.

A. J. Clark First To Pay County Taxes

A. J. Clark, taxpayer, holds receipt No. 1 for the 1930 taxes for Lubbock county and the state of Texas from A. J. Clark, tax collector.

Mr. Clark promptly at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning paid his 1930 taxes. He also issued to himself poll tax No. 1.

Shortly after the opening of the office J. W. Kerley walked in and laid down the money for his 1930 taxes. He was given receipt No. 2.

J. J. McGaw holds receipt No. 3, he having followed Mr. Kerley.

"I want to set the example to the rest of the county by paying my taxes early," Mr. Clark added in making the announcement.

BEARS EATING SIGNS

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 2. (AP)—Bears roaming the Pacific northwest forests have developed an appetite for pine boards and government paint, Major John D. Movies See Dorothy At Last; She's Back in Home Town After Broadway

Dorothy Lee, dainty comedienne, "crashed" the movies via Broadway, although born in the shadow of a big studio.

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—IT took Dorothy Lee just 17 years to roll her hoop into the movies.

She's only 18 now.

Dorothy wanted in the pictures almost as soon as she could crawl, for she was born in the shadow of the studio where she's a featured player now.

But there wasn't any luck. Not even after her parents knew for sure she was going to be pretty and not very big.

So Dorothy took her charming 96 pounds and less than five feet in height to Broadway, where things were different.

It wasn't long until she had a good part in "Hello Yourself." A movie director saw her and offered a bit in a picture.

As the picture progressed Dorothy's part grew until she was one of its hits.

Then Hollywood rushed to Broadway and brought her back with a contract—and not to any studio shadows.

PINK BOLLWORM COMMISSION IS TO MEET OCTOBER 15 TO CONSIDER LIFT OF QUARANTINE IN INFESTED AREAS

AUSTIN, Oct. 2. (Special)—The Texas pink bollworm commission will be called to meet October 15, and if inspections now being made fail to disclose further infestation, will be asked to lift all bollworm quarantine regulations from the 10 West Texas counties now under modified quarantine, J. M. Del Curto, chief entomologist of the state department of agriculture announced orally.

Lifting of federal quarantine also will be required to free the area of the regulations, Mr. Del Curto pointed out.

The action would not only leave the 1931 crop free of regulations but as soon as taken by state and federal agencies, would abolish the fumigation and inspection requirements for the rest of the present season.

Mr. Del Curto said inspections are being pushed throughout the area, and that by Oct. 15 the results should be conclusive. Unless new evidences of infestation are found, he will be ready to recommend freeing the area from all regulations, he said.

The counties in this area are Howard, Martin, Dawson, Andrews, Glasscock, Midland, Ector, Winkler, Upton and Crane.

The original infestation was very light, he pointed out, and apparently was stamped out, as no further bollworms or larvae were found anywhere in the district either last year or this year.

Players Drafted By Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 1—(AP)—Selection of Stewart Bolen, crack left handed pitcher of the Baltimore Orioles, by the Philadelphia Nationals, and Wiley Moore right handed veteran pitcher of the St. Paul club, by the Boston Red Sox featured the annual draft meeting of the major leagues. In addition to Moore, the Red Sox also obtained a southpaw pitcher, J. B. Brillheart, from Minneapolis.

The Phillies besides Bolen, drafted Fred Koster, Little Rock outfielder.

HANKINS TAKEN TO AMARILLO

LEVELLAND MAN IS TO FACE CHARGES IN POTTER COUNTY

C. B. Hankins today was in the custody of Potter county at Amarillo, W. M. "Bill" Thompson, sheriff of that county, having left here on the Santa Fe at 4 o'clock yesterday with Hankins.

The warrant, given to the sheriff Tuesday but which he was unable to serve until Wednesday noon on his arrival here, merely stated that the charge was a felony. Sheriff Thompson stated that he did not know for what alleged offense the warrant was issued as E. W. Thomerson, the district attorney, had not discussed the case with him.

Maintains Silence

Hankins up to the last maintained silence regarding his case. Having made a statement to James Wallace, Oklahoma officer, Hankins apparently took the position that the case was closed until he appeared in court.

Only once since Hankins was brought to Lubbock last Sunday did Mrs. Lena Hankins, of Levelland, his wife, appear at the jail. She spent some time at the jail Tuesday but left without making any statement to officials as to her future plans.

Mrs. Hankins is employed in a Levelland hotel. She does other work, the hotel job being only a part time one. With her is Hankins' mother, who owns the 3-room house where they live. Mr. and Mrs. Hankins have five children, the oldest nine and the youngest a year and a half.

SMOKING IS TO BE ALLOWED ON DO-X

GIANT SHIP SCHEDULED TO MAKE FLIGHT TO U. S. THIS MONTH

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER
Associated Press Correspondent

ALTENRHEIN, Switzerland, Oct. 2. (AP)—Crossing the Atlantic ocean on the flying boat DO-X, the first flight of which is scheduled for October, will differ in one important respect from a Zeppelin flight: smoking will be permitted.

In fact, a smoking saloon, or lounge, has been installed amidships, directly behind the diminutive bar. A ventilation system has been provided which prevents the smoke from incommoding the passengers who may chance to want to sleep in the four double beds immediately adjoining the smoker.

Like American Pullman

The sleeping compartments remind one of the American pullman sleeping car. Unlike the European trains, where each upper and lower berth is separated from the next by a door on the plan of the American drawing room, the DO-X compartments have curtains only. There is no upper berth but each berth is so wide two can comfortably sleep in it. During the day, the beds are converted into seats.

The general hall, in which the passengers spend most of their time and also take their meals, is really a succession of three saloons seating, respectively forty, eight, and sixteen passengers comfortably. They are partitioned off from each other sufficiently so that parties may reserve a section of say eight or four for themselves. At the same time the aisle running through the center as well as the indentations in the partitions are such as to make one feel that, after all, there is but one large hall with niches.

