Baltic Front Flares Anew Near Narva

Five Nazi Escape Ships Sent Down

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, April 21. — Vicious, large-scale German counter-attacks on the long-quiet Baltic front near Narva in Estonia, and in the southeast corner of old Poland near Stanislawow were beaten off by the Red Army yesterday, with a total of 5,000 or more Germans killed and many captured, Moscow announced early today.

The Red Army force contributed to resumption of bitter warfare in the Baltic area by heavily bombing German troops concentrated at Rezekne and Gulbene in Latvia and a shale-oil plant at Kiwiili in Estonia, the Sovie midnight communique said, while in the far south Russian bombers and torpedo planes sank four large transports and a destroyer trying to escape from the besieged Crimean port of Sevastopol.

Many Others Wrecked

Besides the transports sunk, numerous others were wrecked or set afire, it was announced.

In attacking on the Baltic front the Germans sought to wipe out a Soviet bridgehead on the west bank of the Narova river southwest of Narva.

"The Hitlerites appeared to hope to smash our defenses in one blow," said a supplement to the communique, "but they miscalculated." German dead left on the field numbered more than 2,000, but the enemy continued repeated vain counter-attacks that cost him more and more men, the Russians declared.

Same Results Elsewhere

South and east of Stanislawow the Germans attacked with similar results, the Russians reporting that in one sector alone 1,500 Germans were killed, and in another a full battalion (probably 800 men) broke into the Russian positions only to be encircled and "wiped out to a man."

The Germans continued, however, to exert "relentless pressure on our positions from two sides," and "violent engagements went on throughout the day," the official account stated.

West of Tarnopol, on the central front, the Russians themselves thrust forward a short distance, capturing several villages, taking prisoners and destroying about a battalion of German infantry, it was added.

The communique was silent on the land fighting for Sevastopol but dwelt on the havoc wrought at sea as the Germans and Romanians struggled to flee from that death trap.

Halifaxes Join Italian Raiders

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, April 20 (AP) — RAF four-engined Halifax bombers joined the relentless onslaught from Italian bases against Nazi communications in the Balkans with a disruptive attack early today on rail yards at Plovdiv, 80 miles east of Sofia in Bulgaria.

Destruction of Plodiv's facilities primarily would affect the lone rail link between Sofia and Istanbul, Turkey, but it also would help paralyze other Bulgarian communications and further jar the wavering morale of the Bulgars.

Crewmen of the Halifaxes said they saw bomb flashes in Plovdiv's yards and that fires were mounting as they turned for home. Liberators and Wellingtons attacked the same target on Monday night.

Little Action On Ground

Low visibility grounded Italy-based American heavy bombers yesterday, and there was no indication they had resumed their attacks today. RAF Wellingtons made an early morning attack on the German supply ports of Livorno, Piombino and Santo Stefano.

Bullets sang amid the rubble of Cassino on the lower Fifth Army front as Allied machine-gunners peppered the ruins of the Continental and Des Roses hotels, the most troublesome German positions in the town. There has been virtually no change in opposing positions at Cassino in recent quiet weeks. Allied troops still cling to the Cassino railway station.

On the Anzio beachhead near Rome an Allied raiding party attacked a number of German-held houses three miles northwest of Littoria and bagged eight prisoners after inflicting heavy casualties on the Nazis.

Rehearing In Negro Vote Case Asked In Sharply Worded Motion By Sellers

AUSSIE WIVES OF U.S. SOLDIERS—This group of young Australian women, some of them with babies, are wives of American soldiers, shown here at a port in Australia as they left for the United States. The group arrived at San Francisco Wednesday "waiting to be shown whether things in America" are as roseate as their soldier-mates have pictured them.

Other States Are Asked To Join In Democrats' Fight

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 20 — In a sharply worded motion Attorney General Grover Sellers of Texas today asked the Supreme court of the United States to set aside its April 3 ruling opening state Democratic primary elections to negro participation and sought permission to personally argue the rehearing request before the court.

Sellers, explaining the motion was mailed today, expressed the hope that other southern states also would seek to be heard before the court.

Court's Opinion

The April 3 opinion, which held exclusion of negroes from Democratic party primaries violated the constitution, declared:

"Under our constitution, the great privilege of choosing his rulers may not be denied a man by the state because of his color."

Said the state's rehearing motion:

"Despite the seeming unpopularity of its philosophy among certain strata of our government, the state of Texas continues to adhere to the fundamental American principle that elections are conducted, not for the purpose of choosing 'rulers but for the purpose of electing 'public servants."

"Fundamental to the position of the attorney general is the principle that this should remain a government of laws rather than of men, and that the laws governing freedom of political thought and action should not be extended to those organizations with whose practices our 'rulers' agree and denied to those with whose practices they disagree."

Inherent Privilege

Asserting it was undisputed that under state laws the Democratic party may prescribe the qualifications of its members and such a prescription is not a legislative boon but an inherent privilege of a voluntary association, Sellers added:

"It would, of course, be possible for the party to emulate those other voluntary associations to whom our government is now according the fullest protection, and to achieve its goals by violence, by political blackmail, or by an autocratic selection of its representatives.

"However, in lieu of these methods, the Democratic party of Texas has chosen to place its views before the people by means of candidates who are fairly and honestly elected by the party membership."

Sellers declared in the motion he was arguing only that the Democratic party possesses a constitutional right to pursue this course.

Military Chiefs Cite Perils In New Plea On Labor Draft

Knox, Stimson And Land Make Appeal

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Warning the nation that it faces a manpower crisis which may imperil the mightiest military undertaking in history, heads of the armed forces renewed their demand for labor draft legislation tonight. Such a law is urgently needed to keep vital war plants staffed with replacements for workers gone to war, they emphasized.

"False public interpretations of what are only local victories on the perimeter of the enemies strongholds may indeed imperil victory when we thrust at the foes' heart."

Joint Statement

In a joint statement Navy Secretary Knox, War Secretary Stimson and Maritime Chairman Emory S. Land declared 1,400,000 more men will be taken by the armed forces this year—most of them "drawn from vital industries" which not only must find replacements but in some cases will have to step up production.

Shortly before their statement came out, the House Military committee recommended that 4-F's who refuse to take essential war jobs be drafted for non-combat duty in the Army and Navy.

The committee plan was aimed directly at some 3,623,000 men now classified 4-F—unfit for regular military duty. Men of this group who spurn essential jobs would be inducted forthwith for what Committee Chairman May (D-Ky) called "menial tasks" around Army camps and hospitals. In effect, he explained, they would "be the Army's and Navy's domestics."

Foreboding Picture

The Army, Navy and shipping heads issued their statement after conferences and discussions with Gen. George C. Marshall, Army chief of staff; Adm. Ernest J. King, commander in chief of the United States fleet; legislators

Turks Halt Chrome Shipments To Nazis

LONDON, April 20. (AP) — Foreign Minister Numan Menemencioglu announced in the Turkish assembly today Turkey's decision to halt all chrome exports to Germany effective tomorrow, giving the Allies a diplomatic victory expected to be felt in the war foundries.

The Turkish announcement was the first fruit of an Allied campaign to plug leakages of neutral aid to Germany, and it followed strong Allied representations over recent increases of Turkish chrome shipments to the Nazis.

London estimated the Turkish embargo would deprive Germany of at least half of her supplies of this alloy essential for hardening certain special steels for armor-plate and other war goods.

These juices, OPA said, are in good supply because of expanded production facilities and lighter lend-lease requirements.

Adolf's Birthday Grim Time, With Invasion Nearing

LONDON, April 20 (AP)—Adolf Hitler observed his 55th birthday today in silence and the German nation avoided even a pretense of celebration.

From German radio stations, however, came numerous reflections of Germany's heightening belief that the hour of Allied invasion is near.

Dispatches from Sweden and Switzerland reported Field Marshal General Karl von Rundstedt was massing troops along his vaunted "Atlantic wall" for the invasion test, and there were numerous German guesses the assault would come before the end of May.

A dispatch from Stockholm said Berlin's ruins draped with unprecedented numbers of swastikas and thousands of pennants reading "our walls are broken, but not our hearts" were displayed.

Proration Set Above PAW Call

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—A statewide proration order announced by the railroad commission today will permit maximum average daily production of 2,148,809 barrels of Texas crude oil in May.

Estimated actual daily production next month will be 1,976,904 barrels based on past experience, which indicated production is 8 per cent below allowable, engineers said.

Distillate and natural gasoline production of 142,648 barrels daily will place estimated daily production of all petroleum liquids at 2,119,552 barrels daily or 16,552 more than certified for May need in Texas by the Petroleum Administration for War.

Producing Days

The May schedule authorized 23 statewide producing days, 23 East Texas producing days and 27 Panhandle producing days, each category increased one day over the April pattern.

The commission also:

Prisoner Offers Eye To Blinded Fighter

LOS ANGELES, April 20. (AP)—A county jail prisoner, William Albert Horn, 29, today offered one of his two good eyes to any blinded service man.

"I've made a mess of my life so far," he told a newsman. "I feel that the loss of one eye to help a service man who has lost his sight is only partial atonement."

Horn, a merchant seaman, awaits trial on a grand theft charge. He has been refused for army service because of a prison record following two theft convictions in El Paso and Houston.

"If I go to the pen now," he added, "one eye will be enough. If I should get off, one eye is good enough for any seaman."

Dewey Picks Up More Delegates

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's convention support for the Republican presidential nomination was increased yesterday to 209 delegates, 175 more than his nearest opponent, when Michigan Republicans in state convention praised their native son and put 41 more delegates into his claimed column.

It will require 530 convention votes to nominate a candidate.

The state convention did not bind the delegates, but commended the New Yorker to them as the "overwhelming favorite" of the state's voters as party standard bearer.

Can Have Nomination

Shortly before, Gov. Dwight Griswold, of Nebraska, told reporters in Lincoln "it is evident now" that Dewey can have the nomination on any ballot his forces choose. He said the Dewey command "may allow a ballot or two for favorite sons, but Dewey could go in on the first, second or third ballot, whichever they choose."

Griswold has been prominently mentioned for the GOP vice presidential candidacy. But many party leaders, chiefly from the west, took leave from the Chicago convention arrangements committee sessions yesterday with forecasts that Gov. Earl Warren, whom they selected as convention keynoter, would most likely be a running mate with Dewey.

Totals By States

Dewey's delegate recapitulation now shows 29 delegates pledged outright to him from Arkansas, Missouri, New Hampshire, Oklahoma, Virginia and Wisconsin. His claimed total, uncontested by supporters of other possible nominees, is 180 and comes from Alaska, Arizona, Maine, Michigan, Missouri, New York, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Virginia and Wisconsin.

Second in the delegate running is Lieut. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen with 34, including 33 pledged from Minnesota, Nebraska, and Wisconsin, and one claimed from Nebraska.

WAGE PLAN ACCEPTED

Singleton Claim Bill Is Passed

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill (HR 2916) authorizing payment of $5,035 to Mrs. Gaylord W. Singleton in settlement of claims arising out of the death of her husband, who was killed Aug. 26, 1942, when two Army planes collided over the Lubbock Army Flying school (now —Lubbock Army Air field), and one crashed into the cadet tailor shop where Singleton was working.

As introduced by Rep. Mahon (D-Tex), the bill also provided payment of $5,000 to Jimmy Dale Singleton, a minor son of the deceased, but the House committee deleted that provision.

Similar Bill Approved

The House also has passed and sent to the Senate a bill (HR3470) for the payment of $3,000 to J. G. Sullivan of Woodson, Tex., in settlement of claims against the government because of paralysis of hands and arms suffered from arsenic poisoning from the use of sodium arsenite in grasshopper control work. The poison had been issued to him through his county agent's office, allegedly without a warning against distribution of it by hand. As introduced by Rep. Gossett (D-Tex), the bill had proposed a $10,000 payment.

U.S. Heavies Hit Nazis In Sunset Blow

Enemy Caught By Surprise In Raid

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, April 21 — American warplanes delivered the heaviest daylight blow ever made from the air against an occupied country yesterday with repeated attacks upon northern France, and early today RAF night bombers were reported over Germany, keeping the assault going around the clock.

The American attack was climaxed by a surprise sunset raid on objectives in France by "very strong forces" of Fortresses and Liberators, probably numbering nearly 1,000.

It came at the waning of a long day for the Axis, which had been jarred in the early morning hours by a heavy RAF raid from Italy on the Bulgarian railway center of Plovdiv.

But even as the Americans were returning from the evening effort a huge RAF fleet was heard winging across the eastern coast and as late as 3:30 a. m. (8:30 p. m. CWT) German radios still were broadcasting warnings that Allied planes were over western and southwestern Germany.

The suppertime attackers, accompanied by between 500 and 750 Thunderbolt, Lightning and Mustang fighters, dumped approximately 2,500 tons of explosives on their objectives. In addition Mustang fighter-bombers blasted Nazi targets deep in northeastern France.

Nine U. S. heavy bombers were lost, but all the fighter-bombers and fighters returned safely. The escort planes shot down four Nazi planes in the air and destroyed others on the ground.

"Bomber crews reported no German fighter opposition, although anti-aircraft fire ranging from slight to very intense was encountered," an air force communique stated.

Allied planes by tonight had made approximately 8,000 sorties against Nazi targets in the past 54 hours, unloading more than 11,000 tons of bombs. It was the third successive day that the U. S. Air force had sent out an armada of approximately 2,000 planes.

Surprise For Enemy

The assault undoubtedly was a surprise for the enemy, being one of the latest ever made by the Eighth Air force and certainly the heaviest evening bombardment ever directed at occupied France. It was estimated that some of the bombs were plummeted to their targets as late as 7:30 p. m.

Britain's double summer time, now in effect, gives the British bases light in the sky until after 9 p. m. during the spring and summer months.

Day operations from Britain began with American medium Marauders and lighter RAF aircraft hitting occupied France, the show starting as more than 150 Marauders dashed to the northern French coast with almost 300 tons of bombs loosed in clearing weather.

Small forces of RAF, RCAF and Allied Bostons, Mitchells and Spitfire fighter-bombers made subsequent attacks on the same type of targets. Light Bostons and medium Mitchells had an umbrella of RCAF Spitfires.

Naval Forces Hit Sumatra; Chinese Encircle Division

By THOBURN WIANT
Associated Press Staff Writer

SOUTHEAST ASIA HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, April 20—Allied forces in Southeast Asia have landed two stiff jolts on the Japanese with bombers and fighters flying from carriers somewhere in the Indian ocean attacking enemy targets in northern Sumatra, and Chinese troops encircling a Japanese division in northern Burma, it was disclosed today.

A communique from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's Southeast Asia headquarters said Allied planes, taking off from powerfully-escorted carriers, blasted Japanese air fields, shipping and other installations early yesterday at Sabang and Lhonga in northern Sumatra, destroying at least 22 enemy planes aground.

Chinese troops fighting under Lt. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell in the Mansum area near the jade mines of northern Burma were reported to have encircled a Japanese division and to be inflicting heavy casualties on the enemy.

A whole series of successes were attributed to the Stilwell forces ,while a British relief expedition 150 miles farther west, just over the border in India, was declared to have established contact with the besieged Allied garrison at Kohima.

Encirclement of the Japanese division was credited to elements of Stilwell's 38th Chinese division, while other forces of the same division crossed the Mogaung river to the east and took the village of Ngumgahtawng.

The Chinese 22nd division captured Warazup, a key Japanese defense point on the Mogaung valley road, where the enemy made a determined stand in an effort to delay the Stilwell campaign until next month's rains. Details were not availbale, but the village of Warazup 25 miles north of Kamaing, was described as virtually destroyed after hard fighting.

On the Kohima front, Allied headquarters reported the relieving column had joined the garrison in an offensive aimed at nipping the Japanese from positions where they threatened the Korima-Dimapur road. First contact of the two British forces' forward patrols was reported Wednesday.

