Coyotes Face Season's Toughest Test In Game With Quanah Indians Today

3,000 CROWD AUDITORIUM AT BIG RALLY

Band and Pep Squad to Lead Student Parade at 10:30 This Morning

THRILLS PROMISED

Coyotes Hope to Stop Drive Of Speedy Indian Backs, Says Holton

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

After a week of tension, the big day at last has arrived. In case you don't already know, the blare of bands and the thumping of feet in a student parade at 10:30 this morning will announce that the Wichita Falls Coyotes will play the Quanah Indians at Athletic park this afternoon starting at 3 o'clock.

Also, in case you don't already know, today's game will offer the Pack its first opportunity to hit the gridiron before the eyes of the domestic constituency. Further, it will bring to Wichita Falls a streng Quanah team that is heavily favored to stalk off with the title in district No. 2. A Quanah victory would be in accordance with the predictions of our best minds. A Coyote victory would make the Hamilton building turn a flip. Since our best minds often wallow in error and Hamilton buildings are not especially noted for gymnastics, it is not a certainty who will win. If the winner were already established there wouldn't be any need of playing the game. How's that for logic? Whoops!

Coyotes in Form

When the street corner prognosticators were standing on dry soil or dry pavements, it was the talk that the boys were taking Quanah and giving the Pack 40 points. The recent rains shaved the latter number considerably, so we hear; but at any rate Quanah will enter the game favored to win. The Coyotes will go into the fray knowing they are underdogs, but with the conviction that a real fighting team has a chance, no matter what the opposition.

Yesterday afternoon the Coyotes went through the final conditioner on the practice field under the watchful eyes of Coaches Holton, Lindsey and Morris. The original plan to have the team work out at Athletic park in order to get used to the field was abandoned, and

Blind Woman and Voluntary Escort Receive Surprise

BERKELEY, Calif., Oct. 23. (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Wilson, blind since birth, was standing at one of the busiest corners here, waiting for some one to help her across.

A man stepped up and asked: "May I go across with you?"

"I'd be very glad if you would," replied Mrs. Wilson.

On the other side of the street the man thanked Mrs. Wilson and she was surprised.

"Why, I want to thank you," she said.

"You know," the man continued, "when one has been blind as many years as I have it is a mighty big favor to have someone help him across the street."

TRUNK MURDERESS GIVES UP

'Worst Is Over,' Say Steel Men

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Belief in slow-but sure revival of business throughout the United States was the keynote sounded today at the annual fall meeting of the American Iron and Steel institute.

While leaders of the industry, headed by Charles M. Schwab, president of the institute, did not attempt to gloss over or evade the fact that the country has been in the throes of a "real depression," they were generally of the opinion that the worst had been seen and that there were now indications of a betterment all along the line.

Although Mr. Schwab was somewhat more restrained than usual in his characteristic optimism, he recalled that during his career he had seen a number of serious depressions weathered with the result that the country always emerged more prosperous than before.

"And," he added, "History will repeat itself."

"Fear has been lessened," he said in expressing his belief that better times were ahead. "There will be no collapse. The sources of credit have been mobilized and we shall pull through.

"I believe in the continued growth of our country, the essential strength of the steel industry and the ability of our nation to master the problems of a complicated age."

HOOVER-LAVAL PACT DOUBTFUL

Security Treaty Barred by President

By WILLIAM P. FLYTHE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (US)—President Hoover and Premier Laval of France, flanked by their advisors, opened their momentous international conference at the White House tonight after a day of preliminaries marked by a blast from Senator William E. Borah of Idaho against any security pact and any extension of the moratorium.

There was an atmosphere of grave doubt that agreement can be reached on any of the important points at issue

Borah's frank exposition of his viewpoint on international problems came at a remarkable conference held in the foreign relations committee room at the capitol. Before him were the correspondents of the French newspapers who came over with Laval and the Washington correspondents, a gathering of some 50 newspaper men.

A security pact, or an alliance with the United States to side with France in case of attack, appeared to be the obstacle on which no accord can be reached. In turn this may prevent an understanding on armaments, war debts, and moratorium extension.

It was officially stated, before the president and the premier went into the meeting, that public expectation is too high and that it will be physically impossible to arrive at any definite agreements at this time. The most that can be hoped for, it was declared, is a better understanding between the nations.

The meeting in the White House is of major importance. All of the widely divergent views of the two governments will be explored with the United States adamant on at least one point—flat rejection of the French proposal for a security pact.

Lindberghs Land At Newark Airport

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 23. (AP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh returning home from the Orient, landed here at 9:24 o'clock tonight after a day's flight from Rock Springs, Wyo., broken by several intermediate stops.

The Lindberghs were met at the airport by two cars from the household of the late Senator Dwight W. Morrow, father of Mrs. Lindbergh, whose death early this month caused the flying couple to cancel the remainder of their trip.

Baggage was deposited in one car and the Lindberghs entered the other. A flat tire halted the car bearing the Lindberghs at the outskirts of the airport and they transferred to the second machine and continued to the Morrow estate at Englewood, N. J.

Driver Hurt as Bomb Explodes in Automobile

HURLEY, Wis., Oct. 23. (AP)—Joe Modjesky, 35, of Montreal, Iron county, was injured seriously last night when a bomb attached to the starter mechanism of his automobile exploded.

Modjesky's right leg was so badly mangled amputation was necessary. The left hand of his son, Lawrence, 5, was blown off.

The blast had the characteristics of a dynamite explosion, police said. One suspect was arrested.

JAPAN HOLDS OUT AGAINST PEACE TERMS

Nation Still Refuses to Withdraw From Manchuria

LEAGUE TRIES AGAIN

Geneva Has Hint That Tokyo Agrees on Principle

(By The Associated Press)

The League of Nations tried again yesterday—and failed again—to effect a peaceful settlement of the Sino-Japanese conflict in Manchuria. Another effort will be made today.

Japan's spokesman at Geneva reiterated his government's refusal to withdraw its troops by Nov. 16. China's spokesman acceded to the league council's peace plan with reservations.

Although in Geneva the situation was described as a deadlock, Tokyo dispatches said Japan had agreed in principle to the league's peace plan.

JAPAN CONCEDES WITH CONDITIONS

TOKYO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Japan agreed today in principle with the League of Nations plan for evacuation by Japan of occupied non-treaty zones in Manchuria.

High officials announced this important concession was conditioned upon Chinese recognition of Japan's treaty commitments in Manchuria and agreement to give guarantees for protection of Japanese lives and property.

They made clear, however, that while withdrawals might be commenced within the three-week limit proposed by Aristide Briand, acting chairman of the council of the League of Nations, Japan cannot promise definitely that all troops will be out of the non-treaty zones by Nov. 16.

Evacuation First

The league resolution called for evacuation first and Sino-Japanese negotiations afterward. The southern third of Manchuria has been under virtual Japanese military rule since Sept. 18, when a clash between railway guards and Chinese soldiers near Mukden resulted in Japanese occupation for the declared purpose of protecting Japanese lives and property.

Officials said Japan had opposed any suggestion of evacuation before negotiations for settlement and indicated they would not surrender this policy.

Tokyo Hopeful

Tokyo's hopes that direct negotiations with the Chinese, favored by Japan from the beginning, are possible within the near future are based chiefly upon M. Briand's optimism Wednesday after he discussed with the Chinese representatives the fundamental principles for settlement as laid down by Japan. The view here was the Chinese apparently had made some concessions during the conversations.

The extent of the coming withdrawal from Manchuria, officials said, would depend entirely upon China's willingness and ability to maintain order after the Japanese soldiers returned to their regular stations.

Dry Agent Convicted Of Bribery

HOUSTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Former Federal Prohibition Agent George H. Wilkins was convicted in federal court late today of bribery. Judge T. M. Kennerly said he would pass sentence Monday.

The jury deliberated only 15 minutes in reaching a verdict on three counts submitted by the court. The alleged graft taking occurred while Wilkins was an agent here in 1926.

The case was described as "the most important case I've heard since I've been on the bench," by the judge in his charge to the jury.

Judge Kennerly instructed the jury to find Wilkins not guilty on two counts. Persons named in those counts as having been solicited for bribes by Wilkins, or having given the former agent bribes, are dead, and no evidence to support the accusations in these counts was introduced.

The highlights of the day's session was provided by the testimony of the defendant. He answered "frame-up," in effect to witnesses who had testified he canvassed them for graft.

TEXAS WINS LAND DISPUTE

Arkansas Concedes State's Right to District

AUSTIN, Oct. 23. (UP)—Atty. Gen. James V. Allred anounced tonight that no suit will be filed to establish Texas' title to a strip along Red river, a mile and a half wide and three miles long, now occupied by state rangers and game wardens. His announcement was made following report from Little Rock that Atty. Gen. Hal Norwood of Arkansas had conceded Texas' claim to the territory which is a duck hunting and fishing paradise.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 23. (AP)—Texas may need more territory, but Arkansas is big enough, Atty. Gen. Hal L. Norwood said today as he smiled indifferently at the entrance of Texas rangers and game wardens into land involved in a border dispute near Texarkana

"The prize,"—a 4,600-acre strip along the Red river that is good for nothing but hunting and fishing—isn't worth a lawsuit, Norwood said.

"We might submit the question to the League of Nations as to whether those who hunt ducks on the lake should pay the license to Arkansas or Texas as this is about all that is involved that amounts to anything," he added.

R. G. Waters, assistant attorney general of Texas, replied that his state was perfectly willing to accept the suggestion and he was "certain Texas can prove its claim to that previous piece of Lone Star soil, even to the satisfaction of league members."

Meanwhile the two Texas rangers and five game wardens, who moved into the contested territory yesterday, continued their work of erecting "no tresspassing" signs to warn Arkansas game wardens to stay out.

Commander of D. A. V. To Attend Meet Here

Lawrence R. Melton, state commander of the D. A. V. of Texas, will be in Wichita Falls Saturday, and will confer Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock in the American Legion room at the Memorial auditorium with disabled veterans of the world war.

The local chapter of the Disabled American Veterans was organized only a few months ago, and Saturday night's meeting will be the first assembly of its membership for the inauguration of active relief work, according to Fred Cone, who announced Mr. Melton's coming.

Not only members of the organization, but all disabled veterans of the war, are invited to attend Saturday night's meeting, Mr. Cone said.

China Studies Plan For Industrialization

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—A 10-year industrialization plan, calling for the expenditure of $11,000,000,000 for machinery construction alone, is being considered by the Chinese government.

A report to the commerce department today said the plan called for the use of government and private credit instead of government ownership as in the case of Russia in her five-year plan.

W. RUTH JUDD TELLS OF ROW IN APARTMENT

Hunted Woman Has Injury to Bear Out Story Of Attack

HUNGRY FOUR DAYS

Killer Calls Husband on Phone to Lay Plans For Surrender

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 23. (US)—Winnie Ruth Judd's story of self-defense was struck a crushing blow here tonight when police records disclosed that on the Saturday and Sunday following the double murder on Friday night six persons saw the accused woman with her left hand bandaged, two physicians saw her with her right hand bandaged and her employer saw her with neither hand bandaged.

By MARJORIE DRISCOLL

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23. (US)—Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, arrested tonight within a few blocks of police headquarters with a bullet in her hand and on the verge of collapse, confessed, according to one of her attorneys, that she killed Hedvig Samuelson and Agnes A. Leroi.

She killed the women in self-defense, the 25-year-old girl told L. P. Russill and her husband, Dr. William Judd, after Miss Samuelson had shot her in the hand during a quarrel and Mrs. Leroi had struck her over the head with an ironing board.

Mrs. Judd had been hiding in Los Angeles without food except for one scanty meal, for four days before she read her husband's plea to her to surrender and his assurance that she would be given legal protection.

Arrested in Morgue

Her arrest by Inspector David Davidson, Chief of Detectives Joe Taylor and Detectives Frank Ryan and Filkas came as a dramatic climax to several hours of frenzied excitement, and weirdly in keeping with the gruesome details of the crime, took place at a funeral parlor.

According to Ruisil, who with Dr. Judd, talked briefly with her before the arrest was made, she freely admitted the double slaying, saying that she acted in self-defense. They did not question her about the dismemberment of Miss Samuelson's body, the shipping of the bodies to Los Angeles or an accomplice in her admission of the two killings.

Mrs. Judd was arrested in a room over the Alvarez & Moore Funeral pariors, where she had been taken by Gus Alvarez, who, at the request of Attorney Richard Cantillon, had met her in the lobby of the Biltmore theater.

Phones Husband

Several attempts to find her, after her telephone message to her husband earlier in the afternoon, had failed. At last, Cantillon, retained with Russil by Dr. Judd, received word that she would be in the theater lobby and sent Alvarez, a personal friend, to meet her. Alvarez took her to the funeral pariors and placed her in the upstairs room while her husband was sent for.

To her husband and Russill, Mrs. Judd told her story while the blood-

Burk Man Succumbs From Minor Wound

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Oct. 23.—Joseph Weldon (Joe) Dane, 37, well-known resident of Burkburnett died here at 10 o'clock Friday night of blood poisoning resulting from a wound inflicted three weeks ago when he stuck an ice pick in his hand.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the First Baptist church. The Rev. Miles B. Hayes, the pastor, will officiate. The American Legion post, of which he was a member, will be in charge of the services. Arrangements are by the Thomas Funeral home.

Dane was an employe of an ice delivery company. During his residence of more than 12 years here he became widely known and made many friends.

Survivors include his wife, a daughter, and a brother, Charlie Dane, all of Burkburnett.

Suspect Arrested in Fruitdale Death Case

QUITMAN, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Bryant Terry was arrested here today for the alleged murder of Lonnie Clark of Dallas, the night of July 29. He was indicted last week on the charge.

Clark's body was found near the railroad track at Fruitdale. He had apparently been beaten to death. Officers found a bloody iron bar near the body and blood spots led to the belief that he had been slain in a box car.

The defendant has been residing at Mesquite and was regarded as a friend of Clark, an oil field worker.

Killer Comes Out of Hiding

67 Taxpayers Turn in $5,308 to Raise School Fund to $41,868

Wichitans Responding to Appeal for Early Payments; Total May Reach $50,000 Saturday

School taxes for 1931 in amount of $5,308.78 were paid to City Tax Collector W. R. Hyer Friday by 67 taxpayers of Wichita Falls, bringing the total collected to $41,868.78, according to the report given at 5 p. m. Friday.

Friday's school tax receipts practically trebled the amount of Thursday's collection, and the number of taxpayers participating in the day's business increased almost threefold.

It was predicted that Saturday's receipts will bring the total 1931 school tax collections to the halfway mark, $50,000, toward the $100,000 declared by the school board to be necessary to avoid a closing of the schools this month.

Those who paid their 1931 school taxes Friday for places on Wichita Falls' mythical "honor roll" were Dr. W. B. Adams, J. P. Jackson, F. M. Hull, E. W. Squires, Mrs. W. A. Goolsbee, George E. Davis,

TEACHERS TO DRAW TWO WEEKS SALARY

Because of the quick response of Wichita Falls taxpayers to appeals by the school board, teachers in the city school system Saturday will draw two weeks pay, past due since Oct. 10, the board announced Friday.

"The response of both business firms and individuals to the board's appeal for payment of 1931 taxes so far has been most gratifying, and a fine tribute to the city's school teachers," the board declared. "If the present rate of payment can be continued, the citizens of Wichita Falls will do much to solve the school system's financial problems and to assure payment of teachers for their services."

The board recently announced that it was without funds to meet its obligations, and had no choice but to close the schools unless a considerable portion of the 1931 taxes was paid immediately.

Air-Honeymooners Land At Field in Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (UP)—The second lap of an air honeymoon from Mexico City to New York for Dr. J. J. Eller and his bride, the daughter of P. Elias Calles, former president of Mexico, ended here at 5:30 p. m. today.

Dr. Eller and his bride, who were married in Mexico City Tuesday, arrived from San Antonio in a special American Airways plane. They took the special plane when it was learned the regularly scheduled one would not arrive here in time for a dinner engagement they had with Dr. Everett C. Fox of Dallas, friend of Dr. Eller.

FARMERS TO STORE STAPLE AS COLLATERAL

Agriculture Department Acts to Strengthen Price of '31 Crop

PLANTERS TO BENEFIT

General Advance in Market Predicted as Result Of Program

To encourage storage of cotton for an improvement in price, the United States department of agriculture will accept cotton as collateral for government seed loans at an average value of 8 cents a pound, according to an Associated Press dispatch to The Record News Friday night.

The announcement, made by Acting Secretary Dunlap, was enthusiastically received by Wichita Falls bankers who pointed out the action not only will be a great benefit to farmers who received seed loans last year, but result in further strengthening of the market. The price of cotton has climbed sharply since southern bankers launched their program of holding a large part of this year's crop. Spot markets in Wichita Falls and in towns in this section have seen almost daily boosts in price for the last week.

Receipts as Collateral

Under the government's program, according to the Associated Press, planters who have received loans and who store their cotton will be required to deliver warehouse receipts on sufficient cotton to provide collateral at 8 cents a pound middling, ⅞-inch, rather than on the quantity required at current prices.

Besides encouraging the holding of cotton, the department made this offer to release part of the crop mortgaged to the government for the purchase of necessities, payment of taxes and interest charges and other debts. Cotton shorter than ⅞-inch in length will have a valuation of 7½ cents a pound on middling 13-16 inch.

The farmer who is indebted to the government for loans will have a double advantage in the new policy of the agriculture department. He will be able to cover his loan with cotton at a price considerably above the present market, and at the same time, through not being forced to sell, will be in position to benefit from any future advance in price.

Reports received by The Record News indicated bankers and business men all over this area believe great benefit will result from the policy. Oral Jones, vice president and cashier of the City National bank and key banker for the Wichita area, exclaimed:

"Great stuff! The plan will alleviate what otherwise was becom-

Methodist Leader Says No War Can Be Just

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 23. (AP)—Governments which refuse to submit their international difficulties to arbitration should not be supported by the church, Rev. E. C. Urwin, of the United Methodist Church of Great Britain, told the Methodist ecumenical conference here today.

"There is no such thing as a just war," Mr. Urwin said. "All wars are unjust, and unless the church adopts the attitude of refusing to support its government in the event it refuses to arbitrate, war will never be swept off the earth."

Rites for Veteran Oil Leader Set for Today

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23. (UP)—Funeral services will be held here tomorrow for William H. Gray, 54, former assistant attorney general to whom is given credit for ousting the old Standard Oil company from Texas nearly two decades ago.

Gray, a native Texan born at Overton where oil wells now dot the town's back yards, died at Tulsa yesterday of pneumonia. He was a veteran attorney and oil man and one of the first to advocate a tariff on imports of oil and oil products.

AFFRAY MARKS CONTEMPT QUIZ

Truck Driver Fined After Court Encounter

GROESBECK, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Floyd Bell, Mexia truck driver, was fined $100 in county court here today on a charge of affray in connection with a fistic encounter on the streets with Sheriff V. C. Box and County Attorney T. L. Tyson. Bell was under an appeal bond of $500.

