Allan Sheppard Rotary Speaker

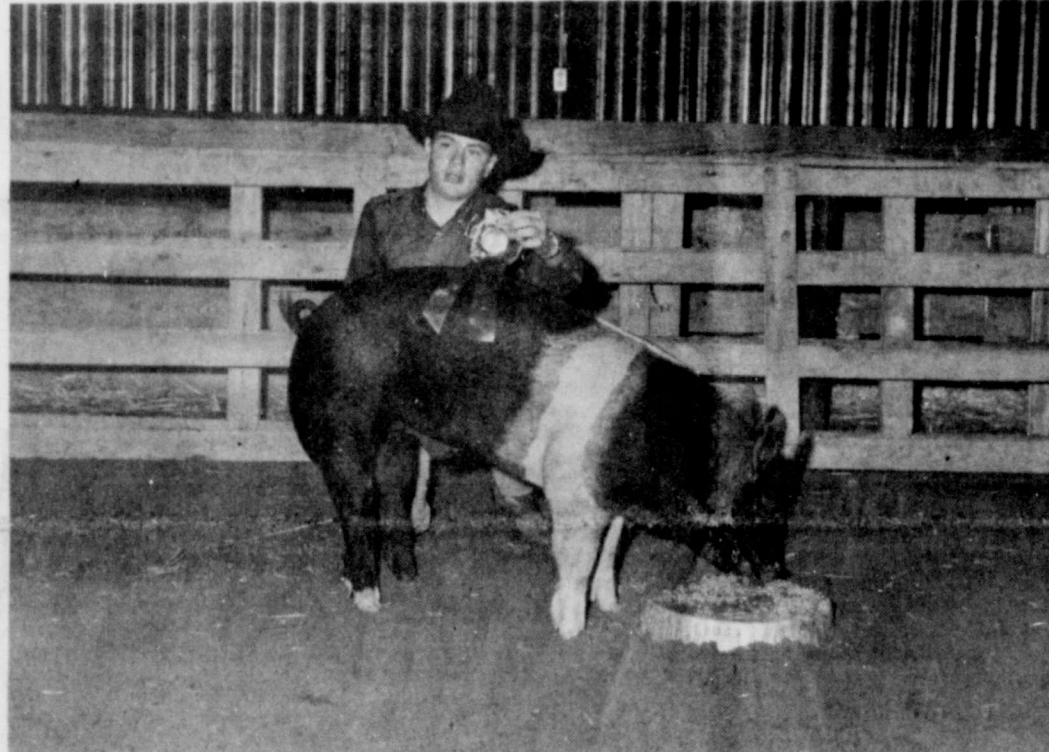

Allan Sheppard of the local Conservation Service Office spoke at the Rotary Club Thursday on Conservation and the White Wing Pheasant. He told of the program being carried out by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department in an attempt to introduce the bird, a native of Afghanistan, to this area. To date, 700 White Wing Pheasants have been released in Lynn county and some of them are known to have raised young. He issued a plea for cooperation of farmers, ranchers, hunters and others to help furnish cover for the birds and to help give them protection. He says they offer bright prospects of adding to farmers income as has the Ringneck Pheasant on the North Plains, where hunters pay good prices to landowners for the privilege of hunting.

Joyce Davis is a patient in room 406 in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, after undergoing surgery Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Meldon Leslie are visiting relatives in Henry, Okla., this week.

An area of Eastern New Mexico already has an open season on the bird. Calloway Huffaker made the presentation of one of Dr. K. R. Durham's engraved walking canes to the club's newest grand father, Banker Warren Embree. Clint Walker was in charge of the program.

Girl Scout Cookie Sale Starts Friday

Girl Scouts of the Caprock Council will begin their annual cookie sale, Friday, February 26, announced Mrs. Robert Busby, of Lubbock, Council Cookie Chairman.

Girl Scouts in the 18-county council will be selling the cookies through March 1. The price will be 50 cents per box. Around 6,000 girls will be selling five kinds of cookies: mint, assorted sandwich, butter flavored shorties, peanut butter and pecanettes. Profits from the sale are divided between the troops and council. Council profits will be used for building and improving camp Rio Blanco.

Camp Rio Blanco is the camp for the entire council. It is located northeast of Crosbyton. Summer sessions will begin in June. Each session will be based on the Girl Scout Program in the out-of-doors. Camp activities include crafts, hikes, swimming, songs, campfires, cook-outs, nature study and star gazing. Six sessions are scheduled for girls of various age groups.