Kitchen Is Electric

Behind the third of these lounging sections are, on one side, the electric kitchen, and on the other, two lavatories.

For the Trans-Atlantic flight it is not intended that a cook shall be taken along. "Whoever of us can cook best will probably be asked to prepare the meals," Radio Operator Henry Kiel said. "If Lady Grace Drummond Hay will consent to do the cooking, so much the better. She told me she was a good cook."

The crew will not sleep as comfortably as the passengers. "We are taking sleeping sacks with us," one of the mechanics said. "Some of us can stretch out in the baggage room, behind the kitchen. Others can stretch out in the wings of the plane. Oh, we'll find room somewhere."

SHULER IS DENIED APPEAL OF CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Application of the Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Episcopal church, South, of Los Angeles, for a writ of habeas corpus on his sentence for contempt of court, has been deined by the state supreme court.

The court held the pastor's radio utterances dealings with assignment of criminal cases growing out of the Julian Petroleum stock over-issue "amounted to a general assault both expressly and by innuendo on the court and judges of Los Angeles county, with the particular desire of influencing their attitude and conduct respecting the so-called Julian cases then pending."

The court further held the purpose of the pastor's criticism was such as to create "and atmosphere of distrust and suspicion in the public mind, tending to influence the mind, will and action of the court and judges."

The court dismissed one of the four counts on which the pastor was convicted of contempt of court, thus reducing his jail term from 20 to 15 days. The pastor served 15 days in the Los Angeles county jail, from May 5 to 20 and was released on $500 bail pending the outcome of his appeal to the higher court.

The decision relieved Shuler from necessity of completing the jail term, but held the $100 fine which was a part of his sentence, was still payable.

Young Girl Awarded Divorce; Was Bought

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—An eighteen-year-old girl, seeking a divorce, testified today her 70-year-old husband had purchased her for his bride three years ago while she was an inmate in an orphanage.

The girl, Florence Gut, declared her aged husband had come to the orphanage hunting a wife, had taken a fancy to her and had obtained permission to wed her by offering her mother $2,000.

She said she married but without knowledge she had been "bought." She asked divorce on the grounds her husband preferred dog and cat pets to her.

Judge John J. Sullivan awarded her a divorce and an allmony settlement of $1,000.

If you don't know all of these folk on sight, you've most certainly heard of 'em. However, the editors of "Who's Who in America," the new edition of which has just been issued, didn't consider any of them worthy of their roster, the generally accepted index to Americans of eminence and achievement. The better known lights who are omitted include (1) Greta Garbo and (6) Clara Bow of the movies; (2) Gene Tunney, (3) Gertrude Ederle, and (7) Babe Ruth of the sports world; (4) Harry M. Warner of the company which revolutionized the movies by introducing talkies; and (5) Graham McNamee, noted radio announcer.

MUSSOLINI ADVOCATES DEATH PENALTY FOR SPECULATORS WHO CAUSE NATION TO SUFFER CRISIS; SEES BETTER ERA

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, Oct. 2—Premier Mussolini has advocated the death penalty for speculators who bring on financial crises.

The premier, speaking at the first sitting of the national council of corporations, which links all forms of Italian capital and labor, said he already had made examples of speculators in the Aosta and Campobassa districts and would deal more strictly with the type in the future.

Will Be More Cautious

"They will now be made to feel more acutely that they cannot fool the public with impunity," he continued. "Because of the infinite evil they express as sowers of ruin and misery, they merit the penalty of death."

The Duce said he believed Italy had reached the bottom in the current financial depression and he expected the country now to start upward.

In discussing the economic situation, the premier said no one could expect "prodigies since this had not even been accomplished by President Hoover, the most powerful man in the world in the richest state in the world."

He added that Italy was suffering from economic depression along with the rest of the world, but the fact that 'other nations also were suffering would not be used in his country as an alibi.

Study To Be Made Of City's System

Lubbock's garbage and trash collection service will be studied by Miss Ella G. White, of the state department of health at Austin, the city has been advised.

Miss White has been assigned the problem of making a study of such work in 15 or 20 Texas towns. When she has completed her survey, Miss White will make a resume of her work and copies will be sent to each town showing the methods of collection and disposition.

City officials have arranged to show Miss White over the routes and to take her to the dump grounds and other places.

DUKE'S $12,000,000 PLANT READY ON CAMPUS; IS ON 5,100-ACRE PLOT

DURHAM, N. C., (AP)—Duke university, rising giant of southern education, will be "at home" this fall on its new 5,100-acre campus clustered with fourteen groups of buildings constructed at a cost of more than twelve millions dollers.

Opening of the new plant comes less than six years after the late James B. Duke, tobacco and water power multimillionaire, signed the famous indenture at his residence at Somerville, N. J., creating a trust of $40,000,000 in which the university — formerly Trinity college— shares.

The Duke construction program is regarded as the largest ever undertaken by a university at one time. In five years about $20,000,000 has been spent for land and buildings.

The buildings, of stone taken from the university's private quarries 16 miles from the campus, are of Gothic design and constructed in groups, with a $2,000,000 chapel dominating.

A 400-bed general hospital, largest in the Carolinas, has its own endownment of six million dollars.

The enrollment now is more than 2,000. Sixty per cent of the students are from outside North Carolina.

The university, says Dr. William Preston Few, president for 20 years, will pursue a policy of selective admission.

NEW YORK BANK SETS ASIDE TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS FOR CONTINGENCIES

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The National City Bank of New York has announced it has transferred $20,000,000 from the surplus to a reserve fund for contingencies "in view of the present world wide economic disturbances."

The announcement, made in a statement of the bank's condition as of Sept. 24, said it was "deemed wise to establish contingencies." Financial observers recalled that during the depression of 1920 the bank set up $10,000,000 as a similar reserve. It is understood, however, that the full amount thus appropriated was never used.

