QUICK LEGISLATIVE ACTION FOR 25,000

Extra Funds For Jobless Texans

AUSTIN (AP) — Reacting to both recession and inflation, Texas legislators acted today on bills providing extra unemployment relief and raising state employe salaries.

EXTRA HELP

Both houses passed their respective versions of an emergency bill entitling 25,000 jobless Texans to an extra $5 million in federal benefits. Another vote will be needed, on either the Senate or House version, to send it to the governor.

A Senate committee, meanwhile, cleared for debate by the full Senate a $100 million pay raise bill for state employes.

Houston members also planned to take up a package of rules changes recommended by newly elected Speaker Bill Clayton.

The Senate Finance Committee, which could not agree Wednesday on a $90 million emergency pay raise bill, quickly approved today a $100 million substitute bill. Generally, employes in lower pay scales would get an immediate 14.2 per cent raise while those at higher pay levels would get 10.5 per cent. The bill also includes $10 million for increased travel pay and group insurance premiums.

PAY BILL

Sen. Lloyd Doggett, D—Austin, author of the pay bill, said it would mean that one of the 63,000 classified state employes making $410 a month now would get a $58 raise to $463, while one making $651 would get a $92 raise to $743.

The approximately 67,000 other state employes, not in classified positions, would get a 14.2 per cent raise if they made less than $10,500 a year, and 10.5 per cent increase if they made more.

George Watkins, president of the Texas Public Employers Association, and Frank Wright, executive director of the Association of College Teachers, endorsed Doggett's bill. Nate Slough, director of the Association for the Rights and Interests of State Employes, spoke against it, saying his group preferred a fixed amount raise, not a percentage raise.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe submitted the unemployment compensation bill to the legislature Wednesday morning as an emergency matter, and Clayton said the $5 million would be lost if it does not become law by Jan. 20.

Without such quick passage, the new extended benefits would not take effect until Feb. 21.

Henry Rothell, administrator of the Texas Employment Commission, said the extended benefits would average $50 a week for the 25,000 Texans who have used up their eligibility for unemployment compensation. The federal bill, signed New Year's Eve by President Ford, provides up to 13 weeks of extended jobless benefits.

Briscoe, meanwhile, planned to be in Washington Thursday to complain at a White House briefing about the President economic and energy proposals.

'REFORMS'

"I am told that these proposed actions of the President will take $3.4 billion out of the economy of the state through higher utility bills and through increased cost of gasoline," Briscoe said in a statement.

Rules changes proposed to the House by Clayton would leave intact virtually all of the "reforms" made in the 1973 session at the behest of former Speaker Price Daniel Jr.

They would, however, boost the number of committees from 21 to 28—adding to the number of chairmanships and vice-chairmanships available for Clayton to distribute as rewards to those who helped him win the speaker's race.

Also in Clayton's proposed rules is a major revision of the appropriations process.

Instead of leaving money matters solely with the House Appropriations Committee, Clayton wants agency budgets to be reviewed by the substantive committees with jurisdiction over their affairs. The Environmental Affairs Committee, for instance, might make budget recommendations for the Texas Water Quality Board.

WAITING WITH PLATES — Sally Moron, a deputy tax collector, shows some of the new license plates. They arrived Wednesday and will be issued starting Feb. 1 at Newsom's Food Center and Feb. 3 at the courthouse and the Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union. The plate at top is the first in a series for Howard County. Others are a sampling of local personalized tags.

Letter Carriers Threaten Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Letter carriers are threatening a nationwide strike in March if the U.S. Postal Service implements a new delivery system designed to increase efficiency but which union leaders say will eliminate 15,000 jobs.

The National Association of Letter Carriers has sent letters to all locals urging its nearly 200,000 members to prepare for "the possibility of a national job action as a result of implementation of computerized route adjustments contrary to the best interest and welfare of our membership."

'ROBOTS'

The union says the new system would turn its men into "robots" and slow the mail by overburdening mail carriers.

Postal officials charge the union is formulating "a nationally organized plan to soften the public and the press for a possible illegal strike against the government."

A strike, if it comes, would be the first against the postal system since the historic walkout of March 1970 when federal troops were called in to help deliver the mails. The walkout helped lead to the reorganization of the Post Office Department as an independent semi-government agency.

WILLING TO RISK

Strikes are prohibited against the government, but President James H. Rademacher of the letter carriers says, "We are willing to risk the consequences."

"I'm hoping they (Postal Service officials) will back off and listen to reason," Rademacher said in an interview. "But I've got a mandate and no choice but to strike."

Letter carriers at their Seattle convention last August voted overwhelmingly to strike the Postal Service if new work standards now being tested at Kokomo, Ind., are put into effect.

Postal officials say the Kokomo plan, officially known as the Letter Carrier Route Evaluation System, was developed to measure individual carriers' performance so that more efficient routes can be established.

However, before the pilot program can be implemented nationwide, postal officials agreed to discuss the Kokomo results with union officials after March 1.

But Rademacher says the Postal Service appears ready to go ahead with the Kokomo plan regardless of the results. He contends that 15,000 jobs will be eliminated with the same volume of mail to be handled by fewer people.

Energy Taxes Drawing Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic congressional leaders told President Ford today they expect action within 90 days on key segments of his economic program, but voiced misgivings about his proposals for energy taxes and across-the-board tax rebates.

Senate Democratic whip Robert Byrd told reporters after Ford's White House breakfast with bipartisan congressional leaders that he thinks Congress may very well vote gasoline rationing instead of the conservation plan sought by the Republican President.

Ford formally presented his proposals to the Congress Wednesday, and House Democrats said afterwards they hoped to pass a tax cut within two months.

CRUDE OIL

Byrd said Democratic leaders pledged at today's breakfast to move quickly but told Ford "as a matter of course there would be some changes" in his proposals.

Specifically, Byrd said concern was expressed about granting a tax rebate across the board rather than concentrating in lower and middle-income levels.

He also said there is a growing consensus among Democrats that Ford's proposed)2-a-barrel tax on domestic and foreign crude oil would "lend additional fuel to the fires of inflation.

"I indicated my viewpoint that we ought to move to gasoline rationing," Byrd said. When asked whether Congress would pass a gasoline rationing plan, he responded, "I think it may very well do that."

Later, however, in response to questions, he declined to flatly predict passage of a mandatory rationing plan.

Ford asked for standby rationing authority.

Several Democrats said the measures outlined by Ford in a somber State of the Union speech Wednesday will fail to revitalize the slumping economy and will increase inflationary pressures by driving up the price of fuel.

For the most part, Republican lawmakers said Ford had faced up to the nation's problems and that it is now up to the heavily Democratic Congress to act.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total output of goods and services for the closing three months of last year took the second sharpest plunge since World War II, the government reported Thursday.

The Commerce Department said the fourth-quarter drop of 9.1 per cent in output came after adjustment for inflation. The same adjustment for inflation left the year's output 2.2 per cent below 1973.

Rep. Poage Is Ousted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two powerful House committee chairmen—F. Edward Hebert of Armed Services and W.R. Poage of Agriculture—were ousted today by the Democratic caucus.

Democrats emerging from the caucus on voting for the 21 House chairmen said Hebert was rejected 152 to 135 an Poage lost 143 to 141.

They thus became the third and fourth chairmen to suffer in a growing assault on the venerable seniority system in the House.

The steering committee voted Wednesday to replace Patman, an 81-year-old Texas Democrat, as chairman of the House Banking Committee with Rep. Henry S. Reuss, D-Wis. The panel also nominated Rep. Frank Thompson Jr., D-N.J., to replace Hays, an Ohio Democrat, as chairman of the House Administration Committee.

Rep. Bob Eckhardt, D-Tex., said Patman's defeat would hurt Hebert's chances.

"It would be an absolute travesty if Patman were ditched and Hebert were not," asserted Eckhardt, saying he was referring to the manner in which the two chairmen treated their committee members.

5-Year License Plates Arrive

License plates designed to last five years will be issued in Howard County starting Saturday, Feb. 1.

Newsom's Food Center, 1910 Gregg St., will be the only distributor that day, and the grocery only handles tags for passenger cars. But, on Monday, Feb. 3, both deputies in the county courthouse and at the Webb Air Force Base Federal Credit Union and will begin selling tags for all types of vehicles.

A deputy will distribute plates from the Coahoma City Hall on yet to be determined dates, Mrs. Zirah L. Bednar, county tax collector, said.

The new "multi-year" license plates will be renewable annually for five years.

Next year and later years, instead of buying a new plate, motorists with five-year plates will purchase adhesive tape stickers to put on the then old tags.

Some tags still must be replaced yearly. These include personalized plates and tags for radio operators, dealers and state officials.

Using semi-permanent plates will save Texas $8.5 million, state officials said.

Annual registration fees for motor vehicle owners will remain the smae as in the past: $12.30 for vehicles weighing up to 3,500 pounds, $22.30 for vehicles weighing 3,501 to 4,500 pounds and $30.30 for vehicles weighing 4,501 to 6,000 pounds. Vehicles weighing 6,001 pounds or more are charged at the rate of 55 cents per hundred pounds of weight.

Registrants may apply by mail immediately for license plates. Mail applicants should return renewal notices along with the fee and $1 for postage and handling to the county tax office or substation.

Allow 30 days for delivery. Registration deadline is midnight, April 1.

Also for the first time, a new five-year travel trailer plate will be available.

This classification includes all camper trailers and house trailer-type vehicles which are (1) not in excess of 6,000 pounds gross weight or (2) not in excess of 8 feet wide or 55 feet in overall length when measured in combination with the towing vehicle, regardless of weight. The registration fee is based on actual weight including all furnishings. Annual license plates and movement permits will be available for mobile homes and house trailer-type vehicles exceeding these specifications.

Counting both personalized and multi-year plates, Mrs. Bednar said 42,995 tags arrived at the courthouse Wednesday.

She hopes to have enough of the semi-permanent plates for the next five years.

Delegation To Attend Austin Air Meeting

A local delegation headed by Ron Mercer, chief executive officer for industrial growth and development, Mayor Wade Choate and Ken Perry, incoming president of the Chamber of Commerce, will go to Austin Feb. 12, at which time a hearing has been scheduled before the Texas Aeronautics Commission on an application for charter by El Paso Air Transport Inc.

The El Paso firm has been operating out of the Howard County Airport for the past several weeks.

The application says El Paso Air Transport proposes to provide scheduled passenger and air cargo service between Big Spring and the Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, with an intermediate stop at Abilene and between Big Spring and the Midland Air Terminal.

Mercer said he is hopeful the county will be represented at the Austin meeting.

El Paso Air Transport Inc., began flights out of the Howard County Airport with local blessings after an application to terminate service here by Texas International Airlines was approved by a federal mediator.

Three Are In Custody For Double Murder

LUBBOCK — Three suspects have been taken into custody here in connection with the Sunday night shooting of Warren Andrew McKay and his wife, Odessa, on a snow-covered dirt road near New Deal.

Raymond Sanders, 29, of Rt. 2, Lubbock, was charged with the murder of McKay. Charged earlier in the day were Leroy Wayne Green, 18, and Robert Lee White, 26, both of Lubbock.

All three were placed under $100,000 bond each by Justice of Peace F. H. Blen.

Sanders was arrested at a farm residence in Hale County near midnight Tuesday. Capt. Charlie Montgomery said a shotgun was confiscated at the place.

A pickup truck located at a rural residence near Abernathy was impounded. Its owner reportedly was Sanders' landlord.

Officers investigating the case said the pickups had three tires of a distinctive design and one snow tire.

Bodies of McKay, 64, and his wife, 55, were found by a passing motorist and his companions.

Both victims were fully clothed for the 12-degree weather, with the exception of Mrs. McKay, whose shoes were missing.

Mrs. McKay had been shot at close range behind her right ear. McKay was struck behind the right ear and in the back.

McKay was a custodial employe at Texas Tech until 1972. Mrs. McKay had been employed at the University Bookstore in Lubbock for the past year. Prior to that, she had worked at the University Center.

DISC JOCKEY MAKES $2,344 MISTAKE

SMITHLAND, Ky. (AP) — Radio station WKYX of Paducah has a bill for $2,334.50, all because of a telephone call in which the disc jockey on duty was told Livingston County schools would be closed because of weather.

The caller on Sunday identified herself as the secretary to Schools Supt. H.B. Alderdice. She said schools would be closed Monday, and the station employe made several announcements of the report.

But Alderdice told the county Board of Education Monday the caller wasn't his secretary and the schools weren't supposed to be closed. He said 667 pupils stayed home.

He billed the station $3.50 for each absent pupil, the amount the county school system receives in state aid for each pupil present.

"It was a mess," Alderdice said. "Bus drivers began their runs and halfway through someone would tell them that school was called off. Then the bus drivers would turn around and head back home and on the way find out that there really was school ... Everyone was really confused."

WKYX General Manager Gary Morris told the board in a letter that the mistake was made by an employe who did not know the station's procedure for verifying calls of school closings. He promised it wouldn't happen again.

