Ky Forces Lay Siege To Buddhist Institute

By ROBERT MOOREFIELD

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Government security forces, with orders to give no quarter, laid virtual siege to the Buddhist Institute today. With pistol shots and tear gas charges they choked off dozens of demonstrations after a mob burned three Jeeps and grabbed two submachine guns from American Military Police.

Told to arrest draft-aged demonstrators on the spot and send them off to military service, troops and riot police carted away scores. Some were clubbed, kicked and beaten.

Four hundred miles to the north the chief of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's Buddhist antagonists, Thich (venerable) Tri Quang, was in the seventh day of an anti-American, anti-government hunger strike. An aide said his condition was "weakening and very serious."

On the military front, a spokesman for the 1st Brigade of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division estimated North Viet Nam's 24th Regiment, from 1,400 to 2,000 men has lost more than 1,000 killed in a week of fighting in the central highlands. Brig. Gen. Willard Pearson, the brigade commander, told reporters he expects the kill ratio to be 14 to 1 in favor of American and South Vietnamese troops. He said the enemy is "no longer a fighting force."

One of the vehicles destroyed in Saigon was a U.S. Military Police Jeep. It was burned by an angry mob of 3,000 Buddhists. Rangers and riot police beat them back At least two demonstrators suffered bullet wounds.

The second day of violent antigovernment demonstrations by militant Buddhists after two weeks of relative calm in Saigon emphasized the continued, anguished state of Vietnamese politics despite progress by American troops in the war.

Using radar guidance, two U. S. Navy F4 Phantom jets intercepted two Communist propeller planes over the North Vietnamese coast before dawn today and possibly shot one down with a Sparrow missile, a Navy spokesman reported. He said the pilots observed an explosion after the missile was fired and only one enemy contact remained on the radar screen of the guided missile frigate Coontz patroling in the Gulf of Tonkin.

In South Viet Nam's central highlands, the battle of the ridges went into the eighth day as units of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division clashed with about 100 North Vietnamese in the jungled hill country blasted Monday by U.S. Air Force B52s.

A U.S. spokesman in Saigon had no word on the outcome but said three Communists killed by an American patrol this morning brought the enemy toll in the 101st Airborne's week of fighting North Viet Nam's 24th Regiment to 465 dead. The U.S. toll is reported less than a tenth this figure.

Battlefield reports said the count of enemy dead may go much higher when the full damage of the bombing raid becomes clear. So far 37 enemy bodies have been found, although the bulk of the Red forces appeared to have fled before the bombing.

Intelligence sources reported that another North Vietnamese regiment — possibly 1,000 men — had crossed into the highlands from Laos Sunday either to reinforce the battered 24th Regiment or to begin a drive of its own. One theory said the Communists may be planning to seize a provincial capital, such as Kontum City, 35 miles south of the battle site, to provide a showplace base for the National Liberation Front, the Viet Cong's political arm.

In the only other major ground action reported, 65 Viet Cong were reported killed by Vietnamese marines in a two-day operation in Quang Ngai Province, 317 miles northeast of Saigon, one of the northern areas where government military activity has been reduced because of the political crisis.

U.S. pilots flew 60 multiplane missions Monday against North Viet Nam, while American and Vietnamese airmen combined for 609 combat sorties — single strikes — in the south.

The pilots reported hitting North Vietnamese bridges, buildings, cargo junks, radar sites, ferries, storage areas and antiaircraft sites.

Violence Flares In 2nd. Night Of Riots

By JERRY KUC

CHICAGO (AP) — Police fought with more than 1,000 rioting Puerto Ricans Monday night in the second straight night of violence on Chicago's Northwest Side.

Seven Puerto Ricans were shot and wounded and 37 more were arrested before the rioting was brought under control early today, police said.

Police said one of the men was shot when he threw a fire bomb.

Police officials said the other six apparently were hit by stray bullets.

Among several other persons injured by flying bottles and bricks was John Elmer, 31, a Chicago Tribune reporter. He was released after treatment for cuts on the jaw.

Hospital authorities had no count of the injured who were treated.

Looting was reported in some stores in the area, where police ordered stores closed for the night. Glass from broken store windows littered the streets where Puerto Rican youths walked with signs charging police brutality.

Puerto Rican spokesman said they planned a protest march today from Humboldt Park to City Hall in downtown Chicago.

Three men were treated at St. Mary of Nazareth Hospital, then transferred to the Cook County Hospital. They were identified as Bienvenido Cruz, 23; Efrain Ortiz, 19; and Roberto Vasquez, 27.

At Norwegian American Hospital, Israel Irizarry, 21, was admitted in serious condition with a gunshot wound in the head. Miguel Cruz, 22, was treated and released.

Gilberto Torres, 20, was admitted to St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Sastino Ribero, 56, was treated and released.

Hospital officials said all but Irizarry suffered superficial wounds.

All the windows of a service station were shattered. A segment of the mob overturned a Jeep in the driveway.

Police massed at the intersection of Western and Division, some four blocks from the rally, fired warning shots as rioters threw stones and bottles at the police car.

Police chased the rioters west back to California Avenue where homemade fire bombs were thrown — lighting up the street as gasoline exploded.

Blue-helmeted officers, with guns drawn and wielding heavy wooden night sticks, chased this group. Several shots cracked in the air. The seven men were wounded here.

More than 200 policeman finally put down the riot after seizing dozens who refused to leave when given this ultimatum: "Go home or be arrested."

Minor Flood In Odessa Gullywasher

By The Associated Press

Briefly torrential rains moved through parts of West and South Texas during the night, causing minor flooding in one area.

They occurred as isolated thunderstorms developed in the wake of the latest cool front to drift southward into the state.

Accompanied by hail, one of the heavier downpours filled normally dry Muskingum Draw in Odessa, the West Texas oil center, and muddy water lapped into homes along about three streets. There wasn't enough to force any evacuations.

Twenty miles south of Odessa the water rose high enough over U.S. 385 to enter slow moving cars, but the route remained open.

Odessa's unofficial rainfall measurement was 2.19 inches. It compared to the official figure of only .14 at the airport weather station to the east between Odessa and Midland. Hail up to the size of golf balls fell on the south and west sides of Odessa.

Another gullywasher unloaded 2.75 inches of rain within an hour at George West, 75 miles northwest of Corpus Christi in South Texas.

In the same general area, Papalote in Bee County gauged 2 inches and Orange Grove 1.40. Corpus Christi itself stayed dry, but thunderheads started building up in that area early today.

Showers and rising temperatures helped make the weather steamy at numerous other points.

Top readings Monday hit 107 degrees at Presidio, 101 at El Paso and 100 at Laredo, ranging down to 79 at Dalhart.

Forecasts called for continued warm weather with isolated showers in all sections except North Central and Northeast Texas.

Dominicans Alert Security Forces

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — —Dominican security forces were on the alert today for the anniversary of the Castrojte 14th of June Movement, but Juan Bosch's charge of election fraud was not expected to provoke major violence from his supporters.

Political observers believe that Bosch chose to concede his loss in the June 1 presidential election on the day before the anniversary to remove one possible source of friction that left-wing extremists could utilize to exploit the still-fevered political scene.

Radicals in Bosch's Dominican Revolutionary party wanted a general rejection of the election on grounds of fraud although more than 70 election watchers sent by the Organization of American States agreed that they saw no evidence of fraud or coercion. Some of the observers, including U. S. Socialist Norman Thomas, were openly pro-Bosch.

Other foreign observers attributed Bosch's defeat by conservative Joaquin Balaguer to the basic conservatism of the Dominican peasants, their weariness of the violence resulting from the pro-Bosch revolution last April, and Bosch's refusal to leave his guarded home in Santo Domingo to campaign.

The anniversary today marks an abortive invasion launched from Cuba seven years ago against dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo. The movement which took the date from its name was once mildly left but Communists took it over in 1962.

Although Bosch in his statement Monday attributed his defeat to "fraud and coercion" and fired one brief but brustling volley at American intervention, he said irregularities he cited could not change the final result. And though he rejected Balaguer's invitation to join him in a coalition government, he stressed that his party now would become a "creative, democratic" opposition working for the country's welfare.