While girls are selling cookies they will wear their Girl Scout uniforms or pins. A two-week campership for Camp Rio Blanco will be awarded to Girl Scouts who sell 350 boxes of cookies, or more.

These recipes contain Girl Scout Cookies:

MINTED BROWNIE PIE
14 chocolate mint cookies
3 egg whites
dash of salt
3/4 cup sugar
1/2 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup chopped nut meats
1/2 to 1 cup heavy cream whipped

Chill cookies in refrigerator a few minutes, if they have been stored in warm places and frosting is slightly stuck. Break cut or roll between fold of waxed paper to even crumbs. Beat egg whites and salt together until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Beat in vanilla. Fold in crumbs and chopped nut meats. Spread evenly in buttered 9-inch pie plate. Bake in slow oven, 325 F., 35 min. cool thoroughly. Serve with sweetened whipped cream on each wedge; or spread sweetened whipped cream over top, chill 3 to 4 hours and garnish with curls of shaved unsweetened chocolate.

Girl Scouts Elect Officers

Girl Scout troop 32 met for its weekly meeting Tuesday. Officers were elected. They are: president - Bridget Faulkes; vice-president - Jona Valentine; Secretary - Inola Thomas; Reporter - Tammie McKibben.

We discussed our cookie sale which is to begin Friday at 4:00. Each girl is looking forward to this and hopes to sell a lot of cookies.

Then we divided into patrols to plan an outing for Sat. if weather permits. We are to meet at the city park at 12:30 with a sack lunch. There will be singing, games and working on badges. Each patrol will go to a local grocery store with an adult leader to buy groceries for their cookout. Each girl is to bring 60c. This is required in earning one of our badges. Then we will cook out our meal and cleanup.

After our cookout we will have a Scouts own around the campfire as the sun is setting. A scouts own is a ceremony expressing the spirit of Girl Scouting. The theme is to be "Girls". Each girl will be participating either in singing of song or reciting poems. This has been planned by the girls. In all we plan to have a fun day.

Green Plants Guard The Atmosphere

Green plants play a vital role in our every day survival and well-being. They are the great air purifiers of the world, reminds Everett Janne, Extension landscape horticulturist. They have the ability to take carbon dioxide from the air and convert it to oxygen which is vital to all animal life. In the process of photosynthesis, plants manufacture the basic carbohydrate materials ultimately used for food. Too, Janne says, plants, especially trees and shrubs, can improve the environment and have great esthetic value.

New Disease Threat To U S Horses

Encephalitis, or sleeping sickness, has long been a problem for American horsemen; and a relative of this disease from Venezuela may be a threat in this country. Dr. William Sippel, executive director of the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratory, says that the Venezuelan form of the disease has already been found in Mexico. This would not normally be a problem except that the vaccine for the common strain in this country has no effect on the foreign variety. Vaccines have not as yet become available in the United States. Symptoms of the two varieties are similar. In the early stages, the horse may be paralyzed in muscle groups, such as the face or legs. Later the animal may stand with his head against a tree or wall, says Dr. Sippel. The afflicted horse may just start walking and go through fences or whatever else is in his path. Finally, the animal will get down and suffer hard convulsions just before death. As is the case with the common Western or Eastern encephalitis, the foreign strain can attack humans. Dr. Sippel advises horse owners to watch for the symptoms and report the first suspicious signs to a veterinarian.

1040 U.S. Individual Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q) I moved into a motel with my family for a few weeks while our home was being fixed up after a fire. Is it true the living expenses paid by our insurance for this period are not taxable?

A) Amounts you received for living expenses from your insurance company may be partially tax exempt under the Tax Reform Act of 1969. It provides that amounts received to offset an increase in your living costs as a result of the loss of use of your home need not be reported.

Q) My wife hired a cleaning woman last month. Where can I get information about the social security tax that has to be paid for this help?

A) Send a post card to your local IRS office and ask for a copy of Form 942, Employer's Quarterly Return for Household Employees. It has the information you will need to fill out the form. The deadline for filing the return and paying taxes due Q) Are strike benefits taxable?

A) Yes, in most cases they are unless the facts show that they were intended as a gift. A gift would be indicated where the benefits are paid to nonunion as well as union workers, on the basis of need, in situations where unemployment and public assistance programs are not available.

Q) I bought a lot of raffle tickets that my church and the volunteer fire department were selling at the county fair. Can I add these to my other charitable contributions?