Asked Wednesday if WKYX had indicated whether the bill would be paid, Alderdice said, "I don't know. They still have it. They didn't say anything about (paying) it."

MEMBERS OF FAMED BAND STOP HERE OVERNIGHT — Fourteen members of the internationally-known Woody Herman Orchestra stopped at the Holiday Inn here overnight Wednesday, en route to an engagement at the Fred Astaire Dance Club in Dallas. Traveling by bus, the musicians had given a concert in El Paso. The band members got such a friendly reception here, one member, trumpeter Buddy Powers (second from right) said he could hardly wait to return. "This is my kind of town," Powers said, before the band departed via bus for Dallas this morning. Woody, the maestro, whose recording "Woodchippers Ball," sold in the millions, had flown on ahead to Dallas.

Problem Of Deafness Can Be Surmounted

"Deafness — A Handicap?" was the title of a program presented by Mrs. Bob Tarbet Monday evening at a dinner meeting of the Big Spring Chapter of the Council of Exceptional Children.

"Deafness cannot hear sounds well enough to communicate," said Mrs. Tarbet, "so deaf persons are lonely due to lack of communication and the attitude of the community. Learning to speak, for a deaf person, is like learning to speak a foreign language from someone who speaks no English. There is no common ground."

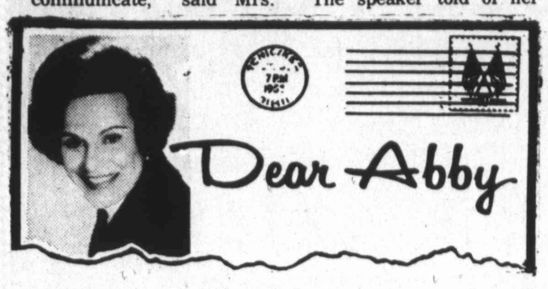

The speaker told of her background and her education in the John Tracy School for the Deaf. She said the most important aspect was her teacher's optimism that she would learn to speak. She challenged each teacher to be the spark that starts the fire in the "one" student that is so difficult to reach.

Signs of deafness in children may be withdrawal from activities, complaints of ear aches, poor speech sounds, lack of attention to teacher, requests for repeating what is said, misunderstanding of what is said, constant looking at a person's lips in an effort to communicate or a monotone voice.

Mrs. Tarbet stressed the importance of observation and visual clues to conversation, noting that the deaf person must "swallow his pride" and say that he did not understand. The person speaking to the deaf should talk in a normal tone, not exaggerate the speech sounds, and remove gum, cigarettes or pipes from the mouth.

In conclusion, she said that lip readers can be expert conversationalists because they give their total attention to the speaker.

The invocation was given by Gerald Wilson, and Mrs. Nedelene Speegle, president, conducted the election of new officers. They are Mrs. Anna Steen, president; Mrs. Kay Wilson, president-elect; Mike Cowley, vice president; Mrs. Judy Thompson, treasurer; and Mrs. Sue Burnett, secretary.

Flood Of Facts Come From Fish Fanciers

DEAR ABBY: "Sorry for fish" asked if fish felt pain. She said she goes fishing with a friend who fillets the fish right after it's caught, and she can't bear to watch because it's still alive and wiggling.

You told her that since fish have nervous systems, they must have feelings, and suggested that she tell her impatient friend to wait until the fish dies before he fillets it.

Abby, you certainly don't know much about fish. What's so humane about letting a fish die gasping for breath out of water? An expert fisherman first cracks the fish on its head to stun it, then quickly cuts off the head with a sharp knife.

Dead fish decompose very quickly. (About 200 times faster than pork or beef.) The sooner after a fish is caught it is prepared for eating, the better it will taste.

FISHWIFE

DEAR FISHWIFE: Since my piscatorial expertise is limited to suckers, that one fish letter prompted a flood of letters. Here's another:

DEAR ABBY: If fish feel pain, there must be a lot of suffering fish in Japan where we have made our home for the last four years.

The Japanese take great pride in serving whole fish with their bellies sliced in strips while the fish is still breathing! (This is called "sashimi.")

The diners exclaim with delight, "Oh, look how fresh the fish is!" Another Japanese delicacy is live trout, skewered and placed over burning coals. And this is done right before your eyes, Abby.

So tell "Sorry for fish" if she ever visits a fine Japanese restaurant, she had better bring her handkerchief.

ALSO SORRY FOR FISH

DEAR ABBY: The proper procedure for preparing freshly caught fish is as follows: First, rap the fish smartly on the head. This will kill it humanely and immediately. Then clean the fish at once, and either eat it or freeze it as soon as possible.

Some of my friends think I know what I am talking about because I am not only the president of the Rainbow chapter of Trout Unlimited in Anchorage, Alaska, but I was recently elected to the House of Representatives.

MIKE HERSHBERGER

DEAR MIKE: Your presidency of "Trout Unlimited" suggests that you know how to fish. Your election to the House suggests that you know the right bait, too. Congrats!

DEAR ABBY: Do fish feel pain? Only a fish knows for sure. But when it comes to preparing freshly caught fish, any fisherman worth his salt knows that fish should be killed as soon as it's caught. Then it should be either put under refrigeration or eaten. The flesh of fish starts to deteriorate the minute the fish is dead, and in a matter of hours it's not fit to eat. That's why fishermen put their catch on a stringer and back into the water until they are finished fishing.

With ice fishing it's different. The fish is tossed into a bucket of water to freeze quickly. However, when you take them home to clean, if you put them in lukewarm water to thaw before cleaning, they will "come back to life" and start swimming around again.. This used to fascinate our children.

Bicentennial Plan Originated In 1966

Steps in the organization of the Bicentennial Commission were given by Mrs. Johnnie Lou Avery for the Organic Soil Builders Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Preach Martin.

In 1966, President Richard Nixon made the initial announcement of the commission, however, it wasn't until 1972 that plans began to come together. That year, Texas announced bicentennial plans and, in August of 1974, cities and counties named steering committees. Clubs and organizations were sent material in September so that plans could be started for participation.

Three categories being used are heritage, horizon and festival. The first would denote the past; the second, the future; and the festival, fun.

Suggestions for club participation include "the greening of America" by planting trees as living memorials and cleaning up the environment.

The speaker stressed involving children to increase their patrotism and make them more aware of pollution and ecology.

Other guests were Mrs. E. D. Campbell and Russell Johnson.

The next meeting will be Feb. 10 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Leonard, 2310 Roberts.

'Life Positions' Viewed By TESCO Speaker

A theory of transactional analysis which is expounded in the book, "I'm O.K. — You're O.K.," by Dr. Thomas A. Harris, has been used as a basis for a personnel training course prepared by American Airlines.

David Williams of Texas Electric Service Company, guest speaker Tuesday for the 1970 Hypérion Club, said the course is also taught by his company to all employes.

Using slides for illustration, Williams said Dr. Eric Berne, noted California psychologist, expounded on the theory presented in the book as early as 1950. The book was written in 1967 and has enjoyed tremendous success since 1971.

In the book, Dr. Harris suggests there are three life positions that affect all people's lives. The position assumed by the majority of people is "I'm not o.k. — you're o.k." The other catagories are "I'm o.k. — you're not o.k." and "I'm o.k. — you're o.k."

The three ego states in all people are "the child," "the parent" and "the adult."

The first contains the "taught" concept of life, the second the "felt" concept and the third the "thought" concept.

In the theory, transaction is the basic unit of relationship between people.

Williams explained that always and never are usually "parent" words, indicating a closed mind. "Child" words are those such as I wish, I want, I don't care, I don't know and I'm gonna.

"Adult" words would include who, how, when, why, how much and in my opinion.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. O. H. Ivie with Mrs. Robert Knight as cohostess. Mrs. Ivie, vice president, presided.

Guests were Mrs. Lou England and Mrs. Pat Tucker. Resignations were submitted by Mrs. Linda McDowell and Mrs. Vera Carlisle.

It was announced that Mrs. Robert Massengale, president, has moved to Midland but will commute to Big Spring to complete her presidency.

Ron Plumlee, Big Spring High head basketball coach, says the Steers have had exceptionally good luck in beating Midland Lee in the past.

The Rebels riding along at a 3-0 district clip and an incredible 19-1 overall total, gallop into town Friday night.

Plumlee points out that the defending champs, who are a landslide pick to take the 5-5A marbles again, took it on the chin against Big Spring in Midland last season. But in Big Spring, the Rebels won a 66-64 cliff-hanger.

Plumlee though he had no luck with Permian, Tuesday, has always been fortunate in breaking Lee's press. "I see no reason why we can't play good ball from here on in."

History could stand a repeat of itself as a Rebel victory would no doubt inflate the Steers ego.

Benny Marquez, manager, put a notice on my typewriter that the Big Spring A's semi-pro baseball club will hold its first meeting of the year at El Sombrero Products, Lamesa Highway, Friday, at 8 p.m.

Plans for the new season will be discussed and all those interested are urged to attend.

The Howard College Hawkette basketball team will be battling for honors in the Region V NJCAA Women's Tournament on Feb. 20-22 on the campus of Western Texas, Snyder.

Snyder Jaycees and Western Texas are co-sponsors as announced by Tim Burton, Jaycee president. "This is the first women's tournament eve held by the NJCAA," said Dr. Sid Simpson, WTC athletic director.

Teams entered besides Howard College include Ranger Junior College, Weatherford Junior College, host WTC with Clarendon Junior College and South Plains expressing interest.

The winner of the tournament and possibly the runner-up have been invited to the National Junior College affair at Kansas City, Kan., in March.

The Midland Cubs will open their 1975 season on Friday, April 11 against the 1974 Texas League Western champion, El Paso Diablos.

The 136 game season will revolve around 68 home games on 64 dates which features four doubleheaders. Twin-bills are figured in for four Saturdays, April 26 with Shreveport, May 17 against Arkansas, June 7 opposing El Paso and July 12, hosting LaFayette.

As in past seasons, "Ladies Night" will continue to be every Thursday night. Escorted ladies will be admitted to the grandstand free of charge and unescorted ladies admitted for the reduced rate of 75 cents.

The first ladies night is scheduled for April 24.

Also as last year. "Senior Citizens Night" will be as always, Tuesday night. Anyone 65 years of age or older will be admitted to the general grandstand for only 75 cents.

The first Senior Citizens Night will be April 15 against El Paso. Game times will remain the same as last season: single night games, 7:45 p.m. and doubleheader, 6:30 p.m. Sunday games in April and May start at 1:30 p.m.

Ranked State On TV

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — For the past three years, David Thompson and successful Maryland basketball haven't mixed.

Thompson, who carried North Carolina State to the NCAA championship last season, leads the fourth-ranked Wolfpack into Cole Field House for a nationally televised game tonight (7 p.m., CST) against fifth-ranked Maryland.

A sellout home crowd of 14,500 will turn out for a last look at Thompson, hoping they finally get to see the Terps score a victory over State while the sensational senior is around.

The Wolfpack has whipped the Terps six straight times over the past two seasons, only once by more than six points, and Thompson has averaged 31 points a game. The two losses at home were by 86-80 and 87-85.

Maryland is 11-1 for the current season, losing only to second ranked UCLA 81-75. The Terps have twice beaten Wake Forest, which handed State its only loss in 11 starts, 83-78, ending a 36-game winning streak.

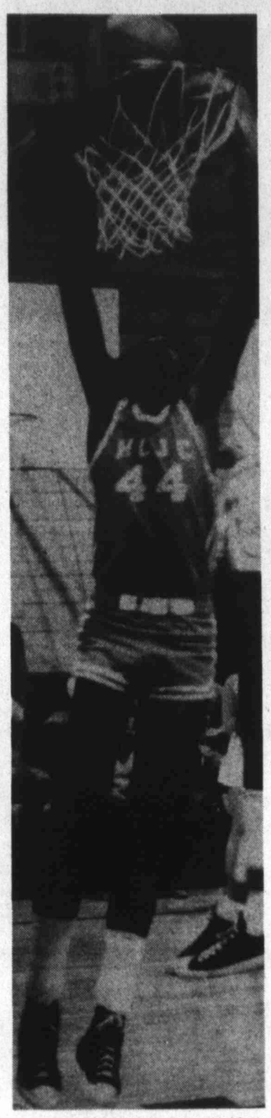

Thompson missed 15 of 20 shots against Wake Forest's zone, but Maryland Coach Lefty Driesell plans to use his usual man-to-man defense with muscular sophomore Steve Sheppard assigned to guard Thompson.

"John Lucas wanted to guard Thompson," Driesell said of Maryland's star guard. "But he's cocky and wants to guard everybody. He even wanted to guard Bill Walton last year."

Only two of the nation's major ranked teams were in action Wednesday night.

Hawks Hope To Use FPC As Western Springboard

Questionable Starter

By CLARK LESHER

Howard College banks on using Frank Phillips College as a spring board to enhance its chances of vaulting back into Western Conference contention here tonight at 7:30.

