Truck stop leases

After 10 years in operation, Tom Mitchell's Circle Bar Truck Corral has been leased. The truck stop, restaurant and convenience store were leased late this month to Jim Martin of Martin-Matthews Oil Company, Beaumont.

Martin also has similar operations in Beaumont, the Houston area, Lafayette, Louisiana, Alabama, West Virginia and Indiana.

Terms include a 10 year lease with two five year options.

The complex will operate as Circle Bar 76 Auto/Truck Plaza Inc. according to Jeffrey Stuart, general manager of the facility for the past four years.

Mitchell will retain operation of the motel, R.V. park, auto museum and welding supply.

"Basically everyone out there has been offered a job," said Stuart of the 100 or so employess at the facility. "Some capacities have been changed, but they want to keep everyone working."

Stuart, who started with the truck stop as warehouse manager and later worked as assistant manager for four years before becoming general manager, will continue to be in charge of the motel and R.V. park.

"I'll also overlook truck stop operations and will be auditing their situation every month," Stuart said.

Bill Harris, a San Antonio native, will manage the 76 operation. Harris comes to Ozona from Sealy where he was employed by Knox Oil Company for the past eight years.

Expansion of the motel is a possibility after the first of the year according to Stuart. The 52-unit motel opened March 18, 1978 with four single units, 34 queen-size double units and 14 VIP suites complete with fire places. A solarium in the center of the facility features a swimming pool surrounded by tropical plants and greenery.

Circle Bar Truck Corral opened to a capacity crowd on Aug. 1, 1977. Construction began two and a half years earlier after Mitchell bought 15 acres of land from C. E. Davidson III. The truck corral was designed by an Austin architect according to Austin building codes.

Mitchell's children, Gary Buck Mitchell and Lisa Mitchell Wagoner, are actively involved in the family business. Lisa is currently learning the motel operation.

Gary Buck and Jeffrey Stuart are sharing the duties of operating Circle Bar Cable T.V. Inc. following the resignation of former manager Jamey Sawyer. Sawyer had operated the system since the Mitchells bought it in 1985.

"We'll split the duties for now," said Stuart. Plans are to wait a bit before deciding whether to hire another cable technician or to run the business themselves, Stuart said.

Oscar Kost, former manager and part owner of the system, has been hired in an advisory capacity. Richard Vargas continues with the company in system service, and Annette Badillo is office manager.

Jobless rate improves

Texas Employment Commission figures released last week indicate an improvement in the jobless rate in Crockett County. November unemployment rates are 6.6 percent compared to 7.0 in October.

The statewide unemployment rate also sits at 6.6, down from 6.8 in October. Overall, the drop in unemployment is attributed to seasonal hiring during the holidays. At the local level, the change can also be attributed in part to unemployment benefits running out, or unemployed persons leaving to search for work in other communities.

The unemployment rate was up in Sutton County to 9.0 from 6.9 in October. Irion County also showed an increase to 4.7 from 3.3. Reagan and Schleicher both saw decreases in unemployment with Reagan County at 5.0 from 5.9 and Schleicher at 6.3 from 6.9.

Nationally, the unemployment rate increased to 5.2 percent in November from 5.0 the previous month.

Santa's visits delight all

Several early Santa Claus appearances around Ozona created plenty of excitement last week for local youngsters.

Santa first showed up Tuesday evening when the Crockett County Child Welfare Board members and sheriff's deputies helped him distribute toys and other gifts to the children of 60 families.

Again Wednesday morning Santa was on hand at the Ozona Community Center when Tinyville and Kiddie Club students enjoyed their Christmas party. Santa talked to tots and passed out candy from a larged basket he had brought especially for the occasion.

At least 300 children, their parents, and sometimes grandparents stood patiently in a line Wednesday afternoon, which at one time streetched half the length of the town square, awaiting their turns to tell Santa the wishes dearest to their hearts.

New officials to be sworn in Sunday

Newly elected officials of Crockett County will be given the oath of office Jan. 1. District Judge Brock Jones will administer the oaths during a 2 p.m. ceremony in the district courtroom.

Deputies will also be re-deputized at that time.

Sonora plans EMT course

An Emergency Medical Technician course will begin in February in Sutton County.