Haley Speaks At 14th Annual Session; McMillan Renamed President Of Group

A chuck wagon supper and program, with J. Evetts Haley, Panhandle rancher and author of several works on early Texas history, as principal speaker, Thursday night wound up the fourteenth annual meeting of the West Texas Museum association here, in which old timers who came to the South Plains prior to 1901 were honored.

Attended by 60 pioneers, most of whom were from Lubbock county, the chuck wagon feed was held beginning at 6:15 o'clock in the Aggie grove on the Texas Technological college campus. After the supper the program was unreeled in the museum building. Approximately 175 persons attended the supper and program.

Life of Littlefield

Haley discussed the life of George W. Littlefield, famous rancher for whom the town of Littlefield was named, and related information on several early-day characters who helped make Littlefield's ranching endeavors famous. Haley is the author of the recently-published book, "The Life of George W. Littlefield." A former member of the University of Texas faculty, Haley now operates a 21-section spread on the north banks of the Canadian river near Spearman. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Haley of Midland.

W. G. McMillan, president of the association, presided at the program meeting.

Officers Elected

McMillan, Lubbock contractor, was again named to head the association. Other officials re-elected are C. E. Maedgen, second vice president; Mrs. Roscoe Wilson, third vice president; Dean James G. Allen, of Texas Tech, secretary; Mrs. C. D. Eaves, treasurer, and Dean W. C. Holden, also of Tech, curator. New officers are Dr. Clifford B. Jones, president of Tech, first vice president, W. T. Fain, fourth vice president, and Hamilton Overstreet, of Farwell, Tex., fifth vice president. All except Overstreet are of Lubbock.

Nominating Committee

Their names were presented by a nominating committee comprised of Clark M. Mullican, Dr. R. C. Goodwin and R. E. Karper.

Ex-presidents automatically become directors. They are H. I. Allen, Sam C. Arnett, R. C. Hopping, Dr. J. T. Hutchinson, George J. Kuykendall, and Dr. C. J. Wagner.

Yesterday afternoon's session, held from 4 to 6 o'clock, took the form of a talkfest, old timers swapping stories of the early days. Walter Posey presided.

DAR Names Georgia Woman As President

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Mrs. Julius Young Talmadge of Athens, Ga., was elected president general of the Daughters of the American revolution today.

She received 815 votes, one more than the necessary number required for election. Her victory, over Mrs. Samuel James Campbell of Mount Caroll, Ill., who received 769 votes, and Mrs. George D. Schermerhorn of Reading, Mich., with 42 votes, was scored in a second election. The first one yesterday failed to give any contestant a majority.

The meeting, the 53rd annual congress, ended tonight with a dinner.

Carolines Area Battered Again

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Friday, April 21—American Liberator heavy bombers from South and Southwest Pacific bases, paying daily visits to Japanese airfields in the western and central Caroline islands, destroyed six enemy planes and probably three more, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

The planes were destroyed in Tuesday and Wednesday raids on Woleai island, in the western Carolines. Three were knocked out of the air and three smashed on the ground. The three probables also were hit on the ground.

Satawan Lashed Again

Another flight of Liberators hit Woleai Thursday, but details of this raid have not been received.

Other Liberators struck at Satawan island Tuesday for the third consective day of raids there. The attackers smashed the airfield and dispersal areas with 34 tons of explosives.

(These raids coordinated with attacks by American bombers from Central Pacific bases on Truk and Ponape island, in the eastern part of the Carolines, Wednesday and Thursday. The raids were announced by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.)

Six American planes failed to return from aerial assaults along an arc from Dutch Timor, in the Dutch East Indies, east to the Carolines.

Three were lost over Rabaul.

Texas Celebrates Independence Day Today As Valiant Sons Fight Again For Same Ideal

By ELTON L. MILLER
Associated Press Staff Writer

ON the battlefield of San Jacinto 108 years ago today (Friday) the tide of Texas history was turned.

General Sam Houston and his gallant Army of less than 1,000 pounced down on Santa Anna's warriors that day to win the independence they had proclaimed on the previous March 2.

Today descendants of that victorious Texas Army are fighting all over the world—fighting for the same ideals. They are trying to make the world safe for those who enjoy freedom.

It took General Houston only a short time to completely destroy the ambition of Santa Anna, who called himself "the Napoleon of the West." In a furious battle at the confluence of the San Jacinto and Buffalo bayou, near Houston, the Texans charged while the Mexicans took their afternoon siesta.

Six hundred and thirty Mexicans were killed, 230 wounded and 730 were captured of an Army of 1,600. Texas lost two dead and 23 wounded.

The Lone Star flag, which rippled in the breeze at San Jacinto, today flies in Italy, in England where doughboys await the zero hour for the invasion of continental Europe, in the far-away Aleutians and in the Southwest Pacific. Shories of heroism such as General Houston never dreamed are being written.

The 23 tired former Texas A. & M. college students who gathered for a San Jacinto day muster on April 21, 1942, remembered the Alamo, Goliad, San Jacinto. It was almost time for the Rock to surrender, but Major General George F. Moore and the 22 other Texas Aggies sang the Aggie song and even "The Eyes of Texas" that night.

Yes, when Texas Aggies go through their routines at the annual San Jacinto day muster again this year, they (some 15,000 of them) will remember their former buddies, living and dead, who fought so bravely at Corregidor, at Bataan and those who marched the road of death to Manila after the surrender.

San Jacinto day has a new and

Russians Continued Fight From Underneath Odessa

By HARRISON SALISBURY
United Press War Correspondent

ODESSA, April 15—"By night we ruled Odessa!"

That was the triumphant statement of members of the "Army of the Catacombs" to correspondents who arrived in Odessa today from Moscow by airplane and truck a scant 72 hours after the last German troops had fled toward Romania.

Some of these men who came out to their liberated city from caverns had held underground for two and one half years in one of the strangest sieges of the war.

Lived Underneath City

It is a story of thousands of armed men and women living in subterranean garrisons 75 to 160 feet below the city streets on which trod the boots of the German invaders.

They lived in chambers hollowed out of the limestone with offices, printing presses, wireless stations, hospitals and food kitchens. There were some 10,000 guerrilla fighters and 3,000 other refugees and toward the end their ranks were swelled by Slovak and French deserters from the retreating German armies.

Forays By Night

By day they clung to their hideouts. By night they sallied forth in forays against the German occupation force.

Correspondents toured portions of the underground network of 100 to 150 miles of limestone passages and caves. There was even a cemetery for the guerrilla dead.

The entrance passage was so narrow I had to bend double—and this was the "main entrance."

Entrance In Workers' Section

Maj. Anatole Loschenko, leader of the catacombs partisians who was a chemical engineer before the war, an angular, sandy-haired Ukrainian, took me on a tour of the passages.

The principal entrance was in a workers' section called Moldavanka, in an adandoned quarry to a bomb-wrecked house.

About 200 yards away was a secret entrance, a wooden ladder leading down a tunnel from the kitchen of a worker's home at 82 Kartamishkaya—an address known to all partisans but never learned by the enemy until two days before they evacuated. Then they sent 200 soldiers to attack the district with rifle and machinegun fire.

Partisans Gave Battle

The partisans, hearing the noise, sallied from their secret entrance and gave battle. One woman resident was killed and a six-months-old child was bayoneted to death. The Germans set fire to houses near the opening but never attempted to enter. The entrance was intact when I entered today.

An old woman who brushed the rubble off a rusty iron sheet over the entrance suddenly commenced to weep and told Alexander Zholodev, assistant Odessa mayor who was in our party:

"My husband is at the front, my house is burned down and I have no bread." He told her to apply to the city Soviet for relief and she went away wiping her eyes on a blue-checkered apron.

Peter Yelkin, middle-aged and wearing a black suit, said he was keeper of the entrance. He said the password was "I'm a friend of Harry."

At night parties of up to 150 women issued forth to collect food. Other patrols of partisans went out to ambush German soldiers.

The partisans GHQ was another block inside, a small chamber with a wall map of Odessa. Loschenko worked here on a stone block desk. At one side was an ammunition works where "flaming cocktails" to attack the enemy tanks were made from bottles filled with gasoline. Farther on was a prison chamber for Germans, Romanians and Ukrainian traitors.

Perfected in January, 1943

Loschenko said the Partisan organization was perfected in January, 1943, when the front first started to roll back toward Odessa.

"We knew the Germans destroyed all men as they retreated and knew we must prepare for action," he said. "We started getting recruits and organizing.

"We collected money and started a store of food in the catacombs. We got a small mill for flour and a sausage maker. We set up a printing press and renovated the artesian wells inside the caves. We installed radio and even had connections with the Russian front. The print shop turned out pamphlets warning the populace of dangers.

Killed German Patrols

"When the Red army started approaching Nicolaev we went underground. By night we issued, killing German patrols and police. We prevented the Germans from blowing the city up. We cut the wires to mines under the opera house and the piers 1 to 30.

"For two weeks before the Germans left we were rulers of the city by night. Had it not been for us, the Germans would have blown up the water and sewage pipes. We saved the telephone exchange by planting smoke inside so the Germans thought it was already afire and did not put it to the torch."

Germans Fought Each Other

Once the partisans touched off a bitter all-night battle between two German military police battalions, each thinking the other was a partisan force.

He said partisan women bought weapons for their men "in the open market" from the Germans, who, he said, "were even greater speculators than the Romanians." The Germans sold rifles for 50 to 100 marks, pistols for 150 to 200 marks and tommy guns with cartridges for 250 marks. A loaf of bread bought a grenade. The "market place" for the weapons was near the cathedral.

Soldier Loses Hand Protecting Buddies But Hoots Heroics

WITH THE FIRTH ARMY IN ITALY, April 20. (AP)—Pvt. Cody L. Harvey, a tall, slim, taffy-haired rifleman from Jumping Branch, W. Va., expressed astonishment today that others might consider as extraordinary his act of sacrificing his left hand by smothering a grenade to protect his comrades.

Declaring he didn't feel very heroic about it, he said he considered his loss a trifle in comparison with what others have given.

Harvey's battalion was dug in on a hill and he was sharing a foxhole with Pvt. William Maloney of Antonia, Conn.

Maloney said he had just awakened Harvey to stand watch.

"He climberd up by the sandbags surrounding the dugout and I lay down. Then I heard an explosion."

Harvey, taking up the story from his hospital bed, said that he could see several of his battalion all around him in the dark as he climbed the sandbags. He began placing his grenades atop the bags for action.

"I had a grenade in the left pocket of my combat jacket that I'd been carrying for six or seven days," he said.

"I pulled it out with my left hand. There was a small 'pop,' and there I stood with a live grenade in my hand. I was scared. I wanted to get rid of it but ducked down and dropped my hand over the side of a sandbag and off it went."

Harvey said he didn't remember making any comment but Maloney, who leaped from the blankets when he heard the explosion, said:

"Harvey looked at me a full minute before he spoke and then he said: 'A . . . . . grenade went off in my hand.' Then he climbed out and went for help."

Captain Rothman now is stationed in Australia.

Ace Kills Over 40 Nazis On Airfield

LONDON, April 20. (U.P.)—Capt. Richard E. Turner of Bartlesville, Okla., a Ninth Air force Mustang ace, made a one-man bombing and strafing blitz yesterday on an enemy airfield in northern France, killing between 40 and 50 German soldiers trying to reach their anti-aircraft guns.

Turner, who has nine and a half enemy planes destroyed to his credit, was leading his Mustang squadron when mechanical difficulties forced him to dump his bombs. Instead of jettisoning them, he headed for the nearest enemy airfield, dived and dropped the bombs. Then he let loose with his guns on about 100 German soldiers who were running in groups of threes and fours to gun emplacements.

Trotsky Slayer Said Preparing To Escape

MEXICO CITY, April 20 (U.P.)—A signed article in the daily newspaper "Excelsior" today said that Jacques Mornard, (Frank Jackson), who was jailed for slaying the Russian Leader Leon Trotsky four years ago, was preparing to escape the federal district prison.

The story was signed by Luis Spota, Excelsior reporter, and said that Mornard asserted he could have escaped from the prison earlier but was afraid to. "Now, however, Mornard feels he has friends who would protect him, and he may make a break," the story said.

Early conquistadores called the Amazon the "Fresh Water Sea."

Got An Electric Guitar? SPAAF Show Needs One

South Plains Army Air field's "Winged Commando Show," weekly Monday night radio broadcast over KFYO, this week acquired a new guitarist for the small jazz combo which is filling in while SPAAF's "Swing Commando" dance band takes a rest, but there's one catch: No guitar.

The new jive-wise man is Pvt. Ralph Florestana, air crew trainee who played with Alvino Rey's famous band in civilian life. Trouble is, he left his guitar in civilian life too.

So the SPAAF Public Relations office, which produces the radio show, is anxious to obtain the loan of a good guitar, an electric one with an amplifier if possible, for Florestana to use on the show. The telephone number of the SPAAF PRO is Extension 326 at the base 9361.

New York Girls Weren't Interested In Tales About Persia; They Wanted To Learn About Texas, Patient In Oklahoma Hospital Says

CHICKASHA, Okla., April 20 (AP)—What does Persia have that Texas doesn't claim?

Well, extreme heat for one thing, but that isn't the point of a story told by T4 J. T. Walker of Dallas, one of 26 Texans who have just arrived at Borden General hospital here. All had been evacuated to this country from overseas service.

Arriving in New York, Walker, who was injured in October in an ammunition explosion while in service with the Persian Gulf command and who can get around a bit on crutches, was granted a pass to visit the city.

Invited To Dinner

A man walked up to him and inquired if his insigne didn't indicate he had been in Persia. Getting an affirmative answer, the stranger informed the soldier he had been in Persia, "and I wish you would tell my wife how hot it gets there. She won't believe me."

The New Yorker invited Walker to his home for dinner. He was introduced to members of the family and several young women of the neighborhood.

Texas Data Sought

Introducing Walker, the New Yorker commented, "this Texas soldier has been in Persia and I want him to tell you something about that country," to which the young women, in a chorus, replied: "Persia? We don't want to hear about Persia. We want to hear about Texas."

All 26 patients got off the train at Borden General hospital with one thought in mind—visit Texas on the first furlough.

Wife Greets Texan

The wife of Pvt. Clinton F. Hull of Big Spring wan on hand to greet him. "She came in as I had walked up the hall to wait for her," Hull said laughingly. "She didn't see me, so I walked up in back of her and said, 'who are you looking for?' She turned around and just looked at me for a minute. Then she grabbed me and kissed me."

Hill enlisted Nov. 13, 1940, and went overseas in October, 1943. He had been training in the British Isles.

The other Texas patients included: Pvt. James W. Beasley, Corpus Christi; Pvt. Gonzalo E. Alanis, Austin; T/4 Burnett A. Thigpen, Lufkin, and 2nd Lt. Andrew M. Soll, Brownwood.

Smith County Tough On Liquor Violators

TYLER, April 20 (U.P.)—Smith county today held the honor of having cracked down the hardest on violators of the state's local option liquor laws.

Fines of $20,000 and $10,000 plus costs in each case faced a father and son as a result of conviction of liquor violations.

They were the heaviest sentences ever imposed for such offenses in Texas.

The father, E. L. Woodland, also drew a two-year jail term, while he son, R. E. Woodland, was assessed six months in jail.

Church Bells To Toll For Prayer On D-Day

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., April 20. (AP)—When news of the invasion of western Europe is received here historic Trinity Episcopal church will toll its bells summoning residents to prayer, the Rev. Philip M. Styles, rector, announces.

Saying that many Americans would be giving their lives and the day would be a turning point in world history, the clergyman urged that similar D-Day prayer meetings be held throughout the country.

Engineer Dies, Three Hurt In Plane Crash

CLOVIS, N. M., April 20. (AP)—A four-engined bomber, which was being ferried from Walker, Kas., to the Clovis Army Air field, crashed Tuesday night about 20 miles southwest of Corona, N. M., killing the flight engineer and injuring three other members of the crew.