Tickets for each Hawk home game are $2 for adults and $1 for students. Howard College students will not be charged upon presentation of their ID cards.

The Hawks, who lost a 92-89 cliff-hanger to Amarillo, there, Tuesday, dropped out of a first place tie with Western Texas and into a second place deadlock.

Western Texas, (4-0), by virtue of its 100-75 decision over South Plains Monday night, holds sole claim to first place in the WJCAC. The Snyder-based crew, suffered its only loss in 14 tries at the hands of South Plains last Thursday. League play was not involved.

Amarillo College trails Western Texas with a 4-1 mark followed by the Hawks, waving forth a 3-1 record. The Badgers now 10-2 for the season travels to Odessa College tonight. HC for the year stands at 13-5.

In the other conference game played Monday, New Mexico Junior College pasted Odessa College 104-96.

Hawk head coach Harold Wilder received startling news when 6-1 freshman Johnny Harris twisted his ankle prior to Wednesday's drills.

Harris' availability in the Frank Phillips game is listed doubtful by Wilder.

David Giles, 6-9 freshman, hurt his right hand in the Amarillo test and is a questionable starter. If Harris is unavailable for service, Alan Davis or Ernest Lawrence will start. If Harris and Giles are scratched from the starting lineup, both Davis and Lawrence will be pressed into service.

Wilder informs that Don Davis, who played for the Hawks last season, will suit up for the contest tonight.

Wilder assisted by Leroy McClendon will have his regular trio of 6-2 Alfred Gladden, Larry Erves and Marvin Johnson ready to go.

Amarillo College's Darrel Hollimon calmly tossed in a pair of free throws with eight second left to trip up the Hawks.

Hollimon's clinch shots, (a one-and-one situation), were engineered when Badger sophomore Paul Cook tied up the ball off a missed charity gift by the Hawks' Erves with Ernest Lawrence of Howard College.

On the jump ball, Cook controlled the tip to the Memphis, Tenn. freshman and he was fouled by Hawk guard Harris.

The game was a see-saw affair with the Badgers jumping into a lead, only to see the Hawks come roaring back.

Johnson, 6-4 freshman, led the Hawk scoring punch as he compiled 26 points. Harris, relying chiefly on outside jumpers had 22 points.

Johnson, the leading Hawk scorer, ranks as the fourth best Western Conference marksman. He averages 22.8 points per game.

The Hawks Erves, 6-4 freshman and Harris, 6-1 freshman, are listed among the top 17 shooters. Erves is listed sixth, 21.1 points per game and Harris, 17th, 14.3.

Wilder received notice last Friday that 6-7 freshman David Boles from Benterdorf, Iowa, has packed his bags and headed for home. Boles sudden departure was labeled "Homesickness."

Boles had seen spot service in 17 games. The Hawk roster is now depleted to eight men. Wilder anticipates of picking up two players in the near future.

Frank Phillips' new coach Audie Apple has only one letterman returning in 6-0 guard Terry Scott. First year strength come from 6-5 Herman Kirven, 6-3 Harold Holland, 6-5 Henry Crawford, 6-0 Travis Jefferson and 6-3 Charles Smith.

Alan Cornelius, a 6-3 sophomore postman, guards 5-11 Tim Wright and 5-10 Dewayne Holley and 6-1 forward James Mears round out the Plainsmen squad. Frank Phillips finished last year on a 7-16 note and this season ia 1-3 in the conference and 5-7 for the year.

Smith is the Western conference leader with a 24.6 point average per game.

Minor Changes Made

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — College football virtually left its rules untouched Wednesday and produced statistics showing that fans get more action for their money than they do at professional games.

Only six significant minor changes were made by the NCAA Football Rules Committee, dealing largely with the safety of players.

The changes includes strict enforcement of the mouthpiece rule, cracking down on tear away jersies which leave pads protruding, giving referees authority to suspend play at any time the conditions warrant, and making the 30 yard line markers instead of the 35 the team areas on the sidelines.

Also, the rules makers made uniform the type of football to be used and changed the so-called free ball rule" dealing with penalties on punts and kickoffs.

"College football teams averaged 141 plays per game to 120 per game for the National Football League," said Dave Nelson, Delaware Athletic Director who is secretary of the committee. "It was our lowest year for pass completions, but we had a higher average of yards per completion and touchdown passes.

"That means teams were loading up to defend against the run so when a pass was completed it went a long way."

Nelson said one reason collegians have more plays than the pros in a 60-minute game is that the clock is not started until the snap of the ball after change of possession and stopped after each first down until the chains are moved.

"We also allow just 25 seconds to put the ball into play while the NFL takes 30 seconds," Nelson said. "On the average, a college team will get a play off in 11 to 13 seconds while it takes a pro team some 20 seconds."

Chairman John Waldorf of the Big Eight said the rules committee saw no need to seriously consider one-platoon football, moving kickoffs to the 35-yard line, or sudden death periods for tie games.

Palmer Makes PGA Bid

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — "Bar him from the tour," suggested Orville Moody.

"That's the only way any of us are gonna handle him — bar him from the tour."

"He's playing the way people dream about playing." said U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin.

"When a guy's short game is that good, you just can't touch him," said Dave Hill.

"Right now, he's the best in the world. Better than Jack Nicklaus or Gary Player or anybody," said Jerry Heard. "He's the absolute best.

"He's unbeatable."

And Johnny Miller has been just that — unbeatable — in his last few starts. He's won his last three by the unlikely margins of eight, seven and a record 14 strokes. In his last start he was 24 under par for the tournament and posted a score of 260 — the lowest in the last 20 years.

Among his chief opponents were PGA champ Lee Trevino, a two-time winner of this tournament; Arnold Palmer, making his first appearance of the year: U.S. Open titleholder Hale Irwin; $1-million winners Billy Casper, Gene Littler, Tom Weiskopf and Australian Bruce Crampton; and seven of last year's top 10 money winners.

Colts Name Coach

BALTIMORE (AP) — Ted Marchibroda said he doesn't drink milk, and he's never been known to lick his thumb on the sidelines, but more important traits of mentor George Allen have rubbed off.

After 14 years as an assistant coach in the National Football League, the last nine under Allen, Marchibroda has signed a three-year contract as head coach of the Baltimore Colts.

"I wanted somebody who had been with a winner, who understands what it means to win," General Manager Joe Thomas said at a Wednesday news conference. "I didn't care whether he had a big name or not."

Thomas said he was impressed by the numerous recommendations received on Marchibroda's behalf, and on his record of directing the offense of nine consecutive winning teams at Los Angeles and Washington.

Although the 43-year-old Marchibroda said he had had "no great desire to become a head coach" and had never applied for such a job, he felt 14 years as an assistant was an adequate apprenticeship.

Authorities To Question Mrs. Wilson

HOUSTON (AP) — Authorities say they hope to interview the widow of Houston Astros pitcher Don Wilson concerning the deaths of her husband and young son.

Wilson, 29, and his son, Alexander, 5, died Jan. 5 when they suffered carbon monoxide poisoning at their southwest Houston home.

Homicide detective Larry Ott said Wednesday Bernice Wilson, 27, now declines to discuss the case with homicide officers and refers all questions to her attorney.

Ott said officers will confer with the lawyer about an interview with Mrs. Wilson. Ott said so far as police are concerned the case was an accident but authorities wish to clear up various elements in the story.

Wilson's body was found in his car in the garage of the home. Police said the car's engine appeared to have been running for about five hours before the gasoline tank was emptied.

Avery Receives Big Bass Award

Jerry Avery was named the Big Bass winner of 1974 by the Big Spring Bass Club with a catch of 8 pounds 13 ounces.

Avery was also the December winner of the "Fish Anywhere" endeavor. His total catch weighed out 11 pounds 6 ounces.

Following Avery in the "Fish Anywhere" monthly contest were: Vic Kepp, 8 pounds 5 ounces; and (tie) Jackie Touchstone and Jerry Dudley, 7 pounds 10 ounces.

The tournament Big Bass was caught by Keys, 4 poudns 15 ounces and the monthly December award went to Terry Denton. He reeled in a 4 pound 10½ ounce catch.

The tournament for January will also include a "Fish Anywhere" month long tournament. Competition started last Thursday and extends through Feb. 13. A three-fish string must be caught and weighed the same day.

A trophy is inscribed with the name of the fisherman catching the largest bass each month. The winning angler keeps the trophy until a new monthly record is established.

At the end of the year, the club member who holds up the biggest catch keeps the trophy permanently. Avery received that honor.

The Bass Club meets the second Thursday each month at the Dora Roberts Vocational Building.

Monthly bass tournaments are located on a rotating basis from lakes as close as Colorado City to lakes as far away as Amisted.

The annual club fee is $7.50 for an individual and $10 for husband and wife. All children under 16 years of age are honorary members if their parents are paid members.

Membership information can be obtained from Keys at 263-3543 or Touchstone at 263-6246.

The club was originally organized in April of 1971 and has climbed upward to a membership level of 148, including 38 couples.

Another Honor For Ali

NEW YORK (AP) — Muhammad Ali evened two scores last year — beating Joe Frazier and regaining the heavyweight championship he had lost out of the ring. For his successes, he was named The Associated Press Male Athlete of 1974.

Ali, who regained the title by knocking out George Foreman in Africa, received 162 votes in a nationwide poll of sports writers and sportscasters. Hank Aaron, who broke Babe Ruth's carreer home run record by hitting No. 715 in April, finished second with 110 points and Lou Brock, who set a major league base-stealing record of 118, was third with 67.

Tennis star Chris Evert was named Female Athlete of the Year for 1974 Wednesday.

"Do they pick the best athlete or the most famous," asked Ali when informed of winning the 44th annual poll.

"The best," he was told.

Ali smiled.

The 32-year-old champion had a lot to smile about in 1974.

"It was my greatest year," said Ali who opened it by beating Joe Frazier on a unanimous 12-round decision Jan. 28 at Madison Square Garden to avenge a 15-round decision loss to Frazier, then champion, March 8, 1971.

Shoate, Kelcher Finalists

HOUSTON (AP) — Oklahoma's Rod Shoate and Southern Methodist's Louie Kelcher feel innocent people—themselves included—were harmed when the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) placed the two schools on probation.

Shoate and Kelcher, along with Ohio State's Pete Cusick and Maryland's Randy White, are here as finalists for the fifth annual Vince Lombardi Award, to be presented tonight at a $100 per plate dinner.

Individual post-season honors were all Kelcher and Shoate could look forward to since the NCAA made both schools ineligible for bowl games after finding them guilty of NCAA rules.

"I don't think we should have been punished in the first place because we weren't responsible for what happened," said Shoate, who helped the Sooners to a perfect 11-0 season and the No. 1 ranking in the final AP major college football poll. "It's sort of hard. It hurts the ones that never have been exposed to a bowl game.

"But even though we were on probation, they didn't tell us not to win. The coaches developed in us that sometimes you can get back at them more if you just take your punishment, smile and go on winning."

That's just what the Sooners did, but it didn't work as well for the Mustangs.

SPORTS SHORTS

ATLANTA (AP) — The Atlanta Falcons of the National Football League have hired Ed Khayat of the Detroit Lions to coach their defensive line.

Khayat, hired Wednesday by Falcon Coach Marion Campbell, has been defensive line coach at Detroit since 1973.

A 10-year veteran of the NFL, Khayat played for Washington and Philadelphia, and Boston of the old American Football League.

He was on the coaching staff of the New Orleans Saints from 1967 to 1970 and moved to the Philadelphia Eagles' staff in 1971

Astros Assign Goetz To Iowa

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Astros have announced the signing of catcher Jack Goetz, the team's No. 2 pick in the regular phase of the recent free agent draft.

An Astros spokesman said Goetz, 21, who attended Rollins College in Winter Park, Fla., would report to the Astros' Class A farm team at Dubuque, Iowa, in the Midwest League.

ROYAL AGREEMENT

Killebrew Bids Twins Farewell

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Aging slugger Harmon Killebrew has bid farewell to the Minnesota Twins and hopes to gain a new lease on his baseball life with the Kansas City Royals.

Joe Burke, general manager of the Royals, announced Wednesday the club has reached an agreement with the famed 38-year-old home run specialist and that Killebrew "can sign a contract with us as soon as he is released by the Twins."

Killebrew came to terms with the Royals after day-long reports he was headed for the Texas Rangers. Burke did not disclose terms of the one-year agreement but the Rangers said they would not meet Killebrew's reported request for $80,000 a year.

Royals Stadium may have been a factor in Killebrew's desire to join Kansas City rather than Texas.

"Texas might have the toughest park to hit in in both leagues," Killebrew said from his home in Ontario, Ore. "I certainly hope I can play a couple more years. Kansas City is giving me that opportunity.

"I like the ballpark, and I like the club's chances of being a pennant winner."

Killebrew will be used by the Royals as a designated hitter and pinch hitter. He had 74 hits in 333 times at bat, 13 home runs and drove in 54 runs for the Twins in 1974.

