County Judges of Area Seek Assistance from President

Four county officials joined those of other lower Panhandle counties Friday, February 12, to formulate six projects to relieve disaster conditions of this area, to be taken directly to President Eisenhower.

Going from here were Judge R. L. Templeton, and Commissioners Jack Brewer, Alfred Knoll and Cortez Barnett.

Part or all of the county judges will go to Austin, possibly February 26, and ask Governor Allan Shivers to make the appointment for them with Eisenhower.

The projects discussed by the judges and commissioners were classified into two groups: One to give immediate relief and the second group to bring prosperity to the area in the future.

The projects to be taken to Eisenhower are as follows:

1. The use of surplus commodities to feed needy families who are now asking direct relief from the counties that are now in most instances over their budget limit for charity.

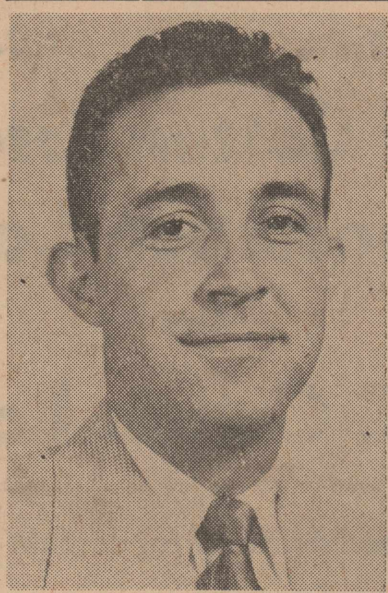

2. Immediate funds for the building of roads, bridges and fences in the county which will give work to many who do not have the money for groceries.

3. The immediate distribution of federal gasoline taxes of one and a half cents a gallon back to the counties in the drought area to give additional monies to be expended for public works on county roads to give additional work to those in need.

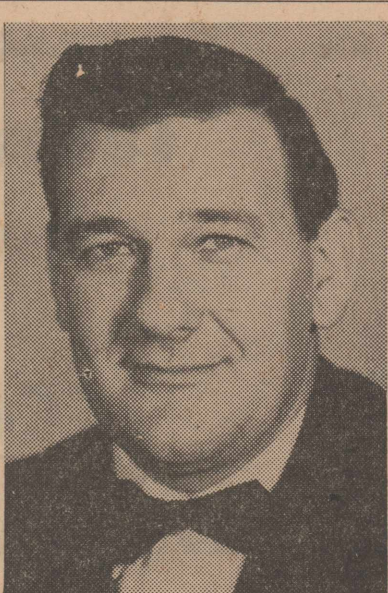

4. Public funds to be made available at one and a half per cent interest such as are now made to REAs for water districts to build dams for water for municipal and irrigation purposes.

5. Immediate reactivation of the Childress Army Air Field which provided employment for citizens throughout this area during World War II. In adding this project the group disagreed with the recent action of the Air Force in which it was announced that the government would buy or lease

Leader Want Ad Makes Quick Sale On Tractor

"Thank you for the nice results on my want ad!" It said my tractor."

That's what the Rev. R. L. Porter said when he came into The Wellington Leader office to cancel a classified he had placed earlier.

"It sure made a believer in want ads out of me. I didn't think about it acting so quick," he commented.

A man living at Erick, Oklahoma was at Shamrock, inquired around until he located a Wellington Leader, saw the ad for the tractor, phoned Rev. Porter about it, then came down and wrote out a check.

The classified ad that brought about this sale, amounting to several hundred dollars, cost only 50 cents a week.

1954 Cotton Acreage Will Exceed That of Some Non-Restricted Years

Collingsworth County cotton growers, with restricted acreage this year, still may be able to plant more acres than they did during the non-restricted years of 1945, 1946 and 1948, and almost as much as they did in 1947.

This was revealed by Millard Brown, ASC secretary, after the acreage had been totaled Tuesday, February 16.