This course is 100 hours of classroom and practical training in the field of emergency medicine. A Texas Department of Health EMT license will be issued if the student successfully completes the course and passes the state written exam.

Classes will be held on Tuesday and Thursday nights. For more information, call 387-5132 weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Genealogists to meet

The San Angelo Genealogical and Historical Society will meet Tuesday, Jan. 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Colorado and Jackson Street Church of Christ in San Angelo.

Billye Scattergood will be the speaker for the evening. The subject of the program will be using tax records in genealogical research.

Visitors are always welcome.

New date set for Iraan meeting

The Texas Water Commission has set a new date for the community meeting scheduled for Iraan regarding the Pecos River fish kills. The meeting will be held Jan. 5 at 7 p.m. in the Iraan Community Center.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Dec. 8, but was cancelled due to inclement weather.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN–In endorsing legislative intent to reform public school funding last week, Comptroller Bob Bullock described his differences with opposition forces led by Gov. Bill Clements.

"I really disagree with those (lawmakers) who would cuss and condemn our judicial system, our judges, because of their own failure to do what should be done."

Bullock also retold a story Clements told him about how Clements' father moved from a rural town to Dallas to give his son a better education.

"That's what this is all about. To keep people like Bill Clements' father from having to do that."

His opposition has been against court-ordered reforms and in favor of legislative reforms.

Concentration Camp Scenario

A recent influx of 5,000 Central Americans has legislators, church and legal-aid attorneys worried over concentration camp scenarios in South Texas.

The aliens, most of them from Nicaragua, live in squalor while the immigration agency processes them, but since most are here illegally, the agency does not fund their wait. They are here to claim asylum, but may just be fleeing poor economies.

Private charities support them in the interim, and those groups worry the Rio Grande Valley will become a "concentration camp" for refugees.

Local officials don't like the burden, and claim many aliens are criminals, diseased and competing for scarce jobs.

Ranchers, Environmentalists

Environmentalists and ranchers from West Texas clashed last week at a public hearing on how to run the expensive Big Bend Ranch as a state park.

Ranchers say pumas and other predators will kill livestock and deer on ranches for miles around unless park officials implement a predator control system in harmony with theirs.

Sierra Club members want a moratorium on killing predators for two years while a study is made.

Meanwhile, city lawmakers seeking parks for their areas are eyeing the new purchase to see how much budget it will eat up.

West Texas lawmakers, who say the Parks and Wildlife board made environmentalists happy when they bought the ranch, want commissioners to protect the local economy.

Short Takes

• The insurance industry has asked the State Board of Insurance for an 11 percent hike in homeowners insurance rates. The board will consider the rate hike proposal Jan. 18.

• In the $432 million rate increase Houston Lighting & Power seeks from the Public Utility Commission, an audit done for the PUC claims HL&P made several bad decisions in early stages of South Texas Nuclear Project construction.

That project had costly overruns and is the heart of the power company's rate hike request. Additional key findings are expected before the PUC votes on the hike in March.

• Some Houston-area legislators will likely seek changes in the law to limit what they call "excessive" legal fees attorneys charge landowners in condemnation lawsuits against state and local governments.

Houston judges reportedly ordered payments of hundreds of thousands of dollars at legal rates as high as $500 per hour.

• The State Preservation Board selected Houston and San Antonio firms to oversee a proposed $147 million restoration and expansion of the Texas Capitol.

• Monte Hasie, a Lubbock financial consultant, last week was named chairman of State Board of Education.

• Rep. Bob Richardson, R-Austin, filed a bill to restrict temporary inmate furloughs and give the Department of Corrections clear direction as to who will be eligible for release.

Crockett County Care Center News

by JoAnne Marshall

All last week's activities were centered around Christmas in some way or another with several special events taking place. The first special activity was a performance by Webelo Scout Pack #153 under the leadership of Elliott Barrera and Steve Usener Monday evening. Young men present and responsible for a fine evening of entertainment were: Brandon Adams, Ronnie Bennett, John Paul Usener, Michael Nicks, Lando Pena-Alfaro and Jim Westbrook. Thank you, boys. Your visit helped get us in tune with the holiday spirit.

