

West Avenue Church to See Building Plans

Representatives of the Pandem Construction Company of Cleburne, will be here Friday, Sept. 22 to discuss plans for a new building for West Avenue Church of Christ.

He will meet with J. R. Patterson, minister, and with elders and deacons of the church and all others interested.

Preliminary drawings will be presented for approval, Min. Patterson said.

It is hoped that construction on the new building can begin in April.

The Pandem Company specializes in church construction, the minister added.

Father-Son to Hold Revival at Trinity

A father-son team will conduct the revival at Trinity Methodist Church, which opens Friday, Sept. 22 and continues through Sunday Oct. 1.

The evangelist will be the Rev. D. C. Read, pastor of Mobeetie Methodist Church, and son of the Rev. J. W. Read, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church here.

Prayer services will be conducted at 7 p.m. each evening, followed by preaching at 7:30, the pastor has announced. The morning services will be at 10 a.m., for the two Sundays the revival is in progress. Sunday school will be at 9:45 a.m. on Sunday, Sept. 24, will be promotion Sunday for the church, and on Sunday, Oct. 1, Trinity will join with other churches in observing Worldwide Communion Sunday.

Occasionally a pastor has the honor of ordaining his son as a minister, but in the Read family, it was the son who ordained his father a minister of the Methodist church four years ago.

It was his son, also, who baptized his father into the church several years earlier. The Rev. J. W. Read, the Wellington pastor, studied at McMurry after he entered the ministry, and during the summer he studied at Southern Methodist University, returning here on the week end to conduct services.

Rockets Ready for Crack Lefors Pirates

Class A Lefors Pirates invade Powell Field Friday night to try for a repeat performance of their 1960 victory over the Skyrockets.

They are billed as inexperienced, but their three-game record to date indicates they are indeed a potent menace to their opponents.

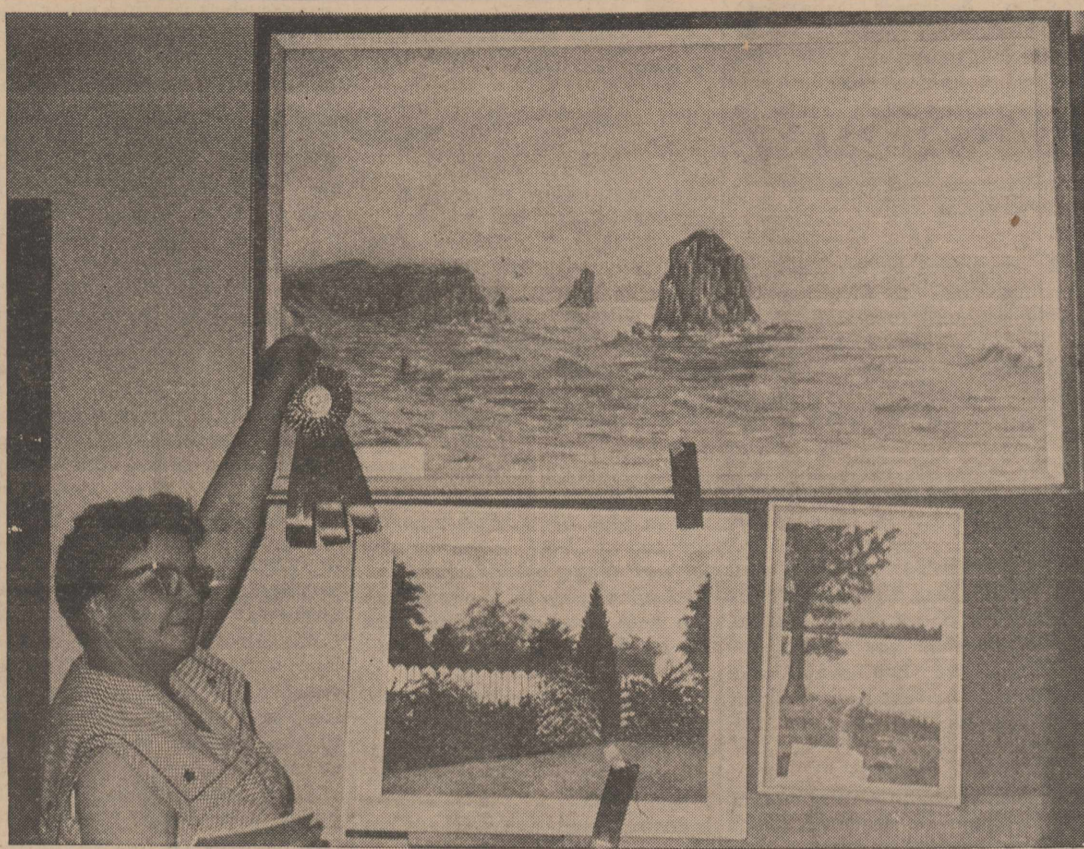

After beating Panhandle in their opener, the Pirates lost 6-0 to the Class AA Shamrock Irish. But Friday night they sprang the surprise of the season when they tied, 6-6, the White Deer Bucks, picked by sports writers as the leading Class A team in the Panhandle this year and a possible state contender.

The Pirates, coached by Dunny Goode, run a Denver City T formation, something new to most people of this area, according to Rocket Coach Frank Lindsey.

With Rocket 1961 Opponents

Here is how the 1961 opponents of the Wellington Skyrockets fared in Friday night's games:

- Shamrock 24, Canadon 0.
- McLean 49, Groom 0.
- Clarendon 16, Panhandle 0.
- White Deer 6, Lefors 6.
- Perryton 26, Canyon 6.
- Spearman 8, Sunray 0.
- Childress 22, Vernon 20.
- Quanah 31, Crowell 8.

WINNING ORIGINAL PICTURE OF THE FAIR

Mrs. Earl Hunter hangs the purple rosette on this seascape by Marilyn Caison, exhibited in the recent Collingsworth County Free Fair. It was also first place winner in its class.

The picture was entered in the division for original paintings. Mrs. Hunter assisted with arrangements for the Art Exhibit held during the Fair.

Haskell School Head Rotary Speaker Tues.

Robert R. King, superintendent of the Haskell schools and former District Governor of Rotary International for District 579, is guest speaker at the Rotary Club luncheon meeting Tuesday, Sept. 19.

His discussion was pertaining to Rotary affairs. King is a brother-in-law of C. T. Hubbard, executive vice president of the Wellington State Bank, and a close friend of the Rev. Davis Edens, pastor of First Methodist Church.

Prior to going to Haskell six years ago, he was superintendent of the Rochester schools for 11 years.

Dwyer Returns to Classes

John Dwyer, vocational agriculture instructor at Samnorwood high school, has returned to his classes following major surgery he underwent recently in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo.