The tentative acreage allotted the county is 84,735.

Collingsworth received an estimated increase of 15,500 acres under the recent cotton acreage readjustment approved by Congress and the president to be added to the original county allotment of 69,235 acres.

Mr. Brown pointed out that this total acreage figure of 84,735 is tentative. The county ASC office must mail listings to the state committee before allotments become final, and the state ASC committee must see that the total allotments of the cotton counties does not exceed the additional 1,342,320 allotment Texas received. If it does, there will be a scaling down, but it would mean cuts of only a few acres per farm, it is believed here.

Comparing the probable acreage this year with that of other years, Mr. Brown said that in 1953, cotton growers planted 117,000 acres, but only 102,000 was standing for cultivation.

Of the four year period, 1945-48 inclusive, Mr. Brown gave these acreage figures:

1945—64,500 acres.
1946—73,000 acres.
1947—89,000 acres.
1948—82,000 acres.

What this increase means to Collingsworth farmers was revealed when the ASC office said that there were several farmers who got as much as 100 acres additional under the readjustment.

On the other hand, there were other farmers who already had all the acreage to which they were entitled.

Mrs. Dick Richards of the ASC office explained that the allotments are determined on a historical basis, that is, the amount of cotton planted on the farm in 1951, 1952 and 1953. Planted acres and not harvested acres are used.

It will be a week or ten days before notices of final allotment figures can be sent out, she said, since these must await the approval of the state committee.

THEY CAUGHT THE CALVES FOR COLLINGSWORTH

judging contest. The next three, Horace Holliman, Leroy Belew and Phillip Cobb, won in the calf scramble. Belew's was a sportsmanship award. At left is County agent J. W. Thomas, and right is Melvin Burks, Wellington vocational ag teacher.

Four County Boys Win Calves At Houston Fat Stock Show

Wellington Future Farmers and 4-H Boys who attended the Houston Fat Stock Show during the week end brought home between them four calves offered by the show, an unusual number since only 101 were offered to boys of the entire state.

Three of these were won in the calf scramble, by Phillip Cobb, Horace Holliman and Leroy Belew. The fourth was awarded John Thomas for tying for 9th place in the dairy judging.

Actually the boys didn't bring home the calves they caught. Instead they will receive money with which to buy the calf of their choice. The three Future Farmers were allowed $125 each; Thomas gets $200 for a dairy calf. All four boys will return the calves to Houston to exhibit next year.

Belew, who caught two calves but failed to get either received his as good sportsmanship award, M. L. Burks agriculture instructor, said. The boys had been instructed that if two caught hold of a calf at the same time, both were to turn loose. Belew and another youngster did this. He turned loose. The other boy did not. Just as Belew caught his second calf, four others piled on him, with the result that he was so winded that he was never able to get the halter on. The donor of that calf, A. M. Askew, Houston

Youth for Christ Revival

Religion Highlight of Area Youth Activity Here This Week

Religion became the biggest thing for the Wellington area youth this week as the Youth for Christ revival got under way.

"It looks like it is going to change the young people of our town," Russell Allen, YFC director and in charge of the revival preaching, declared.

Around four hundred teen-agers from over the entire area have been present for each of the night meetings so far. There were 68 decisions for Christ the first two nights.

Two young men have announced their decision to enter the ministry. "The most inspiring thing about this meeting is the Christian testimony given by these young people," Rev. Allen declared.

Tuesday afternoon, more than 200 boys and girls were dismissed from their school classes to attend services. Attendance was optional, but this was a large percent of the high school enrollment.

Preaching a dynamic religion to the youth, Rev. Allen is urging them to put Christ first in their lives.

pastor of the church of their choice for further counseling and help.

Song services, led by the Stamps Ozark Quartet and the Youth for Christ Choir, preceded the preaching.

This is the first time in the town's history, so far as is known, that an entire revival for the youth has been held, and consequently a far larger number of boys and girls are active participants than is usually true in revival services, one observer pointed out.