The bank's statement listed total assets of $1,845,758,452, and deposits of $1,343,941,693.

VALLEY GRAPEFRUIT STARTS ON WAY TO MARKET; CROP BETTER THIS YEAR

(By The Associated Press)

HARLINGEN, Oct. 2—Texas grapefruit, yellow or pink as the choice might be, again today become a reality for the breakfast table.

The shipping season, regulated by state law and long awaited by growers as well as customers, got under way today in the lower Rio Grande valley as all previous first-day shipping records were shattered.

Twenty-seven carloads, most of them laden with grapefruit, rolled out to market.

Grapefruit brought $4.50 per crate to the growers today and orange $5.25, approximately the same prices paid opening day last year.

State and federal inspectors said the Texas fruit this year would be "bigger and better." The intense cold weather last winter cut the yield but likewise removed damaging insects, while ample rainfall aided in improving the quality.

PURCHASE OF NEW LINE IS UNOPPOSED

HEARING IS HELD IN DALLAS WEDNESDAY ON APPLICATION

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—The application of the Southern Pacific lines to acquire the Gulf & West Texas railroad, projected from Fredericksburg to San Angelo, was unopposed Wednesday at a hearing before Examiner J. F. Sullivan of the interstate commerce commission.

Southern Pacific and G. & W. T. officials, as well as representatives of towns to be served by the line, including Mason, Brady, San Angelo and Fredericksburg, appeared as witnesses in support of the application.

Witnesses In Case

Among the witnesses were William B. Tuttle, San Antonio, vice president of the G. & W. T.; H. M. Lull, Houston, executive vice president of the Southern Pacific lines in Texas and Louisiana; Porter A. Whaley, manager of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce; U. S. Puckett, San Antonio freight bureau; Carl Runge, Mason; Rep. Alfred F. C. Petsch, Fredericksburg; and Judge W. C. Blanks, San Angelo.

The Southern Pacific owns and operates the line from San Antonio to Fredericksburg junction and from the junction to Fredericksburg, which is called the Fredericksburg & Northern.

Granted Permission

The G. & W. T. already has been granted permission to build from Fredericksburg to San Angelo, with trackage rights over the Santa Fe railway between Brady and Eden.

Under its application, the Southern Pacific seeks to take over construction and operate the new line which probably would be built under the same name but as a subsidiary of the Southern Pacific.

Economy Stressed

Lull, in his plea for the application, said financing would be delayed if the line were left to the promoters and would be more costly. He stressed the economy that would be effected if the application were granted.

He pointed out that the Southern Pacific might sell at par any bonds for the line, while the independent company, if it should build the road, would have to realize about $4,000,000 from bonds and might have to sell them at an appreciable discount. This would leave about $2,000,000 to be raised by stock sales and it was uncertain what the stock would bring.

Economy of operation as a part of the extensive Southern Pacific system also was cited. Lull said the Southern Pacific had ample rolling stock to care for the line for the next five years, while the promoters would have to spend $625,000 for rolling stock.

Tuttle said the promoters wished to sell and that the subscribers of stock would be reimbursed in full. Whaley said San Antonio favored the purchase.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS IS SPREADING THROUGHOUT U. S., REPORT REVEALS

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—The autumn outbreak of infantile paralysis was shown to have spread in reports compiled today at the public health service.

With four states still unreported, the number of cases was 594, with increases in Ohio and Massachusetts and a decrease in Kansas, where one city closed its schools for two weeks.

At the last report, seven states were free of the disease as compared with 20 states with no cases at the same season in 1929. But none of the 44 states reporting today failed to tell of one or two cases.

States reporting more than 15 cases were: Maine 21; Massachusetts 32; New York 65; Ohio 100; Inninois 43; Wisconsin 20; Minnesota 17; Iowa 21; Missouri 18; Nebraska 26; Kansas 48, and California 68.

At the last report Kansas had 65 cases.

SAFE FARMING ADVOCATED

AGRICULTURAL MEN MEET MONDAY IN CONFERENCE

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—A program of safe farming for Texas as outlined recently by the Texas Agricultural and Mechanical college was endorsed by an agricultural leaders meeting here Monday.

Dr. T. O. Walton, president of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, opening the discussion, said the solution of the farmers' problems would have to come from the farmers themselves, and not from the federal government which at best will be only a palliative. He urged a concerted effort by all agencies working with the Agricultural and Mechanical college.

Cites Supply-Demand

Col. C. S. E. Holland of Houston, chairman of the Texas Bankers' association committee, likewise said little could be expected of federal farm relief. An impression that the government was about to hand out something had been created, he said, when as a matter of fact the same old law of supply and demand still had to be reckoned with. He urged farmers to disregard as much as possible promises of federal relief and to solve their problems by adopting sound methods of farming.

Hubert Harrison, general manager of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, pledged the support of his organization to the program of the Agricultural and Mechanical college, as did A. H. Wheeler of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. They said they would carry the message of safe farming into all counties in the territory embraced by their organizations.

Discussing drouth relief, Judge M. H. Gossett, president of the federal land and intermediate credit banks of Houston, urged that agricultural credit corporations be established in drouth counties financed locally and in a position to tap federal credit sources.

REDUCTION GIVEN AS COTTON RELIEF

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Oct. 2. (AP)—Elmer Thomas, United States senator from Oklahoma has endorsed a plan proposed by Congressman LaFayette L. Patterson of Alabama for relief conditions in the cotton industry.

In a letter to Thomas, Patterson suggested that representatives in the entire cotton belt combine forces in an effort to effect a reduction of cotton acreage next year. It is believed, Thomas said, that if such a plan is formulated, the federal farm board will increase the amount of loans on cotton. A reduction in cotton acreage will increase demand for the product, and raise prices, and thus enable the board to increase the assistance it can give the industry, he explained.