Second was the resident's annual Christmas party Tuesday evening, complete with a lively visit from Santa Claus. We would like to thank all those listed below for their part in making this year's party an event to remember: Bob Bell Band members Mike, Dian and Joe Teague, Bill Dane, Mike and Marsha Tomlinson, Bob Bell and George Hester; hostesses Vicki White, Nancy Forehand, Beverly Preddy, Ruth Hester, Glenda Henderson and Jo Davidson; and of course, Santa and all the family members and visitors who attended.

Wednesday evening residents received a visit from several handsome and talented young men. Cub Scout Pack #153 sang carols and wished each and every resident a Merry Christmas with a hand shake or a hug. Boys present were: Ricky Dominguez, Jason Alvarez, Daniel Landin, Mark Childress, Dink Burch, Jamie Tebbetts, Eric Garza, Chad Myers, Robert Daniels, T. J. Tobar, Luis Hernandez, Albert Quintanar, Joe Squiers, Byron Beasley, R. J. Elizondo, Mikey Munoz and Terry Arthur. Leaders present were: Becky Childress, Ronnie Tebbetts, Kim Miller, Barbie Myers, Dora Aguier, and Cubmaster Esmi Barrera. We would like to thank this fine group for filling our hearts with warm feeling.

Thursday morning's beauty shop volunteers surprised residents and staff alike with a special Christmas treat of homemade cookies. We would like to say thank you. Your thoughtfulness meant a lot. Beauty shop volunteers were: Vivian Hughes, Joann Williamson, Jody Miller, Gerri Passon, Yolanda Avila and Lola Rios.

Friday afternoon residents opened gifts from family and friends. We would like to thank The Salvation Army and their district chairman, Johnny Childress, for the gifts that each resident received from them.

Several of the residents went to visit with family on Christmas Day while others stayed here and enjoyed a special Christmas dinner. All had a Merry Christmas. Hope you did, too.

Lions win, Ladies lose

STOCKMAN SPORTS
by T. C. Tucker

The Ozona Lions and Lady Lions' outing at Iraan Dec. 20 resulted in a stunning come-from-behind victory for the Lions as the Ladies struggled to a 7-point loss.

"It was one of our better games of the season," Coach John Curry said of the boys' game. "We played with a lot of poise late in the game, and I think that's what won it for us."

The game's earlier moments proved totally opposite as Iraan moved out to a 19-10 lead which shrank to six by halftime.

However, a rallied Lion team returned for the second half and gradually wore away the lead, taking it for their own and eventually establishing a 53-46 win.

Chris Denman and Oscar Galindo were Ozona's top scorers with 18 and 11 points respectively. The Lions' record now stands at 3 and 9.

In girls' action, the Lady Lions stayed close but never threatened.

"We're still having the same trouble - making mistakes at critical times," Coach Frank Hughey said.

The scoring pattern followed the same as in the past; the opposing team slowly building a comfortable margin. When the final seconds clicked away, Iraan had pulled this one off by seven, 36-29.

Stacy Lay and Adriane Wilson accounted for 23 of those 29 points, scoring 16 and seven points respectively.

Both the boys and girls' teams planned full workout schedules for the entire week. The Lady Lions will travel to Alpine this Friday for freshmen, JV and varsity games there beginning at 1:00 p.m.

All three boys' units will follow similar suit on Saturday as they heard for Coahoma. Games there also begin a 1:00.

Next Tuesday, both the Lions and Lady Lions will host Crane for JV and varsity games. Starting time: 5 p.m.

Samantha gives kisses to Mrs. Manuel Fierro after his seven months of freedom.

Cool weather forces Samantha home

"Free as a bird" accurately described Samantha the parrot for almost seven months. But the freedom-loving bird is home again in his cage.

Samantha escaped from his quarters at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Fierro in late May. A few days later, the missing bird was sighted eating fruit from trees at the home of Joyce and Weldon Maness.

Attempts by Mrs. Fierro to lure the bird back into his cage were unsuccessful.

The wandering parrot was seen in several places enjoying the summer fruit. Then he discovered the tall trees on the courthouse lawn.