"It is wonderful to see how religion has become the big thing in the life of these boys and girls. It's coming ahead of any type fun and recreation. It's doing something to and for them, and it's doing for the community," Rev. Allen said.

The services will continue through Saturday night.

District Tourney at Canadian

Rockets Begin Spring Sports Season Monday

Wellington's high school boys basketball teams have recently completed rugged season schedules, in which they had only modest success, and many of the players are now turning their attention to track, where they hope to have better luck. Lonnie Wood, Phillip Cobb, Bill Agee, John Thomas, Douglas Duncan, Eugene Bawcom and Calvin Hiett, all on last year's track team, are at it again.

The boys' volleyball team will start practice next week, in preparation for district competition at Canadian early in March.

It is expected that several boys and girls will come out for tennis this season. Camil Dakil, Reggie Smith, and Gus Drake were the first boys to show up for this racket. District tennis matches will also be held in Canadian this year.

Special Tires, Chains HelpfulSTOPPING IN TIME THE IMPORTANT THING IN SAFE WINTER DRIVING

"Can you stop in time?"

This question is one every motorist should ask himself when he drives on slippery roads, according to Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association.

He spoke recently in connection with the program, Winter Traffic Hazards, which his organization is sponsoring in cooperation with the Department of Public Safety.

"Ice and snow on the highways increase stopping distances greatly," Col. Tilley said. "The safe driver takes proper precautions by adjusting his speed to conditions and using tire chains."

"He doesn't guess—he knows he can stop in time to avoid an accident."

"Best results in reducing braking distance and preventing skids can be obtained," he said, "with the reinforced type of tire chains (each link of the cross-chains is reinforced by projecting teeth or cleats). Such chains cut stopping distances about half."

"While regular chains are not as effective as the reinforced type on glare ice, they do provide good traction on snow and, to some extent, on ice," he said.

Many types of special tires, intended to increase traction, also are now available, but their value is limited to certain specific conditions, according to Col. Tilley.

"The National Safety Council has tested some 25 different types of these tires," he said. "The conclusion is that, while such tires may help under certain conditions, they do not approach the performance of reinforced type tire for severe ice and snow."

"Use chains when there is ice or snow on the roads," he stated, "and drive slowly so that when the unexpected occurs you can stop in time. You may save your own life."

BENEFITS FROM HEART DRIVE

Little Miss Barbara Courtney, a victim of one of the three most common forms of heart diseases, chats with Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president and chairman of the 1954 Texas Heart Fund, at the Waco Heart Clinic. Eight-year-old Barbara was stricken with rheumatic fever last November and developed a serious rheumatic heart condition. Although now on the road to recovery, the smiling child still is unable to stand or walk—and must be wheeled or carried wherever she goes. Barbara is one of approximately 500,000 elementary and high school age children in the nation suffering from heart disease. Dr. White heads the 1954 Texas Heart Fund drive—which continues through February—to raise funds to support medical research, educational and community heart programs to help Barbara and her fellow-sufferers. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Courtney of Waco.

and one of the five jumps is made with full equipment.

Cornell has been in service six months having enlisted at Amarillo August 3, 1953.

The young soldier was born at Dozier January 26, 1935 and is the son of Mrs. Gussie Cornell, 211½ Choctaw, Shamrock, and L. T. Cornell. He graduated from Samnorwood high school with the class of 1953.

Texans Living Longer than Ever

Austin.—"Texans are living longer than ever before," declares Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer. A baby born in 1937 had a life expectancy of 59 years. This has increased during the past 17 years until now a baby born in Texas today can reasonably expect to live to the age of 69, or very near the Biblical prophecy of three score years and ten.