The fight took place when Box and Tyson came here today to appear before Judge M. S. Kirby of the 77th district on a citation of contempt in connection with his injunction restraining them from interference with the operation of truck drivers in Robertson county.

Tyson sustained a badly bruised eye while Box's nose was severely injured.

Box and Tyson were placed on probation by Judge Kirby when they agreed to obey the court injunction. Counsel for the men an-

COTTON VALUED AT 8 CENTS

Government to Aid Holding Movement

ing a serious condition. We are levelling off on the home stretch toward immensely better times. I feel the benefit will be quickly felt in this section."

W. M. McGregor, president of the First National bank, said: "It is a wise move which will unquestionably greatly benefit cotton districts. The good results will be felt here, although this county produces comparatively little cotton. I am strongly in favor of the plan."

Similar views were expressed by Lester Jones, vice president and cashier of the Wichita State bank, who declared the plan was a step in the right direction.

"It means direct and quick aid to the cotton market, and should be universally beneficial," he said.

OFFICIAL PREDICTS ADVANCE IN PRICE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—The government today placed an average value of eight cents a pound on cotton accepted as collateral for crop loans to provide southern farmers with additional money.

This action was taken by the agriculture department to encourage holding the new harvest from already glutted markets and to release part of the crop mortgaged to the government for purchase of necessities and payment of taxes and other debts.

Better Market

Millions of dollars were loaned in the South last spring to assist the farmer in replanting his fields after the 1930 drouth. Heretofore the department has accepted cotton as security at current prices which now range between 6 and 5 cents. It has warehouse receipts on about 10,000 bales.

A general market price increase as a result of this arrangement is expected by George L. Hoffman, chief of the farmers seed loan office. He said he believed few farmers who have federal loans would dispose of their cotton under the new plan.

The South is harvesting the second largest cotton crop in history. Besides the cotton which may be stored as a result of the department's plan, the farm board and southern bankers recently agreed to finance the holding of 7,000,000 bales.

Cotton of middling seven-eighths grade and staple will be accepted at 8 cents a pound. In areas where much of the crop normally is shorter than seven-eighths inch the basis will be 7⅛ cents on middling 13-16 inch. Premiums, however, will be given on longer staple or better grades.

Farmer Gets Surplus

Borrowers who store their cotton will be required to deliver warehouse receipts on sufficient cotton to provide collateral for their loans. The department reserved the right, however, to withdraw the offer at any time or to establish a different basis because of changed conditions.

When the cotton is finally sold the borrower will be credited with the proceeds of the sale. In the event the proceeds are not sufficient to pay the full amount of the loan the remainder will remain as an obligation of the borrower. If, however, there is a surplus above the loan and interest, it will be paid to the farmer or to other creditors.

LUBBOCK BANKERS COMMEND PLAN

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—The department of agriculture was commended tonight by Lubbock bankers for its move in increasing the price allowed on cotton placed as collateral on production loans to farmers.

F. R. Friend, vice president of the First National bank, said: "It will have a stimulating effect on the cotton holding movement in this section. Farmers, who did not borrow from the government, as well as those who did, will be benefitted. With the government setting the pace in holding cotton for higher prices, the farmers naturally will be encouraged to do so."

Sam C. Arnett, president of the Citizens National bank, commented: "Although most of the farmers in this section who obtained seed loans from the government have liquidated their indebtedness, the attitude of the department of agriculture will have a decided moral effect on the cotton farmers. If the government believes the price will advance to eight cents, farmers also will believe better times are coming."

L. C. Ellis, active vice president of the Lubbock National bank, said: "The government's new plan will aid a large number of farmers in Lubbock county who borrowed funds last winter. The new acceptance price, combined with the plan of southern banks to hold 7,000,000 bales of cotton off the market should result in a material increase in the cotton price."

Wash clothes in water softened with Mel'o—save ⅓ to ½ the usual amount of soap

CLOTHES washed in hard water are hard to get clean. The hardness in the water combines with the soap and makes scum. The scum collects dirt. It gets into the fabric of the clothes. No amount of rinsing can get it all out.

But soften hard water with Mel'o and there isn't any scum. The water makes wonderful suds. Mel'o saves from ⅓ to ½ the amount of soap ordinarily used. With or without soap, water softened with Mel'o is a wonderful cleaner. Get it at your grocer's.

She said that she had gone to the Samuelson-Leroi bungalow in Phoenix, Ariz., on Friday night, and that while the three women were talking a quarrel started. Mrs. Judd said that she threatened to "tell everything" about Mrs. Leroi and that Miss Samuelson became angry.

Miss Samuelson went into the kitchen, and, Mrs. Judd said, as she glanced back over her shoulder, she saw Miss Samuelson coming with a gun in her hand.

Bullet Hits Hand

She ran to the girl and grappled with her as Miss Samuelson fired, she said. The bullet lodged in Mrs. Judd's left hand between her index and middle finger and fractured the bone of the index finger.

The two women fought and Mrs. Judd said she was knocked down. The gun fell from Miss Samuelson's grasp and Mrs. Judd snatched it and shot the other girl in the head.

As she struggled to her feet, she said, Mrs. Leroi came running up with an ironing board in her hands and struck her over the head with the heavy plank. Mrs. Judd said that she shot Mrs. Leroi in sef-defense.

Before Mrs. Judd had completed her story, her brother, Burton McKinnell, arrived at the funeral parlors. Rushing up the stairs, he was admitted to the room where she lay on a bed, whispering her statement.

Warrants Served

As the door was opened and McKinnell entered, the four police officers followed him in, pushing Alvarez to one side when he tried to protest. They immediately placed Mrs. Judd under arrest on the murder warrants sent from Arizona.

Mrs. Judd did not explain, in her first story, where she had been hiding in Los Angeles, but said only that she was "terribly tired" and that she had had only one meal in four days.

After her arrest, the rest of her story was postponed while she was taken to the emergency hospital.

She was able to walk from the room, supported by her husband and Rusill, but was apparently on the verge of collapse, constantly placing her clenched hand to her mouth.

Shrinks From Crowd

With her husband and the attorney on either side, she walked down the stairs, and shrank back in dismay when she saw the crowd outside and the battery of cameras. She hurriedly pulled the fur collar of her green coat over her head and tried to hide her face. For several minutes, her husband talked soothingly to her, persuading her to uncover her face so that the crowding photographers might take their pictures, and she finally agreed.

As she stood on the step, while flashlights blazed, she turned to her husband and whispered:

"Doctor, I'm so tired."

At the hospital, Mrs. Judd again protested against the crowd. She objected to taking gas while her wounded hand was operated on, saying that she feared it might be dangerous in her tubercular condition, but Police Surgeon J. E. Kirkpatrick reassured her and the operation was started. The hand was badly swollen, with some infection.

The bullet wound in Mrs. Judd's left hand extended from the tip of her second finger to her wrist, the bullet itself remaining inside the hand.

Woman to Recover

Dr. J. E. Kirkpatrick, who removed the bullet, declared Mrs. Judd would recover from the effects of the wound. The bullet was turned over to Spencer Moxley, police ballistics expert, for comparison with the bullets which had killed Mrs. Leroi and Miss Samuelson, to determine if all were fired from the same pistol.

Detective Chief Joe Taylor said Mrs. Judd denied she had an accomplice and maintained she alone dissected the body of Miss Samuelson and packed the two bodies in two trunks and a suitcase. There was some skepticism expressed over the possibility of a small woman handling the heavy bodies with one hand, as Mrs. Judd's left hand would have been rendered useless by the bullet wound.

Body Bruised

Dr. Kirkpatrick declared there were contusions over much of the woman's body.

Mrs. Judd's nervousness bordered on hysteria. When a photographer dropped a flashlight bulb, she nearly jumped off the operating table.

Dr. Kirkpatrick declared he did not believe Mrs. Judd was a user of narcotics. He observed her while she was under the influence of gas and said her reactions were normal.

When physicians had completed treating her hand, she was placed under guard in the hospital, pending the time when she would recover from the effects of the gas.

All through the town the word went 'Round.. "BEANS TONIGHT"

The whole town turned out when Uncle William served his famous Brown Beauty Beans. Here was something different—brown, plump, mountain-upland beans—like no other beans in the land—cooked to mellow tenderness and steaming in Uncle William's secret, savory sauce.

No wonder they found their way into cans—these rich, meaty, appetite-delighting beans. Telephone your grocer now for a can. And ask for the folder of recipes that goes with them.

nounced they planned an appeal to the 10th court of civil appeals to settle the power of a district judge to dissolve the injunction of another judge. It was indicated a friendly suit may be filed to obtain a decision.

Judge W. C. Davis who dissolved Judge Kirby's injunction and was cited also for contempt did not appear in court. Counsel for Davis pleaded he had no intention to disobey. Kirby's injunction forbid officers from interfering with 20 truck operators hauling cotton to Houston without permits of the state railroad commission.

As the result of the agreement reached today trucks may operate until some higher courts interfere or until the permits are granted or denied by the state commission. Judge Davis, County Attorney Tyson and Sheriff Box were given until Wednesday at 10 a. m. on their probation period. Judge Kirby then plans a hearing to determine disposition of the contempt proceedings.

BIG CATFISH

Wichitans Land 37-Pounder on Trot Line Near Barnett's

A catfish weighing 37 pounds, one of the largest taken at Lake Wichita in several months, was landed Thursday by R. H. Calhoun and Ted Cox. The fish was weighed in on scales at the Times Publishing company.

The giant catfish was caught on a trot line near Barnett's pier. The same line yielded a 17-pound cat Friday, the fishermen stated.

Borah Says Versailles Treaty Must Be Altered

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee told French newspaper correspondents today that revision of the Versailles treaty is imperative.

"It is becoming perfectly clear," warned the senator, "that the Versailles treaty will be revised either by peace or by force."

Borah told them that if the allies would cancel the war reparations payments from Germany, he would favor cancellation by America of the war debts owed by the allies.

Vernon Man Burned In Machine Blast

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Ted Herald was seriously burned about the knees, hands and face, and will probably lose the sight of both eyes as a result of the explosion of an oil-reclaimer in the Terhune-Orr Implement company building here about 4 o'clock Friday afternoon.

The injured man was kneeling before the machine, attending its operation, when the explosion occurred. He was rushed immediately to a local hospital, and was resting easily later in the evening. Physicians declared, however, that the sight of both eyes probably has been destroyed.

Herald is the son of L. L. Herald railway agent at Harrold. His mother lives in Wichita Falls.

Convict Kills Self As Pursuers Near

TRENTON, N. J., Oct. 23. (AP)—Spotted by an airplane and surrounded by pursuers, one of four convicts who wounded a guard in escaping from the state prison, shot and killed himself today in a wooded section near Langhorne, Pa. Authorities identified him as Jack Weirman, 24, serving a 15-year term for attempted robbery.

Negro Shot in Attempt To Escape Policemen

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—V. O. Connor, 22, negro, was shot twice in the hand today by C. E. Stephenson, city policeman, when he tried to escape after cutting the leg of a 10-year-old negro girl with a knife. The officer captured him.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas brought into production 483 new gas wells during 1930, ranking second to Ohio, which drilled 663 producers, but whose total production is considerably less than one of the Texas fields.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

With almost a record crop, even five-cent cotton is turning loose millions of dollars in Texas. It is generally agreed that the 1931 crop has been made of necessity on fewer dollars than in many years with the results that even at the price the staple is making available for debt payment a lot of money . . . There are 496,489 farms in Texas, more than in any other state in the union, represeintg a value (land, buildings, implements, etc.) of $3,779,593,705 with 30,634,370 acres under cultivation and 86,942,437 acres in pastures. Present conditions are materially adding the back-to-the-farm movement as urbanites, formerly from the farm, see the farmers able to live at home and to make some economical progress in spite of low prices for their commodities . . . A Dimmitt high school boy using his spare time with " a cow, a sow and 45 hens" made more profit than if he had devoted all of his time to a hundred acres of wheat. Profit from his pigs was $95.18; from his chickens $78.33, and from a heifer calf raised and its milk sold $47—total $221.21 . . . The Rio Grande valley has started shipment of citrus fruits, with an estimated total for the season of at least 7,000 cars—some estimates run as high as 10,000, which would be nearly thrice the total of 1930 . . . Hansford county farmers are developing plans for pump irrigation with shallow wells from 30 to 60 feet deep developing a bountiful supply of water. About 100 acres are in the experiment, in the valley of Palo Duro creek . . . County exhibits at the State Fair, Dallas, demonstrate the progress diversification has made in scores of Texas counties as well as the great variety of products of which Texas soil is capable. Eastland, which used to be rated as of relatively poor soil alongside some of the counties of the state, carried off first prize in the competition, mainly because of the diversity of its showing.

Texas and Oklahoma Students Win Prizes

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23. (AP)—College students from Texas and Oklahoma won prizes offered by the southwest district of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, in session here today and tomorrow for papers submitted on electrical subjects.

First prize went to Charles E. Houston, Texas Technological college, who wrote of the effects of Texas sandstorms on high power transmission lines. G. Scott Hammonds of the University of Oklahoma won second with a description of a way to measure the intensity of a radio station's field of broadcast.

J. V. Melton of Southern Methodist university won third prize for outlining a method of controling the hot-cathode thyratron, a sensitive vacuum tube.

Record News' Program for Wichita Falls

1. OIL—Place the Wichita Falls district on a parity with other centers in the marketing of both crude oil and refined products.
2. THE VALLEY—Systematic, vigorous development of the irrigated valley in keeping with its possibilities as Wichita Falls' greatest physical asset.
3. WATER—An ample, assured supply of soft water.
4. EDUCATION—Maintenance of a junior college in Wichita Falls to give opportunity for higher education to our youth—the highest standards in elementary schools.
5. THE LAKES—Full development of the recreational opportunities offered by the three lakes.
6. HIGHWAYS—Early consummation of a highway program covering all the main routes radiating from this city and all the local roads that serve its agricultural community.
7. DRAINAGE—Solution of the drainage problem in all three phases; first, in the irrigated valley; second, with regard to Holliday creek; third, in those portions of the city now inadequately drained.
8. GOVERNMENTAL ECONOMY—The adoption of such means as may be found most feasible to reduce the cost of local government by elimination of unnecessary offices and consolidation of others.

Can't Leave Civilization

THAT Florida chap who set out to spend a year on his own in the wilderness—accompanied, so to speak, only by a set of false teeth and a pair of glasses—must be thinking things these days about the encroachments of civilization on the great open spaces.

This man, as you may remember, built a little hut in the wilds and tried to prove that a civilized man could go back to nature and make a go of it. For about a year everything went fine; but at last he landed in jail, because he had dined on pelican eggs from a federally-protected rookery somewhere along the beach.

His exploit may prove that a man can do very well without any of the tools or comforts of modern society. But it also proves that it is almost impossible for the ordinary man to get out of touch with civilization, no matter how hard he may try or how far he may go; and that fact may help to explain a good part of the subconscious discontent with which all of us, now and then, look around on our environment.

For there is in the land a growing feeling that the world is too much with us. Like Wordsworth, people are wondering if the eternal round of getting and spending isn't a little bit more exacting than it need be. The lot of the untutored savage in his primitive hut looks, occasionally, like something rather good.

But there isn't, really, any escape. The Florida man made a very good stab at it, but even the birds' nests that supplied him with food were under the care of Uncle Sam, and to feed himself with his bare hands in a remote solitude he had to break a federal law; and the rest of us may get what comfort we can out of the thought that we knew it all along.

So, it seems, we have to make the best of it where we are. We cannot get away. We, and our children, and our children's children shall have to put up with crowds, and the noise of crowds, and confusion, and the unceasing activity of millions of energetic neighbors; and somehow, from our own resources, we must find those values which other men used to find in solitude, along the lonely trails that led through silent forests to empty beaches along the sea.

Fertile Manchuria

TO COMPREHEND the background of the current trouble in Manchuria, it is necessary first of all to realize that agriculture in the Orient is by no means the depressed and discouraged industry that it is in the United States.

China and Japan suffer from over-population. Their people often go hungry, not because of a business depression but because it is hard to raise enough food for them on the land available. And Manchuria is, potentially, one of the world's garden spots. Its soil and climate are much like those of the American Middle West. It represents a fertile granary for hungry millions.

Recognizing that fact, one can more easily understand why both China and Japan are trying to get possession of the country. China is always hungry; Japan is always looking for room for her surplus millions. Their collision was inevitable—and, by the same token, it will not easily be settled.

Capone Proves Himself a Sap

AL CAPONE may have been the head man of the racketeers for a good many years, but—if the testimony offered in his defense at his Chicago trial is to be believed—he was a rather large-sized sucker, just the same.

Defense witnesses have asserted that Capone lost more than $200,000 in three years betting on the races; and this bit of news ought to puncture, finally and forever, the legend that underworld kings are men of sound intelligence.

With Capone, doubtless, it was a case of easy come, easy go. Nevertheless, a man who persists in playing the ponies the way Capone played them seems to be nothing more or less than a common, everyday sap.

Manchuria and Kellogg Treaty

DURING the next few weeks the people of the world will have a chance to see just how much of a force for peace the Kellogg treaty can be.

It seems rather obvious, on the face of things, that Japan's recent actions in Manchuria directly violate that treaty. Here, if anywhere, we have an international disagreement of the kind the treaty was supposed to cover. It will be interesting to see just what happens.

Of course, if the other signatory nations—including the United States—elect to pass the thing over in silence, or to make only half-hearted protests, the agressive Japanese can hardly be expected to worry much. It would seem to be up to the other powers to indicate emphatically that they expect to see the pact lived up to.

In Case
(From "City Child")

Lean is his cheek and sharp his eye,
And, oh, how sharp it takes my breath;
Each time I see him passing by
I think that it will be my death;
Each time he passes by, I wait,
And smooth my dress and hope he'll mark
My fingers' whiteness on the gate,
Or note my hair's unruffled dark.

Yesterday's day was nearly spent
The while I lingered for his coming.
Oh, right enough, he came, and went,
Nor slowed his step, nor ceased his humming.
If he should pass today, I swear
I'll waste no glance upon his face!

This ribbon braided in my hair?
I only tied it there, in case . . .
—SELMA ROBINSON.

They Would!

Speaking of idea burglars, some one recalled the Rice brothers, well known vaudevillians, who borrowed their jokes for their act from anybody and everybody who had anything funny.

One day they entered a small-time theater in the mid-West and read a huge sign posted near the stage entrance. The sign urged actors not to tell the listed jokes because they were old and had been used there.

The Rice brothers looked over the list and out of it—got a brand new act!

Add Similes

S. Weiss: As one-sided as a painting . . . Courtney Dunkel: Unhappy as a fly in a glass of near-beer.

A Bit of a Critic

It happened as the second act curtain fell on a new flop show the other premiere night. Howard L. Snyder, who paid to go in, was making his exit.

He paused at the box office and grumbled to the treasurer: "What's playing here tomorrow night?"