MOTION PICTURES TAKEN OF CHILD'S HEART THROUGH "WINDOW" BURNED IN HIGH WIRE ACCIDENT; PROVES FATAL

(By Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 2.—For 14 hours Monday nine-year-old Marie Overbey fought off death while astounded surgeons took motion pictures of her heart and lung action through a "window" burned into her left breast by accidental contact with a 13,200 volt power transmission line.

The child's fight against death attracted the attention of leading physicians and surgeons of this district and made what many believe to be medical history.

Line Across Highway

She was brought here to a hospital Sunday night after an automobile accident in which her mother was electrocuted and herself fatally burned when they became entangled in a power wire lying across the highway.

Her injuries were believed only superficial until she was examined for emergency treatment. The examination revealed a gaping hole, nine inches square, had been burned through her breast and ribs.

Remained Conscious

The child remained conscious through the entire time and puzzled surgeons by her insistence she felt no pain. She chatted with doctors and told of the accident throughout the time she lived, taking active interest in the examination. She died at noon.

A motion picture machine was set up at her bedside and the record of the unusual case made. It recorded a stoutly beating heart and the physician declared the case was the only one on record to his knowledge.

British railways are now paying Grade 1 porters, signal lampmen and Class 2 horse bus-drivers $11.30 a week. Class 1 freight porters, $11.75, and track workers $12.

MATADORS PRIMED FOR NEW MEXICO AGGIES INVASION FRIDAY

WESTERNERS ARE OFF FOR WICHITA TONIGHT

THE REALM OF SPORT

With Collier Parris
Journal Sports Editor

The Westerners are off tonight for their first game of the season away from home. They will entrain late this evening for Wichita Falls, arriving there early tomorrow. Coach Frnka probably will send them through a brief but snappy workout tomorrow afternoon at Spudder Park.

* * *

It will be Wichita's first conference or league game. They have played only one practice game, winning over the Temple, Okla., high school eleven 32 to 0. It will be a hard fought game—the Westerners fighting for a come-back and the Coyotes laboring for a clear slate following their first important game.

* * *

Wichita's Coyotes are not to be considered duck soup for the Westerners, or anybody else. Coach Barry Holton has a number of veterans from preceding years, though only one letter man graces the roster. The Coyote mentor has seen the Lubbock gridsters play, and lose, a hard game, and he has been trying this week to make his charges believe they can beat Lubbock if they put forth earnest efforts. As for the Westerners, they will be fighting an uphill battle. They have everything to gain and little to lose. A victory will put them in the running for district honors, for two of the strongest teams of the circuit will be out of the way after this week. At least the Westerner mentors need have no fear of overconfidence in the lists when they go against the Coyotes.

* * *

Out on the Tech practice field the Matadors are getting ready for what they expect will be an even harder game than the one against the Wayland College Jackrabbits last Saturday. They will meet the New Mexico Aggies Friday afternoon and indications are that it will be another good game. The Matadors have shown a great improvement in practice this week, and many wrinkles have been ironed out in daily scrimmage sessions. They will be better able to defend themselves at any rate, and Coach Cawthon has introduced several new plays this week that seem to have everything in them. If they are mastered by the Matadors between now and Friday, the Aggies may well expect a tough fight. The New Mexico athletes are subject to no rules of eligibility, and while they're not exactly "ringers", they will present a front that is not new to football.

* * *

The Wichita Falls-Lubbock game will be broadcast from the playing field in Wichita Falls by special arrangements, so that Lubbock rooters who do not make the trip Saturday may be afforded play by play reports. The Logan Service Station of Lubbock, representatives of the Panhandle Refining company, has undertaken to sponsor the broadcast. This courtesy should be kindly appreciated by the local fans who remain at home.

Station KGKO of Wichita Falls, acting on a frequency of 570 kilocycles, will start the broadcast when the game begins.

* * *

The football games at the fair have proved quite a big attraction. The stands have been crowded on nearly every occasion, and a surprising amount of pep and enthusiasm on the part of the rooters from the various high schools represented have lent color to the games. The gridsters fight like a championship depended on the game.

* * *

Outside of the actual score of the game at Tech last Saturday, we found little to kick about in the playing form exhibited by the Matadors in their first appearance of the year, but evidently their own class mates and fellow students in the stands do not agree with us. We hate to say it, but in all our experience and observations of high school and college rooting sections, that of Texas Tech is the most pitiful, the most lacking in enthusiasm, and the most artificial we have ever seen. There was a great spirit on the football field, even in the ranks of the acting Matadors, but so far as the cheers from Tech's student body were concerned, they were simply a missing quantity.

* * *

Tech is a big school, a young school, it is true, but the third largest in the state. Therefore it should have the third loudest rooting section at athletic contests. But the showing made at the first game of the year, when a new team and a new coaching staff were fighting their hearts out for victory, the student section was as quiet as a funeral gallery. The spirit shown was really disgraceful, to be vulgar, and it is the earnest hope and prayer of this department, and we express the feelings of all who attended the game at Tech Park outside the student body.

Chicago City Series Drawing Big Crowds

CHICAGO, Oct. 2. (AP)—Chicago's baseball appetite is not yet appeased. More than 30,000 paid to watch the opener of the city series between the Cubs and White Sox, leaving $34,872.50 at the ticket window.

The player's share was $17,784 while each club cut in for $11,856.

TECH CREW IS OUTWEIGHED IN GAME

FAULTS OF SATURDAY'S GAME WITH WAYLAND ARE CORRECTED

Coach Pete Cawthon sent his Texas Tech Matadors through an exciting scrimmage yesterday against the Picadors of Coach Dutchey Smith in the final heavy workout before the invasion of the New Mexico Aggies tomorrow. This afternoon will find the Matadors in a light drill, with special attention being paid to signals and plays to be used against the Aggies.

Many faults brought out in last week's game with the Wayland College Jackrabbits have been corrected this week in daily scrimmage tests on the practice field. Coach Cawthon found that a lot was to be done with the offensive department of his team, and certain holes to be filled in the defensive side.