Early each morning the bird would call a noisy greeting to Nick Nicholas as he arrived on the square to open Baker Jewelers. Soon the bird began to be sighted by other merchants, children walking through the downtown park on their way to school, and county employees working on the grounds.

Parrot watchers feared that Samantha would starve or freeze as the season changed, and when he stopped appearing on the square in late October, most believed that the adventuresome bird had died.

Good news surfaced in mid-December when Nick learned that the bird had been caught.

After taking refuge in the tall trees at the home of J. P. Pogue, several days of coaxing by Mrs. Fierro ended in the capture of the bird.

Samantha is home again enjoying the security of regular meals. He shows his love for Mrs. Fierro by sitting on her hand and giving kisses.

Adults need immunizations

Even with increased emphasis on preventative medicine these days, too many adult Texans are not adequately protected against vaccine preventable diseases, says the Texas Medical Association.

To determine whether you should obtain one of the immunizations listed below, check your vaccination record. If you are unsure about whether you have been sufficiently immunized, consult your doctor. Be sure to keep a record of current and future vaccinations.

Tetanus/diphtheria, rubella, influenza, pneumococcal pneumonia and hepatitis B.

All of the diseases listed above have two things in common: they can be fatal, but they can be prevented. Make sure your immunizations are up to date!

A pamphlet, "Immunizations--Investing in a Healthy Future," can be obtained by contacting the Texas Medical Assoication, Department of Public Relations, 1801 N. Lamar Blvd., Austin 78701, 512/477-6704, ext. 212.

A Great Light

by Charles Huffman
Pastor Faith Lutheran Church
Ozona
Hope Lutheran Church
Sonora

"The people walking in the dark will see a great light...A Child will be Born for us, a Son will be given to us...And He will be called Wonderful, Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace". - Isaiah 9:2,6.

Many people didn't celebrate the birth of Christ this Christmas-some because they don't know Him, and others because they say we don't really know when He was born.

It's true that we don't know exactly when God's eternally-begotten Son became flesh as the Babe of Bethlehem. The traditional date of December 25th wasn't set until the 4th century A.D. Do you know why the end of December was chosen? Well, people were out celebrating anyway, not the birth of the S-O-N but the rebirth of the S-U-N. Pagan peoples have always held some kind of festival to celebrate the 'coming of the sun' in the middle of winter, on the shortest day, the changing of the seasons when the turning point of the sun takes place. So the early Christians got together and said to the world: 'You're celebrating, all-right, but the wrong thing. You're worshiping the sun, but not God's Son'. They were probably moved to place Christmas on this date by passages from God's Word which use a play on words, such as in Malachi and Luke. "For you who respect My name there will rise the Sun of Righteousness with healing in His wings". (Malachi 4:2). And we remember the words of Zacharias, the father of John the Baptizer - forerunner of Christ, prophesying about his son: "And you, child, will be called a prophet of the Most High God. You will go ahead of the Lord to prepare the ways for Him, to tell His people they can be saved by the forgiveness of their sins, because our God is merciful and will let a heavenly Sun rise among us, to shine on those who sit in the dark and in the shadow of death and to guide our feet into the way of peace" (Luke 1:76-79).

However, many today still merely celebrate the 'season' with parties, gifts, and cards. 'Tis the Season to be Jolly'! The world still offers its way of observing the holiday season, and many get so caught up in CELEBRATING Christmas that they forget to celebrate CHRISTMAS. And the central character of the season offered by the world is a grey-beared fat man in a red suit, who's coming to town to bring presents to those who've been 'good'. Ho, Ho, Ho! Do you know the origin of this jolly character? Nicholaus was the bishop of a church in the town of Myra, province of Lyucia in Asia Minor in the 4th century A.D. He later became the patron 'saint' of Russia, of sailors, and of children. His festival, set on December 6th, was used to tell stories about his secret gifts to children-and soon became connected to Christmas. And through the centuries his name, St. Nicholaus, became corrupted to jolly old St. Nick and finally to Santa Claus in America.