Merciless Fact

Raymond Moore, the botany professor, who produced the play, "Ladies of Creation," is new to Broadway. He was complaining of a stiff neck.

"From looking at the tall buildings?" some one queried.

"Nope," he noped, "from looking for audiences."

Dear Old Cleveland

"Dear Walter," writes Eddie Vogt, the actor, now on tour, "if any one should ask you what became of the old-fashioned gag about the tramp asking a Chinee laundryman for something to eat—and the Chinee said: 'You likee fish?' and the tramp said: 'Yes,' and the reply was, 'Then come around next Fridee!'—tell him it was in the Cleveland News on Oct. 15."

Gag

From Arthur Kober of Hollywood comes one about the Joosh lady who was berating her husband "fur itting all kimes dellycatessen at tree o'clock in de munning!"

"Dope, what you are!" she yelled. "At such an hour you itt boloney, salami, pastrami! From diss you can catch indigestion!"

"I know dot!" said her betrothed, "but I'm seemply crazy about bicarbonate uff sodah!"

Novelette

About a fortnight ago there appeared in the book stalls a new tome by Edmund S. Whitman called "No Minor Vices." It is a rather heated book of the Caribbean, which slipped by while the censors were dozing.

In it is a character named Barnstable, who is guilty of plenty. The original Barnstable is the superintendent of a great banana plantation in Honduras. Ten days ago he came North and married a sweet girl in Maine. They honeymooned here, where she came across a copy of the book, recognized her hubby as Barnstable. (He had not confessed his sins.)

She took the next train home and started divorce proceedings. The husband now threatens to sue the author for alienation of affections.

Hehehch

When Burns and Allen, now at the Palace, were known as Burns and Lorraine, Lorraine was sensitive about his stuttering. Rather than let any one know he stuttered he wouldn't answer.

After a long lay-off a booking agent phoned Lorraine: "I can give you boys three days in Newark next week, okay!" said the agent.

The excited Lorraine merely nodded yes.

So the agent got another act!

Broadway Banter

Irvin O'Dunn relays this overheard repartee between two hams.

First: "What kind of an act are you doing this year?"

Second: "Comedy act."

First: "I mean what sort of character?"

Second: "Oh, I'm doing a genteel bum."

First: "I catch on. You're working in street clothes."

The Right Answer

The Marx Brothers were offered a week's engagement at the Roxy theater the other day. "I can get you boys $15,000 for the week," said the booking agent.

"But," replied one of the clowns, "the theater is too large—they'll never hear us!"

"In that case," chirped Groucho, "they'll give us $20,000."

Form of Criticism

Overheard: That guy is so small he could play nine holes on a piece of Swiss cheese and still have enough left to smell!"

Origin?

One of the above mentioned Rice boys, it appears, was really a devoted son-in-law. He worshiped his wife's mother. While playing in a southern city he got word that she passed away. He was grief-stricken and urged the manager to let him out of his contract. The manager refused.

That night Rice limped on the stage. He had tears in his eyes as he said to the audience: "My heart is leaden. I feel awful, not funny. My mother-in-law just died."

The robust laughter that interrupted his mournful talk lasted a minute.

They kept the "bit" in their act, so funny did it strike their listeners, thus the "origin" of the mother-in-law joke.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE KINDOM OF HEAVEN—The island of Lundy, three miles long and one mile wide, lying in the Bristol channel, 12 miles off the Devon coast, England, is privately owned, and owes no allegiance to any country, although it is usually represented as part of Devonshire. It first appeared in authentic history about the eleventh century. The island is now referred to as the Kingdom of Lundy, but for 83 years in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, it was owned by a family named Heaven, the last member of which was Rev. Hudson G. Heaven. During these 83 years the island was called facetiously "The Kingdom of Heaven."

LITTLE BETTY JANE LINDLEY—Betty Jane, who lives at 940 Lafayette Park, Chicago, received a Red Cross swimmer's pin and became a registered life saver in a competitive examination held at Delavan Lake, Wis., 1925, when she was but 6 years old. In 1926 she took part in the Chicago Herald-Examiner marathon and swam the entire distance of two miles, being the youngest and smallest of the 285 entrants—many of whom couldn't even finish.

THE BIRD HOUSE GRAVE—The construction of a bird house tomb is not begun until after the death of the Stapan chieftain who is to occupy it. The body is temporarily placed underground and then removed to the bird house tomb, after the artists of the tribe have worked feverishly on its completion for about a year. The Stapans are a little known tribe in a remote part of Borneo.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the Chesterton in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith, Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

CHAPTER XXXVII

"You're different from any other girl I've ever seen," said Tony O'Brien in his charming Irish voice as the canoe, skilfully piloted by himself, slid through the water.

As his voice trailed away, there was no sound to break the silence except the faint splash of the paddle and the cry of wild fowl!

Spot of enchantment! Beauty! Nollie's soul was soaked in the wild loveliness of the nearness of this handsome Tony.

Was it a dream? Would she awake? Had heaven descended on her?

Love! The greatest thing in the world! The one thing that gave life point and meaning!

As the canoe slid through the waters of the lake, her heart sang a song of thanksgiving.

Everything was washed clean today. The grass was greener, pines gave headier scent, the flowers more odor.

Birds sang a sweeter song. And it was all in honor of her.

Because woman's greatest glory—love—was being heaped upon her.

Tony didn't say it in so many words.

But that look in his eyes—that warm and shiny look—the tones of his beguiling voice spoke volumes.

And last night he had whispered to her: "You're the most hauntingly lovely thing I've ever seen."

She'd dreamed those words in her big, airy bedroom over the treetops.

Chosen out of all the world was she. She was a being apart. She was beloved by the most wonderful man on earth—a demi-god.

And god-like Tony looked just now, paddling the canoe with swift, sure strokes.

"I thought I'd never get you away by yourself."

"And you are glad I came?" Her voice was low and sweet, to match this moment.

"Glad? Why, Nollie, that's a weak and foolish word. I feel as though I own the whole earth!"

"You like me just as much as that? It isn't make-believe? You—they say you're such a—a success—with women?"

"Great guns! Who told you that? Was it Mrs. Judson or Rhoda Vane?"

"Neither the one nor the other, you conceited young man!"

"Oh, just my own observation!"

There was an inlet here. With a swift stroke, Tony piloted the canoe into the backwater.

"Oh, isn't it lovely?" breathed Nollie.

The banks were high. Ferns and bright mosses drooped to the water. And flowers of many colors grew in the long lush grass. There was the sweet scent of locust trees, of myrtle and of honeysuckle.

A setting for romance. Out of the whole world, this Elysium!

"Let's tie up in the shade." A sugar maple cast green light above them.

"Now I will come and sit by you." Tony made the canoe fast to an old tree stump.

He flung his long length at Nollie's side. With an attempt at nonchalance he lit a cigaret.

"Have one?"

"No, thanks."

Her heart beat so loudly she was afraid he would hear it.

It was as though the whole world stood still in an enchanted silence . . . waiting for the moment.

What would he say? Would he confess his love for her. And would she tell him what was in her own heart?

Life had never held anything like this before. Life till now held no meaning in it.

Nollie felt her spirit sink to its knees before the call of love . . . the eternal miracle that makes the world a place of sheer enchantment.

"I want you," said Tony, in a deep and vibrant voice, "I swear I want you as I've wanted no other woman."

"You're wonderful," said Nollie Day. "You're wonderful—but you know nothing of me, really. That makes it still more amazing."

"Not amazing in the least. D'you take me for a fool? Don't you know I've been wandering through an arid, parched up desert—oh, for years—thirsty, and longing—longing for some one—"

"Me?"

"You! You, little Nollie Day and no one else. You, the ideal woman!"

"I am not that. You don't know me. I'm just ordinary—humdrum."

"And with eyes like yours! Don't you know that eyes are the windows of the soul, and that I can see—or sometimes I think I can see—clear through yours down to what's at the bottom of them?"

"You mean the real me, don't you, Tony? If I were only worthy! If I were only some one important!"

"I hate important, egotistic women. I love you just as you are. You're my ideal girl, Nollie!"

Her heart rose in her bosom at those words as if it would choke her.

He was so near to her in the canoe. He slipped an arm about her, drew her closer.

And that heavenly dizziness enfolded her.

Love! Oh, this was surely love? This breathless feeling of being torn from the world and soaring into blue heaven?

"Nollie, I love you. Say that you love me?" His young and ardent lips sought hers. He drew her head down.

It was 6 o'clock when Nollie awoke to the passing of the hours, and made Tony head the canoe homewards.

He left the backwater reluctantly. It was hard for both of them to come back to mind and matters.

"Tomorrow at the same time you'll be at the rendezvous? You won't fail me, Nollie?"

She faltered, happily: "Not if you still want me, Tony?"

"Want you? Are you crazy, girl? Don't you understand I'll be simply counting the hours? That I'm in love with you?"

"Honest?"—wistfully.

"Cross my heart, and if it isn't true, may I die the very next minute!"

They moored the craft at the little wooden shed and walked as though they trod on air towards the ranch house.

"Please don't come any farther. I don't want any of them to see us—not just yet," pleaded Nollie.

"But I'll come up tonight? Even if we can't be alone, I'll have the blessed privilege of looking at you, darling," begged Tony.

'Two-Gun' Crowley's Pal Loses Appeal

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23. (AP)—The court of appeals today affirmed the death sentence of Rudolph Duringer, New York pal of Francis (Two Gun) Crowley. Duringer was convicted of the murder of Virginia Joyce Brannen, dance hall hostess. Crowley also is under a death sentence and his appeal is before the court of appeals which reviews all capital cases.

Duringer, 23-year-old burly truck driver, was accused of shooting the Brannen girl last April and tossing her body from an automobile in Yonkers. The state contended he was angered because she intended to marry another man.

The Duringer-Crowley team was introduced a few days later when police sought to arrest the Brannen girl's sweetheart. He was riding with Crowley.

Before Crowley and Duringer were rounded up in a West Ninetieth street lodging house, a Long Island policeman's death was charged to Crowley. The young gunmen were captured after a spectacular siege of an apartment.

Hijacker Gets $25 From Vernon Man

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—J. P. Ferguson, South Main street service station operator Thursday night lost $25 to hijackers as he was preparing to close his place of business for the night. A lone hijacker entered the filling station covering Ferguson with a blue steel automatic, forcing him to open his cash register. The loss included $7 in one-dollar bills and the rest in small change. County officers were working on the case and traced two sets of footprints from the scene.

Steamer Rescues 21 From Helpless Schooner

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23. (UP)—The steamer Admiral Sebree today rescued 21 men from the storm-battered, helpless steam schooner Wilmington of San Francisco off Blunt's reef lightship, 200 miles north of the Golden gate, radio advices received here said.

G. S. Beadle, manager of the Beadle Steamship company, owner of the Wilmington, said Captain Fagerstrom, through the Admiral Sebree, had radioed every one was safe.

The Admiral Sebree was attempting to tow the disabled craft to Eureka, Calif.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Many readers send in questions signed only with initials, asking that the answers appear in the newspaper. The space is limited and would not accommodate a fraction of such requests. The answers published are ones that may interest many readers, rather than the one who asks the question only. All questions should be accompanied by the writer's name and address and two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send your question to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Is the Vanderbilt who owns the yacht, Enterprise, the same one who is a contract expert?—H. F. H.

A.—Harold Vanderbilt owns the Enterprise and is ranked as one of the leading contract players of this country.

Q.—Why is Brazil called the Land of the Holy Cross?—M. C.

A.—Pedro Alvarez Cabral, who is generally credited with the discovery of the country, named it Terra de Santa Cruz, which is translated the Land of the Holy Cross.

Q.—When was the first negro church organized in this country?—N. B.

A.—The first was a Baptist church organized at Silver Bluff across the Savannah river from Augusta, Ga., in 1773.

Q.—How many full generals of the United States army are there at present?—J. B.

A.—Two. They are Gen. John J. Pershing, who was retired with this rank, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff.

Q.—Please give a list of common foods eaten in Belgium and the menu for a Belgian breakfast.—B. L. N.

A.—The Belgian embassy says that coffee and rolls is a typical Belgian breakfast. Potatoes, beets, corn, and rice are among the chief foods of that country. Ducks and geese are used to a large extent. Veal is used much more frequently than beef. Rice, grapes, gelatin, truffles and fish are among other foods used in that country. Vienna bread is very commonly used.

Q.—Who composed the Jewish Kol Nidre?—J. S. R.

A.—The composer is unknown as it is a very ancient traditional Jewish hymn and is sung only at the beginning of the service on the evening before Yom Kippur (day of atonement).

Q.—What was a griffin supposed to be?—C. I. F.

A.—It was a mysterious monster, half lion and half eagle, believed by the Greeks to keep watch over the gold of Scythia.

Q.—What causes haze?—L. R.

A.—It is due to fine dust in the air, extreme heat, smoke, or volcanic eruptions.

Q.—How long should wild ducks be roasted?—M. O. C.

A.—An ideal way to cook ducks is to put them in the roasting pan without stuffing. Pour a little hot water in the pan, put a few slices of onion, salt, and pepper in the water. Place in hot oven. Baste the birds occasionally. Cook from 20 to 25 minutes. Wild rice is often served with wild duck.

Q.—Why is the Tuscarora Deep so called?—S. H. F.

A.—The Tuscarora Deep was so named from the U. S. S. Tuscarora, the vessel under the command of Captain Belknap, which made an expedition to the Pacific for the purpose of studying the ocean bed. The maximum depth was recorded by the Tuscarora in 1874. The name itself is of Indian derivation and literally means hemp gatherers.

Q.—Where is the Grand Coulee in the state of Washington?—J. F. S.

A.—It is a valley lying east of the Columbia river along the boundary of Grant and Douglas counties. The lower end of the valley terminates in an alkali lake. This entire area is known as the Grand Coulee.

Q.—Where did Tetrazzini receive her musical education?—T. A. T.

A.—She was born in Florence in 1874. While a child she learned perfectly several operas from hearing an elder sister, who afterwards was the wife of Campanini, practice thems. She studied at the Liceo musicale in Florence, and after three months made her debut in d'Africane at the age of 21.

Q.—Is Japan lovely in the autumn?—A. G. B.

A.—The dying maple leaves are thought by many to be the most beautiful sight that Japan has to show. Ponting in his book on Dia Nippon says: "They certainly share the honours of autumn with the imperial flower, and are so beloved as to hold full floral rank.

Q.—What is the average expense of individual funeral and burial?—T. M.

A.—Exclusive of graves, tombs and monuments, etc., it is placed at $321 for adult burials by the National Selected Morticians, Chicago, Ill. On this basis the annual volume of business of the funeral directors of this country amounts approximately to $380,000,000.

Basket lunches will be spread in the church basement at the noon hour.

Speakers during a one-hour conference on the every-member canvass are Rev. Woodie W. Smith of Crowell, Roscoe Rainwater, association secretary of Vernon, Rev. Bellamy, Mrs. Agnes McLaughlin of Crowell, Frank Lockett of Lockett, Dr. Lyon.

The W. M. S. program will open at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Mrs. E. A. Dunnagen of Crowell will conduct a devtional and Mrs. A. F. Wright of Crowell will present special music. Inspirational addresses are planned by Mrs. John Myers of Vernon and Mrs. J. E. Billington of Crowell.

College Spirit And Loyalty Are Denoted 'Hokum'

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 23. (UP)—Dean Charles Maxwell McConn of Lehigh university, addressing Brown's faculty and undergraduates described "this college spirit and loyalty stuff" as pure "hokum."

The college, the student and the world in general benefit far more from scholarly attainment than from athletic activities, mistakenly believed to be better character builders than studies are, he said.

His attack on the "hokum" of college spirt and loyalty was directed not so much against extra-curricula activities themselves, which he said had a place in college life, but against the idea that such activities are the more important for training of character.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 23. (UP)—Dr. Phillip Brett, acting president of Rutgers university, by legend probably the nation's most famous exponent of college spirit because of the immortal phrase, "I'd die for dear old Rutgers," said he preferred not to be drawn into the discussion.

However, he allowed himself to be quoted as saying, "You and I both know that there are some academicians who are not interested in the various college enthusiasms just as we know there is a great deal of loyalty and patriotism to be found."

Phone Rate Reduction Refused at Abilene

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Reduction in telephone rates in Abilene cannot be considered at this time, Mayor Lee R. York and the city commission were informed today by M. P. Caldwell, division commercial superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. Caldwell headed a group of phone company officials holding a conference with the city authorities.

Net return on the Abilene plant was only 4.81 per cent in six months ending June 30, Caldwell said. This was based on plant investment placed at $1,039,920. The company in 1927 built a new plant here and changed from manual to dial system.

The mayor and commissioners were not ready to announce their next step in their campaign to bring down utilities charges here.

Wilbarger Court To Convene Monday

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Judge W. N. Stokes of this city will call the civil jury docket of the 46th district court Monday morning. Cases set for trial include Fleta and C. R. Staley vs. Wm. Cameron Lumber company, involving about $6,000 and seeking to nullify a sheriff's sale on a previous judgment, alleging the property involved to be a homestead.

Other cases of minor character are set for trial early in the week. The criminal docket set to open Nov. 2, may be opened next week at the close of civil business, Judge Stokes said.

ELECTRA LIONS HEAR LEADER

District Governor Talks of 'Bruised Noses'

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 23.—Horace M. Condley of Eastland, district governor of Lions clubs was the principal speaker at the noon luncheon of the local club Thursday. Mr. Condley announced the subject of his discourse as "Bruised Noses." He also reviewed the growth of the Lion movement and the importance of their work to a community. The next annual convention will be held at Dallas, June 6-7, he announced.

Other visitors at the luncheon were R. S. Cox, E. D. Kelly, U. G. White, J. P. Doherty, Wayne Gillispie, H. S. Stewart, and W. M. Austin. All are former members of the local club, and were invited to be guests since the club is observing "Old Monarchs week" when former members are invited.

Dr. R. R. Ramey, president, presided at the luncheon, and G. J. Gilles presented the club wedding gifts, a piece of statuary and a bowl of goldfish to Dr. P. E. Fish, member of the club who was married recently.

F. M. Baker announced that 40 school children are receiving free milk with their noon lunches as the result of the Rotary-Lion free milk fund. G. R. Davidson gave a report of the Lions inter-city meet at Iowa Park Tuesday night. A. I. Glassman was in charge of the entertainment features and presented Katie and Jessie McGee in instrumental and vocal numbers.

SENATORS TO DEBATE TARIFF

Harrison and Dickinson to Argue Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Echoes of the gruelling tariff contest of 1929-1930 will sound this week-end in an old-fashioned debate in Iowa which may serve also as a prelude to a new tariff battle this winter.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi is on his way to Sioux City to carry the Democratic attack on the Smoot-Hawley act in public debate with Senator Dickinson, Republican, of Iowa.

The meeting results from a series of exchanges carried on by the tariff disputants in public letters during the summer and a subsequent series of challenges and counter challenges.