Matadors Outweighed

The Aggies will come to Lubbock outweighing the Matadors all the way around, and with more experience than the Tech gridsters, but Tech coaches believe they can place a combination on the field that can overcome these handicaps. The average weight of the Aggies is 17 pounds more per man than that of the Matadors.

Ticket sales for the game tomorrow are going fast, according to reports from the Hilton and Lubbock hotel drug stores where the ducats are on sale. All seats in the grandstand have been placed on reserve. General admission to the bleachers on the east side will be $1. School children will be admitted for 25 cents.

Lineup Not Known

Coach Cawthon prefers to wait until the last minute to make a decision concerning his lineup, but it is safe to suppose that there will be several changes in the lineup he sends on the field tomorrow from that of last Saturday. The line with the exception of the ends, may remain the same, which means that Captain Durham will be at center Ayers and Darr at guard, McWilliams and Langford at tackles. Vinzant may start at one end and Teal at the other, though there is nothing certain about this. Howell and Tadlock might start, and Whitesides might get the call.

The starting backfield may consist of Wooldridge at quarter Brothers and Franz at halves, and Hodges at full, though Moffit, a speedy but light halfback, may get in the game, as may Doose, flashy fullback. The Matadors have been working with unusual pep and enthusiasm this week, each man contesting the other for starting positions.

SIMMONS OUT FOR FROGS

COWBOYS DETERMINED TO MAKE SHOWING AT BRECKENRIDGE

(By The Associated Press)

ABILENE, Oct. 2.—The Simmons University Cowboys have pardonable ambitions, concerning their annual fight with the Texas Christian Horned Frogs at Breckenridge Saturday. While they are not saying that they will upset the Southwest champions, they won't say that they're going to get beat, which probably means that they are hoping for that long chance to come out with the big end of the score.

During the past two years, the Cowboys have gone to Breckenridge as the under dogs and have come out of the game the same way. This year, they are not taking that attitude.

Going Over To Win

"We are not going over to Breckenridge to hold T. C. U. to a low score," said Coach Leslie Cranfill, former Cowboy and Bethany College star who assisted in coaching T. C. U. in 1925. "We are going over there to win. Why go to all that trouble just to hold someone to a low score."

Simmons has not won a football game from T. C. U. since 1921. In that year, the Cowboys passed for a touchdown and kicked a field goal in the last quarter to overcome a 7-0 lead and win by 10-7.

WESTERNERS HAVE EDGE IN TOURNEY

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 2. (AP)—Only the three eastern tennis stars remained in the running today for the Pacific coast singles title as the championships entered the fourth round here.

John Van Ryn of East Orange, N. J., and Wilmer Allison, Davis cup tennis doubles stars, were among the easterners who fell by the wayside yesterday. Van Ryn was defeated, 6-0, 6-4, by Edward G. Chandler, San Francisco, California state champion. Allison defaulted to Alan Herrington of San Francisco to concentrate on his doubles play.

Bob Sellers, San Francisco, defeated Berkeley Bell, Austin, Texas, 9-7, 7-5. Keith Gledhill, another Californian, downed J. Gilbert Hall, South Orange, N. J., 6-3, 6-3.

Clifford Sutter, New Orleans, national intercollegiate champion, eliminated Gerald Stratford, former Pacific coast and California titleholder, 2-6, 6-2, 6-1. George Lott, Chicago, defeated Lester Stoeffen, 6-1, 6-2. Sidney Wood, Jr., New York, was the other easterner to remain in the play, defeating Laureson Driscoll, 6-4, 6-3.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody trounced Ethel Burkhardt, a former coast champion.

FOUGERES, France. (AP)— His record of 55 years with one employer won for Victor Friteau, wheelwright, the government's first class medal for faithful service. He started work for a local coach builder as an apprentice at the age of 10.

MASON IS HELD ELIGIBLE TO CONTINUE

S. M. U.'S HOPES FOR VICTORY AT NOTRE DAME BRIGHTER

(By The Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 2.—Weldon Mason, Southern Methodist University football halfback, was held eligible for play last night by a Southwest Conference sub-committee called here to consider the football star's case. He left today with the team for South Bend, Ind., to play in the game Saturday against Notre Dame.

S. M. U.'s hopes for winning the game Saturday were considered boosted materially by the decision, as Mason was regarded as the main spring of the Mustang offensive.

The appeals board discussed the case until midnight, after S. M. U.'s case was presented by Dr. John McIntosh, chairman of the board and S. M. U.'s representative. He excused himself from the board's deliberations as a prejudiced participant in the case.

Mason failed to take his final examinations at the end of the spring semester but took an examination last week which he passed. At the end of the 1930 spring session he was severely ill, mainly due to injuries suffered on the gridiron, and was warned by his physician not to take the examinations.

Received Permission

He asked and received permission from S. M. U. authorities to postpone the examinations until after the summer session.

Mason was the offensive and defensive key man in the undefeated 1929 eleven and has been banked on heavily by Coach Morrison for the fall campaign.

In finding Mason eligible, the board overruled a decision by Dr. D. A. Penick of Austin, Southwest conference president, who had ruled the S. M. U. star ineligible recently when asked for an opinion in the case.

Violated Rule

Dr. Penick's decision was that Mason violated a conference rule by failing to take his final examinations during the term in which he attended classes.

In overruling Dr. Penick's decision, the board declared that "under a strict interpretation of the rules, Mason is ineligible, but by grace rather than by law we declare him eligible."

Members of the board who reached this decision were Dr. E. W. McDiarmid, of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth; Charles E. Frilly of Texas A. and M. college; and H. Trantham of Baylor University, Waco.

In a statement, however, the board added: "At the same time, the committee agrees that the S. M. U. athletic authorities have been greatly remiss in their lack of acquaintance with the late charges in conference regulations for eligibility and have unnecessarily subjected the conference to trouble and annoyance."

