(By The Associated Press) GREENFIELD, Mo., Oct. 14.—Mrs. Alma McKinley, 24, daughter of an oil millionaire, was back in her parents' home near here tonight after being kidnaped by an intruder armed with a shotgun.

Before being released late today, Mrs. McKinley told relatives the kidnapers wrote a note he had forced her to write to her parents demanding $30,000 after she had agreed not to tell where she had been released. She was not harmed, Mrs. McKinley said. She said, however, she had had no food or sleep and was near exhaustion. She is an expectant mother.

When the Wilson car, in which she had been forced to drive away from her home, stuck in the mud near Jerico Springs, she said she and the abductor walked along a road for several hours.

Upon being released, she said, she walked to a farm house and telephoned her husband and parents. She was safe. A farmer agreed to take her home in his car but before reaching Greenfield her father and husband, Harold McKinley, arrived.

Tonight officers left with bloodhounds for Jerico Springs in an effort to take up the trail of the abductor. The Wilson car was abandoned about six miles north of

The main battle in northern Parana occurred at Senes Bridgehead, with 15 rebels—some of them an officer—found dead on the field after the fight. Federal sources said today many insurgents were wounded, whereas the government casualties totaled only six wounded.

Another fight, at the Igarapava bridgehead, which is in Sao Paulo just below the border of Minas Geraes, opened the way for advancement into Uberaba, the most important city in western Minas Geraes.

Former County Agent Dies at San Augustine

(By The Associated Press) SAN AUGUSTINE, Oct. 14.—E. B. Brackett, 53, farmer and former Angolina county agent and former manager of the San Augustine Chamber of Commerce, was shot and killed today as he drove toward town in his automobile. C. C. McClanahan, 40, surrendered to officers and was charged in the findings of the coroner's inquest with murder by circumstantial evidence.

McClanahan was released under $1,500 bond.

Brackett had been to the county and was returning to town when, apparently someone in an automobile parked near a bridge across a bayou fired twice at him. His body was torn with buckshot. It was believed he died almost instantly, for his automobile coasted along the road several hundred yards, then came to a halt of its own accord.

Engaged in Farming
The slain man had given up other activities and for several years had devoted attention to a large farm he owned near here.

Justice J. W. Haygood held an inquest and County Attorney Edward Clark prepared charges against McClanahan, to be presented to the county grand jury which will meet January 5.

Ten Gallon Hats Missing But Old Time Hospitality Reigns At Paving Party

(By Associated Press) SLATON, Oct. 14.—"Git down, folks, and set a spell. We're mighty glad you dropped over!"

There wasn't a ten gallon hat nor a pair of shop-made boots in evidence but just the same the hospitality of the Old West ran unrestrained here tonight as business and civic leaders of Lubbock and Slaton gathered together to observe the completion of the hard-surfaced highway connecting the two principal cities of Lubbock county.

The gathering was informal, purely friendly as the three campaigns for paved roads in Lubbock county were recognized and the final victory attained in Lubbock county.

The dead list:

Bodies Are Found
The bodies of Calhoun and Duke were found in the South Concho river near the Calhoun automobile lodge after washing down stream. Calhoun and Duke were last seen at Christoval, 21 miles south of San Angelo, Sunday night, and it was the belief of friends that they were washed into the Concho river while attempting to cross in their automobile while en route to El Dorado.

Reports from the flooded areas indicated streams were returning to normal rapidly. The Brady river

Police Arrest Fifteen Reds During Battle

(By The Associated Press) BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Fifteen persons, five of them women, were arrested today during a pitched battle between police and a group of so-called communists who attempted to invade the national convention of the American Federation of Labor.

For 30 minutes the communists and police, hemmed in by a crowd of more than 1,000 spectators, fought outside the hotel Bradford, where the federation was in session.

Heads are Cracked
Heads were cracked and police uniforms were torn while patrol wagons rushed police reserves to the scene. Taxicabs pressed into service as patrol wagons were filled while communists struggled to rescue the prisoners.

The communists gave advance warning of their intention to stage a demonstration. For the past several days hand bills were circulated calling upon the "Militant workers of Boston" to join in a demonstration.

When the labor convention opened this morning police were on duty outside the hotel and in corridors leading to the convention hall, but this detail was inadequate to handle the fighting radicals.

Shortly before noon the communists paraded to the hotel, carrying communistic placards, and promptly were ordered away by the police. An attempt then was made to hold a meeting in the street, but the first speaker who attempted to address the gathering was arrested.

Angry communists tried to rescue him, and the battle began. Traffic on Tremont street was paralyzed, while the screams of women communists increased the bedlam.

Bandit Slain As Result of Bank Robbery

(By Associated Press) WESTVILLE, Okla., Oct. 14.—One robber was dead as a result of the holdup of the Peoples National bank here today while his companion apparently had made good his escape with loot of $3,394.20.

Tom Hayworth, 34, found shot five times in an automobile three miles west of here shortly after the robbery, died a few hours later. His accomplice, whom Hayworth said was Elmer Jones, deserted the car when a tire went flat and was reported to have transferred to another car in which a man and a woman were riding.

Mrs. Tom Hayworth, of Okmulgee, notified by officers as directed by the bank, was with her when she would come to Westville at once to take charge of the body of her husband.

Reported Surrounded
Jones was reported surrounded by a posse a short distance from here. F. S. Howard, president of the bank, was wounded in the hand when he rushed outside the bank to continue firing at the fleeing robbers.

The men entered the bank and forced Howard, W. C. Best, cashier, and Ed Adair, assistant cashier to lie on the floor when John Baker, produce dealer, came in. Instead of obeying the command to lie down, Baker grappled with the robber nearest him. The other robber came to the rescue of his companion, and the bank officials seized guns and opened fire through the door as the robbers fled.

The men fled in a small roadster. Hayworth, the younger of the two, fatally wounded, left the car about a mile from Westville and was captured.

Downey was held in jail.

Christian's sister divorced the younger Downey, shortly after he had been sentenced to the state penitentiary on a charge of grand larceny. After Downey returned from prison early this year, he is said to have blamed Christian for causing his wife to leave him. Ill feeling was said to have developed which led finally to the fatal shooting of Downey.

The Woman's Angle

BY BLANCHE E. BEAN
Avalanche Woman's Editor

RECENTLY I have seen several of our best ornamental spots in Lubbock, Texas, and occasionally I see the yucca or bargrass, used in the same way.

This is one thing I am particularly glad to see, because it seems to me that we are often inclined to overlook the possibilities of native plants here. This section does not have as many plants and flowers as some parts of the country have, but that is no reason why we should overlook the ones we do have.

Whether or not there is any way to get these plants without going out and scouring the pastures, I don't know, but the attractiveness of the beds compensates for whatever work may be involved.

Dr. E. L. Reed, of the Texas Agricultural College, has a family who I am told, authority on cacti here. He has about 40 species of cacti in the Southwest and 10 or 12 of these are in this immediate vicinity. He has these in a bed in his back yard, along with five others which were brought from South Texas and New Mexico.

No particular preparation is necessary for a cacti bed, Dr. Reed says. You simply spread the plant, the soil, and water it as you do other things, except that the water should not stand on the plant. If some of the roots are broken in digging up the plant, it will still grow in all probability. He says as cacti are very hardy and with the branch variety, such as the King cactus, a sharp may be had by rooting a branch that has been broken from a plant.

Dr. Reed used some fertilizer on his bed last spring, but he does not think this is a necessary thing at all, as the plants respond well to watering and a little care.

Of course, the bed may be made as fancy as one wishes. Some of those I have seen have been built up with rocks in corners of gardens to make unusually beautiful spots. The brilliant flowers are characteristic of the plants, some of which will gain considerable height.

Here's one other idea on cacti. I saw this some time this summer while riding around in Lubbock County, although I do not remember where it was. A farmer had a cactus hedge alongside his cow pen. Whether or not the hedge serves as a barrier against intruders or was placed there for that purpose, I do not know. At any rate, it looked to me as if it would serve as such.

LONG GLOVES STYLISH
SHORT sleeved evening WRAPS testify to continued vogue of long gloves, a fashion notice from Paris relates. Even the long gloves which dressmakers show for evening frequently have open sleeves or half-sleeves, which indicate gloves capable of warmth as well as decoration.