The commandant of the Clovis air base announced the following casualties:

Dead: 2nd Lt. Jerry Degiorgi, flight engineer, Berwyn, Ill.

Seriously injured: 2nd Lt. Clyde H. Council, jr., co-pilot, Washington, D. C.; and Cpl. Leonard A. Martinez, radio operator, Riverside, Calif.

Second Lt. Edward B. Collins, the pilot, Ocala, Fla., suffered minor injuries.

The plane, which was reported lost Tuesday night, was located only yesterday.

Rayburn Isn't Talked Much Outside Of State

DALLAS, April 20 (U.P.)—Although Speaker Sam Rayburn of the House of Representatives was one of the three most mentioned vice-presidential possibilities for the coming campaign, his name isn't heard much outside of Texas, Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic National committee, said yesterday.

Hannegan, queried between flights at Love field, said that Rayburn, Vice-President Henry Wallace and Sen. Harry Truman of Missouri were the most discussed possibilities as a running mate for the Democrats' presidential candidate

KANSAS CITY, April 20. (AP)—For the first time in the memory of Board of Trade leaders Canadian wheat is moving into the Kansas City market in large quantities, with more than 100 carloads destined for livestock feed received here in the last 10 day.

Chicago Tribune Loses Application For New Milwaukee Newspaper

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—The War Production board today rejected an application of the Chicago Tribune for newsprint paper to start a new daily newspaper in Milwaukee, Wis.

In a letter notifying the Chicago Tribune of the refusal, WPB noted that the request was based on the contention that the defeat of Wendell Willkie in the recent Wisconsin primaries was in effect a repudiation by the public of the policies of many existing newspapers in that state, and that a newspaper embodying the standards of the Chicago Tribune would "fill a long-felt want" in Wisconsin.

"These are matters on which the printing and publishing division should not and will not pass judgment one way or the other," said the WPB letter, signed by Arthur R. Treanor, division director.

"HONORING" ADOLF

YESTERDAY was one A. Hitler's 55th birthday and the occasion was celebrated properly at a number of novel parties. We heard about one that featured refreshments of real Russian borscht, Tunis-fish salad, sizzled Frankforts and Hamburg sandwiches made on Italian bread.

Of course a birthday party calls for a cake and so a nutty devil's food cake was baked, iced with white frosting in memory of the Russian winter.

Phonograph recordings of the Rumanian Rhapsody and the Russian Lullaby were played and the games included the old pinning-a-tail-on-the-donkey, except the donkey was a likeness of Hitler, and the object was to pin paper bombs on a map of Germany and the blind-folded person who pinned a bomb on Berlin got the prize.

WAR RACKET

CERTAIN conniving women (and not all of them live hundreds of miles from our fair city, either) are marrying two or more service men in order to collect dependency checks. Its a little matter that is turned over to FBI men to trace down when they are caught.

Recently we read an article about these marriage-minded women in which the writer naively added: "That's bigamy, o' course." We didn't think it was love!

JIVE VS. DELINQUENCY

THE musicians who tolerate those whose favorite music is the jive that floods the air when a juke box is cranked and those who think the style of boogie-woogie music contributes to juvenile delinquency are having themselves a time in defending their stands.

Dr. Artur Rodzinski, conductor of the New York Philharmonic orchestra, claims that jive music leads to war degeneracy; that already the homes are broken as a result of the family head serving in the service and a lack of parental supervision resulting. "There is no need for swing with such beautiful compositions as Strauss waltzes to provide dance tempo," he suggest...

• • •

LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI long noted for his interest in youth, answers this broadside with the suggestion that in every country a relatively small class of children haven't had a good start in life, but music cannot be blamed for this. Music, and he seems to mean whether music is popular or classical, will lead a young person in the direction of healthy imagination and enthusiasm, he suggests. Anyone influenced by music isn't going to engage in criminal deeds.

Frank Sinatra admits he hasn't any idea what causes juvenile delinquency but he doesn't think anyone can prove that popular music is one of them.

Although we don't particularly care for loud boogie-woogie records (especially if we are trying to converse with a dinner partner in a spot where enthusiastic nickel possessors are jumping up constantly to feed the player) we think there is as much need for swing as there is for a Strauss waltz, mainly because there are so many people who aren't interested in the latter and don't intend to develop an appreciation for it. If hearing boogie-woogie makes them happy, why not let them hear boogie-woogie?

It's much the same as trying to encourage a paper-backed novel-reading young woman to turn to the classics. She won't do it and if she suddenly picked the books up she couldn't understand them and it would be much as if one ate a lot of food he couldn't digest.

We have never seen any harm in allowing people to have their choice in music, especially as long as the compositions by the masters are available. And did we ever think we would be stringing along with The Voice?

Ouster Of Ickes Demanded And Crude Cartels Flayed

NEW YORK, April 20. (U.P.) — James A. Moffett, former oil executive, today renewed his demand for the ouster of Harold L. Ickes as petroleum administrator for war, and attacked British interference in the operation of the American oil industry.

His statements were made at a press conference here, at which he also belittled Ickes' claim of an oil shortage on the eastern seaboard, and urged immediate elimination of rationing on this coast.

Referring to the recent arrival of a mission of British oil men for conferences in Washington, Moffett said that construction of a pipeline in Arabia would be "shameful to the United States of America."

Called Disgraceful Cartel

Ickes, by his support of this project, the former oil man declared, "is supporting a disgraceful cartel against freedom of action of any American oil companies in foreign markets in violation through his foreign oil committee of every law of the United States government, the Sherman act, the Clayton act, and it has been forced through intimidation upon the American oil industry."

Moffett said it was "shameful that the American ship owners are required to pay twice as much for fuel oil to the British government when our ships are moving war supplies to the Persian gulf to aid our Allies."

Offered For 40, Pay 90

He explained that American companies at Bahrein had offered to sell fuel oil to American vessels at a base price of 40 cents a barrels, but because of cartel agreements, this nation's ships were paying a base price close to 90 cents a barrel to the British.

British inefficiency of operation in 1941, Moffett charged, "denuded our oil tanker fleet and endangered our battle fleet in the Pacific ocean." However, he added, these ships fortunately were returned a few weeks prior to the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Speaking as an American citizen and not a representative of any petroleum company, Moffett declared:

Should Remove Ickes

"Surely the petroleum coordinator, president of the Petroleum Reserve corporation, should be removed from his office with his entire incompetent staff, and the American petroleum industry should be permitted to run the business in the interest of our war effort, without control or interference of the British oil companies."

In calling for elimination of oil rationing, Moffett contended there was no shortage of gasoline on the Atlantic seaboard, despite PAW's estimates.

"How can there be a shortage when in 1940, prior to war, we had 84,000,000 barrels of gasoline," he asked. "The other day, according to the bureau of mines, after being in the war 2¼ years, we had 89,000,000 barrels. I know in March that 19 new tank steamers were launched, or nearly two-thirds of a tanker per day."

Should Be Up To People

The problem of conserving gasoline and oil should be left to the industry and the American public, he declared, pointing to the good job done in the last war by the establishment of gasless Sundays.

Moffett also urged higher prices for crude oil on the grounds that "the independent oil producer should receive a price for crude oil which would justify him a decent margin of profit and help him to continue his pioneering or wildcat effort."

Littlefield Firemen Lauded For Efforts

W. E. Twitty, Lubbock fire chief, praised the volunteer fire department of Littlefield Thursday by saying: "Their department may be a volunteer outfit, but they can fight fire with the best." This tribute came as result of a dangerous blaze extinguished by Littlefield firemen Thursday morning.

Lubbock firemen rolled into Littlefield in the chief's car and one pumper equipped with a foam generator, fog nozzles and a deluge set, prepared to have "plenty of trouble." A great gasoline transport truck had exploded next the tanks of the Texas company's wholesale station in East Littlefield.

"But the fire was out. The Littlefield firemen, without even a fog nozzle, had stayed close to the fire with their one pumper and, even when one man was slightly burned, refused to back off. Say this for them: They have nerve. We were doubly glad the fire was out. It was dangerous to fight.

"We didn't get the injured man's name; he wouldn't stop work long enough to run him down and ask."

Twitty said six tires were burned from the truck and that the dock of the gasoline station was damaged.

Holstein Group Will Meet Here Monday

A district meeting of the Holstein-Friesian association of Texas will be held in the Lubbock hotel Monday, April 24, according to W. L. Stangel, professor of animal husbandry at Texas Technological college and president of the association.

Talks will be given by Stangel, O. W. Thompson of College Station, G. C. Gibson of Waco, and a fieldman of the association, followed by judging and herd classification and a visit to Texas Technological college herd.

Other meetings to be held next week are at Arlington, Wednesday, and Paris, Thursday.

Austin Takes Over Tax Collector's Job

Harvey Austin, who has been connected with tax departments for the county and at Slaton for the past 19 years, assumed duties as city tax assessor-collector here Thursday morning.

He succeeds V. R. Plummer, city assessor-collector since August, 1939, who resigned recently to take advantage of other more profitable opportunities. Plummer is to work with Austin a few days, until the new official familiarizes himself with the duties of his new office.

Austin was in the county tax office nine years, and was chief deputy to Assessor-Collector H. B. Bryan when he resigned to accept the city position. For 10 years previously, he was assessor-collector in Slaton.

MacArthurites Set Back In California

SAN FRANCISCO, April 29 (AP)—The state supreme court today denied, without comment, a petition by MacArthur-for-president backers to force California county clerks to provide a special write-in space on the primary election ballot.

The petition was filed by Allen H. Worchester and John MacLoughlin of Los Angeles, who stated they wished to vote for Republican delegates pledged to Gen. Douglas MacArthur. Their petition, taken directly to the supreme court, said the names of a MacArthur delegation was filed with the secretary of state March 11, but that it was not qualified, through lack of names. They contended that space should be provided on the ballot for write-ins.

The petition added there were 1,750,000 registered Republicans in California and that the petitioners believed a majority would vote for the southwest Pacific commander.

Water Line Here Approved By WPB

Announcement was made at city hall Thursday that the War Production board had approved priorities for materials with which to build a 16-inch water line serving the southwest portion of the city.

City officials added that they now are in search of the materials, and are hopeful that the line may be built in time to be of some service during the peak of the summer water demand in an area where pressure has been low at times.

Inquiries indicate that delivery of the materials may be obtained within about three weeks and that actual construction can be finished within about six weeks after the start. This information encouraged the hope that the line might be in service early in July.

The line is to be built from a city reservoir north of Texas Technological college across the campus to the southwest residential area. Estimated cost is approximately $38,000.

Visiting Kiwanians Speak At Luncheon

Four Stinnett Kiwanians were special guests at the Lubbock Kiwanis club luncheon Thursday noon in the Lubbock hotel. They were Fred Kelly, Lt. Governor of the sixth district; Bill Robinson, secretary of the Stinnett club; Homer Franklin, past president of that club; and W. R. Goodwin, present president.

Goodwin was the principal speaker of the occasion, speaking on the Kiwanis slogan "Keep His America American." A veteran of the first world war, he said little did he know when he received his discharge a quarter of a century ago that he would have two sons fighting on two battlefronts of another great conflict.

"Our boys will face the same problems we faced when they return home. It is up to the civic clubs of this nation to see that jobs are provided for these boys who are offering their lives on the altar of freedom.

James B. Reilly, representative of Rotary International of California, who is in Lubbock to attend the district Rotary conference Sunday and Monday, spoke briefly.

Jury Being Picked In Sedition Trial

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—After being embroiled for four days in legal sparring and other technicalities, the trial of 30 persons on seditious conspiracy charges reached the jury picking stage today.

Mrs. Minnie Kreuter Adamanson, a Washington housewife and one of 16 women on the panel of 18 prospective jurors brought into the small courtroom, was rejected after telling the court she would be prejudiced if any of the defendants were shown to have been members of the German-American bund.

The thirty are charged with conspiring to cause insubordination within the armed forces.

Full Ownership Of Leased Hemisphere Bases Is Urged

By TOM REEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—A congressional committee recommended today that the United States seek permanent ownership of a bristling ring of western hemisphere defense bases leased from Britain in a wartime swap for 50 destroyers.

A $130,000,000 American investment has converted the bases into towers of armament which should become permanent bastions to defend this hemisphere from attack, the committee said.

Chairman Hebert (D-La) of the naval subcommittee suggested something be worked out, perhaps in exchange for Britain's lend-lease obligations, to give the United States full title to the bases which now are held on a 99-year-lease.

Committee Findings

The report, signed also by Representatives Cole (R-NY) and Hess (R-Ohio), found:

1—That there is room for naval cutbacks in the Caribbean area, no longer a U-boat hotbed.

2—Friendly South American nations should have access to surplus U. S. vessels after the war on a lease arrangement without America giving up the titles, rather than allow the ships to deteriorate or be scrapped.

3—Uniformed personnel be taken out of Brazil as soon as possible and replaced by civilians, where practicable.

The committee found fault with facilities in Puerto Rico, saying the Navy built "one of the world's largest gruving docks," at Roosevelt Roads but there is "no work to justify its construction."

Further Study Urged

A further study of the entire Caribbean area because of substantially altered requirements should be made, the report said.

Trinidad's natural harbor was described as an idea base for the Atlantic fleet and more use of Guantanamo bay in Cuba should be made, the committee added. Hebert revealed the Navy has built a 250-bed hospital there entirely underground.

It was recommended that the Navy work hand in glove with Brazil to develop its fleet, and that Pan-American youths be encouraged to enlist in the U. S. Naval academy at Annapolis.

If Brazil had not cooperated in the naval base operations, the report said, the African invasion might have been delayed two years.

14 Missing After Flying Boat Lost

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Loss of a big Navy flying boat at sea in the Caribbean area was announced by the Navy today which reported 14 of the crew and passengers were missing.

The Catalina flying boat crashed at sea April 6 "while on a routine flight" the Navy said.

Fourteen survivors and the body of one member of the crew were picked up by a merchant vessel the following day.

The Navy reported that a wide search failed to reveal any trace of 14 missing persons who were aboard the plane.

The next of kin of all casualties have been notified.

Pilots returning to their Solomons bases from the Rabaul assault reported meeting the most intense anti-aircraft fire ever encountered over that base.

Three other American planes were lost during sweeps over northern Bougainville island in the Solomons and at Buka, off the north coast of Bougainville.

Allied attack planes and fighters swept the northern New Guinea coast from Wadke island southeast to the Madang area, Wednesday, setting fire to a small enemy freighter and damaging another, and destroying a small tanker and five loaded barges. Ten gun positions were silenced.

Dutch-manned Mitchell medium bombers attacked enemy installations in Dutch Timor, bombing Soe village and leaving fires visible 50 miles.

Maverick Pleads For Smaller War Plants

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Maury Maverick, head of the Smaller War Plants corporation, contended today that small business should not be required to wait for bigger competitors to enter civilian production.

Appearing before a Senate military subcommittee considering war contract termination and reconversion, Maverick said small manufacturers were discriminated against by "force of circumstances" in the beginning of the war effort. He urged that every practical measure to protect small concerns be adopted for the "difficult days ahead."

Negro Case Motion

ment entered the case as an intevenor when it reached the Supreme court after Lonnie E. Smith, Harris county negro, appealed lower court decisions against his participation in a party primary election. Smith sued Harris county precinct election judges.

Sellers admitted that statutes operate to regulate party primary elections and declared "it is equally true that under the constitution and decisions in Texas, all primary elections are conducted by party officials at party expense and that the state can say not one word with respect to the persons who are entitled to participate in such elections."

Other Institutions Cited

The attorney general noted that Texas and other states impose regulations on other non-governmental elections such as those of banks, insurance companies and other private associations, and the purpose, he added, is to protect the whole of the population from improper actions on the part of a few.

"Strange indeed is a doctrine which transforms a private association (the Democratic state party) into a state agency merely because the police powers of the state are applicable to such associaticn," he said.