A) No, they are treated as gambling losses under Federal tax law. If you itemize deductions, losses may be deducted but only to the extent of winnings. This would reduce the tax due.

A car or other merchandise won in a raffle must be included in income at its fair market value.

Q) Where can I get help with my taxes? I just opened a business of my own.

A) Contact your local IRS office. They have a special publication "Mr. Businessman's Kit" designed especially for you. They will arrange to meet with you to present your questions and to explain your obligations under the tax laws.

Q) I just got a letter saying my 1968 return is being examined. How far can you go back?

A) IRS generally has three years from the date a return is due to assess additional taxes. However, under special circumstances the general rule may not apply. For example, in fraud cases there is no time limit.

Happy Home Environment WHAT'S THE IDEAL?

Most people would agree that the ideal happy home environment must take into consideration the environmental aspects as well as the spiritual and human relationships.

In the present state of technology, electricity does its job well when it comes to environmental aspects of conditioning the air in your home.

The ideal system, now available, not only does its job of comfort heating in winter and comfort cooling in summer but also refines the air itself. Electric humidifiers control the amount of moisture in the air and electrostatic air cleaners remove undesirable dust particles.

So then, 4 things to give you a happier home environment . . . electric heating, electric cooling, electric humidification and electric air cleaning . . . and all of it automatically. Ask your Public Service manager for complete information.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Claps of distant thunder failed to dampen Freddie's determination to finish his round of golf. But when the rain began to fall, he took hasty refuge in a weather shelter near the thirteenth tee.

Moments later, a bolt of lightning struck the shelter and knocked Freddie flat. For the resulting injuries, he filed a damage suit against the management of the club.

"I realize the lightning itself was an act of God," he told the court. "But they invited trouble when they put that shelter where they did. They put it right out in the open, on high ground. No wonder it was struck by lightning."

However, the court decided that Freddie had no case. Even if the shelter's location was less than ideal, said the court, the chance of such a freak accident was still too remote to pin the blame on the management.

"Lightning," said the court, "is inconsistent (and) inscrutable. It is no respecter of persons, places or occasions."

When a golfer pays his fee, he is entitled to reasonably safe conditions on the course. But, as Freddie's case illustrates, he does not get a guarantee of absolute safety.

Nor can he blame the management for an injury that might well be the fault of another golfer.

Thus, the management was held not liable when a golfer sat down on a bench and it tipped over. His argument was that the bench had been placed negligently on uneven ground. But the

MR. AND MRS. H. B. McCORD

McCord's Observe 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord, Sr. will be honored with a reception to celebrate their Golden wedding anniversary at their home, 1729 N. 4th Street, Tahoka, from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 28. Hosting the occasion will be their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. McCord, Jr.

McCord and Miss Estelle Smith were married in the home of her parents, Feb. 5, 1921. Both of their families came to Lynn County in 1916 and settled in the Grassland community.

They farmed in the Grassland community for 9 years court said there was no way of telling whether the bench had been put there by employees of the club or by some other golfer.

On the other hand, the management can indeed be held responsible for failing to ward off foreseeable accidents. In another case, a golfer walking through the parking lot was knocked down by a wayward tee shot. As it happened, balls flew that way with considerable frequency. Yet, no fence had been erected as a safeguard.

This time, the club had to pay substantial damages to the victim. The judge said it was not hard for the management to put up a fence — and not hard to foresee accidents if it didn't.

Ag. Handbook Now Available

Another year of hard work and effort has gone into the result demonstration program in Lynn County, reports County Agricultural Agent W. B. Griffin. And the "fruit of the labor" is a complete report of these on-farm demonstrations that is now available at the County Extension Office.

The overall agricultural demonstration program is sponsored by the County Program Building Committee, points out Griffin. Mr. Bertice Askew is chairman of this committee. In charge of the overall Crops Committee is R. L. Warren.

A total of 17 demonstrations were conducted in 1970, with 14 producers cooperating, adds Griffin. All demonstrations were planned with the interests of the county producers in mind. Those which should be of special interest to producers include variety demonstrations, disease control demonstrations, fertilizer demonstrations, and nematode control demonstrations.

The past year was a good year for our result demonstration program," points out Griffin. "Some of our findings are especially noteworthy since the county received very limited moisture during the year."

Griffin adds that copies of the handbook are available to all interested producers and agribusinessmen.