Carefully guarding his plans lest they get to his Republican opponent, Harrison left the capital without a prepared speech nor any intimation to his associates of his intentions. Out in Iowa, the veteran Dickinson is just as zealously protecting his method of attack.

The Sioux City debate and a meeting between Dickinson and Harrison at Omaha, Neb., Monday night will be broadcast to the nation by radio.

Texas Facts

By BILL EDWARDS

Texas brought into production 483 new gas wells during 1930, ranking second to Ohio, which drilled 663 producers, but whose total production is considerably less than one of the Texas fields.

HELPING BUILD TEXAS

With almost a record crop, even five-cent cotton is turning loose millions of dollars in Texas. It is generally agreed that the 1931 crop has been made of necessity on fewer dollars than in many years with the results that even at the price the staple is making available for debt payment a lot of money . . . There are 496,489 farms in Texas, more than in any other state in the union, represenintg a value (land, buildings, implements, etc.) of $3,779,593,705 with 30,634,370 acres under cultivation and 86,942,437 acres in pastures. Present conditions are materially adding the back-to-the-farm movement as urbanites, formerly from the farm, see the farmers able to live at home and to make some economical progress in spite of low prices for their commodities . . . A Dimmitt high school boy using his spare time with " a cow, a sow and 45 hens" made more profit than if he had devoted all of his time to a hundred acres of wheat. Profit from his pigs was $95.18; from his chickens $78.33, and from a heifer calf raised and its milk sold $47—total $221.21 . . . The Rio Grande valley has started shipment of citrus fruits, with an estimated total for the season of at least 7,000 cars—some estimates run as high as 10,000, which would be nearly thrice the total of 1930 . . . Hansford county farmers are developing plans for pump irrigation with shallow wells from 30 to 60 feet deep developing a bountiful supply of water. About 100 acres are in the experiment, in the valley of Palo Duro creek . . . County exhibits at the State Fair, Dallas, demonstrate the progress diversification has made in scores of Texas counties as well as the great variety of products of which Texas soil is capable. Eastland, which used to be rated as of relatively poor soil alongside some of the counties of the state, carried off first prize in the competition, mainly because of the diversity of its showing.

Texas and Oklahoma Students Win Prizes

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23. (AP)—College students from Texas and Oklahoma won prizes offered by the southwest district of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, in session here today and tomorrow for papers submitted on electrical subjects.

First prize went to Charles E. Houston, Texas Technological college, who wrote of the effects of Texas sandstorms on high power transmission lines. G. Scott Hammonds of the University of Oklahoma won second with a description of a way to measure the intensity of a radio station's field of broadcast.

J. V. Melton of Southern Methodist university won third prize for outlining a method of controling the hot-cathode thyratron, a sensitive vacuum tube.

Can't Leave Civilization

THAT Florida chap who set out to spend a year on his own in the wilderness—accompanied, so to speak, only by a set of false teeth and a pair of glasses—must be thinking things these days about the encroachments of civilization on the great open spaces.

This man, as you may remember, built a little hut in the wilds and tried to prove that a civilized man could go back to nature and make a go of it. For about a year everything went fine; but at last he landed in jail, because he had dined on pelican eggs from a federally-protected rookery somewhere along the beach.

His exploit may prove that a man can do very well without any of the tools or comforts of modern society. But it also proves that it is almost impossible for the ordinary man to get out of touch with civilization, no matter how hard he may try or how far he may go; and that fact may help to explain a good part of the subconscious discontent with which all of us, now and then, look around on our environment.

For there is in the land a growing feeling that the world is too much with us. Like Wordsworth, people are wondering if the eternal round of getting and spending isn't a little bit more exacting than it need be. The lot of the untutored savage in his primitive hut looks, occasionally, like something rather good.

But there isn't, really, any escape. The Florida man made a very good stab at it, but even the birds' nests that supplied him with food were under the care of Uncle Sam, and to feed himself with his bare hands in a remote solitude he had to break a federal law; and the rest of us may get what comfort we can out of the thought that we knew it all along.

So, it seems, we have to make the best of it where we are. We cannot get away. We, and our children, and our children's children shall have to put up with crowds, and the noise of crowds, and confusion, and the unceasing activity of millions of energetic neighbors; and somehow, from our own resources, we must find those values which other men used to find in solitude, along the lonely trails that led through silent forests to empty beaches along the sea.

Fertile Manchuria

TO COMPREHEND the background of the current trouble in Manchuria, it is necessary first of all to realize that agriculture in the Orient is by no means the depressed and discouraged industry that it is in the United States.

China and Japan suffer from over-population. Their people often go hungry, not because of a business depression but because it is hard to raise enough food for them on the land available. And Manchuria is, potentially, one of the world's garden spots. Its soil and climate are much like those of the American Middle West. It represents a fertile granary for hungry millions.

Recognizing that fact, one can more easily understand why both China and Japan are trying to get possession of the country. China is always hungry; Japan is always looking for room for her surplus millions. Their collision was inevitable—and, by the same token, it will not easily be settled.

Capone Proves Himself a Sap

AL CAPONE may have been the head man of the racketeers for a good many years, but—if the testimony offered in his defense at his Chicago trial is to be believed—he was a rather large-sized sucker, just the same.

Defense witnesses have asserted that Capone lost more than $200,000 in three years betting on the races; and this bit of news ought to puncture, finally and forever, the legend that underworld kings are men of sound intelligence.

With Capone, doubtless, it was a case of easy come, easy go. Nevertheless, a man who persists in playing the ponies the way Capone played them seems to be nothing more or less than a common, everyday sap.

Manchuria and Kellogg Treaty

DURING the next few weeks the people of the world will have a chance to see just how much of a force for peace the Kellogg treaty can be.

It seems rather obvious, on the face of things, that Japan's recent actions in Manchuria directly violate that treaty. Here, if anywhere, we have an international disagreement of the kind the treaty was supposed to cover. It will be interesting to see just what happens.

Of course, if the other signatory nations—including the United States—elect to pass the thing over in silence, or to make only half-hearted protests, the agressive Japanese can hardly be expected to worry much. It would seem to be up to the other powers to indicate emphatically that they expect to see the pact lived up to.

Quotations Worth Noting

People expressing party views ought to be careful that they are not damaging national interests.—Ramsay MacDonald.

We cannot go on buying our daily bread and butter with paper unless there is something behind it.—George Bernard Shaw.

America's entanglement in world affairs is now complete—Henry Berenger, French senator and former ambassador to Washington.

What we needed (in the economice tempest) was not an umbrella, but a cyclone cellar.—Roland Haynes.

In Case
(From "City Child")

Lean is his cheek and sharp his eye,
And, oh, how sharp it takes my breath;
Each time I see him passing by
I think that it will be my death;
Each time he passes by, I wait,
And smooth my dress and hope he'll mark
My fingers' whiteness on the gate,
Or note my hair's unruffled dark.

Yesterday's day was nearly spent
The while I lingered for his coming.
Oh, right enough, he came, and went,
Nor slowed his step, nor ceased his humming.
If he should pass today, I swear
I'll waste no glance upon his face!

This ribbon braided in my hair?
I only tied it there, in case . . .
—SELMA ROBINSON.

They Would!

Speaking of idea burglars, some one recalled the Rice brothers, well known vaudevillians, who borrowed their jokes for their act from anybody and everybody who had anything funny.

One day they entered a small-time theater in the mid-West and read a huge sign posted near the stage entrance. The sign urged actors not to tell the listed jokes because they were old and had been used there.

The Rice brothers looked over the list and out of it—got a brand new act!

Add Similes

S. Weiss: As one-sided as a painting . . . Courtney Dunkel: Unhappy as a fly in a glass of near-beer.

A Bit of a Critic

It happened as the second act curtain fell on a new flop show the other premiere night. Howard L. Snyder, who paid to go in, was making his exit.

He paused at the box office and grumbled to the treasurer: "What's playing here tomorrow night?"

Merciless Fact

Raymond Moore, the botany professor, who produced the play, "Ladies of Creation," is new to Broadway. He was complaining of a stiff neck.

"From looking at the tall buildings?" some one queried.

"Nope," he noped, "from looking for audiences."

Dear Old Cleveland

"Dear Walter," writes Eddie Vogt, the actor, now on tour, "if any one should ask you what became of the old-fashioned gag about the tramp asking a Chinee laundryman for something to eat—and the Chinee said: 'You likee fish?' and the tramp said: 'Yes,' and the reply was, 'Then come around next Fildee!'—tell him it was in the Cleveland News on Oct. 15."

Gag

From Arthur Kober of Hollywood comes one about the Joosh lady who was berating her husband "fur itting all kimes dellycatessen at tree o'clock in de munning!"

"Dope, what you are!" she yelled. "At such an hour you itt boloney, salami, pastrami! From disa you can catch indigestion!"

"I know dot!" said her betrothed, "but I'm seemply crazy about bicarbonate uff sodah!"

Novelette

About a fortnight ago there appeared in the book stalls a new tome by Edmund S. Whitman called "No Minor Vices." It is a rather heated book of the Caribbean, which slipped by while the censors were dozing.

In it is a character named Barnstable, who is guilty of plenty. The original Barnstable is the superintendent of a great banana plantation in Honduras. Ten days ago he came North and married a sweet girl in Maine. They honeymooned here, where she came across a copy of the book, recognized her hubby as Barnstable. (He had not confessed his sins.)

She took the next train home and started divorce proceedings. The husband now threatens to sue the author for alienation of affections.

Hehehch

When Burns and Allen, now at the Palace, were known as Burns and Lorraine, Lorraine was sensitive about his stuttering. Rather than let any one know he stuttered he wouldn't answer.

After a long lay-off a booking agent phoned Lorraine: "I can give you boys three days in Newark next week, okay!" said the agent.

The excited Lorraine merely nodded yes.

So the agent got another act!

Broadway Banter

Irvin O'Dunn relays this overheard repartee between two hams.

First: "What kind of an act are you doing this year?"

Second: "Comedy act."

First: "I mean what sort of character?"

Second: "Oh, I'm doing a genteel bum."

First: "I catch on. You're working in street clothes."

The Right Answer

The Marx Brothers were offered a week's engagement at the Roxy theater the other day. "I can get you boys $15,000 for the week," said the booking agent.

"But," replied one of the clowns, "the theater is too large—they'll never hear us!"

"In that case," chirped Groucho, "they'll give us $20,000."

Form of Criticism

Overheard: That guy is so small he could play nine holes on a piece of Swiss cheese and still have enough left to smell!"

Origin?

One of the above mentioned Rice boys, it appears, was really a devoted son-in-law. He worshiped his wife's mother. While playing in a southern city he got word that she passed away. He was grief-stricken and urged the manager to let him out of his contract. The manager refused.

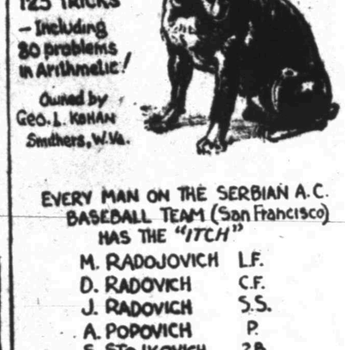

That night Rice limped on the stage. He had tears in his eyes as he said to the audience: "My heart is leaden. I feel awful, not funny. My mother-in-law just died."

The robust laughter that interrupted his mournful talk lasted a minute.

They kept the "bit" in their act, so funny did it strike their listeners, thus the "origin" of the mother-in-law joke.

EXPLANATION OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

THE KINDOM OF HEAVEN—The island of Lundy, three miles long and one mile wide, lying in the Bristol channel, 12 miles off the Devon coast, England, is privately owned, and owes no allegiance to any country, although it is usually represented as part of Devonshire. It first appeared in authentic history about the eleventh century. The island is now referred to as the Kingdom of Lundy, but for 33 years in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, it was owned by a family named Heaven, the last member of which was Rev. Hudson G. Heaven. During these 33 years the island was called facetiously "The Kingdom of Heaven."

LITTLE BETTY JANE LINDLEY—Betty Jane, who lives at 940 Lafayette Park, Chicago, received a Red Cross swimmer's pin and became a registered life saver in a competitive examination held at Delavan Lake, Wis., 1925, when she was but 6 years old. In 1926 she took part in the Chicago Herald-Examiner marathon and swam the entire distance of two miles, being the youngest and smallest of the 285 entrants—many of whom couldn't even finish.

THE BIRD HOUSE GRAVE—The construction of a bird house tomb is not begun until after the death of the Stapan chieftain who is to occupy it. The body is temporarily placed underground and then removed to the bird house tomb, after the artists of the tribe have worked feverishly on its completion for about a year. The Stapans are a little known tribe in a remote part of Borneo.

THE GIRL WHO WON

By May Christie

Young and vivacious Nollie Day, public stenographer at an exclusive New York hotel, is befriended by the wealthy Mrs. Judson, a widow. One evening, Nollie goes to the theater in place of Mrs. Judson, where she meets handsome Tony O'Brien. She reveals her own identity but Tony does not hear her. Later in the evening she refrains from repeating her explanation for fear that Tony would lose interest when he learned the truth. Next day, Tony telephones and learns Mrs. Judson has gone abroad. Disbelieving the report, he comes to the hotel. He looks at Nollie without recognition but she believes it is because he has discovered her masquerade. Before Nollie can reach him, he disappears. Nollie secures a new position as secretary to Jack Brilling of Galbraith & Co. Miss Galbraith. Brilling's fiancee is jealous when Brilling takes Nollie to dinner and warns Nollie against overstepping. Brilling tells Nollie he loves her.

Miss Galbraith enters the office just as Nollie frees herself from Brilling's embrace. Nollie is discharged.

Mrs. Judson gives Nollie a letter Tony had written her abroad. Intending to help Nollie and set the matter straight, she phones Tony to learn he has left on a vacation.

Mrs. Judson asks Nollie to become her secretary and visit her ranch.

CHAPTER XXXVII

"You're different from any other girl I've ever seen," said Tony O'Brien in his charming Irish voice as the canoe, skilfully piloted by himself, slid through the water.

As his voice trailed away, there was no sound to break the silence except the faint splash of the paddle and the cry of wild fowl!

Spot of enchantment! Beauty! Nollie's soul was soaked in the wild loveliness of the nearness of this handsome Tony.

Was it a dream? Would she awake? Had heaven descended on her?

Love! The greatest thing in the world! The one thing that gave life point and meaning!

As the canoe slid through the waters of the lake, her heart sang a song of thanksgiving.

Everything was washed clean today. The grass was greener, pines gave headier scent, the flowers more odor.

Birds sang a sweeter song. And it was all in honor of her.

Because woman's greatest glory—love—was being heaped upon her.

Tony didn't say it in so many words.

But that look in his eyes—that warm and shiny look—the tones of his beguiling voice spoke volumes.

And last night he had whispered to her: "You're the most hauntingly lovely thing I've ever seen."

She'd dreamed those words in her big, airy bedroom over the trestops.

Chosen out of all the world was she. She was a being apart. She was beloved by the most wonderful man on earth—a demi-god.

And god-like Tony looked just now, paddling the canoe with swift, sure strokes.

"I thought I'd never get you away by yourself."

"And you are glad I came?" Her voice was low and sweet, to match this moment.

"Glad? Why, Nollie, that's a weak and foolish word. I feel as though I own the whole earth!"

"You like me just as much as that? It isn't make-believe? You—they say you're such a—a success with women?"

"Great guns! Who told you that? Was it Mrs. Judson or Rhoda Vane?"

"Neither the one nor the other, you conceited young man!"

"Then what on earth—?"

"Oh, just my own observation!"

There was an inlet here. With a swift stroke, Tony piloted the canoe into the backwater.

"Oh, isn't it lovely?" breached Nollie.

The banks were high. Ferns and bright mosses drooped to the water. And flowers of many colors grew in the long lush grass. There was the sweet scent of locust trees, of myrtle and of honeysuckle.

A setting for romance. Out of the whole world, this Elysium!

"Let's tie up in the shade." A sugar maple cast green light above them.

"Now I will come and sit by you." Tony made the canoe fast to an old tree stump.

He flung his long length at Nollie's side. With an attempt at nonchalance he lit a cigaret.

"Have one?"

"No, thanks."

Her heart beat so loudly she was afraid he would hear it.

It was as though the whole world stood still in an enchanted silence . . . waiting for the moment.

What would he say? Would he confess his love for her. And would she tell him what was in her own heart?

Life had never held anything like this before. Life till now held no meaning in it.

Nollie felt her spirit sink to its knees before the call of love . . . the eternal miracle that makes the world a place of sheer enchantment.

"I want you," said Tony, in a deep and vibrant voice. "I swear I want you as I've wanted no other woman."

"You're wonderful," said Nollie Day. "You're wonderful—but you know nothing of me, really. That makes it still more amazing."

"Not amazing in the least. D'you take me for a fool? Don't you know I've been wandering through an arid, parched up desert—oh, for years—thirsty, and longing—longing for some one—"

"Me?"

"You! You, little Nollie Day and no one else. You, the ideal woman!"

"I am not that. You don't know me. I'm just ordinary—humdrum."

"And with eyes like yours! Don't you know that eyes are the windows of the soul, and that I can see—or sometimes I think I can see—clear through yours down to what's at the bottom of them?"

"You mean the real me, don't you, Tony? If I were only worthy! If I were only some one important!"

"I hate important, egotistic women. I love you just as you are. You're my ideal girl, Nollie!"

Her heart rose in her bosom at those words as if it would choke her.

He was so near to her in the canoe. He slipped an arm about her, drew her closer.

And that heavenly dizziness enfolded her.

Love! Oh, this was surely love? This breathless feeling of being torn from the world and soaring into blue heaven?

"Nollie, I love you. Say that you love me?" His young and ardent lips sought hers. He drew her head down.

It was 6 o'clock when Nollie awoke to the passing of the hours, and made Tony head the canoe homewards.

He left the backwater reluctantly. It was hard for both of them to come back to mind and matters.

"Tomorrow at the same time you'll be at the rendezvous? You won't fail me, Nollie?"

She faltered, happily: "Not if you still want me, Tony?"

"Want you? Are you crazy, girl? Don't you understand I'll be simply counting the hours? That I'm in love with you?"

"Honest?"—wistfully.

"Cross my heart, and if it isn't true, may I die the very next minute!"

They moored the craft at the little wooden shed and walked as though they trod on air towards the ranch house.

"Please don't come any farther. I don't want any of them to see us—not just yet," pleaded Nollie.

"But I'll come up tonight? Even if we can't be alone, I'll have the blessed privilege of looking at you, darling," begged Tony.

'Two-Gun' Crowley's Pal Loses Appeal

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 23. (AP)—The court of appeals today affirmed the death sentence of Rudolph Duringer, New York pal of Francis (Two Gun) Crowley. Duringer was convicted of the murder of Virginia Joyce Brannen, dance hall hostess. Crowley also is under a death sentence and his appeal is before the court of appeals which reviews all capital cases.

Duringer, 23-year-old burly truck driver, was accused of shooting the Brannen girl last April and tossing her body from an automobile in Yonkers. The state contended he was angered because she intended to marry another man.