Notify Richardson

Citizens Aid Asked in Shelter Survey

James Richardson, shelter chairman of the Civil Defense advisory committee, is asking all county residents to notify him whether or not they have nuclear fallout shelter available.

"It is urgent that Civil Defense have this information. It is also important to you. We need the cooperation of every family in Collingsworth county, because that is the only way Civil Defense can do the job," Richardson declared.

Please answer the following questions and mail the information to James Richardson, Wellington, Texas, or phone him at 447-5541:

Do you have any kind of underground shelter?

Describe briefly.

How many persons can you accommodate for a period of a week?

Will you be willing to convert this into a fallout shelter?

Jack Sanford and Quinton Brewer are helping Richardson in the work.

County Budget Hearing Set for Friday

The commissioners court has set the hearing on the 1962 budget for Friday, Sept. 22 at 9 a.m. and all persons interested in the county's finances for the coming year are invited to attend.

The commissioners in a recent meeting pointed out that although the hearing is advertised each year, never more than a half dozen persons attend; this is in spite of the fact that it is the time when the county's financial dealings are reviewed by the commissioners court.

County Judge C. C. Bishop said the proposed budget is filed in the county clerk's office and it is open for inspection. The budget as it is filed is by the different budget sections, and a total proposed figure is not listed, he remarked.

"The line is like the regular T with big splits. The thing that has puzzled most schools is how to defend against this."

The Pirates are heavier than last year by approximately 12 pounds per man, but they say their biggest weakness is in the line, with only Jerry Nichols and Larry Ables as returning starters. They have retained most of their backfield, with Mickey Archer at quarterback; Ronnie Line and Rodney Airington at halfback positions and Scott Dunham at fullback.

They have shown good defense against passing attacks, at the same time showing themselves adept at their own passing.

The coaches here have expressed themselves as pleased with the hustle exhibited by the Rockets and their game in general. "They made more mistakes in their assignments than in the first game, but outside of that we are well pleased."

"The offense needs a little more polishing, but the defense is looking much sharper than before."

Our Mrs. Texas

Mrs. B. M. Sims will participate Thurs., Sept. 21, in the contest for the selection of the regional winner in the Mrs. Texas Contest, to be held at Abilene. The contest is sponsored annually by Lone Star Gas Company. She was entered by the Business and Professional Women's Club.

Grand Jury Meets Thursday

A 100th District Court grand jury has been called for Thursday, Sept. 21, Judge Luther Gribble said.

The regular district court session for this county is set for Monday, Sept. 25, with both non-jury and jury cases set, he added.

50 Firecrackers

Big Response Comes for the Little Boys

The Wellington Firecrackers lost their opener to the Quanah Paposoes 40-0 at Quanah Thursday night, Sept. 14.

This was the second game of the year for Quanah. High point for the Wellington youngsters came when Peter Romo threw a long pass to Wesley Ward, who almost but not quite got loose. As it was, the Crackers picked up between 20 and 30 yards.

Coach Harvey Millsap has 50 boys out for junior high football this year, one of the largest aggregations to report for any season recently.

"We have so many boys we ran out of numeral jerseys," the coach explained. "It's a lot of boys and a lot of enthusiasm. They're awfully small, but we have them all sizes and makes."

Eighteen of the Firecrackers are eighth graders and the remainder are seventh grade students.

Most of these youngsters got to play Thursday night, either in the regular football game or in the scrimmage with Quanah that followed. This bears out Millsap's policy of playing as many boys as possible as often as he can.

Starters in the game with Quanah were:

Ends: Danny White and Andy Bell; tackles: Gary Judd and Glen Gilmore; guards, Scooter Cason and Dickie Lind-

The Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement board, in a called meeting Tuesday night, Sept. 19, began the study of an enlarged dam program that in the long range will include structures on both Buck Creek and Elm Creek.

This move came in view of the fact that work on the proposed dam on Salt Fork in the west part of the county appears to be moving at a snail's pace, and it was the desire of the board to put the development of the county's water resources on a more active basis.

The Salt Fork project is not abandoned by any means, and the board still has plans for the development.

As more information is available on the Buck Creek possibilities, it is being taken up currently.

Meeting with the board members in an advisory capacity were Clyde Drake, resident highway engineer, who is familiar with the land structures along Buck Creek, and Fred Squyres, work unit conservationist with Soil Conservation Service, which two years ago checked out Buck Creek for a possible series of flood control dams.

The measure was outlined for the board by Paul Spillman, its legal advisor. The Buck Creek Dam Site proposed Tuesday night is at Red Bluff, about nine miles due west of Wellington, and a pioneer landmark in the area.

The reservoir backed up by this dam would be used for a number of purposes. One would be recreation, which could be developed along the same lines as those at Lugert and other resort lakes.

It could be used for irrigation, for wildlife development, and as a potential auxiliary water supply for the city of Wellington.

Spillman talked by phone with Walter Rogers Tuesday and the congressman assured the Collingsworth board of his help.

Here are some of the facts brought out in the board meeting regarding a dam at Red Bluff:

There is a drainage area of 112,510 acres or 176 square miles, and from this, there is 93,000 acre-feet of runoff per year.

Squyres estimated that 50% of the water that falls in the drainage area runs off, and this would be from 11 to 13 inches per year.

Red Bluff is an estimated 75 to 100 feet high, and water in a reservoir would be about 50 feet deep. The dam itself would be 4,000 feet long and the lake backed up by it would be a mile to a mile and a half wide at points, and possibly six miles long.

It was pointed out that all figures used Tuesday night are rough estimates, but they are being used until accurate figures are available.

Evaporation from such a lake would be 120 inches per year, and the inflow from small streams would about take care of this.

Cost of the project was stated in terms of $1,000,000. Rogers told the group certain outright federal grants will be available.

"There will be some flood control grant. There will be a wildlife and recreation grant," he pointed out.

The figure would cover the cost of dam construction, purchase of land, and engineering.

Bonds which would cover the remainder of the cost could be paid for out of income derived from the reservoir.

Money is available to the Bureau of Reclamation for engineering studies, as both Buck Creek and Elm Creek are covered in the grant which provides for the study of Salt Fork and Prairie Dog Town Fork of Red River and their tributaries.

Both Drake and Squyres expressed the belief that there will be no structural problems.

"Not if you get out of the gyp," Squyres said.

"We've never hit any gyp in borings on Buck Creek," Drake told the group.

The City of Wellington is sending water samples for analysis of the mineral content, but there is no evidence of any gyp in Buck Creek water.

Turning to Elm Creek, on which little information is currently available to the group, both Squyres and Drake said feasibility studies are available from the Bureau of Reclamation if they can be dug up.

District Scout Fireside Chat Here Monday

A fireside chat for Comanche District Scout unit leaders and assistants, institutional representatives, and unit committee chairmen, was held at the Greenbelt Rural Electric Building Monday evening, September 18, to hear an explanation of the coming Capital Funds Campaign in the Adobe Walls Council.