Our hope is not in some idolized "saint", but in Savior of the world, God's own Son Jesus Christ, who was born in a stable at Bethlehem nearly 2,000 years ago. Did you ever try to picture that lowly dark stable behind the inn bordered with multi-colored twinkling lights - and maybe a flood-lit roof with sleigh and reindeer? That's not what Christmas is - and if we think it is, then we had better get down on our knees! Christmas is the celebration of Christ's birth, the coming of the Light into a world darkened by sin and death. It's the joy which comes from knowing Him who comes to bring us the most precious gifts of all -forgiveness, salvation, and life - not because we were 'good', but precisely because we're NOT 'good enough' to save ourselves. Christmas is the sure hope of a more glorious and everlasting existence that's based on Christ's resurrection from the grave as the Victor over the evil forces that are against us.

If you missed the true celebration of Christmas this year, it's not too late. The Christ Child still waits for the Wise Men - and the wise today - to come and kneel humbly at His crib, to worship and offer themselves to their Savior King. May God grant that we all put Christ back into CHRISTmas, remembering that we don't celebrate His birth because it's Christmas - but that we celebrate Christmas because it's His birth.

By Sandra Hancock Stark

Oh, Lord, how fast she is growing up--
This joy you sent to fill our cup.
And bring us hours of happiness
Of love, of cheer; such wanted bliss!
Lips so sweet we love to kiss--

And hold her close within our arms
To shelter and protect her from all harm
That might lurk somewhere from slight,
In brightest day or darkest night.

Only yesterday it seems
You sent her to fulfill our dreams.
A tiny babe, but a flower,
Continually blooming by the hour.
Dear God, we envy you that power--

To create a soul so sweet, so kind
That like the brightest stars do shine,
Away up in that celestial sky
Bringing light to earth. We wonder why--
(There. We only sigh.)

How great our joy as she grows.
When she discovered hands and toes,
And laughed aloud--
How proud
We were. And then she crawled--
Rapidly, too--
We knew it wouldn't be long
Until she stood all alone.

And today, Lord, she took that one step.
That one. She didn't need our help
To steady her or guide her way.
She took her first step today.
So, Lord, another plateau.
There are so many more to go.
So many more away out there.
Where--

Gambling ads now O.K.

A new federal law that makes it legal to publish advertising and news about lotteries, bingo and other games of chance was signed by President Reagan Nov. 7. It will become effective in 18 months.

"Publishers who had feared losing their second class mailing permit if they ran a lottery ad should not have to worry about that once the law takes effect in May 1990," Bob Brinkmann, National Newspaper Association general counsel, said.

The bill allows newspapers to publish information concerning a lottery, gift promotion or similar scheme which is not prohibited by state law and which is conducted by a not-for-profit organization.

The 18-month delay is to allow states to pass their own laws on bingo and lottery advertising. Texas already has bingo and lottery statutes on its books.

The Charity Games Clarification Act of 1988 will permit the advertising of:

1. Any and all legal lotteries conducted by nonprofit entities;

2. Any and all lotteries conducted by any governmental entity (schools, county fairs, fire departments, etc.) except that a state lottery can only advertise in publications published in its own state or published in any other state which has its own state-conducted lottery; and

3. Any activity which is conducted as a promotional activity by a commercial entity and is clearly occasional and ancillary to the primary business of that entity.

Examples applicable to item 3: The promotional exemption would apply to an appliance store conducting a drawing for Thanksgiving turkeys; car dealer conducts a raffle to award a car or a travel agency which gives away a trip via a raffle.

A nonprofit entity is defined as any entity that would qualify as tax exempt under any subsection of Section 501 of the IRS Code.

Keith Shoush new athletic trainer for Ozona schools

Keith Shoush, new athletic trainer in the Ozona school system, enjoys his work with the students and also helps adults in the community at times. As the third trainer for the schools, he feels fortunate to step into an already well-established program.

Mark Duncan is a hard act to follow, says Shoush of his predecessor. Duncan, who works in sports medicine in San Angelo now, is still part of the program here in that students are sometimes sent to Duncan for further treatment.