Many things have contributed to this extension of life, such as early diagnosis, new methods of treatment and medicine, immunization and the intensive public health program conducted by the Texas State Department of Health and local health agencies. This program has stressed education and demonstration. Dr. Cox points out that the greatest strides in disease prevention has come about in diseases of infancy and childhood. Since 1937 infant mortality has been reduced 54 per cent, diarrhea, enteritis and dysentery 69 per cent, whooping cough 88 per cent, diphtheria 92 per cent, an d other childhood diseases. During the past 17 years, tuberculosis deaths have dropped 76 per cent, malaria 99, syphilis 74, appendicitis 98, pneumonia 72, and typhoid 98 per cent. Smallpox has all but disappeared.

Dr. Cox warns against any feeling of complacency or reduction in efforts to prevent disease. Those listed above could, if not guarded against, again become a definite menace to health. Some diseases have increased, especially among those over forty of age. Two of these are heart disease and cancer whose toll continues to mount. More emphasis must be placed upon them as well as the so called degenerative disease because as our population ages, they are becoming more common.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob McAlister and small son of Idalou spent the week end here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McAlister and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Reeves of Shiner.

Briscoe was downed 45 to 23 in the second game, with Price again high scorer with 16 and Dee Blasingame second with 11.

These games gave the Quail juniors 15 victories with only four losses this season.

CLINIC REPORT

CAN WE IGNORE SUCH AMAZING RESULTS?

HEALTH

The most precious possession you have.

has restored health and happiness to millions. It has grown to be the foremost drugless health science of all times.

Chiropractic is a natural method by which to keep strong and healthy. Thousands of individuals have been restored to robust health and vigorous activity by the application of its principles; its impressive records of achievement in restoring sick people to health merits your consideration, investigation and trial.

REMEMBER: It is not true to say "We did everything possible" unless CHIROPRACTIC is included.

While the wide scope of Chiropractic is amazing to the uninformed, we do NOT recommend Chiropractic as a CURE-ALL. Chiropractic is effective in those cases only where the cause is found to be defective in organic energization due to spinal misalignment (subluxation). Most all of our cases are those which had previously resisted ordinary methods of healing. Our examination is designed to eliminate those we cannot help.

CHILDREN RESPOND SWIFTLY UNDER CHIROPRACTIC

Swollen Tonsils:

Boy, age 5. This boy had a two year history of sickness due to swollen tonsils, about twice a month his tonsils would swell until swallowing and talking were nearly impossible; a high fever and vomiting also existed. After two weeks the boy was returned to normal. Six months have passed since his dismissal and the condition has not returned.

Sore Throat and Restlessness:

Girl, age 17 months. Sleepless nights and sore throat worried this little girl's mother until she brought her to Rose Chiropractic Clinic. After two adjustments the little girl was sleeping good and her throat was clearing nicely. At last report she was still doing very well.

Bowel and Stomach Disturbance:

Boy, age 15 months. Vomiting and diarrhea was making life miserable for this boy until his condition was corrected by chiropractic. After four adjustments all the symptoms were gone. He is still being checked to insure that this does not reoccur.

New style... New power... New economy... and yet lowest-priced line in its field!

That's why people are calling the new 1954 Chevrolet the outstanding motor car value of this new year!

Men and women everywhere are deciding that Chevrolet for 1954 gives more for the money than any other car in its price range.

Here are the reasons why...

New style—more beauty of line, contour and color—with stunning new bodies by Fisher and luxurious new modern-mode interiors.

New power—more pickup, more passing ability, more smoothness and quietness of operation with either of Chevrolet's two advanced 1954 engines—the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide (available on all models at extra cost) or the thoroughly proved "Blue-Flame 115" engine!

New economy—yes, even stronger gasoline savings—because both of these great high-compression engines are designed, engineered and built to wring more power from every charge of fuel.

Moreover, these new Chevrolets remain the lowest-priced line in their field, again this year.

Come in... see and drive the new 1954 Chevrolet... and place your order now!