ANOTHER RECIPE
A green tomato which uses green tomatoes has been submitted. This is for green tomato Mince-meat. Tomorrow's recipe will be for green tomato pickle.

The mince-meat recipe is as follows: One peck green tomatoes, 5 cups brown sugar, 5 cups raisins, 2 cups beef suet, 1-2 cup vinegar, 2 teps. salt, 2 teps. ground cinnamon, 1 tsp. ground cloves, 2 tsp. nutmeg, 2 cups chopped apples.

Slice the tomatoes thin, or put them through a food chopper. Allow to drain, cover with cold water, place over the fire and boil for five minutes. Drain well, add suet, vinegar, fruit and seasoning. Return to the fire and allow to simmer for thirty to forty-five minutes. Pack while hot and process as for preserves.

THESE "WASP WAIST"
FOR those of us do not wish a return of the prosaïc "wasp waist", there is comfort in the waist of Miss Binner, Fifth Avenue corsetier, who has called a conference of eight New York corset manufacturers in an effort to prevent the return of this fad.

Miss Binner believes that the present trend toward smaller waists is in reality a first step in an attempt to bring back the hour-glass figure. "Don't tell me women won't get back to pinching their waists if fashion demands," she says.

This woman should know, if anyone does, what people will do. She carried Lillian Russell's famous figure and numbers society matrons and actresses among her clients.

It doesn't seem possible that we would go in for hour-glass figures and injure our health for the sake of style, particularly after the years in which women have been free to "stays" but then common sense is one thing and the dictates of fashion an entirely different one. I suppose that if fashion says so, I'll be trying to develop the "wasp waist" along with the rest!

HOW THE DIAMOND BECAME POPULAR THROUGHOUT THE WORLD

As research in the gem world continues, it appears certain that diamonds were known and appreciated in India at least five thousand years ago, and probably before that. They were introduced into Europe about twenty-two hundred years ago. However, during that period similar stone were thought to be diamonds but the known stones of the world were classified as superior. These probably were the real diamonds.

During the next fifteen hundred years, by way of Greece and Rome, a few stones came into the possession of the monarchs and leading nobles in countries farther West. As Spain, England, Portugal and other countries of that time established direct trade routes with India, nobility of those countries became more and more fond of the stones. Slowly the gem grew in favor as a jewel with its use still confined to the rich and powerful. After the art of cutting and polishing was discovered in the fifteenth century the impetus for its establishment in public favor became evident.

In the early part of the seventeenth century new diamond fields were discovered in Brazil. From that time on diamonds became the theme about which romancers and historians wrote. It was not until the nineteenth century the scientists, however, began any definite intensive inquiry about the diamond's nature, formation and various qualities. They proceeded slowly to make reasonable speculations about the origin of the stone. Further research and careful experiments featured the nineteenth century. Theories were on trial, figuratively speaking.

During the latter part of the nineteenth century, the opening up of new diamond fields in Africa containing unlimited quantities simultaneous with an unexampled development of industry in all departments throughout the world and the rapid accumulation of wealth in the United States, combined to place the gem in a position of great prominence.

The rise of the diamond to its commanding position in the world's store of wealth has been partly due to the fact that, unlike manufactured goods, diamonds are constantly replenished to repair the loss by consumption and wear and tear. The product of the diamond fields steadily accumulates.

Diamonds As An Investment
Frequent reference is made to the diamond as a good investment, but, like much of the crystallized wisdom of the ages embodied in our common proverbs, once the form of expression becomes true the greater part of its significance is lost on the average person.

The diamond is not merely a good investment, it is the best of all investments from the standpoint of stability and continuing rise in value. There is a very definite reason for this. The world's supply of diamonds is limited. We cannot tell precisely how many carats of the precious stones may be hidden in the earth, but only a few important diamond bearing fields ever have been discovered. When these deposits become exhausted there is no telling whence a new supply of the gems may be obtained.

The world had a splendid example of the stability of diamond values following the World War. When thrivers were tottering when the ruble, the mark and the franc were dwindling in value, the diamond stood as the most stable form of wealth and could be turned into money in any market.

The average man or woman will do well to invest in diamonds. They can always be turned into cash. They will never be worth less than they are today and, if carefully selected with the aid of expert advice, are bound to advance in value. Bug diamonds of good quality, however, because the imperfect and off-color stones are not so good for investment purposes. The demand in this country is for the finest diamonds and they must be perfectly cut. Americans are the world's best diamond buyers.

Ninety Per Cent of World's Diamonds Produced in South Africa
Of all the diamonds used in the world, ninety per cent come from South Africa. The other ten per cent is found in Belgium, Congo, British India and Dutch Guiana, and to a very small extent in the Dutch Indies, Borneo, Sumatra, Australia and China.

The original source of supply was in India. Then followed finds in Brazil. In both India and Brazil the finds were alluvial—that is, were found in the beds of ancient and present-day rivers, mixed with the sand and gravel. In neither country have diamonds been found at the point of origin.

It remained for the discovery of diamonds in place to be made in South Africa; but like the discoveries in Brazil and India, the first diamonds discovered in Africa were alluvial diamonds, on the banks of the Orange river, and shortly thereafter on the banks of the Vaal.

But it was not until the latter half of the nineteenth century that the diamond industry could enter upon a large scale development. After the discovery of diamonds in South Africa in the Kimberley district.

What is a Diamond Worth?
That depends upon: (1) Color, whether pure white or not; (2) Perfection, varying from slight to bad flaws; (3) Cut, life and brilliancy depend upon it; (4) Weight.

Some sizes are scarce, others plentiful.

If you are expert in answering these above requirements of a diamond's worth, then you are one person in a hundred thousand. After all, it is not wise to trust to your own judgment, but had better consult a reliable jeweler. Great Vogue for Diamonds Resulted From Discovery of Artificial Lighting

Nothing else quite shows up so well in artificial light as a diamond.

At least this is given by Melver Percival, writing in "Gems on Old Jewelry and Trinkets." As the underlying reason for diamonds' great popularity today, he says: "Till the middle of the eighteenth century, diamonds were to a great extent an outdoor pastime and carried on in the daytime. When the custom changed, this quality of brilliance brought about the diamond set alone to the fore and it was somewhere about 1770 that they ceased to mix colored stones with it. Of course, diamonds had been set alone before then."

"Gilles Egare and others had given designs for such pieces, but they were shown side by side with others, in which diamonds were mingled with colored gems."

This Country's Greatest User of Diamonds

The total value of all diamonds in the world today is $5,000,000,000 and a large share of them are in the United States, where about 50 per cent of the annual supply is consumed.

The world's gold supply is placed at less than $2,000,000,000, and most of this is also in the United States at the present time.—Adv.

House Work Should Be Done According to Plan, Famous Cook, to Appear Here, Avers

Mrs. Leona Runk Ibrig Says Kitchen Work Is Pleasure if Plan of Work Followed by Homemaker

No woman should ever enter the kitchen door without a definite plan in her mind as to what she intends doing, according to Mrs. Leona Runk Ibrig, nationally famous home economist, who is to conduct the Avalanche-Journal free cooking school here this month. The school is to open on October 27 and continue for four days at the Upton Dance Palace.

"If one knows what items she intends to prepare first and which items she plans to let cook while she is preparing the rest; if she believes that the meal is another opportunity in which she may demonstrate her ability to try out savory dishes and present a well balanced menu, that cannot help but be reflected in the attitude of her family," Mrs. Ibrig says.

Is Fine Art
"In my thousands of public appearances as a lecturer on cooking, I have stressed that it is one of the fine arts and that the woman who faces with eminent dread the culinary opportunities before her, has no more chance of encouraging the health of her family through her skill as a cook, than an artist, composer, architect, or engineer, could hope to produce a masterpiece worthy of his capacities were he to attack his task with such dread and martyrdom."

"In my lecture as I demonstrate in a model kitchen the practical application of tenets I teach, I endeavor to show the housewife the most thrilling and intriguing capacities of the art of home cooking that I feel myself each time I take the platform."

"I attempt to show her little short cut of systematic routine by which she can save herself much valuable time, and incidentally secure much class attended a party at the home of Mary Knight, 1821 8th street. The honoree is moving to Wallfort and the party was a farewell courtesy.