The Duringer-Crowley team was introduced a few days later when police sought to arrest the Brannen girl's sweetheart. He was riding with Crowley.

Before Crowley and Duringer were rounded up in a West Ninetieth street lodging house, a Long Island policeman's death was charged to Crowley. The young gunmen were captured after a spectacular siege of an apartment.

Hijacker Gets $25 From Vernon Man

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—J. P. Ferguson, South Main street service station operator Thursday night lost $25 to hijackers as he was preparing to close his place of business for the night. A lone hijacker entered the filling station covering Ferguson with a blue steel automatic, forcing him to open his cash register. The loss included $7 in one-dollar bills and the rest in small change. County officers were working on the case and traced two sets of footprints from the scene.

Steamer Rescues 21 From Helpless Schooner

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 23. (UP)—The steamer Admiral Sebree today rescued 21 men from the storm-battered, helpless steam schooner Wilmington of San Francisco off Blunt's reef lightship, 200 miles north of the Golden gate, radio advices received here said.

G. S. Beadle, manager of the Beadle Steamship company, owner of the Wilmington, said Captain Fagerstrom, through the Admiral Sebree, had radioed every one was safe.

The Admiral Sebree was attempting to tow the disabled craft to Eureka, Calif.

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

Many readers send in questions signed only with initials, asking that the answers appear in the newspaper. The space is limited and would not accommodate a fraction of such requests. The answers published are ones that may interest many readers, rather than the one who asks the question only. All questions should be accompanied by the writer's name and address and two cents in coin or stamps for reply. Send your question to the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—Is the Vanderbilt who owns the yacht, Enterprise, the same one who is a contract expert?—H. F. H.

A.—Harold Vanderbilt owns the Enterprise and is ranked as one of the leading contract players of this country.

Q.—Why is Brazil called the Land of the Holy Cross?—M. C.

A.—Pedro Alvarez Cabral, who is generally credited with the discovery of the country, named it Terra de Santa Cruz, which is translated the Land of the Holy Cross.

Q.—When was the first negro church organized in this country?—N. B.

A.—The first was a Baptist church organized at Silver Bluff across the Savannah river from Augusta, Ga., in 1773.

Q.—How many full generals of the United States army are there at present?—J. B.

A.—Two. They are Gen. John J. Pershing, who was retired with this rank, and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, chief of staff.

Q.—Please give a list of common foods eaten in Belgium and the menu for a Belgian breakfast.—R. L. N.

A.—The Belgian embassy says that coffee and rolls is a typical Belgian breakfast. Potatoes, beets, corn, and rice are among the chief foods of that country. Ducks and geese are used to a large extent. Veal is used much more frequently than beef. Rice, grapes, gelatin, truffles and fish are among other foods used in that country. Vienna bread is very commonly used.

Q.—Who composed the Jewish Kol Nidre?—J. S. R.

A.—The composer is unknown as it is a very ancient traditional Jewish hymn and is sung only at the beginning of the service on the evening before Yom Kippur (day of atonement).

Q.—What was a griffin supposed to be?—C. I. F.

A.—It was a mysterious monster, half lion and half eagle, believed by the Greeks to keep watch over the gold of Scythia.

Q.—What causes haze?—L. R.

A.—It is due to fine dust in the air, extreme heat, smoke, or volcanic eruptions.

Q.—How long should wild ducks be roasted?—M. O. C.

A.—An ideal way to cook ducks is to put them in the roasting pan without stuffing. Pour a little hot water in the pan, put a few slices of onion, salt, and pepper in the water. Place in hot oven. Baste the birds occasionally. Cook from 20 to 25 minutes. Wild rice is often served with wild duck.

Q.—Why is the Tuscarora Deep so called?—S. H. F.

A.—The Tuscarora Deep was so named from the U. S. S. Tuscarora, the vessel under the command of Captain Belknap, which made an expedition to the Pacific for the purpose of studying the ocean bed. The maximum depth was recorded by the Tuscarora in 1874. The name itself is of Indian derivation and literally means hemp gatherers.

Q.—Where is the Grand Coulee in the state of Washington?—J. F. S.

CROWELL HOST TO CHURCHMEN

Wilbarger-Foard Association Meets Tuesday

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—The First Baptist church of Crowell will be host at the monthly workers' council program of the Wilbarger-Foard Baptist association, Tuesday, Oct. 27. College Spirit And Loyalty Are Denoted 'Hokum'

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 23. (UP)—Dean Charles Maxwell McConn of Lehigh university, addressing Brown's faculty and undergraduates described "this college spirit and loyalty stuff" as pure "hokum."

The college, the student and the world in general benefit far more from scholarly attainment than from athletic activities, mistakenly believed to be better character builders than studies are, he said.

His attack on the "hokum" of college spirt and loyalty was directed not so much against extra-curricula activities themselves, which he said had a place in college life, but against the idea that such activities are the more important for training of character.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 23. (UP)—Dr. Philip Brett, acting president of Rutgers university, by legend probably the nation's most famous exponent of college spirit because of the immortal phrase, "I'd die for dear old Rutgers," said he preferred not to be drawn into the discussion.

However, he allowed himself to be quoted as saying, "You and I both know that there are some academicians who are not interested in the various college enthusiasms just as we know there is a great deal of loyalty and patriotism to be found."

Phone Rate Reduction Refused at Abilene

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Reduction in telephone rates in Abilene cannot be considered at this time, Mayor Lee R. York and the city commission were informed today by M. P. Caldwell, division commercial superintendent of the Southwestern Bell Telephone company. Caldwell headed a group of phone company officials holding a conference with the city authorities.

Net return on the Abilene plant was only 4.81 per cent in six months ending June 30, Caldwell said. This was based on plant investment placed at $1,039,920. The company in 1927 built a new plant here and changed from manual to dial system.

The mayor and commissioners were not ready to announce their next step in their campaign to bring down utilities charges here.

Wilbarger Court To Convene Monday

Special to The Record News

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Judge W. N. Stokes of this city will call the civil jury docket of the 46th district court Monday morning. Cases set for trial include Fiela and C. R. Staley vs. Wm. Cameron Lumber company, involving about $6,000 and seeking to nullify a sheriff's sale on a previous judgment, alleging the property involved to be a homestead.

Other cases of minor character are set for trial early in the week. The criminal docket set to open Nov. 2, may be opened next week at the close of civil business, Judge Stokes said.

ELECTRA LIONS HEAR LEADER

District Governor Talks of 'Bruised Noses'

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 23.—Horace M. Condley of Eastland, district governor of Lions clubs was the principal speaker at the noon luncheon of the local club Thursday. Mr. Condley announced the subject of his discourse as "Bruised Noses." He also reviewed the growth of the Lion movement and the importance of their work to a community. The next annual convention will be held at Dallas, June 6-7, he announced.

Other visitors at the luncheon were R. S. Cox, E. D. Kelly, U. G. White, J. P. Doherty, Wayne Gillispie, H. S. Stewart, and W. M. Austin. All are former members of the local club, and were invited to be guests since the club is observing "Old Monarchs week" when former members are invited.

Dr. R. R. Ramey, president, presided at the luncheon, and G. J. Gilles presented the club wedding gifts, a piece of statuary and a bowl of goldfish to Dr. P. E. Fish, member of the club who was married recently.

F. M. Baker announced that 40 school children are receiving free milk with their noon lunches as the result of the Rotary-Lion free milk fund. G. R. Davidson gave a report of the Lions inter-city meet at Iowa Park Tuesday night. A. I. Glassman was in charge of the entertainment features and presented Katie and Jessie McGee in instrumental and vocal numbers.

SENATORS TO DEBATE TARIFF

Harrison and Dickinson to Argue Issue

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—Echoes of the gruelling tariff contest of 1929-1930 will sound this week-end in an old-fashioned debate in Iowa which may serve also as a prelude to a new tariff battle this winter.

Senator Harrison of Mississippi is on his way to Sioux City to carry the Democratic attack on the Smoot-Hawley act in public debate with Senator Dickinson, Republican, of Iowa.

The meeting results from a series of exchanges carried on by the tariff disputants in public letters during the summer and a subsequent series of challenges and counter challenges.

Carefully guarding his plans lest they get to his Republican opponent, Harrison left the capital without a prepared speech nor any intimation to his associates of his intentions. Out in Iowa, the veteran Dickinson is just as zealously protecting his method of attack.

Chicken

Chickens have undoubtedly been raised both for food and for egg production many centuries before recorded history. Because of the abundance of wild fowl and game the early American settlers only slowly developed the poultry industry, but now it ranks sixth in agricultural industries. The raising of tender plump chickens has now become a science and the quality and flavor of chicken meat has been vastly improved over the first wild chickens used by mankind. Special breeds have been developed which produce the plumpest birds of the most delicate flavor.

Many varieties are raised for their meat, while others are grown for their egg producing ability. Even the latter are finally killed for their meat when they are too old to lay enough eggs.

The largest egg crop is in the late spring and early summer. The chickens which are hatched from their eggs are called squab chickens when they weigh between three-fourths of a pound to one and one-quarter pounds. These are usually cooked by broiling, but the ones called broilers are generally those a little older, weighing from one and one-half to two pounds. These are all called spring chickens when between two and four months old. The older and larger hens are sold for roasting after they reach above three pounds in weight. Young cockerels are often falsely sold under the name of spring chickens.

The capon is a castrated cockerel which grows rapidly fat. In Europe the female chicken is likewise spayed and grows fat, when it is called a poulard.

The best tasting chickens are either fasted for 24 hours before killing or milk fed for two or three weeks. Some dealers make a speciality of buying chickens in the market and milk feeding them on a mixture of buttermilk to improve their size and flavor before killing.

After the chickens are killed and dressed, they are quickly chilled and kept cold so that they come to the consumer in a perfect condition. It is even possible to buy milk fed chickens frozen and in an attractive package, or you may buy your chicken already cooked and canned in the new way which seals the flavor.

Chicken is one of the finest forms of protein and is easily digested. The mild, delicate taste of a properly roasted chicken is especially appealing to the majority of people. The flesh of chicken is about 20 per cent protein, about equal to lean meat in this important element. Those who are trying to build up will find that protein in the form of chicken may be used frequently. If you intend to cook the chicken yourself, be sure to pick out a young plump bird with a well rounded breast. Reject those with long, dull claws, hard, rough or loose skins, lanky, lean legs or bruised spots on the skin.

The lower tip of the breast bone should be quite flexible with a young bird. Fresh chickens should be allowed to remain on ice for about two days to make the tissue more tender. Cold storage fowls must be used as soon as possible after buying and should never be allowed to remain in a warm kitchen after being unwrapped.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Chocolate

Question—Mr. Walter J. writes: "When I eat any chocolate, even one small piece, it gives me a headache the next day. I took one small drink of a chocolate mixture a short time ago and that night I though I would go crazy. I had to hold my head together with my hands."

Answer—Cocoa and chocolate were for a long time considered good food for convalescents and were generally given to patients in the hospitals. Many institutions for the care of the sick, however, have now abandoned the use of these beverages, finding that they cause more trouble than either coffee or tea. They seem to produce a good deal of biliousness, and, of course, are unpalatable unless a large amount of sugar is used. Chocolate contains more fat than cocoa. You should have an examination to find out the cause of your headache. Possibly the liver is affected and rich, fatty food brings on a congestion producing the headache.

Orange Juice for Baby

Question—Mrs. H. asks: "Should a baby eight months old be given orange juice? How much should be used and is it better before or after meals?"

Answer—A baby eight months old should be given from one to two table spoonfuls of orange juice before each feeding. Additional juice may be given between feedings if the baby is constipated. An infant of this age should not be given meals of solid foods, but should be able to get along nicely on feedings of milk about four hours apart, using about eight ounces of undiluted milk for each feeding.

Aspirin

Question—Miss Lena inquires: "What is aspirin and is it good to use whenever I feel out of sorts?"

Answer—Aspirin is acetyl-salicylic acid. It is incompatible with alkalis and should only be used by advice of a physician.

Archer Red Cross Names Leader for Membership Drive

Special to The Record News

ARCHER CITY, Oct. 23.—The Archer county chapter of the Red Cross met at Archer City Thursday for a membership drive for the county.

Harry V. Pearston, ex-county judge of Archer county was elected county chairman for 1931.

Judge Pearston said in accepting the 50th anniversary roll call chairmanship for Archer county: "Archer county should have a membership of 1,000 members at least, and every citizen should be given an opportunity to become a member, and thereby take part in the nation's greatest movement in behalf of humanity."

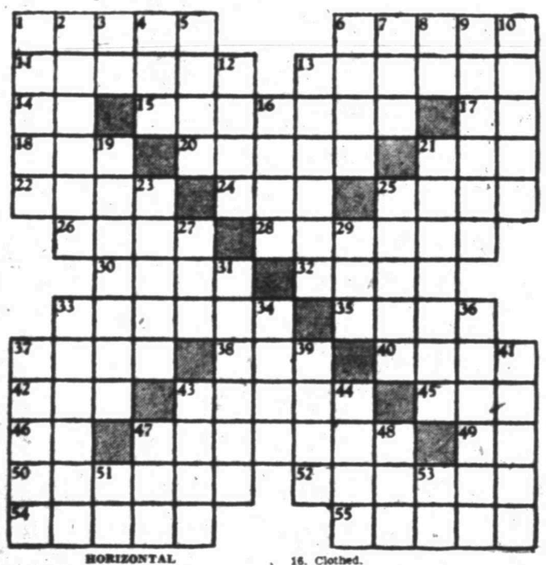

The drive for membership in Archer county will be under the following chairmen of the several precincts: Mrs. C. A. Montgomery, Archer City; R. E. Hardegree, Megargel; J. C. Thomas, Holliday; Will Mankins, Mankins; Mrs. Mary McDaniel, Dundee; Frank Hoffman, Scotland; Father Leo, Windthorst; Mrs. Claude Cowan, secretary, Archer City.

Daylight Job Climaxes Bandits' Four Raids

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 23. (INS)—Two bandits who last night staged three robberies in rapid succession climaxed their operations this morning in a daring daylight job. Forcing Mrs. Carl F. Binner's auto into a curb in a residential district and robbing her of a wrist watch after a search failed to reveal money, Mrs. Binner was ordered to remain parked while the bandits sped off in their own car.

The bandits are believed to be using the car taken from a couple whom they forced to ride with them for an hour before releasing them late last night.

STEERS BEAT JACKSBORO, 18-6; BOWIE UPSETS NOCONA, 14-0

GRAHAM WINS IN AIR BATTLE

Nicklaus Scores Twice for Two-Goal Margin

JACKSBORO, Texas, Oct. 23.—Two forward passes, one of which originated in a Jacksboro play, were completed by speedy Graham backs for touchdowns here Friday afternoon to provide the visiting team its margin in an 18-6 victory over the local high school.

Jacksboro's lone touchdown, however, came by the same route. Hackley picked a Graham flip from the air in the third quarter and sprinted 40 yards through a broken field for the score.

Graham's first counter came in the second period when Nicklaus intercepted a Jacksboro pass and covered 30 yards to cross the goal line. This same Nicklaus, in the fourth quarter, took a pass from his quarterback, Wignall, and added 20 yards with a nice run for the final Graham points. The second score was made by Starbuck, left half, after a series of line plays, in the third quarter.

Jacksboro was outweighed about 10 pounds around, and the Graham team also was better equipped with speed. The locals compiled a total of five first downs to nine for the visitors. Both teams are members of district No. 3 in the class B conference.

Olney Cubs Wreck Munday Team, 74-0

Special to The Record News

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 23.—Olney's Cubs paraded to a 74 to 0 win over Munday High school here this afternoon, while scouts from Seymour, Archer City, Chillicothe, Crowell, and Megargel looked on. The home boys were apparently not extending at any time as everything they tried seemed to work. The best story of the game is that Olney registered only six first downs. The rest of the time they were making long runs for scores. Messrs. Graves, Captain Duckworth, Morris, Elmore, Perkins, and W. Hysatt ran for score after score untouched. Passes worked when they were resorted to. Gilmore and Wright received nicely. Ellis and Sloan joined Captain O'Brien in leading the Cub line through the visitors to nullify their offense. In spite of the lopsided score Olney played ragged ball at times. Numerous fumbles and a poorly handled punt might have been disastrous in a close game. The visitors had little chance to star. Olney had them outweighed and on the defense from the start.

The lineups:

OLNEY (74)	Pos.	MUNDAY (0)
Wright	L.E.	Rogers
Sloan	L.T.	Parks
Vaughn	L.G.	C. Hobert
O'Brien (c)	C.	C. Meyers
Brown	R.G.	Searcey
Ellis	R.T.	Thompson (c)
Gilmore	R.E.	Edwards
Graves	Q.B.	Nichols
Duckworth (c)	L.H.	Clancey Hobert
Morris	R.H.	Thomas
Elmore	F.B.	Rice

First downs, Olney 6, Munday 0.

Bobcats Finally Win One, Drubbing Eldorado, 56 to 0

Special to The Record News

CHILDRESS, Texas, Oct. 23.—After losing their first six games of the season the Childress High Bobcats came to life this afternoon flashed a powerful running and passing attack to smother the Eldorado, Okla., eleven, 56 to 0, in a practice game. From the first few minutes of play when the Cats shoved over their first marker of the season there was no doubt as to the superiority of the local eleven. Davis, Carter and Smith were the offensive stars for the Cats while the entire line shone on defense, never permitting the Oklahomans to make a first down.

Shoeless Back Wins For Gould Team, 13-6

Special to The Record News.

OLUSTEE, Okla., Oct. 23.—A shoeless ball carrier was chiefly responsible for Gould's 13 to 6 victory over Olustee in a game played on the Gould gridiron today.

Crockitt, Gould back, discarded his shoes in the game when he arrived to the conclusion that they impeded his progress in his efforts to gain. His ingenuity packed the contest in cold storage for his team.

The Olustee outfit flashed off to a pretty start by taking the ball back of the Gould goal in the first five minutes of play. After the ball had been moved down the field in a few gaining plays, Miles took the oval through by the long end-run route.

Tyler Beats Lufkin In Conference Opener, 21-0

TYLER, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—In its first conference football game of the season Tylor High school, Texas 1930 champions, defeated Lufkin High school here this afternoon, 21-0.

The Tyler Lions scored touchdowns in the first, second and fourth quarters. Lufkin threatened to score late in the final period on an aerial offensive.

Tyler made 14 first downs to 12 for Lufkin.

Blocking and place kicking of Johnnie Morris, Tyler halfback, featured.

Bellevue Eleven Beats Newcastle, 12 to 6

Special to The Record News.

BELLEVUE, Texas, Oct. 23.—Bellevue High school's Eagles decisively defeated the Newcastle Bobcats here today, 12 to 6. The Young county boys were roundly outplayed throughout the game. Bellevue registered nine first downs to Newcastle's seven. Bellevue's touchdowns were scored by Lyles, on a forward pass, and by Davenport on an intercepted heave.