Bill Makes Coulee Biggest Power Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a bill designed to make Grand Coulee Dam on the Columbia River the largest hydroelectric power project in the world.

The $390-million authorization measure provides for a third power plant that eventually will add 3.6 million kilowatts to the two-million kilowatt capacity of the present installations.

At the same time, Johnson sent Congress a request for $3 million to start construction at once.

C. B. McIntyre Dies Today

Clifton Boyd McIntyre, 54, died unexpectedly at 6:30 a.m. today after he was stricken at his home at 316 Thirty-second Street with an apparent heart attack.

Mr. McIntyre, a native of Fannin County, had lived here for the past three years. He was employed by Standard Oil Company of Texas.

Funeral arrangements were pending at noon today at Bolger Funeral Home.

Mr. McIntyre is survived by his wife, Mrs. Maude Rosson McIntyre; a daughter, Doris Sorrells of Hurst; and a son, C. B. McIntyre Jr. of Snyder.

Greene Hopefully Off To Houston

The first in a series of operations that, hopefully, will restore sight to Jack Greene, 2110 Twenty-seventh Street, will be performed Thursday at Methodist Hospital in Houston.

Jack, who has been blind since an oilfield accident 30 years ago, was to leave Snyder today. He said the first operation is for the removal of scar tissue from the "clouded" cornea of his eyes. Ultimately, plastic cornea will be inserted to perform the function of the "clouded" cornea.

Several operations will be required before sight can be restored. A couple of months ago Greene, under the sponsorhip of the Snyder Lions Club, went to Houston for an examination to determine the feasibility of implanting plastic corneas into Jack's eyes. The examining physician decided that it seems possible.

Greene first heard about this new type of surgery when it was performed successfully on a Lubbock man. He corresponded with the man and was put in touch with the surgeon in Houston. Arrangements for similar surgery on Jack were the result.

The deterioration of an optic nerve left Jack's wife, Ola, blind since childhood. Both are quietly confident that the new surgical technique can bring a miraculous change into their lives.

Jack recently acquired a new guide dog, Becky, from the Guide Dog Corporation in San Rafael, Calif., when his former guide, Queenie, began losing her sight.

The Greenes are well-known throughout West Texas. They have been residents of Snyder since 1949.

Battle Said Big Blow To N. Viets

By ROBERT TUCKMAN

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. paratroopers clashed with North Vietnamese troops in the central highlands today and the U.S. brigade commander said the enemy is "no longer a fighting force."

At the same time, a brigade spokesman estimated the North Vietnamese, the 24th Regiment of from 1,400 to 2,000 men, had lost more than 1,000 in killed alone in a week of fighting.

Brig Gen. Willard Pearson, commanding the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, told reporters: "I believe this battle has set the Viet Cong timetable (of offensive action) back several months."

In the fighting on ridges 35 miles north of Kontum, Pearson said he expected a kill ratio of 14 to 1. South Vietnamese troops have joined the fighting.

The new fighting continued through the afternoon against a company-size force of about 100 North Vietnamese.

Lawmen Blast Interrogation Ruling

By BARRY SCHWEID

WASHINGTON (AP) — Law enforcement officials fired a salvo of criticism today at the Supreme Court's new decision riveting down strict rules on the questioning of suspects.

The ruling by the high court Monday covers every police station and sheriff's office in the land.

"It's the damnest thing I ever heard of," said Police Chief Henry C. Ashley of Garland, Tex., when news of the ruling in four confession cases reached the Texas Police Association convention at Odessa. "We may as well close up shop."

What the court did in a 5-4 decision announced by Chief Justice Earl Warren was rule out of bounds in trials all incriminating statements made by a suspect whose constitutional right against possible self-incrimination are not safeguarded by the police.

The ruling split the justices into two camps, and the dissenters fired angry words at the majority.

His face visibly flushed, Justice John M. Harlan accused Warren and the four justices who lined up with him of "a hazardous experiment at a time when the crime rate in this country is a problem of growing concern."

"The court is taking a real risk with society's welfare in imposing its new regime on the country," Harlan said in a dissenting opinion joined by Justices Potter Stewart and Byron R. White.

Then White, in a dissent joined by Harlan and Stewart, said "in some unknown number of cases the court's rule will return a killer, a rapist or other criminal to the streets and to the environment which produced him, to repeat his crime whenever it pleases him."

"As a consequence," the former deputy attorney general added, "there will not be a gain, but a loss, in human dignity."

The Supreme Court already has been on the receiving end of criticism from some quarters that it has not been as avid in protecting society in general as it has been in ensuring the rights of individuals in the grips of the law.

Warren sought to dispel any notion that Tuesday's ruling will snag law enforcement officials. The decision, he said, "is not intended to hamper the traditional function of police officers investigating crime."

Still, an obvious byproduct of the decision is that confessions will have to meet a strict test of voluntariness to be of any use in court. This may mean police will have to put greater stress on investigations to solve crimes.

US Blamed For N-Arms Spread

GENEVA (AP) — The Soviet Union said today there can be no agreement to stop the spread of nuclear weapons so long as the United States maintains its policies on Viet Nam and West Germany.

Soviet chief delegate Alexei A. Roschin made the statement at the resumption of the 17-nation disarmament talks in one of the most bitter anti-American speeches yet delivered in the negotiations.

His statement was a clear departure from previous Soviet policy, that the war in Viet Nam should not be allowed to disturb the Geneva negotiations. That gentleman's agreement was made by Roshchin's predecessor, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, at the session last January.

Before Roschin spoke, the United States declared that time is running out on the drawing up of a treaty to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

Roschin said the United States is responsible "for intensifying the armaments race and also bears responsibility for the absence of progress in the work of the conference."

The United States expressed concern over a possible delay in efforts to draw up a treaty.

"The world does not stand still while we debate," U.S. delegate William C. Foster told the meeting, which resumed today after a month-long recess.

Foster said it would be wrong to delay an agreement because there appeared no immediate prospects of curbing the nuclear ambitions of a few nations, such as France or Communist China.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: After living with an impulsive kisser for 50 years I have decided that kissing is for the birds. There is supposed to be a time and place for everything, but this big knucklehead of mine can't tell time, and the place doesn't make any difference to him.

No matter what I'm doing, counting stitches, cooking, reading, or watching a tense situation on TV, this 77-year-old "kid" leaps at me and says, "I've got to have a kiss." He has cut my lip, bent my bridgework and knocked off my glasses. There are times when I could cheerfully send him to Viet Nam. I am no beauty. . . Sign me. . .

"75 AND DUMPY"

DEAR "75:" If there's anything they don't need in Viet Nam right now it's a 77-year-old red - blooded American "boy" who is kiss happy. It's your patriotic duty to keep him home. If you can't train him, tranquilize him.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Our neighborhood has a "birthday club" for the gals. We meet once a month in the homes. This month I was to be on the receiving end. Imagine my shock and hurt when I received, instead of a gift, "credit" for all the little penny ante items I had borrowed from a neighbor during the last year, but had not returned. The total of the borrowed items (one lemon, spool of thread, two eggs, etc.) was more than the price designated for the gift, according to her figures.

I feel she is petty, expecting such items to be returned. I would think she'd be insulted to be offered them. I am willing to forgo her gift, but don't you think she owes me an apology before the club?

HURT

DEAR HURT: No. Your neighbor, tasteless as she was, gave you something of inestimable value. A lesson. When you borrow something, be it a needle, or a teaspoon of baking soda, pay it back.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: When I read that letter from the woman signed "LIVING A LIE," who couldn't enjoy the physical side of marriage, I couldn't shed a tear for her.

Did she ever consider what life would be like if she had the opposite problem? "Frigid" women are fairly acceptable in society, but those like me who are "oversexed," and are therefore "adulterous women" are despised worse than drunks, drug addicts, and criminals. I have been this way since my teens. I have tried psychiatry for years, unsuccessfully.

I got married because I was pregnant. I had several children and have not been true to my husband altho God knows I have tried. I didn't even LIKE half the men I cheated with. I wish "LIVING A LIE" could live in MY head for a few weeks, then she'd know what living in hell is.