TO REORGANIZE PRE-LAW

With the purpose of reorganizing the pre-law club which was once one of the most influential organizations on the campus, old members of the organization will meet tonight at 7:30 in room 217 of the ad building. Plans will be made for initiation of new members which will be held at the next meeting.

One of the highlights on the social calendar during the last fall term was the dance given in the Tech gym by members of this organization. It is customary for a banquet to be given by the members during each spring term. At the meeting tonight plans will also be discussed for the bringing of good speakers to address the club, and arrangements will be discussed for which will be featured by the organization. All pre-law students or students majoring in government are eligible for membership. New members will not be taken in until the next regular meeting of the club, however.

"Kangaroo court session"

CHORAL CLUB MEETS

The Tech Choral club meets for practice tonight in room 310 of the Ad building. The Men's Glee club meets each Monday evening at 7:30 in the same room, while the Girl's Glee club meets at 4 in the afternoon on the same day and in the same room.

Several programs are arranged by these organizations each year and are presented to the students.

The Glee club was featured on the program at college convocations several times last year.

START DRIVE

With the Y. W. C. A. creed in mind, members of the Tech organization of young women this week are conducting a membership drive which will continue until next Monday. All girls in the college are eligible to become members of this organization and co-eds wishing to join may obtain application blanks at the Y office.

The creed of the organization is: "We the members of the Young Women's Christian Association of Texas Technological college, unite in a desire to realize full and creative life through a growing knowledge of God.

"We determine to have a part in making this life possible for all people.

"In this task we seek to know God and to follow Him."

EMPLOYED HERE

Earl Collins, former student in the agricultural school who is from Clifton, is not in school this fall, but is employed in this city by the Bell Ice Cream company.

VISITS EDITOR

W. W. Mercer, president of the Economy Advertising company which has the contract for the printing of the 1931 Tech annual, was here yesterday conferring with "Flo" Marshall and "Country" Coker, editor and business manager of La Ventana, respectively.

The Economy Advertising company, which has printed the Tech annual for the past three years, has the contract for the printing of about twenty-five college annuals. Among the yearbooks printed each year by the company are: "The Boomer," yearbook of the University of Oklahoma and the annual for the College of Industrial Arts, at Denton.

The trip to Lubbock by Mr. Mercer was made especially for conference in regard to the 1931 La Ventana.

ARMISTICE PROGRAM

Although Armistice day, November 11, will be no holiday in the college a program is being arranged which will be presented in the Tech Gym during the convocation held that day at 11 o'clock. Although no definite speaker has been selected, it is known that some influential speaker will appear at this time.

It is also understood that no holiday will be declared for October 23, which is the day of Tech-T. C. U. football game. The special train will leave on the night of the 24th, but no cuts will be counted against those making the trip on the special.

Considering the fact that only a small portion of the students would make the trip to the game at Fort Worth, members of the Athletic council deemed it unnecessary to declare a holiday for the game.

AGGIES TO SELECT PINS

Aggie students will wear pins depicting the emblem of the aggie club if present plans of the organization are carried out. At a recent meeting of the organization a committee consisting of Curtis Williams, Gerald Gordon and Leon Havis was appointed to investigate prices and designs of the various pins suggested. At the next regular aggie meeting the committee will report on its investigation. During the meeting Lanoy Hazel and Bill McKinney, engaged in a wrestling match, both wrestlers being greased-before the match. Results of the contest was a draw.

DIRECTORS TO MEET

Clifford E. Jones of Spur is president of the board, while Roscoe Wilson of this city is treasurer.

RIFLE SHOOTING INSTRUCTION

With the majority of the old members of the rifle team back in school and an excellent amount of new material on hand, prospects for an other winning rifle team at the college are bright. Plans are being made this week for preliminary instruction in rifle shooting. This instruction will include both sighting and aiming exercises. The next meeting of the rifle club will be held Friday night in room 220 of the administration building.

Harvard Undergraduate Paper Brands Legion Convention "Wholesale Brawl"

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 14. (P)—The Harvard Crimson, undergraduate daily newspaper today termed the Legion convention in Boston last week a "wholesale brawl" which "was worse than a subway riot or a drunken football crowd."

The editorial brought immediate replies from Mayor Richard M. Russell of Cambridge and Ralph W. Robart, past commander of the Cambridge post of the American Legion. The latter demanded the immediate resignation of those students responsible for the editorial and said Harvard students had failed to be sufficiently patriotic on several occasions in the past.

No other country in the world, the Crimson said, "would countenance the spectacle of the recent American Legion convention in Boston." The paper termed the affair "merely an excuse for a wholesale brawl," and continued that Boston had seen fit "to allow a total relaxation of law and order during the stay in the hub of the 'buddies' who fought to make the world safe for democracy and come back to raise hell annually so no one can forget it."

Mayor Russell said he had attended several affairs during the Legion's stay in Boston and had failed to see evidence warranting such an editorial. He said he saw many persons intoxicated but none of them too young to be legionnaires.

NYE BELIEVES HIS DEFENSE IN PROBE OF MCCORMICK CAMPAIGN FUNDS HAS BEEN IGNORED IN CONFUSION

By Charles F. Stewart ASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Chairman Gerald P. Nye of senate's committee on expenditures for this year's candidates...

Nominated by the Sucker State Republicans away back early in April, Mrs. McCormick was not a bit financially secretive.

As chairman of the senate's slush fund committee, Nye spoke of $319,786.40 as quite a large sum—considerably more than a senate seat pays in salary in 30 years.

Unluckily for Nye, he virtually was the whole committee at the time. His fellow member, Senator Dale of Vermont, has helped him a little with his inquiry.

Of course the committee couldn't do it; it would have meant an end of the slush fund investigation right there—the substitution of an investigation by Mrs. McCormick into the committee's doings for the committee's investigations into Mrs. McCormick's campaign expenditures.

It did have some effect, however. From start to finish anything that Mrs. McCormick felt like charging against Nye got front page and oodles of room in an editorial policy like this.

And naturally the newspapers instantly "played" it as an attempt to gag the press, though actually it simply was hysteria.

Letters to the Editor

Critical Writer Claims Boy Scout Movement Militaristic

Give us men and women, too, who dare to speak—whose heart is true and yet who respect the opinions of others and accord to them the same privilege.

With this in view, I wish to present the following thoughts, asking a careful reading before passing judgment.

All know the awful experience of the late war—the hate, cruelty, murder and destruction; the waste, corruption, graft and enormous cost, the sorrow and suffering and the billions of indebtedness following and to fall onto the shoulders of generations yet unborn.

Who Wants War Now? Who is now so hard-headed as to want war or would now face an audience of intelligent people, or the public and boldly advocate war, murder and destruction?

Such a thing would be very unpopular now (thank God and reason) and it would likely be met with scorn and contempt, especially by those who suffer and by those who now feel the pain and sorrow.

Who Wants War Now? That sentiment now seems to be almost universal (wish to God and all that is good, that it were fully and sincerely true) but how can we? How can other nations believe this and trust us as sincere when we are going right on mentioning big armies, big navies, big armaments and contriving new means of death and destruction of other nations and other powerful nations are doing the same?

Why not discard the murdering causes of war that create distrust, envy, hatred and fear among nations, and all good citizens and all individuals? If it were actually necessary in order to enforce peace justice and national laws, it could be done just as civil laws are enforced and good citizens could always be depended on to do their part.

Appeal To Logic "They would be honest and would have full trust and confidence knowing they were in the right and in the greatest cause possible for human good and for genuine civilization. You know this is true and logical and it would appeal to honor and true manhood.

But now listen, a new feature has arisen that I wish to call attention to: In my mind, I see a great, dark and threatening cloud forming and overshadowing our, apparently peaceful and quiet nation, which may soon burst into a furious tornado and engulf this nation, or perhaps the world in another holocaust of darkness, death and destruction.

Is It For Good? It now appears very mild and sane and presents some fine features. These few fine features are very commendable, but really what is the true object behind the movement? Is it really for good? Or is there a sinister purpose behind it?