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Read the story on the front page of this issue. The increased cotton acreage has changed the picture. Millard Brown says that we will have over 84,000 acres allotted to cotton in 1954. This is more than the country planted in 1945, 1946, and 1948, and these were the years when the farmers could plant all of the cotton they wanted to plant. Of course 1953 was different. Last year the county planted 117,000 acres in cotton, but there were only 102,000 standing for harvest according to Mr. Brown. Why would anyone holler about an 84,000 acre allotment when it is more than the county planted in four of the last eight years when farmers could have planted all the acres they wanted to in cotton. Three of the other years come pretty close to the 84,000 acre average. It was only in 1953 that we jumped to 117,000 and had the drought reduce us to 102,000 and everybody who knows anything about cotton and the program knows why.

This 84,000 acres for cotton is enough to make prosperity for the Wellington area — if we get enough rain in 1954. There is no political substitute for the bounties of nature.

We have been through four straight years of sub-normal dry weather. If we get one good year of wet weather we will be strutting around like game cocks instead of slinking around like moulting hens.

Hearty congratulations to the four Collingsworth boys who won calves at the Houston Fat Stock Show. John Gordon Thomas won a dairy heifer by judging, but it was the boys who won the beef calves who scored the grand slam. They had a fifty-fifty chance to win, but all three went out and got a calf in strenuous competition.

The officials who are in charge of raising funds for the Youth Project Show have hit upon an interesting idea for raising the funds necessary to give the prizes to the young contestants. It is based on the old fashioned box supper and it could be an evening of lots of fun for all concerned and at the same time promote one of our most worthwhile community enterprises. Quite a number of organizations and individuals have shown an interest in the affair and signified their willingness in assisting in making it a success. More details next week.

SCOTT TRUCK & TRACTOR COMPANY
International Harvester Dealership
FOR SALE OR TRADE

An opportunity in another line of work, which I have long wanted to follow, is available to me now. If I am to take advantage of it, the responsibilities and assets of the International Harvester dealership here at Wellington must be placed in other hands.

We have a clean stock of parts and machines, only a few hundred dollars of used equipment, and a modest investment in tools, furniture and fixtures. Our biggest asset, which will not cost the buyer a dollar, is hundreds of satisfied users of Farmal equipment in this area.

Buyer must meet the approval of the International Harvester Company, and must satisfy us that he will continue to give Farmal and International equipment users in this territory at least as good service as we have tried to give for the past 20 years.

To such a buyer, the investment required would be considerably less than in the usual business of this kind, as we would give a liberal discount on net cost of parts and machines inventory, and other assets will be priced at a depreciated figure.

Experienced personnel, now employed, could handle all the details of operation of business for a buyer who was not new familiar with it.

Good farm land, either in this area or elsewhere, would be considered in trade. We would take or pay difference.

Mrs. Grover Young Owner, Odus Offutt Renter

Renter With Outstanding Record Works Last Week's Mystery Farm

Last week's mystery farm brought to light the story of a man who has found that renting pays—both him and his landlord. This is in the Lutie community, on the east side of the road just beyond the Samnorwood highway intersection. Mrs. Grover Young of Arlington is the owner and Odus Offutt is the farmer.

He is a man of unusual record of having rented all the time he has been here, 27 years, yet all that time on only two farms.

First to identify the place was C. E. Caldwell. Only other identification was made, and that was by Joyce Offutt, older daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Offutt.

The farm was bought about 1914 by the late Grover Young, and in the 40 years that have lapsed there have been only two tenants. G. I. Wilson lived there until 1939, when he moved to Southeast Oklahoma and bought land. At that time, the Offutt family moved there. He was born in Red River County March 1, 1904, and on coming here, he began renting the place belonging to C. King at Dozier, where he stayed 12 years. Mrs. Offutt is the former Orbie Kidwell, whose parents, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Tidwell, now of Shamrock, moved to the community in 1916. Mr. and Mrs. Offutt were married in June 1928, and have two daughters, Orbie Joyce, 17 and a son at Samnorwood and Hazel Janice, 12 and a sixth grade student. The family is active in the Baptist Church at Abra.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Ward and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Ward returned Wednesday February 10, from Sulphur Springs, where they were called by the death of a relative, Barton Ward, 21 who was killed in a car accident near Greenville.