My reputation is not spotless, but it's better than I deserve. I look like any other middle-class suburban wive, but I am far from it. Sign me. . .

"ALSO LIVING A LIE"

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FRUSTRATED IN LAKE FOREST:" The French have a phrase for it: "Il n'y pas les femmes froides, mais les hommes maldroit." Which in plain English means, "There are no frigid women, — only clumsy men.

Captive Girl Details Days Of Terror

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — "We lived like dogs and we ran around like dogs.

"Once he told me: 'Sooner or later, I might have to kill you.' He was like a wild man.

"Then he would tell me he loved me. He did not attempt to attack me. He just kept pawing at me."

This is how Peggy Ann Bradnick, 17, described her seven days of terror as a captive of William D. Hollenbaugh, the Philadelphia Bulletin reported today. The bulletin said the girls account was in a statement given to federal and state investigators.

Acting State Police Commissioner Paul A. Rittelman said at Harrisburg the girl was "treated badly," but declined to go beyond that.

Peggy Ann was rescued last month after Hollenbaugh was shot to death in the climax of a gigantic manhunt in the mountains near Shade Gap, Pa. An FBI agent was slain by Hollenbaugh earlier and a former deputy sheriff wounded.

"My first night with him I was cold and scared," the girl's account said. "I cried bitterly all night. He had maps of the whole area and kept taking chains out and putting them back in. I think they were logging chains.

"We went back and forth over the ridges every night. We slept out most of the time. I think we were inside only once or twice.

"He kept going into holes where he kept clothing and food.

She said their food for a day might be "maybe a half can of cold beans or corn."

"I was getting more scared and more weak," she went on. "I slept only maybe an hour or two hours a night. He would chain me around my neck so that I couldn't sleep."

Hollenbaugh, a former mental patient with a criminal record, robbed a house one night and stole the gun he used later to shoot the deputy, Peggy Ann said.

After that, she went on, "He jumped at every move."

"I don't know what would have happened if this had kept going. Sometimes I prayed. Then I got too tired to do anything. He watched me all the time.

"He became more wild-eyed all the time. I think he was scared, too. But he couldn't have been as scared as I was."

Peggy Ann returned to school at Huntingdon, Pa., after a stay in the hospital following her rescue.

Plan Endangered By Solons' Stall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is nearing a midyear stalling point with indications that President Johnson is going to have to bear down on the throttle to save his Great Society programs.

Far from being ready to complete its work in July as Johnson once predicted it could, Congress has enacted only six major bills—excise tax restoration, emergency defense appropriations, GI benefits, uniform Daylight Saving Time, Asian Development Bank and Food for India. This is an average of about one a month.

With the exception of House passage of minimum wage increase and Food for Freedom bills, neither house has tackled any of the social and economic legislation asked by Johnson to strengthen civil rights, clear city slums, unravel the transportation snarl and accelerate health and education programs.

The Senate, where the legislative machinery moves at a creaking pace at best, met 40 minutes Monday. It passed a sheaf of minor relief bills and quit until Wednesday.

It had nothing important on its docket because its committees haven't acted one way or the other on the measures the President has proposed. The Foreign Relations Committee, for example, hasn't come up with an agreement on foreign aid after kicking it around for nearly a month.

Johnson had the Senate committee chairmen last week for individual reports on what their groups were doing. Some of the chairmen said there was no pressure for a speedup.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said there were 64 bills—by no means all of them classified as major—on the list the administration would like to have passed before Congress quits for the year.

These, of course, are in addition to the regular government money bills. Of these only that for the Interior Department thus far has been enacted into law.

A July 4 vacation, on which House members will take 10 days off officially and senators will match their time unofficially, will provide some new readings on how the folks at home feel about the legisative program as well as the Viet Nam war.

If Congress comes back after that break in its present wait-a-while mood, Johnson is going to face the choice of going to the whip or giving up on major segments of his programs.

As a man who seldom gives up on anything, Johnson is likely to make it a hot summer for the lawmakers. If that happens many of them may be in Washington answering roll calls next autumn instead of being at home campaigning.

Surveyor 1 Begins Two-Week Rest

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Surveyor 1 begins two weeks of minus 250-degree cold and darkness today after the sun sets in the moon's Sea of Storms.

The moon robot, which has taken 9,000 pictures since landing on the moon June 1, will be without power for the period of darkness since its batteries are recharged by sunlight.

Scientists at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here say they hope that when the sun rises again June 28, there will be enough power left in the batteries to start picture-taking again.

Crusade officials said 19,000 persons came to the youth night meeting and 1,123 made their commitment to Christ.

Graham said far more young people were coming to his meetings than during his last London Crusade 12 years ago.

Sentence Is Handed Out

Sterling Williams, Judge of the 132nd District Court, handed out a 3-year prison term to Manuel Gallegos this morning after a Scurry County jury determined that he was guilty of assault with intent to murder without malice.

The defendant, under the new Code of Criminal Procedure, could have asked the jury to set the punishment. However, he chose the judge. The jury returned its verdict at 9:30 a. m. All of the evidence in the case had been heard Monday.

Gallegos was found guilty of assaulting his father - in-law, Atanacio Flores. Two similar charges still are pending against Gallegos.

Dream Show For Girl Watchers

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP) — For girl-watchers the supper party held by the Shakespeare Festival Committee was a midsummer night's dream.

Although it was not quite summer, and really not that warm in the Plaza Hotel ballroom, rich and beautiful women usually on the best dressed lists were less dressed than usual Monday night.

The women on the mayor's committee for the festival, headed by Susan Stein, daughter of composer Jules Stein, and Amanda (Mrs. S. Carter) Burden Jr., decided to give feminity as much exposure as possible.

See through costumes over flesh-colored tights, the ones everybody once swore nobody would dare to wear, were the fashion order of the evening.

The pink curves of beauteous Gloria Steinem were clearly visible between the bands of chinchilla on her black sheer dress. Gold lattice work cluttered the body view only slightly on Mimi Cushing's diaphanous tent dress. Silver embroidered lace was the eye distractor for Baroness Von Meyern Hohenberg.

Topsy Taylor wore white lace pajamas over seemingly nothing. Linda (Mrs. Montague) Hackett posed for photographers in white silk harem pants with a plunging neckline that nearly severed the costume. With her was Italian designer Marquis Emilio Pucci. Since he also made the rock 'n' roll band's dazzling blue shirts, they serenaded him with "Pucci Girl," and Emilio gyrated to the noise.

Instead of wearing a teaser see-through, actress Pamela Tiffin bared some of herself with a pink jeweled bra and a one-shoulder crepe toga that draped low to naked hipbone.

Among the party's girl watchers were Henry Fonda with his pretty young wife at his side; Karim Kahn, the late Aga's brother; Sen. Jacob Javits, table-hopping; George Delacorte, who gave Central Park its theater for its Shakespearean productions, Larry Rivers, contemporary artist; Earl Blackwell, who made a career out of providing celebrities to glamorize occasions; and dozens of fashion designers.

Most of the stylists had created the socialites nude-like costumes to make $100 a-person a reasonable price indeed for a few noodles, wine and music, considering the view. Characters from the Bard's plays were inspirations for the dress designs.

The party was to have been the gala celebration of the first production in Central Park, "All's Well That Ends Well." But nearly everyone there had been notified that the play was to be canceled. Actually, it did go on at the last minute to a handful of people in the dewy park.

Tissues Keep Hairdo

Here's a way to avoid sleeping on uncomfortable hair rollers. And it's as handy on trips as it is at home. Use soft tissues to preserve your hairdo overnight. Simply fold tissues in half lengthwise, roll them up and use them as rollers, clipping them into your hair. To avoid crushing bangs, clip a single tissue, folded lengthwise, under them.

Communists Lose Rome Power Bid

By DAVID MAZZARELLA

ROME (AP) — Premier Aldo Moro's Catholic-Socialist coalition emerged from scattered local elections with a prestige boost today after smashing Communist hopes of becoming the strongest party in the city of Rome. It was the last extensive election before the parliamentary elections in 1968.