Killebrew's move to the Royals closes out a 14-year reign in Minnesota with whom he became one of baseball's most feared hitters.

He has 559 career home runs, many of them of record distance, and is fifth on the all-time list.

Burke was elated and Twins owner Calvin Griffith and thousands of Minnesota fans saddened by Wednesday's developments.

"We are delighted to have Killebrew," said Burke. "We believe he can help us tremendously and will add much needed right-handed hitting power to our lineup."

"He's been with the Twins for the past 14 years," said Griffith, who signed Killebrew in 1954 fresh out of high school at Payette, Idaho. "We're tremendously indebted to him for all he's meant to our organization and our area."

Retired Coach To Be Honored

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — AmericanBasketball Association spokesmen say they will honor retired C ach Babe McCarthy by presenting an award named after him at the eighth annual Aba All Star game here Jan. 28.

The winning coach in the mid-season Aba classic each year will get a bronze bust of McCarthy, who ended his career last April.

"This award is a tribute to McCarthy, both as a coach and a person," said ABA Commissioner Tedd Munchak. "He did much to enhance the stature of the league."

McCarthy, 51, is the only twotime winning coach in the ABA's All-star game. He lost in a third game. He now lives at Baldwin, Miss., and is battling a cancer of the colon.

Each year a bust will be cast from the original mold made by University of Texas art student Gary McElhaney of Corpus Christi.

Urging Trial Without Delay For Rep. Montoya

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Lawyers for Rep. Greg Montoya say they are anxious to get on with his trial on theft charges Jan. 27.

"I want to lift the burden from this man's shoulders," Rep. Craig Washington, D-Houston, told reporters following the Elsa Democrat's pretrial hearing Wednesday.

State District Court Judge Mace Thurman rejected Montoya's motion to quash the indictment despite arguments by his lawyers that the site of the alleged crime was his home county of Hidalgo.

No motion has been filed to change the trial site on grounds of excessive publicity because, his lawyers say, that would imply agreement that Travis County was the proper place to file charges in the first place.

The judge is expected to rule on the venue issue at the Jan. 27 trial.

Montoya could have the trial postponed until after the legislative session if he wanted to regardless of who his lawyer is because Montoya himself is a legislator, Washington said.

Opening lead: Queen of ♦

The choice of an opening lead can make a tremendous difference to the outcome of a bridge hand. At times the difference can be dramatic, such as when a particular opening lead causes immediate defeat of the contract. At others, the result is not immediately apparent. Consider this deal from the Mixed Pairs Championship at the recent ACBL Fall Nationals.

Seven spades was a fairly popular contract, reached on an auction such as the above. After North jump raised his partner's suit, both players cue-bid their controls, and South leaped to seven spades because of the quality of his suit.

At most tables, West led the queen of diamonds, and the grand slam could be made via a dummy reversal. After winning the king of diamonds, declarer ruffs a diamond with a high trump, enters dummy with the four of trumps to the eight, and ruffs another diamond high. Dummy is reentered by overtaking the nine of trumps and the last low diamond is ruffed with declarer's remaining trump honor. All that remains is to enter dummy with the king of clubs, draw the outstanding trump and claim the contract.

When Mildred Kielpinski of Amarillo, Texas, held the West cards, she attacked with a trump. This lead seemed innocuous enough, but it made all the difference in the world. It used up an entry to dummy before declarer could put it to constructive use. To ruff three losing diamonds, declarer had to use two trump entries and the king of clubs.

However, he now had no quick entry to dummy to draw West's remaining trump. The only possibility was to get there with a heart ruff. This would have been easily accomplished had West held two hearts, but West ruffed the first heart for down one.

Of course, declarer can make the hand if he knows the distribution. He can play East for both missing heart honors, and get home by drawing three rounds of trumps and then taking repeat finesses in hearts.

Firm Laying Off 30 Employes

ODESSA — General Tire and Rubber Company will lay off 30 workers at its plant here, officials have announced.

The layoff becomes effective Jan. 27.

In addition the cutback in personnel, Eddie Butler, corporate director of cummunications for the firm, said:

"It reflects the cutback in production in the industry and the decline in the economy."

General Tire was one of the first firms to locate in the petro-chemical complex south of the city. The firm started production here in August, 1957.

Two To Speak To Engineers

The Permian Basin section of the American Chemical Society will meet Tuesday at the Bonanza Steak House, 903 Andrews Highway, Midland, 7 p.m. Dr. Jeanette Nappier, visiting assistant professor of the Unversity of Texas Permian Basin, and Dr. Thomas Nappier, director of the UTPB laboratories, will speak about environmental concerns. They will deal with small molecules such as sulphur dioxide, nitric oxide, and carbon monoxide.

Two Are Hurt In Accidents

Two wrecks in the city Wednesday saw one person injured in each accident.

Mrs. Rosalee Hill was taken to Hall-Bennett Hospital after a car in which she was riding and driven by Albert Hill, Box 262, was involved in a collision with a vehicle driven by Steven Rogers at 710 E. 14th.

The wreck occurred at 11th and State when Hill attempted a left hand turn. It happened at 12:09 p.m.

Melinda Perkins, 610 Goliad, was taken by private car to the Malone Hogan clinic after the car in which she was riding, which was driven by Evaristo Galindo Trevino, 1308 Mesa, was in a collision with a car driven by Jerry Edward Sullivan of Mexia.

LONGEST HAIR — Services were planned today in Detroit for Jackie Walls, who gained fame in the 1920s as "the girl with the longest hair in the United States." At its maximum, her hair was seven feet, four inches long. Miss Walls died at age 78. This photo was taken in the 1920s.

Died Virtually Penniless

DETROIT (AP) — Jackie Walls, who gained fame in the 1920s as "the girl with the longest hair in the United States," died virtually penniless.

At its maximum length, Miss Walls' hair reached 7 feet, 4 inches. She toured the nation to exhibit her gold-and-copper tresses in parades and fairs.

"Jackie was the most beautiful woman in the world when she was young," said a neighbor, Katherine Nassar. "God gave her that beautiful hair."

MOD Workers Awaiting Kickoff Of Campaign

Reaction to the March of Dimes appeal for walkers in the 1975 Mothers' March has been gratifying, reports campaign chairman Carol Reese. "We had 600 work packets for volunteers, and they have all been distributed."

The Mothers' March is slated for Jan. 20 to 27, with the concentrated effort set on Monday, Jan. 27.

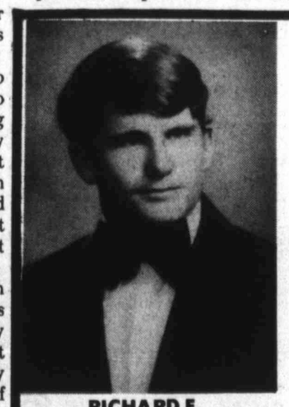

Additional volunteers can be used to fill last minute cancellations, according to Mrs. Reese. Persons interested in helping the March of Dimes should call her at 267-6414, or 263-7087 after 4 p.m.

The 100 zone leaders for the campaign have been invited to a kick-off coffee at 10 a.m. Saturday at the Country Club. They will meet Jonathan Whitehead, 3-year-old Foster Child for the CapRock Chapter of the March of Dimes. The MOD film, "A Way of Life," also will be shown.

"Birth defects affect over 200,000 children a year," says Mrs. Reese, "and many of those cases could be prevented with proper care before as well as after birth."

Mrs. Reese says that the pregnant mother has a big responsibility — to make sure she is eating the right foods, avoiding possibly harmful drugs, getting enough exercise, and seeing her doctor regularly.

The March of Dimes is helping this process in two ways, she said. "Through its medical programs, MOD is trying to seek out 'high-risk' mothers; and also to make available on a regional basis the most up-to-date medical services for babies in immediate danger right after delivery."

Reports DPS Spied On Texans' Private Lives

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Department of Public Safety peeped into Texans' private lives and illegally maintained records on them until last year, a Senate staff report says.

Only after Continental Airlines pilot Robert Pomeroy revealed that DPS agent David Dimick had investigated him and turned over his findings to Continental did the DPS change its practice, the report said.

"It is of little comfort to thousands of Texans to know that their files were disposed of after it was discovered that they were being kept without their knowledge and available to any private investigator wise enough in the ways of the department to invade their nonexistent protection of the privacy of Texas citizens' files," the report said.

APOLOGIZED

If was prepared by general counsel Mark Cohen of the Senate Jurisprudence Committee, which will consider it at a date still to be set.

In addition, Cohen said, the committee chairman, Sen. A.R. Schwartz, D-Galveston, will introduce a bill designed to protect Texans' privacy.

Cohen's report includes information gathered by Dallas Sen. Oscar Mauzy's subcommittee which probed the DPS surveillance of Pomeroy.

Testimony and evidence collected by that subcommittee, the report said, "shows that investigations have been made on individuals not even remotely connected with criminal activity and countless permanent files were maintained without statutory authority by the Intelligence Service until the 1974 incident caused by agent Dimick."

PRIVACY

Although the DPS apologized to Pomeroy, he filed suit for $10,000 against DPS director Wilson Speir and Dimick.

Dimick's rationale in investigating Pomeroy, the report recounted, was that "since Mr. Pomeroy opposed nuclear power and there had been some destruction of utility equipment in other states, Mr. Pomeroy could be planning sabotage."

After the Pomeroy incident, the report said, "DPS shredded all noncriminal intelligence files in bulk. Such actions raises a reasonable suspicion that many reports like the one on Mr. Pomeroy had been made in the past."

Cohen's report added, "There should be no investigation of any person in the state of Texas unless there is a clear and present danger of imminent unlawful conduct by such person or that such person is presently engaged in or has committed unlawful conduct."

Before an agent makes such an investigation, the report said, he should seek authorization from the sergeant-in-charge, and he should not write a report on his investigation until he has approval of the captain-in-charge.

Candidate's Attorney Cost Total $5,522

The Midland attorney who represented Mrs. Peggy Crittenden, now district clerk, in the Democratic primary election suit charged $5,522, a supplemental campaign financial report shows.

William L. Kerr Sr., defeated the challenger of election results through action of the states 11th Court of Civil Appeals, Eastland.

M. Fern Cox, the incumbent district clerk, lost by one vote, according to first the canvass and then a recount. But, when an additional ballot was later discovered, Cox contested through 118th District Court here.

The report filed in the county clerk's office Wednesday, indicates Mrs. Crittenden owes Kerr $3,825.

Already, Mrs. Crittenden has spend $2,389, including part of the attorney's fees, toward the primary and general election.

She shows $70 in contributions.

Mrs. Margaret Ray, new county clerk, spent a total of $1,412 in the primary and general campaigns. Contributions added to $590.

Candidates who spent or received campaign money since their last report are required to file a report by Jan. 15.

Mrs. Ray and Mrs. Crittenden were the only two who filed the supplemental report.

HOROSCOPE

FRIDAY, JANUARY 17, 1975

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You can get a great deal accomplished, especially through persons in positions of power and authority, if you make a point to avoid pushing matters or showing you are upset when things don't go your way.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Use more tact with others, or you could get into big trouble. Find a better way to handle any problems you may have.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Being considerate of friends is fine, but do not involve yourself in their problems, especially emotional ones. Use own judgment instead of adviser's.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Follow what your boss has to say instead of getting so involved with a fellow worker who could lead you astray. Do not waste time with the fanciful.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 22) Concnetrate more on how to expand in the near future and forget that work that is so exacting for the time being.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Forget that amusement you have in mind and get busy with whatever is truly important to make your life more successful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle partnership problems wisely and don't disturb your family with them. Find some new associates better for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Organize your work so you have few interruptions from troublemakers. Eat proper foods that will strengthen you. Sociable p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have creative ideas that need to be brought to the attention of those who can help you make a success of them.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use good judgment in handling property matters and cooperate more with kin. Derive fringe benefits from outside projects.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Contacting whoever can make your life more interesting and your work more efficient is wise now. Study papers, textbooks for data.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Any affairs of financial importance should be checked over very carefully now and advise taken from the influential.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you pursue direct methods in going after personal aims, you get fine results now. Rely on trusted friends for the greater progress you want socially.

70 Blocks Of Paving

Second phase of the city's paving program has just gotten under way and includes 110 city blocks, according to Dewey Byers, chief city inspector.

This paving program was officially approved in August 1974 and began in the area near the new hospital with sewage work just completed in that area.

Phase I of the continuing paving program began in May 1973 and included 70 blocks of pavement which was completed midway in 1974.

The city hopes to continue to phase out paving programs until the city streets are paved, according to goals set up by the council.

ALL-OUT PRODUCTION

Oilmen Let Politicians Kick Them, Say Nothing?

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission ordered all-out production today for February after a spokesman for thousands of independent oil operators they had "at least begun the big turnaround" in drilling new wells.

February will be the 35th consecutive month for a 100 per cent statewide oil allowable.