The young man had returned from service in Korea only four months ago.

He was the son of Will Ward's niece, and L. E. Ward's cousin.

Mrs. R. L. Porter was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital Sunday for medical treatment.

May we remind you?

The gas bills you're now paying are for winter months when a home may use 5 to 10 times as much gas as it does during a summer month. In practically all areas served by Lone Star, January and December had considerably more heating weather than the same two months a year ago.

And, of course,

You know Lone Star was one of the last businesses to raise its rate or price for service. Rate was reduced in 1942 so the one raise made last year added very little more to the price charged during depression years. The average year around cost in the average home here is still about 16 cents per day.

Thank you!

EDITORIAL COMMENT — THE WELLINGTON LEADER

Newspaper Circulation Up

Despite the advent of television, pocket books, drive-in theatres and other forms of entertainment, circulation of daily newspapers continues to increase. Editor and Publisher, weekly magazine of the journalistic grade, reported recently that 1953 circulation set a new record, moving up about one per cent from 1952 figures.

Not only did the nation's papers increase their circulation but they also increased their advertising volume last year. Even though business firms shelled out millions of dollars for television and other forms of advertising, newspaper advertising continues to be by far the most popular form of advertising, and to bring in increasing revenue.

There are those who believe new news and entertainment mediums, such as television, prove beneficial to other media, such as newspapers. People want a newspaper to see what is on television, and to look up favorite programs and times, and to read about the stars.

And news, as long as it is not identical copy, never loses its interest. Those who hear a bulletin over the radio are eager to read more about the "story" in the newspaper. Likewise, if they get a news item over television, they become eager to get the full story from the newspaper.

So the different news media do not necessarily compete. They complement one another to a large degree. And those who feared there was not enough advertising revenue for both newspapers and the new medium, television, have been amazed to see newspaper advertising increase at the same time when television advertising was just beginning to draw revenue.

The possibilities of advertising are almost limitless. There seems to be little reason for newspapers to worry about competition from television, or any other medium. Nothing can, nor will, take the place of the newspaper in American life. People like to have a record of events, a source of news and advertising they can pick up in any spare moment, and a complete presentation of news events. Only the newspaper can provide that and that's why circulation totals continue to go up.

A Buyers Market Now?

Palmer Hoyt, publisher of the Denver Post, told Texas newspapermen that this country is due for a buyer's market and not a depression at the Texas Press Association Meeting in Austin recently. His views were encouraging since there has been a lot of writing and talk lately about recessions and possible depressions for this country.

Hoyt explained it may be possible, though not probable, to talk ourselves into a depression.

Of course, Perryton merchants have tasted somewhat of a depression the past year or so, as have the farmers who have had four wheat crop failures in a row. But the rest of the country seems to have done all right in 1953.

Speaking about the rapidly increasing population of our nation, Hoyt said, "Every month a city the size of Toledo, Ohio is being added to the markets of this country. Such additions offer additional opportunity for selling."

He said that 1953 saw the greatest volume of goods and services provided in a single year, the highest employment and a flow of personal income exceeding all past years.

The market value of all the goods and services produced, the gross national production, was $367 billion and the most conservative estimates show almost equal figures in 1954.

Of course, the bloom is off the rose for most people. A day's work for a day's pay is becoming more in vogue and salesman in some lines are becoming salesmen instead of order takers. If things "level off" during 1954 and it becomes a true "buyer's market" we think conditions may be considered normal.

It has been ten years or more since we had that sort of normal condition when prices were stable but perhaps we can get used to it.