MARKET IN QUIET RECOVERY

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Rails, oils and assorted industrials led the stock market on a quiet recovery swing today with favorites adding fractions to a point or more.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 51. Breadth was lacking, only 848 issues appearing against 912 yesterday. Transfers totaled 533,740 shares compared with 904,395 Wednesday.

Atlantic Refining's first quarter statement cheered holders of petroleums and this stock was ahead 1 1/8. General Motors' proposal to retire 784,406 comman shares acquired in the Yellow Truck and Coach Co. acquisition benefitted this leader.

Prominent on the upside were Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Great Northern, Standard Oil (NJ), Texas Co., Chrysler, Goodyear, U. S. Steel, Sears Roebuck, Oliver Farm, United Aircraft, American Airlines, International Telephone and J. C. Penney.

Railway bonds paced a selective advance in the loans department.

In the curb Darby Petroleum jumped 4 1/2 points. Lesser gains were posted for Electric Bond and Share.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Cotton futures prices held today with an extreme range of 80 cents a bale and closed 15 cents higher to down 8 cents.

Business was restricted by withdrawal of professional traders pending expected important military developments in Europe. Mill price fixing furnished the principal support but the spinners showed only a small interest in spot cotton as they awaited developments in the drive for higher textile wages in the south.

different meaning to Aggies since the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor that enveloped the Lone Star state and the rest of the world in a fire that won't go out until the aggressors are extinguished.

General Houston, himself wounded, talked calmly with General Santa Anna when he was brought to him after the dust of the battle-ground had settled. He spared the "Napoleon of the West," while today the United Nations have promised to the world that those responsible for World war II must be punished for their sins.

It's a different world, a different war—a war in which the guilty must pay for the suffering they have caused humanity.

San Jacinto day, 1944, finds Texans—heroes of the 36th at Salerno, on other battlefields and on the home front—united in that one purpose. The enemy and his cause must die.

Texans Are Awarded Oak Leaf Clusters

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The War department announced today award of the first bronze Oak Leaf cluster to the Distinguished Flying cross to Capt. Thomas B. McGuire, jr., of San Antonio, and Capt. John T. Rundell, jr., Wichita Falls, Tex.

The announcement said the Texans were in a group of 27 officers and one enlisted man of the Fifth Air force who received either the DFC or the bronze Oak Leaf cluster to that medal and that each of them had shot down two Japanese aircraft on a single mission.

Labor Draft Plea

and representatives of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and the Association of American Railroads.

They sketched a foreboding picture of the nation's manpower situation.

They urged a "war work service act" providing voluntary recruitment of labor for draft-stricken war plants, then said:

"In case sufficient volunteers do not appear in answer to the call, then the national service principle must be invoked to supply the essential need. That is our judgment. It is based upon facts."

Differs From Bill

The military leaders said "legislation of universal application is not, in our opinion, necessary"—but they did not set out how today's recommendations would differ from the Austin-Wadsworth bills providing registration of practically all men and women as possible labor-draft recruits.

Senator Austin (R-Vt) who sat in on the conferences, said he understood they were talking about his bill.

The Stimson-Knox-Land statement gave this detail of war industries and their manpower needs:

Aircraft plants and shipyards need 200,000 workers above the men they will lose to military service.

Navy yards will need 5,000 more men for submarine construction alone.

Synthetic rubber, 19,000 more workers; radio and radar 30,000; aviation gasoline 4,000.

Opposition Statements

Shortly after the Stimson-Knox-Land statement came out, the National Association of Manufacturers issued a statement reiterating its opposition to national service legislation "because it believes that compulsion of labor would be disastrous to production."

The United States Chamber of Commerce also issued a statement declaring a labor draft "would cause complications which might actually retard rather than advance the war program." The chamber is on record opposing national service legislation.

To handle the 4-F's, the House committee mapped out this program:

All 4-F's should be reclassified, those holding listed essential jobs being given occupational deferment rating and required to obtain draft board approval before changing jobs; those not in essential work be required to notify their draft boards of willingness to work; those failing to give such notification or to accept jobs when offered, be immediately inducted into non-combat units of the Army and the Navy.

Could Use The Brackets

Should this procedure fail to ease the manpower situation, the committee said, it should be applied later to men already discharged from the armed service and men between 38 and 45.

While the War department has "indicated an unwillingness" to adopt the committee's recommendations, the report commented, "the authority to do so still remains and the committee takes the position that until it is pointed out wherein the laws which have already been enacted . . . are shown to be inadequate, further legislation is not necessary."

More than 90 per cent of the Army's paper requirements during the past year were met by "coarse" grades made largely of waste paper.

WLB Word Awaited In Balk Of Miners

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Uninterrupted production in the troubled soft coal fields appeared to hinge directly today on a speedy decision by the War Labor board on demands by the United Mine workers for $40 in retroactive pay for each miner.

The prospect of a new crisis was raised sharply late yesterday when coal Administrator Harold L. Ickes said he was without legal authority to grant the demand. UMW President John L. Lewis appealed to Ickes after charging that the WLB and bituminous operators were "conspiring to defraud" his miners of $18,000,000 assertedly due them in retroactive settlement of their portal-to-portal wage claims for April, May and June, 1943.

Army Pitches Into London Bus Strike

LONDON, April 20 (AP)—The British Army commandeered buses and put its own trucks into operation tonight to get Londoners home from work in the face of a strike of bus drivers and conductors, and the move resulted in the immediate protest walkout of approximately 700 more regular operators.

More than 2,000 in all were out tonight, the original strikers having quit yesterday in protest against new summer schedules which they said spread their hours over too long a period. The union issued a back-to-work call.

Three hundred strikers from three routes voted to resume work Friday but there was no indication of a general return.

Stern Warning Issued Medicos

FORT WORTH, April 20 (AP)—While America is fighting for the four freedoms overseas, the freedom of thought and action of the American medical profession is threatened at home by state socialization of medicine, Dr. C. S. Venable of San Antonio, president of the state medical association of Texas warned its sectional meeting here tonight.

Medical men, he cautioned, obviously cannot combat the government socialization threatened by the Wagner-Murray-Dingell bill "by vituperation and by speeches against socialized medicine."

"They must meet the threat by improving their position with the public nd development of better hospitalization and medical care," he advised.

Mus. Solve Problem

While industry has built bigger and better factories and the price of labor has advanced in proportion to outpu', he said, it is not fair to demand of the doctor that he increase his product at a lower cost "but regardless of that, it is our job to meet and solve the problem," he asserted.

He promised that action would be forthcoming at the "house of delegates" session called for May 10-11 in Dallas, and said committees would report at that time on the question of hospitalization—"the greatest bottleneck."

Lack of equipment and its availabilit and the lack of proper space for patients, Dr. Venable emphasized, "creates a challenge that nust be met."

Referring to the accomplishments of American medicine in the last fifty years, he asserted it had increased the life expectancy in the United States from 34 to 66 years.

Air Vets Gathered For Invasion Drive

A U. S. MARAUDER BASE IN ENGLAND, April 20 (AP)—The U. S. Army Air forces have marshalled air war veterans of four theaters for the pre-invasion campaign of softening up the continental coast and they already are heard at work.

From the group at this one-base—commanded by Col. Richard I. Coiner, jr., San Antonio, —experienced fliers and gunners from the South Pacific, Alaskan and North African as well as European theaters thundered out today in swift Marauder medium bombers to join in the Day's assault on German installations in northern France.

One pilot who "sweated them out" on the ground today, but who is still flying regular missions, was Capt. Robert C. Fry of Abilene, Texas, a veteran of the first Marauder raid made from Britain a year ago.

Stassen Is Reported Rescued From Sea

MADISON, Wis., April 20. (AP)—A Wisconsin sailor in letters home has described the rescue at sea of an officer he identified as Lt. Comdr. Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and Republican presidential possibility.

At South St. Paul, Mrs. Stassen said she had heard nothing directly from her husband about such a rescue but that she had "heard from other sources something about it."

William Bormett, a sound man on a subchaser, wrote:

"Just a few weeks ago we were patrolling in front of an island when somebody saw a small boat ahead. We took the passengers aboard and one of them was Stassen."

Stassen, who resigned as governor of Minnesota to enter the Navy, has been serving as a flag officer in Adm. William F. Halsey's South Pacific fleet.

Regulations On Milk Sales To Be Relaxed

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—Government restrictions on consumer milk sales will be relaxed somewhat during May and June to assure full utilization of a seasonal increase in milk production.

The War Food administration announced today that dealer quotas on sales of cream and milk by-products—such as chocolate milk drinks, buttermilk, cottage cheese—to civilians will be increased during those months from 75 per cent of June, 1943, sales to 100 per cent of such sales.

Dealer quotas on fluid milk will continue to be limited to 100 per cent of June, 1943, sales.

Speech Department At Tech Scores With Spring Play

Texas Technological college's speech department again qualified itself as a leader in the field of dramatics through its presentation last night of the highly dramatic "Letters to Lucerne," a three-act play showing the strife between ten age girls of various countries during this war at a school for girls in Lucerne, Switzerland.

The play was attended by approximately 900 people, and 254 high school seniors from neighboring towns, who were guests Thursday of Tech's speech department and student council. The high school seniors, directed by the Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity and the student council, were shown facilities of Texas Tech Thursday afternoon.

Marguerite Nobles, veteran of Tech dramatics, portrayed the kind, understanding middle-aged woman, Mrs. Hunter, who owned the aristocratic school for girls. Another outstanding portrayal was that of the German girl, Erma Schmidt, acted by Louise Ince. Her reading of the letter about her brother, Hans, who had crash-dived his plane over Warsaw, Poland, so that he would not have to bomb it, brought a dramatic climax to the play.

The play was directed by Miss Helene Blattner, speech professor at Tech. Characters in the play spoke accents faintly of their countries, giving the desired atmosphere to the European school. Portrayals wonderfully acted were given by Tech students Jane Wilson, Lois Chambliss, Jodi Wofford, Maxine Hennersdord, Anita Hale, Mary Findley, Mary Mixon, Fae Beth Hill and Marion Curwood.

Ford Plants Cut Worker Agreement

WINDSOR, Ont., April 20 (AP)—The Ford Motor company today gave notice of the termination of its collective bargaining agreement with local 200 of the United Automobile Workers of America after a mass work stoppage by workers at the giant war plant which employs more than 15,000.

Company officials denied a union report that the plant's gates were locked against the employes. A union spokesman had first described the stoppage as a "half holiday" to discuss a dispute over grievance procedure but later, following the report of the company had closed the gates, union officials had termed it a lockout.

Victims Of Glider Crash Announced

Two enlisted men were killed in a glider crash at South Plains Army Air field Wednesday afternoon, according to an announcement Thursday by Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer. Those killed were S/Sgt. Edward M. Dazey, jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Dazey, sr., of Beloit, Wisc., and S/Sgt. Tunis H. Craig, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul E. Craig of Rock Island, Ill.

The crash occurred at the field in a routine training flight. No other details were revealed.

Col. DeMarco said a board of officers had been appointed to investigate the accident.

Mystery Blast Kills 43, Many Are Hurt

STOCKHOLM, April 20 (AP)—A heavy explosion from an unknown cause at Skoltergrunn quay in the Norwegian city of Bergen today killed 43 persons and injured several times that number, the Scandinavian Telegraph bureau reported tonight in a dispatch from Oslo.

The Bergen steamship offices were said to have been destroyed and the Nordenfjeldske Steamship company offices badly damaged. The 13th century Haakon hall in Bergen castle also was damaged.

The Swedish Telegraph agency quoted German officials in Norway as saying that sabotage was responsible for the explosion.

Police Seek Killers Of Two Calves Here

Police Thursday night continued their efforts to find the person, or persons, responsible for the slashing to death of two young calves at a feed lot at Fifteenth street and Avenue C. The calves belonged to Jack Atkins.

Ralph Goldwater, patrolman who investigated, made this report:

"Somebody had taken a heavy knife and cut completely through the backbone of one calf, and had stabbed and cut the other through the heart. He left them lying there after running several other calves through a fence and causing them to injure themselves seriously.

"Then the killer turned on the water and left it running. The place was flooded.

"A drunk or a maniac or someone in a vengeful mood—take your choice; we don't know what's behind it. Atkins said he didn't have the slightest idea what it was about."

Colonel Has Charmed Life, War Just Great Adventure

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, April 14. (Delayed) (AP) — The colonel cocked the helmet on his gray streaked head, wearing it like a crown. He buckled his pistol belt snugly around his waist then snapped erect, more than six feet of fifty-year old soldier, still lean, flat-bellied and fit—a fine figure of the fighting man.

DIXON

"He's quite a guy," the sergeant driving the jeep had said with gentle sarcasm a few minutes before. "It's all a great game to him, salutes and silver stars and danger and tradition and comradeship. But you gotta admit he's a good officer in spite of all his GI nonsense."

But now the colonel was coming out to the jeep ready to visit some of his units near the front. He wore a canteen, pistol, knife and first aid bag as though they were moulded to him. His combat boots shone and his words were as clipped as his mustache when he answered questions, driving along the shellmarked road.

Harvard Men All Right

"Yes, I'm a Yale man," he admitted, "but I get along fine with Harvard men. Fought right beside some of them in the last war. Fine men."

I hastily assured him I wasn't a Harvard man—product of teachers college myself.

"Know some fine men from teachers colleges, too," said the colonel kindly.

"It wouldn't make any difference if you were from Harvard," grinned the sergeant, "the colonel's very broad-minded about Harvard men. Considers them co-belligerents, so to speak. Says we're all in this together. Don't you, sir?"

Last War Recalled

"Well, you might put it that way, sergeant," smiled the colonel. Then turning to me he explained, "the sergeant likes to kid me about Yale. That reminds me—and this will interest you—when they shipped us across the channel from England in the last war it was on the "Harvard" and "Yale." Two boats from the old James River line. unusual coincidence, I thought."

We stopped at a little bivouac area and a group of the colonel's "boys" sprang to their feet and saluted They were dirty and tired but they stayed tense, erect, as long as the jeep was there.

"Good discipline," said the colonel as we drove on. "It's important, like tradition. You know what make sthe British such good fighting men? Tradition, that's all."

As we passed a little cemetery where several newly-slain soldiers lay in coffins awaiting burial, he commented on how the grave registry service had improved since the last war. "Hardly an unknown soldier this time," he said.

Shells No Bother

Finally we stopped in a little gully where the colonel was to visit one of his junior officers. A couple of shells landed nearby. A few soldiers hit the dirt. The colonel's breath exploded in a challenging "hah" as he stepped out of the jeep, straightened up and strode directly toward the tent, ignoring the shells.

Said the sergeant: "He's been in two wars and never felt either of them. Just great adventures. War never touches him — probably never will. Even if he gets killed he'll die without knowing what war is."

Objector In Navy Upheld By Court

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—The U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled today a selective service registrant is entitled to classification as a conscientious objector because of "humanitarian considerations" regardless of "any obligations to a deity or supernatural power."

The decision reversed the federal court of the western district of New York state, which had refused a writ of habeas corpus to Frederick U. Reel, 27, an apprentice seaman in the Navy. Reel sought the writ to gain release from custody of his commanding officer.

The seaman was inducted after a hearing officer for the department of justice upheld a draft board which had classified Reel 1-A.

The circuit court sent the case back to the lower court with instructions "to proceed in conformity with this opinion."

One Of Top European Aces Stated Missing

AN AMERICAN FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, April 20 (AP)—Capt. Duane W. Beeson, 22, a Mustang fighter pilot who was one of America's leading aces in the European theater, has been missing in action since an April 5 sweep against Berlin area airdromes, it was disclosed today.

Beeson had 21 planes to his credit, 16 in the air and five on the ground, when he went on his last mission. His comrades said he bagged another in the air and one on the ground before he went down.

Beeson, whose home was Boise, Idaho, was an RAF Eagle squadron veteran who transferred to the U .S. Army Air forces.