Hollis Alford, assistant Scout executive for the council, who also serves as Scout Executive of the Comanche District, was in charge and with Brantley Hudson, Council Scout executive, explained the campaign.

This is not the annual campaign to raise funds for Scout operation in the council, it was pointed out. The Capital Funds campaign is set for early in 1962 and money raised will go for two purposes: the improvement of Camp Kiowah, and construction of an office for the Adobe Walls Council.

Improvement of buildings and camp sites at Camp Kiowah is planned. This is necessary because of the age of the present buildings and also due to the greater number of boys being served by the camp.

The need for the office building is definite, Alford pointed out. At present, the Adobe Walls Council office is in the Pampa City Hall. Scout officials feel that because of expansion of municipal affairs, it will be only a short time before all space in the city hall is needed by the City of Pampa.

The Council already has the lot for the proposed office building, given in 1960 by M. K. Brown, Pampa philanthropist.

CONDUCT FIRST METHODIST REVIVAL

The Rev. Lyman Wood, left, will preach in the revival services opening Sunday, September 24, in First Methodist Church, Wellington. L. B. Bratten will be the music director. Rev. Wood, pastor of Pleasant Valley Methodist Church in Amarillo, lived in Wellington as a boy.

At First Methodist

Rev. Lyman Wood to Hold Revival Here

Revival services have been scheduled at First Methodist Church beginning Sunday, Sept. 24 and continuing through Thursday, Sept. 28 the Rev. Davis Edens, pastor, has announced.

The evangelist will be the Rev. Lyman Wood, pastor of Pleasant Valley Methodist Church, Amarillo, and a former Wellington resident.

L. B. Bratten is music director.

Early morning services will be at 6:45 a.m., enabling those who work to attend. Evening services are set for 7:30 p.m.

Rev. Wood lived here during the time his father, the Rev. L. S. Wood, was pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. He attended Wellington high school three and a half years, moving in the middle of his senior year.

He entered the ministry of the Nazarene Church and became one of the distinguished young preachers which this area has produced, attending Union Theological Seminary in New York, and later serving as pastor of First Church of the Nazarene in New York City. His health failed at this point, and it became necessary for him to take pastoral work that was less strenuous.

After returning to Texas, he entered the ministry of the Methodist Church, where his preaching continues to be marked by brilliance and forcefulness.

Those in charge of the Methodist revival here expressed their pleasure at having this young preacher, who is so highly regarded in the religious world, return to the town that was his home for three and a half years.

They invite the public to attend, and especially are all those invited who knew the Rev. Mr. Wood.

Rocket Hurts On the Mend

"The swelling is gone and Gary is back in school, but we don't think he will be in the Lefors game," Coach Frank Lindsey said.

The accident occurred during a sustained Rocket drive, with play on the Memphis 20.

Craig Bergval, the other right half, is recovering from a pulled back muscle received in the pre-season scrimmage with Elk City. He is being played sparingly, but coaches think he will be ready to go in the Rocket-Lefors game.

C. W. Roberts Birthday Mon.

C. W. Roberts, distinguished Collingsworth pioneer, will observe his hundredth birthday on Monday, Sept. 25.

Still alert and active, he will spend much of the day recalling his long residence in the county, which dates back 73 years.

Mrs. Roberts said that friends are invited to come by the family home at 1111 Belton Street to visit him.

Carla Donations Accepted Here

Donations to aid victims of Hurricane Carla are being accepted by the Collingsworth County chapter of the Red Cross, Judge C. C. Bishop, the chairman, said Tuesday.

Donations may be left at the county library and they will be forwarded by the county Red Cross chapter.

"Any amount will be appreciated," Judge Bishop said.

FATHER-SON REVIVAL TERM

A father and son are teamed in the revival which opens Friday, September 22 at Trinity Methodist Church. Pastor of the church is the Rev. J. W. Read, left. The evangelist will be the Rev. D. C. Read, pastor of First Methodist Church, Mobeetie.

Future of Farm-To-Market Roads

Rural people and County Commissioners all over Texas are wondering what the future holds for the long-established Farm-to-Market program. The raised eyebrows came about when Governor Price Daniel recently vetoed the earmarked construction funds for the second year of the new biennium, which represented some $15 million.

This week the Texas Highway Department, through the office of the state highway engineer, D. C. Greer, issued a statement to give their official position. The commission "expressed the belief and hope that the Texas Legislature would see fit to reinstate the 1962 Farm-to-Market (Colson-Briscoe Bill) appropriation, together with the urgently needed flexibility in the use of Farm-to-Market Road funds to cope with the increasing problem of maintenance as recommended by Governor Price Daniel."

The Commission went on to urge that the action be taken at the forthcoming special session, adding that the appropriation is vital if the department is to continue the Farm-to-Market program at the current pace.

The picture is complicated, but it appears the governor wants more maintenance of existing Farm-to-Market roads. On the other hand, the Commission recognizes the need for expensive maintenance, but at the same time wants to continue to build needed rural roads.

It remains to be seen what the Commissioners Courts, farm organizations and other interested groups have to say. To bring it closer to home, what do the citizens of Hall County think about certain dirt roads which should be paved, and which have been labeled by this county's Commissioners to come up soon for consideration.

The Texas Highway Commission rates at the top when compared to that of other states. Under the guidance of able and dedicated Commissioners, and with the talents of Engineer Greer and an excellent group of district engineers, Texas roads have come to the front by tremendous strides since the end of World War II. They have done a tremendous job in a big state, and the motoring public is appreciative of the results.

Hall County can be proud of its system of fine paved roads, but there still remains many miles of lateral roads which should be paved. They are well-traveled, and over them go school buses, mail, etc., as well as the citizens who provide food and fiber.

It is our hope that the Commissioners Court of Hall County will make its wishes known to the governor and members of the Legislature. When all primary lateral roads of this county and others in the state are paved, then it will be time to start curtailment of the Colson-Briscoe appropriations, and begin to earmark money to keep them maintained.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Lady bank robber stuck up a small town money joint in South Carolina the other day, and this proves that women are getting into almost every line of business now.

My distaff-expert neighbor says this development may open up a new field of work for fashion designers who can come up with ideas for chic wardrobe items suitable for afternoon bank robbing.

Says there ought to be a good market, too, for gun-blue costume jewelry, and shoes and handbags covered to match mid-lady's pistol.

I see where 25 semi-neutral nations held a meeting the other day and reprimanded the U.S. for provoking Russia, but couldn't find anything wrong with Soviet deportment.

Reports are this attitude has sort of vexed President Kennedy, who is said to want something in return, such as support, when he hands out money.