The Communists lost ground in the nation's capital for the first time since the war in a major election. Backers of the center-left coalition claimed the growth of the Communist party — second largest in Italy — had been arrested.

Although the coalition partners — Christian Democrats, Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans — gained support in Rome and elsewhere, the Communists showed they were still formidable vote-getters. Their votes continued to rise in areas where they have become the single biggest party but where they sometimes lack controlling majorities because of the center-left alliance.

The Reds lost badly in Rome, where they were within 18,000 votes of the dominant Christian Democrats two years ago. They trailed the Christian Democrats by more than 78,000 votes — 437,945 to 359,571 — and the center-left won assured control of the 80-man Municipal Council with 41 seats.

Previously the four parties had 40 seats and governed with the support of a defector from the Fascist party.

The coalition partners won majorities for the first time in two of the three provinces where new provincial councils were chosen.

The Communists gained in Florence and Genoa, where they had been the strongest party, but failed to take council seats away from the coalition.

The campaign had been dominated by national rather than local issues, and the Communists tried hard to draw Catholic voters away from the Christian Democrats. The Vatican exhorted the Catholics to remain with Moro's party, which has dominated the Italian government since the war.

Nearly complete returns from the vote Sunday and Monday in 168 municipalities showed roughly equal gains and losses by Christian Democrats and Communists, widespread setbacks for the Socialists, sharp gains by the Democratic Socialists and losses by the Fascists.

Grazing Ranges Said Deteriorating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department reported today a deterioration during May in the condition of range feed for cattle and other grazing livestock in 17 Western states.

The report said additional moisture is needed over most of the Western range area to prevent grass from becoming insufficient to sustain adequate grazing.

However, the condition of cattle and calves in the range states on June 1 was described as fair to good.

'Lousy Night' Ends For Steeplejack

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) —Trapped five hours in a rainstorm and in a barrel 250 feet up a radio tower's guy wire, a steeplejack was rescued in today's wee hours.

Buffeting winds and rain made everything slick.

"It was a lousy way to spend the night," said Sam Schreiber, 58, of nearby Leslie, once he was on the ground again unharmed, except for a cold, windswept soaking.

Schreiber, who described himself as 'a steeplejack all my life," said he'd go back up and finish the tower maintenance job he set out to do at WKAR, the educational outlet of Michigan State University.

Fifty-gallon barrels, lifted by mechanical hoists and hooked to guy wires, raise steeplejacks to their jobs — and usually bring them smoothly down. But Schreiber's got stuck the equivalent of 25 stories up.

Fellow steeplejack Bob Finley, 38, of Eaton Rapids, Mich., climbed 600 feet up the 1,000-foot tower and freed Schreiber's hoist ropes, which had become entangled with the guy line.

Pat, Luci's Reception Gala Affair

By FRANCES LEWINE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The happy sounds of partying echoed through the staid marble hall of the Supreme Court building at a prenuptial reception honoring Luci Johnson and Patrick J. Nugent.

Justice and Mrs. Tom C. Clark were hosts at the party Monday night for Luci, daughter of President and Mrs. Johnson, and her fiance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry P. Nugent of Waukegan, Ill.

"It was like old home week" for the President and longtime family friends, said Mrs. Johnson's press secretary, Elizabeth Carpenter.

The 300 guests included some of Washington's top officialdom and Luci's friends — from her piano teacher and school chums to the Catholic priest who will marry the couple Aug. 6.

Nobody could remember any time when the high court's imposing edifice had been used to fete a bride-to-be, although it has been used for social occasions by justices.

Luci, wearing a white lace dress slightly above the knees with elbow-length sleeves, stood in a receiving line in the main hall just outside the court chamber with her hosts, her fiance, her mother and Nugent's parents.

The President arrived after most of the guests assembled. He signed autographs for Luci's bridesmaids and schoolmates and mingled with old friends — from Capitol Hill and his home state of Texas — invited by the Clarks who have known the Johnsons for many years.

Johnson stayed until 11:30 p.m. — at a reception that was scheduled for 7 to 9 p.m. He sat down in an outside courtyard to a buffet dinner with Nugent's parents, who were overnight guests at the White House, and the Clarks.

Lynda Johnson, who will be maid of honor at her sister's wedding in the Roman Catholic Shrine of the Immaculate Conception here, wore a sophisticated black dress, dangling earrings and a new glamor hairdo as she arrived escorted by White House social aide, bachelor Army Capt. Mike Fenner.

Ashley Gets 15 Years For Slaying

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Leslie Douglas Ashley will return to the state prison at Huntsville—but he won't be on death row this time.

Ashley, 28-year-old female impersonator, received a 15-year prison sentence Monday on his second conviction for killing Houston real estate man Fred A. Tones Jr. in 1961.

In 1963, Ashley and Carolyn Ann Lima escaped the Texas electric chair four hours before their scheduled electrocuction when their joint conviction for Tones' death was overturned and new, separate trials ordered.

Ashley's lawyers said they planned no appeal. Lloyd Lunsford said after the all-male jury returned its verdict, 'Any punishment is too much when inflifted on an innocent man, but it beats the electric chair by a long shot. I'm proud to be a part of the miracle."

Dist. Judge Truman Roberts had instructed the jury to continue its deliberations after jurors reported several times they were deadlocked. Consideration on the punishment began Saturday and ended Monday afternoon.

Roberts credited Ahsley with four years, eight months and 23 days served on death row at the state prison, in jail and in the San Antonio state mental hospital.

Ashley and Miss Lima were accused of killing Tones at a sex party in his Houston office, then burning his body and putting it in a ditch near the Houston ship channel.

Miss Lima drew a 5-year sentence at her second trial and now is free.

Ashley's trial was delayed after he was declared insane, sent to the San Antonio hospital from which he escaped, and then declared sane after his capture.

New Gadget May Help To Snare Telephone Tormentor

By KEN SINER

DALLAS (AP) — Between midnight and dawn, the telephone's jangling wakes you up. You pick up the receiver.

"I put a bomb in your kids' bedroom," says the voice.

What do you do?

You want to run to their room — but maybe that's what the voice wants, to ambush you or make a fool of you.

You want to get help—But your only clue to your tormentor is the connection which has your only telephone tied up.

You think if you break the connection to call the police you may never learn who's calling you.

You are the victim of a telephone terrorist. He may be an extortionist or a thoughtless prankster. He may be a bitter, cowardly personal enemy. Or he may be a mentally twisted sadist who doesn't even know your name — just your telephone number.

This month for the first time in Texas, new devices a little yellow plug called a polarity trap and a breadboxsize grey box called a line identification detector, are being used to stop these telephone pests.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. Monday exhibited for the first time in Texas the new equipment, and the firm's regional manager said the company "is declaring all-our war on anonymous nuisance telephone callers.

"When the telephone becomes a source of annoyance or terror to even one customer, it is a matter of serious concern to us," said M. T. Buhl, 58, North Texas general manager.

The suntanned, slim executive said other weapons in the firm's "war" include newspaper advertisements starting Wednesday, distribution of a booklet to the public, and special training for telephone company personnel on new techniques in finding and stopping those who use the telephone to taunt their victims with silence, threats or vulgar insults.

The new equipment has many advantages over the older methods, which required the receiver of a nuisance call to keep the connection—to take the insults or obscenities—long enough for telephone personnel to trace the call back through its relays.

The new approach requires no line tapping. An inaudible high-frequency sound automatically freezes the connection at the command of the victim, and the conversation itself remains private.

Once a telephone customer asks the company to try to put an end to unwanted anonymous calls, the little yellow plug is connected to that customer's line, and the grey box is put to work—all at the appropriate Southwestern Bell office.

The trap is now set and can be left that way, unmanned, as long as the company, or customer, wants. And the customer has the unhindered, private, use of his own phone.

If the telephone nuisance ever calls again, the victim need only listen long enough to recognize the voice, or the threats, or even the ominous silence some terrorists use, and dial "4."

Instantly, the grey box sets off a clanging alarm at the telephone office and the little yellow plug turns on a high-frequency mean of sound which locks the connection of the caller until the sending telephone unit has been located.