Quail Teams Take Double Headed From Clarendon

The Quail Quails and Bobwhites took a doubleheader from Clarendon Tuesday night, February 9, on the Clarendon court.

The girls were winners 60 to 45 and the boys 47 to 44.

During the first half of the girls game, some of the tightest competition seen recently was shown. The teams tied up 14 to 14 at the end for the first quarter, while the Bobwhites had a one point lead, 27 to 26, at the half. During the third period Quail pulled ahead to take a 44 to 30 lead at the third quarter.

Bobwhite forwards alternated in taking the lead in scoring. Erma Farris accounted for 12 of the 14 points in the first quarter; Nancy Stephens got 11 in the third quarter and Martha Johnson 10 in the fourth. At the end of the game, however, Betty Smith of Clarendon was high scorer with 30 points. Erma Farris had a total of 23; Nancy Stephens 18 and Martha Johnson 10. Virginia Tally got 11 for Clarendon.

The Quails led through their entire game, although during the final period, Clarendon began pulling up. The score by quarters was 14 to 7; 22 to 12; and 35 to 28. Don Johnson was high scorer for the Quails with 17 points; Junior Sturgill got 13 and Norman Kennedy 9. Don Landers was high for Clarendon with 12.

Cut Farm and Home Accidents

College Station—Something can be done if we want safety badly enough, stated Maynard H. Coe, farm representative of the National Safety Council, when he addressed the Farm and Ranch Section of the Texas Safety Council in Houston.

Coe said many states have figures to prove that farm and home accidents can be reduced when rural people attack the problem through organization. He was high in his praise for what has been accomplished in Texas during recent years and especially called attention to the work done by Texas Agricultural Extension Service personnel.

He called attention to several problems which should receive consideration by all rural groups interested in improving the standing of agriculture in the field of safety. It now ranks as the third most hazardous occupation in the nation.

State and county figures are needed, Coe said, on all farm accidents. Not only to show the numbers but more important what was involved and for checking progress. We need, he said, a reporting system equal or superior to the one used for crop reporting. More information is needed on the factors involved in accidents and this would include the human as well as mechanical and other contributing causes of accidents.

We need research, he pointed out, on newer and safer methods for doing the jobs that figures show are out greatest sources of farm and home accidents. Agricultural leaders, in many instances, have not fully recognized the importance of the farm safety problem as it relates to agricultural production and the welfare of the farm and ranch family.

At the present time, he said, 28 states have active safety committees and in 12 states the Agricultural Extension Service has a farm safety specialist who devotes full time to farm safety work. Leadership is needed and much of it can be developed right in the community where it is needed, says the expert. Educational projects involving boys and girls of the 4-H clubs as well as adults can be a powerful force in bringing to the attention of every one, accidents hazards which are usually found in plentiful supply around most farms.

"Finally, he says, those who do outstanding work in safety field should be recognized. Individuals and groups contributing time and talents to making life on the farm or ranch safer and more pleasant are due recognition on the basis of the job performed whether local, state or national.

In keeping with Coe's suggestion, C. T. Johnson, a member of the Texas Committee presented recognition certificates to some 21 individuals and four groups for their contributions to the farm safety program in Texas.

A 4-H demonstration team from Brazoria County, composed of Christine Eging and Bill Arrington from the Jones Creek 4-H Club, demonstrated safety methods for handling gasoline and preventing falls in the home.

J. H. West, secretary, Texas Farm Bureau Federation, presided in the absence of Chairman Walter Hammond of the State Farm and Ranch Safety Committee. E. C. Martin and John McHaney of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Dr. F. C. Bolton, president emeritus, Texas A&M College, were other speakers.

Mrs. Watkins to Hair Stylist Show

Mrs. Fred Watkins is in Dallas this week attending the All-Texas Beauty Show, which is presenting advance hair styling and current developments in the beauty field for the first time anywhere. She was accompanied by Mrs. George Greenhaw of Memphis.