Pep Squad Girls Whose Cheers You'll Hear at the Coyote-Quanah Game Today

For weeks Miss Davida Olinger, high school pep squad leader, has drilled her brightly attired charges in special formations that will be staged between the halves at today's game between the Wichita Falls Coyotes and the Quanah Indians. In the above photo, snapped while the girls were drilling the formation of the word C-O-Y-O-T-E-S, you get only a fair idea of the pageant the girls will stage; you've got to actually be on the scene to get the color of it. Attired in red sweaters and black skirts, with nifty tams to top the costume off, the pep squad will be at Athletic park 100 strong today to cheer the Coyotes on and put on their own little show.

And oh, yes—those two tough-looking guys in the inserts above. They look mean—don't they? At the left you see the fighting face of Benny Withrow, halfback and captain of the team Head Coach Barry Holton will send against the fighting Tribe today. And the boy at the upper right doesn't exactly look like a softy, either. He's James Harrell, Quanah's fighting captain. Harrell doesn't lug the ball—he does his fighting from the right tackle position, and from all reports he does plenty of it.

So there you have the two captains, Withrow and Harrell, and a bit of beauty in between. The girls were snapped in action on the west side of the high school building. But on the greensward at Athletic park this afternoon they'll look prettier.

TRIBE'S FINAL THREAT FAILS

Overstreet and Murphy Lug Leather Over

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Oct. 23.—Bowie High school crossed up the depesters and surprised even its own followers here Friday afternoon with a decisive 14-0 victory over the Nocona Indians, scored by virtue of the visitors' ability to assemble power at the moment when it was most needed.

According to the registration of first downs, the two teams battled on even terms. But the superiority of Bowie was evidenced in the two drives which not only approached the Nocona goal, but pushed over promptly for the two touchdowns. Overstreet, Bowie quarterback, carried the oval for the first marker in the first quarter. The second score came in the third period, Murphy manufacturing the touchdown with a dash through the line. Forward passes neatly executed by Latham and Sterling accounted for the extra points.

Nocona launched an attack in the fourth quarter which threatened a score. Williams cut loose a pass to Wall for a gain of 22 yards, and followed with a heave to Garrison which made three more. Garrison took another Williams flip on the next play to chalk up nine more yards, but at that point Bowie stiffened and checked the advance.

Willett, Bowie halfback, broke loose in the third quarter with a 33-yard dash to place the ball within scoring distance.

The game was a distinct upset, particularly in view of Bowie's 12-0 defeat at the hands of Bridgeport last week, while Nocona was beating Jacksboro, 6 to 0. About 1,500 people, the largest crowd of the season, witnessed the battle.

The lineups:

Zundy Defeats Burk Pups, 13-0

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Oct. 23.—The Zundelowitz Junior High school eleven of Wichita Falls battered out a hard-fought 13-0 victory over the Burkburnett Bull Pups here this afternoon.

The local junior high lads were inferior in weight to the visitors and their progress tough going. Nevertheless the Pups battled away undaunted. At one point in the game, the locals made the best gain of the day when a completed pass netted 30 yards.

The first quarter ended scoreless. Gathering steam, however, the Zundy crew hammered through for a touchdown in the second period, but failed in the attempt for extra point. Again in the third period, the visitors battered away and carried the ball back of the Burk goal. The extra point was made good with a line plunge.

Awakening too late in the final quarter the Pups made several good gains, but despite every effort could not score.

Coyotes Face Toughest Test of Season in Quanah Game Today

both teams today will be playing on strange ground.

Climaxing its demonstrations of loyalty to the Coyotes, the town last night gave the team one of the most enthusiastic send-offs in years when more than 3,000 boosters attended the "Let's Go Athletic" vaudeville and pep rally at Memorial auditorium. The spirit of that rally will live on today as the high school band and girls' pep squad, both of which participated in the program last night, turn out in full force at the game to spur the Pack to action.

Special Train

The parade of students and boosters this morning will precede by an hour or so the parade of Quanah rooters, due to arrive here shortly after 1:30 on a special train. The Quanah delegation will include the Quanah High school band and pep squad. Approximately 300 Quanah fans were expected to be on the special, and others probably will make the trip to Wichita Falls in automobiles. The Quanah team will arrive on the special.

Plans went ahead yesterday to stage the game at Athletic park, and these will not be countermanded unless rain falls today. Friday's sunshine gave promise of clear weather for Saturday, and only a sudden drenching would cause the game to be moved to the school practice field. In case it does rain a tough time will be had by all, for there are no seating accommodations at the practice field.

Hopeful that the clear weather would continue, William E. Huff, Spudder president, had Athletic park in readiness for the game yesterday. A new arrangement of the field, whereby the gridiron proper will include very little of the infield of the baseball diamond, should not only prove a blessing to the players, but to spectators as well. The east goal is set far down the right field foul line, while the west goal is deep in left field. This places the 50-yard line directly in front of the reserved seats in the park.

Field Changed

In the past the gridiron was lined off parallel to the third base line, thus including a considerable portion of the infield. This is of hard foundry sand that is rough on players in dry weather, and in wet weather it turns into a sea of mud.

Under the new arrangement, a relatively small portion of the infield directly behind second base is the only part included in the gridiron.

The arrangement necessarily will place the spectators a considerable distance from the actual scene of battle, but not so far away that the players cannot be distinguished by face or number. In addition the spectator is given a better perspective.

Burkburnett-Megargel Game Is Postponed

Special to The Record News.

BURKBURNETT, Texas, Oct. 23.—The tangle between the Burkburnett and Megargel High school teams, scheduled here Friday afternoon, was called off on account of the muddy field. The date the two teams get together is indefinite although scheduled for November. The Bulldogs will play Crowell next Friday.

Marv and Ernie Olson, former Luther college stars from Decorah, Iowa, formed a fast second baseshortstop combination for Buffalo of the International league.

T. C. U. DEFEATS SIMMONS, 6–0

Air Attack in Last Minute Wins Game

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—Power and simple passes gained the T. C. U. Horned Frogs nothing but first downs for 59 minutes here tonight, but an intricate aerial maneuver won their annual game with the Simmons Cowboys, 6 to 0, in the last minute of play.

From scrimmage on the Simmons 24-yard line, Woolwine passed into the "flat" to Ad Dietzel, elongated end, who relayed the ball backward to Blanard Spearman. Spearman swept around the Cowboy left terminal for the touchdown. T. C. U. was penalized 15 yards on the first try for point, which was good, and Green's kick fell short on the second trial.

Once in each of the first three quarters, the Horned Frogs entered the Simmons 10-yard zone to be turned back, twice going to the two-yard stripe. Just as often the Cowboy forwards swarmed over the T. C. U. ball carriers, and Captain Marshall's punts carried his team out of danger. Marshall's great kicking stood out in the Cowboys' play, as he outbooted the Frog toe artists, Hinton and Brannon, 10 and 15 yards on every exchange. On one occasion he stood under his own goal posts and sent up a punt to the enemy's 40-yard stripe.

The Cowboys offered to score only once, when Lee dashed off tackle 25 yards to the Christian 25-yard line. They got no further, however, and that was the single first down registered by the home club. The Frogs made their yardage a dozen times.

TEXANS READY FOR CRIMSON

Steers Loosen Up After Long Train Ride

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 23. (AP)—A confident band of Texas Longhorns, disregarding their 2,100 mile journey to the Harvard stadium and the resulting climatic changes, had high hopes of stopping the greatest team Harvard has developed in a decade today when they ended their brief workout in the stadium.

The Texan footballers arrived here late in the afternoon and their session in the stadium was confined to a short signal drill.

Before the Longhorns took posion, Head Coach Eddie Casey drove his starting Crimson eleven through its last preparatory session. The Harvard players put on several new plays, which have been reserved for tomorrow's game, and appeared in prime shape for their second consecutive major conflict.

Casey and his players, encouraged by their last week's showing against the Army, regarded as one of the greatest teams in the country, were confident of their ability to turn back the invaders in the first intersectional clash.

After quitting the stadium, Coach Clyde Littlefield and his squad headed for the University club in Boston to join a host of Lone Star state celebrities at a pre-game dinner, after which the football players adjourned to the Belmont Spring Country club, where they will remain until an hour or so before game time.

FANS OPTIMISTIC; COACHES GLOOMY

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—Southwest conference football followers are optimistic over tomorrow's program. Southwest conference coaches are pessimistic over their respective chances of winning.

Conference gridiron aggregations are in for a busy time tomorrow with the University of Texas at Harvard; Rice institute at Tucson to play Arizona; Arkansas at Shreveport to play Louisiana State; Centenary invading Dallas to play Southern Methodist, and Texas A. & M. battling Baylor at College Station.

Having played Simmons Friday night, Texas Christian will be idle tomorrow.

Aggies Play Baylor

Texas A. & M. and Baylor will furnish the only conference game. A. & M. lost a 6 to 0 conference game to Texas Christian last week. Baylor made her conference bow by beating Arkansas. Baylor's passing attack spelled defeat for Arkansas. Anxious to retain their unmarred conference record, the Bears plan to flood the air with an assortment of passes. Baylor is in good condition. A. & M. revealed a stubborn defense against Texas Christian that held for over three periods, and will offer the same grim determination against Baylor. Like Baylor, A. & M. is in good condition.

With Bob Gilbert, quarterback, and Alfred Neeley, regular guard out of the lineup, Southern Methodist faces serious trouble against Centenary college which, two weeks ago, beat Baylor. This will be the first meeting between Southern Methodist and Centenary since 1927 when Centenary won. Southern Methodist is the only conference team with an undefeated record for the season. In meeting Centenary, Southern Methodist meets an undefeated team that takes pride in knocking off conference teams. Southern Methodist, with Hearon and Davidson throwing, and Koontz, Mills and Webster catching, plans to use its aerial attack for the first time this season.

Hogs in Shreveport

The University of Arkansas Razorbacks are in Shreveport for their 25th annual battle against Louisiana State. Arkansas has lost two conference games. Last year, Louisiana State whipped the Razorbacks 27 to 12, and is favored tomorrow.

Uncle Wilbert Robinson Removed As Manager of Brooklyn Robins

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—The factional war that has been raging within the councils of the Brooklyn National league team for six years culminated today in removal of Wilbert Robinson, one of baseball's colorful old guard, as manager, and appointment of Max Carey as his successor.

Forecast all through the past season as the only solution of the bitter controversy between Steve McKeever and the heirs of Charley Ebbets, co-owners of the club, the removal of "Uncle Robbie" was by unanimous vote of the five directors. Carey was given a one-year contract.

The impasse was broken only through efforts of Walter "Dutch" Carter, former Yale star pitcher who was accepted by both factions as a neutral and fifth member of the board two years ago when the league itself found it necessary to attempt unofficially to calm the troubled waters. Despite the hostility of McKeever, bitterly opposed

Henrietta Beats Hawks 6 to 0; Player Injured

Special to The Record News.

HENRIETTA, Texas, Oct. 23.—A 6 to 0 decision over the Iowa Park High school football team was won here Friday afternoon by the Henrietta gridiron gladiators.

Lacking punch to carry the ball across, the locals failed to score on four occasions when touchdowns seemed sure. Each time the ball was carried deep into Iowa Park territory, and each time fumbles occurred at critical moments.

Late in the game Jackson, Henrietta back, took the best of an off-tackle play and galloped 35 yards across the goal line, to score the only points of the game. His run was the most interesting event of the game.

Iowa Park held the advantage over the locals during the first half, but relinquished the leadership in the final section.

Hershel Cobb, 15, visiting back, received a broken leg when tackled by a Henrietta linesman.

INJURED GRIDDER IN HOSPITAL HERE

Herschel Cobb, 15, halfback on the Iowa Park High school football team, is at the Wichita General hospital here with a broken leg received in a game Friday afternoon at Henrietta with the high school team there.

The leg was broken when Cobb, who was carrying the ball on a play, was tackled by a Henrietta linesman. Cobb, it was said, was tackled high and fell backward with his leg doubling under him. The break was between the ankle and knee.

Edmondson will replace Darr and Karr will take the injured Holmes' place in Arkansas' starting lineup.

Rice is not expected to experience much trouble against the University of Arizona. Rice beat Arizona 21 to 0 last year.

The most important intersectional game for the conference will be at Cambridge where the University of Texas, 1930 conference champion plays Harvard. Coach Littlefield and his Texans arrived at Cambridge today and held a workout in preparation for tomorrow's contest. It is Texas' first football invasion of the East. While Harvard is favored, the game promises to develop into a close scoring affair with Texas holding an outside chance to win.

800 FANS SEE GRAPPLE SHOW

Gorman Wins Over Wild Bull of Poland

By MACK TURNER

Before a crowd estimated at 800 fans the wrestling show staged last night in the Mack Thomas building by Promoter Bob Conner was proclaimed a huge success and more so when Jack Gorman, the San Angelo cyclone, popular favorite of Wichita Falls bested Steve Nenoff, the wild bull of Poland, in the best two out of three falls. Gorman took both the first and third falls with Nenoff winning the second.

After 12 minutes and 10 second of some of the fastest wrestling ever seen here, Gorman worked Nenoff into a painful Japanese toehold which made the Polish champion pat the mat in defeat. For the second fall, Nenoff worked long with Gorman's arm and won after 14 minutes and 17 seconds with an arm lock and body slam.

The third fall lasted only seven minutes and 42 seconds. Nenoff had worked a dizzy succession of flying headlocks and had hoisted Gorman high over his head as if to toss him into the crowded ringside when the Pole lost his balance, falling backward with Gorman coming down on his head for the fall.

In the semifinal, another whirlwind match which greatly pleased the fans, Les Wolff won the only fall in a 45-minute time limit match. Wolff won the first fall in 25 minutes and seven seconds with a merry-go-round and body slam. They completed the remaining 20 minutes without a fall.

Bobby Novak and Bennie Mathis battled to a pleasing 30-minute draw in the opening bout on the card. All three matches were acclaimed by the fans as one of the best cards ever staged in Wichita Falls. Promoter Bob Conner announced that the card next week will find them better able to take care of the huge crowd which far outdistanced anything they had expected, with fans gathering before the door an hour and a half before the start of the matches. By the time the first match had gone on the house had been a sell-out to standing room only. Many additional bleachers will be added for the next week card as well as more ringside and reserve sections, it was announced.

VERNON PLAYS ELECTRA TODAY

Teams Meet at Electra in District 2 Tilt

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—The Vernon Lions are ready for Saturday afternoon's Interscholastic league football game with the Electra Tigers. The game will be played at the Tiger field in Electra at 2:15 o'clock. The Lions have rounded out a week of hard practice with several scrimmage sessions and have overcome any thought of over confidence.

Although the Lions will probably be without the services of Maney at center and Parker at right end the squad is pointing sufficiently for the game to turn in a game satisfactory to the fans, win or lose. The Lion mentors, Coach Heinle Weir and Ralph Binion have stressed practice in passing and passing defense this week.

Grandfield Eleven Beats Waurika, 34-0

Special to The Record News.

GRANDFIELD, Okla., Oct. 23.—Weakened by losses from the lineup, the Waurika High school eleven lost a 34 to 0 decision in a one-sided game here this afternoon with the Grandfield football team.

Waurika's team heavily felt the loss of several players who had quit school since the opening of the season.

Creighton, King and Beavers accounted for all of the Grandfield score. Smith and Roach played good football for the visitors but were unable to match their strength against the powerful locals.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Cotton was generally higher today on trade buying and covering.

Prices made new high ground for the movement with December selling up to 6.93 and closing at 6.91. The general market closed strong at advances of 29 to 34 points.

The opening was steady unchanged prices to four points higher on a renewal of trade buying and covering. The South was a moderate seller, but offerings were generally light and the market worked gradually upward on a continuation of the early demand.

A private report was issued estimating ginnings prior to Oct. 18, at 9,050,000 bales, but appeared to have no effect on the market. Traders regarded this as reflecting a very rapid movement of cotton through the gins for the first half of this month, which probably tended to emphasize the comparatively small volume of southern hedging, and the holding movement in the South. Trade buying was not so much in evidence as it was earlier in the week and much of the late demand was attributed to covering promoted by the better tone of the stock market and the firmness in grain.

Liverpool cables said that hedging had been absorbed by the trade buying and calling in that market and reported a good business in cotton cloths in China. Exports today 31,095 making 1,334,236 so far this season. Port receipts 150,292. U. S. port stocks 4,206,446.

Futures opened strong, 29 to 34 higher. Spot quiet; middling 6.95.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 23. (AP)—While the cotton market was rather quieter than it has been of late most of the session, it became very active and strong in the late afternoon and advanced sharply to a strong close at gains of more than a dollar and a half a bale. Hedge selling was not very much in evidence today and although there was some liquidation by recent buyers, offerings were readily absorbed. The market as supported by steadier stocks, unfavorable weather in the belt and bullish week-end statistics, particularly favorable mill takings.

Liverpool is due tomorrow, 12 to 13 points up on New Orleans.

Liverpool came in 5 to 7 points better than due and sterling exchange was lower. Private cables stated that there was some hedge selling offset by trade buying and calling. Sterling was easier. Manchester cabled that there was a good cloth business with China.

First trades here showed gains of 1 to 6 points and prices improved after the start. The market became quite strong in the late afternoon due to short covering in sympathy with an advance in stocks. Prices advanced rapidly to new highs 31 to 36 points above the lows with December at 6.96, Jan. at 7.04 and March at 7.18. The close was strong at the top with the active months 32 to 35 points net higher for the day.

Port receipts 153,408; for week 384,696; for season 2,982,486; last season 3,923,176. Exports 32,495; for week 211,663; for season 1,301,580; last season 1,921,585. Port stock 4,287,394. Last year 3,427,016. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 159,950; last year 112,555. Spot sales at southern markets 48,564; last year 55,677.

Futures closed strong at net advances of 29 to 35 points:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 23. (INS)—Spots cotton was in fair demand at the opening today. Prices ruled easier. Receipts amounted to 16,000 bales.

At midday middling fair was quoted at 6.07d; strictly good middling, 5.62d; good middling, 5.27d; strictly middling, 5.07d; middling, 4.97d; strictly low middling, 4.82d; low middling, 4.62d; strictly good ordinary, 4.42d; good ordinary, 4.12d.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Better sales of coarse yarn cloths at firm prices were reported in the unfinished cloth market today. Summer lines of sheer fine also attracted more inquiries. Rayon crepes were being bought but at easier prices. Reports of price changes on rayon yarns of the viscose type were current. Buyers were showing more interest in burlap which was quoted as slightly higher levels abroad.

Stock Market Stages Rally When Wheat and Cotton Make Advances

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (US)—The stock market reversed itself today and staged a rally from the preceding day's weakness. Volume was maintained at little above a million shares, evidencing professional character of trading and removing the element of significance to the day's price movement. As a matter of fact, prices were tending lower until receiving stimulus from a rather impressive advance in certain commodity quotations, particularly wheat which was up from two to three cents a bushel. Cotton, too, joined in the advance, and the stock market took full advantage of this cheer from commodities.