My disillusioned neighbor says he knows just how the President feels about these ingrate nations, as he has been keeping up two bootleggers for years and neither one of them will go on his note at the bank.

I see where a young lawyer by the name of Goodwin spent a few months in Washington and a few days in Latin-America and is now our top Latin-American expert.

My insipid neighbor says other men have spent years in the Good Neighbor countries without learning all the answers, so it must be the climate in Washington which brings out the expert in a man so fast.

Says, though, he doesn't know if living in Washington makes a man smart, or if the smartest men just gravitate to the Wisdom Center because the pickings are better there.

I see where President Kennedy is asking the steel companies to resist the temptation to raise their prices when the Nixon-rigged wage boost hits them this fall.

My overcharged neighbor says it takes very strong moral fiber to refrain from wanting higher prices for your stuff when your costs go up.

But he thinks everybody ought to exercise their self-denial muscles a little more, and he hopes the President will practice his own gospel and quit asking for more money to cover the rising costs of delivering the mail and wet-nursing the world.

Non-reverent editorial writer says if Bobby Kennedy hadn't lucked out by drawing a rich daddy, he might now be shucking clams on some back street in Boston.

My remonstrative neighbor says it's an insult to good clam-shuckers to bring them into such a partisan discussion of the Attorney General's talents.

Says this is a time-wasting study anyhow, due to the American plan of judging a man's ability by how much money he can make, which leaves us without a way in the world to tell how smart a man is when he is born rich.

My vacation-broke neighbor says he notes all over the country a rash of museums showing relics of out-moded eras, such as side-saddles, brass-trimmed autos, the Constitution, etc.

Says he is in favor of this move to preserve items for posterity to laugh at, but still he got back home feeling somewhat more depressed than when he left.

Claims it is bad for a man's self-confidence to find some item in a museum, labeled as an antique, which is a lot younger than he is.

Back Bay is a fashionable residential district in Boston made by filling in the Charles River.

Insurance Class Saves Most Motorists Money

Approximately 55% of the private passenger automobiles in Collingsworth county can now be covered for basic limits public liability insurance for only $6.00 more than the same insurance cost in 1938. This is due to the use of insurance classification plans, including the Texas Safe Driving Insurance Plan, according to the State Board of Insurance.

To give a specific illustration: basic limits public liability insurance (bodily injury and property damage combined) on a private passenger car, used only for family purposes, and not owned or operated by a male under 25 years of age, and principally garaged in a town or city in this county now costs $36.00. If the owner and his co-resident operators are accident and conviction free under the Texas Safe Driving Plan (sub-class 0) a 20% differential is allowed which would reduce the rate to $29.00. In 1938 the same insurance on a private passenger car in a city or town in Collingsworth county would have cost $23.00. Approximately 55% of the non-farm private passenger cars in the county are entitled to this reduced rate.

Farm automobiles carry a lower rate because they are not exposed to hazard in the same degree as non-farm cars.

In most counties in Texas the farm cars enjoy about the same ratio of benefits from the Safe Driving Plan in relation to former costs as the non-farm cars will receive.

The purpose of insurance classification plans is to allocate more of the cost of insurance to the class of risks which result in the most losses.

Classification begins with the type of motor vehicle. If a private passenger car, then classification for liability insurance is by territory where principally garaged, use of the vehicle and driver characteristics. On physical damage, including collision, fire, theft and comprehensive insurance, the list price of the automobile and its age are also considered.

Rates are made separately on commercial types of motor vehicles from private passenger cars, an on private passenger cars according to the use made of them. The State is now divided into 26 statistical territories and 10 rating territories. Large metropolitan counties are separate territories since there are a sufficient number of cars in such counties to afford a sound basis for separate rating. Smaller counties are grouped with other counties having a reasonably similar loss experience for rating purposes. Each rating territory can largely control its own rates by reducing accidents and consequently the number of insured losses.

Oldsmobile now Offers Nine New Models for '62

LANSING, Mich.—With the introduction of two exciting new convertibles in 1962, Oldsmobile is expanding its F-85 line to a total of nine models, J. F. Wolfram, Oldsmobile general manager and a vice president of General Motors, announced.

The Sports Convertible and the Cutlass Convertible, along with the other F-85 models, and the Oldsmobile 88's, 98's and Starfires for 1962, will be shown to the public at Oldsmobile dealer showrooms on Friday, Sept. 22.

The new Cutlass Convertible, like its companion model, the Cutlass Coupe, will be equipped with all-Moroccan interiors, bucket seats and the Cutlass 185 ultra-high-compression aluminum V-8 engine.

"This engine," Wolfram said, "with its 215 cubic inch displacement, a 4-barrel carburetor and a 10.25 to 1 compression ratio, gives spectacular performance with surprisingly good mileage on premium grade gasolines."

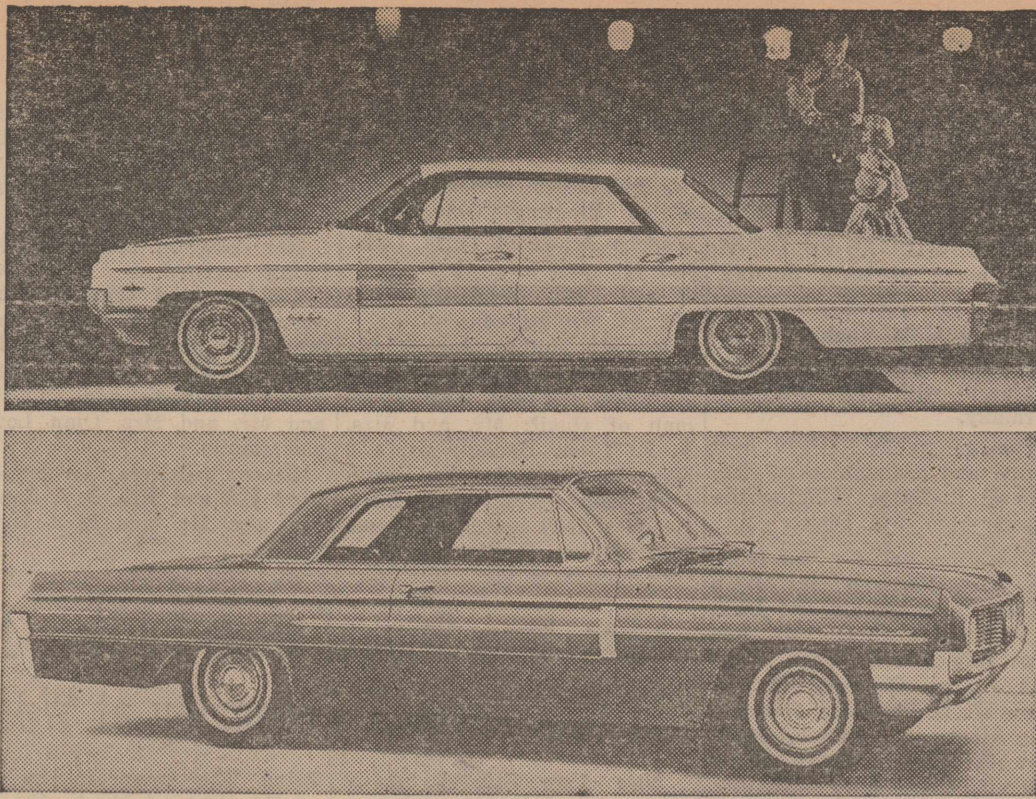

The Cutlass engine is available as an extra-cost option on all F-85 models, he added.