Two special guests for the show will be Madame Marguerite Buck and Joseph Paterno, both members of the official hair fashion committee. Both will take part in the convention with special talks and demonstrations.

The show, sponsored by the Texas Association of Accredited Beauty Culturists, will last through Tuesday.

Around 4,000 members of the beauty association are expected to attend the convention. Events include a board of directors' breakfast at 8 a. m. Sunday, a Roof Garden dance at 8 p. m. Sunday, a buffet supper at 8 p. m. Tuesday with the dance following.

The guest artists have scheduled lessons for the three days of the convention.

Hair styles created by the official hair fashion committee will be presented Tuesday.

The national committee works with millinery and apparel fashion authorities in co-ordinating current hair fashions.

Guest Speaker at Baptist Church

Mrs. Ernest Geer of Safford, Arizona, will speak at the First Baptist Church Sunday morning, February 21, the Rev. Chester O'Brien, pastor, has announced.

"She was one of the outstanding speakers at the Texas Baptist Convention in San Antonio last year. Only recently she has come to this section of Texas to speak in schools of mission, and in every church where she has spoken her work has been signally blessed," Rev. O'Brien said.

"Mrs. Geer will tell of her ancestors, who were leaders in the Mormon movement, and of her thrilling experience of salvation." She will speak during the morning worship hour at 11 o'clock in Wellington and during the evening worship hour at Samnorwood.

Nursing Career Contest Announce

Announcement has been made of essay contest open to high school students interested in a career in nursing, sponsored by the Texas Hospital Association and Area Hospital Councils.

Sister Mary Carole of the Staff of St. Joseph's Hospital has been named area director for the contest.

There will be a prize of $25 to the county winner, given by St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary and an award of $50 to the area winner.

April 1 is the deadline for entering the contest.

To set off interest in this county, St. Joseph's staff recently invited girls of the county in for an open house. Dr. E. W. Jones was guest speaker and introduced three of the city's registered nurses, Mrs. Carter Holcomb, Mrs. Dale Watkins and Mrs. James Covey.

Sister Josephine Therese discussed the humanitarian aspect of the nursing profession, stressing service, the preparation it gives for any walk of life, and the doing of God's work in caring for the sick and the poor.

Approximately 50 girls attended. Details of the essay contest will be announced next week.

land to open new air fields without taking advantage of land and property owned already.

6. Liberalize credit to landowners who now owe money on their lands and homes at a high rate of interest.

Judge Templeton pointed out that the return of the federal gasoline tax money is not a gift. The states have been supposed to receive it all along, but Congress from time to time has transferred the money to pay for other things, such as overseas relief, etc.

The return of some of this money directly to the county would enable Collingsworth to build bridges and other drainage structures on county roads, it was pointed out. There are 745 drainage structures on Collingsworth County roads.

Judge Templeton also recommended the proposal that public funds be made available on loan to water districts at one and one-half percent interest.

"If we could get that money, we could build the dam across Salt Fork," the judge declared. The proposed dam, just across the Donley County line, is developed to the point of securing the money.

"Daily I am being called upon to provide either work or groceries and to people who have been set back by the drought," said County Judge R. L. Templeton of Wellington.

"I feel that the condition is to a great extent confined to the drought area but that it will spread unless stopped and stopped by projects that employ our people."

Templeton recommended the return of the gasoline tax to drought stricken counties for relief projects and water damming projects for municipal purposes, financed by the government at a low rate of interest.

"Eisenhower has the setup for public works projects to help just such areas as ours and I feel that we should go to the man who can start these projects," Templeton added.

The meeting was called by County Judge Vance Gilbreth of Motley County, who pointed out that the conditions of this area were caused by the drought and not the democrats or republicans.

Counties represented at the meeting were Motley, Cottle, Collingsworth, Crosby, King, Dickens, Briscoe and Childress. Counties being asked to join the group are Hall, Hardeman, Donely, Garza, Foard, Kent and Lynn.