Prosecutors had summoned as witnesses the divorced wife of one of the 34 defendants and two women who said they had lived as polygamous wives of cult members.

With the preliminary hearings waived, City Judge E G. Foxley ordered the case sent to district court.

Brooklyn Pros Draft Calahan

PHILADELPHIA, April 20. — Pete Cawthon, former grid mentor of Texas Tech and now leading the "brain trust" of the Brooklyn Dodgers in the National Football league, went back to the Texas Tech days of his career to pluck J. R. Callahan off the pro draft tree.

A partial list of the drafted players announced today by the Associated Press revealed that the Brooklyn club had added the name of Callahan and his team mate at Texas last year, Ralph Park.

Callahan played under Cawthon at Texas Tech and will be no stranger to the Brooklyn mentor if—and when—the Wink star decides to turn to the professional ranks.

Callahan is now in the Navy, and certainly will not be available for pro football until after the war. He also has another year of eligibility left with Texas Tech should he decide to take it after the war is over.

After going to Texas university last year in the Naval training program, Callahan went to the Athens, Ga., Pre-Flight school where he graduated as an honor graduate recently.

Others from the Southwest named on the draft lists by the pro teams included:

Chicago Cardinals — Saxon Judd, Tulsa; Paul Blackburn, Rice.

Philadelphia — Joe Parker, Texas.

New York — Clyde Flowers, Texas Christian.

Washington — Harold Fischer, Texas.

Chicago Bears — Abe Croft, Southern Methodist; C. B. Stanley, Tulsa.

Dupre Dogies Nose Out Bean Bronchos

Johnny Tatum, pitching ace of the Dupre Dogies, bested Durwood Murdock, the ace of the Bean Bronchos, in a pitching duel Thursday afternoon, 5 to 4, in a grade school softball game.

Billy Walker was teamed with Murdock as the battery for the losers, and was one of the outstanding players of the game. Malcomb Young handled the pitches from Tatum.

The victory brought the Dogies an even split in the two days after taking a 17-to-9 drubbing from Sanders school the day before. R. J. Metheny pitched the victory for Sanders.

TINY JOINS COWHANDS

Orlando "Tiny" Meyers was on the football field Thursday afternoon for his first gridiron drill, it was revealed yesterday by E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of Lubbock schools.

After a search of the Texas Tech equipment failed to bring to light a pair of football pants large enough for the 283 pound prospective Cowhand, the old football pants worn by Tiny Duval, waterboy of the 1936 Lubbock Westerners, were brought forth, repaired and again went into service.

Many of the prospective first stringers are on the track team, and will take no part in the scrimmage this afternoon.

Coach J. Mule Davis said Thursday night that the scrimmage would get started about 4:15 o'clock.

Probable Starters

A number of last year's Cowhands will see action in the scrimmage today with the squad divided into two teams, the Whites and Blacks.

Indications were that the Whites would start Clinton Benefield and Gerald Davis at ends; Homer Lawson and David Corsey at tackles; Johnny Pearson and Stoney Wall at guards; Charles Pressley at center; Johnny Cole, Bobby Booker, John Paul Jones and Noel Sikes at the backfield posts.

The probable starters for the Blacks will find Robert Collier and Billy Bob Harris at ends; Eldon Giles, and an unnamed man at tackles; O. C. Foster and Bob Crawford at guards; Robert Haley at center; John Trout, George Brewer, Bobby Ketron or Johnny Gamble and T. J. Price in the backfield.

In Good Shape

The squad has been working out a week, and has whipped into pretty good condition for so early in the training season. Most of the interest in the opening scrimmage session will be centered around some changes made in positions by some of the boys.

The main shift has been that of Clinton Benefield from guard to end, and Billy Bob Harris from halfback to end. The loss of ends this season has been a great problem.

Cooper, LeMond Off For Regional Meet

Delbert Cooper and Jerry LeMond, winners in boys doubles in the area meet here with Lamesa, will leave this morning for Canyon where they will enter the regional tennis meet this afternoon.

Drawings for the brackets will be held at Canyon today, so it is not known here just who, or when, the Lubbock pair will go into action.

Lamesa will send players for the boys singles and both doubles and singles in girls. Winners in the county meet at Lubbock, and the Class A winners in the district meet at Denver City will also go into action in the same tournament at Canyon where all classes meet as one.

The winners of this tournament will enter the state tournament in Austin May 4 and 5.

The Lubbock track and field team will go to Canyon Saturday for the regional track meet. Literary events are also scheduled Saturday.

Gridmen Reject Expansion Plan

PHILADELPHIA, April 20 (AP) The National Football League voted against any wartime expansion today. Meeting in executive session after accepting the changes in the professional playing code offered by the rules committee, the league's club owners voted to table for the duration applications for franchises and instructed Commissioner Elmer Layden to return the $25,000 forfeit checks to the applicants.

Franchise bids had been received from Capt. Ernie Nevers of the Marines and Anthony Morabito, both of whom wished to place clubs in San Francisco; Abe Wattner of Baltimore, Sam Cordovano of Buffalo, and a Los Angeles applicant who requested that his name should not be mentioned if his bid was not accepted.

Layden explained that this action was taken because the club owners could not decide in what direction they wanted to move and because, in view of the manpower shortage and transportation conditions, they did not believe they should act hastily.

By tabling the applications, which can be revive at any time the league desires, the way was left open for future expansion to the West Coast.

By passing unanimously all the rules changes offered by the committee, the National League virtually eliminated out-of-bounds kickoffs and legalized, as a one-season experiment, the not-uncommon practice of coaching from the bench.

Hunt Pioneers Pound K. Carter Softballers

The Hunt Pinoeers unlimbered their long range artillery to shell the K. Carter Coyotes Thursday afternoon and win a grade school softball game, 27 to 5.

Wayne Stroud did the pitching for the Pioneers and coasted through to victory behind the comfortable lead. Gene Roberts did the catching.

Billy Charles Maupin contributed two home runs to the barrage while Gene Roberts also connected for a round trip blow.

TORRES GOES ABROAD

MEXICO CITY, April 20 (AP) — Ricardo Torres, one of the top Mexican bullfighters, left here by plane yesterday for Lisbon, where he will take part in ten bullfights, alternating with the Spanish star "Manolete." His itinerary will take him through Brownsville, Washington and Philadelphia.

ALFALFA LAND
10% Guaranteed For 3 Years

800 Acres located 20 miles southeast of Eagle Pass; 2 miles southeast of El Indio. One-quarter mile from paved highway, facing gravel road and irrigating canal for two miles. The water comes out of the Rio Grande by gravity. 600 acres of this land is rich farming land. Will put it in cultivation and under irrigation and sell the farming land for $75 per acre, and give the purchaser the grazing land. It should be worth $2000. $10 per acre will put the necessary improvements to rent it to good farmers. Then, I will guarantee to rent it for $10 per acre, per year, for three years, cash rent, in advance for each year. The crop rent should average for the next three years over $30 per acre in either winter vegetables or alfalfa. 300 to 400 acres is real alfalfa land. The soil is very deep—known as Alluvial soil. This will produce from six to seven cuttings of alfalfa hay per year. Will make from eight to ten tons per year. The last 10 years in this territory alfalfa has averaged over $16 per ton. The last three years over $25 per ton. One of my renters on 900 acres of land near this land, made last year about 600 bushels of onions per acre; about 375 bushels of spinach per acre, and on 200 acres of the land after he took the spinach off, averaged over one bale of cotton per acre—at least that is what the manager of the renter told me in a letter.
The reason land is cheap in this territory is because there is a lot of land not yet in cultivation. Based on the income, if land is worth what it is selling for in Lubbock territory, this land is worth $300 per acre in cultivation, under irrigation. It is located in a fisherman and hunterman's paradise, and is one of the best winter climates in the United States. One of the best winter vegetable countries. Water seeks its level, and land values will also. Land that pays over 6% net for 10 years on a rental basis will go up in value and under that will go down in value. Based on the past three years of crop rental basis, similar land nearby has averaged over $30 per acre, which is over 35% interest on $85 per acre, the cost of the land, and improving it, in addition to 200 acres of grazing land given free.
Will sell on liberal terms and guarantee this as represented, or will pay you for all expenses of looking at land and a salary of $10 per day while you are gone to look at it. Will refer you to Mr. W. P. Martin, the developer of the Martin maize. If you want to buy this land you will have to act immediately.
I will be at the Plaza Hotel, San Antonian, for the next nine o rten days. Will show you the land from San Antonio in an automobile. Telephone or wire me if you are interested in making an investment that will pay you big interest on your money, and land that will double in value in a short time. Write for 64-page booklet, containing proof.

600 Acres located 20 miles southeast of Uvalde; 100 miles southwest of San Antonio, facing paved highway for three-fourths of a mile. Near Batesville. Every acre first class Alluvial soil 15 to 25 feet deep, and looks as level as a floor with a fall of about ten feet per mile. Two farmers nearby have averaged over $150 per acre per year, net, raising vegetables for the past several years. This soil will produce from 8 to 10 tons of alfalfa hay per acre per year. On a crop rental basis it will pay 8% interest on over $300 per acre, per year. Will put it in cultivation and under irrigation for $100 per acre. Located in fisherman's and hunter's paradise.
Will rent for $10 per acre per year, cash rent in advance. Will guarantee for three years to pay that amount.

3 Keys to HIGH EGG PRODUCTION

1. Buy Good Chicks
2. Practice Good Management
3. Feed Stanton's Manamar Chick Starter

Most poultry authorities agree that profitable poultry raising depends largely on three important factors . . . good chicks, good management and good feed. Our job is to produce good feed that will combine with your good chicks and good management to get your flocks off to a flying start on the road to high production and profit. We have just such a feed in Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. Sabang Blow Serves Notice Of Two-Front War In South

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Matching the deepening American-Australian challenge to Japanese sea and land conquest in the Pacific the first significant Allied blow by the southeastern Asia command has been struck across the Bay of Bengal, falling on Sabang, the island off the northwest top of Sumatra.

Delivered by carrier-based planes of the now powerful sea arm of Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's forces, it was preceded by an American long range bombers on Port Blair in the southern Andaman islands off the coast of the Malay peninsula to the north. These strokes apparently caught the enemy by surprise. They definitely served to put Tokyo on notice, however, that it is confronted with developing two-front sea-air warfare at the southern end of the Nipponese China sea conquest zone tending to force a division of dwindling Japanese sea and air power to guard both east and west approaches to that sea. The Sabang attack completes the ultimate challenge of the Allied sea power to Japan long ago foretold by Prime Minister Churchill and helps make clearer developments in Burma and in eastern China indicating Japanese counter strategy. Nor can it be seriously doubted that Allied leadership is more concerned over recent enemy moves in eastern China than with the diversionary Nipponese invasion of India from northern Burma that seems virtually to have run its course.

SIMPSON

A three-pronged Japanese drive in the Chungmow-Chengchow region in eastern Honan, aimed at clearing the Peiping-Hankow railroad, is reported from Chungking. It implies a new Japanese attempt to seize complete control of the great north-south communications artery across eastern China from Canton to Chengchow. Chinese forces hold two wide stretches of the parallel rail and road system, one above and one below Hankow, from which the Japanese have never been able to dislodge them.

The obvious Japanese purpose is to bar all China east of the Canton-Hankow-Chengchow line to Allied use for advance air bases from which to strike at Formosa, at vital Japanese traffic in the South China sea, at the Philippines and at Japan's own industrial centers at relatively close range. The Japanese hold only segments of eastern China now and the Allied campaign in northern Burma to open the Ledo road from India to China as a supply route for American China-based bombers is evidently giving Tokyo concern.

A bomber can carry 1,500 magnesium incendiaries, the War Department reports.

Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Bake A Cake For A Service Man

Since eggs are in abundance this time of the year, now is the time to bake cakes to send to men in the service. Following are three proven recipes:

De Luxe Angel Food

1½ cups of egg whites (12 to 14 eggs)
½ teaspoon of salt
1½ teaspoons cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond extract
1½ cups granulated sugar
1 cup of sifted cake flour

Sift flour and ½ cup of sugar together four times. Sprinkle salt cream of tartar, and flavoring over whites placed in a large bowl. Beat whites to a course foam. Then begin adding remaining sugar, 1 cup, in two tablespoon portions, sprinkling it over the surface of the whites. Beat each portion in gently. The batter at this stage should be moist, glossy, fine-textured, and with slight tendency to pile. Fold flour-sugar mixture into meringue in four portions.

Pour mixture into tube pan rinsed with cold water but not greased. Pass a knife through the batter circling the pan twice. Bake in a preheated, moderate oven 350°F., about 1 hour. Test by pressing surface lightly with the finger—no print is left if cake is done. Invert pan. Do not remove until thoroughly cooled (1 hour or slightly longer). To retain maximum crust on cake remove from pan as soon as cool.

Cherry Cake

Sift together 2¼ cups of flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 1/3 cups sugar. Add ½ cup shortening, ¼ cup maraschino cherry juice (juice from a 5 oz. bottle), 16 maraschino cherries cut in 8ths, and ½ cup milk. Mix ingredients two minutes, add 5 egg whites unbeaten. Continue mixing two more minutes. Fold in ½ cup chopped nuts. Bake in layers or loaf (preferably loaf), 350°F. for 1 hour.

Fruit Cake

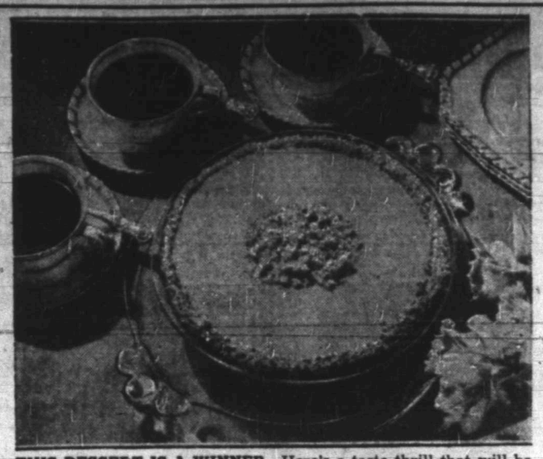

1 cup butter or margarine
3 cups flour
8 egg whites
1 teaspoon each cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg
2 cups sugar
1 cup sweet milk
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 pound raisins
2 cups chopped nut meats

Cream sugar and butter. Add baking powder and spices. 1 cup sifted flour to roll fruit and nuts in. Add other alternately with milk. Beat egg whites stiff and fold in. Fold in floured fruit. Bake four hours at 250°F.

Cakes should be sent in tin boxes or heavy corrugated paper. Pack them in popped corn. This keeps the cake moist, keeps it packed firm, and does not increase the weight of the package. Put shredded tissue paper on top.

Inasmuch as these cakes require egg whites, the yolks should not be wasted. They may be used in custards, custard pies, (chopped nuts, etc. used in place of meringue), puddings, salad dressing, sauces, yellow sponge cakes, French omelets, etc.

Rice is the basic diet of the Japanese soldier

THIS DESSERT IS A WINNER—Here's a taste thrill that will be long remembered. The reason for the subtle and delicious flavor of this pie is the combination of coffee and molasses. And another thrill: It requires no shortening of any kind. Try serving this Coffee-Taffy Chiffon pie along with plenty of flavorful, freshly-made coffee and you'll win praise and hearts. The recipe for Coffee-Taffy Chiffon pie, which has been tested, follows:

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin — 2 egg yolks
¼ cup cold strong coffee — ½ cup sugar
½ cup hot strong coffee — ½ cup molasses
2 egg whites, well beaten

Soak gelatin in cold coffee for 5 minutes. Add hot coffee and stir until gelatin is dissolved. Beat egg yolks, add ½ the sugar and the molasses. Stir in gelatin-coffee mixture until sugar is thoroughly dissolved. Chill in refrigerator until mixture begins to set. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Add remaining sugar to well-beaten egg whites and fold into gelatin mixture. Pour into pie shell made with cornflakes or cracker crumbs. When making pastry shell, reserve 2 tablespoons of the crumb mixture to garnish top of pie. Chill in refrigerator an hour or more until set.