Now listen, if the Boy Scout movement is for the uplift and benefit of the boys of our country, who are to govern the future, assume the responsibilities and care for the public good and public interests.

It is to instill into their pliant minds a spirit of noble purpose, high aims and ideals of usefulness, mercy, helpfulness, courage and determination for the honorable, right and best—then I say—Amen! And may God bless every effort in that direction.

Brooklyn Puts Over Biggest Player Deal Of Season

Texas Miners, Who Play Matadors Here Friday, Are Powerful Club

Robins Outbid Two Clubs for Philly Players

Frank O'Doul, 1929 Slugging King, and Fresco Thompson Go to Robins in Big Deal with Philadelphia Phillies

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—In the biggest deal since the close of the 1930 baseball season, Brooklyn today obtained two Philadelphia stars, outfielder Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, 1929 National League batting king, and Second Baseman Fresco Thompson, in exchange for two pitchers, one rookie outfielder and a check.

The Robins, in fortifying for 1931 two of the positions in which they were weak this year, outbid at least two other National League clubs, including the Chicago, Cubs, in the scramble for Phillie talent.

Jim Elliott goes
Brooklyn, besides the cash, hands over Jim Elliott, left hander; Cliff Dudley, slightly smaller right hander; and Hal Lee, young outfielder, who signalled his major debut by hitting a home run as a pinch hitter.

The addition of O'Doul to the Brooklyn outfield gives the Robins a trio of mighty hitters. O'Doul batted .383 this year, gaining fourth place in National League rating. He led the league in 1929 with .398.

Helps Robins hitting
Babe Herman, Brooklyn right fielder, batted .333 this year and Johnny Frederick, the fast center-fielder, had a mark of .334. Thompson had his poorest season in 1930 when he batted only .284, but the four years he has been in the Phillie regular second baseman he has an average above .300. He is only 27 years old.

Elliott, who is three inches over six feet and weighs 250 pounds, came to Brooklyn from Seattle in 1929, with the exception of the 1930, when he was sick most of the season, he has done excellent work. Dudley has been with the Robins two years, and although his work in 1930 consisted chiefly of relief pitching he "took his turn" in 1929 with fair success.

Lee, who like Dudley was promoted from the Atlanta club of the Southern association, played few full games for the Robins in the season just closed, but was kept on the bench throughout the year. Manager Robinson refusing attractive offers for his services.

Collett, Hill Lead Golfers In Lady Meet

Scores Go According to Dope with Exception of Quier Who Was Expected to Win; Collett Beats Grossman

BY RUSSELL J. NEWLAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP)—Led by the defending champion, Glenna Collett, and Mrs. C. S. Hill of Kansas City, medalist favorites with one exception stroked their way to victories today in first round matches of the 1930 women's national amateur golf championship.

The upset saw Miss Edith Quier of Reading, Pa. member of this year's international cup team, defeated by Mrs. Brent Potter of San Jose, Calif., two up. Mrs. Potter, a veteran campaigner, never has engaged in a major engagement before, but among her golfing seniors is a Northern California title, while this year she reached the runnerup station in the state championship. She outdistanced her younger opponent throughout and was two up at the turn. Mrs. Potter had led for the first nine to 43 for Miss Quier.

Collett After Third Title
Miss Collett, seeking her third successive title and fifth all-time championship, set an unbeatable pace to eliminate Mrs. Harry Grossman of Los Angeles, 6 and 4. The New York star, seasoned by long competition, snatched the first four holes before her rival could gain her bearings.