The standard engine for all other F-85's is the 8-cylinder 155-horsepower, aluminum Rockette engine, widely acclaimed for its performance and economy. It also has a displacement of 215 cubic inches, but is equipped with a 2-barrel carburetor and 8.75 to 1 compression ratio for operating with regular grade fuels.

"For 1962," Wolfram continued, "we have made further styling refinements and mechanical improvements. In addition, Oldsmobile's increased emphasis on quality and reliability designed for even greater customer satisfaction, places the F-85 in a class by itself in the low-price field."

Among the body design improvements noted by Oldsmobile's general manager is almost two inches of additional leg room in the rear compartment of the 4-door sedans for increased passenger comfort.

"Styling changes in the pleasingly proportioned F-85," he added, "includes a completely different front end with new hood, grille and headlamp housings, and a restyled rear section with twin tail lamps mounted on each side. The backup lamps are now located on the lower body panel below the rear bumper. Body side moldings on deluxe models are of a different design and are positioned to create a smart new styling accent. New also is a wide, stainless steel

With its advanced roof styling, the elegant, newly-introduced Oldsmobile 88 Holiday Sports Sedan for 1962 (top photo, above) combines the exciting look of a sports coupe with the roominess and full convenience of a four-door model. In addition to completely new front and rear styling, all Oldsmobile 88's and 98's for 1962 feature straight-top fender lines extending the full length of the car for a 'straightaway' silhouette. The sporty new Dynamic 88 Holiday Coupe for 1962 is shown in the lower photo. Performance and economy have both been improved in all models of this year's exciting new Oldsmobile. rocker panel moulding."

Wolfram said that interior trim and appointments have been made more attractive and luxurious in the F-85 for 1962, not only in deluxe models but in all coupes, sedans and station wagons. "Our customers will find them much richer looking," he stated.

Important mechanical advances include improvement in the top performing four-stage Hydra-Matic transmission. As in the Oldsmobile Dynamic 88, Super 88 and 98 models, incorporation of a pressure-compensating shift pattern in the new Hydra-Matic drive, provides a smoother-than-ever transition between its four speed ranges.

In all F185 models new shock absorber valvings and revisions in the front suspension isolation mountings, provide a softer, quieter ride.

In 1962, for the first time, all F185 models will be equipped with a heater and defroster as standard equipment. Easy installation of seat belts is provided by reinforced brackets, which will also be standard.

In addition to the newly-introduced convertibles, the Oldsmobile F-85 line includes for 1962: An F-85 4-door sedan, 4-door, 2-seat station wagon; 4-door, 3-seat station wagon; and a club coupe; an F-85 deluxe 4-door sedan and a deluxe 4-door, 2-seat station wagon, and the very popular Cutlass sports coupe.

I wish to express my sincere appreciation to all those who have been so thoughtful during my illness. For the lovely flowers, cards, visits and gifts, I am indeed grateful. Your thoughtfulness will always be remembered.
Frankie Duncan.

We take this means of expressing our thanks to our friends for their interest and concern at the time of John's surgery. The flowers, cards, visits and phone calls were sincerely appreciated both during the time he was in the hospital and after his return home. May we say "thank you" to each of you.
Mr. and Mrs. John Dwyer.

It is impossible for us to find enough words to express our gratitude to the ones that have been so kind to us during our sad bereavement. The lovely flowers, prayers, letters and cards have meant so much to us. We knew you such a short time, but you let us know we were not forgotten. We will never forget the many wonderful people in Wellington.
May God bless and keep each of you in our prayer.
Mr. and Mrs. Ray McKinney Walters, Okla.

Cyclones Blow Down Rockets Friday 16-6

By Max Courtney

Wellington's spirited Rockets fell to the Memphis Cyclone by a one touchdown margin Friday, which is a slim difference considering the Memphis potential.

Memphis was minus only two players from their strong team of last year and the program listed four linemen as weighing 200 pounds or more as compared to a Rocket average of 155. Wellington's small but alert line provided many holes for the fast-charging backs as they went through and around the hefty Cyclone line.

The final score was 16 to 6. Raymond Sanders opened the game booting the ball to Eddie Jones, who never saw daylight as Rocket tacklers pounced him. The first quarter remained rather uneventful with both teams fighting heartily for yards but the other stubbornly holding their ground. Jackie Daves did, however, show one fine run for Wellington around his right end for about 20 yards, which was called back because of an offside penalty.

The second quarter produced Memphis' first tally and conversion which gave them an 8 to 0 lead and sent the Rockets' halfback, Gary West, who had been providing good running, to the hospital.

The play that started the Skyrockets' trouble was a quick kick from Memphis which wound up with the ball on the Rockets' 5. Wellington banged the Memphis giants for three downs, then punted, on offside against Memphis called the ball back and gave Wellington another first. The Rockets, who were unable to move the ball, punted to Bunky Adcock who ran back 15 yards and was nailed by Bryan Hatch who came up from on top of a ball carrier many times during the game.

Memphis took the ball and began grinding down to the Rockets' 20 where Bill Pounds ripped across for 6 points and Bunky Adcock passed to Jackie Bridges for 2 more.

Herb Duncan took the kickoff and brought it back almost 25 yards on a nice run. But with time running out only a few more plays were executed before the buzzer.

The third quarter gave Wellington its only touchdown when Jackie Daves took a punt on his 25 and romped 75 yards for 6 points. Several times he was smothered but each time tore loose and ran the last 50 untouched. An attempted pass failed to yield any points on the conversion try as it was broken up by a Memphis lineman.

Again on the kickoff the Memphis man was snowed under by re-spirited Rockets. But the remainder of the third quarter remained fruitless for both sides.

The fourth quarter saw Memphis score once more after the ball had changed hands several times with each team holding the other to little gain. The touchdown play saw Bill Pounds go far around his left end for the 6 points and then again Adcock passed to Bridges for 2 more.

The end of the game being only a little more than two minutes away sent Wellington to the air. One pass to Duncan was good for 25 yards and the remainder fell incomplete. A fumble then gave Memphis the ball for one more down before the end of the game.