Learn the long and short of pork while it's abundant. Two pounds of pork neck bones, cooked, yield two cups of meat. Two pounds of pork backbones, cooked, yield one cup of meat. Allow for each serving ½ pound spareribs, 1 pork hock, ½ pound pork tails, and 1 pork chop weighing about ¼ pound.

Baking dough over backs of pan keeps a pie shell in shape. Use custard cups or muffin pans for shaping tarts. To assure a juicy pie, fold edge of top crust under edge of lower crust, then crimp into high scallops. To prevent juices from soaking into bottom crust, sprinkle crust with flour or minute tapioca.

Low-Point Ham Can Be Used Down To Skin And Bone

By MARIE GIFFORD
Food Economist

Lower in points than many less nutritious meats, ham has such a large percentage of edible meat that it is useable right down to skin and bone. There may not be enough ham for everybody to have a whole one, but half hams and shank or butt end hams are grand buys. Even a slice to bake or broil will give you enough meat for good leftover dishes, too!

For a family of 5 or 6, a half a ham will go a long ways, but if your family is small you can buy either a shank or butt end ham weighing around 5 or 6 pounds. A slice can be cut off for broiling and the rest can be baked and covered with a delicious and attractive glaze or simmered with vegetables. Shank end hams sell for a few cents less than butt halves and are equally desirable.

Get National Brands

Look for nationally advertised brands of ham—either tender smoked or tender cooked—and you'll be sure to get one with that sweet, mild flavor due to sugar curing and slow smoking over hickory and hardwood fires. Such hams are expertly and scientifically handled, and before the slow cooking is considered finished, each ham is internally tested with a thermometer to be sure it has reached the correct temperature that guarantees a tender ham. It's this tenderization that makes it possible for you to cut down the total cooking time in your kitchen.

Cooked hams are heated to a higher internal temperature than smoked hams and only need a 10 minute per pound heating in your oven. If the ham is cooked it will be so stated on the wrapper.

To bake a whole or half ham, wrap it in the inside glassine paper in which it comes. Place it fat side up in an uncovered baking pan at 350 degrees F. and bake for length of itme as follows:

Wt.	Ham at Room Temp.	Chilled Ham
10-12 lbs.	18 mins. lb.	18-20 mins. lb.
14-16	16 mins. lb.	18-20 mins. lb.
Over 16	14-15 mins. lb.	16-18 mins. lb.
Half ham (shank or butt)	20-25 mins. lb.	24-27 min. lb.

About 30 minutes before done, remove the paper and rind, score the fat in squares and stud with cloves if desired. Cover the ham with a glaze and finish baking in the same low oven the remainmight be: 1 cup honey; 1 cup molasses; 1 cup corn syrup mixed with juice of one orange; 1 cup brown sugar and ½ cup corn syrup; or 1 cup brown sugar plus ¼ vinegar and 1 teaspoon mustard.

Ways to use leftover ham are always interesting and delicious. Here are tested favorites you'll want to try!

Ham and Egg Pie—Buscuit Topping

¾ pound or 2 cups cubed cooked ham.
3 tablespoons butter or margarine.
¼ cup chopped celery
¼ cup chopped onion
1¼ teaspoons salt
6 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
2 hard cooked eggs

Brown onions and celery in butter and blend in flour. Add milk gradually and stir until thick. Season and add the eggs cut in quarters and the cubed ham. Place in a round baking dish and cover with biscuits made as follows. Make regular biscuit dough, adding ¼ cup freshly grated cheese to a recipe using 1 cup flour. Pat dough out in a circle the size of a baking dish and cut in pie shaped pieces. Place wedges of dough on top of meat mixture, slightly apart. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 30 minutes or until crust is well baked and golden brown. Four servings.

8 ounces cubed cooked ham (about 1¼ cups)
1 ham bone
2½ quarts ham stock (made by boiling ham bone)
1½ cups split green peas
2½ teaspoons salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 medium sized onion, sliced
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour

Place ham bone, ham stock, peas, seasonings and onion in large pan. Simmer 2 hours. Strain. Melt fat, add flour and blend. Add a small amount of soup stock and stir until smooth, then stir into soup to thicken slightly. Let cubes of ham heat in soup before serving. Four generous servings.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Fried Armour's Star Liver Sausage on Potato Cakes! Try It!

There are so many reasons for planning more and more meals around Armour's Star Liver Sausage. First, because it's such a delicious meat—mild and "spready." Second, because it's mighty easy on your meat ration—a low-point meat. Third, because it's wonderfully nutritious—especially rich in vitamins A, B, D, and G . . . minerals and high quality proteins.

Here's a new recipe for a fine liver sausage main dish for dinner:

To serve five, ask your meat man for ½ lb. of Armour's Star Liver Sausage, cut into 5 thick slices. To make the potato cakes, use 3 cups mashed seasoned potatoes. Mix the mashed potatoes with ½ cup finely chopped onions, and one egg yolk. Form into 5 patties. Fry until brown in bacon or sausage drippings. Brown the liver sausage for 2 minutes to the side and place a slice on the top of each patty just before serving.

This recipe was developed in Armour Kitchens to help you get the most enjoyment from your meat ration.

In these critical times it's especially important to make your home CLOROX-CLEAN ...for Greater Health Protection!

Infection Dangers Spread Easily

Fewer Civilian Doctors and Nurses

America Must Keep Workers Healthy

HEALTH PROTECTION is more important today than ever due to reduced civilian medical facilities, and the need to keep America's workers on the job for Victory. These are added reasons why health authorities are urging housewives throughout the nation to maintain high standards of home sanitation. Clorox used in routine cleansing makes household "danger zones" hygienically clean.

WHY TAKE CHANCES! "When it's CLOROX-CLEAN it's hygienically clean!"

Your Kitchen can be one of the main sources of possible infection unless made hygienically clean. It's easy to combat kitchen germ dangers with Clorox . . . it disinfects, deodorizes and removes stains from dishes, glassware, tile, enamel, linoleum, wood surfaces. Clorox also bleaches and removes stains from dishcloths . . . makes them fresh-smelling, sanitary.

In the Bathroom where millions of germs may cling to seemingly clean surfaces, Clorox-Cleanliness is important, too. Make it a regular habit to disinfect with Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs, toilets, floors, tile, enamel and woodwork. And Clorox makes your bathroom spick-and-span . . . for it removes stains and brightens surfaces.

And in Laundering, sanitation is vitally important as an added safeguard to health. Clorox used in laundering makes white and color-fast cottons and linens hygienically clean. It gently bleaches white cottons and linens (brightens fast colors), removes stains, scorch, mildew. Clorox also lessens rubbing, thus conserving your hard-to-replace linens.

Remember, when you buy Clorox, you get the same full strength, same high quality for your money, today as always. Clorox is ultra-refined, free from caustic . . . an exclusive, patented quality-feature. Clorox is efficient and extra-gentle in use. Simply follow directions on label. There is only one Clorox, always ask for it by name.

Lubbock County Population Is Third In West Texas

Lubbock county, with an estimated 66,235 persons, climbed to third place in population in West Texas, according to figures compiled from the number of registrants for War Ration Book No. 4.

El Paso county, with 136,173 persons, is still the ranking county with Wichita county, 72,981, ranking second.

But Lynn county to the south of Lubbock almost steals the spotlight in the estimate with a percentage gain of 73.8 from April 1, 1940 to Nov. 1, 1943, third highest in the state. Only Orange county with 163.3 per cent gain and Moore county with 116.1 per cent increase outranked Lynn.

Lubbock Outranks Potter

The estimate also revealed that Lubbock county has 8,193 more people than Potter county, of which Amarillo is the county seat.

The estimate, including all Texas counties, was compiled by the Research and Statistics department of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, on the basis of figures supplied by the Committee for Economic Development, which is national in scope and looks forward to post-war development and employment. Figures were released in Lubbock by Homer D. Grant, chairman of the Lubbock Committee for Economic Development.

Pressing Wichita County

Lubbock county, according to the compilation, is pressing Wichita county for population leadership of the entire Southwest outside metropolitan centers, exclusive of El Paso county, and is growing much faster than El Paso or any other county of proximate size in the Southwest.

Wichita county is accredited with having, as of Nov. 1, when the estimates were given, a population of 72,981, Lubbock county 66,235, Potter county 58,042, Taylor county 51,056 and Tom Green county 39,526.

Far Ahead In Percentage

As for percentage increase between the 1940 federal census and the Nov. 1 estimate, Lubbock was far out front with 27.9. Taylor county had 15.6, Potter 7, Tom Green .6 and Wichita a minus .8.

As a matter of fact, the 17 counties of the South Plains established a population gain of 47,875 in that period—climbing from 203,515 to 250,790—for a percentage increase of 18.85, despite a population decrease in four of them.

Estimates showed the following order of population percentage increase among South Plains counties, headed by Lynn's 73.8 per cent:

Lynn, Hockley, Cochran, Dawson, Lubbock, Garza, Terry, Lamb, Crosby, Bailey, Hale, Dickens and Floyd.

Some Show Decrease

Counties showing decreases in population were, in order of decrease: Yoakum, Gaines, Borden and Motley.

The gains are the more significant when it is found that Texas, as a whole, had a percentage decrease of 1.9 per cent over the same period—and that, as noted from the Office of War Information report issued Wednesday, the civilian population of the nation fell about 3.1 per cent.

The following tables tell the Texas and sectional story in detail:

COUNTY	Estimated Pop. Nov. 1, 1943	Apr. 1, 1940	Nov. 1, 1943 No.	Per Cent
Lynn	20,737	11,921	8,806	73.8
Hockley	21,712	12,693	9,019	71.1
Cochran	5,303	3,725	1,568	42.0
Dawson	21,719	15,367	6,352	41.3
Lubbock	66,235	51,782	14,453	27.9
Garza	6,975	5,878	1,297	22.8
Terry	13,826	11,160	2,366	21.2

Motley	4,907	4,994	-87	-1.7
TEXAS (total)—	6,389,884	6,381,862	-122,278	-1.9

(-) Indicates loss of population.

By way of interest in comparison, here are the figures on several other counties in the general population bracket with Lubbock, the Lubbock figure being repeated for ease in comparison:

Lubbock	66,235	51,782	14,453	27.9

Civilian Population Over Nation Drops

WASHINGTON, April 19. (U.P.) — An Office of War information report disclosed today that from April 1, 1940, to Nov. 1, 1943, the civilian population fell about 3.1 per cent from 131,329,104 to 127,307,884.

In that period the country's 9,604,000 births exceeded its 4,993,000 deaths by 4,611,000, OWI said. About 9,500,000 men and 138,000 women were inducted into the armed forces, however, leaving a net civilian population loss of about 4,000,000.

Migration of war workers into centers of war production, meanwhile, "brought about a marked redistribution of population" within the country, OWI said. This migration was said to have increased the aggregate population of 460 counties by 4,857,885 while the population of 2,620 other counties fell by 8,879,105.

OWI said 13 of the 20 major war production centers showed an unstated increase in population during the period. They were: Detroit, Los Angeles, San Francisco, San Diego, Philadelphia, Cleveland, Buffalo, Seattle-Tacoma, Baltimore, Hartford, Conn., St. Louis, Kansas City and Indianapolis.

The report, based on information from the census bureau, War Manpower commission, Selective Service and the War Production board, said that out-migration was now taking place in many areas which had previously attracted large labor surplusses.

Nazi Resistance Said Weakening

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP) — German resistance to Allied air power is weakening, Secretary of War Stimson said today, but he cautioned: They still have "plenty of planes to offer the stiffest sort of opposition" when they see fit.

Stimson called the last few days of action over Europe "our air invasion of Germany,"—and said it is continuing.

In an attack on airplane plants at Kassel and aircraft parts factories in central Germany yesterday "American losses were extremely low, five bombers and two fighters," Stimson said. In attacks Tuesday on Berlin and two nearby targets, he said "our losses were lighter than they ' been in similar circumstances on some previous occasions—19 bombers and five fighters—"while dealing destruction to the enemy's production facilities," shooting down 13 of his planes and destroying 21 on the ground.

Nazis Lose Thousands

Since January, the Nazis have lost "several thousand" planes in combat and in addition their fighter production has fallen off approximately 20 per cent, Stimson said. He noted that in addition to attacks on German airplane factories, Allied bombers and fighters shooting up enemy airfields.

"If the enemy's policy of conservation operates too often to keep his fighter on the ground, we will seek them out where they lie," he said.

Discussing Allied aerial supremacy in the Southwest Pacific, Stimson said "every day Rabaul and enemy centers on New Ireland and the battered Japanese bases on the northwest coast of New Guinea are revisited with destruction." The scope of American air power, he said, "is illustrated by the frequent attacks during the past week upon the Caroline islands and the Kuriles."

Jap Empire In Range

All parts of the Japanese empire "are thus coming within our range," he commented.

Stimson tempered his pleasure over U. S. successes with the comment that "every action in the air requires the bravery and sacrifice of our fliers; the casualties of brave men will never be lightly borne."

The latest total of army casualties (through April 7) is 146,082, of which 25,013 were killed. The Navy casualties announced up to today total 44,227, of which 18,795 are dead.

Latest Allied Boner

Stimson was asked at his news conference why the accidental shooting down of a number of transport planes at Catania, Sicily, was not announced at the same time the Army disclosed a similar accident which occurred near Gela in the Sicilian landings last year.

"The answer," Stimson replied, is simple. All operations in the vicinity of Catania were under British command and it is not our custom to report their operations any more that it would be for them to report ours."

He said a "dozen different reasons contributed to the loss" which could not be published without "giving the enemy a blueprint of our method of conducting such an offensive."

Letters To The Editor From Readers

SOUNDS WARNING

Editor, The Avalanche: History gives warning to America that treason, not battles, is the history of this war. Each conquered country in Europe was made weak and helpless by internal strife and greed long before a shot was fired. The good people were fighting for their rights and by their very actions lost all their rights and now find themselves under the heel of the most ruthless and murderous monsters in all history. The record should be a lurid warning to all Americans.

I do not question the loyalty of the great majority of workers who, employed at lathe and bench, made possible the astounding record of production to date. But I do question the loyalty and tactics of some of the leaders of labor who, in their haste and greed, blinded by self interests, overlooking the vital interests of our country and their violation of the rights of others to earn their bread, have justly earned the scorn of all true and patriotic Americans.

At no time has there been a greater need than now for honest industrial statesmanship both in labor and business. We know that big business has shown an intelligent leadership. The question is: Can and will labor's rank and file select leaders equally as good to protect their interests, not only now but in the economic war that will surely follow the shooting war? If they cannot, then they had better clean up their untidy house and secure the business executive type of man from outside their ranks who will manage their unions as a successful business man would run a successful business.

Unions will never be recognized and respected on a par with honest business until they assume the finesse. That is the way the decent and responsible element in labor would want their unions to be. If they were in control of their union policies, they would have done this a long time ago — of that I am sure. We have politicians working hand in hand with these labor bosses running this country right into Communist hands. Lots of our voters are going around with their eyes shut and will vote for some of these politicians. Any man who runs for office and doesn't come out against these Communists and let the people know he is against them, it proves that he is either for them or he is working for their vote. Anyhow this is it makes the Communist party stronger.

We have too many men in office who are afraid if they do say anything they would lose votes. These politicians may make up and do something when they get shot between the eyes like the Japs shot up Pearl Harbor. The way I understand the Bible is when a country leaves God out it will fall. The Communist labor movement here in this country will do likewise.

Yours truly,
C. R. Styles,
Lubbock.

Decline Is Noted In Radio's Listeners

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—There aren't as many radio listeners as there used to be, judging by the latest Hooper ratings, which check twice a month on network shows and their listener popularity. The decrease has been apparent in the last three reports, covering a period of six weeks.