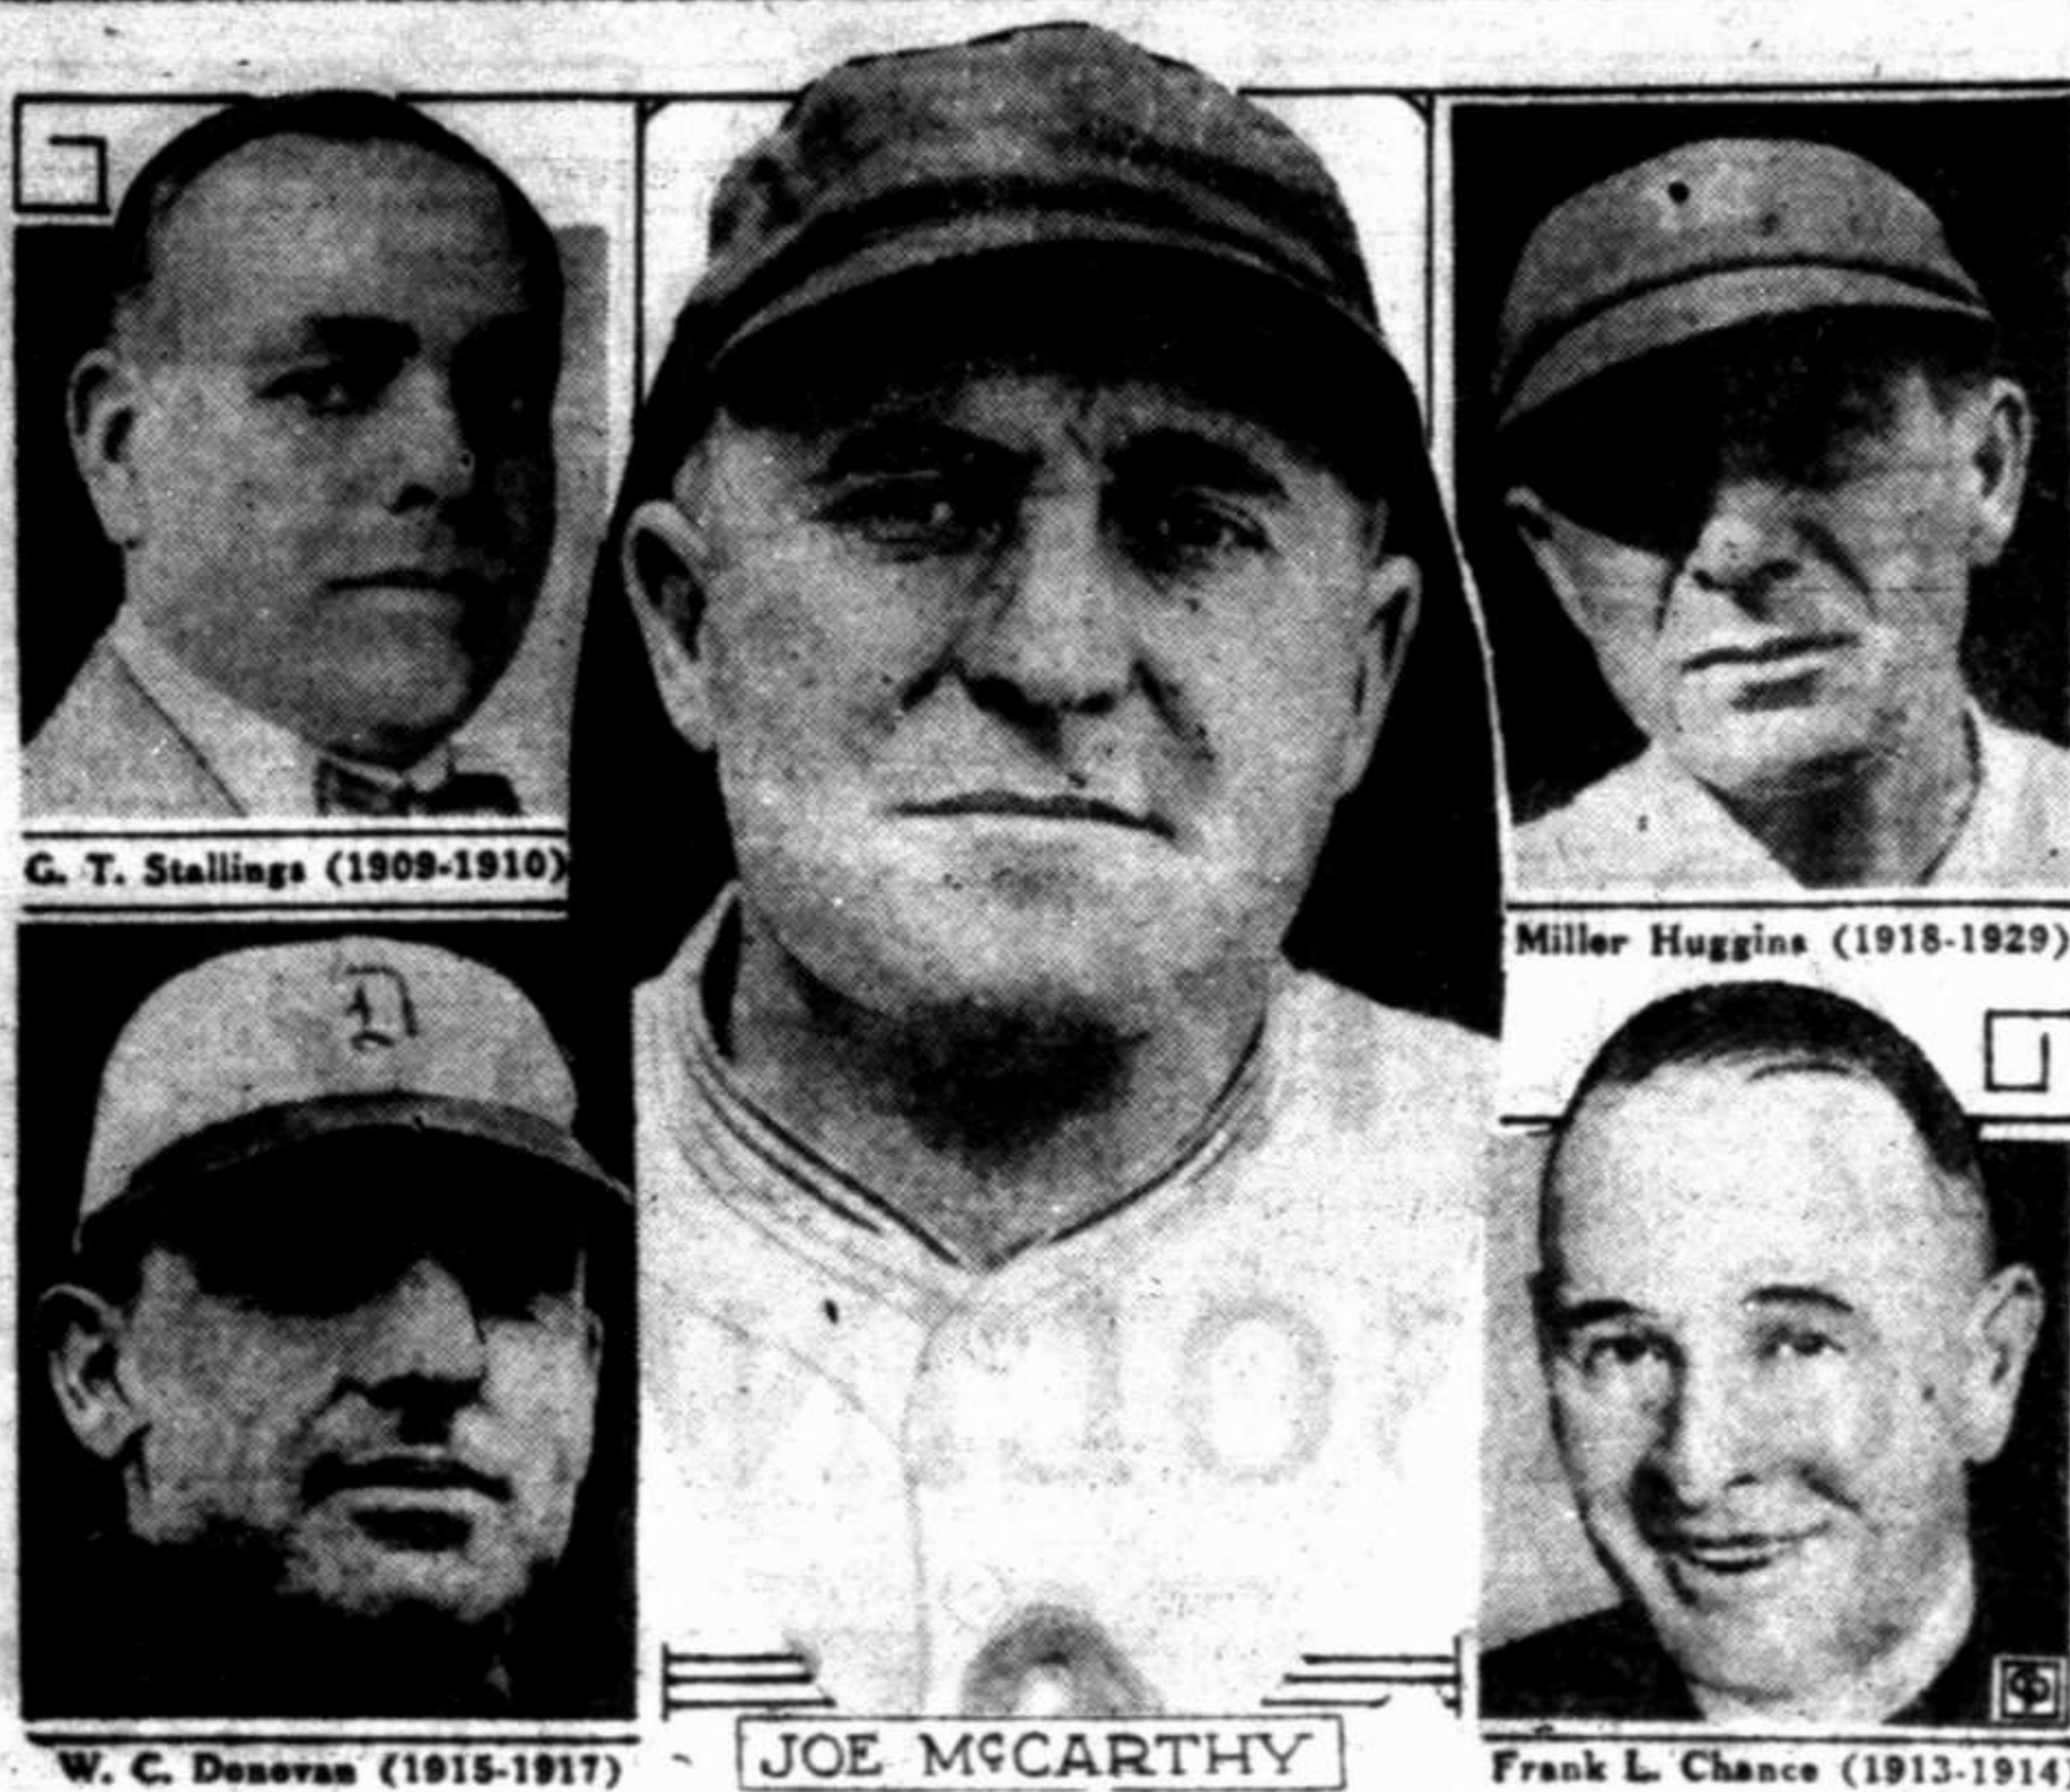

She was four up at the turn, putting a medal of 49, one over par, in 48 for Mrs. Grossman. She won the tenth with a birdie 4, lost the eleventh, 5 to 4, and the twelfth was halved in fives. Miss Collett clinched the match with a par 5 on the 13th and a birdie 5 on the 14th.

Mrs. Hill Advances
Medalist yesterday and national semi-finalist last year, Mrs. Hill advanced to the second round with a 4-3 victory over Miss Bernice Wall, Oshkosh, Wis., entrant. The outgoing stretch was a nip and tuck affair.

New Yankee Manager Succeeds Many Famed Pilots

As new manager of the New York Yankees, Joe McCarthy steps into shoes worn by a quartet of noted baseball men who have passed. McCarthy's predecessors at the helm of the New York Americans not only included such famous figures as the late George Stallings, Frank Chance, Bill Donovan and Miller Huggins but also Clark Griffith, now Washington owner; Norman Eberfeld, Hal Chase, Harry Wolverton, and Roger Peckinpaugh, now Cleveland manager.

Three Teachers Colleges in Tie for T. I. A. A. Leadership With Standings Of 1000 Per Cent; Canyon is Strong

CANYON, October 14. (Special).—Commerce Teachers, Canyon Teachers and San Marcos Teachers colleges are the only T. I. A. A. schools with a percentage of a thousand. Sul Ross Teachers, Sam Houston Teachers and Daniel Baker have not played conference games.