The usual exception was made for the huge East Texas field, which was restriced to 86 per cent production to avoid possible waste.

PAY THE PRICE

Frank Pitts of Dallas noted that Texas oil production peaked in 1972 and has been declining, but he added, "We have at last begun the big turnaround, and we are more optimistic than many concerning the date when production will again begin to rise.

"The geology of our nation will support the drilling of 60,000 to 70,000 wells per year, contrasted with about 30,000 currently," Pitts said.

But he warned the commission and a room full of oil executives, "There can be no reversal in the cost of energy—we will have to pay a realistic price for it or face the simple fact that we just won't get it."

Pitts said "there are lots and lots and lots of places in this country—and in the state of Texas—where we can drill wells."

BIG TROUBLE

He said he had heard many national political leaders say, "'We are for conservation,' but I've not heard one national leader say, 'What we need is a greater supply and to get a greater supply we need to be drilling more and more and more wells.'"

The trouble with oilmen, he said, is, "We let them (politicians) kick us in the face and kick us in the rear end and say nothing."

To achieve a goal of 60,000 to 70,000 wells, Pitts said, the price of crude oil must average between $9 and $10 constant dollars.

PLANT TALK

Pitts praised commissioner Jim Langdon for opposing congressional bill to extend federal price controls and regulation to natural gas within Texas—"This is the kind of blunt talk which may be necessary from our state officials in order to let these people know that we have no intention of yielding to the clamor for sharing natural gas equally to all states."

Twelve of the 14 major crude oil buyers asked for the same amount next month as in January, with only Gulf and Exxon cutting their nominations, each by 4,000 barrels.

Nominations by major buyers of Texas crude oil for February, in barrels per day, with changes from January in parentheses:

Amoco 350,000
Atlantic Richfield 180,000
Chevron 77,800
Cities Service 118,000
Continental 54,500
Diamon Shamrock 36,000
Exxon 813,000 (minus 4,000)
Gulf 169,000 (minus 4,000)
Mobil 345,000
Phillips 115,000
Shell 300,500

Amoco Strike Action Delayed

DENVER (AP) — A strike deadline against Amoco has passed, and negotiations continue today on a new oil workers union contract with the nation's third largest refiner.

President A.F. Grospiron of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union had set a midnight Wednesday strike deadline against Amoco. But he ordered that bargaining go on, and the union's Amoco workers stayed on the job.

"The strike action is being delayed as negotiations continue at various locations," said union spokesman Jerry Archuleta. "They have not reached agreement, but are still in very serious negotiations. It appears both sides are very earnest about trying to avert a strike."

Sources on both sides of the negotiations said Amoco had made a wage proposal equalling the pay provisions of new union pacts with two other major oil companies. They said the obstacle in the Amoco bargaining was wording of retirement provisions.

DEADLINE

Amoco's last offer was made Jan. 4 and called for a 17.5 per cent wage hike over two years.

The union has set a strike deadline of 4 p.m. local time today against Texaco and has also said it will strike a single Mobil refinery at noon today. No progress has been made in negotiations with Texaco or Mobil, the union said.

Amoco was the first of the nation's oil companies to face a strike deadline by the 60,000 oil workers during the current contract negotiations.

Amoco has 4,700 employes in nine states for whom the union bargains. Major refineries are in Indiana, Wyoming, Illinois, Texas, Utah, North Dakota and Missouri.

Texaco, the nation's fourth largest refiner, has 2,460 employes represented by the union. The union said strikes were set at Texaco locations in California, Washington, Wyoming, Texas, Oklahoma, Illinois and New Jersey.

$5.95 AN HOUR

The union said the noon strike at Mobil Oil Co.'s Beaumont, Tex., refinery was the only one being called against Mobil, partly because other unions, such as the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, have also served strike notice. About 1,500 oil workers are employed there.

Gulf Oil Corp. and Atlantic Richfield Co. are the only two oil companies which have reached agreement with the union on new contracts. Those settlements call for a 26.8 per cent wage hike over two years, with a wages-only contract reopener if the Consumer Price Index rises more than 5 per cent in the first year of the pact.

Oil workers made about $5.95 an hour under their old pacts.

Local issues brought on strikes involving some 9,000 workers in Texas, California, Ohio and Illinois.

Oil worker contracts expired Jan. 7, but most workers stayed on the job after Grospiron ordered continued negotiations.

Tune Notifying Grievance Unit

County Judge Bill Tune today said he will schedule a meeting of the salary grievance committee as soon as all three citizen members have accepted their appointment.

Peace Justice Gus Ochotorena Jr., who wants $200 more per month, has requested a chance to appear before the committee composed of three citizens and courthouse officials.

If all nine members of the committee recommend complying with Ochotorena's request, the salary adjustment will become effective without approval of county commissioners court.

Approval by six members will cause the matter to be heard again by commissioners court.

WELL-GROOMED — Getting animals in tiptop shape for the Howard County Junior Livestock Show is occupying the time of many of the projects' owners today at the Howard County Fair Barns. Entries will be weighed and sifted this afternoon. Howard County 4-H Club and FFA members are eligible to parade stock in the event. A Saturday morning sale climaxes the 1975 show. More than 60 steers and 100 lambs will be exhibited during the three-day show.

Viet Cong Gunners Shell Military Training Center

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — Viet Cong gunners shelled South Vietnam's biggest military training center in suburban Saigon, killing four persons and wounding more than 40.

The attack came just before midnight Wednesday.

Associated Press photographer Dang Van Phuoc reported from the Quang Trung training center six miles northwest of Saigon that two trainees were killed when five shells landed on the center, which contained between 7,000 and 8,000 trainees at the time.

Three other 100-pound rockets landed in villages around the camp, killing an old man and a child and damaging at least six homes, Phuoc said.

The wounded included 34 military trainees and 10 villagers.

The Indonesian delegation to the international peacekeeping commission appealed to the Saigon government and the Viet Cong today to reduce hostilities, resume negotiations for a peaceful settlement and seriously implement the two-year-old cease-fire agreement.

The International Commission of Control and Supervision, whose other members are Iran, Poland and Hungary, has been ineffective because of ideological splits between its members and because talks between the two warring sides have been suspended since June.

The Indonesian statement was issued at a time when fighting has risen to the highest level since the cease-fire was signed in 1973.

The South Vietnamese government announced it had protested the establishment of a Viet Cong liaison office in Geneva to work with United Nations aid agencies.

Nguyen Bich Mac, chief spokesman for the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry, said the decision was a "mistake and regrettable."

He said the Swiss government had implied that the decision does not mean that it formally recognizes the Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government "under any form." The Saigon government has diplomatic relations with Swiss at the ambassadorial level.

In Cambodia, the Khmer Rouge fired eight rockets at Phnom Penh's airport Wednesday night. They landed outside the airport compound on the houses of military families and wounded 15 persons, military sources said.

The airport three miles west of the capital has been the target of insurgent gunners 10 out of the past 11 days, but no major damage has been reported.

DEATHS

Mrs. Everett

Services for Mrs. Mary Everett, 75, will be conducted at 2 p.m., today at the First Mexican-American Baptist Church. Officiating will be the Rev. Basilio Esquival, pastor. Burial will follow in Mount Olive Memorial Park under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Everett died Tuesday afternoon in a local hospital following a brieft illness.

Matt Warren

James Mattison (Matt) Warren, 95, died at 10:10 a.m., Wednesday in a local nursing home.

Services will be at 2 p.m., Friday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel, with the Rev. Dr. Kenneth Patrick, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating. Burial will be in Mount Olive Memorial Park.

Mr. Warren was born Jan. 4, 1880, in Adairsville, Ga., the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Martin Warren. He was raised in Alabama and Georgia and finished school in Adairsville, Ga. . He later taught school there for four years.

He moved to Texas in 1902, settling first in Childress, then in Comache County where he started working for the railroad there. He later moved to Cross Plains, then to Oplin, where he was employed as a tailor, photographer and barber.

While residing in Cross Plains, he married Callie S. Acker, July 3, 1910. She was postmistress in Cross Plains at the time. His wife preceded him death in 1967.

Mr. Warren was in the barbering profession for about 35 years and first had a shop under the old Queen Theater here. He later operated the old Ideal Barber Shop under the old Fox Drug Store. This burned in 1930. He moved on to a shop in the old Read Hotel and ultimately to a shop on East Second near what is now the Crystal Cafe.

He was forced to retire in 1944, when his eyesight failed him.

Mr. Warren joined the Missionary Baptist Church at Mount Vernon at the age of 14. He later was a member of the East Fourth Baptist Church here but transferred his membership to the First Baptist Church 47 years ago.

'New Towns' Aid Ending

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Department of Housing and Urban Development is ending federal aid to developers planning more "new town" communities designed to integrate residential, recreational and commerical areas, a department source said today.

"Existing 'new communities' will not be abandoned," the source said. "But as far as starting new ones, that's problematic."

The source said the Department of Housing and Urban Development will not accept further applications for construction loan guarantees or other federal "new town" assistance.

"There is not enough money for existing 'new communities' and to start new ones," the source said.

BIG SPRING HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JANUARY 16, 1975 SECTION B

FOR A MODERN version of a colonial favorite, make spoon bread with convenient corn meal mix and flavor it with Parmesan cheese.

Spoon Bread With Cheese Impressive

In the mood to create something really special for dinner? How about Parmesan Spoon Bread! We promise a chorus of "ohs" and "ahs" as you set this impressive souffle-like corn bread before enthusiastic diners.

Legend has it that spoon bread was first made in the English colonies by an unknown cook who left corn meal porridge in the oven by accident. What a delicious mistake it was — spoon bread was discovered.!

Today, light delicate spoon bread need not be left to chance when you use corn meal mix. Enriched corn meal, flour, leavening and salt are blended together in just the right proportions. You'll find corn meal mix the convenient way to make perfect corn breads, sticks and muffins, too.

Spoon bread's traditional flavor is enhanced with a bit of garlic and Parmesan cheese. There's extra cheese in the marvelous crisp crust and sprinkled atop. For maximum eating enjoyment, spoon out while piping hot and serve with lots of butter.

PARMESAN SPOON BREAD

½ cup grated Parmesan cheese
2½ cups milk
1 cup corn meal mix
½ tsp. garlic powder
2 tbspns butter or margarine
3 eggs

Heat oven to hot (400 degrees F.). Butter bottom and sides of 1½-qt. casserole. Coat with small amount of the grated Parmesan cheese.

Combine milk, corn meal mix and garlic powder in large saucepan. Cook over medium heat just until thickened, stirring constantly. Do not boil. Remove from heat; and add butter and all but 2 tablespoons of the Parmesan cheese.

Separate eggs. Add yolks one at a time to hot corn meal mix mixture, stirring quickly. Beat egg whites just until stiff peaks form. Fold gently into corn meal mix mixture just until blended. Pour into prepared casserole. Sprinkle with remainder of Parmesan cheese. Bake uncovered in preheated oven (400 degrees. F.) 15 minutes. Reduce heat to (350 degrees F.) and continue cooking 25 to 30 minutes. Serve immediately with butter. Makes six servings.

Season Pork Shoulder With Chinese Flair

Looking for a new flavor treat in entrees?

Select the most thrifty of the pork shoulder section, says meat authority Reba Staggs, and give them Chinese flair in preparation. These are the round bone or slender blade bone steaks which are cut one-half inch thick.

Marinate first in delicious liquid seasonings of honey and soy sauce, lightly touched with ginger. Cook by baking to develop flavor, then serve with a thickened, mustard sauce.

CHINESE PORK SHOULDER STEAKS

4 to 6 pork shoulder steaks, cut ½-inch thick
1 beef bouillon cube
1-3rd cup hot water
2 tsps. salt
1 tsp. ginger
1 tsp. sugar
¼ cup honey
¼ cup soy sauce
Mustard Sauce, if desired

Dissolve bouillon cube in hot water. Combine salt, ginger, sugar, honey and soy sauce. Marinate steaks in the soy sauce mixture in refrigerator for 2 hours or overnight, turning them occasionally. Remove steaks from marinade and place on a rack in an open roasting pan. Do not add water. Do not cover. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. Serve with Mustard Sauce, if desired. 4 to 6 servings.

MUSTARD SAUCE

1 tbsp. butter or margarine
1 tbsp. flour
½ tsp. salt
1 cup milk
¾ tsp. prepared mustard

Melt butter or margarine. Stir in flour. Add salt and milk. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Add small amount of sauce to mustard, mixing thoroughly, then add to remaining sauce. Serve hot with Chinese Pork Shoulder Steaks. Yield: Approximately 1 cup sauce.

Hopping John Southern Dish

This favorite Southern dish, using leftovers from a holiday ham, would make ideal fare this time of the year.