Virtually the entire stock market turned around under influence of wheat and cotton's upturn. For wheat, prices reached the best levels of the season for some options. There also was an item of potential great significance in the acceptance by the transportation workers of one small railroad system of a voluntary 10 per cent cut in wages. Notwithstanding that this lowering of wages was described as temporary, "until the road earns its fixed charges," and the fact that the railroad concerned is one of the small lines, the possible significance of the employes' action as evidencing the mood of labor under prevailing trying circumstances, was not lost on the market.

Reduction of railway pay, unless effected through voluntary action of the labor brotherhoods, may prove a long and tedious proposition, but voluntary movement in that direction would provide unexpected benefits to the securities markets. Bonds held within narrow price limits, with irregularity at the close.

Strength of wheat and cotton was a most encouraging element. Especially has wheat of late shown outstanding firmness, although it is not as yet quite clear whether fundamentals alone are responsible for its price appreciation or whether speculative activity is a major influence. There have been stories of substantial speculative commitments in wheat options.

Nevertheless, the persistence of the recovery in wheat prices has lent a degree of cheer to a sizeable portion of the stock list. The mail-order stocks were quick to respond, as were also the agricultural implement-makers. Prospects for continued strength in commodity prices would create a most desirable basis for speculation in such stocks.

The far-reaching import of a rising commodity price level is such as to strengthen the contentions of those who assert the country already has entered a degree of inflation, moderate thus far, but possibly the inauguration of a still greater inflation. It is too early properly to interpret this phase of the situation. In any respect, the Hoover-Laval conversations may determine the American policy.

Railroad shares as a group turned upward on the voluntary wage cut news. At the same time, there was a hesitancy evident toward becoming over-enthusiastic toward the rail stocks, until more concrete evidence is forthcoming of actual relief to the carriers. The rails even on the advance were not particularly impressive.

Industrial shares moved upward rather easily, but this was a reflection of the disinclination in speculators' quarters to engage in bearish activities on sizeable scale. The bears' attitude in a case half of fear of consequences in the event of suddenly distinctly good news and half the result of the still-effective publicity attaching to all short sales.

Steel common was up more than two points at the close, American Can 3⅝, American Telephone 3⅝. Anaconda, despite omission of dividends by two subsidiaries, gained more than a point net, and other coppers were also strong. There was a report that some slight advance in copper is imminent, but genuine optimism toward the entire group probably is awaiting the outcome of the world conference of producers. Oil shares joined the advance, and there was talk of an early increase in California crude oil prices.

Many pools were at work, marking up their pets.

General Motors rose to a new high for the present recovery. Its report for the third quarter, issued after the market closed, showed 25 cents a share, one-third the dividend requirement. These earnings brought total for the nine months to $2.08 per share, against $2.25 dividends. However, the feeling still prevails that the directors may vote another 75-cent payment at their next meeting, and this view was strengthened with disclosure of General Motors' cash position at the close of September. Cash and securities on that date totalled $264,000,000, and net working capital was $318,000,000.

Unless the tide of earnings turns upward, the G. M. dividend of course cannot be considered secure and this has brought of late considerable scale selling. Some of the selling has been hedged by purchase of Chrysler, whose report, also issued today, showed net for the third quarter of 34 cents, against 25-cent dividend requirement, and 85 cents for the nine months.

TEXAS CASH RAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 23. (AP)—Higher prices were paid for wheat and demand for all grains was keen on the cash grain market today.

Quotations ranged as follows, basis carloads delivered Texas group three points or gulf ports, export rate, freight paid:

Wheat—No. 1 ordinary hard milling 56@57c; No. 1 hard, 13 per cent protein, 57@58c; 14 per cent 61@62c; 15 per cent 65@66c; 16 per cent 69@70c.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 38@39c; No. 2 white 39@40c; No. 2 yellow 46@47c.

Barley—No. 2, 38@40c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo, per 100 pounds 74@76c; No. 2 kaffir 72@74c.

Basis delivered Texas group three points: Oats No. 2 red 24@25c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 23. (AP)—Big export sales of United States government sponsored wheat, together with curtailed estimates of domestic winter wheat seeding, gave a hoist to all grains today. Broad general buying took wheat prices to about 10½ cents a bushel over recent bottom figures. As much as 2,000,000 bushels of federal farm board wheat was estimated to have been disposed of to exporters, and the farm board was also credited with having sold wheat to Liverpool direct.

Wheat closed strong at virtually the day's top level, 1⅜@2⅛ cents above yesterday's finish, corn ⅛@1⅛ cents up, oats ¼@⅝c advanced and provisions unchanged to 5 cents off.

Wheat displayed remarkable vigor in the late dealings after an early downward trend that appeared to result from sympathy with transient weakness of the corn market. During the rapid subsequent upturn of prices, recent speculative sellers of wheat found execution of stop loss orders imperative. Not only was wheat export business the largest in some time, but cash demand for domestic account was good, despite augmented primary receipts, 1,422,000 bushels, compared with 927,000 a week ago and 670,000 at this time last year.

Liverpool private cables reported a much better demand for American hard winter wheat and predicted further improvement in prices. Current reports indicated also that Europe's import requirements as well as those of the Orient would be larger than last year, with less wheat outside of the United States to supply the demand. The new Australian crop was officially estimated at 39,000,000 bushels less than last year. In addition, clearances from North America picked up and were 8,536,000 bushels of wheat and flour.

Corn and oats rallied with wheat, helped by chartering of vessel room for 250,000 bushels of corn to Buffalo.

Provisions were steadied by rallies in grains.

Closing indemnities: Wheat, Dec. 53½@⅝c, 56⅝c; May 57⅞@58c, 60⅝c; July 58⅛@⅝c, 61⅛c. Corn, Dec. 36⅝c, 38⅛@⅝c; May 41¼c, 42⅛@½c.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Moderate activity developed in the hog trade around the 11-market circuit at steady to 15c higher prices. The day's top of $5.50 was paid at Chicago for medium and strong weight butchers. Total offerings were around 66,500 compared with 83,833 a week ago.

Fat lambs found a fairly active outlet at values unevenly steady to 25c higher while steady rates were maintained on the limited offerings of mature sheep and feeding lambs. The supply approximating 64,000 was 41,000 short of last Friday.

Aggregate receipts of cattle were estimated at 13,000 against 16,344 a week ago. There was a fair demand for good to choice fed steers and yearlings but short feds and grass fat killing cattle found a sluggish demand at prices steady to easier with recent sharp declines. The same condition also prevailed at eastern dressed beef markets for the better grades of steer beef met a fair demand and the lower grades ruled weak to lower. Chicago had a top of $10.35 on tow loads of long yearlings. At Kansas City four loads of good 1,114 pound fed Texas steers cashed at $8.00.

State Drops Charges Against Taylor After Hearing Is Demanded

A charge of theft over $50 filed late Wednesday afternoon against L. L. Taylor was dismissed by the state Friday when a preliminary hearing in the case was demanded by Attorneys W. H. Caldwell and John Davenport for the defendant.

Taylor was charged along with J. L. McElreath and Rex Rotan in complaints taken by County Attorney L. V. Abernathy, signed by City Detective A. L. Stubblefield, and filed before Justice of the Peace O. L. Gibbs. The charges were filed in connection with the alleged theft of automobiles. Each of the defendants promptly perfected bond in amount of $1,000.

Investigations have been under way for several days by E. A. Gormley, representative of the National automobile theft bureau, and City Officers J. H. Pogue and A. H. Stubblefield. Mike Anglin, assistant district attorney, assisted in the investigation Friday.

Ten cars were being held Friday pending completion of the search for other missing cars.

PROBLEM

Aged Negro Caught With Wheelbarrow Full Of Home Brew

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (INS)—Matt Coleman, elderly negro, was being held in Dallas county jail here today while officials considered filing charges of illegal transportation of intoxicants against him.

Coleman was found late yesterday pushing a wheelbarrow, loaded with four cases of home brew, along a sidewalk in a negro residential section.

Authorities are undecided whether to prosecute him under the Volstead act or under state laws. Under the Volstead act authorities would be allowed to confiscate the wheelbarrow and sell it at public auction.

Meanwhile, the elderly negro has been made a trusty in jail and is using the wheelbarrow to haul trash out of the jail.

YOUNG COUPLE SHOT TO DEATH

Boy, 18, and Girl, 16, Slain On Highway

PENSACOLA, Fla., Oct. 23. (AP)—The bodies of Arthur Hinote, 18, and Bernice Bryars, 16, missing since last night, were found near their automobile north of Bayview park today.

Hinote had been shot through the head. His body lay beside the automobile. The girl's body was found 10 feet away. She had been attacked and beaten to death.

There was no clue to identify the slayer but officers noted tracks of another car which had been turned around there.

The bodies were located by two Pensacola men who went to the vicinity for a load of wood.

Sunset News

Special to The Record News.

SUNSET, Texas, Oct. 23.—Heavy showers of rain have been falling here at intervals since Wednesday morning. Pastures and crops have been damaged by overflows of water in the creek valleys. Crops on upland are also being damaged considerably by the continued rains. Unpaved highways are getting muddy, especially where they cross creek bottoms.

It is reported that Jack Boykin, four miles south of Sunset, is rapidly recovering from a painful accident, inflicted when he shot himself in the ankle while hunting a few days ago.

The 1931-32 term of school began at Pleasant Ridge, four miles north of Sunset, Oct. 19, with Miss Ruth McKee and Miss Lorene Winton as teachers.

Rev. V. H. Cowsert from California will occupy the pulpit at the Sunset Baptist church at 11 o'clock Sunday morning, Oct. 25.

Rev. C. D. Droomgole of Waurika, Okla., delivered two sermons at the Lake Valley Baptist church, east of Sunset, Sunday morning and evening.

Reports from several sections indicate that Montague county farmers have made much better crops, generally, this year than usual. One report states that cotton has made unusually good in the northeastern section of the county this year. Feed crops are fine all over that part of the county. Corn on suitable soil made good. Also truck farm crops did well.

A report from Belcherville says that cotton made good in that section and about half of the crop has been gathered. Corn is yielding 25 bushels per acre. Club members and others have canned a great deal of vegetables there.

Crops have made good in the eastern and southeastern sections of the county. Good feed crops and some good corn, especially in the valleys. Many farmers cultivated peanuts. A great many carloads of watermelons and cantaloupes were grown in these sections, as well as other truck farm crops. Cotton has done well. An unusually large amount of vegetable canning has been done there this season.

Most all varieties of farm crops have done well in the western and southern sections of the county. Cotton has made unusually good here. Grain sorghum feed crops have made fine. Perhaps more than 200 carloads of cantaloupes and watermelons were produced in these sections. Syrup cane has done well. Peanuts have made better than they did during the two past years. And many thousands of containers have been filled with vegetables during the canning season. Also, melons, vegetables, cotton, feed and other products have made better than usual in the central part of the county, according to reports.

Up to Tuesday evening, 598 bales of cotton had been ginned here this season, exactly the same number of the entire crop ginned here last year. Gib Layton, the gin manager, says that he expects to gin 1,000 or more bales this season. Some farmers here are almost done picking cotton, but others are not, and Mr. Layton estimates that but little more than half of the cotton crop has been ginned.

Showers of rain began falling here this Wednesday morning and have delayed cotton picking and other farm work.

COTTON EXCESS REPORT GIVEN

5,543,100 Bales Invalid Under Futures Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23. (AP)—The agriculture department reported today that of the 6,369,400 bales of cotton in the United States carry-over on July 31, 5,543,100 were tenderable and 702,700 were untenderable under the futures contract law.

A year ago the carry-over on that date was 4,530,600 bales of which 3,416,300 were tenderable and 897,300 untenderable.

Of the tenderable 1931 carry-over, 4,772,800 bales were ⅞-inch to 1 1-32-inch inclusive and 770,300 were over 1 1-32-inch.

Chrysler Earnings Reduced by Half

NEW YORK, Oct. 23. (AP)—Chrysler corporation today reported for the September quarter net earnings equal to 34 cents a share, compared with 73 cents a share in the preceding quarter and a deficit of 21 cents a share in the September quarter last year.

Consolidated net profit for the third quarter this year amounted to $1,518,966, compared with a net loss of $916,108 in the like period of 1930.

Net for the first nine months this year amounted to $3,771,002, equal to 85 cents a share, compared with $2,492,747, or 56 cents a share in the corresponding nine months last year.

Directors declared a dividend of 25 cents a share, the same as has been paid quarterly since Jan. 2 last, when the payment was reduced from 75 cents quarterly.

Walter P. Chrysler, chairman, said the balance sheet of Sept. 30 showed the strongest cash position, and the highest ratio of current assets to current liabilities in the corporation's history.

Total current assets as of Sept. 30 were $87,892,615, compared with $87,579,087 as of June 30, and cash and marketable securities as of Sept. 30 totaled $60,186,165 against $55,257,096 on June 30 last.

Negro Given Six Months in Jail

Pleading guilty before Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Friday to a charge of aggravated assault, a negro arrested in Electra Wednesday night was assessed six months in the Wichita county jail.

Officers at Electra who arrested the man said he had been in that city about two weeks. He was accused of stopping two white girls in the residential district Wednesday night, and endeavoring to engage them in conversation. They fled, and reported his action to the police.

Arraigned before Judge Vogel Thursday afternoon, the defendant entered a plea of not guilty and demanded a jury trial. He announced his change of attitude Friday, however, and asked to be allowed to plead guilty.

A white woman was sentenced to 10 days in the county jail after pleading guilty to the theft of two dresses from an Electra store.

Services Held Here For S. N. Butler

Funeral services for Samuel N. Butler, 53, early settler of Archer county who died Wednesday at San Angelo, were held here Friday afternoon from the chapel of the Merkle Undertaking company.

Dr. O. L. Powers, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated. Burial was in the cemetery at Holliday, Texas. A long illness preceded Mr. Butler's death.

A native of Nashville, Tenn., Mr. Butler was 2 years of age when his family removed to Archer county in 1880. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Wyatt F. Parrish, Wichita Falls; and three brothers, B. B. Butler, Wichita Falls; C. H. Butler, Altus, Okla., and A. J. Butler, Gainesville, Texas.

Son Finds Mother's Grave After Long Search

WINNEMUCCA, Nev., Oct. 23. (UP)—One day during the month of August, 1860, a wagon train was crossing the Little Antelope Springs district near Scossa in Pershing county. The train halted while a baby boy was born and a grave was dug for the mother who gave her life during the birth.

The baby boy, Robert Coon of Chico, Calif., grew to manhood. Many times he wished he knew where the body of the mother he had never seen was located. A wide search was instituted.

Recently miners operating in the Scossa district came upon the grave's headstone. It was in as perfect condition as the day it was erected.

Reno Contractor Kills Estranged Wife and Man

RENO, Nev., Oct. 23. (AP)—William Conradt, local building contractor, early today shot and killed Fern Morley, recent arrival from Idaho, and his wife, Mrs. Joyce Conradt. The shooting occurred at the Conradt home here, police said. Conradt claimed he found his wife and Morley together.

Mrs. Conradt had filed suit for divorce only a week ago.

High School Rally

Nearly two dozen business men who have given their time to aid the high school pep squad and are sponsoring in part the show, "Let's Go Athletic," visited the student body Friday morning, when one of the most significant pep rallies of the season was staged.

Among the business men present were the following: J. Alvin Gardner, Joe E. Ward, Oral Jones, V. R. Smitham, Grover Bullington, Bert King, William E. Huff, William B. Ward, J. Wilkie Talbert, P. S. Richardson, Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, Burton Stayton, Gerald Coffey, Luther Hoffman, H. D. Fillers, Wilburn Page, Leroy Scheurer, W. A. Little, and H. S. Ford.

Many of the men present were former students of the high school and several were football players. The graduates who were present gave the date of their graduations as follows: Joe E. Ward, 1912; Oral Jones, 1908; Grover Bullington, 1915; Wm. B. Ward, 1915; Burton Stayton, 1910; Leroy Scheurer, 1912; Gerald Coffey, 1924.

Howard Bunch, chairman of the school athletic committee, presided over the rally program, which included brief but emphatic talks by Dr. Kimbrough, Bert King, Barry Holton, Coyote coach; Benny Withrow, captain of the Coyote team, and Mr. Bunch himself.

Bunch announced that the parade Saturday would start at 10 a. m. from the corner of Eighth and Travis streets. The pep squad, band, and other students will participate in the march.

The 100 pep squad girls were sitting on the stage in the W formation, and the high school band directed by Tom McCarty played during the rally. The entire student body joined in singing the Coyote songs.

Euclidean Club

Electing officers for the second six weeks' period of the school semester, members of the Junior college Euclidean club met Thursday night at the college.

The new officers for the ensuing six weeks are Helen Simpson, president; Keith Porterfield, vice president; Monroe Spoonts, secretary, and William Donnell, Wichitan reporter.

During the hour's session Leon Deaton gave a talk on Euclid, and the members discussed various puzzling problems.

J. I. Staley, out-going president, was in charge of the meeting.

CISCO BEATS BRECKENRIDGE

Loboes Take 12-7 Surprise Victory

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 23.—Ted Jeffries passed the Breckenridge football outfit completely out of the championship picture of the Oil Belt here this afternoon to set the Cisco Loboes on top of a 12 to 7 victory over the locals.

Breckenridge's defeat was greeted with despairing groans of 3,000 fans.

Outplaying the Breck eleven with a bagfull of glittering plays, the Loboes marked up the biggest surprise win in the district. The visitors were rated for fourth place in the district.

The Breckenridge bunch got off to a good start, and for awhile appeared to have the situation well in hand. McFall, Breck back, tallied in the first quarter. A moment later Henrich contributed the extra point with a placement kick.

The Loboes' ire was aroused and they retaliated with Hightower going over from the four-yard line after a pass netted a long gain. McCall missed goal.

A raging battle ensued until the fourth period, when the visitors accumulated the winning score. Hodges' punt was blocked on the goal line, and Van Horn, Cisco end, recovered for the touchdown. McCall's kick was blocked.

The scintillating plays of the Loboes were spellbinders not only for their opponents, but also for the spectators. The Cisco lads outplayed and outwitted the home boys from start to finish.

Abilene Downs Ranger, 14 to 0

ABILENE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—A stubborn Ranger defense yielded in the second and fourth quarters here this afternoon for the scores which won the Abilene Eagle's second oil belt victory of the year, 14 to 0.

Twice the Mayhew herd took the ball and hammered the Bulldogs back more than 40 yards for the touchdown, by widely different methods. Fifteen plays were required to manufacture the first counter for "Sad Sam" Jones, fullback; while Wyatt, fleet quarter of the Eagles, made the second in a single gallop of 47 yards, off Ranger's right tackle. A safety for Abilene just before Wyatt's dash accounted for the other two points.

The game was played on a muddy field. First downs were Abilene 14, Ranger 5. Spectacular punting by Roy Stevens, Ranger end, and the passing of Weaver kept the Eagles on the defensive for all of the first quarter.