Denton has lost to T. C. U. and Austin College, and tied Southwestern University, and may be a serious threat when they take up their conference schedules.

Sam Houston Loses
Sam Houston lost to Rice Institute 13 to 14 and Rice is considered the dark horse of the Southwest conference. Sul Ross has lost to Schreiner and to St. Mary's, but has shown a wonderful lot of offensive power. Daniel Baker lost to both St. Edwards and Loyola of the South, but they too have shown a world of stuff.

Stephen F. Austin Counted Out
Stephen F. Austin has lost two conference games in as many starts. Their first loss was to San Marcos Teachers by a score of 6 to 0 and last Friday dropped their second to Commerce Teachers 13 to 0.

A. C. C. has won one and lost one, winning from McMurry 24 to 0 and losing to Canyon Teachers 19 to 7. Although losing to A. C. C., McMurry has a team that will give any conference club a battle before the season is over. Last Saturday they played the Texas Tech Matadors, losing 19-0, but putting up a powerful front.

West Texas of Canyon, East Texas of Commerce, and Southwest Texas of San Marcos have played one game each and have won.

Canyon Vs. Commerce
This week the Commerce Teachers come to Canyon to meet the Buffaloes in a game that will practically eliminate one of the teams from the conference race.

San Marcos Teachers meet Abilene Christian College and according to dope should win from the Wildcats.

Sam Houston Teachers meet the Oklahoma Teachers of Durant and Stephen F. Austin meets John Tarleton in a non-conference tilt at Waco, Tex., so they can't improve their standing this week.

Indians Play Sul Ross
McMurry and Sul Ross meet at Colorado, Texas, in a game that will place Sul Ross in the running or will practically eliminate them from the conference race. McMurry's loss to A. C. C. has placed them under a handicap that makes it almost impossible for them to stay in the race.

Daniel Baker plays Simmons this week-end and comparative strength of the Texas Conference and T. I. A. A. may be had. Denton Teachers meet Trinity University in another T. I. A. A. and Texas conference clash.

ASSOCIATION FORMED
DIMMITT, Oct. 14. (Special).—Organization of a junior cow testing association has been perfected by vocational agriculture students in the high school. T. V. Weaver, teacher, will instruct the boys on their new work.

BUY OUT STOCK
DIMMITT, Oct. (Special).—T. W. Malone and Fred Bowell have bought the Maynard store stock. It was opened Saturday under the new management.

Clark Griffith, president of the Washington Senators, claims the loss of Heinie Manush during the end of the season cost his club the American league pennant.

Goes to Robins

Lefty O'Doul, hitting champion of the National League in 1929, was involved in a trade yesterday whereby his allegiance to the Philadelphia Phillies was transferred, so it is hoped, to the Brooklyn Robins. Fresco Thompson, also of the Phillies, was included in the trade, going with Lefty for a couple of pitchers, a rookie outfielder, and a check.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., Oct. 14. (AP)—Captain Ben Pine and Captain Angus Walters, skipper respectively of the pride of Gloucester's fishing fleet, Gertrude L. ### Matadors Play With Picadors In Scrimmage

Both Teams Get Ready for Hard Games This Week-end; Picadors Meet Amarillo Junior Collegians

Grateful for the sunshine and for West Texas' ability to soak up moisture, the Scarlet and Black of Texas Tech flashed rather brilliantly under the close observation and advice of Coaches Cawthon, Morgan, Golightly and Smith yesterday in a snappy drill as part of the preparations under way for the entertainment of the Texas School of Mines gridsters here Friday.

Coach Dutcher Smith sent his Picadors into an arduous session with the Matadors, or maybe it was the other way, but at any rate both clubs left the field as darkness enveloped the campus, with a slightly advanced knowledge of football as taught by masters of the game and satisfied that they had done a day's work.

The practice this week is not devoted solely to the advancement of the Matadors' cause, but with equal emphasis on the freshmen. Next Saturday they will meet the Amarillo Junior College eleven, one of the strongest teams of its class in this section. Thus a double bill is provided by the local collieries, who have the field and the Lubbock spotlight to themselves again as the Westergers of the high school forsake their home grounds for Electra.

Nothing will be spared this week that will make for stronger football teams at Tech. The Miners coming to Lubbock for the first time, will put up a fight that only a team well versed in nearly all the tricks of football will be able to beat, and that is the kind of team Coach Pete Cawthon expects to put on the field Friday. It is doubtful if a stronger team comes to Lubbock this season. Simmons University's Cosmoys come here for the final game of the season, but even they may not be as powerful as the Miners.

The coach of the Miners is one Mack Saxon, former teammate and pupil of Tech's coaching staff, and he has assembled one of the best groups of gridiron material in West Texas. Several members of the team have seen service on leading Playmakers play a thrilling game, but the Sandies should have no trouble in trouncing the Bulldog. Wichita Falls, already out of the race, will go to Quanah for a tilt with the Indians, who are also counted out of the race.

Dope favors the Amarillo Sandies now who are trying for their fourth district championship, to finish high this season, but strong supporters of the Lubbock Westerners are not ready to concede the title to the Sandiforms. ### Joe McCarthy To Pilot New York Yankees

Former Cub Manager Declares Allegiance to Americans; Signs Two-Year Contract to Lead Yanks, Starting Today

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Joe McCarthy today finally took off his National League uniform and declared his allegiance to the American League by signing a contract to manage the New York Yankees for the next two years.

The former manager of the Chicago Cubs posed with Jacob Ruppert president of the Yankees, before as many photographers as there are players on a major league club, as he affixed his signature to the document which he called "the best contract I ever signed."

Pleased With Contract
McCarthy's reference was the only one made to the figures in the contract, but it was supposed he was paid $25,000 a year at Chicago, and probably received an increase of at least $5,000.

President Ruppert told the new manager he confidently expected him to bring another pennant and another world championship back to New York, and Joe promised to do his best. The owner of the club placed his facilities behind the manager, added:

"You and you alone will be the manager."
McCarthy, who is 43 years old and lives at Buffalo although he is a native of Philadelphia, managed the Cubs for five years, piloting them to one championship. Before being graduated to the majors he managed Louisville for six years, playing four years. He was an infielder, but never played major baseball.

New East-West Air Service Is To Start Today

Atlanta and Los Angeles Are Linked by Mail-Passenger Route; Direct Connections Across Continent Next

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The Postoffice Department announced Monday that inauguration Wednesday of the Atlanta-to-Los Angeles mail and passenger air route will be followed swiftly by a New York-to-Atlanta passenger service.

Equipment is already being assembled, W. Irving Glover, assistant postmaster general, said. Glover referred to this proposed new service as "the first direct trans-continental passenger service from New York to Los Angeles," and added that "the first through passenger service" the mid-continental New York-to-Los Angeles would start October 25.

Must Start Soon This would mean that if the passenger service from the east to the west coast metropolis by way of Atlanta, gets underway before the mid-continental route through St. Louis it will have to start within the next two weeks.

Already, Glover, said, passenger-mail planes are flying between New York and Richmond, Va., and 16 passenger tri-motor planes are being tested out to continue the service to Atlanta. In the Georgia city it would connect with the Atlanta to Los Angeles service to be inaugurated with elaborate ceremony Wednesday.

The October 25 inauguration of the mid-continental route, postponed from October 15 because of radio difficulties, will give a 26-hour through passenger service from coast to coast with stops at Philadelphia, Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Columbus, Indianapolis, St. Louis, Kansas City, Wichita, and Amarillo. The swiftest train trip is four nights and three days.

Mrs. Koonce Tells What Argotane Did

"I Found It To Be Excellent," Says Woman

Mrs. A. C. Koonce, 303 N. Buik Street, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Amarillo is so well pleased with Argotane and what it has done for her that she says she is simply willing all her friends about it, no matter where she meets them.

Like many other ladies, Mrs. Koonce shrinks from publicity but she says beyond a doubt Argotane is a splendid medicine and that she feels it is her duty to let other suffering women know about it.