While the detective work goes on, the victim may stay on the line, hoping to talk clues out of the nuisance, or he may hang up and free his own line if he wishes.

The originator of the call is powerless to break the connection by hanging up. The telephone will be located by the company. It will be up to investigators then to find out who used the telephone at that time.

Buhl distributed this list of suggestions for anyone bothered by anonymous calls:

—Don't keep talking to the caller. What the caller realy wants is an audience. Don't give him one.

—Hang up immediately if the caller doesn't say anything, or if he doesn't identify himself to your satisfaction. And hang up at the first suggestion of obscenity.

—If the calls persist, call the telephone company business office.

—If threatened with bodily harm or property damage, call the police.

TAX ANSWERS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

• • •

Q — I didn't file a new W-4 withholding exemption certificate last month and I think too much is being withheld from my paycheck. Is it too late to file a new W-4?

A — No. You may still file a new withholding exemption certificate with your employer. If you are married and did not file a new W-4 before May 1, your tax is being withheld at the higher rate for single persons. You may have the correct rate applied by filing a new Form W-4. If you are single, your withholding may be correct because the new rates are higher for single persons. Also, you may not be claiming all the exemptions to which you are entitled. You should check with your employer to determine whether or not this is so.

Q — I have been asked to bring my records to your local office for an examination of my return. Suppose the agent proposes to disallow some of my deductions and I don't agree. What happens then?

A — Tell the agent that you don't agree and that you would like a conference with the District Conferee. In many cases you can have a conference on the spot. In the alternative, you will be mailed a copy of the agent's report along with the letter explaining your appeal rights.

Q — I just started my own business. Can an employer use his Social Security number for business tax purposes?

A — If you just started your own business and are liable for employment, excise or other business tax returns, you must obtain an employer identification number. This number must be shown on all business returns and on Schedule C of your 1040 return. You can apply for a number by filling out Form SS-4, which is available at local IRS and Social Security offices.

Your Social Security number should be shown only on your individual income tax return, self - employment tax Schedule E, and declaration of estimated tax, Form 1040ES.

Q — Is there still a tax on the acquisition of foreign stocks?

A — Yes, but some foreign securities may be exempt from the Interest Equalization Tax. Generally, the broker or agent selling you the stock will know whether it is subject to that tax.

If you are liable for the tax, you pay it with Form 3780, Interest Equalization Quarterly Tax Return. Transactions for each calendar quarter are reported, and the return is required to be filed by the last day of the month following the calendar quarter.

Q — I won $100 prize in an essay contest in school. Who has to pay the tax on the prize-me or my parents? Im 17 years old.

A — A prize won in an essay contest is taxable to the winner. It should be counted when you add up your income for the year. If you total $600 or more in earned income then you will have to file a tax return.

Your family is not liable for any income earned by you.

Housewives Blockade Garbage Truck

WARREN, Mich. (AP)—Angry housewives blockaded a garbage truck in suburban Warren for two hours as a result of a labor disagreement.

Public Service Director L. Mason Capitani limited the amount of garbage to be collected per household to two cans after DPW workers, in a contract dispute, had refused to work overtime.

About 35 housewives blockaded a truck at an intersection Tuesday in protest against being prohibited from emptying cans themselves. Then they dispersed peacefully.

US Artist Voices Protest By Denouncing Citizenship

TOKYO (AP) — William R. Christensen, a 37-year-old artist from Hartford, Conn., announced today he will renounce his American citizenship in protest against U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

"I am sorry to admit," the painter and sculptor told a news conference, "that the majority of the American people feel righteous and just in supporting a cruel, brutal, and cowardly massacre of the small country of Viet Nam."

He read an open letter to the Japanese people and government requesting that he be allowed to stay and work in Japan and a cable to President Johnson calling for a halt to the bombing of Viet Nam.

Christensen has been in Tokyo with his 5-year-old son Eric for two months, working for a Japanese export-import firm with its French and English correspondence. His wife, a native of Paris, lives with their two other children, Anne, 8, and Eva, 7, in Albany, Calif. Christensen worked there as a typewriter repairman before coming to Japan. He said he hopes to have his family join him in the fall.

The U.S. Embassy said Christensen, to renounce his citizenship, would have to appear before a consular office, state his wishes in writing and have his passport invalidated. He then would become a stateless person. Normally he would then face deportation.

Deportation procedures are almost always instituted in such cases in Japan. Christensen said if Japan wouldn't have him he would take his son to "some neutral country and make my home and my living."

Robust Roberto, Pirates Rap Reds, 5-4, With Late Homer

By MURRAY CHASS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Now that National League pitchers have turned Donn Clendenon's power off, they've turned Roberto Clemente's on.

And it's proved a shocking experience for them.

Billy McCool was the latest victim of the Clemente explosion as the Pittsburgh star lashed a three-run homer that gave the Pirates a 5-4 victory over Cincinnati Monday night.

The homer was the ninth for the flashy right fielder this season, just one short of his total last year, and the runs batted in gave him 36 for the season, fifth best in the league and more than half as many as the 65 he had in 1965.

Why the sudden power surge for Clemente who has built three batting championships on hits that stay inside the park?

"Clendenon isn't like he was last year," the 31-year-old Puerto Rican explained after helping the Reds to their 14th loss in 18 games. "If he comes back again, I'll start punching the ball again. But I've been taking a good cut and swinging hard."

Clendenon was the Pirates' second leading slugger last year but has gotten off to a slow start with only four homers and 22 runs driven in.

Clemente, meanwhile, is headed for his best slugging year. In 11 major league seasons he's averaged 11 homers and 66 RBI while batting .309.

This season is just slightly more than one-third gone, and he's rapidly approaching those figures as well as hitting .330, the second best average in the league.

His latest effort was a dramatic performance. McCool had just relieved starter Joey Jay in the eighth inning, coming on the mound with the Reds leading 4-2.

McCool worked the count to 1-2 before Clemente, a right-handed batter, drove the ball into the upper right field stands.

Elsewhere in the NL, San Francisco crushed Chicago 8-0, Houston trimmed Los Angeles 9-6 in 11 innings, Philadelphia swept Atlanta 6-2 and 6-4 and New York defeated St. Louis 5-2 before bowing 4-1.

In the American League, Baltimore walloped New York 8-0, Detroit edged Washington 4-3, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 6-1 after losing 5-2 and Chicago downed California 5-1, then lost 2-1. Rain halted Boston at Cleveland.

Before Clemente's homer, the Reds had built their 4-2 lead on Vada Pinson's three-run homer in the fourth inning and his run-scoring single in the fifth.

Gaylord Perry, making his first start in 17 days, allowed the Cubs only three hits in seven innings. He was supported by San Francisco's six-run third, three of the runs coming on Ollie Brown's double.

Joe Morgan tripled across two runs and scored on Sonny Jackson's single in the 11th inning for Houston's triumph over Los Angeles. The Astros had exploded for six runs in the eighth inning, three on Felix Mantilla's homer, and a 6-4 lead, but the Dodgers tied it on Tommy Davis' homer and Willie Davis' run-producing single.

Larry Jackson pitched a four-hitter in Philadelphia's opening-game victory over Atlanta. Clay Dalrymple sparked the Phillies' attack with a homer and a single, driving in three runs.

Jack Brandt triggered the Phillies in the second game, hitting a homer in the third and tripling across the first run in a five-run fifth. Rich Allen added a two-run double in the fifth.

GET OFF MY BACK! — Danny Cater, Kansas City A's left fielder, climbs on back of Los Angeles pitcher Lew Burdette as path is blocked on way to first at Anaheim, Calif. Cater hit a dribbler down first base line. Burdette threw Cater off but not before tagging him out in game won by A's over California Angels. (AP Wirephoto)

High Scores In FL Play

The Athletics defeated the White Sox 22-9 and the Cardinals downed the Cubs 12-7 in Farm League games played last night.

The Athletics had a 14 run fifth inning to easily smother the White Sox. The A's scored in every inning except the second when they were retired with the bases loaded. A four run first inning put the A's in the early lead, but the score was tied in the second 4-4. After that the White Sox were never able to gain the lead.