A.S.C.S. NEWS

The Lynn County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service officials have returned after a two day State ASCS Conference in Galveston where they received a first hand briefing on the new farm programs and President Nixon's proposed new executive reorganization plan.

Bertice Askew, Chairman of the County ASCS Committee, attended the conference, along with Committee Members Boyd Barnes, Wayman Smith, and County Executive Director, Gerald P. Guy. Over 800 State, County, and Federal ASCS officials participated in the conference proceedings held on February 9 and 10.

Mr. Askew said that the two principal opening day speakers were E. F. (Fritz) Behrens, Executive Assistant to Agriculture Secretary Clifford Hardin and Charles M. Cox, Assistant Deputy Administrator, State and County Operations, ASCS, Washington, D. C.

Chairman Askew said that Behrens spoke about the "complete overhaul" of the Executive Branch needed to make Government "more responsive to the public."

The Washington official said that "national social and economic goals have been seriously impeded by vagueness or inconsistency in the definition of agency missions, jurisdictional rivalry between agencies, fragmentation, inflexibility and difficulty in affixing responsibility."

According to Behrens, the President's plan calls for organizing the Executive Branch around the "major purposes of government" and involves reducing the number of Departments to four: Departments of Human Resources, Community Development, and Natural Resources. However, he assured the audience that the major agencies involved with farm income and marketing will continue to be associated in a single department.

Askew said that Assistant Deputy Administrator Cox gave the group details of the recently passed farm legislation.

The county official said Mr. Cox indicated Texas farmers will get better incomes from the marketplace and will become less dependent upon Government programs under the new farm programs. Cox stressed: "Farmers are now provided with greater freedom of choice in determining which crops they can grow to best advantage. They will be able to cut production costs, improve their incomes, and compete for market positions. He said Cox described the greater freedom farmers have to make their own cropping decisions under the set-aside provisions as the "key" to success of the new farm programs.

Featured speakers on the second day of the conference were George V. Hansen, Deputy Administrator for State and County Operations, and J. P. Jones, ASCS Southwest Area Director of 10 Southwest States.

Chairman Askew said that Mr. Hansen emphasized that the new Rural Environmental Assistance program (REAP), formerly known as the Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP), will be used to preserve the environment, demonstrate good environmental enhancement practices and return more public benefit at less public cost.

He said Hansen explained: "We're going to take the strong base of ACP, keeping those practices and procedures that contribute to our National goals for improving the environment. We are going to put major emphasis on agriculture-related pollution prevention and abatement measures."

Hansen said that REAP will focus on community-sponsored projects for flood prevention and small watershed protection, pollution abatement, and the safeguarding of lakes and streams, according to Askew.

Southwest Area Director Jones, formerly a Kress, Texas, farmer, emphasized the importance of making sure that farmers fully understand all the opportunities available to them under the new farm program, Askew said.

He said Jones commented: "The new farm program provides the best opportunity in 35 years for improving the situation for the Nation's farmers." Explaining that the set-aside offers farmers more options than they have had in the past, Jones asserted that this factor makes it extremely important that farmers know how to exercise these options intelligently.

Mr. Askew said that State ASCS Committee Chairman Clarence A. Danklifs and Committee Members Frank H. Hinson, Charles L. Calhoun, J. Barry Rudd, and Jose M. Villarreal led conference discussion groups. D. W. McElwath presided at general sessions. Various other State and Federal ASCS officials participated.

SOIL CONSERVATION NEWS

Lynn County has had a real stroke of good luck since January 1. $52,923.00 has been allocated for use of Great Plains Conservation Program participants. This has enabled 14 producers who have made application for the program to sign contracts for cost sharing. This gives us with only 9 applications at this time. Therefore, anyone wishing to apply to the program or consider any mechanical practices should come by and discuss it with us at the SCS office across from the Tahoka Cafeteria.

This $52,923.00 was reallocated to Lynn County after other areas were not able to secure contracts for conservation. If Lynn County had not a list of applications ready to begin work we would not have gotten the money. This is why we need more applications to Great Plains Program participation.

This money obligated for conservation practices directly stimulates the economy of the county. Participation in the program are spending their money to get the practices installed. The Department of Agriculture shares in the cost of applying these practices. This money is in turn paid back to all people by the contractor for fuel, parts, labor, along with living expenses such as groceries and lodging.

The Lynn County Soil Conservation District has entered Texas Conservation Awards

Cotton Program To Be Today

A cotton program designed to give producers information on the key items concerning the industry—that's what the Fifth Annual SPD (South Plains Development) Cotton Production Program has to offer.