Beyond the cold figures, no explanation for the decline was included.

Those in touch with the situation attribute the drop to wartime conditions as affecting the home receiver. They point both to the fact that the market has been depleted of new sets and to repair and replacement shortages as the prime factors.

The actual percentages are this way: in the April 15 report the average sets-in-use were put at 29.5 per cent, down 2.3 per cent from March 30; the average available audience was 77.9 per cent, down 1.7 per cent.

Accompanying these figures was the regular report on program popularity, which showed Fibber McGee and Bob Hope changing places again, Fibber being back in the lead. Charlie McCarthy was third, followed in order by Walter Winchell, Red Skelton, Jack Benny, District Attorney, Phil Baker quiz, Radio Theater and Screen Guild.

PROGRAM IS ISSUED

AUSTIN, April 20 (AP)—Program for the 34th. annual state meet of the University of Texas Interscholastic league, here May 3-5 was issued today. The meet will decide state school championships in numerous sports and literary events.

Terry Man's Motion Overruled By Court

The state court of criminal appeals overruled a motion of H. H. Williams of Terry county for a rehearing, the Associated Press has reported from Austin.

The court recently had affirmed a 10-year conviction in the 106th district court of Terry county, for murder with malice July 24 of R. E. Hodges, a neighboring farmer. A jury of which W. G. McDonald as foreman announced its verdict 24 hours after receiving the case in September.

State claimed Williams shot his neighbor three times with a shotgun, once in the back of the head. Williams claimed self-defense, pointing to a .410 pistol lying near the body of Hodges when first witnesses arrived at the public road shooting scene.

The shooting allegedly was over straying stock.

Mexican Film Star To Play In RKO Picture

MEXICO CITY, April 20 (U.P.)—Cantinflas (Mario Morenos), Mexican comedian, will star in a Hollywood film produced jointly by RKO and POSA, Mexican film company, Phil Reisman, RKO's foreign representative, announced here today.

It was the first time RKO has arranged joint production with a foreign company. Cantinflas, who owns one-third of POSA with Santiago Reahi and Jacques Gillman, will receive approximately $150,000 as his share. It will be his first English-speaking film.

Title and plot of the production have not been announced, but one version will be produced in Spanish with a Mexican cast. RKO will handle world distribution of the film.

WFA To Aid Flooded Texas Tomato Crop

DALLAS, April 20. (AP) — The War Food administration expects a flooded tomato market and is ready to step in and support prices, says Distribution Director L. J. Cappleman.

A 72 per cent increase in Rio Grande valley tomatoes is forecast and the East Texas crop will be for above average, Cappleman asserted here yesterday.

Civilian Food Supply Improves

WASHINGTON, April 20 (U.P.) — Release of quantities of food to civilian channels from government holdings and a slackening of government purchases during the past few months indicate less concern on the part of the War Food administration over future food supplies, observers believed today.

WFA recently has made marked decreases in the amounts producers and processers are required to set aside for government purchases, which in most cases means larger supplies for civilians. Many of these reductions have been reflected in reduced ration point values.

Beef Set Aside Reduced

Meat ration points have been lowered in recent months after the original civilian allocation of meats was increased by 547,000,000 pounds. Last week WFA reduced the set-aside of beef by federally inspected packing plants from 50 to 40 per cent and the set aside was lifted entirely on the cheap cutter and canner grades, which had been at 80 per cent since January.

The government is taking only 10 per cent of butter production this month compared with 30 per cent in April last year. Its purchases are expected to go up sharply next month but probably will still be under last year's requirements. OPA is reported preparing to cut the ration point value of butter soon.

Lard Now Point-Free

Last month 50,000,000 pounds of lard were released to civilians. The ration point value of salad and cooking oils and lard now has been reduced to zero.

Set-aside requirements also have been cut on canned fish, dried beans, dried milk, linseed oil and several other foods and food products. They soon will be reduced on cheese.

State Losing Much In Illegal Use Of Tax-Free Cigarets

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP) — Both the Colonel's Lady and Judy O'Grady are infracting the law and incurring a million dollars loss to the state a year, H. A. Smith, director of the state's cigaret stamp tax division, said here today.

Military personnel (this includes wives) have the privilege of buying all the tax-free cigarets they want for their own use on the post-grounds; but the law says they may only carry two tax-free packages of cigarets at a time off the grounds.

Buying Above Needs

Smith said that wives both of enlisted men and officers as well as retired military folk are buying more than they can possibly consume, and are either selling or giving the surplus to their friends and neighbors.

A further great drain on the tax-free privilege, is by civilian employes at post exchanges and in military office buildings, who could buy two packs when they come to work, more at noon, two on the way home—and then resell them to outsiders who thereby avoid the tax, Smith explained.

Smith estimates that more than 100,000 civilians purchasing cigarets tax-free in a month, actually cost the state $90,000 each month.

Notices Ordered Posted

In an effort to control the leak, Maj. Gen. Richard Donovan of the 8th Service command, has required all cigaret counters of Army exchanges to post notices warning purchasers of cigarets they may not by state law leave camp with over two packages of unstamped cigarets.

Bigger Crops Along With Retention Of Soil Sought

The AAA program for 1944 has as its main objective the increased production of food and feed crops with the least possible damage to the soil by wind and water erosion, W. Y. Wells secretary of the Lubbock county ACA, said Wednesday.

There are no acreage allotments on any crop, each producer being requested to use his best judgment in planting crops that he knows how to produce and that he has the equipment to produce. The goals or suggested acreages of the various crops in Lubbock county are 183,000 acres of cotton compared to 175,000 acres planted in 1943, 246,000 acres of feed grains compared to 241,000 in 1943, 600 acres of Irish potatoes compared to 500 acres in 1943, 25,000 acres of wheat compared to 11,600 in 1943, 300 acres of dry beans compared to 250 acres in 1943 and an acreage of fresh vegetables, sudan grass for seed and a few other minor crops.

Each producer is required to adjust his livestock number to the probable amount of feed that will be available on the farm. The demand for pork and pork products, beef, poultry and eggs will be very heavy next year and each producer should make arrangements to keep these livestock numbers in line with his feed production and labor supply.

The AAA will make payments to producers for carrying out soil building practices. These payments will be to pay part of the cost, to the farmer, of maintaining or increasing the soil fertility.

The amount of payment to any farm will be based on the number of acres of cropland times 75 cents per acre plus six cents per acre of pasture land, plus as high as one and one-half cents per linear foot of terrace built according to AAA specifications plus one earthen dam or one damless tank of not over 2,000 cubic yards. These payments will be paid to the producer who carries out the practice. If more than one person contributes to carrying out conservation practices on the farm, the payment shall be divided in the proportion that the county committee determines the producers contributed to carrying out the practice on the farm. In no case will the furnishing of land be considered a contribution.

State's Revenue Exceeds Outgo

AUSTIN, April 20. (U.P.) — The annual report of state Comptroller George Sheppard issued here today details the $245,551,440 revenue receipts of the state for the fiscal year ended Aug. 31, 1943, and what purposes occasioned the annual expenditure of $181,785,948.

The wide spread between income and outgo is made up by the collected funds retained in trust for various purposes.

Gasoline Taxes Largest

Included is $25,655,304 collected for the unemployment compensation fund, and $2,089,676 for the school teacher's retirement fund.

In the income report, motor fuel taxes loom largest with $52,341,677 collected, but $11,673,175 of this was refunded on fuel used in other than highway consumption.

During the year the state paid out $25,623,947 in salaries, wages and fees, and $2,311,148 for expense accounts of state workers of which $854,528 was personal car allowance.

Expenditure for pensions and benefits of various sorts totaled $50,093,764; roads, $38,744,493, and school aid, including vocational, $48,630,085.

Two Million Cars A Year Is Production Request Of Industry

WASHINGTON, April 20. (AP)—Leaders of the automobile industry asked the War Production board today to let civilian passenger car production start on the "fairly substantial" basis of around 2,000,000 cars a year when manufacture finally is resumed.

The 17 executives, called together as an automobile industry advisory committee for a conference with WPB on reconversion plans, were notified by Chairman Donald M. Nelson that "no resumption of passenger car production is yet in sight."

"It depends entirely on military events," he said.

WPB's official account of the closed conference said the executives agreed there should be no resumption of passenger car output as long as the industry is deep in an all-out war effort.

They concurred with the declaration of Nelson and his executive vice chairman, Charles E. Wilson, that both government and the industry "should be ready either for a sudden collapse of Axis powers, or for a long transition period" in which a partial resumption of peacetime output would go along simultaneously with munitions manufacture.

Servicemen To Get One Pound Of Sugar At A Time For Furloughs

WASHINGTON, April 20 (U.P.)—Servicemen on furlough, allowed a special sugar ration so their homecoming won't pinch the family supply, will henceforth be issued a pound at a time instead of a quarter pound as before, the Office of Price Administration announced today.

Previously, servicemen were entitled to receive a quarter pound of sugar for each nine meals they ate at home. However, OPA said, it was too difficult for them to purchase sugar in quarter-pound lots, hence the ruling was changed to grant them a pound for each 36 meals they eat at home.

"Boy, am I sitting pretty!"

It takes guts with oomph and energy to handle the job these days. And the boss says I'm doing swell — thanks to vimful, zestful National 3-Minute Oats every morning. This delicious, whole grain food makes me the pep gal of the office. There is a difference in oats — it's the flavor!

NATIONAL 3-MINUTE OATS

A NATURAL WHOLE GRAIN CEREAL

Here's how you can use

COFFEE AS AN AID IN REDUCING

Plenty of Exercise

That's taken for granted. Right. But drink Admiration in the course of your exercise. Admiration picks you up, postpones fatigue, and supplies extra energy with which to carry on your activities. You'll find you tire less easily, have much more strength, and feel better.

Don't get the idea that "Admiration Coffee makes you thin." It's a wonderful blend of choice, expensive coffees, full of flavor, and a delight to drink. But it's a drink—not a weight reducing medicine. However, if you are reducing, Admiration can be made a mighty ally. Here are a few suggestions.

Moderate Eating

To be sure. Many authorities maintain most excessive weight comes from over-eating. Admiration Coffee drunk with your meals will increase the flow of gastric juices in the stomach, thus facilitating better digestion. Its energy-giving goodness also will give you a quick satisfaction, reducing the desire for a large amount of food.

Watch Weight

This is most important, for you can thereby control your eating and progress. Quick loss of weight, authorities agree, is not healthy. Gradual loss is better. It's the least bothersome too. An occasional cup of Admiration in place of an in-between meal snack is ideal, for it satisfies the desire for food, yet supplies practically no weight-building food values.

Frequent Recreation

Recreation is good for the spirit as well as the body. When people have little else to think of or do—they eat. And in weight reduction the idea is to stay away from food as much as possible. Thus as you pause in your recreation and others suggest food—make yours a cup of Admiration Coffee. Its flavor and aroma will give you as much enjoyment as food gives others.

Admiration Coffee Picks You Up

It's the pick-up in coffee that makes it the universal beverage of good cheer. Coffee postpones fatigue. It relaxes, brightens the perception . . . all the senses . . . and increases physical strength. When you add to this the delightful flavor and richness of a blend like Admiration . . . well, weight reducing isn't such a task as it might appear.

Eire's Appeal Is Counter Activity

By R. H. SHACKFORD
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20. — Eire's appeal to the United States to spare Rome was regarded today as an attempt by Prime Minister Eamon de Valera to soften whatever diplomatic blows this country may be planning to counteract the Irish refusal to expel Axis diplomats.

De Valera's appeal was a frank reminder to President Roosevelt that there are millions of Irish Catholics in the United States and that "millions of Catholics would risk their lives" to save the religious treasures of the Holy City.

Board Starts Conference

The latest development in the strained Irish-American relations came as the administrative board of the National Catholic Welfare conference—with five archbishops of the Catholic hierarchy in attendance — met for a two-day meeting to consider "the perilous position of His Holiness Pope Pius XII and the Eternal City of Rome."

The conference meeting raised the possibility that it might have some connection with the new studies which Secretary of State Cordell Hull was reported under way with a view to sparing Rome.

Rests With Germany

The Irish legation here released de Valera's note on Rome last night after the State department made public President Roosevelt's reply. Mr. Roosevelt told de Valera that "the fate of Rome" rests with Germany which is "using to the limits of its capacities the communication network and other facilities of Rome to further a purely German military operation.

De Valera's note was handed to Hull on March 15—about three weeks after the United States had asked "as an absolute minimum" expulsion of Axis diplomats in Eire and de Valera's flat rejection of the request.

Action Not Decided

The United States, it was learned, has not yet decided what sort of diplomatic action to take against Eire for its refusal to turn out the Axis representatives. Whatever it is, however, the Irish appeal in behalf of Rome probably will be weighed well before the final decision.

No officials here doubt de Valera's claim that the people of Eire support his foreign policy 100 per cent. But they also point out that the American demand to throw Axis diplomats out of Eire met only mild protests here from Irish-American groups.

The immediate conclusion reached here was that de Valera was using the reverence that all Catholics have for Rome to gain stronger support for his foreign policy among Irish Catholics in this country.

This country's position on Rome has been clearly stated many times. There is no desire to destroy Rome, but lives of American and Allied soldiers will not be sacrificed needlessly to spare it if the enemy continues to use it for military purposes."

Mr. Roosevelt's reply to de Valera reiterated that position, pointed out the military uses being made of the city by the Germans—despite their assertion that it is an "open" city—and then noted that de Valera had sent a similar appeal to the Germans.

"The fate of Rome rests in that quarter," he concluded.

Pay For Draft Boards

THE suggestion the other day by Senator Wiley of Wisconsin that provision should be made to compensate draft board members for their services is one that many people would reluctant to oppose.

If legislation of this nature should now be proposed, any opposition that may develop to it will be based on the question of whether it is wise, for reasons of national policy, to put draft board members on salaries. There could not be justified opposition to the idea on the grounds that the board members, taken as an overwhelming whole, would not earn everything that might be provided for them.

Under the system that has existed since the draft was put into effect, the typical board member has had just one reason for accepting his responsibility. This reason has been the patriotic desire to serve his country in time of peril. For the conscientious board member, there has been no other compensation except the self-satisfaction that goes with the knowledge of an important duty performed. There has been no money. There has been no glory. There has been a great deal of plain, hard work—a great deal more abuse than commendation.

Yet this system has worked—and incredibly well. Under this system, it has been possible to obtain the services as draft board members of those who, on the whole, represent the very highest type of patriotic citizenship. These people have served in a way which has provided some of the brightest pages in the whole history of the war effort.

Perhaps draft board members on salaries might have done equally well. Certainly they could not have done better. Nor could the quality of draft board members, taken as a whole, have been improved if salaries had been paid. The quality would not be improved if salaries should be offered now.

Instead, such a change in operating plan might form grounds for the suspicion that many board members were more interested in the salaries than in the opportunity for service.

Furthermore, many thousands of salaried draft board jobs would create an almost irresistable temptation to Washington's pork-barrel politicians. They would leave no stone unturned in their effort to gain control of those payrolls in an attempt to capitalize upon them for selfish political purpose.

If the dangers of political contamination could be eliminated, there is no doubt but that compensation for draft board members would be approved speedily and overwhelmingly. But the possibilities of eliminating that danger are not at all encouraging, to put it mildly. And most Americans are in complete agreement on the proposition that, whatever happens, no chance can be taken that draft boards might become political footballs.

A Matter For Investigation

IF Rep. Bob Poage of Texas is correct in his complaint that the possibilities of the guayule plant have not yet been given a full and fair test as a source of rubber supply, he is due all the support that can be given him in his efforts to block abandonment of this experiment.

Some of the so-called experts insist that the experiments have gone far enough to demonstrate that guayule does not hold the answer to the future rubber problems of this nation. They argue that any more money spent on the experiment will be wasted.