The Cardinals scored in every inning to beat the Cubs. Danny Andrews hit a three run homer in the second inning to put the Cardinals out of reach. The Cubs scored five runs on five hits in the fourth inning, but it was not enough to close the total gap.

Quinn Wins For Phils

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One night last April Bobby Bragan stood behind the batting cage before a game against the Philadelphia Phillies and observed:

"That John Quinn never sits still."

Bragan, the manager of the Atlanta Braves, had just heard about the deal in which the Phillies obtained pitchers Bob Buhl and Larry Jackson from the Chicago Cubs for three players.

"That might just give them the pennant," Bragan mumbled.

Monday night, those words came back to haunt Bragan as his Braves bumped against the Phillies in an twi-night doubleheader. The Phillies won both games, 6-2 and 6-4

Braves, White Sox In League Wins

The Braves edged by the Dodgers 8-7 in a Pony League game and the Red Sox whitewashed the Yankees 7-0 in a Colt League game played last night.

Bill Branson hit two singles and scored twice in directing the Braves win. The Braves jumped to an early lead in the first inning when three runs scored on three back-to-back hits, and never trailed in the game. Seven runs scored for the Dodgers in the sixth inning, but fell one run shy of catching the Braves. The Braves had another three run inning in the fifth without the aid of a base hit.

Mickey Almond pitched a shut-out for the Red Sox, and limited the Yankees to five hits. Almond struck out seven batters, but was in danger of losing his shut-out in the fifth and sixth innings when he managed to get out of the inning with runners on third base. The Red Sox scored what proved to be the winning runs in the second inning when Randy Hardee doubled in Craig Bell and Jody Williamson. Williamson had also doubled before Hardee's hit.

Gary Doesn't Play Enough-Game Cools

By BOB GREEN

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gary Player is a subdued, slightly fretful little warrior as he prepares for defense of his U.S. Open Golf title, the sharp edge of his desire dulled by his fantastic successes in 1965.

"I just haven't been playing enough golf," the black-clad little South African said Monday after a practice round over the tight, tough Olympic Country Club.

"No, I don't have the desire," he admitted. "Certainly not the desire I had last year. Last year I wanted it so badly. I was so keyed up—more so than I have ever been in my life.

"Now, this year, it's all different. I have achieved my ambition. The desire isn't there, certainly isn't so intense.

"I'm not playing well. But that's because I'm not playing enough. There are so many other things I have to do now. There was this department store tour. Five cities in five days. Try that some time.

"It's just that I'm not getting enough golf. I haven't played a tournament since the Memphis Open. That hurts the desire, too. The more you play, the more you want to win. The less you play, the less you care."

Player's victory in the Open last year made him the third man in history to win golf's big four — the Open, the Masters, the British Open and the PGA. The others were Gene Sarazen and Ben Hogan. Player also copped the Australian Open, the World Series of Golf, and the Canada Cup—both team and individual—for one of the most spectacular showings in years.

He played his fourth round over hilly, tree-lined, 6,727-yard Olympic Club course Monday and was far from satisfied.

"I really don't know what's wrong," he said. "But I'm playing very poorly."

None of the other top choices in the 151-man field would admit to good rounds, either.

"Just so so," said Jack Nicklaus, the Ohio strongboy who may be the favorite.

"I can't keep it out of the rough," said 53-year-old Ben Hogan, the four-time winner who was extended a special invitation for this tournament, which opens Thursday.

"I still get tired after a couple of rounds," said Arnold Palmer, plagued with a balky back injury. "It's feeling better, though."

All agreed on the par 70 layout that winds through, around and over the San Francisco hills. It's tough.

Cardinals, A's Take LL Wins

The Cardinals scuttled the Cubs 7-3 while the A's beat the White Sox 4-1 in Little League games played last night.

David Thompson hit two doubles and a home run while scoring three times to lead the Cardinals over the Cubs. His homer was a solo shot with two out in the first inning, and put the Cards in the lead to stay. Tim Holder was the winning pitcher, and was touched for a three run inning in the third for the only damage caused by the Cubs. Fred Liner of the Cards collected two singles and scored once in aiding the cause. The Cubs managed only two hits off of Holder, a double and a single.

The A's scored two runs in the third and fifth innings to nail down their victory over the White Sox. Singles by Kevin McGinnis and Tommy Davis were the only hits the Athletics could muster. David Jones scored twice for the A's, and both times after he had reached base on walks. The White Sox collected six hits, but could only push one run across the plate. That run came in the first inning when Larry Beard scored after reaching base on a single to left. Johnny Elledge was the winning pitcher, and was frequently in trouble with the White Sox. He proved to be tough in the tight spots.

Trends Separate Worrier, Booster

BY SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Anallyst

NEW YORK (AP) —Current perplexing business trends are at least letting you separate the pessimists from the optimists. Mostly they use the same sets of figures and come up with different interpretations or presentations.

The pessimist says the economy is slowing down. The optimist says it is still growing but at a more moderate and therefore healthier pace.

The pessimist says retail sales turned down in April and May. The optimist says consumers still are buying more than a year ago.

The worrier points to a drop in auto sales and production. The booster says sales are still higher than in most previous years — and another model year is just around the corner.

The same division in attitude determines how you view the latest unemployment estimates. You can take alarm that the jobless rate rose in May. Or you can take comfort in the still rising total of those with jobs.

The stock market's steep drop and then its uncertain backing and filling can be viewed as a barometer of stormy weather ahead for the economy. Or it can be accepted as a healthy cooling of speculative fever.

The more conservative minded will tell you that inflation is here and that the threat of still more is as strong as ever. Others will tell you that the inflation threat has been curbed by the healthier pace the economy is now setting.

High interest rates are seen as hurting borrowers, especially smaller businesses. But another view of the tightness of credit is that this curtails some dangerous risk taking and thus helps keep the economy on an even keel. And the man giving to look on the bright side of things is sure to stress that the savers are profiting from higher interest rates and furnishing the capital funds that will finance future economic growth.

The pessimist points to the road blocks that are beginning to trouble business expansion. He cites tightening supplies of materials, difficulties in getting deliveries, rising prices, skilled labor shortages, and competition of defense demands with civilian demands.

But the optimist views this with less alarm. He notes that business is still planning to spend more this year for plant and equipment that it did last. And he adds that any slowdown in the big expansion boom in the period just ahead will be just that more helpful in warding off federal tax increases.

McDonald Rites Set

Funeral services have been set for 2 p.m. Wednesday at Colorado City for Mrs. Katie Eula McDonald of Westbrook. Mrs. McDonald, 77, died at 10:30 a.m. Monday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

The Rev. J. J. Kinsfather of Abilene will officiate at the funeral service at Kiker and Sons Funeral Home at Colorado City. Burial will be in the Westbrook Cemetery.

Surviving are three sons, L. L. McDonald of Westbrook, J. Vance McDonald of Odessa, A. C. McDonald of Andrews; two daughters, Mrs. Anita Roush of Midland and Mrs. Jewell Wadsworth of Big Spring.

Thirteen grandchildren and five great - grandchildren also survive.

Reenlistment Option Ends

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is suspending regulations which give a soldier the opportunity to re-enlist for a U.S. station of his choosing.

New men entering the service no longer will be guaranteed specific assignments abroad under the overseas command enlistment option. These two changes take effect July 1 — a result of Viet Nam requirements.

A spokesman said that with the buildup in Southeast Asia more and more replacements are needed for servicemen ending tours of duty.

With more slots to fill in Viet Nam, the Army has less flexibility in where it can send men.

Heretofore, a man re-enlisting in the Army could select a U.S. station where he would serve his next tour, and be virtually guaranteed of getting it.

A similar guarantee applied to a new men entering the Army who asked for assignments to Europe, Korea, the Pacific, or Alaska.

Drop Recorded In Crude Production

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—U.S. production of crude oil and lease condensate dropped 15,500 barrels daily last week to an average of 8,256,500 barrels, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

New Mexico production dropped 9,200 barrels daily to an average of 332,900, and Texas production was 2,870,000 daily, off 8,700 barrels. Oklahoma lost 3,600 daily to average 620,000.