The annual program will be held on February 25 in the KoKo Palace in Lubbock, announces County Agricultural Agent W. B. Griffin. Registration will begin at 9:15 a.m.

Featured on the program will be topics which are of keen interest to area cotton producers. These include cotton markets, varieties, new methods of handling seed cotton, agricultural policies and economics, the new farm program, cultural practices and narrow-row cotton. A machinery display will feature narrow-row harvesters.

Highlighting the day-long program will be a discussion by Dr. John E. Hutchison, Director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, on "A Billion Dollar Increase in Agricultural Income for Texas." This discussion will deal with the new Extension program labeled "3.76 in '76" which is designed to increase agricultural income in the state by $1 billion by 1976.

Bill Griffin encourages all cotton producers and others interested in the cotton industry in Lynn County to make plans to attend. "The type of program that is being planned should be profitable and informative to all who attend," adds Griffin.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

There is at least reason for "cautious optimism" in the cotton industry today, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

Citing recent stories in textile publications of all-cotton resurgence in a number of end uses, statements of textile mill officials, and the appearance of more all-cotton items in apparel markets and department stores, Johnson says "We have definitely made a start along the road to increased cotton consumption."

Two recent headlines in The Daily News Record, a New York publication devoted to news of the textile industry, triggered Johnson's remarks. One reads "ALL-COTTONS ACTION DOMINATES MARKET," and the other "BRUSHED COTTONS STAR ON FALL SLACKS SCENE." And there have been others in the same vein.

"The popularity of prints for the dress trade and jeans is one big reason for the action in cottons," says the first story. "Print cloths and broadcloths are particularly strong because of the print surge, and some mills expect this to continue for the Fall 1971 and Spring 1972 seasons," the story continued.

Heavier weight cottons are enjoying great demand as mills strive to meet the growing market for jeans. And at least one weaver sees brushed sateens as being bigger next Spring than they are now, with the revival of interest in brushed or "sanded" cottons reflecting a new emphasis on the "soft touch" in dress up jeans.

Also, the move in shirting fabrics from plain shade blends to stripes is boosting cotton consumption. According to James Kelly, president of the Apparel Fabrics Division of Springs Mills, "There is no doubt that the ability of cottons to take color so well has helped them." Don Reed, president of Alice Mills is reported as saying he thinks blended goods will experience improvement in the June-July period, but adds that he "sees a strong call for cottons at least through the Fall 1972 season."

Ben Tipton of Dan River Mills told PCG officials at an informal meeting during the National Cotton Council Convention recently "We have had a crew working for six weeks changing looms over from blends to all cottons, and we have just put another crew to work doing the same thing."

The other side of the coin, according to the Daily News Record, is that mills running on blends have been "in severe curtailment" with looms on four days a week and even three in a few reported instances. And prices for blends are now well below cost for even the most efficient weavers, DNR states.

Along with jeans and dressier slacks in the move toward more all-cotton fabrics is sports wear, corduroys and striped shirts, largely for the youth market. Young people, it seems, are more interested in the natural look, color and comfort than in durable press qualities. As one merchandiser put it "they're not against durable press, they're just indifferent to it."

Closer to home, a quick survey of a few department stores in Lubbock shows that the "all-cotton action" at the mill level is beginning to trickle down to the consumer level. One department store manager in Lubbock said "We have considerably more all-cottons in young ladies apparel for Spring, including cotton knit pants, terry-cloth shorts, blouses and shirts—more than we've seen in years, not because we sought cotton goods any harder than before, but simply because there were more cottons available to us when we went to market."

The buyer for another junior department, this one the Lubbock branch of a major chain, said "We are not only being offered more cotton fabrics, but what we are being offered in most instances is greatly improved over the cottons of a few years ago."

The Daily News Record says "It is ironic that blended goods, the subject of so much hoopla not long ago, should be going through difficult times while the old style all-cotton print cloths and broadcloths have been in demand."

But Johnson thinks it even more ironic, and more heartening to cotton people, that it is the younger generation, not the old, that is demanding "old style" cotton fabrics.

Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Gov. Preston Smith placed a new $470 million revenue-raising program before the Legislature, and prompt action toward consideration in the House was promised by Speaker Gus Mutscher.

Governor proposed raising the general sales and auto sales tax rates to four per cent and boosting tuitions in state supported colleges and universities.