The Rocket defense was outstanding as they sliced through to tear up the Cyclone power plays through the center of the line. It was their only solution for the superior weight of the Cyclones, but the concentration hurt when Memphis did attempt its sweeps around end which is the manner in which they made both of their touchdowns.

The running of the Rocket backs was spectacular with Gary Holliman performing the workhorse chores with numerous good gains and Jackie Daves, Hubert Mauldin, Gary West, Craig Bergvall and Chester McLain finding their holes quickly and going for more yardage. Daves made the only Rocket touchdown when he took a punt on his own 25 and got by one Cyclone all by himself, received one key block and was scored the rest of the 75 yards by six ready Rockets who kept turning their necks like a running mule looking for somebody to block.

The Rockets were slowed for a time when their little firebrand, Gary West, went out with a sprained ankle.

Quarterback Mauldin's excellent throwing arm proved of little benefit in the crucial moments due to lack of adequate protection. He overshot his mark by five yards in the early minutes of the game in an effort to make a long, long touchdown pass. In the closing minutes he connected with a beautiful pass to Herb Duncan for a 25-yard gain.

Cuba Refugee Joins Family at Petersburg

By Dan Martin
Lubbock Avalanche-Journal
PETERSBURG.—"Is this my new mother?"

Arelly Rodriguez, 17 year old Cuban girl who left family, possessions and country for freedom, has arrived in Petersburg to be the "daughter" of a "mother" she had never seen and of a "father" she had seen but once.

The question was one she asked as she walked down the ramp at Lubbock Municipal Airport at the end of a long flight for freedom to be a part of the family in whose lives she has been for a long time.

Through the efforts of the Rev. Russell Pogue, pastor of the Petersburg First Baptist Church and his family, the girl is now in this county. She will live with them in Petersburg.

burg. "For me coming here is wonderful," Arelly said in broken English. "It was a long, long flight from Miami here."

The Rev. Pogue worked through the girl's brother, Daniel Rodriguez, a former student at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, now pastor of a Cuban Baptist Mission in Miami, in his efforts to bring Arelly to America and Texas.

The family has expected the girl to come many times, but each time, something has stopped her from escaping Cuba. "We have rearranged the furniture several times expecting her to come any minute. I've just not let myself get excited until now," Mrs. Pogue said Monday night at the airport as the family waited for the plane to land.

"Her brother called us Thursday and said to meet the plane Monday night.

"We've had so many false alarms that we just didn't allow ourselves to get excited. But, now we are here, and are excited," the Rev. Pogue said.

Caught by Guards

The girl was supposed to be here Sept. 1, escaping on a fishing boat. At the last minute, Castro's guards pulled her and other refugees from the boat and held them several hours, the girl explained, partly in Spanish, partly in English.

Finally she was allowed to catch a KLM airlines flight from Havana to Miami, ostensibly for a vacation. She had a visa to visit this country and a passport.

She arrived in Miami last Monday.

Two Sunday school classes at the Petersburg church provided money for the flight from Miami. Others are sewing clothing. Arelly was allowed to bring only 44 pounds of luggage on the airplane.

"The whole church is excited about this girl. Not only have we gained a new daughter, the church has, too," the Rev. Pogue said.

He explained that the adoption started to take place in 1948 when Daniel was recommended to come to this country. He was sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Kress, of which the Rev. Pogue was pastor.

The pastor and the Cuban boy, later to become a minister, became good friends. In 1958, when Pogue was pastor in Wellington, he was invited by Daniel to hold a revival in Havana. He went, despite the fact that the revolution had already taken place.

Met Girl, Parents

While in Havana, he met the girl and her parents. There, the idea to bring her to America began. It did not actually take birth until conditions in Cuba began to worsen.

"At first the revolution looked good, but then it began to sour fast. Daniel asked me to help his sister. I offered to become her father," the Rev. Pogue said.

Though the girl has finished Cuban schools, she will be enrolled in high school after taking aptitude tests to determine where to place her. She needs tutoring in English and history and other American school subjects, the Rev. Pogue explained.

Now a dream has come true for Arelly, Rev. Pogue and his family, Lois, 14; Jim, 12; Dan Earl, 5 and Ed, 2.

In search for freedom, she has found it, plus a "new family."

New Pontiacs go on Sale Here Thurs., Sept. 21

"Following a highly successful first year in the automobile market the 1962 Pontiac Tempest series will now be offered in five popular priced models with the addition of a convertible coupe," it was announced by S. E. Knudson, General Motors vice president and general manager of Pontiac division.

"The new Tempest will go on sale in Pontiac dealer showrooms on Sept. 21," he said.