TEAM IS TO BE HANDICAPPED BY INJURIES

FRNKA TAKES 23 MEN ON TRIP; STARS MAY NOT PLAY

After a brief workout this afternoon, the Lubbock High School Westerners will board their special pullman for Wichita Falls where they meet the Wichita Falls High school Coyotes Saturday. Coach Henry Frnka, his assistant, Bill Keeling, and 23 crack gridsters will make the trip. At noon today Coach Frnka had not announced his starting lineup, nor all of the men to make the trip.

The Westerners will be handicapped by injuries when they take the field against the strong Coyotes Saturday. The mentors have spent long and tedious hours this week with the reserve material, so that in case some of the regulars would not be able to play, the lineup could be bolstered with adept second stringers. Several of the leading men on the team have been out nearly all this week with injuries sustained last Friday in the clash wth the Pampa Harvesters, and it is doubtful if some of the regulars will even make the trip.

Take Long Workouts

Daily this week Coach Frnka has put his charges through four or five hours of special drill, keeping the Westerners on the field from 2:30 until darkness prohibits further practice nearly every day. He has not expressed an opinion concerning the outcome of Saturday's contest, but declares that the Westerners will give the Wichita aggregation a fight that they will long remember.

The Wichita Falls scribe has the following to say about the Coyotes: "You won't recognize those Coyotes next Saturday afternoon when they trot across Athletic Park to meet the Lubbock Westerners. They looked good enough last week against Temple. The defense was almost perfect. The offense was spectacular. Next Saturday that line will hold, if last Tuesday's drill in breaking up Lubbock plays has meant anything to the Coyotes.

"Trick plays, flashy aerial attacks, and an assortment of bewildering line plunges that are impossible to describe—at least at this time—will be used against the Westerners. In the coming fracas, the Westerners had better keep a well-opened orb on the Wichita Falls backfield. J. R. Holton and Bennett Withrow at half, and Johnny White at fullback looked very impressive in the line charges, and Hamlin Rugeley was bearing down at quarterback, though it looks like Danny Cox will call signals Saturday."

Tahoka Meets Floydada In Feature Game At Fair

O'DONNELL LOSES TO OLTON WEDNESDAY, 12 TO 0

One of the most interesting games on the Panhandle-South Plains fair program will be played this afternoon when the Tahoka Bulldogs clash with the Floydada Whirlwinds on the Fair Park field. The game will start at 4 o'clock.

Both teams have been worked hard for the game today, for two former teammates are coaching the Tahoka and Floydada squads and the game will be a battle of wits as well as gridiron strength. Weir Washam, former Baylor quarterback and basketball star at Baylor University for two years, is coach of the Tahoka Bulldogs. The Floydada mentor is L. T. Barksdale, star forward at the same institution. Both coaches have whipped their charges into prime condition for today's game.

In a game featuring sensational runs and defensive plays, the O'Donnell High Eagles lost a 12 to 0 decision to the Olton High eleven yesterday. Part of the game was played in a driving rain, but the weather did not dampen the fighting spirit of two rather evenly matched teams. The O'Donnell aggregation was outweighed and were handicapped by lack of experience, but outfought the Olton gridsters in three quarters of the game.

The line play of the Olton team was an outstanding feature of the games. Never were the O'Donnell gridders able to gain through the opposing forward wall, but Coach Scott's Eagles put over enough forward passes and broke through to block enough kicks and passes to gain seven first downs, to Olton's 4. O'Donnell threatened to score twice, when they had the ball on Olton's 10 yard line, but lacked the necessary punch to put over counters. Olton's first score came in the second quarter when the team blocked a punt on O'Donnell's ten yard line. Three short plunges put the ball over. On the last play of the game, an Olton halfback intercepted a pass on his 30 yard line and raced down the sideline 70 yards for a touchdown. Besides these two breaks, the Olton team was not able to get within striking distance.

St. Louis Players Are To Be Traded

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2. (AP)—The Enquirer says it has information that negotiations are practically completed for a deal between the Reds and Cardinals whereby "Red" Lucas and Joe Stripp of the Reds are to be traded to the St. Louis Cardinals for Jim Bottomley and Taylor Douthit. The paper says its information came from a person identified with the St. Louis management, adding the deal will be completed after the World series.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 2—Whether or not Joe McCarthy, deposed pilot of the Chicago Cubs, actually has come to terms with the New York Yankees for a two-year term as manager in 1931-32, succeeding Bob Shawkey, indications today pointed to completion of negotiations in short order.

After a day of conflicting reports, it was understood McCarthy had rejected a flattering offer to take over the Boston Red Sox on a long-term contract in preference to accepting a tentative proposal for the management of the Yankees, with consequent greater opportunity to distinguish himself in a new field.

Admits Conversation

McCarthy, not only admitted he was in a receptive mood to a New York offer, having already had some preliminary conversation, but revealed that he planned to go to New York in a few days to talk definite terms with Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees.

"It is not always a question of money," McCarthy said. "I want to go where there is the greatest opportunity. You know, when they break your heart, you want something to come back with."

Reports have been published that McCarthy will sign on a basis of two years at the Yankee helm at $25,000 a year but he denied any such detailed terms had been discussed.

In a recent week there were 7,150 births and 3,490 deaths registered in 107 towns and cities of England and Wales.

SUAREZ TO MEET MILLER FRIDAY

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Justo Suarez, Argentine lightweight, meets Ray Miller, slugging southpaw, in Madison Square Garden arena Friday night.

Suarez has never been beaten in his short but brilliant professional career and before turning from the Simon-pure ranks won 72 amateur bouts. He has been in the United States less than three months but already has decisions over Joe Glick and Herman Perlick and a knockout victory over Bruce Flowers to his credit.

Miller swings a mean left hand, when he is so inclined, and may prove a tough customer for Suarez, who is aiming at a bout with Al Singer, lightweight champion. The Argentine probably will have a five-pound weight advantage as Miller is down to 130 pounds now while Suarez tipped the scales at 135 at the end of his workout yesterday.