He stuck by his original recommendation to appropriate welfare funds for only 10 months of the biennium, meanwhile trusting that the federal government will take over 100 per cent of welfare costs. Latter assumes a shift of the nearly $300 million state load to Washington.

Smith, addressing a joint session of the House and Senate, served notice he is again insisting on a biennial (two-year) budget -- except for welfare -- and hinted strongly he would veto a one-year appropriations bill favored by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, as he did in 1969.

Here's how Smith calculates the yield on his revenue plan which replaces the spend-now-pay-later scheme he outlined January 20:

Boosting general sales tax rate from 3.25 per cent to four per cent, $300 million for the biennium.

Raising auto sales tax rate from three to four per cent, for a $70 million gain.

Hiking Texas student tuitions from $50 to $125 a semester and out-of-state student fees in state institutions of higher education from $200 to $500 a semester, estimated to yield another $100 million.

While lawmakers found the new plan more realistic than the no-new-tax message, many expressed the view it would not pass unless coupled with some form of business taxation. Some legislators labeled it insufficient to meet budget needs. Most criticism centered on "lack of balance" between consumer-business levies and the stiff tuition increase recommendation.

EMERGENCY BILLS PASSED. Legislature completed action on emergency bills to avert the threatened March 1 cut in medical assistance and aid to needy families with dependent children.

Final bill cleared by the House and sent to the Governor would divert $35 million of teacher retirement fund income from April through August. An earlier bill made the appropriation to welfare purposes.

Surprisingly, a bill to create a $185 million bond fund for building new colleges and universities, which sailed through House and has backing of the Governor and Lieutenant Governor, bogged down in senate committee. Measure now is in subcommittee, but Lieutenant Governor Barnes still predicts passage.

LIQUOR BILL EMERGES. Long-awaited bill to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink on a local option basis was introduced in the Senate by Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso and in the House by Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi.

Legislature was empowered to pass such an act by the constitutional amendment lifting the open saloons ban at last November's general election.

Christie said the bill is "clean enforceable" and contains no "arbitrary, unreasonable and indefensible restrictions" such as limiting mixed drink sales to establishments selling food.

Initial permit fees would cost $5,000 and annual renewals $500. Hale will introduce later tax legislation calling for a 10 per cent gross receipts levy on sale and service of mixed beverages.

Tax bill also will increase gallonage tax on distilled spirits from $1.68 to $2.70 and up wine tax per gallon in accord with the alcoholic content of vinous liquor.

Bill will further exempt mixed beverage permit holders and private clubs from the general sales tax and repeal the private club service fee of five cents a drink. Hale and Christie estimate a biennial additional tax revenue of $28 million. Miniature bottles, subject of contention in prior legislative clashes over mixed drinks, would be banned. Mixed drink sellers would buy their stock from Texas wholesalers.

Legislation is expected to stir one of the sessions "more spirited" debates.

COURTS SPEAK. State Supreme Court agreed to consider a court of civil appeals decision concerning the city of San Antonio's annexation of five miles of U. S. Highway 281 right-of-way.

High Court reversed an intermediate court and withdrew an earlier opinion, concluding that a home for retired teachers in Waco must pay property taxes to the city and school district.

A Dallas woman got a new hearing in a court of civil appeals in her lawsuit against a Connecticut life insurance company over $20,000 in coverage on her late husband. Supreme Court sent the case back for consideration of whether death was accidental or self-inflicted.

U. S. Supreme Court upheld the tough state rule on private club operations.

Federal district court here banned the use of federal funds to buy Mustang Island parkland. Appeal is being filed.

Court of Criminal Appeals affirmed a 65-year prison sentence assessed a man in the shooting of the Cross Plains city marshal.

APPOINTMENTS. Governor Smith named Charles E. Simons of Dallas, executive vice-president of Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, to the State Highway Commission.

In other recent action, Smith also appointed: Emory E. Gose Jr. of Houston to the Texas Aeronautics Commission and reappointed Rex C. Caudle of Denton.

Former State Sen. Walter H. Richter of Austin (formerly of Gonzales) director of the state drug abuse control program.

Irving M. Axelrod of Houston to the State Commission for the Blind and reappointed Thurman Dobbins of Austin to the Commission.

Dr. John Berry Bowen of Sweetwater as a member of the Texas Optometry Board and reappointed Dr. N. Jay Rogers of Beaumont to the Board.

Victor B. Fain of Nacogdoches (reappointment) to the Commission for Indian Affairs.