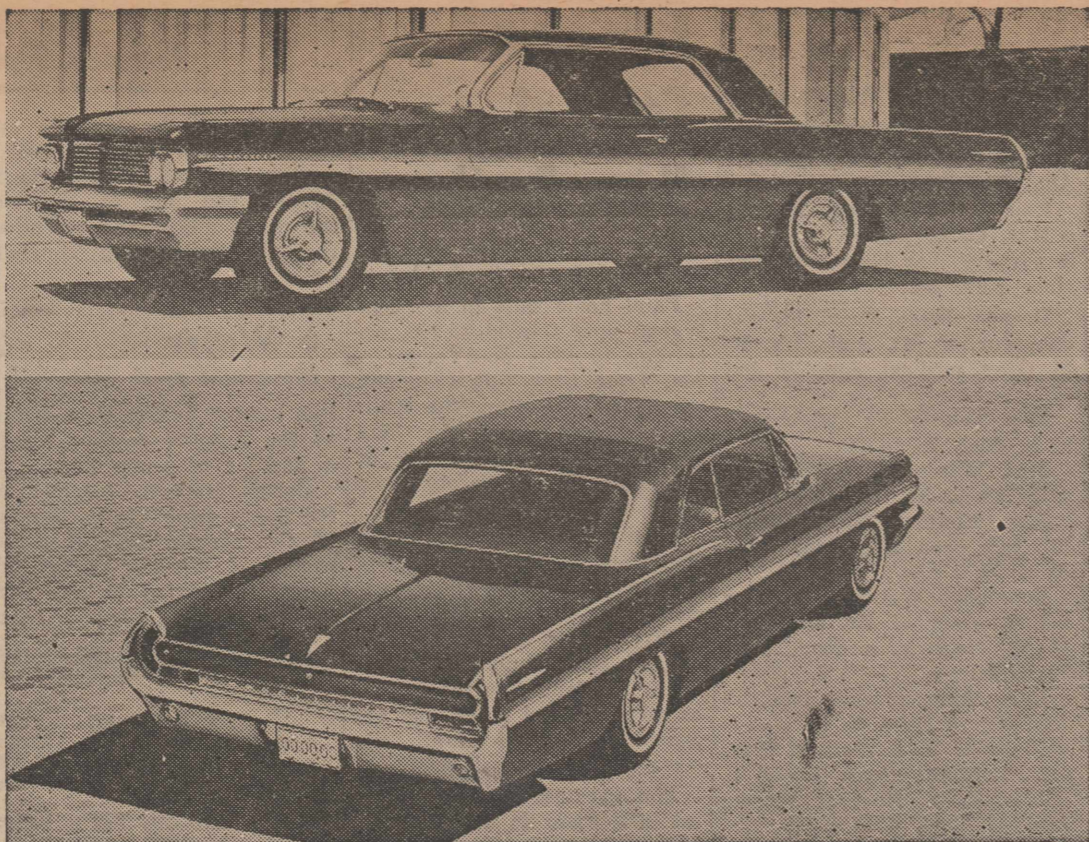

"Featuring many engineering improvements that contribute greatly to driving pleasure, the 1962 Tempest models have an entirely new radiator grille and rear end styling, new interior styling, and smoother and quieter performance and greater riding comfort," Knudson said.

Introduced less than a year ago the Tempest became an immediate success and was universally recognized as the outstanding engineering achievement of the year. Originally the series consisted of a 4-door sedan and a 4-door Safari station wagon. Pontiac's new line of family-size cars now includes as well a smartly styled convertible, a 2-door coupe and a 2-door sports coupe.

The 1962 Tempest retains its widely acclaimed front engine-rear transmission power train arrangement. The heavy duty 4-cylinder engines range from 110 to 166 horsepower with a choice of either automatic or synchromesh transmissions. Also available is an optional V-8 aluminum engine rated at 185 horsepower.

The wide Tempest grille emphasizes a wider horizontal look while still incorporating a central interest theme. Wide set dual headlamps blend smoothly with a bold sculptured hood. The new front end styling, combined with tasteful side sculpture and optional decor trim on front and rear fenders and around all window openings, gives the Tempest an overall air of dramatic appeal.

Unsurpassed for richness and styling beauty is LeMans option offered on the Tempest convertible and 2-door sports coupe. The stunning LeMans interior features bucket front seats and customers may pick from five solid or monochromatic colors in seville grain, expanded vinyl coated fabric. The colors offered are black, parchment, red, saddle, and blue. The plant and cushiony fabric styled in fine piped panels forms the seat trim. The driver's seat is fully adjustable fore and aft. The front seat backs are recessed to give maximum knee room for back seat passengers.

LUXURIOUS STYLING of Pontiac's 1962 sports coupe models is graphically illustrated by these views of the sparkling new Bonneville. A smaller rear window and a lower roof design give this two-door hardtop the rakish look of a softtop convertible. A divided V-shaped grille of horizontal bars exemplifies the smooth flowing lines and the Bonneville's generous full-length side moulding accentuates the car's long, low and sleek appearance. This same new look in hardtops is found in the Catalina sports coupe.

For Tempest buyers there are 15 exterior colors from which to choose, each one of durable, sparkling Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer. The standard 2-door coupe and 4-door sedan are trimmed inside with a combination of patterned cloth and vinyl coated fabric.

Provision for the installation of seat belts is standard equipment on all 1962 Tempest models. Each body carries four floor reinforcements welded to the structure so that seat belts for one, two or three front seat passengers can be installed from above without any drilling or tapping operations.

Quail Young Farmers Attend Area Meeting

Young Farmers of the Quail Chapter attended the area convention in Plainview Saturday, Sept. 16, with two of the group and their advisor taking part in the program.

Held in the form of a workshop, the meeting was given over to a study of the functioning of the Young Farmer organization, set up for Future Farmers after they leave high school.

N. E. Childers, now in his second term as vice president of the state organization, was one of the workshop speakers, giving a general discussion of the organization.

Carl Wischkaemper, a former president and winner of the State Outstanding Young Farmer Award, discussed for the group setting up interesting programs.

Frank Kennedy, advisor spoke on recreational activities of the Young Farmers.

The men were accompanied by their wives, for whom a style show and other afternoon events were held.

The entire group was honor-

Fourteen in Drivers Class

Fourteen students are enrolled in this semester's driver education class, Harvey Millsap, instructor, announced.

The group is now taking class work, and at the end of 30 hours work they will take their written test, which if successfully passed, will give them their restricted licenses. This will enable a student to drive with a licensed driver in the front seat.

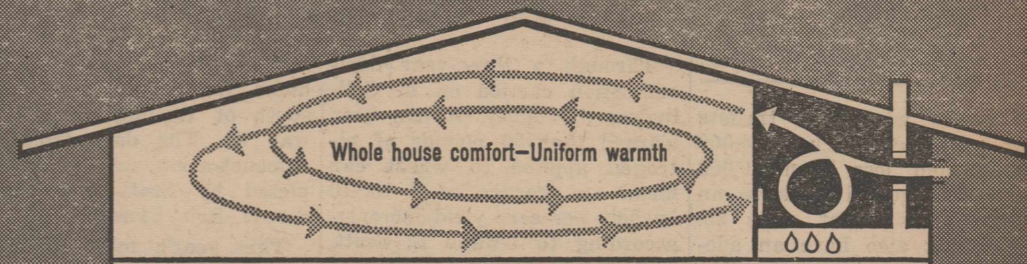

Following this, each student will get six hours of observation and six hours under the wheel, Millsap explained. At the end of the course, they will take the regular drivers' tests, given by the drivers' license division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, and all restrictions will be removed from their licenses.

for Outstanding Young Farmer of the area, and he also is the new president of the Quail Chapter.

This is the oldest chapter still operating in the Panhandle, having been organized in 1955 and chartered in February 1956. There are now numerous chapters scattered over the Panhandle area.

Farmers who have trailers that weigh as much as 4,000 pounds and less than 10,000 are now required to have an exemption tag that costs $5. They must also have an adequate hitch and one burning tail light that is visible for 500 feet to the rear and two red reflectors. I became curious about trailers that weigh over 10,000 pounds and went over and asked Louise Fulcher. They have been having to buy tags all along.

Here is one new tax that won't exasperate anyone here, for we don't have any such organization that comes under the law: It is a tax on "private clubs" where mixed drinks are served. In the first two weeks $420,000 was paid in to the Liquor Board. This would indicate a membership of 210,000 since the tax is based on $2 a year for each member. Veterans organizations are exempt from the tax.

I was proud of the play of the Rockets last Friday even though they were defeated by their heavier opponents. I thought they played harder and were better coached than the opposition. Next year, thank goodness, we will be out of the league with Perryton, Quannah, Childress, etc. We will probably get back into a more normal grouping such as Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon, Shamrock, McLean, and perhaps Lefors and Paducah. This will be much more advantageous from both the standpoint of travel and attendance. More of us will go to the out of town games and more of them will come here.