Mr. Poage disputes their contention. He says that this $27,000,000 experiment is on the threshold of success—that a few millions more will prove the practicability of guayule.

To be considered along with Mr. Poage's claims is the undisputed fact that some of the British and Dutch rubber producing interests cannot be pleased by the prospect that the United States might become self-sufficient in this most vital product. They could not look with favor on the loss of this market. They have been charged repeatedly with trying to discourage rubber production in the United States.

Mr. Poage undoubtedly has a selfish interest in continuing the guayule experiments. He represents a district in which some of them are being conducted. But if his complaints are true that the tests might be abandoned on the verge of success, the matter is one of concern to every American who wants to be sure that his nation never will be caught short again of this commodity which is so essential to both war and peace.

A man told us the other day he believed he was the only thing that actually existed. A few moments later he said he couldn't understand why many others did not hold the same belief.

The other day we saw the expression, "dirty politics," in a news story which must have been written by a cub reporter who hadn't learned not to use unnecessary adjectives.

Britain's Heir-Apparent Buckles Down To Royal Duties

"Lillibet" Reaches Eighteenth Birthday

1926—First glimpse of heir to England's mighty throne.

1935—Demure in white, Lillibet starts royal duties.

1944—Mature Elizabeth symbolizes empire's youth at war.

(By The Associated Press)

QUEENSHIP is a profession like any other. To be successful, you have to work at it.

Princess Elizabeth of England has been working at it ever since her parents' coronation, and she's not finished yet. Now that she's 18, her "vocational training" will be intensified, and the job of making a slender, blue-eyed youngster into a queen will be rounded out.

Elizabeth would probably be the first to admit that there's more to being a queen than just wearing a crown and waving gracefully to admirers. Subjects that are classroom bores to the average 18-year-old are job training for her — constitutional law, economic history and theory, foreign relations, world geography.

England's next queen never had a chance to cut classes, either, because she never went to school. Although her mother wanted Elizabeth to attend a public school and mix with other girls of her age, court attendants, who pointed out the difficulties of classmates having to curtsy to the future queen won out, and Elizabeth has been tutored entirely at home.

* * *

A Teen Age Linguist

THE Queen, herself, started little five-year-old Lillibet off on French with the aid of specially prepared phonograph records. By the time she was in her early teens, she had studied Latin, Spanish, German, the Scriptures and the three R's. She learned court etiquette and the duties of queenship from Queen Mother Mary, whose pearls were Lillibet's first teething ring.

Elizabeth's parents have tried to ease her into royal duties gradually, and at the same time bring her up with as little fuss and pomp as possible under the circumstances. She learned cooking, first aid, and bedmaking as a Girl Guide, the English equivalent of America's Girls Scouts, and paid four cents dues out of her weekly 25-cent allowance like any other Guide member. And like hundreds of other youngsters, she stepped out of childhood and into her teens with a box of long silk stockings, a present from her mother, to prove she'd grown up.

Elizabeth, who will someday wear the crown of England, wore her first coronet and royal robes at her parents' coronation, and showed the stuff that queens are made of by sitting through the whole ceremony without fidgiting.

* * *

Pride Of The Grenadiers

IN other early public appearances, she reviewed the Girl Guides, and presented rosettes to winners of the National Pony Society's show when she was 12. When she was 16, her father approved her appointment as colonel in the Grenadier Guards, and Elizabeth danced at her birthday reception for some 450 officers and men.

At 14, in one of her first public speeches, she spoke over the microphone to Britain's evacuated children, and told them "we children at home are full of cheerfulness and courage."

Now, at 18, Elizabeth is finished with childhood. Under the regency act, she is a potential councilor of state, and can act with others for King George when he is absent from the country. To give her time to prepare for royal duties, Britain's next Queen Bess has been exempted from national service, because England thinks it takes more training to wear a crown than a uniform.

Number Three Playing Major Part In Lives Of Strout Brothers

SHEPPARD FIELD, April 20. (U.P.)—The number 3 is playing a major part in the lives of the Strout brothers who reached Sheppard Field today, according to public relations officers.

The three Strouts, Monty E., 36, William B., 32, and Baily P., 28, entered the Army together in Tulsa, Okla. Also their serial numbers run numerically and all begin with three.

All three are assigned to training group 303 at the field.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WHEN Dr. John F. Erdmann, famous New York surgeon celebrated his 80th birthday a few days ago, he was asked how he could find time to keep up with the new developments in medicine, he replied:

"A busy surgeon has to keep up or he won't be busy very long."

Little Anna Cassinelli was presented with an award diploma at the hospital for special surgery last week.

For 45 of her 52 years that hospital has been her home. "Cassie" came to the hospital when she was 7, suffering from a bone disease, which stopped her growth at just about three feet and left her able to walk only on crutches.

First she was classified as a patient. Then she was put on the payroll, making orthopedic corsets and surgical supports.

She keeps busy every minute of the day and is beloved by everybody in the hospital because of her cheerfulness and the help she gives to others.

* * *

"Grandma Chya," whose real name was Chya Kalnitsky, died at the Brooklyn Hebrew Home for the Aged, at the age of 106.

The day before she died she had just finished a white dress to wear during the holidays.

Sunday night she went to bed happy. During the night she passed peacefully away in her sleep.

"Grandma Chya" was a Russian immigrant. Her hobby was occupational therapy. "As long as you keep busy you live," was her belief; "when you stop you die, and you can be dead even when you are still alive."

* * *

THIS morning we took my mother-in-law to the hospital. She is 76.

The doctor says she won't last long — worn out, nothing to do about it.

Up to about six months ago she was always busy, sometimes with her own affairs, some times with mine.

Then she began to lose interest in life. Soon she was sitting around aimlessly, doing nothing, vegetating.

When she goes, the diagnosis will probably be old age.

My diagnosis will be: "She was bored to death."

* * *

EVERY once-in-awhile I get awfully tired of working. The same old grind every day.

You get that way, too, don't you? You think of retiring, you want to let up, take it easy.

Don't do it. To work is to be useful. To stop is to stagnate.

It's a wonderful feeling to know that the world needs you—even if it's only for something that may seem very insignificant.

To paraphrase Dr. Erdmann: "Keep busy or you won't live very long."

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

GENERAL Douglas MacArthur's flank attack on New Deal tendencies—despite his later "explanation"—came as no surprise to his close friends inside and outside the military establishment. For years his has been a lone voice bugling against political, social and economic notions that diverted Washington and the nation from the task of maintaining its defenses in a topsy-turvy world.

He has frequently praised President Roosevelt, but his private and public utterances often contained barbs at the spirit, the personalities and the philosophy of the present administration. Likewise he condemned Coolidge economy and the Hoover disarmament dreams which left the United States virtually defenseless at the time of Hitler's invasion of Poland.

Speaking at the University of Pittsburgh commencement in June 1932, the general said:

"Pacifism and its bedfellow, Communism, are all about us. In the theaters, newspapers and magazines, pulpits and lecture halls, schools and colleges, Communism hangs like a mist before the face of America, organizing the forces of unrest and undermining the morale of the workingman. Day by day this canker eats into the body politic."

(Webster defines "body politic" as meaning "a civil government . . . a politically organized community, a state.")

His fear of "Communism", including the American brand, has obsessed him, as his reply to Rep. Arthur Miller of Nebraska again revealed. After he had evicted the Bonus Army from the capital in 1932, he declared that "only one in 10 "were real veterans, that the rest were "insurrectionists" and that the government would have faced serious peril had President Hoover delayed another week in calling out the troops.

* * *

DANGER: General MacArthur's hatred of "petty, provincial politics"—a phrase which frequently creeps into his conversation—stems from his birth into a prominent military family. From childhood he saw and experienced the conditions to which politically-minded administrations had reduced the Army and Navy.

When President Hoover refused to aid domestic airline companies in their search for foreign markets, permitting England to enter fields once enjoyed by our people, MacArthur served as a "salesman of armaments" in numerous countries he visited. For this he was condemned by the Nye Munitions Investigating committee as a warmonger.

Serving as Chief of Staff from 1930 to 1935, a period when FDR paid scant attention to our land forces, he condemned the White House neglect. Time and again he reported that the Army had fallen "below the danger line," ranking it only seventeenth in the world.

* * *

NOMINATING: Addressing the West Point graduating class in 1933, General MacArthur uttered remarks which his friends regarded as critical of conditions in the capital. His latest expressions indicate that he has not changed his mind. Discussing the attitude in which the young officers should face life's problems, he said:

"First, and above all else, I would recommend tolerance. Next I would advise balance, and by that I mean a sense of proportion, an understanding of the classical dictum—'nothing too much.'

"Tolerance, balance, intelligence, courage—these four will carry you on; for you must go on, or you will go under."

Note: No Washington expert regards the MacArthur verbal attack as politically important or significant, for the insiders give him not even an outside chance for the nomination.

* * *

RIDICULE: Several members of the Supreme court have engineered a counterattack on individuals and factions which have subjected the tribunal to severe criticism for its recent St. Vitus's dance-like behavior, as reflected in its many reversals of itself and preceding bodies. As old hands at practical politics and propaganda, several appointees see no reason to take punishment sitting down or even standing up.

They cannot afford to make public rebuttal, of course, but they are enlisted lecturers, writers and dinner-table conversationalists to present their side of the case whenever the occasion arises. Pinkish magazines have already rushed into the judicial trenches.

Here is the argument of the justices involved, and it is not difficult to guess their identities:

The Supreme court, according to them, may be the only fairly permanent liberal imprint which Franklin D. Roosevelt will leave behind him in the capital. The next administration may be Republican, and the Congress may also fall into the hands of the opposition. A swing toward conservatism would be a natural and historical reaction to the 12 years of New Deal reform and upheaval.

It is this possibility, in the opinion of the wearers of the black robe, which has led "reactionaries" on Capitol Hill, in the press and on the stump to poke ridicule. They want to discredit the court so that it cannot continue to exert an extra-judicial influence upon American life.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

REACHING the arc from Poland to the Mediterranean, the Anglo-Americans are stabbing at the heart of the Reich which hitherto has escaped severe wounds.

The significance of the blow dealt to the Wiener Neustadt Messerschmitt plant is greater than most people realize. The Austrian city has been strafed before this time the beating is the McCoy. But even more important than the immediate damage are the long-range consequences. If the raids are followed up soon, our airmen may change the whole industrial complexion of postwar Europe.

The devastation of German, Russian, French and Italian factories made economists predict that Austria, the agricultural rump state of Francis Joseph's tattered empire, would emerge from this conflict as the manufacturing giant of the continent. That Vienna, tied to the workshops of Czechoslovakia and Hungary, would be the actual as well as the sentimental capital of central Europe

Hull, Eden and Molotov at the Moscow conference held out this dream to the Austrians, offering to trent them generously if they would quit the Axis. But the reprieve apparently is over and our warhawks have been turned loose.

* * *

FAKE: The Nazis foresaw the possibility of establishing a safe and new factory belt in the satellite country. As early as 1938 Hitler began moving machinery to his native state. Brownshirt bigwigs looked upon this region as a lucrative haven in the event anything happened to Germany, for they invested heavily in both old and new companies.

Financially shrewd Herman Goering spent a fortune on a string of plane and munitions firms in Vienna, Linz and elsewhere. Members of the party hierarchy gained control of the Ostmark aircraft concern, the Foridsdorf locomotive works and other bonanzes.

After the Ruhr and western Germany had staggered from under the blows inflicted by the USAAF and RAF, the Nazi magnates built fake blast furnaces, dummy towns, smoke screens and camouflaged defenses to hide their Austrian treasures from roving Allied reconnaissance crews. Precautionary measures were unusually thorough. Goering and his big-business pals, having put their money in the ventures, were taking no chances.

"There is no such thing as the average woman," asserts a columnist. Of course not. As any mathematician knows, it is not possible to determine the average of irrational numbers.

Texas Democrats Fight For South's Traditional Rights

By BRACK CURRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ABROGATION of the two-thirds rule has made the South a negligible factor in nominating Democratic presidential candidates, contends George A. Butler, chairman of the State Democratic Executive committee.

Butler, who is campaigning vigorously among state executive committee chairmen and governors of the Southern states for restoration of the two-thirds rule at the 1944 Chicago convention, says:

"The Southern Democrat, who kept the party alive through its lean and parlous years, has now been made the stepchild and whipping boy of the party which he has so loyally championed. Unless the two-thirds rule is restored it will be possible for a new machine bosses in Northern and Eastern cities to handpick presidential nominees."

* * *

Butler's ideas on the subject are set forth in a statement he has forwarded to prominent Democrats throughout the South. His views on the two-thirds rule generally are shared by Texas Democratic leaders.

With one exception all governors and state chairmen replying to the statement have endorsed restoration of the two-thirds rule, Butler says without naming who has answered.

In the statement Butler declared that "it is obvious that disportionate and unmerited convention voting strength is given to non-Democratic states. A congressional district in which a Democrat is a strange curiosity can vote as much convention strength as a solid Democratic distrrice. The delegates from a Vermont congressional district wield as much convention strength as the delegates from a Southern district."

* * *

A few large states, normally and traditionally Republican, are able to out vote the entire Democratic South, Butler contends, stating:

"The present Republican states of New York ,Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Illinois can out vote the entire Democratic South. Party regularity and fidelity, size of Democratic majorities, and proportion of Democrats to population have been ignored as factor under the grossly unfair convention apportionment which now exists."

When the two-thirds rule abrogated in 1936, the Democratic National committee was authorized to study new apportionment schemes, based on Democratic voting strength, says Butler, but "this was an unsatisfactory sop to the South and no more has been heard of the matter."

Butler argued that nomination by the two-thirds rule gives "Impressive significance to a candidate's popularity." Says Butler:

"As stated in the convention of 1932, and as has been demonstrated many times since, a nomination made by two-thirds of the whole body shows more general concurrence of sentiment in favor of a particular nominee, and carries with it a greater moral weight, and is more favorably received by the voting public than nominations made by a small number."

Safeguard Is Sought

Since the Democratic Party has many divergent elements of a political, economic and geographical nature, the two-thirds rule operates as a cohesive bulwark against the forces constantly at work to break down the party lines, contends Butler. He adds:

"Our state and federal constitutions recognize the principle of insuring safe majority. Two-thirds, three-fourths and even four-fifths are the required majorities on important legislative questions. If a two-third majority vote is a sound requirement for the selection of our appointive officers, why is it not a valuable safe-guard in nominating our elective officers?"

CHIEF Driver's License Examiner A. F. Temple went to the Rio Grande Valley to give a special examination to a 93-year-old applicant.

The old gentleman easily read the top line of letters on the eye chart. Same for the top line of figures. But when Temple asked him what the figure was on the next to top line he replied:

"How should I know, I don't make any figure that looks like solid."

He Found Out

A visiting soldier toured the House of Representatives at Austin.

"Where do the Republicans sit?" he asked Mrs. Emfa Ward, custodian.

"Didn't you ever hear of the Solid South?" he was asked.

"Yes," was the answer "but I didn't know it was that that."

THE season of spring rains—light, heavy and intermediate—is here. Here is a country-approved glossary of rain terms.

A sizzle-sozzle—just a drizzle.

A trash-mover—one that sends the creek up to where it moves the trash from the previous high water mark.

A cob-floater—one that sends the creek to the hog pen (usually pretty near the creek) and washes out the corn cobs.

A chunk-mover—one that goes even higher and floates chunks of wood from the woodpile (usually near the kitchen).

A gulley-washer—erodes fields, cutting deep gullies in them.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

"Wow! The boss said he didn't care who filled that second base vacancy as long as they ate their Wheaties."

Here's a rookie that can really fill the second baseman's socks. She knows her Wheaties. Champion whole grain nourishment in those big flakes of whole wheat. Home run flavor, too. So pitch into milk, fruit, and Wheaties. "Breakfast of Champions." ADV.