Mrs. Joyce Heard of Dallas (reappointment) to the State Board of Tuberculosis Nurse Examiners.

Grady C. Clark Jr. to the State Seed and Plant Board and reappointed Wilmer Smith of Wilson and Helmo Staffell Jr. of Austin.

B. F. Block of Sunray to the Texas Water Well Drillers Board.

Senate nominations committee by 8-3 vote, recommended confirmation of Jack Stone of Wells to the Parks and Wildlife Commission.

ENVIRONMENTALISTS RAL- LY--First Texas Environmental Education Conference drew a crowd of 1,000 to meet with state officials on ecological issues.

Environmentalists, who claim state effort to save natural resources and prevent pollution are uncoordinated and inadequate, are sponsoring some 60 pieces of legislation. One would establish the Office of Environmental Quality with veto power over other state agencies to protect natural resources.

HOUSING COMMUNITY PLANS TOLD. Governor Smith presented a special message to the Legislature recommending "bold, massive" programs to improve housing and encourage community development.

Message recommended an official state urban policy, creation of a community affairs department, an advisory commission on intergovernmental relations, a state housing finance corporation and a state housing redevelopment corporation.

Governor also urged broad authority for local governments to improve services and efficiency through interlocal contracts, subdivision standards outside cities and year-round voter registration.

SHORT SNORTS. Senate passed a constitutional amendment to guarantee that equality under law cannot be denied because of sex, race, color, creed or national origin...House approved repeal of 'an old law requiring county commissioners to force land owners to kill prairie dogs...Establishment of telephone and utilities regulatory commissions came under heavy fire at Senate committee hearing...Game, fish and water safety law violations brought the state $46,054 in fines during the last fiscal year, a $44,000 increase...March draft call for Texas is 908, Selective Service announced...Mental Health-Mental Retardation accepted $744,531 in federal grants...Credit union may not invest in a subsidiary corporation which is unrelated to its original purpose, Atty. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Citizens of Tahoka and Lynn County,

Wake up before it is too late! How many of you are complaining about how the school system is run, or how the town is run?

If you answered yes, what are you doing about it? No one has the right to complain if the don't care enough to do something about the complaint. Do you know someone who could better fill a position that will be open in the coming elections? Go talk to them now! Get behind them, support them and help them get elected. But remember, that is only the first step. If they are elected, stay behind them and help them obtain the changes they worked so hard for the privilege of changing.

The change you want can not be made over night. It may take ten years for even one goal to be reached. But if you are old enough to vote you are old enough to know that things don't happen over night.

We must all care enough to do something, even if it is wrong. Not caring is the greatest injustice to our American heritage that can be made.

If only when we reach thirty we could still have the enthusiasm of a teenager to fight for what we believe in without worrying if our jobs are laid off or if we don't conform.

How many of us, over thirty, don't even bother to vote because we say, "Oh, no one wants the way I do, my vote is not worth anything." No, your vote is not worth anything unless you use it!

Girl Scout Hut Has Face Lifting

The Girl Scout Hut located in the old County Library has recently undergone a face lifting. Through a donation from the Lions Club and other sources, the meeting room has been painted a sunny yellow and the floor has a beautiful new covering. The Girl Scouts in Tahoka, who now number almost 100, range from 2nd grade Brownies to a troop of junior high Cadettes, and are indeed happy about the renovation of their meeting place. Each little girl and adult leader wishes to express her thanks for the labor and materials that have made the Hut safer and much more pleasant. In the words of the girls, "It's simply groovy."

Mrs. Jewel Connolly has been released from St. Mary's Hospital and is now at home.