Louisiana's output averaged 1,845,500, up 11,400 daily.

Plans Battle With Rats

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—Marine Cpl. Norman K. Mims of Jacksonville hopes to reduce the rodent population of South Viet Nam.

Mims wrote the Jacksonville postmaster, asking for some rat traps.

"I have used everything from a slingshot to electricity to get rid of the rats and don't seem to be getting anywhere," Mims wrote. "Viet Nam has very few cats. I have seen only one, and some of the rats are bigger than he was."

"I would like to try just a plain old rat trap. I would like to have eight of the biggest ones you have."

Arthur F. Whittier, assistance postmaster and an ex-Marine, said he knew what Mims was up against because of his experiences in Guam during World War II.

Whittier bought eight traps and sent them along to Mims, with his compliments.

Turncoat Heads Home

HONG KONG (AP)—Korean war turncoat Clarence Adams is leaving for the United States tonight aboard the liner President Cleveland, a spokesman for the American President Lines said today.

The spokesman said the 37-year-old Negro from Memphis, Tenn., would be accompanied by his wife and their two children.

Adams and his family were not available to newsmen. They had checked out of their hotel nine days ago without leaving a forwarding address.

The ex-soldier and his family arrived from Communist China May 26. His departure left in China only two of the 21 American servicemen captured during the Korean war who chose in 1953 to remain with their Communist captors.

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY — A gentleman from Ft. Lauderdale, Florida, has written asking about fishing in the Gulf of Baja California. He particularly wants to know about bone fishing and where the best spots are.

Sorry, but I havent heard of bone fish in that neck of the waters. You get some mighty fine fishing in the old sea of Cortes and thousands of U.S. sportsmen come down every year to indulge a bit.

The bone fishing place, I am informed, is on the Caribbean side at a spot on the Yucatan Peninsula. I would suggest you write to Capt. Roberto Fierro, Cozumel, Quintana Roo, Mexico, and tell him of your problem. Bob runs fishing and hunting safaris around that part of the country and knows where everything is found. He speaks English as well as you or I (better than me). Bob has light planes to fly you to fishing and hunting grounds and you can check with him on what gear you should bring along. He has some items but can tell you what youll need and quote you a price for his services. Incidentally, he is the only man I know of who operates such expeditions in this section of Mexico and he knows the land well.

• • •

Would like to attend college for a year in Mexico but am afraid my Spanish is too weak. Any English speaking schools of note?

Yes ma'am. The University of The Americas is an English language school with students from all over the world attending. The president, Dr. Ray Lindley, was former boss of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth. I understand UA is an excellent school and offers a wide variety of courses. For more ample information you might write The University of The Americas, Carretera de Toluca, Mexico City, Mexico, and ply them with questions. It might be just what you are looking for and they offer courses in Spanish to help you learn the language.

• • •

Would like to visit San Miguel Regla but understand it is a club for doctors only. Any information?

The straight name for the place is the Panamerican Doctors Club but this is apart from the facilities. San Miguel is an antique hacienda coverted to the club and a swank little hotel. It has accomodations for the public and you do not have to be a member of the club to get in and spend a few days, weeks or whatever you like. Incidentally, San Miguel has an air strip to accomodate private planes and the manager will meet you in a car when you land. Just in case you'd like to fly your air jitney down.

Would like to buy some gemstones rough for cutting at home as a hobby. Any idea who to contact for this?

You might try Francisco Cabrera, La Guadalupana, San Juan del Rio, Queretaro, Mexico. Don Pancho has opal mines which he operates for his business and he also buys gems rough from various parts of Mexico. He may have some available to ambitious amateurs — or be able to tell you who has in case he is short at the moment.

OH, THOSE DRUMS!

Hoffa Would Rewrite Laws To Keep Power In Grasp

By NEIL GILBRIDE

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa confirmed today that if he goes to prison he intends to resume control of the world's largest union when he gets out.

Without commenting directly on his two federal convictions, Hoffa said he plans to rewrite the union's constitution to restore himself to power if he becomes "unavailable" for a while.

Hoffa chatted amiably and frankly like a man without a worry in the world, despite 13 years in pending prison sentences, in an interview outlining plans for the Teamsters' July 4 convention in Miami Beach.

"It will be a very important convention," Hoffa said — perhaps the most crucial in his nine stormy years as head of the giant union.

Hoffa is expected to be re-elected to a new five-year term by acclamation when the 2,200 convention delegates meet.

He spelled out fully for the first time the proposed constitutional change to create a new post of general vice president or executive vice president.

The general vice president would automatically succeed Hoffa if he lost his appeals and went to prison, or became unavailable for any other reason.

If Hoffa again became "available" before the end of his regular five-year term as president, the vice president automatically would step back down for Hoffa to resume his post as union chief — all without a special convention or election.

"There are two good reasons for this," Hoffa said.

"First, it costs $2.5 million to $3 million to hold a convention. Second, a special convention would create the problem that you might not have fair representation," because some union locals might not have the money to send delegates.

"For instance, it costs my own home local (Detroit) $50,000 to go to a convention," Hoffa said.

With Hoffa's eight-year jury tampering sentence under review by the Supreme Court, and his five-year mail fraud sentence still to go before the U.S. Court of Appeals, Hoffa, 53, is still a long way from prison.

Even if his appeals fail, he could be eligible for parole after serving one-third of his sentences and could be free again before his five-year term as Teamsters' chief expires.

Hoffa already has tapped his Detroit friend, Teamsters' Vice President Frank Fitzsimmons, to fill the new post of general vice president and hold down the president's chair for him if he loses his appeals.

In the only major opposition, Vice President Harold Gibbons, onetime top assistant to Hoffa until they broke in a personal spat, has let it be known through close associates that he intends to fight Fitzsimmons for the role of Hoffa's heir-apparent.

Hoffa said he didn't believe Gibbons has a chance in an election against Fitzsimmons, but that if he tries it, Gibbons stands to lose his place on the Teamsters' ruling 15-man executive board.

This will be done through another constitutional change "limiting individuals to a choice of one office."

"If he runs for general vice president, this will create a vacancy on the board," Hoffa said.

If Gibbons goes through with his plan to run against Fitzsimmons, Hoffa supporter Roy Williams of Kansas City will run for Gibbons' spot on the board.

"I would be very surprised if Gibbons didn't recognize the fact that the overwhelming majority of votes are in the central states, the East, the Midwest and the South," Hoffa said.

"If he has been talking with the same people I have been talking with, including his own council, he won't run for general vice president, recognizing he won't have the strength," he added.

A third constitutional change likely to create some trouble for Hoffa is a $1 increase in dues for the union's 1.7 million members, who now pay $5 a month and up.

"There'll be some opposition," Hoffa said. "Some are already writing in and opposing it."

But he predicted he will be able to convince the delegates that more money is needed to expand organizing drives, increase pensions for union officers and raise salaries of organizers.

Junior Editors Quiz on MARBLES

QUESTION: How are marbles played?

* * *

ANSWER: Boys have played marbles since Greek and Roman days — and there have been many variations of the game in that time. But American children, nowadays, generally play "ringer." For this, one marks a circle about 10 feet across. There is a "lag line" and a "pitch line," as our diagram shows. You put a marble in the center of the circle and arrange a dozen more in the shape of a cross, three on each side of the center. Then the two to six players "lag" or turns by throwing or shooting their large "shooter" marbles from the pitch line toward the lag line. The nearest shot wins first turn for its owner, the next nearest next turn and so on. Then the players shoot their "taws," or "mommies" (shooters) at the "migs," "ducks" or "hoodles" (ring marbles), trying to knock these last out of the ring. If you shoot out the most marbles, you win.

Except for lagging for turns, marbles are shot by "knuckling down" — One knuckle touching the ground as the thumb snaps the marble out. You're not supposed to "hist" — raise your hand from the ground — or "hunch," which means moving your hand forward.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: Check your marbles know-how by seeing if you understand these terms: "boring," arcing through the air to hit a marble; "for fair," playing for fun, giving the marbles won back; "for keeps," keeping marbles you win; "bowling," rolling a shot. 6-14

Remarks That Can Bore Columnist

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) —Remarks that a newspaper columnist gets tired of hearing—or overhearing:

"You kind of remind me of Will Rogers, except he was funny all the time."