RAINS FALL IN SOUTH PLAINS

SERIES OF SHOWERS FALL LAST NIGHT OVER SECTION

Lubbock last night apparently was the center of a series of local showers that covered this section of the South Plains, following a wide spread rain that extender over into New Mexico.

The rain here last night extended north to about half way between Hale Center and Abernathy and southwest to Slaton.

Heaviest to Northwest

Reports of bus drivers today indicated yesterday's rain was heaviest between Sudan and Clovis.

Brownfield, Meadow, Seagraves, and on west into New Mexico also reported a good rain yesterday and last night.

Roads, however, were not in such condition from the moisture as to delay traffic to any apreciable extent.

Seminole, county seat of Gaines county, had a good rain late yesterday. Charlie Costin, of the Carlsbad Caverns route, said today while here on business.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Despite a few soft spots the stock market again made substantial upward progress at the opening today. Air reduction, Atchison and Auburn each gained 2 points, and Union Pacific, nearly 3. Columbia gas, Westinghouse Electric, Borden, Sears Roebuck, Case and American Power and Light advanced 1-2 to 1 point. U. S. Steel and Radio were steady. New York Central lost 1 1-2 Stone & Webster 1, American Smelting 3-4, and Chrysler 1-2.

The market turned distinctly heavy by the end of the first half hour, however, as professional traders rushed to take profits, and bear pressure was renewed.

Early gains of a point or two quickly lost, and replaced by declines of similar extent. Allied Chemical, Standard Gas, Case and Gillette showed losses of about 2 points, and shares losing a point or so included such issues as U. S. Steel, General Motors, General Electric, American Can, American Telephone, and Sears Roebuck.

Foreign exchanges opened steady to firm Sterling cables opened at $4.85 29-32, up 1-32, and the French franc reversed its recent downward trend.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 2. (AP)—Cotton opened only one to two points up which proved disappointing as Liverpool cables came in much better than due.

Prices soon eased off slightly, December dropping back to 10.55, even with yesterday's close while January traded to 10.66, one point under yesterday's close.

Toward the end of the first hour the market rallied slightly on fair trade buying, December moving up to 10.60 and January to 10.70, or four to five points above the lows and three to five points above yesterday's close.

There seemed to be much hesitation among traders.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 2. (AP)—Cotton opened steady at an advance of 1 to 5 points in response to the relatively steady showing of Liverpool, while it looked as if the action of yesterday's market had brought in some overnight buying orders.

Demand was not active, however, and prices eased after the call under a little southern selling and realizing. Spot houses were sellers of the late months, presumably in the way of hedging and after selling at 10.65 at the start, new December contracts reacted to 10.56 or about 5 points net lower. Covering believed to be partly for Wall Street and western account continued, however, while there was a moderate demand from the trade and prices were fairly steady within a point or two of yesterday's closing quotations at the end of the first half hour.

TRANSACTIONS ON BONDS SALE OPEN RETURNS HOME

Informal conversations looking towards the purchasing of $300,000 worth of Lubbock county road bonds were being held today by the county commissioner's court with two bond buyers. Request for the meeting was made by a representative of Garrett and company, Dallas.

C. L. West, Dallas, representing this bond house, made an offer of par and accrued interest for an issue of $300,000. The county would pay for the printing of the bonds and delivery to the company, under this offer.

W. H. Simpsonn, Plainview bond buyer, also appeared before the court.

Pitts Listens In

County Judge Robert H. Bean presided. E. L. Pitts, county judge elect, was also present, listening in on the conference.

Guy R. Johnston, construction engineer, also was in conference and he was asked several questions by the court relative to possible need of funds for road work.

Members of the court indicated that they would want some time to consider the offers before making a definite decision. The matter came up unexpectedly, it was pointed out, and members of the court feel that the offers and condition of the bond market at this time warrants more study of the proposals.

It was also pointed out that the county is not at this time exactly in need of money for road construction and that the sale now would bring money into the treasury before it was needed.

PRODUCTION OF OIL GAINING

AVERAGE DAILY YIELD PER WELL IS 6.4 BARRELS IN 1929

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Petroleum was extracted during 1929 from 328,200 wells in the United States which gave an average daily yield per well of 6.4 barrels. These figures announced by the United States bureau of mines compared with a production of 7.6 barrels in 1928 from 327,800 wells.

The 1929 output rate varied from as little as a fifth of a barrel per day extracted from certain Ohio and Indiana borings to the top record of 161 barrels per day made by the average well in West Texas.

Pennsylvania Leads

Pennsylvania, the state which first fostered petroleum production, was still the possessor of the largest number of oil wells last year, credited with 80,320 bores. However, Oklahoma's far fewer wells, numbering 61,160, were responsible for a greater petroleum production during the year valued at $364,650,000, or about nine times the Pennsylvania output. Texas with but 36,280 wells, was credited with a total petroleum output of $322,530,000. California's bare 10,520 wells operating during 1929 had an output worth $321,367,000. Californian production worked out to an average of 93 barrels per day per well; Oklahoma's to 11.3 barrels and the Texas figure was slightly under 23. These three states represented four-fifths of the national production of crude which the bureau announced was worth $1,280,000,000.

Vesuvius Is Thrown Into Eruption Again

NATLES, Italy, Oct. 2—(AP)—Inhabitants for miles around gathered on neighoring hills today to watch Vesuvius, transformed into a fountain of fire and lava by an unheralded eruption.

With its crater shifted 60 feet, the volcano shot rocks and lava 300 feet into the air. There were two fountains of the flaming lava, the molten fluid being cast in flaming streams in the sky.

The director of the Vesuvius observatory said there was no danger from the lava flow, but inhabitants thereabout continued their vigil. Vesuvius has been semi-active in mid-July spread a great stream of lava over the entire western zone of the crater.