Past Days In Lynn County

Messrs. M.H. Snowden and C. A. Rayburn of Littlefield have removed to this place and opened a Chevrolet sales and service business under the firm name of Snowden-Rayburn Chevrolet Company. They come highly recommended as citizens and businessmen and they will be cordially welcomed to the business circles of our city.
Temporarily their place of business will be at the Burlington Grain Company, but if present plans materialize, a new building will soon be constructed by Sam Sanford and Ira Doak on the east side of the square to be occupied by Messrs. Snowden and Rayburn as a sales and service room.
At a meeting of the board of directors of the local Chamber of Commerce held Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Paul Miller of this city was elected secretary and Emory Nance treasurer. The election of Mrs. Miller seems to meet with general approval and the business men of the town almost without exception have expressed confidence in her ability to do the work of a secretary in a most satisfactory manner.
While Mrs. Miller has had no experience in Chamber of Commerce work, yet she has had much experience in dealing with the business world and in organization work of various kinds, and she has been uniformly successful in "putting over" everything of this character which she has undertaken. She frankly states that she will have many things to learn but she has confidence in her own ability to do the work. The locus of her office has not been established at the time this is written. Mrs. Miller will begin the work a modest salary, but the organization will accordingly have more funds with which to carry out its program, and it is believed that a good year's work before us.
Mrs. Miller is one of the few women secretaries in Texas. Big Spring had a woman secretary for a number of years and she did very excellent work.
The tax collector has not yet had time to make a compilation of poll tax receipts issued but he states that the number appears to be approximately 3,300. This is a larger number of Poll taxes than was ever before issued in a single year in the county. We expect to give the exact number next week.
George Knight announces that he and Terry Noble have secured the agency for the Whippet car at this place and will have several car loads of Whippets here at an early date. He has not yet announced what building they will occupy as a sales and service room. Mr. Knight is an experienced and successful car salesman and Mr. Noble possesses splendid business ability and it is predicted that they will do a thriving business here.

Mr. and Mrs. Eno L. Seeds and daughter, Doris A. Seeds of Philadelphia visited Tahoka a few hours Tuesday, on their return from Los Angeles and Honolulu to their home.
Mr. Seeds, who is now a wealthy contractor in his city, was a member of a surveying party that visited Lynn county in 1878, almost 50 years ago, locating land for a railway company. He relates much interesting history concerning this county, which will be published in an early issue of this paper.
While here, Mr. Seeds was the guest of his old-time friend, Jack Alley. He was also a friend in the early days of A. L. Lockwood and Jim Weatherford, both of whom were delighted to meet him again.
County Superintendent H. P. Cavness, accompanied by Supt. M.L.H. Blaze of Tahoka, went out to Lakeview Friday night, where a community meeting was held to discuss the advisability of joining with New Home and other communities in the creation of a rural consolidated high school district. Both of these gentlemen made addresses pertaining to this subject and other educational problems. Supt. J. B. Zimmerman of New Home was also present and spoke along the same line. Several talks were by patrons of the two schools. While no action was taken, yet the meeting will doubtless lead further discussion of the matter, and it is possible that such a consolidation will be effected in the near future.
Sheriff Wesley Simpson took two young men in charge at the dance hall north of town Saturday night for being drunk and disorderly. A complaint was filed against them in the justice court here, charging affray, and the two young gentlemen paid off, the fine and costs in each case amounting to $15.

Linda Huffaker, CHD Agent, Says....

Carpeting needs daily attention with the right cleaning equipment to maintain its beauty.
The proper equipment includes a carpet sweeper for simple brush-ups, and a vacuum cleaner for major work. The best type of vacuum has a revolving agitator bar or brush, and strong suction to remove surface dust as well as deeper imbedded dirt particles.
The amount of care your carpet requires depends on several factors. Consider the color and the texture of the carpet, how clean the air in the area is, how much dirt is tracked in and the pets you own.
If the carpet appears dull, chances are that the colors have not faded but that there is a build-up of dust or soot not removed in regular cleaning. You can help restore the color by cleaning with a water-detergent solution or by using one of the absorbent powder-type cleaners on the market. Follow directions on the cleaner container.
For quick removal of greasy spots and stains, keep on hand a good drycleaning fluid.
Another carpeting problem is crushing, caused by heavy traffic and the fiber's inability to spring back in place. To restore the pile, try using a hot steam iron lightly over the area. Be careful not to let the iron touch the carpet surface. After the steaming treatment, gently brush up the area.
Shag or plush style carpeting is best cleaned using strong suction and no brushing equipment. Routine use of a special shag rake will also help maintain the carpet's appearance.
For the most thorough cleaning, however, it is best to call in a professional cleaner with equipment and experience necessary to restore the carpet to its original beauty.

Peas in a Pod?

All men are created equal! But their mothers see it differently. And their fathers don't hand out cigars simply to attest to their part in the population explosion.

It's natural to believe that our child is just a bit different from all the others.

Surely he has our love to start him off, our good sense to guide his development and our convictions to mold his.

Yes, our convictions! Are they stale religious cliches remembered vaguely from Sunday School lessons years ago? Or are they fresh, vigorous beliefs and commitments acquired through regular worship and spiritual searching?

Our child is different from all the others. His immediate heritage is a home built on our religious foundation.