"I've had an operation for gall stones and had been in a general run down condition for the past eight or nine months," says Mrs. Koonce. "I seemed to have no appetite at all and I was nervous and nervous. I am gaining in health and strength every day. I don't feel weak and run down like I did and I'm just feeling better every day. I recommend Argotane for I have found it to be excellent since it has done me so much good. I am continually telling someone about it."

Genuine Argotane may be purchased in Lubbock at the Women's Drug Store. Adv.

Cured Lepers Prefer Life in Colony To Work-Day World, Says Physicians

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—The rehabilitated leper who longs for his colony, instead of wanting to live in the work-day world, is one of the puzzling problems of the United States Public Health Service.

Instance of a cured leper, who had twice paid his way from a distant city to Carville, La., was reported to public health headquarters here today by the medical officer in charge of the Carville colony.

This particular discharged patient was reported a malcontent during his hospital life, but was anxious to make amends in the hope of readmission for permanent residence, though no longer diseased.

Insists On Returning The medical officer told of other cured lepers who insisted on returning to the colony physicians for treatment of their ailments, instead of consulting local physicians in their home towns. He described one case in which a man, "completely cured and in the pink of condition," refused pointblank to leave when he was discharged. "He was put in an ambulance by a guard and taken home," the report related.

Recently a paroled patient came from California quite emaciated, instead of consulting local physicians and preferring to spend his own money to get to doctors who knew his condition," the physician continued.

"He had merely temporarily ruined his digestion. Another drove from Florida in his own car to be treated for a gregarious finger, alleging the same lack of confidence in the home doctors. A few days ago a paroled patient rode the brake rods from New York to Baton Rouge, and then walked 20 miles to Carville for readmission, and he surely needed it for he could hardly drag his feet and was about 40 pounds underweight. As soon as we get these chaps in good condition, we release them again on parole."

The medical officer said the problem of what to do with the paroled leper is under serious consideration by many institutions. Some permit readmission for observation, others insist that they shift for themselves.

Howard Plans Highway Bonds

Highways One And Nine Are To Be Permanently Improved If Election Action Is Taken In County

(Special To The Avalanche) BIG SPRING, Oct. 14.—Crystallization of sentiment in Howard county for a county-wide road bond issue has become much more apparent within the past week and it now appears an election will be called very soon.

It is proposed to provide funds for permanent improvements on highways 1 and 9, both state-federal roads, and for similar work on certain important county roads.

Time Is Ripe A county-wide road committee is in the process of organization, with representatives from all parts of the county. At last week's meeting of the Business Men's club M. H. Morrison, for 20 years a leading advocate of good roads, declared his belief that the time was ripe for submitting the issue. He said he had felt until recently its submission would have been inopportune.

A clarifying factor in the sentiment of the farming population, especially north of Big Spring, is the belief founded on statements from highway commission members, that the proposed Texas and Pacific Northern railway line extending northward from here will decide the permanent route of highway No. 9. Some opposition has been voiced to voting bonds for No. 1 as well as No. 9, based on condition of the semi-permanent surface on No. 1 is sufficient. The highway department, pointing out that No. 1 is the most important road in the south, has steadfastly refused to join in construction of No. 9 at this time unless No. 1 is also provided for. However, the county has been assured No. 9 would be paved first. Another reason for the state department's refusal to leave No. 1 out of the program is desire to eliminate two bad grade crossings in the county.

An ounce of gold is now worth about 50 ounces of silver.

Lubbock Third In West Texas Bank Deposits

Comparative Figures Reveal Abilene and San Angelo to Be Only Ones Ahead of City of September 24

(Special To The Avalanche)
SAN ANGELO, Oct. 14.—Lubbock ranked third in total deposits and loans in eight West Texas cities having bank deposits of more than $1,000,000 on the call at close of business, September 24, comparative figures issued on a recent call from the comptroller of currency show.

San Angelo was first, deposits in the banks here almost equalling the combined deposits of the next two cities, Abilene and Lubbock. Volume of deposits in San Angelo reached $9,729,486.95 at the call. Bankers said that following the influx of money from the National Wool corporation late in September it is the total deposits, probably would equal total of the preceding quarterly call, which was $10,633,384.36.

Deposits at Abilene totaled $6,532,542.00 and at Lubbock $4,089,361.67. The recorded decrease in deposits in the San Angelo institutions at the time of the issuance of the statements, disregarding the sheepmen's recent deposits, was $903,897.31 for the three months. In Abilene, the decrease in deposits was $1,481,281.45, indicating a very healthy state of business in the San Angelo territory compared to current conditions elsewhere.

During the same time, taking the two leading banking cities of the section again, loans were reduced $470,520.77 in San Angelo, while the banking houses of Abilene reduced loans by $100,868.40.

Bankers in all West Texas cities describe conditions as satisfactory. At Lubbock the financial situation is said to be "in excellent condition," the Big Spring bank status is said to be "unusually strong," with the present deposits of $3,380,073.24 comparing very favorably with the June figure of $3,608,461.71.

The decrease at Brownwood is from $3,870,157.41 to $3,011,360.79 in three months, but the cash on hand is more than on June 30 and more than a year ago. Both Del Rio banks are in a prosperous condition; although figures could not be secured for the June 30 call, there is actually a greater total of deposits than at the March 27 call, when each of the banks had less than $1,000,000 on deposit.

At Breckenridge the First National there claims more deposits from neighboring banks than any other institution in West Texas. The Sweetwater banks show a deposit difference for the last two calls of only $178,816.93, and loans have been reduced more than $70,000. Cisco banks also show an excellent condition, with deposits holding up well.

Total deposits and loans in eight West Texas cities having bank deposits of more than $1,000,000 on the call at close of business Sept. 24 follow:

	Deposits	Loans
San Angelo	$9,729,486.95	$7,857,040.28
Abilene	6,532,542.00	3,554,751.00
Lubbock	4,089,361.67	2,728,961.23
Big Spring	3,380,073.24	2,339,956.25
Brownwood	3,011,360.79	2,447,524.55
Del Rio	2,355,049.10	2,364,815.19
Sweetwater	1,895,891.49	1,525,976.65
Cisco	1,044,043.56	822,402.13

Press accounts give Breckenridge banks a total of "more than $2,250,000" in deposits.

Among the West Texas banks reporting increased deposits over the June 30 call are the Brady National Bank, the First National Bank of Lampasas, Maria National Bank, the Menard National Bank, the Guaranty Fund State Bank of Miles, the Central National Bank of San Angelo and the Guaranty State Bank of San Angelo. The First National Bank of Sonora, and the First National Bank of Winters. Nearly every one of the institutions reduced its loans.

End Of Long-Faltering Dream Of Agricultural Empire Is Written as Hickman, Illinois, Is Sold In Auction

(By The Associated Press)
WATSEKA, Ill., Oct. 14.—The end of a long-faltering dream of agricultural empire was written this week when an auctioneer sold the dregs of the town of Hickman in southeastern Illinois county for $1,039.

Once the largest grain-shipping point in central Illinois' eastern range of counties, Hickman had failed to stand the strain of competition among its bustling neighbors and for fifteen years or more had slowly dwindled away. The railroad discontinued its station there, the grain elevator burned down, the hard roads came and the farmers went elsewhere to trade.

So Wednesday Colonel Sam A. Whitesell, auctioneer, mounted the block and strove against a gray drizzle to whip up interest among the 150 men who had gathered. He got $707 for Henry Mark of Goodwin for a house and four acres of land, $75 from L. B. Russell of Hopeston for another acre, $85 from John Van Hovein of Ash Grove township for two small buildings and $32 from Russell for what remains, principally the scales and office shack, of the grain elevator.

The land was bought by owners of adjoining farms. The buildings went to wrecking firms. The antique grille-work of the postoffice was resold immediately to C. B. Baier of Cissna Park for $1.

Old Peter Hickman founded the town when he trekked in from Delaware with his sons

Closer To Work Austin Youth Is Particular

AUSTIN, Oct. 14. (P)—If you were in jail, would you want your best girl to know it? Neither did an Austin youth in the Travis county jail who recently wrote a letter to a girl in another Texas city explaining that he wasn't staying home any more and that he was rooming and boarding nearer his work.

"I don't know just what his work is," commented the jail censor, "but he really is rooming and boarding right close to it."