HOPPING JOHN

½ cup dry black-eye peas (beans)
½ cup cooked ham
2¼ cups ham broth
½ cup rice
Salt and Pepper

Boil dry peas for 2 minutes and soak in broth for 1 hour before cooking. Do not soak overnight in broth. Boil beans gently until they are almost done. Add ham and rice and cook 20 to 30 minutes, depending on kind of rice. The liquid should be almost cooked away by the time the rice is tender. If there is too much liquid as the mixture cooks, remove cover the last 10 minutes and turn up heat. If the mixture seems too dry, add more ham broth. Makes 4 servings.

Versatile Beef-Filled Turnovers

Make these ahead and reheat when you want them.

5 tbspns butter or margarine
Scant ½ cup commercial sour cream
1 egg separated
1 cup flour
½ pound ground beef
1 tbspn dry onion soup mix, as it comes from package
⅛ tspn pepper

Melt 4 tablespoons of the butter over very low heat in a small metal mixing bowl; off heat gradually stir in the sour cream; add egg yolk and stir vigorously to combine. Gradually stir in the flour until smooth. Cover tightly with plastic film and chill until firm. Cook beef in a skillet in remaining tablespoon butter with the onion soup mix and pepper, crumbling with a fork; cool. On a floured pastry cloth a floured stockinet-covered rolling pin roll out ½ of dough at a time so it is 1-16th inch thick. Cut out with a 3-inch round cookie cutter. Beat egg white slightly and brush inside edge of each round with it. Place a tablespoon (not packed down) of beef mixture in center of each round; bring opposite edges together and press to seal tightly. Place an inch apart on ungreased cookie sheet; lightly brush tops with egg white. Bake in a preheated 400-degree oven until lightly browned — 20 minutes. Serve hot with a tomato cocktail sauce (the sort used for seafood) as a dip. Makes about 20.

Appetizer Is Easily Stored

Establish a holiday mood with a spectacular appetizer you can make days or hours ahead and store in the refrigerator. The piquant appetizer of cream cheese and Roquefort cheese is rolled in flake coconut, chopped pecans, and parsley. Surely a holiday welcome to guests from a smart hostess.

COCONUT-CHEESE BAKL

1 pkg. (8 oz.) cream cheese, softened
½ lb. (8 oz.) Roquefort cheese, crumbled.
2-3rds cup flaked coconut
1 tsp. Worchestershire sauce
1 tsp. finely grated onion
¼ cup chopped pecnas
¼ cup finely chopped parsley

Combine cream cheese, and Roquefort cheese in a small bowl; blend well. Add 1-3rd cup of the coconut, the Worchestershire sauce, and onion. Cover with wax paper or platic wrap. Chill at least 6 hours. Combine remaining 1-3rd cup coconut, the pecans, and parsley on a piece of aluminum foil or wax paper. Form cheese mixture into a ball; roll in coconut mixture to cover completely. Place on platter; garnish with watercress, if desired, and serve with crackers. Makes about 2½ cups.

New Recipes Found In Oatmeal Contests

Oatmeal is a good extender for many recipes that serve families from the breakfast table to the final course.

Many new recipes have been unearthed by 3-Minute Oats in their "Big-Little" Recipe Contest and a second contest started this week.

Here are some of the new recipes:

BRAZILIAN CHOCOLATE CAKE

1¼ cup hot coffee
1 cup 3-Minute brand oats
½ cup butter
1½ cup sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
2 eggs
3 oz. unsweetened chocolate, melted
1½ cups sifted flour
1 tsp. soda
½ tsp. salt
1 cup (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate chips

ICING

¼ cup butter
2 cups powdered sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Light cream

Pour hot coffee over the oats. Set aside for 20 minutes. Cream the butter and sugar until light and fluffy Blend in vanilla, eggs, chocolate and soaked oats. Mix well. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Fold into above mixture. Stir in the chocolate chips. Pour the batter into a greased and floured bundt pan. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 50 to 55 minutes or until an inserted toothpick comes out clean. Cool in the pan for 10 minutes. Loosen edges and turn cake out on a rack to finish cooling.

For icing, cream butter. Add powdered sugar and vanilla and beat well. Stir in enough cream to make icing of spreading consistency. Spresd on cooled cake.

OATS OLIEBOLLEN

¼ cup hot water
½ cup raisins
1 cup 3-Minute brand oats
1 egg
1 cup sifted flour
1-3rd cup sugar
2 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ tsp. nutmeg
½ cup finely chopped apples (or candied fruit)
½ cup milk

Pour water over raisins in large bowl. Add remaining ingredients and stir to blend well. Drop by spoonful into 375 F. oil for deep fat frying. Fry 2 to 3 minutes or until golden brown and thoroughly cooked. Drain on paper toweling. Roll in cinnamon sugar or powdered sugar if desired.

CINNAMON BREAKFAST BREAD

1 pkg. active dry yeast
1-3rd cup warm water (110 degrees F.)
2 cup milk
2 cup 3-Minute brand oats
¼ cup brown sugar
2 tbsps. soft shortening
1 tbsp. salt
4½ to 5 cups flour
½ cup sugar
2 tsps. cinnamon

Sprinkle yeast over water. Set aside for 5 minutes. Scald milk. Add oats, brown sugar, shortening and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Stir in yeast and half of flour. Add remaining flour until a soft dough is formed. Knead until smooth. Place in a greased bowl and let rise until double in bulk. Divide dough in half. Roll each half into a rectangle and sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon. Roll like a jelly roll and seal ends well. Place each in a loaf pan. Let rise until double. Bake at 400 degrees F. for 35 to 40 minutes.

DIXILICIOUS MEATLOAF

1½ lb. ground beef
1 envelope onion soup mix
4 oz. can mushroom bits and pieces, undrained
1 cup 3-Minute brand quick oats
3 eggs, slightly beaten
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. pepper
⅛ tsp. garlic salt

Combine all ingredients. Press into a 9x5 inch loaf pan and bake at 350 degrees F. for 1-1½ hours.

Inexpensive Main Dish

Inexpensive when used as the main course.

SAUSAGE SPOON BREAD

½ pound pork sausage meat

1 cup finely chopped celery
2½ cups milk
1 cup enriched white cornmeal
2 tbsps. butter or margarine
1 tsp. salt

Mix remaining 1 cup milk with the cornmeal; gradually stir into scalded milk. Cook, stirring often, until thickened — about 5 minutes. Off heat stir in the butter, salt, egg yolks and sausage mixture. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold in. Turn into a buttered shallow 1½-quart baking dish, mounding slightly incenter. Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven for 40 to 45 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Heard Subordinates Openly Discuss Illegal Donations

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — W.L. Lindholm, vice chairman of the board of American Telephone & Telegraph (AT&T), attended meetings while he headed Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. operations in Texas at which subordinates openly discussed alleged illegal political contributions, two former executives of the company claim.

Ousted executive James H. Ashley and Bill Holman, a former Austin executive now on special assignment at Victoria, discussed Lindholm in a tape transcript unsealed this week by a federal judge.

PART OF RECORD

The tape is part of the record in an antitrust suit by the now defunct San Antonio Telephone Co. against Southwestern Bell.

Holman acknowledged, according to the transcript, that he made what he thought was an illegal contribution with Bell funds to state Sen. Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi. Lindholm at the time was vice president in charge of Texas.

The transcript reads after the discussion of the Reagan contribution:

Ashley: Now, you were in many meetings, with Mr. Lindholm?

Holman: Well, yes.

Ashley: Rate meetings. And I imagine that contributions of this sort were brought out fairly openly by District and by supervisors.

Holman: Well, certainly.

Ashley: Do you feel that Mr. Lindholm knew that this was going on?

FIRED

Holman: I believe that Mr. Lindholm was pretty intelligently—

Ashley: You don't think there is any question about that?

Holman: I don't think there is any question about that.

Ashley and Holman made the tape last October shortly before then Texas Bell head T.O. Gravitt killed himself and Ashley was fired during an internal Southwestern Bell probe.

Since then Ashley and Gravitt's family have lodged a $29.2 million state court suit against Bell, AT&T and several executives. The suit alleges libel and claims the phone company is guilty of irregularities including illegal political contributions.

Holman described in the tape how the contribution to Reagan was made.

$200 CHECK

"Mr. Warren Hatfield who, at the time, was one of our, frankly, lobbyists here in the state Capital, came down to Corpus Christi and Mr. Reagan—Sen. Reagan, myself and Mr. Hatfield had breakfast together on one occasion at which time he gave him a sum, as I recall, of $200," Holman said.

"Another time he sent me a check which I delivered to Mr. Reagan for $200," he added.

Holman said while he never discussed where the Reagan funds came from, he assumed Hatfield recovered the money through an expenses voucher some way.

Would Like To Confer With Nixon

LOS ANGELES (AP) — John W. Dean III, whose testimony helped open up the Watergate scandal that led to Richard M. Nixon's resignation, says he would like to see and talk to the former president.

"But whether he wants to see me is a big question in my mind," added Dean, who was released from prison last week after serving four months on a Watergate conviction.

Dean, whom Nixon fired as White House counsel, also predicted during a news conference Wednesday that Nixon will be remembered as a good president.

"I think with time much of the Nixon years, which are now being cast in terms of what scandal occurred and why, will end and all this will start to roll back and then we'll be able to look at some of the good things that happened," Dean told newsmen.

Dean added he hopes Nixon will end his silence and answer the "unanswered questions" of Watergate.

DEAN SAYS NIXON HAS MORE WATERGATE ANSWERS — John Dean III, former White House counsel, tells a news conference in his Los Angeles home Wednesday that he felles there are some Watergate questions to which only former President Richard M. Nixon has the answers. At his side is his wife, Maureen.

Austin Mayor Received Contributions From Bell

AUSTIN (AP) — Austin Mayor Roy Butler and three present and former councilmen received campaign contributions from Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., the Austin American-Statesman said today.

The allegations are contained in the transcript of a taperecorded conversation between Bill Holman, former Austin telephone division manager, and James H. Ashley, a fired company vice president in San Antonio, the story said.

Holman is listed as being on "special assignment" with the telephone company and still lives in Austin.

The story, written from San Antonio, also said the Southwestern Bell used "inflated figures" in various rate cases, according to Ashley, including a rate increase request in Austin in 1972.

Still another rate increase is pending before the current city council.

The American-Statesman quoted excerpts from the transcript of the tape-recorded conversation which reportedly occurred inside an automobile with Holman knowing it was being recorded. The excerpts quoted Holman saying he made contributcons of $2,000 to $3,000 to Butler, who has said he will not seek re-election; to Burl Hancox (former councilman who resigned to head the state Equal Opportunity Employment Office) to Mayor Pro Tem Dan Love ... "we even gave him some printing business," and in 1973 to then-councilman Dick Nichols.

The story did not give the size of the contributions to the councilmen.

Must Open Faculty Records

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Persons who evaluated professors after June 14, 1973, with the understanding that the professors would never see their remarks made a big mistake.

In a clarification opinion, Atty. Gen. John Hill said here those evaluations must be made available to the professors concerned upon request.

Hill's Oct. 24 opinion said the Open Records Law, effective June 14, 1973, entitled professors to see their personnel files.

Richard Gibson, director of the University of Texas System Law Office, asked for the clarifying opinion, pointing out that some materials had been given with the understanding they would be kept secret.

"While valid agreements as to confidentiality may be honored in most instances, such agreements cannot prevail against an individual's right to access to information which is the basis for adverse action by the governmental body affecting the individual," Hill said.

In a second opinion, requested by North Texas State University President C. C. Nolen, Hill said the same rule and the same cutoff date apply to student teaching evaluations and faculty recommendations in students' files in the placement office and in the college of education.

The gate will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m. for exhibitors and spectators.

Well over 100 different breeds are due to be entered in competition, which will be spread over seven different rings.

PROBABLY MADE BEST WHITE LIGHTNIN' IN TEXAS

High Prices Squeezin' Moonshiner

DALLAS (AP) — It may go unnoticed on Wall Street, but a shadowy industry caught between upward leaping sugar and corn prices and the nearly stable price of bonded whisky is being forced to the wall.

So says a scrappy ex-bootlegger of 72 years who admits he'd still like to beat the price squeeze if federal agents would just leave him alone.

AGENTS RAIDED

Former moonshiner Silas Batterton, who federal agents concede probably made the best white lightning in Texas, ended his 50-year career abruptly last spring when agents raided his rural North Central Texas home.

Since then, corn and sugar prices have tripled, Batterton estimated. And he said his best moonshine which sold for $12 per gallon now would bring $20.

Authorities estimate the sugar-corn price surge has pushed the per-gallon cost of average corn squeezings to $14 to $16, near or above prices charged for comparable bonded liquors.

Batterton warns moonshiners—"You can't get liquor store prices for homemade whisky." But he also acknowledges, "Oh yes, I could still make some money. And I would if they'd leave me alone."

Federal Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms (ATF) agents smashed Batterton's vats and still, but the U.S. attorney's office declined to prosecute because of his age.

Ingredients which cost $2.50 per gallon a year ago cost $6.50 to $7 now, Batterton estimated. Labor, fuel, equipment, plus at least a 100 per cent profit, push the finished cost even higher.