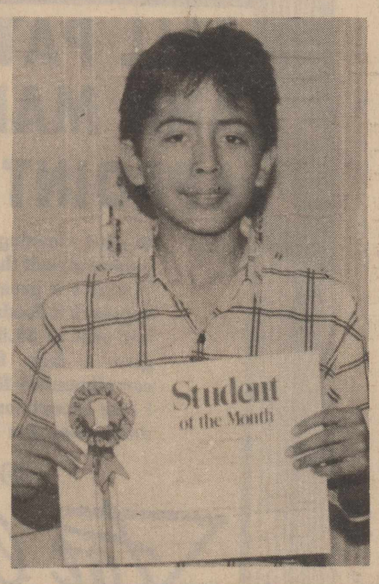

Shoush is a native of Haggerman, NM where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Shoush, and 24-year-old brother Kris still live.

After graduation from high school, Shoush attended New Mexico State University for 1½ years where he was a member of the baseball team. He then transferred to Texas Tech where he majored in physical education and earned a degree in sports medicine. "I always wanted to go to Tech. I should have gone there first," he said.

Active in high school sports, Shoush played football, basketball, baseball and ran track, he now coaches 7th grade boys and girls' basketball and helps with varsity track. His duties as trainer are school-wide.

More and more schools have trainers now, Shoush said. Basically a new field, schools will be required to have trainers before long, he believes.

Extension Connection

by Tedra Ulmer, County Extension Agent

4-h'ers learn to help others

Crockett County's 4-H members have been learning about the true spirit of Christmas through some community service projects in December.

4-H members contributed about 50 baked items to Helping Hands for use in their bake sale. Included were items ranging from brownies to pumpkin bread. Other food items were also donated to Helping Hands and to a local needy family with children.

As a part of their Christmas parties, the Junior High and Intermediate 4-H Clubs went caroling at the Care Center and at other locations in town. Carolers from the Junior High Club were: C'Jay McKinney, Katharine Durham, Michael Mitchell, Doug Meador, JoLynn Vannoy, Tess Worthington, Jeanie Cooper, Lisa Herring, Jennifer Payne, Courtney Phillips, Shawda Bateman, Gloria Pena-Alfaro, Chad Upham, Mike Kenison. Club managers for the party were Jim and Jill House, who provided transportation for the caroling.

The Intermediate 4-H members who attended the Christmas party and enjoyed caroling were: Byron Beasley, Cody Emery, Megan Mitchell, Melissa Emery, Wesley Bean, Tara Wilkins, Mason Wilkins, Rebecca Deaton, Robin Driskill, Andy Coates, Ky Montgomery, Emily Stuart, Angela Glasscock, John Childress, Jason Highnight, Toby Davee, Thomas Young, Ashley Farris, Casey Upham, David Bean, Justin Bean, Jason Stuart, Melissa Childress, Tommy Conner, Dana Bishop, Dana Berry, Rusty Bishop, Chrissy Keith, Stacy Ramos, Tres Bailey, Lacey Hunnicutt, Cody Hunnicutt, and Dobie New. Parents and club managers assisting with the party were Karen Bishop, Helen Bean, Karen Childress, Linda Ramos and Belinda Wilkins.

4-H is a youth organization sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It is open to all youth from the third grade through age 19, and there is no cost to join. Young people in 4-H may become involved in a variety of projects, ranging from traditional projects such as animals or foods and nutrition to individual study projects such as computer and photography.

4-H is an activity for the entire family. Everyone from the parents to grandparents to younger brothers and sisters can benefit from involvement with 4-H. 4-H projects are designed to teach life skills, responsibility and citizenship.

If you're interested in finding out more about 4-H in Crockett County, come by the County Extension Office on the second floor of the Courthouse Annex, or call 392-2721.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages, regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, national origin or handicap.

Video tape available on Medicare changes

The State Board of Insurance has produced an 8½-minute videotape explaining the changes in Medicare. These changes were initiated by the Medicare Catastrophic Coverage Act of 1988. When this bill becomes effective on January 1, 1988, it will expand current Medicare benefits to cover catastrophic health care costs.

Organizations that would like to borrow a copy of this videotape, should send a written request, including their names and addresses, the number of people who will see the tape, and the date it will be shown. The State Board of Insurance will mail the videotape along with a brochure called, "Medicare Supplement Insurance--A Guide for Texas Consumers."

Send your request to:
The State Board of Insurance, Market Conduct-0430, 1110 San Jacinto, Austin, Texas 78701-1998.