ORGANIZING BAND

ABERNATHY, Oct. 14. (Special)—Miss Margaret Thompson, director of music in the Abernathy high school, is organizing a band in the grade school to be known as the junior band. Miss Thompson has the senior band meeting three times a week and the orchestra twice a week.

In 1880, they took up all the land in that vicinity.

Through the 'eighties and 'nineties the town flourished. But with the turn of the century, its importance began to wane. Only one of the Hickmans is left in this area, so far as could be learned. He is Charles E. Hickman of East Lynn.

for a time. You see, she'll have to grow used to the idea of having these relatives she's never heard of before. I'm glad you told me how you feel about my daughter, Barney. I—well, you know I like you very much. Of course I hadn't dreamed you had such serious thoughts. As you say, Celia's a child. I think it's best for both of you to put marriage out of your minds for some time. You have so many years ahead of you!

Barney smiled sardonically. "If she goes off to meet a lot of rich folks I guess she'll put me out of her mind all right."
"But my dear young man—"
Shields interrupted. "I know, Mrs. Rogers. I shouldn't have said that. Only you see this thing's a shock for me too. I'd better be going. I suppose you have lots of things. Tell Celia, will you, that I'll stop in tomorrow evening—that is, if she can see me."
"I'll tell her," Mrs. Rogers agreed. "She'll want to see you I'm sure. Good night, Barney."
"Good night."

The sound of the young man's footsteps on the stairs died away and still Margaret Rogers sat where she was, struggling with her thoughts.

Celia had never seen such a room. She was sitting across from John Mitchell at a table for two in the great green and gold hotel dining room and she was trying very hard not to seem self-conscious.

She wore the rose dress which was her "best" and kept her small black hat on her head just as her mother had told her.
All of the other diners appeared elegant to Celia. She wondered how they could seem so casual in such expensive surroundings.

A solicitous dark-skinned waiter offered her a silver tray of rolls. Celia helped herself to a muffin.
"How's the roast? Tender?" Mitchell asked.

"Oh, yes. It's very nice."
"That's good. Mine isn't!" Mitchell grumbled. "I wish I could understand what's happening to all the hotel cooks. All over the country they get worse every year!"
"But I think the food is delicious."

"You can eat it."
They had finished their fruit and were in the midst of the meat course. Celia was beginning to feel a little less embarrassed. Mitchell seemed really the one for whom the dinner was an ordeal. He spoke in short sentences and remained stiffly formal, but if the girl had been skillful enough she could have seen that formality was a mask for diffidence.

"You—hm—think you'll be ready to leave Saturday?"
"Yes. Mother said I was to go then."
Perhaps her placidity was disconcerting after the night before. Silence came as an ordeal. She could not understand why but she knew from that moment that she must never make remarks about her mother to John Mitchell. It frightened her and then after a moment the fright turned to slow anger. She could not yet think of Mitchell as her father. He was an interloper with whom, for her mother's sake, she must be patient.

When the waiter had cleared away the dishes Mitchell reached into a pocket of his vest and drew forth a small white packet.
Celia lifted startled eyes.
"Open it," Mitchell repeated. "It's—something I hoped you might like."
"Oh—how beautiful!"

The little cry was involuntary. Cushioned on white satin within the box lay a white gold circlet with a tiny watch face on one side. Surrounding the watch was an elaborate setting of diamonds and rubies. The gems were exquisite.

"Try it on," Mitchell suggested. "If the size isn't right we'll have it altered."
"It's lovely," Celia said softly. "I've never seen anything so pretty in my whole life." She gazed at the jewels, fascinated.

"Put it on!" the man urged. "You mean—it's for me?"
"Of course."
"But I couldn't take it—"
"Nonsense. Of course you can take it. It's yours. Every girl needs a watch. I want you to have it so that you won't miss that train Saturday."

It was a heavy effort at humor but for John Mitchell it was an impressive one.
Still Celia shook her head. "No," she said. "I can't take it."
"But why not? I bought it for you. I want you to wear it. Celia—couldn't you do that much for your father?"

For an instant their eyes met. Then, with conflicting emotions, Celia lifted the wrist watch from the box and slipped it over her slender wrist. The flashing stones nearly took her breath as she fastened the clasp.

"It fits perfectly."
Gravely Mitchell inspected the arm she extended. He fingered the clasp to be sure it was tight enough.
"Sure it's all right?"
"Oh, it's beautiful! I think it's lovely—and I don't know how to thank you for it!"

"I'm never mind. I hope it will keep time all right." Mitchell's voice was careless again.
Celia could not keep her eye from the gleaming bracelets. Diamonds and rubies! They sparkled and danced, caught reflected rays from one another, gaining doubled brightness.

Impulsively the girl raised her arm and laid the bracelet carelessly against her cheek.
She heard Mitchell speaking in a strained voice.
"Celia," he said slowly, "there's something I want to ask you to do."
(To Be Continued)

Since the birth of the auto industry about 640 different makes of passenger cars have been built in America and placed on the market.

Port Arthur, Texas—Mrs. Alfred Kingston, of 810 Nineteenth Street, this city, says that several years ago she found herself in a run-down condition of health.

"I got so weak," she says, "I could not keep up. My joints ached and I was so miserable I could hardly do my housework."
"I read about Cardui and how it had helped women, suffering in much the same way that I was. I got a bottle of Cardui and took it, and I then felt so much better that I continued the medicine for some time until I was really feeling strong and well."

"The aching in my joints left me entirely, and I was no longer troubled with bad headaches as formerly. My strength returned and I was able to do more than I had in months. Since then I have taken Cardui several times, and I have always improved after I have taken a course of this fine medicine."

Cardui is extracted from medicinal herbs and contains nothing harmful. Try it in your case. . . .

eral streets and alleys to facilitate railroad operations and granting of permission to roof an alley to be used in loading and unloading of bus passengers.

Final passage was made of ordinance No. 472 which grants the Santa Fe railroad permission to use Avenue F between the north line of 10th street, north to the main line of the railroad. A spur track will be erected on this site but will not interfere with public usage of Avenue F.

10th Street Closed

Closing of all of that part of 10th street from the east line of Avenue F east to the railroad property was ordered together with all of Avenue E north of the north line of Main street to the railroad property. Alleys north and south and east and west in block 107 will also be closed.

A claim for damages by E. P. Norwood against the city in connection with the erection of the Avenue H underpass was settled last night by agreement. Mr. Norwood accepted terms of the city and will be paid the sum of $3,500 for any damage caused to his property.

Roofs Granted

Permission was granted the Hotel Lubbock Operating company to erect a roof over the alley in block 117 between lots 10 and 11, other property owners having given their consent at a public hearing several weeks ago.

It is understood that the roof will be at least 14 feet above the paving and will be erected to comply with the city fire code. Paving and roofing are to be built under plans and specifications approved by the city engineer and building inspector and will be equipped with lighting facilities. City officials stated that this permission was granted primarily for convenience of the traveling public but that the

Revolution

Government troops asserted, had driven the rebels out of the triangular western portion of Minas Gerais. The revolutionaries also were understood to have withdrawn from the vicinity of Belo Horizonte capital of the state.

FORTE ALEGRE, Brazil, Oct. 14. (AP)—Victories along the Sao Paulo-Parana front and an extension of their campaign into the westerly state of Mato Grosso were the principal gains reported by Brazilian revolutionary leaders here today.

A five hour battle between Alfonso Camargo and Carlópolis, along the Sao Paulo-Parana 200-mile battle line, was described as the sharpest of the civil war thus far and was said to have resulted in a rout for the government troops.

Federals Retreat
The fight was between the first battalion of the revolutionary army, commanded by Major Tvaiano Marinho, and 250 police of the Sao Paulo state forces. When the federals retreated they left behind rifles, machine guns and other war materials, with several dead and wounded and a number of prisoners. A communique issued here said only one rebel was wounded.

In another engagement in the same area, at Quatigua, revolutionary soldiers routed a force of Sao Paulo state police and captured a number of prisoners. The government adherents left behind machine guns, rifles, ammunition and some heavy field pieces.

A third battle in the same section was at Gatings, with the revolutionaries capturing 35 prisoners, two machine guns and other arms.