Jim Harmon, ATF's assistant regional director for criminal enforcement, suggested the economic slump would have boosted moonshining had sugar prices failed to outrace general inflation.

But moonshining continues now only because of tradition, novelty or because in some poor areas people have developed a taste for it, he said. Many bootleggers are abandoning their trade for other avocations such as drugs distribution, Harmon said.

THEY'RE HOODS

"They aren't just old friendly moonshiners from the mountains like Snuffy Smith," said one investigator. "They're criminals, hoods."

Bootleggers are fighting sugar costs in part by stealing it. "There are several instances nationwide of diversion to distilleries. It's their only alternative," Harmon said. At times the stolen sugar entailed huge truck loads.

Federal agents credited stringent enforcement, an information campaign about possible poisonous moonshine and stiff prison sentences for a sharp decline in illicit whisky making which peaked in 1959.

Further, they said, inflation ate up profits and crippled most operations in the past year.

The grey-haired Batterton, who invites visitors into his home without first asking who they are, quit before sugar prices really soared. He blames "snitches" for his undoing. He theorizes that some of the squealers may be wives of former customers.

"They thought they'd get them sobered up by snitchin' on me," he said. Instead, Batterton said with a thin smile, they found liquor elsewhere.

Axes smashed his charred aging barrels, stainless steel still and copper condensers.

"Sure wish they'd let me go another year. You always need some extra money," he said.

When treasury agents raided Batterton's still, they found (with the bootlegger's assistance) four barrels of illicit liquor buried for aging.

Before the ax fell, Batterton said he warned agents that the end barrel held brandy made from peaches picked from the ground at a nearby orchard. "They took an extra sample in a gallon jug," he said without further comment.

Batterton's eyes turned merry when he recounted how agents broke an ax blade trying to destroy a small submersible pump.

He said the agents never jailed him after whacking apart his operation.

Agents climbed back into their cars talking of breakfast and told Batterton they would get back to him. They declined when he offered them ham and eggs in his home.

The Same Remedies

President Ford's economic proposals are about as expected, which is to say that they fit into the pattern of the recent era. The prime item is to reduce or rebate 1974 taxes to the tune of $16 to $20 billion, depending on whose doing the talking. The theory here is that the average taxpayer will be so hard pressed that he will have to spend this money, which, in turn, will cause merchants to order and manufacturers to produce goods, employ more people who can spend more money for more goods, etc., etc. The alternative, we are told, is that increasingly stagnant conditions will result in loss of revenue greater than that which is being rebated. There is more than a modicum of truth in this, but who says you have to spend what you don't have?

The second major prop is a proposed increase in taxes on fuel, namely petroleum. This is expected to do two things — reduce the demand for oil products and thus reduce the severity of the energy crisis; also it is expected to yield some $30 billion in additional revenue to offset the loss through income tax rebates. It is doubtful that increased charges, unless really stiff, will produce as much revenue as indicated, or that it will greatly deter the average citizen in his driving habits. What it will do is penalize him in the pocket book, and penalize most of those who can least afford it.

The president's proposal also includes some projected tax relief for corporate enterprises, either through a lower rate or by substantially boosting the accelerated tax write off schedules, or both.

Just what finally emerges remains to be seen, for the Democrats have their own tax plans. While not dissimilar to the President's proposals, many of thes may be weighted more in favor of the poor and the middle-income groups. If there is agreement on any point, is that there will be a substantial tax cut or rebate. Since we have opted not to sacrifice in order to whip inflation, this may be like drowning fire with gasoline. Whether we will be any better disposed or disciplined to pour on the waters of restraint later on is highly doubtful.

Take In The Stock Show

We hope that many people will take time out to go to the county fair barns Thursday and Friday for the annual 4-H and FFA Junior Livestock Show.

Not only will this be a source of encouragement to the young exhibitors who are engaged in a wholesome, productive activity, but we venture it will be an eye opener to most adults as to the quality of stock being produced and finished here.

If only they could see the calves and lambs on exhibit nearly three decades and compare them with those today. Today's are so much better bred, better fed, and better shown than it would amaze you of the amount of progress we have made. All of us have learned from and benefitted from this activity, and we ought to turn out to support it with our presence.

Angelican Agony

William F. Buckley, Jr.

As a Catholic, I have abandoned hope for the liturgy, which, in the typical Americna church, is as ugly and as maladroit as if it had been composed by Robert Ingersoll and H. L. Mencken for the purpose of driving people away. Incidentally, the modern liturgists are doing a remarkably good job, attendance at Catholic mass on Sunday having dropped sharply in the ten year since a few well-meaning cretins got hold of the power to vernacularize the mass, and the money to scour the earth in search of the most unmusical men and women to preside over the translation.

THE NEXT LITURGICAL ceremony conducted primarily for my benefit, since I have no plans to be beatified or remarried, will be my funeral; and it is a source of great consolation to me that, at my funeral, I shall be quite dead, and will not need to listen to the accepted replacement for the noble old Latin liturgy. Meanwhile, i am practicing Yoga so that, at church on Sundays I can develop the power to tune out everything I hear, while attempting, athwart the general calistenthics, to commune with my Maker, and ask Him first to forgive me my own sins, and implore him, second, not to forgive the people who ruined the mass.

NOW THE POOR Anglicans are coming in for it. I am not familiar with their service, but I am with their Book of Common Prayer. To be unfamiliar with it is as though one were unfamiliar with Hamlet, or the Iliad, or the Divine Comedy. It has, of course, theological significance for Espicopalians and their fellow travelers. But it has a cultural significance for the entire English-speaking world. It was brought together, for the most part, about 400 years ago, when for reasons no one has been able to explain, the little island of England produced the greates literature in history. G. K. Chesterton wrote about it, "It is the one positive possession, and attraction . . . the masterpiece of Protestantism; the one magnet and talisman for people even outside the Anglican Church, as are the great Gothic cathedrals for people outside the Catholic Church."

WHAT ARE THEY doing to it? Well, there is one of those commissions. It is sort of re-translating it. As it now stands, for instance, there are the lines, "We have erred, and strayed from thy ways like lost sheep. We have followed too much the devices and desires of our own hearts. We have offended against thy holy laws. We have left undone those things which we ought to have done; and we have done those things which we ought not to have done."

That kind of thing — noble, cadenced, pure as the psalmist's water — becomes, "We have not loved you (get that: YOU, not THEE.

WELL, IF THE GOOD Lord intends not to bring his Anglican flock into the test, he will not test it on this kind of stuff. As it is, Anglicanism is a little shakey, having experienced about a hundred years earlier than Roman Catholicism, some of the same kind of difficulties. I revere my Anglican friends, and highly respect their religions, but it is true that it lends itself to such a pasquinade as Auberon Waugh's, who wrote recently, "In England we have a curous institution called the Church of England . . . Its strength has always lain in the fact that on any moral or political issue it can produce such a wide divergence ot opinion that nobody — from the Pope to Mao Tse-tung — can say with any confidence that he is not an Anglican. Its weaknesses are that nobody pays much attention to it and very few people attend its functions."

"Come in! It's high time I gave you a good ol' shot in the arm!"

Indian Givers

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — I received a call from Kellerman the other day. I'd heard he lost his job and I expected him to ve bery unhappy. But he seemed elated.

"DO YOU know any Indians?" he asked me.

"I don't think so," I said. "Why?"

"Well, the bank is going to foreclose on my house and I thought I'd give it to the Indians."

"You can't do that," I said.

"Why not? Marlon Brando gave his land to the Indians and it had a $318,000 mortgage on it. My property only has a $46,000 mortage. They'd be getting a bargain."

"BUT NO Indians are going to take your property if there's a mortgage on it."

"I won't tell them, dummy."

"That's not fair to the Indians. After all they've gone through, you can't give them back their land with a mortgage on it."

"I DIDN'T think so either until I saw Marlon on television. I would say that was one of his greatest performances. There he was, looking over the land with all the TV cameras whirling away and the tom-toms beating, and the guy in the feather headdress thanking him for all the Indians of America, and all they were really getting was a $318,000 due bill from the bank. You talk about a forked tongue."

"I'm sure Marlon meant well," I said. "Maybe he didn't know there was a mortgage on the land."

"DON'T GET me wrong. I'm not criticizing him. I just figured if the bank's going to take my house, I'd rather give it to the Indians. That's why I'm calling you. If you could dig up some Indians for me, I could call NBC, CBS and ABC and we could have a great ceremony on the lawn. I can use the national exposure more than Brando can, and maybe I could even get a job out of it."

"Kellerman, maybe we could get Jane Fonda to give your house to the Indians. She hasn't been on television re·ently."

"THAT'S NOT bad," he agreed. "I could stand next to her and she could say she was giving the land on behalf of both of us. Do you think Marlon would get mad?"

"Well, that's just something the Indians will have to work out. If they can't handle a mortgage, they shouldn't be in the land-accepting business. Don't forget there is an old Indian saying, 'Abwah kuhwah meetah humbug.'"

"Waht does that mean?"

"There is no such thing as a free Brando lunch."

What Choice Do We Have?

John Cunniff

NEW YORK (AP) — The administration's proposals to counter the intensifying recession contain a very large element of hope and guesswork. Nobody can demonstrate that the results will be automatic.

The arguments, pro and con, are just beginning, in fact, and if people are confused about the squabbling among economists about how a certain end should be achieved, they will be disillusioned soon.

The Ford remedy for the nation's problems, which represents the best political-economic thinking of administration advisers, is already raising as many fears as hopes.

Perhaps the nearest thing to consensus is the belief that a tax cut will alleviate the problem of the poor, who are suffering most from the worst decline in real spending power since World War II.

These people also are bearing the brunt of rising unemployment — now heading toward 8 per cent — as those with the least useful skills or no skills at all usually do.

There is less agreement among economists on whether the tax rebate will stimulate purchases or whether it will go into the bank for the rainier days so many people seem to feel are coming.

If it does get banked it will serve to stimulate housing by making more mortgage money available. But it won't help Detroit at all, and that is where one of the biggest aches in the economy is situated.

The most cynical view of the tax rebate is that it will merely be a futile transfer of funds from one hand to the other — taken from the consumer in higher energy taxes, returned to him to pay for resulting higher prices.

Those who believe the Ford program is inflationary point out that the use of energy is unavoidable. It is a necessity. You cannot eat, sleep, read or travel without using it. It is a must, and if taxes are imposed, prices must rise.

An argument also circulates that to tax energy is to push the country further into recession. If the program does what it is intended to do, cut down the use of energy, economic activity automatically is reduced.

Another criticism is that it will result in high interest rates, which is the last thing utilities want to hear at this stage in their crisis.

Can Control Emphysema

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: About a year ago I had a chest X-ray and was told there was a possibility tha t I had pulmonary emphysema. My doctor advised me to quit smoking.

Since that time I have had three X-rays taken of my chest, and they show that my lungs are clear and free of disease. What I know to know is whether or not I have emphysema that is not showing up on X-rays, or whether it has cleared uo since I quit smoking. — Mrs. M. P.

The damage done to the lungs by emphysema cannot be repaired, so in that sense if you had emphysema, you would still hav e it.

However, when you quit smoking (and congratulations) you compensated for the damage by reducing any extra strain on the lungs by just that much.

Now, as to the X-rays. In the early stages of emphysema, an X-ray of the lungs is usually inconclusive, and the disease — which then resembles other lung ailments such as bronchitis — is diagnosed more from such symptoms as shortness of breath, chronic coughing and spitting up of mucus. Therefore, at the outset, lung functions tests are often more conclusive for a correct diagnosis of emphysema than X-rays.

But in the advanced states of emphysema, X-rays are more revealing. On the three recent X-rys, your lung expansion apparently shows a marked improvement over the earlier one.

If you had emphysema, there would have been a tendency for your lungs to get progressively worse, especially had you continued smoking. Consider your experience a good warning: haved stopped smoking, do not resume it.

Emphysema can't be cured, but it can be controlled. That is why my booklet on the subject is titled, "How to Control Emphysema." If you want a copy, send 20 cents in a stamped, self-addressed (long) emvelope to me in care of the Big Spring Herald.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband was on tranquilizer for his nerves. Can you get into a habit and crave these like other drugs?

The doctor doubled the amount and his mind became fussy, his tongue thickened and his speech was different. He was so unstable he could hardly walk, couldn't focus his eyes. Was it an overdose? — Mrs. E. B.

Yes, a person can become psychologically addicted to the tranquilizers, although this is not the same as physical dependence, which is true of the hard drugs.

Troubled with gout? To learn of new treatment for this painful disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Gout — The Modern Way to Stop It." Enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Beware Of Menus

Around The Rim

Marj Carpenter

Eating out, like driving all over the countryside, can be a real experience.

When you drive a lot, you have a lot of interesting and unusual things happen to your car, as parts break that you have never heard of in your life, and usually when you are far from a garage.

EATING CAN alco be challenging. If you travel a lot, you learn to look for the crowd of cars or trucks at a cafe, because you soon learn that the best food at the best prices is where the people are.