RESUMPTION OF BUILDING IS PREDICTED

NORMALCY EXPECTED TO BE REACHED IN SUMMER 1931

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 2.— Steady resumption of building activities during the winter months, renewed activity by January 1, and a swing toward normalcy during the summer of 1931 were predicted today by E. M. Craig, executive secretary of the National Association of Building Trades Employers, who made public a survey of conditions in 175 United States and Canadian cities. He said the low point "in depression had passed and a slow, steady return to activity might be expected.

"One factor intended to aid the nation's building industry to emerge from its depression will be official ratification of the new board of trade claims by the convention of the building trades department of the American Federation of Labor," he said.

This is a tribunal established for adjustment of jurisdictional disputes between building trades. Its inauguration was urged by President Hoover, who declared its adoption would maintain public confidence in building.

The unwelcome guest told police he was a newcomer in the neighborhood and got into Mrs. Clancy's home by mistake.

BANKER TAKES UP GANGLAND TRICK

SPECIAL LOCK TO BE PLACED ON FRONT DOOR SO THAT ONLY THOSE WANTED CAN COME IN

(By The Associated Press)

DES MOINES, Oct. 2.—Gangland's pet trick, lookout men at locked doors to its speakeasies and gambling quarters, has found its way into Iowa banking circles.

Taking a tip from the gangster's own method of protecting himself from the law, at least one Iowa banker will maintain the same sort of vigilance against bank robbers.

"I am placing a special lock on our front door, operating by pushbuttons behind the bank counters and desks, so that our front door will always be locked and no one will be allowed in the bank until we have a chance to look them over when a push of the button will allow them to enter," he says.

The bank's customers have been consulted and have agreed to the plan. The locked door, the banker believes, will give employes an opportunity to "spot" anyone who doesn't "look good" and call upon the vigilantes to prepare themselves before the door is opened.

"I am convinced that if a gang finds a front door of a bank locked, they will think the job has been tipped off and will leave town as fast as they can," the banker added.

The plan was proposed by a banker in northwestern Iowa, whose name is not revealed, as a means of halting the wave of robberies which have netted bandits nearly $100,000 in 16 bank holdups since January 1.

ROUTE NAMED ON NEW LINE MAIL LINE

ELEVEN CITIES ARE TO SERVE AS DEPOT POINTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2—Eleven cities will serve as depot points on the new southern trans-continental air mail route, over which service is to begin October 15.

The complete route was announced as follows:

Atlanta, Ga., Jackson, Miss., Shreveport, La., Dallas, Fort Worth, Big Spring, annd El Paso, Texas; Douglas, Tucson and Phoenix, Ariz., and Los Angeles.

A spur route will include San Angelo and San Antonio, Texas; in the service, with connections at Big Spring. In addition, the post office department said, the schedule has been so devised that through train connections, San Diego and El Centro, Calif., Yuma, Ariz., and numerous places in Texas will benefit from the new service.

To Stop Overnight

Because the airway is not lighted, overnight stops will be made in both directions at Fort Worth. This factor, it was said, will give New Orleans the advantage of the new service through the existing airmail route from that city to Houston and thence by train to San Antonio.

East bound planes will connect at Fort Worth with the north bound service to Kansas City and Chicago and the present Boston-New York-Philadelphia-Atlanta planes will connect with the west-bound planes at Atlanta.

The aviation corporation of New York City will operate the new route under contract, using tri-motored planes capable of a speed of 125 miles per hour east bound and 225 miles per hour west bound.

BUILDING TO BE GREATER

COMMERCE SECRETARY SAYS NEXT 20 YEARS ACTIVE

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Secretary Lamont has estimated at least fifty billion dollars will be spent on new residential construction in the United States during the next twenty years, and in addition about $500,000,000 a year during the same period on maintenance and repairs of houses. He was discussing plans for a national conference on home building and home ownership which President Hoover has called.

"With recent drops in prices of building material, an ample number of highly skilled building workers available, contractors anxious to obtain work and mortgage money available at reasonable terms," the commerce secretary continued, "conditions are now favorable for home builders who have the resources and intend to build to go ahead. In general, conditons are also good for going ahead with repairs, alterations and improvements.

A special study made last week by the committee planning for the conference, of which he is chairman, the secretary added, had given him the views expressed.

SALOONKEEPER'S OCCUPATION GONE, AT LEAST IN REPORT OF 1930 CENSUS

By BESS FURMAN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. —(AP)— Though some still say they belong to it, the occupation saloonkeeper has slipped out of the named classifications in 1930 census reports.

They will be lumped under the subhead "other occupations," in "domestic and personal service," where are tallied the umbrella mender, the scissors grinder, the cemetery keeper, the disinfector, exterminator and fumigator.

Listed as Service

Though taken after wartime prohibition went into effect, the 1920 census still listed as saloonkeepers 17,312 men and 523 women. Census officials explained the designation went to proprietors of near-beer parlors, still serving near-beer with the buffet lunch over the same old bar of the saloon days. This, like other cafes, counted as "personal service."

But the 1930 bootlegger, a considerable scattering of whom have been frank enough to state their business to the census taker, gets no such homey classification. He is regarded as being in a strictly barter business, and is listed with "other occupations" at the trailing end of "trade."

No Classification Given

Census bureau officials said there were not enough oldstyle saloonkeepers left to justify a classification even if that designation remained a good description of their trade now that the liquors behind their buffet bars no longer contain alcohol. In 1910, the last census of the open saloon, there were 66,724 men and 1,491 women reported as saloonkeepers.

The bootleggers, it was explained, were not numerous enough to warrant a new classification since most of those who ply that trade reported to the census taker some other occupation in which he was ostensibly engaged. Such a classification was also regarded as valueless since it would not reflect the true situation of that occupation.

The census bureau gathers its information "for statistical purposes only"—hence the bravery of the few bootleggers who reported themselves as such.