St. Edward's and Trinity Battle to 6-6 Deadlock

WAXAHACHIE, Texas, Oct. 23. (AP)—St. Edwards and Trinity universities battled to a 6 and 6 tie here today in Waxahachie's first Texas conference game of the 1931 season.

In the second period Saint blockers cut Dillon loose with the ball and he continued 55 yards for a touchdown.

In the third period Trinity took to the air with Shick sailing a forward to Kroulik for 25 yards and a second to Autrey for 13 yards, placing the ball on the Saints' three-yard line. On the fourth attempt Autrey drove over for a touchdown. Kroulik failed to kick for the extra point.

The Saints threatened repeatedly, but were held at bay by the Tiger defense.

In the final minutes of the fourth period St. Edwards recovered a blocked punt on Trinity's 20-yard line, but failed in four running plays as the game ended.

Clarendon Defeats Wellington, 33 to 0

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Clarendon Bronchos outplayed the Wellington Skyrockets in every department of the game Friday afternoon to win 33 to 0. Clarendon scored 24 first downs to Wellington's six. Reid, McMahan, Andis, Watson and Behrens were stars for the winners while Williams, Cook, Glenn, Jones and Strong played the best football for Wellington. The outcome of the game definitely eliminates Wellington from the conference race, leaving the title of lower half of district to be decided between Clarendon and Memphis.

Eagles' Battle With Seymour Postponed

Special to The Record News.

CHILLICOTHE, Texas, Oct. 23.—On account of recent rains which turned football fields into muddy arenas, the Chillicothe-Seymour game, scheduled to have been played at Seymour today, was postponed. Officials expected to announce a date for the game soon.

Football Fans Crowd Auditorium For "Let's Go Athletic" Program

Attendance at Giant Rally Estimated at More Than 3,000; Coyotes Given City's Support in Game Today

That Wichita Falls has awakened to heed the spirit of athletics was evidenced Friday night at the Memorial auditorium when a packed house estimated at more than 3,000 persons attended the peppy rally program, "Let's Go Athletic."

Various dance, musical, and comedy hits attracted the large crowd to aid Wichita Falls High school in buying uniforms for the 100-girl pep squad, and to assist the football players. Walter Cline, chairman of the program, expressed his opinion that although the citizens should not expect the Coyotes to win the state championship this year, if the public enthusiasm and spirit aroused continues growing, they may expect a great development and improvement in the Coyote team.

Cline Presides

The first act of the show, "Let's Go Athletic," illustrated the awakening of athletic spirit. Five dainty and petite dancers gave a version of the awakening of snappy athletic spirit. The small toe dancers brought their part to a climax by arousing the sleepy spirit, a high-spirited little gentleman, who snapped into a tap dance that brought waves of applause from the crowd.

Between acts Walter Cline related his experiences as a high officer of the Rotary international. He told, on request, of his reception and decoration by the royal families of England and Belgium respectively. For the latter recognition, he wore the decorations, consisting of a high top silk sat and extremely formal evening attire. He also wore the medal he received on the occasion.

Hal Hoffer, staff piano artist of station KGKO, demonstrated his talent with several numbers and several encores.

Charles Doran, Leo Herzog and Emmett Davis, well known tap dancers, aroused the general mirth by various tap-dance and comedy stunts, first carrying on a dance competition, and later showing the audience what would happen to a Coyote who should run the wrong way.

The next act was comprised of a style show of the very latest in gowns, coats and hats. Representative models from the local stores crossed the stage with their fashionable garb, each model being preceded by a pep squad girl carrying the advertisement of the store from which the model obtained her attire.

Mattie Lenora Salmon, acrobatic dancer, amazed many with some unusual stunts and bodily contortions, showing the grace and limber movements attained by few.

Leaders Presented

The grand finale brought about the introduction of H. D. Fillers, Mrs. William Huff, Barry Holton, Bill Morris, Charles Lindsey, and Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, all of whom, according to Cline, have worked to make Wichita Falls athletic projects successful.

The American Legion drum and bugle corps played just before the entire pep squad, assembled on the stage, ended the rally with a Coyote song, accompanied by the high school band, which had played at intervals throughout the whole program. The girls were in the uniforms the program was to pay for.

Mr. Cline announced before the finale that at the game with Quanah Saturday no one was entitled to go out into the field except the players and officials.

BAPTISM

McKenney to Use Water From River Jordan In Services

The "Anniversary Day Program" at the First Methodist church, South, Sunday will be featured by the baptism of infants and young children promptly at 10:30 a. m., in the church auditorium. For this service, the pastor, Dr. S. S. McKenney, will use water which he brought from the River Jordan. Special emphasis will be given the reception of new members at the regular morning service, which begins at 10:50. The pastor's theme at this hour will be "The Fading Leaf."

Robinson Ousted By Brooklyn Club

to Robinson while the Ebbets heirs supported the 64-year-old warrior, it is understood a cash gift of $10,000 was given "Uncle Robbie" along with his release.

Robinson, next to the last of big league survivors of the famous old "Baltimore Orioles" of 1895-6-7, that numbered John McGraw, Willie Keeler and Hughie Jennings in its membership, became manager of the Robins 17 years ago. Round and fat and jolly, he has been famous in baseball circles for his keen wit.

There was a possibility today he might land the managerial post with the Pittsburgh Pirates left vacant by the release of Jewel Ens or that he might continue in baseball as a scout for the New York Yankees or a pitching coach, the same job he left with John McGraw and the New York Giants, when he took over the reins at Brooklyn.

His successor, Max Carey, is 41 years old. For 10 years, with Pittsburgh, Max was one of the National league's outstanding outfielders and base stealers, reaching his peak in 1916 when he stole 63 bases.

Services at Harrold For J. T. Pittman

Funeral services for J. T. Pittman, 55, 601 Baylor, who died at a hospital here Friday morning, will be held at Harrold, Texas, from the Baptist church at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. G. N. Neafus, pastor of the Iowa Park Baptist church, will officiate. Burial will be in the Harrold cemtery under the direction of the Tanner Undertaking company of Iowa Park.

Mr. Pittman and his family had been residents of Wichita Falls slightly more than a year. He is survived by his widow, two sons and two daughters.

Mothers' Auxiliaries for 19 Boy Scout Troops Planned at Meeting Here

Mothers' auxiliaries to the 19 Boy Scout troops in this city will be organized in the near future, and the head of each such auxiliary will become a member of the executive committee for Wichita Falls, according to action taken at the Highland Heights Christian church Friday night when about 35 mothers and 100 scouts celebrated the first "Mothers' Night" staged by the organization here.

The primary object of the auxiliary will be to lend all possible assistance to scoutmasters in their prosecution of organization work with the boys, it was announced. Each troop will aid in the organization of the mothers' auxiliary, which will elect its president. These presidents will be added to the executive committee. Individual auxiliaries will meet once each month, it was said.

Friday night's meeting opened with a singsong conducted by Dick Hambrick of troop 4, the songfest concluding with "America." Members of troop 15 gave a demonstration of scout laws, pantomiming the portrayal behind a screen so that shadows depicted the action for the onlookers.

All scoutmasters and mothers present were introduced. The evening closed with a prolonged session of indoor games, followed by light refreshments.

Hollis Wins Conference Opener With Sayre, 21-6

Special to The Record News.

HOLLIS, Okla., Oct. 23.—A brilliant array of fake plays proved the downfall of the Sayre, Okla., team, and the Hollis eleven today won its opening conference game of the season, 21 to 6. The Sayre eleven played stubbornly and put up a great fight.

Hollis was awarded a safety in the first quarter. In the second period Sayre managed its touchdown when Merrett, Sayre back, intercepted a Hollis pass and stepped 50 yards to the goal line. Hollis overtook their foes in the third quarter when they unleashed a series of fake plays that accounted for two touchdowns, after one of which extra point was made. The same fake plays were responsible for the third Hollis touchdown in the last period. Sayre played brilliantly in the fourth period. Burkett, Hollis half, intercepted a Sayre pass and ran 75 yards to the two-yard line, but Hollis on four downs could not gain an inch.

Burglars Get $27 In Two Raids Here

Two business concerns were burglarized here Thursday night, according to reports to police Friday. A total of $27 in cash was obtained.

Intruders at Biggs and company, 1401 Lamar, knocked the knob of the safe but failed to open the door. Entrance was gained through a skylight.

Burglars who entered the Blondy Thomason service station at 1400 Seventh street obtained $27 which was concealed in the building. Entrance was made after a window had been broken.

VETS OF 36TH OPEN REUNION

Many Wichitans to Attend First Convention

Between 50 and 100 Wichita county residents, veterans of service with the famous 36th division, will attend the first reunion of the division in Fort Worth Saturday and Sunday, it was learned Friday.

"Delegations from Wichita Falls, Burkburnett, Electra, Iowa Park and other communities in Wichita county will attend. Among those to go from Wichita Falls are Dr. Everett Jones, surgeon; Major D. M. Perkins, Joe H. Jones, Jacob B. Price, J. M. Williams, Joe Kell, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Blair, John Gill and many others.

RECEPTION HONORS GEN. JOHN A. HULEN

DALLAS, Oct. 23. (AP)—"Buddies" of the 36th division, famous fighting unit of the Southwest, were together again tonight for their first reunion since the termination of the world war.

The reunion was ushered in tonight with a reception honoring Maj. Gen. John A. Hulen. The reunion will continue through Sunday.

Thousands of members of the organization from Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico were assembling here.

Maj. Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the United States military academy at West Point, commanding officer of the 36th division during the war, planned to arrive in Dallas tomorrow as did Governors Ross S. Sterling of Texas, William H. Murray of Oklahoma and Arthur Seligman of Mexico.

Officers Nab Pair In Bold Attempt To Rob Box Cars

Two men were in the city jail here Friday night following a daring box car burglary in the downtown Katy yards.

One of the men was arrested when Jess Leverett, special M-K-T officer, came upon the two as they were removing goods from a box car onto a truck. The driver of the truck sped away, but was later taken into custody. A large quantity of dry goods and several automobile tires were recovered.

Two box cars on tracks just back of the Katy freight depot were entered. The two men, it was said, drove the truck alongside the cars about 7:30 p. m. when traffic near the spot was at its heaviest.

The second man was arrested shortly before midnight at a residence in the city by Mr. Leverett and A. L. Stubblefield, city detective. The stolen articles were found at the place. Value of the property was undetermined, although it is expected to considerably exceed $100. Federal charges probably will be filed Saturday.

Bellevue Masons Sponsor Program

Special to The Record News.

BELLEVUE, Texas, Oct. 23—The Bellevue High school auditorium was filled tonight by residents of Clay county, here for a public program sponsored by the Bellevue Masonic lodge in cooperation with the Masonic Education and Service Association of Texas.

The musical feature of the program was a group of selections given by the girls orchestra from the Masonic home in Fort Worth. The girls arrived late today in a special bus and were entertained by wives of Master Masons.

Worshipful Master E. L. Farr of the Bellevue lodge was master of ceremonies and the address of welcome was delivered by Mayor N. T. Gaines, chaplain of the local lodge.

Other speakers were Wilbur Keith, secretary of the educational association; Walter E. Caldwell of Wichita Falls, representative of the grand lodge; Al Ellis, P. B. Cox, W. E. Brothers, C. B. Wininger and Frank Collier of Wichita Falls and T. K. Howard of Henrietta.

PROBLEMS OF CITY DISCUSSED

C.-C. Leader Give Views at Luncheon Meeting

Greater effort to keep Wichita Falls citizens and concerns happy and satisfied with their city was urged by J. C. Mytinger at a joint meeting of chamber of commerce membership and the business council here Friday noon.

Other speakers took up the subjects of idle gossip and the harm it creates, the development of the Wichita irrigated valley, convincing prospective residents of Wichita Falls what a fine city is here, the necessity of paying school taxes, and the advantage of the chamber of commerce traffic department to shippers here.

Chief business of the meeting was to name a nominating committee to select 20 candidates for six places on the chamber of commerce board, to be elected at the annual meeting in January.

Gossipers Scored

The committee is composed of Jack Barnard, B. B Greever, W. E. Huff, Oral Jones, J. S. Hargett, J. T. Harrell and Grover Bullington. The group was instructed by J. L. Jackson Jr., president, to report its choice of candidates within 10 days.

The committee will hold its first meeting in the chamber offices at 3:30 p. m. Wednesday to elect a chairman to take initial steps toward the completion of its task.

Idle gossip concerning cities, organizations, business firms and individuals was attacked by several speakers, including Mr. Jackson. Great harm, it was pointed out, is caused needlessly by thoughtless and unfounded rumors.

A. E. Kelly, member of the executive committee of the Wichita Valley Development association, which organized at a mass meeting here Thursday, spoke on the importance of the development program to citizens of Wichita Falls and this section.

"It is a work that should have been done 10 years ago," he declared in speaking of the proposed project. "We have in our irrigation system one of the greatest advantages any city could boast, an advantage to each of us individually and to every commercial enterprise in Wichita Falls."

In addition to urging that effort be made to keep citizens and concerns satisfied here, Mr. Mytinger stressed the need of acquainting people of the trade territory with the advantages in residing here.

"When these people out in our trade territory become dissatisfied with their homes and are getting ready to move to new locations," the speaker said, "we should have them already convinced that Wichita Falls is the best destination."

School Taxes

Dr. J. B. Nail explained the situation of the school system here at the present, and pointed out the need of citizens to pay their taxes.

Use of the chamber of commerce traffic department by chamber of commerce members was urged by R. H. Schultz. Explaining that an efficient department is maintained for the advantage of members, it was pointed out that with present complicated freight rate systems such an organization often can be of great benefit to business concerns.

Bert King announced the Wichita Falls-Quanah football game here Saturday, and called attention to the athletic program "Let's Go Athletic," presented Friday night at the Memorial auditorium.

ALFALFA RECORD

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 23.—Henry Kiesling of five miles east of Vernon in the Pease river valley has established a record for the past summer of drouth conditions in his alfalfa harvest. From five acres of the crop planted last fall Kiesling harvested 350 bales his summer, averaging two and one-third tons per acre.

Busy Week Planned By C-C Leaders

A program of much activity is planned for chamber of commerce committees next week, it was announced Friday by J. L. Jackson Jr., chamber president.

Four important committees will hold meetings during the week. The nominating committee, named Friday to select 20 candidates for the election of six directors at the annual meeting in January, will hold its first meeting Wednesday at 3:30 p. m. to elect a chairman.

Thursday at 3 p. m. a joint meeting of the program of work and the budget committees will be held as a preliminary to work of preparing a 1932 program of work and budget. Jack Barnard is chairman of the program group, John F. O'Donohoe is chairman of the budget committee.

Saturday, Oct. 24, the program committee of the business council will assemble at 10:30 a. m. to formulate programs for the organizations three remaining luncheons for the year. The business council will hold meetings on Nov. 13 and 27 and Dec. 11.

All committee meetings are called to be held in the directors room of the chamber offices.

Junior C-C to Give Dance Here Tonight

The Junior chamber of commerce will present a fall dance for members and friends Saturday night at the Wichita club.

H. B. Dudley, vice chairman of the social committee, announced Friday that Gordon Shay's orchestra will furnish music for the dancing, which will continue from 9 to 12 p. m. Reception will be in charge of the junior chamber's committee for that purpose, headed by Pat Hardage.

Friends of members may attend by presenting courtesy cards, obtainable at the junior chamber offices, it was said.

AUTO RECOVERED

Police here were informed Friday that an automobile recently stolen from D. L. Naylor, 1716 McGregor street, had been recovered in Sayre, Okla., with the arrest of two men.

400 ATTEND BAPTIST MEET

13 Counties Draw Plans for Canvass

More than 400 workers representing Baptist churches in 13 counties comprising the eleventh Texas district held an all-day conference at the First Baptist church Friday in preparation for the every-member canvass to be staged during the week of Nov. 29.

The canvass is planned to require seven days, and to enlist every member of the Baptist churches in this district in the contribution of funds for missionary work during the ensuing year.

Speakers who appeared before the convention Friday spoke principally of the missionary program for which funds are being raised, and of methods for putting over the canvass. Dr. J. Howard Williams of Dallas spoke Friday morning on "The Baptist Cooperative Program." Early in the afternoon Dr. Wallace Bassett, also of Dallas, delivered an inspirational address on "The Baptist Contribution to World Wide Missions." T. C. Gardner of Dallas gave two talks, one on "Methods of the Every-Member-Canvass," and the other on "A Survey of Our Work."

The conference was conducted by Rev. McKinley Norman, pastor of the Baptist church at Quanah. It included group discussion during the afternoon by various county associations. Leaders of these groups were W. H. Copeland, Vera, Baylor-Knox association; J. N. Hunt, Henrietta, Clay county; J. R. Billington, Paducah, Red Ford association; J. D. Thorn, Graham, Throckmorton-Young association; S. F. Martin, Wichita Falls, Wichita-Archer association; and W. W. Smith, Crowell, Wilbarger-Foard association.

Last Services Today For Mrs. W. D. Clapp

Funeral services for Mrs. W. D. Clapp, 68, resident of Wichita Falls for more than 40 years who died Wednesday in Eureka Springs, Ark., will be held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the Church of the Good Shepherd.

The Rev. W. D. Bratton, rector of the church, will officiate. Burial will be in Riverside. Arrangements are in charge of the Merkle Undertaking company, which will receive the body on its return here early Saturday morning from Eureka Springs.

The body will lie in state at the Merkle Undertaking company parlors until 3:30 p. m. The casket will not be opened at the church, it was said.

Mr. and Mrs. Clapp had been residents of Wichita Falls since 1888, but had spent their summers away from here for the past eight years. At the time of Mrs. Clapp's death she was visiting a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Lent in Eureka Springs. Death was caused indirectly by a back injury received last May as the result of a fall.

HELD ON INDICTMENT

Sheriff Perry Browning will leave early Saturday morning for Laredo in order to bring Clyde Bean, alias R. M. Evans, back to the Wichita county jail pending trial on a charge of burglary.

The defendant was indicted here by the grand jury last July. He was apprehended at Laredo several days ago for some offense there, according to information received by Sheriff Browning. Laredo officers wired Friday that they were ready to turn the prisoner over to Wichita county officers. Mr. Browning stated that he would be back Monday.

"BULK," VITAMIN B, IRON All in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

IF YOU suffer from ordinary constipation, you will be benefited by Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Millions have found it brings relief.

Scientific tests show ALL-BRAN supplies "bulk," Vitamin B, and iron. "Bulk" promotes elimination. Vitamin B tones the intestinal tract. Iron helps build blood.

In the package, ALL-BRAN has a shredded appearance. But within the body, it changes to a soft mass, which gently cleanses the intestines. It is much like the "bulk" in lettuce or spinach.

Get the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Try two tablespoonfuls daily, for a week. ALL-BRAN is natural—far better than pills or drugs, which may cause too strenuous action.

ALL-BRAN is already cooked, flavored and krumbled—bran in its finest form. Serve as a cereal or try the delicious recipes on the package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.