I recently ate lunch in a crowded local cafe that has a big noon crowd. We sat down at a table as the waitress was cleaning off a big mess with wadded up napkins, spilled coffee, pieces of hamburger and a general shambles. Joking I said, "How many truck drivers ate here?" The waitress answered, "Truck driver eat neatly and waste little. These were three ladies eating lunch while on a shopping tour."

She may have something there. The ladies have to clean up at home so some of them may make a mess while they can.

Menus can be deceiving. Beware of the menus that say things like "early garden peas". When the canned peas come out, you may discover they were from a can of the Early Garden Pea company.

I pride myself on being able to tell by taste which is a "Pecos cantaloupe." And when they start putting Pecos cantaloupes on the menus in early May, I know darn good and well that those cantaloupes in Pecos aren't even ripe yet.

AND I NEVER think about how food tastes in restaurants that I don't remember being in a restaurant in Mathis one night when two couples came in and ordered enchiladas. We were eating enchiladas at our table too.

One of the women was slightly inebriated and she suddenly announced loudly, "My enchiladas taste like they have kerosene on them." Her husband sent her to the car. I then tasted my enchiladas and I said very quietly to my husband, "Please don't send me to the car, but my enchiladas taste like they have kerosene on them too."

I was trying to remember what is my very favorite foods that I have eaten out through the years. I thought of quite a few, which may account for why I have such a sturdy figure.

There were Belgium strawberry pancakes at the New York World's Fair, sugar cured ham at Harrisburg, Pa., oysters inside French bread in New Orleans, sausage in Fredricksburg, corned beef and cabbage in San Patricio, shrimp in Corpus Christi, homemade noodles at my Mother's and Mexican food everywhere.

Restaurant owners have their problems too, and I had to laugh at a tale in this month's "Texas Outlook."

"When a man complained in a Dallas restaurant that he had found a fly in his soup, the manager came running over and said, 'Congratulations!' All day long my waiters have been trying to catch that fly, and just imagine — you, a total stranger, have succeeded.'"

Achilles Heel

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — When a special House Democratic task force met behind closed doors last week to finish up its emergency economic package, it quickly exposed the Achilles heel of congressional decision-making by killing proposals to loosen environmental restrictions and thereby conserve energy.

UNABLE TO CONCOCT language that would not offend environmentalist Congressmen, the task force decided to finesse this pivotal question by ignoring it. Nor was this an isolated example within the task force of the old congressional obsession for consensus at the cost of rationality.

The task force, eyeing organized labor's power, exempted wages from porposed economic controls. Instead of recommending specific steps to solve the energy crisis, it vaguely suggested several options. While endorsing ever-popular consumer tax cuts, the task force did not even discuss how to stimulate desperately needed industrial expansion.

THIS SOUPY conglomeration is scarecly what was expected when Speaker Carl Albert named a task force to seize the initiative from the floundering Ford administration. Its failure to draft a crisp program may deflate euphoric dreams, rampant among 75 freshmen Democratic House members, of the overwhelmingly Democartic Congress running the federal government.

Demonstrating that any President, no matter how weak, can make decisions more easily than a hydra-headed Congress are the task force recommendations on energy. Its tentatiave language drafted last month suggested "possible temporary relaxation of environmental strictures on the burning of coal and on automobile emission controls." Another section added that those controls may have been responsible for "high (auto) prices, lack of consumer confidence and energy shortfalls."

BUT THE WIND-UP meeting of the task force, Rep. Jonathan Bingham, a New York reform leader, argued that this language would offend environmentalists and urged its removal. He was strongly backed by Rep. Morris Udall of Arizona, running for President with environmentalist support, and Rep. Philip Burton of California, chairman of the House Democratic caucus and the most powerful figure on the task force. The task force chairman, moderate Rep. Jim Wright of Texas, did not agree but, outnumbered, did not resist.

IN CONTRAST, President Ford's new energy program does harmonize differences on coal and auto emissions between Frank Zarb, Federal Energy administrator, and Russell Train deadlocked on one coal question, Mr. Ford intervened — in Zarb's favor. For congressional Democrats, there is no such ultimate authority.

SO, IN LIEU of an energy program, the Wright task force alerted congressional committees to consider "one or more of the following courses" — mandatory oil allocations, higher gasoline taxes, rationing, weekend gasoline restrictions and a lot more, not including environmental relaxation or Mr. Ford's oil import tax

My Answer

please give me information on Biblical teachings against superstition, witchcraft, etc. The teacher of adults in our Sunday School is so superstitious that if a black cat crosses the street in front of her, she parks her car, and waits for another passing car to break the spell. She also tells her class about the daily horoscope. What is with this lady? M. T.

The Bible is very specific in its denunciation of witches and the occult. Leviticus 19:31 says, "Do not defile yourselves by consulting mediums and wizards, for I am Jehovah your God." Both in the Old and New Testaments, the real existence of evil spirits and their power of communicating with humans is assumed.

You see, there are two kinds of supernatural manifestations — demonic and divine. The good emanates from God, and the evil from the devil. Just to confuse things, there are also false manifestations of both good and evil.

But now the reason for shunning all evidences of superstition and witchcraft is right in that text I quoted, "I am the Lord your God." Since God is supreme, and since He has given so lavishly of His love and grace, it is simple idolatry to recognize any lesser spirit — be it a black car or a horoscope.

It's a fact that people who attend seances, bow to superstitions, or live by astrological charts, are breaking the first commandment. God honors those who have a clean and total dependence on Him.

A Devotion For Today . .

PRAYER: Lord, we are grateful to You for taking the fear out of death. Amen.

'WE RECAPTURE THE TAX BASE'

Houston Bucking Trend

HOUSTON (AP) — Aided by a booming oil business and a state law which permits the city to annex suburbs freely, Houston is growing and prospering while many other cities in the nation face stagnation.

While the country struggles with a 7.1 per cent unemployment rate, the latest figures here show only 4.5 per cent of the city's work force is without jobs.

Alone among major cities, Houston continues to grow while other cities see the tax base eroded as the white, affluent middle class moves to the suburbs.

OIL IS KEY

Fred Hofheinz, 33, the tall, wealthy and handsome lawyer who put together a coalition of labor, minorities and liberals a year ago to grab the mayor's job from the downtown establishment, says the city's present prosperity rests on a simple base — the oil industry and municipal expansion.

"About 35 per cent of the petrochemical production in the United States is produced on the Houston Ship Channel," said Hofheinz, whose speech reflects his doctorate in economics. "While the rest of the world suffers in a very real sense, the city of Houston benefits. We are headquarters for many of the international oil companies. We are fortunate that our basic industry is the international industry."

WHITE FLIGHT

In the latest figures released in December by the Census Bureau, Houston's standard metropolitian area moved up from 14th place to 13th place while the city itself is generally thought to be the nation's fifth largest — 1 million.

The reason, says Hofheinz, is the state's annexation law that allows cities to annex up to 5 per cent of surrounding territory without a vote of either the city or those being annexed.

"The difference between Houston and Cleveland (which has had a declining population in recent years) is that we capture our suburbs," Hofheinz said. "White flight occurs in Houston as in other places," he said. "It is that we just go out and annex it. The final result is we have a far less rate of decline in our central city because we recapture the tax base."

BETTER JOBS

Between 1968 and 1974, more than 150 companies moved corporate headquarters, subsidiaries, divisions and branch offices to Houston.

But Hofheinz says while these changes account for more jobs here, the real migration pattern shows unskilled and semiskilled persons from the farms and small towns of East Texas and Louisiana coming to Houston to find better jobs.

"The history of American growth is like a tiger chasing its tail," Hofheinz said. "We're still ahead of the game. The people are going to come here to look for jobs and right now those jobs are growing faster than the migration.

"If we stop our growth, we are not going to stop people from coming. All you are going to do is stop the jobs," he said.

Show Acts Given Club

Downtown Lions got a sample of Cr-;75 at their weekly luncheon Wednesday noon at the Settles with Kathy Cowan doing the honors.

Kathy, accompanied by Jay Huskey, assistant production manager, sang "Oom! Pah! Pah"' from "Oliver" and "Cabaret" from the show of the same title. Bill Bradley, director of the sponsoring BSHS band introduced the program.

Jim Lemons, District 2A-1 governor, reported that the district Eye Bank had been instrumental Wednesday in obtaining two eyes from Colorado City and transporting them to Memphis, Tenn. where parts were transplanted later in the day. The club (and district) welcome inquired about donating eyes to the bank, he said.

Bonding Edicts Eased By State

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock, issued regulations recently to ease sales tax bonding requirements on existing businesses which change their technical legal status without actually changing ownership or management.

Under the new regulations the Comptroller will take into account a business' tax payment record in deciding bond requirements in such situations as when a partnership becomes a corporation, a single ownership becomes a partnership or two businesses merge.

"We shouldn't penalize a good taxpaying business just because it changes its name. The bond requirement on new businesses is an effective way of cutting tax losses but it should be applied with common sense," Bullock said.

Bullock said the new regulations will be retroactive to Jan. 1, 1974, the date the new bonding law went into effect, and that "unreasonable bonds slapped on good businesses during the past year will be reviewed under the new rule."

The Comptroller's authority to consider previous payment records of businesses changing their legal structures but keeping essentially the same management was clarified in a recent Attorney General's opinion. Under the bonding law the Comptroller determines the size and kind of security to be posted by new businesses or businesses with delinquency records.

SEE DICK, JANE PRACTICE SEX

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dick and Jane of storybook fame are running into each other's arms in a new sex manual for children featuring explicit terms.

"Sex is what all people and all animals and fish and birds and insects do to make more of themselves," the primer says in its introduction. "It is a very ancient invention . . .

"Sex has, however, received a lot of bad publicity, or no publicity at all. This seems strange since it is perhaps the most intense and pleasurable of human activities."

The 48-page manual, called "The Child's Garden of Sex," was designed for supplementary use in junior high schools and will be published next month by the nonprofit Zephyros Educational Exchange.

"No regular textbook publisher seemed to want to take on this taboo subject," said Jane Speiser, coordinator of the book. "Besides, we wanted to make sure that this large gap in classroom biology was filled with some humor and beauty and was erotically sound."

Miss Speiser said she expects the book to circulate mostly in private schools through Zephyros' network "of about 20,000 contacts, from convents in Nebraska to the lower East Side in New York.

"But school boards being what they are, we don't expect it to be adopted as an official text anytime soon," she said.

Miss Speiser said the $3 manual, designed to be read in a half hour, has illustrations ranging from movie lovemaking to Hindu erotic sculpture. She said its pages can be detached and pasted on walls.

One example of the language — which strives to be simple but biologically accurate — is a description of the human breast as "the organ that changes some of the food that a mother eats into milk for her baby.

"Breasts are also very warm and soft, and sensitive to being touched," the book adds.

'Lifer' Says He's Changed

FORT MADISON, Iowa (AP) — Bobby Ferguson has spent all but 20 months of his 40 years in institutions. And he says he didn't care for the little bit of freedom he did have.

Now he's about to be freed again from the Iowa State Penitentiary here. Warden Lou Brewer has his misgivings, but Ferguson says he's a changed man and intends to prove it at the home of an Iowa farm couple.

Ferguson's mother was an inmate in the Iowa Women's Reformatory when he was born, and he says he's searched in vain for his parents.

After birth, he was taken to Woodward State Hospital where he spent the next 14 years as a ward of the court.

From then on, Ferguson says, he committed a succession of crimes to keep him in institutions where he feels secure and has friends.

A year ago he was finishing a 10-year stretch for armed robbery and escape when he asked Gov. Robert Ray to give him a life sentence so he could remain "in the only home I've known."

But Ray arranged for Ferguson to become a prison janitor when he was paroled last Feb. 18. Ray said the continuing association with the prison might ease some of the social pressures for Ferguson.

But Ferguson broke parole after three weeks, wandered clandestinely around Iowa for a couple of months and was returned to prison.

"For me, it is all over," Ferguson told The Associated Press in a letter after he was jailed again. "I tried to work, but other people wouldn't let me. Now I want to do life or die. "I wish hanging were in effect, because I would ask to be hung."

Today Ferguson says he sees it differently and says he'll find new hope on the 260-acre farm of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Meyer near Ottumwa.

"They've adopted me," Ferguson says. "Not a legal adoption, but I hope to make it that way."

But Mrs. Meyer says: "We haven't talked with him, just corresponded. We want to get in touch and talk, but I don't suppose that will change our plans because we've already promised he could come here."

Ferguson is due to be released Feb. 7.

Ferguson says former prisoners "can get a job, then go to their empty apartment. But that doesn't do it. You've got to have people who care. I've got to make this work. I can't sit back and hope."

Mrs. Meyer, who says she and her husband "are near the age of Bobby's own parents," have a married daughter who lives in Illinois.

"I feel Bobby has responded to this parental thing, where he didn't respond to others," Mrs. Meyer says.