Coach Harvey Millsap has an even 50 boys on his Firecracker squad, 17 from the eighth grade and 33 from the seventh. After the game at Quannah last Thursday Billy Hatch asked him how he kept up with that many boys. "I didn't," Millsap replied, "one time I had twelve men on the field and one time I had only ten." Well, that ought to be fair on the average.

Last week I wrote of being in Austin when the refugees started moving in from the coast. The Texas Press Association bulletin reports that they camped on the Capitol grounds the first night of the storm and were moved into public buildings as the rains reached Austin. Large trees were felled that far inland and the damage to the grounds and buildings was extensive.

On-The-Farm Demonstration

Nitrogen on Wheat Pays off in Test

Through a three-year demonstration carried out in Collingsworth county, it has been learned that 30 pounds of nitrogen applied to wheat can mean an average of 8 to 10 bushels per acre yield increase, according to Dwane L. Scott, farm demonstrator assistant of the Northwest Texas Research Demonstration program. This year's demonstration was carried out on the Raymond Ward farm three miles south of Wellington on Highway 83. The data from this demonstration has been completed by Scott and County Agent Bob Lynch.

This year's most profitable net return came with the application of 75 pounds of liquid 32% nitrogen per acre at a cost of $9.25 per acre, which gave a net return of $10.55 due to the use of the fertilizer.

The yield per acre was 23 bushels, compared to a 12-bushel yield where no fertilizer was used, and a gross return of $41.40 per acre where the fertilizer was used compared to $21.60 where no fertilizer was put down.

Two other tests were run; one using 25 pounds of fertilizer per acre, which gave a yield of 19 bushels per acre, a gross yield of $34.20 per acre and a net return due to fertilizer of $8.85 per acre. The cost of putting down the fertilizer was $3.75 per acre.

Application of 50 pounds of fertilizer per acre brought a 20 bushel yield, but with a slightly lower net return, $7.90. This came about because the cost of application was $6.50 per acre, with a gross return of $36.00 per acre.

Those in charge of the demonstration feel that the increased net return by the use of 50 and 75 pounds of nitrogen, over the use of 25 pounds is not substantial, but on the other hand, it is probably due to the late date of application, March 8.

"On last year's demonstration, the fertilizer was put down before planting and 30 pounds of nitrogen nearly doubled the yield and 60 pounds of nitrogen nearly tripled the yield over that obtained in the check plot where no fertilizer was put down," Scott pointed out.

"Due to this information, to get the highest profit from the use of fertilizer on wheat, it should be put down in the fall, before planting," he continued. Scott figured the costs involved as being wheat at $1.80 per bushel, nitrogen costing 11 cents per pound and $1.00 per acre for the application.

Methodist Honors City School Faculty

Approximately 250 attended the faculty dinner held in the basement of First Methodist Church Tuesday evening, September 12. This is an annual affair sponsored by the Women's Society of Christian Service, to help the church members and the school faculty get acquainted.

The Rev. Davis Edens gave the invocation. Mack Saied Jr. chairman of the board, gave the welcome address and introduced Superintendent J. L. Harper, who presented the principals of the school and they introduced each teacher and their families.

No program was planned as this was a get-acquainted dinner and the evening was spent visiting.

The autumn theme was carried out in room decorations and fall leaves decorated the tables along with arrangements of gold and red maize. Thirty-seven of the forty teachers and their families were present.

Cortez Barnett New Manager of Dozier Gin

The appointment of Cortez Barnett, prominent Lone Mound farmer, as manager of the Dozier Gin was announced this week.

At the same time, it was announced that the gin is now owned by the Chickasha Cotton Oil Company, which bought it several months ago from Paymaster.

It will be operated as the Dozier Gin. Barnett, with a lifetime of cotton growing experience behind him, is widely known in that section of the county and his business ability is recognized. He is a former county commissioner.

The new manager said that the entire gin plant has been gone over and it is in first class condition, set up especially for cotton grown in the northern part of the county. "It is a pleasure to serve my friends and the public again, and I extend a cordial invitation for you to visit us," Barnett said.

Falls Main Cause of Home Deaths

Falls are the main cause of accidental deaths in the home.

Fatal home falls in a recent typical year totaled 13,400, according to Billy Joe Thogmorton, Lone Star Gas Company manager. Lone Star, The Wellington Leader and the 1924 Study Club are co-sponsors of the 1961 Home Safety Program in Wellington.

"The 13,400 fatal home fall," Thogmorton said today, "represented 47.9% of all home accidents."

"From year to year," Thogmorton said, "only motor vehicle accidents outrank falls as an accidental killer, and approximately 64.5% of all falls occur in the home."

The greatest number of fatal falls occur in the bedroom. Falls on the stairs and in the yard and kitchen follow in that order. Fatal falls in fewer numbers occur in the living room, bathroom, dining room, hall, basement, garage and on the porch.

Approximately 86% of the victims of fatal falls are more than 65 years old. Eight percent are in the 45-64 age group. The remaining 6% are spread through the 0-44 group.

A majority of fatal falls occur on a level surface. However, they also occur while the victims are standing still, ascending or descending stairs, working, sitting, playing, eating, drinking, climbing and reclining. Some occur while the victims are sleeping!

"Particular attention," said Thogmorton, "must be given to the problems of protecting the older people. Lighting, particularly on stairs, must be adequate. Do not leave loose objects in the middle of the floor. This particularly endangers an older person. His sight may not be able to detect the objects. If he trips, he is less likely than a young person to recover his balance."

"Keep an orderly home. Arrange furniture so that it does not prevent free passage around the room. Do not let beds, vanity benches and other furnishings in the bedroom jut into the middle of the room. Keep doors closed. Close dresser drawers when not in use. Do not leave shoes in the middle of the floor."

"When a person gets out of bed in the middle of the night and tries to make his way to the bathroom or kitchen in the dark, he is more than likely to fall over any improperly placed object. This danger can be eliminated by keeping the house in order and by having a light located within reach of the bed and at the entrance to all of the principal rooms," Thogmorton concluded.

Water

was located by the Department of the Interior on Elm Creek a number of years ago.

Cortez Barnett, member of the board from the north part of the county, said that the people of Wheeler county are keenly interested in any dam Collingsworth county may build, and he feels they can be counted on to cooperate.

John Coleman, chairman of the water board, presided. Others attending were Louis Patterson, Barnett and George Roberts, board members; Drake and Squires; Spillman and Judge Luther Gribble.

Mrs. John Jackson and Mrs. W. I. Jackson have returned home after a few days visit in the home of their daughter and granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don Wheeler and children of Sweetwater. They also visited with David Jackson at San Angelo and spent some time in Abilene.