"I guess I'd better be careful what I say to you, or I'll wind up in a column."

"You guys must know a lot more than you actually put in the paper. Tell me, off the record, what's really going on over there in Viet Nam."

"Where do you get all your ideas? Do you copy from someone else, or just make them up out of thin air?"

"I know you write five pieces a week, but what in the world do you do with all your spare time?"

"I wonder if you'd mind giving my son some advice on how to get started in your field. He dropped out of trade school after flunking his course in plumbing, and now he's decided he wants to become a columnist."

"One of the columns you wrote last week sure hit the nail on the head—but darned if I can remember right now what it was all about."

"Wake up, Hank. It's your boss on the phone. He needs a substitute column quick. He said he had to kill the one in which you attacked poison snakes. It's too controversial."

"You mean that's Hank Baneface, the columnist—that fat fellow with the hangdog look. Good grief! I don't know what I expected him to look like, but certainly not like that."

"Wake up, Hank. It's your boss on the phone. He needs another substitute column quick. He says no one at the office can understand the one you wrote for today—not even the new copy boy, the one with a M.A. in sociology from Harvard."

"Could you turn us out a piece for the anniversary edition of our high school paper, Mr. Baneface? We only want about 2,000 to 3,000 words, and you can probably knock it out in 20 minutes. It doesn't have to be real deep—just real funny."

"Wake up, Hank. It's your boss on the phone. No, he didn't have any trouble understanding your column for today. He says he just doesn't understand why you thought you could get by with it, and he needs a substitute—quick!"

Senator Asks Why Have Father's Day?

By GEORGE NEWMAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Is this Father's Day necessary?

That question, raised by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., on the floor of the Senate, was answered today by some fathers.

The nation's fathers, according to an informal survey, were a house more sharply divided than the Senate, where Long's was the only voice to protest the annual resolution to designate the third Sunday in June as Father's Day. The resolution passed Monday and later was seconded by the House without debate.

Long, who said the holiday benefited gift-selling merchants more than fathers, asked, "Why is it necessary to have a national Father's Day?"

He got an answer in Atlanta from Edward D. Disney, a father of three and owner of a film shop.

"It's one of the days connected with the family and it means a lot to me," Disney said.

"I don't agree with Sen. Long —not in the least," said Rick Ingersoll of West Los Angeles, Calif., father of three. "My children get a great deal of pleasure from it, and therefore so do I. I'm proud of being a father."

Support for Long's view came from actor Gene Barry, father of two, who found Father's Day "blown up, out of proportion. It's a crock of commercialism started by enterprising people, and any benefits accruing from it come about as secondary results."

Charles B. Harris, a Boston father of three, said, "Every day should be Father's Day—but I mean in the original sense. It was once a time when children could pay homage to the man who pays the bills. But now they just use it for merchandising. They just use it as a gimmick to get people to buy things."

Some fellow senators reminded Long that an attack on Father's Day might be construed as an act of aggression upon Mother's Day as well.

"I'm not a mother and therefore I don't feel particularly qualified to speak on that subject," said Long, who has two daughters.

The majority Senate view was summed up by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., who said "unless they want to cancel out Mother's Day and Father's Day both, I'm for Father's Day."

"Eliminating Father's Day is eliminating one of the few traditions we have left," said John Budd of Lattingtown, N.Y., a Long Island suburb of New York City.

Besides, said Budd, the father of two, "if you eliminate holidays because they're commercial, all you have left is Arbor Day, April Fool's Day and Groundhog Day."

Ruby Found Sane In Speedy Ruling

DALLAS (AP) — The Jack Ruby murder case, plagued by legal complications and internecine wrangles between defense lawyers, appears finally to be on its way to the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

Ruby's conviction and death sentence for the Nov. 24, 1963, killing of Lee Harvey Oswald has not yet technically progressed beyond the trial court level. Oswald was accused by the Warren Commission of having assassinated President John F. Kennedy two days before.

But one major obstacle to that upward movement was removed Monday, when a Dallas district court jury ruled that the 55-year-old former strip joint operator was legally sane.

The Texas Court of Criminal Appeals—the highest court in the state for non-civil cases—had indicated that it would not take up the appeal of the murder conviction until the sanity issue was settled.

Ruby was convicted of murder March 14, 1964, in the same court—Criminal Dist. Court No. 3—where he was adjudged sane Monday.

The defense, claiming that Ruby was insane, had requested a sanity hearing a month after the conviction. It was repeatedly delayed for various reasons.

The Texas appeals court, backing up a February 1965 suggestion, ordered on May 18 of this year that Ruby's sanity be judicially determined without delay.

Dist. Judge Louis Holland scheduled it for Monday, and it took the seven-man five-woman jury only 10 minutes to rule that Ruby was sane.

But the defense made a turnaround move only last Friday, when it asked that the sanity trial be put off. Reasons given were that such a proceeding at this time would violate Ruby's constitutional rights and would only serve to slow down the appeal of the murder conviction.

Holland denied formal motions to that effect Monday and the jury panel was selected and sworn in in 42 minutes.

The state chose the 12 jurors it wanted, and put on five witnesses—four jailers and the jail doctor—to prove its contention that Ruby is of sound mind.

Ruby himself took the stand as a state witness for one minute during the trial to say:

"Never at any time have I tried to make anyone believe that I was of unsound mind. I never tried to camouflage my mental capacities."

The defense put on no witnesses, conducted no cross-examination and gave no final arguments.

Defense lawyers Phil Burleson of Dallas and Joe Tonahill of Jasper, Tex., repeatedly entered formal objections to the proceeding. Ruby's lawyers all agreed that Ruby was sane.

Graduation Rites Move To Hospital

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mace Goodman, 17, wore a gown at his high school graduation, but it wasn't the traditional one—it was a hospital gown.

Since the youth, who broke his leg and dislocated his shoulder in a motorcycle accident June 8, couldn't go to the graduation ceremonies, the ceremonies were brought to him.

Fellow students at Hollywood Professional School—many of them film and television actors—crowded into the surgical amphitheater at UCLA's White Memorial Hospital Monday for the graduation ceremonies.

AT CAPITOL — This group including Fisher and Scurry County residents was among more than 80 young people visiting the nation's capitol on the Government in Action Youth Tour sponsored by rural electric systems in Texas. From left are Don Waddell, Mrs. Waddell, both of Roby, Dinah Lovett of Rotan, Bill DeKnight of Snyder and Cheryl Beck of Valera. Miss Lovett and DeKnight won the oratorical contest of Midwest Electric at Roby to earn the trip. Waddell is a member of Midwest's professional staff. The Texas group was scheduled to return to Dallas today.

Crash Kills Four Of Texas Family

INNSBRUCK, Austria (AP)—Four members of a Texas family touring Europe were killed in the headon collision of their car and a truck near Innsbruck, police reported today. A fifth member survived but was seriously injured.

Henry Brown, 41, of George West, Tex., who was driving, and his daughter Frances, 12, sitting beside him, died in the collision Monday.

Mrs. Brown, also 41, died shortly after she was taken to the hospital in Solbad Hall. Another daughter, Laura, 9, died during the night.

The Browns' car, which he had rented in France, suddenly veered to the left side of the road and smashed against a truck driven by an Austrian, Johann Wurm.

Ancient Remains Point To Practice Of Cannibalism

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — University of Texas anthropologists are studying human remains recovered from an Indian burial ground that may be 750 years old.

One of the bodies had been dismembered and cooked—raising the probability that cannibalism was a custom of the primitive nomadic tribe, members of the recovery team said.

Seventeen graves, two containing more than one body, were found.

Also recovered were numerous ornaments—marine shells and animal bones that were used as necklace pieces and a unique "bell" fashioned out of a shell with an animal tooth clapper.

Anthropology students who dug up the remains are Mike Collins of Austin, Tex., and Frank Wier of McAllen, Tex., both graduate students, and Gentry Steels of Beeville, Tex., a college senior. They completed four days of digging Sunday.
